ARNOLD QUILTS DRAFT BOARD

Says He Cannot Conscientiously Go Along With Board Decisions

Mowry Arnold, Plymouth's only representative on local selective service board number 102, resigned his position last week after having served with that group since 1945. In making public his resignation Arnold stated he could no longer conscientiously serve with the board.

"I am not willing to be a member of a board where I can see and review only about 25 percent of the files processed by the board. In the past I have spent many hours a week reviewing all of the files that were due to come before the board for action," he said.

According to Mr. Arnold the board recently took action barring any individual member from having access to the files or entering the office to review current cases as had been his policy for the last several years.

His letter further stated: "As this board now operates each member classifies the files in front of him and does not see the balance of the files unless some member calls the attention of the others to some particular facts. The four or five extra hours I put in were usually done on week-ends or Monday or Tuesday evenings. Certain members complained that I knew entirely too much of what is contained in the files."

"Secondly, I am tired of being criticized for my refusal to vote with other members on classifying files contrary to the information contained in them. I have never and never will be a part of classifying an individual contrary to the classification of the same general class. No one has ever been able to accuse me of trying to grant a favor through selective service."

Mr. Arnold further pointed out that he refused to serve with a board which would take action on a particular individual in a secret session of which he was not notified. He protested the action to Col. Arthur Holmes, state selective service director, who in turn returned the letter to local chairman John Mokersky of Inkster.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Arnold says of the above incident: "At the board meeting of October 21, our chairman (Mokersky) first had copies of my letter to Holmes made and gave them to other board members. He then proceeded to berate me verbally for writing to state headquarters and accused me of trying to stab him and other board members in the back. I was willing at this time to sit and talk the whole situation over, but this was not acceptable so he and the other two members of the board walked out of the meeting."

Members of the board other than Mr. Arnold and chairman Mokersky are George Rose of Garden City and supervisor Leonard Brokay of Redford.

He concludes his letter of resignation as follows: "If you care to check you will find I have given freely of my time, and gladly, to Selective Service and have enjoyed my contacts with state headquarters. I have taken considerable abuse and criticism from inside and outside the board but there never has been a file where my judgment has been swayed by any kind of pressure. However, when things come to the point they reached on the October 21 meeting I have had enough."

Mr. Arnold was appointed to the board shortly after Walter Harms resigned to move to California. He has been a Plymouth resident since 1935 and is employed at Detroit Diesel. He served three years in World War I and has two sons, Larry who served three years in World War II and John who served five years.

Board chairman Mokersky when interviewed by The Mail refused to make any comment on the matter saying it was a matter of governmental business and he would make no statement.

Bernice Crisp, chief clerk of the board stated Mr. Arnold has been very sincere in his work on the board and that he had an excellent attendance record.

The board services some 18,000 registrants and serves all of Wayne county west of Telegraph road and all of the river towns and area south of Ecorse.

Classified Section Moved

To facilitate more efficient classification and handling of our ever growing classified section The Plymouth Mail announces this week that it appears in the second section of this issue and will appear there in the future.

Ads that are received after noon Tuesday, which are too late to classify will appear under our regular column of "Too Late To Classify" on page 7 of the first section. We call our readers' attention to this change and ask them to scan both sections to find our complete listings.

All-Night Parking Ban Idea Brings Citizen Protests

Plymouth motorists who have no other place to park their cars except on the city's streets were given at least temporary freedom from worrying about driveway and garage building plans when the city commission turned the proposed ordinance to ban all-night parking over to the Chamber of Commerce parking committee for further study.

The agenda for the evening called for the second and third readings of the ordinance which would ban parking from 2 to 6 a.m. on all streets so that street cleaning and snow removal jobs can be performed more effectively. However, 10 citizens appeared at Monday's meeting—one of them carrying a petition signed by 53 persons—all protesting the proposed ordinance which had its first reading two weeks ago.

Presenting the petition was James Ross, 1002 Harding, who suggested that if the city wants to clean snow off downtown streets only, they could place "no parking" hoods over parking meters such as is done in Ypsilanti. Mayor Russell Daane said that the commission is interested in the ordinance primarily for snow removal and that they favored restricting it to downtown areas. But he added, if downtown restrictions are enforced, signs must be posted along the routes. If parking is banned on all streets, then signs to that effect need be placed only at the city's entrances. Purchase of the many signs would be costly, Daane added.

One of the strongest spokesmen against the plan was Carl Shear, Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce zoning committee. He charged that citizens should not be penalized 355 days of the year when streets need to be plowed perhaps only five to 10 days a year. He added that he doubted if streets would be plowed or cleaned during the restriction hours.

Objections were also heard from Roy C. Rew, 1051 Harding, who claimed that he couldn't recall being removed from his street during his 12 years there. Police Captain Kenneth Fisher, 397 Auburn, spoke as a private citizen when he told commissioners that he had hoped to put in a driveway eventually but didn't think he should put one (Continued On Page 8)

Fire Station Plan Is "Wonderful" But Not the Price

Preliminary plans for a north-side fire station ran head-long into a $6,000 wall at Monday night's city commission meeting when the architect reported that the structure will cost an estimated $26,000 instead of $20,000 as set aside in the budget.

Other items on the agenda included the presentation of a plan for more off-street parking, purchase of a sewer cleaning machine, condemnation of properties to make way for an alley and the appointment of members to the Board of Appeals, City Planning Commission and the Ten Year Planning committee.

Presenting the sketches and floor plan drawings of the proposed fire station was Byron Becker, local architect, who had been given an idea of what the city wanted by a committee composed of three commissioners and Fire Chief Robert McAllister. (Continued on Page 8)

Chamber Says Prohibiting All-Night Parking is Unnecessary

Chamber of Commerce officials met Tuesday noon to consider the city's request that Main street should be widened to 44 feet, giving four lanes of 11 feet each. The old brick would be resurfaced with asphaltic concrete. Some of the problems mentioned by the city manager include the acquisition of rights-of-way, moving underground street lighting and moving the railroad barricade apparatus.

Plans for both the Main and Farmer street projects were drawn up by a construction firm five years ago. According to the Ten Year Plan committee, cost of the Main street improvement would be about $130,000.

The Farmer street project would run from Karmada street to Sheldon road and would involve the widening of the street as well as the installation of curbs and gutters and pavement of the street. Total cost of the Farmer street project has been estimated at $78,000.

Money would have to be borrowed to finance the improvements, Glassford told the commission. Several methods of financing have been proposed.

They will recommend that since the city has "no parking" covers for all of its meters that if they desire to clean streets in any area, in the metered section that police cover the sections desired at 8 in the morning and allow city maintenance crews to do the work the first two or three hours in the morning.

It was pointed out that this method could be undertaken at no additional expense to the city and that all of the work could be done on regular working hours thereby eliminating any overtime expenditure by the city for crews working during the night.

The report further will state that by using this method any metered street could be cleared of cars in one hour, and in another hour's time all of the cleaning could be done. In the case of city parking areas the same would hold true on a two-hour basis. They further pointed out that this method would eliminate the necessity of the city spending money for signs to prohibit all night parking.

The group also considered the necessity of keeping cars off from the streets for snow removal purposes and felt any attempt to prohibit parking for this purpose would be an economic waste in view of the fact that there are so few times when snow is a problem. However, again they pointed out that the same method of clearing the streets of cars could be used for snow removal as for cleaning, giving the city the same advantages in that condition.

They further stated that in the case of major snow storms there is no assurance that the snow will fall during the night so that it could be removed during the night hours. Committee members recalled that during the last two years in the case of heavy snows it had taken the city two days to remove the snow and that cars on or off the streets between 2 and 6 a.m. would have made no difference.

The committee also made reference to the fact that in the case of many homeowners the ordinance might prove costly in view of the fact that they had no previous provisions for parking other than in front of their homes.

Churches to Hold Union Services For Thanksgiving

The annual Thanksgiving worship services held by the Plymouth Ministerial association will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 25, in the First Presbyterian church. The offering will be donated to Dr. Dean Saxton, Jr. to help him in his work with the Papago Indians.

Participating in this year's services will be St. John's Episcopal church, First Methodist church, Church of God, First Baptist church, Assembly of God, Calvary Baptist Church, Salvation Army, First Presbyterian church and the Church of the Nazarene. The service will be an observance honoring the historic festivity inaugurated by the Pilgrim Fathers to thank God for the harvest.

The Reverend Patrick Clifford, president of the Ministerial association, will give the Thanksgiving message. Musical offerings will be given by the choir of the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Saxton is the son of local residents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton of West Ann Arbor trail. After training as a veterinarian he became interested in the work done by the Wycliffe Bible translators. After spending a year in the "jungle," training ground where the trainees live under conditions they will find in the field, Dr. Saxton is now prepared to go to live with the Papago Indians in Arizona. He must first learn the language from the Indians, and then will translate the New Testament. Such work is essential before missionaries can enter the area.

The annual offering will be used to help Dr. Saxton purchase a new car for his work.

Winners Eat Steaks—Losers Get Beans

Members of the Plymouth Lions club will celebrate the close of a membership contest with a dinner this evening at the Mayflower Hotel.

The club was divided into two groups during the contest and the winning team and their wives will feast on choice steaks while the losers and their guests will enjoy Boston baked beans.

Three new members, David Agnew, Richard Fritz and George Kunkel were welcomed into the club at the last meeting.

15 Year Old Shoots Six Point Buck

Donald Raymond, 15 year old son of Mrs. Ellen Raymond of 11350 Southworth, joined the ranks of experienced deer hunters Sunday noon when he bagged a six point, 140 pound buck. The young hunter making his first trip in the woods with a party of Plymouth hunters consisting of his mother, Mrs. Bernice Raymond, Carl Johnson and Robert Manning took first honors on opening day.

The party was hunting near Houghton Lake and the youth shot his buck with a 12 gauge shot gun. Later the same afternoon Manning bagged a four point buck near the same spot where Raymond shot his.

Shoppers Busy

Chamber of Commerce officials issued a warning to local merchants yesterday to take extra precautions by watching their merchandise more closely because of the ever increasing amount of shoplifting in the city.

Three or four local stores reported major shoplifting over the weekend and the wave which is visiting Plymouth is also evident in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

The Chamber warns local merchants to call the police if they are suspicious of shoppers in their stores or if they see any action which might be construed as shoplifting during the heavy holiday shopping.

Christmas Club Savers To Receive $186,000

A bigger and more generous Christmas than ever is promised in Plymouth and surrounding area this year as indicated by the 1,930 Christmas savings checks which will go out Monday from the two local offices of the National Bank of Detroit. A record $186,000 has been deposited in 1953.

Officials of the two banks in totalling up the Christmas savings deposits this week counted 1,930 accounts, some of which represent savings as little as 25 cents a week in preparation of the holiday season.

There were 1,936 Christmas savings accounts in the two banks last year with checks amounting to $171,600, or about $15,000 less than this year.

With the $186,000 in "extra" money pouring into the pocket-books of Plymouth citizens next week, local merchants are preparing for one of the biggest Christmas seasons in their history. Some stores are already showing signs of the Yule spirit with Christmas displays and extra stock lining the shelves.

Christmas savings payments will give a lift to the early shopping business. Lay-away plans are being advocated by many merchants for those who want to be sure to get what they want while the merchandise is still available. The Chamber of Commerce reports that merchants are heavily stocking their stores with a wide variety of merchandise so that citizens will not have to travel to other communities to do their Christmas shopping.

Work on the street decorations is well underway with the large Christmas trees already being erected in Kellogg park and other points in the city. Decoration of the trees and other street decorations will be completed within the next week or so.

Story Ends Happily For Orphan Auto Who Was Kidnapped

This is the story of Little Orphan Auto — unwanted, dirt-smearred and blast-phemed by horn and man. And it wasn't his fault at all. Little Orphan Auto was first discovered by Plymouth police only a horn's foot from city hall last Monday afternoon sitting square in the middle of Main street's south-bound lane. It was the rush hour. There was a beeping of horns and the muttering of words unfit for innocent Auto to hear. (You see, nobody knew he was a kidnapped car.)

Patrolmen searched the neighborhood for the owner but to no avail. Finally, a fireman offered to help and climbed into Orphan Auto while the police car swung around to push him off the street. Just then the fire siren started to scream. Firemen rushed to their trucks, policemen jumped back into their cars and all dashed off to a hot garage fire on Adams street. There sat Little Orphan Auto all by himself— orphaned again.

More cars hooted, more motorists growled and the police department telephone wires grew hot with complaints. An hour later the fire was over and police again turned their attention to Orphan Auto. Sadly, he was towed away and impounded. But the story has a happy ending. At 5:40 the police teletype pounded out the message that Little Orphan Auto had an owner after all. The car had been stolen in Detroit at 2:30. Today, the orphan who snarled Plymouth traffic is back home. The kidnapper has not been found.

The many friends of Mrs. Austin Whipple of Penniman avenue will be pleased to know that Henry Ford hospital officials report that her condition is greatly improved.

Main Street May Be Big '54 Project

After years of planning and debate, Plymouth's Main street may get a facelift in 1954, should the city commission go along with a report submitted by City Manager Albert Glassford at Monday night's commission meeting. The report also included a discussion on the improvement of Farmer street.

The section of Main street under consideration is between Mill street and Penniman avenue which is regarded as the city's worst traffic bottleneck. The AAA traffic survey conducted in Plymouth this year found that this section of Main street carries nearly 9,000 vehicles during the 11-hour period from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

To relieve this traffic without going into the expensive Main street widening and paving, the AAA report recommended that one-way streets be made of Farmer and Blanche streets. However, the commission received a letter signed by 624 residents in the Farmer and Blanche streets area at the last meeting which protested this plan because of the danger to the residents and it would destroy the character of the neighborhood.

The city manager's report, made at the request of Mayor Russell Daane, states that Main street should be widened to 44 feet, giving four lanes of 11 feet each. The old brick would be resurfaced with asphaltic concrete. Some of the problems mentioned by the city manager include the acquisition of rights-of-way, moving underground street lighting and moving the railroad barricade apparatus.

Plans for both the Main and Farmer street projects were drawn up by a construction firm five years ago. According to the Ten Year Plan committee, cost of the Main street improvement would be about $130,000.

The Farmer street project would run from Karmada street to Sheldon road and would involve the widening of the street as well as the installation of curbs and gutters and pavement of the street. Total cost of the Farmer street project has been estimated at $78,000.

Money would have to be borrowed to finance the improvements, Glassford told the commission. Several methods of financing have been proposed.

Smith Re-elected to State Office

Myrn Smith, president, Plymouth Finance company, was re-elected as secretary of the Michigan Consumer Finance association at an annual business meeting held in Detroit recently in conjunction with the association's 37th annual convention. Other officers elected were: President, Berkeley Voss of Pontiac; vice-president, V. E. Williams of Jackson; and treasurer, Earl F. Ganschow of Saginaw.

Highlighting the annual banquet program that evening was the presentation of the Association's Distinguished Service awards to Norman Buckner, president, Buckner Finance company of Pontiac; Charles H. Watts, chairman of the board, Beneficial Management corporation, Newark, New Jersey, and Byrd E. Henderson, chairman of the board, Household Finance corporation, Chicago, Illinois. In presenting the awards, association president, LaVerne Ridout of Lincoln Park noted that these three men represented a total of 150 years of service devoted to the advancement of the consumer finance business and its service to many hundreds of thousands of Michigan families.

Nearly 200 leaders in the field of consumer finance from all over Michigan have been taking part in this convention to discuss techniques of improving operating efficiency and increase the public service of consumer finance companies.

Mrs. Fred Anderson of North Main street and Mrs. Edward Sommerman and children of Livonia were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bakewell and family of Adrian last week.

LaVerne Wilsons To Reside in Plymouth

The First Presbyterian church in Fort Lauderdale was the setting for the nuptials of Miss Mary Blair of Fort Lauderdale and LaVerne Ewart Wilson of Northville road, Plymouth.

The church was decorated with gladioli and white chrysanthemums when the Reverend Edward P. Downey performed the afternoon ceremony.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of brown crepe, with a matching jacket. Beading accented the neckline and pearls trimmed her close fitting champagne cloche. She wore a corsage of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Soloist was Mrs. Abner J. Curtis of Hendersonville, North Carolina. Mrs. Curtis sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Leoma Straker was organist.

Following the ceremony the couple left for Plymouth where they now make their home.

Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Blair. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson of Plymouth.

Isbister to Chairman Panel at Convention

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister will be in Chicago next Tuesday where he will take part in the American Vocational association convention held at the Conrad Hilton.

He will be chairman of a panel discussion on the topic, "How Should a Small City or Rural School System be Organized so as to Facilitate the Administration of a Comprehensive Program of Vocational Education for Youth and Adults."

Theatre Guild Announces Cast For "Lo and Behold"

A cast of eight for the production "Lo and Behold" scheduled for December 2 and 3 has been announced by the Plymouth Theatre Guild. Only two of the cast have appeared in Theatre Guild plays before, so new faces will be the highlight of the production.

The Guild is currently in intensive rehearsal to prepare for the opening night Wednesday, December 2 in the high school auditorium. The comedy by John L.

Patrick will be directed by William W. Merrill of the Will-O-Way playhouse in Bloomfield Hills. Merrill has been the director of all Guild plays in recent years.

Heading up the cast will be Ed Allworth as Milo Alcott, Nobel prize winning author. Other members of the cast are John Lodge, as Mr. Wingate, the family lawyer; Libby Neal Curtner as Daisy Durdle, a model turned cook; Kenneth Bolton as Dr. Robert Dorsey, executor of the estate; Daisy Hornback as Minnetonka Smallflower, described as a moronic Mohawk; Mickey Willis as Kenneth Moore; Janet Lawson as Honey Wainwright; and Lee Mahoney as Jack McDougal. Daisy Hornback and Ed Allworth are the only Guild performers who have appeared in previous productions.

Admit Breaking Into Schools Then Taking Car

Two Plymouth township 15-year-old boys who have admitted raiding a safe at the Smith Elementary school and then stealing a car, have been returned to Detroit juvenile authorities where they will face charges of breaking and entering and auto larceny.

The two youths admitted breaking into Smith school on October 4 where they took $41.65 and then breaking into Bird Elementary school where no money was found. Going to the Karl Beard home at 9251 Brookline, they took a car and drove it to Goshen, Indiana. There, they abandoned the Beard car and took another, driving it to Kentucky where it was involved in a collision.

Both boys were injured, one of them nearly losing one of his eyes. Recovering from their injuries, the pair were returned here this week where sheriff's authorities are expected to file charges of car theft and breaking and entering Bird school. Plymouth police will file charges for breaking and entering Smith school only since Bird school is in the township.

The breaking and entering charges will be filed against another boy, 16, who participated in the school enterings but did not take part in the car theft. This youth was arrested a month ago for stealing gasoline and was placed on probation.

Motorist Freed After Sentence

William Sanders, 230 Plymouth road, has been released from the Detroit House of Correction after his attorney filed an appeal claiming that the court erred in its decision.

Sanders was arrested twice two weeks ago for allegedly driving at excessive speeds. After being found guilty for the second time, he was sentenced to 60 days in DeHoCo. Securing an attorney, Sanders was released on bond from the penal institution and appeared before Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo. His attorney claimed that the verdict and sentence was contrary to the weight of the evidence.

After considering the argument, the judge reversed his verdict and Sanders was released.

"Lo and Behold" was premiered at the Cass Theatre in Detroit starring Leo G. Carroll and Jeffrey Lynn. From there the cast went to Broadway for a successful run. The play has been widely acclaimed and Guild members feel it is an excellent medium for their group.

Both adult and student tickets will be sold for the play.

Mrs. Harry Deyo, regent, Mrs. R. D. Willoughby, Mrs. Bessie Dunning and Mrs. John Litzenberger of Northville represented the Plymouth Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at a birthday luncheon of the John Sackett chapter of Redford.

The luncheon was held in the Mayflower hotel on Saturday, November 14. Mrs. Wacker, state vice regent of Birmingham, was the guest speaker.

Regent, Mrs. Harry Deyo, also represented the local chapter at a birthday luncheon of the Ezra Parker chapter in Royal Oak on Friday, November 13. The luncheon was held in the home of Mrs. Harding.

Fishers Open New Store in Detroit

James Houk and Blake Fisher are opening their second shoe store this weekend at the new shopping center on the western outskirts of Detroit at Evergreen and Plymouth roads.

The store will be managed by Edward Houghtaling who becomes a partner in the new venture which is one of Michigan's most modern stores. The same quality and brands of merchandise will be carried in the Detroit store as in Plymouth. Buster Brown will be on hand in person to greet children all day Saturday during the opening event. The store will open its doors for business today.

Detectives Probe Three Burglaries Within Township

Wayne county sheriff's detectives are investigating a series of three burglaries in Plymouth township last week which netted the thieves $50 in cigarettes, a portable radio, some clothing and bologna sandwiches with milk.

The first theft took place at the McAllister Brothers Grocery, Northville road. Jim McAllister, employee of the National Bank of Detroit and a brother of the grocery owners, was driving past the store at 4:30 a.m. Wednesday while on his way duck hunting. He noticed a car parked beside the store with its parking lights on. After turning around and driving back to the store, the parked car sped away with McAllister in pursuit.

McAllister said that the car he was giving chase to pulled away at high speed and he was unable to get the license number. It was found that the front door glass had been smashed to gain entrance. Missing were cigarettes valued at $50.

Another theft took place Wednesday night at the home of James Gallimore, 45715 Ann Arbor trail. While Mr. Gallimore was attending a meeting, the intruders broke out the glass in a door and storm door. The entire house was ransacked with everything being pulled out of drawers and cupboards. Inspection showed that a top coat and gloves were taken but it was discovered later in the evening as the Gallimores were looking into the refrigerator, milk, bread and bologna were missing. The Gallimore home was burglarized three years ago when they lived next door.

The third burglary was at the Dobson Cut Stone company, 41905 Ann Arbor road. The rear door glass was broken Friday night and entrance gained to the office where a portable radio was found missing.

Health Officer is Hi-12 Club Guest

Local health officer Dr. R. Ray Barber was the guest speaker at the Hi-12 club Wednesday night. Dr. Barber presented a film and lecture on the heart.

On December 2 the club will adjourn immediately after their dinner meeting at Arbor Lill and travel in a body to the Masonic temple where they will witness ritualistic work put on by members of the DeMolay.

Jack Taylor Gets Citation From Local Chamber

A plaque honoring Jack Taylor, National Bank of Detroit official, was presented as a surprise feature at the annual meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce last week. It commended the banker for his 30 years in Chamber work during which he served as the group's first full-time secretary and has since been a board member and treasurer.

The presentation was made before the 230 Chamber members, guests and their wives who attended the affair held in Bird Elementary school. Presenting the plaque was James Houk, a member of the Chamber board.

Principal speaker of the evening was Jimmy Gheen, philosophical humorist from New York City. He had served in many occupations relating to promotional work, Chamber of Commerce work and writing.

Gheen's theme centered about Chamber of Commerce work although he sometimes diverted to bring in some of his own philosophy. His humorous anecdotes served to stress his message which lasted 45 minutes but seemed to be less than half that time, listeners commented.

The speaker complimented the Plymouth Chamber for its aggressive methods and leadership in the community. He pointed out that it is up to the Chamber to point the way of progress in the community for there is no other group so well qualified to do so. He then cited several instances where Chambers of Commerce have led to community development.

Gheen also instructed Chamber

PRESENTATION of a plaque for his 30 years of service to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce was made to Jack Taylor, local banker, at the Chamber's annual dinner meeting last week. The inscription reads: "Award to Jack E. Taylor for 30 Years of Faithful Leadership as First Full-Time Secretary, Board Member, Treasurer, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth, Michigan, Annual Meeting November 11, 1953."

Community Fund Campaign Makes Its 1953-54 Goal

Total receipts from the Plymouth Community Fund campaign have reached $16,656, and with several checks still to be tabulated George Mayhew, treasurer of the drive, stated today that without a doubt Plymouth will go well over the $18,000 goal. He explained that in previous years mailed donations have continued to come in as much as a month after the drive officially closed. This year's campaign extended from October 20 to November 12.

From Harry Roberts, chairman of the 1953-54 drive, came thanks for the generosity of local industrial, commercial and residential contributors. Special gratitude was expressed to the many workers who made the drive successful and to Mrs. Russell Roe, chairman of the house-to-house and mailed solicitations, George Witkowski, chairman of commercial solicitations, and William Hartloff, industrial solicitation chairman.

The $19,000 will be allocated to the nine agencies supported by the Fund in January of 1954, explained Tom Kent, president of the board of directors. These agencies include the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Plymouth Dental Fund, Recreation Commission, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse association, Veterans Memorial Foundation and United Foundation Services.

Plymouth appears to have that requirement.

Others on the evening's program included Chamber President Ralph G. Lorenz, a pre-dinner concert by the Plymouth school band, and a concert by the Plymouth school choir. Frank Henderson was master of ceremonies.

Youngster Wins Football Contest

Upsets were plentiful in last week's "Pick-the-Winners" football contest as top prize was taken with an entry showing three wrong selections. Winner was 10-year-old Gerald Fischer of 396 Arthur, youngest entry ever to win the contest.

Six contestants were able to come up with entries bearing only three misses, but Gerald's pick of the Detroit-Green Bay game was closest. Second place was taken by Ralph Talik of 41-890 Schoolcraft, while Plymouth high school chemistry teacher Robert Smith, Jr., was third place winner.

Most all entries missed five selections last week. The California-Oregon tie, Alabama-Georgia Tech, Illinois-Wisconsin, Army-Penn and Minnesota-Iowa outcomes were all reversals of "form." Gerald was able to call the Wisconsin and Army upsets, however, thus winning the $10 award.

As the football season draws to a close the selections become more difficult. Anyone can win, however, so make your choices this week and bring your entry to The Mail office Friday evening.

High School Band Announces Plans For Annual Show

The third annual band show, "Music for Moderns," put on by the Plymouth high school band, will be bursting with local talent, announced band director Larry Livingston. The show is scheduled for Tuesday, December 8, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Over 125 persons participate in the annual show.

Highlighting the program will be films of the University of Michigan marching band, narrated by George Cavender, assistant director of the university's concert band. He will serve as guest conductor of the local high school band for the show, as well.

Also on the program will be Nat Sibbold, local baritone, and dancing teacher Marsha Bolin. The school majorettes are scheduled to perform a dance routine, "Belle of the Ball." "St. George and the Dragonet" will be put on by a cast of junior high school students.

Livingston said that new music and special arrangements of old favorites will be presented by the band. Unique stage settings have been planned by Miss Kay Ingram, and Robert Ingram will illuminate the stage where the story of the music will be told in song, dancing and pantomime.

There will be no admission charge for the show this year, Livingston said.

"How is this? I thought you disliked your mother-in-law and here you are carrying flowers to her grave!"

"Exactly! She hated 'em."

One of my good competitors is highly disconcerted because I moved Christmas up to fit into November. He's threatening to clip my whiskers in a fight to maintain the status quo — whatever that is. It took a lot of wolf tonic to make the fuz on my map go to shoulder length which makes me vulnerable to scissors. We may have a bloodless duel but I won't abdicate the throne of Santa Claus.

Meanwhile, I'm getting a big bang out of the excursion of holiday gift buyers to my store. They're coming in faster than customers at a fan dance. The holly wavers of the old tradition are sure to discover later that most Christmas trees will be trimmed with Christmas gifts from Peterson's before they are cut and delivered this year.

I'm Waiting For You!

SOMETHING SMELLY FOR POOR OLD DAD

There aren't many scents becoming to an old duffer. Old souse is one—I mean OLD SPICE. That luscious odor goes back as far as a bloodhound can trace the scent of a wolf in sheep's clothing. But for the modern dapper dandies, in the blue chips, nothing beats KINGS MEN Cologne and After-Shave Lotion in gold-plated bottles. So if you want to give your pop something different this Christmas just ask me for something similar.

I Believe That Anything Worth Doing Is Worth Doing For Money!

S and H GREEN STAMPS Are Like Change Back

I've always been a giveaway guy — even make refunds on empty milk bottles to hungry kids. Giving away S and H Green Stamps keeps my customers coming back for more — and that helps me to keep on eating regularly. These stamps will pay off in beautiful Christmas gifts for you as long as you pay Peterson to be so benevolent.

Keep Your Eye On The Ball, Your Shoulder to the Wheel and Your Ear to The Ground—Then Try to Work In That Position!

BEAUTY CULTURE BY PETERSON

My wife says I was born with a baby face and a small mind from which I have never recovered. That's equal to calling me a fuzzy-faced idiot. It gives me another good reason for growing white whiskers so I can look like a demented man. By the way you ought to do something about your face before those wrinkles become ruts. I've reduced beauty culture to a simple slogan: Nothing beats a drug store complexion if you lay it on thick enough. Always at your service!

I'M STUMPING FOR THE REAL SANTA CLAUS

Peterson ought to have a nice prefix like beaming old St. Carl. I believe in making customers from the cradle up. So I try to hypnotize the youngsters as I confuse the oldsters. Lots of stuff in store for the kids this Christmas — dolls, games and such like. I'm agitating now for an early sell-out so I can singe my whiskers before Thanksgiving. PRESENT means now what are you waiting for?

BOTTLED ROMANCE FOR HOLIDAY WOOLING

Don't identify me with the lunatic fringe unless you include the poets who write the perfume ads. "Elegance eloquently expressed in a dangerous fragrance," says YARDLEY in the language of loveliness. Maybe your wife is like mine — dangerous enough without provoking her with an intoxicating scent. "Someone lovely has just passed," is D'ORSAY'S reminder that a man is really slipping when his nose doesn't detect what his bifocals would like to see. "Love song in fragrance," says GUERLAIN. "Brother, get rid of that guitar and serenade her with fragrance this Christmas. When it comes to fine perfumes and toiletries, most folks come to Peterson.

TIME OUT FOR LUNCH

Patronage, like charity begins at home. I take my own medicine and eat my own food. Besides I must maintain the sovereignty of Peterson's lunch to keep on luring those pilgrims over from the Mayflower. When I do eat out — it's out of a paper bag and this is no time of the year for a picnic. When are you going to drop in for a snack at my fountain?

SOMEBODY'S GOING TO PAY FOR THIS

Every time I open my mouth it's the reflex of a mercenary motive. But talk is cheap when I'm plugging holiday greeting cards. And I've got the biggest and finest selection in Plymouth. You can start with a nickel if that's all you think of your aunt Till out in the grass roots terminus. Beautiful assortments in holiday boxes are cheap at 98c. Better lay in your supply now before they are all picked over.

Chestmobile Arrives in January To Check Every Citizen for TB

An all-out attack against tuberculosis will be launched in Plymouth in January when the Wayne County Department of Health "Chestmobile" moves into the city to provide free chest x-rays for every adult citizen.

According to Richard L. Lea, 102 North Holbrook, executive director of the Tuberculosis and Health Society, this is the third time in four years that the Chestmobile has been brought here for use by city and township citizens. Local co-sponsor of the drive to discover hidden cases of TB will be the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

Sam Hudson of the Evans Products corporation, has been appointed general chairman of a citizens planning committee which hopes to make this the biggest TB detection campaign Plymouth ever had, Lea said. Hudson has appointed chairmen of working committees which will meet at the Chamber of Commerce office next Monday at 7 p.m.

Committee heads are: public information, Dean Sipson; school, Mary Strasen; industry, Pat McGuire; retail merchants, Walter Rensel; house-to-house, city, Gladys Tillotson; house-to-house, township, Mrs. Ralph Lorenz; Red Cross representative in charge of registration, Mrs. Mowry Arnold.

The Chestmobile will be in the Plymouth area for 11 days but the exact dates have not yet been set.

In accepting the general chairmanship of this year's campaign, Hudson said, "I was surprised to learn that 29 people in Plymouth and 14 in the township were reported by the health department as new cases of TB during 1952 and that one of our citizens died from this disease in 1952."

He emphasized that "only by finding hidden cases early before they have had a chance to spread their TB germs to other people can we prevent and control this insidious disease." While there are a number of families with TB victims who are known and under observation by the public health nurse serving the area, there are undoubtedly many others who don't even know that they are sick.

Township Grass Fire Burns Off 20 Acres

Plymouth township firemen battled a grass fire for two hours late Tuesday afternoon and succeeded in extinguishing it after 20 acres were burned off. The fire took place on the farm of Mrs. Ethel Williams, 50480 Powell road.

Fire Hits Garage After Second Try

Firemen made two visits last Monday to the Charles Phillips household, 611 Adams street—the first time to extinguish a rubbish pile blaze which threatened the garage and the second time to extinguish a fire which swept through the garage.

The first alarm sounded at 2:10 p.m. when burning rubbish ignited a wood pile behind the frame garage. Chief Robert McAllister said that the garage was thoroughly wetted down but some sparks evidently had climbed inside some planking at the foundation. At 4:34 p.m. the alarm again sounded.

The small blaze which had started inside the garage engulfed a bottle of oxygen which exploded and sent flames shooting throughout the interior. Old lumber and other items stored in a loft of the garage hindered the fight as the blaze spread to the roof.

The entire interior was gutted and damage was estimated at $250. Phillips was able to get his car out of the garage.

Five From Plymouth Attend Masonic Rites

A quintet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Squires, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunter and Miss Betty Bowden traveled to Palmer Park Saturday, November 14, to attend a family night dinner of Palmer Lodge number 560 F. & A.M. The dinner was held at the Masonic temple on Balmoral and Woodward avenue.

Worshipful Master of Palmer Lodge, George R. Hunter, Sr., conferred the degree of Master Mason upon his son, George R. Hunter Jr. This is the first time in the history of the lodge that a Master, while in office, has conferred the degree on his own son.

Others attending the ritual were Mr. and Mrs. Don Fullerton and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pfister of Detroit.

Methodist Youth Plan Snack Bar

Members of the Plymouth Methodist Youth Fellowship will aid the various units of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at their annual bazaar, which will be held at the church on December 3.

The youth will work at the snack bar which will be open from 11:30 until 1 p.m. The snack bar will feature "Sloppy Joes," hot dogs, cheese sandwiches, potato chips, desserts and assorted beverages.

Food will be served cafeteria style. Money realized from this project at the bazaar will go into the MYF fund to provide better programs, speakers, music and films for the organization's Sunday evening meetings.

Social items can be phoned to 1600.

Observe National Book Week at Library

One of the best known of all the national weeks set aside in the United States is Book Week, currently being observed at the Dunning branch of the Wayne County library. The week began November 15 and will continue through this Saturday, November 21.

The week is set aside each year in November to promote the interest of young people in reading good books. The first Book Week was held back in 1919, and since then has received considerable public attention. During the period plays, programs and other entertainments are given in connection with the observance.

Locally the week has been highlighted with trips by the school-children through the library. A display showing what the local library can offer Plymouth residents has also been placed in the bank show window.

The Dunning branch contains a total of 14,000 volumes, Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian, stated. The library also operates under an inter-loan system with all other Wayne County branches, and thus makes many more books available to the local readers, she added.

To keep the newest books always available to Plymouthites, a large shipment of books comes in every two weeks. These books are displayed at the main desk so that readers may look them over and decide which books they would like to read in the future. The books are reserved according to the list of preferences.

The latest shipment of books brought many novels as well as non-fiction books into the library. One of these is the latest novel by Pearl S. Buck called "Come My Beloved." For the first time the author uses India as the primary scene, showing Bombay in the 1890s.

Other books include "The Walsingham Woman" by Jan Westcott, James Ramsey Ullman's "The Sands of Kara-Korum," "Medical Meeting" by Mildred Walker, Kathleen Harris' "Stand By for Romance," "The Adventures of Augie March" by Saul Bellow, "Flaming Feud" by Tom West, and Elizabeth Seifert's "Lucinda Marries the Doctor."

The list continues with "Death and Little Brother" by Clifford Knight, "Strange Return" by A. B. Cunningham, "Fathers Are Parents Too" by O. Spurgeon English, M. D., "Complete Cookbook for Infra Red Broiler and Rotisserie" by Nedda Casson Anders, Chuck Stanley's "Maverick Trio," Minna Bardons' "Alphabet of Romance," and "Circle F Cowboy" by Chuck Martin.

Other new books are "The Vintage" by Ursula Keir, Nicholas Monsarrat's "The Story of Esther Costello," "The Flower of May" by Kate O'Brien, "A Fair Wind Home" by Ruth Moore, C. S. Forester's "Hornblower and the Atropos," "Apostles of Discord" by Ralph Lord Roy, "A House Is Not a Home" by Polly Adler, and Alfred Kinsey's "Sexual Behavior of the Human Female."

Later Day Saints Church Holds Harvest Dinner

Because of the success of the harvest dinner which the parishioners of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints sponsored on November 12, the members were brought a little closer to their goal. The dinner was held at the Masonic temple.

For years the members of the denomination have been planning and striving for a church building of their own for worship in this area. Money realized from the dinner will be used to help further their goal. At present the congregation holds its services in the Masonic temple.

People accomplish more when not concerned with who is getting the credit.

OBITUARIES

Merta B. Mason
Funeral services were held Monday, November 16 at 1:00 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Merta B. Mason, who passed away Friday morning, November 13 at the age of 76 years. Her home was at 243 East Ann Arbor trail.
On April 7, 1901 Miss Merta B. Trimm was united in marriage to Fred F. Mason. She was a former resident of Crystal township, Montcalm county, Michigan, and for the past 24 years has lived in Plymouth.
Surviving are her husband, Fred F. Mason; her two sisters, Mrs. Nancy Patrick of Ionia, and Mrs. Chloe Hazelwood of Detroit; her brother, Levi Trimm of Crystal township, Michigan; other relatives and many friends. Her son, Lloyd Mason, preceded her in death on January 9, 1946.
The Reverend Henry J. Welch, D.D., officiated at the funeral service. Organ music was rendered by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The active pallbearers were George Robins, Holland Baskin, Sanford Knapp, Bert Coverdill, Fred Hembrey, and Arthur Lyke. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Harold Martin Crossman
Harold Martin Crossman, former Plymouth resident, passed away in California at the age of 62. Mr. Crossman was employed as a salesman for Paul J. Wiedman about 25 years ago.
He is survived by his wife, Kathryn; two sons, Harold Martin Jr., of Santa Monica, California, and Robert Frank, of San Diego; one grandchild, and a sister in Michigan.
Services were held in the Mission mortuary with interment in Fort Rosecrans National cemetery.

Emma L. Foster
Funeral services were held Saturday, November 14 at 1 p.m., from the Schrader Funeral home for Mrs. Emma L. Foster, who passed away Wednesday evening, November 11 after a short illness. She was 98 years of age. Mrs. Foster has resided in Plymouth with her daughter, Mrs. Harold Underwood at 1341 Sheridan avenue, for the past 23 years. Surviving are three sons and three daughters, George M. Foster of Orlando, Florida; Mrs. Edythe Hadley of Plymouth; John H. Foster of Detroit; Mrs. Ethel Hadley of Plymouth; Frank P. Foster of Pleasantville, New York; and Mrs. Yvonne Underwood of Plymouth. Also surviving are 13 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren, other relatives and many friends.

Mrs. Foster was born Emma L. Merrill at Newburg, Shiawassee county on December 17, 1854, and spent her early years at Davisburg, Michigan. After her marriage to Charles T. Foster on November 7, 1877, they owned and operated a farm near Rose Center, Michigan until 1925, when they moved to Plymouth. Mr. Foster preceded her in death in 1938. She was also preceded by her son, Charles E., in 1906. She was a member of the Methodist church of Davisburg, and of Plymouth.

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson officiated at the funeral service. Organ music was rendered by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The pallbearers were Fred Hadley, Rupert Hadley, Richard Underwood, Jack Hadley, Kenneth Rich and Herbert Smith, grandsons and great-grandsons of Mrs. Foster. Interment was in Rose Center cemetery, Rose Center, Michigan.

Baby Girl Pardon
Graveside services were held Friday, November 13 at 11 a.m. at Cadillac Memorial gardens, Nankin township, for Baby Girl Pardon, the infant daughter of Dwight J. and Irene Pardon. The baby passed away Thursday, November 12. Mr. and Mrs. Pardon reside at 15575 Cadillac road in Northville township.
Besides her parents, she is survived by her brother, Allen Ross Pardon; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glass of Plymouth, aunts and uncles and other relatives.
The service was under the direction of the Schrader Funeral home of Plymouth.

Roy V. Cross
Funeral services will be held Friday, November 20 at 1 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral home for Roy V. Cross who passed away Tuesday evening, November 17 at the age of 56 years. His home was at 1708 Beck road. Surviving are his wife, Mrs.

Ella Cross; his daughter and son-in-law, Esther and William Sprengel of Plymouth, also surviving are two grandchildren, Mark and Kim Sprengel, other relatives and many friends.

Mr. Cross has been a resident of this vicinity for the past two years; he formerly resided in Dearborn. Mr. Cross was employed at the Ford Motor company until 1950 when he retired because of ill health.
The Reverend Victor J. Luetzow of Dearborn will officiate. Hymns will be rendered on the organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Interment is in Riverside cemetery.

Perry Lacy
Former Plymouth resident Perry Lacy passed away Monday, November 16, in Newport, Rhode Island. Mr. Lacy resided in Plymouth for about 10 years, moving to Rhode Island in 1941. His home was on Sheridan avenue here.

He is survived by his wife, Anna, a son, Thomas, of Newport, Rhode Island, and three granddaughters.
A private funeral service was held Wednesday, November 13, in Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vargha of Gold Arbor road will move Friday into their new home at 9406 Trinity in Detroit.

The many friends of Mrs. W. E. Lickfelt will be glad to hear that she was able to return to her home the first of the week.

THREE GERMAN EDUCATORS were guests of the Plymouth Board of Education Monday while they visited the city on an inspection tour of the local school system. Purpose of their visit was to see some of the better schools in this country and learn their methods of operation so that American ideas could be used in the modernization of German school systems. Gathered for an informal question and answer session were Mail publisher Sterling Eaton, Mrs. Henry Walch, Carl Caplin, Superintendent Russell Isbister, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mayor Russell Daane, Karl Bauer, Lancelot Marioth, school board president, James Gallimore and Henry Sehnert. The three visitors were high in their praise of Plymouth schools saying the system was one of the finest they had visited in America. Mr. Bauer, Mr. Marioth and Mr. Sehnert are from Schuldort Bergstrasse near Heidelberg, Germany.

Rural Mission To Convene Here This Sunday

Twenty-five missionaries, of the Rural Bible Mission of Michigan, will meet at Calvary Baptist church November 21, 22, and 23, for their quarterly conference. The group will be entertained by members and friends of Calvary Baptist.

On Sunday morning the missionaries will speak in various churches in the western section of Wayne county. On Sunday evening the full staff of missionaries and vice-president Elmer Deal will have complete charge of the service. The Reverend Hubert Karl, deputation secretary, will speak at the young people's service at 6 p.m.

This quarterly conference has been planned by the Wayne county missionary, Reverend Earl Gilmore, and Pastor P. J. Clifford, of Calvary Baptist church. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend the Sunday evening service at 7:30 to hear of this home missionary activity in our own state.

Fire Station

"It's a beautiful building, but we can't afford it," the architect was told by commissioners.

The building, to be located in Bradner park at Holbrook and Spring streets, was designed along colonial lines to conform with a movement in Plymouth to colonialize all new buildings. But this colonial style may have to go in favor of contemporary style, commissioners agreed as they sought ways of shaving down the cost to $20,000. It was then moved to have the fire station committee go over the plans and bring forth a plan to save costs.

Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the city commission remained at odds for a while Monday night about a proposal to purchase more land for a parking area behind Forest avenue stores on the west side of the street. Edwin Schrader, chairman of the Chamber's off-street parking committee, asked that the commission take immediate action on the plan since options on three properties obtained by the Chamber and cash pledges and donations will expire on December 1.

Mayor Russell Daane argued, however, that the commission should be given time to study the plan since it involved the spending of taxpayers' money. He also objected to including consideration of the plan at next Monday's special meeting since the zoning plan under discussion will take up much time.

Result of the argument was a statement by Schrader that perhaps the options could be renewed and that the donations and pledges could also be extended while the commission took time to consider the matter. He pointed out the urgency of more off-street parking in order to meet the requirements presented in the proposed zoning ordinance. The mayor hinted that the city has already done much for the parking situation and that the merchants must recognize they are responsible too.

The plan to provide 84 parking spaces would cost about $33,000. The Chamber has received $10,200 in cash and pledges from 14 merchants and property owners in the Forest avenue district. Miss Margaret Dunning has offered to hold contracts from the city worth $18,000 leaving $5,280 which must be laid out by the city. By placing parking meters in the proposed parking lot and increasing Central lot meters to one hour for five cents, the expenditure would be self-liquidating, the plan stated.

A sewer cleaning machine has been purchased by the city to start a sewer cleaning program which it is hoped will eliminate protests from homeowners who find water backed up into their basements. After seeing the two brands of machines under consideration in action, commissioners approved the unit manufactured by the Trojan Tool Equipment company of Chicago. It sells for $2,910.60 f.o.b. Plymouth.

Further steps were taken by the commission to open an alley behind stores on the east side of Forest avenue. Although most of the land behind the stores has already been purchased, there are at least five parcels which have not yet been sold so a motion was approved to condemn the land. It is believed that some of the landowners who have not yet sold will sell before condemnation proceedings begin. The city has been attempting to open the alley for many years in order that stores can be serviced by trucks at the rear of the buildings instead of the front entrances. The alley would run from Ann Arbor trail to Wing street.

Approval was given for the purchase of a 12-foot-high chain link fence which must be erected around the city well field. The lowest bid, that of the Pittsburgh Steel company for $1,261, was selected. Commissioners also gave City Manager Al Glassford permission to buy the controller device needed for the traffic light in front of the city hall. The device, costing $268.84, is needed to provide a flasher except when students are coming to or from school. By eliminating the red and green signal at other times, traffic on Main street is expected to flow more smoothly.

Mayor Daane reappointed Dr. S. N. Thams and E. J. Allison to the Board of Appeals. Their terms are to expire December 1. Reappointed to the Planning commission were Lee Gaeke, Carroll Porter and Ezra Rotnour. Their terms are to expire November 20. The Ten Year Planning committee was reactivated with the appointment of Commissioners Eleanor Hammond, Ernest Henry and George T. Bauer, along with Sidney Strong, E. J. Readman and Ezra Rotnour, members of the Planning commission.

All-night Parking

in immediately to comply with a law which would work a hardship on him and others in his neighborhood.

Ralph G. Lorenz, speaking as manager of the Mayflower hotel, told the group that the ordinance would be an undue hardship on the hotel since many guests park on the streets overnight. He asked that a survey be made to find out how many cars do use the streets for overnight parking. Commissioner Ernest Henry restated his previous stand against the ordinance.

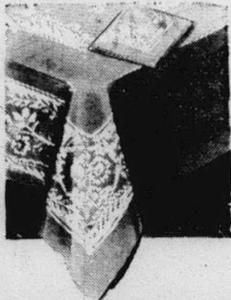

Another commissioner, Marvin Terry, pointed out that there are few cars parked downtown during the night except for some at the hotel. If the downtown streets were swept every night, he added, what dirt would be missed sweeping around a car one night would probably be swept up the next night.

As the argument subsided, Mayor Daane said that the reason for the proposed ordinance is to satisfy the many requests for such a law. He then suggested that those who are for the ordinance should come to the next meeting and state their views.

Roland Adams Weds Joanne Woolweaver

Joanne Woolweaver spoke her nuptial vows to Petty Officer third class Roland Adams in a four o'clock ceremony in the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church Saturday, November 14. Joanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Woolweaver of Auburndale, Livonia, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Adams of Dearborn.

The bride approached the altar, decorated with white mums, daisies and palms, on the arm of her father. The Reverend Woodrow Woolley read the ceremony uniting the young couple. Organist J. Marshall accompanied soloist Bob Rue as he sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Joanne chose a floor length gown of white nylon net over satin. Her bodice was fashioned of lace, featuring a boat neckline outlined with pearls. Velvet buttons extended down the back of the bodice and fastened the long tapered sleeves at the wrists. Joanne's fingertip veil fell from a pearl Juliet cap, and she carried a bouquet of roses and mums, centered with a white orchid, together with a white Bible.

The bride's twin sister, Sue Woolweaver, served as her maid of honor. She was gowned in a ballerna length dress of powder blue lace with a navy blue velvet halo hat. Her bouquet was of yellow mums and roses.

Karen Benson was the bridesmaid, and she wore a powder blue satin and net ballerna length gown and carried a bouquet of yellow mums and roses.

The bride was also attended by her little sister, Marcy, as junior bridesmaid. Marcy appeared in a yellow floor length gown of taffeta, completed with a rust velvet halo hat and a bouquet of rust mums and roses. The bridegroom's young brother, Greg, was ring-bearer.

Roland asked his brother, Steve Adams, to serve as his best man, and Gary Woolweaver, brother of the bride, ushered the guests to their seats.

Mrs. Woolweaver selected a blue taffeta dress for her daughter's wedding, and with it she wore pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Adams was gowned in powder blue silk with navy blue accessories and a pink rose corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor for 150 guests, followed by a family dinner at Ciungan's in Ecorse. Guests were present from Dearborn; Detroit; Chicago, Illinois; Marion, Sidney and Dayton, Ohio; and Alma, Michigan.

The bride left for her honeymoon in the New England states wearing a cocoa brown suit and the orchid from her bouquet. The couple is now at home at 20 Earl street, West Warwick, Rhode Island, where Roland is stationed with the Navy.

Joanne was graduated from Bentley high school in 1953, and the bridegroom from Bentley in 1951.

Massengill - Rowland United in Marriage

Miss Marilyn Ann Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rowland of Gottschalk road became the bride of Richard Masterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Masterson of Detroit, on Saturday, November 14.

The wedding took place in Angola, Indiana.

James Law Chooses Indiana Girl as Bride

Miss Donna Lee Jagers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jagers of Columbus, Indiana became the bride of Corporal James Richard Law, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Law of Ann Arbor road, on Saturday, November 7.

The simple four o'clock ceremony was performed at the First Baptist church in Columbus, Indiana. The Reverend S. E. Muirhead read the rites.

Donna graduated from Columbus high school and James graduated from Plymouth high school. James has been serving with the United States Army for the past three years and expects to be discharged sometime in January. Following his discharge the couple plan to move to Plymouth. At the present they are at home at 2552 McKinley street, Apartment 1, Columbus, Indiana.

Post Nuptial Shower Given Mrs. Brown

Mrs. Samuel O. Brown, the former Doris Johnson of Plymouth, was honored at a post nuptial shower, at the home of Mrs. Harold McElroy on Spring drive in Northville on Friday, November 13. Co-hostesses were several of Mrs. Brown's co-workers.

The rooms were decorated with bouquets of chrysanthemums. Games provided the evening's entertainment.

After Mrs. Brown had opened her many lovely gifts, a luncheon was served buffet style from a table covered with an embroidered blue cloth, centered with a two-tiered cake topped by a miniature bride and groom.

There were 25 guests present coming from Farmington, Plymouth, Los Angeles, California, Northville, Salem, Detroit and South Lyon.

WANTED

Someone who has a home for sale. Who doesn't need a large, or any down payment.

Anyone who isn't afraid to give a young working couple a decent break in this hard world of ours today.

If anyone has a five or six room house in the county, or in the vicinity of the Northville-Plymouth area. Who will accept $100 a month until the down payment has been paid in full, and then reduce the payments on a land contract. The husband starting his fifth year with Burroughs Adding Machine Company. Wife employed in local concern. There must be someone left in this whole universe, who has a little faith and trust left in humanity.

Someone who isn't afraid to trust a very sincere and hard working couple. Please won't someone give us a helping hand to live a normal, happy life.

RICHARD A. HUEBLER (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huebler, of Berry road, is shown receiving the Ralph Dawson trophy from Mr. Dawson for being Michigan's outstanding DeMolay in 1953. Richard was also elected to the office of state senior counselor. This is the first year that the Dawson trophy has been awarded. Dawson is a past master counselor of the Flint chapter. The presentation took place in Bay City during the three day DeMolay state conclave.

Deer Hunters Buy 500 Licenses Here

Almost 500 local residents purchased deer hunting licenses from local stores during the last 10 days prior to their departure for the north and the opening of hunting season. The Plymouth Mail lists a portion of the local hunters this week showing the local nimrods that purchased their licenses from Boyer's Haunted Shack, Burley's Service Station and the S and W Hardware.

Grange Gleanings

The bazaar was a complete success. Everything sold well. The hot dogs and sloppy joes were in constant demand all day. Many came back in the evening for their supper as the eats were so very good. A lovely day, a good crowd and a successful sale. What more could one ask for?

On December 5 we are to have the installation of the new officers for 1954. A nice ceremony. Regular meeting tonight. The new members are welcome to come in. The third and fourth degrees will be conferred upon them at a later date.

On Saturday evening November 28, we are going to have another dance. Mr. and Mrs. Carson will be the instructors and callers. There will be refreshments served. Members are urged to bring their friends. Those who care to play cards will find tables downstairs.

Girl Scout News

Mrs. Harold Shirey, swimming instructor, reports a good attendance at the regular Saturday afternoon swims. The following Scouts have recently passed their Red Cross tests. Beginners: April Carey, Kristine Wall, Sue Terry, Roxanne Smith, Joyce Allen and Shiela Lorenz; intermediate, Mary Frances Bauer; swimmer, Mary Jane Readman.

Girl Scouts of Troop 4 with their leaders, Mrs. Warren Worth and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing are having an over-night trip to the Girl Scout cabin on Friday, November 20.

Members of Troop 1 had a cook-out, the girls hiked to the roller rink and spent the afternoon roller skating. Fifteen girls and their leaders, Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Hugo Russell attended.

An impressive investiture service was held for the 15 new Girl Scouts of Troop 22 on Monday, November 9 at the Girl Scout cabin. Parents and families of the girls attended. Also in attendance were two members of the Elks organization, sponsor of the troop, Philip Barney and Mrs. Krieth announced that the American flag and a troop flag are to gifts presented to the troop from their sponsor.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gerald Hosier and Mrs. Fred Berry, leaders.

News of Troop 21 includes a trip to the Girl Scout cabin on Monday, November 9.

Inclement weather forced the girls to do their cooking in the fireplace rather than out-of-doors, but they report a good time was had nevertheless.

On November 16 an investiture service was held for two new troop members, Elaine Mathews and Martha Bernash.

Mrs. Wayne Rubey and Mrs. Ralph Lorenz are the leaders.

Twins: Two things in life for which no man is ever prepared.

Missionary Society Members Attend Rally

Several members of the Riverside Park Church of God Missionary society attended the Southeastern Missionary Rally in Lansing, Tuesday, November 10. The Reverend Robert Clark, missionary from Pakistan was guest speaker for the meeting. The Reverend Clark's messages told that Christianity is only one of the many religions in India, therefore it must use the best leadership possible to take the Gospel there. The missionary spoke at the 10:30 a.m. services. This was followed by a fellowship dinner and a business meeting. The Reverend Clark, dressed in Indian garb, climaxed the meeting with another message.

Marriage is the hurdle between romance and reality.

KEITH MILLER, sports editor, senior, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter R. Miller, 40170 Ann Arbor trail, Plymouth, and Quentin Stultz, editor, are discussing the material to be used in the 1954 edition of the Wolverine, the Michigan State college student yearbook. Published late in the spring term, the Wolverine presents a pictorial view of important events that occur during the school year.

Fruit Growers To Attend Meet

Hundreds of Michigan's fruit growers will be at Grand Rapids, December 1-3, to get the latest information on research in their field at the annual meeting of the Michigan State Horticultural Society. Extension horticulturist H. D. Hootman of Michigan State college, who is secretary of the society, says the three-day meeting will feature discussions on many grower problems. Speakers from other fruit-growing states will be on hand as well as researchers and extension personnel from the horticulture department. The first day's program will concentrate on problems of cherry and apple growers; the second day is for peach and apple growers and the third day's activity will stress small fruit growers' problems. These are some of the topics to be discussed: Tests with hauling cherries in water, the control of cherry leaf spot, new spray materials, chemical thinning of peaches, peach tree pruning, outlook for the fruit market, controlling weeds in strawberries by spraying, irrigation of strawberries and apples, disease control in raspberries, and public relations in marketing. The average American girl needs no defense—she can take care of herself.

CHURCHES OF OUR AREA

Assembly of God

CONSTRUCTED IN 1948, the Plymouth Assembly of God was organized two years earlier under the leadership of the present pastor, John Walasky. The building was constructed with much of the labor donated by members.

Assembly of God Started as Mission Here in Mid-Thirties

From a mission church born in the depression years to a self-supporting church now sending forth missionaries and looking forward to future expansion — that's the history of the Plymouth Assembly of God.

Sponsored by the Berea Tabernacle Assembly of God church of Detroit, the Plymouth mission was started in the mid-thirties and continued on this basis for several years with services being held in rented halls in several locations. During these years the church was pastored consecutively by the Reverends J. Floreck, G. Moore, J. Davis, R. Harris and Sanford Cook.

It was in 1946 that the church was organized as the Plymouth Assembly of God under the leadership of the present pastor, John Walasky, and property was purchased on Ann Arbor Trail at Riverside drive for a building site.

The present building was constructed and occupied in 1948 with much of the labor being donated by members of the congregation. The church steadily reduced its indebtedness which was completely paid off this year. A mortgage burning service was observed in June with the Reverend C. W. H. Scott, Michigan district superintendent of the Assemblies of God, officiating. Valuation of the property is estimated at about $25,000.

Active in missionary effort, the church contributes partially to the support of three missionary families. In addition, the Women's Missionary Council, directed by Mrs. Vivian Baker, meets monthly to prepare food and clothing packages for missionaries, orphanages and rest homes operated by the denomination.

Enrollment in the Sunday school operated by Mrs. Juanita Puckett is about 150 with an average attendance of about 100. There are also separate services for the young people who call themselves "Christ's Ambassadors" and are members of the denomination's national group of Christ's Ambassadors. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Remines are leaders of the senior group and Mrs. Pearsall is the junior group leader.

Regular membership of the church is about 60. The operation budget of the church is financed principally by the tithes of the members. Current plans call for the establishment of a building fund to provide money for needed future expansion of the church. Also owned by the church is a bus which is used in connection with the young people's and Sunday school activities.

Three young people have gone into the Christian ministry from the local church. Reverend and Mrs. Norman Pearsall are now engaged in child evangelism and are traveling throughout the United States. There is also Mrs. Doris Puckett Johnson who with her husband are pastoring a church in Half Moon Bay, California preparatory to appointment as missionaries to Brazil.

The Plymouth Assembly of God is a member of the National denomination known as the General Council of the Assemblies of God. This denomination had its beginning in 1914 when a number of independent Pentecostal churches were organized into a united cooperative effort. Each local church is autonomous but is banded together under regional boards known as district councils under a national board called the General Council with headquarters in Springfield, Missouri.

Since its organization the denomination has enjoyed a rapid growth and now has some 6,500 churches in the United States with a membership of 375,000. There are 7,600 ordained ministers, 11 Bible schools and colleges and a national half-hour radio program over the ABC network.

The denomination is evangelistic and missionary minded and presently has 700 missionaries under foreign missionary appointment and over 200 under home mission appointment. The missionary budget is currently about $3,000,000 per year. A large publishing house is also operated by the denomination.

Doctrinally the Assemblies of God are an evangelical body holding to the fundamentals of the Christian faith. The doctrinal position may be described as follows:

1. They believe in the Bible to be the inspired and only infallible word of God.
2. That there is one God, eternally existent in three persons, God the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. They believe in the deity of the Lord Jesus Christ in His virgin birth in His sinless life, in His miracles, His vicarious and atoning death, in His bodily resurrection, His ascension to the right hand of the Father and in His personal future return to this earth in power and glory to rule over the nations.

3. They believe that for salvation of lost and sinful man, regeneration by the Holy Spirit is absolutely essential and that the redemptive work of Christ on the cross provides for the healing of the body in answer to believing prayer.
4. That the Baptism of the Holy Spirit is given to believers who pray for it. That in the present ministry of the Holy Spirit by those indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a godly life.
5. They believe in the resurrection of both the saved and the lost; one to life and the other to damnation.

The Walasky family resides on Ann Arbor trail next to the church. Mr. Walasky and his wife, also active in church work, were both active in home missionary extension work from the Berea Tabernacle church and attended Bible school there. They have five children, Hilton, a high school junior; David, in junior high; James and Jayne, attending Allen Elementary school; and Eva who is pre-school. Mr. Walasky is employed by the Burroughs Corporation and is engaged in administrative work there.

Day Services - November 26, 8:45 and 10:00. Scripture lesson in all Lutheran churches for next Sunday: "If we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with Him; for the Lord Himself shall descend from Heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trumpet of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first." 1 Thess. 4:14.

How everyone may have a healthful body is shown in the Lesson-Sermon to be read on Sunday, November 22, in all Christian Science churches, under the subject of "Soul and Body."

The Golden Text is from Matthew (6:22): "The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light."

Among the Bible citations is this passage, (Ps. 104:24): "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include: "Beauty, as well as truth is eternal; but the beauty of material things passes away, fading and fleeting as mortal belief." (p. 247)

Plymouth High School News

MEMBERS OF THE J-HOP COMMITTEE view with mixed emotions the ideas for a theme for the annual dance at the Plymouth high school. Plans are still in the beginning stages, since the committee was just recently chosen. Heading the group are co-chairmen Sally Ford

School Industrial Arts Program Offers Students Varied Training

By Ella Plant

With an enrollment of approximately 40 students the Industrial Arts program is well underway. Those teachers connected with the program are: Robert Ingram-related math and drawing; Konrad Moiso-general drawing and general shop; Kieth Baughman - electricity, general shop, and welding; and William Campbell-machine shop.

The drawing program includes sketching, mechanical drawing, and architectural drawing. Sketching offers the fundamentals architectural drawing. Sketching offers the fundamentals and techniques of drawing as a prerequisite for all drawing courses. After two semesters of sketching, the student may select the general drawing program, if he is on the college or general course, or the related drawing program, if he is on a vocational course.

In the shop program there are two general shops where several activities are carried on at the time. The boys work in small groups at designated work areas providing many experiences for the pupil. Also there are two unit shops which are equipped completely to teach one certain activity.

Pupils in the advanced general shop program, grades 9-12, carry on one activity for which they are best adapted since in this program the activities are not required. The shop program is based on processes and not projects.

The requirements of the trade machine shop, a unit shop, are set up by the State Board of Control for Vocational Education. The students must have fifteen hours of machine shop and seven and one-half hours of related work, related math, related drawing, and shop theory per week. They must also have seven and one-half hours of a general education, such as English, history, and government.

Another unit shop is the welding shop, of which Plymouth high school is very proud since welding is a trade that is in great demand and for which there are few remaining centers. The Board of Education approved the plans for this shop in 1952. The welding department now has eight oxyacetylene welding and light cutting stations, one heavy cutting station, one portable rig, and eight welding stations, providing 17 work areas in all.

Kirkpatrick Tells Historical Society Of Early Railroad

Members of the Plymouth Historical Society met last Thursday, November 12 at the Veterans' Memorial, home. Russell Kirkpatrick was the guest speaker. His topic centered around Early Railroad History in Michigan.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick brought in the original proxy list and the annual reports for the first meetings of the old Flint and Pere Marquette Railroad. These early documents disclosed the important concessions that were made to the railroads at that time to extend their lines through new territory. The Federal Government granted them hundreds of thousands of acres of land, and municipalities, such as Monroe, issued City Bonds to raise funds to present to the railroads to help extend the railroads into their cities.

The original documents, together with Mr. Kirkpatrick's large accumulation of early passes were of great interest to the meeting. Mulled cider and donuts were served by the refreshment committee.

School's Attendance Above State Mark

Plymouth high school's attendance record shows a 94.15 per cent average, which is above the state good mark of 90 per cent.

The junior class leads with a 94.7 and the sophomores come in second with 94.3; next come freshmen with 94, and last, but not least, come the seniors with 93.6. All are well above the state good mark of 90 proclaimed by the state.

Of all the absences about 1 per cent were unexcused. Excused absences indicate legitimate excuses, such as sickness, death in the family, and dentist and doctor appointments.

Plythean Co-Editors Look For Theme for '54 Annual

Co-editors of the 1954 Plythean, Jeannie Walker and Janet Mulholland, are busily preparing for the weeks of work necessary to turn out this year's publication.

The senior co-editors Ann Sumner, Sally Shuttleworth, and Doranne Wilton started the ball rolling with senior pictures which came in November 12. The pictures will be sorted and identified within the next few weeks.

The juniors, sophomores, and freshmen have already started work on identification of pictures.

Ken Kisabeth, sports editor, assisted a photographer from Powell Studios in obtaining action shots of the football team at the Belleville game October 16. They will be developed and submitted for publication in the sport section of the annual.

The deadline for one fourth of the annual is December 20. The staff is mulling over ideas for a theme for the '54 Plythean.

As a money making project, the annual staff worked with the FHA on concessions at the Bentley game October 23. The placing of a ballot box in the study hall for the benefit of the students who have ideas for the annual's theme, was another project of the staff. A bulletin board for the Plythean room was undertaken by the enthusiastic staff, also.

The Plythean's advisor is Mrs. Nancy Coates.

Y-Teens to Hold Annual All Girl Party Tuesday

Attention all girls in grades nine through 12! If you are looking for a good time why not come to the Annual All Girls party in the high school auditorium. The party which will be held on Tuesday November 24, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. is sponsored by the Y-Teens.

To help the girls get better acquainted with one another is the purpose of this social gathering. Many games will be played and refreshments will be served.

Each grade will provide entertainment by having a small skit. The teachers will have a talent show, which should add much enjoyment to the evening.

The cost of financing U. S. schools goes higher.

Girls to Attend Playdays Event At Trenton High

A trip to Trenton is in store for 10 G. A. A. members from Plymouth high school on November 17 for a volleyball playday which will be held in the Trenton high gymnasium at 2:30.

Other playdays for the rest of the year will be as follows: in February, basketball at Allen Park; on March 23, swimming at Plymouth; on May 11, softball at Redford Union; and on June 11, track at Bentley. Each of these meetings must begin at 2:30 and each 6-B league school must have 10 representatives present. These activities are designed to promote good feeling between the schools and to instill good sportmanship in the girls.

The after-school volleyball which is open to all girls but is mainly for those wishing to earn points for G. A. A. will now be held Wednesday at 7 and Friday at 3:30, instead of Tuesday and Thursday because of boys' basketball practice in the gym.

Bird Parent-Teacher Group Meets Tuesday

Members of the Bird school Parent Teacher association will meet in the Bird school gymnasium for their November meeting on Tuesday evening, November 24 at 7:45 p.m.

Mrs. Marie Post Malvitz, a former art teacher in the Plymouth elementary schools, will be the guest speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Malvitz were married in Germany and have lived there the past year. Mrs. Malvitz has been studying art while there and will relate many of her interesting experiences in Germany.

Mrs. Bloxson's sixth grade students will present a short play which they have written.

A social hour will climax the evening's activities. The public is welcome to attend.

Career Carnival Helps Students Obtain Jobs

Contacts between college students and representatives from business and industry will take place during the fifth annual Career Carnival today and tomorrow at Michigan State College.

Sponsored by M. S. C.'s placement bureau and organized by students, the carnival will inform students of the requirements in various fields of business, industry and education. Company representatives also will see training being received by M. S. C. students.

Originally designed for M. S. C. students only, the carnival has been expanded with other Michigan colleges invited to attend. Representatives from approximately 70 companies throughout the nation will attend. The Career Carnival plan originated at Michigan State College and since has spread to many universities over the country, said Jack Breslin, director of the placement bureau. "The carnival is an attempt to bring closer cooperation between business, industry and education," he said. The event will introduce students to potential employers through informal talks with company representatives. Graduating seniors get a close-up of their occupational field, and, at the same time, undergraduates still undecided about a career are provided vocational counseling.

"Cyril," said his mother, as they sat down to the breakfast table, "did you wash your face this morning?" "Well, no — mamma," said he slowly, evidently casting in his mind for an excuse, "but," he added, reassuringly, "I cried a little before I came downstairs."

A man never realizes how silly his love letters are until he hears them read in court.

Mr. and Mrs. Esten Gray Describe Historic Sites Seen on Fourth Vacation to Land South of the Border

Sunny Mexico forms a backdrop for the vacations of Mr. and Mrs. Esten Gray of Starkweather avenue, who returned last Friday from their fourth trip through the southern country. Mrs. Gray, in describing her vacations in Mexico, stated that "each has been more colorful than the last." For a guide on their latest trip the Gray's found a man who "was a historian, archeologist, and in short a walking encyclopedia. He was of Indian, Spanish, Moorish and Arabian ancestry." The Grays traveled from Mexico City to Cuernavaca, the oldest resort in America. The city was captured by Cortez in 1525. Mrs. Gray said, "Spring weather is enjoyed here the year around." From Cuernavaca Mr. and Mrs. Gray went to Vista Hermosa. Commenting on Vista Hermosa, Mrs. Gray said that "Hernando Cortez had the sugar cane brought from India to Cuba and from Cuba to Vista Hermosa, and there established the first sugar refinery in America in the year 1535.

When Cortez left New Spain he passed the plantation on to his son Martin Cortez. "The plantation has always been in the hands of the Cortez family. It was burned on three different occasions, the last time by Emilio Zapata, who was the leader of the revolution of the South in 1910."

Taxco was the next destination of the tourists, and here they found "all streets of cobble stone and very narrow. It was built in 1725 and is called the Paradise of the Painters, built in the side of a mountain. "It is called the silver town because of silver mined there since 1530. The Indians in this area were the sole owners of the secret of amalgamation. Joseph De La Borda, the French mining engineer, understood and treated the Indians with kindness, and to show their gratitude they gave him the secret of the hardening process, which made him the wealthiest man in America at one time. In the place he found his riches, was constructed the parish church of Taxco, which is the only one of its type in the world since it had no architect. On the way to Puebla the party stopped at Grejocinogo on market day. Mrs. Gray said the most primitive Indians were at the market and that very little money was exchanged but there was much bartering. From Puebla they went to Tehuacan and then headed for Veracruz. Returning to Mexico City they visited numerous shrines and cities along the route. In summing up their four trips to Mexico, they agreed that they enjoyed each one more than the last.

Madonna College Delegates Attend Regional Congress of National Federation of Catholic College Students

Approximately 400 students attended the 11th regional congress of the National Federation of Catholic College Students held Saturday and Sunday, November 14-15 at the University of Detroit. The theme of the two-day congress was "World Vision in the Apostolate."

Marygrove, Detroit; Mary Manse, Toledo; Mercy, Detroit; Notre Dame, Cleveland; Siena Heights, Adrian; St. John, Cleveland; University of Detroit and Ursuline, Cleveland. Also represented was Assumption college, Windsor, Ontario, an associate member.

The Reverend John F. Finnegan, Ph. D., pastor at St. Patrick's parish, Detroit, and philosophy professor at Mercy college, in his address at the opening session Saturday, commented that never before has the Catholic laity been called on to work in the field of the apostolate to such an extent as in the present time.

"The church will never eminently be successful until we have an elite among the laity willing to support the hands of the priests and bishops in putting Christ into every nook of life." The Reverend Father Celestin Steiner, S.J., president of the host college, welcomed the delegates to this congress which he termed a "sharing of hearts, minds and ideals."

Robert Rhodes, president of the Newman club at Wayne university, spoke to the congress attendants about the aims and functions of the Newman group.

Throughout Saturday afternoon and Sunday, at sectional meetings, various commissions met for an exchange of ideas regarding campus activities held in conjunction with the respective commission.

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL Thursday, November 19, 1953 5

Chairman for the plenary sessions was Joan Petro, regional president from Madonna college. Serving as congress chairman was Shirley Beaupre, first vice-president of the region from University of Detroit.

Jane Flanagan, from the Lake Erie region and national vice-president in charge of student affairs, also attended the congress. In a brief address she called attention to the fact that the senior delegate is the most important figurehead in the NFCCS, and the organization will only be a success when this duty is realized by the delegates.

"Begorra," said Bridget, as she opened a bottle of champagne for the first time, "the fool that filled this quart bottle must 'a' put in two quarts instead of wan!"

Rock Grid Banquet To Feature M Coach

The annual fall athletic banquet, which has proven so successful the past few years, will be held next Wednesday evening in the Smith school auditorium beginning at 7 p. m. This banquet brings together fathers and their athletic sons for an evening of food and entertainment, and is sponsored each year by the athletic department of the high school.

This year the main attraction will be the appearance of William Perigo, the new basketball coach at the University of Michigan. Al Wistert, former all-American tackle at Michigan, will be master of ceremonies.

Bill Perigo brings to Michigan the reputation of being one of the country's finest teachers and a leading exponent of hustling, shooting basketball.

He came to Michigan from Western Michigan college where he developed highly successful teams during the past three years, and he succeeds Ernest B. McCoy, who resigned the post to become director of athletics at Pennsylvania State college.

As the ninth basketball coach since the sport was established in 1909, Perigo will devote full time to his new post. Assisting him will be Matt Patanelli, former Wolverine all-around star and Dave Straek, who also starred for the Maize and Blue on the court.

Perigo is a native of Lebanon, Indiana, and attended high school at Delphi, Indiana, where he was an outstanding athlete. He attended Western Michigan college and earned three letters as a basketball center at the Kalamazoo institution. After graduating with a B. S. degree in physical education in 1934, he coached two years at Markleville, Indiana, high school before moving to Benton Harbor high. There he succeeded Bill Orwig, present Wolverine coach in football, and remained there for 13 seasons.

WILLIAM "BILL" PERIGO

sons. During that time Benton Harbor teams won the Southwest conference crown seven times, played in the state finals three times and won the Michigan Class A championship once. During regular season play his teams won 122 and lost 64 games.

As Michigan's ninth cage coach Perigo succeeds a number of men who made outstanding contributions to the game. Coach Perigo is 41 years of age, married and the father of three children, Patricia, 16; Donald, 14; and Marybeth, 8.

Rock Cagemen Prepare For Northville Opener

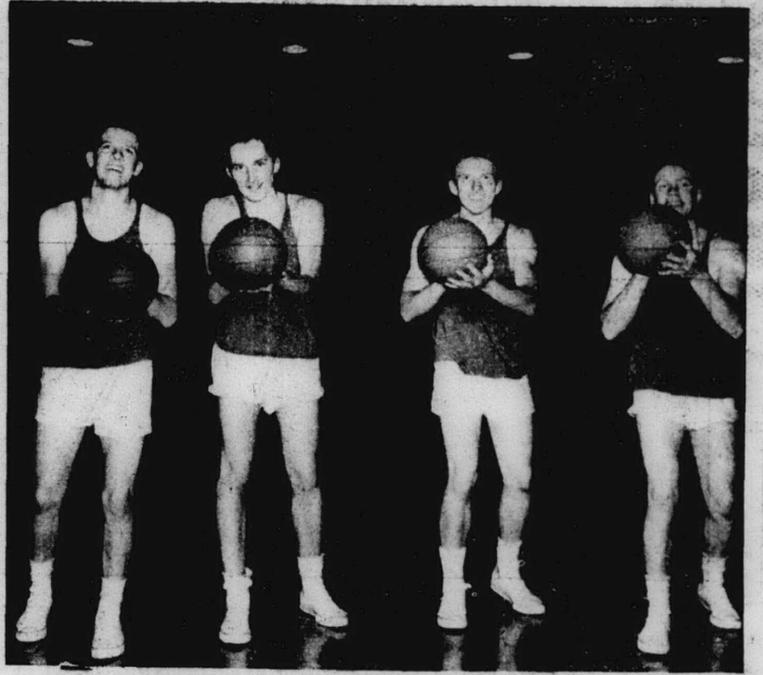

Plymouth's varsity basketball squad, under the direction of John Sandmann now in its second week of practice, is preparing for its opening game with Northville on Friday, December 4 on the local's home court.

This year's varsity team has back Jerry Kelly, a center, Ken Kisabeth, a forward, and Ty Caplin, a guard, who all were regulars on last year's outfit along with returning lettermen Gary Gothard and Ron Pagenkopf. They are bolstered by one other senior Ron Church, juniors Lee Juve, Larry Wilhelm, Jim Sorenson, Dan Clifford, John Agnew, Bob Middleton, Dick Day and the only sophomore Dick Davidson.

The junior varsity, which plays a preliminary game before the varsity, has also been practicing two weeks and is coached by Bill Harding. This team is composed of one senior; Mike Hershey; juniors: Gerry Swain, Hank Bongo, Wayne Smith, Jim Darnell, Tom Davis, and Russ Mecklenburg; sophomores: Lindy Mills, Al Kolak, Doyle Rowland, Steve Veresh, Bob Drews, Bob Young, Tom Ferguson, Jack Carter, Dave Tillotson, Jerry Steele, Dick Morrison, Dave Brinks and Ed Perenzi.

"How did the surprise party at the Cawkers turn out? Was it a genuine surprise?" "Indeed, it was. Somebody had given the Cawkers a hint, and when we got there the house was dark and there wasn't a soul at home."

Diamonds are the gems of thought most peculiar to women. Epicure: A masticator who appreciates a master caterer.

Sport Glances

Sports news will be very slim this week as it is the in-between season for sporting events, and then too, I have been very busy the past weekend with company, chores and whatnot. Last week I predicted Wisconsin would defeat Illinois—many thought I was daffy, maybe I am, but daffy or not that is just what happened. Just between you and me about predictions—one right prediction means more than a dozen wrong ones— it seems that people remember the one right answer, but forget the wrong ones, or take them for granted. Another surprise may take place this Saturday when Notre Dame plays Iowa—I'm not predicting this, but I wouldn't be the least surprised if Iowa beat the Irish. This season has been a wacky one, and last week four of the first 10 teams took it on the chin. Iowa has an up-and-coming team—one that is full of fight and is capable of upsetting the best team when they are all clicking.

The Lions are back on top in the pro circuit—they sort of backed into first place the past couple weekends. They have looked like anything but champions in winning from Baltimore and Green Bay. The reason is that their offensive unit is bogging down under hard-charging opponent's defensive lines. The Lions defensive unit has been keeping the champions as contenders, but the offensive team should begin clicking soon. They have a light schedule favoring them the remainder of the way, but the so-called setups are the teams to look out for—look what the Cardinals, who hadn't won a game all year, did to the Rams last Sunday. I'd rather see the Lions beat Cleveland than any other team, and it looks like they will meet for the pro championship if everything goes favorable for the Detroit team.

The annual football banquet will again be held this year when the fathers and sons get together with the coaches for the annual feast and talks from leading sports personalities. This year the event is being held at the Smith school next Wednesday night. The local athletic department has secured Bill Perigo, the basketball coach at the University of Michigan, as this year's featured speaker. Likeable Al Wistert, the former all-star all-American football tackle at the U. of M. will be the master of ceremonies.

As in the pasts the seniors will

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Parkview Jills League again be honored, the most valuable player and new captain chosen. This banquet is sponsored by the athletic department as a tribute to the boys; who gave their all during the fall season.

I have been following Bob Hitt in the Detroit papers this year and he seems to be bowling better than ever. His E. & B. team is up among the leaders, and the other night Bob rolled a 675 series for three games—a 225 average—not bad! Bob will be competing in the world bowling meet this January with the best in the business. More about him later.

It's a Deal!

You want a New Ford!

We want your old car!

HERE'S A SUGGESTION:
Drive in today to see the new, "Worth More" Ford. While you're seeing for yourself the many features that make Ford your best buy, we'll give you a price on your car. And it'll be a price you'll like! Just pick out the model you want (Ford has eight-teen of 'em!) and the deal's practically made! We're prepared for quick delivery and your old car will probably be your down payment. It's as easy as that. Should take less than an hour—15 minutes for business details and the rest of the time for us to show you first hand that Ford is the car that delivers the most for the money.

Name Zach Holmes
Director for Township
Acting Civil Defense

Zach Holmes, township treasurer, was elected acting civilian defense director at the meeting of the civilian defense committee at Plymouth Township hall, Thursday, November 12. Holmes will serve until a permanent director is appointed.

William L. Seibert, representing William Evans, Director of Wayne County Civilian Defense, explained the organization of a civilian defense network to the group. Also present were Ernest Henry, civilian defense director of Plymouth, and Roy Lindsay, township supervisor.

Appointment of the permanent director may be made at the meeting tonight, November 19, announced Leo Flowers, secretary. The committee who will make the appointment consists of Barney Maas, Bob Kenyon, Louis Foster, Leroy Westfall, Leo F. Flowers, Howard Holmes, Lee Boatwright, Clayton Rock and Sid Friday.

Any person wishing to submit his name for the post is asked to call 2151-W.

"Have you any luck hunting?"
"The greatest ever."
"How was that?"
"I went out with an amateur and came back alive."

The wife: you can't blame Me for wanting nice dresses. All women are slaves to fashion. The husband: Well, I'm a strong abolitionist, and I can't consistently give money toward encouraging slavery in any form.

Governor of the prison: What is the cause of this unedemly delay?

Goalter: That expert headman you engaged from the medical school is sterilizing the axe.

"CHECK, PLEASE!" In this case it is the customer who gets paid! 10-year-old Gerald Fischer is shown above with his $10 check for winning the weekly football contest. He was offered a shrimp cocktail but he said he preferred "a sundae"!

Name Gothard, Kelly To All-League Team

Gary Gothard and Jerry Kelly were the only two members of Plymouth's varsity football squad to be elected to the suburban 6B all-league team.

Gothard received a position of guard by being a brilliant defensive player and a fine blocker. Jerry Kelly, the Rockmen's high scorer with 54 points, was given a spot in the backfield. He was the Rock's safety man and a quick smashing offensive player who could block and pass well. Kelly also did most of the team's punting. The remainder of the first team saw Fred Fensch of Belleville and Dick Smith from Allen Park at the ends, Bob Vennenbush of Allen Park and Dick Mans from Trenton were the tackles, Don Henderson of Trenton along with Gothard as the guards, Jerry McNew was the center with Jim Saunders of Trenton, Dick Smith of Belleville, Bob Tate from Bentley, John Angelotti from Allen Park and Kelly composing the backfield.

Jeff Hubbell, a guard, Joe Signorelli, a tackle, and Denny Luker a halfback, were placed on the second team. On the honorable mention list was Mike Reh, as a center, Lee Juve, and Bob Gobiell, as backfield men.

Hunter Tags Buck
As 3-Run Away

Electrician Edward Campbell reports the bagging of a nice buck, shot near Atlanta at 9:15 the opening morning. Last year after killing his buck Mr. Campbell walked directly to the place where his deer fell and put down his gun to place a tag on the antlers.

No sooner was his gun on the ground than a much larger buck jumped from a clump of foliage beside him and ran off to safety. Taking no chances on a repeat performance this year Mr. Campbell waited some ten minutes before walking over to his prize then stood another 10 minutes before putting his gun on the ground.

No sooner was his gun down and as he reached for his tag five does and three bucks jumped through the thicket to disappear and scurry off into the woods in front of the dismayed hunter.

Life is a crazy quilt arrangement of flesh and blood.

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

COMPETITIVE SPORTS IN EAST DEAD

"Competitive sports in the East are dead," Coach Jim Tatum, University of Maryland coach, declared to a writer for The Sporting News.

He puts the blame on traffic jams in the heavily-populated cities and the competition from free television.

"Notre Dame is the only football team which can still fill the stadiums in the East," said Tatum. He pointed out that the big Army-Duke game of a few weeks ago drew only 21,000 in New York's Polo Grounds. "Fordham a good team and isn't drawing, either," said Tatum.

"City folks are too tired of bucking heavy traffic during the week to want to go through it again for football games on Saturday.

"Down in my home town of McColl, S. C., the folks don't see much heavy traffic during the week. They go to games on Saturday just to get a look at some of it," the Maryland mentor points out in The Sporting News story.

"There are also more people in the East who would rather flick the television dial in their living room than fight the crowds. I can't blame them, either. They have more channels to pick from than the people elsewhere. And they don't have to get baby sitters when they watch TV."

BILL TERRY HAD EYES ON MONTREAL

Grabbed from the "Ruhl Book" in The Sporting News: They say the report about Bill Terry being considered by Walter O'Malley as manager of the Dodgers grew out of Bill's talks with the Brooklyn club's head man regarding possible purchase of the Montreal Royals. Terry would like to buy the club, envisioning Montreal's promotion to the majors in a third league.

MILLION-PLUS GRAVY BRIMS GRID BOWLS

It's time to change that old entertainment field slogan about "There's No Business Like Show Business."

In its finest modern dress it certainly should be altered to read: "There's No Business Like the Football Bowl Business."

An article in The Sporting News states that with the collegiate season rolling into its final weeks, the battle for places in the major bowl games is bitter. There are plenty of football honors available to the teams that get into the post-season parades, plus a portion of the richest gridiron melon in the game's history.

Here's the swag, as reported in The Sporting News, that the competing teams will divide in the four top bowl battles:

Game	Teams' Share
Rose Bowl	$600,000
Sugar Bowl	280,000
Orange Bowl	220,000
Cotton Bowl	205,000
Total	$1,305,000

WHY JOHNNY SAIN QUIT YANKEES

He said so-long to the Yankees . . . baseball's finest team . . . three World's Series shares totaling nearly $20,000 . . . prospects of more . . . a good salary . . . plenty of life in the old soupbone. But he quit. Why? asked The Sporting News.

"I had this chance," explained Johnny Sain slowly, from Walnut Ridge, Ark., "I thought I'd better take it. This automobile agency is what I've wanted. I had the promise of it. I couldn't let it go."

Sain had this to say about the game: "You know it was the only game that I liked—the competition. I made few public appearances, few advertising deals. Baseball was a business to me, and I dedicated my life to it."

Light Pecan Pie

One of the baked treats from home for the Marvin Terry family of 1075 Roosevelt is pecan pie. Since Terry's Bakery does not sell the delicacy Mrs. Terry often prepares it for her family.

Their friends know it as her specialty, along with Southern fried chicken. Her husband prepares the pie crust at the bakery, for as Mrs. Terry put it, "He's so used to making it that he can turn it out in the time it would take me to get started."

Her recipe will make one deep dish pecan pie, two small 8 inch pies or 14 to 18 tarts, Mrs. Terry said. She added that some people prefer to use brown sugar in their pies, but that makes them rather dark.

Pecan Pie Filling

4 beaten eggs
1 cup sugar
1 1/4 cups dark corn syrup
1 1/4 cups chopped pecans
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 1/2 tablespoons melted butter

Stir ingredients together lightly. Place in a pastry shell and bake in a 250 degree oven for 30 minutes. Turn the oven to 300 degrees and bake another 15 minutes. Filling will cook up well and thicken.

Mrs. Terry said the pie may be served plain or with whipped cream. Using the latter makes a very rich dessert, however, she warned.

Almost Anything Can Cause Hives

Hives are funny to some folks, but not to the sufferer.

Dr. Kenneth P. Mathews, assistant professor of internal medicine and assistant in allergy in the University of Michigan's Health Service, reports:

"Some patients have a severe form of hives which can be most uncomfortable and occasionally dangerous."

Big mosquito-bite looking welts, called "wheals" by doctors, can create a frenzy of digging and itching reminiscent of Chinese torture. And some acute attacks are associated with vomiting, nausea, diarrhea or abdominal cramps.

Hives, medically identified as "urticaria," may be caused by drug allergy, food allergy, localized infection, nervous tension or a pet cat.

Dr. Mathews, in assessing the importance of determining the cause of hives, suggests that the sufferer keep an accurate diary of all the foods or drugs he took prior to each attack.

You might be allergic to aspirin or penicillin; your system might not be able to tolerate shrimp or strawberries; or you might break out in an itching rash at the very sight of your neighbor.

A rigid diet may be necessary, or a prescription of antihistamine. Or some common sense psychotherapy on the subject of neighbors.

In any case, it's not funny. But Dr. Mathews assures the sufferer that allergists have become pretty adept detectives in tracking down the cause and in managing the condition.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

FIRST AID IN BLEEDING

Do you know what to do if an accident occurs and someone, who is injured, starts bleeding and the red blood is coming in spurts from an injured artery? If you do not know what to do, the blood could drain out of the body in a comparatively short time and the sufferer could die.

1. A doctor should be called immediately.
2. If water is available, clean your hands.
3. If an artery is cut and you can obtain clean cloths, put on a pad and bandage.
4. If this does not stop the bleeding, try pressure with your hand between the wound and the heart.

5. If manual pressure does no good and you have no tourniquet, a necktie, a belt, a handkerchief or a strip of cloth, even if torn from the bottom of a woman's dress, will do. Put a pad over the injury and the seat of the bleeding. Tie the band around the limb right over the pad. Insert a stick and turn it around twisting the band and causing it to press the pad into the tissues over the bleeding vessel. Loosen the tourniquet from time to time in order not to cut off the circulation too long. Loosen it every 20 minutes. If you succeed in stopping the bleeding, let it remain loose but watch it closely.

If the blood is coming from a large vein, it will be dark in color and may flow in a steady stream. From an artery it may come in a steady stream or in spurts or jets corresponding to the heart beats. A clean cut across a blood vessel is more dangerous than a bruised or mangled injury. The latter clots more rapidly.

People often faint from the loss of blood. This is a good thing, for it slows the heart beats. That tends to stop the hemorrhage. If the bleeding is decreased, a clot may form which will stop it altogether.

The symptoms of severe bleeding are: buzzing in the ears, dimness of vision, dizziness, cold sweat, whiteness of face and lips, restlessness, rapid pulse, and low breathing.

Give no stimulants. They increase the heart beats. Anxiety and fear also stimulate the heart. Be self-reliant and calm. Thus reassured, the bleeder conquers fear and grows tranquil and confident. This enables the patient to cooperate and to rest quietly until the physician takes charge.

See that no uncleanness gets into the wound. If water is available, wash the hands thoroughly. Hot water is best. Keep the wound clean.

If the patient has been shot, leave the probing of the wound and the removal of the bullet to the doctor.

Mrs. Elmore Carney of Penniman avenue was hostess to her bridge club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. D. McLaren of Roosevelt avenue is confined to her home with pneumonia.

Rita Lewis Weds Albert Stone In Double Ring Nuptial Rites

Rita Marie Lewis and Albert Joseph Stone were united in marriage in an 11 o'clock nuptial Mass in the St. Michael's Catholic church, Rosefeld Gardens, on Saturday, October 3. Rita, who formerly resided on Orangelawn avenue in Plymouth, is the daughter of Mrs. Claude W. Lewis of Detroit and the late Claude Lewis. Mrs. Anthony Joseph Stone and the late Anthony Stone of Fairbault, Minnesota are the bridegroom's parents.

The double ring rites were performed by the Reverend Father Matthew B. Blake of Roseville, Michigan.

Bouquets of large white mums graced the main altar with palms and mums in the sanctuary. The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, J. Earl McKenna of Detroit, chose a gown of white satin and lace with an illusion neckline of net edged in two rows of lace ruffles giving an off-shoulder effect. The long sleeves extended in points over the wrists. A panel in the skirt was made of alternating rows of satin and lace ruffles, while the full skirt edged in lace extended in a four and one-half foot train.

Miss Beverly Ann McKenna, cousin of the bride, sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother," and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

For her matron of honor, Rita chose her cousin, Mrs. Mary Jean Clinton. Her gown was of gold lace and net with a matching bolero. She also wore a sparkling gold coronet with matching net veiling, and carried a blue fan covered with yellow rose buds.

Mrs. Audrey K. Lewis, sister-in-law of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She was gowned like the honor matron in a dress of light blue net and lace with a blue coronet. Her fan was yellow set with talisman rose buds.

Donald P. Lewis, brother of the bride, was best man and Joseph P. Forrest, the bride's cousin, served as usher.

The bride's mother chose an azure blue gown with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. She completed her costume with a corsage of pink rose buds.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at Paul's Steak House for 25 members of the family. The tables were beautifully decorated with vases of white gladioli. In the evening a wedding reception was held in St. Michael's parish hall in Livonia for 150 guests.

The new Mrs. Stone chose a gray suit with black accessories for her going-away costume. The couple honeymooned for two weeks in southern Minnesota and Omaha, Nebraska. They are at home at 17245 Vaughan avenue in Detroit.

Guests were present from Detroit, Belleville, Livonia, Indiana and Kentucky.

Report Aid For Softened Nails

Brittle, fragile fingernails — a problem to young and senior citizens alike—have been successfully treated in many instances by including unflavored gelatine in the daily diet.

An envelope of the unflavored gelatine must be taken at least 90 consecutive days because it takes that long to grow a new nail. The gelatine can be taken in water, fruit or vegetable juices or bouillon. If used in water or juices, sprinkle the envelope of gelatine into a glass of the liquid, let liquid absorb the gelatine, then stir and drink. If the liquid thickens, add more liquid and stir again. When taking the gelatine in bouillon, soften the envelope amount in 3/4 cup of water in a small saucepan; add 1 chicken or beef bouillon cube, place over low heat and stir constantly until the gelatine is dissolved and the bouillon is of serving temperature.

Holiday Season Treat—Pork Roast

Thanksgiving is a time when friends and relatives gather. If members of your family are coming home from school and you'll have other house guests, then it's time to start planning your Thanksgiving, as well as other dinner menus. Advance planning will save time later and will let you spend more leisure hours with your guests, a test of a good hostess.

For one festive dinner why not serve a generous pork loin roast? It will make such a gay appearance on the table. For a clever touch, strip the meat from the rib bones and top each bone with a tiny paper frill.

Be sure you purchase a large roast so there will be ample meat left for snack sandwich making and for an additional meal, perhaps combined in a sour cream sauce and served in noodle nests.

Roasting Pork

Roasting meat takes little of your attention. You can place the roast in a 350° F. oven and forget about it until near serving time. The modern way to roast meat is as follows: Place the meat fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not cover and do not add water to the pan.

If you have a roast meat thermometer be sure to use it. This eliminates guesswork inserted in the center of thickest section, but not on bone or in fat, the thermometer will indicate when the roast has reached the degree of doneness you desire. You can plan on 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a center cut roast; 45 to 50 minutes per pound for an end roast. Let the roast stand in a warm place for 15 to 20 minutes after it comes from the oven to make carving easier.

Here is Quick Ground Beef Casserole Dish

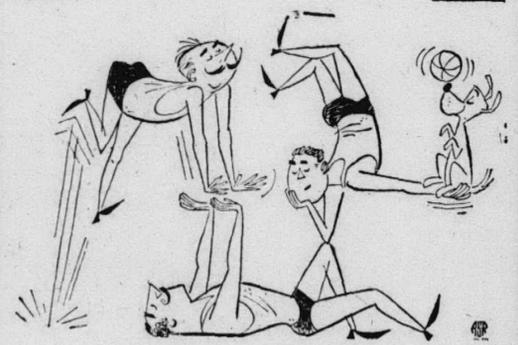

One of the grand features of ground beef is that it may be prepared in so many different casserole dishes. Likewise, many of these casseroles are of the quick and easy variety, a wonderful aid to today's busy homemaker.

A ground beef and noodle combination is just such a casserole. To prepare this dish simply brown the ground chuck and combine it with cooked noodles. Season with tomato sauce, minced green pepper and heat in a moderate oven for about 45 minutes.

Ground beef and rice are another team. Again brown the beef, then combine with cooked rice, sauteed celery and minced onion. Add a can of undiluted condensed mushroom soup and bake in a moderate oven for about 35 minutes.

For still another dish, brown the ground beef with minced onion. To it add 1 No. 303 can of tomatoes. Season with Worcestershire sauce and salt. Place in a casserole, top with a layer of thinly sliced raw potato, a layer of whole kernel corn and one of lima beans. Sprinkle the top with grated cheddar cheese and bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes or until vegetables are cooked.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

GET IN THE ACT

Get in the act with riboflavin, one of the B vitamins. You need it, if you want to take a bow for better health. Riboflavin, when you get enough of it, is more than a partner. It takes on the job of a stage manager in your body. The result—other food substances may be used more efficiently.

Without this vitamin, the protein food you eat could not be properly used in the manufacture of new body cells or in the repair of old ones. In this show, riboflavin also helps set the pace by assisting in the release of energy from fats and carbohydrates—your body fuel. If too little riboflavin is in your three meals a day, cracked and sore areas at the corners of the mouth may develop. Burning and bloodshot eyes, which may be unusually sensitive to the bright light, may also occur. With slight deficiencies of this vitamin, symptoms may not be visible, but deficiencies may be accompanied by a generally lowered state of health, efficiency and earning power.

Riboflavin is an easy-to-get vitamin because it is widely distributed in nature. Requirements may be met easily if you use moderate care in selecting your food from all the well-known basic food groups. To be certain that riboflavin will "get in the act" put some liver in the market basket and do it often. Liver, either chicken, calves' or pork liver is the best food source of riboflavin. It also is found in large quantities in leafy vegetables such as turnip greens, spinach and kale. The eggs, milk and cheese which you include in your meals play a part, in the show that must go on, by furnishing good amounts of riboflavin.

Along with other members of the B vitamin family, riboflavin co-stars in the enrichment of bread, flour and cereals. Enriched bread contains more of this vitamin than does whole wheat bread. Because plenty of riboflavin is used in enriching cereal flours, the amount in everyone's daily food is increased regardless of the number of dollars spent at the grocery store or super-mart.

In 1952, an estimated 19,978,586 pounds of edible meat came from Michigan wildlife. In 1953 Michigan homemakers will again have plenty of use for the Michigan Cooperative Extension bulletins—"Venison" and "Good Eating from Woods and Fields"—which are available through county Extension offices.

If you're in the habit of cleaning ice cube trays and tray grids with hot water, it's time to change your ways. Hot water tends to remove the wax coating on the surface of the trays which is there to make removal of ice cubes easier. So next time you clean ice trays and tray grids, use warm, not hot water.

If you are wondering how to add new life to an old bathroom, here is a suggestion: Replace outdated hooks, towel bars, and other accessories with colorful, new plastic equipment that will brighten the room without need for complete redecoration.

Complete bathroom accessories in matching styles are available in self-adhering plastics which stick without the need for nails, screws, or special glues. Soap dishes, tumbler and toothbrush holders, towel bars, hooks, and toilet tissue holders — all may be applied easily and are particularly durable in a new type of accessory which features an exclusive adhesive-coated wood insert molded into the back of the plastic.

These bathroom accessories adhere strongly because of the wood affixing surface. Even the woman and children of the family can put them up simply by moistening the adhesive with several drops of water, working it to a gluey consistency, and applying the accessory to a flat wood, plaster, tile, or glass surface. The accessory should be held in place firmly for one minute and the adhesive should be allowed to dry 24 hours before the plastic fixture is used to assure durability.

Tile or glass surfaces should be free of grease or dirt and a small bit of paint, varnish, or wax should be scraped from the affixing spot on wood or plaster to allow proper adhesion. Enamel should be roughed up slightly.

Beautiful white, red, yellow, green, and black colors make these plastic accessories particularly adaptable to living or dressing up an old or new bathroom since those shades are the most popular for that area of the house.

The accessories include 12 and 18-inch towel bars as well as a movable three-arm towel holder, which is excellent for drying hosiery or lingerie.

Chili con carne makes a grand treat for a Saturday night supper. For a change serve chili with potato chips or with hot corn bread. Or serve the chili on a bed of rice or on or combined with macaroni.

THE WROUGHT ORNAMENTAL IRON WORK, which enhances the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Wiedman of 47650 North T territorial road, was recently added by the Roberts Supply company. The black color is added to the metal during the forging process, and thus has a permanent quality. Ornamental iron work comes in 12 different designs and is used for stair and railing work, weather vanes, porch columns and mail boxes.

Landscaping Needed To Give A Home Shade, Privacy and Storm Protection

Without specialized training in the field, the average homeowner is fighting an uphill battle when it comes to landscaping his grounds, according to home Modernizing magazine, which gives these tips on the subject.

First, consider what proper landscaping can do for the home:

1. It can "tie" the house to its site, covering square lines of the foundation and framing the corners, for a finished, pleasing appearance (this is called foundation planting).
2. It can shade the house for greater comfort.
3. It can screen the house and yard from strong winds.
4. It can block off undesirable views, and give the family privacy within the lot.
5. It can border or "fence" the lot.
6. It can cover awkward spots, and hold the ground on hilly spots.
7. It can prolong the life of the house and help heating and cooling plants do their jobs.
8. It can frame the view, and furnish a background for the house.
9. Besides beautifying the home and grounds, intelligent landscaping increases the market value of the property.

For warm weather comfort, you need at least one shade tree on the west side of the house, and should have one on the south and east as well. Good foundation planting is particularly necessary where the house sits high; very little is needed with modern, low ranch houses.

Here are a few principles to go on: Pick your foundation plants with an eye to their future heights and shapes. They should have the same general color and texture, or go well together, to avoid a spotty effect. Plant so that in a few years you will have a curving effect with gentle dips and peaks created by the way you place the taller and shorter plants.

You can "fence" the lot with a low clipped hedge; or plant a border that consists of tall bushes at the lot line, curving rows of smaller plants in front of them, flowers at the very inside, as a colorful border to the lawn.

Windbreaks are especially useful if your lot is open to the sweep of winter winds; they act as snow fences also. They may be planted of closely-set evergreen trees or shrubs, giving color in the winter as well as keeping out wind and snow; or they may be of dense but leaf-shedding shrubs.

Ground cover is a boon to the homeowner who has spots on his land where it would be hard to grow or to mow grass.

Most landscape architects and home builders agree that from two to five percent of the cost of the home can go into landscaping; and some go as high as 10 percent.

For a new home, landscaping costs are generally figured in the mortgage. With existing homes, landscaping qualifies for an FHA Title I home improvement loan, and many lending agencies make their own loans for this purpose, regardless of FHA.

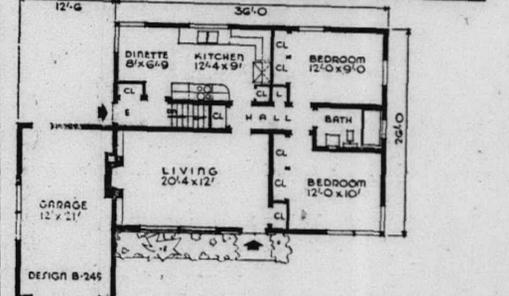

As a general guide to costs, remember that many beautiful plants are slow-growing and may cost more to bring to salable size at the nursery; but their extra cost will soon be forgotten, while the extra pleasure they bring will last for years.

Asphalt roofing has many auxiliary uses. One of these, which takes advantage of the same waterproofing qualities that make it an excellent roof covering, is to keep dampness from rotting the base of a wood post.

When a post is to rest on concrete, masonry or other wood, cement a piece of asphalt roofing to the bottom of the post before putting the post in place. This will keep water from entering the porous end grain of the wood.

Color in floors, such as afforded by Kenrubber and Kentile, has become well-established as part of the modern home decoration trend. Many home decorators start with the floor when planning the room decor.

Did you know that the walls of a home actually can be too tight? Unless walls breathe, that is, permit some air to pass through them, moisture may be trapped and cause rapid deterioration.

DESIGN B-245. Because of its rectangular shape and straight gable roof, this plan is an economical type to build, with a minimum of cutting and framing. It consists of a full basement, attached garage, living room, combination kitchen-dinette and two bedrooms. Exterior finish is wide siding with asphalt shingles. Plans provide for a brick planting area. Other features include casement windows, fireplace with book shelves, linen closet, an efficient kitchen arrangement and closets at each entrance. Bedroom closets are the wardrobe type with overhead storage. Floor area is 936 sq. ft. with cubage of 17,550 cu. ft. For further information about DESIGN B-245, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

DRIVEWAY WIDTHS

A one-car driveway should be at least 8 feet wide. Minimum width for a two-car drive is 15 feet.

VACUUM-CLEAN WALLS

Dust on wood-paneled plywood walls can be removed easily with the same vacuum cleaner attachment as used on furniture upholstery.

Did you stop over to see the new homemaking section in the high school last week? If you didn't, you sure missed your opportunity to take a gander at the marvelous new equipment they've just installed in the food laboratory. Instead of making it look like the old fashioned lab—porcelain tables and cramped little cupboards—they've made it like a kitchen you'd find in your own home. I might better say you are likely to find the kind of kitchens you've dreamed of having yourself.

The sink and cupboard units are from Youngstown Kitchens and were installed by Dave Galin. The units are diversified to show the small apartment size unit with the single basin sink, and the larger units with double sinks. Cabinets are both above the sink and below. However, some of the units feature cupboard space which is completely below the sink.

Furniture Fashions

Will your dining area be inviting during the busy entertaining season just ahead? Today, with contemporary furniture, you can have convenience and beauty in the smallest dining area. With the addition of leaves this well proportioned drop-leaf dining table extends to party size. The roomy buffet has two storage compartments and three spacious drawers. Personal touches, such as the Norwegian pewter salad sets for wall decoration, add distinction to your dining area. Note, too, how harmoniously the French Provincial print draperies blend with the modern furniture. The furniture grouping shown is available in a Span Silver, Sandstone or a Flamingo finish. The wood is genuine African mahogany.

Even The Best Brush

Before using a new paint brush, work the bristles back and forth on your hands a few times to remove any loose bristles. A few of these will be found in even the best quality brushes but once they have been worked out you should not expect any others to come loose.

PORCH BROADENS HOUSE

A porch added to the side of a square boxy house gives added breadth, more pleasing proportions, a more modern look.

Tape Assures Smooth

To avoid those ragged, splintered edges when cutting plywood on your bench saw, make use of that roll of cellulose tape. It's a simple precaution that pays off in neater work. Just place a strip of the tape over your cut mark and run the stock through the saw slowly, for a smooth cut.

Asbestos-cement siding shingles now may be obtained in a wide range of attractive, permanent colors.

How To Paint Grooves

When you're painting a porch ceiling that has been constructed of tongue-in-groove lumber, be sure to dip only a little paint onto your brush at a time. Otherwise the grooves in the lumber will wipe off too much paint from your brush.

It's a good idea, incidentally, to have a cloth handy for wiping the brush if any paint runs down the handle.

NOT TARZAN, but workers for the Asplundh Tree Expert company will be seen going through Plymouth trees during the next 60 days trimming away limbs which interfere with power lines. Using the Hydro Sky-Worker pictured above, a man using hydraulic cutting tools while standing in the "crow's nest" cuts man-hour labor in half. Another machine at the rear of the truck grinds up large limbs into pulp. Pictured above inspecting the operation (left to right) are City Manager Al Glassford, Paul Harner of the Detroit Edison company, Ken Anderson, forestry superintendent of Wayne county; Mark Haar, crew superintendent; and Harry Roberts, head of the local office of the Utility Lines Construction company, a subsidiary of the Asplundh company of Jenkens-town, Pennsylvania. Elmo Jenson is in the tree-top.

W. J. Smith's horses ran away one day last week with his little boy on the bottom boards of the wagon. They were stopped by James Norris with no damage but it was a bad scare. Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Palmer, who have returned from a four months trip through England and the continent, were the guests of Mrs. Lottie Passage of Livonia, last week. Mr. Palmer gives a fine account of their trip, and the sights they saw, and of the great storms at sea, which they encountered on their way home to America. Edward Pelton, who left here about a year ago to accept a position with the Detroit Copper and Brass Rolling Mills, has been appointed assistant foreman in the copper rolling department of that plant.

The Mail publisher and wife left Detroit Thursday morning with the Eastern Michigan Press Association excursion to Chicago. They will be gone several days "seeing the elephant" in the windy city.

Frank Blakely, a young man formerly of Plymouth, was quite seriously hurt Tuesday. He is a brakeman on the Pere Marquette running between Grand Ledge and Saginaw, and while coupling a car at a small station near Saginaw, was caught between the car and the station platform and very severely squeezed and sustaining serious internal injuries. He was jammed in so tight that a part of the planks had to be cut to effect his release.

F. P. Robards special inspector held civil service examinations last Friday for applicants for the F. R. D. routes, to establish those eligible to fill vacancies.

There was a very pleasant gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chaffee in honor of their mother's 90th birthday, on Friday afternoon, November 13.

The first meeting of the Pedro club met with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Samsen last Tuesday evening. The Whist club met with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Robinson, Wednesday evening.

Residents of lower town are electric lights on the street car line are not turned on these dark nights. A request to headquarters will undoubtedly remedy the matter.

will be glad to have any of their friends call at the home on Fairground avenue.

Miss Melissa Roe will present 12 of her pupils in a short program, entitled, "The Musical Calendar", Monday evening, November 26, at 8 p.m. at the Starkweather school. Those taking part in the program are: Roberta Chappel, Dorothy McCullough, Engrid Erickson, Audrea Kreeger, Estella and John Miller, Caroline Rathburn, Norma Jean and Phyllis Roe, Ernestine Wilson, Gertrude and Pauline Woodworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ebert and Mrs. Johanna Beyer were among the many relatives and friends who attended high Mass at the Grotto Avenue Grotto church, Detroit, on Saturday morning November 17, and paid compliments to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beyer in honor of their 20th wedding anniversary.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a pleasant meeting Thursday, November 15, at the home of the president, Mrs. E. R. Daggett. A very interesting report of the district convention, written by Mrs. E. C. Vealey and read by Mrs. J. Rattenbury, was greatly enjoyed by all.

Hundreds of persons attended the reception Tuesday night at the high school auditorium for three teachers in the public schools, who have given 25 years of faithful service to the community. They were Superintendent George A. Smith, Principal Mrs. Nellie Bird of the Central Grade School and Miss Edna Allen, assistant principal of the high school, and head of the English department.

Charles Blair and George Martin haven't any fears of the future, that's one thing sure. They are so confident that everything is going to be O.K. in every way that they have gone into business. These well known citizens have opened up a poultry market at the corner of East Ann Arbor and Stark road.

Miss Barbara Kanke celebrated her 8th birthday Tuesday by inviting 15 of her classmates and friends to her home on Ann Arbor road for games and refreshments.

City Health Officer Luther Peck said this week that there are nine cases of scarlet fever in the city, but that there is no reason whatsoever to fear that an epidemic has set in.

Harold Underwood of 1341 Sheridan was seriously injured last Friday night when he was riding to the north country for the hunting, slid from the icy pavement and crashed into a culvert near Grand Rapids.

Lieutenant John Winthrop Powell, 21, of Fargo, North Dakota, was killed last Thursday afternoon when his fast pursuit plane crashed about 100 yards west of Ray Mettetal's greenhouse, south of Plymouth.

The annual Senior Prom of Plymouth High school will be held on the evening of December 3, it was announced this week by Robert Deyo, the general chairman.

Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple was one of three of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors invited by Dr. Yoder to attend the Study Session at the Michigan State Hospital for the Insane in Ypsilanti last Wednesday.

Social Security Man Schedules Friday Visit

The social security representative of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security office will not make the scheduled visit to Plymouth on Thursday, November 26 due to the Thanksgiving holiday. However, the representative will be at the Plymouth post office the following day, Friday, November 27.

All residents of the Plymouth and Northville area who have social security matters to discuss should call at the Plymouth post office between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon on Friday.

Korean Women Tells About Condition of Her Country

Early in the year the Passage-Gayde auxiliary of the American Legion held a sweater drive for an orphanage in Korea. A large number of sweaters were collected from local residents and forwarded to Korea. This week Mrs. Dorothy Knapp, of the auxiliary, received a letter from the Sung Ai Won Babies' Home in Pusan, Korea thanking them for the sweaters.

Parts of the letter, exactly as it was written, are reprinted here. "Your kind sending the gift for us really a great joy. I appreciated it very much. I shared it to our children, big one to big children and small one to small children. All of the children was very delighted to be given those clothes jumping around a chattering about it came from America."

"We are bringing up about 80 babies and 70 children now in our home, and all of the children, mostly, are due to the Korean War. Our Korea has been very much destroyed by the cruel Communists, and many has become a beggar, and the artists and enterprisers also wandered about the street because of their hard living, so that numerous children became lost of their parents and many of their parents died due to the war."

The superintendent goes on to tell how they try to make life happier for the children with singing and dancing. She adds that each has a bed of his own and take a bath about three times a week.

Mrs. Knapp said she thought a glimpse at this letter would provide a personal "thank you" to all the residents who donated to the sweater drive.

School Planners Seek Halt of Reckless Driving

A resolution pleading for closer vigilance of reckless driving near the township's schools was approved by the Community School Planning group when they held their second meeting of the school year this month.

The session also included an election of officers at which James Hardimon, 481 Evergreen, was elected president. He is a former superintendent of schools at Hancock, Michigan. Leaving as head of the organization was Miss Ruth E. Eriksson, principal of Smith Elementary school.

Mrs. Charles Root, Jr., 265 Ann, was elected secretary of the planning group. She succeeded Mrs. Vivian Thorson, second grade teacher at Starkweather school.

The resolution concerning reckless driving near schools is being sent to the city commission, the township supervisor and to the Wayne county sheriff's department. It declared that the Community School Planning group has gathered "frequent and vigorous" complaints about reckless driving near schools and urges the law enforcement agencies to take steps to secure additional personnel, equipment and training to enforce all traffic laws in the municipality.

The outgoing president was also given a vote of "thanks" for her efforts during the past year. This is the third year of organization for the group.

A three-page report on conditions and problems at the various schools was presented by Mrs. Esther Franklin and her committee.

The meeting was held at the new Edna Allen Elementary school through which the members were given a tour. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Closing C. F. Smith Company Store Here

Plymouth's C. F. Smith company, 820 Penpiman, is going out of business here this week after selling its merchandise at a reduced price.

Manager George Korte said that the chain firm decided to close the store to conform with a policy of discontinuing smaller stores and consolidating them with their super markets.

The manager said that he expects the store to close its doors by the end of this week. The closing-out sale began last Thursday.

"What makes you think he is an artist?"
"His long hair, his whiskers and his threadbare clothes."

Top Not Tip

No. 3: Don't Hit a Pedestrian When His Back Is Turned

When you start up and turn right on a green signal light watch for a pedestrian who steps off the curb to cross on the same green signal. By starting on the green and keeping within the crosswalk he has the right of way.

The more important point is that he has his back to you and can't see you coming. Certainly he is in your way. Obviously he should turn his head and look left before stepping out into traffic. Naturally you would like to have him wait for you to cross first but he is the under dog in the traffic stream. Give him a break: Remember, when you park your car you, too, become a pedestrian.

Point to Another Example of Need For Area Hospital

Sterling Eaton, Chairman of the St. Mary Hospital Building Fund Campaign, today pointed to another example of the need for adequate hospital facilities in the area.

A Livonia infant, seven weeks old, Carolyn Hacko, 30642 Puritan, died recently enroute to the Wayne County General hospital. She had suffered an attack of convulsions, which necessitated her being rushed to the nearest hospital.

"If there were a hospital within easy reach of this little girl's home, she might be living today," Mr. Eaton said. He added, "The same misfortune can strike any of us, at any time. Let's do something about it. Let's all support the St. Mary Hospital Campaign, and help solve this very critical problem."

The Plymouth Memorial Gift Committee under Mrs. Ann Sumner, Chairman, is busy soliciting individuals in Plymouth, offering them the opportunity to designate some section of the hospital as a memorial to a loved one. The members of this committee are:

Mrs. Norman Atchinson, Mrs. Edwin Campbell, Mrs. Winston Cooper, Miss Margaret Dunning, Mrs. Harry O. Draper, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Richard C. Kraffre, Mrs. A. L. Lantz, Mrs. Peter Ralph Miller and Mrs. Earl L. Russell.

Local Club Observes Optimist Week With Emphasis on Boys' Work

Mayor Russell M. Daane has issued a proclamation naming this week, November 15 through 21, as Optimist Week, and urges all citizens of Plymouth to join in this observance and to extend a hearty salute to the Optimist club for its activities in boys' work. The official theme for Optimist Week is, "Every boy needs a man's helping hand."

Optimist clubs throughout the world devoting a large amount of time, money, and effort to the education and development of youth in unfortunate circumstances and in this work, the Optimist club of Plymouth is performing a vital service to all citizens and particularly to the youth of the community.

Matthew Fortney, president of the Plymouth Optimist club, pointed out that there are almost 900 individual Optimist clubs in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Cuba, and Hawaii with a combined membership of more than 41,000. "These clubs," he said, "are carrying out important boys' work in making their slogan, 'Friend of the Boy,'

Chamber Plans Fire Prevention Inspection Here

Plymouth mercantile establishments will be inspected in the interests of fire prevention on Tuesday, January 12, 1954, by representatives of the Michigan State Fire Prevention association if plans now being formulated are carried out.

The invitation to the association was mailed by President Ralph Lorenz of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce in September. The executive board of the Chamber of Commerce approved this project at its August meeting.

The program will mean that around 50 fire prevention engineers and inspectors will work in teams and inspect every mercantile establishment in Plymouth for fire hazards and will make on-the-spot recommendations to the occupants of the buildings.

Roy Fisher and Bob Johnston, co-chairmen in charge of arrangements, have stated that programs on fire prevention will be carried out in the schools that day. Kiwanis will play host at the January 12 meeting to members of the Michigan State Fire Prevention association, at which time a member of the association will be the speaker.

"There is no cost involved in the program. It is an effort by capital stock fire insurance companies to help the public save lives, property values and dollars," said general chairman Roy Fisher. "This is the first time that this has been done in Plymouth," he added.

Donald Knief of the executive committee of the association met with the Plymouth Association of Insurance agents at its first meeting held on October 26 and outlined the preliminary arrangements for the affair.

Well-Baby Clinic Marks End of Era

The Well-Baby Clinic, for 28 years an institution in Plymouth, has been discontinued this fall, and thus removed from the list of Community Fund agencies. Dr. Milo Brady, Detroit pediatrician, travelled to Plymouth once a month for the 28 years of the clinic to assist local mothers with the care of their children.

The clinic was held at the high school with an eye toward providing free help for the new mother. Dr. Brady would weigh the baby, give a physical check-up and advise on the formula for the youngster. All mothers were welcome to come, for they had only to check on the date for the clinic and then take their baby to the school. An average of 12 babies would attend each clinic.

Dr. Brady has been forced to abandon the clinic because of ill health. Community Fund money which was not used by the clinic this year will be placed in a health fund.

"Yes, she's a darling and she came to me highly recommended."

"Knows all about the latest styles of maiding, I suppose?"

"Oh so far as knowing the duties of a maid goes, I don't suppose she knows a thing."

"But she came highly recommended, you said."

"Yes, and she broke the jaw of the last man who tried to kiss her."

Sault Ste. Marie, is a live-weight record for Michigan, conservation department records show.

The bear was weighed twice, before witnesses, after Kovisto shot it with a bow and arrow south of Dryburg in Chippewa county last month.

His record supercedes the record 632-pound bear shot by Dean Lovelless of Hamtramck in 1950. Lovelless also used a bow and arrow for his kill, made in Luce county.

Third largest taken in Michigan and reported to the conservation department was a 628-pound bruin shot by Carl Johnson of Cadillac in 1934 in Manistee county.

According to the records, Milton Fahling of Conklin holds fourth place with a bear shot in 1948 and estimated at over 600 pounds, live weight. Dressed weight was 540 pounds.

Other big bears include one of 597 pounds shot by Louis Karmes of Hastings near Rudyard in 1948 and another of "about 600 pounds" trapped by Art Jackson of Houghton lake in the Dead Stream Swamp in 1941.

Louis Oien of Gwinn, so far as is known, ranks seventh with a 575-pound bear shot in the Escanaba River Tract in 1939.

All these bears measured from six to eight feet in length, from snout to tail.

A check of records indicates that Lewis Michelson of The Heights at Houghton Lake stands alone in having bagged three flying grouse with one shot during the recently-ended grouse season, the conservation department reports.

Michelson said he knocked down his trio last week while hunting with his son, Lantz, near Houghton Lake.

He said the three birds fell together, with barely a yardstick distance between them.

When dressed out, Michelson said, none of the three had been hit with more than a couple of pellets.

He used a 20-gauge choked shotgun with No. 7 1/2 chilled shot.

Public discussion of proposals to further restrict trout fishing on the Au Sable river and its branches is scheduled for January.

With ever-increasing numbers of trout fishermen on the famous streams, conservation department fisheries authorities believe it may be necessary to increase legal size limits of trout to 10 inches from the present seven inches and perhaps to limit fishing to artificial flies only on all streams in the Au Sable river system.

Members of the conservation commission, meeting earlier this week, proposed that any changes in regulations should be subjects for full discussion by all interested persons. Date of such talks may be announced at the commission's next meeting, slated in Lansing December 7 and 8.

State and federal conservation agencies are to join in developing a 23,000-acre area in the Saginaw valley that should become a major midwest waterfowl refuge and shooting grounds.

To be known as the Shiawassee Flats wildlife management area, the tract will be acquired and managed jointly by the state conservation department and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and will represent a pooling of resources and lands already acquired by the two agencies.

A band of government-owned land at least one-quarter mile wide around the refuge will provide public hunting. The area should be especially attractive to Canadian geese.

The area lies about 13 miles south of Saginaw and the two agencies now have title to about a third of the land that will be acquired over a several-year period. The agencies will cooperate in any flood control measures undertaken in the future.

A man once asked Daniel Boone if he'd ever been lost in the woods.

"No," answered the frontiersman, "I haven't. But sometimes I've been confused for three or four days."

Such resolution could be noted with good effect by modern-day hunters, large numbers which stray into Michigan's woods each fall and after several hours of swamp-stumbling announce to themselves that they are lost.

It's an awesome feeling then, to stop and look around and see only trees and rocks and hills when nothing is familiar. It can be a bleak and lonely time, too, but most of all it can be dangerous—if you let it.

Old woodsmen have advised, however, that all the patient needs is a calm approach and a little headwork to be home safely in three or four days.

First order of business after getting lost is, they say, to decide whether or not there's enough daylight left to walk a while. If there is, choose a probable—but straight—course through the woods by lining up trees and guiding along their line. Stick with that line, too; sooner or later it will come to a fire lane or road and eventually to civilization.

However, if night is coming on there are other things to do. Take time to build a good fire. Gather wood for the night and build a lean-to. Sit before the fire to remove wet clothing and then slap circulation into cold feet, arms and legs.

By spending a night in the woods, you will bring-down-around your ears all the forces of help. State police, conservation officers, worried hunting companions and relatives generally join the search. Airplanes are often used in these rescues and it's a good idea to get into a clearing and build a fire where it can be seen.

Also, after you are lost, it's a good idea to remember that you should have tucked matches and a few candy bars in your pocket—just in case you get lost. A compass is an important help, too, especially if you know how to use it.

In any case, the oldtimers advise patience and a studied approach to decisions. Very seldom, they say, does anyone become so thoroughly lost that he can't be set back on the track within a week.

Set Short Course For Muck Farmers

A four-week short course for muck farmers is being planned at Michigan State college during January.

Robert E. Lucas, extension muck crop specialist, reports that the course will include instruction in plant diseases, plant insects, packaging and marketing, farm accounting, farm machinery and soil management. Enrollment will start January 11 and classes will end on February 2.

More information is available by writing to the short course director, School of Agriculture, Michigan State college.

Harry Terry Sells His Business After 16 Years As Plymouth Barber

BARBER HARRY TERRY puts the finishing touches on a haircut he is giving his oldest customer, Jack Reamer. Terry has sold his business to Jack Massarello, shown looking on, who will take over the Union street shop on November 30. Reamer has been going to Terry for his haircuts for 16 years.

You can cut a lot of heads of hair in 34 years as a barber. For Harry Terry, who has been a barber just that long, the local barbering days are over. He has served Plymouth customers for 16 of those 34 years, first in the Mayflower hotel and later in his own shop on Union street. Now, however, Terry has sold his business and will move with his wife, to Florida.

Oldest customer for Terry is Jack Reamer, employee of the Daisy Manufacturing company. Reamer has walked into Terry's shop 30 times a year for 16 years, for a grand total of 480 haircuts. Reamer said that he didn't believe he had his hair trimmed but a couple of times by other barbers.

During the war when the barber business was booming Terry initiated the appointment system as part of his business. He has thus assured his clients that they will not have to wait for their haircuts. His appointments are generally made about two weeks in advance.

Since all his customers are steady they do not often miss appointments, Terry said. He recalled how one customer forgot his date, and three days later Terry received a letter from Chicago with $1.00 enclosed, complete with an apology for missing the appointment. Taking over the business from

Terry is Jack Massarello, who currently is employed in a shop in Garden City. Massarello will begin business on November 30, and the Terrys will leave soon after for Florida. Massarello will move with his wife and six children into the Terry home on Union street. He has had 25 years experience as a barber.

Terry received a Florida license to cut hair and added that he may go into business down there.

In commenting on the sale of his business, Terry said it was time for a younger man to take over. He selected Massarello as a buyer for his business, he said, because he knew he would continue to give the same service to the customers.

Plymouth Music Center Adds Two New Instructors

The Plymouth Music Center has announced that Douglas Marsh and Mrs. Nathalie Dale have been added to the staff of teachers. The pair will offer instruction in the violin, viola and cello to both beginning and advanced students.

Marsh is a member of the Detroit Symphony orchestra and has often been soloist with the Plymouth Symphony. He is a graduate of the Baldwin Wallace Conservatory of Music and a teacher of wide experience.

A graduate of the University of Michigan School of Music, Mrs. Dale was formerly concertmaster of the university's symphony orchestra. She had studied extensively in Europe and is now a member of the Plymouth Symphony.

Thrill Maker from start to stop (That's T.T. Dynaflo!)

SOMETIME soon—like this week—you ought to try a Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo.*

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response—with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration—where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop—the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed—the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with TT Dynaflo?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised—and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the world's newest V8 in SUPER and ROADMASTER models?

Drop in on us this week and we'll be happy to accommodate you.

It's Trade-In Time for a Better Deal

Honest Innkeeper Al Carnevale of Al's Italian restaurant picked up a green ladies' purse in front of his restaurant Wednesday morning containing $80.00. Twenty minutes later the sad loser, Hildegarde Champe, became the happiest lady in town as he handed her the purse.

My favorite large family in town, the Reverend Edgar Hoenecke, are unusually adept at doing the unusual either as a group or individually but this week, Michigan junior, daughter Lois, sneaked quietly on to the pages of Holiday magazine in a review of the great Ann Arbor school and was pictured at a fraternal Apache party.

Best items of the week must go unnamed and you'll see why... Prize funny was the local matron at the Presbyterian church last Wednesday who found both upper and lower dentures locked tightly by taffy and, most frustrated, called on the friend seated next to her to do her talking. Second item, unexpected by all concerned was the local housewife, who exhausted by a strenuous day's housework struggled through an ordeal of preparing the family's favorite soup for dinner. As the family began their evening meal the usual amount of critical remarks started flowing from the youngsters about the food and the tired mother calmly lifted her bowl of soup and said to a daughter... how would you like this soup in your face... and... believe me... before she knew it she threw it... No one has been able to determine yet which of the two was the most surprised.

Jane Carmichael, famous for the unusual, beautiful Christmas packages she wraps displayed her prowess at the Garden club last week. Members of her family are so proud of her packages that they keep them from year to year to use as decorations at the bottom of their tree. As she rounded up family boxes for display at the club she thought one unusually heavy so she opened it to see what was inside. To her surprise it was the beautiful wool shirt and tie she had given her brother, Allan Giles, as a gift in 1950. The latter's wife packed the box away after the holidays for future use with all concerned forgetting the gift inside. For three Christmas seasons the tie and shirt have been under the Giles Christmas tree.

Best birthday present for Mrs. Elmer Anderson was the return of her parakeet, Billy, who had flown his cage on last week's coldest day. He was found by a Mr. Eckart who phoned The Plymouth Mail to inquire if any one had lost a bird, a notation of his call was made at The Mail and when in last minute desperation Mr. Anderson called The Mail to place an ad for the same he was told to call Mr. Eckart and without the use of a classified the bird was home for the family birthday party.

Plymouth Mail office manager, Vern Van Horn, sneaked a preview of this column before it was printed last week and became so enthused with the Garlett peanut cluster recipe he stopped at a drug store on his way home and purchased two 10 cent Hershey bars and a 10 cent bag of peanuts. For over an hour he hovered over the double boiler trying to melt the chocolate and finally gave up and added water to his brew. It melted but after mixing the peanuts with same it wouldn't harden. For his information, and others, we again repeat the recipe as given by Mrs. Garlett. Melt one giant size, about 49 cents, Hershey bar in a double boiler. They do melt because we have tried it. Then combine with a large 49c bag of salted Spanish peanuts and drop clusters on wax paper. This mix is guaranteed and we don't know why the 10c bars wouldn't melt.

Of local interest is the fact that Lionel Barrymore will tell the story of Squanto, the cockney Indian, on the Hall Mark program next Sunday evening at 9 p.m. over radio station WJR. Squanto was the Indian who surprised the Pilgrims by being able to speak English when they first arrived in this country and he played a large part in the Johnny Billington story which is portrayed on the walls of the Pilgrim room in murals in the Hotel Mayflower.

DEPTHS OF DESPAIR

Roger Babson Says

BABSON NOT PESSIMISTIC

Babson Park, Massachusetts. My daily Bible reading recently was the Forty-first Chapter of Genesis. This tells the story of Joseph and the Seven Lean Years of famine following the Seven Fat Years of prosperity.

This story especially interests me because during the past summer I had been reading Breasted's History of Egypt, a complete history of the world's most enduring nation.

LENGTH OF CYCLES

The remarkable feature about Joseph's business cycle is that the story has continued to be told by word of mouth, written by script, and finally printed, over a period of about thirty-six hundred years. Certainly, if these cycles had not continued from generation to generation this story of Joseph's cycles would have dropped from the Hebrew history as so many other folklore stories did. Remember that for 2,000 years this story passed only by word of mouth; for 1,000 years it passed only by handwritten script; and only during the last 500 years has it passed by printed type.

BURSTING POINT

was nearly reached in Lansing by politicians waiting for Governor Williams to announce plans for his political future. Both friend and foe have been waiting to know what course Williams will take in order to pattern their own. Since the Governor hasn't been saying, pressure has been building up for action. But political strategy demands that the governor's course be outlined before action takes place.

time running the city's police department.

WORST KEPT SECRET of the coming campaign was the plans of State Treasurer D. Hale Brake. When he announced his candidacy three weeks ago, no one at the Capitol was surprised. But his candor permits him to set up campaign machinery openly. A Brake For Governor club has already been formed and boasts more than 200 members. Brake says that he has stepped aside previously in hope of party unity; that he is in this campaign to stay.

THERE ARE RUMORS

of course. "Williams has decided to enter the field of national politics and run for senator. Phil Hart will get his blessing in governor's race." "Williams has decided to run for a fourth term as governor. Blair Moody is anxious to take on Sen. Homer Ferguson in the next election." "The governor has not yet decided." "The governor has decided and is waiting for what he considers the most opportune moment to capitalize on his position."

TEACHER SHORTAGE

in Michigan is bad, but there's a disagreement about how bad. The National Educational Association reported that Michigan's need is greater than any other state—9,000 during the 1952-53 school year. Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of schools, would not affirm this figure. He set Michigan's need at 5,500. In Dr. Taylor's opinion, the State's need is worse than any other except California. For the 1953-54 year, he places the number of additional teachers need at 7,000. Average yearly salary for Michigan teachers was computed to be $3,900. California, Maryland and New York are only states with a higher figure.

THINGS WILL HAPPEN

when Soapy does announce his decision. Until that time, reports of disgust among "fellow-Democrats" and dissatisfaction of labor backers are common.

TIMING IS CAUSING

trouble for Republicans too. But Senator Homer Ferguson who may be faced by Williams in a contest for his position, wasn't badly handicapped by not knowing who his candidate will be. If he had the information, he might have been able to pattern his recent campaign tour to be more effective.

ONLY HALF AS MANY DEER

will be killed this year as was taken in 1952, say game experts. Some are predicting less than that. Last year about 160,000 deer were taken. Conditions were favorable: large herd, some ideal weather, a special season of three days. Conversely, Monday dawned in Michigan on a much smaller herd, weather is uncertain, special season is only one day.

ALL - BUT - ANNOUNCED

CANDIDATE Donald S. Leonard, police commissioner of Detroit, is under pressure to act. Detroit's Mayor Cobo is reported to be tired of the present situation. He is said to be pressing Leonard to get all the way into the political swim, or to take off the "swimming costume" and spend all his were born in Michigan during September. Health Department figures show that 16,966 new citizens arrived to establish a new record. During the first nine months of 1953 a total of 130,938 births have been recorded compared to 128,844 during the same period in 1952. Predictions for the whole year are 176,642 new babies. This will be a new grand total for Michigan.

State Has Lost Turkey "Gobble"

Michigan has lost its "gobble." The elusive wild turkey, largest of North American forest game birds, was an important Michigan resident until 1900, when it reached a point of extermination, according to Professor Warren W. Chase, chairman of the University of Michigan Department of Wildlife Management.

Originally found in the oak-hickory forest of the southern half of the Lower Peninsula, the bird used the hardwood swamps of the Saginaw-Thumb areas as its stronghold, he says. Although it was not migratory, its wide ranging in search of food was often labeled migratory behavior. Dr. Chase explains that the Indians called October "turkey month" because of the great flocks roaming the land for grains, acorns, nuts, berries grasshoppers and large insects. "Gobbling," or courting, season for the bird was in May and June, he continues, and nesting sites usually were near openings in forests, trails, and small abandoned fields or roads.

The wild turkey found its way into the pages of history, too the professor claims, for Father Marquette, on his second voyage to the Illinois Indians, reports the killing of the bird on several occasions.

Professor Chase points out that in Cavalier de La Salle's description of the Great Lakes country in 1679, he mentioned the "presence of flat country and open fields near Lake Huron and Lake Erie in which were seen numbers of turkeys."

Wild turkeys remained abundant until 1830-40, Dr. Chase relates, but the clearing of land for farms and logging made inroads into their natural habitat. He explains that market hunting took its toll, with records such as one in which a hunter "cut his teeth as a market hunter on the wild turkey, because it was so abundant."

Market shooting in Michigan ended in 1894, but by this time the wild turkey was "just a memory," Professor Chase says. In 1897 the bird was given complete protection, but he points out that "it is ironical that the last bird known to be taken in the state was in that year."

Efforts have been made to re-establish wild turkeys in Michigan, but they have been to little avail. The professor explains that birds were stocked on Grand Island in Lake Superior in 1904-05 but no trace was found of them after 1913.

In 1932 the Conservation Department decided to abandon any further attempts at re-establishment, but experimental raising and stocking are still being tried at the W. K. Kellogg Bird Sanctuary without "any great success," Professor Chase says.

"The birds released each year tend to disappear before they are established," he states, but "possibly there could be successful groups in the Allegan Forest or on the Fort Custer Military Reservation."

Professor Chase concludes that "to anticipate that the wild turkey could ever again be a huntable game bird in Michigan would be overly optimistic to say the least."

Every singer in a quartet can point out three good reasons why the organization isn't absolutely perfect.

He: Why doesn't that English girl come on deck and be wooed by the breezes too?
She: Her mother won't let her. She heard the captain say this was a trade wind.

Whiskey can't talk, yet it frequently tells on a man.
