

SCRAPING THE BOTTOM

By Sterling Eaton

For our money a person who writes a serious anonymous letter has reached the depths of despair and cowardice. It is proof he has no courage nor has he the honest belief in his own convictions. No one could stoop lower.

This last week several volunteer workers on the present hospital campaign received anonymous letters which were brought to our attention. In each case it was the intent of the anonymous writer to raise the question of religion and the question of hospital ownership, if and when it was constructed.

Since we keep a rather comprehensive file in our offices, gathered over a long period of years, we immediately checked specimens presented to us to see if it was possible to identify, by some method, the source of the material.

About the close of World War II several local civic leaders were receiving an immense amount of anonymous mail violently critical of them and their actions. Much of this eventually found its way to our office and several months later positive identification of the writer was made.

So, it was not surprising that we discovered the same individual had again taken up his poisoned pen to the detriment of a community project, which, whether we agree or disagree because of religion or otherwise, is needed and at this particular time no better solution has been forthcoming.

It was easy for us to show the anonymous letter recipients who had written them and it was easy for them to arrive at their own conclusions. However, since this is an opportunity to carry on a further discussion of the proposed St. Mary Hospital and the fund raising campaign of which I am the chairman it seems important to me that a few pertinent items might be discussed.

It should be pointed out that I accepted the huge job on the fund raising committee after long deliberation. If I accepted, it would be the fifth time in less than 20 years that I had served with a local group in an attempt to establish a hospital. Each, as you know, had fallen by the roadside because it was seemingly an impossible task to raise the necessary funds in one community, much less than two, as when Plymouth and Northville combined in a project spearheaded by doctors, which also fell by the way.

The latter attempt was the most productive however and some $9,000 was actually pledged and raised. Further consideration of again tackling the job made me realize that certainly if we needed a major hospital during the last twenty years we needed it more than ever today.

A fund of $50,000.00 was already in cash to start the program and a twenty-acre site had been provided. Further, the skill and guidance of a fund raising institution from New York had been secured and their full time services were ready to operate.

This was a major convincing factor in my acceptance because analysis of previous failures always brought to light the fact that when local business or professional men took on such major responsibilities they just didn't have the time to do the detail work involved.

Industry and business were surveyed in the overall area to be serviced by the institution. It was found all recognized its need and for the most part all agreed to participate financially and otherwise to bring about its conception. Soon the actual motion of the drive became apparent and the five participating communities were organized into active working units.

At this writing the staggering sum of $300,000.00 is in sight (and incidentally without the aid of major industry) and though still far away from the goal it is impressive in its size and the end is not in sight. It certainly is by far the largest sum ever raised in the area for any one combined community undertaking and, unless I am sadly mistaken, it will influence the start of St. Mary Hospital.

The purpose of the anonymous letters was to discourage

Evans Expanding To Bicycle Field

Bicycle and tricycle manufacturing will be a new addition to the growing list of products turned out by Plymouth industry when the Evans Products company moves its recently purchased Colson Cycle Division here.

Announcement of the purchase of the Elyria, Ohio company was made this week by E. S. Evans, Jr., president of the Evans Products company. An "old name" in cycle manufacture, the Colson Cycle Division will be moved to Plymouth along with the divisional sales force and some of its technicians. It will be absorbed by the Evans company's Consumer Division headed by George Faurie who has had 25 years' experience in the consumer sales field.

Evans will manufacture all items in the Colson cycle line—including tricycles and bicycles of both lightweight and conventional design. As its production program gets into high gear, Mr. Evans stated, the company also plans to branch out into other areas of the toy wheeled goods line.

There will be no immediate increase in the Evans working force, a spokesman pointed out. Present workers will be absorbed by the cycle manufacture. It will be at least two months before the change-over is completed. Some machinery will be moved here from the Elyria plant while some other machinery will need to be purchased new.

It was also pointed out that the cycle manufacture will take place in the present facilities and that no new building will be necessary. There is a possibility that additional workers will be needed in the distant future, a spokesman said.

In making the announcement, Mr. Evans said: "There is a need for new concepts in bicycle design and manufacture. Youngsters in this day and age are surrounded by the miracles of electronics, jet propulsion and PLYMOUTH'S NORTHSIDE FIRE STATION as shown in this sketch is now under construction in Bradner park across from Starkweather school on North Holbrook. The sketch was presented to the city commission Monday night by Byron Becker, the architect. The Burger-Dobbs Construction company of Plymouth was the low bidder on the project which will cost a total of $18,950. The two doors on the right are to the equipment room, 30 by 41 feet in area, which can house two engines. The left half of the building will include an office in front, behind which is the heating room and storage room. Further back is the bunkroom in which firemen will sleep, and a bathroom. Chief Robert J. McAllister, who is president of the Michigan Fire Chiefs association and has visited many modern fire stations, stated that he is "very, very pleased" with the proposed station.

Local Elks Bowlers In State Tournament

Sixty bowlers in the Plymouth B.P.O. Elks Bowling league traveled to the Elks state bowling tournament held in Port Huron last weekend. Traveling with the 12 teams were many of the wives of the bowlers, making over 100 Plymouth people attending the two-day event.

Efforts to obtain scores of the Plymouth teams were unsuccessful. The national Elks bowling tournament will be held in Toledo in March, April and May.

To Form P.T.A. At Allen School

A new Parent-Teacher association will have its birth in the Plymouth school district next Tuesday night at the Edna M. Allen elementary school, it was announced this week.

A preliminary board has been active the past several months in planning for the new organization. Scheduled to welcome the charter membership are Superintendent Russell Isbister and James Gallimore, president of the board of education.

Officers will be elected at the meeting and they will be installed immediately. The constitution and by-laws will also be presented to the membership for adoption. Refreshments will be served by the planning board. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock.

Bids Being Taken On Ex-Ford Plant

Bids will be closed next Tuesday by the Wayne County Road Commission on the building now leased by the Worden Specialty and Machine company and formerly known as the Phoenix plant of the Ford Motor company. The road commission is attempting to sell the plant after assuming ownership about five years ago.

An advertisement for bids on the plant was published in The Mail last week. Henry Ford built the plant, along with several others in the area, in the early 1930's in an effort to "bring the factory to the workman." The road commission purchased the plant after Mr. Ford's death in 1949 as part of the land deal in constructing the Middle Rouge Parkway.

The Worden Specialty company's lease runs out June 30. Road commissioners want to dispose of the plant but state that they reserve the right to reject any or all bids. Location of the building is on Northville road just north of the city near Five Mile road.

Warns of Care In Buying Fire Detection Units

A warning was issued today by the chiefs of the Plymouth and Plymouth township fire departments concerning the sale of certain types of fire detection devices now being sold in this area.

Chief Bud Holmes of the township and Robert McAllister of the city said that they and the state fire marshal's office do not approve of all types of fire detectors because of the false selling points being used by salesmen and because of the extremely high cost.

They state that one company is using an "Underwriters Approved" sales talk with the detection unit. Only the thermo unit, similar to thermo units used for years in other detection devices, is Underwriters approved, they state. The rest of the unit has never had the Underwriters endorsement.

The sales talk also includes a demonstration showing how a family is killed in four minutes by a fire in the home, which is also misleading, the two chiefs added. It costs about $400 for the installation of the unit, according to the chiefs.

"We are not opposed to detection units," they point out. Their warning came after a false alarm was answered Tuesday afternoon at a township home which had a detector device. Heat from the furnace had set off the alarm.

Residents of the area interested in buying a fire detection device are urged to contact their respective fire chiefs for recommendations.

CLARENCE B. HILBERRY, President, Wayne University

Members of the local Rotary club are making plans now for their annual Rural-Urban program which will be held on Thursday, February 25. Featured speaker for the annual event will be Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, president of Wayne University. The program, which is held annually, is a joint meeting of the Rotary club and about a hundred local farmers who are entertained as Rotary guests at a dinner. Jack Taylor is chairman of the meeting this year, which is expected to be the largest held by the club in recent years.

Taxi-Police Disagreement Aired by City

A dispute brewing between the Plymouth Taxi Service and the police department boiled over into the open at the city commission meeting Monday night when a citizen revealed that the cab company is refusing to pick up fares at some downtown stores because the "police are after them" for double parking.

No Traffic Deaths Here During 1953

Plymouth has again passed through another year without the loss of a life either in a motor vehicle accident or a pedestrian accident—thus placing the city in line for two more awards.

It has been since 1947 that a pedestrian was killed within the city and since 1949 that a death has occurred due to a vehicular accident. The award for pedestrian safety is presented by the American Automobile Association while the motor vehicle safety award is given by the National Safety Council.

The awards actually are not presented until the middle of the year. Each of the framed certificates can be found in the Plymouth police department.

Several persons were injured in collisions here during 1953, but none proved fatal. One aged resident was seriously hurt in a collision on Starkweather avenue last fall. His death several weeks later, however, was due to a previous ailment, according to medical authorities.

There is no one particular reason why Plymouth has been able to escape fatalities these past few years, Chief of Police Carl Greenlee states. As cars increase in number and traffic becomes heavier each year, the police are becoming more alert and strict, it is found. Traffic violators get off with no light fines if they are found guilty in the court of Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo. And Plymouth's 25-mile-per-hour speed limit has undoubtedly helped the record.

"Some people claim it's just luck," Chief Greenlee added. It takes some of that too, he admitted, but it also takes a lot of cooperation from a lot of common-sense drivers.

Car Demolishes Flasher Signal

A 22-year-old Plymouth motorist whose car sheared off a railroad flasher signal on Ann Arbor trail is scheduled to be cited for reckless driving when he is released from Wayne County General hospital this week, Chief of Police Carl Greenlee reports.

George Morrison, 840 Penniman, was driving westward on the street at 12:30 a.m. last Sunday when his car left the road and struck the signal post on the north side of the road. He was taken to the Wayne County General hospital where he is confined with a fractured arm and leg bruises.

Police said they have not determined what caused the car to leave the road but they indicated that Morrison was probably driving at an excessive speed.

Grace Orr, 941 Starkweather, angrily asked for commissioners to explain the situation in which a person leaving a downtown store now can no longer call a cab to pick them up. She told of calling a taxi from a supermarket Monday but being refused with the explanation by the taxi dispatcher that they no longer could pick up customers from downtown stores since police will ticket the cabs for double parking. Mrs. Orr then said that she had to carry her heavy packages to the taxi company in order to get a cab home.

"I've come up here to find out if it is true that the council has passed an ordinance to keep taxis from doing this," Mrs. Orr stated.

Mayor Russell Daane replied to the visitor's question by stating that the city does have an ordinance requiring vehicles to park within two feet of the curb and that parking any further away would be considered double parking. He noted that it would be possible for the cabs to pick up their fare by pulling into the parking lots of some of these stores instead of double parking in front.

In a conference between police and the Plymouth Taxi Service Tuesday, cab company officials agreed to pick up fares in certain parking areas. The dispute was centered mainly about the three large downtown supermarkets. A taxi will no longer double park in the streets in front of the stores but will stop only at the rear exit of A & P, at the side or rear exits of Kroger and at the side parking lot of Stop & Shop.

Commissioners then approved a motion to have the city write a letter to the cab company asking for an explanation of the complaints.

Motorist Escapes Serious Injury

Escaping serious injury when his car was demolished as it struck the rear of an oil truck early Sunday morning was Kenneth Johnson, 38, of 16975 Northville road.

The Wayne county road patrol reported that Johnson was returning home from work at 2:11 a.m. on Plymouth road when the collision took place near the Hillside Inn. Johnson's car arrived at the top of a hill and there collided with an oil truck driven by Robert Robertson, Dearborn.

His new car crashed into the rear of the truck, knocking the trailer's rear axle out of place. Johnson, a crane operator for the Wayne County Road commission, was taken to the Wayne County General hospital and treated for cuts and bruises and then removed to his home.

Coffee Clubbers Rejoice as Local Restaurants Plan Hold on Price

Good news for Plymouth's coffee clubbers came to light this week when it was found that eight out of eight coffee bars surveyed in the city will not hike the price of a cup of coffee despite a fast series of increases in the wholesale price.

An unprecedented high of $1 per pound is predicted for hotel grade coffee. Some wholesale coffee concerns have raised prices twice this month and the hikes have amounted from three to five cents a pound. Highest price paid thus far is 97 cents per pound.

The Plymouth Mail contacted eight of the city's establishments where coffee connoisseurs gather. None of them planned to raise the price of coffee to their customers at present. Several said that they will wait to see where the price will come to rest before considering any change. A cup of coffee has already gone up to 15 cents in some cities.

At Marquis Fine Foods for instance, Norman Marquis said that he hates to think about raising the price. "I'm going to stand pat until I see where the ceiling is going to be. If it's necessary I'll raise the price but I'll never cut the quality."

Most of the restaurant or lunch counter operators gave a similar view about quality. They know full well that using cheaper blends or "stretching" is not good business.

Ralph Lorenz, manager of the Mayflower hotel, reported that there was a three cent hike on January 3 and a nickle raise just yesterday. There were two others

Symphony Again Plays To Capacity Audience

"Peter and the Wolf," beloved musical fairy tale, served to bring out a capacity crowd for the fourth time this season for the Family Concert of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra. The music by Prokofieff was one of the highlights of the concert held last Sunday afternoon.

The children were not only favored as far as the musical presentations of the family concert were concerned, but four of them even took over the conducting for the "Wedding March." The youngsters are members of the junior high school band who answered Wayne Dunlap's invitation to take over the conducting of that number. Welding the baton were Mary Jane West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl West; Janet West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert West; Betsy Edgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Edgar, and Susan Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Heloise Campbell.

The first half of the program showed off the music of the woodwind instruments in the orchestra. Renditions of solos by these instruments were given by Nelson Hauenstein, Theodore Heger, William Radant, William Weichlein and Leland Bartholomew. These soloists performed brilliantly in "The American Dance" by Phillips, "Winter's Past" by Barlow, "Soliloquy" by Rogers and Weber's "Concerto for Clarinet and Orchestra."

Numbers which set the many youngster's feet to tapping were Johann Strauss' "Tick Tack Polka" and Eduard Strauss' "Clear Track Galop." But by far the selection which appealed most to the children was "Peter and the Wolf." They all sat in rapt attention while Wayne Dunlap unfolded the story of Peter, and Richard Thurston directed the orchestra.

Again this year the Family concert proved it is one of the most popular of the symphony season.

Hundreds of volunteer workers are visiting their neighbors in the five communities. Early reports indicate a very successful campaign. Many residents who have not as yet been visited by a worker have been calling campaign headquarters, eager to make their gifts to the campaign.

Coffee Proceeds Go to Polio Drive

In an effort to do what he can for the March of Dimes, Phil Barney of Barney's Plymouth Grill will turn over all coffee proceeds on Friday, January 29, to the polio drive. Plymouth residents who get the desire for a cup of coffee that day can serve a double purpose at Barney's — get the coffee and contribute to the March of Dimes.

More money is needed than ever by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis this year. They hope that this year the vaccine may be perfected that will prevent the terrible disease. In recent years the number of cases has increased tremendously, and each dime contributed to the March of Dimes may mean the end of polio fears.

Township Crash Injures 5 Men

Five men were injured, none of them seriously, in a two-car collision Tuesday morning at the intersection of Edward Hines drive and Haggerty road, the Wayne county road patrol reported.

Injured were Nicholas Relish of Detroit, Marvin Liberty of Taylor township, and Richard Stefes, Hubert Vanderhoof and Orlo Proctor, all of Wayne. The road patrol said that Relish was driving north on Haggerty and claimed he stopped for the stop sign, but then started across Hines drive, failing to see the approaching car.

Liberty, driving west on Hines drive, said that Relish failed to stop and pulled into his path. The Liberty car crashed into a tree after striking the car. No citations have been given pending further investigation, the road patrol said. The injuries were described by patrolmen as "painful but not serious."

All five men were taken to the Wayne County General hospital where they were treated. The mishap occurred at 8:27 a.m.

This is the first time the club members have undertaken this benevolent project. The Shrine Circus is being held in the coliseum in the State Fair Grounds in Detroit, February 1 to 14.

To Get Sentence On Murder Charge

A sentence which could range up to life in prison will be pronounced next Tuesday morning on James Anderson, 29 who admitted shooting and killing his brother-in-law while the two were driving on Plymouth-Ann Arbor road last November 6.

Anderson, father of four children, pleaded guilty in Ann Arbor several weeks ago. His home address is 5820 Joy road, Superior township. The shooting victim was Norman C. Little, 24, former Plymouth resident who moved last year to Nankin township.

According to Anderson's Plymouth attorneys, Anderson has changed his story of the shooting four times, leaving even his attorneys "in the dark." Anderson pleaded guilty to second degree murder which imposes a penalty up to life imprisonment.

LYN CONNELLY

JACK BAILEY, whose ambition is to make every woman in America "Queen" for every day, revealed five rules recently which, if followed by contestants, would lead them to crown, robes and prizes and thrills which come with being "Queen for a Day" . . . "First," Jack says, "a woman must sincerely and simply establish a needful wish to be granted if she is named Queen . . . She might fool me, but she never can fool those other women in the audience and their applause decides who wins . . . Secondly, she must not be too concerned with self, but to fill a need of a husband, children or friends. "She must hold emotions in check as much as is possible . . . If she can't help breaking down, the audience will understand, but other women turn away from a contestant they think is 'staging' a scene . . . She must be warmly natural and, lastly, she must not 'over-dress' nor 'dress down' as though in a costume picture about needy women . . . Follow those five, and you're Queen for a Day!"

In 1913, the federal government spent about $700 million a year, just one third as much as state and local governments. In fiscal year 1953, federal spending totalled $74.6 billion, almost two and one half times the cost of state and local governments.

Steel scientists contributed to the success of television by developing a stainless steel wall for picture tubes that expands and contracts under heat changes at the same rate as the "screen," thus preventing the glass from cracking.

Seventeen hundred types of wool, each with distinct spinning qualities, are produced on Australian sheep ranches. One bale of extra-superfine lamb's wool recently sold for a record $5.30 a pound.

So far as tonnage is concerned, American fishermen bring in more shrimp than any other shellfish variety. Crabs, oysters, clams, lobsters and scallops follow in that order.

In the last half-century, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway has handled more than 330 million tons of coal at its piers at Newport News, Va., enough to make up a single trainload of hopper cars 51,683 miles long, or twice around the globe at the equator.

Practically the entire American rice crop is grown in four states—Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and California.

Chicago, although it is an inland city, handles more water-borne traffic than the Panama Canal.

This ailing world would be in much better shape if there were as many people willing to fill prescriptions for its cure as to write them.

Streamlined Oldsmobile Super "88" Holiday

Automotive glamor is evident in the streamlined styling and low silhouette of this 1954 Oldsmobile Super "88" Holiday coupe. With a road height of only 59 1/4 inches, the Super "88" Holiday offers the ultimate in luxury and ultra-modern design. The chassis has been completely redesigned to assure adequate road clearance. The panoramic windshield, inspired by custom sports car styling, provides full forward vision without any obstructing cornerposts. A graceful dip in the body belt line where it meets the door opening is another sports car trait. Total glass area is 221 sq. in. greater than the comparable 1953 model. The low contour hood covers a more powerful 185-h.p. "Rocket" engine with 8.25 to 1 compression ratio. Hydra-Matic Drive, power steering, power brakes are optional.

X-rays Continue For Industry

Thirty-six hundred people have received their free chest x-rays in industry during the first two weeks of the 1954 chest x-ray campaign in Plymouth, according to Dean Sison, publicity chairman for the campaign.

X-raying for the community will start February 2. Sison warned volunteer workers that many people think they need not go because they had their chest x-rays when the mobile unit visited Plymouth before. He pointed out that this occurred two years ago, and much can happen during that length of time.

"People wouldn't think of waiting that long to have their new cars checked, yet they can buy another one, if necessary. We ought to take equal or better care of our bodies," he said, "they must last us a lifetime."

The first meeting of neighborhood home calls volunteers took place at the city hall Friday night. A skit entitled, "How to Convince Your Neighbors to Have a Chest X-ray," was presented by Miss Catherine McCarthy of the Wayne County Health Department and Norbert Reinstein of the Tuberculosis and Health Society in order to provide volunteers with information for making home calls. Mrs. Gladys Tillotson is home calls chairman for the city.

Mrs. Ralph Lorenz, chairman for the township, called a meeting for her volunteers for Monday at the Mayflower hotel. The second half of Mrs. Tillotson's volunteers met at the city hall yesterday.

workers from continuing their work because the hospital was to be owned and operated by a particular religious sect. This is true, but how else could we have a hospital at once? One survey and hospital project was pushed over the dam a few years ago because it was found hospital operation was costly; they seldom show a profit, and no community was willing to add the further burden of its operation to its tax roll. A Catholic operated hospital has no deficit. If so, it is maintained and operated solely from funds of the agency which has its supervision.

There is no question but what the Felician Sisters will own the St. Mary Hospital and operate it, but a birdseye view of neighboring St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor finds many doctors operating and consulting patients in that hospital as well as the great University of Michigan Hospital which is self administered under support of the state.

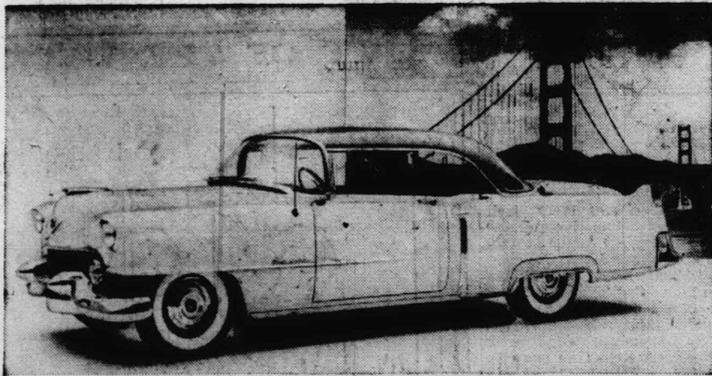

Investigation of a Catholic administered hospital reveals that its operation is most certainly dominated by the Sisters and their faith but the same doctors interviewed will tell you that the Sisters also turn about and depend on the doctors on their staff, regardless of religion, to represent their particular hospital in its decisions and operation.

It seems when serious consideration is given to St. Mary hospital that actually it cannot resolve itself into a question of who is going to own and operate the hospital . . . it must resolve itself into the question as to whether or not we at present desire a major hospital in the area—Catholic, Protestant or publicly administered.

Another factor which made this particular project interesting to me was the fact that at present the Felician Sisters have seven trained nuns ready to step into a new hospital and take over its operation. This doesn't seem startling on the face of it but when one thinks Harper Hospital has a new wing, which though completely constructed, can't be opened because of lack of personnel it certainly is something to think about.

Mt. Carmel, a 700-bed hospital is administered by seven trained nuns. St. Mary has seven trained nuns ready immediately to take command of its projected 120-bed building. In addition to other trained personnel now available from the seven other hospitals operated by the Felician order, Madonna College is already training laboratory technicians for service when it becomes a reality.

Weighing all the facts . . . $50,000 cash on hand, a twenty-acre site, a trained fund raising (paid in advance) staff, an advisory board formed January 1953 of three Protestants and one Catholic, a location less than ten minutes from the heart of Plymouth, no plan on the horizon for any other hospital, a trained staff ready to take over, the interest in this hospital of our local doctors AND THE FACT THAT IT MIGHT BECOME A REALITY . . . well, what would any civic minded individual do? Get on the band wagon, do all you can to help and hope we get a hospital . . . THAT'S WHAT WE DID AND THAT IS WHAT HUNDREDS OF WORKERS ARE DOING TODAY . . . They certainly don't deserve anonymous letters and should be commended for their efforts. AFTER ALL IT IS THE PATIENT WHO ARRIVES FOR IMMEDIATE MEDICAL CARE AT THE HOSPITAL THAT IS THE OBJECT OF OUR ATTENTION AND IT MIGHT BE YOU, ME OR ANYONE IN OUR FAMILIES!

1954 CADILLAC SERIES 62 COUPE—A striking styling innovation of the 1954 Cadillac hardtop coupes is the sweeping Florentine curve of the rear window pillar. Dramatic new styling and new chassis and suspension engineering make the 1954 Cadillac a major automotive advance establishing important future trends, according to Don E. Ahrens, General Manager of Cadillac Motor Car Division.

Panoramic windshield, new front and rear end designs, new low length of body lines and increased interior roominess are outstanding. With improved steering, braking, handling and riding qualities, the new Cadillac delivers even greater smoothness and responsiveness from its high compression V-8 engine.

more city water service to a new sub-division in the township was faced by commissioners. Asking for the privilege of using city water was Otto Hasse of Detroit who with his attorney, R. J. Cutler of Plymouth, told of the 28 homes he hopes to build in "Plymouth Gardens" located on Schoolcraft road just off Five Mile.

Both City Manager Albert Glasford and Mayor Daane expressed views against the extension of water service. Glasford said that factories are asking for more water and the city's well system is able to produce just so much. He added that if the sub-division asked for annexation to the city, Plymouth would be forced to give service. Since the sub-division is not contiguous (touching) the city, the land between the city and sub-division would also have to petition for annexation.

City Attorney Harry Deyo pointed out that the Home Rule act prohibits the supplying of more than 25 per cent of city water to out-lying areas. The commission then voted to table the request until City Engineer Stan Besse had time to figure how much additional water the city could spare and if it is possible with the present water mains.

The matter of allowing a carnival in the city this summer was presented by Commander Robert Wilson of the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion. He asked that the post, in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce, be allowed either the dates of June 14-19 or July 5-10, the latter to coincide with the July 4th celebration. The commission approved the tentative dates.

A report on the progress of Civil Defense in Plymouth was given by Commissioner Ernest Henry, local CD director. He told of the blood typing project last spring and of the first aid class conducted. He also told of work done nationally and in the state and hoped that the promise of additional funds will result in a more stable CD unit here. He explained the apathy of citizens concerning Civil Defense, "that for every citizen interested in Civil Defense, there is 100 others around him who don't care what happens." Some communities are hiring a paid director who can devote his full time to the organization, Henry stated.

Commissioners formally adopted the new traffic violation bureau fine schedule which was presented in The Mail last week. It was decided, however, to omit the last section of the schedule dealing with fines for speeding trucks. A discussion on the section brought out that the city's 15-mile-per-hour speed limit for trucks is perhaps in contradiction with state laws. It was revealed that a forthcoming revision of the traffic laws would probably place trucks in the same category as cars.

Another detail in the Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor Drain sewer project was completed by commissioners. They passed a resolution which declared that the sewer has a usefulness of 15 years or more.

during the last three months of 1953. The hotel charges 10 cents for an unlimited amount.

The price raise is being traced back to Brazil where growers are reported to be "rampantly bullish as their supplies continued to dwindle." Prospect for 1954-55 is for a relatively short crop as a result of frost, damage last July. Phil Barney of Barney's Grill emphatically replied he would not consider any change in price for the customer. His coffee sells for 10 cents a cup. The same price is charged at Peterson's drug store where until last summer it was seven cents. Carl Peterson recalled that coffee sold for 42 cents a pound when he went into business here five years ago.

The S. S. Kresge store is continuing to sell its coffee for five cents a cup despite price hikes. Store manager E. F. Faigle admits that his store has been losing money on coffee for six months but states that he is not anticipating any raise to customers.

At the Beyer drug stores where a cup of coffee costs eight cents, there is no hike anticipated. Bob Beyer pointed out that the serving of coffee is more of a "public convenience" rather than a money making item anyway. A nickel a cup price still remains at the D & C store and there appears to be no increase immediately, it was learned from manager Ray Tisch.

The company president added that the purchase of The Colson Cycle Division is another step in the plan of expansion which the Evans company has underway. The plan includes the development of new products and new areas of business activity in which the company's plants, sales and distribution facilities can be utilized at maximum level.

"The bicycle business is a growing industry," he said. "From all indications, the birth rate for the next few years will eclipse anything we've seen in our history. On the basis of a careful study we have made of the market and the sales potential, we're sure there's going to be a marked increase in the use of bicycles and tricycles. We believe the toy wheeled goods industry is on the threshold of a new and exciting era. Our company is particularly well adapted to enter this growing field. We have not only the manufacturing facilities, but also the necessary production, engineering and sales background."

The Evans Products company plans a national sales campaign that will make full use of the company's expanded sales force and that will include an extensive advertising and sales promotion program.

Commenting on the transfer, J.

Edgar Glass, president of Colson, which has been in the cycle business for more than a half century, said:

"The volume of other phases of our business has increased to a point where we felt it was to the best interests of our customers to sell the Cycle Division to a company with facilities to meet the expanding market. We chose the Evans Products company because it combines the kind of plant, the kind of equipment and the kind of sales and distribution organization ideally suited for the manufacture and distribution of wheeled goods."

In addition to cycles, the Evans company also manufactures box-car load-securing equipment, bus and truck heaters, home heating equipment, auto battery separators, plywood and lumber. Besides its plant in Plymouth, the Evans company also has plants in Coos Bay, Oregon, Roseburg, Oregon and Vancouver, British Columbia.

HOTMON AND BEGGORRA! . . . if it isn't Judge Jimmy Sexton and barrister Georgie Schmeman, two localities participating in their favorite pastime of curling at the famous Detroit Curling club. Decked out in their true Scottish apparel these two spend two to three nights a week throwing the stones and sweeping the ice in the age old Scotch contest which combines skill and brawn. Object of the game is to slide the 40 pound weights over the ice some 150 feet distant to a marked scoring section. The brooms are used for sweeping the ice in front of the moving stones to control their speed and direction and this is the most difficult part of the game say the two Plymouth participants who are fairly adept at its play. Judge Sexton had been playing the game some five years and Mr. Schmeman is a newcomer this year.

Catholic Women Observe Day Of Recollection

"Touchy dispositions have been responsible for more broken homes than any other single cause," Father Nicholas Maestrini, U. S. Provincial Superior of the SS. Peter and Paul Missionaries, told more than 100 Plymouth women who spent six hours in prayer and meditation at the Day of Recollection held in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church on Sunday, January 17. "American women will seek in vain for the pattern of ideal love in movie magazines and the current flood of books emphasizing sex and abnormality," continued Father Maestrini. "Nor will generosity to the poor and unfortunate, admirable as that is, bring peace of mind, so frantically sought by so many, unless it reflects the supernatural love that marks the true Christian. "This topsy-turvy world of ours is not unlike the Europe of the thirteenth century that needed only a St. Francis of Assisi to turn the minds of men from crass materialism to the joy that springs from humility, kindness—charity! Even Francis, the most Christ-like man of history, had tribulations, but, like Christ, he embraced them, even to the point of thanking God for them. "When we love our neighbors because of our love of God who made them, and not because of the kind of cars they drive, the kind of clothes they wear and the social circles in which they move, we shall have attained to some understanding of what Saint Paul meant when he said:

" . . . yet if I lack love, I count for nothing. I may give away all that I have, to feed the poor; I may give myself up to be burnt at the stake; if I lack love, it goes for nothing. Love is patient, is kind; Love feels no envy; Love is never perverse or proud, never insolent; has no selfish aims, cannot be provoked, does not brood over an injury; takes no pleasure in wrongdoing, but rejoices at the victory of truth; sustains, believes, hopes, endures, to the last."

Local Shoes Korea Bound

Just how much can be accomplished when the cause is good is demonstrated by the story of Mrs. Mary Miles and her "Shoes for Korea" drive. The charming little lady in her eighties heard that the Korean children badly needed shoes, and then set out to do something about it. It was as simple as that, and the result was 1,724 pairs of shoes sent to Korea.

Mrs. Miles' campaign started here in Plymouth last fall when Mrs. Miles was a resident in a local rest home. On appealing to the School Board she obtained permission to conduct a drive in the Bird school. The school's Student Council carried the banner, and 331 pairs of good shoes and those needing repairs were turned in.

But her work didn't stop there. A similar drive was conducted in Ypsilanti, her former home, and the total of the collection, together with the Plymouth contribution, came to 1,724. In addition to this, Mrs. Miles writes from St. Petersburg, Florida, nine large crates of shoes, all packed, were also contributed.

With the help of several of the ladies of the Ypsilanti Methodist church, the shoes were readied for shipment. Mrs. Miles arranged to have them shipped to the offices of CARE in California, from which they were delivered to the needy in Korea.

In a letter to The Plymouth Mail, Mrs. Miles stated that her drive showed that "A little child can lead them." In this case however, she neglected to add that it was a little lady with a very benevolent heart who made it all possible.

Plymouth Glass Changes Location

William Schiller, owner of the Plymouth Glass company, announced recently that his business is moving from the building at 1145 Starkweather to a new address at 1102 Ann Arbor road. Although the company is operating out of the new building already, Schiller said, the opening will not come until next month.

Auxiliary Plans Legislation Talks

The Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary will hold a legislative meeting on Wednesday, January 27, at 8 p.m. in the V. F. W. Post Home. Discussion at the meeting will center around the present-day problems of veterans. Speakers will be introduced by Mayor Russell Daane. Bill MacGirr, department service officer, and Don Draher, department junior vice commander, will deliver the principal addresses. All interested veterans and their wives are invited to attend the meeting. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. Isabel Lueke, legislative chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

GUM AND CANDY MACHINES will be distributed throughout the local area next month in order to raise money for the Optimist club's Boys' Work Fund. Shown with one of the Select-o-vent machines is Sam Stephens, left, second vice-president, and Matt Fortney, president of the local club. Fifty machines will be set up next month with the goal to find places for 100 more. The Optimists sponsor the machines and receive a percentage of the profits, while the owners of the establishments in which the machines are placed pay for the machines.

Visiting Nurses' Services Available to All Residents

The Visiting Nurse Association has been sending nurses into the homes of Detroiters since 1898. A few years ago this service became available to the residents of Plymouth. Since then many citizens have made use of the nursing skills available but many probably do not know about the visiting nurses.

On request, a visiting nurse will give nursing service to any patient under medical care, on an hourly basis. She will carry out the doctor's orders and give any kind of care or treatment which he wants for his patient.

New mothers when they return from the hospital can be shown how to feed, bathe and clothe the new heir and to do these things with a minimum of worry and strain. Diabetic patients can be taught to give their own insulin, to select their own foods with an eye to palatability, to variety and to one's figure.

Patients who must stay in bed for long periods can be cared for by the nurse, who will also show the patient's family how to do this between her visits. Patients can be taught to walk again after bad fractures or accidents. There is no limit to the number of ways a Visiting Nurse can help, if there is illness in the home.

Calls for the visiting nurse can be given to the sergeant on duty at the police station in the city hall, Plymouth 93 by telephone, or can be given to the Visiting Nurse Association registrar at Temple 1-1600. Fees are charged when patients can afford to pay.

WCTU Members Attend Methods School Here

Mrs. S. J. Houille, National Secretary of the Loyal Temperance Legion, with Headquarters at Evanston, Illinois, was the guest speaker at the "School of Methods" held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Todd, 207 West Ann Arbor trail, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. This was held under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Mrs. Houille also spoke in the Calvary Baptist church, Thursday evening on "In As Much." She said, "It is the duty of every Christian woman to give boys and girls training for total abstinence and Christian citizenship through simple facts presented in attractive form." Mrs. O. R. Hurd, state president, presided at the meeting and special musical numbers were given by the Calvary Baptist and First Baptist churches and a reading by Duane Rieder.

Mrs. Ruth Losie, Port Huron, assisted in the three-day program. She is the State Educational Field Worker, giving instruction in the scientific approach to alcohol in the schools and colleges. Through her lectures and demonstrations she has contacted many thousands of students.

Mrs. Paul Kenworthy, Detroit, state secretary of the Youth Temperance Council, in presenting her work, impressed her hearers with the great need of protecting youth from intemperance and alcohol, as they soon will be taking over leadership in our country.

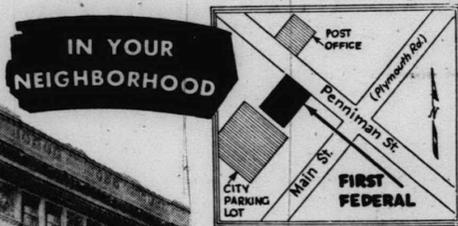

The Loyal Temperance Legion and the Youth Temperance Council are both joining with the parent organization, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in promoting wholesome recreation and character. Mrs. O. K. Marshall, editor of The Michigan Union, presided throughout the sessions. Guests present at the school not only included the state officers, but many ladies from the surrounding congressional districts.

TWO-YEAR-OLD Verna Spayth cannot romp and play with the other children, but she may someday. A 1953 victim of polio, Verna's little legs are encased in braces now, but her improvement since she was stricken in October has been considerable. Hospital expenses for her care and eventual cure are being met by the March of Dimes. Verna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Spayth of 1121 Brush. (Ply-Mail photo)

Mother of Little Polio Patient Tells of March of Dimes Help

Plymouth was lucky last year—only two reported cases of polio. But the sight of one of the victims, two-year-old Verna Spayth, is enough to make anyone stop and think. Verna is wearing braces on both her legs and on one arm.

What is important, however, say her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Spayth of 1121 Brush, is that the child has shown great progress from the day her case was called extremely involved. All four extremities were paralyzed and she could barely move her fingers in those early days of the disease. Today she is beginning to learn to walk on crutches. These wonders have been worked through the help of the March of Dimes and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Verna was always an active child, always into things her mother said. "When she got sick last October and doctors declared that she had polio," Mrs. Spayth said, "we couldn't believe it. You just never expect it to happen to your child." But it was true, and little 20-month-old Verna began her stay at the University hospital in Ann Arbor.

It's hard to leave your child in a hospital and go away without her, Mrs. Spayth said, "but the attendants and therapists there have been wonderful to her." Through their help the little girl has come a long way, and though she still has a long road to travel it is hoped that she will grow out of her affliction.

But it hasn't been easy. It is difficult to teach a two-year-old to walk on crutches, because it is hard for her to understand what she is to do. The brace on her right leg may come off soon, however, her mother said, while her left leg is still very bad.

When a patient needs as much care as little Verna required the price comes high. It was estimated that it would cost $180 a week while Verna was in the hospital. Over a long period of time that adds up to a lot of money—more than most people could pay.

And that is where the March of Dimes comes in. A representative from this organization explained to Mrs. Spayth that accepting help from the National Foundation is not charity—it is just a return on the money paid into the March of Dimes throughout the years. The money they had contributed had given them security. The families of polio victims are told they can pay as much of the bill as they feel they can afford. So far the Spayths haven't even received a bill.

Verna now comes home on weekends. In fact, just last Sunday she celebrated her second birthday at home. And in a few weeks, it is expected that she will be able to stay home for good. Of course, Mrs. Spayth will have to help her with her exercises and she will have to return to the hospital for periodic checkups.

Mrs. Spayth said she hoped Verna's story would encourage others to contribute to the March of Dimes this year, to enlarge on the work done by that organization. The hope that a vaccine for prevention of polio, which crippled little children like Verna, can be perfected should open the hearts of everyone to this cause, she added.

The Mothers' March for solicitations will take place on Thursday, January 28. The March, held annually, is a porchlight campaign, and those wishing to contribute are requested to turn on their porchlights that evening.

Twenty-four members and seven visitors attended the dinner-meeting at which Bert Saunders, executive vice-president of the Michigan Real Estate association, was the guest speaker. Mr. Saunders also inducted the new officers. Ray C. Gowdy of Belleville is the retiring president.

Vice-president of the board is Carl A. Heyer, Jr., Inkster, while Mrs. Gertrude Patton of Livonia was installed as secretary.

The new president received two new members and four associate members into the group. New members are Charles Allen and Alvy T. Peterson of Livonia. Associates are Marie Wilson, Ora Taylor and Alma Hogle of the Lindsay Real Estate, Plymouth, and Earl Merriman of Merriman & Co. of Plymouth.

In his address, Mr. Saunders explained rent control and multiple listings.

The Western Wayne County Board of Realtors meets the second Thursday of each month at the Mayflower. Its purpose is to raise the standards of the real estate profession by enforcing the board's code of ethics.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,
The Legislative Committee of the Northville Teachers' Club wishes to call the attention of all people interested in Retirement Legislation to a bill now pending in our State Legislature. This bill is known as the Mason Bill or House Resolution H. R. 5180, this bill is an attempt to amend Section 22 of the Internal Revenue Code and would equalize treatment of all retired people. It provides exemption from income tax on the first $1500.00 for everyone over 65 years of age.

Altho over 8 million people are receiving exemptions such as Social Security, Veteran and Railroad Employees, many of us are yet victims of discriminatory legislation—including teachers, firemen, and others.

If you are interested in Retirement Exemption won't you contact your Congressmen at once—Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste Marie and John D. Dingell of Detroit. Write them today! either at their state addresses or Washington, D.C.

Legislative Committee:
Gertrude Martin,
Rose Ella Lee,

Yes, it is Grange night tonight so come on and be one of us. You might like us.

Pomona on Tuesday night of last week was a pleasant meeting. Five of our members received the degree of Pomona. Roy Purcell was the speaker of the evening and his talk was interesting.

The Grange extends sympathy to Isabel Taylor and Roy Amrhein because of the death of their uncle last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vealey attended the funeral last Thursday of their cousin, Grace McKinstry of Wayne. The burial was in Sheldon cemetery.

Of course you are coming to the dance Saturday night, January 23. The Carsons will be on hand with the music and calling. You will have a good time.

Mrs. Ara Fehlig has been quite ill again and is under the care of a physician.

There will be another card party on Saturday night, February 6, at the hall. There will be prizes, and refreshments will be served downstairs. Mrs. Milly Rienas is the chairman.

Mrs. Molly Tracy is staying with her son at Standish for a while caring for the tiny baby who has been brought home from the hospital where it has been in an incubator since its birth.

Mrs. Margaret Groth has quite recovered from her recent illness and is feeling fine at present.

Better Seed Ups State Spud Yield

Use of certified seed has boosted Michigan potato yields and put better potatoes on the table, reminds Henry C. Moore Michigan State College farm crops specialist. In 1920, there was a disease tolerance of 10 per cent and a yield of 138 bushels per acre in certified fields, notes Moore. In 1953, the disease tolerance was cut to 1 per cent and the yield increased to 315 bushels.

Twelve varieties were grown under certification in 1953 with Russet Rurals and Sebago's accounting for 72 per cent of the crop; other important varieties include Katahdin, Green Mountain, Chippewa, Irish Cobbler, Sequoia and Pontiac. Russet Rurals have been a leading variety in northern areas for 40 years, have a high dry-matter content and keep well; they are a favorite of shippers. Sebago's are the most important potatoes in central and southern Michigan, have good cooking quality and look, and yield well and resist scab on both muck and upland soils.

The M. S. C. farm crops department and county agricultural agents can aid farmers in locating certified seed sources.

Chamber Contest Winners End Exciting Week in Bermuda

BERMUDA HOLIDAY winners courtesy the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mielbeck of Plymouth (at left) with their travel companions, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rose of Livonia. They are pictured in front of Pomander Gate guest house in Paget Parish, Bermuda. All travel expense, lodging and food at the guest house were included in the expense-free trip.

An exciting week in Bermuda which included motorbike rides, a boat excursion and visits to some of the fashionable clubs, ended Tuesday of last week for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mielbeck when they returned to their home in Plymouth.

Winners of the "Shop in Plymouth" contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the Mielbecks left January 6 by plane from Willow Run airport. In New York they changed planes and within a few hours landed on the famous vacation island. Actually, there are 360 small islands in the Bermuda group, 20 of them inhabited. The island is 677 miles southeast of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rose of Livonia accompanied the Plymouth couple on the trip. They stayed at Pomander Gate, a guest house which accommodates up to 30 persons. The Mielbecks report that the meals served were delicious.

With temperatures in the 70's, the Mielbecks took full advantage of the week. They first toured the island in a taxi. They then rented motorbikes and one day rode 30 miles out to St. George, original settlement located on the tip of an island. Many of the islands are connected by bridges. Another day was spent taking a boat cruise among the islands, stopping on one of the islands for a barbecue. They also visited some of the famous clubs during the evenings.

The only snag in the entire trip was the missing of the plane in New York. The return plane ride from Bermuda was slowed down by high winds so the Mielbecks had to take another plane from New York.

Leaving Bermuda in warm sunshine, they arrived in New York a few hours later and found the big city shivering in near-zero temperatures and covered with a heavy blanket of snow.

"I'm ready to go back anytime," Mrs. Mielbeck exclaimed. "We hope the Chamber plans something like this again next year for it sure is a wonderful thing."

According to Chamber Secretary Nat Siobold, it appears that a similar contest will be offered in Plymouth this Christmas with an equally-famous resort spot as the main prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Mielbeck live at 263 Farmer. Mr. Mielbeck is employed by Kaiser Motors.

South Lyon Cows Complete Test

With an average of 12,016 pounds of milk and 411 pounds of butterfat, the 19-cow herd of registered Holstein-Friesians owned by R. M. Brengle, Larrol Acres, South Lyon, completed their test year recently. Their production averaged approximately 18 quarts daily for each cow in the herd for the year. Testing was carried on under the official Herd Improvement Registry program of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Milking was done two times daily and testing was supervised by Michigan State college, in cooperation with the national Holstein headquarters.

Local Girls to Graduate From Western Michigan

Two Plymouth girls will be among the 199 students who will be graduated from Western Michigan college on Sunday, January 24. E. Ann Cadot of 829 Foust will receive a secondary certificate, and Patricia Ann Wilkins of 11350 Gold Arbor road will be graduated with a retailing certificate.

Dr. Paul V. Sangren, president of Western Michigan college, will preside and confer the degrees. The address of the afternoon, using the theme "Great Expectations," will be delivered by Dr. Clarence Hilberry, president of Wayne university.

Organize New Air Reserve Unit For Area Men

A new unit of the 9632nd Air Reserve Squadron was recently set up in this area and was designated as the Wayne Flight. The unit was established to facilitate attendance of air reservists who live in the communities surrounding Wayne.

The formation of the Wayne Flight came about recently when it became evident at a reservists' meeting that the number interested in organizing such a unit exceeded the minimum required.

Major Perry Points presided over the meeting. Major Points of Wayne was appointed Flight leader by Captain Arthur Jefferson, commanding officer of the 9632nd Air Reserve Squadron.

In an informal address to the group, Major Points emphasized that the rewards of membership in such a unit are numerous. There are benefits from the retirement plan, and promotion can only be achieved when the reservist is attached to some unit.

The group tentatively agreed to meet the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. The next meeting is scheduled for January 26 at the Chamber of Commerce building in Wayne.

Air reservists from Plymouth, Northville, Wayne, Garden City, Livonia, Romulus and Belleville are encouraged to join. Further information for anyone interested can be obtained by calling Plymouth 317-W or Plymouth 421-J2.

MOST EXPLOSIVE DOCUMENT OF THIS ERA

Here's the raw, unvarnished story of the first 1,000 days of the Roosevelt administration. It was only after Ickes' death that it was learned he had dictated millions of words over a period of years.

In his diary, Ickes recorded everything he knew about everyone he came in contact with during the days when the basic patterns were laid for 20 years of unbroken rule by the Democrats.

Read what he says about the Franklin D. Roosevelt he worked and fought with. Read his impressions of the personal and political lives of Harry Hopkins, James A. Farley, Frances Perkins, Henry Wallace, Gen. Hugh Johnson, fiery administrator of the NRA, and others.

You'll find this diary one of the most interesting and revealing of our times.

They are: Ann West, president; Martha Bernash, vice-president; Karen Rank, secretary; Barbara Gooch, treasurer; Elaine Mathews, Sunshine and color guards are Elaine Calahan, Martha West and Sharon Sprague. Reporter is Marsha Rubey.

Ice skating is a favorite girl Scout recreation and many troops have been taking advantage of the weather to meet at Wilcox Lake. On Monday January 18, troop 5 enjoyed a skating party and on Tuesday January 19 troop 4 met there.

Troop 1 was happy to welcome its president, Susan Campbell back after her trip to California where she saw the Rose Bowl game.

Overheard in The Mayflower Room last Sunday: "We never visit Plymouth without walking up to Cassidy's in the corner to see their wonderful window displays." We all agree that the trip is worthwhile because those are always very attractively decorated show-windows, the kind that make our ladies practically drool.

Last weekend he inveigled Pat Finlan and Bob Minock into accompanying him to Cadillac and Lake City for a bit of skiing and ice fishing. They forsook the warmth of The Mayflower and Plymouth for some of that zero stuff. Very relaxing, they say, but how can you be relaxed, and at the same time be frozen stiff?

Explanation of it, as recorded in the Bible in Luke 8:4-15, will be read. The following correlative citation will be among selections read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek. In the soil of an honest and good heart the seed must be sown; else it beareth not much fruit, for the swinish element in human nature uproots it" (272:3-8). The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (32:3,4).

Missionary to Okinawa to Speak At St. John's Parish Meeting

The Reverend Canon Norman Godfrey, pioneer missionary of the Protestant Episcopal church on the island of Okinawa, is now back in the United States after three years of evangelistic work among the Okinawans. During these years he and one other American missionary, a Korean Priest and a Japanese Deacon set about teaching Christianity to a people whose only religion had been a fear ridden animism. Their work was highly commended by the Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal church, the Rt. Reverend Henry Knox Sherrill, when he visited Okinawa last fall.

A native of Buffalo, New York, and a graduate of Nashotah House, an Episcopal seminary in Wisconsin, Canon Godfrey began missionary work immediately after his ordination in 1929. Later he entered parish work in Batavia, New York and in New York City. He is Honorary Canon of All Saints' Cathedral in Albany, New York.

In 1949 he was elected deputy to the General Convention of the Episcopal church, then meeting at San Francisco. It was at that time that he was asked to undertake work on Okinawa, where there was a leper colony served by a Lay Reader of the Episcopal church, but no other Christian work was being carried on there. "As a result of the battle of Okinawa," says Canon Godfrey "the attention of the American people was drawn to conditions existing on the island, and it was natural that the church should move in." In 1950 he left for Okinawa with the Reverend William Heffner to begin his work under the supervision of the Rt. Harry S. Kennedy, Bishop of Honolulu. Since the only religion to be found on the island was a reli-

Elton Crowell To Appear At Calvary Baptist

The Reverend Elton W. Crowell of Lansing, nationally-known evangelist; Bible teacher and youth leader, will appear in a series of evangelistic meetings at the Calvary Baptist church from January 31 through February 7, according to announcements made today by the Reverend P. J. Clifford, pastor.

A pastor for a number of years before entering his present work, Crowell has led a varied and successful career. He has opened closed churches--at one time, holding five different church services each Sunday--conducted radio broadcasts, organized Bible teaching programs for young people, and founded the Lansing Bible Institute.

Author of a book and numerous magazine articles, he has also composed songs and choruses which he uses in his meetings. His ministry has taken him into most of the United States and much of Canada and Latin-America.

Since entering Christian work, Crowell has traveled nearly a million miles, using almost every kind of conveyance--plane, train, auto, boat, on foot, horseback and even by ox-cart. Speaking in bandstands, tents, civic auditoriums, taverns, as well as churches, he has addressed audiences of as few as three persons, and as many as 10,000 persons in a single meeting.

He served for five years on the staff of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, and has been active on both home and foreign mission boards. He has been the speaker in many community-wide evangelistic campaigns and Bible conferences, as well as single church meetings. He now directs the program of one of the historic Bible Conferences in the nation.

In addition to preaching, Crowell sings, leads the enthusiastic song services and plays the violin. Especially of interest to young people is the Gospel magic which he often incorporates into the program.

Services will be held nightly beginning at 7:30 p.m.

First Methodist Begins Two Services Sunday

The Reverend M. I. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist church has announced that he will conduct two identical church services on Sunday mornings starting this Sunday, January 24. The early service will start at 9 a.m. and the other at 11 a.m.

By having two such services, parishioners will be doubly assured of obtaining a seat in a less crowded congregation. Members and friends of the church are asked to tell others about the extra 9 a.m. service.

RING THE BELL FOR ST. MARY HOSPITAL

Author of a book and numerous magazine articles, he has also composed songs and choruses which he uses in his meetings. His ministry has taken him into most of the United States and much of Canada and Latin-America.

Hold Band Carnival Tomorrow

The annual Band Carnival sponsored by the parents of children participating in the sixth grade bands will open tomorrow evening, January 22 with a pancake supper. Beginning at 6 p.m., the event will be held in the Plymouth high school.

Following the supper many attractions will await those attending this year's carnival. The attic treasures and apron booth are in charge of Mrs. Harold Paulger, while the candy booth is sponsored by the sixth grades. Mrs. Alfred Houghton will take over the pie walk, Mrs. Allen Bernash has the cake walk, and Mrs. Wilbur Hill is chairman of the fish pond. The latter features many articles from Florida.

Fred Nelson, high school music instructor, will present a variety show starring the cream of local amateur talent. A dance will also be held in the auditorium, with Mrs. William Morgan acting as chairman.

For those who get hungry from all the activity there will be a snack bar directed by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Eaton, and movies shown by Mrs. Sven Eklund.

Proceeds will be used to provide more instruments and uniforms for the members of the bands.

Who's New In Plymouth

A FAMILY OF FIVE from Canton, Illinois are the new residents who receive this week's spotlight. Mr. and Mrs. William Scott and their three children came to Plymouth in August when Mr. Scott was transferred to the Detroit Transmission division of General Motors. An engineer, Mr. Scott has since been sent to the Willow Run plant as a result of the Detroit Transmission fire. Gathered around the toy train, a Christmas present, are Timmie, 5, Mrs. Scott, Carolyn, 9, and Allison, 12. Timmie and Carolyn attend the Bird school while Allison is a student at the junior high school. The Scott family resides at 601 Auburn. (Ply-Mail photo)

Congratulate Plymouth Employers of Minors

Employers of minors in the Plymouth area are to be congratulated for cooperating with the Michigan State Department of Labor and the Plymouth high school in seeing that all minors who are working are employed legally, stated Melvin Blunk, occupational training coordinator at the high school. A majority of these employers have taken an interest in the young workers by seeing that the work which these minors do is not injurious to their health, injurious to their morals, or that it is not unduly hazardous, he said.

In order to continue this fine record, he added, it is always a good policy to provide employers now hiring minors or desiring to hire minors and all girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 18 with facts so that all will be correctly informed.

It is perfectly legal for girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 18 to work providing the health and welfare of the young workers are not impaired. The Michigan State Department of Labor is the agency which determines whether a job can be performed by a minor and controls the labor by enforcing the Hittite Juvenile Employment Act. All young people except those engaged in street trades, domestic work, farm work, a business owned and operated by a parent, work for a non-profit enterprise, or work in college as part of an educational program must have work permits issued by the local high school. Before a minor may obtain a work permit, however, it is essential that the employer obtain an occupational approval number from the Department of Labor, approving the occupation in which the minor will work. The employer then fills out a brief "Offer of Employment" form enabling the minor to obtain a work permit from the local school authorities, when presented with a birth certificate or other acceptable proof of age.

The procedure may sound rather complicated to some prospective employers and young employees, but it is relatively simple if employer, employee, and school authorities cooperate. All necessary forms for employing minors may be obtained from Melvin Blunk, who issues work permits for the Plymouth area.

At the beginning of each year, numerous questions arise regarding new occupational approval numbers for employers and new work permits for minors. The following statements are made to possibly answer these questions: (1) Work permits are good as long as the minor is employed in the same occupation with the same employer, (2) With the passage of each year, the employer must obtain a new occupational approval number from the Michigan State Department of Labor, and (3) This new approval number should be written on all 1953 work permits by the issuing agent showing that the permit has been renewed. Further information regarding employment of minors, minimum ages for particular jobs, working hours for minors, and prohibitive work may be obtained by either contacting or phoning Mr. Blunk at the high school.

Business Women Accept New Members

The Business and Professional Women's club of Plymouth met for their January meeting on Monday evening in the Mayflower room of the Hotel Mayflower for dinner and a business meeting.

Ten new members were taken into the club.

Through the efforts of Miss Helen Gilbert, an informative movie of the activities of the United Nations in caring for war afflicted children was shown.

The club's February meeting has been designated as the birthday month, and an impressive initiation ceremony is being planned.

Oddfellows Rebekah News

Last week nearly 70 members and friends enjoyed the potluck supper, the installation ceremonies, and the address of the Grand Herald of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, Thomas Pugsley of Detroit, at the Oddfellows hall. Assisting Lodge Deputy George Mott for the installation were the following Past Grands John Oldenberg, Dale Mitchell, Clifford Gates, Perry Krumm, John Broegman, William Roach and Ray Moore. After the installation Major General Marsh, department of Patriarch Militant, gave a few remarks.

Brother Oscar Matts is improving at the University hospital, Ann Arbor, after his automobile accident last week. He will be confined for several weeks as several ribs were broken and entered the lung.

The third degree team practice was well-attended, and we should be able to portray this lesson impressively in the near future.

The next district meeting will be held at our hall on February 9. Garden City Lodge will work the initiatory degree.

All members bring your families and friends to the roast beef supper on Friday, January 29.

Cooper's new color movie entitled "New Adventures in Michigan" is a sequel to the very popular "Touring Glorious Michigan." The new film covers Michigan thoroughly, showing both coasts, both peninsulas and all four seasons.

Among the winter highlights are included winter sports at Boyne Mountain, and spectacular ski jumping at Ishpening. The summer section presents a wide range of subjects such as Metropolitan Beach in Detroit, fishing near Oscoda, Wabun Resort, boating, fishing and water sports in the "Snows" islands. Brilliant new pictures of the upper and lower Tahquamenon Falls, remote Uno Lodge near Munising, modern lumbering in the north woods, fishing at Isle Royale, a visit to Beaver island, nationally famous Jack and Jill ranch, water sports at Lake Macatawa, and the Starr Commonwealth for boys near Albion.

Plan Celebration of Centennial

To celebrate their second hundred years as a spiritual group, the Y. W. C. A. is holding a nation-wide centennial in which all Y-Teen and Y. W. C. A. clubs who wish to do so, will participate.

During the forthcoming year, the Y. W. C. A. hopes to, through the publicity and money it will receive, strengthen and increase its membership and start a fund to be used to extend the Y. W. C. A. influence in more countries.

The Y. W. C. A. is now established in 66 countries and its membership reaches into the millions. However, the association feels it has a moral obligation to expand the membership still more.

One of the main objects for the centennial celebration is to set up a Centennial Fund of up to $5,000,000. The money which leaders believe, will be obtained in the form of centennial bequests, general gifts, and special gifts, will be used to set up new clubs in different countries.

Another way in which the national organization plans to raise additional funds is through individual Y-Teen clubs. Y. W. C. A. pamphlets sent to each club suggests they orient a penny a day for a complete year. The project is called, "The Y-Teen birthday gift to the Y. W. C. A.," and will help the group achieve its financial goal.

The Plymouth Y-Teenagers have not as yet decided upon their part in the large program.

Nursing Group Holds Meeting At Northville Hospital

The Michigan League for Nursing's Interdivision Council for Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing held its first meeting on January 20 at Northville State hospital. Chairman of the group is Miss Edith G. Morgan, Director of Nursing at the University of Michigan Neuropsychiatric Institute, Ann Arbor. Vice-chairman is Miss Barbara Bernard, instructor at the Wayne University College of Nursing, and the secretary - treasurer is Mrs. Myrtle Dunavin, Director of Nursing at Kalamazoo State hospital.

The program opened with a psychodrama session of how a clinical team operates in a mental hospital. A doctor, nurse, psychiatric aide, psychologist and social worker played their own roles in presenting a typical therapeutic conference devoted to helping an individual patient. Each makes a contribution and cooperates with other disciplines to set forth the best possible treatment plan. Psychodrama is ordinarily used as a form of group therapy for the patients, but is also used as a more interesting method of demonstration than separate lectures by individual staff members.

A business meeting followed and the program concluded with conducted tours of the new intensive treatment unit of the hospital which is to open this week.

The new cafeteria opened on January 12 and served 106 students on the first day. Although only senior high school students, grades 9-12, are being served plans are being made to serve hot lunches to grades 7 and 8. Students may purchase the hot lunches for $30, but later on Carvel Bentley, principal, hopes to see them offer a varied lunch which will raise the cost.

In an assembly principal Bentley gave pointers on how to use the new cafeteria. After receiving their lunches students leave the cafeteria and enter the auditorium through the north door and sit on the east side. Upon finishing their lunches students take their trays and milk bottles to a window near the kitchen where they will be taken by the kitchen help.

The new cafeteria is equipped with stainless steel materials, a 10-burner gas stove, a two-bowl sink, a heating table for keeping foods warm a compression cooler for milk, an automatic dishwasher, a garbage disposal unit, a refrigerator, a freezer, and a number of cabinets.

The unit has a storage room in the back where delivery trucks may place food instead of carrying it through the school.

Seven people are working in the cafeteria, Mrs. Ethel Skaggs and Mrs. Nellie Johnson as cooks and five student girls helping.

New Lights Put In Junior High School Rooms

New overhead lights which were badly needed, were recently purchased and installed in the hall and home economics class room of the junior high school building.

A survey conducted by the Lighting Commission of Michigan had revealed lighting conditions in the junior high school to be far below the requirements. As an example, the minimum foot-candles of a home economics class where the eyes are used in strain all hour should be no lower than 50, but the survey showed that the natural lighting in the sewing room which received the lights rated between 11-17, which is better than 35 lower than it should have been.

Mrs. Pauline Morgan, home economics teacher, is highly pleased with the beautiful lights and says she doesn't know how she got along without them before.

Purchasing the lights which were installed by Hubbs and Gilles totaled $702.19 for the Homemaking class alone. School officials hope to furnish the whole school with lights in the future.

Offer More Scholarships To High School Seniors

The Detroit and Tri-County League For Nursing is offering four $100 scholarships to any girl interested in nursing. Each contestant will fill out an application blank and will take a test if the academic requirements have been met and satisfactory references submitted. On the basis of these tests and personal interviews the girls will be chosen.

Michigan State college is again offering a scholarship to a qualified student of Plymouth high school if the applicant is:

- (1) scholastically among the more able students for his or her entire period,
- (2) has demonstrated leadership through school life and,
- (3) would be unable to attend without financial aid.

The recipient of this award will receive a year's tuition and student admission to athletic events, lecture series, world adventure programs and State News. This scholarship is renewable through the four year course if performance merits it.

Because of the growing need of civil engineers in the state, the University of Michigan in cooperation with the Michigan State Highway Department and the Michigan Road Builders Association is offering an eight-week course at Camp Davis, Jackson, Wyoming from June 21 to August 14, 1954 for qualified high school graduates.

A scholarship of $150 is being offered reducing the student's fee to $160. Upon graduation from the course the student will be eligible for employment by the State Highway Department as Engineering Aide at $253.51 per month. Besides this, the University of Michigan will give credit for work completed in camp.

Future Nurses Club Plans Trip to Detroit

The Future Nurses club plans to attend a movie in Detroit called "Flight Nursing" sometime in January. The girls must first send for their membership cards which are obtained from the state capital and must present them to be admitted to the theatre.

The members of the F. N. C. have just sent in for their club pins for the coming year. The pins are gold in color, with the initials F. N. C. and a guard pin.

A recent activity was the visit of the girls to the Wayne County hospital to give cookies and visit with the patients there.

High School Juniors Choose Cast For "My Little Margie" Production

The curtains will rise on the junior class production of "My Little Margie" Thursday evening, February 18 at 8:00 p.m.

My little Margie, a pert vivacious young lady with a mind of her own, which she enjoys using, will be portrayed by Kathy Bernash. The role of Freddie, a likeable though somewhat retiring chap in his early twenties, will be Bob Bateman. Sally Black takes the part of Roberta, an extremely good-looking sophisticated career woman in her late thirties. Vern Albright will be played by Foster Brown. Mr. Albright is Margie's father, an attractive pleasant man, not at all hard to get along with.

Completing the cast are Glenna Merril as Mrs. Odets, a small, bird-like lady over 80 who still maintains a youthful sparkle; Carol Stratton as Miss Sherman, a plain, outspoken but extremely efficient woman of about 35; Carl Leveille as Bill, the bright, friendly young chap who operates the elevator; Tom Rowe as Mr. Honeywell, a highly irascible often pompous man; Jim Thorpe as Sir Saiyid, a charming distinguished looking man with a faint British accent; Barbara Moulton as the crisp professional yet attractive nurse; and David Baker as the assassin, a sinister looking man with a bushy black beard.

Thalia Bairas was chosen chairman for this important event on the junior class calendar.

Miss Louise Spence will direct the play.

6-B League Girls Hold Playday With Belleville

The second playday of the 6-B league was held at Belleville last week. Their playday was a basketball get-together in which the six schools played eight short games. The teams were so arranged that girls from each school were present on each team. Refreshments were served afterwards.

Only G. A. A. members were allowed to attend this playday. Those girls who weren't chosen to attend the Trenton volleyball playday played at this one. They were: Inez Enterline, Cheri Ritter, Janet Denhoff, Nancy Lock, Betty Gregory, Shirley Carter, Dorothy Keen and Peggy Wingard. Club advisor is Louise Cigile.

The next 6-B playday sport chosen was swimming, which will be held in March at Plymouth. Within the next two weeks any girl from grades 9 through 12 may sign up to join G. A. A. A party will be given for the new members.

Senior Class Plans For New York Trip

Seniors are planning what to pack for their class trip to old New York.

Highlighting the trip will be the arrival in New York at Grand Central Station where sightseeing buses will transfer the seniors and their baggage to the Hotel Taft, the home of the group while in New York for the four day trip. Sunday evening the party will enjoy a movie, and a stage show featuring the Rockettes at the Radio City Music Hall. All meals will be served at Longley's Restaurant, during the trip.

Monday: The group will assemble in the NBC Lounge where a guide will conduct them through a complete tour of the NBC Radio and Television Studios. In the afternoon a trip to the UN is being planned. In the evening there will be an optional program, either a television or radio show. If there are more who wish to visit the Latin Quarter, reservations will be made. If others prefer, they may take in a Broadway Show.

Tuesday: In the morning the group will visit the Observation Roof of the Empire State Building. The rest of the morning is open for what ever the seniors wish to do. The group will leave the Taft Hotel in the morning; then tour Harlem, Grant's Tomb, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Riverside Drive, Greenwich Village, Chinatown, the Bowery, Wall Street, and other places of interest. The seniors will then board the train for home. Dinner will be served on the train.

Cagers Score 60-45 Win Over Belleville

A big first quarter, in which they got off to a 15 point lead, enabled the Plymouth high cagers to romp home victors over a scrappy Belleville five, 60 to 45, last Friday night. That first period spurt, which saw the locals connecting on 60 per cent of their shots, withstood a Belleville comeback which threatened to tie the score up at one time.

The Rocks got off to a 21 to 6 lead in the first stanza, but it had dwindled to a 31 to 18 lead at intermission time, and a 44 to 33 third period margin. Kenny Kisabeth led that first period rush by counting 8 points, most of which were set up by the driving set-up plays of Dick Day.

Young Kisabeth, who graduates at the end of this semester, led the scorers with 16 points scored on 8 baskets. Larry Wilhelm was runnerup with 12 points, Bob Middleton had 11 Jerry Kelly 9, and Lee Juve and Dick Day 6 each. Jim Cobb, Belleville's lanky center, led the Tigers with 16 points also.

In an earlier game last week Plymouth had to come from behind to defeat a good Southfield team, 50 to 47. Four straight free throws by Larry Wilhelm, who had entered the game earlier, provided the winning margin. All the charity tosses came in the last minute after the Rocks were on the short end of a 47 to 46 score.

Another feature of this game was the Rocks' scoring 14 points during the two minutes preceding the halftime intermission. The Southfield coach had taken out four of his starters and before he could get them back in, Plymouth had racked up 14 points to take a 22 to 20 halftime lead.

Play was close throughout the game with Plymouth having a four point margin as the last quarter began. Ken Kisabeth again led the Rocks with 19 points made on 8 baskets and 3 free throws. Both Lee Juve and Tyler Caplin had 8 points, Jerry Kelly 5, Danny Clifford and Larry Wilhelm 4 each, and Bob Middleton and Dick Day one each.

Plymouth made good on 14 of 26 foul shots with Southfield counting 15 of 23 shots. McCormich led the losers with 16 points, but Hal Edwards played an outstanding floor game, one of the best Plymouth has seen this year.

Tomorrow night Plymouth goes to Bentley to complete the first round of play in the league. Last year Bentley beat the Rocks twice, but these games are always in doubt until the game is over. Bentley has lost once by two-points to Trenton.

Capitol Tops Rec League

Last week Capitol Shirts won another game in the Men's basketball league to strengthen its hold on first place. Tait's are still on the heels of the front-runners with only one loss—that a two-point affair to the leaders.

The league leaders had a hard battle on its hands to edge First National Bank, 47 to 39. The game was close throughout with the winners having a slim 13 to 11 halftime lead. Carl Purcell was the big gun for the winners with 21 points, scored on 9 baskets and 3 free throws. Hank Levering had 10, McLean had 11 for the losers.

Beglinger Olds won on a forfeit from Ford Local, and Box Bar and Olds double-forfeited when each team could only field four men. In the other game First National defeated Ford Local 51 to 43. Scoring was evenly divided for the winners with Singleton high with 13, Bogenschutz had 11, McLean 10, Scheel 9 and R. Danol 6. Griffiths had 15 for the losers and Harris 10.

The standings as the teams approach the halfway mark in the schedule are as follows:

Team	W	L
Capitol Shirts	6	0
Tait's Cleaners	4	1
LaFontaine	3	2
First National	3	3
Beglinger Olds	2	3
Lightfoot Heating	2	3
Box Bar	1	3
Ford Local 182	0	6

Juniors, Frosh Split Belleville Cage Games

The Plymouth junior high and frosh split in their games with the Belleville teams last week—the Junior high losing to Belleville 29 to 12, and the frosh beating the Tigers 60 to 35. In the first game the young Rocks could not score a point until midway through the second period, and as a result were behind 21 to 4 at the half.

Ken Knipschild was high with 6 points, Don Alsborg had 3, Gary Baggott 2 and Wayne Jordahl one point. Ed Butler was high for the Belleville junior high with 12 points. The locals made good on 4 of 10 free throws, with the Tigers getting 3 of 10.

In the frosh game, Coach Charles Ketterer used all his players in beating the Belleville frosh. The Rocks jumped into an early 13 to 7 first quarter lead and increased it to 31 to 15 by the half.

Cliff Tait was high with 16 points, Kenny Calhoun had 11, Jerry King and Ron Markham 8 each, Bob Straub and Bob Jenkins 4 each, Virgil Norgrove 3 and John Thomas 1. Plymouth made 10 out of 20 free throw attempts good—Belleville 1 out of 9.

Bentley is here today for games with the junior high and frosh, who play a double-header each week.

A good team of arctic sled dogs pushed by an expert driver, can cover 100 miles in a day with a light load.

Trenton Still King Pins

Trenton controls the 6-B League all alone at the top now as a result of Bentley defeating Allen Park last weekend—the latter two teams have lost one game and Plymouth, very much in contention yet, has lost two games—both away to Allen Park and Trenton.

Plymouth has one honor—that being the most productive on the offensive—they have scored 185 points in the first four league games, or an average of 46 points per contest. Plymouth's defense is rated fourth in the league according to the standings below.

Last weekend saw the Rocks defeating Belleville 60 to 45; Trenton taking Redford Union 39 to 24; and Bentley downing slowgoing Allen Park 30 to 24. In other games around this area—Berkley defeated Southfield 47 to 45 in two overtime periods; Lansing took Northville 57 to 47; Lansing Sexton downed Ann Arbor 66 to 55; Lansing Eastern nipped Ypsilanti 41 to 40.

In league games this week Plymouth plays at Bentley; Redford Union plays Belleville, and Trenton plays Allen Park.

The league standings with points scored for and against appear below:

Team	W	L	PF	PA
Trenton	4	0	164	122
Bentley	3	1	169	131
Allen Park	3	1	136	127
Plymouth	2	2	185	168
Belleville	0	4	154	193
Redford Union	0	4	117	198

RING THE BELL FOR ST. MARY HOSPITAL

Sport Glances . . .

The 6-B League is beginning to tighten up—Allen Park suffered the first defeat of the season the other night at the hands of our neighbors—Bentley who beat their control, slow-type game by the low score of 30 to 24. Trenton is still on top without a loss, but they have to play the leaders again and may find trouble when they encounter Plymouth on the large floor here next week. Allen Park also loses two of its star players in Smith and McNew, and should fade in the second round leaving Trenton, Bentley and Plymouth to fight it out. If Bentley can defeat Trenton in the second meeting, they lost by two points at Bentley in the first, and if Plymouth can defeat Bentley twice and Trenton here, and Allen Park take Trenton before their seniors graduate next week—then Plymouth could take the crown providing they beat the ones they have taken this first round! Sounds kind of complicated doesn't it? I said earlier that no team would go undefeated in the 6-B this year, and that still holds! And the winner might be a team that loses two games. We'll see.

I very much admire a person with confidence in himself—one who fears nothing and believes he can accomplish anything if he tries hard enough. It seems that fear predominates in most of us sometime or other. We may not recognize it as such, or if we do, we will not want to, and make an excuse. Some try to call it uncertainty; some confuse it with physical accomplishment. Some fears are of a minor nature and some major. I honestly believe that if a person helps anyone overcome some fear, gives him a little more confidence in himself, he has done much more to help that person to prepare himself for life than any other means of advice. A coach must instill confidence in his players, for a player without confidence in himself is lost. There are many athletes today who always point out that some particular coach, or teacher, helped him along the way by gaining confidence—a requisite for the battle of life.

Most of the students going directly from high school to a job need that confidence a great deal. I think that some such characteristics are of more value than the subject matter to a person with an inferiority complex—a person with confidence can take care of most things as they come.

The Lawrence Tech basketball team of Detroit has won 14 straight ball games without a loss so far this season, and are considered one of the better teams in Michigan. Two Plymouth lads are members of that team—Wally Dzurus is a starting forward, and Don Huebler is a reserve forward. Both play a lot. Dzurus was a hotshot in high school and entered Tech last winter. Huebler has been playing recreational basketball in the Men's league for years and just entered Tech recently.

Louis Vargha received straight for two years of further study. A marks the fall term. He is a crack middle distance at State, John Wilson, a football star at State won it last year. Coach Schaldman expects quite a bit yet in the running for the Rhodes Scholarship to England, and next spring in track.

The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

THE MARVIN TERRYS of 1075 Roosevelt were members of a fishing group that brought in 48 kingfish—the biggest kingfish catch of the year. Vacationing down in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Terry and their daughter, Margaret Sue, contributed to the mammoth catch when out with the Rip-Tide IV of Pompano Beach.

SHOWN MAKING PLANS for the coming year are the newly elected temporary officers of the Plymouth high school Alumni Athletic association. At the first formal meeting Sunday in the school gymnasium David Gates, center, was named as president for the remainder of this school year. On the left is Ellwood Elliott, who will serve as treasurer; and Bob Champe will be the secretary. Gates graduated with the class of 1936, Elliott 1935 and Champe 1934. Nearly 100 have indicated a desire to join. Representatives from 16 different classes were present to welcome back Kenneth "Beef" Matheson, who coached here for nine years in the early thirties.

MAJOR BALL FOR COAST WILL BE COSTLY

If and when the major leagues expand to the West Coast and take in Los Angeles, it will take a millionaire, and not some shoestring operator to run the club, judging from some figures cited in The Sporting News. The cost of annual operation will exceed $1,700,000, according to a survey by Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs and the Los Angeles Angels.

The rub comes from the fact that a major league club in Los Angeles will not be "an overnight bonanza," unless it develops into an immediate contender. But, as Wrigley pointed out, it is likely the team will have to start out with "culls, mediocre players and undeveloped youngsters," and the process of building up will take "a lot of time and money."

Once the novelty of major league ball wears off and civic enthusiasm fades, promotion alone won't spin the turnstiles in Los Angeles, which is accustomed to "the use of flamboyant Hollywood techniques," the report added. "What would be startling and make a big splash in Cleveland would get yawns in Los Angeles."

That means, reports The Sporting News, the owner of a Los Angeles major league club can expect some lean years at the gate until he can produce a winner. Any millionaires interested?

ROUNDING THE BASES WITH OL' BOBO

Bobo Newsom, one of the most colorful players in major league history, and certainly the most traveled, is the subject of a three-part story now running in The Sporting News. Here is a humorous bit from the first installment:

When the Athletics traded Roger Wolff to the Senators some year ago for Newsom, Connie Mack described Bobo as "just a boy at heart." Newsom had a quick comeback: "Mr. Mack may be right," he said, "but this boy wants a grown man's wages."

DISSA AND DATA FROM THE SPORTING NEWS

The Detroit Tigers will take 19 pitchers to spring training and, from this number, Manager Freddie Hutchinson hopes to find some who don't throw a gopher ball. The Bengal's hurlers yielded more home runs last season than any other staff in the American League, serving up 154 round-trippers. . . . Ted Williams of the Red Sox, who hit .407 in 37 games after returning from Korea, increased his lifetime batting average to .3478 to pull 2.5 points ahead of Stan Musial of the Cardinals. Musial's career mark dropped to .3453 after The Man compiled an average of .337 last season. . . . The years may be creeping up on Phil Rizzuto, but the Yankees are five-deep behind The Scooter in shortstop possibilities. Manager Casey Stengel's roster includes Willie Miranda, Andy Carey, Jim Brideweser, Jerry Coleman and Billy Martin, not to mention Mickey Mantle, who broke into Organized Ball as a shortstop. . . . Eddie Mathews, the home run king of the majors, also was the error champion, committing 30 miscues at third base. The Sporting News points out. . . . Orestes Minoso, the White Sox speedster, also is listed in the Department of Dubious Distinctions. He led the A. L. in stolen bases and, oddly enough, topped the circuit in grounding into double plays.

NEW YORK NO LONGER BOXING CAPITAL

Some weeks ago, The Sporting News asked: "Is television killing boxing?" The answer—"Yes"—was given in an article which pointed out, among a number of other things, that TV was killing off the small fight clubs all over the country.

Once upon a time, native New Yorkers and visitors could see a live boxing show every night except Sunday, regardless of the season. Today there are only three fight clubs operating in the Big City—Madison Square Garden, St. Nick's and Eastern Parkway Arena in Brooklyn. And, in most cases, they draw no more than a "studio audience" for their fight cards.

BROWN BREAKS PARKER JINX

Sixty-two of the National Football League's finest players, including seven of Detroit's world championship Lions and as many Cleveland Browns closed out the long-winded pro-season in Los Angeles, Sunday, January 17. The occasion was the fourth annual Pro Bowl game, and some 40,000 fans watched the duel between the Eastern and Western Conference all-star squads in Memorial Coliseum, reports The Sporting News.

Besides presenting a parade of pro football's elite, the contest afforded an exasperated Paul Brown another chance to remove the "Indian sign" held over his balding noggin by Buddy Parker.

Never had Brown bested Parker on the field of battle—in seven tries. The Lions have chalked up six straight victories over Cleveland since Parker became boss in 1951 and in last year's Pro Bowl game the Parker-coached Western team won, 27 to 7. Brown got revenge Sunday, 20-9.

Elect Gates To Head Alumni Club

Over 40 former athletes and fans gathered at the new Plymouth high school gymnasium last Sunday for the first formal meeting of the Athletic Alumni Association. David Gates presided and was elected temporary president to serve in that capacity the remainder of this school year. Bob Champe will serve as secretary, and Ellwood Elliott as treasurer of this new organization.

The by-laws were read and adopted. Five main objectives are: To promote a better student attitude toward athletics, to encourage more students to participate in athletics; to constantly raise the standards of sportsmanship in the athletic program; to encourage adequate rules for the care and protection of the athletic program and to create in the minds of the general public a greater interest toward the athletic program. There will be four meetings during the year—one at the beginning of each major sports season, and a final one to end the year and elect officers for the new year.

Nearly 100 have indicated a desire to join. Kenneth "Beef" Matheson, who coached here for nine years in the early thirties was present and spoke briefly. Representatives from 16 classes were present and much enthusiasm was in evidence as to the possibilities of such an organization.

Another meeting is planned for the near future.

Junior Varsity In Easy Cage Win

The Plymouth junior varsity trounced one of the weakest teams ever to appear on the new court last weekend when they walloped the Belleville quintet 56 to 28. The locals were ahead 14 to 1 at the end of the first quarter and 32 to 9 at the half. The first team played all but three minutes of the first half, and four minutes of the final quarter.

Tom Ferguson led the attack with 14 points; he was closely followed by Davidson with 13 and Bonga with 12. Linden Mills made 9, Carter had 3, Drews and Jewell two each and little Jimmy Darnell one. The latter amused the crowd with his dribbling—he is only about five feet.

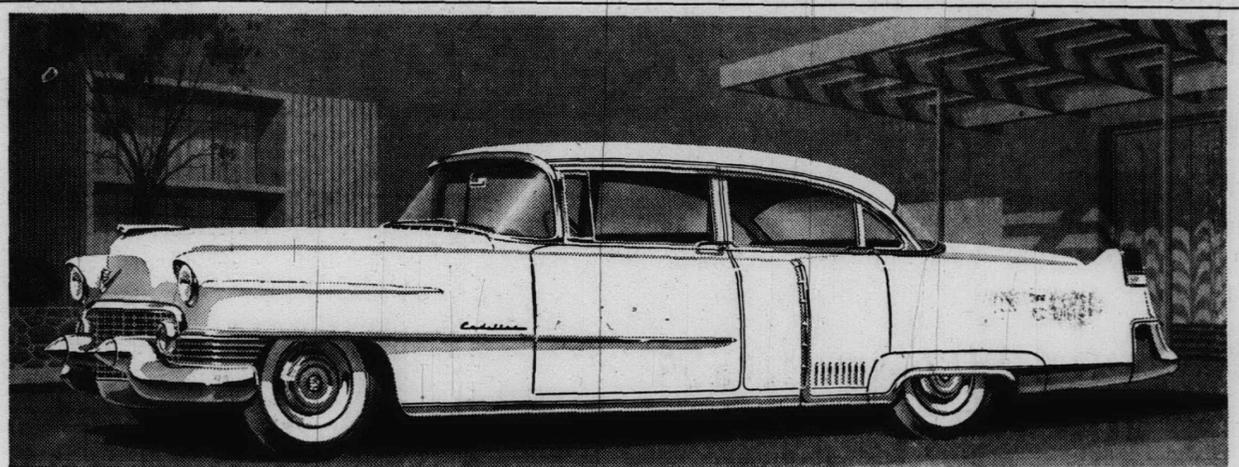

Plymouth made good on 8 of 19 free throws, while their opponents had 8 of 22. Jim Daroci made 13 points for the losers.

The reserves next play Bentley at that school tomorrow night.

In an earlier game last week the junior varsity defeated Southfield 44 to 31 after being behind during the first quarter and enjoying a slim 3 point lead at the half.

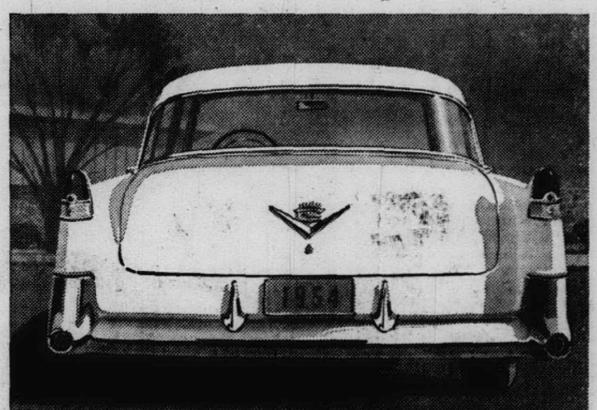

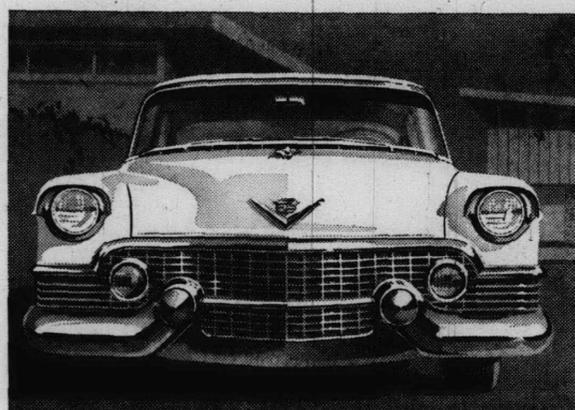

Tom Ferguson was again high with 16 points followed by Dick Davidson with 12 and Henry Bonga with 11. Jack Carter and Jim Darnell each had 2 with Linden Mills counting 1 point.

Plymouth's making 18 of 25 free throws helped considerably. The losers made 9 of 18 attempts good. The scoring was evenly divided.

Presenting the 1954 CADILLAC

Styled to be Copied for Years to Come...

...and as Thrilling to Drive as to See!

The new "Standard of the World" is now on display in our showroom. It is not just a new model, but a wholly restyled and re-engineered Cadillac—new from its more massive grille to its more distinctive rear deck.

It is lower and longer in silhouette . . . more modern and graceful in its body lines . . . and with greater majesty and dignity in every detail. Beyond question, it is destined to influence the design of motor cars for years to come.

THIS CANTON TOWNSHIP plane crash last Saturday morning at 9:30 took the life of Casimiro Gomez of Detroit. The crash was witnessed by Mrs. Guy Gillum of 40651 Lotzford road who said the plane "fell straight down from about 150 feet." Apparently the plane had just taken off from Hartsell airport and was circling to return. It crashed just off Lotz road between Ford and Cherry Hill road less than a half mile from the air field. Shown above examining the wrecked plane and the blanket-covered body of Gomez is Patrolman George Cairns, who with Detective Edward Lofe of the Wayne County Sheriff's department answered the call.

Grade Cage Results

Starkweather downed Smith, 24-14, in the grade school basketball league last week. Starkweather trailed 10-7 at the intermission but caught fire in the second half to pull away to an easy victory. Bill Wooly was high for Starkweather with 10 points while John Micol collected 9 points, Joe Timcoe 4 and Norman Ruehr 1 point. Jim Sparkman and Mike Wells scored 4 points each for the Smith squad while Jim Barnes, Dale Thompson and Gary Simpson each collected 2 markers.

Starkweather also copped the reserve game 11-4 led by Jim Norgrove's 7 points and Bill Filmore's 4 points, while Jim McCabe did all the scoring for Smith School.

In this same week a strong Allen School team stunned the Bird School 35-11.

Farriel Grady scored 10 points for Allen while Alan Porter had 8 points, Art Nelson 4, Bob Cole 2 and Dave Palmer 1 point. Don Williams was high with 6 points for Bird School while Dave Mynatt had 3 points and Dave Rank had 2.

This afternoon Starkweather meets Allen at the latter school, while next Monday Bird plays host to Starkweather and on Wednesday Our Lady of Good Counsel meets Smith school at the Smith gymnasium.

A girl asked by her teacher to parse the word "kiss," replied: "Kiss is a noun, also a conjunction, is never declined, it is common, never proper, is singular, also plural, and agrees with me."

members for 20 years from the group called the Young Guards into the one called the Old Guards.

"Plymouth's Tire Headquarters"

WITH PLYMOUTHITES IN THE SERVICE

Brief items of interest about Plymouthites in the services are welcomed in this column, providing the information does not conflict with press security policies.

Gerald Hermanson and Richard Zielasko

Two soldiers of the Plymouth area were recently assigned to the Anti-aircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Fort Bliss, Texas, for their second eight weeks' of basic training.

They are Private Gerald Hermanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hermanson, 260 North Hagerty, and Private Richard L. Zielasko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zielasko, 7954 Hix road.

Having recently completed eight weeks' of training in fundamental infantry subjects, they will now take up the skills of anti-aircraft artillery.

During this second phase of basic training they will be expertly schooled in the firing of light and medium anti-aircraft artillery weapons at low-flying and high altitude aerial targets on the one-and-one-half million acre Fort Bliss ranges. They will also be familiarized with the various electronic equipment used by the AAA-RTC.

All will graduate at a formal parade and retreat ceremony, and then be eligible for assignment in a permanent anti-aircraft artillery unit.

Donald J. Whalen

Army Pfc Donald J. Whalen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Whalen, 31000 Fargo, Livonia, recently graduated from the I Corps Non-Commissioned Officer Academy in Korea.

During the four-week course, carefully selected soldiers are taught leadership and command, tactics and general military subjects to prepare them for key positions in their units.

Private First Class Whalen, who arrived in Korea last June, has returned to his job as a radar operator with Headquarters Battery of the 25th Division's 8th Field Artillery Battalion.

He entered the Army in November 1952 and completed basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Qualifies As Agent Insurance Instructor

Mrs. Florence Wood, Insurance Agent of the William Wood Agency, Inc., of Plymouth, has just returned from Michigan State college where she participated in an Insurance Institute of the Continuing Education Service.

Mrs. Wood has proven herself qualified as an Instructor of Office Procedures Education for Insurance Agencies and as a guest of the Michigan State college will return this week for further instructions to lecture at courses to be given throughout the state to other Insurance groups. Carl Strong, Insurance Co-Ordinator of Instruction for Michigan State college, along with Mrs. Strong, called in Plymouth on January 12, extending this invitation.

Chips from the ROCK

The three Rucker brothers of Stop and Shop have a small horse project as a hobby to quiet their nerves after busy days in their stores. At Christmas time Bill Rucker decided to send a Christmas card from their stable to a few of their friends around the country. So fancying himself as a novice poet he composed a rather unusual poem, had it printed on an appropriate Christmas card and mailed them out. Imagine his surprise when in January he found three national trade magazines carrying reprints of his original creation.

Another one of those "nasty" cards from Plymouthites down in Florida soaking up the sun was received yesterday from C. V. Dennis who says the weather is perfect and he hopes we are enjoying the snow and cold back here in Michigan. Mr. Dennis is located at Englewood and asks any local Florida visitors to be sure and stop off and say hello.

And speaking of Florida . . . it's a place I wish I never heard of, says baker Frank Terry. Seems son Marvin expressed him a barrel of fish as a present last week which cost Frank $6.78 for postage. As if the postage wasn't enough it took the elder Terry all afternoon to pass the fish out to his neighbors and friends only to get home and receive a collect telephone call from the vacationing city commissioner in Florida to find out if the fish had arrived in Plymouth. Oh well . . . says Frank.

Don't ask for daffodils . . . for a long time local housewives have wondered why Plymouth's three largest greenhouses have had so few daffodils on hand early in the spring . . . now the secret is out. Rheinhold Ruhr of Heides, William Bartel of Bartel's and Joe Gray of Wnuk's all have an allergy to daffodils and if they come into contact with any of the fluid from their stems they break out in a disagreeable rash. Tougher than these three flower growers however is George Bartel who can handle a young, pretty daffodil as easily as he can a prickly cactus.

You just can't figure things out today says Roland Widmayer, manager of Krogers. I was quite unhappy with our big special sale of calves liver at 99 cents per pound because I thought this high priced delicacy would create little interest among our customers. "Regularly priced at $1.39 per pound most housewives look twice before making a purchase but believe it or not, we get special deliveries every other day from our packing houses, and three different days this week we have completely sold every pound we could get delivered to Plymouth, and you can take it from me hundreds of Plymouth homes had calves liver over the weekend," he stated.

About a year ago this time the adjoining picture appeared in this column. We pointed out that the charming dancer was Chiquita and that we had seen her perform in La Tropicana night club in Cuba with her father. We further commented she was one of the best we had seen in a long time. No wonder then that it pleased us no end to watch her again last Sunday evening on the Bing Crosby television show where she was featured in one of her dances. It is also of interest to note how good the memory is of several local gentlemen who recognized her as the girl we had written about last year!!!

ELEPHANT BOY GETS TOUGH

Sharpened political axes were hacking away, even before Gov. Williams completed his address to the 67th session of Michigan's legislature.

Some people considered the speech itself a rather keen weapon. The governor dealt, he said, with only the most pressing problems including "prosperity" in 1954 for Michigan citizens. Other needs, among them education, would be called to the lawmakers' attention in subsequent addresses.

Immediate objections were voiced by Republicans to the governor implying credit for the balanced budget. They recalled that he predicted the business receipts tax, which brought in the required revenue to attain financial balance, to become law. But he did so without signing the bill and with plain spoken misgivings.

Major fields and proposals in the governor's address:

Agriculture: A $500,000 marketing program; better promotion of Michigan products.
Industry: Increase unemployment insurance to 50 per cent of prevailing average wage $82.30 at current figures, plus $2 per week for each child; lengthen payment period from 20 to 26 weeks. Increase workmen's compensation and disability insurance payments. Set minimum wage at $1 per hour.

Small Business: Legislation to permit the formation of a privately financed company to supply venture capital and aid to small enterprises.

Tourist Industry: Set aside income from mineral, oil and gravel deposits on state land to help support parks. Improvement of conservation programs.

St. Lawrence Waterway: Michigan needs it; urge Congress to provide it.

Old Battles can be renewed over the governor's remarks about the highway program. He charged, as he did months ago, that the highway commission has not made use of all federal money it had available.

On that occasion Highway Commissioner Ziegler produced letters from Washington and numerous auditors to show that Michigan had allocated all such funds.

Ziegler was more than mildly irritated with the governor's remarks. Labeling the charge "political chicanery," Ziegler indicated that Williams knew he was misrepresenting the facts.

One million dollars is required to operate the state of Michigan during the coming year, according to the budget message of Gov. Williams.

Study of this proposal is the key problem of lawmakers during the session which opened Jan. 13. Exact amount outlined by the governor is $365,541,568.

"No deficit financing is needed," predicts the governor, "unless unforeseen situations arise."

This is one point agreed upon by leaders of both parties. It is extremely unlikely that the appropriation pleasures passed by legislators will show red ink. Neither side would relish the blame for planning a deficit.

Last year's budget message proposed expenditures of $348,401,700. The legislature worked this sum down to $338,593,602 before granting approval. The new proposal is eight per cent higher. (About $27 million more than was requested in the previous message.)

About 40 per cent of this increase is required by law under the sales tax diversion amendment and will be allocated as increase aid to local school districts.

"Other major factors responsible for increased appropriation recommendations include: higher college enrollments, additional beds in mental hospitals, inescapable improvements in our correctional system and additional efforts in respect to tuberculosis," said Governor Williams.

"Four functions account for $25.1 millions or 93 per cent of the General budget: Education 69 per cent; Mental Hygiene 10 per cent; Corrections 8 per cent; Public Health 6 per cent.

Tradition and color have developed as part of convening ceremonies for Michigan's legislature.

First session is usually brief, informal. A little like opening day of school after summer vacation. Legal requirements of the legislature's start are conformed to, organization gets underway. Its "house" in order, the governor is "called in" for his address. This speech bears the same relationship to state government as the United States President's "State of the Nation" address does to federal government.

Special chairs are crowded into the House of Representatives chamber so that Senators, members of the Supreme Court in their official robes, and other high officials can be present to hear the governor speak his opinions on what laws and appropriations should be made.

In following sessions, the legislature is expected to consider subjects set forth in the governor's message and propose measures to deal with the problems he outlined.

Before the session begins certain key dates are agreed upon. These include the closing date, final date for submitting bills and a day by which committees but recommend action on all bills under its jurisdiction or permit them to die."

Closing date of this session is set for April 9.

Legislators have until Feb. 10 to introduce bills. After that date whatever business is submitted will go through the legislative machinery.

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

Washington, D. C. There has been a lot of loose talk about the rise in the cost of living and the ability of the people to buy. Many readers have asked for dependable facts. Here are the official Government figures:

COST OF LIVING

To a degree, whether people have money to buy depends on what they spend for their daily NECESSITIES. Living costs, without question have been flat-tening out. From January 1, 1952 to date, consumer prices have risen less than 2 per cent. This compares with a rise of 18 per cent in 1946, a 6 per cent jump in 1950, and a 4.5 per cent push in 1951.

What makes these figures even more meaningful is the fact that, while living costs have risen less than 2 per cent since January, 1952, hourly earnings in all manufacturing industries have risen about 8 per cent during that time. To have held prices down while wages have gone up is a great achievement on the part of manufacturers and merchants.

FEWER NOW EMPLOYED

If people are to have money to buy, they must have jobs. Although our labor force normally increases by about 700,000 persons a year--for whom jobs must be provided--1953 figures show very little change from those of 1952. This is because new workers (young people) entering the labor market in 1953 just about equaled the number of people who left it.

What is really happening? Some workers have left the ranks of the employed to retire. Some wives who have been holding down full-time jobs have decided to quit working out and make a real home for their husbands. Many have not been replaced. These people do not swell the ranks of the unemployed; they simply deplete the ranks of the employed to whatever extent they are not replaced. Obviously in retirement one has less income. Obvious, also, is the fact that when a wife ceases to supplement her husband's income that couple will have less money to spend.

SAVINGS BEAT ALL RECORDS

There's another angle to our problem: How much money people have hidden away in their socks. It may surprise you to learn that the top 50 per cent of our families have readily convertible savings amounting to a staggering $97 billions. The bottom, 50 per cent share $1 billion in liquid savings. Our people have built up a $200-billion equity in their homes, with but a $50-billion mortgage debt. 80 per cent of our families own $38 billions worth of automobiles. And 50 per cent of all families have a net worth greater than a year's income.

When the figures are all in, I am pretty sure that 1953 will prove to have broken all peacetime records for savings. People spent much less than they made in 1953. Cash or readily convertible assets saved in 1953 could have soared to better than $16 billions, compared with about $3 billions in 1949 and about $12 billions in 1951. Perhaps the MAD RUSH to buy is over. This is a healthy sign.

A KEY TO PROSPERITY I like to see this trend, up to a certain point. However, too much money lying idle is bad for our economy. America, you see, is a country that actually develops its way to prosperity. And the way to keep prosperity is to keep raising our living standards higher and higher by creating more and more wants for more and more goods and services without proportionately increasing what people owe.

There are enough Americans who have money to spend in 1954 to hold business high. If, for example, the top 50 per cent of our families with their $97 billions continue to hold their purchases high, the lower 50 per cent will be kept busy producing. All groups will then have the funds necessary to satisfy their needs. We have a huge backlog of buying power. It's up to the sales and advertising brains of the country to get us to spend it.

Don't Eat Sugar Between Meals To Ease "Jitters"

Those late-morning or late afternoon jitters, commonly characterized as "butterflies in the stomach," frequently hit persons whose jobs keep them on the go. A candy bar or a soft drink seems to tide such a person over until a regular meal.

But a candy bar or soft drink may be just the wrong thing to take for this condition, known medically as "spontaneous hypoglycemia," or deficiency of sugar in the blood, advises Dr. Jerome W. Conn, professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan Medical School.

"It would be better for such persons to take a glass of milk instead," says Dr. Conn.

The condition also is known as "functional hyperinsulinism," signifying an excess of insulin of a non-organic origin in the body. When there is an increase of sugar in the blood following the ill-advised consumption of a candy bar, the pancreas glands are "excited" into a faster production of insulin. The results of such a process may be shaking.

"Most patients suffering from this condition complain of an inner trembling. They notice a hunger-like feeling in the pit of the stomach," said Dr. Conn.

Frequently the condition is diagnosed as psychoneurosis, or the visible results of worry and anxiety, said the doctor. Not disputing the possible emotional origin of the disease, Dr. Conn, however, indicates the success of diet in relieving the symptoms.

Instead of a candy bar - presumably to make up for the absence of sugar and to counteract the excess insulin--the patient would do better to switch to milk, lots of meat, eggs and cheese. In other words, a switch to a high protein, low carbohydrate meal ticket seems the best way to counteract those late-morning or late-afternoon "shakes."

Some photographers consider the ice, frost, and snow of winter as the finest time of the year to experiment with pattern and design.

Snow does have a tendency to hide a welter of nonessentials, often a problem in snow-free scenes, with a uniformly smooth white background. Most photographers prefer to work with the sun in combination with snow and ice. However, an explorative few like to work on gray days in the belief that the purity of line obtainable offsets the sharp, glittering quality of sunny day efforts.

Sometimes overexposure and underdevelopment are useful to provide strong black-and-white contrast, although usually at a sacrifice of middle tones and a grain increase. Unless you are quite skilled in the art of photography, a more "normal" approach to negative and print might be best in the long run.

And it will also be best in the LONG RUN to bring ALL your Photographic Problems to THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER. Favorite Recipes

Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. Foust, who is grating cheese for her Nutty Noodles, is closely watched by Brian and Craige.

Nutty Noodles

One of the favorite recipes for Mrs. F. B. Foust of 9072 South Main street is Nutty Noodles. The recipe is an inexpensive one, she says, and yet it always receives raves from those tasting it. Dr. and Mrs. Foust have three pre-school age children, Brian, four and a half, Craig, two and a half, and baby Carol, three and a half months old.

Mrs. Foust pointed out that this is a good recipe for informal entertaining, as it can be mixed before-hand, and then popped into the oven just before the company arrives.

NUTTY NOODLES

- 2 pounds ground round steak
- 1 medium onion cut fine
- 60 olives (one medium bottle)
- 1 can mushroom soup diluted with 1 1/2 cans water
- 1 8-ounce package finest noodles
- 1/2 pound grated sharp cheese
- 1/4 pound mixed, salted nuts
- 1 can chow mein noodles

While the noodles cook, grate the cheese and slice the olives. Brown the onions and meat together, and add noodles, olives and soup. Put one layer of the noodle mixture in a greased casserole. Follow with a layer of cheese and then another layer of the noodle mixture.

Bake covered at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Sprinkle nuts whole and chow mein noodles on top and bake uncovered for 30 more minutes. The recipe will serve 12.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Paul Pitts. Bonnie wore a fitted blue-green orlon dress with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. Helen E. Hancock was matron of honor. She wore a blue wool dress with black accessories and her corsage was of white roses.

A/3C Delbert H. Hancock served Dwight as best man. He was assisted by A/3C Dale Hancock. The young couple are now residing at 451 Pearl Shell Drive in Lake Charles where Dwight is stationed with the Air Force.

What is Our Most Valuable Possession?

The most valuable possession in the world today cannot be bought with money. Its price is above rubies and diamonds and yet many who possess it carelessly squander it or throw it lightly away.

What is this talisman? you ask. It is health. After it is gone, even though you were as rich as Croesus you could wander over the earth in search of this lost treasure but you might never be able to find it again. Without health you cannot attain to your highest usefulness, neither can you be happy. Genius without health can seldom reach the pinnacle of true greatness, for disease preys upon the vitals of its victims as the fabled vulture upon the liver of Prometheus when he was chained helplessly to a great rock.

The ancient Greeks attained to the highest degree of intellectual and physical development of any nation on earth. One of their sayings was "Know thyself," but to know one's self well is to know the laws of health and such knowledge if properly used will bring about a realization of the old motto "mens sana incorpore san," a sound mind in a sound body.

Remember that God who created us, has written His laws in letters of blood upon the fleshy tablets of our bodies, just as surely as He traced with His own finger the decalogue upon the two tables of stone; consequently, when we misuse and abuse our bodies we are breaking its laws and must reap the consequences of ill health, disease, and suffering.

Many foolish people spend the first half of their lives in complete disregard of these laws. Some of them, habitually over-eat, others guzzle large amounts of alcohol without a thought of the injury that they are inflicting upon their minds and bodies. Still there are others who are so intent upon making money that they burn the candle at both ends and are surprised to find some day that health is gone and the money that has accumulated at such a price can bring no pleasure to its possessor. These law-breakers, if they survive, must all pay the price of their disobedience in shortened lives, pain and suffering.

"Nor wealth, nor honor, pomp nor power, can give the heart one happy hour, if health is gone. Be timely wise, with health, all thought of pleasure flies."

DO YOU KNOW THIS MAN?

His Negligence is Causing Thousands of Deaths From Heart Disease

Here's a description of the culprit: Overweight. Short of breath. (The old ticker really pounds on a flight of stairs.)

Often over-exercises on week-ends after a sedentary week. Sometimes bothered by a peculiar swelling in the ankles.

Works too hard. (Feels he's indispensable in his job.) Has trouble relaxing. Worries. Sleeps poorly. Complains of being "always tired."

Had a couple of attacks of "indigestion" recently. When asked by wife to please check with doctor, was heard to reply: "What for? I'm not sick... besides, I'm too busy!"

The greatest problem in dealing with heart disease today is the man (or woman) who ignores the "danger signals" until it may be too late to take advantage of the help which medical science today is prepared to give.

However, thousands of people are now living good lives with bad hearts... because they acted wisely and in time... because they knew that in their physicians' hands they were in good hands.

For it is a fact that much progress has already been made in dealing with heart ailments. More and more research is being carried on, largely through such great agencies as the American Heart Association and its nation-wide affiliates; the National Heart Institute; and a number of pharmaceutical companies, including Parke, Davis & Company, since 1866 makers of medicines prescribed by physicians and dispensed by pharmacists. Cleary Urges Buying Licence Plates Early

Secretary of State Owen J. 15 to February 15. "All public Cleary has informed Mrs. Frank service media have been solicited Rambo of the secretary of state for their cooperation," Cleary branch office here today of the said.

Newspaper, radio, television of license plates from January and theaters have all been contacted to carry the message "Buy Your Plates Early and Avoid the Rush."

Mrs. Rambo reports that many people in the area are cooperating by purchasing their licenses early. Purchases are 500 plates a day ahead of last year.

Department stores, insurance companies and other have been asked to use the "Buy Early" message on the bottom of their statements, Cleary states. Others such as grocery stores and gas-line stations, can help us greatly by placing a sign, "Buy Your Plates Early," in their windows, he added.

"I would be the happiest and most pleased man in Michigan," Cleary said, "if we had no line-up for plates on February 28. Plate sales through January 4 total 324,177, an increase of 53 per cent over last year." The goal Cleary hopes to achieve by February 15 is 1,500,000 plates sold. There are over 3,000,000 car owners in Michigan.

"We can save the taxpayers $10,000 for extra help if everyone would cooperate to avoid the last minute rush."

Wrinkle-Resistant Cottons Get Nod

Whether that contemplated trip covers thousands of miles, or is just the daily commute between home and office, wrinkle-resistant cottons will answer the needs of travel-minded fashionables.

Duty-minded sundresses favor wrinkle-resistant cottons, plain and printed. These sundresses come with their own cover-up jackets which transform them into daytime ensembles. Full-skirted, with wrapped, tied or buttoned jackets, they are good travelers.

Capsule wardrobes of separates which mix and match into a great number of outfits are made in wrinkle-resistant taffeta-ized cottons and in sculptured patterns.

Glamour travel numbers are a cotton satin bathing suit ablaze with rhinestone-trimmed wing top and a feather-light printed playsuit with draped neckline and bloomer pants which also doubles for day when worn with its own skirt.

Of special note are the cottons which have wrinkle resistance inherent in their weave and texture. In this group are the terry cloths, so popular for beach cover-ups. Also, the new cotton knit, which in a honeycomb weave combined with a rib knit, is featured for daytime coat dresses and sleeveless sheaths. It is also printed for day and date wear.

Wrinkle-resistant, water-repellent cotton coats that double for rain and shine, day and date, are necessary in travel wardrobes. New this season are gay, printed, taffeta coats printed with bright flowers, fruits and butterflies.

Daytime dresses in classic-lined shirtwaisters, in new princess and Empire silhouettes, as well as with the new dome skirt, are travel-wise in wrinkle-resistant plains and prints, and in gingham and chambrays.

One may smile and smile and be a villain still.

Restaurant Gives Tips For Better Service

According to the National Restaurant Association 25 per cent of all the food consumed in this country is eaten in public places. With more and more American families dining out these days, it is no surprise to most of us. It used to be a rare treat for father to say, "Let's eat out tonight." Today, it is still a treat, but no longer rare, because dining out has become part of the American pattern of living. Today's modern restaurants offer all kinds and types of meals to suit the convenience, pocketbooks and nationalities of the people who eat out. That is probably why the restaurant industry, which serves more than 70 million meals a day, is the fourth largest industry in the United States.

Although restaurant management puts its best foot forward to provide nourishing food, served well and in good time, there are several things the customer can do to help the waitress, and thus make dining out even more pleasant for the entire family.

It's a good idea for the family to discuss the menu before the waitress is ready to take the orders. It also helps to avoid delay and confusion if all the orders come from the head of the table.

Whenever unfamiliar French words appear on the menu, ask the waitress to explain them and avoid disappointment. The description in French might sound very appetizing but turn out to be snails or something you just can't tolerate.

At a small table, where the placement of dishes may seem cluttered, it's a good idea to remember that your salad and bread and butter plates are placed on the left—your water glass on the right, near the knife.

Naturally, restaurant management is always anxious to please its customers. It's really up to you to let the waitress know whether your food comes to you as ordered, or not. If you specify very little gravy when ordering, very little gravy is what you should get. By the same token, when you order a cup or pot of tea properly brewed—a cup or pot of tea properly brewed is what you should get, not just a tea bag floating unhappily in lukewarm water.

Recently the tea and restaurant industries joined forces to promote better tea brewing in restaurants because of the constant complaint of customers who claimed they could never get a good cup of tea in a restaurant. The success of the industries' efforts again, depends on you the customer. Be sure to tell the waitress to put the tea bag in the pot before adding boiling water. Another good thing to remember is that you can't hasten the brewing period by languidly dangling the tea bag up and down until the liquid reaches a color that seems "the right strength." By "dunking" the tea bag, you hasten the cooling, and prevent the action of the boiling water from taking effect on the tea leaves, which must be brewed 3-5 minutes to get the most in flavor and quality from a tea bag. If the pot holds more than one cup of tea, ask the waitress to use 2 tea bags.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

As to the question of tipping, fifteen percent is a good average—but if you feel the waitress has given your family extra service, you can show your appreciation accordingly.

And there is no need to be embarrassed about an error in a check. Anyone can make a mistake. The management would rather correct an error than lose your good will and business.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Beef club steak.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?
A. It comes from the short loin. This steak is triangular shaped; the smallest steak in the short loin and is ideal for individual servings.

Q. How is it prepared?
A. By broiling or panbroiling. In broiling the steak is placed on the rack so that the top surface is 2-3 inches from the heat. It is broiled until browned, seasoned, turned and browned on the second side. In panbroiling it is placed in a frying-pan and cooked in a small amount of fat without a cover. The steak is turned frequently for even cooking with excess fat poured off as it accumulates.

Brown Derby Restaurant Shares Famous Black Bottom Pie Recipe

Brown Derby Black Bottom Pie calls for a high and delicate chocolate filling topped with whipped cream. The airy texture is achieved by using unflavored gelatine in a rich chocolate and custard base. 1/2 cup sugar	1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt	1 9-inch baked pie shell
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten	1 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened
1/2 cup milk
4 squares unsweetened chocolate

Mix gelatine, sugar and salt in top of double boiler. Combine egg yolk and milk and add to gelatine mixture. Add 3 squares of the chocolate. Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

A SHUFFLEBOARD COURT right in the basement not only adds beauty but is an ideal addition to a recreation room. Shown here is the one installed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beglinger of 1096 Roosevelt by Eger-Jackson, Inc. The floor is of Kenflex marbled black and white blocks of vinyl asbestos. A complete asbestos base goes around the wall as well. The shuffleboard court is set right in the floor along with the other blocks, and harmonizes with the over-all pattern. (Ply-Mail photo)

Lifetime Concrete Makes Attractive Long-Wearing Walks and Steps

Concrete walks meet all requirements of a practical footway: they are durable, smooth without being slippery, easy to clean and pleasing to the eye.

Width of walks will vary with use. Main walks from street to house entrance are usually made from 4' to 5' wide, while walks at the side or rear of the house are usually 1 1/2' to 3' wide.

When you plan a walk, first, prepare the base. If the soil is well drained, the concrete may be laid directly on it. If the soil is not well drained, a 6" subbase of well-compacted, clean, coarse gravel or clean cinders is called for.

Thickness of walks varies from 4" to 6". If used as a walk only, 4" is thick enough. If heavy vehicles are to be driven over it, a 6" thickness is more satisfactory.

2-by-4's usually are used for side forms, held in place by stakes. Top edges of the 2-by-4's serve as guides in leveling off the concrete.

Build your walk about 2" above grade for good drainage. For example, in building a 4" walk, area to be concreted should be excavated to a depth of 2", plus the thickness of the fill. Slope the walk to one side — a pitch from 1/4" to 1/2" is satisfactory.

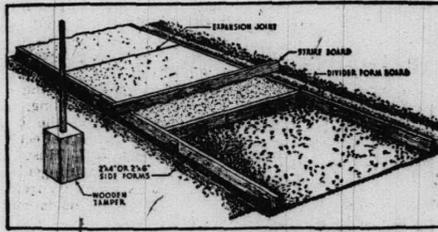

Build walks by laying the full thickness of concrete at one time, using the same mixture throughout. Provide for expansion-contraction by dividing at 4' - 6' intervals with partition strips placed at right angles to the side forms. Concrete every other section, removing the cross strips as soon as these have hardened enough to be self-sustaining. Now, pour the remaining slabs.

Another method that aids in building a walk continuously is to place strips of tarred felt against the division or header boards. When header boards are removed, these strips remain permanently in position, providing a definite joint between sections. Place concrete on both sides of the header board before lifting it out. The pressure of concrete from both sides hold the tarred felt vertically in proper position.

When concrete is poured, it is easily leveled off with a strike-board resting on the edges of the side forms — passing it across the forms in a sawing motion to level the concrete. Several hours after concrete is poured, finish the walk with a wood float to produce an even, gritty surface.

To assist curing, cover with moist sand or earth to a depth of 2" as soon as concrete is hard enough to resist marking. Keep moist for about a week, then remove for a good-looking, useable walk.

DESIGN C-252

further information about DESIGN C-252, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

DESIGN C-252. This rectangular floor plan has a gable roof and plain wall lines which mean economy in both labor and materials. The plan calls for a large combination living room and dinette, a kitchen with additional dining space, three comfortable bedrooms, large bathroom and full basement. An unusual amount of closet space includes wardrobes in the bedrooms, coat closets at each entrance, linen cabinet in the bathroom and an extra closet in the hall. All rooms enter one central hall for privacy and good circulation. Exterior finish is wide siding and asphalt shingles with wrought iron railing and planting box. Floor area is 1176 sq. ft. with cube of 22,932 cu. ft. For

Porch Provides Room In 'Bursting' House

A seemingly "unexpensible" house may offer an easy addition, if it has a porch. With a porch, the elements of an extra room already are present. It requires only a minimum of materials and effort to make a porch into a smart new room.

Conversion of a "fair weather only" porch into a year-around room for entertaining, reading, television, recreation, sewing or just plain loafing is a cinch when modern building materials like Masonite Presdwood are used. These quality hardwoods are more reasonable in cost than many inferior paneling materials, too.

A basic plan for converting a porch into an extra room may be obtained free by writing the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

OIL MOTOR CAREFULLY

In oiling an electrical motor, be careful not to drop oil on the cord. Oil will rot the rubber insulation.

Woodwork around door knobs becomes soiled frequently when there are children in the house, but dirt marks can be minimized by painting a small area of the woodwork a darker color.

To do this, remove the door hardware and mark off the outer limits of the area with masking tape before painting.

Careful Planning Is Essential For Light, Dry, Well-Constructed Basement

If a house is to have a basement it should be planned and constructed as carefully as the rest of the structure, says the university of Illinois small homes council in a new circular on basements just issued.

The 8-page bulletin gives pointers for constructing basements so they are well-built, light, dry, and useful. In addition, suggestions are given for correcting some of the more common difficulties found in basements.

Among its suggestions are: To be useful for living activities, adequate daylighting, ventilation, moisture control, and warmth must be provided. Partial basements are uneconomical for small rectangular houses because of different heights of wall footings needed. A direct outside entrance to the basement eliminates tracking through the house and increases the basement's usefulness for hobbies, garden tool storage, laundering, and other activities.

An exterior stairway to the basement should be placed under cover of the garage, breezeway, or porch for protection against ice, snow, and rain. A modernized version of the old-fashioned cellar door may also be used.

A landing just inside a grade-level entrance door can serve stairs leading to both basement and first floor.

The average basement has too small, and too few windows.

On a level lot, a well-lighted basement can be achieved by setting the top of the basement wall 2 or 3 feet above the normal lot level and grading up of the front yard only.

In split-level houses, where the basement is only one-half story below the first floor, windows can be tall enough to allow good vision and natural light.

Dampness can be cured by warming the basement through heating, insulating, or ventilating, and also by dehumidifying.

In grading, slope land away from the house; intercept with a drainage ditch any heavy slope leading to the house.

The circular presents a table of recommendations for basement construction under various conditions. It describes necessary wall and floor construction, waterproofing, and drainage connections. It also explains how to repair basement leaks, and what to do about faulty drainage.

Single copies of "Basements" are free from the Building Editor The Plymouth Mail, until Feb. 1, after which they will be 10c.

Window Shopping With Sue

You know, one of the most important things to consider when you're building your new home is the garage. And actually, the kind of doors you put on your garage are what make it what it is. Remember the old style flapper type doors that took all kinds of maneuvering if you wanted to put your car away for the night. You'd have to prop them open, and then go to a lot of trouble to get them shut again. But then, you know all that.

The modern type of garage doors sure make a difference. While over at Plymouth Lumber and Coal, I found out about Taylor Made steel garage doors, which are perfect for the modernistic home set-up. The pleasing horizontal lines are what do much to give the attractive appearance. And it operates with the flick of a finger and yet is so strong it will last for years. For added convenience the metal is finished so that it will provide a clinging base for whatever color paint you would want to apply. You can use just ordinary house paint. The special nylon rollers give the door the feature of silent operation as they glide along the extra strength steel track. Sound good? Does to me, too.

And another fine idea which can certainly add charm to your home when you're remodeling is a corner cabinet. They take the place of furniture and give your room a permanent beauty. It doesn't matter whether your home is modern or traditional, because these Morgan cabinets are in styles which suit any trend. They not only supply excellent cupboard space, but also give you a chance to show off some of your prize china or glassware in the glassed-in case. You might think about installation of one of these cabinets if you've got remodeling on your mind — or even if you're still in the throes of building your own home.

Hanging Storage Ends Clutter

Garage clutter can be stopped by hanging storage items like ladders, wheelbarrows, wagons and sleds right on the walls! The studs are covered with Masonite "Peg-Board" panels, which have hundreds of perforations. Matching fixtures fit into any of the holes. The combination of "holes and hangers" looks nice, is strong and brings order out of storage chaos. Masonite "Peg-Board" panels and hangers are available in most lumber yards.

Miss Bessie Root will give a masquerade social at her home Thursday evening February 4 for the benefit of her school library. The dinner at James Gates last Saturday was a great success in every way. The ladies cleared $14.75. The coffee and napkins were a good advertisement for J. R. Rühch. The Society will meet with Mrs. Frank King Saturday, January 30. Millsbaugh Brothers have sold their furniture and undertaking business to Fred and Nelson Schrader, who will take possession March first. Miss Angeline Mead, of Detroit, who for a number of years had studied with the well known violinist, Henri Ern, has formed a class for violin instruction at the home of Chauncey Baker. Charles Miller, having secured the appointment of carrier for rural route No. 4, concluded he did not want it and resigned. The next in order of standing was Albert Gates and he will undoubtedly secure the job. H. L. Westgate is closing out his racket store and will go back on the road. There were a couple of run-aways Monday, neither doing any damage. Ed Tyler was driving one of the rigs which tipped over in a snowbank on Main street. The horse started on a run and did not stop until he brought up within six inches of the Savings bank window, jumping the street railing in front of the building. Albert Gayde had quite a fall last Saturday. Noticing a dog who acted as if he wanted to get inside the store of D. A. Jolliffe, he turned to open the door for him, when he slipped and went up into the air, striking on the back of his head. Albert saw stars for several seconds, but managed to get back into the store of Mr. Jolliffe where he fainted away. Later he was able to go home, but for the rest of the day he felt rather sore and broken up. John B. Pettengill, is sick with the grippe.

Chinchillas Raised Locally Take Home Championship

Some local chinchillas added a little more to the fame of Plymouth last week when they walked off with half the prizes in a chinchilla show sponsored by the Chinchilla Association of America. Mrs. F. D. Bacon of 10151 Joy road, the owner of the little animals, entered seven of them in the show held in Toledo, little dreaming that they were potential champions.

The seven won 14 ribbons in the various classes, while Mrs. Bacon took home three prize cups for her animals as well. There were only six cups given out at the show.

But it was one little girl chinchilla who came home loaded with honors. Only six months old, she was named grand champion of the show. "Animals are generally older before they are named among the winners," Mrs. Bacon said. This was the first major competition in which Mrs. Bacon has entered the animals.

When Mr. and Mrs. Bacon first undertook the raising of chinchillas they had only five pairs. That was four and a half years ago. Since they were most concerned with the breeding of the animals, Mrs. Bacon said it was important to study genetics. Today they have 120 animals and many more pairs have been sold.

Current promotions are trying to make chinchilla a luxury fur like mink. The pelt itself is beautiful, the hairs shading from a dark gray at the roots to light, and then dark again at the tips. When you blow on the fur, the coloring is particularly evident.

The fur is also so soft that in touching it you can scarcely feel it.

The chinchilla is often confused with the rabbit, because of an attempt some years ago to breed a rabbit fur resembling that of the chinchilla. Actually, the little

THREE OF HER PRIZE CHINCHILLAS romp among their various cups and ribbons while their owner Mrs. F. D. Bacon of 10151 Joy road attempts to get them to pose. animal is a native of South America, and at one time became almost extinct. The fur was formerly used only by royalty, because of its beauty and rarity. Taking much care, the chinchillas have payed Mrs. Bacon back, by walking away with the top honors in their first show. The chinchilla market is always open to champions.

Canton Township Power Disrupted By Fallen Wire

Nearly all of Canton township was "blacked out" Wednesday January 13 when a high tension wire fell to the ground along Ann Arbor road near Sheldon.

According to Edward Millis, district manager of the Detroit Edison company, cold weather apparently acted upon an old-style clamp which tied the wire and the wire fell to the ground. It immediately kicked off all power at a Canton township substation. This was at 6:40 p.m.

Plymouth police and fire departments received several calls reporting the felled wire and the Detroit Edison switchboard in Wayne was flooded by calls from Canton township residents reporting the trouble or wanting to know what the trouble was.

A crew went to the scene within a few minutes and restored power at 7:32. The permanent repairs were completed at 2 a.m. Thursday.

Teacher — Jimmy, you should strive to be a successful man. You should aspire to reach the pinnacle of fame. Do you know what pinnacle means?

Jimmy — Yes, teacher; my father always enjoys a nice quiet game of pinnacle.

Civil Defense Gets Underway In Township

"Civil Defense? What's that?" That is the question frequently being asked in Plymouth township nowadays where they are attempting to organize an active Civil Defense unit. The core of the unit has already been solidly formed. Officers are now looking for many other citizens willing to devote their time and energy to the project.

"How does Civil Defense concern us—the general public?" is another question. Though many persons can't believe that a war or disaster could happen here, they ask, "Why bother with Civil Defense? Let someone else do it."

The township CD officials point out that too many Americans have this attitude of complacency. They mistakenly believe that America cannot experience war complete with bombing city evacuation, homeless thousands and everything else that accompanies full-fledged war.

"Why should I bother with Civil Defense?" If everyone had that attitude, CD officials claim, it could have tragic results in the event of a war. There would be chaos along with a tragic and unnecessary loss of lives. "Civil Defense concerns each and everyone of us regardless of occupation or station in life," it is pointed out.

"What is it?" Civil Defense is that means by which each citizen can learn what to do in the event of an emergency whether it is from ravages of war or nature. It teaches us how to help ourselves and possibly others who are injured or homeless. It is a means of self protection through preparation.

"Let all of us think again and believe that Civil Defense does concern us greatly."

Three Motorists Appear in Court

Cases against three motorists were heard by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo last Wednesday night, one of which resulted in a fine, suspension of license and probation for a Northville driver.

David V. Hale was arrested by police early New Year's morning after his car struck another on Ann Arbor trail near Fairgrounds street. Hale was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and drunk driving.

For drunk driving, the Northville motorist had his driver's license suspended, was placed on two year's probation and is to pay $100 fine or 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction. On the other charge, he received two more years of probation and a $50 fine.

A ticket against Harvey Pan-kow, 551 Arthur, was dismissed by Judge Perlongo. He had been ticketed for parking beyond a "no parking from here to corner" sign on Penniman near Harvey street. A parking meter had recently been removed from the place and parking stall lines were still on the street.

Another case has been postponed in order that another judge can hear the case. Judge Perlongo ruled himself incapable of hearing the case since he has represented the defendant as an attorney. The defendant was Herbert Jefferys of Detroit. His car collided on January 12 with the fasher signal abutment on North Mill street. He was ticketed by police for reckless driving.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Permits to have game meats in possession must be obtained from the conservation department within 60 days after the close of the season in which the game was taken.

In deep freezes or at locker in deep freezes or at locker plants, this means simply acquiring a brief form notice from the local conservation officer or locker plant operator and filing it with the conservation department before January 31.

For grouse, the form must be filed before January 19 and for bear meat before January 30.

A portion of the Cedar River system is being considered for watershed improvement work, the conservation department reports.

About 92 miles of stream, draining a 70,000-acre area above Higgins Lake in Gladwin county, are included in work plans being submitted to the conservation commission.

The Cedar River flows generally southward through the central northern lower peninsula, its waters finally emptying into Saginaw Bay.

If the conservation commission approves the project, work on channels and against erosion will start in the upstream portions first. This will make for less work when crews move downstream toward areas where floods have been a troublesome problem.

Regarded as a fair trout stream and subjected to heavy fishing pressure, the Cedar possesses "excellent trout-producing potentialities and can be helped considerably with a moderate amount of habitat improvement," fisheries workers note.

It is expected much of the $130,000 requested for the project will come from Dingell-Johnson funds.

The Cedar, if approved for work, will be the fourth stream system to undergo improvement work in Michigan.

No changes in trout fishing regulations will be made before 1955, conservation department director Gerald Eddy emphasizes.

A public hearing concerning proposed changes in present trout regulations will be held at Higgins Lake training school January 22, but no change, under present procedures, is possible for at least a year.

Six changes have been suggested in hopes the trout can be given a better chance for survival in Michigan streams. They include:

1. Restricted use of "hardware" lures and bans against gang hooks in trout fishing.
2. Reduction of creel limits.
3. Prohibition of all-night fishing on trout streams.
4. A ban against use of more than one rod and line for trout fishing.
5. Establishment of minimum size limits of 8-10 inches on three or four additional streams for experimental purposes, size limits to depend on the stream involved.
6. Banned use of salmon eggs for "chumming" and for other use as bait.

All these changes will be discussed at the public hearing, slated to start at 12.30 p.m. at the training school.

It is hoped, in order that all groups can be heard at the meeting, that only delegata spokesmen will attend the hearing, rather than large groups of interested spectators.

The training school is located one mile east of route US-27 at the north edge of Higgins Lake. For groups approaching Roscommon from the southeast, the school can be located on mile north and eight miles west of Roscommon by way of M-76 and a county road.

Whether approaching from M-76 or US-27, a marker sign announcing the department's training school will direct the driver.

Wildlife workers don't have much specific, detailed information about bears and their habits, so that last year game men started a project that, at first, looked slightly unbelievable.

They wanted to live-trap wild bears so they could be tagged and released in hopes their habits and movements could be studied.

But it's one thing to dream up such an idea and quite another to put it to practice. Game workers weren't quite sure how they might place an ear-tag on three or four hundred pounds of furious wildlife, but they went ahead with their plans anyway.

At Casino wildlife experiment station in the upper peninsula, they set up a section of steel culvert, blocked one end and set a trap-door against the front. A bear came along, got himself trapped, ate the bait and then ripped his way out of the trap.

Next time the trap was made stronger and then, sure enough, game workers trapped Sir Bruin. Then the toughy problem of placing an ear-tag had to be conquered. Game workers got past the hurdle by closing the trap tightly and injecting anesthetic until the animal went to sleep.

There were anxious moments during the whole process for fear the bear would wake up and clout somebody, but finally the job was done and the bear released.

Since then, the process has been streamlined and to date, five bears have been captured, banded, and released.

Recently, two of the five bears were shot and reports from hunters have finally arrived at conservation headquarters.

One of the animals, first trapped last September, was loaded on a truck and taken six miles distant from where captured. Six days later he was again nabbed in the same trap and again removed six miles.

Finally, 13 days later, he was shot by a hunter about six miles east of the wildlife station and hard by the place where he was released.

The other bear had less homing instinct and, in fact, became quite a rover.

After being trapped late in August, he was released two miles away. About a month later a hunter recently reported, the animal was shot in Delta county, about 15 1/2 miles southeast of where released.

These two positive reports of the movements of wild bear are believed the first on wildlife record. Workers will continue the project next spring when bears again become active in the Casino area.

Gives Answers To Questions On Social Security

At this time each year when businessmen are filing their tax returns the Social Security offices are asked many questions concerning self-employment. Harry Baituck, manager of the Detroit - Northwest office, answers a few of these questions for the readers of Plymouth.

Question 1: When does the self-employed person pay his self-employment social security tax?

Answer: The self-employment tax will be payable at the time the individual files his Federal Income tax return. It is due March 15.

Question 2: How is the tax reported?

Answer: The self-employment earnings and tax are entered on the separate Schedule C, which is a part of the income tax return, Form 1040.

Question 3: What is the tax rate for self-employed persons?

Answer: The rate for 1953 is 2 1/4 percent. Only the first $3600. of self-employment income is taxable.

Question 4: Is reporting self-employment income and paying the tax optional?

Answer: No. Any person whose self-employment is covered by the law must report his earnings and pay the self-employment tax.

Question 5: Is all self-employment under the social security law?

Answer: In general, the net earnings from most kinds of businesses and trades in which the owner or partner works for himself is covered by the social security law. The professional person and the farm operator are not included in the law. For further information concerning this problem or any other social security questions get in touch with the Social Security office. The Detroit-Northwest office is located at 14600 Grand River avenue, Detroit 27. The telephone number is Broadway 3-1717.

"AMERICAN CRIMES"—an exhibit containing rare and valuable books, "broadsides," and pamphlets giving colorful descriptions and reports of 17 of early America's most widely known crimes—will be on display throughout February in the University of Michigan Clements Library of America. One crime, dating back to 1843, concerns Adam Crosswhite, a Kentucky slave, who escaped to Marshall, Michigan with his family. There his master found him, but failed to capture him as certain Marshall citizens helped the slave escape once more, this time to Canada. When the master returned in 1843 to continue his pursuit and found the slave gone, he sued certain citizens for $1900. According to records in "The Marshall Statesman," the town's citizens all chipped in and paid the fine. Other grimes, including kidnapping of white children by Indians, may be seen in the library from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

INTERESTED IN CERAMICS? Then you won't want to miss the exhibit at the Detroit Institute of Arts slated to continue through February. It traces the entire development of English ceramics through six centuries and is entitled "English Pottery and Porcelain, 1300 to 1850." A series of four gallery talks on the exhibition will be given on consecutive Sundays at 4 p.m., February 7, through 28.

IF YOU'RE THE OUTDOOR TYPE, you'll enjoy a trek through Kensington Metropolitan Park's bird colony. Marked hiking trails reveal some remarkably tame winter residents . . . animals, of course!

SPEAKING OF THE OUTDOORS, the Boyne Mountain Lodge for skiers near Boyne City now has a heated, outdoor swimming pool open to the public the year around! Nothing like a nice dip after a hard day on a pair of skis!
