

Board Seeks Extinguisher Law Ouster

Fire extinguishers continued to be a point of controversy between the city's heating contractors and the fire chief as the local heating men offered a recommendation to the city commission Monday night that the ordinance section be abolished that requires extinguishers with all new oil furnace installations.

Although commissioners withheld a decision in the dispute because Fire Chief Robert McAllister was not present to offer his views on the recommendation, they did hear the argument presented by the heating board and the history of the controversy which dates back only several weeks.

William Otwell, spokesman for the heating board, said that the contractors would like the commission to abolish the heating ordinance section which requires the extinguishers because of the confusion which it has presented and because it is unnecessary. He said that oil furnaces installed by contractors are already safe because the ordinance requires installation of "firematic valves."

The ordinance requires a "one quart extinguisher" which results in the installation of carbon tetrachloride extinguishers. Chief McAllister claims this type of chemical is "deadly" and should not be used in a household. He recommends use of a four pound dry chemical extinguisher. But the latter type, Otwell stated, costs three times as much as the carbon tetrachloride extinguisher. "We're in favor of a campaign to have extinguishers in every home," Otwell said, "but they can be bought at the hardware store." He added that Detroit, where Plymouth borrowed its heating ordinance, has eliminated the compulsory extinguisher section.

City Manager Albert Glassford said that he didn't think that Chief McAllister would be in favor of eliminating the section altogether, but would favor changing it so that it would require the dry chemical extinguisher. The chief attempted to have heating contractors change the extinguisher last week but in a test case, Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo found that heating men could not be required to install the more expensive extinguisher because of the ordinance's limitations.

After a discussion by commissioners, City Manager Glassford was instructed to investigate similar ordinances in other cities and to obtain the opinion of Chief McAllister.

In other business before the commission, Commissioner George Bauer looked at $400 in bills for police car repairs and then asked why patrolmen could not spend some time on foot in downtown areas. He suggested that a patrolman would be valuable on foot especially during heavy traffic tie-ups on Friday nights and Saturdays.

Glassford stated that a policeman is not as valuable on foot as in a car, especially in a small city like Plymouth where there is a limited police force. He added that the traffic tie-ups are only "temporary problems" and that they are evident one minute and gone several minutes later.

The police department, however, is planning to put one patrolman on a motorcycle which may help in closer downtown patrolling. Authorization was given the city manager to advertise for bids for both a two-wheeled motorcycle and a new car which will give the police department a third car. Commissioners are planning to carry out a proposed system of buying the new car for the city engineer for a "break-in" period and then turning it over to the police.

A city-owned home at 578 Hamilton street is scheduled to be destroyed, according to a decision by commissioners. A recent inspection of the home by commissioners revealed that it is unfit for occupancy and would cost too much for repair. Approved was a motion to have the city manager negotiate to have someone raise the house for the material it includes. If this is not possible, the fire department will set the house afire for fire fighting practice.

A bill of $323 for damage to a car was turned down by commissioners. The American Surety company filed the claim with the city, stating that last July a truck owned by the Best Block company of Livonia was being driven in front of 335 North Main street when "the street gave

Parent-Workers Hear Millage Election Plans

Fifty parents, representatives of each building in the Plymouth township school system, heard an analysis of the approaching millage proposal which will appear on the ballot May 10, when they met at the high school last week.

The meeting was called by the publicity committee of the Community School Planning group for the purpose of explaining to the representatives election details and why funds are needed. These parents will now recruit others in their Parent Teacher associations to go door-to-door and urge citizens to vote for the proposal.

Only a week remains before registration closes for the special election. The last day of registration has been set for Friday, April 30. Any qualified voter in the school district who has never registered or who has been registered but has not voted in any election for the past four consecutive years, must register.

Registrations are taken by clerks in city, village or townships in which the elector resides.

Roy Jacobus, chairman of the publicity committee, explained the special election at last week's meeting. Proposition one on the ballot will be to provide three mills ($3 per $1,000 valuation) for a period of five years. Its purpose is to provide funds for additional operating expenses; specifically to grant pay hikes for teachers, administrators and clerical help and to make improvements at all schools except the new Allen Elementary school.

Proposal two on the ballot seeks one mill for five years "to establish a reserve for building and site purposes". The school board plans to use this money to construct two classrooms per year as additions to the existing elementary schools, this to ease the forecasted overcrowding in the lower grades.

Fire Destroys 108 Swine

A fire believed started by faulty electrical wiring destroyed a hog barn along with eight sows and 100 pigs early last Friday morning on a Salem township farm.

Plymouth township firemen were called upon to assist the Salem township fire department when the Salem water truck's tank sprung a leak just as the fire was brought under control. The blaze took place at 6 a.m. on the DiPonio farm at Territorial and Curtis roads.

A hired hand discovered the fire when he opened the door of the 15-by-40-foot hog barn to feed the sows and their offspring. Smoke and fire had already filled the barn's interior and the animals were believed dead before the fire was discovered.

Although the structure remains standing, the interior is gutted, the fire department reported.

Three-Day Creative Arts Festival to Feature Host of Public Attractions This Weekend

Orchestra Concludes '54 Season

An all-Beethoven concert will bring to a close the 1953-54 concert season of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra on Sunday, April 25, in the high school auditorium at 4 p.m. Under the baton of Wayne Dunlap the orchestra will complete its eighth successful season before capacity audiences.

Besides climaxing the symphony series, Sunday's concert will also provide the finale for the second annual Creative Arts Festival being held in Plymouth this weekend.

Commenting on the concert program, Dunlap said that Beethoven is probably the most popular symphonic composer among American listeners. The program includes the Fifth Symphony, "Emperor" Concerto and Lenore Overture No. 3.

The Fifth Symphony, Dunlap said, is the best known of all symphonies. The familiar dot-dot-dash theme was heard often during World War II as a symbol of victory. The "Emperor" Concerto, which will be played by piano soloist Miss Evelyn Woods, is Beethoven's most popular and dramatic work.

During the season the 85-piece orchestra has played six local concerts and two concerts out of town, performing in all a total of 33 symphonic compositions. Soloists for the year were Fred Kendall, Douglas Marsh, Mrs. Edith Ryan, Mrs. Florence Ellison, Nelson Hauenstein, William Radant, Emil Raab, Robert Courte, Miss Grace Cowling and Miss Evelyn Woods.

Although the orchestra will continue in rehearsal throughout the summer months, this will be the last opportunity to hear the group in concert until October. Plans for the 1954-55 season, now being worked out, will be announced at a later date.

There is no admission charge for symphony concerts.

Boys Identified After Tractor Driving Spree

Three boys under 15 years old were picked up by Plymouth police Monday morning shortly after city employees discovered that vandals had entered the city garage and maliciously destroyed property.

The city garage, located at the north end of Arthur street, was locked up at noon on Good Friday and it was at 4 o'clock that the three youths crawled under a fence to enter the premises. They drove two tractors wildly about the grounds knocking over a Model T Ford that had been impounded.

A wheel came off one of the tractors, police said, but one of the youthful drivers continued driving the tractor in circles until it became bogged down.

Not until employees arrived at the garage Monday morning was the incident discovered. A neighbor woman reported that she remembered a boy on a motor scooter near the garage Friday afternoon. This fact and the identification of footprints led to the arrest of the trio.

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee said that only one of the boys had been in trouble before and that he served as the "ring leader." Because of their ages, their names are being withheld by The Mail. Two lived in Plymouth and the other in Plymouth township. Police are asking restitution by the boys' parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McAllister, formerly of Plymouth, were hosts at Easter dinner in their new home on Timber Lane in Northville to the members of the McAllister families of Plymouth. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy McAllister and family of Saginaw, Mrs. A. G. Taylor and Miss Donna Foster of Plymouth.

The results of the work done in the adult education courses at the high school will be among the features of the Creative Arts Festival being given this weekend, April 23 to 25, in the high school. One of the highlights of the Festival will be the exhibits of handicraft such as that shown being made in these pictures.

At the top the ladies of the millinery class are making hats that they could wear in the Easter parade and still exhibit in the Festival. Left to right are Mrs. Mildred Diener, Mrs. Joan Arjay, Miss Bertha Anderson and Mrs. Lela Rush.

China painting as well as ceramics will be another of the Festival's features. Many of the articles to be exhibited in these categories were also made in adult education classes such as the one shown here in the center. Mrs. Willard Jackson, instructor, left, and Miss Nancy Busha are pictured preparing some of their articles for the display.

The rug-hooking class will be well-represented in the Creative Arts Festival again this year. The beautiful rugs, which are many hours in preparation, may be seen by those attending the exhibits on any of the three days. At the bottom, rugs are being made by, left to right, Mrs. Ellsworth Dunlap, Mrs. F. W. Wilson and Mrs. Frances Travis.

Other exhibits in the Festival include drawing and water colors, flower arrangements, leather carving and tooling, metalcraft and jewelry, oil painting, photography, sewing and tailoring, wood-working and carving, and weaving.

Pictures Show Oil Drilling Activities

With a dozen oil derricks starting to bore into the crust of the earth in search for oil in the Northville area, the next few months may tell if this section may become an important oil producing center.

The Mail sent a photographer into the area recently to capture the oil drilling activities on film. Turn to page one in section four to see this picture report.

Sidewalk Man Coming Again

If your sidewalk is suffering a nervous breakdown, you'd better start thinking of getting a replacement. That is the word this week from the office of City Assessor Kenneth Way.

Sidewalks which have "cracked up" and prove to be a walking hazard will be the target of the city. The city's sidewalk program is nearing its completion with only a few streets remaining without sidewalks.

Homeowners on the several streets without sidewalks will get notices in the near future advising them to either have a sidewalk laid or be prepared to pay an assessment with the city contracting for the work.

Guild-Kiwanis Play To Open on Tuesday

Counterfeit dollar bills will receive the center of attention next week when the Plymouth Theatre Guild presents "Mr. Barry's Etchings" under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis club.

The three-act play will be given in the high school auditorium at 8:15 p.m. on April 27, 28 and 29. The comedy, which is recommended for the whole family, will be given to benefit the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin. Tickets are currently on sale by Theatre Guild members, Kiwanians and Girl Scouts. They may also be purchased at the door.

Directing the production again this year is William Merrill of the Will-O-Way playhouse in Bloomfield Hills. Merrill has previously directed the Guild in its many successful performances here.

The cast of the play is headed by C. Veach Sparks, who has turned in outstanding performances both locally and with the Will-O-Way players. He will be supported by Judy Laury, Mrs. Harold Kuisel, Judy Secklin, John Lodge, Mrs. Wallace Laury, Mrs. Fred Bird Jr., Warren Worth, Mrs. Frank Dicks, J. H. Wilcox, James Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas Argo and Fred Bird, Jr. Equally important in the play are the members of the production staff. Mrs. Peter Ralph Miller, president of the Theatre Guild, serves as production and stage manager. Serving on her staff are: technical director, S. L. Warner; stage properties, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawson; hand possible internal injuries.

Gerald Cuthbertson; costumes, Mrs. Dean Saxton; prompter, Ruth Popovich. The list continues with publicity, Mrs. Phillip Barney; set painting, Florence Pantoni, Daisy Hornback, Harry Curtner, Arthur Robinson, Mrs. Dean Busch and Heinz G. Dittmar; staging, S. L. Warner, Robert Ingram, Douglas Havershaw, William Hatcher and Dean Saxton; make-up, Florence Pantoni and Mrs. James Mitchell; and lights, Cameron Lodge.

Motorist Lies Hours in Wreck

An East Detroit man who was on his way to work as a kitchen employee in Ann Arbor's University hospital arrived at his place of employment Monday morning as a patient.

He is Paul Degrandchamp, Jr., 21234 Grosbeak, who is in serious condition after his car crashed through a guardrail on Ann Arbor road near Joy road. Degrandchamp was driving to work at 4 a.m. when the mishap occurred. The car plunged into a ravine and came to rest on its wheels in a creek. But not until 7:30 was the accident discovered by a passer-by and reported to Plymouth police. They relayed the call to Wayne county road patrol.

A Sanderger Funeral home ambulance took the injured man to the hospital where he is suffering a broken hip and knee and possible internal injuries.

Displays, Concert, Ball Highlight Annual Event

A weekend packed full of high quality entertainment is in store for Plymouth residents at the second annual Creative Arts Festival, April 23 to 25, in the Plymouth high school. In commenting on the event, Herbert Woolweaver, adult education director, said that the event has every indication of surpassing last year's successful Festival. The Festival combines exhibits of handicraft of local residents, the Spring Symphony Ball, a square dance festival, concert by the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, and a public rehearsal of a forthcoming Theatre Guild production.

Symphony Gives First Spring Ball

The popular Sammy Woolf and his orchestra will swing out with music for dancing at the Spring Symphony Ball this Saturday evening. The Ball, which is to raise money for the Plymouth Symphony Society's scholarship fund, will be a part of the Creative Arts Festival at the high school. The dance will begin at 9:30 p.m. in the Plymouth high school auditorium.

The seven-piece orchestra and its leader, Sammy Woolf, are well known to many local people visiting Detroit's club spots. The aggregation has played at the Bowers and Four Dukes in Detroit as well as over radio station WMCA in New York.

Individual members of the band have also achieved great popularity for their work as singles. Pianist Hal Gordon is seen regularly in the Terrace Room at the Statler and trombonist George Green was formerly with Clyde McCoy and Paul Whiteman. The group's female vocalist, Jean Lawrence, is seen at Detroit's Penobscot club.

This Ball will be the first to be sponsored by the Symphony Society in the spring, stated Mrs. Margaret Hough, dance chairman. Dress for the dance is optional, she added, leaving the choice up to the individual.

Young people who have volunteered to take charge of the check room, soft drink counter and ticket taking are: Bob Danol and Carol Wilkerson, Dick Root and Sally Ford, Jim Isbister and Wanda Gillingham, Don Burrell and Betty Carter, Gary Palmer and Shirley Zimmerman, Nelson Rose and Beverly Buchanan, Richard Garchow and Peggy Wingard, James Hardimon and John Voss.

Tickets for the Spring Ball may be obtained at Beyer's Rexall Drugs on Forest avenue, Mayflower hotel, McAllister Brothers Grocery, from Symphony Board members or committee members, or at the door.

Serving with Mrs. Hough on her committee are Harper Stephens, Harry Draper and William Slinger. Board members are Mrs. Wilson Augustine, Gerald Fischer, Mrs. M. J. Huber, Mrs. R. E. Mills, Ralph Pocklington, Jack Taylor, Mrs. Clifford Tillotson and Harold VonBergen.

The Festival is open to the public. Admission to all events, except the Symphony Ball and square dance festival, is free.

Electrical Timing Device Will be New Police Weapon

Trapping of speeding motorists by use of an electrical timing device will be a new weapon of the Plymouth police force within a few weeks, it was announced this week by City Manager Al Glassford.

Traffic House, Inc., a Marshall, Michigan firm, demonstrated the device on South Main street at Burroughs avenue last Tuesday morning. Although there were no arrests made during the demonstration, the test clearly showed many motorists traveling up to 40 miles per hour in the 25 miles-per-hour zone. City commissioners were at the demonstration along with other observers.

Glassford said that the timing device will be delivered in two weeks and will be put to use immediately by police. Signs warning of "Speed Electrically Timed" will be posted at entrances to the city. The machine works through the use of electrical impulses

Many of the articles which will be exhibited in the Festival were made in adult education classes. These will all be shown in downstairs rooms at the high school this year, together with some actual demonstrations of the making of the handicraft.

The Festival opens at 7 p.m. Friday evening when the displays may be viewed. The rehearsal of "Mr. Barry's Etchings", a three-act drama to be put on by the Theatre Guild and the Plymouth Kiwanis club, will be given in the auditorium at 8 p.m. William Merrill of the Will-O-Way playhouse in Bloomfield Hills is director of the group.

Saturday's program includes the exhibits which will be shown from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and again from 7 to 9 p.m. The Spring Symphony Ball is scheduled for 9:30 p.m. that evening with the orchestra of Sammy Woolf supplying the music for dancing. Concurrently a square dance festival will be held in the high school gymnasium under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson.

Exhibits will reopen from 2 to 4 p.m. on Sunday but will close before the beginning of the final symphony concert at 4 p.m. The concert is open to the public without charge.

Heading the various exhibit committees are Mrs. Harold Grimoldby and Mrs. Willard Jackson, china painting; Mrs. F. D. Sober, drawing and water painting; Hugh Means, wood working and carving; Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Chester Tuck and Mrs. A. T. M. Peterson, flower arrangements; Mrs. Manley Smith, weaving.

Mrs. Jane Carmichael, Mrs. Lance Wright and Mrs. Gerald Hondorp, handmade ceramics; Mrs. Earl Kenyon, hooked rugs; Miss Dorothy Lucas, leather carving and tooling; Miss Beatrice Ware and Mrs. Hugh Law, metalcraft and jewelry; Mrs. Joyce Dalian, millinery.

Willard Jackson, molded ceramics; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cutler, oil painting; Bob Webber and Carl Finney, photography; Mrs. Ralph Taylor and Mrs. Lila Humphries, sewing and tailoring; Mrs. Peter Ralph Miller, Theatre Guild; Mrs. Margaret Hough, symphony ball; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carson, square dance; American Association of University Women and Girl Scout troop 2, information and guide service; and Girl Scout troop 1, check room.

The Festival is open to the public. Admission to all events, except the Symphony Ball and square dance festival, is free.

Ann Sambrone - Don Fulkerson Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fulkerson

At an impressive candlelight ceremony on Saturday, April 10, Ann Sambrone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sambrone of North Mill street, became the bride of Donald Fulkerson. Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fulkerson of Shadyside, Livonia, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend Janke officiated at the seven o'clock ceremony in the Calvary Methodist church in Detroit. Nat Sibbold sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer." Bouquets of white flowers graced the altar.

Ann chose a gown of silk nylon and French lace. The fitted bodice was of the lace and had a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves. A wide panel of the lace fell gracefully over the back of the pleated silk nylon skirt. Her fingertip length veil fell from a crown of lace and seed-pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

Jane Stremich, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Marvel Sambrone, sister-in-law of the bride, Anna I. Sambrone, cousin of the bride, and Saxie Holstein, all wore identical ballerina length gowns of aqua silk organza made with tucked bodices and bouffant skirts. Jane carried a cascade of pink carnations and the other attendants carried cascades of pink and aqua carnations.

John Fulkerson served his brother as best man and seating the guests were Lee Butcher, Donald Hay and Vito Sambrone, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Sambrone selected an aqua nylon and lace dress and Mrs. Fulkerson wore pink silk. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

A reception in the church basement followed the ceremony with over 200 guests attending, coming from Plymouth, Livonia and Detroit.

Following a honeymoon, the young couple will be "at home" to their many friends at 876 North Mill street, Plymouth.

Finneys Receive Call from Japan

A phone call from 7,000 miles away came to the Carl Finney family of Arthur street Tuesday evening. The call was from their son, Second Lieutenant Larry Finney, who was on rest and recuperation leave from Korea in Japan.

The phone call was supposed to come in on Easter Sunday, Mrs. Finney said, but when the line was clear Larry could not be found. At 7 p.m. Tuesday, however, they were again informed that the call was coming through and the whole family gathered around.

The Finneys placed an amplifier on the receiver so that the whole family could hear what Larry had to say. They finally received the call at 11 p.m. and for five minutes Japan might have been right next door. The rates were a little higher, however—each minute's conversation cost $4.

Local Members To Attend State PTA Convention

Several local Parent-Teacher association members will attend the 37th Annual Convention of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held in Saginaw on April 27, 28 and 29.

All delegates will attend workshops on Wednesday at Arthur Hill high school. Wednesday is also voting day. Elections will be held for president, vice-president, secretary, and district service director. Plymouth members plan to attend workshops on financing and how the PTA cooperates in building a better school.

Wednesday evening delegates will all gather at the City Auditorium for the fourth general session. Dr. Eugene B. Elliot, President of Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti will be the speaker. His topic "Things That Can Be Done." A pageant, "I Believe" will be presented by the Mothersingers of Michigan and the Saginaw public schools under the direction of Dr. Edith Roach Snyder, Pontiac.

League to Give Joint Concert

A 110-piece band, featuring players from the 6-B League bands, will present a festival concert on Wednesday evening, April 28, at 8 p.m. The band is made up of selected players from the Livonia, Redford Union, Allen Park, Belleville, Trenton and Plymouth high school bands.

The program will open with six selections, each conducted by a different conductor representing each of the six schools.

The combined high school orchestra will play three pieces which will be followed by the 250-voice combined choir singing six numbers.

Bringing the program to a swelling climax will be the performance of "God of Our Fathers" by the combined band, orchestra and choir.

Seniors Work On Last Details Of Class Projects

As the closing of the school is coming nearer the senior class and senior class advisors—Edgar Brown, Walter Goodwin, Robert Smith, Keith Baughman, Melvin Blunk, Mrs. Christena Soule and Mrs. Virginia Callagari, chairman, are now working on the last senior class projects such as the class will, the class prophecy and the Senior Farewell Assembly which will be held on June 1.

The theme for the assembly will be the seniors school days from the ninth through the twelfth grade. The general chairman of the assembly is Beverly Buchanan and the chairman of the ninth grade part of the skit is Alice Miller with Janet Mulholland planning the tenth grade. Lee Haines will handle the eleventh grade while Gayle Lietz will be chairman of the twelfth grade portion of the assembly.

During the second half of the assembly, the seniors will present the futures of the class members. Nancy Morrison, the chairman of the class will committee, and Luree Merrill, chairman of the prophecy committee, are now working on the prophecy, to underclassmen, and the class will.

Aboard the Good Ship MAYFLOWER

Bob Sincok, the friendly gasoline man across the street, was amusing his friends and our guests by handing them a talking oil can last week. It looked like his regular product, but when he handed it to you it started a mechanism which delivered a canned sales talk: and we do mean "canned" in more ways than one.

A slightly obese (or pleasantly plump) lady we heard about was perusing one of those charts that shows proportionate weights and heights in their proper ratio. Commented she: "According to that chart I'm not tall enough."

Speaker for the Lions club last week was D. Hale Brake, treasurer of "Water Wonderland" and candidate for Governor. Interesting quote from his talk about finances was:—"About 85% of our tax dollar is taken by the FEDERAL government, 3% by the State for its actual operation and the rest distributed to local units and schools." Some food for thought there!

Overheard in the lobby: "These recent weather disturbances must have been caused by the explosions of hydrogen and atomic bombs." Guest Ernie Roe's caustic retort to that thought was:—"Perhaps those bombs caused the unusual 24 inch snow in 1886."

What's Indianapolis Speed-week got that we haven't? Two of the township's firemen on the way to a small blaze in a private car whizzed by the hotel at an unusually dangerous and fast clip last week. We admire their bravery, but not their judgment. The latter seems a little immature.

One of the nicest things that has happened to us lately is the receipt of a basket of jams, jellies and pickles from Harry and Charlotte Lush out in California. The Mayflower's skipper and your Bo's'n's Mate are both displaying mouths thoroughly covered with jam from ear to ear. The remarkable part of the gift is the fact that folks who are busy can remember to send a gift to their friends so far away. For being so kind we will forgive them for bragging about California's produce.

United States Congressman Charles Oakman who flew in from Washington for the Easter celebration is listed as our guest who came furthest to enjoy dinner at the Mayflower Sunday. He joined the longest Easter Parade of diners that the hotel has ever enjoyed. Among other guests for the day was Walter Fuller of the Detroit News.

Earle Schlax, representative of The Kroydon golf people, made this observation the other day in the lobby:—"The United States is losing up to 300 golf courses per year." We could make a lot of comments about that to our golfing friends around Plymouth, but will refrain.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Owens of 399 Sunset are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, John Alan, born at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor on Friday, April 16. He weighed in at nine pounds 11 ounces. Mrs. Owens is the former Marion Oldenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Depew of Union street announce the birth of a daughter, Susan Lynn born at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor on April 1, weighing seven pounds, three and one-half ounces.

Sir Stork must be chucking to himself at the workout he's given Dr. William Herbold during the past week. On two previous occasions last week he challenged the good doctor to a race, indicating both times that he was ready to make a delivery to Mr. and Mrs. William Keefe of 9423 Corrine. Each time, while Dr. Herbold waited at the scene, the Stork returned to the starting post.

Easter Sunday, however, the winged messenger meant business. Running in magnificent form, he raced Dr. Herbold to a photo finish, not even allowing time for the principals to go to the hospital. For the Keefers the race was most rewarding, however. A six pound, one ounce son, William Charles, born at 11:20 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Egge of 30730 Mason Court, Livonia, announce the arrival of Karn Katherine, born April 7 and weighing five pounds, seven ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hollsworth of Auburn avenue are the proud parents of a daughter, Beth Ann born on March 29 at the Garden City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McRennolds of Maple street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Cynthia Jean weighing eight pounds three ounces, born April 12 at Session's hospital, Northville. Mrs. McRennolds is the former Doris Landau.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz of Peabody, Massachusetts, announce the birth of a daughter, Lynn Marie, born on April 20 and weighing seven pounds nine ounces. Mrs. Schultz is the former Marie Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Irving street and Mrs. Katherine Schultz of Sheridan avenue is the paternal grandmother.

Woman's Club Benefit To Be Given April 30

The Woman's club annual benefit will be presented on Friday, April 30, at the Women's League in Ann Arbor. One feature of the event will be a summer fashion show put on by Hutzell's. Proceeds from the benefit will go to charity.

Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. J. M. Robison and Mrs. Robert Carson. Mrs. Robert Webber is ticket chairman, and Mrs. S. H. Armstrong, Mrs. Russell Daane and Mrs. Russell Isbister form the committee.

Reservations for the benefit must be made by April 25. Those who have not been contacted may call Mrs. Robert Webber at 1868-J.

Girls, as well as boys' parents, principals, teachers and counselors are welcome.

High School to Host Choral Festival

Plymouth high school will act as host to the 6-B League in a choral festival to be held on Wednesday, April 28. Plymouth will enter the choir in the event. The schools which will be participating in this annual event are Plymouth, Trenton, Bentley, Redford Union and Allen Park. After practicing most of the day a concert will be presented to the public in the gym at 8 p.m.

All of the choirs have been practicing the same selections in the past few weeks, and they will practice all day in mass singing. Each conductor will have one selection to direct and he will furnish his accompaniment.

Although Plymouth does not have an orchestra, many of the 6-B League schools do and students from these orchestras will combine to form one. At the concert it will play several selections and will accompany the chorus on "A Tribute To Romberg" which will be directed by Fred Nelson, director of all choral music in the Plymouth schools.

OBITUARIES

Robert Burns

Robert Burns, who resided at 9615 Berwick avenue in Rosedale Gardens, Livonia, passed away Friday afternoon, April 16, following a very short illness at the age of 58 years. Mr. Burns underwent an operation at Henry Ford hospital on Tuesday, April 13 from which he never recovered.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Louise Burns, one daughter, Alline studying nursing at Kalamazoo in Bronson hospital; one sister, Mrs. Eileen Crunk of Redford; two brothers, Edward of Ottawa, Ontario and Arthur of Detroit, other relatives and many friends.

At the time of his death Mr. Burns was employed as manager by the Detroit Bank. He had been connected with the bank for over 32 years.

Formerly of Detroit, Mr. Burns had lived in Rosedale Gardens for the past 22 years. He was a member of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church and was very active in its affairs particularly the Men's club. Only recently he participated in the every - member canvass of the church. Besides the church Mr. Burns was also a member of the Livonia Lodge No. 586 F. & A. M.; Moslem Temple in Detroit and the Art Center Kiwanis club of Detroit. Mr. Burns was a musician and gave all of his talents in the various organizations to which he belonged. He was organist and pianist for his lodge.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, April 20 at 1 p.m. from the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church with the Reverend J. Woodrow Wooley officiating. The services were also under the auspices of the Livonia Lodge No. 586 F. & A. M. James W. Marshall played organ selections. The pallbearers were Jack Calhoun, Jack Stewart, Les Taylor, Herbert McGregor, Fred Weinert and Otto Hanson. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth.

William H. Hawbecker

William H. Hawbecker of Livonia passed away on Saturday, April 17, in the Art Center hospital, Detroit, at the age of 69 years.

Mr. Hawbecker was born on September 6, 1885 in Greencastle, Pennsylvania, the son of Franklin and Sally May Hawbecker. He resided in Livonia for the past five years.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel and son, Wilfred, both of Livonia; three brothers, Alfred, Ralph and Edward; and sisters, Mrs. Nell Hobart, Mrs. Mary Book, Mrs. Frankie Bates, Mrs. Mildred Kelley and Mrs. Blanche Wangler; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, April 20, from the Casterline Funeral home, Northville. The Reverend Lucian Keppel officiated. Interment was in Parkview Memorial cemetery.

Mary O. Hanchett

Mrs. Mary Hix Hanchett, who resided at 681 Deer street, passed away Wednesday, April 14 following an illness which began on her 30th wedding anniversary, December 26, 1953. She was 80 years of age.

Surviving are her husband Arthur; six children, Mrs. Clarrissa Cockrum of Wayne, Emery, Clarence, and Gerald Hix all of Plymouth, George Hix of Wayne and Arnold Hix of Northville; three step-children, Donald Hanchett of Dearborn, Raymond Hanchett of Dearborn and Lawrence Hanchett of Garden City; one sister, Mrs. Christine Kaiser of Plymouth; one brother, Charles Parrish of Ypsilanti; 21 grandchildren, 15 great grandchildren, other relatives and many friends. Mrs. Hanchett's former husband, George Hix and three children, Agnes, Helen, and Oliver, preceded her in death.

Born in Canton township, Mrs. Hanchett lived all her life in this area. Although Plymouth was her residence for the greater part, Garden City was her home on two occasions. She was a member of the Presbyterian church in Plymouth, but transferred her connections to the Garden City Presbyterian church when she went there to live.

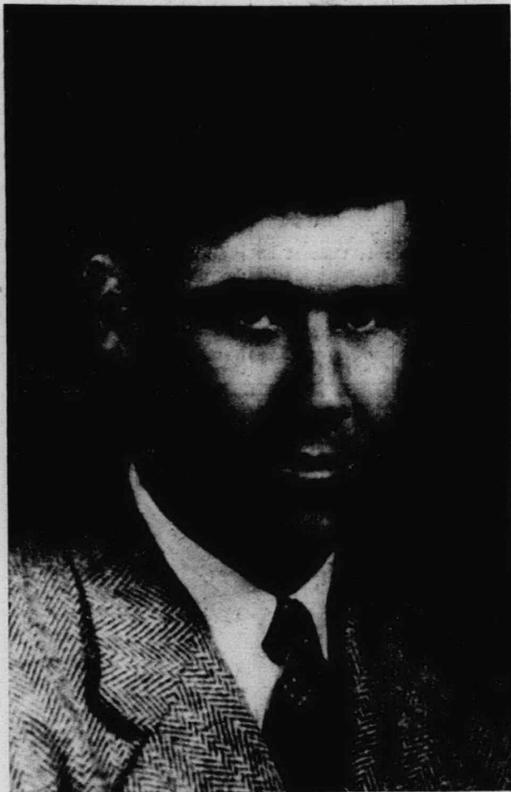

The Reverend R. R. Rives of the Garden City Presbyterian church officiated at the funeral services which were held at the Schrader Funeral home Saturday, April 17 at 12:30 p.m. Hymns were played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The pallbearers were Leonard, Glenn and Gary Hix, Gene Schiffler, Raymond, Jr., and Robert Hanchett. Interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

Frank Ockert, Jr.

Frank Edward Ockert, Jr. the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Ockert, Sr. of 530 Jemer Place, Plymouth, passed away Thursday, April 15 at the age of seven weeks. He was born on his father's birthday, February 25, 1954. The little child had been frail since birth.

Surviving besides the parents are two brothers, Dennis Michael and Ronald George, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sawyer of Plymouth and Mrs. James DeLong of Remus, Michigan; great grandmother, Mrs. Angeline Meyers of Remus, Michigan and other relatives.

The Reverend E. T. Hadwin officiated at services which were held at the Schrader Funeral home at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 17. The Reverend William O. Welton assisted in the graveside services at Riverside cemetery where burial was made.

SPEAKING BEFORE PLYMOUTH Rotarians Friday will be Vic Heylinger, coach of the University of Michigan hockey team for the past 10 seasons. During the past six seasons when Coach Heylinger's teams have competed in the N.C.A.A. tournament, they won the trophy four times. His teams have lost only 22 games of the 138 played in those six seasons. The coach himself was an All-American hockey player when with Michigan and he later played with the Chicago Blackhawks for three seasons. He has also been the University of Illinois hockey coach for two seasons.

ANOTHER MILE-STONE IN THE GROWTH OF

VINC'S TIRE SERVICE

WE'VE COMPLETELY REMODELED & REDECORATED!

The picture at the left shows our place of business as it looked from 1946 to 1948. We had only one vulcanizing mold and 168 sq. feet of tire service space then.

During the period 1948 to 1951 we were able to build a new and larger building, and add the equipment necessary to provide faster and better tire service to our customers.

Now in 1954 we've remodeled and redecorated throughout the shop, and added to our stocks and facilities so as to give the most complete tire service available in the Plymouth area. We now feature 7 capping and vulcanizing molds; 1,600 sq. feet of space, and service that is guaranteed to satisfy.

Complete stock of new and used tires. We use the latest methods and equipment in our complete tire service. Why not stop in soon, and let us assist you with your auto or truck tire needs.

STATE TREASURER D. Hale Brake gave Plymouth Lions club members and guests a look at the state financial picture last Thursday evening in an address at the club's regular Mayflower hotel meeting. Brake stated that by June 30 the state would be "out of the red." He

Vinc's Tire Services Celebrates 8th Year

Vinc Sheline of Vinc's Tire Service is celebrating his 8th anniversary in local business this week together with the completion of remodeling of his establishment at 384 Starkweather avenue. The front of the building was recently remodeled to provide a waiting room and a retail sales counter.

Sheline entered business in Plymouth in 1946 after 25 years of business in Detroit. His first building at the present location had only 168 square feet of floor space, while today the building has grown to 1600 square feet.

PROCLAMATION

I, G. Mennen Williams, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of April 18 through April 25, 1954, as in Michigan, and call upon our citizens to support the work of this worthy organization as a small measure of our gratitude for the sacrifices that these men and their families have made to preserve our freedom.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of Michigan, this seventh day of April, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-four, and of the Commonwealth, the one hundred eighteenth.

G. Mennen Williams
Governor

Concurred in this 19th day of April 1954:

Russell M. Daane
Mayor, City of Plymouth, Michigan

way causing the load of cement block to shift and thereby falling off the truck." Several fell onto a car belonging to Harold Stevens, 998 Church street, who carries insurance with the American Surety company.

The insurance company insuring the truck claimed that it was not the truck's fault, but due to the condition of the city's street. However, City Attorney Harry Deyo told commissioners that the city was not liable since city charter requires claims for injuries or damages to be filed with the city less than 60 days after the mishap. He also cited state law which released the city from liability under certain conditions.

In another report by the city attorney, commissioners learned that they will be able to impose a half mill levy to pay for the first payment on the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer bonds. A resolution to enact the levy will be prepared for the next meeting.

Father James Marquette was buried twice. His first grave was near Ludington, where he died in 1875. Two years later, Indians removed the remains to St. Ignace, where they were re-interred at the mission.

The first fort in Michigan was built by the French explorer LaSalle at St. Joseph in 1679. He named it Fort Miami.

Silver nuggets were frequently found in the copper mines of the Keweenaw Peninsula.

OBITUARIES

Grace L. Bradford

Funeral services will be held Thursday, April 22 at 3 p.m. for Mrs. Grace L. Bradford who lived with her son at 24370 Scotia avenue, Oak Park, Michigan.

After spending the winter in California assisting her foster father who was in poor health, Mrs. Bradford started home to Oak Park. She became ill en route and it became necessary for her to go to a hospital in Davenport, Iowa. Following an illness of two weeks, Mrs. Bradford passed away Sunday, April 18. She was 72 years of age.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Virginia Riley of Dearborn; her son, Irwin of Oak Park, two grand-children and her sister, Mrs. Metta Price of Portland, Oregon, other relatives and many friends. Her husband, Benjamin Bradford preceded her in death in 1936.

The Reverend P. Ray Norton will officiate at the services which will be held at the Schrader Funeral home. Hymns will be played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Catherine A. Thurman

Miss Catherine A. Thurman, who resided at 36715 Ann Arbor trail in Livonia, passed away Monday evening, April 19, after a very short illness. She was 57 years of age.

Miss Thurman taught in Livonia schools for 28 years, and was particularly active in Parent Teachers Association work. She was a graduate of Warrensburg, Missouri Teachers college and Ypsilanti State Normal college. Miss Thurman attended the Newburg Methodist church. She was a member of the Westgate Chapter No. 466 O.E.S., the Allied Arts club of Detroit and the Parent Teachers Association.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Susan Thurman of Newburg, Livonia and Mrs. R. N. Pilcher of Nampa, Idaho; two brothers, Allen G. of Newburg, Livonia and Benjamin F. Thurman of Detroit; other relatives and many friends.

The Reverend Robert D. Richards will officiate at the funeral services which will be held at the Schrader Funeral home Thursday, April 22 at 1 p.m. Hymns will be played on the chapel organ by Mrs. Edna O'Conner. The pallbearers will be Karl Heinzman, Raymond McCullough, Robert Kellogg, Gerald Erspamar, Richard Massingill, and Harry O. Johnson. Interment will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Frieda J. Wendland

Funeral services were held Monday, April 19 at the St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church for Mrs. Frieda J. Wendland who passed away Friday, April 16 after a long illness. She was 46 years of age. Her residence was at 675 Auburn avenue in Plymouth.

Surviving are her husband Jervis; one daughter, Wendy; her mother, Mrs. Ida Beyer of Plymouth, and five sisters, Mrs. Alice Leader of Detroit; Mrs. Margaret Keuhl of Plymouth; Mrs. Ima Themm of Pontiac; Mrs. Anna Hanchett of Livonia; Mrs. Hazel Wendland of Plymouth, other relatives and many friends. Her father, Charles Beyer, preceded her in death in 1936.

Mrs. Wendland was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church. The Reverend Edgar Hoenecke officiated at her services. Hymns were sung by Mrs. Norman Goebel and Mrs. Frederick Waara, accompanied at the organ by Robert Bartel. The pallbearers were Arthur Merryfield, Edwin Goebel, Sr., Edward Foreman, Rayner Tisch, Maurice Garchow and Norman Mahrey, Sr. Interment was made in Glen Eden cemetery.

Flossie Pooler

Mrs. Flossie Pooler who resided at 50123 Ford road in Canton township passed away Monday evening, April 19 at the age of 67 years. She has been a resident of this vicinity for the past 38 years.

Mrs. Pooler is survived by her husband, Willard Pooler and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Fowler of 50145 Ford road, Plymouth, other relatives and many friends.

Entombment took place in Riverside mausoleum Wednesday, April 22, 1954.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Wile-don of Pine street and their daughter, Mrs. Reynold Dodds and daughter, Sharon, of Taylor Center spent the Easter holiday in Napierville, Indiana, with another daughter of the Wile-don's, Mr. and Mrs. John Fry and two sons.

Mrs. William Farley of Adams street, with her daughter, Mrs. Lynn Fraser of Flint, visited a cousin, Mrs. Ona LeBaron in Saline on Monday.

Bert Hodge of Francis street has been returned to the Atchison hospital in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Osborn of Monroe were the Easter dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Irvin street.

Mrs. Nellie E. Bird was guest of honor at an Easter "bon Voyage" tea given on Saturday, April 17 at the home of Mrs. Florence Neal on Lakeside drive. Thirty close friends signed the guest card. Mrs. Bird left Plymouth on Tuesday enroute to New York where she will sail on the Queen Elizabeth for a seven week tour of Europe. Assisting Mrs. Neal were Mrs. Ivor Penhale and Mrs. Harry Curtner.

Miss Anna Jean Munster, a bride-elect of May 1, was guest of honor at two miscellaneous showers last week. The first was on Wednesday evening when Carol Oldenberg invited twelve guests to her home on Blunk street. The second, given in the home of Mrs. Rodney Hubbell on Ann Arbor trail, was attended by the employees of the National Bank of Detroit, Penniman branch. Anna Jean will become the bride of Donald Moore.

Miss Loretta Paternoster of Liberty, Missouri, and Miss Sherry Jones of Detroit, spent the Easter weekend with Miss Cynthia Eaton in her home on West Maple avenue. The three girls are all students at Michigan State college in East Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jen-drycka have moved into the Clifford Tait home on Northville road.

Five young people from Plymouth will participate in a unique conference at Fountain street church in Grand Rapids April 23 through 25. Approximately 200 young people from various churches throughout the country will meet to make a survey of Grand Rapids regarding community prejudice. The University of Michigan set up the actual questionnaires. Dr. Ralph Bunch, Nobel prize winner will be guest speaker and discussion leader. Attending from Plymouth will be Susan Simmons, Loanne Jensen, Pat Keeler, Mildred Green and Pieter Schipper.

That unwavering obedience to the eternal demands of Christ is the only way to individual salvation and progress will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.
The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation after Death" includes the following passage from the Bible:
"Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling" (Philippians 2:12).
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be read:
"Vibrating like a pendulum between sin and the hope of forgiveness,—selfishness and sensuality causing constant retrogression,—our moral progress will be slow. Waking to Christ's demand, mortals experience suffering. This causes them, even as drowning men, to make vigorous efforts to save themselves; and through Christ's precious love these efforts are crowned with success" (22:3).
The Golden Text is from Psalms:
"Examine me, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart" (26:2).

To Present Religious Play Here

Anderson college will send part of its Dramatics club here on Saturday, May 1, in Thomas Doran's three-act religious play, "Behold Your King." The Anderson, Indiana players will stage their production in the Bentley high school according to the Reverend E. B. Jones, pastor of the Riverside Park Church of God, which brings the college thespians to the community. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Nazarene Church To Hear Party Of Evangelists

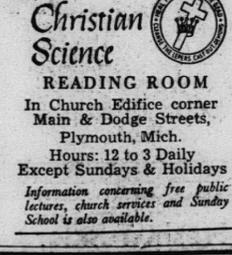

The Gaddis-Moser evangelistic party of Winona Lake, Indiana, which has for more than 31 years been engaged in revival work, will be in Plymouth next week at the Church of the Nazarene. Their travels have taken them around the world twice. They have been in 72 countries, employing 46 interpreters in 61 mission stations and conducted meetings for 54 denominations in the 48 states of the Union.
They are members of the Methodist church and favorites in the conferences in the Middle West. They are members of the Indiana Methodist conference. The team will conduct revival

Why do Christian Scientists have Reading Rooms?

The Christian Science Reading Room in your district is voluntarily maintained by your Christian Science neighbors. It stands as an outward sign of their appreciation of the benefits which they receive constantly through Christian Science—benefits equally available to you. Based upon their own experience, Christian Scientists do not believe very much in persuasion. But they do feel that anyone should have the right to investigate Christian Science for himself and in his own way. Hence these Reading Rooms, free to the public, have been established in every district where there is a Christian Science church.
Release from disease, fear, and want has come from the thoughtful reading of the Christian Science textbook
SCIENCE AND HEALTH
with Key to the Scriptures
by MARY BAKER EDDY
which contains the complete explanation of Christian Science.
You are welcome at the public Reading Room in your district where this book may be read, borrowed, or purchased.

Reverend Burden Gets Appointment

The Reverend Howard Burden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burden of Hamilton street, was recently named to the post of district superintendent in Saginaw. Reverend Burden will receive his appointment at the annual meeting of the Detroit Methodist Conference in June.
A graduate of Plymouth high school, he attended and was graduated from Albion college through the active interest and financial assistance of the Reverend E. E. King, former pastor of Plymouth Methodist church.
Reverend Burden sparked the construction of the $100,000 Henderson Memorial Methodist church, built in honor of the late Bishop Henderson. He has been the pastor of that church for the past 18 years.

ORDINANCE NO. 186

AN ORDINANCE TO ESTABLISH A VIOLATIONS BUREAU FOR THE EFFICIENT DISPOSITION OF TRAFFIC OFFENSES IN THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN; TO DEFINE THE RIGHTS AND PRIVILEGES OF TRAFFIC VIOLATORS; TO FIX THE DUTIES AND POWERS OF CITY OFFICIALS IN THE OPERATION OF SUCH BUREAU AND TO REPEAL ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH.

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. The Municipal Judge of the Municipal Court of the City of Plymouth is hereby authorized and empowered, under and by virtue of the provisions of Act No. 85 Public Acts of 1953, as same may be amended from time to time, to establish, operate and direct a Traffic Violations Bureau for the efficient and economical disposition of offenses against the traffic ordinances of the city, such bureau to be operated in accordance with the charter of said city and the general laws of the state.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police to supply all police officers with serially numbered traffic violation tickets which shall be in such form as the Municipal Judge shall prescribe. The Chief of Police shall determine whether violation tickets are settled within the time fixed and if not so settled, shall make or cause to be made, complaints charging the offenses set forth in any such unsettled tickets. The Chief of Police shall make a monthly report to the City Commission showing the issuance and disposition of traffic violation tickets and a copy of such report shall be filed with the Municipal Judge.

Section 3. No charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors or narcotics, failure to stop in the event of an accident, or reckless driving shall be settled through said traffic violations bureau.

Section 4. The Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to accept sums fixed for the settlement of traffic violation tickets and to receipt therefor. He shall deposit such monies in the general fund and make monthly report thereof to the City Commission.

Section 5. The Municipal Judge shall, by his order, fix and establish a Schedule of Offenses which may be settled through said bureau and shall specify the sum to be paid in the settlement of each offense. He may also issue such further orders, rules or regulations he may deem necessary for the effective functioning of said bureau. Copies of all such orders, rules and regulations shall be filed in said court and with the clerk of the city, the chief of Police and the treasurer and a copy or copies thereof shall be posted upon the bulletin board in the city hall.

Section 6. The enactment of this ordinance shall not affect the validity of any traffic tickets heretofore issued or any pending proceeding. Any schedule of offenses and sums fixed for settlement thereof and forms of traffic tickets shall remain in full force and effect until changed, modified or revoked under the powers herein provided.

Section 7. This ordinance shall not operate to deprive any person of a hearing in court upon any alleged traffic offense, if he so chooses.

Section 8. This ordinance may be known as the Traffic Violations Bureau Ordinance.

Section 9. Ordinance No. 100 entitled "An Ordinance to render more efficient the enforcement of traffic ordinances of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, to facilitate the disposition of traffic violations, to impose certain duties and confer certain powers upon officers of said City and to define the rights and privileges of traffic ordinance violators hereunder" and all other ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 10. This ordinance shall be operative and effective on the 11th day of May, 1954.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan this 19th day of April, 1954.

OIL

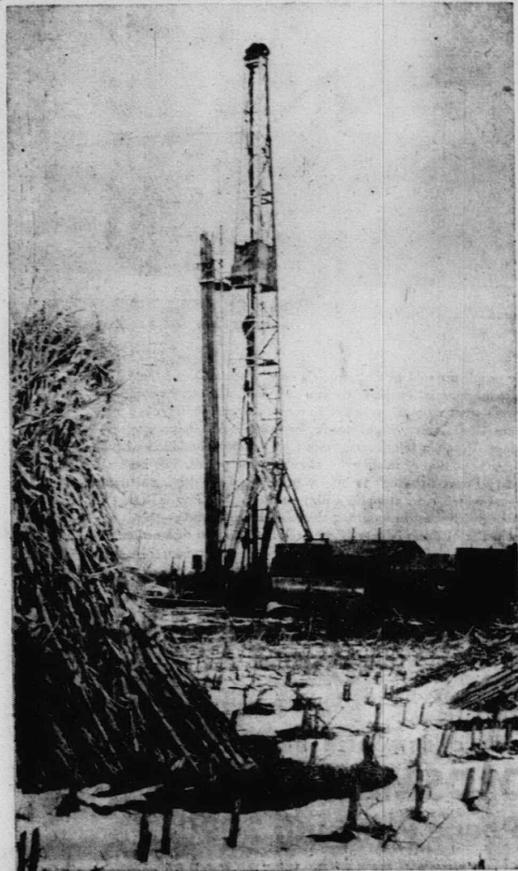

BRINGS POSSIBILITY OF NEW ECONOMY TO PLYMOUTH AREA!

Drilling of a dozen oil wells northwest of Plymouth right now and the leasing of land for mineral rights up to the city limits seems certain to change the economy of this area should a full-fledged oil field develop. It has already changed the value of real estate. Dozens of oil executives and workers are moving into the area, many making their headquarters in Plymouth. Of the three wells completed, one has paid off in rich oil, another was dry, the third is a potentially valuable gas well. It's a big gamble, they'll tell you. It may cost $50,000 or more to drill a well. But a good well can pay the driller a quarter of a million dollars a year plus provide the landowner a tidy sum. With many drillings just now getting started, the next 60 days may tell the story—will oil become one of Plymouth's major commodities, or was this all a wildcat venture?

C.

A. Strange landscape for farmland, indeed, is this mechanism seen on the farm of Roy LeMaster, Napier road, at the site of the first producing oil well discovered in the area. It separates the gas and water from the oil and is fueled by the gas from the ground below. In the background is the second LeMaster well site.

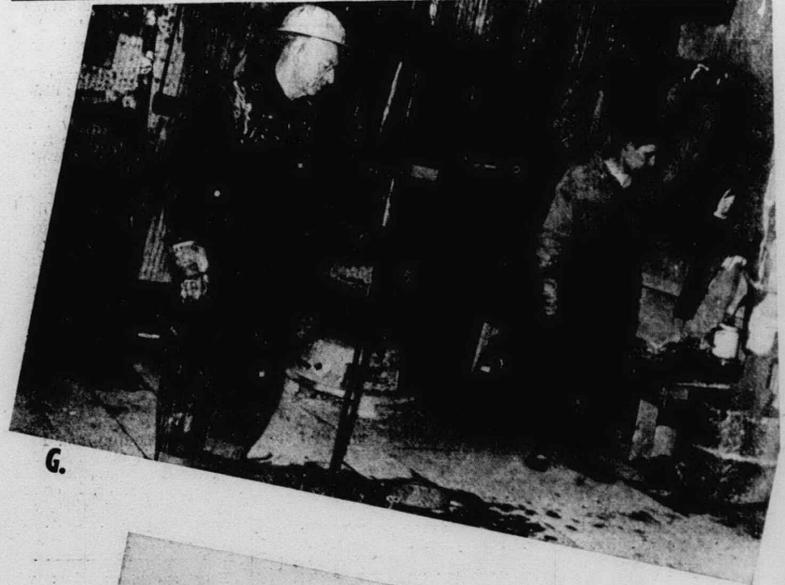

B. Last year a cornfield, now it's a prospective oil field. This is LeMaster well No. 2 being drilled by wildcatter W. C. Taggart, Big Rapids millionaire. Taggart discovered a potentially large gas well a half mile west of this well.

C. Taking time out to warm up with coffee beside a stove are these two oil workers at the Allan Gray & Ray Whyte well located south of South Lyon on Pontiac trail. Rigs are operated around the clock by three 8-hour shifts of two men each. Workers here are Roy Smith (left) and Bob Braden.

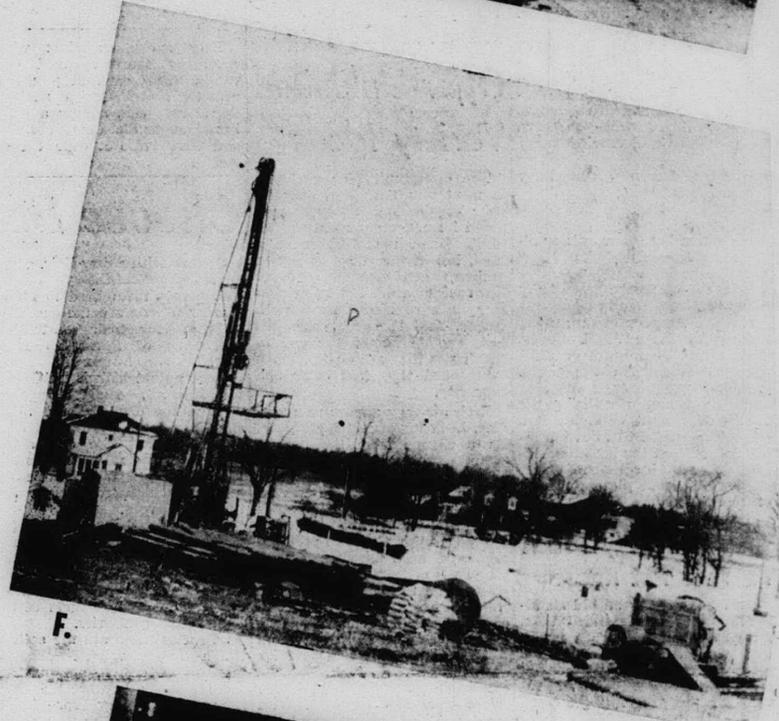

D. & E. What's in that hole 4,000 feet down? To answer this question, W. C. Taggart has hired the nationally known Hycalog company of Shreveport, Louisiana to send a mobile laboratory to the well site to keep a tab on the ground composition as the drilling deepens. Here Mabre Maness operates gas testing instruments while David O'Conner examines samples with a microscope.

F. There's been some changes made in the landscape with rigs such as this found on the H. F. Howell farm on Eight Mile road. This derrick is operating only a few hundred yards behind the Howell home. The driller is C. W. Collin of Mt. Pleasant.

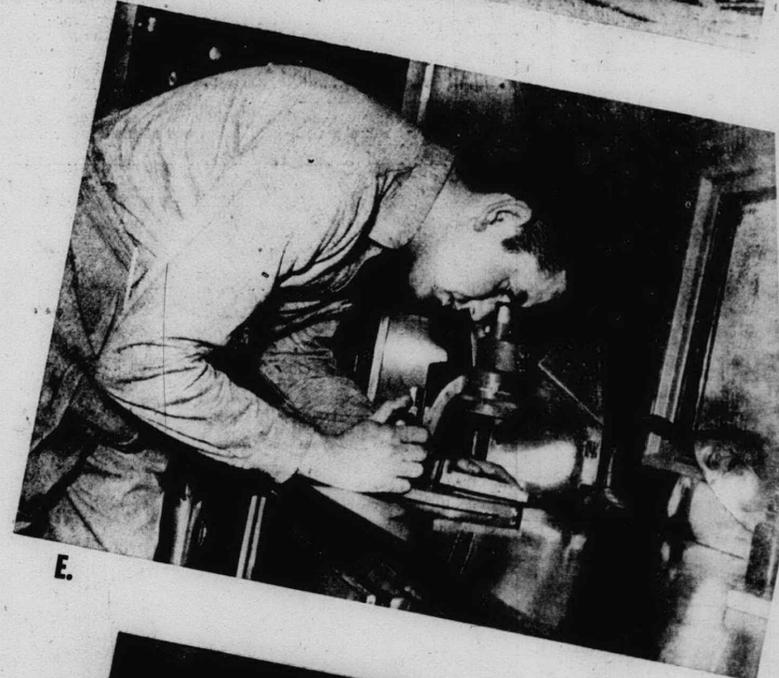

G. Another Collin rig is drilling on the Frank Whipple farm just west of the Northville city limits on Eight Mile. N. B. Dibble (left) has the title of "driller" while Lyle Martin is tool dresser."

Serve Green Baby Lima Tomato Surprise Salad

This is a beautiful platter to be served at your buffet supper. Tasty frozen green baby lima beans combined with a tart french dressing served in hollowed-out tomatoes. Instead of the conventional lettuce this time use romaine-so crisp and attractive to arrange. Serve with southern fried chicken and curried fluffy rice.

1 package frozen green baby lima beans
1 teaspoon salt
6 tomatoes
French dressing (your own or already prepared)
Romaine or lettuce
Drop solidly frozen green baby lima beans into 1 cup boiling water with 1 teaspoon of salt. Bring rapidly to second boil. Cover. Cook about 18 minutes or until beans are tender. Drain and chill. Combine with french dressing and if you like use the garlic french dressing it will give it a far better flavor! Cut out the tomatoes and put the beans in. Arrange romaine or lettuce leaves on a platter and place tomatoes on top. Serves 6.

Add A Savory Touch To Your Pot Roast

Beef pot-roast is an old standby that may be depended upon for good eating. Here's a variation you will find interesting. Raisins and bay leaf are cooked along with the pot-roast and provide for the "savory" gravy to serve with the meat.

Beef Pot-Roast—Savory Gravy
3 to 4-pound beef arm or blade pot-roast
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 onions, sliced
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup raisins
2 bay leaves
1/2 cup water
Flour for gravy

Brown meat slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings, add salt, pepper, raisins, bay leaves and water. Cover closely and simmer 3 to 4 hours, or until tender, adding more water if necessary. Remove meat from pan, strain and measure liquid. Remove excess fat. For each cup liquid allow 2 tablespoons flour. Thicken liquid for gravy. Serve over meat. 6 to 8 servings.

If you're planning to leave your home empty while going on a winter vacation, be sure to drain all water pipes by closing the main valve and leaving all faucets open until there is no more water in the pipes. This, of course, is not necessary if you have an automatic heater and intend to keep it going.

If contour crib sheets which take a lot of punishment begin to tear along the corner seam line, reinforce the seams with heavy tape.

Prepare Beef Brisket With Onion Sauce

With beef supplies plentiful one cut you'll want to serve often is beef brisket. This cut is prepared by cooking in liquid the same as a beef stew.

According to meat expert Reba Staggs, to prepare this dish simply place the meat in a heavy utensil and completely cover it with water. To provide a tempting variation, add vegetables and seasonings to the meat. For example, add 1 cup diced carrots and 1/2 cup diced celery, 2 teaspoons salt, 6 peppercorns, 6 whole cloves to the meat. Cover and cook slowly for 3 to 4 hours.

At the end of this time, remove the meat from the broth and place in a shallow baking dish. Spread beaten egg over the meat, sprinkle with dry bread crumbs and brown in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes.

Serve the brisket with a zesty onion sauce prepared by browning 2 tablespoons of sugar in 1 tablespoon of lard. Add to this 2 medium onions, sliced, and cook until tender. Then add 1 tablespoon of flour, 1 cup meat broth, 1 teaspoon vinegar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cook until smooth.

Easy spring sundae: whole cranberry sauce spooned over vanilla ice cream. If you like, heat the sauce when you take it from the can, adding a little brown sugar and cinnamon to it, and then ladle it over the ice cream.

Hot Meat Pies Offer Unlimited Variety Ideas

The opportunity for variation in meat pies is limited only by your imagination. It may be prepared from leftover roast or pot-roast. When uncooked meat is used, brown the cubes or not as desired, then completely cover them with liquid. Let them simmer in a covered utensil until tender. Add the vegetables just long enough before the end of cooking so they are tender. When overcooked they lose color and character.

Each pie may appear as a new dish. Look to your herb cupboard for a change from the regular biscuit crust—add paprika, sage or thyme. Or add grated cheese to the mixture. The biscuit or pastry may be cut with a cookie cutter into various shapes. Especially good with a veal or pork pie are corn meal biscuits. Biscuit pinwheels make a decorative topping for beef pies. When dough is rolled in a rectangle, spread with catchup, grated cheese, garlic butter or sauteed mushrooms and roll. Cut in slices and arrange over the meat mixture.

Mashed potatoes—Irish or sweet—may also be used. With topping added, return meat pie to oven to bake the crust or to lightly brown, as in the case of potatoes.

Paint can be removed from glass easily by rubbing with hot vinegar.

Molasses Cookies Are Spring Tonic

Instead of sulphur and molasses, make gingerbread cookies as a spring tonic. The sulphur portion went out when a year-long supply of fruits and vegetables was assured. Nor is it necessary to have sulphur in molasses... it gets there only when molasses is a by-product of sugar making. "Unsulphured" molasses is sugar cane juice which has been clarified, concentrated and aged. Its rich aromatic flavor comes from sun-ripened cane.

Unsulphured molasses is an energy food and a very good source of iron. However, credit its taffy flavor for the fact that gingerbread men have been, and continue to be, cookie classics popular with all who eat them.

Gingerbread Men
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
1 egg
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cloves
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Cream together shortening, sugar, and unsulphured molasses. Add egg; mix well. Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder, and spices. Add to molasses mixture; mix well. Chill in refrigerator 1 1/2 hours. Roll out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut with 6-inch gingerbread man cookie cutter. Press in pieces of raisins for eyes, mouth, and buttons. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool. Frost if desired.
YIELD: 1 1/2 dozen.

Choose Spring-Summer Cottons

Cottons with a new flair, a new opulence, a "fool-the-eye" quality that makes them hard to recognize as cottons are the choice of designers for their outstanding collections of Spring-into-Summer!

The opulent look is notable in the lustrous, colorful tapestry weaves, the damasks, the thick, chunky piques.

Cottons that rise and shine, like the cotton satins, failles and surahs, are outstanding. Rich also are the sculptured designs and the straw types.

These are fabrics with all the down-to-earth qualities demanded of cotton—easy washing, easy care, coolness and color-fastness. These are also cottons with all the glamour and richness of the most luxurious fabrics.

Of special note are the cottons which have wrinkle-resistance inherent in their weave and texture. In this group are the terry cloth, so popular for beach cover-ups... also, the new cotton knit, which in a honey-comb weave is combined with a rib knit. Travel-wise, it challenges wrinkles like all good knits. Fashion-wise, it interprets the style trend of the day for a sleek silhouette.

Cotton has never been more important than it is today for daytime ensembles. A "natural" for sports, cotton's fine new styling now gives it representation in all fashion categories.

Long cotton coats in modern prints now ensemble with sheath dresses. Minus the coat, the dress is smart for late-hour dates.

Also in the daytime ensemble class are the sheath dress and short jacket duos. In color-coordinated plain and plain cotton tweed, for example—these are the ensembles for a day in town, or a trip to just about anywhere.

The opulent look is seen to great advantage in the evening vogue. Here designers have taken luxury cottons and added their own "plush" touch to them. Not content with the richness of the original cottons they have encrusted the surfaces with embroidery, studded them with rhinestones, beaded them, tucked them and applied them.

Sheaths and wide-skirted formals are embroidered lavishly. Cotton satin waltz-length formals are embroidered all-over for real glamour. Such dresses—bell out over any number of petticoats you wish to wear underneath. Cottons can't be beat in the world of sportswear. In addition to its sturdy wearability, today's cottons have new texture and color significance. Denims are featured in subtle colors like pink and beige. No-iron crinkled cottons are shown in clear oranges and vivid blues as well as important white and pastels.

From the East come the inspiration for the madras pattern and exotic coloring of new denims!

So—pick your Spring-into-Summer crop of cotton—from one of the most exciting arrays in many fashion years!

Cooking pots and mixing bowls will be easier to clean if you remember these soaking tips. Utensils used for egg, milk, dough or cheese mixtures should be soaked in cold water. Those used for frostings, syrups or candy should be soaked in hot water. Don't soak them overlong.

Lamb Curry Has Touch of Orient

Oriental cookery makes use of American cookery does salt. This condiment, made up of sixteen or more spices, is delightful with lamb. Lamb curry following the recipe below is ideally served with hot rice.

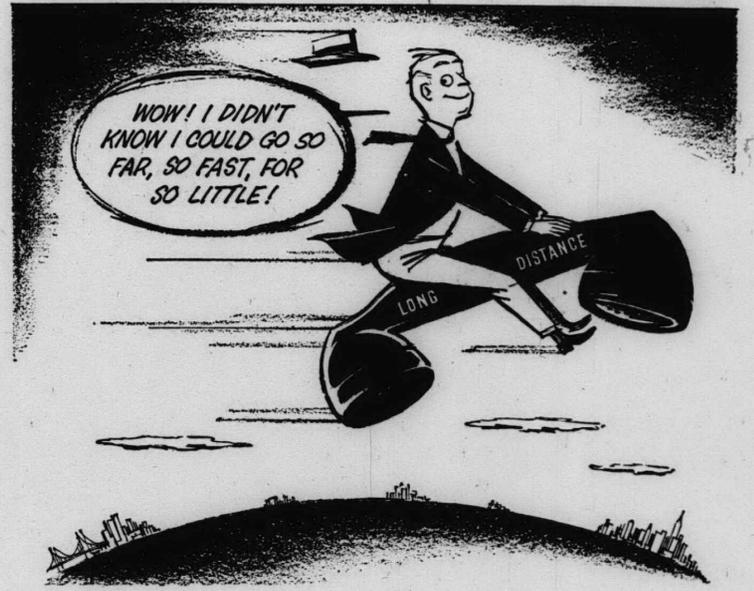

1 1/2 pounds boneless lamb for stew, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 cup water
1/2 cup diced onion
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 cup lard or drippings

6 tablespoons flour
1 to 2 cups milk
2 teaspoons salt
Few grains red pepper
3 cups hot cooked rice
Cut lamb into 1-inch cubes. Add water, cover closely and cook slowly in a slow oven (300° F.) or on top of range until meat is almost done, about 1 hour. Add onions, apples and spices and continue cooking until meat is tender and vegetables are done. Drain meat and vegetables. Make a white sauce of lard or drippings, flour, cooking liquid and enough milk to make 3 cups liquid. Combine meat, vegetables and add white sauce. Heat. Serve on hot rice. 6 servings. Shredded coconut, chopped peanuts, chutney or raisins may be served as accompaniments.

Use your family camera to record more than the activities of the children. "Before" and "after" pictures of a home improvement project will give you proud proof of your talents.

Tools are easily located if their handles are painted bright yellow, orange or red. The paint also will identify them, so they're more likely to be returned by the neighbor who borrows.

BUILD

YOUR DREAM KITCHEN COME TRUE . . . could be the title of this picture! This modern, bright, cheerful kitchen is in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Zipse, 1345 Park Place, Hough Subdivision, in Plymouth. The flooring is Armstrong's spatter linoleum. Notice the smart, neat-appearing Lyons steel cabinets and Formica counter tops and back splashes. The distinctive wallpaper trim lends a pleasing contrast to the color scheme. Linoleum, cabinets, and Formica were supplied by Blunk's, Inc., local home furnishings store. Daniel S. Mills & Son, Plymouth, was the builder.

When all is said and done, a back seat driver is no worse than an armchair housekeeper.

Homes and garages shouldn't take all the attention here, because there are many new products for farm buildings as well which we can't have passing unnoticed. Running a farm is much more economical if the building's constructed sturdily and well insulated.

Some of the materials especially recommended for farm buildings are the Armstrong Building Materials at Roberts Supply. These are designed to give you the most for your money, whether adding new buildings to your farm or remodeling old ones.

For instance, there's Temlok sheathing for strong, well-insulated walls. The sheathing is made of wood fibers compressed into strong, rigid boards. Each fiber is then coated with a film of high-grade asphalt so that it's moisture-proof through the whole board. It comes in large boards so that a large wall area can be covered with the least work. In buildings like hog houses, poultry brooders and dairy barns it does much in protecting the livestock.

In milk and produce houses it helps you get your products to the market in better condition. For the interior walls there is Temlok Insulation Board, which has practical uses in almost all your farm buildings. These panels also come in large sizes which make for less work. And the boards are prefinished in a light ivory, so that you don't have to worry about painting it. Besides many uses in the outbuildings, the Insulation Board also has a multitude of economical uses right in the home.

Then there is insulating wool. The Armstrong insulating wool is made of Fiberglas, spun and drawn into a soft mat. It's flexible and moisture resistant, and of particular interest, it can't burn. The "wool" comes in roll blankets, batt blankets, utility bats or as pouring wool. There is also perimeter insulation, another form of this material, which will insulate the edges of concrete slab floors in buildings without basements.

Eck - Oil Supplier Uses New System to Replenish Tanks

Ever wonder how your fuel oil supplier knows when to fill your fuel oil tank?

It's the degree day system that enables him to know, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau explains.

The degree day system makes it possible for a fuel oil retailer to know exactly when the tank of any one of his hundreds of customers needs filling. It is the system, the bureau points out, that has been an important factor in the increasing popularity of oil as a fully-automatic fuel.

The degree day system is based on the simple fact that the consumption of fuel oil varies with the weather. More specifically, the consumption of fuel varies as the difference between 65 degrees Fahrenheit and the outside temperature.

Thus degree days are obtained by subtracting from 65 the mean found by taking any specific period of time and then dividing the accumulated degree days for this period by the amount of oil or average temperature for the day.

The other important step in providing carefree deliveries of fuel for each customer is to determine the so-called "key factor" for each tank. This is consumed during the same period.

This will provide the key factor which is the rate of consumption for each customer.

The key factor along with other essential information such as the size of the tank and the kind of oil required is kept on a system of visible cards which are indexed. From these cards clerks can tell quickly when tank needs to be filled.

Build Home to Best Location Advantage Sun Orientation, Site Planning Important

To get the most in living comfort and economy out of your new home, careful consideration should be given to orientation and site planning before you build, according to Otto F. Wenzler, architectural consultant of Libbey-Owens Ford Glass Company.

"The modern home, built with modern materials," Mr. Wenzler said, "can be constructed and oriented to put nature to work as part of the house's cooling and heating system."

Two primary factors in orienting the house, according to Mr. Wenzler, are the ascent and descent of the sun's path across the sky as seasons change and the direction of prevailing summer breezes.

Mr. Wenzler explained that in this hemisphere the sun follows a path across the sky close to the southern horizon throughout the day during the cold winter months. In summer, the sun is north of the equator and rides high in the sky.

Here, according to the architectural consultant, is how to capitalize on this phenomenon and actually put the sun to work helping to heat your home:

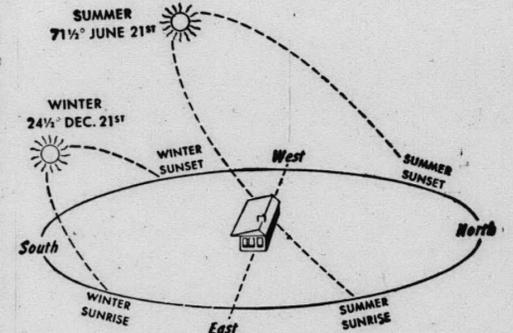

1. Orient the house so that the large Thermopane-glazed windows face south.
2. Build a roof extension or overhang above the large windows. (Since the sun's path varies according to latitude, the width of the overhang should be determined by an architect or competent builder.)
3. Properly insulate the roof and walls and install Thermopane in all windows so as to guard against excessive heat loss in winter and heat gain in summer.

As Mr. Wenzler explained it, here is the way the properly oriented house then works. The low winter sun shines in through the southern windows most of the day. The sun's rays warm the walls, floors and furniture and the re-radiated heat warms the air inside the house. If the house is properly insulated and the windows glazed with insulating glass, the heat is trapped indoors and supplements the artificial heating system.

In the summer, when the sun is high in the sky, Mr. Wenzler said, the roof extension over the southern windows acts as a visor and shades the windows from the direct rays of the sun, thus helping to keep the house cool.

To take advantage of the pre-shade trees shelter the east and west elevations and in winter, when the trees are bare, the sun commended extensive use of ventilating windows, french doors, bathing the interior in welcome and entranceways on the northern elevation. The northern side is also the best place to build the patio, since the house will help to shaded it and it will be cooled by the northern breezes.

Landscaping and shade trees also play an important role in keeping the house comfortable, Mr. Wenzler said. The east and west sides of the house are difficult to protect from the summer sun. Even with a roof extension the morning sun will shine through east windows and the afternoon sun through the west. Properly planned shade trees can solve this problem, according to Mr. Wenzler. In summer the mended the use of Thermopane with the outer pane made of heat absorbing glass, a special blue-green glass which absorbs more than half of the sun's radiant energy.

"It is wasteful to build homes in contradiction to the natural environment," Mr. Wenzler said. "Properly built and oriented the modern home is not only more comfortable but is actually cheaper to heat in winter and easier to cool in summer."

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN-NO. B-292

DESIGN B-292. This compact house is an open room arrangement consisting of a living room which adjoins a combination kitchen-dinette area, two bedrooms of almost the same size, a bath, and a screened porch in the rear. There is also a full basement with the stairs leading from the rear entry. The living room and master bedroom face the front, where there is a generous wide eave overhang and asphalt roof shingles. Other interesting features called for in the plans are the folding doors to separate the living room and dinette area, a wide picture window, convenient coat closets at the entrances, roomy wardrobes in the bedrooms, an easily accessible linen closet, and a recessed tub in bathroom. The floor area is 1,009 sq. ft., with cubage of 18,666 cu. ft. For further information about DESIGN B-292, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Don't Overlook The Smaller Shade Trees

Most home locations require small trees and there are numerous desirable species from which to choose.

Flowering crabapples attain 20 to 25 feet in height, spread luxuriantly and are gorgeous in bloom and in fruit. There are so many excellent varieties that one can select almost any color or shape.

The dogwood makes a fine small shade tree, while its striking blossoms in the spring, red berries and colorful foliage in the fall are a delight to everyone.

Hawthorns, magnolias, with either saucer-like pink, or star-like white flowers; flowering cherries, mountain ash, oxydendrum, with its colorful foliage, and red bud are all exciting trees. Both the golden-rain, or Koeleruteria, and the golden-chain, or Laburnum, have beautiful yellow flowers while albizzia, or silk tree, adds dainty, silk-like foliage.

Baseboard Heat Control

Some types of baseboard heating units are now supplied with dampers, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. Several manufacturers recommended the use of dampers especially on baseboards installed in bedrooms.

Offer Information On Mothproofing

Remember EQ-53? It is the liquid product for mothproofing wool during laundering that made its debut in stores only a year ago, reminds Emma DuBord, home demonstration agent for Wayne County. Now as the spring season for laundering blankets, sweaters, scarfs and other wool washables has come around again, more than 80 firms are manufacturing it. It sells under various trade names, but EQ-53 appears in prominent print on most containers, says Miss DuBord.

This product was developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture entomologists to meet the home-maker's need for an easy, economic, effective way to treat washable woollens against clothes moths and carpet beetles. It is the first insecticide to take a regular place among home laundering supplies. Its unique advantage is that it permits pestproofing to combine with laundering by hand machine. A few spoonfuls in the wash or rinse water leaves an invisible quality of DDT in the wool to ward off insects.

Directions for using this product are given in detail in the publication, "Clothes Moths and Carpet Beetles" (HG-24.) Single copies are free on request from the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, 25, D.C.

REGRET

"O that word regret!"
"There have been nights and mornings when we have sighed:

"Let us alone, regret; we are content to throw thee all our past, so thou wilt sleep for aye; but it is patient and it wakes. It hath not learned to cry itself to sleep, but plainteth on the bed that it is hard."

Long ago when I was a child I knew a middle-aged couple, who seemed very old to me. Her name was Martha, while he was known as the Captain. Their house was a rendezvous, for the children and young people of the neighborhood. I never wearied of going to their home, with its old-fashioned garden and orchard from which we were permitted to gather flowers and fruits.

Oil paintings adorned the walls of the stately drawing room. There was one that I consistently wondered about because it was always covered by a thick veil. I longed to see it but my grandmother told me that it would be rude to show curiosity about it, unless my host volunteered to let me into the secret.

I was almost grown before I saw the picture. One cold day I was visiting my two friends. The Captain and I were sitting by a log fire in the parlor, while Martha was busied about her duties in another part of the house.

Suddenly I said, "Captain, did you ever have any children of your own?" The smile faded from his face. With a sad expression he went to the portrait and drew the veil aside. "That was my little girl, but she died fifteen years ago. It is a perfect likeness. It was done by a great artist when she was eight years old. A year later she died."

I saw before me a child of entrancing loveliness. Her curls were like spun gold and her eyes the color of wood violets. The face was one of the most winsome that I had ever beheld.

"Why do I keep it veiled?" He echoed my thoughts. "Because it breaks my heart to look at it. Sometimes I come in here alone. Drawing the covering aside: I gaze upon her face for a long time."

Unconsciously the tears were trickling down his pale cheeks. "My dear," the Captain continued, "regret is a terrible thing. I broke my little daughter's heart though I loved her better than anything on earth."

"Why, Captain," I exclaimed, "How could that be? You are so kind and good."

"I was a drunkard. I began as a gentleman-drinker. I thought that I was too strong to let it gain the ascendancy over me but it did. I became the slave of alcohol. Little Mary (she was named after my mother) would run and hide from me when she'd see me come staggering in under the influence of liquor, though at other times she'd run to meet me, and throw herself in my arms."

"One day I came in after carousing for hours in a bar room. I was all befuddled with alcohol and in a bad humor when I stumbled over her little dog. In a fury I gave the innocent creature a savage kick. A loud scream from Mary sobered me and I realized what I had done."

"Did you kill the little dog, Captain?"

"No! but I cruelly injured him. When I retired that night I heard Mary softly sobbing in her little bed, as she cuddled her whimpering pet close to her. I lay awake all night, the most miserable creature on earth. I would have given worlds to undo it but what is done is done and nothing can ever change it."

Here the Captain, overcome by emotion, was silent for a long time. Then he continued in a low steady voice:

"Next morning little Mary was delirious with fever. She never regained consciousness but died in a few days. I have not tasted a drop of liquor from that day to this. Oh, if fathers could profit from my experience, surely they would not bruise the hearts of innocent children by cruelty and neglect. Now you know why the portrait is veiled. Oh God, if only I could forget but I cannot. That heart-breaking scream will ring in my ears until my dying day. I have repented but regret still gnaws at my heart."

Helen: I don't see what you find so attractive in that young man. He is neither handsome nor intellectual.

Lou: No, but he has the reputation of buying lovely engagement rings.

Teacher: What is a story? Seventh Grader: It a large bunch of paragraphs.

Moravian Fruit Bread

Favorite recipe of Mrs. Howard Raaflaub of 172 North Mill street is the one for Moravian fruit bread. The fruit bread may be made into loaves or may be formed into hot cross buns. The Raaflaubs have three children, David, Laura and Mary, who are also fruit bread fans.

Moravian Fruit Bread
3 cups milk, scalded
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
Yeast, dissolved in 1/4 cup warm water
6 to 8 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound raisins
1 pound chopped citron, peel and fruit mix

Optional, 1/2 cup almonds, sliced and blanched.
Scald two cups of milk and let cool. Add dissolved yeast mixture, three cups flour and salt. Mix well. Cover and set aside to rise in a warm place. (Light oven for one minute, then turn off, for suitable rising temperature.) After this has risen, scald third cup of milk, add butter and stir until melted, then combine with dough. Add the sugar and balance of flour, kneading the dough until no longer sticky. Use more flour if necessary.

Combine the fruit, mix in a little flour to coat, and then add to the dough, mixing well. Cover and let rise again until double in bulk. Shape in small loaves, place in loaf pans, and sprinkle with the sliced almonds. Let rise for two hours. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 40 minutes.

Mrs. Howard Raaflaub and daughters, Mary, left, and Laura, set out to prepare Moravian fruit bread.

To make into hot cross buns roll the dough to one inch thickness, cut in biscuit size and place on cookie sheet two inches apart. Glaze with egg white in water.

With a sharp knife make a cross on each bun. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 minutes. When taken from the oven brush with sugar water. The cross may be iced with any plain frosting.

Not Color But Texture Is Key To The Quality of Garden Soil

Outdoor planting can begin in your garden as soon as the soil has thawed out and dried sufficiently to work. If your soil is stiff, hard to spade and cultivate, slow to allow water to drain through it, every spring something should be added to make it more porous.

Beginning gardeners are often persuaded that what is needed is a few inches of "black dirt." Even if your soil is clay, excavated for the foundation of a new extremely hard composition. Instead of sand, however limestone can be mixed with clay, with excellent results. Limestone causes the fine clay particles to combine into sandsize aggregates which will retain moisture, while allowing air to enter freely and excess water to drain off.

Do not be afraid to use crushed limestone freely, since it will not make clay soil harmfully alkaline, no matter how much you use. The clay has a "buffer with it thoroughly. Spade the organics into sandy soil also, they will hold moisture and store up plant food for the plants to use, instead of allowing it to wash away.

Spading alone is a fine soil conditioner, and if planned sensibly is not a difficult chore. Mark the area to be spaded as a whole and divide into sections, one for each day. Limit the day's work to an hour, until you become hardened to it.

Spread material to be spaded in evenly over the whole area.

Begin by opening up a trench at one end of the day's section, throwing the soil removed in a pile nearby. Then dig an adjoining trench, with spade at right angles to its length, throwing the soil and organic matter into the first trench. Continue this until the day's work is over, resting at home, that is the wrong solution. Forget the color of the soil and concentrate on its porosity, a quality without which any soil black, yellow, or red, will give you trouble.

At the other extreme are soils in beach areas, of almost pure sand. These are altogether too porous, holding neither moisture nor plant food, but letting everything wash away.

Both types of soil need the same treatment which is the addition of decayed vegetable or animal material, such as sewage sludge, muck or peat dug from old bogs, well decayed manure, commercial peat moss, leaf mould or compost from a compost pile.

It is seldom advisable to mix sand with clay or clay with sand. Both are excellent to have in soil but together they often produce capacity which prevents this, say the scientists.

All the materials used to improve your soil should be mixed

The taking of pet pictures rates almost as much interest as the snapshooting of children. Aside from the technical requirements for successful animal photography, this work demands patience and is helped along with a knowledge of the habits and characteristics of the subject animals.

A amateur photographers, whether beginners or advanced workers, can utilize time to create unusual and appealing pictures of their pets. However, it remains for the housewife to be in an enviable position to take advantage of many unexpected picture-taking opportunities—providing, of course, a camera is loaded and at hand. The average household will include a floppy-eared dog or an inquisitive cat and many times during the day when other family members are away at work or school, the chance to latch onto a prize picture will present itself. That's why most experts on animal photography will advise you to keep a camera handy and shutter away when particularly appealing situations occur.

If you are taking Junior's picture indoors it is also wise to keep a loaded Flash gun handy. Come to THE PHOTOGRAPHIC CENTER and allow us to show you how simple and effective FLASH PHOTOGRAPHY can be.

This is the 1954 Chevrolet Bel Air 2-Door Sedan. With 3 series, Chevrolet offers a model to meet every individual and family need.

These facts about the New Chevrolet can help you make an important decision

Don't you agree that buying a new car calls for careful consideration? Regardless of make, it involves a substantial amount of money and a lot of future satisfaction. This information can give you a better idea of comparative value and help you decide which make to buy.

A good customer of ours was telling us the other day how he sizes up a new car. Because he's bought a number of them over the years, we were interested in what he had to say. We think you will be, too.

Actually, what he does is to ask about seven basic questions. The answers give a pretty complete picture of the car and its comparative value. Here's what he wants to know.

How well do I like its looks?

That's one question, of course, that only you can answer. You're the one who buys the car and you, above anybody else, should be proud of its appearance.

All we can tell you is that we hear a lot of nice things about Chevrolet's new styling. People seem to like the new front-end and rear-end designs, and the way the bumpers curve even farther around the fenders. They like the new styling touches all around the car and the wide choice of bright new colors and two-tone combinations. A good many tell us that Chevrolet has a decided edge over the other cars in its field for smooth and graceful lines.

Who makes the body?

This question takes in much more territory than the appearance of the car. It involves the quality of the interior as well as the strength and safety of the body construction. That's why we think it worth your consideration that Chevrolet has the only Body by Fisher in the low-price field.

You can see the difference outside and inside. We'd especially like you to look over the new interiors. Just sit in the car, if you will. Feel the quality of the fabrics and notice the more generous use of vinyl trim.

In all these ways, you'll find evidence of superior quality and workmanship. And after all, isn't that what you would expect in Body by Fisher? As you know, Fisher is the largest and most famous manufacturer of automobile bodies in the world. Doesn't it stand to reason that Fisher can build extra quality into the Chevrolet body? It's there and you can see it.

What's under the hood?

You hear a great deal of talk these days about engine power. The truth is that the number of horsepower isn't nearly as important as what the horsepower does for you.

In this year's Chevrolet, you get increased power in two finer engines. There's the "Blue-Flame 125" engine teamed with Powerglide automatic transmission and optional on all models at extra cost. In gearshift models, you get the more powerful "Blue-Flame 115" engine.

But, actually, the increase in horsepower is only a sort of by-product of design changes made for other reasons. Chevrolet engineers were after greater engine efficiency, not just greater power. So, you get improved acceleration, with greater and safer passing ability. You get quieter, smoother operation. You climb the steep hills with new ease.

How hungry is it for gasoline?

A car's reputation for, and record of, economy of operation is certainly an important consideration to most people. We'd be glad to have you compare Chevrolet in this respect with any car at any price.

And, in the case of this new Chevrolet, you do not have to sacrifice economy for finer performance and more horsepower. That's because the Chevrolet engines are high-compression engines. Their compression ratio of 7.5 to 1 is the highest in any of the leading low-priced cars.

This means simply that the engine compresses, or squeezes, the fuel mixture to a greater degree in order to wring more work out of it. That's how Chevrolet is able to give you an important gain in performance along with money-saving gasoline mileage—and on regular gas, of course.

Is it up to date in features?

We can't think of a new feature or development you might want that you can't have on the new Chevrolet.

Now you can have Chevrolet's zippy and thrifty Powerglide automatic transmission on any model. You can have Power Steering on all models and at a new, lower price. You can have Automatic Window and Seat Controls on any Bel Air or "Two-Ten" model, and you can have Power Brakes on any model equipped with Powerglide. All are, of course, optional features at extra cost.

How popular a car is it?

When you come right down to it, there's no better way to judge the satisfaction a car gives its owners than by its popularity. How many people buy it and keep on buying it?

Well, as you may know, Chevrolet is by far the most popular car in this country. That's true today and it's been true for a good many years now. But it couldn't be true—or wouldn't be true—unless Chevrolet gave its owners an extra measure of satisfaction and value.

How much does it cost?

There's a short, sweet answer to that one: Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. This lower cost is made possible by the greater production facilities and purchasing power of the world's largest manufacturer of automobiles. That is why Chevrolet can offer you all the advantages we've told you about here—and many more, too.

We'd be more than glad to have you see all these things for yourself and to try out this new Chevrolet on the road. We'll be happy to see you at any time.

THE 14th ANNUAL Vermontville maple syrup festival will be staged this Saturday—but Plymouthites don't have to journey that far to enjoy this delicious treat on their morning pancakes! Thanks to the weekend efforts of Michigan Bell Telephone executives, M. L. Kirchhoff and Art Meyers, Plymouth-made syrup is now on sale at the Kirchhoff farm on North Territorial. In their spare time the pair boiled the sap they gathered on a sugar bush 10 miles west of Plymouth.

FROM POMONA, CALIFORNIA comes word of the work of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Munro, former Plymouthites, in organizing a new church for their suburban community. It's called the South Hills Presbyterian church and is the newest in the Los Angeles Presbytery. Mr. Munro is an elder of the church, while Mrs. Munro is vice-president of the Women's Guild as well as director of the junior boys' choir. Their boys, Larry and Timothy, became members of the church on Palm Sunday. The Munros "keep-in-touch" with Plymouth through The Mail and were also brought up to date last fall when visited by Plymouth's Mr. and Mrs. Al Glassford, writes Mrs. Munro.

NAMED TO THE DEAN'S honor list at Michigan State college for the second time was Sandra Walch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Walch of Church street. Sandra is a junior.

JOHN SUMNER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sumner of West Ann Arbor trail, was awarded an official sweater of the Michigan State college 1953 championship football team for his services as assistant manager of the squad. In his sophomore year, this is John's second season as staff member of the squad.

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Game men live-trapped 186 deer during the first three months of 1954 at Casino wildlife experiment station in the central upper peninsula.

The total set a record for department operations. The former record of 120 deer was set in 1952. Last year, in the same trapline, game workers captured 106 deer.

About 40 were kept this year for experiments under the deer management program. The remainder were cartagged and released.

Trapping work has been suspended for the season.

Game men plan to start trapping sharp-tailed grouse in the Seney Refuge in late April or early May, depending on the weather, conservation workers note.

A number of the birds will be transported immediately to southeastern Ontario for release as payment for a shipment of Hungarian partridge the Canadians turned over to Michigan earlier in the year.

The partridge were released in the eastern upper peninsula in habitat similar to their Ontario homeland. Conservationists hope both groups of birds will be able to prosper in their new surroundings.

Deer seemed to have homing instincts.

A brief pilot experiment at Casino wildlife station in the central upper peninsula this winter tested this belief and game men note that it seems to back up earlier reports.

Some wild deer, when live-trapped near the station, were removed a number of miles and released.

Several returned to the area where captured and at least one was moved twice from the trap area.

Others, however, carried across a main highway and released on the opposite side, seemingly did not return; as though the highway itself might form a blockade against their movements.

Field workers say thus far results are far from complete; more of this work is planned next winter.

Two groups of hardy pioneers have pushed through snow and ice at Bay City park to become the first campers of the season at the popular state park on Saginaw Bay.

One of the families is from Indiana first registered camper from outstate reported in the parks system this year.

The two groups missed, however, by a wide margin being "first of the year." That honor went to a determined camper who huffed and puffed his trailer through snow drifts at Higgins Lake state park about two weeks ago.

Subzero weather across Michigan, following a period of melting snow, brought new trouble to Michigan's deer herd last week and aggravated the present touch-and-go food problem.

"Some cases" of starved deer in the western upper peninsula were reported, first of the winter for the northern area.

Cold temperatures after the warm spell crusted remaining snow and made it tough going for deer in their weakened, pre-spring condition.

All across the northern part of the peninsula, game men say, deer are still rather closely confined to winter deeryard areas. Warm weather must come soon, they say, or the herd can be in more difficulties.

The situation in the lower peninsula was also worsened briefly by cold weather last week. Continued reports of starving and weakened deer in the Mio district were backed up by similar reports from Montmorency and Alpena counties.

A happy note, however, sparked most reports from below the Straits; deer seem to be ranging freely in many areas. Game men say warm weather and a quick "greenup" could bring a sudden halt to starvation losses.

The people of Grand Haven have slated a day-long cleanup campaign again this year for the state park near their Lake Michigan city, park manager Louis Haney reports.

Haney says the Chamber of Commerce is planning the work. Debris from the winter months will be removed from the park, snow fences taken down and summer equipment set out.

State fisheries workers have since mid-March tagged about 700 spawning walleyes entering the mouth of the Muskegon River, the conservation department reports.

The taggings help determine the ratio of fish lifted over the Newaygo power dams in comparison to the total number of spawning walleyes.

In this way, the effect of the "Newaygo lift" on total walleye numbers in the lower Muskegon River can be determined.

Last year, about 300 walleyes were tagged in the downstream operations. Later, at Newaygo, 6600 were lifted over the dams, including a number of the tagged fish.

By statistical computation, it was found that about 100,000 walleyes had moved upriver to spawn.

This year, with many more fish already tagged, workers are looking forward to more adequate results.

The Newaygo lift has been in operation a number of years as a compromise to satisfy anglers both above and below the dams.

John F. Weiler, manager at Algonac state park, says he finds pastime as "a scavenger and junk collector."

Last week, his saving ways paid off.

The park camping area needed an automatic system to turn lights on and off in four campground buildings.

To purchase the system few would be too expensive.

Weiler collected:

1. Relays from an old electric pinball machine.
2. 500 feet of scrap telephone wire.
3. A used time clock ($4 for repairs).
4. Two old main switches.
5. A few new fixtures ($5)

He and his helpers put the items together and came up with the necessary lighting system. It will service campers this year in the popular park on the St. Clair River.

Fined for Theft Of Auto Parts

Three youths arrested for the theft of car parts and charged as being disorderly persons were heard by Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo last week and each given fines of $50.

One of the three, Wilbur M. Reed, 612 Blunk, was arrested April 5 as he was taking fender skirts from a car parked behind a downtown store. His attorney entered a plea of not guilty at the April 7 hearing, but the plea was changed to guilty in last week's appearance. He was given a fine of $50 and placed on probation for two years.

Two 18-year-old boys were given the same fine for taking hubcaps off a car on Kellogg street on April 13. A neighbor saw the boys and their car and reported the incident to police.

The government can ask to see your tax records up to five years after you file that return. So it's a good idea to keep them around for that long.

Money is probably called the root of all evil because we have to dig down for it so often.

One worry brings on another and before long you have several worries to replace the one.

NOTICE OF BUDGET HEARING CITY OF PLYMOUTH, MICH.

BEAUTY TREATMENT THAT GIVES
19% MORE VISIBILITY
The tomorrow-styled, back-swept windshield on all '54 Buicks is the most modern note in styling, and a big step-up in your view of the road.

This stunning "hardtop" model is the Buick SPECIAL Riviera—V8-powered, and priced just a few dollars above similar models of the "low-price three's!"

TAKE THE WHEEL—just for the joy of it

(Another big reason for trying a '54 Buick)

UNLESS you've tried it yourself, you're going to find it hard to believe.

But when you press the pedal of a 1954 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo,* joy reigns—and so do you.

You feel the joyous thrill of commanding instant response, the solid "take hold," the firm authority of your acceleration.

You feel a joyous exhilaration at the utter smoothness of the forward carry—a completely infinite smoothness that is there every inch of the way.

And you feel a deep and abiding joy at the simplicity of it all, the ease with which you drive, the blessed restfulness of travel with a truly automatic transmission working its wonders.

As we said, you'll find this hard to believe—until you try it yourself.

Until you try TT Dynaflo with the stepped-up V8 horsepowers of the 1954 Buicks. Until you try it with the new buoyancy and the new handling sureness of the improved Million Dollar Ride. Until you try it with the new visibility, the new luxury, the new "look of tomorrow" styling that are part and parcel of every 1954 Buick.

So, we want you to be our guest at the wheel of a 1954 Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflo this week.

During April, 1,500,000 people will guest-drive the 1954 Buicks, and join the Thrill Of The Month Club by doing so. We cordially invite you to join them, for a real thrill. Call us today.

Who's New In Plymouth

FORMER DETROITERS are new residents Mr. and Mrs. Dick Papes of 370 Parkview. The Papes and their two children, Peggy, 2, and Kathy, eight months, moved into their Plymouth home about two weeks ago. Mr. Papes is manager and a partner in Papes' House of Gifts on West Ann Arbor trail. As shown here, Kathy, who is clutching a stuffed animal, is the center of attraction.

Chamber to Sponsor Mother of Year Contest

Somewhere in Plymouth there's a mother who will have an outstanding Mother's Day this year and she'll owe it all to her son or daughter!

Reason for the very special Mother's Day is the Chamber of Commerce sponsored "Mother of the Year" contest which is currently in progress. And not only does Plymouth's Mother of the Year win a galaxy of gifts from 16 merchants, but there's a $25 Saving Bond for the lucky son or daughter.

Rules for the contest are simple. Any Plymouth child under 17 years of age may enter. Posters with entry blanks attached may be found in most all Plymouth's retail stores. All the child must do is write in 25 words or less why they believe their mother should be chosen Plymouth's Mother of the Year. Entries must be in the Chamber of Commerce by noon May 3. Miss Margaret Dunning is chairman of the event.

The merchants participating in the contest and the gifts each has for the winning mother are: Mayflower hotel, Mother's Day dinner for the family (by reservation); Gram's, handbag; Beyer's Drugs, cosmetic set; Minerva's, $5 gift certificate; Willoughby's, choice of any pair of shoes; Geo. Kennitz Candies, box of candy; Dunning's, nylon night gown; Community Pharmacy, Parker 51 pen; Fashion Shoes, choice of any pair of shoes; Papes' House of Gifts, 7-piece salad set in dogwood pattern; Penn Theater, 5 theater passes; Peterson's Drug, Dorsay Fant tas Tique cologne; Fisher's Shoe Store, pair of casual shoes; Cassidy's, nylon hose; Heide's, combination flower box; and The Plymouth Mail, personalized stationery.

V.F.W. News

Tonight will be the last practice in advance of installation Sunday afternoon, April 25 at 1 p.m. All out-going officers, color guards, flag and banner bearers—please attend! A smooth-running installation is to be the prime objective to installing officers and we can do our part by "knowing" our part. Past Department Commander "Goldie" Slater and Department President Ethel Gagner are to be the installing officers.

This will be the last article under the outgoing publicity chairman, Marie Norman. Next week and the following year, Marion Luttermoser will be doing the honors under the heading of the VFW News. Marie wishes to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has contributed items this past year. Remember, all incoming officers and chairmen, give your publicity items for publication to Marion, this year's publicity chairman. Keep in mind that publicity wins for us public recognition and support for the work of our organization. The cooperation of The Mail this past year was very valuable and much appreciated.

Community Fund Gives Out Checks

Four more checks were given out recently by the Plymouth Community Fund to cover amounts allocated to these organizations by the 1954 budget. The Veterans Memorial Foundation received $2200 for maintenance and upkeep of the Memorial building on Main street. The Visiting Nurses Association received $1200, the Girl Scouts, $1700, and the Plymouth Dental Fund, $300. The Community Fund budget committee is beginning to study the budget for next year. Anyone interested is invited to sit in on the next meeting on Wednesday, May 5, in the Veterans Memorial building.

O.E.S. NEWS

Plymouth Chapter No. 115 of the Order of the Eastern Star is holding its Spring luncheon and card party at the Masonic Temple on Tuesday, April 27, at 12:30 p.m.

Remember members, anyone having anything to donate for our bazaar and bake sale will be gladly received. We also need some prizes.

Elsa Gerst has tickets for the luncheon and party. Please make reservations early by phoning Plymouth 483-M.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Meets Great Success

Another successful cookie sale was turned in by the local Girl Scouts last Saturday. The Scouts sold 600 dozen sandwich cookies and 500 dozen mint cookies, reported Mrs. Hugo Russell, chairman of the sale. The sale is an annual event to raise money for Girl Scout troops.

Cookies were sold at Kresge's D. & C., Beyer's and Plymouth Hardware. Mrs. Russell said that the Scouts are grateful to the stores for allowing them space and to the many people who purchased the cookies.

Dr. Timpona Announces New Stamp to Be Sold

Dr. George Timpona, postmaster, announced that a new commemorative postage stamp will be placed on sale locally on May 8.

The central design of the three-cent Nebraska Territorial commemorative is a reproduction of the "sower" which surmounts the dome of the capital. In the background on the purple stamp is a view of the impressive Mitchell Pass with Scott's Bluff dominating the right side of the scene.

Elections of New High School Officers to Be Held on May 4

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Elections will now commence and political war rage until May 4, the fatal school election day.

Thus runs the battle cry in the halls of the local high school as candidates are being chosen to represent their individual classes and the school as a whole.

As a result of the class caucuses held April 13, the following students will compete on the final ballots: Mayor, Jane Nulty and Charles McKenna; Vice-Mayor, Sally Black and Pieter Schipper; Secretary of Student Council, Virginia Hart and Sally Morgan; Student Council Treasurer, Earl Fulton and Sally Williams.

Next year's hopefuls for senior officers are: President, Tom Rowe and Wayne Smith; Vice-President, Denny Luker and Jane Smith; Secretary, Thalia Bairas and Kathy Bernash; Treasurer, Darlene Adams and Mildred Green; and Student Council, Dave Bowen, Joan Donnelly, Bob Middleton, Tom Sawyer, Joyce Smith, Nancy West, Lee Juvie and Jim Zukosky.

Eleventh grade: President, Gail Foreman and Chuck Moiso; Vice-President, Jim Dyer and Marilyn Paul; Secretary, Clare Bollinger and Judy Richwine; Treasurer, Jim Parfy and John Small; Student Council, Patsy Clifford, Madeline Jones, Jim Keith, Joanne Pankow, Barbara Smith, Ray Spigarelle, Robert Young and Jerry Steele.

Tenth grade: President, Jerry King and Chuck Westover; Vice-President, Joan Basset and Carol Clarke; Secretary, Fred Heidt and John Williams; Treasurer, Betty Finney and Kay Porter; Student Council, Mary Agnew, Barbara Erdelyi, Jerry Hearl, Kathleen Greenlee, Elaine Keith, Roberta Lidgard, Cliff Tait and Gerald Frost.

High School Band To Compete In State Festival

Plymouth high school's band will join 73 junior and senior high school bands and orchestras Saturday, April 24 at Michigan State college's annual state band and orchestra festival.

More than 4,000 young musicians from throughout the state will take part. As members of 53 bands and 20 orchestras, they will be judged in four sessions running simultaneously during the day.

Participating groups have received first division ratings in earlier district festivals. Each will play a warm-up selection, a required number, a piece chosen by the group, and — at sight — a fourth composition not previously practiced.

Professor Leonard Falcone, M.S.C. band director and chairman, said the bands and orchestras will be given one of five ratings between "best conceivable performance" and "much room for improvement."

Judging will take place in the M.S.C. auditorium for all Class A and part of the Class B bands, in the Jenison Fieldhouse for the rest of the Class B bands, in the music auditorium for Class D bands and junior high school orchestras, and in the East Lansing high school auditorium for senior high school orchestras.

High School Teachers to Attend Communication Skills Meetings

The Union building on the campus of Michigan State college in East Lansing will be the site of the Communication Skills Conference sponsored by the Continuing Education Service at Michigan State college, on Thursday, April 29.

Registration to the conference will be held at 9 and the general opening session will begin at 9:45. Harvey Overton, head of the department of English, senior high school, Battle Creek, will speak to the group on "Our Potential for Progress." Following his speech, John Weimar, Director of Freshman English, University of Michigan, will speak on "Some Success and Some Failures in College Composition and Some Conjectured Reasons Thereof."

represented by Miss Elizabeth McDonald and Mrs. Nancy Coates, who hope to gain information on their everyday teaching problems.

Britain's crown colony of Hong Kong, in the shadow of Red China, is only a little larger than New York City.

Y-Teens to Celebrate YWCA Centennial

Celebrating their centennial, the 100th birthday of the Y.W.C.A., on May 5, 1954, are the Plymouth Y-Teens.

Invitations have been sent out to the majority of the past Girl Reserve and Y-Teen members by the correspondence committee which is headed by Sally Ford.

All the past members of the Plymouth organization are invited to the celebration regardless whether an invitation was received or not.

Group meetings will begin at 10:30 and will last throughout the day. Representatives from schools may attend any group meeting they choose. The topics at the various group meetings are "Developing a Unit on Composition," "Stimulating Classroom Participation Through Discussion Procedures," "Explaining Administrative Problems in the Teaching of the Language Arts in Public Schools and Colleges," "Developing an Integrated Program in the Language Arts for the Public Schools," "Developing a High School Listening Program," and "Classroom Techniques in Developmental Reading."

Bird School P.T.A. to Hear Reverend Richards

The Reverend Robert Richards will be guest speaker at the April 27 meeting of the Bird school Parent-Teacher association. The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. in the school gymnasium, with election of officers taking place during the business meeting.

Reverend Richards, pastor of the Newburg Methodist church, will speak on "Your Community and You." The P.T.A. urges all interested persons to attend the meeting to hear the minister's inspiring message.

Kay Ingram Wins State Scholarship

Kay Frances Ingram, a Plymouth high school senior, was awarded one of 380 entrance scholarships granted by Michigan State college, according to J. Robert Stewart, scholarship director at the college.

The awards, which become effective in the fall term, 1954, were on the basis of scholarship, leadership and citizenship qualities displayed in high school. The entrance scholarships are awarded for one year, but may be renewed for four years if the student maintains a satisfactory scholastic average.

Officers to Be Elected By Smith School P.T.A.

New officers will be elected at the meeting of the Smith school Parent-Teacher association on Tuesday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium. Entertainment will be offered by the Smith school band and the junior choir.

Sodality at Madonna College Elects New Officers for 1954-55

New officers have been chosen to lead the Sodality of Our Lady at Madonna college for the year 1954-55.

Taking over the office of perfect of the Sodality is Leona Wisniewski, sophomore. Leona graduated from Catholic Central high school in Alpena. She is now majoring in history and minoring in social studies and elementary school curriculum.

Substituting in her absence will be the vice-prefect, Cecilia Jakubielski, also a sophomore. Cecilia, this year's Sodality treasurer, is a graduate of St. Florian high school, Hamtramck. She plans to major in history and minor in French and elementary school curriculum.

Two freshmen have been elected to the positions of secretary and treasurer. The secretary, Mary Ann Niewierowski, graduate of Holy Family Academy, Chicago, Illinois, will record the minutes for the Sodality this coming year. Mary Ann is majoring in home economics and minoring in art.

Joan Empe takes over as the new treasurer. A graduate of Our Lady of Mount Carmel high school, Wyandotte, Joan plans to major in sociology and minor in history.

The new officers will be installed in the early part of June. The time intervening before this installation will also take over the last meetings of this school year.

The outgoing officers of the Sodality are: prefect, Phyllis Hebda; vice-prefect, Alice Wolak, and secretary, Beatrice Czenkusz.

On Friday, April 30, the Sodality of Our Lady at Madonna college is sponsoring a dance called the "Bunny-Hop." It will be held in the College Social Hall, 36800 Schoolcraft Rd., Livonia. The proceeds from the dance will be turned over as a donation toward the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C.

Democrats to Hold Spring Whing Ding

A galaxy of Democratic officials and party candidates will attend the Seventeenth Congressional District Democrats' annual Spring Whing Ding on Friday, May 7, at Carpenters' Hall, 22521 Grand River. Music for both square and round dancing, beginning at 9 p.m., will be provided by Jim Schultze and his popular five-piece band.

"Advance ticket sales indicate we will have well over 1,000 in attendance," said dance chairman, Mrs. Donn Ackenhuisen.

"All residents of the district are invited to meet prominent Democrats from Wayne County," said the district chairman.

"Friends who live outside the Seventeenth District will be welcomed," he added.

In addition to the dancing in the spacious ballroom, refreshments, games and other entertainment will be offered. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

AAUW to Hold Discussion Meet

The legislative study group of the American Association of University Women will have charge of the general discussion meeting on April 29 at 8 p.m. in the Homemaking room at the high school.

Mrs. John Barnes is chairman of the Legislative study group. Each study group chairman will moderate a discussion which is related to their particular group interest.

A coffee hour will follow the program and business meeting.

The regional and state conventions of the American Association of University Women will be held in Indianapolis on April 23 and 24. Mrs. Ray Collins, president elect of the Plymouth branch, and Mrs. R. E. Houston will attend as delegates.

Christian Science Lecturer Tells Of Trust in God

You can rely on God, divine Love, for the solving of problems not merely with "beautiful hope," but with expectation of "dynamic power," Arch Bailey of Sacramento, California, told a large audience here last week.

Far from impractical, prayer based on spiritual understanding of God as divine Love actually heals sickness, discord, fear, and moral problems, Mr. Bailey said. He added that many people are proving daily that this is true.

On nationwide tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he spoke under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Plymouth. His lecture was on "Christian Science: The Joyous Way of Love."

To regard love as only a mood of meditation is a mistake, Mr. Bailey said. Love transforms a person's whole experience, he declared.

"Jesus taught that there were no greater commandments than love for God and love for one's fellow men," he said.

Mr. Bailey told how knowledge of God as divine Love healed a young boy of severe pain.

Mr. Bailey said the boy was an inmate at a school for delinquent boys where he was the Christian Science worker.

"Each Saturday, with the permission of the medical doctor," Mr. Bailey said, "I was allowed to go to the hospital with our literature. One afternoon as I approached the hospital it was very evident . . . that someone was in great pain.

"As I entered, an attendant and nurse met me and said: 'We will be glad to turn this case over to you. This boy's suffering has been going on for a night and a day.'

"All the means of handling pain, according to their belief, had failed.

"As I passed his door, the boy cried out, asking if I could not do something for him. When I entered his room, he asked if I would pray for him. I asked if he would repeat the Lord's Prayer with me. He said he would, and I led in the prayer.

"As we finished he was . . . still in full manifestation of the pain. I was led to speak to him of the spiritual interpretation of the prayer, as given in the Christian textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy. Then after a moment . . . I spoke several times. 'Our Father—Mother God, all-harmonious.'

"This spiritual Truth was the 'Peace, be still' to his troubled thought. The pain had vanished. He was healed. He was out of the hospital in a few days, and in a few weeks I saw him on his way home."

Describing Christian Science as "a religion of sustained prayer," Mr. Bailey said: "This way of following the Christ embraces the healing of sin, disease, and death, includes the model of thought and action found in the Sermon on the Mount, and leads on to the origin and ultimate of all being, God." This is divine Love in action, he said.

Every man knows how a wife should be managed but few seem able to act on their knowledge.

Survey Shows National Baby Week Observance Being Ignored Here

This is National Baby Week and according to originators of the observance, it is established to "interest the public in babies."

There's no doubt about it—us citizens do owe something to babyhood. Informed observers point out that if it weren't for babies, civilization would be in rather sad shape by now. But despite this important role, local citizens seem to be ignoring the week completely, according to a survey conducted by The Mail.

For instance, of the first half dozen citizens asked, "How do you plan to celebrate National Baby Week?" not one had given the observance a simple solemn thought. Obviously, the National Baby Week planners would expect citizens to invite the stork in for a visit during the celebration, but literature sent out from Baby Week headquarters in New York City did not go into detail.

Perhaps the public's disinterest in National Baby Week stems from the fact that they are so busy celebrating other observances. We are now in the midst of National Honey for Breakfast Week, undoubtedly designed to forestall unemployment among bees. Next week will be a busy one. There will be National Invest in America Week, National Tobacco Distribution Week, United States-Canada Good Will Week, National Coin Week and National Garden Week.

So if you have a few extra moments while you're whooping it up during all these celebrations, give a cheer for the babies across the nation. After all, they'll be paying the taxes we're making.

Grange Gleanings

There was not a very large attendance at last week's Grange meeting owing to the heavy rain. We hope for better next time.

We are very sorry to report that Mr. Hodge is again in Acheson hospital and is very ill.

There were 28 members from our Grange who went up to Pittsfield last week Tuesday night to the Pomona meeting. The degree work was very pretty and well done. There was a large crowd, and it was a pleasant evening.

All set for the big night? When? Why, tomorrow night of course at Plymouth Grange hall. You will surely miss something if you are not there to enjoy the banquet, the speakers, music and also the visiting with some of the old members who are going to be there.

The various committees have worked hard to make this anniversary a success so every member should come and show that they appreciate the efforts that have been made.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Amrhein are home again in Wayne from a month's vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn had as their visitor over the week end Miss Margaret Lunn of Kent, Ohio. Miss Lunn is Mr. Lunn's sister.

Plymouth Thinclads Nipped by Bentley

Plymouth high school lost its first duel track meet in some time last Wednesday when Bentley emerged the winner by the narrowest of margins, 55 to 54. The relay race decided the issue. The Bulldogs won that by inches, as Jerry Kelley nearly nipped Kachenko, but put on a tremendous burst of speed in the final 100 to nearly take the relay and the meet.

Captain Kelly was a double winner when he copped the 100 and 220 yard dashes, but Kachenko was high point man in the meet with 12 1/4 points to his credit. The Bentley lad was second in the 10 and 220, first in the broad jump, and ran a leg of the relay. Kelly had 10 1/2 points and Jerry Swain also copped two first places in the hurdles to earn 10 points for Plymouth.

Times were fairly good for so early in the year, but the clocking in the 220-yard dash and 180 low hurdles had to be arrived at by deduction because of a faulty watch.

Next Thursday Allen Park comes here for a track meet and another good meet is in prospect for local cinder fans.

Results of the Bentley meet are as follows:

- 120 HH—17.1 seconds—Swain, first; Willett, second.
- Medley Relay—2.44 — Plymouth, first (Juve, Petro, J. Keith, Danol).
- 100 dash—10.5 seconds—Kelly, first.
- Mile run—4:53.4—David, second.
- 440 dash—55.4 seconds—Showers, second; E. Fulton, third.
- 180 LH—22.4 seconds—Swain, first; Willett, second.
- 220 dash—22.9 seconds—Kelly, first.
- 880 run—2:11—Ferguson, third.
- 880 relay—1:38.6 — Plymouth, second (Danol, J. Keith, Swain, Kelly).
- Pole Vault—9 feet — Danol, first.

Golfers Drop Close Match In Opener

The Plymouth high school golf squad served notice in the first match of the season last week that they will have to be reckoned with this year for the 6-B League crown. Even though they dropped a match to last year's defending state Class A champions, Ann Arbor, the contest was closer than expected. Ann Arbor has virtually the same squad back this year.

Ann Arbor won by 14 strokes, 317 to 331, on the Plymouth Country Club course. Co-captain, Fred Benson of the local squad was medalist with a fine 72, which is two strokes over par for the layout. Fred scored a two under par 32 on the back nine to get his medal score. Cliff Zill of Ann Arbor was right behind him with a 73.

Other Plymouth scores found Co-captain Tyler Caplin carding an 80, Tom Carmichael an 82 and Wally Rush an 97. The Ann Arbor team had scores of 73, 79, 79 and 86.

The boys out for golf at Plymouth are: David Baker, Fred Benson, David Beegle, Tyler Caplin, Thomas Carmichael, Loren Goodale, Alvin Kolak, Bill Rambo, Wally Rush and Tom Sawyer.

The 1954 schedule is as follows:

April 14	Ann Arbor	H
April 26	Ypsilanti	A

All Sports Fete Attracts Athletes

Elaborate plans are in the making for the All Sports buffet dinner, which is to be held at the high school on the evening of Saturday, May 8, at 7 p.m. President David Gates of the Plymouth Athletic Alumni Association, who are sponsoring this get-together, says that a fine program has been lined up with Al Wistert, a former all-American at Michigan, as master of ceremonies.

A foremost sports personality, who will be announced at a later date, will be the guest speaker. Wistert is bringing several outstanding athletes with him, and Henry Ponda, football coach at Ann Arbor High; Jim Wink, basketball coach at Highland Park High; Elmer Swanson, coach at Michigan; Jack Cotton, coach at Wayne; and Fred Trosko, coach at Michigan Normal will also be present.

The present coaching staff at the high school, and all former coaches, have been invited to be guests of honor. All boys who participated in sports at the high school this season will also be present as guests.

This will be a fine opportunity to get acquainted with the coaches, athletes and parents states Bob Champe, secretary of the Alumni group. Tickets can be secured by calling David Gates at 81-W; Bob Champe at Livonia 3078; or Elwood Elliott at 118-W. Those desiring to attend should get these right away as the demand so far has been great.

President Gates states that the group desires to make this a yearly event each spring in honor of the athletes in the local high school.

The work an unknown good man has done is like a vein of water flowing hidden underground, secretly making the ground green.

YANKEES' REIGN ENDING

The Big Story of the 1954 major league pennant races probably will be the dethronement of the Yankees after five consecutive seasons as American League pennant winners and world's champions under Casey Stengel, writes J. G. Taylor Spink, Publisher of The Sporting News.

Following is the break-down, club by club, on the strength and weaknesses as reported in the national baseball weekly:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO WHITE SOX—PITCHING—Pierce and Trucks counted on to repeat one-two punch. Jack Harshman and Sandy Consuegra, second left-right combo. CATCHING—Lollar and Wilson improved. INFIELD—Fain expected to return to 1951-52 form. Carrasquel-Fox again keystone. Minoza best bet for third. OUTFIELD—Platoon scramble among Boyd, Ricera, Groth, Marshall and Bill Wilson. SUMMATION—Opportunity good to repeat third place finishes of 52-53.

NEW YORK YANKEES—PITCHING—Just about what it was last year, with Harry Byrd making up for the loss of Vic Raschi. CATCHING—Tops for the circuit, with Yogi Berra a socking workhorse. INFIELD—More strength at first with Joe Collins, Ed Robinson and Bill Skowron. Loss of Billy Martin to Army may be discounted by Gerry Coleman. OUTFIELD—If Mickey Mantle's right knee operation helps him, the outfield will be better than in 1953.

CLEVELAND INDIANS—PITCHING—Big Three shows no signs of deterioration. Couple of sparkling rookie southpaws, Tomanek and Mossi. CATCHING—Solid defensively, but still must prove offensive punch. Brilliant rookie in Hal Naragon. INFIELD—Who's on first? We'll have to keep watching Nelson says Spink. OUTFIELD—Dave Philley makes it strong.

BOSTON RED SOX—PITCHING—This department is the key to the club's pennant hopes. Righthanded weakness unless Willard Nixon comes through and Tom Brewer proves to be star rookie. CATCHING—Strong. Sammy White one of tops in league. INFIELD—Big question mark, points out The Sporting News. OUTFIELD—Could be strongest part of team, especially if Ted Williams doesn't lose too much time.

DETROIT TIGERS—PITCHING—Stronger with Billy Hoelt' and Ray Herbert in key roles and Ned Garver's knee patched up, says The Sporting News. CATCHING—Weak unless Frank House comes through. INFIELD—Vastly improved by Ray Boone and Harvey Kuenn. OUTFIELD—Bill Tuttle and Al Kaline will tighten defense.

WASHINGTON SENATORS—PITCHING—Superb, perhaps, with Porterfield, McDermott, Stobbs, Shea and Marrero as starters. CATCHING—Improved with the addition of Joe Tipton. INFIELD—Strong at first and third with Vernon and Yost present; adequate at second, question mark at short. OUTFIELD—Sievers and Busby represent power; Umphlett rounds out ballhawk defense.

BALTIMORE ORIOLES—PITCHING—Weakest department, but could surprise if Bob Turley and Don Larsen are ready to put on long pants after major baptism last year. CATCHING—Adequate. Courtney showing his 1952 form. INFIELD—Defensively sound with addition of Eddie Waitkus at first. OUTFIELD—Improved with Sam Mele.

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS—PITCHING—Lefties Bob Shantz and Alex Kellner backbone of staff. Staff could surprise. CATCHING—Astroth, plus rookies Robertson and R. Shantz. INFIELD—Greatly improved with rookie Jacobs on second, DeMaestri established at short, Bollweg on first and Finigan backing up Suder at third. OUTFIELD—Zernial only holdover regular. Power and Renna increase bat potential.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

BROOKLYN DODGERS—PITCHING—Return on Don Newcombe should make already good pitching even more formidable, says The Sporting News. CATCHING—Campanella best, with Rube Walker and possibly Charley Thompson. INFIELD—As good, or better, with addition of Don Hoak. OUTFIELD—Snider and Furiollo tops. Jackie Robinson will start in left field "and do my best."

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS—PITCHING—Better if both Vic Raschi and Tom Poholsky deliver. CATCHING—Department consists of light-hitting Del Rice and Sal Yvars. INFIELD—Improved if Alex Grammas comes through at short. OUTFIELD—Best depth in years.

MILWAUKEE BRAVES—PITCHING—Spahn, Buhl, Birdette, Nichols, Conley, E. Johnson, Wilson, plus Crone, Jolly, Jay, Paine and B. Johnson; could be very good. CATCHING—Crandall ready for big season; Calderone, Burris and White in reserve; strong. INFIELD—Adcock, O'Connell, Logan and Mathews, with Metkovich, Dittmer, Smalley and Sisti; excellent. OUTFIELD—Adequate, topflight when Thomson available.

NEW YORK GIANTS—PITCHING—Remarkable rejuvenation of Maglie and Jansen. If both continue current form, Giant pitching will be strong. CATCHING—Best three man staff in league. INFIELD—Deeper than in '53 but Davey Williams' back still key to overall success. OUTFIELDER—Willie Mays' return and Irvin's improved running makes it stronger.

PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES—PITCHING—Should be deeper with the acquisition of Murry Dickson, who will be No. 3. CATCHING—Mike Sandlock and Joe Lonnett should be big aid to Stan Loptata and Smokey Burgess. INFIELD—Infield same as in 1953, but better bench with Bobby Morgan. If Ted Kazanski goes into service, Gran Hamner will switch to short. OUTFIELD—Same as '53, with better reserves in Danny Schell and Stan Jok.

Hail to the champs! The Detroit Red Wings came through like true champions in the Stanley Cup finals last week. After allowing to Montreal Canadiens to gain an even series, they came back in the final game, and from behind, to win in overtime. It had to be in the first few minutes of overtime or not at all as the Canadiens were getting stronger each minute with their four line attack.

This was one of the closest contests in recent years with two of the most powerful teams ever assembled in the National Hockey League going all out to win this one. Skill and speed were featured throughout instead of the brawling and brutality which have marked many of the memorable finals of the past. The Canadiens waged a tremendous comeback after trailing three games to one to tie up the series, but the Wings proved they still are the best clutch team in the game by taking the final.

How about those Tigers? They certainly have gotten off to a wonderful start this year, and those rookies are really in there battling every inch of the way. Maybe some of us who predicted dire things for them will have to eat our words. The pitching is what startles me—Tiger hurlers have only allowed 8 runs in the first five games, and that is really something for so early in the season.

You can look for a lot more stolen bases this year with all that youthful speed—so far they have stolen about ten times as many bases as they had at this time last year, and one of the thefts brought a victory. Let's hope that they can keep up the good work, and maybe another championship will come Detroit's way to go with the football, hockey and bowling championships.

An article appeared in the high school paper last week which I think most worthy of reprinting in this column. The article concerned Easter, and what it meant to one of the best all-around athletes ever to represent Plymouth High School in sports. Jerry Kelly was the author; Jerry will have earned 10 letters by the time he graduates this year—three each in football and basketball and four in track; in the latter he scored points in the state regional meet as a freshman to gain a letter. Jerry has been captain of each sport and voted the most valuable in most of the sports he has participated in while in high school. He has been an outstanding scholar, president of his class and an active member of the student council. I have his permission to reprint this article:

"When people start buying their spring outfits complete with shoes, hats, and gloves it is a sure sign that Easter is here. It has long been the custom for American people to wear new clothes on Easter day and watch each other to see if anyone has the same thing as they do or something better. These new clothes are a symbol of Easter. They are like new foliage on a tree.

"Easter is like the spring, a reawakening after a cold dark period. People sort of stand back and take stock of themselves, wondering if they are coming near the goal set for them by Christ so many years before. Young couples bring their children, born during the preceding year, to be baptized and blessed. Easter helps all people to renew a faith in religion.

"During his life Jesus made great sacrifices for his people, of these his life was the greatest. He gave his life for us in order that we might see the light and accept his teachings as the basis of our lives.

"Many people feel Easter is a solemn occasion and should be treated accordingly. I feel that this is a wrong attitude. In my mind, Easter is a joyous occasion. To think that Jesus would lay down his life for me is one of the greatest wonders imaginable and to have him arise from the dead is still a greater wonder. To me this is the most tangible evidence that I can look forward to an everlasting life after death, and Easter brings joy to me as no other occasion can."

Don't you think that wonderful! Jerry gives everything he has for his team, and that quality with the above kind of thinking will carry him to great heights in life.

Chips from the ROCK

This column is written this week by David Nichol, foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News who is vacationing here at the home of his mother, Mrs. Walter Nichol. A former Plymouthite we know his comments will be most interesting to his former friends and other residents of this community. The same column will be written next week by his wife, known in newspaper circles as Judy Barden, and also a correspondent for the News.

"It is almost exactly 26 years since I last wrote for The Plymouth Mail. Then it was an item about the happenings in Plymouth High School.

"In a sense this, too, is about something that might happen in Plymouth's schools, and everywhere else. During that quarter-century interval we have progressed at such a rate that we now can destroy ourselves completely and utterly, if we so choose.

"Will we?"

"I don't want to appear too somber. I write because this is the question most frequently and earnestly asked since I returned from Germany less than a month ago.

"How close are we to the BIG WAR? What chance is there that one of the smaller conflicts that plague our globe—the fighting in Indo-China is an excellent example—will blossom into the fantastically beautiful and destructive mushrooms of the hydrogen age?"

"There is no simple answer, but it is not a problem that we can escape by ignoring it.

"I don't believe it is either necessary or inevitable that the BIG WAR shall occur. The loss of a major modern war is only slightly more of a disaster than the winning of such a struggle. Responsible leaders everywhere are aware of this.

"What, then, is the threat?"

"The world of free men, in which the United States is the most powerful single nation, is facing a thrusting, aggressive monster centering in the Soviet Union. Its core is a political heresy that finds ready converts among the underprivileged and degrades them even more until they become genuine slaves.

"Its leaders in the Kremlin in Moscow are cynical, ruthless men who will take anything they can get without too much cost to themselves. And because slave labor systems are essentially uneconomic they can survive only by adding continually new peoples and territories to their sphere.

"Under these circumstances we can invite the BIG WAR by weakening ourselves and our allies to such a point that their conquest appears easy. We almost did just this in 1946 by the speed with which we dismantled our defenses. We have been paying a tragic toll for this blunder ever since, in Berlin, in Korea, and now in Southeast Asia.

"Distant and unfamiliar as these regions may appear, their surrender to the Soviets is important to us because it permits the Soviet system to grow and the threat to us to increase. To deny these areas to the Soviets may hasten the internal change or collapse of their system which alone offers us the chance of survival both in peace and in freedom.

"This is a risky program one involving delicate balances and the kind of long-range courage and determination that it is difficult for democracies to maintain when they are not actually engaged in shooting. We can start the BIG WAR by being too aggressive and too threatening ourselves, by creating a state of desperate alarm among the Kremlin's rulers. War always has been the last refuge of faltering dictators.

"We can also start the BIG WAR by accident, by a diplomatic fumble or a stubbing of the international toe, but this is a chance we must take. It is the least of the hazards we face in an age of extraordinary dangers.

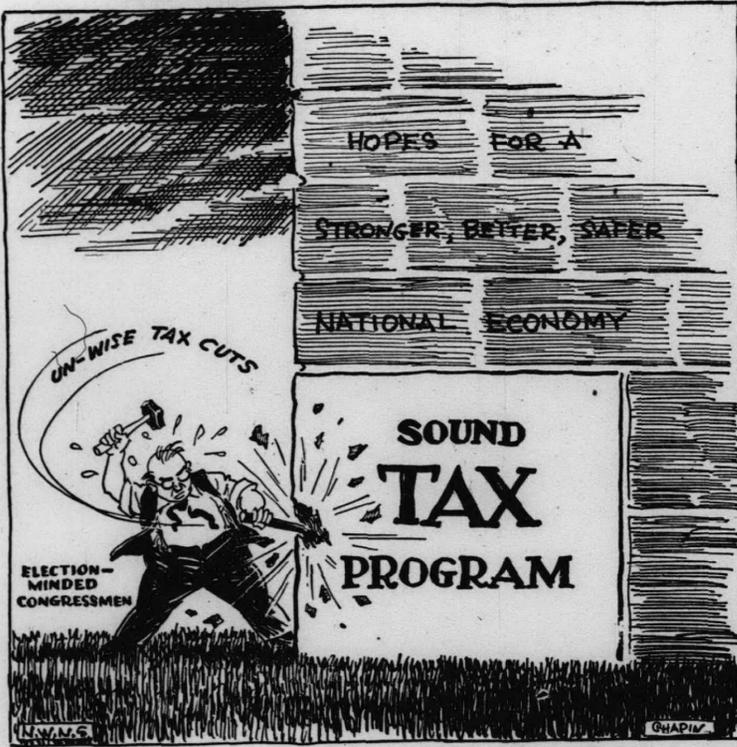

"I am not pessimistic. Each time I return to the United States, each time I see such pleasant and prosperous surroundings as those of Plymouth, I realize anew how deeply ingrained are the habits and values of liberty. I have no fear for the future so long as the nature and extent of the threat is understood.

"Our most dangerous enemy, in the final analysis, is not the Soviet system but our own carelessness or lack of interest."

CHIPPING AT THE CORNERSTONE

Editorial

IT MIGHT HAPPEN

Some years ago, when nuclear weapons were new and infinitely less destructive than those of today, the fear was often expressed that it might be possible to actually explode that part of the universe in which we live. The weight of scientific opinion was, and is, against that incredible concept. But progress—if that is the proper word for it—in nuclear development for war seems to have reached a point that few if any of us anticipated even a relatively short time back. The top physicists themselves have been surprised.

The March 1 test in the Pacific astounded the world. Secretary of Defense Wilson described it as "unbelievable" and said that the full details, which have not been made public would "scare anybody." Chairman Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission, speaking with Presidential authorization at a White House press conference, said that the blast was about double the expected size, but that it was never out of control and that the error made in prior calculations was "not incompatible with a totally new weapon."

How big was the blast? According to Time, "The test . . . makes all its predecessors, including the 1952 shot, look like a string of one-inch salutes. The force of the explosion probably exceeded ten megatons (500 Hiroshimas). It sent a radioactive cloud billowing to a height that may have exceeded 20 miles." Admiral Strauss also helped answer that question. He said the H-bomb can be made "as large as you wish . . . large enough to destroy any city." Asked specifically if this means that one of the bombs could destroy New York City, he said, "The metropolitan area, yes." He denied, however, the rumors that an island or a group of islands had been destroyed in either the March 1 or March 26 tests, adding, "It would be more accurate to say a large sandspit or reef."

The most immediate repercussions came from Japan. Radioactive dust fell there, and a number of Japanese fishermen, whose trawler was not seen in the search made before the explosion, were injured. Some Japanese spokesmen demanded that the tests be stopped. But there seems to be small chance of that happening—they will go on, regardless of any criticism, so long as the world is in its present unhappy state of cold and hot conflict. Sir Winston Churchill came to our defense in this regard when he spoke in Commons against a Labor Party proposal that the tests be placed under international controls of some sort. He said, "We have no power to stop this. I am sure it would not be right or wise of us to ask that it should be stopped. When similar experiments are conducted by the Russians I cannot remember that anyone suggested such representations should be made to the Soviet Government."

What will be the end of all this? There are many guesses. The most obvious, of course, is an eventual war of unimaginable destruction. But some think that if two opposed powers have the H-bomb—and Admiral Strauss said Russia has it—the ghastly possibilities make the chance of war more remote. A German scientist who was instrumental in the development of the rockets with which Hitler bombarded England, said that he thought that within a year war may become a virtual impossibility. Malenkov himself has spoken of the horrors that can come from the atom, and in shocked terms. Perhaps, for the first time in history, a force exists which is so terrible that none would dare to unleash it.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

HARDIN, MONTANA, TRIBUNE-HERALD: "We're not trying to prove there isn't unemployment at the present time, or that it is not a serious problem, but it does seem that some groups—for obvious reasons—are overemphasizing the situation. These same groups often are the first to advocate more government spending as a means of curbing unemployment and assuring prosperity. The federal government cannot forever operate with a deficit, increase spending, and then cut taxes. It isn't in the cards."

NEW EGYPT, N. J., PRESS: "The other day I read what J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, states is his creed of life. It is so good, honest, and so definitely what all Americans should follow that we give it here: 'Believe in God and the inherent dignity of man. Trust in our democratic principles, and be confident that truth will overcome the menace of dictatorship which today seeks to destroy our freedoms. Strive always to do your best. Make your life purposeful. If each of us in a spirit of self-dedication, will do his share, we can create a better world. That must be the spirit of 1954—the spirit of love, humility and justice.'"

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON DISCUSSES HIGH SCHOOLS

Babson Park, Massachusetts. My recent article on education in this column brought a heavy correspondence from all over the United States. I want to share with you the two points of view which these letters seem to represent.

DOWN WITH COMPETITION

One point of view comes from the disciples of John Dewey. One of these disciples, a high school teacher, writes that she is "shocked" to think that businessmen "have no higher ideals or understanding than that of competition." She pleads that "an A achievement may be only a D achievement for someone else," and that it is much better for the individual's development to "work on his own level and compete with himself, working to progress as far as he can." This teacher wrongly says, "A pupil gains confidence only when measured by his own possible growth and not his neighbor's brains." I believe this theory is wicked and unfair to the student who must compete after graduation with all students on all levels.

Of course an A achievement is only a D achievement for someone else; but I am pretty sure the D student can excel in something. Let him find that something and move in that direction. That is where we need guidance from a sympathetic teacher. Let no student be discouraged by work that he finds hard or because he cannot make A grades, too. This is not preparation for life, because life is not like that. One of America's great business leaders today, James F. Lincoln of Cleveland, tells his workers he looks upon them as players on a team. He expects them to play to win, and the minute one of the players slacks off, a substitute will be sent in. There are only a very few places in this world where one can compete with just oneself. If you doubt it, send to Utopia College, Eureka, Kansas, for a free copy of McComb's essay on the crime of present day High Schools.

TEACHERS DON'T DARE

A different point of view is presented by another high school teacher, who writes: "We cater to mediocrity. Only lip service is paid to the principle that achievement is the basis for grades. The truth is High Schools are constantly dropping their standards. Since students, along with many others in our present society, are not anxious to work for rewards, a teacher finds it expedient to give fairly good marks to all. The good students, in turn, finding good grades come with relatively little work, begin to let up. Then the downward cycle cannot fail to operate in school as in business." Let me add here that 3,725,000 unemployed is good for the nation. Such unemployment supplies the discipline which teachers fail to give.

This teacher finds much of the cause of this difficulty is in the home because too many parents "think that discipline is all right as long as it falls on the other fellow's kids." The result is that the "would-be popular teacher eases up, avoids issues, and becomes popular by not insisting upon proper standards of conduct or academic achievement." This "easing up" is undermining all industry today and will be a cause of the "big smash" when it some day comes.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Alleman
 Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n.

Accomplishments, or lack of them provide an excellent "hole and doughnut" argument for anyone who undertakes to criticize the recent session of the Legislature.

Natural battlelines fall between Republicans, who dominate both chambers, and Democrats, who control the executive arm of the government.

The GOP says, "We did a grand job!" Their opponents say, "Look at the important things you left undone!"

References to the record will be heard often between now and the fall election.

Republicans are proudest of the "labor legislation" they produced. The new unemployment compensation law gives higher weekly payments and for a longer period. Rates are raised from $27 to $30 per week for a single man; from $35 to $42 for a man with four children. This is paid over a 26 week rather than a 20 week period. Workman's compensation payments were increased $4 per week. This is a step in the right direction," say Democrats, "but it is no where near the benefit level urged by the Republican President of the United States."

Balancing the budget is another GOP claim to glory. This was no small feat when it is remembered that the solons were faced with the need for an additional $6 million when the civil service commission unexpectedly increased salaries.

Figures show that during the next fiscal year the state will expend $366 million and receive $369 million in revenue, thus allowing a $3 million "profit" that can be used to reduce the deficit. A fine farm program was provided this year. The Legislature made one grant of $294,000 to Michigan State College—$150,000 for the age experiment station and $144,000 for agricultural extension service.

Another $255,000 was appropriated to MSC and will be matched by a similar amount from the federal government under the Hope-Flannigan bill: a total of $510,000.

In addition to this money, which will be spent on research for agricultural processing and marketing, $50,000 was allocated the department of agriculture to promote sales of farm products.

Old people are guaranteed a monthly income of $70 by a law passed this year. The state agreed to increase to this amount a portion of payment under the old age assistance program, should the federal government reduce the present payment plan.

Other accomplishments of the session are a program to aid counties to build homes for the senile; a law which forces patients suffering from active tuberculosis to stay under a doctor's care; the submitting of the Korean veteran bonus and the Conlin tax plans to the public for referendum at the next election.

"Our main responsibilities in this session," said Rep. William S. Bromfield, were to keep government on an even keel during rather uncertain economic weather. Despite many would-be boat rockers, the Republican majority came out of the session with a solid, well laid program broadening state services to the public, improvements in health and education programs, and without new taxes."

"Failures" of the session will get some attention from Democrats. Sources close to Gov. Williams report that the chief executive may have more than a little to say about the fact that no FEPC legislation was passed—this despite recommendations for such action from President Eisenhower.

The school situation they say, still constitute a serious problem—untouched by the Legislature. The governor is expected to ask what the Legislature intends to do with the annual increase of 60,000 students the state faces since facilities are already overcrowded. He is also said to be disgusted that something wasn't done about consolidating school districts many of which are known to be operating on an uneconomical basis.

Election reform as submitted by the Republicans is reported not to have pleased the governor. He considers the recodification changed only a few things and left standing most of the provisions that made the former law undesirable.

Most significant thing about this session, according to Democrat critics, was the development of a new group of Republican Representatives who are much more progressive than previously. "This hard core of liberalism joined with us for the first time to support some fine legislation," said a Democratic spokesman. He was referring to the "Young Turk" group headed by Willard Bowerman, Lansing; Thomas M. Burns, Saginaw; Gerald Graves, Alpena; Kenneth A. Trucks, Baldwin; John McCune, East Lansing.

About 800 bills were submitted for consideration this session. This is more than can be studied thoroughly, and a number large enough to cause some concern among lawmakers. They are considering moves to limit the even year session to taxation, appropriation and emergency matters.

Long ago the legislature met only at two year intervals. With the advent of the sales tax, it became necessary to meet annually in order to appropriate sales tax returns. The "off year" sessions grew longer and longer, encompassing more and more subjects, until there is now little difference between them and the "regular session."
