Mobile 'Blood Bank Makes Change of Zoning Plymouth Stop October 21 Still Unsettled

Civil Defense committeemen and representatives of veterans' organizations will meet this Friday night to make final plans for the visit here October 21 of the American Red Cross mobile blood bank.

Making one of its few yearly stops in the Plymouth area, the Bloodmobile will be set up in the Masonic Temple, or Peninsula avenue for five hours.

Appointments for blood donations can be obtained by telephoning either Plymouth 2145-J, 2361-J, 3041-J or 2113.

Ernest Henry, Plymouth city commissioner and director of Plymouth Civil Defense, has been appointed chairman of the program. He is being assisted by Leo F. Flowers, Plymouth township Civil Defense director.

Others on the planning committee are Mrs. Pauline Soule, Mrs. Jean Mettetal, Mrs. Charles Rathburn, Mrs. Stephan Tallian, William Langmaid, Harry Burleson, Bob Wilson, Harold Young, Kenneth Groth and Nurse Bertha LaMay. Langmaid, Burleson and Wilson represent the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion while Young represents the Mayflower post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Hours for the Thursday, October 21 blood bank visit will be from 3 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. The committee plans to furnish transportation to donors otherwise unable to get to the Masonic Temple. A baby sitting service will also be established to enable parents to leave their children at home while donating blood.

Henry cautioned prospective donors not to confuse the community blood collection with a visit of the Red Cross mobile unit on October 12. The earlier unit, he said, is only for employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company who have their own blood bank.

Besides the veterans' organizations which have already pledged their cooperation, the committee is seeking the help of church and fraternal groups, factory and business personnel.

It is pointed out that donating blood is not only a life-giving act for others, but will be available in the blood bank pool in case a person's own family needs it.

Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Schreive of Dearborn were Saturday evening dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. VanOrnum of West Maple avenue.

A special meeting of the city planning commission has been set for tonight at which they will reconsider their decision last week to rezone some property near Ann Arbor road to accommodate the construction of a building for the Michigan Bell Telephone company. The building will be used to house automatic dial phone equipment.

Zoners last week approved the change from R-2 to C-2 but with the restriction that a 20 foot "greenbelt" be made between the company and school properties. Telephone company representatives objected to need of the greenbelt.

The zoning commission recommendation was passed on to the city commission Monday night for approval but city commissioners differed with both the zoners and the telephone company.

Commissioners opined that an alley should run behind the properties since the Ann Arbor road may someday be lined with commercial development. Commissioners passed a motion to send the proposal back to the zoning commission for re-study.

The special zoning meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Predict 1,000 Jobs with Willow Run Expansion

An announcement that Chevrolet Motor division of General Motors is taking over a million square feet of Willow Run and may create nearly 1,000 new jobs was made today by Chevrolet officials.

The announcement was made in the wake of another report, that by Clarence Jetter, manager of the local office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, that employment claims in the Plymouth area are still running comparatively high.

Chevrolet is leasing 896,000 square feet from another GM division and will build 125,000 square feet of new construction, including rail and truck dockage, for a major supply depot of its parts and accessories department.

The GM Hydra-Matic Transmission plant occupies the rest of the huge building, purchased after the Livonia Hydra-Matic plant was destroyed by fire last year. The 1,000 new jobs may go far to absorb the lay-offs created when Kaiser Manufacturing moved its plant to Toledo in the summer of 1953 and those losing their jobs due to the Transmission plant fire.

Chevrolet now has 85 employees at Willow Run who are occupying temporary quarters until the major supply depot is established. Factory stocks are now carried at four other major supply points. They supply 44 zone warehouses from which parts are shipped to 7,600 dealers.

Meanwhile, Jetter said that unemployment in the Plymouth area has neither increased nor decreased in recent months. Lay-offs in late weeks have been due to change-overs in the auto industry. The Novi Equipment company, for instance, will temporarily lay off 100 employees next week until model change-overs are complete.

Speed Crack-down Bringing Squawks

A demand for a police crack-down on speeders appears to be meeting the approval of everyone — except those who are being caught, according to Municipal Judge Nandino Perlongo. The judge claims that he is receiving "lots of squawking" from those ticketed for speeding "but it will do no good to complain." The judge promises he will uphold the police with proper fines.

The speed limit is 25 miles an hour in Plymouth. Judge Perlongo says that most persons ticketed for speeding claim the arresting policeman was wrong. Most of the arrests have been made by patrolmen on the new motorcycle.

Asks Vacating Of Eight Alleys

A growing tendency in many cities to eliminate alleys in residential areas was noted here this week when the city planning commission recommended to the city commission that eight alleys be vacated.

A public hearing has been set for the October 18 meeting at which interested citizens may voice their objections or support. Starting time of the hearing is 7:30 p.m.

City Manager Albert Glassford said that the alleys under consideration are used mainly by the city itself for picking up garbage and rubbish and that the city finds it difficult to maintain them properly. Should the alleys be vacated, the land will be divided equally between the property owners with the exception of an easement for public utilities.

Here are the alleys under consideration:

North-south alley bounded by McKinley, Herald, Wing and Maple streets; north-south alley bounded by Jenner, Harvey, Brush and Maple streets; east-west alley bounded by Brush, Carol, Harvey and Forest streets; north-south alley bounded by Jener, Herald, Brush and Maple streets.

North-south alley between Harvey street and Forest from Sutherland north to the east-west alley just south of Brush street; east-west alley between Carol and Sutherland from Harvey west to end of subdivision and from Harvey east to the alley just west of Forest avenue; east-west alley between Sutherland and Palmer from Harvey west to the end of the subdivision and from Harvey east to the alley just west of South Main street; east-west alley between Palmer and Hart-sough from Harvey west to Lincoln and from Harvey east to the alley just west of South Main street.

Don't Confuse Fire Show with Disaster

Don't forget — the rush of a dozen fire trucks through Plymouth at 7 o'clock tonight will not mean there's a major disaster. There will be a fire show. Trucks from nine departments will be heading for a field behind the high school where a National Fire Prevention Week demonstration is taking place.

Telephone calls have flooded the city hall switchboard in past years with frightened citizens asking about the fire truck invasion. Fire Chief Robert McAllister announced that everyone is invited to attend the demonstration. Oil pit fires and a natural gas fire will be fought by each of the participating departments.

Promotion of George L. Mayhew, district manager of Consumers Power company's West Wayne district at Plymouth, to the position of district manager of the company's South Macomb district in East Detroit, was announced today by Southeast Division Manager David H. Gerhard of Consumers.

Mayhew, who has been in Plymouth since 1950, succeeds the late Ralph W. Clark of Mt. Clemens who had been the South Macomb district manager at the time of his death on August 31.

Armed Forces, Veterans to Bring Military Display Here Next Week

A large display of military weapons and armored vehicles will be shown to the public Friday and Saturday of next week in connection with "Information Day," a combined effort by both service and veteran organizations to attract recruits and members.

The U. S. Army, Marine Corps, Michigan National Guard, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, American Red Cross and Community Chest are all taking part in the two-day program to familiarize the public with their organizations. Sergeant Leroy Sipes of the Army recruiting service in Ann Arbor, is chairman of the event.

Three of the largest pieces of equipment rolling into the city will be the M-75 Infantry Vehicle, the M-41 Walker Bulldog Tank (latest in light tanks) and a radio controlled target plane. These and other items on display will be brought here by the Detroit Artillery Armory on 8 Mile road.

Representatives of the National Guard will be present from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on each of the two days to answer questions about the display. The vehicles will be on display in front of the D & C store while smaller items will be seen in the store windows. Guardsmen are also bringing a M-1 rifle, Browning automatic rifle, 30 caliber machine gun, 81 millimeter mortar, 3.5 millimeter bazooka, the 3.5 inch rocket launcher and projectiles plus other weapons.

"It has meant some extra work for our teachers and accounting workers," Superintendent Isbister stated, "but we believe it is well worth the effort."

Sergeant Sipes will be at the display to answer questions about Army recruiting and its drive for technical school students; Sergeant David Segel will represent the Marine Corps; and representing the National Guard will be Chief Warrant Officer Harold C. Rose, Jr., Sergeant First Class Donald M. Shrake, Corporal Gerald Klingler and Corporal Harold Klingler, all of Detroit. They are members of the 46th Reconnaissance company.

Commission Tables Main Street Verdict

Thief Dodges Police Shots

Revolver shots resounding through the back yards of Farmer and Blanche street residents shortly after midnight Saturday were those of local police who were pursuing the driver of a stolen car.

Officers Loren Johnson and Henry Burghoff started the chase when they sighted a speeding car heading north on Mill street. As it turned left onto Spring street, the police car spotlight picked out a New York state license. The pursued car then picked up speed and swept past a stop sign at Starkweather avenue, nearly hitting another car.

The car went a block down Starkweather, turned onto Farmer street and skidded over the curbing at the Plymouth Plating Works. The driver jumped out of the car and ran around the small factory with the two patrolmen still in pursuit. As the running man moved through back yards between Farmer and Blanche streets, the officers fired through the air and one at the man. He then disappeared in the darkness of the rainy night.

"We don't like to have our men kill someone unless it's necessary," Chief Carl Greenlee said. "Not until later was it found out the car was stolen. There are some people, police have found, who will run from police even though they haven't done anything. The car had been stolen from Detroit a few hours earlier."

A car was stolen sometime early Monday morning from the home of Earl Foster, Jr., 772 South Main street. It was recovered by sheriff's authorities later in the morning at Eckles and Schoolcraft roads.

City commissioners postponed their decision on the controversial $162,000 Main street widening plan Monday night when they voted to lay the matter "on the table" until their consulting engineer comes up with cost estimates on a less expensive plan.

The commission table also groaned when they cast another weighty problem upon it. It was the Amelia street paving plan, from Main to Farmer streets, which was also scheduled to be decided at the meeting. Commissioners voted 6-1 to also place the issue on the table.

Commission chambers were again filled with citizens interested in the two projects. A public hearing on the projects was held September 13 at which commissioners told the crowd to return to the October 4 meeting when decisions would be made. It was at the public hearing that the majority of affected property owners along the proposed Main street improvement project presented a petition stating their disapproval of the widening.

Because of this majority of protests, it would take five of the seven commissioners to cast a "yes" vote if the plan was to be approved. Commissioners met last Thursday night as a "committee-of-the-whole" when they discussed a revision of the plan with Herald Hamill, consulting engineer, and a Wayne county safety expert. Hamill was asked to secure cost estimates of a somewhat narrower pavement. The original improvement plan proposed a 44 foot wide pavement.

(Because The Mail did not receive notice of the committee meeting before press time last week, it was not able to report to interested citizens that the meeting was to take place.)

Hamill, who was present at Monday night's meeting, reported that he had not yet completed his cost estimates. Commissioner Eleanor Hammond then made a motion to lay the matter on the table until estimates are available.

No Dog License Results in 200 Township Tickets

Plymouth township's dog population appeared to be nearly 100 per cent licensed this week, but it took the issuing of 200 violation tickets to do it.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay said that 726 dog licenses have been issued since the township's new licensing law went into effect July 1. He believes this to be nearly all of the dogs in the township.

Township constables made a house-to-house check for unlicensed dogs and they turned up about 200. The owners were ticketed and ended up paying $2 for the license, $2.50 for the inoculation for rabies and $4 in court costs.

"I want to reiterate," Lindsay said, "that many people have been asking for this dog licensing law for a long time. Now that we have it, we're going to see that everybody with dogs complies with it no matter who they are. It doesn't matter if they have a big dog, little dog, whether they keep it in the house or anywhere else—they must have a license."

Plymouth township was the last township in the county to establish its own dog licensing law, the supervisor said. Previously, dogs were ineffectively controlled by a county dog law.

Lindsay said that most of the ticketed dog owners admitted they were negligent in securing the licenses.

Homeowners Form Association

Homeowners in the new Garling Subdivision located east of Mill street organized themselves as the "Parkview Circle Homeowners Association" at a meeting and social get-together last Friday night.

Believed to be the first organization of its kind in Plymouth, the association was formed so that residents of the neighborhood can talk over mutual home-owning problems and become socially acquainted with each other.

The meeting was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lake, 275 Garling Drive, with Harvey E. Cooper, 700 Parkview Drive, serving as temporary chairman.

In an election of officers, Cooper was named president, Mrs. Lake was elected secretary and Jack Riland, 640 Parkview, treasurer. Refreshments were served the 24 husbands and wives present. The next meeting will be November 5.

Nazarenes Dedicate New Church Sunday

With the last detail completed in the new building, the Reverend E. T. Hadwin, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, announced that a special dedication service would be held this Sunday, October 10, at 3 p.m. This will be the closing event of the week-long Open House which started last Sunday.

Construction of the new $75,000 building, located at 41550 East Ann Arbor trail, was begun in May of 1953. This first unit of the church's proposed building program was completed in eight months and occupied on January 1, 1954. Now completely furnished, the week of Open House has given Plymouth residents a chance to see several of the unique features of the new building. Among these are the off-center design of the interior, large glass areas in the foyer and wall-to-wall carpeting in the sanctuary, which has a seating capacity of 375 persons.

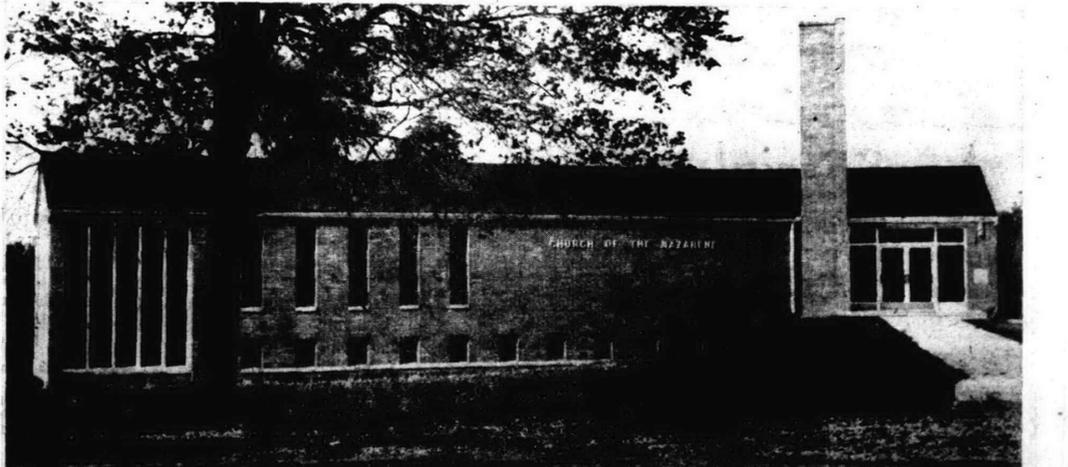

Among the guests at the dedication service will be the Reverend Robert North of Port Huron, who organized the Plymouth church in 1933 and was its pastor until 1945; and the Reverend William O. Wilton, pastor of the church from 1945 to 1952.

Dr. D. I. Vanderpool of San Jose, California, will be guest speaker at the dedication service. He is one of the five men elected to the position of general superintendent, highest office in the Church of the Nazarene, and maintains his office at the international headquarters of the denomination in Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Vanderpool has supervised the work of the church both in this country and abroad. In the spring of 1953 he visited the British Isles where he held their annual assembly and administered in the dividing of the district into two new districts. He also traveled to Rome, Athens, Jerusalem, Lebanon and Syria.

The district superintendent of the Eastern Michigan district, Dr. W. M. McGuire, will offer the dedicatory prayer.

The Reverend Hadwin has issued a special invitation to all residents of Plymouth and the surrounding area to attend this dedication service.

A SPECIAL DEDICATION service will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. for the new building of the Church of the Nazarene (shown above), which is located at 41550 East Ann Arbor trail.

School Insurance Response 'Good'

School officials have reported "very good response" to the voluntary accident insurance plan which was offered two weeks ago to all public school students and most personnel.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister said that 1,512 students, teachers and office personnel have taken out the policies which cost $1.25 per year. This is nearly 50 per cent of the enrollment.

Local insurance agents offered the plan through the World Insurance company after approval by the Board of Education. Similar plans are in operation in many other schools throughout the nation. Insured persons are covered one hour before school starts and one hour after school is dismissed.

"It has meant some extra work for our teachers and accounting workers," Superintendent Isbister stated, "but we believe it is well worth the effort."

IT'S NEVER BEEN DONE before in Plymouth schools, but the fourth grade of Bird elementary school held a Flower and Garden Show with many of their mothers present. They brought vases of flowers and bowls of fruit and vegetables from home and arranged them. They then called upon Mrs. Paul J. Wiedman of the Plymouth Garden Club to judge the show. Mrs. Wiedman (shown in center with class) claimed the arrangements were exceptionally good and original. The class is taught by Mrs. Grace Jarvis.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. Selections to be read from the Bible include the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the leper as given in Matthew (8:1-3):
"When he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him. And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed."
Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (142:31): "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, today, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

This is an important special meeting; all voters are asked to be present without fail.
How much of the week do you set aside for God? At least, the Sunday morning worship hour, if you are a Christian. "He that is of God heareth God's Word; ye therefore hear it not because ye are not of God", thus spoke Jesus. In the Old Testament God said, "Six days shalt thou labor, and do all thy work; but the seventh is the Day of the Lord thy God." How much of the rest of the week do you give to God? You answer, "I have no time." What? No time for God, for Him who gives you all your time, all your days? No time for God, for Him who can cut off your time, your days and hours, AS HE PLEASES? Indeed, no time for God, until it is too late and there is no more time!

Child Discipline Is Allen P.T.A. Speaker's Topic

Over 100 persons attended the season's first Allen School Parent-Teachers association meeting last week when Wallace Watt of the Department of Mental Health spoke on "Discipline for Your Children."

In the business session conducted by President Harold Fischer, it was voted to hold the school carnival in May. The first carnival at the new school was held last May. It was also agreed to allow the children to bring pennies to school to purchase a "living Christmas tree" which is to be planted in the school lawn. It was tentatively planned to have Christmas carol singing around the tree during the Yuletide season.

It was announced that a P.T.A. Workshop will be held at Allen school on November 30 with Mrs. Wilbert West in charge. P.T.A. members of all schools are being invited. At the next Allen P.T.A. meeting on October 26, the superintendent of the Walled Lake schools, Mr. Smart, will speak on the Conlon Bill.

Last week's speaker showed a movie, "Fears of Childhood," along with his talk. He pointed out that there are two kinds of discipline. One kind is the "force from without" which is established quickly but is not lasting. This is the kind of discipline one might receive in the Army or on an athletic team, he added.

The second type of discipline, which Mr. Watt stressed as the best for children, is discipline from within. The teaching of self-discipline is more difficult but it is long-lasting.

Civic Chorus Needs Singers

There is a need for singers in the Plymouth Civic Chorus, although some twenty enthusiastic chorists turned out for the organization's first meeting of the season on Monday, September 27.

"The Messiah" by Handel and "The Requiem" by Brahms are being rehearsed for performances with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and Soloists. The music is among the classics of choral literature.

Any interested singer is invited to join the Plymouth Civic Chorus. Rehearsals are held each Monday from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. in room 3 in the junior high school. The accompanist for the chorus is Mrs. Thomas Lock; the director, Fred Nelson.

Northville Nursery School Sponsors Square Dance

The Northville Nursery school will sponsor a square dance to be held Saturday, October 16, at 8:30 p.m. in the Northville Community building. The dance is open to the public, and tickets may be purchased at the door.

WHO'S NEW IN PLYMOUTH

THE CALENDAR CLOCK gets its weekly winding from owners Mr. and Mrs. Reuben B. Poss of 46515 Maben. According to the Posses, the clock has been in the family for about 60 years, and besides telling the time, also gives the date and month of the year. Presently employed at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant in Livonia, Poss moved to Plymouth in July of this year. The Posses had lived in Huntington Woods for about 15 years prior to coming to Plymouth.

A Layman Says...

But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name, John 1:12.

Do you know anything more wonderful than for you to become a child of God? There isn't a convict or a criminal; there isn't an adulterer or a liar; there isn't a Pharisee or a hypocrite; there isn't a child of sin or a social parasite; there isn't a failure-laden life or a smooth sinner under broadcloth, who may not have this very moment the power to become a child of God - if he will. Will you receive the Lord Jesus just now? Will you accept the gift He offers you? "The Gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." A.J.H.

He hath riches sufficient, who hath enough to be charitable.

Local Student Compares U.S. With Lithuania

"America! It's just great, every man has an opportunity if he wants to take it," said Zita Brokas, new student from Lithuania, as she compared America with her country.
 "Life in Lithuania isn't very different," she said. "They haven't as many cars, though, and if they have cars they do not have the money to buy the gasoline because it is so expensive. School isn't very different, either, except it is harder and one has no study halls." Students start high school in fourth grade, and since there are no public schools, they pay a high price to attend school.
 Zita came to America four years ago with her parents, older brother and younger sister but before they could come the family had to have a sponsor, her cousin who was already in America, take health examinations and fulfill other requirements.
 They arrived in New Orleans following a two-weeks' trip by sea, later coming to Detroit. The Brokases now reside on Evergreen street.

The Salton Sea in California was formed in 1907—when the Colorado River broke through a gap in its levee and poured into the below-sea-level valley. Loss through evaporation is balanced and present level maintained through drainage from irrigation.

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA COMPANY

Since this is National Fire Prevention Week, it might be wise to compare Plymouth's fire loss with that of a few other towns our size during the last year. Here we reported a total loss of $7,800; Allegan reported $11,480, Charlotte $83,000, Lapeer $20,000 and St. Louis $60,530, which speaks well not only for our residents but Fire Chief Bob McAllister and his firemen.

Methodist Minister Melbourne Johnson is not only a "cagy" deer hunter with bow and arrow but he proved himself amply as agile in planning his yearly Mission service for the State Conference during the next two weeks in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. He says it was merely coincidence that the bow and arrow hunting season should be at its peak while he is in the woods.

It's a dog's life, according to Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay who says each day he is deluged with disgruntled residents who are being subpoenaed to pay their dog tax or else. Not too many months ago he says many of the same people were hounding him to get a dog ordinance passed in the township.

Gathered around the cheerful fire in Hillside's Fireside Lounge one rainy night last week were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Patterson of Idyl Wyld Golf course and Ft. Lauderdale, Florida and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Champe. The Pattersons were having their last dinner in Plymouth previous to their departure south the next morning and Bob Champe, and his most beautiful wife, the former Jean Jolliffe, were entertaining Bob's boss. Mr. Patterson reminisced of the fact that it was in the same building many years ago he had heard his first music over an old spark coil radio owned by Roy Streng who then was living in the old Streng farmhouse which now is Hillside.

Plymouth's famous duck hunting quartette consisting of Jack Taylor, Jack Selle, Russell Powell and Earl Russell were reported covering Wild Mark Bay last weekend as well as all of the other landmarks in the area. A count on Monday morning revealed the fact that only Hunter Russell was able to bring home his limit due to the fact that his three partners weren't able to hit the broad side of a barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick had told friends invited to an opening of their newly decorated basement that they would have police and firemen on hand to celebrate the event in gala style. No one was more surprised than the Hartwicks, however, when an accident in front of their driveway shortly after the party started brought not only local police and the township fire department but Wayne County Sheriff's officers as well.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the questions:

"Everyone has their favorite dishes. What would you have for dinner if you could order the "perfect" menu?"

MRS. ARTHUR STEWART, 9427 Brush: "I like ribbed roast best of all. With that, I would take creamed green beans, mashed potatoes and apple pie with ice cream."

J. B. DONALDSON, 9456 North Lilley road: "A fried chicken dinner is my favorite. With that would go dressing and mashed potatoes with gravy, peas or carrots and apple pie a la mode."

MRS. HILDA WEAVER, 1472 West Ann Arbor trail: "I would order sirloin steak with french fries, salad with 1000 Island dressing, peas and carrots. For dessert I would like lemon meringue pie."

BEN WEAVER, 1472 West Ann Arbor trail: "I prefer roast chicken along with mashed potatoes and gravy, corn, green beans and tossed green salad. No, I'm not crazy about dessert. I probably eat less dessert than anyone in town."

BIG AND SMALL BUSINESS will be bailing out the state treasury for years with a "temporary" tax not expected to die.

Tax authors in the legislature already are planning to extend the $32,000,000 business activities tax beyond its June 15 deadline. Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), considered a tax expert of some talent, figures it's the way out because nobody has complained and the money is very nice, indeed.

"Where else can we get $32,000,000 a year so easily?" he asked.

The tax started as an unwanted child two years ago when the legislature was frightened by the deficit of $65,000,000. Gov. Williams pointed that it might help the state's financial position, but let it become law without his signature. He favored a corporation profits tax.

Businessmen fought it originally because they bawl about it—and a flexible tax bill in the hands of legislators can be a lethal thing. Later, after study, business and industry supported the measure.

Now everybody is happy about the whole arrangement. At least on the surface.

Legislators figure they can keep the tax on the books and keep the cash rolling in without causing a stir. Businessmen feel it's a better tax than one on incomes over $10,000 or others equally obnoxious.

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER Charles M. Ziegler would like to build roads with the proposed $500,000,000 bond issue.

Gov. Williams would like to name a 50-member statewide commission to tell him where they should be built, hinting broadly that Ziegler would bow to political demands.

Mayor Ralph W. Crego, of Lansing, is organizing one group to promote U.S.-127 and U.S.-27, which go through the center of the state, making local merchants delighted with their free-spending tourists.

Others are pushing for a super-highway along the routes, U.S.-23 alone the Lake Huron shore, on U.S.-31 and 131, all figuring on a tourist banana.

Without permeditation, the grade campaign organizations for the bond issue when it hits the ballot next year; (2) confusing Ziegler and his long range plans. Ziegler is sure taxpayers will complain mightily if the $500,000,000 is spent on a single highway. He said a Detroit-Muskegon superhighway is one of the top priorities, anyway.

Then, Ziegler thinks the local promotion groups may have been misled. He put it succinctly: "Superhighways don't go through towns, of any size."

FOREST FIRES CAUSED less damage this year than any since records have been kept.

The conservation department reported that total loss for the year is limited to 3,599 acres of land. This is well below 1951, the previous record low.

MICHIGAN'S UNDERMAN- NED State Police force has a better chance now of getting 114 more men from the 1955 legislature.

They have been praised and applauded in the past for their deeds, but the state hasn't had money to increase the size of the outfit. Now it's different: "How can we hold off now, after the job they did Labor Day?" mused one legislator.

The State Police, aided by the National Guard, sheriffs and local officers, held the holiday week-end to 22 deaths on the highways.

MICHIGAN BELL TELE- PHONE Co. is continuing its drive for a $22,300,000 rate increase.

The company says it will amount to three cents more a day for every telephone in use. The extra cash is needed to meet recent pay increases and rising costs and to maintain a 6.5 per cent profit margin.

Michigan Bell has been trying for the increase for 15 months before the Michigan Public Service Commission without success.

The commission is composed of one Democrat and one Republican, who will give the signal" at least until after the November election. A third position on the commission is unfilled.

"This is known as strategic procrastination," said one observer.

HERE'S A BIT OF IRONY: The Ex-Senator Blair Moody whose name remained on the ballot after he died received more "memorial votes" than did three Republican candidates for governor combined.

Conservation Association To Hold Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Western Wayne County Conservation association and the Plymouth public schools will be held Wednesday evening, October 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the high-school auditorium.

Arrangements have been made to have Pete Petoskey, division game superintendent, as guest speaker. Following a talk Petoskey will show the Conservation department's new film entitled, "Our Michigan Deer Herd." The public is invited to attend.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who believed that great wisdom was to be found in the nation's capital?

THE HUNTING SEASON

Once more, with the hunting season approaching, we ask that hunters in this community observe the sporting and humane rules of game hunting. Although there was a time when disregard of the bag limit did not obviously affect the supply of game the next year, that day has long passed in most areas.

In fact, disregard of bag limits in many areas and in this area, has reduced the supply of game to a point where it is obviously in the best of interest of preservation to stay within the limit.

Despite the fact that this is obvious, some hunters exhibit too much enthusiasm on good hunting days and often liberally exceed the bag limit, especially with birds.

This is an appeal to all good sportsmen to preserve the game supply in this area for future years and future hunters. The advantages in obeying the law in this respect grow greater and greater with each passing year.

Local sportsmen might also remember to use more than average care when they are crossing farmer's fields. Each year much damage is reported to fences and livestock and though most of the credit for this destruction goes to hunters that come from the city, local nimrods can do much to improve their relations with the farmer.

Last year several incidents were reported where pellets from shot guns rained on the farmer's home or his barns. Such carelessness on the part of the sportsman only increases the number of no hunting signs that appear in the area. Remember to park in the farmer's yard, ask his permission to hunt, then be careful with your gun and be careful of his fences.

SHOP WHERE THEY LIVE

Bob Meyers in his Lapeer County Press recently printed the following editorial. Because of the interest in this locality in the subject matter we reprint his thoughts.

"In the eagerness of small towns to attract new industry, one fact is often overlooked: A family does its shopping not where the breadwinner works but where he lives.

"Industry in our towns will help us little unless we have housing for the workers. Conversely, it should trouble us little where our County residents work. As long as they live here, they'll shop here.

"Nowadays, a man doesn't mind much living 10 or 20 miles from his job. He'll gladly drive that distance if he can have a nice home, a nice neighborhood and a pleasant community.

"That's why good government in our Towns, Townships and County is important if we're to prosper.

"There is no quarrel with the effort to attract industry to the County. We should only remember that even more important to our prosperity are the inducements we provide for folks to live here."

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

BABSON SAYS WE CAN HAVE BOTH PEACE AND PROSPERITY

Babson Park, Massachusetts. What we need more than anything in this country if we want both peace and prosperity is a better recognition of the Law of Supply and Demand.

A LESSON FROM 1953
Many people have indicated to me in recent months a kind of fatalism about our economic outlook. They seem to feel that prosperity can be maintained only in a war economy. Perhaps this is because it has been so many years since we have prospered without war. A lesson that we will learn from the recession which started in the summer of 1953 is that we can have both peace and prosperity if we will adjust ourselves to the Law of Supply and Demand.

But a lot of research must be done on consumer attitudes, on finding out what makes people buy, on how to create wants and needs, and how to develop appreciably more effective selling. This especially applies to all merchants. These are the ones who determine employment and business. I wish I had a five-dollar bill for every person I have recently heard say that he would buy a new car if only someone would really try to sell him one.

LESSONS FROM 1929 AND WORLD WAR II
During the peace years from 1929 through 1940, we lost in national output of both goods and services better than $600 billions when measured by 1953 prices. This was about twice what World War II cost us! Our real trouble during those unhappy years was that the buying power of our people failed to keep pace with our productive know-how. For the Law of Supply and Demand to work freely in peacetime, the benefits of new inventions and new methods must be passed along to the worker in the form of higher wages and to the consumer in the form of lower prices, so that the public will be able to buy the products of our increased capacity. This surely requires spending more money on advertising.

Out of our experiences in two World Wars we have learned that the Law of Supply and Demand, although suspended during wartime, must never be forgotten. We have learned that only by curtailment of civilian demand can we meet military needs effectively, and save as many lives as possible. The trouble comes, however, when we try to return to a peacetime economy without stimulating civilian demand.

YOUR PART IN PROSPERITY
Everybody knows that when the demand for anything becomes great, prices go up until production catches up. Remember what electric refrigerators, radio, and TV sets first cost. Look at the current asking price of color TV! When a smart businessman sees his colleagues making money by the fistful, he gets into the act too. Then as more goods are produced and more is spent on advertising, prices start to fall, people go out and buy, and more are employed.

Instead of letting business take this course after World War II, government subsidy and regulation tried to keep business good by holding prices high in the face of declining demand. Pretty soon inflation ballooned our whole price structure. The subsequent recession was in part a process of readjustment to this mistaken attempt to keep prices high.

WORK FOR THE CONSUMER
Whether or not we will have another crash depends on the kind of producers and merchants who make up our economy. The way of economic salvation is to work harder, produce better products at lower cost, and then sell harder than ever before. New markets for new products must be developed. When a market is lost, the sales organization had better find another market rather than appeal to the government.

I forecast that research must be encouraged to keep a concern or a city in a competitively strong position—product research, selling research, and consumer research. Salaries must keep pace with the times. The Law of Supply and Demand will require flexibility and adaptability by all of us. But, if we want both peace and prosperity, we will learn how to live under a free working Law of Supply and Demand. This Law we can no more change than we can change the weather.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Apple Oatmeal Bars

Apple Oatmeal Bars are a good family dessert and an excellent item to fill the goodie corner in the school lunchbox, according to Mrs. David T. Davies of 574 South Sheldon, who has two sons, John and Allen, enrolled in the Plymouth Schools.

Wife of the Reverend Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Mrs. Davies also finds the bars come in handy when she has callers dropping in at the rectory. Here's how she makes the Apple Oatmeal Bars:

Apple Oatmeal Bars

- 1 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup quick cooking oatmeal
- 1/2 cup shortening

Sift flour, salt, soda and brown sugar; mix with oatmeal. Cut in shortening until crumbly; spread half the mixture in a greased 7 by 11 inch baking dish. Arrange 2 1/2 cups sliced apples over crumb mixture in baking dish; dot with 3 tablespoons butter and sprinkle 1/2 cup sugar over apples. Cover with remaining crumb mixture. Bake in moderate oven 350° 40 to 45 minutes. Cut in squares and serve warm with lemon sauce, or cut in bars and serve cold as a cookie.

Lemon Sauce

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 egg yolk
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Sitting on the back porch of her home on 574 South Sheldon, Mrs. David T. Davies pares the apples for Apple Oatmeal Bars while Terry, the Davies' Pet cocker, watches the proceedings closely.

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 egg white

Mix sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually add the hot water. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add the egg yolk and cook 1 to 2 minutes then add flavoring and butter. Cool slightly and fold in the beaten egg white.

Athalie Hough Archibald Writes of Life in Africa

Of interest to local readers is a letter received by Edward G. Hough of West Ann Arbor trail from his daughter, Mrs. Athalie Archibald, former Plymouth resident, in which she gives the highlights of her trip and her impressions of Africa after spending a year in Durban North, Natal, South Africa. Her husband employed by the Standard Oil company, is stationed at Durban North for two years. Excerpts from her letter follow.

Speaking of their trip, Mrs. Archibald writes that it took 18 days from New York to reach Capetown. Here they made a three-day sightseeing visit, then went on up the African East Coast, stopping at Port Elizabeth, East London and finally Durban. Mrs. Archibald says their arrival in Durban was "like old home week" with most of the Standard - Vacuum Americans down to welcome them since the "African Enterprise" brought messages from friends and relatives, clothes and furniture ordered in the States.

During the next month the Archibalds were "welcomed, singly and en masse... visited immigration and the American Consul, were interviewed by the Natal Mercury, house-hunted, school-hunted and moved into our home on April 18th."

To maintain their house and grounds the Archibalds employ three natives; a cookboy, a girl for the laundry-work and cleaning, and a garden boy. "Their wages are small by our standards, but their living is paid for so their wages are all profit."

Continuing with her letter, "Shopping or marketing is much more complicated here than in the States. About twice a week I go to the big city market to buy vegetables, fruit and flowers... Nothing is even wrapped except meat, so you always take baskets with you. The butchery opens at 4 a.m. - the best cuts go early and the shop is never open after 11:30. We are up early too, having breakfast at 6:45 and every-one is off by 7:15, Archie to the Refinery in Wentworth and the children to school."

Shopping is slowed down considerably because all shop-keepers stop for tea both morning and afternoon, and if you happen to be in a small shop making a purchase which requires some contemplation you are often asked to have tea also, but alone." Clothing styles are 1 1/2 to 2 years behind American and Continental styles, according to Mrs. Archibald, with the added disadvantage of being both expensive and built for large people.

"Most everyone plays golf, tennis or bowls... and the entertaining among the 'fair sex' is done by teas... with the majority of them at 10:30 in the morning. At these teas one is served a variety of sandwiches, scones or crumpets, cake and sometimes (our pie). The most popular of these is lemon curd, our lemon meringue."

"Durban is a city of about 320,000 people and the population is divided almost into thirds, Indians, Natives and Europeans. There are four languages in general use, English, Afrikaans, Indian and Zulu." Mrs. Archibald has to cope with such English or South African words as "jumble" (rummage sale), "institute" (club), "give you a tinkle" (telephone you) "dinky" (cute), "muti" (medicine). She finally had to give up trying to get a canvas strap in a department store one day because they were unknown, and settled for a leather one.

In October 1953 the Archibalds drove through Swaziland to Kruger park, later crossing into Southern Rhodesia and on to Bulawayo. "From there to the Falls, about 300 miles, one drives on tar strip roads, roads with strips of tar just wide enough for your tires. You may well imagine how the driver must concentrate and the difficulty when one meets a car. Fortunately we met only four or five vehicles... The road is an isolated strip with a scattering of small missions and a few native kraals (farms). At the halfway mark is a restaurant and gas station... Otherwise nothing. We carried water with us in the usual safari manner, a canvas bag hung on the front of the car."

"You have seen many pictures of Victorian Falls but until you visit this wonder of the world you cannot imagine the isolated vastness, the tremendous leap of the great Zambezi as it plunges over the rocks and into the canyons... Their February trip to the Western coast took them through the ostrich country of Outshoorn, on to Kimberley and Basutoland. Summing up her impressions of Africa, Mrs. Archibald says, "This is truly a land of flowering trees."

The Mail also received a copy of a feature article from "The Natal Daily News," dated September 7, which described a lecture and demonstration on flower arrangements to be given by Mrs. Archibald in conjunction with a drive to raise funds for a child guidance clinic in Durban.

New Books at Dunning Library

Two best-selling novels are now among the new additions to Dunning library's every-growing collection. One by Irving Stone entitled, "Love Is Eternal," is the story of the marriage of Mary Todd and Abraham Lincoln; while the other is "Goodbye My Lady" by James Street, the author who passed away last week.

Other books in the new shipment include "National Electrical Code 1953" put out by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and "The Cuckoo in Spring," a delightful, light novel by the English authoress, Elizabeth Cadell. Thomas Whiteside's "The Relaxed Sell" is a book about merchandisers and advertisers in the world of radio and television.

Tells Way to Create Good Color Schemes

An easy way to make sure your decorative plan is entirely harmonious, color-wise, is to start with your decision on the kind and color design of the floor covering. Then use the shades featured there as cues for the harmonizing and contrasting accent colors of your furnishings, draperies and wall finishes.

Here are suggestions on how to build and develop your own individual color schemes, illustrating how a flooring such as modern resilient vinyl tile can be translated into a charming decor color scheme.

To make your kitchen into an interesting and lovely center for cooking, dining and casual family entertaining, choose brisk, inspiring colors for the floor. Drab tones have a depressing emotional effect, while the use of light, airy shades have a cheerful, relaxing effect.

You might start with a warm tan vinyl flooring with brown, cream, yellow and deep orange marbling. For counter and sink tops choose dramatic ruby red or fresh jonquil yellow. Brown or red feature strip will enable you to plan accent borders that will set off the dining area from the cooking and food preparation sections of the room. Added design interest will be given if you use red feature strip and ruby red and white granite spoon and fork theme-tiles.

Start creating a color scheme for a spacious living room by designing a sophisticated floor of Capri blue or black 9" x 9" vinyl tiles installed in a window pane design, with white granite feature strips used horizontally and vertically to pick up the white marbling of the tiles.

Pale yellow walls, and white draperies with a stylized black, white and red design and gray upholstery would go well with the Capri blue tile, and warm terra cotta walls on three sides and a harmonizing green on the fourth wall would be most effective with black tiles, and warm Spanish brown upholstery, and black, white and red accessory accents.

For a master bathroom color scheme white granite or white tweed always would be immaculate looking. The 54" rolls would cover most bathroom floors without a seam. A border of Kerry green and willow green ivy themetiles, or jonquil and Kerry green fish themetiles, would be most effective with white tweed vinyl flooring by the yard. Petal themetiles in black and white granite, or jonquil gray and yellow, or black or yellow feature strips, would give an air of opulence to a white granite tile floor in the bath or powder room.

New Method Of Bedmaking Saves Steps

How long does it take you to make a bed? If it's more than three minutes, you may be making the job more of a chore than necessary.

Time-and-motion studies by home economists indicate that a typical housewife walks 262 feet, making 11 complete trips around the bed and takes 6 minutes 28 seconds to make each bed.

By comparison, a simplified bed making method involves only one complete trip (once around and back), just 34 feet of walking and an elapsed time of 2:42. Simplified bedmaking saves steps and time, making it a cinch to provide the luxury of a fresh bed that invites sleep at the end of a long day.

Home Economists Help
 Home economists have devised various techniques to take the bother out of bedmaking. All involve the combining of several operations into one, such as tucking in sheets and blankets together on one side of the bed and then making up the other half of the bed from the other side.

With a "one-trip bedmaking" method you can make a neat, tight bed with fresh sheets in less than three minutes.

Steps in Bedmaking
 First, stack the bedding on a chair placed at center of one side of the bed.

Standing next to the chair, throw the bottom sheet across the mattress. Then the top sheet and blanket.

At the head of the bed, fold the top sheet over the blanket, tuck and miter the bottom sheet and tuck the top sheet and blanket, as far as you can reach down the side of the bed.

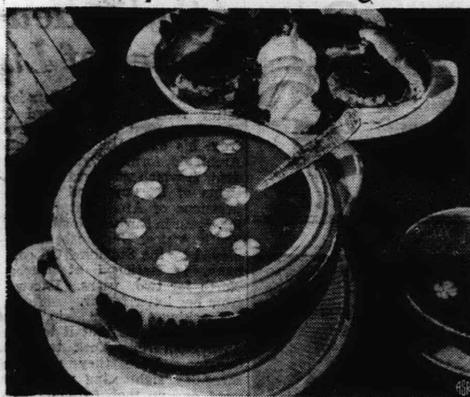

Walk around to the head of the bed on the opposite side and repeat the operation. Move back around the bed, tucking in sheets and blankets together, mitering the corners at the foot of the bed, until you're back to the chair.

Throw the spread, place the pillow on the fold and flip the spread over the pillow. Presto! The job's done.

For restful sleep, change your sheets at least twice a week.

Alkali will discolor aluminum cooking utensils, but they may be cleaned with steel wool or a mild acid solution, such as vinegar and water.

Story Of The Two 'Big's'

Not once upon a time, but right now, the two "big's," big bowls of soup and big satisfying sandwiches are ready to play the leading role for family-pleasing meals.

There's no end to the variety possible with the many kinds of convenient canned soups available, served plain or in interesting combinations. Crunchy or hearty tidbits also make "new" soups.

Sandwich hearties from the canned foods shelf will give you lots of ideas. Here are two starters.

Denver Style Tunaburgers

- 3 eggs
- 1 can (6 oz.) flaked tuna
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper

Beat eggs and mix with remaining ingredients. Cook spoonfuls on a greased hot griddle or skillet. Serve in buns or on bread with catsup or chili sauce. Makes six sandwiches.

Broiler Beef Sandwiches

- 1 can (12-oz.) roast beef, or luncheon meat
- 8 slices rye bread
- Mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup catsup
- Prepared mustard
- 2 medium size tomatoes

Chill and slice meat. Spread bread lightly with mayonnaise, and toast in broiler. Turn and put meat on 4 of them. Spread catsup and mustard on remaining slices and top with thinly sliced peeled tomato. Broil until beef and tomato are hot. Put sandwiches together and serve hot. Makes four sandwiches.

Frozen Glazed Squash Helps to Fill Diet Need

Supplying "yellow vegetables" for the family's diet to help meet essential vitamin A needs is a problem to many homemakers, for there are fewer vegetables in this category than almost any other. It takes much planning to avoid monotony.

Therefore, the homemaker would do well to bolster her menu repertoire with acorn squash, which is now on the market in harvest-season abundance. She can brighten menus for a year ahead by making quantities of a selected squash dish and storing it in the home freezer.

Glazed acorn squash, with tasty accents of apricot, lemon and orange flavors, is an appetizing dish:

Here's the way to prepare it. Wash, halve, remove fiber and seed of 6 acorn squash. Arrange in baking pan, cut side down. Add 1/4 cup water.

Cover. Bake in preheated 400° oven 30 minutes, until just tender, when pierced with long tined fork.

Cook until soft 1 10-oz. pkg. dried apricots. Chill. Force through food mill.

Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice concentrate

Fill squash cavities with fruit. Freeze on cookie sheets. Store cut sides together, separated by double cellophane disks. Assemble in family portions in poultry size polyethylene bags. Freezer storage life: 12 months.

To thaw and serve, remove from bag and separate. Heat, cut side up, in preheated 350° oven in covered casserole 45 minutes. Remove cover for last 15 minutes to glaze fruit. Glazed squash is delicious served with baked veal chops and tossed salad.

Use Aluminum Foil

One of the many ways housewives use aluminum foil these days is in the oven under pies or other baked dishes to catch any possible run-over of food. For this purpose use a piece of foil only slightly larger than the pan or dish with the edges turned up and place it on an oven rack directly under the pan or dish.

Do not cover the entire bottom of the oven with foil because this cuts off circulation of heat and prevents proper cooking. Also, the heat given off by electric units or gas burners will reflect back by the foil. This will over-heat electric units, possibly causing them to burn out, or will cause incomplete combustion of gas which requires air circulation to burn properly.

Another precaution: Foil should never touch open heating wires in any electric appliance because it is likely to cause a short circuit.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

REMODEL

A real do-it-yourself project is this attractive "Flamingo Room" in the basement of the Carl Hartwick's home, 14354 Northville road. To create a gay, cheery atmosphere, walls and ceiling were painted in flamingo, while the floor was painted black and stippled with flamingo and chaise. Black furniture and woodwork offer further contrast with the brightly-colored walls and ceiling. Displayed in the cabinets, right background, are some of the salt and pepper shakers collected by the Hartwick's daughter, Mary Lou. Plans for the trellaced stairway in the left background came from a do-it-yourself book obtained at Plymouth Lumber and Coal company, Main Street. The Hartwicks purchased the paint for their remodeling project at Pease Wallpaper and Paint company of South Main.

How to Give A Rich, Natural Finish to Versatile Plywood

The rich natural finishes and other distinctive tonal effects which account for so much of the appeal of lovely hardwood plywood wall paneling can be achieved nowadays even by the average home craftsman, Plymouth lumber dealers point out.

In the first place, they explain, the wide color range offered by the various species of paneling makes it possible to select panels of the natural color tone desired. When other than a natural finish is preferred, the desired variation can be effected by staining or bleaching.

A factor which facilitates the job greatly is the condition of the plywood when it comes from the lumber yard. Quality panels are sanded smoothly by the producer, and therefore are ready for finishing without laborious preparation.

Experts have developed various methods for achieving beautiful natural finishes. Here is a comparatively simple system which has proved especially satisfactory:

First, apply a prime coat of clear sealer or a thin coat of white shellac mixed half-and-half with denatured alcohol. When dry, fill nail holes with wood putty tinted the color of the panel. After the putty has hardened and dried, rub the panel with No. 1 steel wool or No. 00 sandpaper.

Second, apply a coat of clear sealer or varnish. Allow it to dry 24 hours, then rub with fine steel wool or sandpaper.

Third, apply a coat of dull varnish. When dry, buff it to a velvety sheen.

This method will produce a lovely natural finish in such close-grained plywoods as birch and maple. One additional step is recommended when the paneling is oak, mahogany, walnut or other open-grained wood. That is the application, after the prime coat has dried, of a white or natural filler to fill the pores and provide a "super-smooth" surface.

Staining can be employed either to deepen or lighten the natural color of the wood. After the prime coat is dry and sanded, apply one coat of combination stain and wax, wiping with a rag to the desired shade after the stain has penetrated for a few minutes. Then put on a coat of self-polishing wax and buff to the desired sheen.

This tri-level contemporary home, combining traditional styling and the spaciousness of Colonial architecture, eliminates the inconvenience of long flights of stairs. The well-planned division of areas throughout features entry, living, dining and kitchen on the second level. Note the convenient kitchen layout.

Three large bedrooms and a bath are located on the third level, just a few steps up. The partial basement, including the laundry and one-car garage, is located on the first level.

For complete plans, send $8.75 and design number to HomOgraf Company, 11711 East Eight Mile Road, East Detroit, Michigan.

Septic Tank 'Remedies' Ignore Basic Facts

Don't be fooled by people who want to sell you "this new method of keeping septic tanks sweet and clean."

That's advice from Walter L. Mallmann, a bacteriologist at Michigan State College. He says that many such so-called remedies have appeared on the market from time to time.

The latest is a "highly concentrated mixture of enzymes." It is supposed to replace "lost or worn out bacteria" with new bacterial cultures. It is supposed to speed up the reduction of solid waste matter for easier drainage.

In the first place, says Mallmann, the right kind of bacteria are in normal raw sewage. In the second place, he adds, they don't become lost or worn out. They reproduce by dividing themselves.

"I don't know of any substance on the market," he insists, "that will speed up the bacteria in doing their job."

And remember, he adds, a septic tank has to be cleaned once in a while.

Prevent Floor Decay With Paper Covering

If you have one of those basementless houses, now is the time to crawl underneath it to cover the soil.

That's the warning from Arthur Bell, Michigan State College extension agricultural engineer. With cold weather coming the moisture from the soil will condense on the floor boards and joists. Then it won't be long before the wood will start to decay.

Bell points out that the remedy is simple. The cover, laid on the wet soil under a house, acts as a barrier against the rising moisture. The cover may be asphalt coated paper such as roll roofing, laminated papers with a waterproofing material, or thin metal foils. He advises lapping the cover 2 or 3 inches.

When the soil is covered under the house, says Bell, it is possible to safely close the ventilating spaces on the foundations in cold weather to conserve heat. He also suggests nailing a one-inch insulation on the bottom of the joists underneath the house.

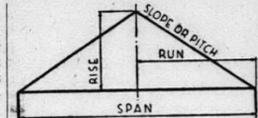

A Home-Owner's Tip

Roof Pitch Figured in Inches of Rise; New Technique Broadens Use of Color

Roof pitch must be known before ordering roofing material. Pitch can be expressed in number of vertical inches of rise per foot or horizontal run. These terms are explained in the accompanying drawing.

A new application method now makes it possible to use three-tab, square-but asphalt strip shingles on slopes as low as 2 inches per horizontal foot. Previously, asphalt shingles were recommended only for roofs with a pitch of 4 inches or more.

Many contemporary houses have roofs that are nearly flat but still visible from the ground. With the new application method, houses of this kind can be given colorful roofs in keeping with other aspects of modern design. Asphalt shingles are made in a wide range of solid and blended colors, including pastel or darker shades.

With the colder weather coming on and fewer days for the kids to play outside, you'll want to see that they've plenty of room in the house for play. If that's the case you'll be sure to want to get rid of the old heating plant if its got branching ducts, because they not only take up valuable space but are an eyesore, too. Harold E. Stevens at 857 Penniman will be glad to help you select the right burner for your home, whether you've a preference for the oil or gas heater.

By installing one of Mr. Stevens' General Electric or Armstrong burners, you'll find you've got a really compact and efficient unit for heating your home. Bathroom Should Be Today's Modern Room

The bathroom should be, and in most cases is, today's most modern room.

More than any other space in the house, the bathroom has come in for some basic revolutionary changes. A study of the top architects in the country shows that they have concentrated fresh, original thought on this room as never before.

They are designing bathrooms today that answer a wide and varied range of human needs. No longer is the bathroom simply a narrow closet for plumbing and people. Now, the modern bathroom is a roomy, comfortable area—often compartmented—in which a person may read, relax, sunbathe, converse, and exercise.

To carry out this modern design, architects are using the basic materials like clay tile, with great new creativity. Floor-to-ceiling installation of clay tile, for insurance, is fast becoming standard practice. The material is not only most practical by way of durability and upkeep, but its 200 different fade-proof colors offer infinite opportunities for decorative schemes.

It is not only the most luxurious homes that have these modern features—recessed bookshelves, quiet space for chaise lounge, small sun patio, and the like. People of moderate means are being happily surprised to find that they can afford them. The first prerequisite is careful planning of space and the wise choice of materials. Clay tile, for example, is an economy because once installed it requires no further remodeling.

A variation on this trend is to have one bathroom in the house designed for sheer utility—water closet, shower stall, basin—while a second bathroom will include the facilities for more leisurely bathing and recreation.

Half a dozen hoboes camped on the farm of James Purdy, north of town last Friday. They were all of youthful character, two being less than 17 years of age. Like all humanity, they became hungry and seeing some nice fat turkeys on Purdy's farm, a desire for roast turkey became so strong that two of the birds were caught and prepared for the "spit" before the fire. Mrs. Purdy saw the gang and gave an alarm. When the men folks arrived the tramps beat a retreat. Mr. Purdy notified the officers and four of them were caught by Officer Smith.

Mrs. Harriet Corwin caught her heel on the step as she was coming out of C. G. Draper's store Monday afternoon and fell heavily upon the stone sidewalk, fracturing her left hip.

Fall Leaf-Burning Brings Problem Of Fire Hazard

The burning of leaves during the fall season always presents quite a problem, and very often many questions are asked the Plymouth fire department on the best way of burning.

To answer these questions here are a few simple rules to follow:

1. Never burn leaves on the curb or on any hard surface street, (concrete pavement or black top).
2. Never burn leaves or other refuse outside on a windy day.
3. NEVER BURN leaves when the smoke from the fire will settle over the street in front of your home. It can obstruct traffic and endanger lives.
4. Never burn close to a building, (stay 15 to 20 feet from them) particularly one with wood shingles.

One of the safest places to burn leaves around the home is in a wire incinerator, or if no incinerator is available, burn on a gravel driveway or in a burning area which is out in the open with a cleared area all around it.

Be sure that this area is not located where grass fires will start from dry vegetation.

IF YOU BURN leaves, never leave the fire unattended. Keep small children away from the fire and be considerate of the smoke entering your neighbor's house.

If no place is available to burn the leaves, you can put them into a compost pile for use the following year as a fertilizer. A permit to burn leaves on your own property is not necessary. However, if you burn on other people's property, a permit is required and can be obtained by appearing at the fire department to sign for it. In any event, Play It Safe! Burn with consideration for the safety of your home and family, as well as that of your neighbors.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

I have not been asked to sign a petition for flasher and gate protection at the C&O Railroad Farmer Street crossing but I certainly think that the City and the C&O should be highly criticized for not having had warnings and protection gates installed years ago. I use Farmer Street daily.

Just a few weeks ago I was practically on top of the tracks when I noticed a train bearing down on me. Fortunately the accelerator of my car responded but I am certain that I did not escape being struck by more than inches.

When driving west, the building obstructs a clear view of an approaching train. The whistle may have sounded before the driver was within hearing distance and if the car windows are closed, one does not hear the bell which I believe does not always ring.

It is a dangerous crossing. A lot of trains and automotive traffic pass and officials should take cognizance of this.

Very truly yours,

Your Community Fund Donation

Girl Scout Lodge Becomes Financial Responsibility

(This is the first in a series of articles about local organizations which rely on Community Fund donations for their operation. It is an attempt to explain what the organization does and why it needs your financial support.)

Plymouth Council of the Girl Scouts of America asks for but seven per cent of the Community Fund collection, but the money it receives is absolutely vital for the continued operation of the Girl Scout program in Plymouth. Some 250 girls belong to the Scouting program today in Plymouth. If adult leadership becomes available, 50 more girls will be able to join.

The Community Fund directors have set aside $1,875 for the Girl Scout council. Expenditures are made by the council under the supervision of a finance chairman and treasurer and are subject to the approval of the entire council.

Largest expense of program is the Plymouth Kiwanis-Girl Scout Lodge on Plymouth road. Girl Scouts assumed complete responsibility for the operation and maintenance of the building last June. Money to operate this large comfortable cinder-block building goes for heat, light and water bills, repairs and replacements. Insurance is carried on the building, the Scouts, their leaders and visitors in case of accident.

Books for troop leaders and some troop supplies are purchased by the council. A portion of the budget is set aside for fees for training leaders and sending council members and leaders to conventions and workshops. Six leaders attended the national convention in Cincinnati this past year and the same number attended an outdoor camping session at Camp Holly, Michigan and nature workshops in Elkhorn, Wisconsin.

Expenses incurred in connection with city-wide Brownie and Scout rallies are paid by the council. There were three of these rallies held last year.

Camping equipment, including pup tents and other basic necessities for outdoor living, was purchased in June and used for the first time at this year's Day Camp. It is available for troop camping at anytime.

All leaders, council members with troop committee members and program consultants are volunteer workers with the exception of the Day Camp director.

Allowance for Day Camp expenses includes her salary.

Mrs. E. J. Headman is the present commissioner of the Plymouth Council.

Watch Out for My Little Girl

Today my daughter, who is 7 years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is Coot, sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved good-bye and started off to the hall of learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her, the girl with yellow curls, and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head, and the trees in the school yard and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital, unimportant things, and then we studied spelling, reading, arithmetic and then to bed.

She's back there now—back in the nursery sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger is cut or her head gets bumped, I can fix it—but when she starts to school when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's an nice kid. She can run like a deer and dart about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time; I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections and please remember that children run from behind parked cars. Please don't run over my little girl.

Eighty per cent of America's fatal highway accidents involve cars traveling in the same direction, with faulty depth perception on the part of drivers getting the most blame.

Unbeaten Ways, 19 to 0

A hard-hitting Plymouth high school football eleven scored an impressive victory over Trenton on the latter's field last Friday evening by an 19 to 0 score. Coach Charles Ketterer's boys ran hard, charged and tackled well as they thoroughly outplayed the Trojans on a rain-soaked, soggy turf.

The Rocks won the toss and elected to receive the kick-off. Denny Luker took the ball on his own ten-yard line and returned it to the Plymouth 35 before being brought down, but fumbled in the first series of downs at mid-field and Trenton recovered. The Trojans were forced to punt as the Rocks held them to no gain. Plymouth couldn't get going and Petro punted 40 yards to the Trenton 35. Plymouth held and Denny Luker took a punt on his own 30 and raced to the Trenton 40 for a first down. Two incomplete passes forced Petro to punt out-of-bounds on the Trenton 24. The Trojans made one first down and then punted to Luker on the Plymouth 37, who returned it to the Trenton 43 from where the Rocks went on to score the first touchdown.

Early in the second quarter Chuck McKenna raced 28 yards to the Trenton 15-yard line. Dick Davidson made runs of 5, 4 and 4, and then McKenna scored on a quarterback sneak. Davidson's extra point attempt was blocked, and the Rocks led 6 to 0.

Trenton received the kickoff and fumbled on the second play but recovered. Luker took a punt back 30 yards to the Trenton 30-yard line. Captain Lee Juve, Davidson and Luker alternated in carrying the ball to the Trenton 10-yard line from where Davidson tossed a touchdown pass to McKenna. Davidson made the extra point to make the score 13 to 0 in favor of the Rocks.

Trenton received the kickoff and fumbled with Plymouth recovering on the opponent 30-yard line; Juve made 15 yards, and Luker 4 and 5, but the Rocks lost the ball on downs on the Trojan 18 yard line after a penalty as the half ended.

Play seasawed back and forth during the remainder of the game with Plymouth having several opportunities to score, but the slippery ball and turf prevented it. With 34 seconds remaining the Rocks scored again after recovering another Trenton fumble on the Trojan 29-yard line. Juve bulled his way 14 yards around end for the touchdown, and Davidson's extra point attempt was blocked as the game ended.

Plymouth outplayed Trenton in all phases with the Rocks rolling up 234 yards, all but 10 of it by rushing. Trenton had only 89 total yards. The Rocks had 12 first downs to 8 for the losers. Captain Juve was the rushing leader with 128 yards gained in 17 attempts for a 7 1/2 yard average.

Tomorrow Redford Union comes here for a game at 8 p.m.

by "Professor" Ed Brown

The high school is certainly fielding a well-coached, hard-hitting eleven this fall. Much credit must go to Coach Charles Ketterer and his assistants for the showing the lads have made in tackling, blocking, running and the basic fundamentals of football. This team is small in size and small in number, but they make up for that by the fast, aggressive play that they have shown thus far.

Last Friday at Trenton, time after time, the backs literally ran the opposition into the ground, knocking the defenders over like duck pins. The boys will win a lot of games this year, and may go all the way, however, the team is only thinking of one game at a time, and that is the way that it should be.

The crowds have been terrific this year and another capacity house is expected tomorrow night when the Redford Union Panthers appear here for a game at eight o'clock.

The surprising New York Giants were real giant-killers in the World Series, but deserved to win each game as they did. They were as hot as a Fourth of July firecracker, and never let up. The Indians could not get that clutch hit and left about a dozen Indians on the bases in each game. Man-

Plymouth Junior 11 in Scoreless Tie

The Plymouth and Bentley junior high football elevens fought to a scoreless tie last week. Coach Frank Sullivan's lads had several scoring opportunities, but penalties nullified all of them? Coach Sullivan blames lack of experience for some of the needless rule infractions.

The young Rocks had the ball inside the Bentley 10-yard line on five occasions, but could not push it across.

There are 57 boys out for the team this year, one of the largest squads ever out for the junior high team.

Yesterday the team played Trenton here.

ger Lopez relied too much on Bob Lemon. Many of the fans wanted to see Bob Feller in action but were disappointed.

It isn't often that a pinch-hitter and relief pitcher win a World Series, but that is just what happened this year.

The Big Ten race will be another tight one this year with Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois fighting it out for the title. Minnesota and MSC will not be pushovers; neither will Purdue or Michigan. Last week was a weekend of upsets. Who would pick Purdue to humble Notre Dame? Stanford to upset Illinois? or Army to humiliate Michigan by such a one-sided score?

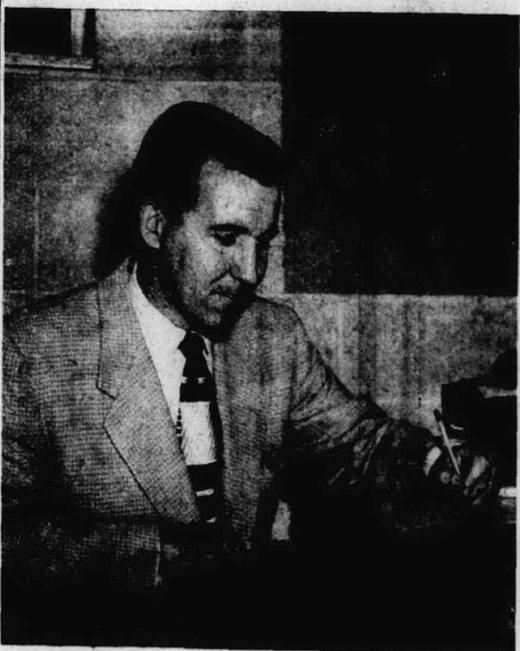

I said last year that Iowa would be powerful this year. Last year with a sophomore team they lost close ones to MSC and Michigan, and Notre Dame was lucky to gain a tie. The same team is back this year, and I look for them to go to the Rose Bowl for the first time. We'll see.

Can't say as I can quite see this naming Bucky Harris as the new Tiger manager. If you remember, Bucky was manager of the Tigers for five years in the early thirties, and never finished out of the second division. In fact, the year after he left, Micky Cokrane came in and with practically the same team won a pennant. The change may be alright, but I personally would rather have seen a younger, more aggressive type named to this important post.

One certainly had all the sporting events one wanted last weekend. World series, football, hockey, pro football; one thing after another from Saturday noon to Sunday night.

I had the television on the World Series; a radio in the dining room on the MSC-Wisconsin game; and a small one in the kitchen on the Michigan-Army contest. It was fun jockeying from one to the other and keeping posted on all three. It was tough to see all three of my favorites lose, though.

But where life is more terrible than death, it is then the truest valour to dare to live.

Bill Harding

Teacher-Coach Harding Holds Variety of Jobs

This is another of a series of articles acquainting the sports fans with those who are doing a great deal to promote and coach athletics for young people in Plymouth.

—Ed. Brown

Bill Harding of the Plymouth high school athletic department began his career in sports at Iron Mountain high school in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. At Iron Mountain Bill participated in football, basketball and track for three years, playing a guard on the gridiron, the same on the court, and was a dash man in track. Upon graduating in 1942, Bill entered Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo where he played Frosh football before being called in the armed service in late 1942.

Coach Harding spent three years in the army, much of that period in action in the Pacific theatre. He was a member of the famed 25th Division belonging to the infantry. Bill saw service in the New Georgia area and was with the troops that recaptured the Philippines. At Luzon, in the latter campaign, Bill was shot and wounded in the right shoulder, which hospitalized him for a period of six months, and for which he received the Purple Heart. In his early service life, he participated on the divisional basketball team.

After his army discharge, Coach Harding returned to Western State, but his wound terminated his athletic career. In 1948 the popular coach transferred to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor to complete his college training and was graduated in February of 1950.

While at Western, Bill played football and was a close friend of Wayne Terwilliger, the present shortstop of the Washington Senators.

Upon graduation from Michigan, Bill took a position at Dexter for a year and a half where he was assistant coach in all sports. In the fall of 1952 he came to Plymouth as a junior high science and mathematics teacher, and an athletic assistant in football and basketball. Here he was reunited with Arthur Alford, his junior high principal, who was his science teacher in junior high in Iron Mountain.

One of Bill's jobs is serving as a football scout for Coach Charles Ketterer. Bill and Frank Sullivan, the other scout, are doing such a bang-up job at scouting the opposition that Coach Ketterer considers them invaluable in this service. Bill serves as end coach for the varsity squad, and is coach of the basketball JV squad.

During the summer the young coach works as an attendant at the Wayne County Training School.

Recently the Hardings purchased a new home at 9336 Columbia in Redford Township. Bill met his wife, Delphine, at Michigan, and they have one child, Billy, 3 years old.

Four Nines Still In Inter-County League Playoffs

Four teams remain in contention for the Inter-county League title, and the champion may be determined Sunday in games at Riverside and Cass Benton Parks. Auto Club has the best position having lost no games in the playoffs, while Northville, Wyandotte and River Rouge each have lost one tilt.

Sunday Auto Club, the defending champion, plays River Rouge at 12 noon on the Riverside diamond, while Northville goes against Wyandotte at the same time at Cass Benton Park. The winner of the latter game will play Auto Club at Riverside Park at 3 p.m.

All games last Sunday were postponed because of rain. Auto Club could win the title outright Sunday by winning both games, or at the same time they could lose out by dropping two games in this two-game knockout playoff.

The consolation playoffs for teams below 500 ended a couple weeks ago with Wayne Dietrich emerging as winners over Plymouth. Pafel, the 18 year-old lad, who won two from the local Merchants team has since been signed by the Detroit Tigers.

Harriers Outrun Redford Union

The fast-stepping high school cross-country squad won the second straight duel meet of the season last Friday as they romped to an unexpected win over a good Redford Union team. The Rocks won by a score of 23 to 33 by placing five men in the first eight to finish.

Bob Danol led the Rock harriers by placing second to Baxley of Redford Union. Bob was 7 seconds behind the winner for the two-mile grind. Pieter Schiepper placed third, Tom Ferguson fourth, Russell Mecklenberg sixth, and Wayne Smith eighth to count in the scoring. Earl Fulton in tenth and Jim Sorenson in thirteenth made good showings.

Tomorrow the local harriers take on Bentley on the Riverside course in a meeting beginning at 4 p.m.

A cricket's song is produced by rubbing one wing against another and only adult males "sing." Some entomologists believe the cricket sound is a mating call. Others regard it as a battle challenge, and still others say the cricket chirps just to express himself.

Rocks Hold 6-B Top Spot

The Plymouth Rocks are all alone at the top of the 6-B League football standings as a result of the impressive 19 to 0 win over Trenton on the Trojans' gridiron last Friday. Bentley handed Belleville a first loss with an 12 to 6 win. Allen Park remained undefeated in league play by trouncing Redford Union 26 to 6, but have been tied by Trenton.

Other scores from this area were: Dearborn Lowry 19 Garden City 0; VanDyke 6 Walled Lake 0; Ann Arbor 25 Flint Northern 0; Battle Creek 25 Ypsilanti 6.

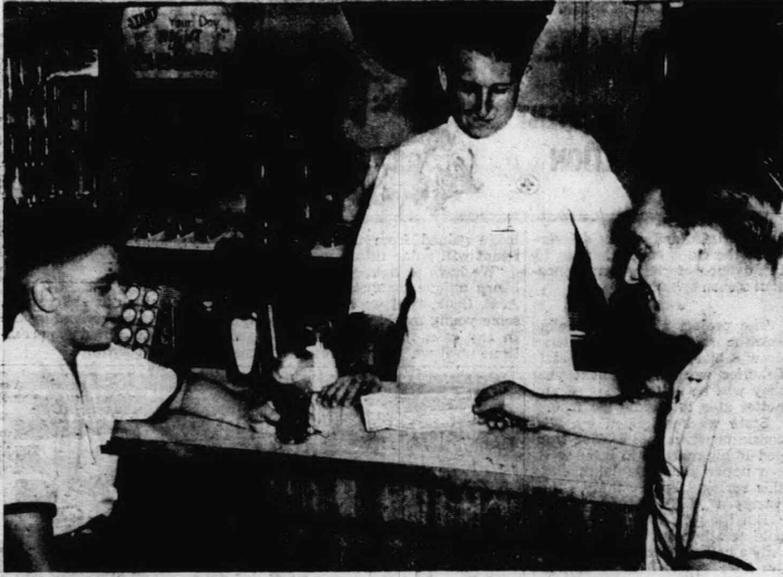

Tomorrow Plymouth goes against Redford Union on the local field at 8 p.m. Trenton plays host to Bentley, while Belleville goes against Allen Park. The Rocks should be favored over Redford Union as the Panthers have not won a game this season. They lost 6-B encounters to Belleville 18 to 0, and to Allen Park 26 to 7. The Rocks won last year by a 26 to 6 score.

The standings with points scored for an against are as follows:

Plymouth	2	0	0	32	12
Allen Park	1	0	1	33	14
Belleville	1	1	0	24	12

Twelve-Year-Old Jim Herter Picks Upsets To Win Weekly Football Contest Honors

In a week of upsets 12-year-old Jim Herter came through to win The Plymouth Mail football contest and thus fulfill his wish to "buy a new pair of football shoes." Submitting his first entry, Jim must have gazed long into his crystal ball as he saw Wisconsin downing Michigan State and Army tripping Michigan. Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Herter of Bradner road and he admitted that "Dad helped some!"

For the second week in a row the runner-up prize of $7 went to the Libbings residence at 15512 Lakeside. Last week the entry was signed "Kenneth", while this week's second-place winner was "Fred". The Libbings explained that 15-year-old son Fred actually filled-out both entries but that Dad signed the first week's. The HerTERS and Libbings are neighbors and seem to have started a friendly rivalry in "picking the winners".

A Northville resident, Howard S. Wilkinson, took third place honors and $3.00. The winning entry missed only the Georgia Tech-S.M.U. and Purdue-Notre Dame contests in addition to the professional tie game, while Libbings missed three contests and Wilkinson four.

RAILROADING 53 YEARS in Plymouth before his retirement in 1945 was John L. Lutz, right, who is receiving his 50-year pin from M. W. Carson, local transportation supervisor of the C & O railroad. A slip-up on the part of some railroad official brought the long postponed pin presentation.

Local Railroader Receives Award Nine Years Late

Maybe it was nine years late, but John L. Lutz, 376 West Spring street, proudly accepted a gold pin from the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad in a brief ceremony which marked his 53 years of service.

Grange Cleanings

Our meeting tonight is the most important meeting of the year so do make a special extra effort to be there. Do you realize that unless the Grange can be kept up and alive the advantages of the Blue Cross will be lost, too. And to keep the Grange going we must have officers and it is the duty of the members to come out and help elect those officers.

We have a fine membership now of splendid people, and it is a privilege to be a member of such a group.

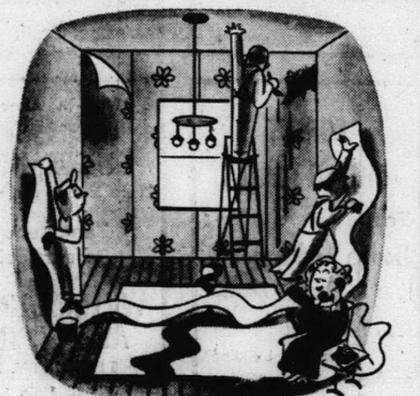

The usual potluck supper on Thursday night. We hope to see the new members there.

The Grange members are saddened and shocked by the sudden passing of one of the oldest members of the organization here in Plymouth, Matt Swegles as he was better known, has lived in this vicinity for more than 40 years and has friends everywhere. He was master of this Grange for sometime. A good man who will be greatly missed by everyone. We extend our sympathy to the family.

Attention members! If you are unable to attend the next meeting of the Grange please send or telephone your Blue Cross contract number which is in the upper right corner of your B.C. card to the Grange secretary, Mrs. Hilda Lunn, 15930 La Salle road, Plymouth or call number 2392-J. It is imperative that she have this information by October 10 for re-enrollment purposes. Do not neglect it.

And be sure to come to the meeting tonight. Help make Plymouth Grange one to be proud of.

Hundreds of Buddhist priests from the Middle and Far East are holding a two year council in Rangoon, Burma, to chant, revise and propagate Buddhist scripture. The council will end on the full-moon day of May, 1956 which, in Burmese chronology, is the 2,500th anniversary of the "Great Decease of the Lord Buddha."

"Wouldn't next week suit you better? This week I'm busy with interior decorators."

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Hunters, it is time to act if you plan to hunt in this fall's special deer season.

Game workers again emphasize that October 10 is the deadline to apply for permits to hunt in the December 1 special season.

The permits cost nothing, but deer hunters must buy their license now and must make application to the department's game division before the October deadline if they expect to take part in the special season. Application forms may be obtained from any of Michigan's 4000 license dealers and the drawing will be held about October 20.

A top limit of 81,000 permits will be issued for hunting in three special areas of the northern lower peninsula.

If more than that number of applications is received, a drawing will be held to determine who will be allowed to hunt.

During the special one-day season on December 1, permit holders may shoot any deer they see in the area specified on their permit—provided they have not bagged any deer other than a camp deer during the regular or archery seasons.

The annual deer hunting information folder is now available to hunters, the conservation department reports.

Information from last year's seasons that game workers feel will be helpful to hunters this year is included in the folder, along with an explanation of 1954 season regulations.

Small maps show location of last year's hunting activity by area and indicate the kill per square mile for each area.

"You may interpret this information to your best advantage," states an open letter to deer hunters on the face page of the folder, "and it is provided purposely to help you with your hunting plans this fall."

The open letter also sums up what happened during Michigan's 1952 and 1953 special deer seasons in the lower peninsula.

The popular folders may be obtained upon request from the conservation department's game division at Lansing, 26.

About 163,000 acres of southern Michigan farm land will be available to hunters this fall under the Williamson plan of cooperative land use.

Under the plan, a group of farmers whose lands adjoin organize into a Williamson "club" to manage hunting.

A limited number of hunters is allowed on club lands, but they can range over the entire block of club land after getting permission from any one of the farm members.

Advantages to the farmer are that trespass can be more easily curbed and hunters must necessarily be on their good behavior.

This year, 47 clubs will be available for hunters in the southern part of the state. Information as to locations of these clubs may be obtained by writing the conservation department's game division at Lansing, 26.

Cars of 2 Livonians, Belleville Man Collide
The intersection of Ford and Hix roads was the scene of a three-car collision at 7:30 a.m. last Thursday. No one was injured, according to the Wayne County sheriff's department, but minor damages occurred to the cars. The three drivers were Livonia residents E. F. Hudson and Dale R. Scheur, and Chester A. Sivilla of Belleville.

In a typical automobile radio, the signal voltage received by the antenna is amplified approximately 145,000,000 times.
