Commission Gets Ticketing Protest

Objections from a driver whose pick-up truck was ticketed for overnight parking, a request for water service for a new elementary school and appointments of two commissioners to the Junior Police advisory board were three of the major items on the city commission agenda last Monday night.

Voicing the objection was Bruce Kidston, 381 Sunset. Police have issued about 50 tickets to truck owners who have violated an ordinance which forbids parking of commercial vehicles on streets from 2 to 4 a.m.

Kidston pointed out that he felt it unfair to ticket owners of pick-up trucks when many of these trucks are used just for transportation. "I can see why you would want to prohibit

'semis' or gravel trucks in front of homes, but not a pick-up truck," he stated. He added that a pick-up truck occupies less space than most cars.

Commissioners read over the ordinance but took no action. They promised Kidston to give his request consideration.

A letter from the Plymouth Township Board of Education asked commissioners if it is possible to supply a proposed school on Sheldon road with water. Superintendent Russell Isbister appeared at the meeting to explain the request more fully. The school site is about a quarter mile south of Joy road and a water main comes almost to Joy road.

It was pointed out that the commission has been denying requests for water service outside the city until a more adequate supply is assured. The majority of commissioners, however, stated their support of the issue since the school is a public building vital to the advancement of the community. No final vote was taken on the matter Monday, but it will be considered at the next meeting when a report on the city's new well capacity is given.

10 Year Program To Be Studied By Commission

Plymouth city commissioners will hold a special session next Wednesday night to study the Ten Year Improvement Program and determine what part of it might be financially accomplished this year.

Each year the Ten Year Improvement Program committee revises the plan and brings it up to date. This year, the committee recommends that improvements costing an estimated $363,329 be considered.

It is likely, however, that the commission will strike many of the projects from this year's schedule because of the lack of finances. One big project already approved is the paving and widening of Main street, from Penniman to Mill, which will cost about $140,000.

The committee again recommends paving of Amelia street from Farmer to Mill. This project was dropped last year when most property owners from Main to Farmer objected to the proposal. The committee also recommends curb and gutter for eight streets, storm sewers for three, a sanitary sewer for one street and catch basins for one.

If funds are available, the committee recommends a bituminous re-cap for Church street from Harvey to Main street and Main street from Penniman to Ann Arbor trail. Ann Arbor trail from Hamilton, east to the city limits, will also be considered for paving. It is also proposed that Ann Arbor trail from Forest to Harvey be widened and paved.

A complete list of projects approved by the city commission for consideration this year will be published in two weeks. Acceptance of the Ten Year Improvement Program projects will not necessarily mean that they will be constructed. Affected property owners must first be invited to public hearings on the projects and their views given consideration in forming decisions.

Fund Board Elects New Officers, Makes Report

Marvin Criger, assistant manager of the National Bank of Detroit here, has been elected president of the Plymouth Community Fund board of directors. He succeeds Louis Goddard.

Criger was elected at the organizational meeting of the board last week. Also elected were Arch Vallier as vice-president and James Thomas, treasurer. Mrs. Carl Caplin was again named secretary.

The new president, who served as the board's treasurer during the past year, made a final report on Community Fund collections.

With the 1954 goal set at $24,500, the Plymouth fund went over the top with $28,005.59. Of this amount, $17,538.88 is in actual cash and $10,466.71 is in pledges.

The board decided that the excess amount would be set aside as an emergency fund.

One of the last major donations received and not previously reported came from the Detroit Transmission division of General

4 Hurt in Three Weekend Wrecks Near Plymouth

Four people were injured in auto accidents over the weekend in the Plymouth area, according to reports from the Wayne County Sheriff's office.

Garnett G. Rush, 335 Blunk, received a lacerated face when his car went off the road and rolled over last Saturday noon. The mishap took place on Canton Center road. He told investigating officers that he lost control of the car when passing another vehicle. His 1953 model car was demolished.

At 5:35 p.m. Sunday, another car was demolished when it rolled over on Territorial road. Thomas J. Pritchard, Reeves Junction, Michigan, was driving west at 60 miles an hour when his car left the road and rolled over in a field. He told officers that he had been bowling in Detroit and had apparently fallen asleep. Pritchard suffered a broken ankle, facial and body bruises.

A mother and daughter were injured Saturday noon near Hillside Inn on Plymouth road. Dorothy Agodorny, 19, of 38201 Schoolcraft road, was driving the car east with her mother, Sylvia Agodorny, as a passenger. The car skidded on the snow-covered pavement, she told sheriff's deputies, and it crashed into a signpost at the Hillside parking lot entrance.

Taken to Wayne County General hospital, Miss Agodorny is suffering a broken leg and broken finger. Her mother was released after treatment for cuts and bruises. The car was demolished and the signpost was knocked down. The two women were on their way home after shopping in Plymouth.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY is a time for flowers and candy for grown-ups but it's strictly hearts and valentines for the younger set. Every elementary classroom will have a box bulging with valentines this Monday, but none quite as big as Jack Burgett would like to give to Helen Gottschalk. They hold the ones they made for their parents in the Starkweather kindergarten. Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett, 14369 Northville road, and Helen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gottschalk, 186 East Liberty.

New Traffic Light Placed in City

Be careful when approaching the Ann Arbor Trail-Mill street intersection! There's a traffic light there now.

Ordinarily, a traffic light would add to the safety of an intersection but before motorists learn that there is a traffic light there, it could be a dangerous thing.

The Wayne County Road Commission erected the traffic light Tuesday morning following requests of several years standing by the city. Both Mill street and Ann Arbor trail, from Hamilton street east, are under county jurisdiction.

Many motorists who are used to a flasher light were seen passing through red lights completely unaware that it was a traffic light.

The intersection is one of the most dangerous in the city because both streets are heavily traveled and because of the difficulty of seeing traffic from Mill street when approaching Ann Arbor trail from the south.

Change of Zoning Gets 1st Reading

First reading was given by city commissioners Monday night to an ordinance which will change the zoning behind South Main street property to allow for development of a store site.

Although there has been no official announcement about the property being sold, city zoners and commissioners were told that developers have a supermarket building in mind.

The properties, owned by Blunk interests, are located both north and south of Byron avenue on the east side of South Main. The front half of the deep lots are zoned commercial and the back half is zoned one family residential.

The zoning change would rezone the one family residential half to two-family residential. This would allow the rear half to be used for parking lot purposes. The building could be constructed only on the commercially zoned portion of the lots.

Second and final readings of the ordinance is expected at the next commission meeting.

Early Morning Fire Causes $3800 Damage

A fire inside the office of the Twin Pines Dairy building at Ann Arbor trail and Mill street early Monday morning caused damage estimated at $3,800, according to a preliminary report today by Fire Chief Robert McAllister.

Within a few minutes after their arrival at 4:05 a.m., firemen brought the blaze under control, but before the interior of the small office was gutted. Flames shot up to 30 feet in the air and were visible in many parts of the city.

Cause of the fire, Chief McAllister said, was a leak from a

Traffic Light Gets 12-Hour Day Duty

The traffic light in front of city hall which has been in operation the past year only while students were going to and from school is now working a 12-hour day.

A traffic survey in 1953 by the AAA revealed that the traffic light hindered traffic on Main street more than it helped. So they recommended that the light be operated just for the benefit of students. But the city's Traffic Safety committee two weeks ago took a different view.

They noted that it was almost impossible for a vehicle to enter Main street from Church street for several minutes at a time during rush hours. They voted to request the police department to place the light in operation between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Motorist Killed

Carlton W. Willey, 25-year-old Wayne construction worker, was killed instantly in a collision Wednesday morning near Newburg.

He was on his way to work in Livonia when his car collided with another at Newburg and Joy roads. Driver of the other car, Fred Turner, 47, of 611 West Michigan, Ypsilanti, was also injured.

Sheriff's deputies said that Willey was driving north on Newburg road and that he had the right-of-way. Their investigation, however, has not yet established the blame. The mishap was at 8:22 a.m.

Porter Routs Three Thugs With Knife

Three bandits were routed by a 130-pound porter at Arbor Lill early Monday morning after they knocked down and dragged a night cook into a refrigerator.

The incident occurred at 12:45 a.m. after the widely-known restaurant had closed. The cook, Bill Bruckner, was on his way outside to burn some rubbish when three men entered the door and asked if there was anyone else in the building. Bruckner replied that there wasn't.

Pushing him back into the kitchen, one of the thugs struck the cook with his fist, knocking him to the floor. Bruckner got up and they knocked him down once more. Then they dragged him into a walk-in refrigerator and stuck an ice pick into the lock hole.

The trio then attempted to break into the office door by using various kitchen instruments. Just then, Les Bieber, a porter who lives in the building, came into the kitchen and saw the men.

"What are you doing down here?" Bieber yelled at the men. At the same time, he picked up a 14-inch slicing knife lying on a nearby table. The three men took a look at the knife and fled from the building, driving away in a car.

"I don't know what I would have done if they hadn't of run," Bieber declared.

Sheriff's detectives are investigating the incident.

All 4th Graders Bound for Circus

All fourth grade students in Plymouth's public and parochial schools will be guests next week of the Plymouth Shrine club and Recreation Department at the Shrine Circus in Detroit.

Some 400 boys and girls, their teachers and room mothers will be taken by bus to the state fairgrounds next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Everything down to the refreshments will be furnished free to the guests.

This is the first time such a project has been attempted by the local Shriners, according to Walter Beglinger, chairman of the affair. Buses will leave at 12:15 p.m. and will return to Plymouth sometime before 5 p.m.

Bird and Catholic school fourth graders will attend the circus on Tuesday, Smith and Starkweather pupils on Wednesday and Allen and Lutheran students on Thursday.

Board Claims Present Tax Rate Would Stay

A $3,000,000 plan to construct a junior high school and two elementary buildings, remodel the present junior high for high school use, buy an additional elementary school site and pay off bonds issued in 1949 was lauded by the School Community Planning Group and their guests at a meeting last week.

The assembly of 90 school-minded citizens also listened to an analyst from the Detroit Metropolitan Area Planning Commission who predicted another 2,000 people by 1959 in the city and township. Purpose of his talk was to give the audience a picture of the population growth here and what it might mean to school enrollment.

How to Raise $3,000,000

As school officials and accountants learned at the School Community Planning Group meeting last week, attempting to explain how the school district can secure $3,000,000 without raising the tax rate is a very difficult thing to do.

With the aid of charts given each person, Donald Sutherland, accountant for the school, and then Superintendent Russell Isbister slowly explained the arrangement. For some it was clear, for others it remained a mystery.

Taxpayers in the district are today paying 21.95 mills (or $21.95 per $1,000 valuation) to keep schools operating and pay off old debts. The school board found that if they want to raise money enough to finance their proposed projects, they must tax property owners seven mills for 14 years. How can they impose seven mills without raising the total of 21.95 mills?

In short, they must "beg, borrow or steal" mills from the 21.95 mills already voted by the people. The manipulation, however, is very legal and frequently done.

It can only be done with the consent of the voters.

Of the $3,000,000 the board hopes to raise, only $2,660,000 will be actually used to construct or remodel buildings or buy new sites. The remaining $340,000 will go to pay off the last of bonds sold in 1949 when voters authorized a bond issue for the construction of several new schools. This bond issue is taxing property owners five mills today.

By paying off this bond issue, five mills would be free.

This part of the manipulation is compared with the motorist who decides he wants a new car but hasn't paid for his old one yet. He still owes $500. But he can go ahead and buy the new $2,000 car without first paying for the old one. The firm loaning him the money simply adds the $500 he still owes to the $2,000 for the new car and his one installment each month pays off both debts. This is called "re-funding."

So, step 1 would be to pay off the $340,000 debt remaining on the 1949 bond issue. This would allow five mills.

Step 2 involves the bond issue of one mill voted in 1951. This was scheduled to be paid off by 1958, but the school board intends to borrow a half-mill here, leaving another half-mill to pay off the bond issue by 1961.

Step 3 involves a two-mill bond issue voted in 1952. This was scheduled to be paid off by 1962. The board intends to borrow a Metropolitan Area Planning Commission who predicted another 2,000 people by 1959 in the city and township. Purpose of his talk was to give the audience a picture of the population growth here and what it might mean to school enrollment.

The audience expressed their favor of the idea and recommended that the board of education set the plan into motion.

If the school board officially approves the plan at its meeting this Monday, the first step will be to call a special school election, perhaps by the end of March. At least two issues would appear on the ballot: one asking that a new seven mill bond issue be approved and another asking that authorization be given to sell the bonds.

Two former authorizations for millage would be cancelled, however, and another two would be reduced - resulting in the same school taxes for property and personal tax payers.

change, plans would move ahead rapidly for school construction and remodeling in order to keep up with the rapidly growing school population.

Number 1 project would be a new elementary school on Sheldon road. This site was purchased a year ago and the building would be completed between February and September 1956.

Number 2 project would be the junior high building. Announced last week, this site is in the southeast corner of the city. It would accommodate between 750 and 1,000 pupils and would be completed by September 1957.

Project 3 would be another elementary building. No site has been purchased for this building. It might be completed in 1958.

Project 4, remodeling of the junior high for high school use, would not take place until the new junior high is completed.

Project 5, purchase of still another elementary school site, could take place almost any time in order to assure the board of a good location before real estate becomes hard to obtain.

Paul M. Reid, planning analyst, was brought to the meeting by the school organization and plant facilities committee of the Planning Group. His talk was preceded by reports of each school principal concerning their present and projected enrollment. Each school, it was found, is today operating "at capacity" or over.

Bird school, for instance, has

Stiffs Return from Bermuda

Bermuda just wasn't its old self when the Ralph Stiffs arrived there January 26 as winners of the Chamber of Commerce "Shop in Plymouth" campaign.

It rained three of their six days on the island and it was no warmer than 65 degrees, but the Plymouth couple arrived home last week to report that the trip was nevertheless "a wonderful experience." Their hope is at 601 Arthur.

The tiny group of islands in the Atlantic had just undergone 26 days of hurricane weather and severe hail storms which had destroyed all flowers, the Stiffs reported. And it was too cool to go swimming.

But the guests of the Plymouth Chamber did many other things which made the trip worth while. A boat trip through the islands, cab tours and visits to night clubs were on the agenda.

"Our accommodations were wonderful at Pomander Gate."

U. of M. Fisheries Expert Give Tips For Better Ice Fishing Results

A fish's appetite is just as good in winter as it is in summer, says Prof. Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the fisheries department in the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources, who urges any would-be ice fisherman to take a try at the sport this winter.

Not only is it good fun, but the winter fisherman can be of real service to himself and other summer-sport brethren, he adds. He passed on much of this information in a broadcast over the University's station, WUOM.

"Catching fish in winter helps restore nature's balance in pan-fish lakes by retarding overpopulation, which causes stunted, underdeveloped fish for summer catching," Professor Lagler states.

He suggested using a beveled ice chisel or spud for the chopping process and points out that drop-offs or the edges of weed beds are good spots to make a first hole.

If fish don't come pretty quickly to that one, make another one someplace else, Professor Lagler advises, since you may have hit a sparse region and fish don't move very much in the winter.

"Also remember that feeding habits may vary according to lake, month and hour, so try different fishing times," he points out.

The professor also lists four popular baits which are easy to find: beetle larvae, from under the bark of trees; corn borers, found near joints on diseased corn stalks; golden rod worms, from dwellings on the plant's stem; and sugar beet larvae, which are in the pulp after the sugar beet has been processed out.

And for the ambitious person who ties his own ice flies, Professor Lagler suggests using a number 14 or 16 hook with a piece of split shot clamped to it, plus a bright maribou feather streamer of red, yellow or white—a fish's favorite colors.

"The best tackle for pan fishing is a rod with the rough equivalent of a fly rod tip and monofilament line, like those favored by spin fishermen," he continues.

Another tip: Hold your line tightly and let it extend down to within one foot from the lake bottom.

For perch bait he recommends small live minnows as movement of the bait is essential. For the staple of Michigan's ice-fishing, the common bluegill, he suggests small natural baits such as grubs and wigglers.

Lake maps to help find the best spots for ice-fishing are available at the Institute of Fisheries Research, Museums Annex, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. County names for lakes must be used in inquiries.

Construction on Mackinac Bridge Remains on Schedule

Though the partially-completed Mackinac bridge is several hundred miles from Plymouth, its effect will be felt here and in other cities in the state. Tourist trade will someday flow more freely through the state and local motorists traveling to the Upper Peninsula will find the bridge a very convenient addition.

How is work progressing? According to Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, the 1954 construction aims were fulfilled.

"In spite of the worst weather in years for outdoor construction, our contractors forged ahead and completed the six main foundations on which the bridge will be built," Brown said.

Herbert Goodkind, project manager for Dr. D. B. Steinman, Mackinac bridge consulting engineer and designer, submitted to the authority the third quarterly construction progress report.

Goodkind reports that to date 5.4 per cent of the time allowed to complete all of the bridge's 33 foundations has elapsed and that 33.4 per cent of the work has been completed.

"This puts the project theoretically about two per cent behind schedule, but of no serious consequence in the full picture of the season's accomplishments," he pointed out.

Goodkind emphasized the record accomplishment of the contractor, with the technical cooperation by the Prepak Concrete company of Cleveland in placement of concrete.

"During the last week in October, a total of 28,002 cubic yards of Prepak concrete was placed in Pier 22 (the north cable anchorage foundation) in spite of shutdowns of 31 hours waiting for delivery of coarse aggregate. The maximum for a 24-hour period was 5,040 cubic yards. This average of 4,000 cubic yards per day may be a record for placement of under water concrete on bridge construction."

Charles A. Richardson, vice-president of Merritt-Chapman and Scott corporation, foundation contractors for the bridge, confirmed the estimated dates of completion of the main foundation piers as set forth in the progress report.

"Heavy rains and high winds during most of September and through October 13 cut our operations to 60 per cent of normal and hampered the delivery of materials. However, the weather cleared on the 14th and we have been going full blast ever since. We'll remain on the job until the ice drives us out of the Straits or materials cannot be delivered. Construction is now far enough advanced so that there is no longer any danger to the cofferdams or caissons now in place," Richardson said.

The six main foundation piers scheduled for completion this year are numbered 17 through 22.

Pier 17, into which the south end of the suspension cables will be anchored, is completed to 10 feet above water. Pier 18, over which the cables will bend some 472 feet from the anchorage, has the cutting edge of its caisson on rock 130 feet below the surface.

Pier 19 will be the foundation for the south main tower. Pier 20 is the northern counterpart of 19 and pier 21 is the foundation over which the cables will be bent before entering the north cable anchorage. Pier 22 is the foundation into which the cables will be anchored on the north side.

Here are some of the dimensions of the bridge:

Length of main span, 3,800 feet; length of suspension bridge, 8,614 feet; total length of steel superstructure, 17,918 feet; length of north approach, 7,791 feet; length of south approach, 486 feet; total length of bridge and approaches, 26,195 feet; height of main towers above water, 552 feet.

Depth of tower piers below water, 200 feet; number of main cables, 2; diameter of main cables, 24 1/4 inches; number of wires in each cable, 12,876; diameter of each wire, 0.196 inches; total length of cable wire, 41,000 miles; weight of cable, wire and fittings, 12,500 tons; total estimated weight of superstructure, 66,000 tons.

Motorist Injured Here Remains Unconscious

Lieutenant Clyde Cox, Detroit policeman critically injured in a head-on collision on Ann Arbor road two weeks ago, still lies in a coma at Wayne County General hospital, it was reported this week.

Slowly improving are his wife and Earl "Joe" Donohue, driver of the other car, Donohue, 25, is being charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Cox's 11-year-old son and Peter W. Queava who was riding with Donohue.

Mrs. Cox is now walking about, Wayne County Sheriff's detectives said, but her husband still holds a 50-50 chance of recovery. He has not regained consciousness since the accident.

Detectives said that no action will start in court against Donohue until he recovers.

CD Meeting Held By Area Doctors

Plymouth doctors representing various fields called their first civil defense meeting last week at which Dr. Walter Hammond local surgeon, was the speaker. The meeting was at the Plymouth township hall.

Dr. Frederick Bentley is medical director for the CD program here.

The speaker outlined the Plymouth area care station set up. They are located at St. Johns Seminary, the high school and Smith elementary school. He pointed out that in case of an emergency, police, rescue squads and wardens would be authorized to determine who is to be sent to the care stations.

Medical doctors would not be able to spend more than two minutes on each patient in case of serious disaster until out-county help arrived, Dr. Hammond asserted. Shock cases would probably be the most frequent. He added that dentists would be able to sew up wounds.

Another meeting is scheduled next month for the medical men and women. Subjects to be discussed then will be "How to Give Blood to a Patient" and "How to Treat Burns from an A-Bomb."

All doctors requested a stock pile of bandages, penicillin, morphine, lanterns and hand pumps for flowers. The CD coordinator, Leo Flowers, said he would handle these requests.

It has been announced that the Veterans of Foreign Wars will give prizes to school children drawing the best poster on civil defense.

The Mission Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday, February 16 at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Ernest Wendland on Farmer street.

Mrs. A. E. VanOrnum of West Maple avenue entertained the members of her Boy Scout troop den 3 pack 4, of the First Presbyterian church, at a skating party at Newburg lake on Wednesday of last week.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT day at Burroughs Corporation's Plymouth plant was a highlight for the city's JA members during Junior Achievement Week, January 30-February 5. A three-hour program consisted of a luncheon and a plant tour. Achiever Barbara Moulton (above), of 615 Jener street, presents Burroughs plant manager Robert A. Niemi with an engraved plaque "in recognition of Burroughs' outstanding cooperation with the JA movement."

NEWS FROM OUR NEARBY NEIGHBORS

Rosedale Gardens

Mrs. Joseph R. Talbot, Jr.
Phone Liv. 3193

When the nice summer weather comes the boys of Cub Scout Pack No. 271 should be able to enjoy their visits to the neighboring lakes and their vacations more this year than last. Every Saturday afternoon three or four cars filled with eager, enthusiastic boys leave Rosedale Gardens for the swimming pool at Plymouth high school. The boys are receiving swimming instructions from competent instructors and their parents are more than pleased to have their boys learn the correct way to swim thereby minimizing the danger and worry when they go into the water alone. Some of the boys attending are Dennis Swain, Tommy Gamber, Eddie Nowacki, Daniel Darrah, Michael Talbot, Richard Vots and Joey Bonk.

All the neighbors and friends of Mrs. Olive Brown extend their sympathy to her husband, Mr. Will Brown and children, Susan and Bruce. Mrs. Brown died on Saturday, January 29, at Grace hospital in Detroit and was buried on Tuesday, February 1 from the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church. She was a wonderful friend and neighbor and her family and friends will surely miss her pleasant smile and her willingness to help anyone and everyone who needed her.

Mrs. Ulysses Vots of 32610 West Chicago is chairman of the Blue and Gold dinner to be held in St. Michaels school on Wednesday, February 16. Those of you who have had anything to do with cubbing know that it is customary to have a dinner once a year for the Cubs and their families. Each Den Mother is responsible for notifying the mothers of the boys in her den to tell them what food they have to bring to feed the various members in the den. The food is divided up among the mothers of the boys in a den and the meat and coffee is supplied by the pack. There will be ham, scalloped potatoes, baked beans, celery, olives, rolls, salad, cake and coffee. The boys and their parents look forward to this affair because it enables the whole family, whether there be four or 10 children, to eat out with a minimum of expense and effort.

The Fellowship class of the Newburg Methodist church held their February meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Engel on Hix road on Wednesday, February 9, at 8 p.m. One of the main items of business discussed by the group was the forthcoming Father and Son banquet to be held at the Newburg Methodist church hall on Wednesday, February 23. Besides a fine dinner and program, a movie will be shown to the fathers and sons assembled. The group is hoping for an all-out attendance at this affair.

A share-a-dish supper and meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waack of Stark road on Saturday, February 12, will bring together the members and friends of the Fidelis class of the Newburg Methodist church. The supper will begin at 6:30 p.m.

The Reverend Robert Richards of the Newburg Methodist church spent two days in Angola, Indiana with all the ministers of the Ann Arbor district.

Parents of the St. Michael school children and other interested friends gathered in the school hall on Sunday, February 6, to hear an address delivered by Sister Mary Martina of the Madonna college faculty. The topic of the Sister's speech was, "Guiding Your Child's Emotional Growth." At the close of the address there was a brief question and answer period, after which the group dispersed to visit in the classrooms of their children to see the work accomplished during the first half of the school year and to meet and talk with the Sister-teacher of the class.

Mrs. George Longwish has been in Beyer hospital for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkie entertained the Alliance club Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. West and Bonnie have gone to Florida for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkie were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heidt and family.

Mrs. Iva Bordine entertained her sisters from Lansing and Bancroft Tuesday afternoon.

The Father and Son banquet will be given at the church house Thursday evening, February 17. Everyone welcome.

As president of one of the Detroit-area Junior Achievement companies, Miss Nancy Travis of 992 Palmer appeared on WWJ-TV channel 4 last Wednesday. A charter was received by Miss Travis for the local J. A. company, Bel-Products, from its sponsor, the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

Prior to the TV appearance Michigan Bell sponsored a dinner for the junior achievers. Attending the event with Miss Travis were the following Bel-Products representatives: Darlene Adams, Anita Peterson, Sharon Irvine, Jean McCartney, Gordon Kisa-beth, Roger Beers, Dale Houghton, Foster Brown, Lenora Bassett, Joyce Smith, Cameron Hudson, Steve Veresh and Rosina Simonetti.

Asking the question is much easier than finding the right answer.

Experience is rarely valued by those who need it most.

REFUSING TO POSE in the traditional bathing suit which always appears with oranges and grapefruit from Florida, these feminine members of The Mail organization agreed to look happy over the surprise present from vacationing Publisher Sterling Eaton. A basket of citrus fruit for each employee was Mr. Eaton's way of saying "thanks" for The Mail's top prize in state newspaper competition. Standing behind the baskets are: Norma Bookout, Dorothy Conn and Blanche Davis; (seated) Betty Burden and Barbara Noe.

The plot concerns Miss Brooks who puts her mind on going to the school dance with the athletic coach, also hoping to wheedle a corsage out of him. Things become complicated when the ladies of the taxpayers association show up to find out whether money is being wasted on educational fallals.

The ladies notice that the students are more interested in decorations for the dance than their studies, but Miss Brooks points out that they are learning three additional R's: Responsibilities, Rights, and Recreation. The ladies are impressed but right at the dance everything goes wrong.

The coach twists his ankle, the principal falls headfirst through the paper moon, and the dreamy-minded students seemed to have wrecked the budget. In despair Miss Brooks writes out her resignation, but in the finale the students prove that they really have learned resourcefulness and responsibility. The dance is back within its budget again, Miss Brooks is happy and even the principal proves that he really is a fine person.

Advertising helped make the difference

"GET A HORSE!"—that taunting cry aimed at early motorists—has disappeared from our American language. Today's auto makers produce more cars... and better cars... with horses to spare under the hood.

But to mass produce millions of autos, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

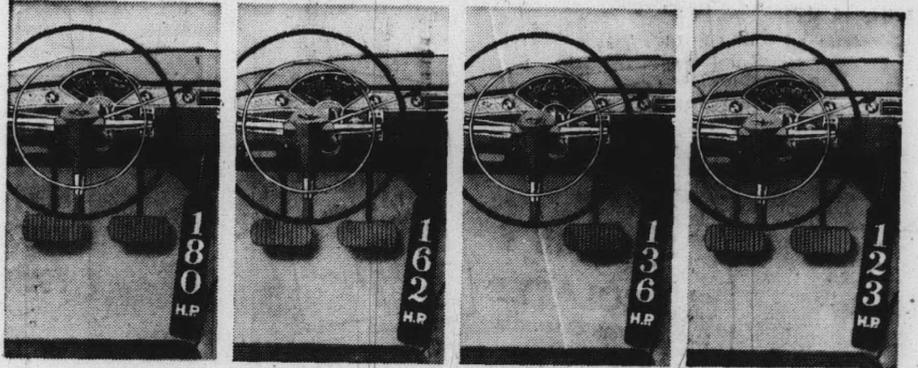

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new cars... and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made—keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: better cars at prices more people can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference—in the car you drive, and in our American way of life.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

By Gene Alleman Secy. Mich. Press Ass'n.

Michigan's 1955 Legislature is getting off to one of the roughest starts in years, beset by the ghosts of old issues and the birth of new problems.

Taxpayers and the cost of government combine the ingredients of the biggest issue: Money.

The state ended the fiscal year with a $3,000,000 surplus in the treasury, not counting the deficiencies of overspent public agencies. The road ahead will be rocky.

Gov. Williams checked in with a budget which forecasts a $46,000,000 deficit next year unless another source of revenue can be tapped.

Then comes the rest of his program, a multi-million dollar bit for education on all levels, a highway bond issue to cost initially $500 million; expansions of services elsewhere.

"The big problem, which nobody has discussed yet is where to get the money for these things," said Senator Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek).

Tax plans are popping up in every corner of the legislature.

Some legislators favor a new batch of "nuisance taxes," on motels, hotel rooms, soft drinks and other goods and services. Williams would like to have his corporation profits tax.

Nobody doubts that the controversial Business Activities Tax will be extended beyond its March 15 expiration date. Both Democrats and Republicans want to avoid another direct assault on consumers.

Senator Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), new tax committee chairman in the Senate, said: "Whatever kind of tax is enacted, we all know that in some way the consumer is going to have to pay it. It's a question whether we can afford these expansions at this time."

Highway speed limits will be an issue again, with State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs for the first time in support of a ceiling.

The bills came pouring in for a 65 mile an hour daytime limit and 55 at night.

Childs cites surveys showing that motorists cannot stop in the distance covered by their headlights at night if they are traveling over 55.

"The increases in the number of accidents in which drivers lose control of their cars is another indication that speed kills and that a limit is necessary if it cannot be self-imposed."

Prosperity continues in Michigan. Banking Commissioner Maurice C. Eveland said that the 1954 total resources of state banks reached $3,757,000,000 during the first peacetime boom, a gain of $137 million.

Nearly half the deposits in state banks are in time and savings accounts with the thriftiness of Michigan's citizens being characterized by an increase of nearly $86,000,000 in savings deposits.

"The records should be gratifying to every citizen, showing a healthy economic situation highlighted by a substantial gain in savings deposits," Eveland said.

Social legislation will get a big play in the 1955 session.

Democrats have recruited Republican co-sponsors for the oft-fried and oft-defeated Fair Employment Practices Commission bill and the usual liberalizations in workmen's benefits have been proposed.

The FEPC bill sets up machinery barring employers from firing or refusing to hire a worker on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin.

Senator Harry F. Hittle (R-Lansing) and Rep. Louis J. Cramton (R-Lapeer) are on two of the bills, neither of which contains the "right to work" clause pushed as a counter-proposal last year.

The "right to work" clause would enable a man to work in a factory whether or not he joined a union — a facet of discrimination Republicans feel is as important as FEPC.

Senator Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain) introduced a bill to extend the 26-week coverage of unemployment compensation to 52 weeks, a broad hint at the guaranteed annual wage.

"That one will never even get out of committee," said one Republican member of the Senate health and welfare committee.

Other bills call for unlimited benefits for disabled workers, medical care as long as necessary beyond the present ceiling of 18 months, and lifetime assistance if permanently disabled.

The CIO is after further liberalizations of the unemployment and workmen's compensation laws and Republicans indicate they may go along — but not all the way.

The slow, tortuous pace of the first few weeks of the session, the issues already causing controversy and other straws in the winds point to a windup in June — and maybe later.

Retail Merchants Plan Promotions for Year

Plymouth's Chamber of Commerce retail merchants met Monday evening at the Mayflower hotel for dinner and a general discussion of promotion events for 1955.

Under the direction of Richard Papes, general chairman of the retail merchants' committee, the group reviewed a proposed schedule for the year which would get underway with a spring opening event March 24. Committees were appointed to plan all the approaching events and to bring their suggestions to the next meeting at 8:30 a.m., Monday, March 7 at the Mayflower.

A general assessment plan to include all promotions for the year was also discussed as well as a flat per-foot fee for Christmas lights. A proposal to adopt Thursday night openings in addition to Friday nights was also made. This suggestion was turned over to a committee for further study.

Chases Own Stolen Car Into Tree

A 16-year-old Livonia boy is in Wayne County General hospital today recovering from a head injury he received Tuesday night when the car he had stolen from in front of a Farmington bar crashed into a tree on Eckles road.

The owner of the stolen car was in hot pursuit when the mishap occurred, according to sheriff's authorities.

Donald E. Smith, 36, Redford township, reported his car stolen from the Waacks Bar, Grand River at Middlebelt. He then started home in the car of a friend. Stopping for a traffic light, he noticed his car behind him in the line of traffic.

Smith got out of his friend's car and went back to his own car but the thief had locked the door. The car then pulled away. Smith and his friend then chased the stolen car through Livonia. On Eckles road near Schoolcraft it went out of control and struck a tree.

The Livonia youth was pulled from the car and brought to Plymouth in search of a hospital. Stopping at a service station, Smith called Plymouth police and they took the injured boy to the Wayne county hospital.

Because of his age, the boy is expected to be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Smith has his car back today — nearly demolished.

classes meeting in the auditorium and the library.

The Junior high today has 473 students. At least 525 will be enrolled next fall. Capacity of the building, it was reported, is 480.

Harold Fischer, chairman of the sub-committee, introduced the speaker. Reid traced the physical and social expansion of Detroit back to 1940. "Today, you actually live in a metropolitan area, not an isolated, departmental community," the speaker declared.

The economic factor is the chief reason for growth, he added. Fifty per cent of Wayne county people are engaged in manufacturing. Most cities have a 30 per cent population working in industry.

The next five years would be 20 per cent, the speaker asserted. "But perhaps 40 per cent would be closer."

Completion of the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer, the General Motors and Chevrolet plants on Plymouth road will bring more people to Plymouth. Plymouth city and township have a combined population now of 13,700. By October 1, 1959, a "conservative" estimate would place it at 16,539.

Grange Cleanings

Are you all set for the big party Saturday night? At the Grange hall of course at 8 p.m. Bring your friends and neighbors, fill a table or two. You may play any game you like. Prizes for high score at each table. Refreshments served downstairs after the playing is over. Remember it is Saturday night, February 12.

Mr. Hodge is at home and is able to set up part of the time. Visitors are welcome and will help to pass the time away.

Mr. Culver was taken back to the hospital at Ann Arbor last week. He was not doing so well, we are sorry to say.

The meeting of last week was very well attended. A fine supper was enjoyed by everyone. The lecturer presented the program at the table. Group singing was accompanied by Mrs. Mole from Scio on her accordion. Mrs. Nash read a poem featuring the birthdays of many famous people. George Washington came in — wig and all — he read a short article by Washington. Also Abraham Lincoln appeared wearing the traditional shawl and stovepipe hat. He looked to be well fed. Mrs. Hartom was the Valentine's Day which were very nice. We then went upstairs for our usual meeting.

The Worthy Master, John Oldenburgh, was unable to be present owing to the fact that Mrs. Oldenburgh had a very unfortunate accident that afternoon, cutting her finger so badly it required eight stitches. Overseer Kenneth Lunn was acting master for the evening.

Don't forget the Lily club next Monday night, February 14. The committee is Mr. and Mrs. Riemas Louise Hutton and Loretta Wilson. Bring cake, sandwiches, cookies or jello and your own table service. Five Hundred and Pedro will be played. Bring your friends.

There will be a program at the next meeting, February 17. A speaker is expected so let us have a good crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Mole from Scio were our guests last Thursday evening.

Beautiful Chrome and Black Wrought Iron Formica Breakfast Sets made to order. Chairs upholstered in Duran Plastic material. Tables made to any size or shape. Odd tables, 525; chairs, 54.55 each. Bar stools $3.95. Visit our factory displays. Buy direct from manufacturer and save 35%.

"A FLAG IN EVERY HOME" is the goal set by the Plymouth Lions club for Flag Day, June 14, as members ready for their Americanism campaign which starts next week. Flags similar to the one shown above with club members George Wilkowski, left, and Richard Frits, campaign chairman, will be sold for $3 by the Lions and several local merchants. The organization hopes to see every Plymouth home displaying the American symbol on national holidays and similar occasions. Proceeds will aid charities sponsored by the Lions club.

New Books at Dunning Library

Novels, a play and many practical books arrived in this week's shipment of new publications to the Dunning library. Among the recent additions were "Practical Electrical Wiring" by H. P. Richter, "Teichmann and Kaufman's 'The Solid Gold Cadillac,'" a copy of Churchill's "The Gathering Storm," "Field Book of the Skies" by Olcott and Mayall, Titiev's "The Science of Man" and "The Prayers of Peter Marshall" with prefaces by Catherine Marshall.

Officials to Attend Planning Meeting

Several Plymouth city and township officials are expected to attend sessions of the 5th Annual Planning and Zoning Conference of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission which will be held February 24 and 25.

Held at the Veterans' Memorial Building the theme of this year's program is "The Expanding Region." Any citizens interested in community expansion and their related problems are invited to attend.

There will be panel discussions on water, sewers and drainage, zoning, school problems, township and city planning legislation, plats and subdivisions, building codes, recreational problems, traffic and parking and the seaway and industry.

One of the headline events will be a talk Friday noon by Harold Miller, executive director of the Tennessee State Planning Commission, according to T. Ledyard Blakeman, executive director of the Detroit commission.

Also included were: Kohl and Young's "The Hostess' Manual," "Planning and Building Your Patio" by Shan Stewart, Alan LeMay's novel, "The Searchers," "The Big Ball of Wax: A Story of Tomorrow's Happy World" by Shepherd Mead, and Mannix and Hunter's "Tales of the African Frontier."

The new shipment also brought in James A. Pike's "If You Marry Outside Your Faith," Trecker's "Committee Common Sense," and "Baby Sitter's Guide by Dennis the Menace," with help on pictures and spelling by Hank Ketcham and Bob Harmon.

Other new books are Wolsley's "Face to Face with India," "Life Is Worth Living" by Fulton J. Sheen, Ruth Wakefield's "Toll House Cook Book," "The Happy Years," a novel about Allegheny mountain life of the 1900's; and "Year," the annual picture-history with forward by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Building Costs
If you are planning to build a new home you can keep building costs to a minimum by using simple frame construction in the shape of a rectangle. The monotony of the box-like effect can be relieved with proper use of shrubbery, a quarry tiled terrace, and a carport and breezeway.

Madonna Herald Names New Staff

A new staff has taken over work on The Madonna Herald, monthly campus publication of Madonna college. The new editor-in-chief of the paper is Beatrice Czenkusz of Detroit with Tillie Gresser of Wyandotte as her assistant. Both are juniors at the college.

Forming a core of staff writers and page editors are two sophomores and five freshmen. Majority of them have already learned the essential techniques of planning and laying-out a page during their apprenticeship on the paper since October. The members of the staff will be rotated so that each will have an opportunity to work on every page for at least one month.

Leaving the staff this semester to do directed teaching are the senior twins, Alice and Rose Wolak of Detroit, both of whom have held the position of editor-in-chief, and Pat Kaszyk of Detroit, former business manager, who will be replaced by a junior, Gloria Laginess of Belleville.

The only new member of the staff is a sophomore, Arlene Kielpinski of Bay City.

SELECTING FURNITURE for their 433 Pacific home are newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Maloney. The Maloneys moved to Plymouth in July after a two-year residence in Northville. Having just finished redecorating the interior of their home, they are planning to furnish it along modern lines. Plymouth was picked for their residence because of its pleasant atmosphere and proximity to Detroit. f

Seek Volunteers For Convention Of Young GOP

Volunteers from the Plymouth area to help in planning for the national convention in Detroit of the Young Republican clubs are being sought by Gerald T. Harris of Livonia, one of the convention officials.

President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon are two of the main speakers who will appear on the program. Eisenhower is scheduled to speak June 16 and Nixon on June 17. Place of the national conclave is at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel.

Harris said that an appeal is being made for all young Republicans to volunteer their services. Harris is in charge of the Plymouth-Livonia area workers as well as serving as chairman of publicity and entertainment.

One of the draw-backs of the entertainment part, Harris asserted, is the lack of money. A sum of several thousand dollars is needed to provide entertainment for the 1,500 delegates who will attend the conference.

Young Republicans are between 18 and 35 years of age, but older men and women are welcomed to join the movement, Harris declared. Anyone interested in volunteering his or her services can write to Harris at 28277 Plymouth road.

Allan Miller, young Detroit attorney, is general chairman of the committee arranging for the convention.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

At our regular business meeting on Tuesday, February 1, we were visited by our Fourth District President Ruby LaPointe. During our meeting National Banner Bearer and Past Department President Ethel Gagner delivered the first of a series of classes on parliamentary procedure. Many valuable rules and hints and many of the technicalities of parliamentary law was given. This series of classes is part of the program of Adult Education Chairman Cathy Cline and her committee.

It was announced at our meeting that on Saturday and Sunday, February 19 and 20, at the Veterans building on Jefferson avenue, Service Officer Joseph P. Mann is conducting a school for all Auxiliary and Post service officers. This school should be of particular interest to all of us since it concerns primarily the benefits and rights of our own veterans of foreign wars. We urge all the service officers to try and attend these classes.

Youth Activities committee is planning a special Valentine party for the underprivileged children on Monday, February 14. Chairman Loretta Young needs two more cars to transport the children to the party and home again. If you have transportation available, call 71. Any voluntary help during the party would be appreciated.

A word of thanks to Harold Young and Marion Dickie for the window display for the observance of Veterans of Foreign Wars week. The display was seen in the window of Jackson's Home Decorating Centre on January 23 through 29. It was a very effective window and we hope it reminded everyone of the work of our organization.

Here's a message of interest to our organization: Recently on the TV program "Welcome Travelers" a testimony was given by a young lady who was one of five children placed in a Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home after their father was killed in the last war. This one daughter commented on how many wonderful advantages they had at the Home and how happy they all were there. The sponsors of the program donated a stove and refrigerator to the Home upon the recommendation of the girl. We should all be quite proud to have a part in the support of this Home and we feel that our work is well worth all our efforts.

Sarah Davis's daughter is in University hospital in Ann Arbor again. Perhaps she would appreciate some cards from our girls.

Healing through spiritual means as practiced by Christ Jesus will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled
"Soul" a word which, when capitalized, is used in Christian Science as one of the synonyms for God. The Bible selections include: "And great multitudes came unto him, having with them
those that were lame, blind,
dumb, maimed, and many others,
and cast them down at Jesus'
feet; and he healed them (Matthew 15:30).

Among the selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies; and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

There are still some bonds available in terms of 10, 15 and 20 years, bearing interest at 4%.

Anyone interested in investing in the new Lutheran church, please call either Reverend E. Hoenecke, 422, or Mr. L. Singer, 159.

A Layman Says...

In everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God, Phil.
4:6.

"In everything," that is, not merely when the house is on fire, not merely when the beloved wife is dying, not merely when our children are on the brink of the grave, but in the smallest matters of life, bring everything before God, the little things, the very little things, what the world calls trifling things — everything — living in holy communion with our Heavenly Father, and with our precious Lord Jesus Christ, all the day long. And when we awake at night, but a kind of spiritual instinct again turning to Him, and bringing our various little matters before Him in the sleepless night,
the difficulties in connection with our family, our trade, our profession, Whatever tries us in any way, speak to the Lord about it.

Tell it to Jesus, He understands thee.
Reads all the secret intents
of thy heart;
Foes may misjudge and friends may mistake
thee,
He will not deal with thee,
but as thou art.

Assembly of God Mission Program Observed Locally

At 7:30 Monday evening, February 14, the local Assembly of God church, Ann Arbor trail at Riverside drive, will hold a rally in the interest of the new home missions program of the church, MISSION U. S. A. Nearly 400 simultaneous rallies throughout the country will mark the event.

The Reverend Charles W. H. Scott, superintendent of the Michigan District Council of the Assemblies of God will speak at the Plymouth church. Other home missions leaders will announce the cities in Michigan where new churches would like to be opened during 1955.

Immediate goal of the MISSION U. S. A. program is to establish 1,000 new Assemblies of God churches in the United States during 1955. The denomination now has 7,257 churches with 465,674 members in the U. S. It supports 746 foreign missionaries and has nearly 5,000 native pastors in foreign countries. Two hundred and four home missionaries work in the United States among the deaf, the Indians, foreign language groups, in the industrial areas and in prisons.

During 1954, 512 churches were added to the denominations making it one of the fastest growing in the country. In the rallies special plans are being introduced to double the church extension effort.

PHS Varsity Cagers Beaten By One-man Scoring Splurge

Plymouth couldn't stop the big boy. Trenton's 6'8" Art Boyd put on a one man scoring show that was too much for Plymouth's mere six-footers to check and, as a result, the Rocks found themselves in second place behind the Trojans in the 6-B League title chase after last Friday's action.

Boyd amassed a point total, 40, to match his height—real big, as he led the host Trenton team to a 65-56 victory over a hustling Rock quintet.

Plymouth played good enough ball to probably beat any other league team in that game, but the Trojans, playing for a home crowd, were unbeatable as they chalked up their sixth league win against a single defeat. Plymouth's record now stands at 5-2.

Despite Boyd's 40 point total, a new school record, Trenton didn't have a soft touch with Coach John Sandmann's squad. Twenty-four points in the opening period, of which Big Art personally accounted for 14, provided Trenton with a cushion to work with.

Plymouth wasn't sleeping, as the Rocks hit for 16 of their own, but the eight point margin proved to be just about the difference at the end.

At the end of the first half Trenton had stretched the lead to ten points, 39-29, before Plymouth started to close the gap in the third stanza.

However, the closest the Rocks could come to overtaking the high flying Trojans was coming within five points. Trenton's third quarter lead was 48-39.

Having no single player who could match Boyd's output, Plymouth displayed a balanced attack that saw Bob Middleton pace the Rocks with ten, followed by Dick Day with nine, and Tom Ferguson, Dick Davidson, and Dan Clifford, who netted eight points each. Jack Carter added six more and Lee Juve five in a losing cause.

After eleven games this year, Plymouth's record stands at a respectable 8-3, with three league games and the season finale against Wayne still on tap before the tournaments.

In other-league action last Friday, third place Bentley handed Belleville a 59-36 setback and Allen Park whipped Redford Union by a 49-35 score.

The league standings going into tomorrow night's action:

	W	L
Trenton	6	1
Plymouth	5	2
Bentley	4	3
Belleville	2	5
Allen Park	2	5
Redford Union	2	5

Bob Middleton still is Plymouth's big gun in the scoring department after eleven games. Middleton has dumped in 165 points for an even 15 point average. Danny Clifford, with 86, is second in the scoring derby, while Dick Day has 79.

The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

Countless hero-worshipping youngsters find their baseball idols among the New York Yankees. But not Shortstop Tommy Carroll, even though he received $40,000 from the Yankees as a bonus baby. The idol of the 18-year-old Carroll not only isn't a Yankee—he isn't even an American League. The object of Tommy's hero worship is Shortstop Johnny Logan of the Braves.

Local Cagers Hope For League Crown

Hoping Trenton runs into trouble during its remaining three league games, Plymouth still can hope for a share of the 6-B League crown only if Bentley should knock off the Trojans. Still the Rocks must stay unbeaten in their remaining trio of tilts to keep any title aspirations alive.

Coach John Sandmann's quintet will attempt to get back on its winning ways tomorrow night when they take on Redford Union for the second time this season. Plymouth whipped the Panthers, 55-47, when the teams met before. This time the Rocks will have the advantage of playing on their home court as they try to rebound from the 65-56 loss Trenton handed them last Friday.

In addition to winning the rest of their league tilts, Plymouth must rely on some outside help if they are to have any part of a championship. But first they must win their games.

The important one now is the Redford Union encounter tomorrow night on the Plymouth court. The Varsity encounter will follow the Junior Varsity game, which begins at 7:00.

the turnstiles at Boston's Fenway Park to the baselines, but it took Jack Burns exactly 32 years to negotiate the distance. Burns is a new coach for the Red Sox. He started as a turnstile boy at 50 cents a day, then went through the mill as a player in the minors and a stint with the Browns, and as a minor league manager. Now, 32 years later, he's back at Fenway Park.

Bob Allen, statistician for the Braves, points out that the official American and National League batting averages list Eddie Joost of Philadelphia and Sam Calderone of Milwaukee as the players with the highest batting averages in 1954. Joost hit .362 in 47 at-bats, Calderone .379 in 29 at-bats. The oddity is that both men lost their jobs at the end of the season.

To Gene Woodling, nothing can be taken for granted in baseball. Gene was a member of the Yankee outfield for six years before being traded to the seventh-place Orioles. But he has left his New Jersey home early, for Florida so he can get ready to win a job with Baltimore. "I always go South with the idea that I have to earn a job," he said, "and this season will be no different."

With one season in the National League behind him, Vic Raschi of the Cardinals is convinced there's no difference in strength between the two majors. The former Yankee ace said that while he doesn't miss pitching for the Yankees, he misses the companionship he developed with them over the years. Raschi said that he looks for the Cardinals to be in the thick of the pennant fight this year, in spite of their sixth-place finish in 1954.

General admission tickets won't go on sale in Baltimore until next month, but box office business is already booming. Advance ticket sales totaling $550,000 have been reported. That's 90 per cent ahead of what they were at this time last year.

In the eyes of Joe DiMaggio, Willie Mays is the greatest ball player active today. He hopes no one will interfere with Willie's style of play. DiMaggio said: "I would not teach a young player to do things the way Willie does. That basket catch close to the body, for instance. But for Mays the way he performs is natural, and nobody should interfere with him. Just let that boy alone. He's just too wonderful to spoil."

Swimmers Play Host To Birmingham Team

In a meet that should please anyone interested in swimming, Plymouth's once-beaten tankers host Birmingham tonight in a return match of an encounter that saw the Rocks hand the Maples their first loss of the year by a 43-41 score.

Plymouth, after being miserably drubbed by Birmingham in 1952 and '53, came out of the doldrums earlier this season at the Maples' pool to win the previous tilt by taking the final relay and Birmingham is still mad.

Since that time Coach McFall's natators have completed the record of seven wins as opposed to a single loss and a tie, which they hope to improve upon tonight. The meet will start at 7:30 in the Plymouth natatorium.

Basketball Loops Continue Action

The three minor basketball leagues, which are made up of "E," "F," and elementary school cage teams, have completed about half of their schedule of games.

Leaders in each loop are currently carrying perfect records to head their respective standings. The games are held on the cage courts at the Star-weather, Allen, and Bird elementary schools. The officiating of these games is handled by Doug Jetter, ex-Varsity cager for Plymouth high school.

The "E" League consists of boys 16 and under, the "F" league is for boys 14 and under, and the elementary school league is for fifth and sixth graders.

Current standings for the three leagues are:

League	Team	W	L
"E" League	Wayne	5	0

Junior Tankers Swamp Dearborn

Winning the final two relays to sew up the meet, the Plymouth Junior Varsity swimming team bested Dearborn's reserves for the second time this season Wednesday, February 2, in Dearborn's pool. The final margin of victory was ten points, 46-36.

Earlier this year Plymouth had to swim off with both relays to squeeze out a 43-41 victory against the same team, but this time they made an easier task of it by scoring heavily in the several individual events.

Dearborn had taken five firsts in the individual races, but when Plymouth won an event the Rocks reserves backed it up with a second spot, to make their firsts count.

Also, when a swimmer from the host school did take a first, Plymouth swimmers finished in the second and third spots in every case but one. Coach Frank Sullivan's tankers then captured the relays for the winning margin.

Swimming on those winning relay teams were Jim Cash, Mike Todd, and Dennis Baker, composing the medley trio, and John Vos, Norman Terry, Gary Strasen, and John Williams in the 200-yd. freestyle event.

The only individual blue ribbons went to Baker for his effort in the 100-yd. freestyle and Jack Taylor in the 150-yd. individual medley.

Getting those needed second and third places for Plymouth were Todd and Bob Isbister in the breaststroke. Strasen and Henry Mende in the 200-yd. freestyle, Cash and Jim Archer in the backstroke, and Taylor, who finished third in the 50-yd. freestyle.

Backing up the pair of Plymouth winners in the individual races, John Williams took a second in the 100-yd. freestyle and Ed Stretanski finished behind Taylor in the individual medley.

Local Frosh Five Loses to Trenton

An outclassed Plymouth Freshman team fell to Trenton's Frosh by a 56-28 count on the local court last Friday, February 4, as the visiting ninth graders avenged an earlier loss handed them by Coach Charlie Ketterer's squad.

The game started out very fast with both teams hitting well in the opening minutes of play. At the end of the first quarter Trenton held a close 15-13 advantage but from then on it was strictly no contest as the Trojan Freshmen scored almost at will to completely swamp their hosts.

The visitors raced to a 28-17 half-time lead before wrapping up the victory with a fourteen point outburst in the third period while bottling up the Plymouth offense so completely that the Rocks were able to score but a meager two points.

From their 42-19 margin at the three-quarter mark, Trenton coasted through the final eight minutes to the 56-28 finale.

The Trojan ninth graders unleashed a well-balanced scoring attack that saw the game's high point man, Voss, who netted 14 counters, supported by Gerow and Kaitala, scorers of ten and eight, respectively. Plymouth's Pete Sherrick paced the losers with 12 and Ken Kripschild added seven more.

The Rocks had beaten this same Trenton team by a 28-25 score in a previous encounter, but Plymouth didn't even come close this time as the Trojans practically ran them off the floor.

Tomorrow afternoon the Frosh travel to Redford Union for their second tilt with the Panther Freshmen. The Rocks suffered a 43-23 loss when the teams met at Plymouth.

Loses Third Straight

from behind in the final quarter to salvage a 53-47 victory. The six point margin equalled the total number of points by which Coach Bill Harding's hard-luck quintet had lost its previous pair of games.

Trenton had to work for the win though, as an 18 point scoring spree in the fourth period brought them the hard-earned victory. Plymouth had led up until half way through that final stanza when the Trojans tied the score at 43-43.

Then the host team put on a fast finish that spelled defeat for the Rocks. Plymouth slumped to their lowest point production of any of the quarters when they could net only nine in answer to Trenton's winning surge.

Starting out big, Plymouth dumped in 15 scores in the opening eight minutes and then counting 12 more in the second quarter to take a 27-22 halftime lead after enjoying a six point margin at the end of the first period.

Bob Jenkins, the Jay Vee's top scorer, netted twelve of his eighteen total in the first half. The young Rocks kept up the heavy scoring through the third quarter, hitting for 11 more points to hold a 38-35 margin at the start of the final period. Then the roof fell in the shape of a Trenton rally that gave the decision to the host school.

High point man for the game was Trenton's Dick Mans, who accounted for 24 of his teams total. In addition to Jenkins' 18 points, tops for Plymouth, Jerry King had 13, and Kenny Calhoun, nine.

In losing their third straight game, the Junior Varsity followed the pattern they had set previously of dropping the close one in games with Bentley and Wal-de Lake Coach Harding's quintet played well only to lose both tilts by three points in overtime. The six point margin Trenton built up still constituted a tight squeeze.

The Junior Varsity will try to get back on its winning ways tomorrow night on the Plymouth court when they meet a strong Redford Union J. V. team.

Men's Basketball Loop Dominated By Tripp's High-Scoring Cagers

George Tripp, Inc. cagers continued to dominate play in the "A" basketball league of the Plymouth Recreation Department as the three-quarter mark of the season was passed last week.

The league's leader showed no mercy in walloping Gould's Cleaners, 101-44, Thursday, February 3, on the Plymouth high school court. Purcell and Becker led the attack for Tripp's with 28 and 22 points respectively. High for Gould's was Hees with 14.

Rock Junior High Five Suffers Close Defeat

After overcoming a big five point lead held by Trenton's Junior High at the start of the final quarter, Plymouth's seventh and eighth graders finally fell to the visiting Trojan squad when the Trenton team cashed in on two free throws, their only points in that fourth period, to nudge out the littlest Rocks by a single point, 23-22, last Friday, February 4, at Plymouth.

Coach Gus Gorguize's Junior High quintet had been on the short end of a 21-16 score after three quarters of play when they started to pop in points to close the gap in the final stanza. Trenton made but one free throw, while Plymouth was hitting for three quick baskets and the game stood at a 22-22 tie. The heart-breaker came for the Rock Junior High when Trenton's high scorer, Hayes, dropped in another free throw that proved to be the winning margin. It was his eighth point of the game.

Plymouth's Myron Hopper kept his team in the game practically single-handed as he continually hit for points when they were needed. Hopper scored more than half of the total amassed by Plymouth as he hit for 13 counters to gain high points for the game. No other little Rock could muster more than two points. Trenton's Hayes was supported by Sanderlin, who was only one point back of the Trojan leader, with seven.

The win for the visitors compensated for an 18-14 loss that Plymouth inflicted on Trenton earlier this year at Trenton. Tomorrow the Junior High meets Redford Union in a return match of a game that ended in a 32-24 loss for the local seventh and eighth graders when the two teams met earlier this season.

Two evenings earlier Tripp's five walked away with an easy 91-44 win over Northville State Hospital's quintet, paced this time by Huebler's 20 counters and Becker's 19. Miller was tops for N.H.S.-A.F.L. with 17.

Other play last week found Tait's Cleaners breaking even in two tilts. With the aid of Miller's 20 point spurge, Northville State Hospital edged out a tight 55-54 victory over the Tait's squad. Pagenkopf led the losers with 18.

In victory Tait's powered past Ford-Local 182 to the tune of 76-28. Lanphear and Pagenkopf provided the scoring punch for the winners when they totaled 45 points between them. Only Jetter could get the aim for the losers, hitting for 17 of his team's total.

Gould's Cleaners and Beglinger Olds fell into a deadlock for third place in the league as the result of Gould's easy win over the Beglinger five. The final score was 64-41.

The only other game wound up in a close scoring contest which saw second-place LaFontaine threatened by fourth-ranking Northville Recreation, but LaFontaine managed to salvage a 44-41 battle.

League standings are:

Thirteen Year Old Plymouth Boy Captures Amateur Skating Title

Not known as a center for winter sports enthusiasts, Plymouth has caused to be proud of a local youth who has brought a speed skating crown to the city.

Thirteen-year-old James Urquhart, an eighth grade student, is the new Michigan state speed skating champion for 1955 in the juvenile division. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Urquhart, of 265 Arthur.

Jim captured his crown over the past weekend, by defeating all other competition in three different races in a meet held at Alpena, which was sponsored by the state Amateur Skating association.

To cop the honors, the youth handily won his preliminary heats in the 880-, 440-, and 220-yard sprints as a warm up to the final racing.

Earning 30 points for each first place in the finals, Jim garnered a total of 90 with a trio of firsts in the three races, to win the crown going away. On his march to the championship, Jim broke the state record for the 440.

The old record of 43.4 seconds for the quarter mile distance had stood up since 1944, until the local youngster bettered it with his time of 42.8 seconds.

In addition to his title, the champion was rewarded with a gold winner's trophy, presented by the judges and engraved with his name and the event.

Young Urquhart has only six years of skating behind him and got his start in an odd manner. In Saginaw where he previously lived, Jim's father broke a pair of figure skates and bought a set of racers to replace the broken pair.

The elder Urquhart found the new skates so good, that he bought a pair for his son. Jim learned the fundamentals and started skating in earnest for the Saginaw Transfer Speed Skating club.

When he moved with his parents to Akron, Ohio, Jim took up skating with the Cleveland Edgewater club. At the present he skates for the Berkeley Skating club.

Men show their character in nothing more clearly than by what they think laughable.

Never brag about something you expect to do: wait until it is accomplished and then let others pass judgment on it.

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD Jim Urquhart and his mother, Mrs. Donald Urquhart, admire the most recent addition to his collection of speed skating trophies; the Michigan state speed skating championship trophy.

Where Pride Leads to Economy!

This gasoline station isn't accustomed to being ignored by the cars that pass its way. For it resides at the edge of a great desert—and it is many, many miles to the next fueling point.

But the big, handsome automobile you see here swept by without so much as a sign of recognition! For it is a new 1955 Cadillac—and its owner knows that he can travel from his morning's start until his evening's stop without a single refueling.

Of course, when a motorist decides to order his first Cadillac, he isn't usually aware that the car is so economical to operate—and so practical to own. He wants a Cadillac for what it is and represents—and for the great pride and pleasure it will bring him.

But it isn't long before he discovers where his pride has led him!

He discovers it first when he prices the Cadillac of his choice. Invariably, he is surprised at its relatively modest cost. Not infrequently, he finds that it actually costs less than the car he is currently driving.

And then, once his Cadillac is delivered into his hands, he discovers how frugal it is with a gallon of gasoline. He finds, as we said, that a full tank is usually sufficient for a full day's drive.

Next, he learns of Cadillac's extraordinary dependability. In fact, he often has to be reminded when the time has come for routine service.

But not until he surrenders his Cadillac to its second owner does he discover the full wonder of Cadillac's economy. For then he learns how amazingly it holds its value—and how little a year's service affects the public's regard for the car.

All this is to say, of course, that you don't have to follow your pride to the "car of cars." You can, if you prefer, make your decision solely on the basis of economy—and still buy a Cadillac!

Come in soon—and see for yourself! We've got the facts—and we'll be delighted to see you at any time!

Brown Sugar Pudding

Here's a tried and true dessert recipe that's been a favorite with the Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson family, 680 Church, for over 25 years.

The wife of the Methodist church pastor says she was first introduced to "Brown Sugar Pudding" when the recipe was given to her by an elderly lady in Mechanicsburg, Illinois, where the Johnsons were first stationed by the church. A new bride at the time, Mrs. Johnson found this simple, tasty recipe a welcome sight from the involved ones she was encountering in cookbooks. We think you'll find it good, too!

A boon to egg-allergic folks is "Brown Sugar Pudding" being prepared above by Mrs. Melbourne I. Johnson of 680 Church. Batter for the tasty dish requires no eggs.

Brown Sugar Pudding
Syrup:
1 cup of brown sugar
2 cups of water
1/4 cup of butter or other cake shortening
Boil together gently for about three minutes, then pour into a two-quart casserole.
Batter:
1/2 cup of brown sugar
1/2 cup of sweet milk
1/2 cup of raisins
1/4 cup of melted butter or cake shortening
1 cup of all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons of baking powder
1 teaspoon of cinnamon
Mix thoroughly and pour into the syrup. Bake in oven preheated at 350 degrees for about a half hour. Serve warm, topped with whipped cream and garnished with chopped nuts and a cherry. Serves six.

"Gentlemen's Night" to Feature Coach, Barbershop Quartette

WALLY WEBER OF MICHIGAN

Slated as featured guest on "Gentlemen's Night" at the local Woman's club will be the University of Michigan's freshman coach and a popular barbershop quartette from Detroit. The event will be held Monday, February 14, at 6:45 p.m. in the Mayflower hotel.

Addressing the assembled group as a guest speaker will be Walter J. Weber, U of M freshman coach. Weber will speak on "Athletic Values and Reminiscences." Famed as an after-dinner speaker, television and radio analyst, Weber has appeared at more than 1100 gatherings in over 400 cities in the U. S. and Canada.

The present frosh coach teamed with Bennie Oosterbaan on Fielding H. Yost's last two Big Ten title winners in 1925-26. A powerful fullback, he was noted particularly for his superior defensive efforts.

Graduating from the U of M in 1927, Weber received his M.A. in 1929. Following his degree he became coach at Benton Harbor high school where his teams won the state title and took 24 out of 27 games in three seasons.

Returning to Michigan in 1931, coaching the backfields of three Western conference champions, he subsequently took over as freshman coach. Weber has held that post continuously except for a brief interim during World War II when the freshman rule was relaxed.

During the musical portion of the program on Gentlemen's Night, club members and their husbands will be entertained by the Treble-Makers, popular barbershop quartette from Detroit. As members of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartette Singing in America (SPEBSQA), the group won the novice championship in the Michigan district SPEBSQA held in Muskegon last October. Since that time they have been popular in the entertainment field in Detroit and vicinity.

Quartette members are Vic Van York, bass; Ed Reddick, tenor; Bill Rowell, lead; and Glen Van Tassel, baritone.

Program chairman for the Monday night meeting is Mrs. Harrison Moore. Arrangements for the musical entertainment have been made by Mrs. Herbert Woolweaver.

Mrs. John D. McLaren is ticket chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Leo McGuire, Mrs. Robert Minock, Mrs. Forest Morgeson and Mrs. Murray O'Neil.

Hostesses for Gentlemen's Night are Mrs. Milton Laible, Mrs. Wallace Laury, Mrs. Hugh Law, Mrs. M. S. Litsenberger, Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz, Miss Neva Lovewell, Mrs. Gustaf Lundquist, Mrs. W. S. McAllister, Mrs. Peter Miller, Mrs. Clarence Moore and Mrs. Clarence Parmalee.

Well Organized Equipment Adds to Enjoyment of Sewing

Do you have a sewing center? You will enjoy sewing for your family more if you have your equipment well organized in one place say Wayne County home agents.

The ideal arrangement would enable you to reach all small articles in their storage places while sitting at your sewing machine. If you have a portable sewing machine, perhaps a special wall cupboard might be built with a fold down table for the machine and storage for your sewing supplies. This type of sewing center might be located in the utility room, a bedroom or a den.

Perhaps you have a cabinet model sewing machine which because of windows or other factors may be placed some distance from the storage space used for your sewing equipment. What plan have you for bringing the small items near the machine?

One possibility is to use a tray like drawer which slides into place on a shelf inside the cupboard and could easily be carried to your working center. Another possibility is a portable folding screen. On the screen, you can arrange several bags — the same idea as a shoe bag, but here you have pockets of various sizes and shapes to hold small sewing items. A spool rack could be arranged on the screen for your thread.

If you sew many garments for your family or furnishings for

Shabby Coffee Table Acquires "New Look"

A coffee table top that is marred or shabby-looking can gain style and add character to the room, by means of a new decorative trick.

Measure the exact size of the table top. If oblong, you may desire to work out an individual design in 9" x 9" vinyl tiles; if round or oval, vinyl material by-the-yard can be cut with any good household scissors to fit the table. Then cement it fast.

Suitable metal edgings can be purchased from your flooring dealer to finish the edges, and presto, you have a smart coffee table from the vinyl flooring material left over from your new floors.

your home, you will find it convenient to have your sewing center in an out of the way spot so that you can leave your materials out between sewing sessions. If you cannot shut the room off completely, perhaps you might use a screen for the dual purpose of hiding your sewing center from view and providing a place for your small equipment.

Good tools, well cared for and conveniently placed make any job seem easier. Invest a little time in planning and organizing your sewing center. This will save your energy and your pleasant disposition and help you accomplish more in a limited amount of time.

Gives Tips On Washing Bed Sheets

Fresh, clean cotton sheets are an invitation to refreshing sleep. Here are some tips for washing hem cleaner than clean.

If you launder them by hand, the tub should be no more than half full when the sheets have been added. If you use a home washing machine, follow carefully the directions for your own machine.

Don't wash colored items with white sheets.

You can save soap and bleach by soaking sheets in clear, cool water for 10 or 15 minutes before washing.

When a second soapy rinse is indicated, use warm water (120 degrees) and half as much soap as before. Very hot water can set stains, and overlong soaking can set soil.

Lift sheets from the water so that soapy curds won't stay in the sheets. Rinse in warm water till the last water is clear. For extra smoothness, starch lightly.

To dry, hang sheets folded right side out, hem to hem, letting hemmed edges hang over the line about one foot.

If fuses blow frequently, or lights dim in your house, these are danger signals which should not be ignored. Either occurrence means that electrical circuits are overloaded—a fire hazard.

Impression of Home Based on Entrance

The area just inside your front door is very important. Since it is the first thing people see upon entering your home it has a great deal to do with the overall impression.

What impression does your entrance give? Chances are that it has been a long time since you have really looked at it.

It is a good idea to stop the soft flooring of the living room before it reaches the front door area. Use a small section of hard surface flooring or a washable throw rug near the door.

If possible, you will want a place to hang coats and keep rainy-weather clothing in your entrance hall. You will find it very convenient to have a chest or some piece of furniture where you can keep your pocketbook, to hold incoming and outgoing mail or whatever your family needs are.

An entrance should be well-lighted. Take advantage of all the daylight available. A lamp on a chest or table will give a softer light than almost any hanging fixture.

If your entrance is small, use decorating tricks to make it seem more spacious. Try an uncluttered wallpaper for one wall. Paint the other walls a blending color. Keep it light and fairly bright. Yellows and greens will both give the illusion of more space if the right shade is chosen.

PINK OR RED HEARTS

Looking for a couple of cute tricks for Valentine's Day? How about little individual heart-shaped cakes piled high with fluffy pink icing. There's a surprise beneath the frosting too.

Cupid's Surprise Cake

Bake your favorite white cake mix in a 13 by 9-inch pan (or use individual heart-shaped gelatin molds). When cool, remove from pan.

Place a heart-shaped pattern on the cake. Cut around pattern with a sharp knife, form six or seven valentine cakes.

Place layer of sliced bananas (that's the surprise) on top of each cake. Frost top and sides with icing. Serve within a few hours.

Fluffy Pink Icing

1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons white corn syrup
4 tablespoons water
2 egg whites
Red coloring

Cook sugar, syrup and water together to soft ball stage (235° F.). Pour over beaten egg whites and beat until fluffy. Add two or three drops red coloring and beat to mix in color.

Red Heart Salad

Dissolve one package cherry gelatin in two cups hot water. Pour into eight-inch square dish or pan. Chill to set.

At serving time, section two oranges, saving the juice drippings. Slice two unpeeled red apples and sprinkle slices with orange juice. Arrange apple and orange sections alternately spoke-fashion on lettuce.

Dip gelatin dish in warm water and unmold on a flat surface. Cut gelatin with a heart-shaped cookie cutter. Place a red heart in the center of each wheel of fruit. Serve with salad dressing.

Yield: Four to six salads.
Happy Valentine's Day!

Doughnut Fruit Burgers

When your little folks need an energizing mid-morning snack, give them Doughnut Fruit Burgers to go with their milk. They're colorful, fun to eat, and a tasty supplement to milk. And children will like the taste of powdered sugar coated doughnuts with pineapple. These are the cake quality doughnuts made from a cook book recipe which you get from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department.

Make Doughnut Fruit Burgers by placing a well-drained slice of pineapple between doughnut halves. Top with a stemmed maraschino cherry, if desired. Give them to children as an after-school snack, too, and serve them as a dinner dessert with warm pineapple sauce, or a tart cherry sauce. Make some today for the kiddies' between-meal pickup, and for luncheon or dinner dessert with cherry sauce.

Cherry Sauce

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter
1 tablespoon cornstarch

1/4 cup water
1/4 cup cherry juice

Cream the sugar and butter. Add cornstarch and liquid, and cook over hot water until thickened, stirring constantly. Add chopped cherries, if desired. Cool, and serve over Doughnut Pineapple Burgers.

Delight Family with These Individual Beef Rings

Cuts from the beef chuck are good buys in many markets today. Because it contains just the right proportions of fat and lean, beef chuck is excellent for grinding. And for flavorful individual ground beef servings, prepare these beef rings. The meat mixture is molded in small ring molds, baked, then cleverly served with a filling of mashed potatoes.

Ground Beef Rings

1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1 1/2 teaspoons salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 egg
2 to 3 cups mashed potatoes

Combine all ingredients except mashed potatoes. Mix thoroughly. Pack into 8 greased individual ring molds. Bake in a moderate oven (300° F.) for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve filled with mashed potatoes. 6 to 8 servings.

Combine Lamb Shank, Barley for Tasty Dish

Barley is stuffed into these lamb shanks for a novel twist your family will applaud. Home economists suggest that you serve tomato salad, green beans, whole wheat bread, butter or margarine, prune whip and a beverage with the stuffed lamb shanks.

Stuffed Lamb Shanks

6 lamb shanks
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups water
1/4 cup barley

Brown the lamb shanks in lard or drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add water, cover and simmer until tender, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Remove meat from broth. Cool and remove bones. Cook barley in lamb broth adding water if necessary. Stuff lamb shanks with cooked barley. Thicken remaining lamb broth with flour for gravy. Pour gravy over stuffed shanks, cover and cook on top of range or in a moderate oven (350° F.) until heated through. 6 servings.

Carry Out Fabric Design In Redoing Room

Planning to redecorate the den? Start with a fabric design that utterly charms you and go on from there. One captivating pattern on cotton can motivate your entire decorating scheme.

You may find just the thing in corduroy, in denim, chintz, sailcloth or any one of the many different textures available in colorful cotton. Whatever the drapery pattern, you'll find that it can be echoed in wall and floor coverings.

Dull kitchen knives can be just as dangerous as sharp ones. A dull blade needs more pressure for cutting and is more likely to slip and cause a mean cut.

Try dampening the string when tying packages for mailing. As the string dries, it shrinks, giving a tighter wrap.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

BUILD

THIS BRIGHT, CHEERFUL BEDROOM is the result of a do-it-yourself remodeling project by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, 1010 Church street, Plymouth. Most any child would be pleased to have a neat, sparkling bedroom like this! Notice the painted ripplewood paneling with built-in cabinet and bookshelves, and the attractive pegboard arrangement. At the other end of the room (not visible) is a built-in vanity with sliding-door wardrobe closet adjacent. The table, in the foreground, is made from an ordinary birch flush door. The lumber, paint, and glass blocks used by Mr. Hulsing for this remodeling were supplied by Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. Drapes were custom-made by Cadillac Drapery Co., Plymouth.

Newly-Designed Casement Windows Offer Three-Fold Installation Variety

A window is a window — or is it? Once upon a time, and not so long ago, there wouldn't have been any question about it — because windows were all pretty much the same.

Nearly all were of the type called "double-hung" — the bottom sash slid up and the top sash slid down.

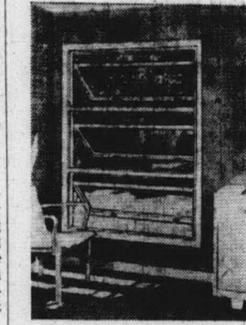

Modern windows now open in nearly every imaginable direction, giving the householder plenty of opportunity to take advantage of personal taste in design and decoration.

The newest type of wood window can be used in any of four different ways — as an awning window — with the sash opening up and out; or — hopper style with the sash opening down and in; or — as a casement sash-window, opening either to the right or left.

Used as a fixed sash, the window doesn't open at all.

In every case — the window is Screen and storm sash can be easily slipped in or out of the three-way window units. Dangers and discomforts of out-of-window, old-style washing is thus

CASEMENT STYLE — sash set in vertical position.

These wood windows have the natural warmth and texture for which wood is prized. There is no danger either of moisture condensing on the frame or sash, which might cause damage to the window itself or to inside walls, drapes or furniture.

Wood has a high insulation factor — and cuts down on both heat and cold. When the window is closed, it retains warm air inside, and keeps cold air out, adding to comfort and cutting down on fuel bills.

AWNING STYLE—windows open outward; keeps rain from entering.

HOPPER STYLE—windows open in from top.

exactly the same — the difference lies in how it is set into the wall.

This versatile window can be adapted to the requirements of any home — for beauty, ventilation and light.

Many home owners are installing banks of these windows from floor to ceiling, utilizing two or three of the "four positions" to catch every breeze and sunbeam!

Arranged in either the awning or hopper position, these windows can be placed in a row high in a wall, assuring privacy and giving a maximum of clear wall space for placement of furniture, below.

Decorator's Notebook

Here is an idea for your room that will meet your furniture fashion requirements. At the same time, it will give long-term comfort, durability, and pleasure for the entire household.

The charming nook pictured above has been designed to please the man of the house, and to reflect his hobbies.

Adhering to the growing trend to color in furniture, the beautifully tailored chair is done in Capri blue leather, and has an ottoman to match. The chairside reading table is of solid cherry. It is from a new collection introduced at the recent furniture markets. The hardware on it is brass.

Interpret this setting in your own home. Add a comfortable chair and handy table to a cozy corner of your living room. Then display hobby equipment such as, the fishing rods and reels in the setting pictured above.

Another interesting note in this room is that the use of leather has been carried out even to the matting of the wall prints. The color of the leather is the same as that of the chair and ottoman—Capri blue.

Street and traffic noises often account for much of the noise in a "noisy" household, says June Cabot, home arts consultant for Libbey-Owens-Ford, who points out that double-pane insulating glass will admit 44 per cent less outside noise than a single thickness of glass.

Business, Education Most Popular Among College Students of Today

Today only eight per cent of the new college graduates have prepared for careers in law, medicine or dentistry, the most popular fields 50 years ago, according to studies recently completed by the Commission on Human Resources and Advanced Training.

Survey Indicates State's Highway Needs Increasing

Michigan's total highway needs today are "far greater" than in 1947 when a comprehensive engineering survey showed $1,434,000,000 should be spent to bring all roads and streets up to modern standards.

That is the preliminary conclusion expressed in an interim report to the joint legislative committee studying Michigan highway problems. The report was prepared for the study group by J. P. Buckley, chief engineer for the Automotive Safety Foundation which is conducting the mammoth survey of Michigan road needs.

The interim report declared that data is not yet sufficient to fix accurately exact state highway needs, but that information will be included in a final study report due September 15.

In addition to declaring that initial studies show "far greater" need for highway improvements, the preliminary report asserted that Michigan's road needs will not be met in a 15-year period as contemplated by the 1951 legislature. In that year the legislature had to override Governor Williams' veto to provide more money for roads.

Buckley's interim review pointed out that Michigan's total number of motor vehicle registrations has increased 77 per cent since 1946, while total vehicle travel is up 70 per cent in the same period. Also, highway construction prices in 1952 were 45 per cent over the 1946 level.

In the 20-year period to 1975 it is expected the number of cars will increase by at least half while motor vehicle travel will increase by at least two-thirds, Buckley's report stated.

"The highway fiscal legislation of 1951 together with increased motor vehicle ownership and use approximately doubled highway revenues in 1954 over those available in 1946," the report stated. "Had it not been for this increase, Michigan highway administrators would have been completely swamped by their vastly expanded responsibilities and higher costs. Nevertheless, today's highway revenues, greatly increased as they are, do not compensate for the combined impact of the mounting traffic load and the higher construction costs."

The interim report said preliminary studies are sufficient to show: "That the highway needs today are substantially greater than were estimated in 1947, and "That the rate of progress based on present and anticipated income is not sufficient to meet these needs in the 15-year period originally contemplated."

Buckley noted that new factors, such as the Mackinac Bridge and St. Lawrence Seaway, will influence future traffic needs while better and more costly highway design will be required to meet growing travel needs safely and efficiently.

The report indicated also that new federal aid proposals will affect not only financing plans but design standards and priority of work.

of which two University of Michigan deans were members.

Dean Charles E. Odegaard of the literary college and Dean Ralph A. Sawyer of the Rackham School of Graduate Studies serving on the commission which was set up in 1949, under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, to make a broad study of the present and potential supply of highly-trained personnel.

The need for such a study was demonstrated by the shortage, discovered during World War II, of highly-specialized workers in all fields.

Fifty years ago professional schools for business, and education were practically unknown, but now more graduates have specialized in these fields than in any others, the commission reports.

The part of the study dealing with college graduation trends indicates that sweeping changes have taken place in American higher education during the last century. In 1900 only one out of 60 persons had graduated from college; today one out of every eight has earned his Bachelor of Arts degree or its equivalent. Two-thirds of the graduates were men in 1900, but today's ratio is six men to four women, according to the study.

Because the population is larger and because a higher fraction of this population attends college, the actual number of degrees in all fields is greater than it was 50 years ago, but "in relation to other fields in which they can major, a much smaller proportion of college students concentrate in the natural sciences or the humanities now than in 1900," says the report.

For example, at the beginning of the century one graduate in eight specialized in a foreign language; now only one in 80 has majored in a foreign language. Education and commerce have had the biggest boom, with the social sciences and psychology close behind. Undergraduate degrees in engineering, too, have increased greatly.

Although there has been this vast change in the type of bachelor's degrees, advanced degrees in the different fields have had a stable distribution throughout the years, this phase of the study concludes.

The western diamondback rattler probably kills more people than any other United States snake. Over the world, almost 40,000 persons die of snakebite each year. Burma has the highest rate: 15.4 persons annually per 100,000 population.

HEALTH & BEAUTY

People wonder why it is so easy for old people to break their bones. A young person can receive hard falls and blows, often with no ill effects, but an old person may have a slight fall and fracture the hip or some other bone.

The reason is that age causes such a reduction of animal matter in the skeleton that the bones lose their elasticity. They grow chalky and brittle, so that light falls will often cause serious fractures in an old person.

Much has been learned about bones from X-rays. The causes of several distressing diseases have been found out this way. Quoting from Dr. Evans: "Some two years before the disease was recognized a man developed a pain in his back which was called pyletis (pus in the kidneys). A year later he complained of a pain in his side, which was called pleurisy. Three months later he stubbed his toe on a rough place in the pavement and developed a pain in his chest. X-ray pictures of the chest showed some broken ribs.

A disease called multiple myeloma was suspected. Science has discovered tests for diagnosing this malady. They were applied, and the man was found to be a sufferer from this dread condition, which is due to cancer of the bone marrow.

It is progressive and spreads from one bone to another. It so weakens the bone that it breaks wherever the disease locates itself. In the case mentioned, a bone fractured about once a month.

A friend of mine, a surgeon, had a similar experience. For several months he was supposed to be suffering from rheumatic pains in different bones and joints. Then his bones commenced fracturing. Towards the end he was bedridden on an air mattress and was handled with exceeding care, but in spite of every precaution, his bones continued to break.

Some people are born with such fragile bones that they fracture very easily. Most of them have a tendency to deafness and the whites of their eyes are of a bluish cast.

It is difficult for fractures to heal if the sufferers have too little lime in their systems. Milk is our greatest source of lime and children especially should be given an abundant supply of it daily. This helps them to form good sound teeth and bones.

Of the 100,000 orphans in the United States today, 26,000 of them lost at least one parent to cancer.

Wayne County Agent Discusses Best Way to Raise House Plants

By N. A. Smith, Assistant Wayne County Agricultural Agent

Possessing a green thumb means that the person is observant of plants' whims and wishes. As with children, don't expect compliance with your hopes and aspirations if you do not pay any attention to them. Even if you do everything according to hoyle, there are some plants that still persist in not conforming. On the other hand, a little sympathetic understanding will pay rich dividends unmatched by exquisite inanimate artistic creations.

The first step in managing houseplants, whether one cactus or a whole greenhouse, is to prepare a working area. For small homes and apartments, a portable potting board will keep the house clean, materials always at hand and will be ready for business at any time without undue fuss. This potting platform can be made of 18" x 24" pressed board with 4" upright strips around 3 sides, put together with wood screws for greater stability. Place a quart of sand in one corner, a couple of quarts of peat moss, leaf mold or compost in the other corner and a quart of black loam top soil in the center. You can take a little from each pile according to the taste of each plant.

The potting soil will be the nest home for your plants for a long time so prepare it with care. For that quart of black loose topsoil you would be better off to leave alone the dirt in the front and backyard of your landlord and instead pick up a quart-full the next time you walk through the woods or visit your country cousins. Get your peat moss at your local nursery supply and that quart of organic matter (manure or compost) might better come from a store. You can make your own compost by placing green lawn clippings mixed with some black topsoil in a vapor and moisture-proof polyethylene bag for four months.

Strive for a soil mixture consisting of 1-3 loam, 1-3 organic and 1-3 sand. After this is watered it will provide an airy rich medium. This is far superior to that obtained by dipping a potful directly from the corner of the yard. This latter is usually more suitable for children's mud pies than for houseplants.

With an area on which to work and a good potting mixture you can start potting. Using a clean, well-soaked pot and young-rooted cutting with inch-long white roots, place some soil in the pot, center the cutting and fill in around the roots pressing firmly with the thumbs to within 1/2 inch of the rim top. Water the plant well and let the plant become acclimated in the subdued light of a north window in a cool guest room. After it has perked up you can move it to an east window; south is next best, west ranks third, and north is the least preferred for most houseplants.

Houseplants prefer a cooler temperature than man. A uniform night temperature of 55° to 58° works well with a day temperature of 65° to 70°. Apartment temperatures in the 80's are excessive particularly with a humidity like that of Death Valley.

If you do not care to sacrifice your comfort, then a small home-made terrarium is the best solution to the temperature and humidity problem. A terrarium will do away with the usual drafts.

Watering is simplified with porous clay pots and a loose soil for the excess can drain readily. Use rain water or distilled water and make it luke-warm. City water has dissolved salts and home-softened water has asphyxiating sodium.

After new growth has started, ruthlessly pinch back new stem growth to form more closely-branched plants. Tall, ungainly houseplants are not admired, yet it frequently happens with geraniums and fuchsias. If you have been too soft-hearted or negligent, then remove a few cuttings and start all over again. Properly potted plants will require little if any fertilization. Use rotenone or pyrethrum for insect pests.

Beyond these general recommendations, the houseplant enthusiast must cater to the peculiar idiosyncracies of the particular species and variety. This information can be secured from pamphlets, magazines, books well seasoned with experience.

Even the bumps are smoother in the '55 Buick ride

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three."

To be completely honest—there are some bumps which nothing will level out completely. Yet even the real rough ones turn out a lot smoother when you take them in a 1955 Buick.

And that's not just our say-so. New owners of these bright new beauties keep telling us that.

So you may wonder—how come? What's different about the Buick ride that makes it such a marvel? The answer is—plenty.

Most cars have coil springs on front wheels only. Buick has them all around—and this year they're newly calibrated for even deeper smothering of jounce and jar. So here your ride is balanced, buoyant, level, serenely smooth.

Most cars drive through the rear springs. Buick drives through a torque-tube that takes up all driving thrust, wipes out rear-wheel wiggle and wag, steadies your going to a sure and solid track.

And no other car in all America has these great comfort extras plus the backbone of a massive X-braced frame plus both direct and lever-type shock absorbers to snub after-bounce plus a special front-end geometry to stabilize "cornering" plus tubeless tires on extra-wide rims for softer riding and greater stability.

Surely, you owe it to yourself to try this great Buick travel, just to judge things for yourself.

You'll find it the nearest thing to velvet on wheels—and made even more so by the silkiness of record-high V8 power and the absolute smoothness of new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* Come visit us this week—for sure.

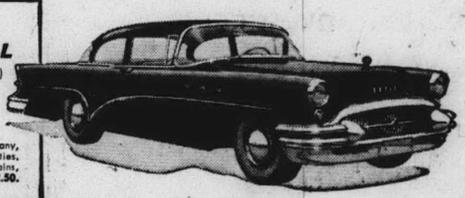

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional extra cost on other Series.

Miss Anna Smith, teacher in the Plymouth schools for more than a quarter of a century, was able to resume her school duties last Monday after an illness of several months at her home in Northville. The children were glad to welcome her back and her many friends in the village are equally glad to welcome her return among them.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smitherman, Mrs. William Smitherman and Mrs. Fitzhugh spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Heene, west of Plymouth.

Miss Venieta Adams of Detroit visited a few days this week with Mrs. S. Everett.

John Moor has purchased the old Rathburn homestead on the Plymouth road of Charles Rathburn, consisting of 80 acres.

A happy surprise was sprung on Louis Ash on Saturday evening last when his many young friends and neighbors dropped in to celebrate his 21st birthday. The evening was spent in skipping the light fantastic by the young people after the strains of Torch's orchestra. At midnight a sumptuous repast was served, of which they had come well supplied with. The merry-makers remained until an early hour in the morning when all departed to their various homes leaving their young friend to ponder over the happy occasion.

Fraser Smith, mail carrier on route 2, was severely kicked by his horse last Friday afternoon as he was unhitching the animal at the barn. Smith claims he does not remember a thing about how it happened. After he had been hurt, he carried the mail to the post office, where he appeared rather dazed, and then went home and was put under a doctor's care for several days. Robert Walker carried the mail on Smith's route and Bert Robinson acted as substitute for Walker.

Fortnighters to Hold "Scottish Fling" Friday

Fortnighters, of the Presbyterian church, will go a wee bit Scotch tomorrow night, Friday, February 11.

The potluck supper planned for 6:30 will feature some authentic Scottish dishes. After supper Mrs. Sam Hudson will show some colored slides taken in Scotland and London, England.

At eight the group will square dance (Lancers and Quadrilles in Britain) to the calling of Jack Redd.

All couples of the church are invited to come join in this Highland Fling. On the committee for this month are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Smith.

Hospital Volunteers Elect Officers for '55

Mrs. Byron E. Champion was elected chairman along with Mrs. William S. McAllister as co-chairman of the Plymouth Birthdays Ladies at the organization's meeting last week.

Other new officers elected for 1955 in the volunteer hospital group were Mrs. Edward B. Gardiner, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ralph Garber as corresponding secretary.

Members met at the home of Mrs. Edward B. Gardiner for the election.

New Air Force Recruiter Here

The Air Force Recruiting service has announced that a change in boundaries has brought Plymouth under the jurisdiction of the Dearborn recruiting office instead of the Ann Arbor office.

Sergeant Charles Bowman, recently assigned to the Dearborn office, said that he will visit Plymouth city hall to talk with young men and women about enlistments each Monday and Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Dearborn office covers all of Western Wayne county, Sergeant Bowman said. Sergeant Archie Adams was the former Air Force recruiter here while the Ann Arbor office covered this area.

Location of the Dearborn office is at 4211 Maple, the American Legion hall.

How far are we from Atoms for Peace?

Here's an up-to-the-minute progress report:

Just what is the potential of Atoms for Peace? Well, a three-pound rod of uranium, no larger than a small flashlight, offers a power-potential equivalent to 60 carloads (4,000 tons) of coal. Of course, it takes a great deal of special equipment to produce and deliver this power. But three pounds of uranium can furnish, for a period of eight hours, enough electric power for all of the three-and-a-half millions of people—all of the homes, stores, farms and factories—served by Detroit Edison in Southeastern Michigan.

heat exchangers and other devices for handling liquid metals at extremely high temperatures. As the simplified diagram below shows, the problem is to bring heat energy from a reactor, or atomic furnace, to the turbine generator. Enough equipment will be installed to test the liquid metal section of the plant.

● As another key part of this program, the Associates authorized development of a special boiler, or steam generator, to operate under nuclear heat conditions.

● To accomplish these major advances in their long-range program, the Associates will spend $3,815,000 in 1955, and all are sharing the costs.

The project is a striking example of the effectiveness of industrial teamwork in doing things that have never been done before on this scale.

Member companies of the Atomic Power Development Associates hasten results by pooling the special talents of their personnel. Company-owned research and development facilities also have been made available.

All 33 Associates share the same kind of vision—the vision of a better world.

Several years of work still lie ahead, yet, thanks to this kind of cooperation, hope for atomic energy for peace is a dream that can come true in our time!

LAST WEEK, in Detroit, representatives of the 33 member companies of the Atomic Power Development Associates announced their research and development program for 1955.

The submarine U.S.S. Nautilus has recently demonstrated that atomic electric power can be produced. Commercially, however, the cost is too high. The resources of the Associates, therefore, are mobilized to discover an economically practical way to harness uranium, a source of energy that can benefit mankind for thousands of years. These 1955 plans are important forward steps toward the goal of using atomic energy to produce electric power.

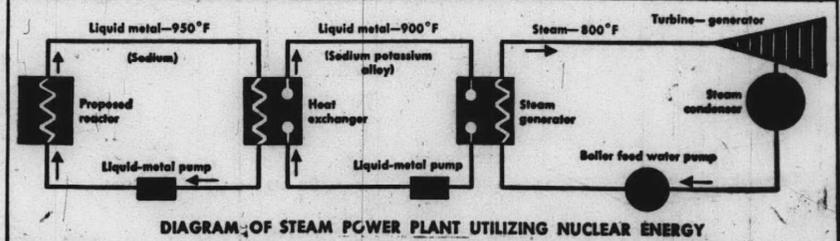

● Major target in the 1955 program is to build a whole new system of pumps, piping,

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

A prime example of how deer can wreck range foods by over-eating can be found on Big Summer Island in northern Lake Michigan.

The island is about three square miles in size and the state owns two-thirds of this acreage. Recently, all timber on the state-owned portion was sold for about $10,000 and will be cut during the next five years.

"We wanted to sell the timber to promote new undergrowth," says James W. Buerge, one of the foresters who surveyed the island. "The whole area is eaten out. There doesn't seem to be a twig of deer food anywhere."

Formerly, deer were on the island in considerable numbers, but Buerge says that during the survey, he and his companion workers saw only one deer and a few tracks.

"I doubt if six deer are left on the whole island," he adds. By cutting present standing aspen and birch the island will be opened so new tree and ground growths can develop.

Deer on the island will come back, game workers say, only when range foods are available in large enough quantity to support them. It is expected to be a long process.

Hunters and trappers bountied 3715 coyotes, 23 wolves and 627 bobcats during 1954 for a total of $67,200 in bounty fees.

In the previous year, woodsmen bountied 3186 coyotes, 27 wolves and 58 bobcats. Bounties were paid on bobcats only during January of 1953.

The 1954 total did not include payments for bobcats bountied through local sheriffs.

A U. S. Coast Guard helicopter will carry a state conservation department worker on a survey of deer and range conditions on North Manitou Island in northern Lake Michigan early this week.

It will be the first operational flight under a new cooperative arrangement between the state and federal services. An earlier test flight showed that the craft can prove an extremely useful tool in wildlife inventory work.

The helicopters based at Traverse City are often used for routine training flights and the Coast Guard has agreed to carry wildlife workers on some of these flights.

State workers know about how many deer are on the 22-square mile island. The proposed flight will be made to see how many of these deer an observer can see and will help show how effective the helicopter is in surveying deer numbers and conditions.

Bears probably do not sleep very soundly in the winter — at least Al Harger knows of one that doesn't.

Harger is a biologist at the conservation department's Houghton Lake experiment station.

Late last week he was hunting for bobcats on a study project northeast of Houghton Lake when he saw something black lying on top of an old muskrat house.

Harger and his unleashed dog approached and got within 10 feet before anything happened.

Then the bear woke up. Harger decided he was close enough and the bear decided he was too close. The bear lit out through the brush and Harger's dog took up the chase, all of which pretty much ended the bobcat hunt. The dog returned home about noon the next day.

Harger said the bear probably weighed about 200 pounds. Last year, he added, he found a cub bear perched on the same rat house.

Snorkel tubes and flipper fins have come to the aid of science.

Fish researchers are exploring the possibilities of extensive use of underwater swimming gear in gathering data about Michigan fishes.

Some work was done during the summer of 1954 using underwater equipment. One state survey party studied 17 lakes during 1954 and 14 of these had water clear enough for use of the diving gear.

Yellow perch, suckers and minnows seemed to enjoy watching the underwater swimmers at work. Often, fish swam within a few feet of the research workers.

The workers were able to make spot checks of lake bottoms to a depth of 30 feet, but most of the work was done in shallower water.

The workers were able to study bottom soils, extent of vegetation and the amount of cover available to fish at various depths.

Some minnow types were hard to seine during the work. The swimmers poked along under water until schools of the minnows were located. Then they herded them into shallow water for capture.

New Jersey and Wisconsin researchers also report using "skin diving" techniques to gather fishery information.

State deeryard investigators report seeing a few deer already in wobbly condition in the northern lower peninsula.

Continued cold weather and snows a foot or more in depth have plagued the animals in the last few weeks.

Only Car at its Price*... So Smart! So Big! So Powerful!

*You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars!

Whatever you want most in a car—beauty, size or performance—you get it in extra measure in a Pontiac. In fact, when you choose Pontiac the decision comes very easily—because Pontiac alone, at its price, gives you everything!

For example, take Pontiac's distinctive smartness. Certainly there is no question on this point. Pontiac is the one car that stands apart from all the others.

If it's size and big-car sure-footedness you want—Pontiac's your car! Pontiac's long wheelbase—124 inches in the Star Chief, shown here, and 122 inches in the 860 and 870 series—is the plus wheelbase that provides the roominess, the comfort, the satisfying road-hugging security that only a big car can supply.

As for performance—once you get behind the wheel you have all the proof you need that Pontiac is way ahead in this department, too. Pontiac's spectacular performance starts with the most modern engine of all—the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8—specifically designed for Pontiac's all-new chassis to give you balanced performance. That means smooth, eager getaway in traffic; power to spare on the open road; and even more of Pontiac's traditional economy, dependability and long life.

All this adds up to a wonderful car and—with Pontiac's remarkably low price tag—a very wonderful buy. Come in soon and talk dollars and cents. If you're in the market for any new car, you'll discover you can easily afford all the pride and pleasure of a big, powerful, luxury-loaded Pontiac.

Go Modern... Go Pontiac WITH THE SENSATIONAL STRATO-STREAK V-8

DeHoCo Plane Spotters May Get Steam Heat After 2½ Years On Job

Since July 14, 1952, watchful eyes have been scanning skies over the Detroit House of Correction 24 hours a day. The watchers are part of a network of ground observers working in conjunction with the Air Force and Civil Defense program.

But the small observation tower which raises some 30 feet above the roof of the DeHoCo garage is a pretty chilly place to sit these cold nights, and the watchers — all of whom are inmates — are asking that something be done to keep the place warmer.

An electric heater attempts to keep up with the heating job, but this is not only ineffective, it is dangerous for such a small place, according to Edward B. Gardner, superintendent of the Detroit prison.

Looking into the matter last week was Leo F. Flowers, director of the township Civil Defense unit; Vaughn Smith, township CD police chief; and Ernest Henry, Plymouth CD director.

They recommended that steam heat be installed by running a pipe to the tower from the garage. The tower should also be insulated, they added.

But who will pay the $100 for the heating installation? The city of Detroit and the Wayne County Civil Defense office will have to work that out.

Thirty-two inmates man the ground observation tower. They are all volunteers and are mostly "long term" men. "They do this work over and above their usual daily jobs," Superintendent Gardner explains.

Two watchers work at a time and serve a two-hour stretch. The midnight to 6 a.m. shift, however, is served by one team.

A telephone in the tower is connected with the office switchboard. When an unidentified plane flies in the vicinity, the watcher is connected with the filter center in Grand Rapids.

The Air Force has given certificates of commendation to the observation post for their unending job.

AAA Conference
L. B. Rice, Automobile Club of Michigan's Plymouth division manager, Monday attended the annual statewide conference of Auto Club officials on 1955 Michigan motoring and touring activities. Assistants who accompanied him were J. A. Coford, Jr. and William A. Wood.

UNIDENTIFIED PLANES flying in the vicinity of the Detroit House of Correction are immediately reported to the filter center in Grand Rapids. Here, an inmate places a call from the observation tower which is in need of steam heat.

Talented young residents of the area are urged to try out for the event. Last date for auditioning entries will be Monday, February 14. The following Plymouthites are making arrangements for the show:

One man's wickedness may easily become all men's cure.

LOOKOUT POST of the DeHoCo ground observer corps is this building atop the prison garage. Two inmates at a time man the observation station. Shown on an inspection tour is Edward J. Gollinger, 604 South Harvey street. He has been a DeHoCo employee 25 years and is now hallmaster.

A laugh to be joyous, must flow from a joyous heart, for without kindness there can be no rue joy.

December Upsets 1954 Estimates Of Traffic Toll

Final Michigan traffic death and injury figures for 1954 will be higher than previously estimated because of a jump in the December toll, according to the State Police Monthly report.

There were 187 persons killed and 5,480 injured in 19,861 accidents in December.

Yet the estimated 1954 death rate of 6.6 per 100 million miles of travel will be the lowest on record in Michigan despite an all time high in motor vehicle registrations and travel, the provisional figures show.

The death toll in December was the highest for that month since 1948 and 12 more than the 175 killed in this period a year ago. Injuries were up 315 and accidents rose 1,112.

The provisional 1954 record shows 1,765 deaths, 55,300 injuries and 182,850 reported accidents. Compared with the final 1953 figures of 1,905 killed, 56,892 injured and 181,075 accidents, 1954 deaths and injuries decreased by 140 and 1,592, respectively, while accidents increased by 1,775.

This is a drop of seven per cent in deaths and three in injuries, while accidents gained one per cent.

Estimated mileage for the first eleven months of 1954, the latest information available, totaled nearly 24.8 billion, an increase of three per cent over 24 for the same period in 1953. The death rate was 6.4, a decrease of 11 per cent from 7.2.

People who put off their work from day to day are always the ones who tell you how very busy they are.

A laugh is worth a hundred groans in any market.

—Charles Lamb.

Promise of Longer, Colder Days Is Bright Prospect for February

Longer and colder days are in store for us during February, according to Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh of the University of Michigan's astronomy department.

A "lag of seasons" causes the lowest temperatures of the year to be delayed for several weeks after the date of the winter solstice when the sun reaches the most southerly point in its apparent yearly journey around the earth, says Professor Losh.

"The atmosphere acts like a blanket and holds back some of the heat that falls on its surface and for some time after December 22 the northern hemisphere is losing more heat night than can be replaced effectively by the sun during the shorter-than-average days," she adds.

The days will lengthen to 11 hours by the end of the month with the most noticeable effect a one-and-a-half hour longer afternoon, caused by the fact that the sun we set our watches by is a fictitious one assumed to move at a regular rate. The real sun moves erratically and although our watches say noon it has not yet reached the meridian, which puts our Standard Time about an hour-and-a-half ahead of the sun and gives us the longer afternoon, Professor Losh explains.

Among the planets Mars remains a first magnitude object in the southwestern sky for about four hours after sunset. On February 26, the crescent moon will pass about four degrees above the planet.

Saturn will be rising around midnight and can be located in the constellation of Libra, with no other really bright objects near it. On February 14 the last quarter moon will pass about six degrees south of it which should aid in identifying it, according to Professor Losh.

The new constellation of the month is Leo, the Lion, rising at about sunset. It can be located by following the "pointer" stars of the Big Dipper in the direction opposite from the North Star. Six stars in the form of a reversed question mark and three stars to the east, or left, of this question mark form the Lion.

The brightest star in Leo is Regulus, marking the dot of the question mark. It is blue-white in color and ranks 12th in order of brightness of all the stars, sending out one hundred times as much light as our Sun.

"Its distance is about 84 light years away so if it were suddenly extinguished tonight we wouldn't know about it until sometime in the middle of the 21st century," says Professor Losh.

DI' JOHNNY PILGRIM SEZ

I see that you sat for your portrait, JP, said Mother last Thursday, looking up with a cold eye from our copy of The Plymouth Mail. She'd beat me to the mailbox as usual and was taking advantage of the old unwritten law that possession is 9 points of same, although she knew darn well that my fingers was itching to get hold of the paper and see if they ran my article.

Yup, I posed, I said. Did they run a cut? Does it do me justice? Yes... No, she said. They put a megaphone on top of your head instead of in front of your mouth. On the other hand, since you're always talking through your hat, maybe it was fitting at that. There's a buckle on it. Probably a hint for you to buckle down and go to work and amount to something. But you won't. He put a white collar on ye too. They better hire another artist. You haven't worn a boiled shirt since we moved to Plymouth. It makes me ashamed.

Now Mother (I call Mrs. Pilgrim "Mother" and she calls me JP for short) you let me see that picture... Thanks... Haw, haw, naw! Some collar, ain't it? Pretty cute get-up, methinks. Put me right in the white-collar class where I always belonged, but nobody was smart enough to realize it but the editor of The Mail. In ne he discovered a diamond in the rough and put it in its proper setting. Now he will reap the benefit. You wait & see.

Tommyrot, sez she. What surprises me is he didn't disclaim responsibility for your "rantings & ravings" as he so accurately described your brainstorms in his apology for running 'em. Reap the benefit my eye! Sow the wind & reap the whirlwind. People will be stopping their paper.

Now you listen here, you, sez I, you let me tell you something. You lay off. Don't you remember the articles I sent in last summer and they ran them and a lady wrote a letter to The Editor and he printed it and how she said he agreed with everything I said?

(I was getting kind of hot under the collar by this time and after all a person can take only so much of anything from one whom one might expect would take a more respectful attitude toward a person who has just been made a regular member of the 4th Estate as we newspaper men are pleased to call ourselves, though I never knew why, and I determined to take the heifer by the horns and throw her for a loop.)

Look at the big headlines on the front page, I continued. "Mail Wins Highest Honors In State Competition," it says here. "First Place." "Highest Award for General Excellence." One would think you might be somewhat proud of your distinguished husband for being responsible for such outstanding achievement instead of scoffing and throwing aspersions & cold water on his honest efforts that are acclaimed, outside of our narrow family circle, by one & all.

Bosh & fiddlesticks, she popped. The award was awarded week before last, before your column appeared. You old fraud you! Who do you think you are kidding?

All right, smartypants, I snorted. Please read what the Publisher says, right here, sez: (and I stuck The Mail under her nose so she could read it herself): "wholehearted cooperation... employees of The Mail... their interest and skill... they justly deserve the award... each new day dawns in a burst of glory more brilliant than the last"... etc., etc. & etc.

John, she broke in, with a worried look in her deep blue eyes, are you well? You better go lay down a spell. It was the 52 issues BEFORE last week that won the award. You missed the glory boat. Next year they'll get the booby prize if there is one, if the judges judge the paper by your blather. Now you go lay down. So I did.

It is a total waste of time to argue with a woman who is set in her way. Right or wrong they will have the last word. I could have squelched, her good, though, if I had told her what a fellow in the barbershop told me. He said he heard it was nip & tuck between The Alma Record and The Mail for the top award, and that it was the pieces I wrote that our Plymouth paper printed last summer that the other paper did not have the opportunity to run that was the feather on the scale that turned the tide in favor of The Mail and brought home the bacon. Modesty, however, forbids that I should ever allude to this, especially to Mother, who would accuse me of being a bragging old coot and likely in my cups.

Next week, if I think of it, I shall write a serious piece about what I deem to be the most dangerous traffic hazard within the limits of our fair city, and cite 500 reasons for its immediate correction.

The preacher didn't call on us yet to leave helpful hints, but I will pass this home-made one along to you free gratis:

Announce Changes In Adult Curriculum

Another class in upholstery has been added to the Adult Education program, Director Herbert Woolweaver announced this week.

The new class started Monday and will be held each Monday night from 7 to 9 p.m. at the high school. Instructor for both the Monday night and the regularly scheduled Thursday night upholstery class is Barney Ploshnick of Detroit.

Woolweaver added that there is a possibility of opening up a class in Business English due to a growing list of applicants. Originally listed on the adult curriculum, the course was previously dropped due to insufficient interest.

If taught, the class will be held Thursdays from 7 to 9 with Larry Masse of General Motors as instructor. The course is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The 17th District association, of which the Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 is a member, has won the Ray Kelly Trophy. This trophy is awarded by the Department to the District showing the highest percentage of quota as of December 31. The District, in achieving this accomplishment for the third time will retain the trophy permanently.

Seventeenth District business meeting will be on Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. at Redford-Detroit Legion hall on Beech road. Passage-Gayde Auxiliary meeting is at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday evening, February 10, at the Memorial Home.

There will be a meeting of the 3rd Zone Executive Advisory committee at the Flint American Legion Home in Flint on February 18. Oscar Hammond, who is permanent chairman of the committee and Robert Wilson, secretary of the committee, are planning to attend this meeting.

Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 and the Auxiliary salute the Boy Scouts of America on their 45th Anniversary being observed from February 6 to February 12. At the first national convention of the American Legion, held in Minneapolis, Minnesota in 1919, 4,000 Posts sponsor Boy Scout units and the statements made by the commanders of these Posts, attest to the value of this program to the community.

Organized guidance and cooperation did not take place, however, until 1922, when Scouting was included in the activities of the Americanism Commission. Since the end of World War II, there has been a splendid increase in the number of Units sponsored by Legion Posts throughout America. At the present nearly 4,000 Posts sponsor Boy Scout units and the statements made by the commanders of these Posts, attest to the value of this program to the community.
