

'What's My Name' Quiz Game Begins

Sharpen your wits and climb aboard. The "picture quiz express" is leaving the presses with this edition of The Mail and will take you on a six-weeks' fun-packed contest featuring the pictures of more than 100 present day Plymouth businessmen.

Anyone can enter and there's absolutely nothing to buy. Sponsored by First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Detroit, complete contest rules are explained in an advertisement on page four of section three.

Approximately 17 pictures will be published by The Mail during each of the six weeks of the contest. Clues as to the identity of the well-known men will accompany the pictures. Contestants have two weeks to submit each set of answers to the First Federal branch on Penniman avenue. Original prints will also be displayed for your examination in the lobby of the First Federal office.

Although the pictures are all of men who have been active in Plymouth business throughout their lives, the pictures are not of recent vintage. In fact, in most cases the snapshots are very old indeed!

For those of you who may still be wondering about the identity of the handsome gentleman whose picture appeared on page one of last week's Mail, turn to page five of section three for the answer.

Church Women Plan To Organize Council

Plans are underway for the formation of a Plymouth Council of United Church Women, with its first organizational meeting to be held on Tuesday, May 17, at Hillside Inn.

Initiated by women's groups in the various Plymouth churches, the proposed organization will have as its voting body six delegates from each of the participating churches. The meeting on May 17 will be largely for the adoption of the constitution and election of officers.

The Plymouth council will be entirely autonomous and participation in activities sponsored by the state organization, United Church Women of Michigan, will be voluntary.

In addition to World Day of Prayer, which has been held here for several years, the local council will sponsor a World Community Day Service in November for the gathering of clothing for world relief, and a Fellowship Day in May.

Chairman of the planning group for the new council is Mrs. Dean F. Saxton. Miss Helen Beavers, Mrs. Miller Ross and Mrs. Albert Dayton have served on the committee drafting the constitution.

A panel discussion on United Church Women's activities was held recently at a general meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church. Mrs. W. C. Gemperline was moderator and planned the program as a "tele-cast." Representatives from the following churches participated in the discussion:

Presbyterian, Mrs. Leslie Daniels; Baptist, Mrs. Dunbar Davis; Episcopal, Mrs. Dean Saxton; Nazarene, Mrs. Virgil Moore; and Methodist, Mrs. Fred Thomas. Covering the special fields of service during the question and answer period were Mrs. Jess Hines, Mrs. Horace Thatcher and Mrs. M. B. Brillhart.

In connection with plans for the new organization, the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal church met last Wednesday with Mrs. William Bender, member of the State Board of United Council of Church Women. The guest speaker outlined the program of activities undertaken by the Michigan Council of Church Women.

Lions Ask White Cane Recognition

White Cane Week is being observed in Plymouth and throughout the state this week, it was announced by Les Wilson, president of the Plymouth Lions club, and Frank Weller, White Cane chairman.

Local schools are assisting in this educational effort by distributing printed leaflets which have been prepared and furnished by Lions clubs of Michigan in cooperation with the local club.

Thousands of white canes have been furnished free of charge to blind people all over the state. It is the aim and plan of the Lions to provide every blind person with a white cane—the symbol of blindness—as a measure of protection for him.

State legislation in 1936 included an ordinance granting the right of way to a person carrying the white cane. The purpose of White Cane Week is, primarily, an educational one.

"We are working toward that day," Weller said, "when all our citizens will know and recognize the white cane as the symbol of blindness, and will give understanding and courteous assistance to bearers of the white cane whenever such opportunities present themselves."

Mrs. Louise C. Brisbois of Flint, wife of the late Dr. Harold C. Brisbois and former Plymouth resident, has recently purchased the property of Wayne Smith, 8830 Rocker, it was announced this week.

The Smiths are moving to Hillman, Michigan in the near future, following which Mrs. Brisbois will take up residence here.

'55 Mom Contest Closes Monday

Hey kids! Time's running out for you to enter your moms in the 1955 Plymouth Mother-of-the-year contest and maybe win a $25 savings bond. Deadline on the big contest is noon this Monday, May 2, so hurry and fill out those entry blanks and hand them in.

But read the rules before you rush out. You must be under 17 years of age and a resident of the Plymouth area. You may obtain the entry blanks at several of the local businesses and on these you write in 25 words or less why you think your mother should be chosen Plymouth's Mother-of-the-year for 1955.

Then mail or take your entry to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, 455 South Main street, no later than noon of this coming Monday. See page four, section four of this issue for further details.

Some of the many prizes that go to the select mother from 21 various local stores are a leather handbag, a pair of shoes, chrom-spun bedspread, $10 gift certificate, colored mixing bowl set and a Mother's Day dinner.

Voters Approve School Annexing

The Canton Center and Truesdell school districts in Canton township have voted almost unanimously to consolidate with the Plymouth Township School district.

Voters in the Truesdell district went to the polls Monday and those in the Canton Center district voted Tuesday. The Truesdell vote was 113 favoring annexation and three opposed. In Canton Center district, the issue passed 39 to 0.

It is expected that other details of the annexations will be completed by July 1 when a new fiscal year begins for the Plymouth district.

Truesdell school, located on Haggerty road, has two rooms. The Canton Center school on Canton Center road is Wayne county's last one-room school. Both have students in grades one through eight. High school students in the districts are already attending Plymouth high school on tuition. Annexation will bring about 140 more youngsters into the Plymouth system. It is expected that the two schools will be kept in operation.

Police Chief Greenlee Submits Resignation

Quits Due to Health Reasons; Exam Determines Successor

Chief of Police Carl Greenlee, head of Plymouth's police force since 1951, has submitted his resignation to the city manager. Ill health is given as his reason.

The resignation will become effective as soon as a replacement is found, City Manager Albert Glassford stated.

Rail Crossing Crash Takes Life Of Wayne Driver

A 30-year-old Wayne man was killed instantly last Saturday night when his car struck a slow-moving freight train at the C & O crossing on Joy road.

He was LaVerne A. O'Neil, 3570 Barber, who was traveling alone when his vehicle struck the 18th car of the train. Sheriff's detectives said that O'Neil was driving westward at 10:26 p.m. when the mishap occurred. The train had just started eastward after standing on a siding.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Long, Jr., 38120 Joy road, were waiting for the train on the other side of the tracks when they saw the O'Neil car approach the train without a let-up in speed. The car was carried down the tracks and fell into a ditch.

Not until the caboose passed the accident scene did anyone on the train know of the crash. The conductor stopped the train immediately. Fire broke out in the car and the Plymouth township fire department was called. O'Neil who was laying across the seat, was dead when the ambulance arrived.

This is the second death at the crossing since last fall when Gerald Ross of Plymouth died as the result of a crash on November 26. There are no flashers or gates at the crossing.

To Reopen Talks On Teacher Pay

The board of education and the finance committee of the Plymouth Education association are expected to get together at some future date to reopen the discussion about salary increases for teachers.

Faculty members voted at a special meeting Monday afternoon to ask the board to reconsider their offer of a $200 across-the-board pay hike. This is about half the amount asked by the teachers association.

In their original request, the group asked a $400 a year increase for teachers with a bachelor's degree and up to $750 a year for those with master degrees who had reached the maximum on the salary schedule. The request was made to equalize the Plymouth salary schedule with those in surrounding communities.

Meanwhile, the association will install new officers at their regular meeting next Tuesday at Bird school. Retiring President Robert Smith will be replaced by Earl Gibson, Allen sixth grade teacher. Also taking office will be Gerald Elston, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Fritz, re-elected secretary; Mrs. Jane Mack, corresponding secretary; and Urey Arnold, treasurer.

Greenlee is the last member of the police force who worked when the department had but four men. In the depression days of the 1930's, Greenlee recalls, there were many more burglaries than there are now. The four men worked almost 12-hour shifts and usually traveled alone wherever they went.

Greenlee and his fellow officers were often involved in fights. Drunks with a brawling nature seemed more common in the 30's and facing a crowd of them alone was not an enjoyable assignment. A drunk who succumbed to Greenlee's arrest by force one Saturday night rounded up a gang of 11 men the next Saturday night when Greenlee was called to the same establishment. "It was the only time I've ever had to draw my gun," the chief recalled. Sometimes a friend of the officer helped him in a fracas.

Guild Presents Free Production Tomorrow Night

The Plymouth Theatre Guild this week released the names of members appearing in the cast of the one-act plays scheduled for production tomorrow night, April 29, at 8:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Both shows are being presented, admission free, in appreciation for past support of Guild productions by the community and patrons of the organization.

Appearing on stage in the lead role of "The Hitchhiker," suspense drama by Lucille Fletcher, is Douglas Havershaw. Other members of the cast are Jeanine Tidwell, Adele Miller, Lois Mitchell, Angel Lind, Warren Worth, Lee Mahoney and Russell Wallace.

Back-stage cast includes Director and Producer John H. Lodge with J. H. Wilcox as sound technician. Stage manager is Kenneth Bolton. Lights and curtains for the production will be handled by William McKinnon.

For the Charles George comedy, "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," Lillian Dickinson will play "Juliette," central figure in the plot. Portraying other Shakespearean ladies will be Eleanor McCutcheon, Saxie Holstein, Angel Lind, Joyce Rood and Betty Gondok.

Director and production manager for the comedy is Dorothy Jean Smith. Heloise Campbell is stage manager with Henrietta Burch as her assistant manager.

Musical selections planned as entertainment during the intermission will be furnished by Jim Mitchell, pianist, and Violinist Cathy Creel. Both are members of the Plymouth Theatre guild.

Two Dog Clinic Dates Set in City

It's time for city dog owners to start thinking about purchasing 1955 licenses. Chief of Police Carl Greenlee stated this week as dates for the spring clinics were set.

Clinics at which dog owners can have their dogs both vaccinated for rabies and tagged will be held on successive Saturdays, May 21 and 28.

The deadline for obtaining the new licenses is June 1.

Both Saturday clinics will be held at the city hall and will be from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.

There are about 600 dogs in Plymouth, according to estimates based on previous registrations. If dog owners do not take their dogs to the clinic, rabies inoculations must be administered by a veterinarian elsewhere and proof presented when the license is purchased.

Fees will remain the same as last year. The inoculation costs $2 at the clinic and the license itself costs $1 for male and $3 for female dogs.

The chief also issued a reminder that Plymouth ordinances forbid dogs to run at-large. Police receive complaints almost daily about dogs running loose.

Band Schedules Concert May 6

Plymouth high school band under the direction of Laurence Livingston will present its annual formal Graduation Concert at 8 p.m. on Friday, May 6.

Held in the school auditorium, there will be no admission charge but a collection will be taken to purchase new band uniforms.

Featured on the program will be: "Folk Song Suite" by Vaughn Williams; "First Swedish Rhapsody" by Eric Leidzen; "Little Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin; "Colorama" by Rose and Bennett; a medley of Strauss numbers; selections from the "Student Prince" by Romberg and the "Orpheus Overture" by Offenbach.

Ray Miller, professor and assistant band director at Wayne university, will be the guest conductor. He will direct the band in his own composition, "Romero Road" and a Sousa march, "High School Cadets."

On the popular side, will be "Elephants' Tango" and "Melody of Love."

IT'S TOUGH TO SMILE when someone is poking a needle into your arm, but Dale Tonkovich, second grade pupil at Allen school, bravely tries to smile through the ordeal. Mrs. James Spigarelli, a P.T.A. mother, comforted each youngster as Dr. Charles Westover administered the Salk polio shots Monday morning. One of Dale's classmates, Gail Vincent is next in line.

'Operation Ouch' Runs Smoothly

Everything went "as scheduled" when the first Salk polio vaccine shots were given in the Plymouth schools Monday.

Hardly a whimper was heard from the first and second graders who lined up in orderly fashion and submitted to the shots. Only a few youngsters did not receive the free shots because of parental refusal to give consent.

Allen elementary school was the first target. Ninety-seven boys and girls took their inoculations in 25 minutes. A bus load of Hough school first and second grade pupils then arrived and ten minutes later were back on the bus.

Mrs. Mary Carless, school nurse, headed a group of local nurses who assisted with the shots. Bartlett, Canton Center, Truesdell and Smith school children received their shots Monday afternoon.

Friday's schedule will be Starkweather in the morning and Lutheran and Catholic parochial and Bird children at Bird school in the afternoon.

The schedule was arranged last week on a tentative basis when it was unknown when the vaccine would arrive here. The second inoculation will be given the same children in about four weeks.

Tears came to the eyes of only a few youngsters Monday as they stepped up to get their shots. Some tried hard to smile but most possessed the unusual combination of being both scared and brave. After it was all over with, a piece of candy was given each child.

"It didn't hurt a bit," a number of them announced. "It just tickled, that's all," another said. "Couldn't feel a thing," declared still another.

None, however, were seen back in line asking for seconds.

Recount Fails To Alter Results

A vote recount in Canton township asked by defeated candidates for supervisor and clerk has not altered the results of the April 4 election.

Robert Waldecker, Democratic candidate for supervisor, and Miss Henrietta Burch, Republican candidate for clerk, had petitioned for a recount after losing by narrow margins. Waldecker called for a recount two years ago when he lost by only one vote.

Both Waldecker and Miss Burch lost votes as a result of the recount. The Democratic candidate for supervisor lost by 25 votes in the original count. The recount put him behind Supervisor Louis Stein by 37 votes. The final was 544 to 507.

Miss Burch had 29 votes less than incumbent candidate Andrew Smith in the first count. Her recount placed her 39 votes behind. The final vote was 534 to 485.

It was reported that 56 absentee ballots were declared illegal when it was found that the clerk's wife, Mrs. Andrew Smith, had issued the ballots using her husband's initials. She had followed this practice ever since her husband had been in office for over 20 years, she told the election board.

V.F.W. to Hold Public Installation

The Veterans of Foreign Wars has announced that a public installation of newly-elected officers of the post and auxiliary will be held Sunday, May 1, at 2 p.m. in the V.F.W. hall on Lilley road.

Heading the list of officers to be installed are William Norman, new commander of the post, together with Ray Danol, its vice commander, and Auxiliary officers headed by Loretta Young, president, and Helen Bowring, vice president.

The installation service for the post will be conducted by Goldie Slater, past commander of the V.F.W. Department of Michigan. Ethel Gagner, past president of the V.F.W. Auxiliary, Department of Michigan, and national banner bearer, will preside over the Auxiliary installation. Refreshments will be served following the ceremony.

Township Hall Interior Now Being Remodeled

Changes are taking place at Plymouth township hall these days in order to make room for expanding departments.

The room which is now used by the township clerk and treasurer is being enlarged to make way for an extra desk. Office space is also being constructed for the building department which currently has no office of its own. A tile floor covering has been placed over the concrete floor.

The additional office space is possible due to the recent moving of the auto license bureau to a new location. The township hall parking lot was recently expanded and lighting provided.

Oil Field of Northville Turning into Gas Pool

The Northville oil field located northwest of here may be turning into a natural gas pool, according to reports of the Michigan Department of Conservation.

The main producing well, the LeMaster No. 1, has produced about 165,000 barrels of oil since its discovery in January 1954, but recently has been producing more gas with each barrel of oil.

A public hearing is slated in Lansing this week to discuss changing restrictions so more gas can be produced.

Captain Charles A. Groth of the Plymouth fire department and Lieutenant Robert Perry of Livonia fire department are attending a seminar at Purdue university. The seminar deals with the detection of arson.

Replacing Trees Where Possible

Trees which have been taken out to make way for the widening of Main street will be replaced by the city where the city has a right-of-way. City Manager Albert Glassford stated this week.

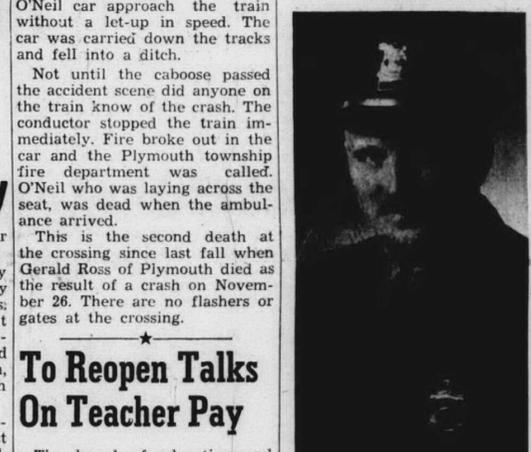

Many trees have been removed from Penniman avenue to Mill street during the past week. Glassford said that where some right-of-way remains from the high school northward, the city will plant trees.

From city hall to Perriman avenue there will be no place for the city to plant trees, he added, but property owners will be encouraged to plant trees on their properties to regain the beauty of the once tree-lined street.

Meanwhile, other parts of the city are being given the "beautification" treatment by the park department. They have just completed the planting of 165 maple trees in various parts of the city. In commemoration of the centennial of Michigan State college, a white pine has been planted in the park at Starkweather and Mill.

The DDT spraying program to check the spread of Dutch elm disease is to be completed this week. All elms on city-owned property and those on private property where a spraying request was made have been sprayed with DDT.

Symphony Hold Annual Meeting

Members of the Plymouth Symphony Society will celebrate the conclusion of the ninth season of the local symphony orchestra next Monday evening at the Plymouth high school auditorium. The occasion will be the annual meeting, a pot-luck affair with informal entertainment from members of the orchestra.

Symphony Board President Gerald Fischer will give a brief business report and tell the members that, financially, it has been the society's most successful season. Four new board members will also be elected. The dinner will start at 6:30 p.m.

Planning your work is good, but doing it is much better.

Carole M. Crane Weds Resident of Livonia

Seventy guests attended the wedding ceremony of Carole M. Crane, 42018 Firwood street, Plymouth, and Charles M. Stuart, 9411 Lamont street, Livonia, on Saturday evening, April 23rd, in the First Methodist church of Plymouth.

The double ring ceremony before a flower-decked altar was read by the Reverend Melborne I. Johnson at seven o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marian Crane of Plymouth, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stuart of Livonia.

The bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white lace with long sleeves and a scalloped neckline for the ceremony. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held in place by a sequined tiara. She carried a white prayer book and flower arrangement of carnations and stephanotis. Carole was given in marriage by her uncle, Melvin Potes of Manitou Beach, Michigan.

Mrs. Hubert Stuart of Livonia, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of pale blue nylon. The bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Crane, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Donald Bennett of Garden City, sister of the groom. Miss Crane wore a ballerina length gown of aqua and Mrs. Bennett's gown was pale pink.

The attendants carried colonial bouquets of red roses and carnations and wore head bands of flowers that matched their dresses.

Hubert Stuart of Livonia, brother of the groom, assisted as best man. Ushers were Donald Bennett of Garden City, brother-in-law of the groom; and Michael Potes of Manitou Beach, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Crane chose a dress of gray and white striped crepe and blue accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Stuart, mother of the groom, wore a dress of navy blue crepe with navy and white accessories. Both ladies wore corsages of pink camellias.

Guests from Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, Garden City, Detroit, Manitou Beach, Mich., Ypsilanti, and Los Altos, California attended the wedding.

A reception at the church for the guests followed the ceremony. Wedding cake, ice cream, and coffee were served.

The bride selected a dress of navy crepe with white accessories for traveling. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart will reside in Livonia after a brief honeymoon. Both attended Plymouth high school.

Announce Results Of PTA Elections

Elections were held Tuesday night at meetings of the Parent Teachers association in four of Plymouth's grade schools. Results were as follows:

Heading the Starkweather P.T.A. as president is Mrs. Kenneth Failing. Other officers are Robert Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Melville Troyer, second vice president; Mrs. James Popp, secretary; and John Rudlaff, treasurer.

New officers for the Allen school P.T.A. are Gene Overholt, president; Leonard Cole, vice president; Mrs. Paul Benson, second vice president; Mrs. Edwin Ash, secretary; and Mrs. Donald Allen, treasurer.

Bird P.T.A. will be headed by Albert Fey, president; Mrs. John Gaffield, first vice president; Mrs. A. E. VanOrnum, second vice president; Ray Hulce, third vice president; Mrs. C. F. Logan, secretary; and Julius Eder, treasurer.

Smith school P.T.A. re-elected Donald Ward as president. Other officers are Harry Larson, vice president; Mrs. Willis McCabe, secretary; and Mrs. Arnold Pylkas, treasurer.

Annual Carnival At Bird School Slated Saturday

Carnival time is here once more as Bird school's big round-up, an annual fund-raising event for improvements in the Bird grade school system, is scheduled to be held this Saturday evening from six to 10 p.m. This year the emphasis is on fun and enjoyment with the money-raising a secondary purpose of the carnival.

Sponsored by the Bird school Parent-Teacher association, the affair will be staged in the many different rooms of the Bird school building. Each room will house its individual portion of the night's activities.

Theme of the evening is "The Wild Frontier" which evolves around the idea of the current Davey Crockett fad. Included in the night of fun is a cake-walk, pie-walk, auction of various articles brought in, fortune-telling, fish-pond and a chuck-wagon style dinner.

General chairmen of the event are Mr. and Mrs. William Lyons, while heading the publicity campaign are Mr. and Mrs. David Wood. Tickets to each individual activity may be purchased at the door.

Chairman of the individual activities are: Fun house, Mr. and Mrs. William Fehlig; cowboy room, Mr. and Mrs. Elridge Raven; game room, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Daniel; cake walk, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Breed; movie, Malcolm Pierce and Earl Lucas; fish pond, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulce;

Gun room, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Luelling; pie walk, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Light; check room, Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Tanger; archery, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson; handcraft, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson; candy, Mr. and Mrs. James Wellman; dressing room for men's show, Albert Fey; Strong man, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Engle; auction, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts; chuck wagon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webber; packard, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ginkard; popcorn, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wernet; tickets, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickman; side show, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown; fortune teller, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glassford; dramatics, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fey.

Four-Year-Old Makes Second TV Appearance

With only eight voice lessons behind her, four-year-old Karen McAllister, of Plymouth made her first appearance as a singer on TV last week and so impressed the program sponsors that she was asked to re-appear a second time.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. McAllister of 42429 Lakeland, Karen made her first appearance on the April 19 "Auntie Dee" show over WXYZ-TV. So impressed with the youngster was Phil Brest, J., Auntie Dee's husband and talent scout for the show, that Karen was asked to reappear on their Sunday, April 24, show.

On the Sunday program Karen sang with an orchestra for the first time as she appeared as guest star with "The Four Coins," popular recording artists. Talent featured on the Sunday programs are selected from the best acts appearing on the daily programs. The local four-year-old will make future appearances on the "Auntie Dee" program, dates for which have not been announced.

Political Science Grads Hear Glassford Speak

City Manager Albert Glassford was the guest speaker Monday afternoon before a group of graduate students in the University of Michigan Department of Political Science.

Numerous aspects of city operation were discussed by the manager including the importance of regional and local planning. He also told about the city's proposed sanitary land fill, the 10-year plan accomplishments, maintenance costs, public works and the history of the planning commission.

Among his observations, Glassford noted that it usually takes three to five years to plan for any sizeable project and that a manager "can't be too impatient."

Larry Livingston, Barney Kot, Karl Hargrave, Bob Smith, Stanley St. Charles, Herbert Woolweaver, Robert Bullard and Captain Kenneth Fisher of the Police department. Club members, assisted by Junior Optimists and Plymouth Junior Police, judged over 100 bicycles during the event, held Saturday on the baseball diamond back of the high school.

GRAND PRIZE WINNER of this brand new Western Flyer at Saturday's Bicycle Rodeo sponsored by the Optimist club was 14-year-old Arthur Perry of 703 Karmada. Admiring the bike with its new owner is Raymond Viau, chairman of Optimist Bicycle Safety Week in Plymouth, April 18-23.

Livonia Store Names Local Prize Winners

Two Plymouth residents have been named prize winners during the current tenth anniversary celebration at Jahns Hardware, Five Mile and Farmington roads. Among the winners of the $25 in merchandise of their own selection, awarded to winners each night of the ten-day event, were R. E. Crosby of 11704 Morgan and Leonard L. Bills of 36615 Amrhein for Saturday and Tuesday, respectively.

Other winners in the event which started last Thursday and continues through Saturday, April 30, were Livonia residents William A. Kelley, 33905 Lamoine; Ray Johnson, 15046 Fairfield and Bernhard Ewald of 15558 Doris.

The $25 merchandise prize is awarded at 9 p.m. each evening of the anniversary celebration. Other highlights include gifts to children and adult visitors and anniversary specials on items at the store.

THIS SCENE taken at last summer's Girl Scout day camp may be just a pleasant memory with the Girl Scout Council now facing the problem of finding a suitable location for the 150 Scouts and Brownies anticipating out-door camping this summer. Unavailable this year is the Joy and Ridge road property, site of the encampment above. Since the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge holds only 40 girls and has no property for out-door camping, the Council is hoping some resident will come up with a solution to the knotty problem.

Agent to Demonstrate Grafting Technique

Frameworking, quickest way to change an apple tree from one variety to another, will be demonstrated by Karl D. Bailey, district horticultural agent, at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 30, at Foreman Brothers orchard, 50650

West Seven Mile road, Northville. Originated at Michigan State college, this grafting technique has had large scale commercial application in Tasmania and Nova Scotia, according to the Wayne County Cooperative Extension service, sponsors of the event.

Quick return to full production can be expected with some yield the first year after grafting, about 50 per cent the second year and a return to almost normal production by the third year. Bailey will use for his frameworking demonstration a 22-year-old Rea Spy.

Auxiliary Plans Dinner

The Women's Auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal church will sponsor a dinner for the men of the church on Monday, May 2. The event will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the parish hall.

The people are a many-headed beast. —Alexander Pope.

Girl Scout Council Seeks Outdoor Camp Location

With registration forms for this summer's Girl Scout day camp now in the hands of over 260 Plymouth Scouts and Brownies anticipating a week of fun in the out-of-doors come July and August, the problem facing the local Girl Scout Council is where to take them?

According to Council President Mrs. Eber Readman, attendance at the day camp has more than tripled within the last three years. She stated that "where most Councils are registering from one-tenth to one-fourth their total number of eligible Scouts and Brownies, our camp last year totaled one-half of all registered girls."

"Our problem this year as in past years is where to hold our camp. We have used Riverside park, which though beautiful and nearby has many unfavorable conditions for a large group of children and cannot be used for overnight camping."

"The ideal site would be property of our own which could be developed for all types of Scout camping, but which we cannot afford to buy. The next best, and what we hope will happen, would be the loaning of several acres of property which we could be reasonably sure of using for more than one year. It is necessary that it be away from the main highway for privacy and safety, that there be a wooded area or at least several shade trees and, while not a necessity, a stream is a valuable asset."

Camp counselors are adults, one for every eight campers, and are trained in all phases of outdoor living, fire safety and prevention. Each camper is covered by accident insurance and arrangements can be made with the Girl Scout council for signing an agreement releasing the property owner from any responsibility in case of accident.

Anyone having a farm or acreage available for a day camp accommodating approximately 150 girls has been asked to contact Mrs. Sheldon Baker, camp director, or Camp Co-ordinator Mrs. William Edgar.

OBITUARY

Kenneth Taylor

Kenneth Taylor, newly-born son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Taylor of 566 Karmada, passed away Wednesday, April 20, in Garden City hospital. He had lived but four-and-a-half hours.

Besides the parents, he is survived by two sisters, Linda and Carolyn Taylor. Mrs. Taylor is the former Dorothy Knupp.

The Reverend E. T. Hadwin conducted the service which was held Thursday, April 21, at 2 p.m. in the Schrader Funeral home. Interment was made at Riverside cemetery.

FINDS RING LOST 27 YEARS

Kannapolis, N.C. — Twenty-seven years ago Mrs. Banks Austen's wedding ring slipped off while she was washing dishes, at her home in nearby Harrisburg. Later the Austen's moved here but Mrs. Austen never forgot about her ring. Recently, the people who now live in the house at Harrisburg found the ring, as good as new, near a well in the yard, and returned it to her.

MEN IN SERVICE

Norman A. Mahrley

Norman A. Mahrley Pipe Fitter 3rd Class U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Mahrley of Livonia, Michigan, who served aboard the aircraft carrier, U.S.S. Hornet, was discharged from service on April 21 from San Diego, California and arrived home on April 22nd.

While aboard the Hornet, he completed an eight-month world cruise which began at Norfolk, Virginia, on May 11, 1954 and ended at San Diego, California, on December 14, 1954.

The cruise included stops at Lisbon, Portugal; Naples, Italy; passed through the Suez Canal and proceeded to Colombo, Ceylon and Singapore before joining the U. S. First Fleet late in June. Operating from Manila Bay Philippine Islands; the Hornet also visited Yokosuka, Japan and Hong Kong, British Crown Colony, China.

Enroute to the United States from Japan the Hornet stopped briefly at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii.

Church Fund Gains $600 from Dinner

More than $600 will go into the church fund as the result of last Thursday's Black Angus roast beef dinner sponsored by the men of St. John's Episcopal church, announced Robert Willoughby, spokesman for the group.

Although the exact proceeds from ticket sales had not been determined, Willoughby estimated that some 425 persons attended the event. The dinner was held from 5:30 p.m. in the parish hall.

Announces Completion Of Store Remodeling

Completion of remodeling plans at D. Galin and Son Appliances, 349 Penniman avenue, was announced this week by Owner Dave Galin.

The local store now sports a new television salon and kitchen display area. Other changes are the laying of new vinyl-tile flooring and the installation of an air-conditioning system.

The remodeling project was started shortly after the first of the year, with renovations completed last week.

Girl Scout News

Officers elected for Brownie troop 23 at their April 18 meeting are Judy Haefner, chairman; Nancy Kunkel, treasurer; Rosemary Steele, secretary; Irene Markham, publicity; Barbara Schiller, first aid; and Ruth Steele, sunshine.

On Wednesday April 13, the troop with their leaders, Mrs. James Steele and Mrs. George Kunkel, spent the day at the Scout cabin. They enjoyed a weenie roast, a hike through the park and games.

SOCIAL NOTES Tiny Pine Planted By Bird School

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Basnaw are the proud parents of a daughter, Renee Jill, born at Mt. Carmel hospital, Detroit, on April 17, weighing six pounds one ounce. The Basnaws reside on Parkhurst avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leemon of West Ann Arbor road had as their weekend houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gifford of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Harper of River Rouge were hosts at a dinner on Tuesday April 26, honoring the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Kreimes of Northern avenue, Plymouth. The evening was spent playing cards after which ice cream and cake were served by the hosts.

Bird school children and faculty were busy last Thursday planting a tiny pine tree on the front lawn of their school grounds. The tree was a gift from Michigan State University as a part of the college's centennial celebration.

Following an assembly at which time the pine tree's history and background were explained, the school's population moved outside and watched carefully as the initial spadeful of earth was turned and the pine was planted.

Mrs. Mabel Bloxom's sixth grade room wrote a poem about the pine, which is the state of Michigan's official tree. This is their poem:

OUR MICHIGAN TREE
 What do we plant when we plant this tree?
 We plant some beauty for you to see
 A tree in autumn so green, so bright
 A place where birds can spend the night
 A tree in winter with heaps of snow
 Especially at Christmas, with lights to glow
 A tree in spring, now growing strong
 A tree which hears the robin's song
 A tree in summer with shade so cool
 To welcome you coming back to school
 We plant a pine, a Michigan tree
 We plant all this when we plant our tree

Plymouth Golfers Trounced by Ypsi

Hosting Ypsilanti's golfers in a match that was re-scheduled from an earlier date, the Rock linkers were thoroughly trounced by the visitors as the Ypsi lads whipped the Plymouth quartet by 47 strokes.

The match, over 18 holes on the Plymouth Country Club course Tuesday, April 26, ended with the winners totaling 332 strokes to 379 blows for the outclassed Rocks.

Captain Dave Beegle was low man for the locals as he poked the ball for an 89 total. Beegle hit for a four over par 40 on the first nine, but soared to 49 on the final four in racking up his score. Tom Carmichael, the other returning letterman on the team this year, followed Beegle for low honors among the Rocks with a 90. The remaining pair of Plymouth swingers, Al Kolak and Tom Sawyer, each hit for a nice, round 100.

rounded by a group of Chicago gangsters late one night on North Main street. He had halted a car with a burned-out headlight and before he knew it, five men stood around him with guns in their pockets. Greenlee announced that he just wanted to inform them of the headlight. He then telephoned Detroit and they picked up the men who were identified as hoodlums who were on their way from Chicago to Detroit.

The Plymouth force has now grown to 11 men, besides three women on the switchboard. When there were but four men working around the clock, and no switchboard operators, the police department was often locked up when officers were on the street. A telephone operator would take all calls and transfer them to the five call boxes around the city. Notification lights were turned on when there was a phone call.

Hospital to Hold Open House Sunday In Observance of Mental Health Week

As an annual feature of National Mental Health Week, Northville State Hospital is inviting all residents of this area to attend an open house on Sunday, May 1, between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Tours of the hospital facilities will be conducted by the professional staff, patients and volunteer workers. Exhibits, pictures and literature describing the various phases of the hospital treatment program will be on display and the public will have an opportunity to see what is being done for the mentally ill.

Chairman of the Northville State Hospital Volunteer Service Council, Mrs. Vivian Champion of Plymouth, works closely with the hospital staff on special occasions such as the open house, as well as on day-to-day work performed by the volunteers, who are now serving over a thousand hours a month. Activities range from helping in the pharmacy and information desk, conducting monthly birthday parties, to assisting the hospital Chaplain. The Volunteer Service council is composed of representatives from each of the groups who volunteer at the hospital, and serves in an advisory capacity to provide closer co-operation between all volunteers for better service to patients.

Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of Social Service at Northville State hospital, who co-ordinates all volunteer activities, serves as secretary to the group. Meetings are held every other month, with the next meeting scheduled for May 18th.

Among the organizations belonging to the council is the American Red Cross, Grey Lady Service which has 37 active members including Mrs. Lorraine Barbour, Mrs. Mary Wick, Mrs. Dorothy Yeoman, and Mrs. Sarah Yeoman. The Plymouth Birthday Ladies is a group of 25 women who have "adopted" a building housing 96 women patients. In addition to providing monthly birthday parties for the entire group, the members have assisted patients in garden projects, furnished clothing for patients, enlisted the aid of the A.R.C. Plymouth Motor Service in taking patients for rides, provided allowances for indigent patients with financial help from the local Elks Lodge and arranged for Sunday Evening Vesper services for patients who cannot go to the regular church services in the main building of the hospital.

Members of this group, some of whom completed 3 years of volunteer work are: Mrs. Byron Champion, chairman; and Mrs. W. S. McAllister, co-chairman; Mrs. John McLaren, Mrs. W. S. Bake, Mrs. H. R. Penhale, Mrs. C. C. Wiltse, Mrs. G. Fraleigh, Mrs. C. Shear, Mrs. P. Wiedman, Mrs. A. G. Griffiths, Mrs. E. Scott, Mrs. E. B. Gardiner, Mrs. O. Beyer, Mrs. B. Schroeder, Mrs. F. Millington, Mrs. R. Garber, Mrs. C. Burrows, Mrs. C. Teasel, Mrs. C. Fishbeck, Mrs. C. Schuler, Mrs. E. Myers and Mrs. Albert Pint.

The late Ruth Huston Whipple was an original member of this group and is remembered by patients and staff for her enthusiasm and interest in the hospital program.

Members of the Plymouth Woman's club "adopted" a ward of 33 young women patients in the Intensive Treatment unit of the hospital last fall, with Mrs. Evelyn Brocklehurst as project chairman. Patients enjoy monthly parties, birthday, and numerous "extras" provided by the Women's club.

A daily reminder of the interest in the patients is the ward parade, a present from the club. According to Miss Beverly Rae, the nurse in charge of this ward, "These women have done a terrific job in helping to provide the extras that are so important. We all feel they are a help to us in our work."

Active members are: Chairman Mrs. Brocklehurst, Co-chairman, Mrs. Pearl Lundquist, Mrs. Irene Moore, Mrs. Emma Lorenz, Mrs. Frances Kellogg, Mrs. Cora Springer, Mrs. Ruth West, Mrs. Jean Rice, Mrs. Eleanor Engle, Mrs. Jane Lature, Mrs. Betty Van Ornum, Mrs. Margaret Daniels and Mrs. Helen Garber. Other groups volunteering at the hospital are: The Berkley Woman's club, B'Nai Brith council of Greater Detroit, Brownie Troop No. 1 mothers of Farmington, Farmington-Eight Mile Extension group, Grosse Pointe Unitarian church, Highland Park Woman's club, Livonia Volunteer shoppers, Monica guild, Nardin Park Reformed church of Detroit, Northville State Hospital Volunteer service and the Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae of Greater Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Busha celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in their home on Sheldon road, Sunday, April 17, with relatives attending from Plymouth, Detroit, Montgomery, Utica and Napoleon, Ohio. The Bushas received many lovely gifts and flowers from their hosts of relatives and friends.

No problem of life has ever been solved by dodging facts and running away from the truth.

LETTERBOX

(Ed. Note: The following letter concerns a story written last week telling of two Plymouth youths who were told to join the armed forces or face prosecution.)

2374 Shrewsbury Rd.
Columbus 21, Ohio
April 22, 1955

The Editor
The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Sir:

I am writing in regards to the enclosed article clipped from the April 21st issue of the Plymouth Mail.

I would like to ask the unnamed circuit court judge what gives him the authority to use the armed forces as a place to get rid of society misfits, especially those guilty of breaking and entering.

It must make the parents with draft eligible sons very happy to know that their sons will be entering the service, intentionally contaminated with known criminals. If criminals are given the choice of jail or entering the service, the service can be classified as a prison or a work farm.

Do the parents of men about to enter the service, or the men themselves want this sort of thing to continue?

Please Judge, if it was a minor offense then use proper probation as an out and let the service select its own personnel. Lets keep up the high standards of our armed forces and not degrade the veterans and the men about to enter the service.

I still consider it an honor to have served eleven years in the army, even though some Judge considers it a prison.

Even though we no longer live in Plymouth we are grateful for the Plymouth Mail to keep us posted on Plymouth's activities.

Edgar A. Nash

Dear Sterling

May I take this opportunity to express heart-felt appreciation for the job your paper did during the cancer campaign throughout April.

Publicity is the one vital approach to saving lives: lives of men, women, and children, who might have died through ignorance of cancer's Seven Danger Signals. "Education through Information" is publicity chairman's job in fighting cancer.

Many thanks to your able staff, they too, were very cooperative and understanding.

Sincerely,

Mrs. William Norman

Vandalism Tough On Public Shrubs

Vandalism, a currently deplored national problem, hasn't made things easier for plantings in public places. Malicious destruction, high cost of maintenance and adverse growing conditions have become limiting factors when selecting trees, shrubs and flowers for any type of public planting. The trend is to have landscaping that presents the least problems, often at the cost of beauty and symmetry.

Such is the observation of a tree expert who points out vandalism today is one of the biggest worries. Since expensive plantings are apt to get broken up every year, only the most adequately policed public areas can be graced with blooming trees and shrubs, flowers and gardens.

As a result, the authority predicts there will be more extensive public plantings of shrubby and other common herbs seldom featured on home grounds where more attractive flowering sorts are desirable. Plants that have unusual hardness and, importantly, an inbuilt defense system of thorns are more likely to be featured in public plantings. Adverse conditions of traffic-congested downtown areas make selections of shade trees rather difficult. The London Plane and Norway Maple usually are resorted to because of their ability to thrive under extreme summer heat and sooty conditions.

Many cities do have lovely parks, but these usually are located in the suburbs where traffic is less severe and pride of the citizenry eases the problem of vandalism.

Article Tells of Buildings

Plymouth's Northside fire station and the proposed new public library were the subjects of an article appearing last month in the Michigan Municipal Review.

Drawings of the two buildings appear with the story about the buildings. The $18,500 fire station was completed last year and the rear section of the library was also completed in 1954.

Still to be completed, the article points out, is the front section of the library which will cost an estimated $40,000.

There are usually two sides to every strike—and both of them wrong.

It's WHERE you buy a used car that counts and You can DEPEND on FORD DEALER USED CARS and TRUCKS

It stands to reason a Dealer you can trust sells a used car you can trust. We Ford Dealers are established businessmen. We don't depend upon used car profits to stay in business, and we can price our used cars at rock bottom. Actually it's good business for us to keep prices low. For we have to make room for a constant stream of trade-ins.

Appeals Jail Sentence

An appeal was filed this week by L. T. Bell, 196 South Mill street, after a sentence of 60 days in jail was given him by Judge Nandino Perlongo. He was charged with reckless driving. Bell was released under a $300 bond. He had been found guilty of the same charge about a month ago.

Another case before Judge Perlongo Monday night was that of Alvin White, 40, of Garden City. White was arrested Sunday and placed in jail on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $25, was placed on probation a year.

Blue Heron Prepare to Settle Down As Their "Family Season" Nears

It won't be long until the Great Blue Heron, one of Michigan's largest birds, becomes a "family man" again, according to Harry W. Hann, assistant professor of zoology, at the University of Michigan.

He says the heron usually arrives from the south the latter part of March and goes to a nesting site to repair a previous nest or build a new one. In the Eastern United States nests usually are located in tall trees, commonly in swampy areas. Farther west, the nests may be on the ground, rocks or in bushes.

Nesting sites or heronries, if left undisturbed, will be used year after year and may contain from a few nests up to several hundred.

By the middle of April the female usually has laid from three to five eggs, pale bluish-green in color. After four weeks of incubation, in which both parents take part, the eggs hatch and feeding of the young is begun, the professor states.

At first the young are fed a liquid, regurgitated food, but when they are older they eat frogs, fish and other small animals, which are collected by the parents and regurgitated into the bottom of the nest. Large amounts of food are consumed, and both parents are kept busy furnishing the supply. The young must be fed for two months or more, until they become as large as the parents.

When a parent comes with food there is loud calling and squawking by the young. In a large heronry the noise takes on the form of a continuous uproar, which is kept up 24 hours a day. Finally, the young birds learn to fly and forage for themselves, and by the middle of August the heronries are deserted.

The happiest life is to be found around a contented fireside, where some family lives at peace with itself, its fellowmen and God.

The man who knows it all is as dangerous as the man who knows nothing.

Open Evenings

HUNDREDS OF CUSTOMERS and guests were welcomed last week at the open house of the Plymouth branch and Instalco office of the National Bank of Detroit. Among the guests and bank officers at the open house were those from left, Jack Taylor, assistant vice-president; Mayor Russell Daane; David Galin; John McLucas, general vice-president; and Harry Mohrmann, vice-president.

Eight Attend Regional White House Conference on Education in Detroit

Eight representatives from the Plymouth Township School district were among the 600 Wayne county citizens who attended a regional meeting of the White House Conference on Education held last Friday in Detroit.

Federal aid to education was one of a number of solutions discussed which will be forwarded to a state conference in Lansing on May 18. Recommendations made at the state conference will then be taken to Washington in November for the national parity.

The federal aid recommendation was one of the most concrete to come out of last Friday's meeting, but there were reservations emphasized. Needy schools should receive federal assistance only if student curriculums remain undisturbed by federal controls.

The conference was held at Cody high school. Attending from here were Mrs. Ervin Franklin, Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, Paul Bollinger, Patrick Butler, Harold Fischer, James Sponseller, Nat Sibbold and Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister. The superintendent led one of the 10 discussion groups, "Financing and Organizing School Districts."

Dr. Arthur Rice, editor of "The Nation's Schools" was the afternoon's principal speaker. His topic was "Realistic Issues in American Education."

Also on the afternoon program was Dr. John R. Miles of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. With the aid of slides, Dr. Miles showed graphs and charts which displayed the advantages of education and which states are providing the best education.

John C. Kreger, president of the Wayne County Association of School Boards, showed charts to explain Wayne county's school needs. He pointed out that today there are as many children from 0 to 5 as there were children 5 to 19 years old 10 years ago. There are 13,682 Wayne county children attending school on half-day sessions now, he added. This is 20 per cent more than last year despite new construction.

Two-thirds of Wayne county's children are in classes of over 30 pupils (the recommended maximum). In sub-standard classrooms (basements, non-school buildings, etc) there are 41,400 children. It will cost $193,000,000 to bring Wayne county's schools up to standard, the speaker declared.

Kreger pointed out that some gains have been made in the past few years to help handicapped and gifted children. Of the 51,848 in these two categories, one in three are now being helped.

Despite the wealth in Wayne county, Kreger stated, there are many districts suffering dire financial difficulties. Some of these districts are so-called "bedroom" communities because residents work in one school district but live in another, leaving the residential district without valuable factory evaluations. Of the 121 school districts which are eligible for the recently-voted state school aid, 23 are in Wayne county.

The evening's general session included summary reports on the topic group discussions. Here are some of the recommendations:

Curriculum—more emphasis on moral and spiritual values; federal grant for training teachers for gifted children; more aid for the handicapped child; handicapped and gifted children should be integrated with the normal group; draft status should be clarified for boys so plans can be made; need for more training material.

Dropouts—more counseling and individual attention.

Financing and organization—a need for restudying the finance system; since many districts have exhausted their means of getting more money, lump the tax base of the county.

Recruitment and retaining teachers—improve salaries; parents themselves should encourage sons and daughters to be teachers; raise teaching standards; publicize the advantages of teaching.

Objectives of education—all children should get the same care and affection; there should be recognition of the varying needs of children, never a static; education should keep pace with the community; school people should work more with parents.

Integration with community agencies—facilities of the school should be used by the community the year around; schools should make use of community agencies, businesses and industry; all ages should be served with adult education; greater publicity should be given school affairs; community colleges should be encouraged.

The evening speaker was Dr. Walton E. Cole, pastor of First Congregational church, Detroit. In his inspiring and entertaining address, he termed the public school as "the greatest social invention in America."

The Doty Elementary school Glee club provided music at the evening session. Presiding during the day was Norman O. Stockmeyer of Wayne, county chairman of the White House Conference Planning committee.

Church Observes $100,000,000 Day

April 23 was "One Hundred Million Dollar Day" at the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Church, Elizabeth Street, announced Fred E. Busch, Sabbath school superintendent.

On that day offerings from Sabbath school members throughout the world totaled $100,000,000 since children and adults began giving in this division of the Adventist Church in 1886.

Busch said that all of this sum has been used exclusively through the years for foreign missions expansion. The 98,000,000 mark was reached by Adventists on December 17, 1954, he said. The prediction by the Church's statistical department that April 23 would be the day on which the $100,000,000 mark would be reached was based on the current rate of offerings within the denomination.

When Seventh-day Adventists began giving to missions in 1886 there were only 813 Sabbath schools with 23,362 members in the entire world. It took them 25 years to raise their first million dollars, three years and three months to raise their second million, and since that time there has been an almost constant acceleration in giving.

Last year members of 19,262 Sabbath Schools gave nearly $6,000,000; of this amount the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Sabbath School, although one of the smaller churches in the greater Detroit area, gave $1,430.80 over and above the tithe and church-expense offerings.

"Living is giving and giving is living," Busch said, "and it takes the weekly generous giving of each member to make such a record possible."

Every woman should have a car of her very own!

For shopping

The Rambler costs so little, gets up to 30 miles on a gallon—it's easy on the budget. The Cross Country Rambler, above, was designed for shopping. It's a full-size station wagon for 6, and easy to park in small spaces. Loading the rear deck cuts chores in half.

For the children

The new Rambler is a great all-family car. And it's twice as safe because American Motors' Double Strength Single Unit car construction is actually twice as strong as bodies and frames bolted together. That's important with children in the car.

For social activities

With its smart Pinin Farina lines and decorator interior, your Rambler is as much at home at the swankiest parties as it is in front of a super market. And its exclusive Deep Coil Ride floats you along three times more softly and steadily. This is the "go-anywhere" car that's perfect for Mrs. America.

Who's New in Plymouth

ONE OF THE CITY'S newest employees is Hugh J. McAuley, head of Plymouth's Parks and Forestry department, shown above with Mrs. McAuley at their 8923 Corrine street home. Graduating in March from Michigan State college where he received his degree in nursery and landscape management, McAuley has been directing the city's tree spraying operations against Dutch Elm disease. Married seven months ago, the McAuleys hope to build their own home some day, having the foundation laid and then completing the rest of the work themselves. Both share a common interest in hiking, swimming and outdoor activities.

Hanchetts Feted At Open House

Approximately 50 guests attended an open house Sunday, April 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hanchett of 9700 Newburg road, Livonia in celebration of the couple's 25th wedding anniversary.

Friends and relatives from far and near congratulated the couple and presented them with many lovely gifts. Cake and ice-cream, cookies and coffee were served as refreshments.

That evening a dinner was served at six o'clock to approximately 30 relatives. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanchett and daughter, Donna Kay, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanchett of Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leader of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Beer and sons, Rickie and Roddie, of Birmingham; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Themm of Pontiac.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wendland, Ronald and Patricia Wendland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keehl, Jr. and son, Terry; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keehl, Sr. and daughter, Shirley; Mrs. Ida Beyer, Jervis Wendland and daughter, Wendy, all of Plymouth.

The Hanchett's daughter, Mrs. Thomas Gray, Jr. and her husband, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Hanchett's son, Kenneth, Jr., were also present for the occasion.

Along with the many lovely gifts received that evening, the Hanchetts were presented with a beautiful wedding cake by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanchett of Detroit.

There are people in the world who judge everyone by his bankroll.

Auxiliary to Give Awards to Best Radio, TV Shows

"Golden Mike" awards of the American Legion Auxiliary for 1955 will be decided by nationwide balloting now going forward among Auxiliary members, Mrs. Marie Thompson, president of Passage-Gayde unit of the Auxiliary, announced. The awards will be presented at the Auxiliary's national convention in Miami next October.

"This year Auxiliary members are voting for the best programs in three categories, both on radio and on television," Mrs. Thompson explained. "Three 'Golden Mike' awards will be presented for the best radio programs, and three for the best in television. The three categories on the 1955 ballot are: 1. Best religious program; 2. Best patriotic program; 3. Best all-around family program.

Mrs. Thompson urged local American Legion Auxiliary members to use their ballots and vote for their favorite radio and television programs in these three categories, pointing out that the balloting is designed to encourage the presentation of highest type radio and TV productions.

"Knowing the great influence of radio and television on American life today," said Mrs. Thompson, "we of the American Legion Auxiliary are eager to encourage programs of inspirational character. Through our annual 'Golden Mike' awards, we give recognition to programs which best depict American ideals. The voice of 1,000,000 women speaks through these awards to tell producers and sponsors the type of programs they wish to have coming into their homes."

The Hough Extension group met at the home of Mrs. Robert Soth on Warren road, Monday, April 25. Plans for the coming programs and election of officers for the coming year were made.

Mrs. Dean F. Saxton was a recent winner for an entry of a photograph of Mrs. Clara Mooney in the Crowley Day Exhibit sponsored by the Federation of Women's clubs.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

At our regular business meeting, Tuesday, April 19, all chairmen presented their annual final resume's of their year's activities, and President Marie Norman conducted her last meeting of the year. Rehabilitation Chairman Geraldine Olson reported that a total of $420 had been donated to national charities. Membership installed 29 new members during the year. Cancer contributed a total of $307 to the Cancer fund along with cutting cancer pads once a week, each girl receiving credit for the hours she worked. Publicity stated there had been published over 750 inches of publicity, 20 pictures and a total of 65 separate articles concerning our auxiliary's projects. Youth activities ended up the year by presenting awards to participants in the Poster Contest on "Civil Defense and What it Means to Me." Hospital's biggest project for the year was the presentation of pajamas to the veterans at Maybury Sanitarium at Christmas-time. Each chairman wishes to express her thanks to all who cooperated with her and congratulates the new chairman and pledges full participation during the ensuing year.

The new delegates to the Department Encampment on June 16, 17, 18, 19 are the following members: Marie Norman, who will act as page to Department President Virginia Bartel, Grace Burley and Lucinda Archer. Alternates are: Gertrude Danol, Bernice Kopsenski, Helen Bowring and Marion Dickie. It was also announced that Bettie Neale will be the other alternate color bearer.

Our heartfelt congratulations to Marilyn and Jim Wiltzie who are the parents of a new baby boy!

Important auxiliary dates to remember: April 28—Newly elected President's Planning conference. All chairmen are asked to attend. Loretta Young's home at 3 p.m. April 29—Rehearsal practice at the Hall at 8 p.m. for all Post and Auxiliary officers. May 1-2 p.m. Annual Installation. All new and old officers are urged to be present or call your president and commander if you are not able to attend. May 15—Regular 4th District Rally. Registration starts at 1 p.m. Transportation will be provided to all who plan on attending to earn their points and present their vote.

Our Rummage Sale is over and Chairman Geraldine Olson would like to thank all those who contributed rummage, all the girls who worked during the sale and all the customers who visited us. This was the last big event under the present leaders and we are proud to end it with such a successful one!

Eagle's Club Schedules Spaghetti Meal Sunday

In honor of their ninth anniversary, the Eagle's club will hold a spaghetti dinner this Sunday at the V.F.W. hall 433 Plymouth avenue in Northville. Dinner is slated to be served from 1 to 5 p.m. with all you can eat being the theme.

Also included on the program is dancing, a floor show and additional refreshments. The Eagle's club extended an invitation to everyone.

Grange Cleanings

We had a nice Grange meeting last Thursday night and we hope we shall have the same next Thursday night. The picture, "America the Beautiful," was true to name and was very beautiful to see. We have so much to be proud of in this country of ours, so much of thrilling interest and historic value that it really does not seem necessary to go abroad for scenery. But, of course, the Old World scenery is altogether different and interesting too.

Remember that we are expected to go up to Ray and Stella Mettetal's for our Lily club, a change in date has been made so take note of that. We are going on Saturday evening of May 7th and those who are driving will assemble at the Grange hall as near 6 o'clock as it is possible for them to do so. Bring your own dishes and a dish to pass for the pot-luck supper. It is a nice ride up there if it is good weather so here's hoping. Those needing transportation call Mrs. John Oldenburg-201-R and she will arrange for you.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby have returned from their vacation trip to California and other Western Places. Had a wonderful time.

Another important date to remember is the Rummage Sale, and Bake Sale on Friday, May 20 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Articles for the rummage sale should be in the Grange hall by Thursday, May 19, if possible and the baked goods must be there by 10 a.m. on Friday. The committee for the Rummage is as follows: Margaret Groth, Ethel Grammel, Anna Chappel and Mary Fillmore. For the Bake Sale: Anna Nash, Mollie Tracy, Louise Hutton, Milly Rianas, Ina Culver, Mrs. Robert Fenton and Mrs. Perry Krumm. You may contact any one of them for information.

Dollars and sense lay the foundations for big fortunes.

Day Hurls No Hitter, Strikes Out 17, As Rocks Blank Trenton in Opener

If there is a better pitcher in the Suburban 6 League than Dick Day, Plymouth's fire-balling southpaw, you would have a hard time convincing the Trenton ball-players of the fact. In the first League game for both schools, Day steamed past the hapless Trojans on the strength of a beautiful no hit shutout.

His teammates counted two runs in the seven inning contest but one was all Day needed as he completely overpowered the bewildered visitors. The final score of last Friday's tilt between two of the teams that are expected to put up a strong showing for the League title listed Plymouth: 2 runs, 6 hits, and no errors; Trenton: no runs, no hits, 2 errors.

As if a no-hitter in his first start of the year wasn't enough, Day really put on a tremendous show as he set 17 of the 25 batters he faced down on strikes. Four walks prevented the Plymouth senior from a perfect game as he had every man in the Trenton line up blinking at his fast one and swinging wildly at the fine assortment of curves, drops, and knuckle balls he served up to keep the Trojans honest.

In his third Varsity year, Dick captains this year's diamond squad after being named most valuable player last season. During the previous two seasons, he has been a constant winner, turning in many fine stints, but this was his first Varsity no-hitter. His 17 strikeouts fell short of the Plymouth record, however. Five years ago Dave Reitzel fanned 19 to set the mark.

Leading the attack on the Trojan hurler, John Agnew blasted out a pair of hits in three trips to the plate, driving in the final run with his second poke. In addition to Agnew's brace of hits, Hank Bonga, Jack Carter, Dick Day and Paul Cummings blasted out hits.

If the Rocks had known of the brilliant pitching job Day was going to turn in, they could have quit batting after the first inning. After Trenton had gone down in order in the top of the first, Hank Bonga led off for Plymouth with a single. Bonga gained second base on Danny Clifford's sacrifice, bringing Jack Carter to the plate. The classy Plymouth shortstop poked the third pitch into center field to drive Bonga across with the only run Day needed.

The box score of the Plymouth line-up:

Bonga, 1b	AB	H	R
Clifford, 2b	3	1	1
Carter, ss	2	0	0
Day, p	3	1	0
Middleton, cf	3	0	0
Calhoun, 3b	2	0	1
Cummings, rf	3	1	0
Agnew, c	3	2	0

Practical jokes and pranksters are still very much part of professional baseball, although in recent years there hasn't been so much nonsense. The players are too intent on making the team.

I know of a humorous incident that occurred several years ago, however, when Goose Goslin, Jo White and Gee Walker (remember them?) went turkey hunting. A day before the season on our feathered friends opened, JoJo and the Goose bought a turkey and clothes line and went into deep bush about three miles from camp, where they tied the bird to a tree.

The next morning they guided Walker in the general direction of the turkey, then disappeared. Sure enough, hearing the gobble, the excited Gerry walked and crawled through mud, mud and briars to come within shooting distance.

Gee triumphantly banded away. Then, with a smile of success, he approached the turkey only to find attached to the tied-up carcass a note that said: "Nice shooting, Gerry."

Late On Field

I'd guess that the oldest prank in baseball is tying into a hard knot the baseball stockings of a player arriving late. This, of course, makes him even later getting onto the field and sometimes puts him in the doghouse with the manager.

A variation of this gag was pulled on first base coach Schoolboy Rowe last year. Schoolboy wore some flashy yellow socks that he seemed to admire a lot. So a couple of players washed them and kept them in a dryer until they had shrunk to the size of baby socks.

What the pranksters didn't know, however, was that Schoolboy had 11 more pairs just like them.

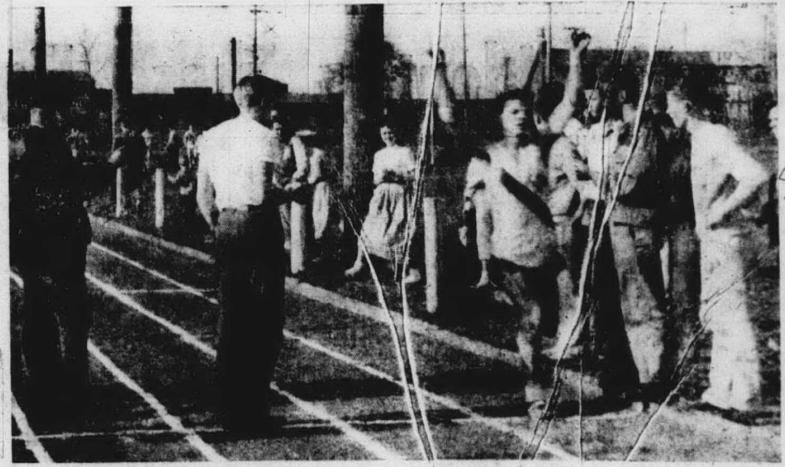

Popular Coach

Ball players play practical jokes usually on fellows they like. Thus, because Rowe is popular, the former Tiger pitching great is the butt of more pranks than others on the club.

Take the time last summer when his wife had just got into Detroit and Schoolboy was hurrying to dress and meet her after a game. There was just one snag. Someone had run a lock through the loops of his trousers so that he couldn't put them on.

After a lot of hearty laughter, young pitcher Bob Miller came up with a key to unlock them. But it wasn't Miller who had pulled the gag, and Schoolboy to this day wonders who it was. Ol' Diz knows but he's not telling.

Later, when the Tigers were in Cleveland to close out the season, Rowe arrived in the clubhouse to find that his baseball shoes had been thoroughly nailed to the floor. It was one day that Schoolboy didn't coach the Hickory and Horsehide sport.

THROWING HIS ARMS high in the air, Plymouth's victorious miler Bob Danol breaks the string in last Thursday's dual meet between the local thinclads and the Bentley Bulldogs. Danol's winning time in the distance run was a snappy 4:54.0. Despite five first places in the match, the Rocks were defeated 64½-44½ by the Bulldogs' powerful team. At left assistant track mentor Conrad Moisis checks the clocking on the race.

Swimmers Honor Jim Zukosky At Parent-Sponsored Team Banquet

Officially, the 1954-55 swimming season for the Plymouth tankers ended in the final week of March when the Rocks closed out a highly successful year by copping third place in the State AAU meet.

But the crowning touch didn't come until last Saturday when the varsity and junior varsity tankers were feted at a banquet sponsored by the parents of the boys. The affair was the first of its kind for the swimming team, following the pattern set by the football squads of the past three years.

Along with the presentations of the awards to the boys, Charlie Ketterer, acting as toastmaster for the banquet, introduced each swimmer and his parents to the rest of the audience. Before the program was turned over to Gus Stager, guest speaker from the University of Michigan's top-notch swimming team, Coach John McFall announced the Most Valuable Player award for the best swimmer.

Jim Zukosky, a senior in his second year of varsity competition, was elected by his mates for the honor. Then Captain Chuck McKenna introduced Bill Brandell, Captain-elect for the 55-56 season.

When the program was turned over to Stager, the former Michigan swimming captain who returned this past year to coach the Wolverine tankers, the youthful mentor discussed the part the parents can play in the development of a swimmer and what the swimmer himself must do.

Then the man who led Fordson to the State Class A championship in 1952, 53, and 54, showed films of the workouts his Michigan natators take, plus another on diving, before closing the program.

Approximately 75 parents and boys were present to handle the meal prepared for them by Mr. Beegle, Mr. Brandell, Mr. McKenna, Mr. Conrad, and Mr. Wright, fathers of members of the varsity squad.

Grade School Softball Starts with Three Tilt

Grade school softball players from the Plymouth system got their league off to its 1955 start last Monday as the six teams participated in three tilts. Starkweather played Catholic, Smith battled Allen and Bird went against Lutheran day schools.

In addition to the games earlier this week, tonight the six squads go against each other in the second round of the current year. Each ball club will play in ten games over a month and a half period to determine a grade school league champion. The victorious school will receive a trophy for its efforts.

Managers of the schools are Mac Pierce at Bird, Leonard Budnick at Catholic, Dick Scharf at Lutheran, Jerry Elston at Smith, Bill Foster at Starkweather and Earl Gibson at Allen. Supervisor of the league is Earl Lucas. Handling the umpiring end of the games will be Ken Kisabeth, Wally Dzurus and Bob Danol.

Rocks' Sports Schedule

Thursday, April 28-Track (Trenton at Plymouth); Tennis (Plymouth at Belleville); Friday, April 29 - Baseball (Plymouth at Redford Union); Monday, May 2-Tennis (Plymouth at Northville); Golf (Allen Park at Plymouth); Tuesday, May 3-Baseball (Bentley at Plymouth); Wednesday, May 4-Golf (Plymouth at Bentley); Thursday, May 5-Track (Allen Park at Plymouth); Tennis (Bentley at Plymouth); Baseball (Plymouth at Belleville); J. V. Baseball (Belleville at Plymouth).

Powerful Bentley Thinclads Take Plymouth in Stride

Dropping its second meet of the season, the Rock track team bowed to Livonia Bentley's powerful Bulldogs last Thursday by a 64½-44½ count.

This was the first meet of the season on the Plymouth oval, but the visitors put a damper on the initial showing in front of the local fans by running off with six individual firsts and both relays to build up the 20-point margin. The Rocks were able to garner five firsts in the battle.

Bob Danol, Coach Keith Baghman's fine miler, won the event for the second time in two starts. In the opener against Redford Union, Danol covered the distance in 5:03.7, but in his latest effort the Plymouth distance man lowered his winning time to 4:54.0. Danol also tied for second in the pole vault to bring his total to 7 points.

The top point getter for the Rocks was Russ Mecklenburg, Plymouth's versatile senior. Russ, after being nudged out of first place in the 100-yd. dash, came back in the 220 to finish with a tremendous kick to merit a blue ribbon.

In the last event of the meet, Vince Flager, Bentley's fine quarter miler and broad jumper, sneaked by Mecklenburg for first place in the broad jump. After Flager had registered a jump of 20' 5½", Mecklenburg, on his final effort, leaped 20' 5" to just barely fall short of his second top spot of the meet. As it was, he totaled 11 counters to pace both teams.

Jerry Swain, Plymouth captain of last year, was the meet's only double winner, taking both the hurdle events. From his twin firsts, Jerry netted 10 points to place behind Mecklenburg in total points.

Ernie Baxter topped the Bulldogs with 10½ points on the strength of winning the 100, placing second in the 220, and running a leg of Bentley's winning relay team.

Along with Swain's pair of firsts, and Danol and Mecklenburg's single efforts, Tom Ferguson spun the Rocks were able to notch as he took the high jump at 5' 4". When Paul Cummings and Virgil Norgrove copped second and third in the same event, it gave Coach Baughman's thinclads their first slam of the season.

Still looking for their first win of the season, the Rocks play host to Trenton today at 4:00 on the Plymouth track.

The totals of the Plymouth vs. Livonia-Bentley match: 1) 120 yd. high hurdles-1 Swain (P), 2 Bagnell (B), 3 Gulbranson (B), winning time: 17:0 (2) Medley relay-1 Bentley, 2 Plymouth, time: 2:41.9; 3) 100 yd. dash-1 Baxter (B), 2 Mecklenburg (P), 3 Busch (B), time: 10.6; 4) Mile-1 Danol (P), 2 Day (B), 3 Smith (P), time: 4:54; 5) 440 yd. run-1 Busch (B), 2 Runkle (B), 3 Walasky (P), time: 56.0; 6) 180 yd. low hurdles-1 Swain (P), 2 Gulbranson (B), 3 Bagnell (B), time: 22:0; 7) 220 yd. dash-1 Mecklenburg (P), 2 Baxter (B), 3 Tate (B), time: 24.3; 8) 880 yd. run-1 Buckhave (B), 2 Ferguson (P), 3 Hepler (B), time: 2:09; 9) 880 sprint relay-1 Bentley, 2 Plymouth, time: 1:41.2; 10) Pole vault-1 Leurch (B), 2 tie-Danol (P) and Jewell (P), height: 9' 3"; 11) High jump-1 Ferguson (P), Cummings (P), 3 Norgrove (P), height: 5'3"; 12) Shot put-1 Grote (B), 2 Tate (B), 3 Baxter (B), distance: 38' 8"; 13) Broad jump-1 Flager (B), 2 Mecklenburg (P), 3 tie-Conrad (P) and Tate (B), distance: 20'5½".

The lawyer was attempting to discredit a witness. "You say," he challenged, "that you came to the city in search of work. I put it to you that there was another, a stronger, motive that brought you here."

"There was," said the witness blandly, "A locomotive."

A man was running along the street, shouting at the top of his voice, "No! No! Certainly not!"

A policeman stopped him and said, "Here, you! What's the idea?"

"It's all right, officer," was the reply. "I'm a 'yes' man on a holiday."

Trout Fishermen To Jam Streams As Season Opens

An estimated 210,000 trout fishermen are expected to crowd Michigan streams and lakes this Saturday, April 30, which is opening day of the 1955 general trout season.

By that date, conservation department fisheries workers will have released 250,000 keper-sized brook, brown and rainbow trout to tempt anglers.

Unlike opening day on other species of fish, trout season draws anglers to brooks, tiny streams and rivers and lakes both large and small. Fishing will be general throughout the state and many will find as much success on southern waters as will those who travel farther north.

Much of the success of the opener depends, of course, on weather conditions. At present, streams are well past spring flood stages and generally throughout the state are reported settled and clear. Sudden storms before the opener could alter this condition and make fishing tougher.

The Fish Law Digest, available wherever the angler buys his license and trout stamp, contains up-to-date regulations, both local and general.

Former Plymouth Athlete Cops First in Gym Meet

Jerry Allen, former star athlete at Plymouth high school, recently captured first place in the Michigan AAU gymnastics meet at Michigan State University. As first contestant of the day in the event, Jerry scored 180 points out of a possible 200 for his win.

A 1948 graduate of PHS, Jerry presently teaches physical education in Mt. Pleasant during the school week, he lives at 44881 Ann Arbor road. An all-round athlete at Plymouth, Jerry held down starting positions on both basketball and baseball squads, but would be best remembered as a driving left half-back on the strong grid elevens of the '46-'48 era.

Two Inning Rally Enough for J.V.'s

In a slaughter that started out to be a baseball game but ended up as a farce, the Plymouth J.V. baseball squad blasted Trenton all over the park as Coach Charlie Ketterer's charges rolled up the fantastic total of 21 runs in two innings to cause the Trojan coach to concede the game with the score standing at 21-0.

During the pair of innings that were played, the junior Rocks banded out 12 hits and were issued nine walks to aid the way to the sky-high total of runs. Danny Christenson led the Plymouth attack on a trio of Trojan hurlers as he collected three safeties and a walk in four trips to the plate. Dave DeCoster banded out a pair of hits and John Thomas, Biff Tait, Bob Cloar, Jim Dzurus, Gary Minard, Bob Jenkins, Harvey Wells and Wayne Jordhal each got a single safety.

The only home run of the contest came off the bat of Harvey Wells, as he poked a long drive to left center field. Jenkins, who was the winning pitcher, blasted out a triple and Biff Tait poked a two-bagger for the only extra base knocks of the game.

Tomorrow afternoon Belleville's Junior Varsity invades the Plymouth diamond to furnish the opposition for the Rocks' third tilt.

Local Recreation Softball Program Scheduled to Begin Early in June

Although tentative plans call for the first week in June as the starting date of the local recreation softball program, teams and sponsors are already being organized by program director John Sandmann, who is in charge of the softball slate this year.

Thus far four teams in both the oldtimer and open leagues have been taken under the fold, explained Sandmann last week. Recreation department director Herb Woolweaver at the same time issued a call for more sponsors in both loops and wondered why the many industries in Plymouth and the near-by areas have failed to put in their calls.

The foursome of ball clubs presently entered in the men's "B" oldtimer's league, which is open to players 30 years and over, consists of Wall Wire, Daisys Manufacturing, Beglinger Oldsmobile and Northville V.F.W. There are still vacancies for four more squads in this league, which is prepared to handle a total of eight teams.

The "A" men's open league also has a quartet of teams presently signed with room for three more clubs, said Sandmann. Those entered to date are Beglinger Oldsmobile, coached by Doug Egloff; Cavalcade bar, headed by Phil Barnes; Evans managed by Herb Little, sr.; and Peanut's Place with Ron Farrell directing.

The playing schedule will match the "A" league teams against each other on Monday and Thursday afternoons, while "B" league squads will do battle Tuesday and/or Wednesday evenings, depending on the number of teams. For further information or to enter a team or even sponsor a ball club call John Sandmann at the high school, phone 895.

Rock Net Squad Bows to Trenton

Playing host to Trenton's powerful netmen last Friday, April 22, Coach John McFall's tennis team fell victim to the Trojans in the initial match of the season for the Rocks. Plymouth could gain but a single victory as the visitors slugged their way to a 6-1 triumph.

The lone match that the Rocks copped to avert a shutout was won by Art Losse, playing number 4 singles. In the other three singles matches, Jim Zukosky, playing number 1, Bob Bateman, number 2, and Doug Lock, in the number 3 spot, all fell victim to the Trojan racketmen.

The trio of doubles teams fielded by Coach McFall all dropped their sets too, to bring the score to its final 6-1 count. Jerry Steele and Bob Kerneritz played number 1, Lee Hubert and Jim Gibson played number 2, and Dave Bowen and Bill Brandell teamed up in the number 3 spot. All three duets fell to the Trojan pairs.

Tellville for the Rocks travel to Belleville for their second match of the season, looking for win number 1. The match will be held at 4:00 on the Tiger's courts.

Hapless Helldiver Has to Have Help After Wide and Waterless Waddling

A befuddled helldiver, who didn't know his swamp from a slick street, was found waddling around north Lansing early this week, looking for a friend.

This pied-billed grebe, as the books call him, turned up on dry land, mad as a hatter and ready to fight.

He and his brothers gained the name helldiver probably because they spend most of their time diving like that. They are water birds strictly, and have such short wings they can't take off dry land. On water, everything operates fine; they make a long run, wave both wings frantically and after awhile get into the air. But on dry land, such a ballet isn't possible.

For this bird, the conservation department was summoned. At lunchtime, two biologists went to study the situation and found the subject cornered by curious on-lookers.

After a brief conference, during which stubby wings flurried and one biologist hand was nipped, the bird succumbed to science, obviously doubting it would ever find a friend.

But this darkest hour soon turned to light. The biologists drove to the nearby Grand River and chucked their study project

Hardball League Includes 31 Mines From Plymouth

Plymouth will enter a trio of baseball teams in the coming 1955 recreation hardball league, competition in which is slated to start about June 13. Only two of the three team sponsors have been decided to date, reports recreation director Herb Woolweaver.

Although players for all three ball clubs are gathered together, only Davis & Lent and the local Elks club have offered to sponsor teams. The third diamond nine will compete regardless of the boost of a sponsoring unit, but Woolweaver expressed a hope last week that a third sponsor would turn up.

The three teams will do battle in respective loops, which consist of the "F" league for players 14 years and under, the "E" league for boys 16 and under and the "D" league for those 18 and under. In the "D" league possible city entries besides Plymouth are Wayne, Romulus, Livonia, Inkster, Belleville and Redford township.

Other than the local entries in both the "E" and "F" loops, Northville and Clarenceville will both have a team in service, while the Livonia area will produce four more squads. These are from the Newburg, Cooper, Rosedale Gardens and Livonia Center schools. For further information or to enter or sponsor a team call Herb Woolweaver at 895.

Store to Sponsor Series of Exhibits

Work of local artists and craftsmen as well as those from nearby areas will be displayed before the public eye at a series of exhibits to be sponsored by the Early American Shop, 621 South Main street, over the first three weekends in May.

Scheduled for the first showing, May 6 to 8, will be ceramics, jewelry, china painting, water-colors and pastels.

The May 13 through 15 exhibit will cover oil paintings, hooked, braided and crocheted rugs, weaving and needlepoint. For the last show, May 20 to 22, wood-working, leather and flower arrangements will be on display.

Entries for the event are now being accepted by Duncan Hursley, owner of the local store. Arts and crafts on display will be sold according to the wishes of individual artists.

Prizes will be awarded to visitors and refreshments served during the hours of each exhibit.

Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Phone 55-J

On Tuesday evening, April 19, the committee in charge of the program of the Mother and Daughter banquet at the Newburg Methodist church, met at the home of Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road to make definite plans for the forthcoming event. Present were Mrs. Earl Waack, Mrs. Harold Mackinder and Mrs. Jesse Bennett. The banquet is scheduled for Tuesday, May 10, and the dinner is to be served at 6:30 p.m. The special guest speaker is Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt of station C.K.L.W. who will address the group briefly and then do her famed "Swedish maid monologue". The reservations are limited to 200, so get your ticket early.

The Sacred Heart Circle of St. Michael's Catholic church held their regular, monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Wilford LaBelle on Joy road on Wednesday evening, April 20, with all of the members present and one new prospective member. The members were: Mrs. Edward Fegan, Mrs. Patrick Fegan, Mrs. Niel Suddendorf, Mrs. Stanley Belanger, Mrs. T. Levandowski, Mrs. L. Levandowski, Mrs. Arthur Gennis and Mrs. Emil LaPointe. Mrs. Kenny of Warren road was the new prospective member. After the reading of the lesson on "Cremation" the group discussed the coming events planned by the Altar Society. The fashion show on the 27th of April was the first event. Immediately following this occasion will be the annual Mother and Daughter banquet. In June sometime there will be an ice-cream social. No date has been set, but be advised by watching this column. The meeting was closed with delightful refreshments served by the hostess. The next meeting is scheduled for the third Wednesday in May, May 18.

Following their regular weekly practice, the choir of the Newburg Methodist church went to Breakfast drive in Plymouth Riverside park for a weiner roast on Thursday, April 21. The choristers who went along for the fun were: Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ritzler, Graham Bennett, Mrs. Agnes Macintyre, Mrs. William Dorr, Mardell Shaw, Connie Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood, Henry Hill, the organist, and Mrs. Emil LaPointe.

The Patches Community club of the Patches school met on Thursday, April 21, at the school on Newburg road. There was an election of officers with the following people being elected: President, Mrs. Laura Mende; vice-president, Mrs. Eileen Green; secretary, Mrs. Virginia Harris; and treasurer, Mrs. Lulu Westlake. At the close of the business meeting games were played and the first prize was won by Mrs. Vera Woodard; second prize by Mrs. Laura Mende and third prize by Mrs. Clarice Nesbitt. Refreshments were then served. The meeting in May is set for Thursday, May 19, and all interested parties are invited to attend.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road on Saturday evening, April 23, were Mrs. LaPointe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Sr., of Graham road in Redford township. Mr. and Mrs. Weiss attended the Smorgasbord dinner at the Newburg Methodist church with Mr. LaPointe and his two sons, Bruce and David.

The Canasta clan of Joy road will meet at the home of Mrs. William Kenner on Monday evening, May 2, at 8 p.m. Please note the change in day from a Tuesday to a Monday.

Henry Mende and his son Henry Mende, Jr., of Newburg road, attended the swimming banquet at the Plymouth high school auditorium on Saturday, April 23, at 6:30 p.m. The speaker for the evening was Gus Stagers, swimming coach at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

At a very impressive service at the Newburg Methodist church on Sunday, April 24, two bronze vases were given to the church in memory of Mrs. Adolph Bohi who served the church in the capacity of organist-choir director for the past 15 years. The choir under the able direction of Henry Sill, sang, "Show Me My Task" as an anthem of dedication followed by the very appropriate dedicatory reading in which the congregation and pastor participated.

On May 3 the day and evening circles of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. D. Ryder, 36725 Ann Arbor trail, at 7:45 p.m. There will be an election of officers for the coming church year so all members and prospective members are urged to attend. Mrs. Robert Richards, chairman of the newly-formed circle that meets in the evening, will endeavor to further organize the group, as to name, program for the coming year, and an appointment of new officers to make up the executive committee. This will be a very informative evening so be in on the beginning of this new unification and come for an evening of grand fellowship.

The Fidelis class of the Newburg Methodist church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt on Blunk avenue in Plymouth on Saturday evening, May 7. The meeting will begin with the usual pot-luck supper at 6:30. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mende, Sr., of Newburg road spent Sunday afternoon, April 24, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frycklund in Detroit. Mrs. Frycklund is Mr. Mende's sister.

Dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gisher of Newburg road on Sunday, April 24, were Mrs. Ethel Sharrock and her two daughters, Joyce and Betty, from Ypsilanti and Betty's fiancé, Andrew Titirija.

Mrs. George Simon and Mrs. Edward Howden of Joy road attended their annual bowling banquet on Friday, April 22, at Arbor-Lill. The Ladies bowl with the Ladies Lutheran league and Mrs. Howden received, along with the rest of her teammates, a trophy for ending up on top of the league.

Sunday evening, April 24, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Clausen of Ecorse visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Sr. of Newburg road.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road had guests in their home on Sunday, April 24, in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nida and their children, Robert and Gail Ann, of Dearborn, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larson of 11400 Berwick and their three children returned last week from their nice winter vacation. They drove to the Mississippi Gulf coast stopping en route to visit various friends and relatives in Nashville, Montgomery and Atlanta. Mr. and Mrs. Larson report that the scenery is very barren this year. They have had severe frosts all through the South and it has greatly damaged the beautiful flowering shrubs and trees and done untold damage to fruit trees.

Brownie Troop 1089 accompanied by Mrs. Berutti, Olmsted, Reeves, and Talbot visited the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth on Saturday, April 23. Mr. Cornell was extremely hospitable and told the girls the story of Johnny Billington and also the story the various murals depicted in the dining room. The girls then had a nice lunch of hamburger, french fries, milk, cookies and ice cream. Needless to say the four mothers accompanying the girls voted for more excursions that included lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Berutti and Jimmie and Linda spent two wonderful weeks at the Tropic Isle motel in Clearwater, Florida. The weather was perfect and they only had rain one afternoon during their entire vacation. They are all sporting beautiful tans and have a head start on our poor stay-at-homes.

St. Michaels school administered the polio vaccine to their First and Second grades on Monday, April 25. Dr. Peter Coleman was wonderful with the children, calling them by name and joking with them to put them at ease. There were a number of volunteer mothers and nurses and there were 250 children inoculated in one and one-half hours which just goes to show what team-work will do. The children were very well behaved and orderly and only a small percentage showed any fear.

The Book club of the Rosedale Gardens Woman's club will meet Thursday, April 28, at 1 p.m. at Dorothy Riggs home. Marion Bourgon is co-hostess. The book to be reviewed will be "Sincerely Willis Wade," written by John P. Marquand.

Only Shell Premium with TCP gives you the full benefit of High Octane Gasoline

If it weren't for the fact that most of our driving is local driving—short trip driving—any good high octane gasoline would do a fine job in today's more powerful engines.

and means that power works against you instead of for you.

In addition, these same deposits have another power-wasting effect: They foul sparkplugs, causing your engine to miss.

But this kind of driving increases the formation of certain deposits within the combustion chambers. These deposits, if not neutralized, rob even the finest engines of a considerable amount of their power.

Engineers will tell you there's nothing more wasteful of power and gasoline than pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

And high octane alone will not keep high compression engines delivering their full power. To overcome deposits, these engines need a gasoline with a special kind of additive.

But there is an answer—there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the advantages of high octane without the power-crippling effects of these deposits—Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*.

Here's why:

As your engine warms up, these deposits warm up, too—glow red hot. And these glowing particles act like hot coals—ignite the gasoline mixture ahead of time...before the pistons reach proper firing position. This is called pre-firing fireproofs the deposits so that they no longer cause pre-firing. No longer can they glow red hot and ignite the gasoline mixture. And TCP stops spark plug "miss," too. Your spark plugs do the job they are supposed to do.

Start getting the full power built into your engine. Get Shell Premium with TCP. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and High Octane!

Earning Badges In Surveying

Among the many merit badges that a Boy Scout can receive, the one given for surveying is among the most unusual. In Plymouth there are 18 boys who are earning a merit badge in surveying—thanks to the efforts of Sidney D. Strong, a civil engineer and Scout field commissioner.

The group, all members of Post P-3, sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary club, is led by Scoutmaster Ferris J. Mathias who has been with them 22 years.

First class Scouts must obtain merit badges to be advanced in rank. These are awarded for a considerable amount of work in more than 100 different fields. Usually the work is done by the individual Scout working with a counselor who is an expert in the field. Once in a while an entire group of boys is interested in the same badge and works for it in a class. The first aid and fireman-ship badges are usually earned in this manner under the teaching of Red Cross instructors and firemen.

The surveying class is one of the most unusual to get underway. The Scouts, Explorers and leaders have spent five evenings in the Starkweather school gym and a Saturday morning in Riverside park besides considerable time spent making their finished map of a half mile square of land.

Chairman Reports On Cancer Crusade

A successful educational campaign was reported by Charles Wyse, chairman of the tri-community cancer crusade conducted during April by the Plymouth chapter of the American Cancer society.

Wyse added that "This whole community can well be proud of its record in aiding war against cancer." Participating in the month-long campaign to distribute information concerning cancer to residents of Plymouth, Northville and Livonia, were public officials, merchants, churches, service organizations and volunteer workers.

Handling details for their areas were Mrs. Joseph Wieland of Livonia and Mrs. C. O. Hammond of Northville.

Throughout the campaign no solicitations were made locally, since the Plymouth chapter is one of the agencies of the Plymouth Community Chest.

At the beginning of 1950 there was one automobile for every three persons 14 years of age or older; by 1975, it is estimated, there will be one car for every two to two and a half persons in that age group.

Chips from the ROCK

When the artist draws a picture or the carpenter builds a building he creates a product which he can see. With satisfaction he can feel that his efforts have actually brought about a realistic creation. When a writer puts words on paper it is seldom that from those words he can ever see something concrete actually come to be a reality. In this instance . . . this old column, "rang a bell."

On March 18th, 1954 this column started with the following Biblical quotation, "A golden bell . . . his sound shall be heard when he goeth unto the holy place before the Lord, and when he cometh out . . ." Ex. 28; 34-35. The essence of the column content was my wife's observation concerning the lack of spiritual uplift given by the ringing of Church bells in this community on a Sunday morning. There were none in any of our Churches to ring their tidings throughout the community calling our people to worship.

Inspired by the thought in the column two prominent inter-related families, the Beyers and the Gaydes, made a decision to furnish the proposed beautiful new Lutheran Church with a set of bells which would, in the future, provide for our residents a Sunday morning musical call to worship.

Last weekend from Holland arrived two huge new bells to match the giant single bell formerly in the steeple of the old Church on Spring street. At long last, and for the first time, Plymouthites will soon hear a set of Church bells on Sunday mornings.

Discussing the job of getting the new bells up in the Church belfry are building superintendent, George Crawford, architect LaVern Nelson and the Rev. Edgar Hoencke.

The selection of the bells was left in the hands of the Rev. Edgar Hoencke who travelled to Cincinnati, Ohio to select them. In order to select two matching bells which would chime perfectly with the present single bell in the old Church belfry, the company secured a bell which matched the one in Plymouth, made like the one here in 1887 and by the same Dutch firm. This bell was then matched with a series of new bells until the perfect combination of three was found to provide the finest tones.

After the three bells were selected a tape recording was made of their tones, and for the first time the recording will be broadcast next Sunday morning, May 1st, by loud speaker at nine thirty and eleven a.m. from the old Lutheran Church.

Significantly the bells will toll from the tape on the event of May Day, rededicating our devotion to our American heritage and freedom, as American Christians, in contrast to the Russian observance of the anniversary of their revolution which has enslaved millions of the peoples of the world.

To further take cognizance of May Day, which falls on the coming Sabbath, the Lutherans will broadcast the tape made with their new bells from the new Church on the corner of Penniman and Garfield streets, from three to three thirty in the afternoon for all to hear in that neighborhood.

"A golden bell . . . his sound shall be heard when he goeth unto the holy place before the Lord, and when he cometh out . . ." Ex. 28; 34-35.

GIGANTIC SALES FORCES are setting about to make people here glad they live in Michigan and people from other states wish they did.

It's the focal point of Michigan Week, May 15 to 21 to encourage people to count their blessings.

Retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers are the latest to join the annual crusade sponsored by the Michigan Economic Development Department.

The department's day-to-day job is luring industries and businesses into Michigan, keeping a fine polish on the state's economy, and reminding folks that the grass is greener on this side of the fence.

The big project of the year is Michigan Week and this year the theme is, "I'm Glad I Live in Michigan."

More than 8,000 activity bulletins will be in the hands of retailers to help with promotional ideas and manufacturers have been brought into the project.

Special programs will be staged and a separate advertising corps, composed of some of the best publicists in the state, will keep reminding Michigan of its attractions.

For instance, Minnesota has been advertising itself for years as the "Land of Lakes," claiming 10,000 within its borders for sportsmen from all over the mid-west.

Michigan has 11,000 inland lakes. Somebody counted them.

STATE POLICE and other law enforcement officers are behind a proposal to put reflectorizing material on license plates and return to the old front and back license system.

Commissioner Joseph A. Childs already has made the switch on State Police cars.

Since the change to a one-plate system as an economy measure during World War II, officers claim they have been hampered in quickly identifying wanted cars from the front.

The proposal is to reflectorize the plates so the numerals, and presumably the state's slogan, "Water Wonderland," can be seen from 100 feet.

POLITICIAN-TALK is getting stronger that Gov. Williams will try next year for something on the national scene.

His travels and speech-making in all parts of the country and the apparent grooming of a successor in the executive office have done nothing to dispell both hopes and fears.

Republicans would like to see Williams become elected to something outside of Michigan. He has grabbed all the political marbles since 1948 and the GOP is tiring of the tradition.

Williams' latest trip was to Israel and Washington and New York where friendly Democrats were impressed with his energy and record back in Michigan. Presumably, his visit to Israel was non-political.

Some of Williams' duties have been turned over to Philip A. Hart, the personable young man who came from almost nowhere to become lieutenant governor last fall in his first try at elective office.

Now he runs the Senate as president and whirls about the state on missions for Williams and the party. He leaves in his wake the feeling he might just be willing to try for the top office in Michigan—if and when Williams leaves.

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY will again be asked to foot the bill for expanding state government. And they seem willing to accept the burden on their terms. Because of this, the business receipts tax is a "popular" one; its alternative, a corporate profits tax is a threat to be avoided. Budget leaders in the legislature are ready to cut $24 million from Gov. Williams' $292 million budget for 1955-56 and the problem is where to find the extra money needed.

Legislators estimate they will need between $25 million and $30 million at the outside while some estimates go as low as $14 million. Greater yields of existing taxes are expected to help.

Republicans still are strongly resisting any mention of Williams' corporation profits tax proposal, ignored for seven years. They are working on higher rates for the $30 million business activities tax.

The best bet at the moment is that the legislature will add to the rate of the business activities tax, enough to bring in about $28 million more.

Q—What national holidays have been established by Congress?
A—None. Congressional jurisdiction on establishment of legal holidays is limited to the District of Columbia. By Act of Congress only two such legal holidays are established—Armistice Day and Presidential Inauguration day, are District holidays. Most days, observed as national holidays have been established by the States, and are recognized by Congress as holidays for federal employees.

Q—Can the United States Treasury accept gifts of money?
A—Yes. Many individuals send gifts of money to the Treasury for special purposes. For instance following the attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japs on Dec. 7, 1941, some 15,000 individuals sent in about $750,000 to the Treasury to be used specifically for avenging Pearl Harbor. The law then required such moneys be placed in a miscellaneous receipts account and await appropriation by Congress. However since then the law has been changed authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to accept such gifts of money and use it "as in his judgment will best effectuate the intent of the donors."

Q—Can you tell me what is the present status of Guam?
A—The island, captured from Spain in 1898 was, until 1950, maintained as an naval station under jurisdiction of the Navy. In 1950 it was established as a United States territory under jurisdiction of the Secretary of Interior.

Q—Did the United States acquire any territory as a result of World War II?
A—Yes, the Japanese mandated islands, including the Marshalls, Carolines, and the Marianas. The U. S. controls the Bonins, Okinawa and its surrounding islands, but status has not been definitely settled.

Television Mayor Misleading

Though your television sets may seem to bring in programs strong and clear, there is a show appearing each Monday night which seems to us is coming through with a greatly distorted picture. Called "Mayor of the Town," we fear that this is typical of numerous TV programs which might be taken seriously by some unsuspecting adults as well as young people. Its depiction of city government and newspaper has at times taken some pretty bad turns for the worse despite its frequent lectures on patriotism.

The program stars one of the finest actors of our day, Thomas Mitchell, but we suspect the writers come from the ranks of those who know little about actual operation of local government. "Mayor of the Town" got off to an authentic start several months ago in Michigan when Mitchell visited the state. He was greeted by city officials of Detroit and many communities and even addressed the state legislature about his enthusiasm for a role which would show the problems of a public servant. It was this promotion scheme which may lead some viewers to think they are seeing something paralleling real life.

A recent show found the mayor fighting a candidate who was running against his choice for alderman. (Not until a soundtruck blasted out candidate's propaganda did the mayor know who the opposition's candidate was. He should have checked the newspaper months beforehand to see who had filed nominating petitions or who had won in the primary election.) When the mayor's secretary saw that her boss was losing his fight, she enlisted the school newspaper to battle the opposition's candidate and the fire chief's son got his father's fire department out to campaign for the mayor's choice. A town would have a difficult time living down such scandals as these. A school superintendent would suffer apoplexy if he found the school newspaper involved in politics. And only in the most corrupt city would the fire department engage in a political campaign. What would you say if the governor had the state highway patrol campaigning for him?

But what bristles our hair is the mayor's association with newspapers. We have heard the TV mayor dictate a story to his secretary and order her to take it to the newspaper to "have it printed in a box on page one." We have heard him go to the editor with a story he had written and ask that it "be placed on the front page AS IS!"

The TV mayor must have just taken office for he would surely know that no self-respecting newspaper would ever place a story on page one unless in their own judgment the story is worth a prominent spot. And no respectable reporter would ever allow a significant story to be written by the source except under certain circumstances where a person has an exciting tale to tell. He is then given a "by-line." Buyers of The Plymouth Mail can be assured that their reading is not guided by the dictates of certain individuals or groups.

The lowest blow struck against journalism by the program so far was in the recent plot about the election. The "Chronicle" failed to print the mayor's prepared story which blasted the opposition party's candidate. The reason? The editor claimed that his paper's financial status was poor and the opposition party was a good advertiser. So naturally he couldn't print a story which might offend the opposition for fear that they would drop the valuable advertising. It was at this point in the story that the school newspaper and fire department had to be engaged to tell the mayor's "real facts" about the opposition since the Chronicle couldn't afford to.

It would take a completely degenerated newspaper with a publisher of no ethics that would turn down a story for such reasons. There are perhaps many people who don't realize that news and advertising departments are separate operations, even though they may be handled by the same persons on weekly newspapers. To maintain press freedom, a publisher dare not let advertisers influence news reporting. Newspapers find that most advertisers realize and respect this prerogative.

"Mayor of the Town" may be just another TV show to most viewers, but we feel that this unique theme could provide some authentic entertainment. Despite attempts by newspapers to inform their readers about public affairs, an alarming few people know the operations and problems of local government. Like "Dragnet" or "The Medic" shows, "Mayor of the Town" could go far in delivering a life-like message.

As Joe Friday would say: "We want the facts, Mayor, give us the facts."

Custom-Built Schools Costing too Much

Babson Park, Massachusetts. One of the critical problems facing every voter today is how to pay for the mounting cost of education without taxing property holders into the poorhouse.

MORE ECONOMIC SCHOOLS NEEDED

The sharp rise in the birth rate is one source of our problem. To help house the increasing population, about 9,500,000 housing units have been built since 1945—1,215,000 in 1954 alone! This building boom has given impetus to our national prosperity, but it has created problems galore at the school level. Most of these new homes have been purchased by good young couples who want decent places in which to raise their families.

These families have become so large in proportion to existing educational facilities that many cities and towns are now losing money on each new house built. Where there is more than one child per family, the loss often amounts, on the educational bill alone, to several hundred dollars. We know there will be a marked demand for more and more educational facilities during the next ten years. Since by law we must provide both facilities and teachers, we may well ask for some economies to be made which can help keep costs down.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION COSTS TOO HIGH

You cannot afford a custom-built automobile. Can you any more afford a custom-built school? It is high time the U.S. Office of Education, as well as the various State Departments of Education, moved in with some standard basic plans for basic schools, which can readily be expanded with the school population. Unit sections should also be made readily movable to some other section of the community should the need arise.

There are literally a hundred ways to cut construction costs: Standard plans should be used for a given number of children, with the extras that don't really add up to better education for your child being cleared out. Don't build a manumment of mortar that will be outmoded long before it is outworn. Let us consider the children and tax-payers—rather than glorify some mayor or architect.

IMPROVE TEACHER EFFICIENCY

The suggestion has been made that we could cut teaching costs by doubling classroom size. Then we could hire the brightest teachers in the land to make recordings for radio and TV educational hookups. The children could be tested on what they had seen and heard by being given true-false, multiple-choice questions, and by having them mark their answers on IBM answer sheets that would be corrected by machine.

However, teacher efficiency cannot be measured in terms of the number of youngsters turned out of our schools each year. From what I have seen of some of the educational products of recent years, I think nowhere near enough stress has been placed on the quality of education which our children are receiving.

TEACHERS NEED MORE MONEY

What business would "earn its salt" today if its employees worked only from 8:30 to 2:30, vacationed from June 25 to September 5, and its factory or store lay idle as much as the average school does? It is true that teachers have papers to correct, lessons to prepare, and extra-curricular activities to supervise! But, ways should be devised so that teachers can earn the extra money they need. One idea would be to extend the school day and the school year so that the first eight years are done in seven, and the last four years in three. Thereby we save two years for the children, as well as money for increased salaries.

We can make our plant more efficient and give teachers a much needed raise. We might even help solve the problem of delinquency by keeping our kids busier. This sort of thing is not a pipe dream. At the college level, the students of Babson Institute, a fully accredited College of Business Administration, do four years of college work in three—and after graduation make an outstanding mark for themselves. This might be tried for the lower grades as well. From such, all will benefit—children, teachers, and taxpayers.

Quotes

ELMO ROPER, public opinion analyst: "There seems to be current today a rather widespread belief on the part of mothers that it is wrong or unwise to insist on children eating what they don't want to."

ROBERT B. CARNEY, Admiral, U. S. N., Chief of Naval Operations: "Russia has a vast naval building program, evidence that she does not contemplate a short war."

FRED SEATON, Assistant Secretary of Defense: "The American people must find ways to exist in the same world with their Communist enemies."

DR. ANNE GARY PANNELL, president, Sweet Briar (Va.) College: "A recent survey shows that more girl graduates are marrying—and marrying earlier and having more children—than did those of 25 years ago."

WILLIS P. LIPSCOMB, vice-president, Pan American World Airways: "In ten years air line revenue from cargo will equal, if not exceed, passenger revenue."

CHARLES P. TAFT, president, Committee for a National Trade Policy: "Injury from import competition, when it rarely does occur . . . is no different in kind from injury as a result of domestic competition which happens every day."

MARTIN DIES, Congressman from Texas: "The only way we can make any headway against the Communists on conspiracy is to adhere rigidly to the American standards of justice."

EDITH EVANS ASBURY, writing on "Problems of the Aged": "One in every twelve persons in the United States is over 65 years of age."

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

"The guaranteed annual wage is a current controversial subject. What do you think about the principal of guaranteeing year-around employment?"

SILAS MATTINSON, 795 Forest: "I've had to work for all I've got. I don't want to get paid for not working. Guaranteed annual wage may work out all right but I don't think I'd care for it."

FRED HENRY, 183 Union: "It's a good idea if the company can stand it. It could break the company quick. Its success would depend upon the company. At Burroughs where I work, they would have no trouble guaranteeing employment but in the auto business where they might lay off a month or two, it could be tough for the company."

ALFRED PETERS, Livonia: "I'd say it is good in one way and not so good in another. Those with seniority might have no incentive to work if they knew that they had their pay guaranteed. On the other hand, its good for an employer to feel secure and an employer should have a certain obligation to his workers. Its success will depend upon the attitude of the individual worker."

HAROLD LESLIE, 650 Herald: "I think it's a good idea. We've read a lot about it in the union paper and it's a good thing if they can make it work. It might be rough the first couple years for both the employer and employee. It will make the employer plan his work better."

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

"Proof of the pudding is in the tasting," and from the scene above you can tell Mrs. Robert Sinecock's Date Bars meet the approval of her two youngsters, Craig, 2½, and six-year-old Mary Ann.

You Can Whip These Date Bars Up in A Jiffy

Quick and easy is the word for these Date Bars recommended by Mrs. Robert Sinecock of 399 Auburn, and we're sure this important factor will appeal to a lot of busy housewives.

The mother of two youngsters, herself, Mrs. Sinecock finds the Date Bars a marvelous suggestion when it comes to dreaming up something for that after-school snack or "what-to-have-when-friends-drop-in" situation.

The recipe has been popular in the Sinecock household for a number of years, being one which originally belonged to Mr. Sinecock's mother. They're light as a feather, have a delicious flavor, and we're sure you'll like them too as a dessert or snack suggestion.

Here's the way Mrs. Sinecock whips up her favorite recipe:
Date Bars

- 3 eggs
 - 1 cup of sugar
 - 1 cup of all-purpose flour, unsifted
 - 2 teaspoons of baking powder
 - ¼ teaspoon of salt
 - 1 cup of chopped dates
 - ½ cup of chopped nuts
 - 1 teaspoon of vanilla
- Beat eggs very lightly (do not use electric mixer), add sugar, the next three ingredients which have been sifted together, then the dates, nuts and vanilla.

Place in greased baking tin (8 x 10 x 1) and bake in moderate oven for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool and cut in strips. Dust with powdered sugar.

Lodge Meets for Potluck, Mother's Day Program

A potluck supper and Mother's Day program has been planned by the Maccabees for their next meeting on Wednesday, May 4, in the Odd Fellows hall.

The supper will get underway at 6:30 p.m. followed by the special Mother's Day program. There will be no business meeting. Members are asked to bring their children for both the potluck and program.

Doris Curtiss will be in charge of the evening's entertainment. Heading the refreshment committee are Grace Howard and Nellie Johnson.

Lillian Smith of Northville road is critically ill in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, where she has undergone major surgery on both legs.

Luggage Limit Poses Problems For Europe-Bound Plymouthite

No siree, Grandma never had it so good!

Take our present day gals, for instance. At the drop of a hat a career-girl can take off on a quickie tour of the Continent and wind up the whole operation in a matter of 18 days.

A case in point is Marilyn Karnatz of 686 Kellogg, secretary to the director of industrial relations at General Motors Transmission plant, Willow Run. The pretty 23-year-old blonde is about to embark on one of the 18-day European tours sponsored by the GM Girls club.

Leaving tomorrow, April 29, by TWA constellation, Marilyn will be off to enjoy the wonders of six European countries, concluding her tour by flying back from Paris to the U.S. on May 15.

As one of the 60 persons making the GM trip, Marilyn will be taken on conducted visits to the main tourist attractions of England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France.

After landing in London, England the party will be whisked away on sight-seeing buses to such spots as Buckingham Palace, Parliament, Westminster Abbey, Hampton Court and historic landmarks of the British countryside.

From there they'll go by channel steamer to the Hague for their visit to Holland at the height of its tulip season. In Antwerp, Belgium they'll be special guests of the GM Continental plant.

Other highlights of Marilyn's itinerary include a trip down the Rhine, taking in the International May Festival in Wiesbaden, Germany, where she'll see performances by top opera and ballet companies from the major European cities.

Frankfurt, Heidelberg, mountain excursions on dome-topped trains for the alpine tour from Lucerne to Interlaken, Switzerland are other bright spots of the trip.

She'll be visiting Versailles in France, then move on to Paris where the group has been invited to visit SHAPE headquarters of the allied powers, there.

While in Paris Marilyn will visit the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame Cathedral, the Louvre, gardens of Fontainebleau, the Folies Bergeres and other highlights of Parisian life.

What do you take with you when you're going to be in Europe for a little over two weeks and plane luggage is limited to 44 pounds per person? Well, Marilyn's got it all figured out to the nth degree.

Planning a wardrobe with navy blue as the basic color, here's a partial list of what she intends to take along on the trip:

Wearing one basic suit, she'll take along a second suit, parts of which she can switch with the one she's wearing, a print jersey dress which packs well and offers contrast to the basic shade of navy.

For evening there's a sheath dress with duster to match in navy. An extra skirt, cashmere sweater set, a nylon and two dacron blouses offer further variety to her well-planned wardrobe. Costume accents are achieved in brightly colored leather belts and gloves.

In the footwear line she'll take one pair of low-heeled shoes for walking, a high-heeled pair for daytime and a dressy pair of heels for evening. Toss in a navy blue straw cloche, trenchcoat and scarf for rain, shoulder bag and another purse for evening and you've completed the list that goes into the one wardrobe suitcase she's taking.

Oh yes, don't forget the jar of instant coffee to offset the fantastic brews she's heard they conjure up in European restaurants!

An excellent seamstress in her own right, Marilyn has made nearly all her own clothes since she first started sewing in the eighth grade. With her pet hobby in mind, she plans on picking up woolen material in England and Switzerland as well as other mementos of her trip, which she'll bring back in the almost-empty pullman suitcase she's also taking along.

In the way of paraphernalia, the Plymouthite needs her passport and international certificate of inoculation, proving she's been vaccinated against smallpox within the past three years.

To get her passport from the County Clerk's office in Ann Arbor, she had to take along a witness who had known her for two years, fill out an application for the Department of Immigration, show her birth certificate, hand over two passport photos, have a postal money order for $9 made out to the Secretary of State in Washington, D. C., and pay $1 in cash as passport application fee.

After all that was transacted, she received her official passport from the Department of State in Washington, D. C. ten days later.

Now it's just a matter of winding up last-minute details and ticking away just a little over 24 hours before she hops the plane at Willow Run and her exciting trip to Europe begins.

Decorative Accessories Give Room Interest, Individuality

Spring is here! As Mother Nature brightens the out-of-doors, homemakers are looking for ways of brightening their homes. Wayne County home agents say that decorative accessories can be thought of as enrichment for the home.

Decorative accessories have the power to transform bleak, impersonal rooms into ones that look like home. They give accent or emphasis through contrast in size, shape, color or texture. Even though these accessories are not thought of as furniture, they cannot be thought of apart from the furniture nor apart from the wall space.

Price is not the important consideration in selecting decorative accessories. Very effective things can be done with inexpensive accessories. Just have courage to express your individuality, to try something different. A decorative accessory may give the room an effective interest center as well as individuality.

Concentrate accessories at important spots and leave rest spaces between them. Relate them to the furniture groups. Remember this point when placing pictures. Isolate accessories only when they are of special importance or when no furniture is needed.

Think in terms of a few, large objects to scale with your room and furniture. That is much better than allowing a lot of little things to clutter your living area.

You may want a few moderate to small-sized ones for variety. It is not necessary to use all the accessories you own at one time. Bring out a few and then change them for variety.

Cushion stacks, ottomans and pillows are very much in the foreground as accessories in home decoration. The cushion stacks of four or five foam rubber pillows are especially good for informal entertaining. A comfortable big cushion invites people to sit on the floor in front of the fireplace.

Ottomans are almost rugs in comparison to those of ten years ago. They are designed to put your feet at a height that is right for relaxing. As for pillows, we are seeing several bright, gay little throw pillows being used on sofas for an accent.

Select those accessories for your home which are beautiful and meaningful to you. It is well to study the design of your arrangements just as a painter studies the composition of a painting.

THERE'S a lot of talk these days about soup for breakfast. After the initial shock, folks are finding it's not half bad. In fact, it hits the spot!

The idea of soup for the first meal of the day is "old stuff" to some people. A farmer we know has enjoyed a steaming bowl of tomato soup for breakfast for years. And ask any Frenchman about the custom of dining on onion soup for breakfast. Over there they like to poach an egg in the soup.

Here are menu suggestions:

- Grapefruit Half
 - Consommé Sprinkled with Cereal Bits
 - Sausages
 - Cheese-topped English Muffins
 - Coffee, Cocoa, or Milk
 - Tomato Juice
 - Cream of Asparagus Soup with Sliced Egg
 - Bacon Strips
 - Cinnamon Buns
 - Coffee, Tea, or Milk
- Keep in mind that soup is a "quick-fix" food. It's stimulating without being a stimulant. And it provides almost endless variety, especially if you're a "mix and match" enthusiast who likes to combine two kinds of soup. FNS

Short Ribs Vary Menu Aid Budget

Beef short ribs are on the list of so-called less demanded cuts. These are the cuts that many homemakers overlook, thus, they are frequently a good buy in your market, points out a well-known food authority.

New ideas for short ribs can lead to interesting meals. Spanish short ribs is one way you'll want to try. To make these add sliced onion and green pepper and a can of tomatoes to the browned short ribs. Season with salt, pepper and Worcestershire and cook covered until tender, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Browned short ribs with sauerkraut is another favorite. Deviled short ribs, too, are good; add sliced onion, dry mustard and vinegar to the water used to cook the meat.

Short ribs also may be cooked as a stew, in liquid to cover, thus adding still more ways of serving them. The alternate layers of fat and lean in short ribs adds extra flavor to any kind of stew chosen. And your choice of vegetables just long enough before the end of cooking so they will be tender. These beef cuts are a natural for a "boiled" dinner. To the ribs add cabbage wedges, carrots, turnips and onion.

Urge Parents To Display, Use Child's Artwork

Your children are proud of their accomplishments in their art class at school. But they will be doubly proud if their parents show an interest in their creations.

Authorities believe it is important that parents display their children's art work to give youngsters a feeling of importance in the family. Then, too, children's art is held in high esteem because it is fresh and uninhibited. A child is not hedged in with conventions as are many adults, and often shows a refreshing approach to old ideas.

Several ways to use child art in the home have been suggested. Perhaps you will want to make place mats for the breakfast table. Place a finger painting of your pre-schooler between two transparent plastic place mats. They can be held together with colorful masking tape. Because the tape can easily be removed the drawings can be changed from time to time.

Another suggestion is to group several drawings together on a large mat such as grass cloth. The whole arrangement could be hung on the wall in the children's bedroom. Or maybe you will want to post the art work on the kitchen bulletin board. You may even want to put it under the glass on the coffee table or living room desk.

No matter where it is put, your children will be happy to see you take an interest in their art work.

When measuring whole-grain flours and meals, stir them lightly with a fork or spoon, but do not sift. Then measure like white flour.

Suds-Training Is Fun

Think of your daughter as a future homemaker, no matter how young she is, and the process of keeping things clean won't be a problem. Dishwashing is a good start, for after dinner is a companionable time for "womenfolk" to get together.

At first you may have to re-do some of a little girl's sink-work, but with practice and patience, she'll soon be a real help.

Your young teammate will be more interested and eager if you explain why you follow an efficient dish-washing routine. And you can make it more fun if you make a game of playing house with each lesson. Here are a few suggestions:

Let her clear the table and scrape the dishes with a rubber scraper or crumpled paper. A garbage bag set in a container on the floor will be within her reach and a step-up platform will bring her up to sink height.

Little hands can't take the hot soapsuds necessary for good dish-washing. Give her a dishmop of her very own. If she is taught to do just a few pieces at a time, the task will be easier for her—and safer for your dishes, too.

A lesson in changing soapsuds frequently when dishes are greasy will impress upon her the importance of sanitation in relation to foods. Good, lively soapsuds are a MUST for a thorough job. Along with this comes the point of keeping fingers away from surfaces which will later touch food or mouth, such as insides of cups, knife blades and fork tines.

Last comes the clean-up lesson—washing out her dish towel and her mop, sponging off the sink and putting everything in order. And then be sure to reward her with compliments, and you'll both feel happy about it all!

Freeze "Dessert Puffs" For Quickie Garnish

Here's an easy way to garnish whisk these out of the freezer on short notice. Small left-over portions of whipped cream may be stored this way, too.

DESSERT PUFFS: Beat 1 cup whipping cream with rotary or electric beater until thick; add 2 tsp. sugar, beating until cream is just stiff. Drop by tablespoons onto waxed paper spread over a baking sheet or cardboard. Makes 20 puffs. Place in freezer compartment to fast freeze—about 2 1/2 hours. Take from freezer and package in family-size serving portions, using waxed paper and sealing carefully. Store at 0°F. not more than 3 weeks.

Cheese, an important protein food, fits especially well into menus at this time of year. If used in cooked dishes it never needs to be cooked long nor at high temperatures. Chunks of cheese makes a good addition to vegetable salads, too.

Reveal Best Way to Freeze Pineapple

There is a right way for preparing pineapple for the freezer in your kitchen.

After studying and experimenting with several methods most commonly used with pineapples available in Michigan, food specialists came up with this recommendation: Cut the pineapple in thin slices or small cubes. Pack in freezer cartons, cover with a 30 per cent syrup and freeze.

The recent study on frozen pineapple was conducted in the department of foods and nutrition at Michigan State University. Before this study, the best way to freeze pineapple was not clear, because there were so many different methods recommended by different sources.

Besides pineapple, grapefruit were also frozen and tested. They found the best results when grapefruit were sectioned and frozen with ascorbic acid and 40 per cent syrup. But the researchers felt even this method was not "particularly good" and that more work should be done on freezing this fruit.

The pineapple was frozen several different ways to arrive at the best one. Samples were packed with 30 per cent syrup, dry sugar, and unsweetened. The 30 per cent syrup was prepared by using two cups of sugar and four cups of water. The fruit was sampled at the end of three months and after several months in the freezer.

A panel of five judges tasted the pineapple and judged it for appearance, color, odor, flavor, sweetness, texture and general acceptability.

Milady Never Had It So Good!

This is the age of "easy-does-it." To prove it, home economists counted over 30 different baked-goods mixes to tempt Mrs. Consumer and minimize her in the kitchen. They include mixes for cakes of all kinds, cookies, brownies, pie crust, pie filling, muffins, biscuits, pancakes, waffles, rolls, donuts, candies, icings, and even pizza pie. She will have to decide whether or not to buy these not only by cost, but by time-cost, convenience, the quality of food her family likes and how important the satisfaction of creating her own food products is to her.

WARM AND HOMEY. LOOKING best describes this attractive kitchen in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arnold, 8975 Beck road. The walls and cabinets are completely paneled in mahogany. The hardware is of the wrought iron, magnetic type. A blending, mahogany-grain linoleum pattern covers the floor. Notice the built-in mixer shelf next to the refrigerator and the Lazy Susan cabinet in the center, also the recessed light above the sink. This spacious, cheerful kitchen was designed for maximum convenience and accessibility. Arnold, a local builder, handled the work himself.

The creative use of durable yet handsome materials like clay tile has helped to bring about a change in modern living rooms. Today the family room, TV or music den, and the popular kitchen-barbecue area are replacing so-called living rooms. In any case, they're multi-purpose areas suitable for anything from teenage frolics to a formal dinner.

New Plastic Utility Shelves Ideal For 'Extras' in Bedroom, Bath

About this time of year, industrious homemakers start on a house-cleaning rampage to enliven the home for balmy spring and summer months. This usually entails the discarding of worn-out winter clothing, cleaning out drawers and cabinets to increase space for warm-weather garb.

It frequently results, too, in the unearthing of countless small treasures which were buried for months in the back of a cabinet or jammed haphazardly in deep drawers.

Best way to avoid mislaying these small yet important items, as the family begins accumulating things again, is to install extra shelves in bedrooms and bath. These shelves can hold the small supplies which are used frequently.

One of the least costly and most effective ways to obtain this added storage space is to put up some of the new self-adhering plastic utility shelves available in most variety and hardware stores. These colorful shelves, 4 by 14 3/4 inches in size, are styled for use as decorative aids, too. They'll hold such items as perfumes, cosmetics, and shaving supplies or they may be used to display plants and knick knacks. A unique feature of these plastic shelves is their simple "stick-up" quality from which they get their name, Selfix. The two supporting backplates on each shelf have patented, adhesive-coated wood inserts molded into the plastic.

To fasten a shelf to the wall simply moisten the adhesive with a few drops of water, rub it into a gleam consistency with your finger, and press the shelf firmly into position. Permit the adhesive to "set" for 24 hours and the shelf is ready for use. Regardless of whether the shelf is to function on a tile bathroom wall, a plaster bedroom wall, or on wood or glass surfaces, it will "stick" securely.

There is also a complete assortment of plastic hooks, towel bars, tumbler and toothbrush holders, toilet tissue holders, and soap dishes which are applied in the same way with this patented adhesive feature. Adaptable to virtually any decorating theme, these plastic accessories are available in such hues as white, red, yellow, green and black.

HERE'S HOW...

Normally a well painted house with wood siding does not need re-painting more often than once in four to six years. Painting too often may result in an unnecessarily thick coat that may crack or peel.

Check the condition of the paint. Dirty paint may be scrubbed with a brush and a mild detergent, then rinsed with a garden hose.

If painting is needed, check first to see if wood parts need to be replaced, repaired or re-stories), drop cloths, rags, paint thinner, screening, extra pails for mixing, stirring paddles, scraper and sandpaper. Brushes 1/2 to 5 inches wide are used for large surfaces; and 1 1/2 to 2-inch brushes for trim. Use sash brushes around windows.

For new wood surfaces use a primer first. For old surfaces primers are not necessary except on scraped and sanded areas. See your local building supply dealer for advice as to the best paint for the job.

Apply paint during a dry spell when humidity is low; but not on an extremely hot day. Choose moderate temperature; never below 40 degrees F. Wait until the dew has dried, and work in the shade.

Mix paint thoroughly, dissolving all pigment. Use paint sparingly on the brush—never more than half a brush full at a time. Work the paint into the surface of the wood by stroking back and forth to avoid running and streaking.

Always paint the sash, trim and doors first. If right-handed, stroke in the upper left corner and top to bottom of the area. Make sure the surface is covered; fill any voids before the paint has dried.

Plymouth Building Supply Dealers Suggest Basic Points to Check in that New Home

If you are planning to buy a house it is important to check construction to make sure that the one you choose will give you long years of satisfactory service without excessive cost for maintenance and repair.

Knowing where and what to look for will help the layman recognize tell-tale signs of future trouble, and by the same token, good workmanship. Plymouth lumber and building material suppliers suggest starting the inspection in the basement and continuing through the house point by point, as follows:

1. WET BASEMENT FLOOR AND WALLS. Usually traceable to poor drainage and lack of gutters.

2. FOUNDATION CRACKS. Symptoms of more serious faults, such as inadequate footings which have permitted settling. Settling is apt to continue, causing more and larger cracks and affecting the whole structure, even to the roof.

3. CRACKS IN CONCRETE FLOOR. A sign of poor concrete or a thin floor.

4. WOOD POSTS. They should be set on a curb, slightly above the floor, to avoid moisture absorption.

5. WOOD BEAMS. Look for sagging between supports.

6. CROSS BRIDGING. This is the bracing between joists which should fit tight and be double nailed.

7. FLOOR JOISTS. Sagging joists or springy floors are caused by using joists too light for the span.

8. SUBFLOORING. While you are checking joists and bridging see if the subfloor above is laid diagonally.

9. INTERIOR DOORS. See that doors fit the frame, open, shut and latch properly. Look for warped doors.

10. WINDOWS. Try windows for smooth operation and rattles. Lots of heat can be lost around loose windows. Look for water marks around the top and bottom of windows, a sure sign of no flashing.

11. PLASTER CRACKS. Sometimes caused by shrinkage when building is new and can be patched. More often caused by settling which may continue to get worse. Plaster cracks over openings are caused by faulty framing over the opening.

12. INTERIOR TRIM. Look for open joints in casings, baseboard and cabinet work.

13. FINISH FLOORINGS. Squeaky floors can be traced to improper nailing. Open cracks between boards and uneven floors are bad signs.

14. BLISTERED PAINT. May be caused by a combination of conditions but is the result of moisture in the exterior walls. High inside humidity, condensation and lack of ventilation in exterior wall spaces are problems here.

15. ROOF. A poor shingle job can, of course, be corrected, but look for sagging rafters and ridge. If possible check bracing and collar beams, or ties, in the attic. Ceilings should be well insulated and attic ventilation is a must.

16. HEATING SYSTEM. The advice of a heating man would be handy. Try to find out how much fuel was consumed in previous heating seasons.

17. WIRING. Wiring must be adequate to carry the load imposed by present day appliances and the number and location of outlets need to be considered.

18. WOOD FINISHES. Exterior should have two coats of paint over the priming coat. Interior finish should obviously be smooth and attractive.

19. GENERAL APPEARANCE. Poor workmanship always speaks for itself and the impression of general shabbiness is as apparent to the layman as to the expert.

Location Looms Large In Buying Building a Home

In building or buying a home, the "where" is every bit as important as the "what." Location looms large indeed among the factors which will determine the satisfaction you and your family will derive from your home.

First of all, consider the neighborhood in general and the type of people who will be your nearest neighbors. Are they the sort likely to prove congenial to you and your family? Would you welcome their children as playmates for yours?

Take a careful look at the homes in the immediate vicinity. Are they commensurate in value with one which you intend to build or buy? It is well to remember that a home out of character, price-wise, with its neighbors can often present a difficult re-sale problem.

Look into the transportation schedules of any bus line or railroad that you or your family will use frequently. Consider, as well the distance to the nearest bus stop or railroad station.

If you have children, the character and location of the schools they will use are important points to check. Is it necessary to cross major traffic arteries in order to reach the schools?

Find out if there are churches of your denomination within reasonable distance.

Check the nearest shopping center, both as to its scope and accessibility.

Look into the matter of nearby recreational facilities for all members of your family.

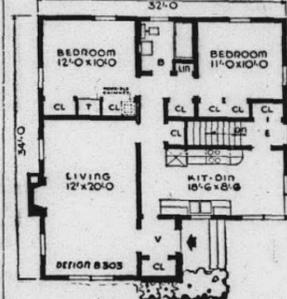

See if all improvements (water mains, paving, curbing, etc.) are in and paid for. Ascertain what, if any, assessments against your property may be expected in the future?

Investigate public utility and tax rates. Are they in line with those prevailing in comparable communities? Check into such civic services as police and fire protection, garbage disposal, etc.

Last, but by no means least, get very specific information on the matter of zoning restrictions. Are they such as to adequately and permanently protect the residential character of the neighborhood in which you are planning to build or buy?

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-303

DESIGN B-303. Circulation between rooms in this house is ideal, using an exceptionally small hall with access to the front vestibule and the bedrooms without having to enter the living room. A fireplace is included in the plan, but, if it is omitted, space for a chimney is indicated in one of the closets. Storage space is liberal, consisting of coat closets in the vestibule and entry, wardrobe closets in the two bedrooms, a linen cabinet and two hall closets. The kitchen is a pleasant front room with a large dining area and efficient cabinets. The exterior finish is siding with a touch of stone. Floor area is 976 square feet, with a cubage of 19,332 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN B-303, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—What is the best time of year to re-roof a house?

A—Any time the weather is clear enough to permit outside work. It should be done immediately if the roof is worn and battered, and damp spots show on the underside of the roof deck. Dampness is a sure sign of leaks which, if let go, can cause great damage to the walls and ceilings. Generally, asphalt shingles can be applied quickly and economically right over the old roofing, and will give the house long-term weathertight protection.

Question: We have a large kitchen, the floor of which is covered with linoleum. I used wax on it, and for some reason can't keep it bright looking. It constantly appears to have something spilled on it, and no amount of scrubbing or re-waxing corrects the condition. Please give us some advice.

Answer: This condition usually follows the use of an inferior 'hard' wax containing shellac. When damp the shellac becomes milky in appearance, and resembles spots of things spilled and dried there. Remove the wax by scrubbing with steel wool and alcohol, then apply a dependable floor wax or a first coat of paste wax.

Plymouth Chapter No. 115 will hold its regular meeting on May 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

On May 17 we will have our 61st Birthday Dinner, honoring all Past Matrons, Past Patrons, Life Members and Honorary Members. Chapter will open at 5:30 p.m., with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Reservations should be made with Sister Clara Todd by May 13. Meeting following at 7:45 p.m. Past Worthy Matron Anna Stever has been ill in St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor and is now convalescing at her home. Brother Harry Schumacher is ill in Detroit Osteopathic hospital. Our Worthy Matron's mother, Mrs. Albert Schauer, is still in St. Joseph hospital after having surgery and is doing well. Sister Ethel Rouleau's husband, John, is ill in Detroit Osteopathic hospital. Please remember these people.

Senator George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, urging a Big Four meeting as soon as practicable after ratification of the Paris accords arming Germany, expressed the belief that the real hope of avoiding war is through high-level conferences among "the leading powers."

ABOUT YOUR LAWN AND GARDEN

Sweet Corn Loses Flavor Soon As Picked

Only the home gardener, who can sink teeth into an ear of sweet corn within an hour or less after it is picked, really knows the supreme tenderness and flavor of this American favorite.

Loss of flavor begins at the instant it is picked. Chilling can slow this down, but nothing can stop it, except popping the ear into boiling water as soon as possible, say from 5 minutes to half an hour after picking.

Varieties of sweet corn differ much in sweetness. When you find a variety that pleases you, the best way to enjoy it is to make several sowings, spaced so that they mature one after the other, prolonging the season of your delight.

A patch of sweet corn in a space fifteen feet square in normal weather should yield ten dozen ears. This is approximate, of course; each stalk bearing at least one ear, and some of them bearing two.

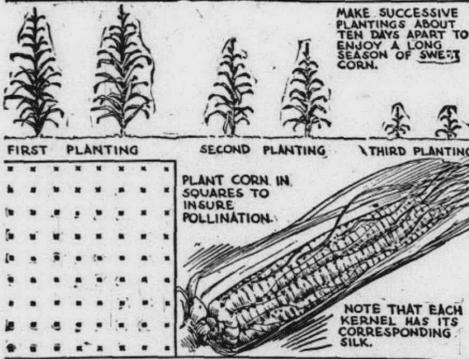

Hybrid sweet corn is gradually displacing open pollinated varieties, though many home gardeners continue to grow the latter. The harvest season of a hybrid variety is usually shorter, and while the ears are larger and the yield heavier. Most hybrid varieties are disease resistant, and more vigorous growers than open pollinated kinds.

To maintain a continuous supply of one hybrid variety more frequent sowings should be made. There are some advantages in sowing at the same time several different varieties, of varying maturity dates, in order to produce a long harvest. This practice also extends the pollination period of the planting, and lessens the danger of failing to fertilize the silks, which may occur in unfavorable weather, when one hybrid variety is grown alone.

A sowing of sweet corn should be made in four short rows rather than in a single long row. This insures that when the pollen is ripe, a cross wind will carry it to the silk in the young ears of an adjoining row, rather than wasting it on the ground, as might be the case in a single row. Each silk must be fertilized by pollen, in order to produce a kernel, and many failures with corn are traceable to poor pollination.

Seed should be sown when danger of frost is over, about two inches deep either in continuous drills or hills. In drills, sow three or four seeds to a foot, later to be thinned out to six inches apart for dwarf growing varieties or a foot apart for tall ones. Space the hills two to three feet apart in the rows, according to the size of the variety, and for both drills and hills, space the rows two to three feet apart.

Deep cultivation of corn must be avoided because the plants have shallow roots; but all weeds should be kept down and the soil stirred, to break its crust, until the plants are half grown.

Start Sowing Vegetables Now

A garden spade has many uses. But if you have a large garden, the best use might be to lean on the spade while you watch someone else plow your garden with a tractor. And now is the time to do that plowing advises a Michigan State horticulturist.

And as long as you're planting a garden, try some different vegetables. Home-grown spinach, for one, is really a sweet, tasty vegetable when planted early and harvested before hot weather. Plant seed thinly—two or three to an inch—and only three-fourths of an inch deep. Plant America or Long Standing Bloomsdale and keep it a couple feet away from your other vegetables. It will be ready to eat by June 1, if you give it a pound of 12-6-6 nitrogen fertilizer per 50 feet of row.

Try planting some beets early for greens or baby beets for buttering or pickling. Again, don't sow too deeply. When the plants are six inches high, thin the crop to one plant every two inches. The thinnings make an excellent cooked vegetable.

Perhaps you'll want a few rows of early potatoes. Plant them about a foot apart in 30-36 inch rows. Work the ground deeply. Use Irish Cobbler, Chippewa or Kennebec varieties. For potato beetles later dust with D.D.T.

Remember, the backache will start soon, as there will be thinning, weeding, hoeing and cultivating to do as the weather turns warm. The agent advises: Make an early start in keeping the weeds down and it will save time later when the hot weather makes the work seem harder.

POP gets so much done by telephone

Leave it to Pop. He says, "I'll give Joe a call," and you know the problem's licked. Who's Joe? Well, he could be any one of a hundred people Pop counts on to keep his family percolating nicely... the insurance man, the dentist, the scoutmaster, the garageman, the fellow down at the drug store. And nine out of ten times, Pop will get in touch with Joe by telephone. That's because the telephone is fast and it's convenient and it saves time and money. So even if you aren't a Pop, and your druggist's name isn't Joe, let your telephone work for you. Use it for everything that makes life easier and more fun. For pleasure, for convenience and for protection—what can equal your telephone?

Air Division Awards Medal to Vernon Cecil

Staff Sergeant Vernon D. Cecil, husband of the former Miss Betty Jean Sellar of Plymouth, has been awarded the Good Conduct medal at Willow Run Air Force station, Belleville, Michigan, headquarters for 30th Air Defense division.

Cecil was awarded the medal for "exemplary behavior, efficiency, and fidelity in an enlisted status" during a three-year period dating from November 2, 1951 to November 1, 1954.

The 30th Air Defense division, where Airman Cecil received the award, is a division of the Air Defense command and is responsible for the defense of an eight-state area in north-central United States, heart of which is the heavily-populated and highly-industrialized Detroit area.

This is How An Average Czech Family Exists Behind Iron Curtain Today

(Editor's Note: Dr. Stanley Chipper, instructor in economics at Michigan State University, was born and educated in Czechoslovakia. Except for five years during World War II as a British intelligence officer, he served six years as an executive of the Bata Shoe Company, formerly the world's largest shoe firm. He became the company's manager of Asiatic trade, travelling extensively in the Middle East and India. When the Communists seized the firm's head offices in Czechoslovakia in 1948, he resigned and immigrated to the U. S. In the following article, he gives a penetrating account of an average family behind the Iron Curtain today.)

By Dr. Stanley Chipper
 The Novaks live in Czechoslovakia in a town of about 50,000 inhabitants.
 Mr. Novak is a skilled industrial worker earning 280 crowns a week. In addition, the Novaks get a government subsidy of about 75 crowns a week for their two children. This brings their total weekly earnings to about 355 crowns. Allowing for taxes and other voluntary contributions—normally deducted from the payroll—the Novaks' spendable income is about 300 crowns a week.
 In order to imagine what Mrs.

Novak has to pay for some of the food items, let us translate her situation into our own. In the U. S. the take-home weekly pay of a skilled industrial worker is around $80. If we assume that Mrs. Novak has the same money to budget with and considering the current prices she pays, her situation is something like this:
 For a pound of bread she pays 17 cents; a pound of pork costs her $4; one dozen eggs, $3.20; a pound of lard, $4.60; butter costs $5.70 a pound; sugar, $8 or five pounds; milk, $1.21 a quart, and potatoes, 25 cents a pound.

If you compare these prices with ours, you will find that an American Mrs. Novak, whose husband, let's say, works in a steel plant or an automobile factory, can buy 11½ times more than her contemporary behind the Iron Curtain.
 However, the shopping troubles of Mrs. Novak over here are not only caused by the high prices she pays. Take the meat, for example. In her town, meat can be obtained only on Fridays and Saturdays.
 So, on Friday, Mrs. Novak gets up quite early and arrives at the store (all stores are state owned and operated) before it opens. Then, when her turn comes, all she can get is 80 kg (1 lb., 12 oz.) per family.
 If she has enough luck, she may get the same amount on Saturday. This would give them a total of 3½ pounds of meat per week, including bones and cuts suitable only for boiling. Since Mrs. Novak has no refrigerator, it is really easier for her to handle smaller quantities.
 Or, look what happens when the Novaks feel like having a cup of coffee occasionally. A pound costs Mrs. Novak no less than $30. At that rate, a cup would come to about $1.10. That's why Mrs. Novak never uses her coffee pure, but mixes it with roasted rye and chicory. When the occasion is especially important, she just adds a little more coffee to make the drink really strong.
 The Novaks know very little about the other food varieties to which we are accustomed. Canned fruit, canned vegetables, breakfast cereals and such like are not among their diet. They know, of course, about the more varied, attractive and better goods produced in the West. But they are convinced that such fancy goods are consumed only by millionaires and not by the working people. Besides, the Novaks do not have the same system of values.

In their part of Europe, the economic system is so harsh on the consumer that he never gets the chance of being "spoiled." In fact, austerity is upheld by the government as something patriotic. This is partly explained as due to shortages caused by the armament race started by the Americans, and partly as a domestic economic necessity for assuring better times ahead.

How do the Novaks and millions like them react to all of this?

The prevailing opinion in the West is that the people are fed up and ready to revolt. Unfortunately, this is not the case. People like the Novaks—and they represent the majority—do not revolt. They just want to stay alive and out of trouble with their government.

The mere fact that the prices are too high in relation to the average incomes will not send them to the barricades. Besides, all people now in their 20's were mere children when the war in Europe started in 1939. Hence, they have no means of comparison.

Those not active in the party or employed by the government, and who remember pre-war conditions, are either old or at least definitely middle-aged, and certainly are not of the hot-headed revolutionary type.

Would this force the conclusion that nothing can be done to help the Novaks and other Europeans now living under the soviet-type economic systems? Of course not.

The more we can show them how the ordinary people live outside of the Iron Curtain, the sooner will they try to bring about a change. Not necessarily a revolution—revolutions are no longer attractive—but a gradual change, which is inevitable under any system.

This imposes a serious obligation on all of us who are fortunate enough to live under non-totalitarian governments. We have to make sure that the ordinary people do live better and will continue to live better—by having good jobs, continuous employment and an important place in the economic system.

It is examples, not words, that will eventually lift the Iron Curtain. For one thing is quite certain: The great bulk of the Novaks will never be sold by the advertising methods of the Cadillac-Bahamas variety.

Private automobile ownership has risen phenomenally during the last ten years, with 15.5 million more cars on the road in 1953 than in 1941. Approximately two-thirds of all American households own at least one car, and 8 per cent own two or more.

THE SENSATIONAL STRATO-STREAK V-8
 Here's the most modern and efficient V-8 in the industry, delivering 200 horsepower with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at very low extra cost.

It's a fact—never before in the history of the automobile industry has a car offered so much power for so little money as the 1955 Pontiac. It is the first and only automobile ever built that delivers 200 horsepower at a price every new-car buyer can afford—hundreds of dollars less than any car equalling its blazing performance.

And that's not all! Pontiac is also the sole automobile at its price to unite the terrific "drive" of 200 horsepower with a road-leveling 122" or 124" wheelbase and such big-car stability. It's the biggest as well as the highest-powered car ever priced with the lowest.

Yes, you read that right! You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars or stripped economy models of higher-priced makes.

Come in and drive this silken-smooth performer. A few miles behind the wheel will tell you better than any words that Pontiac is the greatest buy that ever took the highway!

★ OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COMMISSION ★

Tuesday, April 5, 1955
 A regular meeting of the City Commission was held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall on Tuesday, April 5, 1955 at 7:30 p.m.
PRESENT: Comms. Bauer, Guenther, Hammond, Sincoc and Mayor Daane.
ABSENT: Comms. Henry and Terry (Comms. Henry and Terry arrived at 8:00 p.m.)
 Moved by Comm. Sincoc and supported by Comm. Hammond that the minutes of the regular meeting of March 21, 1955 be approved as read.
 Carried unanimously.
 The Clerk read a communication from the Wayne County Board of Supervisors requesting an opinion relative to the proposal to create the office of county assessor in each county in the state. The City Manager and City Attorney were directed to draft a letter of appropriate reply to the Board of Supervisors objecting to the proposal.
 The Clerk presented a request for a new Tavern and SDM license from the Liquor Control Commission to be issued to John S. Johnston and Robert Ritcher. Moved by Comm. Sincoc and supported by Comm. Guenther that the commission deem 3 licenses to be sufficient in the City of Plymouth and therefore will not approve a fourth license.
 Carried unanimously.
 The City Manager presented a resolution passed by the Wayne County Road Commissioners relative to the use of the Middle Rouge Interceptor Sewer. The communication was ordered accepted and placed on file.
 The City Manager presented a report of terms of rental Parking Lot Agreements.
 Moved by Comm. Bauer and supported by Comm. Hammond that the City Manager or representative explore the possibility of merchants assuming the cost of these particular lots for their own or public parking.
 Carried unanimously.

HEALTH and BEAUTY

Strain, tension and fatigue affect different people different ways. Some have indigestion as a result; some irritation of the bladder; some leg ache; some back ache and others headache. Many more are hit at the back of the neck.
 It is best to know how you are affected. This knowledge of your physical self will save you a lot of trouble and worry. It may well add years to your life. Many people who are in poor health during middle life live to a vital old age by adopting a daily routine especially suited to them.
 Even though you may have general good health, there are probably several little things about your physical individuality that you would be wise to remember. There are many people with good digestion as a rule, but who know that certain foods will disagree with them. Most people find it almost impossible to digest food eaten in an atmosphere of unhappiness or friction.
 You have probably found that if you are in the hot sun for a long time you will develop a headache. It may be that you do not react well to a cold shower.

AMONG THE DELEGATES representing 17 colleges at the student branch convention of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers in Detroit last weekend was Stewart Oldford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Oldford of 9825 Beck road. Stewart was elected delegate to the convention from Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton. He is a junior.

MISS DONNA RENWICK, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Renwick of 1325 Ann Arbor road, was elected president recently of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority at Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti.

ON THE HONORS list of 558 Michigan State college students for the winter term are Plymouthites Charles R. Crowther, Doranne Wilton and Gladys Witt.

ANOTHER PLYMOUTHITE studying at Michigan School of Mining at Houghton is Ronald Krump, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Krump of Gold Arbor. A sophomore, Ronald was recently promoted to the grade of cadet private first class in the Army ROTC.

NEW HISTORIAN of Sigma Chi fraternity at Michigan State college is William E. Arscott, sophomore son of Mr. and Mrs. William Arscott of Forest avenue.

DONALD THRALL, art instructor at Cass Technical high school in Detroit and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thrall of 288 Irvin, became the second graduate of Plymouth high school class of 1936 to win a Guggenheim award recently. Thrall's fellowship award amounts to $3500 which he will use studying in Europe late this year. Russell Kirk was the other class of '36 graduate to be so honored.

A THOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK: Convictions are splendid when they relate to important matters; they are a public nuisance when they provoke a row over a petty detail.—Bruce Barton.

Thank You!

Sterling Eaton, Editor
The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Mr. Eaton:

On behalf of the Plymouth School - Community Planning Group may I take this opportunity to thank both you and your staff for the interest you have shown in the schools and in the work of this group. Most especially appreciated was the news coverage and editorial comment on the recent school bond issue. The members of the Planning Group feel the influence of The Mail was a contributing factor to the success of the campaign.

Sincerely yours,
Frances S. Bauer, Secretary
Plymouth School-Community Planning Group

Manufacturing Up 17% in Michigan

Value added by manufacture in Michigan in 1953 was $9,781,647,000, an increase of 17.6 per cent over 1952, according to 1953 annual survey of manufactures estimates released today by Supervisor Robert G. Gillespie of the census bureau's district office in Detroit.

Michigan ranked fifth among the states in value added by manufacture according to the 1953 survey, following New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Average number of manufacturing employees in Michigan in 1953 was 1,231,334 with total salaries and wages of $5,919,426,000, an increase from 1,063,873 employees with salaries and wages of $4,932,989,000 in 1952.

The transportation equipment industry in Michigan in 1953 had value added by manufacture of $3,726,365,000, an average of 476,137 employees, and total salaries and wages of $2,222,844,000 for the year, an increase from value added of $3,279,896,000; 893,889 employees, and salaries and wages of $1,830,112,000 in 1952.

Information on manufacturing activities in 1954 is now being collected in the 1954 census of manufactures and statistics for states, their counties and cities, covering all important industries will be published before the end of this year.

You may get a stain much like iron rust when you iron material that hasn't been rinsed well—and some soap still remains in the fabric. To remove such a stain, wash the article with soap and water—being very sure this time to rinse well. Bleaching in the sun afterwards sometimes helps.

OUTDOOR NOTES
From The
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Smelt were running in streams all around the edges of the northern lower peninsula during the weekend.

Thousands of anglers crowded streams tributary to the Great Lakes and carted home uncounted tubsfull of the tasty little fish.

Conservation department field workers expect the runs to continue about two weeks.

Long-range development plans for eight state recreation areas in southeastern Michigan were presented to the parks committee of the conservation commission recently.

The work will be done in the next 10-15 years, dependant on funds and on how quickly key lands can be purchased for public use.

Twenty-eight water impoundments have been planned in the eight areas to make up for a general scarcity of lakes and swimming areas.

The eight areas are Bald Mountain, Brighton, Holly, Island Lake, Metamora, Ortonville, Pinckney and Proud Lake. All are located within 50 miles of Detroit.

Public fishing sites on Lloyd's Bayou in Ottawa county and Gratiot Lake in Keweenaw county will be purchased in the near future.

The state conservation commission approved the purchase during a meeting and also authorized purchase of 343 acres of forest, park and game lands.

Mineral leases, land exchanges and other routine business problems were acted on.

The commission will next meet in Lansing, May 12-13.

Sixty-seven fires burned 261 acres of forests and grasslands in Michigan last week.

Conservation department records show 2271 acres have been burned this year in 327 fires.

The conservation commission approved a September 1-15 bear hunting season in Chippewa county during its recent monthly meeting.

Hunters may take bears with or without the use of dogs. The only other bear hunting permitted is during the October 1-November 5 small game and archery seasons and during the regular November 15-30 deer hunting season.

Ten thousand spawning walleyed pike were lifted above the dam at Newwaygo in the annual "Newwaygo lift" this year.

Walleyes spawn up the Muskegon River each year, but their movement upstream is halted at the dam. As a compromise, between up-and down-river fishermen, dipnetters are allowed 15 nights to lift 10,000 walleyes above the dam.

This year, the maximum was reached after 12 nights of netting. The fish were released in a number of backwaters including Newwaygo, Croton, Hardy, Rogers and Morley.

Last year, 7840 walleyes made the trip over the dam. The last previous year the maximum 10,000 was reached was 1952.

Spear fishermen took more than 23,000 pike from Fletcher Floodwater during the January-February spearing season this year.

A similar Floodwater creel census made in 1948 showed that fishermen took about 14,000 northern during the same length season.

However, 15,000 anglers took part in the 1955 season, while 9700 angled in the 1948 season.

Fish taken this year averaged 1.14 pounds; in 1948, the average was 1.84 pounds.

The spearing this year provided anglers 74,000 hours of fishing enjoyment.

HOTTEST-SELLING BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

UNLESS we miss our guess, a lot of surprised people are going to do some new back-of-an-envelope arithmetic when they see the Buick price shown here.

Because we know that many folks still don't realize how little a Buick really costs—that the dollar difference between this big Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan and the leading smaller cars has virtually disappeared.

Buick Sales Are Soaring As Never Before

But more and more of them are finding it out. And that's a major reason why Buick production and Buick sales are soaring to all-time highs today—and why Buick again is outselling all other cars, regardless of price range, except two of the well-known smaller cars.

Big reason, too, for this soaring popularity is Buick's full line of automobiles, giving you a choice in any price class—the rock-bottom-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the supremely spacious SUPER, and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

But above all, more and more people are discovering that the price you pay for a Buick buys more sheer automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

More advanced styling, more deep-down comfort, more pure power thrill, more ride steadiness and handling ease and solidity of structure.

More spectacular performance, too, from the modest extra cost of Buick's automatic transmission.

For here you get Variable Pitch Dynaflo†—the new wonder drive born of modern aeronautics to give you instant full-power getaway and acceleration when needed—and far better gas mileage when cruising.

Why not come see us this week, for sure? We'll be happy to have you test-pilot a new Buick, just for the sheer thrill of it—and show you quite clearly that if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick.

†Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick
