Nazarenes Report On World Growth

Ray Williams, director of Church of the Nazarene music and leader of the denomination's youth activities in the area, has returned from Kansas City, Missouri where 12,000 Nazarenes held their 14th quadrennial general assembly.

The large gathering heard reports telling that 700 new churches were established in 1952-56; there was a gain of 37,500 members or a 15 per cent increase, making a total of 280,000 members; that Sunday school enrollment has climbed 21 per cent to 605,000; that a total of $10,500,000 was given to world evangelism in the same period and that a study showed the Nazarene church gained 653.7 per cent in membership from 1916 to 1952, or the best record among 126 Protestant bodies.

While the church is gaining, they have no intention of resting on their oars. Their 1956-60 goal includes 1,000 new churches, 1,000,000 in Sunday school enrollment, $14,000,000 for world missions and 150,000 new members on profession of faith.

Dr. S. T. Ludwig was elected general secretary for the church and Mrs. Louis R. Chapman of Vicksburg, Michigan was re-elected president of the Foreign Missionary society. Plans for a new $1,600,000 Nazarene publishing house to be located in Kansas City near the new headquarters were approved.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Straub, daughter, Sandra, and sons Philip and Robert, are vacationing for two weeks on Lake Michigan near Ludington.

Ambulance Man Delivers Baby

A Plymouth mother-to-be lost her race to the hospital with the stork last Friday morning as an ambulance rushed her down Canton Center road—but a Schrader Funeral home attendant saw to it that the mother got her prize anyway.

Mrs. Luiz Ramirez, 760 Blunk, was first hurried by her husband to city hall at 8:45 a.m. The ambulance was then summoned and sped south on Canton Center road toward Ridgewood Osteopathic hospital near Ypsilanti.

But the stork was just too fast for driver Ford Anthony. As the ambulance approached Ford road, a healthy baby girl made her way into the world with the aid of Attendant Robert Brown.

Brown, who is married but has no children of his own, had no trouble with the job and both mother and child are reported "doing fine." This was the first time that Brown has had such an experience, although attendants are given some instruction "just in case."

This was the family's second child.

The Bernard Curtis family are vacationing at their cottage on Pleasant lake near Saline.

Over a dozen Rotarians will make special telephone calls from 7 p.m. on July 9 and hope to call most Plymouthites during the evening. Another crew of men will be standing by with cars to deliver the tickets immediately if they are wanted.

The First Presbyterian church was decorated with palms, bouquets of white murguerites and snapdragons and tiers of lighted tapers for the four-thirty-o'clock ceremony, Saturday, June 16, uniting Nancy Louise Brannan and Ernest M. Moran.

Her fingertip length veil fell from a crown of seedpearls and she wore matching lace mitts. She carried an arrangement of staphanotis, pale pink rosebuds and white orchids.

Those Model Planes

Dear Sir:
This is to the 33 people who signed a petition against the model fliers. There are several who are teenagers, some younger and some older.

What if these boys didn't have this hobby and turned their energy and interest to vandalism. These same 33 people would sit back and say "tut, tut, isn't it too bad they didn't have something better to do?"

These boys who want the right to use the school grounds two or three hours on Sunday have been taught in this same school that this is a free country, a land of opportunity.

"As far as the city having, or professing, no selfish tax motives in annexation, one only needs to look at the map of the area they propose to annex which indicates something entirely different than such a statement.

"Let me ask, who needs the benefit of the Burrough's corporation's taxes the most—the city of 1.9 miles that is fully developed and by its own testimony doesn't need new revenue; or a Township of 16 square miles which is just underway with its development?"

"The mayor in his letter to Mr. Hall states, 'taxes of the township will increase if they are to provide necessary services. This already has been demonstrated by a four mill increase in the Township tax rate and the proposed $1,875,000 bond issue for sewer and water.'

"The effect of any annexation is simply retardation of the township's efforts for any development. Our own financial position is excellent; our cost of government is low; our bonding position was excellent until this annexation and the airport site were brought into the picture.

In the mayor's determination to prove himself right - although only 799 people out of the city's population of 8,114 agree with him (Nov. 1 election) - he is doing immeasurable harm to the city's business and Chamber of Commerce by antagonizing the people in Plymouth township and Canton township.

"Somebody once said: Spend half of your time attending to your own business and the other half letting the other fellow attend to his."

SANG MAN LEE, who left his native Korea two years ago to study in the U.S., is shown with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lodge, 45075 North Territorial, where he has been staying for the past few weeks. Lee is awaiting a job July 1 with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He is a graduate in geological engineering and will receive his Masters this fall. He plans to study for his Ph. D. then.

Korean Visits Plymouth While Awaiting Army Job

Hoping to return to his native Korea as the Seoul National University's second teacher to hold a Ph. D. degree in geology, Sang Man Lee has been a guest in a Plymouth household for the past few weeks while awaiting a job with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lodge, 45075 North Territorial road, have been hosts to the 30-year-old Lee. He is a student at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton and on July 1 will start the Army job as a surveyor and geological interpreter for the widening and deepening of the Detroit river as part of the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

"American people seem to enjoy life more than the Korean," he observed as he told of his dreams for the future. Lee came from Kim-chun where his wife and two children await his return. But it may be a while before he goes home again. Lee wants to get his master's degree next fall, work a while and then stay for his Ph. D.

The former captain in the Korean air force during the recent war then expects to return home to teach at Seoul National University. He had once taught geology at the Korean Air Academy.

Before coming to Michigan, Lee studied a year at the University of Colorado.

Prevent Fires Keep Fuel Safe

With the increasing number of families enjoying the benefits of power mowers and boating in front of their own outboard motors, there is increasing danger from carelessly kept fuel.

Explosions and dangerous fires caused by gasoline and kerosene fumes can be avoided by careful use of the fuel. Whenever filling the fuel tanks of outboard or power mower motors, be sure no one is smoking nearby. Never attempt to refill the fuel tank while the motor is running. To safely store the fuel, put it in a leak-proof galvanized steel fuel can, and place it in a garage or tool shed, away from the house or summer cottage. Galvanized steel fuel cans are equipped with snug fitting caps on the pouring spouts to safely confine dangerous fumes.

Women's Club Ends Second Year Of Service at Northville Hospital

Plymouth's Women's club is completing its second year of volunteer service at Northville state hospital. During this time, the group has been adopting one of the 33-bed patient wards for monthly ward parties and each month a group of from six to eight women bring out a program, refreshments and birthday gifts for the patients on their ward.

A parade that answers a phone ring by calling out C-2-4 was another one of the many contributions of the group.

Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of social service and the volunteer program, states:

"The work of the club has certainly been of benefit to the patients. Through the ingenuity of its members in providing a variety of programs for the young women on their ward, they have been able to create interest and anticipation for their next program. The club's project is a part of the care and treatment program at Northville."

In speaking further of the volunteer program at Northville, Mrs. Seefeldt indicated that other Plymouth residents have been well represented at the hospital in the past four years, there have been the Plymouth Birthday Ladies' ward parties, high school concerts and educational visits and various service club programs. All the volunteer efforts of our citizenry have brought the facts about mental illness and its care and treatment to the total community. By continued active support of the hospital's purposes and programs, we are furthering the advances in the solving of the nation's number one health problem, mental illness.

The Reader Speaks Up City Clerk Answers Letters

Mr. Orville Tungate
Plymouth Democratic Party
Chairman
9433 Brookline
Plymouth, Michigan

Dear Sir:
In reply to your letter to me in the public letter box of The Plymouth Mail in the issue of Thursday, June 21, 1956, concerning registration of Plymouth city voters at locations other than at the City Hall, I wish to advise that our budget for the current period does not permit the hiring of additional personnel to expand the registration drive.

We receive registrations at the City Hall each week day until 5:00 p.m. On Friday, we are open until 8:30 p.m. It is our policy that if any person is an invalid, we register the person at his home.

However, if you have any members in your group who would be willing to serve without remuneration and who are registered voters in the City of Plymouth, we would be happy to have them obtain additional registrations at locations you feel are essential. These people should work under a competent supervisor, such as yourself, and I, too, shall be pleased to supervise in my free time.

It is gratifying to know that you have a very high sense of civic responsibility and we hope your enthusiasm for the performance of one's civic duty will be infectious.

Yours truly,
Kenneth E. Way
City Clerk

Incredible Story
"At eight o'clock last night I said to my wife: 'Let's go out for a spin.' In 15 minutes she was ready. We started across the river, when our car ran off the open bridge and sank into the river. Fortunately a great big dog on the bank dived in and saved us. Then he went up on the highway and barked for help. You smile—what do you find incredible in this?"

"That part of your wife dressing in 15 minutes."

Looking busy has become one of the great talents in government work.

This would be a wonderful world, with millions of nice people, if men and women would learn to mind their own business.

Present: Commissioners O'Brien and Wilson. Commissioner Kreger arrived later.

Commissioner Kreger moved the adoption of the following resolution: BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, that the following described roads be and they are hereby taken over as county roads and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

All of Lakeland Court and Finch Avenue as dedicated for public use in Finch Subdivision of part of the N. E. 1/4 of Section 22, T15, R22E, Plymouth Twp., Wayne County, Michigan, as recorded in Liber 79 of Plats on Page 32, Wayne County records, constituting a total of 0.237 mile of county road.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Wilson and carried by the following vote: Ayes: Commissioners O'Brien, Kreger, and Wilson. Nays: None.

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF ACT NO. 283 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1909, AS AMENDED.

Evans Products Credit Union Assets Reach Half Million Mark in 7 Years

A $50 savings bond was presented to William Wells of Farmington recently because he deposited $10 in the Evans Products company's Federal Credit Union.

Not everybody gets a return on their money like this. Wells happened to be the person who raised the assets of the credit union over the half million dollar mark—$500,000.64 to be exact.

Organized on June 10, 1949 with 60 members and a total of $300 in assets, the Federal Credit Union at Evans now has more than 1,000 members, most of them from the Plymouth area. The credit union provides low cost loans to its members at less than one per cent a month. It also provides free life insurance to both borrowers and shareholders and has paid a dividend of four per cent or more to its shareholders each year since its organization.

Two of the original members of the board of directors are still serving. They are Roscoe R. Woodward, vice-president; and Donald B. Stinson, treasurer-manager. Other board members are James F. Simmons, president; Walter Hagen, clerk; and A. M. Morrison, educational director.

Local Junior Achievers Issue Record Dividends

A record breaking year in sales, profits and dividends was chalked up by the eight Junior Achievement companies of Plymouth in their operations which ended in mid-May.

Wallace L. Fleming, executive director of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, announced that local teen-agers grossed $2,100 in the "Learn by Doing" operations of their own miniature business corporations from October 1955 through last month.

Other statistics on Plymouth's teen-aged businessmen and women are:

Net profits totaling $225; average dividends to the hundreds of investors who purchased stock in the firms (at 50 cents a share) of 7 per cent; total "income tax" paid by the Plymouth JA firms, $33. The tax money goes to the Achiever's Association of Southeastern Michigan, which carries on social activities for all Achievers and provides travel awards for delegates to JA conferences.

Fleming singled out the Bill-Rite company, sponsored by Burroughs corporation, as Plymouth's outstanding JA firm. The company, headed by President Ken Bourgon, 17, of 11006 Melrose, Livonia, grossed more than $800 in the sale of its nut and bolt dispensers and won second place in the local JA Industry Awards competition for having one of the outstanding company operations in the miscellaneous category of JA manufacturing operations.

In all, the 274 JA enterprises in Southeastern Michigan grossed $121,000 in sales; paid an average dividend of more than 8 per cent; total taxes of $2,255 and enjoyed a net profit of $12,144, which was partitioned off in contributions to charities and bonuses for members of the various firms.

All JA firms ended operations on May 14. During the summer months JA will be preparing for the sponsorship of new miniature enterprises that will begin operations next October.

Each JA firm requires sponsorship by a senior business which will provide a team of three executives to counsel the boys and

Youth Confesses Theft Of $100 from Cleaner

A 12-year-old boy has confessed to taking $100 from the Tait's Cleaner & Tailors office at 275 South Main street.

Police said that the youth had thrown a rock through a window to gain entrance and took the money from a cash register. Some money was dropped in his apparent haste to leave.

An employee of the Schradler Funeral home across the street saw the boy beside the building and was able to give some description. Police Chief Kenneth Fisher said that the boy, who had been picked up for similar violations six times in Detroit and once here, was suspected and admitted the theft when questioned.

He has been placed in the custody of his parents until juvenile authorities decide what type of action should be taken.

THE TOP 25 per cent of State Farm Insurance company's field representatives will meet the first week in August in New York City. An invitation to attend this meeting has been received by Plymouth Representative James Moore.

THE CHARACTER Research Education conference which preceded the youth congress last week at Union college was attended by Mrs. Neal Bowen of Penniman avenue and Mrs. Don Urquhart of Arthur street.

WITH PLYMOUTHITES IN THE SERVICE

Brief items of interest about Plymouthites in the services are welcomed in this column, providing the information does not conflict with press security policies.

Fred L. Knupp

Army PFC Fred L. Knupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knupp, 41307 Wilcox road, recently completed a 25-day series of field training tests with the 10th Infantry Division in Germany. The tests included squad, platoon and company combat tactics and individual survival under simulated battle conditions. A driver with Company H of the division's 87th Infantry Regiment, Knupp entered the Army in January 1955 and was stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas, before arriving in Europe the following September.

Ronald N. Johnson

PFC Ronald N. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Johnson, 600 Ann street, is playing softball in Germany on the 188th Airborne Infantry Regiment's Service Company team. Johnson entered the Army in November 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood.

Owners of Centennial Farms Honored at Dinner

Owners of nine Wayne county farms that have remained in the same families for 100 years or longer were honored on June 20 at a dinner sponsored by the Michigan Historical Commission and Detroit Edison company. The farm having the longest family ownership is that of Miss Caroline Riddle, 17335 Newburgh road, Livonia. Her grandfather, William Riddle, purchased the 80-acre tract for $300 in 1830. Another centennial farm in the area is that of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman G. Hasselbach, 39412 VanBorn road, Canton township. It was purchased in 1852 by Christopher Hasselbach. The Michigan Centennial Farm program was inaugurated in 1948 and to date 775 awards have been made throughout the state.

There is something to Viscount Montgomery's suggestion, that we have one service and air, sea and ground branches of it.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

A 2500-3000 acre recreation area in southwestern Michigan will be made available for public use if a lease arrangement can be worked out between the Conservation Department and the Department of the Army. The area under consideration is in the southern portion of Fort Custer, near Battle Creek. The land is not being used for military purposes at present and the Conservation Department wants to make it available for public recreation. A request for a lease of the territory has been filed with Wilber M. Brucker, secretary of the army. Immediate consideration was promised by Brucker.

The lease arrangement originally was suggested by Robert F. Brevitz, chairman of the state Conservation Commission. Conservation officials inspected the area and consider it highly desirable for public use. Brevitz called the land "ideal for picnicking, camping, hiking, hunting, winter sports and other recreational activities."

The tract is accessible by highway US-12 and public use of the area would not involve traffic through the main developed section of the fort. The Conservation Department would assume all costs of developing the area for recreational use, including posting boundaries, providing road blocks where necessary, road construction and maintenance, and sanitary facilities. The Department also would be responsible for fire protection while the land is under state control. The lease would be cancelled and the land would revert immediately to the army in the event of a national emergency.

Federal and state fishery research workers released 350 drift bottles in and near Saginaw Bay last week in hopes of gaining more information about fishery problems of the Bay. Persons recovering the bottles are urged to return the card contained in each bottle to the Conservation Department's institute for fisheries research at Ann Arbor. The finder will be informed where and when the bottle was set adrift. More than 2000 drift bottles will be released in Saginaw Bay and southern Lake Huron this summer. Recoveries of the bottles will give researchers necessary information about currents in these waters.

Biologists believe that knowledge of water movements may help to answer questions about perch growth, which has declined in Saginaw Bay in the past 25 years, and diminishing walleye populations. Searching for some 5000 drift bottles along Lake Michigan shores was a popular sport among beachgoers in 1954 and 1955. About 2000 of the Lake Michigan bottles still are unrecovered. The Saginaw Bay is a co-operative project of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Michigan Conservation Department.

Fires damaged 149 acres of state and private forests and grasslands in Michigan last week, boosting the year's damage total to 2222 acres. Thirty-five fires were reported during the last week, 17 in the upper peninsula, 13 in the northern lower peninsula and five in the southern lower peninsula.

Hardest hit area was the southwestern lower peninsula where two fires damaged 66 acres. Other damage included 55 acres in the U.P. and 26 acres in the northern lower peninsula. An estimated 140 bobcats were taken by hunters during the lower peninsula's first hunting season on the species, December 15-March 15.

During early December, 148 known bobcat hunters were asked to keep records of their hunting success. About 76 percent of these hunters cooperated and kill estimates were made from their records. The kill figure closely agreed with estimates by Conservation Department district game supervisors. Hunters had better success in the first half of the season, bagging 77 percent of the total kill by January 31. The kill in the latter half of the season probably was down because most surplus cats already had been taken and weather conditions were less favorable for hunting. Hunters said at least 25 treed cats were allowed to escape in order to save breeding stock for future years.

Applications for employment in Conservation Department game work are being accepted by the Michigan Civil Service Commission. An examination to be given August 4 will fill vacancies in the position of Game Biologist I. Deadline for applications is June 27. An employee in this class performs game research and related work. Requirements for the position include a college degree in game biology, zoology, wildlife management, or allied subjects. Application blanks and additional information can be obtained at all county clerk offices, Michigan employment security offices, or from the Civil Service Commission, Lewis Cass building, Lansing.

Grange Cleanings

Our meeting last Thursday evening was a very pleasant occasion when nine new members were received into the order. We hope it will be of some pleasure and benefit to them and we know it is much satisfaction to us. There was a good attendance in spite of the fact that it was a very hot night. The contest on the sun back dresses was decided at the meeting and the result was as follows: Milly Rienas, first prize; Margaret Groth, honorable mention. There were several dresses, all were so worthy of a prize it was difficult to judge them. The judges were Mrs. Mildred Van-Hoy and Mrs. Olive Olson. Mrs. Olson is a member of the Wayne County Extension Board and also president of the Plymouth branch of that group. Mrs. Margaret Groth won the prize for her beautiful hooked rug. The program consisted of old fashioned songs and music. Next will come the first picnic on July 5 at the picnic ground just south of the railroad viaduct, as near 6:30 as it is possible. It will be potluck.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. Veresh Offers Real Hungarian Dessert

From the favorite recipe files of Mrs. Steve Veresh, 42460 Clemons drive, comes this week's featured dish, a typical Hungarian dessert cake entitled Nut Torte.

The dish, a special item for the whole family, is a particular favorite of Mr. Veresh. The Veresh's are both of Hungarian descent, with Mrs. Veresh being born in Hungary. The couple has two children, Stephen, 18, and Judy, 16.

A somewhat different touch in the ingredients is the addition of a peeled and grated apple to spice the flavor. Here's how you can make Mrs. Veresh's suggested Nut Torte in the real Hungarian manner:

- Ingredients:
6 eggs, separated
2 cups ground walnuts
1 peeled apple, grated
1 1/2 cup fine granulated sugar
1/2 cup fine cracker meal
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder.

Beat egg yolks until thick, add sugar gradually and beat until lemon colored. About seven minutes with a mixer. Stir baking powder into cracker meal. Fold nuts and meal into egg mixture. Fold in beaten egg whites.

Grease and flour bottoms of nine inch cake pans. Bake in 325 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes in six to eight layers.

Mrs. Veresh suggested a Hungarian frosting as filling between the Nut Torte layers. Here's her recipe for the frosting:

- Ingredients:
1/4 lb. sweet butter

Mrs. Steve Veresh is shown preparing the walnuts for her favorite recipe, a typical Hungarian dessert entitled Nut Torte. She said its a special item with her whole family. The Veresh's live at 42460 Clemons drive.

- 2 cups 10-X sugar
1 egg, separated
cocoa, as desired
1/2 tsp. cold strong coffee
1 tsp. vanilla
Cream the butter, add 1 1/2 cup

- sugar. Mix well. Add cocoa until desired color is attained. Add coffee and vanilla. Beat egg white with rest of sugar and fold into butter mixture. Keep ingredients cold.

Seven Year Itch Begins At Will-O-Way July 3

"The Seven Year Itch" will be the next production staged at the Will-O-Way playhouse when "The Solid Gold Cadillac" concludes its successful run on July 1. Written by George Axelrod, "Seven Year Itch" will open for a two week stay July 3. It concerns one of the commonest maladies to strike the male of the species as he approaches the "dangerous years." It is accompanied by a gleam in the eye, irrational actions and sudden flights of fancy.

It records the harried vascillations of a New York "cliff dweller" who is batching it while his family is at the seashore. A captivating blonde in the upstairs apartment is the cause of his stubborn duel with his conscience.

Here's Way to Pack Family Picnic Basket

Fourth of July often means family picnics. The success of a picnic meal depends as much on the packing as on the food itself. Nina Lou Baird, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent, suggests trying these methods of packing picnic foods:

Baked potatoes are wonderful for a close-at-home picnic. Plan so they come out of the oven just as you are ready to leave the house. Wrap the potatoes in a big towel and tuck in a shopping bag. Don't forget to pack plenty of butter in with the cold things in the picnic basket. You will need salt and pepper, too. At the picnic site, cut a gash in each potato, squeeze it lightly, and drop in a generous chunk of butter.

Deviled eggs are always welcome picnic fare. For easiest packing, put the deviled halves back together. Wrap them in waxed paper, and pack in a cardboard egg carton.

A simple way to manage is to make plain bread-and-butter sandwiches at home. Put them back into the waxed bread wrapper the loaf came in. Take along sliced meats and cheese and jars of sandwich filling. Let each person make his own to his heart's content. Done this way, the sandwiches are really fresh at eating time—and means less work for Mother.

Be sure to take the sandwich trimmings. Trimmings like pickles, relish, mustard, chili sauce and lettuce wrapped separately are the usual favorites.

When making prepared sandwiches for a hike, butter both pieces of bread. This will keep the filling from soaking into the bread. Make the hiker's lunch adequate. Sweet filling and protein fillings should be used for sandwiches.

Remember there are hot sandwiches besides the hot dog and hamburger, says Mrs. Baird. Any thick coated main dish can be heated in a bun. She also mentions that toasted cheese, peanut butter or salad filled sandwiches are good. For a heavier type sandwich, many people find that broiled steak, ham and lamb are also good on bread.

The disappearance of the cracker-barrel has meant the virtual disappearance of philosophers.

Pointer for Picnickers: Prepare the Easy Way

Picnics are one of those special summertime treats that serve to compensate for the stress of the sweltering days of the summer season.

While a picnic is an occasion to be enjoyed by the whole family, many times it turns out to be enjoyable for everyone except Mom, who has to do the cooking. But she can have fun too if the menu is built around easy-to-prepare sandwiches and cookies served with plenty of ice-cold milk.

For easy sandwiches, take cheese as the basis. Most every cheese lends itself well to sandwich-making, and can be used

Beat eggs. Add brown sugar and granulated sugar. Pour melted butter over the egg mixture and blend. Add flour, chopped nuts and vanilla and mix well. Pour into a lightly buttered 9-inch square pan and bake at 350° for 30-40 minutes. Cut into squares or bars while slightly warm.

DRIED BEEF AND CHEESE SPREAD

- 2 cups spread
- 1 cup finely shredded dried beef
- 1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons cream
- 1/2 cup very finely chopped sweet pickle

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Use as a spread for sandwiches.

DRIED BEEF AND CHEESE SANDWICHES

- 8 sandwiches
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) softened butter
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup pickle relish
- 1 7-oz jar dried beef
- 8 slices sharp Cheddar cheese

Mix softened butter, celery, and pickle relish. Spread on bread or rolls. Fill with several slices of dried beef and a slice of cheese. These sandwiches can be served hot. Spread rolls with butter mixture, top one side with dried beef and sliced cheese. Place under broiler until cheese melts and bread is toasted.

alone or in combination with meat or other cheeses.

Stir up a batch of butter pecan bars to take along as picnic cookie fare. These pecan bars have a tempting flavor that comes from the butter that's used in them.

BUTTER PECAN BARS

- 3 dozen
- 9-inch square pan
- 350° preheated oven
- 30-40 minutes
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 3/4 cup melted butter
- 1 1/4 cups sifted flour
- 1 cup chopped pecans
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

This tempting gelatin salad combines two dairy products, creamed cottage cheese and double-rich evaporated milk. The evaporated milk is chilled and whipped to make the salad high and fluffy. Chopped celery and pecans add contrasting crunchiness.

Rolls of cold sliced ham and an assortment of hot dinner rolls with plenty of butter will complete your luncheon menu nicely.

APRICOT LIME SALAD
8 servings

- 8-inch ring mold
- 1 No. 303 can peeled whole apricots
- 1 package lime flavored gelatin
- Apricot syrup plus water to make 1 cup
- 1 cup creamed cottage cheese
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk, chilled to cold

Drain apricots and save syrup. Remove pits from apricots and cut in half. Place apricot halves in the bottom of an 8-inch ring mold. If there are a few halves left, cut into small pieces and add to gelatin when other ingredients are added. Place gelatin in a medium size mixing bowl. Heat apricot syrup and water to boiling. Pour the hot liquid over gelatin and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill gelatin until it is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Add the cottage cheese, celery, pecans and lemon juice. Whip milk in a chilled bowl until it is stiff and will hold a peak. Fold into chilled gelatin mixture. Spoon into mold. Chill until firm, about 3 hours.

Choose Open Stock Furniture When Beginning Married Life

Choosing furnishings for her new home is one of the pleasant tasks of the season's many brides-to-be.

Because most newly-wed couples spend at least the first few years of their married life in an apartment, Nina Lou Baird, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent, advises that the smart bride will choose furniture for her apartment that she can move into a more spacious house.

Double duty pieces, which are beautiful yet functional are an asset in a small apartment. Low tables that can be used as seats, and storage pieces that are decorative and allow flexibility in room arrangement are very popular.

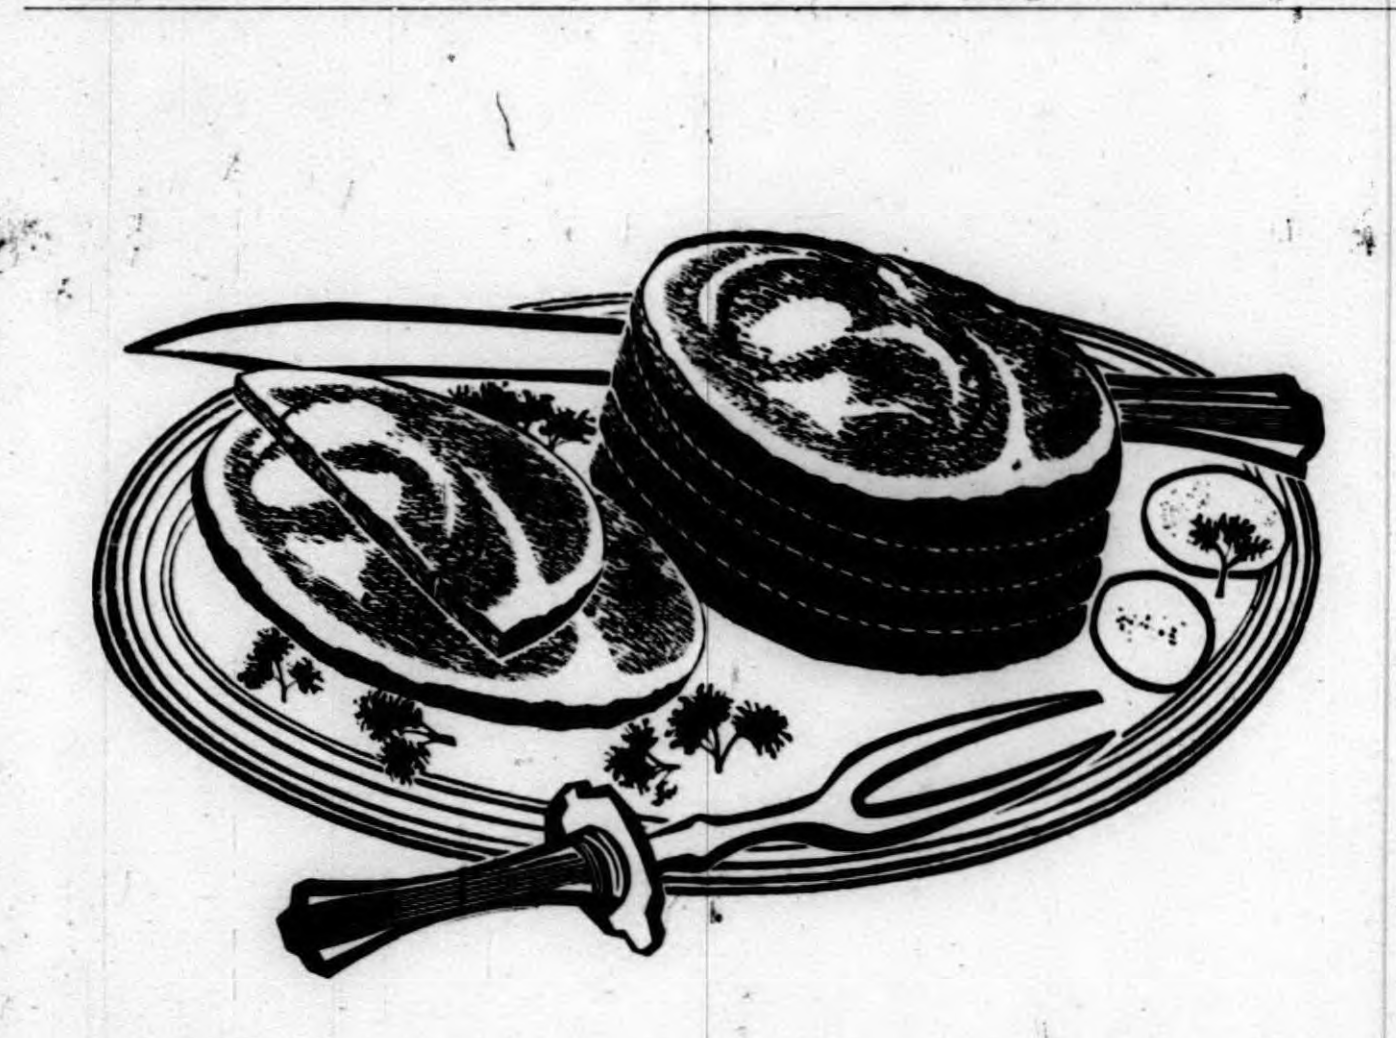

A good idea for the brand new homemaker, continues Mrs. Baird, is to buy "open stock" furniture. She can choose basic pieces which will fit into her apartment now and add to the group when she moves into a house.

Many lines offer chests and other pieces in a variety of sizes to fit the bride's requirements. Investigate, too, the pieces which are made to fit into usually wasted corner space.

Italian provincial styling is the fashion news this year. Its straight lines allow it to blend

WATCH YOUR BIAS CUTS

Have you ever been caught in the rain and actually seen your crepe dress creep up and shrink right on you? It can happen! Or has your favorite bias skirt or dress developed an uneven hemline in wear or cleaning? If your garment shrinks, or if the hemline becomes uneven, your drycleaner may be able to stretch it back to shape. His success will depend on the type of fabric, the garment design and construction. Consult him for information!

Consider these points in purchasing a bias cut garment!

- Bias cut fabrics stretch under their own weight until they reach the maximum point of stretching.
- Heavily creped yarns shrink when wet.
- Heavily sized crepe yarns relax and stretch once the sizing is partially or completely removed.
- Bias cut garments made from fabric that has not been pre-shrunk usually shrink in the warp or lengthwise direction. Since the other direction shrinks less, the hemline becomes uneven.

Only there a couple of seconds I traveled to the Mayflower drug store for some supplies. Then on to Paul Haywards where I fell into the hands of Bill Pettingill. # What's New in Getaway? Try a '56 Buick and See!

Buick SUPER 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera

You've probably heard us say a lot, recently, about the 1956 Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

And maybe you've wondered just what that "new" means.

Well, it means a brand-new principle in transmission design that the engineers call "double regeneration." A new way to make whirling oil add to its own velocity. A new way to produce fast torque build-up at only part throttle.

What does it do for you?

It gives you a quick new getaway response right in the first inch of pedal travel—right where you do most of your normal driving—and right where you get better gas mileage every inch of the way.

It gives you more safety-surge breakaway when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch—more electrifying full-power acceleration to pull out of a tight spot.

And it gives you all this with absolute smoothness—whether you're in stop-and-go traffic, or in a highway emergency—because no gears ever shift in Dynaflo.

But if you think this great new getaway is the only reason for Buick's strong position in the Top 3 of America's best sellers—listen:

In every 1956 Buick there's newness from end to end.

New 322-cubic-inch V8 engines. New brakes, new frame, new rear end. A new deep-oil cushioned ride. New "sense of direction" tracking steadiness. New steering linkage and front-end geometry. New handling ease, new quiet, new comfort, new safety. New carburetor "deicing." New exhaust manifolding. New interlocking safety door latches. New Safety-Aim headlights. New features everywhere you look—including new styling and beauty inside and out.

What it all adds up to is the Best Buick Yet, by far. And we cordially invite you to come see and sample all the new thrills a '56 Buick has in store for you.

You'll find them packaged in a price that makes any model you choose your smartest buy yet. Can you make it this week?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Living-Dining Area Features Many Creative Decor Ideas

The uncluttered sweep of this merging living-dining area is emphasized by the simple dignity of the built-in dining corner and paneled fireplace, both finished in rich earth colors. The coffee table is a circle of travertine marble with plywood base, and plywood is teamed with glass shelves in the plant stand beside the fireplace.

The decor of this dual-purpose area, planned by Kim Hoffman and Stephen Heidrich, leading New York City interior designers, is a palette of earth colors which ranges from pale beige and orange through sandy and russet shades to deep, almost black tones. Georgia-Pacific plywood was used for the paneling and all furniture.

Depth and the textured look so popular just now are given by the sandy beige grass on burnt orange wallpaper. The dining table slides through an opening into the pantry to be set or cleared of dishes, and its white tile top doubles handily for games or other uses between meals.

The foam rubber seats and back cushions of the modern benches are covered in brilliant orange fabric. The corner settee is extended several feet into the archway, serving as a partial room divider. The patina-grayed tones of the antique copper and pewter plates which decorate the mantel and plate rail are echoed in the finish stain of the dining table, settees and stool.

A neutral sandy beige carpet is used from wall to wall, unifying the entire area and adding to the feeling of open airiness and sweep. Chalk white was used for the ceiling and for the shade of the adjustable lamp in the dining corner. The traverse draperies are deep beige fabric.

The fireplace paneling, V-grooved in regular widths, is finished in deep brown, almost black, colors. Upholstery of the modern chairs is a beige-and-black tweed type fabric. Upholstered chair frames are of plywood, and their square, block-like feet are finished in dark colors that blend with the plywood fireplace facing and the dining alcove furniture.

Six colorful little pictures with deep earth toned backgrounds framed in antique gold finished frames hang above the antique pewter plates on the fireplace mantel. A bright-hued oil landscape painting hangs over the plant table, and four other pictures with antique gold, white or dark wood frames have white mats. Weights and cord of the adjustable dining alcove ceiling lamp also are lacquered in antique gold.

Add Color Note To Rumpus Room With Red Cedar

When the time comes to decorate that basement rumpus room, take a long look at the possibilities in color accenting the recreation area with aromatic red cedar closet lining.

The rich, rosy color of the aromatic wood, best known for its moth-repelling, adds charm and warmth to any recreation room. Decorative possibilities for a rumpus room, using cedar are endless.

The front of the snack or beverage bar may be covered with aromatic red cedar closet lining. Wainscotings and window trim also may be made of the inexpensive and fragrant wood. Cabinets to contain canned or bottled foods for the snack bar or recreational equipment, such as ping pong paddles and balls, billiard cues and balls or basement target-shooting range equipment may be covered with the beautiful wood.

Some amateur carpenters will prefer to panel the entire recreation room in aromatic red cedar. Packages of aromatic red cedar closet lining material tongued and grooved for snug fit and easy application, are available at most lumber yards. Each bundle contains enough cedar strips to cover at least 32 square feet of wall area.

The cedar may be varnished to give it a glossy finish or left in its natural state. When left unfinished, the wood will give off its well-known pleasant aroma that will help smother the "stale odor" which is present in many basements.

Older Houses Are in Big Demand Today

The resale market for homes today is larger than at any previous time in the country's history. According to the most recent government figures, 6,000,000 American families who are not home owners, now are financially able to buy homes. Of these, approximately one-half, or 3,000,000 families, expect to buy existing homes from their present owners.

But potential buyers in the resale home market are in a position to pick and choose their purchases, for there is no shortage of homes offered for their consideration. Therefore, the home owner who plans to sell his present home, must fix it up to display its full values to prospective buyers, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

By spare time do-it-yourself activities and a nominal investment in paint and building materials, the family can quickly and easily increase the attractiveness of an older house and help insure its sale, these building experts say. They suggest the following tips on ways a family can accent the values of their home.

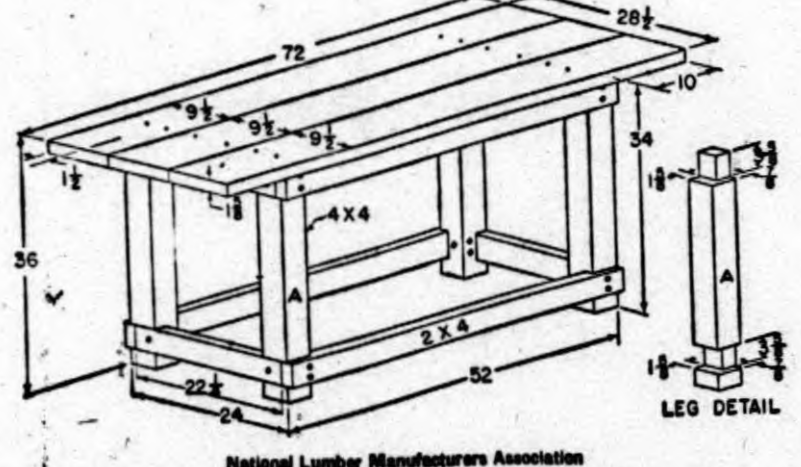

1. Cut grass, and clear yard of any debris. Trim hedges, bushes or trees that overshadow house.
2. Repair sticking or sagging doors, fix loose knobs or hinges, tighten rattling windows and replace any broken panes. Such things are quickly noticed by a prospective buyer.
3. Check heating and plumbing systems carefully. Replace worn valves. Repair dripping faucets. Leaking water discolors enamel and implies faulty plumbing.
4. Tighten or replace loose or squeaking stair or floor boards. Install resilient tile flooring, such as Kentile, in kitchen, halls and on all other floors where you've been planning to use this improvement.
5. Repair cracked plaster and repaint solid walls and shabby woodwork.
6. Clear out all unnecessary articles from storage cupboards and closets and dispose of them. Display the full extent of valuable storage and utility space.
7. Avoid cluttered appearances and possible injuries by keeping all traffic lanes clear and free from children's toys and small articles.
8. Check lighting system and all electrical appliances and lamps.

HERE'S HOW . . . BUILD A STURDY WORKBENCH

A sturdy workbench for the home craftsman is easily made from the following materials:

1 pc. 2 x 4 inches x 8 feet
2 pc. 2 x 4 inches x 10 feet
1 pc. 2 x 10 inches x 12 feet
1 pc. 2 x 10 inches x 6 feet
1 pc. 4 x 4 inches x 12 feet
16 1/2 x 5-inch carriage bolts 8 3/4
x 4 1/2-inch carriage bolts 12 20-penny common nails.

Cut all lumber to the sizes shown. Notch two legs with saw and chisel, as shown in the leg detail, for the left front and the back right leg. The other two legs should be mirror images of the leg shown; i.e., the 1 3/8-inch cut should be in the right front face and the 3/8-inch cut in the

Don't Overwax Floors It's A Safety Hazard

Homemakers should not overwax their floors. Overwaxed, slippery floors increase the chance of accidental falls, which now rank as the leading cause of home fatalities and serious injuries, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Accidents in the home disable 5,000,000 Americans yearly, according to the most recent figures. Family bills for medical attention, nurses, prescriptions and loss of time from work total more than $1,000,000,000 annually, without including hospital expenses and incidental costs.

A floor should be waxed only after it has been thoroughly cleaned of all old wax and is dry. A liquid water base wax that is self-polishing is less likely to be slippery than heavier waxes.

Resilient tile floors, such as Kentile asphalt tile, have a gleaming surface sheen that is slip-proof and lasting, despite the hardest wear. An occasional light mopping with mild soap suds, followed by a clear water rinse, maintains the shine indefinitely, and waxing is needed only two or three times a year.

Fatal accidents in and about the home are considerably more frequent among men than among women from 15 years through 64 years, even though the men are generally not around the house a large part of the day. During the five years from 1950 through 1954, the home accident rate among men averaged from one and three-quarters to more than twice that for women.

The higher mortality among men from accidental falls cannot be explained by the recent growth of do-it-yourself and fix-it-yourself activities. These were a minor item in the excess mortality among men caused by accidental falls in and about the home, and were a smaller factor than falls on stairs and steps.

The U. S. Bureau of Standards has made extensive tests to determine the safest type of flooring for use in American homes. These tests definitely proved that asphalt tile like Kentile is safer to walk on than any other smooth-surfaced resilient material, and possesses the most anti-slip factors of any flooring material installed in homes.

Timely Care and Repair Raises Home Resale Value

Compared with home-owners of a generation ago, current house-holders are "nomads."

Families today don't settle down on homesteads and stay put. They move frequently. The Federal Reserve Board recently found that almost half of the non-farm families that own their homes had been there for fewer than five years.

Another study disclosed that almost half the houses built last year were constructed for families that already owned homes at the time they were arranging to buy new ones.

This way of living puts a premium on keeping a house in good condition in order to maintain a high resale value. A well-designed, soundly constructed house deteriorates very little if it is well taken care of.

The secret is making repairs as they are needed. This not only spreads the cost over a longer period of time, but it prevents the added expense that often results from neglect.

For example, prompt attention should be given a leaking roof. Water seepage can raise havoc with walls and ceilings.

When a roof leaks in one spot, the rest of it should be held suspect. Various parts of a roof wear out at about the same rate. When a leak occurs in a weathered roof, a complete asphalt shingle reroofing job is warranted.

In addition to making a roof weathertight, application of a new roof over the old one offers another benefit in terms of resale value. Asphalt shingles today offer a wide variety of colors in attractive dark tones or new, exciting pastels. Putting on a new roof, consequently, presents the opportunity of modernizing a house in appearance, thus making it more desirable in the current market.

Frequent exterior painting is another maintenance habit that pays rich dividends. Four or five years is generally considered the maximum interval between paint jobs. Special emphasis should be given to the exterior trim, particularly panel doors, ponderosa pine windows, and shutters. The highlights of exterior decoration, they are often taken as clues to the care a house has been given. Well-cared-for exterior millwork gives a house a brightness and freshness that a last-minute decorating job can never supply.

SHORT OF SPACE

Extreme compactness of new gas furnaces, and the fact that no provisions need be made for fuel storage, make this equipment especially popular with those who live in tight quarters. Some models appear as nothing more than small, attractive cabinets; others can be put under floors, in walls, or even in the attic.

QUICKLY LAID FLOORING

Since a floor of Kentile can be walked on immediately after it is applied, its installation does not interfere with normal household activities.

BUILDING and REMODELING NEWS FOR EVERY HOME

How to Select Right Type Of Resilient Flooring Material

The modern development of resilient asphalt, rubber, cork and vinyl flooring has been a boon to home owners, since maintenance of their colorful beauty is easier and less expensive than for other types of floors. But the variety of these new flooring materials now available can easily confuse the average homeowner who is trying to select the resilient tile that is best suited for use on his home floors.

All resilient flooring tiles are designed for installation and use under specific conditions, points out the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information. Careful consideration of factors such as moisture, light or heavy foot traffic, noise muffling, underfoot comfort, and frequency of cleaning should help guide the selection of a resilient floor, these experts advise.

Here is a summary of the recommended and not recommended uses for every type of resilient tile in the home, suggested by Kentile, leading producers of resilient tile floorings.

Both asphalt and vinyl asbestos tile can be installed on any smooth interior subfloor that has a solid foundation and is free from oil, grease, lumps or foreign matter. They may be laid over metal, wood, plywood, radiant heated concrete, or concrete in direct contact with the earth, on or below grade.

Asphalt and vinyl asbestos tiles can be used on floors throughout the home, from attic to basement playrooms, including bathrooms, bedrooms, nurseries, living rooms, living rooms, halls and foyers. There is no place in the home where their installation is not recommended.

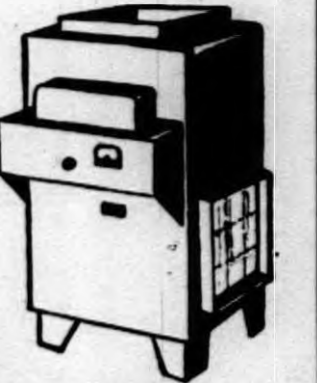

Footstep-cushioning cork tile can be installed over any smooth, dry interior floor that is not subject to sidewalk, grit and grime from heavy foot traffic. It is recommended for use in bathrooms, bedrooms, nurseries, living rooms and libraries. It is not recommended for installation in busy foyers, on kitchen floors or in basement rooms.

Rubber tile is recommended for installation over any smooth interior floor that is removed from grease and oils, in kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms, nurseries, living rooms and foyers. It is not recommended for use in basement rooms.

Vinyl tile can be installed over any smooth interior floor above grade, and is recommended for kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms, children's rooms, living rooms and foyers, but is not recommended for use in basement rooms.

Your hopes of permanent relief from coughing and sneezing can be realized. An ELECTRO-AIR electronic air cleaner, attached to your warm air furnace, eliminates dust and pollens from the rooms, lets you enjoy coughless nights and sneezeless days.

1956 Marks 100th Birthday Of Our Modern Colors

This year modern colors are 100 years old. Until the discovery of synthetic aniline dyes in 1856 all colors were obtained only from animal and vegetable sources. But chemical research has developed a wide range of synthetic colors, and color has become the most versatile of all home decorative factors, says the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Color affects people in amazing ways, making them happy or sad, active or quiet. In home backgrounds color can make a room appear warm or cool, casual or formal. Color can contribute as much to an atmosphere and effect of spaciousness as size and careful architectural planning.

In restyling home interiors which need a fresh viewpoint, the home owner first should consider the characteristics of each room and the purpose for which it is used. Three or four colors, in various values and harmonizing intensities, will provide ample variety, with ornaments and accessories in colors that blend into or contrast with the basic color scheme.

Color harmony will be achieved more easily if a homemaker follows the example of professional interior designers. These experts usually begin their color planning with a decision concerning the color and type of floor covering. Colors of paint, fabrics, furnishings and accessories with the color of the flooring.

Here are four suggested color combinations, using the basic colors, red, blue, green and yellow: For a warm, stimulating family or game room background, begin by selecting bright Acajou red or red Veined Carnelian asphalt tile, or multi-colored Harlequin red tile, such as Kentile. Use olive gray and silver grey for walls and draperies, and citron, black and white accents.

To decorate a more conservative and formal living room, select Fleecy Cerulean blue asphalt tile, or Corktone asphalt tile in rich natural random cork shades. Blue-green, gray and peach can be used for walls and draperies, and cardinal red, black and snowy white for accessories.

Nature's own color green, makes a cool, soothing background for any period of furnishing. Begin with Cippolino green or Genoa green asphalt tile, marbled in white, or select gaily mottled Carnival Parade tile for the floor covering. Add willow green, gardenia white, russet brown, Chinese red and ebony to complete your color scheme.

For a modern room, yellow is crisp, fresh and relaxing. Select Lamartine yellow asphalt tile or yellow Carnival Gaiety tile for your floor, and accessorize with beige, rust brown, white, carnelian red and pebble gray.

PICNICS AND PAINT

Some of the equipment that goes into a picnic basket can be useful in do-it-yourself painting. A paper plate is excellent for use under the paint can and can be thrown away afterwards. Fasten it to the bottom of the can with a little paint and it will move with the can and catch drippings throughout the job.

Colonial Pine Doors Retain Their Charm, Utility for Two Centuries

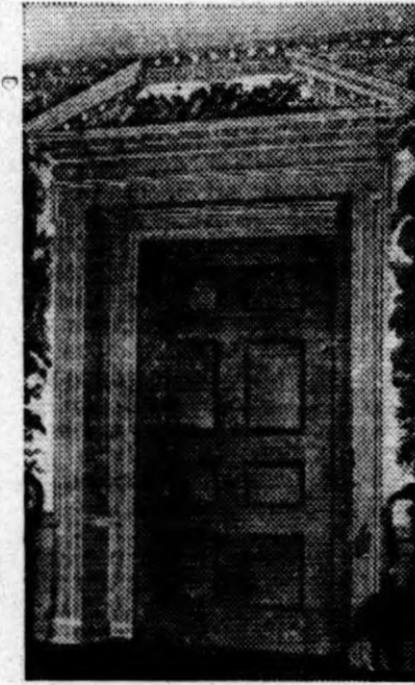

Colonial craftsmen were imaginative designers as well as expert carpenters. Their handiwork is evidenced in the beauty and elegance of America's historic colonial homes.

Among their specialties were distinctive interior panel doors. These and their frames were hand carved.

The colonial tradition of panel door styling is being continued in ponderosa pine today by millwork manufacturers. They reproduce colonial door designs and market them as stock products.

The panel door illustrated is from the Van Rensselaer Manor House in Albany, N. Y. Its modern counterpart is an eight-panel ponderosa pine door identified by the Department of Commerce as No. N. D. 111. Its smooth, uniform grain surface can be finished to suit the decorating requirements of any home.

Panel doors also can be obtained in a wide variety of modern styles.

An eight-panel door is important to the colonial charm of the Van Rensselaer Manor House, Albany, N.Y.
