

$32,500 Is Fund Finale

A final count of cash and pledges this week has put Plymouth's Community Fund nearly $1,000 over its goal.

The total amount received by Monday was $32,500. The goal was $31,549.

Agencies which share in the money are being notified that the 1957 drive was successful and that their requests will be granted with budgets submitted.

Sharing in the Fund this year are the Boy and Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse Association, Recreation Commission, Veterans Memorial Center, Plymouth Dental Fund, American Red Cross, Plymouth Cancer Society, Junior police and 21 United Health and Welfare Fund agencies administered through the United Foundation.

Eighty-five per cent of the money will go to local agencies while the remaining 15 per cent will go to the United Health and Welfare agencies which are available to Plymouth residents.

A statement was issued yesterday by Sam Hudson, president of the board of directors of the Plymouth Community Fund. It declared that the officers and board members congratulate residents, professional people, business concerns, industrial corporations and school children of Plymouth city and township whose generosity has once more been proved.

"The drive owes its success to the individuals and organizations whose help we received in the solicitation effort," Hudson continued. These include the Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and Optimist clubs, the Girl Scouts and typing classes at the high school.

"The board expressed its appreciation to the Plymouth Mail in the form of a resolution adopted at their November 12th meeting, commending the newspaper for its exceptional news coverage and support of the drive this year," the statement added.

"I wish to express my personal appreciation," Hudson concluded, "to the co-chairmen of the drive, Richard Daniel and Mrs. L. B. Rice, and those directors who headed committees which helped

WHEN BARBER Don Gray headed for Gladwin last week with a party of deer hunters, he left behind him mute evidence of his whereabouts. Customers at Curly's Barber Shop on Liberty St. found a smiling buck head sitting in the chair neatly attired with the barber's cloth. Don's father, E. J. "Curly" Gray, continued at work at another chair. This buck was brought back by Don last year.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Planned Here for Dec. 3

A muscular dystrophy drive will be held in Plymouth on Tuesday, December 3 with Mrs. George E. Bowles, 11749 Turkey Run, as the chairman.

The all-day house-to-house campaign will take place in the city and in the more heavily populated areas of Plymouth Township.

Firemen and a number of women have volunteered their services to conduct the house-to-house drive. Unlike previous years when the drive took place only in the evening, the Plymouth campaign will continue throughout the day.

The local drive is being held in conjunction with drives held throughout Wayne County. Over 20,000 volunteers will be working in the county.

Mrs. Bowles said that there are some who wonder why the muscular dystrophy appeal is not included in the Community Fund. She said that it is felt that a much better job of educating the public about muscular dystrophy can be accomplished with a door-to-door drive. Since the drive is held separate from Torch campaigns all over the country, the MD Association feels that no exceptions should be made.

Of the funds collected in the annual appeal, 75 per cent of the money goes directly to research and 25 per cent remains within the local community to provide patient service. The association furnishes wheelchairs, braces, hospital beds and treatment for all victims regardless of race, color or creed.

For Plymouth and Detroit area patients, a Muscular Dystrophy Clinic is located at the Detroit Memorial Hospital. There are more than 200,000 MD cases in the nation, over 250 in this area. The cause and cure of this dead disease is still unknown to medical science and most of its victims die while they are in their teens.

High School Pupils Open Play Tonight

It will take a cast of 24 to present "Around the World in Eighty Days" which high school students are presenting tonight and Friday.

Held in the high school auditorium starting at 8 p.m., the three act play is written by Rodney Daves and based upon the book by Jules Verne. Robert Southgate is director.

"Around the World in Eighty Days" has been the nation's most successful motion picture this year. Its plot centers about a race around the world which takes its adventurers to London, Suez, India, Calcutta, Hong Kong, and other points.

The cast includes Ann Hulsing, Larry Sexton, John Van Dyke, Glyn Norton, Stephen Johnston, James McCabe, Kay Sempliner, Janet Willoughby, Sharon Cell, Bill Jones, Dave Thrasher, Lorraine Konke, Bill Black, Don Conover, Bob Wall, Jeannette Ridley, Marie Bolen, Sharon Matts, Patrick Carmody, Claudia Kessler, Karla Herbold, Sheila Lorenz, Bill Black and Joe Calhoun.

Although next Thursday is Thanksgiving, The Mail will publish at its regular time and will be available in stores Wednesday night. Because of there being no mail delivery Thursday, mailed copies will not be received until Friday.

Two burglaries took place on Amelia street last Saturday night, both at manufacturing concerns. Police said that some mechanic's tools were missing at the Brighton Manufacturing Co. At the Plymouth Gauge and Tool Co., coins were taken from cigarette, candy and gum machines. There was also considerable damage at Plymouth Gauge and Tool caused by forcing of doors and breaking of windows to gain entrance. A typewriter was also smashed, police said.

Swainson Says Most Comment On Daisy's Move is 'Pure Bunk'

State Senator John Swainson, Plymouth Democrat, Wednesday assailed Daisy Manufacturing Company's transfer to Rogers, Ark., and said most of the comment since the announcement has been "pure political bunk."

He said Cass Hough, Daisy executive, left Plymouth "for one set of reasons and on the side saw the opportunity to make a political point or two which had nothing to do with his basic reasons for changing location."

Swainson's statement appeared to be a rebuttal to remarks a week ago by State Representative Sterling Eaton, Plymouth Republican, who charged that Governor Williams should have done something to forestall Daisy's departure.

Swainson said in reply: "Daisy Manufacturing Company recently has recognized business problems that did not exist prior to 1957. The original air rifle has not been selling well on the open market. It has been banned as dangerous in some places. Many mothers and fathers are opposed to it, all over the country."

"This phase of the problem has not been discussed, but it is more pertinent than so-called Michigan taxes and climate."

"Cass Hough is aware of this product problem. His concern in recent years has strived to cushion the impact of customer resistance by making toy pop-guns, holster sets, 'space guns' and so on."

"In the latter field, Daisy has entered a highly-competitive market. Whereas air rifles are virtually Daisy's main product, 'space guns' are in a competitive field."

"The Daisy plant in Plymouth was not built, nor adaptable, to the manufacture of smaller toys and simulated guns. It was necessary to get larger plant facilities, and if possible, lower wage rates."

Ministerial Association Again Sponsors Service

Chamber, City and Township Officials Unite to Improve Area Economy

While the move next year of the Daisy Manufacturing Co. to Arkansas will be an economic blow to Plymouth and many of its inhabitants, there appears to be some good coming from the situation in the form of interest by community leaders to develop a program that will retain present industry and lure new ones to the area.

Representatives of Plymouth Township, the city and the Chamber of Commerce met last Friday and plan to meet every Friday in an attempt to find means of improving the economic development of Plymouth city and township.

Attending the meeting were Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay, Mayor Harold Guenther, City Manager Albert Glassford, Chamber President Frank Allison, President-Elect Fred Van Dyke and Chamber Manager J. H. Wilcox.

The group will meet each Friday in the Chamber office. Attempting to interest commercial as well as industrial development in the Plymouth area will be the chief concern of the group — which has no name.

What can be done with the Daisy plant, is one of the areas to be investigated. Wilcox was asked to obtain data on the Daisy facilities and what type of operations such a building can be used for. Daisy expects to start moving its operations to Rogers, Arkansas next spring. Possible use of the Daisy land for a new civic center was suggested by The Mail last week. This and other suggestions will be explored by the group.

The group also expects to assemble all possible data on factory and commercial sites. They noted that there are still a number of good industrial locations along railroads in the area. Data will be collected from utilities, Michigan Board of Economic Development and present Chamber files.

Another plant which remains empty is the former Wall Wire Co. building in the township. It is reported that a firm has now optioned the property, but has not yet exercised the option. This plant has been vacated for more than a year and a special Chamber committee worked in conjunction with a realtor to sell the plant. Wall Wire moved to Tennessee.

How far the local group intends to go to attract industry and business has not been announced. Looking at the Daisy Manufacturing deal in Rogers, it appears that it takes a lot of effort and investment to make an attractive offer.

Daisy is being given a $1,200,000 building on a lease-purchase agreement. This is being made possible through the efforts of the Rogers Development Corporation which had raised $300,000 in

Network Newsmen to Show Iron Curtain Movies at Travel Series

Because Sunday's scheduled lecturer for the Travel Series of Plymouth was delayed while making films in Tokyo, Japan, a substitute who is one of the highest-paid and sought-after film-lecturers in the business will appear.

He is Charles Sharp, a Columbia Broadcasting System Network News Photographer and reporter, who will present his all-color documentary film lecture, "Is this the U.S.S.R.?"

Gordon Palmquist with his film on "Norway, Sweden and Denmark" was scheduled to appear Sunday at 3 p.m. at the high school. However, a call from the National Lecture Bureau in Chicago Tuesday revealed that he was detained in Japan. In his place, the bureau has secured Sharp who is appearing in Philadelphia this week.

The Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the Travel Series, feels that Sharp may be for many people the outstanding speaker in the six-program series.

After four years with CBS News and having made documentary films for the U.S. Army and the Illinois Department of Public Welfare, Sharp just this summer completed the travel documentary film in connection with his experiences in Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and the South Soviet Union in Asia—all Iron Curtain countries.

Sharp had with him his television movie cameras and recording equipment to enrich his personal lecture narration with native voices, street sounds, indigenous music and similar features.

During the summer, Sharp was doing broadcasts from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia for CBS. He is a professional motion picture photographer and a seasoned newsmen. He has been an on-the-spot reporter of some of

DAISY MANUFACTURING Co. will locate its new plant near Rogers, Arkansas on the site outlined in this aerial view. "B" indicates the location of the building and "P" will be the parking area. U.S. Highway 71, designated on the picture, runs along one side of the building while a railroad and the dashes indicate the other boundaries. A nursery has already moved its stock to make way for the building, now under construction. An Ypsilanti firm is engineering the building. Arrow points toward Rogers one and a half miles away.

Mail Employee Visits Rogers, — and Admires

Dear Boss:

It's always exciting to start on a vacation and it's always good to get back again. My husband and I had been enjoying a leisurely vacation into Gatlinburg, Tenn., and the Smokey Mountains when it was decided we would go on to Rogers, Ark., to see where our many Plymouth friends would soon be making their homes in their move with the Daisy Manufacturing Company.

This was not my first trip to Arkansas as Wick is a native of that state. However, neither of us had ever visited the north-west part of that state. The area around Rogers is so different from the southern part that it seems like a different world.

As we came west through the southern part of the state we encountered terrible floods, acres of cotton, not yet picked, covered with water. Roads were almost impassable. Upon reaching Little Rock and turning north on U.S. Highway 71 we began to see breathtaking scenery, including the beautiful Boston Mountains in the Ozark chain. Only two days away from Gatlinburg and the Smokeys, which we thought could not be surpassed, we decided that this drive was even more beautiful.

A branch of the White River winds through the valley and bridges and many dams have created beautiful lakes and resort spots.

As we neared the city of Rogers we started to look for a sign which might indicate where Daisy was planning on building. We had been told it was between Highway 71 and the Frisco railroad and on crossing the railroad we found a sign which told us Rogers was one and one-half miles away and right there on our right was the spot we were looking for. Everything was very quiet around there and we could not imagine how a large industry could be operating there by mid-summer.

We were amazed at the size of the business section of Rogers as we feel sure that it must be at least twice as large as Plymouth's. The first place I spied was a Rexall Drug store (I spent about half of my life behind the counter of my dad's Rexall store on Liberty street).

Wick decided to find a gas station and have the car taken care of as I started a tour of department stores, dime stores and almost every building I could find. I had promised to wind up at the Chamber of Commerce building before too long. When Wick parked downtown again he started to inquire as to where the Chamber office was. First man to come along happened to be a Mr. Little, radio station announcer who volunteered to escort him right to the Chamber front door, introducing him to every one who came along.

From Noel Boulevard, Chamber secretary, I received much information which I had hoped would help Plymouth families who were leaving their homes to start out and make a new home. I asked questions which I would want to know if I were moving there. I found everyone most gracious and anxious to assist. Everyone was emphatic of the thrill they were experiencing at Daisy's coming to their city.

Zoning to Change On Mill Street For Service Station

Approval of a zoning change to make way for a new service station, trial asphalt curbing for a subdivision and re-appointment of two Planning Commission members are some of the highlights of a city commission meeting Monday night.

First reading was given to an ordinance to amend the zoning ordinance that would change the zoning of three lots on Mill street, at the intersection of Wilcox Drive. The J. Austin Oil Co., distributors of Shell gasoline, asked for the change from R-1 to C-1 classification to build a service station.

Planning commissioners recently approved the "spot zoning" by a vote of 4-3. Andrew Timcoe, 696 Holbrook, owns a vacant lot adjoining the three lots being purchased by the Austin Co. Timcoe told commissioners that re-zoning the three lots and not his would hurt the sale value of his lot. Commissioners, however, said that it would make it easier to change the zoning of his lot later.

Mayor Harold Guenther, himself a resident of the neighborhood, said that economic pressures are playing upon that end of town for commercial, rather than residential development.

There was a lengthy discussion upon a request from the builders of the Masserman Springdale Subdivision along Sheldon road (near Western Electric) to use asphalt curb instead of concrete. A report by S. L. Besse, supervisor of planning and engineering, declared that only a small amount of asphalt curbing has been attempted by the Wayne County Road Commission and State Highway Department, with neither offering conclusions on their tests. City Manager Albert Glassford said that some other communities, especially in the South, have tried it and have had mixed results. Commissioners (Continued on Page Eight)

As an assistant prosecutor, Olsen had since 1950 gained a reputation among prominent trial lawyers as well as the judges for his brilliant legal

Clerk, Youth Held at Gunpoint As Hold-Up Pair Take $142

A fast job and noisy get-away left Julien's Grocery on Canton Center and Ford roads minus $142 Sunday night.

A man and woman entered the store at about 9:10 p.m., and walked up to the woman clerk. When she asked if she could help them, the man pointed a gun at her and said "just stand still lady, this is a hold up." He told her to open the two cash registers and his accomplice took the money and pocketed it.

A 17-year-old attendant from the adjoining gas station was in the store at the time, sitting reading a paper unnoticed by the pair. When the hold-up man spotted him, he held the gun under the boy's chin, telling him to stay put.

The culprits beat a hasty retreat in what the clerk and attendant called a "noisy car." They did not see the get-away car. The Wayne County Sheriff's Office sent patrol cars to the store within minutes of the hold-up.

James Julien, owner of the store was deer hunting at the time of the robbery.

Lorenz Wins Hotel Magazine Contest For Food Idea

Mayflower Hotel operator Ralph G. Lorenz has won third prize in "Hotel Management" magazine's first nationwide food idea contest for hotel men.

Lorenz received his $250 U.S. government bond and an engraved plaque at the 42nd National Hotel Exposition in the New York Coliseum last week.

Fifteen judges spent three months going over entries which told how the country's hotels and motor hotels have increased food sales. Lorenz was tied for third place by Robert F. Quinn, general manager of the Conrad Hilton in Chicago, world's largest hotel.

A Golden Host statuette went to the first prize winner, Frank Birdsall, Jr., innkeeper at the Briadway Inn, Rochester, N.Y., who received a European trip. The judges were faculty members of five of the nation's leading schools of hotel administration, including Michigan State. There were 100 entries received.

The entries included specific phases of hotel operation, including advertising and promotion, food preparation and service, menu making, cost and quality control, merchandising, guest and personal relations, management and operations.

Lorenz is a past president of the Michigan Hotel Association and is widely-known in Plymouth.

FIFTY DOLLS for distribution by the Detroit Goodfellows at Christmas were made by women employees of Barnes-Gibson-Raymond. Coaches Select Four Rocks To All-League First Team

This has been a successful season for the Plymouth High School varsity football team as a group and for the players individually. As a team they were undefeated in four league games and two non-league games with their most impressive victory, a 34-6 win over Ypsilanti. Individually, Dave Walaskay, 155 pound-halfback, led the Suburban Six scoring parade with 11 touchdowns for 66 points. He added three more against Ypsilanti for a very impressive season total of 14 touchdowns for 84 points.

When the coaches met to select the all-league team they selected four Plymouth players to the second team and gave honorable mention to five more.

Don Alsbro, who improved as the season progressed, was selected as an end on the first team. Dick Anderson, a tremendous batter along the line is first string guard. Ed LaRoche and Dave Walaskay, two consistent ground gainers all season for the Rocks, were chosen to halfback positions on the first team.

Dick Paulger, captain and tackle and Ken Knipschild, quarterback were second team choices of the coaches. Larry and Harvey Wells, Ron Turckett, Jerry Kliensmith and Wayne Jordahl received honorable mention in the voting.

It is interesting to note that Plymouth held the distinction of placing the most players on the first team - four. Belleville follows with three, Allen Park two, Trenton and Bentley one each.

SPORTSEEN

By Bill Dilworth

Some interesting facts were brought to light with the coaches' selection for the All-League Suburban Six football team. Perhaps, the most significant one to fans in the Plymouth area and to coach Mike Hoben in particular, concerns the only junior on the first team.

He is Ed LaRoche, who has been a powerful runner and has picked up some valuable yardage setting up some of the touchdowns for his backfield guards and tackles. LaRoche has built a reputation as a runner who hurts the opposition physically. He runs over the opponents and carries a few with him before he is finally halted. The mention of LaRoche and the thoughts of his returning next year must provide subjects for pleasant dreaming for next season.

Another interesting fact is the size of linemen selected. The guards and tackles on the second team outweighed the guards and tackles on the first team. This may be indicative of the fact that a more scientific type of game is played with emphasis on the speed of the linemen rather than their size. Plymouth linemen showed tremendous speed from time to time throughout the season. Their most consistent lineman was the smallest player on either all-star team—Dick Anderson at 150 pounds.

The placing of three Belleville players on the first team confirms the belief that they were playing inspired football in the last two games. They scored 60 points while holding the opponents scoreless.

Coach Hoben and his staff must derive a certain amount of satisfaction from their coaching efforts this season. It is true that players have a certain amount of natural ability and football acumen.

It is also true that it takes coaches who are keen students of the game and also of human psychology to bring a group of athletes along from game to game, victory to victory, wind up not only with an undefeated season but also with six players chosen to the first and second all-league teams.

FROM THE SCRATCHPAD: There seems to be a between sports lull in Plymouth at present time. Jack Carter, in charge of the basketball, informs us that tomorrow night is the deadline for entries in the Men's Basketball league. He expects to have finalized his plans for the season after the entries have been received. Anyone who wants to play basketball this winter will be accommodated. There are leagues for fifth and sixth graders, those under 15, those under 18 and the men's league. At the high school, Director of Athletics John Sandmann reports that football players have been given a few days rest before getting down to business on the basketball court. Coach Jim Doyle's cagers open the season on Friday, December 6 at Ypsilanti.

halfback and the league's top scorer; and Dick Paulger, second team tackle. Not present for the picture was Ed LaRoche, first team halfback. Most of the football squad is now out for swimming or basketball.

Fight Tuberculosis!

THREE WEEKS ago, Mrs. Sylvia Wilkinson's husband, Francis, won The Mail's football contest. Not wanting to be outdone, Mrs. Wilkinson carried home the $15 first prize this week by guessing 100 per cent. Frank Palmer, general manager of Paul Wiedman, Inc., is presenting the check.

Follows Hubby With Football Win

Northville walked off with top honors again this week in the Plymouth Mail football contest sponsored by the local merchants. Not only that, but it's hats off to the ladies!

Sylvia Wilkinson of 413 Beal Northville racked up the opposition with a perfect card. This is the second member of the Wilkinson family to take top prize. Francis Wilkinson, husband of Sylvia, was the winner three weeks ago.

We'll have to do something about those ringers from Northville. Come on you Plymouthites, it's a matter of civic pride this week.

Second place went to Janet Corona of 444 Plymouth Road, who missed only the Notre Dame game but topped third place Tom Hincley of 283 Evergreen by out-guessing him on the final score of the Detroit Lions Game. All in all though, everyone did much better this week, probably by ignoring the selections of the Mail "sports expert". Nothing daunted though, here are our selections for this week: Illinois over Northwestern, Notre Dame over Iowa, Michigan

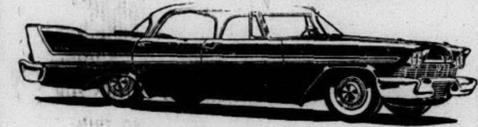

State over Kansas State, Purdue over Indiana, U of D over Drayton, Marquette over Arizona Penn State over Pitt, Minnesota over Wisconsin, Michigan over O.S.U., Washington over Washington State, Yale over Harvard, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Detroit Lions over the Chicago Bears, Dartmouth over Princeton and Columbia over Rutgers.

Skit, Display Set for Cubs

Cub Pack P4 will have their pack meeting Friday, November 22, at the Presbyterian church. Featured will be a display of cub achievements and a Thanksgiving skit by Den 4. Also, six new boys will be inducted in the elaborate "Bobcat Induction Ceremony." Parents who wish to participate with their boys in the Cubbing activities are especially welcome. Cubbing gives Dads and their sons things to do together—outing, hobbies and games.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

There is nothing really new to report which might be regarded as progress toward filling the vacuum left by Daisy's decision to move to Arkansas. It was two weeks ago that the announcement was made.

A meeting was held last week involving Mayor Harold Guenther and Supervisor Roy Lindsay, plus some other community leaders. They agreed to meet hereafter on a weekly basis. Daisy — and the problem of how to court new industry — was one subject of the discussions, but the most significant point of the conference probably is that City and Township currently are on the most amicable terms in years.

Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles volunteered a letter during the week to the Chamber of Commerce stating:

"During my years in state government, I had the occasion to work closely with the staff of the Department of Economic Development in Lansing, and should you or your associates wish me to do so I would be glad to assist in any manner possible in interesting a firm or firms in locating in Plymouth and perhaps utilizing the Daisy Manufacturing Company's plant facilities."

Governor Williams asked the Michigan Employment Security Commission to assign a special force to find new jobs for Daisy employees. He also assigned State Sen. John Swainson of Plymouth to work with the special force, plus "the community and the company."

We had a call during the week from a local business-man who made the point that money was and is available in Plymouth to build factories for those who might wish to come to this area and lease facilities with no original plant cost to themselves.

The firm which has taken an option on the Wall Wire plant (the option expires after Jan. 2) is located in Georgia, we have learned. Still don't know the name.

Elsewhere in this paper we have a narrative written by Elizabeth Hartwick, custodian of the Mail books, who happened to be down south on vacation when the Daisy story broke. She hastened over to Rogers, Ark., and inspected the town from the eyes of a life-time Plymouth resident.

Her account is flattering to the Arkansas city and I suppose we could be accused of trying to induce local folks to move down there.

That isn't the point. Rogers obviously is a hustling community, about the same size as our own, and it has captured our biggest industry. The real moral of Mrs. Hartwick's account of Rogers is that things are happening elsewhere in the world, and the worst enemy Plymouth could have is complacency and self-satisfied thinking.

I recommend her story about Rogers to every citizen.

As any hunter knows, there is more than one way to bag a buck. But the method employed by Francis Beals of 436 Mill street is enough to drive back to civilization all those who tramped for miles with damp feet and never even got a rifle to their shoulder.

Beals was lounging around his cabin, listening to the Lions football game, on a Sunday afternoon. He happened to glance out the window and in the gray afternoon light spotted a splendid spike-horn ambling down the lane toward the cabin. The huntsman grabbed his firearm, opened the door, and brought down his deer without taking two steps outside. He hardly missed hearing a play on the football game.

This Venison Valhalla is located just south of Atlanta, Mich. Our information comes from a witness, not from Beals himself, the latter doubtless being too ashamed to want the story to get around to fellow-hunters who didn't have it so good.

What do we need most in Plymouth?

The Chamber of Commerce polled a whole roomful of people at a recent dinner meeting, and culled the answers as a rough sort of agenda for C. of C. activity during the next year. The answers:

- (1) Planning that would lead toward our downtown becoming a landscaped "shopping center" built around the park;
- (2) New industry;
- (3) Organize for an adequate Christmas parade and promotion;
- (4) More apartments;
- (5) Extend parking and paving;
- (6) Adjust taxation;
- (7) Fill vacant stores;
- (8) Promote a civic center;
- (9) Ease traffic congestion, particularly around schools;
- (10) Get a department store into town.

Detroit papers this week reported that Sen. Swainson, who lives in Plymouth Colony, would be the Democratic candidate for Lieut. Governor next year. This is true, and was reported in The Mail six months ago.

Smorgasbord Benefits Cystic Fibrosis Fund

The Detroit chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation received $500, from a Harvest Smorgasbord held at Black's White House in Northville, November 10. Coinciding with Farm-City week, the Smorgasbord featured Michigan farm products.

Cystic Fibrosis is a congenital disease, striking about one child in every 600 born. It is a baffling disease, as its symptoms are often confused with bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, malnutrition, etc. Active in the research foundation are I. W. Ruge of Arthur street, Plymouth, who is president of the Detroit chapter, and the Plymouth Child Study Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Shirey.

P. E. O. News

Chapter A. I. of the P.E.O. Sisterhood met at the home of Mrs. Ray Hills on Blunk street Friday evening. The meeting was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. Harold Stevens.

Two girl scouts from the troop sponsored by the P.E.O. came to announce their bake sale, to be held at the A & P Saturday, November 23, to finance a trip to Chicago.

Mrs. Dewey Evans, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Ross Mills from Lincoln Park. Mrs. Mills is president of B. U. chapter, Lincoln Park. Her report on the P.E.O. supreme convention, which she attended in Denver, Colo., last month, was most interesting.

Refreshments were served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Halvar Blomberg and Mrs. William Kaiser. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frederick Foust, Friday, December 6.

Club to Show Ski Film

A film, "Anyone for Skiing?" will be shown Tuesday night at the Ann Arbor High School under the sponsorship of the Ann Arbor Ski Club. Several Plymouth people are members of the club.

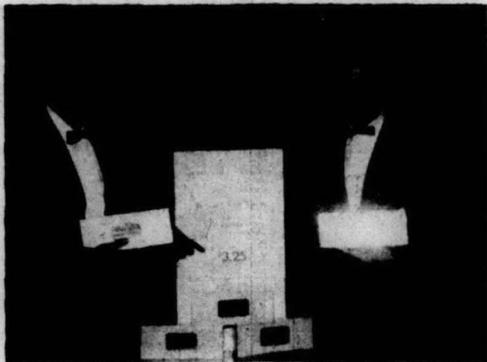

The film will be presented by Warren Miller, one of the world's foremost ski photographers. It will show skiing from Alaska to France with the accent on American skiing. There will be an admission charge. The program starts at 8 p.m.

Symphony Ball Date Set for December 21

The date for the annual Christmas Ball sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony has been set, it was announced this week. The dance will be Saturday night, December 21.

Committees have been formed and an orchestra is now being secured. The ball will again be held in the high school auditorium.

Miss Gertrude Fiegel, president of Kappa chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary teachers sorority, entertained 14 officers and committee chairman in her home in Ann Arbor at a Saturday morning breakfast. The group discussed plans for the year's program. Attending from Plymouth were Mabel Bowers, Irene Waldorf and Mrs. Alta Moore.

Jaycees to Again Sell Fruit Cakes

Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce members will again sell fruit cakes from Thanksgiving through Christmas to raise money for their many youth activities, it was announced by Doug Blunk, president.

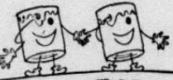

The project last year was a complete success, Blunk said, and enabled the Jaycees to sponsor such activities as the Air Rifle Safety Shoot, a Teenage Rodeo and the City Golf Tournament.

Ron Roberts, general chairman of the fruit cake sale, reports that many orders have already been placed from last year's customers. Plans have been made to provide booths in the downtown area and provisions will be made for telephone orders. Terms of Jaycees will be selling on the streets between Thanksgiving and Christmas. The three-pound cakes sell for $3.25.

Mail Employee Visits Rogers, — and Admires

(Continued from Page One) Market, a Safeway Market and a Kroger store enroute to Rogers but found that all food prices were almost identical to those in Plymouth. At once I began to wonder how anyone could maintain the same sort of home there as they did back in Plymouth and on smaller earnings. I was told that while food and clothing was much the same, all other commodities were much cheaper. A prominent business man told me he rented a very modern well-kept five room house for which he was paying $40 a month. He told me some of the older homes rent from $25 to $35 and if you really wanted a fancy house you would probably have to pay around $80.

Rogers has been building new homes at the rate of from 35 to 40 a month for the past two years and I was assured that there would be more than a enough homes available for all Daisy families. Another man told me he had a ranch room with 3 bedrooms, two baths, dining room, kitchen and living room. His utilities during the coldest month of the year were about $21.

About the weather — Northwest Arkansas is famous as a health resort, being recommended especially for heart patients and those suffering from arthritis. Rogers boasts a famous heart specialist as one of its residents. Summers very rarely get over the lower 90s and the evenings invariably drop to the low 70s. Winters are not too severe and December and January are their only cold months. The altitude is 1380 feet.

Rogers lists some 22 churches among them one Catholic, five Baptist, one Christian Science, one Assembly of God, two Pentecostal, one Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, Seven Day Adventists and Church of the Nazarene. Upon noticing there was no Lutheran church, and knowing that several Daisy families are Lutheran, I was told there was a beautiful Lutheran church in Springdale just 10 miles South of Rogers on the highway.

Just 19 miles south of Rogers is Fayetteville, a city of 18,000 which has the University of Arkansas and its Razorback stadium which seats 30,000. The college sponsors many fine arts and crafts and during the winter months has many concerts series. Coming very soon was the Dallas Symphony Orchestra.

When I visited the Daily Record Newspaper office I found its editor Mr. Lambert very much in the middle of Teletype and copy paper. He informed me that his paper had been a daily since 1910 and that Rogers now boasted a population of nearly 6100. His paper has a daily circulation of 3700.

Next question was regarding the schools — that has seemed a problem in Plymouth for so long. Rogers has no shortage. Three new elementary schools have only recently been completed and each one of these could care for another 100 students without causing any discomfort. A new gymnasium has been built. The high school, which is not the most modern, is adequate and I was told that in a large wooded park area just at the rear of the gym, a new high school, which is already past the blueprint stage, will be built, possibly in the next year.

There is a modern hospital built by the city but now being operated by sisters of the Catholic church. There are many organizations such as the Kiwanis club (who serenaded us during our dinner at the Arkansas hotel) during their group singing at their weekly meeting, Rotary club, Lions, Eagles, Elks and the Masonic lodge who all play an active part. There is a fine Youth Center which is sponsored by the local Masonic organization.

We visited the beautiful Arkansas Hotel. The dining room has its Coffee Club round table like our own Mayflower Hotel. The wide veranda which extends across the entire second floor front of the Hotel offers a wonderful panorama of Rogers and its surrounding hills and lakes.

I also visited the ultra-modern Farmers and Merchants Bank, one of two banks in Rogers.

We were approached by a lovely lady on the street in front of the hotel who asked us if we were strangers and if there was anything she could do for us. When we introduced ourselves we found that she was Mrs. Noel Boulware, wife of the Chamber's secretary. She is Rogers' Welcome Wagon and told me she hoped that she could personally meet every member of the Daisy family as soon as possible after they came to Rogers.

We met Clyde Bloomfield who operates the Osage Trout Farm. He invited us to come to his Farm and fish at a most modest cost. His card reads, "We furnish your tackle and bait; We'll clean and freeze your fish; We'll even catch them for you if you want us to." This fishing spot is located two miles west of Rogers and is stocked every single day of the week.

Lake Atlanta, which is at Rogers' back door, offers fishing, swimming, boating and almost anything a sports-minded person could want. A new dam now being built will bring that beautiful lake to within 10 blocks of downtown Rogers.

Each fall an Arts and Crafts festival is staged in Rogers and visitors from many around come to buy the many things offered for sale by the city's residents.

There is a private airport in Rogers with a large airport in nearby Fayetteville. Rogers is 19 miles from Fayetteville, 120 miles from Tulsa, 229 miles from Little Rock; 70 miles from Joplin, Mo., but about 800 miles from Plymouth.

Just before leaving Rogers on Friday afternoon, we returned to the site of the new Daisy plant which had been the property of the Benton County Nursery company. We were amazed to find nurserymen moving shrubbery like mad, bulldozers all over the place and a new and shiny construction office up. Incidentally, I have two nandina bushes in my yard which come from the very spot where Daisy will soon be making their famous Air Rifles.

Upon leaving Rogers and heading to the north we found that the scenery enroute home was as beautiful as it was to the South of the city. Famous health resort, Eureka Springs, is only a short distance away. The roads are excellent and we made the trip back to Plymouth in 19 hours of moderate driving.

Just a note, boss: I'm almost envious of that group of Daisy people who will soon be heading for those beautiful Ozark Mountains.

Sincerely,
 Liz Hartwick

P.S. Forgot to tell you that upon inquiring about the segregation problem and the matter of colored people, which has caused so much bad publicity for the State of Arkansas, I was told that there was absolutely no race problem there as not a single colored person lives in all of Benton County in which Rogers is located.

MAKE A WISH

Think of Thanksgiving and you think of turkey. Think of turkey and you're apt to think of that perennial custom of wishing on the wish-bone. Much of Thanksgiving hasn't changed. But, thanks to trucks, the kind and character of the various foods that make up the typical Thanksgiving dinner have changed — and for the better, of course. Turkey is still the main dish — but it's tastier and more tender today. Vegetables are fresh or fresh frozen — hence much more flavorful. There's a crisp tossed salad and fresh fruit "out of season." And for dessert — the choice is wide and the quality high. All this has been made possible largely by the facilities of modern truck transport. Trucks bring you everything you eat, wear or use — and they'll help make the "eatin'est" day in the year a happier one for most Michiganders. Just sit back and make a wish — and trucks will make it true.

WHILE FORTUNATE indeed is the hunter who brings home a buck, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bassett, 540 Blunk, can claim some sort of top honors among Plymouth hunters. Both of them brought home bucks that they shot near Hale, and what's more, they were home by last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Bassett, who says this is the first deer she has shot at in her three seasons of hunting, got the buck at 8:20 a.m. on opening day. Her husband had to wait until 24 hours later to bring down his 8-inch spikehorn. They claim that with three children and plenty of relatives, they'll have no trouble getting rid of the meat.

A GIANT ANNIVERSARY cake has been baked for the Plymouth Kroger store's 7th anniversary sale which opened yesterday. The cake will contain 25 capsules, each with a slip of paper listing a prize. Roland Widmayer, store manager, is shown examining some of the 25 prizes that include a roaster oven, radio, ice chest, bicycle, grills, croquet sets, folding chairs, scales, fry pans, clock, percolators and others. Although this is Kroger's 7th year in the new store, it has been in Plymouth for more than 30 years.

ONE of the old-time badmen of the once wild and woolly West was credited with saying, "I never pulled my gun that I didn't use it." What with the hunting season in full swing, this appears a proper time to paraphrase and say, "Never load your weapon until you are ready to use it." This is good advice for this, or any other time of the year for it is always the "unloaded" weapon that is responsible for an accidental death. Shotguns and rifles are extremely dangerous. They were made to kill, and they kill human beings as easily as game animals or as easily as they shatter clay targets. A safe gun is a clean gun, in good repair. When not in the field, it should be carried empty, taken down, or with action open. A gun that is dropped in sand or mud should not be fired until it has been cleaned and carefully checked to assure that the barrel and action are free of obstructions.

Cecil H. Pinkerton Dies in Northern Hunting Camp

Cecil H. Pinkerton, 39-year-old Plymouth carpenter and contractor, became Michigan's first hunting fatality when he suffered a heart attack while waiting for the hunting season to open.

Mr. Pinkerton was with a group of Plymouth hunters near Netherby when he suffered the attack Thursday night, November 14. His wife, Doris, who was working at Krogers that night, was informed of the death through the Plymouth police.

Our refuse disposal site is one of the most valuable pieces of property which the city owns. The value cannot be thought of in dollar value alone, but in terms of other future values. The parcel contains 42 acres of land in Salem Township, about a block north of Five Mile Road on Chubb Road. The property is identified by the sign: PLYMOUTH-SALEM REFUSE DISPOSAL SITE.

About three years ago, I attended a meeting in Ann Arbor at which were discussed plans for an area wide refuse disposal authority. Representatives of Ypsilanti, and Ann Arbor were mainly interested in the Pittsfield area where several gravel pits were available. While other communities were invited to participate, the Plymouth-Salem area was not considered too seriously. For us, the cost of transporting refuse to Pittsfield (East Ann Arbor, now) would have been prohibitive.

A man at the meeting beckoned to me and whispered that he wanted to talk to me after the meeting. It was Mr. William Scheel, Salem Township Supervisor, who was there with the entire township board. We discussed the problem and shortly thereafter, I made a visit with him and other board members to the various proposed sites which he had in mind. The use of the sites had been offered to the disposal authority without cost.

The trouble with that kind of an arrangement is that the price is uncertainty — uncertain that the land will not be sold to someone else, uncertain that the operation will satisfy the land owner uncertain that the operation will not be stopped by neighbors. As far as I can determine, the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti Disposal Authority still is not formed. After looking over all the sites, the parcel owned by the Northville Sand and Gravel Company, was purchased by the city for $12,000. On the premises was a house in fair repair. It was through the efforts of the Salem Township Board that the land was rezoned to permit a refuse disposal site.

It was a benefit for Salem Township, too, since it had the problem of maintaining a dump, and was plagued with constant complaints of paper blowing and spontaneous combustion fires. The previous owners dubbed this site as an "unsuccessful gravel pit", because there were poor grades of gravel mixed in with great amounts of sand. For this reason, there is good seepage and drainage and little standing water. It is a rare instance that city trucks became mired, even in late winter and spring thaws.

By agreement between our two municipalities, 500 Salem residents may be issued permits at no cost to Salem Township, which will allow each resident to dump 40 bushels of refuse per year. Beyond that number of permits, Salem Township will pay its pro-rata share of the cost of the operation of the site. The plan has been operating satisfactorily for almost 3 years.

Herbert Canaday and his wife, Alice, live in the house and are responsible for the site. Herb drives the refuse disposal truck for the city, and each evening buries the refuse in exchange for the rent of the house. His wife, also, does an excellent job and is to be commended for her conscientious efforts to keep up the premises and to check that only authorized persons use the facilities. The Washtenaw County Health Department compliments Herb on his keeping the site orderly and in the manner prescribed by the health authorities.

The site should last the city many, many years, for we are told that garbage and rubbish materials become inert after being buried 10 years, having been consumed by anaerobic bacteria. (Anaerobic bacteria, I find, means a kind of bacteria which lives without air.)

THIRTY BOOKS were turned over to Plymouth's public and parochial schools last week by the Passage-Gayde post of the American Legion. The books, dealing mainly with patriotic and historical subjects, are given annually in connection with National Book Week. Pictured, from left, are Mrs. Fern Burleson of the Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Bertha Green, librarian at the Junior High and Gallimore schools; Sister Victorine of Our Lady of Good Counsel; Ludean Earnest, Dunning-Hough Library worker; Richard Scharf, principal of St. Peter's Lutheran Day School; and Ernest Koi, Legion representative.

 Having close connections with American newsmen abroad, he has an entree to sources which place him in touch with conditions and people of the countries he visits.

His films will show some of the big names in Russia—Kruschev, Mikoyan, Zhukov and Bulganin. And it will also show the slums, women workers, hundreds of close-ups of people of all kinds, schools, factories, countrylife, church scenes and humorous scenes.

He also photographed the American Youth group which defied the State Department in its trip to China. Followed by the secret police wherever he went in Moscow, Sharp had no bad trouble come of it.

Footsaving Education

By JIM HOUK

Are some brands of shoes approved by the AMA?

The American Medical Association does not approve or disapprove of any shoe, book, or toy. Shoemakers seldom rate compliments but I believe that here is one that should be appreciated. By refusing to pass judgment on shoes the medical profession implies what one doctor told me personally — "Look, my medical school didn't teach shoemaking and I never spend more than fifteen minutes in a shoestore. Why should I set myself up as an authority on a subject that I have never studied? I tell my patients that no shoe is any good unless it is properly fitted so the choice of a good shoefitter is more important than the brand of shoes he may sell."

Love that mandate.

ability. He owns to recent legal "firsts".

Two years ago, Olsen became the first prosecutor to win admission of a tape recording as evidence in a murder trial. He is also the only prosecutor to gain a conviction on an attempted murder conspiracy charge. He sent to jail a woman who attempted to hire two men to kill her husband for his insurance.

He also gained the reputation as a prosecutor who would "kick" a case if there was insufficient evidence, rather than strive for an unbroken list of convictions.

He was a labor relations director during World War II and was with a law firm before joining the prosecutor's staff in 1949. He was also a special assistant United States District Attorney trying conscientious objector cases.

A bachelor, Olsen lives with his parents in Detroit.

followed his recommendation that one block of a service street in the subdivision be allowed asphalt curbing for test purposes.

Two people whose terms expire on the planning commission, Mrs. Eleanor Hammond and Austin Pino, were re-appointed by Mayor Guenther. Their new terms expire November 7, 1960.

Manager Glassford reported on the possibility of installing parking lot gates at entrances of the East Central Parking lot. A meter company has offered to install the gates free with the $5,000 payment and interest coming from receipts.

Glassford said that it would cost 10 cents to enter the lot. He added that a check showed that an average of 45 cars park in the lot in the daytime, while it is usually at its capacity of 120 cars at night. The gates would operate both day and night.

Commissioner Richard Wermette cautioned that those who want to stop in at the library for a few minutes may object to paying 10 cents. Commissioner Carl Shear declared that he thought it a little too soon to start charging for use of the lot. The lot was paved two months ago. Commissioners decided to postpone any decision.

A letter was read from Mr. and Mrs. James McCann of Detroit complimenting the fire department for the rapid answer to an alarm when their car started on fire during their visit here in October. "You have one of the most rapid fire departments that we have ever seen," the letter asserted.

Commissioners voted to allow a water tap for the home of Richard Myers, 16460 Homer road. Myers, who started his home in 1954 before the commission banned out-of-city taps, lives near an existing main. City water is used by several other homes in the area of the reservoir.

Washington Fossils
 WENATCHEE, Wash.—(UP)—Blasting operations for a foundation of a new library here unearthed some fossils that dated back 500,000 years. Geologists said the fossils, a variety of seed ferns, were growing plants in the Pleistocene age, the time just before the last Ice Age.

Other communities in Arkansas are doing the same, such as the small town of Clinton where $25,000 was pledged for industry by merchants, professional people and individuals.

Plymouth Chamber Manager Wilcox said that now that Plymouth Township has some promise for water within the next year or two, it is more important than ever to start now an effort to attract industry.

Phone Curb Sought
 LEWISTON, Me.—(UP)—The Maine State range has struck a lousy blow at long-winded people who monopolize telephone party lines in rural areas. The Grange adopted a resolution urging the installation of automatic cut-offs to halt long-drawn conversations.

See Plymouth Sunday in Pictorial Magazine

"Pilgrims Would Love Plymouth, Mich."—so declares the cover page of the November 24 Detroit News Sunday Pictorial, enticing the reader to see the graphic report of Plymouth's post-war decision to adopt early American tradition and architecture.

Pictured in Pilgrim attire are town crier, C. V. Sparks, alerting the community of the opening of a Theater Guild play, grade school students enacting a scene from history before the Plymouth Rock and Sheila Lorenz showing school children the murals decorating the Mayflower Hotel.

The return to colonialism is shown in pictures of several business establishments and homes and of course, the new Dunning-Hough Library.

Happy Return

ELKHART, Ind.—(UP)—Ray Greenlee received a pleasant surprise when he woke up to find several articles of clothing, which had been stolen from him the day before, waiting for him on his porch. Police guessed the thief had a guilty conscience and decided to return them. They included a suit, a pair of shoes, a shirt and a tie.

No Pheasant
 SENECA FALLS, N. Y.—(UP)—The pheasant season opened with two bangs for Policeman Anthony Vitetta. He told fellow officers he was walking in a park when pelted by a shotgun. Two minutes later, as Vitetta was heading for his car and a hospital, another blast caught him. The officer was treated at the hospital for wounds on the neck, forehead and temple.

THE READER SPEAKS UP

Editor: This is concerning the Daisy Manuf. Co., leaving Plymouth. The employees have been loyal to Mr. Hough and most of these employees have done a day's work for their wages they received. Mr. Hough and Mr. Kent state they are leaving here because the high cost of labor and taxes. So why are the key personnel going with the same wages as they receive here and the production help must take a $1.00 cut in wages? Who helps to earn the cost of their high wages? So why pick on the production help? Why not treat every one alike?

A DAISY EMPLOYEE

Dear Sir: As a former Plymouth resident, I can heartily endorse that portion of your proposal as pertains to the need for a civic center. Whether the Daisy property is the best place for it is a matter for further consideration.

As for the Daisy move out of Michigan, I fail to see where Cass is improving conditions much as far as the swap of governors is concerned. Williams for Faubus is not exactly a step forward.

W. A. Kirkpatrick Evanston, Ill. (Editor's Note: Several other letters concerning Daisy were received but not printed because they were not signed. The writer's name must be signed, but the name will be withheld upon request and kept in confidence.)

Scout Wreaths Readied; New Ranks Conferred

Boy Scout Troop P4 and Explorers met Monday night, November 18, at the Presbyterian church to begin assembling trimmings for Christmas wreaths. Orders for wreaths and cedar rope will be taken by the boys from now until December 14, the delivery date.

Parents who came to assist the boys were Mrs. Sam Hudson, Gene Stout, Boyd Muzzy, Ed Henry, Jack Hathaway and Tim Rytlewski.

Scoutmaster Paul Steencken conferred tenderfoot rank on scouts Daniel Van Aiken, Craig Bowley, William Henry, Greg Nash and Russ Crosby. Merit badges in home repairs were given to Bob Bruton, Chris Gaffield and Bruce Hudson, who also received a badge for stamp collecting. Roger Beukema received a merit badge in first aid.

Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served by the Explorers. Assistant scout-masters Bill Ivey and Robert Bachelder were in charge of the work on the wreaths.

Parents are invited to come next Monday night from 7:30 to 9 p.m. to continue the assembling of trimmings. Proceeds from the sale of wreaths help send the boys to summer scout camp and buys needed equipment for the troop.

Wine consumption in southern Europe, beer in northern Europe, and tea in Japan and China became common among residents because of a general lack of a supply of pure water.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO

MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

We knew this car was tough. We designed it that way. That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest test run of all time... with all America as the "track." We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states.

The time limit? Only 58 days. A thousand miles a day! The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 8 weeks!

Three times this Plymouth crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way up and down across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes... creeping through city traffic... arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through 500 miles of rutted detours. And when the drivers turned the key to end the marathon, it still looked, ran and rode like new.

This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"... and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Mrs. Herma Taylor

Mrs. Herma Taylor Honored As Woman of Achievement

Mrs. Herma Taylor, Executive Secretary for the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, was named Woman of Achievement at the Monday night dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at Hillside Inn.

After 19 years with the Society, Mrs. Taylor will soon resign her post to join her husband, Leslie H. Taylor, in Glasgow, Scotland. He is on a three-year assignment as a product engineer with the new Burroughs manufacturing center at Cumbernauld. Mrs. Taylor, who now lives at 14230

Ridge road, will leave and fly to Scotland, December 20.

She began her career with the Society in 1938 as a registered nurse, calling at the homes of the physically handicapped to arrange for diagnostic physical examinations and to arrange for transportation to nearby medical clinics and hospitals for treatment, brace fitting and other needs.

As Executive Secretary, Mrs. Taylor plans the programs and activities for the physically handicapped of Western Wayne County who number 237 adults and 474 children receiving assistance this past year. This includes all medical services, social and recreational activities, trips to the summer Day Camp and transportation for all who participate.

Memory of Rural Party Line Fades with Help of Farmers

The crowded party line telephone, a memorial to rural Americana, is losing its appeal for today's farmers. They want better service and are willing to pay for it.

Survey results reveal that while the average rural customer shares his line with six or seven other families, he'd be willing to pay more for his telephone service if he had fewer parties on his line.

In a projection of the survey sample, nearly 6,000 rural telephone subscribers in the company's territory apparently are willing to pay the going rate for individual-line service; 13,300 would like two-party lines; and nearly 30,000 have a preference for service with no more than four parties on the line.

Color in their telephones also strikes an appeal to many rural users. Nearly 14,500 are interested in the eight shades of colored telephones.

The desire for better service

Notes From American Legion

Thanks to all who attended and worked on the Toy Party, Wednesday, November 13. Melva Gardner, chairman, announced it was a wonderful success.

Congratulations to Donald and Lillian Kinghorn on the birth of a son. Sorry that the baby has to remain at Mount Carmel hospital as it was premature. The baby is doing fine now.

A Child Welfare School is being held in the Legion Home in Owosso on Sunday December 1 at 2 p.m. Commander Ray Duffy of the Third Zone announced that the Auxiliary will serve a Roast Beef Dinner at $1.60 per plate at 12:30 noon. Contact Harry Burleson, 1068R, for reservations. Reservations must be in by November 25.

The next business meeting of the Auxiliary is December 5, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center. The winner of the Birthday Apron will be announced. Who is it who it will be? Remember our November meeting is postponed.

The Post business meeting is Wednesday, November 4, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center. Much to be discussed, so let's have a good attendance.

The 17th District Christmas Dinner is at Redford Township on Sunday, December 8. Dinner will be served from 3 through 5 p.m. Santa will be there for the children. Contact Harry Burleson for tickets, 1068-R - adults, $1.50 and children, 75 cents. Let's have a good attendance from this Post and Unit.

Anyone needing Christmas Cards, contact Maxine Kunz, 3463R. Remember this project is for the building fund. Let's get busy for there is not much time left to order.

The Auxiliary is supporting action of the American Legion's national convention, which, after hearing a report of the trial of Army Specialist William S. Girard in Japan, adopted a resolution urging that President Eisenhower negotiate treaty revisions to protect American servicemen from trial by foreign governments for acts committed on a military post or reservation or in line of duty.

If you are eligible for membership into the American Legion through active duty in the World Wars, or the Korean War there is a place for you in the ranks of those who care about the rehabilitation of our veterans and wish to do something about it. Call Harry Burleson, 1068R, your local Commander of Passage Gayde Post No. 391.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Lickfeldt and daughter, Brenda of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fraser and son, David, of Flint and daughter, Jane Ann, who attends the University of Michigan, were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Blanche Farley when they celebrated five birthdays.

stems from increased use of the telephone by today's farmer. Not only does he place more calls than his father did, but there is a growing number and increasing interest in extension telephones in farm outbuildings. Many farmers reported that they had missed incoming calls because of their failure to order extension telephones in strategic locations.

The housewife uses the telephone most in rural areas, even as in cities. Men indicated that 50 per cent of their calls were made in connection with running the business of farm, while women estimated they devoted 48 per cent of their calls to family business and another 31 per cent to social calls.

The survey showed that the postwar years have repainted Michigan's rural picture. While urban families have moved to the country in increasing numbers, the number of farm operators has continued to decline. Today, slightly more than one-fourth of 120,000 rural-line residence customers devote most of their time to farming.

More than nine out of 10 farmers included in the survey own all or part of the land they operate.

Only one farm family in five in the territory is served by a manually-operated exchange. The remainder have dial service.

Grange Gleanings

At our last meeting of November 7 the staff of officers for the coming year were installed. Sam Spicer was the installing officer, assisted by Louise Tritten and Kenneth Lunn as Marshalls. Molly Tracy and Loretta Wilson were absent, Minnie McConnell and Millie Riebas were installed as their proxies. A good crowd of 59 were present.

The charter was draped in memory of three of our Grange members who have passed on in the past two months—George Humphries, Mrs. Lueke and Mrs. Cole. Mrs. Cole, 90-years-old, was one of our oldest members. She attended the meetings as long as her health permitted. Mr. Stevens, our oldest member, will be 92 in October.

Our Grange was well represented at the Pomona meeting, November 12, at Webster Hall. Fourteen from Plymouth were there and enjoyed the report of the State Grange Convention, given by the Cinderella of Washington county, Judy Campbell, who is the daughter of Andy Campbell, whom we all know.

We are sorry to report that James Kincaide has entered St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor for surgery. Best wishes from the Grange for a speedy recovery.

Tonight is our regular meeting with several imported matters to be settled and some new candidates to be voted on. Also, some candidates will receive their first and second degrees.

Our worthy master John Oldenburg and Mrs. O. have been shut-ins for a week or more with the "flu" but we are happy to state they are feeling quite all right now.

Visit of Social Security Representative Changed

The Social Security representative of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security Office will not make the scheduled visit to Plymouth on Thursday, November 20 due to the Thanksgiving Day holiday. However, the representative will be at the Michigan Employment Security Commission Office, 987 Litley Road, Friday, November 29 between 1 and 4 p.m.

Residents of the Plymouth and Northville area who have social security matters to discuss should call at the Michigan Employment Security Commission Office during the above hours.

NEW BOOKS take their place on the shelves at Dunning-Hough Library. The books, a gift from Evans Products Company, include labor board reports, labor relations reference volumes and wage and hour cases. Pictured are Ted J. Fleszar, personnel manager, Evans, and Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian.

Opti-Mrs. Make Slippers

Thirteen members were present for the November meeting of the Opti-Mrs., which was held at the home of Mrs. William Aluia on West Ann Arbor Trail. After a short business meeting, members spent the balance of the evening making bedroom slippers which will be donated to Northville State Hospital.

The one that's really new is the lowest-priced, too!

Compare! Car for car, Edsel gives you most—and is priced the lowest—of all 1958's medium-priced cars!

The elegantly styled Edsel is the newest looking car you'll see on the road this year. But more important to you as a car buyer, the Edsel is new all over. New all over means the already-famous power of the big, new V-8 Edsel Engines. It means the option of new Teletouch Drive, the most talked-about feature in years. It means the safety of Edsel's self-adjusting brakes. Even the first genuine contour seats. Yet, with all these important advances, Edsel prices are the lowest in the whole medium-price field! Compare—car for car. You'll find that Edsel is the value of the year. See your Edsel Dealer and prove it. *Based on actual comparison of suggested retail delivered prices. EDSSEL DIVISION • FORD MOTOR COMPANY

Fire Tragedy Averted by Alert Boy Scout

MRS. EMIL LAPOINTE
GA. 1-2029

Before an audience of more than 100 men, Dr. Jewell Smoot, pastor of Strathmoor Methodist church, Detroit, spoke at the Newburg Methodist church on Monday evening, November 11. He spoke on the subject of Russia and Religion. The assembled men represented Men's clubs from neighboring Methodist churches and gathered at 6:30 p.m. for a chicken supper put on by the ladies of the church.

Ted Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peterson of Ravine drive, received second and third degree burns all over his head while with Boy Scout troop 270 of Rosedale Gardens Church on a camping trip, Saturday, November 9. A spark from a near-by camp fire fell on Ted's tent, setting fire to the entire tent. Alertness on the part of Larry Dickie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dickie of Ravine drive, who was Ted's tent mate, prevented the accident from being a tragedy. Ted is recuperating fine.

Boy Scout troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church held their fall court of honor on Monday evening, November 11 at the school. Call to assembly was done by the boys of the drum and bugle corp of the troop after which the colors were presented with the assembled troop and parents pledging allegiance to the flag. Tenderfoot investiture was conducted by Scoutmaster J. Krygier with the help of explorer scouts dressed in Indian chief regalia. Boys being received as tenderfoot scouts were R. Beck, D. Parnin, T. Potter, M. Swain,

T. Grimm and J. Tyre. After a few opening remarks by the scoutmaster, James Martin, committee man, presented the one, two, three and four year service stars to J. Fenolio, J. Bonk, J. Jankiewicz, J. Martin, D. Powell, M. Rea, L. Ringle, M. Riley, M. Talbot, R. Vots, all receiving one year; P. Handrik, received two year; S. Curry, C. Kruger and B. LaPointe, three year and J. Berutti and J. Grimm received four year service stars. Perfect attendance is a point stressed by this troop and receiving awards for one year perfect attendance were J. Bonk, D. Powell, J. Jankiewicz, M. Riley and D. Wight. Three year perfect attendance was received by Steve Curry. Eight boys received their second class award and five boys received first class award. Bruce LaPointe was presented with Star Scout award and Steve Curry and J. Grimm both received the Life Scout award. Through the summer months the boys of this troop had worked very hard and as a result there were 19 merit badges given to 11 boys. The Scoutmasters benediction and taps by the troop's drum and bugle corp closed the ceremonies. Congratulations are in order to the seventh and eighth grade pupils of the Whitman Junior high school for having so ably represented their school on the Saturday morning program, "Quiz 'Em on the Air". This television program presents two opposing panels representing two different schools. Saturday's program saw Whitman against Plymouth Community. Whitman's panel was composed of Hope Decker and Joe Pekerek represented the seventh grade and David Borgia and Charles Ohl representing the eighth grade and Linda Foster as the alternate. Whitman answered the breaking question to give them the right to victory and choosing between a television set or tape recorder. The Riverside Book club of Livonia were privileged to go to the Hill auditorium in Ann Arbor on Thursday evening, November 14 to see "The Rivalry", concerned with the famed Lincoln-Douglas debates. In the cast were such notables as Raymond Massey, portraying Lincoln, Martin Gable as Stephen Douglas and Agnes Moorehead as Mrs. Douglas. The ladies of the book club who attended were Mrs. Cass Kershaw, Mrs. William Hartmann, Mrs. Schuyler Adams, Mrs. Helen Hembree, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. Melvin Gutherie, Mrs. Raymond Grimm, Mrs. Henry Grimm, Mrs. Guy Taylor, Mrs. Kenneth Lockhart, Mrs. Jesse Bennett, Mrs. C. Donald Ryder, Mrs. R. E. Niemann, Mrs. Edward Ayers and Mrs. Lester Larrabee. Boy Scout troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church took a survival hike, Sunday, November 17 to the Island Lake recreation area. Those who took part from the Newburg area were Emil LaPointe and his two sons Bruce and David of Joy road. Sorry there isn't more social news in this column this week but maybe next week we can have a few more items for you. Remember that next Thursday is Thanksgiving and all items must be to me by Saturday of this week. Until then, have a happy Thanksgiving and don't forget GA. 1-2029 is the number to call.

Parkview Circle

Hawthorn Center Toured By Circle Women Saturday

MRS. ROBERT FITZNER
635 PARKVIEW DRIVE

Last Saturday afternoon Dr. Paul Kaufman of Parkview Drive took a small group of us on a guided tour of Hawthorn Center where he is a member of the staff. Being Saturday we did not see the Center in full operation but we did visit the living quarters, class rooms, occupational therapy rooms and saw some of the "in patients" at play in the gym and the swimming pool. Any attempt on my part to explain the wonderful work being done at Hawthorn Center with the emotionally disturbed children who are patients there would be most inadequate. I can only say that it was an hour and a half well spent and urge that you in this area contact Helen Lake about future visits which are being arranged. Those visiting the Center on Saturday were Doris Sponser, Dorothy Curok, Ottilie Cobleigh, Helen Lake, Barbara Pape, Madeline Kendall, Bob and myself, Stevie Bird, who is the receptionist at the Center and one of our Circle members, also made the rounds with us.

Marilyn Lake of Garling Drive entertained after school last Wednesday afternoon. Friends helping her celebrate her eighth birthday were Patty Lickfeldt, Kathy Rehner, Joanne McGill, Cheri Truax, Terry Wilson, Susan Eckles and Vicki Kuhns.

Shirley and Earl Collins of Parkview Drive had a small birthday party last Saturday afternoon for their daughter, Marjorie Jayne, who was two years old. Tiny tot guests were Debbie Ostin, Denise Jarratt, Billy Gibson and Chipper Gardell.

Birthday parties are for the young in heart too as we space creatures found out Saturday night when we landed at Lee and Jack Rulands on Parkview Drive to help Jack celebrate his birthday. Various costumes depicting occupants from outer space were worn by Donna Sasal, Joyce Truax, Helen and Walt Lake, Doris and Jim Sponser and we uns.

On December 3 there will again be a house to house canvas conducted to raise money to fight the dreaded disease, muscular atrophy. Bob Fitzner and Ted

There was a time when Willy Rogers brightened the day for more people than any half dozen comedians on the TV networks today. I mention this because Willy was born Nov. 4, 1879, and it seems a shame to let November get by without a Rogers reminder.

He was a humorist with a serious slant. In fact, he said, "If a fellow doesn't have a good time once in a while and get a laugh out of the serious side of life, he doesn't half live." One of his pointed quips was, "We will never get anywhere with our finances till we pass a law saying that everything we appropriate something, we got to pass another bill along with it stating where the money is coming from."

Will also said, "I never met a man I didn't like." And, with that attitude, I doubt if Will ever met a man who didn't like him. At least, he didn't copyright the idea... so maybe more of us ought to try it.

On his way out after completing a successful burglary, a Paris crook dropped a picture of himself by accident. It proved to be a photo finish. That's one time when a picture did justice to its subject... but there's no way for us to do justice, in pictures or words, to the taste-treats in our Candy Department. Take a tempting look at our freezer display of famous "Fannie May" frozen candies. You'll want to keep a supply on hand... always fresh, always delicious.

First Theatre Guild Play To Open Wednesday Night

The Plymouth Theatre Guild's opening production, "The Desk Set", starts a four night run in the High School Auditorium next Wednesday night, Nov. 27.

Hal Young, Theatre Guild member and veteran director, is directing the play which proved a hit on both the stage and on film. "It's been a long time since I've had so much fun in the directing of a show," Young declared, "but that is understandable with a script like 'The Desk Set'."

Tickets are available from any Guild member and at the door. The play will run Thanksgiving evening as well as Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Jacque Gagnon as Bunny Watson portrays a woman with encyclopedic knowledge. She is in charge of a group of girls in the reference department of a TV network. Bonnie Kellogg, Lillian Dickinson, Loretta Young and Shirley Maloney are the girls that assist here.

Dr. Ben Hill as Richard Sumner provides laughs as the efficiency expert that is going to replace the girls with an electronic brain—Emmarac.

Jerrold Freese, Dr. Ford Sutherland and Charles Early, Jr., supply the male atmosphere necessary to any office. Maude Laury has an interesting role since she says nothing, but provokes laughter at each appearance in the stage office. James Brown, Russ Creel and Saxie Holstein round out the cast.

MUNAG — What is it? ... The letters stand for Mock United Nations Assembly Group of which Al Spigarelli and Annie Dennany are the chairman and vice-chairman respectively. This study group focuses its purpose of promoting interest in world affairs through a convention of student representatives patterned after the UN Assembly and its procedures.

Ten representatives will be selected from the following list to attend the assembly at Hillsdale College in March: Dick Small, Edie Dibble, Annie Dennany, Mary Jane West, Jane Hardimon, Marianna Jensen, Ann Hulsing, Al Spigarelli, Claudia Kessler, Louvinia Tidwell, Diane Bever, Kay Sempliner, Hale Huber, Carin Stofko, Marie Bolen, Betsey Edgar and Bill Black.

What shall they do? It seems that the Student Council is in a quandary over their excess funds. What to buy is puzzling Don Alsbro, Jim Gothard, Jim Dzuris, Randy Egloff, Ariene Kubick, Mike Portez, and Annie Dennany, members of the committee designated to decide upon a worthwhile project. Two suggestions being contemplated are: to purchase paintings; or to sponsor an exchange student. They do have a problem! Perhaps a suggestion box would help!

Art is beautiful but expensive, as the sixth hour art class will readily testify. In an effort to aid the individual artists with the purchase of supplies, the class sponsored the November 15 dance.

"We wish you a Happy Thanksgiving", say the Happy members (Future Homemakers of America) with a basket of Thanksgiving dinner for some needy family. The entire group is working on the project under the direction of a special committee composed of Kathy Joseph, Carolyn Murphy, Nancy Caldwell, and Sandy Cummings. The FHA executive board consists of: Martha Lytle, President; Pat Clixby, Vice-President; Geralee Rehbene, Secretary; and Diane Thomas, Treasurer.

We're on our way! (the plans are, that is) Seniors elected to the Senior Trip Committee on November 1 were: Pat Carmody, Jim Dzurus, Jane Hardimon, Wayne Jordahl, Jackie La Grow, Judy Nagy, Kay Sempliner, Janet Spigarelli, and Dave Walaskay.

Already some seniors are beginning to have visions of the enchanting Senior Prom. Regardless of the untimeliness of the thought, Dick Bennett, chairman; Diane Fuelling; Wayne Jordahl, and Carol Stadtmiller are in the midst of making the arrangements for the orchestra.

If Seniors are measured, can graduation be far away? ... sometimes it can!

On November 22nd in the Hill Auditorium at 8 p.m. in Ann Arbor the distinguished actor Emlyn Williams will be hypnotizing audiences with his talent. For two hours Mr. Williams will be the only actor on the stage as he presents excerpts from the writings of Dylan Thomas entitled "A Boy Growing Up."

Mr. Williams is coming to Ann Arbor directly after a six week run on Broadway. Here is your opportunity to see one of the top actors of our time in a presentation that all the New York critics agreed was "superb." Old George saw Mr. Williams about four years ago when he was touring as Charles Dickens and doing character bits from the Dickens novels. Again, his acting was consummate. His appearance should be a must for all theater lovers.

Speaking of New York reminds me that yours truly will be arriving back from the gay lights of New York city on Friday next. I'll be back just in time to rush over to Ann Arbor to catch this wonderful performance. Hope you'll join me.

The posters are up. Cast of "Desk Set" are in the throes of dress rehearsal nights. The set is being readied to go on stage. There is a last minute flurry of ticket sales as most of us finally realize that the opening production of the Theater Guild in Plymouth is at hand. Next week the big show opens on Wednesday night and will run for the next three evenings. Curtain is at 8 p.m. If you haven't a ticket yet, call Plymouth 348 J and say "Reserve four for the first night. I've decided to have a theater party during the holidays."

A word about the set. This reference library of the network TV—where the action in "Desk Set" takes place is no ordinary library. For one thing it has a balcony. Phyllis Kelly and her faithful crew struggled over this perplexing fact for many a night. And who came to her rescue? The Unistrut company in Wayne, Michigan. They offered to give our Theater Guild all the steel to make this balcony. They even designed it for them.

Rumor hath it that the whole job would have cost $500 to a retail customer. Mr. Atwood, president of Unistrut, is well-known for his kindly gestures community-wise, gave the entire deal to the Theater Guild gratis. That's an elegant Latin word that is easily translated into a happy word known as "FREE".

Now if some philanthropic citizen would just donate a loft or a second floor room in the downtown area for the Guild to make its quarters, the year would be complete. The Guild needs a place to store its flats, props, costumes, a place to hold rehearsals, and the feeling that they have a home somewhere.

After reading Paul Chandler's stirring suggestion about constructing a township-city center at the now-soon-to-be-defunct Daisy pop gunnery works, it would seem quite logical that here at last is a place for the Theater Guild. Besides the advantages for the Guild, George would like to be one of the first to volunteer for any committee that would carry this idea of Paul's to fruition. As a citizen of Plymouth I see this township-city civic center, as an asset and just one more way that we can forge ahead of our neighbors.

Happy to report that Broadway welcomed two new musicals with open arms last week: "Jamaica" with Lena Horne and "Rumple" with Eddie Foy Jr. Put these two on your list if you're going to the big city for the coming holidays. I'll walk by the theaters, at least, in this coming week during my stay in the metropolis. I hope to see "Happy Hunting" with Ethel Merman and "Purple Dust", a Sean O'Casey play.

Cobalt production reached a record 3,226,300 pounds in 1955, up 46 per cent from the previous year.

End of Boom Is Forecast By Analysts

Economic analysts at Michigan State University predict an end to our three-year business boom and say that the decline has already begun.

Dr. John H. Hoagland, associate professor of management at M.S.U., in an article written for the current issue of "Business Topics" interprets some economic indicators to mean that "business conditions are not good."

"The early stages of a business recession have already occurred," Dr. Hoagland writes, "and the extent to which these will continue to materialize depends considerably on what actions are taken in the weeks and months ahead by government, management, labor and the consuming public."

The author notes a considerable decline in business activity indices "even with rising automobile production in October." Machine tool orders, widely regarded as a business barometer, have dropped drastically in recent months, he added, and construction activity, a strong point in the 1956 and 1957 economy, is passing its peak.

Pointing to a drop in manufacturers' unfilled orders of $7.3 billion in a year, accompanied by inventory increase of $3 billion, Dr. Hoagland finds "the business economy is in a more vulnerable position than it would have been if inventories had been successfully reduced."

He finds also that consumer spending, a 1957 strong point, shows signs of slipping.

Hopes that 1958 model cars may provide a needed boost may be over optimistic, the business expert asserts, because of the declining statistics and "such factors as reduced overtime, a declining stock market, already large consumer commitments due to previous large amounts of credit selling and recent price cutting on 1957 model cars."

On the other hand, Dr. John M. Hunter, acting head of the M.S.U. economics department, notes that the New York Times business activity index rose from 197.4 to 199.5 for the week ending Nov. 2, the fifth successive advance. The country's gross national product jumped $20 billion in the year ending July 1, 1957.

Agricultural economists at the University say that consumer expenditures for most goods, including foods, have been a mainstay to the economy during the past year and no sharp break in them is expected for 1958.

Agriculture can look forward in 1958 to a year much like 1957, the agricultural economists believe. They predict that economic uneasiness being felt in industrial sectors of the economy is not likely to have any major effect upon agriculture in 1958.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Roddenberg entertained on Sunday for their daughter, Linda, and her grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Roddenberg, in honor of their birthdays. About 32 relatives enjoyed dinner together. The evening was spent watching slides that a cousin, Arvella Thiede, had taken at previous gatherings of the relatives. Both Linda D. and Mrs. Roddenberg received many lovely gifts.

Woman's Eye View

by Nancy Rigney

Maybe it isn't the season to be talking about vacations—but there probably isn't a time better than the first appearance of winter for wishful thinking. I don't mean sun-soaking vacations in Florida or California, but an old-fashioned "down on the farm" type vacation.

This very idea has become a profit-making proposition for an organization called Farm Vacations and Holidays, Inc. They have a unique plan which also reaps a profitable harvest for the farmer participating.

The company has been in business for eight years, bringing together the farmer who's willing to take in vacationers and the city dwellers who are looking for a vacation-farm. They already have 236 guest farms and ranches located in 31 states, ranging from New York to California and Texas to Ontario. But with the program growing so rapidly, there is room for more.

The farmers enjoy meeting new people and making new friends. Meals at the guest-farms are served "family style" so there is plenty of opportunity for the farm family to exchange ideas and experiences with their urban visitors. For their part, the city people find the easy informality of farm life, wholesome food and a chance to observe and take part in outdoor chores, make an excellent antidote for indoor work and city tensions.

Summer attracts most vacationers, but many of the farms do a good fall and winter business, especially those accessible to ski trails and hunting areas.

From Lafayette, Ind., we hear that Jo Anderson Graves, Jr., 346 Auburn, is participating in the Purdue University Playshop production of "Medea," an up-to-date version of the famous Greek tragedy, to be presented December 5, 6 and 7. Graves, a senior in the school of chemical engineering, will play the role of Creon. His playshop experience includes portrayal of Sir Francis Bacon in "Elizabeth, The Queen," Rodrigo in "Othello," and Chuck in "This Music."

Meatless meat loaves and luncheon meats are on the way, the American Chemical Society predicts. A patent was granted recently for a process for making protein food from soybeans and wheat. It can be made to resemble a variety of meats, fish and fowl in flavor and color. The synthetic meat is a mixture of a chewy protein gel and a dough-like mixture.

"Create your own holiday candles and bring an added decorative note into your home during the festive season." I have just become intrigued by this suggestion via a booklet on easy-to-make holiday candles.

Since most of the equipment comes from either your own kitchen or the local five-and-ten cent store, it also seems like a perfect opportunity to make a few inexpensive yet distinctive gifts. The booklet offers some basic and beautiful ideas, but they are only the beginning. Think of the variety of shapes among the containers, dessert molds and cans in your kitchen right now. Some can provide molds for candles that will be uniquely yours.

I would like to pass on the details, complete with equipment list, helpful hints and directions for some of the outstanding creations on the Homemaker's Page in next week's issue. If the suggestion has touched off your creative instinct, be sure to look for the article.

Mention of candlemaking reminds me of a household use for wax to preserve flower arrangements. Did you know that pouring melted wax on the surface of the water in the container until a thin film forms, will fix each stem in place?

Veterans of Foreign Wars

The National President of the Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. Ruby P. Godbey, of Lynnwood, California made her official visit to Michigan November 15th and 16th. She was entertained in Grand Rapids with a tea and tour of the Veterans Facility, Friday November 15th. Saturday November 16th, the Michigan program was presented together with the champion ritual team No. 171 of Detroit. Following a dinner Saturday evening, Mrs. Godbey was the main speaker at an open meeting to which the public was invited.

Mrs. Gerald Krumm, membership chairman of Mayflower Auxiliary to Post No. 6695 Veterans of Foreign Wars, announces the opening of the 1958 Membership Drive. Every eligible Veteran and his family is invited, and encouraged, to share in the program of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary. Through their Legislative Program the VFW has secured many of the benefits which are now available to all veterans and which are being enjoyed by many. The Posts and Auxiliaries have a wide variety of programs including Americanism, Youth Activities, Community Service and Hospital Work. There is no better insurance, at any price, than the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, where children of members, or a former deceased member of the VFW are assured an education, health, happiness and security.

Mothers, sisters, wives, daughters and widows of deceased or honorably discharged men who have served on foreign soil or waters during time of war, are eligible to membership in the Ladies Auxiliary. Also, women of the Armed forces of the U.S. who have had foreign service in time of war and possess an honorable discharge and their mothers, sisters or daughters are eligible to join the Ladies Auxiliary. A cordial invitation is extended to all eligible women to join. Call or write Mrs. Gerald Krumm of 572 S. Harvey. Her phone number is 1899.

Social Security Question Corner

People getting social security benefit payments continue to ask the question, "If we are allowed to earn $1200 per year, why must we limit our earnings to $80 each month?" This doesn't add up to $1200.

In an effort to clarify this point, the social security office has answered some of the questions which are frequently asked about the work clause.

Q. I was 65 in July 1957. Since August I have been on sick leave and have drawn sick benefits in the amount of $100 per month under a plan established by my employer. From January through July I earned over $2080. Should I file an application for social security benefits?

A. Yes, you are entitled to benefits for any month in which you do not earn over $80. Sick payments made under a plan established by your employer are not considered as earned income.

Q. I am a school teacher over age 65. My salary is $3600 per school year. I receive this income in monthly payments of $300 for 12 months. During the vacation months of July and August the school is closed and I have no other outside employment. Could I be entitled to social security benefits for these two months?

A. Yes, generally payments in the non-school months are deferred compensation for services rendered during previous months of the school year and as such would not constitute earnings for the months of July and August.

Q. I have worked from January through June and have earned $1800 and I am 67 years old. I have made arrangements with my employer to limit my earnings for the rest of the year to $80 each month. Can I receive any social security checks for this year?

A. Yes, even though you earn over $1200 in a year you can still receive a check for every month in which your earnings are $80 or less.

Any questions which you may have in this regard should be directed to the social security office, 16260 Grand River, Detroit 23, Michigan. The telephone number is BRoadway 3-1717.

NEW ADMINISTRATORS took over Plymouth High School for a day—but they were out of office by noon. Alfred Spigarelli, busy on the phone, took over the principalship from Carvel Bentley and managed to get off a communication to the janitor for more heat. From left are Anne Dennany, counselor; Bill Hubert, athletic director; Janet Spigarelli, assistant principal; Principal Spigarelli (cousin of his assistant); and Jay Selle, director of Adult Education and Recreation. A holiday was called at noon while teachers conferred with parents during the afternoon and evening. The switch of administration was part of the National Education Week observance.

Hot Political Issue

Taxes and their impact on Michigan's business and industrial life are becoming the biggest political news of the year.

The issue has been blown into the hottest off-year fight between Democrats and Republicans in decades.

Republicans got in the latest blow, citing the departure of the Daisy Manufacturing Co., of Plymouth, and a small firm in Crosswell for other states where taxes are lower.

They charge that companies are leaving the state because Gov. Williams is threatening new fiscal policies and additional expenditures which will force new business taxes.

Democrats retort that the Republican-controlled legislature must pass all tax bills and if business is leaving, it is the fault of Republicans.

Since the legislature, no matter which party controls it, must pass all tax bills, the Democrats are accurate when they point out this fact. The real issue Republicans try to press home is this: It is the general economic atmosphere created over a long period by Williams with what they regard as his constant effort to soak industry and business that is causing concern in the mind of the employer. In short, Republicans claim, it is not only the present tax and labor situation which makes the employer uneasy. It is not knowing how and how much he will be taxed or hampered by union activities next.

Cass Hough, top man in the Daisy firm, which manufactures air rifles and toys, said he was taking his company south to shed high labor costs and taxes.

He said labor comes for about $1 an hour less in the south and the firm will save about $75,000 a year in taxes.

The Crosswell firm says substantially the same thing.

The added element of high labor costs to the issue that has been concentrated on taxes is a more direct attack on labor unions, the political allies of Democrats.

Williams' aides quickly remembered that Hough was a member of the State Aeronautics Commission whom the governor replaced. They said this was his way of getting revenge.

Political seers in Lansing are waiting to see if Republicans can keep the issue alive for another year — long enough for effective use in the 1958 state campaign.

Members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association announced their opposition to a state milk marketing law. This is a reverse of last year's stand.

The organization of more than 25,000 dairy farmers, representing the most powerful of three such forces in the field, is expected to have the final word on the bill.

Last year, MMPA supported the plan which would have created a special marketing department in the state department of agriculture.

The plan would allow a milk administrator to divide the state into regions if requested to do so by farmers, wholesalers and consumers. He then would devise a "fair price to all."

The proposal was defeated in the legislature during the spring.

MMPA, which strengthened its organization following the challenges from two rival groups over the past two years, re-evaluated its position.

"Some of the members feel that a law of that kind would help the consumers and the dairies more than it would help the farmers," said Glenn Lake, MMPA president.

While the organization now opposes the idea of milk marketing controls, its directors will keep track of any new legislation and be ready to alter its position, if needed.

Time for Thanks and Giving

"Life Begins at Forty"

BY ROBERT PETERSON

"There are times when I'd give a hundred dollars to have someone to talk to," a white-haired widower of 76 remarked to me recently. A friend had suggested that I call on this retired Civil Engineer and we were sitting in the living room of the old, Victorian house that had been his home for half a century. He lived alone, except for a part-time housekeeper, and didn't get out much because of severe arthritis.

"It's strange," he went on. "I never used to get lonesome. But I seem to be lonesome most of the time now that my wife's gone. Most of my neighbors are young. They're always busy at something and I don't blame them for not paying much attention to me.

Shortly after calling on this retired gentleman I mentioned his plight to a neighbor who is active in the local Women's Club. She reflected a moment and then commented, "There must be many people in the same boat with him. Maybe we need something like a 'Retirees Anonymous Club' so that older people can arrange to talk with someone whenever they feel lonely and crave companionship.

She went on to describe Alcoholics Anonymous and, while she was quick to tell me she never touches the stuff, said she was impressed by the plan of that organization under which members are urged to call on other members whenever they feel they need someone to talk to.

"Perhaps," she added, "we could sign up all older people in the community who would like to belong to a club which has visiting as its chief purpose. We could then make it a plan of the club that any member is privileged to telephone any other member of the club at any time, and either offer to pay him a call or ask him to drop in for a visit. That way," she said with rising enthusiasm, "members would be receiving visits and invitations from time to time. And whenever a member felt a need for companionship he could just pick up the club directory and arrange to call on someone or invite someone over to visit him."

Here is an idea with real possibilities. There is no question but that much of the unhappiness in the later years stems from the simple fact that older individuals have lost many of their former contacts and now find it difficult to locate the companionship that contributes so much to one's happiness.

Of course there would be problems in organizing such a club. It would be difficult to screen the members to insure that all were friendly and of good character. And some members would doubtless be impatient and indifferent to those companionship most but who might not prove very attractive or stimulating. But the idea nevertheless has merit and if it is given a trial in your community won't you write and tell this column how it worked?

TROY, Idaho — (UP) — Ten-year-old Bobby Berg stuck his hand into a steak tenderizing machine to see if it worked. It did—97 surgical stitches.

If Your Name Is CECILIA

By ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.

Cecilia, Cecilia and Cecily are all the same name and among them "Ceille" is the most streamlined, and up to date.

Way back, two-thousand years ago, Cecilia, spelled Caecilia, was the name of a Roman plebeian gens, or family, and in this appellation the Latin word "caecus", meaning "blind", is contained. The association the name brings up, however, is not one of a bodily impairment, but of something pleasant, of music. St. Cecilia, who may have been a member of that ancient Caecilian family, is looked upon as the patroness of music. When in 1584 the great Italian composer Palestrina founded the Academy of Music in Rome, St. Cecilia was chosen as its legendary sponsor. And, according to tradition, St. Cecilia was the inventor of the organ; a painting by Carlo Dolci shows her playing this complicated instrument.

"Cecilia", like a host of other names, was imported to the British Isles by the Normans; a daughter of William the Conqueror was so named. Among the English, this appellation took on the form "Cicely" and "Sisley", but then, in the 18th century the full Latin "Cecilia" was the one preferred. For this the English author Madame D'Arbly was responsible because she used the name in this form for the title of a novel.

St. Cecilia was a young Roman girl converted to the Christian Faith, and she lived during the reign of Alexander Severus, a Roman Emperor who persecuted the Christians. She was married, much against her will to a noble pagan youth named Valerianus. When the young couple retired to the wedding chamber, Cecilia told Valerianus that she must remain a virgin because she was betrothed to an angel. Valerianus demanded to see that angel, and Cecilia made him go to the third milestone of the Via Appia near Rome. The building still exists, and is now a church, dedicated to her.

When he returned, he was converted to Christianity, and they were both crowned by the angel with roses and lilies, symbols of love and chastity. But soon Cecilia was arrested for her Faith, and condemned to death by being suffocated in boiling steam in her overheated bath-house. But when she remained unhurt, the Roman prefect gave orders to have her beheaded. She converted the executioner before receiving the deadly blows of his sword, in the very house that used to be her home.

There is also a men's name, "Cecil", of the same origin as "Cecilia." But don't take a bet that every "Cecil" is male; there are girls, too, who call themselves "Cecil."

Want to know about other names? Is your name unusual? Write about it to Dr. Reynolds, care of this newspaper.)

EVERY GEAR MUST MESH!

In factories throughout the nation, automation is the new industrial science — using amazing automatic machines. In these machines, precise gears must mesh exactly to produce infinite accuracies.

Precision is not confined to this field. It typifies, too, the finished general insurance plans which are drafted for clients all over the nation by professional insurance counselors. In this complex field of insurance, the professional agent is a man of long experience. The result is that when he prescribes an insurance plan for a client "every gear meshes" . . . the client is protected thoroughly and, at the same time, pays an ethical reasonable price for such coverage.

Many "insurance plans" are not planned at all. They grow and are formed without direction throughout the years. There is an easy way to make your insurance program right — to make every gear in it mesh properly. Let us analyze your insurance position, without obligation. Such an analysis may save you money . . . it will always bring you complete peace of mind.

"THEY'RE CATCHING ON, BUT THEY CAN'T CATCH UP." That's how lots of people feel about the "new 1958" cars that are trying to match the Dodge Swept-Wing look. These other cars have been lowered some, but still seem high and boxy by comparison. A few are "catching on" to fins, but they're years from

"catching up." And the air suspension offered by some cars (at well over $100 extra) can't compare with the sway-free, dip-free ride of Dodge Torsion-Aire (standard equipment on all models). So on your way home from someone else's new car showing, stop in and compare it with Swept-Wing 58 by Dodge. You'll see what we mean.

Solid 'Chunk' Makes TV Star Of Panel Door

One of many reasons television scenic designers prefer to use pine panel doors on their sets is the solid sound they make when they swing shut.

There's no annoying clatter when a nervous actor happens to slam a panel door," says top designer Larry Eggleton, of CBS-TV. "Just a solid 'chunk.'" Eggleton, who designs sets for Studio One, often uses stock panel doors of ponderosa pine. "The panels give us good three-dimensional, textured quality in backgrounds," he says, "and the pine is easy to stain or paint for the set we need."

NEWSPAPER GOOD MULCH

A "pudding" made from newspapers soaked in water makes an excellent mulch for the garden. Soak the newspapers well in a large container of water, stir into a pulpy, well-shredded mass, and pour around the base of plants. The pulp dries to a mat that chokes off weeds and helps retain moisture in the ground.

BUILDING and REMODELING NEWS FOR EVERY HOME

Bud Gould Opens Second Model in Arbor Village

By Jack Scott

The enthusiastic reception accorded Arbor Village on their grand opening in July has prompted Bud Gould to open a second model for the public's inspection this week. In all 26 homes out of a possible 49 have been sold with many prospects at hand for the remaining homes to be built.

Arbor Village is an excellent example of thorough planning so as to give the buyer the maximum amount of open space for the location of his home. Every possible tree has been spared so as to maintain the suburban atmosphere so popular with the public today. All homes are individually styled completely eliminating the appearance of a project home.

The model being shown at Arbor Village is of ranch styling with just a touch of the colonial about it. There are three bedrooms, 1 and 1/2 baths, a huge living room with three cornered fire place and a combination kitchen dining area with half wall opening to the living room. The one floor plan includes a 2 car plastered garage and combination recreation area. Access to the garage is gained through a recessed sliding flush door opening into a combination vestibule and utility room with three steps down to the garage.

The kitchen-dining area has a corner sink with built in garbage disposal and ample cupboard space. Included with the home is a built-in Hot Point electric range and oven with copper hood and vent fan. The front door opens into a large vestibule with louvered doors on the clothes storage closets. Opening off of the vestibule is the half bath and wash-room. The three large bedrooms all have louvered closet doors and ample window space lending the cheery atmosphere that is so prevalent throughout the house. The living room has two large picture windows facing the rear of the house that overlook a large concrete patio.

One of the most notable features of the houses in Arbor Village is the fact that the home is completely landscaped, eliminating one of the most arduous chores that plague the buyer of a new home.

The model will be open daily with sales personnel of the Vauchan R. Smith Realty on hand to point out the many features and advantages of living in Arbor Village to the prospective buyer.

The home is completely furnished with furnishings by King Furniture; carpeting by Pease Paint and Wallpaper and drapes by Cadillac Drapery, all of Plymouth.

Regarding Exterior Painting
When you are buying white paint for the exterior trim of your house, tell your dealer what material was used in the construction of the body of the house. The self-cleansing type of exterior paint can be used on the trim of the house only when the body is also painted white. Otherwise, use an exterior enamel, a trim and trellis paint, or a house paint that has only a limited degree of self-cleansing.

Earth Pigment For Exteriors
When choosing exterior paints it is well to remember that earth pigments are generally more permanent when exposed to weather and sunlight than chemical colors and that tinted paint is more durable than white. The principal earth pigments are ochre, the siennas, umbers, red iron oxides and "earth" browns and blacks.

Budget Paint Costs
Don't let concern over initial financial outlay delay your plans for that new painting job. See your paint dealer not only for the best products to use, but also to fit your budget, the best and easiest method of buying.

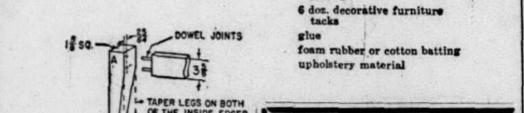

Newest Development
Airless atomization is one of the newest means of paint application now being used in factories. It is used in finishing automobiles, ships, stoves, refrigerators, washing machines, and kindred items.

Paint brushes have been used for over 1000 years in applying beautiful and protective coatings to an infinite variety of surfaces. Brushes are the most important tools in assisting to protect and beautify $450,000,000,000 worth of American property.

MAKE A HASSOCK
A hassock can be made by the home craftsman to have that finished furniture look. The legs are made of 2 by 2-inch lumber, tapered as shown in the diagram. Start the taper 3/8 inches from the top end of the leg. The stringers are made of 1 by 4-inch lumber. Use a miter box to help cut square ends. The legs and stringers are assembled with dowel joints. Dowel holes 3/8-inch in diameter are drilled with a No. 6 auger bit. The holes are drilled 1 inch deep. Cut the dowel pins 1 1/2 inches long and groove them to provide a tight joint. The braces are cut from 1 by 4-inch lumber. Assemble them to the frame with No. 10 flathead screws, 1 1/4 inches long. Make the top of 1 by 8-inch lumber. Fasten in place with 6-penny finishing nails. Cover the stool with foam rubber and upholstery material. Use decorative tacks to fasten the material in place.

ONE OF the more unique features of the model home in Arbor Village is this three cornered fire place. It has a dual purpose of not only serving as a fire place but also as a room divider. Only a large living room such as this makes it possible to carry this design.

THIS OPENING between the dining area and the living room lends itself to the spacious atmosphere of the home. In the background is the corner sink with built in garbage disposal and dishwasher included with the home.

THE BUILT IN range and oven with copper hood and vent fan is indicative of the compactness of the model home. Every square inch of space has been utilized to the best advantage. The features pictured are usually found only in homes of much higher price.

Handy Jim's FIX-UP TIPS For the Home

Add Space, Save Work
If HE chooses materials carefully, the man of the house who converts wasted attic space into an extra room can save himself work both at the time of installation and in the future. Using Marlite planks and blocks, which have tongue-and-groove edges, walls and ceilings can be covered in short order. The paneling can be applied over furring strips or a continuous base like plasterboard. Since this paneling, made of Tempered Presdwood, is already decorated with plain colors or wood grain patterns, no painting or finishing is necessary. What's more, its baked plastic finish not only resists soil and wear but needs no decorating later. For design interest, an end wall may be covered with blocks to match planks on sidewalls, and planks of a different color used on the sloping ceiling.

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis
BY JEAN EVANS

Dear Jean:
Is it possible to tell if a person wears glasses by his handwriting? Please analyze my handwriting also. Thank you.

Dear Jer:
Grapho Analysis is a science used to determine the character traits of a person through the mental picture he puts on paper when writing. There is no way the analyst can predict the future or discover his attire or disabilities. You are a person who likes to find about things. You are always searching for information and will always have the desire to learn. You pay close attention to details and have a good memory. You are loyal to what you think is right.

Dear Jean:
Have been reading your column for sometime now and find it very interesting though somewhat puzzling. Will you please analyze my handwriting? I am looking forward to reading it in the paper.

Dear J.L.A.:
There is really no reason for you to be puzzled. Grapho Analysis is a true science that has been proved beyond a doubt. The principles used to determine the traits found in a handwriting are the same as used the world over by all Grapho Analysts. The rules are the same just as are the rules governing the laws of mathematics. Regardless of where you find the evidence the same rules are applied. You are a person who likes people and will do everything in your power to protect them. You are even likely to stretch the truth a little to cover up for them. You have a variety of interests, liking many things. You enjoy acquiring things just to share them. You have a genuine desire to give to others.

Dear Jean:
This is a sample of my writing. Please tell me what you see.

Dear BETTY:
You would be a person who would not have a large circle of friends. You would cling to one or perhaps two in whom you felt you could really confide and who understand you. You are capable of concentrating on the work at hand and putting all of your attention on it but you should develop more attention to detail. You likely enjoy doing things that require intricate handling such as puzzles, working with beads or sequins and it could be you would be happy at bookkeeping or office work.

Dear Jean:
I always read your column and it interests me a great deal. In fact, I am hoping to take the class this fall. Please tell me what characteristics and talents my handwriting reveals.

Dear C.S.:
You are physical minded and enjoy sports and outdoor activity such as hunting, fishing or perhaps walking or running. If it should be that you are physically unable to participate in the activities, you enjoy sports as a spectator. Perhaps you watch sports on television or go to the games. There is a great deal of imagination shown in your writing and if put to proper use could be of great satisfaction to you. This imagination is along material lines. It might be in interior decorating or designing. You might be one who would think of using an earring for a scatter pin or some other such original idea.

FIREMEN WITH nothing to do but watch a house burn down was the unfamiliar sight seen last week when an Ann Arbor Trail home was burned for firefighting demonstration purposes. Firemen extinguished fires four times before allowing the home to finally burn to the ground.

C.A.P. Organizing Unit at High School

A Civil Air Patrol group for Plymouth High school students from 15 to 18 years of age will be formed Monday night, Nov. 25. Organizing the group is C.A.P. Captain Emerson C. Robinson of Plymouth, who has formed similar groups elsewhere, including Livonia. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in Room 22 of the high school. Parents of interested boys and girls are also invited to hear details of the organization. Young people up to 21 can join but those of high school age are especially invited.

Robinson stressed that girls as well as boys are eligible to be members. They must have a C average or higher. Aviation classes will be held weekly when the group is formed.

MICHIGAN BELL

TELEPHONE lines

WHAT GIFTS BRING pleasure every day of the year, make life easier, and are not likely to be duplicated? Additional telephones in color, of course, a welcome solution to the "what to give" problem. Bedroom phones are wonderful for Mother. Dad would get a real kick out of a telephone for his den or basement workshop. And teen-agers think a phone in their own room is tops. Christmas will be here before you know it—a perfect time for giving gift telephones.

THE DISTANT EARLY WARNING LINE—a chain of radar stations stretching 3,000 miles across the Arctic—is now in operation and will give 4 to 6 hours warning if enemy planes approach from the north. The Air Force asked the Bell System to design the DEW line. Among the thousands of men who worked for many months in the cold and desolate Arctic to complete the job on schedule were 4,478 telephone men—many from Michigan. The Bell System skills that produced the DEW line are the same ones that help make your telephone service better and more useful to you every day.

WE RAN ACROSS these figures recently, and we thought you might be interested in seeing how the telephone industry is contributing to Michigan's prosperity. Last year the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit, Western Electric Co., paid $19,325,784 for supplies and materials bought from 1,223 firms in some 146 towns and cities in Michigan. That's quite a lot of business coming into the state, creating job opportunities and helping to keep the factories humming. Since we're all Michiganders ourselves, we're mighty glad to see this.

Plaintiff Loses Noise Injunction Against Worden

The Worden Specialty & Machine Co. has won first round in a law suit brought against them by their next door neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Spence, 15185 Northville road, who are seeking redress for alleged damage to their home and living conditions resulting from vibration and noise.

At a hearing Nov. 5 before Circuit Court Judge Horace W. Gilmore, the plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. Spence, had petitioned for a temporary injunction to restrain the defendant from operating. Summing up the evidence submitted, the court found that it had not been established that the Worden firm had violated any ordinance or that a nuisance had been created.

Judge Gilmore then denied the petition and refused to grant an injunction. The damage suit itself, however, will be heard later.

Representatives of Worden deny that the plant causes a nuisance in any respect and claim that their light manufacturing operation sets up vibration which is 80 per cent less than that permitted by local ordinances and is considered harmless by zoning authorities.

Tests have been made by the Michigan Department of Health and the Wayne County Health Department to determine the amount of noise. The Plymouth township authorities, who had requested the tests after complaints from Spence, refused to take action after the tests showed that the amount of noise recorded does not violate either the old or new ordinances.

Chamber Warns of Furnace Repair Racket

Furnace repair salesmen are at work in Plymouth again and some precautions should be taken before householders go too far, Chamber Manager J. L. Wilcox warned this week.

Some furnace firms in the past have been working on the unethical side, but still within the law, Wilcox said. They may talk you into getting your furnace cleaned and then take it apart, claiming to find defects which need repair.

Before getting any work done on your furnace, the Chamber manager added, get a number of bids from firms you know about.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Boys, do you know that:

Girls want to be invited to dances, parties and even movie dates ahead of time, so they'll have time to get their hair, clothes, etc. ready? ... Even if you "go steady", a girl wants to be asked in advance, not at the last minute, so she'll KNOW she's going and won't wonder and worry until the zero hour.

Girls like to know YOU enjoyed the date, too. But they don't want you to say, "See you!" or "I'll call you" unless you mean it. If you mean it, make it definite—"I'll call you about a date on Friday" or "Can you go to a movie next Friday?"

Part of your date or social life is dressing properly for it! It's bad manners to wear a T-shirt and jeans for everything. Movie dates at a neighborhood theater call for a clean sport shirt and slacks ... for downtown dates, wear a shirt and tie, a sports jacket and slacks or a shirt, tie and suit. This is correct no matter what "the others do".

Drivers in the "teen-to-22 age group still have the highest number of automobile accidents. It's true that "your reflexes are better than those of older people" (as you're always saying), but you won't live to prove it unless you obey the speed limit and avoid taking chances.

Signs of childish, show-off driving include too-fast stops and starts (with a cloud of dust and a screech of tires); more speed than the legal limit; needless passing on highways; fast, reckless curves and corners. Drive so carefully that others won't say in disgust—"You can tell that a kid is driving!"

(For free printed tips on "Date Manners for Boys," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.)

Thanksgiving Elegance:
Demitasse And Marron Parfaits

THIS masterpiece is a beautiful Parfait Marron, a delectable French sundae that's made in minutes with chestnuts in syrup, vanilla ice cream and coffee whipped cream. Served with fragrant demitasse coffee, it's the perfect dessert for Thanksgiving dinner.

Dessert for Thanksgiving Dinner should be beautiful, bounteous and delicious. If it also requires only the simplest last-minute assembling and no real preparation at all, then it is a prize indeed. Parfait Marron is handsome enough to star at the most festive holiday dinner, yet it may be "made" just before the dessert course is brought in with the coffee.

The French word for "chestnut" is "marron", and Parfait Marron is made with ice cream and marrons in syrup which are sold in jars by almost all grocery specialty shops. You'll want to cut the whole marrons into smaller pieces. Then, for a tasteful topping, make up a small bowlful of whipped cream. With plenty of ice cream in the refrigerator, you are ready to assemble an unusual and luscious dessert creation.

Parfaits Marrons
1 jar marrons in syrup
1 quart vanilla ice cream
1 cup heavy cream
2 teaspoons instant coffee
1 tablespoon sugar

Remove whole marrons from syrup and chop into small pieces, returning to syrup. Spoon alternate layers of vanilla ice cream and marrons in syrup into deep dessert glasses. Top with whipped cream. Serves 5 or 6.

It's 'Open Season' For Hunting Leopard

Shopping-safaris are delightful for the fashion adventurer this season — especially if you're hunting leopard!

Leopard spots roam everywhere this year, appearing in natural fur as well as the unexpected fabrics, nylon and chiffon.

A pleated leopard headband is "wildly" exciting paired with a matching ascot.

For a sensational entrance, afternoon or evening, choose the 95-inch leopard stole (that converts to a turban)!

Bags from voluminous to petite are submitting to the leopard handling with beautiful ease.

Leopard belts prepare to go around everywhere — boldly-wide or sedately-narrow — while scarves, umbrellas and mules are noted as trophy-hunt items, too.

Most sought-after cropped jackets and boleros are tops and abundant for fall... with more styles than a leopard has spots! Often these are trimmed with jersey or knit.

Let Herbs and Spices Flavor Your Cooking

Don't get in a cooking rut! Vary your old standby recipes by using spices or herbs. You won't get bored... and more important—neither will your family. But, you say you don't know one spice or herb from another and wouldn't know where to begin? Then let's find out.

Spices are the roots, bark, stems, leaves, buds, seeds or fruit of aromatic plants which usually grow in the tropics. "Spice" is commonly used to apply to seeds and herbs also.

Herbs are the leaves of plants which grow only in the temperate zone—bay leaves, chervil, marjoram and oregano. Seeds refer to the seeds of course, and sometimes the small fruit of plants which grow in both the tropical and temperate climates — anise, caraway, cardamon and coriander.

Learn how to use spices by experimenting in your home laboratory. A little goes a long way when cooking with spices or herbs, so use with restraint. Delicate herbs like parsley, chervil and savory are always added at the end of cooking so the flavor is not lost. Strong herbs, such as sage, basil, mint, dill, rosemary, thyme, marjoram and oregano are always added during the cooking.

Since the pungency of each spice varies, it's impossible to make a blanket rule, but here are some general facts to know.

One tablespoon of a fresh herb is equivalent in flavor strength to one teaspoon of a dried herb or one-fourth teaspoon of a powdered herb.

Start by using no more than one-quarter teaspoon of spice (less for hot and strong-flavored spices such as pepper, garlic and onion) in a 2-cup recipe of sauces, or for one pound of meat, fish or fowl.

Spices are usually added in cooking about the same time as the salt. For long-cooking dishes such as stews and soups, whole spices may be added at the start. Ground spices should not be added until near the end of the cooking. In foods which are not cooked, the spices should be added well ahead of serving.

Here is a run-down of spices and herbs for flavor and garnish. Paprika adds color to potatoes, light-colored vegetables, salads, soups and sauces. Whole cloves add color to fruit compotes, lemon and orange slices and spiced fruit. Whole cinnamon sticks garnish beverage and pickles.

Ground nutmeg or mace will spark whipped cream and light-colored dessert toppings, fruit sauces, custard and cream desserts. Sesame seed adds interest to fish and vegetable dishes, salads, cakes, cookies, bread and desserts. Chili powder peps up egg and cheese dishes. Cardamon seed or coriander seed make homemade rolls into a gourmet food.

With the cooking rules in mind, let's go on to a list of herbs and their best uses.

Basil — In tomato dishes, on cooked peas, squash and string beans, in turtle soup, on lamb chops.

Cardamon seed — Whole, in mixed pickling spices; seed, to flavor demitasses, ground, on iced melon, coffee cakes.

Chervil — Good in soups, salads, egg dishes, French dressing, on fish, chicken.

Coriander seed — Whole, in mixed pickles, gingerbread, cookies, cakes, biscuits, poultry stuffings, green salads; ground, in sausage making, to flavor buns, rubbed on pork roast.

Marjoram — In stews, soups, sausage, poultry seasonings, in fish and sauce recipes, over lamb.

Oregano — Good in pork dishes in beef stews, meat sauces, gravies, omelet, boiled eggs, in spaghetti sauce.

Rosemary — In lamb dishes, soups, stews, on beef roasts, in meat stocks, in boiled potatoes.

Savory — On meats, chicken, in meat dressings, fish sauces, scrambled eggs.

Herb-Apple Stuffing For Holiday Fowl

An Apple-Herb Stuffing does something wonderful to any type of pork roast. This stuffing which is a palate pleasing combination of onion, celery, bread crumbs, apples, marjoram and thyme is an excellent companion for a pork crown roast.

It's simply placed in the center of the pork crown and roasted along with the meat during the last 30 to 45 minutes of cooking time.

If planning to serve this stuffing (dressing) with a pork loin roast, bake dressing in oven for approximately 30 minutes.

Another way of serving this dressing (stuffing) is in stuffed rib pork chops. A pocket for the stuffing is made along the rib side of the chop.

Cut this way, the chop will tend to close more tightly during the braising process, thereby keeping in the stuffing.

Apple Herb Stuffing

- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
- 1/4 cup drippings
- 3 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 cup finely chopped tart apples
- 1/4 teaspoon marjoram
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup water

Cook onion and celery in drippings, about 5 minutes. Combine with bread crumbs, apple, seasonings, sugar and water. (Makes about 2 cups of stuffing.) Bake in center of pork crown roast or place in baking pan and bake in moderate oven (300 to 350 degrees F.) during last 30 to 45 minutes of roasting time. Best served with pork.

Thyme — In stews, soups and poultry stuffings, clams and fish chowders, in meat and fish sauces, croquettes, chipped beef, fricassee, over fresh tomatoes. Here's an easy dressing recipe to start with:

Caraway Seed Dressing
1 cup evaporated milk
1/4 cup vinegar or lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon caraway seeds
1/4 cup grated cheese (American, Parmesan)

Stir milk while adding vinegar. Add salt, caraway seeds and cheese and blend thoroughly. Serve cold with crisp, grated cabbage. Yield: One and one-half cups.

Another delicacy is Poppy Seed Noodles. Here's how:

Poppy Seed Noodles
1 8-ounce package noodles
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup sliced blanched almonds
2 teaspoons poppy seeds

Cook noodles as directed on package, rinse and drain. Melt 1/4 tablespoon of butter, add nut meats, and cook over low heat until almonds are lightly browned. Add remaining butter and poppy seeds — mix well, and combine with drained noodles. Yield: 6 servings.

Grapefruit Gobblers

Here's a novel idea for center-pieces or individual places for this week before Thanksgiving — Grapefruit Turkey Gobblers.

Cut four rows of deep slits for fanned-out tail. Insert rhododendron leaves for tail feathers, placing smallest leaves in front, longest in back, and trim tips with scissors. Make two deep

Sausage Cornettes

Bulk pork sausage becomes a festive standout when made into these Sausage Cornettes. Combine 1 1/2 pounds bulk pork sausage with one 14-ounce can crushed pineapple which has been drained. Shape the meat and pineapple mixture into 8 patties. Dip patties into 1 beaten egg then roll in 1/4 cup crushed corn flakes. Brown patties in 1 teaspoon melted lard. Cook turning occasionally, until done, about 45 minutes.

Pork Steak with Apples

Pork and apples are a perfect duet, especially during the late fall and early winter. One top flight recipe calls for pork shoulder steaks and glazed apple rings. The pork steaks are simmered slowly for about 45 minutes. Three apples are then cored and sliced. Then 1/2 cup grape jelly is dissolved in 1/2 cup water. The apples can then cook in the jelly mixture until tender. Serve with pork steaks.

Know How to Use Your Broiler

If you hesitate to use your broiler because of the sad results you have had in the past, Detroit Consumer Marketing Information agents have a few suggestions which may be helpful to you.

The distance between your broiler pan and the heating unit will make a big difference in the way your meat will look and taste. Putting it too close to the unit will result in meat that is seared on the outside and rare in the middle. On the other hand, if the meat is too far away from the source of heat, it will become overcooked for most people.

If you place the pan so that the top of the meat is two or three inches from the heat, a 1 1/2 inch thick steak should be cooked medium rare — so that it is nicely brown on the outside and evenly cooked to a delicate pink on the inside. Thinner steaks should be broiled closer to the heat. The time and distance from the heat increases when steaks are broiled from the frozen state.

Whether your choice of steak is a rib steak, sirloin, club, porterhouse or tenderloin, it is best to cut the fat edge at intervals to prevent curling. And since salt tends to draw the juices out of the meat, you shouldn't season it until you are ready to turn it over on the broiler. Or you may find it easier to wait until you are ready to serve before you season it.

It's also well to know what "not" to broil. Although pork is generally tender, you need to cook it slowly and in the presence of moisture to develop its full flavor and to lessen shrinkage. The danger of trichinosis also makes it necessary for you to cook pork to the well-done stage. Therefore, by the time the inside of pork is well-done, the outside is almost charred if you're using your broiler!

Veal, because it has so little fat and so much connective tissue, also requires long, slow, moist cooking. You should broast both pork and veal chops and steaks.

Broiling Time

The total broiling times for a 1 inch thick steak are: rare, 8-10 min.; medium, 12-14 min.; well-done, 18-20 min. The times for a 1 1/2 inch steak are: rare, 14-16 min.; medium, 18-20 min.; well-done, 25-30 min.

It will be to your advantage if you use the Want Ads.
