Precinct Delegates Also Run

In addition to the state, national and county candidates found on Tuesday's primary election ballot, voters will also find candidates for precinct delegate.

Each precinct in the state must elect a delegate for both parties. These delegates will attend county conventions and from the county conventions will come state convention delegates. They will nominate candidates for state administrative offices, such as attorney general and secretary of state.

Where there are no nominations on the ballot, it is possible for write-ins. There will be appointments should there be no written nominations.

Rambler, Jeep Dealership Opens

A combination Rambler and Jeep dealership opens in Plymouth this weekend on Ann Arbor Rd.

Called Fiesta Motor Sales, the dealership is located in the former F&B Plymouth building on Ann Arbor Rd. at Northern. Owner of the new business is Fred Frappier, a dealership owner on Livernois Ave. in Detroit.

TV Program Features Local Summer School

Plymouth's Summer Education and Recreation program has been scheduled for discussion on the "Detroit Speaks" TV program seen over Channel 2 this Sunday. Jac Le Goff, WJBK-TV newscaster, will discuss the many advantages of such an extended educational program with Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister, Recreation Director Herbert Woolweaver and Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly. The telecast will be shown over Channel 2 at 4:30 p.m.

Before Jac Le Goff, the moderator of the TV panel discussion, raises any questions about the summer session. Mrs. Donnelly will show the television audience how a Spanish class is conducted during the summer session. Helping her with this demonstration portion will be four of her advanced Spanish students. Susan Robinson, Mary Donnelly, Tom Chandler and Tom Donnelly are going to converse in Spanish for three or four minutes as they duplicate a shopping expedition as it might take place in Mexico City.

Following this Spanish class demonstration, Mrs. Donnelly will join Woolweaver and Superintendent Isbister to assist in the panel discussion. Number of students participating, how the buildings are being used, and some of the future plans of this summer program are a few of the items to be discussed.

The Plymouth Community School District has had widespread recognition of its summer program. In 1957, it was featured in the Detroit News photo section. Earlier this year, Jim Garrett of WJR in-

STARTING UP the cliff beside Phoenix Lake, the stretcher carrying injured Jim Hoffman was attached to a wrecker cable. The cable also pulled along the group of rescuers who alone would have had a difficult job of carrying the stretcher up the treacherously slippery and rocky slope. Almost an hour had elapsed from the time the boy was hurt until he was taken to the hospital.

Wrecker Pulls Injured Youth, Rescuers Up Side of Lake Cliff

Eleven-year-old James Hoffman had been forbidden to go to nearby Phoenix Lake — but he did.

And while there he did what comes naturally to every boy — climb a tree. Only this time it ended unhappily.

Jim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoffman, 42509 Parkhurst Dr., is in "very serious" condition at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, with a fractured skull and other injuries. Just how serious the injuries are cannot be determined for another day or two.

Jim and a companion, George Gardner, 42457 Parkhurst, had been playing there climbed a tall willow tree that partially overhung the water. Two fishermen nearby watched and one warned them of the danger.

Suddenly Jim fell, struck his head on a large boulder on the shoreline and lost consciousness.

Plymouth city police were summoned first and they relayed the call to the sheriff's department. Schrader Funeral Home sent an ambulance to the scene. Later city police and firemen arrived with the rescue truck.

The problem of getting the youth up the hill was difficult. The steep hillside was covered with trees, bushes, large boulders and slippery mud. It had rained two hours earlier.

Edwin Schrader and

ing outside around the Hoffman house when they decided to go to the lake located across Five Mile Rd. He had been warned not to go near the lake. It was only a matter of minutes after Mrs. Hoffman saw the boys that George returned to inform her that Jim had been hurt. The boys had gone down the 100 foot steep embankment to the edge of Phoenix Lake and

Rotarians Plan Third Community Barbecue Sept. 18

Plans have been completed for the Third Annual Plymouth Community Chicken Barbecue to be held Thursday, September 18 at the Plymouth High School Athletic Field. The event is being sponsored by the Community Service Committee of the Plymouth Rotary Club.

A committee of Rotarians composed of Charles Finlan, chairman, Don Lightfoot, Clifford Tait, Walter Rensel, Albert Hubbs, James Taylor and Sam Hudson attended a breakfast meeting at the Mayflower Hotel to discuss details for the event.

Proceeds will be used to support the Rotary Club's Youth Benefit and Community Service fund. In addition to the aim of raising money for the Youth Benefit and Community Service fund the Committee said the annual chicken barbecue is designed to extend to residents of other communities in the area a friendly welcome to visit Plymouth.

With that in mind publicity and advertising will be disseminated to nearby communities inviting neighboring residents to have dinner in Plymouth on September 18.

Democrats Have Many Decisions to Make, Republicans But Two at Polls Tuesday

Names of four Plymouth area men will appear on ballots in next Tuesday's primary election — but despite this point of local interest, Plymouthites are expected to join hundreds of thousands of others across Michigan in staying away from the polls in droves.

With there being no special issues on the ballot locally, election workers in the Plymouth area aren't looking for any rushing business. Past history has shown that most citizens don't take primary elections too seriously.

But there are some five dozen candidates seeking office, including Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who must take the election seriously for they must win the nomination to have a crack at the office in November.

Plymouth area men are seeking the jobs of U.S. Senator, lieutenant governor, and two state representative posts.

They are: State Senator John Swainson, 44525 Governor Bradford Rd., seeking the lieutenant governor seat on the Democratic ticket.

Homer Martin, 7405 Brookville Rd., Salem Township, running for U.S. Senator as a Democrat.

Sterling Eaton, 1294 Maple St., trying for his second term as Republican state legislator for the 21st district.

Carl Stellato, 47200 Cherry Hill Rd., Canton Township, seeking the Democratic nomination as U.S. representative from the 16th district. Plymouth city and township electors do not vote on candidates from this district.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. Tuesday and close at 8 p.m. All polling places in Plymouth and Canton Townships and the city of Plymouth are the same as in past elections.

Electors can cast votes in the primary for candidates of only one party. There is no way of splitting the vote.

At the top of the voting machines are two levers marked "Democratic" or "Republican." Electors pull their party's lever and can vote only for candidates on that party's ballot.

It will be unusual if voting reaches the figure of two years ago. There were 1,424 city electors voting in that election with the drawing card being a $500,000 bond issue to purchase and improve the Mettetal Airport. The issue was soundly defeated. In 1954 there were only 746 city voters at the primary polls.

In Plymouth Township, 641 voted two years ago and 429 four years ago.

Only one of the local men on the primary ballot can be positive of his election. Rep. Eaton has no inter-party opposition from the GOP but over in the Democratic columns

All Precincts Remain Same

All precinct polling places remain the same in Plymouth city and township as in the last elections.

Polls in the city are: Precinct 1, high school; Precinct 2, Fire Station No. 2; Precinct 3, city hall; Precincts 4 and 5, Bronson Building (Central Parking Lot).

All three Plymouth Township Precincts will again vote at the Township Hall on Ann Arbor Rd. All polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Petunia Contest Opens

Entries in the Plymouth Petunia Contest are now being taken by the Plymouth Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association with a $25 savings bond going to the winner.

All one needs to do to enter is fill out the entry blank and mail it in. Judging will take place Monday and Tuesday, August 11 and 12. Judges will visit the homes of the entrants.

Judging will be based on flower arrangement, colors and care taken of the flowers. All plantings to be judged must be visible from the street. The contest is open to any city resident.

While commercial establishments are not eligible to enter the contest, the Garden Club will nevertheless recognize each business where petunia plantings have been made.

Views Exclamatory

Vacation Guide Tells Of Nearby Good Spot

Still wondering where to go on your vacation? How about visiting a small town around which the "views are exclamatory," where there is canoeing, tennis courts, play areas, picnic grounds and fine restaurants?

What's the name of the place? Plymouth, of course!

Two pages of the 1958 edition of the "Southeastern Michigan Vacation Guide" are devoted to Plymouth. While most Plymouthites are proud of their town, few have thought of it as a vacation place.

Yet, as the Vacation Guide points out, there are things to do here and probably tens of thousands of people in the area annually make a visit to Riverside Park as part of their vacations.

The 126-page slick-papered Vacation Guide is one of four area guides published in Michigan each year. Few Michigan residents ever bother to send for the guides which are advertised in newspapers and magazines throughout the nation. And few Plymouthites realize that their community is part of the vast publicity program that helps make the tourist industry the second largest business in the state.

Headlined "Plymouth — Michigan's Colonial City," the two-page spread has a

NEWS BEAT

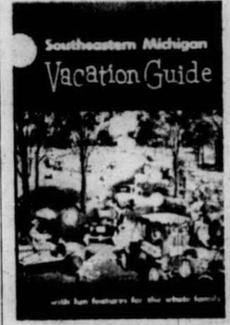

A note was found on the bulletin board of the Dunning-Hough Library recently which read: "Your library is going to wreck if you don't lay $10 on top of the rock in Kellogg Park. Lay it by eleven on the dot or else. The Secret 6." Police picked up the four 12-year-olds responsible. They had been chased from the library upstairs twice after creating disturbances and crawling onto the roof. The note was just a joke, they told police, but they were sternly warned of the consequences of writing threats.

FIRE RUN: Township Firemen Lt. Paul Albright was outside the fire hall Saturday when a woman Navy lieutenant rushed across the street to excitedly announce that her "seat is on fire." Albright quickly extinguished the fire in the new station wagon. The lady then asked the fireman what he wanted for his efforts. When she was informed that the place at which she stopped was a fire station, she was surprised. She hadn't noticed. City firemen and police have never caught up with the person responsible for starting the Continental Can Co. fire this month. Estimated at $50,000, the exact damage has still not been announced by the insurance company.

ACCIDENT SCENE: To set the record straight, a metropolitan paper gave the Sheriff's Department credit for leading the rescue of 11-year-old James Hoffman Monday. Actually, deputies arrived as the boy was being pulled up the hill. Edwin Schrader, his employee and city firemen handled the operation. Several rescuers took falls on the steep and slippery hill, including the Mail photographer who broke a flash gun. . . . Neighbors in the area believe the accident points up the need of a fence at the top of the hill to protect picnicking children as well as youngsters in the area.

POLICE BEAT: Some $200 in change was stolen from coffee, soft drink and cigarette machines recently at Bathsheba Manufacturing on Mill St. Wrecking bars were used to pry them open. . . . Saxton's Farm Supply re-side Park.

BIG DECISION: Next Monday night city commissioners must decide whether or not to widen and re-pave Sheldon Rd. from the C&O Railroad to Ann Arbor Trail. They held a committee-of-the-whole meeting Monday night to discuss the problem. Chances are that they will decide to go ahead with the project despite a petition opposing the assessment.

picture of picnickers in Riverside Park and a sketch of the Dunning-Hough Library.

There are also two large advertisements from the Hillside Inn and Mayflower Hotel.

This is what the tourist book has to say about Plymouth: "The City of Plymouth provides a notable example of what a small city (7,800 population) can accomplish when it has the enthusiastic support of all its citizens. Plymouth has several objectives. First, making the most of the colonial heritage of its name, it is making itself into a colo-

Letters to The Editor

Mr. Paul M. Chandler,
Publisher
271 S. Main
Plymouth, Michigan

Dear Mr. Chandler:

Let me take this opportunity to extend to you my congratulations for winning three awards at the National Editorial Association recently held in Detroit. I have long felt that the Michigan press has been exceptionally enterprising and interesting. Your award certainly demonstrates this fact.

With every good wish,

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage have returned from a vacation trip to Hamilton and Niagara on the Lake, Canada.

The Stars and Stripes of 1777 had 13 stars arranged in a blue circle plus 13 red and white stripes.

Bob Nultys Begin Air Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nulty are off on a busman's holiday, the "bus" in this case being a pontooned Cessna 180 monoplane which will carry them on a 9,000 mile vacation cruise through Canada and Alaska.

For the Nulty's, of 1385 Park Place, Plymouth, it will be their sixth vacation flight to the territory soon to be our 49th state. They expect to make the 4,300 mile flight to Point Barrow in four easy days of cruising at 130 miles an hour. They'll be gone about four weeks. Flying comes naturally for Nulty as owner of the Great Lakes Automotive Company, Willow Run distributors of Cessna aircraft. As might be expected, he considers private flying as the most rewarding way of touring.

Taking off this past Tuesday from Edison Lake, Belleville, where the Nulty plane berths at the John Barber dock, their first objective was God's Lake in Northern Canada, a 10-hour flight of about 1,200 air miles. With normal weather, Nulty estimates they will average 10 air miles to the gallon of gasoline. They loaded 47 items of luggage, camping gear and spare plane parts for a camping trip that will be for the most part in areas accessible only by air. Although a high powered rifle was included, Nulty said they'll "mostly fish and do a little prospecting." "Hunting rocks is more fun than hunting animals," he added. Pontoons are essential in the north country of woods and lakes, according to the Plymouth couple. "There's always a lake below and every one is a landing field and a camp site," they said.

4-H Group Meets

A meeting of the Sheldon Insecticides was held July 24 at the home of Jay Hartford. While the other members caught insects, Pat Clixby, the Junior leader, and JoAnne Jarrett worked on a poster to exhibit at the 4-H Fair in August. Members have been catching and mounting insects for their own exhibit and meeting regularly through the summer. Some of the insecticides are: Diane Baker, Mike Baker, Judy Clixby, Pat Clixby, Jay Hartford, JoAnne Jarrett, John Jarrett, Vera Lynn, Pat Variot, Earl Threadgould, Lewie Medaugh and George Medaugh. Mrs. Clixby is the leader.

Two Parties Honor Bride

Two last pre-nuptial showers were given for Mrs. Charles F. Styre who was Miss Carole Jean Lyke before her July 26 marriage in Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church. Hostess at a miscellaneous shower for her on July 18 was Miss Patricia Fanzini. Fourteen guests attended the party at the home of Mrs. Nelson Vanderburgh, 21825 Waldon, Farmington. She is the grandmother of the hostess. Mrs. Bruce Kidston, of 7435 Pontiac Trail, entertained July 12 at a miscellaneous shower for Carole. Twenty-five guests attended.

Carol Alayne Pace Speaks Vows in July 12 Ceremony

First Presbyterian Church was the scene of the double ring candle-light ceremony on Saturday, July 12, which united in marriage Carol Alayne Pace and William Ernest Burger. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry J. Walsh. Organ music was provided by Fred Nelson. The new bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pace of 674 Pacific and her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burger of 11516 Burger Drive.

Carol chose a ballerina gown of white chantilly lace over taffeta with long tapered sleeves forming a point at the wrist. The sabrina neckline was bordered with sequined lace applique. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara encrusted with pearls. She carried white orchids with stephanotis and ivy on a Bible. Maid of honor Miss Susann Ruech wore a gown of white embossed nylon over a tulle taffeta with short sleeves. Bridesmaid Miss Esther Puckett had a yellow gown identical to that of the honor maid. Their bouquets were yellow and aqua daisies.

James Burger attended his brother as best man. Ushering were Dennis Pace, Gene Burger, and Klaus Zielke. For her daughter's nuptials, Mrs. Pace wore a blue lace sheath dress with white accessories. Mrs. Burger chose a dusty rose chiffon dress with white accessories. Both mothers had orchids. A reception-dinner immediately followed the ceremony at Loly's Arbor-Lill.

For a trip to northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Burger donned a yellow chemise dress with white accessories. The couple are both graduates of Plymouth high school.

Kay Zarn To Graduate

Miss Kay Zarn

Graduating from Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit in Saturday Commencement Exercises at 3 p.m. in Ford Auditorium, Detroit, in a class of 188, will be Miss Kay Zarn. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zarn, 973 Ross St., Plymouth. Miss Zarn, who has spent three years in training at the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Unit, Ann Arbor, plans to work at St. Joseph's after taking her State Board Exams for registered nurse. Presiding at the commencement exercises will be Rev. Clement J. Esper, chaplain of Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital. Honors will be conferred by the Most Reverend Alexander M. Zaleski, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Detroit, and the presentation of candidates will be by Sister Mary Janice, R.S.M., executive director of the Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit. The Commencement address will be given by Rev. John Trese, M.S.W., the Cardinal's representative for Catholic hospitals.

Chris Kreuger, who resides with the Paul Wiedmans on North Territorial road, is visiting relatives in Germany during his vacation from the University of Michigan Law School. Chris made the trip on a freighter leaving New York on July 1 arriving in Germany on July 22.

Town Crier: Birthday Barbecue for Mrs. Earl Meyers

(Covering the area along Sheldon to Ann Arbor Trail, Harvey and Sutherland, including Plymouth Colony, Parklane, Hough Sub., Plymouth Hills and Ridgewood.)
BY GLORIA BOWLES
 GL 3-2340

Headlining the goings-on in the area this week is the arrival of a family from Livonia and the move of another clan to California. Camping experiences, vacations, weekend parties and jaunts, baseball and birthdays also take top billing.

"Au Revoir" to the William J. Zimmermans and children, Karen, 7, Cindy, 5, and Joey, 1. This former Sheldon Rd. family's theme song is now "California - here we come" for the clan left today to make their home in the Western state. A bright pink trailer is accompanying them to California.

Also enjoying a trip to Washington, D.C. were the Forest O. Byrds and sons Greg and Leslie of Governor Bradford. The Eric stayed with Mrs. Byrd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Christenson of Sage Lake. The family returned this past weekend after two weeks of vacationing; one week was spent in Washington, the other with the Christensons.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Jones and children Barbara and Davey of Priscilla Lane will leave tomorrow for sight-seeing in Lansing and a stop at - guess what - the Mackinac Bridge. They will be gone for the weekend.

Nine candles were blown out on the cake Tuesday when Barbara J. celebrated her birthday. Guests at the traditional ice cream and cake affair were Karen and Cindy Zimmerman, Eileen and Linda Welscher of Plymouth Colony and Mary Valier, Penny Pascoe, Donna Tate, and Susan Skingley.

A northern Michigan jaunt was enjoyed last week by Mrs. Elizabeth Borchart of Maple, and her daughter and family, the Robert Spicers and son Alan of Fenton. The group left last Wednesday, returned Friday, included a crossing of the Mackinac bridge in their sightseeing travels.

"Roughing it" for a few days in Cook's Forest about 40 miles from Butler, Pa., will be Henry T. Roche and sons Dennis and Gary. This Ann Arbor Trail family will leave August 4 for the Keystone state; the men will go camping while Mrs. Roche and two-year old John visit with her parents, the Carl Shafers of Butler. Besides fishing and swimming, the male Roches, who try to do this sort of thing every year, will spend part of the two week vacation with the Shafers.

Enjoying the good company, games, and the Robert's beautiful backyard and elaborate barbecue (and all that goes with it) were Mrs. Meyers and her husband and their daughters and families including Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hendrix of St. Joseph, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nichols, Mrs. Toll and daughter Roberta, and son Albert Meyer, wife and daughter Toni, all of Plymouth. Granddaughters present were Mrs. Robert Chisel and daughter Susan and Mrs. James Davis. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Broman. Of course Mr. Roberts, and Sharon, David, and Jenny were there.

Washington, New York and Niagara Falls were the sight-seeing spots on the itinerary of the recent trip taken by the James S. Winterhalters and sons Bob and Greg of Maple, who returned Saturday after a week's stay. The UN, the NBC radio-television studios, Chinatown, Wall Street and the Stock Market, Times Square, the Statue of Liberty, and the Empire State Building in NY and the many interesting government buildings in the US capital were among the tourist attractions enjoyed by these Plymouthites. Mrs. W. spoke of the "marvelous seafood" of New York, also mentioned that the Automat was intriguing, but offered this advice for prospective N.Y. tourists: "Don't go there if you're hungry!"

Two Plymouth Colony boys - Bill Wilson of Turkey Run and Dennis Fuelling of Priscilla Lane - returned Saturday from two weeks of canoeing, archery, campouts, swimming, and good food at Boy Scout camp Charles Howell in Brighton. The boys figured they walked 88 miles back and forth to meals during the course of the stay. Dennis lost 13 pounds, Bill gained 5. Hmm... Now what would you deduct from that? Both boys earned their second class patch during the summer recreation program, also works on his "hot rod."

Attention Evergreen Street residents of Parklane: When compiling a list of residents in your area from the phone book, I missed Evergreen, for due to the length of the street it would have been difficult to weed out those in Parklane. Therefore - if you reside on this street, haven't been called by me, and are doing something interesting,

These aren't the only Wilsons in this area to be keeping busy. The Clarence Wilsons and sons Robbie (I called him Billy a few issues ago - one guess why), John and daughter Elizabeth traveled to Interlochen recently to bring home Clare Ann, who spent two weeks at the music camp. This is her second year of attendance at the camp; she plans to return next year. She plays the clarinet, "had a ball" her mother reports. For the first time in the Wilson family history the whole family has enjoyed a vacation, which included an overnight stop at Traverse Bay.

Mrs. Wilson's dad and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Flutey have moved from Florida to Dearborn and were guests last weekend at the home-which-Mr. Wilson-built on Ridgewood.

Mrs. Dewey Evans of Maple spent the past weekend in Pittsburgh with her father, Mr. E. O. Payne, who is ill. She flew to the Pennsylvania city Friday noon - came home

Lucille Williams of Maple, whose face is a familiar one in Plymouth, for she works at Beyer Rexall Drugs, took advantage of her vacation to invite several friends for a "coffee klatch" Wednesday morning, July 23. Guests were Margaret Evans, Ermine Nichols, Grace "Johnny" Crosby, and Dorothy Chandler.

A picnic in the park was the occasion for the gathering of the family of the Edwin Walls of Jener last Sunday. Present were Mrs. Wall's sister and their families, including Mary and Betty Easton and son Ernie, and Patsy Curley and son Gwen Don, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lee Montgomery, Mrs. Wall's parents, and her Marine brother, Bennie Douglas were there. (Bennie will end his leave of duty Saturday when he leaves for Chicago.) Mr. Wall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Wall and brothers and sisters, Donnell, Larry, and Norma Wall enjoyed the outing as did family friends Verge and Core Holman and two daughters of Taylor Township.

Attention Evergreen Street residents of Parklane: When compiling a list of residents in your area from the phone book, I missed Evergreen, for due to the length of the street it would have been difficult to weed out those in Parklane. Therefore - if you reside on this street, haven't been called by me, and are doing something interesting, South Harvey have been and gone to Kansas... didn't know about this when it happened... please take the hint and call me, everybody... With all those folks who have and will move to Arkansas with Daisy, there certainly must be some new folks in this area, of whom I know nothing. If you are a member of one of these new families, or even a neighbor, please let me know so I may introduce the newcomers to our readers.

Got a postcard the other day from Carole North, who's spending the summer with a family in Wolfenbuttel, Germany. She says this is a "perfect summer," is now spending two weeks with her "family" on an island in the North Sea. All she does, she says, is "sleep, eat, and go marketing." Looking forward to next year - blond, vivacious Carole, for the third consecutive season, will be secretary of the class of 1959. Carole is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall North of Jener Place.

The Edward S. Wittoffs and son Ronnie, a future fifth grader at Bird School, returned Monday, the 21st, from a two week fishing vacation in Canada, above Chapel. The Ridgewood avenue family drove as far as they could, then boarded a train for their destination. "It was really wild," said Mrs. Witthoff, adding that they "caught some nice pike." With this trip and his swimming and piano lessons Ronnie has been keeping plenty busy this summer.

Twelve-year old Ronnie Failing of Sheldon spent last weekend with his cousin Michael Ryan of Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Ryan is Mrs. F's sister. Not bored this summer, Ronnie is taking classes in woodshop and arithmetic during the summer recreation program, also works on his "hot rod."

Edwin Schraders Tour Europe in Own Volkswagen

Seen that sharp little Volkswagen - almost white in color - parked on Main Street and about town?

Know that it belongs to the Edwin (Bud) Schraders who with 14-year-old son Win toured 5,000 miles in Europe with it before happily bringing it home? They picked it up in Naples, Italy, after having sailed there on "The Constitution."

The Schraders who arrived home in early July aboard "The United States" had one major reason for their summer sojourn: Franz Euringer is on a two-year tour of duty with the U.S. Army as specialist 1-c and is stationed near his parents' home in Regensburg, Germany.

Franz is the young man that the Schraders took into their family as a German exchange school student five years ago - and one whose future they have been keenly interested in ever since.

In fact, he was married to his bride in Plymouth just a year ago with the Schraders, who reside at 127 S. Main St., assisting with arrangements. And at the end of this army tour, Franz will receive his American citizenship papers... to make for a happy ending!

On hand to greet the trio in Naples was Franz and his bride Barbara. They got their "walking legs for Europe" together during Franz' sight-seeing rendezvous with them in Italy.

A "wonderful meeting" with Franz' family was a highlight of their Germany visit. "If all the people in the world could just sit down and talk like we did... there would be no wars," the two families decided. Franz' parents had lost their home and all belongings as a result of Germany's defeat and the post-war victor's settlements. Now they manage a small hotel with malice toward none.

The Schraders encountered Rev. Edgar Hoencke of St. Peter's Lutheran church at Karlsruhe and met David Nichol and his wife Judy in Bonne, David, foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, is the son of Plymouthite Mrs. Walter Nichol, of Church St., and gets back here every three years. He and Mr. Schrader were classmates at the University of Michigan. The families met again in Cologne and London.

Naturally the Schraders took in the Brussel's World's Fair... and thought the U.S. Pavilion "most outstanding." Son Win particularly enjoyed the terrific modern art show and U.S. malted milks and hamburgs available there!

They considered the Russian Pavilion a "rather frightening display of power and might." And couldn't agree with Rev. Hoencke on the German Pavilion: He thought it "wonderful" but Mrs. Schrader didn't as its theme tried to say they had "nothing to show as a result of the last war." So the two families are "going to get together to argue it out!" She also believed that our great west could have been better represented than by tumbleweed and a skeleton.

The Schraders visited Austria, Switzerland, France, England and Holland, in addition to Italy, Germany and Belgium, already mentioned.

HOW DO I KNOW MY MONEY IS SAFE?

Just remember that most of the money in the credit union is invested in loans to members. There's no better investment. Two other safeguards: all persons who handle money are bonded, and reserves (required by law) are set up to protect the credit union against loss. Finally, the government inspects the credit union regularly, and your own Supervisory or Examining Committee makes regular audits. It pays to put your money in a safe place.

Two Local Men Appear On Canton Twp. Ballot

A list of candidates that include two men from Canton Township will be found by Canton voters when they go to the polls with other Michigan electors next Tuesday.

The two Canton polling places are at the Township Hall (Precinct 1) and the Recreation Hall on Geddes Rd. (Precinct 2). Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 3 p.m.

Canton residents on the primary ballot are Carl Stelatto, a Cherry Hill Rd. resident, and Hagbard J. Berg, a resident of Michigan Ave.

Stelatto is seeking the U.S. Representative job in the 16th District now held by John Lesinski. Both are Democrats. Other Democrats trying for the nomination are Bristow Bryant and Louis C. Lada.

Republicans seek Lada, the U.S. Representative nomination are Ralph Guy and Arthur Kurtz.

Berg is the only Republican trying for the state senate in the 21st senatorial district. Or the Democratic ticket are Peter Bill, Sr., and Patrick J. Doyle, incumbent, George Z. Hart, Joseph Martin, Jr., Niel C. Mondella, Richard C. Brusiniski, and James Thomson.

Other candidates on the ballot are the same as those of the Plymouth ballot (see sample ballot and story elsewhere). This includes the 21st state representative district race.

Precinct delegates on the Canton ballot are:

Precinct 1: Republican, Ernest W. Plant; Democratic, none.

Precinct 2: Republican, Lee A. Bartz and Hagbard J. Berg; Democratic, Arthur G. Slagold.

There are no special propositions on the Canton Township ballot. Clerk John Floridi announced.

The following are thumbnail sketches of the U.S. representative and state senate candidates.

For state representative sketches, see story elsewhere concerning candidates voted upon by Plymouth electors.

ONE-TWO, one-two. Push-ups were part of the Junior Olympics that took place Monday night at the high school. Shown are some of the boys straining to compete for the trophies. Kiwanians awarded the trophies and helped serve as judges for the events. Dr. Fred Foust is shown watching the boys.

Local Residents Take Interest In Slaughter Bill

A number of Plymouth residents have taken a personal interest in the humane slaughter bill now being bootlegged around in Congress. They are asking that citizens write to their U.S. Senator to urge immediate adoption of the bill.

The bill, passed by the House, has been in senate committee and now a substitute bill is being submitted to the secretary of agriculture. Proponents of the bill note that this may delay passage for several years.

Most slaughterers kill livestock with hammers or sledges. Several have adopted more humane methods.

The Anti-Cruelty Association in Detroit recently distributed literature to 500 butchers and many housewives urging them to buy meat only from packers who are known to slaughter animals humanely. The movement is nationwide.

Local supporters of the bill are urging citizens to write Senator Charles Potter or Patrick McNamara, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., to express their feeling in the matter.

The Mail Attitude: Strategy and the Election

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Vote next Tuesday, along with all good citizens!

The primary election this year is one of unusual interest because of strategy.

No one today is sure whether the Republicans have been shrewd, or whether they have out-smarted themselves, or whether it makes no difference.

But the fact there is hardly a single GOP contest, for any major office, is an element which utterly intrigues the political scientists in next Tuesday's primary voting.

While Democrats are tussling among themselves with considerable heat and fury, in some cases the GOP candidates for State Senator, State Representative, and the multitude of County and State offices, all are unopposed and serene, waiting for the final November.

The politicians mull the situation from several directions.

Will the absence of a GOP primary fight give the Democratic candidates an edge, because they have been campaigning harder and longer and will have a certain amount of "head start" in reaching the voters' minds?

Or, on the other hand, will the solid Republican front, undisturbed by internal contests, provide a strength of purpose that will unite the GOP voters better than anything else might have?

Will the voters interpret the sparseness of GOP candidates as indicative of a lack of Republican willingness to accept public office? Will the voters be inclined to think most GOP leaders "were too scared to run?"

Will some of the professional Republican politicians band together in the primary to try to split the Democrats by voting on the Democratic ticket against strong men? (Most politicians out our way regard this as a remote possibility. Also, on the State level, GOP leaders have told the party to forget the idea of jumping to the other ballot in the primary.)

By saving their money and their steam for the finals, will the Republicans be able to conduct the louder campaign at the time it really counts?

Your guess is as good as that of the politicians: But next Tuesday's election fun belongs to the Democrats exclusively.

In this area (the 17th Congressional District) the Democrats have been arguing over the dictatorial role played by their District chairman, Al Meyers.

The 17th District has come out, prior to the primary, with a firm "endorsement" for individual candidates for each office. All other Democrats in the race and there are many, for the several offices - have been politely told by the District to shut up and go about their business... alone.

The "left outs" don't like it, and they haven't huffed up. "What's the big idea of handing out endorsements before a primary?", they ask. "Am I not too a Democrat? Don't I belong to the District?"

Some rather influential Democrats have been asking those questions, and if Meyers' selections (actually they were picked by the CIO with Meyers' consent) should happen to get knocked off, the chairman will be given an uncomfortable time by the survivors.

The chairman has been able to make his will prevail thus far because of a record of past victory. There was a time when the 17th District was almost a private hunting ground for the Republicans, but the Democrats have made deep gains in recent years, and the leadership is given the credit for this. "I don't go for Meyers' tactics," observed one Democratic politician, "but what are you gonna do? All he does is win."

One departure from the pattern next Tuesday is on the Republican side of the ballot for U.S. Congress. Two men are seeking the nomination there: Lucas S. Miel and Gregory M. Pillon.

I personally find this little contest bemusing, and not simply because it happens to be the only real GOP match in the primary.

Miel was a complete stranger to most of us when he filed to run. But it has been clear from the outset that he is the man picked by the Republican District leadership to make the big effort to unseat incumbent Martha Griffiths, one of the more rugged assignments which could be handed any political novice in this state.

So I was curious about Miel's background and platform.

Then there is Pillon. He is a curious young man, running absolutely without organized support. There are those (including the GOP leadership) who contend he's running without any support at all, even unorganized.

Pillon is an attorney who reaches the newspapers every now and then as a participant in some kind of off-beat legal case. But a more pertinent factor, possibly, is that he has been advertising his name around this District almost without interruption for the past three years. I don't believe he ever took down his old highway signs - anyway, they have been in sight for a long, long time.

Possibly it's fair to say that while practically nobody knows Pillon or supports him, quite a few people have heard the name.

His opponent, and the logical favorite in the race is Miel. I discover he never has run before for any political office, but is a successful company executive who believes in an employe profit-sharing plan and who has been an active Republican leader for many years.

His nickname is "Luke." He was born in a small town in outstate Michigan (Six Lakes) and was raised in Stanton. He holds a law degree from Michigan. He practiced law from 1935 to 1944, when he became Vice President and Asst. General Manager of Commercial Steel Treating.

In talking to Miel, one learns that he believes a basic issue before the country is the placing of limits on the striking privileges of unions. "Something has to be done to get rid of business leaving under the shadow of an annual strike threat," he contends.

He also wants federal action to halt the "wage-price spiral."

Miel says he entered the election himself after discovering that none of the individuals he had been urging to run would accept. "This is a year for Republicans to win. I don't believe there has been a time in many years when employes were so aware of the importance of employers in the economy."

Pillon scoffs at Miel. "Who ever heard of Miel?", asks the maverick candidate. "A few people know my name, anyhow. I'll win the nomination. It won't even be close."

"And when I do, I'm going to call for the resignation of every member of the District committee. They operate by themselves, don't give legitimate candidates a chance to be heard, live in a world of their own. This time they'll regret it."

As I said, the lone GOP contest seems almost interesting, when you think about it. But maybe it's because it's the only one on the ballot.

VOTE TUESDAY.

MEMBERS OF the Fort Branch, Indiana Boy Scout Troop unload supplies from a pick-up truck at Gallimore School, their first stop-over point in a long trip through Michigan and Canada. Six cars and the truck composed the caravan.

Indiana Scouts Make Plymouth First Stop in Long Journey

Thirty-five Boy Scouts and 10 leaders from Fort Branch, Indiana made Plymouth their first stop last weekend on a long tour that will take them into Canada and Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

The group, traveling in six cars and a pick-up truck, arrived in Plymouth Saturday afternoon. They were housed in the Gallimore Elementary School auditorium until they left Monday morning.

While in Plymouth, the group visited Greenfield Village and the Ford Museum in Dearborn. They also attended church Sunday morning with Protestants going to First Methodist Church and the Catholics to Our Lady of God's Counsel.

The group is sponsored by the Methodist Church of Fort Branch and the pastor, Rev. R. L. Christopher, is one of the leaders on the trip.

Leaving here, the troop will visit Niagara Falls, Toronto, Sault Ste. Marie and the Straits Bridge.

The Troop didn't just "happen" to stop here. Their Scoutmaster, Frank Kuhns, is a relative of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowsman, 9343 Morrison, and it was the Bowsmans who made arrangements to make Plymouth the troop's first stop.

Unlike Plymouth where the scouts slept inside, they expect to do much camping out on their tour. Most nights they will have a campfire activity.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar Davis and daughters, Kay Marie and Suzann, 42728 Ford Rd., recently returned from a three weeks vacation in Southport, N. Carolina, visiting his family and from Daytona Beach, Fla. Mrs. Davis and girls also visited Mrs. Davis' family in Muncie, Ind. last week.

The group no sooner got into Plymouth Saturday when they found the hospitality was something unusual. One of the cars stopped at Strasen Arbor Rd. to get gas and Voss Service Station on Ang phone the Bowsmans. The attendant overheard the Scouts talking about their stopover here and they were given their gas at cost price.

THE DAYS OF checkers is far from being over as leaders at the Recreation Department's summer program will testify. Checkers is one of the games played at Monday's Field Day at the high school. Some of the contestants are shown concentrating on the game that is usually believed to be a game for older folks.

SCENE OF the Plymouth Colony Farms concert Sunday shows part of the throng of 1,400 attending the affair. Many sat in folding chairs under trees at the top of the hillside. It was the largest crowd to ever attend the series. There were three concerts last year and this was the third this season. One concert remains.

Record Crowd Attends Plymouth Colony Farms Concert Sunday

The largest crowd to ever attend a Plymouth Colony Farms Concert dotted the hillside of the natural amphitheatre Sunday evening as they heard a delight program of familiar classical and Broadway musical numbers. Some 1,400 people attended the concert that featured the Colony Farms Little Symphony and Fred Kendall as soloist. Promoters of the summer series can't be sure if Sunday's large attendance was a result of the "no admission" charge or the light fare on the program, but they were sure of one thing — the concert was a success. The audience ranged in age from those few months old to those many score old. For many it was the first concert they had attended since the series started a year ago. Radio personality Fred Kendall captivated the crowd with his familiar tenor voice heard every weekday night on "Guest House" on WJR. He was heard early on the program in "La Danza" by Rossini and later in selections from "The King and I" and "Brigadoon."

Sunday's concert was presented without charge through the courtesy of the Music Performance Trust Fund and the American Federation of Musicians. All of the musicians were professional. All three concerts presented this season have had perfect weather. In case of rain, the concerts are scheduled to move into the high school but so far they have maintained a perfect record for the two summers. Wayne Dunlap conducted the Little Symphony which opened with Hungarian Dances Nos. 1, 3 and 10 by Brahms. This was followed by "Recondita armonia" from Tosca by Giacomo Puccini, La Danza by Rossini and Symphony No. 101 in D Major (The Clock) by Franz Joseph Haydn. After intermission the orchestra played highlights from "Carousel" and March of the Siamese Children from "The King and I", both by Rogers. Following Kendall's selections, the program closed with Guadalupe March from "Victory at Sea" by Rogers. Sunday, August 10 will be the final concert of the series, again featuring the 90-piece Plymouth Symphony. Joseph Schwartz, pianist, will be guest soloist. Admission to this concert will again require a ticket.

THE RING TOSS was one of the many games played Monday afternoon at the Kiwanis Field Day held behind the high school.

ble. Slowly, the cable pulled the injured youth and the men up the hillside. It took two minutes.

On top of the hill a crowd of over 100 people gathered to watch the difficult job. Friends tried to console Jim's family.

Finally up the hill, the stretcher was loaded into the ambulance and sheriff's car escorted the ambulance to University Hospital.

The accident happened at about 4:50 p.m. and it was nearly an hour later that the youth was lifted into the ambulance.

A report from University Hospital Wednesday listed the boy as still critical. He had undergone two operations.

ting for the Democratic nomination in the 16th district against a veteran Congressman John Lesinski and two other candidates.

Republicans will have very little choice-making to do. There are but two contests on their ticket.

In contrast, Democrats need to make decisions for every job except register of deeds. For sheriff there are no less than 16 Democrats seeking the nomination. And for county prosecutor there are 10.

Offices to be voted for are: governor, lieutenant governor, U.S. Senator, representative to Congress, state senator, state legislator, county prosecutor, attorney, sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer, register of deeds, drain commissioner and precinct delegates.

Voters who have reason to be out of their community on election day can secure an absentee ballot from their clerk before 2 p.m. this Saturday.

Tips on Cookie Storage

How you store cookies will depend on whether they are supposed to be soft or crisp. Keep soft cookies in a tightly covered metal or glass container. A small unpaired apple in the container will help keep them even more moist. Crisp cookies should be stored in a glass or metal container with a loosely fitting cover. Remember not to store crisp and soft cookies together. The crisp ones will soften and the soft ones will harden.

White potatoes were once believed to be poisonous.

LOOKING DOWN on the scene of Monday's accident at Phoenix Lake saw the Plymouth fire department with its resuscitator administering oxygen to 11-year-old Jim Hoffman, a sixth grader at Starkweather School. He is shown about to be lifted into a stretcher into which he was strapped before being pulled along with his rescuers up a steep cliff by a wrecker cable. The youth has had two operations for his compound skull fracture.

400 Enter Kiwanis Field Day Events at High School

Around 400 youngsters participated in the Kiwanis Field Day events held Monday at the Plymouth Summer Recreation and Education program came to an end this week.

Tomorrow will conclude the summer program hailed as the biggest and most successful yet. (The Kiwanis Field Day, revived after an absence of six years, was also highly successful, according to Recreation Director Herbert Woolweaver.

Champions of the 11 playgrounds were matched Monday afternoon in a variety of games at the high school. Then at 7 o'clock the Junior Olympics were held on the athletic field. They continued until 10 p.m. under the lights.

Supervisors of the playgrounds handled the Field Day events and Kiwanis Club members assisted with the running of the Junior Olympics. Trophies were given for first, second and third places in each event. There were over 200 trophies awarded by Kiwanis.

One of the last playground events will be tonight in the high school auditorium when music supervisor William Grimmer leads the Playground Song Fest. This starts at 7:30 and will last 45 minutes. Parents are also invited. Entry to the auditorium should be by the back door since a band program will be held in front of the school at the same time.

Next Wednesday, winners of the playground dog show will go to the regional finals in Dearborn. Other evidence of the playground work can be found at the Agnew Jewelry and Plymouth Credit Union office where art pieces that have won awards are exhibited.

Open Invitation to Visit Organic Vegetable Grower Extended by Club

Five Organic flower and vegetable gardens were visited by more than 70 members and guests of the Wayne County Organic Farm and Garden Club, Sunday, July 20.

Beginning in Inkster at the garden of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Decker, 7241 S. Merriman Rd., the club moved next to the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Sandness, 7221 S. Merriman Rd. The beautiful rose and perennial display of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Gotts, 30047 Cherryhill Rd., Garden City, was the third visit. Next came the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mensch, 35180 6 Mile Rd., Livonia. The trek was completed with a picnic at the shady home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Inghram, 80904 Parker, Farmington. All who made the tour were greatly impressed both by the quality and beauty of the produce and also by the ingenuity displayed by each gardener, in fertilizing, cultivating and mulching.

Next month, the club will visit a commercial organic vegetable grower. This meeting, Sunday, August 17, 1958, is open to anyone interested in farming or gardening, the natural way. For further information call Mr. Walter

"Bring a fresh supply of adjectives — the views are exclamatory. Any time is a good time to visit this park. In spring, redbud and dogwood are reflected in the streams and lakes; the deep woods are carpeted with spring beauties, violets, wild phlox. Many varieties of flowering crabs and hawthornes put on a spring-long show. (Note: please leave the flowers for others to enjoy. Besides, they are protected by state law.)

"Scattered through the park are courts for tennis and shuffleboard, baseball diamonds, well equipped play areas for children. And spicily clean rest rooms. Plenty of boats and canoes to rent. In winter, besides sledding and skiing hills to suit varying degrees of skill, there are well-maintained toboggan slides and skating rinks.

"After an exhilarating day in the open exploring this fascinating park, you'll crave something good to eat.

Salem News: Birthdays Spark Small Fry Doings

By Mrs. Herbert Famuliner
Fl. 9-0924

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norval Dyal on their 34th wedding anniversary July 28. The Dyals live on Pontiac Trail.

Many birthdays were celebrated this past week—Monica Rohraff was five on July 24; Hannah Reddering was six on Saturday and celebrated with six little friends with cake and ice cream; Renee Carroll was one year old on July 26, and Mrs. William Edmunds observed her birthday on July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fayman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rohraff spent the weekend in Lowell, where they attended the "Lowell Show Boat" Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kelly and daughter Lea Ann of Seven Mile Rd. returned home Sunday after spending two weeks at East Tawas. Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly and Lynda spent four days with them. Such nice tans and fishing was good.

Mr. and Mrs. Norval Dyal and grandson Billy and Sammy Edmunds spent four days camping at Island Lake this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Sweetman and son Donald are vacationing at Oak Hurst on Sanginaw Bay, with Mrs. Sweetman's Mother, Mrs. Floyd Nowell. The Sweetmans live on West Six Mile Rd.

The Salem Farmer's club will meet August 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bulmon of Pontiac Trail.

Mrs. Morris Givens is in the University Hospital where she will undergo surgery Monday. Thirty-six children and instructors from the Salem Federated church are spending five days at the Arrowhead Lodge in Kensington Park for Youth camp.

Week-end guests of Mrs. Lloyd Birckelbaw of S. Salem Rd. were her mother, Mrs. R. L. Scertz of Danvers, Ill., and her sister, Mrs. John Struhar and three children of McLean, Ill.

Mrs. Gilbert Alter and Nancy spent the weekend with the Robert Alexanders at Augusta. Mr. and Mrs. Knowles Bueers, Elizabeth and Kay Roberts are spending the week at the Glenn Northrup home at Johannesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr of Allen Park and Mr. and Mrs. William Echert of Ypsilanti were Sunday callers at the Wheeler Home on S. Salem Rd.

Mrs. Kenneth Clinansmith of C u r t i s Rd entertained Thursday evening with a linen party at her home.

Suburban Farm Bureau held their picnic Sunday in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeMaster of Napier Rd. A delicious barbecue was prepared by Roy LeMaster and Jim Brummel and not luck dishes were served. Recreation was led by Mrs. Ralph Wilson, with prizes being won by Mrs. Savory, Mrs. J. McIntyre and Mrs. Lloyd Spencer. Children games were led by William Green. "Happy Birthday" was sung for Mrs. Cody Savory and Mrs. Charles Van Avery.

Donkey Ball Game

The Salem Fire Dept. will play the Superior Township Fire Dept. in a Donkey Ball Game on Sunday afternoon August 24th at 2 o'clock in Salem. It will be lots of fun to see, so plan on coming.

Merit Pay for Teachers

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Most school administrators now favor a merit pay system for teachers, according to the "The Nation's Schools." A large number of the administrators said they had only come around to this point of view in the past two years.

Woman's Eye View

BY Kathie Mull Lusk

"FEVER" is what Plymouth branch, Woman's Farm and Garden Association, has got these days . . . and they want all Plymouth to get it. Not Peggy Lee's affliction-by-the-same name (on that brisk new Capital disc) but . . . flower fever!

And I can't think of a happier event than that which has inspired all this — the group's all-community Flower Show to be August 22 in Plymouth Junior High School.

Their open invitation to participate . . . to show off favorite blooms, shrubs, arrangements, and just about everything floral in a long classification list . . . is to You and You and You . . . the amateur gardening enthusiast in the Greater Plymouth area.

Ten years ago the Farm and Garden women closed the door on their last Flower Show and said they "had it." Lack of town interest and participation coupled with their expenses in money and time were the factors behind this decision.

Now they feel, according to the 1958 general chairman of the show, Mrs. Paul J. Wiedman, that everyone with a love for beauty is growing things . . . sharpening up their homes and grounds . . . and that "the time has" come when such a show can be a community affair and success.

"Plymouth's population has grown so much in the last decade . . . people enjoy gardening . . . and our purpose is to get everyone interested and show what can be done with flowers . . . so we decided to try again!" Mrs. Wiedman says with contagious confidence.

For the 82 affiliated members of the Plymouth F. & G. branch, this means a busy, bustling three weeks ahead. Perfecting plans for the show are Mrs. Louis Von Stein and Mrs. Jesse Tritten, staging; Mrs. Sidney Strong, entries; Mrs. A. Lincoln Lantz, publicity; Mrs. Carl Shear, judges; Mrs. Arnold Samuelson, tickets; and Mrs. Edwin W. Zipse, hostesses. President of the Farm and Garden women is Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum who was elected in May for a two-year term.

All entries are to be brought to the school on the show day between 8 and 11:15 a.m. in the exhibitor's own container—properly identified, Mrs. Wiedman has announced. A printed classification list will soon be ready giving all the categories for entries.

Show time is to be from 2 to 9 p.m. with a small admission charge for adults coming to look over the green thumb talents of their neighbors.

What will some of the committee enter? Mrs. Wiedman, who calls herself a "plain dirt gardener growing everything from weeds to flowers" plans to show, among many items, some pine cone wreaths she designed last year. Mrs. Von Stein, whose exquisite garden is known to many, will probably enter a 18th Century Williamsburg floral arrangement.

Maybe you'll enter some luscious roses, dahlias, fruit, vegetables, or shrubbery that have responded to your ever-lovin' care. How about it?

Oh, to be 17 again . . . Those wonderful letters being received by Mr. and Mrs. Marshall F. North of Jener farm from daughter Carole Ann now enjoying a summer never-to-be forgotten in Europe make for the wishful thinking.

Carole was one of the girls from the Plymouth area invited to live with a German family for the summer on an exchange program.

Barbel Giermann, her young hostess, speaks English fluently and had made arrangements to take Carole to Borkum Island in the North Sea for a two weeks' holiday. They are just winding up that adventure this week. (Barbel's family lives in Wolfenbuttel, Germany, 10 miles from the Russian zone.) On this summer island the girls have called a "pension" their home — the island itself is four hours by boat from the coast of Germany.

Come Friday of this week Carole will join Susan Campbell and Betty Carless, both of Plymouth, and take off from Heidelberg into Switzerland to stay at the Girl Scout International Chalet. This is really dream stuff for Carole; When she was but seven years old and a Brownie, her mother rashly said, "Someday you'll be going to the International Chalet." Some crystal ball! Carole is to return August 24.

Another local adventurer is George Pine, 21 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pine, of Dunn court. He hitchhiked to Anchorage, Alaska, alone . . . starting June 18 . . . and arriving just two weeks later!

He luckily ran on to four boys at Ft. Nelson headed for Alaska with similar ideas to see for themselves this "last frontier" to be our 49th State. Fellow hikers were from New York, Texas, Alberta and British Columbia, Canada.

George attended Eastern Michigan for two years, studying conservation. He is "eating up" the

Ordinance No. 244
AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND AND ADD TO ORDINANCE NO. 182, KNOWN AS THE "ZONING ORDINANCE."

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. There is hereby added to said ordinance a new section to be known as Section 13.09 to read as follows:

Section 13.09. Powers of the Board of Appeals relative to signs. The Board of Appeals, subject to the procedure, provisions and limitations of Section 13.07, may permit a variance from the requirements of Section 9.01 (i) hereto, by granting a temporary permit for a sign to project more than eighteen (18) inches beyond the building line when the building line, as established by the Master Thorofare Plan, forces the sign to be so located that it will be hidden or partially hidden from view of the street by existing buildings or structures so as to render the sign ineffective, subject to the following conditions:

- The sign shall not project more than eighteen (18) inches beyond the building line as established by the majority of the buildings in the block.
- The temporary permit as to location of the sign shall be effective until the authorization of the street improvement, at which time the City shall notify the owner that the temporary permit shall cease and that the sign shall be removed, or removed and replaced in a position in compliance with the Zoning Ordinance.
- The cost of removal or replacement of the sign shall be paid for by the owner or lessee of the building or land upon which the sign is located.
- The sign construction shall comply with the requirements of the Building Code.

Section 2. This ordinance shall become operative and effective on the 12th day of August A.D. 1958.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth on this 21st day of July A.D. 1958.

CLARENCE JETTER, whose Travel-Aid Service can be found in hotels and other public places in southeastern Michigan, looks over one of his display racks in his new office building on Starkweather Ave. Jetter lives at 353 Joy St.

Unusual Plymouth Business Helps Michiganians Select Vacations

By Dave Jolliffe

Eight years ago Clarence Jetter developed a new twist from an old idea. He's been using it ever since in his Travel Aide Service at 636 Starkweather Avenue.

The idea, attractive display racks containing pamphlets advertising resorts, airlines or the seven wonders of the world. The new twist, put these display racks wherever they'll prod people into picking up folders.

Jetter, former civil service worker, installs his display racks in industrial cafeterias, restaurants, college unions, libraries, banks, hospitals, garages, and newspaper offices. He's got about 200 of these locations and is adding more all the time.

Jetter has four locations in Plymouth. They include: Hillside Inn, Burrough's cafeteria, First Federal Savings & Loan and Chamber of Commerce.

He emphasizes that "I'm not a travel agent and don't make reservations for trips."

"Of course I have to select the locations very carefully," Jetter says. "For example, department stores are usually bad locations. I've discovered that people who go there aren't too interested in picking up pamphlets. Chances are they'd just be wasted there."

Jetter got the display rack idea from a friend in New York who set them up in hotel lobbies. "I thought there must be other places where I could put them," he said. "So I chose all kinds of spots where people have a little time on their hands, even if it's only a restaurant where they're waiting to pay their check."

Every rack is custom-made for Jetter. They contain 64 pockets (eight rows wide and eight deep). (He has increased the size three times). Each has a plaque identifying it as "Owned and operated by TRAVEL-AID Service, Plymouth, Michigan."

Of course the biggest problems in any business, and Jetter's is no exception, is finding clients.

"I've got to sell people on the service I can perform for them," he said. "At first it was a real problem. But now, a lot of the businesses I call on for the first time have already heard of me. That makes it much easier to sell them."

"Another thing — I've got to be very selective when choosing clients. Naturally, I want as much business as possible, but one bad apple can spoil the whole bushel. For one reason or another I've more than others. After a while you get to know how often you have to visit particular racks in order to keep them filled. Naturally, places in well-traveled areas like a plant cafeteria need frequent refills. Other places only have to be visited several times a month. I have two helpers who fill them."

"You can learn a lot of interesting things from these racks," Jetter said, pointing to the sample rack in his office. "For one thing it makes no difference where I locate a particular pamphlet in the racks. If it's interesting and the place is popular, it's going to be sorted out from the rest and picked up."

Most of the clients use every rack. The only notable exception occurs when businesses conflict. For example, hotels don't like to have a pamphlet in their rack that advertises a nearby motel."

Right now Jetter has about 200 clients but some of them don't advertise year-round. Places like Michigan ski resorts and Florida beaches only use the services during their peak seasons.

Of course no business — particularly one based on an idea — can continue successfully by standing still. Jetter's is no exception.

"I wonder," he mused, "maybe I could encourage more people to pick up pamphlets if they didn't have to stoop over. I could raise my racks by putting them on stands, then . . ."

Veterans of Foreign Wars

The barbecue held at the hall on Lilley Rd. last week was a huge success. The drill teams would like to thank all who participated and especially the public for making it such a success.

What the Veterans of Foreign Wars is and what its members want are symbolized by the official emblem of this organization, the Cross of Malta.

The Cross of Malta is nearly 1,000 years old. It was the emblem of the Knights of St. John, the world's first great brotherhood of men who fought to free the oppressed and minister to the sick and needy. Men of the V.F.W. selected the Cross of Malta as their emblem because, like the original Crusaders, they have pledged themselves to defend human rights in times of peace and war.

And like the original Knights of St. John, the V.F.W. member fulfills his vows by giving aid to worthy comrades, a helping hand to the widows and orphans, and continued defense to every man's right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. They earned the Cross of Malta by their overseas military service, and they wear it proudly.

One of the outstanding achievements of this organization is the National Home in Eaton Rapids, founded in 1925. It occupies 640 acres, complete with orchard, gardens, poultry, pigs, dairy and beef herds, and grazing lands for sheep, cattle and horses.

There are over two dozen modern, two story homes, each with a housemother, who guides her "family" from babyhood to young adults.

The foremost endeavor is to give each child a normal, healthy, refined family environment in which he may grow into a mature, useful citizen.

The Home has three principal sources of income: (1) a percentage of the proceeds from the annual sale of V.F.W. "Buddy" poppies; (2) life memberships in the home corporation; and (3) the sale of National Home Christmas seals.

Next week we will give the requirements for entry into the Home for children that might be eligible from this area.

Season for Slipcover Clothes

This is the season for the "slip-cover" treatment of dressy clothes. Almost all the fall collections from New York firms feature short cocktail gowns with two layers of material — a black chintilly lace over a black satin sheath, for instance. Or, transparent chiffon over satin. Designer Oleg Cassini shows one dress-up frock with the underdress a slim printed silk organza. Topping it is a flowing cover of sheer black chiffon.

Green Meadows Family Enjoys Swimming . . .

(Covering the Green Meadows neighborhood, Ann Arbor Rd., Joy, Main, and Sheldon, including the Gallimore School district.)
MRS. ALVIN STACE
 GL. 3-1929

Marge Hoelt of Brookline called the other morning to tell about their family reunion held June 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Everett of Tecumseh.

The grand occasion was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Everett's 46th wedding anniversary. They are Marge's aunt and uncle.

Attending the reunion from Plymouth were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie (Marge) Hoelt and children; Mrs. Genevieve Wilson and daughter Madeline (Marge's mother and sister); her brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson and daughter Lynda, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and sons; an aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett and Joyce; brothers Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson and family from Montrose; and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wilson and family from Bridgewater.

Guests attending from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eaton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Eaton and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Schroeder and family.

They enjoyed a pot luck dinner after which the children played games. The adults spent the day playing baseball or cards, and just talking over old times — confessing capers they had done as children. The honored guests were presented with a lovely card containing a gift of money.

Kenneth Cornett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Cornett of Marlowe, celebrated his ninth birthday with a picnic in the yard a week ago Saturday. On hand to help celebrate the happy event were his aunt, Gracie Owens, and cousins Vickie and Roxann of Livonia; Melva a Strong and children, Manuel, David, Bobby, and Linda, also of Livonia; and another aunt, Ann Combs, and son Chuckie of Beck Rd.

His guests also included several of his neighborhood friends — Raymond Woolfridge, Danny Hammond, Freddie Boltrick, Larry and Mark Lea, and Elaine Novak. After lunch the children played several games. The mothers sat around and chatted. Everyone had a very good time, and we are sure Kenneth had a very happy birthday.

This sure must be "Birthday month". I called Mrs. McGonagle of Marlowe just after little friends of her daughter Kathy had bid a last good-bye. The friends Ricky and Jimmy Kearns, Joan Matthews, and Mark Strautz, helped Kathy celebrate her 11th birthday at a party. The children played games and were served cake and ice cream. Hope you had a very happy birthday, Kathy!

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bonga Sr. of Corrinne St. left Friday

for a motor trip to New York State.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Perlongo and son Ricky, and Mr. Perlongo's brother Joe took their house trailer to Big Portage lake to spend the weekend. Herman said it was too cold to enjoy any fishing or swimming but son Ricky was very brave and went swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bonga, Jr., and son Timmy spent a day at German Park on Territorial Road. They attended the annual picnic of Evans Products Co.

Last but not least I would like to tell you about a wonderful trip the James Page and family took to Scotland and England. The Page family live on South Main. They have three lovely children Patricia, Connie Lynn and Kevin. The night before departing, they were feted at a surprise farewell party in their home by about 45 friends and relatives. The next morning 17 of their relatives were on hand to see them off from Wayne airport. They left early one morning in the middle of June. When they arrived in Scotland, Mr. Page's father, Harold Page, met them and took them to his home in Blairgowrie, Scotland, where they were to stay.

While in Scotland they did a very unusual thing — at least unusual to the people of Plymouth: They went swimming in the North Sea and the Irish Sea. Mrs. Page tells me this is not unusual for the people of Scotland. The temperature over there hardly ever goes above 48 degrees, but she said it warmed up enough that they braved the temperature and went in for a few dips. Brrr—it makes me cold just to think about it. They rented a car over there so were able to get in quite a bit of sight-seeing. They made tours of old castles — many of these castles contained their original furnishings. The York Cathedral built in 601 was very beautiful being of stone architecture, they reported.

While in Scotland, Mr. Page visited with several friends whom he had not seen in 25 years. One old school chum in particular, who resides in Southern Rhodesia was visiting in Scotland at the same time as the Page family.

A very tense moment was spent at Edinburgh Castle, when they came very close to being struck by lightning. The conductor was hit by a bolt of lightning and it flashed right before them. The shock was so great it caused the whole castle to shake. They enjoyed the horse show and steeplechase races at Harrogate, England.

In England they visited several of Mrs. Page's aunts and uncles. They stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Tinson, in Leeds, England. Mrs. Tinson is Mr. Page's sister. They also took time to visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cohen of Leeds, England. Mrs. Cohen is a very dear friend of Mrs. Page. The Cohens are owners of several woolen mills in Leeds.

While on their month-long trip they took about 400 pictures. Mrs. Page told me they had a very wonderful time, but it seemed to end too soon and that the only thing bad was that it gets "rather tiring" trying to live from a suitcase.

In Scotland they purchased Scottish kilts for the children.

FOR PLYMOUTHITES liking stirring band music, the Inter-Community Band will present its last concert tonight (July 31) in front of the high school at 7:30. This will be the fourth concert, although two were rained out. Favorites of past concerts will be played. Directed by high school band director James Griffith, the band is composed of adults and students from Plymouth, Bentley and Redford Union High schools. Griffith intends to continue the band throughout the winter and invites adults, although they have not played for many years, to join. The band has had between 50 and 60 members this summer. Concert-goers should bring their own chairs.

Social

Howard Stark has returned to his home at 382 Blunk Ave. after a 12-day stay at the New Grace hospital, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Corliss Allen and daughter Nancy and son Michael of Ann Arbor Trail have arrived in Honolulu, Hawaii, where they will be for two years. Mr. Allen is with the Coast Guard there.

Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Michaels, 696 Ann St., and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Michaels of Milford spent the weekend in Harrison with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Austin. Mr. Austin and William Michaels had a bang-up reunion, the first in 52 years.

Another son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Michaels and son Richard of Arthur St. are spending a few days in Mio.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kola called to Clemons drive were called to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, Monday morning by the death of his 84 year old mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick entertained at a family dinner at their Clemons drive home on Saturday evening in honor of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hornbrook of Muskegon on the occasion of their first wedding anniversary. The Hornbrooks have just returned from a five weeks vacation with his parents in Florida. Other guests included the T. L. Sullivans of White Lake, the Robert Bevers and Miss Amelia Gayde of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett and children, Jack and Judy, spent last week camping at the Higgins lake in northern Michigan.

VACATION CRUISE — Plymouthites Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gilbert, right, of 882 Simpson St., relaxed aboard the S.S. South American on a recent Great Lakes cruise with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Groschke, left, in charge of music aboard ship. The Groschkes are former Plymouthites (she was Evelyn Woods) and now reside in Scottsdale, Ariz. They entertain passengers during the four-month sailing season.

Navy Recruiter Opens New Office

Johnnie F. Goss, Engineer First Class, U.S. NAVY, announced the recent opening of the Navy Recruiting Branch Station at Northville located in The Veteran's Memorial Hall.

Goss will be in Plymouth every Tuesday at 10 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce Hall to discuss careers and opportunities in the Navy with young men 17 to 31 years of age and women 18 to 26 years of age. Petty Officer Goss states that the Navy is presently stressing the High School Graduates

Training Program whereby high school graduates may enlist and be guaranteed the chance to attend one of the Navy's technical schools. For more information on this and other Navy enlistment programs contact Engineman Goss in the Veteran's Memorial Hall, in Northville. Office hours are from 8 to 5 week days or you can call FL 9-1060 for evening appointments.

Lake Pointe Youngster Tommy McElroy Places Second in Big Soap Box Derby

By Mrs. ARTHUR COOKSEY
GL 3-2871

Youngsters in Lake Pointe are making headlines for many reasons. Summer finds them either reaping the rewards of the past year's efforts or beginning new phases of their lives that will certainly enrich their lives and add to their knowledge.

Tommy McElroy, son of Bud and Maxine McElroy on Robinwood, has recently competed in the Detroit News Soap Box Derby. He and his older brother raced together for many years, but this time Charlie was too old to compete. That left Tommy holding the family reputation.

Prior to his move to Plymouth Tommy earned the mechanics in his wood and metal shop. He and his family made the racer during the late spring and summer and prepared for the "Big Day." (Apparently the relatives at home had better seats for the race in front of their television sets than did the immediate family standing at the track.)

As the days wore on it became clear that Tommy would compete in the final heat as he placed second in all the heats prior to the final one. Imagine the mounting thrill of the family! Their wishes did not go unfulfilled. Tommy placed second in the final Class A heat and won a whole load of prizes, all of them chosen to delight a 13-year old boy. He will proudly show you his racer (a slick black job) and his prizes, (a radio, a wrist watch, and a wide variety of sports equipment). Of course, he intends to race again next year, making some improvements on his car before then, and we sincerely hope he earns first place then.

Down the street away Camille Belmont is beginning a very grown up kind of work. She is a member of the sub-teen modeling staff at J. L. Hudson Company. During these last weeks of summer Cam is learning the proper methods of walking, grooming, and clothes selection that will enable her to display sub-teen clothing during the back-to-school shows being planned for Northland Center. She hopes her friends in Plymouth will attend the tea at which she will appear. Marie Belmont, Cam's mother, is quite happy about Cam's new experience because she feels Cam will learn things about clothing and grooming that mothers often feel hard-pressed to teach their daughters.

As luck would have it I happened to meet both Elmer and Jewell Bretz late one afternoon. Any other week work. Elmer over on Detroit's East Side, and Jewell at the local Burroughs plant. But

They happened to be on vacation last week. Their home is strictly modern, but the kind of modern that invites you to sit down and relax, not the kind that makes standing up more pleasant.

After the opening preliminaries we talked about Bretz children. Jimmy is in Germany with the Navy (and so far has had no word that he will be shipped to Lebanon), and Elaine, who lives at home and works in Plymouth.

In fact, one of the outstanding features in the Bretz home are the oil paintings that Elaine has made. One hangs in the living room and others in the kitchen. Both are still lifes and very warm. Jewell has taken the colors and objects in the painting in the kitchen and matched her drapes to them. The entire effect is harmonious and colorful, withal modern. We wonder if the Tri-City Art Club might not tap Elaine on the shoulder. She has plenty of talent and apparently only wants for a little encouragement, something which the other members of the club would no doubt supply.

Summer keeps the James Wyman family hopping. Every week end they bundle the whole tribe (Patrick 13, Pam 10 and Jeanne 3), into the family bus for their cottage at Sylvan lake. Asked if they are invaded by relatives every weekend who know they own a cottage, Joyce said "no!" I found this almost unbelievable until she explained that all the other family members own cottages in the same little subdivision as theirs. That's the only solution to the cottagers dilemma that we have heard.

The accompanying yard work that unoccupies the first year in a new house still occupies many families. The McLachlins are building their own garage. This after all the work they've put in on shoring up the bank at the rear of their home.

Theirs is geyed up with big stones and planted in the interstices with perennials and annuals. Their neighbors, Rosalie and Ed Bales, have chosen to treat their bank in the same fashion and the lovely expanse of stones and flowers is quite pretty. Down the street away Gordon Ellison is holding back his bank with a high sturdy fence of railroad ties. It's hard, hard work, too.

Many families who are not taking extensive vacations this year are being visited by their relatives instead. Doris Ryder's mother, Mrs. Helen Whiting of Indianapolis, Ind. has been with her for over a week. Mrs. Whiting apparently loves the Ryder children and has to visit their often to keep up with their growth. This time, though the normal activity of two little boys has almost been too much for her. We hope she is not disillusioned and comes back again.

The residents of Lake Pointe, with the help and counsel of the builder, the Greenspan Company, are in the process of forming a neighborhood civic association. The plans for the first meeting (at which officers will be elected or discussed and a charter committee appointed), will be carried in this column. Please watch this space for the announcement.

We feel a neighbor association warrants everyone's support. Should the future bring problems of zoning, recreation, water assessments, or any of the multitude of problems that beset communities, a strongly vocal association is the best and most efficient way of bringing our opinions to the governing body concerned. Don't forget, Government is you.

Coroner Proposal On Salem Twp. Ballot

A special county proposition will be on the ballot when Salem Township electors go to the polls next Tuesday to vote in the state primary election.

The Washtenaw County proposal asks if the office of coroner should be abolished in favor of the creation of an office of county medical examiner. The coroner's job has gradually been going out of existence in the United States with Wayne County changing to the more "streamlined" medical examiner's office two years ago.

In addition to voting for state, national and county candidates, Salem electors will find a ballot for delegates to the county convention. There are four Republicans to be nominated and three Democrats. The Democrats have no candidates listed, so there is a place for three write-ins.

Republican delegate candidates are Harlow Ingall, Coda Savery, Albert Shear and Sylvester Shear.

These are the other candidates found on the two tickets:

Drop That Oat
ADEN, Aden Protectorate—(UPI)—The legislative council of this Red Sea country has decided to end its 14-month-old ban on oat a non-habit forming, narcotic-like leaf. The ban had been imposed partly on moral grounds and partly because workers were spending too much of their money on the stuff. But they had managed to purchase oat on the black market anyway.

Friction matches were invented by an Englishman named Walker in 1827.

Garelick's Gallery
There autumn's golden snowflakes stain
The canvases of scarlet rain
Whose trees in triumph spilling, stand
Like flaming fountains on the land,
And cruising clouds are notes that lie
In white andates of the sky.
There too, on truth's stark tapestries,
Sweep colors screaming fear, disease,
Atomic murder, gray despair—
A people in polluted air,
Whose darker children, mountain night,
Raise flowered agony toward light.
Tomorrow will in paintings see
Gay oceans of humanity
Whose laughter breaks on endless shores
Of peace, pure rivers, open doors;
And staid on the sky's blue porch,
Day holds the new world's stainless torch.

Melvin Gibsons Toss Gala For Robinson Neighbors

(Covering the Area between Ann Arbor Trail and the Parkway from Haggerty to Bassett Roads, including Robinson Sub.)
By Mrs. Maxine Carson GL 3-0659
Judy and George Widmaier are spending two weeks in northern Michigan with their grandfather, Richard Widmaier, at Black Lake.
Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gibson of Gilbert St. had a birthday party in their home Saturday evening for several friends and neighbors whose birthdays fall close together this month.
Those attending having birthdays were Mrs. Maxine Pankow, Audrey Gibson, Melvin Gibson, Myrtle Severson, Alice Kenyon and Zella Shorter. Others attending were Lee Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dew, Bill Shorter, Walter Boyd and Kenneth Gibson. The evening was spent dancing and later a pot luck dinner was enjoyed by everyone.
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dew and family Lyndol and Cheryl, spent Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Dew's mother, Mrs. Mary Hedge on Canton Center rd. Mrs. Hedge's birthday was the 21st and her granddaughter Cheryl's was the 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shorter were there also and all enjoyed ice cream and cake.
Mrs. Alice Kenyon and son Terry Lee spent Thursday shopping and visiting friends in Plymouth and Garden City. Sally Widmaier was hostess to friend Miss Diane Crawford, from St. Catherine, Ontario. Diane spent a week with Sally and part of it at the family cottage at Grass Lake.
Mr. and Mrs. John Ort and boys John and James of Brownell St. spent the week visiting in the home of Mr. Ort's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ort of Traverse City. Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Albard were Barbara Ellenwood of Ypsilanti and Connie Deck of Massillon, O.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carson, Cindy and Mark had Sunday dinner in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, on Oakview St.

The City Manager's Corner Parking Meter Revenue Dips as Spaces Increase

Over the past few years, our parking meter income has dropped to the 1952 level. It is now $3,000 less than last year. For the past fiscal year, ending June 30, 1958, the City collected $21,560.78 from the parking meters.
This loss cannot be attributed to a decrease of business or lack of demand for parking in the City of Plymouth. It is a result of deliberate planning by the Planning Commission and the City Commission to obtain more off-street parking.
Since 1953, our zoning ordinance requires that each new building for business or public assembly must provide its own off-street parking.
With the removal of one of the super markets to a new location on Ann Arbor Road, the demand for parking in the Central lot has eased, likewise, the revenue from the Central lot has decreased.
With other markets and businesses voluntarily providing off-street parking, the parking situation is not as acute as it once was. It is my understanding that loans on commercial buildings cannot be obtained unless the ratio of off-street parking is three square feet to one of store area. The city's requirement is roughly 2 to 1.
In 1947, the city adopted the parking ordinance and installed the meters. This action, from personal observation, immediately improved the parking situation for me as a citizen, not then connected with the city. Prior to the installation of the meters, I had to circulate the block many times in order to find a place to park. The all-day parkers disappeared where the meters were installed.

The meter money provides many of the free lots which we now enjoy. For example, there is the East Central Parking lot behind the Penn Theater, which is completely paved and lighted. In the Central lot, which is metered, we still owe for the so-called Bronson building and the Stevens building. These parcels were originally purchased for $58,500 by land contracts which are being retired from revenues. The merchants donated $10,000 in cash to help with this project.
No bonds are outstanding, which gives us relatively free latitude in handling our parking problems. It should be noted, however, that the parking fund still owes the general fund around $22,000. It is easy to see where your pennies and nickles are going.
Prior to 1940, the City of Plymouth had no municipally owned parking lots, with the exception of the 26 car lot in back of the City Hall.
In 1950, the City bought the land for the Central Parking lot, and acquired, by tax deed, the Depot Parking lot on Starkweather. After World War II, there was an enormous increase in the sales and useage of automobiles. The first step in trying to alleviate the situation was to rent the Giles lot on Fralick Avenue. Still too many cars remained on the streets. In 1949, the City rented Dr. Williams' lot on the corner of W. Ann Arbor Trail and S.

Harvey Street as a parking lot. This increased the number of City operated lots to 5. Since 1949, the City has added 3 more lots. In 1950, the Schrader lot on Fralick with a capacity of 26 cars was added. The next addition to the City's parking facilities was the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Elizabeth Street. During 1955, the City added to its total, the 141 space East Central Parking lot. This brings the total up to 433 lot spaces (the median number for 10,000 — 50,000 population cities in 1957 was 228 spaces) and 245 metered streets spaces, plus the un-metered street spaces.
Not to be overlooked are the 400 parking spaces provided by private businesses. With these lots included in the grand total, the number of parking spaces swells up to 1,083.
Easy parking attracts customers. The Planning Commission and City Commission were wise in planning ahead, but there is more work to do. State highway officials say the traffic load will increase 220 per cent in the next 20 years.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Pinwheel Cherry Cobbler Rates Raves

With Michigan's crop of luscious cherries coming to market now, PLYMOUTH MAIL culinary fans can have a field day in fixing all sorts of wonderful cherry-inspired treats for their family.
Mrs. Jack Scott, of Parkview Dr., has a favorite recipe for "Pinwheel Cherry Cobbler" to pass along to our readership — one that has been such a hit in her family that it is a "must" at all family reunions.
This may be due to the fact that four of her immediate family members, who originally lived in Dearborn, have moved up to the Grand Traverse Bay area in recent years and have thriving cherry orchards.
She includes her mother, Mrs. T. A. Sherman, and her sister, Mrs. S. B. Edwards, both of whom have cherry orchard farms in the Torch lake area. Brother William Sherman has just purchased a 14,000 cherry tree orchard farm close to one owned by another brother, Fred Sherman, near Lake Charlevoix.
Besides putting to good use all the cherries given her by her family, pretty Mrs. Scott keeps up with a wide range of interests.
She indulges loving attention on playful pet Brittany spaniels, "Randy," and "Ginger." Then there's "Tally," a handsome two-year-old, who was a gift from Bill Merrill of the Will-O-Way Playhouse in Bloomfield.
Two years ago when Mr. Scott, advertising manager for the REDFORD OBSERVER, was president of the Plymouth Theater Guild, she and he co-starred in the play "Here Today", presented in Plymouth High school auditorium.
Gardening and especially turning their spacious backyard into a place of beauty with new roses and other blooms this year is another favorite pastime. She also has her own small kiln at which she fires hand-painted and self-designed cuff links and earrings.
Now she's taking up golf — is in the beginning golf flight — at Fox Hills Country Club and also enjoys the "Ladies Days" luncheon-bridge sessions every Thursday at the club.
In giving her family hand-down recipe, Mrs. Scott adds that it may be served either warm or cold... and that a dollop of whipped cream can garnish it for the "non-calorie counters."

Find Stolen Sweetcorn in Car Of Drunken Pair in Salem Twp.

A quantity of sweet corn was taken from field owned by Denver Cockerham of N. Territorial Rd. Deputy Edmunds and Deputy Hardisty while patrolling July 20 at 11:30 P.M. came upon a parked car and upon investigation found a quantity of corn, beer and open bottles of beer in car. They packed up owner of vehicle, Howard Baier of Farmington, and Robert H. Item of Newport. The driver had no bill of sale or registration for car. The subjects had been drinking extensively, so were taken to jail, booked on a drunk and disorderly and are waiting for warrant from owner of corn.

Minor Accident

No injuries were sustained in an accident Saturday evening at Five Mile Rd. and Pontiac Trail. A 1953 Chevrolet driven by Robert L. Cheek of Wixom was traveling south on Pontiac Trail, and did not notice car slowing down. Unable to stop in assured distance his car hit the rear of a 1950 Studebaker owned and driven by Charles O. Vanderhoff of Five Mile Rd.

Drunk Driver Jailed

Deputy Edmunds, while patrolling Sunday noticed car attempting to stop at Pontiac Trail and N. Territorial Rds. It pulled through the stop sign, passed several cars over yellow line, turned in to a drive-

Hits Stopped Car

A 1950 Ford Convertible driven by Gerald A. Balikowski of Melvindale traveling east of Seven Mile Rd. Sunday night approached road construction, applied brakes and came to a stop. A second car driven by Robert Rutkey of Allen Park, which was following to closely hit the rear of first car. The road construction area was posted. Both drivers were ticketed.

Commemorative Stamp

The new four cent Lincoln-Douglas Debate commemorative stamp will be placed on sale on or about August 28, Postmaster George Timpona said. The design is an old print showing Lincoln addressing an outdoor crowd with Douglas standing behind him.
First chloroform for use as an anaesthetic in America was believed that produced by a Nova Scotia druggist and early medical records have established the year as about 1833.

Bills Market Of 15-Under League Drops 1st Game

Bill's Market of the 15 and under league suffered their first loss of the season last Friday night when they were defeated by Livonia Center 3-2. Daryl Miller and Art Nelson were the pitchers with Miller the loser.

Jared Stevens was the big hitter for Bill's with two for five. In the other two games that Bill's played they had 10 hits in three games when they defeated Livonia Police 10-4 on eleven hits with Lamonaco and Schreyer sharing the pitching. Stevens, Spigarelli and Fehlig accounted for seven of the eleven hits.

Last Monday night Dick Schreyer gave Northville just four hits to win 3-1. The loss to Livonia brings a tie in the standings which will necessitate a play-off should both teams win their next two games.

Last Monday night Davis & Lent was defeated by Wayne Ford Civic League 7-3. The schedule ends tomorrow night with the two Plymouth teams meeting at the high school diamond at 6 p.m.

PLYMOUTH'S Summer Recreation and Education program came to an end this week and has been hailed as the most successful yet. This driver education class was filled even before the summer program was announced.

THE PLAYGROUND program at 11 locations was again a success with John Close bringing arts and crafts and William Grimmer music to each playground during the week. This was a doll show at Hamilton playground.

SHOP taught at the Junior High was again a popular summer course that attracted adults (in foreground) as well as youngsters. Although there were many courses that did not need registration, there were between 3,000 and 4,000 people involved in the entire summer program.

OUTSIDERS find it hard to believe that children will go to school in the summer for reading and arithmetic enrichment. This reading class in Starkweather School is being observed by Principal Mildred Field.

Junior Golf

Seventy-seven youths played in the Junior Golf League in the Junior Golf tournament draws nearer. Indications are that there will be five flights of boys playing in the 9 hole division and three flights of girls in 9 hole and one flight each in the 4 hole division.

The tourney is August 11 and 12. There will be five flights more than last year's tournament. Boys winning their matches and earning three points Monday (plus any accumulated points) were: J. Eder 16½; G. Fuelling 13½; Stewart 11; Knapp 10; Augustine 9½; Fletcher 8½; Zett 6; Cook 5; Olendorf, Light, Parmenter, Holt, Hill, Rowland, Zornow, Sorenson, Sikes.

Totals earned by boys earning 1½ points (split their matches) were: Adams 4½; Hayskar 4½; Fisher 4½; Griswold, Penland, G. Scott. Girls earning 3 points were: Zett 7; S. Boas 4; Griswold 6½; Hass 6½; Vallier, Fiedler, Richard, Arjay, Tichy.

Block earned 2½ points Monday and Wright a half point. Non-qualifiers' scores were: Evans 50, Fraser 62, R. Becker 67. Scores of 4-holers were: Resch 33, Manley 36, R. Boyne 36, Sibbold, 40, Alford 43, T. Boyne 44, Holmes 45, Hartford 51, Girls: J. George 72 (7 holes), P. George 74 (7 holes) and J. Sutherland 49 (4 holes). Walkers were Mesdames Otwell, Wagner, Zornow, L. Becker, Haynes, Scherman, Tichy, Hartford, Hayskar, Scott, Sorenson, Adams, Pen-tecost, Ohl, Walker, Manley, Vallier, Olendorf, Mr. Graves.

Elks End Season With Three Wins

Plymouth Elks of the Western Wayne League for boys 18 and under finished their regular schedule by posting three consecutive wins. They defeated Fisher Shoes also of Plymouth 19-5 and 6-1 and Livonia 7-0.

In the three games Denis Bufford compiled an enviable batting record with nine hits in nine times at bat. Included in the nine hits were three home runs, one of which was a grand slam. Plymouth Fisher Shoes also played three games to wind up their schedule and were nosed out by Northville 4-3.

SPORTSEEN

Tomorrow, Friday, August 1 is the last day for the playgrounds in the area to be open. This has been a busy summer for the youngsters, who have participated in a full program of activities. The season was climaxed by a mammoth afternoon-evening games program at the high school field last Monday night. According to Herb Woolweaver, Director of Recreation for Plymouth, all activities have been well attended throughout the six week period. Swimming, baseball, softball and teen age dances will continue until late in August.

The last week of activities has been a very full one. Last Wednesday "a big gang of little leaguers" went to see the Detroit Tigers. About 60 of the contestants from the games day will be participating in a metropolitan physical fitness program at Belle Isle today. On Wednesday, August 6 the playground and runners-up in the playground dog show will be going to Dearborn Levagood Park for a regional show.

All playgrounds have reported considerable activity throughout the six week season and the success of these programs is due in no small way to the untiring efforts of the supervisors manning these play areas. In addition to the playground program there is also the fastball and baseball programs. Here again the men in charge are to be given a very sincere vote of thanks for their efforts. The supervisors, Mike Hoben and Gus Gortage and the managers, and their assistants deserve the gratitude of the community for their work with "the kids".

Plymouth Elks will meet Ann Arbor in the first round of the state baseball tournament for boys 18 and under. The game must be played by August 14. There are 11 teams entered from the state with Plymouth and Ann Arbor the only two from this area.

In the 15 and under league there are 20 teams from the state entered in the tournament. The winner of the recreation league that Bill's Market and Davis & Lent are in will go to this state tournament while the runner-up will play in a metropolitan intercity tournament. At the present time with just two games remaining in the regular schedule Bill's Market are tied with Livonia Recreation as both teams have just lost one game.

The baseball season is over for Plymouth Fisher Shoes of the Western Wayne 18 and under league and manager Henry Rupert is satisfied with the results. His team was composed of boys who were just 16 years old. They were playing in a league with boys as much as two years older but they made a creditable showing. Manager Rupert felt that the boys learned a lot about baseball by playing in this league and the experience will no doubt help them to make a place on the high school varsity team next season.

The stage is being set for some "real" fastball at the diamond behind the high school. The regular schedule for the Class "A" league is rapidly coming to a close and five teams are assured of play-off spots and possibly a sixth team depending upon the outcome of the last two games. Begingers, Chevrolet Spring & Bumper, Cloverdale, Wolfe Aircraft, and Wayne Dispatch are the teams that are assured of play-offs by finishing with a .500 or better average. The way these teams have been playing each other right down until the last man is out in each game augurs well for some good fastball in the play-offs. Just last week Harrington of Chevie and Somers of Wayne Dispatch tangled in a pitcher's duel that Harrington won 1-0. Begingers were forced into extra innings more than once to win their games. By winning the last two games U-Daly & Western could also get into the charmed circle.

How are Michigan players, in-gham, has won 2 and lost 3. Outfielder Bill Thurston, signed off the University of Michigan campus, is batting .260.

Another U. of M. man, Frank Kostro, was the shortstop in the Class A Sally League all-star game and is batting .301 for Augusta. A teammate who is likewise an ex-Wolverine is third baseman Steve Boros. He is banging out a lot of homers despite a .240 average. Catcher Jack Feller of Onsted is batting .300. Pitcher Fred Gladding of Romulus has a 6-2 record. At Durham, in the Class B Carolina League, Jack Bowen of Detroit is hitting .291 and was the all-star catcher. Plymouth's Dick Day has done so well, pitching to a 10-4 record and becoming the winning hurler in the all-star game that he has been promoted to Augusta. Two other pitchers, Paul Gatzka of Flushing and Richard Walter of Flint, are 7-7 and 0-2, respectively.

At Idaho Falls, in the Class C Pioneer League, Detroit's Frank Franchi has been dividing his time among catching, first base and the outfield. He is hitting well over .300. Jim Skyhalski of Bay City, a third baseman, is batting .275. Pitcher Dick Sheldon of Detroit is 6-and-3, while Jerry Field, a lefthander also from Detroit, has seen limited duty thus far.

Of the four Class D clubs, only Vladosta has no Michigan players on its roster. Catcher has three in outfielder Dennis Mendyk, the former Michigan State griddler, who is batting .300, and pitchers Orville Ponte of Garden City and Ron Falkenhagen of Mt. Clemens.

Wayne's Bob Paffel, pitching for the Class A Lancaster farm club, is leading the Eastern League with 10 victories and 6 losses. Ron Rozman of Detroit, demoted from Birmingham, has won 2 and lost 3. Outfielder Bill Thurston, signed off the University of Michigan campus, is batting .260.

At Birmingham in the Class A Southern Association, Battle Creek's Dave Reed, a right-handed submarine ball pitcher, has posted eight victories as against five defeats. Phil Regan of Weyland has won 10 and lost 4 and Bob Bruce of Detroit is 2 and 0 for the season. Catcher Tom Yewcic, the old Michigan State quarterback, is batting around .200.

Wayne's Bob Paffel, pitching for the Class A Lancaster farm club, is leading the Eastern League with 10 victories and 6 losses. Ron Rozman of Detroit, demoted from Birmingham, has won 2 and lost 3. Outfielder Bill Thurston, signed off the University of Michigan campus, is batting .260.

Recreation Fastball League

CLASS "A"
 Five teams have completed the regular season having played 18 games. The other five teams will have completed their 18 game schedule by tomorrow night. Begingers finished in first place with 16 wins and two losses. They closed out their season last Saturday with a 5-2 victory over U-Daly - Western with Last Friday night Gawryluk pitched them to a 4-2 victory over Mayflower.

Wolfe Aircraft split their last two games winning from Mayflower 11-2 and losing to Cloverdale 2-1, Dhoco, Box Bar and Lincoln were the other teams that finished their season with last weeks games. All three teams finished below .500 and thus do not qualify for the play-offs.

Harrington of Chevie and Herb Somers of Wayne Dispatch tangled in a real pitcher's duel and gave the fans an indication of what to expect in the play-offs. Harrington allowed three hits and struck out eight. Somers allowed four hits and struck out six and Harrington won 1-0.

In other games played U-Daly Western defeated Box Bar 13-1 and Cloverdale defeated Box Bar 9-5.

Eight Plymouth Students Study At Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN, MICH. — Eight Plymouth students are among the 1300 young people attending the 31st session of the National Music camp this summer.

They are: Elizabeth Worth, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Worth of 1100 N. Territorial Road; Martha Wesley, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wesley of 505 McKinley; Mary Jane Readman, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eber Readman of 1310 W. Maple.

Others are Mary and Susan Hulsing, 13 and 15, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing of 1016 Church; Karla Herbold, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Herbold of 1376 W. Ann Arbor Trail; Kenneth Fischer, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer of 396 Arthur; and Glyn Norton, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Norton of 955 Hartough.

The camp is the largest non-profit educational institution of its kind in the world. Founded in 1928 by Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, now president, with $15,000 borrowed from a band instrument manufacturer, today the camp's 400 buildings, spread over 700 acres and are valued at $4 million.

BOOK NOTES
 An all-day meeting of the Book Committee of Children's County Library system was held last Thursday, July 24, at the Dunning-Hough Library on Main St.
 Mrs. Ernest (Nancy) Moran, head of children's service for Wayne county, conducted the meeting. Books already purchased and books under consideration to be purchased for juvenile reading were examined. Fifteen librarians attended.

 by George Spelvin

Light up a candle! Cut the birthday cake! In words less mundane, old George and his column have passed the one year old mark. We are now entering the toddling age and so you'll have to excuse us if we stagger from time to time as we are just learning to walk. How does one keep a record of when the birthday date falls? Easy, each year at Operetta time we realize another year has rolled by. The summer session was one of the first local dramatic events that G. Spelvin chose to criticize.
 This year's operetta was directed by M. William J. Grimmer. Mr. Grimmer has charge of the vocal music program in our Junior High School. Plymouth is indeed lucky to have the services of so competent a musical director. Mr. Grimmer came to us from Iowa, the state that is now famous for the Broadway show, "The Music Man".
 The locale of the "Music Man" is River City, Iowa, and Meridith Wilson is the author. It is a native Iowan who carried these tunes around in his trunk for many years. Who knows, maybe Mr. Grimmer has a few original tunes kick around in an old satchel in his attic. If so, we'd like to hear them in next year's operetta.
 I'm convinced that we could have some local talent write a production, both from the music and book standpoint, that could measure up to the current summer show, "Make-Believe Magic". The summer recreation and education students struggled with an inept story. Their acting and singing far surpassed what passed for a plausible story line.
 Tom Donnelly, as a belligerent pirate, did his part with the gusto and force of a Captain Kidd. Tom gave every indication that his earlier training in the Children's Theater Workshop was reap some harvest. His stage presence and the precise nature of his dialogue work had professional quality.
 Polly Ellis, Marilyn Wall, Mary Donnelly, Gerry England, and Linda Sue Wall as former members of the Children's Theater Workshop showed the audience the benefit of the additional training received this past Spring. Of course, Mr. Grimmer had to tussle with them musically. And I will admit as did the audience that he did make singers of these thespians. They knew tempo when he finished with them. Seldom have I ever seen a student production that followed the music so well. I just hope that in future productions Mr. Grimmer will attempt a show to continue challenging this group.
 Norman Fisher as the Indian Chief and Craig Gaffield as Captain Bravo had two lead roles that demanded characterization. They dispatched themselves in these parts with competence. Tom Lock, talented singer and actor of last year's production, sat this show out. He was in the orchestra pit as the prompter. Let's hope that Tom gets back in there and pitches for the summer musical. They say that baseball pitching is his "first love". Well, it might be nice to combine the two activities and have a hit musical next year along with a no-hit game. Could be worth a try, Tom.
 Mr. John Closs, supervisor of Arts and Crafts this summer, assisted in the design and construction of the scenery. His two scenes were well-executed. Couldn't help think how much better the whole show might look if it were mounted on a real stage. Who knows, one of these days we may have a real, honest-to-goodness auditorium and not have to "make-believe" and wait for some "magic".
 One more suggestion to Mr. Grimmer and then I'll crawl back into my home-made scenery: how about holding the operetta closer to the end of the six week's session and having it in Kellogg Park. I'm sure you would get a larger, more enthusiastic crowd if the event were held out-doors.
 "Make-Believe Magic" was an excellent production from beginning to end. Mr. Grimmer is to be complimented for his astute handling of some 40 youngsters ranging in age from four to 14. Try it some time and I'll assure you you'll know that you've lived. Oh, yes one last show item: in the true tradition of the theater one of the cast members from the chorus took over a featured role and memorized the long part in the short space of one day. Marilyn Wall is the little pixie that justified Mr. Grimmer's confidence. She claims none of the credit and insists that her director helped her and he is the one that deserves the accolade.
 Well, next week is just over the horizon and it's time we caught up on our summer theater fare. Come prepared to travel next week.

forestry and wildlife aspects of Alaska while job hunting. He plans to stay about a year and then return to continue his education. And he also advises his proud parents that he may move on to Fairbanks and do studying at the University of Alaska there.

Fox Hills Country Club will be a gay scene for feminine members today (Thursday) when the 1st GG Day (games and golf) winds up a busy July.

Last GG time on July 10 found Mrs. H. G. Godfrey of Northville taking home a cute little sand pail . . . she being the jinxed golfer who hit the sand traps most! Mrs. Alton McAllister of Plymouth, prizes chairman, did the honors at award time before 64 members and guests.

All that "splashing" at the home of Mrs. Steve Paslaski in Ypsilanti this past Tuesday had much to do with Fox Hills, too. Mrs. Paslaski, president of the newly organized Women's Association of the club, thought it would be fun to combine business with pleasure . . . so tossed a "splash" party and brunch for executive board members. (Nice to have your own swimming pool!)

Officers from the Plymouth area include Mrs. Robert Lidgard, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Sawyer, by-laws co-chairman; Mrs. Orson Atchinson of Northville, suburban membership chairman; and Mrs. Vaughan Smith, refreshments chairman.

Tops on their business agenda were plans for the women's First "Golfing Tournament" at the club . . . slated for August 13-14-15. A gala "Victory" buffet dinner-dance will conclude the tournament events.

Summer reading habits of your Plymouth friends?

Well, according to Mrs. Agnes Pauline, able and charming librarian at Dunning-Hough Library, reading is a booming business . . . to the tune of 13,000 books checked out for July, 1958. A year ago the count for July was 10,982.

And most requested adult books now, says Mrs. P., are "Anatomy of a Murder" by Robert Traver (whose real identity is Judge John D. Voelker of Michigan's Supreme Court from St. Ignace); "Ice Palace" by Edna Ferber; "Kids Say the Darndest Things" by Art Linkletter; and "Please Don't Eat the Daisies" by Jean Kerr.

Teen-agers are busy themselves with the classics . . . usually a summer pattern . . . and the Du Jardin books like "Double Feature" and "Double Date." Sounds like they have something in mind?

A very nice phone call from Lawrence Money of Parkhurst Dr., has inspired me to further mention our spoiled cocker, "Sandy," who thinks he's "people." (Mr. Money has a four-year-old gal cocker by name of "Pepper" whose mind functions in the same biased way.)

One time when living in Boston, Mass., and returning from night school, I invited the girls who attended school in my neighborhood back home for dessert and coffee.

I had carefully set the table with my best . . . and cut into perfect slices a family favorite "Black Walnut Refrigerator Pie" . . . and sat down to talk to the girls.

In the meantime "Sandy" . . . after giving all a hearty (frightening barking) welcome had disappeared. Checking the coffee perking, I peeked in the dining room to find HIS face on a last plate . . . all the other desserts had disappeared! Remaining were bold wet patches where he had licked the cloth to make sure he had possession of all the pie shell graham cracker crumbs. "Sandy" was arrogantly innocent . . . as he hopped off a dining room chair. Perhaps he was "saving" us from the calories?

Camera Corner: 'Overexposure'

Every photographer, professional as well as amateur, has over-exposed negatives at some time or other. Over-exposure does not necessarily mean the loss of a picture. Most photographers have a tendency to over-expose because they doubt their own judgment. Therefore, to be sure they have an image on the film, they add a little more time than the film actually requires.

In one way, over-exposure is better than under-exposure, for it does require a certain amount of exposure for the best of intensifiers to work on.

It is easy enough to see whether a negative is over-exposed by holding it up to a light and comparing its density with what you consider normal for a negative. The over-exposed negative should be washed thoroughly so it will be free of all hypo and then submerged in any of the reducers which are made by the various chemical and film manufacturers. Follow directions carefully for fine results.

However, before using the reducing agent on the negative of a picture that you consider important, experiment on a negative of little value. It is possible to reduce to such a point that there is nothing left on the film.

Sometimes the image may be restored by means of an intensifier but this task usually is hopeless. After several negatives have been reduced, you will be able to estimate accurately the time the negative should be left in the reducer.

Power Mowers Are Ready For Midsummer Checkup

KEEPING A POWER MOWER READY and able all summer long is dependent on adequate maintenance and care.

Too many homeowners enjoy the "putting" of a smooth-running power mower and the excellent job it does on cutting the lawn, but are terribly neglectful about maintenance. A power mower, like any other machine, requires care, otherwise it will wear down and become useless.

All power mower manufacturers are aware of the neglect given their machines by homeowners and this is accounted for in the design of the mower. However, a homeowner can over-do a good thing and he soon will experience a poor-running power mower or one that won't even start.

Understanding and maintenance of a power mower are not as difficult as many homeowners believe. The power consists of an engine, either 2 or 4-cycle and of various horsepower, fuel system, carburetor and fuel tank. Because of the fine grass cuttings, and small particles of dirt that are kicked up when the engine is running, it's important to keep the fuel system free and clean.

It may be necessary to remove fuel lines so they can be air-blown free of dirt and cleaned with thin metal wire. If fuel lines don't have to be removed, then all connections should be closely inspected. Moisture often works itself into the fuel lines and causes rust and oxidation. These conditions usually center on fuel line connections which result in engine stoppage. Make sure that all connections are clean.

Maintenance of the mower carburetor is necessary, too. For example, should the mower show loss of power or poor idling, the trouble might be a worn gasket. This condition lowers compression and results in less power. To check for a worn gasket, hand crank the motor slowly and listen for a loud hissing noise. If such a noise is present, the gasket must be replaced. Also, it's possible to adjust the carburetor just as on an auto. The right mixture of air and gas is important for a smooth-running mower.

Every gas-powered mower has a spark plug. Often, the cause of a poor-running mower can be traced to the spark plug. It may have become corroded, the gap between the electrodes may be set too wide or too close, or the porcelain covering may be cracked. The spark plug requires a check every so often. Wire-brush cleaning and re-setting to the proper gap for an efficient spark to ignite fuel.

Leaving fuel in the power mower tank doesn't do any damage to an idle mower. However, should extended storage be necessary because of vacation or other reason, it is better to drain the gas tank. It's important to remember that consistent use does more good for the engine than idleness. With this in mind, it may be wise to schedule lawn cutting chores so that the power mower is used at least once a week.

DEATH TO WEEDS — A plastic tube marked for correct amounts of weedkiller and water squirts liquid on one broad-leaved weed, such as dandelion, at a time.

Raking Before Mowing Offers Measure of Aid

A New Jersey seedsman insists that about five years ago a customer came in one February day and asked to buy a pound of crabgrass seed. Most homeowners don't have to buy seed, since crabgrass is sure to sprout every summer and by mid-August may have taken over almost the whole lawn.

Crabgrass is a weed. It does give a green cover but most homeowners object to it. That's because crabgrass is a lighter green, has broader and coarser blades than regular lawn grass and crawls over the ground instead of standing erect.

This weed grass is a short-lived annual. It doesn't sprout until hot weather and turns brown in September or October, whenever the first frost comes. Right now, from New Hampshire to New Mexico, crabgrass has reached the stage of having stalks of seed hidden among its green blades. If these seeds are allowed to ripen and fall to the ground, they may sprout again next summer or anytime in the next twenty years.

Hard to Think About, But Now Is Best Time to Remedy Chimney Ills

Any homeowner thinking about his chimney during warm weather probably would be considered crazy by his neighbors. But if a chimney is to function properly in the cold weather when a home's furnace and fireplace will be used a great deal, now is the time for maintenance.

It's much easier to recondition or repair an ailing chimney in warm weather than it is in cold. Climbing up and down a ladder, mixing cement and other activities are more difficult to do in winter.

Downdrafts are always bothersome, but they can be cured before a family is smoked out. The most effective way to eliminate a downdraft is to install a diverter. This object is a simple baffle made of metal that detours downdrafts out of the sides of the chimney cap. Smoke from a fireplace or furnace can go up the chimney and out of the top without hindrance.

The base of a chimney also needs careful inspection. Masonry work at this point is almost always in contact with moisture, and deterioration can result. Repairing chimney base masonry calls for a strong mixture of cement, similar to that used for repairing mortar between the bricks.

Periodic chimney cleaning is a necessity. If not, soot collects on the walls of the flue. If this soot deposit is not removed, it will later build up and eventually stop up the flue. Cleaning a chimney is not a job for the average homeowner, unless he knows what he is doing. A simple but effective chimney cleaning "tool" is a string of linked tire skidchairs which can be scraped against the insides of the chimney to loosen soot and other matter.

HERE'S HOW . . .

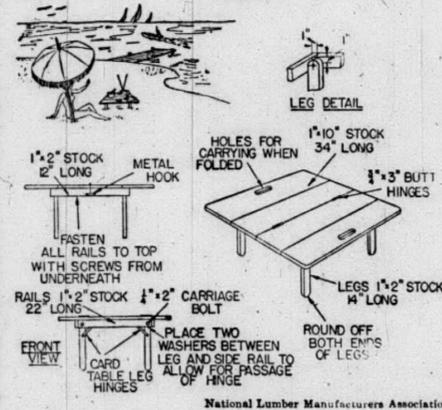

MAKE A BEACH TABLE

A folding table for the beach can be easily carried, and can be stored in small space. The top consists of two panels, each made of 1 by 10-inch boards, joined with butt hinges. Each panel is edge-glued and doweled.

The rails are of 1 by 2-inch lumber, the longer ones being 22 inches; the shorter ones, 12 inches. They are fastened from beneath with glue and No. 4 flathead screws. Counter bore 1/4-inch with a 3/4-inch drill and complete the hole with a 7/64-inch drill.

Round the legs at each end, and bore 1/4-inch holes, 1 inch from the top. Bore similar holes in the long rails, and pivot the legs on 1/4 by 2-inch carriage bolts. Put two washers between the legs and rails. Use card table hinges to secure the legs in position.

Round all sharp edges, and finish with a clear outside varnish.

STRAIGHT SHOOTING is fun and archery is a good sport to provide the whole family with ideal exercise. Regulation ranges are 30 feet long but 50 feet on the home property will do for beginners.

Turn Backyard to Playground, Then Plan Fall Hunting Trip

Fun for all the family are games that can be played in the back yard, the side lawn or somewhere on the property. There are about a dozen games that can be played on the home lawn by two persons or a group of people with simple equipment.

One that all members of the family, from the six year old to the 60 years young, can enjoy is archery. That's because bows and arrows can be purchased in sizes and weights that are appropriate to the size and weight of members of the family who are willing to try them. Again, regardless of age, archery provides healthful, body-building exercise but one that can be dropped after 15 minutes if a person begins to weary.

In order to gain skill shooting with a bow and arrows, no great area of lawn need be set aside for this purpose only. Ordinary grass is a satisfactory surface and the wear and tear on it will be no greater than that of ordinary walking. Arrows shot into the turf can be released without damage and any loosened turf can be stepped on and firmed back in place.

The length of the range can be any available stretch from 50 feet to 300 feet, the latter being the regulation range for skilled archers. Fifty feet is ample for beginning youngsters; if adults participate in the shooting a range of 100 to 150 feet would be desirable.

Lady, Save Money As You Drive Car!

The way a car is driven has a great deal to do with the amount of gasoline consumed. This may seem far-fetched, but it has been proven time and again by competent auto engineers.

For example, now that summer vacationing season is well underway, the country's express ways and turnpikes are used a great deal. It is while traveling these roads that gas consumption can be lowered and be made economical.

How? By driving at a normal rate of speed. Moderate speeds between 40 and 50 miles per hour consume less gasoline. Even though speed limits permit as much as 65 miles per hour on some expressways, a driver can burn up nearly twice as much gas driving at this rate of speed.

Another great fuel waster is the driver who insists on uneven acceleration. One minute he will drive at 60 miles per hour, and the next he will cruise along at 40 miles per hour, alternating frequently.

Lowering auto fuel costs can begin the first thing in the morning when the car is taken out of the garage. Whether it's Mom, Dad or one of the young drivers, the family car should never be "raced" when starting up. "Racing" a car's engine can burn up as much gasoline as speeding along a highway, particularly when the engine is cold.

This practice should be enforced all day long when the car has been parked for shopping, at the beach or station.

For those women drivers who use a manual choke when starting a car, they should make sure the choke is pushed in after a car is running smoothly. This prevents an excessively high gasoline-air mixture from being sucked in the cylinders after the engine is running. By not pushing in the choke, the car uses up more gasoline and allows excess to drain into the crankcase and dilute lubricating oil.

One of the best ways to "rain" is to let a car idle for a prolonged period of time. Few drivers realize that a car left idling for two 10-minute stops uses up as much as a quart of gasoline.

Poor driving habits also contribute to fuel waste. Starting up fast and then braking at the next traffic light, or screech-braking stops can cause a great waste of gasoline. Also, driving in low gears uses up gasoline faster than when shifting into higher gears as soon as possible.

Putting these driving habits into practice will produce results. Not only will they lower a car's gas consumption and costs, but they will enable a driver to obtain much more efficiency and performance from a car.

More juice can be extracted from lemons and oranges by warming them for a few moments under the hot water faucet before squeezing them. No vitamins are lost in the process.

If olive oil or cooking oil is used to lubricate kitchen appliances the disagreeable thought of motor oil dripping into food can be eliminated.

JUG DESIGNED for household use 50 to 75 years ago is cream and brown earthenware with a hard glazed surface. It is 14 inches high and 11 inches at its widest.

Pottery Jug Typifies Our Colonial Era

Pottery making is an old industry, dating back to colonial days of the United States. Good clays were found here by the settlers; but their wares were confined to pottery and earthenware utensils for household use until after 1825.

Typical of household pottery made in quantity since colonial days is the jug pictured. Jugs are the earthenware utensils with a narrow mouth and a handle. They were made in many sizes. Cocks, which are broad vessels without covers, and bowls were made of the same earthenware as the jugs.

The jug pictured is not strictly antique, for it is not more than 75 years old. The style of jugs has not changed to any extent since they were made by the first potters in this country. Consequently any Nineteenth century jugs or cocks are prized by collectors for decoration or use today.

Gray earthenware was as common for jugs and cocks as brown and cream. Old ones in any of these three colors, but especially gray ones, were sometimes decorated with designs of blue.

Jugs, cocks and earthenware pails with covers were sturdy and heavy.

Beach Bag Can Easily Be Sewn

A bag is essential to tote swim suit, towel, sun glasses, sun-tan oil and all the other little things that make a day at the beach successful. In fact, each member of the family should have a beach bag, sealed in size to hold their beach necessities.

A satisfactory bag is not too complicated to make, requires the simplest of cutting out and a minimum of sewing.

Two rectangles of fabric that are the basis of the bag might be cut 13 inches wide by 19 inches long for an adult's use. The size may be increased or decreased to suit the person who will carry it and to accommodate her equipment.

Materials needed are: 1 yard of rubberized or rubber-lined fabric

Or 1 yard each of heavy denim and plastic to line it 1 yard cotton fringe (curtain fringe)

1 yard cotton cord 2 skeins embroidery cotton 2 wood strips, 1 inch wide and length to equal width of bag.

If rubberized fabric in a pleasing color or pattern can be found, two pieces of material rather than four are cut and sewed together. The bag must be proof against moisture seeping through from damp suits and towels. The wood strips, if taken from worn-out window shades, will have holes through which the handle is fastened. Otherwise, a hole must be bored in the exact center of each strip.

Start by sewing together the sides of the bag, but not the bottom. Then make a narrow hem along the bottom of the bag and insert a drawstring to close it. Sew or tie it tightly in place. The tassel, after being made from embroidery cotton, is tied in place with the ends of the drawstring.

Lay a wood strip across one side of the top and pin the fringe in place. Then fold over the material turning under the raw edge for hemming. The fringe may be fastened under the hem or stitched on top of it after hemming, depending on how the heading of the fringe is finished.

The final step is slipping cord for the handle through the hole in the wooden strip. Knot it on the inside of the bag, so it won't pull through the top of the hole. This finished beach bag should stand abuse and give long service.

Liver is all meat and no bone. It has little fat so needs additional fat during cooking. Too high temperature or too long cooking tends to make the liver less tender and also tends to destroy the flavor.

This amateur photographer has chosen an excellent camera angle for his picture of two bathing beauties. The result will show a striking shot of glamour girls against a background of sky.

And that's one of the most important points to remember when taking glamour pictures at the beach this summer. Keep the background simple. The model is the subject, so don't add distracting elements by posing her with a cluster of people or beach umbrellas behind her.

Best time for taking beach pictures is in the morning or afternoon, not at midday. The sun at high noon may cause unflattering black shadows around the girl's eyes. Speaking of lighting, there's a tremendous amount of reflection from an expanse of sand, so treat all beach pictures as bright, not average, subjects—even on hazy days.

Free Canning Booklet Has All Methods

When you can fruits and vegetables at home you should use one of two methods — either the boiling water bath method, or the steam pressure method.

The kind of canner you use depends on the kind of food you are canning, says Rosella Banister, MSU Extension Agent in Home Economics.

For all fruits, tomatoes, and pickled vegetables, use a boiling water bath canner. Any container will do if it's deep enough to have an inch or two of water over the tops of the jars, if it has extra space for boiling, and if it has a cover.

For all common vegetables except tomatoes, use a steam pressure canner. To can these foods safely, it takes a temperature higher than that of boiling water.

When using a pressure canner, be sure the pressure gage is accurate. Ask your dealer or manufacturer about it.

Exact methods and times for processing fruits and vegetables are given in the US Department of Agriculture booklet called "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables". To obtain your free copy, write Cooperative Extension Service, Box 552, Wayne Michigan.

Canned foods taste better, when seasoned properly. To canned peas, add onions and margarine or butter.

Sausage Sandwich

Place 1 pound pork sausage links and 2 tablespoons of water in a cold frying-pan. Cover and cook slowly for 5 minutes, uncover and brown links. Spread 2 tablespoons of applesauce on each of 3 slices of buttered toast. Arrange two pork sausage links on each slice of bread topped with a cheese strip. Broil these sandwiches slowly until the cheese has melted.

Get in the Archery Swing For Family Fun and Health

Suburban Living

STRAIGHT SHOOTING is fun and archery is a good sport to provide the whole family with ideal exercise.

Regulation ranges are 300 feet long but 50 feet on the home property will do for beginners.

Turn Backyard to Playground, Then Plan Fall Hunting Trip

Fun for all the family are games that can be played in the back yard, the side lawn or somewhere on the property. There are about a dozen games that can be played on the home lawn by two persons or a group of people with simple equipment.

One that all members of the family, from the six year old to the 60 years young, can enjoy is archery. That's because bows and arrows can be purchased in sizes and weights that are appropriate to the size and weight of members of the family who are willing to try them. Again, regardless of age, archery provides healthful, body-building exercise but one that can be dropped after 15 minutes if a person begins to weary.

In order to gain skill shooting with a bow and arrows, no great area of lawn need be set aside for this purpose only. Ordinary grass is a satisfactory surface and the wear and tear on it will be no greater than that of ordinary walking. Arrows shot into the turf can be released without damage and any loosened turf can be stepped on and firmed back in place.

The length of the range can be any available stretch from 50 feet to 300 feet, the latter being the regulation range for skilled archers. Fifty feet is ample for beginning youngsters; if adults participate in the shooting a range of 100 to 150 feet would be desirable.

A safety area behind the target is desirable. For this 100 feet is ample, but a shorter stretch can be satisfactory especially if some physical backstop is possible. The garage wall or a high, dense hedge might double as a safety area, or backdrops 8 to 12 feet high could be hung from a clothesline or poles.

Equipment for archery is the same for all ages. It consists of a bow and arrows, a leather wrist and finger protector, a quiver to hold the arrows and a target at which to shoot. The equipment may be purchased in sets, each one including a bow, six arrows, a protector and a paper target.

The paper target is attached to a round target made of straw rope. The permanent straw target costs approximately $10 and up, depending on its size; sets of equipment start under $10 for the lightest weight bows.

A bow is purchased, according to weight, to suit the person who will use it. The weight of a bow indicates the force required fully to draw its arrow. Bows for men extend from 5 feet, 8 inches in length to 6 feet and from 36 to 80 pounds; for women from 5 feet to 5 feet, 6 inches with a weight of 18 to 35 pounds. For young people, bows as light as 16 pounds are available.

A 36 to 40 pound bow sends its arrow no farther than 60 yards. For the average man who will use his bow and arrows on his own property, a 36 to 50 pound bow should be about right. A woman will prefer to use a bow not over 25 pounds.

Practice with bow and arrow, perhaps only 15 minutes on long summer evenings, brings skill. Family matches over the weekend are a chance to compare skills and sharpness of vision. Eventually the most skillful archers in the family may be interested in joining a shooting club which offers longer ranges than the back yard and competitive shooting events. And, if they live in states like Michigan where hunting is permitted by bow and arrow, fall may find the male archers of the family setting off for some real sport.

One of the best ways to "pour" gasoline down the drain is to let a car idle for a prolonged period of time. Few drivers realize that a car left idling for two 10-minute stops uses up as much as a quart of gasoline.

Poor driving habits also contribute to fuel waste. Starting up fast and then braking at the next traffic light, or screech-braking stops can cause a great waste of gasoline. Also, driving in low gears uses up gasoline faster than when shifting into higher gears as soon as possible.

The Plymouth Methodist Recreation Camp, called Plym-rec by the young children and mothers, will open at Lower Straits lake on August 7. Children from ten years to high school age may go by notifying Reverend Norton of their desire, at once. Food will be cooked and served by an able staff of church women headed by Mrs. Fred Thomas.

Municipal Judge Herald Hamill has announced a new day afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. and each Friday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. He will be in the commission chamber of the city hall at those times.

One of the added features of the Northville Fair which comes on August 22, 23, 24 will be the buffalo which Fred Schrader has on his "Buffalo Ranch" on Territorial road. As usual Wednesday will be Plymouth day.

With the long parade and special attractions for Plymouthites.

Master Frank Keehl Jr. and Miss Doris Finnegan had their tonsils removed at Plymouth hospital this week.

Ralph Lorenz returned to Plymouth Sunday after playing in the state open and amateur golf matches at Jackson last week. The local star won the third flight in five rounds and going 21 holes on the last round to break a tie with Ken Traynor of Bay City for the low score.

School Board cuts tuition for next year. Non-resident pupils to get benefit of savings made by board. At its meeting last Monday night the board cut tuition from $84.00 to $75.00.

Rubber Products Company to operate manufacturing plant in Plymouth. Many prominent in the rubber business for many years will head new plant here. Operations to begin on August 15.

The plant having been leased from the Plymouth division of the Penninsular Products company. Operations of this company are comparatively new and Berg Moore of the Chamber of Commerce has been assured by such business men as E. C. Hough, A. C. Dunn, Paul Nutting and other manufacturers of their full co-operation in giving this new industry a good start in Plymouth.

Mrs. Kate Leach, one of Plymouth's oldest citizens will celebrate her 90th birthday Saturday at her home on Main street (where new high school gym stands).

Dave Galin states that he is now in no way connected with the Purity markets in Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor or with the one now being opened in Northville.

We are very sure that when Hazen Pingree left the Governor's office in Lansing, he did not suspect that his desk would be used to mete out justice to drunks and what have you in the fair city of Plymouth. When City Manager Perry Cookingham found out that Harry Robinson had in his use furniture stolen at a desk which would be suitable for the chambers of Herald Hamill at the city hall, he proceeded to make arrangements for same. It was then that he learned of the desk's famous owner. Some is now occupying prominent spot in our city hall.

The marriage of Miss Doris DuBois to Foster Keselbath of this city was performed by the Reverend Father LaFevre in the local Catholic church at 5 p.m. on last Saturday afternoon. Miss DuBois is from New Boston.

They left immediately for a wedding trip to Washington, D.C.

The group landed back in Plymouth on Tuesday.

In a full page ad in the "Mail" this week it is noted that many fine articles may be had just for saving the tags from your pouch of tobacco. Listed are such articles as these: Rubber tobacco pouch of porpoise hide just 60 tags; cuff buttons of Roman gold, 50 tags; fancy match boxes, 26 tags; 1 set (4) collar buttons, 25 tags; hat pins, Roman gold plate, 30 tags; gentleman's pocket-book, 29 tags; Rogers silver sugar shell, 40 tags and many more. Most of these are available at local stores.

Brands of tobacco carrying these premium tags are: Standard Navy, Jolly Tar, Town, Talk, Tenpenny, Hearshe, Big Four, J. T. Spearhead, Granger Twist and Old Honesty.

Many of our male residents are attending the Blue Ribbon horse races in Detroit this week.

Winnie Jolliffe has accepted a position with the Y.W.C.A. in Detroit and started her work there on Wednesday morning.

The weather since last Sunday has again been extremely warm. Rain is very badly needed but we are not nearly so hard hit as some of our neighbors to the south where the wells have gone dry and the crops have burned.

And now it is some of the residents of the north end of the Main street improvement that are putting up a big "shout" because the grade of the street at that part has been lowered. It appears to be impossible to place a sewer line in the street for damage and monuments are being talked but it will not be so bad when the street has been completed and the improvement to our Main street has been seen.

Eugene Rooke woke up about 3 o'clock Sunday morning to find his slaughter house in flames and the alarm bells immediately sounded.

By the time the fire department arrived there the slaughter house had been burned to the ground and his well appointed meat market with ice box etc. had been severely damaged. Loss will run into several hundred dollars.

Mrs. Richard Mott, one of the group on the excursion to Duluth, received some publicity on the trip she had planned on. Returning to the hotel after seeing all the sights in Duluth she slipped while going up the gang plank falling back and landing in the water. The officer in charge and a coal-passer both jumped in and Mrs. Mott was returned to dry land with little more than a bruise and a thorough wetting. The group landed back in Plymouth on Tuesday.

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q. — "Dear Elinor: I am 12 years old and my problem is my sister and her friends. We are the same age and go to the same school. Half of the time I am with her friends. Her friends seem to like me, but they never invite me to their parties and dances, no matter how well I know them. I don't know why I'm not invited."

Ans.—There's probably a definite reason why your sister's friends don't include you in their parties. Although they seem to like you, it could be a number of things and there's nothing you can do about it.

Perhaps they're nice to you because your sister is one of their "regulars" but they know you have other friends and don't consider you one of the gang.

Could it be your sister is behind it and wants you partying to be separate. Some girls and boys think that they have more fun without a sister or a brother along to "cramp their style" make reports (even harmless ones) to Mother and Dad or tell embarrassing things afterward at home.

Possibly they take it for granted that you have your party fun with your own friends... perhaps you've never invited them to YOUR parties.

Whatever the reason, they'd invite you if they wanted to. So it's probably nothing you can change. Spend more time with your own friends and help to plan some fun for your own crowd, so you'll be busy and won't feel "left out" of your sister's social life. Invite them to your home; have a barbecue or picnic; give a movie party, or take them to a baseball game.

(For help with personal problems, write to Elinor)

First Federal Ranks 5th

Detroit has the fifth largest savings and loan association in the United States in savings account totals, a compilation of The American Banker shows. First Federal Savings of Detroit ranks fifth with total savings June 30, 1958, over $234,000,000. According to the publication's chart, First Federal is one of eight such associations in the nation with savings over $200 million. First Federal's total assets exceed $257 million.

First Federal has 10 offices including one at Penniman near Main in Plymouth. Largest in the country is Home Savings and Loan Association of Los Angeles, with another Los Angeles concern, the Coast Federal Savings & Loan, ranking fourth. The Twin City, of Minneapolis, is second, and Perpetual Building Association, of Washington, third.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

Dorothy Koi was elected to the office of department historian at the 40th American Legion convention held in Detroit July 24-27. A member of the U.S. Air Force during World II, and presently a member of the Passage-Gayde Post 391 of Plymouth, she has served as post adjutant, post junior-vice commander and adjutant of the 17th District. She was a 1st organizer of the 17th District Blood Bank.

Lena Hammond of Lloyd H. Green Unit of Northville, past president of the 17th District, was elected department chaplain. During convention several members of both, the Post and Unit served on committees.

The 17th District Ritual Team participated in the parade and other members participated in the one and one-half hour parade.

Jack Carey of Grand Blanc Post 413 was elected as the new Department Commander and Mrs. Donald Crakes of Leslie was elected new president of the Department of Michigan.

Delegates to the National Convention being held in Chicago, Sept. 1-4, are Harold Wilson, and Robert Wilson, alternate of Passage-Gayde Post; Armetta Nevins of Redford, Township and Maxine Kunz of Passage-Gayde Unit, alternate.

Attending the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koi, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson, Mr. and Mrs. William Langmaid, Donald Kinghorn, Robert Wilson, Harold Wilson, Adah Langmaid, Melva Gardner and Maxine Kunz.

The Post's first business meeting under the new Commander Donald Kinghorn is Wednesday, Aug. 6, 8 p.m. Let's start the new commander off with a big attendance.

New Constitution?

SENTIMENT IS ALREADY BEGINNING to jell on the issue of a constitutional convention for Michigan more than four months before the November election.

The issue goes on the ballot automatically but the results are much less certain.

If approved, the state will call a constitutional convention the next year to rewrite the basic law of the state. The last wholesale re-write was in 1908.

It has been changed by amendment 63 times since then. Dozens of other proposed changes have been rejected by the voters.

Republicans are split on the issue of whether to call a convention.

One side of the party — suspected to be the majority — believes more amendments can be voted to make the desirable streamlining changes.

This would retain the basic 1908 document under which Michigan lives but add features to fit it to modern society.

On the other hand, Paul D. Bagwell, the Republican candidate for governor, is using a 1908 Oldsmobile in his campaign to dramatize the need for a new constitution. Still other Republicans are indifferent because by using the present method of selecting delegates to a constitutional convention — three from each senatorial district — they would keep control of its product.

Democrats would like a new constitution, but...

They feel the method of selecting delegates, with the Senate in control of Republicans, would be undesirable. They would like a method of dominating the new constitution by changing the way delegates are chosen.

Democrats claim on the heels of sweeping election victories in the past 10 years, that they constitute the real majority.

They blocked enabling legislation during the 1958 session, arguing that some fairer method should be devised. Democrats favored choosing delegates according to House districts.

The argument goes back to the 1952 constitutional amendment which created the "balanced legislature."

In theory, the Senate was to be given 34 seats based on area and the House 110 seats based on population.

However, the amendment kept the moiety clause, a headache for popular parties since governments were first invented. It works this way:

The state is divided into 110 districts according to population. Any district with one more citizen than the minimum required is given another seat.

Democrats feel this grants unequal representation to the rural Republican areas. They delight in stating that the minority Democrats in the legislature represent more people and obtained more votes than the majority Republicans. Republicans fear that some of the most cherished of the present constitution's amendments would be altered or dropped from whatever new document the convention drafted.

Republicans would like to keep the "balanced legislature" and most leaders of both parties want to retain the basic tenets of state civil service.

Recognizing its faults which, they agree, can be corrected, neither party publicly wants to return to the pre-1941 era when technical experts and stenographers were hired for their political ties and not their talents.

The public, too, has a great stake in the November election on the issue of calling a constitutional convention.

Many of the major reforms have been initiated by popular petition, the civil service amendment, for instance.

Difficult and uncertain procedures remain, however, before the new constitution can be developed and finally drafted and put into effect.

The convention will extend at least five months — if one is called, and the newly proposed constitution must be submitted to the voters at another election.

The whole affair is certain to produce two major campaigns, one for and against the calling of a convention and another for and against the final constitution.

DARKEST DAY IN HISTORY

If Your Name Is (MELANIE)

BY ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.

How many girls named "Melanie" would the name really fit? It means "the black one" or "the swarthy one." But, only a few parents pay attention to a name's meaning; it is the associations it brings up which make us like or dislike a name.

The associations evoked in each of us are different; maybe one mother has a dear friend by a certain name, and so picks it for baby. Another may know someone she dislikes, and transfers her aversion to the very name of that person.

"Melanie," meaning "the black one," contains the same Greek word from which derives "melancholy." This is literally "black bile," and in a wider sense, "a state of depression." In ancient Greek mythology "Melanie" was the surname of Demeter, the earth goddess; she wore black for mourning during the winter months when her daughter Persephone had to stay with her husband in the Netherworld, to return only in spring, reviving nature, and her mother's spirits.

It is not Melanie Demeter for whom we use the name; but two Roman women of the 4th century A.D. They endeared their name to the parents of Continental Europe, first of Italy, then of France, and finally of England. These two Roman ladies were devoted Christians, and although never canonized, have been revered as saints. In Italy their name sounded "Melania"; in France "Melanie"; the English took it over from both. It has never been among our most popular appellations. Still, Margaret Mitchell chose "Melanie Hamilton" for the kind and gentle cousin of Ashley in her novel "Gone with the Wind"; in the motion picture version Olivia de Havilland gave an outstanding performance in Melanie's part.

Both Roman Melanies were very pious; the older one, widowed at 23, offered up her life to the service of the Lord. She traveled to the Holy Land, founded a convent, and returned to Italy only once in order to exhort her granddaughter to follow in her footsteps. The younger Melanie found comfort in religion after she lost all her young children, retired to a cell on Mount Olive, and later erected a convent there.

The usual abbreviation for Melanie is "Mela" or "Meli," which also is a pet-name for "Melissa" or "Melitta," Greek names, too, meaning "a bee." And one "Melli" I know has "Malvine" for her name. She dislikes it to such an extent that even her best friends don't know she is "Malvine." This name, born of the imagination of James Macpherson, seems to have been made up by him from the ancient Gaelic "maolmhin," meaning "smooth shaven." Through the Ossianic poems it spread on the Continent, but is now looked upon as old-fashioned.

Space Rates

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (UPI) — Charles E. McKnight, engineer and market planner for Reaction Motors Inc., says space exploration should be a cooperative international program. The expense of one nation trying to do the job itself could ruin its economy, McKnight maintains.

'Our First Man in Space'

(This is the second chapter of five in which a noted U.S. expert on space science — writing on the basis of all that is known now to be scientifically possible — tells the story of America's first traveler in space, the sort of man he will be, and the problems and perils he will face.)

By MARTIN CAIDIN

(Written for United Press International.)

Jim Randall, our composite "spaceman," is a college graduate and a captain in the United States Air Force. His occupation: Engineering Specialist and Test Pilot. He is 28 or 29 years old, and at home with his wife and two young children you would never know that he is a skilled veteran of many thousands of hours in the air. Looking at Jim Randall, listening to his quiet, confident voice, it is hard to believe that here is the first man who will leave this planet to venture into outer space.

Jim Randall is a true "average" of those test pilots who fly our latest military aircraft. He is an Air Force test pilot, although he could have been a flier from the Navy or the Marines, or a test pilot from NACA, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. Any one of these men might be Captain James T. Randall, USAF.

What qualifies a man to be selected to lead the way into space? The answer is found in the ranks of those pilots who fly our experimental fighters and bombers. Men like Jim Randall. Even to be admitted to the select few who form the flying personnel of the Air Force Flight Test Center in California, Jim Randall had to be a perfect physical specimen. He stands just short of six feet tall, is well-muscled and weighs 182 pounds. Not an ounce of that weight is fat.

Jim Randall has perfect vision, and an extraordinary sense of balance. His reaction time is perhaps twice as fast as that of the average man. He is completely relaxed, indeed, he enjoys wild aerobatics in jets. His heart, respiration, all his physical characteristics, are perfect. There is no second-best in test flying. It is a grueling, demanding life, with Death always the second man in the cockpit.

To become an Air Force test pilot Jim Randall needed at least five years of jet flying; he has flown jets for nine years, since he was 19 years old. He has thousands of hours flight time, and is a veteran of the Korean air fighting, where he flamed three MiG-15's from his Sabre.

"Average" though he is, in the sense of type, Jim Randall is unique. Not only is he physically perfect, but he is well above average in almost every other respect. A test pilot's job requires even more than flying skill, and Jim Randall has learned how to temper his natural aggressiveness in the air with the exacting demands of test projects. He is half-pilot, half-slide rule. He can, as an engineer puts it, "make himself part of the machine."

To fly an experimental jet or rocket as a test pilot, Randall became well versed in mathematics. He is an expert navigator, a meteorologist, a capable astronomer, and is at home with geometry, algebra, or even calculus. He is a fully qualified aeronautical engineer, and an authority on thermodynamics. He is a veteran of high supersonic flight. He knows aviation and space medicine, the problems of high stress loading on aircraft structures under supersonic conditions, and knows in detail the processes of combustion and operation of the jet and rocket powerplants which send him hurtling through the thin air high above the earth. Add to these qualifications a competent ability as a mechanic, and we have quite a man. In short, a test pilot, our Jim Randall — first American to get into space.

Because he wants to rocket into space, Jim Randall studied exhaustively everything he could find on astronautics — the science of flight in space. He understands the principles of flight and movement in a vacuum, the terrific hazards of space flight, of explosive decompression, cosmic radiation, unfiltered solar ultraviolet and infrared energy, of violent friction with the upper atmosphere, of the wild temperature extremes encountered in space. He is at home with orbital velocity, meteor dust swarms, apogee, and weightlessness — although he has yet to experience these conditions of space flight.

Perhaps more important than all these indispensable qualifications is the fact that Jim Randall is dedicated to his work. He is a career officer. He could have quit the Air Force and accepted any one of a dozen civilian engineering and test piloting jobs that would pay him several times over the money he earns as a captain. He could have eliminated the risks he accepts in the Air Force as part of his daily routine.

But the money, and even the risks did not enter into his decisions. Jim Randall is an Air Force test pilot because he wanted to do this kind of flying more than he wanted to do anything else in the world. When the opportunity arose to be a contender for the first man to reach out into space, he wasted no time in asking for the job. Neither did any of the other test pilots. Randall was selected because he was the best qualified.

Why did he want to do this? Why is he willing to risk his life? He is a family man with children, a war veteran. He has done his job, more than most men ever will do. He could have a prosperous and a great career ahead of him. Why, then, is he risking everything to gamble his life on a punishing, danger-fraught flight into space — from which he may never return?

His answer is simple: "Because I want to." (Next! Jim Randall's training.)

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

IT IS APPALLING TO consider the vast waste of business acumen and experience which results when business firms invoke mandatory retirement. Close to a million North Americans reach 65 each year, and thousands of these are competent men whose brains are at their brightest but whose age relegates them to the scrapbasket of retirement.

Walter D. Fuller, 75, is one of the few men giving constructive thought to salvaging this wealth of retired talent. Last September this former chairman of the Curtis Publishing Company founded the Walter D. Fuller Company of Philadelphia, Penna., which now maintains an American and Canadian registry of retired technicians, specialists, and executives who are available for part-time consulting work.

"I felt we needed a clearing house for the treasury of talent going to waste in retirement," said Fuller — a slim, wiry man with a lean face and snappy blue eyes. "I put a few ads in papers announcing our company and was gratified to find not only a deluge of applications from competent retired men who had been looking for such a registry, but also a healthy number of inquiries from businessmen who said they needed occasional access to the judgment and counsel of specialists with extensive experience."

"My associates and I review applications and are particularly careful in checking references. We personally interview about three-fourths of those who go on our list. Most of our registrants are between 60 and 70 years of age and average about 40 years of experience. "We've already assembled a list of 800 qualified men, who are specialists in a host of classifications, from accounting to warehousing. We want to continue expanding this list with names of retired specialists from all over the continent so we'll be able to supply consulting needs wherever they arise. "I'm financing this out of my pocket for the time being," he went on. "There's no charge for registering with us, but we've got a modest system of placement fees and expect the program to be self-supporting someday. "It's a thrill seeing the good a program such as this can do," he concluded. "In our files we have letters from firms telling us how they've benefited from using our retired consultants, and letters as well from retirees telling us that the opportunity to use their know-how on consulting assignments has been very gratifying."

THE FULLER PLAN deserves to become as famous as the brushes of the same name, for we have long needed a plan designed to divert into productive channels the brilliant assets of talent that experience presently going to seed in retirement. (If you would like further information about the Fuller Register of Retired Talent, write to this column, c/o this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

WOULD YOU LET THE HANDYMAN TAKE OUT YOUR APPENDIX?

That's a rather terrifying thought, isn't it? And yet, many people prescribe their insurance — A BULWARK OF THEIR PERSONAL SECURITY — for themselves... without the help and experienced advice of a qualified insurance agent.

Insurance is one of the most complex sciences in today's business world. It demands the services of men who are willing to spend their lives in the constant study of its everchanging nature. Only such a man can bring your insurance picture into true focus... with the right insurance at the right price.

Do you really KNOW whether or not you are properly insured? Most people find out AFTER a fire... a windstorm... a collision... or a judgment. There's an easy way to KNOW FOR SURE, before it's too late! Let us analyze your insurance position without obligation. It may be that you are properly insured. If so, we'll tell you that. If not, we'll tell you what is wrong and what is needed. Then, the decision is up to you... but YOU WILL KNOW!

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY
With Grapho Analysis

Dear Jean:
Can you tell by my handwriting why I seem to have trouble making friends and keeping them? I have always been unhappy about this because I would like to be able to have close friends.

Dear MAMIE:
You are timid and shy. You also are quite self-conscious. This prohibits you from receiving and letting yourself go. You would like to be outgoing but are afraid.

You like to have friends but the reason you are not successful in holding them is that you are the possessive type. You want their undivided attention and do not wish to share them with anybody else. You want them all to yourself and cling to them jealously. This in itself will cause people to shy away from you because it is not natural for people to allow themselves to be possessed exclusive of everyone else.

If you can find it within yourself to give your friends their freedom, releasing them to seek other's companionship besides yours, you will discover that they will appreciate it and really be closer to you than they are under the present conditions.

She likes to impose her will or ideas on others. While she is a talker she is also able to keep secret that which she deems necessary. She will tell only that which she so desires.

She is interested in many things and many people. There are many irons in her fire so to speak and she has trouble completing everything she begins. She puts off things until the last minute and then barely gets them done.

She states that she doesn't believe in fortune telling. She and I are even because neither do I. The science of Grapho Analysis is NOT fortune telling and cannot be classed as such. It is a true science which can be proved without doubt as to its authenticity. It is used by police departments in crime detection and is the only handwriting analysis to be recognized in the U.S. courts as authentic evidence in forgery cases.

NEW BOOKS At The Wayne County

Dear Jean:
I read your column, and enjoy it very much. Would you please tell me what kind of a person I am. What type of work would I be suited for? Crowds make me nervous and am always afraid someone is making fun of me. Do I have any talent at all? Thank you. H.V.

Dear H.V.:
You have an over abundance of generosity. You really like to give, and give and give but you are afraid someone is making fun of you. There is much ability shown here which you are attempting to hold back. Only you alone can correct this self-consciousness of yours. There really isn't any reason for you to be shy when you have this ability.

You have the ability to create with the mind and the added facility of manual dexterity or the ability to work and create with the hands. However, you likely will be much more content to work in solitude or with only a limited number of people rather than in the public.

Dear Jean:
Please analyze the enclosed letter as the lady wrote and says she doesn't think you can.

THE PLYMOUTH POET
Dear POET:
It goes without saying that the lady likes to talk. She says what she thinks in no uncertain terms. She is capable of sarcasm and is one who enjoys a good battle of the wits. She likes to "stick" up for her side of the argument and can give a person a good run for their money.

Ann Arbor Art Loft Group To Hold Show

The Art Loft of Ann Arbor is holding its initial show of members' paintings and sculptures during the week of Aug. 2-9 in the studio at the rear of 337 Maynard above The Potters' Guild.

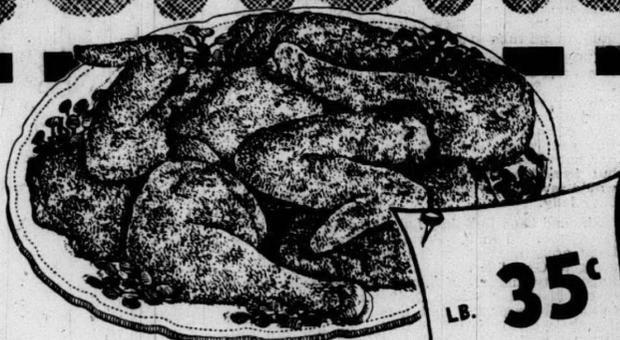

Recently organized as a non-profit group to provide working and exhibiting space for its members, the plans broadened into including future shows of fine art from country-wide artists, talks by visiting lecturers, and criticism by leading artists.

All who are interested in seeing the show which is open free of charge may visit The Art Loft afternoons 2 to 5 p.m. and evenings 8 to 10 p.m. from Sunday, Aug. 3 through Friday, Aug. 8. On Aug. 2 and 9 it may be seen from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m.

Another week almost to an end and, according to my latest vacation reports, it seems like Canton Township folks must have held a reunion in upper Michigan. So many of your neighbors reported seeing the new Mackinac bridge. Again this week we have quite a few new names in our column for you to get acquainted with. Here goes, but by the way, if I should ever mis-spell your name or give out wrong information — and it wouldn't be intentionally — don't hesitate to call and let me know!

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stein, our township supervisor and wife, are leaving next week for Europe. Mrs. Stein gave me their itinerary for the four weeks they will be gone. They are sailing and returning on the Queen Elizabeth — they will first land in England, then go on to the World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium, thence to Holland, Germany and the Rhine River and on to Switzerland, France and leave for New York and home from Cherrypoint. Mrs. Stein promised faithfully to call just as soon as she gets home and let us all in on their adventures. Have a wonderful time folks and we will all be envying you!

Mrs. Isabelle Spigarelli and daughter Nancy are home from Kansas from visiting Mrs. Spigarelli's mother who was hospitalized there. The latter is home from the hospital and now convalescing at a rest home and Isabelle reports that she is doing quite well. Nancy and Mom had a chance to get a peek at the play, "Kiss Me Kate," while there. Mrs. Spigarelli's brother-in-law is production manager.

No sooner did they get home when Mr. and Mrs. Spigarelli planned a surprise birthday party for their son Johnny who just turned 15. A hayride with cook-out of hot-dogs and roasted corn filled the evening. Johnny's friends gave him a gift of money and I'm sure he will know what to do with it.

The guest list included Norman Howe, Ann Gilles, Sue Worthington, Barb Cooper, Sharon Hoffman, Virginia Wingard, Barb Schantz, Art Nelson, Darroll Miller, Pete Lomaco, Rusty Condash, Martha West, Ralph Spigarelli, Jim Ralston, and Dave Palmer. They were chaperoned by Johnny's sister Janet (Miss Plymouth) and her friend Bob Sylvester. When they passed our home on the hayride there was no doubt about their having a grand time.

Mrs. Gerald Cather of Canton Center reported that she was taking a vacation with her son Raymond and wife. They were going to Ohio and then to Kentucky to visit with Mrs. Cather's mother, Mrs. Sara Powell.

Mrs. Cather was going to remain a week with her mother while Raymond and his family were going on to West Virginia to visit Mr. Cather's folks. Mr. Cather's dad is 89 years of age and at present in poor health, and Mrs. Cather stated that her husband probably would visit his dad in Virginia at a later date.

I called one of our neighbors who usually vacations about this time of the year, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krause and son Larry of Maben Rd., to see what they had been up to this summer. Mrs. Krause said as yet their summer had been filled with weeding the garden, a trip to the zoo, and a planned trip to Bob-Lo and that she was busy freezing raspberries from their garden. She stated that perhaps a little later they will take a trip and most certainly let us know about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Benoit and son and daughter, Ginny and Robert just returned from their vacation from Cederville located about 35 miles past the Straits. She said they fished every day and even though the weather was quite cold, they managed to swim a little in the afternoons. I asked about the fish catch and she said it was "so so", but they managed to get enough to eat each day and bring home a few wild ones. I had hoped that Mr. Benoit (Homer) would have had a big fish tale for us. Better luck next time Homer! Virginia said they did have a nice rest though as the only entertainment was radio and that the only station they could get was off the air at 8 p.m.

A little bird asked me if I had seen the gathering at the Claude Eatons' place on Canton Center last week and I said I hadn't but I would certainly find out about it. So all you curious passer-bys here is what was happening: Mr. Eatons' relatives, 45 in number, from his Dad's side were at the Eatons' for a picnic and a family reunion. They were from Jackson, Birmingham, East Detroit, Ypsilanti and Wayne, and it was swell to be all together once again. Mrs. Eaton (Doris) was cutting beans with her daughter Nancy at the time of my call, but we still found time to chat a while.

Nancy was going to Lake Charlevoix to spend the week with her friend Kay Fischer and Mrs. Eaton said the "Chat and Do" club were having a picnic at their home on Thursday of this week. I asked her what the "Chat and Do" club was and she said it was a group of neighbors who, in the summer, met as families, and in the winter the women kept up the gatherings. She said one of the things they did was adopt two men patients from the Northville State Hospital and see to it they had gifts each holiday and cards on their birthdays. She said although they didn't get in contact directly with the men they heard from the hospital staff that this brought much pleasure to two patients. She also stated that the group was taking a week-end jaunt to Marshall to have dinner at Schuler's. Just before our conversation came to an end I discovered it was Doris' birthday. Many, many more happy birthdays to you!

Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Authier and family are camping at Porcupine Mountain in the upper peninsula. They are due back this week and I will get further details on their trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sally of Ford Rd., just returned from a nice weekend in Cleveland, Ohio. They were visiting Mrs. Sally's niece and husband, Gladys and Jim Strom. Mrs. Sally said they had visited a research lab where they were growing cancer cells and the next step would be to find something to kill the cells. Jim and Gladys both work at the lab.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris White of Sheldon Rd and their family just returned from a pleasant trip to Sault St. Marie, the locks and Tahquamenon Falls. Mrs. White said they covered about 1,150 miles and that Mr. White (Norris) got in some fishing while the rest of the family enjoyed swimming and boating.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Campbell of Canton Center just returned from a week-end in Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell used to own the Jersey Belle Dairy, and said since their retirement from the business, they have been enjoying short jaunts here and there and were doing some of the things they never quite found time to do before.

I had been trying and trying to contact Mrs. Pearl Doyle of Sheldon Rd. Mrs. Doyle, as many of you know does quite a bit of traveling. When I finally managed to contact her this past week, she said she had not taken any major trips, but from her conversation, I would say she has been a very busy lady.

She had been to Zukey Lake for a weekend in the Portage Lake area; next week she is going to Grand Lake, Alpena, Roger City and she had been to the Mackinac Bridge Dedication. She reported that the day she was to the bridge dedication that it rained all day and a terrible wind prevailed. She promised to let us know about any future trips just as soon as she plans them. As a finish to our talk she mentioned a visit to the summer theater in Grand Ledge and spending a few days in Lansing next week.

I called another township resident, Mrs. George Condash (Alma) to see how the families' summer was going. Alma said they hadn't taken a vacation as yet, but was being kept very busy driving from school (band practice) then to the Hough playground. She said their children were busy with social engagements though. Their son George "Rusty" was to that surprise birthday party for Johnny Spigarelli of Beck Rd. and that their two daughters, Patty and Linda, were going to spend a couple days with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Isham and son Gerald at Belleville Point at Edison lake. Other than that Alma said they had been enjoying picnics and staying home, but hoped that later on they might plan a spur-of-the-moment trip.

I rang up Mrs. Ervin Franklin (Esther) of Gyde Rd. and she reported they had spent a week in Kentucky a couple of weeks ago and attended the Junior League Horse Show there.

While contacting folks on Gyde Rd., I decided to call Mrs. Alice Wright. She said she had been taking a beginner's typing course during the summer and at present was busy working on scenery for the Plymouth Theater Guild's first play of next season "Bell, Book and Candle." She said their daughter Cheryl just returned from two weeks at Interlocken Music camp at Interlocken. I quote "a mean trombone."

church on June 28. A reception was held by Mrs. Jones' sister, Mrs. Thony Miller of Canton Center. Mrs. Jones' son, Russel Pyle, was among this year's graduates, from Plymouth High.

One of our familiar names to the column Mrs. Ruth Wiles reported a cook-out for Mrs. Wiles' aunt and uncle-in-law from Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Sloat, last Sunday. She also stated they had a nice visit from Mrs. Marie Cox, one of the teachers of the Cherry Hill School. Ruth said Mrs. Cox was visiting past students on Cherry Hill because keeping track of her former students was one of her pleasures.

Mrs. Wiles also said she was attending a Stanley party in Romulus being given by a former neighbor of yours, Mrs. Agge.

Some of our Canton Township women who are members of the Farm Bureau will be helping in taking over the kitchen duties at the 4-H Fair Saturday, Aug. 16. This item was brought to my attention by Mrs. Tillie Schultz of Ley Rd who is a very active member.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schultz of Proctor Rd. returned from a trip to the Mackinac bridge last week-end. I wonder if they met any of the many folks from the township visiting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Heidt, daughter and Miss Joyce Balco, a cousin from Northville, and Mrs. August Schultz of Hanford Rd. just returned from a trip to view the new bridge.

This article includes my apologies to the Stanley West family of Ridge Rd. Last week I reported a visit to the Lentz cottage and I gave the Wests' another daughter, and although I'm sure they would be proud to proclaim the former Linda Lentz as their own daughter as well as their new daughter-in-law, the article should have read: Gerry West visited the summer cottage with his parents and his new bride, Linda Lentz West, to view the movies of their wedding.

Nancy West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley West of Ridge Rd. was the guest of honor at a pre-nuptial party at a shower given for her by Mrs. Lee Rowe at Mrs. Rowe's mother, Mrs. Max Preston of Brookline.

Mrs. Stanley West reported a surprise shower being given for Nancy Sunday, by Mrs. Victor May of 130 Robindale, Dearborn. Those attending were relatives of Nancy — 30 couples in all. The couples gave a group gift of card table and chair set and Revere cookware.

Mrs. Robert Gentz and son Raymond of Hanford Rd. were guests of Mrs. Robert Stuart of Dearborn last Wednesday at Camp Dearborn. Being a former Dearbornite and a frequent visitor of the camp, I asked Mrs. Gentz how it was. She stated the camp is lovely and has so much to offer.

Mrs. Fred Leonard of Beck Rd. reported that her new grandson, William Keith, born prematurely on May 26, at Detroit General hospital is now home with his parents, weighing five and one-half pounds. William Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nieman of Detroit.

Mrs. Harold Lamb of Ford Rd. and Fred Leonard of Beck Rd. were visited by their brother, Charles Leonard of Vermillion, Ohio, for a couple of days this past week.

Gayle Lynn Ehrhart of Ypsilanti spent last weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Goyle of Ridge Rd.

Mrs. Clifton Kelly and son Garry, of 1250 Ridge Rd., spent the last week of their vacation in St. Louis, Mo., visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Mr. Clifton's uncle and aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Kelly & son had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Crosby from Ferndale and Mr. and Mrs. Pantol of Detroit.

Another column to an end, and here's hoping I got all the facts straight. Be chatting with you next week, be sure to have fun and let us know all about
