

Church Property Purchased

City Ponders $20,000 New Bill from County

Where to find $20,000 to pay a higher sewage disposal rate, purchase of the First Church of Christ Scientist property and whether to move ahead with the condemnation of a property were some of the issues before the city commission Monday night.

Commissioners gave their approval to the church property purchase after a unanimous vote. Previous commissions had indicated to the church years ago that the city was interested in making the purchase.

When the property became available last year, however, the city didn't have the cash. In the meanwhile, the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union took an option to buy the property for $25,000, but would rather rent it.

So commissioners Monday night decided that they can now afford the property and will in turn rent out part of the building to the Credit Union at a charge of $200 monthly. The city also expects to utilize part of the building.

The old building, some 55 years old, was the first Christian Scientist church built in Michigan. The city is interested in the property because it fits into the Central Business District plan which would mean running a street through the present city hall site and constructing a new city hall.

Not so easy to agree upon was a method of finding $20,000 a year extra to pay the county for sewage disposal. The Wayne County Board of Supervisors had advised the city that the disposal rate will be increased from five cents per 1,000 gallons of water metered to 11 1/2 cents.

During the past fiscal year the city paid $14,962 to the county for disposal. The new rate will increase the charge to $35,000, or a net increase of $20,000.

City Manager Albert Glassford gave a report detailing four methods of raising the extra money. They were:

1. Double the water rates from 10 cents per 1,000 gallons to 20 cents.
2. Levy .8 of a mill through regular city taxes.
3. Raise the minimum bill from $1.50 each billing (two months) to $2; drop the minimum gallonage from 15,000 to 10,000; and raise the rates from 10 cents per 1,000 gallons to 15 cents.

4. Set the minimum bill at $1.70; drop minimum gallonage per bill to 10,000 and raise rate to 17 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Commissioners appeared to be interested in method three but decided to table the proposal until more information can be secured about metering the city's sewage.

Communities are given a choice of also metering its own sewage, but Glassford feels that Plymouth might pay more under that method. The additional charge is being made by the county to finance a new sanitary sewer.

Two weeks ago the city commission decided to initiate condemnation proceedings against a property owner if necessary. Monday, the property owner, Attorney Robert B. Delaney, appeared before the commission to point out that such action is unnecessary.

Delaney owns property between Byron and Ann Arbor Rd., east of Main St., through (Continued on Page 7)

Subdivision Near Junior High Having 104 Bi-Level Homes

A plat containing 104 lots for homes that will sell for $13,990 was given tentative approval last Thursday night by the city planning commission. A model home will open in March.

The Symar Land Co. of Telegraph Rd. is the developer while Harold Homes of Detroit will be the builder.

Location of the new 27-acre subdivision is north and west of the Plymouth Community Junior High School, just off South Mill. The subdivision will contain continuations of Fairground, Burroughs, Hartsough and Virginia streets.

The J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co. sold the property to the developers and will also be selling the homes.

According to Hudson, the homes will be of bi-level construction, will have paved streets, sidewalks and other necessary facilities. Lots will be from 60 to 80 feet wide. Fronts of the homes will be of brick white sides and rear will be Masonite lap siding.

Entering from the front, the lower level will be 42 inches below grade. The lower level will have an activity room, kitchen and dining space, hobby room, utility room and half-bath. Going up five steps from the entrance one will find the livingroom, three bedrooms and a bath. There is also a basement. In all, the home contains 1,272 square feet.

The hobby room on the lower level could be converted to a fourth bedroom. Hudson said that 92 similar homes were sold out in 30 days in Milford.

Film and Skit To Highlight Cancer Meeting

A film, a skit, and refreshments will make up the agenda for the annual meeting of the Plymouth Branch of the Cancer Society held at the Farrand school, 41300 Sun-craft, Monday, January 26, at 7:30. All Plymouth area residents, men and women, are invited to attend.

The film, "The Other City" filmed in Racine, Wisconsin, a city of 75,000 people; is one of the most dramatic of all the American Cancer Society films.

Racine becomes a silent city, its population symbolizing the 75,000 who die less every year because of (Continued on Page 8)

Freshmen Dominate Team Debaters Win Six-B Title

Plymouth High School won't lay claim to any football or basketball trophies during the current year but perhaps more meaningful is a trophy being displayed this week won by nine members of the PHS debating team in Suburban Six-B League competition. The debaters, coached by Miss Betty Stevens, English and speech instructor, participated in debates against the five other teams in the league during the first semester and the winner was announced last week.

By winning the league championship, Debaters will go into regional debates starting in February.

The proposition debated this season was "Resolved: That the U. S. should adopt the essential features of the British System of Education."

One of the amazing features of the Plymouth debate team is their age. The majority of them are only freshmen.

On the Varsity team are: affirmative, Chuck Ellis, freshman, and Jim Kropf, freshman; negative, Bob Westover, senior, and Dave Raaflaub, freshman.

There have been three state championship debate teams during the 42 years history of the Michigan High School Forensic

JOINING THE March of Dimes this week was Kristie Lynn Keehl, 3 1/2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keehl, Jr., 42100 East Ann Arbor Trail. The March of Dimes canisters this year have three compartments, signifying the three projects now unwritten by the National Foundation—polio, arthritis and birth defects. There will be a Mother's March next Thursday and a peanut sale downtown this Saturday in behalf of the campaign.

Mothers to Ring Doorbells For Polio Next Thursday

Teen-agers and mothers are leading Plymouth's March of Dimes campaign now in progress with donations going not only to polio sufferers, but also to cure victims of arthritis and babies with birth defects.

Climaxing the 1959 campaign will be the Mother's March on Thursday, Jan. 29. The March will be held in the afternoon in Plymouth Township while mothers in the city will go from house-to-house from 7 to 8 p.m. Volunteers are instructed to stop at every home, so householders are urged to turn on their porchlights to insure the safety and convenience of the workers.

In addition to the March, there will be a peanut sale this Saturday. Mrs. Harry Bartel, general chairman, has organized the sale that will last from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Bags of peanuts sacked especially for the Dimes Drive will be given to pedestrians for any donation.

Any teen-ager may still volunteer in this effort by phoning Mrs. Bartel at GL-3-2708. She still has some posts open.

Also taking place this Saturday is a teen-age benefit dance being held at the V.F.W. Hall on South Mill. The dance will be from 8 to 11:30 p.m. and is sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the V.F.W. Donations are set at a minimum of 25 cents each. Hi-fi recordings will be played by disc jockey Bob Danol.

The March of Dimes committees also urging others who desire to help hold coffee parties in their homes to contact Mrs. Bartel for details.

The Plymouth High School National Honor Society has again distributed canisters throughout the area. Each coin collector consists of three cylinders symbolizing the three patient aid programs of the expanded National Foundation—polio, arthritis and birth defects.

In Wayne County, the 1959 campaign takes on special significance. Last year there were 871 polio cases, enough (Continued on Page 8)

Astrophysicist to Speak At Memorial Program

"The Newest Outposts in Astronomy" will be the title of the second annual Edge of Knowledge memorial program, to be presented at 7:30 to 9 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 12, in the Plymouth High School Auditorium.

The series of lectures programs intended for Plymouth area adults and junior high and senior high school students, was begun last year, and is to serve as a memorial to 10-year-old Kim Worland, who died in September 1957 of cancer. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Worland, 290 Sunset, sponsor the yearly program.

One of the chief aims of the series is to bring to the youth of the community first-hand information about areas of human activity from which they may choose a life-long interest—perhaps a career.

Each year an authority in some branch of knowledge will tell of mankind's most recent achievements in this area. He will describe not only where man's knowledge extends and ends in this field, but will predict new problems and developments with which people will be grappling in this area within the next five to ten years.

Dr. Geoffrey Keller, young astrophysicist, now with the National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C., will be the speaker. The 40-year-old scientist is on leave from his position as director of Ohio State University's Perkins Astronomical Observatory, to serve as program director for astronomy with the National Science Foundation.

Exciting methods of research in astronomy, including work from high altitude balloons and rockets, and what these reveal concerning the structure of the sun and neighboring parts of the Milky Way, are among the "facts of the sky" which will be explained by Dr. Keller.

More than 250 Plymouth area adults and students showed keen interest in the first Edge of Knowledge program which was given last February by Dr. Henry J. Comberg, assistant director of the University of Michigan's Phoenix Memorial Project. Dr. Comberg spoke on "Peacetime Uses of Atomic Energy."

This year's hour-long presentation will be supplemented by slides. A half-hour question and answer period will conclude the program. The lecture is open to the public and without charge.

Bill's Market To Open Coffee Shop

A new eating establishment being called Milt's Coffee Shop will open next door to Bill's Market on Starkweather Ave. this Friday.

Milton and Roberta Orr, owners of Bill's market since 1952, will also operate the Coffee Shop. Open from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. the shop will specialize in breakfasts and sandwiches in conjunction with its soda fountain.

Hamburgers and Kosher specialties.

There will be a grand opening on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 30 and 31 at which coffee, donuts and ice cream will be given away. The property south of the Coffee Shop has been purchased for future parking space, Orr says. Some parking next to the shop will be developed now and more when weather permits.

Sale of Bonds Means Sewer Starts Soon

First of Michigan Corporation has purchased $790,000 in bonds to finance the construction of a sanitary sewer in Plymouth Township — making actual construction of the sewer now possible.

Bids on the bonds were opened last Thursday by the Wayne County Road Commission. They proved popular enough to draw four bids, representing 14 dealers.

The First of Michigan Corporation was low bidder with what is considered an attractive interest rate of 3.51 percent. The high bid was 3.69 percent interest.

The Road Commission is scheduled to pass a resolution today awarding the construction contract. The township's engineer, Herald Hamill, asserts that the Road Commission is expected to decide upon the low bidder, D'Angelo and Policelli of Detroit. Their bid was $578,900 — more than $200,000 less than the Road Commission had estimated the project.

There were nine bids on the construction work with the high bid being $1,743,733.

Actual construction is expected to start soon after necessary contracts are signed. Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay believes that it may be yet this month or early February.

The sanitary sewer will be a milestone in the history of the township. While the township owns sewer lines dedicated to it in Lake Pointe Village, this will be the first major sewer project initiated by the township itself.

The sewer will empty into the Middle Rouge Interceptor at a point just west of Newburg Lake. It will be laid south and eastward, covering the more heavily-populated areas. Especially in need of the sewer, according to county health authorities, is Green Meadows.

About 300 homes will be served by the sewer initially. Branch lines will be laid later as needed.

Plymouth Township next faces the job of providing water service to these same areas. According to the supervisor, paper work has already started on this project.

Mother of Resident in Fire

Chief of Police and Mrs. Kenneth Fisher experienced some anxious moments Saturday morning when they heard that the Tuller Hotel was burning and residents were waiting at the windows for rescue. Mrs. Fisher's mother, Mrs. Josephine Fischbacker, lives in the hotel. She was taken by elevator from the 10th floor to the main floor. Seeing flames, they decided to go up to the fifth floor and then down a fire escape. From the Statler-Hilton she phoned the Fishers that she was safe.

Symphony's 'Family' Program Includes Artist, Youngsters

It will come as perhaps no surprise that in addition to all the other things that are new under the sun (new model cars, ultrasonic dishwashing machines, expressways, fabrics and moon rockets to name a few) there is also something "new" in Symphony concerts.

This Sunday, Jan. 25 at 4 p.m., the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will present the string sections of three youth symphonies and will also feature an artist who will illustrate a number as it is being played by the adult symphony.

The special features are all part of the annual Family Concert being staged in the high school gymnasium. Played during the first half of the program will be numbers inspired by clocks—"Symphony 101" (The Clock) by Haydn, "Symphony No. 8" by Beethoven, "In a Clock Store" by Orth and "Danse Macabre" by Saint-Saens.

School Facilities Committee to Meet

A meeting of the School Facilities Committee will be held Wednesday, Jan. 28 in the High school auditorium. Dr. Fred Foust, chairman, urges all chairmen to contact their members for the important meeting.

"We are going to get right down to work on the problems as outlined in our previous meetings," Dr. Foust declared. There will be a minimum of discussion, he added, "since it is time we had some action in specific committee work."

The meeting starts at 8 p.m.

Opening the program after intermission will be the Youth Symphonies of Plymouth, Livonia and Milford playing Mozart's Serenade in D Major.

Closing the program will be "LaBoutique Fantastique" by Berlioz. The story takes place in a toy shop. While Joanne Hulce narrates the story, Stanley Hench, a local art teacher, will illustrate the action by means of cartoons. He will do his work in front of the orchestra on a large sketch pad and easel.

While most music-lovers are familiar with the origin and history of the Plymouth Symphony, most are not acquainted with the Youth Symphony here, as well as those from Milford and Livonia.

The groups enjoy varying degrees of sponsorship. The Milford High School Orchestra is a fulfilled part of the music curriculum at that institution, sharing rehearsal time with its almost-counterpart, the Junior High School Bands.

The Livonia Youth Symphony is sponsored by the parents of the members of the group. And the Plymouth Youth Symphony is sponsored in part by the parent group and in part by the School district.

Tutor Brushes Up Thespians On Japanese for 'Teahouse'

When Plymouth Theatre Guild "Okinawans" sit beneath the trees sipping tea and watching the sun go down in next month's production of "Teahouse of the August Moon," they'll be conversing in flawless Japanese. And just as perfect will be the acting, costumes, settings and lighting now undergoing intensive preparation and rehearsals in this biggest-of-the-year production by the group.

Responsible for the lingual accomplishments of local thespians (at least in their roles) is Harry Tsit Sui, one of several experts Director Hal Young inveigled into lending their talents to give the production the polish of Broadway.

"Teahouse," of course, romps along for the best part of the evening in unmistakable U.S. Army English, but that doesn't make Harry's job a cinch.

He has as students a geisha girl, an even dozen Okinawan villagers of all ages and, of course, Sakimi, that wily and engaging scamp who makes a shambles of the army of occupation.

But California-born Harry takes them all in stride. With the patience and methods learned at the U.S. Army Fort Snelling language school he soon brings forth from the actors the tones and lingual qualities of an Oriental.

"This play has moments of comedy and moments of delicate Oriental grace. When an actor has captured the mood and feeling for words it isn't necessary that the audience know their meaning to understand," Harry noted. "That's what we want to do here."

The big pronunciation problem for a non-Oriental is his life-long habit of giving a word emphasis on one of its syllables. In Japanese, Harry pointed out, no syllable is accented, thus giving the language its sing-song, monotone quality.

"The problem we want to overcome," Harry said, "is to give the flavor of the language without sounding like a tobacco auctioneer."

When Harry isn't giving freely of his evenings to the theatre guild he can be found tooling around in his newly-purchased Porche sports car or working on his collection of Japanese block prints. A bachelor, he lives at home on

Automotive News Editor Speaks To Rotarians

Julien "Jack" Weed, the man who edits the "bible of the automotive industry," was the guest speaker at the Plymouth Rotary Club last Friday noon.

Weed is editor of Automotive News, the weekly publication that is probably the most distinguished in the trade publication field.

The speaker, who lives at 695 William St., Plymouth, discussed mainly the process of printing now used for the publication. But he also gave some history of the publication which goes back to 1926 when two advertising men felt that the automotive industry was ripe for a daily trade paper.

McFadden Publications issued the paper every day until it reached a financial low in 1933 and was sold. It was then that the offices were moved from New York to Detroit and Weed joined its staff.

Automotive News now has 24 Detroit editors and one in Washington. There are 149 correspondents in the United States and four in Europe. In addition there are 10 columnists covering selective phases of the industry such as engineering, trucks and service.

It was over a year ago that the publication was switched from a flatbed press to offset press, a photographic plate process that has speeded up printing from 3,500 impressions an hour to 18,000. The press also offers five color process.

BIRTHS

The University of California's class of '33 was known as the "Depression Class," but a survey 25 years later showed that 75 per cent of its members were earning annual incomes of more than $10,000.

Mail Attitude:

More on 'Incorporation'

By PAUL CHANDLER

As stated here last week, we stoutly oppose the proposal to incorporate a portion of Plymouth Township as a new "city."

We oppose it because it is a brazen effort to split a natural community into segments and to divide neighbor against neighbor.

We oppose it because over the next 10 years it will cost everybody money, on both sides of the line, and will save nothing.

And we oppose it because it would paralyze any planned, coordinated effort to immediately bring new industry into the area to help us with our tax problems.

This week we learned that one of the Township's larger residential subdivisions was making ready to oppose "incorporation" with an organized effort.

Township industry has indicated in this newspaper long ago that it has no patience with the idea.

We haven't received in our office one letter or delegate defending the idea.

We can't find anybody who has seen or heard any campaign material in favor of it. No one seems even to know what is intended by its proponents. It would appear that the "incorporation" idea is friendly, futile and forlorn — and we hope so.

But the idea is dangerous enough that we believe we should sound the alarm as best we can, from now until election time.

One of the most under-played stories (so far) in the western Wayne County suburbs has been the action by the County Supervisors increasing assessments on users of the Middle Rouge Interceptor to permit that drain to be enlarged in capacity.

Affected are Redford Township, Livonia, Nankin, Plymouth, Northville and other communities. Home owners will receive something like a $10 a year increase on their water bills.

An interesting point to an observer is that it seems when the increase is made by a distant body far downtown, the public yawns and accepts it with an air of inevitability.

If our local officials tried to do the same thing, in the same way, for the same purpose, they'd be hung in effigy ere sundown.

But for relaxation, let's turn our gaze around to the saucy world of sports and talk about basketball. I get in an argument about it at lunch almost every other day, anyway.

"What's wrong with pro basketball?" the zealots inquire.

"The same thing that's wrong with all basketball," the critic retorts. "They've made a basket too cheap and the referees are a nuisance."

It is true that pro basketball in Detroit has been a box-office flop, despite the known fact that it features the most talented cage artists in the world.

Our theory of any good game is that the points you score must be hard-won, if spectator interest is to be maintained. If the objective of the game (whatever it may be) is easily achieved, the game loses its suspense, and suspense is what keeps spectators in the seats.

In its glory today, pro football is a far different performance than it was 10 years ago — though many fans have forgotten those days.

But in the immediate post-war years, every coaching accent in pro football, every rule enforcement was on the side of the offense. "Pass interference" was called all day long, putting a great handicap upon the defending team. Any brush of an intended receiver which caused him to lose his feet was enough to bring up the men in striped shirts, tooting wildly, and giving the offense a 30 or 40 yard gain because of "interference."

Those were the days when they called the game "basketball on grass" and the spectators were abandoning the game in large numbers.

About 1949, a change commenced. The defending team was given new latitude and the burden for getting into the open was placed upon the offense.

When passes became harder to complete, the running portion of the game came back into prominence.

Then the defenses developed—and the foremost thrill of the 1958 championships between the Colts and the Giants, you will recall, was the awesome combat of two giant defense units.

Touchdowns mean something today, and the fans love it.

Baseball has been having its ups and downs, but its period of decline has been accompanied by the cheapening of the value of the score, the run. Tense, tight games can go all to pot in a matter of seconds by a few high flies falling over a close-in fence for home runs. Baseball is in a sort of in-between stage at the moment, but everyone knows what the game will lose if the cheap home run completely replaces base running, bunting, great defense, and so on.

Hockey's main appeal is the suspense factor. A goal in hockey is hard to come by, and this provides the melodrama for 60 moments. Two or three goals a night can forge the entire verdict.

But basketball today, on all levels, is going dead contrary to the theory of "make the score hard to get."

The referee's whistle toots like a calliope. The defense hasn't a chance against any kind of speedy or tricky attacker—if he's touched, it's a foul. If a string-bean center is bumped while heading for a rebound, it's a foul too.

In other words, the policy is to either let the offense get the field goal, or give him free throws. Scoring is inflated and cheap, like the 1919 German mark.

Free throws, of course, aren't exactly exhilarating as spectator entertainment. There's no music to a whistle. Sustained action is rare. There's no suspense whatever to an evening at a basketball game except in the final three or four minutes of the night—if the huge point totals happen to be close between the competing teams at that late hour.

Our unsolicited recommendations to the moguls are simple:

1. Put new burdens on the offense, rather than the defense, make the scorers earn their points the hard way. Forget all the tippy-ear fouls under the basket.

2. Raise the height of the basket at least 10 inches. This is to toughen the ridiculously simple tip-in shots for the seven-footers who are so plentiful in the game today. It wouldn't affect a little guy much. The tall man would still have relative advantage, but he wouldn't score so often.

3. Don't shudder at body contact under the basket.

4. Print up lots of tickets for the new spectators who'll show up.

Jr. Achievement Week Activities Open Sunday

The largest Junior Achievement Week in southeastern Michigan history will take place from January 25 through 31 according to Thomas B. Adams, JA Week general chairman and president of Campbell-Ewald, Detroit advertising firm.

A decision by the Detroit common council preventing the 1959 "Inside Junior Achievement" spectacular to be held at the Civic Center has moved the exhibition site to the east grounds of Northland Shopping Center just above Eight Mile Road, Detroit.

A special 40-by-60 foot inflatable air-building will be erected by Darin & Armstrong, Inc., general contractors, to house all JA Week activities including a JA department store and special attractions. The Detroit contracting firm offered its services to the Junior Achievement organization.

Special daily attractions such as JA product sales, miniature JA company operations, motion pictures on JA activities and special events are designed to attract maximum public interest. Over 500 southeastern Michigan Achievers will take part in the week-long affair. All southeastern Michigan-made JA products will be on sale to the general public.

Highlights of JA Week activities include the selection and crowning of Miss Junior Achievement of 1959, special presentations on bus-

French Salon Featured At Woman's Club Benefit

Mrs. Helen Leet, General Chairman for the Woman's Club annual dessert-bridge, "Bonnet Buffet" reports the tickets are distributed and returns coming in rapidly.

In addition to the door and table prizes a corner of the Masonic Temple will be transformed with magic to the "French Salon" where the latest in Spring hats from Schillers of Detroit may not only be viewed, but tried on and worn home if "it's love at first sight".

Tickets may be purchased from Lillian Herrick, Dorothy Becker, Martha Colburn, B. Otwell, Ann Hanson, Ruth Haines, Ruth Withoff, Peg Kropf and Ruth Jones.

STRATFORD, Conn. — (UPI) — While Mrs. George H. Staley Jr. was out watching a small fire next door, the grease she had left on her own kitchen stove ignited, causing $1,000 worth of damage.

Obituaries

Anthony Gerard Massarelo
Day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Massarelo, 276 Union St., Plymouth, passed away Jan. 13. He is survived by his parents and three brothers and four sisters, Jack, David, Michael, Mrs. Paula Hornback, Walled Lake, Jane, Joyce and Rose Mary, all at home. Rev. Fr. Francis Byrne, from Our Lady of Good Counsel Church officiated at the service for the infant.

Rosaline Lee Reynolds
Services were held from Schrader Funeral Home with Rev. Patrick J. Clifford officiating for Mrs. Rosalind Lee Reynolds, 89, who passed away January 19.

She came to Plymouth to her home at 11821 Priscilla Lane in 1942 from Dearborn where she had lived the greater part of her life. She was a member of Calvary Baptist Church and is survived by her one son, Everett Reynolds of Plymouth and one brother, Roy W. Anger of Royal Oak, Michigan.

Dale James Tillotson
A former resident, Dale James Tillotson, 47, passed away Jan. 15. For the past 15 years he has resided in Reno, Nevada. He grew up in Plymouth, graduating from Plymouth High in 1931.

Surviving him is his widow, Emma Jean, two sons, Vaughn, stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., and Lynn of Oakland, Calif., his mother, Mrs. Clara Tillotson, and a brother Clifton of Plymouth, and a sister Mrs. Grace Egeland of Detroit. Burial was in Reno last Monday.

The CITY MANAGER'S CORNER

By Al Glassford

American Democracy has been called by some "grass roots government." This means that the laws and regulations which control our activities come from the people themselves. Sometimes, we may wonder about this because we probably have never thought about ourselves as law makers. Nevertheless, the charter of the City of Plymouth, which was adopted October 1, 1951, gives the citizens this power in Section 6.11.

Here, the City Charter provides that an ordinance (a local law) may be initiated by a petition. This means that the members of the community may draw up an ordinance and have it adopted, if the procedures spelled out in the charter are followed. For example, the City of Plymouth does not have a backyard swimming pool ordinance. Some of us may feel that such an ordinance is necessary to protect our children. The initiative section of the charter is the answer to our problem.

If one wishes to initiate an ordinance, the best thing to do is to secure a copy of the City Charter at the City Hall and follow the instructions relative to initiation of an ordinance. First, one must draft the ordinance and include it with a petition. The petition and ordinance form must be approved by the City Attorney; the content is not controlled by him. In other words, he cannot hold back approval merely because he does not agree with the proposed ordinance.

After the petition is approved by the City Attorney, it must be circulated for voter's signatures. In order for a signature to be valid, it must be in ink or indelible pencil and the person who signs must write after his name the date when he signed and his address here in Plymouth. This is so that the City Clerk properly may canvass the signatures before he certifies the petition to the City Commission.

The petition will be certified in the City Commission, only if the City Clerk finds that it has been signed by at least 15 per cent of the number of people in Plymouth who voted for governor in the last full State election. For example, if 2,000 people voted for governor here in Plymouth last November, a petition to initiate an ordinance would have to contain at least 300 valid signatures.

After the City Commission receives a certified petition from the City Clerk, the Commission has two choices. It can adopt the ordinance as submitted in the petition, or it can submit the proposal to all the people in the City by holding an election on the initiated ordinance. The result of the election is based upon a majority vote of those people who voted on the question, unless the constitution requires something different.

The City Charter, also, provides that an ordinance which is adopted through this initiative process may not be amended or repealed by the Commission for two years after the date of the election at which the ordinance was adopted. This means that if an ordinance is adopted in an initiative election on the first day of March, 1959, it cannot be amended or repealed by the City Commission until the second of March, 1961.

In addition to reserving to citizens the power to initiate ordinances, the City Charter also provides that citizens may repeal or request a vote on an ordinance which has been passed by the City Commission. This power is called "the referendum." It will be discussed next week.

Car Crashes in Fog
Donald Vance, 9885 A n Arbor Rd., Plymouth, received injuries Jan. 14, when his car, a 1950 Buick hit the guard rail at Lilly and Joy Rd.

Vance, driving in the fog did not see the rail in time to stop. He applied the brakes but not in time. Vance received chest injuries.

Canton Candidates Introduced

Ann has lived in the Township better than three years. Mr. Bradley has been with the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. for 10 years and also runs a farm machine business from his home. He is a member and treasurer of the Township Democrat Club and a Major in the Army of the organized reserves for 14 years. His hobby is hunting, and he expressed a desire to help make some needed changes in the present Township set-up. He hopes that more people will show an active interest in the campaign and will personally make house calls to help stimulate this interest.

Mary Rafferty, Democrat, running for treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. Rafferty reside at 215 Willard St. and have lived in the township for 18 years. They have two sons, both graduates from Plymouth High, and one grandson. At present, Mrs. Rafferty's occupation is housewife, but has worked in the business world. She has taken a course in bookkeeping from I.C.S. and also a course in business machines at Cleary College. She listed as hobbies, gardening and copper enameling. Mrs. Rafferty is an active member of the Democrat Club. When asked for comments, she stated that she felt she could handle the job efficiently.

Ashley R. Coburn, Democrat, seeking the position of Treasurer. Mr. and Mrs. Coburn reside at 125 Canton Center Rd. Mr. Coburn is employed with the Ford Motor Co. in administration, finance, project and control engineering. The Coburns have lived in the township seven years. Mr. Coburn's hobbies are movies and still picture work and he loves music. He is a volunteer fireman, heads civil defense in the Township, an active member of the Masonic Lodge and teaches Sunday school. Also an active member of engineering societies. When asked for comments, Mr. Coburn stated that he felt no person should run, or make application for office, unless he is qualified and has a firm interest in the Township. Mr. Coburn is also president of the Goodfellows of the Township.

Hagbard J. Berg, Republican, seeking position of Treasurer. lives at 48630 Michigan Ave. with his wife and four children. The Bergs have resided in the township for 15 years and Mr. Berg owns and operates a nursery on Michigan Ave. near his home. Mr. Berg is interested in civic activities and is the founder of National Mental Health week. He is past president of the Jr. Chamber of Commerce, president of the Denton School P.T.A. Although I did not talk with Mr. Berg personally, his wife describes him as a very active man.

Next week we hope to complete our interview of the men seeking election as Trustee, Justice of Peace and Constables.

Two of our township ladies attended the television program at the Masonic Temple "Queen for a Day." Mrs. Walter Rey and Mrs. John Newport. They stated you can hardly appreciate the organizing that goes into a program unless you see one in person. Mrs. Rey stated that many interesting things happen that the cameras do not show on our screens at home.

The Mother's March on Poggio in the Township, will be January 29 during the day. These ladies are giving of their time for a worthy cause so greet them when they come to your door. If you are not at home at the time of their visit on the 29th of January, they will be only too glad to return for your contribution if you will call Mrs. Rey at GL 3-7344. Mrs. Rey also stated that they still need help of quite a few more mothers, so if you can give a hand, please call Mrs. Rey.

At the Democratic Club meeting of January 8, the following men were elected to office. President, Mr. Sidney Eastin of 46315 Warren Rd., Vice President, Colburn Dennis, 47807 Hamford Rd., Secretary, John Flodin, 41755 Michigan Ave., Treasurer, George Bradley of 6438 Canton Center Rd. The Club will hold a meeting on February 5, at the Geddes Hall, at which time candidates for county office and township office will be presented to speak. All persons interested are welcome to attend.

Mrs. George Bradley, Chairman of the Women's Committee of the Democrat Club, announced that a meeting of the group, was held at her home on Wednesday, Jan. 21.

Mrs. Fred Leonard of Beck Rd., and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Lamb of Ford Rd., spent a very enjoyable day visiting relatives of Mrs. Leonard's husband and Mrs. Lamb, in Detroit and Highland Park. They visited Mrs. John Pilate and she joined the two ladies to visit Mrs. Harriet Gardner of Highland Park. The group then had lunch with Mrs. Oliver Pilate.

At this time we would like to welcome to our Township, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott and their seven children. The Scotts moved to the Township from Detroit and have made their home at 6512 Canton Center Rd.

I received a call from St. Joseph Hospital, from Mrs. Vincent Ferrari. Mrs. Ferrari announced the birth of their son Brian Anthony. Brian was born Jan. 1, weighing 7 lbs. 9 oz. With the arrival of Brian the Ferrari family will be equally numbered, two boys, two girls. Mrs. Ferrari (Norreen) sounded very chipper and happy, and of course anxious to take Brian home to his brother and sisters.

Each time I wind up the column for the week, I get another bit of news, which of course doesn't make me unhappy. In fact, I'm pleased with this week's news, except for the interviews, the items have all been called to me, so I know someone must know about the column.

Mrs. Robert DeKarske gave a birthday dinner party for her sister, Miss Joyce Gots. Attending the dinner in Joyce's home were Dave Gyde, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Richards, Mrs. Gladys Gots, Mrs. Ethel Kincaid, Larry DeKarske and Bob DeKarske. Many happy returns.

A very happy person was Alberta Thomas, (Mrs. Joe Thomas) of Ford Rd. Relatives and friends of Alberta gave her a surprise birthday party Thursday, Jan. 15. Alberta said her mother, Mrs. Anna Bronson baked the birthday cake, (which is standard procedure each year) and the following persons attended to help celebrate. Mrs. Barbara Miller, Thelma Thomas, Linda Larcid, Stella Wisniewski, Arlene Wiles, Mrs. Helen Mishan and Mrs. Thomas' husband Joe. Alberta said she received many lovely gifts.

One of those items that add a novel touch to the column, is the fact that Mrs. Anna Bronson, residing on Ford Rd., stated that 19 years ago she put a light bulb in her porch lamp and it is still working. Mrs. Bronson stated the reason she remembers the date is due to the fact that her grandson was born the day she installed the light. Well, unless someone calls before I can get my coat on to take the column in, this winds it up until next week, when we'll have more interviews and news to tell.

City Planning Commission
City of Plymouth, Michigan

At a special meeting of the City Planning Commission to be held February 5, 1959, at 7:30 p.m. in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall, a public hearing will be held to consider a change in the zoning of the following described property from M-1, light industrial, to R-2, two-family residential.

A strip of land 342 feet in width, measured westerly from the center line of Mill Street and parallel with Mill Street, lying entirely west of the said center line of Mill Street, between the center line of Fair Street and a line parallel with said center line of Fair Street distant approximately 2090.00 feet southerly from said center line of Fair Street to the center line of Ford Street, of Section 35, changed from M-1, light industrial, to R-2, two-family residential.

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the hearing, and at the close of the hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Planning Commission before making its decision.

New Books at the Library

Children and parents alike will be pleased to know the Dunning-Hough Library will again resume their Children's Story Hour beginning Saturday, Feb. 7 at 11:00 a.m.

A reprinting of a book that has been out of print for 15 years and highly recommended by head Librarian Agnes Pauline for Michigan early history and romance, can be now found on the shelves, Wolves Against The Moon by Julia Cooley Altrouchi.

Other new books to be circulated are: Our Man In Havana, a melodrama mystery of the British Secret Service by Graham Greene.

China and Soviet Russia by Dr. Henry Wei. This is an authentic and objective presentation of the relations between China and Soviet Russia during the critical time from 1917 to the present day.

Also on Russia, The Changing World of Soviet Russia, an analysis of Soviet internal and external policies by David J. Dallin.

For those interested in mediums, apparitions, ghosts, telepathy, hypnosis, trances, dual personalities, etc. The World of Psychic Phenomena by F. S. Edsall will be fascinating.

Reading Improvement for Adults by Paul D. Leedy gives pointers on how to read faster with greater understanding and more enjoyment.

A New Way To Better English by Rudolf Flesch covers the subject of writing better letters, interesting speeches, and reports.

A pictorial history from Quebec to Korea between 1755-1953 is covered by Roy Meredith in his book The American Wars.

THE READER Speaks Up Evans Subsidiary Opens Warehouse

Editor: Make I take exception to the statement by R. L. Dougherty wherein he said that "Catholics should keep their nose out of politics."

It is the duty of every good citizen to be interested in politics and to vote intelligently, regardless of religion. To do this we need to be aware of the issues at stake and know the candidates who are running. Bad politicians are put into office by good citizens who do not vote.

As to keeping our hands out of the treasury, would he like us to stop paying taxes, too? Since we pay a fair share of the taxes, should we not receive a fair share of the benefits?

In parts of Canada, the parents are allowed to decide whether their taxes should go to support the parochial or public schools. They are allowed to change later if they decide they would like to send their children to different schools. However, in other parts, once they have made their choice, they cannot change their minds. Perhaps, something like this could be worked out in this country.

Yours truly,
Virginia Yezbick

Fiddes-Moore & Company, a subsidiary of Evans Products Company of Plymouth, Michigan, opened a new warehouse in Columbus, Ohio this month.

The new operation services an area reaching approximately 100 miles to the north and east of Columbus. The 15,000-foot warehouse, located at 1273 Edgehill Road, adjacent a C & O railroad siding, carries an inventory of building supplies, with emphasis on hardwood plywoods, mahogany moldings and related building specialties. Along with these specialties the new warehouse also carries a full line of interior and exterior fir plywood in all thicknesses and grades.

"Columbus was selected as the site for our new warehouse so we might better serve the many customers we have in that area," said Milton F. Taylor, President of Fiddes-Moore & Company of Ohio, which also has warehouses in Pittsburgh, Pa., Huntington, West Virginia, and Dayton, Ohio. "The warehouse is centrally located and we plan regular delivery service into outlying areas as soon as possible."

Since the end of World War II the United States Army has increased the technical schools programs to recruits to about 150.

Report Coats Taken From Sanatorium

Delores Maxwell, 2486 Elmhurst, Detroit, Michigan reported her brown Mouton Lamb coat stolen from the 2nd floor hallway of Maybury Sanatorium, Jan. 18 about 4:45 p.m. The coat, valued at $700.00 was taken by a visitor, however, no records are kept of people visiting. A green cloth coat was left behind in place of the fur coat. One of the children identified the coat as belonging to a woman who visits the Sanatorium often. Names withheld upon investigation. Belvia Smith of Detroit, reported her brown Mouton coat also missing from the second floor of the Sanatorium the same day at about 4:00 p.m. Mrs. Smith stated she saw a woman wearing the same type coat get into a blue Cadillac with a man and another woman.

Rocks Bow to Belleville, Face Bulldogs Next

Plymouth fans saw the Rock five lose possession of a possible second league victory, Friday night on their own floor, as Belleville staged a late third quarter rally to win 59-50.

The score changed hands 10 times in the first half and was tied four times with both teams playing for every basket they could squeeze into 16 minutes of play.

Tomorrow night Plymouth will travel to the Bulldog's home when they play Bentley. A year ago, at this time, the Rocks battled for first place in the league. Bentley dropped them 53-33.

The Bulldogs accomplished this by hitting 36.6 percent of their shots compared to the Rocks 19 percent. Bentley also controlled the back-battled neck and neck for twelve minutes then Belleville pulled a little ahead, 32-30 as the first half ended. This was the same score as the Javee first half of play.

Plymouth outscored Belleville, 17-12 in the third quarter, but found heigh too much to cope with three minutes later. The Tigers rebounders averaged six foot.

In the fourth stanza Belleville chalked up 15 points while holding the local five to three. It was during this fourth quarter that Randy Egloff fouled out.

Egloff was Plymouth's big gun as he collected 19 tallies in 29 minutes of play.

Dick Locke ran up 15 points for the Tigers, followed by Grubbe, Horchem and Linderman with 11 each.

Tankers Split Double Bill

Ann Arbor, a class "A" school, almost bit off more than it could chew when it met McFall and swimmers in the toughest meet of the season. While Ann Arbor smashed five pool records, the Men of McFall set two team marks.

Five new pool records were set as Ann Arbor managed to squeek by night in the local pool.

Al Davis stroked in one record for the 100 yd. backstroke and Melow, D. Williams, B. Williams and Vincent placed second in the 200 yd. medley relay but accounted for the second record.

The two team marks broken Saturday evening brought the weeks total to three. Dor Williams set a new time in the 100 yd. breaststroke, as Plymouth downed Belleville 62-30 Thursday night at Belleville.

A double-header is in store for the Rocks as they meet Bentley tonight and Birmingham Saturday evening. Both games are here in the P.H.S. pool.

Outside of Ann Arbor, Birmingham was slated a rough competition. The Belleville meet was a rout but the Saturday night meet kept both spectators and swimmers wondering what the outcome would be.

McFall and crowd led at the end of diving 37-35. Ann Arbor then proceeded to take the remaining two relays to win by six.

The Javees lost to Ann Arbor 46-41. This was the first meet the J.V. swimmers have had since hosting Allen Park on the eighth.

Belleville meet:

50 yd. freestyle: 1. Jim Carney, Plymouth, Time 25.4.
 2. Ron Hubbs, Plymouth, Time 27.3. Jim Henry, Belleville.

100 yd. butterfly breaststroke: 1. Beau Toll, Plymouth, Time 1:08.4. 2. John Downs, Belleville, Time 1:10.7. 3. Robert Daley, Plymouth.

200 yd. freestyle: 1. Jack Vincent, Plymouth, Time 1:09.6. 2. George Milligan, Belleville, Time 1:11.0. 3. Gill Burma, Belleville.

100 yd. freestyle: 1. Art Helm, Plymouth, Time 57.2. 2. Ron Daley, Plymouth, Time 59.0. 3. Terri Tate, Belleville.

Diving: 1. Nick Herrick, Plymouth, 53.8 points. 2. Cal Brendth, Belleville, 43.5. 3. Tom Lopucki, Belleville, 41.5 points.

150 yd. individual medley: 1. Karl Melow, Plymouth, Time 1:44.6. 2. John Downs, Belleville, Time 1:46.5. 3. Val Losse, Plymouth.

200 yd. medley relay: 1. Belleville, Time 2:12.7. 2. Plymouth Disqualified.

200 yd. medley relay: 1. Plymouth, Time 1:48.5. 2. Belleville, Time 1:50.5.

Ann Arbor meet:

50 yd. freestyle: 1. Kleinschmidt, Ann Arbor, Time 23.8. 2. Jim Carney, Plymouth, Time 25.6. 3. Bill Winkler, Ann Arbor.

100 yd. butterfly breaststroke: 1. Steve Thrasher, Ann Arbor, Time 58.5. 2. Dick Gretzner, Plymouth, Time

Jayvees Drop Belleville

The JV's made a sparkling second half comeback to down Belleville 63-7.

Last season when Plymouth met Bentley, they suffered a 48-43 loss. The Rocks had led until the final 12 seconds of the game, then the Bulldogs fired in two fast field goals to win.

Frosh Dump Tigers

The freshman team routed Belleville 40-29 Friday afternoon, when they over-ran the Tigers' floor.

Plymouth took a quick lead as they tallied a 10-5 score at the end of eight minutes of play.

Stremich dumped in five field goals and three free throws for 13 points and top scoring honors for Plymouth. He was followed by Darr with five field goals and two charity throws for 12.

Bara was high point man for Belleville with eight.

Diving: 1. Nick Herrick, Plymouth, 53.8 points. 2. Cal Brendth, Belleville, 43.5. 3. Tom Lopucki, Belleville, 41.5 points.

Jr. High Starts Intramural Ball

The Junior High Intramural basketball program got under way this week with five teams competing. Two games are played every Friday with the fifth team members serving as scorekeepers and timers.

The Emperials defeated the Blue Bombers 33-25, paced by Chuck Worthington and batch Sarah, Schryer, contributed ten for the losing team. The Backboards, paced by Hunt defeated the Ball Hogs 29-21.

The second round of play round the Backboards defeating the Blue Bombers 31-27 in a very evenly played ballgame. Hunt paced the winners with ten points, a little Schryer tossed in sixteen for the losing cause.

The Ball Hogs defeated the Vikings paced by Livingston and Jensen. Bowles scored nine points for the losing cause or the Vikings.

The Intramural program is under the supervision of Frank Sullivan and Bill Brown, who share the coaching duties jointly.

From Salem: Two New School Buses Ordered by Lyon Board

By Mrs. Herbert Famuliner FI. 9-0924

Two new buses will be bought by the Lyon Township School Board, both will be 60 passenger bodies and will be purchased from the McFadden Corp. at a cost of $6,050 per unit including a trade-in of two old buses.

Supl. Bartlett received requests from Miss Beers for release at the end of the semester, and from Mrs. Anderson for release the end of January. The Board voted to accept their resignations and not to replace Mrs. Anderson in the music department for the balance of this year.

P.T.A. Party
Members of the New Hudson Elementary School P.T.A. will have a party on Wednesday evening honoring Ben Rice, custodian of the school for many years, who retired in December.

4-H Club Card Party
The Go Getters held their regular meeting Jan. 8 at the home of Martha and David Lutchka. Members discussed having a card party at the Town Hall during March to raise money for the expense of an experienced caller for the Community 4-H meetings. Posters will be made at the next meeting.

A demonstration was given by Pamela Sibary on how to entertain a child while baby sitting. Jan Bloom demonstrated how to use a coping saw. Carolyn Bloom entertained the group by drawing a horse head, which was very good. Games were led by Nancy Page and Cathy Van Bonn led the group in singing. Martha served members birthday cake and ice cream. The cake was presented to her by Janice Boike and was decorated and shaped like a dog's head. All but 2 members were present. The next meeting will be Feb. 5th at the home of Mary and Gilbert Straub.

Special Event
John Deere Day will be held at the Wilson Farm Supply on Pontiac Trail on Friday beginning at 10:30 a.m. The program will include something for every member of the family. Refreshments will be served.

Accidents Reported
On Jan. 14 at 5:20 p.m. Father Vincent Harker, 72, of 60 Church St., Highland Park, driving a 1954 Oldsmobile owned by Mary Fallon, was traveling east on N. Territorial applied the brakes for a stop sign and skidded across the intersection. The car hit a car driven by Robert Paul Ruggles of Whitmore Lake, who had stopped for the stop sign on the east side of Pontiac Trail. There were no injuries.

Norman Dale McGarry, 23, was traveling on Brookville Rd. Jan. 17 when Maurice Alexander of Gotfredson Rd., backing out of a driveway at 3270 Brookville in a pickup, hit the side of the McGarry car. No injuries were sustained and both vehicles were able to be driven away.

State Taxes Discussed
Worden Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitlege of Eight Mile Rd. on Friday evening Jan. 9th. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president Charles Whitlege, because of the illness of Frank Geiger. Mrs. Geiger reported that Worden group was invited to have a combined meeting at the Town Hall by the Suburban and N.E.W. groups to be held on Feb. 12. It was voted to accept the invitation. Mrs. Geiger and Mrs. Bloom will serve on the food committee, while Mrs. Lutchka will help with the program.

Mr. Bloom led the discussion on Facts About Property Taxation in Michigan. Because agriculture has not the income to pay the taxes imposed and since we are an industrial state with real estate owners fewer than before, it was felt that taxes should be based on other resources rather than the real estate and personal property.

Members suggested the following means of adding revenue to the local governments: raise the sales tax, tax soft drinks, legalize gambling, including bingo, and tax it heavily if the property and real estate taxes are removed. Local governments should not leave taxing to the state. Money goes farther when it is collected and used locally and there is better control.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills Tourlette invited the group to their home for the March meeting. Mrs. Whitlege served the group a delicious sandwiches, coffee and cookies. Mr. Barsuhn was the visitor but from now on will be a member.

Social Notes
The Hobby Club met at the home of Mrs. Orville Sweetman with 13 attending. The lesson for the evening was making rose corsages. Ice cream, cake, cookies, tea and coffee was served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Garsden of Vorhies Rd. announce the birth of a son, Michael Roosevelt, born Friday, Jan. 16. The baby weighed 6 pounds, 15 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Hardesty and sons David and Ronald, formerly of Salem, were Sunday dinner guests at the Glenn Hardesty home on Seven Mile Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Alter attended their pinocle club at the Raymond Alter home at Flat Rock.

cancer. The story, through seven people, pinpoints the American Cancer Society message of the seven danger signs. The film shows many illustrations of orderly growth contrasted with illustrations of nature unruly and without order.

The office skit, an amusing portrayal of what actually goes on among those who volunteer their services to the organization, will be presented by some of the volunteer workers.

Mrs. Harry Bartel has arranged the program, Mrs. H. J. Brisbois will be in charge of refreshments, and Mrs. S.C. LeFever and Elizabeth McDonald will take care of registrations. Charles Wyse, president of the local branch, will preside at the meeting.

which Tonquish Creek runs. The city started to lay a sanitary sewer outlet across his newly-acquired property about two months ago to service Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac and two other buildings. Delaney asked to have the work stopped while he had his own engineers make a survey. He states that he expects to erect buildings to house several stores and wants the sewer at the proper grade.

He told commissioners that he wanted more time to complete the plan. Commissioners were interested in exactly how much more time is needed, but the attorney could only estimate that it will be another month or two.

Delaney said that any condemnation would be a "needless expenditure" and that he felt that the action was hasty. City Manager said that connecting the sewer is a health necessity, but Delaney answered that the buildings had septic tanks which worked.

Concluding the discussion, which became rather brisk at times, was a motion to delay any action until the next meeting when the attorney can give a definite date concerning his plans.

In other business, some consideration was given to changing city personnel rules so that they cover compensating part time employees who are injured. The rules now provide for regular compensation for 60 days for full-time firemen and policemen injured on duty. Glassford suggested that part-time firemen and policemen receive starting pay for 60 days. Commissioners felt that other employees, including perhaps those on Civil Defense duty, also be included. This action was also tabled until more study is given.

Eight bids were received for a front-end loader with the Jenkins Equipment Co., Dexter, a awarded the contract. Their bid of $4,892 (including trade-ins of other equipment) was not the lowest but was considered the best to meet the needs. Other bids ranged from $2,938 up to $11,675.

Exactly how much the city is paying for its State Supreme Court case involving the Sheldon Rd. assessment was asked by a citizen at the meeting. While the case is not expected to open for some time yet, Mayor Harold Guenther replied that a Detroit law firm has been hired at $25-an-hour.

(again a problem in semantics because they enjoy different titles) voice a common appraisal of their groups, and these youngsters would be gratified to find they are genuinely impressive because their directors to a man find them "unusually enthusiastic."

It takes unusual interest to get up on even the brightest Saturday morning to hustle off to rehearsal by nine a.m. (A kind work might also be added for that hardy crew of parents that squire the kids about at that bleak hour weekly.)

The rehearsals last three hours, punctuated by the adult ritual, only in this case on a less august scale, the "cookie" break. In Milford, the rehearsals are held twice weekly, alternating with the band rehearsals on the other three days of the week at the same hour.

director, said the Youth Symphony had been operating in varying degrees of continuity for about five years. Miss Norman teaches music in three Plymouth elementary schools besides playing in the Symphony and directing the Junior Symphony.

There will be about nine youngsters from this group in the concert. (One of the early products of this group, Chuck Ellis, has been playing cello with the adult group all this year.)

To Delay Civil Service Proposal

The plan of Lt. Paul Albright of the Plymouth Township Fire Department of having a Civil Service proposal go on the February ballot was quashed this week when the township attorney, Earl Demel handed down the decision to the board that regardless of the board's recommendation, 300 names were necessary on a petition to be filed 49 days prior to the election.

"The matter will be brought up by us in the future," said Lt. Albright, "however right now we have neither the time nor the money to handle it."

to be termed an epidemic. Hundreds of Plymouth residents received Salk polio vaccine at cost prices under a program led by the March of Dimes.

Almost half of the victims were 5 years old or younger who will need care for years to come. Thanks to the national scope of the March of Dimes, money is sent on request wherever epidemics break out. The Wayne County Chapter was able to extend aid to everyone who needed it and as much as was needed.

There are 50,000 polio victims still needing help. Fifty-five cents of every March of Dimes dollar was used in 1958 for polio patient aid.

To Women It May Concern

By Myra Cox, Social Editor

It's so nice to be in Plymouth! Kathy Lusk was ordered by her doctor to leave her post of Social Editor and remain home for a time and because she spoke so glowingly about her work she convinced me to carry on for her.

I come from the desk of the Associate Editor of The Observer covering Redford Township, a community with a vast number of people and problems. In fact, I have been teased (seriously) by our Publisher and Editor, Paul Chandler, that even his car acts up when he crosses the border to Redford to check on his "back 40."

Plymouth and their people are not entirely unfamiliar to me. My boss Jim Sponseller, and fellow workers at the Mail I know plus a few old friends. I remember coming down to the Plymouth High School with a long-legged lad by the name of Lawrence Moe from Elizabeth Street to dance to the strains of some-one-or-other whose name would only date me.

Dr. Ralph H. Pino from Plymouth Colony Farms was my former employer. The late Alverta Wenger and myself used to serve tea and conversation to some ambitious Plymouth ladies who came to the Farms to learn to weave. They did too. Miss Wenger went on to organize the Industrial First Aid Department at Daisy.

I particularly lament the fact that Dave and Audriene Gates are no longer living in Plymouth as I've known them for a long time and they both love Plymouth. No matter how nice their home in Arkansas is, I'm sure their hearts are here. When they returned for the Christmas holidays they were feted by many friends that miss them too, including their former neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gould of Ridgeview Drive, who had a dinner party honoring them.

Although the holidays are now just pleasant memories I think the thoughtfulness of one host and hostess in Plymouth should not go unmentioned. Due to the inclement weather underfoot on the last night of the year, many friends of the Richard Papes on Jener in Plymouth did not get to wish in the New Year with them at their traditional Open House.

Rather than give them a rain-check for next year, the Papes held their Open House the next day too. That's a long time to keep the shrimp plate filled, but a very warm gesture.

Freakish reports are still coming in on the hazards of that slippery night. My heart goes out to one of my friends from Plymouth Township attending a party in Redford.

He left the party momentarily without his top coat to move his car a few feet for a departing guest, got into a small ditch on the slanting circular drive, maneuvered out, slid down an adjacent 30 foot embankment onto another street, and into another small ditch. He managed to drive out only backwards and proceed backwards, since it was a hill, to the intersection where he landed in a very large, deep ditch from which there was no escape.

Getting out of his car to walk briskly back to the original party, now six blocks away, in the freezing weather, without his coat, he fell flat on his back and it was here the humor of the situation occurred to him and he lay there laughing out loud. It took strong persuasion on his part to convince the passing Redford Township police that he was not inebriated, merely hysterical, and the strongest refreshment he had all evening was a hot cup of slug. He did not go to jail or end up with pneumonia, however, only this reporter believes his tale, and he is still in plenty of trouble with his hostess and his spouse.

I am not sure but I think the moral to the story is anything can happen, as in this column... so be prepared.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The January Council meeting of the Huron Valley Council will be held Tuesday, Jan. 29 at 9:45 to 12 noon at the First Methodist Church in Ann Arbor. Evaluation of policies concerning training, organization, and finance which have been developed by functional committees will be discussed. Delegates from neighborhood No. 1 will be Mrs. Frank Allison, Mrs. Melvin Blunk and Mrs. John Lodge.

Girl Scouts and Brownies of both Plymouth neighborhoods will be able to attend eight weekly swimming sessions from January 31 to March 21 if they are beginners, or want to qualify for their swimming badge. The program must be self-supporting and a fee of $2.00 must be paid in advance to the girl's leader. The names of the girls interested and the money should be in the hands of the neighborhood Chairman as soon as possible. Beginners will swim from 1 to 2 p.m. and those interested in badge swimming from 2 to 3 p.m. on Saturday afternoon. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Harold Shirey, 605 Ann Arbor Road.

The Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross has offered to give several First Aid Courses specifically for Girl Scout Leaders of the Huron Valley Council in the spring. Leaders should contact neighborhood Chairmen by February 2 with the list of interested Scout adults so that a definite program may be set up.

BROWNIE NEWS

Brownie Troop No. 270 is grateful to Mrs. Francis Travis for her help and instructions in making Christmas corsages at their December 11th meeting. We also appreciate the help we received from committee members Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Steiner with this project.

The December 18 Christmas party included exchanging gifts, and playing games while the leaders, Mrs. Polly Ferguson and Mrs. Vi Roberts, assisted by mothers Mrs. Spigarelli, Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Authier, prepared the refreshments. The group then visited the Ford Rotunda, which was a happy climax to their party.

On Monday during Christmas week, the troop visited the Mary Margaret Rest Home, and sang Christmas Carols for the patients. They also presented each of the patients with a corsage that had been made by the troop members at a previous meeting.

Now that the holidays are over, the troop is beginning to settle down and give some thought to what must be done before they become active in the immediate Scouts this year.

Bird P.T.A. will Hold Science Fair

The Bird P.T.A. will sponsor a Science Fair Tuesday, Jan. 27. The upper grades will be performing experiments for the parents to observe. The classrooms will be open for the parents to see how science is taught from kindergarten through the sixth grade. A short business meeting will be held in the multi-purpose room at 7:45 with an explanation of the Fair. Parents attending will be amazed at the vast amount of knowledge that is exposed for elementary grade learning.

Who's New in Plymouth

THE LOST ART OF READING does not apply to Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Back, for this is their hobby. One they are encouraging in their five year old son Christopher, too.

To further inspire their hobby the Backs have invested in a unique library, "The Great Books of the Western World." As Mr. Back said, "We have the dictionary for words, the encyclopedia for facts, and this set for ideas." There are 102 ideas expounded upon covering every subject from 'Angel to World,' and is at least a 10 year reading program. Chess and travel are also interests of the Backs, who are enjoying the spaciousness of the new home at 14628 Robinwood Drive they moved into in December. They previously lived in an apartment in Detroit for three years, coming from Akron, Ohio where the firm Mr. Back represents is located.

Air travel is their choice, having both been employed by airlines, and in this manner they have visited through the United States, including Mexico and California.

Clarice Back's mother, Mrs. Virginia Mitchell, also makes her home with them and then there is one more member of the family, a dachshund puppy named Weiner.

3-Cities Art Group Elect New President

The Three Cities Art group met at the home of Betty Staeth, Northville. The following list of officers were elected for the coming year: President, Marjorie Becker; Vice President, Jessie Hudson; Recording Secretary, Lindeen Smedeke; Corresponding Secretary, Jack Simontum; Treasurer, Mable Bacon.

Jack Van Heron, teacher at Northville High, will have a one man show at the Plymouth Symphony Concert on January 25. Jack has exhibited at the Artists Market, Gallery for Michigan Water Color Show, and has won awards in Indiana. He is also a potter and does silver work.

Plans are scheduled for the annual outdoor exhibit, Plymouth Symphony, the Plymouth Drama Club, and the Plymouth and Northville Library exhibits.

Legion's Annual Essay, Poster Contests Open

The American Legion Auxiliary is again sponsoring its annual Essay Contest, open to the Plymouth students. The rules were taken to the Junior High school principal last week.

"Faith in America, God and Country" is the title for the contest. Entries are to be written in 500 words or less. Awards for Senior and Junior divisions are as follows: Local awards $10 first, $2 second; District Award, $5 in each group; Department Award, first, $50; second, $25; third, $15; and National Awards to be announced later.

All Essays must be in the principal's office by March 16. Any student wishing more information may contact Mrs. Hayskar, at the Junior High School, it was announced by Dorothy Knapp, Americanism chairman.

Students from Plymouth Junior High, Our Lady of Good Counsel and all elementary schools will participate in the Poppy Poster Contest. Poppy Days for 1959 will be May 21, 22 and 23.

According to Dorothy Koi, Poppy chairman, the contest will consist of three classes. First Class will consist of students in fourth, fifth and sixth grades inclusive; Second Class, students in seventh, eighth and ninth grades inclusive; Third Class, students in tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades inclusive. Awards to be announced later.

Buying A House . . . 26 Ways To Find Right One

Buying a good house is an art and you get better at it with practice. Unfortunately, say the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, most families don't buy a house in a lifetime to get out of the amateur class. In their January issue, the editors have listed 26 tips on the fine points of the art. You may find a hint that will spare you a costly duffer's mistake.

1. Get a lonely look. Arrange for a private look at the house, with ample time to peer, poke and ponder, without conversing distractedly with the owner or agent.
2. Buy up, not sideways. Don't limit your looking to houses that other people just like you are buying. Give serious thought to houses being bought by people you would like to be like. It may put you ahead of shifting tastes in houses.
3. Forget about basements. Below-ground-level space above ground is more usable, versatile, more liveable and may well be cheaper.
4. Insist on lots of storage. Ask where you would store all the paraphernalia that every family inevitably accumulates.
5. Don't snub dry wall. Those walls of composition board are as serviceable as plaster, quicker to install and much cheaper.

6. Discount giveaways. Draperies and wall-to-wall carpeting "thrown in" at the last minute to encourage you to buy shouldn't sway you. You may tire of them.
7. Consider prefabs. Judge prefabs just the way you consider conventional houses.
8. Suspect low taxes. Look for good public services. Be willing to pay for them.
9. Don't compare tax rates. Compare tax bills, not tax rates.
10. Buy privacy, not acreage. A big lot does not necessarily guarantee the privacy most people want. It can be a burden and an expense.

11. Get more space per dollar. See what you pay for every square foot of usable interior. You stand to get most in a two-story house or a one-story basementless house.
12. Don't buy scared. People make bad buys through excessive caution. Be sensible, but have confidence in your ability to improve your future.
13. Shy away from crazy quilts. Lean toward restraint. Look for houses that appear to be all one piece, not a jumble of parts.
14. Avoid flashy eye-catchers. Cuteness or bizarre design may make the house hard to sell.

15. House should fit the lot. Butchering the natural grade of the land is expensive, and causes problems later.
16. Figure on air conditioning. Look for houses that can be air-conditioned easily.
17. Don't skimp in the kitchen. It should be well-equipped, pleasant and conveniently arranged.
18. Don't guess remodeling costs. They usually run higher than you anticipate.
19. Save cash for closing. Get a line on closing costs before buying—they can total up to 10 per cent of the purchase price.

20. Rate sewers over septic tanks. If you have to have a septic tank, make certain it follows standards recommended by the local health department.
21. Get a prepayable mortgage. In many mortgages, there are heavy cash penalties for making payments ahead of schedule.
22. Steer clear of derelicts. If you are tempted to buy a run-down property and fix it up, go slow. Remodeling is tricky and full of pitfalls that have trapped experts.
23. Check for moisture damage. Stains on plaster, rot in sills, raised grain on woodwork, and seepage in basements can tip you off to serious condensation problem or weather leaks.

24. Look at windows and doors. In a new house, windows and doors that fit poorly are signs of sloppy construction. In an old house, they may signify poor construction, settling or both.
25. Shop for mortgage money. You may find a longer loan, a larger one, or lower interest.
26. Count the cost of owning. Add 1 per cent of the selling price for annual upkeep if the house is new, 2 per cent if it is old. The cost of buying plus the cost of owning determines what you can afford.

Do-It-Yourself Salt Box, Week-End Project

MAY BE ASSEMBLED over a weekend and so attractive for your new home or to add life to a room in your redecorating of an old (without a mortgage) home. The above Salt Box, with tile front, may be used as a planter or just a did-it-myself conversation piece.

AF ART COURSE
COLORADO Springs, Colo. (UPI)—A fine arts course includes painting, sculpture, music and architecture from the early Greeks to the present day is on the curriculum of the U.S. Air Force Academy. More than 40 cadets are taking the course—a combination of art appreciation

Salt boxes have come back into style for kitchen walls. Whether antique or modern, they may be used to hold salt, or, in kitchen or recreation room, as plant containers.
The salt box (illustrated) takes but a few evenings to cut out, assemble and finish. Furthermore, it is inexpensive, since the stock used is pine, which came from apple crates. In salvaging a crate for this project, select pieces of pine without stampings which would mar the finish.
A hand scroll saw can be used to cut out the pieces of the salt box, since the pine is 1/2 inch thick. Power tools, if available, will speed this chore.
To make the curve cuts on the back and two sides of the salt box, lay out the top of the pieces in 1-inch squares. Then copy the curves onto each piece, following the diagram and making dots on the horizontal and vertical lines and connecting them.
Since the decorative tile must be countersunk on the front piece of the box, hold the tile in the center of this piece and draw a line around it. The outline will be a guide to mortise out the wood with a hammer and chisel. The mortise should be about 1/4 inch deep. Do not put the tile in place until the salt box is assembled and finished.
To assemble the salt box, use a strong wood glue and 1-inch finishing nails. But, sand all pieces first. An attractive finish is a coat of clear shellac or orange stain followed by a coat of clear shellac.
If the salt box is to be used to hold salt or any small items, a cover is desirable.
The final step in assembling is attaching the decorative tile. Strong resin glue will hold it in place.
Bill of Materials: Back, 10 x 6 1/4 x 1/2 inches; Two sides, 7 x 5 1/4 x 1/2 inches; Front, 5 1/4 x 6 1/4 x 1/2 inches; Cover, 5 1/4 x 5 1/4 x 1/2 inch; Bottom, 5 1/4 x 5 1/4 x 1/2 inch; Decorative tile, 4 x 4 1/4 x 1/4 (standard).

Book of the Month 1959 Seed Catalog

This week's mails start bringing 1959's seed catalogues. A few evenings by the fire turning their pages set gardeners everywhere to dreaming of the wonderful flower displays and fine crops they'll be planting and gathering this year. But a few evenings of dreaming are about all any gardener can stand before he itches to be up and doing.
There isn't much that most gardeners in most parts of the country can do in January except to order seeds for spring planting and get tools ready for another year's work. The tool project alone can keep anyone busy as many evenings as he wishes until it's time to plant outdoors.
The first step is to look over during daylight some weekend soon the tools that were used during the past year. If they were put away hastily one autumn afternoon, it's high time to clean them off, hang them up or place them where they'll come to no harm until it's time to use them again. Scrape off dried mud with a thin, tapered piece of wood and oil all metal parts as protection against rust.
Any tools that need repair should be put to one side and brought indoors for attention on an otherwise empty evening. Metal parts that have become loose may need only a screw to make them usable a good many more seasons. Rake, hoe or cultivator with a broken or split handle need not be thrown away. New handles can be attached firmly to make the tool as good as new. Furthermore, handles can be purchased in different lengths so select the one that will be most convenient for the height of the gardener. A wooden handle that has a splinter or two should be placed down now to prevent accidents during spring or summer.
The sprayer may need a new washer. Put it in now to save time later on when there's so much gardening to do outdoors. The wooden rake may need some new teeth. These can be purchased by the dozen or whittled from pieces of scrap wood, and fitted into place. Wooden stakes may need to be shortened by cutting off portions that have rotted underground, and then pointed.
The gardener handyman who would rather make new equipment than repair the old will be able to think of several useful projects. Any gardener who starts seeing early indoors or in a cold-frame or greenhouse needs flats—shallow, rectangular wooden boxes. These flats also are useful for totting plants from one part of the property to another.
Flats can be purchased knocked down to be assembled or the wood can be cut. Any good 3/4 inch lumber is good for ends, 1/2 inch lumber for sides and bottom of flats. Allow a 1/8 inch crack between boards when making the bottom of the flat to permit expansion when wet.

Today's Home

A light in the window is warm and friendly—but please, not centered on a spindly legged table placed squarely in the middle of a picture window.
Interior decorators fear that the ruffled lamp shade, centered in a picture window, may become a national symbol. Three—Ruth Maurer, president of the American Institute of Decorators, and ADI members John Quinn and Claude d'Aray—insist there are other and better ways to show off a picture window to its best advantage, and offered a few suggestions:
If you haven't window draperies, get them. Cafe curtains are attractive, and assure privacy without claustrophobia, and are comparatively inexpensive.
If the full-dress treatment is preferred, use sheer undercurtains which can be drawn to give the illusion of privacy, and heavier overcurtains.
Planting troughs can be placed on the sill or, if the greens are high enough to be seen from the outside, on the floor below.
Locate the lamp to one side, aimed at the plants, or on the cornice so that the light can shine on the curtains as well as the plants below. Or use two pole lamps, one on either side of the window.
A low bench, no higher than the window sill, is another effective treatment for a picture window. It provides extra seats for parties, or can be used as a table for knickknacks which can be enjoyed from the outside as well as inside.
Picture windows were designed to permit the enjoyment of a view, these decorators said, and if you're not lucky enough to have a pretty view outside you must provide it inside.

Do-It-Yourself Painter Hints

Don't Over-Do It
It's all very well to mix colors in decorating your room. However, most experts agree that three colors are enough. Choose colors for walls and floor coverings first, because these are the biggest areas of color. Light painted walls always contrast well with dark floor coverings. Your third color can be bright for accent, and sparingly used. Off white walls and stark white ceiling might have a room with dark-stained polished floors, and two or three warm-hued Oriental rugs. The rose and turquoise showing in the rugs could inspire the use of these colors in hangings and upholstery.
Rules For Winter Painting
Never paint outside when air temperature is below 5 degrees F. Allow 48 hours drying time between a in 1 coats. Weather conditions influence time required for each coat of paint to properly dry. Do not paint siding if it is damp from frost, dew or water. Wait until siding has dried to not over 16 percent moisture content before applying first coat.
Hint To Amateur
Although an accepted fact among experienced painters, the beginner does not necessarily realize that varnish can be used over paint without hiding the color. Aside from adding beauty the best use for varnish is as a surface protector, brushed on to floors, woodwork and furniture.
Keep Moisture Out
Have you gone over your windows recently to see whether they need the panes reputted? Loose window panes can let in lots of moisture in the winter, and moisture in your house will cause paint to peel, plaster to crack and a series of other household ailments will result.

Good News For Wood Lovers

Here's good news for homeowners who want to install wood paneling in living room or elsewhere about the home.
Considerable savings can be made by asking your retailer lumber dealer for a tongue and groove panel board which is 5/8 by 6 inches and made in either Douglas fir or west coast hemlock.
This lower cost panel board comes in a simple V pattern with a one-eighth inch V joint, and its low cost is derived from the thinner board. This type of paneling has wonderful texture and grain and makes an extremely beautiful wall. While fire and hemlock take paints and stains very readily, the real beauty finish for either of these fine woods is in the natural.
The boards should be rubbed down smooth with sandpaper before installing on the wall. Then a sealer coat may be added. When dry, it should be sanded smooth. Then one or more coats of clear lacquer, varnish or plastic should be added. The results will please any lover of good wood paneling. Fir has a tawny, golden color, sometimes with a slight reddish tinge, when finished naturally. Hemlock takes on more of a champagne tone. Both make rich walls.

Key to Ignition Problem
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—John Vercille, 33, of Syracuse, was unable to start his car on the day of the season's first snowstorm. Someone had stolen the battery.

SHELLAC NEW KNOTS
Knots in new wood should be shellacked with a mixture of 50 percent fresh shellac and alcohol before a prime coat of paint is applied.

FOOD . . . (do you know?) . . . Fact or Fallacy

We are all sometimes fooled by food fallacies. We hear things passed as facts so long we don't question the truth of it. False information about food can waste your money—and may affect your health. In fact, it's downright expensive.

Poor buying and eating habits can be developed through the word-of-mouth fallacies which are passed from one generation to another, as well as through clever use of words and distorted phrases in many printed releases.

It is a bit difficult right in the middle of a generation to discover that spinach does not make iron muscles and carrots do not curl the hair—so to avoid these pitfalls and a few others—here are some facts.

FALLACY: "Specials" or "features" or "leaders" advertised in the markets are foods of inferior quality which the store has had on hand.

FACT: "Specials" may be foods of a quality equal to that of the usual merchandise or the same food found in competitive markets.

FALLACY: Beet sugar is not as good a product as cane sugar.

FACT: Beet and cane sugars are chemically the same. They may be used with equally successful results for all purposes. Any differences in color, odor or size of crystals is due to the refining processes used.

FALLACY: Everyone needs vitamin concentrates.

FACT: Scientists' best sources of vitamins and that vitamin preparations in the form of concentrates are not necessary for the average person if the diet is adequate.

FALLACY: De-starched potatoes are non-fattening.

FACT: There is no such thing as a fattening or non-fattening food. All foods contribute calories or energy value in varying amounts.

FALLACY: The "squeeze test" is the best indication of freshness of bread.

FACT: The old "squeeze test" no longer measures softness or freshness of bread. Some types of bread are naturally compact and are not soft when baked—others remain soft for days because softeners are added to the ingredients.

FALLACY: The best place to store bread is in the refrigerator.

FACT: The best way to keep bread for long storage is in the freezer. Bread stales rapidly in the refrigerator. At room temperature, it keeps well for several days.

FALLACY: Special low-calorie bread should be used in reducing diets.

FACT: The basic ingredients of bread cannot be varied to any great extent if a palatable product is made. The only difference in low-calorie bread is that the average slice of white bread is about 1/2 inch thick, while an average slice of most low-calorie breads is less than 1/2 inch thick. Therefore the thinner slice contains fewer calories.

FALLACY: White rice, macaroni and spaghetti are used in the place of potatoes because they have the same nutritive value.

FACT: White rice, macaroni, spaghetti and potatoes furnish starch. However, potatoes contribute higher quantities of calcium, iron and the B-vitamins than rice, macaroni and spaghetti. Vitamin C is present in potatoes but not in the other three foods.

FALLACY: Nationally advertised brands of canned and frozen foods are lower in cost and superior in quality than private label brands used by some retailers.

FACT: Private label brands are usually lower priced, and in some cases are equal to, or even superior to the quality of nationally advertised brands. It will depend upon the individual product, the processor and the retailer. In many cases, the private brand and the national brand come from the same packer—processed according to the distributor's specifications and sold under separate labels.

FALLACY: It is not safe to store food in opened cans in the refrigerator.

FACT: It is just as safe to keep food in opened cans in the refrigerator as it is to empty food into another container. Often other containers carry more bacteria from the air than the cans themselves.

FALLACY: By using the "feel" test to determine if a package of frozen food is still hard, you will know if the freezer is cold enough.

FACT: The "feel" test is misleading for checking a package of frozen food. Frozen foods should be stored at zero degrees Fahrenheit or below. A package of frozen food stored at 10-20 degrees F. (above zero) will feel hard, but the quality of the product goes down rapidly at these temperatures.

FALLACY: Allowing the temperature to go up to 25 degrees for a day or less does little damage to frozen foods.

FACT: Letting the temperature of a package of frozen food get up to 25 degrees above zero just one day does more damage than holding a package more than a year at zero or colder. Once damage is caused by a rise in temperature, it can never be corrected.

FALLACY: You can always cut down on your food bill with a home freezer.

FACT: The big advantage of a home freezer is convenience. Freezers make it easy to keep a good supply of food on hand. Few people really cut their food budget with a freezer except those who freeze foods they produce themselves.

FALLACY: You should omit milk from a reducing diet.

FACT: Milk's high food values make it essential in a reducing diet where the total food eaten must be reduced. Milk gives more food value for the calories involved than any other one food. If the diet must be very low in calories buttermilk or skim milk may be used.

FALLACY: Homogenized milk is richer in fat than un-homogenized milk.

FACT: The fat content is not changed when milk is homogenized. Homogenization divides the fat into fine particles which remain evenly distributed throughout the milk. This gives the impression of "richer milk".

FALLACY: Milk was not meant to be a food for adults.

FACT: The same nutrients which make milk an excellent food for children are also needed by adults, though they may not be needed in such large quantities. Milk is an especially valuable food for older persons, since it is high in protein, minerals, and vitamins.

FALLACY: Milk has lost much of its nutritive value as a result of pasteurization.

FACT: Pasteurization does not materially change the food value of milk. The low heat pasteurizing treatment does make milk safe to drink or use.

FALLACY: Butter has more calories than margarine.

FACT: Margarine and butter have the same caloric value. Vegetable oil from which margarine is made has the same caloric content as animal fat.

Pilau, an Exotic Dessert For Coffee Lovers

There's something exotic about the very word "pilau," Turkish, Persian or Indian (and it may be any of the three), a pilau is a concoction of rice, spice and a varying number of other ingredients that range from meat and fish to fruit and nuts.

Main dish or dessert, pilau is eaten more than a thousand savory ways. To suit the Indian taste, it must have a generous sprinkling of curry. In true Turkish style, it's more often mild and sweet.

And what about this new variation on the theme, Coffee Raisin Pilau? No oriental mystery here, except that you wonder how such a simple recipe can add up to such a surprisingly delicious dessert. Not only is it downright good to eat: You can make it quickly and easily, and the finished product is lovely to look at, too. In our book, that's practically perfect.

Speaking of perfection, you'll want a fragrant potful of hot coffee to serve along with the coffee-flavored pilau. We'll admit that crisp winter weather has a way of putting an edge on family appetites, but this combination is certain to become an all-time favorite whatever the season.

COFFEE RAISIN PILAU
1 small package (4 1/2 oz.) pre-cooked rice
Regular strength coffee brew
1/2 cup golden seedless raisins
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Prepare pre-cooked rice according to package directions, using coffee instead of water. Stir in remaining ingredients except cream. Mix well and cool. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon into sherbet glasses. Makes 6 servings.

FROM A SIMPLE RECIPE, an exotic dessert, Coffee Raisin Pilau. Your confection will disappear like magic, especially when you serve it with fragrant hot coffee.

Humidity In Home Essential To Home, Furniture, Health

There isn't much people can do about weather except complain and bear it. Something can be done about humidity, which is the moisture in the air.

In summer when humidity becomes excessive over much of the country, air conditioners lower humidity indoors to a bearable amount. In winter, central heating changes the air to the other extreme. The air in many houses is so dry that it isn't healthy for humans or plants and may even damage the house or its furnishings.

Closest doors open and close freely, and bureau drawers slide in and out without trouble during winter while heat is turned on. That's because wood is no longer swollen from the humid, damp air of summer and fall. This lack of humid air also may cause joints to loosen and cracks to appear in the flat wooden surfaces of tables, chests or sideboards—and this can be as much of a disadvantage as the freely opening doors and drawers are advantageous.

Excessively dry air, if it continues for several months, may cause cracks in plaster. But, most of all, some means of humidifying air is essential in a room with wood-paneled walls. When winter comes and heat is turned on, these wooden panels can be heard creaking and cracking as they dry out in the constantly hot room. Actual cracks or splitting is inevitable, plus an expensive repair bill.

Metal pans to hold water and fastened onto the backs of radiators are an excellent way to add moisture to the air. Modern trends in heating with ducts or registers sunk in the floor call for other means.

Plants are one of the simplest ways of adding humidity to a room. Few of them, except cacti and succulents, thrive in a hot room with dry air. Groupings of plants make it possible to conceal containers of water among them. The frequency with which these containers must be refilled is proof of how fast the water evaporates into the air.

Cabinet-style humidifiers can be purchased for any room in which it is essential that dry air be corrected. They aren't large and they do provide a satisfactory corrective. In some cases, however, their humming sound that resembles a fan must be considered.

Drawing With Needle and Thread

Needlecraft pictures are permanent, decorative record of a woman's skill. It's interesting work for those who enjoy sewing and, unlike dressmaking which often must be finished against a deadline, needlecraft pictures are pick-up occupation for leisure moments.

To be decorative and worthwhile, these pictures need not be of such fine stitching or complicated patterns that a person almost blinds herself. The design can be worked with yarn, thread, embroidery floss and on canvas, cotton, linen, sateen or silk. The choice of materials dictates how fine or coarse the sewing must be.

Needlecraft pictures can follow a style that is nostalgic enough to call for a Victorian-type oval frame, or so contemporary in color and design that only mounting or a heavy modern frame is appropriate. Because styles are so different, consider where the finished picture will be hung. Then start looking for a design and select materials and colors.

The woman who not only likes to sew but who is a frustrated artist may want to draw her own picture, cut paper patterns and transfer the design to the background material. Before attempting an "original" of this sort, however, it might be better to experiment with one or more of the several ready-to-work types that can be purchased.

Needlepoint, worked with yarn on canvas, or petit point, worked with silk on extremely fine-meshed canvas, is a staple for pictures. Many, many patterns can be purchased; some have the design already worked, others have the design stamped in colors on the canvas so that the entire picture is the result of one person's sewing.

Applique is another traditional means for making a picture. Again appliques can be purchased or an original design can be made. A picture of appliques can be sewn by hand or by machine. Only last year, directions for machine applique pictures were released by one of the nationally known picture companies. Applique pictures, whether done of felt, cotton or linen are rather informal and probably most appropriate for a bedroom or kitchen.

Most versatile of all are embroidered pictures, worked with cotton or silk embroidery floss on a canvas, cotton or linen background material. The simple cross-stitch is the basic one for embroidered pictures and is most used for filling in the important masses. Two or three others of the simple embroidery stitches may also be needed.

For information on where the pattern pictured may be obtained contact GL 3-5500, Homemaking Department.

NEEDLE AND THREAD instead of paint and brush are materials from which a pastoral scene was worked to be framed and hung on the wall.

a modern grandmother speaks...

"I dreaded the thoughts of washday until we got a new Gas Dryer"

Mrs. Steve Markos
2813 Jefferson
Bay City, Mich.

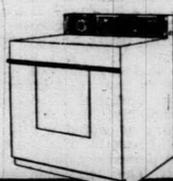

"With my Gas Dryer I can just sit back and relax on washday. Hanging up and taking down clothes used to take up so much time. It's so convenient now to dry clothes quickly, regardless of the weather. I really love my Gas Dryer and would never want to go through washdays again without it."

Modern grandmothers like Mrs. Markos find after years of old-fashioned washdays that an Automatic Gas Dryer is a real time and work saver. With the simple turn of a dial you can change a load of wet wash into a stack of fluffy, perfectly dried clothes. Yes, washday convenience begins when a wonderful Gas Dryer comes into your home.

St. John's Episcopal Holds Annual Parish Meeting

Despite the fact that the area was fog-bound and the roads slippery last Wednesday evening, January 14th, a representative group of the parishioners of St. John's Episcopal Church, assembled for their Annual Parish Meeting in the Church Hall. The meeting was preceded by a potluck supper.

Immediately after the supper, a color sound film of The Lambeth Conference which was held the past summer at Lambeth Palace, London, England, the residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury and the titular head of the Church of England. The film was shown by Fred McKernan of Northville and it showed the 350 Anglican Bishops from all parts of the world who had come together at the invitation of the Archbishop of Canterbury to consider together some of the great problems confronting the Church and the peoples of the world.

The Conference opened with a great Service of Worship in Canterbury Cathedral which is the Mother Church of the Anglican Communion and the film opens with pictures of the Bishops dressed in their Convocational Robes entering the great Cathedral. Some of the issues that were dealt with by the Conference were presented by the Bishop of Ceylon, the Bishop of Bombay, South Africa and the problems confronting the Family in Modern Society was presented by an American Bishop, the Right Reverend Stephen F. Bayne, D.D., Bishop of Olympia, Washington. The Conference concluded, as it had started, with another great service of worship, this time in historic Westminster Abbey, London.

This film provided an appropriate background for the Annual Meeting which was called to order by the Rector of the Parish, the Rev. David T. Davies at 8 p.m. He was supported at the head table by the wardens of the parish, Edwin C. Meredith and Ernest W. Ebert Jr., together with the secretary of the vestry, Robert C. Utter. The Rector gave a report of his ministrations during the past year and it was evident that it had been a very busy year for the Rector and a happy and fruitful one. One of the important functions of the Parish Meeting is to elect three vestrymen to serve for a period of three years. A slate of five names was presented by William Davidson, chairman of the nominating committee, and the Rector asked if there were any other nominations from the floor. When the ballots were counted it was reported that Quincy Wonn, Charles Dudley and Chester Teasel had been elected. Their election was made unanimous by the vestry.

After all the reports of the various officers and organizations were presented and adopted, a vote of thanks was extended to all those who had had a part in making the reports possible.

Before adjourning Frank Henderson, one of the lay readers of the parish, presented a bouquet of gratitude to the Rector for his faithfulness and devotion as the minister of St. John's Church. The entire assembly arose and responded with applause to Mr. Henderson's remarks.

Mr. William S. Mackey, Committeeman, extends an open invitation to all boys, age eight to eleven years old, who are interested in joining Cub Scout Pack 76, to attend this special meeting. Their parents are most welcome.

The program for the meeting will be under the direction of Den No. 1, with the refreshments being served by Den No. 3 of Gallimore School.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

Tonight, Thursday, Jan. 22, Auxiliary Business Meeting, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center. As January is National Security and Legislative month, Gertrude Simonetti, Chairman will have a quiz on Legislative, articles were put in our "Colonist" and hope members have read them will help you on this quiz. The proceeds of our Birthday Apron will be announced at this meeting also and another will be started at this meeting. Discussion on initiation of new members will be held therefore, let's have a good attendance.

The American Legion, in its annual "For God and Country," television program on Sunday, Feb. 1 (NBC, 2:00-2:30 P.M., EST) will present "The Final Phase," the story of an American who forsakes his country and surrenders himself to the indoctrination program of an alien "people's government." It is the modern tragedy of the man without a country. As he struggles to discipline himself to the philosophy of an alien system, he is forced by his pain and loneliness to come face to face with a new meaning for the purpose of life. In so doing he discovers a deeper truth and significance to the American way.

Presented in collaboration with the National Broadcasting Company, the script is the work of noted writer Bruce Bassett. The show will be personally directed by Bassett. The television program will be seen at 2:00-2:30 p.m. EST and will be heard later in the day (Sunday) over CBS, ABC, NBC and Mutual Radio Networks.

REMINDER: GET THOSE BOWLING ENTRIES IN!

This is just a gentle reminder that the deadline date for submitting entry blanks and fees for the 23rd Annual American Legion State Bowling Tournament is Sunday, Jan. 25th. The tournament will be held at the Capitol Bowl in Owosso on the week-ends beginning February 21 and ending March 22. Housing reservation requests should be made directly with the Owosso Hotel. Contact Bruce Miller, GL 3-4481, 1115 S. Main Street, for entry blanks and any information that may be needed, deadline, Saturday, Jan. 24th.

Mrs. Hugh (Evelyn) Gardner was called to Cass City due to the illness of her father, however, she is now at home and her father is doing much better. We wish him speedy recovery.

SMALL CONGREGATION HUDSON, Mass. (UPI)

The Union Church for All Faiths has been enlarged. Originally it measured 5 by 8 feet. Now it is 5 by 11 feet.

The Rev. Louis W. West, the Baptist minister who built it himself, says the church now seats four instead of two parishioners.

Protect Yourself Against Frostbite, Doctor Warns

Near zero temperatures make it necessary for you to protect yourself and children against the weather and remember that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure". Dr. Joseph G. Molner, City-County Health Commissioner, advises:

Try to stay out of the wind and keep moving when you must be out of doors. Wear plenty of warm clothing that is not too tight. Young babies should receive particular consideration because they cannot talk or protect themselves.

Anyone not accustomed to these near zero temperatures should not remain out of doors too long. The length of time varies according to activity, amount of protection from the weather and the kind and amount of clothing worn. Never go out alone to ski, skate or indulge in any other winter sport. Accidents can happen, even to the most experienced athlete. Be sure someone knows where you are and when you expect to return.

Dr. Molner suggests you give particular thought to protecting your ears, fingers and toes as these are the parts most likely to be frostbitten. Earmuffs, warm caps with ear flaps or scarves tied over other head gear will help protect your ears. Mittens are warmer than gloves for they permit fingers to keep each other warm and they permit greater motion. Two pair of mittens, a woolen pair under leather ones, is ideal. Wear two pair of socks under shoes and galoshes if you must remain outdoors for long. Keep stockings, gloves and other clothing dry or change them if they get wet.

When frostbite occurs that part of the body is frozen. It has a dead whiteness and coldness and a feeling of numbness. Dr. Molner says frozen parts must be handled very gently. Avoid rubbing or any friction as this may bruise or otherwise injure the tissue. Avoid adding more cold, such as snow or cold water.

The victim should be brought into a warm room and given a hot drink—cocoa, coffee or tea. Warm the frostbitten part as rapidly as possible by applying warmth—about body temperature, but to avoid further damage, do not expose to heat such as radiator or hot water.

Frozen fingers may be thawed by placing them next to the skin in the arm pit. Frozen ears may be thawed by having warm hands held over them.

After extended exposure to severe cold, there may be general numbness, drowsiness and failure of eyesight and breathing failure. Begin artificial respiration at once if breathing has stopped. The victim should be rewarmed as quickly as possible by being wrapped in warm blankets or put in a tub of warm—not hot—water. When he regains consciousness, give him warm drinks. Call a doctor.

Cheese grates more easily chilled first.

Americans Have Phones But Don't Talk Most

Americans have more than half of the telephones in the world. But they're being out-talked by people in several other spots on the globe.

The 1958 edition of "The World's Telephones," released by American Telephone and Telegraph Company, shows the United States averaged 460 conversations per person last year—trailing the Canadian average of 497 and the Swedish conversation rate of 491.

The statistics indicate it's the inhabitants of the colder climates that make the most use of their phones. Geographically, the most talka-tive telephone area in 1957 was Alaska with an average of 581 conversations per person. Iceland also ranked high, averaging 52 per person.

An exception was Hawaii. The island territory reported 522 conversations per person. The world in general—including savages who never even heard of a telephone—averaged 56 telephone conversations per person. This compares with 51 for the preceding year.

The telephone survey records a total of 117,800,000 telephones in service in the world on January 1, a gain of close to 8,000,000 over the previous year.

The United States, with 63,621,000 telephones, led the list of countries having the largest systems. Second was the United Kingdom with 7,354,000. Canada reported 4,816,118; the German Federal Republic (West Germany) 4,731,945; Japan 3,558,000.

The new edition of "The World's Telephones" was based on statistics gathered during the past year from 3,886,327; and the U. S. S. R. some 200 countries.

All the figures relate to the beginning of 1958.

Editorial

Michigan Finds Way To Stop Auto Death

We've always regarded traffic safety as one of those important, but harmless, subjects which editorial writers harken upon on days when they want to stay out of controversy.

There are some figures and conclusions by the Auto Club today which bear special mention, however. The point of them is that the State of Michigan has made substantial gains in traffic safety with calm, sound methods.

Expressways — just plain engineering — have saved far more lives in Michigan than "fright" posters, speed "traps" and so on have done elsewhere.

The one great, lingering problem, heavy upon the minds of everyone from the top down, is what to do about the "drinking" driver, as contrasted with the "drunk" driver. The latter has the book thrown at him, but the former is present on the road in great numbers and it's not easy to know how to handle someone drinking but not "intoxicated." But another day for that subject.

"Michigan has proven that you don't have to run scare campaigns to improve traffic safety," says Frank J. Howlett, Automobile Club of Michigan president, in congratulating safety leaders throughout the state on the 1958 record.

"We have become the traffic safety showplace of the nation by reducing fatalities and accidents so sharply for the third straight year," he said. "In addition to the lives saved, last year's reduction means a savings of an estimated $20 million in traffic accident costs."

Howlett said that other states would be wise to follow Michigan's lead in fashioning workable safety programs.

"Our leaders are not trying to scare drivers off the highway with a lot of frightening statistics or bogeyman literature," he stated. "Contrary to many states, they have rejected such negative safety measures as fleets of unmarked police cars, ticket writing orgies, mass reduction of speed limits and compulsory motor vehicle inspection. They have wisely favored positive action based on the cooperative effort of many agencies."

The Auto Club official said continued improvement in the state traffic picture stems from sound ideas built around four basic factors — engineering, education, enforcement and enthusiasm.

He listed as major reasons for Michigan's record: Development of express highways in the state, which carry through traffic around cities, an expanded state police force, the recent driver education law and improvement of motor vehicles.

"However the most important factor of all is undoubtedly the voluntary spirit of cooperation shown by various agencies, as well as by the vast majority of drivers and pedestrians, in working toward safer streets and highways in Michigan," he added. "Newspapers, radio and television in the state have done a wonderful job of instilling this spirit in our drivers."

While final figures are not completed, early 1958 estimates show the state with a 10.5 per cent reduction in traffic fatalities, a seven per cent drop in injuries and a decrease of more than 11 per cent or 20,000 in total accidents from last year. Since 1955, the annual total has dropped approximately 640 deaths, 6,000 for injuries and 26,000 for total accidents!

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

Back in the 1930's I lived in the midwest near Abilene, Kansas, and can recall seeing Dwight Eisenhower — who was then an Army major in his 40's — strolling the streets with his wife. Ike and Mamie often came to Abilene to visit Ike's mother, and the chief reason they drew an occasional second glance was that you didn't see many uniforms in those days.

Ike is a splendid example of the "life begins at forty philosophy" because it wasn't until he was well into middle age that his special talents began to emerge. He was fortunate in getting an appointment to West Point, and at 25 graduated 61st in his class. Because he was older than most of the graduates, he feared this would retard his advancement. His fear was well-founded for, although he became a major at 30, he remained a major for the next 16 years. Small wonder that he frequently talked of leaving the service and finding a job with a brighter future.

Miss Addie Over, a frail, white-haired spinster who was Ike's sixth grade teacher, can recall nothing unusual about Ike. "He was just a normal, average boy — no different from the others," she told me when I visited her sometime ago. "Every one asks if there was anything that made him stand out from his brothers or the rest of the students — anything to indicate genius or brilliance. But I can't honestly say there was. I figured he'd go into business or take up farming like most of my students."

As many writers have noted, Ike was 45 and still a major when he confided to a friend that his chief ambition in life was to make the rank of colonel by the time he retired.

Shortly thereafter his star began to rise. Following a stint in the Philippines he drew several assignments which brought his potentialities to the attention of Gen. George Marshall. This led to his assignment as Allied Commander in Europe during World War II, and ultimately to the Presidency.

6 States Are Fighting To 'Save' Great Lakes

LANSING — Michigan and five other states are fighting in court to keep Chicago from stealing the Great Lakes.

The simple statement of a complex problem distorts the issues on both sides of the courtroom, but the danger is here and immediate.

Chicago for decades has been draining water out of Lake Michigan for navigation at the rate of 1,200 cubic feet per second. That much is alright with all concerned.

But the city also is increasing its flow to 2,000 cubic feet a second for another purpose: treatment of sewage. The water then goes through a sewage canal, ultimately reaching the Mississippi river.

The result is a development impossible except in the wildest of dreams. The level of the Great Lakes is being lowered!

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams has charged that the drainage into Chicago is damaging the recreational lure of Lake Michigan, lowering property values, and creating chaos.

If the drain continues, the level of the lakes will be lowered another two inches, reducing the tonnage freighters can carry into available dockage space and ports.

Adams warned that this alone will cost shippers $4,000,000 a year and raise prices of products shipped into Michigan by boat.

Not only will Lake Michigan's level be lowered, but, ultimately, a heavy impact is foreseen on the Great Lakes which surround Michigan on three sides.

Chicago officials, visiting Lansing for a conference on the problem, said the citizens are turning to their only natural source of water to help them solve their sanitation problems.

Michigan and the other protesting states are insisting that Chicago return the water, treated and restored, to Lake Michigan.

Chicago people said this would double the costs of pipelines at a time when financing merely the taking of water for a public purpose is burdensome.

States involved in the legal fight, which is now before the United States Supreme Court, are Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

While that case awaits action, three of the states, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin, refused to allow three small Chicago suburbs to finance an $18,000,000 pipeline to the lake.

It was blocked by refusal of the states to agree to a "non-litigation" guarantee, demanded by investors before they would buy the revenue bonds.

Michigan officials contend that residents of the state have a vast investment in the values the Great Lakes offer. A high percentage of the state's economic life depends on them.

An added factor of significance is the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway which is expected to carry Michigan products to world markets and return the goods of other nations to the state.

It probably will be months or years before the case is finally decided, but the problem will smolder until then.

HANDWRITING Tells About Yourself

By LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Lucy:

Please tell me about myself. It is nice to know you have so many talents. Wish you every success in your very interesting hobby.

Sincerely, H.D.

Dear H.D.:

You're conservative and plan ahead, but in a practical way. You're capable of thinking quickly and you analyze many things, probing into a deeper sense rather than accepting the surface. You have a good memory and you're persistent but your determination is only when you want to use it. It's very pliable.

There's a little resentment here and some fear of expression. When you make up your mind it's there to stay and you're emphatic in your decision, at times being stubborn.

You have the ability to concentrate and very few details escape you.

You don't care for a lot of variety and can accept routine duties in your stride.

Dear Miss Williams:

Recently in your column I read an analysis which sounded so much like myself. It stirred my interest in just what my writing would show. I always enjoy your column very much.

A.J.C.

Dear A.J.C.:

You're a pretty logical thinker with a "wee" sense of humor. You have a better than average memory and take a certain amount of pride in your work, not being overly sensitive you're not hurt too easily but when you are it's because you asked for it.

You're creative and have writing possibilities, also you'd rather have variation in your life than consistent routine. This love of variation could help your creativeness.

Your determination is very good and you know how and when to use diplomacy.

Along with all these nice things goes a little jealousy and resentment, even an occasional feeling of self-consciousness, however, all three are minor and could be overcome with the determination you have.

Dear Miss Williams:

I have read your column for some time now and would like my handwriting analyzed.

I take criticism quite badly from those I love most, does this show or do I imagine this? I would appreciate an answer and will wait with interested anxiety.

Mrs Donna B.

Dear Mrs. Donna B.:

You're quite emotional and express your feelings, too. Being overly sensitive, its only natural for you to be hurt easily. Criticism is very hard for you to accept.

Your thinking narrows down and becomes shallow and so puts you on the defensive and makes you a little stubborn in changing your mind on anything.

You are quite determined when you want to be and have a great deal of pride and dignity, also you're very persistent.

It's easier for you to work out a problem by being alone than discussing it with someone.

You like to have things and nice things. You have many good points here. Your big weakness is being overly sensitive.

The Reader Speaks Up

Editor:

Didn't anyone at all comment on your stand on "controversial" matters?

If we the public do not wake up, it won't be too many decades before there won't be any FREE newspaper to discuss any issue whatever except that dictated by the powers-that-be.

There aren't any parents at all - not one set of us - who send our children to any kind of a private school to give more standing or sitting room in a public school.

Some - let us reason together - We send our children to private schools of any kind, parochial or otherwise, because we sincerely believe it is worth the effort and that we receive great value in intangibles such as superior scholastics, reinforced morality, a greater surety that our children will not change religions later (if it is a parochial school we are patronizing) and a discipline that public schools are not allowed to enforce.

Yet, if for any reason our child is not acceptable to a private or parochial school, the public school must accept him.

The Public School system with all its faults - is the cradle of Democracy - the crucible in which the flame of equality according to capacity, burns unquenched though the winds of bitter criticism and enmity blow unceasingly against it.

The Public School System is a pillar in this society that stands equal in height with all the other pillars supporting this way of life. Let us not chip away at it and thus bring the roof down upon ourselves. We know before we enroll our children in private schools, that our taxes are to be paid - it is a free-will choice - why not keep it that way?

Sincerely, N. King Skrade 15128 Kipke Redford Township

Michigan's Factories, Farms and Stores Depend on Trucks

Manufacturing, farming, the retail business — all have one thing in common: each needs transportation facilities.

And, since the motor truck provides fast, flexible, direct service unequalled by any other form of transportation, more tonnage is shipped by truck in Michigan each year. (Nationally trucks haul more than 3 times as much tonnage as all other systems combined!)

Every truck you see on the road is working — working to help keep Michigan's economy humming, to help keep employment and sales high. There isn't a corner of the State that isn't served daily by trucks. And factories and shopping centers can be located anywhere and be assured of efficient truck service so long as they're on a road.

You see how vital trucks are to Michigan.

PLYMOUTH telephone lines From BILL DUNN, Manager

This is the first in a series of articles designed to bring matters of local telephone interest to you and it will be my pleasure to serve you in reporting them. As we start the new year many of us will be firming up program plans for our club activities. At the present time we have several interesting programs that are available for presentation to local civic and social organizations. If you are interested in obtaining further information why not give us a call on GLenview 3-9900. Our service representatives will be happy to assist you in obtaining an outline of the programs available.

NEW USE FOR FAMILIAR OBJECT. The day was chill and windy. The man on the street tried, four times, to light his cigarette... no luck. Then he noticed a public phone booth a few yards away. He stepped inside, shut the door and achieved success with his next attempt. Then he went his way—and we like to think that he carried with him some small feeling of gratitude to the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, for placing at his disposal a really storm-proof cigarette lighter.

CORDS GET PERMANENTS. "Spring" type telephone cords—the kind that can't twist and catch on things—eventually lose their neat tight curls, just like a lady's hair. When this happens, they're not thrown away. Like a lady's hair they get a permanent wave. (They get it when the telephones come in for repair.) Around one million cords get the full beauty treatment each year—washing, rewinding and heat setting. $400,000 is saved by this annually. It helps keep down telephone costs.

THE FOLLOWING STORY is vouched for by a highly respected newspaper. A parakeet, name of Jerry, flew away from home and didn't stop until he reached Shawnee, Kan., thirteen miles as a parakeet flies. The man who found him was wondering what to do next when Jerry chirped up loud and clear: "Call Mary... Jackson 3-4312." The man, more from idle curiosity than anything else, dialed the said number. Believe it or not, but the person who answered was none other than Mrs. Mary Neal, Jerry's worried owner.

Mass to Honor First Madonna College President

A Requiem high Mass will be celebrated in memory of Sister M. Paula, CSSF, first president-dean of Madonna College on Thursday, Jan. 22, at 11:15 a.m. in the college chapel. Father James T. Shannon, theology and philosophy instructor, will be the celebrant. All students will attend in academic attire.

The stipend for the Mass was appropriated by the Student Association. According to policy established by that organization, the Mass is to be said each year near the feast of the conversion of St. Paul which is celebrated on Jan. 25.

A bulletin board display commemorating the accomplishments of Sister Paula is also being prepared. It was during Sister Paula's seven-year term, from June 1947 to June 1954, that many "firsts" took place at Madonna College. She was successful in her efforts to gain recognition and accreditation for the college while expanding the curriculum, and facilities of the physical plant.

Death took Sister Paula on June 21, 1957. Aside from this annual commemorative Mass, Sister Paula is also remembered with a Requiem high Mass each month.

Dr. Conant and Plymouth High

What is the job of the high school? How well is this job being done? What improvements are necessary?

Some reasonable answers to these questions may come from a book to be published next week: The American High School by Dr. James B. Conant. Subtitled "A Report to Interested Citizens" the book is the result of a careful two-year survey of American high schools directed by Conant and backed by Carnegie Corporation money. It aims to give a detailed, accurate description of our high schools as they are functioning right now along with concrete proposals for improvement.

Educators believe the Conant Report may have considerable influence in determining the direction American secondary education will take. In the furor over educational philosophy raging these several years the famed scientist and former Harvard president cannot be identified with the doctrine on either side: rigid "traditionalists" and petrified "progressives" alike will find scant comfort in Conant. People searching for a workable middle way within the framework of the American comprehensive high school will probably find much that is usable.

Last week U. S. News ran a checklist for evaluating a high school, based on a preview of the Conant recommendations. We have asked Principal Carvel Bentley to answer questions from this checklist in the light of what our own school is now doing:

Q. Conant believes that every student should have 4 years of English, 1 year of U. S. history, 1 year of general history, 1 year of American government, 1 year of algebra or advanced math, 1 year of biology or general science. Are these required in Plymouth High?

A. All are offered except a full year of government. We require a semester of government, 3 years of English and 1 of U.S. history. We strongly recommend a year of world history and the other subjects Conant mentions.

Q. Is there a reason for not requiring all of these subjects?

A. I am not entirely in accord with making all of these subjects required for all students. I prefer to give some students a more liberal choice.

Q. Conant says that bright students should have 4 years of English, foreign language and history or social studies. Is this the case in Plymouth?

A. We offer 3 years of Latin and French and next year we will have 3 years of Spanish. Four years of English and social studies are offered. Social studies includes civics, geography, world history, American history, sociology, economics, U.S. government, and commercial law.

Q. Do we require the 3 years of math and science recommended for bright students?

A. These are not required; however we strongly recommend them for certain college prep students. In fact we offer and strongly recommend 4 years of science and math for certain students.

Q. Do our bright students have 15 to 20 hours of homework each week?

A. I believe 15 is more nearly accurate.

Q. Do we have a special English course for people lagging in English?

A. Yes. We provide classes for those talented in English as well as classes for all students, including those who are lagging. We also offer Reading Improvement for all.

Q. Do we have a full-time counselor for each 250 to 300 students as Conant feels necessary?

A. No. The ratio is 1 counselor to every 400 students; however we hope to lower this ratio soon.

Q. The report recommends grouping students by ability, subject by subject, so that fast learners will not be held back. To what extent is this done?

A. In English this is being done; also, to some extent in math and science. We are considering something of this sort in social studies next year.

Q. The report emphasizes the need for recognizing and rewarding scholarship. Do we do this?

A. Yes. Our National Honor Society sponsors the Annual Honors Convocation Program.

Q. From what you have seen of the Conant report what do you especially agree or disagree with? And, using his checklist, what grade would Plymouth High receive?

A. I feel that the Conant recommendations are very in accord with his graduation constructive. I am not fully requirements for every student. Also, I question the value of a 4 year course in foreign language. I don't agree, either, that each graduate receive a duplicate record of all courses studied and grades received. This information is on file at the school and available to anyone who may have use for it. Other wise I am quite in accord with his checklist of standards. Right now I would guess that Dr. Conant would rate Plymouth High about 90 percent.

New Extension Group Formed in Plymouth

The newly organized Home Economics Extension Group which met at the home of Mrs. William H. Medlyn of 42681 Five Mile Road, elected Mrs. R. Wheaton of 42429 Lakeland as their Chairman. Mrs. Wheaton is a Michigan State University graduate and taught home economics in Dalesburg, Michigan for a year prior to coming to Plymouth. Starting February 4 she will be teaching an adult education class in the Plymouth High School in Interior Decorating.

The extension group is the branch of the Michigan State Cooperative Extension Service whose purposes are to give additional service cooperatively with United States Department of Agricultural and M.S.U. It provides an opportunity for homemakers to study and work together for the purposes of improving family and community living.

The other officers elected were: Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Roger Smithing; Secretary, Mrs. William Baumgartner; Treasurer, Mrs. William Medlyn; News Chairman, Mrs. Elton McAllister; Recreation Chairman, Mrs. Finch Roberts; Community Chairman, Mrs. Robert Tripp; Project Leaders, Mrs. Ralph Walch and Mrs. James Pope.

Following the business meeting a facial analysis and complete makeup instruction was given by Mrs. Finch Roberts, a former model. The hostess, Mrs. Wheaton, served refreshments winding up the evening.

Although the formation of this group is complete with the charter members, information on forming another such group may be obtained by calling the chairman, Mrs. Wheaton at GL 3-1719.

Gallimore P.T.A.

The Gallimore P.T.A. will meet Tuesday, Jan. 27 at 7:45 p.m. in the multi-purpose room. After the short business meeting there will be two films shown on Alaska and Hawaii to acquaint us with our 49th and possibly 50th state. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Newburg Teacher Lucille Reeves Feted

Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GA. 1-2029

The Riverside Book Club met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Lockhart on Cowan Rd. Thursday, Jan. 8. The highlight of the evening was the viewing of colored slides which were taken by Mrs. Lockhart and her daughter Judith on a recent trip to Scotland, England and Europe. Members of the club present were Margaret Ayers, Julia Ruelle, Fay Grimm, Hazel Grimm, Hazel Adams, Dorothy Schroeder, Laura Larrabee, Susan Tice, Hattie Taylor, Olive Niemann, Eloise Mackinder, Vera Guthrie, Gladys Ryder and Edith Nyman.

Mrs. Robert Shier of Angeline circle has been in the hospital for a few days and is now home recuperating. We are glad to know that she is up and around again.

The Livonia City Woman's Club is a busy group these days. They are working hard now to insure the success of a card party to be held at three separate homes, Thursday, Feb. 19 at 12:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.25 and there is a dessert luncheon as well as table prizes and many fine door prizes. Only a limited number of tickets are available, so to be sure you have yours, you may call the ticket chairman, Mrs. Hayes at GA. 1-5477. The homes where the parties are to be held are at Mildred Clark's, 35494 Minton in Slatkin Subdivision; Winnie Davis', 18600 Middlebelt, between Six and Seven Mile Road and Mrs. Bernice Lloyd's, 15675 Opoto. All proceeds from this event are earmarked for some charitable organization in the city of Livonia. Also want to apologize for an error in a date that was made in a recent announcement of an event for this same club. Today, Thursday, Jan. 22 is the date which the group will have as their guest speaker, Rev. Robert D. Richards from the Saline Methodist church as their special speaker at the Federal Savings and Loan in Sheldon Center.

Congratulations to Mrs. Lucille Reeves for her wonderful teaching contribution to the Livonia school system throughout the past 16 years. Mrs. Reeves is planning retirement after having taught at Newburg and Stark schools in this area. Good luck to a dedicated lady as she takes up this retirement. Michele Lorraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lorraine of Cowan Avenue, Livonia, although not a resident of the Newburg area, attends Newburg Methodist church Sunday school and is now confined to the Harper Hospital, room 681, Detroit. This little five year old miss would like to hear from her Newburg friends, so remember her with a cheery card. For an evening of the unusual, keep in mind, Saturday, Feb. 21 and be at the Newburg Methodist church, Ann Arbor Trail and Newburg roads, for an Oriental dinner. All the elegant cuisine associated with our far east friends will be featured as well as tea leaf reading in an Oriental atmosphere. Times have not been set but keep the date free and watch this column for more information. All proceeds from this event will be turned over to the Wesley Foundation crusade fund to assist the growth of Wesley Foundation at Michigan college and universities.

Guests at our home on Friday, Jan. 9, were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Sr., of Graham road, Detroit. We were not at home but our second oldest son, David, entertained his grandparents throughout the course of the evening.

In the way of future entertainment at the Newburg Methodist church, plan to see the adult choir's production of a three act satire about choirs and choir directors, "Singing Saints." The play will be in costume, dated sometime around the late 19th century and will be put on sometime after Easter. Be on the alert for this event as it promises to be an evening full of fun and fine fellowship.

The pounding of hammer and buzzing of saw can be heard in many homes of the scouts of boy scout troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church, for they are all busy with the annual function of building a sled for participation in the Yukon Trek, which, this year, will be held on Sunday, Jan. 25 at the Warren Valley Golf Course on Warren Avenue. Each patrol in the troop is working hard to help the troop achieve some of the top honors given at this event. Good luck troop 271.

As I go by Greenwiche Pointe, from time to time notice that a lot of new folks are moving into this new subdivision. We certainly are glad to have you in our Newburg area and would appreciate your calling this reporter, just to get acquainted. We surely want to make all of you feel welcome to our neighborhood and encourage you to tell us of your social activities.

Three of the circles of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church are meeting this coming week at the various homes of their members.

I enjoyed being with you again, via the fourth estate, and hope you will take advantage of your opportunities and give me a buzz about the local news and your activities. This is your column and I want to make it as interesting as possible so let's hear from all. See you next week?

Plymouth High School

By GLORIA BOWLES

Your teens been cracking the books lately? Less Dick Clark and more algebra and history? A hush fall over the radio? What's behind all this? It can be summed up in one word: EXAMS!

They're scheduled for next week, Wednesday January 23 and Thursday, January 29.

Tests will take place on the mornings of these two days; there will be no school in the afternoon, so teachers have a chance to correct exam papers, check credit slips, etc. (and students have a chance to do some last-minute cramming!) There will be no school on Friday, January 30. School will convene on the morning of February 2, and credit slips, or report cards, will be issued that day.

Coming January 31 . . . the Band Carnival. More news about that next week.

We've some champions in our midst!

Plymouth High's debate team, coached by Miss Betty Stevens, are the proud owners of the coveted League debate trophy. Plymouth's debaters, arguing "Resolved: That the United States Educational System Should Adopt the Essential Features of the British System," out-classed teams from the other five league schools — Belleville, Bentley, Allen Park, Redford Union and Trenton were shown up by PHS's eloquents.

Those who should be given credit for the victory are Freshmen Dave Raaflaub, Ken Evans, Charles Ellis, Janet Graham, Steve Bullington, sophomore Martha West and seniors Bob Westover and Frank Smith.

Somebody goofed and the Dolphin Club party mentioned last week didn't come off. PHS'ers saw a cute pep assembly last Friday — there were almost as many cheerleaders on the floor as people perched on the bleachers, for all three squads performed.

Cheerers are Varsity: Karen West (Captain), Mer Palmer, Bette Argo, Liz Calhoun, Jill Clarke and Mavis Williams. Junior Varsity are Peggy Jenkins (Captain), Barbara Booth, Nancy Alford, Karen Rank, Nancy Quimmet and Sally Widmaier.

Peppy freshmen are Mary Lou Argo (Captain), Helen Ottwell, Carolyn Scott, Brenda Bruce, Greta Jensen and Sharon Stremich. Miss Shirley Kazorowski is "coach" to the girls.

Speaking of backing for our team . . . we'll need plenty when the Rocks meet archrival Bentley at Livonia tomorrow night. The Bulldogs are first in league standings. Should be quite a game . . .

Students here are being encouraged to enter the Detroit News Scholastic Writing Awards contest. Entries must reach the News by January 23. Teachers are collecting short stories, plays, journalistic bits, etc., and plan to send them all in at once.

An explanation of processes involved in publishing "Prints" plus pick-off staff members were featured in the seventh issue of the paper — the last one this semester — was out Tuesday.

Tomorrow is the deadline for seniors to demonstrate an interest in a class trip in the spring . . . all they have to do is make a deposit of $10. Accepting the money are trip committee members: Glyn Norton (chairman), Doug Kline, Hal Huber, Jay Kalmbach, Steve Lea, Sydney Van Aken, Ann Taylor and Susan Shoemaker.

At least half the class — 115 students — must be in favor of the trip before final plans can be made.

Where would the 59'ers go? A tour of Washington, D.C. is what committee members have in mind. Reservation dates have been set for May 27, 28, 29 and 30. The seniors hope to visit the foreign embassies, the White House, the Capitol building and the Supreme Court. Course all this is tentative until $1,150 is in the till.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS... FROM THE PAGES OF THE MAIL

32 Anniversary Celebrated by Goodales of Lakepointe

10 Years Ago

January 21, 1949
Plymouth Township fire department consists of Sam Willis, Derward Jewell, John Wiggins, Chief LeRoy Jewell, Martin Schomberger.
Opposition to the Consumer Power company's request for raising city rates was expressed by City Manager Harold Cheek when he attended the Michigan Public Service Commission hearing on the case Monday.
Winds ranging anywhere from 40 to 100 miles an hour tumbled around electric wiring, planes, buildings, shingles, windows and trees in this entire area early Wednesday morning.
Two hour parking signs will be installed by the police department on South Main from Maple to Brush Streets.
Ninety-seven packages of fuz... found to be smoldering at Allen's Industries last Thursday necessitating a call to the Plymouth Fire department for assistance.
Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg entertained at dinner on Saturday night for Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bingley who are leaving Plymouth to make their home in Northville. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schuler were also guests.
Fourteen friends of Nancy Eaton were entertained at a birthday dinner Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Eaton. It was Nancy's ninth birthday.
During the halves of tonight's Ypsilanti - Plymouth basketball game five boxing bouts will be held. The following will be paired for the bouts: Tim Coleman vs. Jim Rutherford, Arlan Ottensman vs. Dick Cram, Chuck McKenna vs. Tom Rutherford, Robert Cloor vs. Loren Goodale, and Jimmy Archer vs. Marion Johnston. Mike Spitz is boxing instructor.
A fire Sunday evening completely destroyed the home and all personal belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Donnell of Beck Road in Canton Township.
Four students have applied for membership in the Quill and Scroll club in Plymouth High. They are Jack Gage, Nancy Walton, Alvin Larson and Beverly Balsify.

The Plymouth members of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D.A.R., with their guests, joined the Northville members Monday afternoon in the parlors of the Northville Presbyterian church at their seventh annual birthday dinner. Guests included members from Louisa St. Clair chapter, Detroit; Fort Ponchartrain chapter, Detroit; Aquilus Surgis chapter, Dearborn; Ezra Parker Chapter, Royal Oak and the guest speaker, Mrs. Helen Baker Rowe of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Carl Bryan was program chairman.

Things seem to be looking a little brighter at least in the Plymouth area. Ford has just added 20 more women to their payroll at the Phoenix plant. Men have been returning in goodly numbers to the Northville, Nankin and Wilcox plants.
Formal protest has been filed with the city commission against a special election to decide whether Plymouth shall have a place where liquor may be sold by the glass. The protest was made by members of the local W.C.T.U.
At a spectacular assembly at the Plymouth high school Thursday night seven area scouts were given Eagle badges. Dr. Robert Haskell of the Wayne County Training school was chairman of the event. The two local boys receiving their Eagle awards were Melvin Michaels and Robert Edge.
A complete surprise was perpetrated on Mrs. Ralph Cole when members of her 500 club walked in on her last Friday evening in celebration of her birthday.
Another party, also a surprise, was planned for Miss Madeline Blunk by eleven of her friends last Friday night. Present were Miss Mariam Brown, Joan Cassidy, Doris Lockwood, Vivian Towle, Myrilla Savery, Clarence Levanowski, Warren Bassett, Jack Gordon, Jack Wilcox, Joe Ribar, and Robert Gordon.
A little daughter, Virginia Mae, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Sessions on January 12.
Harold Schryer of Roosevelt and Miss Elizabeth McInnis of Hartland, New Brunswick were united in marriage on January 10.
Mr. and Mrs. John W. Oh are the proud parents of a son, John Nelson, born Sunday, January 14. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reddeman have named their new daughter Betsy Ann. She was born on January 11.
The state highway department has just let a contract whereby Ford road from the Wayne County line to the Plymouth-Ann Arbor road at Dixboro will be paved. The project is scheduled to begin in early summer.
In a friendly argument overheard the other day at Smitty's restaurant, Glenn Smith, proprietor, claimed that he wasn't worried about liquor by the glass affecting his coffee sales. Smith, who probably distributes more coffee by the cup than anyone else hereabouts, claims that "C.C.M. man becomes a coffee drinker" - he stays a coffee drinker.
A very beautiful buffet luncheon bridge and to well-

We are reminded that the agreement between the United States and Germany regarding the 2c postage direct to Germany must be made as intended for steamships sailing direct from New York to Germany otherwise they will go first to England and France thus costing the sender 5c.
About a hundred friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Pankov in Farmington Wednesday evening January 20 to witness the marriage of their daughter, Nettie Edith, to George Kincaid of Star. The bride was lovely in gown of white tulle and was accompanied by two bridesmaids, two groomsmen and two flower girls.
A double wedding of much local interest took place on last night when two brothers and two sisters were united in marriage. Elmer Barlow took as his bride Miss Anna McDonald and Earl Barlow was wed to Miss Bessie McDonald. Elmer had moved to Detroit from Elm and on a day thought he recognized the two young ladies walking in front of him. He asked if they were the McDonald sisters whom he had known years ago, both replied that they were thus renewing old acquaintances culminating in last night's double ceremony in the home of the brides' uncle in Detroit.
It will soon be time for village politics to come to the fore. Already there is an indication that the Good Government League is going to take a hand in the matter. A formal meeting was held last Monday night but it is noted that their are two counteracting factions in the League and we shall have to wait and see what the outcome will be.
For Rent: A. H. Fisher's house on Main street $9.00 per month, also a most desirable home on Harvey street with furnace, electric lights and a bathroom. Enquire Mrs. L. H. Root, adv.
Mr. Hemmel of Lansing was in town Tuesday. Mr. Hemmel was a salesman for a Detroit make of cigars about 25 years ago and C. A. Pinckney bought the first box of cigars he ever sold in Plymouth.
J. R. Rauch and Company are starting their big sale tomorrow and everything in the store will be on sale except thread and overalls.

The Hyer's colored comedy Company which is billed for two entertainments at Amity hall come to town well recommended. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hyer will accompany their troupe here.
The Detroit Tribune states that on last Thursday the United States Fish Commission's Car No. 2 passed through here en route to Northville. In Northville a large number of whitefish eggs were picked up and taken on to Duluth, where a new station is being located.
Ex-Senator Crosby of this place, has for some time past been collecting data and statistics to show the authorities how unjustly Wayne and some other counties in this state have been taxed for the support of the insane. From his figures it seems that Wayne county has paid in the past ten years, $247,670 to the state whereas the state in the same time has paid out only $64,378. In contrast Houghton has paid to the state only $3,952. By appointment last Thursday Crosby met with the auditors and county commissioners and undoubtedly a bill will be framed and sent to the next legislature for the purpose of correcting this injustice.
Don't forget when dating your letters - it's now 1889.
Another barber in town - a ten pound boy at George Vandercars last Sunday night.
William Smitherman has become a partner with William Streng in the meat business.
The party given by the F.U.N. club at the Berdan house Saturday eve was well attended as usual. Later an excellent supper was served at Mrs. Colemans for seventy-five or eighty couples.
If our readers would care to subscribe to another weekly paper in addition to the local paper, the Mail could suggest none better than the Chicago Inter-Ocean (the largest in the West) or the New York World.
As the Reverend P. G. Robertson and family were sitting in their home last Sunday night, a loud rap was heard at their door. Upon opening same the good Reverend was surprised by the sight of a huge box of necessities on his doorstep, brought no doubt, by the good people of his congregation for which he wishes to heartily thank all.
Esquire Hudson of Cherry Hill will serve his country as circuit court juror for the coming term.
The children of the late B. W. Huston held a family reunion at the Reuben Huston home recently. There was also a reunion of the Stillman Corwin family during the holidays.
Plymouth in brief: sent in by a subscriber, Plymouth is a village of about fifteen hundred inhabitants twenty two miles from Detroit - with two railroads (Detroit, Lansing and Northwestern and Flint and Pere Marquette) - beautiful in location - good schools and churches - land plentiful and cheap for residences - also for manufacturing - a prime newspaper - and a fine farming country on all sides. Persons seeking for homes or manufacturing advantages cannot do better than look this area over. For particulars write the editor of this paper or any prominent citizen of this place. Subscribers are asked to send marked copies of this paper to their friends - J. H. Steers, editor and publisher.

bone, but it is mending quite well now reports his mother. Kevin and the boys were ice skating on Wilcox Lake when Kevin had the misfortune of breaking his collarbone. He is in a brace now, but with luck it might be removed in a few weeks. All our "well wishes" to you Kevin.
Mrs. Elizabeth Arthur of Shadywood Drive has a houseguest for the school term, Mrs. Kenneth Walls, who is Nancy's girlfriend. She is attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor where she is studying to obtain her Ph.D.
Elizabeth and John have just received a supply of lumber and have begun the project of finishing their basement. Nancy loves to help her father when she has a few spare moments.
Jim Billington of Shadywood Court tells me that he has just taken a new position with New York Life Insurance Company of Detroit. He is very enthusiastic over his new job and says he is ready to help anyone in our community who is interested in insurance, with a plan that stresses savings.
Marjean and Paul Feiden are busy as usual with their activities at the Paul-Mar Market. Their little daughter Susan is just recovering from severe case of the chicken pox. Also on the chicken pox list is little Lisa Green over on Brentwood. Hope both are feeling fine now!

Loren and Carole Goodale are preparing to celebrate their 32nd wedding anniversary in a big way. Their wedding day is on the 22nd, but on January 25 Loren and Carole will fly to New York for a long deserved vacation. Loren Jr. gave his parents the round trip plane tickets to New York as his gift to them. We know they will have a terrific time. Congratulations to the Goodales!
Tom and Irene Dryden spent a two week vacation in New Jersey during the holidays. They visited with Irene's sisters, Mrs. Don Fischer of Woodcliff Lake which is a suburban town in New Jersey. Being close to New York City, Tom and girls had their voices recorded and then they were played back to the group. It was interesting to note how different one's voice sounds to oneself.

The weather has been grand for all of the wonderful winter sports in and around Plymouth. We, personally, must recommend the wonderful toboggan slides at Cass Benton Park. It leaves one breathless. I know!
At this point I leave you until next week.

Men In Service

Airman Thomas D. Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling T. Kennedy of 174 Rose St., Plymouth, Mich., has been assigned to a unit of the Air Defense Command at Duluth Municipal Airport, Minn., for training and duty as a Supply Records Specialist. He recently completed basic military training here.
Airman Kennedy is graduate of Plymouth High School.
Airmen assigned directly to a duty station from basic training at Lackland will receive on-the-job training under highly qualified specialists. They are selected for assignments on the basis of their interests and aptitudes.
Anyone desiring further information on enlistment in the United States Air Force should contact T-Sgt. Irving D. Kaiserman at Farmington and 5 Mile Rd., Livonia or phone GA 4-2580. Sgt. Kaiserman will be in the Michigan Employment Office on Lilley Rd. each Tuesday from 1 to 3 p.m.

Official Proceedings of Board of Education

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Monday evening, December 8, 1958, in the faculty room of the Plymouth Community Junior High School at eight o'clock.
Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.
Nays: None.
Father Child presented the Board with petitions signed by more than 1,400 residents of the Plymouth Community School District requesting the Board, in the interest of community harmony and good will, to change the existing transportation policy in order to transport private and parochial school children. He cited the portion of the school code which places the decision in this matter in the hands of the local board of education. He also noted a recent attorney general's opinion which gives the local district the same authority to transport private and parochial students as public school students.
After considerable discussion it was moved by Mr. Mitchell and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to take the request under study, discuss it at the next regular Board meeting and make a decision at that time.
Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.
Nays: None.
The following communications were read:
1. From Detroit Edison Company explaining a decrease of $780 to the school district for the underground cable at the Farrand School installed by the Board's contractor.
2. From interested parents of eighth grade children pledging their assistance in helping to decide which ninth graders will go to the junior high building and which will go to the senior high building next year.
Mr. Blunk presented prepared statement on the condition of the operating fund, indicating that payrolls and bills will be paid on schedule if the December payment of state aid is forthcoming.
Superintendent Ishister projected a film strip showing some of the newer school buildings in the United States.
Meeting adjourned at 10:40 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary
A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Monday evening, December 22, 1958, in the Central Office at the Plymouth High School at eight o'clock.
Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet; Mr. Blunk and Mr. Ishister.
Also present: Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Stickey of the Central Office staff and Mr. Webber, Chairman of the School Community Planning Group.
President Stecker called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.
Superintendent Ishister asked for a few minutes to point out the need for additional space in the central offices. He indicated that the efficiency of administrative, personal, finance accounting and other counting services was seriously impaired by crowding in the central offices. Also, the increased use of machine accounting makes it necessary to take some immediate steps to relieve the situation.
Mr. Blunk, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Stickey and Mrs. Christensen described in detail the work which they are doing and the division of responsibility for providing the services outlined above.
Mr. Fischer, Chairman of the School Facilities Committee, was authorized to investigate the possibility of renting office space until some permanent solution is found to the problem.
A letter from the Gideon Society requesting permission to distribute in the copies of the New Testament with Psalms and Proverbs to the boys and girls in the fifth through the twelfth grades was read.
It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Soth to deny the request on the basis that the Board's policy prohibits the use of the public schools by religious groups.
Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.
Nays: None.
Mr. Webber asked for a clarification of the relationship between the Board of Education, the School Facilities Committee and the School Community Planning Group. It was mutually agreed that a joint meeting of the committees of Mr. Fischer will be held with the School Facilities Committee, the Chairman of the School Community Planning Groups and the Chairmen of the Study Committees of that group in order to work out procedures to be followed in the future.
Progress reports on School Facilities and School Sites were given by Mr. Fischer and Mr. Mitchell, respectively. No definite recommendations were made.
It was moved by Mr. Mitchell and seconded by Mr. Kaiser that the following members be authorized to attend the Convention of the National Association of School Boards in San Francisco from January 25 to 28, 1959, inclusive: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.
Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.
Nays: None.
Meeting adjourned at 10:50 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

Five Year Road Program Shows Progress

Plymouthites who travel up, down and across the state are vitally interested in the construction of new roads which each year cut minutes and hours off long trips.

Last year the State Highway Department launched a Five-Year program and construction reached an all-time high when about $190 million in road work was placed under contract.

Included were nearly 200 projects. Approximately 150 miles of new, dual highways, including 101 miles of expressways, were opened to traffic.

Expressway progress was as follows:

Detroit-to-Chicago (US-12)

A total of 80 miles of this expressway are now open to traffic and another 33 miles are under construction. The remaining 112 miles will be let for construction starting in February with completion targeted for late 1960 or early 1961.

Detroit-to-Muskegon (US-16)

More than one-third of this 165-mile expressway is now open to traffic. Another 13.8-mile section will be ready for opening in 1959. Still to be let for construction are six sections totaling 100.6 miles. Sections now open include the 23.6-mile Brighton - Farmington expressway, a 10-mile section between Coopersville and Marne in Ottawa county; 8.6 miles from M-100 west to Portland; and the latest section to be opened, 18.5 miles from Portland road, west of the city of Portland, to Hastings road near the west Livonia county line, for a total of 58.7 miles.

US-23 (Ohio-to-Straits of Mackinac)

This 330-mile expressway will carry traffic from near Sylvania, Ohio, northerly to Mackinaw City and the S.o. Completed sections include the 34-mile Fenton-Clio section and the 10 1/2-mile Ann Arbor-Whitmore Lake section. Nearing completion is a 17-mile-long portion from the Ohio line north to Dundee.

Bay City-to-Midland Expressway

The 13-mile expressway replacing M-20 between these two cities was opened to traffic last October.

Grand Rapids Expressway (US-19)

Approximately 17 1/2 miles from 28th street, near the south city limits of Grand Rapids south to Wayland, are open to traffic. The portion from Wayland south to M-118 in Allegan county is under construction and scheduled for opening in 1959.

Detroit-to-Toledo

Twenty-four miles of this expressway are open to traffic from a connection with US-25 southwest of Detroit south to a point about 2 miles north of the Ohio line. A southerly extension to the Ohio line is completed but cannot be opened to traffic until an Ohio connection (presently under contract and expected to be ready for traffic about February 1) is completed.

Detroit Metropolitan Area

The John C. Lodge expressway has been completed to downtown Detroit except for a half-mile section between Third street and Griswold, scheduled for completion in 1959, which will complete the downtown expressway loop at the Detroit Civic Center and Elliott to Norcross street at Chandler Park in December. The expressway is scheduled for completion to the east city limits in 1959. Twenty miles of urban expressway (Lodge and Ford expressways) are currently open to traffic.

Detroit was the opening of a 3-mile section of the Edsel Ford expressway from Mt. Elliott to Norcross street at Chandler Park in December. The expressway is scheduled for completion to the east city limits in 1959. Twenty miles of urban expressway (Lodge and Ford expressways) are currently open to traffic.

Local Easter Seal Goal Set at $3,500

Some $50,000 will be needed in 1959 if the crippled children and adults in Western Wayne County are to continue receiving rehabilitation services from the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County and if direct aid is to be extended to other handicapped persons not now receiving it.

That was the goal for the 1959 Easter Seal campaign reported by Plymouth Rotary Club Member, Sidney Strong, chairman for the annual appeal in Plymouth. It opens Friday, February 27, and continues through Easter Sunday, March 29. Plymouth's share of this goal is $3,500, a return of approximately 25c per capita.

Over the years, the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County has maintained a proud record of accomplishment, assisting thousands of handicapped persons through services made possible by contributors to Easter Seals," Strong said.

Western Wayne County boasts top-quality rehabilitation services in its Easter Seal Center operated and supported by the Easter Seal Society.

"They are programs which must, in the face of mounting costs, be maintained," Strong said, "but expanded even more to reach all persons who need them."

Strong urged all residents of Plymouth to respond generously when Easter Seals reach their homes about February 27. He said that approximately 90 per cent of the funds contributed during the annual Easter Seal appeal finances services within the state where raised. The remainder helps support a national program of direct service, education and research.

Whenever the movie industry improves a legitimate stage offering, the event deserves special hosannas. Recently, the Penn Theatre during the New Year holidays had the delightful movie "Gigi" on view. Several years ago when Audrey Hepburn (her first starring role, by the way) came to Detroit in "Gigi", the willing wife and I went down to the Cass Theater and caught the show. We weren't too impressed. It was a fairly good comedy, but not a great one. Mr. Lerner and Lowe, the duo that created "My Fair Lady", took "Gigi" out of the stage version. It deserves some Academy Awards come this March.

Maurice Chevalier in his role as a narrator sang and talked to the audience in his best Gaelic manner. His charm simply oozed out and the audience relaxed under his scintillating smile. His song with Hermonie Gingold was priceless. And the way the musical numbers were staged showed these astute stage producers realized that the techniques of the theatrical world could be transferred to the screen. For once, old George could truthfully say after viewing this movie that the cinema has improved on a stage play. Mind you it's not often that this happens. When it does, let's give credit to the movie industry.

Lately, the movie moguls have been turning to new techniques to attract the audiences away from the "idiot boxes" or TV sets in the homes. "Tom Thumb" at the Penn last week and up in Northville this week had some clever camera tricks. A new horror show is coming with a process known as "Emergo". Right during the show a spooky, eerie figure is supposed to appear as though it is coming out of the screen. "Sinbad", currently in downtown Detroit, boasts of a new process called Dynamotion.

This process is a perfected version of making large prehistoric monsters appear alive and moving. It was first used in "King Kong" with the big gorilla. Years ago, the movements were quite jerky since they had to move the miniature figures one movie frame at a time. Now they have the process perfected so that the movement is life-like and twice as hair-raising.

One other movie trick being promoted in Chicago is a movie that smells. That's right I said "smells". We've all gone to shows at one time or another that have had a distinct odor, but now they are making a picture with some 25 or 36 different smells or odors. About 20 years ago, a Swiss movie-maker had such a film on exhibition at one of the World's fairs. Biggest problem was how to get rid of one smell before the next one came along. As I recall, they had bacon frying, the scene was in a pine woods, and other simple odors in this pioneer venture. Latest entry in the Oriental race on Broadway opened out of town last week. "Rashomon", by name, gave the playgoers of Philadelphia an exciting evening. Critics, usually as staid and reserved as Boston, gave their go-ahead signal to this latest oriental play. Followers of the downtown Detroit art picture houses will recall that "Rashomon" was a fine Japanese movie.

Fay and Michael Kanin fashioned a stage version out of the movie. Setting is in Kyoto Japan about 1,000 years ago. There will be the usual arguments as to whether the show has enough commercial appeal. Story line is about a bandit that has barbaric ways both in his love life and his career of crime. Speaking of non-commercial fare, reminds me that young George, Mr. Harold Truax of the high school staff, and I slipped through the snow the other evening to see a film performance of "Oedipus Rex" at the University of Detroit. "Oedipus the King" was first produced in Athens about 430 B.C. The latest production was in Stratford, Canada at the 1954 Shakespearean Festival.

Immediately after this Canadian production the Festival actors filmed the show as it had been presented with the original costumes and masks. It is a tribute to the fine script as provided by Sophocles that even with a few slight difficulties of a technical nature, namely, a scratchy sound track—the powerful message still had impact. When Oedipus discovers that man is not self-sufficient and that human reason is limited, he begins to see how man is eternally in conflict with the mysteries of life.

After the show we stopped at the Pickwick House in Detroit to discuss the film and replenish our calorie intake for the day. Young George deavored a "Banana Surprise" that would have choked Oedipus had he been alive today. Later, we had a session with the coffee cups at home. Old George brought out a satiric had written on "War and Peace" and asked John Van Dyke and Bill Jones to accompany Mr. Truax in a reading of the script. John and Bill went with us to "Oedipus" earlier, but they claim after reading this new fancy version of "War and Peace" that the Canadian Players had better consider this script for filming.

Incidentally, Jake Rumpf, who reviewed the Ann Arbor "Julius Caesar" production for me, phoned me this weekend to indicate that many scenes were effective. Some of the leads were excellent while others were way off base.

Next week more about what's going on in Detroit and the great white way of New York.

WHAT'S GOING ON? Line-ups of people this long are hard to find in Plymouth but this was the scene on Sunday, Jan. 11 as the movie "Tom Thumb" was about to open at the Penn Theatre. The line started at the box office and went around the corner to The Plymouth Mail. Police were called twice to handle traffic jams that day, proof that movies still are well in the running with TV.

Plymouth Moviegoers Rely Heavily on Critic Reviews

By Gloria Bowles

How do local movie houses secure pictures... and billboards and ads? What are the biggest problems in the theatre business? Do Plymouthites choose movies for the stars playing in them or the general content of the picture?

In recent interviews these questions were answered by Miss Margaret Wilson, general manager (ess) of the Penn Theatre and Harvey Weigand who supervises the picture operation at the Penniman-Allen (P & A).

The two uncovered many heretofore unknown facts about the theatre business in Plymouth. For instance, did you know that Glenn Ford rates tops in the most popular male star in - Plymouth department?

Or that Plymouthites like adventure pictures with "Old Yeller," "Westward, Ho the Wagons," both Walt Disney pictures, rating big audiences at the Penn.

Localities also like good drama, such as "Sayonara," "From Here to Eternity," "Giant," and "Bridge on the River Kwai" which drew especially large crowds.

Weigand complains that his biggest problem does not lie in the upkeep of equipment, but in the fact that as general manager his job is a seven-day a week proposition. It takes 13 employees to keep things running smoothly at the Penniman-Allen with five working during the actual showing of the picture.

Miss Wilson has held the position of general manager of the Penn since January 1950. Working under her are 18 employees, seven of whom work while the show is playing.

The Penn, which opened on December 4, 1941, and the P & A, opened in November 1918, have a prominent list of citizens who held down usher positions. They include Bob, Ralph and John Bachelard; Harold Schultz and Jim Wiltsie, now both druggists; insurance agents Jim Thornton and Charles Finlan; John Guttler of the Dairy Freez; Hotel Manager Frank Lorenz; and Elton and Sam Knapp. All five children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walsh of West Ann Arbor Trail have at one time or another worked at the theatres.

When Rodgers died, high fidelity was only in the planning stage and most of his records now would sound tinny. However, RCA Victor has done an excellent job in refurbishing the music of 16 Rodgers records and the sound almost meets today's high standards.

"Train Whistle Blues" (RCA-Victor LPM 1640) present Rodgers in such rare classic as "Hobo Bill's Last Ride," "Let Me Be Your Side Track" and "Ben Dewberry's Final Run."

Hank Williams, who also died at the peak of his popularity, is memorialized on a fine LP, "Sing Me a Sad Song" by George Hamilton IV (ABC Paramount 251). "Your Cheatin' Heart" is the high spot.
