THE MAIL IS HOME OWNED — COMPLETELY PUBLISHED IN PLYMOUTH — BY PLYMOUTHITES — FOR PLYMOUTHITES

TWO SAD CITIZENS—one who "forgot to mention Plymouth's proud of Burroughs," and the other "heard talking about bad business climate", got tossed into the stocks yesterday at the Mayflower Hotel, site of Saturday's luncheon honoring the plant. The two are Miss Susan Wesley and Dr. A. C. Williams. Actually they are both solid Plymouth boosters.

Plymouth Honors Biggest Taxpayer and Employer

Plymouth this Saturday will extend its official hand welcome to the Burroughs Corp. in appreciation for its 21 years of presence in the community.

The unique ceremony honoring the Plymouth's biggest taxpayer will start with a parade at 12:15 from city hall, following a "Colonial Feast" at the Hotel Mayflower. Burroughs President Ray Eppert and other Burroughs officials will be the honored guests.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the celebration is aimed to show Burroughs and other industries how much Plymouth appreciates such a plant.

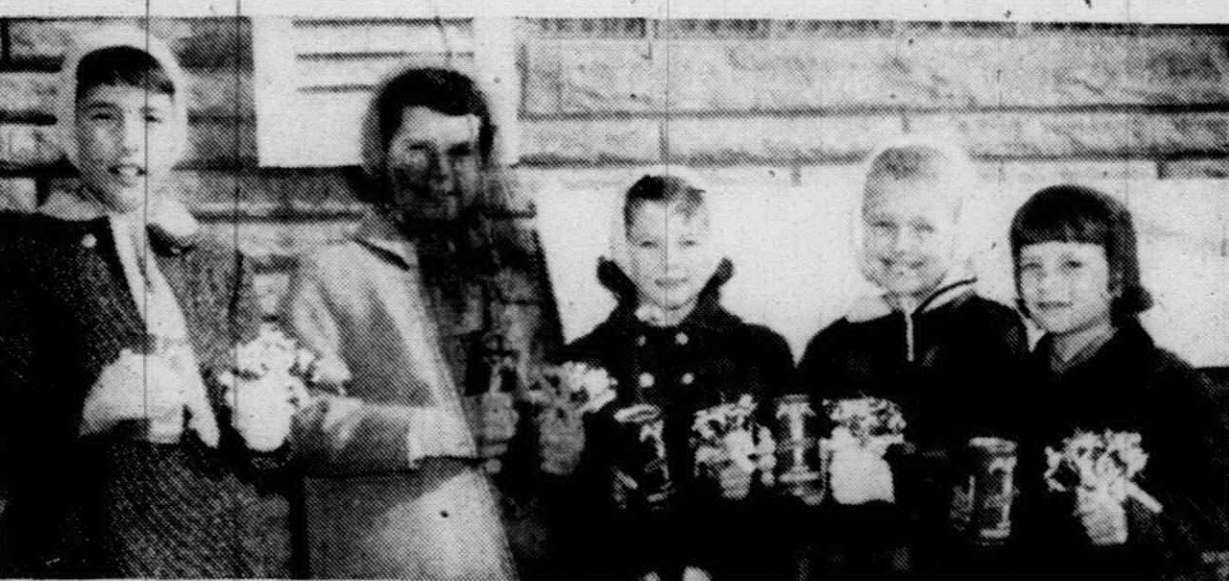

As part of the "Burroughs Week" celebration, The Mail has printed a special section devoted to Burroughs in this issue. There are also other pictures and features pertaining to the big industry scattered in the other three sections.

For further details about Burroughs and their "day," see Section 4.

Churches to Mark Holy Week With Special Services

Churches throughout the city of Plymouth area will open their doors to special services during approaching Holy Week.

A special Tre-Ore Service will be held from noon to 3 p.m. Good Friday at the First United Presbyterian Church sponsored by many churches of the community under the auspices of the Ministerial Association.

Lily Sale to Help Crippled

Paper Easter lilies found on the laps of pedestrians this Saturday will mean that Western Wayne county's crippled children are again receiving the support of Plymouthites.

The annual Lily Parade will take place from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on downtown sidewalks with the aid of several dozen children, sell the paper lilies to aid the crippled.

Traditionally designated each year as the day before Palm Sunday, Crippled Children's Day centers attention of the needs of crippled children. Hundreds of youngsters in Western Wayne county benefit from this day sponsored in conjunction with the 1959 Easter Seal Campaign.

Proceeds from the street sale of paper lilies, made by homebound handicapped people throughout Michigan, will help carry on the program of service to physically handicapped children and adults given by the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County.

Last year's Lily parade brought in $576.35. Mrs. Robert Beyer is chairman of the Lily Parade with Mrs. Richard Papes as co-chairman. The Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, which now has its headquarters near Michigan Ave. in Inkster, joins 1,700 Easter Seal affiliates of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults throughout the nation to mark the sixth annual observance of Crippled Children's Day.

City to Hold Examinations For Fire Chief

An examination for the position of Plymouth city fire chief will be given to fill the vacancy left by the death of Chief Robert McAllister last week.

Application blanks are now available for those wanting to take the examination, City Manager Albert Glassford announced. Applicants must have at least five year's experience as a fireman and three years supervisory experience in a municipal fire department. He must be between 25 to 42 years old.

The fire department's two assistant chiefs, Charles Groth and George Schoeneman, are now heading the department. On duty on alternate days, they technically serve as chief during their 24 hours on duty.

The process of holding competitive examinations for such vacancies has been practiced in the city during recent years. Police Chief Kenneth Fisher was selected after examinations.

Applicants will be required to take both competitive written and oral exams before an examining board. Further information is available at city hall.

Draft Platform Of Write-In Candidates

A platform of the two write-in candidates being backed by the Committee for Representative Government for the office on the city commission was drafted this week.

The committee, which will meet again tonight at 8 p.m. in the High School Annex (old Junior High), was formed recently to back write-in candidates. The candidates are Richard Merriman, 505 Byron, and John Truer, 1096 Harding.

Their platform, announced yesterday, is:

1. To conduct a complete review of the city administration and to re-evaluate the duties and responsibilities of all city employees.
2. To establish a uniform working program for the city commission, and to assign to each commissioner specific responsibilities in the performance of municipal functions.
3. To endeavor to better inform the residents of Plymouth of all programs and issues before the commission.
4. To conscientiously review all programs for municipal development, and to support such plans as best serve the residents of Plymouth.
5. To broaden the representation on all committees

Rev. Mr. Clarence Long of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold the first hour service; Rev. Mr. R. Newman Raycroft of the Church of the Nazarene will hold the second hour service; and Rev. Norman J. Stanhope of the First United Presbyterian Church will have the third service.

First Methodist Church of Plymouth will have a Sacrament of Baptism and reception following a special service on Palm Sunday at 3 p.m. and will have the Sacrament of Holy Communion at 7:30 on Maundy Thursday. Breakfast will be served after their Sunrise Easter Service which will be at 7 a.m. Rev. Mr. Sanford Burr will preach this service.

First United Presbyterian Church will also have the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper at the Maundy Thursday evening service. Their 10th annual White breakfast will be held Thursday morning. The combined youth choirs will present a Palm Sunday afternoon program at 4:00 with a narration of the story of Holy Week.

St. John's Episcopal Church will have their procession of the Palms at the 9:30 a.m. and 11:15 a.m. Service Palm Sunday with palm crosses for worshippers attending the service. Holy

Special Election Decides Fate of School Millage

Renewal of a three-mill levy that the board of education feels is of vital necessity to the Plymouth Community School District will be on the ballot when an estimated 1,200 voters go to the polls next Monday.

While most school districts have little or no trouble in gaining approval of millage issues that are renewals, the board of education is frankly worried that this one could be voted down.

• Polls at the High School and Gallimore Elementary School will open at 7 a.m. Monday and will close at 8 p.m.

Because of the simplicity of the question, paper ballots will be used for the election instead of machines. Voting on the question will require only an "X" beside the "Yes" or "No."

There are 102 words in the question and the way the question must be legally stated has the board worried. Because the three mill operating levy expired with the collection of the last taxes, the ballot question must ask if the limitation of taxes should be "increased." (The school millage has technically fallen from 21.95 mills to 18.95 mills at present.)

Any registered voter in the school district is eligible to vote on the issue. Only bond issues are limited to property owners.

Starting last year, there are now two voting precincts in the school district. Voting at the High School precinct are all city of Plymouth precincts, Precinct 1 of Plymouth Township and Northville Township. Voting at Precinct 2 at Gallimore School are Precincts 2 and 3 of Plymouth Township, Canton Township and Superior Township.

If approved, the millage would continue for another five years. The millage is used strictly for school operation.

Of the 21.95 mills levied by the board of education, 14.45 mills are used for actual operation of the school system. This leaves 7.50 mills for retiring bond issues and a building and site sinking fund.

The school board has been taking an active part in promoting the millage issue. Each school has a committee of room parents with whom board members have met during the past two weeks. These committees of room parents will be calling upon their neighbors, either in person or by phone, before the election in an attempt to answer any questions concerning the operating tax.

The most resistance is expected among taxpayers in the city. Still fresh in their minds are the notices they received a month ago telling them of their new assessments.

For many, the assessments caused large tax boosts. Others will pay little more and some even less than before. While assessments went up, the equalized tax rate is expected to drop.

For example, a person whose home and property was assessed at $4,000 last year paid $244 in school, city and county taxes. This is based on the equalized rate of $61 per $1,000 valuation. This year the equalized rate in the city is expected to drop to $46 per $1,000. If this same taxpayer's assessment jumped from $4,000 to $5,300, he would be paying the same size tax bill.

A Finance and Fact-finding subcommittee of the Plymouth School Community Planning Group this week released results of a study it made on the school millage and reported that tax bills for typical taxpayers in the school district have risen substantially in recent years due almost entirely to state equalization factors (see story elsewhere on this page).

Some voters have questioned why the millage issue is being put on the ballot now, before the school district knows how much the state will equalize taxes.

The board explains that right now they are discussing teacher contracts for next year. In fact, it is better to have contract in the hands of teachers at spring vacation time (Easter), but this will be impossible.

Since over 70 per cent of operating millage is used to pay teacher salaries, the board claims it must know how much money will be available before pay raises can be seriously discussed.

Report Tells Of School Taxes, Operating Costs

Plymouth is paying less per pupil to operate its school system than the average of 10 other school districts of comparable size in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

That is the substance of a report made this week by the Finance and Fact-finding Subcommittee of the Plymouth School Community Planning Group. The study was made in conjunction with the millage vote scheduled for next Monday for which a renewal of three mills for five years is being asked.

The committee used the Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies for its source of data. They selected all the school districts in the 3,000 to 5,000 pupil category that reported costs to the Bureau during the past five years.

From these figures, the committee found that the per pupil cost of operation in the Plymouth district is $389, while the average cost per pupil in the 10 other districts of comparable size is $437.90 during the 1957-58 year. This is a difference of $48.90 per pupil.

The 10 districts include five with costs below Plymouth's - Dearborn No. 2, Inkster, Melvindale, Rochester and Trenton. There are five with costs higher than Plymouth's - Ecorse, Fitzgerald, Hamtramck, River Rouge and Van Dyke.

These are the categories of operational costs, comparing Plymouth and the other 10 districts:

	Ply.	Others
Instruction	$232.00	$311.96
Operation	56.35	62.26
Aux. Services	24.69	16.79
Administration
Maintenance	15.42	20.46
Fixed Charges	7.99	23.32
Total	$389.00	$437.90

The only category where Plymouth rises above the 10 district average is the auxiliary services. This includes bus transportation, health and the Adult Education and Recreation programs.

The committee, headed by Gerald Fischer and composed of men and women in many walks of life, also compared the operation costs per pupil today with that of four and five years ago.

They found that Plymouth's cost per pupil in the Candidates to Face Voters at Town Hall

In the tradition of old New England where Town Hall meetings are common occurrences, Plymouth will resume its Town Hall series next Thursday, April 2 when candidates for offices will speak and answer questions from voters.

Sponsoring the affair once more is the Area Cooperation Group, which has held a half dozen of the Town Hall meetings during the past two years. Topics have included school and municipal elections and taxes.

The April 2 meeting will be at the Junior High School starting at 8 p.m. Invited are candidates from Plymouth city, and Plymouth and Canton Townships.

Each candidate will be given several minutes to speak in his own behalf. Written questions will then be asked from the audience, directed for any of the candidates.

Moderator for the event will be Carl Cedersberg, WWJ newscaster, who has served as moderator for several past Town Hall meetings. He is a resident of Canton Township.

The Area Cooperation Group has also invited the two "sticker" candidates from the city in addition to those whose names are appearing on the ballot. Special interest will undoubtedly be focused on the Plymouth Township candidates where Democrats are making a stronger than usual bid for offices held traditionally by Republicans.

Town Hall meetings began two years ago after the Area Cooperation Group was formed by representatives from many organizations for the purpose of gaining community harmony.

One of the early jobs performed by the group and the Plymouth Mail was to seek out the opinions of citizens on what they believed were the most pressing community problems of the day.

One of the top five problems was "voter apathy." To bring about a better understanding of issues and persons on the ballot, the Town Hall series was started.

Resolution Honors Late Fire Chief McAllister

Plymouth city commissioners Monday night approved a resolution posthumously recognizing the service of Fire Chief Robert McAllister who died suddenly of a heart attack Sunday, March 8.

The resolution reads: "WHEREAS, ROBERT J. McALLISTER, the Fire Chief for the City of Plymouth, departed this life on March 8, 1959, after thirteen years, eleven months and twenty three days of faithful and devoted service, and "WHEREAS, he gave unselfishly of his time and talent, above and beyond the call of duty, to benefit all the people of the City of Plymouth, and "WHEREAS, his superior and faithful service to this community is worthy of commendation and praise. "NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that ROBERT J. McALLISTER be

WITH A BIG V-O-T-E, these youngsters at Gallimore Elementary School are telling citizens that it is their duty to go to the polls this Monday. Whether one votes for or against the three-mill renewal of operating taxes on Monday's ballot, the vote cannot be a representative one unless enough electors go to the polls. From left are Connie Palmer, Debbie Mitchell, Debbie Basman, Peter Meredith, John Robertson (top of T), Kenneth Hoffman, Judy Briggs, Holly McDonough (top of E), Lenore Anderson and Susan Green. There are two voting precincts in the school district. One is at the high school, the other at Gallimore School. Voting is from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Historical Society Looking For Temporary Display Items

With their eyes still focused ahead to the day when there will be a Plymouth Historical Museum, the Plymouth Historical Society last week laid plans for gathering historical items for a temporary display.

The decision was made at the meeting last Thursday night at the Veterans Memorial Center. While a historical museum still seems a long way off, it was suggested that there could soon be set up at least a temporary display of objects, documents, pictures, tools and utensils having to do with the town's historic past.

All present or former citizens having any objects like pieces of furniture, farm tools, spinning wheel, pictures, Plymouth people of long ago, are urged to contact President Ernest Henry, Roderick Cassidy, Karl Starkweather or other officers and members of the society.

They should describe what they have and have the items registered with the society. In this way when it becomes time to initiate a public display, the museum committee will know where the articles can be secured without a long period of investigation.

During the program portion of the meeting, Mrs. Henry Grimm, Jr., of Livonia read her well-prepared paper on the coming of her great grandfather, David Ryder, to Livonia in 1827 and how William Starkweather, already in Plymouth assisted him in the selection of a farm site there.

She also told about the Ryder sugar bush that was set up and continued for many years.

Other members rose to relate many interesting incidents having to do with local, old time sugar bush operations. The stories of Sam Spicer, Austin Whipple, Mrs. Jessie Truesdell, Miss Anna Peterhans, Harry Minthorn and Clarence Stevens were heard. Mr. Stevens, now 94, is the oldest member of the society.

Following adjournment, the group was served pancakes with maple syrup.

MISS DELORES MAULT'S engagement to Mr. Warren Felder was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mault of 911 Palmer Street. Mr. Felder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Felder of Livonia.

Miss Mault will graduate from Plymouth High School this June. Her fiancé is a graduate of Knoxville High School, Illinois, and presently attends the National Cash Register Company school in Dayton, Ohio. No immediate date has been set for the wedding.

To Women It May Concern

By Myra Cox

The management has gone to considerable trouble (well, anyway they wrote a letter) to engage a young American student of foreign languages in Europe to become a member of the staff of the Plymouth Mail. He has compiled a complete list of the most interesting, practical and novel recipes to be found, and has translated them into English to send them to us for weekly publication in the Mail. The scope of dishes ranges from appetizers, cookies, desserts, and dishes for special occasions. We anticipate having fun with them and trust you do too.

One Plymouth group we hope will use them and keep us posted on results (good or bad) will be the new Gourmet Club dedicated to preparing and appreciating fine food. They hope to inspire a creativeness in preparing food. The good friends believe that such a monthly dinner party will be an adventure for them. The host will furnish the main course, beverage and plan the evening's entertainment. After the five have each had a turn as hosts they will then spend an evening "on the town" enjoying the cooking of a professional gourmet.

The theme of their next feast will be a South Sea Luau (nothing was said about the women wearing muu-muus and the men in typical funny hats, bare chests, and sarongs, but authentic is authentic).

This is to be a team arrangement and the first hosts were Richard and Mary Fritz, in fact, I think the original idea was his. Anyway, the theme was American with the main dish signifying American royalty, steak fillets with mushroom sauce, grilled by the host who knew exactly what he was doing and each bite (I'm told) was a symphony of perfectly blended flavor - a fresh tossed salad, green beans with bacon and candied carrots topped off with a chocolate mint pie for dessert made by our "resident of the week," Margaret Smith (I think the team work here was Wendell assisting as a taster). The only foreign flavor was the beverage served by Richard and Mary Fritz, "Espresso Coffee" which, of course, quickly separated the men from the boys and the gourmets from the folks who just came to dinner.

In addition to the Fritz's and the Smiths, others off on the "Operation-Food Adventure" are the Robert Erdelyi's, William Fehlig's, Donald Hay's - maybe we can get them to share some of their original recipes with us from time to time.

Which reminds me this week I just must look up a good diet.

I lifted something from a column in Livonia that to me typifies the wonderfully enchanted world little people live in - the children of the Briggs family in Livonia are hoping since their dog Tina, a wire-haired terrier became the mother of five pups last week, that it was a good omen, and they were asking daddy if their mother, come this Spring, will do as well number wise!

From the voice of experience - a bridge enthusiast from Redford is calling all of her friends to publicize her expensive venture. She wrote to Gorman, the bridge expert, about a question that was brought up around the bridge table, as to the necessity of cutting cards before dealing out a bridge hand - the answer came back YES - with a bill-due for $25. Indignant, she consulted an eminent attorney and asked if she must pay this - the answer from the eminent attorney also came back YES accompanied by a bill for $25. (a true story, honest, for she had to pay both bills). The moral is do not ask eminent people unless for pay; use the unwanted, never-ending, always present, often wrong advice from friends that is nevertheless FREE.

Teen Club To Elect Officers March 22

The Teen Club of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church held their meeting Monday evening, March 16. The club presented the gold and yellow skirts and sweaters they had helped purchase for the Cheerleaders of the school, also the special school plaque, which the club bought from the Sisters of the Poor. The plaque was presented to the school, March 17.

A trip to the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper Division was arranged for the Teen Club. The advisors and chaplains were Father Child, Mr. Zylstra and Mr. Newingham. The teenagers found the tour very interesting, and refreshments were served in the plant.

The next Teen Club meeting will be Sunday, March 22, at 1:30 p.m., in the basement of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church for all teenagers interested in enjoying the activities of this Teen Club. Officers will also be elected at this meeting.

Rites Join Couple From Northville-South Lyons

Mrs. Leon E. Short, Jr.

Sandra Louise Stillwell and Leon Edward Short, Jr. were united in marriage March 14 at the First United Presbyterian Church in South Lyons with Rev. Faze Larudee officiating.

Sandra, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Stillwell of Northville, wore a gown of white chintilly lace with a soft v-neckline and wrist-length pointed sleeves, with a chapel length train. Her tulle veil cascaded from a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls given to her by the groom.

Accompanied by Mrs. Carlton Tiez at the organ, Roger Williams sang "I Love You Truly", "Oh Promise Me" and the "Lord's Prayer" for the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Short of 221 Whipple Blvd., South Lyons, are the parents of the groom.

Vera Avery was the maid of honor wearing a blue nylon chiffon with a sabinra neckline, and sister-in-law of the bride, Pat Stillwell, was a bridesmaid along with Gail Heinz and Barbara England, sister of the groom. They were gowned in shrimp-colored nylon chiffon. All of the attendants wore large picture hats.

Gary Tregman was the best man with Jim Stillwell, Ray Stillwell, brothers of the bride, and Dewy Holten, as ushers.

After the candlelight service a reception was held in the church parlor for 200 guests.

On March 7 Mrs. W. Gould and Mrs. Terry accompanied by Loren Gould flew to Clearwater, Florida. Mrs. Gould and Mrs. Terry will remain a month. Loren flew back Wednesday. This was Mrs. Terry's first airplane trip. On March 7 she celebrated her 92nd birthday.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, March 18 from the Schrader Funeral Home for John James Oliver, Sr., who died at 10 a.m. Monday at the Whitehall Convalescent Home. He was 72.

Mr. Oliver, a retired farmer, moved here nine years ago from Fowlerville. He had been ill two years.

Born August 13, 1886 in Nankin Township, he was the son of William H. and Jane (Speck) Oliver. He is survived by his widow, Angie, and the following relatives:

Four daughters, Mrs. Gladys Hayes of Livonia, Mrs. Jane West of Plymouth, Mrs. Ruth Carr of Birmingham, Mrs. Hazel Bessey, Wayne; three sons, John Oliver, Jr., of Fowlerville, Leslie McCoy of Spokane, Wash., and Jerry Loge of Plymouth.

There are also three sisters, Mrs. Maude Stewart of Arcadia, Calif., Mrs. Maybelle Robinson of Highland Park, Mrs. Florence Williams of Ferndale; a brother, Roy Oliver of Plant City, Fla.; 14 grandchildren and five great grandchildren. A son and sister preceded him in death.

Rev. David L. Rieder of First Baptist Church officiated at services. Interment was in Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

PRACTICING their script for their one act production of "Xingu," are members of the Drama Group of the A.A.U.W. 1-r Mrs. Francis Beals, Mrs. Lawrence Truesdell, Mrs. Clara Schoemen and Mrs. Henry Walch. Others taking parts in the play at the club's main meeting March 19 are Mrs. Richard Tritz, Mrs. Frederick Stobbe, Mrs. Gordon Vetal, and Mrs. W. V. Clarke.

Parkview Circle Views Film

The meeting of the Parkview Circle Civic Association was held Friday, March 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Vincent. Mr. Robert Fitzner presided in the absence of Martin Kennedy. The minutes were read by Edna Herig and the treasurer's report read by Joe Quinlan. A thank you was given to the members who donated blood for Walter Lake, hospitalized for a serious operation.

It was announced also that Mrs. Rosemarie Kennedy is hospitalized and in traction due to an accident. After the meeting refreshments were served. Films entitled "The Atom Has Come to Town" plus a film on Canadian wildlife, "Hunting With a Camera," were shown.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Battle, 325 Parkview Drive, April 3 at 8 p.m.

Betty and husband, Bud Krumm, daughters, Geraldine and Jeannie and son Gary had been invited to dinner. The surprise party followed with a delicious buffet supper for the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gotard, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Young and daughter Janet, Mrs. Hil-da Barnes, Miss Marian Krumm, Mr. William Challas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaw, Mr. Robert Gaw, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Skolund of Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McBride and Mr. and Mrs. James Finelli of Dearborn enjoyed the surprise party.

Rocks Lose Game As Eagles Pull Stall

Plymouth's climb up the winner's ladder was stopped Wednesday as Romulus overpowered the Rocks in the last three minutes of play to win 61-57.

A controlled stall by Romulus late in the fourth quarter, lasting for almost two minutes, was more than the local courtmen could cope with. Going into this fourth stanza the Rocks held a ten point lead, 48-38.

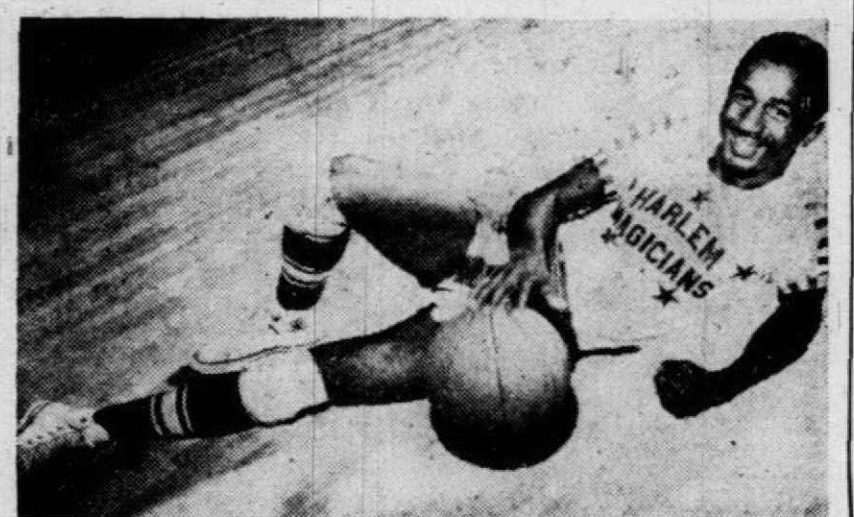

Dr. James A. Naismith, who invented the game of basketball in 1891, would be startled at the changes the Harlem Magicians have made in the sport of the bouncing ball.

Saturday night, March 28th, Plymouth will again see the famed court jesters as they play the Boston Shamrocks in the high school gym.

Harlem Magicians Play March 28th

Dr. James A. Naismith, who invented the game of basketball in 1891, would be startled at the changes the Harlem Magicians have made in the sport of the bouncing ball.

Saturday night, March 28th, Plymouth will again see the famed court jesters as they play the Boston Shamrocks in the high school gym.

This season the Magicians are marking their fifth anniversary. As in the past, they will display their trademark, clowning, as they mix it up with the Shamrocks. The Shamrocks, billed as one of the outstanding independent teams, is composed of former college cage stars.

Probably three of the better known Harlem members are Marques Haynes, Josh Grider and Sam "Boom" Wheeler. Haynes for his dribbling, Grider for his all around ability and Wheeler for his array of comic routines and gags. "Boom" has played this role for fourteen years and according to him, "plans to be active 'til the end of time."

As in the past, the Jaycees are responsible for bringing the Harlem Magicians to this area. The game is slated for 8 p.m. but the pre-game clowning will start at 7:30. Many times this pre-game bit of fun has proven to warm up the crowd and condition them for what is to follow. The doors will be open at 6 p.m.

Advance tickets can be bought at the following stores: Davis and Lent, Blunk's Furniture, Jack's Burger, Pizza Pete, Dodge Drug Co. and Community Drug Store and from any Jaycee member.

By LEE SECHLER

The swimming team was unable to bring home any points from the state meet, but they turned in their fine display of ability. The tankers equalled their own best time. But when you swim against the entire state of Michigan, teams that swim twelve months of the year, you can expect to lose a few positions.

Track practice started Monday evening with about 65 hopeful runners turning out for the first night.

From all the talk, it sounds as if baseball practice is slated for late this week. Starting with the pitchers and catchers.

Here are the individual scoring totals logged by the Varsity basketball squad:

Player	Reg. Season	Tournament
Egloff	205	32
Schultheiss	125	11
Sparkman	65	6
Runge	55	0
Ralston	43	0
Wells	30	0
Argo	19	16
LaRoche	15	0
Thompson	13	19
Turkett	10	0
Hubert	8	2
Urhart	3	0
Mynatt	0	13
Salan	1	0
Total	592	99

In the thirteen game regular season the opponents of the Rocks scored a total of 706 points. For tournament play it was 89.

The reserve team fared better, as they scored 537 points in twelve games and had 501 tallies lodged against them.

Some of the players listed above have scored more points as they played both varsity and reserve ball. But this is varsity only.

Lewis Brynat of Romulus has an eye for making baskets, no matter where they may be. In the third quarter of the game Wednesday night, he managed to sink the ball in one of the practice nets. You know the ones, on the side of the regular basket and at right angles to it.

Conservation Notes

LANSING, Feb. — Michigan's Conservation Department — faced with a Game and Fish Protection Fund deficit of $84,781 at the onset of the 1958-59 fiscal year — has again tightened its budget belt in hopes of restoring the Fund to the "black" for 1959-60.

This latest cost-reduction effort amounts to a saving on savings since restricted Department programs were previously self-imposed early in 1958.

Game and fish programs, law enforcement and administration will absorb the cut-back of an estimated $323,037.

The bulk of the savings — $102,630 — will be sought by leaving vacant positions unfilled. Reduction of contracted services, supplies and materials is expected to shave off another $47,570 while deferral of equipment purchases is aimed at saving $11,085.

Other cuts include: research, $26,721; public fishing sites, $23,200; and lake and stream improvement, $25,805.

History of 1836 Hotel In Canton Township Uncovered

Esther Sprengel
GL 3-0194

Since we started the articles on the Township history, I have received some interesting questions on some of the data, which of course, if I can find the answers, will make the articles more interesting. So if you disagree with some of the information, or have anything to add, don't hesitate to let me know.

I received a call last Saturday, from a very nice lady, Mrs. Francis Gorton. Although Mrs. Gorton does not live in our Township, her family owned property surrounding the area and she is acquainted with many of the folks in the articles. Mrs. Gorton resides in Plymouth and I was pleased with the information she furnished to help me secure more Township history.

Quite a few people expressed their enjoyment in the interview with Mrs. Anna Bronson of Ford Rd. Some wondered about Mrs. Bronson's maiden name. I called Mrs. Bronson and she stated her maiden name was Zander.

Mrs. Howard Salley, a resident of Ford Rd., called to ask the location of the so-called Old Sheldon Cemetery. Mrs. Salley stated that she can remember her father, Mr. Fred Palmer (now deceased) telling her about an uncle, who died at infancy (about 90 years ago), being the first person buried in the Sheldon Cemetery. In fact, she was told they had to dig out potatoes before they could bury her uncle. As to the location of the Old Sheldon Cemetery, I am planning to secure a map on sections, plots, etc. and will try to clarify the exact location of some of the landmarks.

I know for a fact, Mrs. Salley comes from a family of longtime residence. Mrs. Salley was born in the Township and comes from a line of prominent Township farmers. Her father, Fred Palmer, was born and raised in the Township, and she has two brothers, Warren and Theron Palmer, and two nieces and five nephews still residing here. In fact, there are three generations of Palmers still living here.

Mr. Warren Palmer, his two sons, Russell and wife Jo, and two children, Richard, wife Joan and their three children.

I know it is in bad taste to talk about one-self, and perhaps presumptuous to think anyone is interested any way, but then there just might be a sympathetic ear out there among you mothers. While I'm trying to type the column, my two young Gallimore scientists are busy in the kitchen, and I'm sure their teachers would be proud of them. The 10 year old is busy trying to prove different materials make physical and chemical changes. This experiment involves taking sugar, placing it in a metal container until it melts, which then turns bitter, experiment a success. But will someone tell me how to get the red paint off my burners caused from the top of my coffee jar, and how do I keep the coffee fresh without a top. This experiment is over, but this seven year old is insisting upon putting a piece of tissue in a milk bottle lighting it and setting an egg on top of the bottle and thus seeing egg pop into bottle. Well he did it, now we have an egg in a bottle (bottle worth 15c), but how do you get it out. I know we need science, and I'm all for progress, but how do we moms keep from turning grey over-night, and perhaps this has already happened to one of you moms out there. All in the interest of science.

The boys of troop No. 298 are still looking for a buyer for their log-cabin, or better yet a solution on how their log cabin can be preserved, and a monument to their splendid workmanship, and yet increase their treasury to the amount of $50.00 to aid in their camping trips. The cabin involved a lot of work and carries a lot of pride in its walls. Once again if you are interested, you can call Mrs. Thorpe, GL 3-5059, or Mrs. Wiles, GL 3-3087.

While we are on the subject of our boy scout troop No. 298 (which is always an interesting subject to be on), the young men with the aid of their leaders and ladies of the new Women's Auxiliary of the scouts, have now definite plans for their annual Pancake Supper. The supper will be April 8, 1959 at the Geddes Rd., Township Hall. The supper will be served between the hours of 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. Donations will be 75c for everyone 12 years of age or over and 50c for children six through 11, and 25c for children under six, except infants, who will be invited to help mom or dad with their plate. The menu will include pancakes, sausages, coffee for adults, and milk for children. Mrs. Wiles informs me that you can have all the pancakes you can eat. Tickets will be available from any of the scouts of troop No. 298. The proceeds of the supper will help send the scouts of the troop on their summer camp-outs.

Another reminder to all you talented people within reading distance of the Canton Township column, or we might add the Plymouth Mail. If you are an amateur with talent, come out and try for one of the three cash prizes. If you know of anyone with talent, please call Mrs. Ruth Wiles, at GL 3-3087. The Canton Community Club members are eager for a good turn-out. Admission 25c for children 12 and under, 50c for everyone over 12.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dozier, 1600 N. Beck, are going to leave our township soon. I called Mrs. Dozier upon their return from a Florida vacation and she informed me of their plans to make their home in West Palm Beach, Fla. They already have a home in Florida and are eager to make the move as soon as possible. We are sorry to see them leave us, but wish them all the luck and happiness in their new surroundings.

I received another very pleasant call from Mrs. Eloise Campbell of Joy Rd. Mrs. Campbell stated she lives across the street from the Township, but reads the column. While recovering from the flu, she was reading the column for the week when she came across the name of a relative of hers. The relative, being the first teacher of the Truesdell School and although Mrs. Campbell knew her aunt taught school, stated she never knew which school. Mrs. Campbell also said her mother, Mrs. Henry Travis, a long time resident of the township might be able to furnish us with some Township history. Mrs. Campbell can also remember another aunt, Mrs. Elzora Harmon, telling about attending the opening of the first Township Hotel, which I have a little information on. The John

Wiles family, proudly boast of having four generations attending the Canton Center School. Mr. and Mrs. John Wiles' two children Diana and Tommy composed the fourth generation to attend the last of the one room school houses in Wayne County. Mr. Wiles, his mother Nora Cole Wiles, her mother Anna Cole and father Albert Cole all attended the Canton Center School. The school used to house six grades, but is now used exclusively for beginners. The home that Mr. and Mrs. John Wiles and children reside in, is approximately 150 years old. Mrs. Wiles stated she has heard the history of her home many times from her husband's family. Originally, the dwelling was a log cabin, a bit east of where it now stands. The cabin was moved to the present location and Communion will be administered at the Wednesday night service.

Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will have a series of sermons "Love Speaks from the Cross" to be given each night during Holy Week.

The Calvary Baptist Church will have the Chorales from Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music for their Good Friday Service at 7:45. Easter Sunday night at 7:00 a color film will be shown produced by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Dr. William Culbertson is the narrator of the story.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church will hold a special musical on Easter Sunday night to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Salvation Army Post of Plymouth will hold a special Sunrise service at 7:30 with a fellowship breakfast at 8:15. Soldiers and members of the Salvation Army congregation will observe a capsule Lent self-denial program during the Holy Week.

St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church will hold a Good Friday Service from 1:30 until 2:30 p.m. with Rev. Edgar Hoenecke presiding. Maundy Thursday at 7:30 there will be a communion service and a special Sunrise service at 7:00 with another Community Service at 10:00 a.m.

Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church will have the Procession of the Palm service at the 8:00 a.m. mass on Palm Sunday and a special Mass at 7:30 p.m. on Holy Thursday. There will also be a midnight Mass on Holy Saturday that will begin at 11:00 p.m. and will be the first Easter Sunday Mass.

The First Baptist Church will hold an Easter morning service in addition to their 11:00 a.m. service at 8:30 a.m. They will hold an Adult Baptismal Service at 7:30 p.m. Easter Sunday and a Candlelight Service on Maundy Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

rooms were added on in sections. The living room is the original, the bathroom used to be the pantry, and the closet is now a bedroom. A kitchen was added and also a second floor. The stones forming the basement are hand-set and the beams supporting the house are hand hewn. The walls of the basement are 18" thick. Mr. Wiles and his mother were born in the house.

It's a happy birthday to Mrs. Edward Bretzlaff (Marge) on Sunday, March 15, and another happy birthday to her son Tommy, March 19. Tom has reached the happy age of 16. Many many more happy birthdays to you both.

The history book which has been furnishing a great deal of our information up to date, winds the Township history up with a little item about the original first Township hotel. The site, I believe is the present West General Store, but we shall have to look into this further. The article was titled "Cherry Hill" and went on to say: This locality of section 19, was formerly known as the Ridge, from the rise of the ground on which it is situated. About 1860 (99 yrs. ago) a man named Hitchcock built a hotel here, and from the number of cherry trees growing near-by, he named his place the Cherry Hill House, and thus the name originated. The first beginnings of the Methodist Episcopal church of this place dated from 1836. In 1848 the society was formally named the Crandall Church, after Mr. Crandall, the first class leader. The society has occupied two different buildings; the first cost $600 and was dedicated in the fall of 1848. The present church building was dedicated February 9, 1882, and the cost $2,500. Among the earlier ministers were the Rev. Messrs. Steel, Bradley, Sprague, King, Staples, Hall, D. Burns, Wm. Fox, Adam Minnis, S. E. Warren, J. F. Davidson, Wm. C. Way, Buchanan, J. W. Kellogg, Wm. Hevener, C. C. Yemans, R. Bird, T. Wakefield, Scotland, Geo. Smith, S. Caulkins and J. K. Gillett. The Society has always been connected with the Sheldon Church, and the names of the ministers since 1871 will be found in connection with the history of that church.

Township Democrats To Review Platform

A platform address stating the aims of candidacies in the Plymouth Township election will be given by supervisor candidate Orville Tugate at the Plymouth Democratic Club meeting this Friday night at 8 p.m.

Held in the Grange Hall on Union St., the meeting is also expected to have Congresswoman Martha Griffith as a guest.

Tugate will introduce the Democratic candidates for township offices. The general public is invited to attend and meet the candidates.

Charles Root, Jr., is chairman of the club.

Dwight Eisenhower received 442 electoral votes to Adlai Stevenson's 89 in the 1952 election.

Then there were three short lines, titled "Tonquish Creek" and went thus: This is a station on the F. & P.M. R.R. and is named after the Indian Chief who was killed near this place. The little information of Tonquish Creek, leads us to wish there was more information available.

Next week we shall tell you a little about some of the original and prominent persons in our Township of yesterday.

The Cherry Hill School's P.T.A., would like to invite everyone to their square dance party, scheduled April 10 at the Superior Twp. Hall.

Report on Many Salem Club Activities

By Mrs. Herbert Famulinez, FI. 9-0924

"Go-Getters" 4-H Club will hold their last meeting of the winter club and will start their summer club on April 9 at the home of David and Martha Lutchka of Five Mile Rd. On March 5 the meeting was held at the home of Cathy Van Bonn, all members but two were present. The girls enrolled in sewing will hold revue at the Dexter High School on Monday, March 23. The county will hold two revues this year, the other being held March 17th at the Saline High School. At both these events, 10 frsts, 10 seconds, and 10 thirds will be selected to compete at Ann Arbor High April 1, along with the advanced sewers. On March 31, all winter projects will be placed on exhibit at Ann Arbor for two days. All members of the "Go-Getters" said they would be ready and would hand in written reports on March 13. After the meeting was adjourned, songs were enjoyed under the leadership of Cathy Van Bonn, recreation with Susanne Cort, Martha Lutchka, and Paula Sibary. The games seemed to run to hunting wild bears and lions. Cathy and her Mother served the group potato chips, punch, and cookies.

The Worden Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Tourtelotte of Five Mile Rd., on March 6, with 16 members present. They were very happy to have Frank Geiger, their chairman back. Mr. Geiger has been absent due to illness. Mrs. Tourtelotte served delicious dessert and coffee.
Mrs. Ethel Claire Brown of W. Six Mile Rd., was hurt on Friday in an accident at Five Mile Rd. and Sheldon Rds. Mrs. Brown had stitches taken in her leg. She is presently staying with her daughter, Mrs. C.J. Hardesty in Dearborn.
Monday evening the Salem Hobby Club met at the home of Mrs. Adolph Trapp with 10 attending. Lesson was on Swedish Embroidery given by Mrs. Trapp. Dessert and coffee was served later in the evening.
Tuesday evening the Sophomore Class of the South Lyon High School held a family potluck dinner at the school. Following the dinner, two companies displayed class rings.
An Old Maid Bridal Shower was held on Tuesday evening in honor of Sandra Stillwell, at the home of Mrs. Ford Schroeder of W. Six Mile Rd. It was a come as you are party with funny games and gifts and was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Schroeder served cake and coffee.
Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bolgos of Plymouth Rd., announced the birth of a son, William Herbert, born on Monday, March 9 at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor.
Richard McKinley Jr., age 2, was admitted at the University Hospital on Tuesday morning for surgery. Dickie returned home on Thursday.
Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Honke of Plymouth announce the birth of a daughter, Yvonne Marie, born on Wednesday, March 11. The baby weighed 6 pounds, 12 oz.
Mr. George Kelly of Seven Mile Rd., has returned home after being in the University Hospital for several weeks.
Mrs. Carleton Hardesty celebrated her birthday on Thursday, March 12. She was treated by her husband to see the play "My Fair Lady", at the Riviera Theatre and dinner at Paul's Steak House.
Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hardesty of Joy Road, announce the birth of a daughter, Rhonda Lee, born on March 9 at Mt. Carmel Hospital.
The Pre-school Mothers Club of the Geer School met March 9 at the home of Mary Jane Ling of Warren with eight attending. The women made favors for the children at the University Hospital. The hostess served sandwiches, cookies and coffee.
The Suburban Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Shear of North Territorial Road on March 12 with 27 answering roll call. Mr. Herbert Conant chaired the meeting. Mrs. Charles Steel led the singing. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Steele the Secretary. Mrs. Sylvester Shear and Mrs. Harlow Ingall attended the Women's Committee. April meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Brummel. Mrs. Shear and her daughters served cake, ice cream, coffee and tea.
The N.E.W. Farm Bureau met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stockton of Angle Rd., on Thursday evening, March 12 with eight attending. Leo Van Bonn reported on a special meeting held in Lansing. The following proposals were discussed by the 604 delegates: (1) To change Farm Bureau dues to $20. The delegates amended the proposal to be $12, instead of $20 to be effective in 1960. (2) To change the County delegates to one delegate for each 200 members. Delegates voted to retain the one delegate for each 100 members. (3) Fire Insurance Board wanted to open insurance to the public and the delegates agreed; the Board of Directors to open insurance to general public, if so desired.

Meeting was adjourned and refreshments served by the hostess.
Mrs. Bessie Honke returned home Friday from Florida, where she had gone to attend the funeral of Darrel White, her brother-in-law.
Sunday, Mrs. Lloyd Birkelbaw Jr. and daughters, Mary Beth and Ruth with Mr. Lloyd Birkelbaw Sr. attended a birthday dinner in honor of Mary Beth and her cousin Randy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Birkelbaw of Plymouth, in whose home the dinner was held. A wonderful ham dinner was served by the hostess. Following the dinner the group played ping pong.
Birthdays this week: Mary Beth Birkelbaw will be 12 on Monday, March 16. Steven Baggett was nine on Monday. Winifred Campbell had a party at her home on Friday evening with 35 guests attending.
Harry Atchinson was taken to the hospital in Northville on Saturday morning.
Tom Dolan of Chubb Rd., was admitted Monday at the University Hospital for an appendectomy. Anyone wishing to send cards, Tom is on the third floor, West.
James L. Dolan of 9535 Chubb Rd., was reported doing well at the University Hospital, after being hit by a car driven by Anthony Kresge, 21, of South Lyon. The Sheriff's office reported that the boy ran into the path of Kresge's car, which was being driven west on Seven Mile. He got out of a parked car and stepped behind it. The mishap occurred at Seven Mile and Chubb Rds. Jimmie received fractures of both legs and internal injuries. He is on fourth floor, West if you wish to send cards.

FIRE CHIEF WANTED

BY THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN

Applicant must have at least five year's experience as a fireman, including at least three years supervisory experience in a municipal fire department. Age: 25-42 years. High school graduate. Salary range: $6805-$7836. Applications may be obtained from the City Manager, City Hall, Plymouth, Michigan. Applications must be completed and returned to the City Manager no later than April 30, 1959. Indicate on application all courses completed in fire fighting training or related courses of study. Applicants will be required to take a competitive written examination and an oral examination.

Is the Lower Level of a Tri-Level the Main Level?

Whether the lower level of a split-level house is part of the main floor or whether it's something else was one of the questions before the city commission Monday night as the much-discussed Sy-mar Subdivision was back in discussion again. Actually it was an appeal from a Park Lane Subdivision home builder that was being discussed when the Sy-mar home was brought up by a citizen. The builder had asked the commission, which also serves as the building appeal board, to permit a seven foot, six inch ceiling for a downstairs home instead of the required eight foot ceiling.

The builder wanted the lower ceiling to bring the two-floor home down a level closer to the one floor and one-half floor homes nearby. Building Inspector Charles Thompson said that he could not approve the change, but recommended it because the city's new building code, expected to be approved in the future, provides for the lower ceiling limit.

The Building Officers Conference of America Code, used by Plymouth Township and most other communities in the area, uses the seven foot six ceiling.

One member of the audience, John Truer, who is also one of the two "sticker" candidates for city commission, asked the commission about the Sy-mar Subdivision model home that has a seven foot six ceiling. Truer is a resident of the nearby Maple-croft Subdivision, and he and some of his neighbors have been arguing against the type of homes being built there.

Thompson answered that the present city building code requires eight foot ceilings only on main floor rooms. Rooms in the model's main floor, he asserted, are eight feet, but the lower level is half below ground level and includes a recreation room. Thompson said that he would not interpret this as a main floor room, but that it would probably need a court case to decide who is right.

Mayor Harold Guenther declared that the Sy-mar question had no bearing upon the Park Lane home. A vote was taken and the appeal to allow the lower ceiling was granted. The Sy-mar Subdivision did have another matter on the agenda, however. It dealt with the subdivision ordinance's requirement to have all improvements installed either before the plat is approved or to have bond posted. Manager Albert Glassford explained a complicated method of transacting the proposition, to which two commissioners expressed their objections until a plat is approved. The commission voted to table the decision until the next meeting.

In other business, the commission voted to extend the salary of volunteer fireman Jack Price through the month of March. Price, seriously injured in the Daisy Manufacturing fire last May, has been receiving regular fireman wages for compensation. There had been no provision in the personnel policy rules about disability for part-time employees, so the commission has approved the full-time salary from month-to-month. The March payment will be the last.

Two weeks ago the commission approved a new provision granting part-time employees compensation of a starting, full-time employee for a period of not more than 60 working days.

Manager Glassford said that Mrs. Price has been offered a job as a communications clerk at city hall and she has accepted.

Report Tells of School Taxes

1953-54 school year, was $278.73 — or $110.12 less. The increase has been 40 percent. The 10-district average five years ago was $140.64 per pupil, or 47 percent less than today.

According to the report, the principle cause of the increased costs in the Plymouth district has been the increases in teacher salaries, in line with the general trend. "The resulting pay scale is about in line with the median of all Detroit area districts," the report declared.

Also tackled by the committee was the comparison of tax bills today with those in previous years.

They took typical city and Plymouth township taxpayers who owned homes assessed at $5,000. Tax bills for these typical taxpayers have risen substantially in recent years, the committee found, "due almost entirely to the state equalization factors applied to the local assessments to bring them up to a state-wide standard."

The school tax rate in mills was 17.95 in the 1953-54 period, and then went to 21.95 during 1954-55, a point where it has remained since.

These are the comparisons of tax bills for the $5,000 assessed homes:

Year	City of Plymouth State Equalization Tax Factor	Tax
1953-54	0	$ 89.75
1954-55	0	109.75
1955-56	8 per cent	118.53
1956-57	8 per cent	118.53
1957-58	22 per cent	133.90
1958-59	42 per cent	155.85

Year	Township of Plymouth	Tax
1953-54	4 per cent	93.34
1954-55	4 per cent	144.14
1955-56	12 per cent	122.92
1956-57	12 per cent	122.92

NEWS BEAT

Police Chief Kenneth Fisher is this week having a hard time drafting a letter to a group of Plymouth Colony youngsters who volunteered their services as retrievers of stranded pets. Dave Jones, 11712 Priscilla Lane, was author of a letter making the offer to rescue pets "from roof tops, drownings and other things." Boys and girls from 10 to 14 are in the group. The letter said, "If you get a call, you call us and we will send a patrol of 3 kids on bikes as fast as we can." The service would start June 30 and would end August 30, plus Christmas vacation. Hours would be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and the youngsters would travel in Plymouth Colony, Hough Sub and on Sheldon as far as Farmer St. As much as the police appreciate the offer, the chief will have to point out asking such young folks to take such risks would be undesirable.

AT LAST: There is no record of the Burroughs Corp. ever being officially welcomed when it opened its plant here in March 1938. Saturday's celebration could be called a long-delayed official welcome... Even before Saturday's event, Burroughs officials have expressed their happiness with the wide-spread publicity the affair has already received. All three Detroit papers have carried stories... Business Week and other publications and media have also expressed their interest.

AWARD: Plymouth Mail photographer Lee Sechler won an honorable mention in the Michigan Press Association's photographic contest held last weekend in Lansing. His sports photo of a cheerleader on a trampoline won the award.

BIG BLOW: Last Sunday's windstorm that kicked along at 55 miles an hour was responsible for lots of minor damage here. Plate glass windows were blown in at A & P, Allison Chevrolet and the former Beglinger Olds building. Phone wires were down, limbs fell and any number of storm doors blown off their hinges.

TV TIME: Plymouth's approaching celebration of "Burroughs Week" will be described on Channel 7 television (WXYZ-TV) by Mayor Guenther at 10:45 p.m. Friday. His Honor will be interviewed by Dick Femmel on the station's regular newscast. And at 8:45 a.m. on Channel 7, Chamber of Commerce Manager Don Millikin will dress up like a Pilgrim and read the resolution "proclaiming" this to be Burroughs Week.

OLD SOUND: The real old-fashioned circus calliope has just about vanished, except in museums, but one will be playing in downtown Plymouth Saturday. Detroit Edition sends it out for special occasions. "Burroughs Week" will be occasion enough.

PUT IT TO THE TEST!

New Column and Writer for North Plymouth Area

IRENE CANNING
GL. 3-1244
(Covering the area bounded by Northville Road, Hines Parkway, Schoolcraft to Five Mile Rd.)
Hi Neighbors:
Glad to see you scanning

your paper for the neighborhood news.
Ronda Jean, daughter of the Ron Micol of Schoolcraft Rd. celebrated her first birthday last week. At the time of this writing she had the flu, and was unable to enjoy her very first birthday cake. However, her brothers Peter, who is five and Eric three years old, helped her dismantle the cake. Her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kloppenstone of Plymouth were also on hand to help her to celebrate. We do hope she is fully recovered by now.
Last Monday evening Mrs. Jean Micol, who is chairman of the program planning committee of the Riverside Park Church of God, Livonia, entertained the following committee members: Mrs. Betty Jayska, Mrs. Wilma Majors, Mrs. Garnetta Vaughn and Mrs. Vionne Wood. Also present were Mrs. Gerald Elston, Mr. Melvin Newberry and daughter Brenda.
Farrand School News:
Mrs. Nona Anderson, School Secretary, advises us that Den Mothers are urgently needed for a Cub Scout troop which is in the stage of organizing in this area. Some of the boys are meeting at the present time under the leadership of Cliff Jones at the Starkweather School. Do you have a boy interested in Scouting? Do you have some spare time to donate to help these boys enjoy the thrill of being Boy Scouts? If so, please, contact the school secretary and they will give you further information on this.

Tuesday, March 24, the P.T.A. will have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Arvid Anderson give a talk and show color slides on "Touring Western Europe." This promises to be a very interesting program.

The boys and girls of the sixth grade held a very successful Bake Sale at the school last Monday during Parent conferences. The proceeds are to be used to help defray expenses for the camp the children will attend for a week in May.

Mrs. Betty Maher, our P.T.A. president, tells us that Farrand School is sponsoring a Bake Sale March 28 at the A & P store out on Ann Arbor Road. The Mothers promise to have lots of goodies there on that day. The proceeds from this sale are to be used to help send the emotionally disturbed children from the Plymouth area to the University of Michigan Fresh Air camp. This camp lasts for seven weeks. There will be psychiatrists and teachers specially trained to help these children to overcome their handicap. These special training classes in the camp will also help the children to fit into the programs of their local community. Please parents do your best to help by donating and buying for this worthy local community cause.

Mr. Howe, Physical Training teacher, is in charge of Gym night every Thursday at 7:30. Everyone is invited. Men, women and children all ages. There have been large turnouts of the men who like to play Volley ball. There is no fee for this recreation night for the family.
This is your column North Plymouthites. Please call your news of interest in your neighborhood to GL. 3-1244. See you in print next week.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS
Plan Birthday Party for American Legion
Honor to the American Legion on its 40th birthday will be paid by the women and men of the Passage-Gayde Post and Auxiliary at a birthday potluck supper at the Veterans Community Center on Sunday, March 22. They will meet at 4:30 p.m. and plan to eat at 5 p.m. Mrs. Fern Burleson, Auxiliary President, has announced, and their families are invited to attend.

Completion of 40 years of service to America by The American Legion will be marked by the Legion's birthday this year," said Mrs. Burleson. "This year we hope to make our birthday party for the Legion Post something very special to commemorate that March in 1919 when representatives from the victorious American forces in Europe met in Paris to found a veterans' organization. The three days of their meeting in Paris, March 15 to 17, are important dates in American history.

"We of the American Legion Auxiliary are very proud of The American Legion for the way its members have served in peace as in war," and we hope to show our appreciation of Legion services at our birthday party Sunday afternoon. Frances Langford, who sang to more than 5,000,000 servicemen on fighting fronts all over the globe during World War II and Korea, will herald her return to the entertainment world with a salute to the 40th anniversary of The American Legion during an hour spectacular on Sunday, March 15 (NBC-TV, 10:00 - 11:00 p.m. EST). I hope all of you watched this program.

The Auxiliary's next business meeting is Thursday, March 26th, 8:00 p.m., at the Veterans Community Center. The Zone Oratorical was held at Crosly School, Reese, Michigan, on Friday, March 13. Winning the contest was Joe Achard of Flint, and second place—Charles Hix of Northville.

Maxine Kunz, 17 District President, Mildred Hewer, 17th District Rehabilitation Chairman, Emily Mosher and Florence Smily (Livonia) attended the Hospitality Party held for the patients in the VA Hospital and American Legion Hospital at Battle Creek on Friday, March 13. They served hot coffee, rolls, oranges, and also distributed cigarettes. This was jointly with the 16 and 18 Districts. On Wednesday the Lloyd H. Green Auxiliary of Northville had a potluck supper honoring their past presidents. Maxine Kunz, our 17 District President, was Guest of Honor. The supper was held in the home of Mrs. Johnson.

Action by Congress to provide more adequate aid for disabled war veterans, and widows and orphans of veterans, is being urged by the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Gertrude Simonetti, Legislative Chairman of the local Auxiliary Unit. A number of bills are before Congress to carry out American Legion recommendations.

Judith Ann Day

Engagement Announced

JUDITH ANN DAY'S engagement was announced by her parents, former residents of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Day of Vassar, Michigan to James W. Jimmerson, son of Mr. W. C. Jimmerson, 371 Ann St. of Plymouth. The young couple will be married May 23 at the First Baptist Church in Plymouth.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Letters addressed simply "Goodwill, Memphis" or "I want to find, Memphis" are delivered by the post office here directly to radio station WDIA.

The Bake Sale Chairman reported the results of last week's bake sale was very successful. All the members were extremely generous in their contributions of baked goodies, cakes, and tasty dishes to sell. We wish to thank all those who helped make this sale such a huge success.

Next Saturday, March 21, is our "Spring Supper". There will be three servings at 5 p.m., 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. You may obtain your tickets at the Grange meeting, Thursday evening, at Charlie McConnell's Barber Shop, or Dunning's Store. For reservations call Mrs. Squire, GL. 3-3030. Bring your friends and neighbors and enjoy this first day of Spring Supper! The Committee has planned entertainment following the supper.

Our meeting tonight, March 19, is Youth Night and the program is in charge of Virginia Fehligh. Mrs. Fehligh will have members of the 4-H Club and Girl Scouts as guests for the evening. The program will begin at 7:45 p.m. before the regular meeting.

The 85th Anniversary of the Grange will be celebrated at our scheduled meeting, Thursday, April 2. It will be our usual potluck supper. We expect several out-of-town guests that evening and the members are asked to bring an extra dish or two. We will also honor Mr. and Mrs. Spicer, now Golden Sheaf members, who will become 50th year members at this time. Our program committee plans an interesting evening for all the special persons and events.

Just a reminder, the Sewing Contest closes on March 31. We hope to have all the garments and various types of sewing turned in at our April 2 meeting, at which time the judges will determine the "finest seamstress of the Grange". The entries are requested to send in their cards to Milly Rianas.

Here's What Happened at Plymouth's School Board

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Monday evening, February 9, 1959, in the faculty room of the Plymouth Community Junior High School at eight-fifteen o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker, Mr. Zoet and Administrative Assistant Blunk.

Also present: Mrs. Wathena Miller, Mrs. Dorothy Davison, Mrs. Elaine Frederick, Mrs. Thelma Van Buren, Mr. Roy Van Buren, Mr. William Davison, Mr. Lee Boatwright, Mr. Chester Macer, and Mr. Jerry Bakewell.

President Stecker called the meeting to order at 8:15 p.m.

The minutes of the last regular and intervening special meetings were approved as read.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Zoet to approve the bills as submitted for payment:

General Fund:

Voucher 4933, Payroll January 16, 1959	$ 71,548.87
Voucher 4934, R. James Mitchell	150.00
Voucher 4935, Nat'l Bank of Detroit	50,337.32
Voucher 4936, Nat'l Bank of Detroit	200,000.00
Voucher 4937, Payroll January 30, 1959	73,743.08
Voucher 4938, Michigan Nat'l Bank	400,000.00
Voucher 4939, Nat'l Bank of Detroit	153,314.80
Vouchers 4940 to 5130, inclusive	81,210.82

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Mr. Stecker read a communication from Mr. Harold Guenther, Mayor of the City of Plymouth, inviting the Board of Education to attend the meeting February 9, 1959, to present the City Commission's plan for a Central Business District. The secretary was instructed to write a letter of regret to Mr. Guenther, inasmuch as this date conflicted with the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education.

Proposed boundaries for those students in grade 9 scheduled to attend the Plymouth Community Junior High School during the school year, 1959-60, were presented for discussion and consideration.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to establish the following boundaries for those ninth grade students who will attend the Plymouth Community Junior High School during the school year 1959-60:

1. South side of Ann Arbor Trail from the east boundary to Haggerty Road.
2. Both sides of Ann Arbor Trail from Haggerty Road to Hamilton Street.
3. East side of Hamilton Street from Ann Arbor Trail to Wing Street.
4. South side of Wing and Elm Streets from Hamilton Street to Sheldon Road.
5. East side of Sheldon Road from Elm Street to Ann Arbor Road.
6. Both sides of Sheldon Road from Ann Arbor Road to south boundary of the school district.
7. South boundary of the school district east of Sheldon Road to the east boundary of the school district.
8. East boundary of the school district from the south boundary to Ann Arbor Trail.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Mrs. Dorothy Davison, representing a group of interested citizens of the Green Meadows subdivision, requested transportation for later elementary grade students from Green Meadows subdivision to Smith Elementary School. President Stecker stated the transportation policy of the Plymouth Community School District and requested Mr. Blunk to survey the area and work with the governmental agencies and citizens to further develop safety precautions for students crossing Ann Arbor Road.

Mrs. Wathena Miller inquired regarding the elective courses to be offered in grade 9 at the Plymouth Community Junior High School during the school year 1959-60. President Stecker explained that the same educational program for grade 9, with few exceptions, as class load and physical facilities warrant, would be offered at the Plymouth Community Junior High School and Plymouth High School.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Zoet to authorize the Superintendent of Schools and Administrative Assistant to attend the American Association of School Administrators' Convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey, February 14-18, 1959.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Kaiser to authorize the Superintendent of Schools to attend the Advanced Administrative Institute at Harvard University July 7-17, 1959.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

It was moved by Mr. Mitchell and seconded by Mr. Kaiser to approve the calendar for the school year 1959-60 as presented by the administrative staff.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Soth to authorize Mr. Blunk to proceed with the investigation of alterations and improvements at Plymouth High School as recommended by the Fire Marshall Division of the Michigan State Police.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Mrs. Hulsing read a communication from the School Community Planning Group.

The meeting adjourned at 11:05 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held on Monday evening, February 16, 1959, in the Plymouth Community Junior High School staff lounge at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet. Absent: Mr. Mitchell.

The meeting was called to order by President Stecker at 8:05 P.M.

The following recommendations from the Adult Education and Recreation Director, Herbert E. Woolweaver, were read:

"Recommendations for appointments to the Adult Education and Recreation Commission: City of Plymouth—

- Eber Readman, 1301 Maple Street
- Jack Gilles, 306 Adams Street
- Plymouth Township—
- Warren Worth, 51000 N. Territorial Road
- Robert Brown, 9990 South Main Street
- Canton Township—
- Esther Franklin, 47970 Gyde Road
- Northville Township—
- Lester Herter, 15359 Bradner Road, Re-appointment.

It was recommended at the last meeting of the Commission that the present members continue in office until July 1, 1959.

The above-named appointees are to take office as of July 1, 1959, but in the meantime will be invited to attend all Commission meetings.

It was further recommended that at the Commission meeting scheduled for March 11 a drawing be held to determine which term of office each appointed member will fill. The drawing will include two terms of one year each, two terms of two years each, and two terms of three years each.

The Board of Education will choose their representative, no recommendation from the Commission."

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Kaiser that the above recommendations be adopted.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Mr. Soth was appointed to be the representative from the Board of Education.

It was suggested that the newly appointed members to the Commission meet briefly with the Board of Education at their next regular meeting on March 9, 1959, that the Board could personally meet them and review their position. The Secretary was instructed to write an appropriate letter to the new appointees asking them to the Board meeting.

Mr. Kaiser reported on the Teacher-Board Committee meeting of Wednesday, February 11. The salary schedule was scrutinized.

It was moved by Mr. Zoet and seconded by Mr. Soth that the following policy be adopted: That a written job evaluation report on all probationary teachers be submitted every six months by the Superintendent of Schools to the Board of Education, and that a written recommendation as to the retention or dismissal of those same teachers be submitted at the end of the two year period prior to those teachers assuming tenure status.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Kaiser to call a special election on Monday, March 23, 1959, for the purpose of asking the school electors to approve the renewal for five years of the three (3) mill levy for operating purposes which was approved in 1954 for the years 1954 to 1958, both inclusive; period of renewal, 1959 to 1963, both inclusive; and that the superintendent of schools be authorized to appoint the election inspectors for the special school election to be held on March 23, 1959.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Letters were read from the architectural firms of Warren S. Holmes, Inc., Louis C. Kingscott & Associates, Inc., and S. T. Ickel, Jaroszewicz and Moody. After consideration discussion of the high schools visited on four Saturdays in December and January as indicative of the work done by the firms of Warren S. Holmes, Inc., Louis C. Kingscott & Associates, Inc., and Bennett and Straight, Inc., it was decided to ask the representative of Bennett and Straight, Inc., to come to the Board meeting on Monday, February 23, for further discussion.

It was moved by Mr. Soth and seconded by Mr. Kaiser that the meeting be adjourned at 10:55 P.M.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Monday evening, February 23, 1959, in the faculty room of the Plymouth Community Junior High School at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet; Mr. Isbister and Mr. Blunk.

Absent: Mr. Mitchell.

Also present: Mr. Coquillard and Mr. Straight of Bennett and Straight, Inc., Associated Architects and Engineers; Mr. Tripp, Mr. Hirzel and Mr. Young of Plymouth Community Junior Chamber of Commerce.

President Stecker called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

He welcomed Mr. Coquillard and Mr. Straight and indicated that the Board had under serious consideration the services of their firm in connection with the proposed new high school. He noted, also, that there were certain questions in the minds of board members which, in his judgment, should be clarified before proceeding further. Mr. Coquillard and Mr. Straight answered questions in regard to the volume and cost of preliminary work needed prior to the bond election, their experiences in handling projects of this type, and their willingness to work with the staff, the Board and citizens groups in planning for and planning of the new school.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Zoet that the architectural firm of Bennett and Straight, Inc., of Dearborn, Michigan, be retained under contract to do the architectural work on the proposed new high school in accordance with the following conditions:

1. The fee will be 4.6 per cent, if contracts, including site development, under their supervision total 3 million dollars or more.
2. The fee will be 3.0 per cent, if contracts, including site development, under their supervision are less than three million dollars.
3. The fees for the preliminary work in the preparation of perspectives of the new building showing space allocations, general design, layout of the site, publicity material, and cost estimates together with other work done prior to the bond election will not exceed $12,000. These fees will be based upon actual payroll of employees plus 85 per cent and will be applied against the total fees charged when the project gets under way.
4. If for any reason this project is abandoned either by the will of the people or through subsequent action taken by the board of education prior to the preparation of detailed plans and specifications the contract will be invalidated and the board of education will be obligated only for the conditions set forth in section (3) above.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Mr. Tripp, Mr. Hirzel and Mr. Young representing the Plymouth Community Junior Chamber of Commerce discussed with the Board plans for the community celebration to be held on July 4th. They asked for permission to use the high school grounds during this period for "ride" concessions which would assist in attracting people to the area. Problems arising from past experience with the outside carnival type of activity were discussed at length.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to amend the present policy in regard to the use of the school grounds for the July 4th celebration, and whereas the present policy strictly forbids the use of school grounds by any outside group, the new policy will permit for one year only the Junior Chamber of Commerce to contract with an outside firm for ride concessions to be placed on the high school grounds in accordance with the following conditions:

1. The concessions will be limited to rides only.
2. The location of rides on the grounds will be approved by the school administration.
3. There will be no one living on the grounds.
4. Rides will be limited to July 2nd, 3rd and 4th.
5. Rides will close at 11:00 p.m. on July 2nd, and 12:00 p.m. on July 3rd and 4th.
6. Grounds will be cleaned to the satisfaction of the high school maintenance chief by Monday noon, July 5th.

7. A certificate will be presented indicating that the ride concessions are properly covered by liability insurance.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Mr. Blunk was authorized to seek a legal opinion in regard to what liability, if any, the Board of Education undertakes when school facilities are used by outside groups.

Mr. McFall's request for permission to attend the National Swim Coaches Association meeting in New York was approved.

Mr. Rank's request for permission to have sixth grade children sell cards to parents, friends and relatives in order to raise money for the outdoor education project was approved.

Superintendent Isbister was authorized to plan a joint meeting of the Board of Education and representatives from the School Community Planning Group for the purpose of planning the millage election.

Meeting was adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

Fewer Cows But More Milk

CHICAGO — (UPI) Fewer cows will produce the nation's milk in 1959, according to the American Feed Manufacturers Association. Output will match 1958 production, but the more than 19 million cows to be milked represent a two percent decline in the cow population. The greater yield is credited to favorable prices and heavier grain feeding.

The Republic of India is the world's second largest producer of manganese ore. It is the leading supplier of manganese to the United States.

Scholarship Program Offered Musicians

Do you know a youngster interested in playing a string instrument? Are you such a youngster? If so, the American Federation of Musicians is starting a program to encourage young musicians of string instruments.

Starting this summer, and for as many succeeding years as necessary and possible, the Federation is sponsoring a music camp for the express purpose of training qualified young string players. The Federation will provide instructors of high caliber, the site, and continuing encouragement. The camp will operate for eight weeks each summer and will be directed by the eminent composer-violinist, Dr. Roy Harris.

The camp idea came about because the Federation has found a startling lack of qualified string players for the nation's large symphony orchestras. Of course, many local symphonies are currently playing a large part in encouraging amateur musicians to play. The lack however, is in the ranks of professional instrumentalists.

The details of the camp program are available from members of the American Federation of Musicians. One such member, Mr. George Hacksaylo, will be happy to give any necessary information. He can be reached in Ann Arbor by calling either NO. 3-3875 or NO. 5-5202. There should be many youngsters in the area who might qualify for such a rewarding experience.

Star-Gazers Wanted
NEW YORK (UPI) It is estimated the United States has only about 50 astronomers capable of charting this country's future explorations into outer space. The shortage of three professional star gazers is so acute that industry is bidding up to $200 a day for celestial consultants.

Hubbs and Gilles Continues Growth Into 15th Year

An addition doubling the size of their facilities is reason for the three-day Grand Opening celebration at Hubbs & Gilles, electrical contractors and appliance dealers now in their 15th year.

An addition measuring 40 by 60 feet has been constructed to the east side of their present building at 1190 Ann Arbor Rd. The new addition gives the firm one of the most modern appliance showrooms in this part of the county.

Today, Friday and Saturday have been set aside for the Grand Opening. A Hotpoint Dryer is being offered to one of the lucky persons who attends the opening and enters the contest. (See rules in Advertisement.)

Partners in the business since 1945 have been Albert Hubbs and Robert Gilles. Hubbs had been in the electrical business since 1934. In May 1954, the pair opened their new building at their present address and began selling electric appliances in addition to their contracting business.

"This new addition is a continuation of our growth in the electrical contracting and appliance business," they stated this week. The older portion of the now one large building will be used for the contracting part of the business while the new section will be devoted for display of their expanded appliance business.

Electrical fixtures, television, and major appliances have been sold at the store. But now added to their product line will be V-M Hi-Fi and stereo phonograph.

Hubbs & Gilles sells Hotpoint, Zenith and R.C.A. appliances and Flo-Soft Water Softeners.

The new addition blends into the older portion almost without notice. Both sections have glass fronts. Inside are knotty pine walls. Heating, of course, is by electricity. Electric heat is one of the firm's products. The building is also air conditioned.

Also in the new addition is an office and storage room.

Outside, the parking lot will be enlarged and later blacktopped.

One of the features of the enlarged showroom space is a built-in kitchen unit by Hotpoint.

Hours of the store during the opening are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The masquerade held at Amity hall Friday evening was a great success both financially and otherwise. The hall was taxed to its utmost and showed once more that there is a larger place for entertainment. The maskers were without number and the costumes were wonderful, most of them having been brought from Detroit. The crowd was not limited to the young as many of our oldest and most prominent citizens were in attendance.

At the township election next week you will have the opportunity of raising your governor's salary from $1000 to $4000 a year. It is getting quite fashionable to raise the salary of everyone except the fellow who really works. Wayne County auditors who now get $2500 per year want it raised to $3500. Now we have four judges at $4500 each and now they are crying for a raise to $6000. A large percentage of the people who pay these fantastic salaries work 10 hours a day at hard work and some even less, while these officials average from four to six hours a day.

HOW DOES YOUR TOWN MEASURE UP? An industry always takes the measure of a town before thinking seriously of locating a plant there. Progressive municipal government? Adequate public services? Widespread community spirit? Strong civic leadership? Wise zoning provisions? Good community planning? You might start by marking yes or no on each of the following questions: Does our town have good industrial sites? Financing available for plant construction? Modern and adequate schools? Attractive shopping facilities? Pleasant residential sections? Well supported churches? Good streets and highways? If your check list shows much room for improvement, it indicates the job to be done. Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is one of a series published as a public service by this newspaper, in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

The Reader Speaks Up

Editor:

As the campaign comes closer to conclusion, I find myself being subjected to an increasing personal attack by the "old guard" in Plymouth Township. It is showing itself in "letters to the editor" but is more vicious in private quarters, where gossip and rumor go unchallenged.

As I have promised all along, I am in the race only at the request of many people, and because of a desire to help my community.

One question in the course of the campaign has been "Why did not the Supervisor, nor his lawyer, nor his trustees, institute action long ago to reduce the annual pay of the Treasurer from the sum of approximately $15,000?"

This would have meant changing her from a "fee" basis, where a one percent charge is added to every taxpayer's bill, and pocketed by the Treasurer, to a salary basis, where the annual figure could be set by the electors at the annual meeting.

For proposing this, I am being accused of a lack of knowledge of the law of hiring "slanders" and of being "sort of stupid."

I don't believe it is stupid if the Township can be saved $10,000 a year by one simple change. If my campaign results in nothing more than this annual $10,000 saving for my Township, I will believe my effort to have been useful.

About 1953, Canton Township and many other Townships changed from "fee" to "salary" at their annual meeting. Supervisor Lindsay and his colleagues knew about all of this, and could have moved at anytime hereafter and only would have been following the obvious lead of sister Townships. Today, six years later, not one move has been made, or the subject even brought to public discussion, until I introduced it during this campaign.

To bring the legal information up to date, in 1957 the Attorney General rendered an opinion saying that it was illegal to change from fee to salary at an annual meeting, and that instead petitions bearing names of 5 percent of the electors should be used thereafter to bring the matter to a vote. I don't know if the Supervisor, Treasurer, or legal department are aware of this opinion, but I do know that no such petitions were urged or encouraged by the Township Hall incumbents. When petitions were needed to "incorporate" our Township, however, they rustled them up and had them in the County building in a period of about 48 hours. I go into this at length to answer gossip that I am "ignorant of the law." Incidentally, the Michigan Attorney General, who made the governing opinion, earns $12,500, about $2,500 less than our treasurer.

I also have promised that, if elected, I will do my best to have a competent, trained person in the Supervisor's office on a full-time basis, so that there always will be someone to meet the citizens and to provide service. I do not believe that government as large as Plymouth Township should be conducted with a chief executive's office maintained "part-time."

My proposed solution to this, subject to approval, of course, by the Township Board, would be to hire an aide, college-trained and intelligent. We would pay for him at no extra cost by reducing the Supervisor's salary and by changing the Treasurer to a salary basis.

Here again, I have been ridiculed (in gossip) on a "legal basis." The fact is that a Public Act of 1957 specifically authorized the hiring of such an aide to the Supervisor, and the law was passed specifically to give help in big, high-valuation Townships where the job had grown big.

In Wayne County, a Supervisor is called upon for a heavy schedule of compulsory meetings on the County level which make it necessary for a Supervisor to be in downtown Detroit rather than at his desk in the Township Hall. But I say that the local services should go on, despite this.

And I respectfully ask Mr. Lindsay, and his friends, to return to the Township legal department and ask him to read Public Act No. 104 of 1957 and then make conclusions as to the legal grounds of my plan.

I would not and could not by law, relinquish one inch of the Supervisor's authority or responsibility. But would maintain a full-time competent-manned office.

Incidentally, I promise that the petitions asking the reduction in Treasurer's salary shall be submitted by myself and my friends in the near future.

Sincerely,
Orville Tungate

By George Spelvin

Spring can't be too far away. Why? Did old George see some green leaves or an extra early tulip pushing up through the snow? No, the harbingers of spring are no longer the long-awaited green gimmicks of Mother Nature. Now the opening of the local Drive-In movie and ice cream dispensary places more properly announce the coming of the vernal equinox or spring as we more commonly call it.

Many theater owners shudder when the first warm breeze begins to blow, for it spells empty seats to them. The oozers (Drive-Ins) pull a fair share of the movie trade away from the hardtops or the local movie houses. Perfect combination would be for a smart operator to have a removable roof and side wall arrangement to bend with the demands of the weather. Nothing like having your celluloid cupcakes and eating it too!

Academy Award time is upon us. My predictions for the picture of the year stand unshaken—"Gigi." "Gigi" will win with a gay toss of the head. She will wink suggestively at all the serious dramas in contention for the coveted prize. It's not often that a musical captures an Academy Award, but you mark my words it'll be "Gigi" for sure. David Niven looks like an odds-on favorite to snare the best male actor award. That's about all the gazing into the transparent prediction bowl for this week. I'll try to give some more psychic messages in the weeks to come.

If you were watching TV the other evening when Gary Moore had Ed Wynn on the tiny home screen, you were privileged to witness a fine performance. Ed Wynn did a poem by Oscar Hammerstein at the end of the show that was tremendous. Poem was called "The Garden of Eden" and referred to the theater and its many types of audiences. I'll have to try and find that piece of poetry. I'm sure that all of us interested in the theater would appreciate having the exact words. Ed Wynn did a serious job of interpreting the poem so that it's a beautiful, moving piece of TV magic.

I'm sure that even John Crosby, the perennial pessimistic TV critic, would have enjoyed Ed Wynn the other evening. John was in Detroit last week speaking to our citizens. He did admit that the like "Playhouse 90" because they give us more drama differently and with more creativity than either the stage or movies might do them. One point that Crosby did have about TV that I feel is valid was in reference to their over-all programming.

He feels that TV has been lead astray by the sponsor. All the sponsors clamour for girly shows, we have girly shows. Of course, the sponsors claim they are only offering what the public will tune in. John feels that we should try to set higher standards of culture. The people do not always know what they really want. We should raise the level of our programming by offering more dramas that make viewers think; more educational programs and more viewing that leads to creative action.

Let's hope that John saw the fine medical series put on last week by the Upjohn drug and pill makers. Also, that dramatic eye operation. These TV shows were entertaining and instructive. WJ-TV could well afford to have a medical show of this caliber every week. All of us are concerned with our health, especially as we get a little older. Mildred, my over-worked wife, snorted as she read that last line over my shoulder, "Speak for yourself, old George." These women always stop counting these years soon after the magical number of 29.

Well, age and youth were of little concern this weekend as it was my pleasure to drive the family down to Chicago for a badminton tournament. Linda and Marilyn have taken up the art of pounding the shuttlecock high, wide, and swiftly over a net. Having shown a little proficiency in the game, Bill Baker, their coach, suggested the Chicago tournament. Mildred and I shopped around Chicago on Saturday. Interesting to note how many fine Broadway shows were prospering in the Windy City.

"The Music Man," "Two For The Seesaw," "The Girls In 509," and "Raisin in the Sun" had crowds attending the Saturday matinees. "Raisin in the Sun" is the show about negro life that stars Sidney Portier. Sid played in "The Defiant Ones," the recent movie about the two escaping convicts chained together. The critics all claim that Sid will sell this show when it arrives on Broadway later this month.

Link Smith, the Pacific Street Smiths, and Tom Lock accompanied our troupe on our trip to Chicago. They played excellent badminton, but came home with fond memories of the Museum, the Chicago Loop, and without any trophies for their living room mantels. Finals of the tournament were held on Sunday. The dramatic tension in the air was quite theatrical as the matches came down to the championship round.

Tempers were sharpened every movement became the difference between a point gained or lost. I was amazed that badminton could be so tense and dramatic. Look like I'll have to dig up a racket and get some practice up at the High School or Tuesday evening. Bill Baker indicated to me that there is still plenty of room for anyone to attend.

Speaking of going up to the High School on Tuesday night reminds me of another trip that all of us should be thinking about come Monday, March 23rd. School officials are asking all of us to vote on the coming special school election, March 23rd. Old George urges all his readers to get out to the polls on Monday to exercise that good American habit of voting. When you pull that curtain shut and make your decision, you are on stage in the spotlight doing your "voting" bit. We hope you never pass up an opportunity to vote.

Always reminds me what the vaudevillians of yesteryears told the newer acts. You can't miss if you have a song about Mother in your act or if you wave the flag towards the end of the act. Waving the flag was always good for a round of applause as you shuffled off to Buffalo. Seriously though, let's give the "kids" a break and express our opinion about the needed millage at the polls on Monday.

Noticed in the paper that "Garden District" has been booked into the Shubert Theater for next week. Diana Barrymore is playing one of the leads. From all the info I have on this show my best advice is to stay home and check on that second part of "For Whom the Bell Tolls" on TV, Channel 2. "Garden District" is not Tennessee Williams at his best. If you like strong drama about seamy characters, this is your chance to chew or some real, red meat.

Better yet, take a whirl and for some real laughs try "Arsenic and Old Lace" tonight at the High School Auditorium. You'll enjoy the show.

The number of chemical products marketed in the United States has increased an average of 270 annually during the past 25 years. There are now between 6,500 and 7,000 of them.

THE STARS

By LYN CONNELLY

THAT jet liner crash into New York's East River produced shock and horror of a personal kind for us because it rubbed out the life of a great trouper and lady, Beulah Zachary, producer of "Kukla, Fran and Ollie"...

We knew Beulah when... when she was struggling with her show, then the greatest thing on television (and it still would be today if on) and we were writing station publicity for the Kuklapolitan Players... We knew the troupe enough to extend our heartfelt sympathy to Burr Tillstrom, creator of Kukla and company, because he and his producer rose together and acted almost as a team.

It was typical that she was killed on her way to New York where she had hoped to interest moguls in Tillstrom again. When the show was taken off the air, Beulah did not try her hand with another show... she simply wasn't the kind to think of herself... She wouldn't rest until Kukla was back on the airways where he belonged and no one can say she didn't try hard... Unfortunately, she wasn't heard too well... Her passing is a great loss to TV and we hope that Burr will be able to replace her... She has mighty big shoes to fill.

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS

Hula-hoop-wide doors... and head room aplenty

You'll love the full six-passenger comfort in the cars

BUILT FOR PEOPLE!...

Just one standard was used by Ford in designing its 1959 car — people! First, Ford made the door openings wider, so it's easier to get in and out. Next they made sure that six big people—not just four or five—could stretch out on seats that are padded their full width. Result? More room for everybody's legs, elbows, hips and hats... more solid comfort than ever before.

BUILT FOR SAVINGS!...

Savings start the moment you buy a Ford. A price tag comparison with major competitive cars will prove it! And you go right on saving. Ford's standard engines that thrive on regular gas save you a dollar each tankful. Ford's Full-Flow Oil Filter means oil changes only each 4000 miles. Ford's aluminum mufflers last twice as long. And new Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing!

Favorite Recipes from Plymouth's Kitchens

A KITCHEN OF THE FUTURE, at least to the Mayflower Pilgrims of the 1600's, although they were still making the Plymouth Succotash and Red Flannel Hash in this "modern" kitchen of the early 1800's. Now, this Saturday, at the Mayflower Hotel, in a 1959 kitchen these same recipes will be duplicated for the colonial feast honoring the Burroughs Corporation.

A Colonial Feast Is Prepared From The Kitchen of the Mayflower

This week we are featuring one of the most efficient kitchens in town that serves approximately 10,000 to 15,000 meals a month (you and I serve an average of 93). We are speaking of the kitchen that services the dining rooms of the Mayflower Hotel.

Host Ralph Lorenz, well known for his intensive study of the Mayflower Pilgrims and their history, has brought many ideas and recipes back from his travels to lend authenticity to the Plymouth Mayflower Hotel.

This Saturday afternoon a colonial feast will be served to honored guests, friends, and co-planners of the Salute to Burroughs week that will be a climax of the tribute. Mr. Lorenz, assisted by his wife, who keeps an eye out on their travels for interesting colonial gifts and ideas, have scanned their collection of recipes and material as nearly as possible the pilgrim "Thanksgiving" feast for Saturday's bill-of-fare.

With his reputation for perfection, Mr. Lorenz has seen to it the recipes were duplicated to perfection and will be as authentic as if a pilgrim homemaker got down on her knees and struck fire among a handful of shavings and brush in the huge fireplace in her home, the center of her family life. (No doubt considered the center of family life because it took forever to prepare a meal and besides it was the only source of heat for the home.)

The pots of beans, which stayed in all night in the fireplace first, (later an early brick oven back of the fireplace was used); next the Indian pudding, then the Squash bread and the last, items which cooked quickly and could be moved by opening the crude door quickly. The door, at first, was usually a piece of thick plank. The colonial feast Mr. Lorenz has planned will include all of these dishes of our forefathers plus venison, turkey, ham, red flannel hash, Plymouth Succotash, and pickled beef. The Indian pudding will be served by authentic Indians, no less. The table will also be laden with many items never seen by our Pilgrim fathers such as pig carvings, decorated salmon and other mouth-watering hors d'oeuvres.

It is amazing to me that so many of these wonderful dishes have been lost to us during the ages. Some of them, the Indians originated and were enlarged upon by the white settlers. Through the research of the Lorenz family we bring a few to you to experiment with for interest, fun, and as a conversation piece at your next dinner party, particularly if you have an early American dining room.

Red Flannel Hash
Old folks claim that the secret of a good hash is an old food chopper and wooden chopping bowl. They say new fashioned grinders make a mess and a mash.

1 cup cooked chopped corned beef
1 1/2 cups chopped cooked beefs
3 cups chopped cooked potatoes
One small onion finely chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
1 t. Worcestershire sauce (the Worcestershire is a comparatively modern note but most folks like it.)
Light cream (see below)
1/4 cup hot fat salt pork or bacon drippings

(1) Combine corned beef, beefs, potatoes, onion and season with enough cream to bind.
(2) Melt fat in floured pan and spread mixture evenly in pan. Cook over low heat. Loosen around edges and shake pan occasionally to prevent scorching. When crust forms on the bottom, turn as with an omelet. Serve on warm platter.

GOP Hosts University Candidates

Plymouth Republicans have been busy hosting candidates and planning for the April 6 biennial election that will elect candidates on the state, county and local levels.

In Plymouth last week were Mrs. Ann Timmons Burgess, GOP nominee for regent of the University of Michigan, and Ben Burdick, candidate for the board of governors of Wayne State University.

There were 35 people attending a noon luncheon at the Hotel Mayflower for the candidates. Mrs. Burgess, a Grand Rapids resident, and a active in many civic and school affairs, is a 1939 graduate of the U of M.

Burdick, a practicing attorney for 30 years, has been chairman of the 15th District Republican party for 20 years and was delegate to the 1948 and 1956 National Conventions. He, his sister and two brothers are Wayne State graduates.

The Plymouth Republican Club, headed by Ed Sawusch, held a meeting Tuesday night. Anyone interested in the Republican activities are urged to call Mrs. Betty Jacobus at GL 3-5543, or Mrs. Barbara Stecker at GL 3-7076.

What to Take to Florida For Easter Vacation

Coordinated shorts, pants, blouse, jacket and skirt, in eye-catching combinations of print and plain or solid and stripe, lead in this newest category.

This color-coordinated look heralds a new approach to mix-and-match-mates. In this field, print or stripe tops mate with solid skirts, for an enchanting spring look. Often matching cardigans feature all-over prints, or print trim.

EASY-CARE VIRTUES
Drip-drys are better than ever with the introduction of new dyes and fibers that enhance their no-iron quality. This fabric improvement makes possible the use of iridescent cottons and shiny satens.

Always a colorful fashion-area, sportswear is brighter than ever, in a season where color has reached new heights of style-importance.

OVERBLOUSE LEADS
Tops for sport-tops is the overblouse. Worn over everything from skirts to shorts, it's newest and smartest in bold stripes, brilliant plaids or any other variation of the spring-featured vivid color combinations.

Cardigans are cropped and bulky, adorned with appliqued flowers and pastel jewel trim. Leather too, is seen more frequently, especially in shorter jackets. They are often trimmed with contrasting cuffs and collars, in bulky knit.

Denim takes on a new fashion-discipline in dungaree sets that feature tapered pants and detailed, short jacket tops. Joining the swing to color, these outfits combine plaid and solid denim.

Cotton corduroy is preferred for cooler days, mostly in matching long pants and loose jacket sets. Often the coat is lined with brightly printed cotton and shown with a matching print overblouse.

FUN ACCESSORIES
The accessory picture is a delight, with woven straw bags and hats leading, often in matching sets. Taking their inspiration from the exotic islands of Jamaica, Haiti, Cuba and Hawaii, they appear in dozens of colors and combinations, with startling appliques, in shapes and styles that make it difficult to select any one. Like most women, you'll probably end with two sets.

Youthful, colorful, easy to wear and needing little care, the spring sportswear picture holds all the fun-loving, glamorous for ten times or a lady's leisure life!

Design-It-Yourself Unique Door Available for Homemakers

The newest and one of the most intriguing advancements in the home building materials field today is a new stock panel entrance door you can design yourself.

This means that families who are planning to build or remodel a home, as well as architects and builders, can now have the beauty and individuality of a custom-made door at stock door cost and availability.

As the photograph shows, this new entrance door of ponderosa pine has three equal-size panels. However, when the door is manufactured, the panels are not installed. Instead, 12 different styles of insert panels to fit the basic door are made separately. These include five styles of glass panels, four solid inserts of different design, and three styles of simulated lower panels.

These 12 styles of panels make it possible for the family building or remodeling a house to choose from 1,500 different entrance designs by arranging the panels in different combinations.

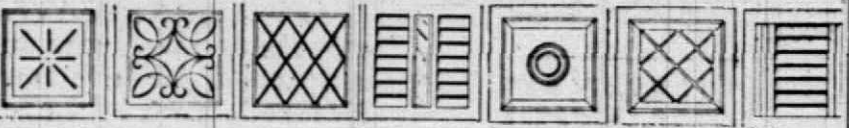

Even more distinction can be achieved by painting the panels in harmonizing or contrasting colors.

Building material dealers now are stocking the new door along with complete sections of panels. After a family has chosen the combination of insert panels they like for their door, it will be delivered with these panels installed, ready to hang.

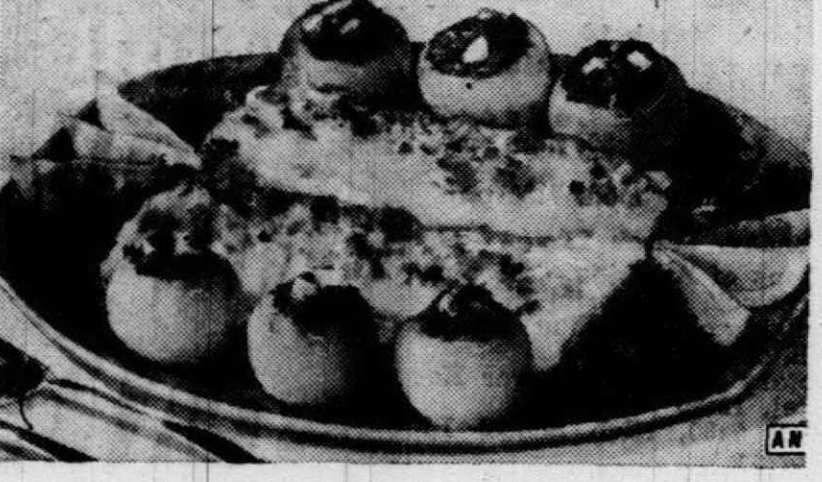

A further advantage of the new ponderosa pine door is that the panel inserts can be removed and new ones in different styles obtained from the dealer. This makes it possible to obtain a new-looking door at the cost only of the new panels if the family wants to change the old design after a few years.

DESIGN-IT-YOURSELF door of ponderosa pine helps welcome guest with color and beauty at this new home in Country Ridge Estates Rye, N.Y. Below are some of the panel inserts available for that new door, now carried in stock by building material dealers.

Serve Fish With a Flourish

CONTINENTAL CHEFS SERVE FISH DISHES WITH a flair and a flourish. And so can you. Frozen cod fillets become company fare when you bake them with a well-seasoned crumb topping and serve them on a big platter surrounded by baked stuffed onions, lemon wedges and sprigs of parsley.

BAKED COD CONTINENTAL

2 packages (12 ounces each) quick-frozen cod fillets
Salt and pepper
1-3 cup water
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

1½ cups soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon chopped pimento (optional)
1 tablespoon chopped parsley (optional)
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

Place frozen blocks of fish in greased shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper; pour in water. Saute onion in fat until lightly browned. Add crumbs, pimento, parsley, ¼ teaspoon salt, and dash of pepper; toss lightly to mix. Spread over fish. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) until fish is easily flaked with a fork—about 35 to 40 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Fact & Fallacy

FALLACY: Chicken breasts, drumsticks and thighs should be no more expensive per pound than a whole chicken to be an equally good buy.

FACT: For most families, chicken parts may cost as much as 40 percent more per pound than the price per pound of the entire chicken and still be an equally good value in amount of edible meat received.

FALLACY: Ice cream and sherbet dips best when stored just below the freezing temperature of water, at about 20 degrees F.

FACT: The best dipping temperature for regular ice cream and sherbet is approximately 10 degrees F.

FALLACY: There are no regulations as to the amount of butter fat required in ice cream sold in Michigan.

FACT: Michigan law requires that all vanilla ice cream have a minimum of 12 percent milk fat. All other flavors must have a minimum of 1 percent milk fat.

FALLACY: The term "Government Graded" means that meat is always the best quality available.

FACT: Meat may fall into several different grades depending upon its characteristics — conformation, quality and finish — according to government standards. "Government Graded" meat may refer to any one of the grades, top to bottom. A specified grade, such as U. Choice or U. Good, is a better guide to the quality you can expect.

FALLACY: The comparison of the cost per pound is the best guide to selection of the best buy in meats.

FACT: Comparisons of quality and cost per serving are the best guides to figuring cost relationships when buying meat. For example, spareribs may cost 62 cents a pound and calves' liver 1.33 per pound at the same time in the same market.

Tips on Growing Up and Liking It

New help for the mother and also for her teen-aged daughter: a couple of booklets on growing up and how both parent and child can meet the physical and emotional problems involved.

One booklet, called "Growing Up and Liking It," provides some of the answers the teen-aged girl may ask on biological changes plus tips on good looks and grooming.

The other, called "How Shall I Tell My Daughter," is designed to help the parent guide a girl through the growing-up period.

Both booklets are prepared by Patricia Gail Morrison, director of education for Personal Products Corp., with the assistance of medical experts. Both are free for the writing. Send a stamped addressed envelope to this newspaper.

Costume Outfits Featured for '59

Costume is the word for Spring, with coat costumes, dress costumes and suit costumes epitomizing this newest fashion look.

Accepted overwhelmingly by women in every age bracket, these versatile outfits lead double, triple and sometimes quadruple lives!

Three piece suit costumes feature a slim skirt with contrasting cardigan jacket, and flared print blouses that exactly match the lining of the jacket.

Each of the three fashion components can lead individual lives in company with other skirts, blouses or dresses. Smart — and a wardrobe stretching wonder!

Print dresses team with solid, print-lined coats. Solid sheaths and matching ¾ length coats create a smart new look.

In many cases a dressy sheath takes a simple bolero jacket, which when open reveals a bright lining.

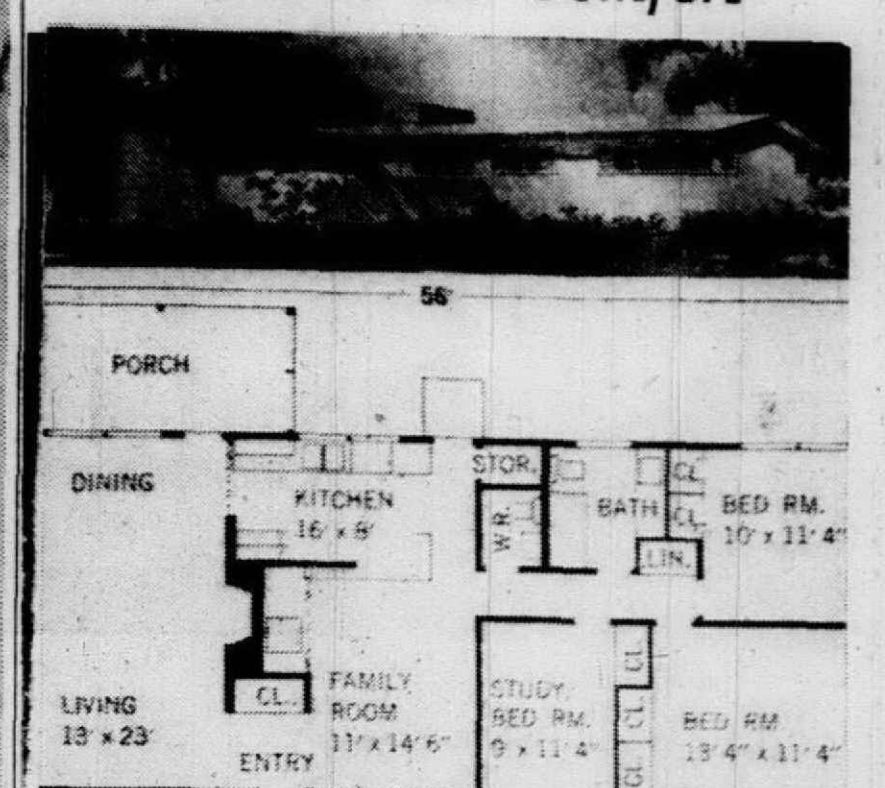

The dress with matching jacket finely detailed to resemble a suit is in great demand by women who lead busy lives as homemakers or careerists. Simply tailored for day time wear, often the doffed jacket reveals a dress with glitter-sprinkled bodice, low scoop neckline or other dressy accents.

Available in a wonderful selection of solids, prints and combinations, the new spring costumes are so slim, smart and becoming, there's scarcely a woman who would not love to have one!

New Contemporary Design Puts Accent on Comfort

A house that is contemporary in design yet as roomy and comfortable as an old Colonial home is this plan featured recently by a leading home magazine.

Inside, its 1,344 square feet of living space offer a large living room with dining area, a 16-foot kitchen designed for efficiency, a family room, and a study that can be converted to a third bedroom.

Perhaps the most important feature of this plan is its all season comfort. Designed to be air conditioned, the house has a white roof to reflect summer heat, plus thick insulation — a six inch thickness of mineral wool in the ceiling, at least three inches in walls, and two inches of mineral wool around the perimeter of the concrete slab.

Asphalt shingles can be used on the roof of this home, despite its low pitch. Available in heat-reflecting white, asphalt shingles can be applied to roofs with slopes of no more than two inches per foot.

Much of the credit for the sleek, modern appearance of the house goes to the long bands of windows shaded by the wide overhang of the roof. These are sliding windows of ponderosa pine which operate easily, yet close tightly to keep cool air inside in summer, and in-clement weather out during other seasons.

Compact, but designed for comfort and convenience, the house can be built on a small lot without costly excavating.

Further information, blueprints, and specifications can be obtained from Stock Plan Department, House Beautiful's Building Manual, 572 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y. Refer to Plan R-2715.

Don't Forget To Investigate Upkeep

Prospective home buyers needn't concern you if you can get more house for less like the rest of the house. A money by investigating certain important cost factors before coming to a final decision about any home.

Most real estate agents you of years of protection and home economists agree from weather of all kinds, that the six factors which need investigation most are:

1. Mortgage. Shop around to a number of banks to find the lowest possible mortgage rate on a $15,000 mortgage will cost roughly $10 a month less than the same mortgage systems, as well as other important parts of the house, have received similar lack of care.
2. Taxes. Get a clear picture of the total taxes you'll have to pay on a house, and look into the possibility of future tax increases. Real estate, water, and sewer taxes may be as low as $20 per month for a $20,000 house in one community, and as much as $60 per month for the same house in a neighboring community.
3. Travel between work and home. Costs of this travel can add considerably to family expenses, not to mention the added time required for longer distances. These factors should be considered seriously when comparing the costs of a house "close in" with one in "exurbia."
4. Heating. Make sure the house is well-insulated, since it can cost up to $25 a month more to heat a house that has poor insulation or none at all. Research has shown that a minimum thickness of three inches of mineral wool in walls and at least four inches in the ceiling can reduce the cost of heating a house by as much as 40 percent.
5. General construction. Are sidewalls, windows, doors, and trim, and framing in good condition? If not, avoid the house, since these components are difficult and expensive to replace. If the

GARDEN GAB

BY BILL SAXTON

Most home owners are aware of the main factor affecting the development of a good lawn. Common things like plant foods, moisture holding capacity, competition with weeds and crabgrass, dense shade, excessive trampling, wear and tear are well understood. One of the most important problems is little known or understood, and that is the harmful effect of fungus diseases.

Many people have mentioned the good success they have had the first two or three years their lawns have been in, only to have them thin out later. Usually the reason is because of the development of fungus on the grass plants, which weaken them. The natural spring growth spurt will make the lawn appear good, but the first hot spell dries up the weakened plants, leaving the lawn thin and sparse.

The answer to the problem lies in yearly applications of effective turf fungicides. One of the best types is a mercury compound such as Scut. The cost of Scut has been greatly lowered this year.

The only limitation with Scut is that it cannot be applied to Merion Blue. If you have Merion use a cadmium-type material such as Tarsan.

Snow mold, which may have developed in the unusual weather we have had this winter, is stopped also by Scut or Tarsan.

Lawns should be reseeded now as early as possible and an early feeding applied. Reseeding should be done either two weeks before or after Scut application since the Mercury will inhibit seed growth.

If you don't have a lawn spreader now and want one check the exceptional combination offer Scotts are making with "Mats," the new crabgrass killer or with turf builder.

Birthday Cake Designed For Young People

Chocolate mint angel food cake is the kind of birthday treat you can be certain will please any young celebrator who requests ice cream, cake and candy on his natal day. For it combines all three in one big, glamorous delight.

If you have a light hand with angel cake, you'll want to bake your own. Otherwise order a ten-inch size from your baker. You'll need two pints of chocolate ice cream, a half pint of whipping cream and a cup of pastel mints.

Crush the mints coarsely on paper toweling, using your rolling pin, advise Richardson home economists, so that chunky pieces of confection can be strewn atop the cake.

Chocolate Mint Angel Cake

Fill center of angel cake with softened chocolate ice cream, packing it in firmly. Frost top and sides of cake with whipped cream flavored with ½ teaspoon peppermint flavoring. Sprinkle top and sides with crushed pastel mints. Place in freezer or freezing compartment of refrigerator until firm. Makes eight to ten servings.

Scapagoat

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Charged with barroom brawling, Charles N. Gibson, 28, complained in county court that "everybody kept picking on me." The judge continued picking on him, sending Gibson to jail for six months. He'd been involved in fights in four bars on one night.

Indian Giver

RANDOLPH, Vt. (UPI) — Village foreman Dick Hedding issued a public plea for the man who borrowed the village's water pressure pump two years ago to return the machinery so area water pipes could be cleaned out.

West Indies Recipe

Home economists of British West Indian Airways have adapted this West Indian recipe for American kitchens. It's called "paimi" or "conkies," and is served as a meal-in-one dish.

Grate ½ pound dried coconut and ½ cup pumpkin. Chop or mince ½ pound meat. Then brown it in 2 tablespoons lard or butter, and add 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon black pepper, and 1 cup sugar if desired.

THE FAMILY MAILBOX

Dear "Miss Louisa:" Do you have any ideas for rejuvenating wall-to-wall carpet? The loops on my cotton carpet have become so matted that it is difficult to clean with a vacuum cleaner. I am discouraged about it. Mrs. R. H. C. Hartsville, Tenn.

Dear Mrs. R.H.C.: I had the same trouble with my carpeting and solved it by taking a hand scrub brush with very stiff bristles and attaching a long handle to it. Now each day before I run the rug with firm, even strokes and raise the loops so that it is easier to get to the dirt. Then after I have cleaned it I again go over the rug with the stiff brush. The kind of brush used to put tar on a roof will serve the purpose. I spot clean any visible stains with rug cleaner. My rug looks like new again and I have had it on the floor for over a year.

CURRY POWDER

Dear "Miss Louisa:" What is curry powder? I got a jar of it in a set of spices that came to me as a wedding present and I have never tasted curried dishes.—Mrs. B.F., Greensboro, N.C.

Dear Mrs. B.F.: The exotic taste of curry is an acquired one, but those people who have learned to enjoy this condiment are enthusiastic about it. Used throughout the Far East, curry is a blend "the salt of the Orient." It is not one spice, but a combination of many spices and peppers.

Because some people like a very hot curry and others prefer a milder seasoning, it is well to go slow in the amount used to start with. For example, 1 teaspoon of curry to a recipe is enough to serve four people for mild flavor. For more pungent seasoning use from 2 tea-

Suburban Living

Coffee egg nog is easy to make for one person. Sprinkle 1½ teaspoons instant coffee over 1 cup prepared chilled nog. Beat with rotary beater until thoroughly blended. For 3 quarts nog, add 2 to 3 tablespoons instant coffee, 1 tablespoon at a time, and beat well after each addition.

Mashed cooked carrots make a tasty, nutritious filler for hamburgers or meat loaf.

Birthday Week in Newburg Area

Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GA. 1-2029

The mothers of Brownie troop 1438 met with their leader, Mrs. Carolmae Hartwick and co-leader, Mrs. Arlene Frysinger at the Hartwick home on Joy Road, Thursday, March 12 with the following mothers present, Mrs. Dorothy Fittery, Mrs. Dorothy Daniels, Mrs. Emily Koene, Mrs. Amos Jackson, Mrs. Vernon Traver and Mrs. William Kenner. The ladies welcomed to their membership, a new mother, Mrs. Wade Eddleman. This Brownie troop meets every Monday at the Frysinger home in the Park Villa Sub-division.

Mrs. Oscar Giesner of Newburg road is home after spending three weeks visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stothers in Daventry, Iowa. Mrs. Giesner stayed at the Stothers' home while Mrs. Stothers had her first baby, a boy, Fred Allen, born February 8. Mrs. Stothers is the former Alice Giesner.

A birthday party to honor Miss Denise Greenwood on her eighth birthday was held at the Greenwood home on Newburg road, Saturday, Feb. 28. The young ladies present for the afternoon of games, gifts and refreshments were Sharon Kenny, Carol Jackson, Kathy Fry, Kathy Pierce, Sandra Hartwick, Nan LaPointe, Susan Anders, Diane Eagleton, Eva Traver and Linsie Griebel. Denise's sisters, Debbie and Kim were also on hand for the festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kregger of Gray avenue are home after spending three weeks visiting and sight seeing in Florida. Traveling companions with the Kreggers were Mr. and Mrs. James Bassett of Bassett Drive, Livonia. The Bassetts were dropped off at Jupiter, Florida where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bassett. The Kreggers went on to Bonita Springs where they stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tucker, former residents of Cheboygan, Mich. While in the sunshine state, Mr. and Mrs. Kregger had the opportunity to see our Detroit Tigers play their first game in the Grapefruit league. They also watched the Washington Senators in Orlando, visited Bock Tower, the Stephen Foster Memorial, the Mammoth Caves in Kentucky and the Lincoln Memorial, in that same state.

Attention, all young folks from the age of 13 and up, if you wish to spend a fine evening in the company of other fine young people you should step off at the Swingin' Sway Teen Club of Livonia which meets every Friday night at the Myron Beals Legion hall on Newburg road. Dancing is from 8 to 11 p.m. and admission is 40c. The leaders of the group are proud to announce that with the proceeds from this admission charge they have been able to purchase a speaker and recording system to further aid their good times. The dances are being sponsored by the American Legion Myron Beals Post and the chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hartwick, Mrs. Betty Wilcox, Mrs. Gladys Shore, Ray Boxer and Mrs. John Massingal. Congratulations on a job well done by these dedicated people.

The Rhoda Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. George Black on Angeline circle, Tuesday, March 24, 8 p.m. On April 18, this group is planning a bake sale to be held at the Kresge store in Sheldon Center with Mrs. Tom Leverton and Mrs. Sam Epley in charge. Cooperation in every way for this event will be appreciated by the ladies in charge. Don't bake on the week-end of April 18, purchase yours from the ladies of the Rhoda circle.

Little Miss Kim Greenwood celebrated her fourth birthday on Monday, March 2 at her home on Newburg road with the following guests present for ice cream and cake, her great-grandfather, Jack Horton, her grandmother, Mrs. Marie Greenwood of Wayne and her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Pat Elles and Kenneth also of Wayne. Of course Kim's Mommy and Daddy, Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood were on hand for the celebration as were her sisters, Denise and Debbie and her brother Jamie.

It makes me real happy to report that Mrs. Robert Shier of Angeline circle is home after spending almost two weeks at the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Roy and Gary Hartwick, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hartwick of Joy road are well on the road to recovery after having quite a bout with Chicken Pox. You can be pretty sure that Spring is in the air when you begin to hear about the spring diseases that the young folks usually get at this particular time of the year.

The Dorcas circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. David Thompson on Newburg road, Tuesday, March 24 at 8 p.m. sharp. This group is busy selling everyday greeting cards and are also handling Easter cards in a further attempt to meet their pledge to the local society for the 1958-59 season.

This is the time for birthdays in the Newburg area and another birthday celebration was given for Jack Horton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kregger of Gray avenue, on Sunday, March 8. Other guests present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood and children, Denise, Debbie, Kim and Jamie of Newburg road.

Sympathies of the Newburg area are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Case of Laurel avenue, at the passing of Mr. Case's mother this past week.

See you next week?

Inflation Hits Zoo

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — The high cost of living has reached the animal world, according to officials at Burnet Park Zoo. The Department of Contract and Purchase says the price of horse-meat, used to feed tigers and lions at the zoo, is two-and-one-half cents a pound higher this year than in 1958. The city contracted to pay 25 cents a pound for 21,000 pounds of the feed.

Income Tax Yield

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Federal government has collected more than 700 billion dollars in income taxes from individuals and corporations since 1913, when the 16th amendment to the Constitution was ratified, according to the Tax Foundation. That amendment gave birth to the income tax.

55th Anniversary

Not everyone is happy to have another personal birthday anniversary, but we believe that business anniversaries are always noted with a certain satisfaction, because they demonstrate that the firm has continued to serve well.

The individual, you see, continues to exist whether he's good or bad, useful or otherwise. With a business organization, this is not true; only a firm with policies which meet with public approval, and win public patronage, can hope to survive.

It is with real and understandable satisfaction, therefore, that the Schrader Funeral Home observes this, its 55th anniversary.

THE READER Speaks Up

Editor:

An open letter to Orville Tungate:

As a candidate for Township Supervisor, and supposedly vitally interested in Township affairs, how many Township Board Meetings have you attended in the last four years? How many Annual Township Meetings have you attended during this period? While on this subject, what have you ever voiced your opinions or suggestions on in these meetings?

How do you propose to violate the state law in changing the method of paying the Township Treasurer's salary? Legally, you may present a petition anytime asking for a change, which petition will be acted upon. Why then, haven't you done so? The petition will require the signatures of five per cent of the qualified voters. I will sign it.

How do you propose to attract industry to the area, 2 million dollar plants and smaller, when we do not have sewer and water on the proper places for them as yet? The City has water. Has the City promised you water? They are on record as having no water for people outside of the City.

You propose hiring a student or college graduate to do the work of Supervisor for you. Is this how much the office means to you? Will his pay come out of the Township treasury? How will you benefit your townspeople if you send your representative to the meetings of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors? Under the law he would have no authority to vote on anything that may be good for our Township. Also, you do not send amateurs to play in professional games? Aren't you qualified for the Supervisor's job yourself?

These are your questions, Mr. Tungate. Can you give the voters the answers?

No one resents criticism when it is constructive. I feel the homeowners in this area are not interested in political ballyhoo. Our thinking is we would welcome anyone who has something constructive to offer. Give us the facts and the truths. A candidate should be answering questions, not asking them.

F. Millington
(Editor's Note: The writer of the foregoing letter is a candidate for the Township office of Highway Commissioner.)

Editor:

There is, in every community, the person who is willing to see all those things which his neighbors hold dear destroyed in order to continue in existence those things which no longer serve the community.

This year, a young man has gathered some evidently qualified citizens and presented a program of development for the community. When I first became aware of the possibility of an election contest here in Plymouth Township I phoned Mr. Tungate and asked him just what he meant by the ad he ran (sometime in November, I think). Instead of the political hack answers I expected, I received a courteous explanation of just what he intended to do. I do not know if it will be possible for him to accomplish the things he wishes to see done but, if we elect anyone with this sort of foresight I feel certain we can look forward to government that has the well being of the community at heart.

I may be nosy. True or not I felt it my job as a voter, to find out as much as I could about this young man and the people with him, as possible. What I found, I liked. I guess this letter is my best way of endorsing their candidacy in the coming election. With him I find a successful business woman, an ambitious young fellow with a management background, a former assistant prosecutor, a member of the Plymouth Historical commission and a man, new to our community who has just purchased his own business. I think that the calibre of this ticket may well speak for the man at the head.

I am not sure whether or not he can do what he would like in two years but, I am sure I want forward looking people such as Mr. Tungate and his slate representing my interests at township hall. I am about to cast my first Democratic vote.

I would prefer my name were not used since it is of no great importance, just sign it TOWNSHIP VOTER

I've just read with much interest your column about renewed interest in games - Here's one to try for fun - Have you played Double Twelve Dominoes lately? You will need the dining table with the pads on for this - and three hours will pass before you realize it. If you can't wheedle anyone into playing try it with three imaginary players - it's no sissy game - it will sharpen up your counting - it's fun.

How about Tripoli? There's a great game too.

Signed for Fun.

Editorial

'Don't Shoot the DPW'

This editorial is equally pertinent in Plymouth, Livonia and Redford Township.

It is an appeal for patience upon the part of the residents toward the sorely-burdened worker in the Department of Public Works.

Our streets are horrible, and the DPW men know it. Without exception, they "can't remember a worse year," and it's more than a figure of speech.

The past winter, by actual statistics, has been the fiercest experienced hereabouts in 22 years.

Nor has there been any real signs of let-up, as of this writing. The past 10 days have found some modest thaws, followed almost without warning by instant quick-freeze.

The "break-up," hence, has been murder. The ground has been twisting and churning and boiling, depending on temperature change.

Chuck holes and other pitfalls are of murderous dimension.

Tons upon tons of patching material has been spread already, this is only the preliminaries. Most of the patching accomplished so far will have to be repeated again when the land is warmer.

It's no one's fault. It is futile, as always, to gnash teeth over the state of the weather. The DPW troops are soldiering to the best of their ability.

We know how annoying the roads are to a driver, and we also realize there are vast stores of car repairs to be made.

Nonetheless, we implore all men of good spirit to think of the DPW in terms of the ancient adage: "Don't Shoot the Piano Player. He's Doing The Best He Can!"

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: I am nearly 14, a terribly ugly girl who wears glasses. I go to a country school. All the other girls have nice figures and are pretty. I think they're ashamed to be with me, because I'm ugly. Yesterday when we went to a game at school, I was sitting alone on the bus and a boy stuck his head in the door and said, 'You're cute!' and walked away. I suppose the boys all laughed about it. I always worry about my looks and need help. I don't know what to do."

Ans.—It's nice to be attractive, but friendships aren't supposed to be beauty contests. To be worth having, friendship is based on personality and sharing the same interests... most lasting things than looks.

But looking your best will help to build your self-confidence (just what you need) and put more sparkle in your personality, because when you know you look as pretty as possible, you'll worry less about your appearance and will think of other things—and other people—besides yourself. This will help to increase your fun and popularity.

Try to get your mother's help or the aid of another relative (saving your allowance or earning some money will help, too) so you can go to a good beauty shop and have your hair-do styled in the way that is most becoming to you.

Get a rose-red lipstick and use it carefully for special events and weekends. When you shop for clothes, try to get helpful tips from salesgirls about the most becoming colors and styles or try to get shopping-help from a friend or relative who knows about these things.

Then pretend you're pretty, because your own mental attitude helps to make you so. Thinking you're a blob can make you shy, awkward and lacking in confidence. Smile, too! Every face is prettier with a pleasant, animated expression.

(For easy posture exercises to help improve your appearance, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.)

'Life Begins at Forty' ... By Robert Peterson

BEVERLY HILLS. The stately white gates swung open and I drove into the driveway of Pickfair. This fabled forty room home of Georgian and modern design sits in quiet splendor on a hilltop overlooking the city.

Mary Pickford, small and graceful in a trim black suit, greeted me in the drawing room with its exquisite French paneling and handsome objects d'art.

Our conversation drifted to geriatrics. "Ever since I was a child I've held a deep respect and affection for older people," said Miss Pickford who, with her fluffy blond hair, dark eyes, and meticulous grooming was a vision of mature loveliness. "I'm touched by the loneliness and insecurity which afflict many of them and I wish we could rouse the nation to take a greater interest in the aged."

"I'd also like to see people take greater pride in their years," continued Miss Pickford who has no qualms about saying she's 68. "Age is a perfectly natural phenomenon and we shouldn't be ashamed of it. We may lose some of our physical attractiveness but that's a small price to pay for the privilege of a long life."

"One of my pet interests is the American Society for the Aged which I serve as honorary chairman. We operate Emeritus Hall in Palm Beach, Fla. where professors and scientists who have been forced to retire elsewhere because of age can continue their research. We feel that with all the ills and needs in this world no competent scientist should be deprived of research facilities because of age."

As we talked I became aware that Miss Pickford is considerably more complex than I had anticipated. One facet is amusing and gay. Another is vitally concerned with furthering scientific research. Still another displays a deep religious conviction in which God plays a very important and meaningful role.

Since retiring from pictures a quarter of a century ago she has kept busy managing varied business interests and serving on many charitable and scientific boards. She and her husband Buddy Rogers have an adopted daughter of 17 and a son of 23, and have financed the care of half a dozen foster children. "I'm a great believer in the life begins at 40 philosophy," she said thoughtfully. "I think most of us forget how emotionally trying it is to be young. As I've grown older I've become much more contented and increasingly aware of how precious life really is."

What Industry Seeks In a Community

"What is needed to make a city a good place for present industry to continue to operate? And what is needed to make a city attractive for new industry?"

These two questions were asked in an editorial entitled "What Does Industry Need?" that appeared in the Cadillac Evening News recently.

The editorial appeared several days after the Northern Michigan community learned one of its largest industries—a B. F. Goodrich Company plant—was closing down.

"Above all, industry needs a good community attitude... an attitude that is friendly and one that is based on the realization that each of us has our vital part to play," the editorial said.

"Each individual's attitude toward his community and his fellow citizens is important if any community is to prosper."

"Does each individual employee cooperate in a friendly way with his fellow worker to provide reasonable high production or does he make it difficult for everyone to be happy and productive in his job?

"Does every citizen put in an enthusiastic word for his community so that local people and visitors know that the community is a good one? A non-cooperative, back-biting pessimist never helps his community or himself."

The second and third most important factors considered by an industry considering sites for a new plant are quality of the "physical community" and its future, the Evening News editorial said.

HANDWRITING Tells About Yourself By LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Miss Williams: I enjoy doing all kinds of arts and crafts and get along well with the use of my hands, but I have very poor control of my handwriting. What in my makeup causes this?

A.B. Your most outstanding trait in your handwriting is mental suppression. Many of your wants, desires and thoughts are not being expressed. Your only outlet is arts and crafts which is letting out your creative talent and your only means of self expression—hence—the reason for your getting along so well in that field.

You feel deeply and are emotional, also, you're quite sensitive to criticism with a little temper thrown in. You have a terrific desire for physical action and love variation of all routine habits and chores.

You like to be thoughtful and generous and even get a little extravagant at times. There is still a fear of expression and closed thinking, keeping much, too much to yourself.

Withheld the letter as you requested.

The writer of the note is future minded, long distance thinking—not too much will power, just average.

Their memory is very good and they pay close attention to details, learning quite easily and retaining a good share of knowledge gained.

There's a certain amount of aggressiveness, not outstanding but there's a tendency towards going forward.

She or he is not sensitive or very easily influenced. They think for themselves, make their own decisions and keep their business to themselves.

The emotions are quite varied. Sometimes sympathetic, sometimes expressive. There's more tendency to have the heart rule the head than vice versa.

Would you please analyze my handwriting, also that of the boy's above, I am very interested in? It might help us to understand him better and help him through a difficult age. I shall be eagerly awaiting your analysis. Thank you very much.

Dear AMY: This boy is withdrawn to the extent he thinks in terms of how anything and everything will benefit him. He's sensitive, does not like criticism and puts on a deceiving front to cover the way he wants to act. He's blunt, emphatic almost stubborn and is very loyal to his own way of thinking. At the moment there is no purpose, no particular will power and no aim in life. However he is creative and a good logical thinker, slowly building thoughts and ideas into something worthwhile. He has ability with his hands and good organization ability if and when he wants to use it. He has a good memory and can be efficient. Sounds like he's going through a "phase"—with many others.

As to your own writing: You are sympathetic and understanding. You try not to get irritated by small upsets but there is still a small amount of resentment there that bothers you. You're future minded and like to plan ahead. You are alert and a quick thinker with an open mind. You are generous and kind. Sometimes you feel a little self-conscious and think you're not doing the right thing. You have pride and like to see things done well and in the right way.

Your boy would do well in mechanics of some kind or construction work. He can build, construct and has ability with his hands.

I have memories of the times tramps and gypsies would travel through and my father would nail up the doors and windows on the granary and milk house. I would lie awake at night and always thought I could hear them trying to get in.

If Your Name Is 'Herbert'

By ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.

To bring rain to a thirsty earth was a wish mankind had for thousands of years; the power of rainmaking has been attributed to saints and sinners. One saint who according to legend called down the precious moisture was St. Herbert, archbishop of Cologne in the 11th century.

He knelt down in front of the altar of his church, determined not to raise his head until the rains would come, and wept for his unfortunate flock.

Only when a violent thunderstorm broke loose did he lift his head. How long it took him to get the rain has not been recorded. Quentin Masys, the Flemish painter, depicted St. Herbert praying for rain.

"Herbert" is now a mong our given names, and it is from the Old Germanic language. Its ancient form is "Hariberc." This is put together from "harja" which means "army," and "berht" which is "bright." While all over Europe "Herbert" has been widespread as a given name, here and in England it is found more often as a last name. Several noble English families had it as their family name. They trace their origin to one Jenkin ap Adam ("ap" means "son") in the Welsh language. Jenkin, son of Adam, lived in the 14th century, and one of his descendants chose to call himself "Herbert," picking this among the several names he had.

In the centuries since past various branches of the Herberts came to be noted for other, and this suggested "Herbert" as a given name in England and here.

One scion of the Herberts was a religious poet. George Herbert did not publish a line of his religious poetry in his lifetime, but when he was about to die from consumption, aged 39, he asked that his manuscript of poems should be given to his brother Nicholas Ferrar. If he benefited some poor soul in distress they ought to be published; if he found them without merit, they must be burned.

(Want to know about your own and other names? Write to Dr. Reynolds, care of this paper. For a personal reply please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

The Reader Speaks Up

Editor: Are the people of Plymouth aware that Jack Price, the volunteer fireman injured in the Daisy fire, is still unable to return to his job at Fords? And are they aware that the City of Plymouth will no longer pay any compensation after March unless Mrs. Price goes to work at the City Hall? Mr. Price still needs crutches and would be unable to care for their baby alone, so Mrs. Price will have to work nights. As she is the mother of four children, this job seems to me to be an unnecessary burden.

The City of Plymouth should continue to repay this man for his services as long as necessary. We depend on volunteer firemen to complete our force. How many will want to continue when they have no assurance of a livelihood for their families if they are injured?

The Important Business Education Subjects

This week we will continue the article on the Business Education Department. Last week we talked about typewriting, and some of the general aims and purposes of the department. Now we would like to take up some of the other important and useful subjects we offer all high school students.

More and more students from all departments are taking advantage of the practical business law classes taught by Miss Florence Walker. They find the subject exceedingly interesting, and learn about many legal aspects dealing with everyday problems that come up in all phases of life.

The same lady also teaches a bookkeeping class and some typing classes. She says she would like to see more boys take bookkeeping — particularly the ones who plan on taking up Business Administration or Accounting in college.

Mr. James Cook teaches retail selling and general business training. He feels that all students have a definite need for some education in business transactions that they will come in contact with in later life.

Mr. Cook goes on to say that these values and attitudes will play an important part in determining the kinds of citizens and workers our young people will become.

CITY MANAGERS' CORNER

I am proud of the men who make up our Police Department. Our police officers are all well qualified and each man has received some of the best police training available.

Last year, one of our police lieutenants received one of 13 AAA scholarships that were awarded in the state to attend the Command Officer's Course at Michigan State University. A long process, which finally results in hiring a new policeman, begins with a notice in the Plymouth Mail requesting applications for the patrolman's job.

Also, each fall, police officers give safety training to the men and women who act as school safety guards.

When the rookie is hired, he is given a police manual and local rules and regulations to read. His earliest training is through periodic coaching talks with the police chief and lieutenants.

After his year of probation has been completed, the officer is sent to the Basic Police Officer's Course at Michigan State University. Then he returns to our department for continued on the job training and normal police duties. When the opportunity arises, the police officers are given additional classroom instruction.

Because of the great care that is taken in selecting our police officers, because they are well qualified, and because they are given the best training that is available, we can rest secure in the knowledge that our city remains safe and orderly.

Another very popular subject is the business machines class taught by Mrs. Donna Stevens. In this room one may find 20 various makes of machines designed to do different types of work in an office.

A student can get a good foundation for most small business machines found in today's office stores. Mrs. Stevens, who also teaches typing, will tell you that all one has to do is look at the want ad section of a city newspaper to

The Remarkable Story of Wide-Track Wheel Design

How It Started • How It Works What This Highly Successful Pontiac Achievement Means to You

It all started, as most innovations do, with a problem to be solved. The problem was that when you turned a corner or rounded a curve your car swayed and, everybody aboard leaned with the force of the turn.

Over the past few years car body widths have been increased to give you more passenger room and comfort. But widths between the wheels have not increased proportionately.

A wide body without a wide track is top-heavy, lacks balance, looks awkward. It's a little like a husky football player, wearing wide shoulder pads and dainty ballet slippers, running with his feet close together.

THE SOLUTION

The answer was simply to widen the track to match the body. We moved the wheels five inches farther apart. This widened the stance, but not the car. This was the birth of Wide-Track Wheel design.

You use the same principle and feel a similar effect when you stand erect with your feet spread wide apart. You're braced and steady.

LEAN AND SWAY REDUCED

Our first road tests showed how significantly we had reduced lean and sway. The car held to the turns and hugged the curves as had no other car we had ever driven, except for sport cars, which of course are not designed primarily for passenger comfort.

This greater stability gave the driver a noticeably improved feeling of security, control and confidence. All passengers, back and front, rode with less fatigue, more comfort.

IMMEDIATE PUBLIC ACCEPTANCE

It usually takes car owners a little time and many miles to be convinced of the merits of many automobile engineering improvements. That's because some improvements are far removed from the car owner's everyday driving experience. Not so with Wide-Track Wheels. There was an immediate understanding of what we had done and a fast and favorable response to its advantages.

From the first week our dealers began demonstrating the 1959 Pontiac, we knew Wide-Track Wheel design was every bit the accomplishment we had hoped for. People who drove the car told us it was the finest, easiest handling automobile they'd ever been in.

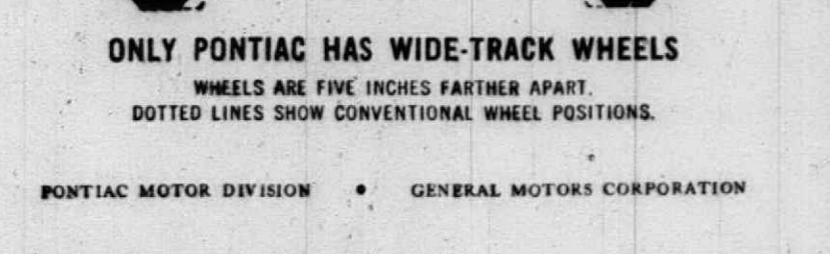

WHO'S BUYING ALL THE NEW PONTIAC?

Pontiac sales, we are happy to report, have confirmed public opinion. This car has apparently captured the imagination of tasteful people who were looking for clean, uncluttered styling. People attracted by the quality of workmanship and attention to detail we give every single Pontiac we build. And, of course, people quick to grasp the remarkable story of Wide-Track Wheel design.

YOUR NEW PONTIAC

Investing in a brand-spanking new automobile, fresh, sweet-smelling and totally different is a wonderful thing to happen to a family in the spring. Wouldn't it do your morale good to become the owner of a gorgeous new Wide-Track Pontiac within the next few weeks?

We are confident it is an automobile in which you will take great pride and from which you will reap much personal satisfaction and enjoyment.

C & O Reports 4th Best Year

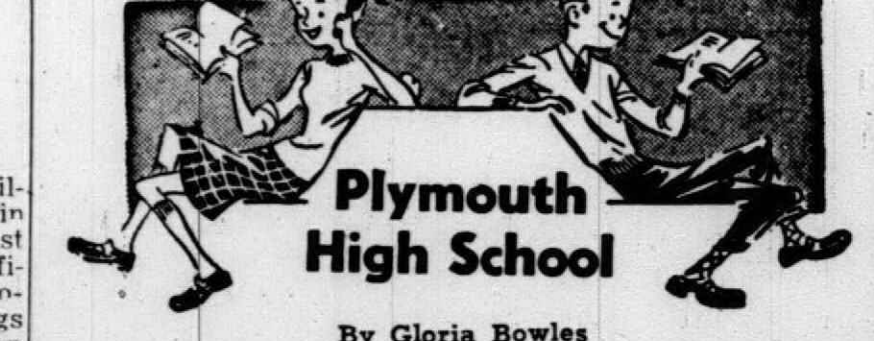

Cresapeake and Ohio Railway told its shareholders in the 1958 Annual Report, just cut, that "C&O is in prime financial condition and its potential or future earnings and growth are greater than ever."

In a covering letter in the report, Cyrus Eaton, chairman of the board, and Walter J. Tuohy, president, said they "see nothing in the year ahead to disturb C&O's dividend rate of $1 a share a quarter, $4 a year. Net income last year was $52 million, fourth best in C&O history, equal to $6.36 a common share, compared with the record net income of $68 million, equal to $8.36 a share in 1957. Eaton and Tuohy point out that in 1958, business generally was down somewhat from the peak levels of preceding years. "Net income, however, was almost equal to the average of the previous five years, the best earnings period C&O has experienced."

Regarding financial aspects, the report says C&O's 1958 net income "represented 14.5 per cent of its total revenues, almost the same relationship between gross and net it had in 1957. We consider this high carry-through to be one of the most important indicators of C & O's financial health."

LEROY, N.Y. (UPI) - Village truck driver Clarence Perry was fired by the mayor when he refused to drive a load of rocks across a frozen reservoir. He got the job back when his replacement, Leonard Vaughn, tried it and barely managed to leap to safety before the truck plunged through the ice into six feet of water.

Plymouth High School

By Gloria Bowles

This is going to be a two-in-one weekend! Tonight will see the premiere of "Arsenic and Old Lace" . . . tomorrow morning, 11 will leave for Hillsdale and the Model United Nations Assembly (MUNA).

Robert Southgate is directing the second All-School play of the year, to be presented March 19 and 20 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. He and the two student directors - Jeanette Ridley and Claudia Kessler, both seniors, have been working with the cast for six weeks, in an effort to effectively portray the story of two sweet little old ladies who dispose of lonely old men with arsenic.

The cast for the comedy is: Abby Brewster to be portrayed by Mari-Lynn Walters; Martha Brewster, Gwen Scharl; Mortimer Brewster, Jim McCabe; Elaine Harper, Sally Sawyer; Jonathan Brewster, Joe Calhoun; Doctor Einstein, Jeff Huntington; Teddy Brewster, Bob Wall; Doctor Harper, Lester Barton; Mr. Witherspoon, Norman Lenhardt.

Others to be appearing on stage are Mr. Gibbs, John Vandevy; Lt. Rooney, Bob Westover; Officer O'Hara, Hale Huber; Officer Brophy, Steve Bullington and Officer Kline, Dave Jaskierney.

Working behind scenes are April Corey and Alice Olenford, art; Brenda Richardson and Geralee Rehbein, tickets; Linda Crackel and Georgina Daubresse, costumes; JoAnn Nagy and Mary Jane Readcamp, publicity; Susan Campbell and Jim Kaiser, properties; Jim Cutler, Gordon Jewell and Donn Kelly, lighting and sound; and John Van Dyke and Bill Jones, backstage.

Communists for a day and a half will be ten PHS students, who with their adviser, Miss Gertrude Fiegel, will take part in a mock United Nations assembly at Hillsdale College.

Those slated to represent Poland are seniors Pete Signorelli, Tom Schomberg, Claudia Kessler, Rolf Dietrich, Mary Jane West, Susan Campbell, Tom Keeler and Steve Lea and juniors Janet Frieswyk and Gloria Bowles.

The group will arrive Friday morning, March 20 at Hillsdale, when registration and room assignments will take place in the College Field House. The first plenary session will be held in the College Church at 12:15 p.m., at which time the assembly officers - president, chairman and rapporteurs - will be elected. Susie Campbell of Plymouth is slated to run for rapporteur. Also scheduled for the first meeting of the General Assembly is a general debate, followed by committee meetings.

"On Friday night, March 20, MUNA'ers will attend a banquet. A recreation period at the College Field House follows the banquet. Saturday morning will find committees holding their second session, at which time they will finish resolutions to be presented at the final plenary session. A luncheon Saturday noon will bring the tenth session of MUNA to a close.

Preparation for the model assembly began in October; members of the PHS United Nations study group have been busy since that time, doing research on their assigned topics.

We got first marking period, second semester report cards yesterday. Need we say more . . . except that there are only 70 school days left!

La vie est belle! That was the reaction of the 15 odd third year French students who learned a lot last week, that in the first time in the history of Plymouth High School, a fourth year of French will be taught. This year's third year class was the first third year of any language ever offered - the fourth year class will also boast the same distinction.

The tenth issue of "Pilgrim Prints" is out Tuesday . . . "We're going to have the best prom there ever was," asserted senior class secretary Carole North last week. It's gonna be "mystical, drip with atmosphere, sleek," described another 5'er, Edie Dibble. The prom, to feature an Oriental theme, is May 2. Betsy Edgar is General Chairman and Pat Nickerson and Mary La Fleur Decorations Chairman. Mrs. Frances Overton is faculty adviser for decorations.

A swim playday is being organized by members of the PHS Girl's Athletic Association, to be held next Tuesday, March 17, starting at 2:30. Participating in the playday will be girls from all the league schools, with Plymouth acting as host.

Pretty, blond Roxie Smith, organization chairman for the playday, outlined plans for the event, to be held in the pool. A free swim will begin activity, followed by relays with eight girls from each school in the league slated to compose four teams of twelve swimmers each. Another free swim will follow the relays - then the girls will feed their faces.

Those planning the playday are organization: Kay Seile, Rosemary Kubick, Sue Terry and Marilyn Finley; refreshments: Jean Socko, chairman; Sydnée Van Alen, Sharon Wood, Sandy Stroub, Janet Hockkins, Carol Loomis; clean-up: Peggy Davidson, chairman; Marty Bernash, Mavis Williams, Jill Clarke, Barb Browne, Karen West, Wilma Wright and Carleen Allen.

Also lending a hand are nametags: Ann West, chairman; Mary Lou Argo, Linda La Grow, Marianne Wagner, Carolyn Scott, Sue Utter, Janet Morrison and Marjorie Shirk; centerpiece: Barb Gooch, Sheila Lorenz, Claire Wilson, and Janet Mackie and Invitations: Karen Kauniso, chairman, Bonnie Anderson and Carol Hudson.

Takes a lot of people to make a playday a success! In the poem department: here are two literary efforts penned by PHS authors. Freshman Jim Yost is responsible for the first; you can blame senior Bob Westover for the other.

Am I me, Or am I another? Is I my sister, Or am my brother? Am I whom, Or is I we? Be I you? Or am I me? Bob's: In dreams I visit museums. Just me alone-no we-ums. Park Plans in Progress for Lake Pointe Village

By MARCY BARTSON GL. 3-6729

Last Thursday the Youth Committee members met at the Plymouth Township Hall. A discussion was held pertaining to the land that will become a park this summer. This land is located in Subdivision One, bordered by Brentwood Drive and Robinwood Drive. It was donated by the Greenspan Building Company to Plymouth Township for use as a public park.

Mr. Greenspan also donated $250 to the Lake Pointe Homeowners Association as a gift to be used towards the development of this land. It was decided, at this meeting, that the park would be one of recreational purpose. Another point under consideration is the manner of enclosure for the park. The tentative thought is to erect a high cyclone fence backing up to the rear of the yards that border one side of the land. Ralph Heid is Youth Committee Chairman.

Seems like now is the time to get in condition for spring and everyone has a wonderful opportunity to do this at Farrand School. Mr. John Howe, the physical education instructor at Farrand, is co-operating with the PTA in setting up adult gym classes. These are not actually classes, but are really "fun get-togethers" anyone in the area is welcome to join in the fun on Thursday evenings at 7:30 to 8:30 or till! (depending on how much fun you are having). There is no charge, and so far the groups have been playing volleyball and basketball. The men have had great fun with the volleyball games—the girls want to start an exercise class too.

Dudley and Bette Maher decided to have a little fun for themselves a few weeks ago. They drove into Detroit and took in the show of "My Fair Lady". Bette says that the costumes were terrific—so colorful and pretty. Arlene Motzkus drove in to pick up her mother, Mrs. Theresa Abend at the Greyhound Terminal Saturday. Mrs. Abend has been vacationing for five wonderful weeks at Kissimmee, Florida. She met many old acquaintances during her stay there, and met many new ones too. The weather was fine at Kissimmee which is centrally located in Florida. Mrs. Abend will visit with Arlene for a few weeks during which time she will see her grandson confirmed on Palm Sunday.

Have you noticed that the new models are nearing completion on Schoolcraft over in Subdivision Three? They will be ready for display sometime in early April. The models will range in price from 15,000 to 19,000 dollars. One of these houses will have an attached garage while another will have a carport.

Peter and Victoria Wilks entertained guests from Toledo, Ohio this past week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Churdzinski, and their three children, Anna, Karen and Paul arrived here on Saturday.

Stanley is the nephew of Peter. Also coming home for the Easter vacation will be the Wilk's son, Bob, who is attending classes at the University of Illinois.

Bill and Bonnie Coons and their son young Bill, had a delightful vacation in Washington, D.C. This was a combined trip and vacation for the Coons as their main purpose was to drive their son Bill down to Leesburg, Virginia to enroll him in a private school. Bill was delighted with the school and since the day that he arrived there happened to be his 16 birthday, his class held a party in his honor. Leesburg is located in the foothills, thus the Coons enjoyed the picturesque scenery and historical places all along their journey. While in Washington they visited the Lincoln Memorial, the White House and the Capitol. They also visited Gettysburg. They traveled 1800 miles. Their 18 wedding anniversary was also celebrated while on this vacation.

Visiting the Phelans for the Easter week-end will be Ray's brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Phelan of Philadelphia. The Edward Phelans might become citizens of our Town in the near future, as they are contemplating to move here from Philadelphia.

Tonight, Thursday, March 19, and tomorrow night, March 20, the Plymouth High School students are presenting their second semester

All-School Play entitled "Arsenic and Old Lace." This is a perennial favorite and has been seen many times on the Broadway stage since its introduction in 1941. It will be worth the 75 cents for an adult ticket and 50 cents for children to see this hilarious comedy performed by our talented high school youngsters. From Lake Pointe we have Les Barton III as the Reverend Dr. Harper.

Steve Bullington as Officer Brophy and Dave Jaskierney as Officer Klein. See you there tonight or tomorrow night!

When the liner Queen Elizabeth docks in New York, it lands up to 2,000 passengers, and comes on food for 100,000 meals, and embarks with 2,000 new passengers, all in about two days.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

Curley Tables His Motion

The other night at the Rices', Curley was shaking his head over "young people," his daughter in particular.

"Can't tell her a thing," said Curley. "She wants a dining room set for a wedding present, so I said her mother might let her have ours. Beautiful set, too, only she claims it's 'out of style,' can you beat that?"

"Now, Curley," said Mrs. Rice, "you ought to know better. My mother gave us that set when we got married and I told her the same thing!"

From where I sit, no two people have the same taste in clothes, furniture — or beverages, for that matter. But we should all have respect for each other's preferences. For example, maybe you like tea or milk. Me, I prefer a glass of beer. That shouldn't prevent us from being good neighbors. Let's not be so "set" in our ways that we can't live with our differences.

Now you can get the car you want

You don't have to wait any longer. You can get prompt delivery of the model, the colors, and the equipment you want in the Can Do Cars of The Forward Look. Take a see-for-yourself drive at your dealer's now. Let the car show you the difference great engineering makes.

ONLY CAN DO CARS HAVE SWIVEL SEATS. They make these the easiest cars to get in and out of you ever saw. And that's not all! '59 Forward Look Cars have extra room and comfort in back, too. New body designs give them more leg, hip and hat room than the other leading makes.

If you've been looking around at new cars, you know there are a lot of differences among them this year. And these are the cars that have the differences that give you the most for your money. For instance:

Swivel seats that let ladies get in and out like ladies—and men, without folding like acrobats! The seat swings out. You sit in it like an office chair, swivel around on noiseless nylon bearings. It locks in place—and you're ready to go. Exclusive on our cars. And—a full 2½ inches of foam cushioning make these the most easy-riding seats on the road.

But one of the most important differences in cars this year is in back. Maybe you do most of your riding up front. But the rest of the family, and guests, probably ride in back. They'll find the back seats are extra comfortable in Forward Look Cars for '59. New body designs add inches of s-t-r-e-t-c-h space for legs, knees, hips and hat.

ONLY CAN DO CARS GIVE YOU EXTRA ROOM IN BACK, TOO off your hands, parking, weaving through traffic, and on long hauls.

Proved pushbutton driving. Simple mechanical controls. No shifting with a "stick" back and forth through all driving ranges. Just touch a button and go! Proved by over 15 billion miles of owner driving. And the buttons are on your left, where they should be, easy to reach and away from the hands of children. And you can get pushbutton heating and air conditioning. No more fiddling to get the right temperature. Just touch a button to get the comfort you want.

CAN DO CARS HAVE PROVED PUSHBUTTON DRIVE

The engines that took top performance honors are better than ever this year. Chrysler Corporation cars walked off with top honors in the Mobilgas Economy Run for the past two years—with every other major make in America pitted against them. This year's engines are designed to give you even more snap and thrift than last year's!

Only cars with Torsion-Aire, the suspension system even our competitors admit makes them America's finest riding and driving cars. They never buck when you stop fast, rear back when you start fast, or sidesaddle you around curves. You ride smooth, flat and firm, even over back country roads. Only our cars have it—and at no extra cost.

Plus other "extras at no extra cost": a super enamel finish you don't have to polish . . . big compound windshields pioneered by us, and safety glass all around . . . electric windshield wipers that don't slow down when you speed up—you get them all at no extra cost in the quality-built Forward Look Cars.

Your dealer has a new Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler or Imperial all ready for you to take through its paces. He will be glad to arrange a see-for-yourself demonstration. See him today.

A drive will bring out the difference great engineering makes in value, economy, performance, comfort and quality.

Some features described here may be extra equipment on some Chrysler Corporation cars. Ask your dealer, please.

Plymouth's Proud of Burroughs!

BORROUGHS WEEK - MARCH 19-26

FROM THE AIR, the sprawling (840,000 square feet) Burroughs Plymouth Division facilities stand as a clean, progressive view on the community landscape. Here 4,000 employees are engaged in producing Burroughs electronic business machines. The main five story structure and power house were built in 1938, at a time when Burroughs management foresaw the tremendous future of office automation. The three single-story plants (rear) and quonset warehouse (behind stack) were built since World War

II. The latest, a 204,000 sq. ft. addition, went up in 1957. The plant this year will pour about $1,000,000 in taxes into the school, Township and County treasuries, DuRay Stromback is the plant general manager.

Here's One Community That Knows Value of Good Industrial Neighbor!

The PLYMOUTH MAIL

Thursday, March 19, 1959, Plymouth, Michigan

Section 4

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Plymouth is having a lot of fun this week planning a special party for its biggest resident, the Burroughs Corporation.

The people in our community want those in the modern plant out on Plymouth Road to know that we understand several things:

1. Burroughs provides a host of us with jobs and paychecks to support our families.
2. Burroughs takes a heavy portion of the tax load and helps us build our schools and sustain our government services.
3. Burroughs is a cooperative, contributive member of the community.
4. Burroughs has splendid relations with its employees.
5. Burroughs has a clean, neat and impressive building on the Plymouth landscape.
6. Burroughs makes business machines for the world, and hence brings a degree of recognition for Plymouth in all parts of the globe. For that matter, it also makes missile control and tracking devices, which takes the trademark into outer space.

Plymouth recognizes all those things, and desperately wants Burroughs to know it.

There is a bigger point. Most of us in Michigan know that our State has been taking an unfair beating throughout the land recently in discussions of our general "climate." Our problems have been distorted and blown into elephantine size, while our steady, everyday industrial wonders have been ignored and driven out of sight.

If our "Burroughs Week" can reverse even a portion of this negative thinking, Plymouth will have rendered a valuable service to this community — and to Michigan.

The fact is, of course, that Burroughs is booming at an all-time peak of employment. Its employees are happy and its community relations are warm and pleasant.

It also is self-evident that Plymouth is proud of every industry in its environs. Burroughs has been singled out because it is the biggest, at the moment. But all the others — including the new Western Electric and Gaylord container plants, plus the new American Insurance offices — are part of a strong fabric.

For this week, however, let all hands come on deck and bellow:

"Plymouth's Proud of Burroughs."

'What Industry Means To Our Community'

(Editor's Note: The Plymouth Mail solicited essays from local high school students on the subject, "What An Industry Means To a Community." The winner of a $25 bonus is Joyce Hinote, 12th Grader at Plymouth High. She will read her work at the "Colonial Feast" honoring Burroughs here Saturday.)

BY JOYCE HINOTE
12th Grade,
Plymouth High School
Industry is to the community as food is to man. Without food the man would die and without industry our community would cease to exist as we know it today.

Industry has brought us a higher standard of living, wider field of job opportunities, and a prosperous community. The community which has few industries lacks these advantages: job opportunities in all fields, prosperity, and many of the cultural aspects provided by these businesses. The industry provides chances for advancement and improvement to the man who wishes to get ahead.

It also brings prosperity and aids the community in raising its standard of living. Our schools, police force, fire department and other public utilities and services are, in a great part, furnished to us by the big tax paying industries in our locality. They also take a large amount of the tax burden off the people themselves.

Our standard of living is raised not only from the money gained through our jobs and the taxes of the industries, but also by the different types of people who move to our community because of their different cultural interests and beliefs. They add these cultural beliefs and interests to the life of the community.

In a way, industry and business make the community, by providing jobs and making this particular locality a better place to live.

Plymouth will break out its stubborn Colonial pride this week to show the rest of the nation that it lives in fruitful harmony with an enterprising big industry.

Newspaper, magazine and television reporters from all over will be guests here Saturday to record the doings of our "Plymouth's Proud of Burroughs" celebration.

When it's over, they will be able to report on an "economic climate" in our community which is strikingly different from the recent gossip about Michigan.

They will note the appreciation of a community for the Plymouth Division of Burroughs corporation—a clean, progressive industry employing more than 4,000 people and occupying a shining 183 acres on the local landscape.

Burroughs is an industry which supplies business machines to the world, and builds them right here in our hometown. Its employees are happy, the community relations are outstanding, the business is booming.

Only last week Burroughs Division here took the veils from an amazing new product to be built here. It is a machine which sorts cards at the fantastic speed of 1500 items per minute—and does it simply by "reading" magnetized ink on the surface. No holes are punched, no precision sizes of material are required.

Its first obvious application would be to sort the 12 billion checks which pass through American banks and today are separated by hand.

If this incredible new device flourishes, it could mean a great expansion by Burroughs in Plymouth beyond the already impressive factory boundaries. There was an expansion here—the second since the first building went up—only a few months ago.

The basic product in recent months has been the Burroughs "Sensimatic", a complex office machine which posts to account ledger cards, keeps a journal, computes and writes payroll checks, keeps production control records, and does dozens of other odd jobs, all at the switch of a selector knob.

Ray R. Eppert, President of the Burroughs Corporation, will come to Plymouth at noon Saturday and be the guest of honor of the community for the day.

Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay and Mayor Harold Guenther will greet him, along with troops of costumed "Pilgrims" and "Indians." In Eppert's party will be 20 other top Burroughs executives, including the manager of the Plymouth plant, DuRay Stromback.

City and Township officials, most of them in Pilgrim garb, will parade behind a carriage at noon down Main Street Saturday, with music of Junio High band in the background. At the Hotel Mayflower the dignitaries will disembark into a greeting group of Indians and Pilgrims.

A "Colonial Feast" in the Mayflower will follow. The day will be "proclaimed" in lavish language by a Town Crier. Eppert will give simple but sincere gifts that represent the open heart of Plymouth to a respected employer.

Burroughs, you see, pays $1,000,000 in taxes hereabouts and sends paychecks home with 4,000 employees.

Plymouth is one community that appreciates it.

RAY R. EPERT, President of Burroughs Corporation (Plymouth's Special Guest for Colonial Feast this Saturday.)

Press and TV Coming Saturday To Report Our Big Celebration

On Street at 12:15

Attendance at the "Colonial Feast" honoring Burroughs Corporation Saturday is by invitation, because of the limitation of space. Most of the seats will be occupied by City, Township, School and Chamber of Commerce officials.

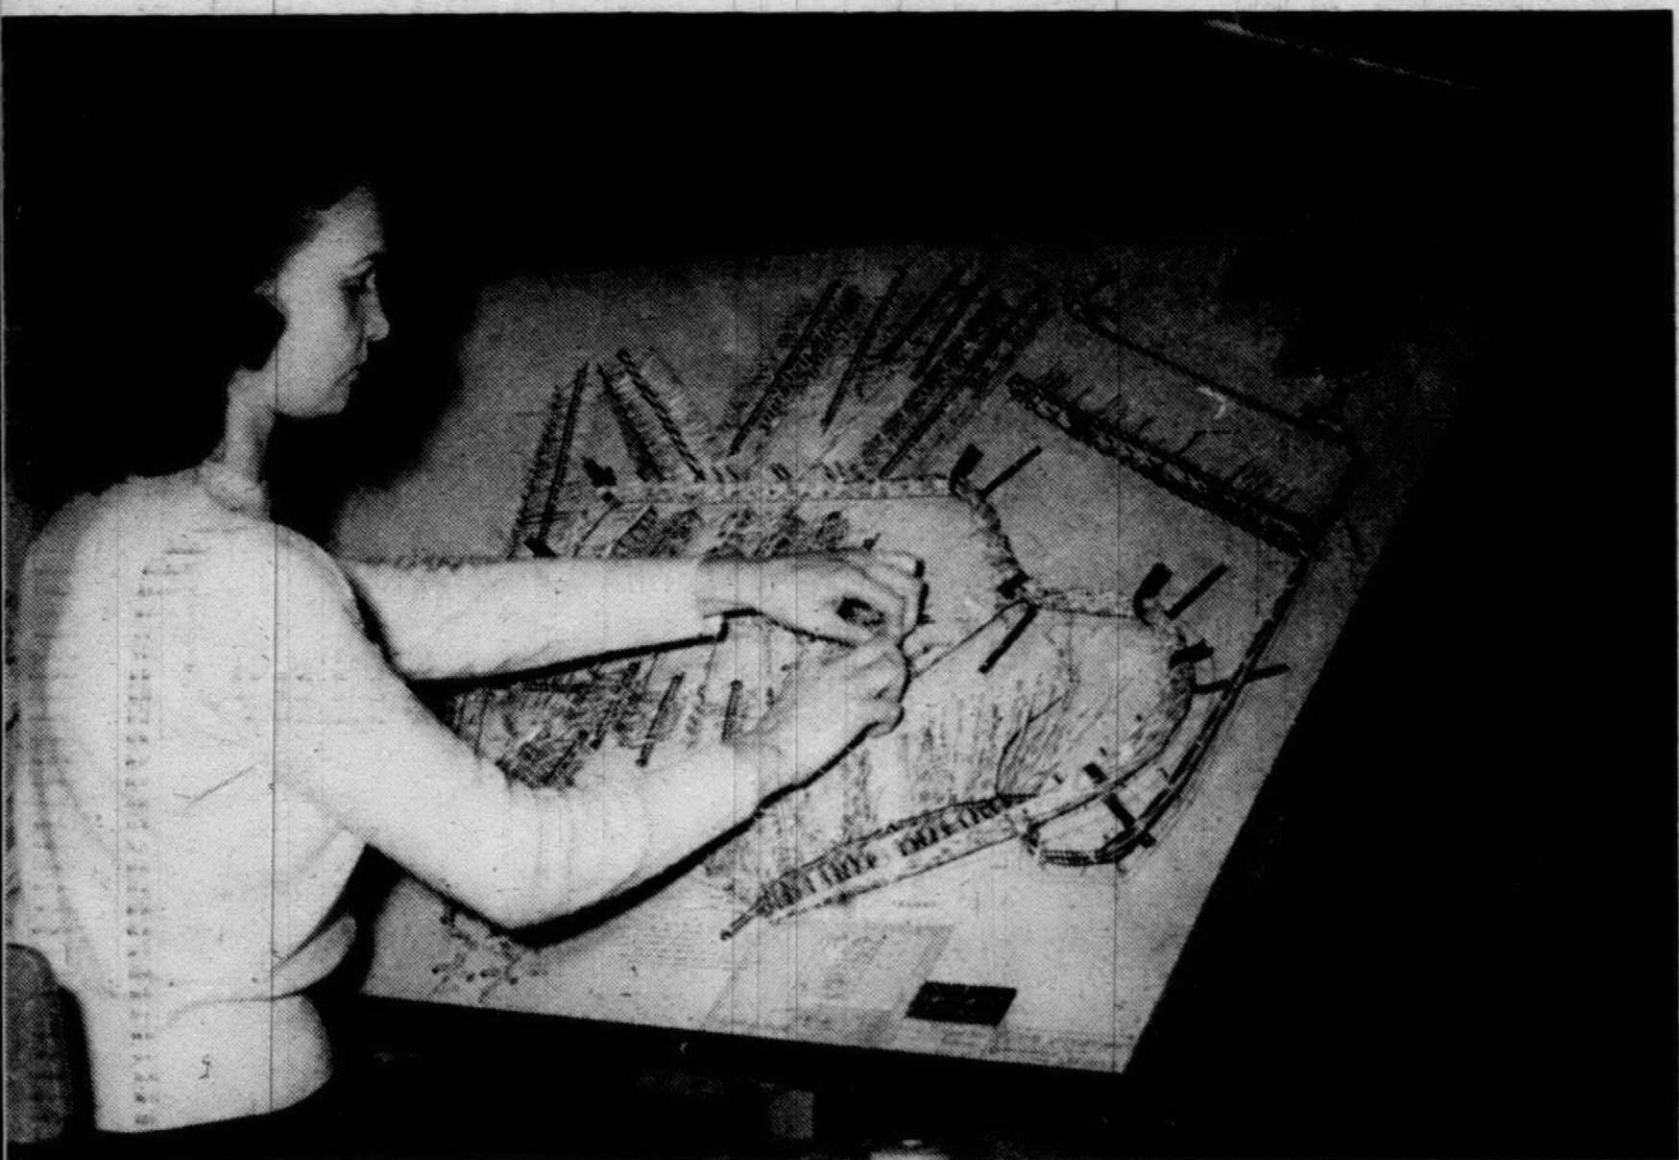

Many of them will be in Colonial or Indian costume.

Ray R. Eppert and other Burroughs officials will arrive at the plant at noon, be greeted by the Mayor and Supervisor and driven in a motorcade to the vicinity of the City Hall.

There they will be greeted by costumed Pilgrims and Indians. Eppert will transfer to a horse-drawn carriage and be borne to the Hotel Mayflower. The band will play and the celebrities will march behind the carriage.

This will take place about 12:15 p.m.

Ray Eppert Clerk To President

Playing the major role in this week's salute to Burroughs is the firm's president, Ray R. Eppert, who began as a shipping clerk in 1921 and 37 years later became the corporation's fifth president.

Applying for a job at the Burroughs branch in Ogden, Utah, immediately became more interested in selling than in shipping, requested saleswork, and became a Junior Salesman within two months. Another two months later he was a Senior Salesman.

In 1926 he moved up to the Bank Division of the company's Home Office Sales Promotion Department. Two years later he moved up again, to Assistant Manager of the New York sales branch. His grasp of selling and marketing concepts helped to bring him an assignment as Special Representative in charge of the Eastern Division, which included New York City.

In 1933 he returned to the Home Office in Detroit and rose to Assistant General Sales Manager six years later. He became General Sales Manager in 1941 and vice president in charge of Marketing in 1946.

Eppert has always been an advocate of the "hard sell," and the competitive, well-informed, highly professional salesman has become identified with Burroughs partly through his efforts.

In 1948 he was appointed a Director of the company, then in May, 1951, Executive Vice President. His election to the highest office of the company took place in April, 1958, climaxing Mr. Eppert's twenty-year tenure as a top level executive.

Mr. Eppert is active in Detroit area civic programs. He has provided executive leadership for the United Foundation since 1950.

He was General Campaign Chairman for the Torch Drive in 1953 and President of the Foundation in 1958.

IN THE great and small cities of every continent the vast complex of modern commerce moves in a world of figures. These figures have no substance. They are evidenced only as numbers on the myriad faces of business documents — from the order blank to the annual report. But they are the indispensable means of measuring goods and services, wages and sales, profits and losses. As statistics, they guide and control the destinies of all commercial operations.

The sheer volume of figure work needed to keep today's business functioning would have been beyond human capabilities less than 70 years ago when the records of all commercial operations were kept by pen and ink methods. In those days work - worn bookkeepers spent nearly half of their time guarding against errors and another twenty-five per cent of the time checking and re-checking to locate errors made.

All of these tired gentlemen must have dreamed of a machine that would add long columns of figures mechanically without the possibility of error. In 1886, one of them made such a machine possible. His name was William Seward Burroughs.

In the 70 years since Burroughs produced the first successful adding machine, the basic principle of his original idea has been expanded and developed into a complete line of bookkeeping, accounting, calculating and statistical machines, and a wide selection of office supplies. In almost every part of the world Burroughs machines are used to perform every kind of figure work — from the simple addition of a grocery bill to the awesome task of compiling the nation's income tax returns. Wherever there is a need for accurate, timely figure facts, there's a Burroughs machine to do the job.

The Corporation, which still bears its founder's name, has grown from a tiny corner in a St. Louis machine shop to a world-wide manufacturing, selling and servicing organization, including 30 manufacturing plants and hundreds of marketing outlets serving over five million customers.

FULL PRODUCTION of the Sensimatic went into high gear following World War II. Its manufacture was assigned to the Plymouth plant which turned out first Sensimatics in 1949. Business firms got their Sensimatics later in the same year. Faces of many Plymouth people can be found as one tours the giant plant. But of course, most must come from other communities since the 4,400 employed there would be exactly half the population of the city of Plymouth alone. Some drive as far as 20 miles away. Once hired, the

New Burroughs employee is likely to stay a long time. The average length of service time among employees is now over 10 years. It is not unusual, however, to find 30 to 50 year veterans. Starting in 1938 with 100 employees, the Plymouth Division has expanded its floor space several times. The latest was in 1957 when 204,000 square feet was added, meaning employment for an additional 1,500. The Plymouth Division now employs more people than any other division in the company.

ONE OF THE most important operations at the Plymouth plant is assembling the intricate "sensing" panels, heart of every versatile office accounting machine made by Burroughs. Jean Donaldson, 9456 Lilley Rd., is the experienced hand doing this delicate task.

JOHN WALASKAY, 42007 E. Ann Arbor Trail, administrative assistant to the manufacturing manager at the Plymouth Division, has been with Burroughs since 1936 and in his present capacity since 1953.

PUTTING TAPER tabs on the end of harness wires is the job of Jean Clark, 798 Evergreen. Every wire must have the right type of terminal if the machine is to function perfectly.

PURCHASING activities at Burroughs Plymouth Division involve many local industries. Here, B. E. Brotherton, (center), manager of the purchasing division, discusses plans for new equipment with his secretary, Vi Wuestnick, 16415 Bradner, and Larry Parmenter, buyer, 13250 Ridge Rd.

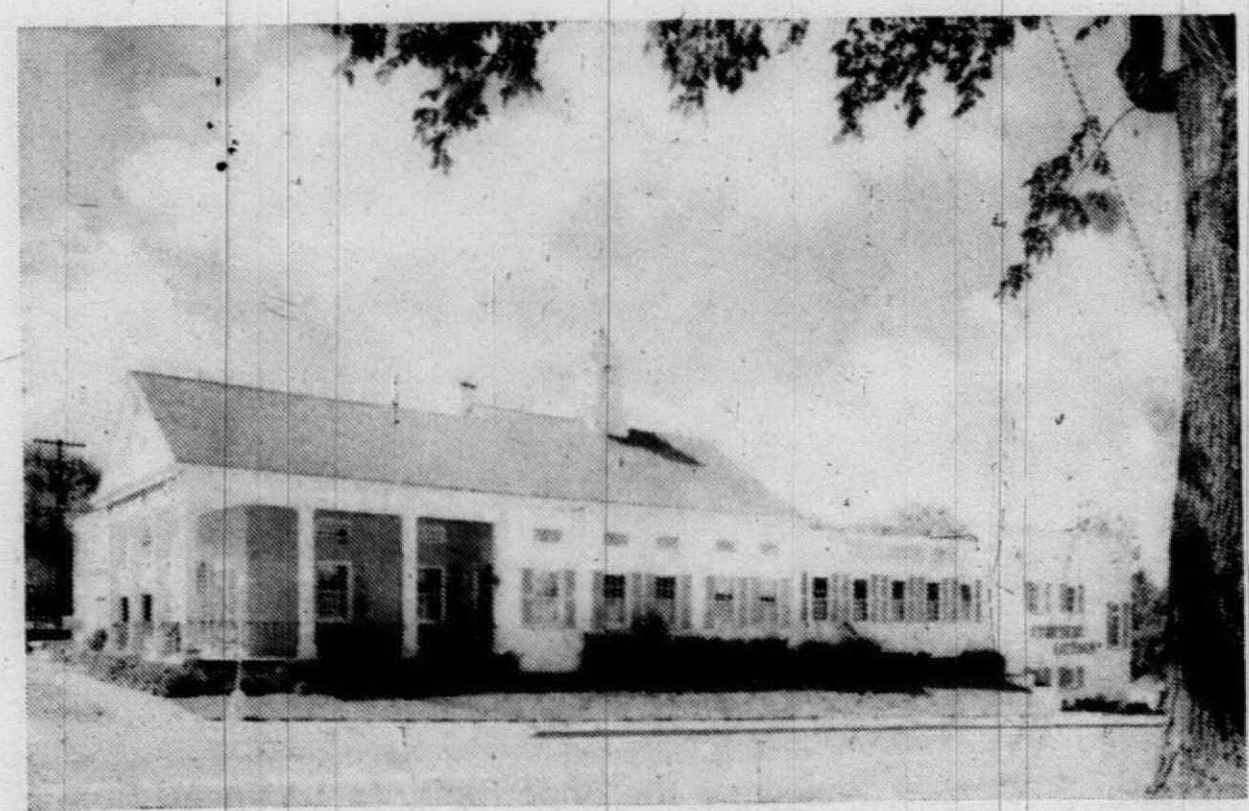

No Compromise With Quality
 Traditional dependability of Burroughs machines stems from the attitude of the Company's founder, who made no compromise with quality. He would use only the best of materials; his own working drawings had to be super accurate; his tools the best obtainable.
 To insure top quality in its products today, the Corporation as a whole employs the talents of more than a thousand quality control specialists equipped with the finest scientific devices for experimenting, analyzing, and testing. About 300 of these specialists work at the Plymouth Division.
 Through high manufacturing standards, Burroughs has fostered a distinctive pride of workmanship among its craftsmen at all plants—

Burroughs Farms Provides Recreation for Employees

On the shores of Little Crooked Lake, about 28 miles from Plymouth, is Burroughs Farms — a 586-acre summer playground for employees, their families and friends. Here virtually every recreational facility usually found in a summer resort is provided for the enjoyment of children and adults. There is an expansive beach, covered with a thick layer of Lake Michigan sand. There are ample picnic grounds, two championship golf courses, archery, trap and skeet shooting ranges, tennis courts and a ball diamond complete with grandstand. Modern cottages are available for seven day periods at a nominal cost. During mid-summer months, there are Saturday night dances in the big pavillion for those who like either square dancing or ballroom dancing. July 4th is a gala day for the kiddies, with all the traditional games and contests, topped off by a spectacular fire works display at the beach. To the Burroughs employee, the "Farms" is a valuable consideration in his job and his way of life.

Missile Computers Also Made

Electronic digital computers, Sensimatic accounting machines and bank proof and distribution machines—all unfamiliar words to the average citizen—are among the products rolling off production lines at the Plymouth Manufacturing and Engineering Division of the Burroughs Corporation.

But to those in the business field or in missile laboratories, the complicated devices are common tools.

The chief product of the Plymouth Division since World War II is the Sensimatic. If you can imagine a machine that will post to account ledger cards, keep a journal, compute and write payroll checks, keep production control records and dozens of other accounting and bookkeeping odd jobs, by switching from one to another at the turn of a knob, you have the Sensimatic. In 1941 the first hand-made model was turned out and during World War II there were 10 in service during the war. Plymouth was assigned production of the machine in 1949 and business firms got their first Sensimatic later that year. Addition of a typewriter keyboard in 1957 increased the machine's versatility.

But the $58,877 square foot Plymouth plant also has other machines coming off the lines to speed up accounting and bookkeeping processes. Only last week Burroughs announced here a "major breakthrough" for the banking world. It is the Magnetic Character Sorter, capable of sorting documents at a rate of 1,500 per minute. It will be manufactured in Plymouth.

A recent product built in Plymouth is the Series F2000 Computer, a comparatively low-cost machine that is capable of performing all mathematical functions automatically from any one of the 19 memory storage units.

While Burroughs products are widely known in the business world, the armed forces also make use of the many defense items manufactured in the various Burroughs Divisions.

In the Plymouth plant, the Series E101 Computer is turned out for use at the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama and Cape Canaveral, Florida.

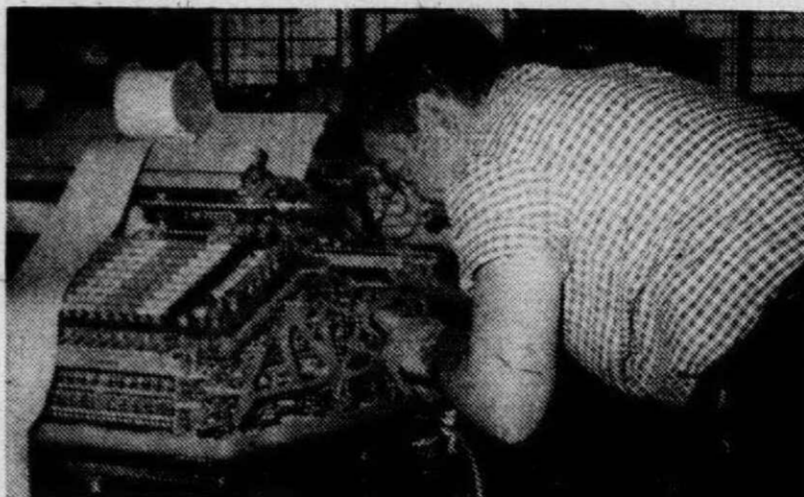

Playing a large role in America's race for space, the computer does the many jobs of testing missile practices and theory at Redstone and then takes part in the actual firings at Cape Canaveral.

All of these complicated devices are not just manufactured at the local Burroughs plant. Occupying the entire third floor of the main building for several years has been the engineering laboratory — the fountainhead of Burroughs progress. Several hundred engineers and staff people are at work on dozens of different projects all at one time.

Their job includes analyzing materials that go into machines, photographing the operating parts with high speed cameras, designing the components, testing to determine the life of a machine and engineering the tools that will finally fabricate the parts for new products.

Burroughs has grown from a one-shop company in St. Louis to a world-wide organization with over 34,000 employees, 31 manufacturing plants. There are 23 in the United States, three in Canada, three in the United Kingdom, one in Europe and one in South America. It has a marketing organization that includes 22 subsidiaries through the world.

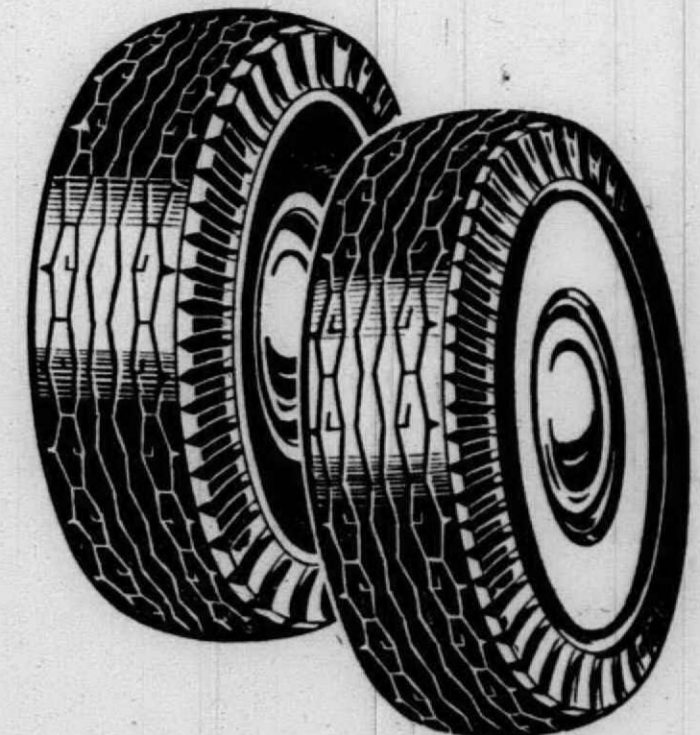

Headquarters for Burroughs is in Detroit.

THE ASSEMBLY LINE is the heart of the manufacturing operation. Major sub assemblies are made elsewhere in the plant, then delivered to the assembly line where they are incorporated into the product. Here, James Perlongo, 9310 Corinne, helps build a Sensimatic.

Plant Opened Here 21 Years Ago This Week

It made big news on January 15, 1937 when the Burroughs Adding Machine Company of Detroit announced that it intended to build a five story plant on Plymouth Road.

And like the cooperative effort taking place during this "Burroughs Week" among city, township and Chamber of Commerce people, the president of Burroughs 22 years ago found that there was a spirit of friendliness that helped welcome the big industry.

Stanley Backus was president of Burroughs when the firm decided to use the land that it had purchased here 13 years earlier.

It was late in the summer of 1936 that Backus and a number of other high Burroughs officials came to Plymouth to discuss the prospects of the new plant.

"At a luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel," the Plymouth Mail reported, "Edward C. Hough, an official of the Daisy Company, in introducing Mr. Backus to the guests who had been invited to meet him and talk about his plans, pledged every possible assistance on the part of the business men of this city in aiding the company in its Plymouth development.

"Mr. Hough has been one of the few men who closely followed and aided in this possible increase in the business activities of Plymouth from the first move some 14 years ago when the 140 acre site was purchased.

"Mr. Backus, then, and more recently, has expressed his pleasure and satisfaction with the friendly attitude extended to him and his company not only by the business men of the city, but by the city and township officials. All have worked hand in hand to aid in a development that will mean so much to the growth and prosperity of this locality."

The immense size of the building was graphically illustrated for readers: "When excavation was started Monday morning for the first unit of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company's plant on Plymouth Road... it was for a building that, upon completion, will be longer than the distance between The Plymouth Mail and the Mayflower Hotel."

The main building is 600 feet long with the tower extending 135 feet high.

The 1937 announcement asserted that "President Stanley Backus was in Plymouth Tuesday with other officials checking over some of the final details preparatory to the starting of construction. The plans and specifications were prepared by Albert Kahn, one of the country's famous architects.

"The power plant, which will be housed in a separate structure located to the northeast of the main building, will be of sufficient size not only to take care of the needs of the first unit, but of other units if they should ever be erected."

(Other units were erected, the last being 204,000 square feet completed in 1957.)

"The two buildings will be connected by a tunnel. There will be a switch track built direct from the Pere Marquette main line which lies north of the plant.

While no definite time has been set for completion of the plant, officials hope to have probably 140 or 150 employees from their Detroit plant working in the new Plymouth unit."

"The new factory will house departments that are making products auxiliary to the company's principle lines, such as correct-posture chairs, chair cushions, machine stands, machine covers, roll paper and other allied products."

These standard office products were made, but were later dropped by Burroughs in favor of devoting its efforts to business machines.

On Monday, March 21, 1938 — 21 years ago yesterday — the plant opened with around 100 men and women employees, all transferred from the Detroit plant. "It will be many months that the plant will be working to full capacity," the announcement of the day said.

Opening of the plant immediately brought new residents to Plymouth.

WHAT IS A COMMUNITY?

. . . Is it the bricks and mortar therein? . . . is it the people who live there? . . . Is it the businessman who makes it possible for the people to obtain the necessities of life? . . . Is it industry that provides the means of livelihood and in turn depends upon the people to produce its products?

INDIVIDUALLY NO!

It is a combination of all these segments working together in harmony which creates a community in which one can labor, worship, prosper and fulfill the bounty of which it is capable.

The BURROUGHS CORPORATION and Its People

Property Was Purchased 13 Years Before Building Started

While there are many Plymouth citizens who can recall when the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. opened its factory building on Plymouth Rd. in 1938, probably few remember that the property had been purchased by the firm 14 years earlier.

It was on the front page of the Oct. 10, 1924 issue of The Plymouth Mail that a story appeared about the purchase of 140 acres by Burroughs.

There is no mention of when the company hoped to build on the property — whether it was a long-term investment or if something happened that stalled construction. But nevertheless the Detroit company held onto the property 13 years before construction started.

This was the text of the 1924 story:

"Announcement was made last Saturday by the James S. Holden Co., 200 Huron Building, Detroit, of the purchase through that firm of 140 acres of land near Plymouth, Michigan for the Burroughs Adding Machine Company.

"Confirmation of the transaction was made by Standish Backus, president of the Burroughs Company, who stated that the acquisition of this desirable industrial property did not carry with it any plan for curtailment of operations at the company's present factory on Second Boulevard, and that the purchase was made to provide for future expansion, due to the growth of the company's business.

"The property acquired has long been known as the H. S. Shattuck farm. It has a frontage of one-third of a mile on Plymouth Road, at the intersection of Shattuck Ridge Road, and extends a mile to the crossing north of the Pere Marquette railroad.

"Last owners were Harry S. Shattuck, William Amrhein and E. E. Foster, both buyer and sellers being represented by the Holden firm.

"Those interested pronounced the environment of Plymouth as ideal for industrial life and purposes, as the property lies outside the heart of the city.

"The information contained above definitely settles a matter which has been a source of much speculation by the people of this village since the transaction was consummated some weeks ago. And it is a matter of satisfaction, inasmuch as it will mean a welcome addition to the prosperity and growth of the village.

"This contemplated addition to our already steady growth will undoubtedly bring other business establishments to the village and it is confidently expected that Plymouth will become a center of manufacturing enterprises that will add many thousands to its population. And in expectation of this increase it will be well to begin making provisions for their accommodation and also in the making of public improvements."

Newest Burroughs Machine Will Be Manufactured Here

Newest machine scheduled for production at the Plymouth Division of the Burroughs Corporation is the Magnetic Character Sorter, hailed as a "major breakthrough" in solving banking's largest bottleneck.

Capable of sorting more than 1,500 documents a minute, the machine was introduced to editors and financial writers of newspapers and magazines from both the U.S. and abroad last week.

President Ray Eppert personally was in charge of the introduction. There were 50 editors brought in for the day.

The machine, costing somewhere around $64,000, automatically sorts checks and other documents through use of characters printed with magnetic ink.

The thousands of checks flowing into each bank daily must be sorted and placed in sequence before being posted. This requires valuable time. By imprinting magnetic ink on the checks and other documents, the sorter distributes them 10 times faster than possible for one person.

Since 1955 Burroughs Sorters, employing fluorescent techniques have been in actual use in banks on an experimental basis. The new machine will fit into the most sophisticated automation systems, including those which utilize full scale electronic computers for check handling.

One of the features of the sorter is the ability to process intermixed paper and card checks of various sizes.
