Theatre Has Own Real Mystery As Burglars Break Open Safe

The Penn Theatre, whose screen has been filled with the adventures of many hold-up men, safe crackers and mystery thrillers, had no audience for a real-life crime some time early Monday morning.

Thieves broke into the theatre office and made off with $315.60 by cracking open a safe.

Police said that the thieves (or thief) entered the theatre by first climbing onto the roof. This was probably accomplished by climbing onto one of the nearby lower roofs first.

They then removed a heat stack that protruded through the roof from one of the projectors. The opening is 12 inches in diameter.

Once inside the projector room, they entered the adjacent office, knocked off the combination from the safe and used other tools to gain entry.

Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher said that the thieves showed some skill in opening the safe and that they were undoubtedly not amateurs.

Of the $315.60, around $84 was in bills and the remainder in change in rolls and loose.

Petitioners Seek Street Vacation

A street that has been shown on City maps since 1915 but has never had a car driven down it may now be eliminated should the City Commission follow the request of a group of property owners.

Appearing with a petition signed by 22 property owners Monday night before the Commission was John J. DeMott, 1482 Sheridan. It asked that Elmdale St. be vacated.

Elmdale runs parallel between Penniman Ave. and Sheldon Rd. at one end and McKinley on the other. Actually, it lies mainly on one bank of the Tonquish Creek.

While the petition contained names of most of the home owners in the area, Commissioner Marvin Terry reported that there are a few residents who would like to see the street put through. Some of the lots are large enough to build a house facing the proposed street.

The petition pointed out that the street would serve no useful purpose if it were opened and that building such a street on or beside the creek would be costly.

Commissioners voted to refer the matter to the Planning Commission and asked that the entire length of the street be considered, rather than the portion between Sheldon and Evergreen, as noted in the petition.

8 Holes Plugged In Tower

Vandals riddled the Lake Pointe Village water tower with eight holes from a high-powered rifle, workmen found as they made repairs last Thursday.

Earlier last week it was believed there were only five holes in the huge spheroid, but after the tank was drained and workmen crawled inside, three more were discovered.

The expensive bit of target practice took place around 2:30 a.m. on Sept. 12, according to residents who were awakened by a point near the intersection of Wilcox Rd. and Schoolcraft. Most of the shots hit in or near the lettering.

To repair the holes, two workmen spent all day Thursday on the tank. Engineer Herald Hamill had the tank emptied and water was pumped directly into the water lines. Steel "patches" three-quarters of an inch thick and five inches in diameter were welded over the holes inside the tank.

Workmen then had to climb over the outside of the tower to scrape and paint around the welded spots so that rust doesn't develop.

No slugs were found inside. It is assumed that the shots were from a high-powered rifle.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, Township treasurer, said this week that the Township has not yet received the bill for the work, but she expects it to be "plenty high."

The Township Board took steps last week after the incident to avoid

Schrader Furniture Coming Here

One of Northville's oldest retail business establishments, Schrader's Home Furnishings, has leased the former Blunk's Inc. building at 825 Penniman Ave. and will open a furniture store there sometime in November.

Blunk's, Inc. conducted a going-out-of-business sale this summer and discontinued its furniture line. The business has now been reorganized and will continue its floor covering and television-phonograph business in the small storeroom that had adjoined the main Blunk's showroom.

Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., owner and manager of the Northville firm, said that he will open the store after extensive remodeling. Schrader's has been in Northville since 1907.

The plans call for completely renovating the rear ground level area facing the Central Parking Lot. A recessed display entrance will be constructed facing the lot, creating a complete sales floor at the basement level, Schrader stated.

The owner also said that the Penniman Ave. level will also be redecorated.

Schrader hopes to have the new store opened Nov. 10.

ONE OF the two featured artists exhibiting his work at Dunning-Hough Library is Roy Pedersen of Plymouth, shown here with some of his ceramic pieces. He has exhibited his ceramics at some of the major art museums in the country.

Two New Units Starting Soon

Plans to expand the Plymouth State Home and Training School on Sheldon Rd. are moving ahead with announcement this week that construction will start on a 220-bed infirmary and 220-bed custodial building during the 1960-61 fiscal year.

The state's newest state facility for the mentally retarded opened its first unit here last spring. It consists of a hospital and administration building with a capacity of 150.

Funds have now been allotted to begin work in the two new buildings and additional funds are being requested to complete them during the 1961-62 fiscal year.

Also being requested during the 1961-62 fiscal year are funds for the following projects:

1. To construct a laundry.
2. To complete plans and begin construction of a store and food service building.
3. To construct an additional 110-bed custodial building.
4. To plan and begin construction on three additional custodial buildings of 110 beds each.
5. Plans for a 300-bed nursery unit.
6. Plans for a 220-bed unit for the physically handicapped mentally retarded patient.

It is expected that all of the units will be completed by 1964 if the requested funds are made available as scheduled at the present time, a spokesman said.

Planning money will be requested during the 1963-64 fiscal year for a 200-bed unit for trainable adults. There will also be two buildings of 100 beds each scheduled for completion by 1966.

The Plymouth State Home and Training School also has a Farmington unit with a capacity of 342.

The school is located next to the Wayne County Training School. Plans call for merging the two units under state jurisdiction. A survey of the two schools is soon to be made to determine if they both offer the same type of program.

High Court Rules On Local Case

Supreme Court of Michigan this week ruled in favor of Ralph and Helen Garber of Plymouth in a case which also involved William T. Cunningham of Plymouth.

The argument spun around a real estate commission which Cunningham pleaded he was entitled to, and which the Garbers contested. The same case in Circuit Court, first found a jury ruling for Cunningham, but the jury immediately was overruled by the judge on a point of law.

Supreme Court Judge C. J. Dethmers upheld the Circuit judge. He said the Garbers produced a marketable title and totally fulfilled their part of the sales agreement, but that no valid purchaser was produced by the realtor.

"When a realtor does not produce a purchaser ready, willing and able to buy in accordance with the terms of the agreement with the owner or within the time therein provided, he has not earned the commission," wrote Judge Dethmers in rejecting Cunningham's appeal.

Still Seek Fire Cause

A fire in an upstairs clothes closet did extensive smoke damage to a home occupied by the Millard Morgan family, 537 N. Mill St. The home is owned by Mrs. Hazel Stitt, 387 Spring.

City firemen answered the alarm at 8:46 a.m. Saturday. The upstairs was filled with smoke but the fire was confined to a closet, they reported.

The family was home and one daughter was sleeping upstairs when she discovered smoke. Assistant Chief Charles Groth said that the cause has not yet been determined.

Business Drops Off at Draft Board

"Greetings: You are hereby ordered for induction..."

These are familiar words to thousands of Plymouth area men who during the past 20 years have been inducted into the Army via Selective Service.

Last Friday, Uncle Sam's Selective Service System celebrated its 20th birthday. On that date the nation's first peacetime draft law was signed by President Roosevelt. A month later, on Oct. 16, more than 16 million youths registered from every community in the nation.

Plymouth was designated for a draft board that covered Plymouth City and Township, Northville, Canton Township, Livonia and Redford Townships.

Walter Harms, former local insurance man, was named chairman of the three-man board. Also on the board were George Bentley of Livonia and

Township Sets Sewer Connection Deadline

Paving of the Plymouth Township Hall parking lot and a deadline for connecting to the sanitary sewer were two of the agenda items coming before the Township Board last week.

The A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham was low bidder for the paving and won the contract. Their bid was $10,910. The parking lot, which is often mud and full of potholes, will be paved in time for the November election, which may come as an inducement to voters. A deadline of Nov. 1 has been written into the contract.

Paving was held up until the sanitary sewer line was laid.

Other bidders were Detroit Concrete Products, $14,290; Kutchins, Inc., $15,195; and Ajax Asphalt Paving Co., $12,854.

Township Sets Sewer Connection Deadline

Requests Sewer, Water
A couple who intends to build a convalescent home on Five Mile Rd. in Northville Township appeared before the Board to request sewer and water service from the Lake Pointe Village system. Winifred and Edelle Morin have presented plans and a sketch of their proposed "Heartside Convalescent Home" which they intend to build, providing sewer and water are available.

But the Board was unable to promise anything because the Lake Pointe Village developers, Fred Greenspan Building Co., has not yet platted the vacant area reaching north to Five Mile Road. In fact, state restrictions are holding up further subdivision

NEWS BEAT

Rumors still persist that Kroger will build a new store in the former Daisy Manufacturing parking lot and the adjacent properties. Options have been taken. The present Kroger building on Forest Ave. has been owned by the Rucker brothers of Stop & Shop for several years.

ON LOOK-OUT: In conjunction with the 100th anniversary of the birth of Juliette Lowe, the founder of Girl Scouting, the original scout leaders of Plymouth are to be honored soon. However, some of these women cannot be located. If any person knows the whereabouts of any of these original leaders, please contact Mrs. Richard Newton, GL 3-4707 or Mrs. Robert Jenkins, GL 3-6569.

HOLD-UP: Hundreds of cars were held up and detained Sunday morning when a train blocked crossings on Farmer and Main streets and Ann Arbor Trail. Police received 13 complaints. They said that an engine had stalled.

POLICE BEAT: Livonia police recovered a car stolen from Selle Buick last Saturday. One of two Livonia youths who took the car has been picked up. Thieves jacked up two new cars in the Allison Chevrolet lot along Main St. and stole eight wheels with tires. The cars were left on concrete blocks. Burger Construction Co. has reported considerable vandalism at Starkweather School where construction is going on. Eric Morgenson, 1051 Roosevelt, was taken to St. Mary Hos-

Public to See School Addition At Church Dinner

The 40th Anniversary and Dinner of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church takes place this Sunday afternoon on the Church grounds.

Starting at noon and serving until 5 p.m., the dinner will be combined with other activities, including an open house for the new addition to the school.

The eight-room addition was completed in time for the opening of school two weeks ago. Only the lower level is used this year.

The roast beef dinner is being served in the church basement. The price is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. Reservations can be made by phoning GL 3-2335 or GL 3-6583.

Mrs. Robert Hess is dinner chairman. Other chairmen are Mrs. Kenneth Reasbooth; Mrs. David Schlick dining; Mrs. Joseph Voss zone captain; and Mrs. William Bolduc, publicity. Robert Barbour is in charge of the men's committee to set up the outdoor booths.

Kiwanis Sells Peanuts This Weekend

Thousands of sacks of peanuts have been ready for the Kiwanis Club's annual Boys' and Girls' Day peanut sale, to be held this Friday and Saturday in Plymouth.

Donations for the peanuts are used to carry on the Kiwanis Club's work involving young people. Members will appear on the downtown sidewalks Friday and if any peanuts are left over, they will again be out Saturday. Usually the Friday sale is a sell-out.

Business Drops Off at Draft Board

Charles Murphy of Northville.

Thousands of young men walked up the flight of stairs to the Local 102 draft board office, located then in the Markham building on N. Main St. During the busy days of World War II, three and four charter buses loaded up inductees and took them to the Detroit Induction Center at Fort Wayne.

Today, the picture has changed considerably, it is noted by Mrs. Bernice McConnell, who has been clerk of the board since April 1942.

Now there is an average of only 15 men a month being called through Local 102. There is no throng of relatives and friends at the Board Office to bid them farewell. All inductees now report directly to Fort Wayne.

Presidential 'Greetings' Started 20 Years Ago

Board 102, now located on Penniman Ave. above Sandy's Drugs, has one member who has been serving on a draft board since Selective Service was started two decades ago.

He is Judge John L. Mokersky, a widely-known Inkster justice of the peace. The judge was chairman of the Wayne board all during World War II. In 1948, after Selective Service was reorganized under a new act, the Wayne and Trenton boards were merged with the Plymouth board and Judge Mokersky became chairman here.

But in December 1956, the load here became too heavy as population increased and the boards were again reorganized at Wayne and Trenton. But Judge Mokersky remained chairman of Local 102 and is among the select group of Michigan men who have served on draft boards for the entire 20-year stretch.

Other members of the present board are Harry Hunter of Plymouth, Leonard Broquet of Northville and E. A. VanWallaghen of Trenton. There is one vacancy. Plymouth's Board has had

Citizens Begin Study Of Area Community College

Twenty-nine members of the newly-formed Citizens' Study Committee for the proposed North-west Wayne County Community College will hold their first meeting tonight, Wednesday, Sept. 21, in the Newburg School at 9901 Newburg Rd.

Details regarding the purpose of the study, presentation of a study committee structure and organization and other information regarding the approaching study and survey will be discussed at the meeting.

Citizens have been appointed from the six participating school districts to the study Committee. They represent Plymouth, Livonia, Redford Union, South Redford, Garden City and Clarenceville districts.

It is proposed to build a community college somewhere in Livonia that would be supported by the participating school districts.

Democratic Club Holding Season's First Meeting

The Plymouth Democratic Club will hold its first meeting of the season Saturday Sept. 24, 7:30 p.m. in the Odd Fellows Hall on Elizabeth St. It was announced by the newly elected chairman of the local organization, Orville Tungate.

There will be election of board members to assist the four new top officers who were selected by the precinct delegates after the August Primary election. Plans for campaigning in the Plymouth area will be formulated and activated, according to Chairman Tungate. Ideas and discussions on the 1960 campaign issues will be welcomed from those in attendance.

It is expected that Congresswoman Martha Griffiths will speak on her participation in the recent August short session on the United States Congress. Also State Senator Raymond Dzendzel and State Representative

Harvey Beadle, both candidates for re-election, will be present, it was anticipated. Chairman Tungate said the general public, interested in good government, was cordially invited to attend this meeting, and he stressed that his would be the best time for voters in the Plymouth area to get first-hand information on the problems and decisions they must take care of at the polls on Nov. 8.

Grange Gleanings

Correction from last week's news: It should have read, "The passing of Sister Mabel Shear" instead of Mabel Spicer. Very sorry to have caused so many telephone calls to the Spicer family.

The Grange wishes to thank everyone who helped in any way with the program last Thursday evening. Your fine cooperation helped to make Booster Night a success and was enjoyed by everyone.

Our lecturer, Bessie Sallow, deserves much credit for the fine programs presented since she has been in office. This one, from all reports, topped them all. Mr. Reed assisted with the minstrels and his help was greatly appreciated.

We hope every member has something to contribute for the bazaar which is only 10 days away—Oct. 1 from 10 to 8. Chairmen for the booths are: baked goods, Evelyn Fischer; aprons, Mildred Rienas; fancy work, Emma Brown; country store, Louise Gillis; Christmas cards and novelties, Louise Tritten; grab bag, Leona Harer.

The bazaar will be held upstairs. A turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be served at 5, 6 and 7, family style. For tickets contact Bessie Sallow at Dunning's or Mrs. William Squires, GL 3-3030.

"Have You Met the Other Half of Your Child?" This is the subject chosen by Dorothy Waldo Phillips, author and lecturer, when she speaks to the Farrand School P.T.A., Friday evening, Sept. 23, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Phillips was born and educated in England and then furthered her education in Switzerland where she specialized in the fields of youth guidance and adult education.

Sammy Spivens, a bad-mannered puppet, will help Mrs. Phillips present an interesting program to the children during the day.

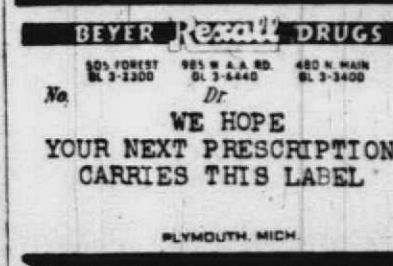

Farrand School PTA members are urged to attend this meeting as well as any other interested parents.

Wright-Straub Ceremony At Dun Scotus Chapel

The chapel at Dun Scotus College, Detroit, was the setting for the Sept. 17 wedding of Lynn Maria Wright and Robert Allen Straub.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Wright, Detroit and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Straub, Plymouth.

A gown of re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned with a chapel train was worn by the bride. Her French illusion veil was held by a crystal crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses and orchids.

Maid of honor Barbara Jean Wright, sister of the bride, and attendants Sandra Straub, Gloriann Mulligan, Sheila McKeown and junior bridesmaid, Margaret Mary Wright, were all gowned in blue satin with headpieces of French bows and carried cascade bouquets of yellow and white Fugi mums.

James Preston was best man. Ushers were Jack Prystep, Andrew Haines, William Westfall, John Smith and Patrick and Jack Mulligan.

Mrs. Wright wore mauve silk organza with matching accessories and Mrs. Straub wore green taffeta with beige accessories. Both mothers wore white orchids.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held at the Birmingham Community House for guests from Florida, Indiana, Ann Arbor, Traverse City, LaPeer, Lansing and South Lyon.

Following a honeymoon in the Smokey Mountains the couple will live in Detroit.

The Navy plans to build the world's largest radio telescope in the hills of West Virginia.

Alternates are Mary Tess Newingham, Marilyn Finley and Colleen Dennis.

Meetings of the other classes were also held last Thursday, at which plans for concessions at football games were discussed. This was close at hand for juniors, who had the Northville game last Friday. Sophomores have the Homecoming game, while seniors and freshmen will sell at the Bentley and Walled Lake games respectively.

Announced last week were the nine lucky songsters who tried out successfully for that noted choral group the Triple Trios, which is directed by Mr. Fred Nelson. They are: Nancy Canning, Joyce Cogger, Jody Edgar, Hollis Haynes, Karen McGeehen, Faith Raycroft, Joyce Stimpson, Sharon Stremick and Ann West. Marcy Woolweaver accompanies the group on the piano.

Hardware Men Gather In Plymouth September 29

Selling and sales techniques will be the general topics of a workshop session of the Michigan Retail Hardware Assn. scheduled for Plymouth Sept. 29, it was announced by George Loeffler, Loeffler Hardware, Livonia, chairman of the meeting.

This is one of a series of regional sessions being conducted in key locations in southern Michigan this month. The program, scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Mayflower Hotel, will be preceded by dinner, with advance reservations required. According to Chairman Loeffler, the session will be open to hardware merchants from Washtenaw and Western Wayne County areas, their wives, employees and friends.

Major speaker will be Professor William B. Logan of Ohio State University, who has conducted similar programs throughout Ohio and Iowa. His subject will be "The Star Salesman" and his presentation includes audience participation to demonstrate the use of product knowledge in selling.

Wendell Neelands of Clio, president of the Michigan Retail Hardware Assn., will speak on the "Co-op Advertising" and Harold W. Schumacher, manager-treasurer of the association, will discuss the "Turnover Handbook."

This fall series of meetings, conducted in 12 southern Michigan communities, is designed to serve as a refresher course in modern selling methods and techniques. It is part of an overall program aimed at maintaining constant communication with member merchants, a regular Association service since 1920. The Association annually conducts some 26 meetings throughout the State, with the spring series held in northern Michigan.

Goodwill Coming Sept. 26
The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Plymouth is scheduled for Monday, Sept. 26. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards. To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up, call the local Goodwill representative, Men's Club, Maybury Sanatorium, telephone number Fieldbrook 9-2682 or ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7002.

Plymouth Finds Victory, Quarterback In Opener

Plymouth came from behind against Northville to get the 1960 season off to a good start. In the process Rock Coach Mike Hoben unveiled a poised 10th grader as a replacement for his departed All-State quarterback of last season, Randy Egloff.

Dick Schryer stepped into the Rock quarterback role like he owned it and lofted 7 of 17 completions. Nearly twice the number of completions were on mark. They were broken up by good defense or bobbed by anxious receivers.

Northville scored first in the period when fullback Tom Darling took a pitchout and twisted 10 yards on a fourth and ten situation.

extra point was missed again and Plymouth led 19-6. Northville hustled right back a few moments later when quarterback Steve Juday hit Jim Petrock on the Plymouth 15 with a pass that covered 40 yards. Petrock was five yards behind Tom Lockwood, the last Plymouth defender. The extra point attempt was no good and Plymouth led 19-12.

The Mustang score was set up when Rock halfback Art Nelson slipped trying to punt and missed the ball. It was covered on the Plymouth 11 by Northville. Hoben sent his 310 pound lineman, Pete Steiner, into the game and Plymouth managed to hold for three downs with the aid of a Northville penalty.

Plymouth scored again the next time it go the ball. Mike Kisabeth recovered a Northville fumble on the Mustang 47 with three minutes left in third quarter.

Ray Liimakka set up the final Plymouth touchdown when he intercepted a pass on the Northville 20 and returned it to the 16. Three plays later Schryer scored on a quarterback sneak. The extra point was missed and Plymouth had a 25-12 victory in the first game. Last year Plymouth won 9-0 at Northville.

The Rocks began to roll with only 2:30 seconds left in the half. Art Nelson returned a punt to midfield. Then, Schryer took command and tailored 11 plays into an offensive pattern that tied the score with 16 seconds left. Mike Kisabeth roared through left tackle for the final six yards.

On the first play, halfback John Spigarelli lumbered all the way, running right over the last two defenders. The

When the teams took the field you could feel misty eyes searching for the familiar, commanding presence of Randy Egloff, who graduated to Yale.

During the drive, Schryer completed four passes, including a fourth down pass and two on third downs. He mixed up the defense by losing to end Ray Liimakka for 17 yards, halfback Jim Ralston for 14, halfback John Spigarelli for six and end Jim Dart for another six. He was trapped once trying to pass, but managed to scamper out of bounds, stop the clock and gain three yards in the process.

Plymouth's 1960 football team met a group from Northville and the shrieks of joy at the 25-12 opening victory were convincing proof that Fall is upon us. True, it was muggy and still outside, but consider this:

Twenty-five hundred people gathered in the football stands to greet Coach Mike Hoben and his 1960 gladiators. Some, of course, were there to greet Coach Ron Horwath and his black and orange clad Mustangs from neighboring Northville.

The Rocks began to pile up a lead in the third quarter. Art Nelson returned a Northville punt from the Plymouth

Schryer's performance against Northville took the minds of Plymouth fans off the departure of Egloff and Wayne Sparkman (at Michigan) and provided promise of more good tidings for Plymouth football fortunes.

Your Guide To Harness Racing

HOW MUCH DOES A HARNESS HORSE COST?

Obviously the cost is determined by the amount a buyer is willing to pay to a seller. The major horse sales take place at auction and the top price at a sale of this type has been the $125,000 paid for Tar Heel, winner of the Little Brown Jug classic in 1951. Highest price ever paid for a yearling was $105,000.

For all horses sold at auction in recent years, the average is between $2,500 and $3,000. Some horsemen consider, a rule of thumb, that an older horse is worth what his total earnings were the year before.

WHAT DOES IT COST TO KEEP A RACE HORSE?

The cost of training will vary greatly depending upon the trainer and the locality. During a racing campaign, the average estimate would run about $15 per day, and over a year, counting non-racing time, the cost would run at least $3,500. Some run as high as $8,000 to $10,000. If the trainer also is the owner the cost is less if time is not considered. In 1959, a total of 16,666 trotters and pacers raced for $29,748,582 in purses. This averages $1,785 per horse. Obviously, with many owners, harness racing is a sport—not a business.

CAN ANYONE OWN A HARNESS HORSE?

Ownership is open to anyone of good moral character—who has the necessary cash.

HOW OLD DOES A HORSE HAVE TO BE TO RACE?

Standardbreds are not raced until they officially have reached the age of two. Some owners and trainers prefer to wait another year, although the many lucrative events for two-year-olds today have resulted in earlier starts than was customary 20 years ago.

IS THERE A LIMIT ON HOW LONG A HORSE MAY BE RACED?

No horse can compete for a purse when he reaches the age of 15.

DO ANY HORSES BOTH TROT AND PACE?

Yes, but not in the same race. Some Standardbreds appear equally at ease at either gait. Steamin' Demon holds a mark of 1:58.4-5 pacing and 1:59.1/5 on the trot.

DO ANY HORSES RACE ALL YEAR AROUND?

As with humans, horses go stale and may be turned out in the pasture for two or three weeks or more during the season. For most there is a break of a month or more at the end of the season before training is resumed.

WHAT IS THE AVERAGE SIZE OF A HORSE?

Measured at the withers (top of shoulders) the average horse is a little more than 15 hands high. A hand is four inches. He's about eight feet in length and the average weight is between 900 and 1,000 pounds.

HOW CAN I WIN MONEY AT THE HARNESS RACES?

If there was a sure way of winning money, at the harness races or anywhere else, few of us would be working for a living.

ARE HARNESS HORSES CONSISTENT?

Harness horses, finely conditioned athletic specimens that they are, are considered to be extremely consistent in performance, and harness racing runs more closely to form than any other type of racing. Therefore the class of the horse is of prime importance. Favorites win about 37 percent of the time, on the average.

WHAT ARE OTHER IMPORTANT POINTS TO CONSIDER IN HANDICAPING?

There are many important factors. The horse's best record time, his actual time in recent races, the size of the track, the quality of his opposition, his driver's ability, the track condition, his age, his post position etc., etc.

IT SOUNDS COMPLICATED. IS IT?

It is possible to spend hours checking all possible factors before arriving at the logical winner—only to find that the horse can't read and doesn't know he's the logical winner!

Some fans follow the selections of a handicapper or friend. By far the most people like to pick their own—and it can be fun. One thing for certain at a pari-mutuel track, a fan is witnessing the most highly supervised sport in America. No track will tolerate unscrupulous practices. A good name is a harness track's most valuable asset.

 If the weather is making it difficult to determine what season it is, some idea can be gained by the pleasant developments that took place behind the high school last Friday night.
 Plymouth's 1960 football team met a group from Northville and the shrieks of joy at the 25-12 opening victory were convincing proof that Fall is upon us. True, it was muggy and still outside, but consider this:
 Twenty-five hundred people gathered in the football stands to greet Coach Mike Hoben and his 1960 gladiators. Some, of course, were there to greet Coach Ron Horwath and his black and orange clad Mustangs from neighboring Northville.
 When the teams took the field you could feel misty eyes searching for the familiar, commanding presence of Randy Egloff, who graduated to Yale.
 With a minute left in the game a burst of applause greeted Dick Schryer, a sophomore quarterback who wore a blue number 12 on his white uniform. It was a number to jot down. There is a Yale song that rings particularly appropriate at the moment. In part it goes "Pass and be forgotten like the rest."
 Schryer's performance against Northville took the minds of Plymouth fans off the departure of Egloff and Wayne Sparkman (at Michigan) and provided promise of more good tidings for Plymouth football fortunes.

A & P Opens Livonia Store

Civic leaders and area housewives are expected to be on hand for the opening ceremonies. Containing 15,000 square feet of floor space, the food department store will incorporate virtually all the latest methods in food retailing. Service highlights include air conditioning, automatic doors, power check stands, and parcel pickup station, which will spare customers the need for carrying heavy packages long distances. In addition to departments for meat, produce, dairy, coffee, bakery, frozen foods, ice cream and candy, it also features such extras as health and beauty aids and non-food items. Kindergartens originated in Germany in 1837.

Miss St. Louis Becomes Bride of Mr. R. Dethloff

Before an altar of white carnation bouquet. Bridesmaids Marlene and Darlene Dyer, cousins of the bride, wore taupe dresses with matching accessories and flowers. Richard Przeklasa was best man. Ushers were Richard Dethloff and Don Streeter. Mrs. St. Louis wore an olive lace over satin dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of light green carnations. Mrs. Dethloff's dress was of blue lace over taffeta with matching accessories and carnation corsage. An evening reception for 200 guests was held in the V.F.W. Hall in Wayne. For a Michigan wedding trip the new Mrs. Dethloff wore turquoise chiffon with matching accessories and orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Dethloff will be at home in Plymouth.

Two More Artists Featured At Dunning-Hough Exhibit

Lenora Richards of Livonia and Roy Pedersen of Plymouth are the featured members of the Three-Cities Art Club for the current exhibit at Dunning-Hough Library in Plymouth.

Mrs. Richards studied drawing, advertising and printing design at the Chicago Art Institute, figure drawing at Lyons Jr. College, portrait composition and water color with noted artists and exhibited with Downers Grove Art Guild in the Chicago area before moving to Michigan. She chose three watercolors for this exhibit, a still life of iris, a seascape and a seaside street scene.

Roy Pedersen earned B.S. and M.S. degrees at the University of Wisconsin, teaches art in Northville Junior High School and lives on Hammill Lane in Plymouth. Pedersen specializes in wheel-thrown ceramic pots. His work has been seen in some of the major art museums in the country. He has exhibited his prize-winning ceramics at University of Wisconsin; Wisconsin State Fair; Layton School of Art, Milwaukee; Milwaukee Art Institute; Chicago Art Institute; Canton (Ohio) Art Institute; Speed Art Museum, Louisville, Ky.; Iowa State Teachers' College; Birmingham (Alabama) Museum of Art; Antioch College; Abilene (Texas) Fine Arts Museum; Brooks Memorial Art Gallery, Memphis, Tenn.; North Carolina Museum of Art; South Bend, Ind. Art Center; and the Detroit Institute of Arts.

On view in Plymouth Library are stoneware pottery and original designs in jewelry. Other members of the club who have paintings on exhibit are Margaret Cramer, Marjorie Becker, Mabel Bacon, Orville Barron, Catherine Hartley, Stan Hench, Jessie Hudson, Barbara McKenzie, Walt Maurus, Hal Stein, Edna and Paul Herig and Beverly Shankwiler.

It's Fall Lawn Planting Time

Now's the time to rebuild your turf for next year if your dreams of a beautiful green lawn fell short this season, says top gardening expert Tom Blahkley. Cooler autumn weather is perfect for starting new grass seed, and it gives young seedlings a head start next spring. But you'll have better results if you follow these important tips before you plant. A strong lawn needs a good foundation, so be sure your soil is well-balanced. Send a soil sample to your county or state agriculture agent who will do the testing for a small fee, or do it yourself with a soil testing kit available at your neighborhood garden supply center. Apply chlordane to kill off sub-surface soil insects. A pre-mixed solution of the chemical, Antrrol's Hose Spray Soil Insect Killer, attaches easily to any ordinary garden hose for easy application. Another important step that should be taken early—two or three weeks before seeding is fighting the weed battle. Selective weed killers, a Crabgrass Killer and a Weed and Brush Killer, also are available with the Antrrol Hose-Spray applicators. Both should be applied before weeds start re-seeding. And here's another little-known tip to help you fight crabgrass at this crucial time when it re-seeds so freely. Rake the lawn before you mow, so low-lying stems of the weedy pest are brought into an upright position. Then the mower cuts off stems so the weed cannot drop new seeds.

St. Peter's Observes Annual Mission Festival Sunday

The annual Mission Festival of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church will be conducted next Sunday at 10 a.m. St. Peter's Church is a member of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod which is engaged in world mission work in Japan, Germany, both East and West, Apache Indian reservations and Spanish-American work in this country, Northern Rhodesia, Ghana and Nigeria. This work is of special interest to Plymouth area Lutherans since the Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, former pastor of St. Peter's Church for 31 years, is the executive chairman of the World Mission Board of the Wisconsin Synod.

Pastor Hoenecke did the initial exploratory work for the Rhodesian mission. In spring of this year he traveled to Africa and Germany, and this past week has just returned from a mission trip to Japan.

The Rev. Edward Zell of Lola Park Lutheran Church, Detroit, will be the guest speaker for the Mission Festival service. Rev. Zell is presently a member of the Michigan District Board for Information and Stewardship of the Wisconsin Synod.

Newburg Methodists Set Plans For Country Fair

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1, the folks at the Newburg Methodist Church, Ann Arbor Trail at Newburg Rd., will attempt to bring alive again the life and times in the days of old Livonia.

Being the oldest church in this area, a portion of its history will be displayed in the museum at the fair.

The fair will be opened on Thursday, Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m. with a Gay Nineties Variety Show, featuring a barbershop quartet, gay music in keeping with the early nineteenth century. Also at this same show, a soul-stirring Melder drama, "Don't Darken My Door," starring Jesse Bennett, Carol LaPointe, Joyce Crawford, Robert Shier, Leonard Ritzler and Emil LaPointe will be given. Prices for tickets for this show are set at a nominal 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. This same show will be repeated at the 7:30 p.m. hour on Friday, Sept. 30.

The Fair itself will be open on Friday at 2 p.m. and will continue through until 10 p.m. and on Saturday 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. A nursery will be provided for the very young, so bring the whole family. Features of the entire fair will be the old-fashioned country store, the early-bird Christmas shop, square dancing, Ye Olde Photographie Shoppe, fun booths, ponies and on Friday, from 4 to 8 p.m., a carousel for the kiddies. Mrs. Paul Nixon is general chairman of the event, along with others working under her direction.

The whole event is designed to awaken the past for a brief time and then, with the future in mind, go on to the large building program that will be Newburg's.

All proceeds from this event will go to the building of a new church on the new site, Levan Rd. and Ann Arbor Trail.

At the regular school election in June 1961, the Community College executive committee has tentatively set an election at which voters of the six districts will be asked to approve the formation of a "community college district."

The executive committee, formed several years ago, is composed of representatives from each board of education.

Livonia has provided office space for the college in the Newburg School, located at Newburg and Ann Arbor Rd. Citizens serving on the Study Committee are: Livonia: Joyce Culik, L. Joseph Crafton, Ray L. Francis, Gerald Greenwald, Jean Jenkins and Charles B. Kirkpatrick.

Plymouth: Robert K. Barbour, Samuel Hudson, Mrs. O. B. Latter and Donald Sutherland. Redford Union: Elaine Drutchas, Helen Hunter, Kermit Morgan, Milton B. Pollock and William Shaw, Jr.

South Redford: Charles Barnett, Myra Cox,

Lillian Doty, Betty Morrison and Harold Weber.

Clarenceville: Melvin Kuehn, Bernard Otis, Charles L. Pierce and Naomi Stevens.

Garden City: Martin Blied, Robert E. Carty, Evelyn Monroe, William Morse and Margaret Oldenburg.

The proposed community college would offer academic, commercial and technical college education for the first two years past high school graduation.

In addition, three medical advisors to the board have achieved 20-year records. They are Dr. Frederick E. Bentley of Plymouth, Dr. Russell M. Atchinson of Northville and Dr. Marion Franjac of Redford.

Board members, of course, serve without pay. During World War II they met twice a week to keep up with the work load. The Korean War also kept them busy with once-a-week meetings. Now, with just over a dozen men a month called, the board meets once a month.

Since 1948, Local 102 has registered some 26,000 men. There is no record of the registration before that time.

Most of the inductees nowadays, both here and statewide, are 23 years old. A boy must still register when he reaches 18 and he is eligible for draft until he reaches 26.

There are now 1,300 Michigan citizens operating the state's 119 draft boards without compensation. Over the years more than 10,000 have served. There are 188 in Michigan who are 20-year veterans. This honor roll includes 34 local board members, 31 government appeal agents and 123 medical advisors.

Canton's Bowman Family Enjoys Extensive Trip

By ESTHER SPRENGEL

GL 3-0194

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowman of Ford Rd. recently returned from an extensive trip with their two sons, Bob and Dick, and Mrs. Bowman's mother, Mrs. Lois Baker, who planned to remain in Florida.

The family's first stop was a visit with Mrs. Bowman's brother and wife and son, Mr. and Mrs. David Bowman, former residents of Plymouth. From there, they went to Ocala, Fla., where they left Mrs. Baker. They visited Silver Springs and took a tour on the glass bottom boats. Mrs. Bowman informs us that the water was so clear that it was possible to see 120 feet down to the bottom. She said it was interesting to view the schools of fish and the unusual rock formations. They also visited the Rex Allen animal farm. This gentleman has appeared on television showing his unusual work of milking rattlesnakes.

The Bowmans then visited Apopka, Fla. and spent time with Mr. Bowman's mother, Mrs. Hanna Burden and his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arland Burden, formerly of Inkster, Mich.

On they went to Orlando, where they visited with friends and relatives, which also included a tour through Gator Land.

The trip proceeded on through the South—Arkansas, Vicksburg, Miss., which Mrs. Bowman described as a beautiful, historical town, on to Louisiana, Fayetteville, Ark. and a visit with Mrs. Bowman's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Baker, formerly of Plymouth.

The trip proceeded to Durka Springs, Ark., where the family visited a quaint little village, a replica of a Swiss Alps village. Mrs. Bowman said this is a favorite spot for retired folks.

Joplin, Mo., included a visit with another brother of Mr. Bowman's and on the last lap of their trip they visited the Meramec Caverns in Missouri. This spot impressed the family greatly and Mrs. Bowman pointed out that this was, supposedly, the favorite hideout of the famous bandit, Jesse James. Mrs. Bowman explained that this was the first time the family had taken a trip such as this and that she could have gone on and on, but tried to let us in on the highlights of their two week trip.

On Sunday, Sept. 11, the Canton Township firemen held their annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Korte of Warren Rd. The firemen and their wives enjoyed a delicious chicken barbecue, with the chicken being prepared and cooked by the Township Clerk, John Flodin. The group declared the chicken this year the most delicious yet prepared by John. A salad, rolls and coffee complemented the main course of the meal. Following the dinner, the group enjoyed the very informative and educational films on fire fighting, presented to them by their guest, Lt. Orville Rouse of the State Police. An evening of getting acquainted, games of pool, ping-pong and just relaxing, branded the evening a success.

Fletcher Campbell of Sheldon Rd., this year's Plymouth Community Planning Group chairman called a meeting of the officers of last year, George Conover, chairman and Mrs. Sprengel, secretary and the new secretary, Mrs. Green, at his home Wednesday evening, to go over last year's program and make plans for conducting and planning the new season. A discussion was held as to how the group can interest new members in the planning group (to which everyone interested in our school system and community is welcome).

Ralph Lefler, Scoutmaster of Troop 298 wants to remind the boys of the troop that summer is now over and though meetings were held all summer, attendance was slow due to vacations, but that it is his hope that the boys will once again get into the swing of their scouting work. An invitation is also extended to all other interested newcomers to join the boys of troop 298. The troop meets at the Geddes Rd. Hall Monday evenings, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. For further information, interested persons may contact Mr. Lefler at GL 3-0149; Harold Voss, GL 3-2996; or Art Lea, GL 3-0352.

The Cub Scouts, John Wiles, Cubmaster, also planned to get underway with their very fine activities. Information about Cub Scouting may be obtained from Mr. Wiles, GL 3-3087 or Den Mother Mrs. Jean McKim, HU 2-2159 or Den Mother Pat Hopkins, HU 2-7348.

Mrs. Delbert Larrick entered Ridgewood Hospital on Sunday, Sept. 18 where skin was removed from her body and grafted to her daughter, Bonnie. Mrs. Larrick reports that Bonnie is gaining her health since a recent blood transfusion.

A message from Mrs. George Longwish lets us know that Mrs. Longwish is well on the way to feeling great again. Mrs. Longwish wants to thank all her neighbors and friends for the many cards, flowers and visits. She would like to thank everyone in person we know, and soon may have that opportunity, but the thoughtfulness of her friends has helped greatly to put her on the road of recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Longwish and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grady and family recently returned from a vacation at Alpena, Mich., Long Lake. The group reports having a wonderful time; with Mr. Grady reporting the catching of a 21" pike, which the rest of the group assured us this was after he stepped on it with his foot.

It was happy birthday for Kathy Sprengel, who celebrated her second birthday Friday with her family and Sunday with aunts, uncles, great aunts and uncles and cousins. Of course, a birthday cake with two large candles was present at both celebrations.

Just a reminder to the Township folks who have not registered to vote. You may register any day at the Township hall from 9 to 5 p.m., located on Canton Center and Cherry Hill Rds.

Michigan State Offers Two Adult Courses in Plymouth

Two informal courses dealing with the contemporary American personality and the impact of economics and international affairs, on every day living will be offered this fall in Plymouth by Michigan State University.

"The Strait-Jacket Mind" and "Economics and International Affairs" will be presented under the auspices of the M.S.U. Liberal Arts Adult Education Program, in cooperation with the Plymouth Public Schools.

"The Strait-Jacket Mind," a 10-week course, will be taught by Seymour H. Riklin, of the Wayne State University faculty. Classes will be held Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Plymouth Public Library, beginning Sept. 21.

The course will examine the problems created by conformity in American culture. Riklin states, with emphasis on the impact of Freud, various philosophies, the conflict of science and theology and the quest for values.

The economics course, also consisting of 10 sessions, will be held Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Plymouth High School, beginning Oct. 5. It will be taught by Ronald A. Shearer, of the University of Michigan department of economics.

er says, with special attention given to the concrete economic policy problems facing the nation today in such areas as import restrictions, subsidies and foreign aid.

Adults are invited to enroll now by contacting Dan McKeon, who will explore the tremendous effect international affairs have on the lives of every person, Shear-

Laughlin, regional director of the M.S.U. Continuing Education Center, MSU-Oakland, Rochester, or Herbert Woolweaver, Plymouth director of Adult Education.

Registrations will also be accepted at the first class sessions.

With 700,000 troops, the Republic of Korea now maintains the world's fourth largest armed force.

TORO TOTEM TARP and SUPER-SIZE LEAF BAGS

with the leaf-bagging mower*
you buy now!

It's TORO trade-in time! Trade in your old mower on a WHIRLWIND® mower now—and get a 7x7 tarp plus the special Leaf Cleaning Kit (2 super-size bags and a bracket) for your new mower—free!

Simply vacuum your lawn clean of leaves, empty the special 5-bushel bags onto the tarp—and tote your troubles away! No more raking. Next spring, put the regular grass-clipping bag on your mower and you're ready to give your lawn the cleanest clipping you've ever seen. And remember—these bags are not just attachments. They're part of the only rotary mower specifically designed and engineered to bag clippings, weed seeds and other lawn litter. See your Toro dealer soon. He's listed in the Yellow Pages under "Lawn Mowers."

HONEY OF A FACT
BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—Enoch Tompkins, University of Vermont assistant agricultural economist and president of the Vermont Beekeepers Association, said "It's the nectar which makes the honey" produced by bees. He said, "The flavor, aroma and color of honey varies with the kind of flowers from which the nectar is taken."

Letter Writing Week Coming

The 23rd annual Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Plymouth during the week of Oct. 2-8, it was announced today by Postmaster George Timpona.

Postmaster George Timpona noted that there has been a revival of personal letter writing during the last few years. "A letter remains the most economical, longest lasting and sincerest means of extending greetings, communicating social news and exchanging ideas," the Postmaster said.

During Letter Writing Week, Postmaster George Timpona suggested that individuals write at least two letters: one to a friend or relative from whom you have not heard in a long time, and the second as a reply to a friend or relative who recently wrote to you. He also urged correspondence to people in other countries as a means of promoting greater understanding among the people of different nations.

The slogan of this year's event, as indicated on more than 200,000 banners is "Letters are Links to Friendship." The display materials will appear on post office bulletin boards, and rural carrier vehicles, as well as in various schools and libraries.

TIPS FOR TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—"Dear Elinor: A boy I steady) calls me once in a while at the last minute to invite me to go bowling, to a movie or an informal school dance. I usually don't mind his calling the day before or the day of the date because I think it's fun to do things unexpectedly. But my girlfriend says a girl should never make a date unless she's asked ahead of time. . . a last-minute invitation is an insult, showing that she's second choice or the boy thinks she isn't popular enough to have a date already. Is this true?"

Ans.—If a boy often—or always—invites a girl at the last minute, it usually shows lack of consideration. . . and no consideration usually shows no real regard or respect for her.

But it's childish to be stuffy and make a hard-and-fast rule about refusing short-notice dates as your friend does; there are times when most of us have to make plans, and it's a compliment to be asked to share unexpected fun.

Sometimes a boy finds that he doesn't have to work or receive extra money or something unexpected makes it possible to go out when he hadn't planned it.

Later in life, too, it sometimes happens that job or family responsibilities make a person's plans uncertain until the last moment, then it's wonderful to have a friend who understands and says, "Yes, I'd love to go!"

When a girl or boy gives a short-notice invitation, it's a good idea to mention that "I didn't know I could go until now or I would have called you sooner."

"The new pictures are always colorful, always reverent and have a simplicity of feature that appeals to youngsters," said the Rev. Allen Kroehler of Philadelphia, director of children's work for the church.

"Three- to six-year olds have little sense of time and space, are not skilled with words and have almost no ability to deal with abstractions," he said.

"We have found that children cannot accept the old pictures which are formal, often grim and unrelated to what the children know as reality."

Here's How One Town Met Shopping Center Competition

LOVELAND, Colo. (UPI)—Loveland, well known as "the sweetheart town" for its Valentine Day postmarks, has another claim to fame.

This progressive northeastern Colorado community tried out an experimental downtown shopping mall this summer, and liked it. Plans now are going ahead for construction eventually of a permanent mall, which city officials say will be the first in the Rocky Mountain West.

The project started when downtown merchants, fed up with traffic and parking problems and threatened with competition from a proposed outlying shopping center, decided to improve conditions.

The idea mushroomed into an elaborate one-over garden, and the merchants even some outside the downtown area—cooperated to put it over.

Mayor Bob Hipp's called the experiment an overwhelming success. About 90 percent of the businessmen, citizens and visitors liked the mall, he said.

Church Dresses Up Look Of Bible Characters for Tots

LANCASTER, Pa. (UPI)—A new Sunday School course shows pictures of Christ and His followers, and even the patriarchs, prophets and kings of the Old Testament, dressed in clam-digger shirts and casual sports shorts.

All show friendly, smiling faces and none carry the stern look of the traditional Bible picture.

The new look is the result of an eight-year, $1 million study by the United Church of Christ to produce a Bible School seem more real and relevant to children ranging from three to six.

The church also plans a streamlined course for adolescents and adults.

In the children's textbook pictures and Bible cards, Christ and His disciples are shown of their long tunics, shaggy beards and flowing hair. They retain beards, to be sure, but drastically shortened. The hair is pictured not much longer than that of a long-haired musician.

The course was tested on better Sunday School teachers.

There are 322 Sunday School members at Allen Heights Baptist Church, 11095 Haggerty, Plymouth, is now in progress.

A book, "Outreach for the Unreached," will be taught by the pastor, Dr. Truman Felkner, starting Monday, Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m. each evening throughout the week ending with the final session on Friday, Sept. 23. Any adult is invited to attend each evening.

High School Assembly To Seek Junior Achievers

A coast to coast attempt to make teenagers free enterprise conscious has been started by Junior Achievement, the "living economics" organization which puts teenagers in the driver's seat of business and industry for a school year.

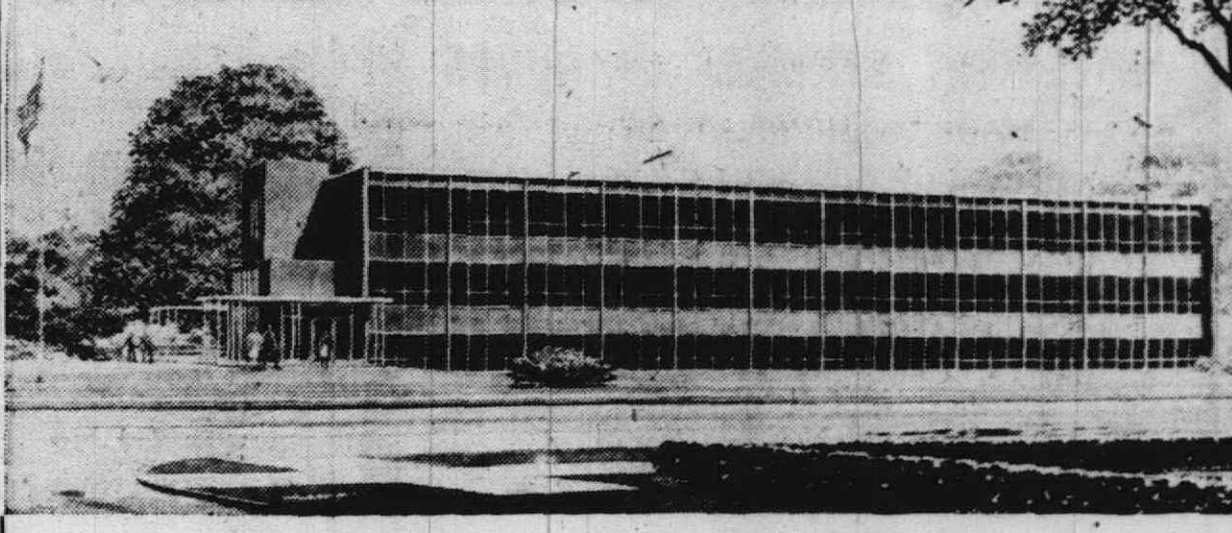

With the cooperation of school authorities, Junior Achievement will conduct special high school assemblies to give juniors and seniors a chance to get in on the ground floor of the '60-'61 Junior Achievement program year in southeastern Michigan.

A special Junior Achievement assembly will be held at the Plymouth High School on Thursday, Sept. 29 with local JA participants to be assigned to the Plymouth JA business center at 187 South Main St.

Experience in Junior Achievement companies has been called a "necessity for America" by community and national leaders including the president of Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan John E. Brennan.

This experience provides high school students a sustained look into free enterprise and prepares them for "full participation in the business world," Brennan said.

'There's a Lesson Here'

LANSING—The long rebuilding job to repair Michigan's reputation after the year-long 1959 cash crisis is well underway.

A giant stride was recently taken when Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock told the 1960 annual conference of the National Tax Association in New York City that it was partisan disagreement and not something basically wrong with Michigan law or Michigan people that caused the disastrous stalemate.

"Michigan is a great state with tremendous assets," Lock told the tax experts.

"Yet despite all the plus factors, we permitted ourselves the luxury of horrible national publicity because of an unwillingness to compromise our differences," he said.

While there will still be differences, Lock predicted the state will never again allow itself to pass through evil days as it did last year because of these differences.

"Michigan is on its way back," he said. "Both political parties now recognize our shortcomings and the areas in which our tax structure needs repair," the portly, balding Lock said in a paper he prepared for the New York meeting.

"There is no excuse for a wealthy state like Michigan to sell itself short," Lock said. "The realization of the fallacy of such practices and the fact that we have learned much from our errors of the past augurs well for the future of Michigan."

"There is a lesson here for Michigan and her sister states."

FRANKLIN K. DE WILD, husky new state personnel chief, has ordered a thorough look at Michigan's civil service system.

De Wild, long accustomed to working with huge work forces on the public payroll by virtue of service in Washington and elsewhere, said the aim of the Civil Service Commission action was to insure that Michigan will develop a merit system operation that will attract and keep capable people in state service.

"From time to time there have been complaints the present system tends to create 'inbreeding' in state employment and prevents adequate opportunity for attracting capable new people," De Wild said.

One of the points in the present system which will come under scrutiny is the practice of using a promotional list first.

Present regulations require state agencies to fill vacancies from among persons on a promotional list before going outside the list, if such a list is available.

Only after exhausting the list can a position be filled from another list compiled by examination of new recruits from the general public, De Wild said.

Many personnel experts hailed the evaluation program as a major step forward, he said.

MORE AND MORE JUNE BRIDES

are fast approaching the November of life, according to the Michigan Conference on Aging. Statistics show that in 10 years (1950-59) when population of Michigan had increased by 30 percent, marriages among persons 65 and over had increased by nearly double that amount, the conference said.

In the same period, marriages among people of all ages were decreasing by about 5 percent.

There were more bridegrooms than brides in the 65-and-over age bracket, the conference said, indicating that perhaps more of the older men were marrying younger women.

THE COLORS OF AUTUMN

come to Michigan in as vivid a display as anywhere in the nation.

A carefully planned color tour—starting with the first turning of the leaves and continuing until winter grips even the southernmost reaches of the lower peninsula—can be had by tourists simply for the asking.

The Michigan Tourist Council in Lansing will alert prospective travelers to the first showing of color in the upper peninsula and announce the peak of the autumn display as it moves southward.

A postcard to the Fall Color Service, Michigan Tourist Council, is all that is needed for the information.

Under 21

By DAN HALLIGAN

Dear Dan: I have a terrible problem and need your help. My parents say I can't date boys my age but boys of my age don't date and my parents know this. Even if the boys did date, I wouldn't want to go out with them because we don't have the same interests. The boys my age are just starting to mature and girls of the same age have already matured. I'm 14 years old and would appreciate your opinion on this. Thank you.—B. S.

Dear B. S.: Maybe your parents aren't so tough after all. I say that because I don't believe a girl of 14 should be dating at all. For your part, I don't know what age group boys you would like to date but I don't like to see a high school girl date any boy more than two years older than she is. I'm sorry I can't offer you a solution but that's the way the answers come out sometimes.

Dear Dan: My girl friend and I had an argument several months ago and still don't speak to each other. When we first got mad at each other, I still tried to be nice and always said hello but that didn't do much good and we gradually stopped even saying hello.

Now I hear from my friends she's whispering about me behind my back. There was only one time when I said something behind her back and I knew then I was in the wrong.

Now I want to be friends with her again but I don't know how to go about it. Please try to help me.—C. S.

Dear C. S.: You know, with all the trouble we have in the world today with wars and threats of war, with kids your age going to bed hungry every night, don't you think your friend and you are acting too much like adults in not speaking?

I know what it's like to have pride and how tough it is to say "I'm sorry" but also realize it's about time the two of you made up. I'm sure your friend feels as badly about this state of affairs as you do and the sooner one of you takes the initiative and apologizes, the quicker your friendship will get back on the beam. Don't wait for her to make the first move. As long as you worried enough about this problem to write to me, carry the ball all the way and make up with your friend right away.

Dear Dan: When you're dancing with a boy, how do you know whether to leave him or to dance the following dance with him? Does a boy thank a girl for a dance or is nothing said? If he does thank her, what is she expected to say?—A Loyal Reader.

Dear Reader: If you're referring to live music, usually there's several dances in a set and in between dances, the few seconds it takes, you wait on the dance floor with the boy. However, if you're referring to records, you're only committed for one dance and immediately after the record stops playing, the boy should escort you from the floor back to your chair or to wherever you were when he asked you for the dance.

If a boy doesn't know enough to escort a girl from the dance floor, then the girl should start leading the way and even a dumb bunny should at least accompany her and not allow her to walk by herself.

Inasmuch as boys always ask girls for dances, except in ladies' choice, a boy should be expected to thank a girl for a dance and in turn the girl can say "You're welcome" or "I enjoyed the dance too."

I hope boys get as much out of this answer as you do because apparently you've been dancing with boys who just aren't aware of manners.

How's Business?

Role of Public Psychology

By ROGER W. BABSON

Unfortunate and unwise though it may be, the actions of people are motivated more by feelings than by the careful weighing of facts and statistics. The disappointing business and financial conditions thus far in 1960 were caused by a shift in the tide of public sentiment.

Handwriting Is Clue About You

Dear Miss Williams:

Please analyze my handwriting.

Thank you, John X.

Dear John X.: This is a rather short note but we'll see what can be found in the words.

You're a very concentrated thinker, thrifty, efficient and care full. You can pinpoint your thoughts and efforts to one subject and go all out. You are self-reliant, make your own decisions and stand behind them. Your memory and attention to details is outstanding. You'd be a good C.P.A.

Dear Miss Williams:

I think it would be fun to have my handwriting analyzed. I hope I have written enough for you to use.

Thank you in advance, Mrs. J. R. M.

Dear Mrs. J. R. M.:

You are a person greatly interested in music. You enjoy it, have some creative talent and thoroughly appreciate it.

You have what is known as intuition, a sort of sixth sense. You feel the forthcoming happenings, good or bad. There is a line of variety and change. You are ever involved in a constant changing of activities. You have pride, possess dignity and have a great sense of loyalty.

Your memory is excellent and you give a great deal of thought to details. There is an artistic flair along with the previous creative tendency. You are cultural minded and practical with emotional expression.

Dear Miss Williams:

You have an interesting column and I enjoy it—have never thought of writing in, but recently I decided if everyone else could, so could I!

Thank you, Mrs. Rambli

Dear Mrs. Rambli:

You are a great builder of air castles. In fact, you can get carried away to the enthusiastic stage with your dream castles. You are energetic and like to move forward. There is a desire to possess and own, also for mental cultivation. You are a deep thinker, penetrating and analytical with a good imagination.

You have a combination of thinking quick, acting now and thinking way ahead. You are learning and gaining, building for the future. You do not take criticism to heart, you use it to profit by, accepting it as helpful and another boost in the right direction.

Dear Miss Williams:

We read your column regularly in our family and try to guess who people are—I guess lots of people do that. Now I'd like to have you do our son's analysis. Handwriting enclosed.

Thank you, Mom

Dear Mom:

Your son is highly sensitive and easily hurt. He has pride and wants to do well and is very determined in his efforts.

He has constructive ability and likes to build, assemble and put things together. He is generous and kind and has a willingness to share.

There is some self-consciousness but not a consistent trait. There is also some future mindedness but on an all over average he is pretty practical and logical.

(Send your letters to Lucille Williams in care of this newspaper for free handwriting analysis).

Hence, there is an increasing trend toward assessing how people feel to a great extent the battery of business barometers, based on statistics.

The succession of adverse and, at best, neutral international and domestic developments has placed the public in a defensive frame of mind. The uneasy stalemate in the Soviet-American "cold war," deterioration of American prestige abroad, outbursts of Red-backed nationalist uprisings, and domestic election-year jitters have all helped to shift public sentiment toward the more cautious side.

Since the very beginning of the year, investors have adhered to a cautious policy of sitting on the sidelines. A simultaneous wavering of business confidence has been manifested in the conservative attitude toward investment toward inventories and capital expenditures. Although the rising patterns of employment and income have favored consumers, they have, however, become more cautious and stepped up their savings at the expense of durable goods purchases.

Public psychology looms as a dominant factor for near-term business. With the normal fall increase in business vitality at hand, there should be a shoring up of public confidence (especially if the turbulence in various parts of the world should simmer down), which could give a much needed supplementary uplift to the economy.

If confidence continues to waver, the upturn in business may peter out before long. Thus far, there has been no fundamental change for the better in the caution-inducing sectors to warrant restoration of unbridled optimism. Therefore, it might be wise, and necessary, to prepare to weather a further period of indecisiveness in public psychology.

Allstate now offers new low-cost homeowners policy

Chances are, Allstate's new Homeowners policy will cut your insurance costs—and, at the same time, give you broader coverage than you now have.

TYPICAL EXAMPLE: If you own a frame or brick veneer single-family home in Livonia (with approved roof) that is valued at $14,000—you would now pay only $46.40 a year for an Allstate Homeowners Policy. (Form 1, no deductibles.)

You get the 4 basic kinds of home insurance:

1. Fire insurance on your home.
2. Fire insurance on the contents.
3. Theft protection.
4. Comprehensive personal liability protection.

Most homeowners are lacking at least one of these basic coverages—are you? With an Allstate Homeowners Policy you get all 4 "packaged" in one policy—with only one premium, one company to deal with. And your Allstate Homeowners Policy costs less than the same policy purchased from most other companies.

You don't have to wait! Credit for your present fire policies can be applied to a new Allstate Homeowners Policy. So check with an Allstate Agent today—find out how an Allstate Homeowners Policy may broaden your coverage and save money!

We, at Michigan Bell, would like to add our congratulations to the Plymouth Post Office Department during the dedication of their new addition. Most people do not realize the important part our postal people play in the community as they quietly go about their way dependably providing us with mail service. They are most certainly an intricate part of our activity efficiently handling nearly 10,000 pieces of Michigan Bell mail each month. It is a healthy and re-assuring thing to see this progress in our Plymouth community.

Drives Zinc-Coated Nails Into Tree to Halt Dutch Elm Disease

NEWARK, Ohio (UPI) — An industrial scientist may have won an important battle against Dutch Elm disease.

Dr. Games Slayter of Newark, vice president in charge of research and development, Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp., 12 years ago started using zinc chloride to fight the disease in one of the trees in his yard.

Today he reports the tree seems quite healthy.

He began the treatment by drilling holes in the tree, pouring in some of the zinc chloride and then plugging the holes.

He used the treatment twice, succeeding in getting the disease halted for about three years each time.

Then he decided to use a more permanent method. He drove zinc-coated finishing nails in the bark so that the nails could come in contact with the sap wood.

Today many people in surrounding areas, who have lost many trees to the disease, have started using his tests in their own fight.

Dr. Slayter said he got interested in the use of zinc chloride as a fungicidal agent when he first bought his farm in 1942.

"The fence posts had rotted. How could they be treated to keep them from rotting?" he wondered.

He decided to run a test with some catalpa trees. He used the same method he later used with the elm.

Later he cut some twigs from the trees and submitted them to spectrographic analysis in his laboratory. The spectrograph showed that the zinc ions had traveled up the sap wood and reached every portion of the trees.

When the trees became large enough, he had them cut down, split in two and used them as fence posts.

The posts not only have resisted rot-producing fungi, but, also, have sprouted twigs and leaves—proving that the chloride did not damage the living tissues.

The Dutch Elm fungus, caused by an elm bark beetle, travels up the sap wood of the elm and into the branches and twigs. It apparently affects only the elm tree.

Pipe Smoking Regains Ground Lost After War

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pipe smoking, which lost ground to cigarettes in the early post-war years, now is booming so fast pipemakers can't get enough briar root or block meerschaum to meet the demand, according to the Pipe and Tobacco Council.

And in Washington, Mo., center of the corncob pipe industry, one factory is running three shifts trying to keep up with orders.

Sales of pipes at retail hit $44 million last year in spite of the continuing boom in the cigarette market.

"This year they may go to $50 million," said Jerry Nagler, council executive, "and sales of pipe tobaccos may hit 80 million pounds. Sales for the first half of the year were 50 million pounds—the largest in five years. The smokers are buying better grade tobaccos, too—30 to 40 cents an ounce—although the average is only 20 cents."

Although virtually all the individual blocks are imported, 90 percent of the pipes sold in the United States are manufactured here. The briar root blocks come from Algeria and other Mediterranean lands.

A few less expensive domestic pipes are made of cherry wood. Italy and France export some cheaper finished briar pipes to this country, and Britain, Denmark and Holland send us high-grade finished briar pipes to sell for $5 to $25.

"Briar pipes sell for all the way from $2 to $50, according to design and the perfection of the piece of briar root," said Nagler. "The main innovations recently have been nylon bits to replace hard rubber in some popular priced lines and some sleek new Italian-designed shapes with large bowls but very narrow shanks. These styles go well with the Italian tailoring styles that have proved so popular in men's clothing in recent years."

Meerschaum block pipes retain their popularity, Nagler said, although few men carry a meerschaum around.

"The good block meerschaum still comes from Turkey and it's scarce," Nagler said. "A few years ago we had hopes that a meerschaum style clay found in Kenya would prove satisfactory for pipes, but manufacturers concluded it was too brittle and not porous enough to provide the wonderfully cool meerschaum smoke."

Block meerschaums usually cost $12 and up. A few still have genuine carved amber bits—but most don't. Just can't find the amber," said Nagler.

There aren't any listed public companies in American pipe making. The leaders probably are S. M. Frank & Co. of New York, Dr. Graebow Co. of Greensboro, N.C., and Knickerbocker Pipe Co. of Brooklyn, N.Y. Nagler said, but there are many prosperous smaller firms.

"The corncob pipe industry's sales are growing fantastically," Nagler said, "even though three firms in Washington, Mo., have virtually all the market. They are Missouri Meerschaum, Buescher Industries and Hirschl, Bendine Co. They make the corn pipes in many shapes, some lacquered and colored. But most corn cob pipe lovers want their pipe to look like a corn cob."

It's Fall Lawn Planting Time

Now's the time to rebuild your turf for next year if your dreams of a beautiful green lawn fell short this season, says top gardening expert Tom Blankley.

Cooler autumn weather is perfect for starting new grass seed, and it gives young seedlings a head start next spring. But you'll have better results if you follow these important tips before you plant.

A strong lawn needs a good foundation, so be sure your soil is well-balanced. Send a soil sample to your county or state agriculture agent, who will do the testing for a small fee, or do it yourself with a soil testing kit available at your neighborhood garden supply center.

Apply chlordane to kill off sub-surface soil insects. A pre-mixed solution of the chemical, Antrrol's Hose-Spray Soil Insect Killer, attaches easily to any ordinary garden hose for easy application.

Another important step that should be taken early—two or three weeks before seeding is fighting the weed battle. Selective weed killers, a Crabgrass Killer and a Weed and Brush Killer, also are available with the Antrrol Hose-Spray applicators. Both should be applied before weeds start re-seeding.

And here's another little-known tip to help you fight crabgrass at this crucial time when it re-seeds so freely. Rake the lawn before you mow, so low-lying stems of the weedy pest are brought into an upright position. Then the mower cuts off stems so the weed cannot drop new seeds.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

Lois Jensen

A fifth grade teacher at the Bird Elementary School, Mrs. Jensen was born in Iowa Falls, Ia., the daughter of a Methodist minister and a schoolteacher. After graduating from Iowa Falls High School, she attended Elsworth College in her home town and received her bachelor of arts degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Before her marriage Mrs. Jensen held the positions of director of religious education for the Blackfoot Indian Methodist Mission at Browning, Mont., for the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Des Moines, Iowa, and for the State of Michigan Association of the Methodist Church. In the latter capacity she traveled over the state conducting leadership training schools. She has also been the director of the Wesleyan Foundation on the campus of Eastern Michigan University. She spent one summer in the Maxwell Street district of Chicago working at the Mercy Center Settlement House and another summer doing special research in rural social settlements in New Hampshire and Maine with a Yale University Divinity School field trip. As a member of the Plymouth faculty Mrs. Jensen has taught third and fifth grades at the Starkweather and Bird Elementary Schools.

Mrs. Jensen is a member of the Plymouth Education Assn., Michigan Education Assn., the National Education Assn. and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. She is a MEA Region II representative for the Plymouth district.

Mrs. Jensen lives on Pennington Ave. with her family. The late Henry D. Jensen was an industrial arts instructor and athletic coach for the Plymouth Junior and Senior High Schools.

The Jensens' oldest daughter, Loanne, a 1959 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, is a statistical analyst for the United States Rubber Co. Mariana is a math major at Central Michigan University while Gretchen and James attend the Plymouth Community High School.

Mrs. Jensen is a past president and Student Loan Fund chairman for the P.E.O., a past member of the City Planning Commission, a member of the Democratic Club and was the chairman of the United Nations Day observance in 1958. She was the first president of the Plymouth Community Junior High School P.T.S.A.

HI-FI

One of the most courageous struggles to get good high fidelity music broadcast is going on in New Orleans where a group of serious music lovers actually operates a frequency modulated radio station 21 hours a week, and on ultra high frequency television broadcasting, shortly after World War II.

Salutes Lyricist

Plymouth football games without the Marching Band would be something like life without background music. Last Friday, again resplendent in blue uniforms with white trim, the Rock high school band blasted zest into the air to raise the curtain on the 1960 fall band season. With its familiar quick marching pace and glistening instruments the band introduced new baton twirlers. They are Karen Dickerson, Claire Ann Wilson, Jo Ette Dyson and Mary Lou Smith. The Drum Major is Jerry Lee. In the press box was a new announcer, Ben Creech.

For the first half-time of the season the band featured songs by Rogers and Hammerstein in tribute to Oscar Hammerstein II who was the lyric writing end of the team and who died recently. It made some sense, then, that one of the numbers was a vocal version of "You'll Never Walk Alone" which was introduced as Hammerstein's personal favorite. A capable performance was given by Grace Wigley, soprano, and David Bickle, baritone.

The student announcer, for some reason the society still doesn't understand, decided that all the music scheduled was Communist-inspired, although it was written long before there was any such thing as a Communist.

He refused to play the music. The program's faithful listeners, who had planned to trim their Christmas trees by the classics, heard Bing Crosby singing "White Christmas." This is several cuts below the lightest music the society normally puts on the air.

The lightest music it programs is Gilbert and Sullivan. The heaviest is a weekly taped series called "Music of the Italian Masters," featuring baroque music written 300 years ago and seldom heard now.

Of course, any New Orleansian with an FM receiver can listen, and Gantt suspects that the programs have listeners who won't pay membership dues in the society.

Helpful Hints on College Styles

Picking the right campus clothes play as much a part to the collegebound girl as her school, course of study and boyfriends.

Realizing the importance of the situation to the modern co-ed, United Press International made a study of five universities around the country and after compiling the information, offer these helpful hints on fashion.

In Spartan Land —

By JANE K. DENISON

Michigan State University '61 EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — The vibrant and exciting Spartan green has wandered off the football field at Michigan State University this fall and into the coed's closets.

Fashion-conscious women on the East Lansing campus have adopted the Spartans' rallying green, along with equally brilliant blues, red, and golds into casual campus attire that rivals the traditional brilliance of same-day mums.

The big news at M.S.U. are the big pleated plaids which are combined with bulky cable knits and equally big ski sweaters for non-skiers. The skirts and sweaters are often dyed to match and mix at prices ranging from $11 to $15.

Feminine feet at Michigan State are beginning to kick off unsightly sneakers in favor of "baby heels," Italian-style loafers, and snug, trim shoe boots.

At formerly purse-less Michigan State, inexpensive clutch bags in neutral leathers or bright plaids blending with the new corduroy and fake suede coats are sprinkling the class scene. Hats continue in the form of feathered and veiled whimsies which sell in the $3 range.

More Spartan greens—although considerably toned down by greys and browns—will join muted fall colors in the classic "good wool dress" category for MSU coeds. Sensibly priced (around $20), these casual wools will take in plain pumps, modest gold jewelry and crisp white gloves for parties, concerts and special dates.

Down East —

Boston University '61

BOSTON (UPI) — Color will go mad this fall on the Boston University scene as at most colleges in the East. Fashion-wise coeds will truly register on campus as they open the school season in wildly colored mix 'um and match 'um outfits.

The versatile, reversible pleated skirt in a clan full of wide open spaced plaids will make a repeat performance at old B.U. this year. Skirts will tend to be fuller with the full circle skirt returning to the scene after a brief absence.

As for the sweater, whether it's dyed to match or contrast with the skirt, it's sure to be bigger and bulkier than ever.

A variety of collar types will be popular from the boat neck to the oversized cowl neck that converts into a hood.

In the shoe department, the pointed toe is still right in step, though getting some competition from the square toe style.

Many a B.U. coed will scorn the leather shoe altogether to wear last year's sneakers without socks.

The jumper that, minus a blouse, can double as an informal dance dress will enjoy its usual popularity with the gal on a tuition-paying budget. The shirtwaist that can be dressed up or down will likewise be a favorite for its practical versatility.

Finally, for that Friday night date, B.U.'s fashion-wise coed will choose a gaily colored jersey, subtle tweed or plaid dress.

In Penn's Woods —

By BETSY FRANTZ

Byrn Mawr College '61 CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — The 1960 college fashions are keynoting color—vivid shades of pink, purple, yellow and green.

Because my funds are limited, I find separates a particularly good investment. They can be mixed and mismatched in a variety of ways. Thus, several sweaters, mohair and otherwise, are a must in my list of autumn additions.

I also have commissioned my mother to bring back some knit things from Italy. I find the two-piece Italian cashmere outfits wonderful for traveling.

These skirts are either straight or sewed-down pleated styles.

For fraternity parties, the William and Mary coeds wear tailored wool sheath dresses or winter cotton shirtwaists. Purple is the big color in Richmond this year.

I have learned to love hats and have bought three new berets, black, gold and purple. My dress coat is black with a gold lining, and the two new outfits I have are gold and purple.

As always, the camel hair coat is tops with me for classes. For rainy and in-between weather I will add a new waterproof all-weather coat in a bright new color to use alternately with my khaki trenchcoat of two years ago.

Three suits will go back to school with me—a brown tweed with a brown nank collar, a black and white plaid, and a camel hair walking suit.

In accessories I will add two silk chiffon scarves to be worn loosely around the head. These are about $2.50 each. My jewelry will be the same as last year—lots of colored beads, circle pins, and big bracelets.

Out West —

By SUZIE BERGER

Stanford University '62 STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) The Stanford coed has three categories of clothing in her wardrobe — sportswear, campus wear and evening clothes. And with California's versatile weather, she may find herself wearing ski clothes or a bathing suit, a wool dress or a blouse and skirt—all within the same week.

Here's what I plan to tote to school this fall:

SPORTSWEAR — two bathing suits ($25 each), three pairs each of cotton bermuda shorts ($6-$7 each), wool bermuda shorts ($10 each) and slacks ($15), two pairs of ski pants ($40 each), two parkas ($30 each) and two ski sweaters ($50 each). These are holdovers from my first two years at school.

CAMPUS CLOTHES — wool skirts, sweaters and blouses, oxford shoes, cotton dresses and sandals, madras shirtmaker dresses and the essential trenchcoat and tennis shoes, all from previous years. I'll add a green sweater ($16) and skirt ($15) and a matching print blouse ($7); a tan-gray bulky sweater ($12) and a beige and gray tone plaid skirt ($13); and another similar costume.

Other new items will include a black heavy sweater ($26), two or three new white shirtmaker dresses ($12-$20), a new navy cotton I just made ($6), two shetland sweaters ($15 each), one pair each red, brown, black flats ($10 each). My coats include a blue trench coat, a beige car coat and a camel color coat.

EVENING CLOTHES — I'm adding two silk sheaths ($40-$50), a black dressy suit (about $80), a red dress coat ($100-$125) and a pair of black kid heels ($20).

From Radcliffe —

By PATRICIA COOK

Radcliffe College '61 BOSTON (UPI) The new look on the campus this fall is going to be startlingly different. The colors will be brighter, the skirts shorter, and the sweaters bulkier. The fashion trend is toward more and more accessories: armloads of bracelets, big necklaces and earrings.

The skirts this fall are a great fashion news. The new length is one or two inches below the knee. The knee-tickler length in the skirt, a little above the knee, will be extremely popular, too, especially for casual wear.

A good rule to follow in wearing the knee-tickler skirts, culotte skirts, and knickers is to wear them for the same type of occasion that you would wear bermuda shorts.

The sweaters this year are bigger and bulkier. Most popular among these are the ski sweaters, bulky knits with the big, big turtle necks, boat-necked sweaters, and sweaters with draw strings at the waist.

Blouses, too, have taken on a new look. Button-down collars are still very popular and there is a great emphasis on feminine collars on shirts.

DRYING REPORT

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than $32 million worth of towels and washcloths were sold through variety stores during 1959, the Variety Store Merchandiser, a trade publication, reports.

Total sales exceeded $180 million. About 80 percent of towels sold were terry cloth, with the balance in assorted linens, blends and synthetics.

Tips For Brides

BY ROSELLA M. BANNISTER
Wayne County Extension Agent, Home Economics

Molds that cause mildew are always in the air, but they grow best in "muggy" summer weather. Mildew thrives in warm, damp, dark, poorly aired places such as basements, closets, shower stalls and on damp clothes.

Favorite victims of mildew are cotton, linen, rayon, silk, wool, leather, wood and paper. Most of the man-made fibers are resistant to it.

Here are eight tips to help prevent mildew:

1. Provide good ventilation in bathrooms, kitchen and closets.
2. Hang garments loosely so air can circulate.
3. Keep stored clothing clean and dry.
4. Get rid of dampness.
5. Vent clothes dryer outdoors.
6. Keep suitcases, shoes, paper and books off the floor. Store on perforated shelves at top of closet.
7. Use mechanical dehumidifiers when necessary. When using a dehumidifier, keep windows and doors closed.
8. Use a low-pressure spray (in Aerosol container) containing a fungicide to prevent mildew. (Available at drug and department stores.)

When the first odor of mustiness occurs, or the first speck of mildew appears—get busy. Brush off mildew outside since mildew spores scatter. Send non-washable items to the dry cleaner.

Wash mildew-stained fabrics at once, and dry in the sun. If stain remains, bleach with lemon juice and salt, household chlorine bleach, or sodium perborate bleach (available at grocery stores). Always test bleach on fabric before using, and follow directions on bleach label.

To remove mildew from shoes and leather goods, wipe with a cloth wrung out of dilute alcohol—I cup denatured rubbing alcohol to 1 cup water. Dry in a breeze. Polish leather with a wax dressing. Use low-pressure sprayer containing a fungicide to prevent mildew.

Wash bathroom tiled walls and floors with a diluted bleach to get rid of mustiness. Use 1/2 cup of liquid household bleach to a gallon of water. Rinse and wipe dry. Ventilate room.

Now own Rambler—the world's most popular 6-cylinder wagon—for less than you'd pay for most sedans!

We Rambler dealers just set our 35th consecutive monthly sales record. We're winding up the biggest year in our history, selling more compact cars per dealer than any other dealer group.

So, our sales costs per car are lowest. Ramblers cost least of all U.S. cars to start with. That's why nobody can match our low, low, low prices. So hurry in while we still have a good choice of smart station wagons. Prices of big used cars are plummeting—waiting may cost you hundreds of dollars. Buy today and save. Get a quality-built Rambler with proved top resale value.

You can own a Rambler for as little as

$39<sup>25</sup> per month

Monthly payments for Rambler American Deluxe 2-Door Sedan based on manufacturer's suggested delivered price at factory with 15 down payment, 36-month contract with normal carrying charges. Federal taxes paid. Optional equipment, transportation, insurance, title and local taxes, if any, extra.

Rambler American Deluxe 2-Door Sedan.

The Fourth District Rally is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 25 at Romulus. The meeting will start promptly at 2 p.m. All those attending should register prior to the meeting. Chairmen are urged to attend at least two district meetings during the year. Call your president, Eileen Williams, at GL 3-1680 to arrange for transportation. The 6695 well represented. Lots of excitement at the Archer residence at 316 S. Holbrook. Dorothy is home from the hospital with a little girl. Her name is Mary Jo and she was born on Sept. 7.

The hospital trip to Camp Woodbury on Sept. 13 was a huge success. Forty-nine patients, three doctors and five nurses were served a delicious dinner of sweet corn, sloppy joes, tomatoes, potato chips, pickles, cake and coffee. Also cigarettes and candy was given to each patient. The sweet corn seemed to be a special treat—180 ears disappeared in no time. All in all it was a wonderful day, a wonderful meal and all 49 patients as well as nurses and doctors were very very happy. Thanks so much to Hospital Chairman Geraldine Olson and her helpers for a job well done.

Our fall Rummage Sale will be held at the Post Home on Wednesday, Sept. 28 from 9 to 6 and on Thursday, Sept. 29 from 9 till 12. Sister Bettie Neale and her committee have been working hard preparing for the sale. Be sure to come out early to get the best bargains. There will be clothing, dishes, household furniture and many more items to choose from. See you there.

Oct. 4 has been designated as Inspection Night. All officers must be in uniform and each chairman must have her notebook up to date. Members are especially urged to attend this important meeting.

The dessert luncheon and card party will be held Thursday, Oct. 6 at 12:30 at the Post Home. Come out and join your friends and neighbors for a friendly game of cards. There will be a prize for each table and also door prizes. Donation is $1 per person and tickets can be purchased from any Auxiliary member or at the door.

September means not only back to school but also back to the many activities planned by your Auxiliary. We have missed quite a few of our members during the busy summer months—hope all of you will join us for the next regular meeting on Oct. 4 at 8 p.m. See you there.

Evans Purchases Firm Making Office Partitions

Evans Products Co. of Plymouth has purchased the Exec-Units Division of the General Plywood Corp. Announcement of the purchase was made by Robert B. Evans, vice-president of Evans Products and general manager of the company's Haskelite Manufacturing Division, which will take over the production and sales of Exec-Units, a free-standing type of movable office partition currently distributed throughout the United States and Canada.

Under the agreement of sale, Evans has purchased the inventory, patents, trade marks and tools and fixtures for manufacturing from General Plywood Corp., which has headquarters in Louisville, Ky. The tools and fixtures will be moved from General Plywood's Paine Lumber Division in Oshkosh, Wis., to the Haskelite factory in Grand Rapids.

Evans said that Haskelite will retain the Exec-Units dealer organization and that C. R. Deane, who has been sales manager of General Plywood's Exec-Units Division, has joined Haskelite as sales manager for the new division. Exec-Units partitions, which are available in natural sliced walnut or painted finishes, are made in standard modular sizes constructed with veneered wood panels of aircraft stressed-skin construction.

The modular system allows new office construction or conversion to be quickly accomplished because the units are designed with precision sized factory drilled panels and posts for immediate on-the-job assembly without special tools.

BOWLS HOLD FRIENDSHIP MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Holton C. Rush has received 32 beautiful wooden bowls from J. W. Wheeler of Seattle during the past 20 years. Yet they have not met. Their long distance friendship began through mutual interest in woods. Rush edited a lumber magazine, and Wheeler, 85, made bowls from rare woods as a hobby. Wheeler's bowls have gone to such figures as Sir Winston Churchill and Herbert Hoover.

Average postal rural route is about 50.09 miles long.

Front Row Center

Hide those bankbooks, keep polishing up the old buggy, and generally just avoid watching the TV screen. Why all the subterfuge? Well, it's that time of the year around the country when they begin to tempt us to change to those newer models. I'm talking about cars... not wives. Channel 2, the other evening, showed in full color the rakish lines of the 1961 Comet. Others will follow in the days to come. The Chrysler line, I believe, will come out ahead of the other "rolling bank accounts." Yes, the pressure is now on firmly indicating your 1960 car is an obsolete pile of junk. Thought I would warn you so you could be ready with your domestic arguments either pro or con. I bumped into a fellow last week that really believed in using the glove compartment in his car. Happened to open it and found two pairs of gloves within. How about that?

The Penn Theater had a happy picture all last week with Judy Holiday kicking up her heels in a picture that was bright and gay. "The Bells Are Ringing." In case you missed the movie, it's worth a drive up to Northville where it is currently unreeled. The music alone is worth the price of admission. "Just In Time," "The Party's Over," and "I'm in Love With Plaza 9-double 9" will provide you with whistle music for at least a month. Jule Styne, who wrote the music, provided Judy and Dean Martin with a pleasant musical score. The plot is on the hokier side, but then everyone is having so much fun in the picture who cares what the message is. And maybe the message is "view this picture and forget your troubles."

"Let's Make Love" has some of the same qualities of "Bells Are Ringing" with one large exception. And that difference is Marilyn Monroe. No matter which way you spell that name it connotes sex. She exudes this forbidden quality in large amounts. Of course, Marilyn's brand is usually "Tongue-in-cheek" variety. You never have the feeling that she is really serious about the whole matter. To have Marilyn get realistic in this emotional department could cause her pictures to be banned in short order. Therefore, most directors play her screen adventures for all the humorous angles they can find. And believe me, there are more curves than angles in most of her cinema cuddle-capers.
Milton Berle makes a guest appearance in "Let's Make Love" and steals the show. His old routines have been preserved in this movie. Old George recommends this room run a hurricane a la Donna through the place every evening next week for a floor show? Could be... any thing can happen in Chicago.

Local Agent Wins Award

Lawrence O. Ransom of Plymouth, agent of the Acacia Mutual Life Insurance Co., was one of the life insurance people in this area awarded the coveted C.L.U. designation at National Conference Exercises of the American College of Life Underwriters in Washington, D.C. on Sept. 14.

The American College of Life Underwriters grants two equivalent designations: the Chartered Life Underwriter (C.L.U.) for those connected with the field underwriting and agency operations of life insurance companies, and the Chartered Life Underwriter Associate (C.L.U. Associate) for others in life insurance. In order to qualify for either designation, candidates must pass a series of professional examinations and meet the stringent experience and ethical requirements of the College. This year 929 men and women will be awarded the designations, bringing to 9,326 the number of people who have received them since the American College was founded in 1927.

Local Scouts, to Join Harriers Run Third In 4-Team Meet

Joining the five million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers in the United States who will participate in the third national Get-Out-the-Vote campaign, nearly 30,000 Scouts and leaders of the Plymouth area and the Detroit Area Council are preparing for the starring event of the Golden Jubilee Year.

As it was in 1952 and 1956, this great non-partisan effort to get out a record vote in the national election is under the joint sponsorship of the Boy Scouts of America and the Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge, Penn.

On Oct. 29, ten days before the election, a mammoth distribution of Liberty Bell placards urging citizens to vote will be distributed to 40 million homes throughout the nation. The Detroit Area Council, trained in an orderly and systematic distribution method, will hang 700,000 placards on the front doors of metropolitan Detroit area residents who are asked to display the reminder in their front windows until Election Day, signifying their intention to vote.

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge and the Boy Scouts of America efforts contributed much in the increased voting total in 1952 and 1956.

A special Get-Out-the-Vote committee of the Detroit Area Council has been formed with William A. Mayberry, Chairman of the Board, Manufacturers National Bank, as chairman. Mayberry is also a member of Mayor Miriani's Good Citizenship Committee.

The Get-Out-the-Vote campaign is strictly non-partisan in its concept and execution, and all participants must abide by regulations to keep the project removed from the political arena. As in all national Good Turns and other service projects undertaken by the Boy Scouts of America, the development of character and good citizenship is the prime motive behind the actual job.

Says Joseph H. Brinton, Detroit Area Council Scout Executive, "Through this project organized boyhood can exert a far-reaching influence among parents, relatives, and neighbors in producing a record vote and thereby strengthening our nation. The sincere appeal of an enthusiastic Scout can often accomplish results impossible to the adult."

Exports of Indian telephone equipment amounted to about $10,000 in 1959—double the amount of the previous year.

Coach John Sandmann's 1960 cross-country team opened 1960 activity last week by placing third in a four-way meet at Thurston.

The Rocks, who posted a 6-1 dual meet last season, took on the City of Detroit champions, Redford, Thurston and Fordson. Redford won with 23 points. Thurston was second with 7 and was second with 47 and was last with 95.

Captain Dave Westover led the Rocks, placing eighth. Tony Hunt was 13th, Chuck Bowers was 15th, Byron Latzer 17th and Jim Steele 21st. Seventeen turned out for vies.

Clifford H. Manwaring, Atty. 274 S. Main St., Plymouth STATE OF MICHIGAN County of Wayne ss. 479,918

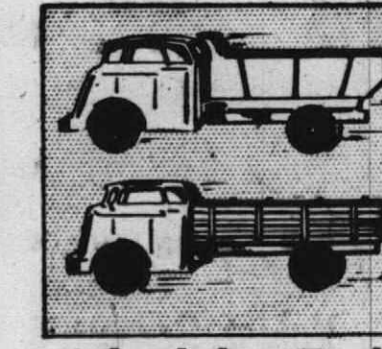

At a session of the Probate Court for said County of Wayne held at the Probate Court Room in the City of Detroit, on the seventh day of September, in the year one thousand nine hundred and sixty, Present Frank S. Szymanski, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of JOHN SKUBIS, deceased.

Clifford H. Manwaring, administrator of said estate, having rendered to this Court his first and final account in said matter and filed therewith his petition praying that the residue of said estate be assigned to the person or persons entitled thereto and that his letters of administration heretofore granted be revoked and annulled: It is ordered, that the seventh day of October, next at ten o'clock in the forenoon at said Court Room be appointed for examining and allowing said account and hearing said petition. And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published once in each week for three weeks consecutively previous to said time of hearing, in the PLYMOUTH MAIL, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County of Wayne.

I do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing copy with the original record thereof and have found the same to be a correct transcript of such original record.
Dated Sept. 7, 1960.

Plymouth Citizens Invited To Visit New Health Center

Seventeen years of dynamic growth will be hailed by the Wayne County Department of Health as it holds its first "Open House" this weekend.

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Director of the County unit on July 21, 1958, with Mr. Morton S. Hilbert as Assistant Director.

Health Department moved to more adequate quarters on Henry Ruff Rd., Eloise, with a staff of 73.

The citizens of Wayne County in 1953 recognized the many needs of the growing county area and voted a $50,000,000 Capital Improvement Program for the many necessary county facilities. One of the projects under this Improvement Program was the new Wayne County Health Center.

Plans were completed and construction was started on this Health Center in July, 1958. When this new facility was occupied on May 31, 1960, the Health Department staff had grown to 115.

Dr. Molner, Acting Director when the Health Department was organized in 1943, and the present commissioner of Health for the City of Detroit, was appointed Director when the Health Department was reorganized in 1958.

The first Health Department office was established in a store building on Schaefer Rd. in Dearborn with Dr. Molner as Acting Director and a staff of five persons. In January, 1946, the

Quarry Tiles Give New Natural Look

An important trend in home design this year is toward the more "natural" look. Architects, interior decorators and manufacturers are thinking in terms of materials that help express or accent the natural setting of a home.

One of the most important elements in establishing the over-all tone for a home is the floor. An increasingly popular flooring surface is quarry tile, a truly "natural" material.

Quarry tile is produced from natural earth clays. It is baked in high-temperature kilns and designed especially for heavy-duty wear. It is available in many different colors, shapes, textures and patterns.

Schools, restaurants, hospitals and industrial plants have traditionally been the heavy users of this product. But now it is becoming popular as a quality flooring for residential use — particularly for patios, family rooms, kitchens and entranceways.

It also shares with other varieties of ceramic tile the advantage of being easy to clean, fireproof, scuff and scratch proof and it never needs waxing.

Apple Gelatin For Spicy Pie

package (3 ounces) apple flavored gelatin
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup hot water
1 cup sour cream
1 can (22 ounces) apple pie filling

Combine gelatin and spices. Add sugar and dissolve in hot water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in sour cream and apple pie filling. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with whipped cream and maraschino cherries.

1 baked 9-inch pie shell
Combine gelatin and spices. Add sugar and dissolve in hot water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in sour cream and apple pie filling. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with whipped cream and maraschino cherries.

It predicted that a record 80,000 pools will be installed this year.

A YOUNG LION TAKING UP A TRADE

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Hilton Culpepper, a census-taker, almost decided to pass up the Ivan E. Stubbs home. When she called to take a head count she was greeted at the door by Simba, the Stubbs' 5-month-old lion cub.

PORT SAID, United Arab Republic (UPI) — Arrested for making counterfeit coins only two weeks after he got out of prison, Ahmed Badawi Ghanem confessed he learned the profession in jail from a master counterfeiter serving a seven-year sentence.

Now Registering For Course On Great Books

Registrations are now being taken for all the Great Books Discussion Groups in the Detroit metropolitan area, including Plymouth.

Held on Tuesdays from 8 to 10 p.m., the course is sponsored by the Dunning Hough Library. Instructors are Mr. and Mrs. John Moon. To join the course, one can call the Plymouth Recreation and Adult Education Department at the High School or Dunning Hough Library at GL 3-0750.

Under the appeal "Let's Think for Ourselves!", the Great Books Program has been brought to adult Detroit area. Considering the number of groups now functioning throughout the metropolitan and suburban area, the need and demand for such a program is amply demonstrated.

The leaders—or moderators—of the Great Books Discussion Groups have completed an authorized Leadership Guidance Course under the auspices of the Great Books Foundation.

The function of the leaders—or moderators—is to keep the discussion alive, yet under control, and to ask questions which bring out the ideas in the text in such a way as to make the discussions stimulating to all participants. The leaders do not supply the answers—the participants do. This technique makes it absolutely necessary for everyone to "think for himself."

Such questions as, "Are all men created equal?" and "How should we bring up our children?" and "Is man superior to the state?" will be brought up as the group reads the Declaration of Independence, Montaigne's Essays and Aristotle's Politics.

Bird School PTA Begins Program

Bird School P.T.A. opens its fall program Tuesday, Sept. 27 at 7:45 in the multipurpose room.

Following the business meeting, the parents will visit with the teachers of their children and discuss the new grade.

Parents will also have an opportunity to preview the books, equipment and schedules with which the children will be working during the year.

Refreshments will be served by the room mothers.

"And Was It Rough..."

"You say you had troubles in the old days. Well, lemme tell you about myself. I really was in tough shape. I couldn't sell lemonade for two cents, I didn't have any pop bottles to turn in, and I couldn't borrow any more from my Daddy. I didn't know where my next ice cream cone was coming from. Then I tried the want ads. Quick-like-a-flash, I was rich. There went Mommy's white hat, and Daddy's pipe, and my big bruber's tricycle. I was a zillionaire. But they caught up with me. They put me on an allowance. Oh well... It's a living."
