Takes Place in Kellogg Park Friday at 7 P.M.

A 15-minute ceremony in which a 14-foot-high torch will be ignited will officially open Plymouth's 1960 Community Fund campaign this Friday night. Starting at 7 p.m., the ceremony in Kellogg Park will include the Junior High Band. Lighting the torch will be Miss Sue Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cooper, 1375 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

The Rev. David Davies of St. John's Episcopal Church will deliver the invocation. Local Boy Scouts will provide the Color Guard. Following selections by the Junior High Band directed by Laurence Livingston, master of ceremonies Nat Sibbold will introduce guests and the Junior High Chorus, directed by William Grimmer, will sing the official campaign song.

Mayor Harold Guenther will read his official proclamation concerning the Community Fund. Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay and Campaign Chairman Russell Isbister will tell of the benefits of the Fund.

Following this will be the lighting of the torch and the

How to Give If You Work In U-F Area

Because Plymouth is the only community in the metropolitan Detroit area still conducting its own Community Fund drive, many Plymouthites working outside of the City or Township of Plymouth would like to donate here, but still give through their company.

This is possible under an agreement between the Plymouth Community Fund and the United Foundation.

Those who work where UF conducts a drive may turn the pledge card over, and write: "Please credit to Plymouth Community Fund." When the residential solicitor calls at your home, tell her where you donated.

Alfred R. West Dies of Heart Attack in Florida

A heart attack he suffered after arriving in Florida last week has taken the life of Alfred R. "Dutch" West, president of West Brothers, Inc. He died at Inglewood, Fla., Saturday night after suffering a heart attack that same day. Mr. and Mrs. West left Plymouth by car on Monday of last week.

Mr. West, 61, started in the garage business here in 1922. In 1927 he opened an International Harvester dealership. He and four of his six brothers later became auto dealers and handled American Motors cars and more recently the Edsel, Mercury and Comet lines.

Born June 26, 1899 in Detroit, Mr. West attended high school in Ypsilanti and Cleary College in Ypsilanti. He was a member of the B. & P.O. Elks in Plymouth and was a member of the Wayne County 4-H Fair Board since its start.

He is survived by his wife, May A. West, whom he married on Sept. 20, 1928. Also surviving are: One daughter, Mrs. Geraldine DuBach, Garden City; two sons, Arthur E. Huston of Wayne and William R. Huston of Minneapolis; six brothers, Elton West of Flint, Arthur J. and Stanley West of Cherry Hill, and Wilbert, Earl and Joseph West of Plymouth; two sisters, Mrs. Bernice Thomas of Plymouth and Mrs. Luettia West of Wayne; and nine grandchildren. Funeral services will be Thursday, Oct. 11 from the Schrader Funeral Home at 1 p.m. The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, D.D., pastor of First Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment is in Riverside Cemetery. Pallbearers will be his six brothers.

Reset Heights Charter Election for Jan. 17

Governor OKs Date

Plymouth Township electors living within the proposed City of Plymouth Heights will go to the polls on Tuesday, Jan. 17 to decide if they want to approve the charter for the new city.

The governor's office this week re-returned the proposed charter that had to be returned to Lansing last month after technicalities postponed the election by two months.

According to the original charter approved by Governor Williams and the attorney general's office last summer, the election was scheduled to be held Nov. 8, the same date as the nationwide election.

Nominating petitions for those seeking an office in the Plymouth Heights government were taken out. But then came a conflict of opinion concerning the date that the petitions had to be filed. State election officials and the attorney general's office said that the candidates should have filed before last June 14, the same as those filing for the August primary. But the charter had not yet received the approval of the governor at that time.

Township Clerk Fred L. Miller said that it appeared that there was no specific statute covering the matter, so it was recommended that the election be postponed and that the filing procedure be started all over.

Nominating petitions will be made available after the Nov. 8 election. Miller said this week.

The nominating petitions must be filed by Dec. 28. This will also be the same period of filing for those seeking Township offices. It is assumed that there will be some people filing for both Plymouth Heights and Plymouth Township offices.

The Township biennial primary election is in February and the biennial general election is in April.

Not all Plymouth Township electors will get to vote on the charter in January. Eligible to vote are just those living within the boundaries of the proposed city. This is the area east of McClumpha Rd.

The new city, if the charter is approved, would encircle the City of Plymouth.

Exactly how serious electors are about forming a new city is in doubt. The petition filed three years ago to incorporate a new city was done mainly to keep away the threat of annexations to the City of Plymouth until the Township had a sewer and water program underway.

The incorporation petition was filed when the Garling Construction Co. decided that it had to annex its 20 acres along the city's eastern edge to

Carolyn Scott, junior representative to the Homecoming court, and Sue McIntyre, sophomore. Freshman Sue Cooper wasn't present when the picture was taken, but is found elsewhere on this page as the lighter of the Community Fund torch.

LIGHTING PLYMOUTH'S Community Fund torch in Kellogg Park this Friday night at 7 will be Miss Sue Cooper, shown here with Thomas Devereaux of Consumers Power Co., who is explaining to Sue how to light the torch. A special gas line has been installed in the park for the torch. This will be the first time that the Plymouth Community Fund has used a lighted torch.

15th Season Of Free Symphony Concerts Opens

Nelson M. Hauenstein, assistant professor in woodwind instruments at the University of Michigan, will be the featured soloist for the first concert presented by the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra this Sunday, Oct. 16. The program will be given in the Plymouth High School at 4 p.m.

Compositions by Berlioz, Haydn, Vivaldi, Griffes and Respighi will be played by the 100-piece orchestra, now in its 15th season, and conducted by Wayne Dunlap.

The "Goldfisch Concerto for Flute and Strings" by Antonio Vivaldi and "Poeme for Flute and Orchestra" (a tone poem for orchestra dominated by a haunting song for a flute) by the poetic American composer, Charles Tomlinson Griffes will spotlight Hauenstein's talents as flutist.

Hauenstein, a member of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and widely featured soloist throughout the state, is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, a recipient of the degree of Bachelor of Music from the U. of Rochester and Master of Music in Music Education granted by the University of Michigan.

He is also recognized as one of the organizers of the U. of Michigan Woodwind Quintet and the Baroque Trio.

A portion of the program will carry a Roman theme. Conductor Wayne Dunlap has selected the "Roman Carnival Overture" by Hector Berlioz and "Pines of Rome" by Ottorino Respighi. Berlioz, one of the great pioneers of music, left the classical "past" to become the first great romantic composer.

Using literary subjects, fantasy and remarkable innovations in orchestration, his

Kiwanis Marks 35th Birthday in Plymouth

It was just 35 years ago this Thursday that 35 local businessmen met and signed a charter to form the Plymouth Kiwanis Club.

Next Tuesday, members of the club will celebrate the organization's 35th anniversary with a special program. Marshall R. Reed, presiding bishop of the Methodist Church of Michigan, will be the speaker.

Bishop Reed, a figure of national reputation and an outstanding speaker, was governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis in 1940 and has always taken an active interest in Kiwanis activities.

The Kiwanis Club of Ypsilanti sponsored the local club when the charter was signed Oct. 13, 1925. Today only two charter members remain in from the 35 original members. They are Ernest Allison, local Chevrolet dealer, and Fred Thomas, insurance agent.

There are now 90 members on the club's rolls. Over the 35 years the club has compiled a long list of achievements. Members of the Kiwanis clubs in the Sixth Division and special guests have been invited to participate in the 35th birthday celebration.

Junior Fire Marshals Rally For National Fire Prevention Week

For the first time in 10 years, there will be no Fire "Are You Safe at Home?" Prevention Week demonstration and parade in Plymouth, but local firemen will be carrying their messages to through the schools.

In previous years, the City and Township Fire Departments have hosted most of the neighboring departments for an evening parade, contests and exhibits.

But this year the departments at Northville and Northville Fire Marshal program.

Under this program youngsters will be given fire inspection check lists for their home. Those returning the lists will be made marshals and will be rewarded with a fire helmet and badge. The Junior Fire program is sponsored here by the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents.

Local firemen will drive some of their equipment to night for the parade and will later take part in a water battle in which they try to push a barrel on a cable over one another's goal by using water hoses. National Fire Prevention Week is Oct. 9 to 15. City firemen will have an Open House at Fire Station No. 2 on Spring St. every day for adults as well as children. A special window display has also been prepared at Davis and Lent.

Plymouth Offers Second Candidate for Governor

When Plymouthites go to the polls Nov. 8 they will find the names of two hometown people seeking the job of Michigan's governor—not just one.

Widely-known is the name of John B. Swainson who is the Democratic party's youthful candidate. But just opening his campaign as the gubernatorial candidate of the Independent American Party is R. Roy Pursell, 15661 Bradner Rd., a Plymouth office supplies' dealer.

But even though the two candidates hail from the same town, they couldn't be much further apart in their politics. Lt. Gov. Swainson's Democratic platform is considered ultra-liberal while Pursell's Independent American Party is as far "right" as any party can be.

According to Pursell, the new party has just recently been put onto the state ballot but the organization was born last spring after a series of meetings. It took the signatures of 12,500 to put the Independent American Party on the Michigan ballot. The party has 90 candidates seeking state, national and county jobs.

Pursell was selected to head the ticket as candidate for governor because his name is well-known among conservative groups. "They came to me and asked me to run as governor," Pursell related. "I said nothing doing because I have so many other things to do, including running my business. But they came back and said that I was the only one acceptable to everyone, so I finally agreed."

There will be six party columns on the Michigan ballot next month. They are the Republican, Democratic, Socialist Labor, Socialist Workers, Tax Cut and Independent American Parties.

The Independent American Party will appear on the far right-hand column of ballots and voting machines. This may prove to be a handy coincidence for the party, since the Independent American Party is far "right" in its political thinking.

Its main target is the elimination of federal income tax. Calling the tax unconstitutional, the party points out that none of the $39 billion collected on incomes yearly is spent constitutionally.

Pursell and several other candidates from the new minority party will be offered "equal time" on radio and television Tape recordings are being prepared for two Detroit stations and Pursell

Did You Know...

By GEORGE-ANN BAUER

A "Maybasket" won for one Plymouth lass a year's free telephone service. Miss Janet Anne Fair entered a "name the hairdo" contest sponsored by a shampoo company and came away a winner in the nationwide competition. The Plymouth High School junior lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fair, on Amherst Ct., Plymouth.

And Plymouth has yet another winner—Miss Judy LeGrande of Evergreen St. She has been nominated as a candidate for the Homecoming Queen of Bradley University in Peoria, Ill. Miss LeGrande is a member of Delta Zeta sorority and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester R. LeGrande.

Speaking of winners, this German recipe is sure to be one with your family if this columnist is any judge of good food (and the scales justify this). One of the many specialties Miss Ilse Reichle prepares for the David Wood family on Warren Rd. is Rinds (beef) Rouladen, which she brought from her hometown of Tuttingen, on the Danube when she came to the Wood's two years ago.

Rinds Rouladen

4 slices thin cut flank steaks
1 large onion finely chopped
1/2 cup parsley
4 slices bacon chopped
1/4 cup sour cream
Salt and pepper
Mustard

Fry onion, bacon and parsley for about 5 minutes on medium heat or just before it browns. Put this mixture on steaks which have first been spread with mustard. Roll meat lengthwise, pin together and brown in fat. Steam for one and a half hours. Add sour cream and just before it boils, serve. Season to taste. Guaranteed to please and a welcome change for beef steak especially after a summer of charcoal. And charcoal is exactly what is meant.

To Your Good Health . . .

Doctors Treat Nearly 300 Million Colds, Other Respiratory Illnesses Each Year

Every year Americans battle nearly 300 million common colds and other respiratory illnesses serious enough to warrant calling the family doctor.

During the "colds and flu season" ahead, these annoying afflictions can be expected to take their usual toll. This means an annual $3 billion medical bill and time lost from work, which costs industry $2 billion.

The bald fact is that there is still no known cure for the common cold, and the same can be said for influenza and other cold-weather ailments.

The best advice experts have to offer is: Observe good health rules and try to keep out of range of the variety of viruses which may be sneezed your way.

According to Carl Peterson of the Peterson Drug, a few simple precautions—developed by U.S. Government health specialists—can increase the chances of escaping serious respiratory ailments this fall and winter. Here's what he suggests:

- Keep your distance when cold sufferers cough or sneeze; avoid crowds during epidemics of colds or flu.
- Wash hands often, especially before eating or after touching a person with a cold. Never use a drinking glass or a towel which has been in contact with a person who seems to have a respiratory illness.
- Try to keep your general health on a high level. Avoid chilling, wet feet and fatigue. Get plenty of rest and sleep.
- Eat three well-balanced meals a day. Many nutritionists recommend use of a multiple vitamin supplement every day just as insurance against any possibility of a deficiency in the diet.
- Mr. Peterson points out that a vitamin supplement is not intended to "cure" anything. But, he says, carefully manufactured vitamins such as the well-known Unicap, are an important aid in preventive medicine. The main idea behind their use is the "health insurance" concept: keeping the body always in a healthy state.
- If colds or flu strike despite all precautions, the best bet is to go to bed as soon as symptoms start. This accomplishes two things: You get well sooner, and the infection is less likely to spread to others.
- Keep warm, avoid drafts, and use a snug robe and slippers if you must get out of bed. If you have fever, Mr. Peterson suggests calling a doctor at once. The physician's role is to make the patient more comfortable and to take precautions against possible serious complications.
- With adequate precautions, you may get through the winter unscathed; but if illness strikes, the word is: Be prepared to "take it lying down."

Couple Marries 55 Years After First Engagement

A couple who 55 years ago broke off their engagement and married other people were united in marriage last week.

Mrs. Angeline Oliver, now 73, of 535 Starkweather, and Ernest Northrup, 77, of Wheeler, Mich., were engaged to be married 58 years ago. But when Mr. Northrup received a letter saying that his fiancée was to marry another, the engagement was broken off.

Both married others who have since passed away. Last Wednesday, Oct. 5, the couple was married at 7 p.m. by Rev. John Heinstra in the parsonage of Good Shepherd Reformed Church. A granddaughter of the bride, Mrs. William Hokens of Garden City, was hostess for a reception that followed.

Last Friday, the new Mrs. Northrup's buncle club surprised the newly-weds with a wedding cake and gift for their home. The following day, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Bessey took the Northrups to their home in Wheeler.

Mrs. Northrup has one child, three grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Mr. Northrup has six children, 25 grandchildren and 45 great grandchildren.

Guests Invited to Attend Next Optimist Meeting

City Safety Director Kenneth Fisher will be the guest speaker at the next Plymouth Optimist Club meeting on Oct. 17. He will talk about the local police and instilling into the youth their responsibility toward law and why they should honor and respect it.

The meeting will be at 6:45 p.m. at Arbor-Lill.

Guests are invited to attend, although prospective guests are requested to express their desire to attend beforehand to any member. Two members readily available are William Saxton of Saxton Farm and Garden Center, and Marvin Bertram of Bluford Jewelers on Forest Ave.

Although the Optimist Club stands for many things, their special slogan is "Friend of the Boy." For instance, in 1951 the Club organized the Plymouth Optimist Junior Rifle Club and received a charter from the National Rifle Association. This group was later taken over by the better-equipped Plymouth Police Department.

So to find out what the Optimist Club and police have done for Plymouth's youth, a general invitation is being extended to the next meeting. It will be Ladies Night and all wives are also invited.

How your child can have fun learning to prevent fire... There's fun in the Hartford Junior Fire Marshal Program. There are red helmets, badges, honor rolls—even home inspection forms for the youngsters to fill out just as real firemen do.

But the real value of the Junior Fire Marshal Program is educational. Your child learns fire safety principles that may someday save a life... and participates in a program that helps make your community a safer place in which to live.

We're pleased to cooperate with the Hartford Fire Insurance Company in sponsoring the Junior Fire Marshal Program in our local schools.

Whitewashed Sidewalks a Sure Sign Homecoming's Ahead

Anyone who has walked the downtown sidewalks since Sunday is well aware that this Friday is a big day at Plymouth High School.

Buckets of whitewash were used to advertise the fact that Friday is Homecoming Day at Plymouth High.

Most of the activity will take place that night when the Plymouth Rock football team hosts Redford Union. Plymouth is a favorite in this contest and the Rocks will be fighting to hold onto their three-way tie for first place.

Preceding the game, a parade will move through town. A Senior Class float will carry the four contestants for the Homecoming queen. They are Mary Foster, Barbara Gooch, Karen Rank and Barbara Schantz.

Candidates are selected by students on the basis of their leadership and scholastic abilities. Each class will also have a member on the queen's court. Already elected, they are: Junior, Carolyn Scott; sophomore, Sue McIntyre; and freshman, Sue Cooper. Also in the parade will be the High School Band, cheerleaders and majorettes.

At the game half-time, School Mayor Jerry Fischer will welcome the alumni and introduce the queen's court — and finally the queen. Principal Carvel Bentley will then place a cape on her shoulders and Assistant Principal Gustave Gorguze will present her with a bouquet of flowers. The queen and her court will preside at the Homecoming Dance following the game.

Jane Addams Tea Held on Monday

The Northville-Plymouth Branch libraries will hold the annual Jane Addams' Tea at 2 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 17 at the home of Mrs. Paul Kaufman, 720 Parkview, Plymouth.

Miss Neva Lovewell, will give some recollections of Miss Addams drawn from her personal knowledge and experience with her and her work at Hull House in Chicago.

1960 is the Centennial Year of the birth of Jane Addams, one of America's greatest and best known women. Her pioneering social work at Hull House with Chicago's poor and bewildered immigrants is known to everyone. Perhaps not so well known is her devotion to the cause of world peace.

In 1915 she and a group of women from several European countries and the U.S. met at The Hague and organized the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

She served as president of the WILPF until her death in 1935, and because of her work through it was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1931, the only American woman to receive this honor.

The goal of the WILPF is to unite women in all countries who are opposed to every kind of war, exploitation and oppression and who work for universal disarmament and the solution of conflicts by conciliation and arbitration and the establishment of social, political and economic justice without distinction as to sex, race, class or creed.

Local commemorative activities include a display on Jane Addams at both the Northville and Plymouth libraries. The Northville-Plymouth Branch of WILPF is presenting two books to each of the libraries: Jane Addams' Peace and Bread, and Miriam Gilbert's Jane Addams: World Neighbor, a book for children.

Rocks Trim Trenton 34-13; Move Into Tie For First

Local Horse Sets Record

A Plymouth-owned horse, Lavendar Heather, established a new track record at Hollywood Park, Calif. last Wednesday.

Owned by Everett Reynolds, 11821 Priscilla Lane, the trotter set the record with a time of 2:05. Lavendar Heather was shipped to the West coast with the Joe Marsh, Jr. stable and will remain there until Thanksgiving.

Lavendar Heather, a four-year-old son of Darnley, was a winner at Wolverine Harness Raceway in Livonia a month ago.

Rock Offense Romps For Five Touchdowns

Bolstered by a strong running attack, Plymouth's Rocks climbed back into first place in the Suburban Six League last Friday with a 34-13 triumph at Trenton.

Actually the Rocks share first place with three other teams—Bentley, Trenton and Belleville—but it will take an upset now to dump the Rocks out of first place.

Halfback John Spigarelli took scoring honors with a trio of touchdowns and fullback Mike Kisabeth and halfback Jim Lockwood each added another. Gary Fillmore kicked four of five extra close until midway in the third quarter. The teams were tied at the half 13-13.

Plymouth scored first in the first period when Mike Kisabeth took a short left-side screen pass from quarterback Dick Schryer and ploughed 16 yards to score. Fillmore added the point and Plymouth led 7-0.

In the second period Plymouth went to sleep for 45 seconds and Trenton scored 13 points. Trojan quarterback Tom Shamanski found halfback Ken Dahlka five yards behind a lagging Plymouth defense and lofted a 40 yard aerial to him. He went the final eight yards untouched. The try for extra point failed, and Plymouth had a slim 7-6 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff Plymouth failed to down the ball or pick it up on the 17. An alert Trojan fell on it and Trenton had the ball on the Plymouth 17. While Plymouth was trying to figure out what happened, Trenton halfback Skip Fennor promptly roared through tackle for 17 yards to score on the first play from scrimmage. The point was good this time and Trenton led 13-7.

Plymouth came right back with halfback John Spigarelli carrying on five of six running plays from his own 45. Spigarelli covered the final 12 yards after bursting through right guard, to score. The point was bobbed and the score was tied 13-13.

Plymouth really got going midway in the third quarter. The Rocks moved 63 yards in seven plays to score. Spigarelli added his second touchdown, going through tackle for three yards. Key play was a 12-yard third down pass from Schryer to end Jim Dart.

Coach Mike Hoben confused the Trojans with a single-wing formation late in the game. Early in the fourth quarter, Schryer moved the team 66 yards in ten plays, including three passes. The score came on a 20 pass play from Schryer to Dart, who in turn lateraled off at the ten to Spigarelli for the score.

The final score came with three seconds left in the game when halfback Jim Lockwood intercepted a flat pass on the Trenton 28 and sped in to the end zone.

Plymouth amassed an amazing ground total that Hoben estimated "close to 400 yards." In addition, quarterback Schryer had an excellent evening, completing six of seven passes.

Plymouth's return to the league lead was witnessed by a sparse Plymouth crowd of about two or three hundred.

ALTHOUGH THE sun is still warm and there's no trace of snow, a Bantam hockey group sponsored by the V.F.W. and Recreation Department has been practicing without skates on the

JVs Meet Trenton After Bentley Loss

Plymouth's Junior Varsity football team will host Trenton at 4 p.m. Thursday, still looking for its second win of the season. Plymouth suffered its second defeat in junior varsity competition his season last Thursday at Bentley, 13-0 (a score identical to the varsity game).

Bentley scored in the second period on a 15-yard end run, but failed to run the extra point. In the third quarter the Bulldogs scored again on a 30 yard run through right tackle. The extra point was scored on a line plunge.

Coach Bryan Boring said the "boys did a good job except for a couple of lapses." Boring particularly praised the play of halfback Jim Waliski and linebacker Jef Frasz. The game featured very little offense, but hard defense similar to the varsity encounter a week earlier.

At both the north and south poles there are about six months of midnight daylight and darkness at noon.

SHOOTING TO WIN

Frosh Scamper 26-0 To Win Over Wayne

Plymouth's freshman football team won its first victory under its new coach, Tom Workman, last Thursday by blanking Wayne 26-0. Previously the young Rocks had lost to Belleville 7-0.

The freshmen jumped to a 6-6 lead in the first half when fullback Dick Egloff (remember that name) took a 12 yard pass from quarterback Denny Hunt to score.

In the third quarter Hunt again found the passing range with a prodigious heave to halfback Dave Agnew that covered 65 yards. Hunt ran the extra point and Plymouth led 13-0. A few minutes later Hunt ran end for the third touchdown. He added the extra point on a run.

The final score came in the last quarter when halfback Terry Clark ran end eight yards. A kick by Hunt failed and the Rocks led 26-0.

Workman cited the defensive play of Egloff, Hunt and tackle Kevin Huntington. He also praised offensive guard Hal Smith for his performance.

Plymouth meets Livonia Emerson in Livonia at 4 p.m. today.

TROPHIES TO the winning Little League teams were presented recently at a chicken barbecue held at the Elks. Here are the American League's Indians, champs for the 1960 season.

Runners Win 3-Way Competition

Coach John Sandmann's cross-country team swept the first three places in a triangular cross-country meet last week to win over Trenton and Romulus.

Dave Westover paced the Rocks with 11:14, only 16 seconds off the Plymouth Riverside Park Record. He was followed by Byron Latta (11:18) and Tony Hunt (11:20).

Other Rocks who figured in the scoring (only the first five count) were Ward Griffith (7th) and Bob Crosby (10th). Chuck Bowers was twelfth and Jim Griffith (Ward's twin brother) was thirteenth.

Plymouth scored 23 points; Romulus 45, and Trenton 63. Romulus placed fourth, sixth, ninth, 11th and 15th. Trenton was fifth, eighth, 14th, 17th and 19th.

Plymouth will travel to Redford Union at 4 p.m. Friday for its next meet. The following week they meet Allen Park and then will go into the League Meet on Tuesday, Oct. 25.

"If the boys keep improving as they have, this should be a good league meet," Sandmann said.

The Junior Varsities of the three schools ran a meet simultaneously with the varsities. Plymouth won that one too by scoring 35 points. Romulus was second with 40 and Trenton trailed with 61.

Dennis Knapp, of Plymouth, was first and running mate Jim Steele was second. This was the second meet for the JVs who previously had tied Belleville 28-28.

SPORTSEEN

By BILL NELSON

High School football is again in vogue in Plymouth after the Rocks 34-13 offensive show at Trenton last Friday evening. Plymouth waltzed through the Trojan line all evening to even things for the sole Plymouth defeat last year, which was inflicted by Trenton.

While Plymouth tip-toed through the Trojans, many of the fans apparently took in a dance at the Plymouth High School gym. The dance was scheduled in conflict with the game and probably contributed to the meager Rock attendance at the Trenton game, although the hour long drive to Trenton may have had some effect on attendance.

Surely Plymouth fans are not so fickle that the first defeat of the season would send them off to more flowery pursuits. With Homecoming scheduled for the Redford Union contest in Plymouth this Friday, there should be a large crowd on hand to welcome the return of our first place Rocks.

There is a four way tie now for first place in the Suburban Six League between Plymouth, Trenton, Belleville and Bentley. Last season the championship was split three ways between Trenton, Bentley and Plymouth. The league balance is a delight for fans. Except for games with Redford Union any team in the league can (and frequently does) get knocked off by another. It is the kind of arrangement that professional would like to set up. In the Suburban Six it just seems to happen that way. Plymouth should have something of an edge on the other leaders for the rest of the season, because they have still to play Redford Union (still secure in its role as the league doormat) and Allen Park with a 1-2 record. Allen Park might cause trouble.

Bentley meanwhile still must face Trenton. A tie in that one would be nice. Belleville meets Allen Park this week and here it would be delightful if Allen Park should have a good night.

Plymouth appears to be the best team in the league. The offense finally got going against Trenton. Mike Kisabeth, the rugged fullback, finally got rugged and halfbacks John Spigarelli and Art Nelson ran well. Dick Schryer tossed six of seven and got more excellent receptions, especially from end Jim Dart.

The line play was again excellent (as it has been all year). Centers Pete Steiner and Bob Monteith played capably. The interesting development, however, was the arrival of John Spigarelli as a three touchdown scorer. John was a guard last season and an end for a while the year before that. Friday he scored three touchdowns and earned a lot of hard yardage.

All this brings up again the interesting subject of what happened in the Bentley game. Simply put, nothing went right. Plymouth couldn't get out of its own end of the field. Bentley had a little to do with this, but not as much as it would seem: Fumbles and penalties hurt.

THIS IS the National League's championship team of the Little League. They are the Pirates, who are shown with their trophies.

Elementary Football Program in 4th Week

Now going into its fourth week, the Plymouth Recreation football program is reported to have a favorable turnout at all centers with a total of 200 boys learning the skills of the game and sportsmanship.

Monday the leaders met to draw for the play-off games that will start this week. There will be a two-game knock-out with a winner's and loser's bracket.

The next four weeks are being devoted to putting into practice the skills that have been learned. The games will be played at the various centers - Farrant, Gallimore, Smith, Bird and Starkweather schools, as well as the High School.

Leaders will officiate the games, as well as assist their teams. They feel that the lesson to be learned occurs just as the time it happens, not after the game. This will also give the leaders a chance to watch for injury or over-fatigue of the players. All parents are urged to watch the games.

NEWS BEAT

Petty theft of car parts seems to be increasing, according to police reports. Recent complaints have included mirrors, hubcaps, gasoline and spare tires. But the newest addition to the list of stolen items is an "oogah horn" taken from a car owned by Glen Goff, 1041 Mill St. There's only one other oogah horn in town, Goff told police, so patrolmen will now be tuning their ears for all suspicious oogahs.

SPEAKER AVAILABLE. Any organization wanting to hear more about the proposed Community College may invite the college's coordinator Dr. Albert Ammerman, to speak. Scheduling may be completed by phoning TI 6-7720 in the mornings, GA 6-6620 in the afternoons and LO 1-9016 in the evenings.

FIRE RUNS: Some $700 in damage was estimated at the Gerald Harrison home, 14695 Garland, Township firemen reported. The family had gone to church and returned at 1:20 p.m. to find fire in the living room. The sofa and curtains were burned. City firemen were called to an apartment at 263 West A n n Arbor Trail Sunday morning. An oil furnace exploded but the explosion knocked out the fire and there was no damage.

HIGH STYLE: Detroit's Bobbie Revis, 26, claimed he was only trying out the new Cadillac when he was arrested early Friday morning in Livonia. The new car had been taken off the Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac lot and had no license plates when a police spotted it. Revis and his girl friend had stopped earlier and asked the salesman to drive the car. The salesman refused because Revis had been drinking. He parked down the road several hours, walked back after closing time and took the car, but pleaded not guilty to the theft, claiming he was just trying out the car. He was placed on $5,000 bond pending examination.

the city if it wanted to get water. Water was necessary before a subdivision could be approved. But before the builder's annexation petition was filed, another petition for incorporation was filed with the Board of Supervisors. Since it was filed first, it had precedence and still maintains precedence until the vote on the charter is completed. By now, however, the Township has a sizable sewer system in operation and a water system planned that will include the Garling property. The water project is to start early next year.

to the opening saltarello. Ottorino Respighi, whose importance as a modern composer rests on his contribution toward helping bring about a symphonic renaissance in Italy, portrays the four sections of Rome in "The Pines of Rome." His brilliance in instrumentation and utilization of modern harmonies are in evidence in these selections. The Pines of the Villa Borghese, the Pines Near a Catacomb, the Pine of Janiculum, and the Pines of the Appian Way are visited on this impressionistic tour of Rome.

The most famous of the gay, effervescent Paris Symphonies, "Symphony No. 88 in G Major," by Franz Joseph Haydn, will also be played. Written about 1787 at the request of the city of Paris where the composer was well known and admired, this is one of Haydn's most often performed symphonies. Typical of Haydn's earlier symphonies, a slow introduction prefaces the first movement in the cellos and oboe in the second movement. Part three, the "Minuetto," or minuet, has a peasant-like vitality not unlike an Austrian folk dance. The finale is in rondo form... vigorous and vital.

Forthcoming concerts will feature Nelson True, pianist; Jean Harter, violinist; Eleanor Burton, soprano; Shirley Love, mezzo; Fred Kendall, tenor; Nat Sibbold, bass; Emily Mutter Adams, violinist; and the Plymouth Symphony chorus directed by Fred Nelson. Dates for these concerts have been set for Nov. 20, Dec. 11, Jan. 29, March 19 and April 16.

expects to be on WWJ-TV within the near future. "We really don't expect to win," Pursell explained. Their campaign will be aimed more to education. "We will try to show that we are at the crossroads—that we (the United States) are sliding into Communism. After we take that step there is no return," the local candidate warned.

Pursell said that perhaps his party will win three or four offices. For one thing, the party didn't choose its candidates until recently, so they are just now getting their campaign underway.

The Plymouthite started the Quality Print Shop in 1920 and changed it to the Pursell Publishing Co. in 1933. In 1946 he opened the Pursell Office Supply.

The 55-year-old resident graduated from Akron (Mich.) High School and attended Albion and Michigan State Normal Colleges. He has been an officer of the Congress of Freedom, a national organization professing the strict upholding of the Constitution.

Soon after the Pursells moved here from Detroit in 1933, Mr. Pursell was the first printer in the state to reject the National Recovery Act (NRA) Blue Eagle sent him by the government. He refused it at the Post Office because he claimed it was wholly unconstitutional.

Because of his stand on this, the Master Printers' Federation elected him its president with a promise to support his position. Later the Supreme Court threw the whole NRA program out. Pursell has not fared so well on some other things. For instance, since 1937 he has fought many battles with the government, claiming that the Social Security program is unconstitutional. He has given over 160 speeches to groups in the state on this subject.

He has lost every battle, of course, but he maintains "it is the last battle that really counts."

Once a Sunday School organizer, Pursell four years ago charged that some of the top brass in his denomination were Reds. His fellow-members failed to support him and he was dropped from membership.

Last year he was elected president of the Southern Michigan Council of Libertarian Representatives, a coalition of pro-Constitutional associations in Wayne County. In February he flew to Washington to make one of his many appearances before a Congressional committee. This one was protesting the repeal of the Connally Amendment.

One portion of his store and print shop on S. Main St. is now devoted to the "Study Rosa Hall" which is the meeting place of the Constitutional Study Club. Its members discuss the Constitution and ways in which they feel it is being ignored.

Kreger Sees Swing to GOP

William E. Kreger, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, after completing a three-week campaign tour of the majority of counties in the Thumb, Central and Western parts of the state, says he is convinced that this is "A Republican Year."

"We are going to carry the state from top to bottom," Kreger said. "Everywhere I have been, from Port Huron to Benton Harbor and criss-crossing the Central Counties there is apparent an overwhelming current of a swing to the Republican party."

Kreger said the adverse industrial climate, unemployment and deplorable state fiscal conditions have caused an undercurrent of resentment against "the one-man rule" that has dominated the Michigan political scene for the last twelve years.

"As Secretary of State and member of the Administrative Board I am going to play an active part as a member of the Governor's Cabinet," Kreger said. "The office of Secretary of State will not be a rubber stamp under my administration. It is the administrative office of the state of Michigan and if elected I intend to run it in a business like way."

Kreger is vice-president of a large soft-drink bottling works in Wyandotte where he served as mayor for three terms.

Bell Telephone Urges Hunters to Watch Lines Schools Close Oct. 27-28 For Annual Teacher Institute

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. urges hunters drawing beads on pheasants this season to keep an eye open for its telephone cables.

Last year, 497 aerial cables were damaged by gunshot blasts. In addition to the inconvenience to customers when service is disrupted, the average case of aerial cable trouble costs the company between $75 and $100 to repair.

And ironically, a cable damaged by gunshot could affect the lives of hunters or farmers on whose land the hunters are hunting. Each year nearly as many hunters are injured as there are cables damaged. In most cases when a hunter is injured, a telephone is used to call a doctor, ambulance, hospital, or the hunter's family. Calls could be delayed where telephone cables are damaged. Besides the possibility that a hunter's life may be in jeopardy, farmers become annoyed when their telephone service is knocked out by over-zealous nimrods.

Michigan Bell points out that willful damage is discouraged by penalties of up to $4,000 and four years' imprisonment. A hunter also can be held financially liable for damages, which can amount to as much as several hundred dollars.

Most damage, however, is caused by eager hunters firing at a bird without realizing that a telephone cable is in their line of fire. A single pellet has been known to disrupt telephone service. An unusual trouble case occurred recently when an arrow, sent aloft by a careless archer, pierced the Port Huron-Roseville long distance cable.

CAIRO (UPI) — A harried secretary at the Ministry of Agriculture quickly discovered why he was getting so many calls on his new office phone.

The number was formerly that of belly dancer Tahiya Carioca. The secretary estimated that about 30 of her admirers call him daily.

If Your Name Is 'Stella'

By ANN REYNOLDS

"Stella," a girl's name used for hundreds of years, is from the Latin word for "star." The words "stella" and "star" are related, both stemming from the Sanskrit, the ancient language of India, ancestor of most European tongues. Among English speaking girls "Stella" has been current since the Middle Ages; old documents prove it. Even more popular was this name among Italian and German girls.

"Stella" is a name that brings up associations from English literature. Sir Philip Sidney, sixteenth century soldier and poet, addressed Penelope Devereux, one of the ladies he wrote sonnets to, as "Stella"; maybe because he adored her from afar.

The word for the luminous celestial bodies visible in the night sky suggests itself as a symbol for a distant, dazzling and unattainable charmer. Sir Philip attributed full lip, golden hair, black eyes, and skin "fair like the morning sun on snow" to his Stella.

This name, in English literature, was also used for another woman whose real name was something else. Jonathan Swift, the brilliant Dublin born English author and satirist whose biting "Gulliver's Travels" is known to too many readers only diluted into a book for juveniles, chose to call Esther Johnson "Stella"; possibly because "Esther" has been explained as also meaning "a star", in Persian.

Swift met Stella or Esther when she was a mere child of eight, and his biographers are still divided by the question whether after having

Presidents' Habits Revealed in Book

By JEANNE LESEM

United Press International

Mrs. Bess Truman cooked and Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower waited tables at one White House luncheon.

Fiction? No. This non-political meal was served in 1946, when Mrs. Truman was First Lady and Mrs. Eisenhower's husband was Chief of Staff of the United States Army.

The meal was for a Spanish study group to which both women belonged. It is described in Ona Griffin Jeffries' new book "In and Out of the White House." The book also includes social and domestic activities of every president from Washington to the present.

Mrs. Truman worked with her Spanish teacher and four classmates to prepare picadillo, a spicy meat and rice dish, for 66 guests. They ended the meal with vegetable salad, Mexican cheese and guavas in syrup.

Several presidents occasionally lent a hand in the kitchen. Mrs. Jeffries reveals. Millard Fillmore worked the drafts on the White House's first iron cookstove.

Lavish meals long have been a White House tradition. Mrs. Jeffries said President Grant played host at the most elaborate dinners of all. Some meals ran to 29 courses for 36 guests and cost from $700 to $1,500 for food alone. But his own personal tastes were simple—rare roast beef, boiled hominy, wheaten bread and rice pudding.

Thomas Jefferson loved good food so much he insisted that his grandchildren be as proficient in cooking as in Latin, French and music. The women's touch was introduced to the White House staff by Mrs. Howard Taft, who replaced the male stew-

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

Ardys Joan Hayskar, currently the Director of Student Activities at the Junior High School, is this week's star teacher.

Born in Concord, Mich. and the daughter of a teacher, Mrs. Hayskar has been a resident of Plymouth for the past several years.

As the wife of a former Navy lieutenant, Eino Hayskar, Joan traveled from one station to another in various parts of the country, finally settling in Plymouth at 1434 Penniman, where she spends an active life with her husband and children.

Son Steve, now a senior at Plymouth High School, and a member of a national honor society, is an ardent golfer, and Sue, age 15, won an auto scholarship last year.

Mr. Hayskar, presently in manufacturing operations with the Ford Motor Co., was the son of the Finnish Vice Consul in Chicago. He played Big Ten football, basketball and baseball, and one time made it to the Rose Bowl as a player.

The family enjoys camping and has camped out all the way to California, Lake Winnipeg, Washington, D.C. twice, and to Florida and New Orleans.

Joan attended Albion College on a scholarship following her graduation as salutatorian of her class at Concord High School, received her Bachelor of Arts and later studied at Northwestern, Michigan and Wayne State Universities.

A member of Zeta Tau Alpha, she has been Panhellenic representative from Plymouth, as well as historian. She holds active membership in the National Education Assn., Michigan Education Assn. and Plymouth Education Assn., having been twice the social chairman and corresponding secretary of the latter.

In addition to this she has been chairman on every committee of the teachers' club at one time or another.

Joan has had a wide experience in teaching, first in Bangor, Mich., where she was senior high English literature and speech teacher for three years. Next, she became an instructor in play production and international relations at Central College in Pella, Ia. She has also taught English and social studies in Plymouth during the past 14 years. Added to this were two summers when Joan played summer stock with many "big name" artists with the Bay View Players.

Also active in community affairs, Joan has been a member of the Community Planning Group, an executive board member of PTSA, and has worked with Cub Scouts. Her church preference is Presbyterian.

Personally interested in government affairs, especially in helping young people to become active participants, she finds Student Council work very rewarding. Other outside interests include the study of law, fishing, good plays and gardening. One has only to drive by her home with the lovely garden to see evidence of her "green thumb" at work.

Joan says, "I feel very blessed with my family and my work. I would rather be teaching school than anything I know. Teachers must be dedicated because they are in a position to influence young people to a great degree. They must never give less than their very best."

Dale Cowan

Marine Sgt. Dale B. Cowan, son of Mrs. Alma Cowan of 305 Roe St., and husband of the former Miss Suzanne U. Carson of Livonia, is participating in extensive field exercises Sept. 15 to Oct. 17, with the First Marine Brigade at a training area in the mountains near Hilo, Hawaii.

The 3,000-man force from Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii was flown to the maneuver area to engage in unit training operations, including field firing of all the unit's weapons.

Want Educated Wives

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

Congress of Parents and Teachers, Professor Cavan cited one college survey supporting this point.

Four of five men wanted their wives to be as intelligent and as well educated as they were.

"It is an odd reversal of historical trends for men to wish wives equal to themselves and for women to desire subordination," Miss Cavan said.

That's right. Female college students participating in the survey said they hoped to have a husband who dominated them!

The sociologist said that men—in view of the pressures of the '60's—have the correct idea. And the women who want to be dominated little bees buzzing contentedly about the house? Well, they're not facing facts.

She cited these reasons why females should go into marriage with the idea of equal status with husbands.

"The wife of the 1960's must be a fully equipped and fully competent partner with her husband, as jointly they plan for and reach out toward family goals," said Miss Cavan.

There are about 7,000 hospitals in the United States.

Terrys 'Adopt' Italian Child:

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Terry, 075 Roosevelt, Plymouth, have financially "adopted" Giovanni Crispino Volanti, a 10-year-old Italian boy, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc. The Foster Parents have promised to contribute $15 a month toward the child's support for at least one year.

Foster Parents' Plan, which has rehabilitated more than 76,000 children on a personal basis since its founding in 1937, is now helping more than 19,000 youngsters in Greece, Italy, South Korea, France, Viet Nam and Hong Kong. Over the past 23 years, more than 600,000 individuals and groups in America have helped needy children overseas through Foster Parents' Plan.

"We are indeed grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Terry for giving Giovanni this wonderful gift of hope and help," declared Miss Gloria C. Matthews, Executive Director of Foster Parents' Plan, "and we prayerfully hope that many others who read this will also extend a helping hand to a distressed child. We shall be happy to send full information on how to become a Foster Parent to a child in Europe, South Korea, Viet Nam or Hong Kong to any individual, school or group writing to Foster Parents' Plan, 352 Park Avenue South, New York City," Miss Matthews added.

Foster Parents' Plan is a non-profit, non-propaganda, non-sectarian, independent, government approved relief organization which provides children who are orphaned, distressed, or otherwise made destitute with the care, education, and moral support they need.

"Adoption" through Plan is financial, not legal. The Foster Parent promises to contribute $15 monthly for at least one year. Of this sum, the child receives $8 each month as an outright cash grant. The remainder is used for periodic food and new clothing packages, translations of letters, medical services and education. Because each child is treated as an individual, any special needs of the child or his family are taken care of by Plan from its General Fund. This fund is made up of contributions from the public.

To encourage a warm, personal relationship between the Foster Parent and "his child," the Foster Parent receives a history of the child and a photograph, and correspondence through the Plan office is translated both ways. This exchange bridges the gap between Foster Parent and child and gives the youngster the feeling of security and love he needs.

Hunting Is A Great Sport—If You Think

Think first of safety when you think of hunting is the advice Dr. Joseph G. Molner, City-County Health Commissioner, gives to sportsmen. Plan now to make this a year when only game will be the victims of the hunting season, he adds.

Select your equipment and handle it with an eye to safety. The car or trailer heater is an important part of the hunter's equipment. In Michigan last year these heaters took the lives of nine hunters and sent at least four others to hospitals. The nine deaths were attributed to improperly designed and constructed vents. If you even suspect that your heater may not be working properly, have it examined by a reliable service agency. Carbon monoxide gas which comes from defective heaters is a silent killer which has no odor or color.

Car windows should always be open a little when you are traveling with the heater turned on because fumes can leak into the car. Make sure that the heater in your cabin is properly vented also. Fifty-nine persons died from accidental carbon monoxide poisoning in Michigan in 1959.

Hunting can bring the sportsman greater health benefits and more pleasure if he resists the temptation to crowd too much into too little time, Dr. Molner advises.

Take it easy and don't overexert or you may do yourself more harm than good. If you are 60, don't think you must keep up with a 30-year-old companion. Hunters of small-game should take precautions with firearms and against tularaemia. Safeguards against accidents with guns should be thought through carefully before you take down your gun. These safety measures should be adhered to rigorously until you put it back again at the end of the season.

Protection against tetanus, or lockjaw, given by your physician, will give added protection in case of injury while hunting. Many minor injuries which have not received care from a physician are potential hazards because of the possibility of infection by tetanus.

Candidates Campaign At Area Service Station

Candidates for Congress, Michigan State and local public office for the upcoming election Nov. 8 will meet at Steve Theis' Standard Dealer Service at Six Mile and Farmington Rd. in Livonia on Thursday, Oct. 13.

As a public service and part of the Standard Dealers' "Get Out The Vote" Campaign, Theis is probably setting some kind of a precedent when he donates the profits of his service station for that day to be split evenly between the Democratic and Republican Committees.

Each party has agreed to put on display one of the campaign trailers where visitors to the station will have an opportunity to interview and discuss politics with the various candidates.

A unique display attracting considerable attention by both young people and adults visiting the station is Theis' "goose" display. A sign reading: "I'm a Goose, I can't Vote, I just SQUAWK" seems to tell the story quite dramatically to people who have failed to register and probably do not contemplate visiting the polls on Election Day.

This activity locally is part of a state-wide campaign conducted by Standard Dealers. These Dealers are passing out litter bags, napkins and balloons with "vote" messages imprinted on them, urging citizens to "Speak Up For Freedom—Vote Nov. 8." This has also made available napkins to several church dinners to further carry the "vote" message.

Standard Dealers are also appearing on radio and television in interviews on regularly scheduled shows, telling the "vote" story and their personal experience on the driveway in these discussions with customers.

Many Standard Dealers are also scheduled to appear at civic clubs in many Michigan communities.

In addition, some dealers have selected the promotion of an essay contest in schools. In some areas Dealers are promoting a poster contest. Posters, after having been judged and prizes awarded, will be displayed in various store windows in the community.

Start of Circus

SOMERS, N.Y. (UPI) - The statue of an elephant in this Westchester County Village marks a farmer's whim and the coming of age of the U.S. circus.

The farmer imported a female elephant named Old Bet in 1808 for some long-forgotten reason. When the animal proved too frightening for his neighbors' horses he sold her to a traveling menagerie which in time grew into a circus, featuring America's first circus elephant.

American Samoa consists of six islands southwest of Hawaii.

THE MEMBERS of the Junior Symphony and their director, Miss Bettie Norman, practice every Saturday at 9 a.m. in the High School Band Room. This group affords the youngsters of Plymouth a place in which to work with other musicians with the end result — graduation to the Adult Symphony Orchestra.

Junior Symphony Organization Is Example of Perseverance

An avenue in a group activity for students of music director and instructor, Miss Bettie Norman. Organized about five years ago by Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, the Junior Symphony is a preparatory place for the adult group as well as giving the Plymouth youngsters a chance to play with an organization.

The 35 regular members of the Symphony meet every Saturday morning at 9 a.m. in the Plymouth High School band room. All qualified students are invited to attend these practice sessions.

The newly organized Junior Symphony League is the sponsoring organization working in much the same way as the Plymouth Symphony Society does with the adult Symphony.

This group of high school students furnishes refreshments to the orchestra members and organizes money making activities. One of the most recent endeavors was the afternoon showing of the "Swan Lake" ballet.

Future use of the money is to go toward scholarships to send worthy musicians to Interlochen, the national music camp, for a summer session.

Last year four Plymouthites attended the session on scholarships by the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Because there is no high school orchestra in Plymouth, there were very few stringed instrument players. However, due to the programs of instruction in the grade schools, supervised and taught by Miss Norman and Mr. Dunlap, the sections are growing.

Miss Norman said that the Junior Symphony is hoping to play with the adult group in the Family Concert in late January.

Miss Norman is a graduate of Goshen College in Indiana and received her master's degree from the University of Michigan. She plays cello in the Symphony Orchestra.

News from Plymouth High School

By LESTER BARTSON III

Friday night is Homecoming! PHS'ers will get into the spirit of things during the day at a rousing pep assembly during sixth hour and a noon pep rally. Proclaimed color day, Friday should see a good showing of the blue and white.

The evening activities will begin with a parade featuring the large senior class float (upon which will ride its four representatives), the high school band, majorettes, and cheerleaders. The representatives of other classes—who will form the court of the queen chosen from the senior representatives—will ride in cars.

At half time during the Homecoming football game with Redford Union the queen is to be crowned. Mayor Jerry Fischer will first welcome the alumni and introduce the representatives before making the long awaited announcement of the queen. Then Principal Carvel Bentley will place a regal cape on her shoulders and Assistant Principal Gustave Gorguize will present her with a bouquet of flowers.

On Saturday night a dance at which the Queen and her court will officiate is to be given in their honor by the Girls' Athletic Assn., thus concluding the festivities of the yearly event.

Tryouts for the all-school play "Angel Street" were held last Thursday and Friday. The eagerly anticipated announcement of actors and committee chairmen was made as this went to press, and will appear next week. The play has the smallest cast of any production in recent years, so competition for its five parts was especially keen.

Six seniors have been honored for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring. Due to receive letters of commendation signed by Principal Carvel Bentley and John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation are James Davis, Robert Fischer, Larry Heidt, Dale McIvor, Lester Bartson, and Dee Wernet.

Along with the semi-finalists in the program, they are among the upper three percent of the nation's high school seniors. Their achievement entitles them to consideration for various scholarships offered through the corporation.

Stated Mr. Stalnaker, "The Letters of Commendation provide tangible recognition of the commended students' high ability. It is our earnest hope that the recipients will continue their education, and thus benefit not only themselves but also the nation." Semi-finalists in the tests were announced in this column last week. Along with John Tichy, credit should have gone to Janet Mackie instead of the other name mentioned.

The All State Photo representative will be here next Monday, Oct. 17, for the benefit of any student who missed having his pictures taken before. The photographer will be in the auditorium.

The Science Club held its preliminary meeting of the year last Friday. The club plans to elect officers at a meeting this coming Friday. All members, as well as those interested in joining the group should be at this noon hour meeting.

Aims of the members of the club are to increase their knowledge of science, to perfect their skills in that field and emphasize the importance of science in daily life. In past years one of the main activities has been a Science Fair composed of exhibits made by the members.

Sales of the Plymouth annual, the Plythean, were officially begun last Friday night at the Annual Staff's Subscription Dance. Any student who bought a subscription was admitted free. Sales of the issue will continue until Dec. 2.

COMPLETELY surprised with a "This Is Your Life" type of program was Mrs. Mona Knight of Brookville Rd. Dr. Gerald Fitch conducted the program Saturday night at the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints.

'Your Life' Program Honors Mona Knight

Dr. Gerald Fitch became Ralph Edwards for a short while when the friends and relatives of Mrs. Mona Knight surprised her with a "This Is Your Life" program. Saturday night at the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints. This event had been carefully planned for over three months. People whom Mrs. Knight had not seen in 30 to 40 years were able to attend. Perhaps the one traveling the longest distance was Lloyd Heavil- land, formerly of Detroit, now from St. Joseph, Mo.; also, Mrs. Fred Moore, formerly of Plymouth and now from Ft. Atkinson, Wis. Relatives from New York and Cleveland and Lake Orion were in attendance. R. L. D. S. Pastor, Robert Burger presented her with an orchid corsage from Bartel's at the beginning of the program. Russell Knight, her husband, presented her with 33 roses to symbolize 33 years of marriage.

Letters from California, Florida and one from Japan were received and telegrams were read.

One of Mrs. Knight's interests has been music, and a former pupil of hers, Merva Jean Adams of Plymouth, now Mrs. Larry Graham, was able to be there. At the end of the program, she was presented with the traditional charm bracelet which was made up, at Beitner Jewelers, a gift from her husband, daughter and son. She also received a patchwork quilt, made by Mrs. Zelma Henson, of Xenia, Ill. and presented by the two ladies' circles of the church. The cake, which fed the crowd of 200, was baked by Terry's Bakery.

The script was written by Mrs. Verna Gustavus (a sister to Mona) and Mrs. Twyla Fitch. The Knights have been residents of Plymouth on Brookville Rd. since 1945.

FIGURING THE ANGLERS

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Game and Fish Commission is understandably cautious about introducing new fish into the state's inland waters.

When the commission of 1885 introduced European carp, the fish proved so undesirable that the commission was abolished in the resultant controversy. A new commission was not formed until 1895.

Plymouth Community Fund Agencies

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles about the agencies benefited by the Plymouth Community Fund. This one concerns the Salvation Army, Plymouth-Dental Fund and Junior Police.)

"I don't mind giving, but exactly what is this money used for?" This is a familiar question heard by volunteers who each year contact the public in behalf of the Plymouth Community Fund. With a house-to-house drive being conducted for the first time this year, volunteers can expect to hear the question even more frequently.

For that reason, the citizens who are conducting this year's campaign for over $37,000 are attempting to explain more fully exactly how the agencies sharing in the Fund use the money.

For one thing, an invitation is being extended to all organizations to invite the Community Fund to a meeting to explain the operation of the Fund and its agencies. A film is now being completed that will help the speakers.

income and indigent families. The Corps also provided emergency transportation for 286 persons monthly; made 115 visits to hospitals and institutions (including gift distribution). There were 6,016 adults and 20 young people counseled and helped last year. In addition to the help that can be offered locally, the Salvation Army located in the Eastern Michigan Division offers services to Plymouth people. Available are the Eventide Home, Children's Home, Alcoholic Clinic, Unwed Expectant Mother's Home, Camp Echo Grove, Evangeline Residence, Sheltered Workshop for Men, Women's Emergency Lodge and Maternity Hospital.

All of these services, of course, cannot be financed by "volunteers" of the Corps. The deficit is provided by the Plymouth Community Fund.

Plymouth Dental Fund
People probably know the least about this agency which is to receive $500 this year. This agency was established to offer dental treatment to school children whose families cannot afford it. Administered by school officials with High School Principal Carvel Bentley in charge, the fund last year provided dental care for 17 pupils. This year, so far, 20 students have been treated.

After the dental hygienist determines which students need dental attention, it is found that some children do not visit their dentist. If the school nurse, Mrs. Mary Carless, finds that the child is not being treated because the family cannot afford the care she recommends that the cost be paid from the fund.

Plymouth's dentists have mutually agreed upon set fees for work performed under the Dental Fund.

Junior Police
This organization is nicknamed the Junior Police but is officially the Plymouth Junior Police Rifle and Archery Youth Club. Started some six years ago under the auspices of the City police, the club at that time had a number of activities for youth. But space problems in the city-owned Bronson Building (Central Parking Lot) has limited the activities to the two most popular ones—archery and rifle shooting.

Most boys and many girls at some time have the urge to learn how to shoot rifle, bow and arrow, or both. With Plymouth gradually being surrounded by metropolitan growth, there are few open spaces where rifle and archery can be learned.

The Bronson Building provides both the facilities and the trained instructors for these boys and girls. With the exception of the ammunition used by those in rifle, and their membership in the National Rifle Assn., the program is free. There is an average of 150 boys and girls taking part in the activities at one time.

Many of those in the rifle classes have won distinguished and expert ratings by the National Rifle Assn. and several teams have won state and national honors.

Probably the most remarkable aspect of the program is the faithfulness of the instructors. They work several nights a week without pay and some even purchased supplies from their own pockets until the Community Fund stepped up its support last year. They take groups as far away as Camp Perry, O. for rifle matches.

Invite Bentley Graduates To Homecoming
Graduates of Bentley High School who now live in Plymouth are being invited to attend the annual Homecoming football game and dance this Friday night, Oct. 14.

At 8 p.m. the Bulldogs of Bentley will meet Trenton High School on the George N. Bentley Athletic Field for one of the best league games of the year. Preceding the game at 7:45, Bentley and Trenton will hold a cross country meet on Bentley's new track. Alumni Special Admission Tickets to the game are 50 cents, regular admission is $1.

At half-time the Homecoming Parade will be held with more than ten class and organization floats participating. A new idea at Bentley this year will be the use of port-a-floats. Judging of the floats will be done by Directors of the Bentley High School Alumni Assn. and the trophies will be awarded between the third and fourth quarters. The winning class will receive the old Newburgh School bell to ring the score for future games. The bell will be presented by the Junior Historical Society.

The Homecoming Dance will be held in the gym from 9:30 to 12 and will be the scene of the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. Tickets to the dance will be sold only to Bentley alumni with their membership card for 75 cents per person or $1 per couple. Immediately following the game the Alumni Assn. will have a Homecoming Party for all alumni in the new auditorium wing.

SHE ASKED FOR IT
HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — David Reed, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Reed of Baytown, was taking an aptitude test at Robert E. Lee High School.

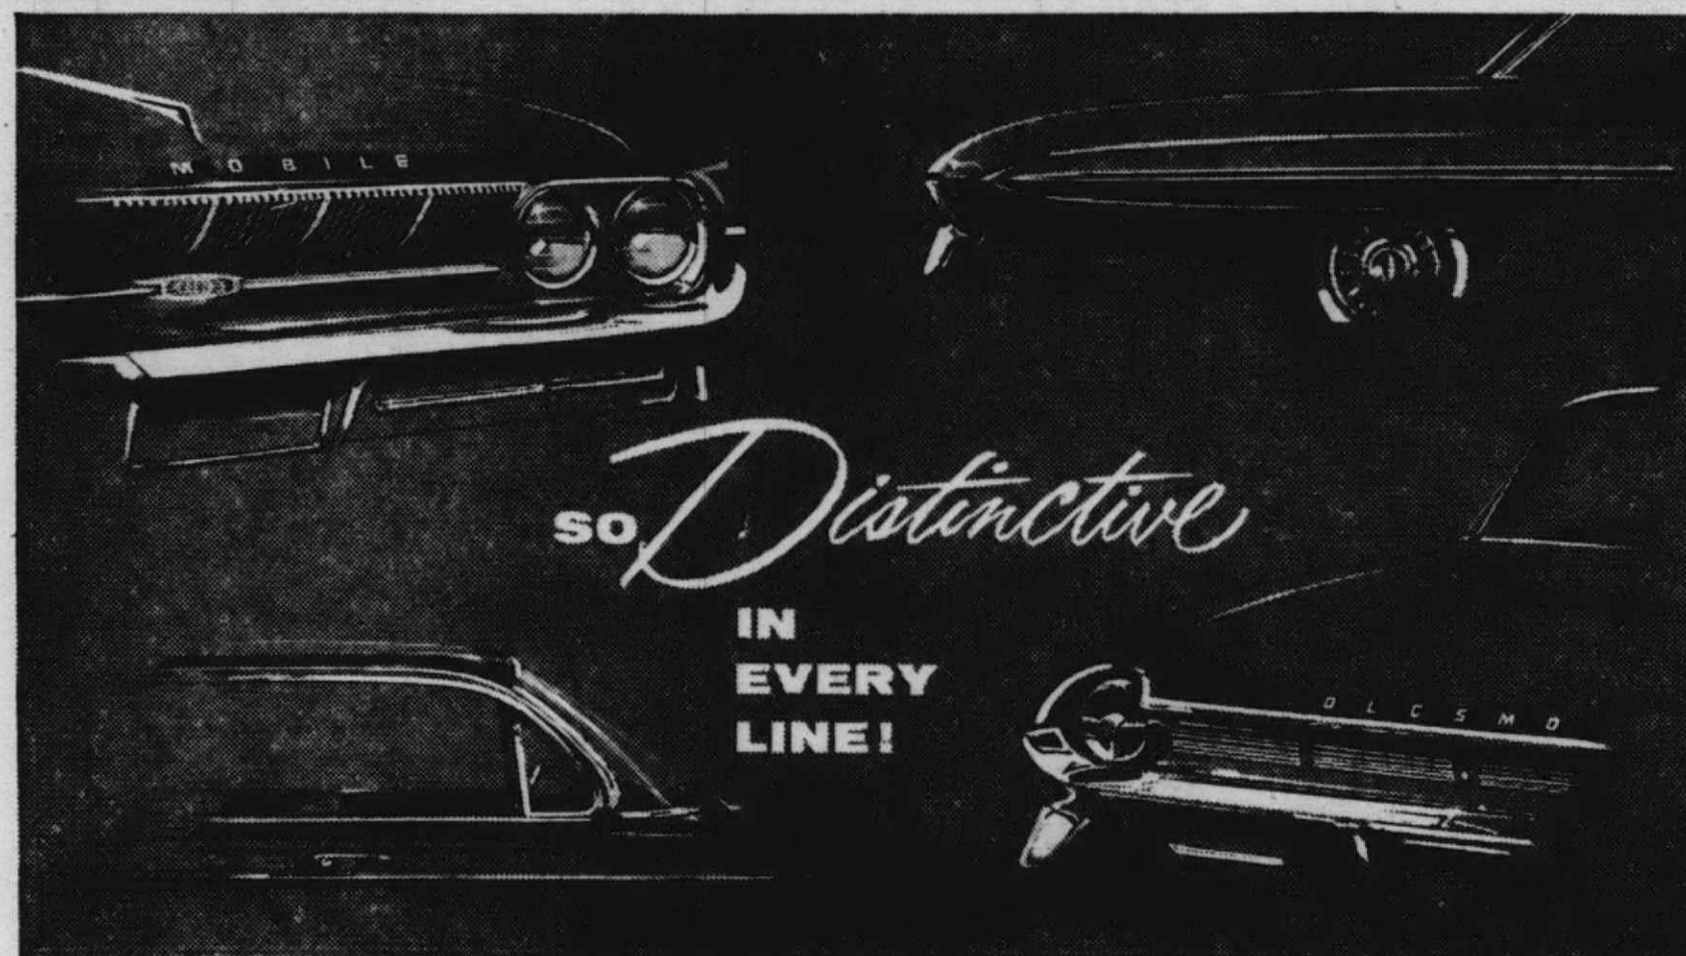

Mrs. Dorothy Willis, who was administering the test, told him "now recite the numbers 'six-two-three' backwards." Without a moment's hesitation, David turned his back on Mrs. Willis and recited, "Six, two, three."

FILMING THE story of the Plymouth Community Fund took the cameraman into the Plymouth Branch of the Michigan Cancer Society and into all of the agencies supported by the Fund.

The short film will be presented before any organization requesting it. Packages in background contain cancer dressings. Burroughs Corp. provided the camera service.

Burroughs Torch Drive Leaders To Hear Talk

A "Torch Drive Family" will address 350 Torch Drive pledge leaders at the Plymouth Division of Burroughs Corp. on Oct. 14.

Mrs. Connie Hall, a member of the United Foundation Speakers' Bureau, will tell her personal story of how Torch Drive supported agencies are aiding her two daughters who were born deaf.

Mrs. Hall's daughters are typical of the one in every three residents in the tri-county area who received aid from the 195 health, welfare and character-building agencies supported by the Torch Drive give - once - for - all funds.

Susan Hall is in her own right a veteran Torch Drive volunteer. She was the official Torch Lighter for the 1955 Torch Drive.

Both of Mrs. Hall's daughters received assistance from Torch Drive agencies. Susan has gained partial hearing with the use of a hearing aid. The Hall family will meet with four groups of Burroughs pledge leaders at 10 a.m., 1:30 p.m., 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Oct. 14.

The official kick-off of the 1960 Torch Drive campaign will be on Oct. 18 and the drive will continue through Nov. 10.

Plymouth Helps Step-Up of Mail Volume

Mail volume in the Plymouth area contributed to a new national record of nearly 64 billion pieces of mail, including a billion pieces of parcel post, during fiscal year 1960 ending last June 30, Postmaster George Timpona said.

Based on advance information from the Annual Report of the Department, which has been made available to Postmaster Timpona, it was revealed that the present day figures represent an increase of 25 percent over the 1953 volume which totaled 50.9 billion pieces.

This increase, along with a sharp discontinuance of mail-carrying trains in recent years, has helped foster a complete revolution in postal transportation including far more extensive use of highway vehicles, he said. Locally, the transportation pattern for Plymouth has changed in the following manner: rural routes have been converted to mounted routes.

In the State of Michigan in June of 1960, 1,486 Government owned postal vehicles were in operation. That compares with 803 in June of 1953. During those years 1,064 new vehicles have been delivered to Michigan Postmasters, 441 vehicles having become obsolete.

Here in Plymouth, it is estimated that the total number of motor vehicle units regularly in operation is approximately 10 as compared with four back in 1953.

DIRECTOR Ford Sutherland and Producer Wanda Sutherland watch rehearsals for the opening fall production of "The Crucible." The Plymouth Theater Guild members look forward to a stimulating season of plays with some of the great playwrights being represented in this year's repertory—Arthur Miller, Phillip Barry, and the authors of "Inherit the Wind." Dr. Ford Sutherland and his wife, Wanda, form a producer-director team that is becoming the popular mode of operation in the Guild. Rehearsals are progressing smoothly and the November opening of the play promises to be an exciting event for Plymouth audiences.

Amazing Field of Aerosols Shoots Off In All Directions

Man's various attempts to propel himself to the moon are big news today, and practically every method is being tried except shooting him in a rocket from an aerosol can. Far-fetched as this may seem, some of the other uses of aerosols today would have seemed just about as "far out" only a few years ago. The uses of aerosols are varied and wonderful, including such specialized applications as a hive spray, for smoking bees out of their honey-laden homes; a skin toughener spray for athletes; and a fish lure spray to make sure that the big one doesn't get away.

Used car dealers these days don't stop at reconditioning the engine and body. They know that most people like that "new car smell," and there's an aerosol deodorant especially produced to impart a new car odor to used automobiles. Displays of fresh or cooked foods, too, have additional smell-attraction when sprayed with aerosol, nostrils and get the mouth-watering process in action.

One of the newest and most ingenious of the aerosols is a weed killer, appropriately named Target, in a pressurized can which shoots a thin stream of 2,4-D base chemical directly at the weed. It has been known for some time that 2,4-D is the most effective chemical formula for killing broad-leaf weeds such as dandelions, plantain, and a host of others, but never before has it been successfully produced in an aerosol can.

The industry defines an aerosol product as any product powered with a compressed liquefied gas propellant, such as the "Freon" propellants. This means that in an aerosol container there is always a reservoir of propellant, some of which is vaporized as the product is dispensed, to maintain a uniform dispensing pressure. Therefore, the product being dispensed always has uniform characteristics and the container completely empties itself.

Some aerosols take the form of a spray, composed of millions of tiny drops that hang in the air for a brief period. This is fine for a room deodorant, for example, but it would be all wrong for a weed killer meant to be used on velvety lawns or near flower beds or vegetable gardens. This is exactly what could and did happen when mixed 2,4-D or some other chemical in solution, transferred to a separate container, and then sprayed the weeds. Larger patches of brown grass appeared on the lawn, and nearby flowers and vegetables perished along with the weeds. Now the down-owner fires a thin stream, not a spray—of the weed killer directly at the offending weed and a white tracer material shows where he's hit the mark.

All this aerosol activity had its beginning during World War II, when the aerosol method of dispensing insecticides was developed to fight malaria-bearing mosquitos in the South Pacific. It would have been hard to visualize weight in expensive aerosol containers, however, from the heavy, expensive steel "bug bombs" of those days.

The original containers for armed forces use were actually converted flood-valve tanks normally used in refrigerators. As millions of these pressure packages were put to work in the tropics, the incidence of malaria skidded downward and morale went up.

By 1951 about 40 products had joined the insecticides in the swing to pressurized packaging, including artificial snow for Christmas trees, and from then until 1958, it seemed that every manufacturer of a product asked one question: "Can it be made in aerosol form?" The six months for aerosol applications at that time — insecticides, room deodorants, shaving creams, hair sprays, surface coatings such as paint, and colognes — had been joined by more than 100 other products by the end of 1958. In that year alone more than 27,000 tons of hair spray units were produced. This figure is now soaring upward especially with the new "beehive," French roll, and other smoother coiffures now in vogue.

and psychologists have advanced many reasons for this, ranging from "a feeling of power" to "a sensation of making magic." Some of the more practical advantages are one-hand application, no spillage or drip, more even distribution, no measuring containers, application cloths and clean-up materials, and no waste from evaporation.

Manufacturers now realize that the novelty value of putting a product in aerosol is not enough. Today's sophisticated buyer may buy a product in aerosol once "for kicks," but he will continue to use the product only if it gives him added convenience and efficiency. Fortunately, this is true in most cases.

What can we look for from aerosols in the future? One authority states, as an example, that "almost every conceivable type of toiletry will eventually appear in pressurized form," and specifically mentions face powders, lipsticks, hair dyes and waving preparations. Estimates of total production in the aerosol field of up to 2 billion units (packages) per year are forecast. It has been suggested more than once that food for future space travelers may have to be dispensed in aerosol form direct to the planet-bound consumer (right into his mouth), because it may be impossible to manage food from a plate in weightless space flight. At any rate, it seems that the aerosol age—the age of convenience — is here to stay.

Educators Again Favor Homework

Required homework, which in recent years has been out of favor among some educational groups, is back in favor, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

An item in the Schools and Colleges column reports a shift of opinion among educators, who recently have asserted that homework contributes little to academic achievement, especially for children in the elementary grades. Now, according to the column, an exhaustive review reports these findings:

—Experiments show that regularly assigned homework does favor higher academic achievement. And homework in elementary grades affects high school performance, for study techniques and attitudes are set very early in a child's school career.

—Arguments that homework may have bad psychological effects are not supported by research. In fact, children "may feel more secure and better oriented in the classroom when they are doing regular homework."

—Research indicates that required homework should be reinstated in the elementary schools and should be smoothly graduated from a token five-minute or so assignment in the first grade to about two or three hours a night in high school.

—Parents should be expected to provide good conditions for home study, and their general interest and supervision (but not specific help) should be welcomed.

NOW! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONE DERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear — the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher — just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

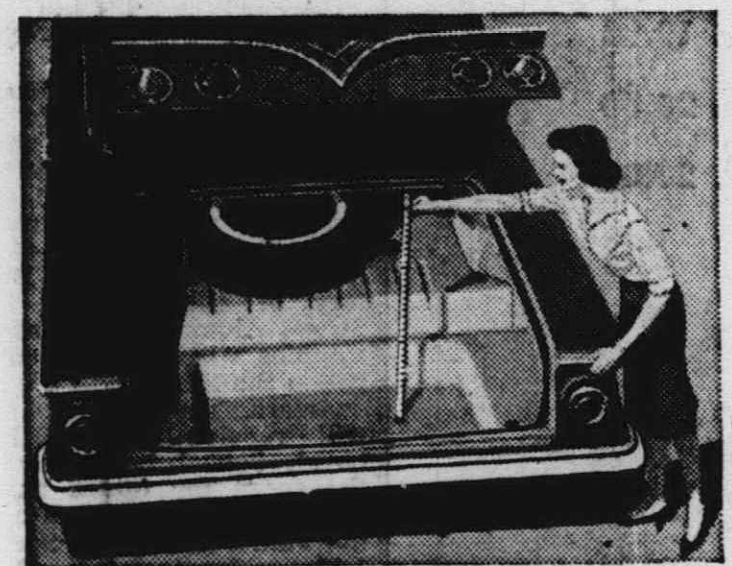

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevrolets of all. The front door entrance height is nearly 2 inches higher.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a cave-sized cargo opening nearly 5 feet across.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your money's worth.

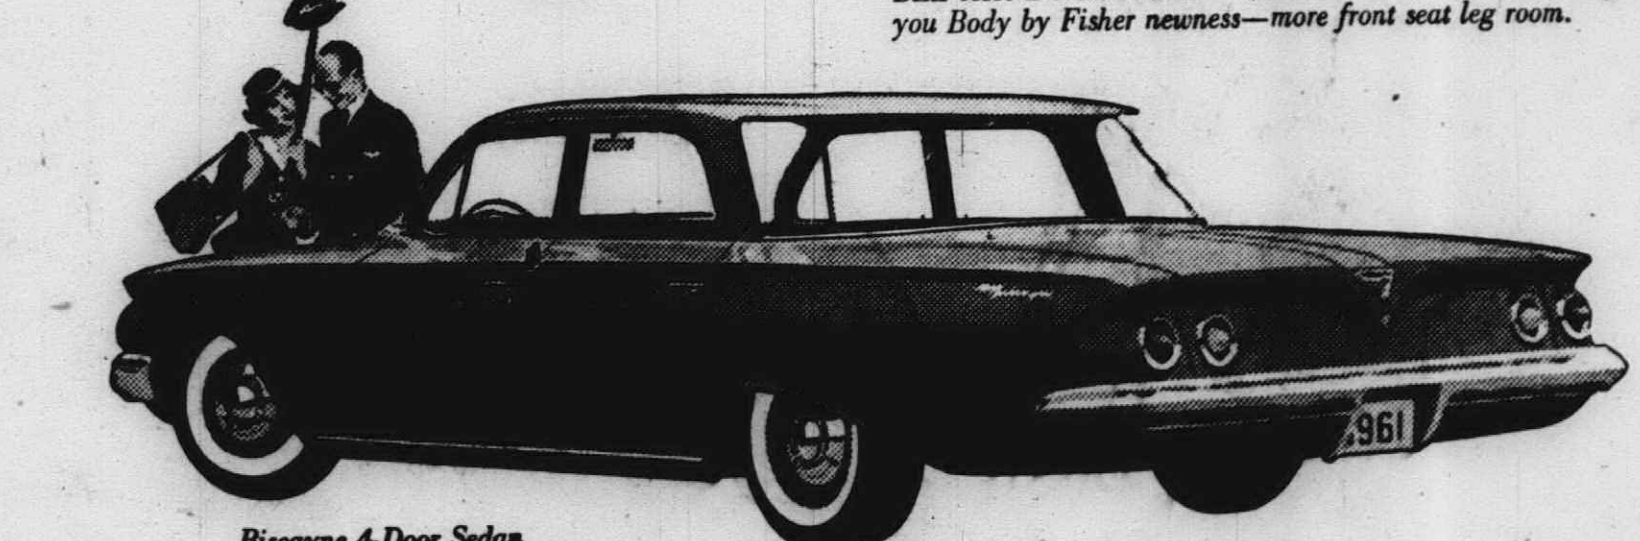

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10 1/4 inches lower.

INTRODUCING THE '61 CHEVY BISCAYNE 6

the lowest priced full-sized Chevy with big-car comfort at small-car prices!
Chevy's new '61 Biscaynes—6 or V8—give you a full measure of Chevrolet quality, roominess and proved performance—yet they're priced down with many cars that give you a lot less!

BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN, like all '61 Chevrolets, brings you Body by Fisher newness—more front seat leg room.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Name That Name

Mrs. Wilkens, our kindergarten teacher, told me this one about her first day of class. "To get acquainted with the new children," she said, "I go around the classroom and ask them to recite their names." "What's your name?" I asked one little boy, "Freddie," was the reply. "You mean Frederick," I said. "We use only our proper names in class." So when I asked the next little boy what his name was, he stood up proudly and answered, "Boberick, ma'am!"

From where I sit, Bobby reminds me of folks who think what's right for one must be right for another. For instance, my neighbor used to scoff at my having a good glass of beer with supper. He believed that only coffee was proper. Truth is, a mealtime beverage, like most other things, is purely a matter of personal preference. When we can respect the other fellow's opinion as well as our own, we'll have passed the first "lesson" in tolerance.

Budgeting Time Can Ease Up School Load

EL MONTE, Calif. (UPI)—Having a tough time with your high school studies? Success may come much easier than you think.

Jack Salyers, superintendent of the El Monte Union High School District, holds that good grades are the result of planning, careful budgeting of time and knowing how to listen.

Salyers outlined a few items on how to become a successful high school student. Try them. The results may even surprise you!

—Budget your after-school hours. Make a chart, leaving a space for each free hour. Then schedule your time between study, sports, hobbies, outside reading and social activities. Don't allow interruptions during study periods.

—Train yourself to be a good listener. When your mind starts to wander in class, try listening for information you can use from what is being said — facts that will help you understand information that is not in your textbooks.

—Make use of all of your time. Study on the bus and keep flash cards in your pocket for studying French verbs, chemical formulas or history dates while you stand in line or eat lunch.

—Study in an organized way. Don't just plunge in and wade through the heavy material in your textbook. First read the summary of the chapter's contents. Then read headings and subheadings throughout the chapter. If you know where the chapter is going, your concentrated study will roll along more smoothly.

—Do something above and beyond the call of duty. Read a short story in a foreign language or do the learning. Like math? Try a paperback of mathematics puzzles and problems. Read outside articles about your favorite subject — whether it's biology or history.

—Tough assignment? Give yourself a reward for doing it. When you have a difficult problem, promise yourself a trip to the local hamburger heaven, or let yourself watch a television program when you are finished.

—Take an active part in classroom discussions. If you are not particularly interested — but know you must get passing marks in it — chime in on classroom discussions. Interest, and good grades, will come. Try it and see.

TIPS FOR TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: I have family troubles. I am 14 and my father is 63. Every time I have my friends come to my house, he always embarrasses me by telling them they aren't welcome and never to come back. I have lost many friends that way. What can I do?"

Ans.—You really do need help—and fast. Do you know why your father tells your friends that they aren't welcome? Because they include boys? Because he doesn't approve of them? Is he in poor health? It's a serious thing for a 14-year-old not to be able to have fun with friends at home ... that's one thing that can lead to trouble outside the home. Try to get an adult your father respects—a relative, friend, faculty advisor or clergyman—to talk to him and show him what a mistake this is. After all, it's your home, too. He should compromise, allowing you to have friends come at certain times when it's least likely to bother him ... girls could spend the time in your room with you; when boys are in the group, you can have fun in the kitchen or dining room, if necessary.

Q.—"Dear Elinor: Is it proper for a girl to invite a boy to a dance over the telephone if she doesn't have enough nerve to do it during school? Should the girl provide the transportation?"

Ans.—Yes, it is all right to invite him on the telephone. Sometimes it's easier to talk on the telephone if you're shy. When a girl invites a boy, he is her guest, so she should provide transportation (besides buying the tickets), unless the boy offers to do it.

SHOW ON WORTH! CHEVROLET

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR More space... more spunk and wagons, too!

The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans it has a longer range fuel tank.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its Body by Fisher.

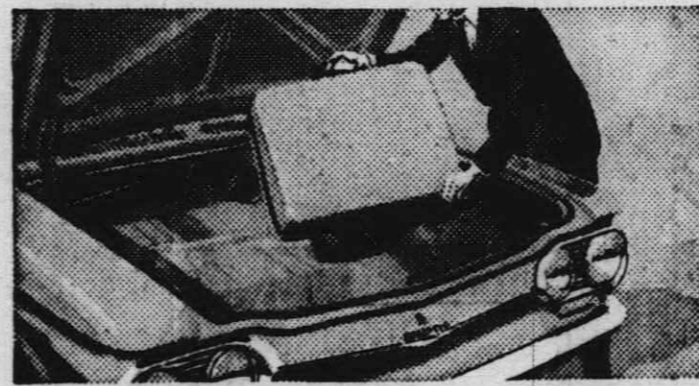

Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrift cars.

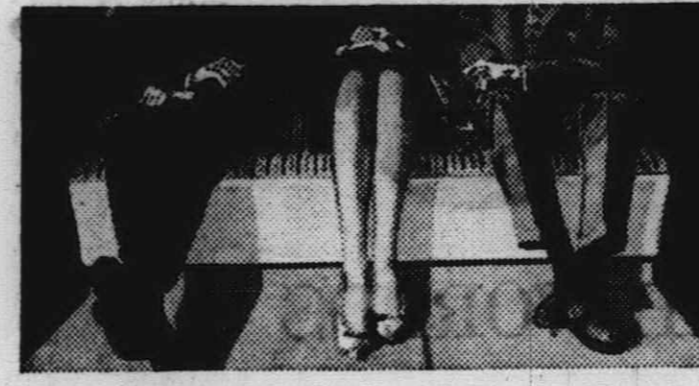

To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon ... quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner ... a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everybody evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have nearly 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things. Compare that with any other U.S. wagon going!

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Spare tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room for people and things as ordinary wagons (shown with optional-at-extra-cost third seat in position).

Solution for Retirement

As we remember it when we were a boy, anyone who was "retired" was quite a curiosity.

But now, all of a sudden, we seem to be up to our elbows in "senior citizens." Sixteen million Americans are now over 65, and what with the doctors keeping us going longer and longer and more and more employers making retirement mandatory...

Already the Council has come up with a new, low-cost, non-cancellable group plan of surgical and medical insurance for the community that requires no examination and recognizes no age limit...

More power to the Council in its studies on applying the hitherto underestimated energy of the retirement set and supplying that sense of accomplishment so sorely missed when others take over.

Retirement should be just a new kind of job—not idleness.

Dear Dan: I read your column every week and have been helped many times but now I have a question concerning a recent letter...

Dear Dan: Evertime I go to visit my girl her mother drops whatever she's doing and comes and sits in the living room with us...

Dear Miss Williams: My writing varies almost every day. Does this mean I'm an inconsistent person? I seem to have more faults than virtues...

Dear Dan: Is there anything wrong with a girl wearing a false pony tail? To hear my mother talk, you'd think I was committing a crime...

Dear Nora: Of course, there's nothing wrong with a pony tail but personally, don't you think you could invest your money into something a little more worthwhile?

All About BABIES

By Mary K. Macdonald, R.N. Professional Baby Counselor Collingswood, N. J.

Listening to baby gurgle, seeing the miracle of that first smile, observing baby's response to the marvels of a strange new world — all of these can be sources of wonder and excitement for the young mother.

Too often, however, the new mother in an unfamiliar role, finds she has a fussy baby on her hands. The unnecessary fears and tensions that result are enough to spoil any enjoyment she might otherwise get from her offspring.

Experienced mothers know that a baby who is physically comfortable and receives a full measure of love and tenderness, will be a happy baby. By observing a few simple rules designed to promote baby's physical comfort and provide the sense of security baby needs, the new and inexperienced mother can spare herself many hours of anxiety.

1. Sleep is important to the new infant. The mattress should be firm, bedding smooth and well tucked in, covers light and loose to allow free movement.

2. Before baby can move about in his bed by himself, change his position frequently.

3. Keep the temperature in baby's room as even as possible, between 70 and 75 degrees.

4. Baby's room should be well ventilated but never drafty.

5. Diapers should be soft, absorbent and non-irritating. Even carefully laundered diapers may irritate baby's delicate skin unless all soap has been removed by repeated rinsings. Diaper services guard against this by an elaborate rinsing process and by impregnating the diaper with special antiseptics to help lessen the chances of diaper rash.

6. Make sure baby is always in a clean dry diaper. Cleanse the skin carefully with each change.

7. Don't overdress baby, indoors or out.

8. Try not to take baby outdoors when the weather is windy or damp. In winter, dress baby warmly, covering his hands and ears but not his face.

9. Let your baby feel that everything you do for him is a pleasure to you — never an unpleasant chore.

10. Play with baby when he's fully awake, after his nap or before his bath. Talk to him, fondle him, rock him in your arms. During the first few weeks, you can't spoil him with too much love.

Remember that your moods, whether gay, tense or depressed, affect your baby's moods.

Jerry Seibert Says...

Are You a Pusher-Upper?

What is your "glasses type?" If you are one of the three out of four women in America who wear glasses chances are you have one or more of these well known mannerisms.

The "hinge-fiddler" (adjusts glasses by pushing up at hinge point), "fold-and-hold" (uses glasses to make conversational points), "twirler" (swings glasses round and round ... makes others feel jumpy), "nibbler" (chews daintily on frames to denote deep thought), "flirty" (pushes glasses up, glances sideways ... often at gentleman friend), "slant-eyed" (pulls up corner of lid ... the better to see you), "nose-pusher" (adjusts sliding glasses by pushing up nose piece), "Miss Squint" (tries to cope without her glasses ... peers helplessly from under lids), "pusher-upper" (shoves glasses up when not in use ... great if hairdo cooperates).

The idea is not to break yourself of all glasses mannerisms, but to use only those that are fetching. Nibbling, for instance, has got to go. Ditto glasses-twirling, and pulling at the corners of the eye to improve vision. Pushing up glasses that keep sliding down the nose can look cute—but it makes more sense to have the glasses properly fitted. The on-again off-again approach can be effective but the effect is strong, masculine. Watch it. Cricket for girls: peeping over the rims; pushing glasses up on top of head ... as long as hair behaves.

According to the American Optical Co., one of the nation's oldest manufacturers of optical wear, about 42,001,919 American women now wear glasses. So if you wear glasses you're hardly a lone. Wearing glasses no longer labels you a prim, studious type. 1960 approach: any girl who needs glasses is the prettier for wearing them. By correcting vision they eliminate such problems as tired-looking eyes, tense face and squint lines.

Often the difference between being attractive or plain in glasses is merely the difference in frames. When selecting frames remember "Flattery will get you somewhere!" Never buy frames simply because you think they are attractive—the important thing is that they be attractive on you. There is a right shape to enhance every face type. Study frames on your face until you find the most becoming.

Rimless glasses can age you ten years in two seconds. Glasses without frames seem like magnifying glasses placed over every eye-wrinkle, puff or dark circle.

For the same reason be sure your eyelashes are mascaraed cleanly and evenly and your eye shadow blended to a soft smoothness. Don't let your lens magnify a streaky, careless application.

Consider your glasses as an accessory ... plan jewelry around them. Don't load on dangle earrings, tricky barrettes and elaborate chokers, too.

Watch out for too fluffy hair styles. Lots of fussy curls close to your face can look "too busy." Ditto, bangs that hang down close to frames.

But be equally careful about hair yanked straight back in a pony-tail, French twist, or coronet braids. They can all look old-maidish with glasses. (With dark glasses—at the beach—ah, that's another story.)

Football Parties For Teenagers

BY ROSELLA M. BANNISTER

Wayne County Extension Agent, Home Economics

October is football season—and football season brings crisp breezes, hearty appetites, and much talk of teenage entertaining.

Food and football parties make a winning team, so why not have the crowd in for a pre-game supper? If you want a lesson in successful entertaining, watch a group of teenagers turn an ordinary event into a "real cool party." Teenagers know the trick of having fun at their own parties—by using the easy-does-it approach.

Whether you are a first timer or an old hand at entertaining, it's a good idea to make a few plans before the crowd gathers. Here is a check list for you:

1. Decide how much you can spend.
2. Set the party time and date.
3. Select and invite the guests.
4. Plan the menu and the market order.
5. Plan the decorations.
6. Try all recipes before serving them to guests.

7. Make a list of things to be done days before the party, hours before, just before, during, and after the party.

Now for the menu—the first rule is to keep it simple. You may want to start with a hot creamed soup served in mugs for easy drinking. The trick in party menu planning is to do something unusual with the old standbys. For example, to glorify a frankfurter, slit the franks, stuff them with grated cheese and broil them for five minutes. Kabobs, hamburgers, sloppy joes and pizzas are also popular party fare.

With the main course, serve a tossed green salad, or a crisp raw vegetable tray. For dessert, maybe Mom will bake an apple pie, a pan of brownies, or hot gingerbread.

Yellow mums and miniature footballs will make a fine centerpiece for the party table, then you can take the centerpiece with you to the football game.

Broadway brightened a bit this week. The first hit of the new season was established by those seven serious men of the theater—the critics. Walter Kerr of the New York Herald Tribune had a few reservations, but generally he found "Irma La Douce" to be highly entertaining. You'll be hearing the songs on the local juke-boxes and over the video-lanes in the months to come. There is even promise of a touring company for next season.

"Irma La Douce" is an unusual musical comedy. There is only one girl in the all-male cast of 17. Irma, as played by Elizabeth Seal, captivated all the critics. As a result the business at the box office has been brisk. "Irma La Douce" tells the happy tale of a poule and several mecs. If you brush up on your French, you'll soon discover that this musical meanders down some pretty wild Paris streets. The plot of this first Broadway hit would make a Brigette Bardot movie seem like "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

I'm quite certain you'll find quality-type entertainment this Sunday on tap at the Plymouth High School auditorium when the Symphony Orchestra presents their opening fall concert. Wayne Dunlap, out of the hospital and ready to wave a vigorous baton, informs old George that this opening concert will get the Plymouth Symphony season off to a rousing start. Hope we see everyone out on Sunday at 4 p.m.

Ran across an item in Variety, the authoritative guide to what's going on in the show world, indicating that "Psycho," the Alfred Hitchcock thriller, has already grossed close to 10 million dollars. Alfred made this spine-chiller in 17 days. Here's the best part: Hitchcock financed the picture and demanded 60 percent of the net profits as his share. All the financial wizards along Hollywood row predict that his share could go as high as five or six million dollars. Now that's pretty fancy stabling money for a country boy.

Best news of the week came via a lead story in the Detroit News. Dave Nederlander is moving his theatrical business from the Shubert and Riviera theaters to the Fisher Theater in the New Center area of Detroit. The Fisher Theater is on Second Ave. just off of Grand Blvd. It's a perfect location with scads of parking places. No downtown traffic to fight and closer to the suburbs. All this plus a million dollar renovation of the already almost-perfect Fisher Theater. Acoustics will be improved. Seating, the latest, will be installed. In short, the place is going to be "tops" for New York shows that play here. We doff our hats to Mr. Nederlander for such a move. He even promises free coffee out in the lobby at intermission time. Let's hope he keeps this promise. Of course, it's an election year and he might just be trying to be stylist with such wild visions.

Speaking of politics and world events reminds old George of the UN sessions. All the drama in New York City won't be found in the theaters these days. There's plenty of conflict on the streets and in the UN building. What bothers me is with all these Communist leaders over here—who's watching the store? It's my contention that Mr. K is not going to go home until they admit Disneyland to the UN.

"Raisin In The Sun" moves into the Cass Theater on Monday, Oct. 17. Claudia McNeill and the original Broadway cast will be here to give you a good idea of why this play ran for over 400 performances in New York. "Raisin" received the New York Drama Critics award as the best play of the year. This award isn't won every year by a playwright so young. Miss Hansberry, who wrote "Raisin" when she was 26 years old, is married to a dentist and had the good fortune to pen a hit the first time out. I've read the play and it's hard to believe that a young gal could write a play packed with so much vitality and force. You can't go wrong purchasing a ticket for "Raisin In The Sun." It will be at the Cass Theater for only two weeks.

The TV screen has been improving. The spritely, fast-moving revue on last Sunday entitled "Hooray for Love" had all the qualities needed for a pleasant hour's viewing. Tony Randall and Jane Powell, Art Carney and Alice Ghostley, Ken Moore and Janis Paige formed the sexy sextet that sang, danced and did sketches that satirize our approach to romance. Production on this show was top-level and showed the creative touch of the producer, David Susskind. Dialogue throughout was adult, well-written and refreshing. The satire on the foreign films, "Strange Strawberries" was a classic.

Susskind's influence was clearly seen in the "Play of the Week" production of Chekhov's "The Cherry Orchard." Helen Hayes and all-star cast did an admirable job of translating Chekhov's difficult play into a meaningful TV drama. No doubt, many who stayed up late on Saturday (11 p.m. to 1 a.m.) to view this somber Russian drama were a bit puzzled. Chekhov compares in many ways with Shakespeare—at least, in this respect: you have to see and hear a Chekhov play a few times before a great deal of it makes sense. Some of those writers of yesteryear took little pains to make their points obvious. They expected you to think—an almost lost art in this space age.

I'm sure that if you tune to "The Play of the Week" on Channel 7 this week at 11 p.m., you'll be viewing a comedy that will have little trouble communicating its message. The show is "The Waltz of the Toreadors" and stars Hugh Griffith. Old George promises you'll get a laugh or two out of this delightful comedy. There I go "promising". Must be that as we get closer to November all of us have caught a bit of the politician's occupational disease.

Cadillac

The unmistakable stamp of Greatness!

In commerce, as in art, it is rare indeed that a creation emerges so inspired in concept and so flawless in execution that it is destined, at the outset, for certain greatness.

And yet, it seems not too soon to say that the Cadillac car of 1961 will take its place among the most memorable achievements of the automotive craft.

Its clean, classic form introduces a new look for the world's motor cars to emulate. There's a new proportion of glass to steel... a new "oneness" of contour and shape... a new relationship of interior to silhouette.

Inside, the story is equally remarkable. Here is new roominess in every dimension. Head room, seat height, and entrance room, for example, have been notably increased with impressive results in greater comfort and luxury for driver and passengers.

And as its beauty is... so its performance does—incredibly nimble and quick... smooth and floating... quiet and obedient.

Cadillac's new engine is the very essence of controlled power... steering is feather light and sure... and Cadillac's new ride seems to make the roadway literally vanish beneath the wheels.

This is one car you must see and drive for yourself. The facts are simply too numerous and too exciting to accept second hand.

It's the 1961 Cadillac—and we know that you'll agree that true greatness is written all over it.

"And Was It Rough..."

"You say you had troubles in the old days. Well, lemme tell you about myself. I really was in tough shape. I couldn't sell lemonade for two cents, I didn't have any pop bottles to turn in, and I couldn't borrow any more from my Daddy. I didn't know where my next ice cream cone was coming from. Then I tried the want ads. Quick-like-a-flash, I was rich. There went Mommy's white hat, and Daddy's pipe, and my big bruver's tricycle. I was a zillionaire. But they caught up with me. They put me on an allowance. Oh well . . . It's a living."
