

Mailing Firm Buys Daisy Plant

Empty Building Comes to Life!

The long-sleeping former Daisy Manufacturing plant will hum to life once again in Plymouth as it becomes the new headquarters for Distribution Service, Inc., an organization that distributes automotive training and promotional materials all over the world.

Announcement of the purchase was made Monday night as 35 members of the corporation, City officials and representatives of business and the Chamber of Commerce gathered at a dinner at the Mayflower Hotel.

The large distribution organization formerly operated two separate plants, one in Southfield and one in Oak Park. Now, all distributing activities will be brought together in multiple buildings of the Daisy Plant. The firm is three years old.

The two former plants will be maintained temporarily until all operations can be transferred to Plymouth.

According to William C. Scott, president of the firm, most of the 75 people composing the major staff will move here. During certain times of the year, a larger number of people is needed.

Distribution Service, Inc., which is more familiarly known as D.S.I., distributes automotive training and promotional materials, as well as a host of diverse items for industrial, retail, wholesale and public service accounts.

The many buildings in the Daisy complex provide an ideal situation for distributing separate items in separate buildings while still providing a single base for management of the operation.

The combined Daisy buildings offer more than 120,000 square feet of floor space, compared to the total of 56,000 square feet which D.S.I. had available in its two previous plants. The move to Plymouth will permit a large expansion of individual D.S.I. operations.

D.S.I. will add greatly to its present capacity to handle hundreds of thousands of individual shipments a day — amounting to millions of articles shipped yearly.

The move of Distribution Service to Plymouth has long been in the negotiation stage. The original conversations were initiated over a year ago by Harold Guenther, then mayor of Plymouth.

Guenther made an address of welcome to the D.S.I. executives at Monday night's announcement dinner. "We are getting more than just a plant," he declared. "We are getting people who are becoming a part of the community."

The firm's president, William C. Scott, said in his talk that he had been a "small town fellow" and that he, his sons and many of his staff plan to move here immediately. One son, William P. Scott, is managing director of D.S.I. and another son, John, is a sales manager.

"I believe Plymouth still offers the opportunity for individualism that has been lost in so many places in America," Scott told the audience. He also predicted growth of the firm in its new facilities.

Movement of the plant here was spurred by the newly-formed Plymouth Community Industrial Development Co. which is an outgrowth of the Economic Development Committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The Plymouth Community Industrial Development Co. put up money that it hopes to use in aiding several firms in purchasing vacant industrial buildings.

Frank Arlen, who is working part-time for the Chamber of Commerce on industrial development, was toastmaster at the Monday dinner.

The Daisy plant has been idle since May 1959 after Daisy moved to Rogers, Ark. The air rifle and toy-making plant had been in Plymouth 70 years and employed over 600 at the time of its move.

The local labor market is considered excellent for the D.S.I. type of operation. Post office facilities are also well suited to the dynamic requirements of the large distribution business.

Railroad facilities feed right into the Plymouth plant, while main highways are readily accessible for truck and car transportation. The major metropolitan airports are within easy distance of the Plymouth plant.

"Thus, the Plymouth move gives D.S.I. an outstanding opportunity to serve its clients better," D.S.I. officials said.

The plant will be completely renovated to house the new operation. Pressure heating will be installed throughout the plant. This will help make possible dust-free working and storage areas. A fire-protection sprinkler system of the most modern type will be extended through the plant.

Office areas will be refurbished to provide modern executive offices, conference and planning rooms. A large-size lunch room and the latest in employee recreational facilities will be installed.

One of the most important features of the new D.S.I. headquarters will be the spacious new room for electronic data processing and tabulating equipment.

The new D.S.I. plant is ideally suited to the needs of distributing materials, its owners state. There are many loading and unloading facilities, all at ground level. Additional modern facilities will be added to expedite the fast handling of materials.

The large floor area and many roofs permits the separation of receiving, handling, storing, assembly and shipping activities.

In the new plant, a mailing job can come in one building, be stored in another building, or can be relayed to a specific production line for assembling into shipping packages, and then shipped from still (Continued on page 12)

Safe, Stay-at-Home Holiday Festivities Ready for Plymouth

Five-Day Celebration Opens this Friday

Uncle Sam's 185th birthday will mean another big weekend in Plymouth where the Junior Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor a long schedule of events highlighted by a musical revue and Miss Plymouth contest this Saturday night and a parade and fireworks on July 4th.

For a decade now, Independence Day has been a major celebration in Plymouth. The long parade down Main St. annually attracts thousands from the area. The event is planned to keep residents safely in their own home town instead of on the highway.

The celebration will open this Friday at 5 p.m. when a carnival opens its five-day stay in Plymouth. The carnival grounds, which will be the center of much of the celebration's activity, are located on Mill St. (Lilley Rd.), just north of Ann Arbor Rd. Hours of the carnival will be from 5 to 11 p.m. Friday and from (Continued on page 12)

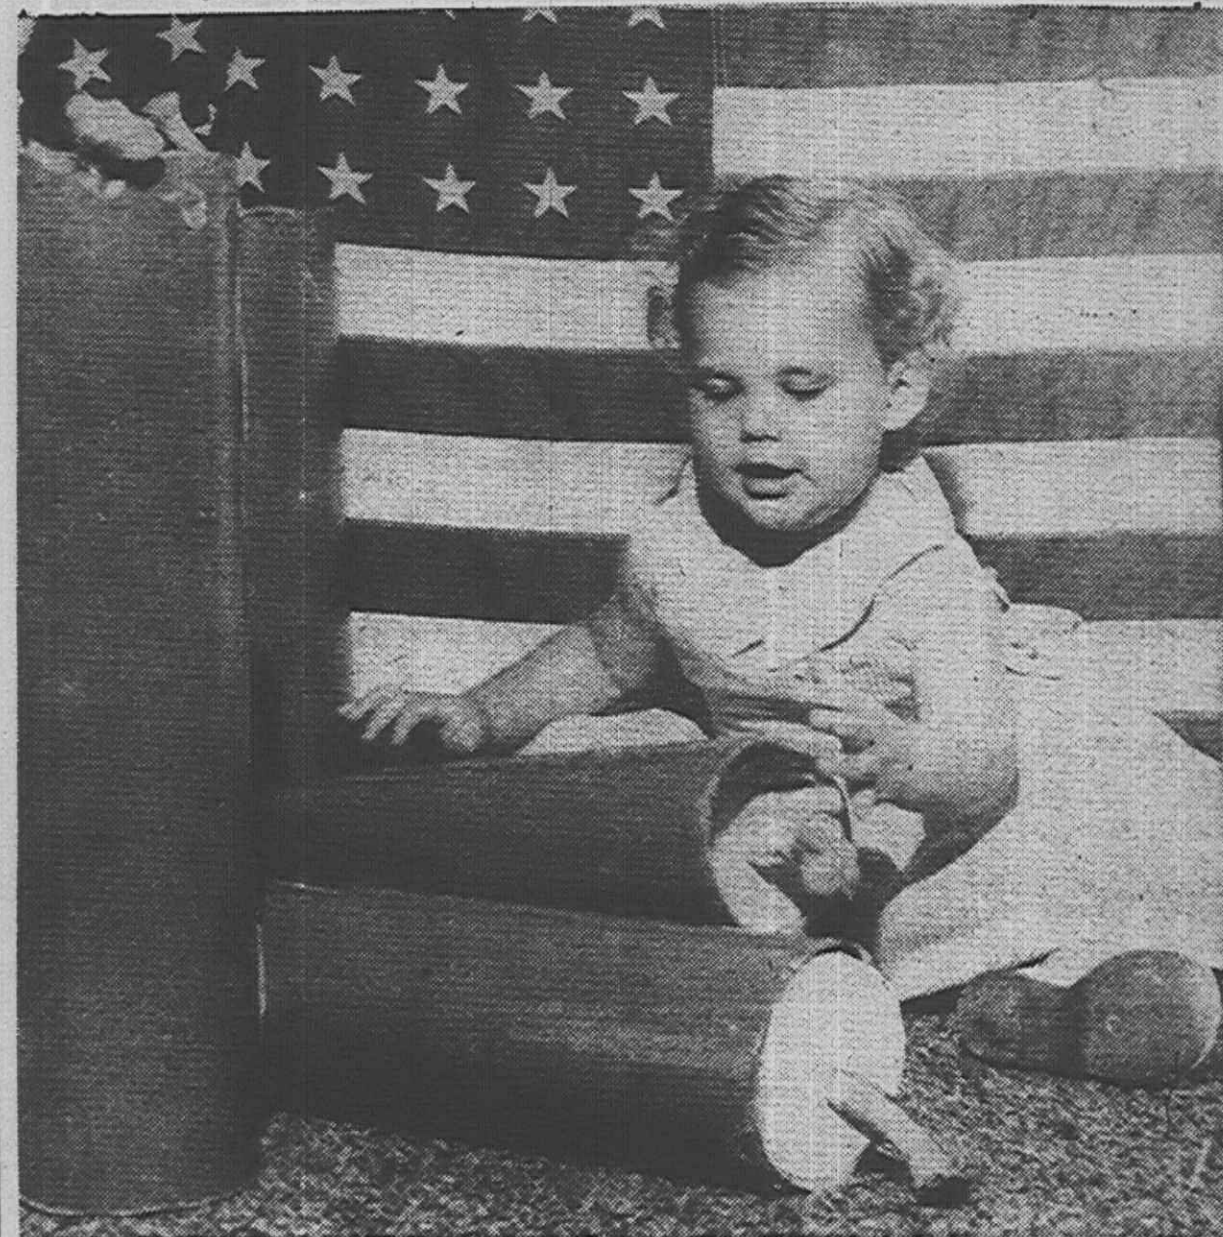

Governor To Make Visit Here

Governor John B. Swainson will return to his hometown of Plymouth next Monday for a Governor's Day luncheon held in conjunction with the Independence Day celebration.

The public is invited to attend the luncheon that starts at 1 p.m. at the Mayflower Hotel. Reservations should be made now with hotel manager Ralph Lorenz.

The governor is returning from a Governor's Convention in Hawaii Sunday and will begin his holiday swing through the state here. Michigan's governor has traditionally been a guest at the Independence Day festivities but the schedule this year makes it impossible for the (Continued on page 12)

CELEBRATING Uncle Sam's 185th birthday in a big way this July 4th will be Tammy Sue Crespo, 1½-year-old miss who has never seen fireworks—let alone ones this huge. But Tammy and other Plymouth children will be observing the Fourth safely this year by watching a parade and participating in other activities planned by the Jaycees. Fireworks will be touched off at 10 p.m. Tammy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmelo Crespo, 620 Parkview Dr. Mr. Crespo is a High School teacher.

Early Copy Please

Because of the July 4th holiday, next week's deadlines for news and advertising have been advanced 24 hours. Advertisers and contributors of other materials are requested to submit copy as early as possible.

The deadline for classified and display advertising is 1 p.m. Saturday. Classified advertisements placed on Monday will be listed in our "Too Late to Classify" columns.

Readers will receive their newspapers at the usual time.

College Back On Ballot

A joint meeting of the Plymouth, Clarencville, Garden City and Livonia Boards of Education Monday night brought agreement to submit a new proposal on Tuesday, Oct. 17 to form a Northwest Wayne County Community College district.

The earlier proposal to form a larger district made up of four districts plus Redford Union and South Redford was rejected June 12 by voters in the two Redford Township school districts.

Monday night's meeting was held in the college's office located in the old Newburg School in Livonia.

The per-capita valuation of the proposed district is slightly improved by reducing the size of the district, the executive committee reported to the boards. Redford Union and South Redford had 29 per cent of the valuation and 33 per cent of the population of the originally proposed college district.

The four school districts which now propose to form a Community College District have a population of 145,000 and a valuation of $478 million. The voters of these four school districts favored the original college proposal by margins of from 2 to 1 to as much as 8 to 1.

Merchants Go Steer-Crazy

Some real steer-crazy bargains are being offered by Plymouth merchants this Thursday, Friday and Saturday as they stage a special promotion to aid the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Clerks will be wearing chefs' aprons during the three-day sale. The special sale items are found on a page in this issue.

On Friday night from 7 to 9, "T-Bone McAn" will be on Main St. in front of Davis & Lentz.

"T-Bone" will "talk" with youngsters passing by and free tickets to carnival rides will be given.

Community Fund Sets Sights on $44,347

A campaign goal of $44,347.45 has been set for the 1961 Plymouth Community Fund drive with Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister re-appointed to lead the fall effort.

The goal was established at a meeting last week of the Board of Directors of the Community Fund.

One new agency has been added to the list. It is the Senior Citizens Club, which has been allotted $780 for 1962. Senior Citizens is a new organization formed for Plymouth's elderly citizens. The sum given to the club will go toward paying rent at its new location, the Masonic Temple.

The new goal is less than the amount raised last year. Last year the goal was $37,053, but $45,000 was raised in the highly-successful drive.

Since then, the Community Fund has allocated additional amounts to the Visiting Nurse Assn., Boy Scouts, Girl location is made.

According to Hugh Griffin, president of the Board of Directors, when shrinkage (pledges not fulfilled) and expenses needed to operate the Community Fund were taken into account, the Fund is actually forecasting a slight deficit for 1961.

"The Board has tried to meet the needs of the 11 local (Continued on page 4)

Principal Named For Bird School

Appointment of Glen R. Williams, fifth grade teacher at Farrand Elementary School, as the new principal of Bird Elementary School has been approved by the Board of Education.

He will succeed Mrs. Nancy Tanger, who resigned as principal after completing 34 years as a teacher and administrator in the Plymouth school system. Mrs. Tanger's resignation and the appointment of the new principal will become official July 1.

Williams, 32, has been a teacher at Farrand School since February. He began his teaching in the Utica Elementary School in 1955. After two years, he went to Ypsilanti where he supervised student teachers for Eastern Michigan University at Lincoln Consolidated School. From September 1960 until his appointment here he was with the Central Michigan University Educational Television Council for which he prepared and taught science lessons on television.

Williams received his bachelor of science degree at Central Michigan in 1955 and his master of arts degree from the University of Michigan in 1957. He also has 23 graduate semester hours of work (Continued on page 12)

Retired Minister Not Retired at All At 70, He Graduates Again

By Jean Campau For William Perkins, 1440 W. Ann Arbor Trail, two years of study and work ended last Thursday night when he donned a cap and gown and joined 1,700 other students who received diplomas at Wayne State University.

The story might not be so exceptional — except that Mr. Perkins, who received a master's degree in social work, is 70 years old!

But being the subject of news copy is not a unique or new experience to Mr. Perkins, for over the past 35 to 40 years he has been attracting local and national attention. Before his life's course became clear at New Year's Eve Watch Night services, the Kansas farm boy had turned his hand to many ventures. He had been a semi-professional baseball player, worked in a foundry, served four years in the Navy prior to World War I and played the summer Chautauqua circuit as a clarinetist to help pay his way through Albion College.

He graduated from Boston Theological Seminary in 1923, following his decision to enter the ministry.

From then on the difficult and impossible obstacles became only challenges to this quiet, energetic man. His first pastorate was the Methodist Church in Hudson, Mich. During his eight years there he was responsible for reopening several outlying churches and carried out a cultural and educational program in ten town and country schools for which he received national recognition.

When he arrived at Cass Community Church in Detroit, his next assignment, he found indifference and hostility toward the church as well as poverty and need. The indefatigable Rev. Perkins, after surveying the situation, decided his first duty was to somehow feed his hungry flock.

With volunteers he borrowed trucks and went out into the country and begged and bought vegetables and fruits the farmers were leaving on the ground. He secured surplus bakery goods and bought cheap meats. For two years during the lean days of the depression he strove to feed the physical man as well as the spiritual man.

His establishment of a church youth program brought the opportunity of fellowship to the young people in the form of baseball and basketball, hobbies, handicrafts, boxing, swimming, wrestling and other clubs for boys and girls.

The program Rev. Perkins started reached 5,000 lives. Gradually the atmosphere of the church changed from that of missionary to a youth-centered family church. (Continued on page 12)

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Norman

Wedding Bells Ring For Brenda Adcox-John Norman

On Saturday, June 10 at 7:30 p.m. Brenda Adcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Adcox of 121 Wing St., Northville became the bride of Mr. John M. Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Norman of Yale, Mich.

The Rev. Glenn Wegmeyer performed the double ring candlelight ceremony at the Timothy Lutheran Church of Livonia.

The bride's father escorted her down the aisle. She wore a floor length gown of chiffon and organza lace. A seed pearl crown held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white fugi mums.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Shirley Pickeral of Novi, and sister of the bride, and bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Norman, sister of the groom wore street length dresses of pink chiffon and carried bouquets of aqua and white fugi mums.

Flower girl, Debbie Van Toll, niece of the bride, also wore pink chiffon and carried a basket of aqua fugi mums.

Senior Citizens Sew; Get Pins

Mrs. Mildred Higgins and Mr. Edward Egloff, host and hostess for the Plymouth Senior Citizens, opened the meeting June 22 with guest speaker Mrs. Virginia Bartel, who is vice-president of the Michigan Cancer Foundation. She spoke on the importance and necessity of their cause.

Pins were given out to the ladies who had reached 100 hours of sewing time. Receiving them were: Mrs. Emily Mosher, Mrs. Sadie Goyer, Mrs. Mary Schultz and Mrs. Helen Eckles. And during the past month Miss Mary Murray received her pin.

A short business meeting was held, followed by card playing and the sewing of cancer pads.

Luncheon was served by the Plymouth Grange.

Jean's Jottings

By Jean Campau, Women's Editor

As we make plans for the Fourth of July this year, it is difficult to visualize that it has not always been a day of big celebrations complete with flags waving, colorful parades, picnics in the park and the traditional fireworks display.

Even though the Continental Congress adopted the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, it was not for nearly 100 years afterward that it became America's great patriotic observance. In 1873 the state of Pennsylvania made it a legal holiday and soon the whole country followed suit.

With the 56 signatures affixed to the bottom of this Independence Declaration England in particular and the world at large was given to know that henceforth the American man's liberty was his most prized and treasured possession.

And so, on this July Fourth, 185 years later, we find that local organizations and clubs have been readying preparations for weeks for the long holiday weekend.

Beginning Friday evening, the carnival will open on the grounds east of Lilley Rd., just north of Ann Arbor Rd. On Saturday Miss Plymouth will be selected and the Theatre Guild members will produce "It's a Blast" on the parking lot of Plymouth Junior High. At 1 p.m. on the Fourth there will be a parade followed by the 4-H horse show. On the same day the VFW and Auxiliary are sponsoring a Chick-N-Que during the afternoon and the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will have the drawing for the 1,000 lb. Black Angus steer. At 10 p.m. a giant display of fireworks, guaranteed to draw oohs and aahs from the spectators, will bring the holiday to a close.

In a 'quickie' phone survey of some Plymouth stores, we learned that for approximately $3.50 you can purchase a 3' x 5' 50-star flag.

How will your street look on the Nation's birthday?

Cooked indoors, eaten sizzling hot outdoors, are these savory Coffee-Glazed Spare ribs. Accompanying the main attraction are foil-baked potatoes, a crisp salad and a big pot of dark, freshly brewed coffee.

'Parents Without Partners' Chapter Started in Area

If you are widowed, separated, divorced and have children, you might be interested in the organization called Parents Without Partners, Inc.

With the primary objective of raising children to healthy maturity, with a full sense of being loved and accepted as persons, and with the same prospects for normal adulthood as children who mature with their two parents together, this organization strives to provide a broad and comprehensive program of group activities and recreation activity for parents without partners and their children.

The group can provide help and information relative to the problems and readjustments involved for parents without partners and their children who live alone, readjustments involved for parents and their children where one or both parents enter into a new marriage, suggestions where a broken home is to be re-established and the preparations of parents to meet, handle and dispose of related problems.

Parents Without Partners, Inc., works as a kind of clearing house for the exchange of information and knowledge through the interchange of ideas through lectures, advisory services and discussion groups. It is akin to other self-help organizations such as Recovery, Inc., and Alcoholics Anonymous.

This non-profit organization, whose main office is in New York, also works to improve legislation on all matters relating to separation, divorce, annulment, custody and welfare of children.

The third meeting of the local chapter met at the home of Mrs. Marshall in Ypsilanti to discuss plans for the July 22 picnic when parents and children alike will have the opportunity to become better acquainted.

For further information about the organization write to Mr. Hugh Gaston, P.O. Box 1864, Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. David K. Gyde

Mr. and Mrs. David K. Gyde Honeymoon in Washington

At an evening ceremony, June 17, Joyce Irene Gotts and David Kenneth Gyde were married before the Rev. Vern Panzer at Cherry Hill Methodist Church.

The bride came down the aisle on the arm of her great uncle, Mr. C. R. Kincaid of Bloomfield Hills wearing a silk organza ballerina length gown with rosebuds intertwined throughout the fabric. Her queen's crown of pearls and satin flowers held her veil and she carried Amazon lilies and three white orchids.

Miss Peg Corwin, maid of honor, wore a ballerina-length white nylon over blue taffeta with a deeper blue satin cummerbund. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations.

Bridesmaids Karen West and Pat Clixby wore yellow dresses like Miss Corwin's and carried blue carnation bouquets.

Frank G. Busha, brother-in-law of the groom was best man. Tom Marshall and Dick Morrison were ushers.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and baby chrysanthemums, adorned by gold candelabra. Mrs. Andy Smith played wedding selections on the organ.

Mrs. Percy C. Gotts, wife of the late Mr. Gotts, 1105 Ridge Rd., wore a fern green nylon lace sheath over rose taffeta with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs.

Wendt-Ackley Vows Spoken At Evening Ceremony June 24

Dorothy Ann Wendt and D. Hall in Wayne for the 200 Stuart Ackley repeated their marriage vows, June 24 in evening nuptials at the Timothy Lutheran Church in Livonia before Pastor Glenn Wegmeyer.

The bride was given away by her brother, David. Her white gown was designed with a fitted bodice and a full skirt. The illusion fingertip veil she wore was fastened to a tiny cap, and she carried a nosegay bouquet.

Shirley Jean Wendt, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and was dressed in a pastel pink organy frock with matching shoes and hat.

The bridesmaid, another sister, Carolyn Sue, wore a pastel green dress with matching hat and shoes.

Richard Ackley of Kalamazoo and brother of the groom, was best man, while ushers were Richard Hartwig of Livonia, Gary Henneman of Redford Township and James Rigerterink of Kalamazoo. Organist was Nancy Skees.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Wayne Ford Civic League

The new Mrs. Ackley is a 1960 graduate of Kalamazoo College, where she was affiliated with the Eurodelphian Gamma Society. She attended the Livonia Public Schools, graduating from Bentley High in 1956. The past year she has been teaching fourth grade at Lee Brooks School in the Huron Valley School District in Milford. She is the daughter of Mrs. Katherine Wendt and the late Mr. Russell A. Wendt, of 8068 Wayne Rd., Plymouth.

Mrs. Ackley attended Kalamazoo Public Schools and is a 1961 graduate of Kalamazoo College. He was affiliated with Phi Lambda Society. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Duncan M. Ackley, 2512 Crescent Dr., Kalamazoo.

The couple will make their home in Grand Rapids, where Mr. Ackley will be employed with the Federal government.

Little League Moms Say Thanks for Aid

Because of the response of local citizens and the conscientious help of the Little League Auxiliary officers, the recent candy sale was a resounding success. Thanks goes to the fathers of the boys who took the lads to the various neighborhoods to make deliveries.

Much of the profits from the sale have already gone to help pay for uniforms of the unsponsored members of the four new teams.

Mothers of Little Leaguers are urged to become active in the Auxiliary which will meet again Thursday, July 20, at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Township Hall. Help is also needed at the refreshment stand. Each team serves only one week per season. Profits made here are used to help defray the cost of bats, balls, helmets and other equipment that the youngsters use during the games. Stamp books or parts of books are being requested currently for redemption of equipment to be used in the refreshment booth.

Record-Breaking Payment Made By First Federal

Thousands of families in the Plymouth and Northville area will share in a record-breaking earnings payment, June 30, as First Federal Savings customers receive $5,225,000 in earnings on their accounts, reports Perry W. Richwine, vice-president and branch manager of First Federal's office at 843 Penniman Ave. This represents six months earnings at the current annual rate of 3 1/2 per cent.

On the same date First Federal Savings of Detroit will also make the largest six months addition to reserves in its 26-year history, amounting to over $1,988,000. This will be reported to all First Federal savinners in a mid-year "Report of Progress" now being mailed. The report also points out that 72.4 per cent of First Federal's net income will be paid in earnings to savers, and the remaining 27.6 per cent added to reserves.

In the five months ending May 31, First Federal's assets have increased by over $15,600,000 to a total of $349,970,000. During the same period, savings increased $10,500,000 to $314,105,000. The report will also reveal plans for two new branch offices — a Bloomfield-Birmingham office to be located at Maple and Cranbrook Roads, for which plans are already drawn, and a Farmington office to open early in 1962 at Farmington Road and Slocum in the City of Farmington.

agencies and 22 United Foundation agencies serving Plymouth," Griffin said, "while taking into account the economic conditions of the past 12 months. We have tried to reach a balance. By reducing requests of some agencies, the Board has been able to keep the 1961 goal under the amount raised in last year's campaign."

The 1961 goal and allocations is as follows: American Red Cross, $4,200.00; Boy Scouts of America, $6,000; Plymouth Dental Fund, $1,500; Girl Scouts of America, $4,500; Michigan Cancer Society, $3,683; Visiting Nurse Assn., $2,500; Veterans Memorial Assn., $2,200; Salvation Army, $8,500; Plymouth Senior Citizens, $780; Plymouth Junior Police, $2,700; United Foundation, $5,784.45.

Rev. David Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, was recently appointed to fill a vacancy on the Board. Other members of the present board are Hugh Griffin, Robert Barbour, Elizabeth Holmes, Ethel North, Helyn Caplin, John Pint, Frank Palmer, Russell Isbister, Albert Glassford, Donald Sutherland and James Sponser.

The budget is set each year after a committee receives a request from each of the agencies. This request is accompanied by detailed information concerning the finances of each agency and how Community Fund money is used. Quite often the Board cuts the requested amount.

At the same time, the Board of Directors is exploring four other areas:

1. The establishment of an emergency fund for disaster purposes.

2. The desirability of a University of Michigan survey to study community health and welfare needs.

3. The possibility of supporting to some extent a "Plymouth Community Center" that would centralize the activities of the various agencies presently housed in separate, and in some cases, inadequate facilities.

4. The question of increasing payments to the United Foundation to compensate for additional services being rendered by United Foundation agencies in the Plymouth community.

TYPICAL OF the operations at Distribution Service, Inc. is the assembly of thousands of individual shipments daily of automotive training and promotional materials. The firm's big rush is predicted in the model change-over. D.S.I. is taking over the former Daisy plant in Plymouth.

Named to MSU Men's Honorary

Bruce R. Bancroft, son of W. C. Bancroft, 1167 Penniman, Plymouth, was one of 13 Michigan State University men chosen for membership in Excalibur, senior men's honorary, at the close of spring term.

Only a baker's dozen members are allowed in the honorary at any time. They are chosen on the basis of excellence in character, leadership and service to the University as evidenced in extra-curricular activities.

Bancroft is a graduate of Waterford High School in Pontiac.

Turin, Italy, was bombed 105 times during World War II.

NEWS BEAT

Residents interested in airplanes can find some hours of pleasure this Sunday at Mettetal Airport when the Experimental Aircraft Assn., West Detroit Chapter, holds a "Fly-in." They will arrive at 7 a.m. with their home-built planes and will be here most of the day. Between 11 to 12, a team from the Michigan Parachute Club will make a jump. Helicopter rides will also be available. The American Legion will serve breakfast to the visitors.

ROADWORK: Work will start next week on the recapping of Ann, Adams and Spring Streets, the DPW announced. Motorists can expect some detours on these streets. The City has also warned that starting July 1, any vacant lots having tall weeds will be mowed by the City and the cost billed to the owners. Ordinance says that lots must be kept mowed.

POLICE BEAT: An elderly resident has been committed to Wayne County General Hospital for mental exams after attempting suicide. Approached by police for questioning concerning a morals complaint, he said he would voluntarily come to the police department Monday at 11 a.m. Instead, police said, he stabbed himself, took poison and tried to drown himself in a bathtub. He was not in serious condition, however, police said.

Berry Pontiac Receives Trophy

In recognition for an outstanding sales performance during Pontiac Motor Division's recent "King Pin Sales Campaign," Berry Pontiac, Inc., Plymouth, has been awarded the coveted Knudsen Trophy.

The award, named for Pontiac General Manager S. E. Knudsen, will be presented to all Pontiac dealerships equaling or exceeding pre-determined new car sales objectives for the period of Feb. 21 through April 30. Reflecting the Division's continuing success in 1961 retail sales is the attainment of Knudsen Trophies by more than 42 per cent of total.

Robert Willoughby Ordained Thursday

Robert Willoughby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Willoughby, 44661 W. Ann Arbor Trail, will be ordained as a deacon in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States in a ceremony this Thursday morning in Detroit.

A graduate of Bexley Hall, Divinity School of Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, on June 4, Mr. Willoughby will be ordained in a service at 10:30 a.m. at Cathedral Church of St. Paul on Woodward Ave. Many of his relatives and friends will attend the ceremony.

He will be presented by the Rev. David Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth. Participating in the ordination service will be three Episcopal bishops, the Right Reverends Richard S. Emrich, Robert DeWitt and Archie Crowley.

Mr. Willoughby will serve as an assistant at St. Philips Episcopal Church in Rochester starting July 1.

Last Sunday, he was presented a set of stoles in the five liturgical colors of the church by his home congregation, St. John's. He is the first member of the congregation to enter the ministry. These stoles will be worn over one shoulder while Mr. Willoughby serves as deacon. After serving a period of time, the Episcopal deacon is elevated to the priesthood and the stole is worn over both shoulders.

Mr. Willoughby is a 1954 graduate of Plymouth High School. In 1958 he received a bachelor of arts degree from Eastern Michigan. He then entered the Divinity School at Kenyon.

He is married to the former Ann Sumner. Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby have two Robert Willoughby daughters, Suzanne, 4, and Barbara, 10 months.

New Assistant Arrives At Our Lady of Good Counsel

Our Lady of Good Counsel Church received a new assistant pastor this past week the arrival of Father Alfred H. Renaud.

Reverend Renaud was ordained from St. John's Seminary in Plymouth in 1956 and served as assistant in Visitation Parish, Detroit, and St. John's, Monroe, for five years previous to his present assignment.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Renaud of Roseville, Father Renaud studied for the priesthood at Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit, for his high school and college years. Upon receiving his bachelor of arts degree, he studied for four years in the theological seminary in Plymouth, and was ordained by the late Cardinal Mooney.

Father Renaud will assist the pastor, Reverend Francis Byrne and the other assistant, Reverend William Child. Our Lady of Good Counsel presently holds seven services on Sunday for its 950 families. Its grade school educates 620 children under the direction of six Sisters of St. Joseph and seven lay teachers.

Little Leaguers Keep Up Battle

Plymouth's second Little League season is rolling along in high gear at its new diamonds on Plymouth Rd. with the Braves (7-0) leading the National League while Tigers and Indians (6-1) tied for the American League lead. The teams play four nights a week at 6:15 p.m., unless they are rained out. The games are then made up on Friday night or Saturday morning at 10:30.

The National League plays Monday and Wednesday nights while the American League is scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Should there be a tie for first place at the half-way point in either league, there will be an immediate play-off game. This week's games should determine if there will be one.

The following are the standings of each league as of Saturday and the results of last week's play:

National League
Braves	7 0
Pirates	6 1
Dodgers	3 4
Cubs	2 5
Giants	2 5
Redlegs	1 6
American League
Tigers	6 1
Indians	6 1
White Sox	5 2
Yankees	2 5
Orioles	1 6
Red Sox	1 6

A "thank you" was issued this week to those who helped with the progress already made with the diamonds. They are located just east of Hillside Inn on Plymouth Rd.

Because maintenance of the diamonds is the result of volunteer help, Little League officials are asking that no one use them for any purpose without special permission.

The Plymouth Community School District is the area covered by the Little League organization in Plymouth. Members of the 12 teams reside within this area.

Any boys interested in baseball who are not members of the major teams, should contact Mike Hoban Monday through Thursday at 3 p.m. behind the High School.

Burgers to Aid Little League

Plymouth citizens can help finance the Little League program and also satisfy their appetites on Saturday, July 8.

On that day, profits made at the Burger Chef on S. Main St. will be turned over to the Little League.

"All the help, both monetary and personal, that can be given, is needed by the Little League," President Joseph Bida said this week. Anyone wanting to help can contact him or one of the league officials.

List Golf Winners

Thirteen youngsters were awarded four points in the Junior Golf League at Hillside Monday. They were: Skip Otwell, Dave Wall, Sandy Pentecost, John Park, Don Burleson, Jim Janicki, Bill Pentecost, Dave Hoffman, Gail Schnegg, Nadine Criger and Anna Zoet.

Four young golfers won three points. They were: Bill Resch, Dick Borso, Paul McKeever and Jack Niepath.

Two point winners were James Hallock and Gary Fuelling.

James Eder, Terry Holt, John Duke and Duane Criger each won one point.

There are 36 advanced golfers and 46 beginners in the program. The league gets underway again on July 10. There is nothing scheduled for July 3.

Two More Sign With Our Tigers

A baseball team is not made overnight. Real Tiger fans in Plymouth may want to note the following announcement from the Tigers' publicity office that the Tigers this week signed a right-handed pitcher and a right-handed hitting and throwing outfielder to 1962 contracts with clubs in their minor league system.

The pitcher is Conrad Cardinal, a 6 foot, 210 lb. fireballer from Valley Stream, N. Y. Signed as an outfielder, although he has had experience as a pitcher and a shortstop also, is Gerald Kirby, a 6 foot, 185 pounder from LaGrange, Ga.

Cardinal posted a 15-3 record in high school and during the past three summers performed in as many different sandlot leagues — the Kiwanis, the Connie Mack and the Nassau Alliance. He is 19 years old.

Kirby attended Southern Union Junior College for two years and was awarded a trophy as the best all-around athlete there. He hit for a .428 average and was 4-for-4 in the playoff game for the championship of his conference.

Cardinal will report to the Jamestown club of the New York - Pennsylvania League and Kirby to Montgomery of the Alabama - Florida League for spring training at Tigertown, Lakeland, Fla.

If you have ever dreamed that you were wearing your Maidenfarm Bermuda shorts, you'll enjoy "IT'S A BLAST," the hilarious Jaycee variety show to be seen this Saturday.

Ireland was the home of two of the performers in "IT'S A BLAST," the second annual Jaycee show on July 1, 8:30 p.m., Junior High Parking Lot.

Air conditioning of the Junior High Parking Lot for the second annual Jaycee show ("IT'S A BLAST") was a plus contribution of the greater Weather Councils of Wayne County.

A STATEWIDE campaign to "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" particularly during the Independence Day and Labor Day weekends is being launched here. Mayor Robert Sincoc, left, is shown holding one of the posters prepared by the Automobile Club of Michigan. Robert Cain, new manager of the AAA office here, is presenting the poster. "Driving can and should be a pleasurable experience," Cain said.

Loop Leaders Lose

The unbeaten teams in Plymouth's recreation softball leagues finally lost, but both remain firmly entrenched in first place. Carling's lost one of two in the Class A league last week. Its record is now 7-1. Cloverdale edged a little closer with a win last week to boost its season mark to 4-3.

In Class B, Nick's lost one and tied one last week, but still leads with a 6-1-1 record. Vico moved into second place with a victory that upped its total to 3-2, good for second place at the start of this week.

DeHoCo is third in the A circuit games are at the High School.

with a 2-5 record, while Herby's at 2-6 is a half a game back in last place.

Walton's is third in the Class B league with a 2-3-1 record and McAllister's is fourth with a 3-4 mark. Merchant's is fifth with a 2-4 total and Lutheran's at 1-5 is last.

Herby's will meet Cloverdale at 7:30 p.m. today at Plymouth, while Carling's travels to DeHoCo for a 6:30 p.m. contest.

In the B league tomorrow, Vico will meet McAllister's at 6:30 p.m. and Walton's will meet Men's Lutheran at 7:45 p.m. The Merchants meet Nick's at 9 p.m. under the lights. All

Marathon Gasolines STOP HOT-WEATHER STALLING

Remember how it happens? The thermometer's touching 96°. There's a copper-glazed sky overhead. You're tooling down the highway, windows open, trying to keep cool. Then you notice a kind of sputter in the motor—a drag-down in power—all of a sudden it stalls. You're stranded. Miles past the last service station. It's anyone's guess how far to the next one.

Marathon gasolines are power-processed for Midwest summers. Marathon SUPER-M® and MILE-maker® gasolines are power-processed to help end hot-weather stalling. Laboratory controls provide gasolines that guard your engine against choking and strangling caused by vapor lock.

These Marathon gasolines are also scientifically filtered to clean out engine-stalling bits of dirt that can clog fuel systems. This summer, make it Marathon, for gasolines that are all go 'til the last drop's gone.

MARATHON goes farther to make friends

By George Spelvin

Sitting quietly in the meditative silence of an empty hospital room evokes a sense of the drama by the very nature of its stark setting. The empty bed ... the wrinkled bed sheets attest to the previous presence of an individual now in the operating room, the fading flowers on the dresser droop sadly, the quiet patients in the rooms adjoining all join in the somber stillness of such tacit theatrics. No spotlight or grease paint taint the realistic, antiseptic atmosphere.

Old George's B. H. (better-half) is spending a few days in an Ann Arbor surgical shop. Result: the column is being written on a piece of paper while the B. H. is out of the room having a bit of exploratory work done.

A moment of calm while your wife is upstairs in the operating room produces a multitude of feelings. Down the corridor and in the other rooms activity swirls about you, but doesn't seem to reach out and touch you. You are lost in thoughts about your wife. What will they find? How long will the operation take? And then suddenly you find yourself idly reaching for a book, magazine or an introspective moment of silent prayer to allay those troublesome thoughts. These are the times that the wistful whispering of God seeps through to most of us.

Through the years one olefactory problem has always irritated me when I have been waiting for Mama in hospitals: the odor of antiseptic seemed to ooze out of every part of the woodwork. This pervading, permeating pharmaceutical perfume has since disappeared. Our modern hospitals have found a less bothersome form or a more neutral way to keep the place sterile. Thus, a happy progressive note is in order—I found the hospital as sterile without the usual nasty nasal haze in the air. Dr. Kildare has been busy with his time now that he no longer is making movies. Or can we credit the men in white from the TV "Medic" series for this wonderful improvement?

Hospitals have always through the years been a fertile field for playwrights and TV producers. They realize the hundred and one dramas that daily take place in our halls of healing. The struggle between life and death omnipresent in every operation, no matter how simple, provides ample material for tense, taut situations.

Sidney Kingsley's "Men In White" was the one and only stage production devoted exclusively to the workings of a modern hospital. No other producer has tried to do a show on this area of living. Audiences would as soon forget those unpleasant hours spent in the hospital—even though the results of medication normally take a positive turn. The humorous side of hospital life was recently pictured in the British film "Carry On, Nurse." Using a daffodil as a rectal thermometer provided a new low in slapstick comedy. Bill Shakespeare, a true admirer of earthy humor, would have shook with laughter at such a vulgar, base touch of comic inventiveness.

Menasha Skulnik appeared at the Northland Playhouse last week and has little need to stoop to such low comedy. His comedy comes from the heart. He's always portraying the little guy that's getting pushed around in this world. We sympathize with such an individual. Feel sorry for him and before we know it we're laughing heartily at his predicament. And so it was last week out at the Northland Playhouse—you were laughing with dear, lovable Menasha and his problems in "The 49th Cousin."

This week Ken Schwartz is bringing in Dorothy Collins to do "Carousel." Such a mummified, "Carousel" opens on cal event should not be ing lady Sheila Kaye has excellent support from the entire cast. Make your reservations for this enjoyable show by calling WO 3-3863. Don't be surprised if they tell you the house is sold out. Try another date, but see "Leave It To Jane."

The Ann Arbor Drama Season is over and the next occupants move into the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater on June 28. The U of M players start their summer season of plays with the thought-provoking "J.B." the modern dramatized version of the Book of Job. You can attend these plays for a reasonable sum of cash. Five plays for $8 or $7, I believe. Call up the University of Michigan box office in the Lydia Mendelssohn for complete details.

By the way, the surgical man in the white coat came down a minute ago and told me that the operation was

Promotions Made At Scout Troop Court of Honor

Troop 6, Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Plymouth Lions Club, had 25 scouts receiving awards at its recent Board of Review.

Scouts Thomas Bowman, Dennis Dodge, Brian Foust, David Martin, William Minard, Jan Moorhead, Larry Olson, Robert Probeck, David Sibbold and Donald Snoke were promoted to Second Class Scouts. Brent DeMond, Dennis Shelby, and William Wolfe achieved First Class Rank.

Mark Schultheiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Schultheiss of 11705 Amherst Court, was recommended to the National Court of Honor for the rank of Eagle Scout. Formal award of this rank will come in the fall.

In addition, the following were awarded Public Health merit badges: Jerry Couts, Scott Dodge, Gary Fueling, Terry Holt, James Nelson, William Nelson, Charles Olson, Barry Rowland, Mark Schultheiss, David Sackett, Thomas Todd, and Robin Wideman.

This was the last Board of Review before summer camp. Thirty-six members of the troop leave July 1 for camp at the D-Bar-A Ranch near Metamora, owned by the Detroit Area Council. The camp is under the leadership of E. T. Miller, scoutmaster, assisted by G. W. Shelley.

Braestown Bald Mountain, 4,784 feet, is the highest in Georgia.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS... FROM THE PAGES OF THE MAIL

10 YEARS AGO

An old fashioned beef barbecue will be staged by St. John's Episcopal Church on the evening of July 3 and on July 4th for Plymouth's Independence Day celebrants. The ox-roast will be available in one of the booths on the gay midway in the high school grounds.

J. S. Pace who resides at 35909 Plymouth Rd., thinks his tomato patch is one of the first in this area to produce tomatoes this year. Last Saturday afternoon he and Mrs. Pace picked nearly a full peck of early Chatem tomatoes that were fully ripe and ready to eat.

Star Plymouth athlete, Wally Dzurus, 17, of 1317 Sheridan Ave. signed with the Cleveland Indians. It is believed Wally is the first local baseball prospect directly signed by a big league club. Entering University of Michigan this fall, Wally is scheduled to report to Cleveland's Florida training camp March 5.

Thomas Moss returned last Thursday evening from a month's vacation in England where he visited his mother and traveled through the country. Mr. Moss left Plymouth May 25 and flew home by way of Montreal. His daughter, Catherine Moss, accompanied him on the trip and will stay in Europe touring Paris, Rome and Florence for another month.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton were in St. Louis last week attending the 29th annual convention of Kiwanis International.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maxwell of Joy Rd., have returned from a visit with their son, Eric Russell Maxwell at Lackland Field, Texas.

Something new in recreation here in Plymouth will be the Tot Lot. Organized as a cooperative venture by Plymouth mothers, aided by the Department of Recreation, the Tot Lot is an experiment in the recreation department. It is designed primarily to help children who do not have playmates.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Clark of Hammill St., celebrated their 38th wedding anniversary last Sunday beginning with a breakfast followed by a long drive through Detroit and along Lake Shore Dr., finally arriving at the home of their son where a large group of friends and relatives had gathered to honor the couple.

25 YEARS AGO

Members of the congregation of the First Baptist Church will take part in a special ceremony at the Sunday morning service which will mark the burning of the mortgage on the parsonage.

Mrs. J. B. Ford of Forest Ave., Plymouth, announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary Kathleen to Harold A. Micol, son of William A. Micol of this city, Oct. 28, 1935.

Friends of Mrs. Eleanor Westfall, formerly of Plymouth, were sorry to learn of her death June 11 at the home of her sister in Chelsea. Among those attending the funeral were Mrs. John Bunyee and son, Wilford, Lewis Westfall and mother, Frank Westfall, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fisher and daughter, Miss Alta Fisher, Lee Fisher, all of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of West Ann Arbor Tr., entertained several relatives at a buffet lunch after commencement Thursday evening. In honor of their son, Edward, who was graduated with the Plymouth High School class of 1936. Relatives were present from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Salem and Northfield.

One of five delightful Impala models with just about everything anyone could want in a car. Here's top-of-the-line luxury—at a sensible Chevy price.

New Chevrolet BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN
Like all Chevrolets, this family favorite brings you Body by Fisher craftsmanship... and it's priced just above the thirtieth full-sized Chevrolets.

CHEVY'S traditionally high resale means it costs less in the long run
Because these people-pleasing Chevies keep on bringing more trade-in money, it's almost like having your cake and eating it, too. One more reason for going Jet-smooth Chevrolet. Happy motoring. And many happy returns!
*Based on prices in the National Automobile Dealers Association official USED CAR GUIDE. Recent-model Chevrolets are now bringing a higher percentage of their original price than any other full-sized car in their class.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Our Post Color Guard team came home with honors. Winning the State Championship, which included two trophies and a one hundred dollar check.

Our congratulations both on our own Auxiliary Drill Team who retained their State Championship, and also our neighbor, the Wayne Post Drill Team, who again captured the Senior Men's Championship.

Fourth District came home loaded down with all kinds of honors from many different fields. As soon as it is all listed, we will have more news and pictures.

Don't forget our Fourth of July Chicken Barbecue. Bring your family and friends. Tickets are available from Post members or may be purchased at the dinner.

We remind you to turn your money in for the Tiger baseball game August 5. Reservation deadline is July 14. The price is $2 per seat. Further details may be had by calling Gerald Olson at GL 3-1339.

Auxiliary

At the last meeting, President Olson made the announcement that Norman McKindies had volunteered to act as chairman for legislation for the remainder of the year. Norma's first project will be a bake sale Saturday, July 15 at Kresge's. You will be contacted on this by her committee.

President Olson and Hospital Chairman Marion Skoglund made a trip to the Veterans' Hospital in Ann Arbor and presented two planters, carrying out the theme of red, white and blue, which were to be placed in the lobby for Father's Day. Marion is also going to make a trip to Maybury the latter part of July and would appreciate donations of books, magazines, puzzles, etc.

Sally DeGraeve, president of the Fourth District, attended our meeting and presented us with a streamer to be attached to our banner for having increased our membership more than any other Auxiliary in our division in the District. This streamer had been given in error to another Auxiliary and Sally made a personal visit to explain and correct the error.

Sister Marion Groth is making progress but her stay in the hospital may be a long one. Her mailing address is Room 606, Sinai Hospital, W. Outer Drive, Detroit 35. How about that card, let's mail one today.

The Auxiliary bought the balance of the five books of tickets for the Freedom's Foundation at Valley Forge. This completes our participation in the project.

Who Do You Hate the Most?

We smile at men of earlier ages who believed that the earth is flat. But they, at least, had no evidence to the contrary. In 1961, though, in the face of plenty of evidence, we believe things equally absurd. Millions of white men, for instance, go on believing that there is something innately superior about being white.

Here we are, the race that in just a few decades has given the world concentration camps and gas chambers, dropped a bomb which we now claim is too horrible for anyone (else) to use, spent more on liquor than on schools, sold bubblegum to children, invented Hollywood and made Elvis Presley rich—here we are, not only smug in the belief of our natural superiority but filled with hatred toward anyone who did not choose his color as wisely as we did.

A disinterested observer might conclude that we whites should be anxious to get on with what the bigots call "race-mixing," and the sooner the better. After all, a race with a record like ours has no place to go but up. Instead, whites in the South demonstrate their superiority by heaving rocks at Negro children trying to go to school; we in the North avoid this vulgarity by keeping the Negro out of our neighborhoods in the first place.

Not all American white men, of course, share this delusion and hatred. For those men of good will who are aware that there is not only something absurd about race prejudice but also something evil and immoral here are a few books, timely and rewarding, that bear serious reading:

The Nature of Prejudice by Gordon W. Allport (Anchor Books, $1.45) is a solid inquiry by a famed psychologist into the roots of the tensions that exist between races and other groups. Not particularly easy, the book is nevertheless fascinating. In view of the importance of the subject it could be called a must for intelligent Americans.

Stride Toward Freedom by Martin Luther King (Ballantine, 50 cents) is a full and moving account of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott by its quiet and heroic leader. The Montgomery boycott, which stretched on for 13 months in the mid-fifties, was surely a landmark in the Negro's progress toward justice. Dr. King, a moderate and honorable man, saw to it that the fight was carried on in dignified and nonviolent terms. His ideals spring from the teachings of Christ with a little of Thoreau and Gandhi thrown in.

The Catholic Viewpoint on Race Relations by John LaFarge, S.J., distills the experience and wisdom that Father LaFarge has gained in 50 years of interracial work. His book's appeal and pertinence is not limited to members of his faith.

Race, Prejudice and Education by Cyril Bibby is a brief, authoritative guide to the meaning of the term "race," origins of ethnic groups and the tangled roots of prejudice.

The Other Side of Jordan by Harry Ashmore is a journalistic glance at Negroes in the big cities outside the South. A Pictorial History of the Negro by Langston Hughes lives up to its title and is a helpful guide for background.

Reading books like these will not, we know, do much for the hardshell haters among us. But good men everywhere may get from them enough courage, confidence and knowledge to stand with the angels in a moral issue of our time which may, we suggest, be even more crucial than the sound dollar.

Karl Heinzman, 52, Passes Away

A prominent Livonia civic leader and Chamber of Commerce official died Saturday at the age of 52.

Death came in Art Centre Hospital to Karl Heinzman, who had served his community for the past two years as executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and in many other ways since Livonia's founding as an incorporated City.

Instrumental in organizing the new Chamber office, which opened on Farmington Rd. last April, Heinzman had served as president of the Chamber from 1958 to 1959. A pioneer businessman as well, he helped found the H and M Electric Service at 27313 Plymouth Rd. He had served as secretary of the State Television and Radio Assn. in connection with his business.

Heinzman, described by his associates at the Chamber this week as a "great man and a wonderful asset to our Chamber and community," was a member of Rotary International. His residence was at 31181 Schoolcraft.

Surviving are his wife, Doris, and several children.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, with Vicar Richard C. Paustian officiating, after the body had lain in state at Livonia Funeral Home. Interment was at Glen Eden Cemetery. The family has requested memorials be sent to the St. Paul Bell Tower Fund.

Summer Teen Dances Resumed

The summer Teen Dances will be co-sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycees and the Plymouth Recreation Department. The dances will be held at the High School every Wednesday from June 28 through Aug. 30, 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. Any local musical groups wishing to play at the dances should contact the dance chairman, George Gotschalk and Ed Good.

Admission will be 50 cents per person or 75 cents per couple on evenings featuring live music and local talent. Other evenings the admission charge will be 30 cents per person.

The dances will be chaperoned by the Plymouth Jaycees and their wives.

Jaycees Ready Host of Holiday Events

July 4th Parade Rolls at 1 p.m.

There will be another "big time in the old town" as the Independence Day holiday weekend rolls around, with such events as a parade, fireworks, carnival, the popular Miss Plymouth competition and a variety show on the schedule.

Also on tap for the weekend are events for children, a horse show, a barbecue and a long list of prizes that will be offered in several contests.

Plymouth's annual Independence Day program—planned with the idea in mind of keeping residents safely in their own home town instead of on the highway—is again sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Co-chairmen of the celebration are Terry West and Ray Laymond.

Probably the largest crowd-getter will be the parade that will move down Main St. on July 4 at 1 p.m.

The parade will form at Union and Dodge Streets at noon and will move south on Main an hour later. It will turn east on Hartsough and will end on the Junior High ball fields where prizes will be awarded to winners of the various parade competitions.

This year's parade, with Denny Hanks as chairman, will feature such units as the Detroit Edison calliope, floats from the Plymouth Theatre Guild, Plymouth Symphony, Our Lady of Good Counsel, Red Cross, Davis & Lent, Knights of Columbus and others which may not yet have contacted the July 4th Committee. (Phone GL 3-0220 or GL 3-1215 for entries.) There will also be a fleet of antique cars, the Plymouth High School Band, host of horses and marching units supplied by the veterans' organizations, Scouting groups and playgrounds. The U.S. Marine Corps will furnish the color guard heading the main body of the parade. Mayor Robert Sincock and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay will ride in the official car.

Horse Show

Immediately following the parade, a horse show will be staged at the carnival grounds by the Plymouth Block and Bridge Club, with the cooperation of the Plymouth Jaycees. There will be 10 or more riding events and at least 40 horses and riders will participate.

All riding events will be judged with ribbons going to first and second place winners.

Fireworks

Ending the day will be the traditional fireworks display at 10 p.m. Provided by the Plymouth business community, the fireworks will be touched off at the carnival grounds by the Detroit Fireworks Display Co. Those contributing to the fireworks so far are the following:

National Bank of Detroit, Penn Theatre, City of Plymouth, Township of Plymouth, Ellis Restaurant, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Paul J. Wiedman, Inc., Burroughs Corp., Plymouth Stamping Co., Whitman & Barnes and Business and Professional Women's Club.

Plane to Drop Peanuts for Kiddie Contest

Fifty pounds of peanuts dropping from the sky will be an exciting event for the kiddies July 4.

At 4 p.m. on Tuesday, a light plane piloted by Alan Finney of Finney Aviation at Mettetal Airport will make a low pass over the Junior High ball field. Fifty pounds of peanuts will be dropped to the children waiting below.

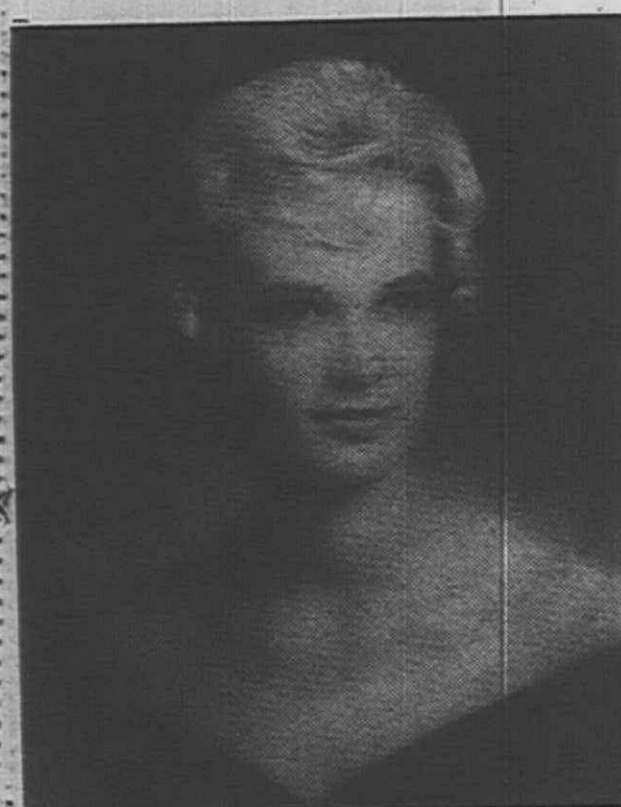

Youngsters finding the most colored peanuts will be awarded a prize from Breneman Toys. For every two colored peanuts found, a free ride will be awarded by the Jaycees. All youngsters up to 12 years of age can enter the Peanut Drop.

Pick Miss Plymouth Of 1961 Saturday

Miss Plymouth of 1961 will be selected this Saturday night (July 1) during an evening program that will also feature a variety show titled "IT'S A BLAST" put on by the Plymouth Theater Guild.

Thirteen young ladies are competing in the annual Miss Plymouth contest this year with the Miss Plymouth and her two runners-up receiving many gifts from the Plymouth Jaycees and local merchants. Saturday night's program will begin at 8:30 at the Plymouth Junior High. There will be an admission of 75 cents at the door unless you display the ticket sold by the Jaycees for this year's drawing which entitles you to free admission, free parking and an opportunity to win prizes. Three judges will be brought here for the contest.

They will judge on poise, personality and beauty. Last year's Miss Plymouth, Miss Mavis Williams, will place the rhinestone crown, donated by Bluford's Jewelry, on the new queen. She will also be presented with a dozen red roses by Bartel's Greenhouse.

The new Miss Plymouth will receive a victory trophy presented by Jaycee President Terry West, and a three-piece set of Samsonite luggage donated by the Jaycees. Also, for Miss Plymouth Beitner's jewelry store has a Kremetz necklace which is now on display in their store window. Fisher's Shoe Store a $10 gift certificate, Ellis Restaurant, a T-Bone steak dinner for two, and Joyce's House of Curl, a new hair style every week for a month.

The second place winner will receive a corsage from Heide's Greenhouse, a black straw purse from Minerva's, a matching set of summer jewelry from Cassidy's and a $20 permanent donated by Midge's Beauty Shop and two hair styles from Joyce's House of Curl.

The third place winner will receive a $5 gift certificate from Craig's Ladies Apparel, a leather wallet from Gram's, two hair styles and matching lipstick and fingernail polish from Joyce's House of Curl and a corsage from Heide's Greenhouse.

All contestants in the beauty contest will receive a finished portrait of themselves taken by Bob Gray Studio and two hairstyles, one before they had their portraits taken and one for the final judging of Miss Plymouth. The hair styles were done by Dennis from Joyce's House of Curl.

A private preliminary judging will be held Saturday afternoon in which the girls will be judged in bathing suits. The judges will meet with the contestants and interview each privately. Ralph Lorenz, Mayflower manager, has provided rooms for the day for the judges to freshen up in the time between preliminary judging and the final judging.

Judges for the contest will be Miss Hearmon, supervisor of stewardesses for North Central Airlines, Miss Love, head modeling instructor for Powers Modeling School and a third judge to be announced.

The judges will be treated to dinner at the Mayflower Hotel by the Jaycees and escorted by Mrs. Joyce Crimmins, chairman of Miss Plymouth Contest (Joyce's House of Curl) and Lanny West, coordinator.

Three-Two-One IT'S A BLAST!

Twinkling stars, a full moon and soft summer breezes will provide a dreamy background for the second annual Junior Chamber of Commerce variety show, "IT'S A BLAST," an original musical revue, will get off the Junior High School parking lot launching pad at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, July 1.

Fifty actors, beauty contestants, and eager entertainers are ready for this missile of joy to hit the Plymouth atmosphere. Songs, dances, and clever sketches have been polished to a high degree of being "A-O-K." Major-General Terry West, the Jaycee commander in charge of Happiness, Inc., assures us that his affable astronauts plan to keep us gay and laughing for the entire showtime.

Old George Spelvin, "Front Row Center's" caustic commentator, has been lured out of retirement to guide the atomic entertainment for the evening. When interviewed, he promised a plethora of gags, gags, and grand, glorious "goings-on." In fact, Old George has borrowed a space suit from Commander Shepard for the auspicious occasion.

Tent Will be Headquarters

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the Independence Day program, will have a headquarters tent on the carnival grounds. This tent will serve as the coordination center for the five-day event.

Jaycees will also have their 50-star American flags for sale at the tent. Tickets will also be on sale for the Saturday night Miss Plymouth program. Ticket-holders may also be in line for the two portable Magnavox TV sets or two and one-half horsepower Go-Cart that will be given.

"IT'S A BLAST" will feature topical sketches in the satirical vein. Everyone's fight against inflation ("Going Up, Please"), the difficulties in becoming an astronaut ("The Un-Launchables"), and the trials and troubles of being an infant ("My Fair Baby") make up the skit portion of the program. Russ Wallace, C. V. Sparks, Ruth Barney, Nick Carpenter, Robert Gouin, Jake Rumpf, Charles Zoret, Duane Hall, Hollis Haynes, Georgianna Spelvin, Merle and Saxie Heft are treading the boards under the stars in these sketches with the devilish dialogue.

Music from outer space is a part of "IT'S A BLAST." The Space Maids (Marcie Woolweaver, Sharon Stronick, and Karen McGeehan) plan several songs that will titillate your ears. The Town Criers, Plymouth's answer to the Kingston Trio, have re-strung their guitars and banjos, put new skins on their bongo drums, and they are ready to give out with some special folk songs devised especially for the "IT'S A BLAST" show. Paul Malboeuf, Ron Tripp, Robert Evans (last seen in the all-star production of "The Mikado"), and John Tichy are the four string-strummers and bongo-boppers.

Dancing in "IT'S A BLAST!" has been turned over to Miss Cindy Adams. Miss Adams will perform two numbers that later will be shown at a National Dance Convention in New York City.

Two bands—a dance group and accordion players from Jerry's Studios in Plymouth—will lend appropriate background music during the evening. All of this entertainment can be purchased at the box office in the Junior High parking lot on Saturday evening, July 1. Box office will open at 8 p.m. Plenty of parking is available. Prices have been held to 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for the youngsters.

VFW Dishes Up Chick-N-Q July 4

A Chick-N-Que will be sponsored by the VFW members of Mayflower Post No. 6695 following the parade on Independence Day. Hours of serving are scheduled to run noon to 6 p.m. at the VFW Hall opposite the carnival grounds.

The price is set at $1.50 per adult and 75 cents for a child's portion. The meal includes half a chicken, plus coleslaw and other trimmings. Soft drinks will be available.

First, he built a portable desk. Friends helped him move it into a rented room at Market and 7th Streets, Philadelphia. Then Virginia lawyer Thomas Jefferson, quill in hand, wrote a 1,817-word manuscript.

("When in the course of human events")

On June 28, 1776, the committee appointed to put together a declaration of independence reported Jefferson's result to the Continental Congress.

Verbal fireworks went off. Congress—which included an ironmonger, soldiers, merchants, a minister, and printer Ben Franklin—didn't "buy" word for word what Jefferson's quill pen had written.

("We hold these truths to be self-evident,")

Members of Congress said the suggestions were "deplorable." But Congress didn't okay Jefferson's arraignment of the British people and King George III for encouraging slave trade, which Jefferson called "an execrable commerce." Some 86 changes were made, eliminating 480 words and leaving 1,337.

("that all men are created equal.") In the final form of the Declaration, capitalization was erratic. Also, Jefferson had written that men were endowed with "inalienable" rights; in the final copy it came out as "unalienable" and has been thus ever since.

The Declaration was adopted on July 4th—but only two men signed on that date. The President of Congress stepped up and signed his John Hancock to the document; and, as witness, secretary Charles Thomson affixed his name.

("that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights.")

At day's end, the Declaration was turned over to printer John Dunlap to be printed on broadsides. But the original copy was lost and one of his broadsides was attached to a page in the journal of the Congress. It was read aloud four days later in Philadelphia; in Easton, Pa., and in Trenton, N. J. Then, on the night of July 9, it was read by order of General George Washington to his troops in New York City's City Hall Park.

("that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness.")

The Declaration—engrossed on parchment—was signed by members of Congress on and after August 2, 1776. In fact, Thomas McKean of Delaware re-joined Washington's army before signing and said later he signed in 1781.

True, there were changes from the original document. But not one word, not one letter, was altered in this part of the Declaration:

"That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

How's Business?

Employment Improving

By ROGER W. BABSON

The American economy is dependent to a major degree upon the free and independent actions of consumers in purchasing goods and services.

In spite of the fanfare surrounding the role of government in influencing economic cycles, the basic fact is that government spending and aid, in their varied and numerous forms, exert the most important impact upon economic activity when they transmit the measure of confidence necessary to motivate consumer spending. Many factors enter into the question of what sparks consumer demand. In general, these can be divided into three broad categories: (1) The need for goods and services, (2) the ability to pay for the goods and services, and (3) public confidence in social and economic trends.

As a practical matter, the layman generally lumps all three into one factor which, consciously or unconsciously, determines consumer spending policies. This is the status of and outlook for employment. Hence, in the process of evaluating business prospects, this aspect of economic conditions should be given careful consideration.

In mid-1960, employment began to slip rather persistently. Actually, the tip-off that employment conditions were deteriorating came in February of 1960 when unemployment started to rise. But an even earlier warning was apparent in the spring of 1959 when the length of the factory work week experienced the start of a series of cutbacks which continued through the end of 1960.

Employment conditions since the beginning of 1961 have been improving gradually. Starting in January, the average length of the factory work week has been rising and the number of jobless workers contracting. The improving pattern of employment should progress further.

Hence, with personal income also in a rebound, consumers should be in a better frame of mind to spend.

Under 21

By DAN HALLIGAN

Dear Readers: Somewhere in the United States or Canada there's an 11-year-old boy (or 10 years old) who has never had a "real vacation." More than likely he lives in a large city and is one of several children in his family. Chances are the family's income is quite small, barely enough to pay the rent and buy the groceries. Maybe he's the type of boy who knows he would like the great outdoors but who has never had much chance to find out for himself. He probably likes baseball and fishing, even though he may not have done much fishing.

He probably has a tremendous appetite and especially likes milk but has never had as much milk as he would like. He's a good boy, helps around the house and respects his parents. He doesn't especially like to get into the bathtub but once in, he has to be pried out. He believes in God and attends church each Sunday, whether it be Protestant or Catholic. As important as any point, he knows he's growing up and he wouldn't be "afraid" if he happened to have the opportunity to spend a vacation away from his parents.

If there's a boy with some or all of these qualifications reading this (or his mother or father) and he would like to spend a month this summer in the Glacier Park area of western Montana, he or his Parents should write to "Under 21" and say so. This is not a contest but the chosen boy will be selected on the basis of his letter or his parents' letter and the reasons why the youngster would like such a vacation.

We don't want to hear from families who can afford a vacation for themselves and their children. This time I'm being "prejudiced" enough so that only a boy who is underprivileged or whose status borders on the underprivileged is eligible. If you write or your parents write, give us your complete background. There will be no other publicity about this, no names will be published and no "winning" letter printed. In a few weeks I'll say that a winner has been chosen and name his town or city and that will be all.

From then on arrangements will be made through the mail with the parents. If train fare is needed for the boy, it will be furnished by "Under 21." One word for parents, don't send a long your son's name in the hopes of "getting rid of him" for several weeks and don't submit a name if your son isn't interested in the outdoors, in fishing, hiking, sports and horseback riding. The family making this offer doesn't want to be "baby-sitters" but friends of the boy and people who will enjoy his company as much as they hope he will enjoy theirs. Okay?

"Everybody says it's a small world... and getting smaller all the time. Then tell me why it's costing more and more to run it?"—James H. Russell, Belton (Tex.) Journal.

THE HOTTER THE WEATHER THE MORE HOT WATER YOU'LL NEED — MORE BATHS — MORE LAUNDRY

The average family will use a surprising amount of hot water during these warm months. Nearly everyone bathes more frequently. Children dirty a lot more clothes, too, and adults like to change clothes more frequently for comfort and appearance. It all adds up to a need for more hot water.

The Mail Attitude

"... that to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed..."

The foregoing is from the Declaration of Independence, of course. With the "glorious" Fourth soon to be upon us, some Americans will steal a moment or two from their crowded leisure time to think about original national principles.

The Declaration was put together by free-wheeling men who sought order in their lives but refused to swallow established authority, simply because it was established.

They believed in a Creator who gave single individuals "unalienable" rights which couldn't be stifled by monarchs.

Their minds once resolved on this point, they did something about it. The handful of mystics in Philadelphia launched a new nation which soon became the most vigorous of all recorded history.

Our government still runs by the consent of the governed, but the governed are consenting to almost anything and with a minimum of concern.

Over huge areas of society, independence of individual thought has vanished. It has been replaced by mediocrity.

Where our forefathers found a vision and worked toward it, we rarely dream. Where they labored with a vengeance, our people bargain for more leisure time, shorter work weeks, earlier retirement. Where they were bold, we are afraid.

Mr. K. this week called the United States a "worn-out runner running on its past reputation."

The Soviet Premier also contended: "Work alone is the source of the wealth of society and the wealth of every man."

To a great degree, our governed have forgotten their past, live for the sensation of the present.

An independent nation can only be the product of independent thinking citizens. Nothing productive emerges from idle time or idle minds.

Thomas Jefferson and John Hancock made it sure that Americans would have the right to govern themselves. But they did nothing, nor could they, to guarantee that the governed would think for themselves.

Do you feel independent on this Independence Day?

At an interesting meeting of the Redford and Livonia Rotary Clubs, a speaker from Chrysler Corp. last week did a pretty fair job of urging that America go back to work, though he used different vocabulary. A host of serious thinkers have adopted similar themes recently.

Thomas J. Fletcher of Chrysler told the Rotarians that he thought President Kennedy probably had spoken too fast and without much depth of thinking when in his campaign he had warned the citizens to prepare for "sacrifice." He contended that later events indicated that Kennedy didn't seem to know specifically what he had in mind when he made that statement.

"The word should be greater 'dedication,' rather than 'sacrifice,' as we know the word in its general meaning," said the speaker.

"Our aim should be to do a better job, to increase our individual participation in building a better community and civilization."

"This isn't sacrifice, it's fulfillment." His claim was that we could reduce federal taxes ("and put greater energy into the community") and produce more satisfying goods, and still be making a stronger country.

To deprive ourselves of material goods, even in a mood of sacrifice and self-suffering, would take a frightful toll on our economy and isn't necessary or desirable, he said.

And strangely, if you analyze it, the corporation man's analysis for Americans is almost identical to Mr. K's for the Russian people.

"Work and you'll win."

Fourth of July is the traditional milestone for taking stock on the state of big league baseball.

It appears a cinch that the Detroit Tigers will be perched in first place on that date, and many of the patriots are enjoying calling this prophet to note that we predicted at the season's outset that the Tigers would finish no better than fifth this season. "What say you now?" they query with glee.

The season isn't over yet, gentlemen. The Tigers are intoxicated with their unexpected success, and they have an esprit d'corps which hasn't existed here in at least a decade, and they're amazing.

Nonetheless, they remain weak at shortstop and catcher, and we repeat our earlier caution: no pennant ever was won by a team which was soft at those two positions.

If this rookie McAuliffe stands up at shortstop, it will make an impressive difference — he wasn't even in the picture at the start of the season. He could keep Detroit up among the top three.

But if he's a flash in the pan, the last half of the season will see the Tigers slowly sinking down the standings. As predicted.

Conductor Attends Symphony Conference

Philadelphia, Pa. — Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony, was in Philadelphia last week meeting with many of the most noted personalities from the world of music and culture at the American Symphony Orchestra League Gold Baton Award for Distinguished Service to Music and the Arts, the Concert Artist Guild Award to Orchestras, and the Ditson Fund Award to Orchestras.

The delegates spent much of their time discussing problems common to all arts organizations with many of the leading authorities in the field. Probing such matters as artistic standards and the support of the arts by business were William Schuman, composer and president of the Juilliard School of Music, Edgar B. Young, secretary of New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, Edward Durell Stone, architect, and Hugh Duffield, vice-president of Sears Roebuck and Co., among other distinguished speakers.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary to President Kennedy, addressed the convention delegates at Friday night's Annual Awards Banquet, an event which has attracted considerable national attention in the past few years — both through its traditionally high level of principal speakers and the national awards presented as a part of its program. Among the awards are the American Symphony Orchestra League Gold Baton Award for Distinguished Service to Music and the Arts, the Concert Artist Guild Award to Orchestras, and the Ditson Fund Award to Orchestras.

On the lighter side, the delegates were treated to a "Tune-Up Party" presented by orchestras in the Philadelphia area to help new arrivals get acquainted with their colleagues. Thursday evening they attended a Robin Hood Dell concert, hearing the Robin Hood Dell Orchestra, composed of Philadelphia Orchestra musicians, under the direction of Wilfrid Pelletier, and with Metropolitan Opera star Roberta Peters as soloist.

The League is a non-profit service and research organization whose voting members consist of symphony orchestras and arts councils.

Learning Is Touch and Go Affair

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series of articles by The Mail's managing editor who is out to prove, or disprove, that just about anyone can learn how to fly—an airplane, that is.)

By Jim Sponseller

Take any warm, sunny Sunday afternoon and you'll find a large crowd of spectators at Mettetal Airport. Airplanes — whether they be the big jets or one and two-engine jobs found at Mettetal — seem to have some sort of fascination. But many of these spectators are puzzled.

"Why can't they make up their minds?" little Roger asks his Pop as he sees plane after plane land and then take off without even stopping. These pilots seem to be full of indecision.

Well, little Roger, these pilots, I've learned, are doing what they call "touch and go." It's simply a practice maneuver. After six hours of flying lessons, I've reached the touch and go stage.

"Okay, you're going to make this one a real good one," my instructor Alan Finney assures me as I turn the plane toward the final runway approach. Ahead about a quarter mile is the tiny black strip.

It's quite a phenomena. When sitting on one end of that runway ready for a take-off, it looks like it's 50 feet wide and a mile long. But suddenly, as you approach the runway, it shrinks to about 10 feet long and eight inches wide. (Actually, the blacktop runway is 2,250 feet long and 50 feet wide.)

"Now get her lined up straight," Al reminds me. I struggle with the control wheel and the rudder pedals. Now the runway is off to the left. I give it some right rudder. Now the runway is off to the right. "Wish that airport would hold still," I mumble.

I glance over at Al. He is looking casually out the win-plane is now about five feet above the runway as I pull back on the control wheel. "Back some more, back some more," he continues.

But before I get around to pulling the wheel back some more the plane has dropped to the ground with a thump and is rolling along at 60 miles an hour. "Take her off," Al commands. "Take her off," Al commands.

The carburetor heat control is shoved in and the throttle is opened wide. The Piper Colt shoots ahead down the runway as I gamely try to keep it in a straight line. Within seconds it is going fast enough and I pull back the control wheel and up it goes.

"You look a little tense," Al declared as we headed off over farm land for another circle to the left.

"How did you guess?" I replied dryly.

"These first landings are the only fun instructors have," Al said with a grin. Subsequent landings were not much better — and so me-worse. On two of them I was so far off the runway that we had to give it the throttle and take off before touching down.

One of them was so smooth that it was like landing on glass. But before I had time to compliment myself, Al took the controls. "We're not on the ground," he informed me.

Actually we had been floating several feet above the ground. "Too much ground speed," he added.

An hour of "touch and go" is tiring for the student pilot. Almost like playing 18 holes of golf. Back on the ground, I parked the ship and climbed out, a little shaky.

"That wasn't too bad was it?" my instructor said with reassurance. "When do you want to try it again Tomorrow?"

Once on the ground, the whole affair didn't seem too bad at that. In fact, it was enjoyable and certainly fascinating.

"Okay," I replied. "Tomorrow."

This family is the victim of hot weather stalling — one of three infuriating troubles that can strike your car on sizzling days. Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend fights all three.

HAPPY JULY 4th?

Fight hot weather stalls with Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend. Famous 9-ingredient formula now adjusted for top performance when highways sizzle.

You can get Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend at any Shell station on your route this weekend. Read how it just might save you a lot of trouble.

ENGINES, like people, can suffer from heat prostration. Especially in the kind of hot and heavy traffic you may face during the weekend ahead.

Here are three infuriating troubles that are caused by excessive heat — and what Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend does to fight them.

How Super Shell fights hot weather stalls

If your engine sputters and dies on a hot day, it may have an ailment called vapor lock.

Hot weather can make certain gasolines start to boil right in the fuel line. They literally bubble. Vapor lock takes place when the bubbles choke off the fuel supply.

Shell scientists attack vapor lock by revising Super Shell's nine-ingredient formula in summer.

They reduce its volatility. This produces a Hot Weather Blend of Super Shell that's not likely to boil in your fuel line. It cuts the chances of hot weather stalls to a minimum.

How Super Shell fights hard starting

Here's what can happen when you try to re-start your car after a hot drive.

With the fan stopped and the cooling system idle, intense heat under the hood can actually make gasoline percolate in some carburetors. Just like coffee in a pot. The gasoline spills over, floods the engine — and makes it hard to start.

Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend is formulated to stand high temperatures without percolating. You get quick starts even after a long, hard, hot drive.

How Super Shell fights rough idling

The same trouble that causes summer starting difficulties can give your car the shakes every time you stop for a traffic light.

Super Shell's Hot Weather Blend attacks both problems the same way. Its formula is adjusted so that it's in no hurry to boil and bubble. Result: smooth idling in hot weather.

Put Trust In Police Shot--Not Lady Luck

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, today reminded Michigan residents who haven't been immunized against polio that there is still time to be at least partially protected before the seasonal peak arrives for this disease which each year needlessly cripples hundreds of Americans of all ages.

"By having one shot now and a second a month later, you may be providing yourself the margin of safety which could mean the difference between your spending the rest of your life as a healthy person or a cripple in a wheelchair or iron lung,"

Doctor Heustis said. "The one should be any doubt in anyone's mind about which is the wiser choice--protection by vaccination or trusting to Lady Luck, the health commissioner pointed out. Polio has never honored those who trusted to luck in favor of vaccination and it no longer respects age nor sex in selecting its victims.

Even though polio continues to strike hardest and most frequently among the very young, each year finds breadwinners and even persons over 65 among the victims of this crippling disease. Last year in Michigan, one of the polio deaths was a 48-year old man.

The Reader Speaks Up

Editor: Do we want Plymouth water treated with Fluoride or do we want to drink water? Most of us want water when we are thirsty, not soup. There is a great danger that lurks in the measuring of one part of Fluoride to a million parts of water. How in treating the water for a City, can they be sure that no larger percentage gets into our drinking water? Do you want to get poisoned? There is no benefit claimed for older people when they take this poison into their inners. Only a small percentage used by the children could benefit teeth. Yet we would pay for treating millions of gallons used for watering the lawn, the flowers and the bushes, also in washing our clothes. Do we want it in our bath water? Let us ask our City Fathers to let us vote yes or no on putting this poison in our City water? This is our right. G. I. Friday

TAKING SHAPE rapidly is this new addition to Plymouth High School. Facing N. Main St., the addition will provide more classroom space and another exit and entrance. It is one of the many projects planned for completion of the Senior High this summer. Only work that did not interfere with students and their classes was dismissed before school was dismissed for the summer. All of the jobs are to be completed by September.

Coin Collectors Form New Club

Coin enthusiasts of Plymouth, Northville, Livonia, Novi, Garden City and surrounding area held an organizational meeting at the Plymouth City Hall when coin collectors and by-laws, election of officers and a name were determined.

The club adopted the name of Riverside Coin Club. The club is for all youngsters as well as adults.

Senior membership is for everyone over and including the age of 18 years. A Junior membership was created for 17 year olds and under. Dues and initiation fees were created in relation to membership status in the Club. Membership is open to both males and females.

The following members were elected as officers in the club: president, Ernest Koi of Plymouth; vice-president, James Perna of Northville; and secretary-treasurer, Betty Sarver of Northville.

James Perna was a unanimous choice of the membership present to serve as the club's auctioneer. President Koi will make other necessary appointments in the near future.

The Riverside Coin Club will hold bi-monthly meetings with the first Thursday being an evening meeting and the third Sunday being an afternoon meeting. The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the Plymouth Township Hall on Ann Arbor Rd. in Plymouth on Thursday, July 6 at 8 p.m. All interested collectors are invited to attend this and other meetings.

Dear Amy:
I entertain quite frequently and I have found that my women friends have ruined my carpets with their skinny, steel-beeled shoes. These heels have left dents in the rugs and have pulled the loops out. Well, I never said anything but now I'm moving and I am buying new carpets. I enjoy their company but I don't want my new carpets ruined.

Would you have the nerve to tell your friends to leave their shoes at the door if your carpets were at stake. Be perfectly honest, Amy, because I have to know. Thank you.

Anxiously Waiting
Dear Wally:
I want!

Dear Amy:
My husband wants a divorce. I am 19 and have a 7 month old baby. He said he doesn't love me and never did. He married me to make me happy only to find he is unhappy. I checked up on the grounds for divorce. I am not sure but I do not think they will grant him a divorce.

I love my husband very much and don't want to see him hurt. I have tried every way I know how to make this marriage work out. I want to keep my husband and still make him happy.

Could you tell me how it could be done? I have tried to talk things over with him but he doesn't want to talk about anything. I don't know what is the cause of this break. If you could help, it would be most welcome.

An Anxious Wife
Dear Wally:
There is little precious advice for a 19 year old wife and mother whose husband does not want to assume the responsibilities of marriage and is looking for a way out... which he will eventually find. But I am printing this letter for the benefit of other teen-agers who I hope will think twice before they rush to say "I do."

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the time of Mother's illness and death. We thank Reverend Donald Williams and The Schrader Funeral Home, also the ladies of The First Baptist Church for the lovely dinner they so kindly provided.
The families of Mrs. Anna Robinson Gates

With deepest gratitude we extend this word of thanks for the many kind acts of sympathy, expressed by thoughtful friends.

We wish also to give special thanks to Dr. Henry J. Walch D.D., The Order of the Eastern Star Chapter 115 and The Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47 F. and A.M. These kindnesses have meant much to us.
The family of June Lamb Popp

German Exchange Student Gives Views on Adolf Eichmann Trial

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article is written by an exchange student at Plymouth High School who is staying at the Gerald Fischer home. Born near Berlin, his home was bombed and destroyed during World War II. His father, a soldier in the German army, was turned over to the Russians after the war and was forced to work for the Reds two years in a mine. Later, the family left everything behind in East Germany and fled to West Germany.

Jerusalem, capital of the Jewish state of Israel. There, the most publicized trial of our times is taking place. The accused: Adolf Eichmann. The prosecutor: the State of Israel. The charge: systematic murder and torture of six million people because of their race, religion and nationality.

Eichmann was captured last year hiding in Argentina. At first the Argentinian government asked for a formal denial from Ben Gurion that the Israeli Government knew anything about it. The reply by the Israeli Prime Minister was one of the most undiplomatic notes in diplomatic history. Ben Gurion admitted that Eichmann had been captured in Argentina and taken to Israel. After a lot of talk and argument Argentina accepted Israel's apology that was sent finally to President

Frondizi. All difficulties have been overcome and Eichmann is sitting now behind his bullet-proof glass box in the Jerusalem court room and listens with a face that never changes its expression to the charges brought up against him. Again the world was reminded of the years from 1933 to 1945 when discrimination, torture and murder swept through Germany, at first, then through Europe, and finally through the whole world. The man behind the scene, in my opinion one of Germany's greatest enemies, Adolf Hitler. To understand his rise to power let us have a look at the years after World War I. Defeated in the war, millions of people unemployed, morally shattered by the flight of the Kaiser, huge reparation payments (we could have never paid them) imposed by the Allies, a democracy that did not work at all because of the split in the parliament between the socialists, the conservatives, and the Communists, and an inflation coming up — this was Germany. And then came Adolf Hitler. He promised bread, work, money — a leadership.

(Here it seems to me that the following should be added: the only time that Hitler openly competed for power he was beaten by a large margin by Hindenburg. In all other cases the Nazis never had a majority, although together with the Communists they were able to make a functioning of the parliament impossible.)

In 1928, when things were relatively well for the German people, the Nazi vote came down to three per cent. Then came the world economic crisis and with it there came the votes. It was the old protest vote so well known in the United States.

Hitler was nominated by Hindenburg chancellor, and a soon he had taken over all power in the government. He eliminated all his opponents until his position, backed by the armed forces, was strong and secure. It took him one and a half years to do this, and a half year before World War II there was actually no Jew who had any rights in Germany. Of course, the Jews tried to get into other countries, but no one wanted them. I repeat — one.

Just before he started World War II, Hitler approved quietly of the "final solution" of the Jewish problem. They would be killed — each one of them. In charge of this operation — Adolf Eichmann. A series of concentration camps was built and in them huge gas chambers were established. The gas chambers worked around the clock — killing as many as 10,000 lives per day. The bodies were burned in huge furnaces and great clouds of smoke and the odor of burning flesh filled the air for miles. The names of those places have gone into history: Auschwitz (4,000,000), Dachau (230,000), Mauthausen (200,000), Buchenwald (55,000), Bergen-Belsen (30,000).

Germany lost the war, and at Nuernberg in 1946 a group of Nazi leaders was tried; most of them were imprisoned for life or hung by their necks. Some were missing. Among them — Adolf Eichmann. In one of the most determined manhunts in history, he was found in Argentina after 13 years. We all know what followed.

Very often I wonder and ask myself: What is the purpose of this trial? It has been proved again and again that Germany is guilty. The trial will do much more harm than it will do good. It will merely reopen old wounds for both Jews and Germans. It will undo many of the reconstruction efforts by both people since 1945 to build up a new life and new relationships. Probably, it will stir up many anti-German feelings created in the last war, which would not only be dangerous but also unjustified. Today's Germany is not the Germany of Hitler any more. This does not mean that the past is forgotten. This does not mean that guilt should not be punished. However, the attitude toward Germany should not be influenced by what happened under his name under the Nazi regime but by what happened in the 16 years since 1945. Fortunately, many people realize this. One example: "Today's Germany — the Germany of Adenauer and the Social Democrats — is not the Germany of Hitler." The man who spoke those words was Ben Gurion, Israeli Prime Minister.

I should doubt the educational value of the trial very much. I do not think that anyone of us wants to be educated in cruelties, inhumanities, and atrocities.

Finally, I should like to give my opinion about two statements heard often in connection with the trial. The first one: there are still many former Nazis in German public life. This always sounded to me like an accusation: Nazis are running your government and they are afraid of the Eichmann trial. Indeed, there are many former Nazis in German public life. I assume that most German men were Nazis once, which would logically mean that we are still a Nazi country.

My father was a member of the Nazi party, too. This does not mean that he is a Nazi now. The German people are supporting wholeheartedly democracy which was proven again and again in election after election when they defeated right wing candidates representing reactionary groups so that these have disappeared from the German political life entirely.

Another argument that I often heard (and which contains a certain truth) is that not too much if anything is taught in schools about the Third Reich. To support this argument the example of the German students who did not know who Hitler was and what he did was brought up. — I doubt that anyone within 15 years can forget those events and eliminate them completely from his mind.

I doubt that any person with common sense believes that Hitler is good because he built the Autobahnen, etc. The Federal government and the state governments in Germany have insisted that current and recent history is to be taught in schools. But I think one should not only talk about recent history in school but also about the history of past centuries which is full of denigrations, injustices, discriminations, and terrible things.

I think every German should feel very deeply about the matters discussed above, and I hope you will excuse me for being so outspoken.

Outdoor Guide Now Available

The 1961-62 edition of "Michigan Outdoor Guide," listing all public recreation facilities in the state, has been published by Automobile Club of Michigan. It was announced today.

The 54-page booklet is available free to the public at all AAA offices in Michigan according to Robert Cain, Auto Club Plymouth Division Manager.

Listed and described are all 68 state parks and recreation areas, including seven new state parks not previously listed. They are: Fayette, Fort Custer, Muskallonge, Port Crescent, Sturgeon Point and Tawas Point.

Wayne County Parks and facilities of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority also are listed and described.

In addition, the booklet lists all roadside parks, city and county parks with camping facilities, state and national forests and Isle Royale, Michigan's only national park.

Information on camping procedures, protecting homes from burglars before embarking on trips and illustrations are also included.

Men In Service

Karl Erbacher
Serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Tortuga operating out of San Diego, California, is Karl D. Erbacher, interior communications electrician second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Erbacher of 624 Evergreen, Plymouth.

Roger Beukema
The guided missile cruiser USS Topeka operates as a major unit of the potent Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Serving aboard the cruiser are Roger J. Beukema, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beukema of 1419 Sheridan, and Jesse B. Adkison, radioman third class, USN, son of Mrs. Theilma M. Coats of 374 Roe St.

The current cruise, which began in March, has taken the crewmen to numerous ports in Korea, Okinawa and Japan.

Each port city visited offered Topeka men the opportunity for recreation and education through athletic contests between the crew and local teams and by sightseeing and meeting the people of the different countries. In order to meet the people of different customs and backgrounds, crewmen host English language conversation and orphanage groups and frequently visit hospital patients.

Larry Wilkie
Marine Pvt. Larry M. Wilkie, son of Mrs. Charlotte Wilkie of 810 Forest, on June 9, completed a four-week individual combat training course with the Regimental

Jaycees' Show Raided
An early rehearsal of "IT'S A BLAST," the Jaycee show being presented on Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Junior High Parking Lot, was momentarily interrupted by an air raid.

Two jet fighter planes swooped down on the rehearsal, tipped their wings, and then zoomed away. The performers that were buzzed did not get a chance to recognize the plane's number on the fuselage. However, they did report the incident to the local Buck Rodgers fan club president, Hollis Haynes.

No jet planes will be seen in "IT'S A BLAST." Missiles and rockets will be featured. No doubt, some professional jealousy has crept into the "big picture."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Lost And Found, Found, Found, Found!"

I ran one of the most important "Lost and Found" advertisements in Clarion history for the Widow Parker last week. Seems she lost her purse with $8 in it at the last town meeting. We figured it would mean a lot to her if it were found and returned.

Well, the ad ran and the strangest thing happened! We received four envelopes—from Buck Hanson, Windy Taylor, Curly Rice and Slim Thomas. Each envelope contained a note saying the enclosed money was found in or around Town Hall. We returned the lost money with 300% interest!

From where I sit, people are pretty wonderful. I see it in a lot of little things. For instance, my neighbor always has a cold glass of beer on hand when he invites me over for dinner—though he prefers tea with his meals and has for years. His gesture is not only generous but tolerant, too... both are valuable assets to be "found" in any community.
