Plymouth Voters Beat School Millage Issue, 3-1

FACTS and OPINIONS

by Paul Chandler

Michigan is a troubled State, Detroit is a troubled City, America is a troubled nation.

It is time for tranquil minds to become upset again, I'm afraid, and it's probably the Detroit newspaper strike which causes this placid reporters' ulceric mood this morning.

In addition, naturally there is Big Steel's lion-and-lamb transfiguration which occurred on the national level last week.

It's impossible to brush away the memory of that "strike" by the entire school teaching force of New York City. Their employers, as you perhaps analyzed, are no big business barons but, instead, the taxpayers of the largest city in the United States.

The political see-saw in Lansing is something else to hoist the acid into the throat; the game where the entire object seems to be to try to win a coming election and let the public weal take the hindmost.

And there is the Teamster strike against the Detroit metropolitan press.

Maybe it's our upbringing, and maybe it's because journalism is our business, but we believe that a strike which denies the local public its opportunity to know what's going on is second in destructiveness only to one which would affect the immediate public health or safety.

And while the newspaper strike brings the most orange behind the eyes, there is a unnerving pattern through all of the incidents forementioned cited.

Political theorists can argue as they will over the recipe, but sooner or later the proof of the economic pudding is the strength of the national community.

In place after place today—at a time when it would seem that even infants would realize that Americans are hooked-up in grim economic competition with the rest of the world—we are finding power units striking out, stark and unbending, in pursuit of their particular aims, with no visible concern for how their conduct might affect the larger destiny of American society.

It is an axiom that not everybody can "get theirs" at the exact same time. Something will suffer, key structural parts bend and there will be failures in the economy when the pressure becomes heavy enough.

Then we will be left with something else in the American powerhouse to patch with string and bailing wire; something else weak and wanting; something that will require government first aid.

When the so-called "free" elements of society refuse to place the community interest above personal interest, they are inviting their own doom and inevitably that of the golden goose as well.

President Kennedy made a angry case of how the price raise by U.S. Steel would adversely hurt the United States in economic competition all over the globe; and he pointed up how this constituted a betrayal of what had been "understood" in settlements between the steel companies and their workers.

Many have noted how the political gymnastics in Lansing have influenced the very future welfare of the State in which we all live; how bankruptcy is treated almost like the parlor game of "monopoly" or "careers."

We contend that when "dedicated" teachers walk away from their jobs and their students, we've come a million miles from original idealistic approaches to a professional life. When the teacher says "give me mine, or I quit", what will be the mind of their pupils ultimately shaped?

And when a labor union says, "give us the power of veto over all management decisions" or otherwise, there'll be no newspapers in town, how concerned are they with the community in which they live, or the quality of citizen they purport to "serve"?

Lugubriously, we repeat an old fear. Ahead we can see only big government in our future; politicians determining the size of wages, the amount of profits, the price of all goods, the where, and when and why of all investment.

When that happens, it'll be some form of "Ism", though not necessarily "CommunISM".

It is no thought to send one whistling down the street, even if baseball has returned to town.

PRACTICING FOR THEIR May concert in Plymouth, these members of the Plymouth Civic Chorus met Monday night for rehearsal. Standing around accompanist Mrs. Thomas Lock are soloists Albert Page and Alice M. Short and director Fred Nelson. The concert will be the first for the Chorus since its reorganization earlier this year.

Will Annual Meeting Go? Township Board Hopes So

Petitions asking a vote to abolish the Annual Meeting in Plymouth Township will be circulated this week and members of the Township Board are encouraging citizens to sign them.

Local officials described the meeting — held every April—as "poorly attended" and "not necessary" and ordered attorney Earl Demel to draw up petition forms. Deadline for petitions which must be signed by eight percent, or about 350, of the Township's registered voters — is June 5. Voters would ballot on the proposal in August.

Board members acted unanimously at their meeting Tuesday, only two weeks after the 1962 Annual Meeting. Fewer than 50 people had attended the session. They heard routine reports and gave rubber-stamp approval to the Township budget and appointments.

"The meeting is so poorly attended," Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes said, "and nobody pays any attention to it. It's the same people who show up every year."

Added Supervisor Roy Lindsay: "In the old days, when Townships were young, it was a big day... an essential thing. Now all of our meetings are public and anyone who attends them will be heard. We have to publish our budget. What's the object of the Annual Meeting?"

Editor's Note: Traditionally, the Annual Meeting, patterned after the old New England Town Meeting, is where all residents have the right to voice their opinions and vote on matters of interest to the community.

Only a vote of the people of the district can abolish the meeting. A resolution by the Township Board must accompany it.

"Some annual meetings have had a little bit of horseplay involved in other communities," Clerk Fred Miller told the Board. "We've never had any abuse."

"It will be the duty of all of us to put petitions out and take care of them," Lindsay told Board members. The Board could have ordered the proposition put on the ballot by just passing a resolution, but members said it would "look better" if the proposal was petitioned for. "It might look better politically," opined Harold Hammill from the audience at the meeting.

In other business, Board members handled briefly over a proposal to pass an ordinance that would regulate "vendors, hawkers, peddlers and solicitors" in the Township.

A fee for license for such persons was proposed and a penalty for non-compliance was also suggested. Township Attorney Demel was asked to draw up a sample ordinance, but some Board members said there might be more trouble to enforce it than in not having one at all.

Since the Township has no police department and because Wayne County Sheriff's Dept. won't enforce Township ordinances, violators would have to be prosecuted by officials and an attorney would need to be hired.

Because of this fact, already, many Township ordinances aren't being enforced. "There are a lot of ordinances being violated and nothing is done," Trustee Sparks said. "It's exactly my point," replied Mrs. Holmes. "Why another?"

Replying to a request from a subdivider's agent, the Board refused to waive an ordinance that would have permitted development of 90-foot lots in the subdivision without sidewalks.

OK Water in Sewers

The Plymouth City Commission has rescinded its controversial resolution on sump pumps and has ruled that weep tiles may be emptied into sanitary sewers.

The Commission's action came at a special meeting April 9 when it unanimously passed a resolution revoking its Nov. 6 ruling on usage of sump pumps.

"Weep tiles may be emptied into the sanitary sewers," the Commission ruled, "except at locations where the storm sewer is available and usable." The Commission's original action had been criticized by builders, who argued that the ruling would work hardships on contractors.

Return Is Seen

By more than a 3-1 margin, Plymouth area voters decisively turned down a school millage request Monday that would have provided 7 to 7.5 mills for district school expenses.

Unofficial returns showed that 3,010 persons voted against the Board of Education's request and 852 cast "yes" ballots. A record number of 3,862 persons voted in the school district's largest turnout ever for an election.

School Board members immediately stated they would seek another, reduced, millage request at the general school election June 11.

They issued the following statement:

"The voters' rejection of the proposed increase in operating millage will require the Board of Education to make a complete re-evaluation of the educational program of the Plymouth Community School District. The defeat of this proposal which leaves the district with reduced revenues makes it essential that a revised millage proposal be prepared for voter approval at the annual school election on June 11.

"To meet this date will require a decision on the new proposal by the board not later than May 14. The school superintendent has been asked to present the recommendations of the administration as soon as possible. After a thorough study of these recommendations the Board of Education will submit a program for voter approval."

Voting climaxed a campaign between the Board of Education, the Plymouth Education Association and many Parent-Teachers groups on one side and a "Plymouth taxpayers' group" on the other. The Board and the teachers' organization had called the proposal a "necessity" and had said the funds, which included a 3.5 millage renewal and a 3.5 new mill request (3 mills of which were to be levied the first year) were needed for enrollment increases next fall and for teacher salaries.

Funds raised by the voting would have provided operation money for the new Plymouth Junior High School—West and would have boosted teachers' salaries. Teachers had promised to accept an "earned increment" plan by which they would be evaluated yearly before receiving wage increases in return for the salary hike.

Replying to a request from a subdivider's agent, the Board refused to waive an ordinance that would have permitted development of 90-foot lots in the subdivision without sidewalks.

TALLYING RETURNS FOR Plymouth's school millage election Monday night were, left to right, Mrs. Aila Miller, Board of Education employee; Mrs. Garnet Stickney, secretary to Superintendent Russell Isbister; and Miss Pauline Pomey, child accountant and co-op student. Plymouth voters rejected, 3-1, the 7.5 mill proposal.

DSR Promises Plymouth Service

A six-times-daily bus service between Plymouth and downtown Detroit has been promised to the community by the Department of Street Railways (DSR), Detroit's municipally-owned transit system.

City Manager Al Glassford revealed Monday that the DSR had surveyed the Plymouth area and had arrived at a schedule which would put buses out of Plymouth at—6:32 a.m., 7:48 a.m. and 10:40 a.m. Buses would leave Detroit for Plymouth at—3:34 p.m., 4:42 p.m. and 5:49 p.m. Total running time would be one hour and 15 minutes. The 6:32 a.m. bus, for example, would arrive in downtown Detroit at 7:46 a.m.

New Look Due Downtown

Architects are at work on the new building to be located in downtown Plymouth at the corner of Penniman and Main Streets.

Hans Gehrke, Jr., president of First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of Detroit, told members of the City Commission Monday that drawings will be completed within the next few weeks. "At that time," he wrote, "we will have Mr. A. F. Herman, the architect, send a copy of the plot plan to you."

Commission members had requested that a dedication to the city of some frontage along Main St. be made so that the roadway could be widened. At the intersection, Main becomes a 40-foot roadway from an 88-foot street across the intersection.

Whether or not Detroit DSR bus service will be available to Plymouth when the C & O early morning commuter train is discontinued is still undecided.

But local residents have definite views on the need for more transportation in the city. This week, The Livonian's man-in-the-street reporter asked—

"DOES PLYMOUTH NEED BETTER TRANSPORTATION SERVICE?"

"We have good service," replied Gladys Lee, 1197 Penniman, "but it could be better. I would like to see bus service to Northville and Wayne. When I want to get anywhere I have to drive to Wayne and catch a bus there for Ann Arbor and other places."

Carl Symons, 520 Ross St., said, "I don't use buses and neither does my wife so, actually, it doesn't make too much difference to me. But it would definitely be good to have better bus service here. I'm lucky that I don't have to depend on buses for transportation."

"Definitely we need more bus service," said Doris Daniel, 9048 Brookline. "If you're without a car, you just don't have any transportation. I'd like to see service to Dearborn and

"I think we could use bus service," Wendell Gray, 804 Arthur, said. "I don't use buses too often because I drive but I think buses would be a good thing."

(Editor's Note: Each week, The Livonian asks Plymouth area residents a question of current interest and prints their answers in this column. Questions for this week were asked Tuesday, April 11, at Main and Penniman Streets. If you have a question you'd like to see used, send your suggestion to: Plymouth Edition, The Livonian, 33050 Five Mile, Livonia, Mich., or call GA 2-3160.)

'Listening Post' Slates Programs

The American Association of University Women have selected as their speakers for the second season of the Plymouth Listening Post the 1960 Pulitzer Prize winning poet, W. D. Snodgrass who has been acclaimed by Judson Jerome of The Antioch Review as a candidate for immortality.

Robert Lowell considers his work "beautifully perfect and a break-through for modern poetry." He calls Mr. Snodgrass

"the poet with content." His poetry also won international fame in 1961 when he received the Guinness Poetry Prize in England.

Mr. Snodgrass will share his creative thinking and highly imaginative works with his audience on Wednesday, Jan. 9, in the Senior High Auditorium in Plymouth at 8:30 p. m.

Other fields to be explored will be Astronomy in the Rocket Age with Dr. J. L. Hadcock of the University of Michigan on Thursday, Oct. 25; and on Tuesday, March 5, the critical issue of the time will be debated by two highly qualified scholars of political science.

These programs have been carefully selected to further the purpose of the Listening Post by providing not entertainment, but the stimulation for further study.

The proceeds from the Plymouth Listening Post are tax exempt as all profits go toward helping support AAUW's Fellowship Program which last year made awards of $134,500 to fifty gifted women in the United States for advanced women in 31 countries abroad.

General Chairman for the Listening Post is Mrs. J. W. Moehle, program chairman is Mrs. Sidney Cady, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Houston, Mrs. J. R. Witwer, and Mrs. John Hass.

IVORY HOSTS KIDS

The boys and girls of the South Redford Township Co-operative Nursery, accompanied by their mothers and teachers, spent a very delightful Thursday morning at the John F. Ivory horse farm. A tour of the grounds was made by horse and wagon and also a fire engine, which the children enjoyed and mothers too. The pony rides were also a great thrill to the youngsters.

ONE OF SEVERAL soloists in last weekend's Plymouth Jr. High School music festival was 10-year-old trumpet soloist Sandy McCorkle, a TV star with Lawrence Welk.

Plymouthite Will Show Mosaic Art

Demonstrations of the making of mosaic will be a feature of the next exhibit at the Hartley-Powers Gallery in Northville. On Thursday and Saturday afternoons from April 15 to April 30, Mrs. Jessie Hudson, the featured artist for this month, will be on hand to show the various steps in making of this ancient craft. Mrs. Hudson will have on display mosaics made from Italian and Byzantine glass, from broken pottery, and from tiny pieces of glass on glass.

In addition to her work in mosaic this versatile artist will exhibit paintings in oil, watercolor and in acrylic-resin; the graphic arts of silkscreen and wood-cut, and several pieces of sculpture.

The opening reception for this varied exhibit will be Sunday, April 15 from 2:00 to 6:00. The Hartley-Powers Gallery at 116 Main Street, Northville, is open weekdays from 10:00 to 6:00 and on Friday from 10:00 to 9:00 P. M. The demonstrations on mosaic-making will be given Thursday and Saturdays from 2:00 to 5:00 P. M.

Mrs. Hudson, a native of Glasgow, Scotland, resident of Plymouth for 10 years, president of the Three-Cities Art Club of Plymouth, Northville and Livonia, will graduate from Eastern Michigan University with a degree in fine arts this June.

55 Accidents Here to Date

The Plymouth Police Department has recorded 55 accidents on city streets during the first three months of 1962, a report filed with the City Commission Monday revealed.

The number is almost a 50 percent increase over the same number of accidents last year to this date. During the same period, four reckless driving tickets have been issued, one drunk driving violation has been recorded, and 25 speeding and 15 stop street and red light violations have been found. The number of prohibited parking tickets was 30, compared to 88 for the first three months of 1961, and overtime parking violations amounted to 83, compared to 334 during the same period in 1961.

Five auto thefts were recorded, 26 larcenies were reported and four breaking and entering complaints were investigated.

Readership

As a service to its readers, The Plymouth edition of The Livonian last week announced in one sentence on Page One that results of the school election would be available from our office. We listed our phone number, GA 2-3160.

We were delighted to provide the information, and proud to know that our readers know they can depend upon us for public service.

Chamber Is Watching

Here's Lansing Status On Sunday Closing Plan

Livonia Chamber of Commerce advised its members this week of the status of the Sunday Closing bill in the State legislature.

In a special bulletin to the business community, the Chamber noted that House Bill 416 favoring Sunday closing was amended by the State Senate last week and returned to the House.

On Friday the House voted not to accept the bill as amended by the Senate and the bill was referred to House-Senate conferees.

Chamber representatives were on the phone with Representative Chet Wozniak, originator of the bill, over last weekend and learned that the item of essential conflict between the two houses lies in its county application. The measure as passed by the House called for applying Sunday closing regulations to all counties with populations of 130,000 and over. Counties with lesser populations could be included under the law by a two-thirds favorable vote of their Boards of Supervisors.

Senate amendments last week, however, resulted in an inclusion of all counties regardless of population. A county could choose to exclude itself from provisions of the law by a two-thirds vote of its Board of Supervisors.

The House, Friday morning, did not accept the bill as rewritten by the Senate.

'Keep Away from Strangers'

Parents Should Warn Children

Since child molesting complaints increase at this time of the year, parents should strongly warn their children against accepting lures of strangers to go for walks or rides, says Sgt. Adolph Ploehn, commanding officer of the Detroit post of the Michigan State Police.

This cautionary advice, given now and occasionally repeated, might prevent some child from suffering an experience which could blight his or her life and even result in injury or death, he emphasizes.

Records of previous years show that child molesting complaints begin to increase in the spring, reach a peak during the summer months, and taper off when schools resume.

"Warn your children to have nothing to do with strangers. That's the safest rule for them to follow," Sgt. Ploehn advises. "Urge them to tell you right away if any stranger approaches and tries to lure them with candy or other things to go for walks or rides."

In 1961 there were 593 sex offense complaints, which include child molesting, that were investigated by the State Police. This was 12, or two per cent, more than in the previous year. Highest incidence of these complaints was in August with 84. July was next highest with 66, May third with 57, September fourth with 54 and June fifth with 53. No month had less than 32.

Fear of embarrassing publicity makes some parents reluctant to report molestation incidents to the police. This is unfortunate because it increases the difficulty in coping with these situations.

Names of children molested and their parents, however, are not used by the press, radio and television except when necessary in cases of severe emergency, such as abduction or murder. If all incidents were reported, police would have a better chance of apprehending the offenders and curtailing such offenses, Sgt. Ploehn says. Lack of such reporting may encourage the molester to strike again.

The Chamber informed its membership that House-Senate conferees must report the bill out by Friday of this week. It urged its members to contact local legislators asking for their vote in favor of Sunday closing.

"A KARTOON TIME" theatre is now open for Livonia area youngsters with no admission charge. Cartoons and comedy features are screened daily at the Treasure Isle Department Store in Shelden Center, Plymouth Rd. and Farmington Rd.

Send Your Voice Overseas

Mrs. Earl W. Kunsman, 20133 St. Francis Street, Livonia, Social Welfare Aide, Detroit Chapter, is one of the Detroit Red Cross Chapter volunteers helping with a new service project for men on military duty and their families, called "VOICES FROM HOME."

An anonymous donor has given the chapter recording equipment and volunteers have been trained to assist the family to prepare and record a personal message on plastic discs. Red Cross Field Directors at military hospitals and bases have play-back equipment the men may use to listen to their records in private. Messages of greeting may be sent to men hospitalized in this country or overseas, or to men on overseas duty in celebration of their birthdays, wedding anniversaries or religious observances.

Appointments to make the recordings are necessary. Families who are interested are invited to call the Red Cross, WO 1-3900, at least three weeks in advance of the special date, or immediately upon knowing of a serviceman's illness.

Recordings are made at the Chapter Headquarters, Elizabeth at John R., between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday each week and the first and fourth Saturdays. The recordings are packaged and mailed by the Red Cross at no cost to either family or serviceman.

Big Group of Citizens Open College Campaign

Real election campaigning to gain voter support for Northwest Wayne County Community College began Tuesday night, April 17. A Citizens Committee appointed by the Board of Trustees met at Bentley High School in Livonia to discuss the ways and means of conducting a successful election.

A huge gathering of committee members from Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia and Plymouth heard Mrs. John W. Moehle, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Trustees, explain the ground rules for the meeting. The President of the College, Dr. Eric J. Bradner, reviewed the educational needs of the area and revealed how the Board hopes to satisfy these needs.

The costs of the college, and how they will be kept to a minimum, were then discussed by Mr. Kenneth Lindner, Chairman of the Central Publicity Committee of the College. Calling his talk the "One Mill Story", Lindner discussed the reasons why one mill is to be requested at the polls in June. He explained that this one mill will pay the operating costs of the college and also will provide the money to repay the bond issue which is to appear on the ballot.

Paul Mutnick, Chairman of the Curriculum Committee of the Board of Trustees, adjourned the general meeting into four district meetings, where chairmen were elected, plans for the campaign discussed and publicity materials procured.

DOING HIS PART, William Brashear buys two tickets to help send a youth to camp. The Camp Commission will hold a card party May 5 at Newburg Methodist Church Hall, Ann Arbor Trail and Newburg Road, at 7:30. In addition to receiving door prizes, table prizes, refreshments, ticket purchasers will know they are assisting less fortunate children to go to camp this summer. Mrs. Wendell Ellis, Camp Chairman Committee and Mrs. Harold Mackinder, Card Party Chairman make sure "Bill" Brashear, regular supporter and his wife will be present. Mrs. Bud Blaisdell, GA 7-0221 will take ticket reservations.

Over 80 volunteer representing 12 different groups and others who provide individual volunteer services to Northville State Hospital, 41001 Seven Mile Road, Northville, attend its Second Volunteer Workshop on Tuesday, April 10, at the hospital. A panel composed of Miss Harriet Miller, O.T.R., 41001 Seven Mile Rd., who spoke of the work of her Occupational Therapy Department, Mrs. Ann Tenpenny, R.N., of 19119 Westmore, Livonia, who spoke of the work of the Nursing Department and Mrs. Louis Pearlman, 29809 Hillbrook, Livonia, President of the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary, whose comments were related to the over-all contribution of the volunteer, provided the basis of the buzz sessions which followed. Afterward, Philip N. Brown, M.D., Medical Superintendent, joined the panel members to answer the questions from the participants. Because of a lack of time and the number of questions, some of them had to be answered after the noon luncheon.

Very practical inquiries relating to the many different services provided by the volunteers were raised by them. Many related to the monthly ward parties provided by the groups and how these parties could be improved. Others concerned new dimensions of service which the volunteers are considering.

Over half of the participants then remained for escorted tours in the afternoon.

Livonia was represented at this workshop by the Senior Citizens of Livonia, and also residents who are members of the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary.

DALLAS — The shopping center business is in good shape. It has an excellent future. It is a rapidly growing business, even though the rate of expansion has leveled off somewhat. It is a tough, competitive business that demands a highly skilled professional management which can see beyond the current prosperity to the problems that lie ahead.

This is the gist of what J. H. Pearlstone Jr. of Baltimore, has told his colleagues who are developing shopping centers all across the United States and in Canada.

Mr. Pearlstone has been reporting on his experience and observations as president of the International Council of Shopping Centers. He is an aggressive exponent of scientific approaches to marketing and center development.

THE COUNCIL PRESIDENT spoke to a meeting of the council here in Dallas, his home town, from which he left to go off to college and eventually to go into development of shopping centers in 1954.

He discussed the present and future problems of shopping-center development in some detail. The largest single problem which faces the centers is what to do about the discount house, which also is going through a rapid expansion. He urged his colleagues to realize that the "discount" is here to stay, and "is not about to be attacked by the department store and other discounters and die on the vine."

Mr. Pearlstone recognizes that in some areas "the discounters are fiercely competitive with each other, and the department stores are beginning to fight back, but the discount is not ready to merge, consolidate, or go into bankruptcy."

ACCORDING TO MR. PEARLSTONE, the discount is "growing by what seems to be geometric progression." The developers of shopping centers were urged by their council president to give serious consideration to bringing qualified discount houses into their areas.

"I can easily envision the shopping center of the future having a conventional department store at one end of the mall, while at the other end will be one of the surviving discount houses," Mr. Pearlstone said. He conceded that it "will be a difficult job, but think of the prospects for traffic, dominance of the market area, and the advantages to your customers." It is a real challenge to the imagination, according to Mr. Pearlstone.

The men who develop shopping centers make up an imaginative group and their discussions were heavily larded with startling suggestions and challenges. Their group is comparatively youthful, and their enthusiasm was widely evident as they milled around in the lobby and grand ballroom of the big downtown hotel where they held their sessions here.

THEY HAD COME FROM Maine to California and from Montreal to San Antonio to talk over the complexities of their business, which a decade ago was a little-known thing.

When Charles A. Meyer, the southwestern vice-president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., told them that "merchandising is in a state of turmoil as never before," he was talking to the group as much as any segment of the economy has made it that way.

Mr. Meyer told the council members:

"Merchandising has made a full circle in the last 50 years, from door-to-door push-cart merchandising, to general stores, downtown department stores, big mail-order houses, suburban stores, shopping centers, regional shopping centers, and now it is back to house-to-house sales from a truck."

MR. MEYER CAUTIONED that real estate availability is not always the only criterion for locating shopping centers. He said:

"Because of the huge investment represented by a shopping center, the developer cannot afford to be wrong. Our population is shifting constantly, and today's success may be tomorrow's ghost town."

Leonard L. Farber of New York, a past president of the council, also discussed the problems of this mushrooming business with its developers. He, too, touched on the problem of the discount house. He told the council:

"In the next couple of years the discount store industry will begin to see a separating of the men from the boys. To some degree it is already evident. The grossly underfinanced have already begun to fold. The completely or almost completely leased operation has begun to disappear. Those who have depended to some degree on misleading advertising have seen their volume drop drastically."

"FOR THOSE WHO REMAIN, each year finds them adding new customer services, until they begin to look more and more like a low-markup conventional department store, even dropping, as some already have, the magic title of discount store."

"Today's discount store is no less a manifestation of the retail revolution than is the shopping center."

Off The Police Blotter

Gary Schei, 9310 Virginia, hitchhiking to Bentley High School, was picked up by a motorist described to be about 40 years of age driving a 2-door green, 1956 Cadillac. Passing his point of destination Gary, 17, complained, and finally had to resort to a fist-fight to get out of the car.

Carl Susock is in Redford Community Hospital where he was taken following an attack by several youths driving in a gray and white 1957 Chevrolet about 9:30 April 14. The youths pulled over to the car Susock was driving and asked if he wanted to race. He refused and they followed him. At a light they got out of their car and came over to Susock's where they proceeded to beat him until he fainted. Police were unable to question him, however, witnesses in his car gave police details of the attack and description of the attackers.

Further violence was reported by William Campbell, 19995 Inkster. Campbell told police six or seven youths between the ages of 15-17 forced their way into a teen-age party he and his wife were chaperoning last Friday night. They were carrying beer bottles and "were unruly, using profane language." When they were asked to leave they refused and a fight resulted. Campbell was assisted by his two foster sons. The intruders threatened to get more help and return. They were students of Clarenceville High School. One boy, Campbell said, must have been hurt as he was hit over the head with a beer bottle.

Police are concerned over the theft last week from the Melvin Hardware on Eight Mile Road. Taken was a 12 gauge shotgun, single barrel, one Daisy pump B.B. gun model #25. The shotgun is marked with a hole drilled in the stock under the butt plate, and a piece of paper with Melvin Hardware printed on it. Also taken was an unknown amount of hunting and fishing knives; some change from the cash register; and some shotgun shells. Two sets of footprints were left in the sand outside of the building.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

After spending two days as a "duenna" for Mrs. America last week, coming back to the typewriter and the newsbeat was a breather.

What a tight schedule has our representative to all the homemakers from America! I thought I knew a little something about pressure from approaching deadlines, but following around our first lady of the home and hearth made my deadlines seem like sheer fun and games. At the end of my day everyone expects me to look a wreck and I do—but Mrs. America must look as fresh at her last appearance, as her first.

For this she carries a small extra leather case with hair spray, extra hose, some Arpege perfume (her favorite) a hair brush, and a silk scarf that she wraps around her face and hair in her many clothes-changes for fashion shows, etc.

Another item not packed in the bag that I cannot stress enough, but which Lila Masson has in quantity, is a serene disposition and a terrific sense of humor.

How about the young man who wanted an autograph for his daughter? Lila took him by surprise by asking his daughter's name so she could personalize the autograph—"Oh, just make it Arnold!"

She has many funny things happen to her around the country, and says her experiences meeting so many wonderful people everywhere, have been priceless.

The stock question asked her by women is "what about your family, don't they miss you in the home?" The answer of course is, "Yes", but this is something faced by Lila, her husband Cleve and their three children and she agrees that without their help it would not be pleasant.

The comment I heard most often from the men was "You could be Miss America." (A real fringe benefit of the title.)

Mrs. Masson was on her own home ground, so to speak, as the guest of Quaker Oats Company. They are sponsoring a "Live Like Mrs. America Contest"—if you win, you and your husband would spend two weeks in Florida at the Mrs. America Pageant as "Honorary Mrs. America" plus gifts galore, which include a mink. Each state has a winner and you will be part of the fun—the wining and dining without having to make speeches, or be impeccably groomed every inch, every minute.

All you do to win is answer in 50 words or less why you "believe that a nice figure is important to a woman's sense of well-being. Just give me the mink, and a trip to Florida and don't worry me about the figure, who needs it."

Lila and her husband Cleve will be co-hosts so I know the winner will have "a blast" as we say.

From now until the middle of August every weekend is taken for Mrs. America—she will be traveling all over the United States, opening new businesses, new homes, riding in parades, appearing at fairs.

Wherever she goes she must have a woman companion—and this was my role for the two days here, her first in this area.

Jack Lang, representing Quaker Oats, also was in the entourage, supplying the car, acting as chauffeur, butler, body guard and such.

Crowded into the two days was an appearance on CKLW, a luncheon sponsored by the Redford Suburban League Theatre Guild at Dearborn Inn, an informal fashion show at Zuieback's, a delightful dinner hosted by that store's new manager Miss Delores Jacks.

On Friday Wards' hosted a luncheon for Mrs. America with wives of their key personnel and the women from various service clubs in the area. She spent the afternoon and evening in the store—at the Quaker Oats display, giving autographs, a long telephone interview with a metro paper, informal modeling in the late evening for Mrs. Myrtle Garvin, Fashion Coordinator for Wards, and another dinner at Hillside hosted by Ward officials.

There is no question about gaining weight, however, because everyone knows it takes a lot of energy to be pleasant for that many hours—without stopping—for Lila it seemed effortless—for a newspaper woman it was amazingly hard work.

Chance To Serve With Appreciation

An Appeal to Women of the Community:
I am grateful to the Editor of this newspaper for this opportunity to tell you of a problem that is in need of understanding and a program that is in need of assistance.

Our volunteer program at the Plymouth State Home and Training School is celebrating its first anniversary this month. We feel most fortunate in having more than 100 women who, like Mrs. Wills, are generously donating their time and energies to help form the first auxiliary to a state institution for retarded children.

The Plymouth State Home and Training School is a home away from home for more than 600 children. That we have been able to enlist volunteers, and the interest of members from surrounding communities, in caring for and about retarded children, is an indication of a step forward in the understanding and acceptance of mental retardation. It is sad that our little patients were not blessed with healthy minds and bodies, but when you see them laughing and playing, you realize that fortunately they are not aware of their plight. We want to be able to provide our children with the opportunity to develop to their capacity and to give them comfort and personal attention. We need many more volunteers in order to accomplish this goal.

The Home is located on Five Mile and Sheldon Rds., between Plymouth and Northville. We have no minimum number of working hours for a volunteer. Our only requirement is a sincere interest in helping our children. After an orientation session, there are a variety of areas that might interest a volunteer. Our greatest need is in patient care. You could work in lend-aid; feeding, bathing, changing, and supervising play for the children. We have an eight week training course for physical therapy aids, and we would be most happy to have volunteers in the patient education department who have had some experience working with children, preferably retarded children. If you would like to work at the Home but for some reason could not work directly with the children, we need volunteers with some typing skill for work on medical records and in the library. There are also sewing programs at the hospital. For boys and girls 16-18 year old, there is a teen-age volunteer program. The teen-agers work in the early evenings and on week-ends. During the summer they would be a great help in supervising recreation for the toddlers. If you have worked with teen-agers, your services would be most welcome as a teen-age volunteer co-ordinator.

This is an opportunity to take part in a program that is most worthwhile and very rewarding. Your consideration would be most appreciated by our staff, the parents and most of all, by our children.

Bowlers To Assist In Cancer Program

"Bowlers never forget" has long been the slogan of pinsters in Detroit and the Tri-County area when asked to participate in a benefit program.

Bowlers in the Livonia and Redford Township section, along with more than 250,000 from the confines of Detroit and the suburban areas, will have a chance to prove that slogan when they strike a blow against cancer by competing in the Bowl Down Cancer Week activities, starting next Sunday and continuing through Saturday, April 28.

Those in Livonia will have three sites to pick from for their games — the Merri-Bowl Lanes, 30950 Five Mile Road; Livonia Lanes, 31630 Plymouth Road; and Cloverlanes, 28900 Schoolcraft. Bowlers in Redford Township can compete at Beech Lanes, 15492 Beech-Daly Road.

These are just four of the sites in the Detroit area co-operating with the Bowling Proprietors Association of America and the American Cancer Society in the largest nationwide benefit ever backed by bowlers.

The entire proceeds other than the cost of bowling will go to the ACS to further its work in the battle against the dread disease.

Competition is in five divisions—men's and women's team and individual and for teenagers between the ages of 13 and 19. All men and women must carry sanction cards from the ABC or WIBC.

The senior bowlers will vie in a unique "Beat the Champ" contest. They will try to beat the scores recorded by Dick Weber, of St. Louis, and Shirley Garms, of Chicago, currently the national individual match game champions. The champs will roll on a nationwide televised program two weeks after the close of Bowl Down Cancer Week.

The senior teams compete in a "Win-A-Star-Bowler" tournament in which the Michigan champion wins the right to the services of one of the nation's top stars for an entire week. The teenagers will compete as a group for a number of rich prizes.

Just to sweeten the pot and make the contests more alluring to bowlers of all classes, the BPA and ACS are offering $5,000 for a perfect 300.

It's the biggest chance ever for the district's bowlers to prove they "don't forget" and the sponsoring organizations expect the Detroit area returns will be among the best in the land.

LOOKING WELL IN ANYTHING. Mrs. America modeled an outfit picked out by Miss Jacka, manager of Zuieback's at Wonderland, and "sold" herself and her costume easily to shoppers.

Easter Week Celebrated At Nativity Church

Remaining Holy Week services at Nativity Church, Henry Ruff at West Chicago, will include a Maundy Thursday celebration of the Lord's Supper with sermonettes by Pastor I. Kenneth Shreiner. Participants will receive the communion elements while seated at a table in the chapel. This specially written service, which is an effort to somewhat re-create the atmosphere of the original Last Supper, will begin at 8 p.m.

Easter Sunday services of worship will begin at 6:30 a.m. with a sunrise service, the first ever to be held at Nativity. An Easter breakfast of coffee and doughnuts will be served at 7:30 a.m. following the sunrise service.

Easter worship and church school will begin at 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. with the Sacrament of Holy Communion being served immediately following each service.

Unions Call Detroit News Performance 'A Lockout'

The action of the Detroit News in suspending publication was termed a "lockout" in a statement issued Monday night, April 16, by the Detroit Council of Newspaper, Broadcasting and Associated Industries. The Council is composed of 16 unions representing editorial and mechanical trades in the news-gathering industry.

Copies of the statement, which was signed by Council Chairman George Robinson, were sent to President Kennedy, Governor Swainson, and Senators Hart and McNamara. The full text follows:

"The Detroit Council Newspaper, Broadcasting and Associated Industries Unions met this afternoon to discuss the closing of the Detroit News by its Management. We wish to make the following statement in relation thereto.

"As a result of an investigation into the closing of the Detroit News by its Management, we have concluded that the action of the publisher can be termed nothing short of a lockout, which we feel is prohibited by the terms of the Labor Management Relations Act, (Taft-Hartley Act).

We have been informed and believe that at no time has even a threat of a strike or picket line been made to the Detroit News let alone the fact that a picket line has not appeared. Our members have unanimously stated that they desire to perform their respective services in accordance with contracts in existence between each Union and the Detroit News, and even if no contract exists but negotiations are in progress we are willing to work. The particular union which presently is picketing the Free Press has never bargained with the publishers on an Association Basis and has, in fact, individual signed contracts over the past years.

"Consequently, it appears to us that the Detroit News can in no conceivable manner claim it is a member of an association and a strike against one is a strike against all. It is our intent to explore this matter with our attorneys and take whatever action is necessary to protect the employment of our respective members and to afford the public the opportunity of receiving a daily newspaper.

"We feel the action taken by the management of the Detroit News is uncalled for, ill-advised and illegal under the circumstances and is nothing more than a showing of indifference to both the public and our Union members."

Thurston Rally Nets 4-3 Win

A sixth-inning uprising enabled Thurston high school's baseball team to nip Catholic Central in its season's opener, 4-3.

Until the sixth Thurston's team, which has only two senior, found itself trailing by a 3-0 margin.

Then came the payoff explosion. Doug Schyck started matters with a single, Tim Scienski doubled and Bill Woolley walked to jam the bases.

Bill Sproul unleashed a single and the score was tied when the throw to catch Woolley was wild. Pitcher Arnold Helwig then drew a pass and when Jack Pilarski delivered a hit—his third of the game, Sproul came across with the deciding run.

Helwig, a tenth-grader making his varsity debut for Thurston, looked like a veteran. He issued only four hits, struck out nine and walked three.

A game with Oak Park on Friday was called off because of the cold and snow.

Thurston was to meet Redford Union this past Monday and will play at Birmingham Seaholm Thursday afternoon before pausing for the Easter holidays.

Benefit For Youth

Harlem Magicians vs. Livonia's All Stars

The famous Harlem Magicians basketball team will combine skill and entertainment in a benefit game against the Livonia All-Stars at Bentley High School, 8 p.m., April 24.

Proceeds of the event will go to the Department of Parks and Recreation equipment fund for the purchase of baseball pitching machines and a tennis ball boy machine.

Tickets are $1.50 for adults, $1.00 for students, and 50 cents for children 12 years and under.

KEEPING THEIR FINGERS crossed are Bill Zirblis, and Bob Girardin, of Parks and Recreation Department. They hope to see enough money raised by the Harlem Magicians vs. the Livonia All Stars at a basketball game Tuesday, April 24 at Bentley High School to buy two of the above baseball teaching machines. They are joined by a committee of citizens and several thousand boys (and a few girls). No money in the Parks and Recreation budget prompted the group to put on the fun, fund-raising event. Tickets are low-priced and may be secured from the Parks and Recreation Office, this newspaper office, or at the door.

from the class "A" Recreation Basketball League, including some former Bentley High School basketball stars.

Team members include: Jack Lord, Sand's Lounge; Ray Foster, Sand's Lounge; Duane Olson, Sand's Lounge; Jim Tetzlaff, Michigan Bell; Jim Carmichael, Okerstrom Roofing; Ron Bohoyevac, Okerstrom; Larry Richardson, Okerstrom; Ron Foster, Raiders; Nick Hanson, Raiders; Bill Bergan, Holloway Gulf; Ted Regal, Holloway

Gulf; Dick Chapin, Sand's Lounge.

Anyone wishing to make a contribution to the two baseball teaching machines and one tennis teaching machine for Livonia youth to use this spring and summer may drop them off at the Livonia office or mail their checks to this paper, 33050 Five Mile Road, Livonia. Receipts will be mailed back. Jim Pate is citizen-in-charge of the collection fund.

RU Golfers Win Three

Coach Jim MacDonald's golf squad has given notice that it will be an outfit to contend with this spring, as the Redford Union golfers led the 1962 season with three wins in the first week of competition.

Starting the season against Redford High School, of Detroit, on April 9, the RU boys posted a score of 176 to Redford's 189, as Mike Loukinen and Judd Wellard turned in 43's for the nine-hole meet.

Journeying to Trenton on April 11 for the opening of the Suburban-Six League loop, RU again won by 13 points, scoring 180 to Trenton's 193.

Playing in rain, snow, and a high cold wind, the Panthers showed steady improvement, as they took on Clarenceville High on Friday, April 13.

Careful Drivers, School is Out!

More than 8,000 South Redford students and an equal amount of Redford Union students, will welcome noontime Friday because it will initiate the annual spring vacation. School will resume April 30.

April 20 marks the end of the fifth marking period in the junior and senior high schools and climaxes the long stretch of the year following Christmas during which the wear of winter and the wear of study builds anticipation for the springtime break from the routine of classes.

Superintendent M. D. Roe and Russell Helbert reminded motorists that spring vacation for hardworking students is very welcome. An abundance of energy, he pointed out, will tempt children to play in the streets to a greater extent. He urged drivers to remember children will be everywhere as they enjoy the mild spring weather and counseled extra care in driving.

Ban Horse-Racing in Michigan? Con-Con Vote Decried

In all the years I've pounded away on this type-writer for public print, I've always stayed clear of politics.

What the gents have done in Washington or Lansing or at City Halls in Detroit and Livonia never has interested me—when it comes to sports.

But something happened in Lansing this past week.

You probably heard that the Constitution Convention delegates voted marginally to cut out horse racing in the state of Michigan.

Such an act, were it to come true—but it never will—would strike a rough blow in Livonia, not to mention Hazel Park, Northville and for that matter the entire state of Michigan.

It's difficult to figure the Con-Con folks out on this matter. Certainly they must know that the state is in a financial pinch, along with virtually every local community. Yet, they pass something which would knock upwards of eight million bucks out of the state's cash box.

Before proceeding farther, I think it should be reported herewith that this writer is not one who dashes to the horse parks.

The fact is, that while over the years I've had a free pass to the Livonia track over on Schoolcraft, the only times I've been there were at the pre-meeting parties tossed for the press and radio.

On such occasions, no horses have run... there has been no wagering... and I usually have gone home with a sick stomach because with my youngsters I have participated too much in the opportunity to obtain free ice cream.

As for Hazel Park race meetings, I have gone there twice—on each occasion to watch the trotters run.

Having mentioned this, you can see I'm not one who cheers for horse racing because I'm an ardent fan.

It takes no brain whiz to recognize the fact, people will bet on horses, dogs, football, baseball, basketball and what have you whether you give them the legal means or not.

All of which leads me to wonder why our Constitution Convention delegates haven't thought, perhaps, of legalizing off as well as on track-betting in Michigan and also making it okay for people to lay their two bucks on the line for football, baseball, etc.

The state, of course, would take its slice, just as it does every time a couple of bucks are slipped through the cashier's window at the track over on Schoolcraft.

Maybe, our tax crisis would be eased some and all of us wouldn't be faced with the likelihood of state and city income tax bites in the next year.

Speaking of the track over on Schoolcraft, the season gets going on May 12 and all indications are that it should be the best year yet for the runners.

This writer would like to take the opportunity to salute the oval on its choice of Budd Lynch as new publicity director to replace Fred DeLano, who has stepped out for some other work.

Few men, connected with sports, are more popular than Lynch who until his appointment to the track job has been known hereabouts only for his radio and television work.

As track publicist, he'll do a good job to boost the story of what's going on along Schoolcraft and Middlebelt.

Everything that helps the track has to help the community.

So, bring on the horses!

Weather Stops Foes In Track

The weather last Friday was too much—too cold, too snowy and too rainy—for the track teams of Bentley and Redford Union high schools.

So the coaches decided not to oppose in what was to be the openers for both teams.

Coach John McDonald of Bentley, however, was still talking about some fine performances his athletes had turned in two days before in a practice meet against Farmington.

Although no official score was kept Bentley romped off with the honors, winning everything but the hurdles and the broad jump.

The victories turned in by Al Fenton, who copped both the dashes; Dave Temple in the 880, Paul Rieker in the mile and Earl Bowser in the 440 in particular impressed the Bentley coach.

Dennis Buchanan captured the shot put Roger Mulder the high jump and Bob Juve the pole vault.

Bentley also annexed both the relay. Herb Taylor, Bowser, Tom Handyside and Fenton ran on the 880-yard unit while Tom Friedrich, Don Miller, Tom Snarey and Handyside breezed home in front for Bentley in the mile relay.

The Bentley team was to meet Wayne on Monday and go against Trenton on the Bentley oval Thursday afternoon. There then will be no further action for the team until May 4 when Bentley invades Allen Park.

RU Ready For Opener In Baseball

It's getaway week in baseball for Redford Union High School.

A game on Thursday will hoist the season's lid. Then, while other schools take time off for Easter, RU will engage Allen Park at home next Monday in the initial Suburban Six League affair for both teams.

Kept idle by cold and snow against Bentley last Friday, RU will attempt to open its track season this Friday, meeting Belleville at home.

In golf RU had meets carded this week against Thurston and Plymouth. The league season starts against Bentley at Idyl Wyld next Friday.

TO BASEBALL CAMP!

Otto Folin, 14925 Seneca, Redford Township, has been accepted for enrollment at the Ted Williams Baseball Camp for the summer of 1962. He is a student at Lola Valley Junior High School.

Bentley 2nd To Redford On Links

Neither cold, nor rain nor snow could keep Bentley High School's golf team from opening its season last Friday afternoon at Idyl Wyld.

The Bentley linksmen neither won nor lost as they performed in 35-degree temperature in between rain and snow drops.

What happened was Bentley took second with a team score of 187 strokes as Detroit Redford triumphed with 171 while Wayne was third with 189.

Dave Benhle paced the Bentley scorers with a 45. Jim Burley came in with 46 while Ted Hart and Gary Shei each had a 48.

Medalist honors went to Dennis Ahern, the Redford ace who is the Metropolitan League champion. He came in with a 41.

Each player shoots nine holes. The Bentley team faced three meets this week before the Eastern break.

Clarenceville Swamped In Ball Debut

They'd just as soon forget how the baseball season opened at Clarenceville high school last Thursday.

The Tigers took a 9-1 drubbing against Brighton in what also was the curtain raiser in Wayne-Oakland League play.

The issue was settled in the third inning when Brighton pushed over six runs on three hits, three errors and one walk. Two more runs in the fifth and another marker in the sixth merely added to the differential in the final score. Clarenceville could do little at the plate, totaling only three hits.

The lone run for the Livonians came in the fifth inning when Dan Frels was hit by a pitch, stole second and came home on a double by losing pitcher Phil Messina.

Meantime, the weather kept Clarenceville from engaging in two track meets—a triangular affair with Northville and Clarkston and a dual meet at Garden City.

This week's schedule was to see Clarenceville at Milford Monday and home to Northville on Thursday.

Two Contests For St. Agatha

Two games are booked in the next week for St. Agatha high school's baseball team.

Coach Dave Brazil will take his charges at Wayne St. Mary's this Thursday and to Divine Child next Tuesday. Both encounters will start at 4:30 p.m.

St. Agatha's next home game is listed for May against Ann Arbor St. Thomas at Claude Allison field.

ACTOR JIMMY DURANTE makes sure that "Bowl Down Cancer Week" gets off to a thundering start as he loads a circus cannon with a sizzling bowling ball. Bowlers in the Livonia-Redford Township-Plymouth area will get their chance to bowl and help the cancer drive starting next Sunday at four bowling establishments in the area. Cash prizes will be at stake for winners.

'Track Team Is Powerful,' Thurston Coach Admits

After hedging in the way of predictions, Coach Jerry Kratz of Thurston High School's track team finally is willing to confess:

"I think we have a strong and powerful team."

Victories by lopsided scores over Inkster Robichaud and Inkster last week prompted Kratz to make his statement.

"I figured the two meets with the Inkster schools combined to give us our toughest week of the season," said Kratz. "I'm very proud of the way our boys performed."

Thurston ripped both Inkster teams. Robichaud was swamped, 67½-41½. Inkster fell to the Thurston Express, 68½-40½.

One slam marked the victory over Robichaud. Thurston placed one-two-three in the shot-put when Steve Leuchtmann won with a heave of 50 feet, 7½ inches and Bruce Vorce and Jerry Wiebeck placed second and third, respectively.

Ed Christie took individual honors with triumphs in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes and a leg on the winning half-mile relay.

Dick Gordon won the 440-yard run in the fine time of 52.8 seconds while teammate Jerry McCabe was one-tenth of a second behind. Roger Hamilton was first home in the half mile with Cas Janakauskas third. It was one-two for Thurston in the mile as Don Keller bested mate Ed Dahlka.

Jerry Samuelian turned in a fine effort of 20 feet, one-half inch for a second in the broad jump. More important, he became the first Thurston sophomore in four years to soar 20 feet.

The hurdles found Thurston's Ed Kosikowski second in both the highs and lows.

The pole vault produced a four-way tie for first place at 10 feet, six inches. Three of the deadlocked represented Thurston. They were Dan Orlikowski, Jim Mollard and Kosikowski.

Both relays saw Thurston a winner. Don and Ron Voighttritter started the mile quartet home in front with Larry Lack and Bob Stockton running the next two legs. In the 880-yard event,

Local Pastor To Leave For Church in Wisconsin

Reverend John A. Westendorf, pastor of Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Merriman and West Chicago Roads in Livonia, has accepted a call to become pastor of a new mission congregation in Brookfield, Wisconsin, a suburb of Milwaukee. Pastor Westendorf will leave for his new assignment on April 30th.

Nine years ago, with but 16 members, Peace Lutheran Church was formed. Pastor Westendorf was installed as its first pastor on February 15, 1953. Peace continued as a mission church until 1960. During the nine years Pastor Westendorf has served as pastor of Peace the congregation has grown to over 300 members, with more than 200 children in its Sunday School. On Sunday, April 15th Pastor Westendorf confirmed the last confirmation class for Peace Lutheran Church with 12 adults and nine children being confirmed.

Through the efforts of Pastor Westendorf a Christian Day School was started in 1956 at Peace Church. Since that time a new addition has been added to the church to house the Christian Day School, most of the construction being done by the members of Peace Lutheran Church. Today the Day School includes grades one thru six and is preparing to graduate its third class this June.

Looking Around Plymouth

"No cause for damages" was the verdict of a Circuit Court jury in a suit which had been brought against Carl Shear of Plymouth for damages in a pedestrian-car accident a couple of years ago. The trial ended last week.

Harold Fisher of the school board is recovering from a lung ailment which has been long and annoying, but now seems to be clearing satisfactorily.

To the Supervisor and Highway Commissioner of the Township of Redford, Wayne County, Michigan.

Sirs:
You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on April 5, 1962, decide and determine that the certain county roads (alleys) described in the minutes of said meeting of said Board should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued as public highways, reserving therein easements set forth in said determination. The portion of the minutes of said meeting fully describing said county roads (alleys) is attached hereto and made a part of this notice, which is given under and by virtue of Act 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan, this 12th day of April, A.D. 1962.

WHEREAS, a view of the premises above described was had in accordance with said statute.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that it is in the best interest of the public that the above-described county road(s) or portion(s) thereof be absolutely abandoned and discontinued and that said road(s) or portion(s) hereof (are) hereby absolutely abandoned and discontinued reserving therein easements for public utility and sewer purposes.

Be A Blue-Ribbon Winner This Year!

Just for fun this year, to surprise your family and maybe yourself, why not become a "blue-ribbon" homemaker?

There are countless opportunities offered at the Michigan State Fair late this summer (Aug. 31-Sept. 9) that award blue ribbons and other valuable prizes.

The family that secretly takes mom for granted as either a household drudge or a professional lunch-meeting-bridge goer will be in for a surprise if she comes home with any one of the prizes, or a certificate and blue ribbon.

Not only will they be absolutely delighted, but are bound to be proud they have the mom (or wife) that makes the best cakes, jellies, pickles, or whatever in the whole of Michigan. There are about a dozen categories to win—and if done without the family even being aware, so much the more fun. It's not too soon to start practicing.

There are cash awards up to $500, merchandise gifts and a chance to win a vacation for two in New York City.

There are special prizes offered for the tenth year by the National Cotton Bag Sewing Contest. Sewers can choose eight categories ranging from household articles and clothing to stuffed toys, but it has to be made out of a cotton bag that packages flour, feed and other commodities.

If you want to find out more about this write National Cotton Council, P.O. Box 9906, Memphis 12, Tenn.
