Packaging Firm Constructs 43,000 Square Foot Addition

Work began recently on a 43,000-square-foot addition to Packaging Corporation of America's plant at 936 Sheldon Road here. Cost of the addition, according to the building permit application, will be $238,000.

General manager Jack McFalda said that when the addition is completed by mid-October it will provide extra administrative and production space. "It will accommodate a greatly increased production volume that we anticipate," McFalda said. He was unable to indicate at this time whether the addition would create more jobs at the plant here.

McFalda, who lives at 856 Harding, said that R. G. Smith Co., of Canton, O., is the general contractor, but that all of the sub-contracting work is being handled by local firms.

PCA designs and manufactures corrugated cartons and special packages for a large number of different products. Most of the company's customers are located within a 60-mile radius of Plymouth, McFalda said.

He said that Packaging Corporation of America is the direct result of a three-company merger that took place in 1959. Immediately before that, the plant on Sheldon Road was known as the Ohio Boxboard Co., and earlier was Champion Corrugated Container Co.

The company, which employs 80 hourly and 30 salaried workers, has a sales office on Ann Arbor Rd., which will be relocated in the new addition on Sheldon this fall.

Third Millage Vote Wins With 992 Vote Margin

Record 4,187 Cast Important Ballot

Approval of a 5-mill proposal by a 3-2 majority Monday by a record number of voters will mean that Plymouth's public schools will open next fall maintaining the past level of education.

There were 4,187 voters going to the polls in Monday's special election. Of this number, 2,520 approved the lone ballot proposal; 1,628 voted against it. There were 39 of the paper ballots spoiled.

For a large group of parents and supporters of the school it was a joyous night. Many dozens of adults and young people had put in many hours during the past few weeks attempting to gain a favorable vote.

There was no known organized resistance — but

Garden City Man Killed In Freak Auto Accident

A Garden City man was killed instantly late Tuesday afternoon when struck by a car along Plymouth Rd. in front of the Burroughs Corp. plant.

He was Constantinos Bratsis, 68, of 6822 Gilman St., Garden City.

Sheriff's Road Patrolmen said that Bratsis was apparently parked on the south side of the road waiting for someone to leave the plant. As he waited, a car leaving the plant parking lot crashed into his car, causing some damage. The driver of the other car said that he had been forced off the road.

While Bratsis stood behind his car on the shoulder of the road inspecting the damage, another car, being driven east by Winifred Seals, 23, of 6011 Colorado, Wayne, ran off the road and struck the man.

The Road Patrol said that the woman motorist said she was driving 20 miles an hour. There was no explanation given why her car left the road.

IT HAS BEEN many years since most people have heard newsboys shouting "Extra" but those traveling in downtown Plymouth Tuesday morning heard it. At 11:30 Monday night, an hour after election results were known, The Mail ran a six-page extra off its press and had them delivered to stores in time for their opening the next morning. Newsboys were also on hand to hawk them on the corners. Pictured is Johnnie Stout, 540 Jener Place, who was selling copies at Main and Penniman.

Judge to Get Bang Listening To Local Case

Circuit Court Judge James Montante will be on the firing line at the Western Wayne County Conservation Association's rifle range this Sunday — but it will all be in the interests of justice.

Judge Montante is hearing a case filed against the Wildlifers last May by Clyde Smith owner of the nearby Oak Haven Trailer Park, and seven property owners.

The plaintiffs charge that the sound from the shooting is too loud and Smith says he has heard a bullet ricochet above the trailers.

A temporary injunction barring the club from using the ranges was issued May 25. The injunction will be lifted Friday so that the club can stage a shoot for the judge.

The Conservation Club will have an eight-man team fire M-1 Garand army and .30 caliber rifles Sunday morning and Judge Montante plans to listen to them both on the firing range and at the trailer camp.

On July 13, Judge Montante, Smith and Joseph Fortier, president of the club, flew over the Napier Rd. site in Plymouth Township and also over the old Nankin Township site on Joy Rd. to compare the proximity of the ranges to subdivisions. They also examined the backstops.

The Wildlifers opened the range at their 62 acre location last spring.

Foresee Mild Turn-Out

Voters Face Primary Tuesday

A mild turn-out is expected next Tuesday when Plymouth voters join others around Michigan to select their party's candidates seeking nomination on the national, state, county and precinct levels.

The biennial election has no controversial contests or pressing proposals to attract a more-than-average number of electors. Neither gubernatorial candidates have opposition.

With the exception of Governor John B. Swainson who was a Plymouth resident until his election two years ago, there are no names of Plymouthites on the ballot.

But despite the lack of excitement, the primary is considered of great importance because it selects the final candidates who will face each other in November.

Local voters are perhaps most interested in the national and state legislative candidates. Democrats will find names of 62 candidates on their side of the ballot, plus precinct delegates, and Republicans have 25.

In addition, Plymouth

Township residents will have a proposition concerning abolition of annual meetings (see story elsewhere) in the Congressional race,

Democratic incumbent Marjorie Griffith has no opposition. Republicans have James O'Neil, 38, Livonia, a Ford Motor Co. administrator;

James Heaney, 54, Detroit School of Real Estate owner; and Gregory Pilon, 41, a Southfield attorney and frequent candidate. O'Neil has a "preferred" rating of the Civic Searchlight.

In the 21st District State Legislature race the Searchlight has given no preferred rating to either of the two Democrats, incumbent Harvey Beadle or Beverly Pool, but lists them as "qualified."

A "preferred" rating has been given to Republican (Continued on page 8)

Start Work on First Federal Building

In a ground breaking ceremony attended by many of Plymouth's local civic and business leaders, First Federal Savings and Loan Co. officials on Friday morning, started construction of a beautiful new financial edifice, in Plymouth's downtown business area.

In reviewing the growth of the company's Plymouth office under Mr. Richwine's direction president Gehrke pointed out his confidence in the future growth of this community and the total area served by his institution.

"It gives me great personal satisfaction to have my company an integral part of a community such as Plymouth and we hope our effort here will spark a new era in development and expansion for the residents, business and industrial sections of your wonderful community," he said. "If we didn't sincerely feel Plymouth and the area surrounding it hadn't so glittering a future, we could never justify the size of the investment we are making at this time, but we are confident of its continued growth and only happy that we can be among the first to add the impact of our faith to the greatness of this community today and in the future," he further stated.

The two-story building, will replace several old buildings which have been an eyesore for many years on the northeast corner at Main and Penniman.

Clearing of the site was started last March 12, at which time Hans Gehrke, Jr., First Federal president, promised residents of Plymouth that the new office structure would be in keeping with the old New England atmosphere of Plymouth, Mass., the city where the Pilgrims landed and for which Plymouth, Mich., was named.

Besides the First Federal Plymouth office, the building will house the Plymouth office of the Automobile Club of Michigan, Gehrke said.

When the building is completed, First Federal's present Plymouth office at 843 Penniman, a short distance from the new location, will (Continued on page 8)

Township Voters Have One Ballot Proposition

Plymouth Township electors will find a local proposition on the ballot next Tuesday.

The proposition will ask voters if the annual Township Meeting should be abolished. Petitions signed by 330 voters filed in June asked that the question be placed on the ballots. Law requires signatures of at least eight per cent of the registered voters.

The question of abolishing the meetings came up last spring following the last Annual Meeting which attracted only a few visitors. At this meeting, the public can carry out many items of business. A minority could transact business that would be of serious consequence, although no such incident has happened here.

State law offers townships the right to abolish annual meetings by consent of the voting public.

Mrs. Marvin Terry
 For hostesses who like to have meals prepared in advance when entertaining, Mrs. Marvin Terry, of 1075 Roosevelt St., this week's guest cook, agreed to share her recipe for King Crab Mold. The two-layer dish is both colorful and tasty, she said, and from her past experience with this recipe, is sure to be a hit every time it is served.
KING CRAB MOLD
 3 cans king crabmeat (6 1/2 oz. each)
 2 pkgs. lemon-flavored gelatin
 2 C. hot water
 1/4 C. vinegar
 1 t. salt
 1/2 t. pepper
 2 T. Worcestershire sauce
 20 large stuffed olives
 2 c. mayonnaise
 1/2 c. chili sauce
 2 1/2 c. minced celery
 1 1/2 c. minced onion
 1 c. stuffed olives, chopped
 Radish roses, parsley, salad greens.
 Remove cartilage from crabmeat and save large chunks for garnish. Chill thoroughly.
 Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add vinegar, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and spoon a little of the hot gelatin mixture into a two-quart mold. Arrange olives in the bottom of mold and refrigerate until olives are set.
 Meanwhile, beat mayonnaise into rest of gelatin until smooth, then add diced crabmeat, chili sauce, celery, onion and chopped olives. Pour part of the mixture into a round 8" cake pan. Pour remainder into mold after olives have set; chill both molds until firm. Unmold flat mold (cake pan) on bed of lettuce leaves. Set tall mold on top and surround with large chunks of crabmeat. Add garnishes of radish roses and parsley. Decorate with mayonnaise in rosette tube if desired. The recipe serves 12.
 Mrs. Terry, who teaches second grade in the Edna Allen School, is active in many clubs, including the National Education Assn., Michigan Education Assn., and Plymouth Educational Assn. A former Woman's Club member, Mrs. Terry is publicity chairman of the American Association of University Women and has been chairman of the Language Arts Curriculum Study for Plymouth Schools.
 The local baker's wife's hobbies include reading, particularly historical novels, and travel. She has two children, Norman Scott, 22, a junior at Troy State College, in Troy, Alabama, and Margaret Sue, 18, who will enter Eastern Kentucky State Teachers College, Richmond, Ky., as a freshman this fall.
 Michigan has no greater natural resource than its unlimited supply of water and no state has greater water resources than Michigan, which is in the center of the largest body of fresh water in the world, the Great Lakes, and has more than 11,000 inland lakes and more than 36,000 miles of rivers and streams.

Evans Reports 6-Month Credit

Evans Products Company of Plymouth, announced a net profit of $793,026 during the first six months of 1962 in contrast to a net loss of $1,056,070 in the first half of 1961.

Edward S. Evans, Jr., president of the company, in a letter to shareholders said all divisions of the company continued to show improvement during the second quarter.

"Profit for the second quarter was substantially better than the first quarter and profit for the six-month period shows a great improvement over the loss of the last half of 1961," he said.

Net profit for the first half was $793,026 equal to 54 cents per share on the $1,460,219 shares of common stock outstanding as of June 30, 1962.

This compares with a loss, after tax credit, for the first six months of 1961 of $1,056,070, equal to a loss of 72 cents per share on the same number of shares.

Evans said the Company continues in a strong working capital position, with working capital at $20,032,845 as of June 30, 1962.

The Professor Sez . . .

by Ed Brown

A few weeks ago I had the privilege of attending an open house at the Plymouth State Hospital in honor of those high school students who donated their services during the past year in the name of humanity. These young people gave this time freely without any remuneration whatsoever, unless it was in the satisfaction of trying to help the youngsters at the hospital regain muscle action lost through brain damage.

Parents of these young samaritans were invited to this ceremony where some 30 Community Service Awards were presented to these fine young teenagers.

To me, this also plainly shows that the younger generation is not as irresponsible, selfish and unconcerned about the welfare of others as many people are led to believe. Such things as this may do more than anything else to prove to their critical elders, and the community, that they are a group of youngsters who deserve more recognition than they have received in the past.

These high school boys and girls worked a few hours each week for many months without any pay — only the inner satisfaction that is gained from doing something good for their fellow man. The experience probably accomplished as much as anything in establishing a true sense of values, especially in this day and age where many things are measured on a dollar and cents basis.

The group was made up of all levels of society — the wealthy, the average middle class, and the poor and needy; also there were honor students working along side of low-grade ones; well-adjusted youths and those who have had troubles in the classroom and outside of it.

"Hugh Jarvis Gifts" Makes Appearance On Business Scene

Hugh Jarvis Gifts, specializing in fine gifts, along with items of home decor, paper goods and cards of all kinds, made its official appearance on the Plymouth business scene earlier this week.

Located at 852 West Ann Arbor Tr. in the Downtown Business district, Hugh Jarvis Gifts was formerly Papes' House of Gifts.

Although purchased last winter by Hugh Jarvis, of Ann Arbor, the store retained its original name until this week.

A large, colonial-styled "Hugh Jarvis Gifts" sign was erected on the front of the building Tuesday.

A favorite gift-shopping center in Plymouth for several years under the name of "Papes," the store will continue to offer outstanding, quality gift merchandise under its new name and owner.

The store's owner, who has been associated with the Allan Co., of Chicago, distributors of accessories and gifts, is intending to move to Plymouth eventually. At present, he and his wife reside in Ann Arbor.

"I'm confident that Plymouth's downtown business area will continue to grow and prosper," Jarvis said this week. "It will require constant effort and foresight on the part of residents, businessmen and officials alike, but I have no doubts that Plymouth is fully capable of meeting this challenge and continuing its steady progress."

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO???

Another 1955 graduate who left PHS to make his name in the business world. This quiet, personable young man was a star basketball player during his high school days, and had an uncanny accuracy with his medium-long jump shot. The spring in his legs enabled him to outjump most opponents six inches taller than he. He was voted the most valuable player in the sport during his senior year.

From high school he went on to Western State at Kalamazoo, where he pledged Delta Chi fraternity. The popular fellow was also elected president of his junior class while in college, and was chaplain of his fraternity. He graduated with a degree in Business Administration in 1959. Upon completion of his college work our mystery man accepted a commission as a 2nd Lt. in the U.S. Army. Assigned to the medical corp he saw service in Texas, California, and the last 15 months in Korea. He was discharged as a 1st Lt. last May.

While in the service he met his charming wife, Patricia, who was also an officer in the medicals as a nurse. They were recently married in California.

At present the young couple live in Oakland where the groom is being trained as a buyer for the large Capwell Department Store.

Who is this former athlete? — Robert "Bob" Middleton, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Ryder on Joy Road.

Dan Grubesich, a past commander of the post and still a member of our post, who has for the past several years been living in South Bend, Ind. was present at our last meeting and presented with his fifteen year continuous membership pin our organization. It's nice to see old friends and we miss Dan as a worker.

At the meeting no objections were made for the building addition committee to ask for bids for the proposed addition so that ground can be broken and the structure completed at least eventually before bad weather sets in. The National Home trip, don't forget, will be August 19. We will be taking about 20 children from the two Michigan cottages on a picnic. The children and house mothers always seem to enjoy these picnics so much, let's try and have a big group to go. If you have never visited our National Home make a special effort — It will be one of the most interesting days you'll ever spend. Don't forget to bring your donations of peanut butter, jellies and jams to be taken to the home. If you do plan on going contact Mary Schwartz about the menu.

We hear the birthday girl is back from California! Hope she had a good time. Another juke box dance is planned for August 25. This will be handled much the same as the last dance. All who attended seemed to have a real good time. Bring your friends and make a party of it. 25 cents admission. If any drill team members would like a print of the picture that was in the MOV from the convention parade call Gerrie Olson.

Chips from the ROCK

We are pleased that Plymouth voters approved the five mill tax package at last Monday's election. It means no kind of personal benefit to us, any more than it does to the rest of the businessmen and residents of this community, and most especially the children.

However, we must point out that the victory is by no means a mandate for the Board of Education to treat future school expenditures lightly. If ever again a millage issue is presented to the people of this area school authorities will have a hard time getting our vote, or those of any one else, if they cannot positively substantiate a position of frugality and thrift in the operation of the system in the days ahead. I would hesitate to mention the attitude of our local citizenry if salary increases are considered in any instance above and beyond those budgeted at this time, and if any expansion or unnecessary curriculum items are planned or offered unless they are an absolute necessity. The people will be watching, and so will we.

We believe in good schools, and we want good schools, and so do our citizens as they proved at the election, but if nothing more comes out of these efforts certainly the lesson of economy should long be remembered.

Further, there is an area of interior public relations within the system which must be improved and board members are aware of this. Too, improvement of teaching personnel on an earned salary increase is a necessity and a cross the board benefits must be forgotten if our schools are to earn the continued approval of our residents.

Let's face the future with economy as the watchword and as the local tax base increases from additional homes and industry let not the Board of Education feel it is their duty to spend this surplus. It is their duty to keep costs down and give the benefits of these increases back in TAX REDUCTION to the taxpayer who helped them meet their budget this year. Certainly the present Board, "sweat" this one out, and I hope they consider the position future Boards would find themselves confronted with if serious consideration isn't given the items outlined above.

Last week Plymouth lost another fine retail store. The moving of the Plymouth Men's Wear to Howell by Earl and Robert Verona is a distinct community loss. I was a close friend of their father, Sam Verona, who brought the enterprise to this city back in 1948. Through hard work and sheer determination he created a fine local retail establishment and his death was a severe loss to our business community. We are sorry to see his sons move on, but we wish them well in their new undertaking and hope they have the same success in Howell that their father enjoyed in Plymouth.

City manager Al Glassford is a man of his word. Before leaving for fishing in Canada last week he told us he would bring us back a bass, and this he did. A beautiful one, too. However, in telling us about the excellent fishing, good food and fine companionship of the local group, he failed to mention the fact that the first time he stepped off the dock into a boat he lost his balance and provided an underwater show for the other members of the group including, Carl Shear, William Hartmann and Dr. L. L. Salan.

Plymouthites extended a friendly greeting last weekend to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Sharrard, new owners of Sharrard's Accessories Shop which opened to the public last Thursday. The shop, the first of its kind in Plymouth, features a complete line of accessories for bathrooms and closets in the home. Located on Ann Arbor Trail the store provides residents with the latest in new styles and new items for bathroom rejuvenation and beautification and provides a one stop service for any need of this kind. If you haven't already visited Plymouth's newest store we recommend a call at your earliest convenience.

Board President Expresses Views Concerning Election

The following statement was issued Tuesday morning by Gerald Fischer, president of the Board of Education, concerning the Monday millage election:
"We are very gratified, on the Board of Education, by the very large turn-out and the favorable vote for our 5-mill proposal in the July 30 election. This outcome was unquestionably the result of an increased public awareness of the facts and issues involved, due to the all-out effort of the coordinating committee of citizens, led by Dr. Van Ornum and Mrs. Jessie Latter, the excellent newspaper coverage and the diligent efforts of the Board members."
"We want to publicly acknowledge our appreciation to the Plymouth Mail and all public-spirited citizens who worked to support the cause of good schools in this election."
"I wish to also state that this Board of Education fully recognizes its responsibility to ALL of the citizens of the Plymouth Community and that we will give our very best effort, providing quality education for our children without excessive costs."
"We hope that there will be increasing public awareness and support of our work toward this goal."

Plymouth Township Proceedings

BOARD MEMBERS PRESENT: Roy R. Lindsay, Fred L. Miller, Elizabeth Holmes, Louis J. Norman, C. Veach Sparks.

There being a quorum present, the meeting was held to order at 8:10 p.m. by Supervisor Lindsay. The minutes of the regular meeting of June 12, 1962, were read by the Clerk, and there being no objections or corrections, they were declared approved and read.

Mr. Lindsay read a list of unpaid bills totaling $18,003.39, payment of which was approved, on a motion by Mr. Norman, supported by Mr. Miller, and carried unanimously.

For the purpose of providing a planning credit service to meet the needs of Plymouth Township, it was considered advisable to change from the State of Michigan to the City of Detroit Plumbing Code. In order to accomplish this in the best possible manner, it was found necessary to adopt a separate ordinance to replace those sections of Building Ordinance No. VI, which have prior to this time served as the Plumbing Ordinance for the Township of Plymouth.

The new ordinance, which will be known and referred to as the Plumbing Ordinance of the Township of Plymouth, shall be designated as Ordinance No. 22.

This ordinance was adopted, on a motion by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Norman.

On the recommendation of Township Engineer, Herold F. Hamill, a resolution was adopted, requiring the use of vitrified clay pipe with premium joints for all underground sanitary sewer installations.

Motion by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Sparks. Motion carried.

Because of the adoption of Planning Ordinance No. 22, which cancelled that part of Building Ordinance No. 6, which served as the Plumbing Ordinance for the Township of Plymouth, and which included the rates for use when issuing Plumbing Permits, it has become necessary to re-establish a list of rates to be used for that purpose.

Mr. Miller proposed the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the rates to be charged when issuing permits for plumbing installations in Plymouth Township are hereby established, read and approved to be immediately effective.

Mr. Miller here presented the list of changes from the prior list, whereafter Mrs. Holmes supported the motion. The vote for adoption was unanimous.

The Planning Commission, at its regular meeting held on June 20, 1962, recommended the rezoning from A-G to R-1-E of a triangular shaped area located on the corner of Ann Arbor Road, on the south by Joy Road, and on the east by property already zoned R-1-E, 4 1/2 acres, to apply to the following parcels:

T. 1312 U1V2, W. X2a, X2b, X1a, X1b, Y1Z2a, Y1aY2b, Y1c1Y2c, Y1c2, Y1d, Y1e, ZAA being part of the SE 1/4 of Section 31, T-1-S, R-1-E, and that part of Parcel P-12 and N lying south of Ann Arbor Road in the SW 1/4 of Section 32 and Parcel P-13, T-1-S, R-1-E.

Mr. Miller offered a motion that the Township Board approve this rezoning and authorize Map Amendment No. 204 to be incorporated in and made a part of the official zoning map of Plymouth Township, and authorize the Clerk to provide for publication as required by law.

After support by Mr. Norman, the vote for approval was unanimous.

The contract for the purchase of a new pickup truck, based on bids received and opened at the regular meeting of June 12, 1962, was awarded to Paul Wiedman, Inc. for a Ford 1/2 ton capacity pickup truck with automatic transmission.

Moved by Mr. Sparks, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the motion carried.

Mr. Lindsay declared that it was necessary to appoint a new member to the Planning Commission to fill the unexpired term of Claude Roeker, who, because of conflicting working hours, resigned from his appointment.

Mr. Lindsay then submitted the name of Irving Rozian of 13925 Beck Road for consideration. Mr. Miller moved that Mr. Rozian be appointed to complete the term of Claude Roeker, resigned, which expires on June 18, 1964.

After support by Mrs. Sparks, the vote to appoint Mr. Rozian was as follows:

AYES: Lindsay, Miller, Norman, Sparks

NAYES: None

ABSENT: None

The transfer to the Township of Plymouth of those water lines located in Green Meadows Subdivision and presently supplied and maintained by the City of Plymouth has been the subject of discussion at several joint meetings between the City of Plymouth Council and the Township of Plymouth Board, and an agreement has been reached whereby the City of Plymouth would convey to the Township of Plymouth full title to the following:

(a) 2,500 lineal feet of 6-inch pipe line in Marlowe Avenue from a connection with the 12-inch pipe line in Ann Arbor Road, as extended, south to a point 70 feet north of the north line of Joy Road.

(b) 2,500 lineal feet of 6-inch pipe line in Elmhurst Avenue from a connection with said extended 12-inch pipe line in Ann Arbor Road south to a point 70 feet north of the north line of Joy Road.

(c) 1,700 lineal feet of 6-inch pipe line in Brookline Avenue from a point 70 feet south of the south line of Marlin Place south to a point 70 feet north of the north line of Joy Road.

(d) 650 lineal feet of 8-inch pipe line in Mayville Avenue from a connection with the 8-inch pipe line in Sheldon Road to a connection with the 6-inch pipe line in Elmhurst Avenue.

(e) Approximately 145 meters presently located in residences, etc., located in said subdivision and included in this portion of water system.

Said water mains and pipe lines together with improvements and additions made thereon being further described as lying within the said Township of Plymouth; the Green Meadows Subdivision, being part of the Southeast 1/4 of Section 34, T. 1 S., R. 8 E., Plymouth Township, Wayne County, Michigan, according to the Plat thereof recorded in Liber 61 of Plats, on Page 94, Wayne County Records, and the aforesaid public highways and streets and as having been laid under authority of certain permits, to-wit: Michigan State Highway Department, Permit No. 879-S and Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Permit No. 31827.

In consideration thereof the Township agreed to pay to the City of Plymouth the sum of $2,500, which shall be the sole obligation of the Township in the transfer.

An agreement of conveyance has been drawn jointly by Mr. Earl J. Demel, attorney for Plymouth Township, and Mr. Edward Draugelis, attorney for the City of Plymouth, and is awaiting the signature of the City Clerk.

Mrs. Holmes proposed a motion that the Township accept the transfer of title to the Green Meadows water lines, pipe lines, meters and miscellaneous items, as set forth in an agreement of conveyance prepared jointly by Mr. Earl J. Demel, attorney for the Township of Plymouth, and Mr. Edward Draugelis, attorney for the City of Plymouth, and that the Township Clerk be directed to authorize the payment of $2,500, to the City of Plymouth as agreed.

After support of Mr. Norman, the vote for adoption was unanimous.

In order to proceed with proper authority, Township Attorney, Earl J. Demel, requested that the Township Board adopt a resolution to authorize the Township Clerk to take whatever action they may deem necessary to have these buildings declared unfit for human habitation and therefor be condemned.

After support by Mr. Sparks, the motion carried unanimously and the resolution was declared adopted.

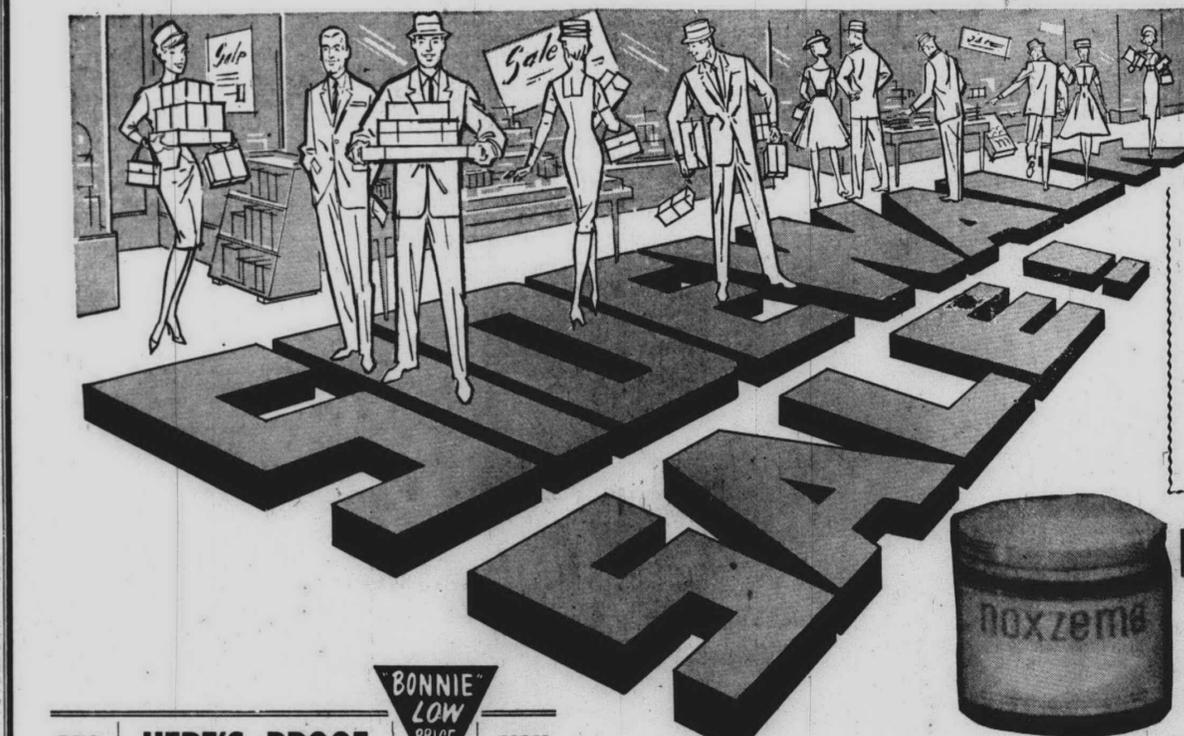

Mr. Lindsay read a letter to the Township Board, dated July 12, 1962, from Fire Chief, Howard Holmes, requesting a leave of absence beginning July 14, 1962, and extending to January 14, 1963, with the privilege of a six months renewal.

Mr. Miller proposed a motion that the Board acknowledge receipt of the letter and grant the request of Fire Chief, Howard Holmes, for a six months leave of absence without compensation and consider his request for a six months renewal only provided he is still a bona fide resident of Plymouth Township.

After support by Mrs. Holmes, the motion was unanimously adopted.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 11:20 p.m. on a motion by Mr. Norman, supported by Mr. Sparks.

Knew Many of Aviation Greats

Pioneer Flier Has Own Air Museum

By Jim Sponseller
Jimmy Doolittle, Clarence Chamberlin, Amelia Earhart, Frank Hawks, Roscoe Turner, Eddie Rickenbacker.

These are names most of us know well. But they are more than names to one Plymouth area man. He knew them all.

Ray Collins, 16180 Homer Dr., mingled among these aviation greats a generation ago, and one wall of his home is lined with mementos from the era when flying was considered a mere past-time for the foolhardy.

A resident of Plymouth for 13 years, Collins himself carved a small niche in helping aviation grow from short pants into adulthood.

Starting as a pursuit plane instructor and flier in World War I, he became first director of what is now the Michigan Aeronautics Commission.

But perhaps the most exciting years were those spent as referee and director of the Ford Reliability Tours during which he came in contact with nearly every aviation great of the Roaring 20's.

With hopes of becoming a race car driver in his youth, the outbreak of World War I changed the mind of young Ray Collins of Detroit and instead enlisted in the Army as a pilot trainee. Sent to Ohio State University, he was among the 18 out of the class of 100 that graduated.

"Then they sent us off to Call Field at Wichita Falls, Tex.," Collins related. "The field and hangars were there, but the airplanes, Curtiss Jennies and Standard Ox's, were still in crates. We had a great time putting them together."

With still only 15 hours of flying time, they next went to Love Field at Dallas for their first cross-country training. "In those days we wet our finger and held it up to see which way the wind was blowing. And we wore fancy spur boots besides. We were real dudes. I'll tell you."

Eventually Collins was shipped to France with the 17th Pursuit Squadron and instead of going to the front, he was named as instructor at the Advance Flying School of Issoudun. Before he got much combat time, the armistice was declared. He now held the rank of captain.

Back in the U.S., Capt. Collins stayed with the Army six years until one near-fatal day at Selfridge Field in 1924 when a student fainted and got his foot lodged in the controls. The plane fell out of control for 60 feet and Collins suffered a skull fracture. This ended his Army career.

In civilian life, he landed a new type of job. The Union Trust Co. of Detroit decided to establish an Aviation Department and Ray Collins was named its chief. It was about this time that the builder of the first all-metal plane, Detroit's Bill Stout, ran into financial difficulties and eventually sold his company to Henry Ford. This got Ford into the airplane making business. According to Collins, it was actually Edsel Ford who was interested and soon the company came out with its famous tri motor dubbed the Tin Goose.

To help stir up public interest in aviation, the Ford Reliability Tours were originated and Capt. Collins was hired as a referee and later became general manager. All manufacturers were invited to enter planes and many of the famous pilots of that decade became involved.

The first tour in 1925 attracted 17 planes. They flew as far west as Omaha. Famous plane builder Tony Fokker, Collins recalls, stole the first tour with his zany antics and gained much publicity for his three engine plane. The tours left each year from Dearborn — the now-closed airfield on Oakwood across from Dearborn Inn.

"Each year the tour grew a little larger as more and more cities asked us to stop," Collins continued. "These planes would race against each other from city to city with horsepower, weight and other factors considered. At each stop we would be greeted by a huge crowd and city officials and then would have a luncheon or rousing banquet. And at nearly every dinner stop there was chicken on the menu!"

As manager of the tour, Capt. Collins would write cities proposed for the tour telling them what it would cost. "I'd get them to each donate $5,000 toward prize money, $500 more if it was a luncheon stop and around 1,000 if it was an all-night stop. Most of these places had no airports, so I'd tell them to find a nice large flat field."

Later in the year, Collins would go on what he called a "pathfinder" tour. Accompanied by wire service and Detroit newspaper men, he would fly to the proposed stops, confer with officials and take a look at the field. Many of these fields later became airports and perhaps some are still in use.

The tours were held each fall and thousands of people jammed the air fields to view the race's finish. At each banquet, there were speeches and Capt. Collins' usual job was to introduce the distinguished fliers.

A half dozen huge scrapbooks kept by Ford publicists, now owned by Collins, are jammed with clippings of the tours, most of them with his picture. Dinner programs sometimes listed him as the speaker, some of them other celebrities of the day — including Jimmy Doolittle. One like was a charming girl from Kansas, Amelia Earhart.

At the conclusion of each tour at Dearborn, the Edsel Ford Trophy was presented to the top winner of each tour.

"While people were always interested in the tour, I saw their interest really soar in 1927, the year that Slim Lindbergh flew the Atlantic." Collins met Lindbergh on occasions, but because "Slim" was a person who shunned public life, Lindbergh never became a close member of the flying fraternity.

The great depression finally brought an end to the Ford Reliability Tours in 1932 and also to Collins' bank job.

His three-year term as a public official began in 1928 when Governor Fred Green appointed him the first director of aeronautics in Michigan. Paid $5,000 a year, the same as the governor was getting, Collins flew about the state licensing airports for the first time but promised to take the job only if he could keep his others.

This later brought about a political donkeybrook but the governor supported Collins after he was satisfied that he was still doing his state job well. Collins left the position in 1930.

For a year and a half during the 1930's Ray Collins was a consultant for a brokerage firm that was backing manufacture of a plane in Detroit.

Still holding his captain's commission at the start of World War II, Collins tried to get back into the air and when they said no, he attempted to resign the Army and join the Navy.

But friend Jimmy Doolittle talked him into taking a more practical job for an aging pilot and he became chief of priorities for the Detroit Air Procurement District. He remained in this office until his retirement in 1958. Captain Collins last flew himself in 1945.

Though death has thinned out the ranks of his famous flying friends, he still corresponds with many of them, including Col. Roscoe Turner (breaker of many speed records), Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker (26 enemy planes in World War I), Clarence Chamberlin (who flew the Atlantic two weeks after Lindbergh) and Jimmy Doolittle (who among many achievements, was first to fly on instruments).

His private "museum" contains photos of many other notables bearing personal messages. Among these perhaps recognized are Frank Hawks (smasher of many speed records), Billy Brook (who nearly flew around the world in 1927 and was ready to hop the Pacific when stopped by the Army, Navy and Detroit Chamber of Com-

Judge Rules in Favor of Salem Twp. Roadside Stand Owner

By Vera M. Clair
GL 3-2610

A suit against Denver Cochran, 8348 N. Territorial Rd., asking for closure of his roadside stand was dismissed by Judge Breakey in Washtenaw Circuit Court last Friday morning. The suit was filed by a neighbor, Angelo Di Fonio. Judge Breakey's opinion stated that a farmer has a right to sell what he grows in an agricultural zone, at a convenient location, even though his operations are large and rather widely separated.

However, the operation should not be commercialized by the selling of produce not grown by the farmer, the judge added.

"This should clear the air and please nearly all of our people," Township Supervisor Earl Ingall declared this week in commenting about the case. "The Township Board's decision not to enter this case has paid off." Ingall continued. "We have gotten everything we wanted without the expense and other bad effects of being in a law suit which lasted just about one year. Judge Breakey said it was HIS duty to protect the people of Salem Township by keeping our zoning ordinance in force. So he did not invalidate our ordinance as he had been asked to do.

"The judge whole-heartedly agreed with the first position taken by the Township Board in 1960 in regard to the Cochran stand," Supervisor Ingall added. "We are pleased because this is the position the present Township Board has taken."

The Salem and Superior township fire departments supervised the burning of one of the oldest homes in the community, on Sunday, July 22. It was the old Van Aken home on Brookville Rd.

Mrs. Louis Meyers of Tower Rd. flew to Garden Grove

Calif. on Wednesday, July 25 to be with her brother who is in a very critical condition with a heart attack.

The B & C log cabin store located at North Territorial and Gotfredson's Roads is now under the new management of George Russek.

George Curtis, city and county librarian of La Porte, Ind., will start his new duties Aug. 1 as the new county librarian. He will spend some time with the Bookmobile to become acquainted with the county. I am sure all will be glad to know that there has been several new stops added to the list.

Luella Barrett of North Territorial Rd. entered St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday, July 22, for surgery. She is improving nicely and I'm sure a card would lend a bit of cheer while convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carter of Five Mile Rd. spent Friday visiting with friends in Hillsdale, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schuchard of Napier Rd. are spending a few days at their trailer in the woods at Johannesburg, Mich.

On Wednesday, July 25, Elaine Ann Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilson of Seven Mile Rd., accompanied her aunt, Mrs. James Moran and cousin, Bill, to Caseville where they spent a number of days at the senior Moran's cottage on Saginaw Bay. While in the Thumb area of Michigan they made side trips to Port Austin, Port Hope, Huron City, and Pigeon. A tour of the William Lyon Phelps Memorial Museum at Huron City proved very interesting. Pioneer life was portrayed in a 125-year-old log cabin. Also included in the group of historic buildings was the 1885 Cost Guard station, a school room of 1890, and the Hubbard Phelps Memorial Chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Buers of Six Mile Rd. are on a vacation trip to Sana Anna, Calif. Ted's sister, Elizabeth, who has been spending the summer there, will return home with them.

Callers at the Acres this week were Mr. and Mrs.

Norman B. Sage of Detroit, on Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. John Beltz of Pontiac, and Mrs. Audrey Miller of Wayne on Sunday afternoon.

On Tuesday, July 17, Mrs. Lucy Wilson, children Elaine Ann, Lucy Jane, and Debbie Lee, joined Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mrs. Elaine Moran and nephew, Bill, in an all-day outing on Belle Isle. The group enjoyed a tour through the Aquarium, Horticultural Building, the children's Zoo, and bicycling while on the island.

Don Smith, president of the board of South Lyon School, tells me that the following program will prevail for the 62-63 school year unless some way is found to meet the budget.

The fifth and sixth grades will alternate on half day sessions and that the seventh and eighth grades will alternate with the junior high on half day sessions.

Vacancies for home economics, music, counselor, and physical education will not be filled.

Fees for lockers, supplies, and book rentals will be increased to the parents to raise an additional $5,000.

The bus schedule has been revised for fewer stops and night activities will be eliminated, and the schools maintenance staff has been cut in half.

These economy measures that have been approved will cut $75,000 from the proposed $753,600 budget. I understand there is to be another meeting this week, so will be able to give the people of Salem further information.

FINLEY'S FRUIT STAND at 41310 Schoolcraft was displaying cantaloupes last Monday afternoon and owner Vernon Finley said it was the earliest he had ever picked melons at his farm there. ## WHO'S WHO in the Plymouth Community Schools

Mrs. Mabel H. Bloxom, a fifth grade teacher at Gallimore was born on a large farm in Inkster. She is the daughter of Cora and Willis R. Harrison, the latter now a retired Justice of the Peace.

Though the farm has long since become a subdivision, Mable still remembers the tales that her father told her of the Indian activities that passed along the Ann Arbor Trail.

With her rare gift of a natural story teller, Mrs. Bloxom treats her children (at home and at school) to these same stories of Indian life, of life on a farm, and many other pleasant and exciting episodes that children always enjoy.

She also reads poetry aloud and has instilled in her children a love for this form of literature.

An active interest in education is shared with many members of her family. Her father contributed his time for almost 20 years as a director of the Board of Education of the Cherry Hill school district and was honored in 1957 when an elementary school was named for him.

Two aunts have been teachers and her twin sons, Bill teaches math at Emerson Junior High in Livonia and his wife has previously been a teacher. His twin brother, Tom, also married a certified teacher who now confines her teaching to piano students.

Mabel's third child, Kathleen Dodds, though certified to teach foreign languages and in the communications media is now aiding the communications skills of two young Dodds.

Needless to say, six grandchildren are Mrs. Bloxom's most consuming hobbies though she enjoys painting with water colors, growing delphiniums from seed and tending her beds of peonies and roses.

Beginning in the Cherry Hill school, Mrs. Bloxom taught classes which included a brother and a sister, then after two years she moved to the Dubois School in Redford. Tow years later she returned to the Detroit Teachers College (the parent institution of Wayne State University) to complete her study for a Life Certificate.

Next she substituted in Plymouth for a year and taught second grade at the Central school for three years.

Then she retired in order to rear her own children but at the end of World War II again did substitute work here, eventually teaching full time in Bird school when it opened and then temporarily in the Junior High school until the class moved into Gallimore.

In all of her experiences, she has taught every grade from Kindergarten through sixth and, along with Mrs. Kay Bock, pioneered the school camping program.

Since returning to full-time Mrs. Bloxom has earned a BS degree at Wayne university and has completed several hours of graduate work at Eastern Michigan University.

Last summer was the first time she was not attending classes and she and her husband, John, a retired Ford Motor Co. executive, spent six weeks in Europe on a tour that they had planned for themselves.

Mrs. Bloxom is a member of the NEA, MEA, and the PEA, having served in the past on the executive board and the finance committee. She has been a corresponding secretary for the Community School Planning Group. Also in past years she has taught in the Presbyterian Sunday School, worked with the Planning Commission of Plymouth, and was a volunteer Red Cross Worker.

She also found time to belong to the Women's Club and the Hobby Club.

Meticulous, creative, and energetic are three traits that she has focused the last two years on an Individualized Reading Program, which was planned jointly with Don Murray, a co-teacher in the same school.

Mrs. Mabel Bloxom has shared her knowledge and experiences with student teachers from Madonna College who have practiced under her direction.

Since 1954 Mrs. Bloxom has shared her knowledge and experiences with student teachers from Madonna College who have practiced under her direction.

Second Junior High To Cost Less Than First

A cost of $575,300 has been estimated for the second phase of the Junior High — West which is to open in September 1964.

The first phase will open this September.

A hour-long discussion with the architect took place Monday night at a special board of Education meeting. Going over preliminary plans, they have decided most details of the second phase.

The architect estimates that the addition will cost $507,200. In addition, equipment will cost $52,400 and additional work in the existing building will cost $15,000.

This estimate will bring the cost of the entire building and site up to $1,688,200. Cost of the Junior High — East, including site, was $1,749,838. This building was erected five years ago.

Junior High — East has 34 teaching stations; Junior High — West will have 36.

The Junior High — West is being constructed under the 5-mill Building and Site Sinking Fund. This fund is a pay-as-you-go program and will save taxpayers an estimated $600,000 in interest payments over five years.

There are four one-story wings to be added to the present building for the second phase. One wing will include a home economics section, science labs and a special education room. Another will be the library and administrative offices. The third will be the industrial arts shop and art rooms. The fourth will include a cafeteria, food service, band and choral rooms.

The second phase will have around 32,790 square feet of floor space.

Firm Wants Lease On Canton School

An offer to lease the vacated Canton Center School for the office of an educational game company was made to the Board of Education Monday night.

The firm, called Career Games, Inc., wants to utilize the "little red schoolhouse" theme in its advertising, a spokesman said. Canton Center, closed in June because of economy, was the last one-room school operating in Wayne County.

The Board's facilities committee was directed to study the offer.

A 1923 STEAM ENGINE provided the power last Sunday for some old-style grain threshing at the farm of Wilford Buneya, 40595 Joy Road. A grain separator of the same vintage completed the picture. Buneya was aided by his son, Guy, and a number of neighbors, many of whom are steam engine hobbyists. While a modern combine threshes up to 80 acres in a day's time, the steam engine and grain separator required the better part of Sunday to handle a five acre plot, especially planted for this purpose. The steam engine produces 30-horsepower. After the operation got underway, wheat was worked into the ancient separator (at right, above), chaff was blown off and grain was poured into a loading truck. Here, the men are adjusting the power belts, prior to the start of actual threshing. That's Asay Shear (left) adjusting the main power belt.

Some Township, City Precincts Change Sites

There will be new precinct locations for some Plymouth Township and City voters next Tuesday.

In the Township, Precincts 1 and 2 have been split to form a new Precinct 4. Clerk Fred Miller announced. The split was required because of state law prohibiting more than 1,400 registered voters in one precinct.

Precincts 1 and 2 will now vote at the Fire Hall on Schoolcraft Rd. and Precincts 3 and 4 at the Township Hall on Ann Arbor Rd. Voters have been notified by mail of their new precincts, Miller said.

In the City, there will be a new voting location for Precincts 1, 4 and 5. Precinct 1 was formerly at City Hall, and Precincts 4 and 5 were at the former Bronson Building. All are now at the Community Center Building (former K of C Hall) at Union and Dodge streets.

The narrow hallway at City Hall did not meet election code regulations requiring a three foot clearance around voting machines. The Bronson Building has been razed to enlarge the Central Parking Lot.

City Precincts 2, at Starkweather School, and 3, at the High School remain the same.

Third Millage Vote

The first report came from precinct 4 — (Starkweather School) where the vote was 708 to 388. This brought on a wave of reserved optimism. But when Precincts 2 and 3 also gave their endorsement, the victory was assured.

At 10:30, Precinct 1 at the High School, largest of the precincts, rounded out the victory.

(The vote published in the Plymouth Mail's Extra was the unofficial tally and differed by a few votes from the final official count set later Monday night.)

"Now we can get back to the job of education," Board of Education President Gerald Fischer happily declared Monday night. He noted that the Board has been spending too much of its time in recent months studying budgets and trying to get millage approved, and not enough time working on the job of educating children.

Supt. of Schools Russell Isbister declared, "The decisive favorable vote in the millage election is a clear mandate by the people that they want good schools in the Plymouth Community. It is a tribute to the many citizens who worked so tirelessly in their effort to interpret the financial needs of the school district and at the same time alert the electorate to the advantages of continuing a quality program. Special commendation should be given to the Plymouth Mail for the wide and considered coverage on the issues involved."

He added, "It is a vote of confidence in the Board of Education it its ability to finance this quality program following economical and sound business practices."

One of the women volunteer leaders, Mrs. Jessie Latter, declared yesterday that the outcome was a statement by the parents that "We love our children. We give you to understand that the preparation of their lives to face a turbulent and unsettled future is a consideration that rises above any other objection that the community stated. We do not know or understand the Board or give them any special mandate. We hope they know and understand us, at least sufficiently to perceive individual concern for all the children of the present generation."

Voters

In the Democratic state senate race, the Civic Searchlight has a preferred rating to Russell Davidson, 42, a teacher in Highland Park and a "qualified" to incumbent Raymond Dzendzel, a union business agent, and Fred Robinson, 22, restaurant manager.

On the GOP side, a preferred rating has been given Patrick J. McNally, 60, a Michigan Bell staff supervisor; and a "qualified" to Thomas Daoust, 48, Livonia, a Ford technical writer and instructor, and Harry Weindorf, real estate and insurance broker.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

When entering the voting booth, voters must close the curtains and then push a lever indicating their party choice. It is impossible to cross party lines once this choice is made.

Sees School District Debt Free in 1966

The Plymouth Community School District should be free of indebtedness by late 1966.

That was the good news revealed to the Board of Education by Harold Niemi, chairman of the finance committee, Monday night.

Niemi said that the last of the $3,000,000 bond issue of 1955 should be retired by late 1966 "if everything goes as planned."

"While the debt retirement picture looks good, this has nothing to do with operating expenses," Board President Gerald Fischer quickly added.

He noted that while money received to retire bond issues and to put into the Building and Site Sinking Fund is covering needs, citizens must realize that this money cannot be used for operation (salaries and other expenses).

Youth

(Continued from page 1) will give a concert at Fairlane Lawn, which will be broadcast over Detroit radio and television stations. They will give the same concert in Washington.

Following the concert at Fairlane Lawn they will re-board the busses and return to Detroit Metropolitan Airport and board the ONA jet for Washington National Airport, where upon arrival, they will be met by U.S. government busses, and taken to U.S. Army barracks, where they will spend the night.

Following the 10:30 a.m. concert on Aug. 6, the group will have lunch with President Kennedy and his wife, after which they will take a bus tour of Washington, D.C., before boarding the plane to return to Traverse City.

Cancer Foundation Moves Offices

The Plymouth branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation is moving its offices today from 849 Penniman to 204 S. Main St., former headquarters for Junior Achievement. Office hours are from 1-4 p.m. The phone number remains the same, GL 3-3010.

The branch office is fully equipped as a service center to render the following services to all cancer patients without charge: dressings, hospital beds, wheel chairs, walkers, commodes, bed trays and other sickroom supplies. Transportation is also provided for those cancer patients requiring transportation to and from treatment centers when the family is unable to do so.

First Federal

In designing the new building, the architect was careful to make no radical departures from traditional early American style. He said:

"The New England atmosphere, as expressed in the name Plymouth itself will do much to encourage more colonial exteriors and certainly enhance the beauty of Plymouth's downtown area."

Former Plymouth Pair In Barbuda—For Keeps

A former Plymouth couple this week were on their way to the Island of Barbuda in the British West Indies where they "may just live the rest of their lives."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Casselman, who lived in Plymouth and Livonia before moving to Florida a few years ago, will manage an exclusive sportsman's lodge on the small island for the lodge's multi-millionaire owner. The island is in the Caribbean.

"I hope we stay there the rest of our lives," said Mrs. Casselman, a 1931 Plymouth High graduate who was married to Casselman in the First Presbyterian church here.

"It's so thrilling," she said, "that I get butterflies in my stomach just talking about it."

The couple left yesterday (Tuesday) from Ft. Lauderdale and will take up residence on the Island of Barbuda immediately.

They will serve as co-managers of the Coco Point Lodge there, under terms of an 18-month contract which is renewable.

"We'll live at the lodge itself to start," Mrs. Casselman explained, "but they're building us a house and we'll move into that as soon as it's finished."

"Of course, we intend to visit Trinidad and Venezuela and Puerto Rico, too, as long as we're down that way," she said. "Eventually, we hope to see all of the sites down there."

It was through a friendship with the lodge's maintenance chief that the couple obtained the unique position as lodge managers.

Casselman, who for several years was district sales manager for an engine rebuilding firm in Detroit, moved with his wife to Ft. Lauderdale two years ago.

He purchased and operated a night spot there, but has since sold it to take the offer of managing the lodge.

They also have recently sold their home in Livonia. When they were Plymouthites, the couple lived at the corner of Harvey and Penniman.

"I see that there have been some changes here since last we were up here," Mrs. Casselman observed.

But she couldn't keep the subject long away from the new job awaiting her and her husband.

The Island of Barbuda is located 1,300 miles south of Miami. It's a flat oval of land that juts out of the balmy Caribbean.

"It's perfect for sportsmen," she said.

There's deer hunting and duck hunting, fishing, tennis, horseback riding, skin diving and a host of other things for guests to do, explained Mrs. Casselman.

The lodge itself is decidedly on the exclusive side.

Rates range as high as $90 a day for a double room, but this includes everything imaginable. The island has been described as a skin divers' and beachcombers' paradise.

The Casselman's daughter,

Carol-Lynn, who was born in Plymouth but graduated from Bentley High in 1960, will remain behind. She will enter the University of Detroit this fall.

"We've given her an open invitation to hop on a plane and come down and visit us anytime she wants to," Mrs. Casselman said.

Mr. and Mrs. Casselman were in Plymouth last week saying good-bye to friends here and closing out personal matters.

They were entertained at several small, informal parties, including a "Bon Voyage" affair Wed., July 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Munch on Union St.

And then it was "Barbuda-bound" for the former Plymouth pair.

Farmers No Longer Easy Prey For Gyps, Confidence Schemes

Farmers no longer are easy marks for those who prey on the public with confidence schemes and gyp practices. The time is long gone when anyone seeking a soft mark looks to the country. Farmers these days are sophisticated, knowledgeable people who read the same books, watch the same movies on late-TV as their non-farm neighbors and they frequently have more basic knowledge packed away under their hats than their counterparts in other professions. They have to, in order to survive.

When time allows, today's modern farmer is an avid reader. He subscribes to and receives all the advantages of a "home town" paper such as this one. Through it, he learns, just as do subscribers "in town" what bargains are real, and about the firms that offer them.

Most importantly, he becomes acquainted through years of business dealings, with people he can trust. He knows they will be in business next month and next year. He knows that he is important to them as a customer, — one that buys more gasoline and petroleum products than representatives of any other industry, — a customer that uses six and a half million tons of steel each year, nearly enough for a full year's production of automobiles out of Detroit!

Appliance dealers love farmers. As the user of 22 billion kilowatt hours of electrical power each year, — today's mechanized farmer is replacing man-power with motor-power, on the farm, in the barn and in the farm home.

Farmers these days watch the grocery ads in their local papers. They grow only small quantities of their own vegetables and fruits. Michigan farmers rank fifth among all in the nation in their purchase of food for their families.

Through the pages of his local paper, today's rural American learns about fly-by-night roofing salesmen, about furnace gyp artists or itinerant lightning-rod salesmen that periodically descend on an area. Descriptions of their operations trigger his native perception, making him all the more determined to have dealings only with people he knows and trusts. Small wonder the arrival of his local newspaper is an event of no small importance to most farmers.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

In the July 25 edition of the Plymouth Mail there appeared a malicious and insulting letter regarding the Senior Citizens. We hope that no one will be influenced by the irresponsible charges made. The writer apparently believes that one has the right to urge a group of people to vote an increase in taxes but denies the right of anyone to disagree. He speaks of freedom, but does not grant the right of free speech to anyone who may disagree with him.

He calls the senior citizens wreckers and intimates that they would deny a child a proper education. No normal person would make such a statement. No one in or out of the senior citizens would entertain such a thought. The illustrious writer has missed the boat. If he would open his eyes and ears and ask some of those who voted "no" why they voted as they did, he might learn that there may have been other factors which prompted their decision.

The Senior Citizens are a fine group of people and the only issue concerning them is the one of tax relief. Some of the people are living on small pensions and Social Security and have a much greater need for more money than the school board has. Perhaps if their tax load were a little lighter they could live a little better. As for Senior Citizens being wreckers, any fourth grade student should be able to prove to the writer that the Senior Citizens are not wreckers, but are still builders. Although they may not build with their hands, they build honesty and integrity which are things that our venomous writer may not be aware of.

The castigator of some of Plymouth's best citizens informs us that business pays a large chunk of taxes. Does he think that is news? The telephone company alone pays about two million a year into the primary school fund. One thing our friend seems to be ignorant of is that over the past years, equalization has shifted some of the tax burden from business to home owners.

He asks: "What are we doing about inflation?" He apparently does not know that as taxes go up so does inflation. The manufacturers and merchants pass along tax hikes to the customer in higher prices. The Senior Citizens in seeking lower taxes are doing their best to stop inflation. Our vindictive writer does not believe in lower taxes, therefore, he must like inflation.

He criticizes some people for not raising families. Of course, we find this type of person in any group in the country. He has no consideration for the pensioners who raised their families and have paid school taxes for twenty or twenty-five years after their children graduated. It is indeed unfortunate that he encompassed all of the Senior Citizens in his vicious tirade because many of them may have voted in favor of the increase, indeed perhaps a majority. Who knows how people vote?

The writer of the letter does not want to be identified with any group that does not believe as he does. That is as it should be. The letter regarding the Senior Citizens was not worthy of an intelligent human being and a retraction of the false charges and a public apology are in order. If a public apology is not forthcoming, the writer of the malicious letter will not doubt be held in contempt by many people.

In conclusion, we feel that there is no finer group of people anywhere and we are guilty of nothing more than exercising our rights as good Americans.

Challengers Fade As Tait's Rolls On

Challengers fell by the wayside last week in the Class B recreation softball league here as Tait's Cleaners all but clinched a conference championship.

The Cleaners team, winner of two games last week, boosted its league-leading record to 9-2 with only three games remaining on the regular schedule.

Team manager Gordie Robinson, although he wouldn't admit it, gave indications of his confidence that Tait's would wrap up the crown this week.

With three contests remaining, Tait's should have a soft touch as the league comes to a close. Tait's opponents include McAllister Bros., Carling's and Plymouth Plating, none of whom have set the conference on fire this summer.

Last week, while Tait's knocked off Men's Lutheran 5-3, and Box Bar, 29-3, three contenders in the circuit dropped key games and fell further off the pace.

Vico Products, an 11-5 winner over Box Bar in one game, suffered a humiliating 5-4 loss to IBM early in the week. Toll House dropped IBM, 11-7, and challenging Pursell's, 9-8, but couldn't get by middle-ranked DeHoCo. The latter upset Toll House, 7-5.

Pursell's, in addition to its narrow loss to Toll House, suffered an 8-5 setback at the hands of Men's Lutheran, but did manage a 2-1 victory over lowly McAllister Bros.

Toll House, in defeating Pursell's, came up with a 5-run outburst in the bottom of the seventh inning to turn the tide. Pursell's victory over McAllister Bros. went 11 innings, as did IBM's squeaker over Vico.

Men's Lutheran led Tait's at one stage 3-0, but the front-runners rallied with one run in the fourth and four more in the fifth to forge ahead.

In other action last week in the B circuit, Carling's defeated Box Bar, 23-5, and Plymouth Plating, 11-4.

In its explosive victory over Box Bar, Tait's relied heavily on the homerun attack. Second basemen Pie Snyder hit a pair of homers, as did Don Thompson. The latter now leads Tait's in homers with eight.

Jeffery Vettesse added a four-bagger to the Tait's attack.

Under a special league playing rule, the game was called at the end of five innings. The rule states that any game may be called providing one team leads the other by at least seven runs and 70 minutes of playing time has elapsed.

Enroute to its 29-3 win over Box Bar, Tait's scored 11 runs in the third inning.

"We were really hitting," Tait's manager Robinson enthused later.

The standings at the close of last week's action:

W	L
Tait's Cleaners	9 2
Vico Products	8 4
Toll House	8 4
Pursell's	7 5
Carling's	6 5
DeHoCo	6 5
Men's Lutheran	5 6
McA. Bros. & Ply. Sch.	4 7
IBM	4 8
Plymouth Plating	3 7
Box Bar	3 10

SPORTSEEN

By Jerome O'Neil

George Hunter and Dick Nelson, a pair of golfers, are back on even terms once again.

They've both scored holes-in-one. Of course, if Hunter played his cards carefully, he could still wangle a bit of an edge over Nelson, it would seem.

Hunter fired his ace a year ago after the stress of a particularly long night. Nelson, on the other hand, was fresh from his job at American Motors when he turned the trick late one afternoon a few weeks ago.

Hunter's big moment started innocently enough during a party at Nelson's house on Evergreen last year. The party didn't break up until the wee hours, but a golf date was made for the next morning at 6 a.m. at Brae-Burn.

Weary and sleepy-eyed, Hunter, Nelson, Roger Bogenchut and Herb Fletcher struggled that morning around the course. At the fourth hole, Hunter had a 10 and he was suffering.

At the fifth tee, he put on a little show.

"There's nothing to this game," he grumbled, as he teed up. "You put the ball on the tee, hit it high in the air, onto the green and into the cup."

A practice swing loosened a few left-over kinks and then he tried it for real.

His ball hit just in front of the green, bounced up, trickled right into the hole.

Stunned at his fortune, Hunter just stood there while the other three whooped and whistled. An honest-to-goodness ace, it was Hunter's first and only so far.

It was also distressing to Jim Doyle, another golfer, who observed that it would be tough playing with Hunter in the future what with a hole-in-one to his credit.

Nelson had to wait almost a year to the day to even things with Hunter. He was playing last week in his regular American Motors research department golf league at Bonnie Brook.

It's a particularly short course, only par 62. The 11th hole there measures 225 yards and for some inexplicable reason carries a par-4 rating. Already on his way to one of the best rounds of golf in his life, Nelson used a 2-wood.

He holed it with a perfect shot from the tee. It helped him to a 30, even par. Needless to say, Nelson was elated.

At the next hole, he almost dropped his tee shot again. It was headed on a line with the pin, but hit four feet beyond and bounced another eight feet further. He parred it after two putts.

Jim Doyle was further distressed. He is Nelson's brother-in-law and Plymouth High's tennis coach, too.

It was bad enough with Hunter hitting a hole-in-one," Doyle mused. "But now they both have one."

"How'm I going to play golf with either one of them now?"

It was a good question, one that few golfers have to contend with.

Nelson lives at 751 Evergreen. Hunter lives near the Junior High off Lilley Rd. Their friendship dates from school days here.

PLYMOUTH'S JUNIOR LEAGUE SEASON came to a close last Saturday as the National League Braves won their second consecutive World Series championship, two games to one over the American League White Sox. Both teams had previously won divisional crowns in their respective Junior League Divisions this year. Above, teammates swarm around Braves' pitcher Steve Petersen after he turned in a 3-hit, 12-0 shut-out as the Braves won the third and deciding game in the World Series. The White Sox are shown below. White Sox opened the series with a 6-4 victory, but the Braves took the second game, 10-6, and earned the series' flag Saturday on the strength of Petersen's shut-out.

Fisher's Stays in 2nd In "E" Baseball Loop

Fisher's Shoes stayed a step behind front-running Northville Plumbers in the recreation department's Class E baseball league last week, but the Plumbers team has all but wrapped up the conference championship anyway.

The league concludes early this month.

Fisher's racked up two victories in easy fashion to boost its second-place record to eight wins opposed to three losses. The pair of victories were comprised of an 8-3 nod over Wayne County Training School and a 10-4 decision against Novi Giants.

Against Novi Giants, Bruce Vernon hurled a neat three-hitter for Fisher's and contributed a pair of homers in the fourth inning as the winners exploded with a six-run outburst.

Northville Plumbers won two last week also. They nipped Northville Recreation, 10-5, and then downed WCTS 11-1.

Tom Barnes, pitching for WCTS against the league leaders, fanned 12 of the 15 batters he faced in the first five innings.

Finlan Real Estate, another

Plymouth entry in the conference, also picked up a pair of wins. Finlan dumped Bill's Market, 4-2, and later defeated Northville Recreation, 6-5. Plymouth Kiwanis beat Novi Giants, 18-8, but lost 9-7 to Novi Flyers in other action.

The standings at the close of last week:

Northville Plumbers	9 0
Fisher's Shoes	8 3
Finlan Real Estate	6 2
Plymouth Kiwanis	5 3
Novi Giants	5 5
Novi Flyers	4 5
Bill's Market	3 6
Northville Recreation	2 9
WCTS	1 9

Michigan mines nearly 20 percent of the nation's salt. It has enough salt to supply the entire nation "forever."

Redford Leads In "D" League

Plymouth entries in the Class D baseball league dwined lower in the conference standings after action last week.

The Plymouth Elks bowed 4-3, to Champion Sporting Goods, but then rebounded long enough to shut-out the Wayne Tigers, 7-0, and nip Saints, 4-1, but still slipped as other teams racked up two victories in the league.

Champion Sporting Goods added two other wins to their victory over the Plymouth Elks. They white-washed the Wayne Tigers, 7-0, and nipped Northville Plumbers, 4-2.

Redford DAV stopped Novi 4-3, and shutout the Plumbers 5-0, while the Wayne Monarchs dumped Novi, 3-1, in other games.

The standings:

W	L
Red DVA	9 2
Northville Plumb.	8 3
Wayne Monarchs	8 3
Champ Sprt. Goods	7 4
Ply. Elks	6 4
Ply. Opt.	3 7

Zornow Missed In Jay Cee Golf

Carl Zornow, Plymouth's entry in the JayCee state junior golf tournament at Maple Hills Golf Course near Hemlock, Mich., failed to qualify for the national JayCee tournament last weekend.

Zornow finished well back in the 27-hole contest.

Medalist honors went to Jim Baske, who fired a 107, one under par, for the 27 holes.

Baske, a Benton Harbor entry, led Bob Michalke by two strokes. Michalke is also from Benton Harbor.

The National JayCee Junior Golf Tournament will be held at Huntington, West Virginia, Aug. 20 through Aug. 25. It is a 72-hole event.

Issues 1st Alert For '62 Football

The first alert to Plymouth High's approaching 1962 football season went out last week in the form of a letter from head coach Mike Hoben.

Hoben sent personal letters to all of the varsity candidates who have signed up for this fall.

Hopefuls who had not previously enrolled will not receive Hoben's special letter. These candidates may pick up copies of the message at the guidance office in the high school.

First practice, Hoben stated, will be held starting at 9 a.m. on August 27.

Uniforms will be issued Saturday, August 25, from 9 a.m. to noon and on Sunday, August 26, from 1 to 3 p.m.

No uniforms will be issued unless a physical examination has been completed, Hoben said.

Plymouth opens against Northville on Sept. 14.

Hoben also mentioned in his letter that there is a special high school football conditioning camp slated to be conducted the last two weeks in August at Corey Lake near Three Rivers.

Further information on the conditioning camp may be obtained from Plymouth's football coach himself.

16 to Attend Hockey School

Among 68 boys from South-eastern Michigan who will attend a week-long hockey school in Toronto later this month are 16 Plymouth hopefuls.

The Toronto Hockey School, which begins Aug. 26 and ends on Sept. 2, helps young hockey players master the fundamentals of the game.

The Plymouth VFW is in charge of all arrangements. Further information may be obtained from Jim McKindles.

Sally Fletcher, Karl Kohlmeyer Repeat Vows

Mrs. Norman K. Kohlmeyer

Miss Sally Ann Fletcher and Norman Karl Kohlmeyer exchanged wedding vows in the New Hudson Methodist Church, New Hudson, June 30. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bessie Fletcher and the late Theron Fletcher. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stinson, 611 Weed Rd., Plymouth.

Given in marriage by her brother, Dallas A. Fletcher, the bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza trimmed with Chantilly lace. Lace touched with seed pearls and sequins trimmed the scalloped neckline and long sleeves. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a crown of crystal beads. She carried a bouquet of carnations, roses and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Stanley Clark, of New Hudson as matron of honor, and Connie Vradenburg, of New Hudson, as bridesmaid. They wore teal blue sheaths of silk organza and taffeta, with a silk organza over skirt and white accessories. They carried yellow mums.

Stanley Clark, of New Hudson, was best man and Richard Fletcher, New Hudson, and Richard Orr, of Plymouth, were ushers.

Receives Personal Letter from Gov.

Frank Sherman, 75, of 10675 Ann Arbor Rd., last week received a personally signed letter from Gov. Swainson in reply to a previous letter from Sherman.

Swainson's letter expressed the governor's thanks regarding Sherman's mention that a proposed 40 per cent salary increase for state legislators should be vetoed.

"I am in full agreement with you," said Swainson's letter to the elderly Plymouthite.

Sherman, who said that he is acquainted with the governor through the latter's residence here, has owned his farm on Ann Arbor Road near Joy since 1923.

"I was really flattered to get a personal letter from the governor," Sherman said.

Cons. Power Rates Reduced Slightly

Bills for gas service received by Consumers Power Company customers after August 6 will be at slightly reduced rates.

Most customers will scarcely notice the difference, according to Division Manager, J. P. Thomas, but the new rates will reduce Consumers' revenue gas sales by $2,035,000 a year. The Company's gas business amounts to approximately $130,000,000 a year.

The new rates were proposed by the company and approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission after a reduction in the cost of wholesale supplies of natural gas purchased by Consumers from Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company and Trunkline Gas Company.

Thomas said the annual bills of an average gas householding customer would be reduced about $3 a year or an average of 25 cents a month.

In addition to reducing gas rates, Consumers will refund about $4,000,000 to gas customers, representing a portion of refunds to the company from the two supplier companies. Most customers will receive their refunds in the form of a credit on a service bill received in September or early October.

The amount of the credit will be noted on the bill. Credits to residential and small commercial customers will range from a few cents to a few dollars, the Company said.

How I Earned My First Dollar

Lester Wilson

Lester Wilson, owner of the Photographic Center, was 17 years old when he got his first bonified job and for his efforts he earned the handsome sum of thirty-three and one-third cents an hour.

A native of Detroit, "Les" went to work for the Ortmann Photo Service as a photo finisher and that's where he broke into the business. After seven years there, he went to the Ford Photographic Department and worked in the Ford Administration Building. Seven years later, he joined the photo department at Ford's Willow Run bomber plant during World War II.

With a desire of becoming his own boss, he went into partnership in Plymouth in 1945 with Harold Enterline. The two bought the Stocken Photo Service and until 1947 they remained partners. Later, the partners decided to divide their responsibilities with Wilson operating a retail camera store and Enterline heading up the photo finishing business. On Oct. 12, 1946, they opened in a new building now occupied by Gaffield Studio. This was a memorable date for Les Wilson, for it was also the day his son, Bill, was born. Bill is now working part-time in his father's store.

In 1951, the Photographic Center moved into the Mayflower Hotel and in 1957 moved to its present location on W. Ann Arbor Tr. The photographic business is a lot different now than in 1946, Wilson said. "We had just a few shelves and had to use our flash and flood bulbs to fill them up. Now we haven't room for these," Wilson observed. A huge variety of cameras, equipment, film and other gadgets keeps the present shelves stacked full.

It has just developed that a cat was buried in the family lot of a Plymouth resident last week upon the request of the owner of the lot. By George Spelvin
Only a month remains until the official opening of the 1962-63 theatrical season. What is happening on the Broadway scene? Locally, what seems to be stirring regarding the Plymouth Theater Guild?

As announced last week the Guild is finally going to open the be-ribboned package marked "Children's Theater." And it's about time! Old George has been suggesting such a move to these many years. In fact, back five years ago when Bob Wall organized a Saturday activity entitled "Children's Theater Workshop", it was hoped then that this class would stimulate the Guild into action.

Let's be thankful that the Guild has moved ahead on this project. It's easy enough to throw "Brickbats" at our local drama enthusiasts. But, instead, they need all the help they can get. Incidentally, if any of your friends have thought about getting into the fun and fellowship that can be yours by joining the Plymouth Theater Guild, don't hesitate. Call Hal Young (GL 3-7548) or Barb Elliott, membership chairman (FI 9-0228) or Kathleen Dodds (GL 3-7819) for information on how you can be an active member.

Nothing has been decided definitely for the 1962-63 season. Several ideas have been batted around with the up-and-down swiftness of a badminton shuttlecock. A musical comedy has been mentioned. More plays for the meetings. Bring in some experts from the U of M. Let's do some serious dramas with the impact of, say, Tennessee Williams. Do we have to have our plays done in the high school? Let's move our shows to a different location. All these and more have been some of the issues facing the Plymouth Theater Guild during what should have been a restful summer.

Old George has some views on all of these matters. I will fire a salvo at only one: the musical comedy. I would hope that the Guild might wait at least another year before tackling such an ambitious project. If the co-operation of the Plymouth Symphony venture, we would be able to sail ahead and make a success of a musical.

Plymouth has the talent available for such a musical. That's not what worries me.

musical that takes time and effort. You have four to five times as many scene changes as well as set problems galore. Take "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" now at the Fisher, and incidentally, it's a top musical in the entertainment field. "Molly" has some 20 scenes.

Light cues come by the hundreds as the scene shifts from Leadville, Colorado, to Denver to Paris and back again. Singers, dancers, bit players and featured actors have a multiplicity of tasks, but even more important a large stage crew has to be struggling behind the scenes to make a musical production such as "Molly" move as apparently effortless as it does.

My suggestion: at the pops concert next spring, try a 40 minute version of one of more popular musicals. Let everyone see and experience the great amount of work necessary to even do only a third of a whole show. After we have crawled, then maybe we can go ahead and tackle the whole job.

What's coming on Broadway? A musical version of "Oliver Twist", the famous novel by Charles Dickens. John Hersey's "The Child Buyer" has been adapted for the stage. Mary Martin is rehearsing a musical based on the old-time movie serials; and the first full-length play by Edward Albee, the off-Broadway avant-garde playwright, comes uptown to the big league with a new, provocative offering entitled "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"

As we hear of some of the new material heading toward New York we'll drop it in here and there. Keep your eye on the Fisher Theater as several new shows will be trying out there prior to Broadway.

"The Carol Burnett Show" opened at the Shubert the other evening and is in the "prior to Broadway" category. Carol was in excellent form as she lunched and looped her way through several of her riotous TV sketches.

The New Yorkers should be quite pleased with this show. Carol will be at the Shubert for the balance of this week.

THE BILLBOARD
Fisher Theater "THE UNSINKABLE MOLLY BROWN" Karn Morrow as the "Ain't Done Yet" gal in a gay, joyous musical comedy. Closes August 5.

Northland Playhouse "THE COMPLAISANT LOVER" Walter Pidgeon and Martha Scott (Hollywood favorites) tackle a warm comedy about some very permissive London folk. Closes August 4.

"FIORELLO" One of the nation's favorite musicals about New York's famous mayor. Opens Aug. 7 for one week.

U of D Tent "MAJOR BARBARA" Shaw's ironic comedy on the utility of war. "HAMLET" The Bard's greatest and Bob McGill's tremendous performance make this a "must". These two plays alternate nightly until August 4.

Trueblood Auditorium "UNDER MILKWOOD" Dylan Thomas' rich tapestry of words given beautiful treatment by the U of M players in Ann Arbor. Opens tonight for a four day run.

Shubert Theater "The Carol Burnett Show" TV star in person with a musical revue. Breaking box office records prior to Broadway. Closes Aug. 4.

liam Ganthers of Rumson, N.J.; and the Leas, together with some Plymouth friends. Messages from several other Kentucky and Pennsylvania couples who could not attend, were received.

Miss Lovewell entertained at a birthday party Monday evening honoring Mrs. Lila Humphries, former Plymouthite now residing in Pasadena, Tex. The party was unique in as much as it was a "Telephone Birthday Party." Miss Lovewell had invited Mrs. Humphries' daughters, Mrs. Elvin Taylor, Mrs. Nina Blunk, Mrs. Anna Anderson and Mrs. Roberta Steele to her home on Pacific Ave. Upon their arrival, a telephone call was made to Mrs. Humphries and each guest wished her a happy birthday and chatted with her for a while. Later in the evening Miss Lovewell served birthday cake and ice cream to the guests.
