Heights' Charter Adoption Vote Eyed for Summer

An opinion recommending approval of the revised charter for the City of Plymouth Heights — otherwise known as Plymouth Township — is expected to be issued shortly by the Michigan attorney general's office.

A favorable ruling on the contents of the proposed charter is expected within a week or 10 days, according to James Garber, chairman of the charter commission for Plymouth Heights.

Federal Grant Spurs Township Planning Study

Plymouth Township has been awarded a federal grant amounting to $14,335 which will furnish three-quarters of the cost of conducting a comprehensive Township planning study.

Total cost of the study, which will take approximately two years to complete, will be $19,114. The study will be conducted by the firm of Waring & Johnson, of Detroit, the Township's planning consultant.

The grant is being made under the federal government's urban planning assistance program and the funds initially will be deposited with the Michigan department of administration. Plymouth Township will be (Continued on page 3)

The action will pave the way for obtaining the governor's signature on the document and will then lead to a charter-adoption election in the Township this summer.

Although the exact date for the election has not yet been set, Garber indicated it will be held the middle of July.

Already Plymouth Township has been incorporated as a city on the strength of a 1959 election, but its official "city" status will not come until the charter is adopted.

If voters turn down the charter, the Township will retain its present form of government.

The office of the attorney general enters into the situation to determine if the charter conforms to Michigan's Home Rule Act.

Following the attorney general's expected approval, the document will go to Gov. Romney for his signature, and the charter-adoption election will follow.

The area comprising the City of Plymouth Heights is that portion of Plymouth Township east of McClumpha Rd. Thus, a small slice of the Township to the west is not affected. The Township's western-most boundary is Napier Rd.

As it stands today, the Plymouth Heights' charter provides for a "strong-mayor" form of government, identical to that of the City (Continued on page 3)

WHAT'S IT TAKE to serve pancakes and sausages to 970 people? Well, the Plymouth Kiwanis Club found out Saturday during its annual pancake festival at the Masonic Temple here. The ingredients included 235 pounds of pancake flour; 310 pounds of sausages; 16 gallons of maple syrup; and 37 pounds of butter. Enjoying Saturday breakfast during the event were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Feld, of 14254 Shadywood, and their two youngsters, Greg, 12, and Sally, 9. Serving them a second helping is Walt Gemperline, Kiwanis Club president. The turnout of 970 far surpassed last year's attendance of 850 pancake fanciers. The club plans to hold another pancake festival this fall, thus turning the event into a semi-annual affair. For this most recent one, the champion ticket-seller turned out to be local shoeman Robert Wiloughby, who happens to be a Rotarian. He sold $52 worth of tickets.

JayCees Make Plans

July 4th Celebration Seen as 'Biggest Ever'

Striving to assemble the most auspicious Fourth of July celebration yet held in the Plymouth community, the JayCees this week have announced extensive preliminary plans.

Project chairman Joe Fletcher has revealed that the numerous standard "ingredients" of the celebration are being retained but that many new and varied aspects are being contemplated.

He indicated that the annual Fourth of July parade down Main St. will be "bigger and better than ever."

JayCee member Ken West is chairman of the parade. He has announced that the event will get underway at 11 a.m. on July 4, a Thursday this year.

Among the already-confirmed participants will be the Tarzan Rifles, a special drill team from the Grosse Pointe Naval Air Station. Other parade participants will include a number of bands, as well as antique autos and marching units.

The Senior High and Plymouth Community bands are both being sought, the JayCees have stated.

Beauty contest chairman Denny Hanks, who was in charge of the same phase a year ago, has issued a plea to Plymouth girls to enter their names in the growing list of beauty contestants.

Hanks may be contacted at GL 3-1215. He said the 1963 Miss Plymouth, who will be determined the evening of July 3, will receive a matched set of luggage, pre-paid tuition to a Detroit modeling school and various other prizes.

Other beauty contest entries will also receive prizes and awards, Hanks indicated.

The three categories of judging, as in the past, will be face, figure and personality, he said.

Vote Spells Doom For Old City Hall

Old City Hall "got the ax" Monday night.

Commissioners, following a 25-minute public hearing, voted unanimously to have the old landmark demolished after work on the new City Hall is completed.

Thus, the former movie and opera house will disappear from the scene after serving nearly 75 years as a center of Plymouth's activities.

The hearing — officially described as an "open meeting" — was surprisingly brief and included no objections to the suggestion that the City Hall be razed. Approximately 25 residents were on hand.

Mayor Richard Wernette opened the meeting with a statement:

"The most important consideration," he said, "is whether the preservation of the City Hall will in any way jeopardize the $255,500 federal grant already approved for the construction of the new building."

Harold Guenther, chairman of the municipal building authority which is in charge of the new City Hall project, reported that there are funds in the grant that appear to involve the demolition of the old structure.

He said an assistant in the Chicago office of the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency had earlier informed him that if any portion of the grant pertained to the demolition of the old building "the situation could become very complex."

Guenther's implication was that it would take an exceedingly long time to revise the federal grant if the old City Hall were to be preserved.

The two are Harold Niemi,

"If we save the building," he said, "the amount of the grant that applies toward demolition of City Hall would have to be deleted."

Following a few remarks by the residents present, Commissioners voted unanimously to raze the old building. A show of hands among the residents indicated that none of them opposed the demolition of the structure.

Architect Byron Becker reported it will cost the City $4,500 to destroy old City Hall and less than $10,000 to clear away all of the buildings on the site of the new City Hall.

Consideration had been given to saving City Hall and using it as either a youth center, an historical museum, or an auditorium and civic center.

Commissioners also conducted the required public hearing on the City's proposed 1963-64 budget. There were no objections to the budget from the residents attending the meeting.

Although Commissioners did not officially approve the new document, they will do so shortly.

Most significant aspect of the new budget, which will go into effect July 1, is the fact that the local tax rate remains the same.

The present levy of 14.65 mills will be continued. It amounts to $14.65 of tax on each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Due to a slight reduction in the local assessment on certain private homes in the City, a small portion of property - owners here will (Continued on page 4)

Wide Open Race For Two Positions On School Board

The June 10 race for two vacancies on the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District is rapidly taking shape as a wide open contest.

With less than two weeks remaining until the filing deadline (4 p.m., Saturday, May 11), there are strong indications that neither of the two Board members whose terms expire shortly will be seeking re-election.

The two are Harold Niemi, chairman of the Board's finance committee, and Peter Zylstra.

Zylstra, 625 Sunset, is definitely not expected to run again, and only a slight chance remains that Niemi, 7566 Joy Rd., will seek re-election. Both are concluding the regular four-year terms assigned all Board members.

Zylstra, an engineer, has recently taken a job elsewhere in the state and his wife said that the Zylstra family expects to move out of the Plymouth area this summer.

By virtue of his new employment, Zylstra has been unable to attend many of the regular meetings over the past eight months.

Niemi, who is manager of investment and systems analysis for Ford International's finance staff, has recently assumed added duties with his auto-maker employer. He has given no definite indication that he will run again for office.

Reveal Kindergarten Registration Schedule

A schedule of registration for kindergarten children who will enter the Plymouth public school system next September has been announced.

The youngsters must be five years old by Dec. 1, 1963, and a birth certificate will be required during registration.

This is the registration schedule: Farrant registration is to be conducted May 2 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Allen School, May 8, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Bird School, May 10, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Starkweather, May 16, 9-3.

Truesdell School, May 17, from 9 a.m. to 12-noon. Gallimore, May 23, 9-3. Smith School, May 28, from 9-3.

State laws requires that all children enrolling for the first time in a Michigan school must show evidence of having been immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus (lockjaw) and polio.

NEW mercury-vapor street lights are being installed throughout Plymouth's business area these days by Detroit Edison Co. A total of 59 new lights will be put in place at a cost of about $7,000. Funds for the project are included in the current City budget. Illumination on downtown streets will be increased approximately 50 per cent.

"Parade Of Orchestras" Set May 9

"The Parade of Orchestras," depicting the development of the orchestral program in the Plymouth public schools, will be presented May 9 in the Senior High gymnasium. The program starts at 7:30 p.m. and is free.

Performing will be four orchestral groups comprised of Plymouth school students.

The sixth grade orchestra will be directed by Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony.

The program is designed to show the development of the orchestral program in the school system here," Dunlap explained, "and we hope to demonstrate the work of string instruments as well." The public is invited.

Laurence Livingston will direct the Junior High East and Junior High West orchestras.

Open Forum Sets Sights on Area's Future

Stimulating...thought-provoking... inspirational...encouraging...a stepping-stone to the future.

These were only a few of the many verbal reactions that followed an open forum meeting here last Wednesday night when an estimated 100 community leaders discussed in depth the immediate and long-range needs and goals of the Plymouth area.

Gathered together from the far ends, as well as the very center, of the Plymouth School District, the 100 men and women took a hard, careful look at what must be done to — and for — Plymouth over the next 10 to 15-year period.

Things that must be accomplished, that is, if Plymouth is to retain its individuality in a swiftly merging suburban world; if the community is to grow and prosper along unified lines; and if it is to remain appealing and significant as it is today.

Representatives of virtually every segment of the community were on hand, from Canton Township on the south to Lake Pointe Village on the north. It will be hard to believe that there was a governmental body, civic group, cultural organization, service club or any other Plymouth group not represented.

With some acting as spokesman on behalf of two or more community groups, there was as great a total cross-section of the Plymouth area on hand for the forum as could be assembled.

Among the innumerable groups present, these were but a scant few: Kiwanis, Rotary, Listening Post, Historical Society, Senior Citizens, Chamber of Commerce, YMCA, Community Fund, School Board, Plymouth Township, City of Plymouth, Canton Township, Schoolcraft College, Boy Scouts, JayCees, Plymouth Trust Fund, Retail Merchants Division, Industrial Development Corp., Plymouth Education Association, Symphony Society...

There were others; so many, in fact, a list of them all would seem virtually endless.

Arranged and hosted by Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister, who keyed the meeting to the question "What does the future hold for the Plymouth Community?" the forum was held at Junior High East.

The over-riding opinion that came out of the meeting was one that has been voiced before — but never by so many at once.

The consensus seemed to be that a deep, unrelenting need exists to further widen and expand upon Plymouth's economic and cultural base.

Much of the discussion centered around terms that hearkened of a college sociology class; "socio-economic needs," "continued evidence of cultural awakening," "proper provisions for minority groups," "image," "civic appreciation."

Harvey Ziel, Dr. Clifford McClumpha, Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes and George Lawton. Isbister, the superintendent of schools here, organized the meeting. The others acted as discussion leaders. An estimated 100 persons were on hand, representing all segments of the community.

Promotion certificates for Farr and School boys and girls who will move into the first grade next fall are getting a lot of attention from Principal Gerald Elston these days. In fact, he has to sign all 107 of them personally. Gorry started filling out the small slips about May 1, hopeful that he'll have them all signed by the last day of school, June 12. He says his penmanship doesn't suffer so much if he tackles the promotion slips in stages.

Lake Pointe friends of Philip and Dorothy Johnson, of Greenbrook, will be happy to learn that the couple's three-year-old son David is home from Henry Ford hospital where he was taken last January after being badly burned in a home accident. The youngster suffered burns over a large portion of his body while he was playing with matches. At Ford Hospital, he was on the critical list for several weeks. Just as the doctors were about to begin extensive skin grafts, David came down with the measles and was isolated for three more days. Then, after being confined to bed for nine weeks, the child had to learn to walk all over again. Dorothy reports that her toddler is rapidly recovering now though.

Also on the "patient" list recently was Mrs. Donald Davies, of Brentwood, who underwent a thyroid operation last week at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

After the good job Doris Zerby did as chairman of the Plymouth Symphony Women's League theater party, she and her husband, Roger, who live on Russet Lane, really enjoyed themselves last Friday evening at the rollicking musical comedy "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" at the Fisher.

Attending the show with the Zerby's were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Rugh, friends from Royal Oak, and Doris' mother, Mrs. William Lane, Roger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Zerby of Detroit. A number of parties were held afterwards by members of the Symphony Women's League. The Zerby's attended one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sigman, of Hammill Lane. Mrs. Sigman worked on the committee with Doris.

Other Lake Pointers who saw "How to Succeed" included Mr. and Mrs. James Garber, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schendel, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Breen. The girls met their husbands in downtown Detroit Friday afternoon, a seafood dinner followed at Joe Muer's and then it was off to the show.

I hope the other theatergoers will not be unhappy that they aren't mentioned here, but there were so many from Lake Pointe that I could devote practically an entire column to their names. Needless to say, Doris Zerby's ticket selling job was a huge success.

Our congratulations to Don Alexander, of Russet Lane, who on July 1 will become principal of Gallimore School.

He has taught sixth grade there for the past four years. A graduate of Albion College with a master's from Western Michigan, Don has been teaching since 1956 and was in the Kalamazoo school system before coming to Plymouth. He and his wife, Margaret, are raising five students of their own, ranging in age from seven months to seven years.

An estimated 40 couples turned out for last Saturday night's annual Lake Pointe spring dinner dance at the VFW Hall on Lilley Rd. They dined royally on a buffet meal of turkey, ham, beef, Swedish meatballs, fried shrimp, potato salad, baked beans and numerous trimmings. They tried to work off the extra calories dancing to the music of a four-piece jazz combo.

Congratulations, too, to the Doug Blunks and the Jim Garbers who won the...uh... Northville Lane's Sunday Night Couples-bowling league championship. Whew...quite a mouthful! At any rate, there were 12 teams of four couples each, and the "Blunk and Garber" combination of Blunk and Garber will be honored May 4 at a banquet at the Elk's Lodge here. The Lake Pointe four-some was the champion team last year, too.

With all of the new families rapidly moving into Lake Pointe these days, I don't suppose Alice and Paul Mack really qualify as "new residents" any more, since they moved here last November. But still it's a pleasure to introduce them. They live on Lakewood and Paul is a sales representative for Callo-way Mills. They resided in Allen Park previously. There are five other members in the Mack household, four girls and a boy ranging from four to 14 years in age. Paul is also a member of Toastmaster's International.

Charlie and Ginny Feld, of Shadywood, were certainly among Lake Pointe's most active couples this past week-end. Friday night they were hosts to several couples that form a twice-monthly dance group, currently dedicated to the finer points of the tango, rumba and the Bosa Nova. Saturday morning, with their two children in tow, the Felds were off to the Kiwanis Club's pancake feast at the Masonic Temple. At 1 a.m. Sunday morning Charlie and Ginny were still deep in a bridge game at Derm and Helen Rowland's home, also on Shadywood. Like many another Lake Pointe husband, Charlie was glad to get back to work Monday to recover from a hectic social whirl. He said he hadn't yet mastered all of the Bosa Nova, his bridge cards left much to be desired, by Sunday afternoon he was plain pooped, but the pancakes Saturday were delicious.

Then there was the Lake Pointer who spent half of his recent vacation readying his yard for seeding. He had only a limited amount of a special seed blend, which he put in when the yard was "just right." Torrential rains followed, washing the seed into his neighbor's yard. Back he went after the down-pour, collected his roving seed, re-seeded his lawn, and again the rains came. Urged not to give up, this Lake Pointer is warned, however, that when finally the grass does sprout, there won't be a raincloud in sight for two months. Sound familiar, fellow seed-sowers?

Believed to be Plymouth's First Cadet

Mark Fischer Gets West Point Bid

More than likely, the date April 25, 1963 will be one of the most important dates in the life of Mark R. Fischer.

It was on that day (last Thursday) that Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fischer, of 40875 Plymouth Rd., received a letter in the Noon mail from J. C. Lambert, Adjutant General of the U.S. Army, informing Mark that he had received an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Mark is believed to be the first Plymouth High School graduate to receive an appointment to West Point, according to Robert Smith, assistant principal at PHS.

A senior at Plymouth High School, Mark first applied last July and since that time has been busy taking tests and corresponding with Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Defense, Congressman Martha Griffiths, and Sen. Philip A. Hart.

Upon advice from his school counselor, Robert Smith, Mark wrote McNamara, Griffiths and Hart, telling them of his desire to attend West Point and seeking their help. Correspondence with the three continued for a time.

Following a personal interview last November with Martha Griffiths (who explained that she often did interviewing for McNamara, too), Mark received a second alternate appointment from her. She later withdrew her appointment when McNamara gave Mark a principal appointment early in March.

A series of testing for Mark began last October when he went to Selfridge Air Field and was conducted last February with a three-day test period at Ft. Harrison, located near Indianapolis. Areas of testing dealt with medical, academic and physical aptitude.

Mark received a communique the latter part of March informing him that he had academically qualified which according to Mrs. Fischer didn't mean very much, except to perhaps, give a little hope.

That was the last correspondence received by Mark until last Thursday when the "Big Letter" came, ending once and for all the many anxious moments spent since last July.

Mark and his parents will leave the end of June for New York, where effective July 1, Mark will become an official member of the Cadet Corps of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

President of his senior class, Mark served as vice president of his class in his freshman and sophomore years. A varsity letterman and member of the track team — he scored a first place in pole vaulting and a first place in broad jumping in a meet with Allen Park last Thursday — he is also a member of the National Honorary Society, Science Club, Varsity Club and is a Junior Rotarian.

With his appointment to West Point, Mark will now turn down his acceptances to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

Mark has two brothers, Harold, Jr., a freshman at the University of Michigan, and Grant, a sophomore at Plymouth High School.

LAST THURSDAY was a big day for Mark Fischer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fischer, of 40875 Plymouth Rd. A letter, received in the Noon mail, from J. C. Lambert, Adjutant General of the U.S. Army, informed Mark that he had received an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Mark, a senior at Plymouth High School, pictured above with his parents, will officially become a West Point cadet on July 1.

Plymouth High Spring Concert May 17

Plymouth High's 70-piece concert band, winner of an "excellent" rating in the recent annual state band festival, is making plans for its 1963 spring concert, May 17.

The concert, entitled "Springtasia," will feature such compositions as Irving Berlin's famed "Porgy and Bess" and "Great Gate of Kiev" by Moussorgsky.

Under the direction of James Griffith, the Plymouth High concert band was judged to be excellent by a panel of four judges in the state band festival last week. It was Plymouth's sixth consecutive year of competition in the event.

Four judges were unanimous in their ratings of the local band. The judges described the Plymouth entry as "very ambitious," "well rehearsed," and "fine display of mechanics and total control."

Plymouth competed in the highest level of judging, the class AA division.

The local band performed a required number, "Chester Overture for Band," by William Schuman; a selected concert march, "Montmartre," by Hayden Wood; and a selected concert number entitled "La Fiesta Mexicana, Mass and Aztec Dance."

The spring concert May 17 is the band's next public appearance, Griffith explained. He said that "band booster tags" will be sold throughout the community on Saturday, May 11, and that the tags will serve as admission tickets to the concert.

Griffith explained that regular tickets may be purchased at the door. They will be $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Proceeds from the spring concert, an annual affair, will go toward defraying the cost of sending the band to Interlochen Music Camp for a week-long stay in August.

Through other projects, the band has already raised approximately one-half of the total cost of the trip which is $3,000.

Open Forum Has Sights On Future of Plymouth

words and phrases that risked clouding the basic purpose of the forum, it none-the-less became apparent that at least 100 minds were fixed intently upon Plymouth's year ahead.

They were concerned with the ultimate wise shaping of Plymouth's future along a multitude of pathways.

Nearly two dozen problems — many related to one another — were considered. All were listed on a blackboard during the concluding half of the two-hour meeting.

Only the most careful study of the nearly two dozen issues will bring about a definite priority list, but this will follow in the next few weeks, Isbister said.

In the meantime, if one person were to evaluate the feelings of those attending the forum and attempt to devise a preliminary list of priorities, it would look somewhat like this:

The Plymouth community, almost inevitably, will require a single form of government. One, in fact, that hopefully would encompass the area presently embraced by the School District itself, including that portion of Canton Township within the district.

Whether this is politically possible is another matter. The need, it was made evident by many at the forum, will forever exist.

Second item on the list would involve a campaign to build an all-inclusive community center. One that would provide facilities for the many cultural activities, for youth events, for the Community Fund, for a Family service center.

Such a structure, with an auditorium seating as many as 2,000, might also include offices and meeting space for the many community organizations that presently are rather "homeless."

Mention was made of the advisability of erecting such a building in the "wide-open spaces" of the Plymouth Township. It could be situated close to the true geographical center of the vast community area, rather than in the cramped remaining space of the City.

Ranking third, perhaps, on the priority list seemed to be the need to build a still stronger economic base. Effort must be put forth to lure further industrial firms here as well as new small retail businesses.

The desirability of having a large so-called department store in the Plymouth area was listed.

A fourth factor repeatedly discussed was the value of a community-wide planning committee, one that could undertake the wholesale development of the community at-large, not limited to any single municipal area, necessarily.

The reasoning was clear. Only through completely unified awareness will the community be able to meet squarely the problems arising out of burgeoning population, an expanding metropolitan influence, and other related changes that loom on tomorrow's horizon.

These four major items were only a few of the numerous problem areas that are drawing near.

The order of priority could stand some alteration, perhaps, but the essence of the items and their place at the top of the list seemed undeniable.

We sat at table No. 3 with seven others. There were 10 additional tables, each with approximately the same number of persons.

At our tables, serving as the discussion leader, was Mrs. Frederick Foust, wife of a Plymouth dentist. She has been a resident here since the end of World War II and is active in many civic groups.

Others at the table included: K. E. VanAntwerp, a 40-year-old executive who moved to Plymouth four years ago; Ralph Carter, a 10-year Plymouth resident, a Kiwanian and a printing paper salesman; Sidney Strong, who has lived here since 1920, was once manager of the village of Plymouth and for the past 25 years has been a member of the City's planning commission.

Jane Moehle also was seated at table No. 3. She has lived in Plymouth four years and is a trustee at-large for the community college. The remaining seats were filled by:

Connie Aldrich, a life-long Plymouth resident, graduate of Plymouth High, an employee of Michigan Bell, and active in many community affairs; and Jim Thomas, a Consumers Power Co. executive, resident off-and-on since 1950 and an officer of the Industrial Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

The other 10 tables were filled with Plymouthites of similar backgrounds, equally varied interests, and identical desires to see Plymouth prosper and grow over the coming years.

Table No. 3 was perhaps typical in its topics of discussion. VanAntwerp stressed the importance of residents trading in Plymouth, but he cautioned local merchants to constantly remind their sales people of the need for courtesy, sincerity and knowledge of their product.

Carter said he would welcome a community center here and also supported VanAntwerp's claim that callous Plymouth sales people often tend to discourage a degree of retail business.

Strong criticized the fact that many commercial buildings are owned today by out-of-town landlords who care little for the appearance of the structures, but instead are intent only on the payment of rent and lease monies.

He also stressed the importance of further development of the Central Business District and the need for a "high-class" department store.

Mrs. Moehle commented on the "fluid" nature of the community, the constant influx and out-go of residents. She also underlined the need to awaken or instill a desire to participate in community affairs among the newer members of the area.

Mrs. Aldrich spoke on the need for added facilities for young people, particularly such as the YMCA. She commented on the danger of poor service in stores here and the fact that Plymouth somehow loses many of its bright leaders of tomorrow, because they seek employment elsewhere in the state or even out-of-state.

Thomas mentioned the underlying need for a single form of government through-out the community. He cited reasons of economy and to avoid duplication of efforts.

Mrs. Foust, the discussion leader, spoke on placing community values in proper perspective and strengthening the area's economic security. She added that cooperation and understanding will be vitally needed during the next decade and further into the future.

While the other 10 tables undoubtedly touched upon these items, too, many other "problem areas" were also brought out.

During the first hour of the forum, lengthy discussion took place at each of the tables. During the second — and concluding — hour, the 11 discussion leaders reported to the entire assemblage.

These were among the other points for concern:

1. Expand the Fall Festival program, which has become so widely popular since its inception by the Rotary Club as a chicken bar-b-que several years ago. Convert the "pilgrim" symbol used by the Fall Festival planners into a community-wide symbol.

2. Maintain and improve upon the high level of education current in the Plymouth School System.

3. Consider the possibility of a multi-level parking garage at some future date and, closer to the present, study the wisdom of removing all parking meters in town.

4. Explore the possibility of an 11-month school program.

5. Speed the planning and action required to bring the Central Business District project to reality. Related to OPEN FORUM meeting last week consisted of 11 tables, each consisting between seven and nine persons who discussed various problems awaiting Plymouth in the years ahead. One of the tables is shown here. Leading the discussion was Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, treasurer of Plymouth Township. Others (moving clockwise from Mrs. Holmes) are: Arthur Haeske, Arthur Mulligan, Mrs. Robert Sincoc, Edmund Snyder, Clayton Koch, John Schroeder, Richard Stribley and James Houk. All nine represented certain community groups and organizations. The other 10 tables were similarly comprised.

communities and other such intangible gatherings.

Many said pointedly that tangible evidence of the intent of the community should be sought swiftly, such as the initiation of a subscription drive to build the community center, or auditorium, or what-have-you.

Without a certain degree of evidence to sustain the enthusiasm now built up, the endless meetings to plan, merge, resolve, defray, reject, finance, etc. will come to little avail.

Isbister himself voiced two questions confronting these 100 Plymouthites now. "Was it a successful open forum?" Isbister asked. "And the answer — with no reservation — was a resounding 'Yes.'"

And then he asked, "Where do we go from here?" "The answer can only be 'ahead and up.'"

But how much ahead and how far up must remain to be seen.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION Work Is Underway
Construction is underway on all three current building projects within the Plymouth School District.

Work began early last month on the two-room addition to Farrand Elementary School, a rehabilitation of the Senior High, and on phase II of Junior High West.

Supt. of Schools Russell Isbister reported that work on the Farrand addition will be completed by Sept. 1, which is the same completion date on the Senior High improvements.

He explained that construction of Junior High West's second phase is scheduled so that there is a possibility that part of the building will house students next February. Full completion is slated for September, 1964.

of Livonia. In the "strong-mayor" form, the mayor's office is filled by popular vote of the people.

City of Plymouth utilizes a mayor-city manager form in which the mayor is elected from among the commissioners and a full-time city manager administers the needs of the City on a day-to-day basis. There is no city manager under the strong-mayor form.

Once the charter receives the governor's signature and the charter-adoption election is called, Township residents may file nominating petitions for the various offices to be filled.

John D. McEwen, who is presently the Township clerk, has served as mayor de facto since the time when the first charter-adoption election was held. He said he will run for the office of mayor again.

Assuming that the charter is granted approval by the voters, Garber explained that the actual conversion from Township government to City government will take place a short while following the election date.

A previous election involving the adoption of a Plymouth Heights' charter resulted in its defeat.

able to draw upon it as costs of the study come due.

The planning projection, which eventually will be assembled in the form of reports, maps, plans, charts and related graphic material, will cover such items as:

1. Preparation of base maps.
2. Studies of land use, economic base, population and housing.
3. Preparation of a total development plan involving optimum land use, location of thoroughfares, and most favorable sites for future Township community facilities.
4. Preparation of a suggested capital improvements program.
5. Preparation of new zoning ordinances and subdivision regulations.

A Township spokesman indicated that the study would get underway in the near future. The federal grant to Plymouth Township was one of five announced by the Urban Renewal Administration recently.

encounter a minor reduction in their personal property tax.

However, a broadening of the City's overall tax base is estimated to create approximately $2,500 more in tax revenue.

Thus the general fund, which is supported almost entirely by local tax dollars, will be increased from its current amount of $618,010 to $620,551 during the coming fiscal year.

Once again, the City will have a surplus to carry into the new fiscal year. It amounts to about $20,000, down $5,000 from a year ago.

The general fund is comprised of local tax dollars and non-tax revenue. At present, local tax revenue is $405,700. This is expected to increase to $415,091 during the coming fiscal year. However, non-tax revenues will decrease from the present $212,310 to an estimated $205,460.

Other funds, with the exception of the one that covers the City's sewer system, remain virtually unchanged. The present amount of the sewer fund is $91,550. It will increase to $113,020 under the new budget.

The cemetery fund remains the same at $23,100. The parking fund will be reduced to $12,080 from its present amount of $13,560. The equipment fund also will be reduced. It presently is

July Fourth

While Fletcher has taken on the duties of overall chairman for the Fourth of July program, he will draw heavily on other club members for help.

Among these is Terry West, parade chairman in past years who is filling an advisory capacity this season. West is a past president of the JayCees.

Others who will assist Fletcher, in addition to Hanks, are Ted Campbell and Cal Thomas (in charge of arrangements for a "merchant's tent"); Randy Eaton (fireworks); and Roger Stanley (antique cars and "car-wrecking" division).

Last year's JayCee Fourth of July chairman was Lannie West, who is also serving in an advisory capacity this year.

As in previous July 4th celebrations, a carnival will be on hand at the carnival grounds opposite the VFW Hall on Lilley Rd. The merchant's tent, where local business firms will have merchandise displays, will be located there along the midway.

Fletcher has issued a community-wide invitation to civic groups and various community organizations to enter floats in the parades, participate in the food concessions or take part in the extensive plans for the display area along the carnival midway area.

Fletcher may be contacted for additional information on this at GL 3-0463.

One of the chief attractions of the parade itself, Fletcher announced, will be two replicas of 1903 Curved Dash Oldsmobiles that will be included.

The JayCees intend to give away one of the replicas, obtained recently from Kroger's, and will retain the other for later use.

The beauty contest judging will take place the evening of July 3. Judges have not been announced. The new Miss Plymouth will be crowned officially during ceremonies July 4.

Applegate, of Whitmore Lake, in a double ring candlelight ceremony in the Shaw Memorial Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church on Saturday, April 13.

G. L. Myers Back From Florida Wedding Trip

Making their home at 983 Wing St., Plymouth, following their April 13th candlelight wedding in Shaw Memorial Chapel in the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, are Mr. and Mrs. Gene L. Myers.

The bride is the former Janet C. West, daughter of Mrs. E. Lila West, of Sheldon Rd., and the late Wilbert West. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Applegate, of Whitmore Lake.

Given in marriage by her brother, Lanny, the bride wore a floor length gown of taupe de peche, styled with a sabbina neckline which fell into a vee-line in the back from which a square organza train was attached by a bow. Lace appliques trimmed the organza train, bell shaped skirt, bodice, and three-quarter length sleeves. Her shoulder length illusion veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. Only jewelry worn by the bride was silver and crystal necklace worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of carnations, stephanotis and cymbidium orchids.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Sharon L. West, who wore a frock of deep pink taupe de soie which was fashioned with a neckline similar to the bride's gown, short sleeves, and a panel of organza which was attached at the bottom of the vee-line at the back by a bow of taupe de soie. Her headpiece was a tailored bow of taupe de soie. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink sweetheart roses.

Historical Society Will Mark Five Milestones at Dinner

The Plymouth Historical Society will hold its annual dinner meeting on Thursday evening, May 9, at the Junior High East. The hour will be 6:30 p.m. The dinner will be an "Ernie Henry" dinner, which is a sufficient advertisement to any who have enjoyed Ernie's dinners in the past.

The speaker for the program will be George W. Southworth, Curator of manuscripts at the Burton Historical Collection in the Detroit Public Library. This Collection, as most people know, rates high as a source of historical material on early Michigan. Those present can expect a very interesting evening.

The annual election of officers will be held and some revisions of the constitution and by-laws concerning membership classifications will be up for adoption.

The meeting will also serve to mark two milestones in the life of the Society. The organizational meeting of this group was held June 8, 1948.

So the fifteenth birthday of the Society will be recognized. Then, too, a year ago during Michigan Week, the Society's Museum was first opened to the public. The City had loaned the old Polley house on Main Street, rent free, for this purpose.

During this first year of operation, nearly 2,000 people have visited this museum and have signed the register there. These callers came from some thirty six cities in Michigan and from about twenty six states of the Union.

Tickets for this dinner meeting may be purchased at Cassidy's and at Dunning's. Many of the Society members also have tickets for sale. It is hoped that about two hundred will be in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Renwick are the ticket chairmen for the event.

World-Wide Theme Favors Madonna College Festival

The annual College festival will be held on the Madonna campus, May 5, 12-9 p.m. An International theme will be carried out in the booths and costumes this year.

There will be a raffle with prizes including $1,000. cash, a 7-piece lawn set, portable stereo phonograph, portable sewing machine, complete set of crockware and a hostess and recreation set.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting any student at the College or any Felician sister. Tickets may also be obtained by writing the College, 36800 Schoolcraft, Livonia, Mich.

Proceeds from the festival will go to the Student association centralized treasury and to the building fund for the new College buildings now under construction.

Panhellenic Assn. Slates Meeting

Co-hostesses for the day will be Mrs. T. J. Holland and Mrs. Samuel Dibble.

Following the business meeting plans will be completed for the Panhellenic Tea to be held in June for graduating senior girls and their mothers.

MRS. WILLIAM COVINGTON

Cookies, a favorite of everyone, are especially loved by children. From a family of eight children comes a well-tried, taste-tested recipe for Sugar and Spice Cookies.

The five eldest children attended Our Lady of Good Counsel School and when they come home hungry for lunch Mrs. Covington likes to have their favorite cookies ready for them.

She finds time to enjoy sewing, knitting and membership in Rotary Anns and the Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church. In the past she has been an active leader in Girl Scout activities.

What woman can honestly say she doesn't like to be pampered? It is a feminine privilege. Psychologists tell us pampered women are very often those who do a little pampering instead of hampering on their own.

In Beauty Salon language this means pampering your looks and loveliness. It is well to remember in most cases, when you pamper your looks and loveliness, don't overdo it. Excessive pampering can turn out to be a hampering influence instead.

Every woman has a loveliness loaned to her by nature. Nature intended it that way. For example, nature gave women hormones to beautify and enhance loveliness. When the aging process reduces our natural hormone supply, modern science can lend a helping hand to nature and help pamper a youthful loveliness in many ways—with or without hormones.

MIDGE'S BEAUTY SALON has an ever ready helping hand to help you pamper a glamorous you. You will like the way we can and will pamper your appearance, your loveliness. Come in or phone in for an appointment today. MIDGE DU VALL, MIDGE'S BEAUTY SALON, 450 Forest Ave., Phone GL 3-1690.

Michigan Week Program Heads Firm Up Plans

Plymouth's Michigan Week chairman James Jabara, of Plymouth Tank & Fabricating Co., met Wednesday morning with his various committee heads to draw up final plans for the local observance.

Michigan Week across the state is May 19-25.

Jabara said that invitations to two prominent federal legislators have been mailed and that there are good chances that both Congresswoman Martha Griffiths and Congressman a-n-a-l-r-g-e Neil Staebler will play significant roles in the Plymouth salute to Michigan.

The 1963 observance is the 10th annual Michigan Week celebration and is being presented under the theme of "Science and Research for Our Future."

A daily calendar of events during the week has been formulated. Six different individuals head the day-to-day program.

Serving Our Country

James M. Hargrove

James M. Hargrove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady W. Hargrove of 356 Canton Center Rd., Plymouth, Mich., is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Ranger, currently operating with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

RECEIVING CASH AWARDS for their essays entered in the American History Award competition, sponsored annually by the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, are Rick Conley and Kay Reed. Rick, a sixth grader at Allen School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conley, of 259 E. Ann Arbor Tr., won second place with his essay, entitled "The French & Indian Wars." Kay, a sixth grader at Bird Elementary and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reed, of 45170 Ann Arbor Tr., placed fourth with her essay, entitled "Henry Ford, Boy From Michigan." First place winner in the contest was Susan Jarvis, of Northville, and Robert L. Hines, Jr., of Northville, won third place. Mrs. William Bake, DAR regent, is shown presenting the checks to the Plymouth winners.

Art Around Us

by Mrs. Jessie Hudson

Water-color, as I mentioned in a recent column, is a difficult medium. It takes years of experience to know just how wet, just how much and just where to put the paint on paper. Six women painters, now exhibiting at the little Hartley-Powers Gallery in Northville, have acquired the years and the experience. The show is a whole is an interesting one, the paintings mostly large, colorful and thoughtful.

Gloria Yoshihara Parres, youngest of the group, presently instructor in the Occupational Therapy Department of Maybury San., chose casein for her large, sweeping abstractions. Casein, though water-base, is an opaque medium more like oil, and has a characteristic matte (not shiny) finish. Mrs. Parres works in a subtle range of delicate color values. Her two studies of Icarus convey the falling feeling of this classical legend. A third painting, "The Turtle" is reminiscent of the awesome message, "and the voice of the turtle was heard throughout the land."

Marjorie Becker, Northville resident, Co-ordinator of Elementary Art for Livonia schools, has a more traditional approach to painting. Her large watercolors deal with subjects such as "Reflections" a charming

May Rowland Slated to Speak

Mrs. Rowland, who will speak on "The Lifting Power of Prayer," is director of the Silent Unity department of the Unity School of Christianity, a non-sectarian religious organization, headquartered in Lee's Summit, Mo.

wet-on-wet. She knows how to control this most difficult of all water-color techniques. Mrs. Sam Hudson, also of Plymouth, and teacher of art in Plymouth High School, works mostly in a semi-abstract manner, is currently developing faces and forms out of analogous backgrounds, half-tinted, find-and-see. Two most recent and more abstract paintings evince the mood and color of spring... blue, green and daffodil yellow.

Ruby Churchill and Barbara Dorr, from Ann Arbor, have both achieved some standing in the state, are usually represented in the Michigan Water Color Society and the Michigan Artists' Annual Exhibit. Both are versatile artists and their watercolors reveal professional control. Their paintings are large, colorful, and gay.

This exhibit will remain through May 4th, (this weekend) but works of all these artists are always on hand at the Hartley-Powers Gallery.

City Awaiting Judgement On Condemnation Cases

Two condemnation proceedings brought by the City of Plymouth were at opposite poles from one another this week.

The suit involving condemnation of land in the City's urban renewal area was nearing a finish, and another condemnation action pertaining to acquisition of property for the new City Hall was scheduled to begin.

Both are on Wayne County Circuit Court dockets.

A jury was expected Wednesday to issue a decision on the condemnation price of three parcels of property in the urban renewal project.

At the same time, the case involving City acquisition of two parcels of land at the site of the new municipal headquarters here was scheduled to get underway in Circuit Court.

Attorney Edward Draugelis represents the City in both instances. He was in court Tuesday on the urban renewal condemnation matter, and was expected to begin the City's other case Wednesday.

The purchase price of the property is the bone of contention in both cases.

PLANNING COMMITTEE MEMBERS for the upcoming 1953 Class Reunion, to be held June 22, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, got together recently to compare notes. The affair will begin with a social hour from 6:30 - 7:30 p.m., with dinner to follow. Music will be furnished by the Irv Mann Combo. Attending the planning session were left to right in the

Violinist, 80, Guest of Rotary; Was Entertainer Here in 1900

An 80-year-old former faculty member at the University of Michigan's school of music proved to be a fascinating guest speaker at Rotary Club's regular weekly meeting at the Hotel Mayflower last Friday noon.

Anthony Whitmire, who for many years taught violin at the U-M, was the speaker. He was a guest of member Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

Dunlap himself had Whitmire as a violin instructor at Michigan.

Whitmire explained that 60 years ago he directed a small dance orchestra, which on numerous occasions played at the old Penniman Hall which was located in the vicinity of the present-day P & A Theater.

A musician of wide eminence, Whitmire explained how the violin is constructed in order to provide its true tonal qualities, and also the unique features of the instrument.

He concluded his guest appearance by playing a series of popular tunes from the days of his dance orchestra at the turn of the century. Among the numbers were "Turkey in the Straw" and "Irish Washerwoman."

Whitmire was a teacher of Emily Adams Austin who now is a violinist and concertmaster with the Plymouth Symphony orchestra under Dunlap's direction.

In addition to being a highly regarded musician, Whitmire was also a versatile athlete. He competed in football, baseball, swimming and wrestling at Michigan State Normal College (now Eastern Michigan University).

He was among the first golf pros in the state, too. Among his major achievements in the world of golf was his role in laying out Washtenaw Country Club.

He was the host pro at Washtenaw Country Club in the early 1900's.

The Professor Says...

By Ed Brown

A few weeks ago I heard a most inspiring speaker when I attended the Michigan Business Teachers' convention at the Statler Hotel in Detroit. I have listened to this same man three times, and as he is the type who always gives you so much "food for thought" digestion takes place for several weeks after hearing it.

I really enjoy a person like Dr. Elvin S. Eyster, who is head of the Business Education department at Indiana University. His topic was appropriately entitled, "Current Issues in Economic Education."

The speaker told us of the importance of economics in the American Way of Life, and proceeded to tell in a simple, clear and understanding way why this is so. It seems that fifty years ago most of the economic needs were supplied directly by the individual. Most lived off the land, built their own shelter, raised their own food, made their own clothing, and provided their own entertainment, and, as a result, families were rather close-knit units.

Now all this has changed. Today very few people can supply one-tenth of their economic needs. In our present economic system most people convert labor into money so that they can purchase their needs.

The past few years the American standard of living has risen tremendously. As a result of families wanting more and more things, both parents find it necessary to work in order to have that higher standard of living. Dr. Eyster wondered if we were

257 Attend Hockey Association Banquet

A total of 257 parents, friends and hockey players attended the Plymouth Hockey Association's pot-luck banquet in the Junior High East cafeteria April 23.

Guests included Charles Brown, coordinator for Nankin Township's recreation hockey league in which Plymouth has been entering teams since the 1958-59 season.

Chairman of the banquet was Mrs. Ann Shelley who was assisted by Mrs. June Hudson, Mrs. Helen Schilawski, Mrs. Marion Cosgrove and Mrs. Peg Crowther.

Team coaches were also on hand, including Bob Hudson, Bob Cosgrove, Vern Schilawski, Al Kolak, Denny Hankis, Bill Crowther and Hal Shelley.

Hockey films were shown at the conclusion of the program.

WITH OUR SENIOR CITIZENS

By Ethel Millard
GL 3-3782

It was gratifying indeed for the 79 members of the Plymouth Senior Citizens Club who assembled for their weekly session to welcome back into our group our President Arnold Kehrl and his gracious wife Juanita. The Kehrls arrived home about two weeks ago from a winter vacation in Florida. Since that time they have both been ill and unable to attend our meetings.

We are equally glad to welcome back our Treasurer Grant Camphausen and his lovely wife Mildred who have been enjoying two months of Arizona sunshine. Since their return like the Kehrls they too have been ill but we hope to have them with us soon.

Our club was host to a group of eight from the Farmington Senior Citizens Club at our April 25th pot-luck dinner. Mrs. Carlin, the chairman, tells us they have a membership of about 50. They are planning a joint bazaar and card party soon.

At our club Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gardner will serve as host and hostess for the month of May. The refreshment committee includes Evelyn Fischer, Zaida and Clyde Fisher, Esther Fisher, Adolph and Mamie Trapp, Ethel and William Micol and Addie Storrie.

Card playing highlighted the afternoon festivities.

ment, that management exploits labor, and that profits should be shared on a more equitable basis.

Some people say that government should provide everything, while others maintain that the people should pay for everything they get.

Many adults are "horried" at the attitudes of present day young persons; that they have no respect for people, no interest in worthwhile things, no respect for the property of others, etc.

Dr. Eyster contends that the basic underlying fault is because the people today are not well enough informed about economics. He says that 25 years ago most issues were political, but today every issue has an economic aspect. The American voter is voting on these with a poor understanding of economics, but are making decisions that are of tremendous importance even though most cannot cast a logical vote.

The speaker thought that if the populace understood the American Way of Life better the attitudes would be good ones—it is the misunderstanding of our way of life that creates poor attitudes.

The American government is the biggest consumer in the world, and we are stockholders in one sense of the word. Therefore, we should know as much as we can about the attitudes of our people—why we have various thoughts about our government, labor, racial and religious issues. Some schools maintain that it is correlated with history and other subjects, but the speaker says that various studies make it clear that a skilled teacher with a good knowledge of economic should be doing the instructing.

He also says that the poorer academic students, and the dropouts, should have some form of economics for they are the ones who need it most; for they will have large families and find it harder to make "ends meet."

He was delighted to find that the Detroit school system requires some course in economics for all graduates. It was an enjoyable meeting, and we all came away from it "thinking."

Toy Business Plans Formed By Daisy Co.

(Editor's Note — The following article, pertaining to Daisy Mfg. Co., formerly of Plymouth, originally appeared in the Dallas, Texas, News and was brought to our attention by local insurance man Charles Finlan and Vern Steele of Cadillac Drapery Co.)

Daisy Manufacturing Co. is going more into the "play" toy business and will extend its "partnership plan" whereby its products are displayed exclusively in department stores, said the president, Cass S. Hough Wednesday.

Mr. Hough presided at Daisy's first Dallas meeting and first stockholder's meeting since the company went public last May.

The executive said presently the firm handles five "Daisyomatic" toys — high quality, machine automated items produced in Japan under company inspection. "It is our plan... to make additions to this line," Mr. Hough stated.

He added that "pop" guns will now be manufactured in Japan because high labor costs in the United States make it impossible to produce good quality goods at a reasonable price.

In the next year Daisy, homebased in Fort Smith, Ala., will put in "Daisy Corners" in 100 more department stores under the "partnership plan." In the 15 stores where this was tried in the past, he declared, Daisy's business increased 77 per cent.

Fiscal highlights last year of Daisy and its subsidiaries, including "Heddon" line fishing tackle showed net sales of $14,284,528 resulting in net earnings of $721,000, or $1.03 a share, compared with $13,564,680 sales, $686,267 net equal to 91 cents a share in 1961.

Directors elected Wednesday were Mr. Hough, John D. Murchison, Donald H. Carter, Stephen Booth, William B. Eppler, L. C. Burch Jr., Gen. Nathan F. Twining, William M. McCarthy and Henry Gilchrist. Mr. McCarthy is a new addition to the board.

MITTEN PUPPETS, ever-popular with children, comprise a current charity project recently undertaken by these three members of the Plymouth Newcomers' Club. Already the trio of local women, Jean Orr, 14846 Lakewood, Ruby Marshman, 15117 Lakewood, and Carol Leroue, 9254 Ball, have made over 150 of the cloth puppets. They have been donated to Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, where in turn they are given to the children who have undergone surgery there recently. The project was undertaken in conjunction with the Women's Guild of the hospital. The three Plymouthites have plans to make many more of the puppets, but need some help. They have made a request to other housewives in the area, asking for donations of scrap fabric and material as well as yarn with which to assemble the mitten puppets. If local housewives would care to contribute material and yarn, they may contact Mrs. Orr at GL 3-0843.

KIWANIS NOTES

By Ken Way

Plymouth Kiwanis Club enjoyed its annual Farmer's Night dinner at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church last week. The dinner of chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, salad, green beans, hot biscuits and pie a la mode was prepared and served by the ladies of the church and was sincerely appreciated by the 94 Kiwanis members and guests.

Program Chairman Warren Worth presented the guest speaker for the evening, Edgar C. Kidd, Wayne County Extension Service-Agricultural Agent.

Kidd lives in Belleville and is personally acquainted with almost all of the farmers of this area. He distributed several pieces of literature published by Michigan State University. These were a Fruit Spraying Calendar, a list of common pesticides and folders on Dwarfed Fruit Trees, Lawn Weed Control, Pest Control Program for Home Grown Fruit and average dosage of DDT and they suffered no bad effects. Kidd's excellent presentation was enjoyed by all those present and provided some excellent information for those "week-end farmers" of trees, plants and animals.

Without spraying, the farm surplus would disappear and in its place would be hunger and starvation. We can no longer rely on the natural balance of nature as suggested by Rachel Carson in her book "Silent Spring" to provide enough food to feed the expanding population of the world. Her book does point out the important fact that extreme care must be exercised in the use of chemical sprays.

Chemical sprays actually cause very little harm, but do much good. If elm trees are not properly sprayed and diseased trees removed, within five years there would be no remaining elm trees. Our bird population, on the whole, is on the increase. Proper spraying is preserving life rather than destroying it.

Our chemical sprays are less than 20 years old, with new ones being added annually. These are tested on animal life quite thoroughly before being put on the market for general use. At the Atlanta prison in Georgia, 100 prisoners volunteered to eat food with 200 times the average dosage of DDT and they suffered no bad effects. Kidd's excellent presentation was enjoyed by all those present and provided some excellent information for those "week-end farmers" of trees, plants and animals.

Pops Concert Repertoire Lists Vacuum Cleaners, Firing Squad

A number of unique and particularly unusual features will highlight the forth-coming eighth annual Plymouth Symphony Pops Concert Saturday, May 18.

Credit for the novel nature of the Pops Concert will go to Wayne Dunlap, who again will be directing the annual event.

Dunlap has described the concert theme as "familiar but decidedly unusual to a symphony orchestra."

The Pops Concert, to be held in the Senior High gymnasium, will start at 8:30 p.m. The event has come to be known as a featured attraction of the musical and social season each spring.

Sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony Women's League, the Pops Concert serves to raise further money to support the Symphony Orchestra.

The theme will be "Out of This World" and will include one number entitled the "Grand Overture" utilizing the "Malcolm Arnold" utilizing three vacuum cleaners, a floor polisher and a firing squad.

The ever popular Nat Sibbold, a Plymouthite with a professional background, will again be a soloist. Sibbold will sing a number called "All Points West" by Rogers and Hart in which the singer portrays a train caller and tells of the various points of interest and individuals he encounters en route.

The outstanding young violinist Harry Klein, who is a member of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and who performed so brilliantly at last year's Pops Concert, will again be featured.

As with former Pops Concerts, the audience is seated around tables and can purchase refreshments. Tickets for table reservations are $1.50 per person and are now on sale at Melody House. The public is urged to make reservations early. No phone reservations will be taken.

Mrs. Thomas Adams is general chairman. Assisting her as committee chairman are: Mrs. Robert Webber, tickets and reservations; Mrs. Kenneth Van Antwerp, decorations; Mrs. Albert Wolfram, table arrangements; Mrs. Robert Barbour, refreshments; Mrs. James Warren and Mrs. Robert Jenkins, publicity.

Other committee members are: Mrs. Arthur Larson, Mrs. Charles Storko, Mrs. John Jacobs, Mrs. Robert Werner, Mrs. Paul Malboeuf, Mrs. Russell Sabinster, Mrs. Gerald Fischer and Mrs. I. W. Ruge.

A great many interesting articles were exhibited by members of Sixty Plus Club in Fellowship Hall at the First Methodist Church last week. These displays were enjoyed by the large number who attended. Also tea and cookies were served and a sale table was active. We thank all who helped in any way to make this a real success. One of the exhibits showed the projects which we enjoy working on together and we know these are a real help to those for whom they are done.

This club is not denominational and meets in the basement of the Methodist Church the second Monday in each month. All interested in our fellowship and activities are welcome.

"I'VE GOT A secret" might be what Charles Engstrom (left) was thinking as he posed for this photo. Engstrom, vice-president of The American Plan Insurance Companies, of Plymouth, last week announced the kick-off of a state-wide sales contest for company salesmen. The contest will cover a 30-day period between now and the end of July, but only Engstrom knows which 30-day period it is. Here, the insurance company officer is shown placing an envelope, containing the exact dates of the contest, in a safety deposit box at National Bank of Detroit's downtown Plymouth branch. In the center is Robert Barbour, NBD's assistant vice-president here, and at left is John D. Temple, a regional director for The American Plan Insurance firms. The envelope also contains prize money which will be awarded to top producers at the conclusion of the contest, Engstrom said. Full details of the contest are to be announced to field sales members during a day-long sales meeting this Friday at Hillside Inn. "In order to keep the exact dates of the contest a complete secret and yet to have the dates officially on record," Engstrom said, "where else could we store them but in a bank."

Suit Against Schoolcraft College Is Tossed Out of Circuit Court

A taxpayer's suit which sought to prevent Schoolcraft College from using electrical heat in its buildings was tossed out of Circuit Court last Wednesday.

Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald ruled that evidence presented in a two-day hearing before him did not uphold a charge brought by Robert Turmala, of Livonia.

Turmala's suit charged — among other things — "gross neglect" on the part of the college trustees.

"There is no gross neglect on the part of the college board of trustees," Judge Fitzgerald ruled in essence. "This case is dismissed," he said.

The hearing last week in front of Judge Fitzgerald stemmed from a restraining order issued earlier. It prevented the trustees from opening bids on the general construction work.

College attorneys sought relief from the injunction, but it was denied and the hearing was set instead.

Judge Fitzgerald's ruling enables the trustees to return to the task of opening contractor bids. They were scheduled to do so tonight (Wednesday).

Announcement of the award of the general construction contract is expected shortly and work will begin immediately thereafter, a college spokesman said. The college is slated to open its doors to students in September, 1964.

The court case arose when Turmala, claiming to be only a private citizen yet believed to have been backed by commercial heating people, challenged the wisdom of using electrical heating in the college buildings.

He said that such a heating system would result in excessive costs. In his suit, Turmala claimed the college trustees had made a serious breach of judgement.

Judge Fitzgerald ruled this out. He said there was no indication that the trustees had made a breach of judgement nor had they abandoned their responsibility.

"The question is not whether the board has to take a cheaper heating system, it is not whether one system is as good as another, nor is it whether the board made a mistake in judgement," was 8 p.m. at the college offices the way a college spokesman at 9901 Newburgh Rd.

described the judge's summary of his decision.

"The sole question in this case is whether the board acted in good faith and did not abuse its discretionary powers," Judge Fitzgerald was quoted as saying.

"The evidence in this case as presented does not uphold the charges brought against the board," the judge said.

"This case is dismissed." General contracting bids were to be opened tonight at 8 p.m. at the college offices at 9901 Newburgh Rd.

Canton News

BY CLARA WITHERBY - GL 3-7438

In last week's article on the 25th wedding anniversary party, it was Mrs. Roy Schroeder who gave Janice so much assistance instead of Mrs. John Schroeder, as I had written.

The Hough Extension Group met Monday evening April 22, at the home of Mrs. Alma Condash on Provincetown Lane. Mrs. Rose Kemnitz and Mrs. Barbara Johanning-smeyer presented a lesson on "Meat on the Move," after which dessert and coffee was served by the hostess.

Gerald W. Cather of Canton Center Rd. spent the Easter week-end in Elyria, Ohio, visiting his brother, Foster, and his mother, Mrs. Clara Cather, who had traveled there from Weston, W. Va.

Karen Kehoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kehoe, of Lotz Rd., spent Easter with her parents. She attends London College, London, Ont. Also spending the Easter week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Kehoe was Mrs. Kehoe's uncle, Clarence Banks, of Bettsville, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keeler, with son Ivan and daughter Ivalynn, of Saltz Rd., have returned home from an Easter vacation in Parsons, Kansas, where they visited Mrs. Keeler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chappell, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adams.

Mrs. Forence Plant of Ford Rd. became a grandmother for the second time April 22; a baby girl, Jane Elizabeth, weight was seven pounds, six ounces. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southgate (she is the former Shirley Plant) of Ann Arbor.

The fifth and sixth Grade Safety Patrol boys of Gallimore School attended the Tiger Ball Game Thursday, April 25, along with Safety Patrols from other schools. The boys had lunch before the game at guests of the Mayflower Hotel. The boys were accompanied by their teachers, D. Murray and D. Alexander; and four parents, Mr. Schroeder, Mrs. Bauman, Mrs. Rocco and Mrs. Spengler.

On Monday, April 29, the fathers and sons of Gallimore spent an evening out attending the pancake supper. To make the evening complete, Roy Rew, the magician, was on hand.

In order not to be left out, the mothers and daughters of Gallimore will have their evening out on May 14. A Tea and style show are in the plans for the young ladies and their moms, and if any of them have a hand with a needle, they are asked to call Mrs. Grace at GL 3-8769.

Mr. and Mrs. John Planchon of Geddes Rd. have had as guests for the past month their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Planchon and son Neil, and daughter Dana, from St. Non-la-brette, near Paris, France, where Planchon is director of the Airtent Sales Office of Chrysler Corp.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kehoe of Lotz Rd. on Friday evening April 19 attended the Senior Banquet at the London College of Bible and Missions, in London, Ont. It was partly in honor of their daughter, Karen. Her Minister, Rev. Clifford and wife, her friends, Mrs. Doris Grimes, and Mrs. Donna Groth, also attended.

The Kenyon Extension Group met Thursday April

25 at the home of Mrs. Harold Nieme, with Mrs. John Schroeder as co-hostess. After dessert and coffee, Mrs. Niemi gave the lesson. It dealt with the selection and preparation of meats. Those attending, besides Mrs. Niemi and Mrs. Schroeder, were Mrs. Maxwell Allen, Mrs. Russell Magraw, Mrs. Robert Waldecker, Mrs. Ira Hauk, Mrs. Alfred Barkley, Mrs. Howard Beck, Mrs. Garland Wright, Mrs. Homer Benoit, and Mrs. Len Wendel.

Mr. John Broegman of Sheldon Rd. is at home after spending two weeks in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Busha of Joy Rd. had as recent week-end guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wellman from Lockport, New York.

Mrs. Perry Campbell of Canton Center Rd., accompanied by Mrs. Grace Burley, Mrs. Mabel Evans and Mrs. Esther Weigle had an interesting day Friday, April 19, when they drove to Kingsville, Ontario, to witness the arrival of the wild geese at Jack Minor's Bird Sanctuary.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clark of Napier Rd. are at home, after spending the winter in Florida. They stayed at Hollywood, St. Petersburg and Lakeland. They recently spent several days in Syracuse, New York, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Clark's brother.

Mrs. Gordon Christensen of Hanford Rd. assisted by her daughter Linda gave a baby shower, Friday April 26, for Mrs. Christensen's niece, Mrs. Judy Hendrian of Detroit. There were 20 present, and the guest of honor received many gifts. A dessert and coffee was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Benoit and family of Canton Center Rd. spent the Easter week-end at Hartwick Pines Park in Grayling, Mich., along with friends from Livonia. They took their traveling trailer and made a canoe trip down the AuSable river.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Blanchard of Lotz Rd. have as a guest, Mrs. Blanchard's father, Joseph Pych, from Fredericktown, Penn.

Mrs. Bertha Bookout of Gordon Rd. became a grandmother for the fifth time, Monday, April 22; a little girl, Stacey Lynn, who weighed six pounds, 14 ounces. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bookout of Garden City.

Sixty Plus News

BY MARY FILLMORE GL 3-2493

A great many interesting articles were exhibited by members of Sixty Plus Club in Fellowship Hall at the First Methodist Church last week. These displays were enjoyed by the large number who attended. Also tea and cookies were served and a sale table was active. We thank all who helped in any way to make this a real success. One of the exhibits showed the projects which we enjoy working on together and we know these are a real help to those for whom they are done.

This club is not denominational and meets in the basement of the Methodist Church the second Monday in each month. All interested in our fellowship and activities are welcome.

"I'VE GOT a secret" might be what Charles Engstrom (left) was thinking as he posed for this photo. Engstrom, vice-president of The American Plan Insurance Companies, of Plymouth, last week announced the kick-off of a state-wide sales contest for company salesmen. The contest will cover a 30-day period between now and the end of July, but only Engstrom knows which 30-day period it is. Here, the insurance company officer is shown placing an envelope, containing the exact dates of the contest, in a safety deposit box at National Bank of Detroit's downtown Plymouth branch. In the center is Robert Barbour, NBD's assistant vice-president here, and at left is John D. Temple, a regional director for The American Plan Insurance firms. The envelope also contains prize money which will be awarded to top producers at the conclusion of the contest, Engstrom said. Full details of the contest are to be announced to field salesmen during a day-long sales meeting this Friday at Hillside Inn. "In order to keep the exact dates of the contest a complete secret and yet to have the dates officially on record," Engstrom said, "where else could we store them but in a bank."

City, Township Dog Clinic Announced

Dogs in both the City and Township will have the opportunity shortly to visit their own private "clinics" here for the purpose of obtaining rabies immunization injections. At the same time, owners will be able to obtain licenses for their dogs. The Plymouth Township dog clinic is set for Saturday, May 4, and again on Saturday, May 11. Clerk John McEwen has announced. Two-year rabies immunization shots will be administered at a cost of $3. McEwen has announced. Dog licenses will cost $2 for males and $4 for females, he added. A $2 penalty will be added to the license fee after May 31, he explained. The City of Plymouth's dog clinics are slated for Saturday, May 18, and Saturday, May 25. Both rabies immunizations and licenses will be available. Clerk Joseph Near has announced. The rabies shot will cost $3 and the license is another $2, he said. Hours for the City's dog clinic on both dates will be from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1-4 p.m. The Township's dog clinic will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. each of the two Saturdays it is in operation.

Plymouth Optometrist Returns from Seminar

Dr. Milton Meyers, of Plymouth Eye Clinic, returned last week from a contact lens seminar in New York. The seminar was conducted by Dr. A. Isen, a specialist. The seminar was held for the purpose of bringing the latest techniques and scientific advances to doctors who specialize in the fitting of contact lenses.

Suit Against Schoolcraft College Is Tossed Out of Circuit Court

A taxpayer's suit which sought to prevent Schoolcraft College from using electrical heat in its buildings was tossed out of Circuit Court last Wednesday.

Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald ruled that evidence presented in a two-day hearing before him did not uphold a charge brought by Robert Turmala, of Livonia.

Turmala's suit charged — among other things — "gross neglect" on the part of the college trustees.

"There is no gross neglect on the part of the college board of trustees," Judge Fitzgerald ruled in essence. "This case is dismissed," he said.

The hearing last week in front of Judge Fitzgerald stemmed from a restraining order issued earlier. It prevented the trustees from opening bids on the general construction work.

College attorneys sought relief from the injunction, but it was denied and the hearing was set instead.

Judge Fitzgerald's ruling enables the trustees to return to the task of opening contractor bids. They were scheduled to do so tonight (Wednesday).

Announcement of the award of the general construction contract is expected shortly and work will begin immediately thereafter, a college spokesman said. The college is slated to open its doors to students in September, 1964.

The court case arose when Turmala, claiming to be only a private citizen yet believed to have been backed by commercial heating people, challenged the wisdom of using electrical heating in the college buildings.

He said that such a heating system would result in excessive costs. In his suit, Turmala claimed the college trustees had made a serious breach of judgement.

Judge Fitzgerald ruled this case is whether the board acted in good faith and did not abuse its discretionary powers." Judge Fitzgerald was quoted as saying.

"The evidence in this case as presented does not uphold the charges brought against the board," the judge said. "This case is dismissed."

General contracting bids were to be opened tonight at 8 p.m. at the college offices the way a college spokesman at 9901 Newburgh Rd.

Chips from the ROCK

Last weeks column wasn't easy. Even my typewriter keys seemingly had to be hit with a hammer to get them to make an impression but an additional week of loafing has lightened this burden considerably.

Never having had any previous experience with surgeons and hospitals, except through the course of this last two years, I didn't realize the havoc that their skills can inflict upon ones strength...all for the good of their patient, however.

I suppose if I were to say that I was greatly relieved when they informed me that they had finally removed a malignancy from my interior you will probably say that the guy must be crazy. That isn't true, however, because battling an illness that can't be diagnosed, or one in which they draw no specific conclusions, is as bewildering as the illness itself. At least I now know my problem and can evaluate the eventual result.

Early cancer detection has been the cry of the medical profession for many years and it is through this first diagnosis that doctors are able, in this day and age, to many times come up with a preventative before fatal damage is done.

It is with this thought in mind that one is able to face the battle ahead knowing today that chances for survival, because of early detection, are far more in your favor than they were even a few months ago. This is true now because of the terrific strides being made almost every day in the treatment of the various kinds of malignancies.

So, as far as today is concerned, my malignancy has been removed and, of course, I shall hope the removal is permanent. In case it isn't, however, there are several steps ahead, any one of which can terminate its progress, and of course it is with this thought that a patient approaches any new day.

I have several friends who have encountered my same condition and are in excellent health today. So...who knows? I may be around a long time yet pounding away for my second love...the Plymouth Community, the first my family, of course.

In concluding this reference to my illness I should like to publicly thank the many, many people who were so kind to me while in the hospital and recovering at home. You have to have a serious illness once to really appreciate the warmth that cards, letters, phone calls, visitations, inquiries from ones family, and flowers bring to someone who is sick.

The interest and thoughtfulness of my many friends and associates throughout the community and elsewhere have been most deeply appreciated and I shall treasure the memories of the same forever.

Too, since this is a personal column and only I can put the words I choose in it, I couldn't conscientiously close this item without giving my wonderful wife of 32 years a pat on the back for her cheerful, comforting care and her inspiration which, for my money, has done more to put me back on my feet than anything else.

In this day and age it is difficult to find truly dedicated people. Out in our neighborhood, in fact on Beck road, is a little lady who is community conscientious and when given a job to do tries with all her might to see that it is done right.

Because of this, Mrs. Ruth Alford, the wife of Dr. Barry Alford, finds herself completely confused by the actions of some of our elected officials, especially in respect to their obligations to the people in the area of elections and voting, she says.

You will remember that it was Mrs. Alford, who as a township election inspector challenged the votes of former Governor John Swainson, and his wife Alice, on the basis that they had forfeited their residence in Plymouth by not returning here after his term in Lansing was over.

Now, you might expect this of a Republican inspector but normally you would think a Democratic inspector would smile and let the votes go unchallenged. Not so with Mrs. Alford. She challenged their right to vote and based her challenge on her interpretation of Michigan's election laws.

Since the election she has written Wayne County's Prosecuting Attorney and also the Secretary of State. According to the Prosecutor's reply the Swainsons were entitled to vote here because, "Residence is a matter of intention and private citizen Swainson clearly demonstrated his intention to continue his Plymouth Township voting residence by casting his ballot there at the first opportunity." Says Mrs. Alford, "The Prosecutor's office apparently plans to take no action. Because Mr. Swainson voted he intends to return and because he intends to return he can vote. If 'intention' is the criterion of residence, all sorts of interesting possibilities may be projected."

Mrs. Alford bases her continuing interest in this matter on the following observations. "First, the integrity of our elections depends upon an army of housewives meticulously following the rules. Second, I can't be harmed politically if I do what I think is right because I have no political career in my future. Third, I am compelled to challenge Mr. Swainson's action because he holds political power and, fourth, Mr. Swainson had ample time to withdraw his vote, had he cared to investigate his own eligibility."

She further says, "We are in danger if those who enforce the law make up the rules as they go along, after the fact. The law is very clear and obvious to anyone who can read."

I applaud Mrs. Alford's courage. To take on the Prosecutor's office and the Secretary of State as well demonstrates a fearlessness sadly lacking generally today.

I can't say whether she is right or wrong but she most certainly is within her rights as an election inspector to pursue this problem to a final decision, which might be too complex for either our Secretary of State or the Prosecutor. After checking the election laws I believe her point is well taken, however. At any rate it is important that we have a uniform interpretation of our election laws throughout Michigan and it just might be our own Ruth Alford who brings this about. More power to her.

Nothing has pleased me more lately than to see that magnificent Colonial exterior projected on our front page last week of the Conner building on our main corner. Mr. and Mrs. James Houk deserve a special pat on the back for bringing about another major colonization project in the heart of our business community. It is this type of community cooperation that, when developed to its fullest, will make this a business area which the finest shopping center facilities will never be able to affect.

The beautiful front just being completed on the Draugelis office building on Penniman, behind the Conner building, and the possible remodeling of Johnny's Market, planned soon I understand, should give this project a most definite "shot-in-the-arm". Thousands of people spend hundreds of thousands of dollars every year to visit Williamsburg, Virginia and while they are there they pour thousands of dollars into that business community. There is no doubt in my mind that when Plymouth gets a little further along, because of its much more central location, it would produce thousands and thousands of visitors yearly as well as filling local cash registers many times with their dollars.

Typical of the Plymouth community enthusiasm was the meeting that attracted about 100 dedicated servants to this area last week. Sparked by Superintendent of schools, Russell Isbister, the purpose of the gathering was to discuss prime needs of the area and how they could best be solved.

As our news story elsewhere states many suggestions of things for the betterment of this community were suggested by the interested people in attendance.

It is our hope that the combined efforts of this group, which I am sure will eventually be widened, will bring about more things to make this an even better place to live. We urge caution, in the action of this body, and hope they will deliberate to the fullest not only each suggestion as they progress in their meetings ahead, but also that they allow ample time for complete study of any project which they might wish to push.

Spontaneous action such as this, on the part of this many people, is again proof of the tremendous interest the residents of our community have in the furthering of those things to increase our physical facilities and our cultural atmosphere.

In this respect we cannot help but include here a word of approval for the actions of our capable new Mayor who, rather than jump to a conclusion regarding old city hall, made as one of his first suggestions a thorough going-over of that idea rather than making a hasty decision.

If Mayor Wernette follows this pattern, and we have every reason to believe he will, along with our present excellent City Commission, residents will have no worry as to the future of our city.

We commend Superintendent Isbister and other civic leaders who inspired the meeting last week and we congratulate Mayor Wernette and his Commission for their business-like actions in their first few days in office, which should do much to insure an orderly and solid advancement in growth for the total community.

Controversy over creation of a junior-senior year college in the Saginaw Valley rages on despite previous studies and legislative recommendations.

Now the interests seeking some method of providing the senior college facilities for students at Delta College are hoping that a blue ribbon committee appointed by Gov. George Romney will solve the problem.

A legislative committee which undertook an extensive study of the needs of the Saginaw Valley population last summer thought its conclusion was a valid one. It sponsored and gained House approval of a measure to create a two-year state-supported institution in the area.

The college would have been established in the same way Grand Valley College was created two years ago, with an initial $1 million coming from individual and group contributions.

At Romney's urging, however, the Senate refused to approve the House-initiated bill. Romney said he wanted his committee on higher education to come up with a comprehensive plan for the entire state rather than to continue patch-work development of college units in single areas as the need arose.

The governor's committee could well come forth with a plan to satisfy everyone. If so, it is assured residents in the Saginaw Valley would feel the wait was well worth while.

They, as well as residents throughout the state who might one day seek a similar service, were well aware of the need cited so aptly by Rep. William A. Boos, Saginaw, to end the "massive power struggle" between the existing institutions of higher education.

TB is not licked although great strides in detecting and curing the disease have been made in recent years, says State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis.

"We still have a lot to be concerned about," Heustis said. "There were 2,314 new active and probably active cases of tuberculosis reported in Michigan last year."

Since the introduction of new drugs in the early 1950's, however, the death rate from tuberculosis has been dramatically reduced. As a result, the length of hospitalization has also been reduced. This permits most patients to return home after a relatively short period of isolation and treatment in sanatoriums.

New advances in treatment are continuing, Heustis noted, with the probable result that the number of beds needed for tuberculosis care will continue to decrease, but this is no indication that the disease is on the way out.

"We need a new yardstick to measure the importance and extent of the problem, since both the death rate and the number of beds occupied by tuberculosis patients are no longer meaningful measures," he said.

"We are beginning to measure the extent of infection through a combination of things, including large scale tuberculin testing and selective x-raying." The number

Individual interest in touring Michigan is great, if the requests for 1963 road maps is any indication.

The State Highway Department noted that approximately 50,000 individuals requested a copy of the new map by letter or post card even before the copies were printed.

Another 121,000 maps were shipped directly to local chambers of commerce, regional tourist associations, county and city offices, newspapers, and other organizations. State agencies in the Lansing area received 140,000 for their distribution and use. Eventually, all 600,000 copies of the map printed this year will find their way into the glove compartments of cars throughout the nation, and many of these will return to Michigan as the heavy tourist season approaches.

Therapists Study Family Care Plan At State Home

Thirteen family care therapists, in a meeting to review hospital policies and procedures as related to the Family Care program, visited Plymouth State Home and Training School a week ago Sunday.

Members of the institution's staff, under the direction of Leroy Watts, director of social work, arranged the session and Dr. Robert Jaslow, medical superintendent, spoke briefly.

"The family care program," said Dr. Jaslow, "involves placing selected children in private homes where they may receive more individualized attention."

He said that family care therapists are paid at a definite rate and the institution assumes full responsibility for all medical care.

Started less than a year ago, the program already has resulted in the placement of 21 children in homes in the area. Dr. Jaslow said that it is planned to place an additional five to 10 children in the near future, but that lack of funds will prevent any expansion beyond that at the present.

Families who would care to learn about the family care program may contact Mrs. Doris Sterrett at GL 3-1500.

Thinclads Trip Trenton, Allen Park; Carry 2-1 Record to Redford Union

Fully recovered from any record to date in the 1963 thinclad season and restored a large measure of the Rocks' confidence in themselves. The loss to Bentley had been the first dual-meet defeat for the Rocks since 1961.

The Rocks, possibly still smarting from a two-point defeat at the hands of arch-rival Bentley High, trounced Trenton 67.5 to 41.5 last Tuesday and followed with a 78-31 decision over Allen Park on Thursday.

Both of the victories last week followed the same pattern. The local thinclads swept first place ribbons in all four of the field events against both schools and proceeded to pile up additional points in the track events.

The Trenton clash was uneventful, although the final score was considerably closer than in the Plymouth-Allen Park affair.

In the latter dual meet, however, the Rocks set two new school records and tied another.

Hugh Sarah, a burly full-back on the varsity football team, set one new standard in the shot put. His toss of 3 feet, six and one-half inches erased a previous mark of 53-feet, three inches which Sarah himself had set earlier this season.

In the 120-yard high hurdles, speedster Bob Steele turned the same trick, breaking a previous record that he, too, had established earlier this year.

Steele's time was 15 seconds flat, bettering the previous mark of 15.1 seconds, which he had set in the Bentley meet April 11.

It was Steele who tied a school record in the 180-yard low hurdles. He was clocked in 20 seconds flat in the event to share the record held since the late 1950's by Jeff Freeman.

This is the way that Plymouth defeated Allen Park:

Mark Schulthiss won the high jump with a leap of 5-foot-7, and Chris Gaffield was third. Sarah won the shot put, Jim Ayers placed second and Hal Smith was third. Mark Fischer won the pole vault at the 10-foot-6 level and Herb Park tied for second. Fischer also won the broad jump with a leap of 19-feet, two and one-eighth inches. Steele was second.

Steele came in first in the 120-yard high hurdles with his new record time and Gaffield placed second. Dave VanOrnum was second and Bill West third in the 100-yard dash. In the 880-yard run, Jim Eder was second and Bob Pringle third. John Bowman gained second place in the 440-yard dash and Jeff Burke finished third. Steele tied the record in the 180-yard low hurdles and Gaffield was second. VanOrnum was second in the 220-yard dash; Dennis Tonkovich placed third. Larry Oldford won the mile in 5:02.8 and Jim McKindles came in third.

Plymouth won both relays. Fischer, Garry Grady, John Bowman and Schulthiss were clocked in 3:43.8 as they won the mile relay. Tonkovich, West, VanOrnum and Steele combined to claim the 880-yard relay in 1:37.1.

The Rocks turned back Trenton in this fashion:

Schulthiss won the high jump (5-foot-6) and Gaffield tied for third. Sarah won the shot put (51-feet, seven and one-half inches) and Ayers was third. Fischer won the pole vault at 9-foot-6, Herb Park finishing second. Fischer also won the broad jump (20-feet, three inches) as Steele came in second.

Steele won the 120-yard high hurdles (15.4) and Gaffield again was second. VanOrnum won the 100-yard dash (11 seconds). West was second, Tonkovich third.

Jim Eder finished third in the 880-yard run and Trenton swept the 440-yard dash. Steele and Gaffield were one-two in the 180-yard low hurdles, Steele's winning time being 20.7 seconds.

VanOrnum won the 220-yard dash (23.9) and Tonkovich was second. Oldford came in third in the mile and Trenton won the mile relay.

The Rocks clinched the victory with a win in the 880-yard relay as Gaffield, West, VanOrnum and Steele were clocked in 1:39.7. Scoring in the meet for Plymouth included 14.25 points for Steele, 11.25 for VanOrnum and 10 points for Fischer.

CHRIS GAFFIELD, son of Plymouth photographer John Gaffield, shows the strain of competing in the 180-yard low hurdles during Plymouth's dual-meet against Allen Park last week. He finished second behind Bob Steele, of Plymouth.

Errors, Faulty Base-Running Send Plymouth '9' Down to Defeat, 5-1

Unable to capitalize on several scoring opportunities, Plymouth absorbed a 5-1 defeat at the hands of Bentley last Thursday afternoon. It left the Rocks with a 500 and played the outfield against Bentley Thursday as a breather.

The Rocks accumulated six hits in scattered fashion. Luibrand's hit in the fourth was the only one that turned out to be profitable. Bob Gotro, a sophomore third baseman, had two singles. Plymouth had no extra-base hits.

Tom Lockwood, Hal Kuisel and Tom McGill accounted for Plymouth's other three hits.

Losing pitcher was Edwards, the starter.

Plymouth had three games on tap between Monday and Thursday of this week. Belleville was slated to host the Rocks Monday afternoon, Plymouth was to visit Franklin High in Livonia today (Wednesday), and tomorrow Trenton invades the Plymouth camp. Allen Park hosts the Rocks May 6.

average on the strength of one win and one loss.

Errors hurt the Rocks as much as the fact they left 10 runners stranded on the base-paths.

Plymouth committed four miscues, two of which, when sandwiched around a walk in the first inning, led to Bentley's 2-0 lead in the top half of that frame.

The visiting Bulldogs picked up another run in the fourth on a walk, hit batsman and a single, and the floodgates opened wider in the seventh as the winners added two more runs on four consecutive singles.

Plymouth's lone run came in the fourth when Caleb Luibrand smacked out the Rocks' third straight hit of the inning to avert a shut-out.

The Rocks had numerous chances to score, but were unable to do so. At one point, Plymouth loaded the bases only to have Dick Schryer fly out to centerfield to end the threat.

Another possible rally died stillborn when the Rocks placed runners at first and second with none out. Faulty base-running squelched that opportunity.

Jim Edwards, a junior, started on the mound for the Rocks and went four innings, allowing four hits and three runs, two of which were unearned.

Edwards gave way to John Smith in the fifth. Bentley solved Smith rapidly, reaching him for six hits and two runs. Sophomore John Daniels came on with one away in the seventh and avoided further damage. He retired two batters in order.

Schryer, Plymouth's number one pitcher, had earlier led the Rocks to a slender 1-0 win over Redford Union

Sports IN AND AROUND PLYMOUTH

ALLEN PARK won this duel for second place in the mile run last Thursday afternoon, but the Rocks emerged a 78-31 victor as the duel meet drew to a close. Plymouth's entry Jim McKindles (left) had to settle for third place in the mile.

JayVee Track Team Handed 57-52 Defeat

The first junior varsity track meet for Plymouth in several seasons turned out to be a "cliff-hanger" for the young Rocks last week.

The Plymouth JayVees battled Bentley's junior varsity to a 57-52 deadlock after 10 of the meet's 11 events and then lost the 880-yard relay by a fraction of a second to bow, 57-52.

The meet was staged at Bentley High last Thursday afternoon. Dick Bearup is the Rocks' JayVee track coach.

Plymouth's junior varsity is slated to visit Allen Park tomorrow afternoon in the second of a four-meet schedule lined up for the junior Rocks this spring.

These were the Plymouth thinclads that accounted for the junior Rocks' scoring last Thursday in the Bentley clash:

Ron Becker won the high jump (5-foot-2) with John Zimmer placing third. Randy Birkalaw and Grant Fischer finished two-three in the pole vault and Dave Sackett won the shot put (32) with Randy Pentecost gaining third. Dave Agnew and Gary Gould took second and third, respectively, in the broad jump.

Jim White won the 120-yard high hurdles (19.6 seconds) and Agnew won the 100-yard dash in 11.4 seconds. Tom Breneman was third in the 100. John Adams finished second in the 880-yard run and Dave White was third in the 440. Fischer was second in the 180-yard low hurdles. Bruce Mirto won the 220-yard dash (25.4 seconds) and Agnew was third.

Joe Smith won the mile in 5:39.9 and Pete Ackerman was second. Bentley's JayVees captured both the mile relay (to tie the meet score) and the 880-yard relay (to win the contest).

Golfers Extend Streak, Embark on Busy Week

Already embarked on one of the busiest weeks of their 1963 schedule, Plymouth's varsity golfers today have a little time to reflect on their perfect accomplishments as of last Friday.

Most recent success for Plymouth came in the form of a 173-95 decision over Redford Union and a 159-192 win over Franklin. Both matches were played last week at Brae-Burn Country Club, scene of all Plymouth's home golf contests. The two meets were held on Brae-Burn's par-35 front nine.

Against Redford Union, Gerry Scott and Skip Otwell paced the Rocks, each posting 42's. Carl Zornow added a 44 and Jim Mattison had 45. Low man for the losers was John Druchas with a 43.

The match with Franklin took place April 24. It was a six-man-per-school contest, but only the four low scorers on each team counted toward the final result.

Mattison and Dave Wall carded identical 39's to lead the way for the Rocks and Jeff Hoffman had a 40. Scott had 41 to round out Plymouth's scoring.

Ironically, Plymouth's number one and number two team players wound up with scores that were not even counted. Zornow posted a 42 and Otwell had 45.

Low for Franklin was John Gunz with a 45.

Plymouth had a particularly busy schedule on tap for itself this week. On Monday, the Rocks were slated to take part in the Dearborn Invitational, an annual affair conducted by the Dearborn Press newspaper.

Today (May 1), Wayne High was to provide the opposition, tomorrow it will be Taylor Center and on Saturday the Rocks will engage in a triangular meet involving Brighton and Dearborn.

WARM WEATHER last weekend sent hundreds of local golfers scurrying to their favorite golf courses. Among them was Jerry Pease, owner of Pease Paint & Wallpaper Co. here. But Jerry does his "scurrying" on a golf course these days from the driver's seat of his new electric golf cart (above). He plays frequently at Washburn Country Club.

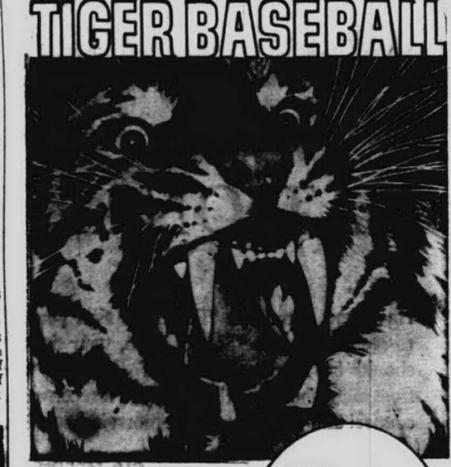

FANS CROWD the rail of the bleachers as Plymouth's Mike Bentley starts out in the mile run during the Rock's dual-meet last Thursday with Allen Park here. The Plymouth runner finished fourth.

ASSOCIATED SPRING EARNINGS SHOW GAIN Associated Spring Corp., which has a plant here, has announced net sales of nearly $14.5 million during the first quarter of 1963. This compares with net sales in the same quarter of 1962 of $13.4 million, or a gain of eight per cent over that amount.

"How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" sailed into the Fisher theater last week, riding the crest of the admirable advance publicity that labeled the play as a real hit.

And for once all advance reports lived up to the audience's expectations. Old George loved every minute of the show. Even the b.w. (be-leaguered wife) smiled throughout the performance and applauded the dancers with great gusto.

Such behavior on the part of the b.w. is tantamount to "shooting at the top of her lungs." In other words, the Fisher theater has a smash musical on its hands for the next month.

Not only can the Fisher theater boast of a "smash" attraction but the Plymouth Theater Guild is similarly delighted. "The Mousetrap" has topped all expectations. Advance sales of reserved tickets, as reported by Mrs. Carl Cederburg, ticket chairman, have climbed to the astronomical heights of 365. Never before has the Guild sold so many advance reserved tickets.

Capacity audiences for a community theater play do more for the morale of the actors than hundreds of greenbacks in their pockets. These unsung heroes spend long hours rehearsing and honing their parts to perfection. Dennis Merchant, Russ Wallace, Effie Kuisel, Roberta Seelhoff, Pat Dorian, Charles Bouquet, Paul Wheeler and Don Liebau give their "all".

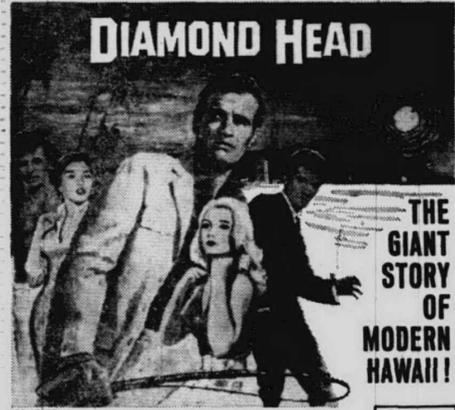

When they feel that a full house out front is enjoying the production such conditions spur the cast on to a very professional performance. In addition, large numbers of people work backstage on every Plymouth Theater production.

IF YOU'RE a safety patrol boy in any of the Plymouth schools, maybe you can identify yourself in this sea of young faces. Some 275 safety patrolers last Thursday were treated to breakfast at the Hotel Mayflower and then boarded buses for Detroit and a Tiger baseball game as guests of the Kiwanis Club. Hotel manager Ralph Lorenz had made the arrangements to feed the youngsters and public safety director Kenneth Fisher handled the details on obtaining baseball game tickets for the boys. It is an annual event for the safety patrolers.

Acquires Standard Oil Bulk Firm in Hillsdale

Plymouthite Bill Corwin, of 2075 Ridge Rd., has acquired the Standard Oil bulk oil distributorship in Hillsdale, Mich., and will move there to begin operation of his business by May 20.

A 1953 graduate of Plymouth High and a resident here all his life, Corwin for the past seven years has been employed by C. W. Meyers, the local Standard Oil bulk oil dealer.

Corwin is married to the former Nancy Griswold, of Plymouth. The couple have three children.

He will work there briefly in a company training program for new bulk oil dealers and will assume full responsibility for the distributorship later this month.

His brother, John, has also been employed by the Meyers' dealership here for some time.

Tennis Team Wins 2, Drops 1

Plymouth High's varsity tennis team scored two successive victories last week, but dropped a narrow decision to Allen Park to wind up with a 2-1 record for the first week's work of the new season.

The Rocks turned back Franklin High, 4-0, in a match that was cut short by rain. It was held April 22 on the courts at Riverside Park.

Dave Tidwell and Jim Jensen won the opening two single matches and Phil Huxley and Dale Livingston captured the first doubles match. Jim Bruff and Clark Raven combined to win the No. 2 doubles and gain Plymouth its fourth and winning point in the abbreviated contest.

Bentley High was a tougher opponent the following day. The Rocks scored a narrow 4-3 decision and Jensen and Gary Fuelling provided the margin of victory.

Fuelling was filling in for the ailing Linc Smith, Jensen's regular doubles partner. Fuelling and Jensen recovered from a 5-2 deficit in the first set to post a 7-5 win and came back to gain the second set — and the match point — by a 6-4 count. It was the advantage Plymouth needed to win its second tennis meet in a row.

Other victories in the same meet for Plymouth included: Livingston and Huxley in the No. 1 doubles; Bruff and Raven in the No. 2 doubles; and Tidwell in the No. 1 singles.

Allen Park ended Plymouth's victory streak April 25 in the form of a 4-3 decision over the Rocks.

Plymouth mastered the Parkers in the three doubles events, but couldn't score in the singles competition. Doubles winners for the Rocks included the teams of Smith and Jensen, Livingston and Huxley, and Bruff and Raven.

Three more varsity tennis matches were on tap for Plymouth this week, too. The Rocks were scheduled to face Trenton yesterday afternoon (April 30), will take on Wall-ed Lake tomorrow (May 2) and will follow that with a Friday afternoon clash with Northville.

Freeman Honored For All-A Record

Jack A. Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Freeman, 153 Plymouth Rd., will be among those feted at a dinner on the evening of May 1 by Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University.

Freeman is one of 250 students who achieved an all-A record during the winter term. His name is on the University's Honor Roll, which offers "recognition of the highest attainment in scholarship."

He is a sophomore at Michigan State pursuing a course in electrical engineering.

300 to Preview "Mousetrap" Show

Over 300 special guests of the Plymouth Theater Guild were to assemble in the Senior High auditorium this evening (Wednesday) to witness a preview performance of "The Mousetrap," the Guild's 45th stage production in 16 years.

"Mousetrap" opens a three-night run tomorrow evening. The stage presentation will begin at 8:15 p.m. each of the three nights.

The play centers around thrills and mystery as Dennis Merchant (portraying Detective-Sergeant Trotter) seeks to track down the killer.

Advance tickets to "Mousetrap" will be on sale until 5 p.m. at Melody House each date the mystery drama is to be presented. After 5 p.m., regular admission tickets may be purchased at the door.
