Swim Club Faces Problem Over Rezoning

Unless sponsors of the proposed Colony Swim Club Inc., a private swim and recreational facility with a membership limited to 300 families from the Plymouth Community, look for a new site, the prospects of opening in early July appear rather dim.

has received initial fees of $300 from more ordinance requires a C-2 zoning for a private than 200 families, requested permission to install swimming facilities for the club from the Plymouth Township planning commission last week and learned that it will probably be three months before a final decision.

Trustee Joseph Fletcher, 12176 Amherst Court, represented the proposed club and made the application for the construction of $120,000 non-profit, private club facilities at the site on the southwest corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Beck Roads. The club has an option on 8.5 acres there.

Fletcher, who had discussed the application with Township Clerk John McEwen earlier, was much dismayed when told by Chairman Irving Rozian that the application was out of order since a petition for rezoning should have been filed first.

Rozian pointed out, after a conference with The non-profit organization, which already other members of the board, that the Township club. The land in question is zoned R-1-E, country estates district.

Furthermore, Rozian told Fletcher that rezoning requires study by the board, a resolution for an open hearing and then the planning recommendation is turned over to the Township Board for final decision.

During the course of the conversation, it was brought out that the proposed swim club site is only a short distance from the Mango Inn where the board turned down a request for a C-2 zoning last month.

All of which means that Fletcher and his associates will have to take their chances on waiting for at least three months and go through an opening hearing with the prospects that the project may be rejected.

That's why those close to the project are thinking of seeking a new site within the confines of the City of Plymouth or in a C-2 zoned plat in the township.

After due consideration, the planning board decided to refer the matter to Township Attorney Earl Demel for a ruling and tabled the matter until the April 15 meeting.

Prior to the ruling by Rozian, Fletcher had told the board that the plans called for the Club to sink a well for water until such time as the Township's lines were extended to the area of the land.

He indicated a Ferndale architect had designed the proposed facilities and that the sponsors hoped to have the swimming pool in operation by early July.

"This club would be used approximately 90 days each summer," Fletcher said "We already have the initial fees of 200 families and have an additional 200 on a waiting list. Under our original plans, we wanted to limit the membership to 300."

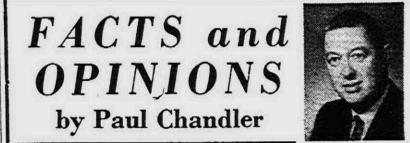

The facilities would feature a 25-meter pool with two 30 by 30-foot ells for diving and training non-swimmers.

Adjoining the pool would be a colonial bath house and future plans call for picnic area, shuffleboard courts and tennis courts.

However, there was another note of warning for Fletcher and his associates. The meeting attracted a large gathering of residents of the area surrounding the proposed site and the feeling seemed to be that few if any were in favor of a spot zoning for the construction of a private club, swimming pool or anything else other than something that met the requirements of a R-1-E zoning.

Plymouth's school board is thinking of a new high school in 1970, a new elementary school by 1967, expansion of the existing facilities at Farrand and Allen schools within a year and a 12-room addition to the present senior high building in two phases for much needed vocational education by 1966.

I have always known the answer for my own purposes and sometimes I would try to laugh it off and say, "Why do people climb mountains? Simply because they are there to climb, and they feel the urge to do it."

To others with whom I am more familiar, I tried to explain my belief that since I am only going to live once, I want my community to have been a little better for my having passed through than if I hadn't, and that hard work was the main thing I had to throw into the contest.

While lying on my back here in Sparrow Hospital I've read a lot of newspapers and in the Ann Landers column I ran upon a paragraph she has found among President Kennedy's speeches:

Parkway, Joseph Patchett, 15016 Beech Road, and Mrs. Gerald Vroman, 15806 Denby.

Following a disaster-type dinner served by Red Cross Canteen volunteers, the Disaster team members heard Enso Bighinatti Assistant Director, Dis-'aster Services, American Red Cross in Washington, speak on disaster action locally, nationally and internationally.

Originally scheduled to speak was Robert Edson, National Director of Disaster Services, who remained in Washington because of the Ohio Valley flood situation. In commending the Detroit Chapter on its highly onganized preparedness program, Bighi-natti likened the Disaster Institute to the type of meeting that would be held immediately following a disaster strike in Detroit or surrounding areas. "Disaster," said Bighinatti,

"is not a responsibility of Disaster Services alone. It is a total American Red Cross responsibility. There is one Red Cross. When disaster strikes we are, each and every one of us, involved."

In discussing Red Cross disaster relief work, Bighinatti emphasized the need for organization, upon which mobility and strength depend. He pointed out

During the past week the department handled two funerals at Riverside Cemetery. Urban Renewal work was started on digging out the basement, plugging sewers and disconnecting the water service at 160 W. Ann Arbor Trail. This will continue until such time as all is cleared UD.

Work was done at the Salem Refuse Site and all the main streets were cold patched. Children caused considerable damage to the end of the tube on Hartsough and this was repaired by the department during the week.

. A sewer pump, at Byron Pit, was leaking badly and was repaired by the Department. The piping was painted at Goldsmith Station, Beck Road and Six Mile Well Fields.

One sanitary sewer was dug up and repaired. Byron Street between S. Main and S. Harvey Streets was dug out and gravel is being hauled in to stabilize the street.

Famed String Quartet To Give 6 Concerts for Plymouth Youngsters

Pupils in Plymouth's elementary schools - grades three through six-will have an opportunity to hear the famed string quartet from Detroit's Adventure Excursions on April 13 and 14 in a series of six special programs sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony Society in cooperation with the Plymouth Community School system.

. The concerts will be given at the school district's six elementary schools in addition to Lutheran Day School and Our Lady of Good Counsel School, according to Chairman Mrs. James Warren.

Members of the string ensemble, all from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, are: Nathan Gordon, first violinist and coordinator of the Excursions in Music program; Gordon Staples, violinist and associate concertmaster: Edward Korkigian, violinicellist; and Edward Kesner, principal second violin.

Pleasantville has a sign as you enter that says "1.023 friendly people live here-and a few knuckleheads, too."

Well knuckleheads have to live someplace and they certainly do. Believe me, Redford Township has its share.

In Pleasantville the town is divided and they are now calling each other Communists or John Birchers. 19 of the town's 34 teachers have quit, and replacements cannot be found to teach 700 children.

The N.E.A.-affiliated Iowa State Education Association has urged all teachers to refuse jobs in Pleasantville. The Iowa House of Representatives has voted unanimously to investigate.

All of this because parents did not get out and vote. They let a former teacher whom the Superintendent turned down for a job, get on the school board. ### Reverend Warford The MIRACLE of EASTER The world has only one certified religion, only one religion which bears the signature of God. and that is the religion of Jones Christ. The miracle of the first Baster is God's own signature, endorsing the truthfulness of every claim and every promise which Jesus Christ has made. He had claimed that He was the Son of God. Tul///// He had claimed that He would lay down His life for the sins of men and would rise again from the dead on the third day. Did He have the right to make these promises? Did He have the power to fulfill them? The miracle of Easter shouts a loud: "He was declared to be the Son of God . . . by the resurrection from the dead!" Christians throughout the world rejoice in knowing that they are worshipping, not a dead prophet, but a living Christ, a Christ who is sternal in the beavens, a Christ whose Easter resurrection stands unique and unassailed as the signature of God. The Livonia Jaycees and their auxiliary, in conjunction with the Department of Parks and Recreation, are busily preparing for the annual Easter Egg Hunt on Sat-urday, March 28.

The hunt, which will be the biggest ever, will start at 2 p.m. and will be for children in three age categories: 3 to 4year-olds, 5 to 6-year-olds and 7 to 8-year-olds. Last year, over 3,000 took part in the hunt, which was held at three parks.

This year's hunt will be held at four park sites: Rosedale Park (near Whitman Junior High School), Clements Circle Park (near Wilson School), Algonquin Park (near Roosevelt School) and Botsford Park near Botsford School).

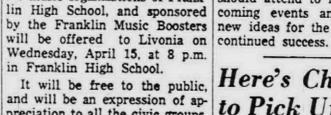

Some 300 dozen eggs, donated by the local merchants, will be cooked and colored by the Jaycee Auxiliary. They will then be hidden throughout the park sites, along with 10,000 pieces of candy.

Specially colored eggs, when discovered, will entitle the finder to receive a prize from the Easter Bunny who will appear at each park.

OBSERVER SPORTS - By George Maskin

Sentimentality usually has no place in this sports offering. But, you couldn't blame a typewriter puncher for saying an extra prayer just before Detroit Northern took the floor against Benton Harbor in the finals of the state Class A basketball tournament up at East Lansing last Saturday night. We had to pull for Northern. And on several counts.

After all, we happened to go to Northern and should we say that we were a member of the Class of '35? (This has to give away our age).

Then, too, the Saturday night game was to mark the end of the coaching line for one of the state's greatest mentors-Eddie Powers. For some 40 years, Powers has been turning out fine, young athletes. He spent his first six or seven years up at Pontiac Central . . . and the went to Detroit Northern to stay

As you know by now, Northern didn't win. Benton Harbor came on with a strong rally to turn back Northern.

Even in defeat, Powers had to be the toast of the Detroitarea coaching community. He had brought back the Detroit Public School league, as far as state competition was concerned, and given a highly-favored team more than it bargained for.

It was a great day and night for the Detroit area. River Rouge cleaned up its fourth straight Class B title. Grosse Pointe St. Paul copped the laurels in Class C.

And, Charley Forsythe, the state director, gave out a hint that the day may not be too far away when the state windup in basketball is moved into Detroit to take advantage of the facilities available at Olympia, Cobo Arena and the U. of D. Memorial Building.

This is something we suggested last year and the year before that. It is our feeling that the state prep classic has outgrown the Lansing area.

Wonder how much truth there is to the rumor that Basketball Coach Bob Bentley of Franklin was hanged in effigy the other day.

We realize that all rumors aren't facts, but somehow nothing that happens around Franklin High would surprise the operator of these words.

Somebody along Joy Road seems to have the wrong notion when it comes to high school sports.

There were squawks last fall because Franklin didn't win all of its football games. Even though Jack Hudnut turned out a team which was in contention for the league crown and wound up by showing rival Bentley a few things, one heard moans and sobs around Franklin.

It was pretty much the same in basketball during the campaign which ended a few weeks back.

The complainers seem to forget that Franklin has been in operation less than two years . . . that high school sports history in Michigan shows that it usually takes a new school from four to six years before it starts to turn out powerhouses in athletics.

Sports tradition just doesn't develop overnight. Nor can the greatest coach - and Franklin has boasted two of the best in Hudnut for football and Bentley for basketball - bring forth winners without the horses.

We suspect that somebody had the notion that all of Livonia's finest athletes have lived - and still live - on the south side . . . which would mean that Franklin would attract the bulk of the standouts.

Obviously, this isn't true. The good athletes are spread around Livonia. You'll find them at Franklin . . . at Bentley at Clarenceville.

The job of rebuilding the Bentley High school baseball team has started.

So far Coach Roger Hanton his efforts with a major task ahead.

Hanton has only four veterans back from the 1963 Bentley team which won nine and lost six and placed second in the Suburban Six League.

The returnees are Pitcher Craig Lotti, Outfielder Don White, first baseman Perry Foor and third sacker Bob Morgan. Hanton is grooming new faces up from the reserves to round out the rest of his lineup for the Bentley opener slated for April 13 at Dearborn.

The pitching naturally poses pano Park in Florida where lot of hope on Jim Brewer, up million dollar layout. from the reserves, and Joel Seaton, a transfer student from Dearborn Fordson high where he lettered on the diamond a year ago. John Plumley appears to have the inside track to the catching job. At short, John Kokocheck tops the candidates, while Roger Jones heads the slate at second base.

In the outfield, John Harrison ranks as the best of the newcomers.

Like all other high school baseball coaches, Hanton is hopeful that the weather takes a turn for the better-and in a hurry.

"We want to get outside, so we can hit and have fielding workouts." declares Hanton.

"When we must drill indoors, there isn't much that we can do but get some exercising and running in around the gym and do some throwing."

The Suburban Six League campaign won't start until April 27. which will give Hanton more time than usual to prepare his charges for the title drive.

Meantime, the team laurels went to Birmingham Seaholm with 57 points while Flint Central had 34. Lansing Everett ward Richelieu and from near- 2112 and Lansing Sexton 21.

Thurston garnered all of its points with a third place in the two-mile relay. A combination of Keith Reed, Ralph Stanifer, Richard Flemming and Mike Pakula came in third behind Seaholm and Howell. The Thurston guartet was timed in 8:33.8.

Despite all of its great tradition. Bentley has had some problems in the last couple of years since the split cost the Five Mile Road school many athletes to Franklin.

But Bentley has started to recover and in due time Franklin will climb the highest pedestal. However, it's not going to help the situation around Franklin if the bystanders protest and complain.

Just take it easy at Franklin. Your day in the sun will come . . . maybe sooner than you expect.

Heavy Spring Schedule Announced at Plymouth

One of the heaviest spring sports schedules in the history of Plymouth High School has Uni been announced by Athletic Director John Sandman.

The spring campaigning opened with the Rocks competing in the Huron track relays last weekend. Now will come a pause until April 6 when the gelfers go to Trenton for their opener. The tennis season begins on April 7 for Plymouth while the trackmen resume operations on April 10 and the baseballers lift the lid on April 20.

In addition to the four varsity sports teams, Plymouth also will have reserve teams consisting of baseball and track. The activity will continue until June 6 when it is hoped Plymouth again will have entries in the state prep tennis tournament at Kalamazoo. . The Rocks' spring sports

Shakespeare's glory and fame, always in ascendency, will reach new heights in the month ahead. April is his official birth month. Four hundred years ago Master Will Shakespeare first saw the light of day in jolly, old England.

To help celebrate the event radio and TV folks have planned numerous theatrical tributes. On Channel 9's Festival TV program (Wednesdays at 9:30 p.m.) three Shakespearean events have been scheduled. On April 8 a two-hour production of "Twelfth Night" is already set. "Hamlet," a three-hour version with Christopher Plummer, will grace the small screen on April 15. This version of the dreary Dane was filmed on location at Elsinore Castle in Denmark. You can't get much closer to the ghost of Hamlet's father. Finally, the Verdi opera, "Othello" will be sung in English for the first time on April 22. Personally, I like my "Othello" in the prose, non-singing version, but I'm willing to tune in and see what Verdi has done with this powerful tragic love story. I'll admit it's perfect fare for the larger dimensions of the operatic stage.

On the Wayne State Campus Dr. Leonard Leone and his enthusiastic corps of workers continue to honor Shakespeare with their nightly performances in the Hilberry Classic Theater. Old Wally finally found time to attend a performance in the Hilberry Theater. "Romeo and Juliet" was the play. And you know even if Shakespeare did say, "The play's the thing," I'm afraid than any production of "Romeo and Juliet" needs less play and more thing-a-ma-jigs to surround the thin plot.

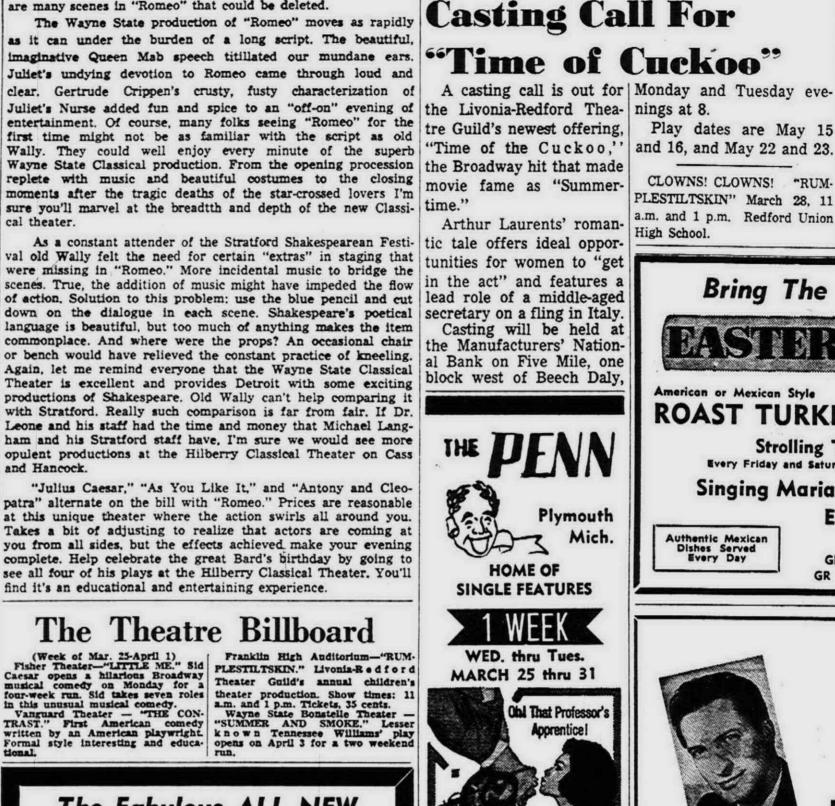

At the beginning of "Romeo" a member of the company makes the announcement about the differences between the Montagues and Capulets and indicates we will see the results of such a bitter struggle. He specifically indicates that the drama will unfold in a "two hour traffic upon this stage." My only complaint after seeing various versions of "Romeo" is that no one ever takes the Bard seriously about this time limit. There as it can under the burden of a long script. The beautiful, imaginative Queen Mab speech titillated our mundane ears. Juliet's undying devotion to Romeo came through loud and clear. Gertrude Crippen's crusty, fusty characterization of Juliet's Nurse added fun and spice to an "off-on" evening of entertainment. Of course, many folks seeing "Romeo" for the first time might not be as familiar with the script as old Wally. They could well enjoy every minute of the superb replete with music and beautiful costumes to the closing moments after the tragic deaths of the star-crossed lovers I'm sure you'll marvel at the breadtth and depth of the new Classi- time." cal theater.

As a constant attender of the Stratford Shakespearean Festival old Wally felt the need for certain "extras" in staging that were missing in "Romeo." More incidental music to bridge the scenes. True, the addition of music might have impeded the flow down on the dialogue in each scene. Shakespeare's poetical language is beautiful, but too much of anything makes the item commonplace. And where were the props? An occasional chair or bench would have relieved the constant practice of kneeling. Again, let me remind everyone that the Wayne State Classical Theater is excellent and provides Detroit with some exciting productions of Shakespeare. Old Wally can't help comparing it with Stratford. Really such comparison is far from fair. If Dr. Leone and his staff had the time and money that Michael Langham and his Stratford staff have, I'm sure we would see more opulent productions at the Hilberry Classical Theater on Cass and Hancock.

"Julius Caesar," "As You Like It," and "Antony and Cleopatra" alternate on the bill with "Romeo." Prices are reasonable at this unique theater where the action swirls all around you. Takes a bit of adjusting to realize that actors are coming at you from all sides, but the effects achieved make your evening complete. Help celebrate the great Bard's birthday by going to see all four of his plays at the Hilberry Classical Theater. You'll find it's an educational and entertaining experience.

rising tide of fatalities and accidents, a vigorous all-out enforcement and educational campaign is being carried on to reduce traffic law violations, with special attention to those drivers who exceed the speed limit or drive too fast for conditions," said Chief of Police James N. Jordan of Livonia.

"I hope all drivers will cooperate in bringing down traffic deaths and accidents. We do not enjoy issuing traffic trickets, but if drivers violate the traffic laws, they can be sure that
