Heading the list of honors given Plymouth JayCees was presentation of the Henry Giessenbier trophy to the club as the most outstanding out of 100 chapters in division two of the State of Michigan.

Junior Chamber President Wendell Smith was one of five young men named as outstanding local presidents throughout the state.

ALSO awarded the Plymouth chapter was the blue chip award for increased membership and orientation. Other awards presented Plymouth JayCees include:

Set "Space Race" for Michigan Week Start

Marking the beginning of week-long Michigan Week activities here in Plymouth will be a previously unannounced "junior space race" Monday morning, sponsored jointly by the Plymouth Community School District and Burroughs Corporation.

At 10:30 a.m., Monday, May 18, some 3000 balloons will be released by the elementary age children of the Plymouth Community School District. Each balloon will bear this message: "Michigan Week - We're Proud of Our State: Junior Space Race - Burroughs Corporation."

Attached to each balloon will be a return post card bearing greetings from the youngster who released it. Prizes will be awarded to the student in each school who receives a return card mailed from the farthest point.

AS A highlight of the program, 300 elementary school children will be especially honored for past services to their respective schools, with congratulations from school and civic officials as well as representatives of Burroughs Corporation. This honors ceremony will take place at Allen Elementary School, 11100 Haggerty Highway.

Appropriate ceremonies will also be held at each of the other elementary schools in the district. At a signal the balloons will be released simultaneously by every elementary age student in the district, hopefully carrying the Michigan Week message far and wide. A roundup of other Michigan Week activities includes:

Monday: Mayor exchange activities with Clawson Mayor Lavern Anderson. A businessmen's luncheon and evening dinner will be included in the day's activities.

TUESDAY: Hospitality Day. Members of the Newcomers club will call on new Plymouth residents with pots of coffee.

Wednesday: Livelihood Day. Tentative plans call for the industrial luncheon originally scheduled for Wednesday to be held Friday.

day. New industries in the Plymouth Community will be honored and Burroughs Corporation will be cited for its selection as producer of Michigan's product of the year.

Thursday: Education Day. Schools will highlight Michigan Week and the state's Water Wonderland theme in class activities.

FRIDAY: Heritage Day. The high point of the week, Heritage Day will include cornerstone laying ceremonies at Plymouth's new City Hall at 2 p.m., the annual tea at the Dunning-Hough Library and the day-long opening of the Plymouth Historical Society Museum. Senator Philip Hart and Representative Martha Griffiths will be here for the ceremonies.

Saturday: Youth Day. Co-chairman John (Mike) Hoben and John McFall have scheduled a youth project to paint the Historical Society Museum building, the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual teen-age road-e-o at Junior High East about 1 p.m.

Propose New School Building Fund Plan

A new borrowing plan which will increase the amount of money immediately available to the Plymouth Community School District and speed progress on additions to Allen and Farrand Schools and a shop building at Plymouth High was revealed Monday night to school board members.

The board set a special May 18 meeting to adopt resolutions to get the new plan in operation. Details on the shop addition were also spelled out to board members at their regular monthly meeting in the school district offices.

School Board President Gerald Fischer told the board the district's legal consultants had outlined a plan in which the school district could borrow up to two per cent of its state equalized valuation without voter approval.

BY ISSUING short term bonds, the school district can raise up to $559,000 immediately. The bonds would be paid off under the four and a half mills currently levied in the district.

Planning Group Gets Directive

City Commissioners unanimously approved a directive to the Plymouth Community's Joint Planning Authority authorizing that body to take any action necessary to maintain and to increase the industrial and commercial tax base of the Plymouth Community School District at a special commission meeting, Monday evening.

The Commission was the first governing body to issue a directive to the authority, made up of the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township.

Discussion and further action on the two hour parking limit in the central parking lot was tabled by Commissioners until they can hear the Chamber of Commerce's opinion.

City Manager Albert Glassford explained that a city ordinance placed a two hour limit on parking in the lot, but said the signs were never posted when the lot was revamped.

Also on the agenda was a hearing on the 1964-1965 budget, but no one appeared for the hearing.

In the past, school construction activities have been financed by issuing tax anticipation notes against taxes to be collected the following year.

Under the tax anticipation program, the district could borrow $430,000 by July 1 and another $430,000 the following year.

The reason many school districts cannot take advantage of the short term bonding plan, Fischer said, is because they have already surpassed their equalized valuation level in bonding.

TWO PER CENT of the Plymouth School District's state equalized valuation amounts to approximately $2,134,000, Fischer said. Outstanding debt amounts to $1,575,000, leaving $559,000 available for short term bonding.

Three Running for Board

After they both had expressed reservations about running for re-election to the school board, Plymouth Community School District Board members Gerald Fischer and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing both filed petitions for the upcoming election last week.

One other candidate, Mrs. Harland B. Smith of 1158 S. Main St. also filed as a candidate.

President of the board Fischer, who had not reached a decision when contacted by The Plymouth Mail a week ago, apparently bowed to pressure from friends and persons interested in school activities.

EVEN THOUGH responsibilities at work, church and other plans made Fischer think twice about running, his interest in school activities and programs started during his term on the board seemed to decide him in favor of becoming a candidate.

Mrs. Hulsing explained her change of heart by noting that she has thoroughly enjoyed the work.

Mrs. Smith, a lifelong Plymouth resident and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Richwine of 41701 Wilcox Road, said running for the board was something she has wanted to do for a long time.

AT THEIR meeting Monday evening, school board members passed a resolution authorizing the annual school election on Monday, June 8, 1964.

The only other issue to appear on the ballot at that time will be the request of Schoolcraft College to bond for an additional $1,250,000.

The money, in combination with state and Federal funds, would be used for construction of additional facilities at the college. Approval of additional bonding would involve no tax increase to local residents.

MEMBERS of the board of directors are Mike Hoben, Joe Near, Dave Mather, Harold Guenther, George Lawton, Paul Richards, Tom Workman, Bill Keefe, Dave Wood, Bob Maurer, Kal Jabara, Wendell Lent, Don Sutherland and Bill Nelson.

The Plymouth Trading Post, housed in the Plymouth Lumber Building, has purchased the sporting and camping goods store and business from Davis and Lent. The Trading Post will also feature boats, Explorer Camp Trailers and other leisure time equipment.

Parking has been provided at the rear of the property. Plymouth Lumber will also carry on a cash operation in the back.

Because constituents are demanding it, Supervisor Roy Lindsay of Plymouth Township said today that the township is definitely going to take action against Evans Products Company in connection with a nagging air pollution problem.

While he declined to outline what course the action might take, Lindsay said the question is slated to be taken up at tonight's meeting of township trustees in the township hall.

The agenda for the meeting indicates Lindsay will seek authorization from trustees to institute formal proceedings against the firm.

Contacted this morning, a spokesman for Evans Products told The Plymouth Mail definite measures to combat the smoke problem are being taken and an announcement will be made next week.

Lindsay said the township has heard nothing definite from Evans Products. He said the firm should notify the township in writing about its plans to alleviate the problem.

NEW CONCEPT:

Trading Post Sets Opening Next Week

A new concept in retail development will get underway in Plymouth with the opening of the Plymouth Trading Post business complex next week on Main St., between the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad tracks and the E-Z Enterprises building.

Bill Keefe, former manager of Davis and Lent sporting goods operation, will manage the operation.

The Plymouth Trading Post is the result of the combined efforts of 14 Plymouthites, led by Harold Guenther, George Lawton and Kal Jabara.

Officers of the firm are Kal Jabara, president; Bob Maurer, vice-president; Joe Near, treasurer; and Dave Mather, secretary.

Michigan Product of the Year: Made in Plymouth

Statewide honors came to Plymouth with the Saturday announcement that a new desk-size electronic computer, engineered and manufactured at Burroughs Corporation's Michigan Manufacturing and Engineering Division in Plymouth is Michigan's product of the year.

Selection of the Wayne County entry from a group of regional winners from all areas of the state was announced by Milton G. Kendrick of Ann Arbor, chairman of the Michigan Week awards committee.

It marks the first time a product from the Plymouth Community has won top honors.

The award will be presented to Burroughs officials on Michigan Day of Michigan Week at the New York World's Fair on May 18.

LOCAL ceremonies honoring the firm are expected to be held on Friday, May 22 in Plymouth when Burroughs will be cited along with recent additions to the local industrial scene.

Kendrick said such highly diversified products as aircraft, furniture, a new non-foaming cleaning detergent, a steel wool soap pad, a revolutionary service island for dispensing gasoline, do-it-yourself aluminum awning kits, camping units and a mine drilling rig were in the finals.

The E2100 direct accounting computer was entered in the highly competitive Wayne County competition by Burroughs and was selected to represent the

Legislators to Attend Ceremonies, LBJ Unable to be Here

Last week's whirlwind tour of the nation's capital city, that took him to see virtually every important government official from this area, has borne fruit for Plymouth's Michigan Week Chairman William J. Nelson, even though the appearance of President Lyndon B. Johnson in Plymouth now seems definitely out of the question.

Philip A. Hart and 17th Congressional District Representative Martha W. Griffiths have both promised to be on hand Friday, May 22 for cornerstone laying ceremonies at Plymouth's new City Hall.

Commitments from the two legislators came as Nelson, in Washington for the 11th Annual Highway Safety Conference, called at Capitol offices in a determined effort to make Michigan Week in Plymouth an event to be remembered.

IN ADDITION to stops at the offices of Senator Hart and the two representatives, Nelson called on Senator Patrick McNamara and knocked on key doors all the way up to The White House.

However, a letter signed by Special Assistant to the President Kenneth O'Donnell, arrived here Saturday with the news that the President would be unable to attend. Referring to an earlier letter of refusal, O'Donnell wrote: "I am very sorry indeed that I must again send a disappointing reply. However, the schedule for the brief time the President will be able to spend there is very close and it is just not possible to add to it whereby he might visit Plymouth."

He sends his deep thanks for your continued interest, nonetheless, and best wishes."

THE LETTER climaxed a two month-long series of attempts to bring the chief executive here on the same day he is scheduled to speak at commencement exercises on the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor.

Nelson expressed satisfaction at the decisions of Senator Hart and Congresswoman Griffiths to attend the May 22 rites. The two legislators are expected to highlight ceremonies at Plymouth's new municipal building that will include music by the high school band and a boy scout color guard.

Other afternoon activities will include the annual open house-tea at the Dunning-Hough Library, co-sponsored by the Plymouth Women's Club, the Plymouth Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association and the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, D.A.R.

The Plymouth Historical Society Museum will remain open through the day.

Report Urges Diversification Of Township Industrial Base

The industrial base of Plymouth Township needs to be diversified, according to a preliminary economic study and report presented to the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, April 29, by township planning consultants, Waring and Johnson. The report recommends adding non-durable manufacturing plants to broaden the industrial base, providing a more stable economy and increasing employment opportunities.

The township presently has 12 industries producing durable goods primarily for metals and automotive manufacturing and five industries producing non-durable goods, according to the study. The Plymouth area is served by almost all the motor freight services with inter-state and intra-state authority and the proposed I-275 Freeway will cut across the township.

progress on the preliminary report and recommended that the completed portion of the report be formally drawn up.

THE TAX rate, $51 per thousand, compares favorably with other communities in the area, as do the rates for electric service and gas, according to the report. The labor force living in the township constitutes approximately 33% of the total population. Approximately 43% of the total employed in manufacturing and 50% in white collar occupations.

Good industrial sites are available in Plymouth Township and the area along the railroad between Joy Rd. and Ann Arbor Rd. is being promoted as an industrial development. The report states, An Industrial Development Corporation in the township is promoting the industrial park as one of its projects.

The economic study is part of an intensive two year program to show almost all facets of township life. The report is financed in part through federal funds. The township planning commission has approved the

SHORT STUFF
This week The Plymouth Mail wishes to express its appreciation to former city manager and Plymouth Historical Society official, Sidney D. Strong for his help in securing short items of local historical interest for use in The Mail.

About two months ago, Mail staffers wondered if short, less than 50-word paragraphs about Plymouth could be used in place of run-of-the-mill filler items.

After he was contacted, Strong researched and submitted 16 such items. They begin their appearance in this week's Plymouth Mail. We would welcome similar material from other persons.

A freakish accident, at his home, took the life of Dr. Paul J. Cunningham, 39, last Saturday morning.

At the time of his death, Cunningham practiced at Van Dusen Clinic, Dearborn Heights, and was the physician for the Dearborn Heights Fire and Police Department.

Historical Society President Tells History of Cornerstones

On Friday, May 22 the cornerstone will be laid for the new city hall in Plymouth. The origin of cornerstones and the ceremonies connected with them are about 6000 years old, according to Sidney Strong, president of the Plymouth Historical Society.

The corners originally were supposed to represent symbolic seeds from which the building would germinate and grow, according to Strong, and rituals noted in Bible writings kept up this custom.

Modern cornerstone rites frequently refer to the story of Jacob from Genesis, Strong explained. He said after God had appeared to Jacob in a dream, he set up his stone pillow for a pillar and poured oil on it, saying that the stone set as a pillar should be God's house. Contents of the earliest cornerstones included fragile earthen pots, holy tablets and historical records. Contents of today's cornerstones point to a future date when the building might be remodeled or torn down and include such items as newspapers, currency, books and other documents indicating life at the time of the building's construction.

Included in the cornerstone for Plymouth's new city hall will be representative samples of today's life.

In May, 1893 the Village of Plymouth bought its first fire hose. This was soon after the water mains were first laid through the town. Three two-wheel hose carts comprised our first fire department.

DISCUSSING Plymouth Family Service Agency operations at the open house held Friday afternoon at the agency's offices in Plymouth's Veterans Memorial Building were the Rev. David T. Davies of St. John's Episcopal Church; Mrs. Dolly Brenner, executive director of the Ann Arbor Family Service Bureau; Miss Anna Jung, social worker at the Plymouth Family Service Agency office; and Mrs. Marshall North, Mrs. North and Rev. Davies were members of the committee that resulted in the establishment of Family Service in Plymouth.

Detail Family Service Agency Progress Here

More than 67 applications for service have been processed and over 200 interviews conducted since Plymouth's Family Service Agency opened its offices in the Veterans Memorial Building, 173 N. Main St. on February 1.

At an open house held at the agency's newly redecorated offices Friday, social worker Miss Anna Jung outlined the work the agency has accomplished since its opening.

The majority of the cases, she said, have involved marital problems — some coming to the attention of Family Service because of troubled children in the home.

Interviews with the children have led to the discovery that, in many cases, marital problems lie at the root of their trouble.

WHENEVER possible, Miss Jung explained, she tries to see the total family since she feels that any problem affecting a member of the family affects other members too. Sometimes, she said, the person contacting the agency for help calls with the hope that counseling will lead to a change on the part of another member of the family. It may be difficult for an individual to admit that he is involved in the problem.

One of the problems in family counseling, Miss Jung said, is that persons who have read newspaper advice columns expect to receive an answer to their problem in one or two interviews.

WHEN THE answer is not immediately forthcoming she said, they become disappointed and fail to return for a continuation of the counseling program.

Many family problems originate in the childhood experience of the husband or wife, Miss Jung explained. This experience tends to mold the personalities of the two individuals and it becomes difficult to effect a change in behavior without painful probing into childhood experiences.

Among the 60 persons attending the open house were representatives from other area family service agencies, schools, clergymen and other community residents.

Persons interested in the services of the Family Service Agency may contact Miss Jung at GL 3-0890.

The "dynamic Plymouth" image needs to be further advanced, he said. Following his talk, Smith fielded questions from the floor.

SMITH urged the organization of a steering committee to go to absentee owners and

City Commission Tables Carnival Request Again

At Monday evening's special city commission meeting, commissioners approved a motion to table for the second week in a row the request of the American Legion to hold its carnival May 25-31 on the Wheel Trueing property, near the city cemetery.

Commissioners recommended that the Legion try to gain more time from the operators of the carnival. Passage of the motion followed a 40 minute debate over the pros and cons of holding a carnival close to the cemetery on both Memorial Day and Sunday and the traffic problems that might arise from persons parking along Plymouth Rd. and crossing the highway.

The location in question is the place where the circus, sponsored by Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League, was held Saturday.

BOB HEWER, chairman of the carnival, told the commission that he had not been able to find another suitable site for the carnival. He added that he was supposed to let the carnival know the Commission's decision on Tuesday.

Victory Dinner Sees Salesmen Turn the Tables

More than 75 sales representatives and their wives turned the tables on the officers of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company a week ago Monday when the company sponsored Victory dinner turned out to be a Kick-Off dinner.

More than $2.5 million worth of business was turned in at the dinner. Alexander Hamilton, largest life insurance company ever organized in the United States, was chartered to sell stock last November.

INITIAL authorized issue of stock was $6 million, but public enthusiasm created an over-subscription of almost $3 million. In less than four months, representatives of the company sold 2,182,000 shares for a total value of $8,728,000.

The banquet was originally planned as a victory celebration for the completion of stock sales and to honor outstanding sales records of the representatives. The sale of insurance policies was not scheduled to start until May 5.

However, agent enthusiasm to start selling the insurance contracts with them to the meeting. As a result, the banquet also became a kick-off celebration when policies purchased amounted to more than $2.5 million.

Charles H. Bruce, president and Robert O. Safford, vice-president in charge of marketing for the new company, standing stock salesman taking a back seat as each of the men announced insurance just sold.

There are 212 life insurance companies authorized to sell insurance in the State of Michigan. There are only 14 life insurance companies who have their home offices in the state. As a comparison, the $2.5 million worth of policies turned in at the meeting amounted to more insurance than many new companies write in their first year.

The land for the carnival should be relatively flat, free from trees, avoid heavy residential areas and have some access to water. A minimum of four acres of land is needed, according to Hewer.

Another motion was defeated and several others failed to be supported concerning the carnival location before the request was tabled.

Commissioner George Lawton moved and Jabara seconded a motion stating that permission not be granted to hold the carnival on Industrial Dr. on Memorial Day and Sunday. Voting against the motion were Commissioners James H. Ouk, Robert Smith and Arch Vallier and Mayor Wernetite.

LAWTON volunteered to help the American Legion find a more suitable place to hold their carnival.

Hewer explained to commissioners that the contract with the carnival was signed Jan. 4, but as he understands it the American Legion would not lose any money if the carnival is cancelled. He added:

It would hurt us or anyone else who might want to get a carnival in here (Plymouth) again." The American Legion approached the city with its location request when it was unable to obtain its previous location in Plymouth Township.

THE MONEY that the Legion would make from the carnival, Hewer explained would be donated to the Junior Baseball League, the city's mobile bandstand fund, child welfare and wherever else it is needed, including taking care of needy veterans and for the Legion building.

City Attorney Edward Draugelis reminded the commissioners and the American Legion representative of the city ordinance requiring that the carnival be licensed by the city, pay a $200 security deposit to insure that the location is cleaned up following the carnival and pay $15 each day the carnival is in town.

More Judges Needed, Service Club is Told

Deploping the slowness with which Wayne County Courts are forced to act and calling for additional residents judges, Circuit Judge George Bowles asked Plymouth Rotarians Friday for help. Speaking to the local service club at its regular weekly meeting, Judge Bowles detailed the explosive rise in case load in Wayne County and called upon Rotarians and The Plymouth Mail to fulfill their responsibility in molding public opinion to the need for an expanded judicial system. He said: "You have legitimate pride in your community and enough sense of oneness that working together, including the support of your local newspaper, you are able to be a community need and do things done."

Judge George E. Bowles

A PROSPECTIVE need for new physical facilities and increased demand for staff assistants were seen by the judge in addition to more judges for the circuit court. Noting that the case load in law-jury cases has increased 5,000 cases per year since 1955— or substantially, 20 per cent, Judge Bowles told Rotarians that the time from issue to trial has risen from 12 to 15 months in 1957 to well over two and a half years now. In Wayne County, he said, with 25 per cent of the state circuit judges, handles litigation for 34 per cent of the state's population— with an average of over 1,200 dispositions annually, in contrast.

"MANY STATES have a circuit judge for approximately 50,000 to 70,000 inhabitants," Judge Bowles said. "If we had, in Wayne County, one judge for every 5,000 inhabitants, we would have 15 more Circuit Judges." "Because of the increased population and caseload, even if the judicial complement were brought to present need, it would be years before our law jury docket was back to within a year from issue to trial." Predicting that by 1980 more than 260,000,000 persons will live in giant urban complexes, Judge Bowles said Wayne County population will be the 3,300,000 mark. "The face of political America will change," he said. There will be a shift of power to great city areas across the land, a shift westward up to the Mountain states and to the coast with the Middle West barely holding its own, and with the old and too easy to divorce. Judge Bowles urged an increased emphasis on pre-marital and post-marital counseling. Available facilities, such as Plymouth's Family Service Agency, should be made known to all who need help, he said. It is imperative that more marriage counselors and family counselors be trained and that standards be kept high and even enhanced. "We must, at the peril of our self-destruction, launch a vast program of community action on preparation for marriage," he concluded.

Post Office and Police Join in Urging Safety

In co-operation with the National Vehicle Safety Check Campaign this month, the Post Office Department and the Plymouth Police Department have joined in urging Plymouthites to help reduce accidents by following a few simple rules.

Chief Loren Johnson of the police department reported that there were 276 accidents in Plymouth during 1963. Investigation reveals, he said, that 50 per cent of the mishaps could have been avoided. Of the 81 persons injured, he said, more than 50 per cent could have emerged unharmed had they been wearing seat belts. The following suggestions are offered:

- (1) Check brakes at short intervals.
- (2) Bright lights can be a hazard to other drivers. Dim your lights for others.
- (3) Don't get too close to the car ahead of you. Allow a minimum of 10 feet for every 10 miles-per-hour of speed. This will allow for emergency stops.
- (4) Obey all traffic signs and speed laws.
- (5) Use directional signals when turning.
- (6) Keep windshields clean.
- (7) Guard against burned out headlights.

Urge Schoolcraft Applicants to Plan for Counseling Sessions

With its upcoming August opening fast approaching, Schoolcraft College this week urged residents of the district who have completed their applications for admission to the college to plan for individual counseling during the first two weeks of June.

The June dates do not apply to high school seniors who have already been interviewed at their schools and have selected courses. From June 1 to 12, other residents of the district will have a chance to choose classes. Counseling sessions will be held during daytime and evening hours during the first two weeks in June.

COUNSELORS will be available June 1 to 12 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Friday hours are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Non-resident applicants will be counseled at a later date. Residents are asked to phone the student affairs office at GA 7-6620 for an appointment. Appointments will not be given applicants until all parts of their applications are on file with the college. Full-time students, taking three or more courses, must send in their health blanks. All students planning to accumulate college credit must have completed their counseling tests.

VFW to Cite Terry West

Plans are afoot to honor Terry West of 9414 Rucker St. as Mayflower VFW Post 6695's "outstanding citizen" at ceremonies to be held Saturday, May 16 at the post home located at 1426 S. Mill St. in Plymouth.

West, customer relations man at the Plymouth branch of the National Bank of Detroit, was chosen unanimously from a list of candidates screened by the VFW committee.

He was cited for activities including JayCee membership, and holder of the offices of treasurer and president in the Junior Chamber, receipt of the keyman and outstanding member awards, chairman of the Fourth of July parade and celebration and editor of the JayCee newsletter.

West's other achievements include chairman of the Miss Plymouth Contest, JayCee representative for the Township Police Protection Study Group, captain of the YMCA drive, chairman of Junior Achievement drive and J.A. director, member of the finance committee of the Methodist Church, member of the community redevelopment program and business sectional captain of the Plymouth Community Fund.

West is also a member of the Air National Guard.

Evaporation from the surface of the Great Lakes is said to vary from about 20 to as much as 30 inches a year.

School Building

The bonds are expected to carry an interest rate of two or two and a half per cent. Total estimated construction cost on the Allen, Farrand and high school shop projects is $585,000. The district hopes to let contracts for the three jobs together, Fischer said.

Meeting with the architect last Wednesday, Henry said his committee went over rough drawings for the shop building and discussed size and location.

The first phase of the project, to cost an estimated $190,000 for the building and $35,000 for the architect fees and equipment, will be done on a single floor plan, Henry said.

HE SAID the addition will include an auto mechanics shop, drafting facilities and welding and electronics shops. It will be located in back of the high school adjacent to the annex and close to the Methodist Church property line.

The one-story unit won out, according to Henry, because of the additional ceiling height required for the auto mechanics shop. The second phase of the project, to be built at a later date, will include a general shop and machine shop.

The architect is presently conferring with a consultant on equipment needs for the project, Henry said.

In other action at the meeting, the board passed a resolution offering Plymouth school facilities to Schoolcraft College for its vocational institute program, heard business manager Melvin Blunk predict a $25,000 surplus for the current fiscal year and passed a resolution authorizing the annual school election on June 8.

A SPECIAL meeting of the curriculum committee was set to discuss mathematics and team teaching programs. Non-professional staff salaries will come up for discussion at a meeting of the employee relations committee to be held on May 18 and the facilities committee will meet on May 25 to discuss details of the upcoming construction programs.

Tax collections in the district have hit the 87 per cent mark, the best record in eight or nine years, Blunk said.

Plymouth Kids Enjoying Warm, Summery Days

Plymouth area youngsters have been taking advantage of warm summer-like days recently by participating in all sorts of summer time activities. Leaves sprouting on trees and a variety of flowers has further added to the feeling of "spring in the air."

Many children wandered around Plymouth with baseball bats slung over their shoulders, while others stopped on their way home from school to pick a bouquet of flowers for their mothers. Other children are going on picnics in the parks and outside romping with their friends after playing inside all winter.

Older youngsters are packing into cars and driving around town with their convertible tops down, or, at least with all their car windows rolled down.

OFF to a baseball game is Scott Arlen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arlen. Scott is a second grader.

Graduate from TOPS to KOPS

Two Plymouth residents, members of the Plymouth Pareweighters Club, were graduated from the TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly)

Club into the KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly) Club at the State TOPS Recognition Day, held in Lansing May 1-2.

fashions will be given at this week's meeting. Additional information on the club is available from Mrs. McLarty at 453-8799.

Mrs. William Perkins, of 49547 Maple, and Mrs. Albert Clark, of 736 Church St. were eligible for membership in KOPS after maintaining their desired weight for three months.

When Mrs. Perkins joined the local Pareweighters Club in April, 1963, she weighed 178 lbs. and set her goal at 133 lbs., which she reached last September. Her present weight is 128 lbs. When Mrs. Perkins was queried as to why she joined the local TOPS club, she explained that after trying on dresses for two hours she had to admit that she needed clothes two sizes larger. Then, after an objective look in the mirror she decided it was time to do something about her extra pounds.

It took Mrs. Clark two years to reach her desired weight of 128 lbs., which she reached last January. She joined the local club in January, 1962, weighing 211 lbs., to prove a point to a friend who had told her that some people were "destined" to be overweight and that nothing could be done about it.

Accompanying Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Clark to the TOPS recognition day were Mrs. Henry Johnson, of Maple Ave., Mrs. Wayne McLarty of 49555 Maple St., and Mrs. Albert Machnik, of Curtis Rd.

Mrs. Johnson, who was named queen of the local TOPS club last January after losing 57 1/2 lbs. in 11 months, will compete in the national TOPS convention in Kansas City, June 25-27. She will be accompanied to the convention by Mrs. McLarty, club leader.

The Pareweighters Club meets every Wednesday evening in room 105 at Plymouth High School, during which special programs are planned.

For the past five weeks a representative from Lane Bryant's Detroit, has conducted a charm course for members which included tips on hair styling, poise, walking, make-up and care of clothing. The final lecture on Calorie Watching? A cornucopia made from an ounce slice of bologna filled with 2 tablespoons of cottage cheese and served with a few raw carrot strips will give you less than a 100 calories for a delicious snack.

PLYMOUTH ROAD at WAYNE ROAD

PRESENTING a check to James Taylor (left), chairman for soliciting funds from businesses, during the Plymouth Symphony Society's annual drive, are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chaiken, owners of Minerva's apparel store. The drive began Monday and will continue through Saturday.

To Announce Symphony Drive Progress May 20

The Plymouth Women's League kicked off their annual membership drive for the Plymouth Symphony Society, Monday, by distributing information to the Plymouth community concerning membership in the Symphony Society. The drive will continue through Saturday, May 16.

Progress made in the drive for memberships will be announced at the annual meeting of the Symphony Society, Wednesday, May 20, at 6:30 p.m. at Junior High School, East.

More than one half of the Symphony Society's annual budget of $10,000 comes from memberships in the Society. Another 20% of the support comes from the Plymouth Community Fund; the Women's League provides another 20% and the remaining funds come from miscellaneous sources.

THE ORCHESTRA, under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, presents six free concerts during their season. Admission is charged only for the annual Pops Concerts, one of the activities sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony Women's League to help raise funds for the orchestra.

The Plymouth Symphony was founded in 1945 and gave its first public concert in 1947. Membership in the orchestra has grown from ten to more than 100. Today's orchestra members include housewives, members of the Detroit Symphony, dentists, doctors, a piano tuner, high school and college students and school teachers.

Memberships in the Plymouth Symphony Society are divided into four categories: active, $7.50; supporting, $15; sustaining, $25; and patron, $50 and up. All contributions to the symphony are tax deductible. Send your membership contributions to the Plymouth Symphony Society, P.O. Box 99, Plymouth.

Now if you're saying to yourself "That's a swell looking car, but I couldn't afford it," we'd like a quiet word with you.

That car is a Pontiac Catalina, lowest priced of the big Pontiacs. Catalina has everything that makes a Pontiac a Pontiac—the superlative style, the extra-careful construction, the big-muscled Trophy V-8 performance, the road-wedded Wide-Track ride. Everything. And, the price is very, very right. It must be. After all, you don't get into third place in sales just by selling cars to rich people. Now, how about having a quiet word with your nearest Pontiac dealer. Wide-Track Pontiac

See your authorized Pontiac dealer for a wide choice of Wide-Tracks and good used cars, too.

Behind 3-2 at the end of the field events, Plymouth reserve track team battled back but was unable to close the margin and finished its meet with Belleville Thursday on the short end of a 67-42 score.

The reserve cindermen outscored Belleville in the running events, taking first places in the half mile, the 220 and the low hurdles and winning the mile relay.

Redford Union Clobbers Trackmen 83-23

While times were up and Plymouth's varsity track team tried hard, a high-powered Redford Union team clobbered the Rocks 86-23 in a meet held here under hot spring skies Thursday.

Plymouth won only two events as visiting R.U. swept to victories in 11 others. Hurling for Plymouth, Hal Smith took first place in the shot put with a throw of 2' 10". Redford's Hamlin placed second and the Rocks' Pat Brandy took third.

In the only other event to see a Plymouth first, John Bowsman took the 440 with a time of 53 seconds flat. Boies and Julian of R.U. took second and third.

BATES of the visiting team took the high jump with a leap of 5' 11". He was followed by Plymouth's Ron Becker and R.U.'s Turek took third.

Varsity Nine Wins Two; Beats Belleville, Bentley

Plymouth's varsity baseball team swept both its games last week as the Rocks rolled over Livonia-Bentley in an away game Monday and took Belleville at home in Thursday.

Bentley, ahead 2-1 going into the sixth inning Monday, wound up on the short end of a 6-2 score as the Rocks scored three runs in the sixth and two in the seventh to take the game.

Bentley drew first blood in the first inning as they scored after the Rock catcher dropped the ball and the pitcher threw it away with two out and Livonia runners on second and third.

Plymouth's first run came on a double by Hal Kuziel with Dick Egloff on first. In the sixth inning, the Rocks scored three on singles by Cosgrove, Kisa Beth and Clark.

TWO MORE were added in the seventh on a walk and hits by Egloff and Gotro. Relief pitcher Troutman was the winner, coming on after four and a third innings.

The final tally saw Plymouth with six runs on eight hits and three errors. Bentley scored their two on four hits and two errors.

In Thursday's game with Belleville, the Rocks found themselves behind again as the visitors scored two un-learned runs in the top of the fourth on two errors and two singles.

BUT THE Rocks bounced back in the bottom of the frame to score two on two walks and singles by Gotro and Kisa Beth. Then in the fifth, Plymouth erupted for five runs.

Catcher Hal Kuziel rapped out a sharp single on the first pitch and Cal Lubi-brand smacked the next for a four-bagger, scoring himself and Kuziel.

Belleville walked the bases full and then saw Egloff and Kisa Beth hammer out singles to score three more runners. Starter John Daniel pitched the first four innings for the Rocks and was relieved by Troutman in the fifth.

WILDCAT!

In Michigan...
after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

My wife likes elephants . . . and all she wanted for Mother's Day last Sunday was an early morning look at the Circus arriving in Plymouth on Saturday. Since five a.m. is my best time of the day I drove her out to watch the Mills Brothers arrival.

Believe me, it's quite a sight and a most interesting experience. On the grounds at our arrival there were only two huge trucks and a small tent which housed the dining room facilities. One truck contained space for the dining tent, all the dining room equipment, a compact kitchen boasting a five burner stove, steam table, grill and 20 gallon coffee pot.

The other truck held a huge walk in deep freeze, water and assorted supplies to provide three meals a day for a whole week for the entire circus entourage. When you know there are 300 members in the total operation you realize what an efficient kitchen this must be to provide three full meals a day for seven days a week.

Shortly after five a.m. two small trucks arrived loaded with men who at daylight started surveying the grounds and measuring various areas which they were staking out with metal stakes. During this process an endless stream of giant trucks began arriving. They were labeled, power plant, water supply, menagerie, ticket office, etc., etc.

Before you knew it elephants were being unloaded and two were immediately pressed into service to haul huge sections of the rolled up main tent to various areas around the stakes. As this was taking place a power hammer was driving huge stakes in the ground which were to serve as anchors for the ropes which would hold the tent to the center poles.

At precisely seven o'clock a flag was raised over the kitchen tent signifying that hot cereal, french toast and sausage served with the most powerful black coffee you ever tasted were ready and you were expected "to come and get it."

At the invitation of Jack Mills we joined circus people at breakfast and found the food unusually good though cold due to the weather and the fact that it was carried from the kitchen truck into the dining room. Here, for the first time, we sat in a circus tent for a meal and found it a thrilling experience. Tables were covered with red checkered oil cloth and lined down through the center with about every kind of jam, jelly, condiment, syrup, canned milk and sugar that you might desire.

Dishes and silver were at the end of each table and you set your own place but waiters did an efficient job of bringing your food and you were entitled to all you could eat. We learned circus meals are similar to any you might buy in any good restaurant and consist of hearty foods, meats, fruits and vegetable.

Saturday's menu was the breakfast I mentioned, for lunch cold cuts and macaroni and cheese, bread, butter and dessert and dinner was roast beef, vegetable, salad, mashed potatoes with gravy, bread, butter and dessert.

Directly after the four o'clock dinner hour and about by five p.m. the whole kitchen section was on its way from Plymouth to Fenton where, during the night, they would again set up their kitchen and dining room to be ready to serve Sunday morning breakfast at seven.

Mills Brothers Circus is the only circus which does not perform on Sunday so that is the day when, at eleven o'clock, after the tents are up and ready and animals are fed, a huge Sunday dinner is served to the help. After dinner most of the personnel takes off for local hotels, motels, rooms or what have you for their weekly bath and extra long rest. Since all of the usual morning work which would be done on Monday was done on Sunday employees have a chance to sleep a few hours extra on Monday morning.

The show travels six months and two days a year and their time to sleep is limited with their long daily schedule but as one of the performers, who also helps with the other work, put it, we work hard in the summer but we sleep all winter.

By the time you have finished your breakfast, say 7:45, you leave the dining room to find the big top is up and within another couple of hours the grounds will be in readiness for the two o'clock show.

The working elephants who have now hauled the canvas to its various positioning spots and have pulled up the main center poles are now returned to their watering, cleaning and feeding area. By this time some 50 huge trucks are on the job and countless trailers parked on the grounds holding sleeping entertainers who catch their forty winks sleeping between moves.

As soon as lunch is served some crew members depart for the next stop on their route where arrangements are made for water, power and supplies for the Circus when it arrives there the next morning.

Two shows are performed, the one at two and one at eight. The main tent will seat slightly over 3,000 and during its summer activity it usually is filled to capacity. Weather is the only dimming factor of circus life and rain, cold weather and winds are, of course, the most predominate deterrents. In fact, it wasn't easy to get the operation under way here with the high winds of last Saturday. Three dining tables were blown over and several dishes broken while we were in the dining tent. But, in spite of the discomforts of this rugged life, Circus people love this daily excitement.

Surprising as it may seem, many families travel with their school age children and regular school sessions are held in their trailers each day. A large percentage of the Circus personnel consists of people who have traveled for years doing the various jobs necessary to make this production possible, stated Mr. Mills, but the whole secret in keeping a Circus together and on the road is the having a first class chef in the kitchen. "If we can provide good food in huge quantities we can keep our help more than satisfied, but, if we have a poor chef within a week we'll be short handed," he said.

Watching the show being put together was as interesting as seeing the performance and working as hard as any member of the Circus staff was Junior League Baseball president, Joe Bida, who was on hand to provide the facilities the Circus needed for its benefit performance in Plymouth.

Our Junior baseball players should be proud of their League's president because he worked from sun-up till the last truck left here for Fenton long after midnight to make this effort a worthwhile one for the benefit of their league. We're glad the promotion paid off so well.

Nelson's Unselfish Effort Not in Vain

Off to Washington last week to invite government officials, up to and including President Lyndon B. Johnson to Plymouth for cornerstone ceremonies at the city's new City Hall, Michigan Week Chairman William J. Nelson made every contact even remotely connected with getting L.B.J. to visit Plymouth during his brief May 22 stopover in Michigan.

monies; and based on reception to his requests, he felt a possibility remained that the chief executive would visit here.

But Saturday's letter from Presidential Assistant Kenneth O'Donnell makes it clear that President Johnson won't be able to attend.

With a city hall financed in part by federal funds, and being dedicated in a traditionally Republican community, it seemed highly possible that Johnson, in an election year, would take advantage of the opportunity to appear here.

But then there's that old phrase about the best laid plans of mice and men. The Plymouth Mail shares Nelson's disappointment at Johnson's inability to come to Plymouth; it's been a long time since this community saw a President.

But we think Plymouth's Michigan Week Chairman deserves highest commendation for his efforts. His success in luring Senator Hart and Congresswoman Griffiths here is something of a feat in itself. Bill Nelson should be praised for his unselfish campaign to make this year's Michigan Week celebration a memorable one. We think he's doing a bang-up job.

A former press secretary for Michigan Senator Philip A. Hart, Nelson spoke to Hart and Congresswoman Martha W. Griffiths, stopped at the offices of Senator Patrick McNamara and Congressman - at - Large Neil Staebler and talked to countless other government personalities.

Armed with invitations from the City of Plymouth and area clubs and organizations, and carrying photographs of the new city hall provided by The Plymouth Mail, Nelson conducted a sales campaign worthy of any highly paid public relations man—and remarkable in view of the fact that he is contributing his services to the city without charge.

When he left the nation's capitol to return to Plymouth, Nelson had secured promises from both Senator Hart and Congresswoman Griffiths to be present for the May 22 cere-

Judge Burdick Speaks at May 5 Kiwanis Meeting

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge, Benjamin D. Burdick was guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club May 5 meeting at Lofy's.

Arbor, will be May 19. Dinner will be served at 6:45 p.m. May 26 will be International Night and Plymouth will exchange club presidents with Garden City.

"Observe the Law — Key to Order, Justice and Freedom" was Burdick's topic.

Burdick told the Kiwanians in conclusion that the Court-house, in the village or the Supreme Court, must remain the symbol of justice and everyone has the duty to remove the settlement of disputes from streets to the tribunals. He added that decisions, lawfully reached, should be abided by.

In his speech, Burdick explained that the basic difference between rule of law and the words liberty and law. Under our law, he explained, liberty is exercised in recognition of the rights of others, thus enabling us to live together in orderly peace and freedom. He also stated that the communists flout their military might while the United States pays its tribute to the rule of law.

Burdick also explained to the Kiwanians that the Circuit Court operates under the Blind assignment system, that is, cases on the docket cannot be directed to a certain judge.

Burdick was appointed to the circuit court by Governor George Romney. Prior to his appointment, Burdick practiced law for 35 years.

Burdick also explained to the Kiwanians that the Circuit Court operates under the Blind assignment system, that is, cases on the docket cannot be directed to a certain judge.

"Law is the strongest link between man and freedom and by strengthening the rule of law we strengthen freedom and justice in our own country and contribute by example to the goal of justice under law for all mankind," Burdick said.

Burdick also explained to the Kiwanians that the Circuit Court operates under the Blind assignment system, that is, cases on the docket cannot be directed to a certain judge.

In order to realize equal justice under law which should be a way of life each person must practice it in their relationships with others and cultivate a respect for it

Burdick also explained to the Kiwanians that the Circuit Court operates under the Blind assignment system, that is, cases on the docket cannot be directed to a certain judge.

Michigan Week

Next week: "MICHIGAN WEEK." Michigan Bell joins other organizations and individuals in saluting our great state. Your telephone company plays a substantial part in the growing prosperity of Michigan. In addition to providing communications so necessary to business, Michigan Bell is a customer of many other companies in Michigan. Last year, for example, Michigan Bell and Western Electric Company, the Bell System's manufacturing and supply unit, bought more than $57,000,000 worth of products and services from firms located throughout the state.

COMING UP SOON:

Graduations... weddings... Father's Day—and gift-giving problems—ahead. Whatever the occasion, your Michigan Bell business office can help with suggestions. For example, a Princess® phone for the bride's new home. Or an extension phone for Dad in his workshop. And for that June graduate, a bedroom extension phone would be a welcome surprise. Why not call our business office and let us help you with your list?

What happened to the clippings?

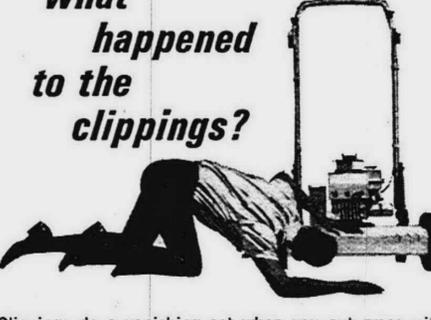

Clippings do a vanishing act when you cut grass with Bolens Orbit-Air. No grass-catcher, either. Grass is cut and re-cut within the chamber until it's too small to see. The fine cut particles are blown deep into lawn, forming a moisture-retaining mulch. Keeps your grass greener. Bolens Orbit-Air is safe, too. Completely enclosed blade can't "hurl" objects.

Dessert of Distinction

The simplicity of fruit becomes dessert elegance when the fruit is fresh pears and the cheese is sharp cheddar. With the abundance of summer harvest past, it is indeed a pleasant surprise to find the luxurious fresh pears on the market. Their freshness at the time fresh fruit are limited, makes them doubly appealing. The flavor combination of fresh pears and cheese is one for the delight of epicures and the recommendation of gourmets.

A few of the many cheeses that complement pears are: Gouda, Roquefort

Pear Varieties
First of the pear varieties on the market is the BOSQ. Its russet color, tapering neck and symmetrical body distinguish it. Although exceptionally fine for baking and for pies, the Bosq is an all-purpose pear due to its tender, spicy sweet flesh. October through February is the season for Bosq pears.
The fragrant juicy and buttery sweet ANJOU is on the market from October through May. Its smooth, thin skin encloses a fine-grained snowy, white flesh that is delectable for out-of-hand eating as well as being the most luxurious pear. Their season is short, they are usually large and their flavor and texture are magnificent. Available from October through February, they are prized for Christmas gift giving.
Whether used for snacking, a gourmet dessert, to fill lunchboxes or "baked into" good things of all kinds, fresh winter pears fill a delightful place in our menus.

Austin, Tex. was laid out, "Domino" means "black mask" in 1838 as Waterloo.

Light from the most distant stars yet photographed takes about 500 million years to reach the earth.
