

Have Fun Kids! It's Later Than You Think

Plymouth Sights Record 6,050 School Enrollment

Enjoy yourself. Kids, the vacation days are about over and the school bells will sound on Thursday, Sept. 10 calling all back to classes. So take advantage of the time left, it's later than you think.

is Plymouth School Supt. Russell Isibster who is making plans for the largest enrollment in the school district's history. The total is expected to soar to an all-time peak of 6,050 by the end of the first week.

Isibster and Assistant Supt. Melvin Blunk, in charge of business, have been working on bus schedules, teaching plans and all the other things that go with an opening for the past seven weeks—they are sure they have everything in order.

They have to be sure for the Plymouth schools will have an enrollment that's seven per cent higher than the previous record of 5,650 of last June.

Matter of fact, additions already are under way at Far-rand and Allen schools to take care of the increases in the elementary grades and the high school will be expanded in another year for the anticipated hike in attendance there.

Basing his figures on the normal growth of the community, Blunt estimated there'll be 400 more students attending Plymouth schools this fall than during the last school year.

This total includes the 50 expected to come in from Lapham School district in Washtenaw County when voters there approve annexation on Monday, Sept. 14.

Blunk, who prides himself on his estimates, calmly admits that he could be wrong this time. There has been a tremendous growth in the Allen district and there is a strong possibility of an unexpected population outburst in other sections.

Blunk estimated the senior high will creep up to a total of 1,300 (this figure also includes the special education classes) (Continued on Page 2)

Paul Reifel Is New Manager of First Federal

Announcement of the appointment of Paul W. Reifel as manager of the Plymouth Branch of First Federal Savings of Detroit was made Monday by Hans Gehrke, Jr., president of First Federal, Michigan's largest savings and loan association.

At the same time Gehrke announced that Perry Richwine, who has headed the branch for 11 years, had retired Sept. 1.

Reifel, a native of Pioneer, O., came to Detroit in 1942 and joined First Federal at its downtown headquarters eight years ago. Later, he was promoted to assistant manager of the Highland Park Branch, where he remained three years until his appointment, five years ago, to the management of the Warren-Woodmont Branch in Detroit.

Reifel's educational background includes three years at the University of Michigan School of Business Administration. He has also completed real-estate courses in U. of M.'s extension program.

Mr. and Mrs. Reifel are residents of Northwest Detroit. Richwine has been a leader in community affairs at Plymouth all of his adult life. He was born in a house that stood on the site of the present First Federal Plymouth office. Richwine has been a practicing attorney since 1928, having become interested in savings and loan work two years before that.

He became manager of the First Federal branch and a First Federal vice president when Plymouth Federal Savings, with which he had been identified since the 1930's, (Continued on Page 2)

45 New Names on Faculty

There'll be 45 new names and faces on the Plymouth Community School system teaching staff when students report for the first day of classes on Thursday, Sept. 10.

The newcomers range all the way from the kindergarten to the high school, according to Supt. Russell Isibster, who indicated he had completed the 1964-65 staff only a few days ago. Several contracts were slow in coming back and Isibster could not officially include the names on the staff until the pact had been signed.

The complete list of new teachers by schools:

Engineers' Goof Threatens Work on Reservoir Project

Plymouth's Council learned Monday night in a special meeting, that the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson had goofed in taking soil borings and staking the site for the new reservoir and construction may be delayed for an undetermined time.

Pre-Load Corp., of Westbury, N. Y., which has the contract ran into a variation of the sub-surface strata.

In fact, it appeared for a long time as if the contractor had run into a quicksand situation although this was denied by representatives of J&A at Monday's session.

It is quicksand that has caused so much trouble in excavations in Plymouth Township and brought grief to at least three contractors.

Phil Hampton, consultant for J&A on the reservoir, told the Commissioners his firm had four additional oil borings made a week ago by the Michigan Drilling Company.

"Their report was received late last week," said Hampton. "One of the borings indicates an erratic pocket condition of such a nature that we feel further borings must be made before we can recommend corrective measures, if any are required."

"We have requested two more borings and have been promised a report within a few days. We are making every effort to resolve this situation as rapidly as possible and will keep the Commission informed of developments."

Hampton promised to have a report back to the Commission in time for the first meeting in September on Tuesday.

The "goof" came early in work on the project when borings were made on a site originally selected by the Commission. However, the site was changed some 300 feet away and no new borings were made in that area.

Then to add a bit more confusion, the J&A crew staked out the site at the spot originally selected—not the final choice and that's where the contractor began putting in the deep concrete base for the reservoir.

Prospect of a fourth new industry in the City's Industrial Park on Plymouth Road was seen with the action of the Commission in ordering City Manager Albert Glassford to advertise for bids on the three and a half acres adjacent to the RCA plant.

Commissioners were mum about the new industry but indicated negotiations had progressed to the point where it was necessary to advertise for bids so that contracts may be signed within the next two weeks to a month.

Commissioner Arch Vallier asked the Council to make a study of the feasibility of hav-

Schoolcraft Opens To 1,150 Students

Classroom bells sounded and echoed over the still incomplete campus of Schoolcraft College, located at the intersection of Haggerty and W. Seven Mile Roads in Livonia, promptly at 7:40 a.m. Monday, and Michigan's newest community college swung into activities for the first time.

Thus higher education, which had been a dream since the first moves towards a community college were made in 1957, officially started in the district which includes five communities: Livonia, Plymouth, Garden City, Clarenceville and Northville.

And before the bells were stilled, the first of the 1,150 day students were moving into classrooms to start studies in the two-year college.

College President Dr. Eric Bradner and his associates on the administrative staff had estimated the opening attendance at more than 1,100 day students with the possibility that it would reach 1,200.

As of Monday afternoon, the total had reached 1,150 and Dr. Bradner predicts it will hit 1,175 before the end of the week.

"Every single student from the college district who indicated a desire to attend Schoolcraft was placed in classes," he said. "Of course those who were late in registering may not have been admitted to all of the courses they desired—but every single one is in college and attending classes."

"We anticipated additional enrollment before the end of the week and expect many requests for schedule changes before the classes settle down to a normal routine."

"This is the day of the firsts—the first faculty, first students, first administration and we're proud of the way everything progressed on opening day."

Meanwhile registrations are still being accepted for evening classes where the enrollment already is around 900 and an additional 400 are anticipated before the end of the week.

Dell Reed, director of the

STILL GETTING CALLS

"Sold the bike the first day. At least 35 calls. The Observer Want Ads certainly get astounding results," commented Mrs. Paul Lentz of Chesterbrook in Farmington.

In the Legislature and in this column, we've argued for some time that a minimum of 17 years of age was better than the present law of 16 for the issuance of the first full driver's license.

In recent correspondence with Judge Jim Lincoln of the juvenile division of Wayne County Probate Court, he offers a thought which is new to us.

Judge Lincoln is researching the idea of making the first license granted a youth valid only for 18 months, rather than the regular three years. Argues the Judge:

"The youth would be out of Juvenile Court for approximately six months before his license expired. If he (Continued on Page 36)

Plymouth YMCA To Start Membership Drive Sept. 14

The Plymouth Y.M.C.A. will hold its annual membership and fund-raising drive for the period of Sept. 14 through Sept. 26 with the theme "Partnership with Youth—a Sound Community Investment."

The "Y" purpose is to help young people achieve physical, mental and spiritual fitness and develop high qualities of character and Christian citizenship. It serves all, without regard to race, creed, or economic status.

The programs which are now being carried on have touched thousands of youth over the three years the Y has been in existence. With the influx of new families into the city and township, the Board of Directors are much aware that the present program must be expanded to serve the Y.M.C.A.-age boys and girls.

The Board has approved a budget of $14,000 for 1964-65. It gives its time, talents and money to help provide a program for high school youth through the Hi-Y Club which helps members deal with personal problems and concerns, trains its members to become good leaders and give them experiences in responsible citizenship and community services.

The Indian Guide's purpose is to develop the beginnings of a true and lasting comradeship between boys and their fathers at an age when a boy thinks his dad is the greatest man in the world. It is the only nationally organized father-son program which does this.

Because of some interested citizens and service clubs in the community, 46 junior high youths had a chance to go camping, canoeing, and live in the north woods for a week.

The summer program has been under the direction of Tom Workman and Mike Hoben, also the director of the youth employment program, which has an enrollment of over 1,100 applicants.

Another program sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. which was enthusiastically received, was the Sex Education Program for junior high youth and their parents. This was conducted by interested local residents.

Lapham To Pay Full Tax Share If Annexation Is OK'd

The Plymouth School district will receive the same pro rata share for the levy of taxes for the 1964 tax year from electors in Lapham district that it does from the remainder of the district if voters there approve annexation in the Sept. 14 special election.

That was the word received by Supt. Russell Isbister from George Schutt, Consultant School Organization, Department of Public Instruction, in Lansing in answer to a letter.

The question arose when the Plymouth School Board learned that Lapham planned on voting for annexation in order to acquire school facilities for some 50 students in that area — ranging from kindergarten through Grade 12.

The Plymouth Board had set the tax rate for the school district at 23.71 mills prior to Sept. 1 as required by state law — then wondered what would happen if Lapham had a much lower tax rate and voted for the annexation two weeks later on Sept. 14.

Schutt reported to Isbister: "Yes, if the electors of the Lapham Corners District decide by affirmative vote on Sept. 14 to divide their district they will automatically assume their pro rata share of all tax levies of the respective annexing districts, including the levies for the 1964 tax year, in accordance with provisions of the state acts."

The Plymouth Board already has indicated it will accept the 50 students, 27 more than a year ago when 23 attended the Plymouth schools on a tuition basis.

However, Supt. Isbister is making plans now to accept the additional pupils after the election.

The Plymouth Board meets Monday, Sept. 14 and will await the outcome of the election before officially taking action.

However, members already know from an opinion handed down by Attorney William Sempliner, counsel for the Board, that there isn't anything they can do about the annexation if Lapham voters approve.

So, it appears as if they'll go through the motions of accepting and then order Supt. Isbister to make arrangements to enroll all of the 50 students for classes on the following day.

contrasted to 1,171 at the end of last year's school term.

Junior High East is expected to have 885 and Junior High West 865, making the total for the secondary schools at 2,050.

The remaining 3,000 youngsters will be in grades Kindergarten through Grade 5, since all of the sixth graders will attend Junior High West this year.

Blunk sights an increase in each of the elementary schools but is still awaiting a final count from Lapham District to determine whether he is right in his predictions or has missed.

While the students are enjoying the final days of the vacation, the teachers and administrative staff will hold a pre-school conference Tuesday, Sept. 8 and then conferences at the individual schools on Wednesday, Sept. 9 to make final plans for the start of classes on Sept. 10.

The Pre-School conference will be held at the high school and will include a coffee klatch at 8 a.m. and a concert by the Plymouth High band, under the direction of James Griffith at 8:45 a.m.

Greetings will be extended to the teachers by Board President Gerald Fischer, Supt. Russell Isbister and John Hoben, president of the Plymouth Education Association, in a program beginning at 9:05.

The principal address of the conference will be given by Dr. Stanley Dimond, professor of Education at the University of Michigan, who will talk on "The Challenge to Teaching Children in Today's World."

The School Board will host a luncheon at noon in the cafeteria after which teachers will attend staff meetings in the various schools.

Wednesday morning, Sept. 8 will be devoted to conferences and work scheduled in the various schools.

A tour of the community, for new teachers only, has been arranged for the afternoon starting at 2:30 under the direction of Robert Houghson, Director of Transportation.

A reception will be held for the new teachers at 3:30 in the Mayflower Hotel when members of the School Board and of the administration staff will be on hand to greet and welcome the new staff members.

Then the teachers will gird for the opening of school on the following day when the youngsters, fresh and wild from the summer vacation, check in to start classes.

The complete breakdown of the anticipated enrollment for each school in the district follows:

Allen	451
Bird	500
Farrand	590
Gallimore	450
Smith	500
Starkweather	430
Truesdell	80
Junior High West	885
Junior High East	865
Senior High	1,300

merged with First Federal Savings of Detroit in 1953.

Among his many positions of trust and leadership in Plymouth, Richwine has served as a member of the City Charter Commission, mayor of Plymouth, president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and president of the Rotary Club.

In announcing Richwine's retirement, Gehrke said:

"Perry Richwine has been a stalwart in the First Federal Savings organization, as he has been in the community life of the Plymouth area. We can only wish that he will find new measures of contentment and happiness as he retires from our group."

"Paul Reifel has made a fine record for himself in Highland Park and at our Warren-Woodmont office," Gehrke added, "and we feel he will become a worthy successor to Richwine in serving the people of Plymouth and vicinity."

from 6:30 to 8:30 Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Dr. Bradner and Reed had estimated the evening school enrollment would reach 1,000 for the opening term but have revised that figure now to more than 1,300.

"And that," pointed out Dr. Bradner, "gives up a total enrollment of close to 2,500 for our first semester. That's far beyond our expectations when we were planning the buildings for the first year some 15 months ago."

"With the additional buildings that will be started in the near future, we believe the enrollment will climb to more than 4,000 in another year and possible go as high as 10,000 to 12,000 when the campus is completed."

Five-Year-Old Runs Into Side of Moving Auto

Five-year-old Kevin Barber, 646 Maple St., Plymouth, learned the hard way that one should look both ways before darting into the street.

Kevin raced into the street just as a car driven by 16-year-old David Sheets, of Perry, went by. David heard a thump and looked back to see a youngster scrambling back to his feet.

David stopped immediately and then discovered Kevin had run into the side of the moving vehicle. Fortunately he wasn't hurt but David was still shaking from the scare when he drove away after Plymouth Police had investigated the accident.

Men of character admit their faults to themselves and take steps to correct them.

The Plymouth Board meets Monday, Sept. 14 and will await the outcome of the election before officially taking action.

However, members already know from an opinion handed down by Attorney William Sempliner, counsel for the Board, that there isn't anything they can do about the annexation if Lapham voters approve.

—Seeing them re-assemble the bleachers on the visitor's side of the high school football field.

—Washing that white baseball uniform for the last time and sending it over to the coach, Joe Humphries.

—The leaves on a few precocious maples around town turning already (they'll be beautiful later on—especially on Church Street).

—The Berridges' sunflower now in full bloom—must be over 12 feet tall.

Grate a Little Nutmeg

Have you had a piece of Elderberry pie lately? Gram Keith was a wonderful cook and her recipe reads simply: "Berries: 2 tbs vinegar; 2 cups sugar; 1 tbs. tapioca; little salt."

No temperature is mentioned—no cooking time. Can't remember seeing elderberries anywhere around here, but if I could find some I'd try Gram's recipe. Every summer should include at least one piece of flaky-crust-ed elderberry pie.

600 Dozen Cookies?

Yes, 600 dozen cookies is the number the Grange ladies sold last year at the Fall Festival—and they could have sold many more. Mrs. Louise Tritton is chairman of this year's sale. One of the men suggested that they make twice as many this year—over in a venture of this sort oven-space is a problem, so they promised to make as many as they can.

They make four kinds—the Grange sugar cookie recipe is used; Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore's mother's recipe is used for the old-fashioned molasses cookies and they also make oatmeal chocolate chip and oatmeal raisin. Mrs. Tritton's oatmeal chocolate chip recipe came from a church in Ohio.

How do they bake that many cookies? The sugar cookies and the old-fashioned molasses cookies are baked at the Grange Hall while the oatmeal varieties are baked in private homes. Their stand will be right where it was last year—between the Melody House and the First Federal Savings building.

Mrs. Russell Cook and her committee of ladies from the Grange are in charge of refreshments at the Antique Show and sale. They will serve sandwiches and coffee during the three-day show.

Isn't that marvelous? And to think they're getting ready for their bazaar too. It will be early in October.

Let Us Be Grateful Dept.

A very belated vote of thanks goes to the Territorial Legislature of 1825. According to local historian Karl Starkweather the first settlers of this community had decided it was time they had a name.

They had a meeting out at the Tibbatts brothers' farm and the consensus of opinion was that no finer name could be found than "Le Roy." The above-mentioned Michigan Territorial Legislature did not approve and it was not until two years later that "Plymouth" became the official title.

Seems to me it wouldn't be much fun working for the Le Roy Fall Festival. What would be the architectural theme of a town named Le Roy? Surely there never would have been a Le Roy Symphony Orchestra. Let us be grateful.

New Integrated Nursery Draws Mixed Reactions

Both positive and negative reaction was reported this week by backers of a racially integrated nursery school, following disclosure of plans for the Livonia community project.

Three officers of the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations said they had received several "obscene and threatening" calls, but that many residents had telephoned to offer praise for the project, since it was made public two weeks ago. The nursery unit, which will include about two dozen white and Negro youngsters, is being operated by Livonia Nursery, Inc., a state-licensed nursery which has operated in the city for 12 years.

Describing the background of the nursery, Mrs. Jean Paluzzi, public relations chairman of the Human Relations group, said, "We had a few members of our group who felt they wanted their children to meet Negro youngsters. Rev. Sale, our chairman, approached the Livonia Nursery, Inc., which said it was willing to undertake an integrated unit as a project, and this fact has been publicized in our newsletter to members.

"The Livonia Nursery, Inc., is state-licensed and has operated for a dozen years in Livonia. It rents facilities at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church for its schools."

"The program, as it now stands," she said, "is that the nursery unit will meet Tuesday and Thursday from 1 to 3 p.m."

Mrs. Paluzzi said about 17 applications for enrollment in the nursery have been received so far, from both Livonia and Inkster. "Announcements of the nursery were circulated in the Inkster community through Smith Chapel, a local church there, and the Annapolis Improvement Association," Mrs. Paluzzi said.

Dues for parents whose youngsters are enrolled in the nursery are $8 monthly, with the mother expected to participate in one class a month as a teacher's assistant, Mrs. Paluzzi said.

There are openings for four four-man teams in a Mixed League that will open its season Friday, Sept. 11, at the new Country Lanes on Nine Mile Road in Farmington.

That was the statement of Mrs. Olive Paddon, serving as secretary of the new loop, which includes men and women from the Farmington, Livonia and Redford Township areas.

The 16-team league is open to bowlers of all skills with full handicap.

If interested, please contact Mrs. Paddon at GR 4-9221.

Safety Program at Livonia Chevrolet Being Extended Through Division

New Safety Program is in full swing at the Chevrolet Spring & Bumper Plant at 13000 Eckles Road in Livonia, a program not only encouraging employe safety in the plant, but safety at home, at play and on the highway—for the entire family.

Jimmy Mucciante of Livonia and Jennie Bury of Detroit are winners of bicycles in the first period.

The program encompasses a Slogan-Poster Contest for hourly employe's children and a Home—Telephone Contest for the family.

Last month children of plant employes received, through the mail, notification of a slogan-poster contest to be held at the plant. Shortly after, all employe families received a personal letter from Plant Manager, T. J. Carroll, informing them of the forthcoming contest and hinting of "something new in the way of campaign directors."

In reference to the program, Carroll said, "We here at Chevrolet—Livonia have always enjoyed a good safety record. This parallels National Safety Council figures which reveal that each year employes are safer at work than they are off the job."

Beginning July 1, the children received a poster material kit with a personal letter from the campaign director Chevy—Safe. The kit included poster paper, crayons, sample posters, a booklet pictorial emphasizing safety at home and work, and contest rules with an entry number.

The children were encouraged to enlist the services of all members of the family in drawing their posters. Poster entries are returned to the plant by the dads and deposited in a specially designed Slogan-Poster Display Board.

Upon receipt of posters, Chevy—Safe mailed safety inspector badges and Chevy—Safe decals to the children with a membership in the Chevy—Safe Home Inspectors Club.

A panel of judges including State Rep. Paul Chandler; Assistant Superintendent of Livonia Schools Ron Upton; Livonia Safety Director Joel LaBo; and Kenneth Fisher, Director of Public Safety, City of Plymouth, reviewed over 400 safety slogan posters. After long deliberations the Committee selected two posters and the contest was declared a tie. Last Wednesday Jimmy and Jennie were luncheon guests at the plant and each received a new Schwinn bicycle of their choice.

Winning posters and slogans are currently being displayed throughout the plant. After the new winning entries have been posted five days, the plant Safety Department will draw telephone numbers of plant employes and call the homes.

If the family can repeat the Safety Slogan of the Month, they will receive their choice of prizes displayed on the Display Board. Prizes include electric clocks, toaster-broilers, Bar-B-Q Sets, Steak Knives, Bathroom Scales, and Corningware. If the family cannot repeat the slogan a consolation prize is awarded.

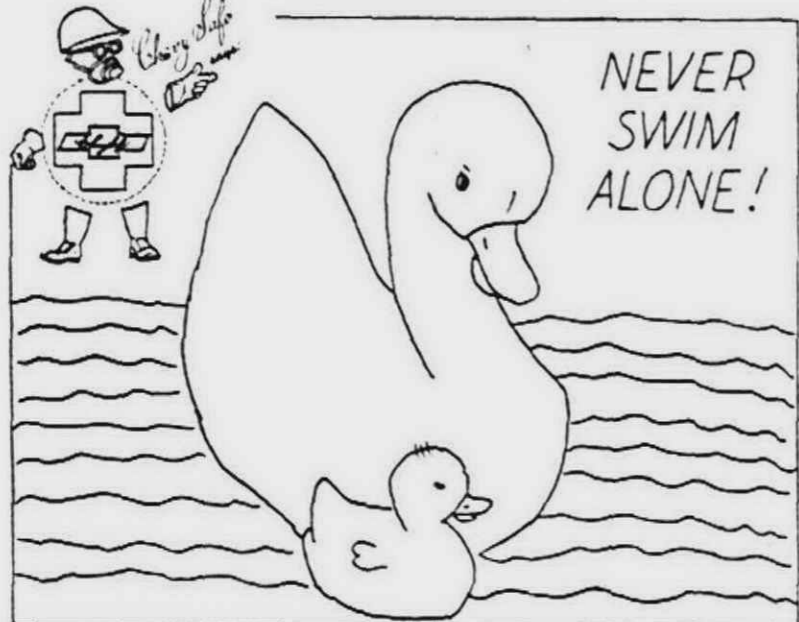

The Slogan-Poster Contest is being conducted by the Personnel Department's Safety Section. G. Nicholas, Safety Director, revealed the program has received tremendous reception by the employes and their families.

"Over 200 entries were submitted during the first two weeks and the daily count keeps mounting." Each month for five months all safety posters will be reviewed by the panel of judges and a new winner selected.

A further honor was bestowed on Chevrolet—Livonia when it was announced that the Chevy Safe Program will be presented at the General Motors 25th annual Safety Conference this October in Chicago.

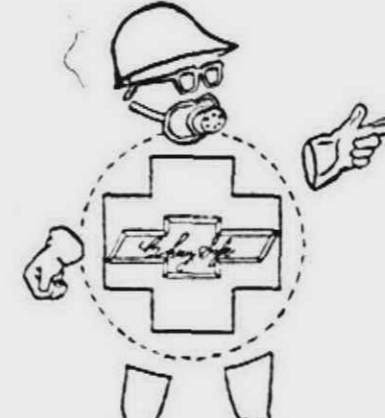

AL MUCCIANTE, of Livonia; Jimmie Mucciante (winner); Mel Troyer, of Plymouth; Ray Arnold of Plymouth, Don McCue of Birmingham, Marion Bury of Detroit, Ed Arens of Garden City, Jennie Bury (winner), and Owen McKenny of Plymouth.

ONE OF THE co-winners of new Schwinn bicycles in Chevrolet Spring and Bumper's new safety contest for sons and daughters of employes was this poster about "Never Swim Alone" by Jennie Bury of Detroit.

"KEEP TOOLS SHARP" was part of the warning from Jimmy Mucciante in the winning poster he submitted in a new safety contest at Chevrolet Spring and Bumper in Livonia for youngsters of employes. Jimmy wins a Schwinn bike.

"CHEVY SAFE" is the name of the little fellow who is used as a familiar trademark for the unique new safety contest for employes' youngsters at Chevrolet Spring and Bumper in Livonia. The program will be extended throughout the Chevrolet Division.

Prominent Plymouthite Dies At 54

Lee Coolman, 54, of 979 Palmer, Plymouth, prominent Kiwanian and longtime part manager for Berry Pontiac Motor Sales, died Monday night in Ridgewood Hospital following a short illness.

Coolman was stricken two weeks ago and was on the critical list for the past seven days. He was born April 10, 1910, a son of Sidney and Maude Price Coolman. He had resided in Plymouth since 1937, moving there from Ludington. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and a member of the Session and Board of Deacons. He was past commander of Mayflower Post 6695 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a longtime member of the outstanding drill team.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Coolman; two sisters, Mrs. Arnold Conn of Lansing and Mrs. Charles Titus of Muskegon; and three brothers, Robert of Northville, Lloyd of Ludington and Harold of Ann Arbor.

Services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 in the Presbyterian Church with arrangements by Schrader Funeral Home where the body rested in state. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery in Ludington.

Your vote makes a difference. In the 1960 presidential campaign, Kennedy defeated Nixon by 1/10 of one per cent more of the total popular vote. Kennedy carried 303 electoral votes from 23 states, while Nixon had 219 votes from 26 states. Had 4,500 voters in Illinois and 28,000 voters in Texas changed their votes, Nixon would have become president. The combined sum of both these states is 52 electoral votes.

Mike Danny David Margo

"The small fry took over this column this week, speaking their pieces on heading back to the classroom. In answer to the question, 'What do you look forward to most in going back to school this fall?', youngsters from Redford, Livonia and Farmington left their play long enough to tell Observer reporters—

"Boys and arithmetic," replied Margo Small, 9½, 31455 Alabama, Livonia. "They're my favorites." Margo will be a fourth grade student at Grant School.

Danny Smith, 10, 8921 LeVerne, Redford Township, said, "I like to run in school—on the track and in gym activities. I like math too, because I like to work with numbers. Teachers? Well, yeah, they're OK. I don't like music, though, because I'm not a good singer." Danny is a fifth grader at Jefferson School.

David Trotter, 12, a seventh grader at Farmington's Junior High School, said, "I want to dissect animals in science class. I never have before. I also want to try out for basketball in gym." Dave lives at 21670 Tulane in Farmington Township.

U-M Lists Plymouth In Consumer Survey

The Plymouth community, including the City and Township and surrounding area, will be included in the second phase of a continuing study of the financial situation of consumers by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research.

The survey will be undertaken in September and interviews will be conducted in the area as well as in the cities of Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, St. Louis and Washington and their suburbs.

This phase will consist of reinterviews with persons who were first questioned in June.

A primary concern of the study is consumer response to government financial measures, such as the tax cut.

Topics to be considered are changes in income, financial assets, debts, and major discretionary transactions.

The interviews are part of a two-year project carried out in cooperation with the Brookings Institute and the Council of Economic Advisers to the President.

Professors George Katona and Eva L.

Mueller will direct the study for the Survey Research Center. Interviews with a representative sample of the consumer households across the nation will be conducted by the SRC field staff.

Two Livonia Couples Win World's Fair Trip

Two Livonia couples were named winners of all-expense paid trips to the World's Fair in New York last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Russeau, 9945 Hillcrest, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilson, 30001 Hathaway, were given the awards by a soft drink firm. Both Russeau and Wilson were among the firm's "top salesmen" and thus qualified for the prizes.

Both couples will travel to the fair early this month.

The prizes were awarded based on "outstanding sales and merchandising activities in competition with more than 80 other salesmen."

Greenfield Village Historical Monument

In 35 years, the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village has become one of the nation's top tourist attractions. Located in Dearborn near the Ford Rouge Plant, 15 miles from downtown Detroit, the outdoor village covers 260 acres and the nearby indoor museum an additional 100 acres.

Founded in 1929 by automotive pioneer Henry Ford, both are non-profit, educational institutions dedicated to the preservation and display of historically significant technological, educational and artistic Americana.

The museum is divided into several sections, including American decorative arts, transportation, power and agriculture.

The decorative arts collection includes furniture, clocks, pewter, textiles, ceramics, glass and silver. The latter includes pieces by Revolutionary patriot Paul Revere. A parlor set from Abraham Lincoln's home in Springfield, Illinois, is among the furniture.

Nearby is a street of 22 early American shops. Included here are those showing how candles, drugs, guns, hats, locks and toys were made by hand.

The 8½-acre main gallery of the museum includes agricultural implements, steam engines, airplanes, fire engines, circus wagons, 200 early automobiles, buggies and 12 steam locomotives, including a huge 600-ton Allegheny of 1941.

In the village, there are nearly 100 famous homes and workshops, transported from their original foundations elsewhere in the United States and reconstructed here. Thousands of miles of travel would have been required to visit them in their original settings. Many of them, moreover, would have disappeared by now and hence lost to history.

The homes, many containing original furniture, include those of Henry Ford, George Washington Carver, William Holmes McGuffey, the Wright Brothers and Noah Webster. There also is the Plympton House from Massachusetts, one of the oldest homes in America.

Reminiscent of the times when village greens were the centers of communities, a similar area at Greenfield Village is surrounded by historic buildings including the Logan County, Illinois, courthouse where Lincoln once practiced law. The chair in which he was seated in Ford's theater in Washington when he was assassinated may be seen there.

Nearby is Menlo Park, a group of buildings associated with inventor Thomas A. Edison during the years he perfected the incandescent lamp. Most of Edison's inventions are displayed in his restored laboratory, a two-story clapboard structure.

A blacksmith, weaver, potter, tinsmith and glassblower are among the oldtime craftsmen who carry on their bygone trades daily.

On a quiet, circular lagoon at the end of the village, the colorful sternwheeler, "Suwanee," puffs around carrying visitors during the summer.

The museum and village are open to the public daily the year round.

Back To School Tips from AMA

School days are almost here again for millions of American youngsters.

The reopening of school is an exciting occasion for all pupils, but it is a particularly big experience for the 5 and 6-year-olds who are entering kindergarten or primary school for the first time.

The American Medical Association recommends a thorough medical examination for the child who is starting school for the first time. Your doctor will know what to do. His examination will cover all aspects of your child's health, and will encompass hearing (to make certain he can hear the teacher) and vision (to make sure he can see the blackboard). It is better if this examination can be made, and booster immunization given, a few weeks before school starts.

Some school boards require a medical exam for beginning students. Many schools also require certain immunizations against infectious disease. Your doctor will know of the regulations in your neighborhood.

Physicians recommend physical checkups for school children. Most doctors feel that four or five thorough examinations during the school years are sufficient. These usually are spaced at the start of the first school year, about the fourth grade, about the seventh grade, at the ninth or tenth grade and upon graduation. And, of course, if any untoward symptoms arise at any time, a visit to the doctor is in order. A thorough examination also is important if your child is participating in school athletics.

In the excitement of the first few days of school, the very small child may forget all of the safety warnings you've been teaching him. Each parent should be sure the child knows how to cross intersections and streets en route to and from school. He should know that crossing guards are there for his protection, and obey them. He should know about proper deportment on the school bus. He should know the rules of bicycle safety.

Give careful thought to your child's entire schedule during the school year. Does he have plenty of time to play? That is, play at things he selects, and not something that you or a teacher select for him. Does he have time to just sit and dream, if he wants to?

Or, are you lining up a fall and winter that includes almost daily rounds of music lessons, dancing classes, after-school athletics, social affairs, family affairs in which the child must participate whether he wishes or not?

Much has been written about the many pressures that are placed on even very small children in many neighborhoods today. Much of it is true. Doctors know that many times their small patients are fatigued, deeply tired out from the physical and emotional tensions of doing too much.

If you're a teacher, try to remember that yours is not the child's only class, and try not to overload him with too much homework and outside assignments. Remember that other teachers also are giving assignments, and that there are limits to how much young minds and bodies can absorb.

No Rescue Plan For Moonmen

WILMINGTON, Del.—Comdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. says that this nation's man-on-the-moon project is being designed for such a high safety factor that it is not worthwhile planning an emergency rescue project.

If astronauts did become stranded on the moon, the astronaut said, it would cost too much—some 340 million—and slow down the moon program too much even to try to rescue them.

But that choice seems remote. Commander Shepard said that the program was designed for 98 to 99 per cent reliability. The biggest biological problem for men in space flight, he said, seems to be the lack of exercise. He said bigger space cabins would solve that problem.

RICHARD BURTON is coming to town! Sept. 23 and 24 are the dates for the widely hailed Hamlet to be presented here direct from Broadway at the Terrace Theatre, Plymouth Road, Livonia. There will be four performances on the two days with two matinees and two evening performances at 8 p.m. Seats will not be reserved but the number of tickets to be sold for each performance will not exceed the capacity of the theatre. First come, first served for tickets.

New TB Classes Being Formed

A series of breathing improvement classes sponsored by the TB and Health Society of Wayne County in cooperation with Oakwood, Outer Drive and Sinai Hospitals and the Rehabilitation Institute, have been completed and new classes are being formed.

At present, there are openings for the next class at Sinai Hospital as well as at the Rehabilitation Institute. These classes begin this month.

Physicians have cooperated fully in referring their patients to the various centers where classes are being conducted. Some of the centers are now conducting their third class.

The establishment of the breathing classes highlighted the 1964 Respiratory Disease Symptom Alert conducted by the TB and Health Society. The classes are designed to help patients who have chronic ventilatory problems due to emphysema, chronic bronchitis or asthma.

Eligibility of patients will be determined by the physician supervising the program at each center and patients will be assigned in the order in which they are referred by their own physicians to the TB and Health Society.

Forms for this purpose are available upon request at the Society office, 153 East Elizabeth (WO 1-1697).

Patients must be over 35, ambulatory and able to take care of their everyday minimal needs. Those with significant heart disease or terminal disease are excluded.

Flu Bug Losing War To Medical Research

ANN ARBOR—The "flu bug" is fighting a losing battle according to a University of Michigan physician, who claims the future looks promising for Americans who want more effective — and less expensive — protection against influenza.

Scientists have reason to be encouraged about the results of research on two new types of vaccines against the "flu," said Dr. Fred M. Davenport of the U-M School of Public Health.

More than 10 years' experience with influenza vaccines suspended in mineral oil has shown that they give a high antibody level — and hence protection—which lasts "at least eight to nine years after a single dose," he said.

The oil-base vaccines can be produced more cheaply than the vaccines marketed for mass use today, Dr. Davenport remarked. They also minimize the immediate reactions some people experience after receiving a "flu shot."

"The results of extensive follow-up studies involving large populations attest to the safety of the product," he noted.

Since it seems likely that this type of vaccine will eliminate the requirement for annual revaccination, its adoption in the United States could mean better protection for some 50 million persons who need it most.

The results of tests on water-based vaccines composed of chemically purified viral fragments will be available soon, the U-M doctor said. He added that preliminary testing showed that these vaccines also produced excellent antibody levels and abolished the fever which often develops after "flu shots" are given.

RSL To Hear Plastic Surgeon For First Meeting

Members of the Redford Suburban League will start off their fall season Wednesday, Sept. 9 with an unusual and informative program, one that few people know much about, but that can change a life from one of misery to happiness.

The subject is plastic surgery. Dr. James Lawson of Straith Clinic, famous plastic surgeons, will talk on the subject from the cosmetic point of view — how large noses may become delightfully tilted, big ears disappear, receding-chinned men become square-jawed.

He will briefly touch on the importance of plastic surgery following serious accident cases, or for birth marks.

It will also be shutter-bug day. As many members as possible are asked to attend to have their picture taken for a new I.D. card file the League is establishing.

Those able are asked to come earlier than the 12:30 luncheon for the picture-taking process. President Doris Weber will preside at her first meeting. Jeanne Sansone is Program Chairman for the month.

EVEN THE COMMITTEE is looking forward with anticipation to the Antique Show to be held in conjunction with the Plymouth Fall Festival. Finalizing plans are (l-r) Mrs. Donald Ward, Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Mrs. Richard Hagmeyer, Mrs. Harold Guenther, Mrs. K. E. Van Antwerp.

Antique Show Highlight Of Plymouth Fall Festival

There's more than just a hint of fall in the air these hazy mornings. Downtown Plymouth has had an anticipatory air for quite a while. The little old town crier took up his annual stand in Kellogg Park several weeks ago and now from every orange oak leaves with their banners proclaiming Sept. 11, 12 and 13 as Fall Festival Days.

There's an old-time revival of community spirit and co-operation that makes this annual turning-back-the-clock the highlight of the years activities. The whole town goes colonial; its more fun than a husking bee and everyone loves it.

The setting is perfect for an Antique Show and Sale and this year 22 dealers will display their treasures at the Grange Hall and Community Building on Union Street. Last year's chairman, Mrs. Ray Hulce, is acting as advisor to co-chairmen Mrs. Robert Jenkins and Mrs. K. E. Van Antwerp. Mrs. W. E. Augustine, Mrs. Donald Ward and Mrs. Harold Guenther have been busy with decorations. In charge of properties is Mrs. Carl Schultheiss while Mrs. John Moehele and Mrs. Donald Graham handle the publicity. Mrs. Richard Hagmeyer's Plymouth Symphony League group is in charge of tickets and dealers. It was this group that cut the 8000 calico squares. They will help the dealers move their wares into the buildings—serve them coffee and donuts on arrival and assist them in moving out when it's all over.

The show opens at 12 noon and closes at 10 p.m. all three festival days. Refreshments will be available, prepared and served by Mrs. Russell Cook and her committee of ladies from the Plymouth Grange.

It was in 1827 that Lewis Cass, Territorial Governor of Michigan, affixed his signature to the document that officially named the small settlement 'Plymouth'. The pioneer women of that era would approve the industry, imagination and downright hard work of their modern counterparts in their preparations for this event. They would probably be amazed at the value now placed on their handmade arrow-backed chairs, pine chests, butter bowls and fall-leaf tables. They will all be on display and for sale along with old guns, glassware, jewelry, books, buttons, coins, clocks, china, lamps and lanterns.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

Sound the trumpets, shoot the cannon—let's celebrate. No, it isn't a raise in pay or a shorter work week, but The Observer Newspapers now has a Woman's Department. Before, all we had was a Woman's Editor. These lovely ladies are interested in their respective communities. The motto of our Department is to be pleasant, our theme is to be present, and our aim is to be and keep you well informed. All your staff meetings will be for lunch. Associate Womens' Editors are Irene Nash of Farmington, Lois Chase of Redford Township, Bebe Lindhout of Livonia and Elly of Plymouth.

They aren't just judging beauties at the State Fair these days. And it isn't just a place for youth to gather to see or hear their current rage imported from New York or Hollywood.

There are these things, true, but there is another group the Fair is geared to please—me and thee.

They have a Home Arts Judging where the most beautiful boutique items may be found, delicately fashioned and most elegant. Delightful tasty goodies too are in this judging. These things may sound old hat and square... believe me, they are not. Competition is keen, and only the very finest catch the glint of the judge's eye.

Mrs. Stella Matika, Allen Ct., Livonia, came home with a "first" for a tatted edge towel; Mrs. Wilma Selsak, Rayburn, Livonia, received a "third" for her Streusel and a "fourth" for her potato bread; Janet Garvey, Doris, Livonia, received a "third-junior" for her knitting; Mrs. Jerry Feldman, Texas, Livonia, a "first" for a crocheted child's sweater; "third" for infant's knitted jacket, cap and booties, and a "fourth" for a sweater set.

Marjorie J. Hendricks, Fenton, Redford Township, "second" for her clock design socks, also for her plain knit socks; "third" for Argyle socks and a "third" for her cable socks.

In Farmington, Miss Marylou Seiden, West 10 Mile Road, received a "third" for her canned plums.

Mrs. Edward Weber, Wayburn Drive, Farmington, a "fourth" for her cable socks; Mrs. Howard Matteson, Becking Court, Farmington, a "third" on her dill pickles; John Glick, Gill Road, Farmington, a "third" on ceramics and Mrs. G. W. Checketts, Old Homestead Road, Farmington, a "third" for pickles, jam and bean pickles and a "fourth" on her pear pickles.

On the subject of me and thee: have you noticed how much smarter kids are today? Take a really good look. M'thinks there is a whole new trend arriving. With so many of these young people coming from abroad and our children traveling to foreign countries (even Scout troops are doing it), there seems to be a tremendous upgrading. A new thirst for learning is coming into its own among our young people and it is the most encouraging sign seen of late.

A few mothers and fathers must have noticed it. A report came back to Dr. Eric Bradner, President of the Schoolcraft Community College. He was non-plussed at the number of parents showing up for registration for night school. He expected 300 or so—800 came; and they managed to register 500. Dr. Bradner is worried about the other 300 and wants them to return as soon as possible. They will, the first time they get into a conversation with their offspring and find out they not only don't know the answers, but they don't even know the questions.

See you there!

Livonia Region United Fund Chairman Calls For 'Help'

More volunteers are needed to call upon neighbors to solicit funds for the 1965 budgets of health and community services during the 1964 Torch Drive starting Oct. 20, Mrs. Anna Brady, 32744 Lyndon, South Livonia region chairman, said today.

"The Torch Drive is the greatest community effort in the world," she said. "We want everyone to have an opportunity to participate, as a contributor or as a volunteer worker, or both."

"We women have a priceless opportunity to make a 'person-to-person' contact within every home on behalf of the Torch Drive. During this visit, we must be sure to tell everyone about the principles, objectives, and the services provided through its 204 agencies."

"We must dedicate ourselves to carrying this message into every home, whether or not we receive a contribution as a reward for our efforts. Many 'breadwinners' give generously at work, but there are thousands who do not have this privilege. Each volunteer is assigned a limited number of homes to visit. In addition to obtaining contributions from the home-makers own funds, and from persons who might not otherwise have an opportunity to contribute, they explain the purposes of the Torch Drive and distribute educational material.

The idea of having one community-wide campaign for the various worthwhile causes which might otherwise conduct separate canvasses originated in the Detroit area 15 years ago with the first Torch Drive. Since then, united fund-raising has been adopted in more than 1,300 communities in the United States and Canada.

Anyone wishing to give a few hours of her time in this area to furthering the Torch Drive's effort in providing a wide, complete range of services, is asked to call Mrs. Brady at 425-1481.

A film and song-fest by young people of the conference was presented last Friday night for the benefit of Livonians. Thanking the Mayor for the City's hospitality, leader of the delegation Niels-Christan Rasmussen said "One-third of the people of the world were under Communist rule, and one-half of the people of the world were under 21 years of age, therefore it put grave responsibility on the shoulders of the youth. We have decided to bring a revolution of character creating a new leadership of man governed by God." More Jobs Needed For Co-op Students

Some young people are receiving exciting and realistic on-the-job work experience, that may lead to a career, through the expanded interest in vocational education at Franklin High School.

Some students presently receiving work experience through the co-op program, as it is called at Franklin High School, are Dave McPherson who is working as a printers assistant at Jendrycka Printing and Karen and Sharen Hanshaw working at the Bank of Livonia in the Bookkeeping department. Last year there were 75 students placed in offices, stores, and industrial jobs throughout the area.

Because this program is expanding, the coordinators at Franklin need the cooperation of more local business and industrial firms to provide work experiences for students.

This is a program recognized by both the Federal and State government where the students gain practical work experience in an "on-the-job" situation related to his in-school classes. At Franklin High School this work-study program consists of four hours in school and approximately four hours on the job per day.

The place of employment becomes a laboratory where the student gains not only monetary but more important realistic work experiences through the guidance of his employer and the coordinator in the school.

Employers who are interested in this and feel that it is a good way to upgrade job competencies should contact the cooperative education office at Franklin High School, GA 5-1900.

Plymouth Newlyweds To Live In Walled Lake

Wedding vows were exchanged between Jean Ann Jacobs and H. Ronald Norgrove August 15 at a 2:30 double-ring service in the First United Presbyterian Church, Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Jacobs, Sheldon Rd., Plymouth, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Norgrove, York St., Plymouth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an A-line floor length gown with full detachable train of white silk organza trimmed with Alencon lace at the neck and a panel down the front of her skirt. Her bouffant illusion veil was secured by an organza pill-box headpiece. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of white roses and stephanotis with a touch of pink.

Mrs. David Timcoe of Plymouth was matron of honor. Mrs. Douglas VanderVoort and Lynda Norgrove of Plymouth served as bridesmaids. Their gowns were of floor length deep pink in tissue taffeta with detachable panels. They wore pill-box hats with veils in the same color and material as their gowns. They carried cascades of pink roses.

Serving as best man was Douglas Steele of Plymouth and seating guests were Bill Hitt,

Mrs. H. Ronald Norgrove

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jacobs chose an avocado eyelet silk organza gown with accessories to match. The groom's mother wore

They will be at home in the Walled Lake area, both to teach in the Walled Lake Consolidated School District.

The bride is a Sigma Kappa and the groom a Theta Chi. They both graduated from Eastern Michigan University in June of 1964.

Pinch, Don't Roll

It's a disappointed child who finds the cookie jar empty. Here is one quick way to hurry up cookie baking. Instead of rolling out your favorite butter cookie recipe, roll bits of dough into balls between the palms of your hands. Place the cookie balls on a baking sheet, then flatten them with the bottom of a tumbler which has been very lightly greased, then dipped in cinnamon sugar. Bake as directed for rolled cookies.

Mrs. Kirk Vaughan of Warren was matron of honor in a pastel orange peau de sole. Her gown was styled A-line and a flat bow graced her head of the same material as the gown. Livonia Couple Tours Canada With Caravan

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Game, 31660 Six Mile Road, Livonia, were among the 368 travel-trailer families touring Canada's eastern provinces with the Wally Byam Eastern Canada Caravan.

The Wally Byam Caravan left its state-side rendezvous point at Skowhegan, Me. July 10 to spend approximately six weeks visiting Canadian centers of interest. These included Amhurst, Prince Edward Island, Windsor, Yarmouth, Lunenburg, Halifax, Baddeck, points along the picturesque Cabot Trail, Newfoundland, Shediac, the Gaspé Peninsula, Quebec, Montreal and Ottawa. The Caravan disbanded in Canada Aug. 15.

Most of the Wally Byam Caravanners arrived at their rendezvous after attending the New York World's Fair and their own history-making Seventh International Rally of the Wally Byam Caravan Club near Princeton, N.J. June 22 to July 5. A total of 2015 Air-stream travel trailers gathered for that event, the largest number in trailing history.

As the Eastern Canadian Caravan made its way along its route an approximately simultaneous "Wally Byam Historical Caravan" visited points of historical interest, especially of the Revolutionary and Civil War periods, in Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Meanwhile, another group of Wally Byam Caravanners in 44 travel trailers were in Europe on the final segment of their history-making journey around the world. The Wally Byam Around the World Caravan left Los Angeles in September, 1963 and will disband this October, after visiting the Soviet Union.

A Salad to Hold Your Meal Together

When lighter meals are the order of your busy day, it's smart menu-planning to let one dish do the work of two. For example, instead of serving vegetables and a salad, let one vegetable be the salad. Not only will the meal be lighter yet still delicious; you'll reduce cooking and dishwashing time accordingly.

Rice, fine substantial vegetable that it is, makes superbly satisfying salads, such as Bleu Cheese Rice Salad. Make it well ahead of time and then the kitchen can be kept cool by using quick-cooking foods for the main course, such as broiled chops and broiled tomatoes.

As shown, the salad is garnished with broiled tomato halves. Other garnish choices might be avocado slivers, watercress, radishes, green or ripe olives, carrot curls, gherkins. The salad may be served with or without salad greens as preferred. It is sufficiently moist so that no extra dressing need accompany it. Mixing while the rice is hot makes for full-blending of the many flavors, and the bland rice absorbs these so that the salad is truly a taste delight.

Bleu Cheese and Rice Salad, broiled chops and tomatoes as mentioned above, make a summery main course. End the meal on an equally refreshing note with sugared fresh berries or peach pie and fragrant coffee.

BLEU CHEESE RICE SALAD

3 cups hot cooked rice	1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped celery	¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup chopped pimiento	1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon grated onion	¼ cup crumbled bleu cheese
3 hard cooked eggs, chopped	1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup chopped pecans	½ teaspoon seasoning salt, optional

Combine rice, vegetables, eggs, nuts, salt, and pepper and toss lightly. Blend sour cream with cheese, juice, and seasoning salt. Fold into rice mixture. Turn into mold and chill thoroughly. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Home Nursing Classes Given By Red Cross

Classes in Home Nursing, beginning Tuesday, September 8, will be given at the new Red Cross Northwest Regional Office in Livonia, 31228 Five Mile Road, in the Merri-5 Plaza. The classes will be held Tuesday evenings for six weeks, from 7-9 p.m.

If there are enough requests from persons who cannot attend evening classes, a Tuesday afternoon class will be given, stated Mrs. Olsen Hensley, 11531 Cavell, Livonia, Publicity Chairman for the Northwest Red Cross office. Registration for the course may be done by calling the Northwest Red Cross office, 422-2787.

Knowledge gained from Home Nursing Classes can mean the difference between a healthy household and one with contagious colds and minor ailments makin continuous rounds. The skills learned in Home Nursing classes save time, energy and money when one is caring for sick or injured family members. The purpose of Red Cross Home Nursing classes is to help people cope with situations involving nursing care which can be overwhelming if not prepared for.

An instructor's training course for professional registered nurses is also being started on Sept. 8 at the Northwest Regional office. Professional nurses are needed to teach classes both in Livonia and in Plymouth. Professional nurses interested in giving volunteer service to their community may register for the course by calling Mrs. Maude Sterner, R.N., GL 3-6407, who will be glad to answer questions regarding the instructor training course and Red Cross volunteer service.

That's Opinion Of U-M Music Prof

The Beatles Are Tribute To Promotion

ANN ARBOR — The Beatles are much more interesting as a sociological phenomenon than as a musical one, says John A. Flower, associate dean of The University of Michigan School of Music.

The reasons for their bombastic splash are threefold, says Flower. 1) teen-age mystiques, now international; 2) promotional advertising and our susceptibility to it; and 3) mass communications.

"Teenagers always have and always will be wondrous," he states. "They have not of late had much restraint placed upon them by their elders nor as a matter of fact have their elders been particularly good at setting examples."

Says Flower, "Teen-agers have been emancipated by money, the used car and hi-fi. This emancipation takes unpredictable and incomprehensible forms of which The Beatles are one."

Flower says he believes modern techniques of promotion account in no small part for the prosperity of The Beatles: "Today's best practical psychologists seem to be in the realm of promotion and advertising. As a people we have made ourselves susceptible to manipulation in what we think we desire to consume, to see and to hear. The Beatles, to an extent, are a tribute to the skill of modern-day advertising."

Dodge Sales Hit Record For August

Dodge dealers sold 54 percent more cars in the second 10 days of August than in the same period last year, Dodge General Manager Byron J. Nichols reported Monday.

Nichols said retail sales from August 11 through 20 totalled 13,201—a record for the period—compared with 8,553 a year ago.

second 10 days of August were 108 per cent higher, he said. They totaled 3,118 this year, compared with 1,496 last year.

Dodge car sales during the 1964 model year (Sept. 20 through Aug. 20) total 423,168. That is 23 per cent higher than the 344,158 cars sold in the same period last year. Sales in the calendar year through Aug. 20 total 296,312—an increase of 24 per cent over the 239,608 sales in the same period of 1963.

Dodge truck sales for the model year through Aug. 20 total 87,037, compared with 65,913 in the same period last year—an increase of 32 per cent.

Truck sales from Jan. 1 through Aug. 20 total 64,115, compared with 48,165 in that period a year ago—an increase of 33 per cent.

Plymouth Kiwanians Get Chance To Brag

Members of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, who are forbidden by club rules to talk about their products or services during regular meetings, had their big moment at the annual Advertising Night program.

This is the one night when each is encouraged to say anything and everything he can about his work, his plant and the products.

Plymouth Township Clerk Jack McEwen introduced the guests while Kiwanian Tom Alessy had charge of presenting the Advertising Night group.

Len Wendell has been appointed sergeant-at-arms by President Gerry Fitch to preserve orders and collect fines. Bill Lyons, who has charge of the Kiwanis Pancake Festival, which is one of the major events of Plymouth's Fall Festival, reported everything in readiness for the affair on Saturday, Sept. 12.

Lyons will have charge of a sports night program on Sept. 15.

Riley Junior High to Enroll 944 Student This Fall

Approximately 944 seventh, eighth, and ninth graders will be enrolled in Riley Junior High School this fall.

According to James L. Casebere, principal of this school at 1555 Henry Ruff Road, this projection was made at a Board meeting in June. Casebere and his assistant principal Gordon

A. Geiger have used this estimate in preparing for their teaching staff and other school needs for the 1964-65 academic year.

As in other junior highs, the largest staff is in the combined field of English and social studies. The 18 teachers assigned to this department are: Raymond Betrus, Mrs. Linda Burgess, James Craig, Clayton Evenden, Gary Ford, David Gillies, John Glemet, Howard Holzman, Lewis Kaplan, Mrs. Carolyn Malosh, Donald Persons, Phillip Rathbun, Robert Russell, Mrs. Jane Tilford, Bruce Wylie, and Miss Barbara Yokum.

Second largest unit is the math-science department with 14 members. They are: James Allen, James Bedenis, Richard DeVries, Edward Grudnicki, Miss Carol Jack, Billy Lintner, Phillip Lyon, John McConnell, Mrs. Mary Miner Norris, James Pascaris, Ronald Pemberton, Alton Rice, Robert Selke, and Miss Patricia Torcellini.

The Art Department staff will consist of Mr. Seymour LaVine and Mrs. Geraldine Nagle. Instrumental music will be taught by Gene Page and Jack Bowman, and Mrs. Mary Riley will be in charge of vocal music.

Teaching physical education this year are Marlin Carey, John Gabel, Mrs. Jean Jackson, and Miss Patricia O'Toole. Mrs. Donna Beuthien and Miss Theota Williamson both will spend part-time teaching home economics. Miss Williamson will be a counselor in the junior high the rest of the time. Other counselors are Mrs. Audrien Henry, James Johnston, and Jack Schneider.

Assigned to the reading classes is Joseph Taylor, and the librarian is Thomas Woodbury. Vincent Napoleone and T. Norman Tomazic will have half-time assignments in industrial arts, and Jack Firestone will handle the business education department. Foreign language teachers are Miss Gisele Feldman, who will teach French and Miss Carol Harmon, who will teach Spanish. In the special education department Mrs. Margaret Moncreiff will be in charge of teaching the blind children. Classes for exceptional children will be taught by James Sullivan.

Regimentation Can Stifle Art Student

ANN ARBOR—Keeping order in art class shouldn't be the teacher's major concern, says Michael Church, assistant director for cultural activities in The University of Michigan Extension Service.

"Creativity is sacrificed when all the class projects are so structured that most movement in the class is avoided," he declares.

"This teacher believes his seventh and eighth grade classes are creatively stifled and his own personality

"Before we parted he asked, 'Do you think respect for a teacher in a conventional sense is necessary for effective teaching? Can respect be obtained in different ways, outside of having a student sit down when ordered?'"

"To be in the presence of a truly creative teacher invites intuitive respect," he emphasizes. "Competence always commands without commanding."

The Art Department staff will consist of Mr. Seymour LaVine

Livonia's Madonna College Sets Opening for Sept. 21

Madonna College, a fully accredited liberal arts college for women, located on Schoolcraft and Levan Roads in Livonia, will open its academic year on Monday, September 21.

With the construction of new residence halls, dining facilities, and an academic building, Madonna has expanded its facilities for the growing demand for higher education of women.

Within the past year, the new residence halls of Angela, Marian, and Regina, the dining room and cafeteria, and other facilities were open for occupancy for the first time. The academic building, presently nearing completion, will be ready in the near future.

Madonna College is staffed by an experienced faculty holding degrees from universities in this country and abroad.

Madonna is qualified to offer a program to all who wish to obtain a college education on a full time or a part time basis. For the full time student, a great number of courses are available during the day. For the part time student, a varied program in both the day and the late afternoon classes is offered. The late afternoon classes are especially designed for women interested in beginning their college career, in fulfilling the requirements for teacher certification, or in updating their major fields. Local school teachers may also find these offerings very convenient.

The following courses will be given in the late afternoon and evening classes in the fall of 1964:

of Art, Microbiology, General Physiology, Office Management and Practices, Foundations of Education, Reading and Other Language Arts in the Elementary School, Victorian Literature, Intermediate French, Latin, Cicero and Composition, Elementary Analysis, Fundamentals of Musician, Principles of Physical Sciences, and Contemporary Social Movements.

For those interested in the Adult Education Program, the College will offer two non-credit courses in art. These are: Oil Painting for both beginners and advanced students, and a course in the History and Appreciation of Art. Both are open to anyone interested either in studio work or in the understanding and appreciation of works of art, with special emphasis on Modern Art. The History and Appreciation of Art courses will be conducted as a slide lecture series. In addition to these, other courses in art are given in the day classes. For example: Introduction to the Arts, Drawing, Ceramics, and History of Art.

Madonna College grants degrees to majors in Art, English, History, Home Economics, Mathematics, Medical Technology, Music, Nursing, and Sociology. Minors are offered in the above subjects and also in Business, Education, Journalism, Social Science, French, Latin, Spanish, and Speech.

Registration for full time students is scheduled for September 18; part time and Adult Education for September 16 at 4 and 6:30 p.m. in the Commons Room of Levan off Schoolcraft Road.

Tigers Busily Sign 30 New Prospects

Tiger scouts have been busy this summer pumping new blood into the lifeline of the club by signing more than 30 fresh prospects since spring training. They include youngsters from the sandlots, high schools and colleges from coast to coast. Some are already playing with Tiger farm teams; others will start in 1965. While bonus figures are not disclosed by the Tigers, all the new prospects received payments of some kind and the 1964 investment in new players is in step with the Tigers' liberal policies of the past, according to Don Lund, director of scouting and farm operations. A prize catch is Mike Small, 6-foot-4 190-pound lefthanded pitcher from Long Beach, Calif., who was sought by 14 other major league clubs. Personally inspected by Chief Scout Ed Katalinas after preliminary scouting by Scout Marv Owen, the youngster currently is pitching for the Lakeland farm club of the Florida State League. Four of the Tigers' recent signees have Michigan backgrounds. They include: Dave Campbell, University of Michigan graduate in June whose home is in Lansing. An infielder, he is at Knoxville of the Southern League, following an impressive start at Lakeland. Ron Tate, another Michigan graduate who is from Akron, O. An outfielder, he is at Lakeland. Take it from a teacher... IT'S GOOD TO BELONG TO BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD

"As a teacher, my classroom standards are high. Naturally I carry this over into other areas of interest to me. That's why I belong to Blue Cross-Blue Shield. In my opinion, when it comes to health care protection, they're the best."
(signed) Dorothy Kerr Jackson, Mich.

"As a busy teacher and family man I appreciate the convenience and service that Blue Cross-Blue Shield offer for me and my family. Our claims have been paid promptly, affording us great peace of mind. Without the excellent coverage offered by Blue Cross-Blue Shield I could not have met my family's health needs."
(signed) Charles D. Butler, Constantine, Mich.

"There are many reasons why I, as a teacher, value my Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage so highly. Most important, perhaps, is the fact that, based on my salary, participating Blue Shield doctors accept the Blue Shield fee as full payment."
(signed) Rex B. Sheathelm, Muskegon, Mich.

Growth of Apartments Cited in Farmington Study

Apartments—when properly regulated and placed in upgraded areas where they appeal to upgraded families—are a tax boon to a community, the Farmington city planning commission has reported. A report turned over to the City Council last week said apartment properties now under construction could produce $44,844 annually in school, city and county taxes. It said a comparable figure was $19,188 for single family development on the same property.

The school district, they said, could expect about 50 students from 500 apartments while the same property with one-family residences on it would produce about 166.

It was estimated that public safety costs would run 25 per cent less and public works costs 75 per cent less for apartments than if the areas were developed with houses.

This, planners attributed to the concentration of population in a small area, the centralization of service needs and the general makeup of the apartment dweller.

The density factor, along with the above-average incomes of apartment dwellers, prove to be valuable assets to the stability of the business climate, planners said.

They estimated the purchasing power ratio at five to one.

"Based on 500 apartment units, it is estimated that there would be a gross income of $4,694,500 compared to $1,081,000 if the same properties were developed for single-family residents," they reported.

They assumed that 20 per cent of the gross income would be spent in local retail stores, thus arriving at a $1 million spending figure for apartment dwellers and $200,000 for those living in houses.

Planners suggested that sections of the building code dealing with sound - proofing and fire - proofing be upgraded to meet Federal Housing Administration recommendations.

City Manager John Dinan was authorized by the council to draw up the revisions.

He noted that complaints about noise were prevalent among apartment dwellers who answered the planning commission survey.

"If you weighed apartments versus single-family dwellings on a dollar-and-cents base, apartments provide a much higher tax base, cause less burden on the school district, require less municipal services and create higher purchasing power than single-family developments," planners said.

But they emphasize other factors. "The City of Farmington has grown in stability due to the fact that it is unique in that it has the quaintness of a small town yet the services of an urban area," they said.

"If apartment development gets out of balance with this image and the general character changes, it may have a detrimental effect on the entire community."

Present zoning will allow ultimate development of about 617 apartment units in the city and about two-thirds that number now are occupied or near completion.

One apartment site has room for 16 more units and all others are under construction. The rezoning requests of two developers are pending.

Such development is desirable if compatible with the surrounding property, according to the planning commission.

The Observer's Readers Speak Up on Police, Other Issues

Livonia Editor:
I have searched my conscience and my heart all day and have resolved that this letter must be published for the benefit of the residents of Livonia.

I trust you will not edit or take out of context what I have written so that your readers will be able to learn at first hand of my harrowing experience with the Livonia police department. I am deliberately not mentioning any names, as I do not seek to jeopardize any man's job.

Early this morning, two detectives came to my door, upon showing a badge I immediately froze with fear, fear for the welfare of my husband who was at work as both my teenage sons were still asleep, and all I could think was that they were the bearers of bad news about my husband. Upon asking them if there was anything wrong, I was told "Not yet!" It was all I could do to keep from fainting. I opened the door and they entered. Only then, did they ask to see my younger son. When I asked what he had done, I was told coldly to get him. When I begged them to tell me what was wrong, what had he done, that he was sleeping, the spokesman for the two said, "Tell him to get dressed and come down, he is suspected of breaking and entering a neighbor's house last night."

I must have become hysterical, because I knew that was not only a lie, but an impossibility, as the night before at about 7:30 p.m. we had all been watching the convention on TV and no one left the room until 12:30 a.m. I told the detective this and mentioned that my sister-in-law was with us all evening. I could call her and he could speak to her and she would verify this as the truth—but he would have none of this! "Get yourself a good lawyer and get your son" is all he would say.

I got my son up and told him what had happened. He was incredulous, he said they didn't know what they're talking about. He came down and he was questioned as to his whereabouts of the previous evening, and he repeated what I had already told them. One detective asked to look at his hands, examined them very carefully and said "very good" the other looked over and said "it certainly is."

At this point I was crying and begging over and over again to tell me what they saw on my boy's hands and I was finally told that they had a fingerprint on a window that matched my son's! I cried "how can you tell by just looking?" and they said, they could tell. However, they were taking my son to headquarters to check his fingerprints and if he was in the clear they would bring him back in a half hour. I begged, I cried, and said you can't do this, then I asked if I could come along and was told I couldn't come in their car. I ran to the telephone to call my husband, they made my son put on his shirt and my husband heard me screaming, "Don't take my boy," they ignored me and walked out with him. At that moment I thought, this is how it must have been in Nazi Germany, when the Gestapo took people away. I was shaken. These so-called men of the law, who are supposed to uphold the law, were doing just what they are being paid to prevent, lawbreaking! Entering my home without a warrant and using Gestapo methods!

I am normally a very level headed person and keep my wits about me in an emergency, but the manner in which they came to my door, looking like pallbearers, not recalling telling me why they were there, I must have snapped. I made many phone calls, and of course I was told that first mistake I made was to let them in without a warrant, and that they should have stated their business immediately. The second mistake I made, was to allow them to go up to my son's room, it is true they did not search it, but the fact remains, they did go up! They took advantage of a very frightened and hysterical mother who did not know her rights, and who was fighting for her son.

By telling me to get a good lawyer only served to intimidate me.

Needless to say, they brought my son back, it was all a mistake! This time I proceeded to question them and they admitted that it was not for publication, but that I did not have to admit them if I didn't want to. They admitted this to me, and this is infringing on my rights as an American citizen. All this could easily have been avoided, had they called me on the telephone and said I should bring my son in to have his fingerprints checked because he was suspected of breaking and entering. I would have been able to collect myself, and realize that they were mistaken, because I could account for my son's whereabouts.

I take pride in both my boys, they are decent young men, their father and I are quite strict with them and they have never been in any kind of trouble. Our name and our reputation is very important to us and our boys conduct themselves in a manner that makes us proud of them. These things have a way of getting around, and I am ashamed that my neighbors will learn of this terrible thing.

I say to all parents and citizens who read this, don't be apathetic, report these things should they happen to you, stand on your constitutional rights and don't let yourselves be intimidated by the flash of a badge. A detective's badge should be worn with dignity, decency and respect for the rights of other human beings. Our society could not exist without these men in the police department, and we are grateful for them, but do they have to use these tactics?

My only concern at this moment, should either of these detectives read this, may become vindictive and harass my son for every crime that is committed in my neighborhood. Let them take heed, I will be prepared for them with every law in the books that I can use against them. It is 2:00 a.m., and I don't know if I shall be able to sleep for many a night to come. I keep hoping that I shall awake one day to find all this was a nightmare, but the facts remain, it did happen in these United States of America, the land of the free!

Falsely Accused

Mr. Allen J. Maverson,
Commissioner
Department of Insurance
State of Michigan
Lansing, Michigan

Dear Mr. Maverson:
Recently a question of some complexity regarding the application of "current" rate of dividends to reduce basic and three year premiums in the comparison of competitive bids for Workmen's Compensation insurance on a public school system has been presented.

Because our legal bibliography is relatively limited, I would appreciate any assistance your department may provide in indicating the statutes or other publications wherein pertinent information applicable to the following circumstances is presented.

Public invitation to bid on a Three Year Retrospective Plan D was made in local newspapers, with instructions regarding the acquisition of bid forms included.

Bid forms requested quotations for:
Basic Premium
The Three Year Minimum Premium
The Three Year Maximum Premium
The Gross Three Year Premium if losses are $20,000
The Gross Three Year Premium if losses are $28,000
The bids also included the following statement:
"Please indicate your Company's current rate of dividend, if any."

In the final analysis, the aforementioned rate of dividend is being deducted from the basic and three year premiums quoted. The net premium (after dividend deduction) is being considered as one of the prime factors for awarding the contracts.

The question for which we are seeking research material is "Specifically, may the application of 'current' dividends be made to reduce premiums on competitive bids, and if so, under what circumstances?"

Your early attention would be appreciated.

Sincerely,
LESLIE H. FOLSOM
Mr. Leslie H. Folsom
The Folsom Insurance Agency
9051 Sunbury
Livonia, Michigan
Dear Mr. Folsom:
Commissioner Maverson has discussed with me the contents of your letter of June 24, 1964 and asks that I reply.

It would appear that the public school system prepared the form for Workmen's Compensation insurance bids containing the question regarding the bidding company's current rate of dividends. You realize, of course, that this department has no jurisdiction over this phase of the problem.

The Insurance Department is confronted quite regularly with complaints or inquiries dealing with net cost proposals and while it is not our intention to embark upon any campaign to revolutionize the practices of submitting bid proposals, I do feel that if insurance companies and/or agents were to complete the proposal in the manner in which it was prepared with no clarification as to dividend quotations, the insurance company or agent would be in violation of section 2064 of the Michigan insurance code.

The proper solution to this problem is to require that wherever net costs are shown, after the deduction of contemplated dividends, gross premiums should also be shown; in addition, and more important than the problem you have presented, any mention of dividends should be concluded with a statement that dividend illustrations are based solely upon company experience and are neither guarantees nor estimates for the future.

I appreciate the opportunity of corresponding with you on this matter and trust the above information is of assistance.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM G. OLSEN
Deputy Commissioner
Department of Insurance
Lansing

Editor:
Let me say a word of thanks for the generous coverage you have been giving to the Community Resources Workshop this summer.

As a member of the workshop I found it a fast-paced and stimulating experience — especially helpful to a newcomer in the area such as myself. The businessmen and craftsmen we met were most generous with their time. Your articles are helping bring to the attention of other teachers and community leaders the fine potential of such a workshop in Livonia.

Sincerely,
Oliver Wagner

Editor:
Concerning the fire-truck accident where our fireman Wesley Wisner lost his legs. Your editorial and letters to the editor have called attention to the use of old equipment, not large enough doors on an obsolete fire house, lights needed at intersections where fire stations are located, etc. True — these facts may have some bearing on the case and should be looked into and some action taken.

BUT, I have seen nothing about the driver of the car who hit the fire truck. Please explain to us what reason this driver has for running into a fire truck, with siren and light going?

Our place of business faces Plymouth Road just west of Farmington Road, near Fire Station No. 3, and is also a main route to St. Mary's Hospital, and at least three times a day an emergency vehicle passes; it is the rare occasion that a car even moves from one lane to another to let an emergency vehicle pass, let alone get off the road and stop.

With our four lane highways, perhaps it is not necessary to pull off on the shoulder, and sometimes not practicable; but certainly, you can pull to the right lane and slow down and give the emergency vehicle an opportunity to go through.

The old habit seems to be "don't do anything until something happens." Well, something has happened. Let's do something. If there are not proper laws on the books for emergency vehicles, let's see they get there. If there are proper laws, let's see that they are enforced.

Let's see that the proper equipment is purchased and housed. Let us put stop lights in front of our fire houses. Let's arrange our traffic light system, so that at an intersection, lights can be red both ways and traffic brought to a halt when an emergency vehicle approaches. and MR. DRIVER, you wake up and be courteous, if nothing else.

The next time that policeman or fireman is in a hurry, he may be going to save your wife or child. Wesley has sacrificed a great deal for us in Livonia. Now let us give our other firemen and policemen a break.

Yours truly,
Carl and Elsie Wright

Don't Overwork

How To Fight Fatigue

Are you too tired to make money? You'd be amazed at how many people are—and don't even know it. Industrial experts report that chronic fatigue is one of the biggest threats to employee productivity—and advancement.

Frequently, the man who spends the most time with his work gets the least done! Busy all day, working so hard he skips lunch, he rushes home, gobbles his dinner, and (you guessed it) does some more work. Without a break, he's exhausted—mentally and physically.

This is also true of the man who does leave his work behind at the office but does nothing but sit around and yawn when he gets home. Experts agree that for both the most industrious and the most relaxed, a good way to fight fatigue is to have something to look forward to besides work—a movie, dinner out or just an evening of conversation with friends.

Clubs and hobbies are another nighttime answer—so is the uncommon bath. After dinner and that last cup of coffee try a ten or twenty-minute soak in a tubful of warm water spiced with a cup of baking soda.

At the office, there are several fatigue factors people tend to ignore. They're so common, you generally overlook them when searching for the culprit that makes you grouchy, irritable, less productive than you should be.

Take stock of your office or shop surroundings. Got a good bright light on your desk that's casting a glare on your papers? The glare may be giving you eyestrain which often leads to headaches or it can be exhausting your eye muscles.

If much of your work is done with a typewriter or adding machine, you may be knocking yourself out because you have to press a little too heavily on the keys. The result of this "minor" annoyance can be tired joints, aching arms, a general fatigue and grouchiness that spoils work and chances for being "high-ed."

Loud, intermittent noises that come at irregular intervals can distract, force you to concentrate twice as hard (or try to) and make you expend twice the energy you should. If you can be near a low, constant noise, you'll be better off; by having a background noise nearby, you'll be shielded from distraction...

If you're on your feet a lot on the job it may be sore, tired feet that are wearing you out. They can cause back aches, leg pains or just plain fatigue, all of which can lead to crankiness.

Remember that you can tire yourself out most by doing nothing at home. The recreation you make for yourself (to recreate energy), the simple methods for relaxation you de-

Labor Safety Week Proclaimed

Governor Romney Friday urged all citizens to cooperate in a nationwide safety program sponsored by the leaders and workers of organized labor. "Labor has long recognized the necessity for reducing accidents, not only on the job but on the highways to and from."

Mr. Lloyd Utter, Health and Safety director for UAW-CIO, chairman of the nationwide activity co-sponsored by the National Safety Council, assured Governor Romney of the cooperation of union rank and file in the Governor's "light your way to safety" campaign intended to reduce accidents on the highway over the Labor Day week end.

First Training Conference Held

The first statewide Apprenticeship and Training Conference in Michigan will be held October 8 and 9 in the Pantlind Hotel, Grand Rapids, William A. Price, U.S. Labor Department official announced today.

Price, Michigan State Supervisor of the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training (BAT), pointed out that apprenticeship conferences had been held in the Upper Peninsula in 1962 and 1963. "These regional conferences were so successful," Price said, that our Bureau decided to hold our third annual conference in a central location so that all interested Michigan citizens could attend.

State Fair Nears Last Days With Many Fine Programs

Moving into the final five days and nights of what already has been tabbed as one of the greatest in history, the 115th annual Michigan State Fair will present many of its greatest attractions of the entire 10-day run.

Headlining the last five programs are the New Christy Minstrels, a folk sinking group who boast two notable achievements—they introduced the hootenanny at the White House and on Broadway early this year. They'll take over the stage of the Music Shell starting Thursday and have the top billing for the remainder of the Fair.

Then there's the traditional auction of the grand champion and reserve steers along with the grand and reserve champions in other divisions of the judging. The auction is slated for 2 p.m. Thursday in the Coliseum.

From that moment until the midnight close on Labor Day, the Fair will present more outstanding events than at any previous period during the first half of the 10-day run.

There'll be band concerts by outstanding high school organizations daily including an appearance of the famed Melvindale marching band, that participated in the Rose Bowl parade in California last New Year's Day, on Friday at 11:45 a.m.

Friday has been designated as Teachers' Day and the top event will be the presentation of special awards to 31 teachers, educators and school administrators for outstanding contributions in the field of Education.

Gov. George Romney will have the spotlight Saturday in the annual Governor's Day program during which he will make a tour of the entire Fair, inspecting and viewing all winners of ribbons in the earlier judging.

Bands from Laker, Milan, Laingsburg and Clinton will present concerts in the afternoon and early evening.

The final two days will be marked by two auto races—the first over a distance of 250-miles on Sunday afternoon and the second over 150-miles on Labor Day.

A brilliant fireworks exhibition, rated by Fair officials as the best in years, will be presented at dusk in the area in front of the grandstand. Then following the race and the fireworks on Labor Day, the Fair will gradually work down to the official close at midnight when the lights go out and the gates will be locked for another year.

Farnum Thanks Supporters in Talk At Farmington Picnic

Auditor General Billie S. Farnum spent most of the last week prior to the primary election thanking his supporters in western Oakland and Wayne Counties for their efforts to nominate him as the Democratic candidate to Congress in the 19th District, and promising that if nominated he "will work for a total Democratic victory in Michigan."

At the Farmington Democratic Club picnic, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shpiece, 25708 W. Moreland, Farmington, Mr. Farnum expressed complete support for the philosophy of the Kennedy-Johnson administration, and pledged to work "for the expansion and extension of these programs."

"Our leadership has done much for America, but much still remains to be done before we reach that Great Society that President Johnson speaks of."

In affirming support for Medicare, Farnum stated that, "the senior citizens of this country are being ignored. Many of them have spent 30 to 40 years of their life working for wages that only enabled them to live modestly. Now, in their years of re-irement, on small and meager pensions, they are faced with increasingly large hospital and medical expenses, which their savings cannot match. If this is truly a government of the people, by the people and for the people, then it must work for the people—for the benefit of the people."

Mr. Farnum also appeared at the Livonia Booster Club picnic as the guest of Mayor Harvey Moelke, on Sunday. In his informal presentation he stated that America's image in world affairs "has in the last four years improved to the point where America is the undisputed leader of the free world."

"Our party does not believe in the philosophy that our foreign policy should solely be based upon a total victory concept, for in today's world total victory could well mean total annihilation. We believe in steering this ship of state through that watery where all nations can live in peace. But, our record proves that when firmness in foreign affairs was needed, we stood firm."

LIVONIA EDUCATORS ASSOCIATION The Teachers Speak

By GEORGE A. CALDER, Director
Department of Communications

Mrs. Lawana Trout, teacher of English and girls' counselor at Charles Page High School, Sand Springs, Okla., was recently chosen "Teacher of the Year." She received her award from President Lyndon Johnson in Washington, D.C., on May 4, 1964. As a requirement for the award, the nominee must write a statement summarizing the teacher's philosophy of education.

At this time of year, as boys and girls return to school to greet their teachers, it is enlightening to read Mrs. Trout's philosophy.

"I AM A TEACHER"

"I touch the face of humanity each day in my classrooms, for I teach the ambitious and the indolent, the brilliant and the slow, the mature and the immature. I gaze at a quiet classroom, heads bent, minds intent on the lesson. . . I catch the enthusiasm of the eager search for an answer to his question. . . I study the prospective dropout, the disinterested "clock-watcher," and the bitter delinquent—master of wisecracks and rebellion.

"I contemplate the endless quest of my young philosophers in their determination to know the core of life. I listen to a 16-year-old lay her soul bare before me in a few moments of counseling.

"These daily teaching scenes emphasize that no human endeavor requires more wisdom, more humility, more labor, or more dedication than teaching. Teaching is my profession, my way of life, my opportunity to live richly and deeply, my fulfillment of that which is useful, beautiful, and true.

"As one member of the great teaching force, I feel strong loyalty and devotion to the principles of my profession and its organizations. I respect the educational heritage my predecessors have left me, and I am determined to advance their noble struggle for excellence in every phase of education.

"I am always grateful for the innumerable teachers who have shared their ideas, their experience, and their wisdom with me. My teachers and the pioneers of education have passed a responsibility to me which I must never forget or neglect.

"As a teacher, I have an important image to paint for the public as well as for my students. An ugly act or thoughtless word from me means a disfiguration of the image of my profession. I accept the fact that to the public I am 'the school' and I am 'Education.'

"Therefore, it is absolutely imperative that I remain loyal to my fellow teachers, that I keep informed on all educational matters, and that I have the unflinching courage to present the cause of education in a firm, intelligent manner free from personal prejudice and emotional bias. Although I can never shirk community responsibilities, I must enter each one with the knowledge that I am Lawana Trout, teacher."

A New Zeal Replaces Siesta In Today's South America

PANAMA CITY—Harvard's graduate business school has set up shop in an ancient Guatemalan colonial capital and 50 Central American business men responded with $1,000 each for a six-week course—taught in English.

From Guatemala to Costa Rica, scores of specialists gather in no less than 20 regional offices every working day to study, chart, and apply formulas for social and economic development.

In San Jose, a textile dealer packs a briefcase, catches a post-breakfast flight to El Salvador, completes his mission and takes the evening plane home in time for dinner. This is part of a new and dramatic revolution sweeping the onetime "banana republic" of Central America.

Siesta Giving Way

The siesta is giving way to zeal blood and bullets are being replaced by banks and bustle in the quiet rebellion against social-economic stagnation and archaic nationalistic concepts.

At the heart of this new surge in the Central American common market thru which Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica — and probably Panama later on—are striving for economic integration and survival.

Altho the 12 year old project is considered past its most difficult formative stages, its backers are reluctant to predict just how far integration will go. Full economic integration is scheduled for 1966. A common currency is envisioned in five years.

Covers 200,000 Sq. Mi.

The five-country common market area covers some 200,000 square miles. The sea-horse-shaped territory, lying between Mexico and Panama, is mostly mountains. Arable land makes up only a small portion of the area.

The population, only 11,500,000, is engaged chiefly in farming. Chief dollar exports are coffee, cotton, sugar, bananas, shrimp, cocoa, and beef.

This type of agricultural economy makes the area vulnerable to usually fluctuating world prices. Industrialization is regarded as the only solution and it is the basic reason for the common market.

The way to achieve economic integration is thru the removal of import taxes on local goods and the imposition of high tariffs on imports from outside the market. This means manufacturers have to move

The Reign of the Auto

LANSING—Historians of the future will probably look back on the first half of the 20th Century as one of the most astonishing periods of all time.

This was the era when the automobile replaced the horse as man's best form of personal transportation.

In 1905, there were only 3,000 cars in Michigan. And they had to stick pretty close to home because of the condition of the roads. There were 68,000 miles of public roads in the state then, but 60,000 miles of them were officially designated as being made of sand or clay. And every traveler knew that sand and clay are some of the basic ingredients of mud.

But this was only the beginning. By 1920, there were 412,000 vehicles in the state—one for every 10 persons. Then came the big jump. Between 1920 and 1930, the number of vehicles more than tripled.

By 1930, registrations in Michigan had risen to 1,330,000—one passenger car for every four persons. There were 96,000 miles of roads in the state, of which 8,900 miles were state highways.

In 1940, there were a million and a half cars in the state. In 1950, there were 2,400,000—one car for every three persons.

Today, there are three and one-half million cars—one for every two and two-thirds persons.

Strangely enough, the boom in automobiles didn't produce the same kind of statistics for the road system.

Real progress shows up, not in the miles of roads, but in their quality.

In 1905, the state's road system included 60,000 miles of mud. Today, it's practically unheard of for anyone to get stuck in the mud on a public road. There were 96,000 miles of public roads in the state by 1930, and there are more than 111,000 miles today.

The state highway system has grown only about 400 miles in the last 30 years—from 8,900 miles in 1930 to its present 9,300 miles.

Seven years ago, the state highway system still included 800 miles of gravel road. The last mile was paved two years ago.

The biggest gain in highways has been in their type. Four-lane freeways were undreamed of in the 20's and 30's. Today, they're a necessity. Nearly every element of today's highways is bigger and better than 10, 20 or 30 years ago. They have to be to keep up with the ever increasing swarms of automobiles.

There's never been anything quite like what has happened in America in the last 50 years. And until everyone gets a space ship, there probably won't be again.

Ford Motor Company's Mount Clemens (Mich.) Chemical Products Plant can produce vinyl in more than 600 color and design combinations.

Price Index Up 1/3 Cent

The cost-of-living index rose three-tenths of a percentage point to 108 3-10 percent of the 1957-59 average, the Labor Department reported today.

July's increase was the largest monthly gain since the five-tenths rise in July 1963.

Sidney A. Jaffe, deputy assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, predicted "little or no change for August." "Food will level off or might even decline slightly," he said.

Sharp price increases for meat and fresh fruits and vegetables were primary factors in the July increase, it was reported.

Costs of transportation and medicine also rose while clothing, fuel and utilities were down.

Take-home pay averaged $92.18 for the worker with three dependents and $84.40 for the workers without dependents, the department said.

Show Most Initiative

Japanese investors have shown the most initiative in exploring the new market, bringing here a highly successful industrial exhibit.

Direct United States investment in the area is running at an estimated 400 million dollars—less than half what Americans have invested in Cuba before Castro.

Formidable obstacles confront the market. Reliable estimates indicate a third of the area's total population is living outside the general economy.

There also is a grave shortage of skilled labor and a lack of vocational schools. Political instability remains a huge question mark. At a higher level, market experts say, there's also a large gap in administrative skills. This is why the newly organized Central American Institute of Business Administration invited Harvard to conduct its six weeks course at Antigua, Guatemala.

Haste in Corn Dangerous

Drought stricken corn is causing headaches for farmers in some areas of Michigan and other states.

While grain and forage yields are expected to be low in these areas, farmers are also concerned that drought stricken corn silage may contain high levels of nitrates, say a pair of Michigan State University extension specialists. Low production, poor rate of gain, and other signs of possible nitrate poisoning of livestock could result.

Don Hillman, MSU dairy extension specialist, cautions farmers not to be too hasty in harvesting corn silage. "The moisture content of corn silage may remain high even though several leaves may have turned brown near the bottom of the stalk," he points out. "Harvesting of the corn containing excessive moisture could result in poor quality silage. Yields could increase by allowing more time for the plant to grow and ears to develop."

Better yet, much of the nitrate may disappear as a result of further plant growth and maturity.

Dr. Clifford Beck, veterinary medicine extension specialist at MSU, says high levels of nitrate in silage does not necessarily indicate the silage will cause problems.

"High levels of nitrates have been fed to cattle for long periods without any evidence of harmful effects in some experiments, while in other cases much lower levels have caused economic losses and cattle deaths," explains Beck.

New Shoes All Set to Be On the Go

For the Ivy-League man, boots in all heights appear to be favorites for the campus, with the ankle-boot that doubles as a shoe the favorite. This is often a two-eyelet tie boot with a soft crepe sole and heel. Boot colors are black and brass wax in smooth leathers, with carbon and other grays in shags.

Because of the natural shoulder and slim-trouser look there is no question but that the Ivy-Leaguer will turn to the more-shoe look such as the high-rising plain fronts that show off toe characteristics.

There's a decided new interest in brogues and the heavier-looking shoe. Slippers are expected to increase in popularity if for no other reason than that they are an easy-on-and-off shoe.

There is also the saddle oxford. These saddles are perforated to outline the saddle. New wingtip treatments are also gaining in popularity with young men. These are on flatter toes, with more recede and more flatness.

For college women, the Musketeer boot, which flares over the knee from an elastic bracelet just below the knee, is indicated as a big trend. These knee-high boots are in soft leather and come in a variety of colors. They follow naturally the campus trend of knee-length stockings.

The college miss also favors for fall the ankle boot which doubles as a shoe. Softness is the key for this type of unlined shoe-boot in combination suede and grained leather. The heel is usually stacked and about 9/8" in height. The boot is fastened with a big, bold buckle.

The shoe with wedge sole and heel also figures prominently in college wear. It, too, favors the tie, with variations in patterns that include a tiny T-strap, and another that uses two straps across a T, in a sandal effect, though both toe and heel are closed for winter wear.

With trends in campus clothes pointing toward capes and kilts, textured country stockings, colorful leather suits and coats, stretch pants with warm pull-down sweaters, campus footwear for young women will ride happily on mobile heels with a good deal of emphasis on the high shoe.

Another walk-a-mile version for the campus is the modified T-strap on a low stacked heel. "Perfs" outline the vamp and go around the shoe. Bold and brassy buckles high spot another trend to alligator calf on a high riding vamp with a set back 9/8 heel.

For off-campus wear, the college woman has a variety of selections to fit the lady-like look in fashion, including sling-backs, T-straps, pumps with square throat, open sides, and just-a-touch trims on pumps, including rhinestones at the low throatline or big buckles and tiny tassels.

Oldest Indian City Unearthed in Desert

NEW DELHI—Indian archeologists believe that they have discovered remains of the oldest civilization so far known in India.

They were excavating two mounds in the arid desert area at Balibangan, near the Rajasthan state border with Pakistan. First they found the remains of a major city of the Harappan, or Indus valley, civilization that existed from about 2500 B.C. to 1800 B.C.

Then came the big discovery — another civilized settlement under the first with a culture clearly distinct from the Harappan and believed to have flourished around 3000 B.C. This would make it the oldest-known civilized settlement in India.

The Kalibangan people lived in houses built of mud-bricks that were of set proportions, the length being one and a half times the breadth. Their community may have been destroyed by an earthquake, of which there are clear traces.

Work With Metals Shown They were able to work metals, as shown by the discovery of axes, bangles, pins and articles of bronze and copper. They are also small stone blades.

The civilization is believed to have existed on the banks of the legendary River Sarasvati, which is mentioned in the Vedas (ancient Hindu scriptures) as the most sacred river in the land.

The dried-up bed of a river is still there, and sometimes carries the floodwaters of the Ghaggar River from Junjab.

The Kalibangan site had been marked out for investigation as long ago as 1950, but actual excavation started only in the winter of 1960-61 under Dr.

B. Lal, director of the Indian School of Archeology.

Work has to be suspended during the fierce summer when temperatures in the area top 104 degrees Fahrenheit and dust storms rage.

Plans are being made to go down even deeper to see whether traces of even earlier settlements can be found. Kalibangan shows that there was strict town planning in which streets crisscrossed each other, running north-south and east-west. There was also an underground drainage system.

The Kalibangan finds may also help to solve the riddle of the script of the Indus civilization, which has puzzled archeologists since they brought to light the cities of Mohenjodaro and Harappa in the 1920's and 1930's.

There seem to be clear indications that the script read from right to left, although it is still not known whether it consisted of pictographs or alphabetical characters.

Mobile Tourist Unit Is Moved

The State Highway Department reported today that it has moved its Mobile Tourist Information Unit from Port Huron to a Rest Area on US-27 Freeway north of Clare.

The Mobile Unit will start operations in the Rest Area Wednesday and will remain there until Labor Day, Public Information Director John Murray said.

Murray said construction of I-94 near the approaches to the Blue Water Bridge at Port Huron forced the Mobile Unit to discontinue operations there.

STUNNED—Yogi Berra, manager of the New York Yankees, looks nothing less than stunned over the headlines telling him that his club has been sold to CBS.

ATTACKED, TIED, THROWN IN RIVER—Mrs. Beatrice Smith embraces daughter Kristin, 9, in South Bend, Ind., after the girl's rescue, bound hand and foot, from the St. Joseph River at nearby Niles, Mich. She said a man forced her into his car, drove to a field outside of town and attacked her twice, then tied her hands and ankles and threw her over a bridge. She managed to stay erect on a sand bar and scream for help. Bruce Dishman, 33, a tree trimmer, is shown under questioning in South Bend.

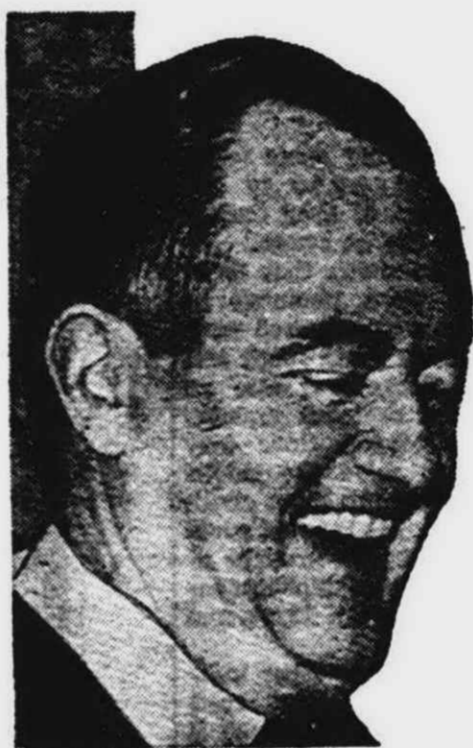

ALL BLUE—This racial demonstrator sees "all blue" in Paterson, N.J., during another night of bottle throwing, rock throwing and gasoline bomb throwing.

WORD FROM LBJ—Marilyn Mahoney, 13, reads to her beagle, Jezebel, in Columbia, S.C., a note addressed to the dog from President Johnson. Jezebel posed recently with a placard reading, "He may pull my ears but he'll never pull my leg. Vote LBJ." LBJ wrote, "This is a cheering piece of news which I shall pass along to Him and Her."

A PUT UP JOB—Michael Dunn, 3-foot-10, stands on a ladder to pose with Phoebe Dorn, 5-foot-2, in Hollywood as they consider getting married. He is a Broadway dramatic actor, and is on the coast for a role in "Ship of Fools." She is an off-Broadway actress.

ALL QUIET ON THE REGISTRATION FRONT—Two of the 43 Negroes who registered in eight formerly all-white schools in Jackson, Miss., walk in followed by their mother, with a policeman on the lookout for trouble. But no trouble occurred, not at any of the integrated schools, the first such in Mississippi, the last state to make an integration move.

SEE THE OLYMPIC GAMES AT HOME!—A technician checks the Syncom-3 communications satellite at Cape Kennedy, Fla., for the Aug. 19 launch to stationary orbit over the Pacific. Syncom-3 is supposed to relay live Olympic Games telecasts from Tokyo to U.S. Games take place Oct. 10-24.

BEN'S BLUE—Comedian Ben Blue is shown at court in Los Angeles, where he pleaded innocent to six charges of income tax evasion. Blue, 63, is under federal indictment on three counts of failing to report income of $45,946 for 1958-60, and on three counts of signing false corporate tax returns for those years.

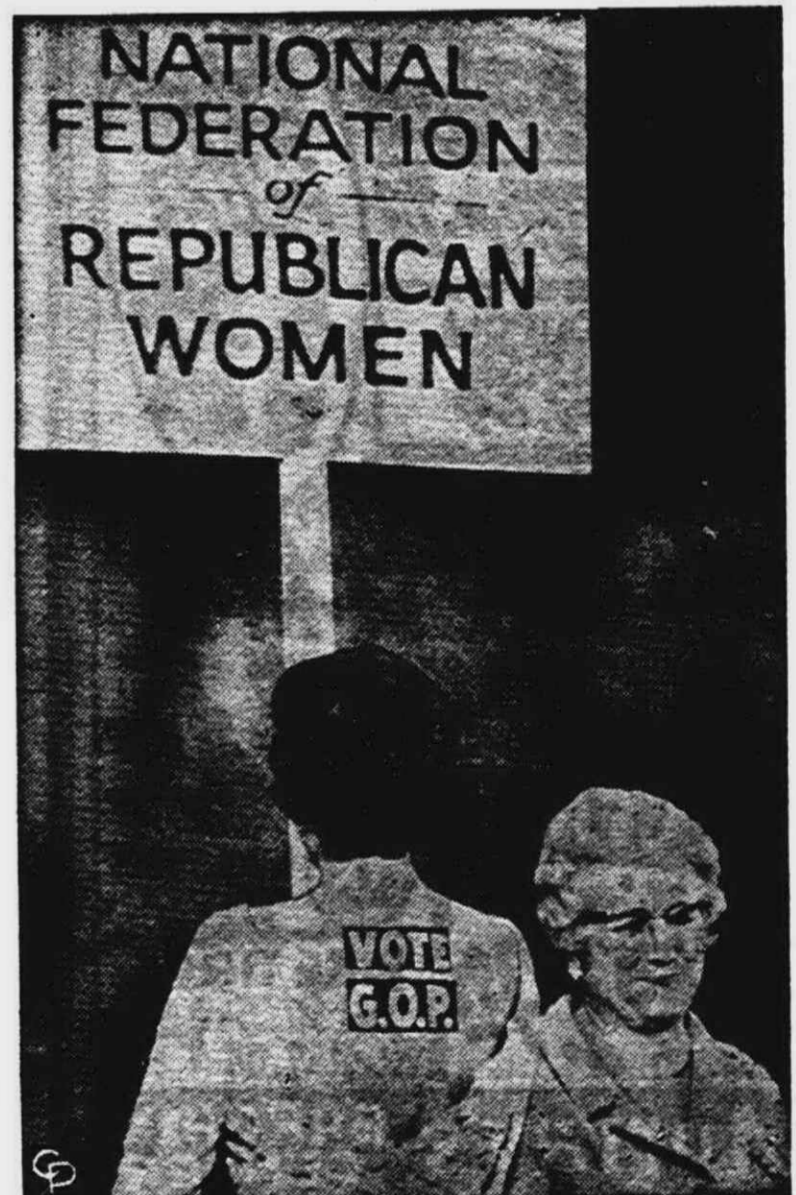

FANCYPANTS—Designer Eleanor Garnett gets into the pants trend with this catchy ensemble in Florence, Italy. The pants are of brilliant red faille, the bodice sequined.

SPACE LACE—Bikini-clad Low Anne Lee gives you a look at the netting developed by Goodrich in Akron, O., for use in space and missile research. It is coated to stop microwaves and thus help create an echo-free environment, such as in outer space.

PALE RED—Italian Communist Party boss Palmiro Togliatti (above) is reported seriously ill in the Soviet, where he went on a vacation.

GOP BACKER—The backing seems solid in this scene at the Cow Palace. The other woman is Mrs. Dorothy Elston, president of the National Federation of Republican Women.

IT'S A FACT

We get all kinds of trade-ins. As they come in, our mechanics put each one through a rigid 16-point safety and performance check. The ones that pass get the complete treatment. They're reconditioned, tuned up, tightened up, washed and polished, inside and out.

Whether they're Chevies, Fords, Coddies, or used VWs, every one has proved itself good enough to carry our reputation around in it. Trade-ins that don't pass the Exam? They don't even see our used car lot. We can't afford the luxury of selling anything but the best. Habit, you know.

VFW Units Second In Nationals

Outpointed by the narrowest of margins in the final judging, the men's color guard and ladies auxiliary drill team of Plymouth Mayflower Post 6695 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars had to be content with second place awards in the national championship last week in Cleveland.

The men's unit lost to Elmhurst, Ill. by a lone point, 90-89, in one of the closest duels in National VFW annals.

The ladies' auxiliary team was defeated by less than a half-point when the judges gave the nod to Milwaukee, Wis. by the margin of 87 to 86.55.

More than 50 members of the Mayflower Post, including the two teams, attended the convention. All came back happy over the second place finishes but moaning over the decision of the judges in such close races.

The color guard is made up of Officer of the Day Hal Young along with Ray Danol, Duane Johnson, Don Totten, Bill Kamen, Mel Krumm, Jack Olsaver and Eddie Olson.

The drill team is headed by Drill Master Dolly Bouterse and includes: Delores Olsaver, Betty Neal, Norma McKindles, Lorretta Young, Bernice Kopenski, Marian Skogland, Gertrude Danol, Eileen Williams, Lucy Johnson, Gerry Olson, Betty England and Norma Fletcher.

Plymouth PO Drivers Win Citation

Plymouth mail delivery carriers received high praise from Postmaster George Timpona for earning a safety citation from Chicago Regional Director, Donald L. Swanson.

The Postmaster advised his drivers that they had made a significant improvement in the safety record of the post office and also contributed to the local community safety effort.

As a basis for making the award, the Post Office Department reviews the accident experience of each postal installation having a fleet of five or more vehicles, and determines the winners on the basis of fewer accidents, lowered cost and a reduction in casualties.

Postmaster Timpona in accepting the award stated that he was pleased to receive it on behalf of all employees of his office, especially the drivers, whose record as a team was worthy of meritorious consideration by postal officials.

Plymouth Mayor Urges All to Join in Festival

In recognition of the importance of the Fall Festival to Plymouth, Mayor Richard Wernette Monday proclaimed the week of Sept. 7 through Sept. 13 as the Plymouth Community Fall Festival Week.

The Mayor urges every citizen of the community to join in the fun and work to insure a truly enjoyable Festival for our neighbors and friends.

The proclamation reads: "Whereas this Plymouth Community is planning its annual Fall Festival.

"Whereas the Fall Festival brings about a spontaneous effort on the part of business, industry and residents in order to provide a memorable occasion each year.

"I do hereby proclaim that the week of Sept. 7 to Sept. 13 be designated as the Plymouth Community Fall Festival Week and urge that every citizen of this Plymouth Community join in the fun and work to insure truly enjoyable Festival for our neighbors and friends."

A COLORFUL steam calliope, one of the few remaining in the United States, will brighten events at Plymouth's Fall Festival with appearances at Kellogg Park on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12 at 3 p.m. The calliope, mounted on a modern truck, is reminiscent of the old circus days and annually adds zest to the programs. It is the property of Detroit Edison and donated for the occasion by company officials.

Entertainment for All at Plymouth Fall Festival

Plymouth is making plans to host the greatest crowds in the history of the annual Fall Festival, Sept. 10 through Sept. 13 and judging from the entertainment listed for the four-day show, it deserves the billing of the biggest and best ever.

Members of the Fall Festival Executive Committee, headed by Margaret Wilson and James Thorton, are predicting more than 25,000 will be in the community during the four days with a record shattering 15,000 anticipated for the big wind-up—the Rotary Club's chicken barbecue Sunday afternoon and early evening.

The major events for each of the days are:

Thursday, Sept. 10—Lions' Club old fashioned melon and ice cream social, with some 2,500 expected.

Friday, Sept. 11—Plymouth Jaycees outdoor fish dinner to which an estimated 5,000 are anticipated.

Saturday, Sept. 12—Kiwanis Club pancake festival in the Masonic Temple, with more than 3,000 dining.

Sunday, Sept. 13—Rotary Club chicken barbecue which is expected to draw as many as 15,000 from all surrounding communities.

One of the features of the entire program is the colorful Pageant of Drums sponsored by Mayflower Post 6695 of the VFW on the Plymouth High athletic field Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

Members of the Post believe they have arranged a two-hour program that will outshine last year's presentation which was hailed as one of the most spectacular ever staged in the area.

To put the crowd in a mood for the big musicale, the various bands will complete in a brass quartet contest from the portable bandshell at 5 p.m.

This will be followed by a parade of all units to the high school at 6:30 with the Pageant slated to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Hal Young, chairman of the committee in charge of the Pageant, has signed five drum and bugle corps and two precision drill teams for the program.

The list includes: the Madison Heights Marauders, Wyandotte Royal Lancers, Port Clinton (O.) Vacation Land Sweethearts, Bellefontaine (O.) Angels, and the Grand Rapids Green Hornets.

The precision units are: Pontiac Rae-Vens and the Romulus CAP Cadets.

Auxiliary Plans Get-Together

The Auxiliary of Plymouth State Home and Training School, Sheldon Road at Five Mile, is planning a "Get Acquainted Coffee Hour" to be held in the hospital-administration building Thursday, Sept. 17, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

This informal get-together is being provided as an opportunity for all interested persons to become better acquainted with the varied programs and volunteer services offered to the training school's nine hundred retarded children.

The program will include a welcoming address by the Administrative Assistant, George Ebling, Jr., a colored slide presentation by William Boyd, Community Relations Director, and a brief ceremony recognizing the outstanding faithful service of 24 volunteers.

Engineers' Goof Threatens Project

(Continued from Page 1) ing Camp Plymouth on the site of the Beck Road well field. "I feel this area can be developed into a beautiful recreation area, especially for swimming and will eliminate the need for an expensive pool constructed with public funds or by a concerted effort on the part of taxpayers."

Vallier was named to a committee, including James Jabara and George Lawton, to make a complete study of the proposal and report back to the Commission during the winter.

Mayor Richard Wernette

and Vallier requested a complete report from the City Manager and Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher for reasons explaining why the north side fire station was closed when the new facilities became available in the City Hall.

Both protested that the move would leave that area without protection should a train block the crossings leading to the north side.

The report will be made at the Commission's Sept. meeting.

Bert Whalen, representative of the State Office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, gave a lengthy talk on the value and need of the work training program for school dropouts and urged the City to join in the movement.

He told of the provisions of a recent act by the legislature which provides for $10 per week for the trainee provided it is matched by a local governmental unit.

Commissioner Robert Smith and Wernette recommended that the City make arrangements for two situations. However, after considerable dis-ussion, it was decided to withhold a decision until the next meeting when Smith and DPW Supt. Joseph Bida will work on a report showing the need of such a project in city departments.

Mayor Wernette and City Clerk Richard Shafer were given the authority to sign an agreement with Pennercraft Corp. for the purchase of a site in the Industrial Park.

In other actions, the Commission:

Approved the Fall Festival plan and program.

has any adult tickets in this six months, the Secretary of State will know it, and on those cases where there have been tickets during the six months period, the Secretary of State will request the Juvenile's traffic record from Juvenile Court. Some formula can then be developed as to whether or not he gets a new license and when.

"The point is this. Only seven percent of juvenile drivers are chronic violators (those who get three or more moving violations a year). These are the ones we want to nail.

"I believe that the first year of driving should be considered a very special privilege and that Juvenile Court should adopt a policy of longer suspension than adult cases. I believe that there can be devised some sort of a "provisional license set-up" for juveniles that may be better than putting them under the point system.

"I have not worked out all the details of this proposal and, therefore, I have made no public statement."

"Be Careful, Not Sorry" Urges State Police

School Openings Bring Warning to Drivers

With the reopening of Michigan elementary and secondary schools bringing 2.2 million children into weekday traffic, motorists are again reminded by the State Police to exercise increased care in protecting the students and rural school buses from involvement in accidents. Particular alertness should be shown the "first-timers," about 200,000 youngsters are entering school initially this fall who still have to learn school safety routines and will not yet be as fully aware of traffic hazards as are older students.

State Police records show three persons were killed and 419 injured in 569 rural school bus and related type accidents in Michigan in 1963, respective increases of one, 73 and 15 compared with the 1962 figures. The three killed were drivers of vehicles which collided with school buses.

Records for last year also show that 115 of the 351 pedestrians and 24 of the 32 bicyclists killed in traffic accidents were under 15 years of age.

Continuing increases in accident exposure factors add to the concern for the safety of school children. During the 1963-64 school year 590,000 pupils were carried daily in 7,350 buses for a total of 71 million miles.

These represented gains of 54,000 children, 150 buses and three million in mileage over the 1962-63 period.

New annual records were set in 1963 as motor vehicle registrations increased to 3,646,000 and total estimated mileage for all motor vehicles climbed to 35.6 billion.

Michigan law requires motorists to stop when overtaking or meeting a rural school bus which is stopped to load or unload passengers. On divided highways where there is a physical barrier or median separating the two roadways a motorist need not stop when the stopped bus is in the opposite roadway.

In cities and villages such motorist stops for buses also need not be made unless required by ordinance with signs posted to this effect. At intersections controlled by a police officer or a traffic stop and go signal motorists may pass a loading or unloading bus but with caution and at a speed no faster than 10 miles an hour. Despite continuing safety efforts of parents, school authorities and bus drivers, experience indicates that actions of children walking to or from school or going to or disembarking from school buses are unpredictable. This places an increased burden on motorists to be constantly alert to take any action necessary to avoid accidents which might involve the children.

German Youth to Reside in Livonia

Coming to Livonia under the sponsorship of the Michigan Council of Churches will be young Ray Schuster from Hamburg, Germany.

My parents and I were very glad and lucky and I could see tears standing in my mother's eyes. I don't know what tears they were: tears of luck because THE address was here, or tears of sorrow because soon she has to give me away. Soon I will come to you and I want to thank you that you want an exchange student, that you want me. What is a teen-age exchange program when there is no family who wants an exchange student? So please accept my warmest thanks.

Until the next letter I want to say hello to you and everyone belonging to your family, and please excuse my mistakes. With kindest regards, Ray

GROUNDBREAKING ceremonies were held last Sunday for St. Matthew's Methodist and E.U.B. Church at the site of 30900 West Six Mile Road. The new $350,000 building, one of the largest new constructions built for a church in Livonia, will seat 550 in the sanctuary, will have a church school wing of 15 classrooms and a fellowship hall which will accommodate over 400, a choir rehearsal room for 50, a large nursery for preschoolers, a fully equipped kitchen, plus a library and private offices. A bell tower, chapel and additional classrooms will be built in the future. Livonia architect William P. Lindhout designed the building. Rev. John N. Grenfell and Rev. James A. Lange are the church pastors.

The program called "Youth for Understanding" is a teen-age exchange program supported by Protestant churches. Ray will be attending Bentley High School and will stay in the home of Mayor and Mrs. Harvey Moelke of Livonia. The following is an excerpt from Ray's statement applying to being an exchange student. "In the last years I began to be critical not only at other persons, but also at me. Inspired by the school, I try to settle a matter with the disappearance of individualism. I began to read good books and to go to the theatre. I think that this disappearance of individualism is a great danger and to know whether it is acute in the U.S.A. too. "As America is the first country, where the idea of freedom and variety of all people is realized, I think it will be most interesting to see the U.S.A. and learn more about the country." The following is a letter received by the Moelke family on August 5, 1964. My Dear Foster Parents: I've received a letter today with an address, your address! I thought that it was my birthday I've had not so long ago.

RAY SCHUSTER and his parents from Hamburg, Germany.

Class For Lutherans Open To Community

An instruction class for people interested in the faith of the Christian Church as confessed by Lutherans began last Thursday evening at All Saints Church, Joy and Newburgh in Livonia.

Pastor Dale Krueger, in teaching this "Pastor's Class," covers the main teachings of the church in a two hour weekly session over the period of four months. Although primarily for those who are preparing for membership in the congregation, it is open to all who are interested. You can still join this present class. Call the church, GA 7-9575, for more information.

American Baptists Meet In Wisconsin

GREEN LAKE, Wis. — Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Slawson and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanaford attended the 1964 National Bible Conference at the American Baptist Assembly, Green Lake, Wisconsin.

All are members of Northwestern Baptist Church, 19421 West 10 Mile Road. "Entrusted with the Word" is the theme of the conference which features five outstanding Bible scholars.

Dr. Clarence Jordan, director of Koinonia Farms, Americus, Georgia, Dr. William W. Adams, professor, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, Dr. Robert Unmack, professor, Central Baptist Theological Seminary, Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, resident lecturer in preaching, Crozer, Theological Seminary, and Dr. Robert C. Campbell, dean, California Baptist Theological Seminary were the conference leaders.

Science Services: Uplifting of Mind

States and stages of human progress will be explored in the Bible Lesson on "Man" at all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Bible selections will include the following from Romans (ch. 12): "Be not conformed to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include these lines (p. 296): "Progress is born of experience. It is the ripening of mortal man, through which the mortal is dropped for the immortal. Either here or hereafter, suffering or Science must destroy all illusions regarding life and mind, and regenerate material sense and self. The old man with his deeds must be put off."

Baptism at Christ Lutheran Church

Pastor Clarence Beireis, of Christ Lutheran Church, baptized into the holy faith, Jeffrey Ronald Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hastings of Elmhurst, Illinois. The mother of Jeffrey was Jeanette Bango before her marriage and was a Sunday School teacher at Christ Church before moving to Illinois. Sponsors were Jo Ann Alm and Clayton O. Zimmerman.

Don't expect to become famous by basking in the shade of a fine old family tree.

Clarenceville Welcomes Teachers With Pre-School Workshop

The Clarenceville School District will welcome its teaching staff back to school on Tuesday, Sept. 8, with a pre-school workshop and luncheon at the Senior High School.

The staff will meet with members from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Lecture-Demonstration team. The space and aeronautics experts will bring with them scale models of nearly every space satellite presently in the plans of the United States Government.

In addition N.A.S.A. experts will show and demonstrate mechanical and electronic devices used in the complicated field of space exploration.

The workshop will be presented in three general areas. The opening lecture-demonstration will be a team presentation designed to answer the following five basic questions:

1. What is a satellite?
2. How does it get into orbit?
3. What keeps it in orbit?
4. What good is it and what does it do?
5. What are the present activities of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the results of these programs and plans for the future?

Following the program the staff will meet in elementary and secondary groups to hear separate lectures. The elementary teachers topic will be "Communication Satellites" while the secondary staff will hear about "Space Biology." These group meetings will again be led by N.A.S.A. officials.

The third general area will be the luncheon meeting at which the staff will join with N.A.S.A. members at the high school. The luncheon will close with the final lecture of the day entitled "Sociological Ramifications of Space Activity."

The workshop has been coordinated by Mrs. Lydia Lear, Curriculum Coordinator for Clarenceville Schools.

In order to provide this program at this time, preliminary work began during March of this year. This promises to be one of the most interesting pre-school workshops ever presented for the Clarenceville teachers.

The workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 8, at the Senior High School, 1000 W. 6 Mile Rd., Livonia.

The luncheon will be held from 12:30 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the Senior High School, 1000 W. 6 Mile Rd., Livonia.

The luncheon will be held from 12:30 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the Senior High School, 1000 W. 6 Mile Rd., Livonia.

DPW News And Notes In Plymouth

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA
Plymouth DPW

The past week found the department of public works busy installing two 1½" water taps on Coolidge, also two 8" Sanitary Sewer Taps for apartments that are going to be built there.

Also, the DPW handled one funeral at Riverside Cemetery and mowed and trimmed grass. All streets were patched, holes along the shoulders of streets were filled in with stabilized gravel.

Many hours were spent getting the Kellogg Park ready for the Fall Festival; meter posts in downtown area are being painted. Parks and playgrounds were mowed and cleaned up. Parking lots were patched.

The department moved into its new office at 975 Arthur street.

The water meter department is also operating from the new building.

The downtown business area was swept three times. No parking signs were installed in front of the new City Hall.

Gay Brothers are progressing very well on the water main project. The contractors putting in new water taps has started this work on Starkweather.

New Teachers Meet Sept. 4 In Clarenceville

New faces will be seen around the Clarenceville Schools on Friday, Sept. 4. That is the day when all new teachers will report to the high school library for the pre-school workshop.

The morning will be devoted mainly to the introduction of school personnel and their various positions and responsibilities. It will also offer the new people a chance to get acquainted with one another.

Tentative plans are for the afternoon to be spent in the respective buildings discussing the coming school year with the building principals.

These new staff members will then join with returning personnel on Tuesday, Sept. 8, for the special National Aeronautics and Space Administration workshop at the high school.

He has been active in community projects since moving to the area and took part in municipal affairs which led to the incorporation of the City of Livonia in 1950. He is a former secretary of the Zoning Boards of Appeals, a past chairman of the Mayor's Advisory Board, has served on the Planning Commission and as chairman of the Livonia Civil Service Commission.

He and his wife, Leone, plan to move from their present home at 1600 Oak Drive to Tampa, Fla., shortly.

It's America's workers, our greatest resource, who have made possible both the Freedom and Prosperity we enjoy today. In times of war, our workers have exchanged their tools for weapons to protect us, while their fellows produced the materials they needed to defeat our enemies. In times of peace, their skills have brought us the blessings of the highest standard of living the world has ever known. Their work has contributed mightily to the progress that has made this country "first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of its countrymen". Like all America, we pay tribute to them on their day... and pledge our continued effort to serve them in OUR work to the very best of our ability.
