Work on Water Tank Halted by "Loose" Sand

Council Seeks Answer to Reservoir, City Hall Snarls

Plymouth's City Commission Monday discovered it has two snarls on its two building projects to iron out before additional work is done on either one.

For the better part of two weeks, the Commissioners have been aware of a "goof" at the new reservoir where the contractor, Pre-Load Inc. of Westbury, N.Y., ran into unstable soil conditions that caused the firm to halt operations until a solution is worked out.

The city's consulting engineers, Johnson and Anderson, admitted two weeks back that it had erred in not taking borings at the site. It had borings from the first site selected by the city but neglected to take second tests when the reservoir was moved some 600 feet south.

Monday night, Renee Peters, J. & A. engineer in charge of the project, told the Commission that it would cost an additional $7,000 to $10,000 to correct the loose-sand situation and give the reservoir a firm base.

He recommended a change order for a surcharge operation that would furnish a test of the land by loading the foundation, which is already down, with a weight equal to that of the reservoir plus water.

But he ran into a snag when City Attorney Edward Draugelis charged that the city had been damaged to the extent of the cost of the change order and urged the Commission to arrange a meeting with J&A officials and the attorney to reach a financial understanding.

After considerable discussion, the Council voted for a meeting with the entire Commission sitting in along with Draugelis and City Manager Albert Glassford.

Draugelis charged that the error in not taking borings, which may have eliminated the trouble, rested on the shoulders of J&A. He recommended to the Commission that it take action to force a showdown on who is to pay the additional costs.

The Commission had hardly reached a decision on that matter when it learned the extension of Church Street alongside of the City Hall to replace Dodge Street is almost 25 feet out of alignment.

As the situation now stands with most of the concrete curbing down, a driver going down Church Street would have to swerve as much as 25 feet to continue and the same would be true of motorists approaching in the opposite direction.

With a deadline of Sept. 30 for completion of the City Hall project, the Commissioners face a real problem in solving the matter.

Fills At-Large Unexpired Term

Name Sam Hudson To College Board

Sam Hudson, prominent Plymouth civic and service club leader and public relations and advertising director of the Evans Products Co., has been appointed to the unexpired at-large term to the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

The appointment was announced by Harold Fischer, of Plymouth, Board Chairman of the community college.

Hudson replaces Charles Kirkpatrick, who resigned in June when he moved out of the college district to Birmingham. Kirkpatrick's term expires in 1969 but Hudson will have to run for election for the remaining four years next June.

The popular Plymouth resident was sworn in last week and made a tour of the college campus for the first time last Friday accompanied by College President Dr. Eric Bradner.

The appointment was made by the Trustees in their regular meeting last Wednesday. They had been studying several candidates for the past three months.

Hudson, past president and a leader of the Plymouth Rotary Club, received his bachelor's degree from New York University and a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University last June.

He is a member of the

Out in the northern sector of Farmington Township is one of the most eye-attractive high school buildings in our suburban area. The architect designed an exterior view based on the color harmony of yellow and black, with the yellow being in hard enameled panels and some of the darker shades in large, stained panes of glass across the front of the building.

The dark-toned glass is unusual and obviously was put into the building both as a striking bit of color design and as a screen against the hot and bright rays of the sun.

The whole idea is somewhat separate from the "typical" high school look and if Facts and Opinions had been voting with the school board, we'd have voted "yes" for the design four times out of four, because the idea is attractive and "different."

Alas, if one is today driving out past North Farmington High School, and looks over the front of the building, there will be the shock of discovering that most of the large, tinted panes of glass (and obviously expensive stuff, as glass goes) have been repaired by slabs of plywood. The wooden veneer covers up holes in the unique glass, fractures made by rock-slinging young scholars of the area.

North Farmington is one of the highest-income communities in this whole area served by Observer Newspapers. It is loaded with successful and cultured parents, and their offspring. Yet . . .

There are school officials who insist that the amount of vandalism and destruction to school buildings is in direct ratio to the amount of wealth and "culture" in the community—the "better" the community, the more the destruction, that is . . . the more vicious the youngsters.

Facts and Opinions believes it, too. The reasons could be set down, but that would be another opus in itself. We wonder if any of the readers take a contrary position?

With the hoop-de-doo of a national election rampant, and after having spent a couple of days at a state political convention, The Editor is mentally weary with politics . . . it's not a permanent condition, but it happens every so often . . . sort of a rest period kind-of-thing where energy rebuilds.

One of the most discouraging single elements of politics and government is the complete cynicism of those who would seek public office. The higher we go, and the more we see, the more it appears that there is nothing

VFW Post Sees 'Red' In Pageant

Members of the state championship Color Guard of Mayflower Post 6695 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are seeing red these days—red from a deficit incurred in sponsoring the second annual Pageant of Drums a week ago as one of the features of Plymouth's traditional Fall Festival.

The Pageant, generally hailed as one of the most outstanding events of the Festival, fell $15.60 short of meeting the $1,134.60 needed to crack the nut (make expenses).

The committee of 18, comprising practically every member of the Color Guard, worked tirelessly to promote a "family" type of entertainment to the residents of the Plymouth Community and felt they had attained their goal with the tremendous show.

Everything went along smoothly—everything but the cash box which showed the deficit when all of the tickets were counted. Total receipts were $1,119 while the expenses for the various units, insurance and the athletic field totaled $1,134.60.

A year ago, the Pageant, which was held on Sunday night instead of Saturday as this year, realized a $400 profit. Members of the committee in charge feel it could be a success again if staged in the afternoon.

Chairman Hal Young indicated that since the Pageant was strictly for entertainment that it couldn't possibly conflict with the food sales of other service groups.

He pointed out that the future of the Pageant hinges on the arrangements that can be worked out with the Fall Festival executive committee for 1965.

Ash New Plan Bd. Secretary

Russell Ash, 11816 Brownell, was elected secretary of the Plymouth Township planning commission in last week's regular meeting. He succeeds Arthur Haeske, who resigned in June when he moved to a new home in the City of Plymouth.

Chrysler Corporation, which has long expressed a desire to build a dealership and service building in the Township, presented preliminary plans for a structure to be located at the southwest corner of Ann Arbor and Lilley Roads.

The plans were approved by the Commission.

The board also approved preliminary plans for the 296-unit Cambridge Village subdivision on Eckels Road between Ann Arbor and Joy Roads and for the eight-unit Marmion Hills subdivision on the east side of Beck Road north of N. Territorial Road.

Commissioner Tivador Balogh made the only "No" vote on the Marmion Hills proposal in a poll of the Board.

The Board recommended final approval of plans for the Forshee subdivision after the developers made corrections in the subdivision restrictions as requested by the commission in its August meeting.

In other action, the commission:

Accepted for study a request from Robert Willoughby for rezoning 13.4 acres in Sec. 19 from agricultural to R-3 Trailer Court. The land is adjacent to the present trailer court site.

Tabled requests from the Gould Development Co., a report from the Greenspan Garden Apartments, and a proposed plan for Arbor Village No. 4 from Kaufman and Broad until Sept. 23.

Tabled action on the Ten Mile Lakes Building Company proposal when no one was on hand to represent the developers.

was appointed to the Board last week to fill the vacancy created when Charles Kirkpatrick, of Livonia, moved out of the college district.

Old Fashioned Auction Saturday

There'll be fun for all, excellent dining at the traditional Roast Beef dinner on Sunday afternoon and a chance to participate in an Old Fashioned Country Auction Saturday afternoon when Our Lady of Good Counsel Church stages its third annual Country Fair on Sunday and Saturday.

Members of the 1,300-family parish have been working on plans for the annual event for weeks and believe this year's two-day affair will be the most successful thus far.

Bozo the Clown, of television and radio fame, will be on hand to entertain the kiddies on both days.

Added to the Country Fair, and the reason for extending it to two days, is the Old Fashioned Auction, Saturday at 1 p.m. with Ross Fulton as the auctioneer.

Parishioners have donated hundreds of articles to be placed on the block including several antiques, according to co-chairman Mrs. Rita Hol-

The list includes: several antique lamps, an oldtime organ, picture frames, ancient chairs, unusual glassware, a sewing table, desk and a beautiful tapestry.

Plymouth City, Township Clerks, Slate Plans For Vote Registration

With a deadline of Monday, Oct. 5, at 8 p.m. for voter registrations for the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 3, Richard Shafer, City Clerk of Plymouth, and John McEwen, Plymouth Township clerk, warned electors to register now and make certain of the right to vote.

Each will accept registrations during the regular office hours and each will keep his office open until 8 p.m. on Oct. 5.

Shafer's office is in the new City Hall on Main Street and McEwen is quartered in the Township Hall on Ann Arbor Road near Lilley Road.

In addition to registrations during regular hours, Shafer will have a crew of workers on hand on Thursday, Oct. 1 and Friday, Oct. 2 from 5 to 8 p.m.; Saturday, Oct. 3, from 8 a.m. to noon; and Monday, Nov. 5, 5 to 8 p.m.

Qualifications for registration are: applicant must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age on election day, a resident of the City of Plymouth or Plymouth Township for at least 30 days prior to the election and a resident of the state of Michigan for at least six months before the election. Naturalized citizens must present their citizenship papers at the time of registration.

Qualified electors, who are now properly registered, will not have to re-register.

COMPLETING plans for the third annual Country Fair and Old Fashioned Auction at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church Saturday and Sunday afternoons are (from left) Mrs. Margie Voss, 1402 Beech, chairman of the Post Office Booth; Mrs. Rita Holland, 41109 Bruce, chairman of the Auction on Saturday; and Mrs. Ann Fleckenstein, 9438 Southworth, co-chairman of the auction.

Plymouth Legion Hosts Kiwanians

Passage-Gayde Post 391, of the American Legion, and the Auxiliary, will host the Plymouth Kiwanis Club Saturday in the resumption of the "Why Are We?" series.

The program was started a year ago with the goal of inviting the various service, civic, fraternal and religious groups of the community to a meeting for an exchange of aims, purposes and participation in community affairs.

Walter Gemperline, immediate past president and presently Lieutenant Governor of Division Six of the Michigan Kiwanis Club, will speak for the Kiwanians.

Giles A. Reeve, of Ecorse, who served as state commander of the Legion in 1957-58, will talk for the Legionnaires.

Others expected to attend are: State Commander Duane Brigstock of Battle Creek, State Publicity Director Neil Bertram, Director of the VIP of the 20 and 4 Mrs. Dorothy Koi, and Gilbert Rohde, 17th District Committeeman.

Good Counsel Starts Work On New Lot

Although construction of the proposed new church building for Our Lady of Good Counsel parish is still some time away, workers Monday started the task of razing two homes on Williams Street for the new church parking lot.

The homes across the street from the present church structure, will be razed as quickly as possible with the goal of having the blacktop lot available for the third annual Country Fair on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings.

The dwellings were vacated more than a week ago.

Present plans for the new church call for construction of the building on the present parking lot site with the current structure to be used as a school auditorium.

Although no definite information is available, it is believed work on the new church will start shortly after the first of the year.

Around Plymouth With Ellie GL 3-3267 (Call Ellie to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

It is not too late for the whole community to offer a hearty vote of thanks to Margaret Wilson, Jim Thornton, and their Fall Festival Board for their labors.

Tried to pin down Margaret Wilson to name names, but she said there were so many people who worked together, a spur-of-the-moment list might omit someone.

Visitors from "Down Under"

A chance meeting on a flight from Sydney, Australia to Hong Kong five months ago led to the Plymouth visit of Mr. and Mrs. John Anker and their daughter Jill last weekend.

The Ankers, who are on the last leg of a six-month tour around the world, live in Wellington, New Zealand.

The roses are at their peak in December. Asked about their socialist government, he said they live in a welfare state, but he does not approve of it because it takes something away from individual initiative.

The family travels took them behind the Iron Curtain into East Germany and Czechoslovakia.

How did they find conditions in Czechoslovakia? They all agreed on just one word—drab. Drab clothing, drab buildings, a drab, sad country.

Plymouth 'Y' Plans 'Gas' Alley

A unique Gasoline Alley, at which young adults in the Plymouth Community will have an opportunity to do their own work on cars or household appliances, will be sponsored by the Plymouth YMCA early in October.

Action establishing the Gasoline Alley was directed by the "Y" Board of Directors in a meeting last week. The project will be set up in the B building of Eckles Fuel and Oil Co. on Holbrook at the railroad track.

It will be under the direction of Chairman Harold Guenther, Greg Dean and Kal Jabara, all Board members of the "Y".

The 2,500 square foot building will be available for use in late October according to present plans. The "Y" will furnish a director to aid in any problems with cars but other than that it will be a do-it-yourself project with the young adults doing their own work.

Gene Crosby and George Lawton are working with the Directors to secure proper tools and other equipment needed for the project.

The "Y" is also studying the possibility of a drop-in center for Young Adults in following recommendations of the Eckstein report to the Plymouth Community Fund more than a year ago.

And the Directors are studying a Graduation night program for next June to which all members of the Plymouth High senior class will be invited.

The event will be patterned after the successful programs staged last June by the Ann Arbor YMCA and by a parents' group in Northville.

DPW News and Notes

By Supt. Joseph Bida Plymouth DPW

The past week found the Department of Public Works busy cleaning up from the Fall Festival. Also, a sanitary sewer was dug up at 364 Adams Street.

The stumps were removed on Coolidge Street and gravel was spread on Coolidge getting ready for stabilization. The Beck Road and Six Mile Road wild fields were mowed.

The Public Works Department received notices of persons who have trees with Dutch Elm disease. These trees will have to be removed within ten days.

The water main installation on various streets is progressing well. The following streets have been completed with new water mains installed: Starkweather, Hardenberg, York, Liberty, Blanche, Ann, N. Territorial, Fair, Fairground and Amelia.

Water has been put into the main and pressure testing has been approved. New water taps will have to be installed, old mains will have to be disconnected and old hydrants will have to be removed.

Gay Bros. Construction Company is ahead of schedule and doing a good job. As soon as taps are in sidewalks will be installed.

So if people on streets where the water mains are being installed do not see any action for a couple of days please do not worry because the construction company only gets money on work completed and I am sure they will do all in their power to complete the work on time.

UNUSUAL display of the United States Constitution and books relating to the Constitution was set up in Plymouth High School by members of the government and history classes in commemoration of Constitution Week, Sept. 17 to Sept. 23.

Buys Last Good Industrial Park Site

Thermax Plans Expansion

Acreage in Plymouth's Industrial Park practically vanished Monday night when the city commission approved sale of 1.50 acres to Thermax Corp. for an 8,000 square foot plant to be started in early 1965.

President Ben Mill, who purchased land in the Park last spring for a 20,000-square foot plant which is now in operation, indicated the new expansion will bring 25 to 50 workers into the area.

"We are leasing a building in Detroit at the moment," he said, "but the lease expires within a few months and we decided we liked the enthusiasm of the Plymouth community and will move the operation to this area."

Mill said that he will have architects start work on plans for the new building as quickly as possible but that construction will be delayed until after the first of the year.

The Thermax expansion is the fifth plant to move into the Industrial Park in less than five months.

The list includes: Thermax with its original plant; E&E Manufacturing, Standards Inc., Parker-Hannifin and now a second plant for Thermax.

BOZO THE CLOWN will feature the two-day Country Fair of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church Saturday and Sunday, entertaining the kiddies on each of the afternoons. The Fair will take place on the Church parking lot and in the recreation room.

various booths will be in operation in the church parking lot and in the recreation room. These include: Post Office, Country Store, Religious Goods, and numerous other booths with rides for the kiddies in the parking lot where Bozo will entertain.

Sunday's program will feature the Roast Beef dinner starting at noon and continuing until 6 p.m. All the booths and games will be in operation throughout the afternoon.

The two-day event is in charge of General Chairman Lorraine Thuer with Donald Gray serving as chairman of the men's committee.

Other chairmen are: Post Office, Mrs. Margie Voss; Needlework and Gifts, Mrs. John Maloney and Mrs. John Herb; Cake Walk, Mrs. T. Linesty and Mrs. John LaGrow; Religious Goods, Mrs. Ann Pangburn; Country Store, Mrs. Esten Gray; Trading Stamps, Mrs. R. DeRosia, and Publicity, Mrs. Aiden Broderick.

which most politicians won't try to attain some office or position of political influence. There just are no rules—even less than one finds in the boxing ring, where a Marquis of Queensbury somehow long ago got some kind of code established.

In politics, when the going gets really tough, there seems to be no rule except that the end justifies any means, right through deceit, bribery, blackmail, or whatever.

Anyway, it was soothing to find on the office desk upon return last Sunday a bulletin from The Christophers, a rather unusual religious effort headed by a Catholic priest. Every so often they publish a "Christopher News Notes" and this week it happened to be in the form of 19 "Tips" on "How to Improve Your Government."

These "Christopher News Notes" invariably strike hard in urging individual responsibility, which is why they always are read here rather than dispatched to the waste basket, with most press releases.

Among the "19 Tips" were such as "Do Your Own Thinking—it is between you and your own conscience—between you and God . . . no book, no rallies ever can substitute for the selecting of competent public officials that each person can and should do for himself."

The "Tips" also cover such gentle and obvious things as "Vote at Every Election," "Begin in Your Own Precinct," "Keep Informed," etc. They are vital, if not startling, but we'd dwell on a couple of other ideas:

"Be Willing to Suffer—Few people realize that the signers of the Declaration of Independence risked misunderstanding, hostility, loss of property, danger to loved ones and life itself in order to establish a firm foundation for freedom for ages to come. Ask yourself what you are willing to suffer to protect and extend the God-given liberties that they worked so hard to secure . . ."

"Are you willing to 'lose' for yourself and 'win' for everybody by your unceasing effort to revitalize every phase of government? . . ."

"Keep This a Nation Under God—Remember this warning uttered by William Penn: ' . . . those who are not governed by God will be governed by tyrants . . . focus attention on the sublime truth of the Declaration of Independence: 'All men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights' . . . this means 'Men derive their rights directly from God; the authority of all government comes from the Lord by way of the people; the function of government, consequently, is to act as the agent of the people in securing their God-given rights and in promoting the general welfare.'"

The "Christopher News Notes" also has a table of questions wherein one can determine if they "Really Know the Candidates." It is a questionnaire put together by someone who knows the problem.

Facts and Opinions has come to the end of the column. The Christophers say they'll mail the "Notes" to anyone who writes 16 E. 48th St., New York 10017, and we'd like to think most of our readers would get themselves upon the mailing list.

The Commission tossed the controversial Fire Department protection item back into the laps of the City Administration by voting that the matter be referred to Glassford and Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher to determine whether the full-time firemen are sent back to the North Side station or kept in the new quarters in the City Hall.

The Kiwanians were treated to a display of what the well-dressed high school football player wears as the feature of the annual fall sports program last Tuesday.

Lyons and Capt. Gary Grady, of the Plymouth High team, presented the demonstration.

Grady told the Kiwanians it cost PHS from $75 to $80 to properly outfit a player with the necessary equipment. The list includes: hip and shoulder pads, thigh guards, knee pads, shirt, pants, shoes, helmets and teeth protectors.

The teeth protectors, made of plastic, nylon, fibers, insulate rubber and styrofoam, are supplied at cost of $1.50 by members of the Plymouth Dental Association.

Bob Taylor, of the U.S. Truck Co., will speak on Transportation at the Sept. 29 meeting and Carl Pursell and members of the Key Club will have charge of the Oct. 6 program.

Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington Will Share In Motor Vehicle License Fund

Livonia was one of 13 Michigan communities to pick up more than a half-million dollars from the Michigan Motor Vehicle Highway Fund this year, while Plymouth received $64,061, and Farmington got $50,987.

Livonia's share amounted to $523,690, the 13th highest portion carved out of a $244,414,480 pie made up of State gasoline tax and license plate receipts for the year ending June 30.

The total represented a hike of 8 1/2 per cent compared to $225,245,307 received from the same sources during the last fiscal year.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the Highway Department received $111,385,735 from the Fund while the State's 83 counties shared $82,946,824 and the 520 incorporated cities and villages shared $42,990,926.

By law, the Highway Department receives 47 per cent of the money deposited in the Highway Fund while the counties receive 35 per cent and the cities 18 per cent.

The money is distributed to counties and cities on the basis of population and county road and city street mileage.

Nineteen counties received $1 million or more from the Highway Fund during the 1964 fiscal year. The counties and amounts they received include:

land, $4,974,214; Kent, $3,506,599; Genesee, $3,058,195; Macomb, $2,887,939; Saginaw, $1,992,396; Ingham, $1,887,189; Berrien, $1,673,662; Kalamazoo, $1,584,419; Muskegon, $1,495,656; Washtenaw, $1,475,990; Jackson, $1,380,820; Calhoun, $1,386,136; Ottawa, $1,296,530; St. Clair, $1,274,133; Monroe, $1,228,920; Bay, $1,142,501; Lenawee, $1,048,974, and Allegan, $1,020,277.

Thirteen cities received $500,000 or more from the Fund. The cities and the amounts they received include: Detroit, $1,105,477; Grand Rapids, $1,721,060; Flint, $1,557,470; Lansing, $1,077,122; Dearborn, $947,530; Saginaw, $876,257; Kalamazoo, $768,042; Warren, $763,263; Pontiac, $722,824; Royal Oak, $605,111; Ann Arbor, $595,203; St. Clair Shores, $551,815, and Livonia, $523,690.

Livonian Heads Drive

Open 'Operation Uplift' To Boost UF Donation

An intensive drive, known as "Operation Uplift," to bring 165 Western Wayne County business concerns up to the Torch Drive average contributions of Chapter companies was launched Sept. 15.

A group of 40 industrial and business executives headed by Paul Zuckerman, 27651 Fairway Hills Drive, Franklin, president of Velvet Food Products, 30111 Schoolcraft, Livonia, as chairman of the 1964 Torch Drive Select Prospect Group, is conducting the pre-Torch Drive campaign.

Co-chairman is Horace E.

Sheldon, 3560 Wooddale Court, Birmingham, field manager, Civic and Government Affairs Office, Ford Motor Co.

Team captains are James G. Brown, 9795 Church Rd., Grosse Ile, general manager, Organic Chemicals Division, Wyandotte Chemical Corp.; John J. Nevin, 291 Waddington, Birmingham, manager, Products Planning Ford Motor Co.; Robert L. Sharpe, assistant to division manager, Consumers Power Co., 11801 Farmington Rd., Livonia; and Albert Langolf, personnel director, Standard Tube Co.,

24400 Plymouth Rd., Redford Twp.

Zuckerman and Sheldon met with team captains at Baja's Lounge and Dining Room, Michigan Ave., and Telegraph Rd., Dearborn, on Sept. 15 to outline strategy of their campaign. They stressed the importance of obtaining support of the company head, getting his cooperation in setting up payroll deductions, and urge the importance of "fair share" giving by corporation and employees.

The 165 companies being solicited gave a total of $10,848 to the 1963 Torch Drive. Zuckerman pointed out that the average of firms having United Foundation chapters was $9.98 for hourly workers, $38.91 for salaried employees, and $7.95 per employe for corporation gifts. This average, he said, would bring the total of the 165 companies up to $98,423 for 1964.

Solicitation of the companies is to be completed by Oct. 16. The 1964 Torch Drive, to be held Oct. 20 through Nov. 12 will attempt to raise $20,850,000 for the budgets of 204 local, state, and national health and community services.

SOCIAL SCIENTISTS—Livonia social science teachers met with Dr. Leslee Bishop, coordinator of secondary education and other curriculum experts in the days preceding the reopening of schools to discuss inter-relationships between teachers and staff, extending school library and audio-visual services, educational policies and philosophy, and to set curriculum objectives for the year.

Farnum Challenges Kuhn to a 'Milking Contest'

Michigan Auditor-General Billie S. Farnum today challenged a lawyer to a milking contest on a put-up or shut-up basis.

Both are candidates for Congress in the new 19th district. "The young man poses as a farm expert," said Farnum, a Democrat who earned board and keep while going to high school by milking 54 cows daily. "I'd like to let him prove how expert he is from a milking stool — or else start talking about major issues in the 19th Congressional district."

In the new Congressional district—comprising Pontiac, western Oakland County, Livonia and Redford Township — Auditor-General Farnum is pitted against Richard D. Kuhn, Republican lawyer.

Farnum says he will make concessions in order to get the matter settled. "I'm almost ready to let the young man use a milking machine while I work by hand," he said. "I am certainly ready to let him concentrate in silence while I handicap myself by talking while I pull. I want to talk. I want to ask him some questions."

"First, I'll ask him to get on the record on Barry Goldwater," Farnum continued. "Is he all-out for Goldwater — will he, for example, go along with Barry in bluffing the A-bomb? I am not ashamed of my leader, President Johnson, or of his stand to treat the bomb the way it was treated by President Kennedy and Eisenhower—with respect and firmness. Why should he be ashamed of Goldwater?"

"My other questions will be along the same line. It is time he's told what he is for, not just what he's against—which seems to be progress in any form."

"Just let me at him in a milking parlor . . . or anywhere else on the farm . . . and he'll change the subject pretty fast."

Farnum, member of a Watrousville (Mich.) farm family, became State Fair commissioner and helped reform and invigorate that Michigan institution. He was selected by the late Senator Blair Moody for his executive staff. As Auditor-General, he is "Michigan's watchdog of the tax dollars" and has tightened up governmental accounting practices on all levels of government throughout Michigan.

Food Fair Buys Prize Steer of Plymouth Boy

Bill Sheridan, 49475 N. Territorial Road, Plymouth, sold his yearling Black Angus steer to Food Fair through Buyer Edward Netherton in the annual auction of champions at the 115th annual Michigan State Fair.

Netherton made a top bid for the prize steer shown by Billy, 14, a student at St. John's High School in Ypsilanti.

An active 4-H Club member, Billy's hobbies are art, engineering and "a lot of reading." His father manages a 240-acre farm on the outskirts of Plymouth which specializes in Black Angus cattle and a few crops.

Livonia Drivers Lose Licenses

Six Livonia motorists have lost their driver's licenses, the Secretary of State's office announced this week.

Revoked under the state financial responsibility laws were the licenses of Thomas Henry Lyons, 35450 Joy Road; Donna Mills, 35500 E. Ann Arbor Trail; Richard John Robin, 35500 E. Ann Arbor Trail; Roger Walter Burkowski, 19010 Sunset; Walter Henry Burkowski, 19010 Sunset; and Joel Bennett Waddell, 9162 Danzig.

Paint SC Home

Livonia's Senior Citizens' home has a new coat of paint today!

The two-story frame house on Plymouth Rd. — used for group social events and for office space — was painted as a community project of the Livonia Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"The run-down condition of the building indicated a lack of concern on the part of the community," Jack Reault, chairman of the project, said, in describing the reason for the Jaycee project. "This, however, is not true. In our rapidly expanding city, the need for new facilities sometimes causes a disregard of maintenance for their present facilities."

Area Kiwanians Plan Horse Show

Possibly it is their simple and uncomplicated nature which has brought the common horse a universal admiration from old and young alike.

Or possibly the association between men and horses throughout history has bestowed this animal with such high esteem.

Whatever the reason for their appeal, it is obvious that there has existed a close relationship between man and the horse, and one glance at the various classes and breeds of horses indicates that they are indeed a complicated animal.

Residents of Detroit and the surrounding area will be presented with some of the finest representatives of various breeds of horses on October 8, 9, 10 and 11 when the Michigan International Horse Show is held at the Michigan State Fair Coliseum.

The Horse Show, one of the finest of its kind in the country, is sponsored by the Kiwanis Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, and all profits will go for the benefit of underprivileged children.

Visitors to the show will learn the difference between the three and five-gaited saddle horse, as well as being shown what has made the Tennessee Walking Horse a breed unto itself.

They will be invited to join the judges in their evaluation of numerous breeds of horses, whose origins date back thousands of years, and come from nearly all countries of the world.

Morgan, Arabian and Palomino are only a few breeds of horses which will parade around the Coliseum's main ring for the enjoyment of the spectators and the scrutiny of the judges.

Also on display will be an array of jumping horses, which will display their agility in surmounting a high fence. The skill of the rider will also be displayed in the equitation competition, which will judge the horsemanship of the man astride the horse.

A truly outstanding horse show, with all profits going to benefit underprivileged children, combine to make an enjoyable day for you and your family.

Ticket offices are located at: 15324 W. McNichols Road; 1501 E. Ferry; the Hotel Stalter Lobby. You may also obtain tickets or information from the office at 15324 W. McNichols Road, BR 3-1815. Why not treat your family to a fine horse show and earn a warm thank you from the Kiwanis and the underprivileged children of Michigan.

UAW Officer to Speak to Oakland Group

Emil Mazey, International Secretary-Treasurer of the United Auto Workers, will address the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants on Thursday, Sept. 24, 1964 at 8 p.m. at Devon Gables, Telegraph at Long Lake Roads. His topic will be "The UAW—Its Aims and Goals."

Mr. Mazey's career in union activities began in 1933 when he participated in the Briggs strike by mobilizing pickets from among the unemployed. Since that time he has devoted most of his efforts to furthering the union cause. In 1947 he was elected Secretary-Treasurer of the International Union, the second highest post, and has served continuously since that time.

Since Mr. Mazey is such a controversial figure in the metropolitan area, all accountants are invited to attend the meeting.

Schoolcraft Enrollment Totals 1990

Schoolcraft College has a total enrollment of 1,990 in the day and evening programs, according to an announcement Monday by President Dr. Eric Bradner.

Dr. Bradner reported a total of 1,083 in the day college, equated to 1,020 in classes, and 907 in the evening courses.

The day college enrollment includes 674 resident fulltime and 231 non-resident; 135 resident part-time and 43 non-resident.

The night classes include two non-resident fulltime, 760 resident part-time and 145 non-resident.

Applies for Record 27 Permits

Al Holcombe, 46801 Joy Road, Plymouth, prominent heating contractor, Monday applied for a record 27 permits for heating units at the Plymouth City Hall.

Deputy Clerk Margo Robson indicated it was a record for requests for permits from a contractor at one time.

Holcombe told city officials he has a contract to convert 27 homes in the Garling subdivision from oil to gas heating.

New Facility To Boost Area Water

Water storage and pumping facilities in the west suburban area will get a boost this fall with the opening of the new West Service Center, the Board of Water Commissioners announced this week.

Construction on the center, located at 20920 East Street in Southfield, is virtually complete, the Board said, and the 10 million gallon reservoir is undergoing tests prior to filling.

The Center will provide additional facilities to serve northwestern Wayne County and northward to Farmington, Southfield, Bloomfield and West Bloomfield Townships in Oakland County.

Meanwhile, Commissioners announced that construction of a new pumping station at 36363 W. Eight Mile in Livonia is about one-fourth complete. When finished, the Newburg Station will help maintain pressure to Farmington, Northville, Novi and Plymouth Townships. Target date for completion of the project is next January.

Karl Miller, Former PHS Star, Dies of Cancer at 51

Services for Karl Grant Miller, 51, of 32455 Muskegon Court, Wayne, were conducted Monday in Wayne with burial in Our Lady of Hope Cemetery in Wyandotte.

Miller was a three-sports letterman at Plymouth High School in the early '30s when he was a member of the basketball, football and track teams. He was graduated from PHS in 1933.

Born in Detroit, he was brought to Plymouth by his parents in 1917 and resided there for 30 years. He was a brother of Peter R. Miller of Plymouth.

Mr. Miller was stricken with polio in 1949 while visiting his wife's former home in Saginaw and was hospitalized there for nearly a year. Treatments at Warm Springs, Ga., followed and, although he remained physically handicapped, he continued active until shortly before his death of cancer. He was employed in the accounting department at the Ford Parts depot in Livonia.

Seek Applicant for Scholarship

Livonia Association for Retarded Children is searching for a student who is now studying in the field of mental retardation. A scholarship grant is available as a memorial to a former teacher to such a student. Interested persons should contact Robert Clogg, P. O. Box 2023, Livonia, Michigan.

Versatile Room Tops 'Want List' In Homes For Young Families

Top on the list of wanted features in a home owned by young families is the family room.

But to be good, the family room must offer space designed to serve many purposes and to permit lightning-quick changes in function and character. It must be able to work as an informal dining area. It must be a playroom, a home office, hobby center, party room, TV den, and sometimes even laundry, all rolled into one.

It must have as many facets as a well cut diamond and be equally sparkling to the eye. Top-notch design and cabinet work are the keys to success. To work as a playroom, for example, the family room requires on-the-spot toy and game storage.

A generous double-door closet shelved top to bottom answers the need. Here youngsters can stow everything from Barbie dolls to the Old Maid deck and keep them in relatively neat order. Best yet, playtime litter can be cleaned up in a whisk when storage is so close at hand.

Working as a home office, the room requires a desk, which can be built into one corner, perhaps under a window. Plenty

Check Paint Regularly

So, it's a good idea to check the painted surfaces around your home periodically.

If there are areas that need to be touched up, do it now. It will save you time and money in the long run.

The old saying "A stitch in time saves nine" is just as true for painting as it is for sewing. "A touch-up in time saves nine," says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

of drawer space is needed, including one file drawer, plus an adequately long and deep writing top, for the desk will also double beautifully as a buffet counter for informal entertaining.

It's also possible, and in many cases supremely practical, to design the desk to work as a sewing table, with machine head that drops below the writing counter or one that slides into a side cabinet when not in use.

Bookshelves in the office corner are another must for reference works such as cookbooks and dictionaries as well as for leisure reading and the children's library. Modern hardware makes it easy to space shelves on the wall and to hang them imaginatively.

As a dining area, the family room demands china cupboards as well as drawers for flatware and table mats. Ideally, these cabinets should be built in conjunction with the kitchen, with cupboards and even drawers that can be loaded on the kitchen side and unloaded from the family room side.

All that's required for this step-saving design are front and back doors on the china cabinets, and drawers built to pull from either direction.

the scene is set. Fir is hard-wearing but easy to work with and may be used for wall paneling as well as door and drawer fronts, cabinet interiors and shelving.

New floor coverings, fabrics, and fixtures that can only be called wonderful are available today in a range of colors that lets the homemaker satisfy her artistic bent as well as her sense of practicality.

Humidifier Helps In New Homes

You can minimize many of the problems of "breaking in" a new house if you install a furnace humidifier at the start.

"Dry air is often responsible for warped doors, windows that stick, moldings that pull away, and cracked walls in new homes," advise engineers.

These things happen because the materials used in new homes lose much of their moisture. The loss is especially rapid when the heat is turned on.

To avoid this, your new house should be equipped with a furnace humidifier that will keep the indoor relative humidity between 35 and 45 per cent.

In many houses, new and old, the indoor air in winter can have as little as eight to 12 per cent relative humidity.

That's dryer than the air in Death Valley, which has 2 1/2 per cent relative humidity.

Air this dry acts like a sponge. It pulls moisture from wood, plaster, drywall, paint, wallpaper — anything it touches.

Result? You complain to your builder and wait for the service man to arrive.

With a proper humidifier, you're less apt to have this trouble, which means fewer service calls for you and the builder to worry about.

The best kind of humidifier has rotating bronze discs in a stainless steel water reservoir.

As the discs turn, they pick up water and hold it for evaporation in the warm air stream from the furnace.

With this type of humidifier, maintenance and hard water problems are reduced to a minimum.

On the lawn

WITH LARRY LAWRENCE

I am often asked what to do about summer crabgrass. I usually reply, "Are you sure it's crabgrass? Better take a sample to the local Scotts dealer and compare it with photos of the various wild grasses on his Weedorama. Then you'll know what to use."

If it is crabgrass, two applications of Scotts Clout, a week apart, will stop it dead without harming the desirable grasses.

If you don't get around to using Clout control by the end of August, seed heads have formed and are ripening rapidly. You then will likely need only one treatment of Clout to stop ripening of the seeds. A second if you want to get rid of the plants as well.

By the middle of September, crabgrass has gone to seed. No use worrying about it. Instead, give your lawn a thorough raking (rent a power rake if you can) and plant grass seed. Then early next Spring, use pre-emergence Halts to prevent crabgrass from getting started again.

NEW STUDENT LOAN fund at WSU was established with the presentation of a check for $4,800 from Miss Barbara Buck, 14226 Dale, Redford Township, to Olin E. Thomas, 8900 Gale Road, Pontiac, WSU vice president and treasurer. Miss Buck is president of Zeta Kappa Psi Sorority, an organization of career women which is currently being disbanded. Officers contributed part of its assets to the University for the establishment of the loan fund which will bear the sorority's name.

Automatic Washer Makes Job Easy

A few years ago, the control panel on an automatic washer was a delight for any science fiction fan.

There were enough dials, knobs, buttons and flashing light to suggest that the washer could be launched into orbit if you only found the right combination of switches.

The trouble was finding the right combination to do the laundry.

The average homemaker, with so much other things to do, just didn't have time to experiment each time she put the clothes in the washer.

The importance of these washers in the evolution of modern laundry equipment was to show that the American homemaker wanted automaticity, but she wanted it without complexity.

She wanted simply for the washer to do all the work for her that it should while still giving her sufficient flexibility to handle special problems herself.

This demand resulted in the simplicity of automaticity that distinguishes today's laundry appliances.

Modern automatic washers need only a push of a button to do completely any of nine washing procedures.

In this genuinely modern washer, automaticity is underlined by simplicity.

Technology has combined several functions into one, giving greater dependability and longer life to the washer, and making its operation one of ease in a job where you have a right to demand it.

Extra features on modern washers are designed to fit and fill extra necessities of the individual homemaker.

Some deluxe models feature automatic pre-wash and soak cycles for the homemaker whose laundry includes heavily soiled clothing.

A feature such as the automatic fabric softener dispenser is designed to enable you to have optimum results from this most popular new laundering aid.

Other features, such as special wool and wash-and-wear cycles, rustless ball-lid hinges and full cycle safety lid that stops action in seconds when opened are conveniences fashioned to meet genuine needs.

New Look Possible On Budget

A home is as old as it looks. Millions of owners of older homes are recognizing this fact as the fall modernization season approaches.

Recognizing the desire of those homeowners to give their homes a "new" look on a limited budget, the following low cost modernization suggestions are passed along.

- Replace faded or worn window shades with custom aluminum venetian blinds. The new blinds on wax finishes of the venetians will add lustre to a room and they retain their finish for years.

- Repaint wall and ceilings with bright colors or employ striking patterned wallpaper to give life to drab walls.

- Have rugs cleaned by a professional cleaning service.

- Add books and bookcases, bright new prints or floral arrangements to enhance wall areas.

- Rearrange furniture to focus attention on a room's most interesting feature — chairs and coffee table, the piano, a favorite arm chair, etc.

All of the above can be done for a few hundred dollars and when you're finished you won't recognize the old place.

HITCH OLE DOBBIN to the wagon and if it's a bright and sunny day as it was for the wedding of Lois Ann Moran and Charles H. Uzelac, the above transportation is perfect.

'Dobbin' Carries Newlyweds To Reception

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terence F. Moran, Lois Ann, was united in marriage to Charles H. Uzelac, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Uzelac of Livonia, Sept. 5 in a noon service at St. Maurice Church. Father Thomas J. Cain officiated at the rites.

Robert Ryan accompanied Alfred Kowalski rendering in two solos for the couple's wedding.

The bride chose a classically styled gown of crystal white silken taffeta combined with Alencon lace. The little Empress bodice was designed with crescent-curved decolletage and fluted bell lace sleeves of sheer transparency. Below the banded high-rise waistline accented with a cluster of baroque pearls and short streamers, the sheath-slim skirt of lace, frosted with the Alencon flowers traced with pearls, tapered to toe-touching length. A mantilla of matching lace gracefully framed her dark hair and outlined its floral pattern over the lustrous fabric of her gown.

Carol Moran, sister of the bride was maid of honor with Debora Uzelac and Meloyde Cramer serving as bridesmaids. They were in gowns of olive green velvet tops with white crepe floor length skirts.

William Uzelac Jr. was best man with Thomas Green and Richard Devirgilio seating the guests.

A dinner for family and close friends was held at Meadowbrook Country club in the evening. Three hundred people greeted the newlyweds immediately following the ceremony at a reception.

IT'S YOGA TIME AGAIN. And there have been a few changes made. The class in Plymouth will start on Wednesday, Sept. 23 at Gallimore School. The class will start at 7:30 p.m. The charge is $9 for the 10-week course. Register first night at school. The Livonia classes start on Tuesday, Sept. 29 at 7 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. at Frost School. There is a new class starting at Eva McKeon's Dance Studio on Plymouth Road on Monday, Sept. 21 at 10 a.m. These classes are all for men and women. Ruth Gill will be the instructor.

Farmington Town Club Hosts Carnegie Speaker

Town Club of Farmington will hold its October meeting on Thursday, October 1, at the First Farmington Savings and Loan.

Mr. Bud Hogberg of the Dale Carnegie Institute will be the guest speaker. His talk will be "Success Comes in Cans", which promises to be an exceptionally entertaining program.

All Town Club members will be busy during the next month stitching and baking for the annual auction to be held in November. Mrs. L. Blackburn, chairman of the auction, and Mrs. R. Frank, assistant will discuss further plans for this after Mr. Hogberg's talk.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. L. Blackburn, Mrs. R. Frank, Mrs. Jayroe, Mrs. Hawkins, and Mrs. Reed.

A 'Treasure' Your Pirce Of Admission To Institute Tea

Soon it will be tea time—Treasure Shop tea time—at the International Institute.

It's that time of year when friends of the Institute gather for an afternoon of good cheer, a special program and a sip of tea—all for the very small price of admission—a treasured gift to stock the Treasure Shop booth when the annual Old World Market opens in mid-November.

And those looking forward to the tea have long since learned that the gift need not be opulent. Even the smallest "treasure" is welcomed.

At the helm as tea chairman for 1964 is Mrs. Oliver E. Frey, of Pleasant Ridge, a bundle of enthusiasm who is sure to spark the project and make this year's Treasure Shop Tea one to be remembered.

Helping her with the many plans are Mrs. Roy Nelson and Mrs. Donald P. Elise.

Mrs. Frey has set the date for Thursday, Oct. 8, at the Institute, 111 E. Kirby, with the promise of a dessert luncheon at 1 p.m. and a sparkling program to follow at 2 p.m.

And who else could provoke as much interest as Sculptor Marshall Fredericks, who will discuss "Sculpture As I See It".

So, gather up your treasure, be it a small vase, a fine painting, ceramics, a piece of embrodery or lace or a bit of bric-a-brac and bring yourself and your special personal gift which will be just what the Old World Market's Treasure Shop needs to stock its shelves when the Old World Market gets underway Nov. 19 through 22. Market chairman this year is Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann, of Grosse Pointe.

Maryann Ruehle

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Ruehle, of Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Maryann, to Norman Fritten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Fritten, of Plymouth.

Maryann is a freshman at the new Schoolcraft College. Norman attends Cleary College where he is a junior.

A June 26, 1965, wedding is planned at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church.

B&PW Trade Business For Fashions (Annually)

The NOR-RE-BUS Chapter of The Business and Professional Women presents its "Golden Autumn Fashion Show," to be held on Tuesday, Sept. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall, 13530 Lesure at Grand River.

Esther Wagner will commutate fashions from Demerys, both the Birmingham and Detroit stores, with an added attraction of sleek and stylish coiffures by "Richard."

The following committees have worked very hard to make this fashion show a successful one: Jean Kaufka, chairman; Pat

Comrie, publicity; Marguerite Smith, hostesses; Agnes Ofsanko, refreshments; Kay Gee and Dorothy DeTello, tickets; Sally Beshara, door prizes; Elsie Weaver, music, and Dolly Zak, entertainment.

The many beautiful fashions from Demerys will be modeled by Dolly Zak, Marguerite Smith, Florence Wyers, Sally Beshara, Dorothy Hamilton, Luella Cadieux, Margaret Thomas, Cassie Elwes, Catherine Lahey and Marcy Uday.

Sally Beshara, co-owner of the Rosianne Finishing School, is giving as first prize a $150 charm course. Anyone in this area wishing to obtain tickets may call Pat Comrie, 534-8499, after 5 p.m.

Leigh Ann White

Mrs. Kenneth H. White and the late "Hart" White, Stark Road, Livonia, announce the engagement of Leigh Ann White to Ronald James Albert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Albert, Mayfield Avenue, Livonia. A Spring wedding is planned.

Deanery Women Meet Sept. 24

The Sept. 24 quarterly meeting of the Wayne Western Deanery, DACCW, at 8:15 p.m. at St. Anthony's of Belleville, will feature Mrs. Harold J. Schachern as its speaker.

Her talk, "Person to Person," will be of the individual woman's opportunities and responsibilities as well as comments on the Ecumenical Council (Vatican II), portions of which she attended last year. Women's Recruitment Director for Women of the United Foundation, she is also coordinator of the Public Relations Program for the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women.

The meeting is open to the public.

If men took the time to meet their blessings there would be no time for fault-finding.

Family Enjoys Double Celebration

Friends, neighbors and family came from as far away as California—and they came from Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Wayne, Plymouth, Ohio and Livonia to honor Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Knapp on their 50th wedding anniversary and their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs.

Frederick Schultz on their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Knapps, formerly of Livonia are now living in Ormond Beach, Florida. However, they spend summers here. The Schultz family lives on Livonia Crescent in Livonia.

A prayer by Rev. R. G. Pranche of Hosanna Tabor Lutheran Church, Redford Township, enriched the happy occasion for the two couples and their many friends and family.

"Happy Anniversary" was sung by the Knapp's granddaughter, Miss Gail Schultz.

The Knapps were wed Sept. 19, 1914 in Detroit and the Schultzes were married in Detroit, Sept. 16, 1939.

For the special day Mrs. Knapp was gowned in blue lace with blue and gold accessories. A gold orchid completed her outfit.

Mrs. Schultz in true 25th wedding anniversary tradition, chose a white and silver brocade with silver accessories and was presented with a silver corsage.

Mr. Knapp retired in 1957.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Hear Mayor Moelke

The Epsilon Sigma Alpha Chapter of Alpha Xi held its first official business meeting of the season Sept. 9 at the home of its president, Mrs. Fred Perkins, of Livonia. Special guest for the evening was Mayor Harvey Moelke.

Convention news highlighted the program. Plans for the forthcoming spring convention were discussed and Mrs. William Lutz, of Lincoln Park, and Mrs. Theodore Hohman, Detroit, gave details of their trip to the International Convention recently held in Florida.

The next meeting of the chapter will be a social at the home of Mrs. John McFeaters, 32522 Bertram, Garden City, Assisting with the program, titled School Daze, will be Mrs. William Thomas, of Garden City.

Workshop fee is one dollar and those attending are asked to bring a sandwich, refreshments will be furnished.

Senior Citizens Thank Junior Chamber

BY MARY SPITZA

The Livonia Senior Citizen "Luncheon Is Served" had capacity crowd at St. Andrews Hall followed by cards and door and table prizes.

Many of thanks to the tireless efforts of Chairman Mrs. Joseph Wieland, and her committee,

Sharon Lee

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Pardee, Hazelton, Redford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon Lee to Robert Lewis Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Morris of Redford Township.

The couple are graduates of Thurston High School and are presently attending Western Michigan University where they are both seniors.

Sharon is affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega Sorority and Robert with Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity.

RSL President Includes Hubbies

A first for Redford Suburban League, President Doris Weber of Ross Drive entertained her RSL Board and asked all of the ladies to invite their husbands (auxiliary members).

It was more a social, than business meeting and was recorded as another successful "first" for RSL.

Word Portrait Of An Artist

By BETTY BALDWIN

Mrs. Ruby E. Whitmore, recently elected President of the Metropolitan Creative Art Guild is a 24 year resident of Redford Township. She is a mother of two fine children and proud of her four grandchildren.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan and Wayne Universities, Mrs. Whitmore has been an elementary teacher for 17 years, with the last 15 years employed day of every month at the Bentley High School, Five-Mile at Farmington Road in Livonia.

"Membership in the Guild," says Mrs. Whitmore, "provides me the opportunity to pursue a better knowledge of art plus the chance to meet and work with other artists. Each meeting stresses the understanding of great art as well as meeting and listening to many of today's fine artists invited as featured guests."

Mrs. Whitmore gives much credit to this association with other art enthusiasts which she states has given her a greater appreciation of art in general as well as a stimulus to strive toward improvement of her work with each painting. Two years ago, Mrs. Whitmore was honored by having one of her paintings selected to hang in the Annual Show of Michigan Artists' in the Rackham Building at Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Whitmore's paintings can be seen Sept. 28th to Oct. 3rd, at Wonderland Shopping Center in the Civic Room, along with the work of other artists of the Metropolitan Creative Art Guild. This exhibit of oil paintings will be open to the public every day for a week starting at 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 28th, to 8 p.m. Oct. 3rd. Paintings and sculpture will be on sale with prices to meet every budget ranging from $10.00 to $100.00.

Mrs. Ruby E. Whitmore

by the Redford Union School District at Bulman School, a position she currently holds and enjoys as she likes to work with young children.

In addition to this Mrs. Whitmore is a 17 year member of the Michigan Educational Association, an active member of the local Lola Valley Business and Professional Women's Club for the past nine years and a member of Grace Lutheran Church in Redford Township.

About 10 years ago, Mrs. Whitmore says she took up oil painting as a hobby for many reasons. First, for the opportunity it offered to paint and take lessons with several of her good friends and secondly it offered along with the increasing challenge of competition among the many talented, so called, "Sunday painters" in this area.

Pursuing her art hobby, Mrs. Whitmore has been an active member of the Metropolitan Creative Art Guild for the past six years serving several years as exhibit chairman and most recently honored by her election to President. The Guild meets regularly the first Mon-

New Ideas For Sundaes

Have you ever topped ice cream with one of the frozen concentrated juices or ades? Their tart, concentrated-fruit flavor is delightful with rich creaminess. Just defrost the frozen concentrated juices until it can be spooned from its container—then pour it over the ice cream servings or pass as a sauce.

Ice cream can have the tart concentrate marble through also, if it is allowed to soften—partially mix the defrosted concentrate through it—then freeze again in an ice cube tray.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

If you are the type like me that "shys-up" when you have an opportunity to exchange words with a celebrity, then you can imagine my excitement at the opportunity of interviewing Joe Clark and his family.

Joe Clark, H.B.S.S. pictures have appeared in Life Magazine over the past years, front page, inside and back story-page, as well as in other magazines and newspapers across the country.

His wife Bernice has had her pictures in many trade magazines and recently won the Eastman Kodak World's Fair award for color photography. Even their 14-year-old son Junebug has been a professional photographer from the age of six. Why, he teathed on a camera, and at three a magazine bought his pictures as the "bug's eye view."

The Joe Clark "touch" has always appealed to me, with his uncanny eye for photojournalism—in fact, when they said one picture is worth a thousand words—it was Joe Clark's picture the author of the epigram must have been thinking about.

It was amazing to me to discover this fabulous family lived in Farmington—and further amazing they would be happy to come in on Saturday and visit.

Well, they are the most charming, delightful people I have ever met and most disarming—as easy to talk to as your Uncle Willie, your Aunt Sue and your cousin Jimmy. They are simply great folks.

To begin with, the H.B.S.S., impressive though it may sound, following Joe's name, stands for "hill billy snap shooter."

And this sets the key-note. Joe has rubbed elbows with presidents of countries and companies but he is pure homespun. Perhaps the twinkle in his eye is what keeps him from acting V.I.P.

The family moved to Farmington four years ago, bought their home without even seeing it because a friend thought it would be just right for them. They love Farmington and all of the three acres belonging to them. Much of the land is planted with fruit trees and garden.

They have a studio in Detroit, where most of their business is centered. However, all three always carry their cameras.

Both Bernice and Joe are proud of the natural aptitude of Junebug—he has been professional since he was six and has been a guest speaker talking photography for many large groups on campuses and elsewhere. He recently set up the dark room facilities for North Farmington High School. He is as relaxed and approachable as his parents. The only thing Junebug really is boastful about is his wonderful tree house.

He started with two friends, Jim and Ray Rowe, to "throw" one up—but Pa came out and observed the project and guided the boys into doing the job right. Now, all built, it is snug and comfortable and probably the only tree house in five counties that has all the luxuries of home, including a TV set.

Perhaps Joe's humble beginning is what makes him such a regular guy. During the depression years he was working as a night watchman for J. L. Hudson Company.

A friend, knowing he was going on a vacation, gave him an inexpensive camera. He took a series of shots of J. L. Hudson, which were spotted by an executive. The top man was so impressed he bought the lot—and Joe was on his way.

Today he keeps a bag packed in his car because he never knows when Life Magazine or one of his other accounts may call him to hop a plane—meet a ship—or follow a train. He may be relaxed but he likes to be prepared.

Taking pictures is not always a snap—in fact sometimes it takes hours or days for the right shot—and plenty of patience. Joe favors photojournalism—or a "reporter in pictures"—and is often involved in taking tragedy pictures such as a recent plane tragedy with most on board killed. These are the most difficult. Other pictures that tell stories are a real pleasure and challenge to Joe.

He has published two books: "Detroit, God's Greatest City," and another called "Photojournalism."

His "Come in and Set a Spell," a book of "about 100 hillbilly poems," probably gives you the most insight to Joe Clark. H.B.S.S. One of my favorites was simply titled

"MY PAPPY"

My Pappy says life wasn't meant
To rush and hurry through,
But to love and laugh and be content
And think of folks like you.

Newburg Women Remember 75 Years

Fifty members and friends of the Newburg Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service attended the birthday luncheon on Thursday noon, Sept. 10, in the church social hall. This was in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Ladies Aid Society and the 25th anniversary of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Twelve tables were beautifully decorated to depict the 12 months of the year. Decorations were furnished by Eloise MacKinder, Gladys Arnold, Edna Smith, Doris Burr, Jean Blaisdell, Dorothy Waack, Joan Meroney, Rose Reid, Marilyn Stoner, Gladys Rider, and Margaret Ayers.

A unique display of old records, pictures and other articles pertaining to the Ladies Aid Society of the church was provided by Vera Guthrie, Faye Grimm, and Beulah Smith.

After the luncheon, a delightful program was planned by the Program Chairman, Pat Peale. Devotions were given by Laura Larrabee. The history of the Ladies Aid Society and the W.S.C.S. was given by Gladys Rider, Eloise MacKinder, Margaret Ayers, Pat Peale, Doris Burr, and Jean Blaisdell.

At the conclusion of the luncheon program, corsages were presented to many of the past presidents and friends, dating back to 1926-1928.

A short business meeting was conducted by president Fern Urso.

Bake Your Own

For genuinely just-baked breads, get the ready-to-bake yeast loaves. Equally delicious are frozen rolls of different shapes which you let rise at room temperature (or in a special way in the oven) before baking. These can be served hotter-than-hot and very fragrant from the oven.

The frozen quick breads which come unbaked as batters, by contrast, are well named—they are popped from freezer to oven with no standing to "rise" and no interval of defrosting. They, too, come to the table hotter-than-hot, if that is your desire.

Livonia VFW Group Plans To Present Flags on Nov. 11

The Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3941, of Livonia, will make a presentation of flags to interested groups on Nov. 11 as part of the Veterans Day celebration. The presentations will be made at 7 p.m. in the Post home, 27555 Grantland.

Any group desiring a flag is requested to get in touch with Edna Bierkamp at KE 2-5295 before Oct. 25.

HADASSAH STUDY GROUP MEETING

Livonia Group of Hadassah's Study Group will begin the Fall season Tuesday, Sept. 29 at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Raymond Zelch, 19726 Weyher, Livonia. For further information call GA 7-2817.

IT'S A THREE CAMERA act when Junebug Clark and his parents Bernice and Joe (above) take a vacation—or for that matter, work. They are all professionals, each with their own style and recognition. Although their family home is in Farmington, they travel 'round the globe on free-lance assignments. Joe's pictures appear regularly in Life Magazine; Bernice is a master color photographer; and Junebug takes pictures with personality that tell a story.

AAUW Book Sale In Farmington Aid Gifted Women

The American Association of University Women of Farmington has completed plans for the used book sale to be held Sept. 24, 25, 26 to raise money for its fellowship fund.

Each year the Farmington branch of A.A.U.W. has a book sale to raise money to contribute to the A.A.U.W. fellowship fund. For each of the past four years over $500 has been contributed. It is hoped that this year's sale will raise an even greater amount.

The sale is being held in the National Bank of Detroit building at Grand River and Farmington Rd. On Sept. 24 and 25 the hours are from 9 to 9, and on Sept. 26 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The A.A.U.W. sponsors a fellowship program that is like a many faceted gem. The program, which is designed "to enable gifted women to use their intellectual powers for the good of humanity" was begun over 75 years ago. The first fellowship, an award of $350, was granted in 1888. Since then over 1,700 women have received A.A.U.W. Fellowship Awards.

Among the women who have benefited from the opportunities offered through A.A.U.W. fellowships are a physician who organized the first mental health clinic in Thailand, an internationally known astrophysicist, and a Danish lawyer who became a Minister of Justice in the Danish cabinet.

American women who are promising scholars are given the awards to help them develop their abilities and not be deflected from their course of study because of lack of funds. Through fellowship awards to women of many other countries, A.A.U.W. helps foster worldwide understanding. Last year A.A.U.W. gave 113 fellowships at a total of $328,950. About half of these were given to American women. The rest enabled women of many other countries to study in the United States or to continue their education elsewhere.

CAROL NELSON

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Nelson of Floral Avenue in Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Walter Bogoyevac, presently in the United States Navy, serving in Clarksville, Tenn., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bogoyevac of Arden Ave. The couple plans to marry after Walter receives his discharge from the service.

Area Births

The birth certificates for the following babies were received at the Livonia City Clerk's office within the last seven days, but the births did not necessarily occur within that period.

A son, Keith, to Charles and Patricia Babcock, 9231 Melrose; a daughter, Michele, and a son, Mark, to Norbert and Loretta Buczowski, 31541 Scone; a daughter, Deborah, to Richard and Inge Burdt, 35710 Grennada; a daughter, Julie, to Edward and Marilyn Carey, 33108 Summers; a son, Steven, to Philip and Jacqueline Kamosis, 35686 Grennada.

Livonia Lady In U.S. Service

FORT ORD, Calif.—The newly assigned executive officer of Fort Ord's WAC Company is Lieutenant Betty L. Higgins, who comes to this infantry training center from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where she was the assistant special service officer. A native of Livonia, and a 1957 graduate of Bentley high school, Lieutenant Higgins attended Michigan State University before entering the service in 1961. She was a police administration major. The lieutenant served for a year as an enlisted woman before receiving her commission from the WAC Officer Candidate School at Fort McClelland, Ala. She attended the Special Services School at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. prior to her Fort Leavenworth assignment. Lieutenant Higgins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Higgins, 900 Louise, Livonia.

Some retail merchants hold onto small change to save trips to the bank. Today there is a temporary shortage of halves, quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies. It would be a big help if everyone would put any surplus back into circulation.

St. Mary's Dance Oct. 10

THE TIME is 7:30 and the tickets are going fast for the Annual Benefit Dinner Dance sponsored by St. Mary Hospital Guild in Livonia. Guild members are particularly anxious for a good turn-out as money this year will go to the new hospital wing presently under construction. Dance Club Chairman Sylvia Garner warns dance times is approaching, while Sally Drost, Livonia Ticket Chairman, and Josephine Neid, Dance Co-Chairman, wait ready to sell remaining tickets. For Redford Township call Mrs. Peter Kuchan, KE 3-7005; Farmington, Mrs. Lee Stevens, GR 4-5907; Plymouth, Mrs. John Anderson, 422-7682, and for Livonia, Mrs. Joseph Drost, GA 2-0208 or Mrs. Henry Hepta, GA 1-5457.

Mayfair Nursery Makes Plans For New School Year

Mayfair Cooperative Nursery is making plans for its 10th year of operation under the supervision of teachers, Mrs. Jane Fagan and Mrs. Bernice Biddick.

The Nursery is located on Middlebelt Road between 14 Mile Road and Northwestern Highway. It is a member of the Michigan Council of Co-operative Nurseries and the Detroit Council of Co-operative Nurseries.

Group membership meetings have been scheduled for Sept. 28 at 8 p.m. Groups I and II will meet at the home of Anne Guidobono, 23520 Cherimore Lane, Southfield, with Mrs. Fagan and with Mrs. Roy Hawkins as the principal speaker.

Groups III and IV will meet at the home of Mary Johnson, 7345 Cold Spring Lane, Birmingham, with Mrs. Biddick and with Mrs. Julius Scott as the speaker.

There are still openings for four-year-olds. For additional information, contact Membership Chairman Mrs. David Lawson, 35354 Edythe, Farmington.

PAUL MACERI of Ladywood Drive in Livonia and his 17-piece orchestra will provide the music for the Annual Benefit Dinner Dance given by St. Mary Hospital Guild on Oct. 10 at Roma Hall.

Fine Furniture Store Welcome In Farmington

New to Farmington, but not the fine furniture business is the Ray family just opening on Slocum Drive of Farmington Road in the heart of Farmington.

William and Roy and their father believe the area is perfect for their discerning type of furnishings. In addition to complete lines of bedroom, dining room and living room furniture the Ray Interiors also has carpeting, drapery and a complete line of distinctive accessories including lamps.

Interior decorating by a professional can be done in a more economical fashion, according to William Ray. "Many home owners are not in position to purchase an entire room or furnish an entire home at one time," observed Mr. Ray. "We work out a complete plan and color scheme for them and from this they add a piece at a time, as they can afford it. We have no charge for our decorating service and go into choice of colors in fabrics as well as paint or wall paper. In order to do this we visit the home, find out the traffic patterns, the interest and the number in the family. This way we can plan on a basic over-all plan which is considered skilled buying, thus more economical," concluded Mr. Ray.

One line handled by Rays (mostly cherry with a variety of finishes) is Kindel out of Grand Rapids. The also carry a delightful California line. Ann Richie is also on the interior decorating staff at Ray Interiors in Farmington. The Rays feature traditional, conventional and provincial.

When asked to make a prophecy on home fashion colors, he said, although the trend seems to be again to dark interiors, he himself preferred the light and he had not noticed any change in the Michigan area. He also said wall paper was going to continue to be very big. Mr. Ray is of the very definite opinion a home is far more interesting with a mixture of periods which blend through color, but lend variety.

Store hours are such to encourage evening browsing hours —Monday, Thursday and Friday until 9 p.m. and other days until 5:30 p.m.

ROCKWELL TEACHES LIVONIA ARTIST

WESTPORT, Conn.—Mrs. Mardell E. Smith, 34200 Richland, Livonia, Michigan, has graduated from the Famous Artists Schools of Westport, Connecticut. Mrs. Smith specialized in fine arts painting during her three year course with this home study school.

Directing the art courses is a faculty of distinguished artists among whom are Norman Rockwell, Ben Sham and Dong Kingman.

RAMBLER

CLASSIC 770 CONVERTIBLE

FOR 1965

The Rambler Ambassador is the longest and most luxurious of three distinctively different lines of American Motors cars for 1965. Over-all length has been increased 10 inches on models other than station wagons, and a convertible has been added to the Ambassador line for the first time. Ambassador styling is all-new with a bold horizontal grille separated by vertical dividing strips, dual vertical headlights and full height vertical taillights. Shown is the Ambassador 990 four-door sedan. Other Ambassador models include two-door sedans, station wagons, hardtops and the new convertible. The Ambassador horsepower range is from the new 155 "six" to the 270 V-8.

Therapy Volunteers Needed

Women between the ages of 25 and 55 are needed to give weekly volunteer assistance to Occupational Therapists in crafts and recreation programs for convalescent patients.

Required training for Occupational Therapy volunteer assistants will be offered as follows:

Every Thursday and Friday, 1 to 4, Oct. 8 through Dec. 11, including a two weeks field work period at Wayne State University Occupational Therapy Department, near Woodward and Alexandrine.

The cost is $8 for the course. This covers crafts materials, uniform, sleeve insignia and national membership.

This course is intended for volunteers who can offer their services for 3 or 4 hours on a regular day each week for at least one full year. It does not train in any way for paid employment.

If you are interested in making application, please arrange an interview appointment as soon as possible by calling the Central Volunteer Bureau at 833-0622.

Plymouthite Promoted By Shatterproof

Matthew J. Rauscher has been named laminating supervisor of the Curvite Division at Shatterproof Glass Corporation.

His duties cover plant supervision of curved laminated safety glass and windshield manufacturing.

Rauscher, who has completed courses in Penn State University's Continuing Education Department, has been connected with the glass industry over 12 years.

A native of Ford City, Pa., Rauscher and his wife, Dorothy, live at 4117 Ivywood Lane in Plymouth, with their daughter Carol Lee, 19.

Co-op Optical Service Now Open in Livonia

A non-profit Co-Op Optical office—the third in the metropolitan area—has opened in the Mid-7 Shopping Center at Middlebelt and Seven Mile Roads in Livonia.

The Livonia Co-Op office has four examination rooms. Co-operative Services, Inc. announced. Dr. Marcus E. Taylor is the optometrist in charge. Larry Katz is the laboratory technician.

The Co-op has all new modern equipment and a large inventory of lenses and frames. Eye examinations are by appointment. The telephone is 476-5350.

Customers may obtain safety glasses—either for children or for industrial wear from the Co-op Optical, which is accredited vendor of safety glasses for Chrysler Corporation. Prescription sun glasses are also made at the Co-op, and prescriptions from other doctors filled.

According to State law, the non-profit Co-op Optical Service may not advertise prices. However, all frames have prices marked on them, and all material used is first quality, union-made in the United States. Eye examinations are by appointment, and glasses are never prescribed unless needed.

Labor, civic and credit union leaders have endorsed the non-profit Co-op Optical Service and refer their members and friends to the Co-op.

Youth Rifle Classes Start In Plymouth

Registration for the new season of classes in rifle marksmanship and firearms safety will be held at the Plymouth Youth Club building at the corner of Union and Dodge Streets on Monday evening, Sept. 28. Classes will start on Monday, Oct. 5 at 6:30 P.M.

Both boys and girls, 12 years of age or older are welcome to these classes. A registration fee of $1.75 is charged. This fee covers all course materials and ammunition. Rifles are furnished.

These classes are operated on the procedures recommended by the National Rifle Association and by the Michigan Conservation Department. Youngsters who satisfactorily complete the course of seven weeks are awarded a certificate by the NRA and a Hunters Safety Certificate by the Michigan Department.

All boys and girls who have completed past courses are welcome to attend open shooting sessions on Tuesday evening. The range is open on Tuesday evenings from 6:30 P.M. Shooting is supervised by qualified instructors and rifle and ammunition are available at the range. Ammunition is sold at cost to club members.

Members who are interested may fire for National Rifle Association qualification awards and for places on the Youth Club rifle teams. These teams take place in an extensive competitive program during the season.

Green Backs Romney Aims

A hootenany was held Friday for Wallace Green, the Republican candidate for State Representative in the 36th District, in Edward Hines Park in Plymouth.

A good crowd attended in spite of the rainy night. The surprise of the evening was that most of the people attending came from Garden City rather than Plymouth.

Green spoke and explained his desire to keep Michigan moving on the course Governor Romney has set. Green explained his own political philosophy that people's needs must be met at the state level and pointed out that the Romney administration was leading the state in this direction.

Green noted that the Republican legislature under Romney's leadership had met human needs in the last legislative session having appropriated $9,000,000 more for mental health and $21,000,000 more for higher education than the previous legislature.

Green stressed the importance of home-rule that would give the local units of government the tools to provide for local needs.

Expand PO Holiday Services

Longer window hours, expanded delivery services and large scale extension of the zip-code parcel post speedup are planned for the Christmas holidays by the Plymouth Post Office on advice from Postmaster General John Gronowski.

That was the announcement by Plymouth Postmaster George Timpona after receiving the communication from Washington, outlining three new major steps for the "best Christmas mail service the Postal Service has ever offered."

The steps are:

1—Expanded post office window hours from Dec. 5 through Dec. 26 as deemed necessary by Timpona.

2—A six-day work week starting Dec. 7 through Dec. 31 for parcel post deliveries instead of a five-day work schedule.

3—Completion by Nov. 1 of Phase III of Zip Code parcel handling at more than 130 sectional center post offices (strategically located mail massing points), providing faster delivery up to 24 hours or more for parcels with Zip Code.

In Phase I and II, approximately 75 offices with receipts of 5 million or more annually, activated faster Zip Code sorting and dispatch by Sept. 1. The 130 in Phase III includes offices with annual receipts of 1 to 5 million.

In addition, many other sectional center offices with smaller receipts will have the program in operation by early December—in time to help speed delivery of Christmas gifts mailed with the Zip Code.

Salem Twp. Assumes Debt To College

The Salem Township Board of Trustees has assumed the debt to the Schoolcraft College of more than $1,000 from the 1963 taxes when the levy was inadvertently left off the tax bills.

Harlow Ingall, township supervisor, revealed that the Township has assumed responsibility and will make payment in full.

Ingall received an opinion from Washtenaw County Prosecutor Peter Forsythe stating that the law held the township supervisor responsible for not having spread the Schoolcraft levy on the 1963 tax roll.

The law held that the supervisor could be held personally responsible.

Since the supervisor in office at the time has since died, further investigation into the law was necessary. Provisions are made in such a case for the township as a whole to assume the supervisor's responsibility.

'Great Books' Groups To Resume Sessions

Two "Great Books" discussion groups for adults in Redford Township, Livonia, Farmington and Plymouth will resume sessions at the end of this month.

Centered around discussion of ideas and philosophies in literature, the classes still have several openings, according to Mrs. Velma Kastner, director.

"This is a professionally organized program designed to build the capacity of your minds," Mrs. Kastner said, "and your ability to think, to speak and to listen with greater facility. It is a program where you bring your mind into silent discussion with the greatest minds of the past."

These are the writers of the world's great books. They speak to you on such subjects as philosophy, religion, politics, government, family living, bringing up children, education and all areas vital to the thinking man.

Cost of the program is nothing, although members can purchase a paperback collection of readings good for a year of the program for $8. "This, however, is not necessary," Mrs. Kastner said. "You can get the readings from your local library and many present members are doing this."

Two meetings of the group are scheduled each month. For each meeting there is an assignment from one of the books averaging 50 to 100 pages. "The reading program for each year has been carefully compiled and organized by the Great Books Foundation of Chicago," Mrs. Kastner added.

"We are looking for people with a sincere desire to learn and improve, people who like to read, ones who will invest the proper amount of time, and, especially, those who will have the self-discipline to tackle readings that can be slightly difficult," she said.

Openings exist in both groups. One meets alternate Monday nights from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Whitman Junior High School in Livonia. The second meets on alternate Thursdays from 8:15 to 10:15 at Carl Sandburg Library on Seven Mile and Middlebelt in Livonia. Residents of all nearby communities are eligible to attend.

First meetings of the two groups are set for Monday, Sept. 28, and Thursday, Oct. 1. Registration information is available by calling Mrs. Kastner at GA 1-2619.

Karla Herbold's Spouse College Vice President

New residents of Mt. Carroll, Ill., are Mr. and Mrs. Stafford G. Davis, and they have moved there because Davis is the new vice president and director of development for Shimer College.

Mrs. Davis is the former Karla Jean Herbold, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Herbold, 1376 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

Shimer College is a four-year co-educational school with an enrollment of 400 and a national academic reputation as a liberal arts institution.

Time Magazine a year ago and the Associated Press this year both did special stories on Shimer College, which has a unique, informal approach to academic progress and which is called one of 11 American campuses that have "ideal intellectual climates" by Syracuse psychologist George G. Stern.

President Dr. F. J. Mullin, who announced Davis' appointment, in the past has called the Episcopalian-related college a "community of scholars."

It has a 32-man faculty, but they are not "ranked" as professors or assistant professors. Classes are limited to 19 or 20 students and the faculty men probably work longer hours in the classrooms than 99 percent of their counterparts elsewhere in the U.S.

Shimer College accepts students whenever they appear ready to take on college work, regardless of age. Twenty percent of the students are "early entrants."

Formerly, Davis served as director of information services at Northwestern University. He also has served as director of community relations at the University of Chicago. In 1956, Davis was press at- tache for the American Embassy with the U.S. Information Service in Saigon, Vietnam.

Finish Work on Doris Sewer

Cleanup work on Doris Ave. between Seven Mile and Curtis will get underway today. Department of Public Works Director Robert Shaw said, following completion of sanitary sewer work in the area.

Shaw said he "understood and sympathized" with complaints voiced by residents of the half-mile stretch over a delay in finishing the project. "But," he added, "we have had equipment break down, there were complicated installations involved, and we used city employees rather than a specialized contractor to do the work."

Edward Reeber, 18600 Doris, had told The Observer last week that the 25 residents on the street had become "disgusted" with the delay in completion of the project.

"They started work last October and were supposed to be done in 60 days," he said. "Today it's still not completed, and the road situation is so bad that if a fire truck or ambulance wanted to come down Doris, they'd have an extremely difficult time." Reeber said there was an eight-inch drop from the driveway of most homes to the road, that there were piles of clay and dirt in front of each home and there were no warning signs or lights at the construction sites.

Reeber said the work could have been completed earlier if the work had been done by a private contractor. "The city employees are not specialists," he said, "and it took them longer."

Shaw, meanwhile, said that when the matter was first discussed by the Council, a difference in cost of $25,000 was estimated by having the city DPW do the work rather than a private contractor. He agreed, however, that the city did not own the size or kind of equipment that could have done the job quicker.

"There was a 23-foot deep drop to the sewer on the south side of Seven Mile," he said, "and only a 15-foot drop on the north side, into Sunset Hills, which the sewer will help. Therefore, a complicated lift-station had to be built, which took time."

Added Shaw, "I can appreciate the feelings of the people. They've been very kind to bear with us and we all learned a lesson."

OFF THE POLICE BLOTTER:

Vandals Hit Park, School

Off Livonia's Police Blotter: Theft of a fishing tackle box containing equipment valued at more than $125 was reported to Livonia Police by Duane Braun 14208 Brentwood.

Braun said the box was sitting in his unlocked garage in preparation for a fishing trip.

Vandals, believed to be juveniles, are suspected of chopping up three picnic tables, ripping down three kiddie swings, ramaging a cooking grill and spreading broken bottles around Jefferson School park.

That was the complaint of Robert Stokes, foreman for the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, who discovered the vandalism Thursday morning.

Theft of his 1964 convertible, valued at $3,000, was reported to Livonia Police by Cyril McAndrew, 9912 Woodring. He indicated the car was parked in the side drive and vanished overnight.

Thieves broke into Lincoln School, 15745 Ashhurst, ransacked the supply room and stole a tape recorder valued at $133 according to a report to Livonia Police by Custodian Charles Hoff.

Hoff told officers the robbers broke open a skylight to gain admission, took a key from the school secretary's desk to open the supply room and failed in attempts to break into the principal's office.

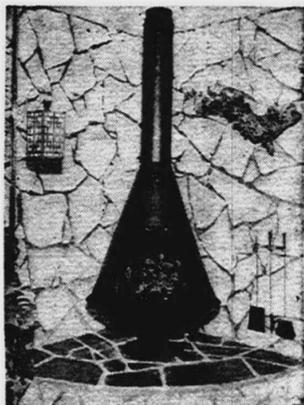

James Tucker, 23, of 3634 Mitchell, Detroit, is being held by Livonia Police on a charge of felonious assault after he allegedly struck Edgar Wolsch, a groom at the Detroit Race Course, with a chain.

Wolsch told investigating officers Tucker smashed open the door to his room, started swinging the chain, damaging a television set and striking Wolsch on the head.

Tucker is accused of attacking Haskell Propes, another groom, earlier in the same manner with the chain.

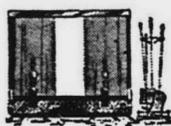

Livonia Police are seeking four youths accused of smearing paint on the south side of Jefferson School, 9501 Henry Ruff, and also writing obscene words on windows with soap.

24 Area Youngsters Receive Care From Torch Drive

Institutional care was provided for 24 area youngsters—three from Redford Township and 21 from Livonia—during the past year by Torch Drive services.

The "orphanage" of Oliver Twist's day is a thing of the forgotten past, according to social workers. More and more emphasis is placed on solving the problems of growing children in their own homes or, if that is not possible, in foster homes. Adoptions take care of youngsters who have lost their natural parents.

An increasing amount of therapy is done with parents and families. Skilled counselors work toward preserving, rehabilitating, the family. This means clearing up problems which otherwise might make it necessary to place a child in an institution. Despite these efforts, more than 1,700 children are in Torch-Drive-supported institutions.

Certain individual children require institutionalization as therapy. Others face environments with which it is impossible for social workers to cope.

There are 15 institutions for children on the United Communities Services list of Torch Drive agencies. Each meets a special need. Duplication of services has been eliminated through mergers aimed at best meeting the needs of the community.

Baptist Children's Home in Royal Oak, provides physical and spiritual care for 32 boys and girls from 6 to 11 years of age and of normal intelligence. Group care and boarding home programs are provided children who must be away from their parents while caseworkers work toward reuniting their families wherever possible.

Boys' Republic in Farmington, nationally famous since 1907, is a resident treatment center for 75 delinquent and emotionally disturbed boys 12½ to 15½ years of age. Its program includes individual counseling and psychotherapy, special education, well-rounded recreational activities for boys as well as a group therapy program for parents and a follow-up program for boys released after an average stay of a year and a half.

Delta Home for Girls provides a residence for as many as 14 girls from 13 to 17 years of age who need guidance, counseling, and training to overcome behavior and personality difficulties.

Don Bosco Hall is operated by the Xaverian Brothers for the care, education, training and rehabilitation of 50 young men from 14 to 17 with a problem, regardless of race or creed. It serves dependent, incorrigible, neglected, and delinquent boys coming to the attention of the various juvenile courts in the metropolitan area.

Mary Hulbert House of the Girls Protective League, at 533 E. Grand Blvd., is a "half-way house" for young adult females from 17 through 25 who have been discharged patients from Lafayette Clinic, and who are employed by day but need a supervised living arrangement during their transition to more independent living.

Sheruth House, operated by the Jewish Family and Children's Service, is a group home for emotionally disturbed adolescent girls.

The League of Catholic Women's Barst House provides living accommodations for 24 girls with personality problems that cannot be solved in their homes. It offers psychotherapy on an individual basis along with medical care. Girls attend local schools in the community.

Lutheran School for the Deaf is a highly specialized residential elementary school for deaf and hard-of-hearing children. It accommodates 110, including aphasia-deaf children.

The pre-adoption cottage of Methodist Children's Home Society cares for new-born infants until adoptive parents can be found.

St. Francis Home for Boys provides total care for 264 dependent and neglected boys who cannot live in their own homes and will profit by group experience.

The Salvation Army's Edwin Denby Children's Home cares for up to 50 girls from 5 to 15 or boys from 5 to 8 from broken homes and wards of the court.

Vista Maria School is a residential school for 180 teen-age girls who present behavior problems but with a presentment for treatment.

Williams House provides residential foster home care for girls from 12 to 17 years of age who need group living experiences and casework services. They attend public schools, are helped by tutoring and trained in homemaking.

PLYMOUTH'S Junior Baseball players had a ball at the annual trophy presentation and feed at the Plymouth Elks Club. The affair is sponsored by the Powells and this shows the youngsters milling around the hot dog stand during the early part of the afternoon. More than 250 attended.

Marine Recruiters Reopen Office in Memorial Building

Local Marine Recruiters Cpl. Eddy Erickson and Sgt. Bill McGinn stated Monday that the recruiting office in Plymouth has been reopened. Cpl. Erickson and Sgt. McGinn will be on hand to interview local young men and women who would like information about service as a United States Marine.

The office is located in the Veterans Memorial Building, 173 N. Main Street next to Plymouth Senior High School. The hours are from 8 to 5, Monday through Friday, and 8 to noon on Saturdays.

Wonderland to Celebrate It's Fifth Anniversary

Plans for what was termed the most elaborate anniversary celebration ever staged by a Detroit-area shopping center were revealed this week by Ernie Epps, promotion director for Wonderland, Livonia's 57-store center at Plymouth road and Middlebelt.

The celebration will begin early in October and continue for two weeks.

Biggest attraction of the Birthday event will be Wonderland's second annual presentation of "Motors and Music," a lively salute to the auto industry. The show, featuring some of America's best-known professional talent, is co-sponsored by the Ford Motor Company and its Livonia dealer, Bill Brown Sales.

Wonderland, Michigan's third-largest regional shopping center, has served the northwest Wayne County suburban area since October, 1959. To mark its fifth year, the center will give away more than 100 prizes, including a 1965 Ford Mustang and a color television set.

Acclaimed by thousands who saw it last year, "Motors and Music" will feature the "Ford Galaxy of Stars." "This year's show will be totally different than the 1963 production and we are confident it will be a real crowd pleaser," Epps said. "The Ford galaxy of stars include many famous entertainers who have appeared on TV and in leading hotels throughout the country."

Local musical groups and other amateur entertainers will compete in separate contests for cash prizes, and a chance to win a three-week vacation in Europe, Epps reported. "Additions will start this week in the Wonderland Civic room," he continued.

"High school-age youngsters who are interested in competing in these contests must register not later than October 25." For the first time, Wonderland will exhibit the complete line of Ford products for 1965. In addition, several experimental cars of tomorrow will be on display during the anniversary event.

Wonderland Center was developed and is owned by Henry S. Alper and Abe Green, widely known Detroit builders and investors.

After-School Creative Classes Offered For Livonia Students

Livonia is offering after school and Saturday courses in piano, dance, art, and other cultural or recreational areas for school-age youths desiring opportunities for creative expression not usually available during the normal school day.

Amateur Radio: This class is offered to youngsters from seventh through twelfth grade who are interested in learning the Morse Code and working toward a Novice license.

Creative Drama: Children four through eight years of age will have the opportunity to learn improvised creation of characters, mood, action, and dialogue.

Creative Dance: The composition of group or solo dances stressing movement skills and rhythmic responses. For youngsters four through eight years of age.

Charm and Poise: A modeling program for young ladies from seventh through twelfth grade, with corrective exercises assisting in the development of poise and control through the study of grace, ease of movement, and self-assurance.

Introduction to Study Skills: For students in grades seven and eight who wish to improve their study habits. Class will include development of note taking skills, outlining, approaches to text book and lesson study.

Advanced Study Skills: This course is geared for the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grade students who wish to improve and accelerate their rate of reading and includes locating, evaluating, and organizing materials for the development of conscientious study habits.

Group Instruction in Piano: Learning to play the piano in a group has proven to be an effective and economical way of mastering fundamentals. Class is divided into beginners for students with no piano background, and advanced for students with some experience. Materials are extra.

Judo: Learn the basic application of Judo principals and throwing techniques as applied to self-defense and actual Judo competition. Children are placed in classes according to age and size. For students nine through fifteen years of age.

Art: An Art Workshop is offered during the Fall and Winter terms in cooperation with the Detroit Institute of Arts for youngsters from the first grade through the twelfth. Call TE 1-3060 for any further information—please ask for the Education Department.

Junior Great Books: A program of reading and discussing great literature geared for children in grades five through twelve. Students will meet once each month for 1½ hours, and will be guided in their discussions by moderators trained in the Socratic method of questioning. The paper bound set of Junior Great Books is necessary.

Cut Sliding Doors From Marlite Panel

Looking for a way to make colorful sliding doors in a jiffy? If so, you'll find that many home handymen are using plastic finished Marlite paneling which can be cut to size with a fine tooth or power saw.

This paneling comes in a variety of modern colors, high-fidelity woodgrains and decorative patterns. Therefore, it does not require any finishing.

After cutting, simply attach door pulls or handles. You might also bore holes for finger pulls. The sliding doors can be slipped right into the channels.

Marlite paneling can be obtained at local lumber dealers.

Homemakers Prefer Compartmented Bath

Large, compartmented baths are "in" with the American homemaker.

More than 70 per cent of the women interviewed in a recent home improvement forum said that they liked the idea of providing separate areas in the bathroom for the tub-shower, toilet and lavatory.

With this type of arrangement, they explained, the bathroom has more privacy. Also, the vanity area can be made more attractive so that it can be used by guests.

In a compartmented bathroom it is possible to design a more colorful and interesting decor. More than one color or pattern can be used since dividers screen the various areas.

For instance, handsome wood-grain paneling might be used around the vanity to highlight this area. A heat and water resistant paneling, such as plastic-finished Marlite, often is used in bathrooms.

The smooth, plastic surface of this paneling, which resembles that on a refrigerator, can be damp-wiped clean. It never needs refinishing.

Marlite also comes in modern colors and patterns, which can be combined effectively with the woodgrain tones in a compartmented bathroom.

Wallboard adhesive is used to apply plastic-finished hardboard, which can be installed over any solid backing. Easy-to-handle planks can be put up right over open framing if divider walls are included in a remodeling project.

Local lumber dealers carry this washable paneling, as well as matching moldings.

SOMETHING new has come to Farmington—in the Kendallwood Center. They bear the Royal Crest and are known as the Court Coiffures. Mark Bass said the beauty salon could well be known as international. He is here from England where he styled hair for ladies of St. James Court. One of their operators is Odette, who has just arrived from Paris, and also on the staff of hair stylists is Vera from Scotland. Mr. Bass said he is impressed with the fashionableness of the women of this area — and also the constant flow of coffee that goes on in American beauty shops. To add American flavor is John Pellegrini from Detroit. The shop is at 32230 W. 12 Mile Road at Farmington Road.

Get Rid of Bats With Moth

Although bats can be a nuisance this time of year, it's generally a simple task to get rid of the odd little mammals before they drive you "batty."

Cool, late summer evenings encourage bats to roost in buildings at night, points out University extension wildlife Charles Shick, Michigan State specialist.

Shick says five pounds of moth balls scattered on the floor will keep the strange animals out of most attics. However, he also suggests plugging cracks and holes in barns, garages, attics and vacant buildings. The best way to find small cracks is to close the doors and windows in the daytime and notice where light seeps through the walls.

These holes can be filled with caulking compound, screen mesh or aluminum foil during the evening hours after bats have left the building to feed.

"Legend and witchcraft have pictured bats as villains for centuries," points out Shick. "But actually they are harmless and what's more, they eat flies and many other insects."

But they do have some odd habits. For instance, they feed at night and sleep in the daytime while hanging head down from the curved claws on their hind feet. They also hibernate in winter.

Although bats have poor vision, they make up for it with a kind of radar system which sends out 30 "yells" per second using supersonic sound waves which are beyond man's hearing capacity. The echoes indicate objects in their paths, says Shick.

Cover Tops With Tile

Do you need additional counter and storage space in your kitchen? For many, the solution lies in a peninsula serving area.

For durability and beauty, surface the countertop with a material that can't be burned or scratched, such as ceramic tile.

To save steps, have cabinet doors on both sides of the peninsula.

Breakfast Nook Is Extension Of Kitchen

Very often the breakfast nook is an extension of the kitchen, or placed in a corner. You can add distinction to this area by delineating where the kitchen ends and the nook begins.

An easy and economical way to do this is to have different floor patterns in each section.

Ceramic tile is ideal for this purpose because of the infinite variety of new patterns, designs and colors available in this extremely durable surfacing.

See New Equipment Before Purchasing

An ideal way to plan the plumbing and heating installations for your new or remodeled home is to make arrangements with your contractor to see the actual equipment on display.

This way, you will be able to select first-hand the products best suited to your tastes and needs.

IT'S FUN TO CAPTURE the football spirit in the company of young ladies wearing the latest fall and back-to-school fashions. I. B. McCoy, manager of the Montgomery Ward store at Wonderland, heads for the stadium with models wearing Ward's new fall and winter fashions at his store. McCoy previewed the new looks for the new season during a recent meeting at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

Torch Drive Aids 5,555 in Redford

Recreational services made possible by the Torch Drive were enjoyed by 5,555 Redford Township residents during the past year. The United Community Services reported that there were 2,794 Girl Scouts with 834 adult leaders, 1,784 Boy Scouts with 766 leaders, and 61 Camp Fire Girls with 16 adults, 878 members of the YWCA, seven members of the YMCA, 19 members of Brightmoor Community Center, and one member of a UAW Retired Workers Center. Eleven Redford Township residents attended the Salvation Army's Camp Echo Grove.

State Highway Dept. Plans Work-Training Program

The State Highway Department is prepared to conduct a work-training program for 400 men under provisions of the recently-enacted national Economic Opportunity Act.

At the same time, the Highway Department is prepared to expand its Student Highway Technician Training Program as part of the "War-on-Poverty" Program recently adopted by Congress.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, in a letter to Gov. George Romney, said the program could utilize up to 400 young men and would be designed to give them training in forestry work and could lead to careers in this field.

"On the basis of preliminary estimates, there are about 200 miles of freeways (in northern Michigan) that could serve as the training ground for these young people — if finances were made available for the administration of such a program," Mackie told Romney.

Mackie said that this work experience plus the related educational program would be of direct benefit to the health and well-being of the trainees.

At the same time, it would help prepare the youthful trainees for careers in such work as soil conservation, erosion control, forest management, roadside development and other related careers.

Development of such a program in Michigan would enable the State Highway Department to accelerate its efforts to beautify Michigan's freeways, Mackie said.

Mackie told the Governor the State Highway Department has been conducting a Student Highway Technician Training Program on a cooperative basis with Lansing Community College since 1957 and with Ferris State College since 1960.

About 40 students are enrolled in the program each year. They work six months for the State Highway Department and attend school six months for a period of about two and one-half years. The present program could be expanded to accommodate many more students if funds were available, Mackie said.

There is a continuing need, not only in the State Highway Department, but in local road agencies as well, for men with this training, and expansion of the program could help meet this need, he said.

Edison President Named To Board of National Bank

Donald F. Kigar, President of the Detroit Edison Company, was elected to membership on the Board of Directors of the National Bank of Detroit.

A native of Liberty Center, O., Kigar began his career with Detroit Edison in 1926 as a clerk in the Construction Department, after his graduation from Ohio Northern University with the degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering.

Rising through the ranks to the management of the Construction Department, he then served successfully as Manager of Union Relations, Vice President, Union Relations, and Executive Vice President. He was elected President and a member of the Board of Directors last May.

Curtain Going Up On College Plays —By Wally Roberts

Last week in taking a preview peek at the varied bill-of-fare to be offered on the University theater circuit we didn't quite finish our perusal. Wayne State's Classical theater, their Bonstelle operation and the Eastern Michigan Players in the technically-perfect Quirk theater complete the coming 30 production forthcoming University season.

The Wayne State University Theater, now in its 35th season, takes justifiable pride in presenting its 14 play series in the historic Bonstelle Theater. "Once Upon a Mattress", the "inside story" of what really happened to the famous princess who was so sensitive that she couldn't sleep when one pea was under a whole pile of mattresses starts the season. This musical directed by Russ Smith will open the season in a gala atmosphere. "Luther", "Three Men On A Horse", and "Gideon", "The Member of the Wedding", and Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion" follow in quick succession to round out a most interesting season. Season subscriptions can be obtained for as little as five dollars. Order blanks can be picked up or sent from the Wayne State University Ticket office.

The Classic theater will not open until January of 1965, but already the semi-professional actors are busily at work rehearsing three of the five plays to be presented. "Galileo", "Taming of the Shrew", "Macbeth", "Oedipus Rex" are four of the five classic dramas to be performed. Director Leone is directed to old Wally that the Classic theater was undergoing some renovations that will greatly enhance the productions of the plays.

Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti has a four play season loaded with fun and laughter. Dr. James Gousseff and his staff have selected lighter fare for audiences in the Detroit-Ann Arbor area. The comedy hit "Fourposter" is the number one attraction in October. Moving from "The Fourposter", a happy version of the trials, tribulations, and good times found in most marriages, it's but a light-hearted skip to the heart-warming drama of Helen Keller in "The Miracle Worker."

The second half of the season in Quirk Theater, the finest theatrical plant in the Detroit-Ann Arbor area, opens with Shaw's "Devil Disciple". George Bird, EMU's talented designer, is already struggling with the problems of four sets. For "Disciple" the action must be almost continuous. Anyone with plans for a revolving stage might contact Mr. Bird. "South Pacific" concludes a brilliant season of productions.

In addition to the four plays the good folks at Eastern Michigan toss in six outstanding international cinemas for good measure. The season coupon book sells for a meager four dollars. This four dollar package is one of the biggest theatrical bargains in the entire U.S. For information call the box office at HU 2-3453.

Northland Playhouse closed a most successful season with an enjoyable production of "Sound of Music". After sitting through "Golden Boy" and "Fiddler On The Roof", old Wally had given up and decided that song writers were on strike. Melodies seemed to be a thing of the past. And then I went to "Sound of Music". What a wonderful experience to sit back and soak up the grand old melodies of Rodgers and Hammerstein. Those two gentlemen really knew how to hammer out some whistle-happy tunes. No wonder Ken Schwartz did S.R.O. business with "Sound of Music". I'm certainly happy he brought it back for a second visit. In fact, I hope the Livonia-Redford Guild considers this musical on their schedule for next year.

The Fisher Theater audiences greeted "The Merry Widow" warmly and affectionately. The time-honored melodies of Franz Lehár were a welcome relief after all the experimenting of the past two months. Patricia Munsel delivered her songs with gusto and made the evening worth while.

THE BILLBOARD
Fisher Theater — "THE MERRY WIDOW." Walk music easy to listen to coupled with some wild can-can numbers. Don't miss this musical. Broke all records in New York last month. Opened Sept. 22 for a four week run. Mendelssohn Theater — "WAR AND PEACE." American premiere of a stage version of the powerful Tolstoy novel. Ellis Raab directs this epic. The APA company of professional actors always puts on a good show. Will be in repertory with "The Hostage," "Judith," and "Man and Superman." Masque Theater — "SEVEN YEAR ITCH." Two more weeks remain for this weekend theater presentation in the Wolverine Hotel. Dolores Payne and Howard Halstead have a gay time delivering Axelrod's witty lines.

Farmington Duplicate Club Move To WYCA

An eight table Mitchell movement game headed the agenda as the Farmington Duplicate Club held its first game Wednesday at 8 p.m. in its new home, The Farmington YMCA, Grand River near Drake.

N-S first place winners were Charlie and Margaret Barry. Second place went to Mary Jo Naragon and Freda Rutherford with Sue Fuller and Stella Fitzpatrick capturing third place.

E-W first place went to Jay and Evelyn Smith; Second place, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wagner; third place, Eugene and Myra Benson.
Coffee and cookies were served throughout the game. It was announced that the Master Point game will be held September 30.
Starting in October, this will be an unlimited (MP) Club and will be open to any bridge player. If a partner is needed, call Rose Anderson during the week at 476-1767 or let her know when you arrive.

The Farmington Early Birds, a new morning duplicate club held its first game in the YMCA last Thursday. N-S winners for this game were Janet Bone and Ann Thomson. In second place were Audrey Carless and Elizabeth Dugan. The E-W first place ended in a tie between Dorothy Furlong and Gladys Hogan and Lois Killish and Carol Knechtges.

This game, which starts at 10 a.m. every Thursday, also is open to all bridge players. Master Point games will be held on the third Thursday, the first scheduled October 15. Players are asked to bring a sandwich. Dessert and coffee are served.
For additional information on either club, call Rose Anderson, director of both clubs, at 476-1767.

Livonia Police Ball Stars Miller Orchestra

The Glenn Miller Orchestra will star at this year's annual Police Officers' Ball in Livonia at 9 p.m. on October 16 at Roma Hall.

Plans for the 12th yearly dance are rolling forward, Chairman George W. Favor said this week, and tickets — priced at $6 a couple—are now available.

Hamlet Opens Terrace Today

Tickets are still available for the matinee performance of Richard Burton's Hamlet for Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Terrace Theatre, Plymouth Road, Livonia.

Proceeds from the dance will help the Police Officers Association's efforts to curb juvenile delinquency through the sponsorship of various activities for the city's youth.

There are also some tickets available for the Wednesday evening and Thursday evening 8 p.m. performance (tonight) Sept. 23 and 24. These tickets are limited.
Widely proclaimed, the unique picture has been breaking records wherever it has been shown.

Tickets, which include potato chips, ice and set ups as well as admission to the dance, are available by calling POA headquarters, 476-2700. Residents were asked not to call the Livonia Police Station for tickets. "Not only will these interruptions interfere with the official police duties but they will also tie up lines for any emergency calls," policemen said.
Some of the things they do are pointless, but every man is the hero of his own imagination.

Artist From Area Plays Detroit Art Institute

Pianist James Tocco will play the works of Beethoven, Ravel, Bartok and Brahms recital to-night Sept. 23, 8:30 p.m., at the Detroit Institute of Arts Auditorium.

Tocco, who made a memorable debut presentation in Detroit a year ago, has been studying at the Magda Tagliaferro School in Paris, France, since last October. Late in May of this year he climaxed his first year of study in Paris by winning first prize in the 7th Annual Magda Tagliaferro International Competition against 18 other contestants representing eleven countries.

Early next month, James returns to Paris for another year to study with the renowned European pianist and teacher, Magda Tagliaferro, and to meet the commitments of performing about eight or nine concerts throughout France which are, in part, the result of his winning the Paris competition.

He is a former student of Royal Oak pianist and teacher Boris Maximovich with whom he has studied for eight years. Since winning the Grinnel Piano Award in 1962, he has been performing in the Detroit area and Southern Michigan with distinction having made guest appearances with the Detroit Scandinavian, Grosse Pointe, Allen Park and Plymouth Symphonies.

His numerous concerts have included recitals for the Cranbrook Music Guild, Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Club, St. Joseph Monday Music Guild, Michigan Federation of Music Clubs Convention, and the Palestrina Institute to name a few.

Tocco's early education included eight years of school at St. Catherines Elementary School and four years at Austin

JAMES TOCCO

High. From the latter he graduated with highest honors and ranked first in his class. He has completed two years of study at Wayne State University, and he is currently beginning the second year of his sabbatical leave from that institution.

Proceeds from the recital will aid James to continue his study abroad for another year. Tickets will also be available at the box office.

Burton Hollow President's Ball At Meadowbrook

Burton Hollow Civic Association will hold its annual President's Ball at beautiful Meadowbrook Country Club located on West 8 Mile Road at Haggerty, Saturday, October 10, 1964.

This year the President's Ball will be a semi-formal dinner dance — dinner to be served at 7:30 p.m. with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of the Ralston Clark orchestra. The beautiful cocktail lounge overlooking the fabulous Meadowbrook golf course will be open at 6 p.m. for the convenience of the association members and their guests.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR is seen as "Cleopatra" and Rex Harrison portrays Julius Caesar in the 20th Century-Fox romantic spectacle, written and directed by Joseph L. Mankiewicz and produced by Walter Wanger. Richard Burton co-stars in the De Luxe Color attraction which opens today (Wednesday) at the Mak-Kai Theater in Livonia and the Wayne Drive-In in Wayne.

Art Show Opens September 28

Would you like to win an original oil painting? Some lucky person will win just by signing his name on a slip of paper and depositing it in a box at the Civic Room at Wonderland Shopping Center, starting Sept. 28th at 10 a.m. and continuing daily through Oct. 3rd.

The painting to be given away is an original oil, painted by Mabel Petersen, well known local artist and the dean of art and culture in this area. Mrs. Petersen's painting is a large contemporary painting entitled "Strings," and would be a lovely addition to any home.

An opportunity will be provided for anyone desiring to paint in oils, to do so at the show. Brushes, oil paint and everything necessary will be available for those wanting to get the "feel" of painting, and to experience its joys. This work of art by the public will be auctioned off to the highest bidder at 3 p.m. October 3rd in the Civic Room.

Many paintings by local artists will be displayed at the show and will be for sale in a price range of $10.00 to $100.00. The value of these paintings is much more. No longer can it be said, "Oil paintings are too expensive to own for the average family." At this price range the average family could afford several. A rack full of paintings ranging in price from $10.00, $15.00, $20.00 to $25.00 is planned to interest buyers.

Many people save for vacations or purchases by putting small change away. This is a good way to save, but there is a temporary shortage of small coins. Take your savings to your bank!

String Quartet to Play at Franklin High

The Livonia Public Library and the Children's Entertainment Guild will sponsor the String Quartet from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in a program called "Excursions in Music" at 4:15 p.m. Friday, Oct. 2, in the Franklin High School auditorium.

The program is conducted on an informal level, designed particularly to interest fifth through ninth graders. As a part of each concert the musicians discuss the music, explain and demonstrate their instruments and answer questions from the audience.

Tickets are 40 cents each and may be obtained at the door or by calling GA 5-2227.

Soars to Total of 3,588

Record Clarenceville Enrollment

Enrollment in the Clarenceville School District soared to a record high of 3,588 at the end of the first week of the 1964-65 term, according to figures released by Supt. Louis Schmidt. The total for the four elementary, junior high and senior schools is 257 more than that at the end of the 1963-4 school year when 3,331 attended. Supt. Schmidt indicated that the first week's figures are not conclusive since the total is expected to climb by another 100 to 150 by the end of September. Edgewood reported the greatest increase with a hike of 172 students while Botsford was 18 below the figures of June and Westbrook 19.

The enrollment by schools:

	1963	1964
Botsford	846	828
Edgewood	402	574
Grandview	745	763
Westbrook	246	227
Junior High	466	502
Senior High	626	694

The Junior High enrollment is up 36 and the senior high shows an increase of 68.

Meanwhile, evening hours have been announced for the high school library, affording students additional time for research and supervised study two nights each week.

Principal David McDowell has placed Harold Saarinen in charge on Tuesdays and Lester Bierman on Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m.

McDowell indicated that additional areas of the school will be opened on an experimental basis as the school year progresses.

"If the students feel a need for additional facilities, proper supervision and educational help if available, the program will be enlarged," he said.

American Sets Freight Ton Record

American Airlines flew 16,970,000 ton miles of airfreight in August to set a company record, Jack A. Tompkins, the carrier's regional vice president announced Monday.

The former standard, set in October, 1963, was 16,854,000 ton miles. August's total exceeded by 14.3 percent the airfreight ton miles figure for the same month of 1963.

Other totals for last month included 2,224,000 ton miles of air mail; 361,000 ton miles of surface mail, and 1,235,000 ton miles of express. All-cargo (freight, mail and express) ton miles for the period were 20,790,000, a figure 11.6 percent higher than that for the month of August, 1963.

For the first eight months of 1964, airfreight ton miles (229,130,000) were 13.5 percent higher than they were in the same span of last year.

Tompkins had previously announced a company revenue passenger mile record of 815,170,000 in August. The airline carried 939,000 passengers during the month, the second highest total in its history.

Plymouth Buses Transport 475 Parochial Pupils

Although transporting almost 900 more students this year than in 1963-64, the Plymouth Community School system has answered the challenge with a smooth operation that took care of all with a minimum of problems and a maximum of cooperation.

That was the report of Transportation Director Robert Houghton to Business Manager Melvin Blunk Friday afternoon after delivering the more than 3,000 pupils to their homes by 5:15 p.m.

The new state law which requires the public schools to transport all parochial students, residing within the school district boundaries, added 475 to the Plymouth load.

The Plymouth School Board furnishes transportation to all youngsters — kindergarten through grade three — who live in a high traffic area. Other than that, grades three through six, must reside more than a mile from the school and grades six through 12, a mile and half.

The same rules apply for pupils of Our Lady of Good Counsel and the Lutheran Day schools.

Our Lady of Good Counsel added 440 to the Plymouth load and Lutheran Day, 35.

Along with this, Plymouth's enrollment climbed to a record high and added more than 400 to the bus pickups.

Houghton stated that he has added five additional drivers to his staff to handle the routes. However, he was quick to point out that he had no idea yet as to how many of the additions, if any, were due to the parochial students.

"We have been able to set up temporary schedules for all bus routes," he said. "But we still have to wait until parents, who are now driving their children to the schools, start sending them via bus before we can make the schedules permanent."

Both Blunk and Houghton had high praise for Sister Christine, principal of Our Lady of Good Counsel for the efficient manner she scheduled her students for the buses.

"Last year Sister Christine had to schedule students for six buses," said Blunk. "This year she is working with 26 buses and there hasn't been a single slip thus far. That's the height of efficiency and we doff our hats to Sister Christine for her tremendous job."

Youngsters Workshop

Students in the suburban area are again eligible to participate in the Detroit Institute of Arts' Young People's Art Workshop. Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, and Redford students interested in these courses can get detailed information by calling the Education Department, TE 1-0360, in Detroit.

Meader, Vivian To Debate Civil Rights in Plymouth

Voters in the Plymouth Community and Northville Township sections will have an opportunity to hear the rival candidates for election to the Second District Congressional seat, explain their views in a public meeting Thursday (Sept. 24) at 8:30 p.m. in the Plymouth High auditorium.

The program, sponsored by the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity, will headline Congressman George Meader, Republican nominee from Ann Arbor, and Weston Vivian, Democratic nominee also from Ann Arbor.

Meader currently is a Congressman but this will be his first attempt to gain a seat from the new Congressional district which now includes portions of Wayne, Washtenaw and Lenawee counties.

He bested State Senator Stanley Thayer, also of Ann Arbor, in the primaries. Vivian won by a scant margin of 82 votes from A. E. Faye, of Ann Arbor, in the earlier vote.

Meader and Vivian are expected to present their views on the current Civil Rights issues, according to officers of the sponsoring Plymouth Assembly.

Meader, in his primary campaign literature, expressed opposition to civil rights legislation and hewed to a conservative, state-rights line.

Vivian, in his primary election talks, indicated his support of civil rights and social legislation aimed at relieving poverty and unemployment.

Kenneth Hulsing, long active in Plymouth civic and social activities, will serve as master of ceremonies. He will introduce both speakers and, following their talks and rebuttals, will ask questions presented by persons in the audience.

14 From Area Get MSU Degrees

Fourteen students from Redford Township, Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington were among 1,519 persons to receive degrees from Michigan State University at the completion of the summer quarter.

Among the students who received master's, bachelor's and doctoral degrees were:

Farmington Scores Over Bentley in Opener

Maybe the worm has changed for Farmington High School in football.

Coach John Hayes' team has been suffering many a lump in recent years.

But last Friday evening, under the lights and in the rain at Bentley High, Farmington started the 1964 campaign on a happy note—a 19-2 victory over Bentley.

Thus, Farmington:

1—Got even for a 19-0 loss administered by Bentley a year ago.

2—Posted its first opening day triumph in five years.

There were many happy things for Coach Hayes to talk about.

He liked the way Roy Leach,

Bruce Charles, Dick Johnston and Ron Cleveland ran with the pigskin. Cleveland's passing also drew some orchids.

The defense sparkled, too. Bentley was held to only five rushing plays in the first period.

Except for one play in the first period, after recovering a Farmington fumble, Bentley never crossed midfield until the late stages of the action.

Bentley was held to only 57 yards rushing, but the Livonians had much more success passing, going for 94 yards on aerials.

Farmington, on the other hand, roared through Bentley for 213 yards with Leach himself making 106 in 21 carries.

Passing saw Farmington gain 47 yards, while in first downs, it was 8 for Farmington and 5 for Bentley.

Coach Larry Joiner of Bentley wasn't too sad.

"We have a great many sophomores playing for us," he declared. "Our quarterback, Nick Bonder, did a fine job considering his inexperience."

Ponder hit on 7 of 20 tries in the rain.

His pet receivers were Bill Woods and Phil Maynard.

John Plumley led most of the running attack that Bentley was able to muster.

After Bentley had shocked Farmington by recovering the ball on the latter's 30 following the initial kickoff, Farmington quickly regained the ball on another fumble.

An exchange of punts followed and finally Farmington had the ball back on its own 30. It was from there, the first touchdown drive started.

Leach led the way with his running. One of his dashes covered 26 yards.

"Then Farmington reached Bentley six, Cleveland dropped back and passed to Tom Mitchell for the touchdown."

The second Farmington TD capped a 60-yard march. Johnston, Charles, Cleveland and Leach all took turns hauling the ball.

Leach went the final five yards to score.

Leach again tallied in the third period on a five-yarder to wrap up the Farmington scoring.

Bentley didn't threaten until the final period, but the Farmington line and defense with such personages as Dick Lesway, Mike Perry, Johnston, Charles, Shortt, Mitchell Ray Lardie and Terry Nielsen held its ground.

A fumble in the end zone on punt formation resulted in the safety which gave Bentley its only two points of the night.

Both schools will be in action Friday afternoon. Farmington hosts Plymouth at 3:30 o'clock. At the same hour, Bentley will try to hit the winners' circle at Dearborn High School.

TOUCHDOWN BOUND is Fullback Roy Leach, of Farmington High, despite the efforts of two unidentified Bentley High tacklers to stop him on a drive around end. The hard-driving senior scored twice in Farmington's opening victory by a 19-2 count at Bentley.

Plymouth Finds Mustangs Rough

Game No. 1 ended on a happy note for Plymouth High School's football team.

The Rocks squeaked past Northville, 19-12, last Friday . . . and a squeaker it was.

Also the Rocks had plenty of scares.

The fact is, had it not been for Northville's generosity, Plymouth easily could have walked off a loser.

The first Plymouth touchdown followed the recovery of a blocked punt on the Northville one.

The second Rocks' TD resulted from the recovery of a bad pass from center on the Northville 10.

The third score came on an intercepted pass with just eight seconds left to go in the game.

"I think this game should prove that we are not a powerhouse as some seem to think," said Mike Hoben, who now is under way in his final year as head coach at Plymouth.

"Remember, I've been saying we had too many young kids . . . and had some problems up front because of inexperience. We still have these headaches."

But Hoben might have to admit that some of his young men grew up—and grew up in a hurry—Friday night.

After Plymouth had taken a 13-0 lead, Northville came bouncing back.

A touchdown in the third period and another midway through the fourth had lifted Northville within a point of a tie.

On the kickoff to Plymouth following the second Northville TD, the Rocks fumbled.

Yep, you guessed it . . . Northville recovered on the Rocks' 39.

Things didn't look so hot for the Rocks at the juncture. Northville was all fired up . . . and some of the steam had been taken out of the Plymouth sails.

But the young forwards of Plymouth, getting their first real test under pressure, showed who was the boss.

The Northville charge was warded off and then in the fading seconds . . . Gary Grady removed all the pressure by breaking for a touchdown with an intercepted pass.

Plymouth scored early when Dave Eisenold and Co. of the Rocks poured through to block a Northville kick. Eisenold recovered it on the Northville 3. Grady socked over from the one and the conversion, Plymouth had a 7-0 edge.

FLIPPING THE COIN for the season opener in Plymouth is Referee Leo Turner who calls for Capt. John Mach (30), of Northville High, to make the call while Capt. and Halfback Gary Grady, of the Rocks, looks on. Northville won the toss but Plymouth started the year with a thrilling 19-12 victory.

SPORTS OBSERVER

By George Maskin

Nothing irritates the operator of this column more than to hear elders spout off about the modern teenagers.

1—The kids are terrible.

2—They're lazy.

3—They don't show any consideration.

4—They have no heart.

5—They're either boy (or girl) crazy.

6—School and school pride mean nothing.

We could expound at great length on all these items. But, since they are out of order, we won't.

Instead we'd like to talk about the NICE kids in the teenage class . . . and that has to constitute the bulk of the ever-growing list.

We wish that all who read these words could have been in our shoes the other evening when we served as the umpire in the North Farmington-Clarenceville game at Clarenceville.

Standing among the young teenagers, you get to appreciate more and more how really TOPS they are.

At one juncture, all of the North Farmington players literally in unison shouted to another:

"We have to get this one for Marty?"

The young man came right back with his answer as we waited for timeout to end.

"He's Ron Martini . . . one of our players. Ron should be here tonight. But, he's sick in the hospital. He's been pretty sick . . . and we want this game . . . and all of our games for him. Maybe he can come back and rejoin us before the season is over."

This is the spirit of our YOUNG men . . . those whom so many of us tend to knock and blast.

North Farmington won for Ron Martini . . . and the ailing young Ron had to feel a great deal better when the news was fired to him before the evening was over.

On the other side of the line of scrimmage, the Clarenceville team was giving its all. Even though the team was behind . . . the kids were patting each other and encouraging one another on.

Yes, it's a thrill to get in there with the young boys of our community. All of which is just another reason we keep harping all summer long that adults should do a little more about trying to promote baseball for the upper teenage group and worry less about the Little Leaguers.

Going back for an evening under the stars — (really it was raining) — at Clarenceville, we were amazed to hear from Athletic Director Lynn Nutter "how things have changed from a sports standpoint" at the Middlebelt Road School.

We can remember when in covering Clarenceville we considered the school "just one of those out in the sticks."

Nor is the Clarenceville athletic plant second to any around the area.

Nutter told about the new gym which seats almost 2,000 . . . the new pool which will be ready in the near future . . . about the new running track with its 42-inch lanes, compared to 36-inch lanes at most other places.

"We think we'll be having state tournaments here in basketball with our fine facilities," declared Nutter.

"And, I'm sure that we'll have a state regional in track," he added.

That the good folks in the Clarenceville school district have made possible such facilities is heartening to say the least.

In all too many spots, citizens are rejecting any measures (tax wise) that might help the schools add buildings . . . especially those which have to do with physical education and sports.

As many of our readers know, our basic job is to serve the Detroit Pistons. Each fall the Pistons receive requests from different school areas . . . asking if we could play a game at their place to help raise funds for school athletics.

A year ago, we went to Traverse City to lend a hand. This year, Bay City wanted such a game . . . but because of scheduling difficulties it has been impossible to arrange such a date for Bay City.

Hereabouts — in Livonia, in Plymouth, in Redford Township, in Farmington — we should be thankful that the communities don't need a hand from the outside to keep their sports flourishing.

It's not easy for mom and pop to vote "yes" when it means a hike in their tax bill.

But, the unselfishness expressed, in the area covered by the Observer Newspapers, toward the schools merits a flock of bouquets to be heaped on all the folks who have to dish out — where usually it hurts the most — from the pocket book.

May we suggest to all the adults — drop around some Friday evening and watch a high school football game. You'll see for yourselves — and thrill for yourselves — that everything you're doing and contributing is paying off in high spades.

R. Union Drops Bedford Easily

There are still some problems to be solved at Redford Union high school.

Football Coach John Rogers needs to find more depth. He has to do something about reducing the number of mistakes his charges make.

But Rogers has to admit he "was most delighted" with the showing Redford Union made last Friday night in downing Bedford, 20-6, in the season's opening game.

Bedford came to Redford Union with a bigger and heavier team. At the hand, however, it was Bedford, not R. U. which was thoroughly beaten.

Defensively and offensively, R. U. turned in a fine effort.

The running of Eric Bargo and Terry Shirkey, the latter 120-pounds when wringing wet, electrified the crowd.

But, so did the passing of Harry Kendrick who hit on 13 out of 15 attempts, despite the fact he was called upon to fire a very wet pigskin.

Mike Fritz, as expected, was Kendrick's favorite receiver and Fritz turned in several dazzling catches with rivals hanging all over him.

The outcome probably would have been a little more lopsided, had not R. U. lost two touchdowns on penalties. Bedford had one score wiped out by the dropping of a red flag.

Bargo streaked 65 yards to payland, but a clipping foul was detected "way back."

Then Kendrick teamed with Ernie Bourassa on a 50-yard pass-run play which had the R. U. fans shrieking until they noticed the referee stepping off a 15-yarder against R. U. for illegal use of the hands.

The first R. U. touchdown capped a 60-yard march. Vargo and Shirkey did the bulk of the running until R. U. reached the Bedford 10.

At this point, Kendrick dropped back . . . pegged neatly to Fritz in the clear and R. U. had a 7-0 lead.

A 40-yard movement on the ground led to the second R. U. touchdown. Shirkey went the final eight yards to put the R. U. lead to 13-0 at halftime.

In the third period, Bargo scooted off on a long gallop to the Bedford 30. A Kendrick pass and a Bargo run moved the ball up to the Bedford one from where Kendrick slammed over for the touchdown.

Bedford's lone TD came in the third period on a 50-yard march.

Statistically, Bedford had a 14-10 edge in first downs . . . R. U. had an overall edge in yardage, 336-253. Of the R. U. total, 153 came through the air.

The defensive work of Charles Srock, Pat Ryan, Keith Hirbone, Bill Melvin, Curt DeLoe and especially Jimmy Johnson had to thrill R. U. Coach Rogers.

Johnson intercepted two Bedford passes. Both came at clutch times. After one grab, speedster Johnson ran the ball back 50 yards.

This Friday night, R. U. hosts Franklin at 8 p.m.

"We'll learn more about our kids in this one," says Rogers.

Happy Debut At Franklin For Bentley

The transition from coaching basketball to football started on a happy note for Bob Bentley at Franklin High School last Saturday.

After a decade of turning out cage powers in Livonia—first at Bentley and Franklin—Bentley said it was "a challenge" to him personally to take a crack at guiding a football team.

The showing of the Franklin charges naturally cheered the coach.

There were many aspects of the team's play which delighted Bentley, as he later pointed out:

"The great on this team was desire, better than I have seen for a long time. The kids really got down field to block, which is something you don't see too often."

"They were also in there giving everything they had on defense and those young linemen of our learned a few lessons and showed us they knew how to think under pressure."

Does all of this mean Franklin could be a power this season?

"Well, let's not rush to say that," added the coach. "If we do well this Friday night over at Redford Union, we might have ourselves one very wonderful season."

In discussing the downfield blocking and the extra desire revealed by his players, Bentley offered Center Mike Stachurski as a good example.

There was the 70-yard pass-run play from Sam Antonazzo to Neal Thomas for a touchdown. "Stachurski made his original block after passing the ball to his quarterback."

When Thomas, 65 yards away, needed one final block to spring him loose for the touchdown, it was Stachurski who delivered set effort.

"That's what thrills a coach to see kids get down field and bang the opponents out of the way," added Bentley.

Franklin wasted no time in getting into the scoring column. The game was scarcely a minute old when Ken Brather-ton of Franklin grabbed a

Clarenceville Bows To N. Farmington

Winner and loser stood in the School last Friday night and took pride in what their boys had accomplished.

Coach Ron Holland of North Farmington represented the winners.

Ralph Temby, coach of Clarenceville, was the man for the losers.

North Farmington had just emerged from the field of combat with the upper hand of a 13-0 score.

"It was a great first effort," declared Holland. "Remember, we had been hard hit by graduation. We have a lot of new fellows out there.

"But, look at the job the kids did. The defense was simply marvelous. Clarenceville never got into our territory."

"Our boys weren't afraid to play the offense wide open, despite the fact that it rained pretty hard at times. Both of our touchdowns resulted from passes . . . one directly, the other as the result of one."

"Sure we made the usual, first-game mistakes. And we slipped some on the wet grass. But, all in all, how could you

Temby, nearby, expressed satisfaction with the work of his youngsters. He's had to rebuild, too.

"Our defensive line was rough. They didn't make much headway through us."

"What hurt were those two passes which led to their touchdowns. Throw out those two plays and it might have been a standstill."

Temby added that he'd have to do something about "pepping up and generating" the offense. He didn't have to be told that Clarenceville never once had crossed the midfield stripe.

The final score befitted the statistics.

North Farmington had an 8-4 edge in first downs . . . out-rushed Clarenceville, 102-50 yards, and had an 83-25 yardage via the air.

The two teams started slowly in the first quarter. Neither did anything to cause the opposition much worry.

Finally, in the second period, after an exchange of punts, North Farmington found itself on the Clarenceville 44.

Bill Oldershaw went back on a spread formation passing situation . . . and had more time to pass than many students have between classes.

He finally spotted John McDonald running down the left side through the rain. Oldershaw fired . . . McDonald reached up and North Farmington had the ball on the Clarenceville 14.

Bob Linderman, the hard-driving North Farmington back, then took over.

He slammed once to the nine. On the next play Linderman shot off tackle on a slant play and didn't stop running until he had scooted over the goal line.

The conversion try by Tom Trausch hit the bar . . . and fell back . . . no point.

In the third period, North Farmington took advantage of a poor punt to get the ball on the Clarenceville 32.

It again was raining hard, but Oldershaw didn't care. He was living dangerously.

He passed again . . . and his target once more was McDonald.

Bingo . . . McDonald snared the pigskin in the clear and when Trausch converted neatly, the Raiders had extended their lead to 13-0.

Later, North Farmington had another chance. Jerry Pound snared a pass fired by Clarenceville's Danny Freels and returned the ball to the Clarenceville 12.

But the Clarenceville line did its job . . . and repulsed the North Farmington threat.

But it was too late now for Clarenceville to do anything.

This Friday, Clarenceville commences its Wayne-Oakland League title chase. North Farmington is home Saturday afternoon to meet Riverside at 2 p.m.

Dead Heat In The 'Mile'

Tibaldo Caught By Going Abroad

The rains came, the track was a sloppy mess but an amazing crowd of 19,102 witnessed the greatest Michigan Mile (and a sixteenth) race in history Saturday at the Detroit Race Course and saw four-year-old Going Abroad get up in the final stride to dead heat with four-year-old Tibaldo for the winner's share of the $72,300 stake.

It was a dismal day from early morning until dusk but this was Michigan Mile day and the crowd kept pouring into the huge plant much to the surprise of Naturally it fell below the expectations of 25,000 but the handle was a surprising $1,329,134 so everything wasn't lost.

The Mile drew a field of 12 and Crimson was the 1963 champion from the Crimson King Farm owned by Detroit and Livonia industrialist Peter Salmen, was the sentimental favorite of the bettors.

Matter of fact, the unpredictable five-year-old was bet down to the co-favorite's spot with Going Abroad, who carried the colors of Chicagoan E. N. Seltzer. Each went off at $2.80-1 odds.

It was Swoonen and Red Gar battling for the lead through the early going with the former moving to the front in a hurry and then relinquishing that post to Red Gar at the quarter pole. Puss N Boots, an invader from the East, pressed the leaders and finally made the top spot at the half-mile with City Line, the star of the T. A. Grismond stable, making a bid for the lead but never getting any closer than second at the three-quarters point.

All this time Tibaldo was content to stay off the pace in fifth with Close By sixth and Going Abroad two lengths farther back in seventh. Then the field turned into the stretch in the rain and sloppy going and Tibaldo quickly zoomed into the lead pursued by Close By and Going Abroad. There was barely a length between the three leaders as they settled down for the grim duel to the finish line.

And it was a head and head battle for the remainder of the distance which found Tibaldo holding a half-length margin over the fast closing Going Abroad with 110 yards to go. Close By faltered under the pressure and dropped three lengths back before making another belated bid. Tibaldo still had his nose in front with only a few yards to

Rocks Win

Grady pushed upward to the one from where Quarterback John Daniels slipped over on a sneak.

Four minutes into the third period, Northville began its comeback. Kurt Kipfer went around end for 55 yards and raced all the way.

In the fourth period, Jim Baughman of Northville flipped a pass to Dave Inland for 25 yards and another TD.

Fortunately for Plymouth, the conversion try failed.

Happier yet, the Rocks' line stood up when Northville got the ball right back.

This Friday afternoon, it's Plymouth at Farmington. Something will have to give. Farmington beat Bentley in its opener.

St. Agatha Runs Away

The depth problem solved! Coach Dave Brazil of St. Agatha high school's football team is hoping he finally has found some second and third stringers to back up his regulars—a nagging source of anguish in the past few seasons at the parish school.

Brazil liked what he saw in the second half last Saturday night when he played his second and third stringers after the regulars had piled up a 34-0 lead against Immaculate Conception at Hamtramck Stadium.

Third-hand didn't score, they gave up just one touchdown and showed that they can be counted upon for more duty as the season continues this coming Sunday afternoon with the campaign's home opener against Our Lady of Sorrows at Lola Valley Junior High.

The kickoff will be at 2:30 p.m.

Saturday night's final score read 34-7 and the explosiveness of the St. Agatha attack against a much bigger foe was another go when Going Abroad caught him at the wire for the dead heat with Close By only a half-length back of the co-leaders.

Tibaldo, who went off at 41-1 odds, appeared to have an edge at the wire over Going Abroad but the latter was moving fastest of all on the outside.

The finisher studied the photo for a long time before calling it a dead heat.

Then came a second jolt — Jockey Billy Phelps astride Lemon Twist, the entry from the T. D. Buhl farm, of Detroit, entered a foul claim against Going Abroad, claiming interference at the three-eighths pole.

That brought an additional delay while the judges studied the films of the race and listened to reports from the patrol judges. After viewing the movies, the decision upheld the finish and the race was officially a dead heat.

Tibaldo paid $32.80, $22.20 and $8.80 across the board while Going Abroad rewarded his backers with $4.80, $4.40 and $3.40.

The victory was worth $30,727 to each. Close By was third and picked up $7,230 and Lemon Twist wound up fourth for $3,615.

Crimson Satan?? He performed in his usual unpredictable style, showed little liking to the slop and beat only one horse as he wound up a dismal 11th.

Now most of the field is preparing for the $25,000 Sweepstakes slated for next Saturday. Once again Crimson Satan looms as the early favorite but bettors may shy away from the temperamental speedster this time.

The competition is expected to be much the same as that for the Mile with the possible exception of Going Abroad and one or two others.

U.D. Picks Calihan as Sport Chief

Hats off to Bob Calihan, the newly named athletic director of the University of Detroit.

Calihan is well known in the Greater Livonia area for his numerous appearances in recent years as the Titans' basketball coach.

He will continue to guide the U.D. gridders and serve as the head man of the University's athletic department.

Before becoming coach of the Titans, Calihan starred at the university in basketball and later played on professional teams.

Wayne to Open Harrier Season

Frank McBride hopes his Wayne State Harriers will return to championship form Saturday when they open against Central Michigan at the River Rouge course at 11 a.m.

Last year the Tartars compiled a 7-3 overall mark and finished second in the Presidents' Athletic Conference tournament. Before that, they had gone undefeated in four consecutive conference championships. Under McBride's mentorship they have never lost a dual meet.

The Central meet will be the first of a rough 10-meet schedule that includes traditionally strong opponents Bowling Green, Loyola, Wheaton, Toronto, Central Michigan and Eastern Michigan.

feature which had to excite Coach Brazil.

St. Agatha jumped into the lead before the game was six minutes old.

Immaculate Conception had the ball in its own end and fumbled.

A St. Agatha player recovered on the opposition's 30.

In three plays, St. Agatha was on the scoreboard. The payoff was a neat pass from Rick Collins to Tom Braunschneider for 15 yards.

Collins converted and it was 7-0 for St. Agatha.

On touchdowns No. 2 and No. 3, Mike Daniels was the driving force. He shot through from 35 yards out for his first tally and then he went 30 to give himself and his team another six-point.

Collins added one more conversion via a kick and then passed to Greg Brower for the point that made it 21-0 for the Redford Townshippers.

Another dazzling run increased the St. Agatha margin. This time it was Gregory Peck (not the actor), who PROOF POSITIVE: Here's the classic finish of the $62,500 added Michigan Mile Saturday at the Detroit Race Course with Tibaldo (No. 10 on the rail) and Going Abroad (No. 5) hitting the wire together. It was the first dead heat in the history of the Michigan Mile. This was the 16th running of the stake.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP:

Lions Share 1st Spot

PRO FOOTBALL

The Detroit Lions share the Western Division Lead with the Los Angeles Rams after their 17-17 tie Saturday night. It took some "rescue" work by Earl Morrall to save the Lions who fell behind after taking an early 10-0 lead.

Meaning, the Baltimore Colts stunned the Green Bay Packers, 21-20, when Paul Hornung missed one of those "cinch" extra point tries. Johnny Unitas heaved two long TD passes for the Colts. . . The Chicago Bears' ended Minnesota's winning ways, 34-28, while in the Eastern Division the powerful Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Cards battled to a 33-33 standoff when Jim Bakken of the Cards booted a field goal with five seconds left in the game.

BASEBALL

It begins to look more and more like a New York Yankee-Philadelphia Phillies world series. The Phillies should wrap up their flag some time this week. They went west and prospered, ending up on a happy note Sunday when Jim Bunning beat Los Angeles, 3-2.

The Yankees, meantime, took three straight from Kansas City and pulled away from both Baltimore and Chicago which ran into troubles from Los Angeles and Washington, respectively.

As for the Tigers, they're still fighting for fourth place and their home campaign ends this week end with a three-game series against Boston.

COLLEGIATE FOOTBALL

University of Detroit dropped a heartbreaker this past Saturday night at Kentucky, 13-6. The hosts were a two or three-touchdown favorite, but had to struggle against the Titans who rallied to tie the score at 6-6 in the final period. Kentucky then took the kickoff and moved down the field to count the deciding marker with less than four minutes remaining on the scoreboard. This Friday night the Titans make their home debut, meeting the University of Toledo.

The season openers are scheduled on Saturday for Michigan, Michigan State, Wayne and Notre-Dame. Michigan, with a power-packed eleven, entertains the Air Force and should have no problem winning. Michigan State should get the nod at North Carolina, which lost to North Carolina State, 14-13, last Saturday. Wayne starts at Allegheny and Notre Dame goes to Wisconsin, which beat Kansas

Peck, a hard running back with good movement when tacklers start to close in, didn't stop going until he hit the goal line.

Jim Roose wrapped up the St. Agatha scoring with a 25-yard shot up the middle.

The work defensively of Phil Zimmerman, Mike Roemer and Ron Zimmerman brought special praise from Brazil.

But, as stated earlier, the coach was made happiest by the work of the reserve players.

"You can't get anyplace in this game with just 11 or 14 players," noted Brazil. "This has been our situation at St. Agatha for several years.

"If we can find some replacements—and now it looks like we have—well, it could be a very interesting fall."

The season's opener didn't count in the league standing for St. Agatha.

STATE, 17-7, in last Saturday's TV game seen locally.

Syracuse fell in last Saturday's top collegiate upset . . . when Boston College scored on a pass with three seconds to go. . . California all came through with flying colors.

HOCKEY

The Red Wings got off and running in flashy style in exhibition play when they scored on their old pal, Terry Sawchuk, in something like 10 seconds at Olympia. Detroit then went on to beat Toronto, 5-1, and the Wings give indications they'll be a tough team in the season ahead. The Wings tied and beat the Leafs over the weekend. You can see the Wings against the Chicago Black Hawks in a special exhibition next Sunday evening at 7:30. Special prices of $1, $2 and $3 will prevail.

PRO BASKETBALL

It's exhibition time for the Detroit Pistons. They started in Rink, Mo., Tuesday night. . . play in Central, Ill.; Burlington, Ia.; Beckley, W. Va., Bluefield, W. Va., Archold, O., and Chillicothe, O., in the next week. By that time Coach Charley Wolf should have an idea on how some of his new faces shape up . . . and about two or three older hands whose jobs might be in jeopardy. Pistons heard through "grapevine" last week that Dave DeBusschere will be back with them in a few weeks—as soon as DeBusschere winds up his pitching stint with the Chicago White Sox.

TENNIS

The Davis Cup Challenge Round is scheduled in Cleveland this weekend. America meets Australia and barring an upset, the Cup is headed for a long ride—back to the land down under. Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle give the Aussies a powerful one-two combination. United States will pin her hopes on Charles McKinley and Dennis Ralston. It must be remembered that in the U.S. nationals 10 days ago, Emerson conquered McKinley and Stolle put out Ralston. You can see the matches on television (Channel 4) this weekend.

GOLF

Bill Campbell of West Virginia captured the U.S. Amateur at Cleveland last Saturday. He's been a veteran campaigner who had tried almost 20 years to win the coveted event. Who says youth must be served.

SAILING

The America's Cup challenge by Great Britain proved another flop. This time it was the Sovereign from England which tried . . . and failed worse than any of the English craft which have tried in the last 119 years. The American Constellation roared away in each race . . . and won by decisive margins each time. All the critics called of the Cup was "a mismatch."

OLYMPICS

All of the U.S. teams now are in training for the Games. Most

Boys To Compete

In Punt, Pass Kick Contest

Now is the time for boys to practice for the Punt, Pass, Kick Contest to be held on Saturday, Oct. 3, at 9:30 a.m. on the Henry Ford Athletic Field located at Farmington Road and Lyndon in Livonia.

Sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation and Bill Brown Sales, 32222 Plymouth, the contest is open to boys from eight years through 13 years of age.

All interested boys must pick up entry forms from Bill Brown's by Oct. 1. There will be three awards for each age group for the best performance in the combined total distances in passing, punting, and kicking, minus accuracy in these events.

Thurston Nipped by Point

It's never easy to lose, especially when: 1—This is your first game as the school's head coach; 2—Your team finishes on top in every department, but the final score; 3—Your team loses by just ONE point; 4—It probably would have been different had not your best place-kicker suffered a fractured thumb early in the game and you elected not to take any further chances; 5—The weather strikes a cruel blow, bringing a steady rain which bogs down the passing attack you had planned.

Little wonder Bill McDonald of Thurston High was a sad gent Saturday evening after his charges had dropped a 13-12 verdict to Southfield on the Thurston field.

"You can say we deserved to win this one," declared McDonald, who was proud of the showings turned in by every one of his players.

"We had a tough break early. One of our kids slipped while going for a Southfield pass. Their receiver not only caught it, but he had pretty easy sailing all the way for a touchdown."

"We outgained them at least, 3-1.

Sorrows Explodes In Hurry

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows High School football has picked up this fall where it left off last November.

Despite heavy graduation losses, the Farmington parish team turned in a pair of touch-downs in less than two minutes last Sunday and then went on to scalp Our Lady of the Lakes at Waterford, 26-7.

The early festivities had to leave most the folks—especially the Waterford team—a little limp.

Here's what happened: Sorrows kicked off to start the game. On the first play from scrimmage, Guard Mike Blouin rared in and tackled Halfback Bill Lilley with such gusto, the ball popped high into the gears and into the hands of Mike Bars, Sorrows' dead line backer.

With the agility of 10-second trackman, Bars headed for the goal line 35 yards and went across untouched. Miles Kearney made the point, but it was nullified because Sorrows was guilty of holding. After the penalty, Sorrows tried again, only to fail.

After the following kickoff, Waterford again wasted no time fumbling. This time Blouin covered the ball for Sorrows on the Waterford team's 25-yard line. In four plays, Sorrows had scored its second touchdown with Kearney going off right tackle for the final six yards.

When Kearney converted, Sorrows led, 13-0, and the scoreboard clock still hadn't moved two full minutes.

From then on the Sorrows' attack slowed down, chiefly because Coach Bud Webster sent in a flock of substitutes.

The third Sorrows TD came early in the second quarter. Sorrows had taken the ball on the Waterford 20, following a punt.

In seven plays, the Farmington forces covered the big chunk of yardage which separated them from the goal line. Dennis Connolly roared 30 yards for the touchdown.

That made it 20-0 for Sorrows.

The Farmington players counted their fourth and final TD right after the second half began. They received the kickoff and immediately set forth on a 60-yard march with Dave Sutton sprinting the last 20 on a buck through the middle.

Waterford escaped a shutout by blocking a Sorrows kick on the latter's 10 late in the game. A pass to Lilley resulted in the touchdown.

After the game, Sorrows Coach Webster declared he'd have to work on his offensive line.

"Our defense wasn't all that it should have been either," added the coach. This Sunday Sorrows plays at St. Agatha in a battle of next-door neighbors. It'll also be a battle of unbeaten and the winner could emerge as the team to beat for the divisional crown in the Catholic League.

1—This is your first game as the school's head coach; 2—Your team finishes on top in every department, but the final score; 3—Your team loses by just ONE point; 4—It probably would have been different had not your best place-kicker suffered a fractured thumb early in the game and you elected not to take any further chances; 5—The weather strikes a cruel blow, bringing a steady rain which bogs down the passing attack you had planned.

Little wonder Bill McDonald of Thurston High was a sad gent Saturday evening after his charges had dropped a 13-12 verdict to Southfield on the Thurston field.

"You can say we deserved to win this one," declared McDonald, who was proud of the showings turned in by every one of his players.

"We had a tough break early. One of our kids slipped while going for a Southfield pass. Their receiver not only caught it, but he had pretty easy sailing all the way for a touchdown."

McDonald was frank to admit, he thought his team outplayed Southfield.

"We outgained them at least, 3-1.

"Look at the first half statistics. We had 97 yards to their 32. We had something like 190 for the game to their 60," added the coach. "And the first downs were about 13-3 for us."

But McDonald couldn't deny that the scoreboard at the end of the field decided the winner . . . and not any statistics.

When it came to satisfying moments in defeat, McDonald got many from the way Thurston stormed from behind after trailing, 13-0.

"The kids could have collapsed, since the second Southfield touchdown came from one of our fumbles," related McDonald. "And, the way the weather was, the chances of catching up weren't very good."

"But we sure made a run for it," lamented the coach.

Rick Smigelski scored both the Southfield touchdowns. He took a pass and went for the first tally. That's when a Thurston back slipped.

The second TD was a "here you take it" affair. Thurston had the ball and fumbled. Smigelski picked it up and ran unmolested for 30 yards to score.

On the succeeding kickoff, Thurston had a pass intercepted and definitely was in more trouble. But the Townshippers braced and held off the opposition.

light began to shine for Thurston.

The Thurston defenders shoved Southfield back almost to their goal line.

Then Big Jerry Szotack crashed through and knocked the ball out of Southfield back's hands. Rick Stefani roared in behind Szotack, and plopped on the ball in the end zone.

It was a touchdown for Thurston.

Minutes later, Thurston had the ball and went in for some dippy doodle. Barry Sinescu passed to Mike Shaner, who flipped it to Stefani and Stefani ran 25 yards to make the score 13-12 for Southfield.

Thurston had a chance to get even, but the wet ball was fumbled . . . and the conversion try never worked . . . and defeat came to the South Townshippers and their new coach the hard way.

Sinescu in his debut at quarterback did an excellent job, considering he's just a sophomore. His coach sees a very bright future for this young man.

Shaner and Stefani drew praises for their work at end . . . Pete Marsalese for his driving jolts at quarterback.

This Saturday, Thurston hosts Highland Park which is reviving football after a year's layoff because of tax problems.

The Reader 'Speaks Up' About A Variety Of Subjects

Frontier Courtroom
 Editor:
 Some years back I was called to jury duty when Judge Nye was presiding. It was a hot day in July. The first thing that hit me was the lack of air conditioning. It was so hot in court, that I never did go on jury duty.

A small case was going on at the time regarding two neighbors fighting over a fence that separated their property. It was so hot that Judge Nye would declare a recess often during the morning. Then he had lunch hour from 12 p.m. to 2 p.m.

I was paying a baby sitter in those days and ended up sitting around waiting for the case I was to do duty on to be brought up. Finally I called the court and explained about the small children at home so they relieved me of jury duty. What I'm really getting at is how I chuckled to myself and friends during that period, thinking to myself this is a Court of Law?

It was so funny to me, the judges bench looked like something Abe Lincoln turned down. Plus the noise from the surrounding offices. The bull pen was a little area against the wall about two feet from the spectators. The jury box was so very small and narrow. I'm sure the people in the back row had their knees pushing on the backs of the chairs in front of them. For seats everyone but the judge sat on card table chairs that were always being scuffed on the wooden plank floors. It was so funny looking at this building Livonia called its Court of Law and even funnier hearing all the background noises. It was like a comedy being played before your very eyes. You just knew this couldn't be for real.

I'm so happy I never had to use the court for my family or myself. You have heard the expression "A comedy of errors?" Well that's what it was when I'd tell anyone about the court, which was often. At that time they would say "What do you expect, Livonia is a hick town. Give her ten years then you will see a big change in Livonia's growth and her demands on the court grows, so will the building."

All I can say after fourteen years is HELP! What is wrong with our mayor and his nine little ball players from the opposing team? Can't they even get together long enough to agree about something as important as a respectable proper building for our court of law. Mr. Mayor, we are no longer a hick town and don't you forget it.

We are quite rich, you name any kind of industry and I'll say yes, we have that in Livonia. I wonder what our business people think and feel when they have occasion to use our court.

We have a new water board building, police building, fire houses, plus City Hall. Yet our one building that represents Law and Order to our people and others from the outside, we have nothing to offer but a delapidated, antiquated old building. WHY?

Those of you in Livonia that read this article and have never been in our courthouse, go and see for yourselves what I mean.

How Judge Lorian can put up with the noise and confusion is beyond me. I'd tell Livonia and her city fathers to go the P.T.A. or youth groups. I say loud and clear give us a decent court we can be proud of. One that has its offices away from the main body, benches that don't move, a bull pen away from spectators, a jury box large enough and comfortable for the citizens on jury duty to concentrate on the case they are hearing; paneled walls, carpeting on the floors. Everything that donates strength and respect in this the second largest City in Michigan.

but by the same reasoning your reader should find solace (and confidence in the Livonia Police Department) in the Livonia investigation and subsequent vindication of her son by the two detectives.

"Falsely Accused" also found the actions of the detectives analogous to those employed by the "Gestapo." I would submit, Mr. and Mrs. Livonia, that as long as American policemen, and Livonia policemen in particular, pursue their work and their careers with public support, then the American public need never fear the hob nailed boot and totalitarian law. Check the crime rate in this country and make inquiries which regard to helping your policemen; not hindering them. The fear that should be in your heart is the fear of the rapist, the burglar and the child molester.

 As chairman of the Livonia Chapter of ALSAC (Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children), I wish to thank all Livonians, on behalf of St. Jude Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., and the 26 leaders and 400 marchers, for their generosity and kindness last Sunday, Sept. 13.

As a result we collected $3,156.38. This amount put us among the top four contributors in Michigan and has been sent to "the hospital of tomorrow" so that our efforts will aid the progress made in research, and leukemia children all over the world may benefit.

I also wish to thank the 400 wonderful teenagers and 26 leaders, without whom this drive would not have been possible.

The cheerful giving of their time and much work speaks well of the teenagers of Livonia.

A Correction
 Editor:
 In your Sept. 9 edition you falsely stated that I complained that I was not allowed to vote in the Sept. 1 election.

I did vote in the Sept. 1 election (as I have voted in every election since 1944). Furthermore, my right to vote was not challenged. I made no such statement as you reported at any time.

ANNA E. KELLER
 (Editor's Note: The Observer regrets the error in publication, which was based upon a telephone report to this newspaper on election day. We are happy to learn that this area has such a dedicated citizen as Mrs. Keller, who has a 20-year perfect voting record.)

Praises Police
 Editor:
 On September 2, 1964, your newspaper published a letter from one of your readers that was critical of the actions of two Livonia Detectives in their investigation of a breaking and entering in your city. Your reader made the plea to you that you print the letter in its entirety; or context, with the latter being the term she used. I would make the same request.

I wish to point out some fallacies in "Falsely Accused's" indictment of the Livonia Police Department. Firstly the writer made some grossly uninformed observations about the constitutionality of the actions of the police in entering her home. I would point out to your readers that these men were acting legally in that their critic had bid them enter his (her) home and in so doing waived his (her) right to protection under the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution. It's not my intention to go into Constitutional law, but merely to point out that the policemen were acting legally.

It's unfortunate that the son of "falsely accused" had to be a suspect in the investigation, Richard K. Kuhn today wants to quiet an unfounded rumor that he might be a member of the Birch Society.

In answer to a letter to the Editor last week, Mr. Kuhn made the following statement: "I am not a member of the John Birch Society. I never was, and I never intend to be. I am opposed to extremist groups on either the left or the right."

"Evidently the letter printed last week is part of an attempt to conduct a name-calling smear campaign against me. I will continue to conduct my campaign on a high-level concentrating on making my position known on the major issues."

A Retraction
 Editor:
 The front page of your September 9 issue carried a story that read in part as follows: "Mrs. Ann Keller of Garfield Avenue complained that she had been turned away from the polling place despite the fact that she was a registered voter."

Mrs. Anna E. Keller of 18515 Garfield, a resident of Precinct 12, called my office today in protest against this article. She was not turned away from the polls but did, in fact, vote at approximately 10 a.m.

A check of Mrs. Keller's voting record shows that she has not missed voting since registering to vote in 1944. Mrs. Keller is very proud of this fact

Not Conclusive
 Editor:
 I read with interest your Facts and Opinions in your recent issue of The Observer.

Incidentally, 18 cases would hardly qualify as sufficient source documents from a statistical standpoint from which to make any conclusions whatsoever.

Fortunately, your statement: "There is no such thing as a typical delinquent," was quite close to the mark from a statistical point of view.

"Council Sunday" Noted In Local Churches

Council of Churches Sunday were observed last Sunday, Sept. 20, at Protestant and Eastern Orthodox Churches. A Council folder was distributed at 21 churches to acquaint members with the Council, its work and its goals.

Every member of every affiliated church is automatically part of the Council. More than 800 congregations and parishes from 26 denominations take part in the Council work.

Another example of the Council's work is the recent Stan Freberg radio spot announcements in the Detroit area. The Council obtained the announcements and coordinated their use by 29 radio stations.

The Council offers help and training to develop leaders and teachers for Christian Education, including work with the retarded and handicapped children.

IRVIN F. BASS

Mr. Bass was employed at the Chrysler Corporation Engineering Division in Highland Park until August 1964 when he resigned to enter the ministry. He was very active in the Church programs of the Redford Church of Christ. He held the office of Deacon, was a teacher in the Bible School program and was the song director.

Mr. Bass told the Observer he and his wife Carol and their three children Susan, Debra and Kevin are well adjusted and very happy in their new home and the new work they are engaged in.

Mr. Bass will tell his experiences when he speaks at Trinity Baptist Church, Middlebelt, Livonia, on Sunday, Sept. 7, at 9:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Working with the Monte Castelo church in the city of Sao Luiz in northeastern Brazil, Maington as leader.

Two-hour church school classes for children from nursery to junior high will be in session each week, with class meetings during the first hour and junior church the second.

The congregation met last week at the Bowman Farm Cupboard, 2230 Inkster Road at Nine Mile, for a turkey dinner and discussion of the church's program for the year.

tomorrow! the beautiful shapes for '65

Chevrolet Impala '65

One look at it and—presto—last year's crop of cars seem like something that happened a long time ago. It's longer, lower, wider—with the kind of interior comforts that'll have many an expensive car wondering why it didn't think of them first. More shoulder room, more leg room up front and (thanks to a smaller floor tunnel) more foot room too. Curved side windows, rich new fabrics and an instrument panel that's a conversation piece all by itself (in the Impala series it has the look of hand-rubbed walnut): In fact, just about everything's new right down to the road. And even that'll seem newer because this year Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride is smoother than ever: But if all this seems like a bit too much to remember, don't try: Just take a drive at your dealer's. It'll all become unforgettable.

'65 Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe

Chevelle Malibu '65

New style, new ride—and plenty of V8 stuff. Here are all the things that have made Chevelle America's most popular new-sized car—plus some new surprises that promise to make it come on stronger than ever for '65. Like those cleaner, bolder lines. Like the silky way it skims over the choppiest roads. (Thanks to softer coil springs and other suspension system refinements, Chevelle now rides with a serenity you'd expect only in a bigger, heavier car.) Like V8 power that'll make you think we stole some of Corvette's stuff—which we did. All told, five different power plants are now available from a quieter six to a V8 that comes on with 300 horses strong. Some people might have expected us to stand pat after introducing a car this successful last year. One short drive will show you how wrong they were.

'65 Chevy II Nova 4-Door Sedan

Chevy II Nova '65

It may very well be the expensive-est looking thrift car you've ever laid eyes on. But thrifty it is. The big difference this year being that Chevy II's marvelous mechanical efficiency now comes decked out in a debonair new look. And to keep things in stride under the hood, there's a new range of six engines available, no less, including a new 300-hp V8. Of course, you still get those famous Chevy II maintenance reducers—like self-adjusting brakes, long-lived exhaust system, battery-saving Delcotron generator. But if you go by all the fine new features, you could get the idea that saving you money was about the last thing we had in mind when we built this one. And in a way it was. Right up until we pasted the price sticker on the window.

New top-of-the-line Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

Corvair Corsa '65

There's never been a Corvair—or any other car—like it. The entire line now sports a totally new Body by Fisher, styled with fresh, sophisticated flair that would set a European's pulse fluttering. The longer, wider design gives all Corvair closed models a thin-line hardtop roof, accented by frameless curved side windows. It also allows more shoulder and entrance room. And to go with the racier look, there's up to 180 hp available in the new Corsa series, up to 140 hp in the Monza and 500 series. Also a flatter riding independent suspension system, bigger self-adjusting brakes, more responsive steering—all solidly buttressed by a wider road stance for '65. Truth is, you've got to drive this one to believe it.

1965 CHEVROLET, which will be displayed in the showroom for the first time Thursday, has the attention of the new official family of Allison Chevrolet, 345 N. Main, Plymouth, which underwent a complete reorganization last week. The group includes: (from left) Service Manager Charles Mellor, General Manager Richard Donner, Truck and Fleet Sales Manager Phil Anania and Sales Manager J. R. MacDonald.

Complete Reorganization

Allison Chevrolet Has New Look For New Models

A reorganized Allison Chevrolet Co., 345 N. Main, Plymouth, working on the theme of a new look for the new look will unveil 1965 models for the first time to the general public on Thursday in its showrooms. The reorganization brought an entire change in Allison's official executive family and only President and owner Frank Allison remains. Richard Donner, who has years of experience and service in the Detroit area, is the new general manager. He will head a staff of veteran salesmen, selected because of their ability to meet quotas and for high sales records in other sections. Phil Anania has charge of truck and fleet sales. Phil comes from the Motor City with an excellent record in his particular field. He will handle all truck and fleet operations. Charles Mellor, who had a similar position with another auto agency in the Plymouth community, is the new service manager.

comes to Allison with a reputation of excellent salesmanship and leadership as he takes over the operation of Wayne County's oldest Chevrolet dealership. Joining Allison with Donner are two top salesmen from the Detroit area with recommendations from hundreds of customers satisfied with their services after sales. J. R. MacDonald is the new general sales manager. He will head a staff of veteran

248 Die In Water Accidents

Michigan water accidents in the first eight and a half months this year have taken 248 lives, four more than 244 deaths for all of 1963, according to State Police provisional figures.

The accident total as of September 15 was 538, two less than 540 for all of last year. In addition, 202 persons have been injured, 14 fewer than the 1963 total of 216. The breakdown of deaths this year includes 128 swimmers or waders, 32 boat operators, 31 boat passengers, 25 who fell from bridges, banks or piers, etc., nine who fell through ice, five who died attempting to rescue others, two skin or Scuba divers, one water skier, and one who fell into a caisson. Reports have not been received with official details involving 14 other fatalities.

Fewer water accident deaths are expected in the remainder of the year since water activities normally drop off sharply after the first part of September. Water deaths totaled 236 in 1962, 262 in 1961, and 234 in 1960.

Two Livonia Firms Exhibit Wares In Show

Two Livonia firms, Hydromat Engineering and Centri-Spray Corp., are among the exhibitors at the Iron and Steel Exposition in Cleveland this week.

The exposition is the steel industry's largest trade show and annually attracts more than 15,000 engineering, maintenance and management officials from steel and related industries. Centri-Spray is exhibiting a centri-clere drum liquid filter for high gallonage applications. Hydromat is exhibiting a flat-bed pressure filter for tin plate solutions.

Chrysler Names Advisory Board For Nationwide Driver Program

Members of the Advisory Committee for Chrysler Corporation's nation-wide driver education program were announced Monday by Dr. Norman Key, executive secretary of the National Education Association's commission on safety education and John A. Ford, Chrysler Corporation vice president - public relations. The Advisory Committee's role will be to outline the "pressing needs" in the field of high school driver education and to advise Chrysler Corporation as to how to best meet these needs with its driver education car program.

Dr. Byron Hansford, commissioner of Colorado State Department of Education will be chairman of the committee. Other members are: Dean Balicirak, driver education instructor, Grosse Pointe, public schools; Ivan Eland, director of safety education, State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls, Iowa; Richard D. Ellis, assistant in safety education, New York State Department of Education, Albany, N.Y.; E. Eldon Engel, driver education instructor, Eastern Washington College of Education and Cheney, Wash., high school, Cheney, Wash.; Dr. Earl Funderburk, Fairfax County, superintendent of schools, Fairfax, Va. Dr. Lonnie Gilliland, director of safety education, Oklahoma City public schools, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Edward Gronostalski, vice president - Massachusetts Association of Schools

Committees, Inc., Boston, Mass.; Joseph Intorre, director - Institute of Public Safety at Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Penn.; Dr. Forrest R. Noffsinger, development secretary, Northwestern University Traffic Institute, Evanston, Ill.; William T. Richards, supervisor, driver education, Wisconsin State Department of Public Instruction, Madison, Wis. Leslie R. Silvernale, professor, Michigan State University's Continuing Education Services, Traffic Center Program, East Lansing, Mich.; Dr. Herbert J. Stack, New York University's Center for Safety Education, New York City; Robert G. Townsend, principal, Highmore high school, Highmore, S.D.; Ed Williamson, consultant, driver education, Florida State Department of Education, Tallahassee, Fla.; and Cecil G. Zaub, supervisor, safety education, Los Angeles city schools, Los Angeles, Calif. The student representative from the National Student Traffic Safety Association will be announced later. Chrysler Corporation announced earlier this year that, beginning with its 1965 models, the company would provide driver education cars free of cost to high schools with qualified programs and to colleges offering instructional courses in driver education. Lawton K. Smith, a former member of the National Safety Council, is the administrator of the program for Chrysler Corporation. Dr. Norman Key and Dr. Robert L. Marshall will represent the National Commission on Safety Education on the Advisory Committee.

1st Federal Savings Hit Record High

Growth of First Federal Savings accounts the first eight months of 1964 exceeds any similar period in its 30-year history, reports Earl Strehlau, manager of the Livonia office of First Federal Savings of Detroit, located at 31441 Plymouth Road in Livonia.

Accounts of 179,792 First Federal Savings customers increased $39,108,100.25 from January 1 to August 1 of this year. This compares with a net gain of $38,222,953.26 in the same period of 1963.

"It is obvious that the high rate of employment and the prosperity of the automobile industry and other Detroit-based industries are factors in our higher rate of growth," said Strehlau, "and that while people are spending more, they are putting away more in savings also."

"Obviously, not all of today's higher earnings are being spent and the same applies to the money saved as a result of this year's income tax reductions. Most people are, we believe, exercising good common sense by saving more in a time of good earnings."

It is pointed out that savings are put to work as fast as they come in at First Federal, mostly through investment in home mortgage loans.

First Federal has invested $51,854,699.99 so far this year in mortgage loans, mostly to help families buy or build homes and to refinance mortgages or land contracts. First Federal is Michigan's largest savings association and also the state's largest home mortgage lender.

Livonia Dentist Named to Post

Northville and Livonia dentists have been named vice-chairmen of committees for the 23rd Annual Dental Review, it was announced by Dr. Joseph F. Fgnto of Dearborn, general chairman.

The three-day professional and scientific meeting sponsored by the Detroit District Dental Society will be held Nov. 22-24 at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, and is expected to attract some 2,000 dentists from Michigan and surrounding states.

Those dentists attending the scientific meeting will learn of the latest technological advances made in the field of dentistry and will hear presentations made by leading local and national essayists.

Named as committee vice-chairmen were: University of Michigan Dental Alumni Luncheon—Dr. Herbert E. Weston of 20874 Woodhill Road, Northville and Clinics Committee—Dr. Thomas R. Longe of 9840 Harrison, Livonia.

Introducing Comet 1965:

livelier, more beautiful sequel to the World's Durability Champion

We couldn't make Comet much tougher, so we made it more beautiful. Made the outside sleeker, sportier—from every angle. Made the interiors more luxurious. Made every engine bigger, from the thrifty 200 cu.-in. Comet "6" up through the hefty new 289 cu.-in. Cyclone Super V-8 (225 hp). Made the ride even smoother, more solid and silent.

The one thing not new in this racy '65 sequel is the stamina that made Comet the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion. And you wouldn't want that to change, would you? It didn't.

U-M Graduates Sought By U.S. Business And Industry

ANN ARBOR — Degree recipients from The University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration continue to be eagerly sought by United States business and industry.

During the past academic year more than 300 top companies in the nation sent recruiters to the U-M Business School. They scheduled more than 450 visits during the placement program in which 245 of the school's 318 candidates for the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree participated as did 69 of the 180 candidates for the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree.

Starting salaries for MBA recipients ranged as high as $1175 per month, with the median at $675.

Among the BBA candidates, salaries ranged up to $715 a month, with median at $560.

These figures have been revealed by S. A. Hann, who directs placement activities for the U-M Business School. The most active recruitment during the year, Hann has pointed out, was in the fields of accounting, banking, corporation finance, marketing, actuarial science and quantitative methods.

"Demand was well above supply in these areas as well as in several other fields."

Hann states. "This was the greatest recruitment year for our graduates we have ever experienced," he declares. In all categories—number of companies, number of interviews, students participating, job placements and salaries—new records were established.

Hann points out that less than half of the BBA candidates registered for placement. A majority of them continue their education, mainly at the U-M, until they earn their MBA degrees.

"We are especially proud of the high caliber of companies that make annual recruitment visits to our campus," the Business School placement director states.

"The blue ribbon character of these firms underlines the strong reputation the U-M Graduate School of Business Administration enjoys in the nation's business circles."

Business School Dean Floyd A. Bond points out that "The increase in our school's enrollment and the high quality of candidates is eloquent testimony to the attraction of a curriculum geared to today's needs, a faculty of the highest order, and unsurpassed placement opportunities."

During the past year the placement office made a study of the factors determining job selection by the school's graduates.

At the top of the list for both MBA and BBA candidates was "type of work," while "opportunity for future growth" ranked second.

MBA candidates put "salary level" in third place, followed by "type of industry," "my type of people," and "location."

Livonia Firms Exhibit Wares At Convention

Two Livonia firms will exhibit locally-manufactured products at the Iron and Steel Exposition in Cleveland this week.

Hydromation Engineering Co. and Centri-Spray Corp. will both have displays.

Being held in the new Cleveland Convention Center, the Exposition will be the steel industry's largest trade show. 15,000 engineering, maintenance and management men from steel and related industries are expected to attend.

Centri-Spray will exhibit a centri-clere drum liquid filter for high gallonage applications of paint, while Hydromation Engineering will exhibit a flat-bed pressure filter for filtering tin plate solutions.

Columbians Plan Dance

"A Night in New Orleans" is the theme of the annual Past Grand Knights Ball set for Saturday, Sept. 26, at the Fr. Daniel A. Lord Council of Knights of Columbus.

The dance will be held at the Council hall, 39050 Schoolcraft, and will include a cocktail hour at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m.

The "Tailgate Ramblers" will provide Dixieland music for dancing after dinner. Beer and set-ups will be provided.

Tickets, priced at $7 a couple and limited to a sale of 125, are available from Dan Crowley, GA 2-4065, and Bill White, GA 1-1336.

George Kindred Heads Livonia Federation

George Kindred, 14357 Arden, is the new president of the recently organized Federation of Livonia Civic Association. President of the Merri-Lynn Civic Association, Kindred was elected in the organizational meeting at Merri-Bowl Lanes.

Other officers are: Carl Roeling, Brookwood Estates, first vice president; Roger Quigley, Devon-Aire Woods, second vice president; Ronald Campbell, Madonna Civic Association, treasurer; and Raymond Zelch, Heartstone Home Owners, secretary.

Members of the Board are: Robert Stevens, Livonia Meadows; Edward LeDuc, Burton Hollow; and Ralph Parmin, Tri-Sub Civic Association.

The former Federation had been allowed to decline but a movement to reorganize the Civic Associations was started several weeks ago and finally jelled into the new Federation.

The next scheduled meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 13 at Merri-Bowl Lanes.
