Expect Thousands To View Parade

Get Ready Kids!! Santa Is Coming To Plymouth On Saturday

"Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" . . . and all of the other tunes that Johnny, Susie and little Billy love to hear so often as the time nears for the arrival of Old St. Nick, will sound and resound through the downtown business section of Plymouth Saturday morning.

For, sure enough, Santa is coming to town . . . unofficially to make the youngsters aware of something they already know . . . that it won't be long until he does climb down the chimney . . . officially to announce the opening of the Christmas sales season in the Plymouth community.

Thanks to the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, the smiling, roly-poly, bewhiskered gentleman will have his biggest reception in several years.

There'll be a colorful parade through the downtown business section, starting at 10 a.m., led by JoJo the Clown and his Storybook-on-Parade Mardi Gras heads with colorful costumes depicting the various storybook characters.

There will be 22 of these Storybook Characters in the parade plus nine colorful clowns from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who will be handing candy to youngsters along the line of march.

The parade is slated to start in front of the new City Hall on S. Main and proceed south around Kellogg Park with Santa as the main attraction.

Good Old St. Nick will make his formal greetings of the season to the youngsters and then take up residence in the Red Shoe House that will be his daily residence, excepting Sundays, until Christmas eve.

And after Santa has made his bows to the hundreds of youngsters, expected to jam both sides of the street along the parade route, JoJo will present a

Dalton Williams, 15, Suffocates in Home

Plymouth Youth Dies in Blaze

Dalton Lee Williams, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams, 125 Hartsouth, became Plymouth's first fire victim in more than 25 years when he suffocated in his second floor bedroom during a blaze which guttered his home, shortly after midnight Saturday.

The youth was found dead on the floor alongside his bed where he apparently was making a futile bid to escape the terrific heat and smoke that engulfed the bi-level dwelling.

Dalton, a 10th grader at Plymouth High and a promising basketball player, and a friend, Miller Banks, 21, of 35449 Brush, Wayne, had spent the

by Paul Chandler

THIS IS the home where Dalton Williams, 15, suffocated in a fire early Sunday morning. His body was found in the bedroom at upper right. Miller Banks, who was visiting Dalton, leaped out of the second floor window, at left, to safety. The dead youth apparently was trying to escape the flames but was asphyxiated by the heavy smoke and intense heat.

Fire Chief George Schoeneman that he yelled to Dalton that the house was on fire and to "get out as quick as you can."

Banks said that Dalton answered him. Meanwhile, he shattered the bedroom window with his arm, suffering a big gash, as he prepared to jump for safety.

Before jumping, Banks told Chief Schoeneman that he yelled to Dalton a second time but didn't get an answer.

"I thought of going to the bedroom to see if anything was wrong," Banks said. "But I wasn't familiar with the house and didn't know which room Dalton was in. About that time the heat became so unbearable that I leaped out the window and went next door to the Ross residence to turn in an alarm."

The Plymouth Fire Department was on the scene within minutes with two pumps, a ladder truck and a squad car and a full complement of 21 men, including members of the volunteers.

Chief Schoeneman reported

Carol Otwell and Dave Tidwell are Citizens Of Year

Carol Otwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Otwell, 1464 W. Ann Arbor Trail, and Dave Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Tidwell, 589 Starkweather, last week were named Citizens of the Year at Plymouth High.

The Girls and Boy Citizen are nominated by a representative group from the senior class including class officers and members of the Student Council. The nominations are turned over to members of the faculty who make the final selections.

The announcement of Carol, who is the Observer's school reporter, and Dave was made by Principal Carvel Bentley last Friday.

Bentley indicated the selections are made on the basis of leadership, co-operation, citizenship and dependability.

Carol is a varsity cheerleader, vice president of the senior class, president of the Quill and Scroll, a candidate for Homecoming Queen and ranks fourth in the class in scholarship.

Tidwell is chairman of the assembly program committee, twice letter winner in football and basketball, a four-letter winner in tennis where he gained the regionals in singles last spring and ranks 17th in the class in scholarship.

Larry Heidt Tapped For Membership in Purdue's Tau Beta Pi

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Larry Heidt, of 4101 Curtis Road, Plymouth, has been initiated into membership into Tau Beta Pi, all-engineering honorary fraternity at Purdue University.

He was one of 116 juniors and seniors taken into membership on Nov. 22.

Michigan Bell officials will have a chance to sell residents of the Napier and Powell Road districts on their proposal to erect a 300-foot micro-wave tower on a 380-foot square area on the Stacy property at that intersection.

The Plymouth Township Planning Commission ordered a public hearing for its December meeting on the proposal. Chairman Irving Rozian requested the secretary to send letters to all property owners within 500 feet of the site, telling them of the public hearing.

For the third time, Arthur Lees, representing Michigan Bell, reiterated the need of quick action on the proposal. Lees appeared before the planning commission earlier, then later told his story to the Township Board and went back to the plan commission a second time.

There was considerable discussion from the Commission as to whether the Michigan Bell proposal didn't require rezoning to commercial for the structure.

The 300-foot tower will also include a 3,000 square foot building. It was the latter which brought the matter to the attention of the Board as requiring a commercial classification.

After lengthy debate, during which Lees indicated the target date has been moved back from April 1 to April 30 due to a delay in getting delivery of equipment, the Board decided to allow residents of the area to have "their day in court" in a public hearing after which a decision will be made.

Twp. Planner Would Halt Rezoning for Apartments

Has Plymouth Township, and the community generally, reached the saturation point in apartment dwelling?

Planning Consultant W. C. Johnston, of the firm of Waring and Johnson, planning consultants for the Township, believes so.

More than that, he emphasized his feelings with a recommendation to the Township Planning Commission that no further rezoning for multiple dwellings take place until the present sites have been developed and further evaluation of the market be made at that time.

Johnston made his recommendation to the Commission at last week's meeting, shortly after members had been presented with site and architectural plans for the 172-unit Heritage Apartments at the intersection of N. Territorial and Sheldon Roads and had received a marketability report from the Rose Hill Builders and Developers who are seeking rezoning of the Postiff estate, south of Ann Arbor Road and West of Lilley Road for apartment.

Both items were tabled for additional study and a report back to the Commission at the December meeting. Johnson will report on the Heritage apartments and members of the Commission will review the marketability report for comment and recommendations.

In his report and recommendation

Mrs. Louise Callahan, Former Junior High Aide, Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Louise Callahan, longtime secretary at Plymouth Junior High East, who was working part-time this fall as late as Nov. 4, was stricken ill while visiting her daughter in Falls Church, Va., and died Saturday.

Mrs. Callahan resigned her position at the end of the 1963-64 school term but had been assisting in the school administration office pending arrangements for a trip to Mexico with her husband, Foster.

The Callahans had planned on a year's visit to Mexico but made a trip to the Washington, D.C. suburb to visit their daughter, Mrs. John Fisher.

It was there that Mrs. Callahan was taken ill and died.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Kenton, O., with representatives from the Plymouth school administration and the Junior High East faculty attending.

As will be noted in "The Readers Speak Up" letter-box this week and next, The Observer's recent feature story discussing the chasing of juvenile cars by police has evoked keen interest.

It is a hot and sensitive subject hereabouts because some well-known Redford Township youngsters lost their lives recently as a result of one such chase.

In some cases, our readers want to criticize police officers who make chase, arguing that it would be sufficient to note license numbers and nab the offenders at some later time.

This has some logic as a simple matter of public safety, but it tends to stray into another area where the emphasis should be first and governing. This is the basic respect for the law, and its enforcers, by which civilized societies must live.

As Police Chief James Jordan of Livonia, and many others have noted recently, there is a growing tendency for citizens to grumble about their police officers. Particularly does this crop up (often as an unconscious reaction) among parents who feel an urge to defend their children when they "get into trouble."

Police officers—be they local, from the Sheriff's department, the State Police, or Federal authorities, must have all-out public support. They need it to exist and to keep our communities safe.

The Pontiac Press noted recently, ". . . there can be no progress anywhere without law observance. This is too fundamental to justify debate . . ."

When a group of youths jam down the accelerator and race down a metropolitan street or highway hoping to out-speed a police car, the act itself is a serious defiance of the law . . . whether the youth is guilty of any other crime or not.

Such an offense is more than speeding. It should be regarded as a felony, a serious crime, which is exactly what one reader telephoned to suggest. Personally, I've begun research to see if a Bill can be written along these lines for introduction during the 1965 Legislative session in Lansing.

Since we're in the newspaper business ourselves, we have caught a portion of heavy complaint against the press by supporters of Senator Goldwater since the election.

They have been bitterly crying—across the whole country—about papers which supported Lyndon Johnson or which were lukewarm toward their candidate for the Presidency.

Since birth, I've been associated with newspapers and never in memory has their been a time when the press has not been criticized for the way it covers political activity. After a time, most editors tend to regard it as one of the inevitable hazards of the trade.

Wes Gallagher of the Associated Press wasn't thinking about The Observer, or anything of the kind, when he made some remarks recently, but they apply to the local situation anyway—

"The reader confronted with a story which annoys him, or with which he finds himself in complete disagreement, or which is unpleasant and disturbs his day, is apt to blame the medium which carried it to him rather than the facts of the story itself."

"Indeed, where was it that the people who are complaining about things first learned of these things?"

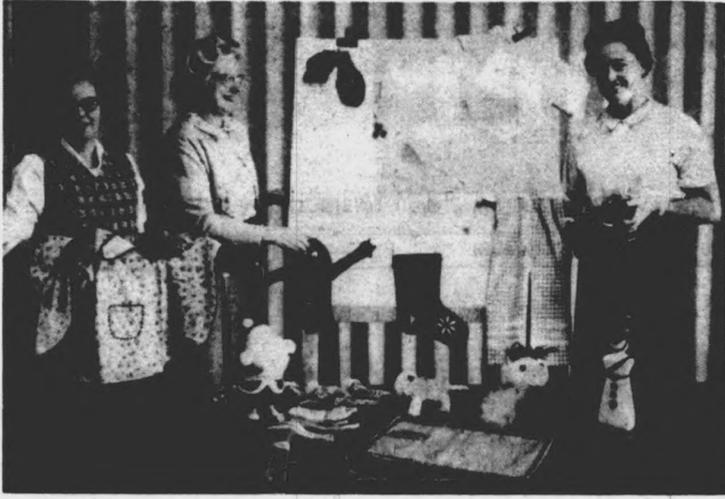

Of all our local problems of government and suburban growth, Facts and Opinions continues to regard

THIS WONDERFUL SEASON

It may be the Christmas decorations going up in Kellogg Park. It may be the first snowfall—but when the holiday spirit strikes the average woman, her enthusiasm and energy are boundless.

Thanksgiving, followed by the Methodist Church International Fair on Dec. 3, and the St. John's Holiday Mart, the Garden Clubs' Christmas Frosting and the Symphony Ball all on Dec. 5 should inspire even the most laggard.

Helping the Vivians achieve a holiday mood at their last meeting was guest speaker Mrs. Robert Spayth. Seasonal centerpiece and table settings were discussed and displayed.

Christmas arrangements were the topic of the evening when Mrs. Paul Wiedman entertained 35 members of the Lakepointe Garden Club at her home last Thursday. Because she organized the Lakepointe group, Mrs. Wiedman is an honorary member of their club. With her exciting decorating ideas, Mrs. Wiedman, would infect old Scrooge himself with the spirit of Christmas. She emphasizes a correlated color scheme throughout the home. For her own home this year she has chosen Cathedral blue, green and silver for her holiday trimmings. Christmas cookies and tea were served at the end of the meeting.

Christmas handicraft ideas were exchanged at the November meeting of the Anna Smith Study Club. Mrs. Betty Mende showed how beautiful gilded birds can be made from dried gourds. Mrs. Carl Caplin displayed lovely red velvet bells with gold tree ornament clappers. Mrs. Wilbur Hill brought some of her Christmas card and foil creations. Miss Patricia Smith of Lakewood, Ohio showed slides of New Mexico and the southwest.

Miss Smith had just returned from two years in Las Vegas, N.M., where she was a graduate student at New Mexico Highlands University. Mrs. Ray Von Hafe was hostess for the evening.

Collie Attacks Pet; Reason Is Mystery

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dawley and their two sons of 32391 Schoolcraft, Livonia are mourning their family pet this week. Schoolcraft, Livonia are mourning their lovable year-old Yorkshire Terrier "Crumpet," but they are concerned about other small dogs in the area, and even for the safety of small children.

Last Sunday morning Mrs. Dawley let Crumpet out in their yard, and was concerned when she called him and he did not respond. Although playful and full of pep, Mrs. Dawley was apprehensive because Crumpet always came immediately. She was sure something was wrong when she noticed a medium-sized Collie running from the yard at the back of the lot line. She called for her husband and when he investigated he found their small pet bleeding and chewed unmercifully. Mr. Dawley rushed their pet to the veterinarian, however, he was dead on arrival.

Crumpet was about four pounds, twice as small as the Collie and a male dog. There seemed no reason for the monstrous attack.

Since Mrs. Dawley and their entire family were so attached to the little dog, as a member of their family, it was her idea to warn other small dog owners. Perhaps inform the owner of the Collie what happened to avoid another attack such as this, and the sadness that comes to a family when they lose a pet they love.

A local veterinarian was at a loss to know the reason for the attack, although he thought the Collie would not be dangerous to children. He said sometimes this happens—a larger dog will attack and kill a small dog—perhaps mistaking them for a rabbit. He had heard of similar attack of a Boxer on a Chihuahua and a German Shepherd attacking a Manchester. Both of these he had treated, and they recovered. He hadn't seen one as vicious as this—where the dog was killed.

Perhaps the owners of a Collie would save themselves heartache if they would have their dog checked for stability.

Driver Class Starts at 'Y'

Slated To Arrive Via Helicopter

Santa Claus Flies Into Livonia-Mall Friday

Christmas comes but once a year and it will come for the first time to the Livonia Mall, Middlebelt and Seven Mile Roads, Friday morning at 11 a.m.

That's when Santa Claus will land via helicopter in the huge Shopping Center parking lot. The exact landing spot is designated as the northern portion of the lot, adjoining St. Martins Avenue.

The area will be roped off so that children and their parents will be able to see jolly, old Santa climb out of the helicopter coming in direct from his quarters at the North Pole.

Santa arranged to arrive on Friday because it is a day when all school children will be enjoying the Thanksgiving holidays.

After his arrival, Santa will lead the children inside the spacious, enclosed mall to assist

Livonia Mayor Harvey Moelke in the tree-lighting ceremonies. The tree will be one of the biggest in Livonia—a 26-foot Balsam specially cut for the Mall and trimmed in silken gold and white ornaments with white lights.

After the lighting ceremonies, the children will receive candy canes from Santa and his helpers. Then they will follow Santa down the center mall to the Crowley Mall area where he will hold court on a golden throne and listen to the youngsters' requests for toys and goodies on Christmas Day.

Santa will be in the Mall every day from noon to 8 p.m. through Christmas eve.

In addition to the unusual variety of Christmas merchandise offered under the one roof, shoppers will be treated to tunes of the Yule season by some of the area's top choral groups.

The singing groups, representing some of the finest church choirs and glee clubs in the north west area, will stroll through the Mall singing all the familiar and traditional Christmas carols.

Already scheduled are: Senior Choir of Faith Lutheran Church, Northern Choralists from Farmington High, and the Grace Lutheran Church of Redford choir.

The series will begin Friday, Dec. 11 and continue daily and nightly in the "shopping center with the roof on top."

Winkel Elected Crowley's President; Standart Is VP

Robert W. Winkel, executive vice president and a director of Crowley's since 1960, was elected President and General Manager in a meeting of the Board last week.

Winkel succeeds the late James H. Chamberlain who died on Nov. 9.

At the same time, the Directors named David Standart, manager of Crowley's Westborn store, executive vice president and a director.

Winkel, who was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1939, joined the Detroit office of Ernst and Ernst immediately after graduation and became a certified public accountant in 1942.

He joined Ernest Kern Co. as assistant controller in 1944 and moved to controller three years later, also becoming active in merchandising at that time. He went to Crowley's in 1955 as controller.

Winkel supervised the Crowley branch expansion plans at Westborn and Grand River and in the new shopping centers at the Livonia and Macomb Malls.

His many social and civic activities include the vice-presidency of the Retail Merchants' Association, director of the Merchants' Credit Bureau, member of the promotional committee of the Central Business District Association.

Councilman of Franklin Village and a Torch drive committee member, he is also active in the American Field Service for the Foreign Exchange Student program.

Mr. and Mrs. Winkel have three children, Barbara, 22, attending Purdue; Robert, 19, at the University of Michigan; and Gail, 16, a junior at Groves High School in Birmingham.

Standart, a member of the family that owned Standart Brothers Hardware Co. from 1863 until its liquidation in 1931, decided to apply for a job at Crowley's in 1938.

Although married at the time to Helen Crowley, of the Crowley family, Standart applied on his own without mentioning the family connection.

He was placed in hardware as a salesman. Later he entered a class for floor superintendents and served for several years on the first and fifth floors and at Christmas time in toys.

Later, he filled the position of assistant merchandising manager, assistant toy buyer, buyer of toys, assistant in draperies and drapery and curtain buyer. In 1957, he was elected a director of the company.

Both Winkel and Standart assumed their new duties immediately after the Board election.

Kresge Gives Million for Eye Institute

A grant of $1 million toward construction of a new eye institute building was accepted by the Wayne State University Board of Governors at their monthly meeting. Donor of the gift was the Kresge Foundation.

The new building, which will be constructed in connection with Harper Hospital, will be called "The Kresge Eye Institute of Wayne State University." It will be coordinated with the major construction program in the University Medical Campus. Planning is under way but no definite date has been set for ground-breaking.

Terms of the grant call for Wayne State to provide equal matching funds.

TEENAGED Candy Geer, of Grosse Pointe, author of the now famous poem "Six White Horses", is shown as she prepared to sign autographed copies of her book Saturday in an appearance at Sears Livonia Mall. Candy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Geer, wrote the poem shortly after viewing the funeral of the late President John Kennedy. It made such a hit that it was published and has had wide circulation since. Candy didn't have many moments like this during her visit to Sears, a few moments later she was mobbed by autograph seekers.

Edison Hikes Its Dividend Rate

At a board meeting in Detroit immediately preceding the company's special informational meeting for shareholders, the Detroit Edison Company declared a dividend of 32½ cents a share on the outstanding shares of common stock; payable January 15, 1965, to shareholders of record December 23, 1964.

This is an increase of two-and-one-half cents per share over the company's quarterly dividend of 30 cents paid since January, 1963.

At the same board meeting, company bylaws were amended to change the date of the annual shareholders meeting to the third Monday in April. It has been held on the first Monday in May since 1955. In 1965 the meeting will be on April 19.

Two Days Off for Kids

Just a reminder for suburban youngsters . . . Thanksgiving will bring a two-day recess of classes in the Livonia, Redford Township, Farmington, Clarenceville and Plymouth school districts this weekend.

School will end with the close of classes on Wednesday and will resume at the regular time Monday, according to spokesmen from each of the five districts.

Not wanting to take away from the festive note which gave students their annual break from classes, South Redford Supt. M. D. Roe added a bit of advice for area motorists.

"Vacation time plus the first snow is apt to mean sleds and snowball hurling youngsters will be tempted to be in streets although cautioned against danger," the superintendent said. "Therefore, it is paramount that all drivers keep extra alert during this first period of winter, especially in view of the difficulty of stopping quickly on slippery streets."

Adult Classes For Winter Announced

Registration for the winter adult education term in Livonia has been set for January 5 through 8 at Bentley High School, Hubbard Road and Five Mile. New courses will be announced as soon as they are firmed up.

According to John Anderson, Director of Continuing Education, all adults living in the suburban area are invited to attend Livonia classes. Fees for avocational and hobby classes are the same for residents and non-residents although tuition for academic courses is slightly higher for those living outside the school districts.

"By inviting non-residents to join Livonians in the wide number of hobby and craft classes we offer, both benefit," Anderson said. "It gives those living in smaller school districts, which cannot afford to set up classes in all avocational fields suburbanites are interested in, a wider choice of hobby and craft courses. It also helps Livonians in bringing extra students to courses where there may not be enough local interest to merit hiring a teacher."

Fifth Monday

Since next Monday is the fifth Monday of the month, there will be no regular meetings of governmental bodies ordinarily scheduled for Monday evenings. This includes the Redford Township, Farmington and Plymouth boards and Councils.

SC Board OKs Aide In Nursing

The administration of Schoolcraft College was given authority by the Board of Trustees to hire an instructor for the two-year Registered Nursing program which will start in the near future.

The Trustees also authorized additional accounting and secretarial help.

Bids for the $1,250,000 bonds, authorized by a vote of the college district last June, will be opened on Monday, Dec. 7, according to Board President Harold Fischer.

The Trustees met last week with the architectural firms of Eberly Smith and Associates and Ralls, Hamill and Becker to discuss plans for the Campus Center and a new classroom building.

The Board hopes to award contracts for the two buildings as soon as the bonds are sold and Federal Government aid assured.

Schoolcraft College will join the five school districts, which comprise the college district, in the creation of a non-profit educational television corporation.

The Trustees authorized the participation in last week's meeting.

Township Planner Urges Halt to Apartment Plans for a purpose. It should therefore be these areas that should be considered for zoning changes rather than areas in strictly single family areas.

 "It is our opinion that Plymouth Township should and will remain predominantly a community of single dwellings and that its character had been pretty well established."
 "We believe that the Plymouth area is near the saturation point for multiple dwellings and that no further rezoning for multiple dwellings take place until the present sites have been developed and further evaluation of the market be made at that time."
 The Commission took the recommendation under advisement and it is believed it will be discussed either in the regular December meeting or at a special session earlier.

Facts and Opinions

 The financing, building and staffing of our schools as No. One, above all others.
 In the course of a recent Legislative committee meeting, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction offered thoughts which help explain why schools are a problem.
 "The fund of knowledge doubles about every 10 years." (Which might explain why it's so difficult to lend a hand with the youngster's homework. It also explains why educators are spending more time than ever, trying to squeeze more subject matter into a school year which hasn't changed much in length in a generation.)
 "In Russia, almost exactly the same amount of money is spent on education, as on defense." (Which in the U.S. would require spending $21 billion more on education than we did in 1963.)
 "In 1951, local communities raised about 45 percent of the total costs of education, and State Aid provided 53 percent. In 1963, State Aid constituted only 41 percent and local effort 55 percent." (Which is the booming populations of youngsters, plus higher costs of everything involved. The actual dollar expenditure from Lansing has been constantly increasing, though the percent of participation has been slipping.)
 "We are trying to finance this educational growth with a tax structure adopted at a time when Michigan was an agrarian state, without great industrial areas." (Which means that the serious opinion today is that the mere fact of ownership of property is not an accurate index of the ability to pay taxes. The current goal among most education planners is a state-wide income tax—which in effect would "equalize" the property of all of Michigan and mobilize great revenue in Lansing—with the dollars then being portioned out to individual districts in a way to guarantee that none be left so poor they couldn't give their youngsters equal school opportunity with any other Michigan boys and girls.)
 Before he departs Plymouth completely, Facts and Opinions hastens to express its regret over the departure of City Manager Al Glassford. It's our impression that Plymouth will miss him more than it realizes.
 Glassford has accepted a position wherein he will be the first city manager for Albion, Mich. under a new form of charter recently voted there.
 It is a fact that his decision to leave was made in two parts: (1) Albion offered a challenge to Glassford's sense of imagination, and it will pay a little more salary; (2) Our city manager had become weary of what had come to sound to him like carping-type criticism from some Commissioners.
 Facts and Opinions watches several local governments in action, and Plymouth's is one of the most thrifty to be found in the area. City government is staffed by dedicated and hard working men, selected by Glassford. Plymouth is a clean city with good law enforcement.
 All of which are a credit to the outgoing City Manager.

Planning Commission Approves Plans for Estates In Plymouth

After considerable discussion, during which Township Commissioner Ralph Garber, who owns land in the area, objected to the flood control restrictions, the Plymouth Township Planning Commission approved preliminary plans for the Beacon Estates subdivision on N. Territorial Road.
 Township Attorney Earl Demel, also a landowner in the vicinity, told the Commission that he had resided in the area for 25 years and had never encountered a flood. He also expressed objections to the restrictions.
 Loren Gould, developer and one of the officers of the Beacon Estates Association, indicated the plans call for 24 homes in the 28.8 acres with a minimum price of $25,000 for a home.
 The proposed plans include city water, storm and sanitary sewers, hardtop roads, gas, underground wiring and no sidewalks.

Youth Dies In Blaze

 The lower level of the home was a mass of flames when they arrived. The heat was so intense that it blew out picture windows on the first and second levels.
 Firemen poured water on the blaze and finally reduced the heat to a point where they could safely place ladders on the windows to reach for Dalton.
 They found the body on the floor of a second floor bedroom at the extreme right, unmarked but apparently a victim of suffocation.
 Meanwhile, Banks was rushed to St. Mary Hospital for treatment of the gash on his arm.
 Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who were in Union City, Tenn. attending a funeral, were notified of the death by another son in Plymouth. The father flew to Plymouth Sunday afternoon and had the body shipped to Union City where services were to be held later in the week.
 Chief Schoeneman said the $15,000 home was almost a complete loss with practically every room gutted with the exception of the bedrooms which were blistered and smoke covered from the heat.
 Schoeneman indicated he believed the fire started in an overstuffed chair on the first level which apparently became ignited from a cigaret.

None Injured As Car Skids Into School Bus

None was injured but parents of Plymouth High students who participated in the band and chorus festival at Trenton Friday night were a bit alarmed when their youngsters didn't arrive home as soon as they should have.
 The sudden weather squalls and near blizzard early Friday evening turned the roads and highways into a sheet of ice and one of the three school buses, used to transport the students, was involved in a minor accident.
 While inching along Hines Parkway near Inkster, the bus driver noticed a car coming in the other direction that had skidded into the wrong lane and was headed straight for his vehicle.
 He drove into the ditch but the oncoming car struck the left front fender, bending it underneath the wheel.
 It took almost 40 minutes to get the fender straightened out enough to continue the trip.
 Thus worried parents, who knew of the road conditions, sweat it out for the additional 40 minutes until the youngsters arrived home safe and sound—none the worse for the mishap.

An Editorial Blocked By Train? Now's Time to Air Views With Council

By TOMMY THOMPSON
 Are train crews of the C&O railroad violating the City of Plymouth ordinance that provides no crossing may be blocked for more than five minutes?
 Are crews of the C&O guilty of disturbing the peace by making unnecessary noise during the wee hours of the morning from midnight to dawn?
 Mayor Richard Wernette and Commissioners Arch Vallier and Robert Beyer believe they are and request citizens to file complaints with the Plymouth Police Department when they feel there are violations.
 It would appear from the statements of the three members of the city family that the C&O has violated the ordinance on more than one occasion but no complaints have been filed and thus the crews have been allowed to go free.
 A check of the police records, requested by Wernette and Vallier, shows only three arrests in the past three years. However, both are certain there have been many more violations during that same three years.
 Certainly it is the duty of the Police Department to make arrests when the crossings are blocked for more than five minutes, but it isn't possible for a department of the size of Plymouth's to do nothing but check trains and crossings.
 Granted that the police could make checks now and then, as Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher informed the City Commission, citizens are going to have to take the initiative and file complaints.
 Mayor Wernette, who filed a complaint himself after a lengthy delay at a crossing, and the two Commissioners indicate that it is a simple matter. If you have been delayed more than five minutes, get the number of the engine or the caboose and make the complaint to the Police Department. The city fathers will take over from that point.
 Past arrests have shown that the train crews have followed the ordinance to the letter for several months afterward — then they get bold again and forget all about the time limit.
 Commissioner Beyer, who resides on N. Mill Street, is especially bitter about the noise during the early morning hours. He told his colleagues that it was almost impossible to get a good night's sleep during the months when the windows were open.
 And it appears as if Beyer has an excellent point. There isn't a reason why trains have to whistle, groan, moan, bump and make unnecessary noises at a time of the morning when they know sounds carry a long way and residents of the area are trying to sleep.
 We feel that citizens of Plymouth should file complaints about long delays at crossings and we feel they should appear at the Commission meetings and raise their voices against noise.
 Certainly if the noises bother Beyer and his family then they must keep other householders in the same area awake. It's about time all bothered by such incidents awakened and told the Commission exactly how they feel.

Work of Church of Christ at Fair Shown in Plymouth

The Plymouth Church of Christ has contributed money and personnel to the exhibit of Churches of Christ at the New York World's Fair. A report of this work will be given at the Plymouth church, 9301 Sheldon Road, Sunday, Nov. 29 at 3 p.m.

The program will include the showing of a 35-minute, 16 mm color film. This film is a documentary production—featuring scenes of New York, the Fair, and the exhibit of Churches of Christ.

It also includes the entire footage of the popular film, "What Is Christianity?"

Reeder Oldham, minister of the Plymouth Church of Christ, worked at the Fair during the closing days for this season. He will serve as chairman for the program Sunday afternoon.

A former Plymouthite, Floyd Brandon, is one of the key men in planning and executing the work of Churches of Christ at the World's Fair. Mr. Brandon is an official with the Daisy Company, his office being in New York City. Many will remember him from the time the company was located here.

Everyone is cordially invited to this showing.

STAMAN STITCHERS NOTE!

Staman Stitchers will hold their annual Christmas party on Monday, Dec. 7 at 7 p.m. at the Farmington Savings and Loan Building. Pinners will meet at the home of Charlotte Waskowski on Staman Circle on Thursday, Dec. 3.

SNACK AREA and bar at Sans Souci, Ocho Rios, Jamaica, W.I. on the North Shore looks out over the two reef-protected beaches—one a palm fringed expanse of white sand fronting a sapphire sea, the other adjoining the pool fed by beneficial mineral springs. Surf-swimming, skin diving, spear-fishing and snorkeling are favorite fun things to do. Outdoor dining among the tree tops on the dining patio or on your private balcony overlooking the sea is your choice at San Souci.

Federated Garden Club Show in Farmington

One of the biggest events of this year or any other year will be the Christmas Flower Show staged by the Four Federated Garden Clubs of Farmington. It will take place Saturday, Dec. 5, 2 p.m. to 9 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 6, 1 pm to 6 pm, at North Farmington High School.

Over a year ago, in October, 1963, Betty Brown, chairman of the show, began to meet with her committee and make plans.

The Hill and Dale Club, the Forest Park Garden Club, the Farmington Garden Club and the Botsford Garden Club have joined together in this show which will be aptly titled "The Enchantments of Christmas." Each one of the four clubs will have a representative at the show.

There will be a talent corner where items the members have made will be displayed.

Christmas corsages will be demonstrated and sold. Also wreaths, table settings, classes for novices, a conservation exhibit, large horticulture exhibit of evergreens, will be just a few of the many exhibits featured.

There will also be a "Ways and Means Country Store" where garden and Christmas design kits will be on sale.

No less than 86 table arrangements will be on view. Some of them have intriguing titles. "December Delights," "Fairlyland Finery," "Christmas Creativity" are a sample.

Six of the women who will display their arrangements are: Sue Dwyer, display of her jeweled eggs; Pauline Rozinski, display of her wreaths, cones, and door knockers made of greens; Barbara Maxon, display the art of corsage making with live flowers, and Hazel Johannas, display dried arrangements.

An unusual part of this display will feature live rosebuds. Mrs. Johannas will show how to make a dried arrangement of them, preserving their natural color.

Barbara Simonsen will do cone wreaths and Pearl Marks will do Christmas arrangements with candles.

Another exhibit is entitled "Luminous Laviliers." Some of these feature pendant type ornaments 3 feet long, and others are seven feet from the floor. "Reflected Radiance" is the title of the Christmas lighting display.

This show is competing for the coveted red and green rosette which is awarded once a year in the State of Michigan to a group of Federated Garden Clubs for a flower show which reflects the true spirit of Christmas. The suspense over this award will continue until June when the winner is announced.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

It is not so unusual for families to have two cars in the garage, a radio and a T.V. set, two bathrooms, a house and a cottage, and so perhaps it's time to think of taking two vacations . . . one in summer with . . . and one in winter without youngsters.

May I recommend a winter vacation . . . True, you do have that small guilty feeling (but squelch it) that comes from picking up a book and just reading it in the middle of the afternoon regardless of the state of the house, or sneaking back under the electric blanket for a small snooze after the last lunch box has been tucked under the arm of the last going out the door in the morning. But like the winter vacation, it's so luxurious.

We live in a very fast pace, and Lady, no matter what job your husband has, there is plenty of strife in his business life that maybe he doesn't talk about.

And what about you? Much as we love our children, there is something about a twosome vacation that revitalizes any marriage, be it two, 12 or 25 years.

Next time you are near a travel agency grab a handful of the folders. They're free and so delightful to dream over, even if your plans never leave the ground.

As a matter of fact flying economy flight (three abreast in a seat—but with the same pilot and the same plane) you can go almost anywhere in the world quite reasonably.

If you have a psychological thing about flying they have special "I-don't-care pills" to assist you. Personally everytime the wheels safely touch the ground I always vow it's the only way to travel.

Kurt Thrun of the Travel Centre in Plymouth claims it's much safer up in the air than on the ground anytime.

I don't know if all travel agents are full of life and gaiety as friend Kurt Thrun is, but they should be. He is the perfect image for inspiring people to take time to enjoy life and travel.

He doesn't just do this from behind a counter—he is really a man on the go-go himself. As a matter of fact, so intrigued is he with Jamaica, West Indies, he is moving his entire family to Ocho Rios on the Northern Shore of Jamaica where he has leased a hotel for a year. He is also going to maintain his travel agency.

Sans Souci is the name of his hideaway which boasts blending the romance of Jamaica's North Coast with all the modern comforts. It is on the site of an old coconut plantation, high on a hill with a view of the Caribbean waters and tropical mountains. Anyone of this old frozen North area will be given a special Jamaica welcome at Sans Souci. Which probably means a coconut cup full of Rum punch, or curried Ackees and Codfish (the National dish) with Conch Soup and Breadfruit — finished off with a huge dish of tree-ripened fresh fruit.

On the practical side did you know taking a vacation to another country or scene really gets you out of the rut in your own kitchen? It will spark up your whole family when you return with new ideas on what other people do with spices, herbs, fruits and fishes.

It's true a lot of different recipes are like the ole one on that delicious dish known as cooked bear. Now you take one live bear . . .

But really with a little research and maybe one trip to Broadway Market you can come up with something to really delight the family and folks during this holiday season.

For a desert try Fresh Pineapple Pie. When you serve it, cut the top stock off the pineapple, wrap the underneath part in foil and place in the middle of your plate of pre-cut pineapple pie — it looks so native and festive.

3 cups fresh pineapple chunks
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 tbs. flour
2 tbs. butter
9 oz. short crust pastry

Prepare and line pie tin with 3/4 pastry. Prick bottom and chill until required. Combine pineapple, sugar, flour, spices and cook over low heat until mixture thickens. Add butter. Allow to cool. Pour in prepared pie shell. Use remainder of pastry to make lattice design for top. Seal edges well. Bake in hot oven for 10 minutes. Reduce temperature. Bake about 30 minutes longer until crust is cooked. Serves 6.

And for a different dip — recommended in Jamaica with Artichokes, but also good for celery or carrot sticks, cooked shrimp, lobster tails or potato chips

1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tbs. Soy Sauce
1 tbs. Garlic Wine
Vinegar
1/2 tsp. curry powder

Combine sour cream, soy sauce, vinegar and curry powder. Chill in refrigerator for about an hour for flavors to blend.

Bring on the cold, slush, wind and Christmas shopping if in your heart you can plan on a vacation every once in a while — life can be beautiful.

Want to see the eyes of the young lady shine in your home on Christmas morning? A sure way is to have the above holiday princess dress under the tree. Also in black velveteen (if your young Miss tends to the sophisticated). Sizes 7 to 14 . . . about nine dollars at Sears Livonia Mall.

The Observer WOMEN

Want To Know How To Make Jeweled Eggs?

Monday, Nov. 30, Carol Duvall will have as special guest on her 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. show, Sue Dwyer of Farmington. Sue will teach how to make these jeweled eggs, step by step. Starting with the blowing of the eggshells, she will progress to the part when they are ready to be used as ornaments.

This demonstration is the same as the one she will give on Dec. 5, 6, at the "Enchantments of Christmas" flower show sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs of Farmington, Hill and Dale Garden Club, Botsford Garden Club, Forest Park Garden Club, and the Farmington Garden Club will vie for the red and green rosette to be awarded to the best Christmas Flower Show of the Year. It will be held at North Farmington High School.

Five-Day X-Ray Clinic Set for Livonia Plymouth Area

HARVEY W. MOELKE, of Livonia County health director, as they make plans for forthcoming chest X-ray survey meet Dr. John J. Hanlon, new Wayne in their respective communities.

Free chest X-rays will be available at Wonderland Shopping Center in Livonia for five days beginning Monday, Nov. 30.

The tests, available to anyone 21 years or older, are highly recommended by Dr. John J. Hanlon, new health director of Detroit and Wayne County.

The Wayne County and Michigan Health Departments and the TB and Health Society (Wayne County's Christmas Seal organization) are co-sponsors of the survey.

The mobile unit providing the free chest X-rays will operate on the following schedule:

Monday, Nov. 30—2 to 4 and 5 to 9 p.m.
Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (Dec. 1-2) 12 noon to 4 p.m. and 5 to 9 p.m. Friday, Dec. 4—12 noon to 4 p.m.

Daniel J. White To Head Area JA

Daniel J. White has been named Program Supervisor for Junior Achievement in the area. The territory Mr. White will be responsible for includes the communities of Plymouth, Livonia and Redford Township.

The appointment was announced by Wallace Fleming, Executive Director of Junior Achievement.

Mr. White was formerly District Manager of the Harper and North Woodward Business Centers before assuming the position of Assistant to the Program Director last January.

Junior Achievement is an educational program for teenagers between the ages of 15 and 19 that is designed to teach an understanding of the American free enterprise system "by doing."

Plymouth Hi News

By CAROL OTWELL

The Junior Prom "Roman Holiday" is now a thing of the past, but the juniors agree it was certainly worth the long hours of preparation. Congratulations to the Junior class for a beautiful J-Hop.

Now attracting much attention is the Sophomore class who recently selected class rings. The rings were chosen by the executive board on November 12, and feature a dark blue stone under the traditional gold school crest.

Carol

Members of the executive board, who chose the class rings, are: President Steve Hulce; Vice President Pete Bender; Secretary Candi Muehlbauer; Treasurer Babe McClung; and Student Council members, Jane Emerson, Jeff Cardinal, Darryl Dusbiber, and John Davis.

The rings were purchased through the Terry Company and will arrive some time in the spring.

STUDENTS OF Plymouth High School now have a teen center. The center, which was formerly the Knights of Columbus Hall, has been rented through the efforts of the YMCA.

Hi-Y members have been working hard to paint and clean the center to have it ready for the opening on Saturday, Nov. 28. The center is for any high school student in the Plymouth area and will be open from 3:00 to 5:30 every night after school starting November 30.

In the near future it is hoped that the center will house ping-pong tables, pool tables, and a snack bar.

A SKI CLUB has been added to the long list of clubs and organizations at PHS. It will be sponsored by Mrs. Jane Watts and is being formed to promote more skiing and provide a co-educational activity.

One meeting has already been held and at the next, officers will be elected. The club will run each winter from December to March, and during this time, the members plan on taking one trip every two weeks.

Some of the skiing sites they plan to visit are: Alpine Valley, Grampain, and Boyne Mountain. Trips to Canada are also being considered.

A HIGH SCHOOL newspaper day at Michigan State University was attended by three of the editors of the school paper, Pilgrim Prints.

Attending were: Senior Janice Mattison, Grace Thompson, and Eileen Scheppele. The girls heard lectures on editing school newspapers, staff management, paper make-up, headline writing and typography.

ALL THE BANGING, drilling and pounding going on outside class room windows is due to the new addition going up where the old parking lot used to be. It will consist of five rooms which will house classes in auto mechanics, power mechanics, drafting, collision shop and an electronic laboratory.

Work will continue throughout the winter and will be completed in time for classes to start next fall.

TRYOUTS WERE held recently to select members for this year's Water Waves and Ripples. Twenty-five girls were chosen for the Water Waves and 15 for the junior club, the Ripples. Both clubs will begin working on this year's water show which will be held in May.

Those selected as Water Waves were: Pat Fehlig, Nancy Derr, Pat Barry, Sue Mettetal, Brenda Mackie, Sue Ward, Laura Raaflaub, Marilyn Gibson, Carol Otwell, Pat Turrentine, Sue Niemi, Kay Zolt, Jan Firestone, Rhea Fluckey, and Sue Hudson.

Katie Hurson, Sally MacKenzie, Beth Miller, Luanne Gendreau, Sandy Rittenhouse, Pam Anderson, Ruth Sheldon, Lorraine Daley, Wendy Stokes, Janet Covington, Connie Nickerson, Lynn Niles and Jean O'Donnell.

In ROTC Program

Gregory D. Etting, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Etting, 36126 Roycroft, Livonia, has enrolled in the Air Force ROTC program at Michigan State University. Cadet Etting, a freshman, enrolled in AFROTC after completing a five-week orientation course on the ROTC programs offered at the university.

You build a new home to get exactly what you want why not get the heating system that gives you exactly what you want

Electric heat is custom heat. There's a thermostat in each room so you can dial the exact warmth you want . . . in the baby's room, the den, the kitchen, every room!

Electric heat is the clean, modern heat. No drafts or cold spots. You get even heat from head to feet. Ideal for your new home.

It's also a good choice as supplemental heat for your present home—to warm up a chilly bedroom or new family room.

The cost? That depends on your particular home. Electric heat may be your most economical heat. It won't cost you a penny to find out for sure. Just call Edison for a free estimate.

EDISON

P.S. A lower all-electric rate saves you as much as 20% on your heating bill if yours is an All-Electric Home. More reason than ever to enjoy all-electric living.

CURTAIN GOING UP

By WALLY ROBERTS

"There has been nothing in human history which has brought mankind closer to the realization of an infinite creativity than the revelation that the minutest particles of inert matter contain an almost immeasurable power."

Who said this? Archibald MacLeish, author of the Pulitzer Prize Drama "J. B.", in answering objections that Job's story bears no relationship to our own since science now knows that there is no Creator.

Wayne State's superb production of "J. B." completely obliterates any further notions you might have about the absence of a Creator. Bryan Hull and Mat Reitz caper about the stage with the ease of actors knowing exactly what the roles call for. They play, symbolically of course, God and Satan. Their philosophical diatribes offer ample evidence of a divine being.

A few years back Basil Rathbone came to Detroit in the Satan role. Christopher Plummer had done the part on Broadway. To ask Basil to whirl and almost dance through the role was almost an impossibility. In the first place, Mr. Rathbone's bones were beginning to creak somewhat embarrassingly.

Mat Reitz enacted the role of the play-acting Satan skillfully, smoothly and so satisfyingly that I almost saw the ghost of Christopher Plummer hovering over his left shoulder all evening. In fact, the entire production had that eerie penetrating power that fascinates you and draws you irresistibly into the drama.

"J. B.", powerfully staged by Robert Hazard, once more reaffirmed my faith in the University Theater circuit. Technically, as always at the Bonstelle, the production was a delight to behold. Lighting effects added power and moving significance to this verse drama built around the Book of Job.

The long list of characters from Michael Landrum to Dennis Brown, in the minor role of a preacher, gave impressive support to the two brilliant leads. Everyone in the cast performed ably and made "J. B." a special occasion in the theater.

Thurston High's Dave Donchok had a featured role in "J. B." His versatility was evident as he undertook four different roles. His early career at Redford's Thurston prepared him most ably. Pat Secor, his Thurston mentor, must feel proud to see Dave doing so well. Old Wally always enjoys seeing how effective early training on the high school level has been.

During the early snowstorm of last week, I slipped and slid down to the Wyandotte Roosevelt High School to see a high school production of "Inherit The Wind." My daughter who accompanied me thought I was out of my skull to go that distance to see a high school play.

Many high school plays are disastrous. Many of them hardly deserve to be exhibited to the public. Of course, exceptions to the rule do crop up like welcome oases. And what makes the difference?

The director of high school productions spells the difference between success and failure. Northville's Florence Pantoni, Redford's Bob Gregory, Thurston's Ina Rae Stanton (presently on leave of absence), Livonia Franklin's Dave Hirvela all have the know-how and have demonstrated in the past they believe in extracting every ounce of talent out of their high school thespians. It can be done and is accomplished by the aforementioned folk.

Add another high school director to Wally Robert's Hall of Fame: Mr. Nicholas Howey from the downriver home of drama, Roosevelt High School. His "Inherit The Wind" had all the drive and electricity of the Broadway production. The audience sat breathlessly and responded beautifully to a show much too difficult for even a community group to attempt.

Howey had shaped his 42 actors into a well-coordinated ensemble of acting professionals. In his program note he indicated that he had spent many hours exhorting the extras in the crowd scenes. It was evident and paid off. I don't know when I have seen a better high school play. In fact, I would put this production out ahead of many community dramatic productions seen in this area.

One scene change involving all 42 actors was made in five seconds and fairly made the audience gasp!

Several of Mr. Howey's thespians had all the marks of Broadway material: Clark Benke, Susan Atkins, Ron Miskelley, Mike Richards, Jim McCabe, and Stan Jarski. Stage movement, always a factor in my judgement of a show, was professional and gave the drama provocative significance. Mr. Howey's work with Stan Jarski paid off handsomely. Stan didn't miss a trick and built his role to near-perfection. His change of pace, mature approach, and bag of stage techniques put this high school lad right into the ranks of the "pros." Let's hope he continues to pursue acting as a career.

"Bye, Bye Birdie" With Cast of 100 Opens Friday In Livonia

Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild Producing Comedy

"Bye, Bye Birdie" staged and produced by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford will open this Friday at Bentley High School. Other performances will be Saturday and the following weekend, Dec. 4, 5 and 6. All performances start at 8:30 p.m. with the exception of Sunday, Dec. 6th at which time the performance starts at 7:30 p.m. For the Sunday night performance only, student tickets are on sale at $1.25.

Tickets may be obtained by calling GA 1-1481 or GA 1-5716. Tickets are also available at Dunn Pharmacy and Taylor's Town House, two blocks east of Merriman.

The "Birdie" of the title is an Elvis presley-like songbird—to be portrayed by Doug Kerr—whose imminent induction into military service sets the plot in motion. Jim Corburn (Albert) will play the part of this arm-bound minister's manager who is desolated with loss of his meat-ticket until his secretary, to be played by Bev Gotch (Rose), thinks up a publicity stunt. This is to choose from an indexcard file of Birdie's idolatrous fans a typical American girl who will have the honor of being given the star's last kiss before he goes into uniform.

The girl selected is a high school miss in Sweet Apple, Ohio, and when the grating singer, his manager and various television technicians descend on this little community to record the farewell kiss for the Ed Sullivan Show, the town goes mad.

In particular Birdie's visit makes a shambles of the home of the dungareed miss chosen for the kiss, and causes her father—to be portrayed by Howard Egan (Mr. MacAfee)—to sing the wry song entitled "Kids" that was one of the show's biggest hits during its long New York run in which he plaintively admits "I don't know what's wrong with these kids today."

With a cast of 100, "Bye, Bye Birdie" should prove to be the most spectacular musical comedy ever staged in this area.

"BOSS" AND SECRETARY (Jim Corburn and Bev Gotch) conspire on a publicity stunt to make nation's top youthful songbird going into the Army a national crisis. This sets the plot for the fast-moving musical comedy "Bye Bye Birdie," opening at Bentley High School this week-end, produced by Redford-Livonia Theatre Guild.

1927 Mystery Film To Be Shown at Ford Museum Sunday, Nov. 29

The silent film version of the thriller, "The Cat and the Canary," will be the next showing in the Famous Early Movie Series at Henry Ford Museum on Sunday, Nov. 29. The Sunday only performances are at 2 and 4 p.m.

Laura LaPante heads the cast of this picture filmed by Universal International in 1927. An intriguing mystery story directed by Paul Lent, the cast also includes Flora Finch, Creighton Hale, Forrest Stanley and Arthur Carewe.

The Famous Early Movie Series, now in its thirteenth year at the Henry Ford Museum, offers great films from the early days of motion picture history, both silent and sound. Movies in the Museum theater are open to all visitors without additional charge.

Franklinites' Production "Bye Bye Birdie" Opens Dec. 2, 3, 4 At Franklin

Now it is finally here—the "thing" all Franklinites have been so long awaiting. Their first annual all-school musical "Bye, Bye Birdie," will be presented in the Lecture Theater at the school Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, December 2, 3, and 4.

Advance ticket sales have resulted in a near sell-out for all three performances. A few tickets will be offered early next week.

Actual production of this gay, youthful, musical culminates over six weeks' work by more than 200 students and five faculty members. Dave Hirvela, English department, has served as a general director for "Bye, Bye, Birdie." Assisting him have been Mr. Roy Ernst, Music department, supervisor of all musical aspects of the production. Mrs. Mary Ellen Goodwin, Home Economics department, in charge of costuming. Mr. Oliver Gennil Business Education department, and Mr. Art Anderson, Industrial Education department, have shared responsibility for tickets, programs, and scenery.

Art Institute Decorating Christmas Tree

Ornamented with priceless hand-made figures, a regal Christmas tree will dominate the Great Hall of The Detroit Institute of Arts during the holidays.

From Nov. 29 through Jan. 5, Mrs. Howell H. Howard of New York City is lending this exquisite symbol of the season so visitors to The Detroit Institute of Arts may enjoy more than 130 magnificent ornaments she has collected over a 30-year period.

On the 14-foot tall simulated blue spruce, Mrs. Howard is now personally supervising the placing of each angel, cherub, shepherd, magi, sheep, donkey, goat, lamb and dog.

At the foot of the tree, she will arrange a creche against a background of moss-covered cork. Creche figures include the Holy Family, wise men and kings, shepherds with their sheep, horses, and other animals, all beautifully costumed or decorated. Approximately two weeks time is required to complete the installation.

Each unique figure is the work of a 17th or early 18th century Neapolitan artist. The expression on each wood or terracotta face is delicately painted, while the bodies are of woven straw. Mobility is part of the figures' charm, because the various parts of the figures are not rigid, but fitted with armatures that can be posed as desired.

Art Institute To Show "The Last Stop"

"The Last Stop," a film classic of the triumph of the human spirit, will be the fourth in a series of postwar Polish films to be shown at The Detroit Institute of Arts Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

This story of the notorious Nazi concentration camp at Auschwitz in southern Poland won first prize at the International Film Festival of Czechoslovakia.

A limited number of tickets are available without charge from the Museum Shop and the Theatre Arts Department of The Detroit Institute of Arts.

Ticket holders will be admitted to the auditorium after 7:30 p.m. After 8 p.m., individuals without tickets will be admitted. Children under 16 years will not be admitted unless accompanied by an adult.

The MAYOR'S CORNER

BY MAYOR HARVEY W. MOELKE

(While Mayor Moelke was in San Francisco, attending the National Municipal League conference on government, Library Commission member Peg Miquelon authored his column.)

By PEGGY A. MIQUELON
The Municipal Library Program in the City of Livonia is very important to the citizens of this growing city, because the growth and development of a good library system must go hand in hand with the city's growth. For this reason, Mayor Moelke has asked me to present in his column a review of the Livonia Library System, and plans for future library services, as recommended by the Library Commission.

I have had the privilege and honor of serving Livonia citizens as a member of the Library Commission for the past three years, and it has been a rewarding experience. From this I have gained a very healthy respect and admiration for those far-sighted people who spearheaded the first library program for Livonia in 1957. The delays and frustrations they encountered must be experienced to be appreciated.

Proud as we are of our libraries in the city, Library Commissioners are the first to realize the limitations of our system, both in the book collection, and in important services the library should be supplying.

The most serious problem facing us today is the inadequacy of the South Branch, located on Plymouth Road, just west of Farmington Road. This small library is one of the busiest in Suburban Wayne County, and anyone who has patronized this fact.

During the past two years, the Library Commission and the Planning Commission have been working together to develop a Master Library Plan, with special emphasis on a larger, modern library to replace the present small, inadequate South Branch.

The proposed site of the new library building, to be located in Sheldon Center, is the result of long hours of research on the part of the Livonia Library Commission, Wayne County Library administrators, and the Michigan Library Association. Full consideration has been given to such important aspects as convenience, traffic conditions, parking facilities, and the safety of our young people. Most importantly, circulation records indicate an immediate need for a larger, more complete library.

Many Livonians are perhaps unfamiliar with the methods by which libraries are financed. In 1919 the State of Michigan enacted Public Act 305, which provides for communities such as ours to bond up to 1/4 of 1 per cent of current assessed valuation for the purchase of land and for building cost. Unfortunately, this amount is only for sites and buildings, and does not provide for operating funds, which must be provided by the City Budget, which is already strained to meet other growing needs of our city.

Last week, however, we were greatly encouraged by the receipt of a letter from Washington stating that Livonia has been awarded a Federal grant in the amount of $126,000 for libraries. In order to qualify, architects plans and specifications must be submitted by February 1, 1965. This means our plans must be finalized quickly. The Library Commission submitted a request to the City Council some months ago to implement the bonding procedure

Looking Around LIVONIA

CORRECTION: Toni Corson, hard-working secretary for Livonia's bustling Youth Employment Service, was inadvertently mis-identified in The Observer's picture marking the start of Youth Appreciation Week. Our apologies to Toni.

ROAD SPOTTER: Motorists on Farmington now have an extra lane when approaching Five Mile from the south: The asphalt strip was laid recently and speeds up traffic on the busy street. More widening is scheduled... Also, spanking-new signs on Merriman and Six Mile help to identify that intersection more readily to motorists.

University of Michigan Club invites all members, potential members, and friends to their annual "mixer" Saturday, Dec. 5, at Rosedale Club House, 9611 Hubbard and W. Chicago. A dollar will cover set-ups and potato chips. Call Virginia Calligari GA 2-1271 or Pete Kinyon GA 2-9359 for tickets or more information.

REMINDER: The suburban area hearing on the new Jeffries Freeway will be held next Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 8 p.m. at Thurston High School.

Mrs. Marilyn Rosenthal of Livonia has been nominated as publicity chairman of the Greater Detroit Committee for Fair Housing Practices. The group will hold elections this week.

our students must obtain much. The Library Commission feels a strong responsibility to Livonia citizens. We realize that of their reference and research material from other, more complete libraries. We also realize that Livonia contains many residents who are professional people, and young engineers, accountants, and management executives for whom reference material in their particular field should be readily available. This is our goal.

The Livonia Library Commission has a strong ally in the "Friends of the Library," a group of civic-minded citizens who have been long unrecognized and unsung. They have been the "Patron Saints," so to speak, since through their efforts we have obtained many of the necessary things that were beyond the limits of our budget. We are counting strongly on their support in the coming months, and I am sure there are many other "Friends" who feel the same way. Mr. Leonard Randall, President of the Friends, would welcome hearing from any person who would like to have a part in this rewarding objective.

Young Livonia does not yet have a museum, art institute, civic theater, or other marks of a mature city. Until it does, the Library System must in some way serve these needs, and I am confident that our citizens will be encouraged by knowing of our plans to meet them.

CD Course Will Begin January 5

Mr. W. A. Cooper, Civil Defense Director for Livonia, has announced that a Medical Self-Help course will hold its first formulation meeting on Tuesday evening, January 5, 1965. The class will meet in the Emergency Operating Center, Police Administration Building, 15050 Farmington Road, Livonia.

This Medical Self-Help Training Course is designed to teach the proper methods of "survival," as well as how to handle emergency medical problems which could happen in any family. Subjects to be taught include radioactive fallout and shelter, healthful living in emergencies, artificial respiration, bleeding and bandaging, fractures and splinting, burns, shock, transportation of injured, nursing care, infant and child care, and emergency childbirth.

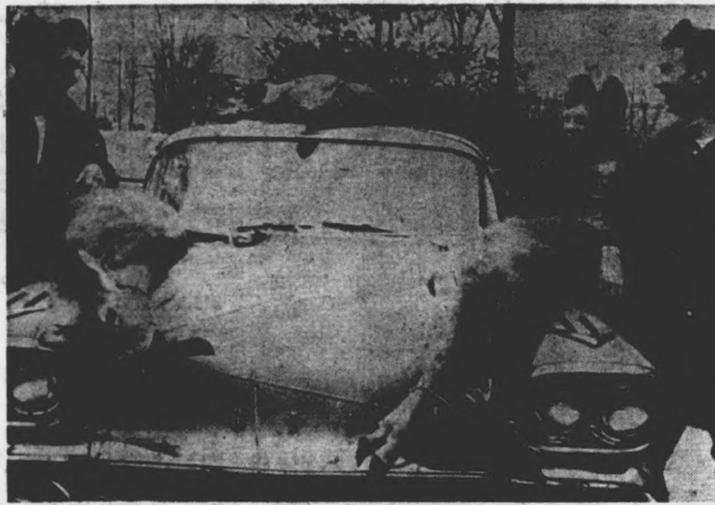

Cooper also announced that new classes for Auxiliary Police Training will begin in January, 1965.

Anyone interested is asked to call Civil Defense Headquarters, GA 1-2000, Ext. 257, between 8:30 and 5 p.m.

John F. Gordon, President and Chief Operating Officer of General Motors Corporation was elected to membership on the Board of Directors of the National Bank of Detroit.

His election was announced by Henry T. Bodman, Board Chairman, and George E. Parker, Jr., President of NBD.

Brotherhood Speech Contest Draws Franklin Students

For the second consecutive year, Franklin High School recently participated in a Detroit Round Table Brotherhood Speech Contest sponsored by the Detroit Round Table of Catholics, Jews, and Protestants at Wayne State University.

Competing for Franklin High School and supervised by Mrs. Audrey Backer, member of Franklin's English department, were Patricia Eidt, Linda Lantto, Mary Moore, and Tom Cotner.

"Brotherhood is My Business" was the topic for the contest, one of the many ways the Junior Round Table of Metropolitan Detroit strives to achieve its purpose and that of its sponsor, the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The purpose of the organization is to promote mutual respect, friendship and understanding among high school youths of all religious, racial, nationality and socio-economic backgrounds.

Held annually, the contest divides contestants into two divisions; east and west of Woodward Avenue. Semi-finalists are chosen from each district and the winners compete for a scholarship. Each contestant also receives a certificate of merit.

Although none of the four students from Franklin High School were winners, they were commended highly for their efforts by the judges, Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Sarah Colvin, Director of Education for the Michigan Region of the Brotherhood organization.

Carol Caster, president of the University of Michigan Folklore Society, will highlight a show starting "The Tempests," Leslie Fish, Karen Amy, the Upton Sisters and the Lemus Brothers. Time of the event is from 8

School Name Honors Hoover While Flags Fly at Half-Staff

When the Livonia School Board granted the wish of the children, parents, and staff of the new elementary school on Ladywood and Levan Road to name the school after Herbert Clark Hoover, the flags in Livonia and throughout the nation were still at half-staff in mourning for the 31st president of the United States.

According to Principal James Otto, the vote was 219 in favor of naming the school after the recently deceased president to 20 who wishes to have the board consider other names.

The school, which serves an area nearly two square miles in size bounded by Eckles-Haggerty Road on the west, Six Mile on the north, Golfview on the east, and Five Mile on the south, was previously called "Section 17" school.

President Hoover, born at West Branch, Iowa, on August 10, 1874, was the son of a blacksmith who gained the highest office in the land after a distinguished career as an engineer and humanitarian.

He grew up in Indian Territory and after graduation from Stanford in 1891 served as a mining engineer in western Australia, Asia, Europe, Africa, and the two Americas.

His interest in helping people in need began in 1900 when he directed a food relief program in China for the victims of the Boxer Rebellion. At the time of World War I he headed the organization which distributed $5 billion in relief from 1914-1923.

Hoover served as Secretary of Commerce from 1921 through 1928 and was elected president in 1928 to serve from 1929-33. He was succeeded by Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

"We are pleased that the Board acted with such dispatch on the name picked by our youngsters," Mr. Otto said. "I'm sure that this great humanitarian statesman will prove to be a source of inspiration to staff and students today and for the decades ahead." There are presently 547 students enrolled in the 16-room building in the rapidly growing northwestern area of Livonia.

Officers Elected in Helman Park

Members of the Helman Park Civic Association held their initial meeting of the year at Marshall School to elect new officers for the coming year. Patrick J. Duggan will serve as president; Lee Taylor, first vice president; Bob Tressler, second vice president; Mildred Vanderstoot, secretary; and Bob Tuttle, treasurer.

Reverend Gordon Larson, missionary from West Irian (Indonesia) and a new resident of Helman Park, presented a most interesting program for the members. The films shown portrayed vividly the living conditions of the people in that part of the world and the differences between their way of life and ours.

The new Board of Directors announced tentative plans for activities during the winter months. They include the annual Christmas Party for the children, erection of signs at the entrance of the subdivision, open house for the residents, gym night for the men and the possible construction of a skating rink.

DPW News and Notes

By JOSEPH BIDA, SUPT. Plymouth DPW The past week found the Department of Public Works busy with the continuation of putting up decorations in Kellogg Park for Christmas.

Signs were made and installed and meter posts were repaired. A catch basin was built on the north west corner of Liberty and Mill Streets. The sanitary sewer mains were cleaned on Fairground, Fralick and Union Streets. The business area was swept.

At the point of Kellogg Park gravel was cut out and made ready for paving, weather permitting. A broken water service at 166 E. Ann Arbor Trail was repaired and a broken curb stop and stop box was replaced at 141 S. Main Street.

The Community Fund Torch was removed from Kellogg Park and will be stored at the Public Works Yard. There were five funerals at Riverside Cemetery during the week.

The City has signed a contract with Fulkerson's Snow Removal Service to remove snow from all the sidewalks in the city. This is to be on a trial basis for this year.

There were five, from our crew of 16 men, that were on vacation or deer hunting.

C'ville Looking for Substitutes

The Clarenceville School District has announced it is in need of additional substitute teachers at all grade levels. Applications are now being accepted at the Board of Education office located at 28830 West Eight Mile Road.

"It is desirable that qualified persons with a teaching certificate be used," a spokesman for the school district said. The school district may be able to obtain a special certificate for a person having satisfactorily completed three years of college training. The present salary scale for substitute teachers is from $19.50 to $20.50.

Persons who can meet these qualifications and enjoy working with children and adults in the educational process, may contact the school district. Applications may be obtained between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. daily at the board office.

Covered Trash Cans Keep 'Lid' On Fires

Keep your trash cans covered at all times, warn health and fire officials.

A close-fitting cover in place on a heavy-duty steel garbage can is your best safeguard against the start and spread of fire, in addition to being important to your family's health.

By keeping the trash cans covered, you not only keep out flies, vermin and rodents, but you also lessen the fire hazard. Should some flammable material in the trash can catch fire, the fire eventually would burn itself out without spreading to adjoining property.

Warn Home Buyers To Make Careful Check Of All Plumbing

As the heart of a house, plumbing serves every member of the family every day—little else, in fact, is used as much. Because of this vital importance to convenience and health, close scrutiny of a home's plumbing system is necessary by prospective buyers.

A good place to start checking is at the water heater—it should be a modern, automatically fired model, of sufficient size to meet the needs of the family. Ideally, a tank should be no smaller than 40 gallons capacity.

Safety features of the water heater are also important. It is essential that there be an approved-type temperature and relief valve. Similarly, there should be a drainage valve at the bottom of the unit to allow draining sediment from the tank at regular intervals. This is an important procedure in the prevention of corrosion. The heater should also be equipped with a shutoff valve to permit repairing the unit without turning off the water in the entire house.

A very basic aspect concerning a plumbing system's worth is the piping. A house with bad piping is most often a bad investment. In the basement, check the pipes that lead from the water heater with particular care. If they leak, a replacement job will be needed before long. (NOTE: Do not confuse summer pipe "sweating" with leaking.)

Observe the way in which the piping has been installed in the basement. If it runs parallel to the building walls, it's generally a good sign that the entire system was carefully installed.

Perhaps the most significant piece of piping in the system is the service line that brings the water from the street main into the house. The diameter of this pipe is vital in determining whether there is an adequate flow to fixtures and water-supplied appliances.

In simple terms, adequate flow means that mother can do the wash without fear of choking off dad's shower water—it means plenty of water available at all times. Usually, the diameter of the service line can be checked at the point it enters the water meter. Size requirement varies with family, fixture and appliance demands, but as a rule, no less than 3/4-inch piping should be used for this line. In any case, it should be large enough to handle increased demands in future years.

In addition to having a full-flow, a good plumbing system should be a quiet one. Turn on a faucet wide open and then close it abruptly. Is there a clattering noise in the pipes. That's water hammer. It is not only a noisy annoyance, but harmful to the system, as well, causing leakage around joints and weak points. The installation of air chambers or shock absorbers usually remedies the situation.

"Whistling" often indicates excessive pressure within the system. A pressure-reducing valve will many times correct the problem, although sometimes a major piping overhaul is necessary.

Water that enters the house must also leave—this is where the waste line comes in. There are two important points about waste piping that a buyer should make sure of: it should be free of obstructions both inside and outside the house; it should have properly functioning traps to prevent sewer gas from entering the house.

While all waste line stoppage is undesirable, stoppage inside the house is not nearly as serious as stoppage outside. Outside obstructions, usually due to either a collapse of the sewer walls or from tree roots grown into the pipe, sometimes necessitate digging up the yard for repairs.

Another important factor in the waste line is the number of clean-out plugs. The system should have an adequate number so that there is a plug wherever the pipe changes direction.

Of all the plumbing in a house, the fixtures are most familiar to everyone. Prospective buyers are always interested in fixture appearance as well as utility. How do they look? Outdated? Is the enamel chipped—fixtures worn and stained? Check the faucets, valves and drain controls—these are the working parts and determine the utility of the fixtures.

Equally important with the number of bathroom fixtures is the number of bathrooms. A one-bathroom house usually short-changes the buyer, since the facilities will be inadequate from the start, to say nothing of future demands. If the house is short of bathrooms, look around for possible locations for new ones. Pay particular attention to areas where a new bathroom could be backed up against an old one—this will save on piping and labor.

If the house has a basement, it should be dry. Look around on the walls for tell-tale water marks where "high tide" hit during the last heavy rain. If there is a water problem, the cause should be determined as well as the cost of correction. In most cases, a sump pump (cellar drainer) is good insurance against all types of water intrusions.

When visiting a house-for-sale, be sure to check all of these points—a factor overlooked now can cost the buyer later. If repairs are needed, somebody will have to pay for them, either the buyer or the seller. It is always wise to bring defects to the attention of the seller. Often he will arrange for the repairs himself or discount the selling price to permit the buyer to do so.

Fire Safety Calls For Trash Cans Made of Metal

A recent report by the General Services Administration in Washington illustrates the necessity of storing all waste and trash in fire-resistant metal containers.

G.S.A. officials recommend the use of galvanized steel cans.

G.S.A. fire prevention engineers conducted a series of tests to determine the fire-resistant qualities of various containers—both metal and non-metal.

Flames burned through the non-metal containers in two to four minutes on the average, and burning contents spilled onto the floor. In contrast, fire in the metal cans died harmlessly, without spreading.

Laundry Uses Undergo Change

Good laundry procedures today are quite different from those of ten or 15 years ago.

Homemakers who use judgment in sorting their clothes and selecting the correct temperatures of washing and drying various fabrics will preserve the appearance of their clothes, as well as save on ironing time.

The control dials on automatic washing machines and gas clothes dryers help make clothes cleaner, white and less wrinkled.

Livonia Chamber of Commerce Warns Against Second Mortgage Brokers

The Livonia Chamber of Commerce warned today that the exploitation of debt-ridden homeowners by second mortgage brokers who offer them an "easy way out" of their financial troubles is spreading rapidly in this country and Canada. Told that they can reduce their monthly payments 50% or more by "consolidating their debts," over-extended homeowners soon discover that they have taken on a new debt totaling up to twice as much as the amount they received to "consolidate" their old debts, the Chamber said. Mr. Phillip Tanguay, executive director of the local Chamber said the warning is not a criticism of the substantial firms and individuals making second mortgage loans, but is intended to alert the public to the pitfalls in any transactions with the growing numbers of unlicensed brokers, or so-called "money-finders." The Chamber's warning is based upon a report issued by the National Better Business Bureau with which the Livonia Chamber of Commerce is affiliated through membership. Mr. Tanguay said that according to the NBBB report these brokers proclaim in provocative newspaper advertisements that they can arrange to take substantial sums available to property owners, generally people saddled with heavy debts on consumer purchases. The loans are secured by second mortgages and the contract usually calls for repayment in monthly installments over a three to five-year period. The brokers do not lend money themselves but merely place the contracts with a lending company, often headquartered outside the state where the mortgaged property is located. The key problem, said Mr. Tanguay is that borrowers are not told and are rarely aware of the huge fees second mortgage brokers charge for their services. While the interest rate is usually within legal limits—6% to 8%, depending on the state—the broker's placement fee may range from $500 on a $1,000 mortgage to more than $2,000 on a $5,000 loan, he said. Frequently, there is a second broker involved who collects a fee, and there may also be fees for appraisal, photographs, "searches," "preparation of instruments," "recordings," and the like. Even if the loan is paid off in advance, said Mr. Tanguay none of these charges is refunded or prorated. The NBBB report cited these typical case histories: —An Ohio woman borrowed $3,000 only to find she was obligated to pay back $5,850 in monthly installments of $97.50 over a five-year period. In addition to 6% interest, settlement costs were $2,075. —A New Jersey borrower seeking $4,800 became indebted for $9,600, including a placement fee of $3,900. Advertising tactics used by these brokers, Mr. Tanguay said, are reminiscent of those employed by "debt pooling" and "debt adjustment" firms whose activities are now outlawed in at least 16 states and regulated to some degree by other states and communities. In most states, second mortgage brokers are free to operate without licenses as real estate brokers or money lenders and without supervision by state agencies, he said. The National Better Business Bureau said the best protection for a homeowner considering a second mortgage loan is a thorough investigation before signing a contract. The homeowner should ask the Chamber of Commerce for any information it may have on the broker or his method of operation and contact the financial institution that holds the first mortgage. REFLECTION The mind is a storehouse — and the way some people talk it must be a junk shop.

Jim was honored at a dinner Thursday night sponsored by the western Wayne County MCF at Lofy's Arbor-Lill Restaurant.

Advent Carol Festival Slated For December 6

Elaborate plans have been announced by the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches for an Advent Festival. This affair, to celebrate the season of this important part of the Christian year, will be held on Sunday, Dec. 6, at 3:30 p.m., in the Ford Auditorium, Woodward at Jefferson in Detroit. Two hundred boy choir singers in white surplices will sing several selections. Hundreds of Children and Youth choir singers from all denominations will be singing special numbers appropriately written for Advent. Offer Tips On What Not To Do With Your Car In Winter

Do you really know how to care for your car in winter? Should you warm it up by driving it or idling it? How about preventing the engine from flooding? Do power brakes work better on icy roads than conventional brakes?

A driver seeking the advice on winter car care can find plenty—most of it incorrect.

To help drivers steer clear of bad winter driving advice, "Discovery," official publication of the Allstate Motor Club, lists some winter driving myths and compares them with what automotive engineers and fleet operators say:

1. "An engine should idle and warm up before the car is driven, especially in cold weather." Not so, say the experts. The best way to warm up an engine to peak operating efficiency is to drive the car easily. Just idling the engine keeps the choke closed longer and raw gasoline washes oil off the cylinder walls.

2. "Pump the accelerator a few times before using the starter so the engine will start the first time and prevent flooding." Pumping the accelerator more than once on cars with automatic transmissions may flood the engine. The proper method is to depress the pedal slightly, hold it there and start the motor.

To overcome flooding, a motorist should floor the gas pedal and hold it there while he starts the engine. This method should be repeated every few minutes until the car starts.

3. "If you can find one, the ideal used car is one owned by a little old lady who only drove it once a week." Such a car may be clunker. Short-run, low temperature driving is hard on engines. Engine combustion is poor with carbon and sludge forming to cut engine life.

4. "Power brakes make your car safer; you can stop quicker." Not necessarily, say the experts. Power brakes make you stop with less effort, but not in less distance. They give some drivers a false sense of security, because like power steering, they don't give the driver enough feel of the pavement. On wet or icy pavement this is dangerous.

Airman Lyle E. Ireland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Hudson, 11240 Karen, Livonia, has completed the first phase of his Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex. The airman is a 1964 graduate of Franklin High School.

The man who insists on having his own way must travel alone.

5. "Cars don't need as much maintenance as they used to." Despite the improved oils and lubricants developed by the car manufacturers, drivers still are advised to change their oil more often under severe driving condition. City driving and winter driving may require a driver to change his oil more frequently than his manual provides.

If the car is not serviced regularly, more than just an oil change and a lubrication is ignored. Brake fluid in the master cylinder, the oil filter, the under carriage and the muffler may be neglected unless frequent inspections are made.

Car owners must beware of bad advice, warns the Allstate

Motor Club magazine. Talk is cheap, but repair bills resulting from taking bad advice are not.

Enrollment Breaks All WSU Records

With an increase of 2,890 students this fall, enrollment at Wayne State University reached an all-time high of 25,200 students, reports Dr. Henry H. Pixley, dean of admissions, records and registration.

"This unprecedented increase in students so far outstripped our predictions," said Wayne State President Clarence B. Hilberry. "That we are forced to ask the state legislature for an emergency supplemental appropriation to adequately provide for the overflow."

In preparing the 1964-65 budget request, WSU officials predicted a head count enrollment of 23,500 for this fall, and a full-time equivalent of 16,215. The actual full-time equivalent is 17,211, or nearly 1,000 more.

The over-all enrollment increase was 13 percent with the highest percentage increase in the professional schools of Law, Medicine, Nursing and the School of Business Administration. Based on the present trend, revised projections for the fall of 1965 have been undertaken and University officials now state that enrollment will reach 29,000.

"It will be necessary for the new legislature to take this into account when making appropriations for 1965-66," said President Hilberry, "since our budget request was submitted to State Department of Administration before this fall's count."

Formerly vice-president and general manager of Schuett Realty Company, Detroit, Moser has been an associate broker of Mayfair Realty since 1957, advancing to the presidency earlier this year. He also heads his own insurance office, the Marv Moser Agency.

Active member of the Lutheran Church, Moser has been elder, steward and chairman of the congregation of his own parish, Faith Lutheran Church, Livonia. He has also served as a member of the extension board of the Michigan District and is presently a member of the Lutheran Board of Missions.

Moser, his wife, the former Tatiana V. Nilson of New Jersey, and their two children, Dale Marvin, 11, and Marvelyn, 10, reside at 18711 Bell Creek Lane, Livonia.

Elected with Moser as officers of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors and the United Northwestern Realty Association for 1956 were Everett J. Wilson, vice-president; Richard S. Elsea, secretary; and Jack L. Mooney, treasurer.

Wilson is owner of the Milford Realtor firm that bears his name. A native of Milford, he attended Milford High School and Ferris Institute, obtaining a degree in pharmacy. He was employed by the Porter Rexall Drug Company, General Motors Corporation and Marine Corporation before entering the real estate business in 1946. He is a member of the Milford Chamber of Commerce and the Milford Township Zoning Board and serves the Veterans Administration as management broker for Milford, South Lyon, White Lake and Brighton. Wilson served as vice-president and president of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors prior to its merger with the Western Wayne County Board in 1962. He is presently secretary and a director of the combined boards.

General sales manager of the Elsea Realty & Investment Company, Elsea has been associated with the real estate business founded by his father since 1952. A graduate of Michigan State University, he is a member of the Detroit Real Estate Board and is presently treasurer and a director of the Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors.

Mooney is owner of the J. L. Mooney Company, Realtors, 19733 West Seven Mile Road, Detroit. Ackerman Honored By Chrysler

Paul C. Ackerman, Chrysler Corporation vice president—engineering, was honored at the Detroit Golf Club on the announcement of his retirement after 42 years in the automobile industry.

Ackerman, a Chrysler engineer for 30 years and a director of the corporation since 1957, will retire November 30.

Before joining Chrysler in 1934, Ackerman was associated with several automotive companies, including the Maxwell Car Company, Continental Motor Company and Timken Roller Bearing Company.

In 1938, he was appointed supervising engineer in charge of Chrysler's car testing, engine development and general laboratories. He was named chief engineer of laboratories in 1948, and advanced to executive engineer—laboratories, in 1953.

He was named director of engineering—Engineering Division, in 1955, and was elected a vice president in August, 1956.

Among the many contributions to Chrysler, and to the automobile industry, for which he was honored by Chrysler friends and associates Friday night, are patents issued in his name for several transmission and motor vehicle lighting devices.

MAYOR AND PRINCIPAL CONFER —Bentley Principal Donald Friedrichs shows Livonia Mayor Harvey Moelke statistical material on the way Livonia's first high school has grown during

100-Car Parking Lot At G. R. Harris Home

A new, submerged 100-car parking lot has been completed on Farmington Road near 5 Mile by the Harris Livonia Funeral Home.

This is one more step in the improvement and building program of the Harris Livonia Funeral Home.

The parking area, which will accommodate 100 automobiles during funeral services and approximately 50 at other times, allowing for access driveways, is all-weather surfaced and generously lighted for convenience and complete safety at night.

The Harris Livonia Funeral Home is the fourth location for the R. G. & G. R. Harris family corporation. Improvements to the funeral home proper, at 15451 Farmington Road near 5 Mile, are being finished in well calculated stages so that there will be no inconvenience or distraction to funeral services.

Livonian Honored
 NEW YORK—William Louis Matthews, CPA of Livonia has been elected a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Matthews is associated with the accounting firm of Plante & Moran in Detroit.

In the best tradition of modern parking area design, this new facility is bounded on the south and east sides with rustic concrete retaining walls and ornamental shrubs. On the west side is a modern shadow box wall which beautifies and acts to shield activity in the parking lot from the surrounding area.

The final effect, according to David Whitney, resident manager, will be to partially screen parked automobiles from the passing traffic. This construction provides safety through excellent visibility in both directions for a motorist leaving the parking area.

THE FINISHING TOUCHES on Santa's throne at Livonia Hardware Co., Five Mile at Farmington, are placed by Al and Beth Margolin and Joe Turner. The hardware store—gutted by a fire last August—is marking its grand re-opening with a special sale this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Fire Damage Repaired, Livonia Hardware Re-opens

On August 15, 1964 a fire completely demolished the Livonia Hardware and Home Center at 33533 Five Mile Road.

It has been a long road for the co-owners, Al Margolin and Joe Turner, since that time but with the store's grand opening (or re-opening) last Monday a goal was reached.

With the utter destruction of the store, the owners were forced to start the rebuilding from scratch.

They decided to do the job right. Toward this end they engaged the services of Andy Anderson of Cotter & Co. who served as the main architect. Assisting in the project was Harvey Bennett of the Michigan Retail Association.

Jaycees Push Plans for Area Candlelight Ball

Jaycees throughout western Wayne and Oakland Counties are continuing to push a ticket sale for their "Candlelight Ball" on New Year's Eve, designed to raise money for a new swimming pool at Plymouth State Home.

A Community Project by Jaycees in District Six—which includes Livonia, Redford Township, Farmington and Plymouth—the ball will be held at the Carpenter's Hall on Grand River near Lahser in Detroit.

Participants in the ball have a choice of three prices for tickets—$12 for the cost of one ticket for a couple to the Ball, $30 for the cost of a sponsor's ticket, which entitles purchaser to a ticket to the Ball, plus recognition on the dance program, and $100 as the minimum contribution for a ticket to the ball, recognition on the program and permanent recognition on the plaque to be placed at the pool site.

Further information may be obtained from Howard Cole, 21293 S. Brandon, Farmington, 478-7923.

Attends Convention

Mrs. R. J. Cranston owner of Cranston Paint Shop, 31185 W Ten Mile Rd., has just returned from the PWAA (Paint and Wallpaper Association of America) Convention in Chicago.

The store was completely redesigned and refurbished. The end product is one of the most efficient and up-to-date stores of this type in the country.

Included in the all new merchandise on the shelves are items for every conceivable part of the home and recreation. Ironing boards, appliances, housewares, paints, toys, tennis rackets, poker chips, salad bowls, and many more items are for sale.

Mr. Margolin explained that the store is a member of Cotter & Co. which is the third largest cooperative buying group for hardware and housewares in the country.

"Through the use of this cooperative," he said, "we are able to obtain the best and most varied merchandise at the most reasonable prices."

There are 1269 stores in the cooperative and the advantages of bulk purchasing is easily imagined.

The store, which has been a landmark in Livonia for many years, was purchased about two and a half years ago by Mr. Margolin and Mr. Turner.

It offers an added convenience of being a Detroit Edison station where appliances may be brought for repair and light bulbs exchanged.

In addition, utility bills may be paid in the store and American Express Travelers checks may be purchased.

Livonian Receives New Assignment At Udylyte Plant

Alan E. Olsen has been named Process Specialist for the Process Market Development Department of The Udylyte Corporation, according to an announcement by Donald R. Millage, Department Manager.

Olsen has most recently been assigned to the firm's Atlanta District Sales Office. Prior to joining Udylyte in 1950 he was with the Ford Motor Company.

With his wife, Dorothy, and two children, Olsen makes his home in Livonia.

Family Problems Course Slated

A two for the price of one sociological course covering marriage and family problems in which husbands or wives may accompany their spouse to class without payment of additional registration fees will be offered at Bentley High School during the winter term.

The class, to be taught by Mrs. Rosina Raymond, will meet on Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The course, which runs for 10 weeks, starts on January 14.

It's always the idle rumor that's busier than any other kind.

EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, these members of the Livonia Youth Symphony from throughout the western suburbs rehearse for their upcoming season. First concert of the 28-member orchestra will be given Jan. 9 at Bentley High School and will feature the Bentley chorus in a joint "pops" concert. Punch & Judy Puppet Theatre Slates Double Bill December 5

A double bill, "Punch and Judy" and "Variety Marionettes," will be presented by the Detroit Puppet Theatre Saturday, Dec. 5, at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. in The Detroit Institute of Arts Auditorium.

Tommy Trent of Miami, Florida "does one of the most exciting Punch shows around," said Dr. Audley Grossman, curator of the museum's Theatre Arts Department. Trent is coupled with puppeteer Harold Ramm, 2037 Lafayette, Dearborn, who will perform "Variety" with trick marionettes from his own collection and that of The Detroit Institute of Arts.

This bill is a rare opportunity to see two excellent performers doing two of the most captivating forms of puppetry. Tickets are 50 cents each for children and adults; 35 cents for groups of ten or more, and Founders Society members. Tickets may be purchased at Marwil's Northland, Grinnell's downtown, or the Museum Shop at The Detroit Institute of Arts. Mail orders accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelope will be filled by the museum's Department of Theatre Arts.

BIKES, AND MORE BIKES! Surrounded by a sea of shiny new bicycles, Ernie Epps, promotional director for Wonderland Center, prepares for the biggest bike give-away ever staged in this area. Fifty bikes—25 for boys and 25 for girls—will be awarded at a drawing to be held at the center December 19. Contest rules and a free entry blank appear in this edition of the Observer Newspapers.

"Theater Guild Week" has been proclaimed in Redford Township for this week by Supervisor Jack H. McDonald and in Livonia by Mayor Harvey Moelke.

Calling attention to the cultural contributions of the Livonia-Redford Theater Guild, the two officials praised the Guild's theatrical productions given in the two communities.

Text of the Supervisor's proclamation:

WHEREAS, The Theatre Guild, Livonia-Redford provides a cultural outlet for the people of our community who are interested in participating in "Live Theatre," and

WHEREAS, The Theatre Guild, Livonia-Redford will present the musical comedy, "Bye, Bye Birdie" in November.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That I, Jack H. McDonald, as Supervisor of the Township of Redford do hereby proclaim the week of Nov. 22-28, 1964 as "THEATRE GUILD WEEK, LIVONIA-REDFORD," in recognition of the fine contribution of the Theatre Guild, to the cultural growth of this community.

Proclaimed the Mayor:

WHEREAS, The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, completing ten years of community service, has provided inspiration to drama-minded citizens of both Livonia and Redford, and

WHEREAS, through the efforts of its members the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, has offered good, moderate-priced "live theatre" to the people of the community, and

WHEREAS, as a result of the high calibre of entertainment provided, through scrupulous attention to both acting and staging methods the Theatre Guild has grown in membership and prestige, and

WHEREAS, through the efforts of their energetic and dedicated group, skilled in all aspects of the theatre, the people of this community have viewed with interest and delight twenty-five major productions and seven shows for children, including such theatrical staples as "Destry Rides Again," "Come Blow Your Horn," and "The Time of the Cuckoo." The Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild produced the stage variety show at the recent Livonia Show Train Exhibition included in the forthcoming season the Guild will present the shows "Bye Bye Birdie," "Gi-Gi" and "Mary, Mary."

NOW, THEREFORE, I Harvey W. Moelke, Mayor of the City of Livonia, County of Wayne, State of Michigan, in recognition of the cultural betterment being fostered by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford, and equally significant, the pure enjoyment afforded by the members of this enthusiastic association, do hereby proclaim the week of November 22 through November 28 as THEATRE GUILD WEEK in Livonia and Redford and urge the citizens of Livonia, and its neighboring community of Redford to support and encourage the efforts of the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford.

Unsung Workers for Rex

Far more people contributed to the success of the Rex Cawley celebration than could possibly be acknowledged in these pages. But some of the most important went without mention in our coverage of the event last week.

We will attempt here to credit these deserving citizens, but we are sure many will remain unnamed:

Dr. M. L. Hutton, Facilities; Royce Norton, Tickets; Bob Button, Finance; Roger Walker and Tom Isley, Publicity; Ed Balden, Clayton Graham and Warren McKenzie, Parade.

Among the individuals and groups comprising the Parade: American Legion Color Guard; N. Farmington High School Band; the Homecoming Queens of Farmington and N. Farmington High Schools; Kendalwood Kiwanis; N. Farmington High School cheerleaders; Farmington Exchange Club; Farmington High School Student Council; Farmington Board of Commerce; Farmington and N. Farmington High School Varsity Clubs; Kendalwood Merchants; Farmington High School Pep Club; N. Farmington High School Foreign Exchange Club; Farmington Jaycees; N. Farmington High School Student Council; Farmington High School Ski Club; N. Farmington French Club; Farmington High School Band and Cheer Leaders; U. S. Observer Hails Prep Grid All Stars

By GEORGE MASKIN
(Sports Editor)

Orchids to the 11 members of the 1964 All-Observer high school-area football team.

Orchids, too, to Bob Bentley of Franklin, the unanimous choice for the area's "coach-of-the-year" honors.

It's only fitting that along with Bentley that three of "his" boys from the Franklin team should be saluted on the Observer's First-Team selections.

For it was Franklin that made history in Livonia this past fall by becoming the city's first prep eleven ever to complete a gridiron season with a perfect record—nine.

Picked from Franklin with their coach were End Neal Thomas and Backs Antonazzo and Larry Yonish.

Eight of the other area schools each placed one man on the first Observer team. Only Clarenceville failed to gain a performer on the honored list.

The Observer is grateful to the area coaches for their assistance in making possible this year's "dream" eleven as a climax to a season which saw three of the area's teams share in championships.

While Franklin swept through its schedule to take the Northwest League and the Livonia city titles, Bentley shared the Suburban Six League crown with Trenton and St. Agatha wrote a new chapter into its records by tying for the divisional title in the Catholic League and also winding up with an unbeaten record—six wins and a tie.

ENDS

MIKE FRITZ—Redford Union: Made the All Suburban League team as a senior. Had what his coach, John Rogers, described as "the best set of hands" boasted by any prep player in the Detroit area. His moves and speed baffled defenders who tried valiantly to cut him down. Many of the catches he made came under the classification of "tremendous." He caught 27 passes for four touchdowns and 353 yards. He also did the punting for R.U., averaging better than 28 yards per try.

NEAL THOMAS—Franklin: He caught only ten passes for 195 yards and two touchdowns. But his coach explained: "We used Neal as a decoy most of the time, hence he made so few receptions. It was thanks to him, and his faking, that our other receivers hauled in so many passes." Thomas' greatest value to Franklin was his blocking. He made it possible for the Franklin backs to scoot the corners for sizable gains times again. Played defense only in the tough situations. When he did, the opposition found it best to stay away from the territory he was protecting.

TACKLES

RICK LARSEN—Bentley: All-League for the second straight year. Third year on the varsity at Bentley. Called by Coach Larry Joiner "one of the finest prep tackles I ever have seen." Larsen also was extremely quick for his size. Outstanding on defense, particularly when it came to pursuing a rival ball carrier and making the tackle. He was all over the field for Bentley and a vital cog in the team's drive to a share of the Suburban Six League championship.

JERRY SZOSTAK—Thurston: Despite his 230 pounds, Szostak moved with the agility of an 180-pounder. He was an aggressive, two-way player who never had himself a bad game in his varsity career at the South Redford school. Was outstanding as a blocker and often would knock down two and three would-be tacklers on the same play. Coach Bill McDonald of Thurston predicts Szostak will emerge as a great college player.

GUARDS

RON ZIMMERMAN—St. Agatha: He battled his way to glory on the football field despite two knees which were hurt early in his schoolboy career. For the 1964 season, the doctors told him he could participate only in games—not to engage in any practices; otherwise his knees wouldn't hold up. He was a two-way player for the unbeaten St. Agatha team which shared the divisional title in the Catholic League. A fierce tackler and blocker. Also an inspiration to the other members of the small Redford Township parochial school.

WALTER (SKIP) MOORE—North Farmington: Called by his coach, Ron Holland, as "a tremendous kid." Not only was an exceptional blocker and a great tackler, but he also took over "as our defensive leader," the coach added. Moore's interest and desire helped to spearhead the North Farmington team to a winning season, despite the fact there were only a handful of returnees on deck when the campaign began in the fall.

CENTER

MIKE BARS—Our Lady of Sorrows: On the varsity for four years, the last three as a starter. A National Honorary Society member and one of the leaders in student government at the school. Called by Coach Bud Webster of Sorrows "as the best collegiate prospect I ever have handled. Played defensive end this past season and rivals knew better

OBSERVER SPORTS

By George Maskin

The "big dailies" are back and you now can read the stories again of a couple of very fine Livonians, Paul Pless and Bennie Dunn, on the sports pages of the Detroit News.

With the ending of the longest strike in local newspaper history, a quiet "death" came Sunday to The Daily Press, a very successful interim enterprise to which we made some contributions in the 19 weeks it lived.

As the Press took its final breath, some of us were sitting around—fellows like Bob Latsch of the Free Press and Morrie Moorawick, the best scorer and statistician anywhere in this world.

What had 19 weeks meant to the sporting world? You wouldn't think much . . . but, yet, in those 130-plus days:

1. The National League produced its greatest finish — and flop — of all time. Until the very last day, it was possible for three teams to share the championship. The crown finally went to the St. Louis Cards after the Philadelphia Phillies blew a 6½-game lead in the final week of the season.

2. The American League chase was no runaway either. The Yankees had to go down to the second last day of the season to take the flag with the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles right behind.

3. The Cards won the world series and then came the announcement that Johnny Keane had quit as their manager and Yogi Berra had been axed by the Yankees. Keane ultimately signed to replace Berra, after signing a two-year contract with an "escape" clause to work as a special assistant for the Yankees, quit and took a post as a playing-coach with the rival New York Mets.

4. Baseball lost one of its finest men — Freddie Hutchinson. Cancer was too much for the fighting heart of the one-time Tiger pitcher and manager.

5. The entire racing season came and went at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia. When the final race was over, the announcement came that all records for crowds and wagering had been set at the oval — and because of this many new improvements will be made at Middlebelt and Schoolcraft roads next season.

6. Football bowed in and the Lions ran into another barrage of injuries. The worst losses were those of Quarterback Earl Morrall and Linebacker Joe Schmidt. The word is that Schmidt won't be back next season . . . that he's going to retire. The rumors also are circulating that George Wilson will get the bounce as the team's coach unless the Lions should happen to stage a miracle finish in what's left of the '64 campaign.

7. One coach, who already has been axed, was Charles Wolf, who lasted only 11 games into his second season with the Detroit Pistons. Wolf managed only two wins this season. The Pistons picked Dave DeBusschere to coach as well as play and the early results have been encouraging for the Pistons.

8. The comeback of Ted Lindsay with the Detroit Red Wings also "shook up" the sporting world. Nobody took it seriously

Bentley of Franklin Is 'Coach-of-Year'

Not all men are willing to "challenge for something."

Most would rather sit back and wait for "the something" to come their way. Usually, the something never comes.

Bob Bentley is one guy willing to accept a challenge.

For eight years, Bentley distinguished himself as one of the best basketball coaches in the state. He could have continued as a cage mentor, but Bentley always wanted to see what he could do as a head man in football.

During a six-year stay at Livonia's Bentley High, Bentley served as an assistant in football. He held the same post when the doors opened at Franklin high two years ago.

Just before the 1963-64 school year ended, Jack Hudnut announced his

School officials at Franklin started a hunt for a successor to Hudnut. Most thought that Bob Bentley was only kidding when he asked for the job. But Bentley was serious.

"I always have wanted to be a head coach in football," he said as the 1964 season began. "I feel I can do a good job."

As matters have turned out, Bentley's last remark has to be the understatement of the year.

His Franklin high team went to the starting line nine times. Nine times Franklin emerged the winner.

The perfect season was the first ever fashioned in Livonia. In addition, Franklin carried off the league title and the city title.

Little reason, then, why Bob Bentley has been hailed unanimously as the 1964 football "coach-of-the-year" by the Observer Newspapers.

Bentley has been coaching for 14 years, 11 of them in the Livonia system.

Winners aren't anything new for Bentley. When he coached at Bentley, his basketball teams won the league title five times out of six . . . six straight district crowns . . . and one regional.

When Bentley left Bentley High, an extra rivalry developed. His wife is a member of the faculty at Bentley.

Dufour a Pro
John Dufour, assistant director of the Livonia Dept. of Parks and Recreation, is a former professional football player, with the Ottawa Rough Riders. During World War II he served as a captain in Patton's 3rd Army.

"Our concrete street has given everyone new pride in keeping up his home!"

A concrete street dresses up the whole block! Keeps your neighborhood neat, clean and good-looking. Doesn't break up in the spring or soften in the summer. With a life expectancy of 50 years and more, a modern concrete street adds value to homes, makes them more salable. Modest initial cost and continued low upkeep make it a really sound investment. Add to this, dependable skid resistance, high night visibility and a smooth, comfortable ride. You can see why modern concrete is the preferred pavement in cities, villages and towns everywhere.

Blue Devils Battle DIT

Lawrence Tech will open its basketball season Wednesday, December 2 in a new home court and with a new coach. But the opponent is an old foe — Detroit Tech.

Coach Lew Moon has chosen Levy Junior High School gym in Southfield for eight home games — a location nearer the L.I.T. campus than is Hackett Fieldhouse, used for years by the Blue Devils. The gym is on Nine Mile just west of Telegraph.

Coach Moon, one of Albion College's great athletes, has coached and taught for 15 years at Sandusky, Elton, Addison and Clio.

Lawrence Tech took both 1963-64 games from Detroit Tech making the all-time record in favor of Lawrence Tech with 18 victories and 9 losses.

Three veterans will start: Ron Sanders and Bobby Lester at forwards and Larry Goldsmith, guard. Breaking into the starting lineup probably will be Bill McKion, 6-5 center from Holy Redeemer and Larry Birkett, 6-2 guard from St. Gregory.

But close behind in the running are veterans Steve Munerantz and Bob Dyki, plus newcomers Tony Viskantas, 6-3 U. of D. High forward and Tim Machecowicz, 5-9, St. Hedwig guard.

Looking Around Sports

U.M. Cops Title; Bowl Next

The top sports story for Michi-ganders this past week was fash-ioned by Bump Elliott and his University of Michigan football team.

In the game with all the golden chips riding on the out-come, the Wolverines beat Ohio State, 10-0, to win the Big Ten title and also the trip to Pasadena, Calif., for the 1965 Rose Bowl game.

There were many heroes for Michigan. The biggest was Quarterback Bob Timberlake who passed brilliantly for the one Michigan touchdown, kicked a field goal and added a conversion.

The Michigan defense sparkled, too. Ohio State had its chances, especially in the early going, but there was no penetrating Michigan's defense last Saturday.

Elsewhere on the collegiate football scene this past week: Notre Dame made it 9-0 by downing Iowa and now all the Irish have to do this Saturday is to beat Southern California to haul in the national championship.

Michigan State lost its finale to Illinois, 16-0, while the University of Detroit dropped a 17-9 verdict at Boston College in the Titans' final encounter.

In addition to Michigan, other bowl teams include — Alabama and Texas to the Orange, LSU and Syracuse to the Sugar and Arkansas to the Cotton.

The Army meets the Navy this Saturday . . . and it will be Roger Staubach in the spotlight for the Middies again. Both teams have had their problems so far this season, but history dictates that the game this Saturday will be another honeymoon.

PRO FOOTBALL The Lions had to wait until the last half minute to gain a 23-23 tie with Minnesota and keep alive their hopes of at least landing in the runnerup bowl in Miami. It took a come-back by the Lions, who trailed most of the way. Wayne Walker's boot as time ran out made possible the deadlock.

Green Bay kept the Cleveland Browns from wrapping up the Eastern Division title. But Baltimore downed Los Angeles to take the Western flag.

HOCKEY Despite a pair of losses to New York and Chicago, the Red Wings wound up their long road trip up on top in the National Hockey League. Now it's home cooking for the Wings—against Montreal Thanksgiving night and against Toronto Sunday night. Roger Crozier remains the toast of the Wings with his spectacular goal-keeping. But ex-Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk hasn't lost his brilliance. He turned in a shutout over in Chicago before TV fans.

BASKETBALL The Pistons continued to sparkle under new playingcoach Dave DeBusschere, picking up wins over Philadelphia and Baltimore before losing to St. Louis. The Pistons have a pair of games at Los Angeles (Wednesday) and Friday night before returning to Detroit Saturday evening against Philadelphia. The Boston Celtics, meantime, appeared to have cooled off. After winning 11 straight, the Celtics dropped four out of six.

COLLEGE BASKETBALL The 1964-65 season begins next week with the University of Michigan certainly figuring as one of the top teams in the nation. With Cazzie Russell and Bill Buttin available, the Wolverines should win the Big Ten and the NCAA crown this winter.

BASEBALL The minor and major league meetings start next week. There should be some wholesale trading. The Tigers likely will engineer a swap of some kind. It could involve Norm Cash or maybe Hank Aguirre. Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles was named last week as the most valuable player in the American League. Nobody was surprised. It was learned that the Tigers will open their 1965 season at Kansas City on April 12, then meet the same A's in the Tiger Stadium opener eight days later.

ODDS AND ENDS Kelso, the all-time money-winning race horse, is through racing for 1964. The word also exists that Kelso may run no more. Death cost the sports writing world of Eddie Jones, of Toledo, one of the nicest guys in the trade. There'll be more racing at the DRC next season, the state racing commissioner has announced. The rematch between Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston will be held in Boston next April. Millard Barber won the year's final golf tournament and Jack Nicklaus took the overall money honors for 1964 by beating Arnold Palmer.

SUBURBAN SIX LEAGUE champions and unbeaten in dual meet competition during the past season are these members of the Redford Union High school football team. The group includes (front row, from left): Fred Turak, Mike McCrea, Co-Captains Bob Griffore and Steve Crane, Fred Alexander and

SC Cagers Open Play Saturday

Although handicapped by lack of gym and pool facilities on the campus, Schoolcraft College will have basketball and swimming teams in competition for the first time during the winter months.

That was the announcement of Athletic Director and Coach Marv Gans as he told of an ambitious 16-game game schedule, opening next Saturday against Western Ontario Tech, of Windsor, Canada, on the Clarenceville High court.

The cagers—all 13 of them—have been practicing on the Clarenceville and Franklin High courts when time is available and when Gans is able to work it into his busy schedule. This generally means in the evening between the hours of 7 to 9.

For the swimmers, Gans managed to get together with them for workouts at 6:30 a.m. in the Franklin High pool.

"Never have I seen such fine spirit as shown by the students at Schoolcraft College," said Gans. "Imagine a basketball team having to practice in the evenings, which means most of the candidates have to travel as many as 12 to 15 miles, and a swimming team forced to practice at 6:30 a.m."

"We all realize that this is a rather familiar format for colleges when they first get started, especially when the athletic facilities aren't available. But these athletes have demonstrated that they really want to compete—especially when they go to all of these pains to practice."

Gans doesn't have the varsity's swim schedule complete but hopes to arrange home and home meets with most members of the junior college circuit within reasonable distance of the Schoolcraft campus.

In basketball, he encountered little trouble booking a schedule that will keep his squad busy from Nov. 28 through Feb. 20.

His biggest problem is getting enough candidates to organize a team capable of competing on even terms with most of the other junior colleges.

He has a squad of 14 but only a few have had any previous experience in high school.

As a matter of fact, he has five experienced men available for his starters—then has to look long and hard for capable reserves.

At the moment, his starters, for the opener against Western Ontario Tech, will have George Lubbrand, captain and leading scorer of last year's Plymouth High team, and Gerry Kisabeth, another Plymouth regular of last year, as the backbone.

Scotty McIntyre, lanky Bentley guard and forward of 1963-1964, looks like one of the best on the squad and a definite starter.

The other two are John Breckinridge of Garden City and Keith Watson of Farmington.

The roster lists: Howard Ambinder, Bloomfield Hills; Richard Biezak, Livonia; Bob Ekonen, Livonia; Bob Geist, Detroit; Roger Grover, Livonia; Jack Hooper, Northville; Jeff Houtaling, Farmington; Dave Norris, Garden City; and Greg Rice, Detroit.

The first Schoolcraft College basketball schedule:

Nov. 28—Western Ontario Tech at Clarenceville High; Dec. 12—Adrian College junior varsity, there; Dec. 17—University of Windsor JayVees, there; Jan. 5—Michigan Lutheran College, there; Jan. 9—Muskegon at Franklin High; Jan. 13—Port Huron Junior College, there; Jan. 16—Cleary at Franklin High; Jan. 19—Detroit Business College at Plymouth High; Jan. 23—Benton Harbor at Plymouth High; Jan. 26—Ford Community College in Dearborn; Jan. 30—Michigan Lutheran College at Clarenceville High; Feb. 3—Western Ontario Tech, there; Feb. 6—Detroit Tech JayVees at Clarenceville; Feb. 9—Cleary, there; Feb. 13—Detroit College of Business, there; and Feb. 20—Port Huron Junior College at Clarenceville.

when they saw the 39-year-old Lindsay work out with the Wings during the training season. Then came the announcement and Lindsay has been an excellent addition to the Wings who have surprised the league by jumping out to lead the pack — with a brilliant new goalie in Roger Crozier.

9. The high school football season produced some thrill-packed moments hereabouts. Three schools figured in titles — Franklin, St. Agatha and Bentley. Franklin had a perfect season . . . nine wins in as many games . . . North Farmington, which was supposed to be a "nothing" team because of heavy graduation losses, came back like a bunch of tigers. And, then, there was the end of the line as a coach for Mike Hoben who stepped down after ten seasons at Plymouth.

10. The 1964 Olympics made big news during the days we worked at The Daily Press. From a local standpoint, the big story was produced by Rex Cawley, the pride of Farmington high, who captured the 400-meter hurdles and came home a week ago to show the Farmington folks the beautiful gold medal he had won. In the Olympics, of course, the Americans dominated the track and field, the swimming and the basketball. The Yanks also won more gold medals than any other nation. It was a great year for the Yanks.

11. The Carling Open at Oakland Hills drew the greatest golfers from all over the world. The winner, in a surprise, was Bobby Nichols.

12. The record-breaking of Craig Breedlove and Art Arfons in their automobiles at the Bonneville Salt Flats out in Utah. They took turns at erasing the speed mark on land and Arfons finally set the mark, which for the moment stands at something over 550 m.p.h. And, says Arfons, he hopes to get over 600 m.p.h. before long.

13. Livonia's Bernie Carbo helped Detroit Favro to win a national sandlot baseball title while Barry Marion of Livonia and Plymouth's Dick Schryer were standouts as Adray took the U.S. All American Boys Federation crown.

14. The Americans saw the Davis Cup go back to Australia after the Aussies showed up the U.S. in the finals of the nationals at Forest Hills.

15. Livonia's Eddie Edger announced that junior bowling was setting all kinds of records in Michigan and that one reason was the number of youngsters in the Greater Livonia area who knock down the pins.

16. And last, but not least, there were the Wolverines of the University of Michigan who on Saturday won both the Big Ten title and the coveted trip to the Rose Bowl. There are few nicer guys in the coaching business than Michigan's Bump Elliott. That he deserves the honors that have finally come his way is something to which all the sports world says "amen."

than to run the ball in his direction. Never had one bar pass from center throughout his prep career.

BACKS

GARY GRADY—Plymouth: A two-way player called by retiring Coach Mike Hoben "one of the best, if not the best, I have ever coached." And, it's to be remembered that Hoben coached All-Stater Randy Egloff and All-Suburban Wayne Sparkman, two young men who later were to star for Yale and Michigan, respectively. Grady's strength was in his versatility. He was a good blocker, ran better than average and was a standout on defense. He scored 52 points during the past season, second high in the league, and stood out as the team's top man in tackle consistency. Averaged four yards per carry this past season.

ROY LEACH—Farmington: Starting fullback for three straight years at Farmington. Ran for 510 yards in 109 carries for 4.7-yard average this season despite the fact injuries kept him inactive for the most part in three games. Scored 10 touchdowns. Coach John Hayes of Farmington said of Leach: "He was an exceptionally strong runner. His fine balance made it possible to offset the fact he wasn't the fastest guy in the world." Roy played end on defense and "did a real good job," according to his coach.

SAM ANTONAZZO—Franklin: Truly a dream athlete. During the 1964 season he scored 98 points, one of the highest totals in the state. His efforts included 13 touchdowns and one field goal. Did "everything" for Franklin. Ran, passed, punted, kicked points and field goals and kickoffs. He averaged 25 yards on each of his touchdown runs. His dashes for scores included runs of 50, 67, 48, 50, 35 and four in the 15-20 bracket. Several of his kickoffs sailed into or beyond the end zone, something unusual for a high school player. Also was an adept pass receiver. Played safety on defense and frequently would come up with the key tackle of the game.

LARRY YONISH, Franklin — He dashed for 11 touchdowns and averaged 28 yards on each scoring thrust. Some of his TD dashes came on gallops of 65, 54, 51 and 53 yards. Had tremendous foot speed. "He was almost impossible to stop once he passed the line of scrimmage," his coach said. A strong young man who's the "baby" of this year's All-Observer eleven. Larry is only 16 years old. Operated at tackle on defense and was one of the workhorses of the great Franklin line which ranked among the best in the entire state.

Exchange Student

Editor:
On October 3, the Thurston High School Chapter of American Field Service held its annual canister drive to raise money in order to bring a foreign student to our community and to send a Thurston student abroad. The cost of this program is $750 for each student sent or brought. Thanks to the cooperation received from this newspaper in publicizing our drive, and thanks to your generous contributions, we reached an all-time high of $1,011.

It is hoped that with this and further efforts at fund-raising during the coming year, we will be able to raise $2,250, in order to bring two foreign students to Thurston next year, and to send one Thurston student abroad this summer.

Thanks again, and if any organization in the area would like either or both of us to speak to them, we would be happy to do so. We may be contacted by calling Mrs. W. A. Reinhart at KE 2-7063.

Youth Center

Editor:
Where is our community conscience? Our Farmington Township officials have stated that they are greatly concerned with the problems relating to the people in this township, but they have given indication of their interest with excuses and deceptions, not with plans. Their words have been the tools for delusions, not actions, for their concern and imagination have been mainly directed towards one area in this township, the sewers. The public's interests towards human directed affairs have been largely ignored.

As a group, our youth are the ones who are most painfully aware of this. They have invaluable enthusiasm and energy. They have a great awareness of themselves as social beings. And we are belittling them. Moreover, these special qualities are the ones which we, as a group of people, need; if we ourselves, would have a vital and growing community spirit. We must give them consideration and we must realize that they need an area where they, themselves, would have an opportunity to channel their interests and energies.

Our Farmington Township

Officials have given indication that we could reasonably begin to plan for such a community center. Township funds must be available. Would they otherwise raise their salaries by a total of $11,000 a year? And would they also consider the erection of a utility building, at the cost of approximately $10,000? The sum of these amounts is impressive.

Our young people can wait no longer, with vague hopes, for our needed attention. They have already been used by a private interest group. These people have realized the value of our youths' enthusiasm, but they have (perhaps through good intentions) channeled it towards their own special purposes. We must stop this waste now, or it will become ever increasing. We must give our youth an acceptable challenge towards possible realization. We must point the direction, not the end, for their community interest.

If we do not accept our responsibility, we should uncomplainingly accept this fact. More of them will direct their social longings towards negative actions—more of our homes will be vandalized, and more of our public buildings defaced. More police can only delay this; they cannot stop it. Most of them will not react so violently. But, figuratively speaking, they will continue to wander aimlessly over the township roads.

We are capable of giving them a sense of direction! A community center would provide a positive center for their community interest. It could also provide abundant encouragement for the testing of their individual capabilities.

This must be done, if we want our youth to realize their value as citizens in an ever widening society of peoples. Here they would have the opportunities to "find" themselves as individuals in their society.

Sincerely,
Marjorie (Mrs. Martin) Gluckstein,

Seven Mile Danger

Editor:
The many recent letters appearing on the Observer's pages regarding accidents on Seven Mile Rd. prompts me to complain about a situation I feel should be remedied as soon as possible, and that is the road markings on Seven Mile west of Middlebelt at the new Livonia Mall. Just what did the City Traffic Engineers have in mind when he laid out the solid white line on each side of the middle or "turning" lane? Drivers approaching Middlebelt from the west and intending to turn left into the Mall parking lot are left in a center on the southwest corner. On more than one trip into that high state of confusion, especially when confronted with oncoming westerly-bound traffic making turns into the shopping area, I have seen near misses which could have resulted in serious accidents had not someone been taking a little care in watching the other driver.

I would like to suggest that a system of solid Yellow lines and dotted white lines, something that is familiar to most Metropolitan Detroit drivers, be provided on Seven Mile from the Sandburg Library east to Middlebelt to guide eastbound motorists. I would also like to suggest that perhaps a "No Left Turn" ruling be put into effect for westbound motorists in that same area. Shoppers desiring to park and shop in the southwest corner shopping center would then have to turn on Middlebelt and enter the shopping center from Middlebelt, which seems more practical from a traffic standpoint anyway.

Until something is done to remedy the confusion existing in this area, I think the City of Livonia has a potential "fatal accident zone" on its hands.

Canister Drive

Editor:
Thank you for the very fine coverage you gave us on our Annual Canister Drive on October 3.

The Drive was a tremendous success. We are now in a position to send a student abroad for next summer and to bring a foreign student to our community in 1965 and 1966.

I would appreciate if you could publish this letter in order that we may express our thanks to you and to our neighbors for a job well done.

Sincerely,
LLOYD L. DOBBERT, Pres.,

Back Roosevelt Name

Editor:
Since the name for the third Livonia High School has yet to be decided, a group of neighbors and myself in the Northwest area of Livonia would like to add our endorsement to the suggestion that the school be named in honor of Eleanor Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt worked diligently in so many areas for humanity but education was, in particular, of great interest to her. She was concerned for children and youth all over the world—always promoting their education and welfare.

It is high time more dedicated women are remembered when selecting names to honor their good lives and serve as an inspiration to our children.

When it comes to outstanding women and great humanitarians

Eleanor Roosevelt will not be forgotten and using her name for the new high school would be most appropriate and, we feel, a wise choice.

"Think Positive!"

Editor:
The election is over. The firemen's proposal for a 56-hour work week has passed. Yes, it is all over, except, the retaliations by the mayor (as per, his foot-stamping, head-banging article in this paper). When the moving van finishes carting away the beds and kitchens from the fire stations, it can stop at the city hall and pick-up the mayor's camera, flash bulbs, scissors and free food card. There will be no more posing for pictures on city time, no more ribbing-cutting and no more free luncheons or suppers. One can almost hear an indignant, "But this is a part mayor's job. It is a frill, but a of the mayor's job!" Yes, pub-necessary one; just as sleeping and eating at the station is a necessary frill of the firemen's job. Maybe, you or I don't like it—just accept it! It is a necessity!

If the mayor is so bent on saving money at the expense of the city employees then retrogress one step more to a volunteer department where the men are paid per fire. The tax book will show a savings but the people will lose.

Oh yes, we are going to cut-out all part-time jobs, too. I guess, there will have to be a "For Sale" sign in front of a certain realty company; it wouldn't be right to have the leader of our city not practice what he preaches.

There are enough real problems to be solved in this city without wasting more time, energy, and money on further picayunishness. THINK POSITIVE!!!

Interested in UHF

Editor:
As a parent, I'm very much interested in the possible location in Livonia of an educational television broadcasting station.

However, like a great many of my neighbors, I really don't know what UHF means or exactly how it differs from VHF.

Since I have read in The Observer that we may some day have a UHF educational station here in our community, my neighbors and I would appreciate you printing as many informational articles on this type of broadcasting as possible so that we can be better informed.

Sincerely,
MRS. ERMA WUESTENBERG

In Memoriam

John Kennedy was complex and had many fine qualities. Each was sincere and inspiring. At the same time, he was father, brother, son, leader, teammate and friend. He was an American.

"Never had there been a better husband." This tribute, paid to John by Jackie, speaks volumes. There is never heard a tale or remark that would indicate that he was anything less than a fine husband. Kennedy was blessed with a Catholic wedding and this continued to play an important role in this successful, happy marriage. John, Jackie, and family occupied a high position in family life. The Kennedy family serves as an excellent model for families all over the world.

John was loved dearly by his children, as he too loved his parents. Although leading a very active, full, mobile life, time for play, religious worship and other activities with his children seemed to find a way into the busy schedule of John. This made for happy, well developed and adjusted children. Their games were eagerly entered into by "Daddy."

Kennedy's activities with his children were undoubtedly a continuation of the happy family life he enjoyed at home. Competitive games, team spirit, and many happy times were part of their lives. The Kennedy family was, and still is, a closely knit group, working and playing very well together. A blow against one is a blow against all; a victory for one is a victory for all. Each family member works unselfishly for the good of all. Sorrows and joys are shared by all. The pain suffered by John when he had trouble with his spine, was painful for all and all rejoiced in his recovery.

Joe Kennedy taught his children early in life that they must do something worthwhile with their lives. Father Joe guided, advised and assisted his children in their every effort. During political campaigns he acted as unofficial manager, directing family participation in such things as door to door contacts in all areas. John loved and respected his father, and while he did not always agree with his father, once John had acted, father was first to become a strong booster, and assure his son that he had made the right move.

The Kennedy family, headed by Joe and Rose was considered the leading Catholic family in Boston. Regular attendance at services was a natural activity for John. It continued throughout his life with his family joining him regularly. He devoutly devoted a part of his closely budgeted time to faithful, sincere worship. Then, refreshed and renewed, he returned to the world he so energetically served, there to work anew.

Family oriented, Harvard educated, service trained, God fearing, father guided, John Kennedy became our greatest asset. Unselfishly, he devoted his life to the betterment of man. He enriched the lives of all he met or knew, as well as all men. Each man, foreign or American can easily see a bit of his own life, aims, hopes and prayers in John Kennedy. Some might say he was our finest product. I say he IS our finest product, for in each beating heart in the world today, there continues to strongly beat, a part of John Kennedy. May it, forever, strongly beat.

As your "bank" at home swells with change, Uncle Sam's coin reserves dwindle, and as they dwindle, the more difficult it becomes for the stores to easily make change for you. Changes in Catholic Liturgy To Be Introduced Sunday

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY
When Roman Catholics in the area attend Mass on Sunday it will be somewhat of a new experience for them.

The experience will be new in externals only, as the essential part of the Mass, the Mystery of the Transubstantiation or the changing of the bread and wine into the Body and Blood of Christ will remain the same. Most noticeable of the changes will be the effort at a community or social act of worship rather than a private, individual action.

Changes in portions of the Mass from the traditional Latin to the English vernacular is also designed to further the communal feeling.

Approved at the last session of the current Ecumenical Council, Vatican II, the changes are designed to make the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass more meaningful to the laity.

Roman Catholics believe that the Mass, which they are obliged to attend on Sundays and specified days throughout the year, is the bloodless re-enactment of the Crucifixion of Christ on Calvary.

This is the central worship of their faith and gives meaning and significance to all other actions.

For, when a Roman Catholic receives Holy Communion, he believes that the Body of Christ is actually present in the wafer. Thus he is present at the re-enactment of the Last Supper where Christ instituted the sacrament of the Holy Eucharist.

The changes in the Mass will be completed by Lent. This Sunday was chosen to begin introducing the changes in the liturgy because as the First Sunday of Advent it is the beginning of the Church year.

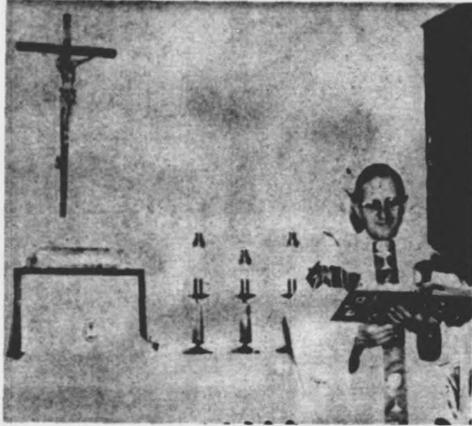

Advent is a four-week period of preparation for Christmas and the Birth of the Christ Child.

Through the processions, beginning and ending the Mass, the congregational offering of the bread, water and wine at the Offertory, the congregational singing of hymns, and greeting other members of the congregation before Communion, the emphasis is on the worship of the family of the Church.

The portions of the Mass which will be recited in English Sunday are the Kyrie, Gloria, Epistle, Gospel, Credo, Sanctus, Lord's Prayer, Agnus Dei, Communion of the Faithful, Dismissal and Final Blessing.

THE REV. Jasper Sirianni, pastor of St. Theodore's Roman Catholic Church on Wayne Rd., will turn to face the congregation to read the Epistle in English on Sunday. Prior to this time the Epistle has traditionally been read in Latin while facing the altar. This is one of the changes in the Roman Catholic Liturgy or Mass being introduced throughout the country on Sunday.

Farmington Churches Meet Student Request

A series of Morning Meditations will begin at the Antioch Lutheran Church in Farmington on the Monday after Thanksgiving, Nov. at 7:50 a.m.

The ten minute daily service is the outgrowth of a request made by Farmington teen-agers.

It all started when the Rev. Karl Kaltreider of the Antioch Lutheran Church told on his Sunday morning radio program about a group of teen-aged students in Jersey City, New Jersey that had requested chapel services during the week and were finding services most rewarding.

Shortly after the September broadcast, a group of Farmington's teen-agers contacted the Rev. Kaltreider and requested a similar program.

The Meditations will be a cooperative effort on the part of the following Farmington Churches: The First Presbyterian Church, The Orchard Methodist Church, The North Farmington Baptist Church, The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, and the Antioch Lutheran Church.

Rev. Kaltreider stressed the fact that this program is not designed to replace any existing plan but is merely to meet the needs of the students who requested it.

All are welcome to attend.

Nursery service at the time of the services will be provided so that parents with small children may leave them in the care of responsible attendants while they are at worship.

In addition to the above services, the congregation will continue to provide a worship service in the Finnish language at 8:30 a.m. for the older folk and others who may be interested in attending.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services at St. John's. The church is located a block east of Inkster Road and just north of Schoolcraft Road on Mercedes Ave.

Lodge-Eight Mile Interchange Opens Months Ahead of Schedule

The final portion of a tri-level interchange at the Lodge Freeway and Eight Mile Rd. in Detroit was opened to traffic at noon Thursday, the State Highway Department announced.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said a $2.5 million bridge carrying Eight Mile over the Lodge Freeway was opened to traffic nine months ahead of schedule.

Completion of the half-mile-long bridge ends one of the Motor City's worst traffic bottlenecks.

The Lodge-Eight Mile interchange is located at the edge of one of the world's largest shopping centers and one of the nation's biggest developments of private office buildings.

The intersection is one of Michigan's busiest. Nearly 200,000 cars and trucks pass through it daily.

Mackie commended the contractors and employees of the State Highway Department for completing the bridge ahead of schedule.

One of the major factors in its early completion was the use of the Critical Path Method (CPM) of construction.

The CPM method calls for the use of computers to schedule work on complicated projects, thus enabling the contractor to meet a rigid construction timetable.

Mackie said the Eight Mile Rd. bridge is the first highway bridge in the nation to be built with a new corrosion-resistant steel which doesn't need painting.

Main feature of the 6.5 million pounds of steel used in the bridge is that it has a built-in rust-proofing property which eliminates the need for painting.

The Eight Mile Rd. bridge was chosen as a test site for the new material because routine painting of the span's steel structures would seriously disrupt traffic, Mackie said.

Painting bridges in urban areas is very costly, Mackie said, because in many cases the work must be done on weekends, holidays and nights when traffic is light and premium wages must be paid to workers.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has conducted limited tests of corrosion-resistant structural steel but the Michigan State Highway Department is the first one to use it in the construction of a highway bridge. Buildings in Chicago and Moline, Ill., have been built with the new type steel.

Mackie said the color of the bridge will change from a reddish-brown to a chocolate-brown during the next year.

The bridges on the Lodge Freeway adjacent to the Eight Mile Rd. interchange have been painted progressively darker colors to give motorists a transition from standard aluminum paint to the dark steel used in the interchange.

L. A. Davidson Construction Co. of Lansing was the prime contractor on the tri-level interchange. The Eight Mile Rd. bridge was part of a $4.1 million contract the Lansing firm had for work in the immediate area.

EXHIBITS of artwork by students in the classes taught by Mrs. Jessie Hudson at Plymouth High School have the attention of Karen Davids and Cynthia Allen. They are shown inspecting some of the items on display in the Dunning-Hough Library as a feature of National Education week.

Group Helps At Northville

A group representing the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington is working with mental patients—ages 10 to 18—at the Northville State Hospital.

They are badly in need of a piano tuner, some 45 RPM records, and some clothing. There also are many less urgent needs, such as hair-spray, make up, handkerchiefs, shoe polish, stationery, costume jewelry, etc. Anyone wishing to help can contact Pat Heusner, at GA 2-4575.

Negro Minister Heads Congregation at Farmington's Trinity Church

In January, 1963, the Vestry of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Farmington Township voted to make Joseph A. Pelham its Rector. Pelham is the first Negro minister to serve in the Farmington area. He is a pleasant broad shouldered man, built to stand pressure. But the pressure has not been as great as might have been expected.

That it has not been, is a credit to the maturity and goodwill of the citizens of Farmington. It is also a credit to Pelham's eminent qualities as a clergyman.

He was born in Flint 34 years ago. He graduated from the University of Michigan in 1952, with an A. B. Degree in Philosophy. Then he attended the Episcopal Theological School, of Cambridge, Mass., graduating cum laude, in 1955. In 1957, he attended Yale University's School of Alcohol Studies.

He was ordained an Episcopal Priest in 1956.

After serving as an assistant minister, in Saginaw and Detroit, he became Director of Christian Social Relations for the Diocese of Michigan. He served in that capacity from 1958 until he came to Farmington in 1963.

He came when the community was somewhat on edge over the race problem. The civil rights movement was then at its height, and the Farmington Human Relations Committee had just been formed here.

The appearance of a civil rights group, and a Negro Minister at the same time, left some Farmingtonians with the impression that integration was being imposed on them by a powerful outside group.

In reality, the Human Relations Committee was an indigenous group—with no outside connections. And Joseph Pelham's appointment was the decision of Trinity Episcopal Church alone.

Since Trinity Episcopal is a self-supporting parish, it has the right to choose its own minister. The choice is made by the Church's vestry; in Trinity Episcopal's case the vestry consists of nine members.

A general procedure is for the Church to notify the Bishop of its need for a minister. He may or may not suggest some names, which the parish may or may not act on. In this case, Bishop Richard S. Emrich sent down the names of 14 Ministers, including that of Joseph A. Pelham.

In his role as Director of Social Relations, Pelham had spoken in most of the churches of the Diocese. He obviously made a good impression at Trinity Episcopal.

Trinity's vestry pared the list of 14 down to four, on the basis of their biographies. Then they interviewed the four. Pelham was the second one they talked with. The rest of the story is remarkably pleasant and uneventful history.

Pelham received a lot of letters when he accepted the position. But only one of these letters was negative. The size of the congregation has remained

Churches Honor JFK Memory in Plymouth

The first anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy was solemnly observed in the churches of Plymouth Sunday.

Father Francis Byrne urged the congregation of Our Lady of Good Counsel to remember President Kennedy in their prayers.

"May his soul rest in peace," prayed Rev. Dave Davey, at St. John's Episcopal Church. "And may light, perpetual, shine upon him."

Hugh White, Minister at the First Methodist Church, said: "One of the new frontiers is an understanding of the human spirit. And evidently we do not understand the motivation of the human spirit; because of these things that lurk near the surface and cause these unbelievable things to happen."

Don Williams urged the congregation of the First Baptist Church to pray for "God's comfort for the sorrowing Kennedy family."

At the First United Presbyterian Church, Rev. Henry Walsh prayed "that we may hold him in our memory and in our heart."

Rev. Edward Castner, also at the First United Presbyterian Church, discussed "the contexts in which we give thanks. One of these is the context of tragedy. And remember, Christianity was born in the context of tragedy."

"The anniversary of John Kennedy's death will always be close to Thanksgiving, and will always cast a shadow on the thanks that we give. We have gained perspective in the year since President Kennedy's passing. And this is what the Christian attempts to do; to see what good can come out of tragedy."

the same, and there have been very few changes in its makeup. And Joseph Pelham has made many close friendships within it.

The Trinity Episcopal Church has always regarded religion as concerned with the whole of life. The membership would actually be disappointed if their Minister did not attempt to relate Christianity to the affairs of the secular world. Happily, this feeling coincided with Joseph Pelham's own approach

United Appeal for Aid Being Made in Churches

America's three major religious faiths during the Thanksgiving season are calling on their more than 100,000,000 members to support the Fall United Appeal for Religious Overseas Aid, each through his own faith.

The Fall emphases of the Tri-Faith effort includes the Protestant "Share Our Substance" appeal to help finance free distribution of food from America's agricultural abundance to the hungry abroad; the Catholic "Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection" which seeks millions of pounds of clothing and other relief materials for the needy overseas, and the "United Jewish Appeal" which asks aid for recent refugees and others in acute need abroad.

Carrying the bulk of America's voluntary overseas relief to victims of war, famine and other disasters, the three faiths distribute hundreds of millions of pounds of foods, clothing and medicine to the hungry, homeless and destitute in virtually every free country in the world.

In fighting poverty, disease, hunger and homelessness at the individual level, the programs of the religious overseas aid agencies make a vital contribution to peace, strengthening the bonds of spiritual brotherhood between Americans and their neighbors abroad.

Programs such as those supported by the three faiths in their Fall religious Overseas Aid appeals have, according to President Johnson in an address to Congress (Sept. 21, '64):

"... proved to be one of our most valuable resources in international development programs—to help the people and the countries of the free world help themselves to economic and social progress."

'Industrial Harvest' at Holy Cross Church Is Thanksgiving Theme

Since 1789, Americans across the nation have celebrated Thanksgiving Day as the traditional time when our forefathers gave thanks for the blessings and abundance of their new-found land.

At that time, 95% of all Americans worked in agriculture, and the remaining 5% constituted the industrial work force. Over the years, the predominantly agricultural society has been transformed to our present day industrial community.

To illustrate this change, Reverend William Moldwin, pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Livonia, will depict "the fruits of the industrial harvest" for his congregation in his Thanksgiving Day sermon.

A display showing some of the products made in Livonia will be located in the narthex of the Church. The industrial harvest motif exhibit is being furnished by General Motors plants in Livonia and northwest Detroit.

Thanksgiving Day Services at Holy Cross Lutheran Church will be held on Wednesday evening, November 25, at 8 p.m. and Thursday morning, November 26, at 10 a.m.

Power of Truth Slated for Talks

The Power of Truth over illusion will be a central theme at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The hypnotic nature of evil will also be described in a Bible Lesson on the subject: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism Denounced."

Featured will be the passage from Revelation 12: "And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world."

Related readings from the Christian Science textbook will be included.

It's so true—men never are too old to learn, but many are too young to realize it.

Family Services Planned for Advent at Rosedale Church

Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, 9601 Hubbard, Livonia, begins the Advent season with a sacred music concert by the Dearborn Chamber Chorale Sunday, Nov. 29, at 5 p.m.

The concert is the first in a series of special "Candlelight Services" planned for Advent, and is designed for family attendance. The series is designed to enrich the preparation for Christmas, giving families an opportunity to emphasize the spiritual rather than material and commercial aspects of this season.

The lighting of the Advent Wreath will be featured at the services, and families are being encouraged to use this custom at home following the services to enrich and teach the story of the expectation felt for the coming of Christ.

Congregational carol singing will precede the concert by the Chorale, an acapella group of twenty voices directed by Tom Aquino. Livonia residents singing with the eight-year-old Chorale include Mrs. Harlan Peithman, Mr. William Dunphy, and Mrs. David Harden.

On Sunday, Dec. 6, at 5 p.m. the series will feature a "Service of Lessons and Carols" with all six choirs of the church participating.

The Livonia Women's Chorus will present a program of Christmas music on Sunday, Dec. 13, at 5 p.m., as a part of the series. The Chorus director is Jacqueline Meppans. Immediately following this concert, a fellowship supper will be served in the church's fellowship hall.

At 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 20, the children of the church school will participate in a special service of worship designed not as a "professionally-produced program" but rather as a climactic experience in their Advent preparation.

'Stupid Custom'

Editor: For several years I have been disturbed by the heartbreak and grief caused by the death of both police and innocent citizens by the stupid custom of chasing cars at high speed.

Is a traffic ticket—a minor traffic violation—a suspicion—worth to justify one or more people's deaths. Very few people who have committed serious crimes are caught in this manner. Most chases involve young people who have done very little, if anything. The big majority of young police officers love these chases. It's a game with them. Same as it is with the kids. I spend many hours both day and night on the streets and I have seen many times police stop youngsters for no reason, even if kids are just sitting and talking, they will pull up, make the kids get out of their car, search the car, use abusive language and many times push the kids around. With the police quota system of giving out tickets, the youngsters are a much easier mark than a mature person. The police brass will deny there is a quota system.

This makes the patrolman over-aggressive about giving out tickets. Many turn into animals of prey, instead of a symbol of protection. From reading both sides of the chase involving the three deaths, the police had no business of being involved in the first place. The youngsters were eating and talking, which was within their rights, and which the police had no business of interfering with, just because they were youngsters.

W. F. WARD

Backs Police

Editor: In your Wednesday edition of the Observer you asked for opinions as to whether Sgt. Ed Gleza of the Redford Detective Bureau and Sgt. Robert Thorne of Livonia's Police Accident Prevention Bureau were correct in their defense of police officers' decision regarding chasing Teenagers who flee the police.

Being the Chaplain of St. Mary Hospital in Livonia and teaching at Ladywood High School, I do believe I am familiar with teen age boys and girls. Previously I was on the Counseling Board at Royal Oak and assistant at the Shrine of The Little Flower and also served as a Chaplain of Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. All of this is not said in a braggadocio manner, but merely stated to substantiate the fact that I do think the world of teen age boys and girls. My high regard for them, however, does not blind my reasoning power and I do believe that the statements made of the two officers were 100% correct. A policeman like a doctor has to make split second decisions and, believe me, I am sure that realizing their office they do the very best they can.

Though I have been in the area only a few months, nevertheless, I can say that all the policemen I have come in contact with have always treated me with respect and a gentlemanly air that is commendable.

I am in full agreement with Sgt. Ed Gleza and Sgt. Robert Thorne and I know that they will do all in their power to make Livonia and Redford places that people will be proud of.

Yours in Christ,
FATHER ROBERT KOENIG

Unbelievable Alliance

Editor: It looks like the Democrats in Redford Township have finally achieved unity in their local organization. That is, if unity can be bought, bullied and dictated, and if the lion can lay down in peace with the jackass! The unbelievable alliance of Bommarito and Patchett did it again at the election of Executive Board members last week. It's amazing how such an election can turn out so many strangers on a cold and snowy eve, most of whom can't stay long enough to see if the financial investment paid off, and all of whom will not be seen again until the next show of aims (that's the way we spell it).

The future meetings of the Executive Board should prove interesting indeed, especially when the champion pie-slicer-upper tangles with the champion pie-eater. We wonder who's going to use the knife, and which pie will end up being sliced? And who'll be around to sweep up the crumbs? As Confucius would say — "He who slice pie better count fingers."

COPERNICUS

Parents to Blame?

Editor: After reading last week's article on whether or not police should chase speeding drivers, I was amazed that any question could arise about such a foregone conclusion. Having served as a high school teacher for the past 10 years, I have ceased to wonder about the low standards held by many, but by no means all, teenagers and upheld by many parents, who do so to increase their own immediate comfort without considering either its long range effect or even their own moral responsibility to their children and to their society. This, however, is a new twist. It seems to me that there can be no question about the police enforcing the rules our society has set forth for them to administer. Instead, the question, as I see it, is this: why did these teenagers not have respect for:

- 1) themselves
- 2) safety of others (if they are old enough to drive, they must be mature enough to be considerate)
- 3) the law itself
- 4) adult authority
- 5) the police

The answer, I think, is something like this. Too many youngsters today are brought up with and maintain the attitude that it is O.K. to do anything illegal or immoral or what have you, as long as they do not get caught, as well as the idea that the best way to succeed is to get away with the least effort necessary to meet established requirements, even if a few proverbial toes, in this case, lives, get stepped on in the process.

It is not only a great shame that this prevailing attitude is so widespread, but it is even worse that the people who hold these beliefs usually seem to be the ones who shout the loudest about injustices that do not exist. Serious attention to these voices must be considered as regression and not progress in an otherwise progressive age and civilization.

How can there be any doubt about the police chasing legal offenders? It would be unimaginable to conceive the end result of letting either youthful or adult offenders get away. How can we possibly ask the police to overlook rather than pursue? Our society overlooks too much already. If we ask police to overlook things like this, will we not be contributing to a greater number of accidents, rather than fewer?

Speeders

Editor: Speeders on our streets and highways is an attack on innocent lives.

I can see of no other way but to chase down these law-breakers.

I would like to commend the police force for doing a fine job in trying to keep our streets safe for others.

Sincerely,
MRS. RITA SHERMAN

'Personal Attack'

Editor: Just had to write a brief reply since the attack on Our Firemen is no longer principled, but personal. I have yet to meet a playboy on a civil service job. Yes, my husband is a fireman.

But, if he was a drifter, he would have drifted from this job long ago. Like the day he saw his first dead body. Like when he fights a fire all night in freezing weather. Like when a fellow fireman is injured so terribly.

Cities are always crying for dedicated men. How many men do you know, Name Withheld, willing to die if necessary to save your life.

PLAYBOY'S WIFE

Fireman's Wife Replies

Editor: I feel I must reply to the letter in last week's Observer concerning "playboy firemen."

I don't know who wrote this as they didn't feel justified enough to sign it. However, I feel sure it wasn't written by an impartial citizen of our city. Let's set a few facts straight.

1. Name withheld says, many of these men were unskilled laborers who were drifting from job to job before they found this cushy job with the city. Yet these same men had the intelligence to pass the civil service exam required which is by no means a snap. These men are interviewed by the Civil Service Commission, and they must have shown some degree of integrity and intelligence to pass this Board of learned men.

2. He says they couldn't stand the grind of an eight hour day, yet they choose to give that up for a 24-hour one.

3. He says they pushed through an amendment for seniority promotion. Let it be known if this were not so, politics would bind promotional system of the fire department, just as it now does in the police department.

As far as having capable men making decisions in an emergency, I would trust the lives of myself or my children to ANY member of our Livonia Fire Dept. You see, I know these men.

4. He compares the hazards of this job with coal miners, window washers and steel workers. He might do well to compare the statistics on the death rate. A fireman outrates even a policeman in this, by three to one.

5. He calls a fireman's wife immature if she is afraid at night. I'm sure he says this because he is at home at night with child running a fever of 105 degrees. Perhaps she has never been too sick to make a meal for her children and had to ask help from her neighbors. If this is what Name Withheld means by being immature then it must be true.

6. Name Withheld talks about firemen knowing the terms of his job when he is hired. True, but these terms change over the years and so they should. The men with over a year on the department didn't hire in with the understanding they would work 16 hours a day at the station and then work eight hours more on the police and fire emergency switchboard. The men should have the right to ask for a change in working conditions as well as the city.

7. Name Withheld says many of the men CHOOSE to work a second job. Firemen must live in the city and this is only right, but I'm sure everyone knows what rents are in Livonia. In a fireman's pay this is impossible. And if you are lucky enough to get the down payment for a house it takes every penny you can get to keep it and dress the kids and keep up with medical bills. I don't think "choose to work" is a very appropriate phrase as I don't know any wealthy firemen.

If these playboys have such a cushy job, I wonder why the fire stations in the city look so spotless. Any homemaker will tell you there are no little elves to keep things up. And how about the continual schooling they get on the most efficient and best way to fight all types of fires. Of course, all this is in addition to fires and cleaning the equipment. I have also heard from other misinformed people such as Name Withheld. They sleep eight hours of their day. It's too bad when that bell rings at 3 a.m. They can't say, "Sorry, folks, this is the eight hours set aside for me to sleep."

Perhaps, Name Withheld, if you think if the job is that bad, why not quit? I can speak for one of your firemen. He stays because he likes his job. He feels he is doing something for his community. Something useful that gives each day meaning. He is a dedicated man. This is laughed at many times. There are times when it is true. He likes his job and is happy doing it. So if occasionally he asks for something from the city, think about it. Maybe you will feel he deserves it. Someday he may save your home or even your life. He's always there 24 hours a day.

A FIREMAN'S WIFE

Madonna Pupils Urge Aid for Private Schools

Madonna College students have sent letters to their congressmen requesting legislation in regard to financial support for private colleges and universities.

Although "much of the best teaching is done in private, independent colleges and universities, many of these schools are starving while tax supported institutions of higher learning are booming," according to Dr. Hans Rosenhaupt, director of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Speaking at a national conference of college public relations officials in San Francisco in July, Dr. Rosenhaupt said that some private colleges are engaged in a "struggle for survival." To correct this situation he suggested that government "support individual students as well as public institutions" through scholarships. Dr. Rosenhaupt proposed that states divert "up to 50 per cent of their higher education budget from new and expanding campuses to direct aid to worthy students, as under the G.I. Bill, and let them choose their own schools." He contended that per student funds now allotted by legislatures for state colleges frequently exceed the tuition in "well-established, high quality private institutions in the state."

Very Rev. Paul Reinert, S.J., president of St. Louis University in an address titled, "Public-Private Education is a Two-Way Street" expressed somewhat similar ideas. Fr. Reinert referred to the increasing proportion of tax money being allocated for public education and said that the dual system of American higher education "is a two-way street and financial support should be and must be expected in the direction of private higher education as well."

It is in response to their own need, and challenged by speakers such as those quoted, that the students decided to voice their similar opinions to their representatives in the Congress.

Livonia Chamber Sends Three to 'Aircade'

The Livonia Chamber of Commerce is planning to participate in the National Chamber Aircade slated to be held in Lansing next February 9, according to the Chamber manager, Phil Tanguay.

On December 1, Tanguay, together with Chamber vice-president James Thomas, District Manager of Consumers Power Company, and Douglas Mullen, Industrial Relations Director of Chevrolet Spring and Bumper and chairman of the Chamber's Public Affairs Division will attend a planning conference in Ann Arbor with leaders of other area Chambers. The purpose of the meeting will be to develop the best possible plans to promote attendance at the aircade in February.

The Aircade is an all-day meeting of businessmen presided over by National Chamber staff experts and nationally renowned business leaders who fly in from Washington for the session. The meeting is devoted to discussion of pending legislative issues which will have impact on businesses.

This is the first time in the eight years history of the annual National Aircade program that the informative session is being held within a couple of hours' driving distance of Livonia. The Livonia Chamber will be making effort to draw together the largest possible delegation of local businessmen to the confab.

All businessmen—whether members of the Chamber or not—should inform manager Phil Tanguay of their interest in attending.

Pen-Mar Has New Name, New Owner

A new owner and general manager has assumed control of the old Pen Mar Lounge on Plymouth Rd. in Livonia and has already made some important changes — including the name.

Now known as the "Livonia Penthouse," the 25-year-old establishment is owned by Hugh Gedrich.

A 34-year-old bachelor, Gedrich is a graduate of Michigan State University courses in restaurant management. He attended Central High School in Detroit and spent two years in the Marine Corps before returning to this area as manager of Italian Singing Sam's Restaurant and the Dearborn Prime Beef House between 1953 and 1960.

For the past four years he worked for the Michigan Shortening Co. before assuming ownership of the Pen-Mar.

"We are offering a completely new menu selection to our many patrons," Gedrich said, "and our chef, Val, is still on duty in the kitchen."

Gedrich, a former football, track and basketball player for Central, shares a bachelor apartment in Livonia's new Purlingbrook Apartment Building with Arthur Goldfarb of Sear's Livonia Mall. He is a member of the Michigan Restaurant Association and the Food Service Executives Ass'n.
