Ask Township to Study Joint Police Authority

Recommendations that Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees study the possibility of forming an authority, to either join with the City of Plymouth or with Northville Township in a move to furnish police protection, was turned over to the Trustees in their meeting Tuesday night by Dick Lauterbach, chairman of the Police Study Committee.

Lauterbach and his committee, which includes Maurice

Breen, Paul Dwyer, C. DuCharme and A. Katke, has been studying the matter of police protection for the Township for several months and just now made a final report with recommendations.

The report reads: "This is a report of the committee appointed by your honorable body to investigate the probable cost of forming a police department within the township as a department authorized by the township and further to investigate the possibility of providing for additional police protection by some other means and the cost of such protection.

As a supplement to this report there are copies of letters and of reports made part hereof; These reports were received by this committee from various law enforcement bodies operating in Wayne County.

(1) The estimated cost to the township of the police protection.

(2) The estimated police size of the necessary police protection.

Now There Are Two in Court Suit

The declaratory suit filed by City Attorney Edward Draugelis against City Clerk Richard Shafer, as head of the City of Plymouth election board, to determine Draugelis' eligibility for the Municipal Judge election, will go before Circuit Court Judge Joseph Rashid Friday afternoon at 2 p.m.

The suit took another tangent last Friday when Attorney Robert Delaney filed an intervening action in which he is asking the court to declare Clifford Manwaring eligible for the April 5 election if Draugelis is disqualified.

Manwaring wound up third in the primary behind Draugelis and J. Rusingh Cutler.

Draugelis personally took action to have the cloud hovering over his eligibility cleared. The City Charter provides a candidate must have five years of residence in the city, which Draugelis admits he doesn't have.

However Draugelis feels he is eligible because of provisions of a state statute passed in 1954 which specifically eliminates the five-year clause and in effect states that his provision takes precedence over any such rules in city or township charters.

His action asks that Shafer be instructed to place or eliminate his name on the ballot. In other words, Draugelis is asking the court to decide whether the state statute or the city charter provision rules in this instance.

Should he be ruled ineligible, then Delaney is asking that Manwaring's name be placed on the ballot.

2 New Boilers Approved for Plymouth High

The Plymouth Board of Education Monday approved plans and specifications for the installation of two new boilers and modernization of the boiler room at the senior high school.

A special meeting has been called for March 29 when the Board will certify the millage election and also accept bids for the boilers and the modernization program.

The Trustees also approved a change order in work on the vocational education addition to the senior high calling for a revision in the ventilation system at an estimated cost of $8,000.

The change came when the Department of Health ordered a revision of the ventilating system.

Friends Start Collection For Injured Don Byers

Donald Byers, 30, of 11257 Stark Road, Livonia, is in serious condition in Mt. Carmel Hospital with head injuries suffered when a car dropped off a jack while he was working underneath.

The accident occurred at the McAllister Station, 14780 Northville Road, Plymouth, late Thursday afternoon and Byers was rushed to St. Mary Hospital by the Plymouth Township Fire Department before being transferred to Mt. Carmel for an operation.

Eldon McAllister, station manager, was the first to reach Byers after the accident. He reported Byers had crawled out from under the car and was sitting on the floor when Mc-

Classes Open For Spring Adult Educ.

Registrations are being accepted this week for the spring term of the Adult Education and recreation programs sponsored by the Plymouth School System under the direction of Herb Woolweaver.

Those desiring to register for the various activities are requested to make application at the Adult Education offices in the senior high school.

The spring session of the swim club will begin Tuesday, March 23. The swimmers will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and on Saturday mornings from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The fee for the 30 sessions is $10 for the first swimmer in the family and $5 for each additional swimmer. Registration is on page 12A.

Town Hall Meeting Slated to Discuss Sheltered Workshop

Plans for a sheltered workshop program in Plymouth will be discussed in a Town Hall type meeting on Tuesday, March 16 at 8 p.m. in the library of the Junior High East.

That was the announcement Monday by Publicity Chairman Wendell Smith, who has been active in organizing a similar project in Wayne that has been working very successfully since it first went into operation several months ago.

"We feel there is an interest in the Plymouth Community for a sheltered work-

Violin Soloist Tops Symphony Concert Sunday

Emily Mutter Austin, member of the first violin section of the Detroit Symphony and concertmaster of the Plymouth Symphony since 1957, will headline Sunday's presentation of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra in the high school auditorium starting at 4 p.m.

Miss Austin will play a violin solo in Sibelius' Concerto for Violin and Orchestra to highlight the program which was originally scheduled for Feb. 28 but delayed two weeks due to a previous commitment of Miss Austin with the Detroit Symphony.

The concert also will honor Lt. Eitzen, a member of the Orchestra, with the presentation of "An April Overture," which he composed as his master's thesis at the University of Michigan in 1950. It was first performed by the University Orchestra at that time with Wayne Dunlap as conductor. Dunlap is the conductor of the Plymouth Symphony.

Eitzen is a resident of Detroit and director of music at Osborne High School there.

Miss Austin began her musical career at the age of four under the direction of her father. She later studied under Jacques Gordon, Michael Press and Ilya Scholnik. At the age of 10 she became a protégé of the late Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony, and later performed as soloist for that orchestra.

She was head of the violin department at Eastern Michigan University and a member of the WXYZ radio staff.

Sunday's concert is the fifth of the Orchestra's 19th season. The program includes: An April Overture, Concerto for Violin and Orchestra featuring Miss Austin, Wellington Suite and Variations on a Theme of Haydn.

All concerts of the Plymouth Symphony are free of charge and the public is invited to attend.

She was head of the violin department at Eastern Michigan University and a member of the WXYZ radio staff.

Individuals, who have attended earlier exploratory meetings, are: William Green, Special Education teacher at Plymouth High; Anna Jung, director of the Plymouth branch of the Family Service Bureau; Alice Mohrhardt, chairman of the AAUW Community Problems committee; John Murawski, vice president of the Jaycees; and Smith, who also is Michigan Jaycee public relations chairman.

The purpose of the meeting is to stimulate public opinion and a willingness to adopt a Plymouth area project that en-

300 Hear Milliken Back Open Housing

Lt. Governor William Milliken proved to the satisfaction of more than 300 attending the first evening program of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Businessmen's Forum that he isn't afraid of standing up and being counted on the controversial subject of open occupancy.

Asked whether he approved of open occupancy, during the question and answer period that followed his speech on the topic of "Michigan Progress," Milliken answered in the affirmative.

"I am in favor of open occupancy," he said. "I feel it is coming and is an absolute necessity. I have strong feelings about the rights of individuals to have freedom of movement, to move and live according to their means."

The answer may have surprised the audience for a moment but he was given a standing ovation a few seconds later inasmuch as that was the final question asked during the 15-minute period.

The huge turnout surprised most members of the Forum committee and the meeting was tabbed as one of the most successful of the winter season even though it touched off politics although billed as strictly non-partisan.

The politicians turned out en masse for the introductions, including Farrell Roberts and Edward McNamara, candidates for the vacant 14th District State Senator post; State Representatives James Tierney of Garden City and Marvin Stempier of Livonia; and Stan Thayer of Ann Arbor and John Stahelin.

Milliken touched on many of the problems ahead of the State Legislature and Gov. Romney.

"For the first time in 36 years, the Democrats have control of the House and the Senate," he said. "It is absolutely vital that members of both parties find ways to work towards the most good for citizens."

"At the moment I can't see a breakdown in relations between the two parties but it is possible. True enough the Governor's budget is the largest in the state's history and represents an increase of $44 million but I feel that an effort will be made to have it passed."

"We must recognize the huge increase in our population means the expenditure of more steps must be taken in these directions before the state treasury surplus is used up—probably in the next two years.

"We need a major study for expansion of needed services."

PROCLAMATION for National Business Women's Week is signed by Mayor Richard Wernette as Betty Korte, treasurer of the Plymouth BPW, looks on. The Plymouth chapter is joining with the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Inc. in a "Springtime Salute to working women" during the week of March 7-13. The Club will hold its next meeting on March 15 at 6:30 in the Hillside Inn in charge of the Legislation committee.

City Willing to Join Twp. in Police Study

Plymouth's City Commission is willing to go along with the Township Board in any committee it appoints for a study of the police problem. That was the decision Monday night in a special meeting of the Council.

It came 24 hours before the Township Board received the report of the Police Study Committee, headed by Dick Lauterbach, and was intended to let that Board know the feelings of the city fathers.

(The complete report of the Study Committee is available elsewhere in this section.)

It was last April that the Commission answered a communication from Lauterbach concerning the possibility of furnishing police protection for the township.

At that time, the Commission recommended that the City and Township could appoint an equal number of representatives and form a joint authority to whom the Police Department would report; that the total cost for policing the City and Township should

Bd. Studies School Use By Church

The Plymouth School Board Monday asked for additional information before making a decision on the request of the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ to use the multi-purpose room at Allen School for church services.

In the past the Board had a policy of not granting such requests to church groups but there was some indication of relaxing from that stand.

The Board instructed Supt. Russell Isbister to discuss rental terms with church officials and also to make a recommendation as to length of time of the lease. The board indicated that it should be for less than a year. Supt. Isbister is to report back at the April meeting.

Allen School Teacher Granted Year Leave

Mrs. Ruth Lindsay, second grade teacher at Allen School, was granted a year's leave of absence for the 1965-6 school term by the Plymouth School Board in Monday's monthly meeting.

Mrs. Lindsay requested leave to attend Western Michigan University as a fulltime graduate student in order to complete work on her master's degree. She will have completed eight years as an elementary school teacher in the Plymouth system in June.

Recall Visit Of Rubinoff

The news last week that David Rubinoff was being sued by the Wolaveris Hotel for remarks unfavorable to that establishment, recalls memories of the violinist's recent appearances in Farmington.

Rubinoff played two performances, under the auspices of the Farmington Kiwanis Club. Fritz Mueller, Lloyd Smith, and others who spent the day with him caught the full range of one of the most volatile personalities in show business.

Rubinoff is a man of high ideals—probably one of the few top-notch musical artists who give free concerts for young people.

But there are other characteristics. He has a classical violinist's temperament. During his Farmington performances, a guard was placed at the door, so no one could come in after he got started.

He has an unashamed love of publicity and the spotlight. The Kiwanians took him to the Danish Inn for a bite, after the evening performance. Before sitting down, he announced loud enough for most everybody to hear: "I don't want any photographs."

Another thing about Rubinoff is his sense of humor. He is funny. Fritz Mueller was with him from morning to night. They got along famously. Rubinoff speaks with a pronounced Yiddish accent. Fritz Muller's accent is equally German. At the end of their day, Rubinoff told him: "Fritz, if we're together much longer, you'll end up with my accent. And I'll have yours."

Last week, Rubinoff charged the Wolverine Hotel—his home for eight years—with forbidding him to practice. He said they turned off his heat and hot water to force him out. And he added some remarks about the hotel's lack of cleanliness, for good measure.

The hotel retaliated, by initiating a huge law suit against him.

There are already signs that the two sides are cooling off.

MISS ANNE EICKHOFF Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eickhoff, 31030 Peardridge, Farmington, has graduated from the United Air Lines stewardess training center near Chicago.

Miss Eickhoff has been assigned to the company's stewardess base at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago.

She attended Farmington High School and worked as a touring counselor for the Auto Club of Michigan before starting the five-week stewardess training course.

Franklin Exchange Pupils Get Sweet 'Dessert' from Faculty

Considerably sweetened this past week was the treasury of Franklin High School's American Field Service (exchange student) organization. To be specific, it was $105.52 "sweeter" than it had been before. And that was indeed just dessert!

For nearly a year there has existed among 11 Franklin faculty members the honorable and enjoyable society known as the "Dessert Club." These 11 gourmet, who share the same lunch period, decided to share a dessert once each week also.

So pleasantly successful was the enterprise that the group decided to exchange the recipes of their favorite concoctions.

And so, in the way that one thing naturally leads to another, was born the "Tempted, Tried, and True" cookbook, comprising recipes for "prize" foods and published by the Dessert Club and offered for sale to all faculty members. The theory was that something so good might as well serve a double purpose by benefiting a worthy school cause, too.

So pleasantly successful was this phase of the program that, after publishing costs, the group was able to turn over more than $100 clear profit to the AFS.

Poindexter Will Talk on County Home Rule

On Wednesday, March 24, 8 p.m. at the Redford Union School Board office, 18499 Beech Daly at Curtis the Council of Civic Associations of Redford Township will present Councilman Thomas Poindexter from the City of Detroit as the speaker for the evening. The topic will be County Home Rule.

Poindexter is an attorney, City Councilman and former President of the Greater Detroit Homeowners Association. He is also the original drafter of the "Homeowners Ordinance," initiated during his year in the Greater Detroit Homeowners Association.

Though this is the Council of Redford Township's regular session for delegates only, this particular meeting will be open to the public. All Redford and Livonia residents are cordially invited to hear the program.

It is the council's hope that all residents will afford themselves the opportunity to hear a discussion on County Home Rule, thus informing them on one of the most controversial subjects facing our residents today, Jean Johnson, president, said.

Elsa Zielke Is Honored

Co-workers have honored Miss Elsa Zielke, a retiring secretary for the Farmington Public Schools, with two farewell parties.

Miss Zielke, who has been with the system for nine years, will retire early in March. Some 36 secretaries entertained her at a dinner Feb. 12 at Hillside House. Miss Zielke was presented with an orchid corsage and a gift of silver.

Mrs. Catherine Hamilton entertained the staff from the Central Office Building at an open house in her Neva Lake home Feb. 21.

After retiring, Miss Zielke will divide her time between her family's home in Western Michigan and the Farmington home she has made with her sister, Miss Minnie Zielke, director of Elementary Education at Farmington Public Schools.

Two Get GOP Appointments

Oakland County GOP Chairman, Dale A. Feet, today announced the appointment of C. March Miller of Royal Oak and Thomas W. Fowler, Jr., of Pontiac to key County positions.

Miller has been appointed chairman of the Special Events Committee—that committee responsible for parades, rallies, banquets, etc. He was a member of the Special Events Committee in 1964 and campaigned to elect Senator Robert Huber in the 16th Senatorial District.

Fowler, married and the father of two children, has long been active in Republican work, has been a member of the Minnesota Young Republicans, a precinct captain and is now an elected Precinct Delegate in Pontiac and serves on the GOP County Rules and Resolutions Committee.

Fowler is also active in the NAACP, Oakland County Electrical Contractors Association, Neopolitan Club of Pontiac and is on the Board of Directors of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Human Relations Council.

A 37-year resident of Pontiac, Fowler is Vice-President of the Warren Fowler Electric Co.

After Approval of $456,000 Federal Grant

Schoolcraft Trustees Approve New Technical Building

Construction of the much needed Technical Education building on the Schoolcraft College campus, W. Seven Mile at Haggerty Road, was assured Wednesday when the Board of Trustees approved acceptance of $456,000 in federal funds and agreed to match it for the $912,000 building.

The State Department of Public Instruction earlier approved the $456,000 allotment from the new Vocational Education Act of 1963, Dr. Eric Bradner, Schoolcraft College president, announced.

The approval was contained in a letter from Dr. Lynn Bartlett, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in Lansing.

Board Chairman Harold Fischer hailed the grant as one of the biggest boosts for Schoolcraft since the start of construction of the first building on the campus which opened its doors to students for the first time last September.

"This grant is the result of a tremendous amount of work on the part of James Dotseth, assistant dean of Instruction for Business and Technical Education," Fischer stated. "He spent long hours preparing the application during the final week of December so that it would be in the hands of the proper authorities in Lansing before the Jan. 1 deadline.

"The fact that Schoolcraft has received $456,000 is testimony to the work of Dotseth and his associates. We on the board doff our hats to such dedicated persons who are doing everything they can to make Schoolcraft one of the most outstanding community colleges in the state and to work in every way possible to secure funds for much needed buildings.

"We join our congratulations to Dotseth and our thanks to Dr. Bartlett and the Department of Public Instruction for approving the project."

Approval of the construction costs means that Schoolcraft has been accepted as an Area Vocational School.

The new building, which is being designed and planned by the Livonia Architectural firm of Ralls, Hamill and Becker, will contain more than 43,000 square feet.

Bids must be accepted prior to June 30 and construction is expected to start shortly after with a target date for completion by the opening of classes in September, 1966.

Working with Dotseth in the educational specifications is Miss Harriett Satrig, Director of Nursing.

Faculty members, who assisted in making the application for the grant, included: Joseph Borgen, Architectural Drafting and Design; Ronald Monfette, Industrial Drafting and Design; Fernon Feenstra, Electricity - Electronics - Hydraulics - Industrial Equipment Controls; Robert Schwartz, Manufacturing Processes; Thomas Handy, Automotive Service; and James Taylor, Data Processing.

Dr. Bradner indicated the building, when completed, will take care of 485 students and 27 faculty members.

The technical building will include a variety of occupational training areas. An electronics laboratory which will permit instruction in electricity, electronics, hydraulics and industrial equipment controls.

A data processing department which will have space for wiring panels, a machine room and instructional area.

The Practical and Associate

Degree nursing programs will have space in the building which will include a laboratory, classroom, and office for the Director, and a waiting room.

The manufacturing processes laboratory will permit students to major in die-making, tool-making, machine repair and maintenance, and manufacturing processes. The building will include three drafting rooms; one for engineering transfer students; a second for product die, tool machine and electronic drawings and design programs; and the third for architectural and civil engineering technology curricula.

Students in the latter area may major in residential, commercial or industrial building design and some may further specialize in topographical drawing or map-making.

Another laboratory is for welding and foundry. The automotive service laboratory is of special significance because of the shortage of automotive mechanics and technicians.

Also included are six classrooms, office space for the faculty, an administrative bank of offices and the heating and ventilating services area.

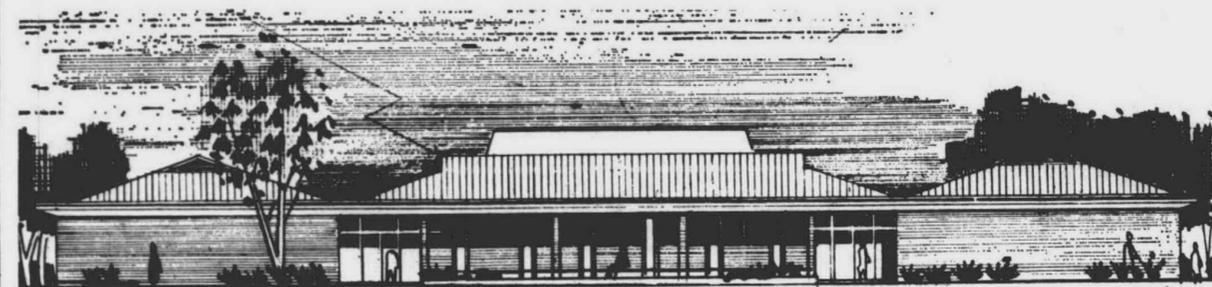

Dotseth pointed out that the building will serve a variety of needs for the business and Industrial community. It will serve the regular college student, both day and evening, who plans to earn an Associate Degree in technical studies, and it will provide for upgrading adult workers.

It will provide related instruction for apprentices and perform as an Area Vocational School for selected high school students as well as for accepted college students.

The Institute program will be headed by a director but Dotseth indicated there will be a need for a vocational counselor, coordinators for curricula, apprenticeship, technology and women's occupations.

This is the architect's conception of the proposed new Technical building on the Schoolcraft College campus.

Pen-Mar 'Bargain' Has Big Impact

Despite the big snow, blustering winds and generally bad weather, the Pen Mar Lounge, 3175 Plymouth Road in Livonia, had tremendous success in helping the Observer Newspapers celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Livonian.

Manager Hugh Gedrich reported more than 2,400 enjoyed the 40 cent luncheons served during the week of Feb. 22 through Feb. 28. It was the same prices and the same menus served 25 years ago as advertised in the Livonian.

And to cap it all, there were more than 170 diners on hand on Thursday—the day when the blizzard and heavy snow was at its absolute worst.

Smith's JWT career began in 1950 following graduation from the University of Michigan.

Prior to his recent appointment to the Champion Spark Plug account, he had served as account supervisor on the Ford Motor Corporate account.

Smith resides at 29360 Summerwood Road in Farmington with his wife, Shirley, and three children. The trio, all of whom attend Highland School, are: Brian, 12; Bradley, 10; and Scott, 5.

Livonia Police Close Driver License Bureau on 3 Monday Evenings

The Driver License Bureau of the Livonia Police Department will close on Monday evenings for the next three weeks, March 15, 22 and 29.

The Bureau will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday for renewals. Original applications will be taken up to 4 p.m. with road tests only by appointment.

Drivers are reminded that they may renew driver licenses up to 90 days before it expires. There is no "grace period" after the expiration date.

40-Foot-Fall Is Fatal to Livonia Man

Injuries suffered in a 40-foot fall from a building under construction at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant, where he was an employee of the Bethlehem Steel Co, took the life of Paul Nanasi, 36, of 30720 Hathaway, Livonia.

Nanasi, who was on his first day of work on the job, died March 4 in St. Mary Hospital. Funeral services were conducted Monday in the Maney-Burdell Funeral Home and in St. Damian's Church in charge of Rev. Fr. Edward Pilarowski. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Nanasi had resided in Livonia for 10 years and was born Jan. 22, 1929 in West Virginia. Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Betty Jane Nanasi; two sons, Paul Jr. and James; one daughter, Yvonne; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kochis; and a sister, Mrs. Milton Redick.

Afraid of Snow? Not These Moms And Girl Scouts

Who's afraid of snow and inclement weather? For sure, it isn't six mothers and members of Girl Scout Troop 14007 of Grant School.

With snow coming down and bad weather predicted by the forecasters, the moms and gals drove to the Girl Scout Camp at Metamora Friday to spend the weekend roughing-it.

The group had made plans for the weekend trip for weeks and none was in a mood to allow a bit of weather get the best of her. Especially after battling the heavy snow and high winds of the week previous during the big blizzard.

The Scouts were equipped with heavy clothing, camping equipment, sleeping bags and plenty of food.

The mothers were prepared for most anything and especially the task of doing just as much work in the kitchen at camp as they ordinarily did at home.

However, they received a real surprise. The Scouts did practically all of the cooking and the six leaders and chaperones had a weekend of rest from work. The mothers included: Troop Leader Bea Easton, Assistant Leader Margo Lay and mothers, Donna Mansfield, Jane Barnes, Jerry Skogg and Dorace Kokesh.

Farmington-Livonia Bridge Club Meets

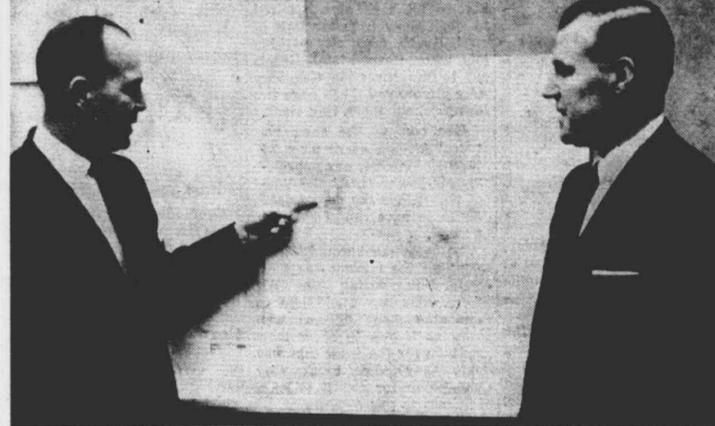

The Saturday "Nite" Duplicate bridge club is a new sister to Farmington's other two duplicate clubs.

The new club's games are played at 19941 Brentwood (east of Middlebelt, and south of Eight Mile Rd., in Livonia). Joan Kohn is the hostess, and may be reached for additional information at 474-8973.

This is an unlimited open bridge club. Monthly master point games are played on the fourth Saturday of each month. Starting time is 8:30 p.m. Partners available. Refreshments served. Beginners most welcome.

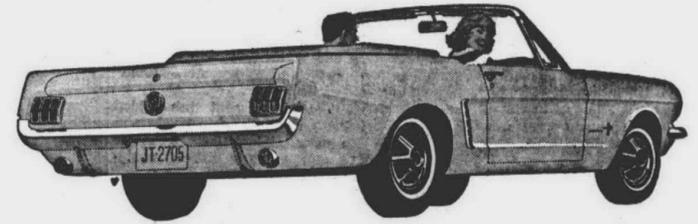

Winners for the first master point game held February 28 are first place N-S, Phyllis Speaker and Janet Bone, Livonia. E-W, Sam and Marilyn Smith, Livonia. Second place N-S, Carol and Bob Lawyer, Berkly. E-W, Lottie Williams, Birmingham and Herbert Kohn, Livonia. Third place N-S, John and Marjorie Smith, Farmington. E-W, Paul Potter, Pontiac, and Angie Hamilton, Walled Lake. Both Anderson is the director.

Make Visit to State Capitol

43 PHS Government Pupils See Legislature in Action

Forty-three Plymouth High seniors, from the comparative government classes taught by Raymond Homer and John Thomas, learned about government in action when they made a trip to the State Capitol in Lansing and watched the State Senate and House debate two major bills.

The trip was organized for the purpose of better acquainting the students with governmental procedures by actual experience.

The group was welcomed to the Capitol Building by the Assistant Attorney General and then made a tour of the building. The students were able to sit in on a morning session of the Supreme Court and found it interesting to see a panel of eight judges instead of a judge and jury.

After lunch in the Stephen Mason building, the group met State Representative James Tierney, of Garden

City, who represents the area including Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

He gave the students a tremendous introduction to the House from the floor, calling attention to the Plymouth group visiting the State Capitol. Since the area is without a representative in the Senate, that matter was handled by Senator Huber of Troy.

Then the group was able to listen to both Houses in action. The Senate was concerned with Gov. George Romney's appropriation bill and budget and the House with a bill to allow the City of Detroit to pass millage for bonding without voter approval.

Clark Raven, Frank Shepard, Pat Skinner, Bruce Spratling, Linda Walker, Hal Watson, Garri Watson, Lynda Wilson, Pete Ackerman, Mike Alford, Chuck Amos, Barbara Authier, Tim Lynas and Judi McDowell.

DPW News and Notes

By Supt. Joseph Bida
Plymouth Dept. Public Works

The past week found the Public Works Department busy cleaning up from the Big Snow of 1965. Due to the warming weather the department was afraid of the results of the thawing, so all men were put out to clean snow from the tops of catch basins. Also, city parking lots were cleaned and streets out to the Riverside Cemetery were plowed and there were two funerals held there this week.

The cost of the snow removal from February 25 through March 4, was approximately $6,236.59. At the time of this article the department hopes to have things back to normal.

The department would like to thank all the citizens for their cooperation during the Big Storm. Also, we would like to thank the many citizens who wrote us letters to show their gratitude for the work that was done. Many thanks to the City Commission for the Resolution of Thanks to this department.

All of these compliments were greatly appreciated by the department after many hours of hard work. Mr. Bida, Supt. of Public Works, also wrote a letter to the men responsible for the fine job done. Also, I would like to thank my secretary, Evelyn Stanible, for a fine job done in handling the phone calls during two hectic days.

I am sorry one name was omitted from the list of men who worked so hard and long, his name is Alvin Diedrick and Al is one of our most conscientious and dependable employees.

The department has added two new Ford dump trucks and a new Caterpillar 12 motor grader to their list of equipment.

Over 180 senior English students from Plymouth High attended a performance of Shakespeare's Macbeth at the Hillberry Classic Theater on the campus of Wayne State University today (Wednesday).

The students were from the classes of William Sands, Miss Elizabeth McDonald, Larry Ordowski and Mrs. Evelyn Edgar, all English teachers at PHS.

The purpose was to give the students a better understanding of Shakespeare's works and especially a more realistic look at Macbeth which all the students had been studying in class.

ROB WILSON, a senior at PHS, has been chosen for the Musical Youth International which will tour Mexico this summer. The Musical Youth International consists of a choir and a band which include 80 students from Michigan and Ontario, Canada.

The group will begin the tour on July 5, and return on August 4. The band, in which Rob will participate, will be both a marching and concert band.

Rob was chosen after he auditioned February 21 in Saline, Michigan, and is now attending practices every Saturday in Ann Arbor.

TEN EASTERN MICHIGAN University seniors are fulfilling their practice teaching requirement as student teachers this semester at PHS.

In the physical education department are Donald Besolo, who is working with John Sandmann; Robert Wisniewski, working with John McFall; Rose Bouwman, working with Mrs. Jane Watts; and Jacqueline Couzens, who is working with Miss Lois Mattson.

In the business education department, Janice Borkowski is working with Mrs. Betty Wolford, while Marjorie Deneau is assisting Carmelo Crespo in the Spanish department.

Fred Thomas is working with German teacher, Mrs. Brigitti Rauer, while English teacher, Larry Ordowski is being helped by Georgia Holden. Paul Kinzer and Carolee Matsumoto are working with Ray Homer, government, and Ross Hederic, biology, respectively.

STUDENTS of the comparative government classes along with their teachers, John Thomas and Ray Homer, spent Friday touring the capitol in the morning and spent the entire day there. Along with seeing the various rooms and chambers of the capitol building, they also were introduced on the floor of both the state House of Representatives and Senate.

Post Office Aids In Promoting Savings Program

Acting Postmaster James Grater said Monday he has been instructed by Postmaster General John Gronowski to extend all cooperation possible to students, educators, bankers and other volunteers in promoting and servicing the Treasury's School Savings program in Plymouth.

Grater noted that the School Savings program, during World War II, provided one of the most effective instruments for teaching thrift and good citizenship.

An adequate supply of stamps and books and promotional material are on hand to meet the needs of students and the community in carrying out the Stamp Consignment plan.

This plan has eased the burden borne in the past by the school systems. It eliminates the financing problems of the school programs.

ST. AGATHA ACCENTS

School Represented In Genesian Festival

By MARY LOU MANGOLD

St. Agatha's was well represented this year at the seventh annual Genesian Festival, with fifteen participants: Davidina Dow, Mary Lou Mangold, Sharon Hallo, Juliana Brown, Jessie Garden, Bob Schrock, Ruth Brown, Mark Copeland, Sandra Cindric, Sue Behrend, Janet Parent, Pam Kovarik, Mike Daniels, Pat Murphy, and Tom Aubuchon.

The interpretive reading contest, held on Sunday, February 28, co-hosted by Brother Rice and Marian High Schools of Birmingham, began with an English Dialogue Mass at Brother Rice. After brief opening remarks by principals Brother Nash and Mother Mary Aquin, participants presented their selections in the first round. Results showed that four readers from St. Agatha took first place — Juliana Brown (serious prose), Ruth Brown (Shakespeare), Jessie Garden (humorous prose), and Mary Lou Mangold (lyric poetry). Second place winners were Bob Schrock (dramatic interpretation), and the multiple reading, Harvey, presented by Sue Behrend, Pam Kovarik, Janet Parent, Mike Daniels, Pat Murphy, and Tom Aubuchon.

After lunch, first and second place winners competed in the second round. These results were to be announced and awards presented at an assembly late in the afternoon. All those who participated were given certificates as the best in their school. Finalists received framed awards which St. Agatha's will display in the trophy case and re-present at a school assembly. Finally, results of the second round (the medalists) were announced. To the delight of St. Agatha's, Julie Brown won the gold medal for rating the highest in her category. So St. Agatha's went home victorious and delighted with their first serious venture into speech competitions.

Sparked by their recent successes, the students are preparing for another such venture—Michigan Forensics. Besides interpretive reading, there are also categories for original orations—a project in which the American history classes are now involved.

Gold medalist Juliana Brown has been invited to present her selection of serious prose, entitled "But For This," at St. Paul's High School in Grosse Pointe on Thursday, March 4.

The Junior Classical League of St. Agatha's sponsored a sloppy joe luncheon on Tuesday, March 2. The menu included sloppy joes prepared by the Latin IV Class, cokes, potato chips, and brownies baked by sophomore Latin II students. A profit of over $48 will finance a trip to the J.C.L. state convention, held this year on March 27 at Michigan State University. Any extra funds will go towards the Roman banquet to be held on May 19.

The Student Council has announced that its annual Talent Show will be held on Thursday, March 18. A first prize of $10 and second prize of $5 will be offered.

The juniors, who studied Shakespeare's Macbeth in English literature last semester, plan to attend this production on March 17 at Wayne State's Hilberry Classic Theater. Since the Bard's plays were written to be acted rather than read, the students and their English teachers feel that they will enjoy and understand the drama more fully when they see it.

St. Agatha's Varsity basketball team was beaten by St. James' High School of Ferndale in a non-league game on Tuesday, February 23.

On March 3, representatives of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company presented "Gasarama," a demonstration of the versatility of natural gas. Two minute cooking in a radiant heated oven, an ensemble made entirely of natural gas products, and a gas filled "satellite" balloon were only a few of the uses of natural gas shown.

On March 4, voting for Student of the Month took place. The recipient of this honor will be announced at the end of the week.

FACTS FROM FRANKIN

Winner of Ugly Man Title To Be Opposite

By JAN BONNER

On March 1, five Junior Achievement boys from Franklin were selected by the Detroit Economic Club to attend a banquet held in Detroit. The guest speaker was Mr. Arthur K. Watson, chairman of the IBM Trade Corporation. "The Challenge of American Business Success Abroad" was the title of the speech given by Mr. Watson.

The five students selected by JA were Bill Jagner of Jabco, Glen Van Den Bosch and Jim Monkiewicz of Jacoma, Steve Lowney of Zap-co, and Geary Durkee of Zafe-co.

Mr. John W. Clason, Personnel Manager of the Campbell-Ewald Company acted as hosts to the boys.

Contrary to some beliefs, the Ugly Man Contest (to be held on March 19) is not a contest to find the "ugliest man" at FHS, but the most popular. Each class must select a candidate to compete for the title. Votes will be cast in the form of pennies. The boy who has the most money in his ballot box wins. All money goes to the AFS to help exchange students abroad.

After the "Ugliest Man" has been crowned, students will see a movie, starring Bob Hope in "Bachelors in Paradise." A dance will follow the movie. For the past two years, the Juniors have been the winners of the AFS Ugly Man Movie Dance. In '63 Danny Martin was crowned and in '64 Sam Antonozzi was Ugly Man. This year, the juniors will be competing harder than ever to win the contest. Seniors and sophomores had better work twice as hard if they want their candidate to be "Ugly Man" of Franklin High.

After having acquired a "1" at district competition, Franklin's Solo Ensemble is ready to go to the State Festivals on March 20. Each soloist must be able to pass difficult test in proficiency and sight reading. This year, the Festivals are to be held in Marshall, Michigan.

Members of the Future Teachers club will have a chance to practice what they have learned on March 23, when they take over classes for one day at Franklin. Students have been learning and gathering ideas by watching elementary teachers in their classrooms.

Last weekend, the Ski Club of FHS took a trip to Au Sable Ski Lodge to enjoy the sun, snow, and sheer pleasure of being on skis.

BULLETIN FROM BENTLEY

Journalism Students Make Plans For "Sunshine, Flowers" Dance

By MARCIA WILSON

The guys got the Valentine Dance and now it's the girls turn for the Spring Frolic. Yes, this time the girls ask the guys to the "Sunshine and Flowers" Dance on Mar.

19 from 8:30 to 11:30. The dance is put on by the Journalism Department.

Anthony Wayne, faculty sponsor of the dance, has said "This has always been the most popular dance of the year, and this year will be no exception."

Each year the main event of the Spring Frolic is the election of the Spring Sweetheart, the prettiest girl in school. On March 3, 4, and 5, a box was left in each of the level offices for anyone who wished to nominate his favorite choice for Spring Sweetheart.

This honor may be given to any girl, whether she be sophomore, junior, or senior. All she needs is one nomination to be eligible for the contest. Any girl who received a nomination was contacted personally and given the choice to run or not.

The judging is to be on March 12. The judges include a panel of teachers who will judge the girls on beauty only. The number of contestants will be narrowed down to 15 after the first judging, and finally down to the five at the second judging. These lucky five girls are the finalists.

On the night of the dance, each person will receive a ballot at the door on which they will choose their favorite of the five. Then, later in the dance the Spring Sweetheart will be announced.

The climax of a fund-raising drive started less than a year ago by the Bentley Band Wagon has been reached. A sum of $4,000 has been obtained in a relatively short period of time through two drives, a stamp drive during the summer, a bake sale, and a few other projects.

The climax was reached when the Livonia Board of Education approved the Bentley Band's request for new uniforms at the board meeting Thursday, February 12.

A uniform selection committee will pick the style of uniforms. The committee is made up of four members of the Bentley Band Wagon and the five Bentley Band officers.

William Hitter (president of the Bentley Band Wagon), John Brown, Mrs. Marshall Peal, and Mrs. Jacobs will represent the Bandwagon.

For those who don't know, the Bentley Band Wagon was formed when the uniform drive began and is an organization made up of parents of Bentley Band members who expressed an interest in helping the Bentley Band acquire new uniforms.

It is hoped that the band will get at least 80 new uniforms before the annual Spring Concert on May 7 and 8.

Robert Clark, Bentley Band director, has said that if the uniforms don't get here in time for the Spring Band Concert, then another concert will be held when the uniforms finally do arrive.

THE LOCAL Spring Forensics Contest was held March 8 and 10. This is the first year the contest was held on two days.

The types of speeches given were humorous reading, interpretive reading, declamation, original oratory, and extemporaneous speech. All interested and qualified students selected from these choices.

No props were used. Time limits varied as to the type of speech; the shortest speech was one minute, the longest was eight and one half minutes, and the average speech was five minutes long.

The judges were selected English teachers and speech teachers. Miss Pasquale, Mrs. Sutherland, and Mr. Slavin were the three coaches who aided students in selecting and preparing material.

THE FUTURE TEACHERS Club of Bentley is a club which promotes teaching as a profession.

The members are given an opportunity to experience actual classroom teaching through a day when the club assumes some of the teaching responsibilities of Bentley. This day is to take place on March 22 and all members of the club are now busy preparing for it.

THE DRUM AND SANDAL Club will present its modern dance show, "Drum and Sandal Presents" this Friday and Saturday in the Bentley High School auditorium.

This year's show promises to have light, as well as more serious numbers. The routines in the show are varied.

A rock and roll routine will open the show, followed by a dance done to folk music, a jazz impression from the award winning "West Side Story", and a contemporary dance done while Robert Frost's famous poem "A Road Not Taken" is read by Sheldon Slavin, speech teacher at Bentley.

The seniors of the club will alone do a dance called "Versus". Tickets will cost 75 cents for high school students, $1 for adults, and 25 cents for elementary school students.

Collect Money for Books in Memory Of Little Girl

Grieving parents requested their friends and neighbors not to send flowers to the funeral of their little girl, but rather, if they wanted to show expression, contribute toward books for the city library.

Janet Lynn Capell, aged four, and the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted A. Capell, died March 3 after a short illness. A small inoperable brain tumor was discovered as the cause of her death.

Janet Lynn showed from a very early age a love of books, therefore, it was more meaningful to her parents to have this memorial for her.

Kind neighbors in the area of their home, 34209 Ann Arbor Trail in Livonia, collected enough to purchase a set of child reference books for the south branch of the Carl Sandburg Library. Most of the collecting was done by three little neighborhood girls. Nancy Wainwright contacted the neighbors for their approval of the fund and purchase. The Wainwrights at 34177 Ann Arbor Trail will still forward any donations to the library fund.

Services were held at Manns Ferguson Funeral Home with interment in Findlay, Ohio. Besides her parents, Janet Lynn is survived by two brothers, 7 and 5, and two grandmothers.

Plaques will be placed on the inside of the books stating they were donated in the memory of Janet Lynn Capell, a very little girl who found a friend among books.

Plymouth Woman's Glee Club Note 25th Anniversary

Plymouth Womans' Club paid tribute to glee club with over 100 members and guests attending. Most of the original charter members were present including Director Mrs. Gerald Hondorp, Mrs. William Hartmann, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mrs. Murray O'Neil, Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mrs. Carvel Bentley, Mrs. William Clarke and Mrs. C. C. Wiltse. Along with the other songsters, accompanied by Mrs. Rusling Cutler, the group presented an outstanding program of "Reminiscence."

Dressed alike in simple lined black dresses with accents of silver jewelry the group were professional in appearance as well as performance. The background was uniquely done by Mrs. Leo Crane, also a charter member, included the costume of the past the singers used; long black skirts and white tailored blouses. Mrs. George Burr gave a briefing on the Glee Clubs origination. Beginning back in 1940 the music committee decided there was enough talent to organize this group of girls, as they still so wish to be called, which has existed over the past 25 years.

MARY LOU GRIMSHAW

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimshaw of Sheldon Road, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lou Grimshaw, to Leonard J. Hausman, son of George Hausman of Cincinnati, Ohio. He is now attending Xavier University in Cincinnati and is associated with Western & Southern Life Insurance Company as an Underwriter. Mary Lou is a graduate of College of Mt. St. Joseph in Cincinnati and is now on the teaching staff of Our Lady of Good Counsel in Plymouth. The wedding will take place on June 26 at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

Through the years they have married, reared families and some are now grandmothers, but they still participate in this music enterprise.

A beautiful tea table centered with an enormous silver anniversary tiered cake was cut and served by past presidents Mrs. George Bauer and Mrs. David Wood. During the afternoon other past presidents of the organization, honored and presented with corsages, were introduced by Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum. They were as follows: Mrs. Charles Humphries, Mrs. Leslie Daniel, Mrs. Richard Jones, Mrs. George Burr, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel and Mrs. Marshall North. Mrs. Frank Allison and Mrs. Richard Newton poured for the occasion.

Byzantine Church Honors Jubilarians

An entire church paid their respect to Andrew and Barbara Gubanich on Sunday, Feb. 21 when they marked their 65th wedding anniversary.

On that day Mr. and Mrs. Gubanich shared in offering a Divine Liturgy of Thanksgiving together with the members of their family and the fellow-members of their parish in their parish church, Sacred Heart Byzantine Catholic Church, 15334 Beech Road, Redford Township. Following the Divine Liturgy, Father Myron Hornyak, the pastor at Sacred Heart Parish, bestowed a special sacramental blessing upon the couple asking God to bless, protect and guide them during all the days of their life. Mr. and Mrs. Gubanich were then the honored guests at a breakfast held for them by their fellow-parishioners.

Mr. and Mrs. Gubanich were married 65 years ago in St. Stephen's Byzantine Catholic Church, Leisenring, Pa. They are the proud parents of 13 children, five of whom are now deceased. They are the eldest couple presently to be members of Sacred Heart Byzantine Catholic Church which serves the spiritual needs of Byzantine Rite Catholics of northwest Detroit and suburbs. Mr. and Mrs. Gubanich reside with their son at 14435 Brantell.

Circle These Dates Now

Circle two very important dates on your calendars, please! First of all, April 24th—this is the date of the 19th Congressional Wayne District Democratic Women's Fashion Show to be held at Arbor-Lil in Plymouth.

The show, aptly titled, "My Fair Lady" will feature fashions by the Alice Rebecca Shop of the Farmington Mall. For further information call Chairman, Fay Galia KE 4-6201 or Co-Chairman, Pat Comrie KE 4-8499.

The second VIP plans are for the "June Frolic" on June 19th, at the D. A. V. Hall. The Redford Township Democratic Club is sponsoring this dance. For further details call Chairman Pat Comrie KE 4-8499 or Millie Rowison KE 5-3019.

Plans for these two affairs were organized at a regular meeting of the Redford Township Democratic Women's Committee held at the home of Martha Reineck, 14106 Arnold, Redford Township. Ladies attending were: Rose Patchett, Doris McCloskey, Rosemary Londo, Margaret Reed, Naomi Davidson, Martha Reineck, Pat Comrie, Rose Bommarito, Fay Galia and Lillian Downen.

Why Paint?

Painting western red cedar siding to preserve it is unnecessary since cedar does not deteriorate appreciably, even in extreme climatic conditions.

ARLENE SCHELLING (above) at rehearsal with other orchestra members preparing for the Redford Township Music Society annual Family Concert, March 25. Redford Union grade school choruses and Redford Civic Symphony will be the program. Included in this concert will be a solo selection by flutist Arlene, who is a R.U. high school student.

Daniel Kaeps to Live in Maryland

The marriage of Miss Kay Ann Carscallen, daughter of Mrs. Roy F. Carscallen and the late Mr. Carscallen, to Daniel A. Kaepf of Livonia was solemnized Saturday, Feb. 6 at a two o'clock ceremony at the First Methodist Church, West Branch, by the Rev. Dorraine Snogren.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kaepf of Livonia.

The church was beautified with bouquets of American Beauty roses, greens and candelabra and music was provided by Mrs. Snogren.

The bride appeared in a gown of beau de soie designed by Christos and fashioned with a redingote "A" line skirt that swept into chapel length train. A panel effect of embroidered Alencon lace graced the front of the controlled skirt and fitted bodice. A matching tapered pillow of Alencon lace held a bouffant veil of imported French silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and ivy and was given in marriage by her brother, Charles.

Miss Olivia Seaburn of Beaver, Pennsylvania as maid of honor wore a light blue dress and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Edward Taylor of Kalamazoo and Miss Susan Crencine of West Branch, were in gowns of cranberry crepe. The identically styled gowns had soft controlled skirts with the Directoire look being accented by a satin band circling the bodice while panels of crepe graced the back of the dresses. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and the bridesmaids had pink carnations and American Beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Kaepf

Charles H. Carscallen, Jr., and Gregory Carscallen, nephews of the bride, were ring bearers. They were attired in cranberry suits with Eton jackets and shirts with Merrimite collars.

Elmer Kaepf of Livonia was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Sigmund Gretzer of Dearborn and Edward Taylor of Kalamazoo. The guests were seated by Greg Kaepf of Livonia and Richard Gretzner of Dearborn.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held at the Masonic Temple which was decorated with pink and green topiary trees and large pink rings. The wedding cake was made by the bride's cousin, Susan Crencine.

The bride graduated from West Branch High School and Michigan State University and has been teaching in Livonia. Her husband attended Edsel Ford High School, Dearborn Junior College, University of Michigan Extension in Detroit

The three hundred TOPS chapters in Michigan will be holding their state convention at Cobo Hall on Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27. Fifty-three of the chapters, with a combined membership of 2,717, are located in the Detroit area.

TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) is a national non-profit organization devoted to helping overweight people lose their excess weight through group therapy. It is the only organization of its kind to receive the approval of the American Medical Association. It is a proven fact that obesity and improper eating are the direct cause of many serious health problems, notably among them are cardiac disease, arteriosclerosis and sugar diabetes.

"It is true that not everyone will find group therapy the answer to their weight problem and we cannot deny the existence of the TRAGIC joke of the terribly obese lady who will stop on the way home from the meeting and fill up on all the rich food which she has just been told she must not eat. BUT, we also know of the young lady severely afflicted with arthritis who, as a direct result of a 75 pound loss, can now descend the stairs without tears of pain. Of the woman who lost 98 pounds and thereby found her blood pressure restored to normal and the death sentence removed by her doctor. Of the 27-year-old woman, whose loss of 95 pounds brought her a new personality, and (in her words) "her first date and the start of a new life."

"There are hundreds of such stories to prove that TOPS group therapy is effective in the fight against obesity. We would like the opportunity to tell you more about our organization and would certainly appreciate any help you can give us in regards to publicity," stated Kathleen Wade, publicity chairman, TOPS State Recognition Day.

MARGARET BRADLEY and Doris Takas are crowned "Queens" of the Farmington Branch of the "Tops" organization known as the "Scale Watchers". Both lost 81 lbs.

Farmington "Scale Watchers" Queens Attend Convention

Two members of the Farmington Tops Club (called the Scale Watchers) celebrated a victory of will power over former habits of self indulgence.

Mrs. Doris Takas of Meadowlark Ave and Mrs. Margaret Bradley of Jacksonville each had a weight loss of 81½ lbs. Their fellow members of the Scale Watchers gathered at the First Methodist Church on Warner Avenue to watch them crowned "Queens" of the Farmington Branch of the Tops chapter. It was a thrilling moment for the queens. In addition to the jeweled crowns, they each were awarded many prizes. A bouquet of American Beauty Roses, then gift certificates for individual make-up and hair-styling, and jewelry. In addition the Westbrooke coffee shop will feature the menus that helped them lose weight beginning next Wednesday, March 3.

After the ceremony the "queens" and the audience were invited to partake of a buffet of attractive and low-calorie foods. During the course of the evening we had a chance to talk to Doris and Margaret. Each of their stories ran a parallel course. Both gave the "Tops" club the credit, hands down, for their success in sticking to their chosen goal.

It was hard to believe, looking at these trim figured women that their weight had ever been a problem. Yet, looking at the pictures taken of them at the time they joined "Tops", they had apparently had the appearance of two entirely different women.

A doctor's remark started Doris Takas on her way. On a routine visit, her doctor told her present weight of 280 lbs. She made up her mind to diet that very day, joined Tops and stuck at it until she reached her present weight. Her rewards have been tremendous. First her health has improved. Then there are many flattering comparisons to the heavier person she used to be. "My husband says its just like having a new wife," she laughed. Her son, 23, and daughter 14, were also proud as peacocks of her new "image." In addition, she has entered upon a career as a real estate saleswoman.

Margaret Bradley was completely and happily immersed in her family life of making a home for her husband and 10 children. She enjoyed homemaking and cooked "Sunday meals" everyday in the week. A neighbor began to lose weight, and Margaret noticed how much more attractive she appeared and how much more vitality she possessed. She decided to emulate her and joined "Tops" to keep her in line. Like Doris Takas, she took no medication, followed no freak diets, just a steady cutting down on food intake. She also had full-hearted family approval. In fact her oldest son offered to pay her a bonus per loss of a given amount of pounds.

More good things are in store for these determined ladies. A three day trip to New York, with visits to the World Fair is on the agenda. Also on March 26, 27 they will be at the Sheraton Cadillac for the State Day of the Tops organization.

Grace Wycinsky and Gloria Devlin were charming hostesses for the evening and graciously supplied additional information about their club. A new feature is that many men are joining the organization. A svelte figure is now becoming as important in a man's scheme of things as it is in a woman's. Anyone interested in joining "Tops" call Phil Lueder (State champion in 1957 with a weight loss of 135 lbs.) at GR 4-1798 or Marilyn Truett GR 4-7073.

and the University of Maryland. He is now in the army and stationed in Maryland.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Kaepf will be living at 8219 Belair Rd., Box 150, Baltimore, Maryland.

"Beautifying" Project Planned

The Detroit Osteopathic Hospital Auxiliary will hold a spring "beautifying project" on March 11 in the Hospital Auditorium.

There will be a fashion clinic headed by Mrs. Ruth Natinsky of Saks Fifth Avenue. Mrs. Joseph Wyatt will model the new spring fashions.

Honored guests for the afternoon will be members of the Hospital Guild. Advisor to the Guild is Mrs. Milton Kosley of Farmington.

Chairmen for the afternoon are Mrs. Patrick Murray and Mrs. Christopher Magure.

Don Sherman Hubert Auxiliary Report

The Women's Auxiliary of Don Sherman Hubert Post 345 presented an American Flag to the Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 2192 of Bulman School.

February 11, the Cub Scouts of Den 6, Pack 423 Stuckey School was presented with an American Flag. The Women's Auxiliary also donated money to the Goodfellows of Redford Township to buy shirts and dresses for Christmas.

Mrs. Jeannette Sprangler, Conductress of the Auxiliary, is convalescing in her home on Riverview Avenue after major surgery in January.

Kappa Deltas Plan Potluck Dinner in Plymouth March 17

The Kappa Deltas of the Northwest Suburban Alumnae Group will hold a potluck dinner Monday, March 17 at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Richard Frit, 47900 W. Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth. Mrs. William Young is co-hostess.

Following the dinner, members will begin work on favors for the national Kappa Delta convention in July. Special recognition will be given those who have excelled in the magazine sales campaign.

For additional information call Mrs. Frit at 453-6072 or Mrs. Donald Greenbury, 476-5655.

On Committee

Mrs. Joan Cargnel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Pyle, 22625 W. Six Mile, Redford Township, served as service chairman for the 1965 homecoming at Evangel College. A junior at Evangel, Mrs. Cargnel is majoring in elementary education. She is a graduate of Redford Union high school. As an Evangel student she has won intercollegiate speech awards.

Adoption Announced

Dr. and Mrs. James Parshall of Stonecrest Dr., Plymouth, announce the adoption of a daughter, Susan Gay, from the Methodist Children's Home Society. Susan weighed in at 8 pounds, 5 ounces on Feb. 9.

President of Presbyterian Women to Speak in Livonia

Mrs. Luther Berhenke, national president of the United Presbyterian Women, will speak at the March 17 meeting of the Women's Association of St. Pauls United Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

Her topic will be "New Nations in an Old World" with special emphasis on the work of women. The talk will begin at 8 p.m. in the church social hall.

Guests from the women's associations at seven neighboring churches have been invited to attend the talk. The guests will be from Village Presbyterian Church, Detroit; St. Timothy's Presbyterian in Livonia; the Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church, Farmington; Redford Presbyterian, Ward Memorial Presbyterian in Livonia, and the women from Presbyterian Village.

As national president, Mrs. Berhenke represents 625,000 United Presbyterian Women. She will be stopping in Livonia from her home in Midland, Michigan while enroute to dedicate a new student union building at Knoxville College in Tennessee.

Mrs. Berhenke recently visited Africa and Europe as UPW representative, where she attended a meeting of the World Presbyterian Alliance in Frankfurt, Germany.

The African trip, she reports, "added richly to my understanding of the situations faced by peoples of the new nations. It also deepened my concern for the education of whole populations, and especially that of women."

Her husband, a research chemist who is a ruling elder of the church and a lay preacher accompanied her on the trip. "It meant much to me that (he) would also go," she says. "I think we need to let the world see more of us as Americans and churchmen as couples or families, rather than just as individuals."

By virtue of her office, Mrs. Berhenke is a corresponding member of the General Council of the 313 million-member United Presbyterian Church in the USA. She is also a member of the executive committee of the church's General Mission Consultative Conference, a member of the Fifty Million Fund Campaign Committee and the Board of Managers of the United Church Women.

Merri-Bowl Trimmers Honor Hall of Famer

Excitement ran supreme at the gala Hall of Fame party at Lofy's Arbor-Lil banquet room for Donna Holtz of the Merri-Bowl Trimmers, a Chapter of the Buxom Belle International.

Donna was the first member of the Merri-Bowl Trimmers to reach the Hall of Fame status.

It was a struggle and sacrifice and after many failures, Donna finally reached her goal and after maintaining her weight for six months, was justly rewarded with a lovely party, tiara, roses, money and gifts from the chapter members.

The Merri-Bowl Trimmers Chapter meets every Wednesday evening at 8:00 p.m. at Riley Junior High School in Livonia. New members are welcome. For further information call Jo Esper at KE 8-1648.

KATHLEEN ALICE O'NEILL

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Beadle of Centralia Avenue, Redford Township, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Alice O'Neill to James F. Kennedy. Mr. Kennedy is the grandson of Mr. James F. Byrne of East Detroit. Kathleen is a 1962 graduate of Redford Union High School. Her fiancé is a 1960 graduate of Saint Ambrose High School, Grosse Pointe. He recently completed four years with the United States Marine Corps. A June wedding is planned at Our Lady of Loretto Church, Redford Township.

Livonia Town Hall March 17 With Wise Beauty From East

An eloquent and glamorous representative of modern India comes to Livonia on Wednesday, March 17, when Mrs. Rita Dar, the vivacious niece of the late Prime Minister Nehru and the youngest of Madame V. L. Pandit's three daughters, addresses Livonia Town Hall at the Terrace Theatre.

From the Prime Minister's residence in New Delhi to embassies in Cairo, Tokyo, Singapore, Damascus and Washington, Mrs. Dar has had an extraordinary opportunity to observe governments and diplomacy at work in widely divergent areas of the globe.

Married in 1953 to the Honorable A. K. Dar, career diplomat and Indian Minister for Political Affairs in Washington, she is the mother of two young children and a hostess of international reputation, noted for her charm and grace.

Active in the political and intellectual life of her homeland whenever she has been in residence there, Mrs. Dar in the travels resulting from her husband's varied diplomatic assignments had kept up a steady flow of correspondence with her famous uncle in New Delhi.

"I wrote the Prime Minister all the interesting things I had observed in the various countries where my husband had been sent in the course of his diplomatic career," she says. These observations she has been sharing with her American friends in her informal platform talks.

No stranger to this country, Mrs. Dar was born in 1929 in Allahabad, India, but came here while still a young girl and received most of her early formal education at the Putney School in Vermont and at Holmquist School in Pennsylvania. Later she studied at the University of Geneva, where she majored in history and modern languages.

Mrs. Dar has been a frequent visitor to the nation's capital and acquired a fluent command of English, when her famous mother was India's Ambassador to the United States and chief delegate to the United Nations. Madama Pandit, the sister of Prime Minister Nehru, recently led another Indian delegation to the United Nations.

Raised in her uncle's home after the death of her own father almost 20 years ago, Rita (meaning "Truth") Dar, in addition to writing letters to her famous relative, has also written for Indian newspapers and is an accomplished writer and observer of the passing scene.

Now living in a house in the nation's capital, surrounded by art treasures lent her by her mother and by the scroll paintings she herself likes to do, Rita Dar is a charming and intelligent example of modern woman who is at once wife, mother and citizen of the world.

Luncheon reservations may be made by calling GA 1-8742.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES MULLA

Vows Are Exchanged by Brain-Mulla

Miss Nancy L. Brain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brain of Birmingham, and James D. Mulla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mulla of Farmington, exchanged vows in a candlelight ceremony at the Redeemer Lutheran Church of Birmingham, on Saturday, Nov. 27.

The Reverend Theodore Wugazer officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown fashioned with a chapel length train of white satin and trimmed in Alencon lace and seed pearls. The long sleeves tapered to a bridal point at the wrist. Her bouffant veil was made exclusively to match her gown with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Over her family prayer book the bride carried a bouquet of white roses and cymbidium orchids garnished with a string of pearls.

Miss Mimi Newton of Birmingham served as maid of honor. Her floor length pink crepe with an empire waistline and modified bell sleeves. Her headpiece over a bouffant veil falling over a matching bow. Miss Newton carried a bouquet of pink roses garnished with iridescent grapes.

The bridesmaids, Miss Carol Brodie, Miss Linda Haack, Miss Marty Croteau, all of Birmingham, Miss Joan Gay, a cousin of the bride, from Detroit, and Miss Janet Brain, sister of the bride and junior bridesmaid, were attired in identical gowns to that of the maid of honor, and carried identical bouquets.

Daniel Mulla, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. James Brain, brother of the bride, served as head usher. Larry Brain, also a brother of the bride, Charles A. Borst, of Deerfield, Ill., William F. Porter and Jack H. Smith, both of Livonia, served as attendants.

For the wedding the bride's mother chose a floor length sheath in shocking pink crepe. It was styled with a high waistline caught with a bow in front and a lace jacket over the top. She wore a tiny feathered hat in shocking pink with matching accessories. Her purse corsage was a white orchid.

The groom's mother was attired in a floor length gown of shocking pink crepe, styled with a straight skirt and a full sleeved jacket trimmed in satin with a bow at the back of the waistline. Her accessories were in shocking pink and her purse corsage was a white orchid.

Following the ceremony an elegant buffet reception was held in the penthouse ballroom at the Hillcrest Country Club for the 350 guests who attended the ceremony. Music for dancing was by Hal Gordon's Orchestra.

At the reception each of the ladies received a corsage from the groom which expressed a personal note of thanks for attending.

After the reception the newlyweds jetted to Florida and then on to Nassau in the Bahama Islands for a week. For her traveling attire, the bride chose a pink brocade suit with black accessories.

The couple is now making their home in Royal Oak.

LORRAINE MONICA BRIGGS

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lee Briggs of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine Monica, to Alan Lorrain Matthews. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews of Detroit. The bride elect is a 1963 graduate of Bentley High School. A May 1 wedding is planned.

Livonia Gardeners Get French View

March 16 the Livonia Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will meet at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, 16360 Hubbard Road, Livonia. Social hour from 12 to 1 p.m. followed by business meeting until 2 p.m. and the program.

Harold Glassford will discuss French Gardens of early Detroit. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Herbert Winegarden, Mrs. James Cable and Mrs. H. McKenzie.

Wins Scholarship WAVERLY, Iowa — Diane Schkauer of Livonia, has been awarded a High School Honor Scholarship by Wartburg College in recognition of outstanding high school academic achievement. She will enroll at Wartburg next fall.

DATELINE GAYLORD

Tucked into the southeast corner of the Pigeon River State Forest, The Pinnacles rise up to give a commanding view of Otsego County. This new ski area, boasting the only chair lift at a public facility around Gaylord, is but a part of a new resort being developed on what was once the McReynolds Ranch.

The Lindhouts spent four of the last seven days sking down from The Pinnacles . . . we found that one of the best ways to ride a storm in Detroit is to leave the day before it starts. Friends who were to join us the next day were not able to get out of their driveways Thursday and did not arrive until Saturday noon.

Slope manager, Harold Lee, explained that the ski runs were on the southeast side (the Lee side), to catch the snow and to protect skiers from the wind.

Indeed, after the first two stormy days we were convinced. During the storm we learned to ski the soft new snow, winding our way down through groves of white birch, a delightful, feather-floating feeling.

OWNERS TELL US the 2,000 acres abounds with game . . . children were feeding the deer near the lodge . . . there are brook trout aplenty in the Black River which runs through the property . . . and wild mushrooms, morrells and beefsteak, all over.

A swimming pool, riding stable, golf course and a larger hotel are included in plans for the future . . . 840 acres will be set aside for family camping sites. The Pinnacles will be part of a playground with a 12-month season.

BITS AND PIECES . . . travel all that way only to find Mr. and Mrs. Leo Strappazon, owners of your motel, are from Plymouth . . . in the barbershop in Gaylord (and they say women are gabby!)

Bill and the boys found the barber had relatives in Livonia and Northville . . . while skiing I learned to do something called "roulads" (spelling by consensus) . . . my instructor described them as bunny hops . . . after watching me lurch down the hill she called them horse's kicks . . . and now to that pile of vacation laundry.

Mr. Ed. (Joan) Kirk, 28103 W. Seven Mile, Livonia, is in Grace Hospital, 4160 John R, Detroit.

A cheery card would help make her stay a little brighter.

YWCA night at the Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta at the Fisher Tuesday night brought out some Livonia fans. Among those I saw were Jim and Eleanor Dingman, Art and our Postmaster Jo Art and Jean Jenkins. Myra Chandler, Eileen Boze and Frances Hensley all enjoying the music and atmosphere.

Jeanette Harris is teaming up with Verna Lee Stewart to direct the efforts of the Rotary Anns in their Lily Drive for crippled children next month.

This is Jeanette's first try as chairman and she's already signed up such volunteers as Dorothy Rovin, Rosalie Brashier, Becky Parks, Olive Cattoni, Lucey Funk and Lillian Barnes. These women will be joined by many others to sell lilies in major shopping areas come April 9.

Back from California are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zrenchek . . . bringing with them a trophy

Foreign Exchange Student To Speak To Woman's Club

Foreign Exchange student Dorothy Mavrides will speak at the March 18 meeting of the Livonia City Woman's Club. The meeting will begin at 1 p.m. at the Parish Hall of St. Pauls Presbyterian Church.

Miss Mavrides a native of Cyprus, is currently attending Bentley High School. She will discuss Nicotia.

Jackie Trick, a Franklin High School Student, who spent two months in Norway will also tell about her visit.

won at the hair styling competition in Long Beach. Joe says they stopped in Las Vegas just long enough for him to lose some money and his wife to win a little . . . no great damage to either the Zrencheks or the casino.

A ski week at Mt. Tremblant Club in Quebec . . . this is two doctors' prescription for getting away from it all. Delores and Art Petz and Ruth and Gene Porter recently spent the week on the slopes of Mt. Tremblant. It was the first trip for Canadian skiing for the Petzes . . . Delores said they stuck to the more gentle inclines and thoroughly enjoyed it even though temperatures ranged from -5° to -20°. They had 4 hours of instruction a day and 50 miles of skin runs to practice.

Marion Rosbolt and husband Paul were victims of the dock strike in New York when they returned home from an idyllic cruise of the Caribbean. Marion said that other than a bit of rough weather off Cape Hatteras they were blessed with sunshine and calm seas . . . they were glad to carry their own luggage off the ship.

SUSAN MARIE RONEY

Mr. and Mrs. Everett C. Roney of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Marie, to David M. Hunt. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kozar of Livonia. The prospective bridegroom is currently serving in the U.S. Naval Reserve in Philadelphia. A June 19 wedding has been planned.

Movie Parties Scheduled

The PTA of the United Hebrew Schools, Maly & Samuel Cohn Branch will present a movie party on March 14. The film shown will be "The Bell Boy" starring Jerry Lewis. Cartoons will also be shown.

On March 20 an adult movie party featuring "Cat on the Hot Tin Roof" will be held. It will begin at 9 p.m.

Both films will be shown at the Cohn United Hebrew School on West Seven Mile Rd. in Livonia.

PTA NOTES

ROOSEVELT
Election of Officers will be the highlight of the March 11 general meeting. Nominations will be accepted from the floor. During the program children from the rooms of Mr. Lauer, Mrs. Houck and Mr. Draper will demonstrate the benefits of team teaching.

ROSEDALE
A Science Fair will be held in conjunction with a brief regular meeting March 10. The fair will feature science displays on both the classroom and individual levels. Candidates for PTA office will be introduced during the meeting.

CLEVELAND
The March 8 PTA meeting has been rescheduled to March 15 at 7:45 p.m. at the school. Joe Weaver, WJBK-TV newscaster, will show films and discuss the "Appalachia-USA" project. Immediately preceding Mr. Weaver's talk election of officers for the coming year will be held.

Livonia Secretaries to Attend Workshop

Mrs. Dorothea Rieger, secretary to H. W. Cook, national fleet and leasing sales manager, Ford Motor Company, will be one of the "Secretaries on the Spot" during the 13th Annual Secretarial Workshop at Cobo Hall, on Saturday, March 13.

Mrs. Rieger is a member of Town and Country Chapter of the National Secretaries Associations, Livonia. She lives at 29020 Five Mile Rd., Livonia.

Eleanor Senkowski, president, and Kay Hunt, immediate past president of Town and Country Chapter, are members of the steering committee. Livonia residents serving at Cobo Hall as hostesses on March 13 include Helen Ellmore, Tommie Hanlin, and June Ferguson.

Camp Fire Girls Top Candy Sellers

CAMP FIRE GIRLS in Livonia report a record-breaking sale of 4800 boxes of cookies sold in Livonia and 82,000 boxes throughout the Council, topping last year's total by more than 10,000 boxes for their annual February candy sale. Attractive booths were set up in many local stores including Crowleys, Montgomery Wards, Elias Brothers Market, Food Fair, A&P, National and all three branches of the National Bank of Livonia. (above) The Ekolela group from Jefferson school sell Seymour Goldberg, Manager of Crowleys, Livonia Mall. Salesladies are Janice Watkins, Kathy Adams, Debbie Van Riper, Mrs. Mae Van Riper, Judy Dodd and Mrs. Barbara Watkins, District Chairman of Candy Sale. Also in the group are Patty Buck, Holly Stoerker and Patty Gunn. They sold 501 boxes, the third largest number of any group in Livonia. Second with 504 boxes was Mrs. Ann Carey's group and Mrs. Betty Sikorski's group was first with 624 boxes. Monies from the sale goes to support Camp Wathana, plus augment the treasury of each group.

Sharon Faff Weds Irl Hicks in Aspen

Christ Episcopal Church in Aspen, Colorado was the scene of a wedding ceremony when Sharron Kay Faff daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Faff of Livonia and Irl Thomas Hicks of Duluth, Minn. were united in marriage by the Rev. James Shannon on Jan. 9th with a double ring ceremony.

The bride came down the aisle on the arm of her father who give her in marriage. She chose a floor length gown of white bridal satin and lace with a chapel train. Her finger tip length veil was caught with a head-piece of pearls and crystal, and she carried a cascade arrangement of snow flakes and baby white roses and ivy.

Sally Rose of Ecorse was maid of honor and chose a Kelly green gown and carried a cascade of snow flakes and red roses and ivy.

The groom chose as best man James Pool of Aspen, Colorado. The mother of the bride chose a royal blue with matching accessories and white roses.

Steuben Glass Talk Tonight

Glen Bruland of the Charles W. Warren Company will discuss Steuben Glass at the March 10 meeting of the Engineering Society of Detroit Junior Wives. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Reception Room of the Rackham Building.

On March 31 at 8 p.m. the Junior Wives will meet in the Rackham Ballroom for a card party and spring fashion show. Proceeds from the evening will go to summer camp for youngsters from Pilgrim's Project, a day care center for needy mentally retarded children.

SUSAN MARIE GALE

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Gale of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Marie, to Barry Lee Marion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Marion of Livonia. The bride elect is a graduate of Bentley High School and is currently a student at the Virginia Farrell Del Mar School of Cosmetology. Her fiance, also a graduate of Bentley, has attended Northwood Institute at Midland and Schoolcraft Community College. He is currently under contract with the Minnesota Twins. The couple plan a March, 1966 wedding.

Slate Town Hall

(Continued from Page 1) hances treatment, testing, vocational education and rehabilitation of the adult retarded. The committee is hopeful that a fact finding committee will come out of the Town Hall meeting that will work with local retarded children's associations to determine the need, fund source and support. It is hoped to form a study committee of private citizens to operate at the community level to promote the welfare of the mentally retarded. The thought is that this is a community level problem which should be solved by citizens and not passed on to tax supported institutions. All citizens of the community interested in such a project are urged to attend and receive all information available at this time.

Activities Of Senior Citizens In Plymouth

A large group of senior citizens attended funeral services for Mrs. Amelia Eschels, a long-time member. The business meeting on March 4 was devoted to a short session on policy. Recommendations from the President were received with a great deal of enthusiasm. The few members who have not paid 1965 dues are urged to contact Secretary Lena Birkhold.

Dorothy Wilhelm, chairman of trips, has information on the following tours: Vermontville Maple Syrup Festival, April 24 in the daytime; Hawaii, from May 2 through May 16, with a cost of $600 for which a deposit of $50 must be made before March 22; and a five-day boat trip to Duluth in the latter part of June. For additional information on any of the trips, please contact Mrs. Wilhelm as soon as possible.

The next meeting will be held March 11 with a birthday meeting on March 18. The next potluck will be held on March 25.

Plymouth OES Plan Dinner, Reception To Honor Fred Hadley

Fred Hadley, Wayne County Association vice president, will be honored by the Plymouth Chapter No. 115, Order of the Eastern Star, with a dinner and reception on Tuesday, March 16. Dinner will be served at 6:30 with the reception at 7:30 p.m.

The Pontiac drill team will exemplify the degrees as given in 1876 after the reception. For dinner reservations, call Secretary Gladys Colgan at GA 1-3682.

Police

(Continued from Page 1) tion from the Michigan Municipal League states that the median of employees for cities of population 10,000 to 25,000 is 1.41 per thousand. "The low being .06 to 4.80 which means that for our population figure we would have to have at least six officers and perhaps as many as 48 officers. The cost in salary would range from $36,000 to $292,800. "Realistically, the salaries would approximate $43,000.00 for the establishment of a police force which would keep one car operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"Because of the cost factor and the apparent inefficiency of a small police department this committee suggests that establishment of our own police force would not be feasible.

"Additionally we feel that interest in this area of police protection as to quality, efficiency and adequacy is especially high at this time. "Response from the City of Plymouth and from Northville indicates that discussions between these governmental bodies and the Township of Plymouth relative to providing additional protection to our Township populous would be most desirable and this committee so recommends.

"Moreover, this committee recommends that the Township delegate responsibility for such discussions to a committee appointed by the Supervisor at the earliest possible date and that such committee be instructed to report its findings to the Township Board not later than 90 days after its appointment for the purpose of ascertaining progress.

Milliken

(Continued from Page 1) ices," he said. "The tax reform proposition is an explosive political issue and several things will have to be ironed out in the near future.

"First we must have an agreement by all parties that reform is necessary. Then all interested and involved parties must go along and third it must be a bipartisan effort in which each party takes a stand on its position and then work it out to really put the house in order.

"We must have a complete, painful overhaul of the tax structure. It requires wisdom and courage to act now and needs the confidence of business and individuals alike."

Milliken emphasized that a sustained economic growth needs (1) a new level of co-operation between all groups, (2) greater diversification of industry, (3) continued study (4) an end of all forms of discrimination, (5) tax revision to all, (6) stronger industrial promotion and (7) continued strong support of education in the field of secondary school and higher education.

"Economic growth is stimulated by education," he said. "All of us must recognize the challenge to provide good schools in all communities."

Edward Draugelis served as toastmaster and introduced Dr. Ray Barber, chairman of the Forum committee, who gave a few remarks telling of the hopes of the group to make the meetings the most talked-of events in the community. Rev. Peter Schweitzer, of the First Methodist Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

Tim Graves Named Cadet Major at Air Force Academy

Timothy J. Graves, son of Mrs. Jo A. Graves, 346 Auburn, Plymouth, has been named a squadron executive officer, with the rank of cadet major, at the U. S. Air Force Academy. Cadet Graves, a member of the class of '65, will be awarded a B.S. degree and a commission as an Air Force second lieutenant upon graduation from the academy. The cadet is a graduate of Plymouth High School.

Board OK's 1965-6 School Calendar

School bells will sound on Thursday, Sept. 9 next fall to officially end the 1965 summer recess and open the 1965-6 school year.

That was the word from the Plymouth School Board Monday night when it approved a tentative calendar which calls for classes to end on June 17, 1966. Teachers will be called in for the two-day pre-school planning conference on Sept. 7 and 8 and then all will be ready for the influx of students on Thursday for the opening day and the first full day of classes of the new term.

The first semester will end on Friday, Jan. 28 and the new semester will start the following Monday, Jan. 31. The tentative calendar:

School Supt. Heads Final Lecture

School Supt. Russell Isbister will discuss "Equal Opportunities as Applied to Plymouth Schools," in the fourth and final lecture of a series sponsored by the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity. The program, originally scheduled for Feb. 25, was postponed until Thursday, March 11, due to the heavy snowfall and blizzard. It will be held in the senior high school annex auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Previous speakers in the series were: Mrs. Ruth Ekstein, welfare consultant from Ann Arbor; Mayor Richard Wernette and Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay; Plymouth Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher and Inspector Dan Martin from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

PHS Seniors To Take NMSC Exams

Members of the 1966 graduating class of Plymouth High who wish to enter the 1965-6 National Merit Scholarship competition are urged to register now at the school guidance office according to Assistant Principal John M. Hoben.

The qualifying test will be given at the high school next Saturday (March 13) at 9 a.m. Students who will complete secondary school in 1966 and enter college in the same calendar year are eligible for scholarship consideration in the merit scholarship program. Merit scholarships are four-year awards. The extent of a winner's financial need determines the amount of his or her stipend.

the student must take the test when it is offered. Participating students must pay a $1.25 fee. Any student who is unable to pay the fee should consult Hoben.

In addition to the awards made by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, some 230 business corporations, foundations, colleges and professional organizations, unions, trusts, and individuals give scholarships through the program.

NMSC was established in 1955 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. An additional Ford Foundation grant to extend the Merit Program through 1970 was announced in 1962.

Council

(Continued from Page 1) be projected and the cost apportioned on a per capita basis; and that the City Commission recognized the financial impact on the Township for supplying such police service and should arrange a sharing of cost schedule over a two or three year period as may best accommodate the Township resources.

Now the Commission will wait for the Township to take the next step after the Trustees have time to absorb the report.

Assistant City Manager Kenneth Fisher, who has been serving as acting City Manager since Albert Glassford departed for Albion in mid-December, received a pay boost of $100 per month with a $40 car allowance until such time as a City Manager is named. The hike is retroactive to Dec. 15.

The Commission agreed to furnish water for a proposed 500-unit housing project in Northville Township at the request of J. L. Hudson, president of J. L. Hudson Realty Co. However, the service was approved with the proviso that the Northville Township Board serve as collecting agency to assure the City of the $25,000 cost of a booster system.

The Commissioners instructed Acting City Manager Fisher and Building Inspector Charles Thompson to deny a building permit for the proposed new apartment on Ann Arbor Road near the intersection of Byron and Ford in lieu of a pending amendment to the building code. The amendment became effective Tuesday.

Display Science Fair Projects at St. Agatha

Seventh and eighth grade students at Redford Township's St. Agatha School presented a display of science projects last week in preparation for the Eighth Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair Regionals.

Faculty members at Pearson Jr. High School judged the exhibits, which was under the direction of science co-ordinator Mrs. Shirley LaVigne.

Winners in the contest included Christopher Calkins, George Wietor, Leonard Kutschman, Gary Kern, Keith Kelly, Stephen Bednark, Christine Annis and William Shaw, all of grade eight, while Ralph Koroly and Donald Paganini took honorable mentions.

Seventh grade winners included Diane Hartsell, Joan Cindric, John Keefe, Raymond Johnson, Randolph Bernard, Michelle Castiglione, Michelle Damphouse, Gregory Smalls and Carol Adamezyk; and honorable mentions went to Elaine Koroly, Robert Jess, John Gierak and David Dahl.

Judges were Mr. Robert Brown, Stuart Hobbs, Leo Racot and Manuel Dean.

Six Lose Licenses

A half-dozen suburban motorists have had their driver's licenses suspended for driving infractions, according to the Secretary of State's office in Lansing.

Listed in the latest report are Charles Jerry Meshry, 19813 Inkster Rd., Livonia; Dennis Jarvis Dickerson, 12410 Camden, Livonia; Larry Roy Hall, 15412 Gaylord, Redford Township; Clinton Leon Tinsley, 19325 Inkster, Livonia; and Keith Edward Warner, 1403 Sheldon, Plymouth.

Roberts Will Speak to Teen GOP

Farrell E. Roberts will be the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Livonia and Farmington Teen-Age Republicans. This meeting, which will be open to the public, will be held on Tuesday, March 16, at First Farmington Savings and Loan, near the intersection of Grand River and Orchard Lake.

Farrell Roberts is the Republican candidate seeking election to the State Senate.

The Teen-Age Republican Club is an organization of high school students who are interested in politics and who wish to be active in local affairs. They were active in last fall's election, and they intend to participate in the current campaign.

Andrew Named To Development Association

Daniel R. Andrew, Industrial Coordinator for the City of Livonia, has been elected to membership in the Michigan Professional Industrial Development Association. This organization meets in Lansing every other month and is composed of individuals who are engaged in full time industrial development activities.

Mr. Andrew has been appointed to the Legislative Committee of this association, which is chaired by George Moffett, Vice-President, Leho Land Corporation, a division of H. F. Campbell Construction Company. The other member of the committee is Robert Gage, Manager of Industrial Development, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

On March 18 this committee will meet with the Economic Development Committee of the House of Representatives to discuss feasible economic measures which can be taken at the state level to encourage expansion within Michigan.

Roberts and McNamara to Debate Thursday

In one of their first public meetings in Livonia, Farrell Roberts and Edward McNamara, both candidates for 14th District State Senator, will discuss the issues and answer questions Thursday, March 11, at 8:30 p.m., at the Rosedale Gardens Civic Association Clubhouse at 9611 Hubbard.

All residents of the Rosedale Gardens area are invited to the meeting which will start at 8:30 p.m.

Other speakers also will appear on the program to discuss the Parks and Open Spaces Proposal and the new Livonia Library. Progress on the latter will be described by Mrs. Robert Miquelon, vice chairman of the Library Commission. Information on the new pool will be given.

BEFORE FARMINGTON KIWANIANS

McNamara, Roberts Debate Campaign Issues

"These gentlemen are both well qualified," and "I wouldn't be afraid to vote for either one" were some of the comments heard as the friendly combatants rushed to other speaking engagements following their debate before the Farmington Kiwanis Club last Tuesday March 2.

Contesting for the Senate seat of Michigan's 14th District are Edward H. McNamara (D) of Livonia and Farrell E. Roberts (R) of West Bloomfield.

McNamara led off with an interesting explanation of his "Ph.B." degree from the University of Detroit, this to correct being introduced as "Ph.D." The degree was for his Minor in philosophy. He then outlined his experience in, and the needs of, suburban areas.

Roberts followed, explaining which issues he felt they agreed on and which they disagreed on.

Summed up, they seemed to be in agreement on: State aid to education, reduction of sales tax on food and medicine; easing the small business tax; the need for fiscal reform; improved programs on mental health.

The major differences appeared in two areas: to limit property tax; and the issue of a flat rate vs. progressive income tax. Both thought a State income tax inevitable.

Roberts stated that a reduction in property taxes is unrealistic and impractical, as there is no source of revenue to compensate, excepting the income tax. Further, he pointed out, the present Constitution limits the State to a flat rate income tax, and the rate required to make up a property tax loss would place too great a burden on the taxpayers.

He favored the flat rate income tax proposal with a $600 deduction as being sufficient for the State's needs and fairer to the taxpayers. He opposed the graduated tax for taking too large a portion from the suburbs where the average income is highest.

McNamara favored reducing property taxes, explaining that property ownership is no longer a fair means of determining wealth. Although this method was valid a hundred years ago, today it is not an indication of ability to pay.

Many low income families are buying their homes. Often high income people rent, preferring the greater freedom of non-ownership.

McNamara opposed the flat rate income tax. No matter what percentage the tax, he said, any amount to the $3,500 or $4,500 annual income family is a hardship. The graduated tax is based on ability to pay; and, he contended, the greatest needs for education, services and utilities are in the suburbs.

Typical questions asked were: "Isn't a graduated income tax a penalty on success and a method the Federal Government uses excessively already?" Roberts: "The larger danger of a graduated tax used to excess is that it becomes a hindrance to investment." McNamara: "Despite the painfulness, it is the Government's most successful source of revenue."

"Today the auto is a necessity. Would you remove the sales tax from it also?" McNamara: "The sales tax should be removed from the basic necessities such as food, medicine,

Roberts Hits Tax Stand Of Opponent

In a blistering indictment of his Democratic opponent in the 14th Senatorial district race, former Republican State Senator Farrell E. Roberts said this week that "they were faced with a heavier burden of income tax than most people would conceive."

In explaining the differential in his view to his Democratic opponent, Roberts pointed out that if Michigan were to have an income tax, he was solidly in favor of a flat tax assessment.

Should his Democratic opponent be elected, Roberts said residents of this district would find themselves faced with a senatorial representative who has openly gone on record favoring a graduated income tax.

Roberts pointed out that since the areas encompassed in the 14th district are among the highest income groups in the state, the graduated income tax, as proposed by his opponent, would force residents to pay far more than they would under the flat tax basis.

Roberts cited actual family per capita income from the 1960 census, showing the average family income in the areas covered by this Senatorial district. "Facts cannot be denied," said Roberts, "and anyone voting to send a dedicated graduated income tax candidate to Lansing is only asking the State of Michigan to take more hard-earned dollars out of their pockets in this day of high-cost living."

Roberts further stated, "This particular Senatorial seat, at this late date, is no position to be filled by a state political neophyte. Because of my years of service in both the Legislature and the Senate, my experience and accomplishments, in addition to my dollar-saving stand on the income tax, make it equally as interesting to members of both parties."

"Records of my years of service prove my ability and willingness to be of service in or on any issue which has been in the best interest for the areas which I served, regardless, many times, or party affiliation."

"As my record will show, I supported both the Swainson and Romney tax reform programs."

"If I am elected the residents of this area will have a dedicated public servant, whose entire energy will be devoted to those things best for the people I shall serve. My records of attendance, accomplishments and ability during my tenure in Lansing will stand as a testimonial to this statement."

etc." Roberts: General agreement.

The audience varied on the policies they preferred, but were in agreement that these are two sincere and competent campaigners.

Ed Clifton Named To General Manager's Staff at Evans Plant

Evans Products Company's Transportation Equipment Division in Plymouth has announced the appointment of Edwin J. Clifton as Staff Assistant in the General Manager's office. Clifton, who has an extensive background in finance and operations, will work on special analyses and short and long-range planning projects.

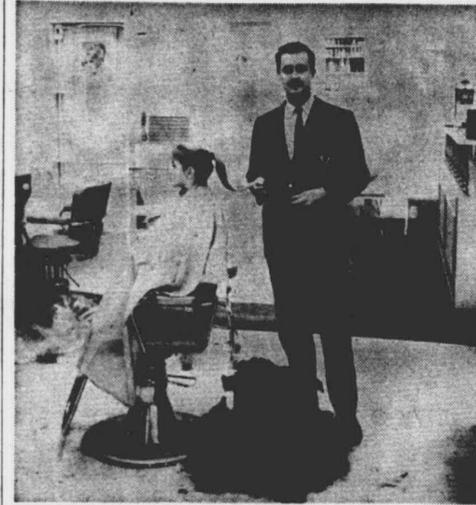

Prior to joining Evans, Clifton was Treasurer-Controller of Armetal S.A.C.I. in Argentina, a 50 per cent owned subsidiary of the Budd Company. He has also worked for the Continental Diamond-Fibre Corporation, a subsidiary of the Budd Company in Newark, Delaware, as Manager-Cost Accounting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton, and their son, plan to live in Plymouth.

Girl Scouts Camp Out

Girl Scout Troop #175 spent a snowy weekend camping with Mrs. Reagan's troop on February 5, 6, 7. Members sang songs around a campfire, hiked, made bird feeders as a conservation project, and saw slides of Vicki Papke and Mrs. Reagan's European trip.

In December the troop made cookies for the Plymouth State Training Home. The following girls have completed a training course for Program Aide: Bonnie Breese, Barb Allen, Karen Lovett, Pam Slade, Judy Gleason and Gail Little. Barb Allen, Bonnie Breese, Sharon Vincent and Karen Burns have completed their course for International Aide. They have been helping Brownie, Junior, and Cadette troops.

Reports on UN Seminar: Meaning of International Co-Operation

Editor's Note: Clara M. Vincent of Livonia attended the Seminar for United Nations envoys on "The Meaning of International Cooperation" at the UN Building in New York last month. She represented Farmington's Universalist-Unitarian Church. Here is her report.)

By CLARA VINCENT
 Herein are a few highlights of the Seminar for United Nations Envoys on "The Meaning of International Cooperation," which was held at the UN on Feb. 4, 5 and 6.

Sixty or more envoys streamed in from New York, the New England States, the Midwest and Florida. Headquarters were at the UN Church Center, where some of the sessions were held. Others were at the UN where we heard a lecture by Lt. Col. V. S. M. de Guinsbour on "International Cooperation in Peace Keeping Operations." Pointing out that "Peace has reigned in the Holy Land since 1956 because of the force there under the UN." The cost is very small compared to the cost of previous bloody clashes.

Eloquent Betty Bownes gave a briefing on "The Main Issues before the General Assembly." "None of the UN members want to push on Article 19, re: members losing their vote over non-payment of the assessment for peace-keeping. The Soviet Union is one of 13 nations which objected to the Congo operations. The political aspects now overshadow the economic aspects but much great work continues through self-help projects in under developed countries."

The meaning of international cooperation was well presented through three films entitled "Power on the Doorstep," "The Widening Gap" and "Killer at Large" (meaning smallpox). It is not only the underdeveloped nations, but those which are highly industrialized that benefit by the eradication of disease and hunger. Brooking through the large bookstore at the UN gives one a deeper appreciation of the great work that is carried on daily in spite of political differences.

Elizabeth Swayzee mentioned the disappointment that no sessions of the General Assembly were being held, but felt, like other speakers, that it was better not to push on the burning issue of peace-keeping assessments.

Mr. Fitzhugh Green of the U.S. Information Agency spoke on "Propaganda as a Point of View," and deplored the fact that many people get excited over viewpoints that differ from their own or ours at the UN, which is a center of propaganda, and that is why it is there. Propaganda is a bad word for many people, but its uses are many, and even cathedrals and impressive government buildings represent a "Point of View."

At other sessions we learned how much economics has to do with trying to maintain Peace in the World. The Ambassador from Lebanon, George Hakim, spoke of the help now being extended to developing countries through technical assistance and more recently through the International Development Association (IDA), which supplies long-term loans at low interest rates.

Equally informative was Selcuk Tarlan, Secretary of Turkey's Permanent Mission to the UN. We were left with the impression that many hard economic facts must be understood and reckoned with if Peace and Progress is to be our lot.

"The political situation is serious, but not hopeless, for both sides have made concessions," said Brain Urquhart, Principal Officer for Special Political Affairs. He said "One shortcoming of the Peace keeping operations is that it does nothing to solve the basic problem; merely tries to prevent bloodshed."

Earl Foell of the Christian Science Monitor said: "Peace keeping forces tend to help maintain the status quo as in the Congo with its Belgian mining interests. The present crisis must be settled on a high level . . . China is not interested in joining the UN under present conditions. The popular attitude toward China has changed because of business pressure and expanding trade is coveted. You can isolate just so long, then the policy backfires and contact must be established."

A study kit on International Cooperation Year will soon be mailed by the UN Fellowship for Social Justice. The Rev. Homer Jack spoke of plans to broaden the work of the new Department of Social Responsibility, which he directs. He said many of the churches have failed to send in resolutions for adoption at

stressed ways to arouse local participation by "contacting a local chapter of the American Association for the UN, sponsor a World Community Day, or organize Study Groups, show good UN films. Envoys should lend in helping to prepare Resolutions for the General Assemby of the UUA." We are urged to work through schools and libraries, asking that they get speakers on UN and maintain a UN Bookshelf, and get items into local papers. All of which helps to counteract the irrational anti-UN prejudice being peddled.

Look Over Your Fence, Neighbor!

Why doesn't the Observer confine all of its news coverage in one community strictly to the activities of that particular community? Why does the Observer have news of all communities in its circulation area in each of the four newspapers in its chain that covers Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township, Farmington and portions of Nankin and Canton Townships.

The answers to these often asked questions provide an excellent insight into the philosophy of Western Wayne County's fastest growing chain of weekly newspapers.

Under the guidance of the late Paul Chandler, the Observer Newspapers adopted a policy of having a separate newspaper in each of its four communities but to spread news of each community in each of the papers in the firm belief that readers no longer are interested in news of only their community.

The mushrooming growth in the suburbs and especially in the Observer Newspapers' circulation area has brought a new group of residents. These people come from Redford Township to Plymouth, Livonia to Plymouth, Plymouth to Livonia and Redford, Farmington to Redford, Livonia and Plymouth and vice versa.

Realizing this, the Observer Newspapers' thinking is that the newcomers want to know what is happening in their old home area as well as in the new.

The days when Plymouth, Farmington, Livonia or Redford Township could think in terms of only that area within its limits—as if surrounded by a wall closing out all other sections—is rapidly becoming a thing of the past. The newcomers in Plymouth want to know what's happening in Livonia just as the folks in Livonia want to know of the activities of their former neighbors and still friends.

The sports field has expanded to the point where fans are just as much concerned with the events in neighboring communities as in their own. These are just a few of the reasons why the Observer Newspapers aim for overall coverage as much as possible.

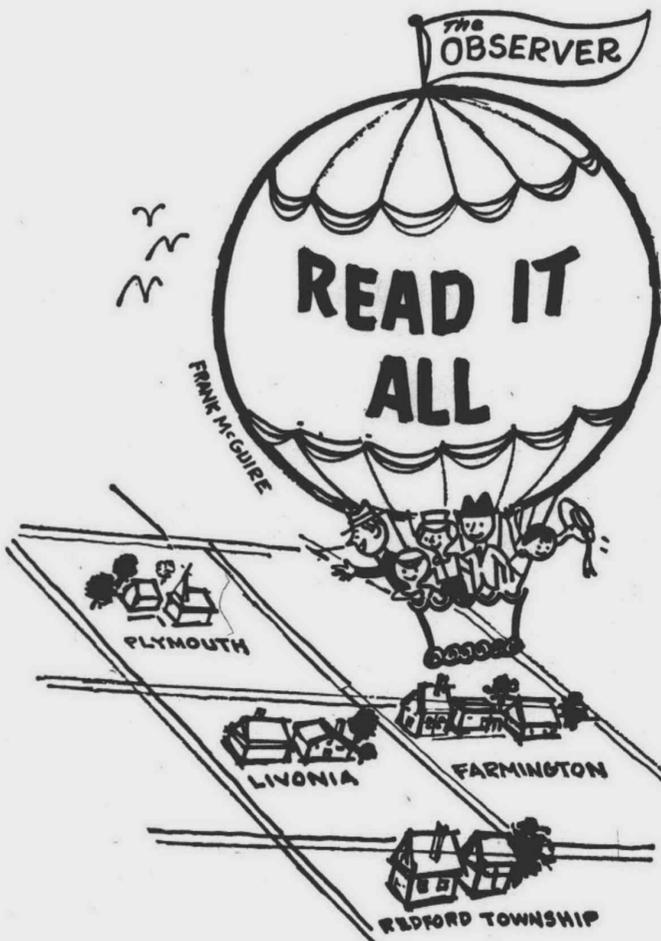

The recent suicide of a juvenile in the Livonia Police Station; the triple murder there last summer; the Livonia bank robbery, had just as much interest in the surrounding areas as within the city limits of that thriving community.

The arrest of the state chief of the Nazi party in Farmington attracted attention from all corners and there wasn't a reader anywhere who didn't have more than a casual interest in the pictures of the Big Snow as it hit and affected adjoining communities.

Then, too, there is the matter of advertising. In the Observer Newspapers, readers in the five-community area have a chance to glance at the numerous food store offerings before deciding where the bargains are and where to shop.

These are just a few of the reasons why the Observer believes in an overall coverage. Naturally, we have a front page devoted to the community in which that particular newspaper is written and edited but basically, the Observer newspapers are of interest to all. That's what we aim for and hope we have achieved.

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

There are numerous serious items to contemplate on the news scene this week. In fact the cartoon idea of the newsboy who is dispensing tranquilizers along with newspapers has more merit than mischief.

I doubt that last week's ugly confrontation in Alabama will be repeated many more times. Not that violence in the South is something new — it's existed for years and years. But certainly it's ugly and shocking to see it "live" on the 11 o'clock news like "you're on candid camera, boys." They exposed their vitriolic hatred to millions, whose consciences can't help but be disturbed.

When the headlines get this bad and one's own foundation is shaky, a change of the scene is in order. If your time is limited join the jet stream and you can go anywhere. (No, you can't get "jet-lag" on just one trip.) It carried me to Miami and back.

You return refreshed, and able to take the news without a tranquilizer "chaser."

It was good to relax and observe what the leisure set is doing that's new and interesting.

If you're much older than I (or the same) perhaps you can remember the first time you heard Frank Sinatra — his was the most exciting voice of the forties. There is a new voice coming along I'd like to predict will go to the top. His name is John Gary. His "Yellow Bird" recording will make you cry.

Joining the world-of-the-sun-set, I was intrigued with a new gimmick out of France that is like a regular juke box EXCEPT—along with your musical selection you also get a delightful film strip in living color. Each musical recording, of course, brings on a different movie. Since it is made in France there are a couple of bikini-clad women in the act. I have to admit they are prettier on the scene than I anticipated. This was the first time the suit did go with the girl, neither too soon, or too late. In my mind they must be a lot of bother.

There was an especially beautiful water scene — boats and skiers cavorting in color. If anyone is interested in transplanting this to their local dine-out spot, the name of the dealership is available.

Along the same musical line, my host family took me one evening to the home of a friend who deals in electronics. Now, I've heard of stereo, super stereo, Hi Fi, etc. but this is something else again.

From behind a planter box there come spotlights in vivid true shades of blue, yellow, orange and red. The record selection is made and slipped on the stem and as the music plays different color spots made designs and intricacies on the walls and ceilings.

Guests, of course, are sitting around on cushions on the floor around a wall to wall low coffee table in semi-darkness.

Congregation On The Move

Originally organized in Farmington, the Birmingham Temple is an affluent and gifted congregation of reform Jews. Its spiritual leader is eloquent, high-minded, and a national celebrity.

But they have become a buffeted and embattled sect.

Its members and its Rabbi, Sherwin Wine, feel they are being persecuted.

Their persecutors are not storm troopers, nor cossacks; but the subtle, irresistible pressures of conformity—demanding that society be composed, to borrow a phrase from a famous folk song, of "little boxes all the same."

Three months ago, the Detroit Free Press described Rabbi Wine as an atheist. He immediately complained that this was a misleading simplification of his views.

Nevertheless, a storm of protest burst upon him. It was led by some of his fellow reform rabbis, demanding that he recant.

There followed—for reasons unclear—his congregation's expulsion from the Birmingham Masonic Temple and then from Levey Junior High School in Southfield.

They are now worshipping at the Birmingham Unitarian Church—and wondering about their future.

In Rabbi Wine's own words: "The events of the past three months have subjected the members of our congregation to the continuous assault of the uninformed and insecure. The reactions of our people have varied from violent defensiveness to passive endurance. Each of us is searching for the effective way to pursue the positive goals of the Temple within the framework of the outside hostility..."

"No other congregation has been subjected to such organized harassment as we have received."

Rabbi Wine is angry at the Southfield Public School System for "having offered their facilities for our use with no trace of reservation, then responding to the first signs of public hysteria by asking our withdrawal."

To Rabbi Wine, the moral issue is clearly "religious freedom." "Levey Junior High School is a public edifice. The taxpayers of Southfield who erected this building individually subscribe to a wide variety of contrary religious beliefs none of which is legally entitled to state endorsement. To allow a municipal authority to rent public facilities on the basis of theological commitment is to make city government a religious censor. This role is morally absurd and constitutionally indefensible."

Whatever others may think of the Rabbi's religious views, his congregation has held together under the pressure.

He obviously satisfies their spiritual needs. This, in the final analysis, is all that should matter.

A very wise Frenchman named Alexis DeToqueville visited our shores 200 years ago. He came away much impressed by our democracy. But he pointed out that it had, contained within it, a built-in danger of tyranny.

Not the danger of a small group tyrannizing the majority. But rather of the majority forcing its will upon those who would differ with it.

The travails of the Birmingham Temple point up the wisdom of DeToqueville's observation.

THE READER SPEAKS UP: Reality, Books, Children

Editor:
Upon reading the editorial "On the Right to Criticize" in the Feb. 24 Observer, written by Morrie Ryskind, I wonder: What does Mr. Ryskind really find so objectionable about Baldwin's "Another Country"? Is it the frank honesty and realism that bothers him? Maybe he would have Mr. Baldwin "clean up" some of the risqué parts. He may feel that the characters and subjects of "Another Country" are unworthy of being written about. Is it so immoral to be truthful?

"Another Country" seems to me, a more moral book than some of the popular movies that we allow our children and teenagers to see. I do not see anything resembling real life in the famous James Bond movies being shown in the area. Maybe, we do want to escape from life and the unreality of Hollywood is more appealing than seeing life as it is for a great many people.

In my opinion, "Another Country" would never corrupt a healthy mind because the tragedy of it is all too clear. It is, on the other hand, difficult for young people to separate fact from fantasy, and movies which make immorality and irresponsibility look like fun (with no harm done) can give a distorted picture of the adult world.

James Baldwin shows great sensitivity and depths of understanding for the unfortunate tragic lives that he portrays so vividly in "Another Country." Maybe we should excuse his "breathing fire" as an expression of strong compassion and concern for his fellowman.

Sure, you have the "right to criticize" Mr. Ryskind, but let's not, through censorship, prevent others from their right to read and criticize.

Sincerely,
LOIS KEHRL

Storm's Goodwill

Something wonderful happened tonight that I think most of us will remember for a long time to come.

True, the snowstorm did cause us inconvenience, but out of it came the hidden reserve of goodwill and fellowship that has been hidden up 'til now in the hearts and minds of all of us. Out of the common misery, I have experienced bravery, love sacrifice and just plain honest feeling for someone other than oneself and I, for one, have come away feeling a new and wonderful respect for my fellow Livonians.

What struck me forcefully was the fact that there are men in the world who would have us believe that upbringing of young minds can be left to chance and that all the foul, disgusting things a child could absorb will cut any ill effects on his mind.

After seeing our generation tonight giving its heart out to those in need, I cannot envision that we were left to shift for ourselves when it came to learning about life. I know it was due to parental love and guidance that led our generation to become what it is today and I for one am very proud to belong to a city that has these types of citizens in it.

I cannot begin to thank you enough for the courage you are displaying in carrying forth Paul Chandler's policies.

'Covenant with Death'

Editor:
After reading the League of Women Voters opinion on the UN we feel obligated to give a different opinion. When the U.S. placed its faith in the UN, it entered into a covenant with Death and Hell.

Isaiah 28:18 in the Holy Bible: "Your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand."

The foreign policy of Isaiah was very simple, so simple that if Isaiah were running for President in the U.S. he would be condemned for oversimplifying complex issues. He most certainly would be branded an "isolationist."

Isaiah recommended that Judah stand alone and trust God in the midst of hostile nations. King Ahaz preferred to make an alliance with Egypt (sound familiar?) The leaders in Jerusalem thought that because of necromantic practices connected with Egyptian mysteries they were secure against Death and Hell, but Isaiah assured them that these were lies (sound familiar?) and that their "covenant with death" would be "disannulled."

In the midst of this discourse Isaiah called for ethical standards and faith in God. Isaiah's warning is applicable to the Covenant of the UN. If the American people are not to flinch under the trials ahead of them they must find a more sure object of faith than the UN.

The bankruptcy of the UN has been in the making for a long time, but the war in the Congo brought it to a head. Neither France nor Russia would contribute to this "police action" and USA temporarily delayed the insolvency of the UN by buying the lion's share of a $200 million bond issue.

Now, in addition to its financial plight, the UN is facing a more serious problem. According to Article 19 of the Charter, any member in arrears on its dues loses its voting privilege in the general assembly—so UN recesses to avoid this—Is this solving problems? Let's get UN out of US and US out of UN and trust God.

VIRGINIA CRAWFORD,
President, Michigan
Council for Statehood.

'Marvelous Job'

Editor:
I feel that Bob Shaw and employees of the Livonia DPW are to be commended for the marvelous job they did in cleaning the city's streets and highways following last Thursday's snowstorm. When I finally ventured out Friday afternoon I was amazed at the job they had done. They are also to be commended for cleaning, without a jurisdictional dispute, roads that are the responsibility of the County Road Commission.

According to reports, there were many complaints by thoughtless citizens regarding the fact that their autos were immobilized by snow pushed aside by city snowplows. I find it difficult to sympathize with them. However, I think a need is pointed up—that is that we need an ordinance prohibiting parking of cars and trucks on city streets beyond a certain hour of the day, say 4 a.m., the most important benefit being keeping unsightly vehicles in driveways and garages.

I have noticed that candidates who are not residents of Livonia but who are running for office in districts of which Livonia is a part have consistently ignored our ordinance against the placement of political signs on public rights-of-way. This was obvious in both elections of last year and the Senatorial primary of two weeks ago. I feel that it is the responsibility of the Mayor through the various means at his disposal to inform these candidates of our ordinance and to see that the ordinance is enforced.

ROBERT D. BENNETT

Redford Roads Need Action

The time is ripe for residents on the rustic roads in Redford Township to rise up and demand that the Township Board get after the Wayne County Road Commission to do something about the streets that are nothing but a continuation of chuck holes after the recent thaw.

This come on top of almost two weeks of nothing but icy covered streets that made driving and walking precarious to say the least.

Those who profess a love for the "rustic" look may have their big moment in the late spring, summer and early fall but conditions of the past three weeks have been anything but perfect.

Driving along Ross Drive, which should be one of the Township's show spots since it borders the beautiful Western Golf and Country Club, in the last two days would make one wonder if anything had ever been done to the roads.

Granted that it may be good exercise since drivers and passengers alike are well shaken by the time they traverse the route from Saratoga to Beech on Ross Drive, none will admit that it is pleasant.

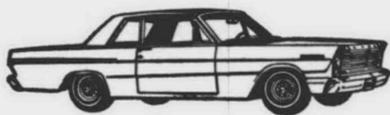

Matter of fact after one had had a speedometer cable shaken loose, power brakes jammed and tires ruined by the rough road—then he began to wonder if the Township Board and the Road Commission are in cahoots to see just how little they can do before complaints flood the town hall.

What a pity that residents live in homes in the $25,000 to $30,000 class and travel over roads that even those residing in the poverty stricken areas of Appalachia would be ashamed of.

Again we reiterate, it's about time the Trustees and the Road Commission did something to remedy a sick, sad situation.

ADVICE TO GRANDPARENTS

Back in the days when I was a favorite grandchild, I can remember my mother saying, "Oh, dear, here's another letter from grandmother wanting pictures of the children. We'll simply have to get some film for the camera and take some."

Today the smart grandmother comes visiting with her own KODAK INSTAMATIC Camera, and no wonder. With her INSTAMATIC Camera she can take the kinds of snapshots she really wants with no fuss or bother. For the INSTAMATIC Camera makes it easy to take the pictures you want most.

If there are grandparents in your family, why not present them with a camera on their next visit? Present it loaded with color film and set to go. Then invite them to use it all they want, to get a satisfying batch of snapshots to keep their memories fresh until their next visit.

Any of the new KODAK INSTAMATIC Outfits would be ideal gifts for grandparents. Come in and see for yourself.

The growing use of ELECTRIC HEAT IN SCHOOL BUILDINGS has made a lot of people curious---

here are the FACTS

ROSSE ILE HIGH SCHOOL, in southwest Wayne County, another fine, new total electric school.

AKRON-FAIRGROVE HIGH SCHOOL, Tuscola County, will be as modern as tomorrow—a total electric school.

Before we even begin to talk about the superiority of electric heat, let's look an old bugaboo straight in the eye... it costs too much.

It simply isn't so!

Something can only cost too much in comparison with something similar. In this case, it's the operating cost of an electric heat system vs. the operating cost of some other kind of heating system.

Operating Cost Is More Than Just Fuel Cost

Perhaps operating cost should really be thought of as cost of ownership. In this broader context, there are a number of building construction, building equipment, annual repair and maintenance and annual labor costs which are affected by choice of heating systems.

Among the building construction and equipment costs which are altered or eliminated, according to choice of heating system, are these:

Building Item Required	Electric Heat	Fuel Fired System
Boiler room	No	Yes
Smokestack	No	Yes
Fuel storage	No	Usually
Steam or hot water piping	No	Yes
Pipe trenches	No	Yes
Boiler and controls	No	Yes
Boiler water pump(s)	No	Yes
Boiler water treating system	No	Yes

To keep this set of comparisons absolutely fair, the insulation of an electrically heated school must be better than the applications which are now acceptable in most school buildings.

It would pay to have topnotch insulation in EVERY school—pay off in heating economy and in student-teacher comfort, both winter and summer. But since it is not yet in widespread demand in all school plants, this may be an item of increased cost in an electrically heated building. The additional cost, however, when related to total construction cost, is insignificant.

Expansion Costs

In a constantly growing area like southeast Michigan, new school buildings invariably are increased in size—very often, more than once in their careers. Always a major item of cost when classrooms or other facilities are added is complete replacement of a too-small boiler or addition of boiler units.

Even when a foresighted school administration—anticipating building enlargement—installs an over-capacity boiler to begin with, school funds are tied up in the too big boiler and its auxiliary equipment. This non-productive use of money may be a burden for several years.

School building expansion, when the heating system's electric, is never a problem or an undue expense. All that's required is electrical distribution from the transformer to the newly added school plant—a normal cost of expansion which would apply regardless of type of heating system.

Annually Recurring Costs

There is another class of ownership costs which needs consideration when comparing electric heat to other types of heating systems for a school. These are the various expenses which recur, most of them on an annual basis.

Typical Recurrent Costs	Electric Heat	Fuel Fired System
Boiler maintenance	No	Yes
Boiler inspection fee	No	Yes
Boiler insurance	No	Yes
Boiler attendant(s)—labor	No	Yes
Ash disposal	No	Usually

Another recurrent cost which is sizable enough to help make the difference in heating systems is the amount of interest paid on the money which is borrowed to build a school.

An electrically heated school will be less costly to design and build because you are not buying a boiler with all its auxiliary equipment. No money goes for a boiler room, smokestack or a steam or hot water distribution system. So it follows—a less costly school, less money to borrow, less interest to pay on the borrowed money.

Electric Heat—Low Cost Comfort For Children And Teachers

The Superintendent of Schools of a school district in northern Ohio recently prepared a two-year comparative analysis* of heating operational costs for four of the schools under his supervision. It was a painstaking and detailed comparison, taking into account these major factors: fuel cost, heating labor cost, auxiliary fuel, auxiliary power, ash disposal, heating system maintenance.

Two of the schools have coal-fired boilers, one has a gas-fired boiler, and one is completely heated electrically. Quoting from the report, "... the cost (for heating the electrically heated school) during the 1962-63 school year was 5¢ per square foot less than at the other three buildings... For the 1963-64 year, the savings was 12.9¢ per square foot."

In subsequent years, the savings should be closer to the 12.9¢ per square foot figure than to the 5¢ figure. This is a conclusion drawn from the following facts.

In 1962-63, the electrically heated school was a new structure. Some of the heating cost for it went to drying out concrete, masonry and plaster. This is an extraordinary expense not to be repeated.

Also, in February 1964, the utility serving the electrically heated school reduced its rate for electric power from 1.6¢ to 1.5¢ per kilowatt-hour.

And, finally, by 1963-64, the staff at the electrically heated school were better able to control electric power consumption.

One condition which helped establish the greater per-square-foot savings in 1963-64 may not always hold true. The weather during the '63-'64 heating season was slightly warmer than it was in '62-'63.

*Copies of this analysis will be made available to qualified inquirers on request.

Electrically Heated Schools In Southeast Michigan

1958 was the first year of record for electrically heated schools in the area which Detroit Edison serves. In that year, there were 26 classrooms completely heated in this modern way. Now, in early 1965, there are 12 total electric schools having 220 classrooms in the area.

In number of electrically heated classrooms, this is more than an eight-fold increase in seven years. Several more school and college buildings which will be all-electric, including heating, are now under construction within the area.

More For The Money

These are the features of electric heat which appealed most to the school administrators who wrote the analysis quoted above. Only slightly edited for brevity, this is essentially the language of that objective report.

Safety—Electric heat is highly automated. A minimum of human attention and judgment is all that's required in its operation. By so reducing the human element, a maximum of safety is achieved. Nor is electric heat complicated by auxiliary or satellite systems of any kind.

Simplicity—The absence of complex mechanisms makes it easier for building custodians to concentrate on their prime function—keeping a building and its equipment clean. Boiler room attendants are not a requirement.

Dependability—Electric heat reduces the possibility of building freeze-ups; eliminates boiler breakdowns during unattended hours.

When there's a boiler failure, the whole school must close down. If an electric heating unit fails, only the one room involved need be closed.

Flexibility—Electric heating equipment can be used just in the room or rooms where heat is required, completely independent of and without affecting any other part of the heating system. On a cool but sunny autumn day, for example, the heat may be on in rooms on the shady side of a school, off in rooms on the sunny side of the building.

Unscheduled, off-hours use of a school-room—even with the briefest advance notice—creates no heating problem. Electric heat reacts quickly and, again, there can be selective, one-room-only use.

Cleanliness—Since there is no combustion, electric heat does not create smoke, soot or ashes to add to cleaning chores.

Efficiency—With electric heat, there are no long, laborious heating up or cooling down cycles. The equipment is ready to furnish heat at the moment of need and there is no wasteful heat carryover when the equipment is shut down.

Warm weather benefits—With more efficient and effective building insulation, a school will be cooler and more comfortable in warm weather—a decided advantage to students and teachers.

Air conditioning is also simplified and made more economical since the electrical wiring installed for the heating system can also energize air conditioners.

Through the taxes it pays, Detroit Edison is one of the largest supporters of schools in the state. In this role, we are as concerned and interested as you are in seeing that our educational system operates as efficiently and economically as possible. It is our sincere belief that electric heat, when evaluated with an objective and open mind, will show itself to have the economy and efficiency we all want in our schools.

EDISON CUTS ELECTRIC RATE FOR TOTAL ELECTRIC SCHOOLS

Detroit Edison has just voluntarily reduced the electric service charge to schools in its service area which are all electric, including the heating. School administrators, school board members, architects and consulting engineers are invited to inquire at any Edison office concerning the details of this downward rate adjustment.

One of the best reasons for buying these shoes—is something you don't talk about.

That something is the price. You pay a mere $5.99 for the black patents with side detailing. $6.99 for the one with the floating bow. At these prices, you don't expect the new rounded toe. But Thom McAn gives it to you. Or the kind of black patent that won't spot or peel. But Thom McAn gives you that, too. So keep mum and nobody will ever guess how little you actually paid. What's that? You love to tell people when you get a bargain? In that case, go ahead and tell. (You'll be doing us a favor.) But most people won't believe you.

F'ton Jaycees Slate Annual Variety Show

The Farmington Jaycees' Annual Musical variety show will open March 19 in the Farmington Junior High Gym at 8:15 p.m. The show, "Anything Goes," will also be performed March 20.

The setting for this year's production is an old run down Catskill mountain summer lodge. Six ner-do-well "gentlemen" have purchased the resort with the idea of promoting it as an exciting vacation playland for lonely hearts.

To the owners' dismay their New York contact man lines up the senior class of a prominent school for a two week stay at the "reputable" summer drama school. The "gentlemen" of the lodge are hard pressed to have even a high school education among them, let alone be qualified to teach drama.

"Pass Me By" and "Comedy Tonight" are but two of the popular songs in the show.

Tickets for the annual production may be purchased from any Jaycee member or by calling GR 6-5521.

Begin Adult Ed March 29 Schedule of Classes Listed

Registration for the spring term of the Farmington Adult Education program will be held March 24-25 from 6:30 til 9 p.m. The term starts the week of March 29.

Redford Boy Steals Car

A Redford Township youngster was arrested in Farmington Township, on Monday, March 8, on a charge of stealing a car. The lad was an escapee from the Lansing Training School.

Farmington Township Police received a call that day, reporting the boy as a suspicious person. He apparently struck up a conversation with this person, explaining he was a resident of Lansing.

He said he was headed for California, and offered to take the person with him. He also said he needed a different set of license plates. Township Officer Rick Krueger went out and arrested him on Purdue St. He was turned over to the Redford Township Police at 1 car at Seven Mile Road and Beech.

TOP AREA WINNERS in 1964 General Motors suggestion plan — Livonia Chevrolet employe, Edgar Melton (left), 18403 Fox, Detroit, explains his $6,000 maximum award idea to co-workers, Glen O. Williams (center), 35258 Currier, Wayne, and James R. Childs, 12087 Greenlawn, Detroit. Williams and Childs divided a $6,000 award for co-submitting a suggestion changing the type of metal used to hold bumper parts in place during plating. In 1964, GM employes in the Livonia area earned a total of $113,593 for suggestions submitted in the GM Suggestion Plan.

Background Material Ready for City Goals Conference

Goals Conference planners are preparing for the ordinary citizen, according to Mrs. Jerrie Joyner, a member of the Conference Committee preparing for the Livonia Conference on Needs and Goals.

The meeting is taking place, Saturday, March 27, at Franklin High School from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. It is being conducted by the Livonia Chamber of Commerce.

ernment, education, business and other facets of community life to be all knowing about where we stand in these areas today. That is why we are preparing for the Livonia Conference on Needs and Goals.

Mrs. Joyner added that information sheets, given to each participant at the beginning of the day, will do three things:

They will educate conferees to facts that would not have come into their hands before. They will place all participants at somewhat the same level of knowledge regardless of how well acquainted they might have been with the topics before the conference. And they will give participants self-confidence in contributing ideas.

All in Livonia are urged to participate. The registration fee is $2 including luncheon. Anyone may register by calling the Chamber office—GA 7-2122.

Music Award Given Livonian

Thomas Eadie, 17, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Eadie, 16083 Southampton, Livonia, has been awarded an eight week scholarship, for the summer of 1965, to the National Music Camp at Interlochen by the Michigan Youth Symphony, Ann Arbor.

A senior, Tom is first trombonist in the Bentley Concert Band, Mr. Robert A. Clark, conductor and in the Bentley-Franklin Orchestra, Mr. William Savola, conductor.

Through the District and State of Michigan Music Instrumental Solo and Ensemble Festival, Tom has earned for himself and his school six blue ribboned bronze medals each signifying an excellent rating in the past three years to date.

Tom also is first trombonist in the Michigan Symphony, Orion Dalley, conductor and is a member of the Plymouth Symphony, Mr. Wayne Dunlap, conductor. He also performs with a 17 piece dance band, the "Melodaires" of Livonia.

Tom has attended the All-State Music Camp at Interlochen for three summers, sitting first chair with the All-State High School Orchestra last summer. He graduates in June and will enter a school of music.

Madonna and Franklin Students Study Tapes

Madonna College Education Department and the Franklin Senior High School are planning a cooperative project which aims to analyze and improve classroom instruction by using videotapes.

Recently the Livonia Public

School system installed closed circuit television equipment into the Franklin Senior High School. The use of the new medium will be extended to assist student teachers as well as regular teachers.

Teachers, staffing the school, and student teachers will be provided with opportunities to view their classroom in action. Such self-evaluation device will assist them to identify their own strengths and needs and to improve teaching-learning situations.

Novel or effective techniques of presenting content matter will also be taped so that other teachers can profit from the programs. These prepared videotapes will also be utilized as visuals during methods courses, seminars, and conferences.

McNamara Hosted at Coffee Hour

Despite soggy weather conditions, more than 30 residents of Farmington attended a coffee hour last Thursday evening for Edward H. McNamara, Democratic candidate for the State Senate in the 14th District.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey Arkesteyn hosted the affair at their home on Beacontree Avenue in Farmington Township.

"This type of informal gathering is an important contribution to a political campaign," said McNamara. "In this atmosphere of give-and-take people are less hesitant about expressing their concern regarding governmental proposals dealing with society's problems."

This is mutually beneficial. The candidate gains even greater insight into the problems of the area which he hopes to represent, and the voters learn what the solutions could be. McNamara also stated that he would welcome meeting with the citizens of the 14th Senatorial District in such informal settings and invites all persons interested in good government to contact him at 425-9210 in Livonia or 363-7150 in White Lake.

Misplaced confidences is one of the hardest things to find.

All Area Teams Ousted in State Prep Cage Tourney

Michigan's high school basketball tournament swings merrily on this week with the regional phase of operation. But, for the first time in over a decade, not a single team from the Livonia - Plymouth - Farmington-Redford Union area is still around. All ten area teams went by the boards in last week's districts. The foremost casualty was Bentley, a perennial district king. Bentley lost in its open start to Farmington. Farmington, which had won district laurels in each of the previous three years, made the best showing of the area teams in the districts, winning twice before losing in the final on its home floor. The only other team to manage a victory was Our Lady of Sorrows, which beat St. Agatha in the Class C district at U. of D. High. Sorrows fell in its next start. Plymouth, Redford Union, Franklin, Thurston, North Farmington, Clarenceville, Bentley and St. Agatha all were first-round losers. There is a Class A regional at Franklin this week as the battling goes on to determine qualifiers for next Wednesday's quarterfinals. Many of the state's mighty teams... Benton Harbor, Hamtramck, Detroit Northwestern, etc., hauled off district winners in Class A. River Rouge, which dominates in Class B year after year, also came through with another district title. The form in the lower classes also held up pretty well. But for Greater Livonia area schools, the season is history. The uniforms have been sent to the cleaners, the coaches can relax... and their athletes can think about reporting for a spring sports team.

UP IN THE AIR goes John McDonald of North Farmington as he outbounces Mike Ames of Farmington. Farmington came back in the contest to drown out their "brothers" in the districts held at Farmington.

Falcons Gain Finals Before Being Ousted

Farmington High's basketball team under the coaching of Jack Quiggle came within a whisker of winning its fourth straight district Class A title in the state tourney.

After pulling off upset wins over North Farmington and Redford Union, Farmington reached the end of the line in its own gym last Friday night when downed by Walled Lake, 47-41.

This was a Farmington team which during the long, regular season had won just four games. In the final Inter-Lakes League standings, Farmington finished last.

But when the state play began, Farmington was ready. "The kids really hustled," said Quiggle when it was all over Friday night. "I certainly was pleased with the way the boys played."

"I have no complaints." The closest Farmington could come against Walled Lake was 44-41 in the final period.

In the last period, Walled Lake didn't make a single basket against the tight Farmington basket. All the Lakers could manage were four successful charity tosses.

But the damage on Farmington already had been inflicted. In the third period, Walled Lake outscored Farmington, 18-8, after the Lakers held only a 25-22 lead at halftime.

"The kid sure came fast," added the coach, "He'll help us a great deal in the next two years." Roy Leach and Mike Wilson had nine each for the losers while John Olander chipped in with seven.

The trio of Jim Grant, Russ Streeter and John Huebler emerged as the big guns for Walled Lake. They scored 14, 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Walled Lake took a 12-10 lead at the end of the first period. In the second stanza, the Lakers tallied 13 to Farmington's 12.

Then came the fatal third quarter, as far as Farmington was concerned. The Farmington box score:

	R	F	P
Ames	5	2	12
Leach	3	3	9
Huebler	1	0	2
Wilson	3	3	9
Olander	3	1	7
Donor	0	2	2

TOTALS	15	18	46
Belleville	10	17	30
Plymouth	8	3	14

Led by Olander John Olander was the scoring star for Farmington in its 69-61 win over Redford Union in the semifinals of the district meet at Farmington.

Olander drilled in 11 points in the first period to help Farmington zoom ahead 22-14. By halftime it was 36-25 for Farmington.

Redford Union struck back to outscore Farmington, 16-11, in the third period, but Farmington wound up with 22 points in the last stanza to Redford Union's 20 and won going away. Oddly enough, Farmington was outscored by one basket 24-23, from the floor.

The difference was the nifty free-throw shooting turned in by Farmington. The Falcons dropped 23 out of 29 attempts from the charity line.

Redford Union had 26 chances to convert free ones... but made only 13.

Coach Milo Karhu of Redford Union expressed satisfaction with the way his team played all season. "We didn't have the size," said Karhu. "But our boys put (Continued on Page 3-B)

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

DOTS AND DASHES: If you're a track enthusiast, may we suggest that you check in at Cobo Arena Friday and Saturday for the NCAA indoor championships.

This will mark the first time Detroit has hosted a major, indoor track meet.

Thanks to The Detroit News, the Arena has a brand new board oval — the best anywhere in the country.

Indoor meets have attracted capacity crowds in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, etc. We'll hold that there'll be a tremendous gathering at Cobo Hall both for Friday and Saturday.

Spokesmen for the News tell us that they plan to stage one indoor meet for at least five years and probably longer.

The newspaper also has plans eventually to sponsor a state high school indoor meet in the Arena. Such an attraction certainly would gain the approval of all the prep trackmen around the state.

Congratulations to Jim Knotts for the job he has done as wrestling coach at Thurston high school. His team scored "a first" for local schools when they won the regional crown ten days ago.

As we have said before, wrestling has become a booming sport for the prep.

From a handful of teams which originally sponsored teams, there are now more than 200 around the state. In our particular area, all schools save for Plymouth and St. Agatha have mat representation.

Sorry, folks, we have no tickets for the state prep basketball finals. But Tom Johnson informs us that Channel 50 will air the championship games on Saturday, March 20.

To the teachers at Farmington high, please excuse Tommy Donoghue's absence last Thursday and Friday. We took Tommy along to shoot pictures of the Detroit Pistons on the road — at Fort Wayne.

We figured we'd be back Thursday night, but five inches of snow in Fort Wayne dictated otherwise.

Tommy got to fly with the Pistons in their private plane, dine with the team and enjoy just about everything except seeing the team win.

Baseball is just around the corner, along with track, golf and tennis for the prep high schoolers.

The big question now is: "When will the weather break?" Most baseball coaches will have their charges doing some indoor work and the same will go for the trackmen, tennis players and golfers.

But, unless you can get in some actual outdoor sessions, teams are in trouble when the start of competition rolls around.

Livonia's Paul Preuss, for many years one of the top sports writers on The Detroit News, is changing jobs. He's moving over to the Ford Motor Co.

Good luck, Paul.

John Sandmann, the athletic director at Plymouth, is working all the way in this year's state basketball tournament — as a referee, that is.

Sandmann handled district games last week... is assigned to the regionals this week... and next week he'll be handling a quarterfinal, semifinal and a final encounter.

These certainly are exciting days for Michigan basketball fans. Not only are we in the midst of the state prep tourney, but Michigan is playing in the NCAA Friday and U. of D. goes to New York to meet LaSalle in the NIT Saturday night.

There's little doubt that Michigan is the team to beat for the NCAA. U. of D. could pull a surprise or two in the NIT competition.

Incidentally, when in Fort Wayne the other day, we learned that in sectional and regional play, Indiana teams are called upon to play twice in a single day.

WHERE DID IT GO? Players from Farmington and North Farmington highs must be asking the same question as the elusive ball eludes them all. From the left: John McDonald (14-North Farmington); Steve Moore and Greg Dorow, both of Farmington; Bill Bowles, North Farmington; Roy Leach, Farmington, and Rick Schultz, North Farmington. Farmington won the game.

NO FLAG FOR FIRST TIME

History for Bentley

Nobody could remember just when it had happened before—Bentley high failing to win the district basketball title.

In fact, not only did the Livonians fail this year, but they didn't even win a game.

In its lone appearance in the Class A district at Franklin, Bentley dropped a 67-66 heart-breaker to Inkster.

But as the old saying goes, "whether you win or lose by a point, it's the same as if the difference is a million" on the final score tally.

A rebound which went astray had a lot to do with Bentley's tough loss to Inkster.

The score was tied at 64-64 with around 30 seconds left. Fred Smalley of Inkster was fouled and went to the line with an "one and one" situation. He canned the first try and received the bonus.

The ball was put into play by Inkster and Bentley immediately committed a foul.

The hope was that Inkster would fall on the free toss. That's what happened and Bentley got the ball with four seconds remaining and instantly called time out.

Anything was set up, but before anything could be accomplished the gun sounded to end the game.

The Livonians had reached halftime with a 36-34 lead after lagging 21-16 at the end of the first quarter.

In the third session, Inkster outscored Bentley, 20-11, and as matters later proved, Bentley was a fall to a point shy in the final count.

Smalley led the winners with 25 points on 11 baskets and three foul shots. For Bentley, Tim Dull had 17 points and Bob Elmer 12.

Well down in the Bentley scoring was Fred Matetvia, a star all season for the Livonians. He made only six points and exited early—in the third period—with five personal fouls.

Losses One Game

Franklin high, like Bentley, lasted only one game in the district at Franklin.

Garden City West rolled over Franklin, 74-50, in a game whose outcome never was in much doubt.

The victors led, 16-12, after one quarter, 30-23 at halftime and then broke open matters by outscoring Franklin, 30-12, in the third period.

City command to respectable portions and set the way for the team to continue its assault as soon as the halftime intermission was over.

Coach John Hartsig of Franklin praised the play of his team. "Our kids worked hard. But they had too much rebounding for us," said Hartsig.

RU Coach Named Judge at NCAA Meet

Mike Bowerman, one of Redford Union's veteran coaches and a well-known track judge throughout Michigan, has been named as a judge in the first Annual National Collegiate Athletic Association indoor track and field championships, at Cobo Hall Arena on March 12 and 13.

"Because you are one of the leading track officials in the Midwest," wrote Don Canham, NCAA Meet Director, and track coach at the U of M, "we are asking you to serve as pole vault judge in this outstanding track meet."

As a college student at Michigan State University, Mike held the freshman record in the pole vault, and led the AAU in this event for three years.

His coaching record at Redford Union includes two years as head football coach and one year as assistant football coach, five years as head track coach, and two years as assistant track coach, and seven years as cross country coach.

Mike has been an official for the Michigan State Relays for 12 years, and has officiated in pole vault events for Big Ten Meets held at MSU.

The coaching career of Charles Ketterer at Plymouth high school is over. He bowed out last Thursday when the Rocks fell to Belleville, 49-46, in a Class A district game at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Belleville took a 10-8 lead after one quarter, made it 27-11 halftime and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Gary Grady finished as the high scorer for Plymouth with 13 points. He was the team's only scorer to hit in double figures.

Trenton Cops League Title

To nobody's surprise, Trenton High captured the Suburban Six League high school swimming title at Bentley last Saturday evening.

The downriver team, which had dominated throughout the dual-meet campaign, walked away with the laurels as Allen Park placed second, defending champion Plymouth third, Redford Union fourth, Bentley fifth and Belleville sixth.

Henry Ahlf paced Trenton with a record-breaking victory in the 50-yard free style.

He was timed in 21.8 seconds, the fastest clocking of the year by any prep in the entire country. Needless to say, Ahlf's effort set both a new league and pool record.

Area tankers managed only two victories. Dennis Rogissart of Bentley came through with a triumph in the individual medley, while the Plymouth free style relay quartet of Cook, Burk, Saxton and Brady hit the wire first in 1:36.2

Rogissart, incidentally, will lead a group of area Suburban Six League representatives into the state Class A meet at Michigan State this Friday and Saturday.

Weimarner Trials Set

The Weimarner Club of America, Michigan Region, is holding an American Field Qualifying Trial on Sunday, March 14, at Highland Recreation Area near Milford. There will be stakes for puppies (under 18 months), derby dogs (under two years) and all-age, or adult dogs. These three are open to Weimarner only. An open limited all-age stake will be open to all German Pointing Breeds. The deadline for entries in these events will be 8 p.m., Thursday evening, March 11.

There will be also a "Gentleman's Shooting Dog" stake, open to Weimarner who have never placed in a regulation field trial. This event is primarily for the average, hard-working hunting dog that most of us are familiar with. Entries for this stake will be taken right up to starting time at approximately noon or 1 p.m. Sunday.

For information regarding entries, directions, etc., call Field Trial Chairman, Bill Napier at PR 5-1066, or Co-Chairman Bill Blackmer at GR 6-3177. Coffee, doughnuts, and sandwiches will be available on the field trial grounds, so bring the family for a fine day's outing.

9-Year-Old Livonian Stars at Goal for Squirt League Champs

Nine-year-old Todd Merritt, of 11415 Norborne, Livonia, is the goalie for the Southeast Electric hockey team which won the championship of the Detroit Recreation Outdoor Squirt Hockey League a week ago.

The Electrics won three straight games in the playoff finals during which Todd allowed the opposition only three goals. He had one shutout in the series.

Teams in the Detroit Recreation Hockey Leagues are allowed three players from outside the Detroit city limits and Todd was one of the trio allowed to the Electrics.

Northern 'Y' Offers Course in Karate

A beginners class in Karate is being offered at the Northern YMCA in Highland Park Wednesday, March 10 at 7:30 p.m.

The course will include basic Karate techniques and gun, club, and knife, self-defense. Robert Watson, vice-president of the Detroit Tang Soo Do Club will be the instructor.

For further information contact Bill Cameron, physical director, Northern YMCA, TO 8-1946.

Managers Wanted

Those interested in managing or coaching in any of the Little League, Pony League, or Colt League programs of the South Farmington Baseball for Boys Group, should contact Roy Dernberger, at 474-0581, or Chuck Foerster, at 474-4434.

Set Registrations Dates For Livonia Jr. Baseball

Registration for boys planning to play minor and major league baseball in the Livonia Junior Baseball Program, conducted by the Department of Parks and Recreation in cooperation with the Livonia Junior Football League, will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Monday, March 15 and Wednesday, March 24 at the following locations:

- Emerson Junior High, Riley
- Junior High, Whitman Junior High and Clarenceville Junior High; Bentley High and Franklin High (Room 613-615 West Side parking lot); and Johnson, Adams, Taft, Webster and Bryant Junior High.

The third registration will be held from 10 a.m. to Noon on Saturday, March 27 at the Recreation Office, 14305 Farmington Road.

Registrations are open to all youngsters from 9 through 13 years of age with all boys guaranteed by the age if they register by the above dates. Eight-year-olds who will be 9 years-of-age by September 1, will be eligible.

Those 13-year-olds who will be 14 before September 1, will be ineligible to play.

The registration fee will be $2.50 per youngster to cover insurance fees.

The Livonia program, with an expected 140-150 teams, is the largest in the State and larger than any comparable community in the United States. This is due to the combined efforts of the Recreation Department and the Livonia Junior Football League.

Wrestlers Fail for State Titles

Area wrestlers failed to come through with any championships in the State Class A meet at Michigan State University last Friday and Saturday.

Thurston's Randy Ault, at 138 pounds, fared the best of the contingent from Redford Township, Farmington and Livonia, as he placed fourth in the overall standings.

Mike McCrevey (113), Pete Marasalese (145), Jerry Sostak (heavyweight), all of Thurston, were eliminated early along with Rick Larsen (heavyweight) and Mary LaVasseur (138) of Bentley, Greg Raymond (120) of North Farmington and Farmington's Art Wheeler (95 pounds) and Jim Johnston (154).

Thurston scored 11 points, well behind Champion Lansing Everett with 47 and Lansing Sexton with 44. Farmington garnered a single point.

Neither Bentley or North Farmington managed one point in the state-wide competition.

It'll be the same story this Saturday when the state finals are held in Indianapolis.

Semifinals are carded in the afternoon and the finals at night.

State Prep Director Charles Forsythe wants no part of such a procedure in Michigan. He long has favored — as have the coaches, athletic directors, etc. — limiting a team to one game per day.

We agree with Forsythe, but how can you knock what they're doing in Indiana? Basketball has been tremendous in our neighboring state for a good many years.

Sorrows Bows Out In District Semis

Compliments always are nice... even when you lose and are eliminated from such an important event as the state high school basketball tournament.

Our Lady of Sorrows' cagers had just fallen to St. Theresa, 79-67, in the Class C district semifinals at the University of Detroit high gym.

The score hardly was indicative of the way the game went.

Sorrows was in contention against the highly favored St. Theresa team until the three-minute mark of the final period.

The tribute paid to Coach Bob Morris and his Sorrows team came from Ralph Owen, who directs the vast Catholic League athletic program for Greater Detroit.

"They're a fine team," said Owens of the Sorrows contingent. "They sure could move the ball. Too bad they didn't have a little more height."

When Mike Bars, the 6-4 Sorrows center fouled out early in the final quarter, the Farmington team was right in there with St. Theresa.

Once Bars left, Sorrows wasn't able to match St. Theresa on the backboards. The tide quickly changed and from a tight struggle the game became lopsided by the time the final buzzer went off.

Brian Jenner caged 17 points and Kearney 14 for Sorrows. Mike Roemer netted 12 in a losing cause for the St. Agatha quintet.

Here are the two victory box scores:

St. Agatha	11	6	17	8-52

St. Theresa jumped in front 18-15 after one quarter and reached halftime with a 30-26 margin.

In the third period each team clicked for 19 points so that the score read 49-45 for St. Theresa when the teams embarked on the closing eight minutes of action.

With no waste of time, Sorrows pulled within two points (51-49) of a tie.

Two minutes later, Sorrows had fallen behind, 57-53, when Bars walked for his fifth personal.

From then on Sorrows couldn't keep up to the bigger and taller foe from Detroit's mid-section. In short order, St. Theresa had a 70-57 command and the game was out of reach for Farmington parish team.

The combination of John Willow and Tom Pollard provided too much for Sorrows in the last period. Willow made 12 of his 28 points in the last period. Pollard had three baskets and two charities in the closing session.

Miles Kearney ended a brilliant liant season for Sorrows with 20 points. Tim Doyle was next for the losers with 18.

The defeat at the hands of St. Theresa followed a 59-42 win for Sorrows over Redford Township's St. Agatha team in the first round of the district meet.

It marked the third time this season, Sorrows had whipped the Townshippers.

Sorrows leaped ahead, 19-11, against St. Agatha and never was in serious trouble the rest of the way.

Thurston Second In League Swim

Favored Birmingham Groves outbattled Thurston for the Northwest Suburban high school league swimming title last Saturday night in the Groves pool.

Groves piled up 118 points to 105½ for Thurston. Franklin was third with 38½, followed by John Glenn with 12.

Bill Barringer (individual medley), Bill Zeeb (400-yard free style), Rick Massoll (Diving) and Gordon Niles (150-yard breast stroke) came through with individual victories for the Thurston team.

All four will be going to the state meet for Class A teams at Michigan State University this Friday and Saturday night along with Jeff Lach, Bob Lloyd, Rex Korden and Ron Smith.

Here's how Thurston and Franklin swimmers placed in the league meet:

Newspaper Advertising DOESN'T INTRUDE

PEOPLE BUY NEWSPAPERS BECAUSE THEY WANT ALL THE NEWS

They are as much interested in the advertising columns as the news columns because advertising is the news of what is available in goods and services at the stores they know. There are no gadgets to turn off the advertising in newspapers. Nobody wants it turned off. Every survey ever made shows that people prefer to have the newspaper they buy contain advertising because the

Report from LANSING

State Senator for Redford Twp.

Fiscal reform is a phrase quite prominent these days in the press, on television and in many conversations. Fiscal reform in its pure sense means replacing our present tax structure with another more equitable tax structure. For example, replacing the Business Activities Tax with a corporate profit tax or imposing a personal income tax in lieu of some sales taxes. This would constitute fiscal reform.

However, the Fiscal Reform talked about by Governor Romney and most of the Legislators means somewhat more than merely replacing one form of revenue with another. Fiscal Reform now means this PLUS a system that will increase the revenue of the State to meet the pressing needs of our state.

Fiscal Reform as I see it includes the following elements:

- It must provide a tax that is equitable.
- It must be broad based.
- It must be flexible in order to produce a stable revenue.
- It must produce more revenue than our present tax structure.
- The Governor and the Legislature should be free to spend the money according to the needs of the state.

In order to accomplish Fiscal Reform many steps are necessary. First of all, it is important that we know what our revenue needs will be. Secondly, we must enact a tax program with the present constitutional limitations to meet those needs. Finally, at the first opportunity the people should be asked to vote on constitutional amendments that would allow the use of graduated income tax and would give the Governor and the Legislature the responsibility for the expenditure of all state revenues.

Under the present State Constitution, the only form of income tax that may be applied is a flat rate income tax. Also, the present constitution earmarks almost 60% of the state's revenue for specific purposes without regard to need. True fiscal reform is impossible without the elimination of these two restrictions.

Fiscal reform as I have outlined is necessary if we are to meet the needs of a growing society. What are these needs that are going begging under our present tax structure? Education is the most popular need. Is there any valid reason why the child born in Dearborn should have almost $700 spent per year on his education while a child who happens to be born in Redford has only $400 spent on him? If we are to correct this inequity the State must do it since local property taxes are already at a breaking point.

A less popular but costly and necessary program is Mental Health. A visit to a mental hospital or home for retarded children will convince any citizen that we are not doing enough to return these citizens to a useful and productive life in our society.

State prisons are filled with inmates who, under our present system, will return to a prison again. Rehabilitation is at a minimum.

How much money should our state be spending to bring a halt to the fantastic number of deaths and injuries on our highways?

To what extent should the state be supporting basic research to find cures for mental illness, cancer, T.B. and all the other ills that cost us productive lives?

Intensive child guidance is a program badly needed to prepare our children for a very complicated world and also to make good citizens of all our children.

All of these programs cost money. Some will never pay dividends such as care for the aged. These we accept as our humanitarian and Christian duty. Others should and will pay unbelievable rewards in terms of a healthy, productive, educated and happy society. This is why fiscal reform is a necessity.

Twp. Boys Club Will Fly Kites

Redford Township Building made its first entrance into and exit from the Boys' Club of America basketball tournament of America last Friday evening when they were defeated by the Boys' Club from Dearborn Heights (score 17-10). This contest is a single game elimination, with the winner of this area representing the Boys' Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit in the national tournament.

On a much brighter note, the Kenwood Women's Club presented Club Director John Matkovich with a very beautiful slide projector for the Redford Township Boys' Club Building at its meeting on Thursday, February 25.

From March 8 through March 12 the club members will be busy making their own kites, and on Saturday, March 13 a bus will take young "Ben Franklins" to a suitable location, where they will be told to "go fly a kite."

Teachers at Redford Union Spend Day in Studies of School Curriculum Needs

An important part of the Redford Union School District's in-service training program for teachers was held on Tuesday, March 9, as staff members from all departments met to hear speeches by experts in their fields, observed demonstrations, exchanged ideas, formulated departmental plans, visited other schools with outstanding programs to observe, or met in small groups to work for the solution of long-range departmental problems.

"The purpose of our in-service program is to keep staff members abreast of the latest developments in their respective fields," explained James Mathieson, Assistant Superintendent of School in charge of Instruction, "and to exchange ideas and successful techniques both within our system and with other systems. New teachers need and highly value the suggestions and help of more experienced staff members, and the latter profit greatly from speeches, demonstrations, and discussions of new ideas and techniques."

All elementary school teachers met at Keeler School in the morning, to hear Philip Hilaire, a specialist in the field of reading, discuss the Initial Teaching Alphabet (ITA) approach to the teaching of reading. Materials used in the program, and a utilization film, were presented. Individual building conferences followed in the afternoon.

While English teachers at the junior and senior high levels met separately in the morning to discuss textbook selection, supplementary materials for teaching, and special grade level programs in English, the two secondary levels combined in the afternoon at Redford Union High School to participate in the proceedings of the Metropolitan Bureau English Conference. Keynote speaker for the Conference, which included teachers from a widely distributed group of metropolitan-area high schools and junior highs, was Walter Havighurst, Research Professor of English, Miami University, Havighurst, a well-known author, spoke on "Midwestern Voices." Dinner speaker for the Conference was X. J. Kennedy, Department of English, Tufts University, Medford Massachusetts. Lyle Kinsey, of Lola Valley Junior High, was in charge of arrangements for the Conference at Redford Union.

Junior and senior high school science teachers heard Richard Hoag, of Flint Public Schools describe the "Introductory Physical Science Course." Mr. Hoag demonstrated apparatus used in teaching the newly-originated course. In the afternoon the group heard Professor Sylvan Mikelson of Wayne State University present information concerning new courses in the field of Physical Science. These courses are called "Time, Space and Matter," and "Investigating the Earth."

A small group of high school teachers representing a cross-section of subject areas met to discuss the possibilities of a new course in humanities, while the social studies group at the secondary level made decisions on texts, then engaged in school visitations.

The industrial education department worked on problems and details of the newly-accepted vocational education program; homemaking groups visited Wilbur Wright and Chadsey Highs, in Detroit, for an exchange of techniques and ideas in this field; and the various other secondary level departments met for discussions on mutual problems, demonstrations, and visitations.

Redford Twp. Police Nab Hitch-Hiking Auto Thief

A hitch-hiker was charged by Redford Township Police with stealing an auto Sunday night from a local motorist with whom he had hitched a ride.

Placed under arrest was Robert Raymond Reed, 20, of Detroit.

Police said Reed took the keys of a car belonging to Elmer Wright of Wayne when the latter stopped for groceries at a store on Plymouth and Royal Grand. Wright had picked up the hitch-hiker five minutes before and left his engine running and the keys in the ignition while he went inside the market.

Police saw the auto at Schoolcraft and Inkster Monday morning and chased it three blocks, where Reed apparently lost control and ran into a utility pole. Reed then took off on foot, running west on Davison. Police searched the neighborhood and found him hiding in a garage at 26950 Davison.

Career Day at Thurston March 23

Business, industry, and the Thurston High School counseling department will cooperate with the Redford Township Rotary Club March 23 in a unique Occupation Day program at the high school.

Representatives of various occupations in the area will describe demands of the job, qualifications necessary, rate of pay, what the future will hold as now foreseen, etc. Students will be given full opportunity to ask questions.

Jon Jacobs, of the high school staff, and Harold Stoner and Al Frost, of the Rotary Club, have planned the event.

Music, Movie Highlight Pierce Open House

Music, displays, exhibits, refreshments, experiments and curriculum information are all to be featured at this year's open house sponsored by the Pierce Junior High School PTA, South Redford, on Tuesday, March 16, at 7:30 p.m.

Parents and friends will be able to enjoy the music of the winners of the solo and ensemble festival. There will be a color movie on school curriculum. Exhibits and displays of various school and educational functions will be presented. Refreshments will help to make a most enjoyable and educational evening for all.

All the world's a stage — and it grants little time for intermission between the acts.

Telephone 'SEAS' Plan Extended by Michigan Bell

Michigan Bell Telephone Company said today it has received a six-month extension of its Super Extended Area Service (SEAS) trial in Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth.

Under a proposal approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission, the optional service—which features greatly expanded calling privileges into Detroit — will be extended to August 8.

John Kamego, manager here for Michigan Bell, said the company sought the extension to make further studies of the experimental offering.

"We requested the extension to give us time to attempt to increase our SEAS development and, if successful, validate the offering as a permanent service," he said.

Some 5,200 customers in the four communities have subscribed to the service. Under it, residence users can dial calls into an area having half a million telephones, including downtown and midtown Detroit, on an unlimited basis, without long distance or message unit charges.

Business subscribers to SEAS also can dial to the same number of phones, except that one message unit — 4.2 cents — is charged for each call, regardless of length, to the portion of the Super Extended Area that is in the Detroit zone.

The SEAS trial began in September, 1963, and was sched-

RU Health Council Meets

Redford Union School District's Health Council meets regularly to discuss matters pertaining to the health and safety of the students of the school district, and to keep the Board of Education and superintendent informed on developments and problems in this area.

"The purpose of the Health Council is to study and evaluate the health needs of all students and personnel of the RU Schools," explains Richard Turk, RU Safety Director and President of the Council. "It will act as a screening group for proposals that concern health problems and will make recommendations through the school Curriculum Council to the Superintendent and the Board of Education."

As constituted by the Curriculum Council, the Health Council consists of one ex-officio member from the Superintendent's office, one school administrator, two teachers, two parents, one counselor, two nurses (one from the Wayne County Health Department), one maintenance and transportation representative, one school lunch representative, and the school safety director.

Memorial Parade Authority Will Meet Thursday

A meeting of the Redford Township Memorial Day Authority will be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, March 11, at the D.A.V. Annex, 25538 Five Mile Road, two doors east of the main entrance to the D.A.V. Hall.

Reports will be given by the chairmen of the standing committees and films will be shown of the 1964 Memorial Day Parade. Registration forms for float entries will be available at this meeting, and it is hoped that representatives of all organizations wishing to participate in this year's parade will be in attendance. It is the hope of the Memorial Day Authority that this year's parade will be the best and the biggest one ever held.

Any township organization or civic group desiring to show the film of the 1964 Memorial Day parade to their members may obtain it by calling Mr. Howard Potter, KE 5-3774.

Here Are Helpful Tips For Gardener

"How Does Your Garden Grow?"... the new, low cost booklet by Lucile Bush, contains dozens of helpful tips for both indoor and outdoor gardeners, especially beginners whose thumbs are just starting to turn green.

Since Mrs. Bush's company makes a variety of pesticides, the booklet is based on a broad area of information, including protection of plants and flowers against garden pests and plant diseases. One page includes a handy chart for diagnosing many symptoms of "sick" plants.

Among the handy hints are such tips as how often to water plants, how to keep indoor plants watered while the gardener is away, and the best time to water the lawn.

When plants are left alone in the home for a period of time, Mrs. Bush suggests inserting one end of an old cotton clothesline or wicking in the plant soil and the other end in a jar of water.

Lawns, she advises, should be "put to bed" in the evening as dry as possible because lawn diseases thrive on high humidity.

So she suggests early morning or midday watering, but urges only occasional (about every two weeks) but through lawn soakings rather than more frequent light sprinklings that encourage only the weeds.

The booklet is available free by writing to Consumer Education Department B-3, Johnson Wax, Racine, Wis.

Windows Brighten Up Home

There's almost nothing that can transform a house from dreary to cherry like new windows. They let in light and air, make the outdoors part of your home, and add a sense of spaciousness.

With a wide variety of stock wood windows available at lumber supply dealers, it's easy to choose the right ones for any room in any house — Colonial or contemporary.

Many of today's wood windows, made of sturdy ponderosa pine, have small panes—diamond shaped or rectangular—to suit traditional architecture. Others have grilles that can be removed when windows are washed.

If new windows figure in your remodeling plans, you can choose from the following:

Double-hung: opens up from the bottom and down from the top. Like all the other types of modern wood windows, today's double-hung units open easily, close tightly, and are fully weather-stripped to prevent infiltration of cold air.

Casement: opens out to the side like a door to permit full ventilation and easy window washing. It is particularly useful in hard-to-reach places such as over the sink because it opens so easily.

Sliding: slides open at a touch and closes tightly for year-round comfort. Several are often used together to form a wall of windows between a living room or dining room and the patio.

Awning and hopper: similar in design, but awning windows open up and out, giving protection from rain, while hopper windows open in and down, directing breezes upward to prevent drafts. Awning or hopper windows frequently are grouped in banks to make up one large window.

Bay and bow: both of these windows project out from the wall, giving a greater feeling of space to a room.

Attic Fan Aids Comfort At Low Cost

For a relatively small investment, a modern attic fan will take the summer out of summer for your home.

Although an attic fan will not, of course, provide all the comfort of air conditioning, it can cool your entire home to the same temperature as that outside.

The modern attic fan can be equipped with a reverse acting thermostat that turns the fan on when it's hot and shuts it off when there is a temperature drop, a timer or, in some cases, electrically operated exhaust louvers.

In this kind of installation, the fan "air washes" the attic during the day, pulling out hot, stagnant air, and then pulls fresh, cool outside air through your home at night. The fan's speed can be easily regulated from a centrally mounted control.

Homeowners can choose from two basic types of attic fans. One is mounted vertically where there is sufficient attic height, especially in two story homes. The other, designed for one story homes with low pitched roofs, is mounted horizontally. Each comes in various sizes.

Start Construction On Retirement Units For School Teachers

East Lansing — Construction of a unique retirement village for teachers was started last week at Saline. The Michigan Education Home Association (MEHA), a division of the Michigan Education Association, is the sponsor of the residence, MEHA Village, which will eventually provide housing for 1,000 retired Michigan teachers.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the village were held Sept. 17 with Dr. Ewart Ardis, director of the University of Michigan's placement Bureau, the featured speaker. MEHA President T. B. Southerland, principal of Bay City's Central High School, acted as master of ceremonies.

First to be built on the 254-acre site on the outskirts of Saline will be four private residences. The larger units, designed to initially accommodate 200 residents, will be built next year. The facilities will include efficiency, two- and three-room apartments.

In addition, a central commons will provide dining rooms, kitchen, administrative offices, club rooms and parlors, hobby club, beauty and barber shops, a country store and health facilities.

This fall MEHA will conduct a state-wide capital fund drive in an effort to raise $1½ million for construction. A recent Internal Revenue Service exemption from taxation donations made to the MEHA Project.

Stephen Nisbet, president of the Fremont National Bank and former vice-president in charge of public relations, Gerber Products Company, is general chairman of the drive.

The MEHA Village project was conceived in 1959 by a group of Bay City educators. Since that time membership in the Association has grown to more than 4,000 and villages are tentatively planned for the Petoskey - Traverse City area and the Upper Peninsula.

Home Owners Spend $11 Million On Improvements

In home improvement activity, the trend is up and up! Last year, Mr. and Mrs. Home Owner spent more than $11 million on home improvements—roughly, $70 for every $100 spent on new construction.

These figures, based on reports of the U.S. Department of Commerce, represent quite a change from the ratio of only a decade ago, when $10 was spent for improvements to every $100 on new construction.

"Operation Facelift" Raises Home Values

When it's time to plan remodeling projects, "Operation Facelift" should be one of the first on the list, say building experts. Applying a new "face" to a home's exterior, with the use of siding, does more than add lasting beauty.

By making a house safe against the elements, siding outside provides protection inside, thus guarding the appearance and value of any interior renovations and improvements.

Then, too, an exterior remodeling job is an investment for the future and a real enhancement of property values.

"Operation Facelift" might begin with the choice of siding materials, and there are many, each with its own advantages. Anything from personal preference to local climate could be the deciding factor.

There's the familiar standby, wood — practical, economical, easy to shape to fit any wall. Wood siding is available in

Basement Washroom Popular With Family

A basement washroom is a popular addition to any home. Its admirers include the home hobbyist, the man with the workshop, home gardeners and backyard swimmers.

Doubling as a mud room, it also becomes the place where children can wash and change clothes. Homeowners interested in installing a basement lavatory are advised to consult with a qualified plumbing contractor.

many types, to create many architectural effects, and can be painted to carry out any color scheme preferred or stained for a rustic look.

It does, however, require maintenance, through painting or varnishing, so the question of upkeep should be considered.

Modern low-maintenance materials include aluminum siding. Among its advantages are: no warping, rotting, rusting or cracking and no danger from termites. In addition, it is available today in a variety of finishes and colors.

Far fetched, you say? Far from it. If you live on a farm 50 years ago, you might have had to do just that.

At that time, farms were practically without power. Electricity had come to the city, but not to the country. On many farms, the only horsepower for farm equipment was four-legged.

So when a washing machine company introduced a half-horsepower gasoline engine on a wooden washer in 1915 to help relieve the farm wife of one of her most backbreaking chores, it was only natural that the farmer would try to find a way to make this power work for him, too.

That he did. On washday, his wife could expect to look in the barn, the field or a dozen other places for her washing machine engine.

The farmer hitched it to saws, pumps and other farm tools during the week, and it worked so well that the wife had a hard time getting it back to do the laundry.

Some of these 50-year-old engines are still around the farm. The company occasionally receives a letter from an old timer who reports: "I still have one of your machines that is run with a gasoline engine and..."

Ironically, the company received one such letter on the day our first astronaut orbited the earth three times.

Inside the Pump corned beef and cabbage dinners will be served. Irish Singers and Irish Jigs will add to the atmosphere. Trophies will be awarded to winners of all the contests.

The Pump is noted for its atmosphere and fine cuisine. Lunches and dinners are served six days a week. The restaurant is closed Sundays.

The Village Pump is located at 32350 W. 8 Mile Rd.

GLENN FORD BITES the dust, in one of the action filled moments, in MGM's hilarious modern-day western, "The Rounders." Henry Fonda plays his riding companion. Sue Ann Langdon and Hope Holiday are on display, as two Las Vegas strippers who add to the unpredictable complications. The laugh hit was filmed in panavision and metrocolor, in Arizona. It is being shown at the Penn Theatre, on Penniman Ave., in Plymouth.

U. of D. Talk By Gabriel Marcel Set

Gabriel Marcel, France's foremost Christian Existentialist, a philosopher and playwright, will speak at the University of Detroit Student Union Ballroom at 8 p.m. Monday, March 15.

His topic: The Contemporary Crisis of Dramatic Art.

The program is under the joint sponsorship of the Graduate School and the Repertory Theatre Green Room Programs of the University of Detroit.

The panel will be chaired by the Rev. James Caine, S.J., chairman of the U. of D. theatre faculty, and will include, in addition to Marcel, three drama critics: Louis Cook of the Detroit Free Press, Jay Carr of the Detroit News and Russell McLaughlin, host of the Green Room programs.

Tickets for Marcel's evening lecture, are available through officers of the Dean of Men and the Graduate School at U. of D.

WSU Playwriting Awards Contest Prize Announced

Announcement of a grant and judges for Wayne State University's 1965 Playwriting Awards has been made by the Department of English and University Theatre, sponsors of the annual competition.

A donation of $300 from the Greater Detroit Motion Picture Council has been accepted for awards in three possible categories: full-length play, one-act play and children's play.

The awards will be made by a judging committee of three Detroit critics: Jay Carr of the Detroit News, Louis Cook of the Detroit Free Press, and Frank Gill, former critic for the Detroit Times, Windsor Daily Star and Billboard.

Prize-winning plays will be considered for production by the University Theatre, which reserves the option for first production rights for one year. The contest is open to any person who has been enrolled at Wayne State University at any time during the two years prior to the contest deadline, April 1.

Rules and application forms are available in the English Department Office in State Hall and the University Theatre Office in the Hilberry Classic Theatre, both on the Wayne campus. Mail requests may be sent to the Wayne State University Theatre, Detroit, 48202.

Cinderella Opens Friday at Thurston

The Livonia-Redford Junior Theatre Guild production of Cinderella opens this Friday night at 8 p.m. at Thurston Little Theatre. The Friday performance is the traditional Family Night Showing.

Family Night is the evening when Guild members and season ticket holders gather their children for an opening night performance.

Children's performances are slated Saturday, March 13 at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. and 2 and 4 p.m. at Thurston.

It has been impossible to obtain a replacement date at Redford Union High School. Cinderella was originally scheduled to open at Redford Union on March 6, but because of the snowstorm was "bumped" by the "senior" Guild's production of "GIGI."

Other performances are scheduled: March 20 at Franklin High School, April 3 at Hoston School and April 10 at Bentley High School.

Redford Jaycees to Mark Group's Tenth Anniversary

Three hundred Jaycees will descend on Redford Township's hospitality this month for a regional president's meeting—the first time the local community has hosted one.

The session will be held March 30 at the Kenwood Lounge, Five Mile at Telegraph.

Meanwhile last Saturday, March 6, the Jaycees gathered for their 10th anniversary Birthday Ball.

The dance was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 25300 Five Mile, beginning at 7 p.m. with dinner. An hour-long cocktail party preceded the event, and dancing, discotheque style, was featured in the evening.

Farmingtonite Wins $20,000

Know-how has paid off for Richard A. Reynolds, of Farmington, who heads up a roofing company — the Firebaugh of Reynolds Co., 26448 Grand River, in Redford Township.

Last week, he won the $20,000 Idea Home Contest, conducted at the Builders Home, Furniture and Flower Show. He did so, by guessing exactly the number of nails in a large jar. The number was 29,227.

He can either cash in, or apply the $20,000 to the purchase of any one of 16 model homes that were shown at the show.

Reynolds has been entering such contests at home shows for 20 years. This year, he said, "I noticed the nails were slightly larger than those in recent years, so I cut down my first estimate." He was, admittedly, amazed that he guessed the exact number.

He and his wife, Mildred, have no children. She is a secretary at the Lincoln Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co.

Counselors List Campus Visits To Schoolcraft

High School counselors from schools in the Schoolcraft College district will visit the campus during the next two weeks to talk to former students from their respective schools and gain an overall evaluation of the ways in which the programs of the high schools and college make it possible for students to go from one to the other with success.

The counselors hope to learn ways in which they can be helpful to students. The College hopes to be able to build even closer relationships with the high schools in the college district, discovering ways in which it may be of greater assistance to students.

The schedule of visits follows:

With College Band
ITHACA, N. Y. — William W. Youhass, of Livonia, is a member of the Ithaca College Concert Band which will present a public concert Feb. 26 in the new Music Building on the campus. Youhass is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Youhass, 9729 Middlebelt Road.

When the weather turns colder, there is always a surge of interest at the Livonia Public Library in books on winter sports — skiing, skating, ice hockey, ice boating, and other winter activities, according to Librarian Skip Rosenthal.

An excellent recently-published book about winter sports is Arthur Lieber's "The Complete Book of Winter Sports," which covers a wide range of cold weather sports, including skiing, skating, bob-sledding, ice boating, curling, snowshoeing, and others. The author is a well known journalist whose work appears in major magazines.

For the skier, there are such newly published manuals as Frank Day's "If You Can Walk You Can Ski," Peter Estin's "Skiing the American Way," "Ski Pointers by the Experts," by the editors of Ski Life magazine, and Ollie Polasek's "Skiing."

Ice Hockey, one of the fastest and most exciting of the winter sports, is described in "The Hockey Handbook," by Lloyd Percival, and "Andy Bathgate's Hockey Secrets," by Andy Bathgate.

Still another book, S. Calhoun Smith's "Ice Boating" is a complete guide to ice boat design, construction, and sailing.

The library also has magazine articles and many other books on winter activities.

The South Branch is located at 33720 Plymouth Road, GA 7-1990, and the Sandburg Branch is at 30100 W. Seven Mile Road, 476-0700. The Livonia Libraries are open as follows: Monday through Thursday, 12-9; Friday and Saturday, 9-5.

Winter Sports Featured in Library Books

Redford Township children between the ages of 7 and 13 will be hosted at a Children's Brotherhood Party next Saturday, March 13, sponsored by the Redford Township Assembly for Human Relations.

A hootenanny with a well-known local folksinger, movies, refreshments and a guest speaker will be featured at the Party, and admission to the event is free.

The party will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Redford Township Community Room, Beech-Daly Rd. at Elsinore, one block south of Five Mile Rd.

Kid Brotherhood Party Saturday

Jim Wood To Host Music Show

Jim Wood, popular Detroit area radio announcer, will host the "Festival of Music" March 27 at North Farmington High School. The program, presented by the Kiwanis Club of Kendallwood, brings the talents of instrumental and vocal groups from Farmington area schools and the Kendallarks.

Wood's radio career has ranged from country and western shows to serious drama with Rod Sterling.

In 1963, Wood became the host of "Music Hall," WJR's morning and afternoon record show. He took over the "Jim Wood Show" the same year which provided a vehicle for his abilities. As host of this live show, Wood conducted interviews, wrote material and introduced some of his famous characterizations:

Eleven Fingers Finkle, Dr. Kurt Helwig and Brandy Picknicky to name a few.

Wood and his wife, Glenda, often work on skits together, sometimes incorporating some of their children (Susan, Deborah, Jemima, Rebecca and Stephen).

LOSS OF ROSES:

Masque Production Is Excellent Theatre

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY

"Is being yourself just being pig-headed and stubborn? Isn't being yourself ever being nice too?"

William Inge wrote a "talkie" play called "A Loss of Roses" and the above lines appear early in Act I. The statement sums up the dilemma of Inge's characters. The Masque Theatre in downtown Detroit is currently offering the Detroit premiere of Loss of Roses.

Loss of Roses is a play. It is not for those who want the musical fantasy type of theater. It is, however, a powerful and realistic play.

The Masque production is good theatre. Dennis Patella who appears as Kenny catches the feeling and depth of a 21 year old boy trying to fill a man's shoes in all the wrong ways.

His mother, Helen, Norma Calkins is convincing 90 percent of the time. The lead, Lila Green, played by Jeanne Keller surmounts the difficulty of her role and comes through with some exceptional moments.

The best supporting actor was Gene Skuratowicz as Jelly, the not too-bright cohort of Kenny. Howard McFarland ably fills the shoes of the "heavy" Ricky.

For all of Inge's talk about "reality" and "childish illusions" the play is filled with all kinds of illusions about people's feelings and reactions. However, this is not the fault of the production but of the author and the actors really can't be held responsible for this shortcoming.

The Masque Theatre, in many respects, somewhat reminiscent of a kid's homemade neighborhood theatre. The quality of acting is far better than the nickel "garage" shows though.

Its informality and coffee house atmosphere has a certain kind of charm. The production is good enough to satisfy the experienced theatergoer, but will not over-whelm the individual undergoing his first exposure to the "legit."

As long as this kind of theatrical group is functioning, show business in Inge's words "isn't dead."

"Loss of Roses" will run at the Masque until March 27. For persons interested in serious, contemporary drama it is recommended. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Masque at WO. 3-9000.

3 Livonians To Tour Mexico

Three Franklin High School students are members of Musical Youth International, a new musical organization featuring combined vocal and instrumental ensembles of outstanding high school musicians.

Those Livonia residents participating are: Tim Topolewski of 9241 Lathers; James Fisher of 35840 Parkdale; and Douglas Roose of 39240 Ann Arbor trail.

The group, which began weekly rehearsals for its 1965 season late in February, will make a month's tour of Mexico this summer. They will leave Metropolitan Airport on July 5.

Rotary-sponsored visits in Hermosillo, Culiacan, Guadalajara and Mexico City are being scheduled. The students will live in private homes en route and give varied concerts in schools, churches, recreation centers and concert halls.

Lester McCoy is musical director of the group. Charles Kirsch of Central High School, Battle Creek, is band director.

ACADEMY AWARD star Miriam Hopkins portrays the role of the lady of a house that could hardly be called a home, in the film "Fanny Hill: Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure." It begins today, at the Mai Kai Theatre, Plymouth Road corner Farmington.

Of the almost 250,000 crippled persons served by Easter Seal societies across the nation some 62,000 suffer from orthopedic and neuromuscular conditions.

Wally Roberts

'CURTAIN UP' GOING

George Bernard Shaw, the grand old curmudgeon of the theater, wrote "The Devil's Disciple" back before the turn of the century. In 1897, the first performance of this brief, melodramatic Shaw play saw the light of day.

Last week a courageous group of university thespians on the Eastern Michigan campus revived Shaw's "Devil's Disciple" most successfully. The colonial life of 1777 with its sweet and sour political aspects actively dominated the stage of the Quirk theater.

Double duty by designing five authentic early American settings for "Devil's Disciple." Mrs. Dudgeon's New Hampshire farm kitchen and Rev. Anderson's house spartan exuded the simple sarten colonial tastes. You had a feeling of being transported back to the 18th century the minute the curtain rose.

Dennis Lake as Christy gave a warm, humorous, engaging performance. His facial reactions plus pantomimic bits of business gave the play in Act I a rousing start. The audience looked forward to Dennis and his every appearance. Old Wally would have voted for Mr. Lake sinking his histrionic molars into an even meatier part to better test his thespic ability.

Eastern's production of "Devil's Disciple" truly shot sparks in the brilliant Act III council chamber scene when General Burgoyne arrives. Maraman Glossenger, a Quirk theater veteran, presented a perfectly polished portrayal of Gentleman Johnnie. Maraman with the tilt of the head or a slight inflection added new comic dimension to a most difficult role. Shaw saw Burgoyne as a witty, high comedian. Mr. Glossenger agreed with G.B. Shaw in his perceptive handling of the role.

Act III, scene two, was the high point of this production. General Burgoyne may have lost the Revolutionary War, but in "The Devil's Disciple," thanks to Maraman, Glossenger's versatile acting the theatrical war was a true victory. Robert MacGonigal as the Sergeant aided and abetted the evening's hilarity. We need to see more of this superb dialect artist. Not once during the evening did he lose his Cockney accent or did he slur his speech so that he was misunderstood. Too bad the next show at Eastern isn't "My Fair Lady" instead of "South Pacific." I would really love to see Bob do Eliza Doolittle's father, Alfie.

Many new faces in this production at Eastern. Joyce Cusmano, George McCloud, Jerry Lee, James Barnes, H. Greydon Hyde (sounds terribly British, doesn't he?), Janet Pratkan, Marie Miller, and Ted Mills all deserve good conduct medals for service over and above the call to duty in this melodramatic piece about the colonial fight for freedom. Future plays should provide them with more opportunity to show further evidence of their latent talents.

Technically, the production was professional in every respect. Max DeVolder's lighting patterns set the moods exceptionally well. Lois Vasi-sek's costume crew had their hands full with the many colonial costumes needed, but each character looked properly 18th century. David Payne's musical bridges, sound effects, and opening overture completed a satisfactory production and made the evening an enjoyable one.

Two cast members had cracked noses and legs, but they handled their parts ably in spite of their physical handicaps. Bill Moore played agilely about the stage with the aid of a walking stick. It is to his credit that at times we almost forgot about his infirm condition as he became emotionally involved in his role.

Before we lower the curtain for this week, I must correct an omission from last week's column. You will recall that I mentioned the Plymouth AAUW's production of "Cinderella" and how lovely the sets were. Well, it seems I neglected to mention a hard-working couple that spent many a weekend pounding — Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Joan Anderson also tried out her acting wings by taking on two roles in this current production. "Cinderella" not only played in Ann Arbor last weekend, but the AAUW group was asked to travel to Fenton for a command performance. Such popularity deserves an extra accolade.

Former Thurston Teacher Appears In College Play

Ina Rae Stanton, former Thurston High School teacher, recently appeared as Kersti in the University of Minnesota's theatre production of August Strindberg's "The Crown Bride."

Strindberg's play, which was written in 1902, had been produced only once before in the United States. The play is "the story of Christianity told through pagan elements." It is set in 17th century Sweden.

In Swimming Show
Doris Francu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Francu of 18848 Flamingo, Livonia, recently participated in a swimming show "Sketches Along the Mississippi" at Albion College. Doris, a sophomore at Albion, is a member of The Flying Fish Synchronized Swim Club.

Madonna College Students Examine "Priesthood of the Faithful"

Council of Catholic Women Elects Officers

Mrs. George Enot, of Divine Child parish, Dearborn, was elected recently to head Wayne Western Deanery, Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women.

As president of one of the 15 deaneries of the Detroit Council, she automatically serves as a vice-president on its executive board.

She, along with the seven other newly elected deanery presidents, will assume her duties at the conclusion of the annual convention of the DACCW to be held this year April 28 and 29 at the Statler-Hilton.

Also elected to two-year terms were Mrs. Ralph Gavin, a member of St. Sabina, Dearborn Heights, as first vice-president; Mrs. William Zager, of St. John Bosco parish, Redford Township, as second vice-president; and Mrs. Miles Greenwald, of St. Raphael parish, Garden City, as third vice-president.

Serving as corresponding secretary will be Mrs. Clair Anzman, a member of St. Linus parish, Dearborn; and as recording secretary, Mrs. Rocco Paluzzi, of St. Priscilla parish, Livonia. Outgoing president, Mrs. Peter Stevens, of St. Maurice parish, Livonia, was elected director.

At the St. Thomas Symposium, directed by the Rev. Leon Kennedy, and held last Thursday, Madonna College seniors emphasize the II Vatican Council work in theology, mainly, the decree on the Priesthood of the Faithful.

Students expressed their interpretation of the call to the apostolate of souls that the Vatican Council directed to all Christians.

In her introductory remarks, Kathryn Rowan, chairman, of the symposium, explained the basic principles of the priesthood of the faithful. That is: God does not make men holy merely as individuals, but as members of the people of God; The people of God is a Messianic people, each one has the role of savior for each one's status is to be the Son of God; each one's law therefore is; to love as Christ loved us; each one's purpose is to spread the Kingdom of God until the end of time; Christ established the people of God as a priesthood to pray, worship, and teach both by word and through charity.

Betty Satawa, speaking of journalism and the generating of this sense of mutual cooperation, said that in the face of the challenge of materialism, commercialism, sensationalism, and positivism that one meets in the daily press, the journalist must respond with a strong positive stand.

The journalist must advocate clean programs, social, political, and educational; he must endorse politicians who have displayed an upright character and fine example; he must offer wide publication to outstandingly good events; and he must indicate preference for the appealing ads which are also in good taste.

"Artists can meet the challenge of ecumenism," said Shirley Steine, "when they portray through their work the beauty shining through the drab and ugly, and so pull man out of a life of drudgery into the aesthetic realization of the loveliness of God's creation."

Mary Karpinski and Joan Herr, both student nurses, expressed a belief that opportunities for the apostolate of the faithful are innumerable in their profession. "Are you ready," they ask, "to meet the challenges of indirect abortion, sterilization, mutilation; those of backbiting whispering, even such minor challenges, as discouragement, gossiping, complaining?"

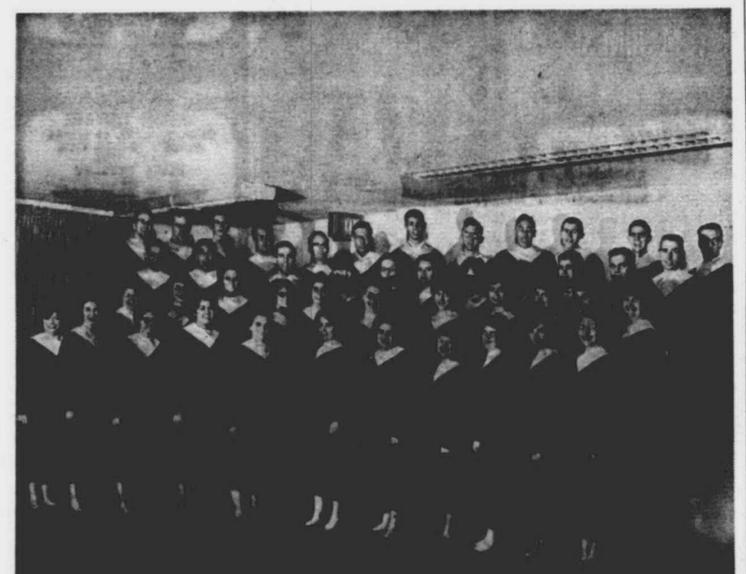

Preparing for work in the political world, Bernadine Merta feels that the political field is wide open to all Messianic people, to those who have right ideas and the right philosophy of life; to those who want justice and know how to fight for it; to those who want to be leaders, and have convictions that will make them such.

To those who believe that education is wasted on most women because they become homemakers a way, Mary Ann Stone, would advise training in home economics because then nothing will be wasted.

These and many other accounts of ways in which the priesthood of the faithful might be practiced in various fields, Diane Johnroe concluded the symposium by reaffirming the need of the Catholic student to respond fully to the call of the apostolate.

She ended her comments with the pertinent question: "Will we who have 100% of Christ's teachings and means of grace, use only 60%, and that for our own benefit only, while so many Christians outside the Church who have only 60% of Christ's teachings use that to a full 100%?"

After the presentation of REDFORD BAPTIST CHURCH will host a concert of sacred music by the Judson College Choir on March 14 at the 9 and 11:15 a.m. services. Directed by the Rev. Edward Thompson, the choir is on a 10 day tour of Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Included in the musical program are 17th century and contemporary selections and hymns, spirituals and folk songs.

Guild Slates Lenten Musicale

The Valparaiso University Guild, Detroit-West Chapter, will present a Lenten Musicale, "Lutheran Music of the Year" at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, 17101 West Seven Mile Rd., Sunday, March 14 at 4 p.m.

The Concordia Junior College Choir of Ann Arbor, will appear in concert under the direction of Dr. Paul Foelber, accompanied by the brass ensemble with Delbert Johnson, M.U.S. Ed. directing and Herbert Garske, M.U.S. organ.

Miss Leila Finzel, Pastor Roger Bronsted and Pastor Henry DeQuin will be the Readers in the presentation of the drama selections. Pastor Richard F. Jesse will be the liturgist.

Plans for the program have been arranged by Mrs. Jos. J. Higgins, Mrs. Harold Hecht and Mrs. Elmer O. Polzin.

Sunday School for Mentally Handicapped Set

A special Sunday School class for mentally handicapped children is scheduled at the First Baptist Church in Farmington. The class will meet each Sunday from 10 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. thus making attendance of parents at the 10 a.m. or 11:15 a.m. morning service.

Mrs. Viola Harlow, sponsor of the class, explained that "Bible instruction will be geared to the child's learning ability so that each child will be able to advance at his own pace."

Handicraft and refreshments will be made available during each session.

For further information about the class or if you wish to enroll a child contact Mrs. Harlow at 474-4621.

Salvation Army In Plymouth Plans Revival

Dr. Roland Crozier, of Joliet, Ill., one of the leading Evangelistic Crusaders in the Salvation Army Corps, will head a special Evangelistic Crusade planned by the Plymouth Corps as part of the Salvation Army World Wide Centenary Year celebration.

The services, in the Salvation Army Citadel, 290 Fairground, will begin Tuesday, March 9 and continue through March 14 with evening services during the week-7 p.m. and at 11 a.m. on Sunday.

Dr. Crozier is an internationally known revival campaigner and trumpet virtuoso who has served with various denominations throughout the United States and Canada.

His recent meetings include a citywide revival in Birmingham, Ala.; Hamilton, Ala.; Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Toronto, Canada.

Slate Sermons on Nature of Bible

A series of sermons, examining the books of the Bible, are being presented at the North Farmington Baptist Church on 13 Mile Road. The purpose of the sermons is to understand the nature and meaning of the books of the Bible and their place in scripture.

"The Bible does not stand or fall by the accuracy of its information," stated the Rev. William J. Holmes, minister of the church, "it is not a textbook of science, history or archaeology. The Bible stands or falls by what it has to say about the purpose of life, the meaning of the world we live in and the reality that lies beyond it."

C'ville Methodist To Host 5 Speakers

Five ministers will speak at five different Lenten services at the Clarenceville Methodist Church in Farmington. Each service will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The speakers are: March 10, Les McCabe; March 17, Bishop Marshall Russell Reed; March 24, Rev. J. Martindale; March 31, Rev. Lawrence R. Taylor; and April 7, Dr. Everett K. Seymour.

Contemporary Drama Scheduled for Lent at Faith Lutheran

Faith Lutheran Church in Livonia has scheduled a series of five Lenten Programs which "will involve the use of contemporary religious drama, relating the crucifixion to modern life," according to Pastor Ronald C. Starenko.

The Wednesday evening services, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the church on Five Mile Rd., are: March 10, "The Induction"; March 17, "The Seven Last Words of the Cross"; March 24, a continuation of the March 17 program, and April 7, "The Descent from the Cross" and the Epilogue.

In addition to the Wednesday programs, Faith Lutheran has announced a special Lenten series of sermons on Sunday mornings.

The general theme of the series is "Faith Lives." The first sermon, delivered last Sunday, was entitled "Under Stress." Other topics are: March 14 "... Upon the Word," March 21 "... in the World," March 28 "... for the World," and April 4 "... Now." April 4 has been designated Challenge of Faith Sunday for the congregation.

St. Matthew's to Examine Christian Doctrine

"Lent is set aside as a time for honest consideration of your Christian life," reads a communication from St. Matthew's Methodist Church in Livonia.

"This year," the pamphlet continues, "our Lenten and Easter services are emphasizing doctrines of the Christian Church. We know that it is impossible to cover all Christian doctrine during this Lenten period. Our attempt will be to explore some of the more obvious doctrines."

General topics to be covered in the Wednesday evening and Sunday services are: man; sin; God; Jesus Christ; Baptism; the Christian Church; the Holy Spirit; repentance; regeneration; christian morality; sanctification; Holy Communion; and eternal life.

The Wednesday services will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sunday services are at 9:30 and 11 a.m. All the sermons will be tape recorded for those who might not be able to attend all of the services.

St. John's Slates Services

Mid-week Lenten Services will be held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the St. John Lutheran Church in Farmington. The Rev. Charles Fox, pastor, will preach a series of sermons on the theme "Men and Christ."

The schedule of sermon topics is: March 10, "Those Who Cling to Him," March 17, "Those Who Revile Him," March 24, "Those Who Acknowledge Him," March 31, "Those Who Disown Him," and April 7, "Those Who Love Him."

The church is located at 23225 Gill Rd. in Farmington.

Prodigal Son Tale

The parable of the prodigal son is featured in this week's Bible lesson on "Substance" to be read in Christian Science churches Sunday.

"Religion is the opiate of the people," said Karl Marx. What's the antidote? You might try Antireligion. It's not easy on the people. It means persecutions, concentration camps, children turned against their parents. It creates blotches on the face of society: church buildings in ruins or used as stables. Or Irreligion. Of course, there are certain side effects: juvenile delinquency, teen-age crime waves, men spending lifetimes in prisons, malfeasance in office, corruption in business.

Would you prefer Secularism? Every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost—and the foremost, for that matter. Is the cure worse than the opiate? "Justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. . . . The love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us." (Romans 5:1, 5)

Lent gives you God's good medicine.

 "SEE THE GENTLEMEN FROM TENNYSON"
 32570 PLYMOUTH ROAD, LIVONIA TEL: 535-6770, 425-6500

The VW Station Wagon Can't hold the whole population of Livonia or Plymouth or Farmington or Redford

It can hold a lot of youngsters who live in Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington and Redford. It can hold 9 adults or who knows how many children?

We have some rather extreme weather around here — both cold and hot . . . Fortunately, there's nothing in the VW that can freeze or boil . . . The engine's air-cooled.

One thing about Volkswagen owners — they're not very popular with gas station attendants. They know that you can go about 24 miles on one gallon of gasoljine.

But you and the children and the neighbors' children will get along just beautifully in a VW station wagon.

TREAT YOURSELF

Advertised Price won't tell the whole story. We don't claim that all of our cars can be bought with nothing down... nor do we claim seemingly high allowances and fantastic price cuts. But we do know our cars are fairly priced and in better condition than you can find elsewhere. Treat yourself to the facts and get the whole story — visit Cartown today.
