Oakland County Vote Whips McNamara

Farrell Roberts Winner of State Senatorial Race

Former State Senator Farrell Roberts will be back in the legislature next week following his victory Monday in the 14th District special election.

Roberts, a Republican defeated his Democratic opponent, Edward McNamara, by a 3,600 vote margin. A total of 27,890 persons voted in the district, which includes Western Wayne and Oakland Counties.

The GOP standard bearer will take office as soon as the results of the election are certified and he can be sworn in. His victory fills the vacancy caused when State Senator elect Paul M. Chandler died last Dec. 12.

In Livonia, however, where McNamara is a member of the City Council, Roberts trailed by close to 500 votes. Unofficial results from the city's 40 precincts gave McNamara 6,523 votes and Roberts 5,978. The 12,000 persons who voted represented roughly one-third of those registered, according to Livonia City Clerk Addison Bacon.

Roberts, a graduate of Ann Arbor and the University of Michigan Law School, served as State Senator from 1960-1964 and was in the House of Representatives for four years, too. He authored the Community Mental Health Law and the Court of Appeals Act while in Lansing.

Both candidates issued statements on the election results to THE OBSERVER Monday night. "I'm really happy with the results," Roberts said, "and I was very happy with the turnout of voters, particularly in Livonia. I will attempt to do the job well with which the voters of this district have entrusted me."

McNamara said, "I would like to thank the many wonderful people who spent so much time and effort in my campaign. If sheer effort and devotion counted for anything, we would have won by a landslide. I would also like to congratulate my opponent who it appears has won this election. He fought a fair and square campaign. I wish him the best of luck in the Senate.

Voters Pick McKeon, Hudson

Houk, Smith Retain Commission Posts

Incumbents James Houk and Robert Smith won re-election to four-year terms to the Plymouth City Commission in Monday's election which found the former heading the balloting with a total of 821.

The vote was a surprising 25 per cent of the total registration with 1,289 going to the polls to elect four members to the Commission.

Incumbent Robert Bever, who indicated only a week before the balloting that he preferred not to be re-elected, had his request granted. He received a scant 206. Bever made his request known at a candidate meeting before the Kiwanis Club, indicating that he had lost his enthusiasm for the job.

Joining Houk and Smith were James McKeon, who was second in the race with 739, and George Hudson with 628.

Eldon Martin followed in fifth place with 587 followed by Arthur Shepard with 479.

McKeon, by finishing second, received a four-year term and Hudson, by virtue of his fourth place, was elected for two years.

Arch Vallier, who doubles as City Commissioner and City Supervisor, was unopposed for re-election to the latter position and totaled 817. He is the City's representative on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors as a result of his election.

There was never any question as to Houk regaining his post. He was high man in four of the five precincts and tied with Smith in Precinct 2 with 75 votes.

Twp. Board Awaits Opinion on Vacancy

Members of the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees are awaiting an opinion from the Wayne County Prosecutor's office as to what legal steps they can take to fill the vacancy created by the sudden death of Supervisor Roy Lindsay a week ago.

Unofficially, the Trustees feel that the vacancy may be filled by appointment from the Board inasmuch as Lindsay had been sworn in for his new term of office which wasn't scheduled to start until Saturday, April 10.

Draugelis Wins City Judgeship

City Attorney Edward Draugelis, who went to Circuit Court to get a ruling to clear his eligibility for the post, was elected Plymouth's Municipal Judge by an overwhelming 819 to 334 margin in Monday's election.

The 3-1 vote was practically the same that Draugelis had over his two primary election opponents, J. Rusling Cutler and Clifford Manwaring.

Only Cutler stood in Draugelis' path this time and he didn't have enough support from the electors, losing in each of the five precincts.

Draugelis had a 154-69 edge in No. 1, 73-40 in No. 2, 202-74 in No. 3, 197-75 in No. 4 and 193-76 in No. 5.

He is slated to succeed Judge Harry Deyo at the end of the year. Deyo was ineligible for reelection by reason of the 70-year-old age limit provided for in the new State Constitution.

Friday and Saturday Nights Junior High East Musicians Present 'Rockets Unlimited'

Folk music is the theme and a hootenanny will be featured when musicians and singers from Junior High East present the fifth annual edition of "Rockets Unlimited" Friday and Saturday in the gym at Junior High East.

Under the direction of Larry Livingston and William Grimmer, the Rocket band, Easternaires orchestra and the 100 voice choir and girls ensemble will present a program that has rapidly become one of the best presented by Plymouth School groups.

In the five years since the first Rockets Unlimited was presented, the show has gained such popularity that school officials are looking for a near sellout on each of the evenings. The curtain will go up at 8 p.m. each night.

Guest stars for this year's presentation will be the Up-ton Sisters, the Plymouth trio that is noted for its rendition of folk songs, and Brad Weage, a nine-year-old Plymouthite who is an authentic ragtime pianist.

The music will include such oldtime favorites as "Frankie and Johnnie," "Lonesome Road," "The Arkansas Traveler," and "Down by the Riverside." Each will be given special treatment.

Janet Heidenrich will have the stage for ballet number accompanied by the strings of the Easternaires.

Struck While Walking

Plymouth Youth Killed by Car

Struck by a passing car while walking along Schoolcraft Road near Robinwood in the Lakepointe subdivision, Bob Priehs, 15, of 50476 Orangelawn, died four hours later in Wayne County General Hospital of head injuries.

Bob, a sophomore at Plymouth High School, was one of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Priehs. He had enrolled at PHS last fall, transferring there from Hazel Park.

Plymouth Township Vote Is Tabulated in Eight Minutes

It only took eight minutes for precinct workers to count the ballots in Plymouth Township where a mere 7.5 per cent of the electors turned out to cast votes for the state senatorial race and for John Swainson for Circuit Court judge.

Township Election Chairman John McEwen, had the complete unofficial tabulation at 8:08 p.m., probably the fastest in the Township's history.

As expected the Republican stronghold gave Farrell Roberts a tremendous margin over Edward McNamara (Democrat) in the state senatorial campaign.

Steven told deputies, according to the sheriff's department reports, that he was driving west on Schoolcraft at a moderate rate of speed and had just passed another vehicle when he heard a thump. He told officers he saw nothing but decided to stop and check the thump.

Roberts totaled 500 in the four precincts and McNamara had 123. Swainson, also a Democrat, pulled 323 votes for the judgeship in which he was running unopposed.

As he went back he saw the boy's body lying alongside the road and immediately called for help. An ambulance was called within a matter of minutes and rushed Bob to Wayne County General Hospital where he died after an emergency operation, according to police reports.

The unofficial vote:

	McNamara	Roberts
Pct. 1	26	136
Pct. 2	23	106
Pct. 3	33	196
Pct. 4	39	70

Steven told investigating officers that he did not drive off the pavement and did not see anything but did feel some sort of an impact. Deputies said the youth was dressed in black clothing and Schoolcraft at that

Township Budget Up $11,865 Over '64-'65

With Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes serving as moderator, the Plymouth Township Board approved a budget of $199,435 for 1965-66, an increase of $11,865 over that of a year ago.

Mrs. Holmes was named moderator for the meeting by a unanimous vote.

Clerk John McEwen in presenting a summary copy of the 1965-6 estimated receipts and expenditures of the general fund amounting to $199,435, said the $11,865 increase was due to salary increases, new voting machines and repairs to fire apparatus and equipment.

The township plans to add as many as three precincts in the near future and part of the expenditures was for machines to take care of the anticipated expansion.

McEwen estimated receipts for the fiscal year would be $199,435, broken down in the following manner: property taxes and interest, $71,835; state shared taxes, $75,200; permits and licenses, $24,900; other revenues, $2,500; and unappropriated surplus, $25,000.

The estimate of receipts is up almost $4,000 from the $195,920 of a year ago.

Mrs. Holmes, who has charge of the water and sewer departments, submitted the Water Department of estimated revenues for the new fiscal year of $11,920 and estimated revenue from the sewer department of $96,300.

The trustees discussed the question of appointment of the various Township officials previously appointed at this meeting, including Township Attorney, Engineer, Auditor. On a motion by Ralph Garber and support by Dick Lauterbach, it was voted that the appointments be tabled until the next regular meeting in April.

Arbor Day Planting to Kick Off Livonia's 'Clean-Up' Campaign

An Arbor Day planting at three community sites in Livonia will kick off the community's "Clean Up — Paint Up — Fix Up — Plant Up" drive for 1965, the Keep Livonia Beautiful Committee has announced. Trees will be planted at Carl Sandburg Library and at two Fire Stations on April 22. The planting will be followed by a month-long city cleanup campaign starting May 1. From June 1 to 5, the annual judging of the city's cleanest subdivision will take place, and in July, a civic association contest to be judged on community projects will take place. In August there will be competition among retail businesses and in September, an industry and manufacturing competition is scheduled to take place. In October an awards luncheon will honor winners of each contest and in November the committee will prepare entry notes for the "Nation's Cleanest Town Contest." This year the Committee is concentrating its efforts on winning the national award, which is given by the National Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up Bureau in Washington, D.C. The basis of the award is on projects and activities culminating in improvement of the community. Toward this end, each citizen and business is requested to cooperate by taking pictures for publication and submitting them to both the Committee (at the Mayor's office) and the Livonian Observer, or any remodeling of premises, landscaping or project undertaken either by an individual homeowner, a business or a group.

Governor Sponsors Youth Conference

Governor Romney today announced that he and Lt. Governor William Milliken will sponsor a Michigan Student Leadership Conference in cooperation with the Republican Student Advisory Committee. The conference will be held at the Inn America Motel in East Lansing on Saturday, April 10. A group of outstanding Republican officials, legislators and educators will serve as resource people in the conference seminars. Governor Romney, Lt. Milliken and Mrs. Eilly Peterson, Republican State Chairman, will each speak at a general session of the conference. John Martin, national committeeman, will be in attendance including student body presidents, campus newspapers editors, fraternity and sorority officers, student council members and others. "The three-fold purpose of this conference," the Governor stated, "is to: 1. Increase student awareness of the complex problems facing our society. 2. Provide an opportunity for student leaders to meet with Republican leaders who are presently working to provide meaningful solutions to these problems. 3. Invite these students to contribute to the Party's ideas and to participate in the Republican Party as concerned young citizens."

Head Area Cancer Drive

Mrs. Jean Cohen, 18115 Middlebelt Road and Mrs. Joan Marshall, 30129 Hathaway, Livonia, have accepted District Chairmanships to be conducted for the American Cancer Society's educational and fund-raising Crusade to be conducted during the month of April. Proclaimed Cancer Control Month by both President Johnson and Governor Romney, April will see thousands of ACS Crusaders distribute educational material which has already helped save the lives of more than 1.3 million Americans who have been cured of cancer. The American Cancer Society, in addition to distributing material designed to detect and prevent the disease, provides various patient services and allocates hundreds of thousands of dollars to cancer research, much of it going in grants to educational institutions located in Southeastern Michigan. During April the Society conducts its once a year campaign to raise funds for its programs of research, education and services. The 1965 Crusade will be climaxed by a house to house visit by volunteers on Tuesday, April 27.

Classes for Diabetics Scheduled

The next series of Instruction Classes for diabetics and their families will be held at the Wayne County Health Center, Merriman Road, Elioise, Michigan beginning Monday, April 19. All diabetics regardless of age are eligible to attend. Children should be accompanied by parents. These classes stress the importance of the diabetic's cooperation with his physician and the responsibility of the patient in caring for himself, in order to lead a healthful and useful life. Each class series will consist of five lessons held on consecutive Monday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. A physician and a dentist will discuss the physical and dental health of the diabetic the first session. Two of the classes will be taught by Mrs. Florence Meiers, Executive Dietitian at the Botsford General Hospital, and two of the classes by Miss Carol House, public health nurse with the Wayne County Department of Health. Persons interested may register for the classes by calling the Wayne County Department of Health, PA 1-0200 or CR 4-2800, Extension 6901. All diabetics must have the written approval of their doctors to attend these classes. Wednesday afternoon classes are also scheduled.

New Group Hears Debate on 'Catcher'

Twenty-seven interested citizens turned out for the organizational meeting of the League for the Protection of Parental Authority Monday evening.

Almost half of them—eleven in all—were college or high school students.

At times the meeting came close to breaking down into a generation battle over the merits of J. D. Sallinger's "Catcher in the Rye." The teen-agers just about all (with one exception) spoke strongly in favor of the book and the parental generation condemned the book and classified the teenagers' reaction as somewhat "silly."

Catcher tells the story of a young adolescent on a weekend in New York City before returning home to tell his parents that he has been discharged from boarding school. Written more than a decade ago, the book has been the subject of controversy since it was first published.

Thomas Daoust told the people assembled in the VFW Hall that the purpose of the organization was "not to crucify or hurt anybody" but to "emphasize the primacy of the parent" in teaching matters.

Daoust stated that the parent has the sole responsibility and authority from God to raise his children. The parent may delegate spheres of this authority to other people, but until this authority is given by the parent to some other individual the responsibility of teaching is primarily the parent's.

The parents agreed with him. One mother told The Observer that she is concerned with the general moral decay throughout the country and believes "the re-establishment of the strict lines of parental authority must start first in the home and then in the schools." She said that she thought this issue was a good place to begin.

Daoust said that he had received a letter from Livonia Superintendent of Schools Benton Yates stating that a committee had been formed to investigate the group's complaint about Catcher being read by 12 grade Bentley English students and that the Board of Education would hear the group's report at its study session on April 13.

All study sessions and regular meetings of the Board of Education are held in the Board Room in the Livonia School Administration Building on Farmington Rd. just south of Five Mile. The meetings are open to the public and begin at 8 p.m.

Daoust also reported that the group would examine the psychological testing in the schools and again indicated that if such testing is done with the consent of parents then there would be no argument.

He stated, however, that children reading such books as Catcher and taking such tests was done without the parent's knowledge and consent and that this is wrong.

When one teenager stated that her parents simply would not understand such things and would "take it entirely the wrong way" Daoust stated "it is not up to you or the teacher to say or decide this young lady because the parent is boss."

Pat Daoust, who serves as public relations chairman for the group, broke in at one point to state that "this meeting was called for people who have a beef, those of you who wish to praise the book take your praises some other place."

We are not here to get an argument or discussion but to form a group and this group will continue to function to serve as a place where parent's can bring their complaints."

Vice President of the League, John Schreff, spoke up and said that he appreciated hearing both sides and thought that it was a good idea to bring it out.

College Choir To Present Requiem Friday

The Schoolcraft College Evening Choir will present the Faure Requiem Friday (April 9) at 8:15 in the college library. It will be the first public appearance of the recently organized community choir.

Wayne Dunlap, director of Music at Schoolcraft College, will conduct the choir in the program which is open to the public free of charge.

Soloists will be June Lorimer, of Northville, a high school student, and John Washburn of Farmington. Members of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will accompany the singers. The choir members come from Farmington, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and northwest Detroit.

MAKING PLANS for a fund raising campaign for the proposed Community Opportunity Center—a sheltered workshop for mentally retarded youngsters and adults—are members of the executive committee. The group includes: (from left) Vice President George Conover, William Green, Mrs. Conover, President Wendell Smith, Acting Secretary Mrs. David Mohrhardt and Robert Clogg. The Center, as planned will take in the communities of Livonia, Plymouth and Northville as a start and then expand to include other communities in the area.

Observer Offers Big Bargain For National Ad Week

Now is the time for all thrifty housewives to cash in on the annual housecleaning chore.

The Observer Newspapers Inc., in all editions of Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township, Farmington, Garden City and Nankin Township, is offering a half-price special in classified advertising next week in conjunction with National Want Ad Week, April 4 through April 10.

Instead of discarding unwanted but still useful items, the housewives of the area may be able to pick up some grocery money or even the price of a new spring outfit if they take advantage of the want ad offer in this week's Observer newspapers.

Mrs. Shirlee Busetto, manager of the classified advertising department, said many readers don't realize the effectiveness of want ads until they have tried them.

The want ad section is one of the oldest people's market places, Mrs. Busetto said, adding the 1666 fire in London marked the advent of the modern classified ads.

The fire destroyed more than 12,000 homes. Families were separated, fleeing from the raging inferno. Furniture and household goods were abandoned.

The result was a London newspaper offered want ads for the fire victims to communicate their wants and needs to each other through the printed word.

"Today's want ads are the clearing house for buying, selling, trading, renting and advertising just about everything imaginable," points out Mrs. Busetto.

"It's amazing, many people read the want ads as avidly as others read the comics, the sports pages or the editorials."

So here is your opportunity to sell some of those things around the house. Call GA

JCs Honor Smith and Duggan

Wendell Smith, 14302 Shadywood, Plymouth, immediate past president of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been elected a national director of Region C which includes 40 chapters in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

The region includes Jaycee organizations in Districts 6, 8 and 9. Smith also is publicity director for Michigan.

At the same time, Pat Duggan, 18931 Whitby, Livonia, was elected state vice president of District 6 which includes 12 chapters in the Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington, Redford Township, Romulus and Garden City sector.

Pat is a past president of the Livonia Jaycees, served as a director for the past three years and was co-chairman of the Candlelight Ball that raised $11,000 for a swimming pool for the Plymouth State Home.

He succeeds Gordon Silvey, of Romulus, as vice president.

Whitman Pupils to Perform

A talent show starring students of Whitman Junior High School will be presented Tuesday, April 13, at 8 p.m. before parents at a PTA meeting.

Andrea Clark will be mistress of ceremonies and she'll introduce vocal, instrumental, choral and orchestral performers.

Mrs. Strela Schreiber, Board of Education member, will discuss coming needs of the school system with parents at the meeting.

HELPING HAND for Eyes for Needy Inc. is offered by the staff of the Harry J. Will Funeral Home, 25450 Plymouth Road in Redford Township, shown with more than 6,000 pairs of eye glasses that will be sent to the organization. The funeral home uses it as a community project, collects the glasses at the home and then send them on to Short Hills, N.J. for distribution and indexing. This is the second shipment sent on by the Will Funeral Home. Shown looking over the glasses, prior to shipment, are (from left) Robert DeLong, J. Albin Jackman, Harry J. Will and Ralph Basel. Elmer Engel, who also aided in the campaign, is in military service.

Meet Men in Charge of Our New Editions

The Observer Newspapers this week enter into the Garden City and Nankin Township areas with two new editions, the Garden City and Nankin Township Observers.

And to meet the need for editorial and advertising coverage, two newcomers have been added to the staff, each with years of experience in the weekly newspaper field and each with years of know how on how to meet and make friends.

The newest member of the editorial staff is Bill Gail, formerly with the Livingston County Press in Howell, and added to the advertising staff is Don Derr, former advertising manager of the Plymouth Mail.

Appointment of each was announced this week by Mrs. Myra Chandler, president of The Observer Newspapers, Inc.

Gail comes to The Observer with a background of 10 years in the weekly field and as a former prominent Detroit orchestra leader. He will edit the new Garden City and Nankin Township editions.

He comes from the Livingston County Press where he was editor for the past year and the Brighton Argus where he served two years.

Before becoming a journalist, Gail led an orchestra in the metropolitan Detroit area during the 1940s. He played numerous engagements at all the area country clubs and at Detroit's major ballrooms.

He attended the University of Michigan and received a bachelor's degree from Wayne State University in 1947.

He and his wife and five children presently live in Howell but plan to move into the Garden City-Nankin Township area shortly after the end of the school term.

Derr, 29, has years of experience in the weekly and daily field. He began his advertising career as a salesman for the Albion Recorder and then moved to the Jackson Citizen Patriot.

However, he decided to shift into the weekly field and took the position with the Plymouth newspaper, then transferring to The Observer chain due to the greater opportunities.

He is a better than average layout man and is skilled in making up ads that please the advertiser and sell the market.

That's why he was added to The Observer staff.

He is married to Vonda L. Derr and they plan to move into the Garden City-Nankin Township sector as soon as they find a suitable home.

These are the two gentlemen, readers and advertisers in the new Garden City and Nankin Township editions, will meet and do business with.

The entire staff of The Observer Newspapers, Inc., hopes you enjoy your associations with them and be sure to become acquainted as soon as possible—they want to meet you, we want you to meet them.

This article may be the only notice that will reach deserving veterans. Any veteran having disability rating of zero to 9 per cent is especially urged to apply for this insurance, as no other notice will appear anywhere.

For many veterans, this may be only chance that will be presented to buy life insurance. Rates are less than commercial companies and you may purchase up to $10,000 worth. Owners of N.S.L.I. may increase their coverage to the maximum under a Modified Plan that really needs very little explanation.

Veterans are urged to investigate N.S.L.I. now and then attend a special meeting April 15.

For all veterans interested in the new insurance, a special meeting will be held by Chapter No. 14 Disabled American Veterans on Thursday, April 15, in the American Legion Hall, 9318 Newburgh, south of Ann Arbor Trail.

Mary Walker, Field Service Officer, will explain the new law and answer all questions.

For further information call V. Fredendall, commander, at GR 4-4431.

K. of C. Asks Liquor License

A club liquor license has been applied for by Livonia's Fr. Daniel Lord Council of Knights of Columbus.

The organization, whose club house is located at 3905 Schoolcraft Rd., filed application with the Liquor Control Commission and at the same time announced that its club house is very near completion, with finishing touches being put on the interior now.

Star Scout

At the March Court of Honor Jim Roshirt became the first Star Scout in Troop 758. Tom Kenny, Ken Kline, Larry Day, Bill Kesling, Jim Eastman, Scott Gentry, Steve Sampson received Second Class.

Order of Arrow Meets

Livonia Boy Scouts' Order of the Arrow will meet April 21 at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, Hubbard at W. Chicago, Livonia.

Beechview PTA Slates Special Education Film

Oakland County's program of special education will be discussed by Dr. Hubert Watson, director of special education for the Farmington School District, at Beechview Elementary School, Monday, April 12, at 8 p.m.

Harold E. Shpiece, president of the Beechview Parent-Teachers Association, said Dr. Watson's presentation would be highlighted by a film, "Special Children of Oakland County," which originally was shown on Detroit's Channel 2 public affairs program.

The film later won the 1964 award for the best education-all documentary produced in Michigan.

Parents and teachers from other Farmington schools who are interested in the county's special education program are invited to attend the Beechview PTA meeting.

Family Affairs Month Is Set in Two Areas

"Family Affairs Month" was proclaimed for April by Mayor Harvey W. Moelke and Supervisor Jack McDonald.

The text of the proclamation: PROCLAMATION WHEREAS, through the medium of financial planning, family security can be programmed and designed to provide a maximum retirement income, and to protect a bereaved group from the emergencies which follow the untimely loss of a contributing member; and

WHEREAS, the four professions having most to do with financial planning—bankers, certified public accountants, insurance men and lawyers—have united to focus attention upon the necessity for adequate financial planning; and

WHEREAS, inadequate or poorly conceived insurance programs, outdated or unmade wills, failure to recognize the true net worth of a family or to select the most advantageous means of distribution under existing law alternatives, result in undue dissipation of assets, hardship and irretrievable loss.

NOW, THEREFORE, I do hereby proclaim the month of April, 1966, to be FAMILY AFFAIRS MONTH and encourage the head of each family to review his affairs, with care, and determine to seek aid and counseling from both private and public experts which will guide him in establishing a plan for his retirement and for the future financial security of his family.

HARVEY W. MOELKE, Mayor.

Tips from the League

Driver tests for new licenses and renewal of old licenses are given at City Hall between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday through Friday. Township residents may also apply at the Township Hall every Monday from 1 to 7 p.m.

You will find this information and much more in the know your town book which will be available soon.

The League of Women Voters of Farmington present this book as a service to the community at a nominal price.

For additional information call Mrs. E. McIrvine 474-7693.

Wants Out of C'ville

Bravo for Redford Township who want out of the Clarenceville School District. So do we, who live in the Livonia part of the District. Let's hear from the Farmington part and see what they think.

PLANS FOR A NEW $675,000 movie theater, the Westland Studio, to be located opposite Westland Shopping Center, were announced by veteran showman Charles Shafer. Completion is set for spring of next year. The Westland will have a seating capacity of 1,050. Ground-breaking ceremonies are scheduled for the near future. Shown is an architectural drawing of the building which will be constructed next to the Algiers Drive-In Theater at Warren and Wayne roads. Shafer also owns the Algiers, State Theater in Wayne, La Parisien and Wayne Drive-In Theater.

Oakland College Gets New System

Oakland County Community College, which is opening a branch in Farmington in 1966, has adopted a new system of education, based on a system being experimented with at Purdue University.

Under this system, students will spend only a small part of their time in formal classes. Most of their time will be spent in private study—coming as close as possible to having a private tutor.

Students will get one formal lecture a week, in each of their subjects. They will spend the rest of their time in study booths being guided by tutors. They will receive a written or oral examination at the end of each week.

The amount of time a student spends on a particular subject will therefore depend on his aptitude and desire.

By programming the learning process, it is hoped that the need for cramming will be eliminated.

Students will spend only about four of five hours a week in formal classroom situations, as opposed to 17 hours in a conventional college.

Their individual time will be spent in study booths. These booths are called carrels, and are equipped with tape recorders, slide projectors, and film clips. They will remain open daily, from 8 a.m. to midnight.

In addition, there will be small conference rooms available for seminars.

IT IS SPRING, as proof by the Gainsborough picture-pretty crepe dress which frames your face in a flutter of ruffles. Oversize houndstooth check in carefree Arnel and Fortrel. The skirt features a lining in the back. Exciting Spring shades of lime green, citron yellow and classic black. Sizes 10 to 20. It's dramatically new and it's at Crowley's in the Livonia Mall.

Girl Scout Notes

By AMY CHARRON

I promised you news about "Day Camps." That time is coming up fast. The camps can find room for any of you—mothers who care to help. Even young children, if they don't need naps, can enjoy a fine time out of doors. Can you help these girls have eight days of fun, Mothers?

Day Camping is eight fun packed days filled with arts and crafts, cooking, nature, ceremonies, new friends and much, much more. The girls in Farmington this year have a greater choice of sessions they may attend. Camp Chippewa at 10 Mile Road and Telegraph Rd., as well as the first camp date comes right after school is out. Session is from June 22 to July 2. Mrs. Eileen Schafer will be director of this session. On March 25th I had her come to show camp film for my girls of Brownie Troop #127, and our guests from Brownie Troop #527. Their leader is Mrs. Ann Leach. We told our mothers they were welcome, too, so mothers from both troops came. I'm sure the girls learned from Mrs. Schafer that camping can be a delightful time. Mrs. Schafer has a way of making it all so much fun. I wish I could help, but because of health reasons I can't. Sessions will be from July 6 to July 16. Mrs. Jean Quist will be director for this session. The other is at Camp Arapaho at Warron's Woods, 12 Mile Road and Haggerty Road. This will be from July 27 to August 6. The director for this camp will be Mrs. Georgia Dennis. Get your application in today (not before, not later). If you send before, you'll be at the bottom of the pile because they check the postmark for correct mailing time. Don't take it in to the office either. Start forming your car pools.

Brownie Troop #573 with leaders Mrs. Kitty Mohoney and Mrs. Jan Clarke had a busy Girl Scout Sunday recently. It began with all attending 8:15 a.m. Mass at Our Lady of Sorrows, along with Cadette Troop #410, whose leaders are Mrs. Marge Kirby and Mrs. Eileen Schafer. The Troops then attended the Catholic Holy Hour at the University of Detroit's Memorial Building. Six sharp little Brownies took part in the flag ceremony along with 600 Girl Scouts. Garrying the American flag was Flag Bearer Debra Mohoney, and Troop Flag Bearer Margaret Clarke. The color guards were Joann Koscielniak, Bridgid O'Donnell, Patty Smolinski, and Barbara Kirby.

Cadette Troop #410 girls taking part in this huge flag ceremony were Leslie Allen, Meg Girardot, Mary Ellen Kirby, Nancy Nicholls, Denise Dinan, Mary Wright.

It was very impressive to see the thousands of girls neatly dressed in their uniforms. Junior Troop #1036 has made some very pretty flowers out of "Vegetables and Fruits," and the busy working on "Badges," they already have earned the "Sewing Badge." Recently some of the girls were at the home of Mrs. Whitmore on Hull Road to see her "Decorate Cakes." They tried themselves, and found it to be lots of fun. Toward their "Sign of Arrow Badge" they attended Brownie Troop #127, where they learned a Japanese Dance.

They attended "Jack and The Beanstalk" on April 3rd. The leaders are Mrs. Judy Cleveland and Mrs. Florence Neumann.

Recently Mrs. Robert Stamps, and daughter Debra of Junior Troop #1083 of Livonia, returned to Alameda School to teach girls from troops Junior 1036, 1019, 365 and 449, and Brownie Troop 527, who were guests of my Troop, Brownie 127. They were taught a dance by Debra Stamps, called "The Japanese Coal Miners Dance."

Debra was dressed in a complete Japanese dress, made by her mother, and gracefully showed the girls the dance steps.

Woman, 89, Undaunted By Injury

Jennie Cox will be 89 in February. On Dec. 12, while vacationing in Wickliffe, Ohio, she fell down 12 feet of stairs. She was rushed to the hospital, and 10 stitches were put in her head. An X-Ray revealed that her skull wasn't fractured. That same day she was out of the hospital, and back on her vacation.

This is the kind of hardiness one expects from pioneer stock. And Mrs. Cox is a pioneer of Farmington.

As a young lady, in 1893, she taught at the McNichols School, on Farmington Rd. just north of 13 Mile. "I remember the year," she recalls, "because I quit to go to the Chicago World's Fair, with a friend." The McNichols School is now used for storage.

Mrs. Cox is still clear-eyed and pretty—despite the fresh scar on her forehead. She is active in the Farmington Historical Society.

Attends Conference

Mr. Louis Reum, Farmington, was among the nearly 175 independent ServiceMaster franchise dealers from the mid-west attending a six-day study program on the latest in home care services, customer relations, and other phases of his company's business. Reum maintains an office at 22849 Maple St., Farmington.

Dems Without Smorgasbord, Alf Ailing

Something of value has been missing from the meetings of the Farmington Democratic Club lately. It is the delicious smorgasbord prepared by Alf Landgren.

The venerable Mr. Landgren now 72 years old, hasn't felt well enough, recently, to perform his culinary magic, but hopes to resume it soon.

Langdren is a retired tool and die worker. He was with Chrysler's for 16 years, and with Ex-cello's for another 16 years.

He came to Farmington 28 years ago, and was one of a small band that started the Democratic Club here—Gene Lee, W. Allen Nelson, the Graces, and the Habermehls were others in the group. Prior to this time, the Michigan Democrats pretty well wrote off the area.

By the end of World War II, they were numerous enough to hold their meetings in the old Town Hall.

Landgren recalls that Democrats had to be pretty quiet in the early days. They are no longer quiet. Even in the beginning, his motto was: "Stand up, and be counted. Don't be afraid to say you're a Democrat."

Though Landgren and his close friend, the respected Allen Nelson, are both products of the labor movement, he says the Farmington Democratic Club has evolved as a broadly based cross section of doctors, lawyers, teachers, skilled and unskilled workers, and numerous housewives.

The most remarkable thing about this Swedish born working man is his intellect. His power and range of interest is remarkable.

He has a couple of thousand records, all of them indexed and cross-indexed. His favorite composers are Mozart and Beethoven, in that order.

His library would be fair competition for some public libraries. Its contributors include Shakespeare, Mark Twain, and Bruce Catton. In addition, Landgren borrows regularly from the Farmington District Library.

When he felt better, he got along on three and four hours sleep a night, and sometimes finished as many as four and five books by morning. His magazine reading—also prodigious—ranges from "The Reporter" to National Geographic.

Not surprisingly, his library includes the works of Thomas Locke, the pamphleteer of the American Revolution, who was perhaps the first liberal.

Alf's contemporary political heroes include Eleanor Roosevelt, Adlai Stevenson, and Walter Reuther. He is an admirer of the UAW, but is considerably less enthusiastic about the AF of L. He believes that Lyndon Johnson, and John Kennedy will rank with FDR, among the greatest presidents in our history.

As a liberal, he believes our country and our people are getting better all the time. He thinks that integration will be accepted because it is morally right.

But he is skeptical about the direction of young people nowadays. All American kids seem to be interested in, as far as Alf can see, is hot dogs and autos. Even the young people of his native Sweden, he says, are no longer as well behaved as they once were.

His pretty wife Beryl is less pessimistic about today's youth. She was a teacher for 14 years, and has a more personal view. Beryl is a Democrat too. In fact, her brother in Ohio, Earl Spafford, is Chairman of the Ashtabula County Democrats. The Landgren Smorgasbord reflects his wide range of interests. It includes a great variety of foods — including Gunsberg's Real Kosher Corned Beef.

Ford Motor Plans '30 Million Expansion in Operations

Ford Motor Company will invest more than $30 million through 1968 to expand and modernize its foundry operations in three states.

Charles H. Patterson, executive vice president, said the vast foundry improvement plan will increase production, permit greater flexibility in operations, and enable better use of plant space.

"The program essentially moves production of the Ford-innovated lightweight precision cast iron engines to a stage which combines quality with high-volume efficiency," Patterson said.

"Ford Motor Company has had an industry leadership role in improving foundry practices," Patterson added. "The current program exemplifies our desire to continue producing casts of the highest quality in the best possible working environment."

The program covers four plants—Dearborn Iron Foundry and Dearborn Specialty Foundry in the Rouge manufacturing area, Cleveland Foundry and aluminum foundry at Sheffield, Ala. Included in the program are:

- New molding lines for small parts, a high-efficiency ventilating system and dust precipitator, and a new laboratory at the Dearborn Iron Foundry.
- A new ventilating system, cupola refinements and core room modifications at Ford's Cleveland Foundry.

- New aluminum mold machines to increase piston production capability by 20 per cent at the Sheffield, Ala. Foundry and 24,000-square-foot building addition.
- New forehearths, improvements to the ventilating system and modifications to mold lines at the Dearborn Specialty Foundry.

Renovations at the 1,400,000-square-foot Dearborn Iron Foundry will include the installation of six complete new molding lines.

Each line will operate at 300 molds per hour. Larger mold flasks, or containers, will permit improved positioning of parts during casting. The result will be increased production of cast-iron cylinder heads, intake and exhaust manifolds, water pumps, transmission case housings and other engine components.

A new laboratory—a separate facility within the Dearborn foundry itself—will provide testing facilities for chemical, physical and metallographical tests of all foundry materials. In addition, Patterson said the Dearborn Iron Foundry modernization includes major facilities to improve ventilation within the plant.

High-efficiency dust collectors will be installed on the foundry's cupolas to collect, wash and purify furnace gases.

Other improvements at the Dearborn Iron Foundry include new induction forehearths to improve melting quality and capacity, a monorail system for transporting hot metal, an expanded castings-cleaning room, and changeover from brick-lined to enlarged shipping and receiving areas, and completion of the water-jacketed cupolas.

High School Seniors Take College Poll

More than 30,000 high school seniors in the public and parochial schools of Wayne County have completed a four page survey for the Program Needs Committee of the Wayne Community College Citizens' Study Group.

High school principals were requested in a letter from Study Director, Robert Keene, Wayne County secondary educational consultant, to have their students participate in the 38 district survey. These 38 Wayne County school districts were busy filling out the survey during the week of March 15-19.

Information received from the 30,000 seniors will be utilized by the Program Needs Committee to assist in the determination of the courses that could be offered to the post-high school youth of Wayne County.

Plans Underway For Livonia's Women Golfers

John Dufour, Superintendent of Livonia Parks and Recreation, announced that plans are underway to organize the Livonia Women's Golf League for the 1965 season, scheduled to get underway on Friday, June 4.

A record 54 ladies played last year, and Dufour anticipates a considerable increase in members for this season.

Any Livonia lady interested in joining the league this summer are urged to contact the president, Esther Colden (GA. 7-4633 after 5 p.m.), or the secretary, Grace Baidas (GA. 2-6776) or the Parks and Recreation Office, GA. 1-2000.

Livonia Jaycees Make Plans for Easter Egg Hunt

The annual Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by the Livonia Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Department of Parks and Recreation, will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday, April 17.

The Jaycees and Auxiliary Jayceettes, are busy making plans to color 325 dozen eggs to be provided for the thousands of children coming to the hunt.

The Hunt will be held at the Parks adjacent to Whitman, Wilson, Roosevelt and Botsford Schools.

All children who are three through eight years of age are invited to participate.

Over 300 Women Attend United Foundation Afternoon

By JERRY WENDT

We must depend on individual kindness, individual warmth, individual understanding, to answer many of the community needs, was the message brought to us by the United Fund Workers Thursday, April 1. Legislation will never answer all the problems, our individual contributions to the United Funds must take care of many problems.

Over 300 women were at Our Lady of Sorrows Hall to attend the Farmington "Inforama." Dessert and coffee were served the guests at a beautifully appointed tea table. The spring-like decorations of purple and lavender ribbons set the stage. A fashion show of spring hats was demonstrated by Schillers at Northland.

Mrs. Bruce Duke, Chairman of the program introduced the speakers of the day. First was Mr. Dave Diles, well known TV commentator. He beautifully illustrated the difference between legislation to relieve actual poverty and the individual contributions we make. Actual want is one thing, but research to carry on the cause and cure of disease is still supported by the United Fund.

Gordon H. Ford was introduced as "the man who has given his life to the Boys Republic." He gave an interesting account of the work the Republic is doing with troubled boys and told how many of them are turned into worth-while citizens because of the funds provided by the UF to do research into the background of their disturbances.

Lorene Babcock, public relations director for Children's Hospital illustrated the research that Children's Hospital does by bringing along as a guest one child who had "failed to thrive." This was a darling girl, 18 months old, who weighed only 14 lbs. Thanks to the research funds, she is alive and healthy and doctors are able to study her case.

I think we all realized at the end of this program that while legislation may relieve problems caused by unemployment, poor housing, etc., we must still provide funds for people with uncommon diseases and children who have emotional problems. We are still our brother's keepers and cannot neglect these unfortunates.

Program chairman was Mrs. E. G. Eickhoff, and other committee members were Mrs. H. J. Richardson, Mrs. William Ruland, Mrs. Robert Gilmore, Mrs. J. W. Erwin, Mrs. Gay K. Hall, Mrs. H. E. Faulkner, Mrs. Thomas Seavy, Mrs. Lyle Walker.

Hostesses were Mrs. Albert Atherton, Mrs. Thomas Gulbert, Mrs. Frank DePodesta, Mrs. Ray Eichler, Mrs. Arthur Grosocop, Mrs. Harold Mogridge, Mrs. James Henry, Mrs. Cecil LaFond, Mrs. Glenn Leland, Mrs. William Karl, Mrs. Fred Lutes.

Also present were Mrs. Arthur Mazur, regional chairman, and Don Langley from Oakland County Headquarters.

MEMBER MODELS of the afternoon "Happiness Is A Thing Called You" at the U.F. sponsored afternoon are (l-r) Mrs. Roy Struck, Mrs. Harley Walters, Mrs. H. J. Richardson, Mrs. Hays (Schillers Northland), Mrs. Hudson, commentator, Mrs. Cecil LaFond, Mrs. William Karl and Mrs. Charles Duff.

Delta Gammas See Picture On Blind

The Farmington Alumnae Association of Delta Gamma will meet at Mrs. Richard Boysen, 14189 Harrison, Livonia, on Monday evening April 12 at 8 p.m.

The program for the night will be a presentation of the movie "Crossroads at Four" from the National Society of the Prevention of Blindness, New York, which explains certain preschoolers' need for eye test.

Members are reminded to bring their money from a series of benefit parties held during the month of March. The proceeds are for the Plymouth State Home and Training School located at Five Mile and Sheldon Roads in Plymouth.

We hope that every Delta Gamma in Farmington, Redford, Plymouth, Novi and Northville will join us at the meeting in Livonia this month.

CYNTHIA LEA KESSLER

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kessler of Farmington Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Lea, to A. Michael Ford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ford of Farmington.

WELCOMING United Fund workers to the afternoon of information and entertainment was (l-r) Dave Diles, Gordon Boring, Mrs. Bruce Duke, Chairman of the afternoon, and John Hall of U.F.

Word Portrait of an Artist

By BETTY BALDWIN

George Cain, one of the most outstanding young artists in this area is being honored by the selection of his painting "Street Scene," to be given away April 17 by the Merchants Association at Wonderland Shopping Center, Plymouth at Middlebelt.

Cain is a devoted young man to his art and to his family and community. He resides at 36709 Marler Avenue in Livonia with his lovely wife and two children Kelley Anne and Scott ages 6 and 8.

George is employed by day as Traffic Manager at U.S.A.C. Transport, Inc., but in the evening he is an artist.

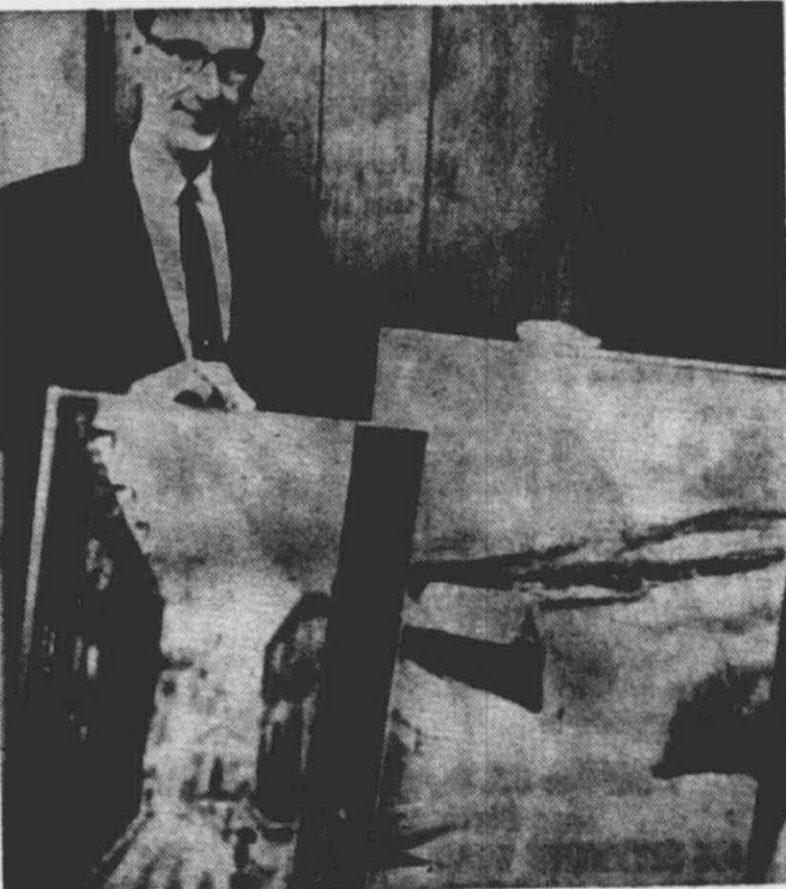

In an interview with his wife recently we were told how he comes home each day about 8 o'clock, eats a hurried dinner and goes immediately to the basement studio to work at his beloved painting, until too tired to paint any longer. Anyone less devoted to painting would not be able to stand such a terrific pace.

George was born in Detroit. He was graduated from Cooley High. He is also a graduate of the Detroit Institute of Technology.

While in Japan for two years with the Army Corps of Engineers there was no time to paint, only to dream of the day when peace would come again, and with it time to paint.

He is a dynamic painter. He projects his ideas directly to one's consciousness, leaving no doubt as to his message. His colors are usually bright but pleasing. His best work is done on skylines, landscapes and seascapes, however he is very capable of turning with ease from one subject to another with great versatility.

His work can be seen and purchased at Wonderland Shopping Center, Plymouth at Middlebelt every day from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. from April 9 through 17. The Merchant's Association has provided the building formerly used as a jewelry store and watch repair shop directly behind Federals, as the art show area.

Plymouthite, Artist of Month, Honored in Farmington

Marie Bonamici, versatile artist, poet and musician, is Artist of the Month for April at the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington.

Mrs. Bonamici, a resident of Plymouth and mother of three, is showing both poetry and artistic work in the display in the church's Adams Hall.

She is a member of the Three-Cities Art Club and of the Northville-Plymouth Writers club as well as being a church organist and piano teacher. She also has done folk singing in this area, accompanying herself on the guitar or dulcimer.

Mrs. Bonamici has studied at the Carl Beutal School of Music and the Detroit Institute of Musical Arts, as well as Dearborn Junior College, the University of Detroit and Eastern Michigan University. Presently she is studying ceramics with Kate Edgerton.

She recently exhibited paintings in a show at the Northland dome, and has had poems published in Concepts, Melody of the Muse, and Rhyme Time for the Very Young.

Worn White Goods Needed by Club

With the hope that suburban homemakers have old, worn white goods on hand after January White Sales, Pilot Club of Detroit is issuing a plea for materials for cancer pads.

Pilot, an international business women's service club, has contributed hundreds of hours in making cancer pads for use through Detroit societies.

The homes and business offices of Pilot Club members have been named as collection depots for white and pastel-tint sheets and pillow cases.

Materials can be taken to: Mary Louise Downing, 11201 Brookfield, Livonia.

Anyone who has a sizeable load and cannot make it to one of the collection points can call Mrs. George Lang, 884-6688 to arrange for pickup.

PARENTS PITCH IN

A parents' traffic "court" was organized at Roosevelt High School in Des Moines, Iowa, to help control driving in the neighborhood of the school. The "court" met with youthful offenders and their parents in an effort to correct poor driving habits before serious accidents occurred or arrests were necessary.

A small group of residents of Rosedale Gardens proposes to build a swimming pool on land adjoining the Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church, located at the corner of West Chicago and Hubbard Avenues. The group proposes selling membership for use of the pool. Therefore, it is not a municipal pool, nor is it a pool for residents of the entire Rosedale Gardens. It is a "private club." Livonia, like any other city, has zoning restrictions. One reason for having zoning regulations is so that "private clubs" cannot build in the heart of fine residential areas. Four separate zoning restrictions had to be waived by Livonia's "city fathers" for the interested minority group to proceed with its plan to build the "private club." The club would violate four restrictions, and the council, members of which we elect to operate our city with high standards, waived these high standards, thus lowering these high standards considerably.

If these are the actions of Livonia's "city fathers," I'll take my chances as an "orphan."

Against Poem

I would like to take to task your editor and/or censoring department and Mrs. Glenn T. Aldrick for submitting and printing such filth in your newspaper, namely her lines (can't say poem) about "A Boy Of Nine." I had four boys, and am not old fashioned, or a prig. I consider myself a modern Christian mother and positively refuse to believe a boy of mine would have such thoughts. Only a warped mind would expose an innocent little boy of nine to such dirt. That is the best way to give him evil thoughts.

A child brought up by sophisticated moronic parents who bathe together, parade in the nude and never close the door on the marriage act because nine year olds must know the facts of life could put such dirty thoughts into a child's mind.

There is a healthy and holy explanation of reproduction, right and wrong, and the facts of life. It is simple, honest, clean and all starts and ends with God as the creator. This is the first time I ever heard the Livonian Observer so my son would not read that so called poem.

Mrs. Aldrick please do not share your thoughts anymore.

I consider them insulting to good moral standards. I believe you when you say you learned about life in the wrong way. You are still wrong and so mixed up. May God help you.
Mrs. Kate Snycerski

Stop Signs Not Needed

Editor:
In regard to your article "Stop Signs Cause Hassle at Lyndon", the issue that is so disturbing to the residents of Lyndon Avenue is the location of the stop signs and the manner in which the installation was handled.

If the stop signs were installed to insure "the safety of the kids", the proper location should be at the intersection of Lyndon and Lyons where the majority of the school children cross on their way to school. An alternate location, although not as desirable, is at Barkley where perhaps some 20 children cross Lyndon. The location of the stop signs at Caldwell makes no sense at all since children, by school rule, do not cross Lyndon at this intersection.

The installation of the stop signs were not requested by the residents of Lyndon Avenue. In fact, the residents of Lyndon Avenue were not even consulted as to whether or not they wished stop signs installed.

They were installed at the request of Mr. Meredith, President of the Buckingham Civic Association, who misled the Livonia Traffic Control Commission into believing that he represented the will of the people of the Buckingham Village Subdivision. People whom he neither consulted nor discussed the matter.

In regard to the effectiveness of stop signs in curbing speeding cars, expert testimony was presented which disclosed that stop signs were effective in controlling speed only within a few hundred feet of the sign. At distances beyond about 200 feet, previous driving speeds are re-established moreover, the traffic safety departments of nearby cities, such as Dearborn and Detroit, are in agreement with spokesmen from the Livonia Traffic Departments that the installation of stop signs at all corners of an intersection is actually a dangerous practice.

At the three corners at a "T" intersection it is ridiculous as well. Their contention is born out by the fact that in the eight years prior to the installation of the stop signs not one accident occurred. In the few months that the stop signs have been installed, there has been one rearend collision and a number of very near misses.

It is extremely disheartening to see the extent that honest, rational government can be distorted by a few self-centered individuals and on a problem as minor as this one.

PAUL MICHAELS

Opposes Pool

The Livonia City Council has approved the waiving of certain conditions that are in the City Ordinance that would allow the Rosedale Gardens Civic Association to proceed with plans to construct a private swimming pool on Hubbard just north of West Chicago present, the issue is before the Appeal Board.

Following are a number of reasons that I am opposed to the action taken by the Livonia City Council:

1. The site of less than 1 1/2 acres is far too small for a 300 family membership swimming pool.
2. Parking space in the immediate area is currently inadequate without compounding the problem.
3. The Parks and Recreation proposal that will be placed before the electorate on April 5, 1965, could make swimming available to all residents in the city.
4. The issue of city wide swimming pools could be resolved by the Parks and Recreation Commission and the City Planning Commission with the support of the citizens.
5. It appears to me that the action taken may set a precedent for exceptions to the City Ordinance.
6. Infringes upon a place of worship.

We have a wonderful community in which I am proud to be a resident. Let us continue to make progress with a well planned and operated community.

CLARE E. EBERSOLE

Give Us a Choice

Editor:
It is the American way to listen to both sides of a question that affects everyone, such as the fluoridation of city water, and then decide by referendum.

Dr. Schiff, "A Dentist's Eye View" (last week's issue) says, "The opposition to this measure is basing its opposition on emotional rather than scientifically substantial evidence."

Someone else said recently, "Trouble is, both of you are going about it the wrong way. One side is too emotional, the other side is trying to shove something down our throats."

Now why can't we consider other ways of getting the benefits of fluorides to combat tooth decay? Let a breath of fresh air blow away the antagonism. There are tooth pastes on the market with added fluorides that are proving effective in combatting tooth decay, for those who want it. There are pills one may buy that add fluorides to the diet. Sodium fluoride can be added to certain foods, even milk I understand for those who want it. The few thousand people in this area who do not want it can then be happy without it.

There have been so many articles by dentists and scientists. I say "Let's have a few thinking citizens giving their views." This fluoridation question isn't just something that can be forced on us without referendum. I have listened to both sides and come up with these facts . . .

Sodium fluoride is not a purifier like chlorine. Chlorine can be boiled out. Sodium fluoride cannot. Also, it is accumulative in the body. Over 125 American cities have refused it, or discontinued it after a fair trial. In England three of their largest cities have turned it down. There are three groups of citizens opposed to fluoridation. The Christian Scientists, the natural food advocates, and those who want to retain at least one of our freedoms, the freedom of choice. This is the largest group.

As for the cost, I, for one would rather pay a nominal tax so that all children can have their teeth painted with the protective fluorides by dentists, perhaps through a school program, than pay for thousands of gallons of fluoridated water that goes down the drain one way or another. Flushing toilets, washing dishes, laundry, watering the lawn, and what have you. The few glasses of water the kiddies drink just doesn't seem worth the huge cost of putting it in.

We have all accepted iodine in our salt because its a good thing for most people, but we aren't forced to have it. I feel the same way about adding Sodium Fluoride to our diet. Give us a choice.

PICTURE TALK by Les Wilson
FOR THAT SPECIAL SUNDAY
I wonder how far back you'd have to go to find the woman who must have started it all . . . the first woman to get all prettied up for Easter Sunday and then make sure she gets noticed by all the other women. To be perfectly fair, I have to give men equal billing. So I wonder when it was that the first man was persuaded by guess who, to join her in the Easter Parade. But, no matter who started it all, it's a pleasant tradition and a great time for picture-taking. The nice thing about these days is that cameras and film now have the capability to get good pictures even when the weather isn't as good as the parades would like it to be. The new Kodak color films, such as KODACHROME-X and KODAK EKTACHROME-X are especially effective in capturing the delicate pastels so often featured in spring styles.
Speaking of style, now is just the time to get a fashionable new Kodak camera to carry and use in the Easter Parade. The slim, compact styling of KODAK INSTAMATIC Cameras gives them the hand-flattering "smallness" women like, plus the expensive "imported" look that men go for.
Of course, the Easter Parade isn't the only attraction for camera totes. This is one time in the year when the whole family is dressed in their best—all at the same time. What an opportunity to get "dressed up" pictures to send to distant friends and family members!
Got your camera "dressed" for Easter . . . with a fresh roll of Kodak film? Stop in and pick up a few rolls.

Farmington Forum Attracts Thunder From Left and Right

By ALLEN ROSENFELD

The Farmington Community Forum, which was held at the Universalist-Unitarian on Thursday, March 25, was an exciting evening of political polemics. A packed house of about 130 filled the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Farmington, as thunder cracked from left and right.

Actually the right wing thunder was louder outside, and in the audience, than it was on the podium. James Freed, a former Birch Society leader, who was to have represented the right, failed to show up.

Thomas L. Poindexter was no substitute for him as a right wing ideologue. He made some statements which were acceptable to them.

But Poindexter lacks the chauvinism, and flag waving tendencies necessary to a conservative hero. He phrases even his most controversial statements in terms of political realities, and consensus. He is refreshingly undogmatic.

There were a number of highly vocal right-wingers in the audience, however. And they managed to make their feelings known.

Actually there was plenty for them to complain about. James and Grace Boggs proved very articulate and very extreme radicals. They made it plain that nothing that has ever happened in this country has pleased them.

Mrs. Boggs found it interesting that other panelists expressed admiration for the founding fathers.

To her the founding fathers resembled Hitler. "They were all racists." Outside, the church Farmingtonite Bruce Duke was distributing leaflets pointing out that panelist George W. Crockett has acted as defense attorney for Communists, and is a member of the National Lawyers Guild, "described in the Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications as the 'foremost legal bulwark of the Communist Party. . . ."

The leaflet asked the question: "IS THIS THE TYPE OF SPEAKER FARMINGTON RESIDENTS WANT BROUGHT INTO THEIR COMMUNITY?"

As it turned out, Mr. Duke could have stayed home. Crockett did not show up. He was in Alabama, participating in the march on Montgomery.

It is ironic though that it was Crockett who raised the ire of the right. By the standards of James and Grace Lee Boggs, Crockett is a middle-of-the-road conservative — a "sell-out" to use the jargon of the left.

This reporter also participated in the panel. About my presentation, Mrs. Boggs said: "The trouble with liberals is that they have to look backwards, before they take a step forward." I found no reason to disagree with that statement.

Rounding out the panel was Detroit Attorney Isadore Berger, a well-known traveler and photographer. He proved a highly humorous man, who likes people and dislikes war. His politics are undogmatic. He prefers sailing down the Detroit River, on his Chinese Junk, reading the New York Times, and eating pistachio nuts. His attitude toward the issue of state rights seem to be "maybe."

Free Press editorial writer John Milhone moderated the panel and did an excellent job of keeping all this diversity within reasonable bounds.

All in all, it was a stimulating exercise in free expression.

Weigh your words and make it easy to retain your balance.

Buckingham Residents to Elect New Civic Association Officers

Residents of Buckingham Village Civic Ass'n. in Livonia will meet at Adams School April 13 to choose new association officers and board members. There will be a full slate of candidates from which to choose, according to Rene Rollin, chairman of the group's nominating committee. Members may make nominations from the floor if the person who is nominated is present at the meeting. The Board of Directors has called for a special meeting to be held prior to the election meeting the same night. At this special session, the membership will be asked to approve certain amendments to the association's by-laws. The special session will start at 8:15 p.m.

The group's social committee, which will serve refreshments following the meetings, reports that tickets for the "President's Ball" will be available, and urges residents to get their tickets early because of the limited number that will be sold.

The Junior High East will be the gathering place for graduate students of Eastern Michigan on Thursday, April 8th at 7 p.m. when Judge James Lincoln will be guest speaker and his subject, Juvenile Delinquents. This will be an open meeting and the public is invited.

BOOK REVIEW

Mrs. Sidney Strong announces that the St. John's League has engaged Mrs. Charles Dengler of Jackson, Michigan to present one of her excellent book reviews. Mrs. Dengler has chosen Gore Vidal's "Julian" for her April 8 appearance at St. John's Episcopal Church. Guests are welcome to the tea which begins at 1 p.m. Benefits will be used to purchase orthopedic shoes. League president this year is Mrs. Leroy Ordling.

AROUND TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Watson returned from a two-week vacation in Phoenix, Arizona where they were the guests of the Charles Mincherts.

Mrs. Walter Brown of Sheridan Avenue who has been a patient in University Hospital is feeling much better and should be home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ruge and son Charles of Barrington, Illinois were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer last week, while Jean was a guest at the home of the William Sivas.

THE OPERA

It was a full house last Saturday evening when the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra presented "La Boheme" with the Turnau Opera Players. The cast responded to four curtain calls at the end of the performance. Lorine Buffington as Mimi and Lucille Sullam in the role of Musetta were outstanding.

Ticket sales for the Pop Concert on May 1 were brisk. With just 120 tables available this year reservations are being made early.

PANCAKE BREAKFAST

Girl Scout troop 260 and their leader Mary Lou Grimshaw are to be complimented — their Sunday morning pancake breakfast was a huge success, serving 450 people.

Thanks to the co-operation of the fathers who did the cooking, the mothers who did the "busy work" and the girls who served and prepared those bright Easter table decorations — The scouts earned their chef and hostess badges and are well on their way toward financing their trip to Washington. Winner of the lawn mower that was given away as a door prize was Cecil Sharand's young lady. The troop is sponsored by the Rotary Anns.

60 PLUS

The 60 Plus Club will hold its regular meeting on the 12th of April at the First Methodist Church in Plymouth. A Pot Luck Luncheon at 12 o'clock noon will be on the agenda, each is asked to bring a dish to pass with your own table service.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY

"It Is My Son" will be the program theme for the April 14th meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Plymouth Methodist Church. Mrs. George Andrews is program chairman for the day and luncheon will be served at 12:00 noon by the Lois Circle. The Executive Board will meet at 10:30 a.m. and nursery care will be available.

Plymouth HS Faculty Puts on Show

By CAROL OTWELL

One of the funniest, if not the most exciting event of the year took place after school last Wednesday, in the PHS gym. The event—a basketball game between members of G.A.A. and the women's faculty. The result—a hilarious mix-up of double dribbles, jump shots and tangled arms and legs. Cheers for the faculty were led by the cheerleaders (complete with pom poms). Donald Helm, William (Rah Rah) Rausch, Carl Scheffler, and William Green.

Carol

The game began with six players for each team on the floor, but late in the fourth quarter, the teachers found themselves a point behind so they put on a full court press which consisted of about 17 of their players.

This strategy proved successful as they scored the necessary point to tie the game with two seconds to go. The final score was 12-12. The game was played before a packed house of cheering students, teachers, cooks, maintenance men, and administrators. The admission charge of 10 cents per person will help to build up the G.A.A. treasury.

The fact the Plymouth High has many talented students was proven on Thursday, April 1, at the all-school, student teacher talent assembly.

Emceed by Senior Tom Donnelly, the assembly opened with a string quartet, including Norm Fischer, Pat Ross, Roberta Van Meter, and Robin Wideman who played a selection from Beethoven. Mary Ann Sinecock was next playing a piano solo military polonaise by Chopin. "Ava Maria" was the selection chosen by Norm Fischer for a cello solo and he was accompanied by Sheryl Spence on the piano.

Next came the triple trios who sang "People" accompanied by Miss Sinecock followed by Karen Upton, a folksinger. Deeanne Bowsman, Jackey Maxey, Mary Canning, Jill Norton, Ed McKelvey, Jim Nuoffer, Bill Nelson, Jack Dean, Al Saxton, and Candy Muehlbauer composed the next vocal group who did an unusual number. Their song was entitled "Bourree for Bach" and was sung in the style of the Swingle Singers, a French group.

A humorous pantomime skit by Becky Lyons, Mark Williams, and Doug Fey, was followed by Linda Hill, who is building quite a reputation as a folksinger, singing "Hey Nelle, Nelle."

Assistant librarian, Mrs. Slier, then sang "Everybody Loves Somebody Sometime," accompanied by Fred Nelson on the piano. A duet consisting of Darrel Stevens on the organ and Chris Campbell on the drums followed with two selections, "When Sunny Gets Blue" and "One Note Samba." Things really got rocking with the rock and roll combo called the Metros, consisting of Ed Jones, Tracy Ketchman, Bruce Niemi, Danny Carmine, and singer Bill Nelson as they played two numbers.

Closing the program was William Rausch who joined with the Metros and Darrel and Chris to play a conglomeration of piano, organ, guitar, and drum jazz—or was it rock and roll? In any case, they stole the show and had to play an encore before the students would leave. All in all, it was a most interesting and entertaining program.

The Plymouth HI-Y club has sent a check for $50 to "Cap" Durery in Japan. Durery will use the money to start a leadership development camp for Japanese HI-Y members. The name of the camp will be Haya-went-ha, named after the HI-Y camp in Torch Lake Michigan.

DPW News and Notes

By Supt. Joseph Bida

Workers in the Department of Public Works were busy last week repairing street signs and sign posts. Cold patching was done throughout the city on major and local streets. There has been a great deal of damage during the winter months.

Sanitary sewers were rodded on Penniman Ave. from Sheldon to S. Harvey. Adams from Church to Junction, N. Harvey from Church to Junction, and Ann Street from William to Junction Street.

Catch basins were cleaned on Pacific and Arthur Streets and on Irvin, Blunk and Ann between Church and Junction. A water tap was installed on Coolidge.

The two-inch snow Thursday had the workers running around salting streets and parking lots and cleaning city-owned sidewalks. More than 80 tons of salt was spread during the afternoon and evening. This makes a total of 1,632 tons used during the winter for a cost of $13,056 for ice and snow removal.

Don't Envy Next Door Handy Man; Be One Yourself

Jealous of the fellow next door who seems to be the world's greatest do-it-yourselfer?

If you are, then here's a suggestion that will make you a hero at home and will save you money and time—as well. Add an aromatic red cedar storage closet somewhere in your home where potential storage space is now going to waste.

There are several places in almost every home where the closets could be installed—in the basement, family room, attic, or right in a hall or kitchen near a window.

You can add the closet in one of these unused areas or, if you prefer, you can line an already existing closet with red cedar. The aroma is pleasant to humans, but it drives away pesky moths.

The red cedar closets are simple to install and instructions are included inside every package of cedar closet lining. A normal sized closet can be added for about $50 and, aside from the annual savings in storage costs, many real estate appraisers say that just one cedar closet adds about $100 to the value of a house.

The aromatic red cedar is time-tested, too. It has been used since colonial days and has yet to make a single enemy—human, that is. Moths hate it!

The secret of success is the ability to deliver the goods.

THE TREND in kitchens today is toward beauty as well as convenience. Attractive hanging storage, which puts utensils within easy reach of work surfaces, is becoming increasingly popular. Here, decorative ceramic wall tiles form a colorful background for a handsome matched set of lightweight, easy-to-handle aluminum cookware. And matched cookware of the same material makes cooking easier. Cooking times and temperatures are controlled more readily. Aluminum's fast, even heating is another aid to the cook.

Beware of Bargains In Purchasing Seed

To avoid poor quality lawn seed, read the seed label and beware of "bargains."

Carter M. Harrison, Michigan State University crop scientist, says labeling laws will help protect against purchases of poor quality seed—that which contains a high percentage of coarse haygrass instead of perennials such as Kentucky bluegrass or fine leaved fescues.

"Labeling regulations require that good varieties be labeled as 'fine textured grasses,' while the inferior rough species must be listed as 'coarse kind,'" advises Harrison. "This provides a ready clue to quality that you can check easily on a seed package."

But the MSU scientist warns that other deficiencies are not so easily detected. There may be smatterings of unwanted species that don't have to be listed unless the state law terms them "weeds."

"Your best protection in this instance is to buy above rock bottom prices and from reputable sources," comments Harrison.

"Be suspicious of seed mixtures which feature insufficient quantities of big name variety. A mix may be billed as 'containing Merion Kentucky bluegrass,' with part Kentucky bluegrass, or 'featuring Pennlawn fine fescue,' yet have only a per cent or two of the named ingredient.

"A featured component certainly should constitute at least 15 per cent of the blend."

Another item of concern in lawn seed is weeds. But Harrison says this is seldom cause for alarm.

"Great pains are taken by most domestic producers of the fine-textured grasses to sell clean and essentially weed-free lots—the only way to learn to price and to earn a good reputation," he explains. "Lawn seed research has shown that about half of the seed sold contains no weeds at all and most of the remainder have relatively few weeds, generally of types not considered to be lawn pests.

"If you have weeds in your lawn, chances are a thousand to one that they came from weed seed already in the soil or that were blown and tracked in from surrounding properties," says Harrison.

Gluing Joints

Simplify job of assembling glued joints with dowels which fit into holes in each piece, by first crimping dowels lengthwise by squeezing lightly between serrated jaws of pliers. Teethmarks around perimeter of dowels will make them easier to insert.

On the Lawn

WITH LARRY LAWRENCE

I get more mail in Spring than any other time. Most people don't think much about lawns and gardens in Winter. But, with the first robin, there's a strong biological urge to get busy on the lawn. And one writer in every two asks: "What do I do first?"

A wide open question. Yet I've found that most lawns respond to the same basic feed-weed-seed treatment. Every lawn, without exception, needs Turf Builder. Use the double rate if the turf has been weakened by last summer's drought—or if you want to get ahead of your neighbor.

As to weeds, they're not active yet, but this is the time to get down a crabgrass barrier such as Halts or Halts Plus, to stop it before it gets started.

One great advantage of these particular controls is that they are compatible with seeding. You can do everything the same morning or afternoon in fact.

When it comes to renovating or seeding new areas, there's a new brand on the market this year that you might look into—Triumph. It contains the now famous Windsor, the mutation grass discovered by Scotts. It has a rich color, stands up better in drought and needs less cutting. What more could you ask for?

Textured Walls

Decorators like using resawn western red cedar siding boards for walls in a boy's room. Textured wood wears well, has masculine quality.

New Pull-Out Oven Shown at Home Builders Meeting

An oven that pulls out for easy, stand-up cleaning highlights a new compact built-in electric range.

The new range, with glass oven door, was shown for the first time at the National Association of Home Builders exposition in Chicago.

Just as builders have liked the easy, quick installation of the compact range, homemakers will like the easier cleaning made possible by the addition of the pull-out oven.

Equipped with four fast-heating surface units and a spacious undercounter oven, the new range can be installed in any 33-inch width, standard depth cabinet, or suspended in an opening between cabinets. It's installed quickly because opening dimensions are not critical.

A generous overhang on the range top, plus a wide trim at sides and bottom cover seams in the cabinet opening. A clean, uncluttered appearance and a snug, custom fit are assured with any type or style of cabinetry arrangement. Once positioned, the range is easily secured by four thumb screws.

There is an attractive squared-up filigree pattern on the see-through glass door. A newly styled door handle, covered with a smart and durable wood-grained vinyl, is similar in appearance to those on most 1965 refrigerators.

The range has no control panel at the rear. Instead, controls for surface units and oven are on a recessed panel at the front of the range.

Other methods in line are available with or without automatic oven controls; and the newly announced range has provisions for an optional rotisserie.

These ranges are offered in brushed chrome, or porcelain enamel finishes of copper, turquoise, yellow or white.

Antique Built-Ins

For a lovely effect on storage built-ins, use ponderosa pine louvered cabinet doors and finish them with the new antiquing process that comes in a kit. Base coat and wipe-off glaze are available in many colors.

Premium THRIVE
 IMC GUARANTEES RESULTS OR YOUR MONEY BACK

—guaranteed to contain more things to make grass grow than any other lawn food

If you really take pride in your lawn, then Premium Thrive is for you. The professionals' choice, Premium Thrive is exactly what it says, a premium product—it contains more soil nutrients than any other plant food made. Thirteen different ingredients guaranteed, right on the bag. Unlike other fertilizers, Premium Thrive contains no filler whatever; everything in the bag is there to make grass grow. (Actually, when you measure results, Premium Thrive is the most economical lawn food you can buy.)

Another plus: Premium Thrive releases lawn-building nitrogen in two stages—first, an immediate boost—then, a slow release supply that nourishes your lawn well through the season. Your lawn becomes literally "like a carpet": walk across it and your footprints spring right back! That's Premium Thrive: costs a little more but worth it. Bag covers 5000 square feet. Not quite so fussy about your lawn? Then ask for Thrive Regular. Low cost, lightweight, easy spreading—for those who "want a good, serviceable lawn."

Urge Mothers Make Teens Kitchen Lovers

"Don't chase your children out of the kitchen—invite them in and let them learn to be at home working with food," says a lady who had fun following her own advice. So did her children.

The lady is Ida Bailey Allen, long recognized as one of America's leading food experts.

The author of 55 books on food, cooking, nutrition, homemaking and women's interests, Mrs. Allen—actually Dr. Allen—is a widely-read food columnist and an award-winning radio personality. She is also a sought-after guest speaker, and a frequent consulting on food here and abroad.

Now a grandmother, Mrs. Allen, who taught her children—a boy and a girl—to cook, said that her grandchildren are learning to be at home in the kitchen, too.

Mrs. Allen's advice to mothers is to welcome the children in the kitchen. Let them help with simple food preparation tasks when they're little. Talk to them about food as you're preparing it—tell them what's good for them and why. Don't force them, but encourage them to try new foods.

Teach them to make dishes they can be proud of serving—simple ones at first, then more elaborate ones. They should also learn how to plan balanced menus and how to prepare and serve whole meals.

"The proper cooking equipment is important in helping children to succeed—there's nothing more discouraging than failures," Mrs. Allen warned.

One big help in cooking success is a new electric range with automatic controls. The timers and thermostats take the trouble out of cooking—and children are notably impatient about spending time fussing over things.

The even, controlled heat assures consistent results—and good results, if instructions are followed carefully, Mrs. Allen pointed out.

"My grandchildren are learning on a new electric range,"

These Six Tips Will Help Ease Kitchen Chores

Cleaning the kitchen stove used to be one of the most hateful household jobs. With the new electric ranges that are made to stay cleaner and to be far easier to clean, the job is now quicker and pleasanter.

Here are some cleaning tips from the Cleanliness Bureau of the Soap and Detergent Association:

- Wipe up spilled food with a dry cloth or paper towel immediately. Wash the spot with a sudsy sponge or cloth after range has cooled.
- After using the broiler, pour off grease while it's still warm. When cool, soak the pan and racks in hot sudsy water, then scrub with a stiff brush, rinse and dry. Or do them in an automatic dishwasher.
- There's no need to wash the heating elements of an electric range—spilled food burns right off them, so no cleaning is necessary.
- For weekly range cleaning, remove all trays, shelves, racks, reflectors, and rims around heating elements. Soak them in hot sudsy water or do them in the automatic dishwasher.
- Wash the rest of the range inside and out, with a sudsy sponge or cloth. Rinse it all over with a cloth wrung out in clean hot water. Lift-off doors can be done at sink or tub.
- Wash, rinse and dry parts that have been soaking and put them back in place.

Pack Names New Officials

Milton Goldman is the new Chairman of the Livonia Cub Pack 287. He was introduced at last month's Pack meeting along with other new officers, including cubmaster Robert Berndt, assistant cubmaster Mr. Tigani, treasurer Mr. Fiero, secretary Mary Ann Berndt, awards chairman Sid Millinoff, membership chairman Mr. Peddler and Mr. Beataut, refreshment chairmen Mrs. Jeffrey and Mrs. Howe, activities chairman Mr. Luke, institutional representative and publicity chairman Sal Ginsberg, Mrs. Fiero, Mrs. Case, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Berndt, Mrs. Lute and Mrs. Tabacco. The pack is still looking for a Webelos leader.

Bowling was the order of the day for this month's Pack outing on March 20. Fire Inspector Newsted will speak at tonight's Pack meeting, demonstrating fire safety techniques. On March 22 the Cub Scouts will begin a week-long paper collection drive. An award will be given to the den collecting the greatest amount.

Anyone interested in helping as a Webelos leader may contact Bob Berndt, 538-6584.

College Makes Plans For Formal Dedication

Plans for the formal dedication of Schoolcraft College on Sunday, April 25, at 3 p.m. are being developed in such a way that all of the residents of the College District will wish to reserve the date to attend this community affair.

As a means of paying tribute to the citizens of Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Clarenceville, and Garden City, Schoolcraft College commissioned Knight Vernon, a graduate music student in composition at the University of Michigan, to compose a dedicatory hymn, "Fanfare and Dedication."

The composition is scored for brass and percussion choir. The lyrics were created by Wayne Dunlap, Director of Music at Schoolcraft College, who carefully selected and arranged passages from the Bible as a basic text.

"Fanfare and Dedication," a fitting compliment to the creation and birth of Schoolcraft College, will be performed by music students of Schoolcraft and guest musicians from the College District.

In attendance will be a prominent guest speaker, city officials, and civic leaders. A professional with the faculty in full academic regalia, will precede the ceremony, which will be an impressive ritual involving the audience.

Following the Dedicatory Service, tours of the Campus will be conducted by the Student Senate. Further details of this program, to which all who are interested in the College are invited, will be announced.

Lobbyists Outnumber State Legislators

LANSING — There are 148 members in the Michigan Legislature . . . 110 House members and 38 in the Senate. Have you ever wondered how many legislative agents . . . lobbyists . . . are registered to help lawmakers evaluate pieces of legislation?

In late January, records of the Secretary of State show there were 178 registered. But this total will undoubtedly swell to more than 200 and could hit the 250 mark, especially if the session is long and if a great deal of controversial legislation is introduced.

This total, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, represents only persons who register. There are countless others who do not take the time to register or who act in unofficial capacities and yet "have profound effect on all types of legislation."

Some legislative agents, says Hare, represent more than one company, firm, or association. In many instances, these agents will represent a group of companies which are engaged in similar businesses such as insurance companies or financial institutions. However, there are independent agents who may represent several diversified businesses or groups.

"Of course," Hare noted, "there are new lobbyists who come in and register every year. But by and large, many of the truly effective lobbyists are veterans who work hard at their jobs and have a thorough knowledge of legislation in their own specialized areas."

"Lobbyists are important to the passage of good legislation," Hare said.

Livonia DPR Head Named to National Recreation Committee

John Dufour, Superintendent of Parks and Recreation for the City of Livonia, has been appointed to the National Advisory Committee on Defense Related Services, it was announced this week by Mr. Joseph Prendergast, Executive Director of the National Recreation Association.

The aim of the committee is to help recreation leaders everywhere to meet their problems in recreation service arising from the impact of national defense activities.

The personnel of the armed forces and their families everywhere are enjoying opportunities for normal recreation living as a result of the interest and effort of recreation leaders throughout the country. Dufour's term will expire in Dec. 31, 1967.

Schoolcraft College Receives $19,932 Equipment Grant

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, President of Schoolcraft College, has received word from Mr. Robert M. Winger, Assistant Superintendent for Vocational Education, State Department of Public Instruction, that the college will be granted $19,932.50 for vocational education equipment to expand and improve present vocational, business, and technical programs. In order to receive these funds the College must expend an equivalent amount.

Dr. Bradner stated that these funds were the result of an application prepared by James H. Dotseth, Assistant Dean of Instruction for Business and Technical Education. This was the same application by which Schoolcraft College received approval for constructing the Technical Building for which ground will be broken in June.

The cost of the Technical Building will be approximately $912,000, of which Schoolcraft College received $456,000 from Federal funds. Schoolcraft College was fortunate in receiving the largest amount of construction funds for technical education in the State of Michigan.

Because of the availability of Federal funds to assist in financing community colleges, the Schoolcraft College building program is moving ahead much more rapidly than was anticipated.

The new Technical Building will contain three drafting rooms, welding and foundry automotive services, manufacturing processes, electricity-electronics, data processing, and nursing education.

It also will include six classrooms and faculty offices. It is anticipated that the Technical Building will

Charles Hall Given Medal by S. Vietnam

A Garden City man who has spent the last nine months in South Vietnam has received that nation's "Cross of Gallantry" military decoration. Capt. Charles A. Hall, a graduate of Livonia's Bentley High School, received the honor in the South Vietnam province of Binh Tuy. A career officer, Hall will return to the United States on July 3 and will go to Ft. Benning, Ga., for training at the Advanced Officers School. Hall resides with his wife, Katherine, at 33460 Cherry Hill, in Garden City. The couple has three children. He graduated in 1954 from Bentley and then earned a B. S. degree at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

200 Italian Works Featured at Art Institute

The first comprehensive exhibition of Italian baroque art to be shown in the United States in two decades will be presented by The Detroit Institute of Arts from April 6 through May 9. "Art in Italy, 1600-1700" is a varied display of more than 200 paintings, drawings and sculptures. It has been assembled from outstanding private and public collections of baroque art and will be exhibited exclusively at The Detroit Institute of Arts. This major event was organized by The Detroit Institute of Arts and is sponsored by the museum's Founders Society. Special rates and tours are available for students and adult groups of 20 or more persons. Advance arrangements for such groups must be made through the Museum's Education Department, 831-0360. Founders Society members are admitted to the exhibition without charge at all times, upon showing their membership cards. The Detroit Institute of Arts is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Saturday and Sunday hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Engineers to Hear Moon Talk

A timely topic will be presented at the April 8 meeting of the Southeastern Michigan branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers, announces Roy Russell, President. "Lava Flows and Moon Travel" will be the subject of the color illustrated talk by Milton Schloss, Staff Scientist of Bendix Systems Division of Ann Arbor at the dinner meeting Thursday evening at the Engineering Society of Detroit. Schloss is a pioneer in the new field of Lunar Geology. He has explored and photographed lava flows and meteor craters in western states in his study to simulate the lunar surface for a soft landing of equipment and travel of manned and unmanned vehicles being designed by his company for lunar exploration. All interested engineers and geologists and their guests are invited to attend the dinner, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Reservations may be made to the Engineering Society of Detroit, 100 Farnsworth Ave., Detroit, Michigan.

In Defense of Farmington Forum

Building contractor Bruce Duke spends his free time as a Birch Society Chapter Leader in Farmington. He is a dedicated man.

Dedication is a fine thing. And you have to admire a man who fights for his beliefs.

But one of the problems with the Birch Society is that once its mind is made up it does not let facts get in its way.

CROCKETT LEFT-WING On the evening of March 25, Bruce Duke stood in the cold, outside the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington, passing out leaflets protesting the appearance inside, of attorney George Crockett, as one of the panelists in the Farmington Community Forum.

The leaflet contained a list of left-wing activities carried on by Crockett.

An inquiry by this reporter reveals that the list is correct; that Crockett is a radical guy indeed.

I have asked Mr. Duke whether he thought it a bad thing for the community to listen to a left-winger such as Crockett. He did not think so. He simply felt that the public should be informed of the man's philosophy ahead of time.

This is a reasonable position to take, and had we known of Crockett's background earlier we would have included it in our articles publicizing the Forum. We did know that James and Grace Lee Boggs, who were also panelists, were of the far-left, and we so reported it well in advance of their appearance.

Ironically, Crockett, the subject of Duke's ire, did not show up. But compared to the Boggs', he is practically a middle-of-the-road conservative.

MEETING RIGGED While, as we have said, there is nothing wrong with handing out leaflets, we must take strong exception to Duke's version of what went on inside the church.

According to the Duke version, the open discussion following the formal statements was apparently rigged. Duke says there appeared to be a man at the back of the room pointing out who the moderator should call on.

He says that practically all of the people who were recognized were "non-conservatives"; that the few times conservatives got the floor they were ruled out of order by the moderator.

He says many in the audience deeply resented the way the affair was handled; that Thomas L. Poindexter, who was one of the panelists, must have resented being dragged into an affair like that.

Finally, he has stated that the affair was sponsored by the Farmington Human Relations Council.

WHAT DID HAPPEN What really happened at the Forum was far different than the Duke version.

To begin with, it should be noted that the presence of James and Grace Lee Boggs weighted the panel in favor of the left. But this was so only because Virginia Crawford, a Birch Society Chapter leader from Redford Township, withdrew from the panel, and her replacement, former Birch Society Officer James Freed, of Farmington, failed to show up.

It should be noted that Birch Society member Schuyler Rogerglas agreed to appear on the next Forum program, Friday night, when the topic will be Russian-American relations.

The main charge, that conservatives were not given a fair chance to express their opinions during the open discussion, is highly inaccurate. As a matter of fact, almost everyone who did offer an opinion or a question was more or less conservative—at least not radical.

This was so because of the presence of the Boggs'. They are bitter people. For them, the American dream is a nightmare. They poured their vitriol out on the audience, and it responded in kind. Almost every question and almost every comment was directed at the Boggs', and almost everyone was critical.

The moderator was John Millhone, of Farmington. He is Chief Editorial Writer for the Detroit Free Press. He was pinch-hitting for the regular moderator, Lee Peel, journalism instructor at Farmington High, who couldn't be present.

It was my opinion, and everyone I have talked to outside of Mr. Duke, agrees that Millhone did an excellent job.

About Duke's charge that he appears to have rigged the discussion, Millhone said: "I didn't know most of those in the audience, and had no idea of the political philosophy of those I recognized to ask questions. The idea that there was some puppet-master in the back of the audience signalling me as to whom to recognize is absurd."

POINDEXTER BACKS MILLHONE Councilman Poindexter, who many conservatives admire, and who Bruce Duke feels must have been insulted by the treatment conservatives got at the Forum, actually feels just the opposite. On the conduct of the meeting, he commented to this newspaper: "Although Mr. Millhone once wrote a rather scathing article against me in the Detroit Free Press, still I thought he did a very fair job in moderating the meeting at the Farmington Unitarian Church."

"I am sure he and I would disagree on many political issues. But it was my impression that he called on most of the persons who had a question for the panel; and that any seeming favoritism for the Boggs' was due to the fact that a majority of the audience was opposed to the Boggs' and insisted on directing most of the questions at them."

GOOD MODERATOR Now to the charge that Millhone ruled the conservatives out of order when they did manage to get called on. I was on the panel; I talked to a number of people who were there—including Councilman Poindexter—and as far as any of us can recall, Millhone only interrupted two people from the audience. Neither was a conservative. Neither's comment was germane to the topic of "States' Rights."

One woman of apparently liberal persuasion wanted to discuss world government. And one dear soul wanted to describe her life on a slave plantation.

Duke claims that many of the people in the audience were unhappy with the handling of the affair. I was one of the last people to leave, and no one expressed such a comment to me. In fact, there were enthusiastic rump meetings going on all over the building, long after the main event.

I asked Mr. Duke to give me the names of some of the unhappy people; that I might call them and get their opinions. He said he wouldn't do so; but would contact them himself, and see if they wanted to talk to me.

As yet, no one has come forward.

FORUM SEPARATE ORGANIZATION Finally, there is the statement that the Farmington Community Forum is sponsored by the Farmington Human Relations Council. Millhone, who is currently Chairman of the Human Relations Council, had the following comment:

"The Farmington Human Relations Council and the Farmington Community Forum are completely separate organizations. Few people belong to both; none of the officers are the same."

"The purpose of each is laudable, but quite different. The Council is seeking to improve human relations largely through education programs. The Forum is seeking to bring the exciting world of ideas to this area by the presentation of sharply opposing viewpoints on a number of controversial subjects."

"My only connection with the Forum has been to serve as moderator of its recent program on states' rights."

Mr. Duke says he got the idea that the Forum and the Human Relations Council were connected from the newspapers. This reporter has researched back, and can find no such reference.

Bruce Duke is an obviously sincere and well-meaning person. He believes he is fighting for freedom—especially for that of the young people of the nation.

But what he fails to realize is that in its desire to silence opposing voices, and in its belief that its ends justify ruthlessness, Birchism is practically identical to the Communism it despises; that the difference between our system and that of the Communists lies in the tolerance we show to our dissenters.

"THAT," AS THOMAS JEFFERSON ONCE SAID, "TRUTH IS GREAT, AND WILL PREVAIL IF LEFT TO HERSELF."

ALLEN ROSENFELD

Labor Leaders Old-Fashioned?

It is an undeniable truth of history that when a facet of the culture of man, be it political, social or religious, outlives its usefulness, it begins to disintegrate, or is absorbed by a newer phase. Through history we have witnessed the growth of political states, from clan to feudal state, to nation; each giving way to a greater need, more often than not, a greater common enemy.

Reports from Miami of the apathetic meeting of heads of our nations labor unions cause us to wonder if the labor union has not reached a crossroads. As labor's contracts with management expire we witness the continued demands for even higher wages, ever shorter hours and ever cleaner workrooms. If the fire is going out of the arguments put forth by labor it may be because they have outgrown their usefulness.

The posturings of labor and management reached an all time low in Detroit last year with a pressmen's strike that in essence was nothing more than a personality clash between spokesmen; depriving the public of their daily paper, depriving businesses of an advertising medium depriving those who worked in association with the pressmen of their pay for an unbelievable four months.

On the other hand we have in our land today an unemployment problem. Our nation's leaders are flinging out in all directions—ideas and money (your money)—to find some solution to an ever growing group of untrained, unemployed men who are victims of the times.

Might not our labor unions accept this as their new area of concern? Perhaps it is time for labor unions to stop jealously guarding the jobs of their members restricting the number of new members to an absolute minimum; perhaps it is time for labor to take positive action in a new direction.

Walter Reuther, with his words of encouragement to demonstrators in Selma this week, has shown that the AFL-CIO is willing to assume social responsibility in a new direction. It is to be hoped that other labor forces will follow his lead.

In short, history has moved on and the labor problem as it existed in the 30's is not the labor problem that exists today. Our labor unions have the choice of continuing to fight for the problems of the 30's or they can look to today's needs and do some real service for the cause of labor.

BEBE LINDHOUT

LANSING LEGISLATORS from The Observer Newspapers' circulation area posed at the Speaker of the House's podium Wednesday when a three-man Observer task force visited the Capitol to interview them. From left: Richard A. Young (D), 33rd District Representative; Speaker of the House Joseph Kowalski (D); John Bennett (D), 34th District Representative; Marvin Stempien (D), 35th District Representative; Ray Baker (R), 64th District Representative; and James Tierney (D), 36th District Representative.

THE READER SPEAKS UP:

In Defense of Mrs. Liuzzo

Editor: Last week a very brave young woman, Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, gave her life, because it was lived from day to day in the belief of the equality and dignity of all people. I would like to try, at this time, to answer anyone who questions the intentions or character of this woman, and anyone who charges her with the neglect of her children to please try to re-examine their views.

More and more, I notice, as I hear people talk of what they want for their children, that so much of what they want is made up of material advantages, some of which they, themselves may have missed. This in itself is not wrong, it is normal and admirable to want to give our children more than our parents were able to provide for us.

However, I say to fellow middle class suburbanites, there is so much more to life than a large house, newer furniture, a shinier car, and the choicest of summer camps.

In the everyday pursuit of personal gain, do we not deprive our children of the greatest gift of all, the lesson of the Golden Rule?

I defend Mrs. Liuzzo's right to have been where she was, notwithstanding the fact that she had a husband and five children. I mourn her death, and cry when I think of these children growing up without a mother, but let us respectfully submit that her legacy to her children is one of moral strength and resolution, and that none of us know how long we will be here to guide our children.

Let us remember that of the important heritages we bestow upon our children, the first of which is moral and spiritual guidance, it is often not how long, but how much we give.

Please let us not call bravery and conviction foolishness, simply because we lack the necessary courage to do what must be done to insure all of our children the right to grow up in a free society.

Mrs. Liuzzo gave the very most a mother can give, her life, to help make this a reality in the life of her children, and mine, and yours.

In the final analysis it is up to us to insure that her life was not lost in vain. The time is long past for sitting on the fence. Today is not too soon to stand up and be counted and get involved.

CAROLYN STERN (A MOTHER WHO LOVES HER CHILDREN)

Answer to Audax Vulgare Editor: I wish to comment on the recent observations by Audax Vulgare (Observer, March 24) regarding the present conditions of Redford Township Democratic Party.

I can only comment on the mayor when Livonia becomes a city as reported in the Livonian of April 7, 1950. Other front page news included the report by Dave Meininger that Livonia needs a recreation area.

10 YEARS AGO "21 Percent Visit Polls Here" was the banner headline for the April 7, 1955, Livonian. This mark was up from two years ago when only 13% of eligible voters voted.

5 YEARS AGO The Observer of April 7, 1960, reported the results of a blue ribbon committee on whether or not Redford should become a city. When the question was raised on the cost of a new type of government the board answered that they had not investigated this factor but assumed that the cost would pay for itself in services rendered.

20 YEARS AGO The Livonian of April 11, 1945 told of the urgent need for American Red Cross Motor Corps volunteers. Ladies between the ages of 18 and 60 were eligible to join.

15 YEARS AGO Jesse Ziegler, Livonia's supervisor has publicly announced that he will seek the office of segment which directly concerns Frank McGowan. The proposition of the Democratic Party backing civil service is being held in abeyance until a draft of the bill is presented to a committee composed of Angelo Angerilli and myself and we have a chance to examine it and present our findings to the executive board.

As far as a refusal to support civil service by the executive board is concerned, it is not true. If the bill, when it is presented, is found to be satisfactory it will, I assure you, receive the support of the Redford Township Democratic Executive Board.

FRANK MCGOWAN

Kindness Noted Editor: Dear Mr. Upton: Our boys attend Coolidge School and on occasion it is necessary for me to meet them at school. As a result, I have been fortunate to witness a most heart-warming scene.

There is a boy (presumably in the first grade) who is handicapped and as a result requires special transportation. He is met by a woman (employed by Livonia Schools) whose name I do not know.

Most likely she is one of the many "nameless" whose efforts pass unnoticed. I hope to rectify this.

She greets this child with such warmth and tenderness that even at a distance it cannot be mistaken. He is always so delighted to see her, and though I do not hear the conversation, it is quite evident that her greeting is always spontaneous and affectionate.

She, then, very gently, helps him to the car and into his seat. One can only guess at how this daily episode affects this child.

These "small" things are so very important. Yet, when a school system reaches the size of ours, it is tend to lose sight of the most basic ingredient—the child. Perhaps this episode will be a source of pride and encouragement to others in our community. I am requesting you to send this letter to "The Livonian Observer."

Thank you, Selma Goldberg

More Against Sidewalks Editor: As a resident of Brentwood in the area where Hearstone sub-division (Livonia) wants to have sidewalks constructed I would like to voice my opinion along with my neighbors. We would like to know what is going to keep the children out of the ditches that would be between the sidewalks and the roads?

What is going to stop the children from cutting through our yards like they do and use the sidewalks instead?

If the parents object to the mud the children walk through by going the way the school has set-up through the playground then they should object to the children going out to recess and playing in the muddy playground and in my neighbor's back yard.

What about the rest of the children that walk from Seven Mile to the school? Not only the children on this street but Lathers and the other streets in this school area that do not have sidewalks. I have lived here nine years and have never seen a child going to or from school in any danger. The parents complain of Brentwood being such a busy street when it is them that are making it so busy by driving their children the three or four blocks to school.

The school yard runs to the sub-division and if they want a walk so bad let the school put one in the yard and everyone pay for it, not just the 11 homes on this side of the street.

I would also like to see sidewalks on Seven Mile so we can walk to the shopping center without being in the mud. Most of us do not have two cars and at times would like to go shopping during the day but can't because of the mud on Seven Mile.

We also think Brentwood should be watched for speeders. We have a 25 mile speed limit posted along with school signs and still I have had people pass me when I am going 25 myself just to get home a second or two sooner. I do not think any person's life is worth the couple of seconds that are saved. In the summer time this street is a race track every single night.

A Disturbed Resident On Brentwood

Wants Answer Editor: Your apathy to the readers is appalling in regard to State Rights discussion presented by the Farmington Forum on March 25 in Farmington.

I would like to have you answer why you felt it unnecessary to comment about this extremely controversial issue in this week's paper?

You must believe in something. Let's hear what it is.

Mrs. F. W. Johns Farmington

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

Since it's fashionable to be tagged something in this day and age — left, right, Birch, Civil Righter — I do want to conform. It is my desire to go on record as an Independent, Romney Republican, Conservative.

And this is after a task force of the mighty editorial staff of The Observer descended on Lansing last Wednesday for a day's perusal of our local Legislators and of the status of their bills.

Each of us was invited to "sit on the floor" of the House, as well as of the Senate, as a guest of our local representatives. It was an excellent opportunity to question them at length.

There are bills before our lawmakers that could change your entire future and that of your children and their offsprings.

If you are concerned enough about some of these and want to express yourself — you will find your legislator has a willing ear.

In Redford Township your Representative is John Bennett; in Livonia, Marvin Stempien; in Plymouth, North Nankin and Garden City, James Tierney; in Farmington, Ray Baker; in four Southern precincts of Livonia, Richard A. Young; and in the Senate, Farrell Roberts for Plymouth, Livonia and Farmington; Edward Robinson, for Redford Township; Terry Troutt for Nankin and Garden City.

George Montgomery (D), Chairman of the General Taxation Committee, said there were several bills pending before his committee concerning legislation to aid parochial schools. He said he did not believe any of them would get out of committee this year. However, he added "Each year they get a little closer to going onto the floor" for a vote. He thought that probably in next year's session one or more would pass, particularly the bill giving tax exemptions up to the amount of tuition paid by parochial parents.

It is possible some of us will gather at the launching pad, and board the Mayflower, for the moon to get away from church-controlled schools — or was this where we came in 300 years ago?

I was happy to recognize an old friend — a bill that I read last season — it was one Paul Chandler as State Representative had sponsored on the adoption of a proposal for State sharing in the cost of school construction and debt service.

It is H.B. 2107 wherein school districts are permitted bonding authority for school constructions. It passed the House 82-19 (bi-partisan) and is now in Senate committee.

Other bills on education: #H.B. 2122 would amend the School District reorganization to permit an intermediate school district to merge two or more school districts of the third class or higher.

#H.B. #2123 would allow school board members to file for the school board with $100 instead of petitions, which would be refunded if nominated.

#H.B. 2078 would amend the election law to require that in townships having a population of more than 50,000, the clerk would designate assistant clerks to be present at each elementary school building in the township for registration of voters from 1 to 8 p.m. each day except Sundays, 30 days preceding any general election.

HB #2160 provides financing for the Michigan Public School Employees retirement system.

HB #2309 Private Payment for Mentally Handicapped requires, in cases where school districts do not provide in any way for the education of mentally handicapped children, that payments of aid be made to the parent or guardian.

HB #2305 appropriation to community college districts of $78,750 based on $2.50 per student.

HB #2306 Felony to damage a school bus or equipment.

HB #2309 State Supt. may approve classes for mentally handicapped children conducted by nonprofit organizations. Tuition reimbursement from school aid fund.

HB #2315 Misdemeanor to have cigarette vending machines in any school building.

HB #2234 requires that the 7.5% taken by the state from school aid funds for retirement purposes be deducted at the local level.

SB #65 establishes library systems, provides state support.

SB #196 requires schools to offer social studies in state and local government, specifies the number of hours and length of time.

More bills have gone into the hopper in this session than in any other — and the above are only a minute smattering of same.

Lobbyists having to keep their masters informed are no doubt earning their money this year — with the need to learn the names and habits of so many fresh faces.

The bill that proposed tax relief for senior citizens passed the House 62-36 on Friday (voted along party lines). The tax relief for elderly on low incomes is wonderful, but without tax reform is chaotic. The loss is now estimated at up to $40 million.

There are 10 more such bills in the legislature that would reduce tax revenues — nice to tell the folks back home on the campaign trail, but what about the big picture?

WITH INCREASED SCHOOL COSTS (we hate to nag about this all the time) BUT WITH REVENUE COMING DOWN AND EXPENSES GOING UP is it really worth it — just to make George look bad?

Last week I sent for and received from Adlai E. Stevenson III, a member of the House of Representatives of Illinois, a copy of his bill on Lobbyist Registration wherein the lobbyist would have to register all funds spent in his capacity as lobbyist. Oh, would this one make the fur fly!

It occurred to me that it would be difficult to get any legislator interested in sponsoring it. HOWEVER, I discovered in Lansing this week, out of Livonia, Marvin Stempien (D). We have a David ready to take on the giant.

This freshman (all by himself) drafted a bill requiring elected politicians to disclose the amount of their wealth — and here is the kicker — the sources of their income.

Accents From St. Agatha

Students Attend Convention

By Mary Lou Mangold
On Saturday, March 27, members of the St. Agatha Chapter of the Michigan Junior Classical League attended the 15th annual State Convention...

and sophomore Latin students and Sister John Edward, Latin teacher and J.C.L. sponsor departed from school in cars driven by students Marilyn Gaffka, Al Kovarik, Mike Huhn, Bob Schrock, and by Mrs. Bernice Semik and by Bob Thomas.

with a general assembly. Larry Klenow, president of the Michigan J.C.L. presided at the meeting, assisted by vice-president Susan Williams, and secretary-treasurer Susan Grabiniski, and historian John Byington.

Speakers at the session were Doctor William E. Seaman of the M.S.U. Classics Department, Doctor Howard R. Neville, M.S.U. Provost, and Doctor Clarence A. Forbes, of the Ohio State University Classics Department.

Next on the agenda were workshops conducted by sponsors or officers, almost all of which were attended by a St. Agatha delegate. Consul Frances Nadolny represented the school at the Nominations Workshop where two candidates for each office were chosen from the several campaigners.

Sue Beth Quaine attended the Constitution Workshop, where she voted on whether to accept several proposed amendments. Quaeator David... a Dow and Scriptor Janet Nadolny returned from the Chapter Activities meeting with many clever ideas to live our J.C.L. meetings.

Chapter historian Mary Lou Mangold learned the duties of her position at the historians' workshop. Sandi Cindric and Bill Morgan attended the alumni meeting, where they learned of the Senior Classical League, open to Latin and Greek college students.

Other students attended workshops concerned with J.C.L. scholarships, the National Convention, costumes, songs, publicity, skits, the European tour, and the Michigan Torch, official M.J.C.L. publication.

ST. AGATHA'S was represented in two of the three contests. Ruth Brown entered the Mythology Contest, which consisted of a five page written test requiring the contestant to match husband and wife deities, Greek and Roman titles for a god, and characters with their myths.

The afternoon session was devoted to a presentation of awards to the winners of the Latin scholarship, the National Convention contests, and state contests. The candidates nominated in the morning then campaigned briefly, after which each school decided for whom to cast its ballots.

As each consul left the assembly to vote, the students viewed a film entitled "Claudius, the Boy," received the financial report and those of the Torch editors Lynda Brown and Sara Isabell, the historian, and the Constitution workshop.

The retiring officers made brief remarks and installed new officers; Charles Fritz, president, Bill Klyklo, vice-president, and Linda Cutter, secretary-treasurer.

After the convention ended, several groups of St. Agatha students toured the State Capitol building and the M.S.U. campus.

At Thurston

Musicians Win Honors

By JOANN VAN WYE
Long hours of practicing, skipping lunch hours, and staying after school rehearsing, paid off for 19 students on March 20. These students, who are members of the THS orchestra and band, competed in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival at Marshall, Michigan.

Out of the 19 participants from Thurston six of them received superior ratings. Those receiving superior ratings were Betty Wallington, violin; Gordon Bresden, bassoon; Jim Keene, saxophone; Dan King, Bruce Preston, and Mike McCrum, percussion trio.

Excellent ratings were received by the other 13 participants. Ratings of excellence were awarded to Anita Dolan, Edith Chirpke, Andrea Sleeth, and Cathy Tamp, string quartet; Elizabeth Wool, flute; Larry Mead, clarinet; Barb Block, E flat clarinet; Georgia McKee, Barbara Kress, Emily Kress, Carla Schlosser, flute quartet; Ellen Robinson, Gordon Bresden, and Ed Schoops, woodwind trio; Dan King and Bruce Preston, percussion duo.

Thurston is very proud of the performance of their participants. They were well represented by their participants who were among 5000 students from all over Michigan. The ratings received by Thurston's representatives means that their performance was above average for a high school student in the State of Michigan.

For the second year in a row Thurston's Varsity Choir received a superior rating for their singing. The choir competed at Plymouth High School with all the high schools in the district. All of the schools had to sing "Arise, God of all Nations" and one other selection of their own choice. Thurston's choir decided to sing the "Old May Song." In addition to their superior rating, the choir received a second place award for sight reading.

The choir which is under the direction of Mr. Roth is now turning their attention towards the Spring Concert. With only three weeks left until Sponge Week the girls at Thurston are beginning to scan the halls in search of the boy they would like to ask to the Sponge Dance.

Thurston sent 10 talented students to the district Spring Forensics contest at Franklin High on March 25. The first and second place winners in each of the five speech categories from Thurston, North Farmington, Oak Park, Birmingham Groves, John Glen, and Franklin participated in the competition. Thurston's representatives came home with two first places. Tim Wardell placed first in declamation and Lynn Clancy was awarded a first place for her interpretative reading.

The Travel Club Class of '66 is planning a trip to New York City for their Senior trip. The students are going to leave on Nov. 3, and return Nov. 7. They are going to be traveling on the New York Central Railway and while in New York City they will be staying at the Hotel Taft. In New York City the group will be visiting many places of interest, such as the Statue of Liberty, The Bowery Chinatown, Greenwich Village, Radio City Music Hall, and an evening of dinner and dancing at the International Night Club.

The group still has room for more students. The total cost of the trip is going to be approximately $95.00. To help defray the cost the club is sponsoring some money making projects.

Redford Union Panthr Tracks

Vocalists Vie In Plymouth

By PAM ZIEMNIAK
On Saturday, March 20, the vocal students of Redford Union participated in a competitive choral festival at Plymouth High School. This festival was conducted by the Michigan State Vocal Association. All choirs participating were classified according to size of school enrollment. Each classification had a required selection to perform, as well as one of their own choice.

Redford Union's concert choir was given A+ ratings in all eight categories by one of the adjudicators. This is the first time any group has made this accomplishment. The Girls Glee Club received all A's with the exception of a B+, which was the most A's received by any choir or group that day.

During the month of April, prospective candidates for next year's Student Council and class officers will be circulating petitions. Each candidate running for election is required to have a petition signed by ten per cent of his class, and he must maintain a 2.0 or "C" scholastic average.

Elections will also be held at the two junior high schools, Pearson and Lola Valley, for the Student Council representatives and sophomores class officers of next year. The ninth graders at Lola Valley will elect the president and treasurer, and Pearson will elect the vice-president and secretary of the Class of '68.

The synchronized swim group, the Ruettes, will present their water show, "Ruettes on Broadway," on April 8, 9 and 10. This great show will take place in the high school pool at 8:00 p.m. The girls will perform to music from such favorites as "West Side Story," "Flower Drum Song," "Broadway," "My Fair Lady," "Sound of Music," "Oklahoma," and others.

The members of the Ruettes this year are Karen Bargo, Cissi Boeye, Charlene Butterworth, Pat Campbell, Sue Campbell, Linda Clark, Colleen Cross, Cheryl Duprey, Sandy Ezell, Mary Ann Follen, Judy Freeman, Pat Hearn, Linda Lamb, Shirley Lee, Faye Macorkindale, Connie McLeod, Carol McWain, Pam Novitsky, Carol Olson, Elaine Pagel, Cheryl Palmer, Marsha Parr, Cathy Phister, Laura Rice, Sue Robertson, Linea Rystedt, Ruth Rystedt, Gail Stewart, Dianna Sucharski, Karen Toonder, Karlene Ulseth, Jeanne Valentine.

There is something completely new at Redford Union this year. A girls' basketball team has been organized. Games are played every Thursday at Lola Valley Junior High. Some of the competitors the team will face are Bentley, Franklin, Northville, and Bloomfield Hills.

The Class of '66' has been planning and working on the Senior Prom of 1965. The chairman of the various committees are Connie Maibach, The M Committee; Jan Bullock, Band Committee; Ron Bauer, Ticket Committee; and Tom Stover and Jeff Birdseye, Advertising Committee.

Students displayed their talents at the Talent Show presented on March 19. The curtains opened at 8:00 p.m. with the stage transformed into a large television screen. The show was presented as a rehearsal of a talent show, displaying the problems which arise during a rehearsal and that are smoothed over before the actual show.

Many superb acts were presented, including a Hootenany, a German classroom scene, dancing, an instrumental group, a hilarious mock fashion show, and many others. The show was directed by Mrs. Manfred Heuser and student direction by Gwenn Gravelle. Don Scarborough acted as emcee.

The cast included George Bodenham, Terrie Sue Crabtree, Sheila Heinonen, Bruce Smithers, George Bushong, Bill Watt, Stu Skog, Dave Miller, Bernie Sloan, Karen Vargo, Reggie Perry, Karen Supanich, Pat Salkeid, Bob Milliken, Nancy Martin, a group of senior girls and the Mystics.

Redford Union students have speech categories. Mr. Bob completed and received first and second place honors in four speech categories. Mr. Bob Gregory, who sponsors the Forensic team, has chosen the eight winners. Those selected are Davis (1st) and Jim Norrow (2nd) — Declamation competition; Mary Rowe (1st) and Dick Berryman (2nd) — Humorous Reading; Bob Milliken (1st) and Jack Devine (2nd) — Interpretative Reading; and Alex J oncas (1st) — Extempore Speech.

Teacher Group Keeps Post of Executive Sec'y.

A committee of the Livonia Educators Ass'n., major teacher group in the Livonia Public Schools, has recommended retention of the full-time post of executive secretary for the 1000-member organization.

Aram Vosgerchian, Franklin High School teacher, told the LEA's Representative Assembly last month: "Maintaining the position of executive secretary in the LEA is extremely important."

The committee studied the duties and responsibilities of the position during its third year of existence in the school system before making its decision. Under the present program, a portion of the dues of each teacher who belongs to the LEA is used to finance the salary of the executive secretary.

Presently, the position is held by Lynn Q. Gilmore who succeeded Patrick Basile.

In other recent action, the LEA, through its Committee on Curriculum Day, has recommended that "time requirements on the part of school administrators may be detrimental to the wholesome development of Curriculum Day activities."

The first Thursday of each month, students are released from classes one hour early and teachers use that time, plus an extra hour of their own time, for individual and group study of curriculum problems. In most schools, this means a three-hour session, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

"If students are released one hour early, according to the policy, teachers should be released one hour following the regular dismissal time of the students," the Committee recommended, while, at the same time, pointing out the "beneficial" aspects of Curriculum Day.

Engineering Society Names Livonia Man

Mr. Stanley W. Wojtyniak of 15581 Huff, Livonia, has been named Business Manager and Chief Accountant for the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Prior to joining ESD, Wojtyniak was assistant secretary in charge of accounting for Marks and Georgens, Inc. food brokers. He was controller and chief accountant for several branches of Lee and Cady, wholesale food distributors, from 1952 to 1962. He also served as assistant controller for City Foods from 1950 to 1952, and was food and beverage cost controller from 1945 to 1950 with Horwath and Horwath, public accountants.

A native of Detroit, he attended the Indiana Business College and the Walsh Institute of Accounting in Detroit. As part of his responsibility for all ESD finance and accounting controls, Wojtyniak plans to organize a bulk purchasing department and to investigate the use of electronic data processing machinery in the work of the 7000 member society.

Wojtyniak is married to the former Adele Leja of Chicago and they are the parents of five children: David, 13, Patrick, 11; Donna, 7; Sandra, 5; and Christine, 3.

School Publicity Personnel Meet

School-community relations and public information personnel representing 30 school boards in the greater Detroit metropolitan area met March 17 at Franklin High School to discuss ways of keeping the public informed of problems facing parents and educators in a changing world.

The publicists, members of the Michigan School Public Relations Association, heard Livonia's Dr. Albert Goldberg tell how data processing devices can be used to tell the public the facts about their schools. William Moorhead illustrated the use of film-strips in telling parents what they, and their kids, can expect in their first days in kindergarten, and William Farlow conducted an on-going demonstration of closed circuit television.

A special meeting of western suburban radio and information specialists met after the regular meeting to discuss a plan to establish a cooperative weekly radio program serving Livonia, Farmington, Garden City, Clarenceville, Dearborn, and adjacent communities. This program would delineate educational problems faced by all suburban schools such as textbook selection policies, need for new schools, bond issues, curriculum changes faced in the computer age, and so on.

Public and private schools in this country are serving more than three billion meals a year.

Death of Lloyd Brazil Mourned in Area

The death last Saturday of Lloyd Brazil struck close to the home of the Observer newspapers. Not only was Brazil an institution at the University of Detroit for four decades, he also was the father of Dave Brazil, the very excellent and successful coach at St. Agatha High School in Redford Township. Senior Brazil constantly was cheering on his son's teams. When time permitted, Pop was on deck to watch St. Agatha perform.

Typical of any father, Lloyd Brazil took pride in his son's accomplishments. That Dave should follow in his dad's footsteps as a coach unquestionably brought a great amount of satisfaction to Lloyd Brazil.

The death of Lloyd Brazil, who was buried today, ended an era at the University of Detroit.

Truly a legendary figure, Brazil died of complications from injuries he suffered a few days earlier when his new car struck a tree as he drove to work at U. of D.

He died just one day short of his 59th birthday and two days before he was to have begun his 20th season as baseball coach of the Titans.

Brazil and U. of D. literally were one and the same thing. For 39 years he served the Titans . . . first as their initial All America football player, then as a basketball star . . . and as time went on . . . as director of athletics, head basketball coach, backfield coach in football . . . baseball coach and in more recent years he also doubled as boss of the U. of D. Memorial Building.

Lloyd Brazil also was a sandlot baseball star . . . and one of the finest sports officials the state of Michigan ever knew.

He called 'em in football, basketball and baseball . . . and in football he was a member of the National Football League staff, working in several championship games, until felled by a stroke 12 years ago.

Brazil was the greatest football player U. of D. ever produced. He was triple-threat star, shining as a runner, passer and kicker.

In his three varsity years at U. of D. from 1927-

29, the Titans won 33, tied one and lost three. The 1928 team won nine straight without a loss.

He was the only U. of D. athlete ever to be honored as football and basketball captain during the same year.

Sports writers, who covered football in the Brazil era, hailed him as a "dream" player.

Brazil's zest for sports never diminished. Even when he was laid low by a stroke in 1953.

As soon as the doctors said okay, Brazil was back in sports and back coaching U. of D. in baseball.

He was a gentleman always. He had respect for the other man and his job.

There was the time Brazil's University of Detroit baseballers were locked up in a game with Wayne State.

One of the umpires missed a play at second base. The fans screamed:

"Tell that bum off, Brazil!"

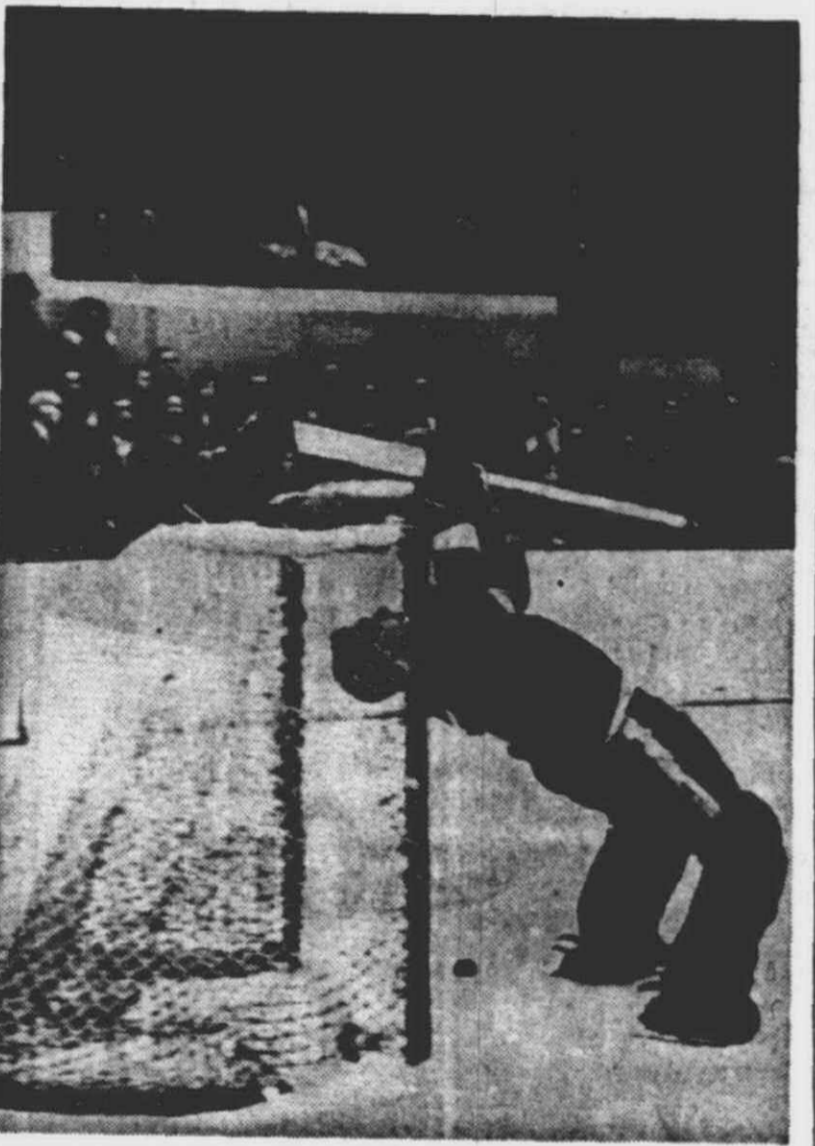

The Titan coach walked to the middle of the diamond because he wanted to make certain that none league champs, four runnersup and two other teams which placed third.

Then, too, his 1964 team which still remains fresh in the coach's memories.

East a year ago posted an overall 17-2 record, winning its last 15 in a row in regular-season action. The team then went into the Wyandotte Invitational tournament and bowed out after winning one game.

All of which means, East will put a streak of 15 regular-season wins on the line Friday when it is scheduled to start the 1965 campaign at Redford Union, which wound up as co-champs in the Suburban Six League a year ago.

Gone from the '64 Garden City East team, which rolled through the Mid-Wayne League with a 12-0 mark are Pitchers Gary Bowman and John Breckenridge, Catcher Dan Longhi and Thirdsacker Wade Payne.

Bowman won a baseball scholarship to the University of Michigan, while Payne and Longhi are frosh at Michigan State.

But there is every indication East again will field a powerhouse on the baseball diamond this spring.

Joe Pomykacz, who won eight without a setback in '64 and hauled in all-league and all-area honors, will head the East pitching staff for '65.

Norm Vasquez, out most of '64 because of illness after fashioning two victories; Don Shute, who plays the infield and outfield and also pitches, and Paul Kightlinger join Pomykacz in giving East a formidable mound staff.

Dick Mood, a second-stringer last year, will do the catching.

Don Smith has moved from the outfield to play third. Shortstop Ron Goutlet is a veteran who played on last year's national champion Detroit Kowalski team.

Cass Simpson at second was a member of the Belleville team which in '64 gained the Connie Mack U. S. finals. Stan Wleczkowski, a newcomer, will take over at first base.

In the outfield, Al Kamniecki will operate in center with Dave Ventura in left. Pomykacz, Vasquez and Shute will operate in right when not pitching. All three are good hitters.

After Friday's scheduled opener with Redford Union, East returns home Monday to meet Dearborn Haston. Then will follow a Wednesday game at East against Riverview.

Vaulter Leaps To Triumph

Mark Hamel of Garden City East High could be the best Class A high school polevaulter in Michigan this spring.

He soared 13 feet, 2 inches last Saturday night to take the pole vault honors in the Spartan Relays at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

It was Hamel's second major accomplishment of the young track season. The week before he starred in the Huron Relays at Ypsilanti.

Hamel was the only area athlete to score at Michigan State as Roseville and Ypsilanti Central shared the team title with 17 points each. Birmingham Seaholm followed with 15 points.

Thurston Golfers 'Loaded'

All signs point to a winning golf team at Thurston high school, according to Coach Joe Mirana.

The Thurston team boasts four lettermen, led by Jim McDonald, Kris Hornyak, Al Bass and Bob Uptoff.

In addition, there are four outstanding sophomores bidding for regular jobs. They are David Liblanc, John Schulz, John Jakyblak and Bill Schulz.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

Welcome aboard—to our new friends in Garden City.

Some really aren't new. What now is known as Garden City High School existed when we covered the prep school beat for the Detroit Times.

We remember trooping 'way out, as it seemed in those days, to Middlebelt Road to cover or officiate a game for Garden City. Then, as now, Bill Wilson was on the Garden City coaching staff.

In the interim period, since last we wrote about Garden City, the community has grown. This means that in addition to Garden City East High, there today is Garden City West and we dare say there'll be another senior high in due time.

Both at East and West highs, they have complete, year-around athletic programs stretching from football in the fall through baseball and track in the spring.

Garden City also is athletics conscious in the lower-grades and in recreation and Little League activities.

So, welcome aboard . . . Garden City!

When it comes to "welcomes," it's just about the hour to greet in the 1965 major league baseball season.

The Tigers start to work next Monday night and you can see it all on Channel 2 or hear it on radio via WJR, which is carrying ALL the Tiger games this season.

With spring training just about over, there seems to be some opinion about the 1965 Tigers.

Joe Falls, the very able Free Press baseball expert who resides up in Farmington, recently called the goings on down in Florida "pretty dull."

Watson Spoelstra of the News one day referred to the Tigers as "terrible."

Nonetheless, those who seem to know give the Tigers a fair chance to cause excitement around the American League this season.

The team does have some very solid pitching, better than most clubs in the American League. Starters like Hank Aguirre, Mickey Lolich, and Dave Wickersham and a bullpen led by Larry Sherry could make possible a few extra victories.

Bill Freehan is a crackerjack catcher. The infield is passable and there's always Al Kaline in the outfield, even though Kaline has been a flop in spring exhibitions.

We're not going to make any rash predictions about the Tigers. If you have read this column before, you are familiar with previous prognostications which have only led us to bury our head in shame.

But there's every reason to figure that the Tigers will finish somewhere in the top four and if . . . what a word that "if" is . . . the New York Yankees are finally to falter, this will be the year.

As for the Tigers, we talked with two gents, Ernie Harwell and Ray Lane, who usually do the talking about the Bengals. Harwell does all the radio for the club along with Gene Osborn, while Lane and George Kell will share the microphone on telecasts.

Both were just back from Florida and carried all the signs of the southern sunshine on their faces.

"Too many get too serious about what happens in spring training," Harwell said. "The Tigers have used the spring to experiment, which is the big reason they haven't won as many as some of the other clubs."

Lane expressed a similar opinion, then added:

"Don't forget, the club has played very well in the last few weeks after a poor start. By the time they open next Monday, they should be ready."

While baseball gets ready to spring the lid, hockey and basketball continue to make big headlines with the playoffs.

The Red Wings remain the talk of the National Hockey League and we join the Associated Press in saluting Sid Abel as "Coach of the Year," Norm Ullman as "Player of the Year" and Roger Crozier as "rookie of the year."

Swinging over to basketball, there was joy and sorrow for this department in the way Baltimore eliminated St. Louis in the first round of the NBA playoffs.

On the Baltimore club there are several players whom we grew to know, almost like brothers, while they played with the Detroit Pistons. We're referring to Don Ohl, Kevin Loughery, Bailey Howell and Bob Ferry.

But there was a touch of nostalgia in the game in which Baltimore eliminated St. Louis. The contest marked the end of the basketball line for the Hawks' Bob Pettit. Pro basketball's greatest scorer of all time went out with only six points in his swansong.

In our work with the Pistons, we have met on a personal basis all of the NBA players. To us there was none finer than Bob Pettit.

He may have terrorized the Pistons . . . and yelled and cried at some of the calls rendered by the referees . . . but Pettit personified CLASS. He'll be missed around the NBA . . . and sports.

Michigan State University, our alma mater, has given the bounce to Basketball Coach Fordy Anderson. The reason was obvious: Anderson's Spartans didn't win enough. In addition, rival Michigan has been winning too much in basketball.

It's a shame that Anderson had to get the boot at this time. We're told that he had rounded up a powerful team for the Spartans next season.

But, that's the way the balls bounce in sports. You win . . . or else.

It's not any different on a high school level. In many communities in Michigan, prep coaches are relieved of their duties every season for failing to produce enough victories. In many instances, pressures from outside the school force the administrators to make the changes.

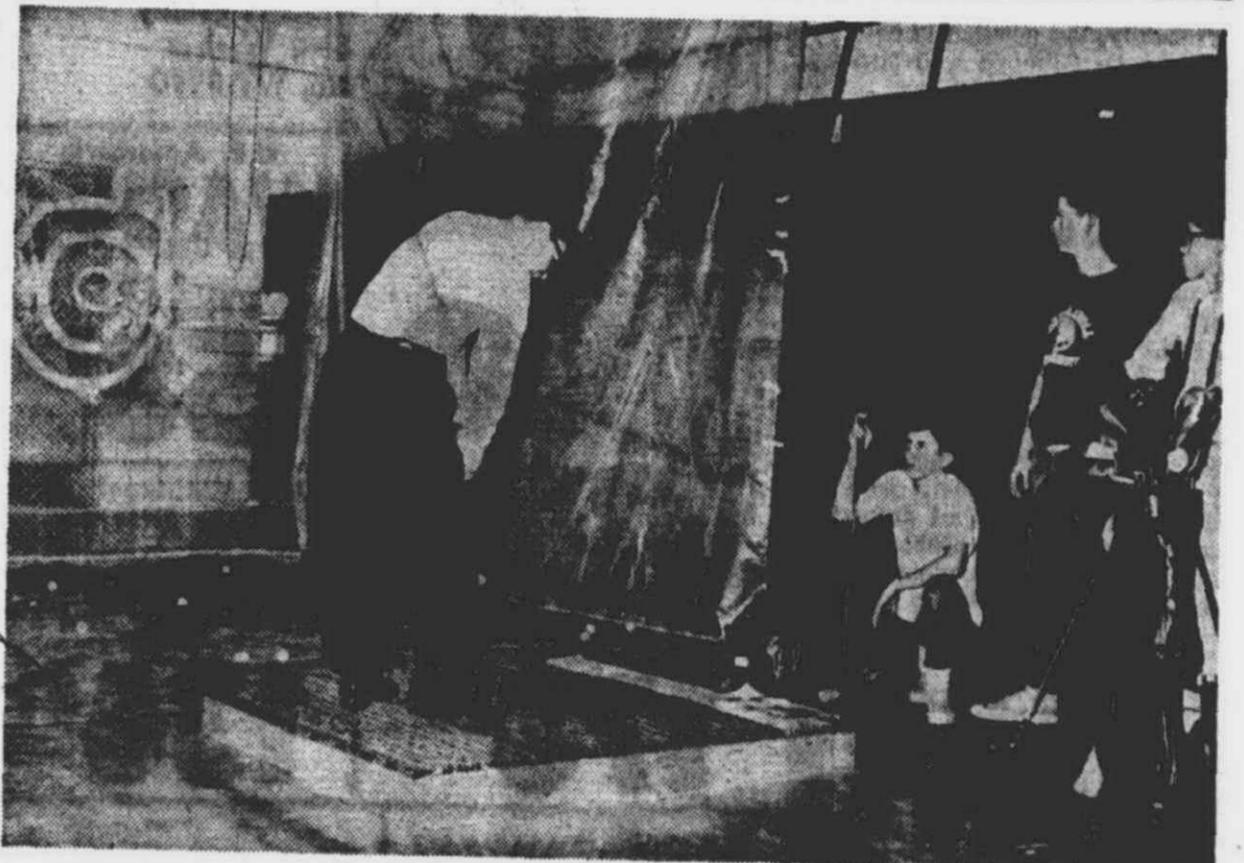

We know of one top coach who was criticized because he didn't win. Certain folks were demanding miracles, which weren't forthcoming until a year after the gent said his farewells.

MEMO TO AL ROSCOE, director of sports for the Livonia Recreation department:

Just because we're good friends is no reason you should be rapped because we don't think too much about Little League baseball.

However, to our old friends in Redford Township, Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth and our new ones in Garden City, we promise not to pick away at Little League sports again. They do serve a purpose and attract a considerable amount of following.

Happy baseball to everybody . . . when the weatherman finally permits.

SHOWING THEM HOW. Our Lady addressing the ball. The boys have set of Sorrows golf instructor Dr. Joseph up a net enclosure so that the bad Gabaw demonstrates correct form of weather doesn't hamper their play.

DR. JOSEPH GABOW demonstrates to members of Our Lady of Sorrows basketball team how to use a device for indoor practice. The golfers are itching to get outdoors to prepare for the 1965 season.

Sorrows, St. Agatha Set To Go

Spring sports scheduled for St. Agatha and Our Lady of Sorrows in the Catholic League have been announced.

Sorrows will perform in track, golf and baseball. St. Agatha will field only a baseball team.

The schedules:

Reopen Registrations For Livonia Baseball

Due to calls of concerned parents who failed to register their youngsters for the junior baseball program, officials of the Recreation Department and of the Livonia Junior Football League, co-sponsors of the activity, have decided to extend the period of registration.

Aspirants of hardball may be registered at the Department of Parks and Recreation Office, 14305 Farmington Road, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the remainder of this week. The final registration will be held from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, April 10 at the same location.

Registrations are open to all boys 9 through 13 years of age. Eight year olds who will be 9 years of age by September 1 of this year are eligible. Those 13-year-olds who will be 14 before September 1 of this year will be ineligible.

The registration fee will be $3 per youngster to cover insurance fees and other costs.

Capricious Spring-time Gives Trackmen Workout

Officials at Northville Downs and Wolverine Harness Raceway, which operates over the facilities of the Detroit Race Course at the intersection of Middlebelt and Schoolcraft Roads in Livonia, are much aware of the capricious nature of the Michigan weatherman in the spring.

Wolverine, which opens a 55-night meeting on Saturday, April 17, took a chance that spring had arrived and removed an asphalt cover on the half-mile racing strip last Wednesday—a bright, sunny day.

The decision wasn't so hot for the Weatherman ordered a three-inch snow with high winds on Thursday and turned everything into a midwinter appearance. However, crews have been working on the track the past five days and report it is in excellent shape for this time of the year.

Certainly much better than a year ago when Wolverine officials battled the elements and a heavy, muddy track for more than a month before finally overcoming the obstacles.

The asphalt covering was geared to take care of the muddy condition this year—and it did, except the capricious Weatherman had to have his last fling with the heavy snow. Meanwhile, officials at Northville Downs ran the gamut of the ridiculous to the sublime in the matter of 24 hours during the same snowstorm.

The sudden change in the weather turned the track from a hard surface to one completely covered by snow only hours before the scheduled start of racing on Thursday. Crews worked long and finally removed the last of the drifts from the track at 8:30 p.m.

However, the cold weather and precarious conditions of the highways held the crowd down to a slim 1,183, lowest in 21 years, and the wagering to a mere $79,000, also an all-time low.

Then the weather changed overnight, the sun came out and erased the snow, the temperatures rose and followers of the standardbreds took heart with the result that 5,084 were on hand Friday night and poured $292,182 through the pari-mutuel machines.

That was just a sample of what was in store Saturday when 5,787 took advantage of the improved weather and wagered $312,693, highest for the eight night old meeting.

The 'Downs swings into its final weekend on Friday and Saturday with two rich $2,500 overnight events on the program.

The trotters, headed by Charley Horse, Jan Kaye and Bill G, will have the spotlight Friday night.

Then the pacers move into the center of the stage Saturday when Craig Creed, the veteran speedster from Ohio, bids for his second straight victory. He won the $2,500 Inaugural Pace on the opening weekend and then ran out of competition last week when the better class pacers declined to challenge him.

Racing Secretary Harry Peterson has lured five foes for Craig Creed on Saturday night including Star Coburn, who won with amazing ease last week in the featured Pontiac Pace. Post time each night is 8:15 p.m.

TWO REASONS why Valparaiso University in Indiana expects a strong track team are these sophomore sprinters who have shown excellent form in early workouts. They are: Detlef Soberay (right) of Livonia Bentley High, and Winston Schmidt, who hails from Breckenridge, Minn.

Bentley Shy on Seniors

Only four seniors regale the roster of Bentley High School's track team which starts its season at Belleville on Thursday—if the weather permits.

The twelfth-graders are Jim Gregg, a half miler and high jumper; Dan Larein the pole vault, Richard Koch in the long jump and Phil Balla, a high jumper.

Coach Ron Fedraw has hopes that his underclassmen will come through in a big way for the Bentley.

Juniors are sprinter Rick London, who also vies in the long jump; Jim Sova, shot put; Ron Chope, mile, and Ken Bauman in the high jump.

Promising sophomores are: Doug Thomas, 100-yard dash and hurdles. Jim Matavia, high hurdles. Larry Grimm, pole vault. Rick Dudzinski, 440.

Livonia DPR To Host First Volleyball Meet

The Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation will host the first Livonia invitational volleyball tournament beginning at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 10, in the Clarenceville High School.

Teams sponsored by recreation departments throughout the state are eligible. Interested managers may call the Recreation Office, GA. 1-2000 for more information.

Livonia, recognized as the "hot bed" of volleyball in the State of Michigan, conducted leagues that involved 20 teams during the past season.

Saturday Last Day For Boys to Enter Farmington Leagues

Final registration of boys in Farmington, between the ages of 8 and 16 years for the T Ball, Little League, Pony and Colt programs, will take place Saturday morning from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in Farmington Junior High.

That was the announcement by Chairman Charles Kuper-schmidt who indicated all boys, who did not play last year, must present a birth certificate at the time of registration.

Donations are $7 per boy or $10 per family, where more than one boy registers. Those unable to register on Saturday are requested to call Kuper-schmidt at 476-2102 to make arrangements.

Two Newcomers Play For Globetrotters Saturday at Olympia

Seven veterans and only two newcomers will be on the Harlem Globetrotters' roster for the club's 8 p.m. game Saturday, April 10 against the Washington Generals at Olympia.

Grady McCollum, a 6 ft. 4 in. forward, and David Gaines, a 6-1 guard, are the lone rookies on the Harlem team.

McCollum had plenty of pro experience, however, with the old Cleveland Pipers and Long Beach (Cal.) Chiefs of the now-defunct American Basketball League.

Gaines, a former Detroit, was a prep star at Northeastern High School and later a stand-out at LeMoyn College in Memphis, Tenn.

Livonians' Bid Falls Short

Detroiters Retain 1st Place In Mixed Doubles Tourney

With five weekends of bowling in the third annual Observer Newspapers Merri-Bowl Lanes mixed doubles tournament completed and seven more ahead before the champion is crowned, the Detroit duo of James Thom's and Mildred Sherman maintained their two-pin edge on first place.

Despite heavy rolling over the fifth weekend, none came close to the 1319 score registered by the Detroiters although teams from Livonia and Plymouth made bids only to falter in the closing frames.

There were only two changes in the standings over the fifth weekend, finding the team of Don Donahoo and Doris Maltby climbing into a tie for sixth place with a 1281 count and the duo of Vince Zitzler and Margaret Warner moving into eighth place with a 1273.

Miss Maltby and her partner Donahoo, had an excellent chance but each hit a cold spell in one of the three games and that proved fatal to their hopes.

Miss Maltby started out with a 207, dipped to 154 in the middle and then came roaring back with 223 for a 584 tally. She picked up 18 pins per game handicap to give her an overall score of 638.

Don had his lapse in the opening game when he rolled 157, 23 pins below his 180 average, then found the lanes and wound up with 209 and 223 for 589. He also had 18 pins per game handicap and that gave him a gross score of 643. The 1281 was only 38 pins away from the leaders. Zitzler and Miss Warner were well over their averages in each of the three games but just didn't have enough to threaten the leaders.

Zitzler, who went in with a 175 average, had an opening 191, followed with 168 and then ended with 198 for 557. Miss Warner, who boasts a 152 average, wound up with a turkey in her first game for a 184, sagged to 168 in the sec-

Michigan and northwestern Ohio, I feel it will take quite a few pins more than the 1341 of last year to win this year's top prize.

The meet, which has a guaranteed first prize of $1,000 and an estimated pot of $2,500 if the entries total 1,000 or more, continues through May 23.

The entry fee of $10 per bowler covers the most of bowling, tournament expenses and $5 for the prize fund.

There are still plenty of openings in the remaining weekends but Goldman urges all bowlers planning on entering to make reservations as soon as possible in order to get choice times and dates.

The bowling is on weekends only with squads starting at 11 a.m. each Saturday and Sunday. One hour is allowed for each squad and the final group takes the lanes at 11 p.m.

The remaining dates are: SATURDAYS: April 10, 17 and 24; May 1, 8, 15, and 22. SUNDAYS: April 11, 18 and 25; May 2, 9, 16 and 23.

Poetry Society Marks Thirtieth Anniversary

"Sing then I must until my song heard" is the motto of the Poetry Society of Michigan, this year celebrating its 30th birthday with a growing membership that has well passed the 200 mark.

"Peninsula Poets," the society's quarterly magazine, is the principal means of communication among members. Besides original verse, it publishes announcements, news items and editorials and recognizes individual accomplishments.

The society meets three times a year, spring, summer and fall in various places throughout the state. These meetings give members a chance to become personally acquainted. Poetry is discussed, original verse read and there are opportunities to hear popular guest speakers.

Membership, which is open to anyone, has spread beyond Michigan, into other states and countries, including Canada and Japan. Dues, three dollars a year, ($1.50 for institutions such as schools, libraries, etc.) entitle the member to the magazine and a right to submit verse. A complete membership roster is published annually in the Winter issue of the magazine.

Dr. O.L. Abbott, the secretary-treasurer, at 508 Charles Street, East Lansing, is in charge of explaining the society's program to the public. Dr. Abbott writes to many persons who communicate with him seeking information on membership requirements and other matters.

The spring meeting of the Poetry Society will be held at the Union Building on the campus of Michigan State University, on Sunday, April 25, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

GOING UP 'CURTAIN'

"We seem to feel that the truth about white and black men in America is so terrible that it cannot be told. But the truth about the past is really all we have to guide us in the present." James Baldwin, author of "Another Country" and the angry play "Blues for Mister Charlie", summed up in these words about the Negro-White situation in the United States.

You'll find those words gracing the program of "In White America" a production that employs six actors and a banjo player to present the written thoughts, sentiments, and official documents of the Negro's struggle for freedom of expression and existence. Much of the material when presented on the stage in a three-dimensional fashion has a searing, soul-searching effect on you.

You say to yourself: "Did we really treat our colored brothers this way? Could we have whipped them, suppressed them, and strung them up as we did?" And then suddenly you remember Selma, the murder of civil rights workers last summer in Mississippi, and the countless other flagrant examples of the whites versus the blacks taking place in what we jokingly call our present civilization.

"In White America" is a moving, disturbing experience for the audience. Since it is a documentation of real life, its total effect is even greater. No playwright has set these words down. All Martin Duberman did was to assemble, edit, and find an effective director to make the narration and dialogue sequence become startlingly eloquent.

Possibly the most effective scene in the entire production comes near the end of the presentation: the account of a Negro girl's first day of attendance at the Little Rock High School. You hear the taunting cries of the crowd, the jeering and all the epithets hurled on that historic day ring loud and clear. And yet this solo performance by Novella Nelson mentions none of this raucous background by word. Your conscience supplies the missing dialogue. Throughout the entire performance of "In White America" you find this constantly happening.

If you missed "In White America" at Ann Arbor and would like to shake your convictions up a bit, plan now to see this live demonstration of truth at the Ford Auditorium on May 2.

Another version of our inherent attempt to find acceptance, the feeling of "WE" versus the loneliness of "me," was on the theatrical docket at the Bonstelle Theater. The Wayne State Players presented "A Member of the Wedding" for a two weekend run. Frankie Addams, the mixed-up female adolescent, in "Member of the Wedding" tries desperately to understand the cruel world. Why isn't she accepted? What is life all about? Does anyone truly love her and appreciate her?

The Negro cook, Bernice Sadie Brown, comforts Frankie as best she can. Some of the answers she gives to tom-boyish Frankie are a mite worldly, but then they are better than no answers at all.

By the end of the play Frankie has passed through her most awkward stage of development and is well on her way to the next exciting phase of being a young lady. She has found a boy friend.

"Member of the Wedding" tells of an individual's fight to find out what life is all about. The Negro cook epitomizes the answer with her great dependence on a higher authority, a divine being. She softly sings after experiencing countless troubles as the curtain falls "His eyes is on the sparrow and I know it's on me . . ."

The three leading roles were done quite adequately by Bernice Avery, Linda Ybarondo, and David Merrill. This talented trio provided an evening of sheer delight and genuine paths as you followed them through a small segment of their life. Russell Paquette and Norman Hamlin are to be commended for their excellent lighting and sound effects that added to over-all naturalistic tone of the production.

THE BILLBOARD
FISHER THEATER — "BAREFOOT IN THE PARK." Opens on April 12 for a four week run. You'll find this Broadway laugh success is a screaming riot.
BONSTELLE THEATER — "MEMBER OF THE WEDDING." Plays one more weekend for four performances. Special Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m.
HILBERRY CLASSIC THEATER — "OEDIPUS REX." Four great classic theatrical presentations performed in repertory. Final week for the Hotel Wolverine semi-professional group. New show opens on April 17 — "The Deadly Game."
U OF D LIBRARY THEATER — "J.B." and "MISSALLAINE." Final weekend to catch either of these top university productions.

Antique Lecture
Planned April 9

The fifth lecture during the current Henry Ford Museum Antiques Lecture Series will be given at 8:30 p.m., on Friday, April 9, by James Keene, Birmingham, Mich., collector.

The Museum's antique lecture program has brought to Michigan more than 70 leading experts in various fields of American antiques since its inception in 1952. It is now recognized as the foremost program of its kind in the Midwest devoted to the American decorative arts.

"Collecting Americana: Unlimited," will be the topic of Keene's illustrated talk. Covering many aspects of American history, the Keene collection of antiques includes 18th and 19th century sophisticated and country furniture, folk art, wrought iron, Indian silver, fractures, pottery and American paintings as well as books and manuscripts.

"Suspicion," one of the many Alfred Hitchcock thrillers, will be featured in the Famous Early Movie Series at Henry Ford Museum on Sunday, April 11, at 2 and 4 p.m.

The film was produced in 1941 with Joan Fontaine cast in the role of a shy English girl who marries a charming gentleman, played by Cary Grant. Shortly after their marriage she begins to suspect that he has a murderous intent.

The movie program is included in the regular admission charge to Henry Ford Museum.

BUFFET FEATURED Taylor's Towne House Celebrates Anniversary

Approximately seven years ago Mal and Bea Taylor applied for a liquor permit in Lansing to open an establishment in Livonia.

It has been "a long, hard road" in Taylor's words from that day to this and the celebration of the first anniversary of Taylor's Towne House. The Taylors are "gratified" at the response to their endeavor.

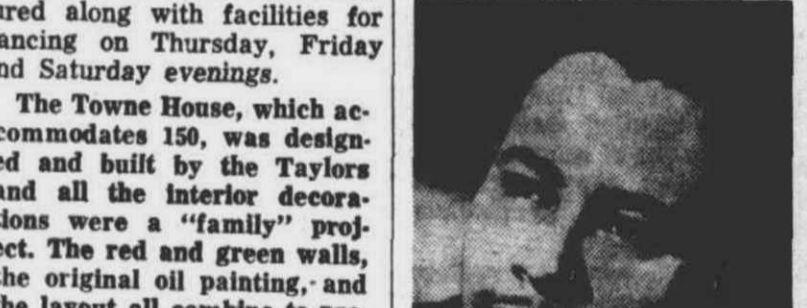

The restaurant and cocktail lounge, which is located on Plymouth Rd. just east of Merriman, features continental cuisine. Lunches and dinners are served Monday through Saturday.

The music of Lee Scott on the piano, organ and drums is featured along with facilities for dancing on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

The Towne House, which accommodates 150, was designed and built by the Taylors and all the interior decorations were a "family" project. The red and green walls, the original oil painting, and the layout all combine to provide to add to the "country provincial" atmosphere.

At least that's what Bea Taylor calls the decorations. Whatever it's name it is a down to earth, friendly type of establishment.

In observance of the first anniversary—a smorgasbord buffet will be featured next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 5 to 10 p.m. Scott, who is a graduate of the University of Southern Illinois, will provide background music on these evenings.

RAMON CERDA and his trio have just been signed for a six month engagement at the Livonia Penthouse on Plymouth. The group will provide music for dining and dancing on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Mary Poppins is coming to Livonia.

Will she come on the east wind? Who knows? This much is certain—she is coming to the Terrace Theatre in Livonia.

The Terrace in cooperation with the Observer and Montgomery Wards is sponsoring a contest in honor of the famous English Nanny.

Simply color the picture accompanying this article, clip it out and mail it to Mary Poppins, The Observer, 33050 Five Mile Rd., Livonia, Michigan.

Anyone between the ages of 4 and 12 may enter.

The person who does the best job coloring the picture will receive a bike from Montgomery Wards. Two other valuable prizes will also be awarded.

Sound easy? It is. Why don't you try today?

Art Institute To Stage Musical 'Treasure Island'

One of the world's most colorful tales of adventure and intrigue, "Treasure Island," will come to Detroit as a boisterous new musical play. It will be presented at The Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium from April 19 through 24, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. daily.

The Robert Louis Stevenson classic will be presented in modern Broadway musical format. Robust songs, colorful and dramatic staging and vigorous choreography will be combined to make "Treasure Island" not merely a show for children and teenagers, but also entertaining theatrical fare for adults.

Hallmark of this new version of "Treasure Island" produced by Spyglass Productions and Richard S. Mendelsohn, is the level of its approach. There is no talking down to children; the show is professionally produced and performed by a cast of 13 singers, actors and dancers.

Although performance times are intended to attract Young audiences during Easter vacation, the producers hope to interest adult theatre-goers, nostalgic for the familiar tale which has stimulated the imagination of several generations.

The book is by Joseph Caruso, Jr., music by George Linsenmann, and lyrics by Ralph Falco.

Plymouth Symphony Performance Lauded

The Plymouth Symphony, under the capable leadership of conductor Wayne Dunlap, has done a great service to the Plymouth Community. In its presentation of Puccini's "La Boheme" last Saturday evening in the Plymouth High School auditorium-gym, it closed its nineteenth season on an especially happy note.

When one considers the amount of rehearsal time allotted to this performance—four Monday evenings for the orchestra and one run-through with the cast (on the afternoon of the performance)—one must certainly be amazed at the quality of the performance.

After a rather awkward and scrambling first act, the members of the orchestra settled down to do some fine ensemble playing, especially with the singers in the closing sextet of Act II and generally throughout acts III and IV. The brass and woodwinds played with real professionalism and the horns were particularly outstanding. But the violin section lacked in precision and intonation and could beneficially use some long hours of drill.

For the most part the balance between singers and orchestra was good. Mr. Dunlap's tempi were always appropriate and his beat was firm yet flexible in the necessary places. In the main the orchestra proved itself to be a worthy ensemble, and at times produced a wonderfully lush and sweeping tone. La Boheme is as much an orchestra's opera as it is a singer's.

But opera is after all primarily for the singers and the Turnau Opera Players can boast of several very fine voices. Interest in almost any opera invariably centers around "the soprano," and Saturday evening's Mimi commanded respect and admiration from her audience.

Lorine Buffington sang the delicate role with a great deal of vocal ease and beauty and moved gracefully about the stage, except for her initial entrance—bent over and clutching a shawl around the shoulders—which presented more a picture of an arthritic old lady than a consumptive and dying woman. When she got to her first act aria and thereafter (especially in her duet with Marcello in Act III) she seemed more the ideal Mimi, singing and acting in character. Her death in the final act was beautifully underplayed but still touching and, for many, gripping.

Eric Davis, at least in this performance, was a less than adequate Rudolfo. Reports were that he was under severe strain of a cold, and his singing ability could not be judged by his sound, which was nasal and small. His acting was wooden and lackluster, and he created no character with which the audience could sympathize.

Lucille Sullam's Musetta was expertly sung and acted. She was appropriately amusing and brassy in the second act but tender and sympathetic in the final scene. Theodore Lambros sang the role of Marcello with ease and his acting was commendable.

In the minor role of Golline a very real talent was present in the person of Franklyn Summers. His is a large and resonant bass voice, but slightly covered. It commands respect and matches his power on the stage as an actor. His movements were light and agile and his stage presence was outstanding. His little aria in the last act, sung in tender farewell to his overcoat, was moving.

In general, the performance was interesting and enjoyable. The fine English translation (Martin?) came across very well, and was unobtrusive. The ensemble sound of the group was very thrilling at times and the voices were well matched. Bravo to the Turnau Players and especially to Wayne Dunlap. His firm control held the performance together and kept it moving along briskly. The credit for success rests squarely upon his shoulders.

'Little Foxes' Cast Announced

Kaye Britton will star as Regina, the sultry, vicious and ruthless heroine who pits brother against brother and drives her husband into the grave in the harrowing tragedy, "The Little Foxes," which The Farmington Players is presenting at the Barn Theatre for five performances beginning May 7.

Appearing as her brothers, the other two "foxes" who connive evilly to gain wealth at the price of destruction of the Hubbard family are Don Craig as Ben and Stuart Orman as Oscar.

Stuart Orman will appear in the role of Horace, Regina's invalid husband who ultimately is killed. Norm Hosking and Caroline Stutson play, respectively, Leo, Oscar's weak and villainous son and Alexandra, Birdie's daughter. The pitiful and tortured Birdie, wife of Oscar, will be portrayed by Mary Ann Perry.

Also appearing are Ted Budgen as Marshall, the Chicago industrialist

State Highway Department Examines Use of Mirrors

LANSING—The State Highway and Conservation Departments are experimenting with mirrors in an effort to keep deer off highways to reduce car-deer accidents.

For a long time, game experts have known that a little light reflected into a deer's eyes makes him stand still.

The Highway Department will install mirrors on posts along an eight-mile section of US-27 between Jackson and Mason and on two miles of I-94 Business Loop at a Battle Creek.

The US-27 location was chosen because of its high deer-vehicle accident record—42 since 1960—and the Battle Creek highway because of its nearness to the Fort Custer Military Reservation, which has the highest concentration of deer anywhere in Michigan.

Last year, more deer were killed on Jackson County highways than on the entire Upper Peninsula highway network.

Deborah Foxes in Double Trouble

You can't call it funny, because it was an accident. But it was most unusual that last week two young ladies, Deborah Fox of Edgewater in Farmington and Deborah Fox of Gary Lane, Livonia, were both admitted as accident victims to St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

Both of their fathers names are Willard—and each has a sister named Patricia. Both fathers earn their livelihood as supervisors.

Both Deborahs suffered lacerations on the face as a result of their car accidents.

Deborah of Farmington is 16 and Deborah of Livonia is 15.

Oh yes, they both ended up in room 516 at St. Mary Hospital. Nurses report they were most compatible, and charming young ladies.

AT ST. ANDREW'S
Community Healing Service
Held Wednesday Evenings

Each Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock a community healing service is being conducted at the St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Livonia.

The service, which has its origins in the New Testament, is designed to help those afflicted by personal problems or physical or emotional illness. It is a spiritual act with the individual bringing his problems to the altar for assistance.

Illness is asked to be "put to flight" in the words of the service while the administering person lays his hands on the individual's head.

This is an Apostolic Rite which has been dormant for many years and is currently being revived. St. Andrew's is

Sacrificial Meal to Highlight
WSCS Meeting

The Annual Sacrificial Meal and Communion Service of the W.S.C.S. of the Newburgh Methodist Church will be held on Thursday evening, April 8, at 8 p.m.

Taking part in the program will be Mesdames Virginia Britton, Gladys Ryder, Fern Ursa, Jean Bennett, and Sylvia Barclay.

Special music, under the direction of Mrs. Winifred Nixon, will be provided by a quartette composed of the following women from the Ruth Circle: Mesdames Joyce Nevak, Mary Alice Trosten, Jean Loomis, and Alida Tucker. They will sing the hymn, "Jesus Spread His Banner O'er Us."

Clyde Fink will sing a tenor solo. His selection will be "The Palms."

Rev. Paul Greer will give the meditation and grace at the Sacrificial Meal. The Ruth Circle will be the hostesses.

Ushers during the service are Mrs. Joan Meroney and Mrs. Jean Blaisdell.

This annual affair is one of the spiritual programs of the Woman's Society each year.

College Concert
Set at Covenant
Community Church

The Houghton College Concert Ensemble will give a concert at Covenant Community Church in Redford Township at 7 p.m. Sunday, April 18.

The Concert Ensemble, which represents Houghton College, Houghton, N.Y., is conducted by Professor Eldon Basney and features 20 vocalists, bass violin, cello, viola, three violins and a piano. Its repertoire includes music of the Baroque, Romantic and Contemporary periods. Sacred works predominate, with instrumental compositions offered for variety.

51 Confirmed
at Hosanna Tabor

Fifty-one members of the Hosanna Tabor Lutheran Church Confirmation Class of 1965 will speak the vows and formally become members of the church on Palm Sunday, April 11. The confirming pastors will be R. G. Pranske and E. M. Hadwiger.

On April 4 the Confirmands of the Church presented "Minute Testimonials." This testimonial is based on a section of Luther's Small Catechism which the class has been studying.

Passover Program
Slated for Monday

Most of us are unaware of the strange and colorful past history of the holiday now celebrated by the Jews as Passover.

It originated 2,000 years before the time of Abraham. At one period in the history of the Jewish people it was solely an agricultural holiday with little religious connotation. During another era it was known as the "Festival of Fear."

There and many more historical facts will be brought to light in the "Panorama of Passover through the Ages" being presented by the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Am on Monday, April 12, 8:45 p.m. at the Cohn Bldg., 31840 Seven Mile Rd., Livonia.

Taking part in this ambitious endeavor will be Sisterhood members Celia Cohen, Ethel Gersten, Millie Hibnick, Roz Kellman, Gloria Laurens, Dorothy Finck, and Roz Case.

MRS. TENNANT

Dr. E. Welsh Is Guest Speaker

Rev. Dr. Evan Welsh will serve as special guest speaker during the Easter Season at the Ward Memorial Presbyterian Church. He will speak at the 9 a.m. worship services on Palm Sunday and Easter as well as at a special service at 7:45 p.m. Good Friday.

Dr. Welsh served as pastor of the Detroit congregation of the Ward church for 12 years and is presently Chaplain at Wheaton College in Illinois.

Evangelistic Services Start This Sunday
at Newburgh Baptist

Evangelistic meetings are scheduled April 11 through April 18 at the Newburgh Baptist Church on Joy Rd. between Wayne and Newburg.

Rev. Charles Whitefield will be the evangelist. A graduate and professor at the Midwestern Baptist College in Birmingham, Rev. Whitefield is pastor of the Grace Baptist Church in Birmingham.

Musical programs will be conducted at the services each night. All of the services, which are open to the public, will begin at 7 p.m.

Our Lady of Sorrows
Credit Union Names
Assistant Manager

Daniel E. Cafolla has been named Assistant Manager of Sorrows Parish Federal Credit Union, 31716 Grand River, Farmington. He was previously employed as manager of the Cheboygan Community Federal Credit Union.

Sorrows Parish Federal Credit Union was chartered by the Federal Government, 1953, to serve the members of Our Lady of Sorrows Church. Following two years of growth, the members constructed their own building late in 1963.

The Union's assets have grown to over $800,000. In 1964, it was able to return more than $12,800 to its members. This represented a 17% refund of interest paid during the year.

Confirmation Class

Pastor Norman Berg confirmed an adult confirmation class of four at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Plymouth recently. Sixteen children were examined in a vesper service last Friday in preparation for confirmation on Sunday.

Crucifixion Concert
Set by Youth Choirs

The Youth Choirs of the Southfield Community Church in Redford Township will present Stainer's "Crucifixion," April 11 at 7 p.m. under the direction of Mr. Larry Eicher, Minister of Music and Youth in the church.

The Youth Choirs of over 100 voices minister in music every Sunday morning during the church service. In addition to a winter and spring concert given every year, they are adding the presentation of the Crucifixion.

Is Sin Real?

The effect of our thinking on our health will be examined in this Sunday's Bible Lesson to be read at all Christian Science churches. The subject is "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

Rembrandt
Is Topic

The Madonna College Artist Society is sponsoring a movie-lecture on April 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Madonna College student center on Schoolcraft and Levan roads.

Mrs. Barbara Jupp, art instructor at Madonna College, will present a lecture on Rembrandt, his position and contribution to the art of the baroque period. This will be followed by a color-movie presenting the work of Rembrandt. Following, the floor will be open to discussion on the subject.

The meeting will be open to the public.

Communion
Breakfast

Members of the Knights of Columbus in Livonia held a Communion Breakfast Sunday, April 4, at the Fr. Daniel A. Lord Council club house, 39050 Schoolcraft. The breakfast, held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., followed masses and communions in churches in the area.

Spiritual Power to Be Explored

The possibilities of spiritual power will be explored at a public Christian Science lecture in Plymouth on Sunday, April 18.

The speaker will be Georgina Tennant of London, England, under sponsorship of First Church of Christ, Scientist. The lecture begins at 4 p.m. at the church edifice at 1100 W. Ann Arbor Trail. The title is "Meeting Today's Challenge with Christian Science."

Lenten Drama
Slated at First Presbyterian

"Eyes Upon the Cross," a series of vignettes depicting the feelings of people who were at the cross when Jesus was crucified, will be presented by the Westminster Drama Guild on April 11 at the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington.

The drama, which was written by Donald A. Mueller, will begin at 8 p.m.

The audience will be asked to imagine themselves as part of the crowd that watched what occurred on Calvary over 2,000 years ago. The question "How could Jesus have lived after the experience of the cross?" and the Christian answer in faith to that question provides the impact of the play.

Elder Charles Kinsey of the Farmington Church will narrate the play.

Madonna Sisters
on Way to Rome

Madonna College faculty and students extended their bon voyage wishes to Mother Mary Laudine, provincial superior of the Felician Sisters, Sister Mary Hulgolina, language professor of Madonna College, and Sister Mary Columbine, administrator of St. Mary Hospital.

The three sisters are leaving for Rome for the General Chapter of the Felician Sisters. They are the elected delegates for the Michigan, Ohio, Indiana provinces. The purpose of the chapter is mainly two-fold: to discuss and legislate on necessary changes in the life and constitutions of the Felician Sisters who number over 4000 in America, South America, Europe, and Canada; and to elect the general superiors for the sisters.

The Felician Sisters, founded in 1855, and working in America since 1872, are engaged in teaching, nursing, and social work. The Michigan group numbers over 800 members who are working in a college, hospital, two orphanages, eleven high schools, and about 60 elementary schools.

The Easter Seal Society reports that some 640,000 persons in the United States are crippled by arthritis and rheumatism; 259,000 have lost one or more extremities; 946,000 complete or partial paralysis; and more than six million have serious speech deficits.

Western Electric Reports Production, Labor Peaks

Western Electric Co., which has an area distribution house on Sheldon Road in Plymouth, reached new production and manpower peaks locally and nationally to keep pace with the advance of communication technology.

That was the announcement of Arnold Johanson, manager of the distribution division in Plymouth, as he told of the advances in the area coincident with the release of the company's annual report.

Western Electric is the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System.

The Plymouth House has the distribution under the direction of Johanson and the Detroit Installation Area Manager in the person of Clarence Hinck.

Johanson released figures showing the growth of the Plymouth operation during 1964 and its impact on the state economy.

"We started 1964 with 565 employees in the distribution division and ended the year with 587," he said, "in the installation division, we opened 1964 with 767 workers and the total grew to 875.

"Since the first of the year, the distribution division has boosted its total payroll to 605 workers with 974 in installation for a total of 1,579. That's 250 more than in January of 1964."

Johanson said that Western Electric had a total of $19.6 million in purchases in Michigan in 1964 of which Plymouth spent $1,566 million on 490 Michigan suppliers.

The company divided its purchases among 1,280 suppliers in the state—indicating that Plymouth had touched almost a third of that number during the year.

Western Electric had total sales of $77.3 million in Michigan last year.

Johanson indicated the Plymouth House had paid $167,000 in taxes last year.

Nationally, Paul Gorman, company President, reported an increase of 10,400 in employment to meet Bell System demands and estimated the same number was added by suppliers to produce goods purchased by the company.

Total sales during the year reached a new high of $3,118 million, an increase of $285 million, or about 10 per cent over 1963. Of this, $2,558 million represents sales to Bell System, an increase of 12.3 per cent. Sales to the U. S. Government amounted to $490 million, compared with $492 million in 1963.

The company's earnings of $152.8 million compared with $140.5 million the year before. For both years earnings were 4.9 per cent of sales. These results were achieved while offering Bell System customers mid-year price reductions amounting to $44 million.

The year saw Western Electric continue process and system development to introduce electronic switching—in Succasunna, N. J., this year and later in New York City, Baltimore suburbs, Washington, D. C., and Norfolk, Virginia.

The dial-in-handset Trimline telephone was introduced to manufacture, as was the see-while-you-talk Picturephone, which went into trial service between New York, Washington and Chicago.

Specially designed undersea cable and amplifying repeaters made by Western Electric were used in the Transpacific cable laid in 1964. And the company provided coaxial cable and associated transmission equipment for the first blast-resistant Transcontinental cable, completed last year.

Western Electric's Indianapolis Works produced an all-time high of 8,200,000 telephones, 295,000 of them push-button Touch-Tone sets and 18,000 of them Data-Phone sets—half again as many as were made in 1963.

In January the company announced purchase of 250 acres in Shreveport, Louisiana, to construct a satellite plant for manufacturing telephones and related equipment.

A record 12,400,000 telephone sets were reconditioned in the company's 35 distribution centers, which also store and furnish supplies and equipment to telephone companies.

Western Electric installers completed 80,000 jobs, an increase of 2,700 over 1963 representing 2,400,000 new central office lines. The biggest of these jobs was the Federal Telecommunications System, the world's biggest private line network linking 1,500,000 civilian employees of the U. S. Government in 427 cities.

Looking Around LIVONIA

Climb aboard — we're off for a school board election in June. Some of the names tossed about are enough to sink even the sturdiest of ships. There are a few lifesavers however, like Charlie Pinto, former City attorney and very able; Lee Landes, former financial wizard on the school board; Dick Taddonio, able chairman of "Vote Yes For Parks Committee"; Jerry Joyner, active in school activities.

Livonia's only set of triplets, David, Paul and Tommy Vezina, celebrate their first birthday next Sunday. The trio is the offspring of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Vezina, 15860 Foch. They're the only surviving triplets ever born at Livonia's St. Mary Hospital.

After several tries the microphones in the Livonia Board of Education's Meeting Room still aren't working. At the last meeting the staff finally gave up and turned them off. The audience can't decide which is the most frustrating—microphone noises and static or not being able to hear the Board conduct business at an "open meeting."

At Nankin Mills Jr. High School Band Awarded Top Rating in Contest

The Nankin Mills Junior High School Concert Band recently participated in the District 12 Band and Orchestra and Festival sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

The band was awarded the first Division rating in the Class "B" junior high school section. The four judges gave the band 32 "A" in the 32 areas judged. This is the highest possible score.

This is the third straight year that NM Jr. High Band under the direction of Richard T. Saunders has been awarded a first Division rating.

On Saturday, April 24, the band will participate in the State Band and Orchestra Festival.

The band also will be giving its Spring Annual Concert in early May.

SOME of the NM Jr. High School students participated on bowling teams for four months. On March 30 the Hawthorne Bowling Lanes held a Banquet for these students.

Trophies were given to the team in first place, girls and boys high game, girls and boys high series, and the most improved in average.

The "Kingsmen" won first place trophies with 66½ wins and 29½ losses.

Pat Knowles was the only girl to walk away with two trophies, first, for being on first place team, and second, high game for the girls, with a 187.

Gary Battle received a trophy for high game with a 223.

Trophies for high series were received by Sheila Grimes with a 433 and Jerry Slipek with a 517.

The most improved bowler in average was Bob Pasky. He started off at the beginning with an average of 54 and brought it up to a grand total of 125.

One Seat Open On Clarenceville School Board

Nominating petitions for one seat on the Clarenceville Board of Education are now available at the Board office, 28830 W. Eight Mile.

Deadline for filing the petitions, which must be signed by at least 50 qualified electors of the school district, is May 15 at 4 p.m. The present Board members whose term expires June 30 is Fred Bailey.

Patient's Family May Need Treatment

"The patient who is presented to the physician is not always the one who most requires attention," says for treating the Michigan psychiatrist.

In an article appearing in the U-M Medical Center Journal, Dr. Jack C. Westman cautioned physicians that some of the most puzzling medical conditions call for treating the patient's family, rather than the patient.

The purely scientific practice of medicine cannot always identify these problems, he said. Rather, science needs the aid of skilled intuition, based on knowledge of the patient's total family situation.

He cited as an example, the over-protective mother who finds that the onset of diabetes in her daughter gives her free rein to pamper the girl.

"This kind of mother unwittingly exaggerates her daughter's disease. In extreme cases, the mother may be unable to accept the daughter in any other role than that of a patient."

LIVONIA EDUCATORS ASSOCIATION The Teachers Speak

By SHARI GALL McCANN (The following article was contributed as an essay to Mrs. Sarah K. Dick, sponsor of the Future Teachers of America Club, at Franklin and has chosen teaching as her career.)

When a fourth grader tells his mother that he does not like school and his mother asks him why, quite often the answer is, "My teacher is terrible. I don't like her and none of the other kids in the class like her."

As the years go by, this student and many others like him will grow to feel that the majority of teachers are "against" them. I know this is true because I have often felt the way that little boy felt. At other times, I have found teachers who were the most wonderful people I have ever known.

The big question is: Why are some teachers thought highly of, while others are not? Through my own experience with teachers in various schools in different cities in Michigan, I have found that the teachers who show an interest in what they are teaching have the most success with their students. This type of teacher is usually cheerful, enjoys what he is doing, knows how to teach his subject, and gets along with those he works for and those with whom he works.

The students who are taught by such a teacher will find that school can be interesting and enjoyable. I would like to become such a teacher, and I hope that I can.

The type of teacher I mentioned above will get something out of the class at the same time that the students are gaining knowledge. He will not be the teacher who will say to a student who asks him a question, "I don't have any idea what the answer might be; you look it up—I don't have the time."

When a student asks a question, the teacher should take the time to help him find an answer. This is what a teacher is for, and this is what I want to do. I want to help students learn with the proper guidance and help.

Plymouth Forum Hears Story Of Civil Rights Commission

"The Michigan Civil Rights Commission is the first constitutionally established agency of its type in the United States," said Mrs. Rita Scott, secretary of the body, in an address to the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce businessmen's forum in the Hillside Inn.

Mrs. Scott discussed the "Role of state government in achieving civil rights" and told of the powers of the Commission and its method of operation.

"The Commission was established to implement the public policy of the state," she said. "We have always had civil rights clearly defined in the old Constitution and through court decisions."

"But now the Commission has the power to eliminate discrimination. It has full and exclusive power in employment and housing."

Mrs. Scott explained that the Commission is an eight-member body appointed by the Governor for four year terms.

It now has a staff of 37 persons and a very small budget of $390,000.

The Commission maintains district offices in Detroit, Lansing, Flint and Grand Rapids and touches every area of the state.

She told how it fights against discrimination in jobs and housing and the inequalities of education.

"Our job is to educate the public and to serve as moderators in broad economic and social problems," she related. "We try to correct problems before they reach the stage of demonstrations in the streets."

"We attempt to regulate and to investigate all complaints of discrimination in jobs, accommodations, housing, a n d education. We have an ally in the Fair Employment Practice contracts which provide for non-discrimination on any public and federal government projects."

Mrs. Scott indicated the Commission handled 500 complaints in 1964, or two-thirds more than the Fair Employment Practices Commission. She said they have had unusual success in adjusting complaints.

"We must receive all complaints of discrimination," she stated. "We can't refuse a single one—that's the way the law reads."

"We urge all employers to make full use of the human resources available. We help employers analyze the law to make certain they are complying with all sections. We have learned in many instances that there is discrimination without the knowledge of the employer."

"We try to bring the best possible workers to the attention of the employer so that they will get the most for their dollar."

Mrs. Scott told of the various divisions of the Commission and explained that most discrimination is in housing. The divisions of the Commission include:

Housing, Community Relations, Research and Information.

"Each plays an important part in our work, each does its best to get our message to all so that we hope the problems will become less and less in the future years."

particular section doesn't have street lights.

Steven wasn't held but was released after questioning to appear before the Wayne County Prosecutor for a statement.

Bob was born June 28, 1949 in Northville and had resided in Plymouth for less than a year.

Funeral services were held Wednesday in the Schrader Funeral Home in charge of Rev. A. Warford with burial in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

Surviving are: his parents; four sisters, Mrs. Linda Fox of Garden City, Mrs. Barbara Crilley, Deborah and Kathy of Plymouth; and his grandfather, Elmer Priehs of Ferndale and grandmother, Mrs. Wise of Seminole, Texas.

Mich. Week Chairmen Selected

Chairman of the various Michigan Week committees for Plymouth's annual participation were named Monday by General Chairman William Nelson who also called the first meeting of the group for Thursday morning at 8 in the City Commission chambers in the City Hall.

Nelson, who guided Plymouth to one of the most outstanding Michigan Week celebrations in the state a year ago, has hopes of bringing just as much attention to the community again this year.

Last year's celebration was centered on the cornerstone laying at the then new City Hall. Chairman Nelson doesn't have that this year but has been working with community leaders with plans and expects to have a complete program within a short time.

Chairmen of the various committees are: Spiritual Foundation Day, Sunday, May 16, Rev. Peter Schweitzer; Our Government Day, Monday, May 17, City Treasurer Kenneth Way; Hospitality Day, Tuesday, May 18, Druggist John Wiltse; Our Livelihood Day, Wednesday, May 19, James Thomas, district manager of Consumers Power; Education Day, Thursday, May 20, William Harding, assistant superintendent of Plymouth Community Schools; Our Heritage Day, Friday, May 21, Herald Hamill, president of the Plymouth Historical Society; and Our Youth Day, Saturday, May 22, Joe Gates, long a leader in the Community Junior Baseball and Boy Scout work in the area.

John Kamego, manager of the Plymouth office for Michigan Bell, has been appointed public relations chairman.

Trainees Honor John Herb for Aid to Program

John K. Herb, Secretary-Treasurer of the American Community Mutual Insurance Company, was honored at the annual banquet of the Junior Office Training Society (J.O.T.S.) Thursday, March 25.

A plaque was presented to him in recognition of his contribution to the society.

Herb is President of the Detroit Chapter of the Administrative Management Society which sponsors the J.O.T.S.' program in the schools of the Metropolitan area.

The J.O.T.S. Organization is composed of young people, at the high school level, who divide their time between studies, and, on-the-job training.

Roland Bonamici, rolling with the Plymouth Rotary Club in the state tournament in Ypsilanti Sunday, fired a big 225 single game that brought the club its major trophy.

Two of Plymouth's six teams wound up in the top 10 in the standings.

Bill Taylor had the high single game for the oldest active bowler with a 170.

For Junior Program Plymouth to Open Baseball Tryouts

With a total registration of more than 220 boys, tryouts for the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League will get underway Monday, April 12 according to an announcement by President Joseph Bida.

Tryouts will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week starting at 5:30 p.m. on the diamonds at Junior High East and the senior high school.

Boys with birthdays on even dates will be in the National League and will tryout at East Junior. Those with birthdays on the odd dates will be in the American League and will tryout on the Plymouth High diamond.

Grosse Pointe Man Receives Promotion at Alex. Hamilton

Jovite LaBonte Jr., of Grosse Pointe, has been appointed Director of Agency Development for the Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of Plymouth.

Appointment to the newly created office was announced by Robert O. Safford, Vice-President of Marketing.

Prior to his appointment, LaBonte was the Regional Director of Alexander Hamilton's second largest office, located in Grosse Pointe Woods. He has been with the company since its formation last year and was one of the founding Regional Directors.

In producing $14,453,237 through his office, he was instrumental in the company's setting records in the sale of permanent life insurance for a new company. Alexander Hamilton has written in excess of $100 million during the first 11 months of operation.

'Cinderella' To Play in Fenton

On Saturday, April 10, the cast and crew of the play, "Cinderella," a Plymouth branch of AAUW presentation, will pack up costume, scenery and grease paint and head for Fenton, Michigan.

The Fenton Co-operative Nursery School has invited the Plymouth group to present two performances for the boys and girls in the Fenton area.

This is the first year the play group has traveled to other cities. Earlier in March the play was presented to 900 youngsters at Tappan Junior High School in Ann Arbor.

Lester Bartson Wins Foundation Fellowship

Lester Bartson, 14565 Shadywood Drive, Plymouth, is one of 1,395 college seniors in the United States and Canada to receive a graduate fellowship from the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Lester, a senior at the University of Michigan, was announced as a winner of the fellowship designed to recruit new college teachers. The announcement came from the Foundation headquarters in Princeton, N.J.

More than 11,000 faculty-nominated college seniors competed for the grants. Recipients will receive tuition and fixed fees at the graduate school of their choice, plus $1,800 for living expenses.

Lester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Bartson.

Plymouth Man Art Director of Ad Agency

James B. Wright has been added to the staff of Page, Winchester & Connelly as Associate Art Director, according to W. G. Winchester, President.

Prior to joining the agency, Wright spent 10 years as an illustrator with a number of major art studios — McNamara, Prucher, La Riere and others. He also worked as an art director at Kaiser-Jeep Corporation and Ford Motor in addition to operating his own art studio for three years.

Wright currently lives in Plymouth with his wife and four children.

Plymouth Doctor Heads Albion College Program

Dr. James Parshall, 47147 Stonestree Drive, Plymouth, has been named chairman of the Albion College Alumni APEX program for the Plymouth community. Dr. Parshall will work with 59 area alumni in behalf of projects included in the college's 10-year, $20 million development program known as "Action Program for Excellence."

Dr. Parshall is a 1948 graduate of Albion College. He is an osteopathic physician and surgeon and operates a private practice. He was graduated from Kirksville College of Osteopathy in 1956.

He is married to the former Joanne Sluyter and they are the parents of three sons and one daughter.

through April 17

She's inviting all of her little friends to help her garden of colored eggs to grow! All they have to do is bring their own colored eggs (hard boiled, please!) and plant them in "Livy's" Garden-on-the-Mall.

And "Livy" will pose for pictures with her little friends, to create a marvelous souvenir of this Lenten Season visit:

A natural, full-color 4x5 photograph of "Livy" with your boy or girl mounted in an attractive folder.

Priced at just $1.50 each; three for $3.50; six for $6.00.

"Livy" will meet with her little friends, pose for pictures with them and help them plant eggs in her garden during regular Livonia Mall hours from now through April 17.

One of the best reasons for buying these shoes—is something you don't talk about.

That something is the price. You pay a mere $5.99 for the bone pumps with the side detailing. $6.99 for the one with the floating bow. At these prices, you don't expect the new rounded toe. But Thom McAn gives it to you. Or the kind of calfskin that's soft like butter. But Thom McAn gives you that, too. So keep mum and nobody will ever guess how little you actually paid. What's that? You love to tell people when you get a bargain? In that case, go ahead and tell. (You'll be doing us a favor.) But most people won't believe you.

Here we grow again!

two fine newspapers will be added to the Observer group, Michigan's largest chain of community newspapers. Watch for regular delivery of the Nankin Observer and the Garden City Observer for complete and up-to-the-minute news of local interest. The addition of these two newspapers to the Observer group now provides advertisers with saturation coverage of a booming 126-square mile area of western Wayne county's booming suburbs. To put this dynamic advertising force to work for you, call GA 2-3160 and we'll send a representative to your place of business.
