That's the quandary that Donald C. Zander of 41825 River Oaks found himself in last week when he got an Alderman said it's highly unexcited phone call at Fisher's usual for a swarm to show up Shoes which he manages for in town. Plymouth's Mayor James C. Houk.

Zander made a hurried series of calls himself and ended up talking to officials at Plymouth Township Hall.

McEwen also noted that he had had no applications from the eastern portion of the commission.

The budget pledges and contributions for the Fall Festival have reached the half way point, according to Festival board member William Fehlig.

Fehlig also commented that he hoped all the money could be in by the end of July.

"We need a month to handle the Festival properly," he said. The Festival will begin September 9, and

Evans adds $1.5 million building

Evans new venture in rail- tion machinery and equiproad boxcar assembly is booming and this week the company announced a $1,500,-000 expansion program.

The expansion will include an addition of a car fabrication bay to the carbuilding plant, according to company officials.

Evans Products Plymouth Transportation Equip m e n t Division is now employing about 1150 employees; the new facilities will add about 50 more jobs to the payroll, mostly skilled welders. The contracts have not as yet been let. The building addition will have about 50,000 square feet of space, and considerable new equipment and material handling machinery. The assembling of boxcars was started by Evans last summer when they broke ground in June for a building which was completed in September.

ACCORDING TO Sam Hudson, public relations spokesman for Evans:

"This is kind of a new venture for us, and has presumably been quite successful because we are expanding." James J. Conway, the Division's vice president and general manager, said Evans' ment.

Conway said the Division's engineering facilities are being expanded to provide for additional experimental research and development activities, and for more engineering space needed because of increased work load and personnel.

IN ADDITION TO manufacturing railroad freight cars, Evans Transportation Equipment Division is the leading producer of rail and truck damage - prevention equipment, and a manufacturer of a variety of automotive equipment and material handling and shipping containers.

Record first half sales and earnings were announced by Evans Products Company.

Net earnings were $3,291,-000, up 40 per cent from $2,342,000 earned in the first half of 1964. Sales for the period rose to $101,967,000, 19 per cent above the $85,647,-000 recorded in the first half of 1964.

After providing for preferred dividends in 1965, earnings per common share increased 32 per cent to $1.93, based on 1,603,301 shares outstanding on June 30, 1965. Earnings per share for the railway carbuilding facility first half of 1964 were $1.46.

Lauterbach called for a roll call vote. Sparks, Garber, Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes and Mc-Ewen voted 'yes' on the appointment.

THE APPOINTMENT was approved, but Lauterbach called for statements for the record on all the 'no' votes. Lauterbach said:

"I am opposed to this appointment. It gives inequitable township representation on the planning commission. The commission already has seven members west of Sheldon Road. I deem this very inequitable representation and strongly believe there should be more representation from other areas."

Norman commented on his 'no' vote, and said: "I feel the same way. We should have more representation from the east."

Overholt agreed with Norman, and said:

"I think the same, due to the fact that I live in the eastern part of the Township. I do believe at one time the planning commission representation was more equal."

Lauterbach also said he would like to challenge Garber voting for his own appointment. Township attorney Earl Demel was not present to rule on the question.

In an interview Thursday, McEwen commented on the Garber appointment, and Garber's appointment to the nine-man planning commission drew a "no comment" from Mrs. Holmes, who voted 'res' on the matter.

In other action, the Board approved bids for the Sheldon Road-Industrial Drive water line to the tune of $162,840, the contract going to S. Wiseman Excavating Co.; they were low among seven bidders.

The Board also heard a report from Burroughs Corporation on the controversial smoke problem. The Burroughs report outlined four things that were being done:

The use of a small steam generator as a temporary aid in the summer.

A consultant firm in Ann Arbor - Cummins, Barnard, Inc. has been hired.

Use of a gas fired boiler will be started.

Specifications for bids for a gas fire and high efficiency winter ash collector have been released.

The report concluded that some problems had been encountered in bidding for the new equipment and no exact schedule of completion could be announced.

The board also:

· Approved a bid from Leo Calhoun for a $2,377 van type cab-over truck. · OK'd underground facilities of the Twin Arbor subdivision.

· Tabled a water line project for the S.E. corner of the Township for one month.

The Board also agreed with a recommendation from the Chairman of the fire administration board to conduct examinations for position of fire fighter. Garber at this point commented that soon the Township will rave to consider hiring a public safety director.

"We need a man who can spend time as an executive. rather than fighting fires," Garber said.

run until the 12th.

The budget is set at about $2700. In years past the drive for funds has been started later, and in some cases, not completeed until after the Festival was over.

Of the 400 letters sent out seeking business, professional and industrial pledges, only about 30 have been returned. Fehlig said he hoped the contributions would be made as soon as possible.

The Festival will feature a German Night, a Melon and Ice Cream Social, a Pancake Festival, a Square Dance, a Chickeen Barbeque and an Antique Mart.

He said the expansion program will increase both the production and product capabilities of the facility.

New buildings include a fabrication wing, a rail car truck assembly shop enabling the Division to assemble its own trucks, and a new grit blast facility to prepare cars for painting. The new buildings are expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The program also includes an investment in material handling and service equipment, new engineering facilities, and additional produc-per cent stock dividend paid in March, 1965. Monford A. Orloff, Chairan, noted that the outlook for the balance of the year continues to be "most favorable" for Evans Products. Order files and sales, particularly in the Transportation Equipment Division, continue at record highs. Orloff revealed that the Board of Directors has authorized a major addition to Evans Products' railroad car building facility at Plymouth, Michigan, constructed last year, which will substantially increase its capability as well as

THEY'VE GOT DEADLINE: Lorenzes pitch in to restore old building

It was a proud day in Plymouth 40 years ago when, on Saturday, Oct. 31, 1925, hundreds of people turned out for the dedication of the sparkling new I.O.O.F. Temple on South Main St.

Throngs toured the bright, cream colored Ketanning brick building and admired the vast 42 by 92 foot main lodge room on the second floor with its high ceiling and orchestra balcony.

Not enthusiastic about vote in own favor

It doesn't take much introspection to conclude that the 4-3 vote of Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees last Tuesday evening points up misgivings on the part of some board members about naming Ralph Garber to the Township Planning Commission.

Garber was recommended by Supervisor John D. McEwen over a month ago to replace C. Veach Sparks who was elevated to Township Clerk when McEwen became Supervisor.

At last Tuesday evening's meeting, things went like this:

(1) Trustees voted unanimously to remove the matter of the planning commission from the table where they had placed it a month before.

(2) Clerk Sparks moved that Garber be appointed.

(3) Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes seconded the motion.

(4) Trustee Richard Lauterbach of the township's Lake Pointe Subdivision called for a roll call vote.

(5) Lauterbach cast a negative vote, Mrs. Holmes and Sparks voted yes, and Trustees Louis Norman and Gene Overholt voted no.

(6) Then Garber voted on his own appointment, casting an affirmative vote and deadlocking the issue at 3-3.

(7) Supervisor McEwen, who votes only in case of a tie, voted yes - assuring Garber of the post.

Lauterbach, Norman and Overholt made statements indicating that they felt the nine-man planning commission was already top-heavy with representation from the western portion of the township. Therefore, they argued, the appointee should come from the eastern part of the governmental unit.

Others close to township affairs have speculated on the appointment. Some have said they felt McEwen was settling a political debt. But the Supervisor told The Plymouth Mail he chose Garber simply because he was outstandingly qualified.

Still others have attempted to draw inferential parallels between Garber's land holdings in Western Plymouth Township and installation of sewer and water which will open the area to development, the inference being that Garber will use the position to further his personal interests.

Again, going back to the super-visor, he heatedly told this newspaper he didn't care one whit what people said about political implications or other insinuations.

"I have known Mr. Garber for a long time," he commented, "and I have nothing but respect for him and his integrity.

Last week in a telephone conversation, Garber - with a note of shock in his voice - pooh poohed the rumors.

He explained that his holdings only amounted to his home, a 53-acre farm. And he said he had no plans to develop or subdivide his holdings.

"It's my home," he commented, "and I'm perfectly happy here with my horses.

"Of course," Garber said, he would abstain from voting on planning commission action that affected any of his interests.

This newspaper has watched Ralph Garber and his fellow trustees closely over the past few years. Never, at board meetings, with the possible exception of last Tuesday's vote on his own appointment, has Garber given any indication of self interest.

He has, on occasion, brought a note of calm and reason to heated sessions.

An assistant Wayne County prosecutor for many years, Garber is known as a skillful attorney and politician. His background and skill has been apparent at meetings of the board of trustees.

While we can't get terribly enthusiastic about Garber's Tuesday vote in his favor, based on his own reassurances, there is no reason to assume that he will act with less reason as a planning commissioner than he has shown as a trustee.

Short stuff from hither and yon.

This might be a good week to apologize and attempt to atone for all the sins of omission and commission which have occured here at The Plymouth Mail.

Local drug tycoon Robert Beyer achieved notoriety of sorts recently when a reproduced Beyer Rexall Drug advertisement got some play in "American Druggist," a trade journal.

I hasten to mention it because the ad appeared you-know-where.

That's a misstatement. I didn't exactly hasten to mention it because the magazine, which carries a May 10 date, got lost in the shuffle and I found it when I was shoveling my office out last week.

Justice of the Peace Lawrence Schendel of Plymouth Township called the other week to comment about a letter to the editor that appeared in The Mail.

His next door neighbor accused him of being the judge in question.

The guy next door can heave a sigh of relief because it wasn't Schendel. Neither was it Township Justice Martin Schomberger.

And I can heave a sigh of relief because I remembered to clarify the situation this week. I forgot to do it in last week's paper.

When the paper came out last week, I ran home and sat down to read a story that a Mail staffer wrote about how Alexander Hamilton Chairman of the Board E. Keith Owens parlayed $1,200 in debts into a million bucks.

I should have read it sooner.

The last sentence said, "In any event, Alexander Hamilton remains a Plymouth monument to 100% gold-plated, deep pile rug success, and most of it belongs to be-speckled E. Keith Owens . . ."

No, Owens doesn't have measles.

He wears glasses and is be-spectacled, not "be-speckled."

Publisher Robert Silbar of "The Fenton Independent," which prints on the same offset press as The Mail, hammered out a column recently about a man he knows who refuses to be tyrannized by the telephone.

If the stupid thing rings and he doesn't feel like answering it, he doesn't. They tell me that Mayflower Hotel boss, Ralph

Slow grinding wheels

The City Commission has held up issuance of taxi cab licenses for the City of Plymouth for several weeks, pending several reports.

First, the matter was brought before the Commission because the licenses were up for renewal. Commissioners asked that the two groups seeking new licenses appear before them and explain their respective causes.

Earlier, City Attorney Edward Draugelis had been asked to draft an ordinance guaranteeing better service. Taxi service had long been a thorn in the side of Commissioners and they wanted to end the complaints once and for all.

After hearing from the two people involved — James Berry, of Checker Cab Co. in Livonia, and John Florence, a local man - they decided they wanted reports on their police and traffic records. Public Safety Director and Acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher was commissioned to get the reports.

both Florence and representatives of the Checker Cab Co. relative to the type of service they expect to give.

A verbal report from police chief Fisher that the two applicants are clean, "crimewise," if you'll pardon the non-word.

Another series of public utterances from the two cab groups, relative to the type of service they expect to give.

And then they will have another report at the next regular meeting on August 2. By then, 35 days will have passed since the matter first came before them.

Oh, the wheels of local government grind exceedingly slow.

We cite these facts, not because the taxi situation is a hot issue or a

That was 24 days ago.

Then Monday night, the taxi people once again were before the Commission. This time, Commissioners want in writing exactly what type of service each cab group will give, including number of cars, and peak hour loads.

By the time the next meeting rolls around the Commission should be up to its eyeballs in reports on the taxi situation. To date they have:

A comment from Fisher that the licenses were due for renewal.

An ordinance drafted by Draugelis, which he later withdrew, thinking better of it.

A series of public utterances from crying public need, but because it demonstrates how hamstrung a government can get by its own molasseslike movements.

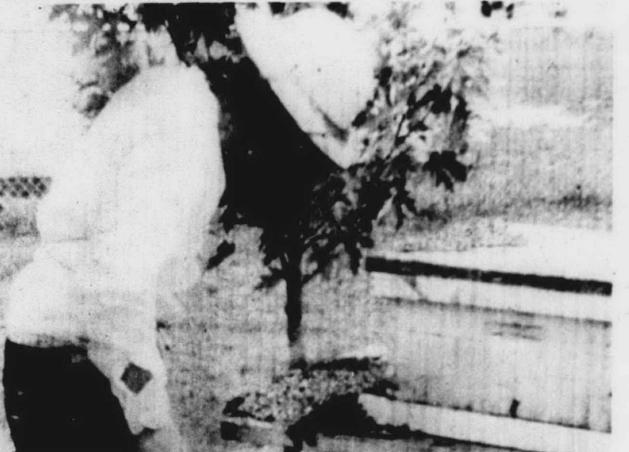

Enough facts were at hand Monday night to grant both the companies licenses.

Reports are fine, but if every businessman that would like to get started in Plymouth had to go through 35 long days of reports to satisfy the City Commission that he hadn't run a stop sign since 1949, our growth would be at a standstill.

We feel the public trust has been exercised well in this situation, and the two cab groups be given a chance to operate on the streets of Plymouth. City Commissioners have gone overboard in their concern.

Restraint of trade is a nasty phrase, but that might well be what the Commission is moving toward when they brainpick individual businessmen.

LETTERS: Adults beer party ruins trashcan at playground

Dear Editor,

I live across the street from the Auburn Playground. I have lived here for a long time. I have also read all of the articles concerning Plymouth playgrounds.

If any vandalism was going on around here the "blind and deaf" parents and people would have called the police. However, the truth of the matter is that the equipment has just plain worn out. The picnic table was worn out after two years of faithful service as a backstop.

Where (I dare ask) was the backstop we have been promised? It's only been four to five years since you tore down the old one. We're still here; all of us haven't disappeared!

The trash can? Oh some "adults" used it for a beer party and after they returned it all dented up we crawled in and had our buddies push us around. It was more fun than the one of us would have to wait to swing. Why can't they fix the things that break at our playground like they do at Hamilton by my Grandma's house. I'm little but I still can't see where they get the time and money to make a big ugly sign when they can't even fix a baseball diamond that's used everyday. What good does a sign do? It's not preventing juvenile delinquency.

I'm still young, but when I get older I wouldn't want to live in a town that doesn't have any interest in helping out the kids even if all they have to do is chip in a few dollars, maybe the price of a carton of cigarettes for some play equipment.

And please don't tell me to go to another playground. My Mother doesn't let me cross busy streets.

That takes fortitude.

My wife accuses me of not answering when she calls the office to ask why I wasn't home for supper 15 minutes ago.

How could she think a thing like that?

Columnist James Reston noted that the western world lost one of the last of its articulate spokesmen when Adlai E. Stevenson died.

Reston grouped Stevenson with Churchill, Nehru, John F. Kennedy and others - the few men capable of adequately defining the goals and ideals of the free world.

I, for one, will miss the intellectual power of Stevenson. His public utterances were a delight to me.

Lyndon may be doing a good job of riding herd on The Great Ranch, but he's at a serious disadvantage when he vocalizes.

And Hubert Humphrey is very nearly as corny. I'll be glad when American political life outgrows its Homer and Jethro stage.

Maybe it was the threatening sky, or maybe everyone was on vacation, but Friday's community band concert could have been better attended.

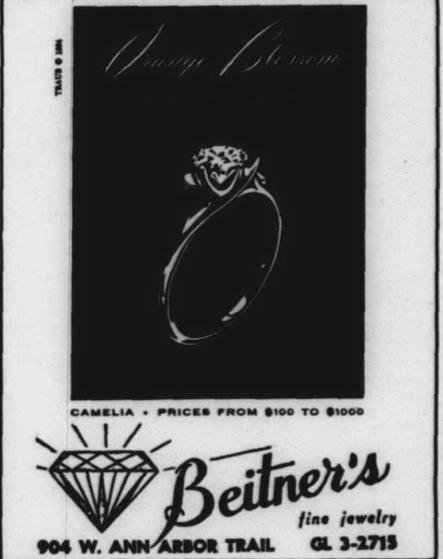

* *

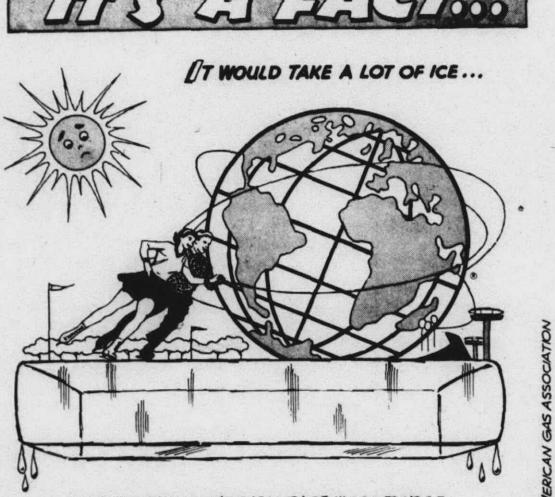

The band is led by James Griffiths, the musicians donate their talents, the city donates Kellogg Park and the Plymouth Community Credit Union donates a wad of money to take care of expenses.

The concerts are each Friday evening at 8 p.m.

The music is good, the grass is relatively soft, the little kids aren't too noisy and everyone has a good time.

Come on out next Friday.

The coffee cake recipe her family likes best, "Crescent Rolls Coffee Cake," is the one Mrs. James Surratt of Palmer Ave., suggested this week.

The Surratts have been Plymouth residents for less than one year, moving here from Toledo, Ohio in August. Before moving to Ohio they lived in Livonia, Mrs. Sarratt said.

They have four daughters, Carol, ten, Linda, eight, Nancy, five, and Susy, two. Mrs. Sarratt said she likes to bake, particularly bread and coffee cakes, and listen to classical music. She is a member of a bridge club in Arbor-Croft subdivision and of a circle at the First Methodist Church.

The dominant flavor of the coffee cake, Mrs. Surratt described as buttery and she recommended using butter rather than margarine when making the coffee cake.

Karen Pankow, William Blue marry July 2

Karen Diane Pankow and William A. Blue repeated their marriage vows in a candlelight service in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livonia, on July 2. Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Pankow of Ridgewood Dr., are the bride's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blue of Livonia, are the bridegroom's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white taffeta princess-style gown with boat neckline and long-pointed sleaves with lace inlays. She wore a bouffant, shoulderlength veil and carried a bouquet of baby white carnations with a white orchid-in the canter.

Mrs. George Curtiss of Amelia St., matron of honor, was attired in an empire-styled gown of deep pink chiffon over light pink taffeta. Her accessories were in deep pink and she carried deep pink baby carnations with light pink ribbon

Bridesmaids, Jane Cross and Jean Mason of Plymouth, and Joyce Pankow of Northville, were dressed in gowns styled identically to Mrs. Curtiss' except theirs were light pink chiffon over deep pink taffeta. Their flowers were light pink baby carnations. John Rellias of Wayne served the bride-groom as best man. Ushers were Pat Blue of Livonia, Jim Avery of Plymouth, and Terry Shirkey of Detroit. Tom Blue of Livonia, and Kerry Pankow of Plymouth, were junior ushers.

Mrs. Pankow selected a powder blue lace suit with matching accessories for her daugh-ter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a light pink lace dress. A reception at Lofy's followed the ceremony. For her wedding trip to Canada the new Mrs. Pankow selected a pink lace suit with white accessories.

Judy King, Billy Cresmen speak vows

Dressed in a gown of white taffeta featuring a fitted bodice and bell-shaped skirt with chapel train, Judy Elaine King entered the Sanctuary of Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses to become the bride of Billy Wayne Cresmen.

A double-crown of seed pearls with aurora borealis beads secured the bride's waist-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mr. Carson C. Coonce was the presiding minister at the July 10 evening ceremony in the Plymouth church.

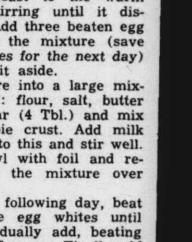

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brown of Livonia, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Cresmen, also of Livonia

Mrs. Jimmy Cresmen of Lincoln Park, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Janet King, of Livonia, and Patricia Bonga of Livonia.

The three attendants were dressed in floorlength empire sheaths of blue crepe with white embroidered tops. They carried semi-cascading bouquets of pink shaded carnations.

The bridegroom's brother, Jimmy Cresmen, served him as best man. Seating the guests were John Badalutz, Jr. of Northville, and Tim Lasslett of Plymouth.

The bride's mother selected a white and

And the great, grand day is Thursday, July 29—when Westland Center opens. Westland is a community of fine stores and services in a beautiful new setting. A shopping center where it's always summertime, for its stores are joined by covered, temperature-controlled courts, landscaped with tropical plants. And Westland is more than simply a place to shop. It's a beautiful center to come and visit—with its imaginative landscaping ... its interesting sculpture ... its many fine service facilities. The parking lot at Westland provides space for 4,500 cars—on well-lighted, paved lots. (Westland is also serviced by two bus lines, the DSR and Metro Transit.) There are fine restaurants, a glass-enclosed elevator, a large auditorium—in short, a wonderful world of things to see and do. And Westland is easy to get to—whether you're coming from Dearborn, Ann Arbor, Livonia, Northville—or the many other cities west of Detroit or from anywhere in or near Detroit. It's located at West Warren and Wayne Roads in Nankin Township. Plan a visit soon. Best of all, be with us Thursday—our grand and glorious opening day.

Moved by Comm. Lawton and supported by Comm. Jabara that Item "A" be approved and that Items "B" and "C" be deferred to the committee meeting to be held on July 12, 1935. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager presented a mmunication from the Municipa uilding Authority advising that it will be making an inspection of the City Hall on July 8, 1965 at 8:00 P.M. and requesting that all de-fects be reported to it and inviting the Commission to join in the in-spection. The communication was ordered received and filed.

The City Manager presented a report relative to the paving as-sessment on McKinley Street and the proposed assessment on Maple Street in connection with the property at 1310 W. Maple Street, advising that at the same time the McKinley paving was done, the in-tersection portion was installed ap-proximately 25 feet on Maple Street, for drainage purposes, but that only the McKinley Street side but yard frontage was assessed. Mr. Roy Phelan, owner, protests paying for paving installed prior to his ownership of the property. The matter was referred to the City Attorney for study and an opinion. The matter of widening S. Main Street was considered. The following resolution was offered by Comm. Lawton and sup-ported by Comm. Jabara:

by the Livonia School Board. The building is the old school house on Newburgh Rd. hetween Ann Arbor Rcad and Ann Arbor Trail. The action was approved at last Thursday's meeting of the Livonia Board. The action came close on the heels of the hiring of a director for the Community Opportunity Center, Ernest Moran, of Plymouth, who comes to the job with several years experience at Wayne County Training > School. Moran said they expect to open the workshop with 28 people. They will do simple tasks on a contract basis, and will work a six-hour day.

Moran said last week: "The workshop will offer an opportunity to get out and work, getting practical experience in a real situation. Ultimately we are striving to rehabilitate as many of the people as we can."

THE SHOP will take anyone over 16 years old. Morah holds a special edu-
