

Make way for industry

One of the final steps in the City of Plymouth's role in the Mill Street urban renewal began Monday as demolition began on two remaining original buildings.

It is one of several industrial projects under way this summer.

Plymouth Excavating Company awarded the contract this week, and they began work on Ossie Hines' old welding shop on the corner of Mill St. and Ann Arbor Trail. The building was gutted by fire earlier this summer.

Foremen on the job said they hoped to be able to move to the huge yellow brick building in the center of the urban renewal project late this week. That building once housed the Lee Foundry.

THE LAND will be cleared, graded and readied for construction use.

Two companies have been the prime users of the urban renewal land—Bathey Manufacturing Company and Duratiner Co.

Gerry Stein, vice president of Duratiner, commented in a phone interview with the Mail Tuesday on their plans. "Mostly we're in the shadow boxing stage. I can give you only a very general picture."

Stein indicated that tentative plans call for:

- (1.) A 12,000 to 15,000 square foot manufacturing area to be built this fall, parallel to Mill St.
- (2.) A second building of similar size, and some additional office space, also parallel to Mill St.
- (3.) A 20,000 square foot manufacturing area slated for completion by the end of next year, and a 40,000 square foot area scheduled to be done the following year.

Stein emphasized that all plans are still very general, but that the buildings would definitely be Class A structures. He noted that the expansion would mean more employees.

In a recent letter to the City Commission, Stein wrote: "We are endeavoring to have our physical facilities and their appearance be an asset to the community."

Bathey also has considerable plans for its portion of the urban renewal land. They have built five buildings or additions since they entered the urban renewal area covering over 100,000 square feet. They plan additional building space in the future; they haven't stopped building in the last ten years.

OTHER RECENT developments in industrial expansion in the Plymouth Community include:

- (1.) A meeting of the Plymouth area Planning Commission this Thursday to name a planning director. The group, headed by Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister, has been seeking a director since

In a nutshell

★ The Plymouth Theater Guild will hold its first meeting of the season, Sept. 20, at 8 p.m. in the High School. Members are needed for both on stage, and back stage work. For information, call 349-2380.

★ Plymouth Township firemen report blood is needed for their blood bank at the Red Cross. Donations may be made this Thursday, at 8 p.m., at Five Mile and Merriman Roads in Livonia; call 422-2787 for information.

★ Detroit Bank and Trust proposes to build a branch bank on the southwest corner of Ann Arbor and Lilley Roads in Plymouth Township. They will seek a rezoning at Wednesday night's regular meeting of the Planning Commission for their modernistic, three window drive-in bank.

★ The resignation of teacher John A. Mulligan was accepted Monday night at the regular meeting of the School Board. It was revealed last week that Mulligan would be Plymouth's new postmaster.

Rain-soaked roads fatal to Detroiters

Three men were killed in two separate accidents while on their way to work Thursday morning, Sept. 9.

While traveling along Schoolcraft near Eckles Rd., a car driven by John Venny of Detroit spun out of control on the wet pavement while passing another car and rammed into a tree, according to Livonia police. The car was demolished.

Two of the men, Richard Arbus and Maurice Pegram both of Detroit, were pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia. Three other men in the car pool, Ronald Thompson, Marvin McDonald and the driver, all of Detroit, received multiple injuries.

THE FIVE MEN were on their way to work at Western Electric Co. on Sheldon Rd.

In another accident on Hines Drive near Ann Arbor Trail on the same day, a Detroit man, Marino Mazza, 31, was killed when he attempted to pass a vehicle and ran head-on into a car driven by Clifford Bonnell, 35, of Livonia.

Festival smashes all previous records

Another resounding success.

That's the way it went for Plymouth's Fall Festival again as crowds swelled into the downtown area for a four-day series of events that saw virtually every existing record smashed.

Rotarians further automated their serving lines this year and switched to a foil-lined box container for the diners which speeded the operation up substantially.

Climaxing the four days was the annual Plymouth Rotary Chicken Barbecue, a crowd getter that saw 11,400 figure virtually equals, but doesn't quite surpass last year's barbecue, according to general chairman Robert Stremich.

Other major participants saw a rise in the number that attended their events; but they didn't have the competition that Rotary had.

On Sunday, there were other chicken barbecues in Ypsilanti, Yayne and Dearborn, events that probably drew people that otherwise would have come to Plymouth.

Plymouth Kiwanians served over 400 more customers than they have before at a Saturday Pancake Feed in Masonic Temple. A throng of 2,224 customers passed through the doors and were served by 90 Kiwanians, 15 Kiwanis Key Clubbers and 15 other helpers.

KIWANIS customers drank 100 gallons of milk, ate 650 pounds of sausage, drank 60 pounds of coffee with 28 pounds of sugar and 25 quarts of cream, and ate 10,500 pancakes containing 405 pounds of flour. Butter consumption hit 90 pounds and maple syrup flowed by the gallon.

Robert Utter headed up the pancake feed, assisted by Donald Zander, publicity; Bill Congdon, supply; and Ray Cusato, ticket sales.

Plymouth Lions saw a substantial increase in their ice cream and melon sales over last year. They handed out 1,500 servings. The Lions event was switched from Thursday last year to Friday. The club ran out of ice cream and melon.

On Thursday evening, Plymouth's Business and Professional Women's Club dished up from 1,200 to 1,500 sauer kraut and knockwurst dinners as German night kicked off the Festival. The B.P.W., like the Lions, ran out of food before customers.

On Saturday night, Plymouth's Junior Chamber of Commerce barbecued 300 beef ribs and many hamburgers for happy Festival goers.

SATURDAY was the big day for kids as the Plymouth Optimist Club, in co-operation with the Plymouth Recreation Department, sponsored its annual pet show. Veterinarians Clifford McClumpha, Richard Kirchgatter and Marion Weberlein acted as judges in three categories — dogs, most unusual pets and cats. Optimist president John Close acted as master of ceremonies.

He was helped by recreation director Herk Woolweaver and Optimist members Walt Scott, Pete Walsh and Bill Baumgartner. Prize winners were:

EX-TREASURER

Pick Dingeldey as Canton chief

Phil Dingeldey, long time Canton Township treasurer, and lifetime Canton resident, was named supervisor last week. His appointment by the board of trustees was unanimous.

Dingeldey will replace 66-year-old Louis Stein, who retired this month after serving 13 years as Canton's chief executive. At the time Stein announced his resignation he indicated he had some travel plans, but that he would return in time to go moose hunting this fall.

Dingeldey's appointment was held up about two weeks as the Board of Trustees sought a replacement for him. They named board member Forest Truesdell, a Canton Township farmer, born and raised in the area, as treasurer. Truesdell's farm is on the corner of Cherry Hill and Lilley Roads.

THE APPOINTMENT of Dingeldey finished a complete turn-over in the leadership in The Plymouth Community's three municipal governments. Earlier this year, a new mayor, James Houk, took over the reins of City government, and Jack McEwen, Plymouth Township clerk, became supervisor after the death of Roy Lindsay in March.

Dingeldey was born in Canton Township in 1910, and has lived there since. He was a farmer at one time, then moved into tractor sales and owned a tractor dealership. He graduated from the still-operating Truesdell elementary school and then Wayne High School. He took a special business course at Cleary College.

A member of the Sheldon Methodist Church, Dingeldey is active in the Wayne County Fair Association, as secretary.

His first political job came when FDR was elected in 1932. Since then he has held the office of Township constable, township justice of the peace, Trustee and Treasurer.

"Nobody else was suggested for the job," Dingeldey said, commenting on his appointment. "I would've stayed as treasurer if somebody else could have done the job."

"I hope we can carry on the programs we've started. An orderly development of the Township has always been our goal. We, of course, want

O.K. Geer, Salem bid for annexation

Two small districts were officially added to the Plymouth Community School District Monday night as the Board received word of annexation election results.

The South Salem Stone School District voted 39 for the annexation; no one voted "no". The Stone district has 74 registered voters, according to spokeswoman for the area, Mrs. Norma Schmeeman. The annexation brought in a scant 24 students, and added a whopping $1,153,660 valuation into the district tax base; 17 students already attend on a tuition basis.

The Gear School District voted 70 for, 5 against, out of about 100 voters registered. They will bring in 44 more students to the area, and a $1,407,000 valuation. A total of 28 students already attend Plymouth on a tuition basis.

President of the School Board Gerald Fischer welcomed the two new areas to the Plymouth School District.

SOUTH Salem Stone school area is in Salem Township, along Territorial Road, near Curtis Road.

Geer School area is roughly bordered by Powell, Hanford, Ann Arbor and Berry Roads in Washtenaw County.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister indicated that both the Geer and the Stone school would be operated this

Parents say walk to school endangers kids

Parents in the Farrand School area jammed the School Board offices to complain about school busing policy Monday night, calling several areas where students had to walk hazardous.

The board agreed to re-evaluate their bus policy after a long one-hour and 45-minute discussion of the matter with parents from the area.

At the same time they refused to pick up the students involved.

Robert Tripp, 42531 Lakeland Crt., spokesman for the group, asked that the busing of students who walk along Schoolcraft and Five Mile Roads be resumed on the same basis as last year. Late last spring special sidewalk cutting through property behind the Farrand Elementary School was finished, and thus, under Board policy, put many students in the area within walking distance.

"SCHOOLCRAFT and Five Mile are hazardous, and should be considered as an exception," Tripp said.

The policy states that grades 7-12 must live more than one and one-half miles from the school; and K-6 must live more than one mile before they will be transported. Students who are in grades K-2, and who live less than one mile from school may be transported if they are exposed to exceptional traffic hazards.

Tripp, and his group, represented by a petition with some 160 Lake Pointe residents signing, asked that the students be bused in the same manner they were last year, because Schoolcraft and Five Mile were hazardous.

"The Wayne County Sheriff's Department have certified the roads as an high accident area," Tripp pointed out. "Further, Livonia buses all its children along main arteries as a matter of practice."

Tripp called for the use of buses that pass by the children half-full. He noted that they were bused last year, and that it should not affect anything if they were bused again this year.

OTHER PARENTS in the group pointed to the lack of sidewalks along Five Mile and Schoolcraft, and to children having to walk with the traffic to their back as dangers.

Although there was no formal vote on the matter, the School Board agreed the situation was a hazard. But several members urged at least a week's study to determine the impact of the change, if they agreed to it.

Superintendent of Schools

Russell Isbister said that there were other areas in the district that were just as dangerous that had children walking.

School board member Robert Jenkins moved that the half-empty buses pick up the few involved in the Farrand area while the board studied the policy.

Before the vote on the motion, which Ernest Henry seconded, Isbister pointed out that the administration was not ready to do it for the whole district. More drivers and buses would have to come first if the policy was changed.

"I don't like the idea of going against the administration," Henry said, speaking for Jenkins' motion, "but it won't cost but a few pennies. I don't quite like it, but I will support it."

HENRY, Board President Gerald Fischer and Jenkins voted for the motion, with Mrs. Esther Hulsing, J. D. McLaren and Carl Schultheiss voting against it. The motion thus died in a deadlock because the seventh member of the board, Robert Soth, wasn't present.

Mrs. Hulsing commented on her vote: "I want to go on record as being against this. We ought to treat all the school district equitably."

Schultheiss urged that the policy be changed on the spot, or adhered to completely. And that was where it stood, as the board refused to bus the students, but did agree to completely study the matter.

Fischer issued a call for a Sept. 20 meeting to take up the matter again.

Possible other complications may crop up; about one year ago residents of the Cat wins no prize, just little girl's heart

What do you do when you're a little girl and you find out that the kitten you love really isn't yours?

That's the problem that little Cecily Warrick, 7, of 1477 W. Ann Arbor Trail was faced with at last Saturday's pet show, sponsored as a part of the Fall Festival by the Plymouth Optimist Club.

Cecily came to the annual pet show with a kitten she'd adopted some time before — determined to enter it in competition. She had become great friends with the little animal which had wandered, hungry and thin, to her home some weeks before.

She fed it and nursed it and took it to the veterinarian for treatment.

She even slept with her new-found pet in bed with her.

Another Plymouth resident had heard about the pet show too, though.

GREY - HAired, elderly O. M. Nichols, 71, of 605 Kel-

log St., came to the show

looking for two kittens which had been taken from his house.

"They didn't wander off," he said. "Somebody took them." Nichols could identify one of the cats by a black mark under its upper lip.

He did. It was Cecily's cat. "That's my cat," Nichols said.

Cecily clutched the kitten to her.

"See, there's the mark."

Tears began to well up in her eyes.

But there's a happy ending.

Nichols was so pleased with the care that Cecily had devoted to the little cat that he told her she could keep it. And he gave her a quarter for all her trouble.

Cecily's cat didn't win anything at the show. But it had already won a little girl's heart.

Which is about all a kitten can ask.

ON FRIDAY:

Rocks ready for grid opener at Northville

One of two junior quarterbacks — Steve Hulce, or Dave Prochazka will guide the Plymouth Rocks fortunes this Friday when they travel to Northville to take on the Mustangs.

Several things are different in PHS football this year.

or one thing, head swimming coach John McFall took over as head football coach. Last year, veteran John Hoben "retired" to take an administrative post running the High School's guidance department.

McFall played college football, and brings extensive experience to the job.

AND A JOB it will be, because of few returning lettermen. Next year promises to be better than this year, when both Prochazka and Hulce will be seniors. Observers watching the two quarterbacks note that Hulce has a soft, very accurate pass; his size may be the only handicap. Prochazka likes to throw the ball and, is a little stronger and bigger than Hulce.

McFall declined to announce who would start at quarterback.

All important pre-season scrimmages were held Saturday morning with Waterford, Berkley and Flint-Beecher. McFall commented on the work-out.

"Defensively we felt it went well. Offensively, we've got a little... a lot of polishing up to do."

Defensively, Steve Stribley, returning letterman, will quarterback the team, McFall said.

OFFENSIVELY, McFall is expected to count on veteran backfield men like Curt Irish, Jim Arnold and Larry Warner-muende. Gone is the speed-merchant who last year led the team, Garry Grady.

Grady scored a pair of touchdowns last year when the Rocks opened their season against Northville, and won 19-12.

This year, something new in local facilities has been added, new lights. School officials report the lights are up, and will be adjusted later this week, for the first home game against Farmington, Sept. 24.

Northville may be an easy target for McFall's backfield. Early reports show their line is weak in the middle. Like Plymouth, graduation cut away the Mustang's interior line. But also, like Plymouth, there number one quarterback, Tom Bauhman, likes to pass, and in one recent scrimmage, tossed 19, hitting 12.

AFTER THE Northville and Farmington games, the PHS gridders will settle down to league competition. At this point, Allen Park has the power house, with returning lettermen all over the place. Trenton, however, may prove to be the top dog.

The whole thing starts this Friday, 8 p.m., at Northville.

MICHIGAN WALKED AWAY with the national JayCee tennis tournament championship in Houston, under the auspices of the Plymouth JayCees, last month. Here, JC President Cal Strom, tourney winner Jon Hainline, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oldford, chaperones, and Susan Dykes, and John Brummet, tourney winners, pose for a victory picture. The doubles trophy went to Susan Dykes, as did the singles, for girls, 18-and-older. John Brummet won a trophy in the 16-and-under doubles. The local JayCee club also won a trophy for having the outstanding girl's tennis team; and the club won a tournament trophy for Michigan. The Michigan tournament, which was held in late June, was a rare privilege for Plymouth; normally such events go to Detroit, or other large cities.

Eddie Earehart showed Mary Bobs Party Gal, owned by Carla Copman and took a first place Mares in hand and a first place in English Pleasure and second place in Pleasure Driving.

Men's gym

Men's gym classes start Sept. 28 at the High School, under the direction of Tony Monte. The classes offer a chance for men to play basketball, volleyball, or swim in the High School's heated pool.

The fee for the class is $6 for 12 weeks, and can be paid at the recreation office at the High School.

Adult education and recreation director Herb Woolweaver also reports openings are still available in the beginning swimming classes with the class starting Sept. 18, and running through Nov. 30.

These are Saturday morning classes only, and start at 9:00, 9:45 and 10:30.

ROGER & GALLET

World Famous Soap

A beauty treatment in every cake.

Roger & Gallet soap is unlike any soap you've ever tried! No soap ever cleaned your skin so thoroughly, so gently. No soap ever left your skin so glowing, so velvety-smooth. Roger & Gallet's "beauty treatment" soap is made with the purest ingredients. It is milder, will not dry the skin. What's more, it lasts and lasts. Hard-milled by Roger & Gallet's exclusive French-mill machine, each cake stays round and firm far longer than other soaps. And it lathers lavishly even in hard water. Because it contains natural perfume oils, Roger & Gallet soap keeps its delightful fragrance as long as there's a sliver in the soap dish.

Expensive? Yes. But this extraordinary soap is worth every cent you pay for it. What you save alone in costly moisturizing creams can more than offset its price. What is more, each cake is individually wrapped in special paper which lets just enough fragrance through to provide a lovely sachet during the weeks you use your other cake.

Your choice of seven distinctive fragrances: spicy Blue Carnation, oriental Fleurs d'Amour, piquant Red Carnation, floral Violette, woody Sandalwood, citrus-blend Jean Marie Farina, leafy Fougère.

Cross country to get early start

Plymouth's cross country team will begin the season a few days earlier — Tuesday, Sept. 21, with Northville, here — than had previously been announced.

The schedule had called for the season to kick off Sept. 24 at Belleville.

Coach John Sandmann reports 16 men are out for cross country. Seniors Dave Dirlam and Bob Kreitsch are co-captains this year.

Time trials will be taken for the first time this Friday, Sandmann reported. The team has been working out, conditioning and getting used to the two-mile course at Riverside Park, in Hines Park.

Last year the team finished 3-3 for the season in the league, and third in the conference meet.

Sandmann's team will be looking to better that record, and will have the help of returning letterman.

Check the many extra jobs a modern GAS DRYER can do for you...

IN ADDITION TO ENDING LIFTING, LUGGING AND HANGING CLOTHES ON WASHDAY!

- VALET SERVICE—wrinkles can be removed from corduroys, velveteen or wool garments by placing them in dryer for short tumbling period with damp sponges or bath towels. Place sponges or towel in dryer before putting in clothing to build up steam. Use medium heat setting. Bath towels leave lint on dark cottons, so damp, color-fast sponges are best. There must be moisture to release wrinkles and prevent shrinkage. Remove garments before completely dry and hang on wooden or plastic hangers until completely dry.
- FLUFFING OR DUSTING draperies, chenille bedspreads or other articles that need airing. Place in dryer on "no heat" setting and allow to tumble for 5-10 minutes.
- REMOVING MOTHBALL ODORS from clothes that have been stored. Use "no heat" setting and short tumbling time.
- BATHING SUITS & SNOW SUITS can be dried in preheated dryer with bath towels (which have been in dryer during preheating). Dark towels are advisable with dark fabrics.

A life-time Cantonite

Last week the appointment of Philip Dingeldey as Canton Township's supervisor placed a life-long Canton resident in the top post.

He brings to the job the essential characteristics of his predecessor, Louis Stein, who retired, at 66, after 13 years at Canton's helm.

Dingeldey, like Stein, is honest, candid, and well qualified for his job. He is expected, and rightfully so, to guide Canton well in the coming years of expansion.

Dingeldey was Stein's right hand man in Canton, and knows the workings of that Charter Township inside and out. He handled the bulk of the financial and paper work that comes Canton's way; they only have a part time Clerk.

Dingeldey will have to shoulder an ever-increasing load of responsibilities. Development in Canton Township should bring the bulldozers into the farms in droves in the near future. Also in the works are the talks about inter-governmental co-operation.

Dingeldey has fielded the co-operation moves well, recognizes a great portion of his Township is oriented to the Plymouth Community. He has displayed an unusual willingness to talk about uniting basic services in the Plymouth Community.

Canton has a man they can look to for leadership, a man who is apparently neither afraid of the responsibilities of supervisor nor over-whelmed by the prestige the title carries. He can expect support from the people during this year, his appointed term, and next year at the polls.

DAR Constitution Week

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

You probably glanced at the above paragraph, and passingly recognized it either as part of the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution, decided you were familiar with it, and have passed on to this paragraph.

Despite general ignorance about what it is, or where it comes from, this is the fundamental statement of the American creed, and a declaration of the goals of our country.

The Daughters of the American Revolution, Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter in Plymouth, along with the rest of the DAR chapters across the country have declared this Constitution Week, Sept. 17 to 23.

They will campaign for a more complete understanding of the rights and responsibilities delineated in the Constitution.

It is hoped that Plymouth schools, churches, and other organizations will observe Constitution Week.

The greater hope is that the words of the Preamble will continue to inspire America, and will always be remembered for what they stand for, and where they came from.

Menace for children

Each year at school time Plymouth parents, children, and police are faced with a particularly ugly menace — strangers who want to pick up youngsters.

They cruise the school areas when school lets out, and offer rides to children.

They are often sick, and in need of psychiatric treatment.

They have caused countless tragedies — killing, maiming or molesting children.

School and police officials offer these suggestions.

1. Teach your children to never accept rides home from strangers.

2. Know where your children are, what route home they take, and when they should arrive at home.

3. Arrange for transportation of the very young, or for an older child to walk with them.

4. Arrange for transportation for any child who must walk lonely stretches of road, especially at night.

5. Report all instances of strangers accosting your child. Police must have something to work with in apprehending these people; they cannot work on this if you ignore your child's reports of strangers.

Avoid a possible tragedy. Alert your children, and help the police, and the person involved, by reporting the matter, immediately.

Pat Reynolds admits she was wrong!

(She was sure electric dryers were more expensive. Then we showed her these money-saving facts.)

- 1 Gas dryers cost a couple of pennies less per load to operate; we'd be the first to admit it. But with electric dryers you still come out ahead. Read on.
 - 2 Electric dryers cost less to buy. Model for model, prices run about $20 to $40 lower than gas dryers.
 - 3 And now, for a limited time, this lower price includes installation and wiring, if needed, when you buy from one of the many dealers participating in this special sales event.
 - 4 Electric dryers cost nothing for electrical repairs or labor. Gas dryers? Well, you can get a manufacturer's repair service policy—but it will cost you up to $120 over the first five years of operation alone. Of course, if your dryer is electric, Edison comes out, repairs electric operating parts, and leaves without leaving you a bill! (It's the only no-charge dryer repair service offered by a utility company in this area.)
- Add up ALL the costs and you'll see what Pat Reynolds saw — electric dryers actually cost less to own.

LETTERS:

Starkweather shows rare book collection

September 12, 1965

Dear Editor:

In case the Mail has planned to make a tour of the store windows for purpose of taking note of the artifacts displayed there during Fall Festival week — or perhaps has already done so — this is to state I myself had finally set up a bit of display in three different windows. But they were put in there late — the first one not until Friday evening. And so you may have missed them.

So this is just to mention that, in case you might be interested, you'll find a few of my ancient books in the window of that book store next to the Christian Science Reading Room at corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Forest. I left there a copy (in fact there are very few copies extant) of the Vulgate Bible, published in the year 1569.

In four more years, therefore, it will be 400 years old. It weighs eight pounds and contains, by actual count (I counted them) 400 quaint wood cut engravings. I have been informed that there is not even one of these in the British Museum. I can't read it, though, because it's printed in Latin. There is indication that a former owner had had it rebound in the year 1717. Recently, I had some repair work done on it myself — at the Heckman Bindery in North Manchester, Indiana. So it's in thoroughly sound condition now.

Also I left at the book store a four-volume history of the American Revolution, as published in England, in the year 1778. Then again, I left a heavy two-volume set of "A New System of Geography", also published in England and in the same year. This set goes into great detail in describing all the then known spots upon the face of the earth.

The set contains a large number of full page wood cut engravings — and curious indeed they are. I can't know for sure, but my theory is that the picture of Niagara Falls as shown therein may be the first one of the Falls ever published. I left other items there too but I need not mention them here.

But again also, I left three rare items in the window of Wiltsie's—Community Drug Store. These are "The Cure of Old Age", (a curious book) published in 1683 — "The Tutor's Guide", published in 1776, and, "Improvement of the Mind", published in 1783. "The Tutor's Guide" was brought to the then unnamed Plymouth by my great grandfather on March 1, 1825 and has never been outside the community since. "The Improvement of the Mind" book had been owned by another of my great grandparents.

In the window of Schrader's furniture store on Penniman avenue I left a portion of my collection of presidential campaign buttons. There are about 250 items there, I believe. The seemingly most insignificant one there, however, may be among the most valuable.

It's no more than three-eighths of an inch wide. It bears the midget portrait of John Bell. In this day and age, however, I doubt that anybody knows a thing about this John Bell. Well, as is sometimes the case, we have a Third Party.

In 1860 we had one — The Constitution Union Party. And John Bell was the party's nominee for President of the United States at that time. A Chicago man offered me $18 for that little button. I didn't sell it — anyway I haven't yet. I have been collecting these buttons and items since boyhood.

Well, just in case you missed seeing all this stuff as left in these Plymouth store windows I thought that you might like to have them brought to your attention.

I'll likely bring the items all home again sometime tomorrow. As I say, I didn't get the stuff in there until late. I called at the Mail office Saturday but not until after you were closed.

Yours in haste—but cordially,
Karl Starkweather

God bless Mr. Bathey

Dear Editor:

I want to personally express my gratitude to the Bathey Manufacturing Company for being so kind to our young people.

They have given college students a chance to work in the summer, my son being one of them, to earn their tuition.

My son was injured slightly at work on September 1, and one of the personnel, a Mr. Tucker, drove him to the hospital, waited there for him and afterwards drove him home.

bless you, Mr. Bathey!

Originally, plans for this week called for a continuation of the analysis this corner has been conducting of news and news releases — particularly as they relate to government and politics.

But, what the heck, the government can wait. It would be a travesty to ignore the Fall Festival.

Much has been written and said about this annual four-day event; but neither the spoken nor the written word can do justice to what a comparative handful of persons achieve here each September.

All week long, the better half and I were subversively conjecturing about what would happen if it rained. And we weren't alone.

Rotary Chicken Barbecue Chairman Bob Stremich was ready to drum one member straight out of the organization at last Friday's meeting when he asked for questions from the club membership.

"What color raincoats should we wear?" one of them inquired.

But it didn't rain.

Oh, it rained to beat the band Thursday morning and the sky spit a bit on Friday and Saturday looked pretty ominous. But darned little moisture, if any, fell during Festival hours.

While the crummy weather bureau predicted rain for Sunday, they were even wronger than usual and the final day of the Festival was cloudless from start to finish.

The two obvious conclusions that one can draw are either that Somebody-Up-There likes Plymouth's Fall Festival, or Rotary plays it cool by assigning clergymen Henry Walch and Pete Schweitzer to a weather committee.

The Festival, of course, is a time for fun and I had more fun than anybody since — for the first time — I got to participate a bit.

On Saturday, I got roped into standing around while Mommy helped the Campfire Girls sell cupcakes.

Some of them were good and some of them tasted like sawdust.

I ate 23 of each kind.

When the gals got down to their last eight million cupcakes, they decided it was hardly worth coming back on Sunday so they reduced the price per dozen.

There weren't more than a few thousand left when they decided to give the rest away to kids in the park.

Vroom! Stampede.

I saw a little girl, about 11, hauling two smaller children along and I began hollering, "Hey, free cupcakes right here."

The youngster looked around to see where all the noise was coming from and, having located the source, shot me one of those looks of mingled distaste and horror that kids must reserve for child molesters.

It's rough when you can't even give 'em away.

Wow, did people work hard.

I personally plopped 4,238 charred chickens into foil lined boxes and I was one of the slackers.

Virtually every one of the participating organizations worked its collective tail off and it would be improper to single out individuals.

One guy who always makes a superhuman effort at Festival time, though, is DPW Superintendent Joe Bida. Bida starts the four days looking like a genial crew-cut bulldog and he wraps the whole thing up still looking relatively genial.

After all the preparations he and his crew have to make, the day he personally spends sweating over Rotary's barbecue pits and the cleanup job that he manfully gets out of the way afterward, I don't know how he does it.

Bida should get some kind of an annual Fall Festival award.

This is being written Monday.

I just wandered over to the barbecue area to pick up a hand truck that The Plymouth Mail volunteered for the cause. A perspiring Norm Druce was supervising cleanup.

"Take off your coat and get to work," he ordered. "Can't," I mumbled apologetically, "I got a newspaper to get out."

"Hmmp!" he commented. "Fair weather Rotarian." As I-sided away with the hand truck, Norm called to me.

"Hey," he said, "next year get somebody else to get your darned newspaper out on Monday."

No comment about the Fall Festival would be complete without a few remarks about the core, the essential purpose. For when it's all boiled down, the Plymouth Community Fall Festival has only one raison d'etat.

In the end, residents of this area expend so much effort and energy only because they realize they have an obligation to perpetuate an intangible something about Plymouth.

They know their community has something that sets it apart; and The Plymouth Fall Festival is a very real part of that something.

Some people call it image, an inadequate Madison Avenue term.

Others, like a woman who phoned this morning, call it heritage — which to this sentimental heart seems more apropos.

Heritage it is, then.

A cultural heritage that reflects itself in music and art. The Plymouth Community Band and The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and the Three Cities Art Club and The Plymouth Garden Club emphasize and underscore it.

An historical heritage, heavy with a tradition transported here by New England pioneers. Plymouth Historical Society members and other interested persons strive to keep us aware of our history and to place it in perspective.

A get things done, get them done right and get them done now heritage.

It is the latter that keeps Plymouth so alive. Plymouth people and clubs and groups and governments and schools seems to base their activities upon it.

The Plymouth Community Fall Festival is based upon it.

It, finally, is the most important kind of heritage because it begets the other kinds.

Which, after all, is what life is about.

David Rank claims bride in afternoon rites

Mrs. David Rank

A garden reception in the home of her parents followed the marriage Saturday, Sept. 11, of Virginia Elizabeth Avison and David Don Rank. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized in Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, with the Rev. Michael Nesbitt officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Barnes Avison, Jr. of Birmingham and her husband's parents are the Donald R. Rank of Pacific St.

The bride wore an Empire gown of peau de soie styled with elbow-length sleeves embroidered in tiny pearls and crystals. The same jeweled motif was carried out in the band which secured her butterfly veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Patricia Ann Harcke of Birmingham was maid of honor. Other attendants included Jantje Jones of Franklin, Mich., Kathy Fowler of Roselle, Ill., Kathy Meriam of Ohio, and Victoria Mysing of Birmingham.

John Robison of Plymouth was best man, and seating the guests were Douglas Walton of Birmingham, James Herter of Northville, Brian Lacey of Redford, and John Wolfe of Plymouth.

Following a wedding trip through northern Michigan and Canada, the couple will be at home in Bloomfield Hills.

Miss McCullough marries Larry McMullen

Joan McCullough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy McCullough of Gordon St., and Larry McMullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee McMullen of Marilyn St., were married Friday evening, Sept. 3, in the Plymouth Assembly of God church. The Rev. J. Walaskay officiated at the 8 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Wearing a white lace floor length gown, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. The bridal gown featured three tiers of embroidered lace on the skirt and long sleeves. A crystal crown held her elbow length illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations and orchids.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Stevens, chose a mint blue organza over taffeta Empire dress with matching headpiece. Her bouquet was of miniature carnations tipped in blue.

Best man for his brother was Harry McMullen of Elmhurst St. Ushers were Donald and Ronald McMullen, also brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCullough wore a beige and gold sheath dress with matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother chose a beige sheath with white accessories.

After a reception in the church parlors, Mr. and Mrs. McMullen left for a wedding trip, through Canada and New York.

Town Hall series plans top entertainment for season

The Northville Town Hall series once again is offering an outstanding program for the 1965-1966 season. The lectures are held at the P & A Theater in Northville at 11 a.m. and last about one hour.

An optional celebrity luncheon follows each lecture at Meadowbrook Country Club. Reservations will be handled by Mrs. Duane Butler, FI. 9-0248.

Tickets may be purchased for $10 by writing to Northville Town Hall Series, P.O. Box 93, Northville, Mich.

For additional information, call Mrs. H. F. Wengschutz, FI. 9-2976.

Appearing on Oct. 21, the Meredith and Rini Wilson, the Music Man himself, with sparkling wit, Rini, in a delightful hour of melody and refreshing comment — songs from Wilson's latest Broadway hit, "Here's Love", "Music Man", and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown." This will be the only program to be held at the Northville High School auditorium.

Mme. Claire Chennault will appear Nov. 18, with a "Report From the Far East." Widely traveled, best-selling author of "A Thousand Springs" and the current "Chennault and the Flying Tigers" (the story of her renowned husband).

Fulton Lewis III, National Field Director of Young Americans for Freedom, will discuss the "Revolt on the Campus", February 17, 1966. He has appeared before over one-quarter million students and hundreds of civic, business, social and patriotic organizations.

One of America's most stimulating non-fiction writers, Vance Packard, author of "The Status Seekers", "The Hidden Persuaders" and "The Waste Makers", appears March 17, 1966.

Rounding up the lecture series on April 21, 1966, will be Dame Alicia Markova with "The World of the Ballet." The internationally celebrated prima ballerina and Director of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet hung up her dancing shoes in 1963 after almost 40 years of acclaim on five continents.

Proceeds from this series will again be contributed to charities in Farmington, Plymouth, Livonia and Northville through the Board of Awards. All charitable or cultural organizations are eligible. Awards totaling $820 were granted to the following groups last June:

The Northville State Hospital received $145 to be used for web chairs for the patients; The Northville Historical Society received $50; King's Daughters-Mizpah Circle received $1 for charity work.

The Plymouth Symphony Society received $50; the Plymouth Women's Club $100 for the Loch Rio-Belleville Girls; St. John's League received $100 for orthopedic shoes and braces for the Plymouth State Home.

The Tau Beta Camp, Neurological Development Section in Farmington, received $75. The money will provide a two week camper.

In Livonia the Well Baby Clinic was awarded $100 while the Livonia Association for Retarded Children received $100 also.

The Board of Awards consists of Mrs. H. Wagenschutz, Mrs. William Milne, and Mr. Herman Moehlman, of Northville. Mrs. Leonard Stidwell of Farmington, Mrs. Margaret R. Hough of Plymouth, and Mrs. W. E. Parks of Livonia.

Susan McIntyre attends Sorbonne

Susan McIntyre, a French major at Ohio Wesleyan University, sailed Sept. 3 on the USS France where she will spend her junior year studying at Sorbonne University in Paris, France, beginning Nov. 3. At the Biarritz in Paris she will take part in a six weeks intensive language study.

Miss McIntyre is taking part in a program sponsored by Hamilton College in which about 50 students from colleges all over the country spend one year studying in France. The students live with French families for the year.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth McIntyre of Lakeside Dr.

New books at Dunning-Hough

Among the new books at the Dunning-Hough Library, according to Mrs. Warren Worth, librarian, are:

"Let Me Count the Ways," by Peter De Vries, a comic novel of a boy who carries on his father's follies.

"The Sign of the Flying Goose: A Guide to the National Wildlife Refuges," by George Laycock, has maps and illustrations as well as descriptions.

"The Making of the President 1964," by Theodore White, describes the last presidential election and tells why Johnson won with so great a majority.

"Squadron Forty-four," by Arch Whitehouse, is a novel about the Royal Flying Corps in the first World War.

"Summoned by Books," by Frances Sayers, is a collection of speeches and essays on the subject of children's literature by one of the foremost authorities in her field.

"Mrs. Arris Goes to Parliament," by Paul Gallico, continues the adventures of the indomitable charwoman begun in "Mrs. Arris Goes to Paris."

"The Unforgettable Winston Churchill, Giant of the Century," by the editors of Life magazine, is an illustrated account of Churchill's life and career.

"The Year of the Death," by Reuben Merliss, is the story of a physician's helper in medieval Europe, and his search into the mystery of the great plague.

Treasures from Plymouth pantries

MRS. HUGH HARSHA is chopping almonds for one of her hors d'oeuvre recipes, "Chicken - Almond Spread." Mrs. Harsha suggested that these three recipes would be good for any type of party.

Anticipating the holiday season, Mrs. Hugh Harsha of McKinley St. has offered to share three of her hors d'oeuvre recipes this week.

A lifetime resident of Plymouth, Mrs. Harsha is the former Jean Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Murray of Lakeland Ct. Her husband is also a lifelong resident of the Plymouth area. Mrs. Harsha is a 1946 graduate of Plymouth High School and also graduated from Duke University.

The mother of three children, John, 7, Bill, 4, and Julia, 2, Mrs. Harsha says her hobbies are cooking and sewing. A Sunday School teacher at the First Presbyterian Church, she also is a member of the Plymouth Children's Nursery and the AAUW.

Parties will be more successful if you use any or all of these hors d'oeuvres.

CHICKEN ALMOND SPREAD

Combine:
3/4 C. ground cooked chicken
2 Tbsp. chopped toasted almonds

1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
1 tsp. lemon juice
2 Tbsp. mayonnaise

Shape into a ball. Roll in additional ground toasted almonds and serve on crackers or melba toast.

PARTY HAMBURGERS

Toast 10 slices of bread on one side. Butter untoasted side and cut each slice into four 1 1/2" rounds. Mix together:
1 lb. ground beef
2 Tbsp. grated onion
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. salt

Shape into marbles, place on bread and broil. Before broiling make an indentation in each meat ball. When cooked fill with chili sauce.

SEAFOOD COCKTAIL SAUCE

1/4 cup malt vinegar
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. Tabasco sauce
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/4 C. horseradish
6 Tbsp. catsup
6 Tbsp. chili sauce

Mix together. Use as dip for seafood.

Give service pins to PSH volunteers

Recognition awards were presented to volunteers of the Plymouth State Home Auxiliary at Plymouth State Home and Training School, located on Sheldon Rd., during the annual recruiting meeting held Tuesday, Sept. 14, in the auditorium of the administration building.

Plymouth volunteers at the State Home who were awarded service pins are Virginia McIlhargie, 3000 hours of service; Jan Foster and Jo Davidson, 500 hours; Dorothy Pederson, Emiline Meredith, Mary K. Deetz, Virginia Adams, Ruth Niles and Helen Wolfram, 200 hours.

Plymouth State Home is an institution dedicated to the care and training of the mentally retarded.

Because of the expansion program at PSH which will increase capacity from 900 to 1800 patients, more than 900 volunteers will be needed. Today 300 volunteers serve at the Home.

In addition to the regular volunteer program, a year round program is provided for all teen agers 14 years or older.

Volunteers are needed in the Auxiliary in such areas as office work of all types, patient care, education, physical therapy, occupational therapy, arts and crafts.

Assistance is also needed either by groups or individuals in such fields as personal shoppers, carpentry, home sewing and mending, play group leaders, dance instructors, sponsors for parties and entertainment, and fund raising activities.

Volunteer orientation and training classes are conducted on the first two Tuesdays of each month from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. For more information, contact William Boyd, Community Relations Director at Plymouth State Home.

Mayflower garden club meets Sept. 16

The first regular meeting of the Mayflower Garden Club is scheduled for Thursday morning, Sept. 16, at the home of Mrs. John Ing, 616 Jener St.

Members will benefit by the experience of Mrs. Paul Wiedman when she gives constructive criticism on the flower arrangements made at this meeting.

Officers of the Mayflower Garden Club are Mrs. Max Nicol, president; Mrs. Ainsley Osborn, secretary; and Mrs. Dale Dauderman, treasurer.

Baby talk

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schomberger, of South Lyon, formerly of Plymouth, have announced the birth of a 6 1/2 pound son, Paul Gerard, on Sept. 1 in St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia. Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schomberger of Ann Arbor Trail and Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly of Wayne.

AAUW slates guest speaker at Sept. 16 meeting

A prominent guest speaker and a membership drive will highlight the first meeting of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) on Thursday evening, Sept. 16. The meeting is slated for the Junior High West on Ann Arbor Trail beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Carl Marburger, director of Detroit's Great Cities Project, will speak on "The Inner-City and Its Implications for Suburban Areas."

Membership chairman, Mrs. James Knowles, urges any woman who is interested in becoming a member of AAUW to attend this meeting. Any woman who holds a degree from one of the 460 American colleges and universities approved by the national organization is eligible for membership.

For membership information call Mrs. Knowles, 453-8868, Mrs. David Van Hine, 349-3015, or Mrs. G. Stanley Weber, 427-0884.

Co-hostesses for the September meeting are Mrs. Roswell F. Tanger, chairman, Mrs. John Campbell, Mrs. Glenn Gordon, Mrs. William Riley and Mrs. P. David Vincent, Jr.

The Michigan schools approved by AAUW include Adrian College, Albion College, Alma College, Andrews University, Calvin College, Central Michigan University, Eastern Michigan University, Ferris State College, Hillsdale College, Kalamazoo College, Marygrove College, Hope College, Mercy College of Detroit, Michigan Technological University, Michigan State University, Nazareth College, Northern Michigan University, Olivet College, Siena Heights College, University of Detroit, University of Michigan, Wayne State University and Western Michigan University.

Plymouth girl finalist in Torch contest

Mary E. Belz

Miss Mary E. Belz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Belz, 40936 Micol Drive, has been named as a finalist in the "Miss Torch of 1965" contest.

Mary, a secretary at the General Motors Corp. Technical Center in Warren, was one of six girls picked from a field of 16. The girls met with the "Miss Torch" committee at a luncheon in the Detroit Press Club.

A graduate of Dondero High School in Royal Oak, Mary was born in Detroit. She has brown hair and brown eyes and, lists sewing, listening to records, reading, and baking as her hobbies.

DAR to aid mountain schools

D.A.R. members are asked to bring used clothing for the D.A.R. mountain schools to the first luncheon meeting on Monday, Sept. 20 at 12 o'clock noon.

Hostess for the day is Mrs. Donald Baumhart. Assisting her are Mrs. Martin Kirchoff, Mrs. Howard Sharpley, Mrs. Irving Blunk, and Mrs. Charles Garlett.

On Sept. 15 the D.A.R. will dedicate another 33 acres of red pines in the Huron-Manistee National Forest near Cadillac, Mich. Mrs. Walter Gemperline, state conservation chairman, is in charge of the program.

Lutherans talk on Ecumenism

Ecumenical discussions will begin at the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, 41233 Ann Arbor Trail, Thursday, Sept. 16, at 9 p.m.

D. F. Romberg, pastor, announced the weekly discussions of Christian Doctrine are being presented for all adults of the community. An open-forum format will provide an opportunity for comparing the characteristics of the different religious denominations.

Although participation in this program will provide membership eligibility, there is no obligation.

WOMEN VOTERS MEET

The first meeting of the Livonia League of Women Voters is slated for Sept. 16, 8:15 p.m., at 29509 Ravine Drive, Livonia. Any local woman interested is invited to attend. For further information call Mrs. William Taylor, GA. 2-0933.

Come to Church

Landmarks of a Great People

This is one of the snapshots from my vacation trip. Friends ask why I made this the frontispiece in my album rather than that shot of the bald crest of Mt. Marcy — or the telescopic close-up of the Old Man of the Mountains.

Sure, I know this scene is commonplace. I saw a hundred villages with their white steeples peering above the trees and their comfortable old houses nestled around the church. And each one had a pond with pines and birches guarding its shore.

But this picture says more than all the others. It speaks not just of beauty and natural wonder... it tells of a good land populated by a great people. It reminds me of God... and of my neighbor. It whispers that all I cherish can endure for generations.

The landmarks of a great people proudly point to Faith. The Church belongs at the center of our life. But only you and I can keep it there!

Obituaries

GRACE LYDIA BOYD Funeral services will be held today (Sept. 15) at the Martinson Funeral Home, Traverse City, for Mrs. Grace Lydia Boyd, 216 State St., Traverse City. Burial will be in St. Travers City Cemetery, Traverse City. Mrs. Boyd died Sept. 12 at the West Trail Nursing Home at the age of 82. Born Sept. 24, 1882 in Ohio, she was the daughter of Christopher Troyer. Her husband, John, preceded her in death. A former Plymouth resident, Mrs. Boyd was a dressmaker in Plymouth. She is survived by two sons, George of Traverse City and Donald of Detroit; and two daughters, Mrs. Marvel Kohli and Mrs. Jennie Zimmerman, both of Plymouth.

GEORGE F. HESSE George F. Hesse, 146 E. Ann Arbor Trail, died Sept. 11 in the West Trail Nursing Home at the age of 76 after a long illness. Born May 3, 1889 in Redford, he was the son of Gustave and Lena (Assmus) Hesse. He moved to Plymouth in 1923 and was a retired farmer. He is survived by his wife, Abbie M., two daughters, Dorothy Olds Ferrin of Indian River and Mrs. Josephine B. Everett of Plymouth; one brother, Irma Numemaker of Florida; and one cousin, Carl Burger of Detroit. He is also survived by four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services were held in the Schrader Funeral Home on Sept. 14 with the Rev. John Walaskay officiating. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

CHARLES A. CARVEY Funeral services for Charles Arthur Carvey, 67, were held Sept. 13 at the Schrader Funeral Home with burial in Washtenaw Memorial Park Cemetery, Ann Arbor. The Rev. Patrick Clifford and the Rev. Lynn Stout officiated. Mr. Carvey of 774 Beck Rd. died Sept. 10 at his home. Born April 17, 1898 in Bay City, he was the son of Abram and Orpha (Leland) Carvey. A retired auto manufacturing employee, he was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church. Besides his wife, Lena M., he is survived by two sons, Vernon of Philadelphia Islands and James of Indianapolis, Ind.; one daughter, Mrs. Raymond (Patricia) Rinehart of Plymouth; two brothers, George of Gladwin and Verne of Bay City; and two sisters, Mrs. Edna French, both of Bay City. He is also survived by nine grandchildren.

JOSEPH J. MANZI Joseph J. Manzi, 254 Ann St., died Sept. 11 in St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, at the age of 45. Born May 7, 1920, in Slatford, Pa., he was the son of Andrew Manzi. Moving to the Plymouth area eight years ago, he was a science teacher in Farmington High School.

He is survived by his wife, Ruth H.; his father, Andrew Manzi of Slatford, Pa.; two daughters, Mrs. Donna Thorington of Holly, and Renee at home; one son, Thomas at home; two brothers, Louis and Anthony of Slatford, Pa.; four sisters, Mrs. Ann Shoemaker and Mrs. Mary Ponette of Slatford, Pa.; Mrs. Grace Zaleski of Summit, N. J.; and Mrs. Frances Stuiso of Rutherford, N. J.

Services were held at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church on Sept. 14 with the Rev. Francis C. Byrne officiating. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield. Arrangements were made by the Schrader Funeral Home.

ROBERT A. MURPHY Robert A. Murphy, 238 Hamilton Ave., died Sept. 9 in St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, at the age of 63. Born July 4, 1902, in Scotland, he was the son of Robert and Catherine (McCarroll) Murphy. He came of the United States in 1927 and moved to Plymouth in 1961. He was a tool crib attendant at Ford Motor Co.

DEMOLITION of the two remaining structures in the City of Plymouth's urban renewal project on Mill Street got under way this week. Here, a roof section of a fire-gutted welding shop is lifted into a waiting truck.

Methodists to host workshop seminar

On Sunday night, Sept. 19, at 7:30 p.m., Plymouth Methodists will host social concerns committee from churches in Plymouth, Livonia, Northville and Redford Township to hear the officers of the Community Opportunity Center, sheltered workshop.

The officers will tell the story of the formation of this group and how the social concerns committee and area churches can assist in this effort.

George Conover, chairman of the Plymouth Methodist Social Concerns committee and vice-president of the Community Opportunity Center, will introduce the three speakers who will tell of their part in the formation of this group.

WENDELL SMITH, president of the Community Opportunity Center and former president of the Plymouth JayCees, will tell "how it started" and how other sheltered workshops operate. Smith and the Plymouth JayCees were instrumental in getting this movement started.

Ernest Moran, new director of the Community Opportunity Center, will tell of the workings of the workshop itself. Moran has been on the job since July 1, and has been busy interviewing workers and getting contracts lined up.

Robert Clogg, chairman of Livonia Association of Retarded Children and treasurer of the Community Opportunity Center, will tell of the financial problems and status of the project.

Everybody is invited to attend and refreshments will be served. A question and answer period will follow the brief talk.

Recognize 30 years service

Stan Besse's thirty years of service as the City of Plymouth's surveyor and engineer was recognized at the 1965 Public Works Congress recently.

The American Public Works Association met this year in Los Angeles, and there Besse was awarded the Samuel A. Greeley Service Award.

Mr. and Mrs. Besse both attended the convention, and later attended the Lawrence Welk program and the Harry Belafonte show.

Mobley assumed the new post on August 16. He was formerly associated with the Ford Motor Company where he served as Supervisor - Accounts Payable.

In Michigan, after a day's fishing beer's the one... for good taste, good fun

Wherever you fish for sport—on the ocean, by the booming surf, or on some quiet country pond, it's great at the end of the day to head for a rewarding glass of beer. While you're talking over the ones that got away, or pan-frying the ones that didn't, you enjoy the hearty taste and cool refreshment only a glass of beer can give you so well. Yes, whatever your sport—bowling or strolling, golfing or gardening—a frosty glass of beer makes a naturally great accompaniment.

The group is an inter-governmental organization, with representatives from the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township.

(2.) Evans products recently announced a $1,500,000 expansion of its railroad car fabricating areas.

(3.) The Packaging Corporation of America on Sheldon Rd. announced this spring an expansion program that would bring production up 40%, and include installation of a new 400 foot Langston corrugating machine, one of the largest in the world.

(4.) Jack Cook, president of National Concrete Products on Mill St. in the Township is building two industrial shells for use by manufacturers. He is seeking a tenant for the soon-to-be-completed buildings, one of which has 16,000 square feet of space, the other 32,000.

(4.) Wheel Trueing Tool Company began work on their 32,000 square foot building in the City's industrial park this month. City building inspector reported Monday that footings were in, and work progressing.

(5.) Distribution Service Inc., now the old Daisy plant on Union Street, recently finished a face-lifting outside to add a colonial atmosphere to the building.

(6.) Vico Products on Pearl St. recently completed work on an addition.

(7.) Early this spring Plymouth Township officials announced plans for an industrial park north of the C & O tracks along Sheldon Road. Detroit water lines coming down Sheldon from Northville were an added impetus to the move.

Salem Square area went before the Board with a similar request. Tripp indicated his displeasure with the decision.

"I'D HATE to come back in two weeks and report that somebody's been hurt."

The Board pointed out that crossing guards were at posts along Schoolcraft and Five Mile, but the parents' group argued that there was no place to walk, and that there was a high speed limit (50 mph on Five Mile) and no school signs.

The parents agreed once there were sidewalks in the area much of the problem would be eliminated.

used by shoplifters. Inspector Rutherford pointed out that self-serve merchandise and larger crowds have increased shoplifting. Attractive displays designed to increase impulse buying also increase impulse stealing. Five general types of shoplifters were described:

Professional — work alone or in group up to about five people. Shoplift in cities where they are not known. Steal high cost merchandise and dispose of it through a fence or to individuals who have previously placed an order for specific items.

Novice — Comprise the largest number of shoplifters and includes all age groups. These people constitute the biggest headache to merchants because of the large number.

Impulse Shoplifters — These people enter stores as an honest customer but steal on impulse when confronted with temptation and the opportunity.

Desperation Thief — Will steal rather than accept welfare or beg.

Narcotic Addict — Steal and sell or trade for narcotics.

The police officers demonstrated several gimmicks that shoplifters use for concealing their thefts. They pointed out that well trained and alert clerks are the best detectives in preventing shoplifting.

Detective Anderson emphasized the effectiveness of the shoplifters' methods in displaying the results of a few hours of shoplifting in Plymouth prior to the Kiwanis program.

By prearrangement with the Plymouth Police Department, a plain clothed local police officer accompanied the trio on a shoplifting stunt in Plymouth.

The out of town officers admitted that they were watched so closely in some stores that they did not attempt to steal. However, they displayed merchandise taken from stores where they had an easy time.

HOME HEATING

Now Sold and Installed in Western Wayne County by DETROIT EDISON

Here's important news! Especially if you're wondering how best to replace a tired out, old heating system. Or if you have a newly added room to heat. Or a room that's always been chilly.

All you have to do is phone or stop at your Edison Office. One of our Electric Heating Specialists will gladly call on you. He'll give you an estimate on the cost to install electric heat. He will recommend a system best suited to your needs. Then, if you'd like, he'll arrange for installation and financing. You'll get all the exclusive benefits of flameless electric heat PLUS the same prompt and considerate service you've come to expect from Detroit Edison.

HOW ABOUT ELECTRIC HEAT OPERATING COSTS?

Electric heat costs more than other types of home heating. But you will be surprised at how little more when you consider how much you gain in comfort and convenience.

And there's an All-Electric Domestic Rate which can reduce all your electrical operating costs, including those for electric heat. Yes, when your home is heated electrically Remember, if you'd like to know more about electric heat and the All Electric Rate, just stop or call your Edison office. It costs nothing to get the facts!

P.S. Recent downward rate adjustments can make supplemental electric heating lower in cost too. Supplemental electric heat's just the thing for cold corners and always-chilly rooms.

2 CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our deep appreciation to everyone who helped in any way during the recent illness and passing of our husband and father, Otto M. Bufo.

Sincere thanks to Pastor Norman W. Berg of Plymouth and Reverend Henry Lewis of Ann Arbor for their kindness and words of comfort, the Plymouth Reunited squad for its very prompt response and wonderful service during two very serious emergencies, the doctors, nurses and attendants at the Veteran's Hospital in Ann Arbor, and our many thoughtful friends and neighbors for their visits, beautiful flowers, food, and acts of kindness. We also want to thank the pallbearers, the Schrader Funeral Home for their fine, thoughtful service, and Mrs. Velma Searfoss for lovely music.

Salem News

The Kiwanis Club held their annual Labor Day parade in South Lyon, with 35 entries. The float made by the Salem Cardinals Little League team took second place. The theme of the float was baseball with red, white and blue decorations. The boys worked on the float in the barn owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller of Seven Mile Rd. The hay wagon was donated by Dale Verran of West Six Mile Rd., tractor by Fred Miller of West Seven Mile Rd., and the bales of straw by Jim Dowling of West Seven Mile Rd. Also entered in the parade were the Salem Fire Department, the Federated Church Youth for Christ exhibit, which won third prize. The Salem Federated Church also won a third prize.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lazor of Chubb Rd. entertained Mrs. Lazor's mother and a father from Detroit for a Labor Day dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Earehart entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Walton and their son, Cricket, from Elyria, Ohio on Sept. 9. They drove up to see their Morgan colt and to receive the three ribbons he has won in horse shows.

Belinda Dolan of Chubb Rd. has just returned from a five day trip to Drummond Island where she visited her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Lyke.

Other guests present were Mr. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson and Mrs. Peter Yost of Fairground Ave., has returned to Oldenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dornblaser, Mrs. Molly Tracy, Mrs. Louise Hutton, Mrs. Millie Reinas and Henry Ehrensberger. Games were played during the evening and refreshments served later.

A party held at the home of Mrs. William F. Riley on Adams St. celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Paul Nash.

Bradner views Schoolcraft's future

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second part of a two-part series on the rapidly expanding Schoolcraft College.)

Schoolcraft College president Eric Bradner recently submitted a report on the college's first year of operation. In the report he called for a second campus by 1970.

"The cost of construction will be considerable. At least $1,300,000 more in local funds will be needed for 1966-67, and an additional $1 million or more for 1967-68 and each year thereafter," he said.

Bradner also foresees doubling the college's enrollment by 1970.

"By the year 1968-69, the college will be expected to house more than 7,000 students, more than twice the number expected during the year 1965-66," Bradner admits these figures are guesses, but points to those estimated for last year, which were set at 1,100 but bulged to 1,354.

Bradner's report is terse, and reflects how he likes to get things done.

"By September, 1970, this campus must be complete with at least four more buildings—classroom, physical education, business education, business education and Art and Music.

"By 1971, a second campus must be ready for initial occupancy."

"We are finding increasing difficulty in competing with the high school salary scales in the area. Many times in the past few months we have interviewed local applicants who were already receiving more pay than any faculty member on our staff."

Thus Schoolcraft's Bradner, he relies most on, are faced with problems neither new, nor unforeseen.

They have moved through one year rapidly, with enrollments going over what was expected.

BRINN also reported that Schoolcraft's position on faculty salaries was not as favorable as it should be.

Space walk film

set for Plymouth

in mid-October

U. S. Congressman Weston E. Vivian has announced that arrangements are nearly completed for the NASA film of Astronaut Ed White's historic walk in space, "The Four Days of Gemini IV," to be shown locally during late September and early October. Congressman Vivian has obtained permission from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to make the 30 minute sound and color film available to communities throughout the Second Congressional District.

In the interest of enabling the maximum possible audience to see the film, local school districts, colleges, and civic groups have agreed to sponsor the film at a variety of showings, both public and private. The film is slated for the Plymouth area Oct. 15.

Serving our country

Navy WAVE Seaman Luanne M. Sockow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Sockow of 678 N. Harvey, is a member of the U. S. Navy WAVES Chorus which recently returned to Washington, D. C. from a five day tour in San Diego, Calif.

They performed seven times in five days and sang for patients at the Naval Hospital, a teenage fair, and a live performance on KFMB-TV in San Diego.

MAYFLOWER

Plymouth's Mayflower Hotel is featured in the current issue of "Innkeeping," the trade magazine of the industry.

In an article, "How to Boost Saturday Dinner Business," operators across the country are learning how Ralph G. Lorenz did so with his champagne dinners. The idea, the article says, increased Saturday business more than 90 percent.

From Washington

Congressman views

cold war G.I. Bill

By Congressman Weston E. Vivian

Moreover, I believe that it would be wise, as well as beneficial for our Nation, to provide educational benefits for all veterans, whose education was interrupted by military service.

Today, we are reminded daily of the sacrifices which our servicemen are making in Vietnam. I support the provisions of educational and other benefits for these men.

Past experience has shown that the benefits to the Nation as a whole far outweigh the small cost of providing G. I. Bill allowances to veterans.

A good case could even be made for the thesis that the Bill of Rights was, in my opinion, one of the most significant pieces of legislation enacted during the past two decades.

The aid which the G. I. Bill gave to millions of veterans had a tremendously beneficial impact on the successful readjustment which the entire economy made, at the termination of hostilities.

Similar legislation was enacted to benefit the veterans of the Korean conflict.

AS ONE OF THE World War II veterans who benefited from the G. I. Bill, I am personally aware of the value of this kind of legislation.

I personally doubt whether I could have achieved a doctoral degree, without the intellectual boost of G. I. Bill benefits.

Woman hurt in crash at Ann Arbor and Haggerty

A 58 year old woman was taken by ambulance to St. Mary's Hospital Friday morning, Sept. 13 after her car was rammed broadside at the corner of Ann Arbor Rd. and Haggerty Rd. when the Gilson car attempted to pass as Mrs. Valance was making a left turn onto Haggerty Rd.

Mrs. Ethel Vallance of Ypsilanti received serious injuries when a car driven by Miss Gilson was issued a ticket for improper passing, while she was in the driver's seat of the car.

The Plymouth Mail goes to the annual Fall Festival

FALL FESTIVAL is primarily a time for kids. Groups of them were always willing to pose for pictures. These youngsters were in Kellogg Park on Friday night when the Lions held their ice cream and melon social.

ORGAN GRINDER man, Jimmie (Luigi) Gargano, passed out mustaches to these Plymouth kids on Saturday.

PLYMOUTH'S prodigal prodigy, Russell Kirk, and his lovely wife attended Saturday's Kiwanis Pancake Festival. Kirk is a noted educator, lecturer, writer and newspaper columnist.

'REALLY SWINGIN' was this little miss to the music of the Banjo Pals in the background.

TROPHIES were handed out to these costume contest winners on Friday evening.

THE GARDEN club's flower display drew crowds to Leo Calhoun Ford on Main St.

THESE FELLAS were amazed by the slide display put on by the Indian Guides.

AND PRETTY girls whirled and twirled at the square dancing.

JAYCEES served over 300 beef rib barbecues and many hamburgers to eager customers Saturday night.

IT WAS ALL climaxed on Sunday when Plymouth Rotary turned out 11,400 chicken barbecue dinners. The man in the loud hat with the loudspeaker in his hand is general chairman Bob Stremich of Hillside Inn.
