High-rise apartments may may soon be constructed on a site on Main St. in the City, if the Commission can iron out all the legal technicalities. The Commission heard a proposal from Patrick Finlan for a 39-unit, five story modernistic high-rise apartment on land just south of Food Fair store on S. Main Finlan indicated to the Commission, which was meeting in committee of the whole session Monday night, that his preliminary financing was complete.

The luxury two and three bedroom apartments will have two full baths, a built-in kitchen, a laundry and bulk storage space.

APARTMENTS on the fifth floor will have fireplaces, Finlan reported. A heated pool, elevator, a central television system are other fea-

20th Symphony season begins Sunday, Oct. 17

One of the largest civic orchestras in the country -The Plymouth Symphony will launch its 20th season this month with an Oct. 17 performance.

Along with it will come the re-establishment of the Plymouth Junior Symphony under the direction of a music teacher new to the school system, Michael Endres. They practice every Saturday morning and need more members.

Endres is also revitalizing the school's string program.

The 20th season will mark an all out effort for the Symphony. Grant Begelarian, director of Music for the Ford Foundation, will write a special anniversary symphony for a program next spring. It is expected that will be an evening concert; other con-certs are held on Sunday afternoons.

A SPECIAL committee will be appointed to set up the 20th aniversary celebration.

James Thomas was recently named president of the Symphony Board, and three new members were added to replace resigning George Lawton and Sam Hudson. Robert Beyer, John R. Herb and Mrs. Marvin Sackett were named. Soon special leters will be sent out to follow up the May membership drive.

Wayne Dunlap, who has been directing the group for 16 seasons, reports they have been practicing for about three weeks. He is "more than pleased" with the response, with over 95 reporting to each rehearsal. Among the new things in the symphony is a Stradivarius violin, the famed handmade European instrument. The Symphony will be working with a $14,700 budget.

SEVERAL Plymouth school students who attended summer music festivals at Interlochen near Traverse City will play in the Symphony this fall. They are: Robin Wideman, Jane Palmer, Stephanie Sanocki, Peter Sparling, Barb Boer, Andrew Wisniewski, Jeanne Thom and Pat Ross. And the Junior Symphony will be playing again, after a lapse of two years. Conductor Endres' background in-

Originally from Detroit, most of his school days were spent in Milford, Michigan.

His first experience with instrumental music began back in elementary school where he took private lessons on the violin. As there was no school orchestra, he later changed to the trombone in order to participate in the band.

While still a Junior in high school, Endres' music teacher, who is presently the tympanist with the Plymouth Symphony, gave him lessons on the string bass. Later he selected the string bass as a major instrument at college. In 1956 Endres became a member of the bass section of the Plymouth Symphony and continued with the Symphony for the 1956-57 and 1957-58 sea-

IN THE FALL of 1958 he entered the University of Michigan College of Engineering, then realized music was to be his vocation.

Endres entered the School of Music and graduated in 1963 with a Bachelor of Musil degree in Music Education. He was a regular member of the bass section of the Hillsdale and Ann Arbor Civic Orchestras and played with the Jackson Symphony. Endres continued his studies and in 1964 received a

To present "Sleeping Beauty"

The Plymouth Theatre Guild plans to open its 1965-66 season with "Sleeping Beauty," a children's show, on Oct. 9, with four performances scheduled for 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. at the high school.

Kathy McNeiece will portray Sleeping Beauty, while Ron Tarrow will be the gallant prince.

Others in the cast include Ellen McNeiece, Merlin Heft, Linda Allen, Donnan McNeiece, Jim Darnell, Jimmy McNeice, Barbara Fagan, Chris Holman, Mike Sissom and others.

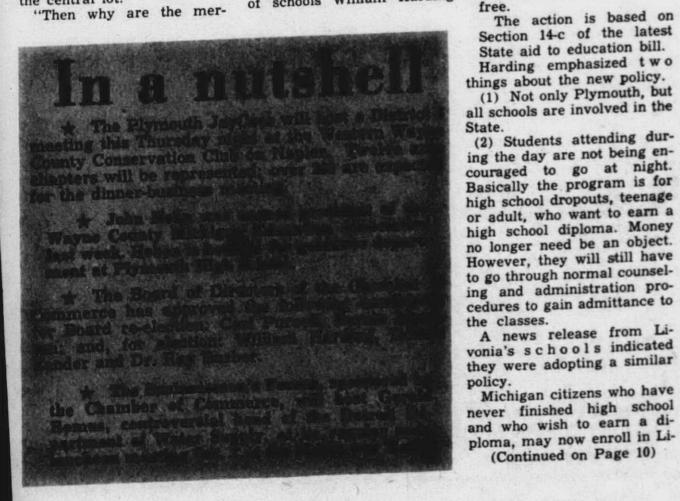

Students of Denise Lorenze's ballet class will be featured as palace court dancers. Kings, queen, knights of old along with ladies of the court will bring to life the pictures of fairyland that delights every child's heart. The production is under the direction of Jacob Rumpf; Richard E. Brown will be producer.

PLYMOUTH'S STRING program should take a turn for the better this year as Michael Endres takes over the program. Endres is looking for string players for his Junior Symphony, which is sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony. The Junior Symphony will be active this year after two years with no performances. Anyone interested in either the symphony, or the string program, should contact Endres through the Plymouth Schools. Endres here is directing Jane Palmer.

Jenkins leaves void

As of October 15, The Plymouth Community will lose a valuable asset when the resignation of Robert S. Jenkins from the Plymouth Community Board of Education becomes effective.

The recently elected board member announced his resignation this week - due to an unexpected personal opportunity which arose for him in another area. (See story on front page).

During his time on the school district's governing body, the Ph.D. whose doctoral thesis was devoted to financing public education made it quite apparent he was out to win no popularity contest.

And he made it clear that the status quo held no particular attraction for him.

In fact, Jenkins obviously ruffled a few feathers on the backs of incumbent board members with whom he had the courage to publicly disagree.

In his short tenure on the board, Robert Jenkins was tagged by some in the community whose special delight comes from affixing labels to public figures.

These are the persons who, before the election, contended that Jenkins would be a yes man for an incumbent board member simply because he was employed by the same large corpora-

After the election, others said he was acting as a vehicle for the teachers in the school system.

Still others accused the new board member of being "too outspoken" and castigated him for it.

And others began to circulate a vicious rumor that Jenkins was due for some sort of sinister ouster move because he voiced opposition to the established course of things in the school district.

All of which is pure, old-womanish, unfounded gossip.

Because of its unusual cultural heritage, the Plymouth Community holds a special attraction for many people - including, by their own admission, Bob and Peg Jenkins.

But, like any other community, it is victim at times of the kind of irresponsible rumor-mongering that springs from individuals whose noses are out of joint because another has dared to examine a given program and find it wanting.

This should not be.

There should always be room in an area for a voice of studied and reasoned dissension, a voice like that of Robert S. Jenkins.

There should be time and space and allowance to examine and question, ask and suggest.

And because of the explosive growth situation in The Plymouth Community School District, such methodology may be of extraordinary value.

That is why the departure of Jenkins from the Board of Education comes as a definite and obvious loss.

That is why this community needs more elected officials of his caliber.

JUDY GREEN was granted this year's Plymouth Education Association scholarship, and the check was presented to her last week by guidance counselor and PEA president James Doyle. LETTERS:

Whole community considered say Canton planners

September 23, 1965 Dear Editor:

In the September 9, 1965 issue of your newspaper, we observed an editorial entitled Master Plan Waste Looms. The editorial discussed the planning programs in three communities, The City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, and Canton Township.

It was emphasized that all or part of these communities formed the "Plymouth Community" served by the central business core of the City of Plymouth.

Inference was made that the local planning programs for each of these communities did not inlude an analysis of regional development factors and that the Comprehensive Development Plan for Canton Township considered only Canton and not the regional trends and community facilities which serve Canton.

We would like to make it clear that in the Comprehensive Development Plan for Canton Township, we have considered the regional setting around Canton and have considered the effect that neighboring cities such as Plymouth, Wayne, Belleville and Ypsilanti have upon the development patterns of Canton Township.

Canton Township is divided into several communities, the northern half more or less being oriented toward the City of Plymouth. The overlapping of the trade areas of shopping, community centers and schools into the 36 square mile area of Canton Township is clearly evident to us and is documented in our Comprehensive Development Plan. For example, the existing facilities and future expansion plans of the Plymouth Community, the Van Buren Public and the Wayne Community School Districts were intendents in each of these districts.

Likewise, recreational facilities, fire protection, law enforcement, hospitals, libraries, and other facilities within or outside the Township were investigated and recommendations made on the most efficient expansion of such services to serve the regional area.

We feel that Canton Township, with its completed Comprehensive Development Plan and ordinances, such as zoning, can in the future reasonably regulate urban development which is likely to come into the Township from many directions. Whether the Township will remain intact as a governmental unit for all times to come cannot be guaranteed; however, the influence of new development coming into the Township from the direction of Detroit, Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti, or Plymouth must be recognized.

Good land use planning and community facility planning is mandatory for a township and for cities and villages. We would hope that there would be no premature division of Canton Township into small units of government similar to that which occurred in Royal Oak Township in Oakland County where 12 or more cities now compete for or duplicate facilities.

Until such time as the population density and governmental needs dictate a new form of government for the Canton Township area, we firmly believe that nearby existing cities such as Plymouth and Wayne can well serve today the major community needs for some facilities. However, for more convenient and more central location and efficiency of operation, we feel that certain shopping and community facilities can better be located within central aseas of the Township in the near future. In summary, we feel that cur several years of careful planning study for the Canton Township community, backed up by our similar programs in the neighboring adjacent Townships of Nankin, Van Buren, and Supericr (located in Washtenaw County) have given us an unequalled opportunity to assess and plan for regional facility needs.

We would recommend your examination of the Canton Plan and your observation of how Canton has considered the future plans of its neigh-

EDITOR'S NOTE: To give Dave Wiley a vacation from column writing, Plymouth Mail News Editor Doug Johnson is filling in this week with this commentary.

Governor George Romney, like many other men in America, would like to be President. But unlike many other men, Romney has a chance of at least running.

There isn't any doubt in my mind that he wants to, and that he will, if all the political winds blow right.

Romney kept his head while all those about him were losing theirs in last year's bitter and fierce Presidential race. He ran more on a Romney ticket than a Republican ticket, and was the one golden standout in an election that saw an unprecedented whitewashing of the Grand Old Party.

Minutes after his re-election was assured, State and National commentators were talking about that man from Michigan, George Romney, who eeked out an individual victory in a massive Democratic landslide. Romney won by almost 400,000 votes about a year ago, while Johnson was winning by one million in Michigan. They are still talking about that. George Romney wants to be President.

Look at some of the facts. Romney has accepted speaking engagements outside of Michigan, and has shown a deep interest in national and international affairs. Take a speech he made in mid-April to the annual meeting of the Associated Press in New York. Editors and writers from the far-flung corners of the country were impressed by the speech. Wrote the Denver Post: "His comments were pointed, effectively phrased and challenging. Delivered by one of our most prominent Republicans, they impressed the newsmen with their sincere and statesman-like approach to national Romney got to the Associated Press boys and they liked him.

In Michigan, it seems to this writer that Romney has kept considerable egg off his face while he battled formidable odds in the Legislature. (In the Senate, Democrats have a 23-14 edge over the GOP and a 72-37 edge in the House).

Romney has continued to press for fiscal reform, risking the label of 'income tax governor.' Recently, Democrats killed his latest tax reform moves. As of last Friday, the two houses were arguing about what to put on the agenda for the special session. And that's all they have done for two weeks, or more.

Then Sunday, The Free Press reported Romney was the Number Two Republican contender in the Gallup Poll for the 1968 Presidetnial nomination.

Romney himself has been doing the good 'ol Presidential Noncommittal.

For those who don't know, the Presidential Noncommittal is a stock mixture of energetic interest, a continued effort to keep the name before the National voters, and a quiet "No" when asked "will you?" In any event, you can be sure of one thing. The man from Utah who began his career as a tariff specialist, moved into the top position in American Motors, and then became Michigan's first Republican Governor in Lord knows how long, and isn't about to retire.

Nor do I think he'll run for the Senate. That possibility hinges, of course, upon whether or not Senator Patrick McNamara should retire in 1966, as has been speculated. That would be a blow to Michigan, and do little good for Romney. McNamara is top dog in the powerful Public Works committee, (the ol' Pork Barrel) and Michigan has received all sorts of Federal goodies since he got there. And Romney, as a freshman Senator, would have little political power to Thus endeth my foray into political forecasting. If it sounds naive, perhaps it is. But with National Republicans faced with al sorts of splinter groups on the far right, and dissension among rank and file, an individual like Romney can do wonders for the GOP ratings.

One of the things I like about Romney is his approach to the national poverty programs. He hits out, like traditional Republicans should, at Federal intervention into state and local affairs.

But aside from the traditional party line comments, he offers his own unique brand of insight. Take this for instance.

He says we should call our system of economic operation 'consumerism,' not capitalism. Romney points to the few who control in capitalism, "skimming the cream off the top."

But that's not what what we have, or can have, Romney declares. Ultimately, it must be the consumer balloting in the free market place. Unfortunately with the vast power struggles of the companies and the unions, the customer has become a 'forgotten man.'

He says we are tremendously uninformed about that 'Other America,' the adject poor, at which the War on Poverty is aimed. Thus around the world, we have lost the respect of the have-not peoples; we have been unable to do on the home front what we say our system can do for them in their country, Romney

AAUW receives grant to aid women in faculty careers

'Ine first grant to help mature women prepare for faculty careers in higher education has been received by the College Faculty Program of the American Association of University Women (AAUW), Mrs. John Moehle, president of the Plymouth Branch announced.

The $2000 grant was contributed by the Chrysler Corporation Fund of Highland Park and may be used by college women for graduate study in any subject field leading to a higher education career in teaching, research or administration.

The gift initiates the Michigan autumn drive for contributions from individuals, businesses, and foundations for this state-wide program to prepare Michigan women to meet Michigan's faculty

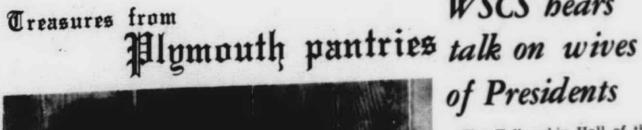

"The AAUW program is designed to increase the resources of well-qualified professional personnel for college and university posts. It will help Michigan colleges meet their acute need for faculty," Mrs. Moehle explained.

She added that it is estimated that each year for the next ten years Michigan will need over 3,000 new faculty, 41 percent for new positions. Additional funds must be obtained if the goal is to be met. The program seeks able women college graduates 35 years or older who need financial aid to undertake graduate work to prepare for such careers. The College Faculty Program will provide each selected recipient tuition and fees for an academic year plus a personal stipend related to her need.

These stipends can range from $600 to $2000 for fulltime graduate study. Awardees may attend any regionally accredited graduate school or program, but the stipend is based on the assumption that the school will be within commuting distance. For further information about this program phone Mrs. Moehle at GL. 3-5509 or write AAUW College Faculty Program, 2401 Virginia Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C.,

THE PISTOL CLUB will begin its fall season of matches Oct. 8, according to unofficial publicity chairman Joe L. Hudson. The club, shown here in their weekly Friday night session in the basement of the communty building on Union St., is seeking more members. The club belongs to the South Eastern Pistol League, and will shoot in eight matches this year. A new instructor, Al Whitman, helps the group. C. Carmichael is the senior range officer, and George Collier the president of the club. Formed several years ago by Jack Selle and Rip Collins, the club now has 45 members, with several that are on the team that competes in matches.

boys repeated an exciting adventure again last Saturday afternoon. They had a sail boat race on Portage Lake which involved six sailfish class boats; twenty-four participated in this event.

The activity was planned by Kal Jabara who was assisted by George Lawton, Earl Merriman, and Harold Guenther.

The boys were taught the techniques of sailing and water safety. All the boys wore life preservers as a safety precaution.

The fun began about 11 a.m. Saturday morning and they returned to Plymouth about five that evening, a tired but happy crew.

Tigers Promote Fenkell

Appointment of Neal K. (Doc) Fenkell as operations and sales manager of the Detroit Tiger Television Network was announced recently by John E. Fetzer, owner and president of the Tigers. Fenkell makes his home in Plymouth. Fenkell has been traffic director of the club-operaed network this season, in addition to filling the duties of director of group ticket sales and special events.

He will devote his entire time to television duties in the future, Fetzer said. His ofices will be at Tiger Stadium.

THE TIGERS this year inaugurated a new television policy under which the club retained the rights, produced the baseball telecasts and sold the advertising on a spot

"The plan was a success in 1965 and we expect it to be even more successful in 1966," Fetzer said in announcing Fenkell's new duties. Fenkell, who formerly was public relations director of the Tigers and later the manager of the club's speakers bureau, is a graduate of Hillsdale College with previous experience in the advertising and automotive fields.

curriculum will be introduced into Plymouth schools this year. The new curriculum is an outgrowth of the Human Growth and Development committee formed to study the matter several months

The committee presented the first part of its program at a school board meeting two weeks ago.

Superintendent in charge of secondary instruction William Harding, a member of the committee, reported on the new curriculum, and told the board that only the first half was done . . . grades K-6.

"We still need lots of voices in this thing. We want to get everybody involved," Harding said.

The committee has worked quietly and with little public controversy. The program is expected to be a natural outgrowth of normal class study.

IT WAS DECIDED early in the study that the new curriculum should include not just sex education but also development of "appropriate moral and social attitudes and values."

Members of the committee came from the schools, the YMCA, clergy and the medical profession.

Harding carefully emphasized that the program involved more than sex education. Every aspect of human growth and development was examined and included in the program.

The 46-page report consists of an outline of suggested topics and study areas, along with lists of resource materials, including films, books, and pamphlets.

Included in the plans are goals - teaching the correct "scientific terminology relating to the body and develop a wholesome attitude toward natural functions," according to the report, and to promoting "wholesome understanding and attitudes toward sexual development, marriage and family living."

Here's how the program breaks down into specific concepts and techniques:

Kindergarten

Teachers are asked to discuss personal hygiene and the use of proper terminology, using films, reading stories and showing pictures of animals and their families, and encouraging the child to relate to family experiences with a new baby and a pet.

First Grade

First graders are to be taught the similar life requirements of all animals, animal reproduction, care of the body, and, again, use of the correct names of body parts and functions. Animal reproduction may be discussed including eggs and live births.

Teachers' methods include posters on health habits, use of films, observation and study of animals and provision for the study of animal births and incubation of eggs.

Second Grade

Second grade teachers may emphasize the dependence of good health on care of the body, the importance of good character traits (honesty, kindness, courtesy) and the use of proper terminology. Methods suggested include-"conducting frank discussions using proper words in a quiet natural tone of voice." answering questions as they come up.

The outline also suggests films, trips to the zoo, use of stories to show the difference among family relationships in various animal species.

Third Grade Concepts to be taught are enlarging the proper vocabu-

A special sex education lary for human growth, health and safety practices and the need for family cooperation.

Included in the concepts are: reproduction of own species, beginning of life from a seed or egg, baby carried in a mother's body, length of time baby is carried, and the birth of a baby, discussed at the discretion of the teacher.

Methods include using plants to teach the elemental facts of reproduction, frank and quiet talks, with questions answered, to the child's satisfaction. Also, methods include the study of care and protection of animals, length of pregnancy and life spans, difference between live-bearing and egg-bearing animals, and reading books dealing with family life and human relations.

Fourth Grade

Concepts to be learned involve a factual understanding of body systems and their functions, personal care of the body and the importance of good attitudes in getting along with others. Also, the beginning of life with a seed, including pollination and development of the embryo are to be taught.

Fifth Grade More on the body system is to be taught, as well as personal health habits as they relate to community health, and effect of emotions on the individual.

The beginning of animal life with the union of a sperm and an egg is to be taught, including the fertilization process and embryonic development.

Sixth Grade

Sixth graders learn about cells as the unit of life, factors affecting health including alcohol, narcotics, tobacco. The relationship of physical, mental and emotional growth is to be discussed, as well as the similarity of human reproduction to that of other mammals.

These topics include male and female puberty changes, female and male reproductive organs, mating and the transfer of sperm from the male to the female, fertilization, development of the embryo an dbirth of a baby.

The outline also suggests the school nurse would be on hand to provide information about menstruation, preview information and materials on particular health problems and seek out permission from

At the time the final outline was submitted and adopted, it was noted that the curriculum did not involve any one course, but was to be integrated into all classes at all levels.

It was also noted that the entire undertaking was done with the sanction of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District.

Most people avoid bees-for obvious reasons. Rheumatism sufferers of old, however, tried to get stung. They thought bee stings were an effective treatment for rheumatism. Now most of us prefer the more reliable-and painless-remedies of today. Thanks to medical science we have many safe, fast-acting pain relievers. Other powerful drugs, too. When you're ill, take advantage of these newer medications -but only upon the advice of your physician. Then let us render complete prescription service.

It's 1966. Rise up with Dodge. Get with the swinging cars of the year!

Every one backed by a 5-year or 50,000-mile warranty.* Every one

Why wait, when your year is here? The year to snap tired old ties, to break old buying habits. The year to really express yourself . . . with the '66 swingers from Dodge. Different, exciting cars for people with different, exciting tastes. Rally 'round Dodge for '66. Dart, Coronet, Polara, Monaco . . . cars made to help you kick the dull driving habit. There are lots of Dodges for you to hang your personal rebellion on.

with these features that used to cost extra but now come standard: Outside mirror. Padded dash. Variable-speed electric windshield wipers and washers. Backup lights. Turn signals. Seat belts, two front and two rear. And lots more with Dodge . . . the beautiful Rebellion on wheels. Stir up your spirit and march to headquarters.

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the fi parts of its 1966 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired parts or its 1900 cars for 3 years or 50,000 times, whichever comes first, ourling which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repared at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor; engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transtch), * "we'cr ...ter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings.

REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chryst Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a store-house of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy. strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regu-larly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake children's sake. Once this vine was just a seedling, struggling to survive. Now look year it grows stronger and yields a greater harvest. The Christian faith has grown and flourished like the vine. From the seeds of the early church, Christianity continues to spread its joyful message to people everywhere. World-wide Communion Sunday is a day for Christians of every creed to meet in spirit at the Lord's Table. This annual event makes us deeply aware of our brotherhood within the Church whose truths we share. Come and take part in this special service. Your prayers, and those of all Christians, will combine to strengthen the roots of God's vine throughout the world.

The Commissioners discussed several ays of handling the project, which is unusual because it is five stories high. No present zoning allows it; however some of the Commissioners indicated they were favorable to the idea, and would seek proper zoning for the development, within the law.

In other discussion, during the commission session, the Commission decided to let controversial builder Thomas Cape fix up a City-owned street he has half-fixed now.

Cape paved the street illegally, according to City Attorney Edward Draugelis, several weeks ago. Since then he has been after the Commission to grant him extra land to meet density requirements for one of his apartment buildings.

THE CITY had vacated a portion of Byron Street for that purpose, but stop short because three lots would have been without access by a City street.

Cape wants more of the land vacated.

The Commission, once again Monday, said no. Although Cape was not present, Blodgett was instructed to file a formal report at next Monday's meet-

In the meantime, the Commission said "nothing doing" to more land.

Instead they want the already paved street widened, drainage fixed, a curb put in, and some reassurance that the three lots will have proper access to City streets.

Commissioners said they would hear no more requests until Cape had fixed the street to their satisfaction.

About two weeks ago, Cape stood before the Commission and said he was "broke," and needed the land to finish his Bryn Mawr apartment development.

Vallier was against vacating the rest of the street. "We have to stand up for a principle. Sure, it would be cheaper to do it (vacate). But look at the City employees he's abused. We need to stand up to the principle. And I'm willing to spend a little money to do it.' Blodgett is expected to report his recommendations Monday.

The Commissioners also heard a report from George Hudson on his study of the new zoning ordinance, and a comparison of it with several will transfer from the Lincoln-Mercury division of Ford. It is expected that he, his wife Peg, and their four daughters, will move from their Sheldon Rd. address in the near future.

The Board of Education will be faced with replacing Jenkins. School officials report that they can appoint a replacement. No indication of a successor for him was available as of Monday.

In a special letter to the Mail, Jenkins commented on his move:

"This resignation has been necessitated due to my acceptance of a unique personal opportunity extended by a major airlines which has corporate offices in New York

"I deeply regret that such an opportunity comes at a new term of office, and that I will be unable to fulfill the trusteeship given me in the June election. However, opportunity is not often predictable and certainly has not been for me. I have been associated with Ford Motor Company since 1951, and have lived in the general Plymouth area for many years. Consequently, it is very difficult for the Jenkins family to leave this lovely area and its many wonderful people, who have been so much a part of our lives.

We will follow Plymouth's future development with great interest, for it will always have a very special place in our hearts. We wish it the best of success in meeting its many challenges."

THE PERMANENT attached hood is an improvement over currently used removable hoods which require special handling and frequent repair and maintenance.

In addition to the new coil steel car, Evans also has on display an 89-ft flat car bearing a truck-trailer and a vancontainer equipped with the Evans bracing equipment recently approved by the Bureau of Explosives, American Association of Railroads, for trailer-on-flat-car and container-on-flat-car shipment of explosives, ammunition and other dangerous articles.

The device has also been approved by the U.S. Army and U.S. Navy for shipment of ammunition and explosives.

Evans Truck DF equipment consists of a series of belt rails affixed to each side of a truck-trailer or van-container, plus a number of movable crossmembers which lock into the belt rails, bracing the lading to prevent it from shifting and from dam-

Use of the device is not confined to ammunition shipments; it has been installed on more than 4,000 vehicles in 90 different fleets for use in restraining lading of all kinds. The crossmembers, in addition to serving a bracing function, permit double decking which, in many cases, doubles the payload.

Blodgett is expected to make a formal report at the regular meeting of the Commission next Monday.

In the meantime it was not clear what step the City fathers want to take next.

George Hudson had made the original move to close the lot, and said Monday he thought it might work for all the time. Hudson's suggestion at the time appeared to please several Commissioners, and the plan was adopted.

THE OCCASION was a meeting between the Commission, merchants and the Chamber of Commerce. At that time mixed reactions to the central parking lot solutions were expressed.
