

HAROLD FISCHER outlines gigantic cost of financing schools, and the need for more industry.

FISCHER SPEAKS

Forum told we need to do more to attract industry

Citing what other nearby communities were doing, and urging the Plymouth Community to do the same, Plymouth Area Planning Commission director Harold Fischer outlined how more industry is needed to offset the tax burden residents will have to bear in a special meeting before the Businessmen's Forum.

"It's up to the units of government to extend themselves as others have done, or face up to sending the tax burden to the people. It can be done. We need today a lot more -- not the word cooperation, but concrete cooperation.

Speaking before the Chamber of Commerce's monthly Forum meeting, Fischer told over 60 members present what Plymouth had to do to compete with other cities. He spoke to a noon meeting at the Mayflower Meeting House.

two Townships to secure more industrial tax base for the school district.

DECRYING the lack of salable industrial land in the Plymouth Community, Fischer said:

"Industry wants to know what is available today. This is hard in our community. When someone says to me, what do you have for me today? I have to say to him 'nothing'."

"The valuations behind each child in our school system have declined. In 1961, $21,300 stood behind each child. This year, it's $17,188. There is a real need for someone to become concerned about this decline in valuations," he continued.

FISCHER SAID he had counted

1485 homes on the brink of construction in the school district. Following the formula of 1.8 school age children per home, Fischer pointed out that if all the houses were built next year -- a possibility -- 5-1/2 additional tax mills would be needed, or an additional $23,000,000 in industrial assessed valuation.

It's quite a challenge. State aid and the local taxes meet only a part of the need. The scope of the problem can be seen in Livonia. They have a 36 square mile school district; our challenge is bigger, we have a 57 square mile district."

Pointing to the City of Plymouth's $110,000 expenditure to put their industrial park in salable conditions, he urged the same to be done with other vacant industrial land.

"This is what others are doing. We have that challenge before us. If we don't do what others have done, we'll face a tax increase. I have one suggestion. The efforts of the Plymouth Area Planning Commission should be expanded so that all areas of planning come within their jurisdiction. We have three planning groups, and there is no communication between any of them. All have different 701 master plans."

FISCHER SAID Class A roads, sewers and water lines were needed to put land on the mar-

Do Plymouth people want better water? City asks

Do the people of the City of Plymouth want better water?

That question, and several others will be reviewed by a special committee of City Commissioners appointed Monday night by Mayor James C. Houk. The appointments were made at the regular first Monday of the month meeting of the City fathers.

Mayor pro-tem James Jabara will head the committee, with James McKeon and Arch Vallier as members.

MCKEON over the past few weeks has urged the City administration to consider some kind of comprehensive poll of the City's water users, either through the newspapers or the water bills.

In any event, the committee is expected to get the general feeling of the community on upgrading the City's water, which is noted for its extreme hardness. McKeon commented on the question:

"Since we asked the question a few weeks ago, I've gotten four replies - two for, two against different water. We need more opinions."

Houk said the study was not to cover just the question of using Detroit water, but rather should include the entire water situation.

Commissioners wage war on old houses

Two City Commissioners have called for a step-up in condemning dilapidated homes in the City of Plymouth.

Commissioners George Lawton and Arch Vallier aired the matter before the Commission Monday night, in their regular meeting. Vallier, asking for an increase in inspections of older homes in the City, chided the City administration for being so slow to act.

And Lawton urged that something be done to protect the unsuspecting home buyer and home renter.

The matter came to the attention of the commission when Building Inspector Chuck Thompson and City Manager Richard Blodgett asked for permission to condemn a home owned by Pauline Nowotarski at 706 N. Holbrook. Condemnation takes Commission action; the owner was given sixty days to fix the house, or tear it down.

THOMPSON, armed with pictures of the structure, which he said had been recently occupied, reported that the soil pipes leaked, wires were exposed throughout, the floors sagged, the basement leaked and the roof sagged.

The house was ruled a health and fire hazard.

Vallier, noting he was unhappy with the whole situation of inspections in Plymouth, urged that all older homes be inspected on a regular basis.

He charged that homes were now being condemned only if a complaint was received;

"There's a heck of a lot of ordinances that aren't enforced. Are we going to wait until we get a complaint?"

Blodgett said that the job had to be done in Plymouth, but that the staff of the City was too limited. Blodgett also called for a full-time man to aid

City names patrolman as youth officer

A youth officer who will work with juvenile crime problems in the Plymouth Community was appointed Monday night by the Plymouth City Commission.

Rod Cannon, veteran Plymouth patrolman, will assume his duties as youth officer immediately. He will be replaced by a patrolman, yet to be hired. The appointment gives Plymouth an added policeman.

Cannon, 31, who joined the Plymouth force in October of 1957, is originally from Wayne. He spent four years as a Naval hospital corpsman.

He attended the Michigan State University basic training courses for police officers. Married, he and his wife have three children--two boys and a girl. Police chief Kenneth Fisher commented Monday on the appointment:

"Cannon is a very fine officer. He will be working with youth crimes, safety programs and juvenile court. He is also expected to use resource people in the community. We fully hope that much of his time will be spent on the preventative end of working with youth."

Cannon's specific duties have not been outlined because the department as yet has no experience with this type of position.

"We know basically what he'll do," Fisher said. "But we'll have to learn other things along the way. We've got to get a little experience ourselves."

City Manager Richard Blodgett announced the appointment.

Vallier expanded on it, and said they would explore the use of water softeners, and a proposal for treating Plymouth water will be turned over to the City's engineering consultants, Johnson and Anderson, Inc.

The problem has been around Plymouth for several years. The City owns its own source of water - a source the experts have told them will last until the year 2000.

But Plymouth Township, and sixty other suburban communities get water from the Detroit Water Supply Department. And, Detroit recently added a line down Sheldon Rd. to serve Plymouth Township.

Negotiations for Detroit water were entered into several years ago, but were not fruitful. Many City Commissioners have an independent position on the matter, noting that turning the water system over to Detroit would mean losing several local perogatives.

ON OTHER MATTERS, the commission:

*Approved sending Houk, City Manager Richard Blodgett, and three commissioners to the Chamber of Commerce's week-end leadership conferences at Hillsdale College in March.

*Approved a permanent contract for Sheldon G. Hayes to operate the Salem Township dump for the City residents. The dump will be open six days a week.

*Appointed Dennis Brown Grimes, 45, retired 23-year serviceman, as City constable. He works for the court serving papers.

*Approved the sale of the old ladder truck to Margolis Nursery, Ypsilanti, for $200.

*Decided to seek bids for a lot next to Snyder's furniture after James Roberts protested the handling of two offers for the land - his, and Gerry Snyder's. He said he felt his bid, $4000, had been leaked out. Snyder's was $4100.

To hold Medicare meeting Feb. 18

The Detroit Social Security office has scheduled a special "Medicare" meeting in Plymouth for Friday, Feb. 18, at the First Methodist Church.

Beginning at 1 p.m. and running until 4 p.m., the meeting will feature representatives of the Social Security Administration.

They will be on hand to sign people up for "Medicare", and answer questions.

The meeting is for people over 65 who have not signed up.

VanderJagt is presently a State senator from the 36th District. A graduate of the University of Michigan Law School, VanderJagt has been a TV news director and a foreign correspondent.

Monday, VanderJagt was listed as the top candidate to oppose incumbent Senator Patrick V. McNamara by Governor George Romney.

But Herald Hamill says Township doing its share

Herald F. Hamill, Plymouth Township engineer, took the floor at the Forum meeting Thursday noon and said he resented the implication of Harold Fischer's remarks.

Fischer had just finished speaking on the importance of industry, and had outlined what other communities, including the City of Plymouth, had done to attract industry by creating fully developed plots. Hamill said:

"I think you have been implying that the Township hasn't been doing its share. I'd just like to say the Spartan Stores sale was a result of a water main we put down there."

"And there have been other developments because of what the Township has built. I resent the implication that the Township is not doing its share," Hamill concluded.

Fischer replied that he had not singled out any segment of the community, and that it was a community-wide problem:

"This problem is the whole community's. The school district will always stand. We pay more than 70% of our taxes to the school system."

Hamill more than once has taken the floor to defend the Township. At the close meeting of the Chamber of Commerce's Forum in January, at which Township supervisor John D. McEwen was questioned on cooperation, Hamill stood to the podium and pointed out the areas in which the Township had cooperated, including water mains which could be easily tied into the City of Plymouth, and the use of the Township's sewer lines by the City.

'Be Prepared,' for Boy Scout Week and Valentine's Day

The next week is important for two reasons. If you've got a young Boy Scout in the home, you probably already know that Feb. 7 - 13 is National Boy Scout Week.

And if you've got a wife or a husband or a sweetheart of some kind, you'd better not forget that next Monday, Feb. 14, is Valentine's Day.

The next page of this section will find a full page of Valentine gift suggestions from local merchants. Get it out and carry it around in your pocket.

If your sweetheart hollers at you because the newspaper is making a fuss about you'll be secure in the knowledge that you won't get hollered at because you forgot Valentine's Day.

Read the ad and then go stand in the rain or snow or whatever and watch them. You'll wish you were young again.

Exchange teacher views life in a small town

The Plymouth Education Association hosted a fellow educator from Japan this week.

Tomoyoshi GenKawa, in the United States on a Fulbright Scholarship, has been teaching at San Francisco State College.

In Japan, he teaches English at Doshisha Kori High School in Neyagawa. In Plymouth on part of a cross-country tour of the U.S., GenKawa is staying at the homes of teachers Dick Wagar and Ed Brown. PEA president Jim Doyle has acted as unofficial tour guide, and he said last week:

"He will be here a week; we expect him to talk to different classes on Japanese customs. He was sent to Plymouth to relax, and to get a taste of life in a small town."

GenKawa, an articulate and friendly man, told the Mail he was here for six months to study American teaching methodology.

"The methodology here is very different. Here, the classrooms are more active --noisy. Here, you encourage talking and discussing; the schools keep the students very busy. In Japan, (Continued on Page 2)

Old houses

Thompson in inspections, and asked that such a man be included in the next budget.

Vallier wasn't satisfied with the answer: "We don't have to wait for a complaint," he said. You know the ones that have to be checked. Chuck (Charles Thompson), you know of 25 that should be inspected right now. Even if we did one a month it would be better than what we are doing."

MAYOR JAMES Houk pointed to the recent campaign in the Detroit papers rapping the Detroit Common Council for their slowness to act on old homes and said that he didn't want that to happen here.

Lawton commented on another aspect of the problem:

"Housing in Plymouth is at a tremendous premium and in tremendous demand. How can we protect the unsuspecting home buyer? We owe a responsibility to protect those unwary people coming in, if we can."

Both Vallier and Lawton noted they had toured a house sold recently that was in worse shape than the one on Holbrook.

Commissioner Jim McKeon said he felt Thompson might jot down houses he has questions about and make a list, as he makes his regular tour of the City. Thompson noted that he was faced with inspecting 600 rental units a year.

Vallier asked that several other houses be inspected right away:

"We always get the excuse that we don't have time. We could check one a month. There are houses in town that are in the same condition as these, and I don't want us to wait for complaints.

Feast on flavor with individual servings of lamb shanks braised in barbecue sauce, then serve on a fluffy bed of hot rice.

Barbecued lamb shanks

Surprise the family with a novel dinner entree, just when they begin to think they can guess what you're going to have.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks have the flavor everyone likes as well as the color appeal that only ruddy-red sauce, well browned meat and snowy mounds of white rice can give.

Lamb shanks, once called trotters, contain shank bones, layers of meat, all covered with the thin paper-like substance called "fell" which is associated with lamb. This "fell" need not be removed, states meat authority Reba Staggs. It helps the cut keep its shape during the long, slow cooking period.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks
6 lamb shanks
1/2 cup enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt

- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1 cup catchup
- 3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1 cup water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon red pepper
- 3 cups hot, cooked rice

Dredge lamb shanks in seasoned flour. Brown slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over lamb shanks. Cover and simmer until tender, about 2 hours. Serve over rice. 6 servings.

Restoring antiques: how to do it

Scouring the antique shops for a real buy has become a national weekend pastime. Should you be bitten by the collecting bug and at some time or other come up with a nice old chair, table or footstool . . . it probably needs restoring, or at best, a thorough cleaning. If you're a do-it-yourself enthusiast, and if the piece doesn't turn out to be of tremendous value (in which case it needs the tender knowing care of an expert), it can be fun to do the restoring yourself. Here are a few helpful hints for the project.

Bear in mind that paint-remover is never used on an antique except when the piece has been plastered with layer upon layer of paint. The professional restorers usually work with sal soda concentrated dissolved in hot water.

If you just want to get rid of accumulated grime, grease and furniture polish before applying a fresh clear finish, wash down your find with a solution of two heaping tablespoons of sal to the gallon of hot water. Rinse and let dry thoroughly.

On veneered pieces, use the solution sparingly, washing, rinsing and drying each surface independently and quickly so as not to loosen the veneer.

When completely dry, sand lightly and apply the finish.

When it comes to refractory paints . . . old paints that were made by combining a pigment with skim milk or buttermilk . . . which are almost impossible to get off with paint or varnish remover . . . mix up a strong solution of sal soda. Use a full pound package to five quarts of hot water. Have a bucket of fresh water handy for rinsing. Using a dish mop, soak one surface at a time with the solution, let stand for half a minute and then scrub vigorously with a good stiff brush.

This same strong solution does an excellent job of cleaning a piece of furniture on which you've mistakenly used paint or varnish remover and which has dried leaving a residue of paint color. Scrub with clear water and dry.

Another important point to bear in mind is never to use nails or screws on antiques. When a loose joint must be secured, use glue and a dowel if at all possible. And don't use fresh glue on top of old glue. Before regluing any old joint, scrape away every trace of the old glue. The new glue on each part must then soak into the cleaned surface of the wood before the parts can be put back together. The piece must be clamped with weights and then left alone for eight hours to give the glue a chance to harden thoroughly.

PAINTER'S WARNING
Never use anti-freeze alcohol to thin shellac. Only high-grade denatured alcohol is successful. Your paint dealer will advise you.

the teacher talks and the students listen," he said.

"Japanese students are rather obedient; there is a big difference. Their main concern is to pass the examinations. In Japan they always must study to go away to the University. Students here don't have to worry about that very difficult college entrance examination."

GenKawa said he liked America, but found many bus drivers and clerks very rude.

GenKawa expressed a desire to see the famed Rouge Ford plant, and was expected to tour that sometime this week.

The visit climaxes his work at San Francisco State College where he worked in special courses for international teachers.

Two people were injured slightly last Wednesday when they were involved in a four-car chain reaction accident on Ann Arbor Rd., according to City of Plymouth Police. John C. Parmenter, 9894 Elmhurst, and John A. Beems, 11681 Amherst Cr. were injured.

The accident happened when a car driven by Irving Riutta of Livonia stopped to make a left turn off of Ann Arbor Rd. Parmenter pulled up behind him to wait, as did Beems.

Then Gilbert Thompson of Highland Park skidded and hit Beem's car, causing a chain reaction that damaged all four cars.

Thompson was ticketed with failure to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

The campaign begins

It is almost post time for many state and national races, with many fine candidates pacing near the starting gates.

One interesting race will be in the second United States Congressional District. Taken in November of 1964 by a moderate Democrat, Weston E. Vivian, the seat will be up for grabs this year. Vivian is said to have won on the coat tails of the Lyndon Johnson landslide; he beat seven-term Republican George Meader.

Vivian will face whoever the Republicans come up with in a District that covers part of Washtenaw, Wayne, Livingston, Lenawee and Monroe Counties.

Possibilities include Meader, Stanley Thayer, one-time State senator; Gil Bursley, senator from the 18th State senatorial district; Marvin Esch, Ann Arbor State House of Representatives member, and Ph.D.; and Thomas Sharpe, Howell representative, farmer and real estate salesman.

A decision is expected very soon, with Thayer as the Number One runner.

He may be the only runner if the local Republicans close ranks, and run only one candidate through the primary.

In any event, the race could go either way. Vivian has been a constant campaigner since his election. For instance, he has appeared in Plymouth just to plain chat with people several times; he spent considerable time at the Fall Festival.

It is reported Vivian is home every weekend, and often during the week.

Monday, the Democrats began to put the campaign on the road. Vice-president Hubert Humphrey spoke at Eastern Michigan University, his second trip to this area in the past five months. He was hosted by Vivian.

Ostensibly he was here, "as a representative of the President's Youth Opportunity Task Force."

Any help he could give Vivian was, of course, beside the point.

Vivian clearly has the jump on any Republican, even though the District has traditionally belonged to the GOP. He won the District by a scant 1526 votes; he only won the primary by 72 votes. He knows he's in for a real battle and that's what any GOP hopeful will get.

He is young, articulate and brainy, has been a good Democrat and has a strong following in Ann Arbor, his home town.

What kind of showing the GOP makes depends on how strong the candidate is; Vivian's chances will be upped several percentage points if it isn't the best possible man.

School Board views sites for two schools

Sites for two new schools were discussed in an executive session of the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education Wednesday night.

The first is located in the general area south of Salem Square and Ann Arbor Rd., according to superintendent of schools, Russell Isbister.

Isbister reported Monday that the site was being considered either for elementary school Number 8 (the new one in Lake Pointe is Number 7), or for a third junior high school.

He said formal action on the purchase will be taken at the Board's meeting Monday, Feb. 14.

ANOTHER site in the same general area was also discussed, and Isbister said he hopes to get that site nailed down soon.

Both sites are expected to serve the influx of students from the new subdivisions in the southeastern portion of Plymouth Township and the northern corner of Canton Township.

Mysterious blaze wrecks Township home Saturday

Investigation into a mysterious blaze that gutted the home of E. H. Merchant, 9668 Haggerty Rd. Saturday is continuing under the direction of Plymouth Township fire department Captain Barney Maas.

The fire destroyed a rear bedroom, and did considerable smoke and heat damage to the rest of the structure.

THE FIRE was reported early in the morning - 3:17 a.m. - by Mrs. Merchant. They had left the house around nine.

When they returned around 3:15 a.m., Merchant found the house filled with smoke. He walked to the rear bedroom, and opened the door.

There was a small explosion, he reported, possibly caused by opening an already hot fire to air.

MERCHANT turned to his wife and told her to call the fire department.

Mrs. Merchant delayed things a bit by giving the wrong address; in her excitement she gave one down the street, according to the fire report.

Maas was the first one on the scene. He entered the home and began fighting the fire immediately.

MAAS reports the fire began in the rear bedroom, spread to the hall and middle bedroom. He reports extensive smoke and heat damage in the bathroom, living room and front bedroom, and other damage throughout the house.

The area where the fire ignited was burned so badly that the fire's origin remains undetermined. Firemen report the house may have been burning inside for some time.

The fire caused little stir in the neighborhood. Firemen were forced to wake people up next door in order to use their supply of electrical current.

GOP Dinner

The dinner will be held at the Meeting House located above the Chamber of Commerce office on Main St., beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Local and state-wide Republican officials, as well as possible candidates will be on hand for the affair.

Guest speaker at the campaign kick-off dinner Elly Peterson will outline political plans for the 1966 campaign.

Special entertainment of the evening will be provided by well-known magician Roy Rew, of Plymouth, who will demonstrate sleight-of-hand and Extra-Sensory-Perception, among others.

Menu for the evening will include braised Michigan beef, marinated in Paw Paw wine, served on corn bread rounds, Waldorf salad and cherry pie. All the food is being donated, according to Mrs. Roy Jacobus, general chairman of the dinner.

TICKETS, priced at $2 each, are still available from Ed Johanson, ticket chairman, (453-0895) and Mrs. Jacobus (453-5543). Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Mrs. Elly Peterson of Charlotte, Michigan was born in New Berlin, Illinois. She is the wife of U.S. Army Colonel William Peterson. She attended William Woods College, Fulton, Mo.; Northwestern University, Chicago, Ill.

Her professional and civic background include two years as hospital secretary, American Red Cross; former County President, ARC; former director, ARC Regional Blood Program; former officer, American Cancer County Committee. She is a member of the Congregational Church; American Legion Auxiliary; Lansing Business and Professional Women's Club; Ingham County Republican Business Women's Club; member and former officer of the Eaton County and Charlotte Republican Committee.

She got an early start in politics, joining the Young Republican Club of Oak Park, Illinois, at the age of 21.

A successful organizer in Michigan Republican campaigns, Mrs. Peterson served for three years as aide to former State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer, before being appointed the first woman director of Field Organization for Republican State Central in 1961.

HER SPECIFIC contribution in organizing the women of Michigan is acknowledged to have been a vital factor in ending the Democratic supremacy with the election of Governor George Romney.

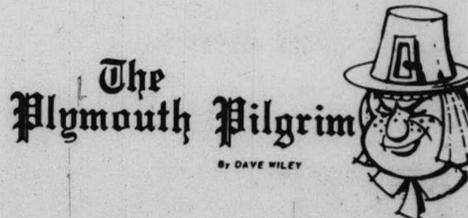

Mrs. Peterson was elected State Vice-Chairman in 1961 and reelected in 1963.

On Sept. 27, 1963, she was appointed first Executive Director of the Women's Division, Republican National Committee from Michigan. On Jan. 1, 1964, she was chosen by National Committee Chairman, William E. Miller, as the assistant Chairman of the Republican National Committee, the first one from Michigan.

During the 1964 Republican National Convention, aside from her many specific duties, she gave a major address before the convention's Monday evening session.

In 1964, she became the Republican Nominee for the United States Senate—the first woman of either Party to be chosen in the State of Michigan.

At the annual Republican State Convention in Lansing on February 19-20, 1965; Elly M. Peterson was unanimously acclaimed Republican State Central Committee Chairman. She is the first woman elected state chairman in the history of the Republican Party nationwide.

Back in the saddle. What with gallivanting around the state to the annual Press blowout and trotting around Plymouth to sing the praises of Plymouth Mail advertising, this column didn't get written last week.

While the cries of agony from faithful readers have been a bit less than overwhelming, some people accused me of writing the piece that appeared here a week ago.

But I bravely told the JayCeas and Dr. McFarland that I had nothing to do with it.

Speaking of Dr. McFarland, the community is still humming with comment about his sonorous remarks at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner.

With apologies to the late Sir Winston, never have so many sat so long to hear so little from a man who was paid so much.

Six hundred bucks.

Wow.

I am now available for public speaking engagements to anyone at any time.

Cheap.

Politics are acceptable conversation again as we get into another election year.

One prominent Plymouth public servant recently wagered the price of a Mayflower Hotel Coffee Shop steak dinner that middle-aged movie has-been Ronald Reagan would clobber California Governor Pat Brown.

And the GOP is developing some degree of affection for New York City Mayor John Lindsay.

Only a few months back, Lindsay was being repudiated as a political turncoat, a raving, wild-eyed liberal and man who didn't deserve to wear the label of the Grand Old Party.

Now he is being clasped to the opulent bosom of Republican officialdom.

Everybody likes a winner.

One of the speakers at the Michigan Fourth Estate's gathering in Lansing was Vermont Connecticut Royster, editor of "The Wall Street Journal."

His name is for real.

Royster comes from a family where all the kids were tagged with state names.

Names like Delaware Alabama Royster and Georgia Carolina Royster. I couldn't get to him to ask if he was related to Kan. Wash. Royster.

If I ever see his wife, Alaska.

Anyway, (phew! Yeah, I know, they were pretty bad), Royster spoke about some of the changes newspapers must face up to.

And he struck a responsive chord.

I have been wondering for a long time whether community newspapers such as The Plymouth Mail are right in devoting as much sheer volume as they do to detailed reporting of governmental meetings.

Commissioners and trustees and board members probably read them with great care; but I wonder if anyone else does. The space might better be devoted to background stories and readable, personality-oriented, atmosphere stories on the meetings.

Perhaps we shall see.

Doug Johnson is a fink.

This week, in his column on Page B-4 (that's the page that comes before before), he implies that my driving is a trifle flamboyant.

All of which is grossly untrue.

My four-on-the-floor station wagon will not do 85 in first gear.

The valves begin to float at 80.

The Good Lifer's prejudices were born last summer when I told him I thought we should do a story on Ford Road drag racing. After an evening in my car looking for the place where the action is, Doug came up with a better idea.

He's going to take his car and pose as an enfeebled geriatrics case so he can do a tear jerker on the hurdles senior citizens must overcome in a driver's license re-examination.

The 4 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Lewis of Fruitport, assisted by Rev. Robert Cassell of Petrolia, Pa., a cousin of the bridegroom's.

The other attendants were her sister, Patty, Jill Daniels of Muskegon, Carole Loesch, sister of the bridegroom, and Martha Usiak of Shelby, Mich. Child's Dental Education Begins Prior To Formal Schooling

LANSING: We all know that before your child starts school, it is important that he have a dental as well as a medical checkup. Many persons, however, don't realize that dental care should be started before the child reaches school age.

Good dental habits started at an early age are likely to be continued throughout life, says the Michigan State Dental Association. They, like other dental groups throughout the country, are stressing the importance of proper dental care during National Children's Dental Health Week, February 6 to 12. The state association, in cooperation with schools, PTA groups and service clubs, is distributing information on children's dental health throughout Michigan to reach as many families as possible during this 18th national observance of Children's Dental Health Week.

Primary Teeth Important

Dr. Percy J. Ross, MSDA president, says that primary teeth should have the same care as permanent teeth.

"A youngster needs his first teeth for chewing, preserving space for permanent teeth, good speech habits and for overall better health," Dr. Ross said.

He advised parents that a child should first see the dentist when all of his primary teeth have erupted.

"This is usually when the child is between 2 and 3 years of age," Dr. Ross said. "He may only need to have his teeth examined, x-rayed and cleaned, but an alarming number of pre-school children have decayed teeth that need attention."

Basis For Permanent Teeth

A youngster needs good primary teeth to help develop and maintain the shape of the dental arch and to preserve the space intended for permanent teeth.

If a "first" tooth is lost too soon, adjacent teeth may move together. This "slippage" narrows or closes the space intended for the permanent tooth, thus creating a barrier for the permanent tooth. This often creates crooked teeth, and a subsequent faulty bite.

Educational Process

Proper brushing immediately after eating and periodic visits to the dentist are the best ways of ensuring good teeth for life.

A mother should start brushing her child's teeth as soon as the child will accept it. At first the parent will have to do the brushing, but by the time a child has all of his first teeth, he will accept the idea and will want to do most of the brushing himself.

National statistics show that less than 50 percent of all Americans visit their dentists regularly. Michigan dentists are hoping to help improve this percentage through the educational activities scheduled to take place during National Children's Dental Health Week.

Good dental practices started at an early age will mean your child can "keep a smile for his future".

Dentists will hold programs on dental health

The Plymouth Dental Association, in conjunction with National Health Week, will conduct a series of programs for all fourth grade students this week.

The program includes parochial schools.

Mayor James Houk has proclaimed this week National Dental Health Week in Plymouth.

The program, directed by dentists Bob Evans, Fred Foust and Gary Hall, will feature dental health movies. In addition, a free dental health kit will be passed out, containing dental care tips, tooth brush and tooth paste.

THE PLANS for a youth officer were initiated several months ago by City Commissioner George Lawton, but the matter was sidelined when funds were trimmed from the budget. Then this fall a special committee of commissioners set to work on the problem.

Fischer

(Continued from Page 1) ket. For instance, the City of Livonia paved a mile of highway, put in sewers and water lines to encourage industrial development on land in the Middlebelt-Merriman Road area. "I'm not afraid to scramble. But I've got to have something to sell," Fischer concluded. Fischer was recently instrumental in the sale of 35 acres of Plymouth Township land to the Spartan Stores, Inc. who plan to build a warehouse on it.

FISCHER carefully outlined his reason for concern, pointing out that each home produced 1.8 children for the schools, the cost per child to educate was running about $527, thus each home would have 1.8 children or a cost of $974. Deducting state aid ($323) and local average home taxes ($225), a net total of $548 must come from other than residential property tax. He saw some bright spots: "We do have vacant land, and we do have the possibility of sewer, water and Class A roads."

betterment of our youth through J.A. is of tremendous importance and we all know that it just doesn't happen accidentally. It takes a coordinated effort on the part of every member of the community to guarantee a good Junior Achievement operation in Plymouth. The teenagers are sold on J.A. and we receive excellent cooperation from our educators. Now it is up to us to provide the necessary funds."

Junior Achievement is a non-profit, educational organization for teenagers that serves as a necessary supplement for their regular school work and provides a "learn-by-doing" laboratory for their economic education.

In Junior Achievement, young adults 15-19 years old increase their knowledge of American free enterprise by operating their own miniature corporations.

With the financial support of individuals and local business firms, Junior Achievement provides the business center, office and the production equipment each company needs. The company also pays a nominal sum for rent, capital deposit, which is returned to the Achievers in the form of workshops and scholarships. As in big businesses, the teenagers pay themselves wages and commission out of their profits.

In the process of running their own companies, teenage members learn to keep various production records, map sales campaigns, plan advertising and prepare financial statements.

These miniature companies then continue to function and prosper until the end of the school year much the way their cousins do in big business. In May, the companies are voluntarily liquidated and the stockholders sent a report of company standing. In October, the cycle is started all over again.

Plymouth Hi-Lites

By Judi King

Visiting Plymouth for 10 days is Mr. Tomoyoshi Genkawa, an English teacher from Kyoto, Japan. Hosted by the Plymouth Education Association, Mr. Genkawa has been staying with teachers Mr. Richard Wagar and Mr. Edward Brown. PHS extends a special "Hi!" to our Japanese friend!

A special hello is also sent out to Jeff Cardinal, who is once again back in the hospital. His address for all those well-wishers who would like to send him a card: Jeff Cardinal, Harper Hospital, Detroit, Michigan, room 311 N.

Jan Marshall, president of the Future Teachers Club, has announced that on March 1 lucky PHS students will be able to see their favorite future teachers at work. Eight members of the club will assume the duties of teacher in one of their classes for the day. Other officers of the club are Sue Davis, vice-president; Nancy Esch, secretary; and Mary Ann Sincoc, treasurer.

Also on the club scene: 58 members of the Plymouth Teen Ski Club traveled to Silver Bell Friday night for a wonderful ski evening. Newly-elected officers of that club are Jan Covington, president; Larry Ciampa, vice-president; and Dana Conedera, secretary-treasurer.

Busy band and orchestra members are preparing for the District Solo and Ensemble Festival to be held this Saturday. The annual festival is open to students in grades 9-12, and offers them a chance to compete with others in different musical fields. Professional musicians from the Detroit Symphony and the University of Michigan Music Department will act as judges, rating the students from 1, superior to 5, poor.

The Dress Code Committee, headed by Mrs. Evelyn Edgar, has recommended the following code for boys' school attire:

- 1. Boys' shirts must be worn tucked inside trousers unless the shirt is tailored square cut at the bottom and intended for outside wear.

- 2. Sweatshirts may not be worn in school.
- 3. Sweaters must be worn over a sport or dress shirt.
- 4. Socks must be worn with all types of shoes.

Now, really, it seems that the dress committee is making rules that should have already been assumed!

Plymouth High students will soon be able to purchase student directories from the Student Council. Senior representative Cindy Erdelyi is in charge of the project and the Council has decided to include the names of the present classes of '67, '68, and '69 in the book.

As a "final" note—Cheryl and Pat Dreenan spent their last night in Plymouth before moving to Toledo, Ohio, in the grand "sending-off" fashion! Cheryl was guest of honor at a slumber (?) party held by Gayle Meyers while Lynn Folino and Chris Dupra surprised Pat with a party at the Lake Pointe Club House. The Stringbenders provided the entertainment at the Club House while the "sleepy" girls just entertained themselves by doing everything but sleeping!

Best of luck to Cheryl and Pat in their new home!

HARE SPEAKS :

Why you must pay $1 to get those plates

Secretary of State James M. Hare has answered the biggest question being asked by the branch managers by the public—Why didn't Michigan lawmakers enact a compulsory automobile liability insurance law instead of legislation creating the new Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund?

"Enacting a compulsory automobile liability insurance law rather than establishing the Motor Vehicle Accidents Claims Fund would never have achieved the purpose desired by its backers.

The Plymouth Branch of the Michigan Department of State will remain open Saturdays, Feb. 12, 19 and 26 until 9 p.m., to handle the extra load for license plate applicants.

Two places offer plates: The Automobile Club of America in the First Federal building, and the Secretary of State's office on Liberty St. between Mill and Starkweather Streets.

"Only three states, Massachusetts, New York, and North Carolina, have compulsory automobile liability insurance laws. None of the three has achieved the purpose of the legislation. Total insuring of its motorists.

"Instead, hundreds of thousands of uninsured drivers operate on the streets and highways of the three states every day, making a mockery of the law. In North Carolina, it is estimated that the number of uninsured drivers runs as high as 150,000," said Hare.

THE SECRETARY OF State further explained that after their compulsory laws went into effect, New York State and North Carolina found there were still so many uninsured drivers on their streets and highways that both states had to enact uninsured motorist coverage laws. This was a frank admission that their compulsory laws had failed, Hare said.

"The theory of a compulsory automobile insurance law is to require every motorist to carry insurance. The idea seems good, but in actual practice it doesn't work that way. A compulsory law cannot protect against the following irresponsible who are on the highways in great numbers:

- Operators of stolen cars.
- Uninsured out-of-state drivers. (Well over 4-million tourist driver vehicles from out-of-state enter Michigan annually.)
- Unapprehended hit-and-run drivers.
- Uninsured motorists whose licenses or registrations have been suspended.
- Newly arrived uninsured residents whose cars are still registered in another state.
- Insurance dodgers who cancel their insurance or intentionally let it lapse after obtaining registration for their cars.

Hare also noted that in the states where the compulsory laws have been enacted the costs of insurance have gone up.

"Massachusetts and New York motorists pay the highest insurance rates in the country—twice the national average. North Carolina rates rose 38 per cent during the first five years of its compulsory law, and are still inadequate," he added.

Here also noted that keeping the files for a compulsory system would cost taxpayers thousands of dollars in additional funds.

After spending two weeks studying the New York and North Carolina compulsory systems, a select committee of Ontario, Canada, legislators returned home appalled by the amount of paper work and the huge number of clerks required to handle it, it was reported. (Ontario has a Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund similar to Michigan's.)

"Administering a compulsory insurance program is a big, expensive job. The money has to come from one of two sources—taxpayers or policy holders. The costs of compulsory automobile liability insurance represents an unwarranted drain on state budgets.

"To put the burden on the insurers is equally unjust because that merely serves to increase the cost of insurance and saddles the insuring public with the expense.

"I am sure that Michigan motorists will agree that the small one dollar fee insured persons pay into the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund is a great deal less expensive than the large premiums persons are paying in states where automobile liability insurance is compulsory," the Secretary of State said.

Information about the Junior GI Bill as amended to young people eligible for its educational aid, is available reports Mrs. Melva Gardner, Education and Scholarship Chairman of Passage-Gayde Unit #391.

Resolutions of The American Legion which were accomplished by legislation during the 88th and 89th Congress have extended benefits to children of permanently and totally disabled veterans and also liberalized eligibility requirements for children of so-called peace time veterans.

Monthly benefit allowances under the Junior GI Bill were liberalized effective November 1965.

OBJECTIVE: To provide Educational opportunities for approximately 180,000 children of veterans who died or were permanently and totally disabled in or as the result of service in the armed forces of the United States.

Plymouth's share of highway funds

The Department of State Highways has started distributing fourth quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

Howard E. Hill, State Highway Director, said net receipts of the Highway Fund during October, November and December of 1965, amounted to $62,124,339, an increase of $3,594,979 compared to the same period of 1964.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

RECORD COLLECTIONS

March of Dimes sets 'Tag Day' for Saturday

The March of Dimes annual Mothers' March collected $3,043.39 as a result of the February 1 drive. This incomplete figure is approximately $400 higher than last year.

All direct mailings into the Detroit headquarters will also be added to this total for the final tabulation. The marchers left many 'sorry we missed you envelopes' which may be mailed and will be credited to the Plymouth Community.

Mrs. Roger Corey, Mothers' March chairman, reported that more than 200 volunteers participated in this most successful effort. Mrs. Corey also said "To those residents of Plymouth and Plymouth Township who contributed to the success of the 1966 Mothers March by organizing the drive, marching, or giving donations, a most grateful thank you."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Witwer, General Co-chairman of the drive, wish to express their appreciation for the generosity exhibited by people in the Plymouth area.

They also announced that a March of Dimes 'Tag Day' will be conducted on Plymouth streets Saturday, Feb. 12. Most of the 70 to 80 teen-age volunteers for this effort will be from our Junior High East. It is planned the teeners will be on Plymouth streets from 9:30 to 5:30 on Saturday, Feb. 12. Funds collected will largely be used in stemming the tide of birth defects.

More funds will also come in from collecting the March of Dimes canisters this week.

Girl Scout Troop 253 is in charge of the collection as the earlier distribution. The troop is under the leadership of Mrs. William Baumgartner and Mrs. Clifford Wilkin.

Bulldogs batter Rocks for second time

Plymouth's meager offense scored less than 20 points in the second half Friday against Bentley as the Bulldogs powered their way to a 61-44 win.

Plymouth's inability to score late in the game showed once again as the Rocks opened the first quarter with 15, then hit for 11, 9 and 9 respectively.

It wasn't that Bentley was that good: it's just that Plymouth was that bad.

Meanwhile, the tough-minded Bulldogs, paced by Fred Matevia's corner shooting for 10 points, scored 18 in the third quarter. Larry Grimm replaced Matevia at one point, and helped with rebounding.

PLYMOUTH lost the game several ways; one, via the free throw line. The Rocks could hit only 18 of 39 free throws. The Bulldogs, netting fewer charity tosses, still out-scored Plymouth at the line with 19 of 30.

Plymouth now stands in fifth place in Suburban Six standings. In other action in the league, Redford Union thumped lowly Belleville 88-57, and Trenton slipped by Allen Park 66-60.

That leaves Bentley and Trenton tied for first, Redford Union in second, and Allen Park and Plymouth in fourth. The Rocks now face Trenton this Friday. The only advantage Plymouth may have is that the game is at home. Following Trenton, they play Franklin on Saturday, then Redford Union away the next week.

The whole regular season ends Feb. 25 with a game here with Allen Park.

Then, in March, it's tournament time with the Rocks given little chance of getting past the District opener.

HIGH ARCH on his shot, Chuck Catlett, a late season surprise for Coach Dick Bearup, hits for two against Bentley.

Bentley pressed the guards three-quarters of the way down court, but Plymouth has apparently solved that problem. Earlier in the season, Plymouth was getting beat in the back court.

Mike Stakias, whom coach Dick Bearup has keyed his offense around, scored only six points as his scoring skid continued. Stakias fouled out early in the third quarter, and was followed by Jim Scharmen in the fourth quarter.

Stakias, feeling the burden of the scoring despite recent relief from Chuck Catlett, at one point shot a free throw that completely missed the back board.

Catlett, late-season star, hit for 14 points to lead Rock scoring.

WRESTLING MATCH or basketball game? That is pondered by Rick Jones, below, who dived for the ball and got tackled. No foul was called but many others were in this rough-and-tumble loss to Bentley, Friday.

TOUGH DEFENSE held the Rocks to only 44 points Friday. Chuck Catlett, number 35, hit for 14, to lead Plymouth.

The good life

She doesn't belong

Doug Johnson

Recently, I have had a chance to take several pictures for our women's pages while we break in our new gal, Yvonne Schmitz, a mother of seven who works for us part time.

One picture was of a woman for the Plymouth Pantry series.

"I don't belong to a single group here in town," she said proudly. "And in Plymouth, that's hard to do."

The social scientists talk more and more of our structured society, of the 'socially patterned whole,' of the power structure, and of the decision-makers of the status seekers, of associational groupings, and of aggregate influence.

It's nice to meet someone who doesn't belong, who finds family enough.

The woman shall go nameless, but I congratulate her for her ability to stay out of the tangled web. I congratulate her for herself.

You've heard, of course, about President Johnson's latest Federal agency — the Federal Happiness Administration.

As outlined by Russell Baker of the New York Times, the new FHA will "throw the full weight of the federal government behind man's ancient battle against depression, blues, boredom, Sunday morning let-down, lack-lustre marriage and inferiority complex."

The new agency will be composed of the Happiness Corps, an elite group of college trained extroverts who will battle unhappiness on every front; of the Office of Happy Operations, a section which will create happy alternatives for the glum; of the Gloom Intelligence Agency, a police arm, and of the Internal Happiness Service, which will administer the 'glum tax.'

I understand it will be headed by Jayne Mansfield, the celebrated Yale economics professor.

Speaking of Batman and Robin the Boy Wonder, have you mastered the Bat-turn yet; arms in front, forearms up, elbows out, jump, turn and about-face?

And that car. I'll bet it's almost as fast as my boss's. Dave Wiley drives a Pontiac station wagon with a special engine and a four-speed floor shift. Known as one of the real sleepers, his car will do 85 mph in first gear.

Batman, like my boss, has no supernatural powers. But you should see those Bat-turns.

Wiley's, I mean.

Did you hear about the Polack that stayed up all night studying for a blood test?

Bentley nips tankers

The Rock tankers, facing their worst season in many years, fell 52-49 Thursday to Bentley, after losing both relays.

Pat McCord won the 100 yd. butterfly event, after taking a second in the 200 yd. freestyle. Pat Brady won the 50 yd.

freestyle, with Bill Wolfe taking a second. Bob Reinas took a second in the 200 yd. individual, and Malboeuf took a third. Rick Lorenz turned in his best performance of the season, winning the springboard diving event. John Larson was second.

BRADY TOOK a second in the 100 yd. freestyle event, and Bob Shirey a third. Ron Witthoff won the backstroke, and Biff Leonard took a first in the breast stroke. Bob Reinas took a second in the 400 yd. freestyle event. The Rock swimmers will meet Trenton away this Friday.

In the 200 yd. individual medley, and Mark Newman took a second in the diving event. Other results were: Pat Gallegar, second in the butterfly; Porter, third in the freestyle; Don Goerlitz, second in the back stroke; Pugsley, second and Gould, third in the 400 yd. freestyle; Newman, second in the breast stroke.

JV's lose 60-44 to Bentley

The Bentley reserve swimmers dunked the JV Rocks last week 60-44, as Plymouth took only one first place. Bruce Gould won the 50 yd. freestyle event, with Doug Bates taking a second. Other results saw Chick Porter take a second and Paul Pugsley a third in the 200 yd. freestyle. John Norman won a second

JV's lose in 4th quarter fizzle, 62-49

Ahead at the beginning of the third quarter after three quick baskets, the Rock JV's folded in the final minutes and lost to Bentley 62-49, Friday.

Coach Pat Montagano, working without two regulars, Jim Ruby and Bob Resch, could do little to keep the Bentley squad from running away with the game.

The JV's were behind 34-24 at the half, but opened the third quarter with several quick points. Later, they cut Bentley's lead to six.

But the game had been decided earlier, and Bentley outplayed, and out-rebounded Plymouth and were ahead 54-42 when the disastrous third quarter was over.

Plymouth could muster only a sputtering offense in the final quarter, scoring 7 points.

Mike Kubik led the Rocks with 19 points; Jeff Adams hit for eight.

Ramadan- the sacred month-long fast

Africa & Me

On the evening of January 22 the streets of Freetown were thronged with thousands of people in a festive mood. They were everywhere singing, dancing, carrying lanterns, and pulling floats. Cars were useless for hours, for it was the eve of Eid-ul-Fitri which marks the end of Ramadan.

Ramadan is the long long Muslim observance devoted to fasting. During Ramadan no food or drink passes a Muslim's lips from dawn to sunset. Prayers are said five times a day.

For the first ten days of this holy month the Muslims seek the mercy of Allah for the sins they have committed. They seek Allah's pardon during the next ten days for the sins they may commit in the future, and the last third of the month is devoted to gaining admittance into Heaven.

It is a severe test of one's faith. But when it is over, there is no bounds to the peoples' expression of joy.

The most colorful part of the celebrations is the Lantern Parade on the eve of Eid-ul-Fitri. No other West African country has such a parade. It is in many ways similar to Mardi Gras in New Orleans or college home-comings throughout America.

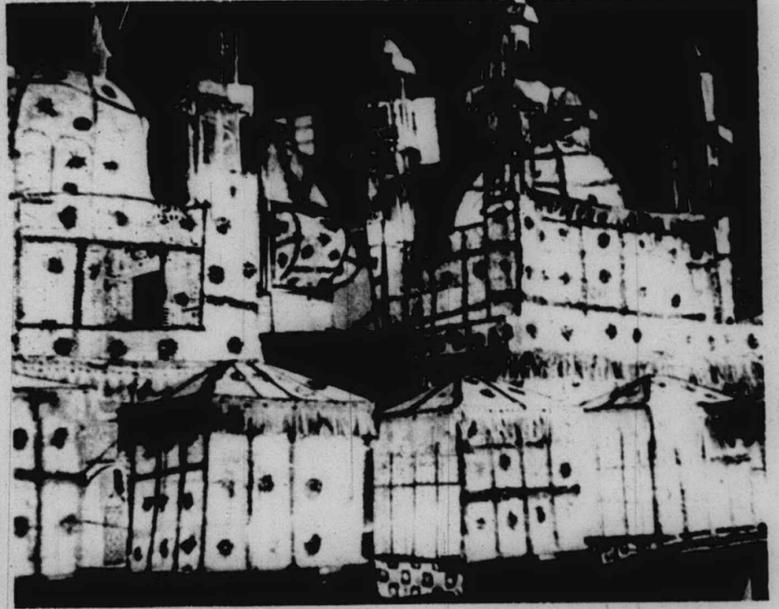

THIS YEAR 35 floats took part in the procession in Freetown. Made of colored tissue paper over wooden frames they depicted mosques, stories from the Koran and Islamic mythology, battleships and ocean liners, buses, animals, various national coats of arms, Sierra Leone's Prime Minister in an open convertible, and even the story of Adam and Eve.

Some of the floats measured over 40 feet in length. Each of them was illuminated from inside by battery powered light bulbs, large numbers of candles, or kerosene lanterns.

Each float was accompanied by scores and often hundreds of people who belonged to the club or neighborhood which had built the float. They sang, chanted, and danced or otherwise demonstrated their happiness. Many of them carried smaller lanterns covered with colored tissue paper.

The streets of Freetown were lined with spectators as the parade wound its way through town until the wee morning hours. By mid-morning on Eid-ul-Fitri all the Muslims had gathered at one of three designated fields for mass prayers. Then they returned to their homes where they partook of festive dinners. The genial atmosphere and celebrations continued throughout the day and into the third day which had been declared a public holiday.

Eid-ul-Fitri is the most colorful and joyous holiday in Sierra Leone. This year's observance was no exception.

FLOATS IN the Lantern Parade, part of the Muslim fast; this one, using colored tissue paper over a wooden frame illuminated with battery powered lights, depicts a Muslim mosque.

Wibby nets 4th shutout

The Plymouth Hockey Association's pint-sized goalie wonder Chuck Wibby got his fourth shutout of the season last week when University Litho beat Dearborn Heights 2-0.

In other ice action, Russ's Boys topped N.W. Detroit 3-2 behind the one-two-three scoring punch of Mike Herter, Bill Prochaska and Jim Hough.

The Trading Post squad ended their game in a tie, 3-3, with Denny Shelly scoring two goals, and Dale Tonkovich one.

Gary Robinson scored the only goal in Wilson Engineering's 4-1 loss to Dearborn Heights.

The FFW Pee Wees were whipped 4-0 by Dearborn Heights.

Mike O'Brien and Bill Hudson scored the goals.

Con Power will spend $2.4 million in area

More than $2,400,000 will be invested by Consumers Power Company during 1966 in its West Wayne Division, headquartered in Livonia, on projects to expand and improve natural gas service in the area.

James P. Thomas, West Wayne division manager for the company, made the announcement.

Thomas said the major project for the year will be the continued expansion of the gas distribution system, with the installation of over 50 miles of new gas pipelines, and the addition of 3,800 new gas customers to the division system.

Related projects listed by him include the completion of the Farmington road project begun last year. This involves the replacement with new, larger pipeline of the main connecting Plymouth and Eight Mile roads, necessitated by the widening of Farmington road.

Thomas said the division at present provides natural gas to 63,000 customers in an area encompassing 260 square miles of western Wayne county, including the communities of Farmington, Livonia, Wayne, Northville, Novi and Plymouth.

HE SAID the 1966 construction program is part of Consumers Power Company's state-wide expansion and improvement program, in which the company is investing a record $134,000,000 this year.

DR. HOMER F. WEIR

Plymouth State Home greets new Medical superintendent

A reception tea was held last week at Plymouth State Home and Training School so that the staff could meet their new medical superintendent, Homer F. Weir, M.D., and his family.

Dr. Weir assumed his duties at Plymouth State Home February 1. He was formerly the medical director of Mt. Rainier State School for the retarded at Olympia, Washington, director of the Retardation Center, Department of Pediatrics, Baylor University, and director of the Consultation, Diagnostic and Evaluation Center at Rockford, Illinois.

He was graduated with honors from the University of Illinois College of Medicine in 1940 and received certification in pediatrics in 1945.

Robert A. Kimmich, M.D., the director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, stated that Dr. Weir's "Outstanding leadership in the development of improved retardation research have brought him to a position of national prominence."

DURING A brief interview with Dr. Weir, originally from Gainesville, Georgia, he said, "I am very pleased to be in the 'water and winter wonderland' state, to share in Michigan's rapidly advancing programs for the retarded and to serve at an institution such as Plymouth State Home which offers a continuum of care and treatment for the retarded."

Dr. Homer F. Weir and his wife.

Dr. and Mrs. Homer Weir have three sons. Silas is a representative for the American Hospital Supply Company in Chicago, George is attending Southern Methodist University in Texas and Francis is currently enrolled in Northville High School.

Dr. Weir will fill the position at Plymouth left vacant by Robert Jaslow, M.D., who recently resigned to become chief of the retardation branch of U.S. Public Health Service.

Art lessons in using oils were started for the Junior High school age boys. All those interested are invited to join the class. The class meets at 3 p.m. on Tuesdays at the Plymouth Credit Union.

You can take Peace Corps test February 12

Plymouth area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. on Saturday, February 12 at 711 Lafayette Building, 149 Michigan Ave., Detroit, or Civil Service Room, U.S. Post Office Downtown station, 220 N. Main, Ann Arbor.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half. An optional achievement test for applicants who have studied French or Spanish requires another hour.

Indian Guide's Blackfeet Tribe, chiefed by Mr. James Souder of Terry Street, braved the winter weather for a week-end outing at camp Capneconic in Flint, Jan. 29 and 30. Below freezing temperatures didn't daunt the young braves' enthusiasm for ice-fishing and hiking.

The Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ is now holding 9:45 a.m. Sunday School classes in the Allen School on Haggerty Road, announced Rev. David Romberg of Orangelawn. The church has recently acquired a full-time music teacher to assist.

The Souder's residence at 9645 Terry Street was the scene of a hugely successful open house party hosted by daughter Karen, January 22. They estimated between 250 to 300 high schoolers from the Plymouth, Novi and Northville area dropped in during the evening to dance—or at least sway in place—to the music of "The Stringbenders," a four-piece combo of Plymouth High School sophomores. Mrs. Souder lost count of the gallons of punch and pounds of potato chips that were consumed. Sending the furniture out to be upholstered was good foresight for a party of such dimensions!

Plymouth Newcomers pondered the question, "Is Modern Art Modern?" with Michael P. Church of the University of Michigan at their monthly luncheon, February 3. Attending the luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel from the Salem Square community were Mrs. William Bevier, Mrs. Marvin Powell, Mrs. Rudy Schmidt, Mrs. James Souder and Mrs. Gerald Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Braun of Pinetree went out to dinner, February 5, with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bowerman of North Harvey Street in celebration of the Bowermans' twelfth wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stevens of Pinetree were among 80 guests attending a going away party for a co-worker of Mr. Stevens at the Hawthorne Center in Northville. Dr. Harold Lockett, head psychiatrist of the Hawthorne Day School, hosted the party at his home in Ann Arbor Jan. 29. Mr. Stevens is a teacher at the day school for emotionally disturbed children.

60-plus Club

The regular monthly meeting of the 60-plus Club will be held Monday, Feb. 14 at the First Methodist Church. A Potluck dinner will be served at 12 noon, followed by a business meeting and entertainment.

The doors will be open at 10 for those working on the several projects the club is handling.
