Much Credit Goes to C&O and Township Board

What Influenced Ford Co. on Plymouth Site?

How did it come about that Ford Motor Co. picked Plymouth Township for the site of its new 642,000 square foot plant?

That's the question puzzling residents of the Plymouth Community who are happy over the choice but wonder what forces worked together to make the site selection a reality.

It was just a week ago that Ford officials announced they would build the 642,000 square foot plant on N. Sheldon Road, north of Western Electric on the 168-acre site owned by Dr. Robert Elvridge of Detroit.

The multi-million dollar plant, which will employ more than 1,000 at the start and could go as high as perhaps 2,200 within a reasonable period of time, will relieve the Ypsilanti plant and give officials there a chance to expand by moving the heating and air conditioning installations to Plymouth.

It is the largest single plant to be built in the community for years, practically since the Burroughs plant, and marks the third large construction or industrial expansion in the area.

Matter of fact, in the slightly more than 19 months since Evans Products announced its first expansion, the community has acquired or has on the planning boards, expansion of almost 1,500,000 square feet.

This includes 642,000 at Ford; 500,000 at Evans Products and the proposed Spartan Warehouse with more than 350,000 square feet. Just to add a bit of icing to the cake, Jack Cook, head of National Concrete Products, erected three industrial buildings on his land on S. Mill Street and are occupied.

This added more than 120,000 square feet to the industrial tax base—and it is just the beginning for there is more to come and not too far in the future.

There is an unconfirmed rumor that the 107.38 acres north of the Ford site has the attention of a large manufacturer. It is owned by the William Webber estate and is considered just as suitable and valuable as the Elvridge plot.

On the east side of Sheldon Road, the C&O Railroad has 46.2 acres of prime land along the railroad tracks and Morton Scholnick, of Detroit, owns 53.72 acres north of Shearer Drive adjacent to the property of St. John's Seminary.

But getting back to the original subject, how did Plymouth Township land the Ford plant?

A great deal of the credit must go to the real estate division of the C&O Railroad and particularly to Thomas Diak who played a major role. That and the complete co-operation of a sympathetic Township Board of Trustees.

It was Diak who recently worked with the Planning Commission and City Planner Dan Andrews in Livonia and finally influenced eight small plants to locate in an industrial section there along the railroad.

By the same token it was this same gentleman who took an option on the Elvridge property as early as last October with the announced intention of seeing that it did some good for the community.

Perhaps he had the Ford Motor Co. in mind then and perhaps Ford Motor Co. had the C&O in mind when looking for a site but the fact remains that the C&O did take an option on the land and those close to the situation knew then and there that something was cooking.

It wasn't long thereafter that members of the Township Board, a very secretive group to say the least, were told that there was a chance one of the "Big Three" might be interested in locating in Plymouth Township.

That feeling led to another a short time later when Supervisor John McEwen was called into a conference with Diak and Ford officials, the first time that anyone other than Diak knew that Ford was the interested party.

Then followed meetings with the Trustees to make certain (Continued on Page 20-B)

REHEARSING FOR COMING concert are members of the Plymouth Junior Symphony under the direction of Conductor Michael Endres. There isn't any question about the intense interest of the youthful musicians. But the blonde youngster (at left) had to accompany his sister and as expected she would have preferred to have been somewhere else playing with some of her friends.

Revived Junior Symphony To Present First Concert

The revived Plymouth Junior Symphony, under the direction of Michael Endres, will present the first of two concerts on Tuesday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium in conjunction with the Three Cities Art Club.

For the benefit of those in the Art Club, a brief discussion correlating periods in art history to musical compositions being performed will be given.

After a slow beginning, the Junior Symphony, under the auspices of the Plymouth Symphony, has grown into 40 youngsters. The youthful musicians, who range from 12-year-olds to 17 and are in grades six through 10, come from six communities including Plymouth, Northville, Belleville, Ypsilanti, Garden City and Wayne.

The Junior group will present its second concert in early May in conjunction with the annual Plymouth Symphony Society meeting.

The program will feature such colorful pieces as Handel's "Royal Fireworks Suite," a collection of dance-like movements. The second number, "The Little Baroque Suite" includes works of several composers and combines suites based on the dances of court and country familiar to the period.

The "Telemann Sinfonia" retains the style and character of the original by George Telemann, a composer of operas and oratorios who was a contemporary of Bach.

The fourth number, "Symphonette," was written by Ignaz

Pleyel, a student and later a rival of Franz Joseph Haydn. This is a miniature symphony consisting of three short sections.

Art of the same period was also grandiose, dramatic and expressive. Famous names of the era are Peter Paul Rubens, Franz Hals, Rembrandt Van Rijn, Jean Watteau and William Hogarth. Similarities between Baroque music and art will be pointed out by Mrs. Jessie Hudson, teacher of art at Plymouth High, and Conductor Endres.

The Art Club will present an exhibit of its members in conjunction with the concert.

CC Conference Draws 64 Community Leaders

More than 60 business, industrial and professional leaders from the Plymouth Community have made reservations for and will attend the first annual Leadership Conference week-end sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, next Saturday and Sunday at Hillsdale College.

The conference, arranged by Chamber President Carl Purcell and members of its executive committee for the purpose of airing community problems and attempting to build a better spirit of co-operation between the various units, will be headed by Dr. Howard McClusky, of the Hillsdale College faculty.

Dr. McClusky has been the director and genius behind several such conferences in recent months, including one sponsored by the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose is to exchange ideas and the goal is to create a better understanding among those in attendance of problems, common to all. In this instance, the problems of a rapidly growing community and that of attempting to build a bigger and better industrial and commercial tax base for a school district which could burst out of its seams within a short period of three or four years.

The industrial growth is already underway as is the residential and population increase. In this instance the former is far behind the latter—and this could cause a tremendous tax bind to homeowners within a reasonable short time.

CHECK FOR $500 is presented to the Youth for Understanding program by Edward Sawusch, head of the Plymouth Rotary Club Foundation, to Mrs. Lewis Bodley, of Ann Arbor. The funds will be used to help defray the expenses of eight pupils from Plymouth High who will visit Europe as foreign exchange students this summer and three from overseas as Plymouth visitors next school year.

City Council Okays High Rise; Hits Snarl on Sale of Parking Lot

Acting in a special meeting, the Plymouth City Commission paved the way for the construction of the area's first high rise apartment by approving amendments to Ordinance 182 setting PR classification which allows apartments 50 feet high and then approved rezoning of land on S. Main for the proposed complex planned by Builder and Developer Patrick Finlan.

Strange enough, there was little opposition to the change to high rise in the public hearing—but the Commission ran into a major snarl in trying to reach a decision on the proposed sale of lot 5 of the George Shafer subdivision near the intersection of Elizabeth and Ann Arbor Trail.

The Commissioners read the proposed amendments entirely as a first reading and then approved a second reading. This actually opens the door for Finlan to go forward with plans although he can't legally break ground until the third reading and final approval.

Finlan showed plans for a three-story, 36-unit apartment with parking space for 37 cars underground and 24 outside.

The project would include 18 single bedroom units, 12 two-bedroom and six with three bedrooms.

The revised ordinance provides a setback equal to the height of the building. Inasmuch as Finlan has proposed a 35-foot high structure, then he must have a 35-foot setback from S. Main and existing dwellings or buildings.

The new PR zoning is the second in the city and could conceivably lead to another high rise complex on Plymouth Road at Holbrook where the Mayflower Town Houses are currently under construction.

The biggest rubarb developed in the sale of the Shafer lot where Attorney Earl Demel, owner of the Colonial Professional Building on Ann Arbor Trail, protested that the bid of $5,100 for the property from his associate, Edwin Lees, should receive the property on the basis of the highest bid.

Lees offered $5,100 in a closed bid at which Jerry Snyder, furniture store owner on

Ann Arbor Trail, put in a bid of $4,100 and James Roberts made an offering of $4,000.

The Commission was in a mood to order the sale to Snyder on the theory that it would be for the best interests of the city.

Snyder in his bid indicated he planned on building an ad-

Tax Expert Will Talk To Forum

"The role of taxation in local government" will be discussed by Alfred Pelham, vice president at Wayne State University for Finance and former financial advisor for the City of Detroit and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, in the Businessmen's Forum meeting Thursday noon in the Mayflower Hotel. He will be introduced by Township Supervisor John McEwen, a long associate of Pelham at the Wayne County building.

The meeting is expected to attract one of the largest crowds in the year and a half history of the Forum. It also is an extension of the series of programs aimed to give community leaders an insight into the problems and plans for the community.

The series began with an address by Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen on the plans for orderly growth of the Township. Harold Fischer, director of the Plymouth Community Area Planning Authority, followed with a talk on what is needed for industrial and commercial growth in the community.

Now Pelham will go into "taxation process and its support of local government."

As a former member of the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation, Pelham is well qualified to discuss all phases of the always puzzling taxation problem.

SUNDAY AT JR. HIGH EAST Plymouth Girl Scouts Join in Area Program

Girl Scouts from the more than 40 troops in Plymouth, including all levels from Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors, will demonstrate skills and exhibit pet projects in the annual Girl Scout-O-Rama next Sunday in the Junior High East gym from 2 to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Carl Schultheiss is general chairman of the event which is based on the theme of "A Promise in Action." Mrs. George Bauer is Plymouth's Neighborhood Chairman.

The afternoon will be devoted to a typical camp setup at which various troops will exhibit Girl Scout skills and crafts. Those who attended the 1965 national roundup in Idaho, will show slides and movies of that event.

The program will be filled with demonstrations of folk dancing, choral readings and songs and presentation of awards.

And did you know that there are 14 cities in the United States with the name of Plymouth? Members of Brownie Troop 412 are well aware of the fact since their pet project is that of having pen pals in each of the other cities, including Plymouth, England.

The Brownies will be on hand to tell visitors of the other Plymouths and relate some of the things they have learned about each from their letter exchanges with pen pals.

The public is invited to attend and hear the opening address by Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, President of the Huron Valley Council who also has served as secretary and a Trustee on the Plymouth School Board for many years.

Maple St. Closing Is Hit

Ralph Lorenz, owner of the Mayflower Hotel who has plans to erect an ultra-modern complex on a site in the area between Main and Deer along Maple Street, faces a legal battle over the City Commission action of vacating Maple Street to make the motel possible.

This became apparent Monday at the Commission's special meeting when Attorney Earl Demel, owner of the Colonial Professional Building which abuts Lorenz's property on Maple, officially protested the vacating action.

"Is the matter of vacating Maple Street closed?" asked the Commission after he had requested he be allowed time on the agenda for discussion of a subject.

Assured by Mayor James Houk that it had been officially closed after the public hearing a week earlier, Demel asked whether the City had received a written request from Lorenz for the vacating and by what legal authority the Commission followed in closing the street.

City Attorney Thomas Healy answered that he "was not prepared at the time to answer if all legal requirements had been met but felt they had."

This brought up the question of whether Demel was asking the Commission to reconsider (Continued on Page 20-B)

SLATES SPECIAL SERVICES SUNDAY

St. Peter's Lutheran Church Marks 110th Anniversary

St. Peter's Lutheran Church of Plymouth will celebrate the first 110 years of its existence as a congregation on Sunday, March 6. The occasion will be marked by special services at which due thanks will be rendered for this long ministry of the Gospel of Christ.

Rev. Norman Berg, Pastor of the Church since 1960, will deliver the sermon. The Junior Choir will sing "O God Our Help In Ages Past," and the Senior Choir will offer praise with "The Lord God Hitherto Hath Helped Us."

There will be a display in the Narthex featuring pictures of Plymouth 110 years ago, as well as early church photos and documents.

The history of the Lutheran Church in Plymouth goes back to 1833, only eight years after the founding of the city of Plymouth. Rev. Friederich Schmid, who established the first Lutheran Church in Michigan, near Ann Arbor, served the scattered settlers here three times a year.

May 9 Is Likely For Vote

May 9 will be the earliest date Livonia and north Nankin voters face as a possibility for another vote on more taxes to operate the Livonia School District.

School Board members have discarded the possibility of combining another millage vote with the April 4 General Election in Livonia.

Superintendent Benton Yates told the board recently that he had conferred with city officials who did not feel it was an appropriate time to combine a school-millage vote and the city park millage election.

Because the need for haste has abated, the board has held off on setting a date until it holds more meetings on the subject.

The Board planned to hear reports from the School Board Advisory Committee, League of Women Voters, a city industrial committee and various Parent-Teacher Associations.

The board is still trying to determine when to ask school district voters for more money and how much. Trustees hope to be able to gather the loose strands at the study session and tie them up into one ball of wax.

Improved communication with the advisory committee has been called for, too, following the meeting.

Appoint Hazel Leland

Hazel Leland has been re-appointed to represent the City of Farmington on the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan. A member of the City's Beautification Committee, Mrs. Leland will serve as a liaison between the local and regional organization.

Vagnozzi Promoted

Robinson Bill Would Hike State Aid to Local Schools

If a Redford Township state senator has his way, the money available to educate each school child in Western Wayne County would be increased by anywhere from $205 to $322 a year.

And, according to Edward A. Robinson, a first-term Democrat, this could be done at the same time that taxes are lowered in some local districts and raised only slightly in others.

Robinson wants to eliminate all local operating millage and level off the entire State of Michigan at a straight 23 mill yearly property tax. The money returned from such a state tax — to be collected every March under his proposal — would return enough in state funds to spend $740 a year to educate each child in Michigan.

Robinson introduced his new bill in the State Senate this week.

The $740-per-year figure now compares with a minimum of $410 being spent to educate each child in Farmington all the way up to $535 spent in Livonia, Robinson said. According to his figures, there would be a startling increase in money available for educational improvements all across the area.

And the cost to taxpayers?

According to Robinson, taxes would actually go down in four Observer area districts — Redford Union, Clarenceville, Livonia and Nankin Mills. In four others — Farmington, Garden City, South Redford and Plymouth — they would be increased anywhere from one-tenth of a mill to 3.35 mills.

The same pattern would show up across the state, as local operating millages are eliminated and a flat, 23-mill across-the-board state tax substituted. Millage level for debt retirement would not be changed.

Specifically, the picture in The Observer circulation area would look like this:

CLARENCEVILLE

Clarenceville now levies 23.90 in operating mills. Its taxes would be reduced by .90 mills if the new law went into effect. (Another 9.5 mills, levied for debt retirement, would be unchanged either under the present system or under the proposal.) The district now spends $418 a year for each pupil; the new amount of $740 would raise it by $322. Clarenceville would contribute $805,000 to the state school aid fund under Robinson's plan and get back $2.9 million.

FARMINGTON

Farmington's current operating millage is 21.50 mills, which would mean an increase of 1.5 mills if Robinson's plan is effected. (Another 11 mills is levied for debt retirement and would not be affected.) There would be a yearly increase of $330 spent for each child's education, from $410 presently to $740. Farmington would contribute $2.8 million to the state school fund and get back $9.9 million.

GARDEN CITY

Garden City's current operating millage of 20.50 mills would be increased by 2.50 mills under the proposal, in addition to 9.5 mills being levied for debt retirement, which would not be affected. The district's current yearly per-pupil expenditures would be raised from $444 to $740, a hike of $296. Putting in $1.6 million a year to the state school aid fund, Garden City would get back $9.8 million.

LIVONIA

Livonia's current operating millage of 23.90 mills would be reduced by .90 mills if the proposal is made law. An additional 7.07 mills is levied for debt retirement and would not be affected either way. The current per-pupil annual expenditure of $535 would go up by $205 to $740, and for the $8.3 million Livonia put in the state school aid fund, it would get back $23 million.

NANKIN MILLS

Nankin Mills' current operating millage of 24.80 mills would drop by 1.80 mills to 23 mills under Robinson's proposal, but the 13 mills for debt retirement now being paid would remain. Current expenditures per pupil would be increased from $446 a year to $740—a total of $294. Putting in just $425,000 a year, the district would get back $2.3 million.

PLYMOUTH

The current operating millage of 19.65 mills would go up by 3.35 mills to the standard 23 mills level, leaving unaffected the current 6.25 mills for debt retirement. Current expenditures of $527 per child would be boosted by $213 to $740 a year. Plymouth would put in $2.7 million a year to the state school aid fund and get back $5.08 million.

REDFORD UNION

Redford Union taxpayers now pay 27.9 mills a year in operating millage. This would drop by 4.9 mills a year to the standard 23 mills level. (Other figures not available.)

SOUTH REDFORD

South Redford taxpayers would get an almost-unnoticeable hike in operating taxes, from 22.9 mills to 23 mills, up one-tenth of a mill. (Other figures not available.)

Surplus Food Cutbacks Affect School Lunches

The federal surplus food cutback is posing a problem for the Nankin Mills School District, less of a headache for Garden City Public Schools because of accumulated surplus funds in the system's lunch program budget, but it is creating concern in South Redford.

Mrs. Ruth Zander, chief dietitian for Nankin Mills, says there has been quite a cutback, especially in meat items. Last year, Mrs. Zander said, Nankin Mills received roast beef, chicken, turkey and hamburger each month while this year the district received chicken and hamburger twice and turkey once.

When Nankin Mills started its lunch program in 1959, she explained, it didn't receive any

Burroughs Takes Steps To End Smoke Problem

Burroughs Corporation has taken steps to eliminate the smoke problem at its Plymouth plant and hopes to end the fly ash nuisance within a short time. That was the information relayed to Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen in a communication from Burroughs.

The letter indicated Burroughs has completed the installation of gas boilers which will be used in the spring, summer and early fall and will eliminate the smoke problem.

The installation has received the approval of state officials.

The communications states that Burroughs hopes to eliminate the fly ash problem with fly ash collectors. The corporation is proceeding with the installations but not as rapidly as desired due to delays in procurement and contracting.

And that is good news to those residents who have been battling the air pollution, smoke and fly ash nuisance for the past seven or eight years. It was principally through the complaints of Col. and Mrs. Fred Davids—he's now head of the Michigan State Police—that led the Township Board to threaten action against Burroughs and Evans Products that eventually brought action such as that indicated in the above communication.

The Davids have been leaders in the fight, especially Mrs. Davids who vowed that she would get rid of the air pollution or else. It now appears that she has won the fight since both plants have taken steps to eliminate the smoke and fly ash problems.

85 Draftees Get Reprieve For March

Local and national enlistments in the armed services have been so heavy for the past month that 85 draftees, marked for call-up March 25 by Plymouth Board 102, have been handed a reprieve: they will not be called this month.

Mrs. L. M. Fedell, managing clerk, said that 23 men signed up for reserves and 44 for regular service between Jan. 12 and Feb. 16.

Among 249 men between the ages of 19 and 26, who will report Friday for their pre-induction physical examinations, will be 200 childless married men.

Board 102 of the Selective Service System, serving Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and the Townships of Redford and Canton, is still without a fifth member.

"Letters of application will be considered at the next meeting in the middle of this month," Mrs. Fedell said, noting that several have been received from women who are not permitted to serve by the draft law.

21,307 Share Ford Plan For Workers

Thinking paid off — in cash, cars and appliances—for 21,307 Ford Motor Company employees in 1965.

They took home a record $1,777,228 in cash, 41 new cars and thousands of dollars worth of Philco appliances for ideas submitted under the company's Employee Suggestion and Management Proposal Plans.

Edwin D. O'Leary, vice president, Personnel and Organization, said cash awards increased to $14,935,005 the amount paid to employees in the United States since the Ford Suggestion Plan was introduced in August, 1947.

In 1965, the company presented either a new Ford Galaxie or Mercury Monterey and a $5,000 check for each of 23 maximum awards under the Suggestion Plan and 18 new Mustangs for maximum awards under the Management Proposal Plan.

The Management Proposal Plan, introduced in June, 1949, was revised in October, 1965, to include the maximum award of a new Mustang. Lesser awards are given in Philco merchandise.

Nearly one-half of the eligible employees submitted at least one idea each in 1965, and approximately 200,000 ideas were considered.

Medical-Dental Center Set for Livonia Mall

A four suite ultra-modern medical-dental center will be opened in the Livonia Mall at the end of April or the first part of May, according to a joint announcement made Monday by Jack Shenkman, developer, and Robert Poris, manager of the enclosed shopping center.

The new four unit air-conditioned medical center will contain 4,000 square feet and serve as offices and technical working areas for a general practitioner, podiatrist and dentist.

"There is one more suite available at the moment, but we feel sure that this will be leased by the time we are ready to officially open the medical center," Poris said.

An attractive lobby done in the latest modern motifs will be one of the main attractions of the medical center. The front of the separate four unit structure will be of imported marble, according to the announcement.

Entryway to the offices will be through the main mall. The two story arrangement will boast a private elevator for clientele of the medical center.

"Actually we would like to have a specialist in the remaining suite. This would like to have a specialist in the remaining suite. This would give us a well rounded medical center which would be available to almost any type of patient," Poris added.

"When we were planning the Livonia Mall Shopping Center we felt that it should house some sort of a medical center, and we made provision for this in the plans. It looks as though our foresight was right and we will be able to offer these additional services to patrons of the Livonia Mall," Shenkman added.

Money at a Discount Attracts Thousands Of Bargain Seekers to Wonderland Center

Thousands of "money-buyers" who apparently know a bargain when they see one, jammed Wonderland Center last week to buy real "cold cash" at a 22 per cent discount.

More than 2,000 persons were in line when a Washington's Birthday sale of $5,000 began at 10 a.m., Tuesday, February 22.

WILLIAM FARWELL, 30408 Minton, Livonia, was selected as the purchaser of a 1959 Ford station wagon which was sold for 22 cents on Washington's birthday. The car, completely re-finished by NuWay Auto Painting, of Garden City, was sold as a highlight of Wonderland Center's Washington's Birthday sale.

Area Red Cross Workers Attend Disaster Clinic

In spring the Red Cross thoughts turn to ... tornadoes. Not knowing when or where they might strike, Red Cross is always "on the alert," prepared to serve coffee and sandwiches, set up emergency shelter, and to aid with long range planning if the damage is extensive. Last year Red Cross, nationally, spent 14.6 per cent of every dollar on disaster aid.

To keep local Red Cross disaster volunteers in tune with what-to-do-if-disaster-strikes, Red Cross held its annual disaster session at the Northwest Service Office, 31228 Five Mile Road in Livonia.

Elmer K. Revell, assistant manager, responsible for disaster services of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, presented a program of slides, workshop and discussion of Red Cross disaster responsibilities.

Area representatives in attendance were:

FARMINGTON: Mrs. William F. (Velde) Grant, Jr., 28778 Greencastle.

LIVONIA: Mrs. Richard (Fern) Cook, 8355 Rickie; Mrs. Donald R. (Eugenia) Crain, 11424 Ingram; J. M. Hickox, 20535 Hickory Lane; Mrs. W. H. (Laura) Rolan, 9615 Melrose; and Mrs. George A. (Jo) Standhardt, 14820 Arcola.

NORTHVILLE: R. V. Bisset, 7400 Napier; Beatrice B. Carlson, 201 Fairbrook; Mabel Cooley, 422 Dubuay; Mrs. Harry G. (Ethel) Crofts, 46825 Chig-widden; Mrs. John M. (Elva) Miller, 8660 Napier Road; and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jerome, 419 Dubuay.

PLYMOUTH: Mrs. Cameron W. (Helen) Lodge, Sr., 1103 N. Mill.

REDFORD TOWNSHIP: Mrs. W. V. (Elsie) Russell, 11402 Rockland; Mrs. Hubert L. (Helen) Steiner, 16913 Five Points; Mrs. Frederick (Marjorie) Stockwell, 9215 Brady; and Mrs. William A. (Ruth) Elphick, 25460 Graham.

First to make purchases were four teen-age girls who had spent the night at Wonderland. The girls, two from Livonia and two from Dearborn, slept at the mall to make certain they were first in line. Each of them bought 100-dollar bills for $78.

Richer by $22 were Karen Grandy, 24151 Oxford, Dearborn, Marie Kaseta, 822 Oakwood, Dearborn, Pat Yankovich, 9144 Brentwood, Livonia, and Maureen Leaman, 29927 Robert Drive, Livonia.

The fifth $100 bill was bought by John Betsinger, 46537 Ecorse road, Belleville. Betsinger started his long wait at 2 a.m., eight hours before the sale started.

In all, $15 bills—including singles, fives, tens, twenties and fifties—were sold. The last bill was purchased at 6 p.m.

The exchange resulted in a "loss" of $1,100 to the Center, according to Ernie Epps, promotion and advertising director.

Here's the complete list of persons who purchased Wonderland Center's "22-cent specials."

1959 STATION WAGON—William Farwell, 30408 Minton, Livonia.

PORTABLE TV—Mrs. Betty Spraul, 12096 Rockland, Redford Township.

100 GALLONS OF GASOLINE—Clarence D. Lee, 9390 Gillman, Livonia.

BOY'S BICYCLE—Mrs. Frances Rex, 34033 Blackfoot, Wayne.

PAIR OF SKIS—Dale W. Maus, 28876 Westfield, Livonia.

In each instance, winners' names were chosen in drawings made by persons selected at random at Wonderland Center.

Don't Watch the Birdie

Remember the good old days when we watched the birdie? And said "cheese," and wound up with pictures of the family that looked as if they all had indigestion? I remember lots of good things about days gone by, but those poker-faced pictures are not pleasant memories. Oddly enough, some people are still living in the good old days.

These are the people who should know about flashcube photography. The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 Camera using flashcube can bring them up to date. And bring their picture memories to life. Drop in a film cartridge and you're ready to go. Pop on a flashcube for indoor shooting and good pictures are certain. The flashcube rotates automatically as film is advanced. You can take four flash pictures without changing bulbs. And do all four in five seconds if you have to. The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 is a camera that no picture can escape. It's always ready to capture the party, the fun, just the way it happens. It can put the days of stiff expressions, and awkward poses of the family behind you.

The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 Camera is so simple a child can load and operate it easily. So inexpensive that anyone still living in the "birdie" days of picture-taking has no excuse not to own one.

The KODAK INSTAMATIC 104 Outfit costs only $18.95, complete with camera, film, flashcube, and batteries. If your picture-taking is a little behind the times, why not stop in for a demonstration. I'll be glad to show you.

TABLES WERE TURNED when the columnist wives had a luncheon in their honor at the Plymouth Round Table, in the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth. These are the girls who tell you what is going on socially in the various areas serviced by the Observer Newspapers. Left to right, front: Faith Gillespie (Queen of Hearts); Kathy Ziska, (Farmington); Harriet Gagnon, (Garden City and Nankin Township); back row, Bebe Lindhout, (Livonia); and Dorothy Sincok, (Plymouth.)

The Distaff Point of View

Jerry Wendt
Woman's Editor

Enjoyment of each others company is a tradition in the newspaper business. There is probably no other profession, other than the theatrical or medical, where people spend so much time together by choice. Complimentary or otherwise, it remains a fact. People outside always ask the same question, "How in the world can you people spend all your long working hours together, meet two hours later at a party, greet each other as if you've been on African safari and reluctantly tear yourself away at 4 a.m. when you know you'll see each other the next day?"

Either by accident or design, usually the spouses of the press are equally congenial, and so the pattern goes on and on. Whenever I have a week I particularly enjoyed, I always know it has been a week spent largely or partly with other members of the fourth estate.

A long felt ambition was realized Friday evening when I visited the Press Club. By a magical combination of talent and the fact that every other available editor was busy elsewhere, I "covered" Congressman William B. Ford's dinner. I know how Ali Baba must have felt when he whispered "Open Sesame" and the portals swung wide open.

Only I whispered "Observer Newspapers" instead, and the door buzzed and then opened wide on mahogany walls, red velvet carpeting and subdued music. As we entered we recognized Dick Westerkamp, Earl Dowdy, and Ven Marshall greeting friends. The Club is a combination of luxury and comfort. Along with the paneling and carpeting there are cosy red checkered tablecloths on small tables, television sets, etc. And wonder of wonders, our dinner partners proved as witty as newspapermen are generally supposed to be. During the course of the evening one of them whispered to us the familiar press quote:

"Breathes there a person with soul so dead,
Who never to a newspaperman has said,
I used to be one myself."

Myra Chandler, gave a party at the Plymouth Round Table for the Observer columnists, and for once this hard working group was the party instead of covering it. Harriet Gagnon, Kathy Ziska, Dorothy Sincok, Faith Gillespie and Bebe Lindhout were all present (see picture), only our newest member, Grace Banks, new Redford columnist was unable to attend.

Columning is hard work, but very rewarding. The two requirements are a wide acquaintanceship, and the ability to get along with people. Most of the group were prominent clubwomen, some were in political life and most of them did publicity work for the clubs.

So remember girls, from publicity chairmen come columnists, from columnists come feature writers, from feature writers come editors. And then when you are an editor you can sit in leg irons labeled DEADLINE DAY and let the columnists go to all the fun things like brunches, and lunches and fashion shows.

Ever Pick a Pearl? Believe it or not you can pick yourself a pearl necklace, earrings, etc. At the Livonia Mall, this week in conjunction with Betty Baldwin's Art Show there is an exhibit from the Japanese Pearl Fisheries. (This was at the World's Fair.)

There are slews of plump, clean looking oysters, all in a bed. You point your finger at one, the man opens it, finds the pearl, cleans it for you, and you take your choice of a setting. You can have your luscious pearl set in a ring, necklace, etc., or a tie pin for your husband. We went mad over them. Loved our "jools."

The price is unbelievably low. If you want to keep the pearl unset, you may do so. This will go on all this week during the hours the Mall is open. The pearls are white, dark grey, pearly pink or sometimes, black. Every oyster has one.

In this jet-age everybody is under the impression that they are hard-pressed for time.

ALADDIN'S MOTHER Phyllis Geake and her neighbor Kalissa (Barbara Hart) vie for a silver coin from the wicked magician (Mel Bogen) in the Wayne State University Children's Theatre production of "Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp."

'Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp,' To Be Presented March 5 by Children's Entertainment Guild

"Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp," a dramatization of the famous tale from "The Arabian Nights," will be presented by the Wayne State University Children's Theatre on Saturday, March 5, at 11 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m., at Franklin High School auditorium. The Buxom Belles of Livonia (Merriboyl Trimmers Chapter), who think thoughts of health and beauty with weight control by group therapy, invite you (women only) to see this most informative film. But Cooks Chicken!

Queen of Hearts Scans Recipes for Flamingo in Wine

Ever since the price of pork escalated, we have been hunting for more recipes for chicken and other fowl. My research has been extensive, and it brought me to an ancient cook book by Apicius, "The Art of Cooking." There was this fascinating recipe:

FLAMINGO WITH SPICED DATE SAUCE: Pluck flamingo, wash, truss, put in saucepan with water, dill, and a little vinegar. Half-way through cooking, add a bouquet of leek and coriander. Put in a mortar: pepper, caraway, asafoetida root, mint, rue; pound. Moisten with vinegar, add Jericho dates, pour over some of the cooking liquor. When bird is done, thicken sauce with corn flour, pour sauce over bird, and serve. The same recipe can also be used for parrot.

Does your market carry parrot?

Being fresh out of asafoetida root, I moved on to "A Fifteenth Century Cookery Book." In the section of Byrds, I came upon an amazing recipe called PECOK ROSTED: Take a Pecok, breke his necke, kutte his throte, and fle him.

We never have been fond of peacock.

We do like goose, however, and I thought the following recipe might also be used for duck (my market carries duck).

A GOOSE IN HOGEPOTTIE: Take a Goos, and make hure clene, and hake hure to gobetys, & put yn a potte, & Water to, & sethe togederys; take Pepir, Gyngere, Galyngale & Comyn. Ale mynce Oynons and frye in freyssh grece, and do there-to a porcyon of Wyne. Serue forth.

That is what it said. I found that reading it aloud clears matters up considerably. My biggest problem is that I don't have a Hogeplatte. Do you?

If you don't, you may prefer to try my own recipe for Byrds with a porcyon of Wyne:

QUEEN OF HEARTS CHICKEN SAUTE: Cut a good-sized frying chicken in serving pieces, or use 6 to 8 chicken parts. Wipe dry, then rub lightly with a cut lemon or lime, and shake in a paper bag with 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, and 1/2 teaspoon paprika. Sauté till golden in hot fat (use some butter, for flavor).

Place chicken in buttered casserole and sprinkle 3 or 4 minced green onions (mynce Oynons) over the pieces. Place on each piece of chicken a very thin slice of unpeeled lemon or lime.

Pour 2 cups of dry white wine into the saute drippings in the pan; stir over heat till well blended. (Use 2 cups of chicken broth or bouillon if you do not cook with spirits.) Pour over chicken. Cover and cook for nearly 2 hours at 325 degrees. Serve with pilaf or boiled rice. The same recipe can also be used for Parrot... I think.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

A play more than two thousand years old kept Ann Arbor's Hill Auditorium last week in a constant swirl of lively 1966 emotions. The Professional Theater Program of the University of Michigan accomplished this miracle with the presentation of "The Trojan Women."

Euripides' "The Trojan Women" was written in the year 416 B.C. Mr. E. wanted to show the Greek folks the cruel nature of WAR, whether it be an early Greek skirmish or the current Viet Nam limited conflict. The grief of the women who send their loved ones into battle occupies much of "The Trojan Women." At times, old Wally felt that Euripides might have shortened some of the longer soliloquies dealing with the protected lamentations of the wailing widows.

I'll grant you there is great power in a line written by Euripides. My only concern is that you don't need to be overwhelmed to get the impact. Often times this production of "Trojan Women" leaned slightly to the excessive side in the emotion department.

The Greek chorus was used quite intelligently. They served to emphasize and underscore the action taking place in front of them. Their own vocal contributions were done mostly as single voices and only en masse when needed for full dramatic stress. Their active choreography built the total excitement of this fine production to a vivid, vibrant peak of perfection.

"The Trojan Women" ran almost a year off-Broadway with Mildred Dunnock in the lead role. She was the only individual truly missed. The young lady taking over for her did a noble job, but was not quite up to the task. However, one flaw in an otherwise top-flight production in no way made this U of M Professional Theater presentation anything except superb.

The lighting was subtle and almost symphonic in its concept. The incidental music throbbed, beat harshly down upon you, and gave a realistic dimension seldom experienced in the normal pedantic Greek drama. "The Trojan Women" as seen in Ann Arbor had all the push and power of a theatrical trip-hammer. You were emotionally drained after actively absorbing this dramatic statement by Euripides against WAR.

Jerry French, the Plymouth Theater Guild's PR agent, dropped by the office to announce that a contract has been signed by the owners of the Plymouth P and A Theater and the Theater Guild to produce a musical show in May.

Tryouts are being held this week (March 3) and next week (March 10 and 11) at the Plymouth High School Annex Auditorium for anyone and everybody in The Observer circulation area to audition. If you sing, dance, play an instrument, or have acting talents, drop over to the auditions at 8 p.m.

Jerry indicates that should you have a problem with the March dates or the time (8 p.m.), call him at 464-1599. Even if you don't have a time-date problem, Jerry has said call him if you'd like more details.

Right now the Theater Guild Board is trying to make up their mind as to what musical show or combination of theatrical events should go into making the re-birth of the P and A Theater a truly grand occasion. It's been more than 40 years since the Plymouth P and A Theater has had live entertainment.

Back in the 20's according to Stewart Dodge, the P and A manager, the theater was the home of the finest vaudeville and occasionally a traveling troupe of actors would stop and do a show for two or three days. The Plymouth Theater Guild hopes to recreate the olden, golden days of the Plymouth P and A Theater.

Let's hope the opening program is backed by everyone in Western Wayne County. If "live entertainment" succeeds in May at the P & A, many of our homeless community groups in the area have been promised a new home. I'm quite sure most of our local thespians would welcome a release from the high school auditoriums in the area they now rent on a rigidly restricted basis.

'The Gaucho' Is Next Film

Movie idol Douglas Fairbanks is featured in the 1927 epic, "The Gaucho," in the next Famous Early Movies Series offering on Sunday, March 6. Two performances are scheduled at 2 and 4 p.m.

The supporting cast includes Lupe Velez, then starting her rise to screen fame, and Eve Southern, who had made her movie debut in "Intolerance."

The Famous Early Movies program at Greenfield Village each Sunday afternoon is included in the regular admission charge to the Henry Ford Museum.

Child's Play Slated To Benefit Retarded

The Plymouth AAUW Play-School through the sponsorship of the Livonia Association for Retarded Children March 19. Mrs. Margaret Smith, play director and first vice-president of the Plymouth drama group, a division of the nation-wide American Association of University Women, offered the group's services to LARC so that all proceeds from the March 19 staging would be used for the benefit of the mentally retarded in the Livonia area.

Among the group of 20 players and production personnel are Kay Devereaux, a past teacher in the Livonia high schools, playing the part of "Rumplestiltskin"; Mrs. Fay Weber and prop manager Donna Domalske, also former Livonia teachers and technical director Ruth Campbell, a former resident of Livonia.

There will be three performances of the play, especially adapted for children in the four to nine age group, given at 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. Each performance runs for one hour.

Tickets for the play will sell for 50 cents each and all proceeds will be used for LARC's nursery school program for retarded pre-schoolers and the Community Opportunity Center which employs retarded and handicapped adults.

Based on the previous success the Players had in Plymouth a short time ago, and having only 600 tickets available for each performance, LARC anticipates a rapid sell-out of all seats.

Tickets will be made available through flyers that will be distributed throughout Livonia schools, or through mail orders which may be sent to: LARC, PO 2023, Livonia.

Child's Play Sets Livonia Date

The Junior Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford's production of the children's classic "Pinocchio" will be performed this Saturday at Bentley High School in Livonia. Performances of the one hour production are scheduled for 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Tickets, which are 50 cents, may be obtained at the door.

INGRID THULIN is co-starred with Maximilian Schell and Samantha Eggar in the J. Lee Thompson production "Return From the Ashes," a suspense drama opening this week at the Plymouth Art Theatre.

GM Salaried Workers Get $146 Million in Stock Program

A total of approximately $146,000,000 has been credited to more than 67,500 General Motors salaried employees who participated in the Corporation's Savings-Stock Purchase Program of 1960.

Distribution of GM common stock, Government bonds and cash, totaling approximately $101,579,400, is being made to more than 51,700 of the salaried employees who chose to receive their assets from the 1960 "Class."

An additional 15,800 salaried employees are leaving their assets in trust under the other option of the Program. The amount to their credit in the 1960 Class has a current market value of more than $44,000,000.

While these assets will not become payable until the employees retire or otherwise terminate employment, the employee may withdraw securities — both Government bonds and GM stock — purchased with his own savings without affecting his right to receive, when his employment terminates, the securities attributable to General Motors contributions.

The return on an employee's savings was more than $3.65 for every dollar saved. This is based, on the closing market price of $103.50 for GM common stock at the end of 1965.

The distribution being paid out includes:

- 795,000 shares of GM common stock with a market value of $82,232,000.
- U.S. Government bonds with a current value of $16,072,000.
- Approximately $3,225,000 in cash.

This distribution results from employee savings of $27,590,000 and Corporation contributions of $13,795,000 during 1960, plus interest and dividends earned between January 1, 1960, and December 31, 1965, and appreciation in value of GM common stock. The rate of return on this distribution is the greatest in the history of the Program.

As a result of the distribution, an additional 16,650 employees became shareholders in the Corporation.

This is the sixth distribution since the inception of the Program in 1955. A class is formed each year and matures five full years after the year of formation.

From 1955 through 1965 employees have saved about $614 million. This sum, together with the General Motors contribution, has been used to purchase $307 million in Government bonds and more than 12.3 million shares of General Motors common stock.

Under the Program, GM contributes $1 for each $2 of employee savings. One-half of the employee savings is invested in Government bonds and one-half in GM common stock. The Corporation contributions and all dividends are invested entirely in GM common stock.

GM salaried employees having one year or more of continuous service are eligible to participate in the Program on a voluntary basis. They may save up to 10 per cent of their salary. A similar Program is in effect for salaried employees of General Motors Subsidiaries operating in Canada. A distribution under this Program was also made this week. More than 2,600 employees received $4,625,000 in General Motors Corporation common stock, Canada Savings Bonds and cash.

Bread Sticks In Cheddar Easy to Make

Cheeses and breads are a time-honored combination, both foods being almost as old as man himself. Evidence found in Egyptian tombs tells us that the ancients were skilled yeast bakers and that cheese-making, too, was a highly developed art. References show that breads and cheeses were served at emperors' feasts as far back as 2,000 B.C.

Breads and cheeses have been mealtime staples down through the ages, and still serve as the popular noon meal in many countries.

Here, for a change of pace, the cheese is added to French bread dough and shaped into rolled "sticks." Sprinkled with coarse salt or caraway seeds and baked until golden brown, Cheddar Bread Sticks are a nippy accompaniment for fruit salads, soups, stews or casseroles.

CHEDDAR BREAD STICKS

1 1/4 cups warm water (105-115° F.)

1 package or cake Fleischmann's yeast, active dry or compressed

1 tablespoon sugar

1 1/2 teaspoons salt

1/2 cup finely shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

3 cups unsifted flour (about) melted Fleischmann's margarine

1 egg white

1 tablespoon water

Coarse salt or caraway seeds

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in Fleischmann's yeast; stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt, cheese and enough flour to make soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 35 minutes. Punch down; turn out on lightly floured board, and cut in half. Roll each half into an oblong 9x12 inches. Cut into 12 3-inch squares. Brush lightly with melted Fleischmann's margarine. Roll up, jelly-roll fashion. Place on greased baking sheet. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes. Brush with egg white that has been beaten lightly with 1 tablespoon water; sprinkle with coarse salt or caraway seeds. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes 2 dozen.

Solving The Problems Of Disposal of Rubbish

One of the greatest problems facing every major city in the United States and a large majority of the smaller communities is disposal of rubbish and other solid wastes.

Livonia is unique in that it is blessed by a legacy of resources left to it by a previous far-sighted Council, officials and citizens who recognized a long range need to provide for rubbish disposal. Those resources include:

- (1) A 100-acre-plus disposal site (87 acres are owned outright by the City) located a half mile east of Farmington road just north of the C & O railroad.
 - (2) A one mill levy for the purpose of picking up and disposing of rubbish.
 - (3) A sound contract with a private company to pick up the rubbish and maintain the refuse site, precluding the need for the City to buy trucks and maintain a large payroll.
- Approximately two years ago, the Director of Public Works and his staff, with the concurrence of the Council, made a study of our present and future needs in the area of rubbish disposal. The important highlights of this study indicated that the present rate of fill and the type of fill would cause the dump site to fill up in seven to 14 years.
- Studies were begun to determine how we could preserve this site. Shortly after, the State enacted legislation that could result in our type of fill being ruled unlawful.
- The study produced two major conclusions: (a) Large items representing clean landfill (i. e. stumps of trees, furniture, etc.) were contributing to the rapid filling of the dump site; (b) Incineration would reduce the volume up to 90 per cent of its original bulk.
- The urgency of taking immediate action to preserve the existing dump site cannot be overstated. To this end, Council President Rudolf R. Kleimert has appointed a three-man committee of Councilmen to work with a three-man committee appointed by the Mayor. Several meetings have been held, and nearly incinerators and methods of disposal have been reviewed.
- The first criteria set up by the committee is that if incineration is to be used, there must be no air pollution or unsightly smoke given off. Several discussions relative to an odor-free and smoke-free operation have been reviewed with a firm that has a world-wide reputation for practically eliminating air pollution in its installation (Centri-Spray Corporation), located in Livonia.
- The committee is reviewing the various financing methods and interviewing consultants who, when engaged, would guide us to the best method of rubbish disposal. If the Council agrees that it is incineration, that consultant would design the operation with assistance from air pollution experts.
- The committee has also sent questionnaires to seven of the surrounding townships and cities to determine if they would be interested in joining us in constructing an incinerator and if they have dump sites. In order to provide for future growth, the incinerator would have spare tonnage initially that could be sold to adjacent communities.
- The primary purpose in these statements is to assure the people of Livonia that the project will only become a reality if we can be sure that the incinerator will not be a nuisance. We will keep you informed as new developments take place.
- EDWARD H. McNAMARA,
Councilman,
CITY OF LIVONIA.

Four Communities O.K. Joint Incinerator

Plymouth, Northville, Farmington and Redford Township have indicated to Dave Jones, Assistant Public Works Director for Livonia, their interest in an incinerator authority for all areas and to be built in Livonia.

Each of the communities is faced with the problem of rubbish land fill reaching a saturation point.

Several of the communities have a contract to haul their rubbish away and this method is considered more costly than entering into an authority with other neighboring communities.

The project has reached the point of Livonia's studying the type and size building that would be required for this joint ownership.

Livonia Hiring 100 Teachers—Needs Over 300

Why continue to build schools when we are talking about closing some to save money? Why not take the money being used to build new schools and use it to operate them?

These two questions recur at Livonia School Board meetings and in public discussions devoted to the financial plight of the school district, which includes Livonia and northern portions of Nankin Township.

School Superintendent Benton Yates said the building program continues because the elementary schools have either been built or are about to be.

"Contracts for two new elementary schools have already been let," Yates said recently at the school board meeting.

Additional expansion is planned in the junior high area where classroom space will be needed because of an additional 2,600 students expected to flow into the Livonia district each of the next three years.

"We must remember," Yates cautioned, "that if we are forced to go on half days next year because of limited funds, it would affect only the elementary grades and not necessarily all of them."

When the question of using construction funds for operating costs comes up, board members advise that state law provides that funds voted for capital improvements must be used only for that purpose.

Operating funds are not restricted to operation, they say, but it is a lucky school district that has enough operating funds to spend some of them on buildings.

Board members are looking into all areas where costs can be cut, if more millage is not approved by the electorate. Nine mills was turned down in January three to one.

They are running into a frustrating experience in the process, however, because the public is interpreting the board's studies as actual accomplishments.

Trustee Dominick A. Taddonio said he felt the public had misinterpreted some possible suggestions for cutting costs, offered by Trustee Erwin S. Brown.

"The $700,000 figure we talked about has been interpreted as an area cut," Taddonio said.

Brown added that he brought the figures up only with the intention of their being reviewed.

Still trying to impress voters that educational quality will suffer if more funds are not forthcoming, Taddonio said, "We are not going to get next year for the same price that we got this year."

Not knowing exactly which way to turn but needing a staff on hand to operate the schools, the board has given authorization to hire an additional 100 teachers.

Yates has advised that the normal attrition of teachers is between 300 and 350 annually.

He has suggested the school district might cut the staff by 250 teachers if it becomes necessary to resort to half day sessions.

Charge Plate Fraud Fails

A Dearborn woman and her sister from Wayne face charges of obtaining money or other valuables by fraud according to Livonia Police reports after they reportedly purchased more than $800 in clothing and other items from area Sears stores on a charge plate that had been reported lost.

Livonia Police reported they nabbed the pair after a lengthy investigation when Sears officials complained of the frauds at the Lincoln Park and Livonia Mall stores.

The reports show that Mrs. Terrill Gauskas, of Dearborn, reported loss of her charge plate on Jan. 22 to Sears Livonia Mall. A stop order was placed on the plate but before it could become effective, Sears officials reported a number of charges against the account.

The charges started on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 at the Lincoln Park store where articles valued at $419.73 were purchased.

Additional charges were made at the Livonia Mall on Feb. 5 for a total of $408, allegedly signed by Sandra Lemond, of Wayne, a sister of Mrs. Gauskas according to police reports.

Livonia Police were called in to investigate and discovered the woman accused had the same identity as the woman to whom the plate had been issued.

Mrs. Gauskas was picked up and after questioning admitted the fraud along with her sister. Police said the pair thought they could get away with the frauds by having the sister sign the charges.

The pair were to be arraigned before Municipal Judge Robert Lorian.

Desegregation Of Schools Topic For LCBHR Sunday

Sunday, March 6, at 9 p.m., the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations will hold their monthly meeting at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, 16360 Hubbard Road, Livonia.

Arnold Glovinsky, consultant from the Desegregation Advisory Project of the Wayne County Intermediate School District, will speak at the meeting.

The Wayne County Desegregation Project aims to help local school districts cope with the problems incident to the desegregation of public schools. Their services are given at the request of local school officials. Workshops involving administrators of various school districts are at present being carried on throughout the county.

Parents of all races are becoming increasingly aware of the disadvantages of segregated education. Just as the minority child being educated in the isolated ghetto of an oftentimes inferior school cannot be expected to compete successfully in society, so also the pupil

RICHARD SCHAFER with his valuable invention, a PenAide that promises, when used consistently on a pen or pencil to improve anyone's handwriting.

Build A Better Mousetrap and

Of course there is something new under the sun, and Richard Schaffer of Livonia has proven it.

It all started with a simple, ordinary washer. As he was talking on the phone one day at his desk he happened to put a washer over a pencil he was holding. During the course of the conversation he began to write with the pencil with the washer over it and, lo and behold, discovered it relaxed his finger muscles and he was doing an easier job writing with a free-flowing hand.

As a tool and die maker he decided to see if he could develop the idea a step further. He fashioned a die that would make a mold to fit over a pencil or pen at such a slant so as to give the fingers a resting position, thereby improving penmanship.

After a month of experimenting he came up with his new invention, the PenAide. The die cost approximately $2,500, however, the production cost of the PenAide will be nominal and will probably sell for about five cents apiece. He is now thinking of having them made in plastic, which will make them more attractive.

He has the PenAide patented and J. Malcomb Flora Company in Plymouth is interested in marketing them.

Schaffer is employed by Lacy Tool Company, and enjoys his work, but he also enjoys fooling around in his home workshop. His wife Alice and four children are his best salesmen, believe in his invention, and think Dad is the greatest.

C of C Slates B-I-E Day in Michigan Week

Plans for a Business-Industry-Education day, as one of the features of the annual Michigan Week celebration in the Plymouth community, were disclosed Monday by Earl Gibson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Education Committee.

Gibson and his group are contacting all industrial and business firms in the area with invitations to participate.

The plans call for teachers in the Plymouth School system to receive time off from classes, by agreement of the Board of Education, to spend a half-day observing business and industrial firms in action.

The teachers would have an opportunity to question top executives about economic education as it affects local firms.

The B-I-E Day has met with enthusiastic reception at other nearby communities and the Chamber of Commerce Board requested the Education Committee to arrange such a program in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Greavu

Plymouth Pair Honored On Golden Anniversary

It was a happy occasion 50 years ago when Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Greavu, then in their late teens and recent immigrants from Roumania, were married in Indianapolis on Feb. 12, 1916 after a courtship of more than two years.

It was an even happier celebration when their children helped them observe their golden wedding anniversary with an open house in the Grange Hall on Union Street in Plymouth.

The Greavus moved to Michigan with their family in 1922 and have resided in the area since and at 373 Maple Street, Plymouth, for the past eight years.

They are the parents of five children: Dr. Cornell Greavu of North Branch; Mrs. Helen Burbank of Texas; Mrs. Mary Randall and Mrs. Virginia Buchanan of California, and Mrs. Anna Dean of Holly.

Dr. Greavu and Mrs. Dean arranged the open house but the three daughters in the southwest and far west weren't able to make the trip due to the great distance. However, each surprised the parents by making telephone calls on the anniversary to wish their father and mother a happy 50th and many more anniversaries.

More than 75 guests attended the open house at which Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Dow Perry served the luncheon and Mrs. Cornell Greavu, Jr. served the three-tiered anniversary cake.

A granddaughter, Mrs. John Merrills of North Branch, was in charge of the guest book.

The tables were covered with white tablecloths with a golden streamer down the center of each and each was decorated with a bud vase with a yellow rose at each table.

The guests list included visitors from Canada, Northville, Livonia, Orchard Lake, Union Lake, Ypsilanti, Warren, Utica, Detroit, Dearborn, Garden City, Lansing, Pontiac, Traverse City, North Branch, Charlotte and Holly as well as many from Plymouth.

The Plymouth Rotary Club Friday elected five members to the Board of Directors including four holdovers and one newcomer.

The holdovers are: Vice President Frank Allison, Dr. William Covington, James Thomas and Dr. Cliff McClumpha.

Wards 'Donates' TV

Between the hours of 3 a.m. and 5:15 a.m. on Feb. 26 someone acquired a new portable TV set courtesy of the Montgomery Ward store in Farmington. According to Farmington Police reports the set, valued at $119, was taken by reaching through a broken window on the western side of the building. The time is fixed due to a police check of the area at 3 a.m. and the report of a newsboy who saw the broken window at 5:15 a.m., but didn't report it to the police as he "didn't think they were up yet."

Associated Spring Plans Computer Service Center

BRISTOL, CONN. — Associated Spring Corporation, headquartered here, will establish a corporate Computer Service Center for all of its facilities in the United States and Canada. The center will provide faster, more efficient customer service and speed internal processing of orders and other data. The corporation has a plant in Plymouth, Mich.

The center will be the hub of a coast-to-coast electronic system serving 24 plants, offices and distribution centers in 12 states and two Canadian provinces. The various locations will be equipped for sending and receiving information and will be linked to the computer by tele-communications devices such as telephone and TWX.

Each facility will process its own data, using the computer center, with its speed and versatility, for record retention, information supply and calculating capacity.

A complete range of management information services will be handled by the system, including the processing of inquiries and orders, inventory control, production planning and control, sales forecasting and planning, and preparation of management and accounting reports. Both real time and batch

Final Report To Be Delayed

Farmington Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan, who also heads the citizen's study committee on the incorporation of the Township, commented during Monday night's Board meeting that he would suggest postponing the March 21 session of the study committee examining the incorporation of Farmington Township for two weeks.

At this meeting the committee is scheduled to make its final report. Brennan observed that there would be time for the postponement before the election and that he would like to give the group four weeks to prepare the final report rather than the two originally scheduled.

Brennan emphasized that he was speaking as a private citizen during his comments obviously in reference to the court order prohibiting the Township officials from working toward or advocating incorporation as a part of their official duties.

Scouts Have Song

Fest at Highmeadow

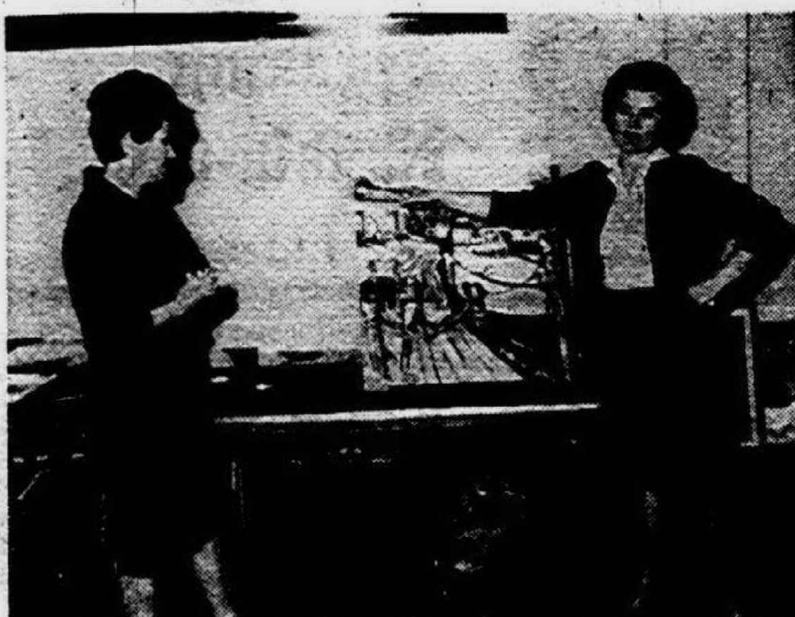

Five girl scout troops in North Farmington gathered at the Highmeadow School Feb. 9 for a songfest. Brownie Troops 111 and 115 and Junior Troops 828, 761 and 26 all participated in the event. Songs used were from the Brownie Handbook and the Girl Scout Pocket Songbook. Consultant Bea Scaglione lead the girls.

The Brownies made rhythm shakers from the directions in the handbook and using things they had at home. The variety of sounds added by the shakers added to the merriment of the occasion.

Elizabeth Brauer and Carolyn Sidloaky received the Marion Award, the highest award given to Catholic Girl Scouts, Jan. 23 at the Benediction Service at Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in Farmington. The girls, members of Senior Troop 258, received the first such award given in the parish's history. It is a spiritual merit award for outstanding achievement in faith.

The Farmington Neighborhood will hold an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. March 13 at the Farmington Senior High. Theme of the afternoon is Promise in Action.

A gift will be donated by this neighborhood to the Farmington

Library in memory of Mrs. Rubin Halperin, former leader of Cadette Troop 317.

Junior Troop 750 is busy working on their art fads. They camped Feb. 11 through 13 at Camp Narrin.

Junior Troop 1036 has invited their sister scouts from Alameda School to be their guests at a World Wide Games Party. Games, dances and the countries of France, Switzerland, Mexico and Denmark will be featured.

In Southeastern Farmington the Brownies are busy planning for the Brownie Pow Wow. This will be either May 14 or May 21 at Riverside Park from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

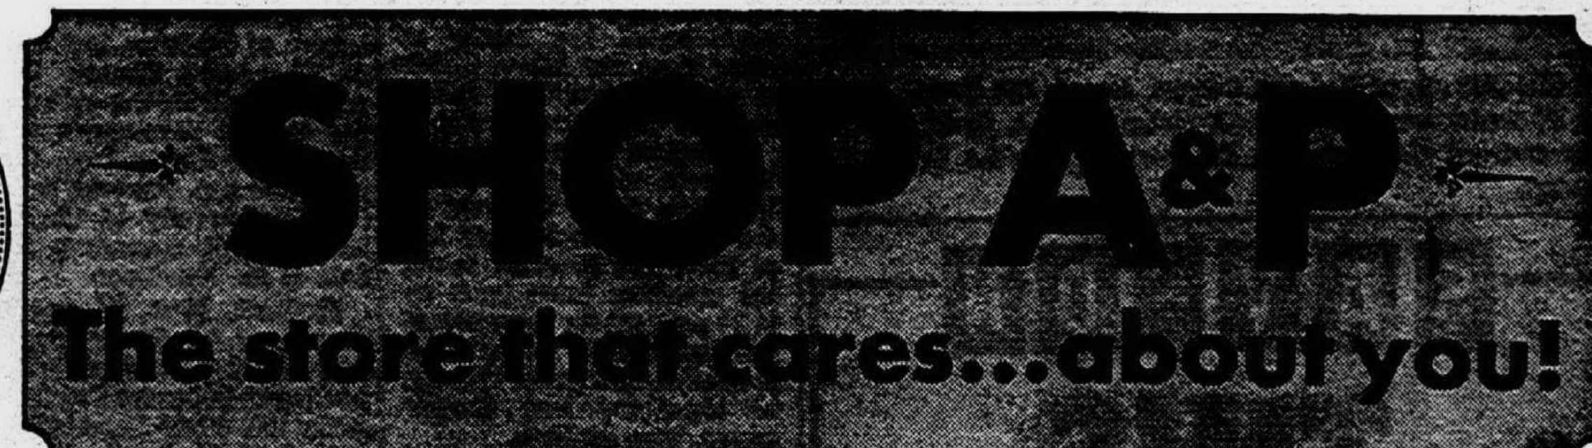

Recreation Series Opens

The City of Farmington's Recreation Department reopens its program this Saturday at the Cloverdale Elementary School. The 10 week series will run from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Last year the Commission played host to 2,782 youngsters. The area wide program is made possible by funds from the City of Farmington, Farmington Township, the Farmington Public Schools and the United Fund.

Rights Group Joins County Council

The Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity, chaired this year by Plymouth City Attorney Tom Healy, is one of seven charter members of the Associated Human Relations Councils of Wayne County. The Associated Councils is being temporarily chaired by Norman Thoburn, 1052 Harding, Plymouth.

The Association is being formed in order to coordinate projects on a countywide basis so that they will have more effect than if they are carried out one by one. It will also afford a chance to make the experiences of each local group available to the other groups, so that each can profit from the successes and mistakes of the others.

Perhaps most important, it will give suburban groups a chance to work with, and to meet regularly with, people from core city groups, since communication between suburban citizen groups and their counterpart neighborhood associations in the core city of Detroit needs to be encouraged.

Membership is restricted to volunteer citizen groups, in Wayne County, which are formed for the purpose of promoting equal opportunity in housing, education, and employment for all people, regardless of race, creed, or color.

Official groups and local chapters of national organizations are not included, since it is felt that local action by volunteer local people is an important principle, and a traditionally American one, which should be preserved and strengthened whenever possible.

The Associated Councils first met as a group Jan. 30 in Central Methodist Church, in Detroit.

Seek Federal Funds for Nankin Park Development

Nankin Recreation Director Jack Voss is taking steps which might eventually lead to the development of a new Township Park on property adjacent to Edison School, formerly owned by the Wayne Community School District.

Voss is consulting with professional firms to determine which one to contract with to make application to the federal government for a matching funds development grant. He has been directed by the Township Board to hire a professional consultant, at a rate not to exceed $500, to process the application.

The property for the new park is 21.7 acres across from the Edison School bounded by Wildwood, Hunter and Radcliffe. The Wayne School District swapped the property to Nankin Township for the 17.9 acres of Nankin Jaycee Park at Wildwood and Cherry Hill and a cash settlement between $23-29,000.

The cash settlement is to cover Nankin's cost for improvements of the Edison site and will be determined definitely when the contracts for improvements are completed.

The school district plans to use the Jaycee Park property for a new elementary school expected to be constructed by next September.

Voss said the cash amount received in the swap will be used to apply for matching funds to the federal government, so conceivably Nankin could apply with an approximate $20,000 giving the Township close to $40,000 to use to develop the park.

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors have agreed to cancel its present lease with Nankin on Jaycee Park and make a new lease agreement for the Edison property. The County lease expires after suitable improvements have been made.

The Board of Supervisors had recommended the money received from the school district be used to apply for federal funds for the improvements.

The grant to be applied for, Voss said, will be Title VII of the Open Space Program of the Urban Redevelopment Act of 1965. The program raised the matching funds from 20 to 30 per cent for recreational development of acquired properties. The grant will not be given for land already owned, Voss explains.

Voss said some thought is being given to including another site in the application for funds.

The site which might be included in a package deal is on the northwest corner of Henry Ruff and Palmer Rds. and has been used by Nankin for 2 1/2 years as a ball diamond.

THE GARDEN CITY schools are to be commended on their sponsoring of a program of their outstanding music as The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Sixten Ehrlich. This fine concert presented works of Nielsen, Brahms, Revel and Tchaikovsky Sunday evening, (February 27) at the Garden City West High School. Too seldom do we suburbanites have the opportunity to enjoy a musical experience of this type. I feel there are too few really good programs available to the local area. More of this type program should be promoted.

MARCH 4 is the day to remember the "Carry Out" fish fry sponsored by the Confraternity of Christian Mothers of St. Theodore's Church. There will be available the entire dinner (except beverages), of either fish or shrimp, from 4 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. Then on April 9 the Confraternity of Christian Mothers will sponsor a Bake Sale at St. Theodore's.

Three Bills by Senator Trout for TB Protection

Senator Terry L. Trout (D-Romulus) has introduced three related bills to give the Department of Public Health practically unlimited authority to prevent the spread of tuberculosis by inadvertent carriers.

The new legal weapons for the Health Department were triggered by the flash epidemic of TB in an institution for children in Garden City, which is in the Senator's Thirteenth District. Before the epidemic had run its course, after an unknown carrier had infected the children, there were 17 children hospitalized as TB patients requiring months of care before they can be completely cured.

One bill provides authority for the Health authorities to require annual examinations of "teachers, other employees of public, parochial and denominational schools; child care institutions and day nurseries, and including employees of head-start programs."

Another bill would give the department authority to make rules and regulations for the discovery and control of tuberculosis. It also includes the specific authority to require annual examinations of "persons, who by nature of their occupations could constitute a public health hazard if infected with communicable tuberculosis."

"The amazing thing is that we do not have laws like this at the present time," Trout said. "Public health is so vital that there must be no question or doubt about the State Health Department having all the authority of law to protect it."

"In the 13th Senatorial District there is no need to remind the people of the danger of TB. The parents of most of these children are friends and neighbors of mine. When anything strikes that close to home it becomes very real."

Trout added that the third bill would repeal a law passed last year requiring immunization of all children entering school for the first time unless their parents or guardians objected in writing on religious or other grounds.

"Health officials feel that the bill granting the Department the authority to make rules and regulations for the discovery and control of tuberculosis is broad enough to include regulations for children starting school," Trout explained.

"There will no longer be any room for objections that might endanger public health under the guise of religion or religious beliefs. Health authorities tell me they have been informed that there are judicial decisions holding that religious beliefs

GM Workers Set Record For Ideas

General Motors employees in the United States and Canada broke all records in 1965 for the Corporation's Suggestion Plan, Louis G. Seaton, vice president in charge of the Personnel Staff, announced.

Records were established in 1965 for the amounts of money paid for employee suggestions, the number of award winning suggestions and the number of maximum awards.

Employees were awarded $9,216,977 for 193,873 suggestions which were adopted. This contrasts with the previous record year of 1964 when $7,868,184 was awarded for 172,389 winning suggestions.

Attesting to the quality of suggestions in 1965 is the fact that 85 maximum awards of $8,000 each were made while another 847 awards were of $1,000 or more. Both are records for the Suggestion Plan, Seaton said.

Since its establishment in 1942 GM employees have received awards in excess of $72,200,000 for more than 1,590,000 suggestions adopted by the Corporation.

"This record-breaking performance is a good indication of the fundamental value of the suggestion system, rewarding as it does the employee who is willing to use fully his talents and energy and to think about his job," Seaton said.

The suggestions deal with nearly all phases of GM's operations and result in safety improvement, better quality, improved manufacturing and handling methods and in material savings.

Urge State Retirees Sign For Medicare

Medicare amounts to a federal subsidy of health care costs, state employees and retirees 65 and over were told by mail in a letter from the Michigan Department of Civil Service urging their enrollment before the March 31 deadline.

State Personnel Director Franklin K. DeWald said the Civil Service sponsored health plan benefits would be revised for persons 65 and older July 1, 1966, to no longer provide benefits for expenses which are covered under either the hospital or medical parts of Medicare for persons eligible for them. The plan is underwritten by the Aetna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn.

Rates to persons 65 and over for the State-sponsored plan will be reduced by almost 50 per cent, he said. The State program provides 365 days of semi-private hospital care in full, similar to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, plus major medical benefits for outpatient costs such as doctors' visits, drugs, and home nursing.

Monthly retiree rates will be adjusted as follows: Retiree only—from $11.52 to $5.96; retiree and spouse—from $24.98 to $12.72; and full family—from $31.95 to $17.86. Active employees 65 and over receive a State contribution toward premium. The employee's costs will be reduced by more than 50 per cent.

Persons 65 and over will get the hospital portion of Medicare without charge, but will pay $3 per month to the federal government for the medical coverage.

"You can see that even though enrollment in Medicare will cost you money, the overall cost of your health coverage will be substantially reduced," the letter said.

"This is due to an overall reduction in rates in the Civil Service sponsored health plan effective next July as well as the fact that Medicare amounts to a federal subsidy to your health care costs."

Livonia Man Wears 2 Hats

If this were a normal work week for Elmer Dunkak of Livonia, he would be sitting in an office here in Michigan figuring out more efficient methods and systems for a major automobile manufacturer.

But this isn't a normal work week for this methods and systems analyst in the Central Office of Ford Motor Company's Assembly Division at Dearborn. Instead, Dunkak is wearing his "other hat" as lieutenant commander of the Naval Air Reserve.

He is spending his annual two-week training duty period at the huge Naval Air Station in Alameda, Calif., as a member of Transport Squadron 732 attached to the Naval Air Station at Grosse Ile.

He and his wife reside at 17882 Bell Creek Lane with their three children: Jocelyn D., 7; Meredith G., 3; and Paul B., 1.

Public Bargaining

School boards and employe negotiators have a strong tendency to conduct their wage negotiations in closed meetings and to reveal little of their progress until the final package is wrapped up.

Seldom do the bargaining agencies come directly to an open meeting to lay their requests on the board table where all can see.

Yet, this is the proper procedure in the orderly conduct of business.

Observe how any meeting is handled. A subject comes up for discussion. It is decided further study is needed and referred to the proper committee or individuals to make a determination and come back with a report or recommendation.

The value of following such routine insures that interested citizens may be aware of matters in which they are concerned.

They are then in a position to express their feelings and be a part of the policy-making process before somewhat final decisions are reached.

In the matter of salaries, fringe benefits and working conditions the public has the highest interest in them but is afforded the least opportunity to learn how the decisions are made.

Is it doubtful, many — if any — persons would attend negotiating sessions but the door should be open to any individual to do so should he want to.

All boards should make every effort to maintain an effective flow of information to citizens of their community. This can be done by conducting as much business as possible with the welcome mat spread for the public.

Is Now Mad

Editor:
In the 15 years I have been a resident of Livonia I have always supported the Livonia School programs, despite the fact that my children have always attended parochial elementary and high schools.

However, this morning I witnessed an incident which made me realize how grievously our school tax money is being wasted.

At 8:15 a.m. on Inkster Road, Livonia School Bus No. 62 stopped to pick up four students, which was all well and proper—and traffic from both directions rightfully stopped. However, almost a block away was a young girl who looked like she had spent the morning in front of a mirror torturing her hair, in a skirt above her knees and too tight for her to do anything but mince along—and she did. She made no effort to hurry even though about 12 cars, undoubtedly tax payers who were trying to get to work in order, to pay for pampering these students, had to wait until she sauntered up to the bus.

The student was late she made no effort to hurry, but I believe that the Bus Driver was more negligent than the student in holding up traffic to wait for this laggard. If students had to walk to school once or twice they might make an effort to be at the bus corner on time.

From now on I shall work as diligently as possible to see that no more of our school bond issues are passed. This kind of waste we can do without!

Who Needs Dictatorship

Editor:
After reading an article in the paper this week, I was surprised by the remarks of the "head man" of L.E.A. in Livonia at a school board meeting, and I quote:

"If this millage question does not pass the school board should resign completely as a body." And the superintendent of schools made a remark about resigning.

To me this is what I call dictatorship. We, in Livonia, will not stand for any talk like that.

There is in Livonia now enough haggling going on between various divisions of city government.

Reasoning in the debate of millage with plain facts will go a long way on this question.

The question of closing 10 schools, paying off a lot of personnel is a serious question that must be given some serious thought, which I do not agree with.

So let us have some serious talk and views, not dictatorship.

She's Angry, At Whom

Editor:
Your special insert on the front page of Jan. 26 issue of The Observer of Farmington captioned "A Silent Vagnozzi" promoted me to put my ireful reaction in print. Usually a reserved person, this article incited my emotions.

As the mother of a Boy Scout, I feel that this was an unscrupulous remark by a so-called intelligent trustee of our township. When mature adults have to stoop so low as to ridicule the innocent children of their opponents, this is really begrimed politics!

I do not know Mr. Vagnozzi or his son personally but it appears that when anyone (regardless of party) asks intelligent questions at our Farmington Township meetings all they get is derision or name-calling by our township officials.

How then are we to learn the true facts?

This article certainly did not raise your paper's esteem in many people's eyes. Until now, I had always felt that The Observer gave an unbiased account of our local news.

A BOY SCOUTS MOTHER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was unsigned and actually shouldn't be printed under The Observer's ground rules (we will withhold the name, but the letters must be signed when we receive them). However, we are printing it because, quite frankly, we are confused. What is she mad at The Observer about? Because Farmington Township Trustee Tom Nolan was doing a bit of ribbing? Does she think that we put him up to it? We didn't, but it did happen and The Observer's intention was certainly not to ridicule and we don't believe that this was Nolan's purpose. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Vagnozzi (who have both been in the office in the past week) have expressed any sort of reaction to the story. It was a flip comment, intended to brighten up what had been a somewhat dull meeting and was reported in that vein. Thus to our last comment—how can this lead a reader to the conclusion that The Observer is no longer unbiased. Let us re-iterate we are unbiased.

That same night my father said, "Because of this pool you will not have your favorite baseball field." I giggled thinking again that many people would be hit in the head with my ball. Now it seems funny, but that "pool lifeguard" better be good at saving lives.

Of course I will be used to screaming because of my toad. He's out there too, and he loves to come out of warm dirt for a swim. Some screams will be from grasshoppers hopping down the people's backs. There could be a few "ouches" too when they step on my collection of stones I throw there.

Parking will be a jam (or maybe even a sour pickle jelly) if Mrs. Sourpuss complains. She has supposedly bought a second car just in case her's is smashed when backing out of the driveway on Sunday. The kids don't mind sticking toes in tar, but how would ladies like being sunned with tar on them. One thing I do know is that divers would enjoy a swim in their car, but a woman wouldn't appreciate having her baby oil washed off by a car filled with water from a sprinkler.

Some people would love a pool and so would I, but it's too close to home. Our homes won't sell as good. And anyway, I hate headaches!

About Brookdale

Editor:
Regarding Mrs. Monahan's letter to the editor Feb. 2, 1966 paper. I am a regular reader of The Observer. Have been while living in Livonia five (5) years and the last three (3) years in Farmington and I have not read the 380 inches of reports, pictures and editorials about Brookdale Cemetery.

I am sure Mrs. Monahan has been reading the present and future status of this cemetery. Why don't you give her the courtesy of answering her letter and not add thoughts when the letter was expressed in a precise and clear-cut matter. Don't sell the people in Livonia so short.

ED. NOTE: Mrs. Johns, the Brookdale Cemetery story was run (for many weeks) mainly in The Livonia Observer. Mrs. Monahan is welcome to come in and look at our morgue (no pun intended). We could not answer all her questions in an Editor's Note, but have answered her questions in 380 inches of copy in previous issues.

SEVENTY DOLLAR TAX RAISE

Editor:
It said in the paper today that there was going to be a raise in school taxes. I will give you a few things our students need that make this tax raise necessary.

The institution of marriage is being debated enough today by fears of nuclear war, threats of total annihilation, and widespread uncertainty about the future without being brought down on the 'homefront.' All of our society is based upon the family as the basic unit. Marriage itself is based upon sex. Therefore, if sex is advocated outside of marriage and people accept this philosophy, then not only will the family fall apart but society itself.

If we are rational animals, then please let us prove it.

The Reader Speaks Up:

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

Without beating around the issue, I would like to take up a case for firemen everywhere who receive less pay than policemen — and for both who receive less than a decent salary to raise their family in the community in which they serve.

Both police and firemen must have basic skills, their academic requirements are almost identical; the danger to their lives, proven by statistics, is actually greater in the fire department — in fact firemen's deaths each year are three times that experienced by the average worker in the United States. Fire fighters sustain injuries at a rate seven times the industrial workman.

Of course there always is the old bromide that suggests the fire fighter is tucked snugly in his bed, reading, snacking, watching TV each evening and on the taxpayers' money, of course.

The truth is the majority of fires like babies, are born in the pre-dawn hours. These fires are more dangerous, because not only is there the hazard of the fire, but usually the electricity is out and with smoke and darkness it is hard to see the danger of a falling wall or brick. Hardly a fire of this type ever occurs without injury, or, in many cases, death.

Aside from the night run fires, even the most militant government administrator can't take away the fact that the fire fighter is away from his family 56 hours a week, which is 16 hours more a week than his counterpart in the police department. This can make a lot of difference in a wife and kids — and puts them in a different category on the block than the families of any other workers.

It is not my opinion that the fireman should be paid MORE than the policeman. In fact, I think they should be interchangeable at the first level — all working the same hours, getting the same pay (and more of it) and doing each other's work.

As an armchair general who has read reams from both sides, I think there should be a separation of police and fire at the administrative level, but not in the field.

It's complicated, but with cooperation it can be worked out and I absolutely believe that it would mean better service to the community, at more pay to the servicemen in both departments — and what I can't for the life of me understand is why both services wouldn't be delighted by adding to their prestige by learning more. More education is the key to everything we do in this world.

One more word on the fire fighter's lot — perhaps the teacher, attorney, mayor, and businessman hasn't really considered this — but today's fire fighter faces hazards he did not 20 years ago.

Because of rocket fuels, plastics, unusual fuels and radio-active materials — and even some materials that explode when water strikes them — firefighters require a working knowledge of chemistry, physics and mathematics. A wrong decision, not given quickly enough, or because the fireman didn't read one of the 30 new manuals assigned him could cost not only his life, but that of his contemporaries — a constant fear to a firefighter for it is bad enough to be responsible for your own life — but when it involves others, fellow citizen, this is pressure.

These are the pay scales in our surrounding areas for the beginning serviceman:
Farmington Township: Fire—Volunteer; Police—$5,700.
City of Farmington: Public Safety Offices—$5,700.
Garden City: Fire—$4,275; Police $5,665.
Plymouth: Fire—$5,902; Police $5,902.
Livonia: Fire—$6,100; Police $6,884 (a candidate with one year experience starts at $7,134).
Redford Township: Fire—$5,800; Police $5,800.
Nankin Township: Fire $5,781; Police $6,282.

Plymouth Road Parking

In the Positive Vein

Editor:
After reading the editorials published in the Jan. 26, and Feb. 2 editions of The Observer paper concerning the Plymouth Road parking problem, I feel obligated to speak out to correct the false conclusions you have drawn as to the position of part of the opposition to the proposed Plymouth Road parking study.

In order that you may be aware of the position of the Rosedale Gardens Civic Association, I have enclosed the attached letter which I mailed last month to the City Council. This letter summarizes the position of the Civic Association and indicates what we think may be done to alleviate our recognized problem and it also indicates what we are willing to do to bring about these required solutions. I have also attached a copy of our newsletter for the months of December and February. The February letter indicates the position taken by the Civic Association regarding this problem to our membership. This should assure you that the point of view indicated in this letter to the council is the same as the one indicated to the general membership. The December newsletter, in the last item summarizing the November meeting, indicates that the Civic Association is genuinely concerned about this type problem and has actively been seeking a solution to it.

I sincerely feel that the planning department was in error in developing a plan directly effecting the living conditions of a residential subdivision without consulting the residents during preliminary work, the actual development of the plan, or after conclusion.

As you know, the subject plan was initiated in July, published in November, and given to the City Council in December. The first I heard of the existence of the plan was in late December. The planning director, Don Hull, was invited to our January meeting to present his study to our membership. He did not choose to attend. He did send his assistant, Mr. Naggy, but he did not choose to participate in the discussion. I was contacted by the

Ed. Note: Planning Commissioner had other commitments that would not allow his attending the Rosedale Gardens Civic Association meeting. Am delighted to hear of the pending cooperation of Rosedale with the Planning Commission—this brings the problem a step closer to what we all in our own way are trying to accomplish, an improvement of Plymouth Road parking.

DIABETES? OR HYPOGLYCEMIA

High-Blood Sugar? Or Low Blood Sugar?

One-hundred and fifty years ago, average annual consumption of sugar per capita in the United States was five pounds. Today over 100 pounds per capita each year! The increase in high-blood sugar and low-blood sugar has been co-incidental with the consumption of sugar. It has been predicted that within a dozen years, half of us in the United States, able to work and pay taxes, will be forced to take care of the other half, who will be incapacitated, because of disability.

Learn now how to maintain a better-balanced body chemistry! In many cases low blood sugar there is usually a strong craving for coffee. Dr. Abrahamson—in his book, Body, Mind & Sugar—has pointed out that it is practically impossible to control low blood sugar if the patient insists in drinking coffee. If you have abnormal and frequent hunger pangs, and crave sweets constantly, also desire for starches, and coffee, you need this nutritional plan.

Try ZERBO'S Nutritional body rebuilding program. Come in for a free interview, and let us show you how we have helped hundreds of others! Dr. Code Martin, of New York has found almost every delinquent with a body chemistry, low in Blood-Sugar-Lavies.

Principal Presiding At Parley

A Livonian educator will preside at the three-day conference of elementary school principals which starts today (Wednesday) in Grand Rapids and continues through Friday.

Corlan Bovee, principal of the Lincoln School in the Livonia School District and chairman of the Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals, said he expected more than 1,000 persons would attend the 40th annual conference.

Former Livonia educator, Clare Broadhead, now a specialist for the Wayne County Intermediate School District, will moderate a debate on the proposition, "Resolved: That innovations are outstripping research in education."

The debaters are: Jack Bates, Wayne State University; Mrs. Chandis Reid Rice, Livonia; Ken Grinstead, Eastern Michigan University and Roger Goenner, Central Michigan University.

A simulated grand jury investigation will consider such points as professional negotiations, legislation for elementary school accreditation, and administrative certification.

Dr. Horton Southworth, director of the Michigan State Education Center in Macomb County will present the "summation" of all points at a luncheon Friday noon.

Bovee, who has been in the Livonia system for six years, is director of the community resources workshop held each summer for teachers in the western metropolitan area suburbs.

WSU Holds Back Salary Figures

Information about the salary of Dr. John Hanlon, county health officer, has been denied the public by Wayne State University.

In answer to an inquiry from this newspaper, Winfred A. Harbison, vice-president for academic administration, has advised by letter:

"You may or may not know that it is the policy of the University, established by the Board of Governors, not to divulge the salary of individuals to private persons or organs of public information."

He went on to say that Dr. Hanlon's responsibilities at the University are on a one-fifth time basis and his salary is generally proportionate to other medical professors of comparable professional competence and experience.

"As chairman of the Department of Community Medicine, his duties are largely administrative and naturally involve liaison with various public health agencies," Harbison wrote.

"The School of Medicine finds Dr. Hanlon's professional knowledge and experience of genuine value to both students and other faculty members."

"I would hope and expect sheet was "Bravo for playing a real musical masterpiece and playing it with spirit!"

Members of the trio performing at the contest include: Richard Bos, violin, Craig Bunge, Cello, and Mrs. Robert Murray, pianist. Miss Carol Fredrickson, student pianist with the trio, won a first on her piano solo. She is a private student of Mrs. Jack Markes.

Bos won a second on his violin solo with the comment "A fine young player, congratulations." Bunge received a first on his cello solo; he has studied privately with Douglas Marsh.

Marsh will join the string staff of the Garden City Schools next fall. Many of Marsh's pupils received firsts at the contest.

Jean Weaver has been an active member of the beginning string program and has played the violin as a member of the trio.

Slates March Performance

The Feis Eireann, singers, dancers, and instrumentalists from Ireland, will appear at 8 p.m. March 13 on the Mercy College of Detroit Artists Series in McAuley Auditorium.

In traditional costumes, with traditional airs, the young musicians will trace the history of Ireland in song, story, and dance.

The Irish harp, smaller in size than its symphonic counterpart, is devoid of stridency. It dates back to the pre-Christian era. It will be played by Miss Elizabeth Hanlon, who will solo in "The Old Turf Fire."

Tickets are available at Mercy College, KE 1-7820.

Man Freed on Bond

Ronald Finch, 25, of Detroit was arrested by Farmington Township Police last Friday and charged with the Jan. 14 breaking and entering at the Rainbow Park Motel at 30691 Grand River. Finch was arraigned in the Township's Justice Court and is currently free on $1,000 bond.

that his association with the School of Medicine also would enhance his usefulness as Detroit and Wayne County Health Commissioner."

Dr. Hanlon was appointed to his post six months ago by Wayne State University. He became chief of the city and county jobs two years ago for which he draws $15,400 from Detroit and $12,500 from the county making his total pay $28,000.

Jack H. McDonald of Redford, chairman of the board of supervisors, said Dr. Hanlon's employment by the University had the blessing of both the county and the city.

"It is considered nationally to be in the best interest of public health to have these positions in public health affiliated with medical schools," he explained.

He added that the doctor's contract contained a stipulation that he would be allowed to join a university staff.

"This was approved when he was hired by both governmental units," McDonald said, "because the affiliation gives mutual benefits to the health department and the university."

The supervisor said Dr. Hanlon puts in a "terribly long day" and is one of the hardest-working men he knows.

Helping to organize a YMCA stirs many memories of a young sports writer starting his career

By W. W. EDGAR

Several evenings ago I had the privilege and pleasure of sitting with a group of dedicated persons whose objective is the establishment of YMCA—building and all—in the City of Livonia.

While the actual construction of a building may be several years away this dedicated group agreed to embark on an ambitious program of activities with the hope of meeting a budget of $35,000 within the next year and thus qualify to become a branch of the Detroit YMCA with two full time staff persons to oversee the activities.

At the same time I learned that the same sort of activity is taking place in other suburban communities and it may not be long until we would be linked in a movement that would answer some of the problems we have today—and without an additional burden on the taxpayer.

As I sat there listening to the plans memories came tumbling down through the mist of years and I suddenly realized that the "Y" had played a prominent role in my life and opened the way to many enjoyable hours and lasting friendships.

There was the evening that I reported for my first assignment on a new career as a sports writer back home in Eastern Pennsylvania.

"The high school basketball team is playing one of its arch rivals," my old editor informed me, "up in the YMCA gym and it would be a good place for you to start."

That was my first exposure to the YMCA, and it was there, in the large brick building on the City Square, that I learned the fundamentals of such games as handball, squash, volley-ball, basketball and indoor track events that stood me in good stead as I traveled the glamour paths of the sports world for more than a few years.

But there was something more important about the YMCA than the mere playing of games or competing in the swimming pool. It was the image it stamped indelibly on the community.

The mere playing of the games was only a portion of the activity that stood it apart in the community. The "Y" established itself as a force for good in the community through its other programs—the teaching of the Golden Rule and the respect for others.

And so great was this image that it had a profound effect on our daily lives.

I recall the night, years ago, when I left home to launch my struggle in the major sports world, one of our neighbors got me aside and said:

"Be sure and room at the YMCA. I know your Mother would feel a lot better about it than if you lived at one of those 'big city' hotels."

So it was that I became a resident of the Downtown YMCA and again was exposed to its workings.

Ironically, too, was the fact that my first assignment as a member of the Detroit Free Press sports staff, was to "cover" an indoor track meet in the "Y" gym. It was a memorable evening for, during the meet, I met several coaches who have been friends down through the years and they were helpful in those trying days as a young sports writer in a strange city.

In those days, before Detroit boasted such teams as the Red Wings in hockey and the Pistons in basketball, most of the winger sports activity was confined to such places as the YMCA where there was either a track meet or a swimming meet every Saturday night.

And some of the greatest handball matches ever played were in the YMCA courts when Joe Griffin climbed the heights to become Detroit's first national handball champion—quite an honor in those days.

Aside from the gym activity, there also was a Business Men's Club in the Downtown "Y" and it was in the club quarters over lunch that many of the big business deals of the day were made.

One of my great friends in those days was the late Johnny Spiegel, a real estate developer who had been an All-American halfback at Washington and Jefferson College and later coached the Muhlenberg College football team in my home town.

Shortly after I arrived in Detroit he took it on himself to show me the town and get me acquainted with the folks whom he thought would be of help to me.

One morning as I was riding about with him, we stopped at one of the large offices. When we departed he informed me that he had just taken an option on a piece of property.

"I have a hunch," he said, "that this is going to pay off."

He said no more than that. But I was to learn shortly how things are done and how fortunes are made in our major cities.

Several days later, while we were enjoying lunch in the Y Business Men's Club, after our usual round of handball, he was called to the phone.

He came back all smiles. "That lunch just paid off," he chuckled. "I just sold that option for a very handsome profit."

Where was the property? It just happened to be what today is the boulevard entrance to the Fisher Building.

Yes, I have many fine memories of the "Y" and the part it played in my career.

So, if you are asked to join in any movement to bring about a YMCA in Livonia or any other suburban community, do not hesitate.

You will be helping to enrich the lives of many young men just as mine was enriched through the years by being exposed to the YMCA.

Livonia Weights, Measures Dept. Protects Buyers

City of Livonia Weights and Measures Officials, Sgt. Robert C. Baumgartner, in charge of the General Service Bureau, and Cpl. William Crayk, City Sealer, are the Guardians of the marketing housewife.

When a City of Livonia shopper goes to the grocery, how does she know she is getting the correct weights and measures.

The average shopper has no way of making sure when she buys, but can relax and take comfort from the fact that a little known force (Weights and Measures Sealer) is working for her.

Weights and Measures departments protect both buyers and sellers. Sgt. Baumgartner points out the average family of four has a financial stake estimated at $150 and more per year in weights and measures enforcement.

The businessmen of the City of Livonia have even a greater financial stake in making sure that their scales and measuring devices are correct.

"Weighing and Measuring devices in the City of Livonia are regularly tested for accuracy once a year and unannounced spot-checks are made frequently," Sgt. Baumgartner said. "The majority of merchants in the City of Livonia are strictly honest, and weights and measures enforcements help them to stay that way by eliminating the unscrupulous competitor with their under-priced and under-weighted scales."

Members of the public can cooperate with the Weights and Measures Officials by advising them of any suspected short weights and measures practices by calling the Livonia Police Department, Garfield 1-2900.

Jack Wilcox Busy With NAS on Coast

ALAMEDA, CALIF. — Jack H. Wilcox, 676 Penniman Avenue, Plymouth, Mich. is here for two weeks of active duty training with Transport Squadron 732 of the Naval Air Reserve.

Wilcox and 96 other "Week-end Warrior" Reservists who drill one weekend a month at the Grosse Ile, Mich. Naval Air Station, are flying in C-54 transport planes between the huge Navy base here and Hawaii, hauling cargo and personnel for further transfer to Vietnam.

Wilcox is a captain in the Naval Air Reserve and is service information officer for the Air Wing Staff Squadron at NAS Grosse Ile.

Council Approves One Mill Drop Following Land Reassessment

The Garden City millage levy for the fiscal year 1966-67 was reduced one mill to a rate of 14.3 by the Council Monday night.

The millage reduction was made possible by the recent reassessment of property in Garden City explained Mayor Edwin J. Freeh Jr. The total land assessment value is now set at $8 million which means if the millage remained at 15.3 the City would collect $120,000 more in tax revenues.

By dropping the millage the City will still receive $60,000 more in revenue than 1965-66 because of the reassessment of property value. This will be used for expanded police and fire services said Freeh.

The reassessment was the first one for 15 years and the millage reduction was the first in ten years, Freeh said.

Freeh said if county and school taxes remain at the same level, the average homeowner in Garden City will pay less taxes during 1966-67 than during the present fiscal year.

In other action, a resolution was passed stating no health permit will be approved until the Council receives a written letter from the Wayne County Health Department assuring that persons involved have met all requirements of the law.

Prompting the resolution was a request to approve the health permit of the Hansel & Gretel Day Nursery, 6585 Middlebelt, where 17 area children contracted the tuberculosis germ.

The resolution resulted in delay of approval for ten other licenses which expire on March 31.

It was revealed during the meeting City Attorney Ron Mack has ruled the Venoy Circle rezoning request came to the Council illegally at its last meeting. It was Mack's opinion an item could not be tabled which had previously received a tie-vote, which had occurred on the Planning Commission level when the Venoy Circle item was being considered.

The property in question will remain zoned residential since the rezoning request to multiple dwelling was defeated earlier by the Council 3-2. Monday night a petition was presented to the Council signed by 132 residents opposing the Venoy Circle rezoning.

The Council approved a request from Vincent DeMaria to rezone property on the corner of John Hawk and Inkster from residential to multiple dwelling.

Jerome Mack was reappointed chairman of the Planning Commission and John Smith was reappointed as a commissioner. Reappointed to the Zoning Board of Appeals were Jesse Talbot and Harold Berquest.

Councilmen accepted the resignation of Gerald Soma as Civil Service Commission

Director and approved the Mayor's replacement of Kory Hatlen.

Approval was given for the D.P.W. to have a mercury vapor light installed at the Moeller Field House at $6.50 a month (an additional cost of $3 per month) to replace the present incandescent light.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation was granted permission to solicit in Garden City on April 13, 14 and 15.

Fire Chief Onas Rowe was granted permission to create an additional position of Lieutenant in his department so the platoon system can be employed. The Department will now have two Lieutenants and two Sergeants compared to the previous three Sgts. and one Lieut.

Automobile fleet insurance for the City was awarded to Wolverine Insurance Company (agent — McFarlane-King Agency) for an annual premium of $5,620.40. Only one agency saw fit to supply bids but it submitted bids from two companies which Mack said made the bids competitive.

Udeck Waives Examination

Wayne J. Udeck, 18, of Dearborn Heights, has been bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court on $10,000 bond on charges of breaking into the home of a Nankin housewife with intent to commit felonious assault.

Udeck waved examination and Inkster Municipal Court Judge John McCartney entered a plea of innocence for him.

Police charged Udeck with attempting to attack Mrs. Connie Dunn, 19, who lives in the Mohawk Trailer Camp in Nankin.

He was arrested at Middlebelt and Cherry Hill in Garden City after driving his car into a fire hydrant, two blocks from the home of Dale Smith, 21, which police accused Udeck of breaking into also.

Inkster police have identified a pair of rimmed glasses found under Mrs. Dunn's bed as belonging to Udeck. The Dearborn Heights youth is scheduled to report for preinduction physical for the armed services on Thursday.

McNamara, Gable, Rodwell Decline Nomination

Directors Pick Investigating Chairman As New Leader

With one exception, the Peoples Community Hospital Authority Board of Directors elected a new slate of officers for the coming year following the decision of three officers not to seek re-election.

William Tullis, Garden City delegate, was re-elected secretary by acclamation. He was appointed secretary of the board following the dismissal of former executive director Kenneth W. Gremore who had served as secretary also.

Tullis works for Burroughs Corporation of Plymouth and was chairman of the public relations and education committee of the PCHA before being appointed secretary.

The Garden City delegate had declined nomination for Treasurer saying he received just about enough heartaches during the past month a man could take. Tullis is a co-defendant in a civil suit against PCHA asked for by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley in connection with a refinancing plan to transfer assets of the PCHA to a private, non-profit corporation.

Declining to be nominated for the office they held during the past year were: Chairman Earl McNamara, of Trenton; Vice-chairman Gordon Gable, of Ypsilanti Township; and Treasurer Frank Rodwell of Allen Park.

Elected as chairman was Donald Pizzimenti, Allen Park Councilman, who was chairman of the investigating committee which recommended dismissal of Gremore as executive director.

Gable had been nominated for chairman as was former board chairman Robert Bullinger of Dearborn Heights. Gable allowed his name to remain in the ballot for chairman but after being defeated declined running for any other position. Pizzimenti received 13 votes and Gable and Bullinger tied with eight.

Ralph P. Turco, Nankin delegate, was elected vice-chairman by one vote. Robert White, Lincoln Park, and Irving Brewer, mayor of Rockwood, tied for second with nine votes.

Turco is a member of the public relations committee and is a candidate for Westland City Council. He was mentioned in Kelley's report on the PCHA for conflict of interest after supplying the Authority with some $500 worth of beverages from his party store.

Turco formerly was captain in charge of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Detective Bureau.

Elected Treasurer of the PCHA was Roger Remer, Flat Rock delegate, who was chairman of the contracts and collections committee.

Former Treasurer Rodwell informed the nominating committee he did not wish to seek re-election. Rodwell was accused in a criminal warrant of misuse of PCHA funds.

Elected to the executive committee were E. J. Langland, member-at-large, and White. Langland received 15 votes and White 14, one more than his nearest opponent — Bullinger. William Anderson, Nankin delegate, lost his bid for re-election to the executive committee and William Gagnon, of Ypsilanti Township, declined to seek re-election.

Langland of Ecorse was re-elected as member-at-large and a new member-at-large picked by the Board was John Crooks from Flat Rock. Donald Silkworth, a board member for 18 years, declined nomination for re-election as member-at-large.

McNamara said he did not intend to seek re-election as board chairman because his attempts to keep the PCHA running during the past year has cost him dearly.

"To say it's been a pleasure to serve this past year would be a lie," said Gable while declining nomination, obviously referring to charges levied against him by Kelley.

Gable thanked board members for support given him on three of his projects: 1-construction fund committee recommendation to build a new Bayers Hospital in Ypsilanti and remodel Seaway Hospital of Trenton, 2-Passage of the resolution dismissing Gremore as executive director, and 3-adoption of an expense policy.

In other action, it was reported the personnel committee has set April 1 as the final date for receiving applications for the position of Executive Director.

The personnel committee will screen the applicants and recommend an appropriate number to the operating committee and board of directors for final selection.

Walter Wheeler, former administrator of Seaway Hospital, has been named chief administrator during the interim period of hiring an executive director.

Prior to his Plymouth appointment, Schenning spent 10 years in directing the management, planning and production of Burroughs' electronic communications and data processing systems developed for the federal government at the Tireman division in Detroit.

Donald Council, John Garrison and George Burrows.

All past commanders of the Post are urged to attend a meeting tonight (Wednesday, March 2) at the Post to start planning for the 20th Anniversary Dinner on April 16 with Past Commander Harvey Jones as chairman.

Discussions are still underway in regard to the proposed improvements to the Post Home. Air conditioning and exterior "face lifting" are the No. 1 items on the agenda.

Mayflower members are making plans for the nomination of officers and the annual election. All are asked to attend meetings and participate in these events. The next meeting is called for March 8.

The next big social event is listed for March 19—the annual St. Patrick's Dance.

Gerry Olson is chairman of the "Cookies for Vietnam" project. The committee hopes to collect a good supply of cookies and ship them by air to the troops in Vietnam. Gerry may be reached at 453-1339 for additional details.

Greene Motors Donates New Engine to Bentley

Bentley High School, Motor Mechanics Laboratory, last week received a new Volkswagen engine to be used for study purposes. It was a gift of Greene Motors, Inc., of Livonia and Import Motors, Ltd., Volkswagen Distributor.

Jack Comstock, principal of Bentley High School; Tom Handy, Motor Mechanics teacher, and Arle Fairman, Coordinator of Industrial and Vocational Education accepted it.

It was made by Harvey Greene, Manager, and Avery Greene, Assistant Manager, of Greene Motors, Volkswagen. Present, representing Import Motors, were William Townsend, District Service Manager, and Stanley Zimmerman, Area Service Representative.

The Motor Mechanics course at Bentley High School is a 2½ year program which includes engine analysis, automobile chassis and electrical work and trouble shooting. A total of 258 students are presently enrolled in the course. Most of the graduates take jobs in the automotive field.

In making the presentation, Greene said, "a Volkswagen engine is a precision instrument. Through its use in this laboratory we believe that students will have the opportunity to develop the eye-mind-hand coordination which will be of great practical use to them in the future. It can mean special training for skilled. And it can also inspire young men to apply themselves to a chosen field with increased analytical ability."

Principal Comstock accepted for the school saying, "We are most grateful to Greene Motors and Import Motors for the gift of this new Volkswagen engine. And I am sure that it will serve many students in developing their aptitudes. Thank you very much."

Local Lawmakers Join City Study

Three state representatives from The Observer coverage area will tackle the mounting problems of cities, counties and townships.

House Speaker Joseph J. Kowalski announced their appointment, along with 13 other experienced Democratic lawmakers, to a Task Force on Local Government.

Those named from here are John Bennett, of Redford Township, James Tierney of Garden City and Richard A. Young of Dearborn Heights whose 33rd District includes portions of Livonia and Nankin Township.

"This experience will provide the Task Force with exactly the know-how to make it an active, producing organization," Kowalski said. "The members' hard-earned knowledge will be available. It couldn't be put to better use."

Kowalski last month named a special, bi-partisan Task Force on Legislative Reform, the first Task Force and one keyed to producing recommendations on stream-lining structure and procedures of the Michigan Legislature.

The Task Force will be headed by Rep. Stanley J. Davis, a legislator who has been a four-term Grand Rapids mayor, a city commissioner and chairman of the Kent County Board of Supervisors. "Our aim will be to propose specific legislation for the 1967 session of the Legislature," Davis said, "not in any way bypassing standing House committees dealing with local government problems but rather, assisting those committees by offering proposals which will have been developed by legislators themselves."

First target of the Task Force will be problems of cities with sessions to be held in selected communities in the state. Investigation at county and township levels is scheduled for next year.

Elizabeth Macer received a Gold Key award for her entry of a pencil drawing, Nancy Kincaid, Margaret Rudloff, Katie Wall, Don Cowan, Sue Holland, and Don Robertson received Certificates of Merit. Their works will also be displayed at Crowley's.

The Art Department entered 54 art projects in the contest. Classifications for the exhibit include drawings and paintings done in oils, chalk, ink, pencil, and water colors; graphics and designs, including printmaking, illustrations, commercial fashions and general and applied textile designs.

Seniors: You are reminded of a March 1 deadline for applications to Western Michigan University.

Also, applications for the 1966 Fall term are still being accepted at General Motors Institute. Sponsors are available in production management.

Dave Bay and Karen Fick were announced as class clowns, Trudy Hornik and Jim Abaled were class flirts, the best dressed were Sandy Nymman, Terry Beck, and Mick Gwathney, most studious students are Evalene Gundy and Terry Uchwat, and most likely to succeed were Sandy Nymman and Scott Gardner.

The following students were winners in the District 12, Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association Solo and Ensemble Festival: Blue ribbon—Ray Rice, Jim Gonzales, Doug Myers, Larry Brown, Pam Helene, and Paul Kightlinger. Red ribbon—Larry Brown, Gary Harris, Sandy Bancroft, Dennis Harris, Dave Tuger, Harvey Kightlinger, Craig Shafer, Larry Shanks, Bob Martin, and Marlene Gaczynski.

Other red ribbon winners are: Virginia Kossick, Candy Shanks, Mary Kightlinger, Tim Frankel, Bonnie Werner, Yvette Arnold, Sue McDaniel, Bob Vandercook, Carolyn Burchett, Pam Painter, and Janice Jones.

These students are to be congratulated for their work.

Senior Floyd Whitcher recently won the American Legion Oratorical Contest, placed third in the Regional Contest. Once again Floyd's speech on the First Amendment of the Constitution helped him win.

The judging of competition in the Southeastern Michigan Regional Scholastic Art Awards has resulted in more accepted entries and contest awards for East High students than any previous year to date.

A total of 20 awards were earned by students in the general and advanced art classes under the direction of Ralph Davis for the last 12 years. This represents an increase of four winners over the 1965 competition.

In the blue ribbon class, Christine Cody's work, a colorful collage entitled "Flowers on the Wall" was selected. Christine is a member of the Art II class at East.

Winners in the gold key class were: Dennis Devlin, (transparent water color), Robert Crowell, (mixed media), Dianna Tumele (sculpture), and Shirley Paulin who won two gold keys for two entries in the collage classification. The gold key award represents outstanding, creative student art work second in significance to only the blue ribbon recipients.

The winners of Certificates of Merit, the third type of award issued were as follows: Dennis Devlin and Terrance Marciniak (transparent water color), Gary Cojic and Jeff Kocsis (opaque water color), Robert Jones (pencil drawing), Robert Crowell and Dennis Devlin (ink drawing), Robert Martellini and Richard Willett (charcoal), Gary Fliessner and Tim Frankel (mixed media), Kathy Wild and Gary Cojic for the collage category. Cojic was the winner of a certificate for two separate collage entries.

The exhibition will be open to the public in Crowley's Seventh Floor Auditorium in Detroit during store hours through March 5. Local sponsors are Crowley's and the Detroit News.

Senior boys that are interested and meet the academic requirements in English, mathematics, and science should report to their counselors at once.

A total of 33 Plymouth High students left Tuesday to spend four days in the big city—New York. The group will tour downtown New York, which will include Chinatown, the Bowery, the United Nations, Greenwich Village, Wall Street, Battery Park, and the Statue of Liberty. They will also attend a show at Radio City Music Hall.

The main objectives of the trip are to visit the United Nations building and to obtain information concerning foreign countries they will represent at the Mock United Nations Assembly (MUNA) later in March.

As a practical application of education, several Future Teacher Club members taught class for one period Tuesday, March 1. The choice of which class to teach was up to the club member providing the teacher would give use of the hour. The project was undertaken so that the future teacher could experience, somewhat, what is involved in the task of educating.

Many FTA members do cadet teaching regularly in Plymouth elementary schools. The club, supervised by Mrs. Ann McKimmy and President Janet Marshall, is planning a field trip to the University of Michigan to obtain information pertaining to the teaching profession.

Four girls have been chosen as divers for the 1966 Water Show, News Adrift, Sue Camp, Kit Flora, Sandy Rittenhouse and Judi Utter will be aided by four boy divers who will do comedy diving.

The Water Show, May 6, 7, and 8, will have the central theme of Newspapers, with various numbers representing the Theatre Page, the Woman's Section, the Society Page, the Sports Section, the Amusements, Comics and other parts of a metropolitan paper.

Over 60 students received a first division rating in the District Vocal Solo and Ensemble Festival and the District Band Solo and Ensemble Festival at Wayne State University. Others received excellent ratings.

AT THURSTON

Ski Club Makes Trip

By LYNN BARNETT

Thurston Ski Club members took a ski trip to Mt. Holly Feb. 22 after school. The trip had been cancelled three times because of weather conditions.

The trip was almost cancelled a third time when the bus stalled half way to Mt. Holly. Fifteen minutes later it was running again and students resumed their happy mood.

Beyza Untuna, Thurston's exchange student from Bursa, Turkey, showed movies of her homeland in the little auditorium during lunch for the entire student body.

Eleven Thurston art students won awards in the annual Scholastic Art Awards contest. Blue Ribbon winners were John Murphy in sculpture and Jan Mead in crafts. Gold Key Awards were won by Pam Breitmeyer in ink drawing and Jim Blazo in printmaking and sculpture.

Sponge Week will take place at Thurston March 20 to 25. This is the week during which the tables are turned and the girls take over the boys' jobs such as opening doors and carrying their books.

The week will be climaxed on March 25 by the annual Sponge Dance. The girls ask the boys, provide transportation and a corsage at this event.

North West Suburban League Dance will be held April 22 in Thurston's gymnasium. One hundred tickets will be given to each of the six schools. Tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis.

Thurston's senior play "Cheaper By The Dozen," which was presented Feb. 24, 25, and 26, was a tremendous success with the audience. The mother and father were played by Vivian Follick and Mark Bristol.

The children were played by Linda Shuh, Bob Palmer, Bill Lewis, Pam Lennox, Lois Leber, Carol Ingesoulian, Harry Fredrick, and Barb Delmore.

Beyza Untuna portrayed the part of the cook, Dr. Burton was played by Richard Kopec, Joe Scates was played by David Cortese, Miss Brill was played by Cheryl Gray, and Tom Adamson portrayed the part of Larry.

ANCIENT ROME came to life last week at Our Lady of Mercy High School in Farmington when 128 new members were inducted into the Junior Classical League. Dressed in Roman garb are 12 of the new members. They are from left, front row, Sharon Ferrari, Plymouth; Cheryl O'Berlin, Farmington; Nancy Covington, Plymouth; Patricia Hayes, Livonia; and Caroline Kops, Plymouth; back row, Evelyn Allen, Farmington; Denise D'Ambrosio, Farmington; Patricia Hand, Farmington; Jeanne Marie Walsh, Farmington; Marie Emmert, Farmington; Ann Marie Proulx, Redford Township; and Daria Killinger, Livonia.

Pupils Win Key Awards

By DEBBIE LUSKY

Several North Farmington students won recognition in the Scholastic Art awards regional exhibition. The entries were divided into 18 categories and were judged by a panel consisting of three art educators. The exhibition, held in Crowley's seventh floor auditorium, will be open to the public through March 5.

Gold Key awards were presented to Doug Tyler (pencil drawing) and to Steve Lawing, Leena Rosenberg, and Pamela Ward (ink drawings). Mary Lynn Griswold and Steve Lawing (transparent water colors), Natalie Erickson and Doug Tyler (opaque water colors), Marsha MacDowell and Janice Young (ink drawings), and Mary Campbell (collage) were awarded certificates recognizing their talent.

In the national show, sponsored by Scholastic Magazine, several scholarships to various art schools across the nation are awarded to seniors who submit a portfolio containing eight to 12 works on a specific topic. Among the 25 from Michigan selected to compete are Barb Allen, Mark Campbell, and Elaine Leigh. The national contest will be held in New York City in May.

Several students have also received notification that their entries have won recognition in the Scholastic Writing Competition. A list of the winners will be announced as soon as possible.

Basketball districts continue this week, as do the state wrestling finals. A home gymnastics meet with Allen Park is scheduled for 1:30 this Saturday.

Last Wednesday the first of many meetings for students interested in competing in forensics this spring was held. Miss June Sulewski will be the sponsor.

FRANKLIN FACTS

Hold Final Pep Assembly

By ANN OPLAND

"Franklin Facts" is back: Tuesday, Franklin students attended the last Pep Assembly of the school year.

The music of the pep band helped to make the assembly a spirited one.

Introduced for the last time were seniors Bill Bauer, Al Helisek, Al Jose, Paul Katosh, Dale Lee, and Cal Luttinen, winding up their careers as high school basketball players.

"Cheaper by the Dozen" is the title of this year's Junior Class Play. The play is under the direction of Harold Waller, English teacher.

Chosen for the lead roles are Tom Nedeau as Father, Cathy Wright as Mother, Georgina Buttigieg as Ernestine, Diane Towler as Anne, and Lee Burgess as Frank.

Kathie Waskin, Franklin senior, was selected as "Homemaker of Tomorrow" from Franklin. She took the home-making test in December and will next compete for state and national honors.

Students are packing up their suitcases and praying for skiing weather this weekend, because skiing is exactly what they are planning to do.

Ski Club members are going on the long awaited trip to the Gaylord Ski Chalet.

The club sponsored a "Ski Dance" after the basketball game last Friday night.

Music was provided by the "Modes" and door prizes were awarded to lucky students.

Since the Franklin parking lot has been somewhat torn up to facilitate the building of an Industrial Arts addition, students have found that the driving regulations are being strictly enforced. Individuals not observing the school regulations have discovered sizeable stickers placed on their windshields.

BULLETINS FROM BENTLEY

Kazoo Students Visit School

By SUE DOWELL

Everyone looks forward to having company. Wednesday many honored guests visited Bentley . . . students from University High School in Kalamazoo. The Student Council at Bentley is interested in Bentley and its functions.

Since Bentley too, was eager to see how University High is run, Bentley arranged an Exchange Day with the high school.

On Jan. 5, Bentley visited University High. Around 36 students from University School visited Bentley.

After being welcomed by principal Jack Comstock, and many of Bentley's advisors the students were given a tour of the school. During this time they visited the concert choir, and the band. After lunch they took part in one of Bentley's Student Council meetings. Later Bentley and U-High students discussed problems and interesting ideas that both schools shared.

For those who are familiar with Bentley's physical education department, University High should bring back memories. Mary Lou Meyer (Mrs. McGraw) is a former gym teacher at Bentley. She now keeps University High on its toes as a teacher there.

The students who served as hosts were Susan Dowell, Brian Lucas, Cindi Tatar, Ella Luxton, Larry Haggart, Bill Roberts, Greg Coleman, Bob Meyers, Jim Seaman, and Geri Roberts.

Singers pay attention! All students interested in belonging to the vocal music department should be tuning in. Tryouts for concert choir are soon.

If you have the desire to be a member of the Choir then you should start making appointments to tryout.

Even though the snow is melting in Livonia, it isn't so bad at Mount Holly. At least it wasn't last week. Members of the ski club spent last Wednesday skiing. It won't be too long before the Bentley ski emblems will be in. Then they can be purchased during respective lunch hours.

Surprise!!! The Silver Swans will put on another fantastic water show this year. The group has just selected 15 new members who were recently initiated into the club. The girls are already starting to practice for the swim show. Not only will there be girls performing but also, many coed numbers will be performed.

The Drum and Sandal dance club has also been preparing for their big show of the year. This year there are many new members who will be performing in the numbers, not to mention the longtime members like Linda Duncan, Barb Morrison, Pam Loyd, Linda Korver, Mary Dickie, Cheryl Cohen, Linda Shire, and Bev Bettaso.

Wayne State University's single-season foul shooting percentage record is the .828 figure turned in by Fred Wolcott in 1964.

Lent Through The Ages

Lent, which began Wednesday, Feb. 23 with the traditional observance of Ash Wednesday, is a 40-day penitential period in the Christian Church, in preparation for the festival of Easter.

The word "Lent" is of Anglo-Saxon ancestry, "lengten" or "lenten," meaning Spring or the season of lengthening days.

Since the penitential period of fasting, preceding Easter always came early in the year, the word "Lent" became synonymous with the season and has remained that way to this day.

The Pope's recent relaxation of Lenten rules of fast and abstinence is in keeping with the changing history of Lent.

In the days of Irenaeus, the fast before Easter was brief, but very severe.

No food was eaten for 40 hours from the afternoon of Good Friday until Easter morning.

In the middle of the third century in Alexandria it became

Lenten Services To Begin March 3

Orchard Methodist Church of Farmington is marking this season of dedication and spiritual growth in the Christian church with mid-Week Lenten Services every Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

Rev. Frank A. Cozadd has invited five well-known ministers to speak at these programs: Rev. James D. Nixon; Rev. Russell Nachtrieb; Dr. David M. Jordan, Sr.; Dr. John L. Adams; and Dr. Milton H. Bank.

Rev. James Nixon will begin the series tomorrow evening, March 3, with the theme "Church: Risks and Realities."

The custom to fast during Holy Week.

The first official mention of a Lenten Fast or Quadragesima was in the fifth canon of the Council of Nicaea in 325 A.D. However, it was referred to as a season in preparation for baptism, of absolution of penitents, of retreat, or recollection. Fasting was observed, but not too strictly. The council also set the date of the Eastern observance of Easter.

In Rome there were only three weeks of fasting.

Early in the 7th century, the Lenten period of fast was extended to 40 days. In England, a Lenten Fast was ordered by Eadgarbert, king of Kent. During the Middle Ages, meat, eggs and milk were not allowed to be eaten during Lent by statute law, not by ecclesiastical law.

This rule was strictly enforced until the reign of William III. But during the Reformation, there was a tendency toward relaxation except among the Anglicans and Lutherans. More proclamations and statutes were issued to keep Lent as a period of fast and abstinence.

During the 18th century, lax laws were again the vogue but women took to wearing mourning clothes during Lent. This continued for another century. Then the Oxford Movement in the English Church revived the observance of Lent, with fasting and abstinence as a discipline or an exercise in self-denial.

The Greek Lent still begins of the Monday of Sexagesima, cycle of paschal solemnities. Their period of "Lent" is still described as "six weeks of the fast." The first week of Lent is a strict fast week. Holy Week is not reckoned in with this, although it, too, is a strict fast week.

Communion, Fasting and Prayers Mark Beginning of Lent

PREPARING TO SERVE the sacrificial meal at Newburg Methodist Church on Wednesday, Feb. 23 were (left to right), Sandra Granzow (chairman of church local activities), Mrs. Paul Greer, (Minister's wife) and Jean Blaisdell (president of the W.S.C.S.)

'Manana Not Soon Enough'

Brother Barry Norman, M. M. of Livonia has discovered that manana is not always soon enough. The Maryknoll missionary, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo G. Norman, 30775 Bretton Rd., Livonia, after six months of persistent effort finally received official approval to buy plates for his motorcycle.

When he went to the central licensing office, he discovered that he was one form short. In true Bolivian style Brother Barry resigned himself to wait until tomorrow for the plates.

Alas, tomorrow never came for Brother Barry, that night his motorcycle was stolen! He proved himself a true philosopher when he said resignedly, "I just saved myself 60 pesos." (the price of a license.)

Dedicate Farmington Lutheran Church

Three years and four months from their date of organization the congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Incarnation dedicated the first unit of their church building at 30333 West Ten Mile Road, Farmington.

The Service of Dedication was at 11 a.m. Sunday, February 27. The Rev. Frank P. Madsen, president of the Michigan Synod, Lutheran Church in America, delivered the message for the day. The Rev. Robert E. Zoeller, pastor of the local congregation, will read the liturgy.

The congregation invited all who were interested to attend the Dedication Service and the fellowship hour following the service. During the Dedication Week a mid-week Lenten Service will be held on Wednesday, March 2, 7:30 p.m. which is open to the public, and a fellowship dinner for members of the congregation at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 5.

This is the third year that the Women's Society at Newburg Methodist Church in Livonia served the Holy Communion Sacrificial Meal to commemorate Ash Wednesday. It was the

Lenten Services Begin At Methodist Church

Richard T. Markham, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Farmington announces that pot-luck dinners will be held at the church each Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. during March.

The ladies of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will supervise the dinners, and anyone wishing to attend may call Mrs. Clifford Meredith, GR 4-6592 or the church office, GR 4-6573. Nursery care will be provided by the Girl Scouts and there will be entertainment for the younger children.

Rev. James T. Brishah, Director of the Detroit Conference Board of Christian Social Concerns, began the series of speakers, Wednesday, March 2.

Study of Parables

St. Mark's Presbyterian Church, 26701 Joy Rd., is offering a Women's Study and Discussion Series on Wednesday mornings at 9:30 a.m. Led by Rev. David Van Winkle, the series begins today March 2, and meets March 16, 23, 30 and April 6. Five of Jesus' Parables will be discussed with their meanings for today's living.

first time that the men folk and children have been asked to participate.

The services were quiet and impressive. Following the Special service of music and prayers, the group filed quietly to the Fellowship Room. There in a room lighted by candlelight, tables had been set with the elements of the Last Supper.

Unleavened bread, baked in whole loaves, and clusters of grapes centered each table. Each place was individually set with plates which had been placed upon white mats decorated with a purple cross. On the plates were sesame crackers, cheese and olives, and dates. The entire meal was eaten in silence. The minister explained the significance of each item. There was book of meditations by each plate and people were encouraged to study these while they completed the meal. Afterwards, they filed back upstairs where the service of Holy Communion was given.

Come You Call Yourself A Christian . .

So why don't you go to church? It's one thing to write "Christian" when you fill out forms. It's another in the "book" God keeps. A Christian is somebody who believes in Christ . . somebody who believes Christ died for him. A Christian is somebody who really loves Christ. Do You? Then why not show it! Lent is a good time to start.

Madonna Students Busy As Volunteer Tutors

Madonna College is participating in the Governor's Program of Student Volunteers in Higher Education. Programs already in action are tutoring and catechetical instruction. In the planning stage is the student nurses aid volunteer program.

Nineteen students tutor at Clarenceville junior high school with the ratio of two students per tutor. The students provide their own transportation, prepare their teaching materials, give of their time, at least an hour a week, with no financial return.

"Tutoring is a challenge. It gives me a feeling of satisfaction. I feel that I have accomplished something no matter how insignificant it may seem," says Marsha Wolfe who tutors at Clarenceville.

Some 44 students teach catechism at St. Aiden, St. Christine, St. Dunstan, St. Valentine, St. Edith, St. Hilary, and St. Robert Bellarmine parishes and at the Wayne County Training home.

"I love it!" is the consensus of students involved in the program.

"I would teach a class like this every day, if I could get it into my schedule, because I feel the students need this interest and instruction," says Christine Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox, 15435 Levan, who teaches some third graders at St. Edith's parish.

Student Volunteers from 40 colleges and universities of Michigan will meet on March 4 and 5 at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant at the third annual Governor's Conference.

The purpose is to facilitate the exchange of ideas between various colleges and to coordinate the programs of the colleges.

Governor George Romney will open the conference with an address to the students and counselors. A workshop and roundtable discussion will follow. Topics to be discussed include program administration, program inter-relationship, program development and recruitment of volunteers.

Two Madonna College students, Laura Champagne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Champagne of 33063 Perth, Livonia, and Barbara Lemanski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lemanski, 9358 Marian Crescent, Redford, are acting as chairmen of workshop sessions.

Swimmers Honored

By TONY HEAD

Clarenceville High's weekly assembly was turned over to the swimming team Friday, Feb. 25. The team, coached by Gordon Larson and Charles Thompson, held an inter-squad meet on regulation terms.

This not only gave the students a chance to see the swimming team in action but allowed them to see how a regulation meet was run. Ruff Hoffman swam the 100 yard butterfly in less than 1:08.2, the qualifying time for the state meet. This is the third time Russ has broken this record.

The swimming team had lost two meets. Clarenceville lost to Garden City West 78-23. Russ Hoffman took second place in the 200 individual medley and first place in the 100 yard butterfly. Russ was top scorer for Clarenceville along with Paul Dark who took first place in the 100 yard back stroke.

On Feb. 24, Clarenceville met U. of D. high and was defeated 84-21. Rick Fredrick took second place in diving and Hoffman took second place in the 100 yard butterfly.

In another area of sports, the Clarenceville gymnastic team was defeated by Allen Park in its final interschool meet of the year. Top scorers for Clarenceville were Barry Frechette, Rick Fredricks, Jim McCammon, Chuck Morse, Bob Schurig and Tom Webber.

At the end of its first year of competition the team has a record of two wins and four losses. The team will next compete in the Michigan State High School meet on March 12.

The new semester Drivers Training Class has started. The next class will be open for entry in June.

On Feb. 25, the Clarenceville Pep Club sponsored a successful dance after the home basketball game with Holly High School.

For the patrons of the arts among Clarenceville students there will be a showing of "She Stoops to Conquer" by the Wayne State Hillberry Classic Theater on March 16.

A bus has been chartered to take any Clarenceville students wishing to attend. For more information see Mrs. Bennet of the English Dept.

FAULT FINDING

One thing not to worry about is religious criticism by the people who don't go to church.

LIT Offers To Aid 'B' Students

As far as Lawrence Institute of Technology is concerned, financial need is not a requirement for high school graduates to be eligible for one of the college's 25 annual scholarships, according to Dr. Wayne H. Buell, president.

"We are making our offer to good students—B average or better—with or without financial need," said Dr. Buell.

"To eliminate a good student from applying for one of our own scholarships because he or his family is self-sufficient does not fulfill our objective to foster academic excellence at the college."

Each of the 25 LIT scholarships, covering a year's tuition and registration fees in the day college, is valued at $600 and is renewable at the discretion of the scholarship committee. High school students should apply now for scholarships beginning in the Fall.

Dr. Buell said LIT has other groups of scholarships offered by firms and individuals which continue to specify financial need as a requirement. A leaflet describing LIT scholarships and student aid is available free of charge at the college, 21000 West Ten Mile, Southfield, 48075.

Farmington High Club Enjoys French Cooking

By MADGE HILDEBRANDT

Twenty-five members of the Farmington Senior High French Club partook of French cuisine at the Pontchartrain restaurant Feb. 28.

This was the second year the students visited the exotic restaurant and tested their language fluency on the French-speaking waiters.

The group plans to attend the George Bernard Shaw play, "Saint Joan" at the Wayne State University Hillberry Classic Theater on March 22.

Mike Gregory submitted a portfolio of his work as did 54 other seniors from the Detroit area. His was one of the 25 accepted, and it will be sent to the national art show in New York for a scholarship consideration.

The eight FHS art classes, which include 170 students, visited the Scholastic art show at Downtown Crowley's last week.

Auditions are still being held for the annual Talent Show, which will take place Friday, April 1. There have been two try-outs already, and the final one will be held on Tuesday, March 8.

The Talent Show is a Student Council project which is being organized by Bob Murphy. There will be a committee of judges consisting of a sophomore, junior, senior and two adults. As yet, no emcee has been chosen.

Forensics training has begun for 20 Farmington Senior High students.

Miss Mary Ann Setina, history teacher at FHS, is coaching the speakers for the mid-March Forensics Competition. The first and second place winners of the local contest will go on to compete in the Districts at Waterford Kettering High.

The orators may choose a subject from a variety of suggested topics. Each will read a passage from three to eight minutes in length. The Original Oratory category differs from the others in that the subject is written by the speaker and is given by memory.

The judges look for five points in every speaker and his speech. They are: knowledge of the material; poise on the platform; voice quality; conception of the selection; and concern with impressing the audience.

The categories that the contestants may choose from are: declamation, humorous reading, original oratory, extempore, serious interpretive reading, radio commentary, and multiple reading.

The Music Appreciation Class taught by Mr. William Feucht, is currently studying folk music. Ten of the 29 members of the one-semester class are reporting on folk music from around the world. The class is also listening to a taped lecture by Dr. Tipton of Wayne State University, who instructs a combination radio and classroom course.

"Steps Into the Christian Faith"

Rev. Everett Seymour will be guest speaker at the first Lenten Service to be held at Rice Memorial Methodist Church on Thursday, March 3. A spaghetti dinner will be sponsored by the Senior M.Y.F. at 6:30 p.m.

Rev. Seymour is now serving at the First Methodist Church in Royal Oak. His topic will be "Steps Into the Christian Faith."

EAST STAR HURT:

West Clips East, Then Both Succumb

Go West... yes, sir... that's the story in Garden City as far as high school basketball is concerned.

The city's two prep quintets bumped head on last Tuesday and West came out a 60-54 winner with the same being decided in the second period when West outscored its rival, 17-9, and East was held to just one field goal.

The effects of the inter-city struggle carried over until Friday night when both East and West succumbed in their final regular-season games. Robichaud turned back East, 51-47, while lowly Cherry Hill stunned West, 70-69. East in losing to Robichaud finished with an 8-8 record for the season and a 6-4 standing and a tie for second place with Robichaud and Riverview in the Mid-Wayne League.

West's loss to Cherry Hill left the Garden City unit with an 8-6 record and fourth place in the Tri Rivers League.

The loss of Joe Huber, the team's top scorer with an 18 point average, didn't help East in either game. Huber suffered an injured elbow in the third period against West and will not be able to play any more this season.

East took a 17-16 lead after the first period, but in the second frame, Bo Ardell and Gary Slade each clicked for five points while the East shooters couldn't find the range to send West in front, 33-26, at the halftime break.

West expanded its margin to 12 points after the third period before East finished strong, but couldn't wipe out the entire deficit.

Slade led the winners with 15 points, but the game's overall stars was Paul Kightlinger of East who hit for seven baskets and nine free throws for 23 points.

East's reserves turned in a 58-29 romp over West with Mike Macies leading the way with 15 points.

Minus Huber, East ran into another one-basket quarter in the Robichaud game.

This time the drought came in the third stanza after East had led 30-26 at halftime.

Once more Paul Kightlinger finished with 23 points as he made 10 baskets and three free throws.

Coach Billy Joe Young naturally didn't like to see his team lose twice in the final week of the regular season. But he expressed pride in the way his team performed during the winter.

"Most folks didn't think we'd win more than three games," said Young.

The East reserves also trimmed Robichaud, finishing with a 64-52 advantage as Rick Clack tossed in 17 points.

West coach Cal Krupa was upset by what happened against Cherry Hill.

"I honestly think we could have protested," he said.

A big, second period enabled Sorrows to beat St. Fredericks. In the eight-minute span, the Sorrows cagers rolled in 27 points to 13 for their opposition.

Tim Doyle, who was voted on the All-Division team, led the outbreak with 10 of their 13 points he scored in the game.

Frank Carrico had 14 for the victors and Mark Benner and Mike Christopher 12 each.

Rom Bellerario tossed in 33 points for the losers.

Thurston, Franklin Do Well

Thurston high and Franklin high both came through with swimming glory last weekend.

The Thurston tankers swamped Franklin, 71-34, in a dual meet, after which Franklin came back on Saturday evening to place second to Belleville in the Western Wayne championships.

Belleville scored 85 points to Franklin's 70. Garden City West had 14 points, John Glenn 10 and Garden City East two.

Jud Kingsbury, Ron Barkley and Pat Zelek scored victories for Franklin in the Western meet.

Thurston was led by Bill Zeeb and Reg Barringer, both double winners, in clobbering Franklin.

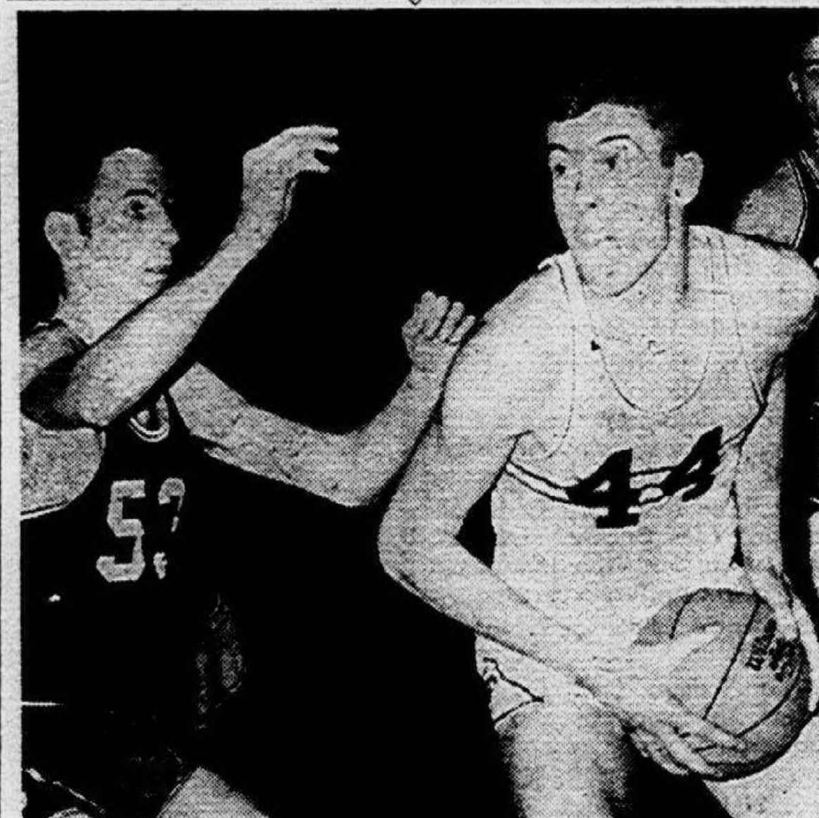

This Saturday Thurston will bid for the Northwest Suburban League title along with Franklin, Glenn and Groves. Thurston shapes up as the favorite.

The results:

Does a victory mean that much?

Ever wonder what happens to stars in the state high school basketball tournament?

Two of them, Dave DeBusschere and Chet Walker, still are battling one another—eight years after their historic clash on the Michigan State University Jenison Field House court in the 1958 Class A title game.

DeBusschere that season played for Detroit Austin, Walker for Benton Harbor.

Seldom had two young cagers reached the prep finale with such glittering press notices. Each had been all state as a junior and senior.

Each had played on one powerhouse after another. And here they were with more than 12,000 eyeing them bumping in the game that meant the most of any played all season.

DeBusschere and Walker both were brilliant that night as Austin hung on to win the game and championship.

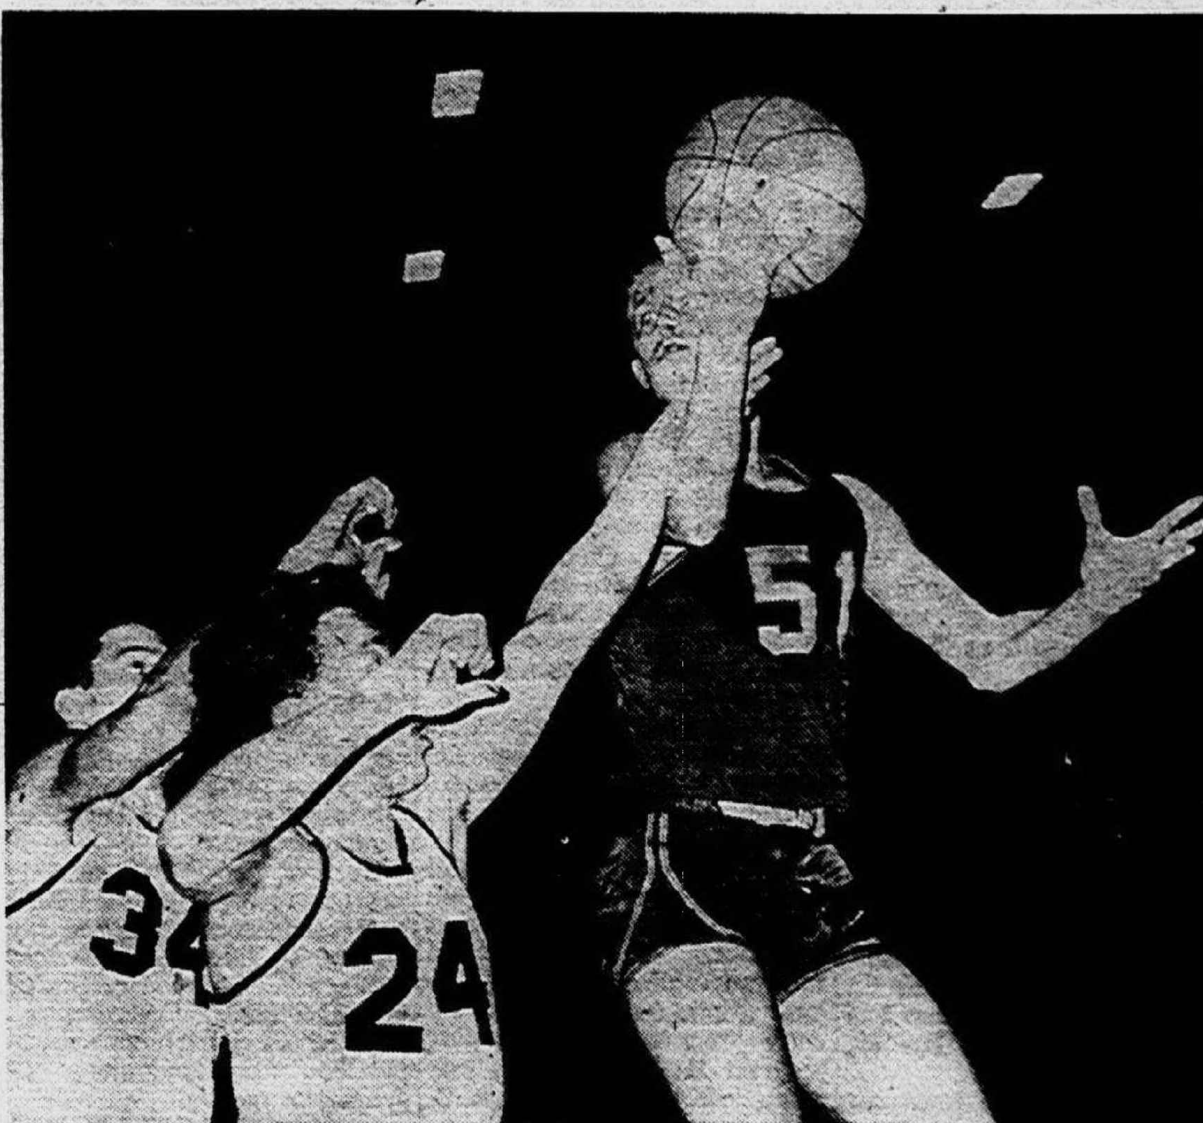

From Austin High, DeBusschere moved on to the University of Detroit. Walker enrolled at Bradley University.

More honors came to both in basketball. Each gained all-midwest and all-America acclaim. Their respective teams earned bids to the NCAA and NIT tournaments.

When their college careers ended, both became early picks in the professional draft. The Pistons grabbed off DeBusschere, Syracuse (now Philadelphia) plucked Walker.

DeBusschere and Walker have become two of the most respected forwards in the National Basketball Association.

In early January, it was DeBusschere for the West and Walker for the East in the NBA's annual All-Star (Continued on Next Sports Page)

SMALL CHANCE for Redford Union's Leland Bjerke (51) to get this shot away during the battle with Bentley High. One Bentley defender has hold of his arm and a second is trying to grab the ball. Bentley won, 78-58, to clinch second place in the Suburban Six League.

There's Joy, Sorrow For Bentley Quintet

Pleased... yet unhappy.

Such was the paradoxical feeling of Coach George Fefles after his Bentley high basketball team trimmed Redford Union, 78-58, last Friday night.

The victory gave Bentley an overall regular season record of 15 wins against three losses.

Winning also enabled the Livonians to finish second in the Suburban Six League with an 8-2 mark compared to winning Trenton's 9-1 standing. The triumph also squared accounts for a costly loss Bentley suffered at the hands of Redford Union earlier in the season.

"I thought our kids turned in a fine showing for the season," explained Fefles.

"But I still wish we could have won over at Redford Union. That's the game that cost us a share of the league championship."

Fefles now looks optimistically to the state district tournament in which Bentley makes its debut against Inkster at Franklin Wednesday evening at 8:30.

An overwhelming second half paved the way for Bentley to spank Redford Union.

The teams had finished the first two periods tied at 38-38.

With Fred Matevia scoring eight points and Gary Faulkes seven, Bentley stormed ahead, 21-14, after the first period. But Leland Bjerke's hot hand and 10 points helped Redford Union square the issue at the intermission.

In the third period, it was all Bentley, by a 19-19 margin. Matevia and Bob Elsner each swished in seven points for the Livonians.

Matevia kept up his aim in the last period, adding eight points as Bentley scored 21 more points to RU's 11.

Matevia then led the scoring parade with 26 points on ten baskets and six charities. Elsner chipped in 17 for the victors.

Bjerke was high for Redford Union, scoring 16. Next came Ron Bauer with 15 and Jim Arnold with 14.

The Bentley reserves came through with a 52-43 victory. Rick Waite clicked for three baskets and nine free throws and 15 points for Bentley while teammate Mark Formasmo added 13. Chuck Fitfield netted 12 in a losing cause.

Late Shot Turns Back Stevenson

The first regular basketball season for Livonia's newest high school, Stevenson, ended on a spectacular note. Unfortunately, it wasn't a happy one.

Stevenson bidding to finish the campaign with a 50-50 record had led all the way against the Farmington reserves.

Less than 10 seconds showed on the clock, Stevenson not only led, 64-63, but the Livonians had the ball.

But the young Stevenson tenth graders got too excited. A bad pass landed in the hands of Farmington's Joe Grimala. He took off like a beaver, pushed the ball through the hoop with seven seconds left and Farmington won, 65-64.

As a result, Stevenson finished the schedule with six wins and eight losses and Tuesday night was to meet Crestwood in its first state district Class-B game at Clarenceville.

Ken Wirtz led the Farmington reserves with 23 points. Jim Olson had 22 for Stevenson.

Thurston Upsets Franklin

Blazing starts often times don't do a basketball team any good. Conversely, many a team which starts slowly and looks like it is in for a hopeless performance has been known to get going and rush off the floor at the finish with a victory. That's the way the story went last Friday night when Thurston downed Franklin, 83-73, in the closing regular-season game for both teams.

It was Franklin which started from the gate in blitz fashion, running up a 9-1 lead within three minutes against Thurston. But at the end, Thurston had too much speed and too much success at the free throw line. The victory gave Thurston a final 8-2 standing and second place in the Northwest Suburban League. Franklin wound up in a tie for third place with a 5-5 mark.

Thurston's speedsters didn't stay down long. After Dale Lee had sparked Franklin's early surge, Thurston rebounded on the scoring of Gary Knock and Reg Barringer to gain an 18-12 tie by the first period's finish. In the second quarter, Thurston made only two baskets. But the two hoops, along with 10 free throws, made it possible for Thurston to pull on top, 32-29, at halftime. The Thurston breakout came in the third period when the Township's outscored Franklin, 25-18, as Randy Samelson knocked in nine points and Bob Wardrop six. Free throws proved the difference in the game. Franklin held a 29-26 edge in field goals, but at the charity markers, Thurston swished on 31 of 42 attempts. Franklin had 26 tries and made 15. Thurston also controlled the boards, being led by Samelson who also paced all scorers with 24 points on seven baskets and 10 free throws.

Reg Barringer chipped in with 18 points, eight on free throws, and Wardrop scored 16 for the night. Lee topped Franklin to a 67-63 victory in the reserve game with Kopec's 29 points leading the winning. Salen scored 14 for the losers. The varsity game box score:

IT HAPPENS TO TROJANS

Only One Point in Period!

Unbelievable, to say the least. Clarenceville high school's basketball team held a 31-25 lead at half time against Holly in the season's final regular-season game. The edge might have been much more, except for three mistakes just before the intermission that enabled Holly to cut a 12-point deficit in half. Then came the third period. Holly ran up 28 points. Clarenceville scored ONLY ONE. Yes, that's right— one point.

fashioned by any prep team in Michigan—perhaps, the country, this season. The defeat left Clarenceville with a 2-12 standing in Wayne-Oakland league play. Overall, the Trojans had a 3-13 mark. Chris Hawkins was the only Clarenceville player to reach double figures. He just got there with 10. Bill Taylor had 20 for the winners, getting four quick baskets to start the second half and turn the tide of battle in a hurry. Holly, incidentally, drilled in 25 out of 52 shots from the field. Holly's reserves also won, 42-34, with Bob Duman's 11 points leading the losers. (Continued from 1st Sports Page) game. DeBusschere guarded Walker and Walker guarded DeBusschere. That's the way it has been all season when the Pistons have faced Philadelphia. Last Tuesday was no different when we saw the two collide for the final time this winter in New York's historic Madison Square Garden. It was while sitting in the Garden and watching Walker against DeBusschere that our thoughts drifted back to their high school days and the thrills we have known covering the state tournament.

Badgers Finally Beaten in Jr. Basketball

The Badgers retained their grip on the leadership of the AA League in Plymouth's Community Junior Basketball program even though losing for the first time of the season to the Wolverines, 40-26. It gave the team a record of nine wins and one loss. The Celtics hold the top spot in the "B" division and Warriors and Celtics are deadlocked in the "A" ranks with four victories each and no defeats.

The state meet is a killer. You have to keep winning. It's changed some over the years. Time was when State Director Charles Forsythe had problems finding enough decent gyms to house the districts and the regionals. This made it necessary to have big fields of seven and eight teams in districts. Now most district fields are down to five and six schools. It makes for a faster meet, also affords more schools a chance to carry off a district trophy. Then there was the long period in which the state meet really wasn't a state meet. The Detroit public schools at their own decision "boycotted" the tourney. This kept some 20 Class A teams out of the competition. Then, too, there was the long span when Classes B, C and D in the Upper Peninsula never drifted below the Straits to contest against the survivors of the Lower Peninsula.

All this now has changed. We have a TRUE state meet. Every school plays. We still have the four-class system in contrast to what they have, say in Indiana, where only one overall state champ is decided. We like the Michigan system. You may disagree, but there IS a difference in the brand of sports played in a large Class A school and a small Class D school. In Michigan, no team ever plays more than one tournament game on a single day. Down in Indiana, they play two on some days.

Putting on an attraction with the magnitude of the state tournament is no snap. It requires months of preparation. There are officials to assign, insurance to obtain, timers to get, pairings to announce, etc. The state office also tries to check on the eligibility lists of every team. Sometimes, errors slip through. In the last year or two, it has been necessary to hold emergency meetings and forfeit games after a team has won—even a regional. State Director Forsythe doesn't go looking for trouble. He admits he's no detective. Neither are his associates. The trouble somehow comes to them. More than one disgruntled coach, burning over a defeat, has been known to "turn in" a rival. You sometimes wonder why the coach wasn't a gentleman in the first place.

West Rolls Past East

(Continued from 1st Sports Pg.) out with the score knotted at 69-69. A referee called a technical foul against a West player. The ball was presented to a Cherry Hill man and when the shot was made, the officials ruled the game was over with Cherry Hill a 70-69 winner. "By all rights, the way the rules read, the technical foul should have counted on what happened in the overtime," screamed Krupa. "I think I'll let Charlie Forsythe (the state director) know about this." The officials didn't help the West cause. The Garden City team was slapped with 30 personal fouls, along with seven technical fouls. The latter set some kind of a record. In contrast, Cherry Hill, the host team, was called for 18 personal and three technicals. Notwithstanding, West did hold a 69-63 lead with 2:37 left in the game, but wasn't able to hang on. Gary Slade had 23 points for the West team, making eight baskets and seven free throws.

Falcons' Shooting Slips Off

Coach Jack Quiggle has high hopes his Farmington high basketball team will regain its shooting eye in time for Wednesday night's clash against either Milford or North Farmington in the state district Class A tournament at North Farmington. After roaring to the Interlakes Conference title, the Farmington cagers somehow lost their scoring touch and dropped the final two games of the regular campaign. Last Friday, the Falcons fell to Roseville, 66-62, when what amounted to a five-point play in the closing few moments decided the contest. Farmington held a two-point edge when a Roseville shot went in to tie the score. The shooter was fouled on the play. He missed the charity, but a teammate rebounded the ball and scored. He, too, was fouled. When this foul try was good, Roseville suddenly found itself three points ahead instead of two down. The lead see-sawed most of the way with first one team, then the other leading by usually never more than three points. Mike Ames turned in a great personal effort for Farmington, scoring 26 points on nine baskets and eight charities. Mike Wilson followed with seven hoops and one charity for 15 points. The Farmington varsity's overall record for the season stood at 11 wins and six losses. Area Track Followers To See Top Miler

Mark the calendar right now—the fastest one-mile foot race ever run in the State of Michigan, whether it be outdoors or indoors, is due for delivery the evening of Friday, March 11, and a long, lean kid from Kansas is the guy who is going to run it. Jim Ryun, who at 18 already has become a household name among track devotees, will take time from his freshman academic chores at the University of Kansas to give Detroiters this historic lesson in how to pick 'em up and lay 'em down. Ryun heads a cast of four starters, and maybe more, who will race in a special invitational mile as a customer bonus on the Friday night program of the second annual NCAA indoor track championships at Cobo Arena. Two other invitationals—not counting in the 15-event NCAA championship scoring—will add spice to the evening. These will be the pole vault and 600-yard run. Ryun's credentials give him unqualified rating as the greatest miler ever developed in the United States. He had broken the four-minute mark five times on outdoor ovals even before getting his high school diploma in Wichita, Kan., and last summer established an American record of 3:55.3. Indoors his all-time best was posted just this month when he captured the mile in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet in Madison Square Garden in 4:01.6. One week later he returned to New York to win the Baxter Mile in 4:02.2. Edging ever closer to a sub-four-minute performance indoors, Ryun is built like a golfing "two-iron" with his 165 pounds stretched over a six-foot-two-inch frame. His Detroit race will be the

Raiders Find Year Long One

It was a disappointing season for the North Farmington high basketball team. When the regular season began in December, the Raiders figured as one of the powers in the Northwest Suburban League. But when the curtain dropped last Friday night, North Farmington showed only two wins in 10 conference starts and an overall record of 3-14. The result was the Raiders were lodged in fifth place in the six-team league. Oak Park spoiled the North Farmington finale, 63-48, breaking open the game in the third period after the Raiders had trailed only 10-8 at the end of the first quarter and 25-21 at halftime. In the third stanza, Oak Park cashed 21 points to 11 for the Raiders. Mike Holloman was high man for the winners with 17 points while Bill Bowles stopped the losers with six baskets and four charities for 16 points. Tigers Aid Amateur Baseball

Amateur baseball organizations wishing to participate in the financial benefits of the Tigers' exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals at Tiger Stadium May 16 can start making arrangements now.

Tickets for the game, played for the support of sandlot baseball throughout the Michigan area, now are going out to the officials of the Recreation Association of Michigan who will handle the distribution.

Any amateur baseball organization in the Michigan area can obtain tickets, sell them and retain all the receipts for the use of the team, league or other group. The more tickets they sell, the more money they can raise for diamonds, equipment and other uses.

Tickets are scaled at regular prices: $3 for box seats, $2.25 for reserved, $1.50 for general admission and $1 for bleachers. Distribution is based on population and the number of amateur teams handled by Recreation Association of Michigan cities during the past season.

Tickets and information can be obtained by writing the following members of the central committee:

Ben F. Yack, Superintendent of Recreation, Wyandotte.
Joseph Seave, Recreation Director, East Detroit.
L. Pete Moser, Recreation Director, Kalamazoo.
Tom Cole, Commissioner of Amateur Baseball, Flint.
Everett Scherich, Superintendent of Parks and Recreation, Jackson.
Pete Harlow, Parks and Recreation, Detroit.
John Dufour, Director of Parks and Recreation, Livonia.

County Hikes Pay For Pharmacists

Complaints about pharmacy service at Wayne County General Hospital should be leveling off to normal according to hospital superintendent Dr. H. J. Wells.

The hospital received a number of complaints a month ago when area residents were forced to stand in line for hours to receive prescriptions at the outpatient pharmacy at Wayne County Hospital.

Dr. Wells told The Observer a salary adjustment for pharmacy employees was just approved by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors who approved a proposal to hike the pay made by the Civil Service Commission

Family Pair Stars in Ice Capades

From a small frozen pond in Czechoslovakia to the championship competition areas of the world. That's the story of Otto and Marie Jelinek, brother-sister stars of the Ice Capades of 1966, at Olympia Stadium.

Otto and Marie began skating together when he was just eight and she three. Their eyes were set to active competition when the Jelinek parents decided to flee the communist regime controlling Czechoslovakia.

The family sought and received asylum in Canada, where Otto and Marie still live. Under the Canadian banner they captured two bronze medals in their first World's Championships and took fourth in the 1960 Olympics.

The high point of their amateur career came in 1962 when they returned to their homeland — under special guarantee by the Czechoslovakian government that they would be allowed to leave safely — to compete for the Pairs Championship.

Not only was this their native land, but Prague was the city in which they grew up. The people had not forgotten them. To the wild cheers of their fans, the Jelineks won their title.

It was their last amateur title — they were immediately signed on by Ice Capades — but not their last mark. Last year they competed in, and captured, the coveted World's Professional Championships at Lake Placid, New York.

Edison Sends Redford Twp. Engineer on Iran Mission

Allen E. Price, of Redford Township, underground standards engineer and supervisor of the underground standards section of the Detroit Edison Company, left this week on assignment in Iran, under the sponsorship of the U. S. State Department's Agency for International Development (AID) program. He will be gone, this time, for one month.

As statistician-engineer, loaned by Detroit Edison to the State Department to aid in technical development of underdeveloped countries, Price will organize and head-up a survey program designed to investigate power resources and requirements in Iran where industry and agricultural development plans indicate that electrical service is required and feasible.

To this end, Price will organize Iranian engineers into data collection teams and instruct them in the proper collection and analysis techniques. About March 1, two survey staff assistants from the United States will go to Iran to aid Price in this work, and will remain there after Price has returned to his home base.

Price stated that he will be "furnishing technical guidance for economic growth and development of Iran. Basic to that growth and development," he continued, "is the energy capacity of the country." It is this capacity that the data collection teams will be studying and analyzing.

The specific assignment by the State Department is, in part, that Price shall establish statistics; and instruct the survey staff assistants and their Iranian counterparts in the techniques of analyzing specific problems in the production, utilization, marketing, pricing and taxation of energy forms.

The survey will cover all fossil fuels (solid, liquid and gaseous), all nuclear fuel, all indigenous fuel forms (wood, peat, etc.), and all other energy forms, such as solar, geo-thermal, and hydro.

Price stated that this is the first part of a two-part program. The second part will embrace the actual establishment and construction of energy producing facilities. It will be under the direction of Dick Hart, coordinator of overseas studies, Detroit Edison Company, who will go to Iran in November.

Associated with the Edison Company since 1936, Price has performed similar duties on several other occasions in far eastern countries under the AID program.

He has also been involved in related activities with the Michigan Energy Study Group, under the guidance of that group's Steering Committee Chairman, Walker L. Cislser, chairman of the board of the Detroit Edison Company. The results of that study will be released in May in a book titled "Michigan Energy and Economic Projections," of which Price is co-author along with fifteen other prominent energy specialists in the state.

Price and his wife, the former Edna J. Dietrich, reside at 25649 Dover in Redford Township. He was a 1933 graduate of Southwestern High School, received his engineering degree from Lawrence Institute of Technology, and completed extension courses in nuclear physics at the University of Michigan.

Price has co-authored several professional documents, and has taught night school classes in DC and AC Electronics and AC Machinery. He is a member of the Institute of Electronics and Electrical Engineers and the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Redford Duo Fires 1,282 in Pin Doubles

A Redford Township husband and wife team led the firing in the third weekend of the Observer Newspapers — Merri-bowl Lanes mixed doubles tournament with a combined total of 1,282.

The four-month long tourney extends through the final weekend in May before the winners of the guaranteed first prize of $2,500 are known.

Tournament Director Mac Goldman indicates there are still choice times and dates available but urges all planning on competing to make application as soon as possible.

"We have plenty of choice times and dates this early in the tournament," he said, "but the situation will become more acute as we get closer to the end. We feel that all bowlers planning on entering should file entries now and get the times and dates they want. It may not be possible if they delay much longer."

It was the team of Doris and Ray Pomaville, 15834 MacArthur, Redford Township that moved to the front in last weekend's firings, shooting the fat 1,282 with the aid of a 126 pin handicap.

Ray, who carries a 194 average in the Senior House League at Merri-Bowl and a 193 in the Senior House League at Bellaire Lanes, was the big gunner, shooting a 267 in his middle game while collecting 617 pins.

He started with 172 in the opener, broke loose with the 267 and then settled down to 179 in the finale.

Meanwhile, his wife, who carries a 145 average, had a big

Kaline Sets Sights On Tiger Marks

Al Kaline, entering his 14th season with the Tigers, is challenging the records of Detroit's all-time Hall of Fame heroes.

In five important categories of records based on their play while in Tiger uniforms, the only players who outrank Kaline are Ty Cobb, Charlie Gehringer, Sam Crawford, Harry Heilmann and Hank Greenberg — all enshrined at Cooperstown.

Barring injuries, Kaline has a chance to become No. 1 in one department and perhaps advance a position or two in the other four.

He needs 57 more home runs to replace Greenberg as the most productive slugger in Tiger history. He needs 424 RBI to pass Heilmann and rank second to Cobb.

He needs 744 runs scored to pass Gehringer and again rank second to Cobb. He needs 270 games played to pass Heilmann and 395 to pass Crawford for third place, behind Cobb and Gehringer.

He needs 513 hits to pass Crawford and 551 to pass Heilmann and again trail only Cobb and Gehringer.

The all-time leaders, based on Tiger service only:

Home Runs—Greenberg 306; Kaline 250.
Runs Batted In—Cobb 1,821; Heilmann 1,452; Kaline 1,029.
Runs—Cobb 2,086; Gehringer 1,773; Kaline 1,030.
Hits—Cobb 3,962; Gehringer 2,539; Heilmann 2,499; Crawford 2,461; Kaline 1,949.
Games Played—Cobb 2,821; Gehringer 2,328; Crawford 2,114; Heilmann 1,989; Kaline 1,720.

Instant Antiquing Gives Room Traditional Look

Every decorator knows that a distinctive antique is the touch of the past that gives a new room a feeling of established roots. But good pieces are hard to find, and harder to budget for, in today's inflated market.

For a special furniture accent that sets the seal of individuality on your decor—without denting the family pocketbook for a major antique purchase—head for the nearest thrift shop or family attic.

They're bulging with the best buys in almost-antiques: the middle-aged pieces that are hiding good pieces behind years of hard wear.

Thanks to a whole new category of products designed for do-it-yourselfers, it's easy to turn family hand-me-downs into heirloom accents. Newest aid for the amateur is a four-stage antiquing treatment.

Called Smartone, the new Luminall paint kit starts with sanding liquid—probably the greatest boon since sandpaper to the amateur furniture refinisher—and includes base coat, antiquing toner and finish coat.

The sanding liquid, which is a free bonus with the full kit, is a chemical formula engineered specifically to solve the biggest problem in refinishing old furniture; removing the tired surface coats and getting down to the good wood.

The new method substitutes a simple, wipe-on, wipe-off technique for tiresome, traditional sanding and scraping. One application does the work of hours, and because there's no abrasion, do-it-yourself amateurs get professional results.

The liquid penetrates all surfaces, even hard-to-reach corners and crevices, and removes old finish coats without sanding away the faint hills and valleys that set old furniture apart from the glass-smooth sameness of new wood.

Once old finishes are wiped away, the base coat is brushed on, without thinning. Toner is applied after the base coat is dry, to give the antique look.

It's brushed on, then wiped gently for a grained effect. Different kinds of wiping cloths—cheese cloth, terry toweling and paper are popular—give distinctively different results.

Final coat is the smartone finish coat—a clear, non-yellowing, alcohol-proof coating that combines a satiny finish with protection against all normal household hazards.

Smartone antiquing comes in six colors: antique white; Venetian, a soft beige-blond; Italian olive; blue-green Riviera; Grecian gold; and Mediterranean red.

All are sold by leading local paint and hardware dealers—who also carry open-stock supplies of the component parts.

How-to instructions are incorporated in the kit, along with decorating tips for beginners.

Both are part of a folder that can be obtained by writing to Smartone Antiquing, Luminall Paints, Inc., 3850 Westside Avenue, North Bergen N. J. 07047.

Decorators In Accord On 3 Areas

Experts in the art of interior decorating have ideas so diversified that even the most discriminating home decorator can eventually find exactly what he wants.

Despite their multiple differences, however, there are three areas where decorators find themselves in complete agreement in their recommendations. These recommendations, or "musts" for home improvement projects, are:

- 1) Investigate several materials to determine which requires the least maintenance.
- 2) Be certain the material chosen is sturdy and durable.
- 3) Select materials that are adaptable to any decor and will remain in style for years.

At least one such all-inclusive material is stocked by most local lumber dealers. Called Marlite, this plastic-finished hardboard paneling requires only an occasional damp wiping to retain its appearance for years. It is an attractive addition to any room in the house, but is especially suitable for use in kitchen and bathroom projects because of its heat and moisture resistant qualities. There is no danger of colors becoming dull or lifeless. Nor will common household bumps and knocks cause denting.

Marlite is available in six luxurious woodgrains as well as a variety of modern colors and designer patterns that will blend with any decor. It adds a distinctive flavor to any room in the house.

Give Posies Space

Never make the mistake of making wooden porch or window boxes too small.

Flowers just will not do well in tiny ones.

Make them large enough to hold enough soil and moisture for the plants.

Add Beams

The look of a beamed ceiling can be created with 4x6-inch Douglas fir timbers nailed to the ceiling joists. Use an X pattern, with beams running diagonally across the ceiling from corner to corner, when a center chandelier is to be installed, as in a dining room.

Nail in Tongue

Tongue-and-groove panel boards should be blind-nailed through the tongue so that the nail is covered up by the groove of the adjacent board. Boards more than eight inches wide should be face nailed.

Bright Colored Rugs Are Contrast to Dark Floors

Dark toned oak floors are throwing new light on the home decorating scene.

They're helping to spark a refreshingly new approach to room planning, in which bright, gay area and accent rugs, free form and novelty rugs are winning the favor of interior designers and homemakers alike.

It's a breakthrough from what some designers have termed the monotony of endless miles of single-tone wall-to-wall carpeting.

As one decorating publication puts it, "The tired cliché of wall-to-wall carpeting that stretches as far as the eye can see has become as passe as feather dusters."

Dark oak floors offer a pleasing background for the bold colors.

There is no sacrifice of wood beauty since the dark tones permit the inimitable natural figure of the oak to appear prominently.

And the contrast between the dark wood and the bright colored rugs allows each element to stand out. They complement each other without competing.

Many of the rugs are domestic, some are imported from Scandinavia, Iran, France and other countries. Among the domestic favorites are many braided and hooked rugs, and rugs with colorful motifs that include musical, nautical and other designs.

Among proponents of this new style in floor treatment is William Pahlmann, one of the nation's best known interior designers.

Pointing out that rich area rugs make a room look warm and inviting, he says their increasing use has been spurred by "the returning interest in bare wood floors."

He adds that area rugs are practical because they can be turned to save wear, sent out for cleaning, switched from one room to another to give a new feeling, and even changed from season to season.

Incidentally, he says, if you have had the good fortune to inherit or otherwise acquire an old Aubusson, Savonnerie, needlepoint, Gros Point or Oriental, your rug can establish the theme of your decoration.

"You can take your color scheme from the design in the rug," he explains, "and plan your fabric, furniture and room arrangements around it."

The best way to set off this kind of treasure is to lay it on a dark polished wood floor.

Coinciding with the trend toward dark brown tones in oak, observers note, there is growing interest in treating the floors in appealing decorator colors—various shades of blue, green and red, for example.

Ladies Like Convenience

Most families who plan kitchen remodeling expect to install built-in ovens and ranges.

A Home Improvement Council survey shows 66 per cent of the homeowners queried want built-in ovens and 64 per cent want built-in range tops.

The popularity of modern built-in appliances is reflected in the variety of electric range and oven styles that are designed for installation in a counter or wall or to fit with counters and cabinets to give a built-in look.

Right for Yellows

The subtle champagne color of western hemlock lumber makes the perfect backdrop for a color scheme combining but-tercup, an antique gold and Chinese red.

New Mantel, Panels Perk Fireplace

A new mantel may help improve the appearance of a fireplace. Face-lifting the area will complete the modernization.

Many modern-day mantels aren't attractive, but if you can find an old mantel, it's a simple matter to make a switch.

Ideal is an early 19th century marble mantel. Its simplicity makes it readily adaptable to rooms with modern furniture.

If there are stubby built-in bookcases at both sides of the fireplace, they'll look better if they are continued to the ceiling, according to Norma Brown, home decorating consultant to Masonite Corporation. She adds:

"Make another striking improvement by paneling the area above the mantel with a woodgrain such as Masonite Royalcote; another good choice is a hardboard with the appearance of travertine marble. Both are factory-finished."

A deep fireplace may indicate there is room at each side for a closet built flush with the face of the hearth, Miss Brown suggests. Closets can be lined with peg-board to hold shelves for games or other storage.

Hollow-core doors for the closets can be purchased at bargain sales and covered with a Royalcote woodgrain, available in many colors and patterns. This method is easier and less expensive than buying top-grade doors or having them custom-built.

Snarl Over Lot

dition to his present quarters on a lot he now owns and would use the Shafar lot for much needed parking.

Demel, who recently signed a lease with Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. for the second floor of his building, told the Commission that he was in a bind for parking and would use the land for a parking lot.

That started a lengthy discussion between members of the Commission, Demel and Snyder. Commissioner George Lawton suggested that there was no doubt that Demel has a critical parking problem but if the Commission sold to Demel it would ease his problem and add to that of Snyder.

He suggested that inasmuch as the lot in question was now being used for a city parking lot that it be removed from bidding, kept as a city lot and thus aid both.

His motion was defeated by a 4-3 vote with Mayor James Houk casting the deciding "No."

During the course of the discussion, Demel told the Commission that he had been informed that if he didn't appear at the meeting to press his issues that a lot adjacent to his building would be available for a price of $21,000.

"However," he told the Council, "I had a certified check ready all day Monday to make the purchase and then was told at 6:30 p.m. that the price had gone up to $32,000. This should prove to the Commission that I am trying to ease my own situation."

Commissioner Arch Vallier demanded an explanation of the charge of an offer if Demel didn't appear, charging that it reflected on the ethics of the Commission.

"Demel told of the incident, which didn't involve any member of the Commission nor any member of the City's official family, and indicated the offer had been made before four witnesses.

Later, it developed that Harold Fischer, Director of the Area Planning Authority, had tried in good faith to settle the snarl, had received an indication the land would be available for $21,000 and had told Demel. Then, without Fischer learning of the change, the price was boosted to $32,000.

"I thought I could assist in resolving this problem," he told the Commission, "But I find that instead I'm in the middle of something over which I had no control."

After considerable bickering, the Commission, on motion of Lawton voted to refer the matter of the parking lot to the new Parking Committee for a decision as to whether it should be a city lot or whether it should be sold to an individual owner. The Committee was asked to make a report back by the first meeting of the Commission in April.

the water, sewers and storm sewers would be in the site long before the start of construction.

Meetings followed with the Wayne County Board Commission to get approval of plans to make Sheldon Road an "A" highway so that it could be used throughout the year and so that it could be widened to meet the needs of Ford.

All of this was arranged without too much news leaking out until the final two weeks before the actual announcement.

Then it became known that Ford was the interested party—probably because some of the information leaked out of Ypsilanti and probably because those in the know couldn't hold still any longer.

Regardless, the Plymouth Community is on its way. A 642,000 square foot plant to be started within another two or three weeks—a 350,000-square foot warehouse slated for construction in the near future—and 500,000 square foot of expansion planned at Evans Products with most of the work underway or completed.

Raps Closing

and found Commissioner Arch Vallier pointing out that unless some member of the Council made a motion to reconsider then he felt the group had no reason to listen to Demel's complaints.

"We are under no obligation to answer any questions," said Vallier.

Demel protested that he had received no notice of the public hearing and that his building about the property involved in the closing request.

"I feel this Commission didn't give the matter full consideration of vacating for the best interest of the city," said Demel, "If I were a member of this Commission I couldn't in good conscience consider giving away property without cost because one owner owned most of the land."

This brought a protest from Commissioner James McKeon that Demel's remarks reflected on the ethics of the Commissioners and that "I don't feel we have to listen to this kind of lecture."

After some additional repartee, the Commission voted to adjourn without comment.

Now it appears as if the only action left for Demel is to take the matter to court. He hadn't made a decision Tuesday morning.

St. Peter's 110th Anniversary

The opportunity to organize was presented to the little group in 1856 when the local First Baptist Society put its first church up for sale. The 12 family heads, one of whom was Peter Gayde, father of the oldest member of the church, Miss Amelia Gayde, met in Peter Gayde's store.

They adopted a constitution and decided to buy the Baptist Church for $140. They had $8 cash to pay on the building. Since they could not buy the site with the church, they were compelled to purchase lots at the east end of Spring Street. They paid $25 for the lots and an additional $18 for moving the building. Yet, the entire debt was retired by November, 1858, and the little church was dedicated at Christmas time, 1858.

Rev. Schmid continued to serve the congregation until the end of the Civil War and then, from 1865 to 1900, the church was served by 14 different pastors.

In 1883 a new church was erected on Spring Street. The Rev. George Ehnis served the congregation for almost 18 years, 1891 to 1909, the Rev. Oscar Peters until 1912, the Rev. John Roeckle until 1915, and the Rev. Charles Strasen to 1929.

Pastor Edgar Hoenecke, now Chairman of the Synod's Board for World Missions, was pastor of the church from 1929 to 1960. A major building, relocation

17 Seniors Honored

Seventeen members of the 1966 graduating class of Plymouth High have earned grades of 3.5 or better with 4.0 as perfect.

That was the announcement of Assistant Principal John Hoben, in charge of guidance and counseling, as he indicated the 17 have attained the high average through five semesters of senior high with only the sixth and final to come before graduation next June.

Those on the scholastic honor roll are:

Jon Adams, Mary Jo Arnold, Charles Catlett, Thomas Chandler, Jack Dean, Mary Fink, Ralph Heid, Rowena Innis and Richard Jones.

Judy King, Sally McKenzie, James Nelson, Leslie Smith, Virginia Smith, Richard Wagar, Tom Webber and Kay Zoot.

and expansion program was begun in 1940. An eighth grade Christian Day School was built on Penniman Avenue and dedicated September 7, 1947.

Richard Scharf heads a staff of four teachers at the Day School. The Early American style Church in which the congregation now worships at 1343 Penniman Avenue, was dedicated in 1955.

All friends and neighbors in the community are invited to join in the Anniversary Celebration by attending the church services at 8 and 10:15 a.m. on Sunday.

could be one of the biggest things to happen to the Plymouth Community in a long time," said Chamber President Carl Pursell, "That is, provided all in attendance actually participate in the sessions as we hope they will."

Practically every major governmental unit, school group, service club and professional body will be represented in addition to a sizable delegation from the Chamber as community-at-large representatives.

Sears

introducing Sears exclusive new MANTILLA COLLECTION

a romantic echo of old Spain

The splendor of Spain, recaptured by Sears in this magnificent new collection. Here is the bold beauty of hand carved wood panels . . . the delicate tracery of lattice work . . . the rich warmth of subtly antiqued woods. And the cabinetwork is truly superb. Costly pecan veneers and oak solids are hand rubbed to a mellow luster and then enriched by heavy Moorish-inspired hardware. The luxurious upholstered pieces are cushioned in foam latex and lavishly covered in striking decorator fabrics. The result? Furniture of rare and timeless beauty, perfect for every room in your home. Come, admire the complete Mantilla collection at Sears. Our modest prices will surprise and delight you.
