That's Announcement at Ground Breaking Ceremonies

Ford Sets February 1967 Target Date To Start Operations in New Plant

It rained, it poured, the winds howled and it was one of those spring mornings when the cold chilled everyone to the bone—but it was a warm moment for Ford Motor, Plymouth Township, City of Plymouth and the Plymouth School system when the ground was officially broken for the new 642,000 square foot heater-air conditioner plant on Sheldon Road just north of the Western Electric plant.

There was mud that made the going slippery for those afoot and threatened to halt cars in all directions but Ford officials had installed a large tent, provided coffee and sweet rolls and the ceremonies went on as scheduled despite the bad weather.

Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen welcomed the audience and Ford Motor officials in his short address. "We from Plymouth Township and adjacent areas welcome you to our community," he said, "You are the first of the large companies in the automotive industry to locate in our community. Naturally we are proud and happy to have Ford in our Township.

"The immediate products of this plant for which we are breaking ground, namely heaters and air conditioners for new Fords, assures us of added comfort in the motor vehicle which has given us a degree of mobility that amounts to a new freedom. Your entry into the Township is most desirable to assure a proper diversification of industry in the community."

Mayor James Houk, of the City of Plymouth, welcomed the huge plant into the community and cited the co-operative efforts of all governmental units involved in making it possible for Ford to locate in the Plymouth community.

H. A. Matthias, general manager of the General Parts Division of Ford, was the principal speaker, telling how Henry Ford II announced the plans of the Corporation to build the plant in Plymouth in February. "As you can see, site preparation has been underway for some time," he stated, "According to our present schedule, grading will be completed by June 1 and steel erection will begin immediately thereafter.

"Initial occupancy is scheduled for February 1, 1967. From that date forward operations will be transferred from Ypsilanti on a programmed basis until we will be building complete 1967 model heater and air conditioner assemblies at this location in June 1967.

"The 1968 model production will begin in July, 1967, and will provide new job opportunities over and above the transferred workforce. Approximately 1,000 men and women will be employed when the plant becomes fully operational in the fall of 1967. This will mean an annual payroll in excess of $8 million. This employment level and the associated payroll can be expected to rise as the installation rates of air conditioners in our vehicles increase.

"Present indications are that the installation rates for this popular option will be approximately doubled by 1975. This 168-acre site will provide the opportunity for future plant expansion at this location to keep

Area Groups in Accord on Incinerator Need

With a full representation from the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township and representatives on hand from the Plymouth Board of Education, and the City of Northville, initial steps towards a co-operative move in the direction of an incinerator authority and a study of mutual police protection were made in a joint meeting at the Thunderbird Inn.

The meeting was arranged by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and is a direct result of the recent Leadership Conference at Hillsdale College.

Dr. Howard McCluskey, of the University of Michigan, who served as moderator at the Hillsdale sessions, had a similar role at the meeting.

The 40 in attendance included:

City of Plymouth — Mayor James Houk, City Manager Richard Blodgett, City Commissioners James Jabara, James McKeon, Arch Vallier, George Lawton, Robert Smith and George Hudson.

Plymouth Township: Supervisor John McEwen, Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, Clerk C. Veach Sparks, Trustees Gene Overholt, Ralph Garber, Louis Norman and Dick Lauterbach. Canton Township—Supervisor Phil Dingeldey, Treasurer Forrest Truesdale, Clerk John Flodin, Trustees Henry Holbyhoke, Richard Palmer and Perry Hicks.

Northville: Mayor Mike Allen and City Manager Frank Olen-dorf.

Newspapers: R. T. Thompson of The Observer, David Wiley and Doug Johnson of the Plymouth Mail.

Plymouth Commissioner Vallier broke the ice after the initial talks by suggesting that it was time for all communities in the area to start thinking of an incinerator.

"There isn't any time to waste," he said, "I believe this is the most urgent item of all discussed at the Hillsdale conference. The City already is facing a suit over the Salem refuse landfill and the matter of garbage disposal is something that every community in the northwest section of the county is facing.

"This is something that all communities must consider and must consider fast for we are

NEW CLERK of Plymouth Township is Mrs. Helen Richardson who assumed the duties Monday as the successor of C. Veach Sparks, who resigned effective Friday. Mrs. Richardson will be formally sworn in at the Board of Trustees meeting next Tuesday.

City to Flush Hydrants On Thursday and Friday

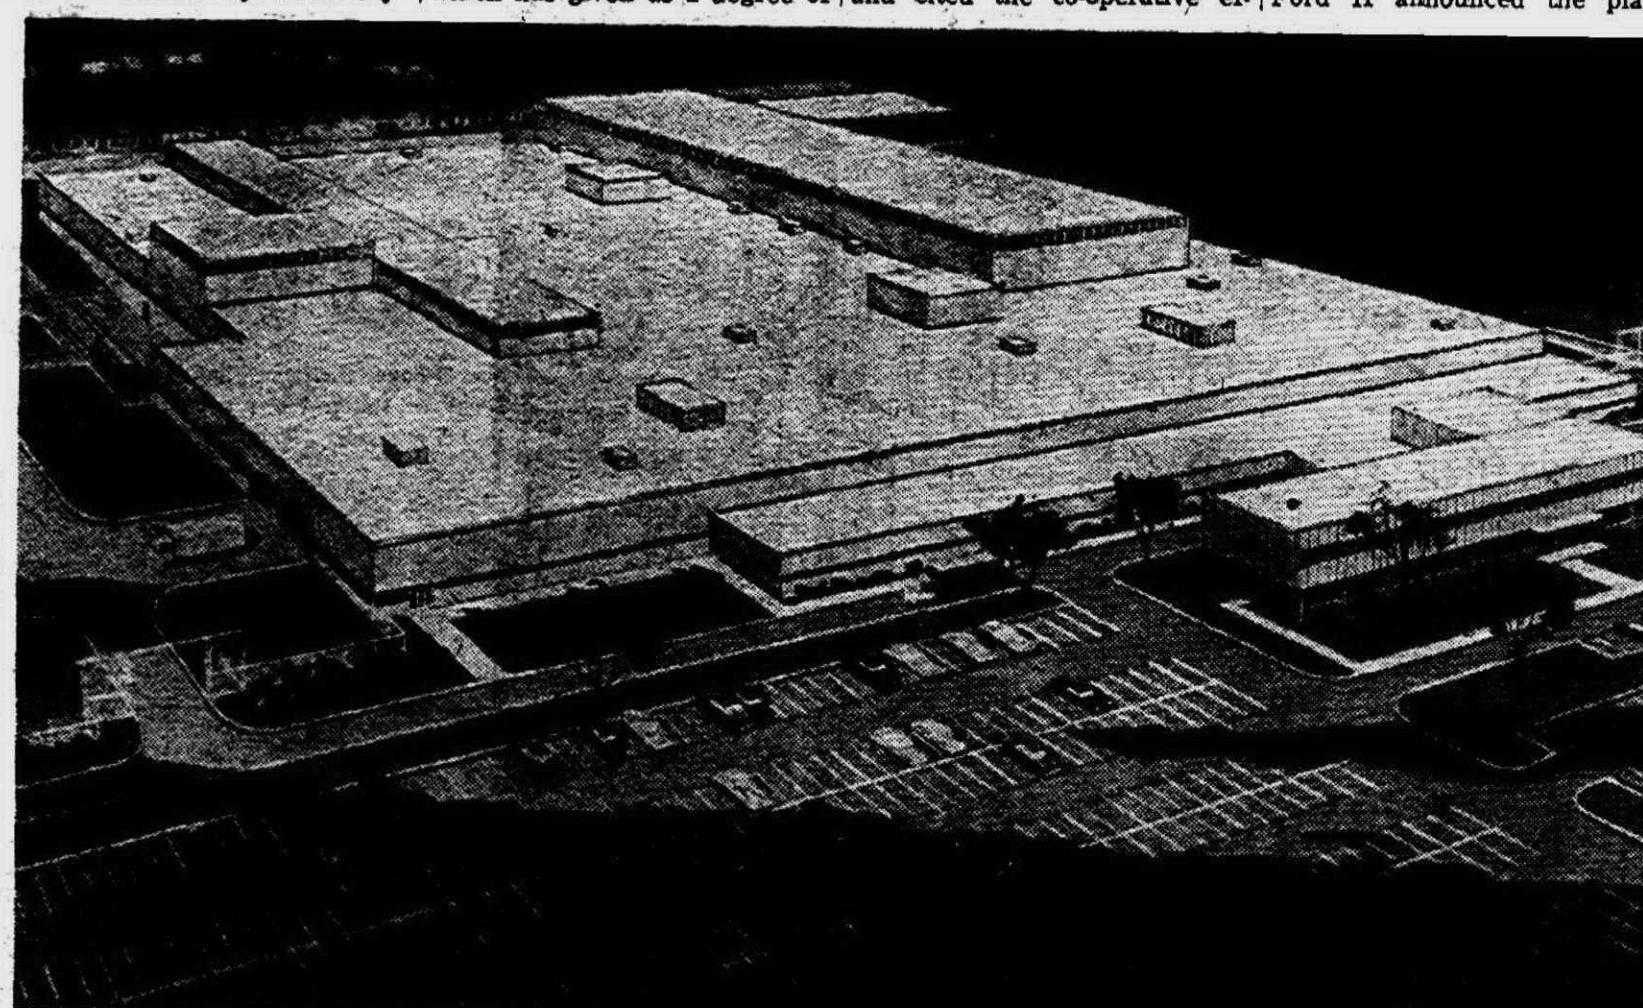

Residents of the City of Plymouth Monday were warned by Acting Supt. Ken Vogras that fire hydrants will be flushed on Thursday and Friday evenings from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

This will be continued on a Thursday and Friday schedule until all hydrants throughout the city have been flushed.

At the same time, Vogras again notified all residents that rubbish will be picked up at the curb during the annual Paint Up, Clean Up, Fix Up week from May 9 through May 13.

The weekly rubbish and garbage will be picked up at the regular time and place. But residents will have an opportunity to get rid of that winter collection of junk since anything left by the regular crews will be picked up by city trucks.

There will not be a regular schedule for the spring rubbish pickup, the city trucks will patrol the streets to make sure everything is picked up during the week.

THIS IS an architect's conception of Ford Motor Company's new heater-air conditioner plant. When the 642,000 square-foot facility becomes full operational in early 1967, it will employ more than 1,000 persons and will be the first Ford plant devoted entirely to the production of heaters and air conditioners.

LEAVES METHODIST CHURCH IN JUNE

Rev. H. White Accepts Call To Become District Supt.

Plymouth will lose one of its outstanding clergymen in June when Rev. Hugh White, of the First Methodist Church, will leave for Saginaw to become District Superintendent of the Saginaw Bay District.

Rev. White received word of the appointment from Bishop Dwight Leder of the Michigan

Area of the Methodist Church. The Saginaw Bay District, which includes Midland, Saginaw and Bay City, includes 94 churches.

Rev. White has served the First Methodist Church for the past three years. No appointment has been made to fill the position.

Rev. White came to the Detroit Conference of Methodist Churches from Illinois where he attended North Central College in Naperville and was graduated from the Garrett Theological School of Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill.

He served as Associate Minister of the Euclid Ave. Methodist Church in Oak Park, Ill. before shifting to Michigan in 1942 where he was pastor at the Fort Street Methodist Church, Grosse Pointe and the Franklin Community churches.

In 1955 he took a leave of absence from the Grosse Pointe

100 Leaders Get Story Of DBD Plans

More than 100 Plymouth business, industrial, financial and civic leaders received an insight into the proposed plans for development of the downtown business area and of an urban renewal project from representatives of the city's planning consultants, Vilcan and Leman, in a meeting at the Mayflower Meeting House arranged by the Chamber of Commerce.

J. W. Eldridge and John Anning handled the "mike" for the consultants after introductions by Sid Strong, chairman of the City Planning Commission.

Eldridge served as spokesman for the planners and told of the study which started in 1958, has continued since and has finally evolved into the recommendations in the 701 program that will be aired in a joint meeting of the City Commission and the Planning Commission Thursday at 7:30 in the City Hall.

"Conditions have changed drastically since the presentation of the Detroit Business District plans several years ago," said Eldridge. "We knew from the start of this study that the plans must be practical to be workable.

"We talked to businessmen of their needs and plans. We sent out questionnaires to more than 100 in the community and received 70 answers. We learned that two-thirds of the businessmen in the community either lease or rent buildings and that one-third have done considerable renovation in the interior."

The study revealed that more than half of the businessmen indicate they have parking problems and that

Name Kamen VFW Post Commander

William Kamen is the new Commander of Mayflower Post 6695 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars following the annual election.

Other officers are: Senior Vice Commander, Robert Smith; Junior Vice Commander, James McKindles; Quartermaster, Gene Leader; Chaplain, Everett Salow; Trustee, William Cadaret.

The installation ceremonies will take place on Saturday, May 14 at the Post Home on S. Mill Street.

Gerry Olson is Grand Marshal for the annual Memorial Day parade and program on May 30. Robert Fitzgerald, Regional Manager for the Veterans' Administration, will be the principal speaker with Plymouth City Commissioner George Lawton as Master of Ceremonies.

Flags will be placed on the graves of all veterans on May 21. Families of men or women who passed away during the past year are urged to contact Olson at 453-1339 so that no graves will be overlooked.

Membership Chairman Bob Smith reports the Post now has 225 members, making the 1966 drive the most successful in years.

The Buddy Poppy Sale has been set for Thursday, May 19 in charge of Chairman James McKindles. Any members desiring to volunteer for work on the sale are urged to contact McKindles at 453-7036.

The Post will hold meetings on May 10 and May 24.

Manpower Inc. Praises Work of Secretaries

The world's largest temporary help and complete business service, Manpower, Inc., saluted the thousands of women in business and industry in the Tri-County area during National Secretaries' Week.

Jerry Heller, general manager of Manpower — Detroit which serves Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties said the secretary is "the eyes, ears and alter ego of her executive."

In his book "How To Be An Effective Secretary", Elmer L. Winter, president of Manpower International said, "The executive secretary of 1970 will be more than a Girl Friday; she will be on the way to becoming a part of management itself."

"Never before have good secretaries been higher paid or in greater demand," reveals the author, whose firm is the world's largest supplier of the secretarial talent.

His premise: "If you can make yourself into an effective secretary, you can all but write your ticket. Somewhere in business there is an executive who needs your skills, who needs a superior secretary to rely upon, who wants to share with you the responsibilities in his career and the exciting frontiers of industry that he is helping to explore."

Winter saluted the nation's secretaries during National Secretaries' Week, by these words of encouragement: "Tomorrow's secretary, like tomorrow's executive, will be a far more versatile person than she is now. The title 'secretary' will no longer fit the description of the work to be done. She might more appropriately be called 'administrative assistant' to the president — or vice president — as the case may be."

What will be some of the challenges facing the secretary of 1970? What will her new responsibilities include? In what ways can she make the life of her executive less complex and more productive?

Jet travel will take executives to far corners of the globe to conduct their business — off to Tokyo, Bangkok, Istanbul for a few days... back home again for the weekend. The secretary will be required to plan her executives' worldwide itineraries as he opens new markets and strengthens old ones. According to Winter's book, tomorrow's secretary must become much more sophisticated in making travel arrangements; furthermore, she must broaden her knowledge of economics and politics.

All habits are stepping stones — some lead up, others down.

Affects All Tax Rates

County Announces Equalization Factors

By BILL GAIL
Observer Staff Writer

Public officials and citizens this week are busily evaluating the significance of equalization figures, approved April 28 by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Equalization factors range from 1.00 for the cities of Wayne and Highland Park to 1.95 for the City of Woodhaven and 2.155 for Brownstown Township.

Factors for cities in this area are: Livonia and Garden City, 1.25; Plymouth, 1.22; for the townships: Canton, 1.38; Nankin, 1.25; Northville, 1.276; Plymouth, 1.33; and Redford 1.396.

What do these figures mean to taxpayers?

The factors determine how much will be collected for each

Pursell Raps Pay Hike For Legislators

Opposition to the proposed legislative pay-rise was expressed Monday by Carl D. Pursell, Republican candidate for the 14th Senatorial District Seat.

Pursell, who announced his candidacy at a press conference last week, said "In light of the current legislative structure, I do not feel legislators, working as representatives of the citizens for a maximum of six months out of a year, are entitled to a pay increase." They are already the highest paid state legislators in the land, receiving a total salary of $12,500, Pursell added.

Considered the "party favorite," Pursell added that there could be some merit in increasing the allowances of majority and minority leaders and committee chairmen, but that further study of this should be made before a final decision could be reached.

Pursell further stated that he did not feel the legislature should meet on a year-long basis, explaining that a good representative should spend a great deal of time in each of the areas he represents in an effort to learn the voters' feelings on issues of major concern to them.

Madonna College Lists Remedial Reading Course

Madonna College is offering a summer remedial reading program to students on elementary and secondary levels. Plans for the program of the 1966 summer session are completed and applications will be received until May 15.

The program is designed to provide diagnostic testing of skills related to efficient reading and instrumental exercises aimed at the remediation of identified difficulties. The scope of the program is broad enough to provide for the reading needs of students on the elementary and secondary levels.

Classes will begin June 20 and will be held daily, Monday through Friday, until July 29. Each will extend through an 80 minute period.

The nature of the instructions provided for each student will be determined by a series of psychological and diagnostic tests administered individually prior to the beginning of the summer session.

Applications to the program may be obtained by writing to Sister Mary Martina, director of Psycho-Educational Center, Madonna College, Livonia, or calling 425-8000, Ext. 14.

Come Hear The Community Band

Livonia Community Band sponsored by Livonia Adult Education will present a concert at Riley Junior High School in Livonia on Tuesday, May 10, 8 p.m.

Presented on the program will be Latin tunes, show numbers, and a brass sextet featuring Paul Hayward, Jeff Green, James Roseberry, Benny Moon, Jack Gilman and Peter Makar.

Also, for listening pleasure, will be the big band sound as presented by dance band members playing numbers of days gone by.

mill levied on the basis of equalized valuations.

For example, on the last tax bill in Livonia, the one mill levied by Schoolcraft College, cost taxpayers $1.17 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

This year the amount will be $1.25 which is determined by taking one mill and multiplying it by the factor of 1.25.

Last year when equalization within the county was completed by each county, the state raised Wayne County's valuation.

It will not happen this year, according to Jack H. McDonald, Redford Township supervisor and former chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

"The county equalization board set the total county valuation at 50 per cent of true value," he said. "With assurance from the State Tax Commission that there would be no added factor on the state level."

McDonald said he favors establishing one assessing officer for each county, thus paring down the total of 1,300 assessing units the state now has to a total of 83.

"This would take local assessors out of the field of favoritism," he explained. "The majority of those who opposed a county assessor oppose equal assessments for all."

He noted that vacant property in Plymouth Township is assessed at 10 per cent of its true value, based on studies of recent sales, and in Taylor Township at 8 per cent.

"This throws the tax burden on the homeowner," McDonald pointed out, "and it is really unfair for him to bear the burden of this huge equalization factor."

Livonia Mayor Harvey Moelke was the only supervisor to vote "no" on the equalization.

"We learned the hard way we should do this in order to protect our right to appeal," he said.

He noted that the schools, city and county, could receive a 15 per cent boost in revenue as a result of the equalization factor.

Livonia's assessed valuation of $332,825,470 has been equalized at $416,031,950.

Wayne county's total valuation has been set at $9,199,942,570 which is an increase over last year's figure by more than $1,261,000,000.

Fix Dates For 1966 Auto Show

The annual Detroit Auto Show will be held from Saturday, Nov. 26, through Sunday, Dec. 4, in Cobo Hall, it is announced by Boyce Tope, executive vice president of the Detroit Auto Dealers Association and Show Manager.

"We expect this 51st DADA show to be the biggest and best in our history," said Tope in announcing the dates.

"All the new 1967 models from U.S. manufacturers will be shown, along with import cars. The huge display will give the prospective car buyer and his family the chance to look and compare before making his choice."

In addition, said Tope, there will be cutaway models, engineering displays, show cars and special entertainment features to appeal to the whole family.

The DADA Auto Show moved to Cobo Hall last year after several years in the Detroit Artillery Armory.

Too many dollars in the wrong man's pocket soon crowds out the sense in his head.

Farmington Garden Club members donned hiking clothes for the May 2 meeting. They assembled at the Conservation Headquarters in the Proud Lake Recreation Area on Wixom Road at 10:30 a.m. to hike through the woods. "Lefty" Thornton conducted the tour and members took picnic lunches.

In case of inclement weather, the group plans to meet at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mahlon Bradley, 33926 Oakland Avenue in Farmington.

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt Women's Editor

Kings and Queens had vied with each other for the privilege of visiting there. The great and famous of the world had been honored by an invitation and they had come from near and far. There was always an air of mystery about the mansion and its occupants. Story after story had circulated the rounds but no one was ever really sure.

Newspaper people were utterly veriphoten and armed guards patrolled the grounds. To everyone's knowledge, no member of the press had ever been inside its boundaries.

You round a turn in the woods and unexpectedly Fair Lane stands before you. You are immediately struck by the fact that it is in the style of an Italian villa. The Fords were so unmistakably American and simple in their tastes that the duplication of an Italian noble's home at first seems incongruous. But you observe at once the wisdom of their choice. The style lends itself to wide porches which surround the house and afford a view of the magnificent sweeping lawns and gardens which form the setting.

Monday, April 25, unbelievably, the Observer dined in the very dining room of the fabled Fair Lane. The Women of Fair Lane were giving a luncheon to introduce their "Evening in Romany."

The Women of Fair Lane are doing a magnificent job of restoring the mansion and making a visit through it a memorable experience.

Their touch is everywhere as you cross the rolling lawns and enter the great hall with its gorgeous hand carved paneling. All the rooms give an impression of light and air.

Today, more than ever people are evidencing an interest in the home where the richest man in the world once lived. The Fords, despite their great wealth were not people who merely used their home in between trips or as a place to entertain lavishly. They were ruled by a deep love of family and you still sense the memory of a warm, happy, family life in the atmosphere.

In the dining room, the casement windows open on the gardens. Clara Ford, whose benign countenance looks down from an oil painting would have been very proud of the appearance of the dining room.

In tribute to Jocelyn Kreiger and her gypsy orchestra, the tables were centered with violins which had been constructed of paper-mache and were filled with enormous sunshine-centered daisies.

After luncheon, Jocelyn gave an interesting view of gypsy life. She and her orchestra will present their music for an "Evening in Romany" on Sunday, May 22. The English and Blue Gardens will be on display and there will be performances at 7:30 and at 10 p.m.

Jocelyn, a beautiful woman with a sparkling manner is the wife of Byron Kreiger, an Olympic fencer. She has the distinction of being the only woman leader of a gypsy orchestra in the country. Although not a gypsy by birth she has been adopted by the tribe and it is her desire to bring about a revival of the true gypsy music.

She gave a fascinating glimpse of Romany life as she explained the customs of the people. Their race is Gypsy, but they are musician gypsies, not travelers or fortune tellers.

The gypsy musician adopts the music of the country of his ancestors. However, he is proud to keep his gypsy heritage.

A gypsy keeps his own song throughout his life. Whenever his friends hear it, they know the gypsy is experiencing a moment of deep feeling. At his death, his friends gather at his grave to play his favorite song.

It will be a true gypsy evening at Fair Lane. As it is impossible to program the music the concert will consist of music from around the world, performed mostly impromptu by the gypsies led by the emotion of the violins and the cymbalon. NEVER AGAIN will the music be heard played exactly as it is that evening.

If the thought of gypsies at Fair Lane seems unusual, Mrs. Reid Watson, one of the members of the Executive Board of the Women of Fair Lane reminded the audience that the cymbalon, was the favorite instrument of Henry Ford.

Sometimes, in death a person accomplishes the goal toward which they have constantly striven in life. The gentle Edsel always wished to share moments of music and culture with everyone. Maybe somewhere, Sunday evening, he will be enjoying the lovely "Evening in Romany" along with everyone else.

Handicapped Handcraft In Wonderland Civic Rm.

There will be a show and sale of hand-wrought jewelry, toys, of handcraft articles that are made by Michigan's disabled homebound persons under the direction of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Department of Education Thursday, May 19 through Sunday, May 22, in the Civic Room of Wonderland Shopping Center.

These disabled persons produce quality handcraft items in their homes and training institutions in a craft which is offered in line with the person's interest and abilities. Some of the items the persons make are hand knits, loomed weaving, hand-painted china, and many various saleable items.

Persons on the program range in age from 16 to 75 and represent all areas of the State. Approximately 350 handicapped persons are on the program at the present and about 200 are producing quality items. The 150 are still in some phase of training, about one-third of these are in the Detroit Wayne County area. Ninety per cent of the sale price of an item is returned to the producer, the other 10 per cent is deducted for handling, breakage, etc.

MR. AND MRS. DALE BROWN

Lantzer-Brown Take Vows In Candlelight Ceremony

Gloria Jean Lantzer became the bride of Dale Richard Brown recently in a candlelight ceremony at the Riverside Park Church of God in Livonia. Rev. Clifford Thor performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lantzer, 10875 Farmington Rd., in Livonia.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, 36049 Plymouth Rd., in Livonia.

The bride wore a floor length gown of lace studded with pearls and rhinestones, with a detachable train. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Karen Sheffer, matron of honor wore a floor length, light blue gown with navy blue accessories. Dark blue carnations formed her bouquet. Georgette Poster and Julie Czajkowski, bridesmaids wore similar gowns with light blue accessories.

Nancy Anderson, flower girl wore a pink dress with a matching pink carnation bouquet. Leon Sheffer was the best man. Harry Crawford and Gary Brown (brother of the groom) seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore an aqua dress with a lace top. The groom's mother wore an identical dress of light blue. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception for over 200 guests was held at the Church Fellowship Hall.

The future home of the newlyweds will be in Livonia.

Our Queen of Hearts Urges 'Time To Start Herb Gardens!'

By Faith Gillespie

There is an old song that goes, "A farmer's life is a very merry life, but not for me, no not for me."

I don't know how you feel about it, but it's definitely not for me.

First of all, I sunburn. I really parboil. Instant scorch. Then I get hay fever, a thing no self-respecting farmer could allow.

And as for rising with the sun, I'm so useless at dawn that you might as well line me up against the proverbial wall and shoot me.

But about this time of year I dig out my gardening basket from under the crepe-paper jack-o-lantern and the cardboard turkey and the Christmas tree balls and the heart-shaped candy box.

Maybe you have a cupboard like that, or maybe you know exactly where you stored your trowel last fall, or maybe you need to buy some garden equipment. If this is all the farming you're going to do, don't invest too much. Some years I never have been able to unearth my garden tools, and I can manage with a new handfork, a small trowel, and an old soup spoon.

What we are aiming toward here is herbs. If you really want to feel like a Queen of Hearts, do grow some few fresh herbs for your kitchen. It is very easy, even if your thumb is utterly lacking in green. It takes very little time, and it is a thrifty thing to do, because it will afford you seasonings all summer, and most herbs can be dried for winter use.

Believe me, they will be superior in flavor and bouquet to any fancy bottled pretty-penny spices you can buy.

Let me say that some plant-type seasonings are better bought. Garlic is difficult to grow here, bottled tarragon vinegar is better than home made efforts usually produce, and sage is sage all day, no matter where it comes from.

Then there are herbs that are easier to buy already planted. If you want to do this thing the easy way, go to the nearest garden supply place and pick out three lovely potted herbs: chives, parsley, and basil.

Find a place back of the garage or somewhere there is sun most of the day. Dig a hole, pour a shot of water in, and stick in the plant. Firm the soil, and you're in the farming business. Just water periodically and keep the rabbits (and children and dogs and water meter readers) from nibbling and digging and trampling things.

If you want to do the job from scratch, however, the chive, basil and parsley can be started from seed, though parsley seems to take forever to germinate. Buy the packet of assorted herbs, or choose several that appeal to you; summer savory, sweet marjoram, dill, mint, lavender, thyme, rosemary, chervil, anise, all these may be grown from seed in this climate.

Some people plant borage, which gets kind of a nice flower, but I haven't found any good things to do with it.

You may plant in small peat pots bought at the nursery, or be economical: save your egg shells in neat halves, set them into an empty egg carton, fill them with good garden soil, and plant a few seeds of a kind in each, to the depth recommended on the seed package. Water and put on your window sill, keeping damp till the sprouts are sprouting.

When the seedlings are an inch tall, thin to one in each shell. Pick the biggest, strongest one, and love it along until Memorial Day, when you can plant it outside. This won't qualify you for Department of Agriculture farm subsidy, or the soil bank, but it is otherwise rewarding.

JUDITH HOLLIDAY

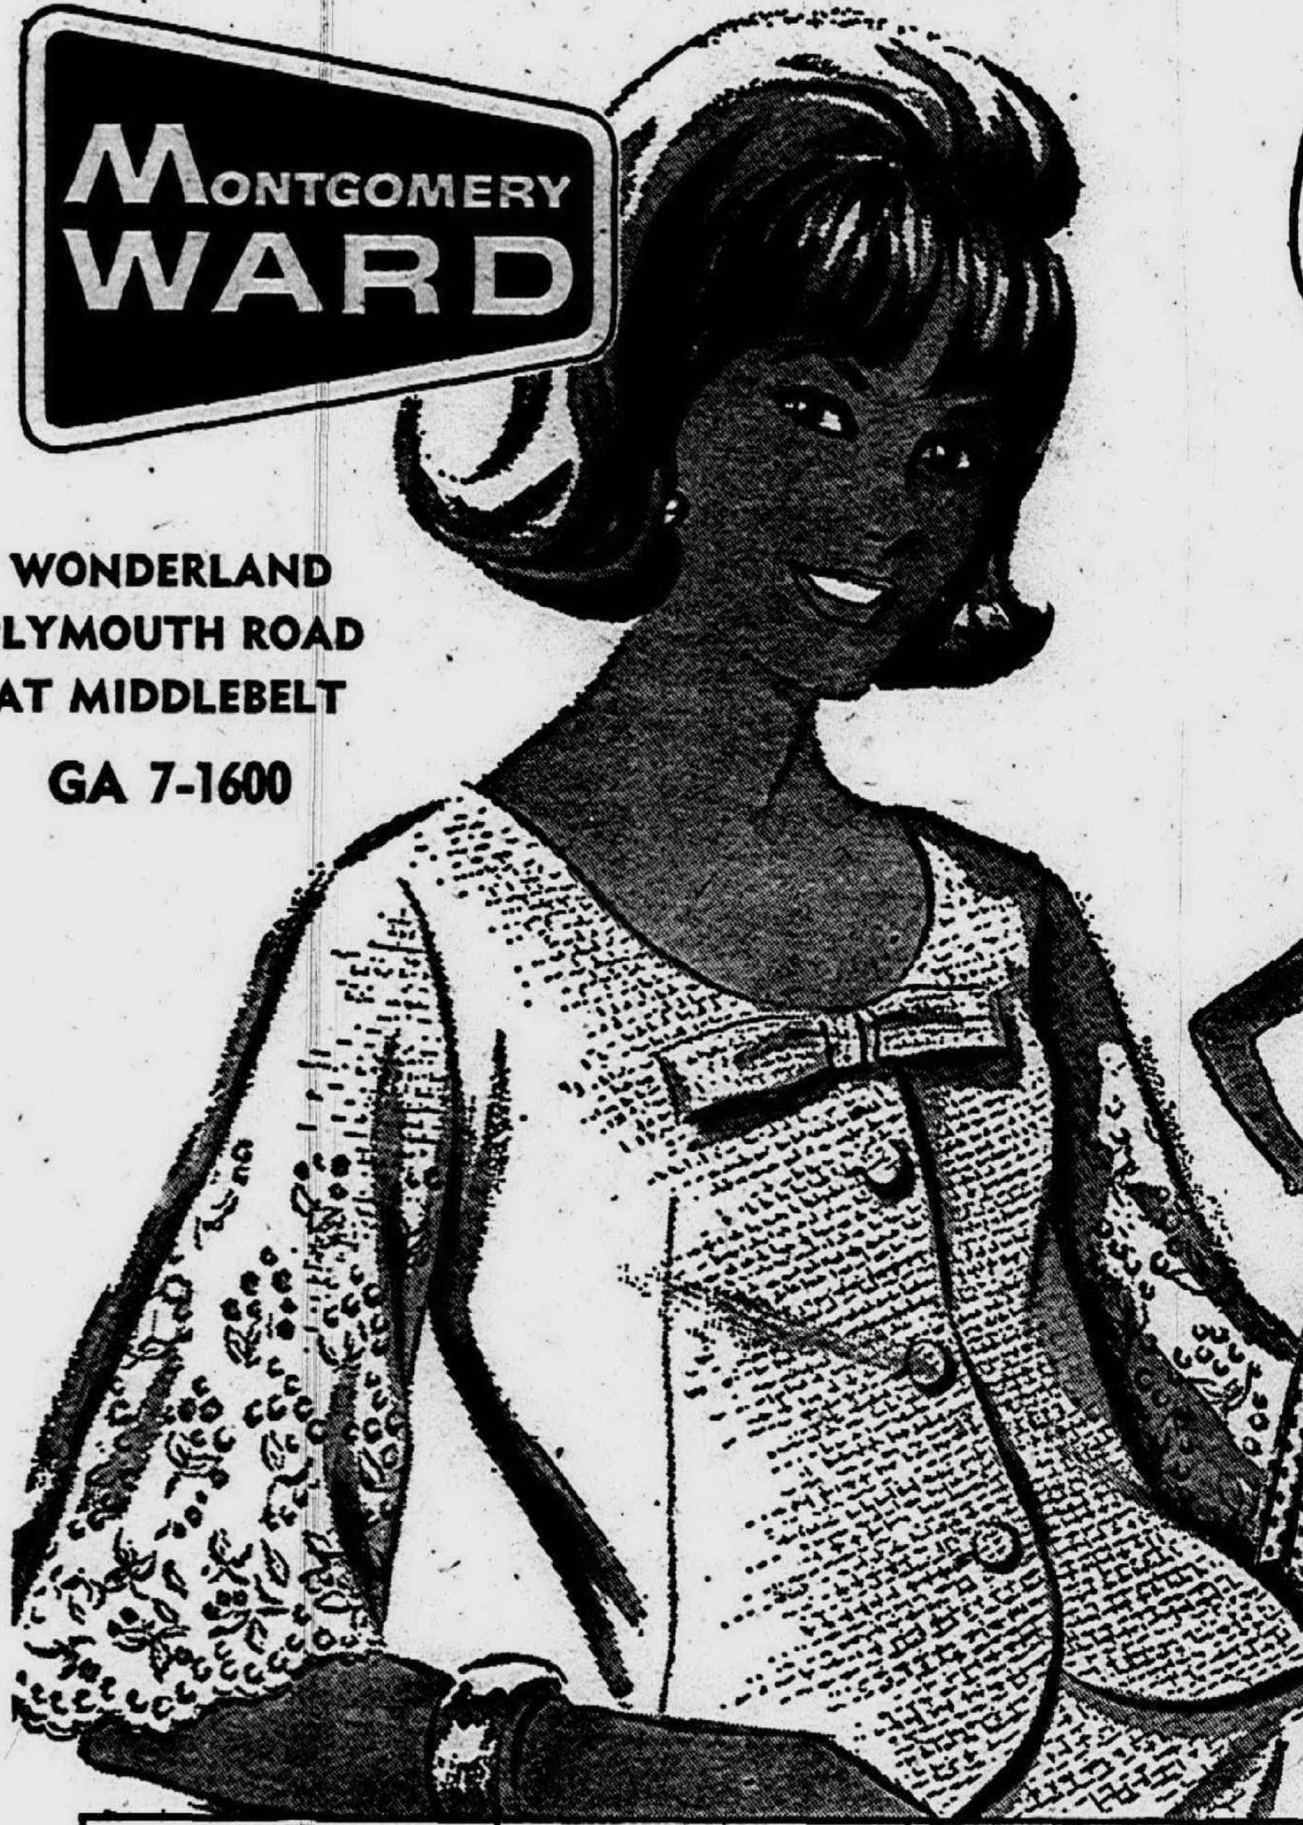

Mr. and Mrs. Welburn Holliday, 20283 Melrose, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith Ann, to James Joseph Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kenny, Orchard Lake Road, Farmington. # Detroit Edison Company Begins Search for "King of the Patio"

The Detroit Edison Company has launched the search for the "King of the Patio" in the second annual contest for men who enjoy the art of outdoor cooking.

The first prize for the "King of the Patio" is an Electric Char-Grill Porta-Kart, which can be used outdoors or indoors and includes all fuel line extensions and attachments.

The contest is open to males 18 years of age and over who reside in Southeastern Michigan. All a contestant needs to do is send in favorite Patio Recipe to the Electric Living Division, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226. Entries must include name, address and telephone number.

The deadline for entries is midnight June 5. Professional chefs, cooks, Edison employees and members of their immediate families are not eligible.

Judges will select 10 finalists from the most interesting and promising recipes. The talented ten will then compete in the cook-off for "King of the Patio" honors and other awards on Wednesday, June 15. All finalists must be available to compete in the cook-off.

Marion Ryan, electric living director, feels it's best not to depend on Mr. Weatherman for ideal conditions for an outdoor cook-off, so she and her staff will convert the Edison Sales Auditorium into an outdoor patio setting.

Miss Ryan and her staff will provide the groceries and cooking equipment for each finalist. There will be an assortment of electric broilers, ovens, rotisseries, and grills for the finalists to use.

Second prize will be a Patio Table complete with table service for eight and an Electric Rotisserie-Broiler.

Third prize will be an Open-Hearth Broiler-Rotisserie complete with a shish kebab attachment.

Plymouth Newcomers Club Plan Spring Dinner-Dance May 21

Plymouth Newcomers report that the Spring Dinner Dance is fast approaching and plans are under way to make this last evening social event a night to remember. They remind you to be sure and circle the date on your calendars — arrange for your sitters and get ready for an evening of fun.

Forget your cares and board the "Beverly Boat Newcomer," pier number 15380 Golfview (on Five Mile Rd., just east of Levan Road.)

The captain (Irene McKelvey) and her able crew have made arrangements for you to "sail away" for a romantic and nostalgic evening.

The Captain's cocktail hour is from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. followed by a delicious buffet dinner which will be served aboard ship. Cuisine will include Swedish meat balls, ham, chicken, potato salad, baked beans, jello molds, tossed salad, etc. Later there will be dancing to the romantic melodies of Frank Sidney and his orchestra.

Purser Mildred Ferrari has her reservation clerks ready to arrange your reservation. "Cruise" tickets will not be sold or reservations accepted after 6 p.m. Wednesday, May 18. — So get yours in early!

Reservation clerks are: Beverly Johnston, 9002 Morrison (Joy Road), 463-4665. Lee Scholtenberger, 14956 Maplewood (Lake Pointe), 453-2194.

MRS. JOHN DAVID LARUE

Briggs-LaRue Vows Said

Brooke Kathryn Briggs became the bride of John David LaRue recently in an afternoon ceremony at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Detroit. The bride wore a white peau de soie gown appliqued with lace. It was floor length, had a short train, and the bride held her elbow length veil in place by a crown.

CATHERINE HAMILTON

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John LaRue, 9810 Blackburn, Livonia. The bride wore a white peau de soie gown appliqued with lace. It was floor length, had a short train, and the bride held her elbow length veil in place by a crown. The matron of honor wore an empire gown of royal blue silk with a powder blue skirt. The maid of honor and the bridesmaid wore empire gowns of powder blue with white silk shantung tops. Gary Barton was best man, and Michael LaRue, John Choate, Robert E. Briggs, and Charles E. Haxter seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a shell pink silk suit with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a blue silk with matching accessories. Following the ceremony there was a reception for over 150 guests in the church parlors. The newly married Mrs. LaRue wore a yellow wool suit with matching accessories for her trip to Northern Michigan. The bride graduated from Bloomfield Country Day School and attended University of Michigan. The groom graduated from Franklin High and attended Michigan State University. They will make their future home in Augusta, Georgia.

She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and in addition to her music is interested in German and has sung with Der Deutsche Singkreis, a German Madrigal group at the University. Prior, a History teacher at Farmington High School in the Federally supported Title I program was graduated from high school in Rochester and took his college work at Western Michigan University. Both Miss Hamilton and Prior plan to continue their studies at the University of Michigan this summer. They will be married June 18 at the Milford Presbyterian Church in Milford.

Farmington Club Awards Scholarships

Women's Civic Club of Farmington held its annual card party at the home of Mrs. R. Wellbaum on Robinwood Ave. Along with the many colorful table favors, bright red geranium plants decorated the tables. The plants served as the table prizes for the players. Proceeds from the party are to be given as scholarships to the three Farmington High Schools, for three deserving students who will attend Oakland Community College.

Rummage sale sponsored by the Associates of Michigan Christian College May 6 and 7 from 9 to 4 p.m. Wheeler Street Station, Grand River and Middlebelt.

MRS. JOSEPH MURREY, corresponding secretary of the Redford Township Garden Club, is pictured with the terrarium she arranged and placed for viewing at the Redford Township Library.

Appointment Not Always Necessary—Open Evenings

THE FOURTH ANNUAL Evening Gala on the American Field Service brought forth 550 friends from all areas of Farmington Township and city. The Dinner Dance was held at the Armenian Cultural Center. During intermission brief talks were given by two exchange students, Monica Raffaelli from Argentina and Erwin Furlan from Guatemala and by Bonnie Britton, the American Abroad student to Brazil last summer. Intermission entertainment was vocal numbers by former Broadway stars George Britton and his wife Kay Clark Britton. One table representing the City of Farmington included (l-r) Mrs. Arthur Schulze, Arthur Schulze, John Watzke, Mr. and Mrs. Steele Cox (Mrs. Cox is the AFS Chapter President at Farmington High), Walter Line, Mrs. John Watzke, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Verbanic.

Life and Auto Insurance Topic for Nankin Mills Extension Group

The Nankin Mills Cooperative Extension Group met at the home of President Mrs. Frank Schips Sr., Garden City.

The Leaders teaching the Lesson about Life and Auto Insurance were Mrs. Forest Odell and Mrs. Clyde Love. They informed members there are four basic types of life insurance: straight life, limited payment life, term and endowment plus several combination policies.

Straight life provides permanent protection and cost less annually because the premiums are stretched over the policy holder's life time. Limited payment life concentrates premium payments within a certain period, usually when one is apt to have his highest earnings.

Term insurance has the lowest premiums but offers protection only for the stated term of the policy, usually can be renewed but at a higher premium. Endowments emphasize the steady building up of a specific amount of savings for a given number of years. Combination policies incorporate the features of several policies for specific purposes.

Auto insurance was also discussed and illustrated with visual signs. Insurance was defined as the pooling of money by many people to protect themselves from the risk of high financial losses.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ignatius Dziedzic at 29933 John Hawk. The Lesson Topic will be "Mich. History and foods."

Another Leader Training Lesson, a repeat of the previous lesson on Life and Auto Insurance will be held Tuesday, May 3 at the Federal Dept. store, 22625 Ecorse, Taylor from 10 a.m. noon. The meeting is open to the public.

Sorority Holds 35th Anniversary

The Plymouth Chapter Eta Psi of Beta Sigma Phi celebrated the 35th anniversary of the organization's founding on April 27 at Hillside Inn where their banquet was held.

Eight new members received their Ritual of Jewel's Degree before the banquet. They are Mrs. John Golden, 647 Thayer, Northville; Mrs. Harold Dode, 527 Lee, Milan; Judith Epling, 1397 Sheridan, Plymouth; Mrs. Tomas Klucka, 607 S. Evergreen, Plymouth; Mrs. Norbert Szczodrowski, 7388 Middlebelt, Garden City; and Mrs. Alan Wakenhut, 620 Horton, Northville.

The program also included the installation of new officers for the 66-67 year. They are Mrs. J. D. Arnold, Livonia, (president); Mrs. Ranson Hennells, Plymouth, vice-president; Mrs. Ted Thrasher, Plymouth, treasurer; and Mrs. Lee Lemmon, Plymouth, secretary.

Redford D.A.R. To Hold Final Meeting

The members of John Sackett Chapter of Redford, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold their final meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. William Hendry, 2574 Comfort Drive, Walnut Lake, Birmingham, on May 14, with Mrs. Urbin Suttin as co-hostess. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

The annual business meeting will follow the regular monthly meeting. At this time, Mrs. Joseph Hale and Mrs. William Hendry, delegate and alternate to the 75th Continental Congress held in Washington, D.C. April 18-22, will give the reports of the Congress, and all annual reports of Officers and Committee Chairmen will be handed in.

After the annual meeting, the officers for the year 1966-1967 will be installed as follows:

Regent, Mrs. Russell Millard; George Nunn; Corresponding Vice-Regent, Mrs. John Rumpel; Secretary, Mrs. Urbin Suttin; Chaplain, Mrs. John Goodpas; Treasurer, Mrs. Robert Sleg-ture; Recording Secretary, Mrs. mund.

What is A Mother?

To her family, she's special.

She's understanding,

a banquet chef, a short order cook,

a fountain of love, a chauffeur, warmth and security.

She's clean socks, starched dresses,

a mender of hurts.

She's scrubbed ears,

a tender nurse, a maid, a queen.

She deserves a day of honor and tribute.

She deserves the love of those she loves.

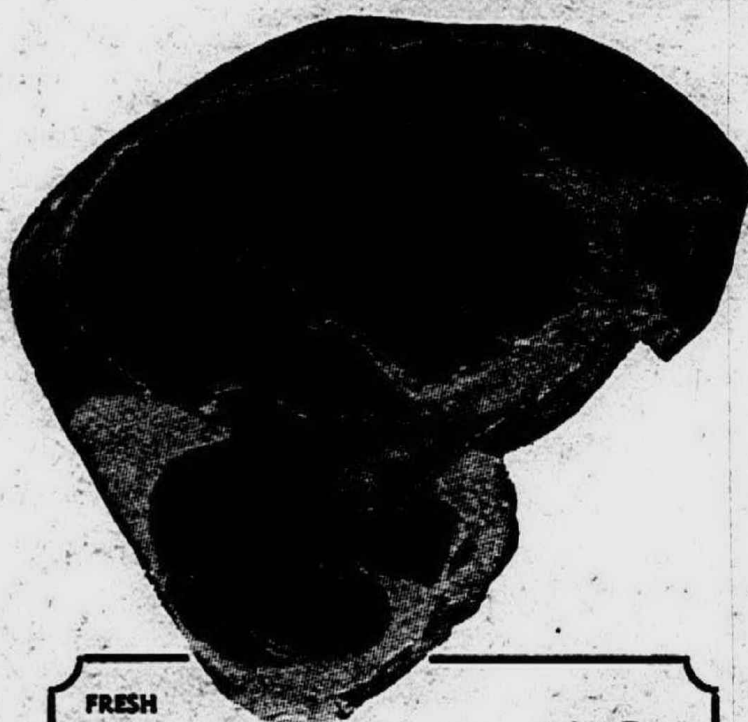

Yes, she's very, very special.

This Sunday, you'll tell your mother how much you care.

We'd like to tell all mothers, "We Care, too."

Theatre Guild Final Production Opens This Weekend

Fireworks explode in the Sycamore basement and the explosive antics of the merry mad Sycamores will burst all over their living room and the Franklin High School Auditorium when the Livonia Redford Theatre Guild production of "You Can't Take It With You" hits the boards. Performances are scheduled for May 5 and 6. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

The title refers to the sentiments of Grandpa Vanderhof who believes that everybody should relax and do whatever he wants, since "we can't take it with us." Jim Wotring appears as Grandpa Vanderhof, the most rugged individualist who can't be bothered with items such as filing income tax returns.

Others of the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild appearing in the cast include: Shirley Hulet as Penelope, who started writing plays when a typewriter was delivered by mistake; Bob Agevine and Bill Barish in the roles of Paul and his friend, Mr. dePenna, who manufacture fireworks in the cellar; Lindy Van as Eselle, who has been studying ballet in the living room for the past eight years.

Dewline

By JOHN DEW

There are two growing trends which, if they continue at their present rate, may well change the complexion of the radio industry drastically. The first is the increasing interest and fantastic growth of in-car stereo tape units. Ford Motor Company was the first to introduce them as optional equipment, although they have been available as options for several years through smaller, auto-sound specialty shops.

The advantages of the tape installation mainly lie in the fact that a fantastic stereo effect and quality of sound is produced with near-perfect separation since anyone seated anywhere in the car is immediately placed between the speakers which are located in the doors. Most albums are now available for purchase on the tape-cartridge, thus allowing a wide choice of music and material which is uninterrupted by commercials, bad signals and other interference.

One estimate has it that more than a million units will be in cars by the end of the year and the trend is really only in its embryo stage at this point since the vast majority of sales come as a person to person sale, that is, by having the sound heard by someone from someone else who already has a unit. The snowballing effect should catch hold with the new models as all major auto-makers will have the units available as options next year.

Radio, which depends for a large share of its audience on the mobile listener may then be faced soon with the fact that a large portion of its audience has deserted to the world of the tape cartridge. What effect that will have on the advertising revenue which is already shrinking on a national scale is undetermined at this point, but it is giving radio execs cause to add another tranquilizer to their daily diet.

The second factor is somewhat more directly involved with the programming policies and approaches. For many years now stations around the country have appealed to listeners by using a direct contact via the telephone. This has taken many forms, some have in fact found a successful road to ratings paved with an all-talk format.

The latest innovation now comes from the west coast where several major stations in and around the Los Angeles market have opened their programming strictly to the desires of the phone audience. Listeners are invited to call the station at any time and ask for whatever record they may wish to hear. The response and the rating shares have been phenomenal.

One station claims it has handled 65,000 calls in one week which stretches the limits of credibility to the breaking point. The point is, however, that the formula of an all-request station has proved so effective in the coast area that many others around the country will undoubtedly copy the same approach in the tradition of follow the leader that plagues the entire entertainment industry.

Best assured that sometime in the near future someone in this area will introduce an "all-new, original policy—all-request

Contest Closing

There are only a few days left to register for the Mother's Day Contest at the Terrace Theatre in Livonia before it closes Friday, May 6. To enter simply complete in 25 words or less the statement "My Mom deserves to be Mother of the Year because..." and mail it to the Terrace, Plymouth Rd., Livonia.

Prizes include a wardrobe from Ward's Wonderland; a family dinner at Taylor's Towne House; chauffeured transportation from B. J. Rattigan Chrysler; and a cottage for the lady of the house.

Completes Training Marine Pvt. Gary K. Beasley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Beasley, 36411 JoAnne, Livonia, has completed individual combat training with the Marines in Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Men who deceive themselves are easy marks for the deceiver.

Nankin Mills Players Slate 'Where's Charlie'

Where is "Charlie"? The Nankin Mills Players want to know what happened to him.

Anyone having any information is requested to be at the Franklin High School Auditorium in Livonia at 8:30 p.m., May 20 or 21, when the Players stage "Goodbye Charlie."

Jean Daniels, a veteran of several Player's shows, is the director, while her husband, Ken Daniels, is producing. Tickets may be obtained by calling 427-9091.

UP'
GOING
'CURTAIN

Like "The Amorous Flea" mentioned in last week's column old Wally hopped quickly into his pastel blue Fairlane 500 and jumped over to New York City where his second theatrical port-o-call awaited his critical eye.

"The Persecution and Assassination of Marat as Performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton under the direction of The Marquis De Sade." at the Martin Beck Theater was next to be reviewed. The title of this play is undoubtedly the world's longest. Even surpasses the "Oh, Dad, Poor Dad" of several seasons ago. Incidentally, the U of D will be repeating "Oh Dad" on their summer bill.

"Marat-Sade" is the accepted short version of the title. Peter Weiss, the brilliant German playwright, could care less how you truncate the title. He is mainly interested in people viewing his historical polemic. At 48 years of age, Weiss has suddenly appeared on the world scene as a major playwright with powerful political implications to his provocative lines.

You can't sit through "Marat-Sade" and not be disturbed. The insane inmates on stage soon lose their grotesqueness and become almost normal as they spout Weiss' electrically-charged lines. Though the play is set in the year 1804 you have the uncomfortable feeling that 1966 and our society is being analyzed. Our participation in Viet Nam, the need for radical changes in our tradition-bound society, the place of the individual versus the massive tentacles of the faceless corporations, the utter cruelty and senseless nature of any War at any time — these timeless questions are examined in

"Marat-Sade."

No answers and solutions were given. The Marquis De Sade in the play thought his highly individualistic approach was right. Paul Marat, the French revolutionary thought his extremely intellectual approach was correct. Charlotte Corday thought her violent, murderous action (she stabs Marat) was proper and was the solution. Each of us do have our own answers to world problems, local issues, and personal difficulties. Maybe this is all one should get out of "Marat-Sade."

Peter Brooks, one of England's top directors, staged this production so that you were caught up in the rush and flow of frantic action on stage. The actors and actresses exhaust themselves as they literally throw themselves into their roles.

There is no half-way approach for the actors in doing "Marat-Sade". You live the parts and the audience soon disappears. You exist with the inmates up on stage.

In fact, when the play has ended, you almost feel relieved that you can escape the trauma and tension you've been subjected to.

Many members of the audience at the Martin Beck resented this play. It forced them to think and wonder about our traditional mores of society. Many were only there simply because suddenly "Marat-Sade" had developed into a "hot ticket" show. And it did have a nude man prancing about the stage, too.

All the gimmicks of the production fade when one leans back and thinks a second time about the tremendous quality of its writing. Peter Weiss is a playwright to watch and regard respectfully. A few more of his plays and who knows maybe society will wake up and do something worthwhile. We may yet discover our full potential before the blast of the hydrogen bombs.

Alvina Krause, artistic director of the Harper Theater in Chicago, has the Midwest rights to "Marat-Sade". If and when she announces production dates, I'll let all of you know. A drive to Chicago to catch this provocative play is a "must." As Mildred, my severest critic and wife said "I'd like to see that play a second time, there was a lot in it to think about." For once old Wally agrees with the distaff side.

Ecumenical Evening with John Courtney Murrays' a Huge Success

Area residents turned out Sunday night for what was billed as an "Ecumenical Evening with John Courtney Murray." In fact, they filled the auditorium at Southfield High School.

And an ecumenical evening it was. On the speakers platform, in addition to Fr. Murray, sat: Rev. George Ramsey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington; Rev. Robert Eddy, pastor of the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington; Rabbi Milton Rosenbaum of Temple Emmanuel in Oak Park; Rev. Joseph Pelham, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church in Farmington; and Fr. Joseph F. Ryder, pastor of St. Alexander's Roman Catholic Church in Farmington.

In the audience sat a mixture of clergy, Catholic religious, and laymen—both Catholic and Protestant.

They heard a description of the recent Ecumenical Council's Declaration on Religious Liberty. "This is the first time that the principle of religious liberty being a human right has been confirmed in a document of the Catholic Church," he said. "The declaration is significant because it incorporates a principle of free society and especially of American Society."

Fr. Murray, who served as a consultant to the Vatican II Ecumenical Council and helped to draft the declaration, noted that much of the document was drawn from and similar to the first amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

"Theologically," the Jesuit added, "the declaration is the first time that it has been publicly announced that all the Catholic Church wants in a civil society is that which she claims for others, freedom."

"The church does not ask for an establishment of the church in the state," he said and noted that this concept "is regulated to its place in history and is not a part of Catholic doctrine" in the declaration.

He termed the declaration as "nothing more than updating the church and bringing its doctrine up to step with what has long been accepted by society."

Fr. Murray added that the acceptance of the declaration by the Council was absolutely necessary because it was an "essential element" in the work of the Council, namely Renewal, Reform and Dialogue.

"If this declaration had not passed," he asserted, "the Council would not have been faithful to its message to humanity when it opened that it would be concerned with the great dignity of man and the community of peoples throughout the world."

"This is more of a beginning than an end," he noted. Fr. Murray added that today there are many threats to freedom in the world and the document opens the whole problem of Christian freedom as such. He said that he thought the time would come when representatives of the Catholic Church and the World Council of Churches would jointly draft and issue a statement on the Christian principle of religious freedom.

In answer to a question about what stand the declaration takes in relation to the controversy of aid to religious education Fr. Murray asserted that "I don't think what the declaration says and what the American constitution holds is in any manner of direct conflict."

"The American government takes account of the religious life of its people in a variety of ways," he noted and added that "the problem comes with the phrase separation of church and state and how to show it favor."

"The declaration does not say how the government should favor to religion, just that government should do this," Fr. Murray pointed out that no stand was taken by the Council on the question of government aid to religious education, because of the fact that this is dealt with in a variety of different ways in different parts of the world.

He noted that aid to religious education is given in many countries, while in many other countries of the world such assistance is refused. The evening was sponsored by St. Alexander's Church in Farmington as a part of its fifth anniversary celebration.

Man's Nature To Be May 8 Topic for Science Churches

Spiritual versus materialistic views of man's nature will be explored at Christian Science church services this Sunday in a Bible Lesson on "Adam and Fallen Man."

In addition to passages from the opening chapters of Genesis, Bible readings will present the account of Jesus raising Lazarus from the grave, and these lines from Ephesians and Isaiah: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light... Shake thyself from the dust." Interpretive statements to be read from the Christian Science textbook will include these: "This awakening is the forever coming of Christ, the advanced appearing of Truth, which casts out error and heals the sick... When we wake to the truth of being, all disease, pain, weakness, weariness, sorrow, sin, death, will be unknown, and the mortal dream will forever cease." ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

How about the high cost of packaging? $8 billion last year to package our food products. That amounts to about $65 for each of us.

Livonia Church Women To Observe May Fellowship Day on May 13

Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church Presents 'Fine Arts Happenings' May 14-15

WOULD YOU BELIEVE... What's happening at Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church?

How about four madrigal groups, three triple trios, five instrumental ensembles, a chamber choir, 150 paintings, handbells, a trumpet concerto, a modern dance group—all "happening" within two days at a church?

Rosedale Presbyterian announces a unique adventure in the fine arts on Saturday, May 14, from 7 to 10 p.m. and Sunday, May 15 from 3 to 7 p.m. The church will be the scene where modern dance, music, and the graphic arts will meet for a two day engagement. The full facilities of the church will exhibit some of the exciting happenings in the fine arts in our community.

To make this truly a community affair, and to encourage the arts in several forms, Bentley, Franklin, Ladywood, and Stevenson High Schools, and Madonna and Schoolcraft Colleges will provide original art work and vocal and instrumental groups.

In addition to school art work and vocal and instrumental groups.

In addition to school art work will be the work of the community YWCA painting and drawing class and the work of several local artists. The art show will be continuous while the instrumental and vocal ensembles will be interspersed throughout the two day show.

On Sunday, May 15, at 4 p.m., several talented soloists will be presented in recital in the sanctuary. Soloists include: Judith Culler, viola; Benny Moon, trumpet; Pam Haltom and Mary Begian, flute. A special guest group, The Dearborn Chamber Chorus, directed by Tom Aquino, will participate in the recital, as well as sing at the art show following the recital.

No admission charge will be made to any of these "happenings." Refreshments baked by Interlochen's baker, Dave Culler, will be available continuously.

United Church Women To Hold 37th Annual Assembly May 11, 12, 13

United Church Women of Michigan will hold their 37th Annual Assembly and Training Session May 11, 12, and 13 at the Presbyterian Church in Cadillac. The theme for this year is "Laity in Mission, Preparation for Involvement." This program will include many fine speakers that will be of interest to all church women as well as a training time for local council officers.

Registration will be accepted until noon Wednesday at the Presbyterian Church, East Harris at Simon Street.

LJC To Launch Membership Drive

The Livonia Jewish Congregation, on Six Mile Road near Middlebelt Road, is launching a membership drive under the direction of Howard Bock, 29520 Mark Lane, Livonia, membership chairman.

Organized in 1958, LJC has recently moved into its new building and is in the process of engaging a rabbi. These expanded facilities will permit the expansion of membership. As the only conservative congregation serving the western suburbs of metropolitan Detroit, LJC holds regular Friday evening services. It also has an active Sisterhood, Men's Club, Youth Group and Sunday School.

Plymouth Church To Hold Tea May 5

First Baptist Church of Plymouth will hold a Mother and Daughter Tea, sponsored by the Woman's Mission Society and the Fellowship Guild on Thursday, May 5 at the church. A play entitled "This Time With Understanding" will be performed by the Fellowship Guild.

Ascension Day To Be Held May 19

Hosanna-Tabor Lutheran Church announces that Thursday, May 19 services will be held again this year at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Members are urged to come and worship Our Lord on his special day of Ascension. Because this is a festival in the Lord's Life, Holy Communion will be celebrated in both services.

Day School children will be dismissed from school immediately after the service. Weekday School children will come at the regular time for one session of classes. They will then attend church with their parents at 7:30 p.m.

Delegate Chosen

Rudy Lomatch has been chosen by the council to represent Timothy Lutheran Church of Livonia at the Michigan District Convention at St. John's Lutheran Church in Port Clinton, O. May 16, 17, and 18.

St. John Bosco News

Ladies, come in your most colorful shifts or Muu Muu to the Aloha-Hoalo-Ha card party on May 18 at 8 p.m. in the St. John Bosco Church Hall located at 12070 Beech Daly, Redford. For tickets call Mrs. Rita Horkey, KE 7-3827 or Mrs. Gail Phillips, KE 7-2196.

Mother-Daughter Breakfast will be held May 22 after the 9 a.m. Mass at St. John Bosco Church Hall. Pancakes and sausages will be served. For reservations call Mrs. Lou Andaloro, KE 7-5845.

St. Matthews to Hold Mother-Son Banquet

St. Matthews Church of Livonia is going to provide two things all boys love—food and dogs.

The Mother-son Banquet will be held on Friday, May 6 at 6:30 p.m. Mr. Wells will present a program on the training of dogs.

Tickets are limited. Reservations must be made this week. No cancellations after Tuesday, May 3. Call Irene Cutty for tickets, 474-5535.

Plymouth Church Women To Hold May Breakfast

The United Church Women of Plymouth will hold their annual May breakfast on Friday, May 6 in the First Methodist Church at 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Robert Willoughby, of Mt. Olivet Church in Dearborn as the principal speaker.

This year's theme is "Poverty and Plenty, Discover, Plan and Act."

Mrs. Walter Lake, of the First Baptist Church, will be the soloist accompanied by Mrs. Velma Searfoss.

Reservations may be made through the participating churches or by contacting Mrs. Sanford Burr at 453-0556.

Tickets will be handled by the Salvation Army; decorations by St. John's Episcopal Church; name tags by the Evangelical Lutheran Church; and the devotional by the Re-Organized Church of the Latter Day Saints. Publicity is in charge of members of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Blain Lytle, of the First Methodist Church, is president of the Council of United Church Women.

Come In!

The Mariannhill Fathers invite the public to an Open House at St. Bernard Minor Seminary on Sunday, May 8, from 1 until 5 p.m. The Seminary is located at 23601 Ann Arbor Trail (at Telegraph Road) in Dearborn Heights.

News Briefs From April 20 Annual Meeting of Girl Scouts

At the annual meeting of Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, six new members and four former members were elected to the board of directors.

New three year term members are: Mrs. Wilber Brucker, Jr., 76 Merriweather Road, Grosse Pointe; Dr. William McKee, Vice President, the Merrill-Palmer Institute; Mrs. Richard Meyer, 8521 Church Road, Grosse Ile; Mrs. Vernon Morris, 673 Washington Road, Grosse Pointe; Dr. Charles E. Stewart, Director, Teacher Education, Detroit Public Schools; and Mrs. W. A. Veinotte, 8539 Centralia, Dearborn Heights.

Re-elected to three year terms were: Mrs. Charles W. Pond, 32341 Barkley, Livonia; Mrs. William R. Vroman, of Detroit; Mrs. Dexter Ware, 15670 Meadowbrook, Redford Township; and Mrs. Walter Wright, of Detroit. Mrs. Donald Bray, Detroit, was elected to fill an unexpired two year term as secretary.

Board members were installed in a re-dedication ceremony conducted by Mrs. Robert Fleischer, of East Detroit, member of the national board, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., and a former president of the Metropolitan Detroit Council.

Special awards of recognition were presented to Mrs. F. Edward Mierau, Detroit, and Robert Kelly, naturalist at Stony Creek Park.

Mrs. Mierau received the Thanks Badge, highest adult award in Girl Scouting, for outstanding service for over 25 years in providing the Scouting program to handicapped girls. The Certificate of Appreciation was awarded to Kelly in recognition of "service to Girl Scouting in training and inspiring leaders in the out-of-doors program."

Mrs. Rene Charbonneau, camping chairman, announced that, with the final payment on over 850 acres of land, plans are progressing for the development of Camp Innisfree. The site, in Livingston county, near Howell, will be used year round for a variety of camping activities.

Development plans include winterized buildings, tent units, areas for large group camping, and primitive camping.

Mrs. J. K. Heuer, council cookie sale chairman, expressed appreciation to parents, leaders and Girl Scout friends in the community for a "million-and more" sale. The goal of one million boxes was exceeded by nearly 25,000. Proceeds from the sale will help finance the development of Camp Innisfree, provide special activities for 34,000 Girl Scouts, and finance approved programs not included in the Torch Drive allocation.

Cadettes of Troop 1183, Livonia, presented an original shawdograph relating good citizenship to Girl Scouting. The restoration of the Palmer home in Palmer park is a project reported by Cadettes of Troop 36 in Detroit.

In recognition of 50 years of continuous leadership of Girl

Scout Troop 5, Detroit, Miss Nettie Oglesby, was presented a "50" numeral to attach to her Girl Scout pin.

In her report to the membership, Mrs. William Wilson pointed out that there was an increase of 2,965 girl members in 1965 and that 12 per cent of the girls 7 to 17 years of age in Metropolitan Detroit are Girl Scouts. Over 62 per cent of the 34,000 Girl Scouts in the Metropolitan Detroit Council had a camping experience in 1965.

Home Movies - The Easy Way

Just a few years ago, people who didn't take home movies were pretty unenthusiastic about them. Home movies meant trouble. Then Kodak changed things.

When Kodak first introduced super 8 film and KODAK INSTAMATIC Movie Cameras, they made it possible for anyone to be a movie maker. But even more important, they made it simple to make movies that are real, lifelike entertainment. Now they've added a new camera to the line, the KODAK INSTAMATIC M5 Movie Camera.

The KODAK INSTAMATIC M5 Movie Camera handles all the fussy details of movie-making brilliantly. It loads with a drop-in film cartridge—in seconds—anywhere. There's no winding to bother with, no film flipping at midpoint to interrupt your movie-making. This camera handles the exposure settings and drives the film, while you view your movie scenes through the taking lens, seeing just what you're getting on super 8 film. Your new super 8 movies are bigger, brighter, sharper on the screen—that's why you'll need a super 8 projector to show them!

The INSTAMATIC M5 Movie Camera's f1.8 focussing zoom lens lets you zoom in for sharp close-ups. Or zoom back to wide angle to include more of the action. It's a camera that anyone can handle, yet it's capable of movies even the severest critic will admire. A lot of movie-making potential in a slim, easy-to-carry camera—that's the promise of this new super 8 movie camera from Kodak.

pace with increasing production requirements.

"We hope you will agree that the decision of the Ford Motor Company to build a manufacturing plant in your community and provide employment at the levels indicated will represent a significant benefit to the economy of the area through payroll, tax dollars, and local purchases.

"These are tangible benefits. We are happy with the decision to build a manufacturing plant in this area. It will be modern in every respect and I think that it will be a plant that you will regard as an asset to the community.

"Our decision to locate here was influenced by a number of factors. Certainly people and their attitudes are important considerations. To be sure—there are others, such as an adequate and stable workforce, good access roads, utilities, transportation, availability of land, and a favorable business climate.

"Another important consideration was the proximity of this new plant to our Ypsilanti Plant where we are currently building heaters and air conditioners. We hope that the majority of the men and women now building these units at Ypsilanti will accept our offer to transfer to this location.

"Many of them live in this area, and the reasonable proximity of this community to Ypsilanti will minimize the inconvenience of relocation.

"Apart from the tangible economic benefits to the area's economy, we intend to demonstrate a genuine interest in the activities of the community. We will establish a Community Relations Committee to represent Ford Motor Company in this area, and will actively participate in community projects. We shall work hard to be a good corporate citizen of this community.

"Ford Motor Company is appreciative of your cooperation and of the official welcome that you have expressed and demonstrated, and for your expression of good wishes. We are looking forward to a long and mutually beneficial association with the City and Township of Plymouth and all of its people."

Talk of Incinerator

running out of places to dispose of our rubbish and garbage."

City Manager Blodgett told of talks with Livonia officials where plans are underway for the construction of an incinerator.

"The City already has gone on record as favoring looking into the Livonia project," pointed out Commissioner George Hudson.

This brought a comment by Vallier that as far as he knew no action had been taken by the other communities represented at the meeting.

At which point, Plymouth Township Supervisor McEwen said his board is on record in favor of an incinerator study.

Mayor Mike Allen, of Northville, stated Northville was in favor but had not been invited to the last meeting in Livonia for discussion of the proposed incinerator.

"We need more than to just go on record," quipped Commissioner McKeon. "We must pursue this proposition to attain results."

On a motion of Commissioner Hudson, it was decided that the five communities represented should appoint representatives to a committee that would approach Livonia to determine whether the communities want to join in an incinerator.

On Monday night, the Plymouth Commission appointed Commissioner Jabara and the City Manager to represent it at all future incinerator talks.

The touchy question of police protection was next on the agenda and brought considerable discussion from all groups.

Township Supervisor McEwen pointed out that the police problem presents even more questions since there are four different types of government in the five communities. He questioned the legality of an area Police Authority.

Blodgett indicated there could be question of law enforcement in the communities, such as where the authority of one ends and the other starts, and also interjected a thought that a mutual dispatching center could bring additional problems since street names and numbers are similar in several of the communities.

After considerable discussion, it was decided to have Plymouth Township's Dick Lauterbach check with each community to see if it is interested in a study of mutual police protection.

Lauterbach asked that each governmental unit place the topic on the agenda of the next meeting for an expression and that he would personally check back with each to see if there is an interest.

Vallier raised a few eyebrows when he stated, "It appears to me that everyone wants a little kingdom of their own. It is ridiculous to have five police departments in an area of five miles. I believe we could form an authority which would give the same service to all communities at a savings to all."

Once again the question of legality came up and Lauterbach was authorized to check into that question and also to get an expression of a willingness to participate in a study group from each community.

views that it was about time the city did something to assist the Parking Committee.

Commissioner George Lawton stated, "We didn't go on indefinitely expecting people to use the existing facilities and not go into additional expenditures for parking lots. It is up to this board to do something to supply additional space. We can't continue not spending."

Commissioner George Hudson emphatically stated that there is evidence that Commissioners of the past have spent money and a lot of it for parking.

"I believe the records will show the City contributed $80,000 towards the central parking lot. I don't feel there is a need for budgeting at this time" he said.

Lawton answered with, "We just can't continue on an if come, maybe basis. It wasn't so long ago that we were worried because the Parking Committee was inactive, now we have an active group and we should support it and its work."

He received support of Commissioners James Jabara and James McKeon.

The matter was left unresolved as Mayor Houk called the hearing to a close.

In other actions, the Commission: Approved erection of a fence on two sides of the Hamilton playground after a complaint by Charles Amyx, who has property adjoining the playfield, of the conditions.

Tabled action on the request of the National Bank of Detroit for additional fees for bonding charges.

Approved a request of the City Manager for $1,000 to cover the costs of engineering services on the proposed widening of Sheldon Road to four lanes which may entail relocation of the city's 16-inch water main which runs along the east side of Sheldon. The approval came after more than 45 minutes of discussion in which the Commission first rejected Blodgett's request, then reconsidered and approved it by a 3-2 vote.

Approved appointment of Jabara and the City Manager to an area committee for the purpose of studying an incinerator project. This was the result of the joint meeting of heads of five adjoining communities held last week.

Five Area High School Students Win Merit Scholarships

Five students from high schools in the Observer Newspaper Group circulation area are among the 2,250 Merit Scholarship winners nationwide according to an announcement by John Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

The 1966 awards, worth more than $8 million, bring the total value of scholarships given through the program to about $48 million in 11 years.

The five area winners are: Mary Ann Fink, of Plymouth High, who resides with her parents at 7428 Cynthia Drive.

Kathleen Schacht, of Farmington High, who resides at 23230 Powers Road.

Catherine Begnoche, of Ladywood High, who resides at 32428 Florence, Garden City.

William Birkett, of Livonia Bentley High, who resides at 32619 Greenland, Livonia.

Charles Clark, of Livonia Bentley High, who lives at 31107 Grenada, Livonia.

Merit scholarships provide from $400 to $6,000 each, depending on the student's need. They cover the four undergraduate years of college and provide a type of "educational insurance" since the amount can be adjusted if the student's financial circumstances change while he or she is in college.

Over 1,600 of the 1966 awards were provided by sponsoring corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, professional associations, trusts, other organizations or individuals. Some 310 sponsors supported merit scholarships this year, up from the 283 of last year.

Some 625 awards are National Merit Scholarships underwritten by NMSC funds from Ford Foundation grants. Five hundred of these merit scholars were chosen state by state, the number for each state being proportional to its population of graduating high school seniors.

The remaining 125 were selected from finalists who overcame unusual handicaps, have exceptional financial needs, show creative ability or entered college as early-admissions students before completing high school graduation requirements.

All merit scholars were chosen from among 14,000 finalists. The finalists are those who scored in about the upper half of one per cent of seniors in their state on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, confirmed this performance in a second test and received the endorsement of their schools.

Winners of sponsored Merit Scholarships were chosen according to the sponsor's criteria. Many sponsored awards are for children of the sponsoring firm's employees. Others are for finalists who want to attend a particular college, have indicated a career preference, or had some qualification which the sponsor wishes to encourage.

Clark has won a J. Walter Thompson Company fund merit scholarship. He intends to major in Analytic Chemistry at the University of Michigan and plans a career as a research chemist.

Birkett, a member of the Bentley High cross country and track teams for three years and of the wrestling team during the past season, won a Michigan State University merit scholarship. He intends to major in Engineering and plans a career as an engineer.

Mary Ann Fink won a Michigan State University merit scholarship and will take a course in pre-veterinary medicine at Michigan State.

Catherine Begnoche also won a Michigan State University Merit scholarship. She is undecided about her course of study but will enroll at Michigan State.

Kathleen Schacht won a Baldwin-College Merit Scholarship and plans to take a course in Psychology there.

All Merit Scholarship stipends are individually determined. Within normal limits of $100 and $1,500 per year, the stipend is meant to provide the difference between the student's estimated college costs and his family's ability to meet them. Some sponsors have established higher minimum or maximum stipends, but need is determined for all winners in the same way. Individual stipends are not made public, since they are based on confidential financial information.

Grants made directly to the colleges chosen by Merit Scholars accompany most of the Merit Scholarships. Most such grants are for $100 or $250 per year per student.

The 11th Merit Program began over a year ago, when students in 17,600 secondary schools took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. More than 14,000 Semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, were announced last September.

Almost all of them confirmed their performance on the second test and submitted the other data required to become Finalists. Each Finalist was awarded a Certificate of Merit.

All students honored through the Merit Program, including some 38,000 commended students in addition to the Semifinalists, were identified to colleges, universities, and other sources of financial aid by NMSC. Research indicates that most of those who need aid will receive it. Nearly all the Finalists will enter college next fall. Funds included in its founding grants make it possible for NMSC to provide administrative and professional services to sponsors without cost. Sponsors devote all their funds to able students and their colleges, avoiding the cost of separate scholarship competitions.

DPW News And Notes

By Supt. Ken Vogras
Plymouth Dept. Public Works
The annual Paint Up, Clean Up, Fix-Up Week drive will be from May 9 through May 13. Rubbish will be picked up at the curb as a special feature. The weekly rubbish and garbage will be picked up at the regular place and everything left by that crew will be picked up at the curb by the city forces. There will be no set schedule.

Fire hydrants will be flushed on Thursday and Friday evening from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. This will be continued on a Thursday and Friday basis until all hydrants throughout the city have been flushed.

The Department continued spraying of elm trees, cleaning of the cemetery and there were three funerals last week. Work was continued on the city hall lawn and the cleaning of city parks, also playground equipment is being repaired and replaced.

The Band Wagon has been repainted and was placed out on Shepley Road for the ground breaking of the Ford Motor Company last week. A catch basin was repaired at 433 Auburn Street and cold patching was done on the major streets and sweeping was continued.

A stop box was moved to property line at 321 Adams Street; a 3/4" water tap was installed at 1342 Junction; a water service replaced at 556 Deer Street; and cutting and replacing of asphalt started on places where there had been broken water mains during the winter.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Vivian Tells of Interest Rates

BY CONGRESSMAN WES VIVIAN
Last week, I wrote on the need for truth-in-packaging legislation. This week, I start with this question: How much do you pay in interest? six percent? eight percent? If you think it's that low, you are probably wrong.

The average interest rate of 500 typical families, as determined by a recent government survey (Bureau of Economic Research), was actually 23 percent.

Why don't we know? Because, under present trade practices, the consumer is often not told—or is it easy to find out—what credit will cost. I am referring to the dollars and cents cost of interest, as well as the true interest rate cost. Lenders too often quote deceptively low rates.

The so-called "six percent rate" on financing used cars is at least 12 percent a year—sometimes it is actually about 18 or 25 percent.

Some teenage charge accounts, advertised as "only pennies per week" have run as high as 60 and 80 percent annually!

To let the consumer know just how much credit costs is the goal of my Truth in Lending Bill, introduced in the United States House of Representatives. This bill has been referred to the House Banking and Currency Committee. I hope that the Committee will discuss and send the bill to the floor of the House, where, I am sure, it will be passed.

Why do I think this bill necessary?

Student Artists To Show Works At Library

Plymouth High's Art department will hold its annual exhibit of students' work in the Dunning-Hough Library this year.

Drawings, paintings, sculpture, mosaics, ceramics, jewelry, hooked rugs, weaving and block prints are among the items which will be displayed upstairs and down in the library. The Commercial Design class will be in charge of arranging the showcases in the entranceway and of hanging the exhibit in the interior of the library.

Parts and the general public are invited to attend the open-house on Thursday, May 12 when Mrs. Carolyn Sam and Mrs. Jessie Hudson with their students will be on hand from 7-9 p.m. to greet visitors and to discuss the art work with interested guests.

The exhibit will continue on display during regular library hours until the end of May.

Some of the work on exhibit will be the award winning rugs, prints, drawings and weaving which were accepted for display at the Crowley-Detroit News-Scholastic Magazine area-wide art competition in Detroit.

It would appear that the family tree of some confidence men must be a slippery elm.

Cites Value Of Junior Colleges

Automotive manufacturing leans heavily on the quality of education in community colleges, Charles H. Patterson, executive vice president of Ford Motor Company, said Sunday.

Speaking at Henry Ford Community College, he said two-year colleges face an exciting challenge to supply enough well-rounded technicians and semi-professional workers for an expanding economy.

"In many fields," Patterson added, "the need for these workers is greater than the need of professionally trained people."

He spoke at the Dearborn Board of Education's dedication of a new, 62,000-square-foot technical education building named after him. The Charles H. Patterson Technical Building houses educational units in metallurgy, electronics, auto service, drafting technology, machine tool design and data processing.

"In the auto industry, as in other industries, we must have our share of Ph.D.'s to concentrate on scientific research and on the increasingly complex problems of product design and manufacture," Patterson said.

"But we have also a continuing and growing need for alert, well-educated men who are thoroughly familiar with machines, who can carry out complicated testing procedures, who can locate the source of a mechanical or electronic problem in a plant and who can keep our production machinery at top efficiency."

He termed it "more than a coincidence" that industry growth has paralleled that of junior colleges and technical training centers.

"The great success stories of men in our industry who came out of the Henry Ford Trade School and the General Motors and Chrysler Institutes are an important part of automotive history," Patterson said. "We at Ford are proud of the pioneering work in technical education that was planned and carried out at the old Henry Ford Trade School."

Patterson said 900 Ford apprentices attend classes at Henry Ford Community College. He added that more than 2,200 men and women—including 1,750 from Ford—attend special management training classes there, while an additional 500 Ford employees attend night classes in liberal arts.

"We are pleased with the facilities, of course," he added. "But we are equally pleased by the caliber of people who are receiving their technical education on this campus. They are prepared to find their place in the nation's expanding economy. They know that there is a place for them and that their work is important."

Noting that community colleges have an exciting future, Mr. Patterson said:

"The building which is being dedicated today, for example, has laboratories as complete as those found in many of the best engineering schools in the United States. The building itself asserts its purpose. It is practical, and very well designed to combine theory and practice."

He said modern equipment in the building is used to train "down-to-earth, pragmatic people for the future operation of our complex industrial plants."

"To my mind," he asserted, "this is an example of the growing awareness and understanding among both educators and businessmen that they have a great many interests in common and that they can reach their own goals best by working together."

St. Agatha Senior Wins U-M Award

Mary Lou Mangold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mangold, 22300 Maplewood Drive, Southfield, has received word that she has been awarded a Regents Scholarship from the University of Michigan.

Miss Mangold, a senior at St. Agatha High School, is also the recipient of Mary Lou a State of Michigan Higher Education Scholarship and an honorary National Merit Scholarship.

For the past four years she has been an honor student. She has a 4.0 (straight A) average for her senior year. In national tests she placed with the top 1/4 of 1 per cent of high school seniors.

In the fall Mary Lou will attend the University of Michigan where she has been invited to join the honor college.

Our Good City Fathers

How many public officials would be so generous as to donate $2,000 out of their own pockets to construct a dog pound for all the wayward puppies in the community. Not many, if any.

Garden City has opened up a new dog pound which was sorely needed. The grand opening was greeted with an official press release from City Hall which stated in glorious fashion, "After these many years of criticism, our good City Fathers have provided us with the necessary finances to permit the construction of this new and modern dog pound, which is second to none."

Actually, the good City Fathers didn't kick in a cent to build the dog pound. It was financed by transferring $2,000 from the City's water depreciation account to the police budget with an installment repayment plan devised. Trace it back further and you'll find it was the good old taxpayers who provided the necessary finances for the pound.

Give our good City Fathers all the credit we can for maneuvering the transfer of funds, recognizing the need, making studies, designing the building, and providing the necessary administration to construct a new pound.

But our good City Fathers did not provide us with the necessary finances to construct this modern dog pound. Give us taxpayers credit for this!

The efforts of Garden City policemen who worked on the dog pound in their off-duty hours for nominal pay is certainly commendable and the city administration is deserving of praise for seeing the long-needed facility was built.

And although we give credit to our good City Fathers for all they did, we also praise our good taxpayers for providing the necessary finances to permit the construction of this new and modern, and second to none, dog pound.

EMORY DANIELS

Governor Romney Reports

Michigan could be plunged into a major financial crisis if the legislature persists in its current reckless spending course.

Midway through the 1968 Legislative session, preliminary actions in both houses of the legislature would increase my budget recommendations for next year by approximately $75 million and would give Michigan its first billion dollar budget — at least $1,020,000,000. This proposed increase is in addition to my recommended increase of $126.6 million and would result in a total increase of over 200 million in a single year.

If such a budget were ever adopted, our entire surplus would be wiped out. Michigan would be millions in the red (which is unconstitutional), and we would be put in a position of deficit spending by as much as $142 million for the 1968-69 budget year. This would further set the stage for deficit of close to a quarter of a billion dollars for 1967-68.

For a legislature which has consistently refused to face squarely the issue of state revenue inequities and future needs even to consider spending actions now which would lead to deficit and crisis is the height of irresponsibility.

Nor should the future financial needs of the people of Michigan be met by more "patchwork taxation." The state's entire tax structure needs reform. To date there has been no indication that the Democratic leaders of this legislature are any more ready to undertake tax reforms now than they were last fall, when they refused even to consider a bipartisan program developed by representatives of both political parties.

It doesn't take ability or test anyone's capacity to spend a lot of money, particularly the public's. The real test of capacity is to spend wisely — to spend within the limits of sound financial policy, and to make the most of what is spent. These are qualities that count both inside and outside the public arena.

I am hopeful that, like last year, more common sense will prevail by the time the budget bills are finalized and sent to my desk. I am not wedded to every proposal just as it stands in my budget. I realize that there is a certain amount of give and take in the months of work that result in a state budget for an entire year.

But I have no intention of seeing our more than three years of hard work to return fiscal sanity to state government tossed into the ashcan. I certainly am not prepared to see our surplus wasted away in one year while the future is left unprotected and unprotected for.

The budget I presented reflects both fiscal responsibility and program responsibility. It is in the tradition of past budgets of this administration; it is both prudent and progressive. It would substantially improve the level of services in all important areas and would reasonably meet state needs.

Fortunately, budget totals in the house of origin can seldom be considered final action; generally they are reduced. Fortunately, there are legislators from both sides of the aisle who are concerned about the reckless size of these tentative budget totals. But to avoid financial difficulty, they will need strong public support in bringing the final budget back to a sound basis.

GOVERNOR GEORGE ROMNEY

It Could Happen to Plymouth

For years it was a most prosperous downtown. It still is today. Some local businessmen have made costly improvements to keep the customer downtown. Others have not. They prefer to let the guy next door make the improvements, and reap the walk-in business. Others sit back hoping the Federal Government and local officials can solve their problems.

Times are good. This is the time to begin to think and develop plans that are workable. The businessmen must act together and must work with the local officials. But this takes time and effort — not loose talk and passing the buck.

With shopping centers springing up, PLYMOUTH MUST MOVE FORWARD. If we don't move today, we will sink tomorrow. Take a look at some of the downtown communities. Wyandotte lost its Sears and Federals.

Since the arrival of our new City Manager,

Dick Blodgett, we the Chamber, have begun work together along with the City Planning Consultants on a new workable CBD Plan. It is in its initial stages. We hope that when it is ready for presentation that you, the businessman, will be willing to sit down and review, recommend, and critique it. Over 100 questionnaires filled out by downtown businessmen have been used to start the Plan. It includes off-street parking too.

It must be a joint effort. Businessmen, City Officials, Planning Consultants, and the public must work on a coordinated basis. A good plan must be supported by all parties to be effective.

It must be a free and open program. Everyone should have the opportunity to discuss, evaluate and finally support the final Plan.

CARL D. PURSELL, President
Chamber of Plymouth

Must Be A Better Way

Our boys in Viet Nam deserve only the best.

Those of us back home facing a new tax drain on May 1 will wonder about the latest Federal expenditure for our fighting lads: their favorite TV programs.

TV Guide describes in glowing terms the installation of some 2,300 sets at military locations and in Saigon. Saigon has only 110 sets in public places for the one hour that programs of informational nature are telecast to the citizens.

No doubt, their most popular program is "What's My Government?" or would you believe "Saigon Place," the saga of frustrated Buddhist in love with a seductive Army Nurse who is smuggling tainted rice to the Viet Cong.

Regardless of favorite programs the TV Guide left out ONE important item: who foots the bill for the four hours of video entertainment and sparse items of information? Old money bags — Uncle Sam, of course! The New York Times informed its more observing readers that the Congress has appropriated over six million dollars for remodeling a battleship into an off-shore transmitting TV station.

Granted that a little TV might go a long ways to boost sagging morale in Viet Nam and that the Vietnamese might need some additional informational channels.

Do we need to go to such extremes? A few million comic books could do the same job. Re-runs of "I Love Lucy," "Combat," and "Bonanza" may be morale boosters, but a quick termination of our active participation might be more beneficial for the physical and emotional well-being of our youth in Viet Nam.

Let's remove those 1,200 sets and put the six million dollars to work finding some practical way to sit down and negotiate.

The Horror of War in any form is bad enough, but to sit through some of these senseless antics of Lucy, the idiotic bumbling of Hoss, and the sky sinful ways of Peyton Place is likely to create more harm and we could end up with a nation of video-sick Vietnamese.

O Mighty L.B.J. twist the dial, dim that TV tube, give that battleship back its guns and dismantle that six million dollar floating TV installation. Take pity on our boys and those defenseless Vietnamese.

Residents Fed Up By Patter Drain

Editor:

Subject—History of Patter Drain: From the Year 1960-1966. It is now called Livonia Drain #11.

For six years now the City of Livonia Officials and the County Officials have been giving us excuses and blaming each other for their failure to enclose this dirty, dangerous ditch.

The Mayor has given his share of fiction stories to the paper also. (The Observer) "All systems go on Drain, Project in the planning stages for two years." And as of May 1966 still the drain is not enclosed.

Let it be known, residents complained to City Officials on June 14, 1960, about the condition of this drain.

(The Observer) Nov. 3, 1965 —Mayor plans to lift Drain Bond unless Contractor gets to work. Did the City have a valid contract at this time?

The elapsed time with no improvement in the condition of the Patter Drain, only proves to us that the above statements in the paper by the City Officials, is just another run around. As of May 1966, this dangerous ditch is still open. And the people responsible are still giving out basically the same old stories we have heard since 1962.

The conditions of this drain has not improved with age, it has only gotten worse. It has eroded more of the land away taking up 70 feet or more of the back yards of 80 people who have children. It is a breeding ground for rats. We have blowing sand from sand piles scraped from the property where the sewer is supposed to go some day, if the Engineering Dept. doesn't change the plans again. There are more trenches and mud for the children to get trapped in. Headers are pushed off ends of Storm Sewers and small children like to crawl through these when they are dry.

We also have a storage yard at the corner of Five Mile and Gary for construction equipment that hasn't been used for about six months. It isn't fenced in or guarded in any way to protect the children. It is a dangerous condition as well as an eyesore.

Now to top it all off the City Officials say that the person who owns the land that the Drain #11 is to be constructed on is holding up the construction, which may or may not be true. BUT...

The Mayor stated in the Mayor's Corner of the Observer, last year, "I personally handled the negotiations with the property owners and the Wayne County Drain Commissioner's Office so that, Livonia Drain #11 could be started at once."

Just what do we have to do to get relief from this condition? Maybe a Petition to the Governor of this state, about the long unnecessary delay in getting this drain enclosed will cause the Officials and Departments responsible to QUIT DRAGGING THEIR FEET.

More on Pension Fund

Editor:

Two years after I last ran for Mayor (in 1964), and in response to a letter in your "Reader Speaks" column, signed by "W. D. — Livonia resident" (who is unknown to me), your paper again, under "Ed. Note," comments on the pension fund investment which took place in early 1962. You state that the "fund was illegal," but you carefully omit telling your readers all the facts fully known to Mr. and Mrs. Chandler at the time.

The City Attorney, in an opinion dated April 19, 1966, said that pension funds could be invested in the same securities as may be purchased by life insurance companies and which, according to Michigan statutes, may be either F.H.A. or conventional mortgages. A contrary view was later expressed by an Assistant City Attorney. On November 14, 1961, I asked for an opinion from the Chief of the Civil Division of the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office, and on December 20, 1961, I received an opinion, No. 1606, stating that pension funds could be vested in F.H.A. mortgages. I sent this opinion to the Pension Board on December 27, 1961.

Pension funds had been invested by the State of Michigan and the County of Wayne in mortgages for a number of years and there was never any contention that these funds had to be invested only in government securities.

On April 1, 1964, the Wayne County Prosecutor ruled: "That no one person, including former Mayor W. Brashear, attempted to suggest or influence the vote of any other member, or directly or indirectly bring pressure to influence the vote of any other member in connection with the investment of funds through the Northwestern Mortgage Company other than normal debate and exchange of ideas commonly engaged in in the transaction of the Board's business."

"That neither William W. Brashear, as the then Mayor, nor Jack Salvadore, the Councilman member of the Board of Trustees, used the prestige of his office to influence the other voting trustees, Jackman or Baumgartner, to vote or even favorably consider the investment of retirement funds through the Northwestern Mortgage Company."

On August 4, 1964, Wayne County Circuit Judge Rashid entered an Order dismissing me as defendant in the Civil suit involving the pension funds. Judge Rashid made the following statement on the record: "But, I do say to Mr. Chandler on this record, 'He made statements of fact which were not accurate.' ... and I would suggest to him that in keeping with the great American tradition of good newspaper responsibility, as most of us so well know, he should exert some effort in ascertaining actual facts and be a little more meticulous about the choice of words and language."

Now that you have resurrected something that happened two years ago, I wonder if you will have the courage to print this letter likewise under your "Reader Speaks" column.

WILLIAM W. BRASHEAR
Livonia

ED. NOTE: Maybe if Mr. B is willing now to tell ALL the facts he will reveal to us breathless readers who the mystery man, the "Mr. X" was that put up the $200,000 in Judge Rashid's Court that bailed out the Pension Fund after Mr. Chandler of The Observer made all the fuss about it being illegally invested, (which the Judge at the time allowed as though it really was.)

Crazy Driver

Editor:

With the advent of Spring, Yale (between Five Mile road and Schoolcraft) has once again become the local dragstrip for the speed-crazy teenagers in the area. I implore the Livonia Police Department to do something about this situation before someone is killed.

And if the parents of the teen-age boy who drives a tan Dodge Dart, one dealer plate 394 D 26 is reading this, I implore them to take this car away from him and get him to a psychiatrist before he kills someone and himself too.

Editor:

I wish to thank the Observer and its editors for the endorsement given me by your paper in the recent city election. This endorsement was a major factor in my successful campaign for city councilman. I shall try to live up to this vote of confidence shown in me by your endorsement, by doing to the best of my ability to serve the people of our new City of Westland, and to make this new city a place to live in and to look to with pride.

Observing the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

It is mighty important for elected officials to have courage of their convictions; principles and stand pat on them; remain adamant in the face of pressure.

HOWEVER, there are times when compromise is the keynote and prudent thing to do.

This time has come in the stalemate of I-96 going through Livonia. The conflict is between Livonia's Mayor, Council and Schoolcraft College Board. The death-grip to the end they are involved in must end.

The officials of the State Highway Department have issued an ultimatum — either settle the matter or they will leave the portion of the expressway between Five and Seven Mile Roads sit and have the expressway end at Five and resume between Seven and Haggerty Road if the deadlock continues.

For those that came in late... The Mayor of Livonia and the City Council have issued a resolution that the expressway follow Haggerty Road and cut off a sizeable portion of the front side of Schoolcraft College campus.

The Schoolcraft College Board is just as insistent that the route follow an easterly pattern which it says the State Highway Department set up as the original plan.

The Highway Department points out that the easterly route, which it apparently does recommend will cost $6.5 million as compared with a cost of $12 million along Haggerty Road.

Mayor Harvey Moelke says he told the Trustees of the College at an early date he would not approve the expressway going around the easterly boundary of the college because it would cut off a portion of the city, making servicing difficult; would cut the city from one of its best park sites; and would retard development or eliminate what the city has on their Master Plan as one of their best residential sections.

"There has never been any change in my thoughts," says the Mayor. "I told the College Board way back when they were planning their campus that the City would never agree to have some of its residents isolated from the remainder of Livonia by a highway."

But there's a bit of a rub to his thinking — the College Board doesn't have a written communication from Moelke in regard to his feelings and the Trustees feel they are being "sold down the river."

"We had some of the building under construction before we were told of Mayor Moelke's objections," says Chairman Harold Fischer, head of the College Board and a Plymouth resident. "We would never have planned a campus along Haggerty Road with the thought that within five years a freeway would be placed there and slice off a good portion of the land and also make the front of the campus the back."

The College Trustees point out that as long as five years ago when they were making plans for the construction of buildings and setting up the campus, they first checked with the Highway Department in Lansing and were informed it would be better to build as close to Haggerty Road as possible — the highway would go around the east side of the college property.

Unfortunately the Trustees do not have a written confirmation of that advice either. All verbal. The Mayor to the College to the Highway Department officials. Now they are all pointing a finger.

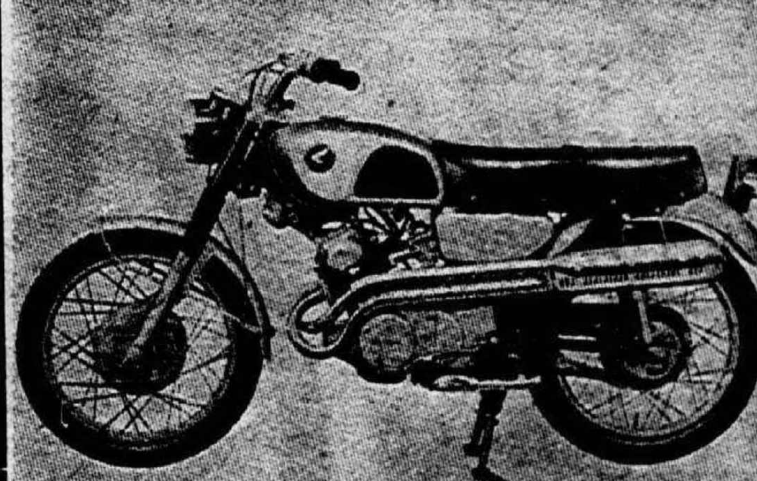

On the easterly route is a Livonia subdivision and park area; on the Haggerty route is the College Administration Building, 160 feet from the proposed highway and a slice out of student and faculty parking lots.

But the City Council and the College Board can halt the project indefinitely — each has the right to veto which it doesn't consider suitable for its plans.

The College also feels that the Livonia Council and Mayor are using the freeway route to force the Highway Department to make some improvements on Plymouth Road. In their recent resolution the wording indicates this to be true: "Further, such approval is contingent upon the State Highway Department supplying necessary funds for the widening and improvement of Plymouth Road in a manner satisfactory to the City of Livonia."

The College could care less about that. Citizens are invited to express their views. The college isn't owned by the trustees and the City of Livonia isn't owned by the Mayor and Council and the expressway isn't owned by the State Highway Commission. You pay the bill. What do you think? Haggerty Road along the College; Easterly route cutting off part of Livonia; or the expressway passing the 36 square miles, 195,000 people that make up Livonia. Send your opinion in care of "Reader Speaks," The Observer, 3305 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

TALKING ABOUT THURSTON

'H.M.S. Pinafore' Readied For May 11

By LYNN BARNETT
"H.M.S. Pinafore" will be presented by Thurston students May 11 through 14 at 8 p.m., in Thurston's little auditorium. The musical, a love story with a different twist, is directed by William Roth who teaches speech and drama. The five main characters are played by: Marc Gualdoni, senior, as Ralph Rackstraw; Rod Orvitt, sophomore, as Sir Joseph; Andrea Sleeth, senior, as Josephine; Tim Werdell, junior, plays Captain Corcoran; and Pat Snover, senior, plays

Buttercup. The Future Nurses Club had a speaker April 25. The lecture was given in a lecture hall and a film strip accompanied her talk. Cheerleading tryouts for all tenth and eleventh grade students started April 25 in the large gym. A tea was given for all student teachers and their supervising teachers by the Future Teachers Club in the home-making room April 27. Auditions for Varsity Choir for all sophomores and juniors took place last week. Thurston students will attend Eastern Michigan University Drama Day on May 21. All Thurston students were invited to Pierce Junior High Annual Family Canteen last Friday, April 29. Dick Purten, a deaf, emceed the dance. "The Uniques," "The Lost Souls," "The Wanderers," and Ronnie and Robbin were featured. There was a bake sale, a snack bar, a rest area, and movies for pre-schoolers. A television set was given away as a door prize. All profits will be used for school equipment.

Sellout Is Expected For Big Water Show

By ANN OPLAND
"Rhythms 'Round the World" is the theme of the fourth annual Aquatics swim show, to be presented Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, May 5, 6, and 7 at 8 p.m. in the Franklin pool. The 27 swimmers will do an opening number to "Around the World in Eighty Days". Features will include the solos of Linda Scavo and Linda Seifert; duets by Vicki Billing and Kay Johnston, and Dianne Piggins and Linda Seifert; an all male trio of Hal Hultquist, Scott Watkins, and Bill Weier, and a co-ed sextet. "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," "Can-Can," and "Love Potion Number Nine" will be a few of the selections to which they'll swim. The finale will be a candlelight number where all of the Aquatics will swim synchronously to "Climb Every Mountain."

Due to the success of previous Aquatics performances, this year's show is expected to be a sellout for each of the three nights. Tickets are being sold this week at Franklin, and can be reserved by calling Miss Carolyn Benninger, sponsor, at the school. The Franklin American Field Service will sponsor its annual cash wash Saturday between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. in the Franklin parking lot. The cost for a wash will be only one dollar. Representatives from Schoolcraft College came to Franklin to talk to seniors who will be attending Schoolcraft next year. Students were able to ask questions regarding tuition costs, courses, and available jobs at college.

Gal Cagers Rock Crowd

By LOUISE GILLES
School spirit exploded Friday as the sophomores and juniors played a game of basketball in the school gym. Cheers greeted the players from the bleachers, the stage, and the sidelines. Sophomore captain was Judy King and Junior captain was Pat Hoffman. Pat Hodges scored many times for the sophomores and Mary Ellen Roy scored twice for the juniors. The sophomores took a well-earned victory, 17-12.

Thursday afternoon, the Future Homemakers treated students to two short movies and refreshments. The movies dealt with manners at a prom and the wide world that is open to us. Free cake and popcorn were supplied by the members of the club. Since May is the month traditionally set aside to honor the Mother of God, Ladywoodians will honor her in a procession on May 3.

Other activities in May will be the Sodalties Corporate Communion Sunday at the Felician Sisters Chapel, May 1. A free day on Ascension Thursday, May 19; and the Parents Club's Millionaires party on Saturday, May 21.

English Five Authors Rush To Meet Deadline

By Madge Hildebrandt
In a last-minute flurry of typing and re-organization, English V students at Farmington Senior High are attempting to complete their Major Projects.

The assignment, due May 4, is an annual one and requires a great deal of creative writing. This year's seniors are preparing either a collection of short stories, poetry, essays, a novellette or a play.

Approximately 30 poems are required in a poetry collection. Connie Aldrich, Madge Hildebrandt, Sue James, Paula Norman, Eric Sauter, and Susan Thorpe are dealing with the Muse. Eric Sauter is one of the few who has chosen a title for his brain child; it is "Smoked Glass and Other Poems."

The short story classification has three writers, Sharryl Dorow, Ken Rogerson, and Diane Sheridan. Sharryl describes the subject matter of her project as "the underlying pressures in modern society and how people cope with them."

Novellettes are being written by Joan McGregor, Ron Lee, and Kathy Schacht. The largest number of students is doing essays. They are George Hahle, Alexa Larson, Bev Lord, Mike Miller, John Overton, Mike Perry, Thana Schwartz, Linda Warner, and Mike Wilson. Student Council elections are slated for Monday, May 9. Sophomores and juniors at FHS vote on candidates for Student Council representatives and president.

Three juniors, Craig Anderson, Jim Hoeler, and Ron Schulze, are running for the presidential office. Each candidate will be allotted time over the public address system to express his views on the various issues of the campaign. The runner-up in the election will receive the office of vice-president. The other Student Council officers will be elected within the new council at the outset of the upcoming school.

A man's character is determined by what he says no to. Here are the statistics on the

CLARENCEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL Teachers' Prowess Bests Seniors

By TONY HEAD
The Clarenceville Seniors planned to roll over the teachers in the annual Senior-Faculty basketball game. Unfortunately the teachers had other ideas. Both the men and women teachers defeated the seniors. The games were sponsored by Clarenceville's Varsity Club.

The Pep Club, sponsored by Miss Evelyn Cohn, held a party for all varsity and junior varsity sports and band members. There was dancing and refreshments.

The annual spring musical "Oklahoma" under the direction of Steve Vujevic will be presented May 25, 26 and 27. Tickets are now on sale for $1 and can be purchased from High School students or through the school office. Students are still needed for props, make-up and lighting crews.

State Band Festival. The Clarenceville High Band, under the direction of John Nestek, finished with the highest possible score, all ones. The band was judged on appearance, ability to sight read and to play the Elmira Concert March, the English Folk Song

Suite and the American Folk Rhapsody. A date to mark on the calendar is May 18, when the band will present an evening concert. Wayne State University cage great Charlie Primes hit the 20-point mark 32 times in his takes.

Quiz Team Wins TV Set; 36 Dancers Seek Parts

By DEBBIE LUSKY
Congratulations to Tom Charlesworth, Bruce Ghrist, Tim Shaw, and Sherry Smolek who defeated a team from Grosse Pointe University High on WWJ-TV's "Quiz 'Em on the Air" on Sunday, April 24. The team won a stereo set for NF. Miss June Sulewski was their advisor, and Debbie Peel and Carl Weinstein acted as alternates.

Thirty-six girls tried out for dancing parts in "The King and I." The major role of Eliza was awarded to senior Gay Schmidt. She will perform a 16-minute solo in the ballet "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Character parts went to Sue Cox, Casey Golez, Carolyn Kilikka, Kathy McCort, Connie Molnar, Cindy Morris, Diane Northern, Leena Rosenberg, and Dawn Shipley.

Pam Dowber, Angie Garcia, Vicki Miller, Debbie Nostrand, Jill Porter, and Diane White will perform the royal dance scene.

Supporting dancers will be Bonnie Breeze, Jan Davis, Candy Kimbrough, Coby DeLange, Sue Thomas, Gailyn DeWalt, and Nancy Wheeler.

Advance tickets for "The King and I" are now on sale. They may be purchased from any music class member.

Last Saturday the sophomores sponsored a successful dance, the Paisley Prom. Bermuda-clad students danced to the music of the Young Men.

The French Club defeated the Spanish Club in a baseball game held on April 24.

On April 25 a group of NF students had the opportunity to attend the Governor's Conference.

Student Council elections, including the approval of the new constitution, were held on April 28. Campaigns for the class elections are now underway.

Forty NF students will attend a performance of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest" at the Hilberry Classic Theater tonight. Mr. Bill Bupp and Miss Patricia Moore will chaperone.

The English V classes have begun work on "Raided," a satirical review of the Class of '66.

The Student Council will hold a Work Day on May 7. Area residents may arrange to have students do house and garden work, babysitting, painting and any other job. The fee will be on the donation basis — whatever the employer feels it is worth. A car wash will also be held at the school. Proceeds will go into a scholarship fund for a deserving senior.

MERCY:

Job Training Described

By LINDA OEHLER

Participating in National Secretary Week, April 24-30, the Commercial club at Our Lady of Mercy invited guest speakers for the students' benefit.

On Monday, April 25, Mr. Bruce McFadden from the Michigan Employment Security Commission spoke on job opportunities for youth during the summer.

On Tuesday, speed-typist Richard Krischer demonstrated techniques in typing. During his demonstrations Mr. Krischer reached 232 words per minute. Also speaking on Tuesday, was Mrs. Jane Carver from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Showing a film entitled "Her Life," Mrs. Carver explained the telephone operators' responsibilities in their communities.

A Mercy alumna spoke on Wednesday. Miss Judy Hallman of Detroit Edison Company presented suitable attire for office work. Because Wednesday was National Secretary Day, Commercial club members wore office attire instead of the school uniform.

Mrs. Winifred Harkness, secretary to Sister Mary Victorine, principal, was presented with a corsage of red roses, the secretary's flower, from the Commercial club. Red roses were also given to teachers of commercial subjects, Sister Mary Placide, Sister Mary Margaret, and Mrs. Evangeline Du Charme, club moderator.

Junior Janice Baranski will participate in the Eighth High School Science Program at Michigan State University in East Lansing this summer.

Chosen from 1,000 applicants, the students will begin the program on June 12 and end July 29. Janice will be studying math and chemistry or biology. All classes will take place in the mornings, leaving the afternoons for research in particular fields with the university faculty.

To qualify for the program, the applicant must attend an accredited high school, be a junior, and in the upper ten per cent of her class.

Williams On Leave

Terry H. Williams is home on leave from the U.S. Navy after graduating with honors from the Electronics Technicians School in San Francisco. After spending two weeks at home, Williams will report to Key West, Fla.

'Ugly Man' of The Year Helps Raise AFS Funds

By SUE DOWELL

Not ugly but popular is Mike Degutis. This deserving Senior was named Bentley's ugly man of 1966. The Ugly Man Contest is held every year to gain money for American Field Service.

American Field Service is an organization that raises money to send students overseas.

What exactly is an Ugly Man? He is the most popular boy in school. The way this boy is determined is by donating money to his jar. There are six boys in the contest.

Two from each class are chosen and each has a jar with their names on it. During the week students put money in the jar of the boy they like best. At the end of the week the boy with the most money wins. All the money is donated to AFS.

The six boys were Mike Degutis and Bob Baldrice as the Senior representatives; Juniors Doug Thomas and Larry Haggart; Gary Hogaby and Bill Roberts as the Sophomore contestants.

Degutis, who received the ugly man title was crowned at the Movie Dance last Friday.

He is a Senior at Bentley and played football. Besides being an active member of the Student Council he is President of the Concert Choir and gives the morning announcements on the P.A. Mike also played a lead role in the senior play.

Runner-up was Doug Thomas. He is a Junior and one of the star members of Bentley's track team.

Not only does he run in track but he also is the Vice-President of the Junior Class. Doug also was an actor in the Junior Play. Both boys and the other four combined raised along with Bentley students over $500 for AFS.

Bentley's Student Council is now in the process of electing officers for next year.

The Council has set up a dress standards committee to set fair regulations on the way students should dress, set up a committee now working with the school board to eliminate final exams for Seniors with a B or higher average, establish an Honor Society at Bentley, give students more responsibility by completing successfully the elimination of final exams, adopted a Korean child, and got apple and other fruit machines for the benefit of all Bentley students.

Water Show Schedule Includes Matinee

By MARGARET RUDLAFF
What in the waters going on? The 1966 water show that's what. The water show, "News Adrift," will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday night, May 6, 7 and 8 at 8 p.m. in Plymouth High School pool. A matinee will be held Saturday at 1 p.m.

The show includes duets, trios and large numbers all in keeping with the "news" theme. This year's soloist, Kay Zoet, will portray a "sad clown." The vibrant color costumes and talented girl swimmers will provide an evening of delightful entertainment well worth attending.

Tickets are now on sale during all three lunch hours or may be purchased from any member of Water Waves or Ripples.

Many weeks of patient rehearsals have been rewarded for the all-school play, "You Can't Take With You," which was a big success. To a hard worked, but very talented cast ... congratulations!

You will have an "Affair to Remember" if you attend this year's senior Prom in the Mayflower Meeting House on May 14 at 8 p.m. The $5 tickets are now on sale during all three lunch hours. Under the direction of co-chairmen Pat Turentine and Chris Campbell the Prom should be a must for all seniors.

If things looked sporty today at the high school it was because of Bermuda Day. Students were allowed to wear bermudas for a dime. Proceeds are going for the Foreign Exchange Program.

WITH THE ELECTIONS coming soon it is the duty of every student to learn the merits or demerits of all the candidates and get out and vote. Voting will take place all day May 10, in the gym corridor.

Dick Deadeye of 'H.M.S. Pinafore' To Be Played by Thurston Sr.

By LYNN BARNETT

"H.M.S. Pinafore," a musical by Gilbert and Sullivan, will take place in Thurston's auditorium May 11 through 14. One of the major roles of the musical, Dick Deadeye, is played by Jim Parker.

A senior, he started attending in tenth grade. When asked if he joined any clubs in his sophomore year, Jim said, "No, it was too new and too big. I was lost." He took a bite of his peanut butter sandwich. "I was lucky to find my way to class."

He considers Varsity Choir his outside interest during tenth grade. He also belonged to the Yearbook Staff after school. "It wasn't a class then," he explained.

Being in the Varsity Choir, Jim was required to audition for the musical, "Pirates of Penzance." He landed a major part and sang three solos. This was Jim's first taste of dramatics and he liked it.

Jim's acting career continued during his junior year. He played another major part in the school play, "The Tavern," a comedy.

"Take Her — She's Mine," the senior play, needed a student director and Miss Carroll Jackson decided Jim was best prepared for the job. He was the only junior in the cast or crew.

About this time Jim was getting a little tired of the theatre. He had taken part in everything: acting, directing, advertising, and even making programs. He was about ready to quit but the kids all "showed their appreciation and encouraged me to go on."

"Here We Are," a one-act play, took place during the Spring Arts Festival and Jim played the leading role.

A big event during his junior year was Jim's initiation into the Thespians.

This year Jim belongs to the Ski Club, Pep Club, and the American Field Service. He seemed to lose his interest for acting until auditions for, "H. M. S. Pinafore," took place. Jim will portray the part of Dick Deadeye, a major role.

Jim summarizes his acting career by saying he has played a "comical character, a dramatic character, a man-off-the-street character, and now a villain."

PCHA Approves Pact With Attorney General

The Attorney General's civil suit against the Peoples Community Hospital Authority has been dropped in Ingram County Circuit Court by Judge Marvin Salmon.

Judge Salmon agreed to drop the suit after the PCHA board of directors voted to enter a consent agreement with the Court which gave the attorney general lasting supervisory powers.

Named as defendants in the civil suit were: Edward McNamara, former PCHA board chairman; Gordon Gable, former vice-chairman, and Kenneth Gremore, former executive director. Gremore was dismissed as executive director for misuse of PCHA funds and failure to follow board directives. McNamara and Gable declined to run for re-election after being named defendants in Kelley's civil suit. The purpose of the civil suit against PCHA was to prevent an alleged transfer of the Authority's assets to a private corporation, a move which Senator Roger Craig (D-Deerborn) has said would be done with a $18 million bond floated by the B. F. Ziegler Co., a Wisconsin investment firm.

The consent agreement now entered into prohibits any transfer of PCHA assets unless approved by the court after notice to the attorney general. Such a provision will prevent any overnight transfer of the PCHA to a private concern.

Other provisions of the agreement will:

- Prohibit board members, officers, agents or employees of PCHA from using any of the Authority's funds for private or personal use.

- Require PCHA to maintain a system of competitive purchasing.
- Prohibit the board of directors from delegating any of its authority.
- Prohibit board members, officers or employees of PCHA from transacting business with the Authority.

Party Scheduled

St. Alexander's Parish of Farmington will hold a Millionaire's Party May 14 at the U.A.W. Local 182 Hall on Plymouth Rd., just west of Wayne Rd. in Livonia. The evening will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained calling Mae Abrams, 474-4897; Rose Piggott, 474-1581; or Isabelle DiBiase, 476-0417.

- Prohibit any contract with or official position with anyone who is in default with the authority.
- Require by-laws, rules and regulations, and a procedure for their enactment by the board.
- Require the board to determine what monies may be due the authority and take steps to collect such money.

"All we are really saying is that we will not violate the law under which we were created," explains Gable. "We haven't done this before. Why not say we won't do it now."

Gable urged the board to adopt the agreement because the PCHA could not float the $17.5 million bond issue for construction while it was under an indictment.

float the bond issue to construct and expand the Seaway a new Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti and expand the Seaway Hospital in Trenton.

Horsemen End 33-Day Strike Saturday

Pacers Open Tonight at Wolverine

Saturday's ratification of a contract with Wolverine Raceway by members of the Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association Sunday turned the idle, bare Wolverine Harness Raceway into the busiest place in the Midwest.

Gates to the barn area swung open for the first arrival of stables from the east, south, midwest and outstate Michigan late Saturday night and more than 200 pacers and trotters were in their homes by noon Sunday.

Stall Superintendent Clayton Smith predicted that more than 800 horses would be on the grounds by noon Wednesday with at least 600 by sunset Sunday.

Some of the strong feelings that exist between the City of Farmington and Farmington Township came to light again Monday night at the Council meeting.

After listening to a request from North Farmington for use of the lighted baseball field on Sunday evenings, Councilman Ralph Yoder commented:

"I don't like to be small on matters like this," he said, "but that ball field is for our boys and being paid for by us and I am opposed to letting others use it."

Councilman John Allen interrupted with "maybe they are playing a double-header and just want the light for the second game."

That didn't help, so all three members present voted to deny the request.

Saturday's action by the MHHA ended 33-nights of idleness for the horsemen. The strike for a bigger share of purse money washed out the 25-night Northville Downs meeting and sliced eight nights from Wolverine's 55-night program.

They'll be off for the first time in 1966 in Michigan on Wednesday night when Wolverine presents its initial 10-race program beginning at 8:30 p.m.

President Frederick Van Lennep and Vice President and General Manager Orlov Owen announced that Wolverine will introduce the perfecta form of wagering for the first time.

The perfecta, which will be a separate pool on each of the ninth and tenth races, is a form of the popular quinella. The better selects the horses to finish one-two in that order.

In addition, the track will have the popular daily double wagering on the first and second races along with the normal betting for win, place and show on each event.

Strange enough, it was four stables from California and one from Lexington, Ky. that were the first to go through the gates after the new agreement had been approved.

Doug Ackerman, long a regular at Wolverine, had the honor of being No. 1, moving in his 21-horse stable from Northville Downs where they had been waiting for the past four days.

He was followed by Jay Russell, Joe Suarez and Chick Eivens, all from California. Then Ted Taylor, driver-trainer of the large Saunders Mills stable, arrived with 42-head from Lexington.

There was a regular parade of vans of all sizes and descriptions, starting early Sunday morning, as owners began moving in from Northville, Marshall, Adrian, Davison, Imlay City, North Branch and other training centers.

By late afternoon most of the 600 horses stabled at Northville had been moved to their new home.

And Racing Secretary Bill Connors found the horsemen eager to get started. His problems began with the drawing for the first night's program when he found 28 entries in the box for one of the races.

He immediately began preparations for Thursday's program and hopes to have everything at a normal level in another day or so with the entry box closing at 10 a.m. and the drawings taking place thereafter.

Wolverine has a 72-hour box and thus Connors had Thursday's program all arranged by Monday noon and then settled down to the business of getting ready for the remainder of the meeting which now is for 47 nights because of the eight-night loss to the strike.

No Baseball Tiff for N. Farmington

Some of the strong feelings that exist between the City of Farmington and Farmington Township came to light again Monday night at the Council meeting.

OBSERVING SPORTS

By George Maskin

The mere mention of a tax increase makes all of us cringe. And cry.

Uncle Sam is hitting us up for more withholding and there are hints he may get us for more before the year is over.

The individual communities in which we reside also are desperate. They have to add to their income, or else cut down on services.

Hereabouts, the schools are seeking more cash. In Livonia, for example, they have a vote next Monday to boost the millage.

If the vote fails, we're told the administrators will have to do some slashing. Sports in the high schools and junior highs are a cinch to suffer. So will other extra activities which tie in with making a school program rounded and complete.

The big losers naturally will be the youngsters... those in the lower grades, in the middle grades and in the top grades.

All of us are pretty much agreed there's not enough we can do for our kids. True we yell at them. We whip them. We fight them.

After health, nothing is more important to the youngsters than their education. To say "yes" and cramp our already shrinking pocketbooks isn't easy.

But, then how can we say "no" to our kids with so great an issue at stake?

Talking about kids, we are proud to be part of the big party the Livonia Recreation department and the biggest party of its kind anywhere in the country. Merri-Bowl Lanes tossed for its youth bowlers the other evening.

Something like 1,200 were on deck, making this the biggest party of its kind anywhere in the country. It was sponsored by Merri-Bowl owner, Mac Goldman.

Further, we're told by Eddie Edgar, who had lot to do with Livonia's youth bowling, that the program here has no equal in the country.

Every afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30, the boys and girls take over the city's four pin establishments. Something like 900 participated this past winter, a far cry from the handful which vied a few years back when it all got started.

Bowling is one of those sports in which one can compete whether he's young or old, whether he's a man or woman, whether he's a skinny 75-pounder or a bulging 300-pounder.

It's an activity that keeps you going throughout your life time. You can enjoy yourself without having to require somebody else to pitch the ball or make a pass or tackle, or anything like that.

Bowling also is a frustrating sport. It kills you to fire a perfect shot and still find three or four pins refusing to drop.

The various bowling proprietors of our area — in Livonia, in Farmington, in Redford Township, in Plymouth, in Nankin and in Garden City — all have gone to great expense to make their establishments happier places to enter.

The automatic pin setters have speeded up play. And now you can bowl in comfort the year around — thanks to air conditioning in the summer.

We might add that every bowling center in the community now is setting up summer leagues. So here's your chance — mom and pop... and kids, too.

Falcons Capture 1-0 Duel

Stevenson high's first crack at baseball honors in the Inter-lakes League ended in a hard-to-take 1-0 loss at the expense of Farmington.

Don Wolfman got the nod for Farmington over Stevenson's Jerry Tonnemacher as each man gave up only three hits. Wolfman fanned 14 and walked five. Tonnemacher whiffed 11 and walked one.

A strikeout pitch that got away from the Stevenson catcher paved the way for the only run of the game.

The miscue enabled Farmington's Rick Norton to reach first. He then stole second and third and came in when Doug LeFevre beat out an infield single.

Stevenson had all kinds of chances to win the game. Twice the Livonians, who are in their first campaign in interscholastic competition, had runs on second and third with one out.

In the final inning, Stevenson loaded the bases but Wolfman shot home a strikeout pitch to end the game.

Both Stevenson and Farmington lost on Friday in second-round league action. Stevenson fell to Walled Lake, 6-1, while Farmington was nipped by Waterford, 5-4.

Tom Carl of Walled Lake held Stevenson to four hits while John Kladzyk was ripped for nine while walking five. However, Kladzyk did fan 10.

The one Stevenson run came in the sixth inning and was unearned. Tom DeWitt was safe on an error and moved to third on a single by Tonnemacher. Then Kladzyk's roller was muffed and DeWitt scored.

Bill Camp had two hits for the winners.

Farmington fell behind, 3-0, in the first inning when Waterford jumped on Wolfman. But Joe Himmelsbach came in and turned in an excellent job of relief work the rest of the way.

Farmington scored twice in the third when Al Kikka singled, stole second and tallied on Ron Lee's single. Then Lee scored when Jerry Tinkle's long fly to center was dropped.

In the fifth, Kikka's double and Wayne Johnson's single made it 4-3 for Waterford after the latter had counted again in the fourth.

Farmington knotted the count at 4-4 in the sixth on a single by Norton, a stolen base and big single by Glen Lindsay.

But in the seventh, Waterford put together two singles and a stolen base with two out for the game-winning marker.

Easy Wins For East And West

The weather messed up the week's baseball action for both Garden City East and West high schools.

Each was limited to one game... but each won without any problems.

East ran wild over Inkster, 18-6, the Mid-Wayne league's defending champ while West had a picnic in blanking Crestwood, 10-0.

George Doboz continued his powerful spring-time slugging for East with a triple, double and two singles in five trips to the plate.

Doboz now has collected eight safeties in 17 tries this season for just under a .500 percentage.

Paul Kightlinger had a pair of doubles for East who made life easy for pitcher Joe Huber who allowed two runs in five innings before being retired for the afternoon.

East tallied five times in the second inning with Doboz's double with the bases jammed the big hit. In the seventh, Doboz singled in two more runs and Kightlinger followed with a two-run double.

West, in making its overall record for the year stand at 4-1, received four-hit pitching from Bob Gamache who fanned 13 and walked two.

West had a pair of five-run innings. In the fourth, Bo Ardel, Ford Simpson, Ben Sheemaker, Terry Thompson, Gamache and Gary Glade all singled.

In the sixth, Simpson walked, George Damanski and Sheemaker singled, Thompson walked, Gamache singled, Glade doubled and Don Bucer rapped a single.

Farmington Vaulter First To Hit 14-Ft.

An 18-year-old senior at Farmington High School made the big prep sports headlines in Michigan over the weekend.

Ron Shortt, who aspires next fall to enter the University of Michigan, became the first Michigan schoolboy to hit the 14-foot mark in the pole vault when he achieved that exact figure in the Central Relays at Mt. Pleasant.

Shortt soared to the majestic height on his first attempt and thus was able to retain his title in the biggest of Michigan's spring track carnivals.

"Our next goal is 15 feet with Ron and we think he'll get there this year," said his coach Douglas Race who called Shortt's accomplishments in his short pole-vaulting career "simply remarkable."

Race explained.

"Ron has been vaulting only for the second year. And remember how lousy our weather can be around Michigan in the spring. Just look at this year. Wet and cold."

"It's not like out in California or down in Florida or the southwest where a pole vaulter can participate in a year-around outdoor program.

"Our time here in Michigan is short. Ron didn't start vaulting until March 2."

Shortt was engaged in a duel with Fred Rowe of East Detroit High at Mt. Pleasant. Both had cleared 13 feet, six inches despite the bitter cold. Rowe had fewer misses and would have been awarded the victory had not Shortt made 14 feet.

The two preps both asked that the bar be placed at 14. Each wanted to register a Michigan "first."

Shortt went booming down the runway. Up and over! The crowd went wild.

Rowe tried three times. He couldn't connect.

The official state Class A record stands at 13 feet, 11 1/4 inches, and was made two years ago by Wayne Lambert of Saginaw Arthur Hill High.

Shortt will have to wait until the '66 state meet at Ann Arbor to knock out Lambert's record.

But Shortt already has erased his own school record of 13 feet, 9 1/2 inches set earlier this week against Detroit Redford in a dual meet won by Farmington, 57-52.

He has become the most-talked about prep athlete in Michigan.

Track isn't his only sport. Ron made all-conference football honors at Farmington last fall as a half back.

Shortt and Al Phillips of Thurston were the only area entries to win at Mt. Pleasant. Phillips won the high jump with an effort of 6 feet 1 1/4 inches.

Thurston's Chuck Nole ran fifth in the 100-yard dash, Thurston's middle distance relay placed third and Farmington's distance medley relay took fourth.

Chris Brown was the individual point-scoring king for Farmington against Redford as he won the broad jump, 100-yard dash and 220. He was clocked in 10.4 seconds in the "100."

Fritz Simons of the Falcons copped the shot put and low hurdles, while George Habicht triumphed in the high jump and Joe Watson the 440.

Thurston rolled over John Glenn, 92-17, in a dual meet. The Townshippers won every first place against a foe operating minus several of its regulars.

Franklin Ace Sets Record in '220' Dash

Take a bow, John Saven!

John has developed into the No. 1 track performer at Franklin High School.

He was never more brilliant than against North Farmington in leading Franklin to a 64 1/2-44 1/2 victory in a dual meet.

This was what Saven accomplished against the Raiders:

- 1—Set a school record of 23.2 seconds in winning the 220-yard dash. Saven had held the Franklin mark of 23.4 seconds.
- 2—Captured the long jump with a leap of 18 feet, 3 inches.
- 3—Sped to victory in the 100-yard dash in the fine time of 10.4 seconds.

Another star for Franklin is Dan Ryan, the distance whiz who alternates between the mile, the 880-yard run and the 440-yard dash.

Against North Farmington, Ryan ran the mile in the winning time of 4:35.6, one of the fastest fashioned by a Michigan schoolboy this season. Ryan also anchored the winning Franklin mile relay.

Larry August paced North Farmington with a victory in the low hurdles and also by running a leg on the school's victorious 880-yard relay.

Other winners:

Shot Put—Larry Naifeh (F), 47 feet, 11 inches.

High Jump—Mann (NF), 5 feet, 4 inches.

Pole Vault—Swanton (NF), 10 feet 6 inches.

880-yard Relay—North Farmington (August, Ware, Duhe, Whetter).

High Hurdles—Ross Richardson (F), 17.2 seconds.

880-yard Run—Bill Manion (F), 2:07.

440-yard Run—Duhe (NF), 52 seconds.

Low Hurdles—Larry August (NF), 21.8 seconds.

Mile relay—Franklin (Manika, Neeley, Manion, Ryan). Time: 3:40.

The combination of Larry August, Steve Duhe, Tom Ware and Bruce Whetter brought North Farmington victories in the 440 and 880 in the respective times of 44.9 seconds and 1:32.3.

Greg Succop, Robin Murphy, Brian Vanning and Jim Rowe handled matters for the Raiders in the distance medley with a time of 11:28.2.

Franklin took a second in the 440 and a third in the long jump relays. North Farmington placed second in the pole vault, third in the high jump and shuttle hurdles and fourth in the long jump.

Franklin scored victories in every event in rolling over Stevenson in a dual meet. Hank Isler paced the one-sided romp for the Franklin team by winning both the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Franklin and North Farmington faced again in Saturday's Heart Relays at Dearborn and came through in fine style.

Overall team honors went to Dearborn with 50 points. Franklin was second with 38 and North Farmington third with 36.

All events were staged as relays and Franklin and North Farmington each won three. Garden City East also competed, but failed to gain a victory.

Franklin triumphed in the shot put, four-mile and mile relays. North Farmington's wins came in the 440-yard and 880-yard relays and also the distance medley relay.

Larry Naifeh, Fred Sievert and Mike Naef formed Franklin's shot put trio. In the four mile, Chuck Lysett, Fred Nizol, Ted Gozalowski and Dan Ryan carried the mail in 19:14.4. Bill Manion, Keith Iler, Ryan and John Saven covered the mile relay in the winning time of 3:33.3.

'Slam' Helps Plymouth Win

Plymouth high's track team gained a 68-41 verdict over Northville while Bentley succumbed to Ypsilanti, 59-50, in non-league dual meets.

Rain forced postponement of the Suburban Six League encounter between Plymouth and Redford Union until next Monday afternoon at Plymouth.

The Rocks came through with a slam in the high hurdles to feature their victory over Northville. Dave Derr took the high sticks in 17.4 seconds and was followed home by teammates Jim Scharmen and Mike Stakias.

The Rocks also captured six other individual events along with both the relays.

Pat Brady won the shot put with a toss of 40 feet, 3 inches, which Larry Warnemunde took the long jump with a toss of 18 feet, 7 inches and Bill Clyde the pole vault by soaring nine feet, six inches.

In the running events, Curt Irish copped the 220 in 24.4 seconds, Dave Dirlam the 440 in 53.4 and Bill Kreitsch the 880 in 2:07.3 in addition to Derr in the hurdles.

Irish, Don Burleson, Brady and Steve Montgomery formed Plymouth's winning 880-yard relay in 1:37.4. Jerry Warnemunde, Ron Lowe, Mike Kubik and Durlam were clocked in 3:48.4 in taking the mile relay.

The final relay settled the Bentley-Ypsilanti meet in favor of the latter.

Bentley lost despite sweeps

In three events. In the shot put, Frank Miller won with a toss of 47 feet, six inches, followed by mates Larry Haggart and Tom Doyle.

In the high hurdles, Ken Jackson led Bentley in 15.2 seconds with Ron Gietzner and Jim Matevia right behind. Jackson also took the low hurdles in 20.4 seconds with Gietzner second and Gary Eggleston third.

Make Everything Clean and Smooth

Ready Wall Surface Before Painting

Make it clean, make it smooth and make it dry. Before you paint indoor walls make certain the surfaces are properly prepared and neither labor nor materials will be wasted.

Surface preparation is as important indoors as out. Outdoors durability is the most important consideration.

Indoors, walls will not be subjected to wind and weather but they will be subjected to closer scrutiny and streaks and tiny cracks will mar appearance.

Therefore care and neatness are needed, as well as thoroughness.

The surface must be clean. Putting paint over a coating of dirt is useless. In a matter of time it will crack and peel.

Remember that in order for paint to adhere properly it must penetrate the surface.

An ideal cleaning compound is trisodium phosphate. It cleans off dirt, cuts grease and does not leave a soapy film.

Paint stores carry it by its proper name but you can find it in grocery stores, under a variety of trade names, among cleaning compounds.

Just check the package for the list of ingredients.

Another advantage of this cleaner is that it will dull glossy paint, a necessary job to give the new paint a grip on the old.

Don't make the solution too strong or it will soften the paint. Be certain to rinse thoroughly.

Plastered surfaces should be inspected for cracks and chipped spots. Patch with spackling compound, sand smooth and spot prime.

New plaster is alkaline due to the lime that is in it. If you plan to use an oil paint you must neutralize this alkaline condition first.

Brush on a solution of one pound of zinc sulphate to a gallon of water. Allow to dry for several days.

Should you, or should you not, paint over wallpaper? Conditions will differ. Generally, loose or heavy wallpaper should be removed.

Wallpaper with lapped joints should be removed because the ridges will show. If the wallpaper is sound and there are no ridges then you may paint over it.

Before you paint over the paper, test it to make certain that the ink or dyes in it will not bleed through. Try a little of the paint in some inconspicuous corner.

If it bleeds but you still wish to paint over the wallpaper you will have to seal it with several thin coats of shellac.

Loose paint should be removed and the area sanded and primed. Sand the edges so they do not show through.

Apply several thin coats of paint to these spots before the general painting so they will be as high as the surrounding surface.

Glossy surfaces should be dulled with a strong cleaning solution or by sanding. Wipe thoroughly afterward to remove the dust.

If your walls are of wallboard, make sure that all joints are properly taped, filled and sanded.

Spackle over any nailheads that show, and sand.

Woodwork should be sanded smooth and clean. If the wood is new, seal knots with shellac before painting.

Paint in a well-ventilated room. Remove as much furniture as possible.

Cover everything with drop-cloths and use plenty of masking tape to protect surrounding surfaces.

Annual Home Checkups Are Big Item Today

Paint-up, fix-up, clean-up time again looms large on homeowners' agendas. Many may be found making notes on what points in and around the house should receive a check-up for annual care.

Authorities on the subject list areas in which homes most likely require attention. Careful, over-all inspection should be a matter of policy.

FOUNDATIONS may show cracks as a result of a year's weather damage, especially through ground holes at the foundation line. Masonry cracks are best filled with a pitch-based waterproofing cement.

The ground holes should be filled with sand or gravel and topped with soil or sod, as protection against future rains and more cracks in the foundations.

SIDING should be scrutinized for peeling paint, splintering, and general decay. A complete re-siding job may be indicated. In some cases, however, alternatives of re-painting, touch-up painting, and replacement of damaged portions of siding will be adequate.

ROOFING inspection may show loose or warped panels or shingles, which should be replaced or re-nailed.

CHIMNEY mortar should be filled in where necessary. Loose bricks or stones should be secured. Flashing around chimneys may need replacement, if cracked or corroded.

GUTTERS and downspouts may easily become loose and weather-worn in a year's time. Re-nail loose parts and repaint where indicated. Clogged passages should be cleared.

WINDOWS, DOORS—Frames should be checked for possible air leakage. Re-caulking will keep weather out.

LAWN, GARDEN inspection and care may vary with individual taste and the green thumb talent available. In general, holes may be filled in with sand or gravel and covered with turf.

Plans may be laid for re-seeding, fertilizing lawns, replanting gardens.

DRIVEWAYS may reveal cracks in paving to be filled, or replacement of lost gravel.

In new paving, thought should be given to convexing the driveway surface for drainage, to permit water to drain onto the lawn, rather than the street.

TREES, SHRUBS are sure to need a tidying trim. Check dead tree branches, withering shrubbery and hedges.

HEATING EQUIPMENT should be cleaned, adjusted and, if necessary, repaired by an experienced serviceman, at least once a year. If yours is an older furnace or burner, remodeling, up-dating or complete replacement may be in order.

ALL HOMES need a landscape plan to tie into the surrounding areas. Each has a different locale and each has a shape and design of its own. No two homes can be landscaped exactly alike. That's why it is important to call upon a person with the knowledge of design and plant material to assist with landscaping. Last week we showed the initial planting. This week the plan shows the growth of the early planting, plus added material to soften the expense of the driveway, the front entrance and the walk to the patio. The left corner planting helps tie in the side yard with the front yard planting. Planting smaller shrubs in front, softens the larger shrubs and helps tie the beds in a pleasing line. Next week, we will show the completed landscape design.

Trees, Shrubs Add to Beauty of Home

Different trees and shrubs have different purposes, and the homeowner always should take this into consideration when purchasing them.

The principal reasons for planting trees are for beauty and function. Trees for shade include the maples, oaks, linden, magnolia, pecan, plane trees and hundreds of others.

Trees for flowers include the crabapples, camellia, cherries, magnolias, albizia, catalpa.

Trees for windbreaks and green color in winter are the coniferous evergreens, such as pines, spruces, hemlocks, arbor vitae.

Trees with interesting barks are the beeches, birches, walnuts, mandarin.

Trees for edible fruits and nuts also provide attractive flowers (and sometimes shade) — apples, cherries, pears, plums, citrus, pecans, walnuts, to name a few.

Trees for ornamental fruits are winterberry, mountain ash, hawthorne, hollies and others.

Shrubs for flowers are numerous — roses, azaleas, rhododendrons, hydrangeas, stewartia, hibiscus, oleanders, forsythias, spirea, many more.

Almost any shrub can be used for hedges. Selected should be those which reach the height the homeowner wishes when the shrubs are mature.

A hedge can be anywhere from a foot or two, up to 20 feet high or more, depending on the species and whether one wishes flowers, screening, evergreen or other characteristics.

Plants which never grow high enough to block views from first floor windows should be planted around the foundations of the home.

The darkest green of all shrubs is taxus, or yew, which gives excellent winter color, as do juniper and arbor vitae.

Give Lawn Good Start In Spring

Without proper preparation and care in the Spring, your lawn can deteriorate rapidly after what looks like a good start.

In early Spring rake your lawn vigorously and apply fertilizer or modern combinations of crabgrass control and fertilizers. Mow established grass with a sharp-bladed mower to about two inches in height. Then apply, if needed, broadleaf weed control with fertilizer and insect control with fertilizer.

Grass food and crabgrass and insect control with fertilizer are used by professional turf grass growers.

Good lawns grow only on a fertile soil. This is the trade secret of professional turfmen who know that rapidly growing Spring grass needs plenty of nourishment. Use fertilizers containing, not only organic nitrogen, but also phosphorus and other nutrients that build up the fertility of your soil and, at the same time, give increasingly better turf.

On The Lawn By Larry Lawrence

I get more and more letters about sod. Where can I get it? Is it hard to lay? How much does it cost? There's no doubt that this interest in buying "instant" lawn has increased tremendously just in the past two or three years.

The availability of sod varies a great deal. In places close to commercial sod farms it is sold by the yard at most garden centers - and even by the big stores. Or you can call a nursery and have them deliver and install a whole lawn. In other parts of the country it may still be hard to come by. But the business is expanding rapidly.

Is sod easy to lay? Yes, you can easily carpet or repair a small area yourself. Doing a whole lawn at once might well call for some assistance. Prices don't vary too much. But since you're making an investment that might last a lifetime, you should judge by the quality of the turf, not by the price.

Much in demand is the new Windsor sod, not only for its rich color but because of its resistance to heat and drought and disease. You can find out if it is available in your neighborhood by writing to Scotts in Marysville, O. These are the people who developed it from a single patch discovered growing wild 17 years ago.

Four Deadly Horsemen Prey On Households

Sunlight, moisture, wind and fire are the four deadly horsemen that prey on houses.

Each year thousands of homes are damaged or destroyed by the elements. In many cases, premature deterioration could have been averted in the design stage.

Roofs and sidings take the heaviest punishment from elemental home wreckers. Here is how the elements do their deadly work:

1.—Sunlight causes paint to fade and dries out building materials.

Building products manufacturers devise many ways to defeat the sun's destructive rays. One method used successfully is to coat the material with mineral granules that absorb the rays.

Another method is to filter out harmful rays. An example of a filter-type finish is the acrylic plastic coatings used on mineral fiber sidings.

2.—Moisture from leaks and condensation can damage gypsum wallboard, plaster and woodwork and cause paint to peel.

You can prevent this type of damage by repairing leaks promptly and caulking joints where leaks are likely to occur, such as around windows, doors and sills.

Provision for adequate ventilation for the attic, insulation of water pipes, use of effective storm sash or insulating glass on windows and use of "breather-type" exterior materials are some ways to prevent damage by condensation or trapped moisture.

3.—Wind damages homes by hurling debris, knocking over trees, blowing off shingles and putting tremendous pressure on building materials.

The proper precautions can curtail this type of damage. Trim branches or cut down trees that threaten to damage your house. Batten down loose objects before a storm. Specify self-sealing asphalt shingles for your roof if you're building, expanding or re-roofing. These shingles are certified as "wind-resistant" by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

4.—Fire is a menace to both life and property. It can destroy in a few minutes what has taken a lifetime to build and accumulate.

In addition to normal fire safety precautions, it is a good idea to use fire-resistant materials for roofing and siding.

Replanting Adds to Value of Older Homes

How does one know when he should renew the landscaping around his home? When the leaves of shrubs or trees start to touch each other, unless it happens to be a hedge, it is "time for a change" according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Aged shrubs and tree plantings usually look the part — they may be unkempt, diseased, or simply "too large for the space available."

In re-landscaping, unless the shrubs and trees are past redemption, many may be saved, thus cutting down on re-planting costs.

In past years, many shrubs have been planted that were entirely unsuitable for foundation plantings. The consequences are evident in large trees and shrubs too close to houses so that windows and light are blocked off.

Recently-developed low-growing shrubs should be planted under windows so views will never be blocked off.

Where trees have been planted too closely in the past, grass sometimes will not grow, leaving bare ground for a yard.

Renewal of landscaping, if carefully done, need not be costly. It should, however, be done according to a plan which provides pleasant living and natural beauty for the family.

Sometimes shrubs can be divided and pruned in order to make them smaller. Often overgrown shrubs can be pruned back. The pruning should be done by an experienced nurseryman. Different shrubs need to be cut back in different ways. Certain shrubs that are overgrown cannot simply be cut back, but have to be carefully pruned. Trees should not interfere with power and phone lines to the house.

Good advice is necessary. Some homeowners unwittingly will cut down beautiful and valuable trees such as a Japanese Maple, for example, while a good nurseryman or landscape architect may build the whole plan around such an "accent" tree.

'Mum Culture'

Livonia Home Gardeners Club will hold its regular meeting on May 11, at 8 p.m., at Bentley High School in Room 115.

Speaker will be Paul E. Machuga, president of Detroit Chrysanthemum Society. His subject will be "Chrysanthemum Culture." Hostesses will be Mrs. Marie Spanich, Mrs. Ellen Candlish.

Nail Stone Smugglers

Tongue-and-groove panel boards should be blind-nailed through the tongue so that the nail is covered up by the groove of the adjacent board.

Boards more than eight inches wide should be face-nailed.

Millwork Can Aid In Rancho

Can a modern house be transformed to a rich, handsome traditional?

Yes, and it's easier than you may think.

Furnishings obviously will be one key to the transformation. The other and perhaps more important key is alteration of the shell of each room — walls, ceiling, floor.

Look at any good traditional and you'll realize what's missing in the modern ranch—architectural millwork. Crown moldings, baseboards, detailing around fireplace and cabinets, raised panel doors—rarely are these found in the usual rancho.

Happily, these moldings are readily available at any retail lumber yard, and their price will please the budget-minded. Patterns and sizes vary widely.

Installation is not much of a trick, and finish can be paint, satin-finish clear varnish, or natural wood stain. Wainscoting, another traditional detail, can be added at the same time as moldings.

The court case between Attorney Earl Demel and the City of Plymouth, over the vacating of Maple Street and the failure to sell the property adjoining Snyder Furniture on Ann Arbor Trail, will be resumed Friday before Circuit Court Judge George Bowles.

Members of the American Association of University Women, Plymouth branch, will attend the regional conference in Chicago over the weekend. The delegates are: Mrs. John Haas, Mrs. George Spaniel, Mrs. Stanley Weber, Mrs. James Knowles, Mrs. Dale Carmine and Mrs. James McKeon. Alternates are: Mrs. Robert Gilmore, Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing and Mrs. John Moehle.

The Plymouth Demolays will hold their annual spring car wash on Saturday, May 14 at the rear of Plymouth High School starting at 10 a.m. Frank Smalley is the Dad Advisor of the group and Leonard McAlup is the master counselor. The Demolays are sponsored by Plymouth Rock Lodge 47, F&AM. The car wash is a fund raising event to help finance the group's activities during the year.

Symphony Society to Open Membership Drive on May 9

The Plymouth Symphony will open its annual membership drive for 1966-7 during the week of May 9 through May 15 and continue for the remainder of the year with the hope of adding numerous members.

William Birge is chairman of the campaign and will be assisted by a committee including: Mrs. Roger Zerby, family members; John Herb, industrial; Robert Sincok, business; and Dr. Robert Peterson, organization members.

The theme of this year's campaign is "The Plymouth Symphony Growing with a Growing Community."

The Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Conductor Wayne Dunlap, has just completed its 20th season. In the coming year, the Symphony Society hopes to enlarge its cultural contribution to the community and to encourage the development of the arts among the young people.

It hopes to grow by (1) Increased Interlochen scholarships for young students; (2) Concerts presented in Plymouth to have a second showing in a nearby community; (3) a permanent conductor; (4) an auditorium.

The Symphony Board will offer its services to the school board in working towards this goal: (5) support and encourage the development of the Junior Symphony Orchestra; (6) to continue to provide high quality of orchestral performances and to encourage the appreciation of music by all.

Beginning with May 9, all member families, new families to the community, friends, businesses, organizations and industries will receive invitations to join the Symphony Society. Many interested residents may be missed but Chairman Birge urges all to consider joining up.

The membership categories are: active, $7.50 and up; sustaining, $25 and up; supporting, $15 and up; patron, $50 and up.

Mail all contributions and memberships to the Plymouth Symphony Society, PO Box 99, Plymouth.

United Church Women Slate Annual Breakfast on Friday

Mrs. Robert Willoughby, of the Mt. Olivet Methodist Church in Dearborn, will discuss "Poverty and Plenty, Discover, Plan and Act" as the principal speaker at the annual May Breakfast of the United Church Women of Plymouth.

This year's breakfast will be held in the First Methodist Church at 9:30 a.m. on Friday, May 6.

Guest soloist will be Mrs. Walter Lake, of the First Baptist Church, accompanied by Mrs. Velma Searfoss.

Reservations may be made through the participating churches or by calling Mrs. Sanford Burr at 453-0556.

Tickets will be handled by the Salvation Army; table decorations by St. John's Episcopal Church; name tags by Epiphany Lutheran Church; devotionals by the Church of the Latter Day Saints; and publicity by the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Blain Lytle, of the Methodist Church, is president of the United Church Women.

The Marine Corps Band is the only military force which can not be transferred from the Washington D.C. area without expressed permission from the President of the United States.

Hear Plans for DBD

two-thirds expressed a willingness to participate in the purchase of additional parking facilities.

Eldridge said that the volume of business in the community has grown from $24.4 millions in 1954 to $28.6 millions in 1958 and to $41.4 millions in 1963.

The planners also learned that there has been a loss to the community of monies available to come into the community during the period of 1964-1963.

Their tabulations show that: foods and drugs have increased from $6.7 millions to $9.9; services are up to $2.8 millions; auto sales from $5.8 to $16.6; other retail sales from $8.2 to $8.7; and general merchandising from $2.0 to $1.9.

"These figures show that the community is not keeping up with the money available to the community," said Eldridge.

He pointed out that some of this is due to the triple increase in comparison shopping at the Livonia Mall, Wonderland Shopping Center and Westland.

"There has been a shift in sales volume and it has been felt in Plymouth," he stated. "We believe the construction of the freeways could help Plymouth if there is something to offer."

He told of the strip commercial development in the community, pointing to Ann Arbor Road with the automotive use, Main Street with banking and commercial, Starkweather and Penniman with commercial and Ann Arbor Trail with some commercial.

"Plymouth faces the problem of trying to overcome the system of having all businesses fronting on Main Street," he said as he presented a map showing all parking lots with a total of 1,163 offstreet spaces, 260 on the street and 146 metered spaces.

He mentioned the traffic circulation in the downtown business district which shows that 5,000 cars pass on Ann Arbor Trail in 24 hours, and 14,500 per 24-hour period on Main Street.

The consultants are recommending a circular one-way route around the business section, moving counter clockwise around Harvey, Deer, Wing, Union and Church, as a solution to the traffic flow.

"This would require less lanes, establish a true right of way, made left and right turns available without halting traffic and generally improve all flow," he stated.

The consultants also are recommending the closing of Penniman Ave. from Union to Harvey for a mall type of operation. They believe it would bring back pedestrian business and result in a strong shopping area.

Then he went into the proposed Urban Renewal plans for the quadrant that would include the area bounded by Wing, Ann Arbor Trail, Linden and mid-way through Deer and Kellogg.

"We believe the key issue is how to resolve the changing use of the land from dwellings to business," he said. "We feel urban renewal is the solution even though it doesn't follow that all dwelling in the area are substandard even though there are some."

The matter of Urban Renewal has been discussed informally by the City Commission but no definite action has been taken.

Matter of fact, the City Commission will receive its first real look at the proposals in Thursday's open meeting with the planning commission.

TOP PRICES

Thinking of selling?

DON'T SELL YOURSELF SHORT!

A 10-year study shows that brokers-sold houses brought a 9 1/2% higher price than similarly owner-sold houses. Brokers usually can get higher mortgages, better terms than an individual acting on his own.

As an objective party, broker has experience in bringing principals together, property gets greater exposure.

We would like to talk over your property problems. Call us today. We believe you will find your call to us a profitable one.

Suburban Six Baseball Roundup:

2 Days-Bentley Finally Wins

Believe this or not! It took Livonia Bentley high's baseball team two days, 19 innings and two games to score one victory over Redford Union in their joint curtain raiser in the Suburban Six League's 1966 title chase.

This is what happened:
1—On Monday the two teams squared off and went until the twelfth inning when the umpires called the proceedings because of darkness with the score tied at 3-3.
2—The next afternoon in 40-degree weather, the teams had to start all over again. From scratch as it were. This time Bentley came through with a 6-0 victory.

"I can't remember anything like this ever happening before," said Bentley coach Mart Klozik.

RU coach Bob Atkins agreed.

Bentley used two pitchers—Bill McAlpine and Hank Schoenbeck—in the long deadlock with Schoenbeck finishing up and not allowing a hit while fanning five in the final 3 1/2 innings of the action.

Kevin Fox started for RU. Tom Bogker, Ferguson and Earl Bourassa followed and the latter matched Schoenbeck in the closing frames as the light began to fade.

RU needed a run in the final (seventh) regulation inning to pull even. Randy Maltby was safe on an error and stole second. Jim Johnston lashed a long triple to score Maltby and the long siege of extra innings began.

Bentley had scored twice in the second inning on a double by Ed Ryan and singles by McAlpine and Mike Damache. In the fourth, Don Montroy and Chuck Mallas combined for the final Bentley run.

Hits by Johnston, Fox, Becklerieg helped RU to fashion its first two runs in the third inning.

Bentley made 10 hits to eight for Redford Union.

When the teams met the following day, it was a re-freshed Dave Gorton who scattered four singles and fanned six in emerging as the hero for Bentley. He walked only one batter.

Booker and Bourassa worked for Redford Union.

Bentley scored in the second when Ed Ryan was safe on an error, Bill Woods single, Damache was safe on an error, Mallas walked and Paul Sorenson walked.

In the sixth walks to Mallas, Greg Coleman and Don Montroy loaded the bases. Then Ryan singled and Gorton wrapped up his own verdict with a lousy double.

The rain kept Bentley idle the rest of the week, but Redford Union rebounded to gain a 1-0 verdict over Belleville with Bourassa turning in a pitching gem. He struck out nine, walked nobody and scattered three hits.

RU cashed its only run in the third inning when Rod Ferguson singled and stole second. Then Johnston lashed one that hit the umpire and Johnston was credited with a single. Mark Ross followed with a perfect squeeze bunt on which Ferguson came home.

Johnston and Leland Bjerke each contributed a single and double to the RU cause.

Rocks Troubles Grow

Plymouth continued to have its baseball troubles. The Rocks, who dropped their first four non-league assignments, could do no better in their initial play in Suburban Six Conference, falling to Belleville, 6-0, and Trenton, 8-5.

Bill Ray of Belleville flipped a no-hitter against Plymouth as he permitted only two men to reach base—both on walks. The Rocks sent only 23 men to the plate.

Sorrows Blazes in Fast Start

Our Lady of Sorrows is off and running in its bid for divisional baseball honors in the Catholic League.

Sorrows turned in a pair of league wins last week by downing St. Francis de Sales, 9-5, and St. Benedict, 6-1, to gain a 2-0 record in the standings.

Jerry Turner fanned 13, allowed two hits and walked seven in beating St. Francis in a game which wasn't decided until the first extra inning—the eighth.

Greg Main with a single and two-run homer led the winners while David Hickey, Chuck Haffey and Mike Bloun also picked up a pair of safeties for the winners.

Turner and Hickey each knocked in two runs with a hit in the eighth. Bloun and Main had started the inning with singles. Then after a walk to Haffey, Turner and Hickey stroked their big blows.

NORTHWEST LEAGUE ROUNDUP:

Thurston Takes Over As Franklin Slips

Thurston high's baseball team has moved to the fore in the Northwest Suburban League.

Meantime, keep your eyes on North Farmington, too!

And, remember Franklin, the team that won 19 straight. The Livonians now have dropped four in a row.

The winning ways of Wayne John Glenn also have ended. After starting the current season with a record-setting (for Glenn) eight straight triumphs, Glenn succumbed twice a last week in its initial week of Northwest League action.

Thurston, bidding to regain the loop flag won last year by Franklin, chalked up a 2-1 conference win over Glenn and a 2-0 verdict over Franklin in last week's action.

North Farmington, held to one game during the week by the weather, turned back Oak Park, 4-3, in its league debut.

Meantime, Groves knocked off Glenn, 9-4, while Franklin succumbed outside the league to Northville, 7-4.

The story, game by game:

THURSTON 2, FRANKLIN 0

Dick Pilar, a left hander, outduelled Larry Ruzzas who deserved a better fate.

Pilar gave up four hits to Ruzzas' six. Thurston went without a run until the fifth when Mike Turner reached first when he was hit by a pitch. Bob Holmes singled; and Turner came home to score on an error.

In the seventh, Thurston cashed another unearned run. Rod Szymanski singled and moved around on an error and fielder's choice.

THURSTON 2, GLENN 1

Brilliant four-hit pitching by Bob Durand enabled Thurston to squeeze past Glenn, whose Mike McMaster allowed just five hits.

Durand fanned ten and gave up the lone run to Glenn in the second when John Wood doubled and Lee Anderson singled.

Both the Thurston runs came in the fourth inning. Paul Santangelo doubled and walked home when Reg Baringer tripled. Dan Harris then lifted an infield fly, which was muffed and Baringer was able to count what proved the deciding marker.

The week's action gave Thurston an overall 4-1 record.

N. FARMINGTON 4, OAK PARK 3

As so frequently has happened for North Farmington in the last two seasons, the hero was Chuck Viane.

This time his bat made the difference. More often, it's his pitching, and on this occasion, Viane did come in for the final inning to hold the Parkers in check.
