

Plymouth, Farmington papers sold to Philip Power

An agreement to sell two well-established metropolitan area weekly newspapers to Philip H. Power, of Ann Arbor, has been announced jointly by Power and Russell S. Strickland, of Bloomfield Hills, the present publisher. Involved are the Farmington Enterprise and the Plymouth Mail.

Strickland, who was sole owner, is transferring his entire interest to Power, who will become publisher of the papers. Power, who is a descendant of the pioneer who founded Farmington in 1824, last December acquired the Observer Newspaper Group, which is based in Livonia and publishes community papers in that city and in Plymouth, Garden City, Redford Township, Westland, and Farmington.

Power said that for the present both of the Strickland papers would continue to be published under their existing names and that the staffs would be retained. Strickland is retiring from the operation and will devote himself to other interests.

"I am pleased that the tradition of constructive journalism upheld by these papers will be continued by Mr. Power. He is just the man for the publishing responsibility," Strickland stated. Power said, "The papers are in major growth areas in which I see an excellent opportunity for community service on an expanded scale."

The 27-year-old publisher was born in Ann Arbor and graduated from University High School. He received an A.B. degree, summa cum laude, from the University of Michigan in 1960.

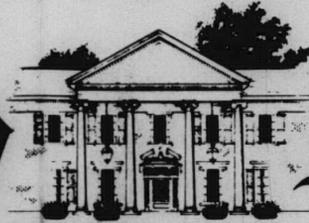

As a student, Power was editorial director of the Michigan Daily and a member of the Student Governmental Council. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

After a year of graduate study in history at the University, Power served as city editor of the Fairbanks, Alaska Daily News-Miner.

From 1962 to 1964 he was a Marshall Scholar at University College in Oxford, England — receiving a degree in philosophy and economics. At the same time he was a foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News.

During the 1964 gubernatorial campaign, Power served as aide to Neil Staebler. For the past year and a half, he has been administrative assistant to Congressman Paul H. Todd, Jr. of Kalamazoo.

Charge police bias in cab license seizure

Earl Demel Monday leveled charges against City of Plymouth police of discrimination and unauthorized entry into private homes in the recent seizure of taxi cab licenses bearing forged doctors' signatures.

Demel's attack came at the regular meeting of the City Commission Monday night.

Demel, an attorney, said the police discriminated in the issuance of licenses, and the enforcement of the ordinance regarding them. He went on to charge taxi cab drivers' homes had been entered and the licenses and health certificates taken.

"My client informs me that perhaps the police have been overzealous in enforcing this ordinance," Demel said.

"It's never been brought to me," was City Manager Richard Blodgett's reply. Demel commented: "My client tells me that driver's homes were entered and the licenses taken." Demel said.

Testimonial for Vivian is May 20

Congressman William D. Ford (D), Taylor, will lead the parade of appreciative citizens honoring U. S. Representative, Wes Vivian this Friday night at the Thunderbird. The Testimonial Dinner Dance in Congressman Vivian's honor will feature Thunderbird Buffet and the music of Joe Banquet.

Dinner Co-Chairman, Irving Rozian, of Plymouth Township reports that a sellout crowd is expected.

He commented that he thought it appropriate for Plymouth to sponsor its first such dinner for this Congressman in as much as Vivian, singled Plymouth out as the place in which he first announced his intention to seek re-election.

"In addition to excellent fare, we promise that speechmaking will be held to a minimum," Razian said.

were actually entered illegally, or broken into. Demel's reply brought demands for a hearing on the charges from City Commissioners:

"Yes, I was told they were taken. The police didn't exactly force their way in, but then I understand they weren't exactly invited" the attorney said. When asked who Demel's client was, he replied Mr. Florence, referring to John Florence of the Mayflower Cab Company.

City Commissioner Robert Smith called the statement "out of order."

Commissioner Arch Vallier passed over that comment, and said: "The statements have been made. We should find out whether or not they are true."

City attorney Thomas Healy agreed and insisted the Commission listen to and question Demel's charges.

Demel was asked to appear with Florence at the first June meeting of the Commission. Demel also noted that he had not come to make charges, but to comment on a pending amendment to the taxi cab ordinance.

Florence, and several taxi cab drivers became embroiled in controversy a few weeks ago when police received reports that drivers' health certificates had been forged.

A confidential police report was filed to the City Commission, listing the drivers involved, and noting who had signed the certificates. That report remains confidential, and City officials have been reluctant to discuss the case.

The police seized the licenses involved, then returned them as each driver came in with a valid health certificate. The certificates are required by an ordinance, which City police chief Kenneth Fisher has reported is weak and needs fixing.

No charges were brought on the forgery, because the case had had a public airing before the Commission and the public, Fisher explained recently.

Just what the ordinance is capable of is clouded, according to both Fisher and Blodgett. Fisher, when the licenses were returned, noted that a complete physical was not required.

On other taxi cab matters, Blodgett and City Commissioner A. E. Vallier exchanged sharp remarks

ROUTS FAMILY: A blaze in the home of H. C. Root, 9259 Ridge Rd., routed the family early Sunday morning as the farmhouse was gutted after a fire started in a coal stove in the kitchen. Apparently Root had left the damper out of the smoke stack for the stove; the fire spread upstairs, burning the roof and much of the home, leaving it uninhabitable, according to Plymouth Township firemen. Sgt. Fred Knupp, center, waits word from firemen inside to turn the water on at the 6 a.m. fire.

New city seen in charter vote

The proposed incorporation of about half of Plymouth Township into the City of Plymouth Heights will be on the August primary ballot, according to John McEwen Plymouth Township supervisor and mayor de-facto of the proposed city.

This is the third time the charter will have been voted. It first came up in January, 1961.

The charter proposes an incorporation of the area east of McClumpha Rd. to the borders of the Township.

The Attorney General's office has forwarded the charter to the Governor, and reports it is in "unusually good order," according to McEwen.

The charter commission meets this Saturday to iron out last minute revisions suggested by the Attorney General. Maurice Breen, commission chairman, along with Harlan Hickerson, Martin Schomberger, John Murawski, William Green, Robert Richardson and Daniel Evans, Jr. form the commission.

The Charter was drafted to cover the area east of McClumpha only because there was not the required 500 people per square mile to the west, according to McEwen.

Just what would happen to the rest of the Township if the charter bid should pass is not clear. A new township government would have to be formed, or the area would have to be annexed to the City of Plymouth Heights.

In July of 1963, the charter proposal went down to a resounding defeat, 658-46. The vote in 1961 was similar, with 35 saying 'yes' and 1,589 saying 'no'.

The charter is regarded as a legal 'holding action' preventing any adjoining municipalities — namely the Cities of Livonia and Plymouth, from annexing land in the Township.

Offices in the new city were based on write-in ballots in the 1963 vote.

Also expected on the ballot are the clerk, treasurer and supervisor who are up for election. Also, two trustees positions are up for a vote: Ralph Garber's and Gene Overholt's.

Poppy Day

Bright red poppies will be for sale in Plymouth tomorrow, May 19, as the Plymouth veterans' organizations conduct their annual Buddy Poppy Day.

Chaired by a member of the Mayflower Post No. 6695 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, James McKindles, the day is the only fund raising event for Plymouth veterans' groups.

Volunteers from the VFW, and the Post No. 391 of the American Legion, and the women's Auxiliary groups will participate in the event.

The memorial flowers are made by disabled and needy veterans, with money going for welfare work.

The flowers serve as a memory of those who died for our country, and as a way of raising funds to help those disabled in our wars. VFW headquarters will be at Red's Barber Shop on Penniman Ave.

Township agrees on joint police study

Plymouth Township officials agreed last week to appoint Richard Lauterbach to the proposed joint police study committee, upon the recommendation of the blue-ribbon joint governmental meeting held at the end of April.

That meeting was composed of officials from the cities of Northville and Plymouth, and the Townships of Northville, Plymouth and Canton, and the Plymouth School Board.

Both the City and the Township have agreed to the study, and work is expected to start immediately.

Lauterbach has been close to the situation, having reported in March of 1965 that formation of a Township police force was not feasible, due to the high cost. Lauterbach headed up a committee to study the matter.

The Plymouth Township Board approved Lauterbach's appointment at the regular meeting last Tuesday.

They also pressed action on interviewing candidates for the Township's public safety director's post. Money was placed in the budget for the man to be hired. According to John McEwen, supervisor, he will also be appointed to the police study committee once hired.

The Board also named Louis Norman to a joint study, with other governments, of an incinerator authority with Livonia, to fill a pressing need for a place to dispose of rubbish.

In other action, residents from the Glenview subdivision along Territorial Rd. were at the meeting "en masse" to seek answers on questions about water tap charges. Township treasurer Elizabeth Holmes explained what happened:

"They requested some answers on water and sewer line charges, and in each case we told them they were covered by an ordinance, and that the ordinance was

Schoolcraft seeks 77/100 mills in June

Beating the deadline for filing on the ballot by a few short hours, Schoolcraft College Friday agreed to request an additional 77/100 of a mill in tax monies. The request will appear on the June 13 school ballot.

The Board of Trustees met at 5 p.m. Friday in the wake of an attorney general's ruling that said they must put the millage on the ballot. Previously they had felt it could be levied without a vote of the people, according to a provision in the new constitution.

Schoolcraft College is supported by millage voted from five school districts: Northville, Livonia, Garden City, Clarenceville and Plymouth.

"The action, although unanimous was taken with great reluctance by the Board of Trustees. The request was made necessary by rising costs of operation and construction," College president Eric Bradner said.

The amount requested, when added to the present one mill voted in 1962 will enable the College to pay all of the costs of operating the College, including the equipping and operating of the vocational technical building now nearing completion.

The amount requested, when added to the 1962 millage, will also pay all service and other charges for the bonds issued for the present campus and for three million dollars of additional bonds needed to match Federal Seven have filed for the three posts open on the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education.

The deadline was 4 p.m. Saturday. Last week, the Mail reported incumbents Ernest Henry and R. Bruce Scott had filed, along with Richard Arlen and Robert Tripp.

Those filing last week were: Dr. Gary Hall, a dentist. Roscoe Walker, a Ford Motor Co. employee.

And, John W. Moehle, finance analyst at Ford.

The election will be held Monday, June 13. A map of the precincts in which each voter votes, as well as pictures and comments on issues from each of the candidates will appear in the Mail in subsequent issues.

Here's brief background on the three additional candidates.

Gary Hall, 480 Lindsay Drive A dentist, Hall's office is in Lake Pointe. Married, he and his wife have one child. He is a graduate of the University of Detroit dental school, has lived here three years, and is active in the local dental association and the Jay-Cees.

Seek millage in June and State funds now available for new buildings.

In deciding upon the request for less than one mill the Board chose the unusual figure of 77/100 of a mill because it was determined that this millage would bring enough funds to meet the needs of the College.

"The Board decided to request no more than is actually needed," Bradner explained.

In addition to completing and operating the vocational complex the additional millage will enable the Board to build a new classroom building, a physical education complex; pave existing parking areas, provide essential site improvements and allow for the enlargement of the library, already overcrowded.

The projected classroom building will provide 32 additional instructional stations designed for both large and small classes. A second "forum" or small auditorium will accommodate classes and demonstrations in speech and drama as well as allow use by civic groups.

The facility will also provide much needed office space for the faculty to be added because of student growth.

The projected physical education facility is still in the early planning phase but will be large enough to provide for the instructional needs of the 5,000 students expected by 1971.

Schoolcraft College is now completing its second year of instruction. From an opening number of 1,900 students last year, the College this year served 2,504 persons. Applications for admission for the fall semester seem to indicate a student body of more than 3,000 students next year.

The 77/100 millage request is based upon the following tentative budget:

For operation in 1966-67 and thereafter 1.00000 Mill
 To service 1962 Bond Issue ($2,435,000) .38759 Mill
 To service 1964 Bond Issue ($1,250,000) .06357 Mill
 To service 1966 Bonds, not yet approved or issued ($3,000,000) .31800 Mill (estimate) Needed - Total Millage 1.76916 Present Authority - Millage 1.00000 Needed Additional Authority - Millage .76916
 REQUESTED - Millage .77

The requested millage is needed if the people wish the College to maintain its present high standards and accommodate the people who will seek admission in the years ahead," Bradner commented.

Last month, the Board announced a small millage increase - .318 - which would have been levied, without a vote, to pay for a $3 million bond issue. That levy, as this one, will be placed against an estimated $620,000,000 estimated valuation of the College district.

Instruments needed at State Hospital

Musical instruments are needed for the children at Ypsilanti State Hospital. Used drums, violins, clarinets, saxophones, auto-harps, record players or any other instruments could be used by the children.

The Washtenaw County Chapter for the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children are seeking donations of instruments in good condition to be used by the children at the York Woods Center at Ypsilanti State Hospital. The new children's hospital was dedicated a year ago.

The children at the Center are not retarded, but are emotionally disturbed.

Donations of instruments may be made by calling Mr. Roland Will at 482-0074 or the Ypsilanti State Hospital at 482-8700. The instruments could also be brought to the office of the Plymouth Mail at 271 S. Main St.

 over another portion of the current cab ordinance. Vallier urged enforcement of a section that called for regular inspection of the cabs.

"These cab inspections still haven't been done. I've seen cabs with bald tires on them uptown. I can't understand why this hasn't been done before," Vallier said.

Blodgett reported the ordinance was very broad and general in nature and difficult to work with. "I don't care. I want a report every 60 days," Vallier said.

"I'd like a more specific request," Blodgett said.

Ken Fisher noted that the inspections had been made from time to time but no formal report made.

"I hope the Commission doesn't expect a technical report from the police," Blodgett said, explaining they were not mechanics.

"It doesn't take any brains to see bald tires," Vallier said. "Nor does it take any special knowledge to check the lights and the brakes."

"Why didn't you report the bald tires," Blodgett asked Vallier.

"Because I don't want to. The police can do it," Vallier retorted.

"I think we need it now. And we'll certainly need it when the Ford plant gets done," McEwen. If the County agrees, they must share the cost up to 15%, and the rail road the rest.

In other action:
 * Robert Wedler's request for a re-hearing of a commercial zoning for an Ann Arbor Rd.-Haggerty Rd. was denied. Attorney Ralph Cole had ruled that the matter legally did not have to be heard, but that the Board might want to hear it on its merits. They did not.

* Ralph Cole was named Township attorney, and a legal policy was adopted after a struggle over the former attorney, Earl Demel, ended. After he fell ill, Tom Foley, a judge who lives in Plymouth, handled some legal matters, then Cole took over.

With the exchange over, the Commission voted to have the police report on cab inspections four times a year.

The second and third readings of an amendment to the taxi cab ordinance were approved. The change allows issuance of a temporary permit by the police while the formal license is processed. In other action the City:

* Accepted for study a request, by petition, (52 signatures) from residents of the Byron-Ross-Dewey-Simpson Street area for a park on the Dewey-Byron corner. The land recently became available when a water tower was removed. Blodgett is expected to report in June on the matter.

* Sold the water tower property behind the Presbyterian Church to the Church for $2500.

* Agreed to send to Federal officials a report on the City's workable program, over the no votes of Commissioner George Lawton and James McKeon, who both felt the report should be looked at before approved. "We've missed a chance to study an important matter," McKeon said.

consider a rezoning request from Mrs. Julia Mangogna through her attorney Edward Draugelis. McEwen said he felt this may hit a snag for the same reason Wedler's request did: a one year lapse between applications for rezoning is required.

* Herbert Smith was hired as a building inspector.

A REVIEW

Guild's musical great fun

"I'm just a broken butterfly on the wheel of life," moans Nellie Quackenbush as the audience cheers.

That priceless line and many others filled the Plymouth Theatre Guild's full-scale musical at the Plymouth Art Theatre last week as the curtain went up on what is hoped to be a new era in live drama in Plymouth.

Presenting the "Farmer's Daughter, or No, No, A Million Times No," and using a theater built in 1918 with full rigging for live productions, the Guild put out their best group effort of the season.

The old-fashioned melo-drama set to music drew laughs on every line in places as the audience cheered and clapped for the poor heroine, and hissed and booed the dastardly villain.

Gary Beglinger cast as Nellie, outshined the others with her singing talent.

But it was Carl Nelson as Stafford Blackman, the villainous city slicker that stole the show.

Playing the part of an old-fashioned cad, with waxed mustache and fancy cape, Nelson need only appear and the audience would begin booing, enjoying every minute of the fun.

Nelson's sonorous voice added to his role as the villain as each line sounded like something right out of a 1920 film.

John Hyde, playing Noble Hart, did an admirable job with his lines, better with the singing.

The Guild though moved rapidly through the musical, after a faltering start.

The musical was limited only slightly by the Plymouth Art Theatre's stage, or half-stage. The postage stamp space taxed the players, but even then one or two dance numbers came off fairly well.

Unnecessary little bits were added to utilize talent, as if no one could say no at tryouts. I have no quarrel with ballet numbers, and folk songs, but these, and one or two dance bits appeared out of place, and frankly hurt the show's continuity.

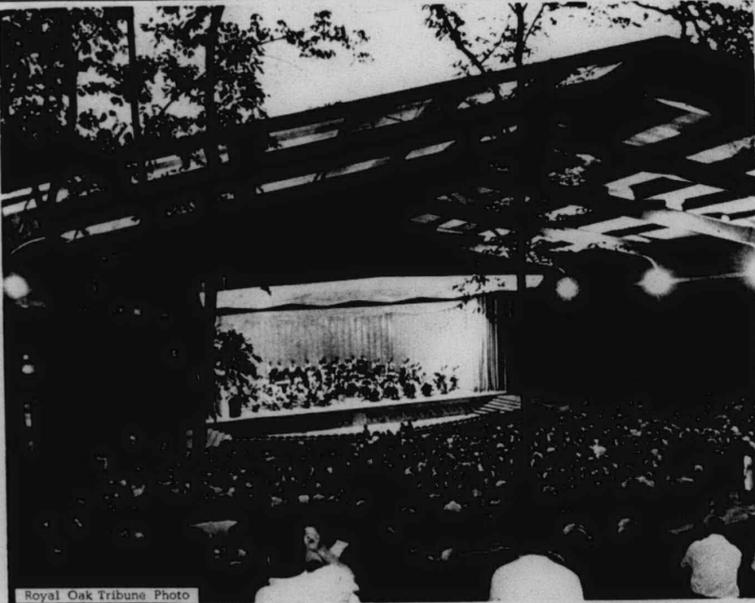

It was as if a huge cast was assembled, and some weren't needed.

But Noble "needed Nellie like breakfast needs ham and eggs," and love and virtue triumphed.

So did the Guild in a truly ambitious effort. Plymouth should offer every encouragement to the group. They can do the job.

They need an audience, and they proved last week they could not only get one, but hold it.

THESE ARE the grounds and pavilion at the Meadow Brook Music Festival at Oakland University in Rochester which a group of five Plymouth women are publicizing in this area. The festival has drawn wide critical acclaim, both locally and nationally.

Meadow Brook may provide answer for warm, summer evenings

Ever take a ride on a warm, sunny, summer Sunday evening and wish there were something more meaningful to do than just take in the scenery?

Well, a group of Plymouth women - perhaps faced with the same dilemma - have decided to do something about it.

They have formed a committee to publicize in this area the Meadow Brook Music Festival at Oakland University in Rochester.

For the Meadow Brook Festival, they feel, has a stellar list of programs and artists to offer concert goers.

THIS YEAR, for instance, the season features Sixteen Ehrling and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and such distinguished guest artists as violinist Henryk Szeryng, contralto Maureen Foster, pianist Van Cliburn, violinist Issac Stern, pianist Eugene Istomin, cellist Leonard Rose and guest conductor Robert Shaw. But, getting back to that ride. Families who travel to the Meadow Brook Festival will find a large picnic ground, and Sunday twilight concerts that start at 6:30 p.m. Grounds tickets cost only $1.50, you can take your own chair or blanket and the acoustics are excellent - both on the grounds and in the pavilion.

Driving time is just one hour from Plymouth.

Trumbull Terrace at the festival provides cafeteria type refreshment and an eating area. Single concert tickets may be ordered in advance.

The Meadow Brook Festival has been singled out for rave notices and critical acclaim throughout the Detroit Metropolitan area.

Collins George, Detroit Free Press Music Writer, has noted, "Prior to the festival there was the thought that the acoustics of the Baldwin Pavilion couldn't possibly be as good as remembered. They are."

Referring to the festival, Harold C. Schonberg of The New York Times wrote:

"Every indication is that it will grow stronger and stronger, more and more valuable, leading the way toward a concentration of cultural activity that this area has never had."

And colorful Doc Greene of The Detroit News said, "The arena at Meadow Brook is the thing a man should see unless he is letting life pass him by . . ."

Plymouth residents interested in additional information may contact any of the five women on the committee. Their names and phone numbers are:

Mrs. Arthur Larson, 453-1073; Mrs. John Moehle, 453-5509; Mrs. F. Wells Smith, 453-9234; Mrs. George Bauer, 453-6254; and Mrs. Ray Hulce, 453-3858.

Poppy Day: a reminder

(Editor's note: These words come from Mrs. Lillian Kinghorn, publicist for the American Legion Auxiliary. The Legion and the Veteran's of Foreign Wars conduct a drive for funds once a year.)

Tomorrow's traditional Poppy Day observance sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary in Plymouth and throughout the nation has been conducted for more than four decades as grateful Americans wear the scarlet blossom to memorialize our war dead.

Volunteer workers of the American Legion Auxiliary and V.F.W. organizations are located at strategic points throughout Plymouth tomorrow where all residents of the area may secure one of the memorial flowers.

The meaning and significance of Poppy Day this year is deepened and underscored anew by the current conflict in Viet Nam as we pay tribute to all those who have lost their lives in fighting for our country. This bright red poppy, patterned after those which bloomed in Flanders field of the first World War, constitutes a traditional symbol of tribute to those who have given their lives in defending the American way of life.

The funds collected during the Poppy Day activity here provide the means of continuing the long-standing Rehabilitation Program for disabled veterans and aid to the widows and children of our war dead, the Auxiliary leader pointed out. Personal needs, equipment and articles not provided by hospitals to disabled veterans, and aid to needy families of veterans with special emphasis on the requirements of their children are supplied with the contributions made by the American public on Poppy Day.

The people of Plymouth have always opened their hearts to this worthwhile community activity and we are confident their dimes and dollars this year will insure a continuation of our assistance programs.

Tax dollars big question in school of osteopathy

May 9, 1966

Dear Editor:

Your recent editorial statement on the poll of M.D.'s and D.O.'s under the direction of the Legislature has disturbed us, since we do not believe you have stated the essence of the problem. The poll asked three questions:

(1) Do you favor amalgamation of M.D.'s and D.O.'s in the state?

(2) Do you favor state support of the proposed osteopathic school in Pontiac?

(3) Do you favor integration of M.D.'s and D.O.'s in existing hospital staffs.

The majority of D.O.'s voted "No" on question 1, "Yes" on questions 2 and 3, while the majority of the M.D.'s voted "Yes" on all but question 2.

The crux of the matter hinges on the question of a state supported school of osteopathy (which would be the first in the country). This would be an expensive undertaking ($60,000,000 is the estimate) and should be of vital concern to all people in the state, not just M.D.'s and D.O.'s.

The question the people of the state of Michigan should ask themselves is, "Is my tax dollar going to provide me with better medical care by supporting a school of osteopathy or by expanding existing medical schools in the state?" Wayne State University Medical School can be expanded to take 200 medical students per year if the money is available. The University of Michigan already takes 200 students per year.

Michigan State University has recently started a 2-year medical school which can be expanded to a 4-year school if sufficient funds are available. These would be expansions of already existing facilities and hence could be done much more economically than starting a complete new facility from scratch. 150 additional medical students could be educated per year for less than half the cost of educating 60 osteopathic students.

Considering all of the facts and background, it seems clear that all taxpayers should be interested in providing the highest quality medical education at the lowest cost to the taxpayer. This objective would not be achieved by establishment of a state supported school of osteopathy. It is up to the Legislature to decide on this question. We hope this letter will give your readers some insight into their decision.

Plymouth Indian Guides Pow Wow at Kensington

Kensington Metropolitan Park will go back to the Indians this coming weekend as 250 members of the Plymouth YMCA Indian Guides gather for their annual spring campout.

The campout will be hosted by the big and little braves of the tribes composing the Iroquois Nation. Chiefs, John Heslip, Cam Dostie, Greg Dean, and Bob Evans are acting as the coordination committee.

Highlighting the activities will be the fire-side initiation of the recently formed Escanaba, Oneida, and Mohawk Tribes. Other activities will include hiking, nature study, fishing, boating, story telling, and other things which spontaneously occur when fathers and sons go camping for a weekend.

The luxuries of home will be left behind as big and little braves take to tents, camp trailers, and station wagons as over-night shelters. Each of the 17 tribes composing the federation will provide for its own food and shelter.

Organized in 1960, with a total of 10 members, 5 fathers and 5 sons, the Plymouth Indian Guide membership roster now exceeds 250 fathers and sons. Under Chief Jay Leavenworth, the Indian Guides program is designed toward fostering a lasting father, son relationship. Each tribe is composed of 4 to 8 fathers and sons, who meet twice a month for tribal meetings. The sons are in the 5 to 11 year old age group. Each tribe in turn is a member of an Indian nation, four of which at present, compose the Plymouth Confederation.

Federation activities of the Indian Guides scheduled for the coming months are: baseball game at Tiger Stadium, participation in the 4th of July parade and Fall Festival, a guid-a-rama and craft exhibition, and fall and winter campouts. Activities at the smaller tribal level are as numerous and varied as the fathers and sons desire to make them.

For those interested in the Indian Guide program, but have not yet joined, Iroquois Nation Chief, Mert Williams, has issued a warm welcome to attend the spring camp out as guests of the federation.

He cautions, however, to bring your own food and tepee. Others interested in the Indian Guides can gain further information from Tally Keeper, Dick Wheaton at GL 3-1719, or any member of the organization.

OLGC plans pilgrimage

A pilgrimage to Canadian Shrines is planned by members of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church August 24 through August 31.

The 800 mile trip will be made by train with the first stop at St. Joseph's Oratory overlooking Montreal. An extra day will be spent there for sight seeing. The second stop will be at the shrine of St. Anne De Beaupre. The 300 year old shrine is well known all over the world.

The third stop will be at "Our Lady of the Cape" at Trois Rivières.

Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Matthew Krump at 453-4052.

We goofed

We goofed. Two items on the front page of the Mail last week contained errors.

One concerning Wendell Smith reported he had three children and that his wife had three children. The Smith's have three children, together.

And, on the story of the appointment of Edward Schening as Plymouth Community Fund director, it was reported the PCF drive last year netted $83,083,000. The last three zeros are an error. The PCF fund drive did not go into the millions. However the goal of $83,083 was surpassed.

Speaking of

Ink on my apron
I love a party

with Yvonne Schmitz

I love a party. Birthday parties, luncheons, brunches and cocktail parties are fun; but my favorite is a dinner party. When the floors are waxed, the silver polished, the table set with the best china and the doorbell rings, I love a party.

When we shopped for a dining room table, we looked for the biggest maple table we could find. It is oval shaped and will seat fourteen people comfortably and often does.

Sunday evening visitors are common at our house. This is the time when we like to invite another family in for a buffet, good coffee, and lots of conversation. When the number exceeds fourteen, as it often does, since there are nine of us, tables are set up in the den for the overflow.

We don't like to balance a meal on a lap so I am a firm believer in having tables set with everything necessary for a meal, except plates, for buffet service. It is still the easiest way to serve a crowd but needn't be awkward. With silver, napkins, glasses, and coffee cups all set at the table, guests need only to fill their plates from the buffet.

Our children are usually included in our dinner parties; but once in a while it is fun to give them an early supper of something simple that they enjoy and indulge in an elegant dinner for adult friends later in the evening.

I like to make a production of a meal with good food, soft dinner music, candlelight and wine.

My husband is the Henry Higgins type from "My Fair Lady". He can't understand the ways of women and likes his food served simply with no fuss and bother. "Why can't a woman be more like a man" is what Henry Higgins said in the musical — and he and my husband could be twins.

It annoys him considerably to see me scurrying around to get ready for a party. This is one time when it is almost fun for me to clean house — and clean I do — with a fury. Even waxing and polishing floors becomes interesting when I know that we will have guests.

Setting a party table is a delight. I like to use linen cloths with as much dramatic color as I can muster. The new tablecloths are beautiful with bold patterned floral prints and fringed edges. My favorite happens to be an olive green linen that provides a nice background for our gold patterned china.

We have a specialty at our house that I think is ideal for a buffet. It is not at all original. In fact, it is with the permission of a good friend that I am passing it on to you. It was given to her by the chef of a well known restaurant in Detroit several years ago. From the chef of the Russian Bear, here is:

BEEF STROGANOFF

- 1 1/2 lbs. sirloin cut in small pieces
- flour, salt and pepper, butter
- 3/4 onion chopped
- 1 c. cooked chicken
- 2 cans undiluted cream of chicken soup
- 2 c. mushrooms
- 1 1/2 c. sour cream
- parsley

Dredge sirloin in flour, salt and pepper. Brown lightly. Add onions and saute. Add chicken and soup. Simmer for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Add mushrooms and heat. Just before serving, add 1 1/2 c. sour cream. Heat. Serve over shoestring potato sticks and garnish with fresh parsley.

I like to serve beef stroganoff from a chafing dish on warmed plates; but individual casseroles could be used for serving. It goes well with a fruit cup or tossed salad, vegetable, and baked Alaska makes an elegant dessert.

$25000 grant received by Madonna College

A $25,000. gift from CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY was received by Madonna College, Livonia, to meet some of the costs of recent construction.

Mr. James Thomas, Division Manager of Consumers in Livonia, presented the initial check for $10,000. to Sister M. Danatha, college president. The remainder of the gift will be given in two successive $7,500. donations.

"After our evaluation of the Madonna College building projects," Mr. Thomas said, "Consumers voted to gift the college as a mark of faith in the progress of a private institution and as an expression of pride in the work of a school serviced by a Consumers product."

"I would like to emphasize," continued Mr. Thomas, "that the gift is a contribution of each of the users of Consumers Powers. We were instrumental only in channeling the funds to projects that indicate a good public investment."

James H. Campbell, President of Consumers Powers Company,

AAUW installs new officers

Installation of new officers will also take place at the meeting. Mrs. John Haas will replace Mrs. John Moehle as president. Mrs. John Anderson will be the new recording secretary, replacing Mrs. Floyd Peterson; and Mrs. Robert Hoegy will replace Mrs. Robert Gilmore as corresponding secretary.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Dale E. Carmine, chairman, Mrs. R. J. Barber, Mrs. L. W. Becker, Mrs. W. K. Lewis, Mrs. Alan D. Stuart and Mrs. Kenneth Zelman.

and Anson Hedgcock, Vice-president, were both instrumental in deciding the amount to be given to Madonna College.

Sister Danatha received the gift with an expression of sincere gratitude. "We are happy with the gift," she said. "This was a very generous gesture toward private education. We were discussing the possibility of a community cultural center. With this assistance from Consumers Power to meet our building debts, we can now look forward to the fulfilling of our dream in the future. We hope this is the beginning of contributions from other sources."

Consumers Power has also appropriated funds for a one-year scholarship to Madonna since 1964. This year's recipient is Jane Balwinski of Bay City.

Specialty of the house Lazy Daisy Meatballs are easy to prepare Mrs. Gerald Coon mixes the ingredients for Lazy Daisy Meatballs. The recipe is a simple one to prepare and is served often in the Coon home on Lexington St.

"Lazy Daisy Meatballs are a favorite with our family and they are easy to prepare," says Mrs. Gerald Coon. "Our 17-month old daughter, Nancy, keeps me so busy that I have little time for complicated recipes. Nancy is at an age where she must be watched constantly. She loves to climb and often gets herself into predicaments, so I have to be with her all the time." Gerald and Mary Coon have two other children, Georgia, 17, and Michael, 12. The family came to Plymouth nine years ago from Marion, Mich., a small town near Cadillac. They now live at 1553 Lexington St.

Gerald Coon is a Field Operator for Consumers' Power Co. Georgia is a sophomore at Plymouth High School and Michael is a sixth grader at Our Lady of Good Counsel School.

A class in oil painting at the high school spurred Mary Coon's interest in the art and she now paints whenever she finds time. Examples of her work hang on the walls of her living room. One is an attractive still life of fruit in vivid yellows and oranges.

Model UN Assembly Women's clubs held at High School host hospitality tea

A model United Nations Assembly was conducted by 351 interested students from various fields of social studies at the High School gymnasium May 11 from 12:30-2:30 p.m. and May 12 from 8-11 a.m. The students represented 117 countries with 3 delegates for each country.

The idea for the mock UN Assembly grew from the visit of the International Relations class to the United Nations Assembly in New York March 2-5. A mock UN Assembly was also held at University of Detroit March 25-27 with 15 Plymouth students participating.

Mr. Ray Homer, teacher of the international relations class, sponsored the assembly at the high school. President of the General Assembly was Chuck Catlett. Other members of the committee included Wanda Distler, secretary general; Tom Chandler, chairman of the special political committee; Sue Hulce, chairman of the political security committee; and Sherada Erdelyi, chairman of the social and humanitarian committee.

The three main topics discussed included the question of admission of Red China to the UN, the India and Pakistan conflict over Kashmir, and Rhodesia's reaction to the question of segregation.

Suspense and excitement filled the gymnasium as each of the issues was voted upon. Interestingly, the Model UN voted for the admittance of Red China to the UN with 76 countries voting for it, 34 against, and 5 abstaining.

In connection with Michigan Week, a hospitality tea will be held at the Dunning Hough Library May 20 from 2 p.m. till 4 p.m. Hostesses for the event will be representatives of various women's clubs in Plymouth: Mrs. Connie Aldrich of the Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. A. FROM WASHINGTON:

Congressman Vivian reports to Plymouth

Last year the United States Congress passed major new legislation designed to help hard-pressed local school districts meet their growing needs, while alleviating some of the pressure on the property tax base, on which they are so dependent. The funds authorized and appropriated under Public Law 89-10 - The Elementary and Secondary Education Act - are beginning to come into our District now.

I asked the Michigan Department of Education to provide me with information on which of our school districts are currently receiving "ESEA" funds, as of March 31. Here is a portion of the tabulation on use of Title I funds, aimed at helping districts meet the educational needs of children from low-income families:

WAYNE COUNTY: Plymouth, diagnostic team, in-service training and reading specialists, $33,614.

Under Title II, Washtenaw and Wayne Counties have programs under development, for the acquisition of library, and instructional materials and textbooks for both public and non-public schools.

Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act provides Federal support for supplementary education centers and services. Under this Title, the following Second Congressional District projects are underway:

The Ann Arbor Board has applied for $278,000 in Federal funds to develop a demonstration curriculum center. I have checked with the United States Office of Education and learned that this application is in the final stages of approval. I anticipate that this project will be ready to be announced in the near future.

The Wayne County Intermediate District, serving all local boards in that County, also has application in to the United States Office of Education, for Title III support.

Miss Coburn was crowned by Brenda Coburn Janice Riley of Parma, Michigan who has just ended her year's reign as Miss Michigan State Chiropractors Posture Queen.

Golfers split in triangular

Plymouth's golf team will tackle the five other teams in the Suburban Six League next Monday in the League finals - and it's anybody's match.

Plymouth finished 13th out of 21 at the Regional Golf Championships at Burroughs Farms, Brighton over the weekend.

Tom Janicki shot 83, Neil Goodman, 88, Dave Dunlap 89, Gary Robinson, 89, for a 349 total.

Ann Arbor took a first, Ypsilanti second and Pontiac Central third in the match; they qualified for the state finals at Meadowbrook.

In one other match last week Plymouth beat Redford Union 165-162, but lost by one stroke to Thurston, 161-162.

The triangular match counts as two dual matches.

OPEN HOUSE

Swim Club pool is done!

At last. Those are the words members of the Colony Swim Club are saying this week as their pool on Beck Rd. is completed.

Formed over two years ago, the Club sold memberships and raised thousands of dollars for the pool. It's use will be limited to members owning shares in the pool - those who bought memberships to help build it.

However, more members are needed, and to that end an open house will be held this Sunday afternoon, May 22 at the pool.

The public is invited to inspect the pool facilities, the bath house, deck area, and picnic grounds. Located just south of Joy Rd. in Canton Township, the pool is several hundred yards back from Beck Rd., near Gyde Rd.

A full time manager - Derald McKinley, - an assistant manager - Mrs. Doug Johnson, and a staff of life guards will man the pool 80 hours a week during the summer, and on weekends before summer, and after Labor Day as weather permits. Both McKinley and Mrs. Johnson are elementary school teachers.

An annual fee of $75 is charged each family for the pool, with membership set at $400. The initial $400 is returned when the family leaves the Club.

Currently the membership is at 200, with another 100 expected. The pool features a unique design for family swimming with a large wading area, and a diving area.

Grass and trees have been planted to landscape the area, with club members volunteering their time to keep the cost down. A high strong chain link fence surrounds the pool area.

Complete changing and showering facilities are built into the bath house, along with an automatic pumping and filtering system. The bath house also houses the pool office.

According to Mrs. John Pulker, publicity chairman for the Club, the public is welcome from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Nip Bentley

2-1 on error

A late rally? Perhaps, as the Rocks baseball team came up with their first win of the season last week - a 2-1 victory over Bentley.

A throwing error in the eighth inning broke the tie and scored Pat Williams to win the game. In the fourth Plymouth scored on a double by John Underwood and a single by Dave Prochazka. Prochazka drove in Underwood.

Randy Williams pitched the first 6 and one-third innings, and gave up two hits. Jack Robertson finished the game, and was given the win.

Plymouth had five hits, Bentley three.

Vogras replaces Bida as Jr. Baseball president

Ken Vogras was elected new president of the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League last week.

He replaced Joe Bida, who resigned due to the business commitments of his new job. Ken, former Plymouth D.P.W. employee, and now temporary D.P.W. chief, is no stranger to Little League in town. He has devoted many hours to work with the youth of the community.

Al Stringer will serve as Vice President and will also head the Parade Committee for opening day, June 4. Charlie Catlett accepted the position of Umpire-in-Chief.

A nine inning exhibition game will be played at the League's field on Plymouth Road at 1 p.m. this Saturday, May 21, as part of Plymouth Youth Week activities. Teams will consist of players in National and American Major Leagues.

Minor League activity will start shortly after summer school vacation begins. Boys who were unable to attend registration may register at this time. Max Sommerville will again head this program.

John Schmidt reported that enough funds were obtained to cover insurance of the expected 400 participants in this year's activity, BUT necessary funds were lacking in such areas as:

- 1. Immediate need for a fence along Plymouth Road to protect the toddlers from area traffic.
- 2. Repair and replacement of major equipment (bats, balls, protective equipment, uniforms, etc.)
- 3. Groundskeeping and facility upkeep and improvement.
- 4. Additional, and improved bleacher facilities.

Schmidt recommended that a personal solicitation program of merchants, industries and community organizations be initiated for additional funds to cover these expenditures. The recommenda-

Bowl tourney in final week

Chloe Dunson and John Kuszak went into the final week of the Plymouth Mail - Plymouth Bowl mixed double tournament as the leaders with a score of 1247.

Carmen Chapo and Thomas Romej are in second place at 1241.

Veronica and Stan Gagacki are in third with 1240. The Gagacki's and the Dunson-Kuszak duo has dominated the two-month tourney so far.

This weekend wraps the tournament up, with some spots on the roster still available.

For information, call Plymouth Bowl at 453-9100.

Bound to a wheelchair, he takes part in sports

Wayne State University entered a team of 12 students in the Second Annual Michigan Wheelchair Games Friday and Saturday (May 13-14) in the Patton Pool area. Among the 12 was a Plymouthite, David Sutherland, 8175 Ridge Rd.

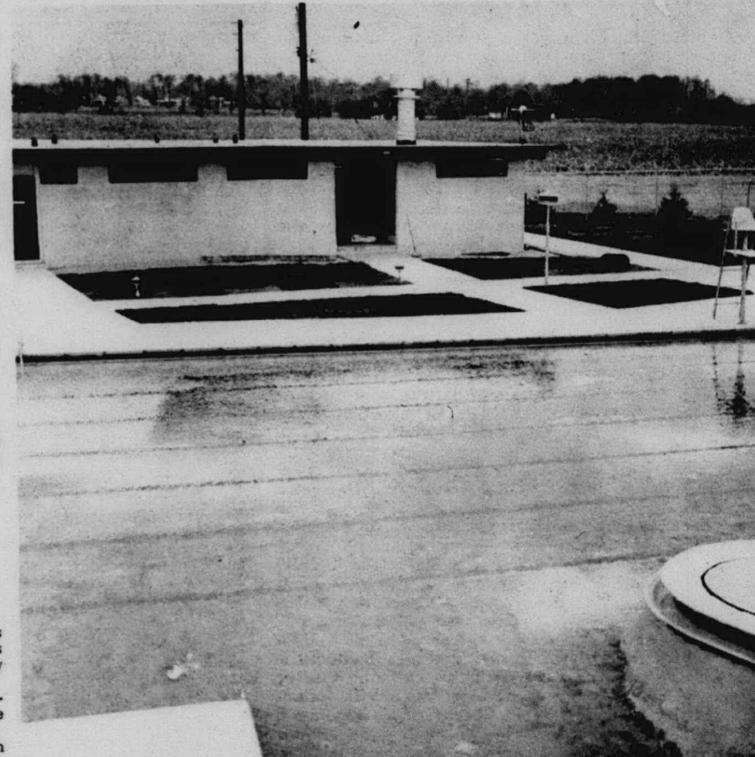

The WSU crew is one of just two college wheelchair athletic teams in the country. (Illinois, which didn't enter, is the other). Sponsored by the University's Disabled Students Office, the WSU group took part in such events as table tennis, track and field and swimming, but will pass up bowling and archery this year.

This is the first year that WSU has had a team and the group is student-organized by University students who wanted a chance to participate in these games which will draw more than 100 competitors from some 40 teams and will not be limited to University groups. In the Invitational Meet, groups from Buffalo, New York; Chicago, Ill.; and Indiana among others are coming.

Bowling was scheduled for the Fleetwood Lanes. The Swimming includes 25 and 40-yard sprints was at Patton Pool at 7:30 Friday night.

Events in the track and field competition included the javelin, shot put and discus, the 60-yard dash, a slalom race, a 240-yard relay and a softball throw for accuracy. All of the competition was done in wheelchairs and is limited to persons who have a permanent physical disability. The basic rules of the sports are used, with adaptations.

Good drivers know that the Exchange's broad, fair protection plus the added benefits of Fellow Member Collision Protection and Coast-to-Coast Claims Service offer the best value in car insurance.

No other organization insures as many good Michigan drivers, offers broader protection, or better meets your driving needs than the Exchange at the Auto Club.

when your credit union cuts a melon, the dividends go just to you.

Credit unions aren't in business to make big profits. They're in business to serve their members - and these members own the business. So all the earnings go back to them.

Credit unions pay generous dividends on savings. But dividends aren't the only advantage a credit union offers. All qualified members also get life insurance as an extra dividend at no extra cost.

Loans, too, are insured for all qualified members. If you die or are totally and permanently disabled, the loan is paid up in full. Insurance and assurance... they help explain why over a million persons in Michigan are now credit union members. Shouldn't YOU belong?

Draughelis speaks on law and lawyers

Judge Edward Draughelis spoke before the Kiwanis Club recently outlining the role of lawyers in a world of changing laws. Draughelis, City of Plymouth municipal judge, explained that there is a need for a structure to control damages done by agreements, and in a complex society, there is so much to have someone to do something about. "Consequently, disputes call for the need to do something about them. The need is for someone trained, and this is where an attorney is required," he said. There are over 200,000,000 practicing attorneys in the United States, which is approximately 12 times the number of lawyers in Great Britain. However, in Europe, there are thousands of bureaucrats, under secretaries, technical experts, but in the United States we simply take care of our judicial matters through lawyers. "A lawyer is a trained negotiator, as he thinks logically and

Downtown Plymouth stands at the crossroads

Downtown Plymouth is at a crossroads. As the outlying areas of the community, namely Plymouth Township, stand on the brink of a huge building boom, the downtown area stands ready to either renew itself - or slowly slip, backwards.

That is the conclusion some community leaders are drawing as a whole range of proposals for the City's central business core have been revealed over the past few months. Among them:

- A one-way loop around the central business district, following, counterclockwise, Union, Church, Harvey, Wing and Deer streets.
- A pedestrian mall covering two blocks of Penniman Avenue.
- An urban renewal section in the southeast quadrant of the City's downtown section, in the Deer, Wing, Maple and Kellogg Street area.

A senior citizen's home proposed for a site on the corner of Union St. and Penniman Ave., or elsewhere close to downtown.

All these proposals have been designed to renew interest in building downtown.

RECENTLY, the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a luncheon meeting where the one-way loop, urban renewal and pedestrian mall were discussed and presented. Those present were asked to comment on a questionnaire, and the results of that survey showed:

- 46 favored the one way loop.
- 5 said no.
- 51 approved the cutting off of a portion of Kellogg Park to make way for the loop.

- 6 voted no on that idea.
- 29 voted yes on the pedestrian mall.
- 20 voted no.
- 13 agreed they would like to build a shop on the mall.
- 20 said no.
- 8 said they considered off street parking adequate.
- 43 said no.
- 33, however, said parking was placed well.
- 14 did not agree.
- 36 said they favored a uniform architectural treatment for store fronts.
- 18 did not.
- 42 agreed the urban renewal project should be carried out.
- 8 said no.
- 23 favored further urban renewal projects.
- 17 said no.

The need to do something was driven home to community leaders as Jay Eldridge of the Velican and Leman professional planning firm outlined how comparison shopping dollars spent in Plymouth were dropping, and that the advent of Westland, Wonderland and Livonia Mall had had an impact on the central shopping area of Plymouth.

The Central Business District plan was first presented in 1958, then re-presented last month, after an exhaustive survey of merchants was taken.

City officials are fighting to keep the high dollar tax base now existing, and they see downtown Plymouth as the key to any growth, at least within the present City bounds.

Already, one street has caused considerable concern - Penniman Ave.

Velican and Leman propose a pedestrian mall for that block of Penniman, and the next one, where the Penn Theatre is located.

"We hope to bring some of the amenities of a shopping center to Plymouth," Eldridge explained at the meeting.

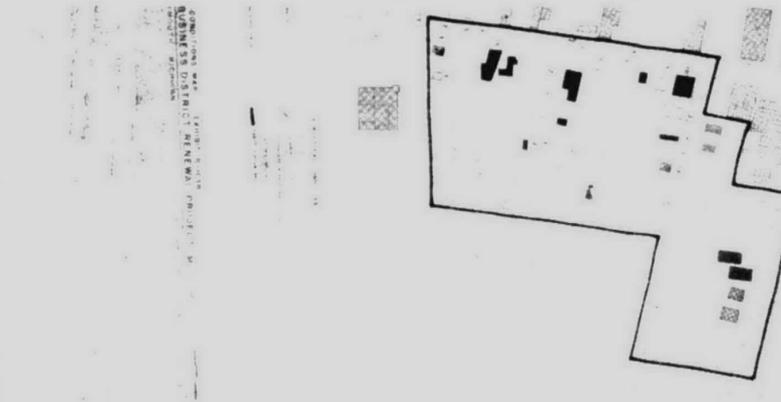

He further noted that bringing Penniman Avenue back into use was a crucial matter. But first, Eldridge said, the one-way traffic loop had to be resolved.

In September, 1964, the first phases of a 701 Federally aided master plan were presented to the City, under a grant from the Urban Renewal Administration of the Housing and Home Planning Assistance program authorized by section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954, as amended, and as administered by the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion.

The primary concern often has been the creation of more tax base. To this end the City, and Plymouth and Canton Townships participate in an Area Planning Commission headed by Harold Fischer. Among Fischer's accomplishments have been the location of Spartan Stores, Inc. in the Township, the optioning of land in an industrial park on Ann Arbor Rd. and participation of the move of Ford Motor Co. to the community.

Maps of the three main items of new business now before community leaders appear here: one-way loop, pedestrian mall and urban renewal.

One of the items, Urban renewal comes up for a public hearing June 13 at the City Hall, at 7:30 p.m. (please see separate story, this page.)

URBAN RENEWAL AREA: Up for a public hearing, one of the City's ambitious proposals for downtown Plymouth is the area bounded in black. The shadings in the structures outlined refer to use, not condition.

JUNE 13, 7 P.M. Hearing to air downtown urban renewal proposal

One of the items concerning the future of downtown Plymouth will come before the public in a hearing in the City Commission Chamber June 13 at 7:30 p.m. Called by the Commission upon the urging of City Commissioner Arch Vallier, the hearing will air opinions on the proposed urban renewal section in the southeast quadrant of the Central Business District. (Please see map above.)

The urban renewal project - the City's second - was approved for initial study in August, last year. A $1 million project was suggested to cover roughly the Wing, Deer and Kellogg street area east of Main St. and south of Ann Arbor Trail.

Local cost was estimated at $137,000, and the federal portion at about $412,000. The rest was expected from the sale of cleared lands.

Urban renewal has traditionally been a method of purchasing blighted buildings yielding a low tax base, and replacing them with new developments with a higher tax base.

The net gain in taxes is expected to offset the initial cost of land purchase and building demolition.

A report in August, 1965 from Velican and Leman, retained by the City as professional planners, reported the following:

Site Resale Proceeds 476,000
 Net Project Cost 549,400
 Federal Capital Grant (3/4) 412,050
 Local Grant-in-Aid (1/4) 137,350
 Cash $106,550
 Non-Cash Grant-In-Aid 30,800

Vallier, in calling for the public hearing, urged the Commission to vote for or against the project now, before a $100,000 study is undertaken. The study was called for by Velican and Leman, who said that was the next step.

Vallier called for action on the matter: "I don't like this thing of hanging it over the heads of those people down there."

Vallier said he'd like a public hearing, and if they voted that night, or any other night, he wanted the people there to see and hear the action.

The City's first urban renewal project is still underway, with the City's role now ended. Extending from Amelia St. to Ann Arbor Trail on the west side of Mill St. along the tracks, the project has developed around two industries - Bathey Manufacturing and Duratainer Inc. - and a welding shop, Ossie's Welding.

Expansion at both Bathey and Duratainer is continuing, with Duratainer recently completing a new structure.

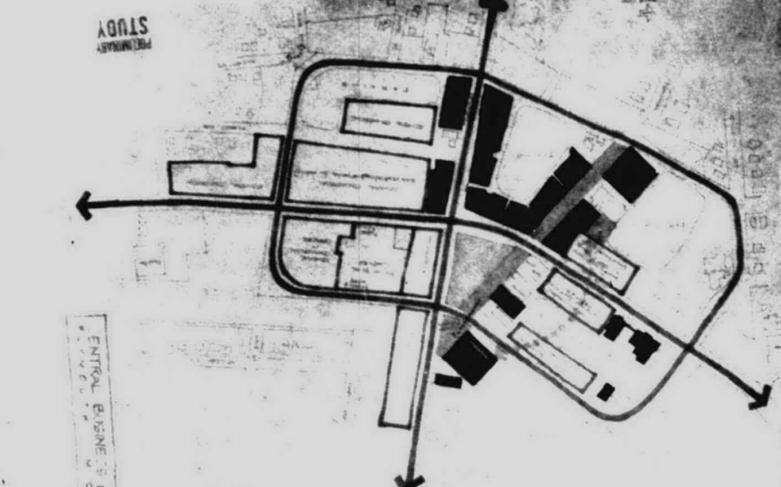

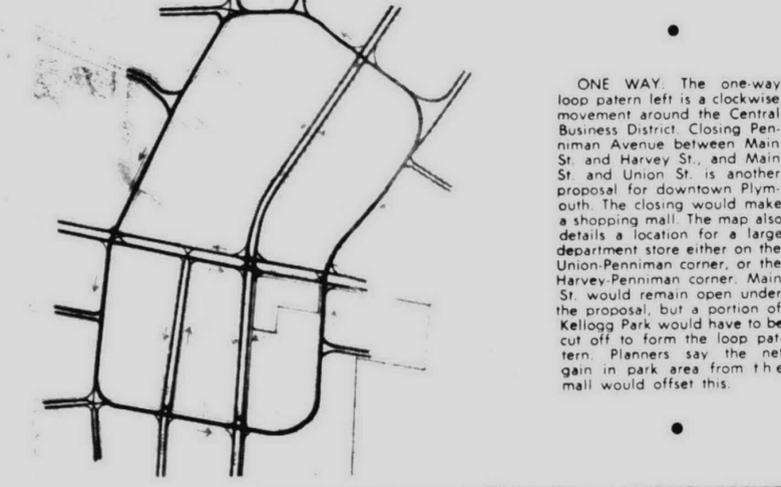

"In order to qualify for federal urban renewal assistance it must be shown that more than fifty (50) percent of the structures are substandard or exhibit blighting influences.

"In addition, the area must contain two environmental deficiencies such as obsolete building types, incompatible land uses or improper location of structures on the land.

"35 of the 58 structures or sixty (60) percent appear to be substandard or exhibit blighting influences.

"In addition, it appears that the area contains three environmental deficiencies (improper location of structures on the land, obsolete buildings and incompatible land uses). It would thus appear that the area would qualify under both state and federal law."

Postmaster urges conversion of Postal Savings to U.S. bonds

Postmaster John A. Mulligan today urged local citizens who have funds on deposit in the abolished Postal Savings System to convert their holdings into United States Savings Bonds.

"Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, who is Chairman of the Federal Savings Bonds Campaign, has appealed to the 930,000 Americans who have $285,000,000 on deposit with the Post Office Department to convert their investments into United States Savings Bonds," Mulligan stated.

"I join him in urging local citizens who have Postal Savings Accounts to make that change which will be of great benefit to both themselves and our country. Savings Bonds offer every advantage of convenience and security formerly available through Postal Savings Certificates plus many other advantages unique to Savings Bonds."

Among those special advantages, the Plymouth Postmaster said, are Savings Bonds' new, higher interest rate of 4.15 per cent and "the great intangible benefit of supporting our country in the fight for freedom in the world and for economic progress and security here at home."

Mulligan said details about the procedure for conversion can be obtained from the postmaster of any Postal Savings Depository Post Office which includes Plymouth.

The Postal Savings System, in operation since January 1, 1911, was discontinued April 27, 1966, by Act of Congress. The Post Office Department presently is liquidating its accounts and on July 1, 1967, will transfer all unclaimed assets of the System to the Treasury Department.

The decision to abolish the Postal Savings System was made because of declining interest in it by the general public as a savings and investment medium. Higher interest rates paid by financial institutions and other means of investment had attracted the bulk of funds which formerly went into Postal Savings and the convenience factor was negated by expanded hours of service by banks.

The original purposes of the Postal Savings System were to (1) get money out of hiding, (2) attract the savings of immigrants who were accustomed to saving at post offices in their native countries, (3) provide safe depositories for people who had lost confidence in private banks and (4) provide more convenient depositories for savings of working people who were unable to bank during regular banking hours.

Bud Guest to entertain realtors at Mayflower

The week of May 22-28 has been officially designated Realtor Week, and the 1,400 members of the United Northwestern Realty Association - Western Wayne-year's board president, said today.

As a pre-kick-off to Realtor Week, members of the board will distribute 25,000 helium filled and stick-mounted balloons to children at shopping centers and other public spots throughout their territory on Saturday, May 21.

Also on the agenda will be the annual Realtor Week dinner on Thursday, May 26, at the Mayflower Restaurant in Plymouth, with radio personality Bud Guest as the principal speaker. Honored guests at this event will be the mayors and supervisors of 23 cities and towns served by UNRA's members, along with representatives of the press.

"The purpose for Realtor Week," said Wilson, "is to direct public attention to the calling and special character of the services rendered by a realtor."

"A realtor is not 'just a real estate man,'" said Wilson. "He is a professional in real estate who subscribes to a strict code of ethics as a member of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards."

"The code of ethics was one of the first adopted in the history of American business, and under its 30 articles covers all aspects of a real estate transaction, whereby the realtor pledges fair treatment and a full scope of his real estate knowledge to both contracting parties - buyer and seller."

The slogan of the 1966 Realtor Week as announced by Wilson is "Moving Up? Settling Down? See a realtor."

Ferrell Mangus' home remodeling project may more than pay for itself. When Mangus of Lovell, Wyo., tore down a kitchen wall, he found four sacks filled with more than $1,000 in silver dollars.

Realtors have suggestions on helping sell your home

In conjunction with National Realtor Week, the United Northwestern Realty Association has released a list of 16 helpful hints on how to help your broker sell your home.

1. First impressions are lasting impressions. An inviting exterior insures inspection of the interior. Keep your lawn trimmed and edged - the yard free and clear of refuse. Remove the snow and ice from the walks in the winter time.
2. Decorate your home. A step toward a SALE. Faded walls and worn woodwork reduce desire. A quicker sale at a higher price will result.
3. Be sure everything looks bright - from the kitchen pans, to a well-groomed living room. An immaculate home shows that it is a good house and has been properly maintained.
4. Go through your home with a critical eye - pretend you are the buyer. Repair leaking faucets, warped doors, loose knobs, etc. Put away unnecessary items.
5. For the rest of your life bedrooms are always outstanding features. Arrange them neatly.
6. Double-check your bathroom. Bright bathrooms sell many homes.
7. Dear to her heart is the kitchen. A sparkling kitchen will appeal to the lady of the house.
8. Illumination is a welcome sign for evening inspections - Brighten your home from the front porch right on through.
9. From attic to basement remove all unnecessary articles which have accumulated. Display the full value of your storage and utility spaces.

10. A word to the wise - Do not discuss price, terms, or possession with the customer. Refer such questions to your broker. He is better equipped to bring the negotiations to a favorable conclusion.

11. Closet Illusions - Clothes properly hung will make your closets appear adequate.

12. Do not dispose of your furnishings before selling your house. Proper impressions can best be obtained when everything is in its place.

13. Remain in the background and avoid joining the conversation between your broker and the customer.

14. Music is mellow, but not when showing a house. Shut off the radio - it distracts. Let the salesman and the buyer talk, free from such disturbance.

15. "Love me, love my dog" does not apply in house selling. Keep pets out of the way, preferably out of the house. Be it ever so humble; never apologize for the appearance of your home. After all, it has been lived in. Let the trained salesman answer any objections that are raised. This is his job.

16. Putting the cart before the horse - trying to dispose of furniture and furnishings to the prospect before he has purchased the house, often loses the sale. Proper timing is important.

Pursell charges Dems ignore auto safety issue

Carl D. Pursell, Republican candidate for the 14th Senatorial District seat, charged that state Democratic legislators have demonstrated a complete lack of responsiveness to the need for a massive attack on Michigan's traffic problems which have resulted in an ever increasing death and accident rate. Blocking of the comprehensive traffic study program recommended by Governor George Romney, safety-minded citizens and educational groups, and even the 1965 Democratic Party State Platform, will go down as one of the greatest shortcomings of the 73rd Legislature, Pursell predicted.

The whole problem area of traffic safety did not appear on the majority party's so-called "Hit Parade" of priority legislation and, as a result of this, plus a general lack of interest among Democrats, the bulk of recommended traffic safety legislation never saw the light of day and is now dead in various committees, Pursell said. Failure to meet this pressing need has come despite the fact that, according to a Michigan State University public opinion survey, the large majority of Michigan citizens rated traffic safety as the number two major state problem.

Among the many traffic safety measures ignored again this year are three periodic motor vehicle inspection bills, three pieces of implied consent legislation to get drinking drivers off the road and several bills for strengthened and centralized driver licensing and examinations.

Publish book on Christian Science spiritual healing

A firsthand report on the impact of spiritual healing on the lives of men and women in many parts of the world has just been published in connection with the Centennial of Christian Science. Issued as a contribution to the revived interest in spiritual healing among many of the traditional churches, the book, called "A Century of Christian Science Healing," draws on thousands of published and tape recorded testimonies, volunteered and verified by witnesses, which have become part of Church records.

The book was prepared by The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, and published by The Christian Science Publishing Society, which also publishes the denomination's international daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor.

Plymouth girl honored at 4-H Fair

Wet weather didn't stop some of our local area students from taking honors in the "Country Fair of Yesteryear" at Greenfield Village last week.

A local winner was Valerie Scheppele, 8275 Lilley Rd., small sewn objects, second, from Allen School.

Grand champion winner at the Greenfield Village Country Fair was Mary Lou Evett, of 6861 Nevada, Detroit, a fourth grade student at the Lutheran School for the Deaf in Detroit. Mary Lou won first place in the embroidery competition and had her work judged as the outstanding entry of the fair. Competition included more than a thousand entries for the entire Southeastern Michigan area.

The Country Fair is an annual event at Greenfield Village. In addition to the ribbons given out for various skills, there are also old-fashioned games on the activities field throughout the day. A variety show, 4-H horsemanship and dog obedience demonstrations, and a girl's fashion show are also included.

A Cadillac remains unmistakably a Cadillac regardless of year. New or previously-owned, its impressive size, its remarkable beauty and its continuity of styling have all contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the finest of all luxury car investments.

Every day, more and more wise car buyers are discovering that they can get more performance, luxury, distinction and pride of ownership in a previously-owned Cadillac than in many new cars of lesser stature. For example, Cadillac engineering has always been so advanced that many features of Cadillacs several years old are just now finding their way into new cars of other makes. And Cadillac has for years provided as standard equipment automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, power windows and power seats on most models, automatic cornering lights and many other conveniences that even now cost extra on most new cars. Consider, too, the extra reassurance of motoring in an automobile of Cadillac's impressive size and stature. Before you buy your next car, be sure to look for your authorized Cadillac dealer's used car sign. It is the best possible landmark for a wide, attractively priced selection of well cared for, previously-owned Cadillac cars.

Expect over 2,500 to be at Sheltered Workshop benefit

A mammoth benefit, is expected to attract more than 2,500 to Roma Hall on Wednesday, May 25 and raise as much as $15,000 for the Community Opportunity Workshop located at the intersection of Newburgh and Ann Arbor Roads in Livonia in the old Newburgh elementary school. There'll be Lions, politicians, business and industry leaders, governmental heads from the lowest to the highest level, entertainers and plain common folks who believe in the Sheltered Workshop for retarded adults and are willing to use a benefit of this type to make contributions. There is also a possibility that a few Tigers will be in the audience if the proper arrangements are made with Detroit Baseball Company officials to have some of the players appear. The benefit, started two months ago by Mrs. Rosalie Bales of Plymouth, has caught fire in the past two weeks and now appears almost certain to become the biggest money raising program for the Sheltered Workshop since it was opened to retarded in local communities last September.

ORIGINALLY started by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, the workshop quickly spread into the four communities and has plenty of applicants for work—but lacks financing.

It was this financing that Mrs. Bales noted was missing and personally decided that something should be done about it. She contacted scores of workers in all communities to volunteer, made contacts in high places for speakers and for high ranking personages to appear, arranged for Roma Hall and then finally saw her idea begin to jell in the past two weeks.

The principal speakers—and there is an unusually large list of protocol definitely committed to appear—are Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of Gov. Romney, and William Patrick, Jr., former Detroit City Councilman and now legal counsel for Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Each is a dynamic speaker and each is expected to go into the needs and value of a sheltered workshop. Both are well aware of the problems that face most communities in finding work for retarded adults and each is in full accord that the Community Opportunity Workshop is just that—an opportunity to make better citizens of persons who might become blights on the various communities.

But that's only a sample of the list of personalities.

SENATOR Robert Griffin, who only this week was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, will appear. There is a possibility that he may be influenced to give an insight into his visit to Viet Nam.

Then there is Mrs. Elly Peterson, Republican national committeeman and head of the Republican Party in Michigan; Neil Staebler, Democratic National committeeman who is Mrs. Peterson's counterpart in the state for his party.

Former Governor G. Mennen Williams, who is a candidate for the Senatorial seat, will be represented by his wife and son, Gary.

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh will be represented by Dr. John Hanlon, Wayne County's Health Commissioner.

Others in the political field include: State Representative, Marv Stempfen, State Representative James Tierney, State Representative Edward Robinson and Carl Pursell, of Plymouth, who is a candidate for a state senatorial seat.

Congressman Weston Vivian, of Ann Arbor, and Congressman Billie Farnum, who represents Livonia, Redford Township and part of Farmington are also expected to appear.

Mayors Harvey Moelke of Livonia, Mike Allen of Northville, James Houk of Plymouth and Township Supervisors John McEwen of Plymouth and Jack McDonald of Redford Township will be in the audience.

The various school districts will be represented by Superintendents Benton Yates of Livonia, Russell Isbister of Plymouth, Russell Hilbert of Redford Union and superintendents from Northville and South Redford.

And to add a bit of frosting to the already sweetened cake, the Detroit Lions will have a six or eight-man delegation present to autograph programs and generally add to the spirit of the evening.

The list includes: Bruce Mahern, Gail Cogdill, Daryl Sanders, Tom Watkins, Pat Studstill, Joe Schmidt, Frank Taylor and Wayne Walker.

Just to give the youngsters something to think about, the Detroit Lions have donated several packets of football pictures and they will be presented to the kids as long as they last.

Additional sports personalities are expected from the Detroit Tigers, Pistons and Red Wings but no complete confirmations have been made.

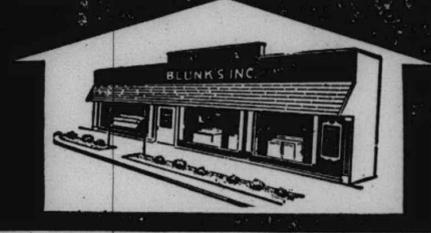

DETROIT LIONS Daryl Sanders and Gail Cogdill are among the luminaries expected to attend the benefit being staged at Roma Hall on Wednesday, May 25 for the Community Opportunities Center's Sheltered workshop in Livonia.

Plymouth girl wins national honor for Washington essay

Editor's Note: Marilyn Finlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finlan, 790 Burroughs St. won the state award for American History Month essay contest sponsored by the local Sarah Anne Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She went on to win first place in a district contest covering five states. Below is the text of her essay.

Quoted from George Washington's "Farewell Address": "The unity of government which constitutes you one people, is also now dear to you. It is justly so; for it is a main pillar in the edifice of your real independence; the support of your tranquility at home; your peace abroad; of your safety; of your prosperity; of that very liberty which you so highly prize. . . . The name of American, which belongs to you in your national capacity, must always exalt your just pride of patriotism, more than any appellation derived from local discriminations. With slight shades of difference, you have the same religion, manners, habits, and political principles. You have, in a common cause, fought and triumphed together; the independence and liberty you possess, are the work of joint councils, and joint efforts, of common dangers sufferings and successes."

George Washington, through his entire administration, stressed the vital importance of unity in a country. He emphasized this because he knew that the newly conceived

United States would not survive without the people themselves possessing a feeling. That very special feeling that they had the same moral principles, and lived in a nation with set standards as a basis for living.

In his "Farewell Address", published on September 19, 1796 in Philadelphia "American Daily Advertiser", the retiring President Washington spoke in terms that unity was the crutch that all other functions of the government depended upon. He reminded the people that their unity, for one cause in common, had won them their independence and had let them prosper as a free country.

Washington acclaimed that working together and compromising for the mutual benefit of those involved, was necessary to enable a government, or country, to run smoothly. He meant that he wanted the people to share their troubles, sufferings, and successes with others, and by doing so, they would help America to prosper and grow as one unified country.

He felt that after people had contributed to the growth of their country, the nation would feel that they could call themselves Americans and that there would be a wide-spread feeling of pride and patriotism. Washington wanted the people to realize that their religions, customs, moral principles, and even language were basically the same.

The major reason for President Washington stressing unity was that he was afraid of factions. He warned the people against these because he said it threatened our democracy. A minority of cotton growers from the deep south, or a few merchants from the north, could not rule a majority without conflict. He knew that the United States could only be governed successfully if all the people had an equal share of voice in the government.

It can be stated, without a doubt, that George Washington's advice helped to unify America in the early days of this country.

George Washington's emphasis on unity is essential in this age of atomic power and nuclear weapons for many reasons. Americans, over the years, have lost some of their sense of values about unity. They realize that it is important, but various sections of the country have developed new interests which others have not.

Political parties widen the gap because a person favoring the Democratic Party, let's say, would therefore oppose the Republicans.

Factions, which Washington disapproved strongly of, still exist today in Washington, D.C. An example of these modern factions are lobbyists. Lobbyists are people from all parts of the country that go to the nation's capitol to try to persuade the legislature to pass certain bills for their benefit.

Unity is also used today for purposes other than that which will benefit all those concerned. An example of this is a secret organization, such as the Klu Klux Klan.

The American involvement in Viet Nam has brought a feeling of patriotism, perhaps the members of the military, but no unity of opinion has resulted because of it. Many people think we are doing the right thing and others protest it enough to demonstrate against it.

In domestic affairs, the United States has been somewhat unified. For example, the New York and East Coast black-out. During the black-out, the majority of the people in the States, felt a concern for both the people directly affected, and our national security during those hours.

The people of the United States need unity today more than ever before, because we are living on the brink of an abyss of war with communism. We must be united because we must agree as a country, that we don't want to live under the rule of a communist regime.

Many Americans still need to learn that, by joint efforts, and only by joint efforts, and unity, will we ever overcome evils or atrocities in the world such as Communism. The war in Viet Nam, poverty, disease, and other factors are affecting us.

George Washington's advice pertaining to unity still exists in the United States, but it should be taken more seriously today, because this is a world of growing conflict.

Plymouth gets share of gas tax, license fees

The Department of State Highways has started distributing third quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collection to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages. Plymouth's share was $25,996.

Howard E. Hill, Director, said gross collections during January, February, and March of 1966 amounted to $99,239,115 from which collection costs of $2,025,237 and the Waterways Commission's share amounted to $219,762 were deducted before distribution.

The net amount of Motor Vehicle Highway Fund revenues available for distribution for the third quarter of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966 amounted to $96,994,116, an increase of $6,097,992 over revenues distributed for the same period in 1965.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, license plate fees and a small amount of miscellaneous fees are deposited in the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund. After deductions, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provides that 47 percent goes to the Department of State Highways for use on state highways, 35 percent to the state's 83 counties for use on county roads, and 18 percent to 520 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets. Under this formula, the Department of State Highways will receive $45,587,234 as its share of the third quarter collections, while the counties will receive $33,947,941 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $17,458,941.

Toastmasters Club offers something for executives

Why does the Toastmasters program appeal to industry? What does it offer? Apparently it meets the crucial test of producing results. Company executives are anxious to determine the ingredients of personal success in order to help their employees cultivate these elements; executives also want to avoid making substantial investments in people who will not develop adequately.

The personnel director of a large national insurance company which has Toastmasters clubs in its offices across the United States reports that a review of the records of the company executive development program reveals a definite correlation between Toastmasters participation and growth in company responsibility and promotion.

Although Toastmasters International makes no promises excepting that a Toastmaster can help himself if he will make the effort, apparently the vast majority of our members have found that they gained benefits additional to those they sought.

The Motor City Speakeasy Toastmasters Club, an affiliate of Toastmasters International, meets on alternate Mondays for dinner at 7 p.m. at the Hillside Inn.
The next meeting is Monday, May 23. Visitors are welcome.

Questions & Answers
Why is it necessary to allow a just-baked angel food cake to cool, suspended upside down, in the pan?

An angel food cake must be cooled completely before being removed from the pan. Inverting and suspending the pan keeps the cake in suspension, allows it to stretch, and prevents it from settling. Removing the cake from the pan before it is completely cooled, or letting it cool in the pan upright, will result in a soggy product. Some angel food cake pans are made with "legs" and need only be turned over; those without can be suspended by fitting the inverted tube over an upside-down funnel.
