

Rally fizzles but speakers go on

Only a few partisans turned out Friday night as politicians gathered in Kellogg Park for an old-fashioned political rally, complete with flaming torches. Candidates showed up, but few spectators joined them.

ing his two years, noting his efforts to improve communication between the district and Washington.

Other office seekers at the event were Paul Livingston, Democrat seeking the State Senate seat, Jim Tierney, incumbent state Representative, and a Garden City Democrat,

About ten adults and 15 children filled out the audience as the speakers talked from the City's bandshell.

Despite the turnout, the candidates were in a good mood, and they unlimbered their best campaign oratory. The weather was mild and the speeches short.

Marvin Esch

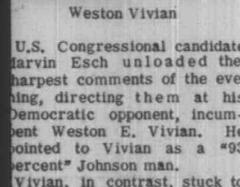

was on the platform with his Republican opponent, Plymouth insurance agent John Tripp.

Lawrence Lindemar, Republican attorney general candidate also spoke, along with William Hough, seeking re-election to the Michigan State Board of Trustees, and Norman Stockmeyer, Wayne State Regent candidate.

John Tripp

The event was MC'ed by JC state president Wednell Smith, and sponsored by the local JC's and the two political parties.

Weston Vivian

U.S. Congressional candidate Marvin Esch unloaded the harshest comments of the evening, directing them at his Democratic opponent, incumbent Weston E. Vivian. He pointed to Vivian as a "93 percent" Johnson man.

Vivian, in contrast, stuck to commenting on his record dur-

Light torch as 400 begin drive for the Community Fund

Carroll Nichols

Name Bird principal

Carroll Nichols, a teacher in the Plymouth Community School system for the past three years, Monday was appointed principal at Bird elementary school by School Supt. Russell Isbister with the approval of the Board of Education.

Supt. Isbister recommended Nichols as the successor to Earl Gibson who was promoted to an executive capacity in the administration a month ago.

Nichols has been a sixth grade teacher at Junior High West since joining the system in 1963. Prior to that he served three years as an elementary school principal and teacher at Allegan.

Nichols started his teaching career in 1947 at Hopkins where he taught sixth grade for three years.

A graduate of Dundee High School in 1948, Nichols received his Bachelor's degree from Houghton (N.Y.) College where he had a major in religion and theology and a minor in Greek and social studies.

He received his Masters degree at Western Michigan University in 1962 and has taken graduate work in elementary school administration.

The new principal resides at 42209 Brentwood in Plymouth Township. He and his wife, Onalee, are the parents of three children; Randall, 13, at Junior High West; Sam 9, and Sandra Lee, 7, both pupils at Farrand School.

Nichols, who is president of the Plymouth Education Association, will assume his new duties immediately.

Geer teacher dies in car mishap

It was moving day Thursday when pupils at Geer School in the Superior Township district of the Plymouth Community School district were shifting to Salem Stone School and vice versa.

Mrs. Elizabeth Heliker, 63, of 1302 Washtenaw Ave., Ypsilanti who had devoted most of her life to teaching in rural schools, was shifting her three classes - K through two - from Geer to Salem.

Wednesday afternoon, she had left a snapshot of herself in the desk drawer of her fellow

VFW spurs respect for our flag

Shocked at the lack of respect shown for the flag during ceremonies at the home opener of the Plymouth High football team a month ago, Gene Leader, Quartermaster of VFW Mayflower Post 6695, has made arrangements with Plymouth school officials to present flags and bases to all of the community schools.

The presentations will start Friday morning when Leader will head programs at Junior High East and West. The program will include the flags and poles along with a pamphlet "Our Flag", telling of the importance of appreciation of the flag.

Leader will present flags to the elementary schools on Nov. 11 and to the senior high, prior to the Nov. 4 football game with Walled Lake, when Congressman Wes Vivian will make a short address, urging more respect for the flag.

Spurred by the most spectacular torchlighting ceremonies in Plymouth Community Fund history, more than 400 volunteer workers Tuesday started the task of raising $88,543 before the deadline on Nov. 10.

Heading the cast of workers are the Bellringers, women of the community under the direction of Mrs. Esther Hulsing, who have started a house to house drive they believe will be the most successful in PCF annals.

The kickoff dinner, in the Round Table Club with National Bank of Detroit as hosts, found General Chairman Edward Schening, of the Burroughs Corporation, telling PCF President Dr. William Covington of the success of the drive to date.

Schening told of the tremendous exposure of the drive and its goal through the efforts of Promotion Chairman Phil Scott and his aides, Don Lea and John Dillon, along with the work of Eber Readman and Barney Hart from Schening's staff at Burroughs Corp.

Then came the torchlighting ceremonies in Kellogg Park - the most impressive the community has seen in a long time. The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, furnished music for the entertainment of the well-chilled group that gathered for the program.

Dr. Covington introduced Schening as general chairman of the drive and he in turn introduced 16-year-old Sandra Sagar as Miss Sparkle of the drive and Carol Ann Stephenson, a teacher at Tanger School, as Miss Sweet Charity.

It was a first for both - the first time the drive had a Miss Sparkle or a Miss Sweet Charity. Both will accompany Schening when he makes addresses before the Plymouth High student body, as well as the various civic and service clubs of the community.

"This is the night the Plymouth Community Fund drive begins," said Schening, "Many of our friends and neighbors have joined hands in order to help all in the community to meet the challenge this drive presents.

"We can assist in this challenge by showing our support for the many community services, the many individuals, young and old, who are less fortunate than you and I.

"The community's record of past accomplishments is a proud one and I am indeed proud to be associated with you in this year's effort. Our contributions have made this community a living symbol for all those everywhere who care anything about their fellow men. "I feel confident as I stand here on this chilly night that we will make a success of this drive just as so many others have succeeded in Plymouth."

Then Schening introduced Miss Sparkle and Miss Sweet Charity, each of whom made a short talk.

In a climactic action, Schening asked the audience to join in a countdown which was culminated with Miss Sparkle touching the button that started the torch glowing as it will until the final night on Nov. 10.

The lighting of the torch started the entire mechanism revolving as it will for the remainder of the drive.

There also is a rocket sign alongside the torch which tells of the progress of the drive.

Schening, and campaign workers, learned that it is off to a good start when Roland Bonamic, chairman of the advanced gifts committee, reported a total of $13,500 in contributions and pledges.

And for the first time, Schening and his committee enlisted the aid of the unioners from the large plants in the area.

Attending and introduced at the kickoff dinner were: Robert Tatman of Local 236 at Barnes-Gibson and Raymond; Gerald McLean, president of Local 13-13 at Burroughs; Gerald Greer, President of CWA Local 4015 at Western Electric; and Gerald Yettaw of local 157 at Whitman and Barnes.

Schening did not announce the date of the initial report meeting but it is expected sometime early next week.

Board member sees no slowdown in home boom

Plymouth school officials should expect no slowdown in building in the Plymouth area.

That was the report of School Board member Robert Tripp to his colleagues Monday night as the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education met in regular session.

Tripp, chairman of the facilities planning sub committee of the Board, reported on an independent survey he had taken recently. His work was done to help update the Citizens Facility Advisory Committee's recent report seeking $17,000,000 in school facilities for the next five years for Plymouth.

"The slowdown of home building in Plymouth is not too great," Tripp noted. "There are many custom homes being built, and most people are not having trouble financing these. And in the subdivisions a person can generally secure a loan, despite talk of a tight money market."

Tripp interpreted his survey to mean that the growth of the area had not slackened because of a nationwide tight money situation.

"I also talked with builders, and starts (new homes) and selling have not decline appreciatively. The drop is only slight," Tripp said.

"I visited Holiday Park in Canton Township and saw a sign that said 'Guarantee 30 day occupancy,' and I thought they were having trouble selling them. However, it was a different story when I talked with the salesman. They built in anticipation and have not had trouble selling," Tripp added.

He said his full updating of the citizen's study would be done soon.

To speed Board work, he called a special meeting of his committee for next Monday night. Tripp served on the citizen's group, then unsuccessfully for the Board last June.

On other matters, the Board set a meeting with placement officials from a nearby university, taking the first steps in securing a replacement to superintendent Russell Isbister, who will retire next summer.

The Board also is preparing plans for a North Central Association evaluation visit to the district February. North Central accredits Michigan schools.

After the formal meeting closed, the Board adjourned to the Chamber of Commerce offices and the headquarters of area planning director Harold Fischer. There, they looked over a map of the school district, and discussed possible sites for new schools.

Homecoming cheer 'beat Bentley'

Go Blue, Go! Beat Bentley!! That's the chant of the Plymouth High student body this week as they make preparations for the annual homecoming celebration which includes crowning of the queen, a parade through downtown streets, a bonfire at the east end of the athletic field prior to Friday's football game and then the big climax Saturday night in the school gym with the traditional homecoming dance.

Homecoming is always the biggest event of the football season but this year is bigger than ever - the footballers will be making their second home appearance after three disastrous games on foreign grids.

That's why the student body wants the Rocks to beat Bentley and make the celebration a happy one. The program actually started last Thursday with the selection of the six candidates for Homecoming Queen and court by the Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes. The homecom-

SUNDAY DATELINE

We're moving to a new day

Residents of the Plymouth Community will get their news twice each week, beginning October 23 when the Plymouth Mail will move to a new Sunday publication day.

That was the announcement Monday by Philip Power, publisher of the Plymouth Mail. The Mail previously has been published on Wednesdays.

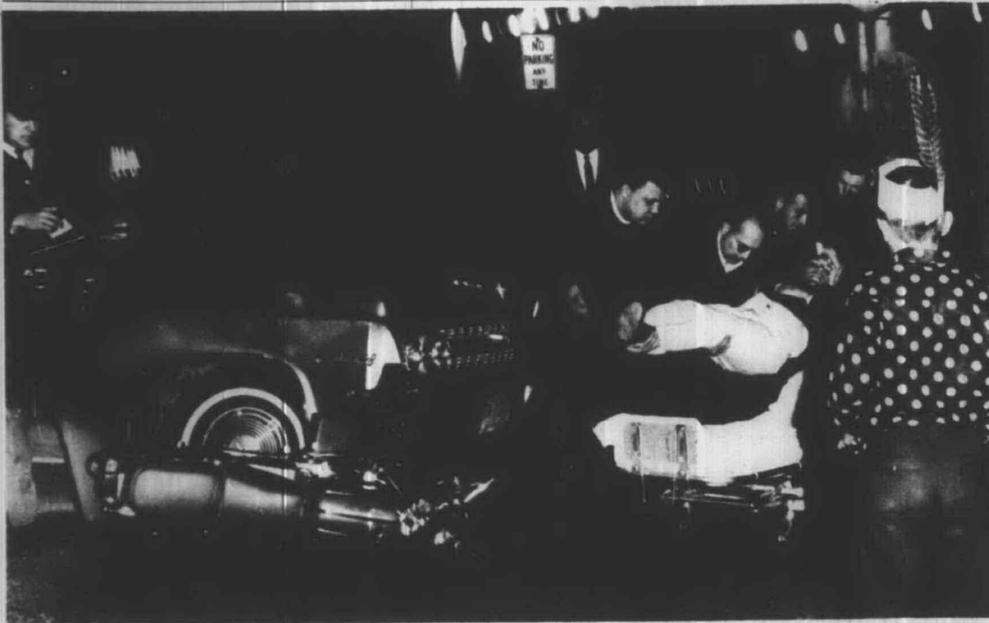

"The only real function of a newspaper is to serve the community," Powers said in announcing the change of publication day. "Readers are served by informative, thoughtful reporting of the news of the community. Advertisers are served by effective, original and hard-hitting ads which bring the product to the direct attention of each reader."

"The Plymouth Mail has devoted itself to these twin concepts of service for more than 78 years. The sole concern has always been, and will continue to be, service to the community. In order more fully to serve the Plymouth Community, we have undertaken an extensive program to expand and improve the Mail.

"As part of these improvements, we are delighted to announce that as of October 23, the Plymouth Mail will move to a new Sunday publication day. The proven acceptance, readership and selling power of weekend newspapers throughout the country has prompted this change.

"On the weekend, families have the time and inclination to read their newspaper thoroughly. Our editorial policy, while retaining its present solid coverage of community affairs, will be improved and expanded. In particular, we plan to include a number of feature articles geared especially to suburban living."

At the same time, Power announced that the Observer Newspaper Group newspapers will continue to be published on Wednesday as in the past.

NOT HURT: David Grimes, 19, of 958 Palmer, escaped from this accident with minor injuries Friday night after his motorcycle hit a car driven by Silas Martin of 744 S. Harvey. Police reports show Martin was moving north ing events are in charge of co-chairmen Mary Vallier and Jeff Cardinal.

Results of the election were announced Thursday noon by Mayor Darre Dusbiber following the Wednesday vote.

The four senior candidates, one of whom will be named Queen since the school has never selected anyone but a senior, are: Jane Emerson, Carol Engstrom, Jean MacCurdy and Gayle Myers.

Cheerleader Judy Allen will represent the Sophomores and Brenda Hayes is the choice of the Juniors.

THE FINAL election is scheduled for Thursday after which an election committee from the Student Council will count the ballots. The name of the Queen will be kept secret until the halftime ceremonies at the football game when Mayor Dusbiber will announce Her Majesty with all of the traditional fanfare.

The other five automatically become members of the court and will assist Her Majesty in the activities at the game and the homecoming dance. The Queen and her escort and the attendants and their escorts will join in the Coronation Ball slated for shortly after 10 p.m.

But prior to the coronation, there'll be activities that will have downtown Plymouth humming from 7 p.m. Friday until the curtain goes down on the Ball.

The Homecoming parade will start shortly after 7 p.m. from the rear of the high school, moving down Church Street to Harvey, over Harvey to Ann Arbor Trail, east to Main Street and then past Kellogg Park back to the high school athletic field for the bonfire.

The Plymouth High marching band, under the direction of James Griffith, will head the procession followed by convertibles carrying the Sophomore and Junior class representatives and then a Senior Class float, pulled by members of the class, carrying the four Senior candidates.

The procession will wind around the high school and terminate in front of the huge pile of wood for the bonfire which will be lit at 7:30 p.m.

The ceremonies will be resumed with the flag-raising shortly before the kickoff in which the band, spectators and the Queen candidates will join.

Then comes the highspot of the evening at the halftime - the announcement and the crowning of the 1966 Homecoming Queen. Mayor Dusbiber will announce the Queen and she will be crowned by Pam McAllister, the 1965 ruler.

teacher, George Dodson, with a joking reminder that "you won't forget me now."

George found it Thursday morning just about the time he was told that Mrs. Heliker had been killed earlier in a two-car collision while enroute to her new school.

Mrs. Heliker became the 49th person to die in Washtenaw County traffic accidents when she died instantly in the accident at the intersection of Ford and Prospect Roads in Superior Township.

Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Heliker was driving north on Prospect Road and apparently pulled out in the path of a car going east on Ford, driven by William Tommelein of Milan.

Her car was struck broadside. The impact hurled Mrs. Heliker out the right door of the car which rolled over her. She was pronounced dead at the scene.

Tommelein was rushed to University Hospital in Ann Arbor where doctors reported he appeared to have only cuts and bruises.

Sheriff's deputies reported there is a stop sign at the intersection for Prospect Road traffic.

Dance Company comes to Detroit

On October 25 the Martha Graham Dance Company will make its first local appearance in Detroit since 1949. The Company will appear at Masonic Temple Auditorium for one evening only under the auspices of Detroit Adventure, the arts council of Detroit.

The repertoire for the performance will include "Diversion of Angels", "Legend of Judith" and "Seraphic Dialogue".

"Diversion of Angels", is a lyrical ballet about the loveliness of youth, the pleasure and playfulness, quick joy and sadness of being in love for the first time. It tells no story but, like a lyric poem, simply explores its theme.

"The Legend of Judith" is a modern interpretation of the classics - an epic of the great Hebrew heroine of the Old Testament. It takes place entirely within the "unknown landscape of the mind" of a woman. The music is by the Israeli composer, Mordecai Seter, and the setting is by Dani Karavan, a young painter discovered by Miss Graham on one of her tours of Israel.

Famed pianist appears with orchestra

Pianist Mischa Kottler will be the guest artist at the first Dearborn Orchestra concert of the season at 8:20 p.m. Friday, October 14, at the Ford Motor Company Central Office Building, Michigan Ave. at Southfield Rd.

Kottler will play the Schumann Piano Concerto with Nathan Gordon conducting. The Orchestra will be featured in Verdi's Overture to "La Forza del Destino," Bizet's "Symphony No. 1" and Wagner's Prelude to Act II of "Lohengrin."

Tanger traffic problem still unsolved

It was just a month ago at the September meeting of the Plymouth Community Board of Education that a group of parents asked the Trustees to look into the matter of having the speed limit lowered along Five Mile Road because of the proximity of the new Tanger Elementary School.

The school, which had opened only a few days earlier for half-day sessions since it was still under construction, is located a few hundred yards west of the intersection of Haggerty and Five Mile Roads.

Actually the site is in Northville Township which is neither here nor there since the school is in the Plymouth school district.

At that time the parents complained about (1) the high rate of speed allowed on a high traffic road (2) their children having to walk along the shoulder of the highway (3) and half-day sessions.

The children still have to walk on the shoulder because there aren't any sidewalks along Five Mile Road until a block east of the intersection with Schoolcraft Road.

The half-day sessions were eliminated a week ago with the completion of the building.

But the traffic situation remains much as it was on the day of the complaint with the exception that the Sheriff's Road Patrol has been checking cars rather carefully in the past 10 days and have nabbed several speeders.

However, we believe the parents were exactly right in their complaint. The Traffic and Safety division of the Wayne County Road Commission should take steps to reduce the speed limit from Haggerty Road to a point several blocks west of the school.

In the first place, cars approaching from the east on Five Mile move up a slight incline as they near Haggerty Road where a flasher light is located.

They halt for the light and then speed on and are upon the school almost immediately since it is only about 300 yards away on the north side of the road and downhill all the way.

The only indications drivers have of the school are signs east of Haggerty Road on Five Mile indicating a school is nearby. But there is a 45-mile limit on Five Mile east of Haggerty and a drop to 40 MPH as the cars buzz past the school.

It is our belief that drivers are on top of the school and practically through the school zone before they realize it. It appears to be unfair to have a 40 MPH limit since a driver could conceivably roar over the hill, through the intersection and going downhill as youngsters come racing out of the school.

It should be remembered that this is an elementary school and most of the students are 11 and younger. Youngsters of that age are impulsive and could run into the road without thinking.

The situation is much the same approaching from the west where drivers round a curve, have a bit of straightaway before going uphill where there would be a tendency to step on it a bit.

Just at the point where the car is gaining the most momentum, is a school crossing. There haven't been any accidents yet, probably because the Road Patrol is sitting on the situation and nailing many speeders.

But come the day when they relax and that could be the time of trouble.

All of which leads one to conjecture, why can't the Road Commission lower the speed limit to 25 MPH through the school area and enforce it?

Endowment fund seen at College

A group of area civic leaders will meet Thursday night, Oct. 13, to complete organization of a non-profit corporation which will seek and administer endowment funds, gifts and other private financial assistance on behalf of Schoolcraft College.

The organizational meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Waterman Center of the Schoolcraft campus. It follows an exploratory meeting at the college on Sept. 29, attended by some 40 persons.

Wilson D. Tyler, Detroit banker and Northville resident, has served as temporary chairman of a steering committee which has been planning the organization of such a corporation for several months.

At the Sept. 29 meeting, 19 persons agreed to serve as trustees of the corporation.

THEY WERE: Tyler, George L. Clark, Philip R. Ogilvie, Clifton D. Hill, Robert Freydt, Stan Johnston, Jan Reef, A. R. Clarke, Harold E. Bittner, and Mrs. Alex Nelson, all of Northville;

William R. Keith, Charles E. Lowe and John N. Santeau Jr., all of Garden City; E. D. Dougherty, Gordon R. Ramsey, and James Thomas, all of Livonia; Kenneth L. Hulsing and William A. Leonard, both of Plymouth; and Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of the college.

Get Me a Lawyer--I Want to Make an Arrest

Sandra Sagar

STORY OF GRIT

Can't never did

Sandra was born on March 22, 1950 the daughter of Howard and Darlene Sagar and was stricken with polio at the age of 17 months. She was completely immobilized, and there was no hope for her recovery.

The Sagers lived in Wisconsin from 1951 until 1959, when they moved to Port Huron, Michigan. Then in 1960, they moved to North Carolina. While in North Carolina, a back operation was performed to prevent a complete curvature of the spine. Twelve vertebrae were fused on December 12, 1961, and Sandra remained in a body cast for 1 1/2 years at the hospital.

Sandra's grit and determination to recover was predominant from the very beginning of her affliction. In May of 1963, while still in the body cast at the hospital, she requested crutches and braces and made such progress that she was released and went home in June 1963. The medical profession stated this was one of the marvels of that time.

In September 1963, Sandra and her family moved to Plymouth, Michigan and her father works as a machine repairman at Ford Motor Co. The family lived in the city until they moved to their new address in Holiday Park in 1966.

During July 1964, the back operation had to be repeated; and a leg operation was performed also, at the University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Sandra is now making fine progress, and returns to the U of M Hospital at six-month intervals for check-up.

Like many teenagers, Sandra was a Beetle fan. The hospital made arrangements to send Sandra to the Olympia when the Beetles were in Detroit during September 1964, and she had a ringside seat on the back of the stage during the entire performance. Autographs from each of the Beetles are among her treasured memoirs.

Her entire education was conducted at home by special tutoring until 1965. During the 1965-66 school year, she attended the Junior High (East) in Plymouth; and this year she is a sophomore at the Senior High. Her progress is excellent, and she has won the hearts of her teachers and the friendship of a host of students. It is her desire to become an executive secretary; but the curriculum is limited for her, due to the absence of elevators in the school. However, with her spirit and determination, I predict she will also overcome this obstacle.

Where did the necessary financial assistance come from through these many years? It was through the efforts of united giving across this country of ours.

Sandra's philosophy: "CAN'T NEVER DID ANYTHING - CAN DID IT ALL"

Fire in your home? Sure it could happen

A fanatical optimist - certainly no one else - might find it cheering to learn that although we have been burning a lot more property, we haven't been burning many more people. That's one lesson to be drawn from the official record made public in connection with "Fire Prevention Week"

Two years ago the number of people killed in fires in the United States was 11,900. Last year it rose to 12,000. Property loss in 1964 totaled $1,367 million. In 1965 it was $1,456 million. A great many of the lives could have been saved, a vast deal of the economic and personal loss could have been prevented, if people had just been a little more careful.

Sermons about care in avoiding fires may sound like old stuff. Nobody in his right mind starts a fire because he wants to. Nobody deliberately gets absent-minded. One thing we can do is take a fresh look at some elementary rules for fire prevention and remember that they aren't for the other fellow. They're for ourselves.

How about your electric wiring? Is it in good condition? If you must keep oil-soaked rags, are they in closed metal cans? Are kitchen matches in a safe place? Lighter fluid out of children's reach? Ever smoke in bed? Whether you do or don't - don't. Smoking causes one-fourth of all fires.

What about burns suffered in fires? First degree (skin deep) burns require only an antiseptic soothing ointment. Second degree burns cause blisters; they should be soaked in a solution of two heaping tablespoons of baking soda to a quart of boiled and cooled tap water. If they're severe, call a doctor. A third degree burn, which involves the entire thickness of the skin, always requires medical care.

The TB and Health Society, your Christmas Seal association suggests: Prevent fires and burns. Observe Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9 to 15.

Federal summer jobs open for area students

Congressman Wes Vivian announced in Washington that college students from the Second Congressional District will be eligible to compete in a nationwide Office and Science Assistant examination for many of the temporary jobs in the Federal departments and agencies that will be filled in the summer of 1967.

The examination includes a written test for jobs at grades GS-1 through 4, with salaries ranging from $69 to $92 per week.

For similar jobs during the summer of 1966 - the first year a competitive test was given - more than 105,000 applicants competed.

The test for jobs in the summer of 1967 will be given on three different test dates in Adrian, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Toledo, and more than 1,000 cities and towns across the country.

CANDIDATES WISHING to take the test on November 26 of this year must file applications by October 21; those wishing to compete on January 7, 1967, must file by December 9, 1966; and candidates for the February 4, 1967, examination must file by January 9, 1967.

All interested citizens will be given equal opportunity to compete.

Congressman Vivian explained that those interested in Federal summer employment in 1967 should obtain a copy of Civil Service Commission Announcement No. 401 entitled "Office and Science Assistant Examination for 1967." A pamphlet "Summer Jobs in Federal Agencies," providing detailed information on the kinds of jobs that will be available and further guidance for applicants, will be available at college placement offices, boards of civil service examiners, offices of the Civil Service Commission, and civil service information points in some Post Offices.

Applicants may use the tear-out form which is a part of the announcement leaflet. Ask for Civil Service Form 5000-AB to make application to the U.S. Civil Service Commission, 1900 E. Street N.W., Washington, D.C., 20415.

Candidates may select any one of the three test dates and may choose a city where the test is being given.

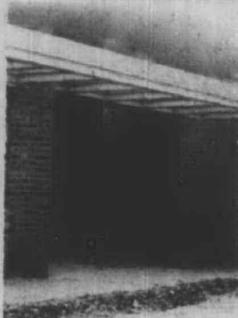

WATCH YOUR TEMPER!

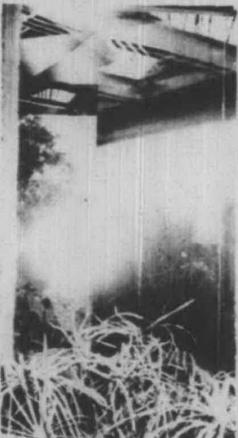

By "tempering" glass - heating it and then cooling it in a special way - scientists have developed a new thin safety glass many times stronger under impact than ordinary glass.

Because of new technological developments, tempered glass should break under severe duress - would "fail safe" by crumbling into small granular particles, rather than large jagged pieces that cause severe injury.

Tempered glass is already available in sliding glass doors, shower stalls and bathtub enclosures, and will soon have many other applications where impact resistance is a factor. Aluminum storm doors which contain tempered glass also help increase your family's safety.

A narrow stairway leads to the entrance of the house.

A compact kitchen is lighted from a skylight. The massive brick wall, and shaft of light from the ceiling create a somewhat medieval effect.

Interesting houses

'Snowflake' is a tribute to Wright's genius

Angled glass separates the dining room from a garden. The indoor plants add to the closeness of the indoor-outdoor relationship.

MOTHERS OF TWINS MEET

All mothers of twins or any multiple births are invited to the October 17 meeting of the Western Wayne County Mothers of Twin Club. The speaker is Dr. John Churchill, Chief, Department of Research in Child Neurology of the Lafayette Clinic. Dr. Churchill has been conducting research to determine whether birth weight has anything to do with the mentality of a child. The meeting will be held at the Guaranty Federal Saving and Loan Assoc., Telegraph at Cherry Hill at 8 p.m. For information call GL 3-1437.

Frank Lloyd Wright designed the home of the Carl Walls to be a place where angles have an unexpected warmth and charm. Named "Snowflake", after that delightful angular creation, the house is a series of angles which tempt one to follow and see what is beyond each corner. To reach the house at 12305 Beck Rd., one travels a winding gravel drive guarded by willow trees, to the top of a hill. There, the house, a mixture of brick and natural wood, nestles in the landscape. Built in 1941, today, 25 years later, the house still looks like the latest thing. A narrow staircase rising to the front door, and surrounded by a brick half-wall, gives a feeling of coziness without closeness. Wright wanted to do away with the idea of rooms being a series of boxes, and the house rambles from one interesting angle to the next. Anxious to achieve a blending of outside and indoors, Wright creates the feeling of the outdoors being a part of the sheltering house. This is particularly noticeable in the dining room where a series of angular windows make it almost impossible to tell where the indoors ends and the outside begins. The Walls became interested in Wright's work while still in college. Wright was a friend of the president of Olivet College near Battle Creek, which the Walls attended. When it came time to build their first house, they were determined that no one but Wright should design it. "I was quite lucky to have my dream house when I was still so young," says Mrs. Wall. "Wright is different from many contemporary architects, in that he was interested in designing individual homes as well as public buildings." Wright wanted to design his houses according to the interests of the owners. The Walls had an opportunity to stay with Wright in Wisconsin and discuss their needs and wants while he drew up the plans. Many things that seem up to date today were put in this house 25 years ago. The kitchen had a dishwasher and disposal. Speakers from the radio and record player were put in all the rooms. Architects come from all over the world to view the house. "While we have very personal feelings towards this house, we realize it is also a work of art," says Mrs. Wall describing her feelings towards their many visitors, some of whom drop in unannounced. "We get used to living in it, day by day. But when we've been away for a little while we really appreciate coming back." The four Wall children grew up in this house. "It has made an impression on my personality," says the youngest daughter, Katie, now a student at Eastern Michigan.

Future children to be perfect

by Margaret Murawski
Modern science seems beyond me. A news bulletin a few months ago announced that scientists were perfecting ways to save genes for future use. The future would seem to be a time when, with a little mixing of the right proportions, voila, another Beethoven is born. Of course one of the side effects of all the drugs and hormones women have been taking is to produce multiple births. Imagine the mother that has not one, but six Beethovens. I see it all now, the family is gathered around the piano. One boy starts playing. Out come the magnificent notes, da da da dum. "Listen everyone," he cries, "I've composed the Fifth Symphony." "Oh be quiet," scoffs another, "I composed that weeks ago." The problems in family planning would be immense. Genes would, of course, be stored at the local ice bank. "How about going down to the ice bank and putting in an application for another boy scientist," fathers would suggest. "No, I want a girl ballerina," demands the mother. "That last boy scientist just lies under the tree waiting for an apple to fall on his head. Doesn't he realize gravity has already been invented?" "Discovered, not invented. I can see your parents never got you any scientific genes." Talk at the bridge club might run something like this: "We're planning to have an artist next." "I want our first child to be a financial wizard." Women of the future will undoubtedly have wonderful children. Recessive genes which cause major diseases will be eliminated. In every home there'll be a genius. But in the meantime it's fascinating to watch children from the same parents grow up into such different and interesting individuals.

1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup flour
2 eggs
Heat the water, with the fat in it, to the boiling point. Add the salt and flour all at once. Stir until the mixture clings to the spoon. Remove from the heat. Break in the eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet one and a half inches apart. Bake at 375 degrees for one hour. Cool and slice from side to side, and add filling.

Mrs. Strang suggests using pudding mix, a fruit mixture or ice cream as the filling. Sprinkle the top with powdered sugar. If the cream puffs are made ahead, the filling should be added at the last minute.

Mr. and Mrs. David Fehlig announce the birth of David Frederick on September 23. He weighed 6 lbs. 9 oz. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Stimpson and Mr. and Mrs. William Fehlig of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kelley of 40528 Orangelawn announce the birth of an eight lb. 12 oz. son, Michael Sean, on September 30 at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Kelley is the former Sharon Wesley, daughter of the Edward Wesleys of Carol St., the paternal grandparents are Mrs. Norma Berkowitz of Detroit and Glen Kelley of Redford.

Mrs. Woolweaver hangs her handiwork in the window. It includes bat, fish, a flower pot and Christmas tree, all in raffia frames.

Plastic crystals have many uses

Plastic crystals have been turned into all kinds of decorative pieces by Mrs. Herbert Woolweaver. They can be melted and used in raffia frames or melted in cookie cutters. The crystals cost around $1 a pound and come in many different colors. They are available in most hobby shops. The raffia frames come in many animal and fruit shapes and are available at the Manor Hill.

Plastic crystals have been especially good way to make Christmas tree ornaments. The plastic should be sprinkled in frames placed on a cookie sheet. Heavy weights should be placed on top of the raffia frames, so they won't warp during the cooking. They are then baked at 350 degrees. Bake for about 15 minutes if you want the plastic to have a bumpy surface. A clear surface, like stained glass takes at least half an hour. Both surfaces are very attractive. When they are done take them out of the oven and let cool before removing from the cookie cutters or cookie sheet. It is a good idea to leave the weights on top of the raffia but don't let them touch any of the plastic, or they might stick.

To put string in the Christmas tree ornaments, pick them with heated ice pick, while the ornaments are still warm. The ice pick will make the right size hole to run a string through. If any of the plastic sticks to the outside of the raffia frames, it can be pulled off with pliers when cool. These chips of plastic can be saved and added to the top of other plastic creations when those decorations are almost finished cooking. The extra pieces will give an added jeweled effect. One fish and bat pictured have extra chips added to them. The round jewel pieces on the raffia tree and fish on the top right hand window, can be bought along with the small crystals at a hobby shop.

CRITICALLY INJURED two years ago in a car-bicycle accident that left him paralyzed from the waist down, Jeff Cardinal (in wheelchair) hasn't allowed his trouble to get him down. One of the most popular seniors at Plymouth High, Jeff and Mary Vallier are shown going over final plans for the annual homecoming program this weekend. They are the co-chairmen of a weekend that each believes will be one of the best ever in the community for a homecoming. Despite the wheelchair, Jeff attends every football and basketball game from a choice seat along the sidelines.

Schoolcraft students take part in straw vote

Romey for governor, Griffin for U.S. Senator and a presidential election contest between Democrat Senator Robert F. Kennedy and Republican Romney.

Those are the political preferences expressed by Schoolcraft College students in a straw vote last week. The poll was taken during the course of a Student Senate election.

In the Michigan gubernatorial race, Schoolcraft students preferred Republican Gov. George Romney over his Democrat opponent, Zoltan Ferenczy, by a 246-39 margin.

They also went for Senator Robert Griffin, a Republican, over former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, his Democrat opponent, 178-102, in the race for U.S. Senate.

Voting on both sides of the ballot in a presidential nominee poll, the students gave Kennedy a majority among five Democratic candidates, and Romney a majority among six GOP candidates.

President Johnson ran a bad second to Kennedy, 167-60, and Vice President Humphrey, with four votes, was outdistanced by former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, 29; and Sen. William Fulbright, 21.

On the Republican side, the students gave Romney 155 votes as GOP standard bearer, Richard Nixon, 32; Sen. Barry Goldwater, 32; New York City Mayor John Lindsay, 25; and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, 12.

Despite the Johnson-Humphrey vote, the Administration Vietnam policy was backed by Schoolcraft students by a 196-102 margin.

Jaycees will lend hand

The Michigan Jaycees again this year will play a key role in the nationwide reporting of the Nov. 8, general election.

In this area several members of the Plymouth Jaycees will cover the vote count at individual precincts, and then report the results to the statewide tabulation center at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

The Jaycee participation is part of the News Election Service (NES) coverage of Michigan and the entire nation on election night. The news Election Service is composed of ABC News, CBS News, NBC News, the Associated Press and United Press International.

THE VOTE returns collected by NES are distributed equally to each member, and they in turn give the results to virtually every newspaper and radio and television station in the United States.

Bruce Cohn of ABC News, Michigan state manager for NES, said the Michigan election will be one of the two or three most important in the nation this year. He said the efforts of Plymouth Jaycee president Jerry Yobey and his men will provide a major public service for the entire country.

Cohn pointed out that in return for this service, the Michigan Jaycees will receive a cash grant from the combined news services for use in the Jaycee program of promoting governmental affairs and free enterprise activity.

Throughout Michigan, some 3,500 Jaycee members will participate in the vote collecting project.

Esch raps Vivian on farm vote

"It's time to put the corn and the wheat in their proper bins and be honest about the farm situation," Rep. Marvin Esch told several hundred farmers gathered for the annual State Corn Picking contest.

"My opponent," said Esch, who is opposing Weston Vivian for the Second District congressional post Nov. 8, "is an Orville Freeman man - they think and act alike. Neither has any apparent interest in the farmer."

"Vivian has consistently voted against major Farm Bureau-Anchor Coupling

Declares Coupling declares dividends

backed legislation and by so doing has made it obvious he does not represent the farmers of this district.

"Freeman," Esch continued, "was recently quoted as saying: 'The administration has no intention of turning farmers loose from federal controls.' Freeman is no longer Secretary of Agriculture, he's more like a secretary of consumer products - for all the interest he has in farmers."

Esch cited Vivian's statement to participants in the Farm Bureau Air-Tour to the capitol this spring. "Vivian told the farmer visitors, 'We still have 200,000 unemployed miners in Appalachia. When you use such a person, even though he may pick the wrong beans or injure the tomatoes, you are helping solve the welfare problem.' In other words, my opponent indicated that the farmers must expect to be used as a dumping ground for unskilled labor."

Esch called farm operators the most important economic group in the country. "While farmers only represent seven percent of the voters, this is no reason to ignore their problems and their needs. Vivian votes 100 per cent for COPE and the ADA and he votes consistently against the Farm Bureau."

Buying a new car? Remember—financing rates are on the way UP

The total price you pay for your new car is determined by two things: (1) the cost of financing; and (2) the trade-in deal on your old car, or "discount" if you have no trade-in.

That first can run into hundreds of dollars—especially now, when interest rates are moving up just about everywhere except at your credit union. And what you pay for financing makes a BIG difference in the cost of your car.

There's a reason why the credit union rate doesn't move up along with others. A credit union is in business to help its members. It is owned by its members. There's no point in charging yourself higher interest rates.

... but not at your credit union

And that's why credit unions offer still other advantages you find nowhere else. For example, loans to all qualified members are insured as an extra benefit at no extra cost. If you die or are totally and permanently disabled, your loan is paid up in full. Many credit unions give borrowers an interest rebate at the end of the year. And they're the only ones who do.

So look at the '67 models. You'll love them. But avoid '67 features on your financing. Go back to your credit union for the always low cost. You'll probably get the best deal in town.

For full details, contact the C.U. where you work — or the one in your parish or neighborhood — or write Michigan Credit Union League, 13235 Woodrow Wilson, Detroit, Michigan 48238

CAMPUS LANDSCAPING BEGINS — Workmen set one group of the nearly 200 low spreading junipers to be planted as part of a major landscaping program underway at the 139 acre Schoolcraft College campus. This first phase of the beautification project involves planting more than 300 trees and shrubs, seeding nearly 10 acres of lawn areas, landscaping construction work and planting ground cover. Davey Tree Co. is doing the work under a $25,200 contract. Additional planting is planned for next spring.

VFW Auxiliary #6695

Mayflower Post and Auxiliary members will make their annual trip to the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids on October 16. Anyone making the trip has been asked to meet in the parking lot behind the VFW Hall at 10 a.m. This outing will be in conjunction with the rest of the Fourth District. Children are welcome and luncheon will be served at the Home for a small charge. For further information, call Mrs. Willard (Loretta) Olson.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars National Home is a farm home of 640 acres located four miles from Eaton Rapids. This home was built as a living memorial to fallen comrades and the upkeep is the sole responsibility of the many posts and auxiliaries throughout the United States.

There are approximately 34 brick houses, a hospital, a community center, nursery, chapel, guest house, House Mothers' cottage, playground, swimming pool, laundry, store and administrative and farm buildings. Approximately 200 orphans and from 15 to 20 widows of veterans are housed there. Better than 1800 children have been cared for and have gone on to colleges, jobs, and the armed services. This year a new library was dedicated. Local and State post and auxiliary units contributed over $22,000 for books.

Three new homes were built and dedicated this year by other states.

Children and widows of all Veterans of Foreign Wars who have held membership in the VFW for at least one year are eligible. The post must apply and sponsor the children to the Home. This project is a father's insurance that his family will have a home if he becomes physically unable to provide for them.

Detroit's auto show to be world's largest

The automobile capital of the world will have the largest auto show in the world this year.

The 51st annual Detroit Auto Show will cover the entire main floor of Cobo Hall - exhibit halls, A, B, and C - as it has in the past.

Dates for the annual extravaganza are Saturday, Nov. 26, through Sunday, Dec. 4. Show manager Boyce Tope expects attendance to top 250,000.

Stars of the show will be the new 1967 models from the U.S. manufacturers plus many imports.

In addition to the shiny, sleek cars, there will be cutaway exhibits, engineering displays, revolving turntables, special show cars, beautiful models (girl models, that is) to tell the crowds all about their favorite models (car models, that is).

In exhibit hall D recreational vehicles will be on display. With the rising interest in camping and other outdoor activities, officials expect this exhibit to be one of the most popular in the show.

Professional stage entertainment is planned this year, with two shows daily and three on weekend days. They will be free to Auto Show visitors.

Jr. cage coaches set meeting

The Plymouth Community Junior Basketball League will hold its first meeting of the new season on Monday at 8 p.m. at an eating place next to the Plymouth Art Theater on Penniman Ave.

The league needs additional coaching talent due to the increase in the number of players. Adults interested are urged to attend the meeting or contact John Van Wagoner at 453-8023.

Nearly 400 youngsters between the ages of 8 and 15 participated in the league activities last year and more are expected this season.

Registration days for the new campaign will be Saturday, Oct. 29 and Saturday, Nov. 12. The season is slated to begin on Saturday, Dec. 3.

Nature hike planned

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park with fall color at its height, is the location of the next field trip of the Detroit Audubon Society. Nature trails of varying length invite you.

The hike is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 15 at 9 a.m. After the hike, all are invited to attend the dedication ceremony of the tape sound system given in memory of Mrs. Evelyn Kelly, founder of the Detroit Audubon Society. The dedication at the Stony Creek Nature Museum, will take place at 11 a.m. For more information about these events call 893-6262, the Detroit Audubon Society office.

Grab that tackle and seek out the trout

LANSING - Michigan's fall season is a great time to be alive - and outdoors.

That goes doubly so for trout fishermen who have a chance for some of the year's finest fishing under the state's extended fall season on rainbows, including stream-running steelheads, and browns in more than 400 top trout waters.

The fish are jumping, those pesky bugs are gone, the outdoor scene is a kaleidoscope of flaming colors, and the autumn air is refreshingly crisp. In short, fall trout fishing is something mighty special.

And this year, it's better than even money that Michigan's trout fishermen will have never had it so good - at least for the past few seasons.

WITH STEELHEADS making a comeback in the Great Lakes, Conservation Department fish-

There's more to the show than glamour and bright lights, though. One of the major purposes of all Detroit Auto Shows is to give the person who's in the market for a new car a chance to look at all the models and make his choice.

American makes which will be on display include Cadillac, Lincoln, Mercury, Dodge, Buick, Rambler, Plymouth, Pontiac, Ford, Chrysler, Imperial, Chevrolet, and Oldsmobile.

Imports to be seen will include Toyota, Renault, Opel, Fiat, Volkswagen, Datsun, Triumph, Simca, Saab, Mercedes, English Ford, Jaguar, MG, Austin, Austin-Healy, Morris, and Rolls Royce.

Committee for the show, which is sponsored by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association, includes Harry Tennyson, chairman; Douglas Dalgleish, Richard Green, Neal Mason, Roger Rinke, Arnold Feuerman, and Lawrence Falvey. All are Detroit area auto dealers.

Junior gridders travel to G. C.

Plymouth's junior football Lions will travel to Garden City Sunday for games with the freshman, junior varsity and varsity teams.

The Lions have completed the first half of the season and continue to show improvement in each outing in this their first year of competition.

The Freshmen nipped the Livonia Cardinals, 13-0, last Sunday. The Jayvees battled Nankin to a 13-13 tie and the varsity took a 27-14 lacing from the Livonia Cardinals.

Rambling around in sports

One of these nights things will click for the Rocks and when they do heaven have mercy on the opposition. Coach John McFall's lads have outgained the opposition in each of the last two games, have outplayed them defensively and done most everything but win.

The present PHS team isn't one of the best turned out at the school but it is far from being among the worse. It's the kind of a team that every sports loving fan in the community can be proud of - these players never give up even though trailing with only seconds to go.

The defensive unit is one of the finest we have seen thus far this season. But like the Detroit Lions, the offensive unit just hasn't jelled as expected even though it has shown signs of power on occasions but never for any sustained period of time.

Some indication of the spirit may be gained by watching the antics of Steve Hulce, generally considered the top defensive back on the squad who suffered a leg injury on the initial scrimmage of the season and had to undergo surgery that ended his football for this season.

On crutches, Steve never misses a practice session. He's right there night after night offering encouragement and probably dying every moment he can't play. Steve rides on the bus with the team to the games. He's on the sidelines hobbling up and down, screaming words of advice just as if he was in his spot in the defensive backfield.

It takes a great deal of moxie to do what Steve is doing daily. Our hats are off to a boy who has as much spirit and courage as any youngster we have every run across. Too bad that some of those big, husky, car-riding, fun-loving PHS students, who

Pistons off to hot start

Their most successful exhibition campaign behind them, the firing for keeps begins Saturday night for the Detroit Pistons when they open the regular 1966-67 National Basketball Association season in Cincinnati against the Royals.

It also will be the Pistons vs. the Royals in the Pistons' home opener at Detroit's Cobo Arena on Tuesday (Oct. 18) with the tipoff set for 8 p.m.

Player-coach Dave DeBusschere figures his Pistons have improved at least 25 percent since the close of the last campaign.

The return of Reggie Harding at center . . . the additions of rookies, Dave Bing and Dorie Murrey . . . the improvements shown by Joe Strawder, Ron Reed, John Tresvant and Tom Van Arsdale - all rookies a year ago - are just three of the major reasons for DeBusschere's greater confidence in his charges.

can't bother going out for football because it's work, don't have the same spirit as Steve. Then there's the story of Al Nawrocki, the green but hard-driving fullback, who tried to play in the Allen Park game with a heavy cold and other complications. Al was afraid a doctor would tell him not to play so he reportedly doctored himself.

He gave a valiant try against the Parkers until he finally was in a state of collapse before he had to be helped off the field. It probably was poor judgment on Al's part but it is another demonstration of the spirit of this PHS team.

AFTER THREE GAMES on the road, the Rocks return home Friday for the annual homecoming game against the strong Livonia Bentley machine.

Nothing could please Coach McFall and his staff more than to have his scrappy club come up with its best game thus far and record one on the right side of the ledger before the returning grads and student body.

It's quite something to ask a high school team to open at home and then play three games in a row on the road. It does mean more home encounters in the second half of the season but if ever the Rocks needed that home atmosphere it was this year.

We can guarantee this much. Regardless of the outcome, win or lose, fans are going to see a fighting, never-say-die gang of Rocks. It is a team that deserves a better fate than a one and three record but then the fates have been against it in the last three contests. Perhaps Old Dame Fortune will smile instead of frown this time. We hope so.

WHILE ON THE subject, Plymouth doesn't have to take a backseat to any of the other schools in the Suburban Six League as far as band and cheerleaders are concerned.

Jim Griffith's musicians put on a fine show at Belleville even though going against a fine organization from that place. It was a much different situation than at Allen Park where Griffith was told the host school would use up all of the time during the intermission.

Thus the bandmen made a brief appearance prior to the opening kickoff and then became routers and spectators for the remainder of the game.

Griffith has been priming his gang for homecoming, promises many surprises and his best program of the year.

Have you watched the cheerleaders? It's worth your time. They practice daily to perfect their routines and they have the same never-say-die spirit.

Shades of the Lions -no offense, good defense

Miniature edition of the Detroit Lions. That's the tag given to the Plymouth High Rocks after losing their third straight game Friday to Belleville, 21-7, after having a decisive edge in all statistics but scoring.

A great defensive unit but a sputtering offense that thus far hasn't been able to sustain a drive even though moving deep into enemy territory time after time - that's a capsule description of this year's PHS team.

Belleville capitalized on two breaks for its first two markers and then made the third on a spectacular 88-yard kickoff return that found Halfback Clint

Brown fumbling the ball, going to his knees to pick it up some eight yards away, then getting up and ricing down the sidelines clear and free when he found all of the players on both teams on the opposite side of the field.

The first six-pointer came after Plymouth Quarterback Dave Prochazka was snowed under while attempting to punt. The kick was blocked and recovered on the Plymouth 17 by Linebacker Phil Davis.

Two line thrusts netted absolutely nothing and then Tiger Quarterback Rick Kamiskis was hauled down for an eight yard loss on a wide end sweep. That's where Belleville received a break when the officials ruled unnecessary roughness and placed the ball on the Plymouth 12. Two plays later Kamiskis found a hole at right guard and made it first down on the 7.

That's when the Rocks' defense really went to work. Kamiskis tried right tackle for a yard. A pass was batted down. Brown tried to sweep left end but ran into End Pat Williams for no gain.

It was fourth down and still six to go for a touchdown. For the first time, the middle of the Plymouth line gave and Belleville's Carl Bolay barely made it to the end zone. Matter of fact there was some question as to whether he did but the officials waved a big solid "Yes". Big Wayne Suttles split the crossbars and Belleville was out in front, 7-0 at the end of the opening quarter.

The Rocks came roaring back and marched to the 42 before the big Belleville forward wall halted the drive. Prochazka dropped back to punt and was roughed getting the ball away with the result that Plymouth had a first down on the Belleville 45 after the 15-yard marchoff.

Marty Rossow and Ron Lowe picked up nine in three line smashes before a Mike Cederberg pass was intercepted by Belleville's Bruce MacLaren on his own 33.

Three plays later, Kamiskis fumbled and Williams recovered for Plymouth on the Belleville 40.

Rossow scooted around left end for five. Tom Elias hit guard for four. Rick Fillmore was checked at center but T. Elias made it a first down on the Belleville 26.

Lowe took a lateral from Prochazka and skirted end for four. He fought his way through the middle for five to put the ball on the 17 with 3:05 remaining in the half.

The drive ended on the next play when Prochazka was tackled hard on an attempted pass, fumbled and husky Jerry Meade recovered for the host team on the Belleville 18.

Then with a minute and half to go, T. Elias picked off a Belleville aerial and scampered 15 yards to the Belleville 34.

Prochazka's toss to lanky John Davis was short. Another to T. Elias was batted out of his hands on the five. Prochazka was thrown for a loss of 15 to the Plymouth 48 with a half-minute to play.

THE NEXT PLAY, Prochazka was snowed under again by the hard charging Belleville line, fumbled and Davis picked up the loose ball and raced 44 yards for the second touchdown. Suttles converted again and Belleville held a 14-0 lead at half-time.

Neither team was able to put together a sustained drive in the third quarter which was marked by hard tackling and numerous penalties for personal fouls, grabbing facemasks and pushing.

Plymouth halted a promising Belleville drive midway through the period when Tackle Tom Mathews recovered a fumble by Floyd Gillespie at midfield. The Rocks started to move but if fizzled when Cederberg was dropped for an 11-yard loss on an attempted pass. The third quarter ended with Belleville still in front, 14-0.

Early in the final stanza, Plymouth gained possession on its own 40 after a punt and made the only sustained march of the evening, aided by a pair of 15-yard penalties.

Steve Montgomery and Fillmore made it a first down on the Belleville 46.

Lowe added eight in two thrusts and then Belleville was penalized to the 23 for grabbing a face mask.

THREE PASSES WENT astray before the home club drew another 15-yarder to the Belleville. Lowe whirled and fought to the six from where Tom Elias went over two plays later. Prochazka converted and Plymouth was back in the ball game, trailing only 14-7.

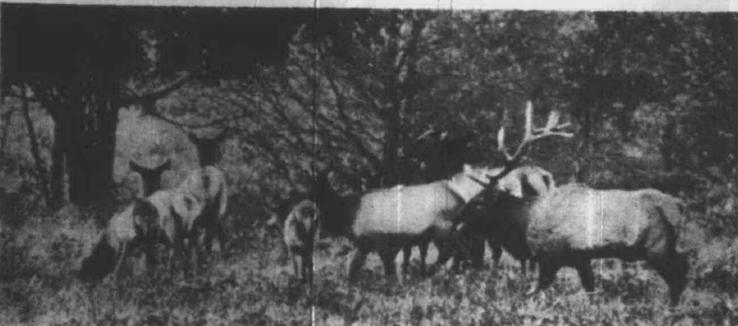

Then on the following kickoff came the unusual play that found short, stubby-legged Brown going the entire 88 yards after dropping the kickoff, picking it up, looking up to find one side of the field entirely clear and racing down that side for a touchdown. Suttles' placement was blocked but a Plymouth player was found guilty of an infraction and his second attempt made it 21-7.

Plymouth took to the air with Cederberg directing a passing attack that hit Lowe on the Belleville 29 for a first down. Rossow and T. Elias picked up 15 yards in three thrusts for another first down on the 14.

Prochazka was nailed for a three-yard loss on a keeper play. Cederberg was snowed under trying to pass and lost another eight. A pass from Cederberg to Lowe found the latter in the open behind his man but the ball went over his head. A pass on fourth down was incomplete and Belleville took over on its own 30 and controlled the ball for the remaining two minutes.

It was the third straight loss for the Rocks - all on the road - and now they return to the friendly confines of their own field for a Friday night, homecoming battle against Bentley High.

It will be recalled that the Rocks opened the season at home against Northville for their lone victory. Coach John McFall has hopes that the double combination of homecoming and a home crowd will find his team clocking offensively to record its second triumph.

Although many tourists find it harder to see elk in northern Michigan's Pigeon River Area than they did a couple of years ago, there is no reason to think these big, majestic animals are declining in numbers. Latest word from Conservation Department field men, who are keeping 'round-the-calendar' tabs on the situation, is that elk appear to be healthy and reproducing normally this summer. The herd won't come under the gun this fall, but this doesn't mean there is any letup in the continuing intensive study of elk by Department game researchers. The year-long job of watching, tagging, weighing, measuring, and otherwise gathering information about these animals goes right on. -Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Grouse hunters find it rough going

LANSING - The first 11 days of special grouse hunting on Garden and High Islands in Lake Michigan resulted in 197 hunters taking 68 birds. On Garden Island 18 grouse were flushed for every one shot, and on High Island where cover is less dense, the figures were 12 flushed for every one shot.

Although this shooting record is not noteworthy, Conservation Department game biologist point out that hunting conditions are more severe than on the mainland. Island cover is heavy and the going is rough through dense shin-tangle.

On geese, in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower, the season opened Oct. 1 and closes Nov. 30. In the southern Lower Peninsula, the dates are Oct. 10 and Nov. 30.

Complete details on waterfowl hunting are included in the folders: "Rules for Hunting Waterfowl in Michigan" and "Rules for Hunting Small Game in Michigan." Copies of these should be picked up where hunters buy their licenses.

Basic bag limits on ducks remain unchanged: four a day and eight in possession.

Tips from the STOP & SHOP CHEF Questions & Answers

What is cream of tartar and what effect does it have on ingredients with which it is combined?

Technically, cream of tartar is a purification of acid potassium tartrate. Combined with egg whites, its most frequent use, it stabilizes the whites after they are beaten, enabling them to retain the air. When cream of tartar is combined with egg whites for angel food cake, it makes for a lighter, whiter product.
