City Voters Approve Liquor By Glass

OVER THE TOP! That's the prediction of Community Fund General Chairman Edward Schening (right) as he boosts the indicator past the $77,000 mark while Eber Readman, one of his chief aides, looks on. Schening expects to announce the drive has gone well over the goal at the Victory Dinner Thursday night in the Mayflower Meeting House.

Chairman Confident as Final Report Nears

Victory in Sight For Fund Drive

Because of several large and unexpected gifts from the Industrial Division, reported Monday morning, the annual Plymouth Community Drive is almost certain to go over the top and give the Committee good reason to celebrate at the "Victory Dinner" on Thursday evening.

For a time, several weeks ago, there were some doubts that the goal would be reached. The contributions had been a bit slow in being made, but at the meeting of the committee last week the doubters turned to optimists and predicted that the goal would not only be reached—but would be surpassed.

At that time the following sums were reported:

Industrial	$41,725
Business	$ 9,559
Educational	$ 3,602
Professional	$ 1,510
Residential	$ 7,853
Governmental	$ 571
Special	$ 295

Total $85,115

When these figures were reported, Chairman Edward Schening, of Burroughs, commented that the goal was in sight, but that a last minute push was needed.

"Our workers have been real dedicated persons," he said, "and I hope the snow will not deter them in their efforts."

It was indicated that if the large industrial firms that hadn't been heard from, would just duplicate their contributions of a year ago, the goal of $88,543 would be surpassed and might go as high as close to $92,000.

Then came word from Harold Fischer on Monday morning that the industrial contributions were going beyond what had been expected. As chairman of the Industrial group, he let it be known that one company had "upped" its contribution from a few hundred dollars to $4,000 and just about pushed the drive over the top.

The final pre-deadline meeting of the committee will be held on Wednesday and it is expected that the success can be reported then... even though final figures may not be available.

Seldom before has a Committee worked as a team with such effort to put a drive over the top and the late push appears to be doing the job.

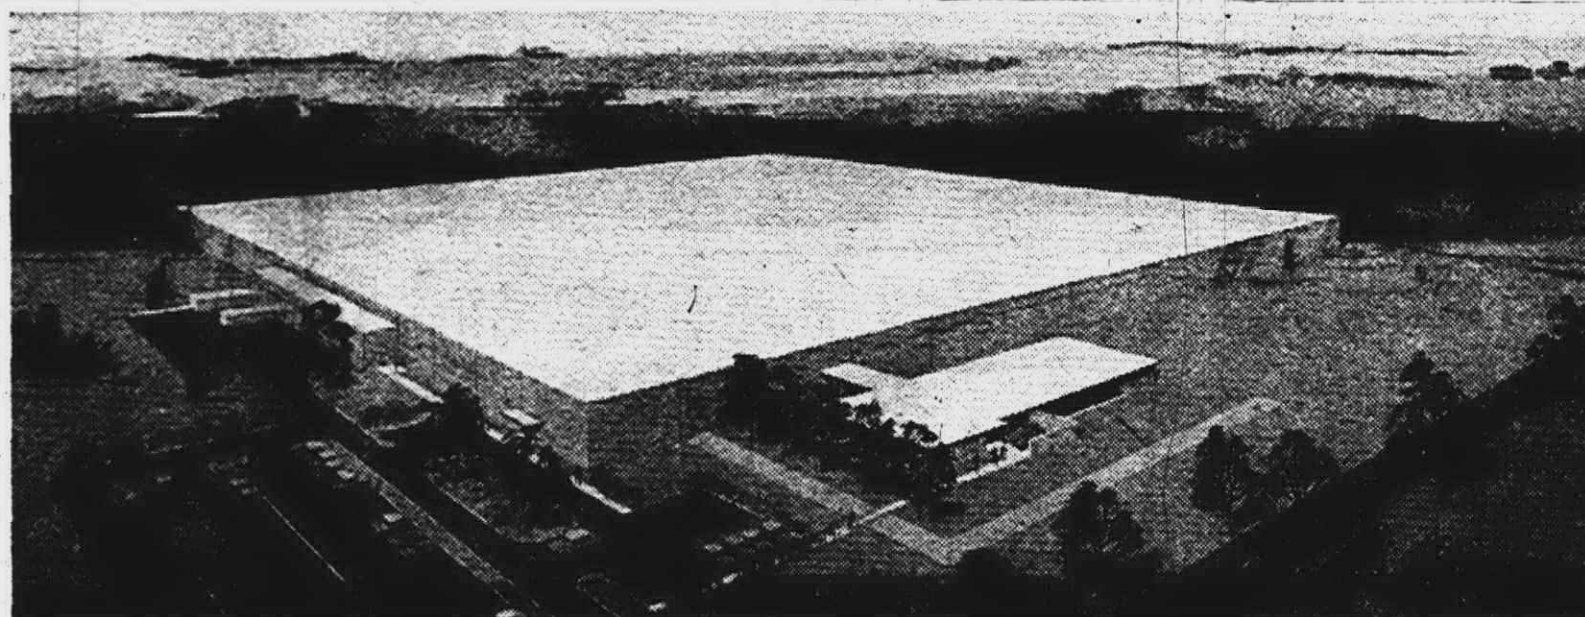

With "Bud" Guest, conductor of the Sunny Side of the Street program over Station WJR, as the main speaker, the Victory Dinner promises to be one of the best in years. Along with "Bud" to aid in the entertainment for a jovial evening will be Denny McLain, the Tigers' 20-game winner, who devotes his time during the winter to being an organizer and a teacher. They claim he always has the right pitch here, too. After the invocation is given by Rev. David Davies, the address of welcome will be given by John Kamego, after which all of the Committee Chairmen will report. And when the figure showing the goal has been reached, the drive will be over.

Architect's conception of the new 300,000-square foot Spartan Warehouse.

Spartan Stores Awards Contract for Warehouse

Construction on the 300,000 square foot Spartan Stores Inc. warehouse, second of the major projects planned in Plymouth Township, will start in the near future. That was the announcement Monday by Spartan Executive Vice President and General Manager

Joseph Foy who told of the awarding of the contract for the structure.

The warehouse will be located on 36 acres on Haggerty Road midway between Ann Arbor and Joy Roads from where it will have easy access to all expressways. It will be built by Utley-James Inc. of Royal Oak with Davenport Associates of Grand Rapids as architects.

Spartan Stores Inc. has its central offices in Grand Rapids.

In announcing the contract, Foy commented: "This new facility will enable Spartan to serve the many Detroit and Eastern Michigan retailers in the same efficient manner that has made the retailers of Western Michigan so important to continuing low-cost distribution."

Foy indicated work would begin as soon as possible with a target date of Aug. 1, 1967 for occupancy. He said the warehouse will serve the Toledo and Northern Ohio territory in addition to Eastern Michigan and Detroit.

And while Spartan is making plans for the ground breaking, area residents are watching the construction of the Ford Motor Co. plant on N. Sheldon Road with more than a bit of interest.

The heater and air conditioner plant, which will absorb that division from the Ypsilanti operation, is scheduled to open in February.

Plans call for a payroll of more than 1,000 to start, with the anticipation that it will build up to more than 2,000 within a reasonably short time.

The frame work is entirely up and workers will begin the interior construction within a week or so, according to reports.

In addition, work is progressing satisfactorily on the new Vico Products Co. plant on Ann Arbor Road across from the Elks Club.

That makes three new industries in the Township, all under construction at the same time.

Sent To Japan

Hospitalman Apprentice Michael B. R. Alford, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barry H. Alford, 14001 Beck Road, Plymouth, has reported aboard the Naval Hospital, Yokosuka, Japan, following completion of Hospital Corps School.

Warning Issued on Bad Checks

With the holiday season just around the corner, Plymouth's Acting Police Chief Roger Vanderveen has issued a warning to all business and merchandising firms to beware of bad checks.

Chief Vanderveen has offered a list of rules he recommended all to follow due to the recent number of bad check incidents reported to the department.

"We believe all should follow these rules because of the number of bad checks being written and passed in the area," said Chief Vanderveen in explaining his warning.

The rules:
1—Do not accept a second endorsement check. Have the passer make the check out to you or your business.

2—Write down some identification, at least a driver's license number. Record this information on the front of the check, along one edge.

3—Never accept a predated check.

4—Keep in mind that the prosecutor's office will not accept checks for less than $10, unless there are three or more cashed by the same person. This means that if the passer is unwilling to make the (under $10) check good, you—the merchants or businessmen—are stuck with it. The Plymouth police department will attempt to locate and advise the passer, however, this does not mean that he or she will make the check good.

5—Remember, in order to sign a complaint against a person who has cashed a bad check, you or one of your employees must be able to identify the subject.

Campaign Rules Broken

Commissioner George Lawton put the other members of the City Commission on notice last Monday night that he will see to it that the ordinances are enforced during future election campaigns.

"I am not planning any action this year," he pointed out, "but the ordinance regarding political advertising in the neighborhoods was broken and it's not going to happen again."

He inferred that favoritism was being shown and that to avoid a repetition in future years he will ask that the ordinance be strictly enforced.

Proposal OK'd on 4th Try

After 12 years of trying to get liquor by the glass, supporters of such a move came through yesterday with a narrow margin of victory: 1,604 to 1,530 — a margin of 74 votes.

Voting by precinct was as follows:

Precinct	Yes	No
1	330	296
2	193	197
3	308	323
4	388	389
5	385	325

Total 1,604 1,530

The liquor question has been a "hot issue" for more than a decade in Plymouth.

Placed before the voters a dozen years ago the sale of liquor by the glass was turned down by more than 125 votes. Undaunted, those who wanted a change to bring Plymouth on equal terms from a business standpoint, submitted the question to the voters again—eight years ago. That time it was defeated by 78 votes.

Then four years ago, the third time the voters were given a choice, the issue was sidetracked again, but this time the margin was only 48 votes.

Many changes have taken place in Plymouth during the past four years and one of the biggest was in the attitude of the people. In many quarters where opposition existed in previous years, the voters seemed to mellow and commented—

"We don't see anything wrong with giving the people an opportunity to purchase liquor by the glass if they want it. This is a country where folks have a right to dissent and a right to have an opportunity."

Prior to election those who favored the sale of liquor by the glass pointed to Ann Arbor and cited the many changes for the better that had transpired in the college town after liquor was approved.

One of the pro-liquor enthusiasts pointed out, "Ann Arbor has a new motel, several nice eating establishments and other lines of business show improvement, to say nothing of the increased tax base from which all tax-payers benefit."

Others claimed it was time that Plymouth went modern and shook off its role of being a desert in this day and age.

Opposition pointed to the fact that a continuation of the ban on the sale of liquor by the glass would be added protection for the children, and that Plymouth got along very well in the past 12 years—there would be no harm in staying as it is.

Most of the opposition came from the Hough subdivision in other years and the last minute campaign could not be stopped.

This time, the Chamber of Commerce and the Plymouth business men, along with the Jaycees loudly proclaimed their support of the sale of liquor by the glass and it was felt this was a turn in the tide.

Commission Offers a "Package" Deal

City Boots Water Issue Back to Twp.

The much-discussed and often cussed question of how much the City of Plymouth should receive from Plymouth Township for the water mains and lines in the Plymouth Colony subdivision is just as far from being settled today as when it was first broached almost a year ago.

The matter came up after residents of the subdivision petitioned the City and the Township for City of Detroit water which goes through the Township mains. The petitions stated that the homeowners preferred Township water and would like to have the matter resolved as quickly as possible.

Since then it has become a political football with both the City Commissioners and the Township Trustees booting it back and forth but neither coming up with a suitable solution.

The Township offered to pay the City $1,300 for the mains two months ago, pointing out that all of the installations were at least 15 years old and the meters at that time had a cost of about $30.

The offer was promptly rejected by City Manager Richard Blodgett, acting on orders from the Commission, on the basis that it was far from adequate.

That's where matters stood Monday night when the Commissioners, as indicated early in October, took the matter up for discussion again.

It was immediately brought to the attention of the Commission that there was quite a difference in the Township's offer and the City's estimate that it had $17,350 invested in the mains.

Prior to entering the Plymouth Colony discussion, the Commissioners decided to table any talk of lowering the water rates to out-of-the-city customers from one and a half times the City rate to the same as the City.

The City Manager reported such an action would cost the City an estimated $8,000 in revenue.

That comment caused Commissioner George Lawton, who had made the motion for the lower rates a month ago, to withdraw his resolution.

Commissioner James McKeon indicated he favored maintaining the current rate. He pointed out that when the matter first came to the attention of the City, the subdivision should have been asked to become annexed to the city or should have been placed under contract to bear the cost of the installations commensurate with the costs to the city including bonds.

Lawton told the Council he would have no qualms about turning the mains over to the Township if the offer was for half or more of the $17,350.

Commissioner George Hudson asked his fellow members if any thought

Prepare for an Inspection If Stopped by Road Patrol

LANSING—If you're stopped for a traffic violation in Michigan during the next four months, expect an inspection and report on the condition of your vehicle.

It's all part of a safety enforcement emphasis program being conducted as a united effort by most of the state's enforcement agencies — an outgrowth of the growing concern over Michigan's worsening traffic accident trends.

Patrol officers of cooperating departments will check the following major safety items, and motorists are urged to get their vehicles in proper condition now to avoid embarrassment:

STEERING: The steering wheel should have no more than three inches of free play and steering should not be exceptionally hard.

BRAKES: Brakes should catch and hold evenly before the pedal is within one inch of the floor. Pedal should hold firm, should not sink slowly when pressure is applied, and should not require pumping. The parking brake should offer firm resistance when forward motion of the vehicle is attempted.

HORN: Must be operating and sufficiently loud to be heard at the legally required distance of 200 feet.

MIRRORS: Inside and outside mirrors should be clear and properly adjusted.

WINDSHIELD AND WINDOWS: Must be clear and free of cracks and discoloration. No unauthorized stickers or dangling objects should obscure vision.

VISIBILITY EQUIPMENT: Defrosters, windshield wipers and washers should operate effectively.

HEADLIGHTS: Intensity and need for alignment correction will be checked.

OTHER LIGHTS: Must be working properly—especially that over the rear license plate.

TIRES: To be checked for amount of wear and whether uneven wear indicates poor wheel alignment or cupping indicates faulty balance. Presence of studded tires will be noted since use of these is presently illegal in Michigan.

EXHAUST SYSTEM: An exhaust system emitting smoke or undue noise from beneath the car will be listed as defective or improper equipment.

Officers will also indicate the status of the driver's operator's license in their report.

The special enforcement program is being initiated by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police (MACP) and will run from Nov. 11 of this year through Feb. 10, 1967.

Delay Hearing of Three Garden City Officials

The preliminary court exam of three Garden City city officials charged with the misuse of public funds has been delayed until after Tuesday's elections, after attorneys claimed that important records were missing from City Hall.

In the Wayne Municipal Court of John Seiler Wednesday morning, a date for the start of the preliminary exam has been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 13, for Mayor Edwin J. Freeh, Jr., former city councilman Eugene Salvatore, and former city attorney Evan Callanan.

All have been charged by Wayne County Grand Juror George E. Bowles with the misuse of public funds in the 1961 purchase of the land where the Civic Center is now located. All three have maintained their innocence in the matter.

Theodore Robbins, attorney for Salvatore, told Judge Seiler last week that he wanted at least one month's delay in the start of the pre-trial exam on the basis that the case is too important, too serious, and too involved to expect him to proceed on such short notice.

Robbins and Nicholas Smith, attorney for Callanan were picked as defense counsel during the previous week end. Also new in the court is S. Allen Early, Jr., defense attorney for Mayor Freeh, who was City-Clerk at the time of the 1961 land purchase.

Although Early pushed for a quick examination in court because of the Nov. 8 elections at which Mayor Freeh is up for re-election to a second term.

After the court session adjourned, Freeh claimed that the delay until after the elections is politically motivated as his co-defendants are supporters of his opponent, Timothy J. Murphy.

When questioned moments later, Callanan denied that he is working for Murphy and Salvatore said he is "out of the election completely."

Judge Seiler also told the attorneys and Leo Maki, assistant state attorney general, that even if the examination began that day, he couldn't expect a conclusion before election day.

Maki said that he expects to call 15 witnesses and have the preliminary exam take about four to five days in court.

Robbins said that the grand juror's warrants "do not mean that I will be stampeded into a quick examination." He also said that personnel at the Garden City municipal building told him that records pertaining to the land purchase are missing and he may go to Circuit Court to subpoena those records.

Acting Clerk - Treasurer Donald Crampton, said later that day that he noticed the files of two of the three City Council meetings at which action was taken on the property purchase, missing about a month ago.

Romney Power Leading Party To Victory

Governor George Romney shortly before midnight Tuesday seemed to be carrying a number of Republicans into office with him as early returns showed that many of his fellow candidates had a good chance of taking posts away from some Democrats.

Senator Robert Griffin appeared headed for a victory over former Governor G. Mennen Williams.

19TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

In this hotly contested race, incumbent Billie Farnum, Democrat, was in a cliff-hanger with Redford Township Supervisor Jack H. McDonald.

This district includes portion of Wayne and Oakland counties. McDonald seemed headed for victory if the trend in Livonia and Farmington and Farmington Township could be taken as an indication of the rest of the district.

2ND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Freshman Congressman Weston Vivian (Democrat) was in a hardfought battle with State Rep. Marvin L. Esch. The district covers Northville, Plymouth, Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw counties.

15TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

In the 15th Congressional District, Republican challenger Arpo Yemen was given little hope of upsetting William D. Ford.

This district covers the cities of Allen Park, Belleville, Dearborn Heights, Westland, Garden City, Inkster, Lincoln Park, Melvindale and Wayne. Townships included are those of Canton, Huron, Romulus, Sumpter, Taylor and Van Buren.

State Senate, 14th District

Republican George W. Kuhn, former mayor of Berkley, and Democrat Paul F. Livingston are seeking to gain the seat being vacated by Farrell Roberts. This district covers 12 townships and seven cities in Oakland County; two townships and three cities in Wayne County.

In Livonia with 32 out of 41 precincts counted—machines only, Kuhn had 11,035 votes to Livingston's 7,890.

State Senate, 12 District

Incumbent Democrat Edward Robinson and Republican N. Lorraine Beebe are the contenders for the 12th District's senatorial seat.

District includes Redford Township and portions of Inkster, Dearborn and Dearborn Heights.

State Representative, 64th District

Republican Raymond L. Baker, incumbent is seeking to retain his post and is opposed by Leonard P. Baruch. The 64th District covers the townships of Farmington and West Bloomfield, and cities of Farmington, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake, Lathrup Village and parts of Southfield.

State Representative, 34th District

John Bennett, Democratic incumbent, hopes to outpoll Robert Anderson, commercial photographer, to gain his second term in the State Legislature. The entire district lies within Redford Township.

State Representative, 35th District

Attorney Marvin Stempien, Democratic incumbent has squared off here with Republican Louis E. Schmidt, former superintendent of Clarenceville Schools.

With 32 out of 41 machine precincts counted in Livonia, Stempien, was losing to Schmidt. Stempien had 9,083 to Schmidt's 9,874.

State Representative, 36th District

Former Garden City Mayor James Tierney, Democratic incumbent, and Republican John E. Tripp, Sr., Plymouth insurance agent are the contenders from this district which includes Garden City, Plymouth, and portions of Westland, and the townships of Canton and Plymouth.

To Get Rid of Bumper Stickers
Amidst all the political promises and platform planks that have been flying around lately, comes the word that someone has at last found an answer to the "stickiest" political problem of modern times . . . namely, how to get those "darn" bumper stickers off your car.
The man with the answer is Jack Milen, president of the Jax Car Wash chain. Jack says that during the week after the election, he'll remove bumper stickers from your car free of charge. Just drive in and ask.

MAKING PLANS for five-day stop smoking course opening Sunday night at Bentley High are these men: Dr. Arthur Weaver (seated) with Dr. Peter Medrano (left) and Pastor R. D. Hamstra. The course is open to the public and is being conducted as a community service for those desiring to shake the habit.

Like to Quit Smoking? Try Five-Day Program

So you would like to quit smoking but need a bit of help somewhere along the line. That help will be available beginning Sunday, Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at Bentley High School in Livonia when a five-night group therapy course will be offered.

The program will continue nightly through Thursday, Nov. 17.

The five-day plant to stop smoking will be conducted by a team of medical doctors headed by Dr. Arthur Weaver, of the Dearborn Veterans Hospital, and Dr. Peter Medrano, a Livonia psychiatrist.

The program consists of group therapy, lectures, films and a daily personal control booklet given to each participant to guide him in shaking the habit.

The five-day plan is being brought as a public service to the area by the Livonia Seventh Day Adventist Church in co-operation with the Michigan division of the American Cancer Society.

Already successful in Ford Auditorium and many cities throughout the United States, the five-day plan features such topics as the psychological aspects of the habit, how craving can be lessened, organization of a Buddy system and many other techniques designed to break the habit in five days.

Under the direction of Pastor Raymond Hamstra, the course is a strictly non-denominational community service. For smokers who wish

Governor Must Pass On Charter Plans

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

By Atty Gen. Frank J. Kelley

Your right to full and vigorous participation in home rule is guarded by the Attorney General and the Governor under Michigan law. Little known but often useful is the provision of the Home Rule Act requiring charters and charter amendments to be submitted to the Governor for approval before adoption.

After reviewing the document with the advice of the Attorney General, the Governor sends it back with his comments. These comments become available to the local community. The statute provides that where disapproval occurs, the charter amendment must be reconsidered for submission to the voters if two-thirds of the legislative body so agrees.

If the document is a charter, the Governor's objections are spread at large on the journal of the Charter Commission. A related provision requires the Attorney General to review the statement of purpose on the ballot setting forth the question to be voted upon as to a charter amendment and to advise concerning the fairness and impartiality of such statement.

In practice the Attorney General reviews charters and charter amendments for the Governor. At the same time, the statements of purpose on the ballot are reviewed. These provisions insure that the experience of state officers with municipal problems throughout the state is made available to every city.

Effective home rule is enhanced and strengthened by such participation. We are able to prevent costly legal errors and be sure that state procedural requirements, such as those of the Secretary of State and the Municipal Finance Commission will be met; and can suggest use of new provisions to make full use of recent statutory provisions or court decisions. Costly delay is thus prevented and full use of home rule potential protected.

Batman for Johnny's Homework? WSU Professor Says It's Possible

One thing for certain. Put a child in front of the TV tube tuned to "Batman" and you're not going to get him to do his homework, right?

Wrong! according to Dr. Raymond S. Ross, professor of speech and director of the Speech Psychology Experimental Laboratory at Wayne State University.

The WSU speech specialist believes we really can learn academic subjects under the disguise of a favorite evening TV show.

Research at Wayne State, where sponsorship has been provided through grants of the Jack Wolfman Foundation, has shown clear evidence that subliminal communication is possible.

Subliminal communication according to Dr. Ross is "just a matter of perceiving below the level of consciousness but above your physical awareness."

"There is nothing mysterious or mystical about this," says the WSU speech psychologist. "It takes only hard-work and creative research design."

"We have demonstrated its feasibility on standard video tape. The applications of these findings are both frightening and exciting. At Wayne State, the interest is in application to painless learning," says Dr. Ross.

The realization of combining the entertainment and educational aspects of television might require a device built into the TV set giving the viewer the by-product of learning as well as the pleasure of watching his favorite program.

Foreign language vocabulary words, for example, might be inserted into a program such as "Batman" and projected onto the screen in a staccato fashion so that the viewer actually perceives the words subconsciously.

"Imagine learning a foreign language while enjoying your favorite TV program. The Russians have already made such claims," says Dr. Ross.

The WSU researchers are just now getting studies underway in oral subliminal communication and compressed speech (speeding up the normal rate of 130 words per minute to as much as 750.)

What the Wayne State research group would like to do eventually is link their subliminal communication studies with speech compression to see if even faster speeds are possible when "your conscious mind is not slowing you down," as Dr. Ross puts it.

The day of an under-the-pillow speaker that silently teaches you a foreign language while you sleep may be closer than we think.

The WSU professor explains that in the not too distant future, harried businessmen will be able to listen to speech-compressed books on their car tape recorders while traveling to work, and if psychologist Ross has his way, they'll be listening to classical music at the same time and discover they can speak intelligently about the best seller without having "read" a word.

The applications are numerous according to Dr. Ross.

October Road Toll Takes Dip

Michigan traffic deaths in October numbered 187, which was 25 or 12 per cent fewer than 212 in the same month a year ago, according to State Police provisional figures.

The October count brought the accumulated death toll to 1,828 for the first 10 months this year, which was 111 or six per cent greater than 1,717 in the same period in 1965.

October was the fifth month this year to show a decrease in deaths compared with the same months last year, the reductions ranging from two to 28. The other five months in the 10-month period showed increases in deaths ranging from eight to 51.

October's average was 180 for the five years of 1961-65. High for the month was 230 in 1941, low was 97 in wartime 1944.

More complete results for September showed 191 deaths, two fewer than 193 in the same month a year ago. The deaths included 90 drivers, 60 passengers, 33 pedestrians and eight bicyclists.

September had 16 multiple death accidents killing 43 persons. There were 12 two-death accidents, two with three fatalities each, and one with eight deaths, another with five.

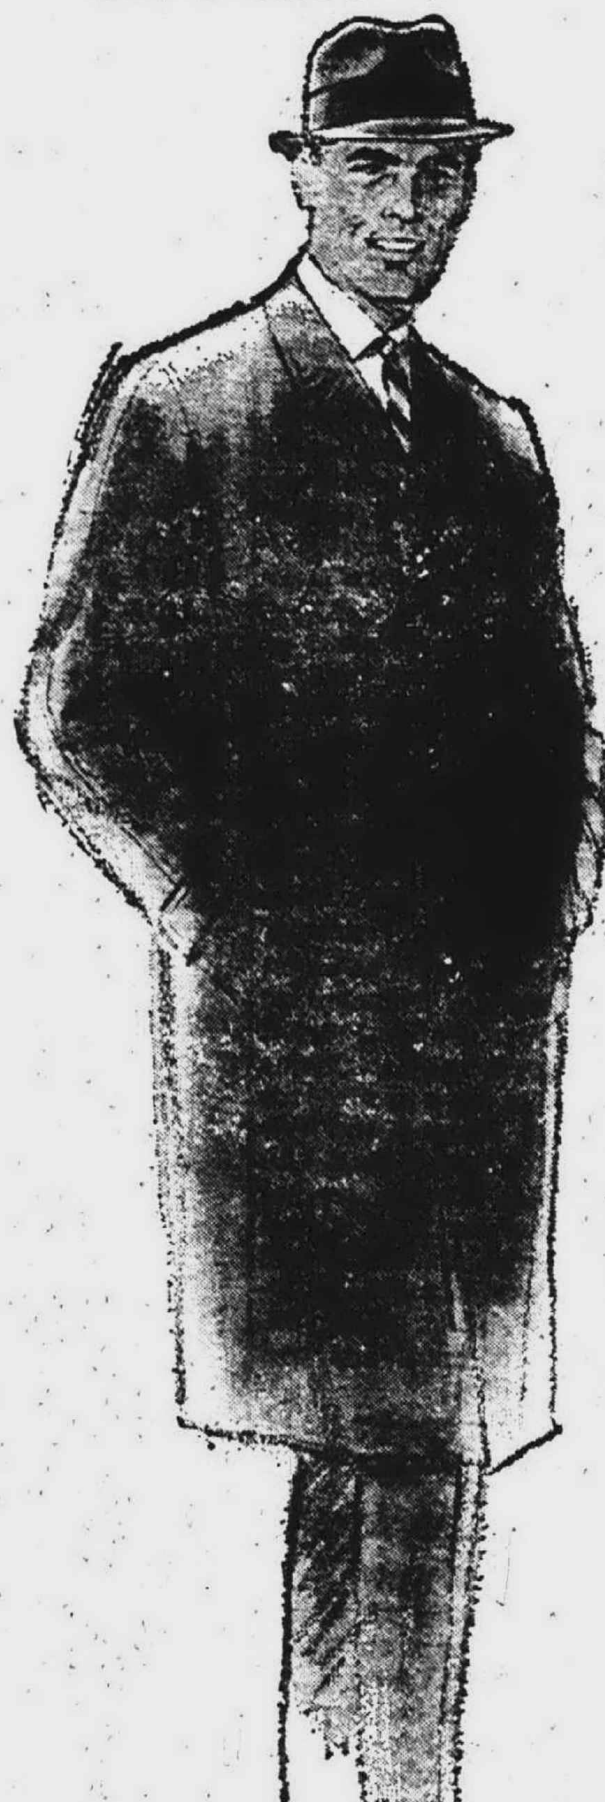

Eighty-four of the 164 fatal accidents in September occurred in daylight hours, 80 in hours of darkness. Sixty happened on county roads, 52 on state routes, 39 on city streets and 13 on Interstate routes.

Picks 9-Man Steering Committee

Plymouth Names Centennial Group

Plymouth's centennial next year is not going to be confined to the City of Plymouth. It will be a Plymouth Community affair.

This came to light Monday night at the meeting of the City Commission when Mayor James Houk announced that a steering committee of nine members had been appointed to make preliminary plans.

When he read the list of names, Commissioner James McKeon interrupted to point out that "you have some on the committee who do not live in Plymouth."

Mayor Houk quickly explained that the Citizens Committee agreed to make a community affair instead of limiting it to the area within the city limits. The nine men named to the steering committee are: Joseph Tarantino, Chairman; Ed Draugelis; Harold Guenther; Sam Hudson; John Kamego; Russell Isbister; Eber Readman; Cecil Sharrard

In announcing the committee Mayor Houk confided that the committee is looking for a suitable project to be the key issue of the celebration.

"The Committee would like to have something permanent — some type of thing that would always be remembered, or something that would be a boon to the city."

"Maybe, it could be part of Michigan Week, but we would rather have something that would bring more attention over a long period to our own community."

Saturday Final Day For Boys

Boys desiring to participate in the winter program of the Plymouth Community Junior Basketball League, have one more time to register—registrations will be accepted Saturday morning from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at Junior High West.

The first two registrations brought out 182 boys and league officials believe the total will go well over 200 before the teams are selected.

Those signing up Saturday, as well as all who have registered, must report with gym shoes Saturday for the team tryouts.

The sessions will start promptly at 11:30 with the eight and nine-year-old taking the court first and then followed by the 10 to 12 year old group.

The league still needs additional coaches. All interested are urged to contact John Van Wagoner at 453-8023.

Practice sessions will start during the week of Nov. 14 with season play beginning on Dec. 3.

Plymouth Commission Eyes Insurance Plan

Realizing that the City of Plymouth would be in a precarious position should any employee, especially those engaged in hazardous occupations, be injured on duty, Commissioner Arch Vallier has asked for a city financed insurance program.

"I think it is absolutely unfair to ask any of our employees," he said at Monday night's meeting, "to use up their sick leave and then a vacation period and be left with nothing but Workmen's Compensation."

"I think we need to make a thorough study of the entire situation and at least make up the difference between the compensation and his salary after the sick leave is used up."

As he spoke other members of the Commission nodded assent. But Commissioner Vallier continued to recite his desire for a program.

"I hate to even think about it," he went on, "but suppose one of our police officers or firemen, especially a volunteer, gets killed in line of duty—what protection have we got for his family?"

The Commission, after hearing this plea, then instructed City Manager Blodgett to obtain all information possible so that a suitable plan could be put into action.

The 1967 appeal will be made in the period between February 20 and Easter Sunday, March 26.

Philip M. La Bo has accepted the position as General Chairman of the campaign in western Wayne County for the second year in succession.

In announcing La Bo's acceptance Ivan McFaul, President of the Easter Seal Society, pointed out that the experience gained a year ago would stand the new chairman in good stead.

The Teachers Speak

Educators Should Be Politically Inclined

By ROGER D. STEPHON

Teachers can no longer sit back and "let George do it" when it comes to active participation within the political arena.

This thesis is being accepted by educators all over the country who are recognizing that a major share of accountability for knowledgeable, active citizenship rests on their shoulders. Certainly, the public expects that teachers should inspire their students understanding, admiration, and confidence in the American system of government. To do this effectively, teachers must serve as exemplary models and, in short, become dramatically vigorous in the political process, themselves.

Toward this end, political clinics for teachers are being sponsored by the National Education Association to answer questions such as, "By what means should local education associations endorse political candidates?" "How far should teacher organizations go in support or opposition when political questions directly concern education—when questions do not directly concern education?"

Results of these clinics have clearly shown national, state, and local education associations that teachers are most enthusiastic participants. Needless to say, many teachers have, for too long, looked upon politics as an area in which they, as public employees, had little or no right to involve themselves as actively as other members of the community. Countless pressures have been brought to bear on those occasions when teachers have banded together to make their collective voice heard on political issues.

President of the Michigan Education Assn., Martha Zemke, has established as her theme for the 1966-67 year "Educators Assume Political Responsibility."

Recent meetings at Cobo Hall on Nov. 3 provided opportunities for area teachers to hear remarks by the gubernatorial and senatorial candidates, as well as meet them informally.

Such constructive steps will definitely help teachers as a group assume first class citizenship and realize their potential as a vital political force within their communities.

Warn Mothers in Car Pools To Make Sure of Safety Rules

Next to the teachers, the children-toting car pool mothers have the most demanding job of the school year.

Are you in line for chauffeur duty this fall? If so, "Prepare yourself well for this special assignment. Driving a group of children to and from school is an important responsibility."

Mothers are urged to take time out and brush up on the rules of the road, especially defensive driving techniques. "To avoid becoming involved in a needless accident, a driver with a car load of children must possess patience, foresight, alertness, safety knowledge and driving skill, all to the highest degree."

To extend the safety limit to its greatest margin it is suggested that car pool mothers read the following checklist:

1. Keep the automobile in good mechanical condition to prevent failure of brakes or other parts while in traffic. Check gas gauge before starting each trip.
2. Obey all traffic signs at all times. Reduce speed when approaching children or other cars discharging children.
3. Keep all doors locked while car is moving and make certain the children know that they must not touch door handles until car is stopped.
4. Discharge children only on the curb side of the car, away from traffic.
5. Explain to children the first day that certain rules must be obeyed while in the car. These rules include the following: A. Everyone must be seated while the car is moving; B. All hands, heads and possessions must be kept inside the car windows; C. No one may touch or bother the driver; D. No one will be allowed to have lollipops, candy or ice cream on sticks while in the car; E. No roughhousing or wild antics will be permitted.

One of the best safety precautions is to have seat belts installed, front and rear, and strap the children down. It will be much easier for them to observe the rules, if they can't move.

HERE'S AN EXAMPLE of what the well-dressed jockey wears when "winter" (unscheduled) racing comes to Michigan. After the early November blizzard hit the area during the closing week of the Detroit Race Course meeting, riders came up with unusual apparel to protect them from the wind and 30 degree temperatures. Bill Harwitz, center, is a Californian and unaccustomed to things of this sort, so Albert Gaddis, left, and Richard Surrency, displayed equipment for him.

State Police Nabbed 24,202

Michigan State Police officers made 24,202 arrests in September, 22,233 for traffic offenses and 1,969 on criminal complaints, according to the department's monthly activity report.

In addition, 874 juvenile traffic offenders were arrested and 562 delinquent and four wayward minors apprehended.

Troopers assisted 7,164 motorists, investigated 11,489 cars, issued 25,374 oral warnings to drivers, and made 14,079 property and 2,308 liquor inspections.

Department vehicles traveled 2,042,699 miles, of which 1,250,660 were on traffic patrol and 792,039 to investigate criminal and other complaints.

The identification section received 15,778 sets of fingerprints, of which 8,939 were criminal and 6,839 noncriminal. Two wanted persons were identified.

Of 2,971 applicants for permits to carry concealed weapons, 194 were identified with criminal records through their fingerprints.

Two unknown dead were identified by the same means.

The scientific crime laboratory conducted 3,697 examinations of which 3,298 were on documents and other evidence specimens. 139 on firearms, 95 on tool markings, 57 microscopic, 40 botanical, 32 on explosives, and 42 miscellaneous. Laboratory assistances numbered 48 for the State Police, 65 for municipal police, 21 for sheriffs and 15 for other agencies.

The fraudulent check unit processed 240 bogus checks, identifying 101 of them by name or with previous specimens. Face value of the checks totaled $19,894.66, an average of $82.89.

The fire marshal division reported investigations of eight explosions, 57 incendiary fires, 30 cases of violations of fire safety regulations and laws, and 60 other fire cases. Supplemental investigations totaled 160.

No Time Like Now To Invest in Home

Unusually heavy traffic during the last few weeks is reported by Detroit area builders who were able to finish new models during the summer and unveil some of the 1967 houses and the newest in equipment for these "homes of tomorrow".

The majority of home shoppers these days, according to Robert Nelson, vice president of the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit, are young couples, and practically all of them are asking this question:

"Should we buy a home now or wait a while?"

Nelson said he and other builders felt that in virtually every case where young people are seeking a new home, the answer to the question is: "Now is the time to invest in a home."

Nelson's reasoning is based on these points:

Each monthly mortgage payment increases the owner's equity in a home and helps build the young family's financial foundation.

By purchasing a home when the family is young, the head of the household creates an estate that will grow in value and may be used as collateral for further investments, including college education for children, starting a business or making improvements on the home as the family grows and needs more space and more equipment for modern living.

"No other purchase a young couple can make will increase as consistently in value as a home," said Nelson, "and this is especially true when the long period is considered."

An important consideration, according to Nelson, is that a young couple must determine their own mortgage payment ability. The first step is to determine certain necessary expenses, such as food, clothing and transportation. The amount remaining from monthly income is, basically, the amount they can spend on housing and other monthly obligations.

Another point stressed by Nelson in his advice to the young married couples to consider acquisition of a home as soon as they can afford it has to do with the soundness of the investment in real estate over the years.

"Television sets and cars decrease steadily in value, and the process starts almost the day these family necessities are acquired," said Nelson. "Let us assume that the couple decides to buy a $3,000 car instead of a home and trades it every two years for another $3,000 car. The normal interest rate on the car is 6 percent add-on, which is the equivalent of 12 per cent simple interest."

"Since the average car loses half its value in depreciation in a two-year period, the family pays interest on $3,000 every two years, or $180 a year."

Discharged Marine Awarded Hero's Medal

Corporal Robert A. Paul recently received the Navy and Marine Corps medal for heroism while serving in the Republic of Vietnam.

The medal was presented by Lt. Col. Herbert V. Lundin, his commanding officer.

While serving in Chu Lai, Vietnam in July 1965, a fuel line ruptured during the refueling of an A4C jet aircraft, starting a large fire.

Completely disregarding the fact his clothing was on fire, Cpl. Paul pulled the hose into the open to prevent feeding more fuel into the area.

went to help a fellow Marine to safety who was also on fire.

He then manned a fire extinguisher and assisted in controlling the spread of flames.

Cpl. Paul's quick action during the emergency was instrumental in preventing a dangerous situation which would have resulted in heavy loss of aircraft for the command and the Marine Corps.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paul, formerly of 15059 Robinwood Drive, Plymouth, live in Burlington, Ontario, Canada.

Cpl. Paul, now discharged after four years from the Marine Air Corps, attended Our Lady of Sorrows School and was graduated from Farmington High School.

Starting in December he will make his home in Livonia with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kayko of 14483 Park St.

6-Man Jury Says Parents Are Guilty

Sentencing of a Livonia couple who neglected their five-year-old daughter awaits the report of the Livonia Probation Officer.

A six-man jury, Friday, Oct. 28, declared William J. Worley, 28 and his wife, Ruth, 27, guilty of contributing to neglect of a minor child.

Police said that the Worleys' daughter, Kathy Diane, was left alone Jan. 10 of this year at the Worley home, 12484 Cardwell. When she tried to cook something for herself, near four o'clock in the afternoon, her clothing caught fire and she suffered second and third degree burns over 25 per cent of her body.

The Worleys also have a son, 7, who was not at home at the time.

Officers reported that the Worleys frequently left the children alone between 3 and 6 p.m.

Tea Time At Franklin Honoring Students

Have you ever wondered why the English have tea everyday? Some say it's just an excuse to get in another meal a day, but others disagree and say that at tea time people have a chance to sit, relax, and talk over problems and events of the day. But tea time isn't only in England.

Sunday, Nov. 13, in the Franklin High School lobby 12 American Field Service students will be showing Livonians that it is international.

The Franklin School chapter of American Field Service is sponsoring a tea on Sunday, Nov. 13, from 3 to 5 p.m. All of the foreign exchange students now living in Livonia, Farmington, and Redford and their host families will be present to meet and greet the public.

These students are in the U.S. for one year of study in an American school while living with an American family. This program offers a great experience for these students and also for the Americans that go overseas.

If you are interested in meeting these wonderful students, get your family together and come to Franklin High School, 13000 Joy Road, Livonia. Everyone is welcome to come.

The last time the schools met in 1934, Wayne State University scored a 20-0 football win over Alma College.

Sorrows Gains Loop Final

Just one more victory—That's all that stands between Our Lady of Sorrows high school football team:

- 1—Capturing the Second Division title in the Catholic League.
 - 2—Finishing 1966 with a perfect 9-0 record.
- The team that stands between Sorrows and all of the above is Wayne St.

Clint Jones Sets Grid Records at Michigan State

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's All-American halfback Clint Jones has claimed one school career record and is steadily moving up the ladder in other categories.

Jones emerged from the Northwestern clash as the most heavily worked ball carrier in Michigan State history. Jones has juggled the ball 345 times to better Lynn Chandross' four-year record of 321.

Clint's first period touchdown against the Wildcats gave him undisputed possession of fifth place in the total point derby (122 points) and moved him into a fourth place tie for career touchdowns with 20. Everett Grandelius and Don McAuliffe each scored 20 touchdowns and totaled 120 points.

Jones has also nabbed 32 passes, tying him with Dave Kaiser for third place in the career pass receiving race. Gene Washington meanwhile increased his record total of 89 receptions and 1,533 yards.

Mary's ... for it will be Sorrows vs. St. Mary's Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at Notre Dame Stadium near the Eastland Shopping Center for all the golden chips.

Both schools captured semifinal decisions in the Parish playoffs last Sunday. Sorrows disposed of St. Cecilia, while the Wayne team jolted Mt. Clemens St. Mary's 26-6.

St. Cecilia stopped Sorrows for one half, although a pair of passes from Jim McGrath to Tim Audette had carried Sorrows to the St. Cecilia end just before the intermission.

Came the second half. Sorrows wasted little time getting started.

The Farmington grid-ders got an immediate lift when St. Cecilia was penalized 15 yards for not returning to the field in time.

The kickoff was returned to the St. Cecilia 42 and in short order Cliff LaFond boomed his way for a touchdown on a 15-yard scamper. It also was his 15th touch-

.500 Year Final Aim For Glenn

A .500 season.

That'll be the aim of John Glenn high school's football team when it meets Carlson Friday night in the windup to the 1966 campaign.

By beating Robichaud, 20-6, last Friday, Glenn hiked its record for the season to three wins, four losses and a tie.

The final score was indicative of the way the game went.

Glenn had almost complete charge, running up its 20 points before Robichaud finally was able to hit the scoreboard.

Robichaud won the flip at the start and elected to kick to Glenn.

The strategy was obvious. Robichaud figured and hoped that Glenn would fumble on the wet, snowy field.

Instead Glenn put on a march of 77 yards, and with Carl Kuban, Ron Gainer and Steve Paschke carrying the ball, Glenn moved to the Robichaud 12 from where Kuban went the rest of the way to put his mates ahead, 7-0.

Now it was Glenn kicking to Robichaud.

On the second play, Robichaud fumbled and it was Glenn's ball. A few moments later quarterback Mike Mahakian slipped over from the one for the second Glenn touchdown.

Glenn went to the air for its third and final touchdown. Mahakian hit Mike Catanzarite on a 17-yard scoring drive.

Robichaud bounced back for its lone TD with Rick Franklin going the last yard. But in the closing moments, Glenn successfully held on to the pigskin.

Glenn controlled the ball for 76 offensive plays in the game, moving 318 yards on the ground and picking up 47 more passing.

Kuban was the big man in the Glenn attack. He carried 10 times for 93 yards. Gainer added 64 yards in 15 tries. Mike Knight 38 in six and Paschke 32 in 7.

down of the season.

McGrath slipped over for the extra point and Sorrows had more than enough points as matters later proved.

Midway in the fourth period, however, Sorrows made sure that the game wouldn't get away.

The credit belonged to Frank Walsh of the Fearsome Foursome of Sorrows' defensive unit. He broke through to block a kick and Sorrows had the ball on the St. Cecilia 30.

With Dave Hickey doing most of the carrying Sorrows required just eight plays to score again with Hickey going the last 11.

"This was a great effort, considering the weather," said coach Bud Webster of the winners who have reached the Second Division finals for the first time in their history.

Webster couldn't say enough about his defense—players like Walsh, Stan Pyler, Tom Horner, John Vandusen, Jim Barnes and Terry Savage.

This is what the Sorrows' defense accomplished:

St. Cecilia wound up with only a total of 11 yards gained in the entire game. The losers didn't make a single pass.

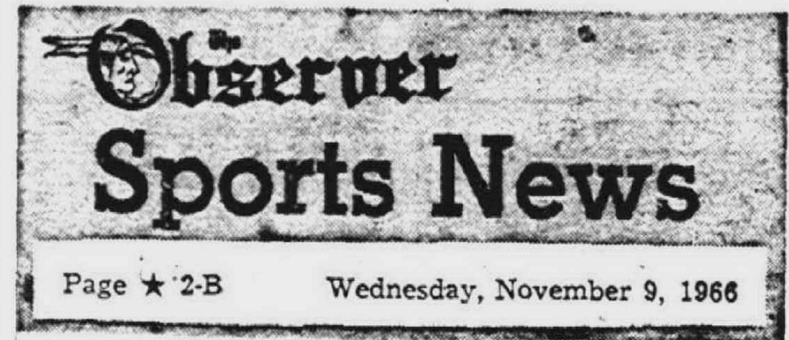

In contrast, Sorrows churned for nine first downs, made 134 yards rushing and 25 more via passes. LaFond gathered in 82 yards on his own. Hickey the rest of the Sorrows' ground yardage.

Sorrows fumbled six times and lost the ball four times. St. Cecilia lost three fumbles.

The Notre Dame Stadium may be reached by going east on Eight Mile road to the Eastland Center. The gridiron is adjacent to the center.

ON THE MOVE: Through the snow Cliff LaFond of Our Lady of Sorrows (33) gets a nice block from a teammate to gain against St. Cecilia in Second Division semi-finals. Sorrows won, 13-0.

RU, Thurston Stage 6-6 Tie In a Thriller

Redford Union or Thurston?

Who's the best in football?

After six years of battling, the rival Redford Township high schools have proved nothing.

Each team has won twice and tied twice with the latest deadlock coming by a 6-6 score in the mud at Redford Union last Friday night.

If there was a moral victory after the Friday game, it belonged to Redford Union.

The boys from the north end of the Township had staggered through their Suburban Six League schedule, winning only one of five starts.

Meantime, Thurston wound up in a tie with Franklin for the Northwest Suburban League championship.

"Maybe we should claim the Northwest title," said RU coach John Rogers in a kidding mood.

"After all, we did beat Franklin early in the season and now comes this tie against their other champ."

Thurston came within a whisker of beating Redford Union. But a referee's ruling washed out a touchdown in the fading moments of the game.

The South Townshipers tried a fake field goal from the RU 30. After the ball was snapped, Barry Simescu slipped a pass to Reg Barringer who was standing by himself and Barringer stormed into the end zone as the Thurston fans went wild.

But back up around the 35, an official stood waving. He insisted that on the

He who laughs last ... laughs best.

Which is what the high school football teams in Michigan's Upper Peninsula must have done last week.

You see, while their brothers below the Straits struggled with whether to blow in six or seven inches of snow—and many didn't—the U.P. team had no problems.

Their seasons had ended two weeks ago.

Michigan State Prep Association for many years has granted the U.P. teams special permission to start their practices two full weeks before the teams below the Straits and thus make it possible for the U.P. teams to begin and finish their schedules two weeks earlier.

The argument is that the cold of winter hits the U.P. faster than it does elsewhere in the state.

It really doesn't. For example, how much warmer can it be at a given moment in Cheboygan or Mackinaw City or Petoskey than it is in St. Ignace or Sault Ste. Marie?

Also, isn't it a fact that nine times out of ten, the coldest place in Michigan is a spot called Pellston, which is in the Lower—not the Upper Peninsula?

We mention all of this well aware that the snow, which struck last weekend, was untimely ... a month ahead of schedule ... and usually our lower peninsula prep footballers get their seasons completed before the real winter blasts arrive.

However, what irritates us is that inconsistencies crop up in the state association's regulations.

There's the one which has to do with ninth graders—those who attend junior highs as compared to those who are a part of a 9-12 grade high school.

Take two kinds whose homes are literally back to back, except that they are in different school districts. It happens around my neighborhood.

Our ninth grade boys are part of the high school, so it's possible for them to make the varsity team or the freshman team and play in eight or nine football games, 16 basketball games, etc.

Yet, the kids over in the other school districts send their ninth grades to the junior high. And junior high athletes are restricted to six football games, ten basketball contests, etc.

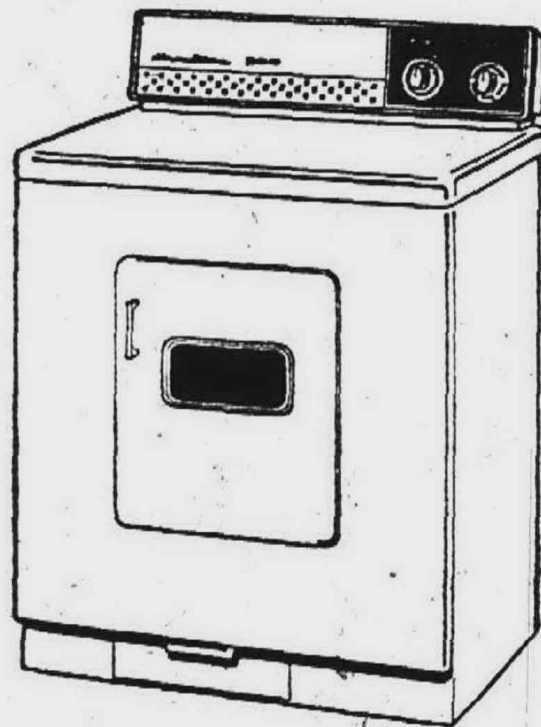

It hardly makes much sense. But, that's the way the rule reads.

DRIBBLING AROUND: 'Twas an interesting experience journeying to Montreal the other Sunday with the Pistons. Surprisingly, the Canadian fans knew a great deal about professional basketball, more than most of us had accepted.

We got a personal thrill sitting in the famed Montreal

ONE PICTURE is worth a thousand words . . . this is the racing surface at Detroit Race Course on closing day.

But Records Fall at DRC:

A Real Winter Finish

"Winter-Water Wonder-land" is all right as a State slogan on license plates, but it is far from satisfactory from a standpoint of Thoroughbred racing.

Detroit Race Course officials and their fans can attest to that after being forced to battle the worst early November snow storm in Michigan history during the track's closing week.

Whereas in 1965, the DRC's closing week in early November provided beautiful Indian Summer weather with temperatures in the high 60's and mid 70's, things were far different last week.

Temperatures dipped and on Wednesday, the metropolitan area was hit by an eight inch snow storm.

The DRC started its racing card on Wednesday, but conditions worsened steadily, with heavy snow driven by a bitter 30 mile an hour wind which cut visibility sharply.

After six races, the management was forced to cancel the remainder of the card for the safety of the riders and the horses.

The blizzard wiped out Thursday's entire program. It marked the first time in the 34-year history of Michigan Thoroughbred racing an entire program had to be cancelled.

Once previously, in 1960, a rain storm curtailed a DRC program late in the afternoon, with the cancellation of three races.

With extra snow removal equipment, the DRC was able to resume operations on Friday and then finished the season with its card on Saturday.

Despite the heavy losses in attendance and wagering resulting from the bad weather of the final week, the DRC finished with a record high mutual handle.

A number of records were set during the 1966 DRC meeting.

The Livonia track became the first Michigan track to reach the $2,000,000 level in mutual play.

The mark was first passed on Labor Day when 28,459 fans bet $2,002,515 and then topped on Michigan Mile Day when 27,470 fans wagered $2,019,715.

Jockey Robert Gallimore established an all-time riding record when he had 116 winners. Gallimore compiled his total in 80 days. He received a 10-day suspension from the Stewards for rough riding, which prevented him from finishing out the meeting.

While Gallimore ran away with the jockeys' race, Albert Gaddis, who finished second in the standing, established a second for an apprentice rider. He easily topped the mark of 65 victories set by (Continued on Page 4-B)

Leaky Defense Fatal to Falcons

A leaky defense spelled doom for Farmington against Southfield.

The winners capitalized four times on screen passes for big yardage. Two recoveries of Farmington fumbles also helped materially in the Southfield eruption that turned what had the ear marks of a close game into a 39 to 13 rout.

Southfield ran and passed as if the contest were being played under ideal conditions. For that matter, the conditions didn't bog Farmington down either.

It was simply a case of Southfield doing a much better job when it had the ball.

The screen passes worked for 30, 36, 56 and 36 yards. "They caught us in man-to-man coverage and that hurt us," said losing coach Bob Misteale.

While there were no alibis or cries from the Farmington coach, understandably he thought the key play of the game came on the second play of the first quarter.

Farmington had returned the opening kickoff to its own 40. Dan Wolfman, the Falcon's quarterback, fumbled and drilled a pass to Doug Root, who kicked up a lot of snow as he dashed into the end zone.

But downfield, a red flag rested in the snow.

The touchdown was nullified, the ball called back and Farmington drew a 15-yard penalty.

"This seemed to take a lot out of us," said Misteale. "We just didn't recover."

Southfield quickly got the ball, unloaded one of those long bombs — this one for 30 yards — and in short order star back Ted Simmons drove in for a touchdown from the one.

Southfield covered a Farmington fumble moments later and scored again in a hurry, this time with Greg Anderson, the quarterback, slipping over on fourth down. A 4-yard pass from Anderson to Ken Fawcett made it 19-0 for Southfield by half time.

The Southfield lead grew to 25-0 in the third period on an Anderson to Jack Roe scoring pass that covered 56 yards.

From the next kickoff, Farmington marched 80 yards to score in six plays with Chris Norton going the final 12 on a pitchout.

Next it was Simmons again to score for Southfield before Wolfman capped a 75-yard march to count the second and last Farmington touchdown.

Just six seconds remained in the game when Rance Pesci of Southfield rolled over from the four-yard line to wind up the scoring.

Farmington rushed for 169 yards and added 99 more by completing seven out of 17 passes.

But look at what Southfield did!

The Blue Jays piled up 186 yards rushing and flipped the ball around to the tune of 11 out of 19 successes for 252 yards.

In first downs, Southfield made 19 to Farmington's 13.

Farmington played without back Chris Brown, the team's speedster; all-star Jerry Tinkle, and linebackers Dan Roof and Larry Cogsdill. All are on the injured list and also will miss Saturday's game with North Farmington.

East Runners 2nd in Meet

Garden City East placed second behind Riverside in the Mid-Wayne League's 1966 cross country championships.

Riverside scored 40 points to 48 for East, while Lutheran West was third with 57. Robichaud, Taylor Center and Inkster followed in order.

Doug Norris of East ran second to Lutheran West's Ron Sirang for individual honors.

Falcons Victors

Paced by Bob Donovan, Farmington high captured a triangular cross country meet with 23 points to 33 for North Farmington and 53 for Northville.

Donovan was clocked in 9:32.2 to set the individual pace. Rick Randall of North Farmington was second with Russ Roth of Farmington placing third.

North Farmington to Risk Win String in City Series

The big football moment of the year comes Saturday afternoon in Farmington.

It'll be Farmington vs. North Farmington on the latter's field with the kickoff at 2 o'clock.

This will mark the sixth time the schools have collided on the gridiron. North Farmington is yet to lose, winning four times — including 14-0 last year — and gaining a tie on the other occasion.

Keen as the rivalry is, there'll be something special about this game Saturday: a father-son duel.

Coaching Farmington is Bob Misteale. His son, Britt, plays end over at North Farmington.

It was Britt who helped with a great defensive effort last Saturday as North Farmington tuned up for Farmington by trimming Stevenson, 27-0. Farmington had bowed to Southfield the night before in a wide-open scoring affair.

Young Misteale, Don Geha, and Mark Mitchell saw to it that Stevenson gained a grand total of 39 yards all afternoon.

Thirty of the yards came on passes, the other nine in some 20 smacks at the North Farmington line.

The winners, meantime, also unloaded a balanced attack on the Stevenson youngsters, who won't have a senior on their team next fall.

North Farmington counted once in each period, and gained well both on the ground and through the air.

Rushing the Falcons achieved 235 yards in 61 tries, almost four yards per carry. Passing too, was six for 14 and 94 yards for Norm DeCoursey, the able North Farmington tosser.

There was no match in first downs. The winners ran up 16 against two for the losers. The first two North Farmington touchdowns resulted from long runs.

In the first period, Ross Smith took turns with Steve Heyn and Roger Schamanek to move the ball some 65 yards down to the Stevenson two from where Smith slammed over.

Mark Faller's conversion made the score 7-0.

North Farmington struck again in the second period, going 5 yards before DeCoursey slipped over a yard out.

Faller again added the point.

Despite the elements DeCoursey went to the air and hit Faller on a 41-yard toss for the third North Farmington touchdown in the third period.

Ross finished it off with a 30-yard dash in the closing period.

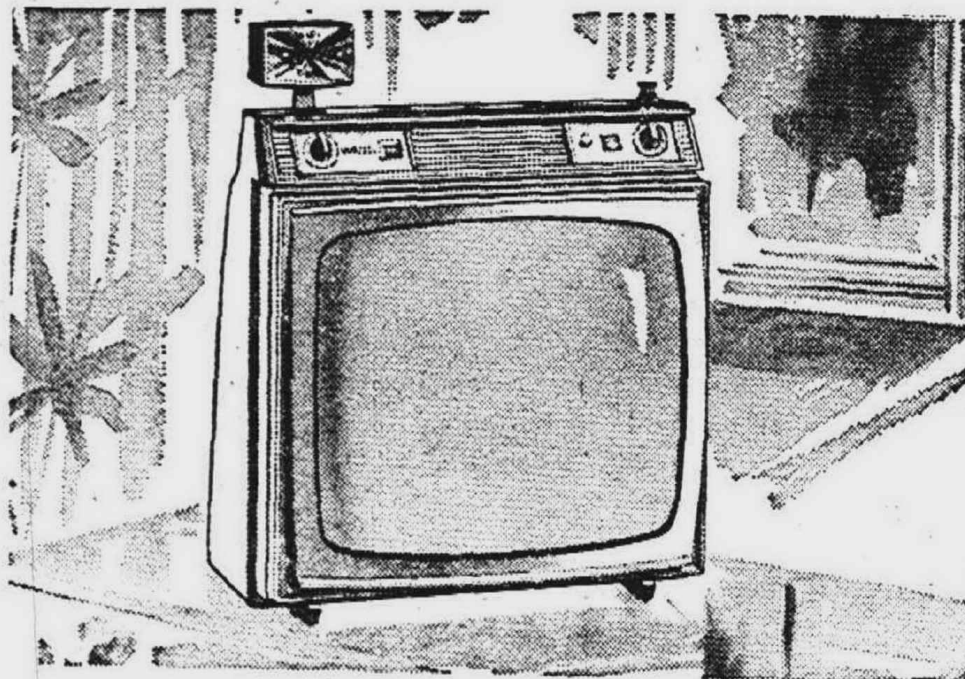

Smith was the big runner for the winners as he carried 16 times for 69 yards.

REACHING FOR BALL: That's Farmington receiver in game against Southfield. The reception didn't help the Falcons who were whipped by Blue Jays.

A Wintry Finish

Glynn Bernis during the 1964 meeting.

Detroit T. A. Grissom established a DRC record for money won by an owner when his strong stable, trained by Dewey Smith, won in excess of $220,000. It marked the first time in the 18-year history of the DRC any owner had won over $200,000 in purses.

The veteran M. H. Van Berg finished second in money winnings with over $190,000 to his credit. Van Berg is the national leader in total victories by an owner.

Honors in the trainer's race went to Robert L. Irwin, who handled the Van Berg string, after a tight and season long duel with Smith, who conditioned the Grissom string.

Stanislas, the Upset Star of the Year as the result of his victory over Tom Rolfe, Sclari, Amberoid and other Handicap aces in the $100,000 added Michigan Mile, came back with another stirring performance to capture the $25,000 added Auld Lang Syne Handicap, the closing day feature.

The secondary feature of closing day, the Quick Step Handicap at six furlongs was captured by Freddie R., owned by Paul Ternes and James Bartlett. Galathon finished second and Sgt. Toro third.

Thurston, RU Tie

map, the Thurston man's knee touched the ground thus killing the ball at that point.

So, there was no touchdown for Thurston, despite some protests.

RU took over the pigskin and held it the rest of the way.

Considering the way the two teams moved the ball, no one could have thought that only two days before the area had been submerged with six inches of snow. Maybe more.

RU rushed for 330 yards to Thurston's 224.

In passing, RU's Glen Davis was back on the mark, hitting on 12 of 25 attempts for 117 yards. His favorite target was Leland Bjerke.

Thurston passed eight times and made two for 12 yards.

RU rolled up 22 first downs to Thurston's eight.

The Thurston team was stingy on defense, especially each time RU got close.

Paul Santangelo scored for Thurston in the third period on a reverse when he scooted some 73 yards.

RU came back on a sustained march in which George Corombas went the final 16.

Thurston twice was repulsed around the RU 10. RU got inside Thurston's 20 three times, but found the rest of the going impossible.

SNOWY CHARGE: That's the way it is for runs for an extra point against St. Cecilia Jim McGrath of Our Lady of Sorrows as he in playoff semifinals.

Finish 2nd, Beat Northville:

Trojans Achieve Goals

Whatever happens Friday night when Clarenceville high school's football team ends its 1966 season will be anticlimactic—for the Trojans of Middlebelt Road.

This is not to say that coach Ralph Temby won't have his charges ready for Crestwood.

But the big goals—Clarenceville sought to accomplish this fall on the gridiron already have been attained, as follows:

1—The Trojans have assured themselves their second winning team in history. They now have an overall record of six victories and two losses.

2—From last for so many years in the Wayne-Oakland League, Clarenceville wound in 1966 in second place.

3—The long famine of not being able to beat nearby Northville finally ended last Friday night when the Trojans overpowered Northville, 25-7.

"This is quite a consolation to me," said Temby, "and for that matter everybody else around Clarenceville."

"We have been working now with most of these boys for four years. They sure have come along real well."

"The school here always has had its sights on Northville. But they always had too much for us."

But, now the sports cycle has changed for Clarenceville.

Those who said Clarenceville should get out of the Wayne-Oakland League because the Trojans were being outclassed, especially in football, have different thoughts.

It shows what work and effort on the part of athletes and coaches can attain.

Larry Martin sent Clarenceville off in front when he dashed 45 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter.

A pair of TD gallops by Mike Nye in the second period helped sew up matters. Nye ran in from the 14, then from the 13. He also added an extra point to give Clarenceville a 19-0 halftime lead.

Northville struck on a long pass from John Holman to Greg Carr for its touchdown in the third period. It was the only time in the game Northville penetrated the Clarenceville 40.

Seconds remained in the game when Chuck Watkins added icing to the cake for Clarenceville by stepping over the goal line for a touchdown from three yards out.

The field was muddy and banked with snow. But it had no bearing on the Clarenceville offensive and defensive performance.

The ball carrier scooted for 219 yards with Martin picking up 91 in eight tries, Nye 79 in 14 carries and Dave Kaipio 57 in 13 chances. In the air, Clarenceville added 37 more yards.

Penalties cost Clarenceville two more touchdowns. Temby couldn't say enough about his defense.

"These kids were magnificent," He was referring to Larry Pynne, Tom Schlack, Steve Clark, Carl Watkins, Kaipio, Ron Ray and John McClorey.

In the Wayne-Oakland League chase, Clarenceville had a 5-2 final record. The title went to powerful Bloomfield Hills.

East, West in Showdown

ped one to Alexander who bounced through some five inches of the white stuff to make the grab and step into the end zone.

Alexander was supposed to kick the extra point. However, the pass from center was bad. Alert to the situation, Alexander picked up the ball and ran around end to reach the goal line for what proved to be the deciding point without anybody putting a hand on him.

Riverside capitalized on a West fumble to get its touchdown two minutes later.

Taking over on the West 22, Riverside needed only six plays before Randy Bates slashed over from the four on a run around left end.

Riverside tried to run the extra point. West arose to the occasion, made the stop and that was the scoring. Neither team threatened thereafter.

The conditions on the field got worse. There were fumbles and players sliding all over.

West resorted to defenses usually employed at the goal line to throttle Riverside at midfield. Riverside countered with similar tactics.

West won with guard Gary Kalen who was out with an injured ankle. Kalen will be back for East, barring aggravation of his injury in practice.

Statistically, West rushed for 71 yards and picked up 92 in the air. Riverside had 113 yards in the snow and completed just one pass for 13 yards.

Barring a bad deal from the weatherman, upwards of 3,000 should turn out for Friday night's game which will end the season for both teams.

Livonia Redford CYO Teams Clash Sunday

The first annual Livonia-Redford CYO grade school football championship will be played Nov. 13 on the Bentley High School field at 3 p.m.

The game features two undefeated teams, in St. Michael, Livonia and St. Robert Bellarmine, Redford. Both feature a varied offense built around hard charging offensive and defensive lines. St. Michael is given a passing edge while the defensive line of St. Robert Bellarmine has been outstanding all season.

In a recent non-league practice scrimmage the teams played to a "stand off," which should add flavor to the contest.

Henry Johnson, Larry McGowan, Joe Wilcox of the St. Michael staff will be completing their fourth year of coaching at the school. Their teams have won a combined total of nine divisional titles in football, basketball and baseball during the four year span.

Ed Day, Athletic Director, announced tickets for the game will be available at the gate. Team members are attempting to sell approximately 1,000 tickets for $1 per family. Receipts are earmarked for the respective sports programs.

Observing Sports

Forum from where we have watched many a hockey game via television. It's an old building, a lot like the famed Madison Square Garden in New York which is about to be torn down within the next year to make room for a new Garden to be erected above the Pennsylvania railroad depot.

Disturbed to say the least is Ralph Owen, who heads the athletic program for the Greater Detroit Catholic High School League, which includes Our Lady of Sorrows and St. Agatha.

What worries Owen is the plan to knock down the University of Detroit Stadium, now that the Titans no longer field a football team.

"If U. of D. goes, where do we play our championship games like the Soup?" Owen cried before members of the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association.

"Sure, there's Tiger Stadium, but we don't need a stadium that big," added Owen. "And then there are certain restrictions which bar any other football game in Tiger Stadium 48 hours ahead of a Detroit Lions game. That's why we have had to switch our Goodfellow game from Tiger to U. of D. Stadium."

The need for a 20,000-25,000-seat stadium is area wide, according to Owen.

"It's something which has to concern the suburbs as well as Detroit proper."

Owen noted the fact that Notre Dame high, which plays St. Ambrose Friday for the Soup crown is not located in Detroit. Nor is a very excellent team such as the one turned out this fall at Our Lady of Sorrows in Farmington.

What about the plight of the Detroit Lions? We have said little about the Lions all fall, leaving it to the others who have expounded a great deal.

It's obvious the Lions have coaching problems, but just as prominent have become other deficiencies in the offense—such as the lack of pass catchers—and in the defense where the line has lost some of its zing and the backs get lost trying to knock down opposing passes.

All isn't dark on the Lions' front, however. The team has come up with some fine youngsters in the Sweetans and Nowatzkes and the Hands.

But anybody who visions a quick reversal for the Lions and a title say in 1967 or '68, is just a wishful thinker. Rebuilding will keynote what the Lions do for the next few years.

Don't forget Wednesday, Nov. 23 when Cazzie Russell comes to Cobo Arena for the first time to meet the Detroit Pistons.

The snow forced Plymouth High School to end its football season without making a single pass, run or punt last Friday night.

A scheduled battle with Walled Lake was canceled and it was announced that it couldn't be made up because Walled Lake has another game listed for this week.

Plymouth thus finished its season with two wins and five defeats.

Vanity Lavatory In Bedroom Will Ease Bath Woes

Many new bathrooms being installed these days have vanity lavatories in which the bowl is set into a wide countertop, with storage space beneath. According to the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, such "furniture" is also growing in popularity for the bedroom.

They come in so many styles that they fit into the room's overall decor very nicely.

And, the Bureau points out, they're a real boon to families in which several children or adults have to get ready for school and work at the same time because they ease the bathroom traffic jam.

NEWEST PRODUCT of the Plymouth plant of Evans Products Co., a 100-ton building shipper executives at major railroad centers throughout the United States.

100-Ton Flat Car Train Displayed by Evans Firm

A prototype of Evans Products Company's 100-ton Building Products Flat Car equipped with movable bulkheads is now being shown to railroad and shipper executives in demonstrations scheduled for major railroad centers.

The car was displayed at the Union Station in Portland, Oregon on October 31. It was shown at the Beale Street Team Track of the Southern Pacific Railroad in San Francisco on November 4. During the week of November 28 it is scheduled for appearance in St. Paul, Minnesota, and in December it will be shown successively in Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, and Washington, D.C.

The new car, in addition to movable self-locking bulkheads, is equipped with Hydra-Cushion sliding sill underframe, a new deck design with convertible sections that form load-bearing pieces, eliminating a need for wooden dunnage, and chain tie-downs which accommodate large variations in length and width of loads.

The car was especially designed for the shipment of plywood, lumber, gypsum board, pipe, structural steel and similar building materials. Its two movable bulkheads manually operated by one individual move on roller bearings over a 10' foot range and can be locked at two-inch intervals. The pins and operating handle of the bulkheads are under constant spring tension, assuring automatic locking of the bulkheads when the handles are released. Each bulkhead is 10'6" high.

Fork lift loading is made especially easy because of the convertible floor sections which raise above the top of the deck to act as bearing pieces. When not needed the metal floor sections fold into the deck of the car out of the way to provide a flush deck surface.

Evans reports that the new car has been impact tested up to 14 miles per hour with a load of gypsum board 10'3" high and weighing 184,008 pounds without damage to bulkheads, car, or lading. The car also underwent over-the-rail tests before being put on display.

The prototype car measures 58'6" between bulkheads when located at extreme ends of car; 38'6" when both bulkheads are moved inward; bulkheads are 10'6" high and 10'2 1/2" wide. It is a development of Evans' Research and Development Division located at Plymouth, Michigan. Evans manufactures freight cars, freight and truck damage-prevention equipment, and automotive and other industrial equipment. The Company is also an important producer and distributor of plywood and other building materials.

Homeowners Urged to Check Heating Systems for Winter

Are any of the following things true about your heating system?

1. There's a feeling of draft in one or more rooms.
2. There are cold spots in some rooms.
3. You have to overheat some rooms to make others reasonably comfortable.
4. It's impossible to make some rooms warm enough regardless of what you do.
5. You have one thermostat to regulate the temperature in the entire house.
6. Your fuel bills have gone up in the last two years.

If any of these things are true about your home, it's time for a checkup, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau says.

The checkup should be performed by a qualified heating contractor who will determine whether you need such new equipment as a boiler, burner, controls, heat distributors or thermostat. If you have an old-fashioned heating plant it may be worth your while to have it entirely replaced.

It's long been known that students are more alert and factory workers more efficient when temperatures are just right. The same thing is true in your home. Your family's health, energy and sense of well-being all depend upon the evenness and quality of your home's heat.

There's another plus factor. At least 10 percent of your home's value is determined by its heating system—an important consideration should you ever decide to sell.

A top-quality type of heat is hydronic or hot water.

Wally Roberts GOING UP 'CURTAIN'

A quick flick of his striped tail, a menacing growl, and like a bolt of yellow-black lightning that ferocious predatory beast of the jungle—a tiger—has jumped into our midst.

Murray Schisgal's "Tiger" was a hilarious Broadway comedy that ran over a year featuring those two perfect performers, Eli Wallach and Anne Jackson. New Yorkers flocked in large numbers to witness Eli's nightly stalking of Anne in his own N.Y. apartment jungle. "The Tiger" was sharp, rapacious and had a biting appeal that really amazed audiences.

A couple of weeks ago old Wally saw a talented group of Eastern Michigan drama students do "The Tiger." Biggest problem that evening was that only 50 people saw the magnificent job done by Director Pat Patterson and actors Linda Siglin, Ted Mills. Reason: the EMU Studio theater accommodates 50 people.

After a short negotiation period with the EMU officials we made arrangements to present the "TIGER" in a new cage, the Northville High School Auditorium Nov. 22. Thus Old Wally joins the ranks of producer. Already it is quite apparent that Dave Merrick really earns his money as Broadway producer.

A second play "Things Go Bump In The Night" on the bill that evening was also secured for the Nov. 22 Northville performance.

To produce a show "from scratch" is even more of a problem. Thank goodness the EMU drama department has "The Tiger" and "Things Go Bump In The Night" all ready for the stage. These two plays make an interesting combination since "The Tiger" is as wild and witty as "Things" is serious, thoughtful-provoking and stimulating.

A producer must believe in his product. After the rave notices I gave these two productions, there is no question in my mind that we will jam the Northville high school auditorium to capacity. By the way, the Northville High auditorium is one of the finest in all of Wayne County. It's 500 theater-type seats are raked accurately so that you have a fine view of the stage and acoustically it's perfect.

Director Dave Siglin and Pat Patterson will be available for a short discussion on stage at the conclusion of the two plays. New York audiences have had this added treat in 1962 with C.P. Snow's "The Affair." They claim that many times the discussion period was more violent than the play.

"Things That Go Bump In The Night" is a Michigan "first" for this controversial N.Y. play. You'll really enjoy Director Siglin's astute adaptation.

Speaking of premieres the Thurston High drama department under the deft direction of William Moore is doing a seldom-seen play this weekend "Dinny and the Witches." William Gibson, author of the popular "Miracle Worker," gave his play an off-Broadway appearance a few years ago. You might want to see something new and different on Nov. 10, 11, 12 by visiting this student production in Redford Township.

"Royal Hunt of The Sun" drops into Ann Arbor for a two night stand (Nov. 13-14) at the Hill Auditorium.

'Mary Mary' Opens Nov. 18

The Broadway hit comedy "Mary Mary" will be presented by the Lathrup Players Nov. 18 and 19 at the Birney Junior High, 11 Mile Rd. at Evergreen in Southfield. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Jim Smith is director of the production. Appearing in the cast are: Jerry Mansfield, Ted Mansfield, Joan Gould, Larry Till and George Brush.

Imaginative Set Cuts Down on Scene Changes

When "Oliver" opens Nov. 25 at Bentley High School, the Livonia Redford Theatre Guild production will hit the boards with one of the most imaginative and functional sets in its history. Bill Moore, a well known set designer in the metropolitan area, is the designer.

The constant problem of time in scene changes has been minimized by the use of a revolving platform on which are four separate scenes. With slight modification, these scenes convert to a variety of others. This innovation assures fast scene changes. Fred Nelson is directing the construction of the set.

Livonia Kids Win Prizes

Three Livonia youths walked away with the first prizes at the Terrace Theatre's Halloween costume contest Oct. 29.

Thomas Leeman of 6049 Dwight, Livonia, won the prize for the scariest costume, while the first prize for the funniest costume went to Randy Evenden of 9900 Hubbard, Livonia. Steve Kish of 14176 Painbridge, Livonia, took the honors for the most original costume.

Jerry Booth, local TV personality, was the judge.

String Quartet Slates Concert

The Aeolian String Quartet, one of the foremost ensembles of Europe, on its first visit to the United States will perform in Detroit at 8:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 21, in the Community Arts Auditorium on the Wayne State University campus.

Their program will be: Haydn's "Quartet in C" Bartok's "Quartet No. 5," and Beethoven's "Quartet No. 7 in F."

Tickets for the concert, their only Detroit performance, are available at the Wayne State University Ticket Office: 100 West Kirby; and at all Grinnell's and Hudson's stores.

'Birthday Party' Opens at Bonstelle

Harold Pinter's "The Birthday Party," a leading play of the British theatre's new renaissance, opens at Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theater at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 11. Additional performances are Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 12 and 13, and the following Thursday through Sunday, Nov. 17-20. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. except on Sundays, when curtain time is 2:30 p.m.

Colorful
Festival
Dec. 2

Chariot races, mounted knights in armor, sword-wielding combatants, gladiators, flag-throwers, living puppets, graceful dancers and live chess—they're all part of the fabulous "Festa Italiana" coming to Detroit for a limited engagement Dec. 2.

The spectacular production will give five performances in three days at Olympia Stadium, with shows at 8 p.m. Friday, 2 and 8 p.m. Saturday, and 2 and 6 p.m. Sunday.

A cast of over 125 persons was gathered from the most colorful festivals and tournaments throughout Italy by director Gino Landi. The show is making its first tour of the United States, affording audiences a chance to see more spectacle than they've seen in most Hollywood epics.

Highlight of the rough-and-tumble action is the "Carosello of the Roses," in which six horsemen try to slash short-stemmed roses from each other's helmets with swords. And they go at it with gusto until someone wins.

Daring horsemanship dominates the show from the opening chariot race to the "Joust of the Saracens," a tournament that can end with a rider being lashed from his mount by a chain whip.

There's more. Like a life-size chess game with people and horses as pawns; and a recreation of the attack by Turkish horsemen on the Neapolitan Market.

Tickets for "Festa Italiana" are now on sale at Olympia. Mail orders are being accepted.

Players Open Season
The Court Players will open Nov. 9 with a revival of Jules Feiffer's "Harry the Rat with Women." Additional performances are scheduled Nov. 10, 11, 12, 16, 17, 18 and 19. The Court Players theatre is located at 2555 Burns Ave., Detroit. For ticket information call 822-6655.

LEE MARVIN stands off Mexican guerillas determined to get Claudia Cardinale while Burt Lancaster awaits the outcome in this scene from "The Professionals" now showing at the Mai Kai Theatre in Livonia. Also starred in the adventure film are Robert Ryan, Jack Palance and Ralph Bellamy.

Junior Group Slates Debut

The Parkway Junior Players will be introduced to the public at a special Christmas production of Cinderella and Mother Goose on Dec. 19 at the Nankin Mills Elementary School, 8100 Hubbard Rd., Westland.

Two performances are scheduled.

Mrs. Peter Yuhas is the director of the first production of the new children's drama group in the area. Shawn Westphal is the junior director.

Profits from the 25 cent admission charge will be used for new equipment, workshop expenses and to develop a scholarship fund.

For further information about the Players contact Joseph Rusis at GA 2-9365.

So What's New?

There are those who will testify that life is a constant change. It seems so, but then the other day Flavia Wilson, from Redford Township, called me with a desperate plea in her voice. "We need blood desperately—If we were to have a disaster I shudder to think what would happen. Honestly, can't you make an appeal for people to come to the next Bloodmobile unit at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Five Mile in Livonia Nov. 14th from 3 to 5 or 6 to 9?"

"Either this Bloodmobile unit is a success or I'm just going to quit trying," says Flavia. "It seems residents know my number when they want blood and after I release it with a promise to replace it I never hear from them again. I have gone out on the limb so many times and now I need our Bloodbank replenished."

Flavia has been making this plea for 10 years.

This proves, really, not many things change. Because Flavia has stayed with this project for 10 years—and never gives up her chant. She gets discouraged but she always hangs in there—pleading, cajoling and shaming people into being better citizens by giving—of their blood.

After she hung up I got to thinking of an article the late Paul Chandler did after one of Flavia's plaintive phone calls. She inspired him to write the following in his Facts and Opinions Column—and this was at least eight years ago:

"There are those in Redford Township who believe the community is full of pious breast-beaters who whistle through their teeth.

The doubters are the people who work for the Township Blood Bank.

A "Blood Bank" is a collection of bottles in a refrigerated room supervised by the Red Cross. The contents are provided by citizens who have a sense of responsibility to their neighbors, if not an apprehension that the day will come when someone in their own family will need blood.

The contents of those bottles are provided, every now and then, at a clinic in Redford Township. Volunteers come forth, spend a half hour or so in donating, and return home with a sense of well-doing.

Once this is done, the bottles go downtown and are earmarked "Redford Blood Bank." If you need a couple of pints, you can identify yourself as a local resident, and it will be released.

For instance, there is a little girl living on Brady. In a hurry, she needed a series of transfusions. Friends have replaced the six pints she had to have and her father has made many regular trips downtown to offer blood.

At her particular moment in history, however, the Bank meant everything.

In the case of tornado or war emergency, it means everything.

There is a point. It has been publicized that on Monday, June 13 at the American Legion Hall in Redford Township there is to be a "Blood Bank Day." Out of perhaps 30,000 adults who live here, 25 have volunteered to give.

The hours of collection next Monday are 3 to 5:30 and 6:30 to 9 p.m.

The people directing the Bank are extremely depressed. They can remember when in the weeks following the flush of war, blood donations were terribly in vogue. Today, apathy. They know the values haven't changed that much."

Call Flavia Wilson KE 1-0497 or Northwest Regional office in Livonia 422-2787 to make an appointment for the Nov. 14th Bloodbank. You can designate your pint of blood to go anywhere you like. To Vietnam, Aunt Minnie or just in a bank for your own family in case of emergency. You will feel better physically and mentally.

Snow Foils Civilization

Civilization is a wonderful thing.

So far, we have developed commercial airplanes traveling faster than the speed of sound to transport persons from New York City to California in less than four hours; space ships traveling 17,500 miles per hour up to 450 miles above the earth and then returning just a mile or two from its pre-planned splash-down point.

We also have miracle drugs and found ways to prevent or cure diseases which just a generation ago were incurable.

Great things are being done in education, medicine, the sciences.

But with all of this progress in human endeavor, why does it all have to slow down to a crawl when a few inches of snow falls on our streets and freeways?

Sports World Could Teach School Heads

DURING THE many years I travelled the sports trail up and down the country it always was interesting to watch the strategy employed by the managers and coaches—and even the athletes themselves.

When the venerable Fielding Harris (Old Man) Yost was the Major Domo of football at the University of Michigan he never wanted his team to keep possession of the ball in its own territory.

I can still hear him explain in that old southern twang, "It'd be downright silly to try to buck the ball over from Ypsilanti when the goal posts are in Ann Arbor."

So, he had the Wolverines punt, hoping that the other team would make a mistake in its own territory and pave the way for a Michigan score.

As a result the Yost football strategy was labelled, "the punt, pass and prayer system."

On the other hand Knute Rockne, the personable Swede who took Notre Dame to the heights several decades ago, used to shout, "Give us the ball—any place. You can't score without the ball."

And the Notre Dame system became the most fearsome in the game.

We had much the same example in the fight game or what was known among the upper classes as the manly art of self defense.

When Jack Dempsey, most popular of all heavyweight champions, was in his hey-day, he'd come out swinging with little or no thought of defense. He'd sink his left to an opponent's body and cross with a right to the head, and just keep boring in until one or the other dropped.

On the other hand, Gene Tunney, a self-made sort of fighter, used to train in front of a mirror. He would look into the mirror after each punch to see "what position I'd be in if I miss."

His plan was a defensive plan—successful but not colorful.

I got to thinking about the two types of strategy as I watched the powers that be in the Board of Education and the Livonia School System trying to "sell" the $23,000,000 bond issue during the past few weeks.

Instead of coming out swinging like the Notre Dame football teams of Rockne's day or like Jack Dempsey when he was the scourge of all heavyweights, they used the Tunney approach—shuddering at the thought of what might happen if they missed.

As usual it was a campaign of threat and fear that has come to be boring and sounds like a broken record.

Down in the Westland District they cried, "We'll have to go on half day sessions if the bond issue doesn't go through."

And all through Livonia the chant was much the same. Talk with any of the officials and they would tell about the expected population explosion in the next five years and "we'll have no place to put the students unless the bond issue passes and we can build schools."

For all the world, they reminded you of the fellow going into a fight with his arms folded across his face—afraid of being hit.

Personally, I much prefer the Dempsey-Rockne method—"come out swinging."

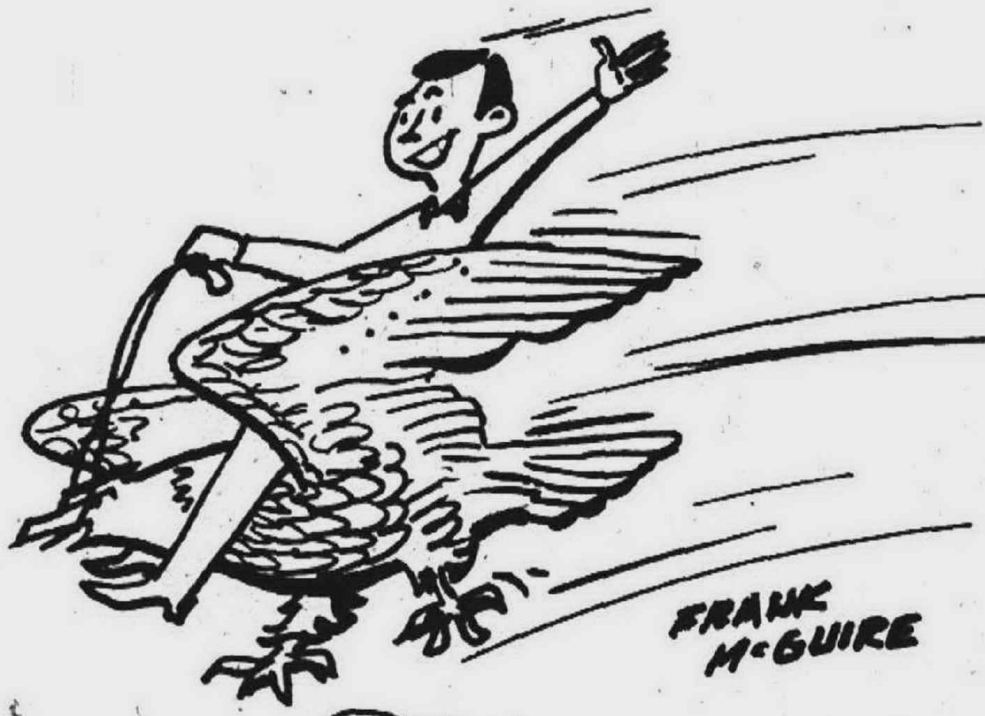

The American people never have flinched when told the truth. As Jack Webb used to say over the nation's television tubes, "Give us the facts—just the facts."

If the educators, who never seem to learn the intrigue of the highly competitive business world, would come out forcefully and say, "We need $23,000,000 to build schools to educate YOUR children" and stand on that, they would be better off.

They'd show real faith in their own product with a firm stand and no threats or half-truths. And the public (taxpayers) would buy it. Americans never shirk when told the unvarnished truth.

Scouts Harrassed for Helping

Editor:

The past seven years the Boy Scouts, and their adult leaders of troop 283, Marquette school, have as a community service spent Halloween night helping the little children of our area to spend a safer Halloween by stationing themselves at various intersections so no tragedy may occur. Because of our limited numbers we can only cover a small area. We are bounded on the north by Donnelly, Cherry Hill on the South, Moeller on the east, and Craig on the west.

In so doing this community service it seems the boys of our troop must put themselves in a certain amount of personal danger from the hoodlum element of this area. What damage could befall a person from a lighted street corner we have been asked? Our reply is various and numerous. Let us elaborate. In the past years and this year, this year being the years of age, moving along together certainly are not bent on playing "ring-around-the-rosy." After keeping close check on this group from two cars and after they had punched a few scouts they proceeded down a street bent on breaking every jack-o-lantern from porches they could lay their hands on. God only knows what could have happened if they were left to continue. When both of our cars reached the group they dispersed in every direction like a pack of wild dogs, in between houses, back of garages, and through fields. It is a great shame on our community that this night, set aside for our little ones should be taken over by toughs and bullies such as these. The hob goblins no more measure three feet tall. They are now five foot ten and six feet tall and some weigh a good hefty 180 pounds.

We all know that our Police department has its problems enforcing the law, but we ask you, is there not something that can be done to reduce this sort of situation? Can we not somehow reach the parents of these toughs and show them that it is their children that do these things. Anything that can be done would be greatly appreciated by the men of this Scout Committee and by all the parents of this area.

Hoping we may be of help on future Halloween's Committee-men of Troop 283 Garden City

Should Be A Law Against Burning
Editor: Golly Detroit all but cut out "smokey the bear" smog and now no kid will get burned. It may even cut down on fire calls. It sure has its blessing in crisp, fresh, fall air. Let us all carry a good thing over into our backyards.

Redford, Livonia and all surrounding Detroit suburbs, we, too, can have a penalty for burning and clear the air also! Make the penalty enough so no vandals will be in reverse to the "no burning order" and maybe some senior citizens won't be driven out of their homes in order to breathe. Besides those leaves left there, or chopped by mower and left there, are good top soil.

Just think no more burning baskets, children too, will be safer as well as buildings.

It may even cut down on illness. Leaves are new vegetation in flower beds come Spring if you cover it mulch with a layer of dirt to hold it down and wind free. It is worth following a wise lead Detroit made to end air pollution.

Worthy Replacement
Editor:

We write in behalf of a group of women called "The Farmington Ladies," who have faithfully and lovingly served a floor of patients at Northville State Hospital for the past 15 years. Once each month this group, usually numbering eight to 14, has gone to the hospital with home baked cookies, birthday cards and small gifts. We also take along games, usually bingo, or perhaps we have an old fashioned song fest in the way of entertainment.

The people on this floor await our visitation as children wait for Christmas.

However, it is with deep regret and sorrow that we can no longer carry on this activity. This is due to the fact that the majority of our women have reached the ages of 65 through 75 years.

We are looking for a group of women who would be interested in carrying on this much needed and appreciated work.

The equipment we have we are willing to loan to anyone interested. This consists of coffee urns, cups, silver, games, etc. Also several of our ladies will continue to go along and help a new group become acquainted with these people and the monthly routine.

If you are a group of women looking for something to fill your heart with joy and soul filling satisfaction, the happiness you will render to these expectant people will more than be your answer.

For further information on this worthy and humane cause, please call 474-5068 or 474-7628.

OBSERVING the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

It is the great American custom to gripe about people, places, government and taxes.

It is our heritage and our privilege—but, in my opinion, it does not seem sporting to voice a complaint against government unless we have voiced our vote at the polls.

Tuned in to one of these gripe sessions the other day, I became really irritated with the stand one man took—he said he wasn't going to bother to vote anymore—"What good did it do. The government owns me lock-stock-and-barrel."

After leaving the party, with no one contesting his statement, I started to do some checking and the man was grossly uninformed—and so were those of us at the party not to dispute him. But the answers always come better after the questions are two days old. Frustrating fact of life.

The answer to the gentleman is—Americans pay less taxes per capita than any other top nation.

In the United States a married employee with two children earning $14,000 a year would bring home $11,963.

In Germany the take-home pay, under the same circumstances, the breadwinner would bring home $10,745.

In England PaPa brings home $10,052.

In Denmark, he leaves almost half with his leader, and brings home to mama only $8,638, and it is worse in Sweden where he would bring home $8,120.

Now these aren't for the same privileges, either. Commodities we take for granted here—like gasoline or cigarettes—are much more expensive in Europe. In England for instance gasoline is about 75 cents a gallon.

The other day at lunch with Director of Nurses of St. Mary Hospital, Rita Radzialsowski, we were talking about her trip to Europe. She just came back in September and she had managed to spend several days in Poland. Now here is a country where my griper gentleman friend should be forced to spend at least a week.

The Government is kind of cute about its fund raising. It welcomes the exchange of American dollars into its currency, but unfortunately it has no windows for changing it back into American dollars. It is a one-way street—once you trade a dollar it is there to stay. The ladies do most of the manual labor, while the men are the skilled workers—and the pay is not much over an American dollar per day.

If you work for the Polish Government you cannot go to church. Nor can you go to church if you teach school or work on a newspaper. If you live here and have Polish relatives and send them a nice bundle of clean, attractive clothes for a gift, it is opened up, changed for less attractive and good repair clothes, and the bundle sent on. Who is to say—"Thanks, but the clothes in the bundle you sent were not much good"—the relatives? Not likely. All letters are censored—going in and coming out—and if the rations in one zone are sold out—just go home and get in line earlier next time.

Another example of Europe was brought vividly to my attention the other evening when my family and I attended the Livonia Kiwanis sponsored Travelog, the first of a series. It was beautifully done and John Weld, author and commentator, did a magnificent job bringing Ireland to his viewers in a delightful way.

True the Isle of Ireland is beautiful and quite gay—but after reflecting on the film and the life of the peasants of the country I decided you really had to like the simple life—simple like cooking every day over a wrought iron affair over an open fire of peat that burned continually. And using the sickle to bring in the wheat—the entire family is in on this operation.

Quaint and charming, when viewed on the modern screen brought by a modern author in modern technicolor, filming from a gay gypsy caravan.

Gratitude for my homeland didn't set in until well after I had opened the frig, took out the neat, frozen patties, flipped the switch for the heat, sliced the freshly delivered buns and we all were well fed in less than 12 minutes—from the first wail, "Mother, I'm hungry," until the last crumb was devoured.

As Hana Strang says—the more you see of Europe the better you like Livonia (which is where she lives). Home is great—even if you have to go away to find out.

Critical of Judge

Editor:

Open letter to:

Charles L. Levin,
Candidate for judge,
Court of Appeals.

On this date my six-year-old son came home from school for lunch with a "Trick or Treat" bag inscribed with your name. He said, "Mama, I didn't really want to take it, but this man stopped his car and got out and gave it to me. I told him we already had some at home, but he made me take it anyway."

Mr. Levin, I have tried to teach my son the things that are stressed in every child safety bulletin, namely—"Do Not Talk to Strangers—Do Not Accept Gifts (candy, etc.) From Strangers—and Be Especially Cautious of Strangers in Cars!!!"

As a candidate for judge, I think you used extremely poor judgment!!!

DIABETES? OR HYPOGLYCEMIA

High-Blood Sugar? Or Low Blood Sugar?

One hundred and fifty years ago, average annual consumption of sugar per capita in the United States was five pounds. Today over 100 pounds per capita each year! The increase in high-blood sugar and low-blood sugar has been co-incidental with the consumption of sugar. It has been predicted that within a dozen years, half of us in the United States, able to work and pay taxes, will be forced to take care of the other half, who will be in, repeated, because of disability.

Learn now how to maintain a better-balanced body chemistry! In many cases of low blood sugar there is usually a strong craving for coffee. Dr. Abrahamson—in his book, Body, Mind & Sugar—has pointed out that it is practically impossible to control low blood sugar if the patient insists a drinking coffee.

If you have abnormal and frequent hunger pains, and crave sweets constantly, also desire for starches, and coffee, you need this nutritional plan.

Try ZERBO'S Nutritional body rebuilding program.

Just Chattin'

by W. W. Edgar

The tumult and the shouting dies, The Captain and the Kings depart?

Good old Rudyard Kipling, who was a bit before my time, penned these words some years ago, but if he were living today he couldn't have done a better job in describing the calm that has settled over the country side.

The election is over. The people have made their choices — good or bad — and now we can settle back to our normal way of living and hope for the best.

Chances are not all of the selections will be for the best interests, but in the main, the country will go, as usual, being the oasis of freedom in a desert of chaos and uncertainty.

Nothing like an American election happens any place else in the world. For the better part of six or eight months the incumbents and their challengers travel far and wide engaging in one-sided debates that, at times, border on character assassination.

Oftentimes these political utterings provide better comedy than any of the stand-up comedians we have in our theaters or who can be seen on our living room television. But, more often than not, they have a tendency to become boring.

And it is difficult to believe that these verbal slashings do not leave scars that may take a long time to heal. It just does not seem possible that one man, ridiculed and maligned by another, can then embrace his rival, and march on together.

On the field of athletic strife it is another matter. Our young athletes are taught to be "good losers" in athletic combat, but don't forget these fellows were not ridiculed and criticized beyond words during the struggle. It is not difficult for them to "forgive and forget."

But the scars in an election battle may last for a long time.

However, in military circles, after a battle they have a custom known as "closing ranks" and marching forward.

The day has come now for our "Soldiers of the Ballot" to close ranks and join the quest for peace that will be comfort to us all.

Fred Lawton, poet laureate at the University of Michigan and a friend of long standing, caught the spirit of the day, while sitting in Michigan Stadium prior to a major football game.

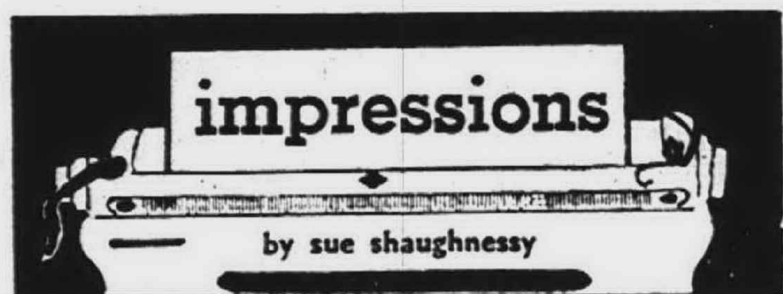

Here are the words he wrote — a modern version of Rudyard Kipling: — which he called "The Spirit of the Game."

"Two rival states are clashing here today
Two college bands blare out their fighting songs
Two cheering sections sing, and swing, and sway
Two sets of colors float above the throngs!
Two football teams, long rivals, now appear
The flag is raised — Old Glory's fluttering there!
A sudden quiet steals upon the ear,
AND THEN — Two bands strike up THE NATIONAL AIR

Two factions rise, in reverence, in the stands
For just this moment rivalry is gone
Two teams stand, rigid — helmets in their hands
Two states — United States — stand as ONE!
One fervent prayer is in each heart today
One prayer to God, that always there shall be
One LOVE that melts all bitterness away
ONE LAND, ONE FLAG, ONE SONG — ONE LOYALTY!"

That's the spirit we need today. So, let's close ranks and march on toward peace and a bigger and brighter world with the rich voice of Kate Smith ringing in our ears —

God Bless America!

The man who paints the lovely snow scenes on the Christmas cards ought to come down to earth.

Why is the snow always clean? Why is the moon always shining and there is no wind in the scenes?

Just think. How often have you seen clean snow once it stopped falling? How often is the ground completely snow covered and the moon shines and there is no wind?

We don't really dislike snow, but Nov. 2 is just too soon. In addition, after combatting slush and salt we can't buy the peaceful romantic version of the white stuff.

Webster's defines snow as "particles of water vapor which when frozen in the upper air fall to earth as soft, white, crystalline flakes." That might be the scientific definition, but any mother in the area could probably have supplied a dozen different, more colorful descriptions last Wednesday morning.

Some of these might be: boots, slush, water in the hallway and on the rug, wet snow suits and just general mess.

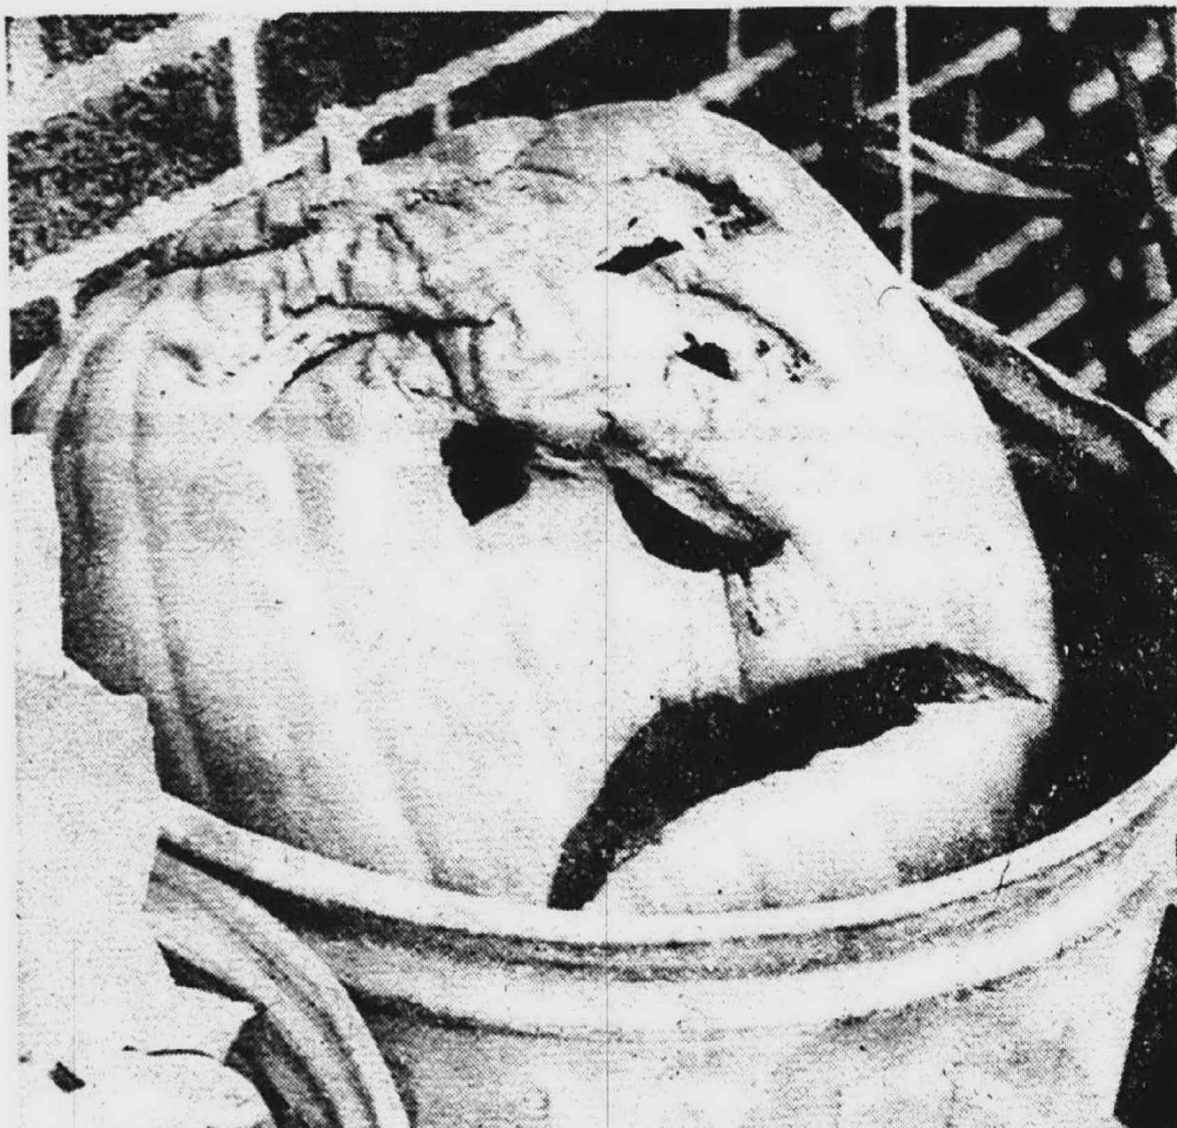

To the fathers the weather meant something different. Their definitions probably ranged from traffic jams and hard physical exercise to "I must remember the anti-freeze."

The younger children in the family were delighted. Visions of sledding, snow ball fights and snowmen occupied their thoughts during the day's classes. (Thank heaven there was no school Thursday and Friday!)

Observed a teenager snawling something else. We observed a student driver crawling along one of the roads at about 15 miles per hour and we can't imagine that she looked forward to that lesson. To the high school football player suddenly the big worry was if Friday's game would be cancelled.

The teenage daughter, however, tried to sneak out the door without her boots. When one of her parents caught up to her and made her wear them her thoughts were simply "DARN SNOW."

$ $ Investing $ $

I Didn't Get Rich—Quick

(Laurence A. Wysong, stock broker, welcomes all inquiries on investing. Send your questions to The Observer, "Investing Inquiries," 33050 Five Mile Road, Livonia. The answers are the opinion of Wysong who is considered highly qualified on the subject.)

Q. A friend of mine convinced me about investing in stocks. I contacted a stockbroker and bought a couple of stocks. I sure didn't get rich. As a matter of fact, when I sold the stocks three weeks later, I lost money. I am convinced that the little guy doesn't have a chance in the stock market and his money should stay in the savings account earning a safe 4½ per cent.

A. If I may say so, your approach to the stock market is based on the same principles that has made Las Vegas the city it is. That is to get rich — quick! This principle collapses when applied to the stock market. In fact expecting too much, too soon is the most common mistake made by new investors.

Many people who buy stocks for the first time would have to admit, in all frankness, that they are looking for a "nice little stock" that will: (a) give them complete safety, (b) pay a big dividend and (c) increase rapidly in value. This is far too much to expect.

There will always be some people who, despite good advice, will enter the stock market in the hope of getting rich quick—"making a killing." These people usually make at least two serious mistakes: First, instead of sensibly discussing their investment plans with an experienced broker—such as one connected with a New York Stock Exchange member firm—they act on impulse. Second, because of this headlong approach, they usually wind up choosing the wrong stocks for the wrong reasons, often overextending themselves financially and taking foolhardy risks.

These people belong to the small minority who seem determined to turn almost any kind of activity into some form of gambling—and who never seem to learn from their mistakes. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that stocks are an investment in American business. They can increase in value over the long term only as the companies they represent are able to grow, prosper and meet the demands of the future.

PEOPLE TO PEOPLE

By William G. Moldwin
(Reverend Moldwin is the Pastor of Holy Cross Lutheran Church. He is married and the father of three children. He is at present Chairman of the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations.)

Last February I was given two tickets to the play "The Deputy," written by Rolf Hochhuth. It still plays on my emotions: Does silence put you in a position of guilt? As you will recall, it is a drama about the responsibility of the late Pope Pius XII to alleviate the persecution of Jews in Nazi-occupied Europe.

The play aroused many, many historical, sociological and theological debates which will not be touched upon here.

Recently, I came across a "footnote" to the play.

Kurt Gerstein, the real-life prototype of the character who bears his own name in the play, was re-classified as a result of the play's popularity. He was, up until the play, classified as a "war criminal!"

The West German government refused to give his widow a pension, leaving her to struggle to support herself and her children. Because of Hochhuth, he is now recognized as a heroic resistance fighter, and the government not only awarded his widow a pension, but compensation for past deprivation.

Gerstein had joined the Nazi party in its early days, but soon saw its facade. He protested privately and publicly, but to no avail. It was in 1936, after he published pamphlets setting forth the truth about Nazism, that he was arrested and "officially" expelled from the party.

After release he was arrested again and sent to a concentration camp. The naked horror of the camp compelled him to penetrate the center of horror (Hitler's elite SS Corps) where he would eventually be discovered and killed, but where he hoped to sabotage the "system."

In one instance, he destroyed an entire factory's output of prussic acid, used to kill thousands in camps, by re-routing the shipment.

Meanwhile, he had collected a wealth of information on Nazism and attempted to pass this on to foreign diplomats (who wouldn't believe his accounts) and to the Vatican—his last possible channel to the outside world.

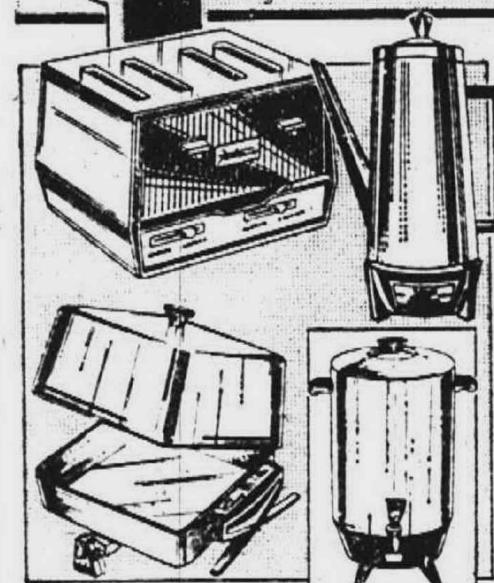

The irony in Gerstein's life is that he was captured by the French (who wouldn't believe him) and died from "strangulation" by fellow prisoners in a Paris prison, when they discovered his double identity.

Now in Germany, several training centers for Christian young people bear the name, "Kurt Gerstein Haus."

Much of Gerstein's story is contained in Hochhuth's play available in paperback at (most bookstores). It is perhaps ironic that while dwelling on the subject of silence vs. speaking out in "The Deputy," Hochhuth has, because he did speak out, cause the exoneration of a man previously condemned.

Making his religious program interesting for the young people, was Father Herman Kucyk of Our Lady of Good Counsel. Halloween eve brought over 300 teenagers together at the Parish Hall for a Hootenanny with St. John's Seminars. They were delighted with the new concept in music which included excerpts from the "Mass for Young Americans."

IF YOU KNOW how a pine cone wreath is made, you know what sort of people make them. Mrs. Austin Whipple, 41443 Crestwood Drive, Plymouth, displays her exquisite pieces and tells how to create them at a workshop for members of the Plymouth Branch of National Farm and Garden Club at the home of Mrs. James Gilbert, 10440 Warren Rd.

It's Easy to Make a Wreath If One Follows Instructions

The beauty of the wreath depends on the care and deftness of its origin, says Mrs. Austin Whipple, who directed a workshop this past week at the home of Mrs. James Gilbert.

During these fall days, collecting cones is fun and planning a holiday decoration that will last year after year is worth the effort put in it.

Starting with a wire and styrofoam wreath frame which can be purchased from the florist shop and placing pine cones in uniform size around the outer and inner edge, then filling in the center, one finds from there, it becomes a matching game.

For added beauty, one can cut the cones to produce flower like centers, using a small hack saw or twisting with strong pliers.

Before placing the cones in position, lightly spraying a group of them with blossom pink, another with copper, and still another with gold gives a haze of color to the finished product. Then add a bit of red holly berry to complete. A set of holiday matching candle sticks are made in the same manner.

DPW News And Notes

By Supt. Ken Vogras

PLYMOUTH DEPT. OF PUBLIC WORKS

The DPW Department has spent many hours picking up leaves throughout the city. This was done six days a week and several evenings until 8:30 p.m. It was necessary to discontinue this when the early snowstorm covered the leaves and the equipment became too damp and clogged to lift the leaves.

Leaves were also picked up from the parks and at the cemetery. There was one funeral conducted at Riverside Cemetery during the week.

During the early snow of Wednesday and Thursday the crews worked on plowing the snow and spreading salt, 65 tons of salt was spread. Also, city owned sidewalks were cleaned by the Department of Public Works crews.

A broken water main on Plymouth road was repaired, backfilled and black dirt was spread where the repair had been made. One stop box was raised on Ann Arbor Road.

A tree was cut down at Forest and Sutherland so that a sidewalk could be properly replaced.

Gravel was hauled to Liberty Street where work is being done.

A catch basin was cleaned and repaired at S. Harvey and the parking lot entrance and one was unplugged at S. Harvey and Byron Streets.

Ambulance Bills Irk Plymouth

The Plymouth City Commission has decided to accept an annual loss as inevitable in its support of a local ambulance service.

The commission approved Monday night a request by City Clerk Eugene Slider that accounts be cancelled as uncollectible after six months from the original billing, assuming "all reasonable attempts have been made to collect."

Commissioners did instruct City Manager Richard Blodgett, however, to see if delinquent ambulance accounts are covered by insurance policies. Such accounts, Commissioner Arch Vallier argued, could and should be collected.

Vallier made an unsuccessful attempt to replace Slider's proposal with a requirement that Blodgett report to the Commission in six months with a list of unpaid invoices. The motion died from lack of support.

According to Blodgett, the unpaid invoices in any one year may total about $1,000. Most of these are for ambulance service charges, which average about $20 each.

Slider's report rejected turning the bills over to a collection agency. Most agencies charge 50 per cent of the amount collected for their service, he said, and usually will not even try to collect invoices smaller than $25 or $50.

The City currently guarantees payment on ambulance calls made by Schrader Funeral Home. After two attempts at collection, Schrader turns the account over to the city, which then tries to collect the bill.

Also honored at the convocation was Fred Libbing, who had been president of Plymouth's first group of initiates in 1956. Libbing presided over the convocation and presented the honor students.

An address on "Mental Health in Positive Perspective" was given by the Rev. Kurt Heidman, chaplain at Wayne County General Hospital.

A&P how much cake should there be in a fruit cake?

Not much!

In fact, we think just enough to hold the fruit and nuts in place.

You see, our Jane Parker Fruit Cake is over 2/3 fruit and nuts.

Every cake is just bursting with cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

AND ONE OTHER THING YOU SHOULD KNOW:

It's the same wonderful cake... at the same low price as last year.

Isn't that good news?

Is it any wonder Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular Fruit Cake?

Is it any wonder it's become such a favorite gift item?

Is Jane Parker Fruit Cake a good reason for shopping A&P?
It's one of many.

Martin Heisses Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Fifty years ago, on Nov. 4, at the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Martha and Martin Heiss spoke their wedding vows.

Friday, Nov. 4, 50 years later, they celebrated their golden wedding at the Thunderbird Inn in Plymouth.

All five of their children were present and the party was a joint hosting effort. Their children and spouses were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Popeney, of Farmington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heiss, Jr., Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heiss, Youngstown, O., and Dale Heiss, of Coldwater were not able to be in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heiss, Jr., of Livonia hosted a pre-cocktail party at their home.

The years have been busy and full for the Martin Heiss family since they began their married life in Detroit 50 years ago.

Heiss was manager for the Continental Baking Co. and retired recently. Since then they have been traveling and McAllen, Texas, has been a favorite winter spot for them. After the anniversary party, they will head there for the cold months.

We asked Mrs. Heiss if she had any formula for married life and she smilingly agreed to share her motto with us.

"The secret of any success is cooperation. Life is a matter of give and take. Don't ever let your temper get the best of you. If you are irritated, try to walk and think things over before you say something you will later regret."

Did they enjoy the celebration their family planned for them? So much so, that when they return they will host an open house in June to celebrate the happy occasion all over again.

IN A FESTIVE MOOD, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Heiss celebrate their Golden Wedding Anniversary at the Thunderbird Inn.

Miss "Sugar 'N Spice" Enjoys Trip to Coast

Cathy Gee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Gee, 14168 Henry Ruff, Livonia, has returned from a trip to San Francisco with her mother.

Cathy, winner of Montgomery Wards Sugar and Spice Contest, left for the coast on Oct. 28 on her first continental flight. After a brief stop at Los Angeles, they arrived in San Francisco in time for lunch at Fisherman's Wharf.

While there they toured Chinatown. They visited a fortune cookie factory, and had dinner on the Sheraton Palace.

A view of the famed California redwoods, a trip around San Francisco Bay, and a look at Alcatraz Prison from the cruise ship were a few more of the spots they viewed.

Cathy was most impressed with the Golden Gate Bridge, and the trolley cars, and the sight of people slanted forward as they climbed or walked up streets and sidewalks in hilly San Francisco.

When Mrs. Gee and Cathy were guests at the play "The Fantasticks" they were invited by the cast to visit backstage and attend a party.

As a fitting climax, when they were airborne on Halloween evening, the hostess masqueraded as a witch and passed out favors for all aboard.

WORLD OF WOMEN

"GETTING TO KNOW YOU" is the theme song of this group these days and it would seem to be a pleasant pastime. The Farmington families and their foreign guests are left to right: Mr. and Mrs. James Atchison, Ta Hue Phan (kneeling); Bjorn Tjernstrom (kneeling) Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Reeber; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Huber, (kneeling), Kenneth Ross Smith.

Snow, Hot Dogs Win Favor With Exchange Students

Three Foreign Exchange Students were formally introduced to Farmington, Sunday, Nov. 6 although they have been part of the community for quite a few months.

The North Farmington Chapter of the American Field Service and the South Farmington Chapter combined forces to sponsor a formal reception at the South Farmington High School.

We had a chance to chat with the students and found their reactions to our country varied, although favorable.

Ta Hue Phan, a tiny girl from Viet Nam is staying with Mr. and Mrs. James Atchinson, Macomb Avenue. She loves American food. "What do you like best?" we queried. "Oooh I love the hot dog and hamburger," she said, wrinkling up her nose.

She also loves to have her picture taken. "Where is the color?" she asked us. "This is black and white!" We explained to her that color doesn't reproduce in the paper.

Ta Hue Phan is 18 and is studying to be a dentist. "Would you like to live here?" we asked. "Yes," she said emphatically. Ta Hue Phan wore a turquoise chemong and flitted about among the guests like a hummingbird.

Bjorn Tjernstrom is from Sweden and is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Reeber, Lyn-castle. He was sure what it was that he liked about our country. "I like the people," he said nodding eagerly. "They are all so friendly." He will study to be a doctor.

Kenneth Ross Smith is from Australia, and is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Huber, of Lorikay. This last week has been an exciting one for him. Ross made his first touchdown (he is a halfback) on North Farmington's football team. Also Ross has seen his first snow.

When we asked him what he liked he spoke straight to the point. "I like everything," he said, "everything about the United States." Ross will major in Science.

It would appear that we have a budding bunch of good will ambassadors in the three exchange students in Farmington this year.

JUDITH LEE CAMPBELL

... Announcement is being made of the engagement of Judith Lee Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Campbell, 9525 Wayne Road, to Darrell Albert Izzard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Izzard, Cedarville. Miss Campbell attended the University of Kansas and was graduated from Cleary College. She is employed in the Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo. Izzard is a student at Western Michigan University, and is also an Upjohn Co. employee. The couple plans a Dec. 22 wedding in First Methodist Church, Kalamazoo.

DEBORAH PIKE

Mr. and Mrs. Hilmar M. Pike of Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Deborah, to Donald Frederick Thiede of Westland. Miss Pike is a senior at Farmington High School and plans to attend Oakland Community College. The prospective bridegroom is a 1965 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School and attended Michigan State University. Presently employed by A. Z. Schmida and Sons, he will enter the U.S. Army late this November. No wedding date has been set.

See You There

The Lola Valley DeMolay Mother's Club will hold a card party at the Lola Valley Masonic Temple on Wednesday, November 16, at 8:00 p.m. There will be a luncheon, door and table prizes. Donation—$1.25.

Cloister Nuns Handwork To Be at Christmas Bazaar

The needlework of the nuns is famous the world over. It has been so ever since Medieval times when princesses used to boast their dresses were made by the nuns in the convent walls.

It gave rise to the old fairy tale of the wedding dress so fine it could be drawn through a ring and seemed as if woven of spider webs. Anyone who has ever received a gift from them knows the tiny, tiny stitches that characterize their work.

On Nov. 26 the Cloister nuns in the Monastery of the Blessed Sacrament at 13 Mile and Middlebelt in Farmington will open their Guild Room for a Christmas Bazaar which will feature all their handmade articles.

Not only the nuns from this cloister but from all over the world will have their talented creations on sale.

Philippine nuns will have their handmade lace edging fine hankies. There will be real Swiss cowbells wreathed in crimson velvet for decoration. Of course there will be hand-sewn holiday aprons and wreaths with a specially woven velvet ribbon. There will also be beautiful centerpiece for the holiday tables. The nuns wish to say that there have been many willing hands that have helped them this year, family, friends, etc. have all lent a hand with the fine sewing, because of the moving of the cloister has made a change in the routine.

The nuns are in retreat now, but if possible, we are going to take our camera and try to give you a preview peek at some of the exquisite items which due to modern stress are not available. In fact, when Fontana of Rome was here, she stressed the fact that she is one of the few designers who can stress the all-important "Sewn by Hand" label.

Doors of the Monastery will open at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 26 and remain open until 8 p.m. The sale will last for a week.

Fund

"We are proud of our workers," General Chairman Schening said, "because this was a difficult time to raise funds. Just before election there were so many testimonial dinners being held, that it was a drain on the purse."

"But the Plymouth people responded — nobly — and there is every reason for all of us to be proud."

Two of the happiest persons at the dinner will be Miss Carol Stephenson, who was Miss Sweet Charity and Sandra Saeger, who was Miss Sparkle. Miss Carol was especially pleased in that the students in the schools did so well. In her first grade class at Tanger School, the little tots lined up to put their contributions in the canister.

By going over the top this year the Plymouth people kept up a good record. Only once in the past ten years has the drive failed to reach the goal.

And, by succeeding this year, the ground work also has been paved for what should be another successful drive next year.

Gets Army Promotion

Walter R. Bartel, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bartel, 8829 Canton Center, Plymouth, has been promoted to staff sergeant in the U.S. Air Force. The sergeant attended Plymouth High School and completed requirements for his diploma after entering the Air Force.

STANLEY F. ALLISON, senior vice-president of Packaging Corporation of America, which has a plant on N. Sheldon Road in Plymouth, has been elected President of the Fibre Box Association. In his acceptance speech, Allison urged the fibre box industry to "shake off the rustic industrial inferiority complex that has been part of the box business" and to recognize its new stature in the business community.

Donna Hoffman Makes Dean's List at Adrian

Donna Kay Hoffman, a Junior at Adrian College, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Hoffman of 740 McKinley, Plymouth, has been named to the Dean's List at Adrian.

This honor is reserved for those students who have achieved a superior scholastic average during the second semester of the last school year.

Donna, a graduate of Plymouth High School, is majoring in Elementary Education. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority of which she is the Rush Chairman.

Wayne State University line coach Frank Vetter was head coach at Whitmore Lake High School for six seasons before joining WSU in 1965.

Water Issue Still Boiling

With that thought in mind, Lawton made a motion that the City would not entertain the sale of any one section but only for the entire package and then not at an economic loss to the city.

The nine areas presently being served by the City, which would be included in the package deal, include: Plymouth Gardens, 54 customers; Ball Street, 9; Sheldon Road, M-14 to Joy Road, 23; Plymouth Colony, 54; E. Ann Arbor Trail to General Drive, 3; 987 Mill Street, 1; M-14 east of Main Street, 5; M-14 west of Main Street, 3; General Drive Area, 17, for a total of 169.

The Commissioners carefully excluded any of the industrial customers from the package, principally Burroughs Corporation, and the other plants along Plymouth Road.

All of which leads those close to the picture to wonder what the City would do if the Township decided to install its own mains in Plymouth Colony. Supervisor John McEwen is a resident there and he posed the question at a recent meeting of the Trustees, demanding to know as a taxpayer and homeowner in the area what action the Board was going to take.

At that time, Township Engineer Herald Hamill, acting under instructions from the trustees, presented an estimated cost of $10,875 to connect the existing water lines in Plymouth Colony to the Plymouth Township system.

Now the next step is up to the Township but probably won't come up until the December meeting since the regular November meeting was Tuesday — too soon to receive any communications from the City.

The Distaff Side...

By Jerry Wendt, Women's Editor

It is the ungodly hour of 7 a.m. in the morning. The studio is almost empty for no audience is allowed to view the show. A dark, curly haired, husky man paces back and forth with a worried look on his face. He is waiting for his script. In a few moments he will go on the air. His name is Frank Blair and he does the news for the Today show.

In the center of the stage, an impressive looking man with a ruddy complexion, wearing a purple vest and a silver cross on a chain around his neck is being interviewed by host Hugh Downs. That is Robert Stopford, Anglican Lord Bishop of London.

Most of the Today success depends upon Downs. In addition to his knowledge and ability, he has an unusually amiable and sympathetic manner while interviewing which endears him to both viewers and subjects.

Two large color TV sets suspended before the crew and two amplifiers pick up the sound. We watched while the Lord Bishop was speaking.

Westminster College, in Fulton, Mo. had decided to dedicate its new library in the name of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who had visited there during the war. Robert Davidson, Dean of Westminster College had thought of bringing over a destroyed church for the library. The Lord Bishop had donated one of his churches which had been bombed out in the war.

After the show we repaired downstairs in the NBC Coffee Shop and had breakfast with the cast. It was a tremendous moment for us.

Downs is probably the best subject that we have ever interviewed. The first impression is of enormous vitality. He is a handsome man, with a kind manner, and literally crackles with energy.

He loves his work, his family and he talks well and easily on most subjects. He is not the least bit flip or blase and it is his interest in life about him that is responsible.

We asked him the obvious question first, "What effect did these hours have upon your family and your life?"

"The adjustment wasn't quite so rapid as it might seem," he said. "I had been on the Johnny Carson show and had done many guests shots so I was fairly used to a lack of social life in the evening and an early rising time." (Today, cast must be on the set at 4:30 a.m. for makeup and script.)

"I worried about my family, at first," he said, "It meant that they would have to move into the city. It has been the best thing that ever happened to them. They have had the advantages of all the cultural museums and the experience of meeting many different kinds of people.

"I feel that my children have learned to adjust." Proof of that is that when his son who is talented in photography enlisted; he went into the Navy and is now studying at the excellent Navy School of Photography in Pensacola.

"Besides," and Down's brown eyes twinkled, "my daughter Dee-dee always had one advantage over the other children, that she really enjoyed. She could always tell her Daddy when it was time for him to go to bed. She rarely missed the opportunity," Hugh said with a chuckle, of saying "Daddy it's your bedtime, but I can still stay up for awhile."

Downs is an idealist about his work. His words should be a guide for everyone dealing with people and the news. We asked him how he managed to remain objective and never reveal his personal feelings when on the air.

"I am adamant on that point," he said with unusual seriousness. "I try never to interfere or force my own opinions on anyone. My total job is to see that a person tells his story, and tells it so that people can understand it. My goal is to see that the interviewer and the public have this opportunity."

"I am determined to keep out of it as long as I am on the air," he said.

Like so many people at the top in New York, Downs is a midwesterner, from Ohio. He admits that he still enjoys meeting celebrities.

"Aren't you ever tempted to wield any power," we asked. "You must realize what an opportunity you have." "No," he said, and then he smiled, "I always remember an old saying, 'Once the magician believes his own magic, the show is over.'"

Chabot-Cicciarelli Wed In Nuptial High Mass

Sandra Lee Chabot and William Cicciarelli exchanged vows recently in St. Robert Bellamines Catholic Church at a 10 a.m. nuptial High Mass. Father George Stromski officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chabot of Livonia and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cicciarelli of Livonia.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, wearing an "A" line gown of silk organza with re-embroidered alencon lace outlining her sweetheart neckline and front skirt and chapel train. Her bouffant illusion veil was held in place with a headpiece of silk organza petals trimmed with lily of the valley.

She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis, white baby carnations and tiny pink sweetheart roses.

The seven attendants wore identical floor length gowns of pale pink shantung trimmed with guypuri lace on the sleeves and hemlines. Their colonial bouquets were light and dark pink carnations.

Mrs. Marlene Tyre of Detroit was matron of honor and the junior bridesmaids were June and Marie Cicciarelli, sisters of the groom. The bridesmaids included Janet Frink of Rochester, Sue Hickley of Midland and Roberta Chabot and Patricia Chabot, cousins of the bride.

The flower girl was Karen Rodgers, cousin of the bride. She wore a long full gown of pale pink silk organza over taffeta. Her headpiece was a brown of tiny pink sweetheart roses. She carried a basket of pink carnations.

In the morning the bride's mother wore a turquoise blue crepe sheath with matching lace jacket and matching accessories. In the evening reception she wore an ice blue brocade floor length gown.

The groom's mother wore a yellow gold shantung suit with brown accessories. For the evening she wore a silver metallic floor length gown.

Joe Smith was best man, the ushers were Wayne Stevens, Christopher Chabot, Paul Villaire and Michael Vronick.

A wedding breakfast was held at Botsford Inn and an evening reception at Roma Hall with 300 guests attending.

For her going away ensemble, the bride chose a dark green Italian knit suit.

The newlyweds selected a honeymoon to the Northern Peninsula. Upon their return they will reside in Lansing where they will complete their senior year at Michigan State University. Bud is majoring in Math and Sandra in English.

CONCERNED with rising vandalisms, and loitering throughout suburbia, more than 40 municipal and school officials conferred last week to implement new Livonia ordinances designed to curb traffic violations and various forms of disorderly conduct. Leaders in the discussion were Dr. Don Friedrichs, Coordinator of secondary education in Livonia, Judge James McCann; Harry C. Tatigian; assistant city attorney and police lieutenant Robert E. Thorne.

YOUTH APPRECIATION will be shown by the Livonia Optimist Club as part of a World program of the club during Youth Appreciation Week Nov. 14-20. Optimists dedicate their time, money and efforts to betterment of youth. Their theme: "Every youth needs a man's helping hand in becoming a useful citizen in his community." Livonia Optimists will be distributing literature this week and posters patting youth on the back, according to their President Carl Howell, (above), who received a Youth Appreciation Week proclamation from Mayor Harvey Moelke.

A NEW VOICE has been added (very temporarily!) to Westland vocal teacher Dorothy Meadows' choral groups, (in the form of a huge bullfrog unfortunately!) Picked up near the school by Mrs. Meadows, the frog spent the day in the school lobby, on display for the nearly 600 Westland students who came by in class groups for a close-up look. The students now look forward to trips to the library for stories about frogs, to science lessons about amphibians, and to newly-motivated nature art work, while Mr. Frog probably looks forward to his return to his haunts in the "wilderness" of Bell Creek Park. From left: Joseph Sock, Kevin Kuitunen, Sally Ann Kean, Mrs. Meadows, and Myra Semonick.

Square Dancers Are Sought For Westland Adult Class

The Westland Parks and Recreation Department is seeking adult couples who would like to Square Dance to attend the two Square Dances being offered this month.

Caller, Ron Seim, has offered to call next Wednesday, November 16, at the Stottlemeyer School, 34801 Marquette at 8 p.m.

In cooperation with Betty Shearer, Social Director of the Three Fountains Towne House, Jim Martin has offered to call on Saturday, November 19, at 9 p.m. at the Three Fountain Club House, 34850 Fountain Blvd., Westland.

During the breaks between dances the callers will accept the names of all the dancers who would be interested in beginning square dance lessons or forming a square dance club. Plan to attend.

Reshuffling of Two Junior High Schedules

Students in the eighth and ninth grades, assigned to Whittier Junior High School will start on a three-quarter day Monday—a move by school officials to alleviate an overcrowded condition.

As the result of temporarily housing students who will be attending Lowell Junior High School (expected to be ready in February) there was an overlap at the noon hour with students and teachers packed into every nook and cranny available.

The students in the two classes who have been starting school at 7:30 a.m. and leaving at 2 p.m. will now leave at noon.

Class lengths will be reduced from 60 minutes to 45 and cafeteria for them will be discontinued.

The seventh grade Lowell students have been on this schedule since the beginning of the year.

Whittier is located in the southeast corner of the Livonia School District in Westland while Lowell is in the southwest section, also in Westland.

Dr. Paul E. Johnson, assistant superintendent in charge of instruction, advised the board of education in a report:

"During the past summer, when decisions were made regarding the combined schedules of Whittier and Lowell junior high schools, it was expected that the emergency arrangement would be for a relatively short time. This was particularly true in the case of housing arrangements for Lowell students during the overlapping period from 12:30 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

"Among the emergency arrangements were such placements of classes as the teachers' dining room, the special education room (with folding chairs stored for fifty students who also use the room for music instruction), a small conference room designed for use by two or three students and a teacher, the library, and other facilities totally inadequate for classroom instruction.

"In general, all specialized facilities and equipment such as library, audiovisual equipment, science materials, etc., are being shared by all eighth and ninth grade students from Whittier and all seventh and eighth grade students from Howell."

He said it was expected that the rooms in the new Whittier addition would re-

Teamsters Vying For Bus Drivers

By BILL GAIL

Attempts by the Brotherhood of Teamsters to obtain a representation vote by bus drivers and mechanics in the Livonia School District are running up bills, taking a lot of time on the part of school officials, and point up the problems in the state law which permit collective bargaining for public employees.

Business manager Ron Upton estimates that legal costs, including a special attorney, hired by the district, and the expense of transcripts of hearings will easily exceed $1,000.

School officials signed a contract this past summer with Local 118 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees but the Teamsters claim some 100 bus drivers and mechanics want a separate bargaining unit and want to be represented by the Teamsters.

Representing the school district is attorney Charles Keller while the Teamsters have brought in special talent from Milwaukee, labor attorney John Wilkinson.

Local Teamster organizers are Ida Pearson, a bus driver and Calvin Heard, a mechanic.

School officials spent two days at the State Labor Mediation Board at the end of last month, and had made at least five previous trips to the mediation board's office in downtown Detroit.

"It has been very time consuming," Upton said.

Both sides are now to prepare briefs on their position which are to be submitted to the mediation board by Dec. 1. Then the board will consider them, probably for another month Upton explained, and will then issue a ruling.

Chance to Get Measles Shots

The second series of immunization clinics sponsored by the Wayne County Department of Health will be held Nov. 16-19 at four sites in this area.

As at the October clinics, immunizations against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, polio and measles will be available.

Those children who did not receive measles vaccine on "End Measles Sunday" will be able to receive protection at this time.

Adults who have not been immunized for several years will also be able to improve their protection against these communicable diseases.

Clinic schedules are as follows:

Wednesday, Nov. 16, 5-9 p.m.: Thurston High School (Cafeteria), 26255 Schoolcraft, Redford.

Thursday, Nov. 17, 5-9 p.m.: Whitman Junior High School, 32306 W. Chicago, Livonia.

Friday, Nov. 18, 5-9 p.m.: Westland Shopping Center (Auditorium), 35000 West Warren.

Saturday, Nov. 19, 3-9 p.m.: Westland Shopping Center (Auditorium), 35000 West Warren.

All the clinics are being held from 5-9 p.m. except for the Saturday clinic, which is scheduled for 3-9 p.m.

Here Are Meals Guaranteed to Stretch Your Budget

By FAITH GILLESPIE

From now to New Year's, the happy cook can be in her glory.

The Thanksgiving feast can be her tour de force. The glamorous dishes that can be concocted with leftover turkey may prolong the pleasure of the thankful day.

The housewife's willing oven can become a veritable cornucopia of delightful bounty, as festive fruit cakes and golden loaves of holiday bread and countless fancy cookies come tumbling out. Beautiful!

There will be gay parties, gatherings of treasured friends and family, calling for appealing appetizers and elegant entrees and piquant punches and delectable desserts.

The foods that come with this season stretch the imagination in their variety and beauty and deliciousness. What joy. What challenge.

The other thing that gets stretched is the grocery budget, which is pretty tight already. Talk about challenge . . . it can be formidable, if not downright disastrous.

The painful truth is that the wife and/or mother can't feed her family for six weeks on marzipan. The string of days are glass beads separating the occasional precious gems that are the parties.

On the glass bead days, inexpensive main dishes ease the pinch. Use your ingenuity. Plain old hot dogs, can be sharpened up by stuffing them with cheese and broiling. That standard tuna casserole looks better and tastes better when toasty buttered bread crumbs are sprinkled on top. (You know that tuna casserole: a can of tuna, a bunch of cooked noodles, a can of mushroom soup, a half-can of milk, and maybe some minced onion, all stirred together and baked for half an hour at 350 degrees.)

Bean soup is a good supper, and you don't have to have a bone to do it . . . use salt pork instead and save money.

QUEEN BEAN SOUP (With Salt Pork)

Soak in water to cover overnight. Two cups dry navy beans. Next day, place beans and the soaking liquid in a large kettle with a big cut-up onion, a bay leaf, 1/4 pound diced salt pork, and a teaspoon of salt. Add about three quarts of water. Bring to a boil, and boil for a few minutes; then skim off the foam that comes to the top.

Reduce heat and simmer. And simmer. Simmer for three or four hours, till the beans are tender and it is supertime. Remove the bay leaf. Add more salt, if necessary, and a little pepper.

Serve with crackers and chunks of cheddar cheese, or plain processed cheese, which costs less. Add a gelatin salad made with lemon flavored gelatin, a can of well-drained crushed pineapple, and a cup of shredded carrots. It is a very satisfying meal.

If your family likes chili, this recipe is wonderful. My mother always made it doubled or tripled for guests on New Year's Day.

QUEEN OF HEARTS CHILI
Brown in a heavy pot: 3/4 pound hamburger and two medium cut-up onions. When the meat is brown and the onions are clear, add 1/4 cup flour and stir to brown in the meat.

Add one teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, and 1/2 teaspoon chili powder, or more, tomato paste, two tablespoons light molasses, and two quarts of water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, and simmer gently all day, stirring occasionally. The soup will thicken. If you like it very thick, let it cook down; if your family prefers it soupy, add hot water as necessary. You can make a lot, if you like it thin.

Half an hour before serving time, stir in a can of tomato soup and toss in a beef bouillon cube. Add more salt, to taste. If you can, make chili a day ahead, which improves the flavor. Maybe these recipes will activate your budgeting imagination. Otherwise, from now to New Year's can seem like From Here to Eternity.

Tanyea-Rahaim Wed At Nuptial Mass

At a nuptial mass in Saint Agatha's Church, on Oct. 15, Dianne Marie Tawyea became the bride of Joseph S. Rahaim. Rev. Father John T. Reid officiated at the ceremony and read the Papal Blessing bestowed on the couple.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne J. Tawyea, Herndonwood Drive, Farmington, was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory satin gown with Alencon lace appliques on the empire bodice and chapel train. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of lace accented with seed pearls and crystals. She carried white roses.

MRS. JOSEPH S. RAHAIM

Sandra Tawyea was her sister's honor attendant. The bridesmaids were Laurie Rahaim, the groom's sister, and Kathleen and Denise Tawyea, sisters of the bride. They wore emerald green velvet gowns with bell skirts and brocade ribbon trim. Their veils were caught by velvet bows.

The bridesmaids carried nosegays of white lace, pink sweetheart roses, and baby's breath. The maid of honor carried an arrangement of pink roses and carnations.

Rahaim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rahaim of Southfield. His brother, Samuel, stood as proxy best man for another brother, David, who is in the service. The ushers were Edward Tawyea, brother of the bride, Gerald Schell and Michael Brennan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tawyea chose an ensemble of mint green silk with matching accessories. Mrs. Rahaim, the bridegroom's mother, wore a powder blue crepe and lace jacket-dress. Both mothers wore white orchids.

When they return from a trip to upper Canada, the newlyweds will make their home in Detroit.

Use Guide To Control Food Costs

Do you shop with an eye for meat grades? Do you choose correct market size for your family, so you won't have a lot of waste?

If you shop for food by price alone, you may not be getting your money's worth. "Food Shoppers Guide," a Co-operative Extension Service publication is designed to help homemakers make well informed consumer decisions. "Food Shoppers Guide" is available free of charge from the Cooperative Extension Service.

Send a post card to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State University in East Lansing, 48823.

Mrs. Anita Dean, Extension food specialist, says that the wise food shopper compares food purchased on the basis of weight, quality and food value. A high food bill doesn't insure a well-nourished family.

In the recently revised publication, "Food Shoppers Guide", which she authored, Mrs. Dean offers information in making such comparisons.

She covers how to figure average size of servings and gives handy charts in comparing sizes of cans and frozen food containers. She explains federal government, packer and retailer meat grades and shows how they can help the consumer in choosing. She also gives guides for selecting poultry, fish, dairy products, breads and cereals, fruits and vegetables.

Regardless of prices on individual commodities, Mrs. Dean believes that the food shopper will get more for her money if she plans wisely before going to the store.

Then she should shop intelligently, comparing weight, quality and food value, as well as price. The next step in saving food costs is to store food carefully and prepare it correctly to avoid waste.

Medicine Chest Can Be Menace

Your medicine chest is a potential killer of curious children and careless adults.

The array of pretty bottles and pills can be irresistible to children. More than a fourth of the persons killed by accidental poisoning each year in the United States are under five years of age, according to the National Safety Council.

A cluttered cabinet, the Council warns, can lead to adult booby traps — picking up the wrong bottle, using out-of-date prescriptions or unlabeled medicine.

To prevent your family from becoming statistics, the Greater Detroit Safety Council, a chapter of the NSC, offers a few simple precautions:

Keep all drugs and medicines far out of reach of children, even if it means a separate, locked cabinet.

Label all containers and mark prescriptions with the date of issue, the dosage, and the patient's name.

Do not keep cleaners or any other toxic chemicals in any place accessible to children.

Get rid of all old, unlabeled or discolored medicine by pouring it down the drain — never by throwing the bottles in the wastebasket where youngsters might find them.

Before administering any drug, read the label in a good light.

Paste the day and night phone numbers of your doctor, druggist and any local poison control center to the wall of the cabinet.

When known poisons, such as iodine or alcohol, are necessary, treat them so they'll be recognizable even in a dark room. Tape the cap shut; glue on sandpaper, rough side out; or stick a sharp pin through the stopper.

With the above points in mind — check your medicine chest at least twice a year, making sure all dangerous drugs are out and all needed materials are at hand.

Area Lutherans in Rally

Professor B. W. Teigen, President of Bethany Lutheran College in Mankato, Minnesota, was the guest speaker for the annual Lutheran Reformation Rally held in St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Plymouth.

The service, which featured a large mass chorus and a choir composed of children from several Lutheran schools in the area, was held recently.

The mass chorus was conducted by Conrad Schubach, the choral director at St. Peter's Church. The Rev. Robert P. Mueller, pastor of Peace Lutheran Church in Livonia, directed the children's voices. Miss Carolyn Smart, guest organizer from St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Livonia, presented several selections in keeping with the Reformation theme.

In his address, Professor Teigen indicated that he will use the same approach that the famous Protestant Reformer, Dr. Martin Luther, used 449 years ago when he urged his hearers to stand fast in the pure doctrines of God's holy word. The college president based his message on II Thessalonians 2:13-17. The Rev. K. F. Koepf, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church in Tecumseh served as liturgist for the service.

Assisting in the arrangements for the rally were the Rev. W. Koepf, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Livonia, the Rev. Edward Zell, pastor of Lola Park Lutheran Church in Redford and Pastor Mueller. Lay leaders who served as deacons and ushers for the service are Marvin Webber of Plymouth, Arthur Jackson of Livonia, Emmett Weyer of Redford, Terry Hebron of Wayne, George Hammon of Belleville and Oscar Bryan of Tecumseh.

Several ladies organizations from St. John's Lutheran, Salem Lutheran and Darlington Lutheran Churches of Ann Arbor served as hosts at a brief fellowship hour in the basement of St. Peter's Church, following the service.

the power to heal

Spiritual healing comes through understanding that all "power becometh unto God" (Psalm 62), that He is the Soul of man, the cause of all being and the source of harmony. This understanding can restore health on a sound spiritual basis. It can be gained through deep prayer and study and is available to all. "Mortals and Immortals" To Be Science Sermon Nov. 13

The Apostle Paul's declaration, "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you," is the Golden Text of this week's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled "Mortals and Immortals." The lesson will be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

Related readings from the denominational text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"The manifestation of God through mortals is as light passing through the window-pane. The light and the glass never mingle, but as matter, the glass is less opaque than the walls. The mortal mind through which Truth appears most vividly is that one which has lost much materiality—much error—in order to become a better transparency for Truth. Then, like a cloud melting into thin vapor, it no longer hides the sun."

THESE ARE THE PLANS for the new building of the St. Timothy Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

Presbyterian Church Group Approves Plans for Building

Members of St. Timothy Presbyterian Church have plans for their Church building.

Construction of the first units (shown above) is scheduled to begin after the first of the year. It consists of a temporary sanctuary, six classrooms, and office space.

The building was designed by the architectural firm of Merritt, Cole, and McCallum, as an integral part of a much larger building complex. The members engaged in an extensive study of their immediate and long-range building needs before they selected an architect.

The Church will be located on Newburgh Road just south of Six Mile Rd. At present, the congregation conducts its services at 10 a.m. each Sunday in the Herbert Hoover Elementary School, Levan Road at Ladywood.

Wrist length white gloves and pale blue shoes completed their ensembles, and they carried bouquets of pale pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a dinner reception for 200 guests was held in the church Fellowship Hall.

Following the dinner, a champagne reception was held at the home of the bride.

The couple then left for a honeymoon trip which included a visit to Niagara Falls and a stop off at Norfolk, Virginia, to visit the bride's brother, Navy Machine repairman Arthur H. Sinjen Jr., who was married to Ann Margaret Harris on August 20. They will continue on to Florida, and upon their return will take up residence in Livonia.

MRS. DANIEL KAZUP

Laymen Attend Lecture Nov. 15

Interested laymen are urged to attend the discussion "The School Crisis in Michigan" on Nov. 15 at Central Methodist Church. The leader will be Rev. C. S. Lowell, editor of Church and State Review.

Three Livonia Couples Celebrate 25th Anniversary
October 18 is a date long remembered by relatives, friends and neighbors of three Greenwich Pointe, Livonia couples. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Mario De Capite, Mr. and Mrs. James Cerretani, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Soucie. The three couples were wed on the same day 25 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cerretani were honored at a surprise party, given by their son and daughter-in-law, on Oct. 16. The best man and maid of honor were both present.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario De Capite were honored at a surprise party, given by their many friends and neighbors. Both Mario's and Stella's mother came from Cleveland to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Soucie were pleasantly surprised with a party on Oct. 22. It was attended by 90 people. Several relatives drove from Illinois to attend.

Martin S. Hayden, Editor To Speak at Redford Church

Martin S. Hayden, Editor of The Detroit News, will be the guest speaker at the Redford Baptist Church Sunday, Nov. 13, at 6:00 p.m. The subject of Mr. Hayden's lecture will be "The Mission of the Church in the World Today." This is one of a series of lectures at the Redford Baptist Church by prominent community leaders.

MARTIN S. HAYDEN

Hayden, a graduate of the University of Michigan, was appointed editor of The Detroit News in 1959. He came to the position of editor with a varied background in journalism, including sports writer, political reporter, Washington correspondent, foreign correspondent and associate editor. In addition to his important position in journalism, Mr. Hayden gives leadership to a number of cultural and educational organizations in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

Following the Sunday evening lecture by Mr. Hayden, there will be an informal question and answer session to which the public is invited.

At the Sunday morning worship services at 9:00 and 11:15 a.m. the pastor, Dr. Gordon H. Schroeder, will speak on the subject "The Church's Savior." The Redford Baptist Church is located at Grand River and Seven Mile Road.

A Memorial Fund has been formally set up in the name of Mrs. Jeanette Finkelstein, whose untimely death has left her family and many friends stunned. Jeanette, her husband Stanley, and their three children, Allen, Debbie, and Rhonda moved to Texas approximately seven weeks ago because of the bad effects that asthma attacks were having on her health.

On Friday, Oct. 28, word reached ex-neighbors in the Hearthstone Subdivision, Livonia, that Jeanette had passed away from a cerebral hemorrhage. Just two months ago the Livonia Jewish Congregation held a Friday night service and Oneg Shabbat in their honor. They were presented with a special book of prayers for a keepsake.

Stanley is a past president of the Congregation and a member of their Religious Committee. Jeanette was a very active member of the L. J. C. Sisterhood. She possessed a lovely singing voice and held great interest in their dramatic skills. She served for several years, until they moved, as a substitute teacher for the L. J. C. Sunday School as well as the Livonia Public School.

This fund in Jeanette's name will be used to purchase a symbolic item much needed for the Synagogue. Donations may be sent to the Livonia Jewish Congregation, in care of the Jeanette Finkelstein Memorial Fund, 29475 W. Six Mile Rd.

Farmington Ladies Search For Outstanding Woman
Do you know a woman between the ages of 21 and 36 who has given outstanding service to the community? If so, the Farmington Jaycee Auxiliary is looking. The auxiliary will present an Outstanding Young Woman Award to a qualified woman in the greater Farmington community.

Letters have been mailed to various organizations in the Farmington area asking for nominations for the award. Deadline for nominations is Nov. 30 and they may be made by anyone. For additional information contact project chairman Mrs. Roger Lancina (phone 476-8128).

Robert St. John to Speak At Livonia Town Hall Nov. 16

For more than 20 years Robert St. John has been roaming the world interviewing kings, presidents, prime ministers, sultans, sheiks, and other headline figures. He will discuss half a dozen personalities currently in the news, telling stories of their philosophy, their politics and their peculiarities; discussing their attitudes toward the United States, toward democracy, and toward their neighbors. This is the second lecture in the 1966-67 series presented by Livonia Town Hall and St. John will tell about world travels and important persons. Dr. Benton Yates, Superintendent of Livonia Schools will introduce St. John.

Luncheon reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Norbert Dittmar at GA 7-7213 by the Friday before the lecture. Luncheon is served in the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. Tickets for out of town guests are available at the door for $3 if purchased by a season ticket holder. Tickets for the remaining three lectures are now $6.50.

READYING HER PAINTINGS for the Nov. 14 through Nov. 19, is Joyce John, Fashion and Art Show at the Pontiac Mall, artist from Redford.

Area Artists Exhibit At Fashion and Art Show

An entirely new idea is being presented, that of a Fashion and Art Show coordinated. Many local artists, as well as others from several states and the metropolitan areas will be participating. This idea originated with Betty Baldwin, Director of The Artist's Showplace Agency.

Betty Baldwin will introduce the artists and give a brief description of the paintings. This new innovation is expected to draw large crowds to the Pontiac Mall on Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Roads, starting Nov. 14 through Nov. 19. Barbara Pierson will be present with early American wood plaques, then Cecile Schaad with decoupage, bags and boxes and Dorothy Mortlock from Detroit with handmade jewelry, to name only a few who will participate in the Fashion and Art Show at the Pontiac Mall starting next Monday, open from 9:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

"Women of Kendallwood Farms" Expand Into "Women of North Farmington"

The Women of Kendallwood Farms voted for a change of name last month. They will be known as the Women of North Farmington. This group started in 1957 as a newcomers club, then grew to become in 1959 "The Women of Kendallwood Farms," and now in 1966 is expanding and progressing beyond its present boundaries to embrace all of the North Farmington area. Call Nancy Dhue, membership chairman at GR 6-1212 if you want to become a Woman of North Farmington. On Nov. 16 there will be the opportunity to spend an afternoon that will afford a most unusual experience, a tour of the kitchens of the Consumers Power Co. There will be an inspection of equipment, storage arrangements, and time saving devices. There will then be a demonstration on preparing and serving a buffet for group entertaining. After the demonstration, the prepared dishes will be given away as door prizes. Reservations must be in by Nov. 11. If you need a ride, or have not called in a reservation call Joyce Gregory at 476-3763 or Barbara Justice at 476-1250.
