Goodfellows Sell Newspapers Saturday

Come rain, snow, sleet or hail, the Plymouth Goodfellows will be on the job Saturday from 7 a.m. until dark in the annual newspaper sale to raise funds and uphold the motto of "No Child Without a Christmas in the Plymouth Community."

It will be the 28th newspaper sale in Plymouth and never yet have the Goodfellows and Old Newsboys failed to provide a Christmas for those underprivileged youngsters to whom they have been referred.

Shortly after the first of December, members of the Goodfellows Club executive committee contact school officials and especially the school nurses to get names of needy youngsters.

The names are then checked back with all other organizations, who hand out Christmas baskets and gifts, and from the final check comes the list that will be the recipients of Goodfellow gifts.

The Club has a goal of 50 youngsters this year and hopes to have that many names well in advance of Christmas eve.

Under the direction of President John Kerciu and Treasurer Paul Sanders, the Goodfellows will meet at the Ellis Restaurant for coffee and doughnuts before starting the newspaper selling campaign.

The newspapers will be distributed from the City Hall fire station and the Goodfellows will alternate at the fire station for additional papers to Ellis for additional coffee, should it turn out to be one of those cold days.

Kerciu and Sanders are looking for more than 50 to take their turns at selling newspapers throughout the morning and afternoon.

The Goodfellows include community civic and business leaders, members of the City and Township fire departments and the City of Plymouth Police and Department of Public Works departments, auto dealers, veteran downtown and fringe area merchants and political leaders. They have been meeting regularly since Nov. 1 and each is anxious to make the 1966 campaign the largest in history.

"We believe the need will be greater this year than in the past," said Kerciu and Sanders. "thus we hope to raise as much as $2,500 so that we can adequately take care of every legitimate request."

The Goodfellows aim to make sure "No Child in the Plymouth Community will go without Christmas this year." They can do it with the help of residents who buy the newspapers. Remember the price of the paper is your contribution to one of the most worthy campaigns of the entire year.

Be a Goodfellow and help the Goodfellows provide Christmas for every needy child. Buy a newspaper when you are asked Saturday or make a special trip to one of the Goodfellows and make your contribution.

AND NOW SONNY? This was the scene as Santa Claus listened to three-year-old Roger Norris, of 225 Fair, explain what he wanted for himself and his tiny sister. He was one of the more than 250 in line when Santa arrived Saturday at Kellogg Park.

Santa Gets Hot Welcome On Cold Day

It was a bitter cold, dark, sullen day Saturday in Plymouth when suddenly the sun broke through the clouds, the whir of a helicopter motor was heard over the downtown section and then a loud "Ho, Ho, Ho" was heard as the copter suddenly dropped on Main Street in front of Kellogg Park and a gay old gentleman in a red suit with white whiskers and a big smile stepped out.

One didn't have to tell the hundreds of youngsters gathered around the curbs and in the park who it was—cries of "Santa, Santa Claus, he's here" echoed and re-echoed through Kellogg Park and the parents knew that Old Kris Kringle had arrived for his annual pre-Christmas visit in Plymouth.

He was greeted by Wally Loucks, head of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Division; Plymouth Township Supervisor John McEwen and City Manager Richard Blodgett.

But Santa wasn't interested in greetings, he was interested in checking into his Red Santa House in the center of the Park to begin his annual questioning of the youngsters.

"Now, what do you want?"

"A sled, bicycle and a pair of ice skates!"

"Well, you just be a good boy and do what your parents tell you and we'll see what we can do about this little matter of gifts. Remember, be a good boy and mind your Mother and Dad."

That's the way it went throughout the remainder of

OUT OF helicopter steps Santa as he lands on Main Street in front of Kellogg Park to the delight of hundreds of youngsters lining the curbs.

BROTHER AND SISTER join in telling Santa what they'd like to have under their Christmas tree. Susan Farwell, 4, and Gary, 2, of 14426 Robinwood Drive, in the Lake Pointe subdivision, weren't a bit bashful in letting their needs be known.

City Commission Tosses Liquor Permit Issue to City Manager

It may be for better and it may be for worse but the fact remains that the Plymouth City Commission has finally decided it should turn over more power to the city administration.

One of the biggest stumbling blocks in recent months has been that the City Commissioners refused to give City Manager Richard Blodgett and his aides the right to do things for which all are being well paid.

It hasn't made sense for a long time that the Commission should hire a City Manager, who is the head of the city administration and in charge of all departments, and then refuse to follow his recommendations without lengthy discussions and equally as long study.

For a time it appeared as if the City Manager's recommendations would go by the wayside in Monday's meeting but — finally — some of the Commissioners decided the City of Plymouth has a City Manager and it's about time he was recognized as such.

Thus, when Blodgett recommended that a yield sign be placed at the intersection of McKinley and Maple Streets instead of a stop sign, the Commission decided to go along with his recommendation.

Not all the way, but at least Commissioner James McKeon, one of the biggest objectors to a yield sign, moved that the Commission go along with Blodgett's recommendation for a yield sign but that he report back in 60 days on the effect.

McKeon opposed the yield sign after the Commission received a petition signed by eight homeowners in the area, asking for the installation of a stop sign at the intersection of Maple and McKinley.

Phil Johnson Named Head of PEA Group

Philip Johnson, director of vocational and occupational education at Plymouth High, is the new president of the Plymouth Education Association.

Ray Homer, of the senior high who headed the committee in the successful negotiation of the first master contract with the Plymouth Board of Education, was named president-elect.

Others selected at the special election last week include: Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Betsy Gibson Comiskey of Junior High West; Vice President William Drudge, Junior High West; Recording Secretary Mrs. Margaret Baude, Junior High East; Treasurer Robert Southgate, Plymouth High; Delegate to Region Council, Mrs. Joan Hayskar and Robert McGregor, both of Junior High East; Alternate to Represent at Assemblies, Adina Rice, Farrand School; and Chief Negotiator, Thomas Cavanaugh, Junior High West.

The petition was presented by Mr. and Mrs. William Birge and carried the signatures of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer, Mrs. James Houk, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andres, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kosin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baude and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phelan. The group complained about the present condition on the basis of the many near accidents at the intersection and the fact that 19 children from the area attend the Bird School and many others who attend Junior High West use the intersection.

The commission also agreed to go along with the City Manager's recommendation for the low bids on a van truck and a two-ton dump truck. The van was awarded to Hassinger Chevrolet on a bid of $2,174 and the two-ton to West Brothers on a bid of $3,638.

The Commission tossed the question of liquor-by-the-glass applications into the lap of the administration after receiving an application from Herman and Rose Halprin, one of the three present holders of beer-wine permits.

It was the opinion of the Commissioners that the applicants should be screened in the same manner as any new applicant and the final re-

Northville Homeowners Feel Sting of Big Tax Increase

Property owners in Plymouth Township aren't the only ones in the area to get hit by a huge hike in the tax rate. It was announced recently that Township taxpayers will pay 30 per cent more in the new tax bills than a year ago.

From Northville comes word that winter taxes will take a substantial jump in both the City and Township.

The increase will be up 33 per cent in the Northville school district portion of the Township, 11 per cent in the Plymouth school district section of the Township, 33 per cent in the Wayne County portion of the City of Northville and 23 per cent in the Oakland County section.

Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam explained that the greatest part of the total increase is a result of increased school millage, with a lesser part due to an increase in state equalization.

Merriam noted that the county's equalized millage for the Northville school district increased from 30.57 last year to 42.41 this year, the county up from 9.27 to 10.02, and the community college from 1.18 to 2.28. In the Plymouth district portion of Northville township, equalized school millage is up from 31.81 to 34.74.

The total equalized millage of the Northville school district portion of the township is up from 42.20 to 55.59, and in the Plymouth district from 43.44 to 48.82.

Assessed valuation of property within the Northville school district portion of the township, Merriam said, increased from $12,019,860 to $12,209,130. In the Plymouth district, it decreased from $1,324,250 to $1,322,490. The overall increase is $187,510.

Yule Season Time To Guard Against Consumer Frauds

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law, individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

The holiday spirit puts people in a friendly and receptive mood, and that's wonderful.

But the Christmas season is not the time to lower our guard against consumer frauds. As a matter of fact, it is precisely now when the slick operator makes his maximum efforts to cheat the consumer out of his hard-earned dollars. This is the time when large purchases are made for improvement of the home.

The fraudulent salesman is usually a pretty good amateur psychologist. He knows that the holiday period puts people in a warm and trusting mood so he capitalizes on this fact and often leaves his victim stunned and unhappy for a long time to come.

A family holiday can be a lot happier and much less costly if we remember just a few common sense rules when buying products or services:

1. Whenever possible deal with established local merchants or with salesmen of established organizations.

2. When dealing with a new company, check with your Chamber of Commerce, Better Business Bureau, or the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office to determine if there are any consumer complaints outstanding.

3. Don't sign anything in blank and carefully read anything you do sign. If the deal is complicated, check with your lawyers; if it is costly, check with your financial advisor also.

4. If you are buying anything on installments, figure out exactly what your total cost will be when you finish making your payments.

5. When possible, delay your decision on making a major purchase or signing up for a costly service for 24 hours to give you an opportunity to check competitors for price and friends for experience.

6. Above all, use your common sense; it is the best weapon a consumer has.

If all else fails and you do get taken, notify your prosecuting attorney, Chamber of Commerce, Better Business Bureau, or this office as soon as possible.

Remember there is a Santa Claus, but only one, and he wears a red and white suit.

220 Receive State Aid on LIT Campus

A report by the Lawrence Institute of Technology reveals that for the 1966-67 school year 220 freshmen received an average of $330 each under the State of Michigan tuition grants program for students of private colleges.

Application forms for the 1967-68 participation in the program have been mailed by the State Department of Education to Michigan high schools and eligible colleges.

The deadline for filing applications has been set for Jan. 15.

A high school senior expecting to enter a Michigan private college in September, 1967 must apply to the State for the grant by the Jan. 15 deadline but needs only to indicate on the application the college he or she expects to attend. The student may register in the college at a later date.

In 1967 the law expands to include college sophomores as well as freshmen.

The tuition grants are given on the basis of effective family income, taking into account the number of children in the family and other factors.

Amounts range from a maximum of $500 per year for students from families with effective income of $2,000 or less to $100 for those from families with effective incomes of $9,000 to $10,000.

Grout Cleaner Isn't a Myth; It's For Sale

Were you one of the hundreds of Observer Newspaper readers who read the story on the Home Improvement pages a week ago about a new ceramic tile cleaner that comes in paste form and won't discolor porcelain enamel?

Were you one of the hundreds that called the various Observer Newspapers to get the name of the product and learn where it could be purchased?

Well, your worries are over now if you are still looking for the product. The Observer has learned that it is known as My-Ro and is available at the Livonia Hardware, Five Mile at Farmington Road in Livonia.

The head over the story was innocent enough. All it said was "New Paste Finally Found To Clean Grout in Tile." Apparently that was all that was needed for the switchboards of all six Observer Newspapers were flooded with calls Wednesday evening and all day Thursday and Friday from interested buyers.

"Where can we buy that new cleaner?" was the question.

It took a few hours to find the Home Improvement editor and it took him a few more hours to definitely locate the product.

It is available at the Livonia Hardware, according to Owner-Manager Al Margolin, who indicated he already had sold out one order, another was well on the way to a sellout and he had additional orders slated for delivery by Wednesday evening.

The Observer Newspaper management has always told advertisers of the value of the Observer Newspapers. The requests and calls for the grout cleaner have proved the point—it does pay to advertise in the Observer, the readership proves that in a hurry.

Federal Agents Nab Five for Grid Pool Sales

Five persons from Livonia, Garden City and Westland were charged by federal officials following a week-end raid of what was described as a $50,000 per week football betting pool.

Charged with the felony of evasion of the wagering excise tax were Livonia's Ivan J. MacDonald, 34, of 15614 Loveland; William M. Smith, 43, of 29133 Meadowlark, and Melvin Bevan, 48, of 8948 Denne; Westland's Harold Murphy, 31, of 32541 Bertam; and Garden City's Jack H. Morrison, 30, of 6610 Golfview.

Robert Grace, chief of the criminal division of the Detroit U.S. Attorney's office, said that each charge carries a fine of $10,000 and/or a prison term of ten years. All five will be arraigned following the issuing of the indictments.

The arrests were made among 30 made at 37 locations in the metropolitan Detroit area Saturday. They

Three Face Charges of Misusing Public Funds

Query GC Officials Tuesday

Three former Garden City municipal officials are scheduled to have their preliminary examination open next Tuesday morning on charges that they misused public funds in the 1961 purchase of the present Civic Center property.

The examination, to hear the charges issued in a warrant by Wayne County Grand Juror George E. Bowles Oct. 27, will hear the prosecution's case against Edwin J. Freeh, Jr., former city clerk-treasurer who was mayor until his defeat at the Nov. 8 election; Eugene Salvatore, former city councilman; and Evan Callanan, former city attorney.

To hold the examination on the charges will be Wayne Municipal Judge John Seiler.

At the time of the issuance of the warrants, Freeh, then up for re-election to a second term as mayor, claimed that the issue was political and aimed to hurt his chances in the Nov. 8 elections.

The point is now academic as he lost to challenger Timothy J. Murphy by more than 1,900 votes. Murphy based his campaign on "honesty, ethics, and integrity in government."

At the time of the arraignment, Freeh and his attorney, S. Allen Early of Detroit, asked for an examination as soon as possible so it could be finished by election day.

But Leo Maki, picked by Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley to handle the prosecution, said that he plans to call about 15 witnesses to present his side of the case.

All three co-defendants stood mute at their arraignments and Judge Seiler entered not guilty pleas for them.

At the time of the 1961 purchase of the Civic Center land on Middlebelt Road, several blocks north of Ford Rd. The City Council, with Mayor Charles Lowe objecting, bought the three parcels of land from realtor William New, now retired.

The owners of the land were Dr. William Kerns and Frank Crocker, who sold the land to Mrs. New the same day the property was transferred from the News to the city.

Although the city was originally offered the three parcels for $50,500 in late 1960, the City Council paid $83,160 for the land.

Freeh maintained that he was only following the City Council's orders in the matter and stressed that he came to Garden City as Clerk-Treasurer just a few months before the land purchase.

The warrants against the three former Garden City officials are the only charges issued so far by the grand juror.

Plymouth Man Convicted Of Fleeing Fatal Crash

Sentencing of a 22-year-old Plymouth man, convicted last week of leaving the scene of a fatal injury accident, will take place Jan. 12 in the court of Circuit Judge Victor J. Baum.

The jurist declared the guilt of Joseph P. Handzlik of 646 Kellogg last week after hearing four days of testimony.

Handzlik was charged with fatally striking a 40-year-old Redford Township resident Feb. 11 and failing to stop.

Four Redford teenagers told officers a car driven by Handzlik, passed them at a high rate of speed and struck the victim, Miss Cleo R. Brandt, at the intersection of Plymouth Road and Levee St.

After a three-mile chase they lost sight of the car but in the meanwhile obtained the license number.

Plymouth police heard the description on their radio and picked Handzlik up at his residence 35 minutes after the crash occurred.

Handzlik stood mute when arraigned. He told officers he had been shopping but made no other statements.

Redford Detective Joseph Carlton, who conducted part of the investigation, had high praise Monday for three of the 16-year-old boys and a 19-year-old Livonia youth who testified.

He declined to reveal the younger boys' names, "because their parents had requested that he not do so," but described how Frank Selinski of 18236 Doris St., Livonia, had been driving another car behind Handzlik and had helped with his testimony.

Carlton said Patrolman John Brody played a big part in the conviction with his initial investigation.

"Another key witness was Dr. Edgar W. Kivela of the Michigan Department of Health Crime Laboratory," Carlton said. "He testified about paint found on the victim's coat and on the car."

Handzlik, represented by attorney Alan Walt, is free on bond of $500. The crime for which he has been convicted carries a sentence of from one to five years and/or a fine of from $100 to $5,000.

Tosses Ticket Away, Fined For Littering

An angry motorist, who threw a speeding ticket from his car, paid $38.50 last week in Livonia Municipal Court for littering.

Earlier in the year, the driver, John L. Garrett, 21, of 9018 Hugh St., Livonia, paid $10 for exceeding the posted speed limit of 40 miles per hour by 10 miles per hour.

When Garrett was handed the speeding ticket by the officer he refused to accept it. After the officer placed it on the car seat, he picked it up, threw it on the ground, and drove away.

The officer retrieved the ticket, wrote up a summons for violating the city's littering ordinance and mailed it to Garrett.

Buback, Bommarito Cases Near Court

A speedy start in the criminal trial proceedings involving Wayne County Sheriff Peter L. Buback and Under-Sheriff James Bommarito is expected after Circuit Judge Thomas P. Murphy gave the state prosecuting attorney a two-week deadline to file the official charges.

The Circuit Court trial for Buback and Bommarito has been pending the start and conclusion of the hearing to be held in Macomb County Probate Court for the sheriff's removal from office.

Both cases came out of the Nankin Township traffic ticket fixing case which triggered the formation of a one man grand jury. Grand Juror Edward S. Piggins issued the indictments charging the two men with willful neglect of duty.

Last week, Assistant Attorney General Robert C. Goussy was told by Judge Murphy to file the official charges on Buback and Bommarito or else he will dismiss the charges.

When Goussy commented that he was awaiting the outcome of the removal hearing, Judge Murphy replied that a man charged with a crime is entitled to a speedy trial.

The preliminary examination on the charges made by Grand Juror Piggins was completed in Grosse Pointe Municipal Court last Aug. 15.

Goussy also said that only the Court of Appeals, not the Circuit Court, can direct a state official to take action.

The removal hearing against Buback was to start tomorrow, Thursday, in the Macomb County Probate Court.

Buback and Bommarito won't be arraigned in Circuit Court until the required formal charges are filed.

Schoolcraft to Offer Concrete Tech Course

A course in concrete technology, aimed at men working in the concrete industry and the building construction field, will be offered by Schoolcraft College in the winter semester, starting Jan. 3.

Called Principles of Concrete and designated as Architecture 101, the course will be offered in the Evening College only and will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. on Mondays in the Vocational-Technical Building. It will carry two college credit hours, according to Fred Stefanski, Evening College director.

Through classroom lectures, demonstrations and field trips, the course will deal with development, composition, properties and applications of concrete, and will offer instruction in concrete testing, mixing, placing, finishing, and curing.

It was developed in cooperation with the Portland Cement Assn., whose staff prepared instructional material to be used.

Persons planning to enroll may register in person on either Jan. 3 or 4, or by mail prior to those dates. The first class period will be Monday, Jan. 9.

Enrollment fee is $8.50 per hour for residents of the college district, $12.50 per hour for non-residents. A non-refundable $10 registration fee is charged to those students enrolling at Schoolcraft for the first time.

Information may be had by calling Jon Adams, dean of technical-vocational instruction; or Joseph Borgen, assistant to the dean, at the college, phone 591-6400.

Follow These Points For Holiday Safety

Robert F. Deadman, the City of Farmington's Fire Chief, has issued a five-point check list for fire safety during the holidays. The check list includes:

- When selecting a Christmas tree, choose a fresh one. Saw it off, at a sharp angle, at least an inch above the original cut and stand the tree in water from the time you buy it until you dispose of it. Don't rely on do-it-yourself "flameproofing" treatments and place the tree well away from radiators and fireplaces and locate it out of the escape path in case of fire.

"If you choose an artificial tree," Deadman commented, "be sure it is marked as being made of slow-burning materials. If it has a built-in lighting system, it should carry the Underwriter's Laboratories (UL) label. Metal trees will conduct electricity so use only indirect lighting; strings of lights on a metal tree can create a dangerous shock hazard."

- Decorative lighting requires the utmost care. Before using, check strings of lights for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Never use wax candles on or near the tree, or with polystyrene from candle holders or decorations. Turn off all tree and other holiday lighting before leaving the house or retiring. For outdoor lighting, use only sets listed for outdoor use by the Underwriter's Laboratories.

- Use noncombustible decorating materials — metal, glass, asbestos, etc.—as often as possible. If materials which burn easily cannot be avoided—such as cotton batting, flock and paper — be sure that they receive "flameproof" treatment.

- Dispose of gift wrappings promptly and safely. Never try to burn them in an indoor fireplace.

- Be extra careful about smoking near the tree and other decorations. Most important of all, plan in advance the escape measures and exit routes needed for the fire safety of your family in case fire should strike.

Hit-run Driver Sought by Police In Westland

Westland policemen are looking for a hit-run driver who struck another car last week after he shouted to the owner that he didn't have insurance.

Charlene Cochran, 20, of Taylor, told police that while waiting at a red light at Inkster and Van Born Roads, a 1951 Ford pick-up truck had backed out of a parking space and struck the left side of her auto.

The driver leaned out of the window and said that he didn't have insurance. He then drove off.

Memories of 25 Years Ago

This week marks the silver anniversary of Pearl Harbor and the passing years have done little to erase the memory of that horrible act of the Japanese in the far off Pacific that broke the peace and quiet of a Sunday afternoon.

Years ago, they stated that the shot fired by the Minute Men at Lexington and Concord that launched the Revolutionary War was "The Shot Heard Round The World," but it was nothing compared to the bomb that fell across the United States telling us that our once proud Navy was lying in shambles in the harbor close by Honolulu.

Pearl Harbor!

Just mention of the name—even today—is enough to stir the patriotic blood of an American, regardless of how far he might have been from the scene on that fateful day.

But to visit there—and get the story first-hand is an experience one never could forget.

We were seated on a U.S. Navy boat in the Harbor several years ago and had the privilege of listening to a young sailor reveal the happenings of that fateful day. He told us of the sneakiness of the Japs, hiding in the hills overlooking the harbor. And he pointed toward the not too distant hills, the chills raced up and down one's spine.

He told us of the careful plans laid by the Japs and how the attack really took Uncle Sam's sailors by surprise. Then, we headed out into the Harbor—Pearl Harbor—to live those moments of destruction.

First, we came to the Battleship USS Utah, its giant hull still sticking out of the water. The young sailor looked at us and then at the sunken hull and remarked,

"Had this happened just a bit later, it is possible that the hull would have sunk in the mouth of the harbor and would have resulted in much greater losses."

We had much the same feeling when we came to the scene where the USS Arizona went down with 1102 boys aboard.

There, in the bright Hawaiian sun and the blue waters of the Harbor, it seemed almost like a dream. The sunken hull is only a short distance from shore and one was forced to ask, "Why couldn't they have raced for shore?"

The young sailor looked straight ahead as he answered:

"One never leaves his ship, sir, and furthermore the bomb went down the stack. They never had a chance."

Later on, one of our guides on a trip around the island explained that he, too, would never forget Pearl Harbor.

"I was one of the men assigned to go down and try to rescue some of the boys in the ship," he said, "and those moments still cause me to just about freeze in my tracks—even on the hottest day."

"We could hear the cries of those young sailors trapped in the sunken hull, and we could hear them hammering away on the steel sides."

Then he added, almost tearfully, "But there was nothing we could do for them. We had to leave them there to die."

He hesitated a moment or two, then shaking his head in almost disbelief after all these years he said:

"The smell of burning flesh and the cries of those dying young sailors will haunt me all the days of my life."

That's Pearl Harbor—and even the erection of a national monument on the deck of the USS Arizona, won't take away the memory of the smell or the cries.

And, during this week of the silver anniversary the words of President Roosevelt are still true when he told the Congress:

"This Day will live in infamy."

Letters to the Editor:

Let's Face Facts on Millage

Editor:

I support the millage request of the Wayne School Board as the only realistic approach to our present school finance crisis.

Our community must continue to support good schools if it is to make progress in attracting new business and to keep desirable citizens who are helping to build a better community. If our educational standards are reduced, this cannot help but adversely affect property values and the "image" of our community.

Investment in education is the best long range investment that we can ever make. It comes back to us many times in increased earning power for our children and in a more attractive community.

Some have said that we should wait for fiscal "reform" at the state level in the vain hope that this will result in more state aid to education and lower total taxes. I say that this is a vain hope and people who believe this only delude themselves. First of all, there is very little evidence that fiscal reform can be achieved in time to help in the next fiscal year. Furthermore, the cold facts are that the average taxpayer will pay more, not less, in a general tax revision, because the financial requirements for education and other necessary public purposes will not decrease with a growing population and the demands of a complex society growing more complex every day. It is generally accepted that the next fiscal year now has a $100 million deficit and cannot be balanced without substantial new taxes, even on the basis of simply continuing present spending levels.

Those of us who believe strongly in the necessity of quality education under local control with a minimum of state and federal control have an opportunity to demonstrate our beliefs at the ballot box on Dec. 19th, by voting "yes" on the school millage question. Another rejection of the millage will result in half day education for our children. It is unrealistic to expect substantial help from the State unless we are prepared to pay higher State taxes, with a corresponding decrease in local control.

JOHN R. RYAN

Editor:

On behalf of the Farmington Democratic Club and its candidates for Township offices, let me express thanks to this newspaper for the coverage you have given our activities and our proposals for solving major community problems.

At the same time we wish to congratulate the electorate in turning out in such large numbers to participate in the recent elections. We accept the decision of the voters and extend our wishes for a successful administration to the re-elected Township officials.

Our only regret is that which places Township candidates together with national and state candidates there is a danger of submerging the local election.

OMBUDSMAN

(A special feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

Before you buy a pet from a pet store be sure you call a responsible local government agency or the Humane Society to check on the store and see if there have been complaints made about it.

I purchased a puppy for my two small children at Puppy Paradise, 28229 Ford Road in Garden City. The puppy got sick and I took her to an animal hospital where the puppy died. The vet said there have been numerous cases of the same trouble, worms and parasites in puppies from this pet store. The owner offers to replace the puppy but not make any refund. Who needs another sick puppy?

I called the Garden City Chamber of Commerce and the Humane Society, the Anti-Cruelty Association, the Wayne County Health Department and the Garden City Police Department and all of these organizations have had numerous complaints about Puppy Paradise.

It seems that there is no effective local law or ordinance that can be applied to either close this store or make the owner stop selling sick infected animals.

If you have had similar experiences contact your local government now and tell them how you feel and perhaps they will establish an ordinance which can be effectively enforced and which can be used to eliminate a problem like this with inspections and a code.

Dennis R. Johnson
Garden City

Dear Mr. Johnson:
Your complaints were checked by Ombudsman, including a personal visit to the business mentioned. Following this, the facts were discussed with Mayor-elect Tim Murphy who promised to "look into the matter and see if a City ordinance could be drafted to up-grade businesses of this nature." He said he would keep Ombudsman informed of his investigation and take whatever steps necessary to eliminate the problem.

It Is The Ideas That Count

Next Monday, Dec. 12, holds a special meaning to The Observer family and to many of the readers of this newspaper. Two years ago on that date, Paul M. Chandler, the founder and first publisher of The Observer, died.

To those of us who knew him personally, Paul left a rich heritage in his qualities of diligence and craftsmanship; in the way in which he let himself be caught up in a story, a cause, and a principle in which he believed.

To those who knew him only through his writing, he left an equally rich heritage in the pungent, incisive, iconoclastic columns which he wrote for each week's editions and which bore significance for most of his readers.

Now, on the second anniversary of his death, a permanent memorial to Paul Chandler has been established in Livonia, and there are few things other than a library bearing his name which could have been a more fitting tribute. The Livonia community honored him well when it chose his name for the new Adlai Stevenson High School library and materials center.

But—and Paul Chandler would have probably written similarly—it is not the building which houses the library that makes the real tribute, just as it is not the man alone, but his ideas and contributions, that make the man worthy of tribute.

A school which bears the name of Adlai Stevenson, or a library that bears the name of Paul Chandler, will honor men of this caliber only when they are centers where the searching mind can be stimulated, where the curious can satisfy their desire to learn more about the wide spectrum of ideas, and where all are exposed to a variety of opinion.

A library which is simply a storehouse to serve the status quo, or a school where teachers and students are afraid to involve themselves in controversies, are anathema to what people like Stevenson and Chandler believed.

The new school and the new library are marvels of physical planning. But the teachers and students who learn in them are the only important ingredients. They have made a fine beginning in keeping alive the traditions of Stevenson and Chandler. We have every confidence that they will not falter in the never-ending free search for knowledge that was so important to these two men.

DAVID ELSILA

Planner Has a Word on Livonia

Criticism from one municipal official about another community is not found too frequently—but last week Westland was making points with Livonia as its target.

The speaker was Westland's new full-time planning director Eugene Katz who was presenting a detailed report on a controversial rezoning issue involving the Birch Hill golf course.

During his remarks, he stressed the need for a focal point for the city, which the Westland Shopping Center provides now, and a civic center.

In criticizing the "grid" patterns of roads with mile roads used to get traffic in and out of the city, Katz pointed to Livonia and commented:

"When you drive through Livonia, you don't know where you are" pointing out that Livonia doesn't have any "downtown" or center of the city.

"A city center can be a point of identity for Westland," the planner said and the shopping center is a natural center.

He also pointed out that good long range planning is needed and pointed to Warren which has one-third of its city zoned for industrial purposes, is the location of the General Motors Technical Center, a large Chevrolet and Chrysler plants; Mahon Steel, McLaughlin Steel, and numerous other smaller factories.

But Warren is trying to obtain approval for a $36 million capital improvements program to cover the next six years and "that is just to keep up with the problem, not to solve it," Katz said.

Since Katz was working in the Warren planning department for some time before arriving in Westland in mid-October, he should know what he is talking about.

But a market survey done by a well-known firm shows that Westland Shopping Center is one of the most successful in the area.

It seems that Westland's planner had something to say and its neighbors had better pay attention.

Just Chattin'!

By W. W. EDGAR

THIS IS the time of the year when the sports pages of the public prints are filled with all-star teams at every level—from high school up through the pro football ranks. Started by Walter Camp, former Yale star, years ago, the custom has grown all out of proportion and now, instead of honoring the outstanding players, the myriad of selections only causes confusion.

In Camp's day, his selections were considered the official All-America choices. It was the highest honor attainable to be chosen for his team. All this has changed now and All-America teams are chosen by every news service, the writers, the officials and before we know it, the locker room attendants will be coming out with an All-America team.

With the printing of these All-Star teams the old arguments quickly rise again in an attempt to compare the ability of one of this year's stars with another of a by-gone era. And they also get to comparing teams as units.

AS ONE who travelled the sports trail for quite a few years I often am asked to compare, for example, Notre Dame's famous team that included "The Four Horsemen," with Fritz Crisler's 1947 Michigan team that won the Rose Bowl game. Or to compare either of them with the 1925 Michigan team that the late Fielding "Hurry Up" Yost called the best he ever had coached.

At the same time I am constantly being asked to compare this fellow and that fellow who played a star role with "Red" Grange in his hey-day. And which was the better—"Dutch" Clark, who helped make the Lions famous in the '30's, or Grange—or to compare each of them with the player considered the greatest of them all—Jim Thorpe.

To one and all there is only one answer—there is no fair way to make a comparison. Each player in a different era and under different conditions.

The rules have changed through the years. Even the shape of the football has changed. It is now a pointed missile made for throwing instead of the old egg-shaped ball designed for kicking or to keep the foot in football.

THROUGH the years when boxing was at its peak during the reign of Joe Louis as heavyweight champion of the world, I was often asked "Which was the better, Jack Dempsey or Joe Louis?"

Again, any comparison would be unfair—for the simple reason that times have changed. We have a different set of rules, better equipment and the styles have changed.

What has happened in the world of sports is happening in other fields, too. One is often asked to compare presidents. For instance, it has been said that LBJ hopes to be rated the greatest president of all time.

Maybe so, but how would you compare him with Washington, or Lincoln, or Teddy Roosevelt, or the other Roosevelt, FDR.

Each was great in his own time, but could you imagine Abe Lincoln running for president today. His TV image would be his ruin. Yet when he was in the White House he earned a place of lasting memory.

Instead of comparing athletes or public officials from different eras, let's be content to do the fairest thing—Let's just say "He was the best of his time."

Bumper stickers are the rage these days. You can get them boasting the horn of your favorite political candidate, proclaiming a special event or service, relaying a message or for just plain nonsense.

We have fallen bug to the craze.

Our mode of transportation is what is termed "a foreign-made compact" (of German extraction) and one of the most fun possessions is an Esso sticker proclaiming "I've Got a Tiger in My Tank" in the rear window. Not too startling except that the sticker came from Germany (via parents) and causes much wonderment.

Would you believe that on an average of once a week someone pulls up at a traffic light, rolls down the window and asks me what the sticker says? One man even wanted to know where he could purchase one for a friend who drives the kind of "foreign-compact."

Political stickers were popular before the elections, but aren't seen too often these days. However, last week at the intersection of Farmington Rd. and Grand River we saw one reading "Kennedy and Fulbright in '68." It seems as though politics never down.

In England many of the cross-country truck transports carry signs proclaiming that "Kimble Is Innocent." One proudly carried the message "I Just Gave the Fugitive a Ride."

"Send Batman to Vietnam" is gaining in popularity, but we must admit that our favorite of the "peace" stickers is the one reading "Make Love, Not War."

One teenager—the oldest of eight children—was known to purchase that sticker and paste it on the back of the family station wagon. The sticker has been partially removed, but no-one in the family will admit to trying to take it off the vehicle.

Christmas trees, toys, wrappings, and decorations can become fire hazards. Don't let a preventable or careless fire provide the headlines for a Christmas tragedy, warned Westland Fire Chief Ralph Savini.

Consider the following safety suggestions and make the Yuletide season not only a merry one, but a safe one, too, Savini advised the community.

"Select a freshly cut tree—one that has been stored outdoors. Make sure the tree holder is secure, and the butt of the tree is standing in water. Add water periodically, it helps the tree stay green—a dried out tree is hazardous.

"Don't locate trees near stairways, doors, or passageways. If electric lights are used the tree should not be near any grounded surfaces such as pipes, radiators, etc.

Never place a tree near a fireplace, stove, or any source of heat, or direct flame. Locate the tree in the coolest part of the room.

"Do not use lighted candles on trees, nor in windows around curtains and drapes. Use only electric lights and make certain the wiring is in perfect condition. When using electric lights for window decorations be sure the lights are at least six inches from curtains and drapes. Don't buy or use any set of lights that doesn't carry the approval of the Underwriters Laboratories (UL).

"Be careful when decorating a tree with metallic tinsel, make certain the tinsel does not get tangled over the base of light bulbs—this might cause a short circuit.

"If you are using a spotlight around a tree, make certain all flammables are a safe distance from the concentrated heat source.

"Do not use lights on metallic trees unless such lights are specifically designed for this purpose and are Underwriters Laboratories (UL) listed for this purpose.

"Use no plastic foams for decorations that have not been treated for fire resistance. Don't use cotton, paper, or other flammable material for decorating the base of a tree.

"Don't place any electrical powered devices in close proximity to a tree—this includes powered toys.

"You'll be much safer purchasing electrical toys and various electrical appliances with the Underwriters Laboratory approval. Always look for the (UL) label on such devices.

"Make certain tree lights do not overload the household electrical circuit. If circuits are protected by fuses—use only 15 ampere fuses for maximum protection from electrical fire.

"After unwrapping gifts—immediately dispose of all paper, cartons, ribbons, etc. Don't let it pile up around the house.

"Use only fire-proof decorations and costumes for Christmas parties and other festivities.

"Make certain when purchasing imitation trees they are of fire-proof variety. Look for the Underwriters Label (UL).

"Never leave home, or go to bed with tree lights left on.

Parent-Teacher Conferences Are Thurs., Friday

Parent-teacher conferences will be held this week Thursday and Friday, at Wayne Memorial High School and Glenn High School.

Thursday's will be at 7-9 p.m. Parent-teacher conferences will be held all day Friday. They begin at 9:00 a.m. and recess for lunch at 11:00 a.m. Conferences in the afternoon will begin at 1 p.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

George Bell, principal at Wayne Memorial High School and Frank Higgins, principal at Glenn High School announced that classes will be dismissed on Friday to allow parents to visit high school teachers and administrators.

Higgins said "This is an opportunity for parents to meet the teachers at Glenn High School on an individual conference basis to discuss progress at school."

Bell said "Much value can be gained from these parent-teacher conferences and I strongly urge all parents to take advantage of this opportunity to visit the school and talk with the staff."

Both Bell and Higgins say "Many potential failures, dropouts and personal problems could be solved before they become serious through parent-teacher conferences."

Assessments Are Explained by City

Westland taxpayers, or their mortgage companies, received their 1966 school and county tax bills last week, amid public concern and confusion arising out of the new assessment laws.

The new law, known as Public Act 409, was adopted by the state legislature a year ago requires assessments to be raised to 50 per cent of the true market value of the property.

But since many communities' assessments are below that 50 per cent level, a state equalization factor is applied to the property assessment figure shown on the city assessor's tax rolls to raise that level. This is done to bring uniformity and a degree of equality across the state.

To further explain the issue, Westland City Assessor Manuel Lentine, Jr., has asked The Observer to reprint the following background on the issue:

"Your 1966 tax bill reflects the State Equalization Factor of 1.25, which means that because we have assessed valuations based on approximately 43% of market value rather than the 50 per cent of market value as directed by the State Constitution and the Michigan State Tax Commission, we have been equalized up to 50 per cent market value.

"Basically this means that for every $1 of tax levied by the School and County, the State Tax Commission automatically increases it to $1.25.

"However, we have already completed a thorough reassessment program in the City of Westland which is in compliance with Act 409. All property is now assessed at 50 per cent of market value, and these assessments will appear on the 1967 City tax roll for the first time. This will automatically eliminate State Equalization in any form.

This means that if the tax rate for any unit of government is $5 a thousand, it will remain $5 a thousand. Assuming the local tax rates are adjusted in 1967, the higher assessment should produce the same amount of taxes paid as when the assessments were based on 43 per cent of market value. The only increase would be about 10 per cent which is the Economic Condition Factor (E.C.F.) for this area. In essence this means that construction cost 10 per cent more today than it did ten years ago.

"In 1963 all buildings were depreciated, resulting in a lower assessment; although this was not evident to the taxpayer because of a slight increase in the school rate at that time. This procedure was to take place every five years.

"However, since we had to take item by item in computing the 50 per cent assessed values, we decided to apply to all buildings their respective depreciation factor which was not supposed to have taken place until 1968. In this way some of the increase will be off set due to the building depreciations which ranged from 3 per cent to as much as 8 per cent depending on the age of the buildings. The next reassessment program should take place in 1972.

"For your information the tax rates for the last three years for the various School Districts located in Westland as well as the tax rates for the County are itemized as follows:

SUCCESS STORY: John Davis (left) of Plymouth shoots over upstretched arm of Walled Lake defender to score. The Rocks got off to a roaring start by beating their first two opponents.

Farmington Rebounds to Beat N. Farmington

Dramatic Finish Wins for Bentley

Dramatic finishes... Bentley a winner over Farmington in the final few seconds... North Farmington a loser to Kettering in overtime.

That was Friday night. On Saturday evening it was Farmington over North Farmington, 75-58, in the first half of their annual "city" series.

Trailing by six points going into the last period, Bentley put the clamps on North Farmington and finally paid off for the Livonians.

Not until Ken Bollin flipped in a basket with 90 seconds left was Bentley able to pull even with Farmington, 42-42.

The Falcons responded with a free throw to take a lead again, this time by a single point. Then Greg Coleman, the all-Observer football quarterback, clicked with just ten seconds on the clock to spell out a 44-43 win for Bentley.

Farmington led, 24-19 at halftime and held a 34-28 margin after three quarters in the defensive struggle marked by good rebounding on both sides.

But in the closing period, Coleman, Bollin and Mark

Formosa each hit for four points for Bentley as Farmington was stopped on two baskets and five charities.

Greg Dorow tossed in 17 points for Farmington to wind up with individual honors. George Grimala was next with nine points.

For Bentley, Larry Grimm had 10, Bollin nine and Coleman and Formosa eight each as the scoring was well divided.

The reserve game went to Bentley, 62-45.

Farmington jumped off to a 14-11 lead in the first quarter and held a 39-23 halftime edge in turning back North Farmington with little trouble.

In the first-half assault, Dorow tossed in 11 points while Mike Ames clicked for nine.

The closest North Farmington could come the rest of the way was 10 points. Then Farmington turned loose a zone press which stopped any further threats by the Raiders.

Dorow again was the top scorer, this time getting 21. Ames with 17, Grimala with 13 and Al Kilkka with 12 also wound up in double figures.

For North Farmington it was Mark Faller with 16, followed by Ron Fluter with 10 and Rick Copp and Jim Benyer with eight each.

The Farmington reserves also came through with a win, taking North Farmington, 49-38, as Ken Schultz tossed in 15 points.

North Farmington, like Farmington, had bowed the previous night in a thriller. The Raiders caught Kettering's defending Tri County champs, at 56-56, to force an overtime, before losing in the extra session, 64-60.

A basket by Copp tied the proceedings for North Farmington to climax a comeback.

But in the overtime, Jack McCloud hit for four quick points to pace Kettering as North Farmington was able to make only four points itself.

Faller pumped in 15 points to no avail, while Copp added 11. Jim Rulepaugh and Rick Knox each contributed 10 points to the losers' cause. Center Dave Cox was the big man for Kettering as he put through 22 points.

Plymouth Cagers Roar—Capture First 2 Games

Strange as it may sound, Plymouth High, which has been anything but a powerhouse in basketball for the past several years, is off to its hottest start with two victories to show for the first two games.

Forced to play back to back home games against Walled Lake and Livonia Stevenson, because the latter school doesn't have its bleachers yet, the Rocks proceeded to maul the Lakers, 59-36, Friday in the home opener and then came back on Saturday to trample luckless Stevenson, 57-35.

"However, it's a bit early to predict an undefeated season," commented Coach Dick Bearup. "We definitely have a better team than a year ago but we'll know what to expect after the next two weeks in the league tests against Allen Park and Belleville.

"Most certainly Walled Lake and Stevenson represent the first two games on the schedule, but the Lakers were minus a couple of regulars due to injuries and Stevenson is just in its first full year of varsity competition and can't be considered as a major competitor."

There wasn't any question about the Walled Lake game after the first few minutes in a foul-marred period that found the Rocks rolling to a 16-7 lead.

Paced by the scoring of Junior Mike Stakias and senior John Davis, the Rocks boosted the lead to 32-17 at half time and had a 48-22 margin at the three-quarter mark.

Both coaches substituted freely in the final period with the result that the Lakers finally pulled up to 59-36 at the final whistle.

Mike Kubik was high for the victors with 18 points on seven baskets and four free throws. Stakias had 11, as did Nate Luibrand and Davis wound up with 10.

Gus Maragos led the Lakers with 13.

The Saturday contest was on the Plymouth High court but actually was a home game for Stevenson.

The Livonians started out as if they owned the floor and had the Rocks trailing 9-4 after four minutes.

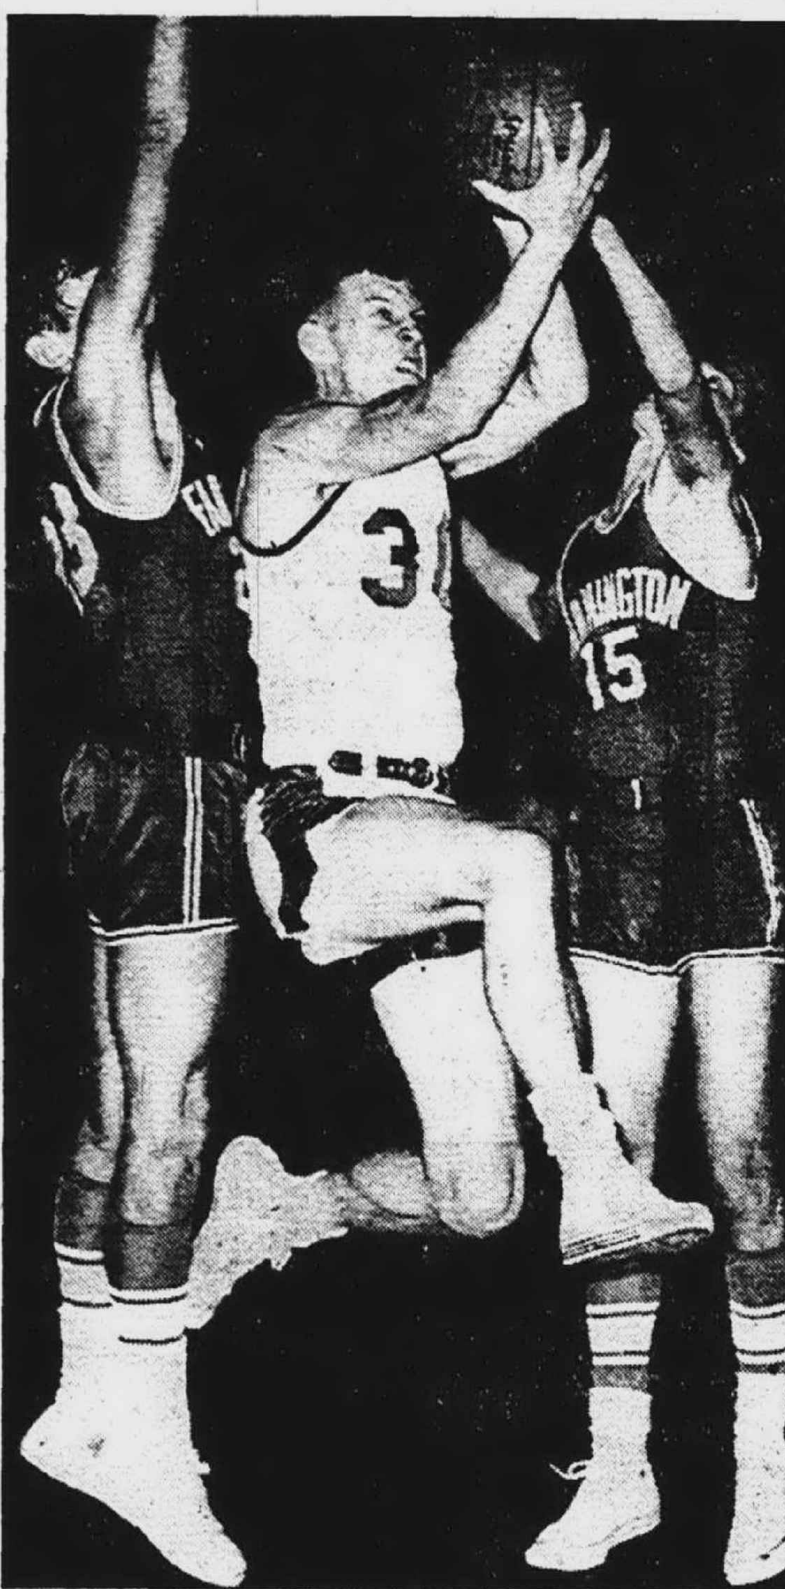

With Phil Tonnemacher and Jerry Dettler scoring all but one point, Stevenson went on to build up a 16-8 edge at the end of the quarter.

But the bubble burst after a minute of play in the second stanza when Stevenson scored a foul to make it 17-8. That was all for the Livonians as the Rocks finally realized it was their home floor and rolled up 20 straight points for a 28-17 halftime edge.

There wasn't any doubt about the outcome from that time. Stevenson was no match for the Plymouthites who began to hit from every angle and had things their own way for the remaining time.

Stakias was the big gun this time with 22 points followed by Luibrand with 12 and Davis with 7.

Paul Pender and Jim Olsen topped the losers with 11 and 10 respectively.

TWO CAN'T STOP ONE: Mark Formosa (30) of Bentley jumps between Farmington's George Grimala (23) and Al Kilkka (15) to score as Bentley rallied in final moments for a thrilling victory.

Bouncing around from Detroit to Philadelphia to Detroit to Boston to Detroit to New York and back to Detroit—

So, it's little wonder daughter Julie asks: "Who's that guy who's visiting home tonight?"

But the travels produce some memorable moments—like Army-Navy night in Philadelphia.

Over more years than you care to remember, you've heard or watched the great service battle through the media of radio or television.

You've watched—thanks to TV—the parade of the cadets and the midshipmen. You've seen them pour off the field after a game and wondered what now for these men who'll lead our military forces in the years ahead.

So, here you are in the midst of thousands of cadets and midshipmen... and their girl friends.

When the game is over, the students receive liberty until midnight to do it up big in Philly. And, do it up... they do.

But, as you stand there and watch the cadets and midshipmen file past... en route to the busses and trains that'll take them back to West Point or Annapolis, you have to gain extra faith in our armed forces.

Rock Swimmers Capture Opener for New Mentor

It was a successful debut for Dick Gretzinger, former Plymouth High School all-state swimming star, when he guided the Rocks to a one-sided 68-37 victory over Wyandotte in his first meet as the varsity swimming coach.

Gretzinger moved to the head spot when John McFall, veteran swimming and football coach, resigned three weeks ago to take over the operation of a motel in northern Michigan.

Gretzinger was one of the stars of the Michigan State University varsity last year and received his bachelor's degree in the June commencement exercises. He returned to his alma mater as assistant coach and then before the season opened, he had moved to the head post.

The Rocks made a sweep of every first place in the opening triumph which was featured by standout performances by Butch Leonard and Andy McCord. The latter was clocked in :59.3 in winning the 100-yard butterfly.

The Plymouth performances: 200-yard medley relay, Foust, Leonard, Wolf and Norman, won in 1:53; 200-yard freestyle, McCord won, Gould second, time 2:07.4; 50-yard freestyle, Porter won, Gilbert third, time :24.3; 200-yard individual medley, won by Reinas, Norman third in 2:22; diving, Larson won and Lytle, fourth; 100-yard butterfly, won by McCord with Wolf third in :59.3; 100-yard freestyle, won by Porter with Whitaker third in :55.2; 100-yard backstroke, won by Foust with Gorlet second in 1:09.4; 400-yard freestyle, won by Reinas with Malboeuf fourth in 4:46; 100-yard backstroke, won by Leonard with Shaw second in 1:09; 200-yard freestyle, won by Pigsley, Gilbert, Gould and Kenney in 3:57.

Thurston High Natators Rip Redford Union

Thurston High wrestlers opened the season with a 37-11 victory over Redford Union.

The matmen participated in a quadrangular meet at Berkley High on Saturday and are preparing for a duel meet against Southfield Thursday at home. On Dec. 9 and 10, the annual tournament will be held at Garden City East.

In the Redford Union match, Thurston wrestlers recorded the following: wins by falls, 95-pounds, Glen Schneeman (T); 103-pounds, John Zark (T); 120-pounds, Tim Hichman (RU); 127-pounds, Dean Wheeler (T); 180-pounds, Larry Wade (T); and heavyweight, Dan Harris (T); wins by decisions, 112-pounds, Lou Ploussard (T); 133-pounds, Doug Secord (T); 138-pounds, Dave Pike (RU); 145-pounds, Bruno Ruspi (T); 154-pounds, Randy Ault (T) and 165-pounds, Terry Hyvari (RU).

In the quad meet, Thurston results were: Heavyweight Dan Harris, first; Glen Schneeman, John Zark and Lou Ploussard, seconds; Doug Secord, Dean Wheeler, Tony Scappaticci, Dave Min-eau and Larry Wade, thirds; Barry Shiek, John Clinik and Jerry Papazian, fourths.

Michigan State or Schoolcraft College, the men of West Point and Annapolis truly are the "cream of the crop."

Just nobody makes it into either institution. The courses they offer at the academies would kayo the ordinary student.

What's more, when a boy enters West Point and Annapolis he knows what he wants to be—an officer in our Army or Navy, and as such a servant of our country under some of the most trying and crucial conditions.

After all, many of the men who walked past us are headed for Vietnam within the next year—to lead our men in that conflict which seems kind of senseless.

Back in Detroit, the phone rings. The caller identifies himself as being from Plymouth and the area commissioner for fast pitch.

He wonders if we ever remember fast pitch. "It's been kind of dead now in these parts for several years," he adds.

We agree.

"Well," he continues, "we're getting ready to sponsor a big league and revive fast pitch next spring and summer around here. We'll have teams in Livonia, Farmington and Redford Township, along with Southfield and other nearby communities."

The gent admits that the group has some problems, but he talks with confidence.

Fast pitch is an interesting sport. It gave way when slo-pitch came into existence with a thud. In slo-pitch, it makes no difference what shape a player's in. Anybody can hit the ball. There's a lot of running and scoring.

Fast pitch, on the other hand, boils down to a battle of pitchers, fielding and good base running. So, good luck, gentlemen!

* * *

Another phone call:

This time it's Livonia's Denny McLain, the great Tiger pitcher who was acclaimed the most exciting Tiger of the 1966 season by the Detroit baseball writers.

Denny is quite a sportsman. You'll see him around watching the Pistons, Red Wings and Lions . . . when he's not making music on the organ.

You're in Boston . . . Arnold (Red) Auerbach sits quietly at the scorer's table.

It's a far cry from the other times you've seen Auerbach, screaming at referees and directing the Boston Celtics to nine world championships in ten years.

Red, one of the greatest basketball coaches of all time—professional, college or otherwise—looks more relaxed now . . . as the Celtics general manager.

Here's a little tip to you youngsters! Want an official Pistons basketball?

You can get one FREE by attending the Pistons-Baltimore game a week from Friday at Cobo Arena. As long as you're 16 and under and purchase a $3 reserved seat ticket, you can pick up one of the basketballs at the game.

We might add that they are dandy basketballs made by Wilson, one of the big names in sports goods manufacturing. The balls will hold up indoors or outdoors.

Our skating enthusiasts can't complain this year what with the early arrival of cold weather to make possible natural ice.

STARS STILL HURT:

Collegians Split In Cage Action

Without big men who can rebound, a basketball team has its problems.

Nonetheless, Schoolcraft College managed to break even last week by beating West Ontario, 75-56, before falling to powerful Concordia, 95-66.

The Schoolcraft team still was without center Cliff Peach and forward Steve Moore, its two best scorers and rebounders.

Nor is it known by coach Bob Leggat when Peach, who suffered a broken foot, and Moore, who is bothered by a knee injury, will get back into action.

Al Jose from Franklin high and Fred Neal from Clarenceville combined to pace Schoolcraft to its win over West Ontario.

Schoolcraft took a 38-23 halftime edge and romped through its foe as Jose finished with 19 points and Neal with 16. The winners hit on 42 per cent of their shots—fine marksmanship in any league.

But against Concordia, the Schoolcraft shooting fell to 32 per cent despite a fine individual effort by John Felmet who wound up with 26 points.

Schoolcraft was to host Flint J. C. on Tuesday night and then meet Highland Lakes at home Saturday night. Home for Schoolcraft this season is the Northville Community center.

Irish Star To Headline Jaycee Program

Jim Seymour, Notre Dame's record-breaking pass receiver from Berkley, Mich., will be the featured speaker at a luncheon in Detroit during the week before Christmas.

The occasion will be the Face-off Luncheon for the Great Lakes Invitational Collegiate hockey tournament. The luncheon is set for the ballroom of Cobo Hall Wednesday noon, Dec. 21.

Seymour made a name for himself at Shrine High School in Royal Oak before bursting on the national football scene at Notre Dame. In his first varsity game, he set a Notre Dame record with 13 pass receptions against Purdue, and finished the season against Southern California with 11 catches and two touchdowns.

At the Face-off Luncheon, he will address hockey teams from the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Michigan Technological University and the University of Western Ontario.

Globetrotters Coming Back To Olympia

The Harlem Globetrotters, the clown princes of the basketball court, will be back at the Olympia Stadium Friday, Dec. 30, to meet the New York Nationals.

They are coming back by popular demand, less than two months after their first appearance of the 1966-67 cage season.

They played two games at the Olympia last winter, drawing over 11,000 patrons in November and pulling in a complete sellout throng of 15,142 in April. In their return on Nov. 5, more than 12,000 spectators applauded and laughed with them.

Franklin, Thurston Battle In Loop Opener Friday

Two high-scoring teams will come together Friday evening when Franklin and Thurston begin their Northwest Suburban League basketball chases.

Both hit freely in their season openers as Thurston clouted Stevenson, 67-38, while Franklin started and finished to clip Wayne 84-74. Thurston had little trouble with Stevenson which again is fielding a team without a senior, because there are no 12th graders yet at the newest of Livonia's high schools.

The game was settled quickly. By halftime, Thurston led, 36-11, as Stevenson was able to make only five baskets and one free throw in the first 16 minutes of the action.

The winners produced four players who scored in double figures. Bob Holmes fired in 17 points for high honors while Reg Barringer, Gary Schulte and Rick Wagner each contributed ten points.

High for the losers was Paul Tonnacher with 15 points.

Urban Rice shot in 17 points to lead Thurston's reserves to a 56-34 conquest.

As far as Franklin was concerned, coach John Harris' crew shot well over Wayne's zone defense in the first period, as Earl Neeley, Chris Wendrick, Carl Gulbransen and Steve Atkinson all found the range to put Franklin into a 27-17 lead.

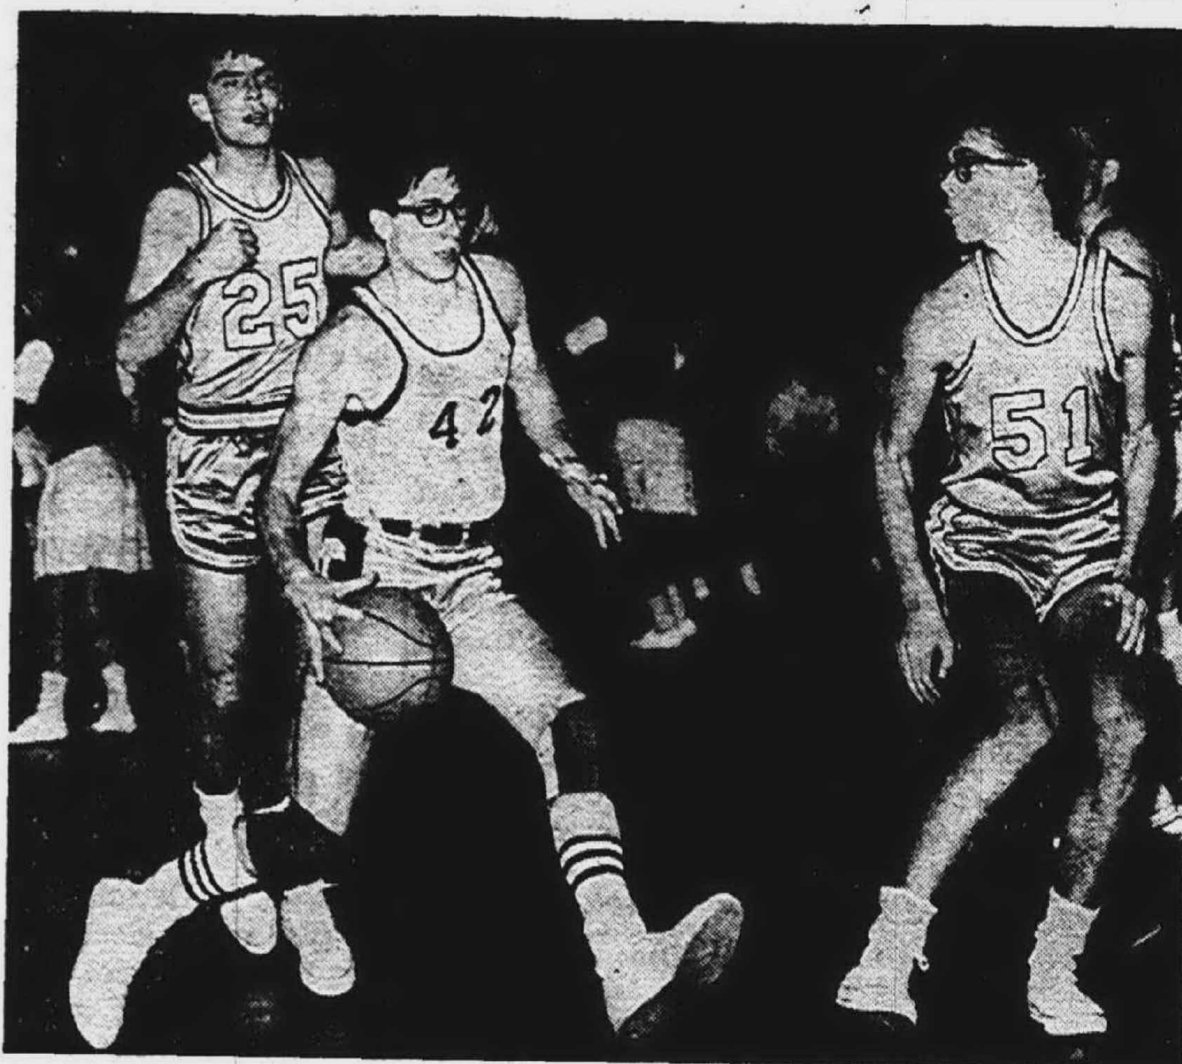

But the Livonians lost some of their momentum in the second period and their lead slipped to 37-31 at halftime and was cut to 60-58 after three quarters.

Then Franklin went to work again in earnest. With Gulbransen flipping in six more points and Neeley adding seven, the Livonians also hit on 11 of 13 free throws in the last period to win going away.

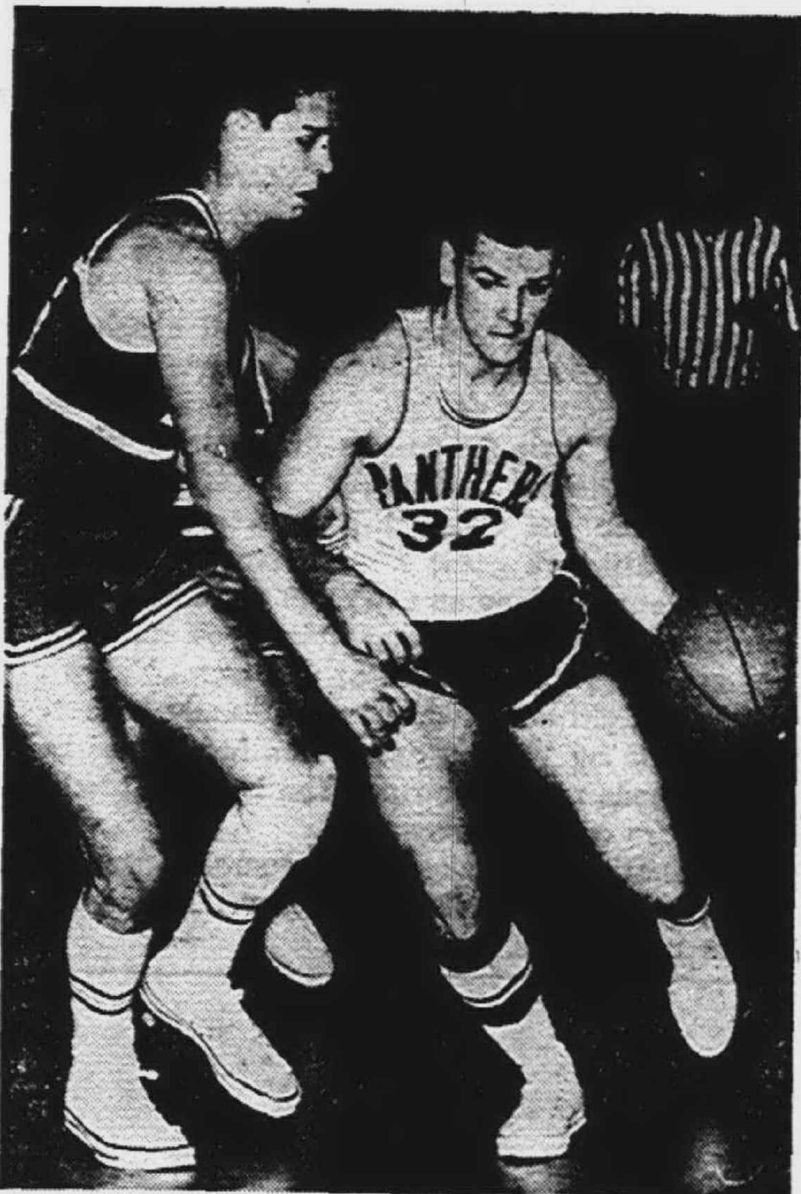

Free throws spelled the big difference. Wayne had a 32-30 edge in baskets, but when it came to charities, Franklin tossed in 24 out of 41 while Wayne made only 10 of 26.

Neeley hit for 21 points on eight baskets and five free throws. Wendrick and Gulbransen each notched eight baskets and four charities for 20 points.

In the reserve game, Franklin was pressed to win, 42-39, with Charles Wiggins scoring 14 points.

LOW DRIBBLE: Richard Wagner of Thurston keeps the ball low as he slips in between a pair of Stevenson players on his way to the basket. Thurston had little trouble downing Livonia's newest high school.

MOVING AROUND rival guard is Garden City East's Joe Huber, one of the stars of his team's comeback victory over Lowrey. Huber is an all-around sports star at East.

URNS BACK LOWREY

Bad Start Fails To Stop East

"As long as there's life, there's hope..."

Don't tell Garden City East High's basketball team that there isn't any truth in that old saying.

When the first period of East's opening game against Lowrey had finished last Friday night, the score read: Lowrey 20, East 5.

East had not made a single basket. Just five free throws.

But they don't pay off in basketball on what the score reads at the end of the first quarter, or even the second or third stanzas.

And when they put up the final tally... there it was—East a winner by a 62-59 score.

"We have so many young kids on this team," said coach Billy Jo Young of East; "they just had the jitters in the early going."

East recovered from its near disastrous start to out-score Lowrey, 15-7, in the second period, but Lowrey still had expanded its edge to 45-38 at the three-quarter marker.

Then with sophomore guard Gary Slade, who stands only 5-7, and junior center Mike Maciasz leading the way, East poured it on to run up 24 points in the last eight minutes to only 14 by Lowrey.

In the closing 100 seconds, it was strictly an all-Slade show, as far as the East scoring was concerned.

His basket with 1:40 left on the clock put his team in front for the first time in the game, 58-57.

Slade then sewed up matters with four more free throws as Lowrey fouled him in hopes of getting the ball back. But Slade was more than equal to the occasion.

Maciasz and Slade each wound up with 17 points for the winners. Slade's production included nine for nine from the free throw line.

Joe Huber, playing at guard, for the first time, tallied 12 while Rick Clack added seven and Bill Crowell five.

East's reserves lost, 48-45, despite John Chute's 16 points.

DOYLE BAGS 44:

Sorrows Cager Cracks Record

Take a bow, Tim Doyle.

Firing in 21 baskets and two free throws, Doyle accounted for 44 points—a new school record—as Our Lady of Sorrows romped over Royal Oak St. Mary's, 88-79, in a wild-scoring basketball thriller.

Doyle thus erased the former Sorrows mark of 41 points held by Bill Brenner.

Doyle started with 13 points in the first period. He added 12 in the second, "slipped" to eight in the third and finished up with 11 in the closing period.

Doyle thus erased the former Sorrows mark of 41 points held by Bill Brenner.

While Doyle accounted for half of his team's points, Mike Charette of Royal Oak was perhaps even more of a one-man show. Mike tossed in 43 points, almost two-thirds of his team's output.

Sorrows pulled away from a 39-35 halftime lead to lead 64-53 by the end of the third period.

Frank Carrico and Tom Webster each hit in double figures for the winners with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Dennis Perry had eight more for Sorrows.

Doyle's bombardment was four times what he scored earlier in the week when Sorrows fell to Orchard Lake St. Mary's, 65-55.

In that game, Carrico was high for the Farmington team with 19 points while Doyle was restricted to four baskets and three free throws.

The Sorrows reserves won by two points in each of their games. They took Orchard Lake, 57-55, as Tim Mahoney counted 18 points and Bob Theisen 20 in the 54-52 verdict over Royal Oak.

St. Agatha, meantime, got off on the wrong start in its

Poor Eyes Costly to R. Union

The idea in basketball is simple... you must get the ball through the hoop.

When a team gets off 100 attempts from the floor in any high school game, it usually stands a good chance of winning.

But, no such good fortune befell Redford Union high last Friday in its debut under the coaching of Dave Nattingly.

"It was a paradoxical situation," said Mattingly. "I was happy that we could fire so many times. But it was discouraging the way we shot. We made only 26 shots."

The Townshippers found it difficult to get untracked.

Before the first period was over, Southfield with a mighty fast break had a 24-8 lead. In the eight minute span, Redford Union was limited to just three baskets and two free throws.

Redford Union battled Southfield on fairly even terms the rest of the way. It was 46-31 at halftime.

The setback took a great deal away from a brilliant individual effort by Leland Bjerke, who clicked for 34 points on 14 baskets and six free throws.

Mark Lindman with 12 points was the only other RU player to register in double figures. He finished with 12 points.

Trojan Five Beaten

Week No. 1 ended with an even split for Clarenceville high school's basketball team.

But the Trojans actually won the wrong game... if they had a choice.

That's because they succumbed to Northville, 63-47, in their Wayne-Oakland League opener after downing Crestwood, 63-59, in a non-league tuneup.

Poor shooting hurt the Clarenceville cause in the game with Northville. The Trojans could make only 18 of 54 shots, with many of the misses coming on fast-break layups. Clarenceville hung close to the Trojans during the first half, reaching the intermission on the short end of a 32-26 count.

John Thompson was the lone Clarenceville player to register in double figures as he made 15 points. Next was Mark Dietendorf with nine points.

Thompson also was the top scorer against Crestwood as he collected 17 points. Ron Ray was right behind with 16 points and then came Jim Amick with 15 and Dietendorf with 10.

Tree Roots, Pipe Woes Are Linked

Big, healthy trees are nice to have around your home, not only because of the natural beauty they lend to the landscape but also because they help to prevent soil erosion.

However, they can create a real problem when their thirsty roots get into your underground pipe.

Tree roots are extremely strong because they have a deep instinct to live and grow. They spread in all directions, seeking out life-giving moisture.

If there's a leak or a break in your underground pipe, they will find it. Then, before you know it, your pipe becomes clogged, requiring corrective measures.

The most effective way of dealing with the problem calls for the tools and services of a plumbing contractor. He'll use a special flexible auger that can be reeled into the pipeline, cutting away all growth. This definitely is not a job for an amateur, since improper use of the auger can break the pipe and worsen your problem.

Special root solvents also can be flushed through the line to clear it.

These corrective measures are only temporary, however, since the thirsty roots soon will find their way back into the pipe. The only sure way to avoid a root problem is to make certain the pipe is of top-quality, water-tight material.

Strong as tree roots are, they can't break into good-quality pipe, when it comes to your pipeline, quality does not cost, it pays!

Chrysler Sales Show Climb In November

Retail sales of Chrysler Corporation passenger cars in the final 10-day sales period of November were 45,645 units, a daily rate of 5,066 units.

The volume of retail sales was up 16 per cent over the 39,471 units sold in the same period last year and the daily rate of sales was up one per cent over the 5,639 rate last year. There were eight selling days in the period this year and seven last year.

Retail sales for the month of November were 119,928 units, two per cent under the 122,647 units for November last year.

Moving In Winter No Longer Need Cause You To Worry

If you are planning a move to a distant city this winter, you no longer have to look forward to moving day with apprehension. Long-distance household moving has become a safe year-round service, often more convenient in the winter than during the summer.

With a great deal less traffic on the highways and with modern expressways stretching from coast to coast, the large cross-country moving vans are no longer at a disadvantage in winter months. Actually, the combination of modern highways and advanced equipment make it easier for van lines to maintain moving service, according to Aero Mayflower Transit company, leading long-distance mover.

Wintertime moving is virtually weatherproof with household goods riding inside a completely closed and sealed van. And special packing and handling techniques protect the family's belongings during loading and unloading.

Trained movers make use of cloth runners throughout the house when loading and unloading so that furnishings can be handled without tracking mud and snow on rugs and floors.

A major reason for the recent increase in wintertime moving, Mayflower notes, is the sharp rise in the number of business transfers. Personnel transfers have become commonplace with the growth of industry and commerce throughout the country and these transfers occur throughout the year.

The would-be buyer can judge the efficiency of these services before he makes his purchase.

From the standpoint of esthetics, an older house may have a decided advantage. By carefully shopping among yesterday's architectural styles, a home seeker is bound to find one he likes.

New houses generally reflect only contemporary architectural trends.

Finally there is the all-important question of comparative costs. It is impossible to make a categorical statement as to whether you get more for your money in a new house or in an older one.

If space is a factor, you can generally get more of it per dollar in an older house. On the other hand, the upkeep of the older house will probably be more costly.

The prospective purchaser should weigh all of the advantages and disadvantages before deciding whether a new house or an older one is better for his particular needs.

There is a tendency among some people to judge things solely on the basis of chronology. If this were an accurate means of measurement, raw rookies would hit more home runs than Willie Mays.

This is not to imply that an older house is always a good buy. Far from it. While some older houses may need nothing more than a coat of paint to bring them up to tip-top shape, others may require complete renovations entailing tremendous financial outlays.

Despite differences in ages and conditions, there are certain characteristics common to all older houses.

First of all, "used" residences are generally situated in older, more settled areas. Thus, the prospective purchaser can observe at first hand what his surroundings will be like.

He won't have to rely upon the information in the builder's brochure. Another advantage of moving into an older neighborhood is the fact that the public services—schools, police, transit, garbage collection, etc.—are a going concern.

The most important of the above points to home owners is obviously the first. It has been proven for example, that four to six inches of vermiculite (vur-mik-yoo-lite) loose fill insulation poured between the attic joists, can cut yearly heating bills by as much as 40 per cent.

Promoted By Dodge

Chrysler Corporation has announced the appointment of Robert B. McCurry as vice president and general manager of Dodge Car and Truck Division.

McCurry has been group executive and general manager, marine and industrial products, for Chrysler Corporation's Diversified Products Group since June, 1965.

1,200 to Attend Realtor Dinner

More than 1,200 members, wives and guests are expected to attend the Christmas dinner-dance of the United Northwestern Realty Association—Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors. Site will be Cobo Hall on Saturday, Dec. 10, with music by the Fred Netting orchestra.

"This marks the 46th consecutive year the Association has staged this event," said Merrill Steinhauer, special activities committee chairman.

Mercury Has Best November in History

Lincoln-Mercury Division has chalked up the best November sales record in its 21-year history. Total sales for the month were 36,075, compared to 36,048 in November, 1965, when the last record was set.

A record also was set for the last 10-day period in November, with division sales of 13,579 against 11,276 in November, 1965, as well as for a daily selling rate of 1,697 vs. 1,611 last year.

Older House Often Is Better Choice

An old house can make a fine new home.

Today's new houses are so attractive it's small wonder that very few prospective home buyers give more than a passing thought to a purchase of an older residence.

The fact that a house is not brand new does not mean it is no longer livable. After all, an 'older house' might be anything from a year-old split-level to an 18th Century farmhouse.

Condition, not age, should be a major consideration when shopping for an older home.

There is a tendency among some people to judge things solely on the basis of chronology. If this were an accurate means of measurement, raw rookies would hit more home runs than Willie Mays.

This is not to imply that an older house is always a good buy. Far from it. While some older houses may need nothing more than a coat of paint to bring them up to tip-top shape, others may require complete renovations entailing tremendous financial outlays.

New Homes Have Problems, Too

All of the preparations for a move needn't be confined to the old residence.

If possible, suggest the moving experts of Aero Mayflower Transit Company, try to get things ready in your new residence before the movers arrive with your furniture.

For example, you could put up picture hooks so that when the movers bring in your prized paintings and pictures they can be mounted on the wall instead of set off to the side where they could be damaged.

Comedienne Opens At 24-Karat Club

A young lady who started out to be a school teacher and wound up as a singing, piano-playing comedienne, will be at the new 24-Karat Club at 16890 Telegraph all through December.

"It's wonderful to be working so close to home," said Sylvia Stoung, a Dearborn matron who is known in night clubs across the nation as "Saucy Sylvia."

Why does a gal turn from a teaching career to the night clubs?

"I was doing post graduate work on a fellowship at Ohio State and doing a bit of entertaining on the side," she explained. "An agent heard me and offered to back me for a road tour. I wasn't sure that my temperament was suited for a night club career but decided to find out. As it turned out, I never went back to Ohio State."

She did go into radio in Cincinnati. Sylvia is versatile to the extent that she can entertain children on one hand and switch to sophisticated adult entertainment on the other, barely pausing for breath.

Sylvia has cut one record and plans to do another, probably while she is in Detroit. Her stock in trade is spoofing commercials, college songs, nursery rhymes and animal jokes with a tongue-in-cheek approach and an ability to ad-lib as rapidly as Bob Hope. She varies her pace with nostalgic melodies, singing and playing them on the piano with irresistible warmth.

"We are all guinea pigs in the laboratory of God," cynically snarls the Gypsy in Tennessee Williams' "Camino Real." Last weekend the University of Michigan Players presented a beautifully moving, refreshingly magic version of this seldom-seen avant-garde work of Williams.

When "Camino Real" was presented originally with Eli Wallach, Jo Van Fleet, and host of other Broadway stars, the time was not ripe for avant-garde drama. Audiences hadn't been introduced to Edward Albee, Ionesco, or Beckett yet. As a result, early attempts to succeed with this play failed.

And then too, Williams did not have the talented James Coakley at his side to direct the original production. Director Coakley is new to the University of Michigan staff.

We hope to see more of his imaginative treatment staging in the future. His close attention to detail and developing student actors to their fullest potential was effectively evident in "Camino Real."

Everything in the production meshed perfectly. The live background music of the guitar player underscored many of the long speeches superbly. Appropriate music for the dances added to the excitement. Costumes designed by Zelma Weisfeld were professional in concept. Scene designer Alan Billings gave new scope and dimension to the Trueblood stage with his deep, intricate set.

"Camino Real," being a contemporary portrait of Hell, hit hard all evening at mankind's weaknesses—the festering sores we try to cover up with one popular falsehood or another. Williams would have us look at the truth about ourselves even if it is too terrible to face.

The "love game" with all its ups, its insincere moments, and hollowness is exposed in the "lifting of the veil" scene. Leah Capes and Mark Metcalf did this difficult scene exuberantly and with a most skillful touch. They put the message across but still retained the boisterous, bawdy nature of that delicious "love" bout.

Roberta Ann Raider as the Gypsy lady showed masterful sense of timing by extracting all the comic nuances of her role. Frederick Coffin, sinister and satanic in his role as Gutman, provided the right sardonic note for the provocative evening's entertainment.

Mark Metcalf in his first leading role had a boyish flair as Kilroy that was a unique blend of humor and pathos. His naturalness amid all the theatrical hilarity and social commentary of "Camino Real" gave the play real counterpoint.

Eric Brown as Lord Byron did a flawless job in his long speech describing the cremation of Shelley. The stage belonged to Eric. He held it as Lord Byron might have in his finest hour. It was a brilliant moment and an unadorned joy to see such acting in process.

No need to continue to pick out all the fine actors or actresses in this superbly done U of M production. Director Coakley had every actor (almost 40) honed to a fine edge of perfection. It was one of these delightfully entertaining evenings in the U of M theater.

"Camino Real" spilled out into the aisles, swirled all around us. Director Coakley wanted to involve us and he did. His actors wove the Williams magic with expert looms. Long before the first act intermission it was apparent that "Camino Real" (a play that Williams has always proclaimed as the one "I love most") was on its way to being a big favorite with audiences in Ann Arbor.

Old Wally feels that Broadway could well revive this bitter-sweet play of Williams in 1967. The climate is warm and ready since we have had a few servings of Brecht, Beckett, Pinter, and Albee.

"Violets in the mountains — can break rocks" is a line said several times in "Camino Real." Not only can violets exert great force, but so can plays of this nature when they are performed as expertly and professionally as this University of Michigan production.

Wild Rivers Is Color Film Topic

Wild Rivers of North America will be presented by John D. Bulger, as the next Audubon Wildlife Film. This excellent color film will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 10 at the Rackham Memorial Auditorium.

From serene shores where Thoreau camped along Maine's Allagash River to the craggy pinnacles of Dutch Creek in British Columbia, from the Buffalo River in Arkansas to the tundra country of the Arctic, Wild Rivers of North America relates a moving story of the country's wilderness waterways.

Season memberships or single admissions are available.

Broadway may have its Fier - Martin, Rodgers - Hammerstein, producer-director teams, but the Livonia Public school system has an equally competent facsimile in the Ernst-Hirvela duo.

"Little Mary Sunshine" is the fourth musical comedy presentation created, conceived and refurbished by Musical Director Roy Ernst and Director Dave Hirvela. Starting with "Music Man," the initial smash hit, the flow of adjectives of praise has been consistent and never-ending. The enthusiasm, talent, and effort that Messrs. Hirvela and Ernst extract from their high school thespians is nothing short of miraculous.

By now, of course, we have come to expect a polished, almost flawless production from their guidance. "Little Mary Sunshine" was no exception. Three capacity audiences gave the versatile performers and precise orchestra members a standing ovation, endless curtain calls, and hearty response throughout the evening.

The only regret it that we can't run the winter musical presentation as long as the summer productions (six performances). All this brilliant work by so many people deserves a longer run and wider recognition.

Mr. Johnson Joins Christ Lutheran

Christ Lutheran Church, located at Worman and Aca- cia in Redford Township, an- nounces that Mr. Peter John- son has begun his ministry there.

Mr. Johnson has attended Augustana and St. Olaf Col- leges and has held a number of Protestant church posi- tions. Clarence W. Beireis, pastor, said the new member of the church staff would particularly be working with children, youth and adult choirs at the church.

He also plans to introduce to the congregation the Serv- ice Book and Hymnal, now in use in the American Luth- eran Church and the congre- gations of the Lutheran Church in America.

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church Marks Dec. 11 "Day of Decision"

Good Shepherd Evangeli- cal Lutheran Church, located at West Six Mile Road and Kinloch in Redford Town- ship, will celebrate the 12th anniversary of its founding in an unusual way.

On Sunday, Dec. 11, the congregation of Good Shep- herd not only will commemo- rate twelve full years of service in the community, but will take action on an extensive building program that will result in greatly ex- panded worship and educa- tional facilities.

Proclaimed as the church's "Day of Decision", Dec. 11 will be crowded with activi- ties. Special 12th anniver- sary observances will be held at the regular 8 and 11 a.m. worship services.

At 4 p.m. a specially called congregational meeting will be conducted for the pur- pose of approving the church's proposed building campaign. Following this af- ternoon gathering, there will be a congregational recep- tion in the church parlors.

Pastor H. Jack Baer said highlight of the anniversary celebration will be a return visit by the church's first pastor, the Rev. Albert Weid- lich, and his family. The Weidlich family lives in Prospect Heights, Ill., where he has served as pastor for Grace Lutheran church since leaving Good Shepherd in 1959.

Pastor Weidlich has been invited to share Good Shep- herd's pulpit this Sunday as the church's founding pastor and will have a role in the afternoon meeting. As the pastor who helped breathe life into the newly-formed church back in 1954, when its members took their first steps by building the present structure, his comments will be especially fitting as the congregation prepares to take the biggest step to date — the construction of the final worship and educational facilities.

Heralding the December 11 "Day of Decision," Good Shepherd's Pastor Jack Baer said, "It is particularly ap- propriate that as we take time to review our church's development and accomplish- ments over the past twelve years, we should look ahead to the future and plan for the years to come."

Pastor Baer also invites all members and former mem- bers to take part in Good Shepherd's "Day of Deci- sion."

Clarenceville Men Hear Loder

Bishop Dwight E. Loder will speak at the Clarence- ville Methodist Church annual game dinner the evening of Friday, Dec. 9.

The men of the church, who have been on hunting trips, will be eating venison, coon, pheasant, rabbit and other game.

The program also will fea- ture music by the Awrey Bakery quartet. Reservations

Frederic Piggins Will Speak at Methodist Church Dec. 12

Farmington First Methodist Church will be the scene on Monday, Dec. 12 of the Meth- odist Men-Ladies' Night din- ner meeting. An evening of fine food, festive music, and a stimulating speaker has been arranged for this an- nual event, according to President Dave Robertson.

Following the 6:30 p.m. dinner, a group of Farming- ton's Kendallarks will enter- tain with a variety of vocal specialties.

Featured on the program will be Frederic F. Piggins, speaking on "Legal Aspects of the Arrest and Trial of Jesus Christ." Piggins, a De- troit attorney, will present a lawyer's-eye look at the events leading up to the cru- cifixion, against a background of the laws and customs of the day.

His interest in the subject led Piggins to the Holy Land, where he did research on court procedures and rules of evidence in use at the time of Jesus' trial.

All adult members and friends of the church are cor- dially invited to attend. Tickets may be secured by calling the church office, GR 4-6573.

Qualified Students Are Needed For Religious Leadership

ANN ARBOR — All denominations need increasing numbers of well-qualified students to prepare for positions of religious leadership, according to Lloyd W. Putnam, educational director in The University of Michigan Office of Religious Affairs.

"Each year a number of seminary representatives visit the campus for the purpose of talking with pre-theological students," Putnam says. "These encounters can be very beneficial, especially when a student has specific questions about a particular institution."

When the seminary recruiter makes an initial contact with the Office of Religious Affairs, referral is made to the appropriate campus ministry personnel for follow-up.

"Those who have been dismayed by the seemingly competitive nature of seminary and denominational recruiters will welcome news that the National Council of Churches is conducting a pilot project involving an initial cooperative approach to campuses in a limited Midwestern area," Putnam says.

"Hopefully, the results of this project will mean a more meaningful and effective approach to campuses throughout the country in the near future."

Most seminaries now hold conferences on the ministry for prospective students. Attendance at such gatherings can provide students with first-hand experience of seminary life and thought. The Office of Religious Affairs keeps a collection of current seminary catalogues available for student reference.

"Theological education has often been viewed as hopelessly conservative," says Putnam. "Yet many dramatic changes are now occurring in seminaries across the country. Schools have redesigned their curricula to prepare students not only for the traditional and well-defined ministerial professions, but also for the new, specialized and emerging forms of ministry."

"But students must be made adequately aware of these attempts to make seminary education more relevant to the dynamic nature and the challenging role of ministry in the world today."

"Contrary to the apparent passive mythology of many, the stark does not deliver ministers. We all need to help."

Clothing Boom Is Foreseen

The late 1960's will likely see a boom in clothing sales.

The teenage and college sets are scheduled to create a growing demand on the clothing market as we approach 1970, according to Bernetta Kahabka, clothing specialist with the Michigan State Cooperative Extension Service.

Clothing expenditures declined in relation to the total family income during the past few years. But a population shift may reverse this trend says Miss Kahabka.

The boom in the clothing market will occur as the high proportion of pre-15 year olds moves into the young adult stage. This is a period of high clothing consumption.

Advertising and marketing will show a definite orientation toward young adults. It is the college and career-minded men and women who set the new trends and are most sensitive to style obsolescence.

The trend toward casual dress has also cut clothing expenses, adds Miss Kahabka. Generally speaking, casual clothes cost less than dressy ones. In addition, many fabrics have "long-life" characteristics which reduce frequent replacement.

This trend toward casual dress may be counteracted by special clothing for leisure and recreation.

For example, you will find special sportswear and lounging attire, says Miss Kahabka.

If you are a ski enthusiast, you will find a wide array of apparel just for you. Or as a football spectator, you may also find specially designed clothes.

MR. and MRS. LOUIS ZIVKOVICH

50 Years For Zivkoviches

An open house honoring their parents' 50th wedding anniversary was held recently for over 200 people, by the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zivkovich, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Barber.

The Zivkoviches have three daughters, Mrs. James (Bessie) Barber, Redford Township; Mrs. Robert (Mildred) McConnell, Arcadia, California; Mrs. Charles (Ruby) Devitt, Mio, and one son, George, Livonia; 11 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. They were married in Detroit and have lived in the Brightmoor area for 35 years.

The children gave their parents a color television set. A money tree was prepared by Mrs. Arthur Wilson. The cake was made by Mrs. John Glanville and congratulatory printing by Rudy Gorshek.

Out-of-state guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tica, Massillon, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zivkovich, Rittman, Ohio; Mrs. James King and daughter, Sandy, Spartanburg, South Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barber, Jr., and children, Michelle and Jimmy, Dixon, Illinois.

Control Weight By These Tips

One can help control weight by controlling the amount of food one eats, says Mrs. June L. Sears, Extension Home Economist of Michigan State University. To lose weight, one must get fewer calories from food than the body uses; to gain weight, one must get more.

To maintain the same weight, one must balance calories provided by food and those used by the body.

The following rules are a good guide to attain these:

1. Check with your doctor.
2. Have a good sense of humor about it. This will help you and the people around you.
3. Choose foods from the basic food chart.
4. Follow a simple diet.
5. Count calories.
6. Weigh regularly.
7. Stay as active as possible and adopt a new hobby of interest to take your mind off food.
8. Take very mild exercise. Do not stimulate appetite by over-exercising. Exercise will help posture and appearance.
9. Take a short rest. Any time when you think you feel tired and weak instead of eating take a glass of water and rest.
10. Do not let worry and responsibilities stimulate appetite.
11. Do not be a bore by talking about diet.
12. Make your appearance as pleasing as possible to give you the lift you need by raising spirits as high as the sky.
13. Follow these rules and stick to them. The compliments from family and friends will likely be your most cherished reward.

Toast-Man Tops Bowl of Soup

Tailored to a child's fancy are whimsical toasty cut-ups atop a bowl of soup: Heat one can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed noodles and ground beef soup according to label directions.

Meantime, make a toast-man by cutting a slice of toast into 4 strips, 1 1/2 inches long, for legs and arms and into 1 large and 1 small square for body and head. Pour soup into bowls and arrange toast pieces on top. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Ford Wives Are Volunteers Assisting As Travelers Aides

A young man stood near the Traveler's Aid station at Metropolitan Airport.

He leaned casually on the counter as he scanned the concourse.

Behind the counter, Mrs. Van Salisbury and Mrs. John Trenasty went into a huddle and exchanged questions: "Did you see the bruises on his face?" "Yes, and did you see the awful cut under his eye?"

The young man overheard the comments and smiled. "Can you tell me how to get to the Olympia from here?" he asked.

"Certainly," Mrs. Trenasty stated. "Look at this map..."

About that time someone told her she was talking to Brian Watson, who makes a living playing hockey for the Detroit Red Wings.

"No wonder you're all cut and bruised," one of the ladies said. Then everybody laughed.

The ladies, who are members of the Ford Wives Club, are volunteer workers for Traveler's Aid. The club is composed of Ford Motor Company employees.

Besides Mrs. Salisbury and Mrs. Trenasty, some 25 members of the club have been trained for the airport counter work. About 50 members of Ford Motor Girls Club's Central Chapter are being trained for similar volunteer work.

In 1965 more than 65,000 travelers were assisted at the Metropolitan Airport counter.

Volunteers help the sick and infirm. They also care for children who have to travel alone and wait for plane connections.

"Sometimes we'll play games with the children or just take them for a walk," Mrs. Salisbury said.

Volunteers at the airport counter work four-hour shifts. The station is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and just about every situation—from finding lost children to deciphering airline schedules—is handled at the counter.

Members of the Ford Girls Club are expected to complete training soon and will work their shifts after putting in eight-hour days at Ford Motor Company.

Brian Watson didn't really need Traveler's Aid. He was waiting for his teammates—and they had their own bus.

Ford Wives volunteers in the Livonia area are: Mrs. Sally Drost, 28210 W. Chicago; Mrs. Verna Bivins, 35564 Parkdale; Mrs. Carol Horvath, 10055 Garden; and Mrs. Lou Sellers, 9806 Ingram.

It's Time to Make Christmas Candy—Here's Tips from a State Fair Expert

By FAITH GILLESPIE

At the Michigan State Fair this year, that well-known prize winner, Mrs. Carlini, carried off a clutch of blue ribbons for candies.

This is the right time to make candy for the holidays. The children love it, and so do the guests, and nothing makes a more loving gift than a pretty package of home made candy.

"These are out of this world, simply out of this world," says Annie Carlini. "When the judges at the fair tasted the almond brittle, they stopped judging. They ate it all up."

All of the following recipes are from Mrs. Carlini.

ALMOND BRITTLE

Place in a heavy skillet: 1 cup sugar, 1/4 cup water, 1/2 pound butter, 1/2 pound blanched almonds, and 1 tablespoonful white corn syrup.

Cook to hard-crack stage—when almonds are toasted to a light brown stage—280 degrees on a candy thermometer.

Pour into a buttered 10x15-inch pan. Cool before breaking into pieces. (This candy should be made only when the humidity is low.)

CHOCOLATE NUT CLUSTERS

In the top of a double boiler melt a 1-pound bar of chocolate for melting; remove at once from heat. Add 1/2 pound walnuts or pecans (broken into small pieces). Place wax paper on cookie sheet and pour little mounds—about 1 teaspoonful at a time—of the chocolate mixture onto the paper.

When set, brush with glaze (candy glaze). Let stand overnight to dry. Store in a tightly-closed container lined with waxed paper.

MARZIPAN

Mix together till smooth:

1/2 pound almond paste and 1 medium egg white. Add 1/2 pound confectioners' sugar and beat well. If dough is sticky, add more confectioners' sugar until the almond paste can be handled.

Divide, color with food coloring, and mold into desired shapes.

DELICIOUS FUDGE

Boil together for 11 minutes: 1 large can evaporated milk and 4 1/2 cups sugar. Remove from stove. Add 3 packages (6-oz. each) chocolate chips and 1/2 pound butter; stir until partially melted.

Stir in 1 jar (8-oz.) marshmallow whip and 2 teaspoons vanilla. Whip at high speed with electric mixer for 20 minutes.

Add 3 cups walnut chunks and mix well. Pour into a large 17 1/2" x 11 1/2" inch pan. Cool. Store in refrigerator. When serving, cut into squares and return immediately to refrigerator in glass dish or enamel pan covered with aluminum foil.

And may all your Christ-mases be sweet!

Garden Club Arranges Yule Greens

Christmas green arrangements and floral home decorations will be turned out by members of the Farmington Garden Club during their "Deck the Halls" market Thursday, Dec. 15, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Salem United Church of Christ in Farmington.

Mrs. Paul Schreiber will be hostess, assisted by Mrs. Corwin Overton, Mrs. J. H. Brantford, Mrs. Robert Crompton, Mrs. R. O. Gaston and Mrs. Wilbur Smedley. Mrs. Gilbert Treweek will be in charge of the market, assisted by Mrs. Earl Marks.

At a recent meeting of the club's board of directors, a commendation from the City of Farmington and its beautification committee was read, praising the club for its work in beautifying the Farmington City Park.

The letter said the club's planting project has benefited the city and will be enjoyed for many years to come.

The board meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Gaul, assisted by Mrs. Louis Doyle.

Beware of Deodorants

Protect your clothing from deodorants and perfumes. Be sure deodorants are dry. And don't apply perfume or cologne directly to a garment. The alcohol in perfumes and colognes can cause the dyes in some fabrics, especially acetate, to bleed.

Deodorants contain substances that can damage silk fibers and can also cause color change in fabrics, say textile specialists at Michigan State University.

"Big Sister" Program Enriches Life for Madonna Students

There's a special glow to the holiday season for 15 girls at Madonna College participating in a "Big Sister" program.

And it's a glow that can last all year. For these students aim to bring out the special companionship of a big sister to some of the 120 mentally retarded girls at Our Lady of Providence school in Northville.

The girls started in September to pay monthly visits to the school. Students from several high schools in the area joined them. Each of the older girls has her special "little sister" at the home, and together they learn square dancing, group games and bingo.

Or sometimes they just sit and chat.

The program is in the charge of Sister Mary Louise, DSMP, of the home.

"The initial purpose of the program," she explained, "is to provide our girls with different opportunities to widen and enrich their social experience."

But there is a second purpose, she added. It is "to provide the opportunity for young women to acquaint themselves with needy children with the hope that some may choose special education as their field."

The older girls have been touched by the enthusiastic reception they receive at the home.

"When you leave," said freshman Maureen Gallagher, "you have mixed emotions. We do all we can and try to write to our little sisters at least once a week."

Added junior Susan Sczerba: "I was happy to see the many facilities and opportunities afforded these youngsters, and excited to offer my little sister more companionship."

"I know," commented freshman Joan Francoline, who previously had offered her services to the American Academy for the Deaf and Blind in Connecticut, "that if I had a sister in a like situation I'd want the same for her."

Other Madonna girls participating in the project include Mary Munsell, Ginger Grace, Ginger Visel and Marilyn Rushin, juniors; Janet Libarda and Charlotte Jendza, sophomores, and Sharon Callahan, Barbara Jepson, Paullette Serafinski, Kathleen Grodi, Jean Yillik, Elizabeth Maxwell and Antoinette Sosnowski, freshmen.

Ginger Grace summed it up for all the volunteer big sisters.

"I never met such happy innocence with the greatest of motives—love of God."

It's 52nd Anniversary For Harry Forsythes

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Forsythe, 31515 Rocky Crest Dr., Farmington, celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 20. In honor of the occasion they dined with their sons at the Kenwood Lounge.

she said, "The girls are vivacious and so intent upon pleasing their big sisters. One could see the radiance on the face of each girl, which is a reflection of the goodness and self-sacrificing of the Sisters of Providence."

"BIG SISTER" Mary Munsell, (left) Madonna college junior, visits a Christmas fair at Our Lady of Providence school for retarded girls at Northville with two of the "little sisters" living at the home.

Farmington Garden Club To Hold Annual Meeting

The theme for the afternoon was: "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

The reception was held at 12:30 and the luncheon followed at 1:00 p.m. Mrs. Glenn Leland was in charge of the floral arrangements and Mrs. H. F. Brown entertained the members and guests with slides of "Year in Review."

Election of officers for 1967 and the installation of the new officers preceded the program and the singing of carols was the finale for the afternoon.

New Popularity For Sectionals

Sectionals are becoming popular once again. Actually, the sectional is one of the best ways to seat a large number of people. Conversation is easier than on a very long, straight sofa because people can look at one another.

Often the new sectionals are two-toned. They will have solid color latex foam seat cushions, and loose back cushions covered in a different color printed or woven fabric.

They're like wild—way out! It's the flabbergaster that can't be ignored! Eerie, ghostly color plus scintillating, sinuous motion... ever-changing — ever-different — never predictable. It's the most different gift you can give or get. See our full selection of models and colors while they last! From $14.95.

Offer Tips For Cooking Wild Game

Hunters often give game away because their wives feel they don't know how to cook it. June L. Sears, Wayne County Extension Home Economist says.

Men hunt mainly for sport, and not for meat. However, game can provide good eating when properly cooked and prepared. Game shot and not eaten may also be due to the family believing that the game is not good to eat.

"Good Eating from Woods and Fields" is the title of a revised booklet available from the Cooperative Extension Service. The home economist points out that needed information on preparation and cooking techniques are contained in the bulletin.

The best methods of preparing pheasant, wild duck and geese, rabbits, grouse, woodcock and partridge are discussed in detail. Several recipes from all parts of the country are given for each game species, Mrs. Sears points out.

Recipes and methods of preparation for more uncommon game species such as beaver, woodchuck (ever try a woodchuck meat pie?), opossum and raccoon are listed. A bulletin will be a handy addition to any hunting cabin, as well as the hunter's home.

The bulletins are available at a charge of 10 cents from the Wayne County Extension Office, located at 3930 Newberry Street in Wayne, or from the Bulletin Office, Cooperative Extension Service, Agriculture Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48823.

This and many other useful bulletins are available from the MSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Clean Before Storing

Be sure out-of-season clothing is clean before putting it in garment bag or cedar chest. Dirt, acids and chemicals change with time and can cause permanent damage to stored fabrics.

It's Corn Meal Treat Time

Old Southern cooks who spent their days in the kitchen used to be the only ones who held the secret of corn bread. Now the busiest homemaker can bake homemade corn meal muffins, corn bread and even corn fritters in the time it takes to set the table and call the family to dinner.

Prepare corn meal batter from self-raising corn meal, refrigerate it then bake it... up to three days later. The leavening action is held in check until the instant the batter meets the action of the oven or skillet.

The new leavening agent, a product of the Monsanto Company, is the modern baking secret. Hush puppies for dinner? Pancakes or hoe cakes? With prepared batter in the refrigerator, they are quick, easy and just as delectable as the Old Southern cooks used to make.

CORN STICKS OR CORN MUFFINS

1½ cups self-raising corn meal mix or self-raising corn meal

1¼ cups milk

1 egg

2 tablespoons melted butter, shortening, or cooking oil

Sugar may be added to taste

Generously grease 12 corn stick molds or muffin tins and place in oven while preheating to 450°. Mix milk, egg and butter in a two-quart bowl. Add self-raising corn meal mix and blend until smooth.

Pour batter into a closable pitcher or other container for use and storage. The batter can be kept in this type of container and stored in the refrigerator for up to three days. This simplifies the preparation of delicious corn sticks over busy weekends and during last minute dinner planning.

Fill the preheated molds or tins approximately ¾ full with fresh or stored batter. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 450° or until a golden crust forms. Serve hot with plenty of butter and stand back!

Wayne Woman Injured in Two-Car Crash

Dorothy Foster, 21, of 308 E. Lake Road, Wayne, was rushed to Ann Arbor Hospital with serious facial cuts following a two-car collision at the corner of Starkweather and Liberty in Plymouth.

Dorothy was a passenger in a car driven by Dennis Foster, 23, of 4337 Third, Wayne, which was moving north on Starkweather. As the car approached Liberty, a second vehicle, driven by Samuel Robertson, of 32712 Cambridge, Garden City, came out of Liberty and collided with the Foster car according to Plymouth Police reports.

Foster told investigating officers he saw the car start out of Liberty and thought it would stop. He jammed his brakes but slid into the Robertson auto, the reports show.

Firemen Douse 3 Car Blazes in Plymouth

Three blazes in automobiles kept City of Plymouth firemen on the hop during the past week.

The firefighters answered a call to the RCA parking lot on Plymouth Road on Friday where a portable spotlight had ignited the seat of a 1964 car owned by Ray Young of Northville. It was doused with little damage.

A cigaret, left on the front seat, was blamed for a fire in the car owned by Louis Meek, 405 Irvin.

A short in the wiring under the hood burned all the wiring in a vehicle owned by Richard Smith, 745 Adams. It was extinguished with little damage.

Everyone Has Fun At Symphony Ball

Plymouth Symphony League sounds again at annual ball.

There were satins, velvets and shining lame. There were short gowns, long gowns and hair piled so high.

There were old friends, new friends, one surely could see.

Mrs. Robert Utter and Mrs. George Bauer, co-chairmen of the successful Symphony Ball, Saturday in the Mayflower Meeting House, were assisted by Mrs. Herbert Burley, Mrs. Howard Beck, Mrs. Lewis Goddard, Mrs. James Gilbert, Mrs. Loren Gould, Mrs. Harold Guenther, Mrs. Ray Hulce, Mrs. George Rowland, Mrs. Robert Sparling, Mrs. Ralph Lorenz, Mrs. Robert Maidment and Mrs. R. D. Nesbitt.

One could not help but notice the Hurricane lamps glowing as guests dined, without realizing the amount of work that went into the unique holiday decorations.

Having so much fun were the John Jacobs, Al Wolf-rams, Nick Oettmeiers, Robert Weidemanns, Hugh Harsh-as, Kenneth Merrills and Joe Wilsons.

At a table in the center were the Paul Malboeufs, Art Larsons, William Byrds, David McCubbeys and Jacob Nainzers.

None can remember when the Edwin Schraders missed a ball. They were in a group with the Sam Dibbles, Roy Jacobuses, William Herbolds, Robert Stewarts, Jo Johansons, Donald Wards and L. E. Petsingers.

Chuck and Jean Finlan dined with the Warren Bradburys, Joe Tarantinos, Vern Stadtmillers, John Hanskats, Edward Sawusches, Neal Fenkells, and Bud Martins.

Our Queen Offers Recipe for Delicious Latkes

Jewish Families Busy Preparing for Chanukah Feast

By FAITH GILLESPIE

This week, while Gentile mothers are busy making Christmas cookies and braving the crowds of shoppers, Jewish mothers are making special holiday preparations too.

Tomorrow is the first of the eight days of Chanukah, the Feast of Lights. For eight days, candles held in a menorah are lighted, and prayers are sung by the members of the family.

Chanukah is the celebration of the victory that restored freedom of worship for the Jews who were ruled, in that long ago-time, by the King of Syria. It recalls the valiant Maccabees, and the miracle of the holy lamp that burned for eight days with one day's supply of oil.

The holiday is rich in custom. Though the tradition may vary from family to family, it is a time to visit family and friends, to share gifts and good wishes. The children play games, and everybody has potato pancakes, called latkes.

The most popular game is played with the dreidle, a four-sided top, each side inscribed with a letter from the Hebrew alphabet.

Gifts are given all during the eight days, but they are most often small: fruits and nuts and candies, and coins, pennies or dimes, known as "Chanukah gelt."

One family I know makes cut-out cookies in traditional shapes, the six-pointed Star of David, the Chanukah candle, the dreidle, and the wonderful Lion of Judah, which creates some concern. "Are the tails going to fall off?" worry the children.

This family decorates the house with their own innovation, paper cut-outs called "laughing dancing latkes," the pancake shapes with jolly faces adding to the gaiety.

The holiday meals include the things the family likes the most, and latkes, of course. There may be roast beef, or pot roast, with a spicy homemade apple sauce, and mounds of crusty, golden-brown potato pancakes. Are they good.

SYLVIA SCHWARTZ'S LATKES

Wash, peel, and grate 4 medium potatoes into a big bowl. Pour off the liquid as it collects.

"Drain off as much water as possible," Sylvia says. "And then you have to use your judgment—if it's too watery, you may want to add a little more flour than the recipe says."

Add to the potatoes one large beaten egg, one small grated onion, one teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper, three tablespoons potato starch (or flour), and 1/2 teaspoon baking powder. If you want to, add one tablespoon of chicken fat for flavor and color.

Sylvia said, "You want a nice yellowy kind of pancakes—play it by ear—add another egg if you need it." Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat and cook till brown and crusty before turning over. When the second side is brown and crusty, remove to paper toweling to absorb the fat. Latkes are best served at once, but they may be kept hot in a low oven, in a pottery dish or flat pan, when you are making a lot. Livonia's Rabbi David Jessel let me borrow some cookbooks with the festival foods and stories of the holidays in the Jewish year, for which I have been very grateful. It was in the Jewish Festival Cook Book that I found this little verse:

"If latkes you would make, Salt and eggs and flour take. Eat with jest and song and rhyme At the festive Chanukah time."

Your star may have five points, and your candles may not be held in a menorah. Your cookies may be cut into reindeer instead of the Lion of Judah, and bells instead of dreidles.

But this is the time to enjoy potato pancakes.

Rotary Ann's Christmas Lunch Dec. 8

Livonia Florists, 32115 Plymouth Rd., will present their Holiday Floral Demonstration at the Livonia Rotary Ann's Christmas Luncheon. The commentator again this year will be Sylvia Barkley, remembered particularly for her "leaf" dress and her Hawaiian Christmas greeting.

The Christmas Luncheon will be held at Lofy's, 42390 Ann Arbor Rd., Dec. 8, 12:00 noon. Tickets are $3.25 each and may be obtained from any Rotary Ann member or from ticket co-chairmen Rosealie Brashear (GA 5-7265) and Gladys Ryder (GA 1-1266).

General chairman Ruby McCoy reports that members of the Bentley High School Concert Choir, under the direction of Jerry Smith, will give a program of Christmas music. Holiday cookies and fudge will be available for purchase.

Let's Talk Fashion

with June Simpson

It's rather a breathless feeling. Did you ever see a holiday season burst upon you with the suddenness of this one?

One moment we were enjoying Indian summer, and in the very next moment we were digging ourselves out of a snow bank, looking around, and seeing the bright gay trappings that are the fore-runners of the Holiday.

It's almost late to think about making all those gifts we had thought were such a splendid idea, but there is, most certainly, time to make "something spectacular" for ourselves and other lady-type members of the family.

How about a Christmas Tree Skirt? That makes sense. Come to think of it, why should those beautifully decorated tree skirts remain indoors. Why not blossom forth on you during the happy season? Simple to make. So simple that the younger members of the family can try their hand at the exclusive art of Fashion Designing.

The ingredients are simple and inexpensive. The results are lavish, exciting, and unbelievably rewarding to the feminine heart. And, expect applause from your own personal masculine audience.

Select a simple full skirted pattern—with the help of your trained expert in your pattern department. Choose a felt in any of the vibrant holiday shades which await you. Be an ice queen in white. Be a Christmas Doll in Poinsettia Red or Wreath Green.

Felt won't ravel, so you won't have to bother with hems. Use glue, gold braid, diamond dust glitter, bits of beads and sequins, pieces of old jewelry, scraps of fabrics or even contrasting shades of felt.

The fun part comes in making your own designs. Let your imagination run wild. If the children are in on the glue party, you might suggest a suitable motif from a child's coloring book. Cut out the design and use for a pattern. Your chosen design can be just as off-beat modern or as romantic as you desire.

For the most simple of motifs, glue on felt in the shape of candles, using glitter or jewels for the flame. Or, cut Christmas trees from green felt and trim with sequins and paillettes. Don't forget to glue on a hem edging of gold or silver braid for the finished look.

One very delighted creator of the Christmas Tree Skirt used Soho glue. You can use any equally fine quality glue. The point is—when done with care, your work of art will survive dry cleaning, and live to brighten another season.

Everyone is doing it. Stretching the holiday break and no matter what remarks are made about crass commercialism it still seems like a lovely idea. There are lots of long grey days in winter. Why not lengthen the lovely holiday season, even as the days shorten.

Why not be so pretty you may find yourself, much to your surprise, gracing the honor spot in the heart of someone's Christmas tree.

Local Student In College 'Who's Who'

Carol Mandeville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Mandeville, Livonia, and a student at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill., was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" at Concordia's Annual Honors Convocation recently.

Selection to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" is based on four criteria: scholarship, leadership and co-operation in educational and extra-curricular activities, general character, and promise for future usefulness.

The nominating committee, selected by the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women, was asked to list in order of preference, the names of seniors whom they felt were worthy of honor. From this ballot, the committee selected Concordia's quota of 22 students to be listed in the "Who's Who" publication. "The annual directory of distinguished students selected from colleges and universities throughout America."

Carol is majoring in Music Education at Concordia and has shown leadership and service in the following positions and activities: piano tutor, Ambassadors for Christ, Fine Arts Festival, CU Electoral Committee, Church organist.

Upon graduation she will serve as teacher in an elementary or high school of The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

Pi Beta Phi's To Hold Christmas Party Dec. 12

The Detroit group of the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Club will hold its Christmas meeting on Monday, Dec. 12, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. G. Thomas Etheridge, 15102 Fox Road, Redford Township. The Dearborn group will have its Christmas bridge on Dec. 19 at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. E. DeCaminada, 6648 Timber Ridge Drive, Birmingham.

Hostesses for the Dearborn party are Mrs. W. Ross Lytle, 14123 Arcola, Livonia, and Mrs. Clayton Armitage, 14929 Richfield, Livonia. At these meetings, collection will begin of snacks to include in boxes to be sent to the four Michigan active chapters early in 1967.

Emmanuel Church Has 10th Birthday January 17, 1967 will mark the tenth anniversary of the Emmanuel Baptist Church of Livonia. Plans are being made for a fitting observation of this date.

Taxes

Actual Northville school millage is up 7 mills to 32.9. But when the new and higher state equalization factor is computed against this figure, the equalized millage becomes 42.41 in the township.

The state equalization factor is up from 1.18 last year to 1.28, which according to state officials brings the township assessment up to near 50-percent of true value of property. Fifty-percent assessment is now required by law.

To determine taxes, township property owners may multiply their assessments times the equalized millage rate. For example, a property owner with an assessment of $5,000 should multiply the assessment times $55.99 per thousand if he is within the Northville school district, or $48.32 if he is within the Plymouth school district.

Vivian Warns
Job Deadline

U.S. Representative Wes Vivian has reminded area residents that the deadline for applying to take the Civil Service examination for summer employment with the Federal government is fast approaching.

High school graduates can qualify for a variety of Federal positions, including office aides, mathematical assistants, library assistants, and many more.

Applications must be filed by Dec. 9 in order to take the test on Jan. 7 and by Jan. 9 to take the test on Feb. 4. Ask for Civil Service Commission announcement 401 at any major post office, Representative Vivian said.

It's Complete Sellout
For OLGC Revue

The Mayflower Meeting House with its Christmas atmosphere set the pace for the Holiday when "Here's Fashion," presented by Our Lady of Good Counsel Rosary Society, attracted an audience of 400.

The promenade, flanked in greens and miniature lights, emphasized the garments of the models.

Mrs. Charles Finlan in a high fashion gown of black crepe, sleeveless, which draped softly from the new box effect bodice, came from the Boutique shop at Harvi's.

Mrs. Clarence Alandt, stunning in a red wool coat by Martino; Mrs. George Spaulding, in her blend of white wool and silk, the new winter look for afternoon and early evening with little heels from Fisher's.

Mrs. John Maloney's ensemble of pure silk by O'Dellaar with abstract pantop and coordinated pants, was a new look for the Holidays. Mrs. Ralph Heid in a festive mood with a kelly green jacket number of double wool knit imported from Italy by Gibi.

Mrs. Robert Turck in a Jackfin pants suit with the new long jacket, low sliver belt and ball buttons. And then Mrs. Charles McKinley in a Suzie Petite of champagne lace for cocktail time.

Mrs. Al Miller's float coat had the new stand up collar and wide sleeves. She accentuated her outfit with a mink pill box. Mrs. Samuel Blackford's navy blue Jr. accent of double knit with long torso and pleated skirt, was perfect.

A hostess gown worn by vocalist Barbara Dysinger with empire lines, in deep mossy green was perfect for her number from the balcony.

Pearl Kessler, modeling a design by Lounge Craft quilted with satin trim, was just the way Grandma should look on Christmas morning.

Little people who stole the show were: Meaghan Foley, Nora Greeley, Noreen Barnes, Nancy deBear, Bridget Broderick, Timothy Stork, Tommy Mousseau, Rosa Ohno, Tommy Devereaux, Maureen McCann, Betsy Dobel, Linda Campeau, R. S. Zemaite, Pierre McVoy, Sharon Nidy, Margie Lewko, and Jo Ellen Eves.

With all the accent on women, Thomas Devereaux, William Phillips, and Robert McVoy appeared on the scene modeling the casual look.

ports turned over to the Commission for a final decision on whether it will recommend or deny to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

The MLCC asked the Commission to make its recommendations as soon as possible since all permits must be renewed in May and the MLCC must have the action of the City Commission well in advance of that date.

Robert Beyer, owner of the Beyer Drug stores, has asked the MLCC for permission to transfer ownership of the 1966 SDM-SDD licenses at 1100 Ann Arbor Road and 488 N. Main from Robert Beyer to Beyer Drugs Inc.

The Commission deferred action until the Dec. 19 meeting pending notification that Robert Beyer is the sole owner of the Beyer Drug Inc.

In other actions, the Commission: Accepted with regrets the resignation of Ronald Coosaia from the Planning Commission.

Reappointed Rev. Arnold Kehrl to the Zoning Board of Appeals for a term to expire on Dec. 1, 1969.

Turned a study of the retirement system benefits over to the City Manager for study and a recommendation to the Commission.

Passed a resolution accepting the principles of the Committee of 100.

A loaf of apricot bread that was whipped up in the kitchen of the Phillis Van Antwerp's home and tasty rock candy that Maxine Willoughby is so noted for were some of the goodies that one could find at St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mickie Beyer was delighted over her little red kerosene lantern purchased at the Holiday Mart.

The aprons in Fern Henderson's booth kept the girls busy just wrapping.

Hazel Larson purchased some long Christmas door strips with bells for the college dorm rooms. Pausing for coffee, Helynn Caplin found a candy tree and Clara Isbister was thinking of the grandchildren when she got to the mitten booth.

A SWEET SIXTEEN party in the Miles Standish Room for Beverly Bradburn, daughter of the Warren Bradburns of Charnwood Drive. Dancing, and lots of fun filled the evening.

HILL AUDITORIUM in Ann Arbor was packed to capacity Sunday when the Interlochen Arts Academy Orchestra accompanied the University Choral Union in "The Messiah." The blending of voices and the spectacular orchestra performance is hard to describe.

Among those who attended were the Thomas Powells, president of the Plymouth Symphony League. Rev. Melbourne Johnson, former pastor of the Methodist Church and friend of Plymouth just couldn't say enough for the program. This from Mrs. Thomas Adams, "wasn't it just so outstanding."

Performing in the Interlochen orchestra were Norman Fischer and Peter Sparling and in the Choral Union, Roberta VanMeter, Mary Ann Sincok and Pat Jones, all of Plymouth.

THE WOMAN'S SOCIETY of Christian Service of the Plymouth Methodist Church will meet Dec. 14. Luncheon will be served at Noon by the Lois Circle, and Sarah Circle will present the program at 1 p.m. The Executive Board will meet at 10:30 a.m.

ON SUNDAY at 7 p.m., a 51-voice choir under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Church, will present the cantata, "Glory to God," by J. T. Adams, radio and recording artist in Calvary Baptist Church, 43065 Joy Road, Plymouth. This is the first presentation of this cantata in the Detroit area. The 50-voice Junior choir will also participate in the presentation of the cantata.

There will be musical accompaniment on the Rodgers three-manual organ, piano, flute and trumpet.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sells?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see . . . we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

Are "SuperRight" Meats a good reason for shopping A&P?

They're one of many!

Student Nurses At Schoolcraft C.C. Part of Closed Circuit T.V. Classroom

Nursing courses at Schoolcraft Community College have taken to the television airways to help meet Michigan's need of 14,000 more nurses by 1970.

The area college is one of 12 schools participating in a program under a recent grant of $352,305 awarded by the U.S. Public Health Service to Wayne State University's College of Nursing.

Without having to leave their school of nursing, Schoolcraft Community College students see video taped presentations of nursing fundamentals taught by the most qualified nursing instructors in the metropolitan area.

Basically, here's how the program works:

A council of participating schools selects the major areas of content for the video tapes. Its recommendations are passed on to a committee which selects specific lessons and principle from the basic sciences fundamental to a nurse's professional background.

The "on camera" instructor then develops the lesson plan in detail, assisted by project director Mrs. Rhoda Bowen, R.N., M.S.N., assistant professor in WSU's College of Nursing.

A call then goes out to WSU's Division of Mass Communications to produce the taping of lessons to be aired to all 12 participating schools or nursing, Mass Communications Director Dr. James B. Tintera and WSU television staff member James Wotring advises Mrs. Bowen and the instructor as to the possibilities of technically programming the lessons desired.

Producer-director Wotring supervises the taping by explaining and actually showing the nurse instructor how to "perform" in front of TV cameras.

In the future, video tapes will include the more complex aspects of nursing involved in patient care.

Closed circuit television, of course, is not new to educators, but what makes Wayne State's project exciting is a healthy combination of superior nursing knowledge and television know-how.

Wayne State has received permission from the Federal Communications Commission

PRODUCER-DIRECTOR James Wotring, a Livonia resident, is with Wayne State University's Division of Mass Communications. Above he discusses with nursing instructor Mrs. Geraldine Caplan, R.N., M.S.N. her "performance" in front of Wayne State WSU television cameras. The camera on the left is equipped with a "zoomar"—type lens capable of enlarging small details which the instructor explains. Thus, student nurses at Schoolcraft College, have a "front-row-center" view of an area which normally would have to be shown to each pupil individually.

The member of the council of participating schools from Schoolcraft Community College is Miss Harriet Sattig, director of nursing education.

The television project is now being carried by Channel 56, Detroit's educational television station, serving 1,500 prospective nurses from the metropolitan area.

Colleges participating are Henry Ford Community College, Highland Park Junior College, Macomb County College, Mercy College, and WSU's College of Nursing, besides Schoolcraft Community College.

Former Livonia Teacher Dies

Dr. Henry Herrmann, Chairman of the History and Philosophy Department, College of Education, Wayne State University, died suddenly at his home in Detroit, Sunday, Dec. 4, 1966.

Dr. Herrmann was born in New York City on January 8, 1902. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from the College of the City of New York in 1923 and taught in New York from then until 1928.

After coming to Detroit he taught at Cass Technical High School during the 1942-43 school year, and came to the Livonia Public Schools as a junior high school mathematics teacher in 1945. Dr. Herrmann taught in the barracks portion of the Livonia Center School where classes were held for the junior and senior school students prior to the opening of Bentley High School.

Dr. Herrmann left Livonia in February, 1949 to become a member of the History Department at Wayne State University. While a teacher in the Livonia Public Schools Dr. Herrmann was president of the Livonia Teacher's Club, a forerunner of the Livonia Education Association.

Some hard workers come in small packages...

While it might be hard to convince some mothers that a broom swishing bundle of energy this size is really much help when there is housework to be done, there is another "small package" which millions of busy mothers put to work time and time again.

Newspaper Want Ads are small bundles of energy too, and they can be counted on to do big jobs at low cost anytime you need them. If you have something to Sell, want to Hire Help, Rent a spare room or vacant apartment, or if you are searching for a hard-to-find item, all you need to do is put an Observer Want Ad to work, on the job.

It is a pleasant experience to place your ad, too! Simply dial your nearest Observer Office and ask for the Want Ad Department. A friendly, helpful lady will assist you in wording and placing your ad. You can charge it too...

Research For Most Popular Yule Tree

Michigan is the nation's leading producer of Christmas trees, accounting for 10 per cent of all plantation grown trees sold in the United States.

Scotch pine is the most popular tree sold in the state. This combination should spur some important research. It does.

Michigan State University forestry researcher, Jonathan W. Wright, has a Scotch pine project that is the largest and most comprehensive experiment of its kind in the world. It involves more than 1,000,000 trees on 15,000 plots in 39 separate localities throughout the U.S. and Canada.

This past year, Wright made hybrids of various races of Scotch pine trees that are better shaped, better colored and more insect resistant than varieties now being grown.

One of his main efforts has been aimed at finding trees resistant to the pine sawfly. The larvae of the insect attacks the pine and can destroy its needles. Wright has found that the Scotch pine that originated in eastern Europe has a resistance to the pests and is breeding this resistance into the new hybrids.

Wright has also found that the best colored Scotch pines come from seed which originated in Spain, southern France and Scotland.

"The Belgian, French, Italian and Hungarian types are medium green in summer and winter, while the Greek and Turkish types are darker green all season of the year," he noted. "Scotch pines from Scotland are the only exception to the rule that says the greenest trees come from southern European seed."

"I'm not quite sure why this is true. Perhaps it is because the trees in the British Isles are relatively recent arrivals from somewhere in France or Spain and evolution has not yet made them completely adapted to northern conditions."

Wright notes that Michigan Christmas tree growers try to avoid the seed from all the northern parts of Europe, particularly from the Ural mountains which separate European and Asiatic Russia.

"Trees grown from these seeds develop yellow needles," reports Wright. "They start to turn color in early September, and by Christmas time some of the needles are almost the same color as a ripe lemon."

Consumers Offers Cash For Vandals

Hunting season could be a time of woe for thoughtless hunters who shoot at electric insulators. Consumers Power Company this week renewed a $100 reward offer for information leading to conviction of anyone whose careless gunfire causes a power interruption.

Besides interrupting electric service to hundreds of people, the hunter also is taking a big chance, often with his life.

A recent incident near Midland resulted in a power line falling almost to the ground. In its path it left fire and molten metal as the line passed through other lines.

The careless shooter was endangered by the flashing electric arc and, if standing nearby, could have been electrocuted. Other persons passing through the same woods could have touched the still-alive line as it swung at eye level, until Consumers Power employees located the damaged section.

Often, reports Harry R. Wall, vice president-electric operations, the power interruptions are just "outright vandalism."

"Consumers Power is prepared to prosecute vandals who cause electric blackouts. It's not just a matter of homes being without electricity. Often it involves hospitals, police, fire departments, and other essential services," Wall said.
