Council Gives Okay For 2 Liquor Permits

Approving recommendations of City Manager Richard Blodgett, the Plymouth City Commission Monday passed resolutions to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission giving the green light to the issuance of two liquor-by-the-glass permits. The Commission recommended a Class C permit for the Box Bar to Rose and Herman Halperin and a Class B Hotel permit to Ralph Lorenz, owner-manager of the Mayflower Hotel.

The resolutions serve as guidelines for the Liquor Control Commission when it issues the licenses.

Blodgett told the Commission that thorough checks had been made by the Police and Fire Departments and the Building Inspector and the two applicants met all requirements.

He recommended approval of the applications.

The matter now goes to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission which is expected to issue the permits within a reasonably short time.

The Commission also approved a request from Beyer Drugs Inc. to transfer SDM licenses from Robert Beyer, at 1100 Ann Arbor Road and 488 N. Main. The Commission passed separate resolutions on each license and the official action will be sent to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission in Lansing.

Andrew Dunn, Ex-Steel Head, Dies in South

Andrew Dunn, of Asheville, N.C., founder and retired president of the Dunn Steel Products plant in Plymouth, died Dec. 18 at his home. Services were held Wednesday in the Schrader Funeral Home and Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in charge of Rev. Fr. Francis Byrne with burial in Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. Dunn sold his interest in the Dunn Steel to Townsend Steel Co. in 1951 and retired to Asheville, N.C., a short time later.

He was a past president of the Plymouth Rotary Club and active in civic, service and church affairs during his residency in Plymouth.

Surviving is his wife, Mrs. Marie Dunn.

City and Township Offices Close Friday

The City of Plymouth and the Plymouth Township offices will close at noon on Friday, December 23, and will re-open at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, December 27.

These offices will be open all day on Friday, December 30.

Commission OKs Aide to Manager

Steven Walters, of Battle Creek, who will receive a master's degree in Public Administration from the University of Michigan later this week, Monday was approved as the administrative assistant to City Manager Richard Blodgett by the Plymouth City Commission.

Blodgett has been seeking an aide ever since Public Safety Director and Assistant to the City Manager Kenneth Fisher turned in his resignation effective Oct. 8 to retire after 25 years service with the City.

Blodgett told the Council that Walters was highly recommended by University of Michigan officials where he has been an outstanding student in Political Science. The recommendations came from the University of Michigan Institute of Public Administration.

Walters, a native of Battle Creek, was graduated from Central High there with honors and has been a high ranking scholar during his four years at Michigan. He received his bachelor's degree in Political Science in December 1965 and will receive his master's in Public Administration this week.

The position of Administrative Assistant is a new one to the City. Fisher had been serving in the dual capacity of aide and public safety director. The latter position has been abolished and the City Commission is now looking for a Police Chief. Roger VanderVeen is serving as interim Chief.

Walters will start at a salary of $6,700 and receive a boost of $500 at the end of six months.

He is married and the father of one child.

Township Asks Price For Mains

Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees has decided to go all out and take in all water purchasers within the geographic limits of the Township.

At least that's the impression received by the City Commission in a communication from Township Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes in which she indicated the Trustees had authorized her to learn the cost of taking in all Township users currently being serviced by the City.

The letter reads in part: "On Nov. 22 in a special meeting of the Township Board, the Board authorized me to answer your letter of Nov. 7 by requesting that the City of Plymouth relinquish all water purchasers within the geographical limits of the Township of Plymouth, including those on Plymouth Road and Firwood and give us the cost of the total package."

It could be interpreted at this point that one of the city customers on Plymouth Road is the Burroughs Corporation, largest user of water in the area.

Commissioner Arch Valier moved that the matter be referred to the City Manager for study and report back to the Commission as quickly as possible.

CHRISTMAS RUSH has hit the Plymouth Post Office where employees have been working overtime for the past several days taking care of the huge last minute volume of mail. That's Postmaster Art Mulligan (left) and one of his aides looking over a stack of bags and packages that has just arrived.

A. B. Killeen Named to Head Packaging Corp.

A.B. Killeen, a veteran of 22 years with the Packaging Corporation of America, has been named General Manager of the Plymouth and Detroit container plants.

A resident of Plymouth for many years, he recently moved to Novi, and received his latest promotion on the end of a triple play as the Packaging Corporation made three top level changes.

Killeen, who had been in charge of sales at the Plymouth plant, moved up to General Manager as a successor to John J. McFada who had been in that post since 1947. And McFada moved to Gd. Rapids as general manager of that area to supplant Neil O. Van Wingen, who has been re-assigned as General Sales Manager of the Southwestern Michigan-Indiana area.

Decoration Contest Deadline Extended

A new deadline for entries in the Christmas Home Decoration Contest has been announced by the Plymouth Jaycees.

The deadline now will be Friday, December 23, according to Donald Derr, Co-Chairman of the Committee. He also stated that the judging will be done sometime between Christmas and New Year's Day.

The change in deadlines was brought about by the short time that had been allotted for the entries. In other years more than two weeks were set aside to stir interest in the contest.

"With the new deadline" Derr explained, "we should be able to attract more entries. There are some beautifully decorated homes in the area and they should be entered."

All that is required to enter is to mail a card or letter with your name and address to Jaycees, Box 279, Plymouth, Michigan 48170.

Why not send your entry now and make certain that your home will be one of those visited by the judges.

Michigan Bell Gets Approval For Expansion

The City of Plymouth will have its first high rise commercial structure before the end of 1967. That was assured by the City Commission Monday when it approved a request of Michigan Bell for permission to construct a three-story, 55-foot high, building adjacent to its present facility on Ann Arbor Road.

Charles Forbes, representing Bell, indicated the high rise building with a measurement of 200 by 150 feet has an estimated cost of $3.5 million and the equipment will have an estimated cost of $4 million.

Forbes reported the building will house tall machinery and equipment and will have a total payroll of more than 550 employees when at capacity.

Although plans are still on the drawing board, Forbes indicated that Bell will add 330 workers to its rolls with 230 currently employed at the Ann Arbor Road facility.

Forbes told the Commission that Bell hoped to seek bids on the building shortly after the first of the year with hopes of starting construction in late spring.

Inasmuch as the proposed building is in a C-2 area, the City Commission could approve the request without a public hearing. Michigan Bell had presented the plans to the Planning Commission earlier and that Board recommended approval by the City Commission.

Council Approves 3 Appointments To City Boards

Three appointments were made to city boards and commissions at Monday's City Commission meeting.

Carvel M. Bentley, principal of Plymouth High School, was appointed to the Board of Review for the term expiring January, 1970. Bentley fills the vacancy by the resignation of Richard Straub.

Bruce Richard, representing the Lions Club, was appointed to the Human Relations Committee.

Two present members of the Electrical Board of Examiners, Robert Gilles and Gordon Robinson, were re-appointed, pending their acceptance. Their new terms would expire Jan. 15, 1968.

No one has yet been appointed to the Planning Commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ronald Coosaia.

MRS. PETER MILLER and Mrs. Louis Norman admire the dolls under the tree from the collection of Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum at the latter's home during a Christmas Walk for members of Plymouth National Farm and Garden Club. The tour started with a luncheon at the Van Ornum residence, 348 West Maple, in Plymouth.

Careers in Retailing Week will be held in conjunction with a state-wide Careers in Distribution Week. Most of the retailing firms in Greater Detroit co-sponsor the area program which spotlights more than 800 different career opportunities in the Wayne, Oakland and Macomb County area.

Assisting Russ in sub-committee roles are: Mrs. Mildred Appolson, personnel manager, Ward's Pontiac Store; David Levine, training manager, Hughes-Hatcher-Suffrin; and James A. Surratt, personnel manager, The Kroger Company.

Mrs. Appolson will work primarily with the high school portion of the week-long program. She will guide high school counselors and distributive education coordinators in a cooperative effort to reach high school students.

State Police Halt 2,266 For Crimes

Michigan State Police officers made 22,275 arrests in October, 20,009 of them for traffic offenses and 2,266 on criminal complaints, according to the department's monthly activity report.

In addition, 750 juvenile traffic offenders were arrested and 694 delinquent minors and one wayward minor apprehended.

Troopers assisted 5,799 motorists, investigated 10,772 cars, issued 23,531 oral warnings to drivers, and made 13,123 property and 2,011 liquor inspections.

State to Place All New Drivers on Probation

LANSING—Starting January 1, all initial driver licenses issued in Michigan will be probationary in nature.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said that in compliance with a new law passed by the Legislature, his department is gearing up for issuance of the probationary licenses to all new driver licensees.

"We have already ordered new forms to be used for these probationary licenses, and we plan to have them in all examining stations as soon as they become available," Hare said.

These will be issued to all persons obtaining original Michigan driver licenses and will be designated as probationary for one year from the date of issuance.

This does not include persons who were licensed drivers in other states, Hare noted.

Licenses of probationary drivers will be suspended if the person is convicted of one moving violation in Michigan during the one-year probationary period or upon failure to appear before a magistrate to answer a traffic summons.

"Suspension period would be determined at the re-examination of the driver, but according to law, cannot be for less than one month or more than 12 months," Hare stated.

He also advocated a state-wide network of "refresher" driver training schools aimed at the 18 to 20-year-old group which has the highest involvement in accidents and violations against the Michigan's driver point system.

"Training these persons would have to be carefully accomplished to include both group and individual counseling where necessary to help these young drivers understand themselves in relation to their driving problems. Often these are family, drinking, and psychological problems.

"There should be more emphasis on the relationship of drinking and driving and the referral program for problem drinkers and under-21 alcoholics," Hare said.

He added that some counties already had the mechanics for such refresher schools through county driver safety schools. "There are 13 in operation which helped some 6,000 drivers last year, most of these through courts and driver improvement operations of the Michigan Department of State."

He pointed to the need for such schools in all sections of the state, designed to help the younger driver.

Franklin Students Learn From Co-op Program

One hundred twenty-seven students at Franklin High School participate in a unique program—co-operative education—a program sponsored by the Livonia Public Schools, giving students a chance to get an education and practice these skills on the job.

To illustrate the co-op story in detail, Franklin High School has made "The Co-Op Story." Produced and directed by Audrey Becker, Franklin speech instructor, the film deals with three students who participated in the program. Gerald Gazda, Observer photographer now on Air Force duty, filmed the movie.

Doreen Bordeaux, 30026 Westfield; Karen Hanshaw, 10221 Wayne, and Dave Theismeyer, 34016 Richmond, star in the 25 minute color film. Each student is shown in classes with English instructor Bernie Rowan; art instructor, Roy Sipes; and drafting and shop instructors, Bob Zang and Leon Martin. After classes each morning, the three leave for their jobs in the afternoon.

"You see them actually working on the job and applying what they learn," said Ida Falik, coordinator of Office Occupation and Distributive Education. In her ninth year of teaching, Mrs. Falik, an enthusiastic, intense professional, explained that the film "actually shows interaction between school and community. The employer is the teacher on the job."

While Doreen and Karen are being supervised by Mrs. Falik, Dave Theismeyer is being guided by Bob Rice, C.O.T. Coordinator of Trade and Industry. In his seventh year in Livonia, Bob gained his M.A. in Industrial Education and has been a coordinator for the past two years.

Doreen, Karen and Dave had to be at least 16 before entering the program. Each worked a minimum of 15 hours per week. But they could not exceed 48 hours per week in school and on the job.

Students in the program must maintain a C average or they jeopardize their chance of staying in the program and getting 1/2 credit per semester.

Not only does the program offer experience, but it pays, too. The potential drop-out is given the opportunity of staying in school and earning while he learns.

The program offers the employer carefully screened employees, future full-time employees, and active participation in the educational community.

While it fosters good will between the employer and school and enlarges the horizons of the future citizens of Livonia, the school-community cooperation sharpens the awareness of the school planners in terms of maintaining up-to-date curricula.

Doreen, Karen and Dave are representatives of how the co-op program is affecting the lives of Bentley, Franklin and Stevenson co-op students.

All three students continued in their jobs after graduation. Not only are the three former students continuing to profit from the program, but so are Himeshoch's, Wayne State University and Automotive Rubber.

THE KENDALLARKS, a chorus of 32 Mile in Farmington. Members of the group women, will present a Christmas Concert at the communities. George Assemany is the Dec. 23 beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the communities. Demery's store at Farmington Rd. and 12 director.

Rapid Growth of College Forces Study of Future Needs

Because of its phenomenal growth during the past two years, which has far exceeded expectations, a complete analysis of the future of Schoolcraft College is going to be made by a well known national concern.

The Board of Trustees has employed Dr. George Hall, of the firm of Arthur D. Little & Associates, to make the analysis and report back to the Board with the results.

During the past year two new buildings — the Waterman Student Center, and the Tech structure — have been built and already they are being taxed.

To keep up with the growth, the Board has approved final plans for another building that will contain 32 class rooms, a little theater, and faculty offices.

This building, under the present timetable, is to be constructed next March. It will be built to the south and east of the present library and will fill a pressing need.

Along with the plans for this building the trustees also approved a remodeling program for former Campus Center and the installation of a sound system in the Waterman Center.

The new classroom building will cost approximately $1,250,000 which will be shared by the state and federal governments.

Looking further into the future in an attempt to keep pace with the rapid growth, the board also instructed the administration to draw up specifications for a cultural center which is expected to cost another $3,000,000.

One of the outstanding features of the new classroom building will be the Little Theater. This is being designed to seat 200 persons and will have complete stage facilities.

This is the initial step in developing the arts and the ultimate plans call for a facility that can house a full scale opera or stage play.

It is such things as these that are expected to be revealed in the analysis now being taken.

PHS Students Should Register for Tests

Plymouth High students who expect to complete their secondary school requirements and enter college in 1968 can register now to participate in the 1967-8 National Merit Scholarship program according to Principal Carvel Bentley.

Bentley indicated Plymouth school officials have set a limit of 175 for the tests on a first come, first in basis. The school tested 135 in 1965 and 125 in 1966.

The first step for all students who wish to enter the nationwide competition is to take the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test to be given at Plymouth High on Saturday, Feb. 25.

Participating students must pay a $10 fee which is remitted to the Science Research Associates, the testing agency. If a student is unable to pay the fee, it will be paid by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation at the request of the school.

In addition to competing for the merit scholarships to be awarded in 1968, students can take the test to obtain information in planning their future education and careers.

With his NMSQT scores, each participating student will receive a handbook to help him evaluate his scores, compare his performance with that of other high school students across the country, and give him information on choosing a college and financing his education. The handbook and other interpretive materials are furnished as part of reporting the test results.

The highest scoring students in each state will be named semifinalists and will be eligible for Merit Scholarship consideration. In addition to the National Merit Scholarship financed by the MSC, more than 300 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, other organizations and individuals offer scholarship through the Merit Program.

About 13,440 students have won Merit Scholarships in the 11 programs to date. Some 2,330 Merit Scholarships were awarded in 1966 with stipends ranging from $100 to $1,500 per year for four college years. The amount of a winner's award is determined by assessing the financial assistance he will need to attend the college of his choice.

Stud Tires Prohibited In Michigan

Confusion among many motorists in Michigan regarding the legality of metal studded winter tires has prompted the State Police to point out that state law prohibits their use.

However, while the law, section 710 of the Michigan motor vehicle code, specifically prohibits the use of studded tires on public highways, it does not prohibit their sale or purchase. Violation of this section is a misdemeanor with a penalty of up to $100 in fines or up to 90 days in jail or both.

One reason behind the ban on their use is the question of damage to state roads.

Another factor is the question of reliability of safely stopping a vehicle equipped with such tires on roads free of snow and ice.

Tires will be one of the equipment items to be checked by the State Police and other law enforcement agencies who are cooperating in a three-month safety enforcement study sponsored by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

County Study Shows Vocational School Need

A vocational education survey of all the high schools outside of the City of Detroit (42 public high schools of Wayne County) revealed that progress in the field of vocational education was inching ahead slowly.

Douglas M. Selby, Consultant, Vocational and Technical Education, for the Wayne County Intermediate Office of Education, conducted the survey with the assistance of the 11 directors of vocational education in the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

Where the school district did not have a director of vocational education, Selby obtained his survey information from the high school principal.

The survey used requested information relative to trade and industrial education, business education, home economics, cooperative education and the service occupations classes now being offered in Wayne County.

A quick summary was given of each division in Selby's report:

• Trade and Industrial Education:—61 classes representing only 11 different trade choices for more than 21,000 boys; 22 high schools in Wayne County have no trade preparatory classes; too few classes for too many students.

• Business Education: all high schools have business education classes; 50 percent have no state reimbursed classes in vocational business.

• Home Economics: offered in all schools.

• Cooperative Education: offered in 30 of the 42 high schools surveyed; 1,900 students attend high school on a part-time basis and work in a chosen occupation during part of the day.

• Service Occupations: Should have great growth in decade ahead; only eight schools presently are doing anything in this area.

It would appear from this survey that some progress, though slight has been made in the past five years (1961-66). However, the final conclusions were drawn on the basis of information received:

• Present number of trade classes, 61, although it has grown during the last five years from 15, is still too inadequate to meet the overwhelming numbers of youth that need curricular offerings today.

• High schools should offer a wide range of vocational classes to more adequately meet the total needs of students. A suggested list of 30 classes to challenge the interests are:

Accountant, Air Conditioning Serviceman, Appliance Repairman, Auto Body Repairman, Automotive Service Technician, Carpenter, Baker, Chemical Technician, Commercial Artist, Commercial Food Preparation and service, Cosmetology and Data Processing.

Dental Office Assistant, Draftsman and Designer, Electronics Technician, Graphic Arts Technician, Hydraulic Mechanic, Hospital Service, Machinist, Medical Office Assistant, Nurse Aide

Chevy Camaro Grows to Big Engine Class

Chevrolet has announced it will offer a 396 cubic-inch V-8 engine and Turbo-Hydramatic transmission for the new Camaro.

E. M. Estes, general manager, said a Camaro convertible equipped with these "big car" options—hitherto available only on the regular Chevrolet and Chevelle SS models—will be exhibited at the Detroit Automobile Show opening Saturday at Cobo Hall.

The new options, to be offered in both coupe and convertible models, will be available early next year.

Dealers will begin taking orders next month for Camaros with the 325 horsepower TurboJet V-8 engine. Besides the Turbo-Hydramatic, the new engine will be available with 4-speed and heavy-duty 3-speed manual transmissions.

"Addition of the high performing 396 engine and Turbo-Hydramatic transmission brings still more big car features to Camaro, increasing the total power team selection to 18," Estes said.

and Office Machine Repairman.

Plastics Fabricator, Pneumatic Control Mechanic, Shrubbery and Lawn Care, Small Engine Repairman, Upholsterer, Visual Reproduction Technician, Watch Repairman, and Welder.

Even in a large comprehensive high school such a list offered is difficult since not enough enrollment would result. Thus, the survey report offers the following solution:

1.) An Area Vocational Education School: This school would be located in an area vocational center serving from two to ten school districts depending on population of the area. Students would be bussed to school for half-day sessions in vocational and technical courses and returned to home school for academic work.

2.) Five Area Vocational and Technical Centers: A Wayne County area study should be conducted to verify the need for these five centers; if needed, their location could be determined by information from the area survey.

"If we are ever going to catch up to the rising labor demands from business, industry, and the trades, we must get started immediately gathering information. Immediate support for vocational educational programs in Wayne County to meet the complete needs of youth is urgent and critical," concluded Selby.

Slogans on Car Plates

For the first time since Michigan began sloganizing on its license plates in 1954 to promote the state, plates this year bear two slogans, the traditional "Water-Winter Wonderland" and the new slogan, "Great Lake State."

Most of the plates, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, will still have the "Water-Winter Wonderland" slogan. This will be carried on all passenger license plates, about 4-million of the total of 4½-million expected to be sold this year. "The new slogan," says Hare, "appears on all commercial license plates."

It was changed at the suggestion of the tourist industry, Hare noted, and the current plan is to go to the new slogan on all plates next year.

Hare personally thinks the new slogan is intriguing:

"It challenges the imagination right off because many persons think that we made a mistake and that it should read, 'Great Lakes State.' But it's deliberate and to the point because Michigan is truly a great lake state, surrounded by the Great Lakes and containing thousands of inland lakes.

"Another decided advantage is that it is a one-line slogan which will allow us to either make the numbers or slogan larger next year when Jackson Prison is able to re-tool for a complete run of plates with the new slogan."

Hare reminded motorists to "buy 1967 plates" early.

"Even though the dates for commercial plate sales were changed to start and end a month early on January 31, 1967, we still may have the same old last-minute jam-up at our license stations in late February," Hare said.

He urged all Michigan drivers to buy their plates in December and early January.

Airman Edwin J. Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Preston of 29630 Buchingham, Livonia, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as a U.S. Air Force medical service specialist.

Airman Preston is a 1965 graduate of Bentley High School.

Prompt refrigeration of fresh foods is a must if you want to preserve the full value of the product. Food and nutrition specialists at Michigan State University offer several suggestions. Raw meats should be covered loosely to allow air circulation to retarded bacteria growth.

Elections Are Costly Items In Michigan

Not only are elections getting more costly for candidates, but government units themselves spend many millions of dollars to hold elections in Michigan.

"Expenses to all levels of government are staggering," Secretary of State James M. Hare noted in commenting about the recent election.

"Not only is it expensive to gear up for the election by having to buy voting machines, have ballots printed, and a hundred-and-one other arrangements, but hiring persons to work at the polls is a big cost factor for many local government units," Hare said.

Hiring persons to work in Michigan's more than 5,300 precincts mounts up to nearly a half-million dollars. Printing is another half-million dollar item. And add to this new voting machines at a cost of $1,700 each, as well as the storage, transportation costs for moving machines, and getting them ready.

Canvasses after elections are also expensive, says Hare.

"Canvassers for the state's 1,260 township units are paid actual expenses plus whatever compensation is ordered by the township board. Based on four canvassers per township, this would be around 5,000 persons who have to be paid.

"And this doesn't include the 83 county boards of canvassers who are paid at the same pay schedule as county supervisors," Hare noted.

"Add the machinery of conducting elections to the millions of dollars spent in campaigning by hundreds of candidates, and you have a multi-million dollar expense item each time Michigan's electorate goes to the polls."

No More Room for Rump

One of the best reasons for public officials not holding closed door meetings came from an unexpected source at an unexpected moment last week. The comments concerning these types of sessions, kindly called "executive meetings" by their participants, came during testimony in the preliminary court examination of three former Garden City officials charged with conspiracy and misuse of public funds in the 1961 purchase of land for its existing Civic Center.

Former City Councilman Max Brown was testifying about the events leading up to the buying of three parcels when he mentioned that several days before the council officially authorized the purchase and closing of the sale, they held an "informal meeting."

The assistant attorney general prosecuting the case referred to the meeting as a "rump meeting."

Wayne Municipal Judge Seiler said that "rump meeting" is the proper term for the meeting.

Brown, also commented that "special meetings may not be the right term" for the session and it could be called an executive session.

The former councilman testified that "no vote was taken (at the meeting) but there was a mutual agreement to consummate the deal at the regular council meeting."

This takes on added significance when considered in the light that the check for the land was made out the day following the "rump" meeting and cashed by a realtor the day after that. It all sounds very sweet and neat but there is one little problem—the money was given to the realtor before the council officially and publicly approved the check.

The Observer agrees that there are circumstances such as personnel problems or other issues which shouldn't be rushed before the public but, given the proper atmosphere and conditions, public officials with less than sterling characters could feel that while the doors are closed—why not discuss something else at the same time? It could lead to a nasty situation which happened in the Oakland County community of Troy several years ago.

At that time, the City Commission went into executive session for a legitimate purpose—to hear its city manager point out the administrative flaws and shortcomings of one of his department heads. The closed door session was, at first, just meant to bring the commission up to date on a personnel problem, in addition to discussing a drainage problem.

But, with the doors still closed following the public meeting, and after the commission politely asked citizens and reporters to leave the room for the night, the commission decided it was a good time to resolve the personnel problem. They reconvened the meeting in public session and promptly fired the department head.

"We did it in a public meeting," the commissioners said afterwards, "but it isn't our fault that no one was around." What they neglected to point out was that they themselves asked the public to leave and their action came sometime after midnight.

The after-effects of that closed meeting were felt 10 months later when the dismissed administrator ran for election to the city commission and in the emotional backlash of the method used to separate him from the city's payroll, defeated the man who voted for his dismissal by a 2-1 margin.

Some rump.

—LEONARD POGER

T'was The Night Before . . .

No one has cynically reminded us during our "Yuletide" shopping days, as we shove our way through the Christmas melees, there are only three more "napalm bombing days" to Christmas.

Such macabre thoughts could well spoil the happy, carefree moments at this jolly, sacred time of the year. Only Scrooge or the local village idiot could be so dastardly to think of the Vietnam War.

And yet, with the billions of dollars (no need to try and quote an accurate figure here) invested in such a venture, it might be appropriate to revise the time honored "T" was the Night Before Christmas" jingle to read thusly . . .

"T'was the night before bombing Hanoi
And all through the aircraft carrier hangar
Not a bomber was stirring
Not even in Laos

The napalm bombs were all stacked by the planes with care
In hopes that the Christmas truce soon would be there
The pilots were nestled all snug in their beds
While visions of shredded Vietcong
Danced through their heads . . ."

Much Ado About Something?

Now you see it, now you don't.

The magician's trick came too close to home last week when the Farmington Township administration couldn't make up its mind about holding a meeting.

A special session for consideration of a fund transfer was called late Monday afternoon for Tuesday evening. The session was cancelled just as suddenly late Tuesday afternoon.

The Township administration has never played the Hamlet, indecisive role before and it doesn't really become them.

Supposedly, the meeting was called to transfer funds from the Township's general and revolving funds to the Building and Site Funds. It was canceled because the amount to be transferred was "infinitesimal" and Farmington Township Supervisor Curt Hall said that the Township "had more important matters."

Then why call the meeting in the first place?

To continue the revision of such a lovely bit of traditional verse is a mockery, a malicious bit of literary butchery.

Yet, our desires, our feelings about brotherly love aren't traditional enough, not strongly rooted enough to stop the human butchering, the sacrifice of life that continues daily in the jungles of Vietnam.

—WALLY ROBERTS

'Thinkin' on It'

We read last weekend that the first topless waitresses have made their appearance at the Cleopatra Club in Houston, Texas—with police so far offering no objections.

The Observer has no wish to take an editorial stand on this matter at this time. But we're sure many would agree with the statement of the Rev. Johnson Christensen, head of the Houston Clergy Association. Mr. Christensen said he had been unaware of the toplessness "and would rather look into it before I make any comment."

Another Dog Complaint

Editor:

I too am a victim of Donald Bennett's Puppy Paradise. I had to take the puppy to a veterinarian four days after we purchased it and was told it had distemper. As soon as the doctor was told where I purchased the dog, I was told Puppy Paradise has a reputation wide spread for selling sick dogs. Our puppy lasted 26 days and cost $35 in treatments before she had to be destroyed. The policeman at the dog pound told me our dog was the fifth dog from Puppy Paradise to be brought in that particular week. I think it is a cruel crime to make any dog suffer the way ours did. I had a guarantee alright, but who wants to go through that twice.

Someone Is Happy

Editor:

This is in reference to Mrs. M. Robinson who is unhappy living in Livonia because of the children taking a short cut across her lawn.

She has several alternatives to eliminate this problem. She can either put up a barrier to keep the children from crossing on her grass or she can plant "play ground" grass, thus eliminating the barrier or she can move to another area, where there are no children. And since she has such a low opinion on how our City is being run, I suggest that she move and try to find this so called paradise which she seems to think exists.

Shares Christmas View

Thank you for printing Faith Gillespie's fine editorial on Christmas in the Dec. 14 issue of The Observer. Dissatisfaction and confusion with the meaning of our Christmas Season are common, but never have I heard or read so eloquent a commentary on it. It was strikingly presented; every phrase hit home; and its conclusion bore a truth that was moving without being maudlin. Congratulations to The Observer and to Mrs. Gillespie for allowing us to see our society's way of celebration for what it really is.

Open Letter to Livonia Charter Commission:
Att: Mr. James Mies.

At the last executive meeting of the Livonia Non-Partisan Club, Inc., it was resolved that we encourage the Livonia Charter Commission to keep the City Election on a non-partisan basis. We feel that non-partisan government is best for all concerned in city government. This type of election offers the people of Livonia an opportunity to vote for the best people in the city irrespective of party affiliation.

Through a copy of this letter to the news media we urge the citizens of Livonia to express their opinion on this election matter.

Interested citizens should contact the Charter Commission of Livonia by letter, post card or phone call concerning their preference.

Water Rates Too High

Dear Editor:

We believe that Detroit is charging Garden City along with all the other suburbs who use Detroit water, much higher rates than are necessary.

Further we believe our Mayor and Council along with all the other suburbs using Detroit water should ask for a complete report as to why our rates are so much higher than those of Detroit users.

It seems that since there is a vast expansion of people using Detroit water there should be legislation passed regulating the rates that can be charged consumers, to apply in the same manner as telephone, gas, electricity and under regulation of the State Public Service Commission.

We urge all affected people to contact their Councilmen, Mayor, and State Representative. Ask them to contact the Detroit Water Board and find out in dollars and cents why water rates to suburban users are so high and probably will continue to go higher if we sit on our hands and do nothing but complain about the outrageous rates being charged us.

OBSERVING the Scene . . .

By MYRA CHANDLER

This Christmas season seems to be the year of the cynic — the disbeliever; Scrooges are everywhere and frankly this year they got to me.

I have heard more music, i.e. "deck the halls with plastic holly;" more columns like Wally Roberts' on the editorial page this week, more stories and conversation on the commercialism of the holiday—the hypocrisy of it in view of world affairs, that I felt my spirit withering.

It reached the point of having no Christmas list made out, no cards selected to remember my friends, no party plans and a desire to hide under the bed, in spirit, until Jan. 2.

Even the Christmas ornaments, unpacked from happier years, seemed to carry messages of woe and loneliness. Bah! Humbug!

Then two things happened. Letters by the droves started arriving in The Observer mail in answer to a chance idea that maybe Santa Claus needed some help and so we offered to answer Santa letters sent to the newspaper. Would you believe 372 letters came from little folk in our six communities?

They were written on every type stationery, all conceivable methods of spelling, and all asking for an amazing variety of goodies. They had one definite idea in common. They all had faith.

They were honest in their love for the image of Santa Claus, their desire to please and their expression of love. They were wonderful.

At home I sat down and read a Christmas story out of last year's Christmas Ideals to my own little girl and she was delighted and through her led to visit Santa myself. My older daughter's participation in the choir exposed me to children's voices raised in praise of the glorious birth of the Christ Child. So through the eyes and the spirit of the young, once more the magic that is Christmas was born.

It was almost too late.

Not too late, due to the planning of the store helpers of Santa to place orders, and not too late to plan a party—but "sorry about that, friends" much too late to get your greetings in the mail in view of those 372 new little friends who are expecting an answer to their urgent requests.

If it happened to me again—or it ever happens to you—run as fast as you can to the nearest group children and spend a little time with them. It's cheaper than a psychiatrist and it's darn dark and lonely under the bed.

What might help you if you are in the throes of downsville is simply expressed by Carol Aust, written when she was nine and sent to me by her mother.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

On Christmas Eve
Some folks believe
There is no Santa Claus

But when I see
A Christmas tree
I know there is because

Each tiny light
With halo bright
That's shining without pause

Reminds us of
The Christ Child's love
There is a Santa Claus!

Praying Isn't Enough

I agree that we should become more peace-minded but wonder at the inconsistency of praying for peace while we continue to destroy crops, slaughter and even burn alive men women and children in a small and poor country which has never harmed us.

It is encouraging to find public sentiment mounting against the official government policy in Vietnam. The opposition is based on both moral and legal considerations. How can we expect all of our youth to be respecters of persons, property and law while the present government itself violates our own constitution, the United Nations Charter, international law and the 1954 Geneva Agreements. For documentation see the Congressional Record of Sept. 23, 1965 where eight pages are devoted to a memorandum of Law of Lawyers' Committee On American Policy Toward Vietnam. The study was made by a group of distinguished lawyers and later signed by hundreds of prominent attorneys.

All across these United States thousands of clergymen are individually and collectively warning us of the folly and wickedness of trying to settle differences through the brutality of war with all of its obscenity. Their words often fall on deaf ears but those who are persuaded of the wisdom found in the teachings of Jesus and other great prophets are inspired to carry on in behalf of truly human and democratic values. And the truth is that there is nothing democratic about involuntary servitude such as the forcing of our youth to maim and kill other youth thousands of miles from home. Nor is it democratic to force taxpayers to pay two billion dollars per month to wage an illegal war. And all of this while not one state in the U.S. provides adequate care for mentally ill children. In Michigan alone there are 1,728 such children waiting for placement.

Clara M. Vincent

OMBUDSMAN

(A special feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

(This letter was in with the Santa Claus mail and Ombudsman thought he could help.)

Dear Santa Claus:

I suppose you will think my request will be the most unusual one you ever received but I am really in earnest about it.

To begin with I am quite old to be writing you but right now you are my last resort of help.

I am a mother of 11 children, (four boys) two who were in Germany during the other war and my baby boy arrived in VietNam on Nov. 28, 1966.

We are quite a musical family. I am very talented but it is all ear music. I have written many poems and songs. I went to the expense of having one put into sheet music and recorded but have never had the money to put it on the market. Even though I mention this one it is not the one I'd like to have marketed.

Since my son has been in VietNam, I have written the words and music to two songs.

The first ones I've written in years, but everyone who hears them say they should be on the market before Christmas; I've tried but so far I have been unsuccessful in getting any information or help to do anything with them. They are both too beautiful not to be used this season since they are about our boys away from home this time of year.

I am sure if they could be heard they would sell, but I need other music or need to sing with music behind me. I need some advice on who should hear them.

If you could be of any help to me and answer real soon I would appreciate it.

MRS. JODY RICHARDS
Redford Township

Dear Jody:

Ombudsman wonders how so many songs get to be popular, so tough is it to break into the songwriting business. We did locate a young man who plays with an orchestra, and is also a song writer. His name is Eric Morgeson and his phone number is 722-3102. Call him, let him hear your songs and he will tell you who to contact next.

Good luck!

A Very Merry Christmas
To One and All
By W. W. EDGAR

THIS being the season of the year when we sing of Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men, and forget our troubles and animosities I would like to take the occasion to extend greetings:

I wish a Merry Christmas to the boys in Vietnam, to the soldiers and sailors everywhere—to the Army, Navy, Air Cadets, Marines, Coast Guard, Wacs, Waves, to Red Cross nurses and to every boy and girl, men and women in uniform.

I want to wish a Merry Christmas to those who can't remember names, and to most of those whose names they can't remember. To the little woodchucks and to all sandwich men. To the manufacturers of anagrams and to the inventor of jig-saw puzzles. And to all persons who don't eat spinach.

I want to offer season's greetings to the people who refuse to wear wrist watches and to the third tallest man in the Eastern Hemisphere. To the men who stoutly stick to the custom of wearing vests and gold watch chains. To people who stand in line in front of cinema palaces and to those who never have eaten snails. To the people who chew plug tobacco and to those who prefer scrap. To the man who invented fly swatters and to the children of retired baseball players. To all writers who were born in late February and to all contestants in marble shooting and top spinning contests.

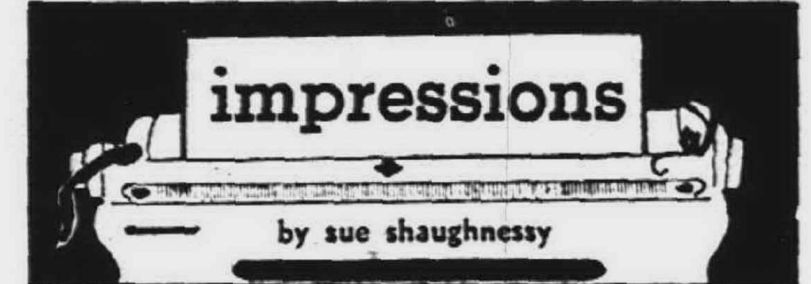

To the judges of pigeon races and to all sign painters. To the people who refuse to listen to radio programs and to men who wrestle bears. I'd like to give a special greeting to those who don't watch television and to all astronauts and all other folks who go up in the air easily.

I want to wish the greetings of the season to all people whose initials are W.W.E. and to all canary breeders. To slogan writers and all boys under 13 who can spell, pronounce and define the word hecatompedon. To the ushers at our large movie houses and to those who can recite "Frankie and Johnnie" without bungling the nineteenth verse. To the man who invented the V-neck sweater and to the first victim of a "crab" in rowing. To all athletes who never signed a testimonial for an article they never used and to all men who drive reindeer in Lapland.

I WISH the best of everything to the fashion designers who conceived the idea of spiked heels for women and to the man who made the first rubber mat. To the men who wear beaver caps and to those who still drive high wheel sulks. To the people who trimmed Christmas trees and hung holly wreaths and to people who never walk under ladders, accept two-dollar bills or pick up pins. To the few hardy men who still use mustache cups and to the men who sharpen figure skates. To the men who still shave with an old-fashioned straight razor and to the inventor of the electric shaver.

To all taxi drivers whose first name is Herman and to the time-keepers at football, basketball and hockey games, and to all those who booed the Lions during the season and tossed snow balls at Coach Harry Gilmer at the finish of the season. To the men who drive the ice sweeping machines between the periods of a hockey game and to all customers who litter the ice with cigarette butts, half-smoked cigars, paper, false teeth, galoshes, umbrellas and other debris.

To rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief.
A Merry Christmas to one and all.

by sue shaughnessy

It seems to be the story of this column that we're behind our fellow staff members.

At Thanksgiving time the "experienced" (he doesn't like to be called old) newsman Eddie Edgar beat us by a week in discussing Thanksgiving.

Last week he did it again on Christmas. Not only that but the lead editorial was on Christmas. Even though it is tardy we would be remiss, however, in not writing a Christmas column.

This week we are going to indulge ourselves and write of the small, purely personal things that Christmas means.

● Christmas is the ice cold car when you come out of Midnight Mass and the shivering while waiting for the heater to do its job. (Of course, the car wouldn't be so cold if the ladies would wear long coats instead of short fur jackets, but then it wouldn't be an extra special occasion.)

● Christmas is reading the H. C. L. Jackson classic about the little girl in the yellow dress and what happens when she asks how Santa can fit into all the different size chimneys and how he can travel throughout the world during the course of one night.

● Christmas is a fussy pastry kind of cookie called Banbury Tart whose baking odors have filled the house just before the holidays ever since we can remember.

● Christmas is the family story about how the Christmas Tree and presents were all locked in the sunroom one year and the children not knowing who had the key. The adults wouldn't tell either.

● Christmas from a long time ago is a fortune in two crisp, fresh one dollar bills in an envelope from an uncle.

● Christmas is decorating the huge tree as a regular part of a birthday party just a few days before the holiday.

● Christmas is egg nog in the morning.

● Christmas is excitement of children who are just about uncontrollable as the relatives gather and the new load of presents are distributed and opened.

● And, finally, Christmas is the one time of the year that there is certain to be an adult family get-together for an evening characterized by much teasing between both brothers and sisters.

Christmas is many things, but most of all it is a feeling of "Good Will Toward Men" and this is our wish for all of you.

Photographer Exhibits Shots Of Village

The first public exhibition of a collection of black and white pictures taken at Greenfield Village by world famous photographer, Philippe Halsman, is on display in the lobby of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association Building in downtown Detroit.

Visiting the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village last year, Halsman recorded on film the many activities and exhibits at the 260-acre historical complex. A group of these same photographs in color was used for a special eight page feature in the July issue of Readers Digest.

Halsman's photographs have appeared on the cover of Life Magazine a record of 98 times. He has made two around the world tours for Time-Life picture taking assignments. In 1963 he was one of three Americans selected in the "Twelve International Photographers" exhibit at the Huntington Hartford Museum of Modern Art.

Halsman is the author of several photographic books. Two of his portraits, Adlai Stevenson and Dr. Albert Einstein, appeared on U.S. postage stamps.

The special exhibition of Greenfield Village photographs will be open through the holiday season until mid-January, during the regular business hours, at First Federal Savings and Loan, 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Thursday and until 6 p.m., Friday.

Police Chief Warns of Holiday Traffic Tragedies

Rodger Vanderveen, acting Chief of Police, observed that the Christmas Holidays are traditionally the most disastrous in terms of our traffic record — and that the upcoming New Year's week-end is usually close behind.

"This is a tragic commentary," the chief emphasized, "especially at the time of year when 'good will toward men' should be the dominant spirit."

What happens to dislocate our traffic record so drastically during this season?

The chief contends a basic cause is a sort of "psychological dislocation" that takes place in people.

"We know better, but still we get caught up in a complex turmoil — last minute rushes ... parties ... heavier than normal drinking ... all kinds of pressures."

"A person subjected to such stress," he continued

"is less able to cope with the normal, every-day problems of staying safe — and this applies to walkers as well as to drivers."

The chief admitted it's difficult to change people, but did point out that every walker or driver has the responsibility to recognize the "psychological danger signals" in himself and modify his behavior accordingly.

"I don't believe that's asking too much," acting chief Vanderveen emphasized. We all know the right and safe way of doing things. We may just have to work a little harder doing it."

The chief cited parties and more than normal seasonal drinking as an example. We can't overdo and then slide behind the wheel of a car thinking, "I can get away with it, just this time."

There are better, surer ways of getting home, he contended. Acting chief Vanderveen urged all Plymouth citizens to think ahead about the special dangers of the season; of the weather, and of the holiday's psychological pressures — and to adjust accordingly.

At the same time, he pledged all steps possible to hold down this year's holiday record to within reasonable limits; and ended with this word of warning:

A&P Opens New Livonia Store

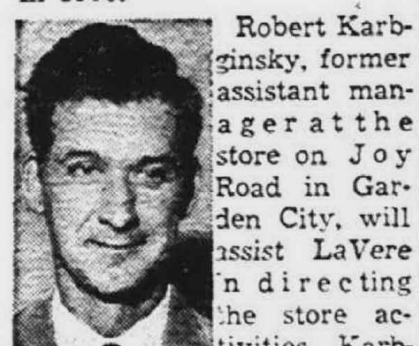

A&P's new super market at Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail in Livonia opened Wednesday, Dec. 14.

La Vere

Maurice LaVere, manager of the new store, was previously manager of the store at 11811 East Eight Mile, Warren, since June 15, 1963. LaVere, born in Saginaw, is married to the former Pauline Abela. They have four children, Donna 7, Marianne 6, Deborah Anne 5, and David 4.

He began his career with the company as clerk in 1953, advancing to stock auditor in 1958, and assistant manager in 1960.

Robert Karbinsky, former assistant manager at the store on Joy Road in Garden City, will assist LaVere in directing the store activities. Karbinsky is married to the former Edith Harvey of Dearborn. The couple have five children: Jay 20, Thomas 15, Terri 12, James 8, and Tobbi 6.

Karbinsky started at A&P as a stock boy in 1943, advancing to clerk in 1944 and produce department head in 1950.

Heading the meat department of the new store is Chester Moss, who served in the same capacity at the Ann Arbor store. He is married to the former Martha McAnally. The couple have two children: Todd 3, and LuAnn 6 months. He began his career as a meat clerk in 1958, advancing to a meat cutter in 1960. Moss served four years in the Air Force, 1954 to 1958.

O'Brien

David O'Brien heads the produce department. O'Brien was head of the produce department at the Ann Arbor store in Plymouth. He began his career as a clerk-checker in 1959, advancing to head stock in 1963 and produce department head in 1966. His career was interrupted in 1961 when he served with the Army.

O'Brien is married to the former Betty Jane Hackmeier of Detroit. Every effort has been put forth to make certain customers are provided with a large variety of merchandise at all times. To make sure that shelves are never empty, the store maintains behind-the-scenes stock rooms where extra supplies of fast-selling items are kept on hand.

Particular emphasis has been placed on the meat department which dominates the rear of the store. Here on display will be a large variety of fresh, smoked and processed meats in easy-to-reach cases. Personal service will also be available for those who desire special cuts for specific occasions.

The multi-deck refrigerated cases will be stocked with a large variety of garden-fresh vegetables and fruits.

Every effort will be put forth to make certain that all their customers in the Livonia area will be provided with the best possible facilities for shopping for a complete variety of food needs.

Biggest Week for East

MAN OF THE HOUR is Garden City East's Mike Maciasz (20) as he goes high to outboard two players from Inkster. East won twice last week.

"Our best week in the school's history..." That's what back-to-back victories over Garden City West and Inkster meant to Garden City East's prep basketball team.

"It's not very often that we can down our two arch rivals in the same week," declared East coach Billy Joe Young.

But there was the record: On Tuesday East had no trouble with Garden City West, winning, 60-47. Three nights later, East outbattled Inkster, 78-75.

A big third period decided the East-West struggle.

West had jumped into a 15-13 lead after the first period before East rallied on the scoring of Joe Huber and Rick Clack, who knocked in 16 and 10 points, respectively, in the first half to take a 29-25 bulge at the intermission.

Then in the third period, East really went to work, popping in 19 points to West's eight to put the game out of reach.

Huber, who made all his points on five baskets and six free throws before the intermission, led the winners while Clack had 13 and Mike Maciasz 10, along with Charles Sakmar. It was Sakmar with eight points and Maciasz with six that led the big, East third-period assault.

Jim Mincey had 14 in a losing cause while Dan Bazzarelli scored 12 and Gary Robinson 10.

It was West over East, 58-43, in the reserve encounter with Steve Mellinger's 14 tops for the victors. Mike Bremenour knocked in 18 in a losing cause.

Against Inkster, East rushed on top, 22-17, in the first quarter—and luckily, too.

Because Inkster had the scoring edge the rest of the way and twice crept within two points in the closing few moments.

Then it was Sakmar with two free throws and a basket who eased the pressure for the victors.

Huber had 23 points on eight baskets and seven free throws. It was closely followed by Maciasz with 22. Sakmar had 10 and Clack and Bill Crowell six each.

The reserve battle was a thriller, going to East, 58-57, on a deciding free throw by John Chute.

West rebounded from its loss to East and downed Taylor Kennedy, 65-60, in a Tri-Rivers League game.

A fast start in which East outscored Kennedy, 18-10, helped to settle matters. Gary Robinson pumped in five baskets in the first quarter and two more in the second period while Jim Mincey caged ten in the first half to give West a 38-30 lead at the intermission.

Free throws proved decisive in the game as Kennedy outscored West, 27-25, in baskets. But at the charity line it was West with 15 out of 27 to Kennedy's six for 22.

Robinson caged 19 points for the winners, Mincey 12, Bob Gamache 11 and Bazzarelli nine.

The West reserves again won, 55-41, with Dwayne Drewitz tossing in 19.

2nd Half Lapse Fatal to Rocks

Too bad for Plymouth high's basketball team last Friday night's game with Belleville didn't end with the first half.

After one quarter Plymouth had led, 19-12, and it was 37-33 for the Rocks at the intermission.

But from then on, it was all Belleville. The Belleville team notched 13 points to Plymouth's nine in the third period and closed out operations by putting in 26 points in the final period while Plymouth could settle for only 16.

It was a ding-dong finish, however. After Belleville went ahead, 64-60 with a minute or so to go, John Ellison clicked for Plymouth to pull his team to within two points of a tie.

But with six seconds remaining, a pair of free throws sewed up matters for Belleville.

Ron Lowe with seven points and Mike Stakias with six had paced the early uprising for Plymouth.

Stakias and Nate Lulbrand each had 14 points to top the Plymouth cause.

Lowe finished with 11, followed by Mike Kubik with nine and John Davis and Ellison with eight each.

The Plymouth reserves came out a 52-38 winner in the last action the Rocks will see until after the Christmas holiday break.

Holiday Meets for Area Preps

For most the area's high school basketball teams, there'll be only practice during the holiday vacation from school classes.

But for a few teams there'll be some play in the next two weeks.

Garden City East plays St. Gregory this Wednesday night while Thurston engages Redford Union in the RU gym on Friday evening.

Two tournaments will attract four area teams next week.

Farmington, Bentley and RU will take part in the Northwest Invitational which begins Tuesday at Bentley and Southfield.

Farmington plays Berkley at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Bentley with Bentley taking on Ypsilanti in the nightcap at 9.

At Southfield, the opener matched Redford Union against Walled Lake at 7 p.m., to be followed by Wayne and Southfield.

Thurston goes to the River Rouge Invitational and plays Highland Park in Tuesday's opener at 5 p.m.

In each tourney, play will be spread out over four nights. Each team plays three times. The title games will be played on Friday, Dec. 30.

Pistons Will Sponsor Christmas Party

There'll be a special Christmas Night party at Cobo Arena next Monday evening.

Highlighting the festivities will be the National Basketball Association battle between the Detroit Pistons and the New York Knickerbockers in another renewal of the Dave Bing-Cazzie Russell rookie duel.

In addition, numerous youngsters will go home loaded down with extra gifts to be presented by the Pistons.

There'll be bicycles, basketballs, Pistons T-shirts and other items for the lucky boys and girls.

The Pistons and Knicks will be contesting for the fifth time this season. So far each has won twice.

In their latest meeting at Cobo Arena, New York squeezed out a 118-116 victory on a basket by Willis Read and two free throws by Walt Bellamy in the final 40 seconds of action.

As for Bing and Russell in their head-on meetings, Bing so far has a commanding edge. He has scored 69 points against the Knicks, hitting 20, 18 and 24 points in the last three clashes after counting only seven in his debut at Madison Square Garden as a professional.

Russell has had his problems against the Pistons, totaling only 21 points. His best effort in the series came at Cobo Arena on Nov. 23 when he dropped in four baskets and two free throws.

Despite the holiday weekend, the Pistons will get little chance to relax.

They have a date with the Chicago Bulls in Chicago Friday night, play the Baltimore Bullets in Baltimore Sunday night and then meet the revived Cincinnati Royals in Cincinnati Tuesday night before finishing the 1966 part of their schedule against the Philadelphia 76ers at Fort Wayne on ec. 30.

Tickets for the Pistons' Christmas Night party now are on sale at Cobo Arena, the Pistons' main office at Cobo Arena, at the various major J. L. Hudson outlets, all Sears stores and Grinnells Downtown.

TIGHT DEFENSE: Bob Gamache of Garden City West (22) finds himself in tight quarters as he tries to score against Kennedy. Gamache was able to get off his shot as his team won.

Franklin Fights Off N. Farmington's Rally

The nice things about sports is that you never know what's going to happen. A game that starts out like it's going to develop into a romp frequently turns into a thriller. A good example: Last Friday night's Franklin win over North Farmington, 72-68, in a Northwest Suburban League game.

Franklin, now 2-0 in the league and 3-0 overall, got off to a flying start on North Farmington, which stands 1-1 in the loop and 1-3 overall.

By the end of the first quarter it was Franklin, 16-11. Halftime came with Franklin leading 40-22.

Carl Gulbronsen had drilled in 17 points in those first 16 minutes for Franklin while teammate Chris Wendrick added 12.

To start the third period, North Farmington went into a full-court press. With Mark Faller scoring seven points and Jim Rulapaugh and Roger Schultz six each, the Raiders chopped the Franklin lead to 54-47 by the three-quarter mark.

The North Farmington machine, Faller, in particular, kept on roaring in high in the fourth period and in short order the Raiders found themselves leading by four points.

However, the scoring and rebounding of Ron Wicks helped Franklin put in on a stretch drive that finally paid off with the victory.

Wicks made eight points in the closing minutes and was supported by four points by Gulbronsen.

Gulbronsen closed the evening as the game's high scorer on 12 baskets and two free throws for 28 points. Wendrick added 17 and Wicks 14 for the victors.

Faller was brilliant for the losers. He tossed in 25 points, getting 21 in the second half. Rulapaugh with 13 and Schultz with 10 also hit in double figures for the losers.

Rocks in Split

Plymouth high's swimming team jumped off to a fast start beating Wyandotte, 68-37, but then lost to Allen Park, 66-39, in its Suburban Six League debut under new coach, Dick Gretzinger.

In the victory over Wyandotte, Chick Porter captured the 50 and 100-yard free style, Pat McCord the 200-yard free style and 100-yard butterfly and Al Reinas the individual medley and 400-yard free style.

Brian Faust copped the backstroke and Biff Leonard the breast stroke.

Porter in the 50-yard free and Leonard in the breast stroke accounted for the only Bentley victories against Allen Park.

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

Utilizing a sports column to send along our annual holiday greetings:

MERRY CHRISTMAS:

To every mother in suburbia, who lugs the kids to school, to practice, to church, to the doctor and still finds time to wash sports uniforms and cheer for sonny boy in those Little League encounters — be they football, basketball or baseball.

To the dads who contribute of their time to help youngsters on athletic teams, even though there are times when dad's "instruction" hurts, rather than helps the boys; and to those dads, who manage and coach little league teams and give all the kids a chance to play, instead of putting the stress on winning at any cost.

To these same parents, who have reached into their pocketbooks to authorize extra mileage so that our area schools can offer the kids the best possible — and this holds true in the academic subjects, as well as athletics.

To coaches, who put in 14 and 18 hour days; who serve as teachers, as "fathers," as trainers and doctors, and almost anything you can dream of... and, yet, often times are told: "What a soft job you have."

THE BEST:

To all the airline stewardesses we have met during the past year, whether they work for American or United or Northwest or Delta... they always flash that smile even when they're "dead tired" after literally and figuratively walking their way across the country.

To the men in service, to their heavy-hearted mothers and wives and to the girl friends who try to smile in those touching departure scenes you see at every airport in our land today.

To our better half, Elaine, with whom on this day we are celebrating two decades of togetherness; it takes a certain understanding to tolerate a husband who works the craziest hours and bounces in and out of town like the yo-yos kids play with.

To everybody connected with The Observer newspapers, especially the young ladies who proof-read our copy and make certain they catch the mistakes we seem to let slip through on this typewriter.

To Fred Zollner and Ed Coil of the Pistons, to George Puscas of the Free Press, who have stood

1967 RACING DATES

JULY 31 through NOVEMBER 4

UP AND IN goes a shot by Thurston's Bob to do something with no success. Thurston Holmes as two John Glenn defenders try rolled to an easy victory in a league game.

Thurston Too Much for Glenn Star

One man usually can't do it alone in basketball. It takes team balance.

This was proved last Friday night when Thurston crushed John Glenn, 87-74, in a Northwest Suburban League encounter.

Glenn presented the night's No. 1 star in Terry Wright, who flipped in 41 points to keep his team fairly close on most occasions.

But Thurston turned loose four double-figure scorers, led by Roger Stephan with 30 and Reg Barringer with 25, to pull out an easy victory.

Wright and Stephan each collected 11 points in the third period, but Thurston extended it lead to 64-49. It made no difference to Thurston that Wright picked up 12 more points in the final period when Glenn outscored Thurston, 25-23.

St. Agatha 5 Falls Twice

A double defeat dulled action for St. Agatha high's basketball team last week.

The Redford cagers fell to St. Francis Xavier, 58-44; then lost to Ann Arbor St. Thomas, 67-47.

Wright during the game hit for 15 baskets and 11 free throws.

Stephan drilled the nets for 14 baskets and two charities. Close behind with 25 points on nine baskets and seven free tosses was Barringer.

Wardrop scored 14 and Bob Holmes 10 for the victors.

Thurston, which plays at Redford Union this Friday night and then takes on Highland Park next Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock in the opener of the River Rouge Invitational, also won the reserve contest. The score was 83-74, as Urban Rice notched 23 points and Tim Carr 17 for the winners.

Glenn's Webb clicked for 23 points.

Tartars Battle 2 Ohio Rivals

The Tartars host a pair of Ohio invaders at Detroit Osborn High School with Ohio Northern in for an 8 p.m. clash on Saturday and Ohio Wesleyan following on Monday.

WSU inaugurates two new series with the games. The games are the first two of three that WSU will play against Ohio schools this winter as the 20-game card matches the team against 18 different foes from six different states and the Canadian province of Ontario.

Franklin Routs East in Pool

Franklin high's swimming team captured every event in dumping Garden City East, 84-25, in a dual meet.

Greg Arnold paced the Franklin assault by setting a new school record of 24.1 seconds in the 50-yard free style.

The Franklin winners:

200-yard free—Judd Kingsbury.

Individual medley—Tom Bates.

Diving—Dave Gizzi.

100-yard butterfly—Hal Hultquist.

Back stroke—Craig Anderson.

400-yard free—Bob Knoll.

100-yard breast stroke—Watkins.

400-yard free style—Franklin (Bates, Hultquist, Kingsbury, Arnold).

The victory for Franklin followed a 62-38 win over Wayne in which Anderson won the 200-yard free style and back stroke, Bates took the breast stroke, Watkins the individual medley, Gizzi the diving, Weier the butterfly, Arnold the 100-yard free, Kingsbury the 400-yard free and Daugherty, Chris Hanson, Derrick Kroes and Sandy Graham combined to win the 400-yard free style.

R. Union Beaten

Redford Union high's swimming team succumbed to Trenton, 67-44, in a dual meet as the Townshipers were able to win only four events.

Mark Favor captured the butterfly, Paul Clancy the diving and Jerry Hultom the 400-yard free style.

Favor placed second in the individual medley, Ray Woods second in the 100-yard free, Rod Whitbeck second in the 400-yard free style and Jim Charles second in the breast stroke.

Plymouth Helped

A disqualification in the final event of the meet helped Plymouth High down Belleville, 53-48, in a dual swimming meet.

Belleville actually had touched out ahead of the Rocks in the 200-yard free style, but the victory was awarded to the Rocks when Belleville violated a rule.

Plymouth earlier had won the medley relay with a quartet of Brian Faust, Biff Leonard, Mike Malboeuf and John Larson.

It was Pat McCord as the winner in both the 200-yard free style and the 100-yard butterfly. Leonard copped the 100-yard breast stroke while Jim Gilbert, Pete Kenney, Larson and Mark Whittaker formed the 200-yard free style relay.

Observing Sports

up to some of our pranks during the past year; to guys like Al Ackerman, Bob Reynolds and Paul Carey who throw up their radio shows to carry our reports on the Pistons.

A HAPPY YULE:

To recreation directors in Livonia, Garden City, Redford Township, Plymouth, Westland and Farmington, who make available wide areas of activities for their citizens . . . and, too often, the older folks who need the recreation the most, pass it over to stay home and stare at some silly TV show.

To men like Sid Abel, Jim Campbell and William Ford, all striving, along with Fred Zollner, to bring the Detroit area professional champs; to Cazzie Russell, last year's college basketball player-of-the-year and so far a disappointment in the pros, who takes his misery without screaming to the press, etc.

To Bob Calihan, a great basketball coach and a gentleman at U. of D.; to high school athletic directors, who are loaded down with tons of paper work when it comes to arranging schedules, hiring officials, getting busses, etc.

To Duffy Daugherty and his Michigan State Spartans, who should be in the Rose Bowl and deservedly rate as co-champs of the country with Notre Dame; to Dave Strack for the job he's done at restoring basketball to a place of prominence at the University of Michigan and ditto for John Bennington at Michigan State.

THE SEASON'S GREETINGS:

To the baseball team from Redford Union which fought its way into the national tournament at Johnstown, Pa. . . to every prep team which won a title this past year, and to every prep team that won very little.

To men like Dick Gretzinger, who come back to their high schools (in Dick's case it's Plymouth) to coach after being a prep star just a few years back.

MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR:

To each of you, who have read this far this day; to those of you who have complimented us; to those who have knocked our work; to those who have agreed and to those who have disagreed; to all, we say, thanks and wish only the best.

One-Man Gang Ruins Trojan 5

If the Clarenceville high basketball team were asked to pick an all-state player today, the Trojans wouldn't hesitate.

They'd have to select Dan Fife of Clarkston who was as brilliant a prep cager as anybody ever saw last Friday night in helping Clarkston down Clarenceville, 78-73, in a Wayne Oakland League game.

Fife ripped the nets for a total of 49 points, getting 15 in the final period to pace a Clarkston comeback after Clarenceville had led by a point at the three-quarter mark.

"That Fife was sensational," declared Clarenceville coach Gene Scholes.

"Imagine a player matching the opposition's total output for one period. Well, that's what Fife did in the last period when Clarenceville, too, made 15 points."

Clarenceville had fought back after falling behind, 25-16, after one period and trailing, 44-36, at the half.

In the third period with Chuck Watkins scoring eight points and John Ray six, Clarenceville roared to its 58-57 lead, but that only stirred up Fife's tremendous show in the last eight minutes of action.

Clarenceville had four players in double figures with Jim Amick the high man with 24 on nine baskets and six free throws. Ron Ray had 14, along with Watkins. Mark Dievendort tossed in 12.

Bentley Cagers, Tankers Roll Over Parkers

In swimming and in basketball, the story was the same last Friday evening.

Bentley high emerged victorious over Allen Park in Suburban Six League action.

The Bentley cagers rolled along in a tie with Trenton for first place, each with 2-0 records in the conference, by dumping the Parkers, 58-49.

In the pool it was Bentley by a 54-47 margin.

A roaring 18-8 start gave Bentley a big lead, which it never relinquished, by dumping the Parkers on the hard-wood floor.

Mike McCauley and Ken Bollin led the early uprisings that ultimately enabled Bentley to lead 32-18 at half-time.

The Parkers tried to contain Bentley with a zone defense, but Bentley more than adjusted to the occasion.

Scoring honors were well divided for Bentley as three men hit in double figures and two more barely missed.

Ed Ryan with 15 topped the victors. Ken Bollin followed with 11 while McCauley had 10. Greg Coleman and Greg Macy each collected nine points while Dan Doyle contributed a pair of baskets.

High man in the game was Allen Park's Dick Tanto with 24 points on nine baskets and six charities.

Two Bentley varsity records fell by the wayside in the swimming meet.

Dennis Rogissart clipped 2.1 seconds off the 100-yard free style mark when he was clocked in 51.7 seconds, although he had to settle for second place.

In the 400-yard free style relay, Rogissart anchored a foursome that included

Cage Joy Abounds at Farmington

There's happiness as Farmington high's basketball team marks this Christmas.

Champs of the Interlakes League last year, the Falcons again are off and running.

They made it 2-0 in conference action last Friday and 3-1 for the season in beating Waterford.

The Falcons led all the way, seizing a 14-10 edge in the first quarter and extending it to 32-26 by halftime as George Grimala knocked in 10 points and Tom Wirtz 11 for the victor in the first 16 minutes of action.

Greg Dorow seized scoring honors for the winners with 20 points on eight baskets and four free throws.

Next came Wirtz with seven hoops and four charities for 18 points. Grimala had 13 points while Fritz Simons tossed in just four and Mike Ames added a couple of charities.

The Farmington reserves lost, 64-36, despite six baskets and a free throw for 13 points by Joe Himmel-spach.

Bad Start Costly To R. Union

A poor start proved fatal to Redford Union high's basketball team against powerful Trenton last Friday night.

The Townshipers managed only two baskets and four free throws in the first period as they could hit on just two of 20 shots from the floor.

This faulty marksmanship dropped Redford Union behind, 14-8, after the first quarter and they had to play catchup the rest of the way.

With Leland Bjerke getting 11 points and Dennis Fifield six in the second period, Redford Union closed the gap to 32-29 at halftime and it was Trenton by only a 44-39 bulge after three periods.

But in the last period, Trenton pulled away to stay in a tie with Bentley for the Suburban Six League. Carl Lutz slammed the door on Redford Union by hitting for five baskets in Trenton's final flurry.

Leland Bjerke was high man for the losers with 20 points while Fifield scored 12. Dave Bjerke's, Leland's sophomore brother, scored, and Bill Fahey six for RU.

Lutz with 10 baskets for 20 points and Rico Rigghetto with 19 points topped Trenton.

The reserve game went to Trenton, 46-45.

Wayne State University's basketball team meets eight schools for the first time in the sport in 1966-67.

Growing Geraniums Can Be Real Fun

You can grow the geraniums for next year's bedding outdoors from seeds sown during winter. It's easy and it's fun for the results are quite unpredictable.

You know in advance if you sow fine geranium seeds from a reliable seedsmen that all the plants will be beautiful ones but the flower colors and the exact leaf coloring will vary from plant to plant.

Geranium seeds are very fine. If you scatter them over the surface of a flower pot filled with 1/3 sand, 1/3 granulated peat moss and 1/3 good garden soil you can sprinkle over them a thin layer of sand to cover.

Then, with the palm of your hand, firm them gently to the soil.

Water after planting and as often as is needed y setting the planted pot in a container of water and allowing the moisture to permeate to the soil surface.

Don't allow the soil to dry until after seeds have sprouted—from 2 to 8 weeks from time of sowing.

The pot should be covered with a sheet of glass or popped into a plastic bag and set in a shady place in a 60 degree temperature until seeds sprout. After that remove glass or plastic.

As soon as seedlings are large enough to handle, plant each in a 2-inch pot in a mixture of half granulated peat moss and half good garden soil. Shift to larger pots as needed.

Four months are required from seed to flowering so time the planting of seeds according to your needs.

Geranium seeds may be sown at any time of year and growing the plants from seeds is a real adventure.

Marygrove Gets Reading Grant

Marygrove College has been awarded the approval of the United States Office of Education to conduct a federally supported institute for educational media for teachers of reading. Costing approximately $48,000, this six-week program will be offered at the college from June 26 through August 4, 1967.

Roses Need Good Protection To Carry Over Hard Winter

Winter protection of roses, the queen of flowers, varies, of course, with the locality and the will and ambition of the gardener.

In the south, no shielding from the cold is necessary, but as the location of the garden moves north, or to higher altitudes with temperatures becoming increasingly severe, the need for some type of winter protection becomes more and more a necessity.

In areas where the temperature is apt to drop to 15 degrees or below, sheltering from the cold and the winter winds becomes a required procedure.

The purpose of winter protection is not to protect the plants from freezing, as they are quite capable of going through long periods of sub-freezing temperature without injury.

Conditions harmful to dormant roses occur when warm, moist, late falls do not allow the plants to mature properly. Later on in the season, protracted periods of warm weather, followed by a rapid and severe drop in temperature are apt to cause injury.

The vicious moisture robbing, winter winds are one of the great contributors to the mortality of roses, as they dry out the canes of the plant and kill the dormant buds that are designed to start growth in the spring.

As can be seen from the causes of injury, the necessary requirements for successfully over-wintering roses are protection from the winds and against alternate freezing and thawing.

In most northern climates, the safest and easiest method of winter protection is the mounding over of rose plants with 10-12 inches of soil.

This is done after the plants become fully dormant and just before the ground freezes. It is best to cut back the canes to 15-18 inches to prevent severe whipping by the winter winds, although some expert gardeners protest against this.

After mounding and freezing, the bed may be covered with hay, straw, evergreen boughs or similar covering to prevent the washing away of the mound during the winter.

In rigorous climates winter protection may be accomplished the hard way by digging the roses when they become dormant in the fall, making a trench and burying them under a foot or so of soil, mounded up to shed water.

In the spring dig the roses out of the trench and replant them. They will almost invariably be fully alive and ready to go.

Another method of wintering-over roses in extremely severe climates, which is much easier on the back and muscles, is the method practiced in the Minneapolis and many similar areas which consists of loosening the roots of the plant, gently tipping it into a trench, cover with two to three inches of soil and 18 inches of loose leaves, or a substitute covering.

Sorrows Roars Over Two Foes

This should be a joyous Christmas for Coach Bob Morris and his Our Lady of Sorrows high school football team.

As the team pauses for the holidays, it stands second in the Northwest Division of the Catholic League to Orchard Lake St. Mary's. Sorrows has a 5-1 league record to 6-0 for St. Mary's.

Sorrows chalked up a pair of victories last week. First came a 68-61 win over St. Francis de Sales, then an 85-63 runaway over St. Benedict.

Sorrows sprung loose on St. Francis, taking a 16-11 lead after one period and extending it to 32-23 at halftime.

Tim Doyle fired in seven and Mike McCaskin in the first period for the winners, who had to fight in the last quarter to hold off a late surge by de Sales.

Doyle closed the evening with 27 points while Fred Carrico tossed in 17.

The Sorrows reserves also won, finishing in front, 61-54. Bud Theisen had 16 for the victorious JV squad.

Another fast start again paid big dividends to Sorrows in the game with St. Benedict.

The Farmington team had a 20-9 lead at the end of the first quarter and made it 47-23 by halftime. During the early going Dennis Perry slipped in 17 points, Carrico 13 and Doyle 10.

Carrico closed out the game as the individual leader with 21 points. He was followed by Perry with 20 points and Doyle with 19. Jim McGrath connected for 10.

The Sorrows reserves continued their torrid play by dumping St. Benedict, 54-40, as Paul Bunker cashed 13 points.

Sewing Spot In Garage? Right Again!

A sewing center can be almost anywhere, even in a garage!

A suburban couple that converted an over-sized garage into a well-equipped sewing center where the wife saves money by making such things as curtains, drapes and clothing for the children and herself.

Situated in front of a window, the sewing center is flanked by ample cabinet and drawer space. A valance over the window and cafe curtains adds a homelike touch.

One cabinet has space for storing the portable sewing machine. Another is lined with Peg-Board on which are arrayed a supply of spools, scissors, tape measure and other tools for the seamstress.

While separate from the rest of the converted garage, the sewing space appears as an integral part of the improvement. This was made possible by the application of warm-looking Masonite Royalcote woodgrained paneling in a shade of walnut that blends with the furnishings the couple wanted.

This versatile woodgrained hardboard was used not only on the walls but as surfaces of the sewing center cabinets and drawers. Even the storage doors adjacent to the homelike oasis were covered in this manner, so that one would scarcely guess the place once was a garage, for the entire room radiates warmth and hospitality.

Made by Masonite Corporation, the woodgrained hardboard is available in more than a dozen colors and types at lumber yards. Durable and long-wearing, this attractive paneling has many superior qualities, not the least of which is its economy.

To protect vulnerable lower walls in a child's room, install a wainscot of Masonite wood-grained or textured hardwood, available in a variety of patterns.

Ideas: Main Tool In Home Remodeling

With some ideas, a cross-cut saw, an easy-to-use cartridge adhesive and some woodgrained hardboard panels, any family can convert a basement into a glamorous recreation room or add a study corner in a bedroom for the eager student.

The trick is to plan carefully and take rough sketches to your lumber dealer, who knows materials and how to use them effectively. He'll have moldings and other accessories needed to give the installation a finished, professional appearance.

Installation's a Cinch

Widely used for low-cost, handsome home improvements are Royalcote decorator panels, available in a variety of finishes, including three of Peg-Board in walnut. These sheets may be installed directly over existing or furred walls, using a new adhesive which works quickly but gives time for proper positioning.

Because of its great bonding strength, the cartridge-type adhesive may be used to attach furring strips to basement walls, rather than other fasteners which take much more time and effort. Royalcote General Purpose adhesive may be used safely

Gene Merollis Plans To Double Facilities

Constant expansion and modernization of dealer facilities are the cornerstone of better service for car and truck owners, E. M. Estes, Chevrolet general manager, said.

Within a four hour period, Estes participated with civic officials in separate ceremonies marking expansions in three Detroit area Chevrolet dealerships.

He took part in dedications of service facility expansions at Fort Park Motors, Inc. and Gene Merollis Chevrolet, Inc. He also helped break ground for a totally new dealership building emphasizing truck service by the Wink Chevrolet, Inc.

"A dealer must have adequate facilities before he can effectively utilize added technicians and modern tools and techniques to give customers the service on their vehicles they have every right to expect," Estes said.

"Nearly half the Detroit area dealers have expanded facilities in recent years and others have plans now on the drawing boards."

"Nationally Chevrolet dealers have expanded their facilities 4 per cent in the past four years. Currently they are adding new land and buildings at the rate of almost three million square feet a month."

Estes called the three Detroit expansions "typical of the strong national effort dealers are making to meet customers service needs of today and be ready for the expanding markets of tomorrow."

Estes said that completion of the three Detroit Chevrolet dealer expansions will mean an increase of 34 per cent in their combined employment.

He first visited Fort Park Motors, Inc. at 3203 S. Fort Street. With dealer Edward J. Grosfield and civic representatives he dedicated a two-story addition of service facilities.

Next Estes went to an 11 acre site on Ford Road west of Wyoming in Dearborn to help William J. Wink, Jr. and local officials break ground for a 53,000 square foot building. On completion in October of 1967, it will house Wink Chevrolet Co. currently at 8209 Michigan Avenue.

Finally Estes joined Gene Merollis to dedicate an expansion of service facilities at Gene Merollis Chevrolet, Inc. at 3185 Ford Road in Garden City.

The addition doubles the floor space to 45,000 square feet, Merollis said, while land area has been increased by 1,000 per cent to 11 acres. Completion of the expansion increases employment from 70 to 92.

DO-IT-YOURSELF ACTIVITY

Painting Helps Make Your House a Home

What makes a house a home?

Love may be the number one ingredient, but a good paint job is a big help, too. All over the nation householder's fancy turns lightly to thoughts of rejuvenating the old manse via the paint brush.

It's probably the biggest do-it-yourself activity there is. Still, you can always use a few tips to guide your brush or roller toward that "stroke of genius."

•When picking colors, think of the effect you're striving for.

Red is exciting, but also overwhelming in large doses—and tends to make an area look smaller.

Yellow is cheerful, like sunlight, and its lighter tints provide a sense of spaciousness.

Green is tranquil—like a smooth lawn; blue is soothing.

•Make hue work for you. To shorten a long room, use a warm color such as yellow or yellow-orange—or a deep shade of a cool color like green—on the end walls.

To widen a room, use light tints on the side walls. Paint out architectural defects—old-fashioned molding, for example—by making them the same color as the surrounding area.

To accent a desirable feature, such as a fireplace, paint it to contrast with the walls.

•Pick the right sort of paint for the job.

Richard P. Cook, general paint manager of trade paint sales, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., says "Choosing the right type of paint is the first step to top paint performance. The painter who uses the wrong type of finish generally blames poor performance on the paint; the painter is at fault."

•Rubberized or latex paints, most popular of the interior finishes for walls and ceiling, have several advantages. They dry in 20 minutes; except on new work, a prime coat is not necessary. After a 30-day curing period, they may be washed and even scrubbed—great for homes filled with tiny, grimy hands.

•Alkyd paints and enamels are ideal for areas like kitchens and bathrooms, where moisture is a problem. They are exceptionally tough and have outstanding wearing qualities.

For exteriors, some of the house paints now available have such virtues as fume-resistance, mildew-resistance, and the ability to clean themselves with every rain.

•Proper surface preparation is essential.

It's one of the things that can make the difference between a paint job that will last five years or more, and one that will have to be repeated after a season or two.

The surface should be clean and dry; never attempt to paint over a damp or dirty surface. All nail holes and cracks should be filled and all rough spots sanded smooth.

•Don't fall down on the job! Plant your ladder on a solid, nonskid footing so that distance from ladder bottom to wall is one-fourth the ladder's height.

Go up or down facing the ladder, and don't go any higher than the third rung from the top. Don't lean from the ladder. You can reach out, but keep your feet firmly planted on the ladder rung.

Just keep in mind the gravity of the situation and you'll be all right.

•When painting exteriors, follow this order. Start to paint at the top of the house and apply paint in three-foot strips from side to side. Drop down and paint a second strip.

Paint the house trim before painting the house walls.

•Indoors, use this system: Paint the ceiling first, in one or two-foot strips from side to side. Work from dry to wet surface.

For painting walls, start in a corner and paint in strips from the top to within six inches of the baseboard. Do cut-in work as you go along.

After wall and ceiling surfaces are done, paint the trim.

According to Cook of Pittsburgh Plate Glass, many amateur painters are tempted to start painting one room before they finish another; for even temper and even results, avoid this temptation. Do one room at a time.

•Put drop cloths or newspapers along the wall to catch drops and splatters. When paint spots do drip on floors, you can just wipe them up with a damp cloth if you are using rubberized paint.

If you are using an alkyd or other type finish, a solvent is required to remove spots.

•Clean brushes and rollers immediately after painting. For rubberized paint, warm soapy water will do. For other paints, use a thinner recommended for the particular paint.

•And a few miscellaneous suggestions: If you use rollers, be sure they're large enough. Small ones make the job needlessly difficult.

When you use a brush, don't "flip." Hold the brush short and steady.

To avoid fatigue, alternate hands.

Papa Can Build Toys For Tots

Tiny tots appreciate homemade toys as much as manufactured ones. Dad making them in his workshop.

Available from the Masonite Home Service Bureau is a free plan which describes five Christmas toys which are easy to make of Tempered Presdwood, available at lumber yards. They are:

Covered Patio Extends Fun to Entire Family

A patio isn't a good place to grill a steak during a blizzard, but it's a fine place to have a lot of family fun during the crisp chilly days of autumn.

Your barbecue grill, if located nearby, can impart warmth and a cheerful campfire feeling to late afternoon and evening hot dog or marshmallow-roasting parties.

Teen-age dancing and games can be enjoyed under similar conditions and save a lot of wear and tear on the house and furnishings, he points out.

For more sedate pursuits, the protection of an aluminum patio cover and the utilization of a pair of inexpensive, portable heating units are advisable.

These additions can make late patio breakfasts, for instance, pleasurable on many a sunny holiday and weekend right up to the arrival of winter.

A custom aluminum cover, designed to fit the style of your home, will enable you to get maximum pleasure from your patio next summer also, by making screening possible and by providing both shade and insurance against your recreational plans being ruined by rain.

Proper choice of the patio cover's supports will permit installation of screens which can be replaced with glass panels, and you'll have a year-around recreation center.

"May All Turn to Peace" And Fill Angel's Message

By DR. HERBERT BRUBAKER
First Methodist Church

The Gospel of Luke tells us how the birth of Christ was announced one night to the simple shepherds of the field. Nearly 20 centuries have passed since the event took place, yet sincere souls continue to be inspired and encouraged by the message of the heavenly hosts.

Their words reveal something of the love and faith which we would expect from a God of love and it continues to be a challenge for all time. "And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of heavenly host praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, goodwill toward men.'"

Perhaps the words are too common-place because they are repeated so often on Christmas greetings and in the carols of the season. One is tempted to discard them as completely irrelevant when he recalls that in the 3,600 years of recorded history, fewer than 300 have been wholly warless.

Does this mean that we discard the message as that held by duped idealists? If we do this, we live lives that deny the Spirit and teachings of Christ and we flout the faith so nobly exalted by St. Paul and all who have labored for "peace on earth."

Peace ought to be ours because we have made peace with God. It should begin here in order that our lives reveal it by what we say, what we do and what we are.

St. Augustine has a good thought for us, "Does your soul desire to overcome your lower inclinations?"

"Let it be subject to Him who is on high and it will conquer the lower self: there will be peace in you: true, secure and well ordered peace. In what does that order consist? God commands the soul: the soul commands the body; and there is nothing more orderly than this."

It is not enough to find peace within. Jesus saw the children of God as peace-makers. "Blessed are peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God." Christmas is a time of goodwill that holds an ideal before all people and all time. Truth, justice, love, and freedom demand the united action of Christ's followers around this world.

Let us labor and pray that the Church, our national leaders, the United Nations and the councils of all nations may turn to peace and justice for all and fulfill the angels message from on high. "Peace on earth, Goodwill to men."

JAY-CETTES PRESIDENT Judy Shuman and Dr. Scott Harris, Clinical Director at the Plymouth State Home, smile with approval as Jeanette Nafe writes out a $200 check to benefit the Home. The proceeds are the result of a card party held recently.

"Peace Belongs to All, May We All Achieve It"

By VERY REV. EUGENE VAN ANTWERP
Rector, St. John's Provincial Seminary

"Peace on earth to men of good will" always seems to ring a little hollowly during the years when men on earth are engaged in wars such as Vietnam. But perhaps these words from St. Luke's gospel become a little clearer in the translation of the Jerusalem Bible: "Peace to men who enjoy God's favor."

Here it is not just a question of good will, but of enjoying God's blessing—which can come only as the result of a good life, of a continuing relationship with the Creator and Redeemer which results in that peace which surpasses all understanding.

Peace is not the freedom from care which comes with the purchase of a bottle or the swallowing of a capsule or the pricking of a needle; peace is the understanding and accepting of the reality of our life situation, it is the calm acceptance of the role we each play in life with our God, our fellow-men and ourselves.

Peace is not simply doing nothing; it is the often immense activity engaged in when we clearly see why we live, and form our lives in harmony with this vision, which necessitates our personal acceptance of the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ.

Peace belong to the Christian; and may Christ bring each of us His enduring peace.

Granted License In Florida

Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America has been granted license to do business in the state of Florida. Chairman of the Board, E. Keith Owens, announced this week.

The 2½ year old Plymouth company, now licensed in 16 states, has $205 million of insurance in force with sales offices in Michigan and Indiana.

Three of Four Incumbents Seek Re-Election

Petitions Out for Commission

With the deadline for filing petitions less than two weeks away, only four candidates have cropped up for the four vacancies on the Plymouth City Commission and three are incumbents.

Only George Lawton, who has indicated more than once that he will not seek re-election, is missing from those having petitions circulated.

Ready to seek second terms are James Jabara, Arch Vallier and George Hudson.

The fourth petition has been taken out for Rev. Peter Schweitzer, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Other than that all has been quiet on the City Commission election front with the deadline for filing petitions set for Tuesday, Jan. 3.

Township Studies Billiard Ordinance

Plymouth Township has never required a license for the one establishment with a billiard table in the township.

And it has no ordinance regulating billiard parlors.

But the state requires that establishments with billiard tables be licensed.

Soon after the Township Board found out about the state law and its own lack of licensing, it sent a letter to the Plymouth Bowl asking the firm to apply for a license if it wished to continue its billiard operation.

At the board's meeting, members were not sure whether they would enact a billiard ordinance, although Trustee Ralph Garber pointed out that without an ordinance the sheriff would have no way to determine what behavior was permissible.

The licensing matter arose when the Wayne County Sheriff contacted the Township Clerk about complaints he had received about the number of teenagers "hanging out in the billiard room until all hours."

Supervisor John McEwen said that in the ordinance the board could set the hours the billiard room would be open. But Trust-tee Gene Overholt said he did not think earlier hours for the billiard parlor would solve the problem. "Why shut the whole room just because of minors?" he asked.

Ralph Cole, township attorney, said that restricting the area to adults would put an additional burden on the proprietor.

Much of the problem, according to Trustee Louis Norman, has been with rowdiness in the parking lot. "Is it any worse to be playing pool than to be bowling?" "It costs more money to bowl," Garber said.

Improve Service or Else City Tells Cab Operators

With all 10 taxi licenses, issued by the City of Plymouth to the Mayflower and Checker Cab Companies, coming up for renewal on Jan. 1, the City Commission had another of its pro and con sessions during which it discussed the same issues it has gone over and over on numerous occasions.

Then after more than a half-hour of talk during which the subjects ranged from 90-day temporary licenses for Checker against full year permits for Mayflower to denial of any licenses to Checker for alleged poor service, the Commissioners decided to extend the current permits until mid-February at which time City Manager Richard Blodgett will make a report on the services during the extension.

If the report is satisfactory for both companies, then the present permits will be issued for another year, if not, then the Commission may decide to deny permits to one company, may decide to reduce the number to one company, reduce the number to both companies and set up a strict standard of service that must be met.

During the course of the discussion, Checker Co. officials pointed out that the service was poor only during that period when it had only one cab with a meter with the lower Plymouth rate while all others had meters set for the higher rates.

"Thus, we had only the one cab available," the spokesman said. "When the rates were increased and were the same as those in adjoining communities, then we had five cabs licensed to operate in Plymouth."

He pointed out that many of the complaints came prior to the rate increase and also pointed out that complaints were leveled at the Mayflower Company.

The Commissioners quickly put a halt to any wordy debate between the two companies by declaring both were guilty of poor service and that both would be on trial during the 45-day period ending on Feb. 15.

Then the matter will come up again — the only difference is that the Commission hopes to resolve the matter this time.

Plymouth Men Die In Crashes

Two Plymouth men were killed in automobile accidents, including one who was a member of the 1965 varsity football squad at Plymouth High.

Dead are: Joseph Whitman, 18, of 14656 Robinwood Ave. Larry Thomsen, 21, of 769 York Street.

Whitman, who was graduated from Plymouth High in 1966, was a letter winner with the football squad in 1966. He was killed when his car left the road on Schoolcraft and struck a tree.

Thomsen died in an accident on I-94 in which four others were injured. He was dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital.

Services for Whitman were conducted Wednesday morning in the Schrader Funeral Home and in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in charge of Rev. Fr. Francis Byrne with burial in Riverside Cemetery.

He was a member of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church and the Plymouth Hockey Association.

Surviving are: his mother, Mrs. Alice Marie Vollick of Plymouth; father, Frank Whitman of Detroit; three sisters, Cynthia Gale and Kimberly Vollick and Carol Ann Whitman; one brother, Richard of Plymouth; and his grandmother, Mrs. Norma Whitman of Detroit.

Services for Thomsen were conducted Wednesday morning at the Schrader Funeral Home with burial in Riverside Cemetery. He was a member of the United States Army.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Patricia Thomsen of Plymouth; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thomsen of Plymouth; brothers and sisters, Thomas, Billy, Gary, Ronnie, Patricia, Cathy and Rene, all at home.

HE'S A V.P. NOW: Richard A. Pulfer, a graduate of Henry Ford Community College, has been named a second vice-president of the Manufacturers National Bank. He joined the bank in 1949 as a branch office teller and currently is a manager of the Mack-Lochmoor branch. He lives with his wife, Phyllis, and four children, on Crabtree Lane in Plymouth.

Twp. Trustees Vote to Join Gov. Council

Despite a warning from Township Trustee Ralph Garber that "this is the beginning of the end of township government," the Plymouth Township Board has decided to join the southeastern Michigan Council of Governments.

Garber himself voted for the "resolution of intent" to join the Council, which is the outgrowth of a year's study by the Committee of One Hundred.

Township Supervisor John McEwen and Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister were members of the committee.

The favorable vote was preceded by the reading of a letter from Joseph A. Parisi, Jr., director of the Michigan Townships Association.

Parisi said that joining the council would be beneficial and that it would not endanger the township form of government.

Thirty-seven governmental units, including three townships, had voted to join at the time of the vote. The Plymouth City Commission voted to join two weeks ago.

Juniors Andy Halliwell and Louis Fox will co-captain the 1966-67 Wayne State University fencing team.

Bruces Celebrate First Christmas in New Home

A Christmas past came to life when the door opened, and holly, ivy, mistletoe and scented candles combined with cheery hellos and friendly chatter.

Spending their first Christmas in the home formerly owned by the Volbrecht family was exciting for Charles Bruce, his wife Bee and their four children.

After many months of careful planning, with Bee's personal interior designer, Donna Almerico, who traveled back and forth from her home in Chicago, the task of enhancing the old home and still maintaining its original warmth was completed.

What could be more delightful than a three day holiday open house for friends with carol singing around the old grand piano which was part of the original Volbrecht household?

Many of the treasures of the old home were noticed, pictures, an old clock, the tapestry chair at the head of the staircase, all bringing warmth to the newly decorated mansion.

The banister was roped in green and gold ribbon; the mantel uniquely done and a tree, with a bit of a flare, wrapped like a package in tinsel and pine cones.

Candle Lighting Marks Saturday Church Service

The Kirk of Our Savior United Presbyterian Church, at 36860 Cherry Hill Road in Westland, will celebrate Christmas Eve with a candle-light service at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, announced pastor Ralph Fogal.

"Personal participation will be felt with each member of the congregation having a candle to light," he said. "Christmas Day services will be held at the regular worship hours of 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. The church school and nursery service will be held at each service."

U-U Church To Hold Dedication Festival Dec. 23

An unusual holiday program—a service of dedication and a festival of hope—is planned by the Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington at 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 23.

It will be held at the North-west U-U church on North-western highway between Nine and Ten Mile roads because Farmington church is being prepared for moving to a new site.

The dedication portion of the service will involve dedication of babies and young children, and the festival of hope has its roots in the fact that Dec. 23 is the winter solstice—the longest night of the year.

A member explained the twin themes: "The ceremony of naming and child dedication is for U-U's a symbol of an entirely natural human relationship. The parents bring the child from the small family circle to the church, and those who share in the ceremony pledge their aid toward the highest and fullest development of that personality. "The primary emphasis in U-Uism is on the value of people and we avow our faith in the supreme worth of each of these tiny human beings. "The winter solstice is the time of short days and long nights, and the time has been commemorated from the dawn of time with a celebration to offset the adverse psychology of dreary hours.

"We would therefore enable all humanity and creeds everywhere by devoting ourselves to the warmth of compassion, the joy of giving, the art of loving and faith in the brotherhood of all men."

Prayer and Carols at Covenant

Christmas service at the Evangelical Covenant Church located at 24331 West Eight Mile Road will feature a family worship hour at 10:45 a.m. and a service of carols and candles at 7 p.m.

During the morning family worship the pastor will speak on the subject "What did the Angels say?" The chancel choir, under the direction of Leon Anderson, will sing the anthem "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen and Mrs. Joann Gustafson will render the special solo.

The evening service will feature a service of carols and candles with special music by a choral group as well as a solo by Mrs. Florence Chauvin. The pastor will bring a brief meditation on the subject "Christ is The Light."

There will be no Sunday school but child care will be provided in the morning.

Livonia Girl Sings In Largest Messiah Group

Nancy Eldridge of Livonia recently participated in what may be the largest choral presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in the country.

There were 815 members in the chorus when Luther College at Decorah, Iowa, put on the famous work this year. That's nearly half the student body, said professor Weston

Noble, music department head who was director. Noble said the group comprises the largest student oratorio chorus in the U.S. "and probably the largest in the country."

Art Gallery Profits St. Mary Parish, Patrons

Lovely old paintings provide a fascinating sideline for Monsignor Edward J. Hickey and income for his St. Mary of Redford parish.

Monsignor Hickey, who started collecting old art in antique shops years ago, now has several art galleries, including one in the Livernois-Seven Mile area in Detroit.

On view there, art connoisseurs can find paintings ranging in price from $25 to $400, with a few bearing high price tags. There is one that Monsignor Hickey says "we hope and think is an original Van Dyke."

But authenticating a painting is a costly process, so the church prelate usually leaves that to the buyers. Some have had the thrill of learning that the picture they liked is worth twice what they paid.

Included at the gallery, now in its third year, is a picture of an old Spanish monk given him by the Alfred G. Wilsons, who donated some of their land for Oakland University, a Detroit artist's work originally commissioned for a golf club in the area, an old English wood carving and a Spanish crucifix nearly six feet tall.

Monsignor Hickey said he started collecting art while working in the diocese chancery office when his diocese was $17 million in debt.

"We were getting complaints from everyone and I needed something to do to relax. So I started visiting antique shops and collecting. I've had a lot of fun and adventures," he said.

Germany Discussed

The threat of renewed Nazism in the German Federal Republic will be the discussion topic of the New Temple at its meeting Friday, Dec. 23. Membership chairman Frank LeVita will lead the discussion.

THE LIVING NATIVITY is being presented by the young people of Covenant Baptist Church on the front lawn of the church from 6:30 to 9 p.m. each evening through Christmas Eve. The church, located at 18700 James Couzens, invites all to stop by and enjoy the fourth annual enactment. Included in the group of youngsters pictured above are John Stepenson and David Crompton of Farmington and Carolyn Bamford of Redford township.

Verona Fathers at Monroe Display Nativity Scene

Christmas is joy and peace to men who see and experience it for what really Christmas is, the birth of Christ.

To bring into focus this central reality of Christmas the students of Sacred Heart Novitiate, conducted by the Verona Fathers at Nadeau road and Comboni way in Monroe, Michigan, have built a Diorama of the Nativity Scene, which will be open to the public from Dec. 18, to Jan. 8, on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, from 1 to 9 p.m. Admission is free.

The 500-square foot Diorama is a three-dimensional model-size reproduction of the landscape of the countryside of Palestine with hills and valleys, caves and homes, water wheels, mills, castles, and more than 150 figures of people and animals, including several that move.

The beauty of the artistic scenery captures the eye of the visitor. While he still admires it, the lights dim, stars appear in the sky above; the tiny homes scattered on the scenery lighten up.

It is night. The imagination is carried nearly 2,000 years back to the first Christmas night while the story of the great event of that night is being told in simple narration and dialogue.

The story told in words, with light, music, and motion is truly educational for children, who stand before the Diorama with enraptured, wide-open eyes.

The Verona Fathers are a missionary society with training centers in: U.S.A., Italy, England, Spain, Portugal, Brazil, and Mexico. They are working in mission territories in Africa, and Central and South America.

Perspiration Harmful

Notice any color changes in your clothes lately? If foodstuffs, cosmetic preparations, and perspiration are allowed to remain in your clothes, the garment may change color.

These changes most often occur in acetate fabrics where blue or green turns white, or where dark blue or black turn red, note extension specialists at Michigan State University. A professional dry cleaner can correct the changes if he gets them soon enough. If not the change becomes permanent.

God's Light Is Christmas Theme

"God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

This passage from II Corinthians will be the Golden Text for the lesson-sermon titled, "Christian Science," to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, Christmas Day.

Scriptural passages include the story of the birth of Jesus and the adoration of the Magi as well as many references to Jesus' healing ministry.

One of the related selections from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will be this:

"Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God."

'Born a King'

in Farmington

The choir at First Baptist Church of Farmington, under the direction of Harold D. West, presented John W. Peterson's beautiful cantata "Born a King," Sunday Dec. 18.

Soloists were Mrs. Diane Loveless, Judith Kawa, Mrs. Robert Miste, Sue Miste, and Jack L. West. Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. West sang the duet selection, and trio portion was performed by Carolyn Atkins, Judith Kawa and Mrs. Kay West. The piano and organ was handled by Mrs. Alice Douglas and Mrs. Irene Lowe, with Pastor Walter Ballagh giving the narrative.

On Friday evening, Dec. 23 at 7:30 p.m. the young people will present the annual Christmas pageant. This meaningful Christmas pageant is written and directed by Mrs. A. Russell Wright.

Services on Sunday, December 25 as usual, morning worship at 10 a.m. and Sunday school at 11:15 a.m. The guest speaker at the evening service will be local resident, Terry Taggart, now a sophomore at Pillsbury Baptist Bible College in Minnesota.

Young People Take Charge Of Service

The young people of North Congregational church, Southfield, assisted by the Chancel Choir, will have charge of the Candle Light service Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m.

Pilgrim Fellowship boys and girls will act as ushers, greeters and candle bearers and the Junior choir will have a significant part in the service.

A verse speaking choir made up of Senior Pilgrim Fellowship members will present the story of the nativity, beginning with the first prophecies. Scripture reading with musical responses by the congregation and organ will tell this beautiful story.

At its conclusion, the Junior Pilgrim Fellowship will perform the candle lighting service in which the entire congregation participates, flame being passed from one to another, starting with the one candle in the chancel, from which it is carried to each pew. As the last candle is lighted, the people quietly file out of the church to the strains of "Silent Night."

Visitors are welcome to this service and child care is provided.

Antioch Church

Sets Two Yule

Eve Services

Christmas Eve services at Antioch Lutheran Church in Farmington will be held at 7:30 and 11 p.m.

The family service at the earlier hour will feature special music by the junior and senior choirs under the direction of Mrs. Robert Winnie.

Later the annual candle-light service will include the candlelight vesper and music by the senior choir, with a sermon by the Rev. Carl F. Kaltreider entitled "Peace for All Men."

Regular services will be held

Chrismon Tree

A beautiful Chrismon tree graces the chancel of the new sanctuary of Village United Presbyterian Church at 25350 W. Six Mile Rd. in Redford township. The decorations are lights and Chrismons.

The Chrismons are Christian symbols and are made by women of the church. This third annual tree features several new Chrismons among which are the Pelican in Her Piety, Crown of Thorns, and Parables depicted on gold and white balls.

The church will be open to all who wish to view the tree and symbols until after New Year's Day.
Special Christmas Eve

services at 7:30 and 11:00 p.m. will feature "The Hanging of the Chrismons," and a candlelight service proclaiming the coming of Christ. The pastor, Rev. James Crawford, will conduct the service.

In France

Traditionally, adults in France do not exchange gifts until New Year's Day. In some French villages, shepherds bring their lambs to church on Christmas.

'Skit Corner Gang' Entertains Youngsters at Yule Party

By Georgia Mossman

The "Skit Corner Gang" opened the curtain for their most recent performance as angels "singing from on high," and finished their six-act play as Rock'n Roll elves.

The teen-agers in the "Gang," ages 12 to 15, wrote their scripts; planned their choreography and really "wowed" the youngsters, and the parents, at the Melody Manor Civic Assn. Christmas Party last Friday evening.

In Turkey

A unique holiday tradition in Turkey requires the head of the church to throw a wooden cross into the Bosphorus. On Christmas Day, three boys dive after it. The finder takes the cross from house to house and receives in return food and gifts from those who are allowed to see the cross.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James Hargreaves of Lakewood Drive, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Grace, to Daniel Kenneth Engler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Engler of Hagerty Road, Wayne. Miss Hargreaves graduated from Plymouth high school in 1964. Her fiancé, a 1962 graduate of Plymouth high, has completed four years with the U.S. Air Force. An early winter wedding is planned.

Two Services Set Yule Eve At St. John's

Two Christmas Eve services, a concert of sacred music and a candlelight service, are planned by St. John's Lutheran Church, 13542 Mercedes.

The music program at 8 p.m. will feature the church choir, directed by Herbert Stierma, the youth choir directed by Eere Keranen and the children's choir directed by Mrs. Karlo Keljo. Nursery care will be provided.

The Rev. Karlo J. Keljo will speak at the candlelight service at 10 p.m.

Christmas morning plans include a special Finnish language service at 7 a.m. and a 9:45 a.m. service with Dr. John Wargelin as guest speaker.

Ever Popular Pear Salad

Carry the colors of the season to your table with this bright combination of favored salad ingredients using ever-popular canned Bartlett pear halves. Celery, nuts and green pepper are finely chopped and mixed with cream cheese, then mounded in the center of each pear half. A rich red cranberry dressing makes Holiday Pear Salad a season sensation.

The refreshing lightness of canned Bartlett pears provides a welcome salad choice during the season of heavy feasting. Keep a can of Bartlett pears chilling in your refrigerator, ready to be made into quick attractive salads.

Holiday Pear Salad

1 (1 lb. 13 oz.) can Bartlett pear halves
4 ounces cream cheese
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped nuts
Crisp salad greens
Green pepper strips, for garnish

Cranberry Fruit Topping
Chill pear halves. Blend softened cream cheese with green pepper, celery and nuts. Drain pears and place 2 halves on each lettuce lined salad plate. Mound spoonful of cream cheese mixture in center of each pear half. Garnish with green pepper strips and serve with Cranberry Fruit Topping. Makes 4 servings.

Cranberry Fruit Topping: Beat ½ cup canned jellied cranberry sauce until smooth. Gradually beat in ¼ cup salad oil, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and ¼ teaspoon salt. Makes ¾ cup.

Egg Nog Reigns In A Regal Mold

When a woman gets a yen to experiment with foods, there's a world of types, amounts and national varieties to draw upon. These Creamy Egg Nog Pudding Molds from the Borden Kitchen spring from just such a creative combination—a light Bavarian base plus the modern convenience of canned egg nog and the fruit of the season. Not only are such molds quick to make, they're regal—designed to reign as a finale, at a light luncheon, with cookies for an afternoon gathering, or as a dessert at dinner.

Creamy Egg Nog Pudding Molds

1 envelope (1 tablespoon) plain unflavored gelatine
¾ cup water
1-¾ cups Borden's Canned Egg Nog
Dash ground nutmeg
2 tablespoons rum, or rum extract
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
1 (10-oz.) package frozen strawberry halves, defrosted OR
1 cup fresh, sweetened strawberries

In the top of a double boiler, combine gelatine and water; let stand 5 minutes. Dissolve softened gelatine over hot water; cool. In a medium-size mixing bowl, combine egg nog, nutmeg, rum and gelatine; blend well. Chill mixture over ice water until slightly thickened; stir constantly. Fold in whipped cream. Return to ice water. Chill until mixture again starts to thicken slightly; stir occasionally. Pour into lightly oiled 3-ounce molds. Refrigerate until firm—about 2 hours. At serving time, turn pudding out of molds. Garnish with strawberry sauce or berry slices.

Big Brothers Seek Volunteers

A combined effort to recruit more Big Brothers—adult men who will volunteer to become friends on a one-to-one basis of young, fatherless boys in the Observer area—has been launched by three Torch Drive services.

The drive for additional volunteers coincides with plans to observe "Big Brother Week," Jan. 8 to 14.

The Torch Drive services involved are Big Brothers of Oakland County, a secular group; Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Detroit, and Church Services, a Protestant-affiliated organization.

"Adult men, 21 years of age and over, who wish to enroll in either of the three Big Brother programs may do so by telephoning 321-1666," according to the Rev. Chenoweth Watson, director of Church Social Service.

"Our office at 51 W. Warren will be the clearing house for the three Big Brother programs in the tri-county area," he said.

He pointed out, however, that the common dialing system would be in effect only for Big Brother Week.

Watson said the shortage of Big Brothers is so great presently that each month his agency alone receives from 60 to 80 more referrals than the staff can match with volunteers.

"The number of Big Brothers in the tri-county area is now 50," he said, "but the number of boys desperately needing this service has climbed to more than 1,500."

He indicated this estimate is probably extremely conservative since the metropolitan area included some 20,000 fatherless boys.

Watson emphasized that not all boys referred to the Big Brother program are juvenile offenders.

"The principal criteria is that they be between 8 and 16 years of age and lacking a father figure in the home," he said.

"They need an adult friend, a mature man to whom they can relate in order to grow into well-adjusted, responsible citizens."

Boys are referred by churches, parents, visiting teachers, police youth bureau or other social agencies.

Each boy is matched with a Big Brother by trained social workers.

Ford Gives Workers Yule Gift

Ford Motor Company will distribute checks for $53.38 each to approximately 132,000 eligible hourly employees on the last pay day before Christmas from an account set up under terms of the 1964 Ford-UAW agreement.

The money will be withdrawn from a Contingent Distribution Account which reached $7,068,000 on Dec. 4. No payment was made in 1965 because the account had not reached a level to provide for a distribution.

To be eligible for the 1966 payment, employees must have had at least one year of seniority, have been on the active employment rolls of the company and in the UAW contract unit on Dec. 4.

The amount of the Contingent Distribution Account depends on the condition of a fund established under the Ford-UAW Supplemental Unemployment Benefit (SUB) plan, created in 1955.

Under the SUB plan, the company contributes five cents for each hour for which an employee receives pay. When the SUB fund reaches a maximum funding position, the five cents an hour is accrued in the separate Contingent Distribution Account. The maximum funding level varies from month to month because of employment and average benefit payments.

The number of eligible hourly employees is divided into the amount in the account on the last day of the first pay period in December. If the resulting payment is less than $25, no distribution is made and the account continues to build. The maximum payment in any one year is $100.

Approximately 64,000 Michigan Ford hourly rated employees will receive the 1966 payments.

Fines Help Send Police To School

The first police training school to be conducted under the provisions of the new Michigan Law Enforcement Training Council is under way at Traverse City.

According to Noel C. Bufe, executive manager of the council, there are 34 students representing police departments in 14 communities and counties.

Called the Northern Lower Michigan Regional Police Academy, the police officers will have 120 hours of instruction in basic police work and 10 hours in first aid.

The school was coordinated by Sheriff Richard Weiler, Grand Traverse county.

Each community or county pays one half of the cost, with the remainder to be paid up to one half by the state.

The state money is raised by an assessment of 10 per cent of every fine, penalty and forfeiture imposed by the courts for criminal offenses other than fines for violation of the motor vehicle code or local ordinances relating to vehicle operation or for a violation of the conservation laws.

Bufe said other schools are now in the preparation stage. The council was set up to provide training for police officers throughout the state.

PROMOTED: Charles E. Exley, Jr., has been promoted by the Burroughs Corporation. According to an announcement made by Ray R. Eppert, he has been named Vice President and Group Executive of the Graphic Systems Group.

Friday, Dec. 23 there will be an Alumni day from 1 to 3 p.m. in the South Cafeteria of Franklin High School sponsored by the Senior Class. Franklin Alumni and friends are invited to attend.

Sharon Ries, Wayne Chapple Wed at St. Theodore Church

Westland was the setting for the wedding of Sharon Anne Ries and Wayne Keith Chapple in a double ring ceremony Nov. 12.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ries, 36631 Pine Tree, Livonia, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Chapple, 16111 Lexington, Redford Township.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an empire gown of silk shantung with bell sleeves, A-line skirt and a short train. She wore an elbow length veil and carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and orchids.

The bride's sister, Linda Ries, served as maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Lynne Chapple, was bridesmaid. They wore floor length gowns of winter green velvet with matching velvet head pieces and carried varicolored mums.

Allen Hagadon, Jr., was best man and the ushers included Dan Ries, the bride's brother, and Dr. John Gerecht and Joseph Chalmers, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ries chose a teal blue knit dress with matching accessories and Mrs. Chapple wore a pearl grey dress embroidered with silver and gold threads. Both mothers had corsages of cymbidium orchids.

A breakfast in the Livonia Knights Inn followed the ceremony. After a trip to Miami Beach the newlyweds will make their home in Plymouth.

MAN-MADE ISLAND

Over 315,000 cubic yards, or about 32 thousand truck loads, of sand, gravel, and rock for the 95-acre site of Detroit Edison's Harbor Beach Power plant were trucked into the harbor to form the man-made island.

WIDE-EYED CHILDREN are reading and singing the Christmas story all over the area these days. Above Ann, Marie and Terri Randall, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Randall of Berwick Ave. Livonia, renew their acquaintance with the old favorite "The Night Before Christmas." At the right are five young members of the Cherub Choir at Farmington's First Methodist Church, who joined in a church carol service Dec. 18. They are Laurie Dembeck and Laurie Sivy of Farmington in the back row, Brent and Brian Elston of Farmington in the second row and James Perempe of Livonia in front.

March of Dimes Plans Moving Forward

Work is going forward for a big January "March of Dimes" month in the area.

Much of the preparation is pointed toward the Mother's March the evening of Jan. 31, but plans for other fund-raising events in connection with the campaign also are being formulated.

Money collected in the nationwide March of Dimes is used now to fight birth defects in children. It finances research aimed at eliminating as many as possible of these defects as well as aid to families with children so afflicted.

Recently the National Foundation-March of Dimes announced plans to open a birth defects treatment center in the Detroit area, probably at Children's Hospital.

Dr. Arthur B. Eisenbrey, neurosurgeon at Children's and a member of a committee of Wayne County Physicians that has had the project under study for six months, said the center would conduct diagnosis, research and treatment of birth defects.

Heading the March of Dimes drive in Livonia is Mrs. Robert Fox, 29757 Hillbrook, who is announcing area chairmen for the mother's march.

In Plymouth, chairman for the Mother's March is Mrs. Roger Cory, 958 Ross, and co-chairman is Mrs. Robert Olson, 1464 Hartsof. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Witwer, 593 Hartsof, are chairmen for other aspects of the drive.

In Garden City, where the Kiwanis organization regularly takes charge of the campaign, the March of Dimes chairman is Kiwanis president-elect Ray Wilson, 14942 Gary Lane, Livonia, and Mrs. Wilson is head of the Mothers' March.

Westland's Jaycee Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Alice Mandeville, 1450 Carlson, will be in charge of the Mothers' March there.

MRS. ROBERT FOX

Redford Township's March of Dimes drive will be part of the Detroit campaign, and Farmington's will be directed by the Oakland County March of Dimes staff.

The following area chairmen for the Mothers' March in Livonia were announced by Mrs. Fox, who urged all women willing to help in the campaign to get in touch with the leader in her neighborhood.

Mrs. Cy Gliner, Gr. 4-2714—Areas bounded by Merriman to Farmington Road, Five to Eight Mile, and Middlebelt to Merriman, Six to Eight Mile.

Mrs. Ernest Grant, Gr.

4-2311, chairman, and Mrs. Paul Greenfield, co-chairman Gr. 4-6744, areas from Inkster to Merriman, Five to Six Mile, and Middlebelt to Inkster, Five to Eight Mile.

Mrs. Walter Meyers, Gr. 7-2314, chairman, and Mrs. Bonnie Paiva, Co-chairman; area from Merriman to Haggerty and Joy to Five Mile.

Mrs. Norman Cohen, Gr. 5-6094, chairman, and Mrs. Elwin Meyers, Gr. 7-2710, co-chairman—Area from Inkster to Merriman, Joy to Five Mile.

Mrs. Betty Smith, Gr. 7-1022—Area from Farmington to Haggerty, Five to Six Mile, and Newburgh to Haggerty, Six to Eight Mile.

Mrs. James McCann, Gr. 2-5227—Area from Farmington to Newburgh, Six to Seven Mile.

Newlyweds Will Live In Iowa

Linda Kay Deschamps and Jack William Whiteman spoke their marriage vows in an evening ceremony Friday, Dec. 2, in St. Michael's church in Livonia.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Deschamps of Livonia, was given in marriage by her father.

Mr. Whiteman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Whiteman of North Muskegon.

The bridal gown was fashioned of floor-length crystal peau-de-soie, with a bell skirt, round neckline and matching train outlined in rose appliques.

Her three-tier, silk illusion, shoulder-length veil was held by a bow of crystal peau-de-soie, and she carried white Fuji mums centered with a yellow rose corsage.

Wearing blue satin floor-length gowns and carrying blue mums were Mrs. Joanne Vigneux of River Canard, Ont., matron of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Jeanette Zinger of Walled Lake and Leslie Lund of Muskegon.

In Iceland

Since trees are scarce in Iceland, families must use their ingenuity in creating a Christmas tree. A pole with branches of greenery tied to it, is the solution in many Icelandic homes. And the valuable real trees are saved for industrial use.

MRS. JACK W. WHITEMAN

Charles A. Whiteman of Ypsilanti served his brother as best man, and David A. Deschamps, the bride's brother, and John J. Karsen of Battle Creek were groomsmen. The ushers were Robert C. Whiteman, another brother, and Nelson Vigneux, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Deschamps chose an aqua lace dress and jacket for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Whiteman was in pale aqua crepe.

A reception in Roma Hall for 250 guests followed the ceremony, and another was held for Muskegon area friends Dec. 10 at the Don Rea V.F.W. post in North Muskegon.

The bride is a September graduate of Hackley Hospital in Muskegon. The couple will live in Des Moines, Iowa, where the groom is employed by Root-Lowell Corp.

In 1942, a neighbor gave her a Madonna and Child button and invited her to visit a button club. This was the start of this fascinating hobby for Mrs. Goodwin.

Although it is generally conceded that buttons have been used in Europe since the Dark Ages, the question of exactly when they were invented has caused considerable controversy.

Garments worn by the ancient Egyptians, Assyrians, Chinese, Greeks and Romans were usually secured by a clasp, buckle, sash or similar device. Any button-like object used was ornamental not utilitarian.

Buttons, she found, are made of various metals, pearls, machine-carved and hand-carved with escutcheons or steel trim, overall, rubber, tin, china, porcelain and various colored glass.

Then there are the buttons with pictures of scenes, fruits, flowers, famous people and animals. Some pictures come from famous paintings and stories.

China and stencil buttons were used on gingham and calico dresses.

Satsuma buttons are hand-painted on ceramic by the Japanese using three mouse-hairs to paint the design, after which they are glazed and fired three times. Many have seven faces depicting the seven gods.

inlaid with silver, gold and pearl. Hunting coat buttons pictured animals, riders and crests. Others are in ivory, silk or reversed painting under glass.

"The rarest buttons are the ones made for the inauguration of George Washington and the locket button which holds two small snapshots," says Mrs. Goodwin, who stated her most valuable button is a Wedgewood.

Her latest additions are the "Beetle" buttons showing the four "Beetles" under a watch crystal.

She has lived in Redford Township since 1933 and has two sons, Robert and Kenneth, and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Goodwin is chairman of the Log Cabin Button Club, treasurer of the Mayflower Button Club, member of Michigan State Button Club, the National Button Club, Sunshine Button Club, St. Petersburg Button Club and Florida State Button Club.

She has judged both the National and Florida State Button Conventions.

Garden City Belles Honor Mrs. Worley

Mrs. Violet Worley of the Garden City S.O.S. chapter of Buxom Belles was honored by her fellow members this month when she lost 50 pounds to exceed the goal she had set herself 10 months earlier.

Mrs. Worley's daughter, Betty Hickel, headed the committee that provided the decorations and refreshments. Other committee members included Jane Skrent, Shirley Hermansen and Lorraine Kangas.

The S.O.S. Chapter meets on Thursdays in the activity room of Garden City East high school. For further information interested women may call GA 7-0220 or 427-2634.

Livonia Women Hold Yule Party

Mrs. Herbert Winegarten, 29181 Grove Ave., Livonia, hosted the Livonia City Women's Club at a Christmas gathering following a restaurant luncheon Thursday, Dec. 15.

The women enjoyed Mrs. Winegarten's lovely and unusual decorations and punch and cookies served by her granddaughter, Sandy Koss. Organ music was played by Mrs. Claire Schuur.

Members brought gifts to be taken to the "forgotten children" at the Plymouth State Home and Training School. This is the third year the club has participated.

Women on The GO!

by MARGARET MILLER

If Christmas spirit can be measured by the joy of children—and surely that's a good yardstick—then the big house at 13441 Danbury in Plymouth should be the merriest you could find.

It's the home of Joe and Jean LeBlanc and 16 of their 17 children. The family was reduced by one last summer when big sister Jeannie married and went to Detroit to live.

THERESE, ANN AND DANNY LeBLANC

The pleasant new home and the brood that fills it present at any time of year a happy picture of what family living can be. But especially at Christmas, there seems a special spirit here.

Attractive, slim and unruffled, Jean LeBlanc settled down with the three pre-schoolers who keep her company during the day and named off the family—with only a couple of slight hesitations.

"There's Jeannie, who is 23 and now Mrs. Mitchell Sysko," she said, "and Dorothy, 22; Joey, 20; Jim, 19; Don, 18; Jon, 17; Peggy, 15, and Tim, 14."

"When do you get to me, Mommy," one of the wee ones wanted to know.

"In a minute, dear. Now, let's see, Tom, 13; Sue, 12; Donna, 10; Mary Jo, 9; Michelle, 8, and Patrick, 6. And now you three, Therese, almost 5; Danny, almost 4 and Ann, 2."

"Annie's getting rather spoiled," her mother confided. "It's the first time we've had a two-year-old without a younger baby."

What is Christmas like in a family with so many children? There's the hustle and bustle of any family home—only more so.

The LeBlancs need two Christmas trees to gather around. One in the living room and another in the spacious family room. Instead of stockings, they line up 17 small white boots "mostly as decoration."

Christmas present opening gets pretty complicated, Mrs. LeBlanc said. The older ones open their gifts Christmas Eve, and the younger ones in the morning.

"With so many wrappings being ripped off at once, we don't know who to thank for what," she added. "So we've tried to make a rule that all the youngsters keep the tags with the presents. A couple of years ago, one of the girls said she'd been sure to keep the tags—and there they were, neatly stacked in a box."

One Christmas tradition with the LeBlancs is to take some of the younger children to downtown Detroit for a visit to toyland and Santa. How many make that trip? "Well, usually nine or ten."

The family eats dinner together each night in a huge kitchen, big enough for two school lunchroom-type tables with benches.

"Now that some of the older ones are working, it seems we rarely sit down together, though," Mrs. LeBlanc said a bit sadly. "I liked it better when they were all here at night."

Daytimes, the clan scatters to five different schools in the area. One

Cake Craft Puts Supplies in Hands Of Suburban Pastry Decorators

It takes a while, but eventually culture comes to the suburbs. Somehow, after the people appear, schools get built, and libraries and theaters arise.

The Observer areas have lately been visited by art shows, lecturers, and concert orchestras. Local bands have sprung up, and adult education classes, and the Entertainment Guild, and any number of other enlightening activities.

Until recently, however, one important cultural endeavor has been neglected. The hopeful housewife who studied cake decorating and fancy cooking in night classes has been seriously handicapped by the unavailability of equipment and supplies for her craft.

It takes a pretty determined suburban mother to give up a whole morning of her life to make a foraging trip all the way into the city for a half-pound of almond paste or a bunny cake pan. If her favorite icing tip gets ground up in the garbage grinder, she can't stop everything and travel miles for a new one.

Such discouragement is over. Lee Callison, lifelong baker, teacher of cake decorating, sometime storekeeper, decided to remedy the intolerable cultural situation.

Last May, she opened her shop, Cake Craft, on Farmington Road north of Seven Mile.

If the world hasn't yet beat a path to her door, it is because people can't find it. The shop is small, and located on an unlikely corner next to a gas station, where the sign is nearly always hidden from view by big old trucks.

The Queen of Hearts found it, and it really is a find.

Cake Craft carries everything for cake decoration: decorating tips and bags, white vanilla and white oleo for wedding cakes, sugar booties and bunnies and bells, and extraordinary pans and molds. There is a pan for a piano-shaped cake, or a guitar, or a football, even. There are cardboard rounds and glassine doilies.

But that is only the beginning. The variety is almost endless, and includes everything you need to make your party pretty.

Mrs. Callison, petite and pleasant, is a pro, and she knows what to stock. There are spaghetti bibs in two sizes, and party forks and knives and paper tablecloth rolls. There are candles and table decorations and balloons. There is a beautiful lace umbrella to rent for showers.

There are gadgets: spatulas, beaters, thermometers, crimpers, mixing bowls, rolling pins, cake testers . . . great for gadget nuts.

There are surprising things, like greeting cards, and Cana crosses, and wedding cake bags, and gift wraps.

And now that the holidays are nearly here, Cake Craft can be a life saver. Mrs. Callison sells deluxe fruit cake fruits, cookie cutters, flavorings and extracts, colored sugars and candies to decorate Christmas cookies, petit four pans and liners, miniature fruit cake pans, and reasonable prices. You'll find all sorts of things for stocking stuffers, too.

Besides that, Mrs. Callison can give you ideas and advice and encouragement, because she believes in helping the non-pro look professional.

She has a wonderful recipe for making coconut strawberries or other fruits to decorate holiday tables:

CAKE CRAFT STRAWBERRIES: Mix together 12 oz. macaroon (shredded) coconut, 1 can sweetened condensed milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, and 2 packages of strawberry jello. Drop by teaspoon on waxed paper and let stand 30 minutes.

Shape into strawberries. Roll in red sugar and put paper stems and leaves on. Use orange jello for oranges, green for limes, lemon for bananas, lemons, and pears. Try it . . . it's fun.

Go find Lee Callison. You'll like her and her shop, with its welcome enhancement of the cultural scene in the suburbs.

She has everything for pretty parties but the people, and you can provide those yourself.

BRENDA BIXLER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bixler of Warsaw, Ind., announce the engagement of their daughter, Brenda, to Richard E. Gretzinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gretzinger of Plymouth. Sidewalks Pose Major Problems to Township Board Action on sidewalks was tabled for a month by the Plymouth Township Board, but the board is slowly convincing itself that sidewalk requirements are needed.

But all that may come out of the current push for an ordinance is a requirement that developers put sidewalks in new subdivisions.

The other half of the issue—sidewalks in already developed areas—may die when the township comes face-to-face with the costs.

As Trustee Ralph Garber pointed out, just to provide sidewalks from schools to the major subdivisions would probably run about $100,000. "And that just would be to start," he said.

The board rejected an ordinance drawn up by Township Attorney Ralph Cole, and instructed Herald Hamill, township engineer, and Matt McLellan, township DPW director, to draw up an ordinance in consultation with Cole.

Cole's draft ordinance did away with the size of a lot as a means of determining whether or not sidewalks were required, but as Trustee Gene Overholt pointed out, it didn't require subdivisions bordering on main thoroughfares to have sidewalks.

Garber said he thought the original idea had been to have two ordinances—a sidewalk ordinance and a plat ordinance. The former would apply to all areas in the township, while the latter would require developers to put sidewalks in new subdivisions.

The Township Planning Commission has been requiring sidewalks in new developments but has had no specific statutory authority behind its requirement. A plat ordinance would make this authority definite.

The elimination of all lot size requirements for sidewalks was strongly supported by Trustee Louis Norman, who said that eventually such a plan would have to be adopted. Garber agreed that the need for sidewalks in residential areas is great, especially following heavy snows, when school children and people going to their mailboxes have to walk in the streets.

Besides the ordinance for future subdivisions, Norman said, some thinking should be done about requirements for commercial sidewalks.

McLellan added that sidewalk widths should be included in requirements. In some residential areas in the state, he said, developers are going to four-foot instead of the standard five-foot sidewalks.

Other planning action was taken as the board decided to push ahead with plans for recreational facilities.

W. C. Johnson, township planning consultant, was authorized to develop a use plan for the projected township recreation and civic center area. Included in this area would be such facilities as an auditorium and a swimming pool.

Purpose of the study, according to Elizabeth Holmes, township treasurer, would be to find out how much land would be needed for the proposed facilities.

Trustee Dick Lauterbach asked if the township was going to go its separate way in providing recreation or go along with the city.

"I think the city is going its own way," replied Garber. "Now is the time to provide recreation area. The school board plan is inadequate. And we should do this while the land is still within reason."

Board members agreed that when the area became developed, three separate recreation systems would not be too much.

In other business, the board:

—Raised charges for making water connections by $25 for 3/4-in. taps and by $50 for 1-in. taps.

—Set bi-monthly charges of $15 to $40 on 4-in. to 10-in. meters.

—Approved a plan permitting all banks in the area who wish to do so to collect township water bills.

—Decided to turn over to the school board a request for and estimates on a school flasher for Ann Arbor Road at Haggerty. Estimated cost of installation is $1720.

—Reversed itself on the Mallory Chrysler tax error and decided to let the firm pay the tax on $11,030 and to pay the remainder from the township's excess of roll.

—Approved plans to extend sanitary sewers on Ann Arbor Road between Haggerty and Terry streets and on Ann Arbor Trail from Riverside Drive subdivision No. 3 to Riverside Drive.

—Approved sanitary sewer and water main plans for the Stoller subdivision at the corner of Beck and Joy roads.

—Instructed its attorney to get an assignment of reservation from Leonard S. Herman and instructed the treasurer to draw $3,000 for the payment of Associated Spring for a sewer to the Plymouth Park Apartments.

Socially Speaking Around Plymouth

By Dorothy Sincock

GL 3-0038

(Call to report social events in your family, neighborhood)

A warm holiday atmosphere at the John O'Reilly home, 1398 Penniman Avenue, at a Tuesday morning coffee when Pat and little Ann received guests amidst all of the Christmas splendor.

Her friendly round dining room table was laden with homemade goodies. She had extras tucked away for their trip to Connecticut to visit the two Grandmas on Christmas Day.

ONE GOOD REASON to be an active Mayflower Garden Club member is to be able to get together in workshop manner and create holiday decorations.

Mrs. Francis Bonville assisted Mrs. Ansley Osborn, 609 Herald St., in just such an event on Thursday morning and members carted home their door swags, mantel pieces and tiny trees which will center their Christmas tables.

GERRY AND PAT YOHEY of Dewey St., held an open house Sunday and of course Jay-Cee members and wives attended. Complementing the party with some of their specialties, too, were the Robert Shumans turning up with cheese fondue; Mary Breen's cheese ball with her special touch, and then Dianne Fitzpatrick and Bev McCormick with their delectable liver balls.

WHAT COULD BE MORE delightful for a family Christmas party than a puppet show?

Marge Binder of Northville and Dee Reed of Pontiac were on hand for the Schoolcraft College family holiday get-together and entertained with a string puppet show skit, "The Elf Who Lives Under the Christmas Tree" and "The Pink Penguin."

ON MONDAY the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met for a Christmas Tea at the Northville home of Mrs. William Bake. "Christmas Customs in Colonial Times" was the title of the talk by Mrs. Arlie Fairman. New members attending were: Mae Holcomb Babitt, Mrs. Donald Stobbe, Mrs. David Christensen, Mrs. Richard Hurlburt and Mrs. Paul Robinson.

THE SIXTY PLUS CLUB at the First Methodist Church held its annual Christmas dinner with 85 in attendance. The Christmas Pageant directed by Mrs. Albe Salmonson and singing by the 70-plus quartet completed the event.

THE HOWARD BECKS of Amherst Court are spending the holidays with their son, Robert. After receiving his basic training with special ribbons for expert marksmanship at Sheppard Air Base in Texas, he was graduated as an Air Freight specialist and will leave for Tripoli, Libya and Africa on Dec. 27.

Robert is a 1965 graduate of Plymouth High School.

HUGGABLE, LOVABLE Raggey Ann and Andy are 52 years old this year and still popular as ever. These are homemade by Mrs. Bruce Campbell of 45411 Ann Arbor Rd. and will be in the stockings of Kristin and Kevin Campbell on Christmas morning.

Township Planners Seek Definition of a "Bank"

Temporary vs. permanent construction will be the question before the Plymouth Township Planning Commission at its meeting tonight at 8 p.m.

The Commission will face an item on the agenda referred to it by the Township Board—is the new Bank of the Commonwealth on Ann Arbor Road near Haggerty a temporary or permanent structure?

Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes said that the new bank, not yet open for business, was known as an "instant bank." Such an "instant bank," according to Trustee Gene Overholt, had been declared a temporary building in Westland.

Most of the board members thought the building was not an asset to the community but that a building such as the Bank of the Commonwealth has at Warren and Middlebelt Roads would be an asset.

The board decided to refer the matter to the planning commission with the suggestion that if the building is considered to be permanent, some study be given to a revision of the township building ordinance.

May the message from our Lord Jesus: "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Man" Prevail in our Lives and in our world.

In Sincere Gratitude to All State Representative and Mrs. James TIERNEY

Education Group To Discuss Finances

A major cause in the breakdown of marriages, counselors agree, is the mis-handling of money or the lack of financial planning.

This serious problem in many homes will be the subject of the next meeting of the Garden City Schools Family Life Education Lay Committee at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 3, in the library of East High School.

Featured speaker will be William R. Keith, vice-president of the Board of Education and manager of the Manufacturer's National Bank branch at Wayne and Cherry Hill Roads.

He will discuss the "Financial Aspects of Marriage."

Proper financial planning is an integral part of the young marriage, Keith says. Through his experience as a banker he has seen numerous young couples get into money difficulties by not properly budgeting their household expenses.

Many of these marriages wind up in the divorce court.

Keith will point out the necessity of keeping the checking account in order. It is estimated that in the Detroit metropolitan area alone last year between $2½ and $3 million in $2 charges was assessed against persons with overdrawn checking accounts, he said.

The Lay Committee, organized last October, is composed of representatives from more than 30 civic organizations.

The band, under the direction of Robert Zimmerman,

Youth Hostel Guidebook Available

The 1967 edition of Highroad to Adventure, featuring 39 hosteling trips planned by the American Youth Hostels, Inc. is now available.

For the first time, AYH will offer a language study program, combining a month's hosteling tour through France with four weeks of classes at the University of Grenoble. Visits to the Canadian World Exposition, "Expo '67", will be included in three five-week trips this year. The itineraries include New England and Quebec, Nova Scotia, and the Canadian Rockies.

Overnight accommodations are in youth hostels and supplemental accommodations. There are over 4,000 hostels located in 41 countries.

Swimmers Top Six Marks

Franklin swimmers accounted for two of the six records set in the annual Suburban prep relays held at Redford Union.

The Livonia tankers clipped marks in the 200-yard breast stroke and the 400-yard individual medley.

In the former race, Watkins, Powell, B. and T. Bates combined for a 2:04.2 clocking for Franklin. In the individual, Kingsbury, Watkins, Anderson and T. Bates hit the line in 4:13.6.

Allen Park captured team honors with 76 points. Trenton was second with 66, followed by Edsel Ford with 62 and Bentley with 40.

Plymouth and Franklin each scored 36 points, Belleville 28, Redford Union 26, Thurston 18 and Stevenson two.

'Funny Thing' Is Very Funny

By WALLY ROBERTS

Zero Mostel leers, cavorts, sneers, and all but jumps right in your lap as the movie version of "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" unravels.

Director Richard Lester should be given the lion's share for making this only better-than-average musical comedy that graced the Broadway stages for a couple of seasons into a hilarious motion picture.

It's not often that stage musicals can be translated effectively. "Funny Thing" made the change and the result is a fabulously funny film.

You'll roar at the slapstick antics, the hysterical high-jinks, and the brazen bawdiness of this celluloid romp. Zero Mostel dominates the scene and well he should. His comic technique is so smooth that he literally beguiles you into laughter.

Take the children to this gay, mad picture of ancient Rome. They won't understand the dialogue, but they will laugh with you as millions of funny things hap-

Farmington Doctor Honored at Conference

Dr. McDevitt, whose office is at 27513 Grand River in Livonia, is chairman of staff at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

In Czechoslovakia

It's customary among the Czechs to break off a cherry tree branch, at the beginning of Advent. The branch is placed in a pot of water in the kitchen and kept in the warm air.

At Christmas time, it's hoped, the twig will burst into bloom and make a festive decoration.

Residents Appear in Production

When the curtain goes up Jan. 11 on the Eastern Michigan University Players production of "The Adding Machine," six area students will be on stage.

The expressionistic masterpiece by Elmer Rice will play at the Quirk Theatre through Jan. 15.

Appearing in roles are: Joseph Quintero, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mullen of 13807 Wadsworth, Redford Township; Kathy Roman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robert, 25204 Donald, Redford Township.

L. J. Toomey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Toomey of 21552 Birchwood, Farmington; Gary Carpenter, son of Mr. Elbert Carpenter of 17389 Westbrook, Livonia; and William Mulcrone, son of Mr. Gerald Mulcrone of 8424 Ingram, Westland.

OLD-FASHIONED Christmas Decorations will be featured at the Greenfield Village "Crafts at Christmas" exhibit through Dec. 31. The exhibit details the old time decorations which were made at home.

Old Fashioned Style Christmas at Village

Christmas gifts and decorations made at home were things to treasure years ago. Greenfield Village brings history back to life with its special holiday exhibit of the "Crafts at Christmas," now through Dec. 31. The Yule log, boxwood greens and other colorful home decorations of the type that have been used during the past 300 years in America can be found in many of the historic Village buildings during the holiday season.

A group of 10 craftsmen is at work each day, except Christmas, in the Henry Ford Museum producing delicate ornaments.

An old fashioned printing press turns out copies of an early Christmas picture that the youngsters can take home to remember their visit. A special family film program will be presented twice daily in the Museum theater from Dec. 26 through Jan. 2.

In adjoining Greenfield Village visitors can see many of the homes decorated in the spirit of the holiday season. Candles, wreaths, ornaments, festive table settings, lighting and other decorations relating to the period help to tell a visual story of each building and the famous Americans who once worked or lived in them. A tour of the Village is climaxed by a stop at century old Clinton Inn, where visitors are served a hot cup of old fashioned cider.

The Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village are open seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays and from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. On Christmas Day and New Year's Day both the Museum and Village will be closed.

In this Holiday Season, near the end of another year, we like to recall the pleasant experiences and share them in the telling with our friends. Even more satisfying is a quiet review of our worthwhile accomplishments, our unpublicized service to others, and, on the other hand, the many little kindnesses which others have done for us.

We, in this office, are gratified that so many families are so appreciative of our efforts in helping them find the home to fit their needs. We have said before, and it is still true, that the role of a Realtor is not to sell houses; rather he should be a reliable source of information, a sympathetic adviser, and a smooth liaison between Seller and Purchaser. That is what we believe and shall continue to practice.

In reviewing the past year, the non-monetary rewards are particularly pleasant to contemplate. We have made friends!

May the New Year be kind to you and yours.

Christmas Prayer ...

ON THIS DAY ... mend a quarrel.
Search out a forgotten friend. Dismiss suspicion, and replace it with trust. Write a love letter. Share some treasure. Give a soft answer. Encourage youth. Manifest your loyalty in a word or deed.

Keep a promise. Find the time. Forego a grudge. Forgive an enemy. Listen.
Apologize if you were wrong. Try to understand. Flout envy. Examine your demands on others. Think first of someone else. Appreciate, be kind, be gentle.
Laugh a little more.

Deserve confidence. Take up arms against malice. Decry complacency. Express your gratitude. Worship your God.
Gladden the heart of a child. Take pleasure in the beauty and wonder of the earth.
Speak your love. Speak it again. Speak it still again. Speak it still once again.

Just a moment!

Before you decide to sell your own home, perhaps you'd better ask yourself these questions:

1. Which is best for me: a cash sale, a real estate exchange or the conditional contract sale?
2. Is it necessary to advertise? If so, how extensive?
3. How can I invest the proceeds of my sale profitably in other real estate?
4. How can financing or transfer of the present mortgage be arranged if I sell now?
5. How can I help the buyer arrange mortgage financing?
6. How can I get all the information on financing, comparative values, and market trends?
7. Is this a good time to sell?
8. How much cash can I get for my property on the current market?

It may pay you to see a REALTOR!

Smart move.

One that could have you time, effort, and money.

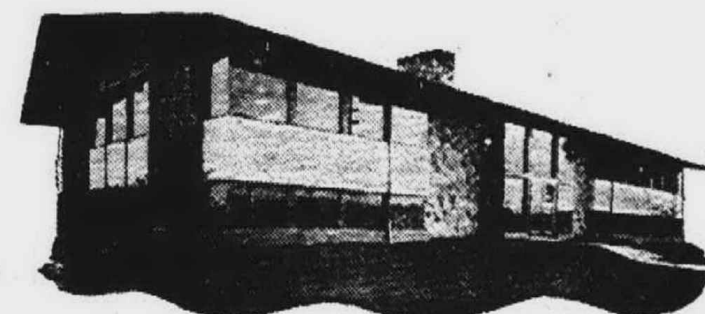

Reason? Because a Realtor is a professional in real estate. As such, he can place at your disposal his wide experience and technical skill in buying a home. Because he has the knowledge of what homes are available, he can personally show you several which will suit your needs.

One important point to remember: Not every real estate broker is a Realtor. Only a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and of his local board who subscribes to the professional standards of an established Code of Ethics may call himself a Realtor.

Merry Christmas

. . . it is a time to pause. It is a stillness in the bustle of everyday life. Christmas is a time to count the good things—the faces of children, the sparkle of a tree, the value of a good friend. At this holiday season, our warm good wishes go out to all our friends. May you have a memorable Christmas, a peaceful and prosperous New Year.

RIGHT NOW IS A Good Time
TO BUY A HOME!

If you are waiting for prices to come down, you may have a long, disappointing wait. Economists predict a continuing rise in real estate prices. The same is true of interest rates. No decline is expected in the foreseeable future. All indications are that it will cost you more to buy the home you need if you wait.

Don't Let "Tight Money" Talk Frighten You . . .

Financing money IS available for home buyers. "Tight Money" does not materially affect buyers applying for FHA, FHA-VA or VA loans. Homes are being bought and sold every day, so don't give up because of the talk you hear.
