Charter Bans Two Prospective Candidates

Incumbents File for City Commission

Unless there was a last-minute rush for nominating petitions, which seemed unlikely since Tuesday at 4 p.m. was the deadline for filing, the battle for the four posts on the City Commission will be fought by the four incumbents.

The City of Plymouth charter provides that there shall not be a primary unless there are more than twice the number of nominations as there are vacancies. In this instance, there are only four vacancies and four candidates, thus eliminating the need of a primary election in February.

The two incumbents, each of whom has taken out nominating petitions, are: Arch Vallier, James Jabara, George Hudson and George Lawton.

Lawton had indicated more than once recently that he would not be a candidate for re-election, but apparently had a change of heart when he discovered there was a decided lack of interest by voters.

As it was, it wasn't until late last week that petitions were taken out in his name.

As of Tuesday morning, City Clerk Eugene Slider, who also is chairman of the Election Board, had received two nominating petitions. One was for Vallier and the other for Rev.

Peter Schweitzer, assistant pastor of the First Methodist Church, who was told verbally that he wasn't eligible because of charter provisions.

Slider was to have placed a letter in the mails Friday, officially notifying Schweitzer that he couldn't be a candidate because the charter provides that a candidate must be, for a period of two years prior to the date of election or appointment to office, the owner of property located within and assessed for taxes by the city.

Slider had a ruling from City Attorney Thomas Healy that the same was true of petitions taken out for Charles C. DeVeau, 1142 Byron St. Should the petition be returned, then DeVeau will be told that he isn't eligible for the same reasons as Rev. Schweitzer.

Despite the fact that the City Commission has entire charge of the operations of the city, through City Manager Richard Blodgett, there is little financial gain for the members. The charter provides that the Commissioners receive $10 per regular meeting with a maximum of 52 commission-appointed mayor receives an additional $100.

Perhaps it is the termination of perhaps it is the fact that Commissioners' meetings in recent years have developed into lengthy affairs because of heated debates over practically every subject brought before the body, but the fact remains that no interest could be generated in the Commission election.

There was a time several months ago when members of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce showed interest in the Commission activities and indicated they would have candidates in the race.

But, just as such talk brought no action in the recent Plymouth Township election, it has been repeated in the City Commission.

City Clerk Slider has made a practice of giving every candidate a copy of the two provisions of the Charter that concern all taking out nominating petitions.

The provisions read:

Eligibility for office in the City, Section 4.4. Except as otherwise provided in this charter, an elector of the city shall be eligible to hold elective or appointive office, if he shall have been a resident of the city for two years immediately prior to the date of his election or appointment to office, and shall not be in default to the city, the County of Wayne, or to any school district located within the city.

To be eligible to hold an elective office, a person shall also have been, for a period of two years prior to the date of his election or appointment to office, the owner of property located within and assessed for taxes by the city.

Jaycees Start Search For '66 'Man of Year'

The Plymouth Jaycees have started their annual search for the young man in the Plymouth Community, between the ages of 21 and 26, who has given outstanding meritorious service to his family, his church, community and his nation.

The Jaycees want to present this young man with their Distinguished Service Award, the highest honor of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The one honored is entered into the United States Jaycees 10 Outstanding Young Men Competition in the hopes that his achievements will be further recognized and honored.

Nomination blanks were placed in the mail a week ago by David McCormick, Chairman of the Jaycee Week Activities in Plymouth, with the warning that all must be in the hands of the Jaycee DSA Committee prior to midnight, Jan. 12. All nominations must be addressed to the Plymouth Jaycees, Box 279, Plymouth.

The judging committee will be made up of citizens of the community who will start the screening of all nominees on Jan. 14.

The "Man of the Year" award will be made at the annual DSA banquet on Thursday, Jan. 19, in the Skylight Room.

The 1966 winner follows in the footsteps of Wendell Smith, currently Michigan Jaycee President and a National Director who went on to become one of Michigan's 10 Young Men of the Year for 1965.

At the moment, Smith is considered in the running for selections as one of the 10 Young Men in the Nation for 1966.

James Garber, who was one of the prime movers in the reorganization of the Plymouth Jaycees in the late '50s and early '60s, was the first to receive the DSA award in 1960. He was followed by City Commissioner George Lawton, City Commissioner James Jabara, Harvey Ziel and Smith, in that order.

Among outstanding winners of the U.S. 10 Outstanding Young Men awards have been such names as the late President John F. Kennedy, Richard Nixon, Dr. Tom Dooley and Leonard Bernstein.

Doris and David Carlton, of Bay City Central High School, will be the Michigan representatives.

There are four student council districts in Michigan of which Doris is chairman of District 1. Thus, he was eligible to participate in the U.S. program and accepted the invitation.

School Bd. Busy With Plans for Future Expansion

By Pres. Gerald Fischer
OF PLYMOUTH SCHOOL BOARD

1966 has been a year of planning for the future of the Plymouth Community School District. Many of the most important tasks of the board have been completed, setting forth the anticipated growth of population in the district, the facilities required to accommodate that growth, and a suggested program to finance these facilities.

The district was extremely fortunate to have the expert services of prominent citizens generously giving to the tasks of research and analysis required for these studies.

We are particularly indebted to Messrs. William Frank, Robert Tripp, Dr. Ensign Clyde, Robert Barbour, Donald Tripp, and Sam Hudson, who provided leadership to the various citizen committees that were active in school affairs in 1966.

Now the Board of Education, the Administration Staff, and interested citizens are working diligently on the finalization of the detailed plans required to implement the general program developed during the past year.

It promises to be an extremely busy year, encompassing a number of major actions in addition to the normal school year activities.

1—Development of educational facilities. The board has approved a bond issue for $4 million, $2 million of which is to be used for the construction of a new Senior High School and for Junior High School No. 3.

2—Completion of the educational specifications and architect's plans for the new Senior High School and for Junior High School No. 3.

3—Presentation of a five-year financial plan to the citizens and securing a vote on the related bond issues in the spring of 1967.

4—Awarding of contracts for construction of at least three new schools and several building additions.

5—Interviewing of applicants and selecting one to succeed Russell Isbister as Superintendent of Schools.

The last item is one of the most significant tasks facing the Board of Education in the coming year. The desire of the board is to move on to a new field of endeavor after 40 years in public school work and 16 years of very dedicated and effective service to the Plymouth Community. The board provides us with a major challenge to seek and find a worthy successor.

An intensive program of personnel search and selection is under way to assure achievement of our objective, which is to find an outstanding educator and leader who will continue the high standards of educational performance this community has come to expect.

With continued cooperation and support from our citizens, we anticipate a challenging and rewarding year in the Plymouth Community School District in 1967.

The local competition is open to young men in all fields of endeavor who may be nominated by an individual, organization, association or institution.

The rules as set up by the national organization which govern all local contests are:

1—The award will be conferred for achievements, leadership and service to the community during the calendar year of 1966. The award is for direct, outstanding service and has no relation to Junior Chamber of Commerce membership. The nominee need not be a member of the Jaycees.

2—Only young men 35 years of age or younger are eligible. If the nominee reaches his 36th birthday before Dec. 31, of the year for which the award is given, he becomes eligible if the activities for which he is judged were performed when he was 35.

Four Area Companies Awarded Official Charters

Junior Achievement companies sponsored by National Bank of Detroit, Evans Products Co., Whitman and Barnes, Consumers Power and Western Electric received their official operating charters at presentation ceremonies at the Plymouth JA Center, 585 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

The charters were presented by Robert Barbour, assistant vice president, National Bank of Detroit; C. L. Boring, general manager of Whitman and Barnes; Sam Hudson, director of advertising and public relations for Evans Products Co.; and Robert Hyman, method and accounting manager of Western Electric.

The charters correspond to the incorporation papers of a large company. Each JA company must file for application through Junior Achievement headquarters. The charter itself is a legal type document carrying the JA seal and the signatures of officers of Junior Achievement, Inc.

These miniature companies continue to function and prosper until the end of the school year much the way their cousins do in big business. In May, the companies are voluntarily liquidated, and the shareholders are sent a report of company standing.

According to Area Supervisor Daniel White, a total of 12 JA companies will be chartered within the next few weeks.

Services for Raymond Ford, 51, of 878 Arthur, Plymouth, who was killed in an industrial accident at the Saginaw Steering Gear plant of General Motors in Saginaw on Dec. 27, were conducted in the Schrader Funeral Home in charge of Rev. Dr. Herbert Brubaker with burial in Riverside Cemetery.

Ford, a driver for the G. F. Alger Trucking Co., was killed instantly when two heavy steel crates were accidentally pushed over on him while unloading his truck at Plant 5 of the Saginaw plant, according to State Police reports.

The reports show that Ford had opened one side of his truck for unloading the crates and had just started to open the other side when a hi-lift hoist, removing crates, accidentally pushed the two off the top onto the driver.

He was rushed to St. Mary Hospital in Saginaw but was pronounced dead on arrival by hospital physicians and Coroner Harold Cedarberg.

Investigation of the accident was conducted by the Coroner and officers from the State Police Post in Bridgeport.

Road Chief Stresses Need of Gas Tax Hike

Proposed increases in the state gas tax and license plate fee would give Michigan's cities and counties an additional $55 million a year to make needed road and street improvements, State Highway Director Howard E. Hill said.

Hill said counties and cities are falling behind in their efforts to provide adequate streets and roads for local traffic.

"Michigan's 83 counties and 520 cities and villages now receive $135 million annually from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund," Hill said. "Most of this income must be spent to maintain Michigan's more than 100,000 miles of county roads and city and village streets."

"A two-cent increase in the state gas tax along with a moderate increase in license plate fees would increase the amount of money available to counties and cities to about $190 million annually."

The Highway Department, Hill said, would receive an additional $50 million to spend for highway construction if the proposed tax increases are approved by the State legislature.

"Most of the Highway Department's additional revenue would be spent to provide adequate traffic ways in and near cities and on non-freeway routes in rural areas," he said.

Hill said Michigan's county road commissions and city and village street departments "are doing an excellent job" with the funds they have available.

"But they're in the same boat we are," he said, referring to the State Highway Department. "We will not be able to meet our highway needs unless we have adequate funds with which to build new highways and modernize old ones."

ALL TYPES of winter gadgets were in use over the weekend as old and young alike took advantage of the cold weather and snow. This scene was taken on one of the slopes at the Western Country Club in Redford Township.

RIDING a water ski is this youngster who received just as much of a thrill on the ice and snow as he did on the water during the summer months.

EVEN DAD found it fun to join his daughters and the family pet in a sled ride down the improvised runs. All but Mom sat in on this trip over the ice and snow.

Judge to Decide Site Of Sheriff Buback Case

A Wayne County Circuit Judge will decide next week whether the willful neglect of duty trial for two sheriff's department officials will be held in the county or moved elsewhere.

Judge Carl M. Weideman scheduled a hearing for Thursday, Jan. 12, on the motion to change the location of the trial to a court outside of Wayne County.

Seeking the change in location is Robert Goussy, assistant attorney general, who claimed that if the trial is held in the Wayne County court, the jurors would be under the physical control of deputies, who would be employees of the two defendants, Sheriff Peter L. Buback and Undersheriff James Bommarito.

In addition, Wayne County is not a suitable location for the trial since Buback and Bommarito have been "in close proximity with persons now involved in the administration of the Circuit Court."

The jurors would be under the physical control of the sheriff's deputies when they are outside of the courtroom, Goussy pointed out.

Usually a change in venue request is made by the defense attorney. In the current case, which came out of the Westland traffic ticket fixing scandal of 1965, defense attorney Joseph Louisell called the attorney general's request "ridiculous."

Louisell also said that in his legal experience, he has never heard of a prosecutor seeking a change in venue.

However, Goussy said that it has been done before. At the arraignment before Presiding Circuit Judge Thomas Murphy, Buback and Bommarito didn't enter any pleas but the court submitted an innocent plea for them.

The ticket fixing issue resulted in the creation of a one-man grand jury, in the person of Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins, who issued indictments against the two sheriff's department officers.

The pair are charged with allowing the ticket fixing, illegal appointment of honorary sheriff's deputies, holding an illegal lottery, and illegally soliciting funds for election campaign purposes.

Livonian James O'Neil Sworn in to State Board

LANSING—Dr. Leroy G. Augenstein and James F. O'Neil, newly-elected members to the State Board of Education, were formally sworn into office by Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh.

The ceremony took place in the Supreme Court Chambers at the State Capitol in Lansing. Attending were O'Neil's wife, Elaine, his two sons, Mark and David; brother David; and Augenstein's wife, Elizabeth, and son, David.

Augenstein and O'Neil, who took over their official responsibilities as State Board members on January 1, were elected to eight-year terms under Michigan's new Constitution.

The ceremony marked O'Neil's second admission to State Board membership by a Chief Justice of Michigan's highest court. He was sworn into office for a six-year term in 1963 by the then Chief Justice Leeland W. Carr.

Ironically, the six-year term was cut short in 1965

Approve Bids For Street Salt and Police Car

The Garden City Council last week approved the low bids for the winter's rock salt supply and the installation of new equipment for the police chief's car.

Getting the salt contract was the previous year's low bidder, Diamond Crystal Salt Co., which submitted a quote of $8.80 per ton delivered to Garden City.

The auto of Police Chief Robert Behrendt will have new equipment installed by Fred's Auto Electric for its low bid price of $1,193.72.

when the Constitutional changes, for which he had actively campaigned, went into effect.

Augenstein, who is chairman of the Michigan State University Biophysics Department, resides in Holt. He has previously been a research consultant at Brookhaven National Laboratory, a research consultant at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory which he still serves in a consultative capacity, and a research administrator for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

O'Neil, a Ford Motor Company executive, lives in Livonia.

In addition to previous membership on the State Board of Education, he has been active in both civic and educational endeavors which have included serving on the first Board of Trustees for Schoolcraft College, an institution he helped organize and establish.

Area Parents Warned Foreign Dollies Are Very Dangerous

Parents in the communities served by the Observer Newspapers Monday were warned by area fire chiefs that there are thousands of dolls in the hands of Michigan children that are fire hazards.

The warning came after the federal government moved to recall stocks of the imported European dolls.

In Washington, the Federal Food and Drug Administration requested the New York importing firm of A. D. Sutton & Sons to withdraw their stocks from the market.

An FDA official indicated that the agency didn't want to start a panic about the dolls but stressed that they are potentially dangerous even though no injuries have been reported from flammable dolls.

The dolls were reported in a number of states besides Michigan including New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Ohio and Louisiana.

The FDA acted under the 1966 Child Protection Act which forbids interstate commerce of toys made from hazardous substances.

The faces of the dolls are made of nitrocellulose, a highly flammable plastic also used in the manufacture of gunpowder. The dolls are from seven to 16" in length.

Fire officials said confusion about the origin of the dolls resulted in a warning that was too limited. They urged anyone who suspects a doll might be dangerous to either destroy it or return it to the store where it was purchased.

The dangerous dolls were thought to have been only those made in Poland and imported through Great Britain by A. D. Sutton.

However, it was discovered that the same type of doll had been made in England and was being widely sold.

The J. L. Hudson Co. advised fire officials that it had conducted its own tests and had determined that the English dolls it was selling through its budget stores were virtually identical with those labeled dangerous.

Other major stores in Detroit, and apparently throughout Michigan and in many other states, also handled the British dolls.

The dangerous dolls all have the same face—made of nitrocellulose—but their hair and dress differ. The bodies are stuffed with sawdust adding to the hazard.

One version has a negro complexion but the features of the face are the same as the blond, brunet and redhead models.

There isn't any question about the presence of the dolls in the Plymouth area.

Mrs. Maurice Breen, after reading of the dolls, took one to Plymouth Township Director of Public Safety William Burr for a check. Burr struck a match to the face and it blazed brilliantly for a few moments.

Burr and City of Plymouth Fire Chief George Schoeneman urge all with suspected dangerous dolls to take them to one of the area fire stations for a check.

The MAYOR'S CORNER

By HARVEY W. MOELKE

LIVONIA'S 1966 TAX BILLS... were distributed the first part of December. This year the Michigan State Tax Commission did not delay appeals of Livonia tax-payers. This permitted the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation to print and deliver our tax bills on schedule.

As usual, there is a gnashing of teeth and tearing of hair by some Livonia citizens who haven't taken the time to read their tax bill much less to participate in the elective decisions which would enable them to express their desires.

We in city government are used to receiving the full impact of the taxpayers complaint for the total tax bill. I am sure that you knowledgeable people know that the city only acts as a collection agent for the county and school taxes.

Many people feel that the school and city taxes should be paid separately—that this would result in the taxpayer being more aware of where his tax dollar is spent.

Most people don't know that the school lobby in Lansing, one of the most powerful in the state has succeeded in allowing the schools to designate their taxes to be collected at the same time that city taxes are paid.

Our school district's fiscal year starts July 1 and it would save the school district thousands of dollars if they would have their school taxes paid by July 1 of each year. The schools now have to borrow money on anticipation of revenues to be received in December when the city and county tax bills are due.

The city of Detroit receives one of the highest per capita taxes of any city in the state. One of my early endeavors as mayor of Livonia was to join the Vigilance Tax Committee composed of suburban mayors fighting the non-resident income tax provision of Detroit's income tax ordinance.

There were and are some Livonians who feel that the suburbs should contribute to the city in which they work. The Vigilance Tax Committee was successful in a two year fight in securing legislation in Lansing which created a uniform city income tax law.

A very important part of this new law limited the amount of city income tax on both residents and non-residents, setting the non-resident portion at one-half of one per cent.

A great many mayors felt that Detroit's original income tax of 1 per cent would be only the beginning—that if no restraints were placed by the State Legislature on a city income tax, Detroit's rate would soon rise to 3, 4 or 5 per cent.

This week's newspaper headlines bear out our prediction. Detroit is about to ask for an additional $150 million for capital improvement.

Detroit receives about $40 million from its income tax at the 1 per cent level. Without the state law, it would be very easy for Detroit's Council to increase their income tax rate from its present 1 per cent. It would then be unnecessary to go to the people to vote additional property taxes for their proposed $150 million bond issue.

All cities in the metropolitan area are affected by the fiscal policies of the city of Detroit. Wage rates for our Civil Service employees and the Wayne County Civil Service employees must compete with the Detroit scale.

If Detroit voters had approved the 42 hour duty week which Detroit firemen had requested with no decrease in pay (all Civil Service firemen received an effective 12 per cent increase in pay two years ago when their duty hours were reduced from 63 to 56 with no reduction in salary), tremendous pressure would have been placed upon the governments of all the surrounding communities to match the Detroit scale even though Detroit firemen are called upon to fight many, many more fires than those in the newer suburban communities.

I am proud of our city's ability to pay adequate salaries and live within our budget, which is one of the lowest in per capita revenues within the state. We would have no difficulty whatsoever in providing many additional facilities and services if the citizens of Livonia received their fair share in sales tax and gas and license taxes from the state.

We are still receiving state revenues based upon our 1960 population of 66,000 even though we are now over 100,000. Almost a million dollars a year paid by Livonia taxpayers to the state is going to other communities because of this unfair distribution of state funds. I have been working with other mayors to rectify this condition.

Gov. Romney has given us some encouragement. We are hopeful that the new session of the Legislature will permit cities to pay for a census which would enable them to receive their rightful share of these state revenues.

Calls Meeting

The new Wolverine-Drifters, Livonia Chapter of the National Campers and Hikers Association, will hold its monthly meeting Thursday, January 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the community room at Merri-Bowl Lanes, 30950 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

Topics to be discussed will be chapter insignia and chapter jackets and hats.

Interested camping families in the general area of Livonia are cordially invited to attend. There are still a few membership openings.

New Law Partnership Announced

Steve Polgar and E. Fred Turner announced the formation of a new law partnership under the firm name of Polgar and Turner with offices in the Polgar Building at 15855 Farmington Road, Livonia. Turner, 39, who lives with his wife, Edith and their four children at 19647 Angling Road, Livonia, has been a resident of Livonia since 1960.

A former resident of Beckley, W. Va., he obtained a Bachelor of Arts Degree from West Virginia University in 1950 and obtained his Law Degree from Wayne State University in 1953.

E. Fred Turner was formerly associated with the Law Firm of Dann, Rosenbaum, Bloom & Kaufman, a firm specializing in negligence law but which is better known for their handling of the stock holders suit against the Chrysler Corporation which led ultimately to a reorganization of the Company, and only recently was instrumental in the preparation of Jack Ruby's successful appeal for a new trial.

Like Polgar, presently Livonia's City Attorney and a former Livonia School Board Trustee, Turner has been involved in school affairs. He is a past President of Botsford School P.T.A. and has been active in the Clarenceville School District Millage and Bond campaigns.

Wayne State University's 17-17 wrestling tie with Taylor University on Dec. 10, 1966, was only the second mat deadlock in the 10 years WSU has had the sport.

STRIDING IN BIG BOOTS!

"Making Electricity With The Atom And Getting Natural Gas From Under The Sea," reads like a chapter from the legendary tale of the giant lumberjack, Paul Bunyan. His superhuman feats, however, can't compare with the prodigious steps taken by Consumers Power Company in its continuous efforts to assure ample electricity and natural gas for Michigan's lower peninsula... now and in the future.

Consumers Power Company built Michigan's Big Rock Point Nuclear Plant on its own initiative, entirely at its own expense. It was the world's first high-power density boiling water reactor for generating commercial electricity. Operating at capacity, Big Rock Point is capable of supplying enough electricity to meet all the residential and farm needs of an average city of 100,000 persons.

And, to increase its supply of natural gas for Michigan's growing demands, Consumers Power gets huge amounts of natural gas from offshore wells beneath the Gulf of Mexico... wells as deep as 11,000 feet below the water and more than 5 miles out to sea!

Thus Consumers Power, takes giant steps to help keep Michigan great!

U-M Starts Annual Survey of Consumers for New Trends

ANN ARBOR—Interviewers from the Survey Research Center of The University of Michigan have begun ringing doorbells in their 22nd annual Survey of Consumers. Selected families in many states have been chosen as part of a national sample to be contacted between now and March 15.

The survey asks consumers to air their views and opinions about present business and economic conditions in the country, and also encourages them to say what they think about possible future trends. Families will be asked about spending and saving habits, and about their views on family financial management.

Information obtained from individuals is held in strictest confidence and is never made public. Each interview, however, becomes part of the broader national cross-section of opinion of economic matters of vital importance to the American family.

Data collected in this annual Survey of Consumers are analyzed by University of Michigan economists George Katona and James Morgan, and sociologist John Sonquist.

Their reports on the survey are used by business leaders, government agencies and educators in studies of U.S. economic trends and conditions.

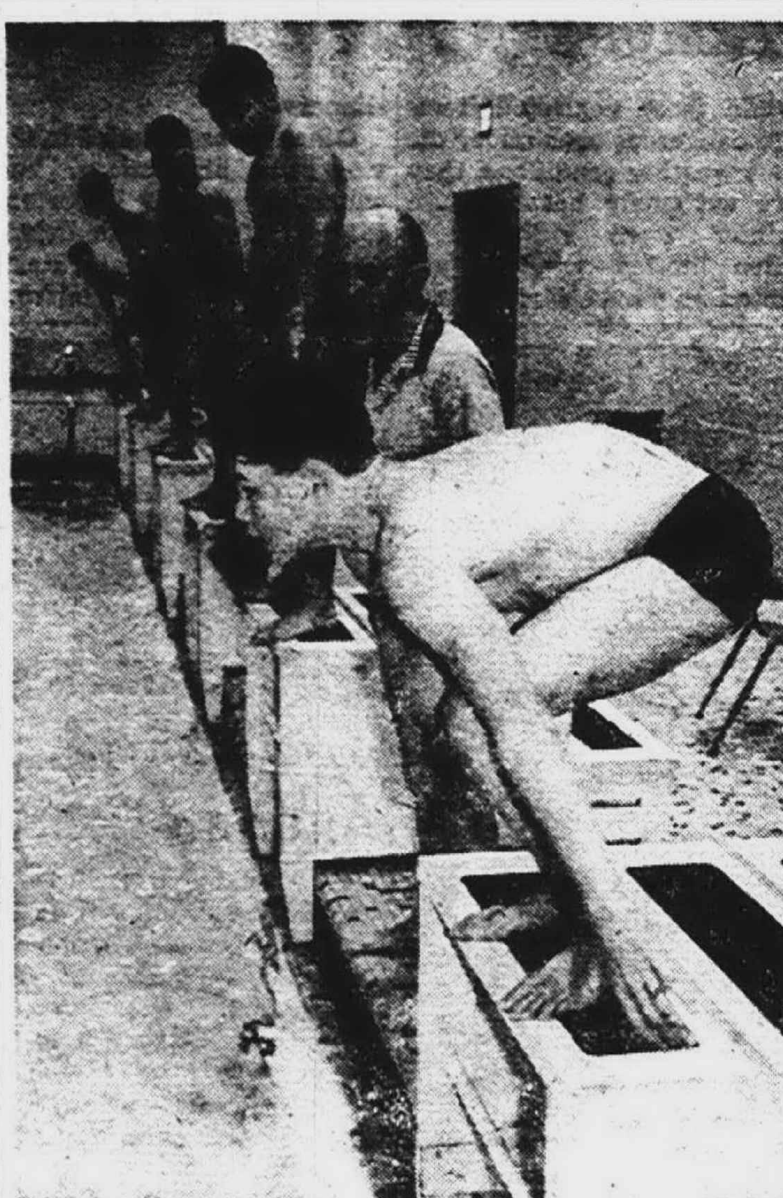

Close Ramp of I-94 Interchange On Wayne Road

LANSING — One ramp of the Wayne Rd. interchange on I-94 at Wayne will be closed for two months, the State Highway Commission reported.

All northbound Wayne Rd. traffic desiring to travel east on I-94 will be detoured via M-17 (Ecorse Rd.) east to the Merriman Rd. interchange.

No other traffic movements at the Wayne Rd. interchange are affected.

The detour adds 2.5 miles to the regular route and will be effective until the modernization of the ramp is completed in early December.

Warn Aliens to Submit Their Address Reports

Immigration officials are well pleased with the response of aliens in this area to address report requirements.

Walter A. Sahli, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in the State of Michigan stated that although the program has been underway only one week, the number reporting thus far is above the number reporting during the same period during past years.

Aliens have until the end of January to submit their address reports to the Government. Forms for the purpose may be obtained at any Post Office or any office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

All aliens, with few exceptions, are required to report. Those excused from this requirement include diplomats and persons accredited to certain international organizations.

Aliens who are minors must also report, but the parent or legal guardian should submit the report for an alien child under fourteen years of age.

Study Shows Many Motorists Neglect Safety Repairs

LANSING — Apparently a good many motorists will do well to start the new year with a resolution to treat their automobiles to some needed and important safety repairs.

This is the conclusion of officials of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, currently conducting vehicle inspections with the cooperation of police and sheriff's departments throughout the state. The inspections are part of a Safety Enforcement Emphasis Program aimed at helping motorists avoid accidents.

Of more than 30,000 vehicle inspections reported during the first few weeks of the program, more than two out of three vehicles checked needed repairs on one or more of the major safety equipment items, according to an initial survey of records submitted for analysis.

Defective lights head the list of improperly maintained items — closely followed by unsafe tires, exhaust systems and broken or obscured windshields and windows.

Patrol officers of cooperating departments making the checks discovered headlights that were burned out or badly aligned. Drivers also tended to neglect or were not aware of burned out tail lights, brake lights, license plate lights, parking lights and turn indicators.

Tire neglect assumes serious proportions when the driver rides on bald tires or upon tires with little tread; and the way the tires are worn often indicates to the inspecting officer that tires need balancing or that the wheel alignment should be checked.

Smoke from beneath the car or a noisy muffler is a tip off that lethal gases may be seeping into the car. Cracked and discolored windshields or window glass — or areas obscured by unauthorized stickers or dangling objects — mean the driver can't see the roadway as he should.

Spokesmen for the chiefs' association point out that, while these neglected items are dangerous even under the best weather conditions, they are extremely hazardous in winter when visibility is often limited, windows are closed and road surfaces are slippery.

Other items included in the vehicle inspections, and which are equally important to the safety of the driver and his passengers, are: steering, brakes, horn, mirrors and the vehicle's visibility equipment — defrosters, windshield wipers and washers.

Cooperating enforcement agencies include the Michigan State Police and sheriff's and local police departments. Cars of violators which are stopped get a checkup on the major safety items, the proper operation and maintenance of which are required by Michigan law.

Initial returns indicate that nine out of ten of the cars inspected were first stopped because the driver committed an unsafe driving violation rather than for an apparent vehicle defect spotted by the officer in advance.

It is expected that several hundred thousands vehicles will be inspected during the program, which is scheduled to run through February 11. Necessary program materials have been provided through a grant from Traffic Safety For Michigan, Inc.

The statewide compilation and summarization of inspections reports is being made by the Highway Traffic Safety Center, a unit of Michigan State University's Continuing Education Service.

Officials of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police view this summary of initial returns — while not complete — as a serious indication that drivers are neglecting the condition of far too many vehicles traveling Michigan's streets and highways. They hope the program will serve as a warning to drivers to check not only the condition of their vehicles but their own driving behavior as well.

Bandsmen Need More Training, Less Concerts

ANN ARBOR—Less stress should be placed now upon immediate public concerts for newly formed school bands and orchestras, and more emphasis directed to the proper training of the individual music student, says William D. Revelli, director of University of Michigan bands.

"We are rapidly progressing to the point where parents and administrators realize that playing in the school band is only one phase of the student's development. Emphasis is more and more being placed upon the student's initial preparation," Revelli writes.

Exploiting our school bands and orchestras was sometimes demanded in the past and window-dressing was believed vital to the program's existence," he says.

"Our communities and administrators in those days of the program expected us to 'sell' our music groups to the community, and their price for 'cooperation' was an immediate series of performances by the newly formed school band.

"But today we have come to realize that such 'selling' is not true to the objectives, philosophies, and ideals of education."

Revelli notes that trends have changed greatly since those first days, and administrators are more understanding and farseeing in regard to the true purposes of music programs and their contribution to America's future citizenry.

Music education has come a long way, he emphasizes. "It's here to stay and it can only be challenged when its achievements fall short of its motivating spirit.

"If our instrumental program continues to develop bands for public performances at a sacrifice of an honest musical foundation, we will hardly be filling our obligations to students or to our profession," he says.

"Some communities have been educated to an acceptance of only the highest of standards and do not regard a mediocre school band or orchestra as 'simply marvelous' because it is able to perform without complete disaster. A great deal of mass rehearsal is lost motion, and it is needless to mention that such practices lead to little or no progress."

Revelli stresses the importance of individual instruction. "But where this is by necessity limited, division of sections might be arranged," he suggests.

"This may demand more time and effort from the teacher and perhaps he must depend upon student aid. However, that problem is one which can be worked out and which will pay for itself immeasurably."

Fallacies, Frauds in Food Fads

Want to feel like sixteen at sixty? Think that special foods and food supplements will do it? Think again!

The promotion of special foods and food supplements is the most widespread and costly quackery today, warns Anita Dean, Extension nutrition specialist at Michigan State University.

Beware of "self-styled" nutritionists, occasional best sellers, and overzealous salesmen who imply nervousness, fatigue, and vague aches and pains result because our food supply is critically lacking in nutrients. They claim this is due to depleted soil and over-processing.

The facts show many more causes for fatigue and aches and pains than a lack of vitamins or minerals. Research also shows that crops grown on depleted soil are as nutritious as those grown elsewhere—only the total yield is much less.

Mrs. Dean notes that while food processing may reduce the amounts of vitamins and minerals in foods, exact amounts are replaced by the processor.

If you're able to eat well-chosen everyday meals you don't need supplemental vitamins and minerals. If you're on a special diet, leave the prescribing of food concentrates and capsules to your physician, the nutritionist recommends.

Power Driven Snow Throwers, Dangerous

The power-driven snow thrower can present hazards for the uninformed and careless user. This warning comes from the Greater Detroit Safety Council, a chapter of the National Safety Council.

Most injuries occur when the operator attempts to clear snow-clogged parts without first turning off the motor. But careless clearing of snow-clogged parts is not the only possible cause of injury.

- Keep children and pets away while operating the machine.
- Never leave running equipment unattended.
- Never refill the fuel tank with the engine running. Avoid fuel spills.
- Never remove foreign objects or snow from the equipment while the engine is running.
- Never put a hand or foot near any moving part.
- Never place your hand inside the discharge chute or even near its outside edge with the engine running.
- Never make any mechanical adjustment or do any other kind of work on the equipment while it is running.
- Never run the engine indoors.
- Don't operate the machine on a steep slope where you risk a slip or fall.

Stones and other objects hidden by the snow can be picked up and thrown by the whirling blades along with the snow. For this reason, operators of snow throwers are urged to make sure no one is in line with the discharge chute and to pay particular attention when clearing driveways and walks covered with crushed stone.

Operators of snow throwers should follow the recommendations of the National Safety Council:

- Read all operating instructions carefully.
- Know how to stop the engine or how to throw the unit out of gear quickly.

Although the United States has only six percent of the world's population, more than one-third of the world's total output of electric power is produced in this country.

Red Cross Urges Care In Ice Skating Sites

"Use caution when choosing an ice skating site," says Southeastern Michigan Chapter Red Cross Safety Services Chairman Frederick K. Cody. "Although the first ice of the season may look good, it is generally thin and not uniform in thickness."

Red Cross recommends the following:

1. Skate in supervised areas, preferably a shallow pond or lake where the water is no more than waist deep.
2. Skate with a "buddy."
3. Build fires on the bank, not on the ice.
- For ice rescue:
 1. Keep a length of rope, pole, ladder or plank handy.
 2. When rescuing someone who has fallen through the ice, lie flat on the ice, edge forward and push the rescue equipment toward the victim. When he has grasped it securely, pull him to safety. Do not stand on the ice while performing the rescue act.
 3. If there is no rescue equipment available, several persons can form a human chain by lying flat on the ice, holding the ankles or skates of the person in front of them. They worm their way toward the victim; the lead man grasps his wrists and the whole line wriggles back to safety.

4. If alone and you fall through the ice, don't try to climb out. Instead, extend both arms along the surface of the ice and kick vigorously. This will help lift your body onto solid ice. Then roll to safety. It is a good idea to carry ice awls or a knife with you when skating. Then, if an accident occurs, you can use such tools to aid in pulling yourself onto solid ice.

The Southeastern Michigan Chapter, American National Red Cross, has prepared a folder, "Going Skating," which is available upon request at no charge. The folder may be obtained by writing the chapter, 153 E. Elizabeth, Detroit, 48232 or phoning the Red Cross Public Information Office, 961-3900.

HEAVY SNOW and two new blades arrived at about the same time in the City of Plymouth. DPW Supt. Kenneth Vogras is shown with the new equipment, which cost $2,075, and was immediately used to clear slippery streets and highways.

Plymouth City Manager Tells of 1966 Events

By Richard D. Blodgett

1966 was a busy year that saw several significant events shape the future of the City of Plymouth. After construction of the new two-million gallon water reservoir, the city ordered two water towers removed.

On March 5, 1966, various city officials participated in the Hillsdale Conference weekend, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. As a result, better inter-governmental cooperation seems to be taking place in the form of mutual studies for an incinerator authority and joint police protection.

A new position of Youth Officer-Investigator was created in the police department.

Harvey Street widening from Penniman to Ann Arbor Trail was authorized, but because the project involved right-of-way acquisition, it will be necessary that this project be carried forward into 1967.

Sutherland, S. Main to Harvey Street, and Hartough, Roosevelt Avenue to Syman Subdivision, were reconstructed in the fall of '66.

The City Commission closed out the Mill Street Urban Renewal Project, and voted against an urban renewal project for the southeast quadrant of the Central Business District. Spurred on by the Chamber of Commerce, a

RICHARD BLODGETT

Citizen's Central Business District Implementation Committee was formed to study means of improving the downtown.

Plymouth's sidewalks were subjected to inspection and a program begun to replace and repair all defective walks in the city.

With the creation of a new position of Housing Code Inspector, city housing code enforcement was undertaken on a systematic, area by area basis.

Because of a city ordinance restricting parking on city streets between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m., street cleaning and snow removing services are now performed on a more efficient basis.

The City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township entered into a reciprocal agreement for initial fire response by both departments to all school alarms in the Plymouth community.

The City Commission approved the selection of city owned land west of S. Harvey Street for a 60-unit senior Citizens' Housing Project.

As a result of a favorable vote in November, liquor by the glass, the city Commission approved two liquor licenses.

What can we expect in 1967? The DPW storage garage will be completed early in the year. City ordinances will be reclassified and the zoning ordinance should be completed. We can also expect the city to adopt ordinances on taxi cabs and personnel.

We can look for Harvey Street to be widened and other central business district improvements to take place, such as beautification of the park, store front renovations, traffic circulation and better parking facilities.

We can expect the Senior Citizen's home plans to be completed. It is expected that the city will acquire additional park land and improve recreational facilities.

Spending their first Christmas in their new home were the Warren Bradburns. Delighting the children was the arrival on the new snow of a new type of Santa's Sleigh, the Ski-Doo smack in front of the big glass family room window, and Chuck Finlan driving.

Follow Tips—Avoid Home Accidents

A great many serious accidents occur in the home, the National Safety Council reports. The Greater Detroit Safety Council, a chapter of the NSC, offers the following tips to help you avoid home accidents:

Staircases should have firm handrails, be well lighted and covered with anti-slip material. Stair treads should not be narrower than 9 1/2-inches, and the ceiling at any point should not be less than 6 feet, 8 inches above any treads.

Equip bathrooms with secure grab-bars above the tub and in the shower stall.

Doors should swing back against the wall and not project into a room when open. Swinging-door closets should have inside handles and a 1-inch air space at the bottom in case a child shuts himself in.

Keep cleaning compounds, medicines, pesticides and other potential poisons out of the reach of curious children.

Make a regular inspection of the medicine chest, and remove all old unlabeled medicines and containers.

Arnold E. Anderson, of 11313 Mayfield, and Carl E. Burke, of 11035 Auburndale, Livonia, will participate in the 1967 SAE Automotive Engineering Congress and Exposition Jan. 9-13 at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

City Seeks U.S. School Aid

Garden City schools have re-applied for participation in the federal assistance program for slow-learners in basic arithmetic and reading. The school system also is seeking funds available for direct counseling for potential dropouts.

The grant, which first must be approved by the state, totals $45,069 and comes under the recent amendment to Title I of the Federal Assistance Act for Education of Children from Low-Income Families.

Under it the schools here would receive $21,588 for the elementary level summer reading program, $14,388 for the year-round programmed arithmetic instruction, plus $9,098 for direct counseling during the summer for potential dropouts.

The program is fully funded by the federal government.

Special Administrative Assistant Robert S. Duhan has been authorized to proceed with the application. Approval is expected within the next couple of months, Duhan said.

The arithmetic and reading projects were begun last year. Counseling is a new program.

Basic objective of the arithmetic program is to identify and work with junior high pupils who are deficient in computational skills, said Mrs. Lois Holder of the Programmed Instruction Department of Garden City schools. She is director of the project, which this past year has been conducted at Vogel and Cambridge junior high schools.

The remedial reading workshop, if approved, again would run for seven weeks, from June into August.

"Its basic purpose is to help the child to a better grasp of reading skills, a better feeling toward school and, if possible, a healthier attitude toward life," said Sara Ensor, Garden City schools reading consultant.

Fifty children were selected and enrolled in the project last summer. Pupils who previously had disliked school refused to miss classes, she said. The direct counseling service is for students in grades nine through 11.

Purpose of the project is to make counselors available during the summer months when the dropout problem is most critical.

GM Gives Area Big Boost in 1966

Purchases Payroll Up A Million

General Motors' expenditures for employee payrolls and local purchases at the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants in Livonia totaled more than $58.9 million during 1966, a $1 million increase over last year.

The year-end statement was released jointly by Harrison T. Price, manager of the Chevrolet plant and Paul D. Pender, Fisher Body plant manager.

Employment during the year averaged nearly 6,600, equal to last year's work force at the two plants.

Employees at the two Livonia GM installations contributed more than $171,000 to the 1966 United Fund in communities where they reside, representing an $11,000 increase over 1965. In addition, employees invested $1.6 million in U.S. Savings Bonds through payroll deduction.

During 1966, GM awarded approximately $135,000 to employees for ideas submitted in the GM-Suggestion Plan. Three Chevrolet Livonia employees received the plan's top award of $6,000.

A major expansion program at the Chevrolet plant was completed during 1966, adding nearly 800,000 square feet of floor area. The new facilities include increased space for manufacturing, processing and marshalling of finished parts, and power-house equipment.

The Chevrolet plant produces chassis coil and leaf springs and bumpers for Chevrolet passenger cars.

CHAIRMAN OF THE General Motors Livonia plant city committee for 1966 and manager of the Chevrolet Livonia plant, Harrison T. Price (left), describes a finished product of the plant's new chrome plating facilities which were completed during 1966 to Paul D. Pender, manager of the Fisher Body Livonia plant. The Chevrolet expansion program last year added nearly 800,000 square feet of space for manufacturing and related activities. The two GM plant managers announced that $58.9 million was spent for employee payrolls and local purchases during 1966.

New Board Studies Air Pollution Cases

Air pollution control at the county level was boosted with the convening of a nine-member Wayne County Department of Health Air Pollution Control Appeals Board. The appointment of the new Board was made by the Wayne County Board of Health.

The purpose of the Appeals Board is to review appeals arising from decisions and violation notices issued by the Wayne County Department of Health Air Pollution Control Section.

Members of the Appeals Board are representatives of the legal, medical and engineering professions, labor, business and industry, plus representatives of the community at large.

A member of the County Air Pollution Control Section cited the Appeals Board appointment as an important step in view of the accelerated activities of the new County Air Pollution Control program. The County's Air Pollution Control Regulation was passed in December, 1965.

Federal Aid For Hospital Training

Congressman William D. Ford (Democrat, 15th District), has announced that a federal grant of $46,792 has been approved for a training program for nurses' aides and orderlies at Wayne County General Hospital.

The money has been allocated under the Manpower Development and Training Act, Congressman Ford said.

The project will provide four weeks of training for 140 unemployed persons. The grant includes $27,520 for allowances to be paid to the trainees, and $21,692 for training costs.

Ford explained that the Manpower Development and Training Act became law on March 15, 1962. The Department of Labor and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare were given joint responsibility for the program.

The basic idea of the program is to identify areas in which manpower shortages exist, and then seek out persons who can be trained to fill the positions.

Thurston Reigns as Rouge Meet Kings

Mention the annual River Rouge high school invitational basketball tournament... and the first team that always has come to mind was the host.

For eight years the Panthers of River Rouge had dominated the Invitational. Other teams like Thurston usually went along for the ride — to get in some action during the holiday period when they were idle from regular-season competition. But, now, the Rouge bubble has busted. The team they talked about about last week from start to finish was Mike Pasternak's Thurston.

Thurston began by springing a major upset, 72-47, over Highland Park. The next night it was Thurston by an even more whopping score of 93-40 over Lincoln Park.

Then came the finals. It was Thurston vs. Ecorse, which the night before had ousted River Rouge.

But thanks to a fast start, which had become standard operating procedure for Thurston, the Townshippers came out a 75-61 winner and took home the beautiful championship trophy.

In all three games, Thurston broke from the starting gate as if it had a fire burning under it.

Against Highland Park, Thurston roared to a 15-2 edge by the close of the first period.

In the Lincoln Park affair, it was 22-8 for Thurston after the initial eight minutes.

Against Ecorse, Thurston jumped on top, 20-4.

"We played very well," declared a happy coach Pasternak who admitted that two lineup changes going in to the tourney had helped to benefit his team.

Pasternak was smarting after the Thurston pre-Christmas defeat to Redford Union. Hence the shifts.

"This was a team championship drive," added Pasternak who now hopes that Thurston can keep on in 1967 where his forces left off in '66.

It'll be back to Northwest Suburban League action this Friday for Thurston.

Examining each of the Thurston victories starting with the championship contest and going backwards:

Thurston 75, Ecorse 61.

Dale Joyce and Roger Steffan each drilled in three baskets in the first quarter while Ecorse was held to one hoop in 16 tries to fall behind by 16 points at the close of the period.

In the next two periods, Ecorse picked up considerably. By halftime it was 38-26 for Thurston and at the three-quarter mark Thurston held a 53-40 edge and appeared to have matters tucked away.

But any team that can beat River Rouge must have something... and Ecorse did.

Back stormed the downriver team. With Joe Felder scoring 11 points in the last period, Ecorse sliced the Thurston lead to 65-61 with 1:26 showing on the clock.

The Thurston players were squirming. So was their coach.

But with the pressure on, Thurston arose to the occasion — as a true champ always does.

In went ten Thurston points in quick fashion... and the ball game and the championship belonged to the gang from South Redford.

Red Barringer flipped in a basket to start the charge. Two free throws by Don Kopec and baskets by Gary Schulte and Barringer applied the icing to the cake for Thurston.

In the scoring column it was Barringer with 25 points, Roger Steffan with 15, Bob Wardrop with 12, Joyce with nine, Schulte with eight and Kopec two.

Ecorse had beaten River Rouge, 63-60, in the semifinals. Then Rouge beat Robichaud for third-place honors, 87-60.

Thurston 93, Lincoln Park 40

This one never was close after Thurston sprung in front, 22-8, by holding Lincoln Park to only three baskets in the first quarter.

Barringer had nine points in the first quarter to pace the fast Thurston start.

Wardrop and Kopec added five each in the second stanza, enabling Thurston to take a 45-19 command at halftime. All the second and third stringers got a chance to play for Thurston the rest of the way.

Barringer with 19 points,

Wardrop with 12 and Don Block and Steffan with 10 each topped the winners. Kopec and Schulte followed with nine apiece.

Thurston 72, Highland Pk. 47

This victory brought the Thurston team immediate headlines and the cage world began to realize that in Redford Township they had a strong team at the south end.

Highland Park managed only one basket in the first period and that after seven minutes and four seconds of play. Meantime with Wardrop knocking in three hoops, Thurston had taken a 15-2 edge.

It was 35-13 at half time with Barringer making 11 points in the second quarter.

Barringer dumped in 24 points and Steffan 20 to provide Thurston with a tremendous one-two punch.

In the three games, Barringer flipped through 68 points for a 22.7-point average.

Marks Set By Bentley Swimmers

Bentley high's swimming team produced a pair of new school records in downing Pontiac Northern, 55-50, in a dual meet.

Dennis Rogissart accounted for the first mark with a 1:54.9 clocking in the 200-yard free style.

The other standard was set by Bill Palmer with a 23.8-second timing in the 50-yard free style.

The 400-yard free style relay, final event on the program, decided the meet. David Guthrie, Ron Mihal, Brian Donaldson and Jay Schreiber formed the winning combination for Bentley.

Besides his record in the 50-yard free, Palmer also won the 100-yard butterfly. David Kee of Bentley won the 400-yard free for Bentley which resumes Suburban Six League action this Thursday at Plymouth.

Bentley Matmen Steal Show in Holiday Tourney

Bentley High wrestlers registered their fifth straight dual meet victory and dominated the Waterford holiday tournament in a pair of standout team efforts prior to the start of the Christmas vacation.

Bentley whipped Franklin, 35-21, recording seven falls to maintain its unbeaten string.

LOSES TO SOUTHFIELD IN FINAL

Second for Bentley

Runnerup honors to Bentley High!

So went the story in the annual Northwest Suburban League holiday high school basketball tournament.

To the surprise of few the title went to Southfield, one of the state's Class A powerhouses, which in Friday night's championship, broke away in the last period to pin a 74-61 defeat on Bentley.

Bentley had conquered Ypsilanti, 71-49, and then followed with a 61-60 squeaker over Berkley to get into the championship encounter of the meet which also attracted Redford Union and Farmington from the area.

Redford Union waltzed out in fast style, beating Walled Lake, 89-67. But then RU fell to Southfield, 75-67, and ended play in the meet by a heartbreaker to Berkley, 65-63.

Farmington fashioned only one win in the meet, disposing of Walled Lake, 81-65, in the finale after losing to Ypsilanti, 67-64, and Berkley, 67-58.

Here's the story of how Bentley gained the title game and what transpired in the wrapup.

Bentley 71, Ypsilanti 49

It was just a good tuneup for the Livonians. They had a 39-25 lead after one quarter and coasted along without much pressure.

Ken Bollin finished as high scorer with 23 points. Mike McCauley had 13, Grey Coleman 11 and Greg Macy eight for the victors.

Bentley 61, Berkley 60 Bentley held sway most of the time, but Berkley made matters very uncomfortable at the finish.

The Livonians got seven points from Macy and six from Ed Ryan to take a 16-10 lead after one quarter. It was 33-29 for Bentley after the second period in which Macy had six points.

The four-point differential remained after three quarters. Then Berkley scored with five seconds left to get within a point of Berkley, but the Livonians stalled out the remaining time.

Macy had 17 points, Bollin 14 and Ryan ten in a winning cause.

Southfield 74, Bentley 61

After Bentley had pulled in front, 15-14, after one quarter with Larry Grimm scoring six points and Bollin five, Southfield took over and led the rest of the way.

It was 33-29 after the half and still anybody's game, 51-48 for Southfield, going into the closing quarter.

Then Southfield, picked as a top Class A contender in the state, went to work and outscored Bentley, 23-13, in the last period with famed all-around star Ted Simmons making eight points and Glen Lenhoff and Bob Scheuer six each.

The inability to hit from the floor hurt Bentley. The Livonians dropped in 23 of 91 shots from the outside while Southfield clicked on 27 of 63.

Lenhoff was the big star with 26 points, while Davidson and Simmons had 14 each and Dave Kontry 12.

For Bentley is was Bollin with 18 points with Mark Formisna 10, Grimm eight, Ryan, Coleman and Macy six each.

The Redford Union story in the meet follows:

RU 89, Walled Lake 67

The Townshippers roared away to a 56-27 edge after one half and never were seriously threatened.

The Bjerke brothers, Leland and Dale, paced the RU assault. Leland had 30, brother Dale 13.

Bill Fahey dropped in eight,

Bentley high's swimming team produced a pair of new school records in downing Pontiac Northern, 55-50, in a dual meet.

Dennis Rogissart accounted for the first mark with a 1:54.9 clocking in the 200-yard free style.

The other standard was set by Bill Palmer with a 23.8-second timing in the 50-yard free style.

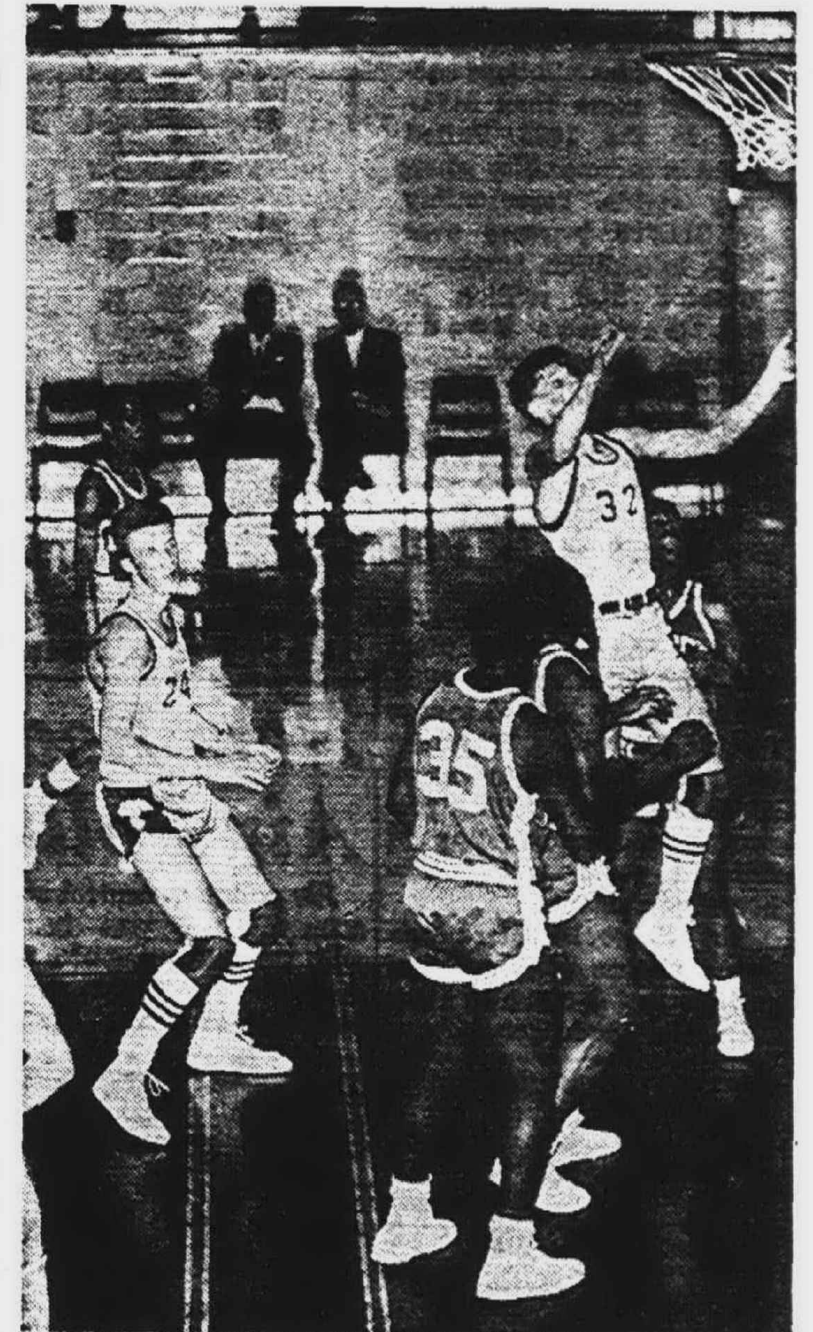

The 400-yard free style relay, final event on the program, decided the meet. David Guthrie, Ron Mihal, Brian Donaldson and Jay Schreiber formed the winning combination for Bentley.

Besides his record in the 50-yard free, Palmer also won the 100-yard butterfly. David Kee of Bentley won the 400-yard free for Bentley which resumes Suburban Six League action this Thursday at Plymouth.

Bentley Matmen Steal Show in Holiday Tourney

Bentley High wrestlers registered their fifth straight dual meet victory and dominated the Waterford holiday tournament in a pair of standout team efforts prior to the start of the Christmas vacation.

Bentley whipped Franklin, 35-21, recording seven falls to maintain its unbeaten string.

UP AND IN goes a shot by Dale Joyce (32) of Thurston against Ecorse as Township team captured the River Rouge Invitational tournament. Note the ball about to drop through the net.

LOSES TO SOUTHFIELD IN FINAL

Second for Bentley

Runnerup honors to Bentley High!

So went the story in the annual Northwest Suburban League holiday high school basketball tournament.

To the surprise of few the title went to Southfield, one of the state's Class A powerhouses, which in Friday night's championship, broke away in the last period to pin a 74-61 defeat on Bentley.

Bentley had conquered Ypsilanti, 71-49, and then followed with a 61-60 squeaker over Berkley to get into the championship encounter of the meet which also attracted Redford Union and Farmington from the area.

Redford Union waltzed out in fast style, beating Walled Lake, 89-67. But then RU fell to Southfield, 75-67, and ended play in the meet by a heartbreaker to Berkley, 65-63.

Farmington fashioned only one win in the meet, disposing of Walled Lake, 81-65, in the finale after losing to Ypsilanti, 67-64, and Berkley, 67-58.

Here's the story of how Bentley gained the title game and what transpired in the wrapup.

Bentley 71, Ypsilanti 49

It was just a good tuneup for the Livonians. They had a 39-25 lead after one quarter and coasted along without much pressure.

Ken Bollin finished as high scorer with 23 points. Mike McCauley had 13, Greg Coleman 11 and Greg Macy eight for the victors.

Bentley 61, Berkley 60

Bentley held sway most of the time, but Berkley made matters very uncomfortable at the finish.

The Livonians got seven points from Macy and six from Ed Ryan to take a 16-10 lead after one quarter. It was 33-29 for Bentley after the second period in which Macy had six points.

The four-point differential remained after three quarters. Then Berkley scored with five seconds left to get within a point of Berkley, but the Livonians stalled out the remaining time.

Macy had 17 points, Bollin 14 and Ryan ten in a winning cause.

Southfield 74, Bentley 61

After Bentley had pulled in front, 15-14, after one quarter with Larry Grimm scoring six points and Bollin five, Southfield took over and led the rest of the way.

It was 33-29 after the half and still anybody's game, 51-48 for Southfield, going into the closing quarter.

Then Southfield, picked as a top Class A contender in the state, went to work and outscored Bentley, 23-13, in the last period with famed all-around star Ted Simmons making eight points and Glen Lenhoff and Bob Scheuer six each.

The inability to hit from the floor hurt Bentley. The Livonians dropped in 23 of 91 shots from the outside while Southfield clicked on 27 of 63.

Lenhoff was the big star with 26 points, while Davidson and Simmons had 14 each and Dave Kontry 12.

For Bentley it was Bollin with 18 points with Mark Formosa 10, Grimm eight, Ryan, Coleman and Macy six each.

The Redford Union story in the meet follows:

RU 89, Walled Lake 67

The Townshipers roared away to a 56-27 edge after one half and never were seriously threatened.

The Bjerkle brothers, Leland and Dale, paced the RU assault. Leland had 30, brother Dale 13.

Bill Fahey dropped in eight,

CLEAR SHOT: Ed Ryan (40) of Bentley finds the way wide open to shoot against Southfield as rivals come on strong to win game and title in the annual Northwest holiday tourney.

Bentley Runnerup

Jim Walker seven and Dennis Fifield and Tom Kimball six each.

Southfield 75, RU 67

Although Southfield took a 20-14 lead after one quarter, Redford Union bounced back to trail only 31-29 at halftime.

Then came a wild third period which sent Southfield off to a 57-49 command and an easy win.

Lee Bjerke had another fine scoring game with 26 points on 11 baskets and four charities. Kimball had 15 and Bill Fahey tossed in 12.

Berkley 65, RU 63

A strange sort of a game this one. Redford Union dashed away to a 20-7 lead in the first quarter with Lee Bjerke firing in 14 points while Berkley was held to three baskets and a free throw.

In the second quarter, the situation became reversed. Berkley rushed in 28 points, 13 by Bob McNab, as RU was held to three baskets and one free throw.

RU rallied in the third period behind Kimball's eight points and Bjerke's seven and then it was nip and tuck right down to the last few seconds.

In fact with just four seconds to go, Steve Pykonen popped a short banker from the key to break a 63-63 tie and win the game for Berkley.

Leland Bjerke once more was the hero for Redford Union, if a losing team has a hero. He had 15 baskets and five free throws for 35 points. Here's the way Farmington fared in the tournament.

Berkley 67, Farmington 58

It was close for a half before Berkley made its big push and won without much problem.

George Grimala and Tom Wirtz had 13 each for the losers.

Ypsilanti 67, Farmington 64

A 26-16 splurge in the last quarter decided the game for Ypsilanti after Farmington had led most of the way.

Farmington had led, 32-31 at halftime and gone into the final period with a seven-point bulge.

Grimala with 19 points, Greg Dorow with 14 and Mike Ames 12 starred for the losers.

Farmington 81, Walled Lake 64

A fast start in which Farmington outscored Walled Lake 18-9, got the Falcons off on the right foot.

Each side then scored 21 points in the second period, before Farmington fired in 30 to Walled Lake's 14 in the third session to put the game out of reach.

Could These Happen in 1967

If you already haven't heard it enough times—may we join in our wishes for a happy, happy new year.

And, wouldn't it be nice to see some of the following happen during the 12 months ahead—

Livonians like Ray Herbert and Bob Bruce enjoy big comebacks? Both had their pitching problems last season—Herbert with the Philadelphia Phillies and Bruce with the Houston Astros, who last Saturday traded him to Atlanta. At the same time, we certainly trust that another Livonian, Denny McLain, at least will match his 1966 victory output when he forged 20 triumphs for the Tigers.

The Detroit Lions go through an entire season with nobody popping off at anybody? . . . with Livonia's Wayne Walker fighting off the injury hex, which handicapped him most of the past season? . . . with the Tiger Stadium fans never again pulling off the low stunt they did in the '66 finale when they pelted Coach Harry Gilmer with snowballs?

Livonia's Alex Delvecchio and Normie Ullman helping the Red Wings to get straightened out and pop into one of the four spots that qualify a team for the playoffs?

The sun to shine and our luck to hold at "21" when we trek west this weekend for a couple days in Las Vegas and two or three more days in San Francisco, the scene of next Tuesday's annual all-star game?

Yes, in '67, more things we'd like to see take place:

The Tigers avoid one bad slump and thus stay in contention all season for the American League flag . . . also keep putting out hints that Al Kaline is up for trade, when really he isn't?

High schools in Livonia, Garden City and the area take steps to revamp their league so that teams "closer to home" would be matched against one another. How silly it is for Garden City East or West to be playing teams like Riverside or Taylor when they might be contesting against Bentley or Franklin?

Schoolmen in our area pushing for a state high school baseball tournament and use the annual Observer-area meet as a qualifying test?

The efforts of Jack Cotton, Farmington's athletic director, becoming a reality and thus giving ninth graders attending junior highs the same athletic privileges as those in senior highs. Cotton tells us the regulation should become a part of the state prep code within the next year, barring any last-second hitches.

What about 1967 producing:

A new artificial hockey and ice-skating rink for each of the communities served by the Observer papers? Only Garden City now enjoys the "luxury" of such a structure.

More tennis courts in the area? After all, here's a sport in which everybody can participate . . . and age doesn't make much of a difference.

A few more champions for the area's high school teams? The year of '66 was a slim one, generally speaking, hereabouts.

A greater effort to provide more baseball teams for boys 16-19 years of age? No, we're not going to harp about Little League . . . it's just that it's a shame we don't do more for the kids who really would appreciate organized baseball and sports more . . . and who also need it more.

The Pistons, who slumped toward the end of the 1966 part of their scheduling, regaining the winning touch now that the new year is here?

Yes, may there be happiness:

To Michigan, Michigan State, University of Detroit and Wayne University in all sports;

To the mothers and fathers, who root on their athletic minded sons, or their cheer-leading daughters;

To those who teach five and six classes and then spring into the difficult job of coaching an athletic team;

To benchwarmers and boys, like son Doug, sweating out the restoration of their eligibility, yet they never miss a practice or a moment with their teams;

To all with whom we work, be it here at the Observer, at the Pistons, or on those frequent journeys we take around the United States;

And, especially, to many, from Garden City to Farmington, from Redford to Plymouth and Westland, who weekly glance at what we have to say.

Farmington Star Cops U.S. Junior Handball Crown

More honors in handball have come to the August family of Farmington.

Larry, now a freshman at the University of Michigan and for the last three years an all-around athletic star at North Farmington High, reigns as the United States Junior handball champion.

He won the title by beating Steve Loft of New York, 21-12, 21-16.

Larry is 18 and thus follows in the footsteps of his brother, Steve, who won the U.S. crown five years ago.

Larry won the Detroit city Class A crown in 1965 at the age of 16, the youngest ever to take the title.

Steve August won all-campus tournament at the University of Michigan before the holiday break when he beat his brother Larry, 21-12, 21-20. Steve is a third-year medical student at the university, his brother a pre-medical student.

Plymouth Township Eyes $1.5 Million Expansion

Acting to extend the water and sewer lines and complete circuits in the west and south sections of the Township, the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees has approved preliminary plans for a $1.2 million extension of existing lines.

However, the Trustees avoided a conflict with the City of Plymouth by withholding plans for lines to Plymouth Colony subdivision on Sheldon Road or along Sheldon between Joy and Ann Arbor Roads.

The City has lines in those sections which the Township has ambitions of purchasing. Matter of fact, the two governmental units will meet Friday to discuss the water main purchases.

The Township Board also has a meeting scheduled that same evening with Canton Township's Board and representatives of the Wayne County Drain Commission to discuss drains. The latter meeting is slated for the Plymouth Township Hall.

Since sewer extensions weren't listed on the agenda of the special meeting, the trustees couldn't officially act on any sewer proposals. They were discussed informally and the Trustees did slash the water proposal enough to allow for a possible sewer program. It will be up for discussion at the January meeting for Tuesday night.

Township Engineer Herald Hamill presented plans for the extended water program and also touched on the sewer extension. It was decided that a combination water-sewer program would be more valuable to areas than just water.

With that in mind, the Trustees made some deletions from Hamill's program and finally agreed that Hamill should present a combined plan with an estimated cost of $1.5 million.

Most of the extension will be main feeder lines around the Township aimed to fill gaps in the present system, eliminate dead ends and make complete circuits.

Extension of mains into the Plymouth Hills subdivision was approved on condition that the residents there want the lines and are willing to help in the financing.

Lines approved by the Board include:

1—Five Mile Road, a 16-inch feeder line from the City of Detroit main which would serve the northeast part of the township and help the township to obtain all of its water directly from the Detroit lines, rather than from Livonia. Cost would be $120,000.

School Head Tells How Citizens Aid Planning

By Supt. Russell Isbister

Orderly processes in the implementation of Act 379, Michigan Public Acts of 1965, to the local school district challenged the best efforts of the Board of Education, the Administrative Staff and the organized employee groups.

The law provides that public school employees have the right to organize and bargain collectively on matters pertaining to wages, hours and other conditions of employment. Local employee groups organized in accordance with the law and appointed negotiators to bargain at the bargaining table.

The Board of Education appointed its negotiation teams and established guidelines for them to follow in negotiations with the organized employee groups. After long and deliberate sessions at the bargaining table, satisfactory contracts between the Board and employees were negotiated.

or disapproval at an election called for the purpose of voting funds to build and equip the new senior high school.

Bids for Elementary School No. 8 will be opened on Jan. 4. This school, designed to house 420 elementary school students, will be located on Joy Road east of Haggerty Road and near the eastern boundary of the School District. Junior High School No. 3 (Middle School, since it is being designed for Grades 6, 7 and 8) is in the final stages of planning.

Funds for Elementary School No. 8 were available to the Board through short-term bonding. Funds, when the $5,500,000 bond issue approved by the electorate is sold, will also be available to finance Elementary School No. 9, the Middle School, additions to existing buildings and to purchase a number of sites, some of which are already under option.

Applications to the Department of Housing and Urban Development are being prepared which, if approved, will provide matching funds from the Federal Government to purchase for Community use land adjacent to school sites for park, recreational, scenic and historic purposes.

Curriculum Committees are studying new materials and different ways of teaching. Flexible scheduling of students, team teaching, ungraded primary schools and a humanities course are some of the innovations being tried during the 1966-67 school year.

When the Committee recommendations are completed and approved, or modified, by the Board the Citizenry as a whole will have an opportunity to voice their approval

A new Citizens Advisory Committee, appointed by the Board, and the Faculty Advisory Committee appointed by the Administration are now at work on planning a second high school. These Committees are diligently preparing, along with the Architect, recommendations for the Board on not only the kind of educational program for the new school but also on the space requirements needed to house the program.

Our problem is then how do we continue to protect our so-called "identity" and at the same time improve our position in the industrial, commercial and residential competitive market of a free economy. We must improve our tax base, provide quality homes and develop our shopping areas to meet the demands of our affluent community.

The Chamber has broadened its sights in the last two years to look to the whole community to help promote better political, social, and economic relationships within our community. In order to maintain and protect this "identity," this community spirit, we must work in closer harmony with each other.

Thus, the Chamber sponsored the "historic" Hillsdale Leadership Conference held last March with 75 delegates representing public officials, school leaders, labor, business, and organizational leaders. The results have been gratifying.

Our governmental leaders have met together twice since that time and have directed studies in Police Protection and a "joint incinerator" be done on a co-operative basis. Plymouth Township, Plymouth, Canton, Northville, and Northville Township are meeting on a regular basis with representatives from each unit working together on common problems.

This is only the beginning. The Plymouth Community deserves this kind of positive effort. Our leadership in our industries, our schools, our governmental units, our plants, our organizations need to relate with one another, to understand each one's problem and then pursue co-operative efforts when duplication in planning, and financing arise. The taxpayer deserves this effort.

Another concern which is part of this overall objective is the Central Business District. Again embarking on a co-operative effort, the City Commission, the Planning Commission and the Chamber have been working on a CBD study which should be completed in February. This includes parking, traffic, land development, store fronts, beautification, and the financing to accomplish any capital improvements adopted by the City.

About 33 citizens with experience in these areas and a desire to help develop the CBD have been meeting on a regular basis.

Our future goals for 1967 are geared to accomplish and expand, if necessary, our purposes as outlined above. We are calling a second Leadership Conference to be held on a Saturday at Schoolcraft College. The results and reports of the "joint" studies will be made to the delegates at that time.

Standing committees such as the Retail Division and Education Committee have been extremely successful with expanded programs. During the 1966 election year, the Chamber sponsored a successful course on "Practical Politics." Six students went on to become candidates for the various public offices.

The Businessmen's Forum has attracted many good speakers and provided our members with stimulating data. The special "Candidate Night" for school board candidates had a jam-packed crowd.

Because of our successful programs and our need to the community and our membership, we have added more emphasis and time to plan and budget for a Chamber Manager.

And so, as the Chamber looks to the future, our goals and interests continue to be stimulating and worthwhile.

Everybody's Out of Step

Despite predictions of the President's advisors, economic experts, and many classified as not-so experts, I hereby throw caution to the winds and predict a run-away inflation for 1967.

This forecast is based on one fact only: the United States—that's you and me—refuses to levy sufficient taxes to pay its bills, continuing to borrow to meet its obligations.

Holders of E and H bonds are cashing them in as fast as they are buying so we (the government) are merely turning over dollars in this department.

The rest of the borrowing—some $250 billion dollars—comes from the creation of credit by financial institutions.

When we continue to add dollars to the market without greatly increasing the supply of goods and services (which we are not doing) prices go up, up, up.

What all of us must do in this area is to get the word to our Congressmen—William D. Ford in Garden City and Westland, Marvin Esch in Plymouth, Jack H. McDonald in Livonia, Redford Township and western Oakland County—to put the brakes on federal spending without federal taxation.

One of McDonald's campaign promises was a pay-as-you-go policy and here's hoping he sticks to it!

In our banking system, credit expands and contracts as goods and services expand and contract.

But when the federal government expands credit, we do not expand many government goods and services which can be purchased by you and me. Therefore, the government must tax to redeem its bonds and get the money off the market.

When it does not, prices zoom upward, and I am willing to stick my neck out: they will this year! Ouch!

—BILL GAIL

THE OBSERVER looks forward to new challenges 1967 will bring to our area. We want to be a part of meeting whatever obstacles there are to achieve new accomplishments, greater progress in education, city planning, human relations, and fiscal reform. We pledge to work toward, and with, good government in both the local and state level and keep you informed of what is happening in your local community and in Lansing. We are grateful for our supporters and our critics and want to join with both to make our community a wonderful place in which to live.

Letters To Editor

From The Source (Water)

Open Letter to Lewis Wynn, Garden City:

Your letter concerning water rates in the December 21, 1966 issue of the Observer suggests that you have a misconception about how your water rates are established.

The consumer rate that you pay as a Garden City resident is established by the officials of Garden City. Your letter implied that the consumer rate in suburban communities is set by the Detroit Water Service. It is not.

Local community control over its own rates and billing is one of the unique features of the regional water supply system operated by the Detroit Water Service. Each local community also has control over the local water distribution system's maintenance and expansion.

There are two major steps taken in order to provide you and other suburban residents with high quality water. The first step is filtering the water and pumping it to a suburban community. This step is done by the Detroit Water Service.

The second step is distributing the water within that suburban community and collecting consumer bills. This is done by the suburban community.

The Detroit Water Service charges for the services it provides each community. This rate or cost is based on an established formula which is applied to all communities. The rate structure is fixed by the Board of Water Commissioners, three of whom are suburban representatives.

The second step in the water supply process is performed by the local community. It distributes the water to its residents and commercial and industrial users through a series of water pipes it owns and maintains. The local community establishes the local rate to consumers, reads the consumer's meters and collects the local water bills.

Naturally, the wholesale price of the water is a factor in determining the local retail—or consumer—rate. However, it is not necessarily the major factor. In some cases the suburban consumer's cost from his local government is two or three times the cost to his government from the Detroit Water Service. The mark up varies from community to community since each has built its local distribution system at a different pace and under different financing conditions.

I am sure that your local water department will be most happy to discuss with you how your water rate is established and how the water revenues are used. The rates charged by the Detroit Water Service are a frequent topic of discussion between DWS personnel and officials of the many local communities we serve. To my knowledge, we have never refused to review our rate practices and policies with any suburban official or group of officials.

Thanks From Hospital Editor:

Christmas is sharing! And as we enter the New Year, members of our staff are aware of the thoughtfulness and generosity of your readers. We wish to express to them, in behalf of our patients, our appreciation of their interest and concern. Gifts for specific patients and helpful cash donations, which assist us in providing effective care and treatment—for these we thank.

We welcome the Carolers from churches, high schools, and clubs who sang throughout the halls and wards. And sponsors of regular monthly ward parties planned extras in treats and programs. Here at Northville, we knew this was Christendom's season of sharing!

OBSERVING the Scene...

By MYRA CHANDLER

And so 1967 looms before us a big question mark. Internationally we pray it will bring peace in Vietnam. But as long as there is greed in the hearts of men it is unlikely there will be peace on earth.

One area I can assure you will be far from peaceful will be the State House of Representatives. Always a scrappy bunch, this year will be even more interesting. They are divided 55-55 between Dems and GOP, and I look for the Dems to have the rank and file trouble more than the Republicans. Most of the Republican legislators are new—and it will take them a little while to warm up, catch on to each other's little endearing and annoying qualities—and so they might be inclined to be more polite and cooperative with each other, until they find out.

But the Dems, on the other hand, have bred enough familiarity among themselves to have a certain healthy contempt for each other—and the fur will fly. House speaker Kowalski has his friends, but to he has some enemies he cannot control even with "we guys gotta stick together" routine.

"Yes," this is the year I see the Governor (if he has time) accomplishing many of his pet programs for the State. There should be no stumbling on fiscal reform this year. Every one of the new GOP members campaigned on it—they were all Romney's boys, so let's go fellas!

With this strange august body of men that represent every economic and ethnic group in our State there is bound to be a lot of inner pressure—not to miss a meeting, not to have a hangover and think fuzzy, not to up and catch a cold and die—but be present and note to maintain that scary balance of 55-55.

It's really going to be a confusing year for the lobbyists, or as they prefer to be called "Legislative Agents." Up to this new era they have managed to court one party—their leaders—and their whip or another. Now all is confusion—and they must really pick up a new scene of where the power will be—it will take some little time.

We received our annual list of Legislative Agents in the mail the other day. It is always interesting to see if any new ones are added like lobbyists for broken-hearted ladies or defeated candidates. Something new besides Michigan Bell or school districts.

I don't remember seeing an "Agent" for Soap & Detergent Association before, but they have one this year.

As a matter of fact we have several "Agents" living in our area. Some are attorneys and some are just employees in Lansing to listen, advise and get consent.

Stanley Snyder of Redford Township represents the Michigan State Police Trooper Association.

John Dent of Livonia represents Beneficial Management Corporation of America.

Robert Duhan of Garden City represents Metropolitan Association for Improved School Legislation. (you know he is busy).

Carl Parsell of Redford Township represents the Detroit Police Officers Association.

And would you believe Stanton Schaefer of Northville represents Mich. Savings & Loan League, Mich. Thoroughbred Breeders & Owners Assn., Mich. Psychological Assoc., Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., Mich. State Podiatry Assoc., American Mutual Insurance Alliance, American Title Co., of Michigan, Midwest Title Co., Great Lakes Title Agency of Detroit, Inc. He is a legal counsel.

James A. McNish, Redford Township, Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions.

Richard Smith, Garden City, Detroit Board of Education.

Roger Walker, Farmington, Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

They all have their work cut out for them.

Open Letter To 'Mr. President'

Open Letter To
Lyndon B. Johnson, President
White House
Washington, D.C.

Mr. President:

How can Ambassador Goldberg and Secretary Rusk support England and U Thant against anti-communist Rhodesia and South Africa when it is clearly against our interests? For example, England, in November, 1966, owned 10 of the 17 non-communist nation ships that went to Cuba. To Viet Nam it is many times this number. U Thant and the neutral nations who seldom agree with us unless we are writing a check for the U.N. or a neutral are not any different. I ask, Mr. President, why help destroy real friends like anti-communist Rhodesia and South Africa.

Also, I would like to suggest, Mr. President, anything labeled "non-strategic material" is a figment of the imagination. Food, clothing, and medicine help to kill our boys because soldiers, guerrillas or terrorists are people and need the most basic items to help them kill as do those innocent civilian workers of the country or countries who support our enemies. Our news media continually repeats innocent civilians—mortality—world opinion when one is killed.

My opinion is if we really are so concerned about the welfare of these communist civilian slaves let's start doing something about freeing all of them instead of building bridges to slavery and counting friends we don't have that only help to support the slave masters.

OMBUDSMAN

(A special feature in The Observer Newspapers — we will do our best to be a go-between, a red-tape cutter as the name indicates. When you have exhausted all other measures on a problem write to us (keep it short, please) and we'll see if we can help. Yes, John Q, you can fight city hall — with your own Ombudsman!)

Dear Ombudsman:

I have been a faithful reader of your paper as long as I have been in business in Livonia — as a matter of fact I am also an advertiser. Your paper has always proven to report the happenings of the community in a factual manner and your editorials express a logical point of view.

All of this leads up to a recent disappointment I feel I must complain about. On the entertainment page several weeks ago there was a column by Wally Roberts urging readers to go to see, "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum." He said even kids would enjoy it and it would not be offensive because there was enough slapstick in it for them and the adult portion would be sophisticated enough so as to be over their heads. I left my place of business and drove all the way to the Mercury Theatre in Detroit to get tickets—and they refused to sell me tickets for children. "No children allowed" they said. Now this is a long trip and I never would have made it had not Wally Roberts of The Observer suggested it. Who is right, Ombudsman?

Don Miller
Burton Hollow Hardware
Livonia, Mich.

Dear Mr. Miller:

Wally Roberts is most indignant with the theatre for not selling you tickets — particularly since they do not state in their ad they will not sell children's tickets. He thinks it is ridiculous and so does Ombudsman—however, the show has been such a success, this is probably the reason.

After discussing the problem it was agreed, there will be two tickets sent to you, courtesy of the Management and they should be arriving in a few days. It's more fun anyway for Ma and Pa to occasionally leave the kids home for a "night out."

Folks Still Get Bleary-Eyed
On New Year's Day, From TV

By W. W. EDGAR

THE LAST FAINT echoes of Auld Lang Syne have faded into the distance and one can't help reflecting on the great changes that come about in the manner of ushering in a New Year.

In the old days—before television—most of the celebration came on New Year's Eve when folks gathered in clubs, hotel dining rooms, lodge halls and the like to "ring out the old and ring in the new." This provided a colorful sight as they waltzed around the room, shouting and yelling, wearing vari-colored hats and blew in all sorts of noise-making contraptions. And by the time the New Year was officially welcomed, most of them were bleary-eyed and weary from the all-night stand.

But things have undergone a great change and now they don't become bleary-eyed until early on New Year's evening—and the last punt has been caught and the final bowl football game has been decided, and the big TV screen darkened.

In the old days—especially in the East, the lone activity was what was called a Mummer's Parade, in Philadelphia, and the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, Cal.—neither of which could be seen unless you stood along the curb and witnessed it through blood-shot eyes.

THEN ALONG CAME TV, and during the past 10 years the screens have been filled with football from noon until well into the evening—and the color is now on the screen instead of your neighbor's swollen eyes.

And because of this great promotion of football that, incidentally, helped to bring millions of dollars into the TV industry, the gridiron game also has undergone a great change. Where there was a time when the Rose Bowl game was all alone in the field, there now seems to be a bowl game in every section of the land—and you get them all in your own living room. Thus, most of the New Year celebration changes.

The wild, all-night parties, are slowly giving way to the TV football program, and where there was a time when Thanksgiving Day marked the traditional end of the season it is now extended to the "bowl games."

Few folks realize it, but Michigan has played a big part in the change. That is, the U. of M., through its famed athletic directors and coaches—the late Fielding Yost and H. O. "Fritz" Crisler—has helped bring about the big TV day.

It was Yost who wrote his name indelibly into the records with his "Point-A-Minute" team, who first saw the benefit of the Rose Bowl game. He accepted an invitation to take the Wolverines to the coast in 1902 and meet Stanford in the "Rose Bowl." He not only accepted, but Michigan won the game, 49 to 0, and Stanford asked for an early end to the slaughter.

JUST 45 YEARS LATER, when TV was just coming into the field, Fritz Crisler, took the Wolverines to the coast and beat Stanford in the Rose Bowl, 49 to 0, in what now is part of the lore of the Rose Bowl.

The "wrong-way" run of Roy Riegels some years ago that helped conquer California is the most notable remembrance of the Rose Bowl—and Brick Mueller's 65-yard pass is another. But the most humorous of all came at the close of the Michigan-Stanford game of 1947.

When it was noted that the Wolverines had a chance to equal the mark of Yost's team of years ago, they played inspired football and were a tickled lot when the final score read, Michigan 49, Stanford 0.

But as the team was moving into the dressing room one of the ardent spectators—and obviously a Stanford rooter—sauntered over to Coach Crisler and stammered—"You haven't improved a bit."

Well that was in 1947. Let's hope that 1967 will give us many things about which we can laugh at the finish.

Ever notice how the weather seems to reflect your mood and your energy?

On the days that you crawl out of bed and really don't want to face the world, that seems to be the day that the sky is overcast or it's pouring rain or the world is in the midst of a winter blizzard.

School teaching friends say that the weather affects the behavior of children also. However, if memory is correct, it isn't in the manner that you would think.

On dark, overcast days the young scholars are relatively quiet and attentive. However, when the sun is shining and it's a nice day pity the poor teacher trying to impart the mysterious knowledge of fractions and the horrors of a split infinitive to the students.

That observation really just re-enforces the theory that children aren't really human beings. A friend, who has three, swears that they don't possess any human qualities until the age of seven.

However, back to the original topic.

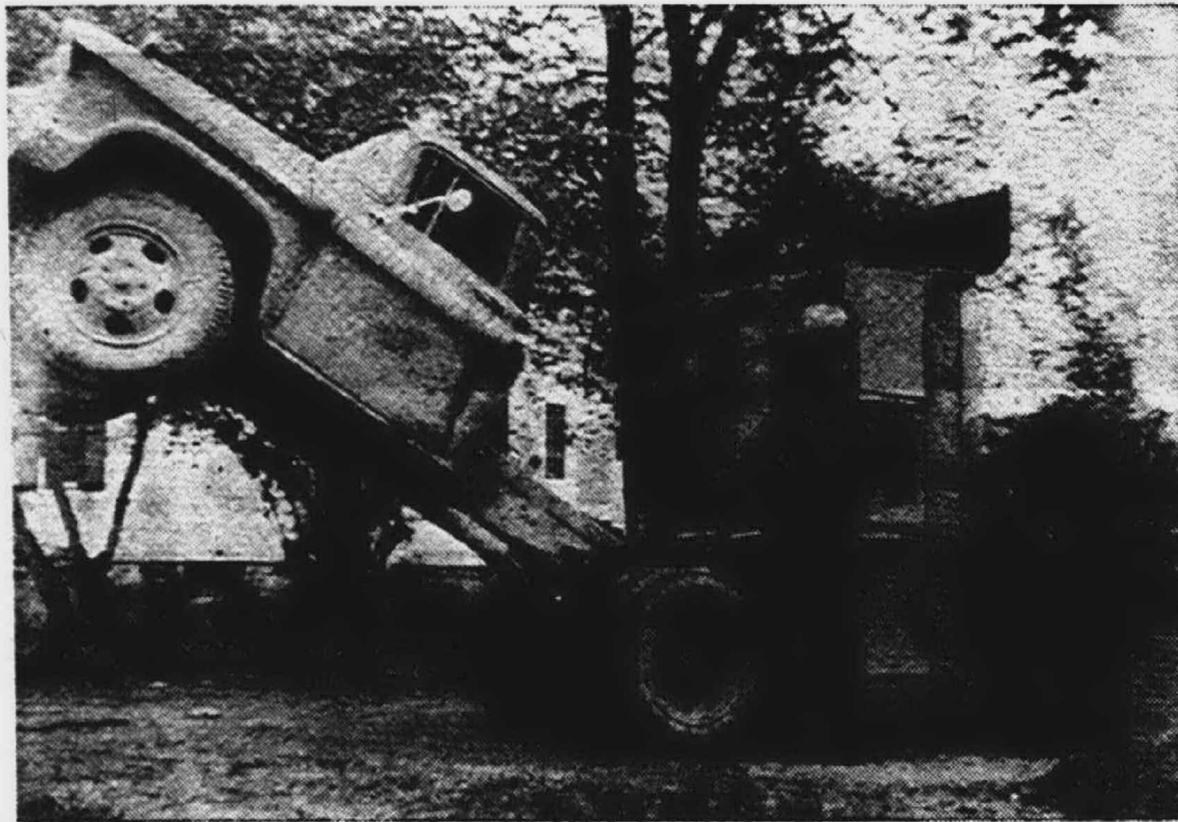

It seems that with the beginning of the New Year and the inevitable let down after the holiday season, that the weather turns somber. We might be wrong this year, and we hope so, but this is our observation.

Enough about the weather. The last time we commented on the foibles of the atmosphere the letter we received was upsetting to say the least.

That's the funny thing about the newspaper business. Irrate reaction is always prompted by something that seems harmless and relatively peaceful. The hot story rarely provokes a similar reaction.

Thus we'll close with the thought of trying not to offend the readers just this once.

In The Interest Of Science

By the time anyone reads this, I'll have been put through my paces as a guinea pig all in the interests of modern science and journalism.

At 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 4, I have an appointment at the Michigan Scientific Introduction Service in Ann Arbor. That's one of the modern services to meet people of the opposite sex.

Since this phenomena is one of the wonders of modern day society The Observer has decided to examine the process. I am the lucky staff member who has drawn the prize assignment.

Sound exciting? Not really. Intriguing maybe, but not exciting.

It all started when the boss called one evening at home and said, "Sue, how would you like a different type of assignment which will take some involvement on your part?"

"I'd be interested in exploring the matter further," I answered cautiously. That might not be a positive enough answer for a junior staff member of any organization, but knowing this particular boss, I felt that caution might be the most prudent policy.

Needless to say, I was curious, but was informed that I would learn more about the matter at a luncheon meeting a week later.

The day arrived and around a table in one of the area's eating establishments, I was introduced to two young Madison Avenue type men, complete with button down collars and pastel shirts.

They were Mike Fortuna, director of the three-year-old organization, and Garrie Roman, who holds the title of promotion coordinator.

Michigan Scientific Introduction Service or MSIS was described by the pair as an in-depth kind of service.

Applicants are screened and asked to fill out detailed questionnaires covering all types of topics and a follow-up is done after each date. Since the questionnaire is labeled confidential and everyone should have the opportunity of going through it without any advance warning, nothing more will be said about the questions.

I will add, however, that the introduction states that the form "Rather, something like a mirror, it will reflect your tastes, ideas and attitudes; in short, it will show the little things that make you the distinct and separate person you are."

In fairness, I must admit that it is a more extensive questionnaire than the ones distributed by most of the computer services.

Fortuna describes the current rash of computer services as "mail order houses" and emphasizes that MSIS is a personal service which follows up on its results.

The service must get some results because people use it. In fact, Fortuna estimates that approximately 20,000 people will use the service during 1967.

To accommodate all these people MSIS operates two offices—one in Ann Arbor and the other on Greenfield in northwest Detroit.

Sometimes in the newspaper business we change our pace. When a bright-eyed young man came to see me last week from a "Scientific Introduction Service" I admit to being interested. However, as the promotion idea unraveled it became clear the assignment was not for the world-weary on the staff but for the "bright young thing" on the threshold of new adventure and challenge—and so the lot fell to Farmington Editor Sue Shaughnessy—who accepted with her usual graciousness . . . "are you kidding." —EDITOR

$ $ Investing Inquiries $ $ Retirement--What Do We Do?

(Mr. Wysong welcomes all inquiries on investing. Send your questions to THE OBSERVER, "INVESTING INQUIRIES," 33050 Five Mile Road, Livonia, Michigan. The answers are the opinion of Laurence A. Wysong who is considered highly qualified on the subject.)

Q. Maybe you can help us. I am due to retire March 1, 1967. With Social Security plus my retirement plan income I can expect to receive around $475.00 a month income. At the present time we have $9,000.00 in a savings account plus a few government bonds. I was employed with Sears and I took full advantage of their stock-purchase plan to the point where I now have a little more than 700 shares. We still have a small balance on our home mortgage plus a few small debts. What would you recommend we do so that we can receive more benefits from our savings and retirement?

A. First and foremost pay all outstanding debts plus leave yourself sufficient funds in the savings account for emergencies. Second, take a cold hard look at your Sears stock. Keep in mind that your situation is no longer suitable for a growth oriented stock. Your major concern now is to develop as much income from your funds as possible without sacrificing the safety of your capital. The $35,000.00 you have invested in Sears now provides you with only $700 a year in dividends. That same $35,000.00 invested in good quality corporate bonds or utility stocks yielding 5-6% (which many are these days) would increase that $700.00 a year dividend income to $2,100.00 a year. This would raise your present annual retirement income from $6,400.00 to $7,800.00 a year. In pursuing this course you would have a relatively trouble free portfolio of securities providing you with an excellent retirement income.

Baffled by Wines? Become an Expert Now

If you find yourself baffled by the wine list the waiter hands you in an elegant restaurant—

If you're at a loss in a party store when you'd like to pick out a really good wine to go with that extra-special dinner you're serving—

If you just have trouble with wine bottle corks that crumble and champagne bot-les that "pop" in a mighty explosion all over the room—

Then you can let yourself in for a most informative and interesting time in a new wine tasting class being started in Plymouth.

The seven-week course will begin Jan. 10 in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel, with classes scheduled Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 8 to 10:30 p.m.

Applicants may pick any one of the three nights to attend, and classes each of the three nights will be limited to 48 members, six tables of eight wine-tasters.

For a $35 fee, those who enroll will be led on a fascinating journey—by word, picture, imagination and taste—through the world's famed winelands. Their guide will be Staton Lorenz, a young man who has amassed more knowledge about wine in his 26 years than most can manage in a lifetime.

Lorenz, son of Mayflower Hotel owner Ralph Lorenz, plans to introduce 36 different wines as he carries his class along through the California and New York State wines, the Italian, French and German still wines, sparkling wines and champagnes of the world.

As a finale, he'll let them match their ability against those of the experts in a blind-tasting session, and then each will be awarded an artistically-designed diploma to prove his prowess as a wine connoisseur.

"The first night," said Lorenz, "we'll turn the beginners into laymen as far as wine knowledge is concerned. We'll learn to use equipment—like cork pullers—and some of the rules for storage and serving wine."

Later, added Lorenz, there will be discussions of the various types of wine and the places where they are made. There will be slides picturing the areas shown.

"I'll have visitors to the classes who have lived in the homelands of some of the wines we feature, and other visitors who are experts in their knowledge of many wines," he added.

The course also will include discussions—and tasting of certain wines with certain foods, particularly breads and cheeses and a few fruits. There will be tips on home cooking with wine, complete with tasty samples and recipes.

"One thing we'll learn to prepare is champagne Jello," Lorenz reported.

"Most Americans feel guilty when it comes to wine knowledge," Lorenz said. "They won't experiment in tasting because they don't trust their own palate, and they feel they don't know anything about buying so they stick to one brand they know."

"They're missing so much fun that way, and that's the kind of fun I am trying to put into this course."

He said, incidentally, that most of the wines to be tasted would not be expensive ones. They will average $2.25 to $3 a bottle.

Judges will be named later for the blind-tasting finale, he said. He assured prospective class members that by the time they finished the course they'd be amazed at their ability to compete with experts in the matter of wine recognition.

Bernie McDonough, Garden City artist, is designing the chic diploma to be awarded.

Lorenz, who conducted a similar class in 1965 in connection with the Livonia adult education system, is a graduate of Cornell University, and while getting his degree in hotel management there learned to know the wine growers of New York's finger lake district.

Women on The GO!

by MARGARET MILLER

Last year in Livonia nearly $20,000 for combating birth defects was collected in the March of Dimes campaign.

There are many good reasons for this fine showing—the best in Wayne County outside Detroit.

And some of them are already hard at work to make January of 1967 an even more successful March of Dimes month.

The "reasons" are, of course, the dedicated women who have undertaken to direct, not only the Mothers' March the night of Jan. 31, but several other projects that swell the coffers for research into causes and cures for birth defects.

They are making plans to involve as many mothers—and fathers, too—as possible in the Jan. 31 collection and to make sure that every corner of Livonia has its doorbells rung that night.

Besides that, they are going full speed ahead on preparations for a fund-raising card party at Stevenson High School Feb. 14, and are working with the high school on special student drives.

Heading all this activity is Mrs. Robert Fox, who sets the theme for the work with the words: "Birth defects must be conquered!"

Mrs. Fox has been Livonia March of Dimes chairman for five years, and before that was an area chairman and marcher. And her interest in the program dates back to the days when she lived in Detroit and women were asked to make "sugar bowl" contributions to wipe out polio.

Helping here is an able roster of area chairmen and assistants. Like Mrs. Walter Meyers, mother of six and active church worker, who is in her fourth year as area chairman. While busy lining up captains for the Mother's March, Betty still had time to dream up new ideas to help the card party surpass its 1966 profit of $1,200.

Other area chairmen include Mrs. Harold Smith, whose interest in the March of Dimes also dates back to early days of the national drive, and Mrs. Ernest Grant, who has taken time from a busy schedule to fill this post for several years.

Then there are Mrs. James McCann, who has worked hard for the drive in days well occupied by campaigns for her husband as city councilman, mayor or judge, and Mrs. Cy Gliner, a busy housewife with four children including one who is ill.

Still more area chairmen this year are Mrs. Norman Cohen, Mrs. Paul Greenfield, Mrs. Elwin Meyers and Mrs. Bonnie Paiva. All, incidentally, are currently lining up captains and marchers and will be glad of any help offer received.

In her second year as coordinator of school activities

Poor Pussy!

While stowing away the Christmas ornaments for another year, consider the fate of the haughty white Persian cat owned by the Robert McKelvey family of Redford township.

This cat feasted on icicles off the Christmas tree and had to be taken to an animal hospital.

The family paid the veterinary $32—for a tinsectomy.

Wig Fashions To Be Shown

The Redford Suburban League will hold its first meeting of 1967 at the Kenwood Restaurant on Wednesday, Jan. 11, at 12:30 p.m.

Jerry Pember, program chairman of the month, has engaged Continental Designs Inc., of Livonia to present a fashion show of wigs.

Continental Designs promises to display some of their finest Italian wigs. Members wishing to try on a wig will have an opportunity to do so and as an extra bonus a wiglet will be given as a door prize.

Livonia VFW Auxiliary Entertains State Leader At December Meeting

Members of the Livonia Ladies Auxiliary 3941 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars entertained Michigan president Barbara Bishop at their Dec. 14 meeting. They also packed Christmas presents for patients at the VFW hospital in Ann Arbor.

MRS. DON WOODRUFF JONES

Candlelight Ceremony At St. Paul's Unites Pair

In a candlelight ceremony at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Livonia Dec. 30, Marjorie Maitland Jones became the bride of Don Woodruff Jones.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maitland Jones of Terrence Drive in Livonia. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Deyo Clare Jones of 402 W. Jefferson, Petoskey, Mich.

Ivory satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned the bride's empire-style gown. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a lace coronet, and she carried a cascade of roses and stephanotis with ivy.

Ellen Whitney Jones was maid of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were the groom's sister, Mrs. G. Richard Lewis, Laurel Sill of Flint and Sharon Codey of Glenview, Ill.

Their gowns featured moss green brocade bodices with wattleau panel ivory crepe skirts. They wore moss green Dior bows in their hair and carried cascades of yellow and white mums.

The best man was Mr. G. Richard Lewis, and the bridegroom also was attended by groomsmen Douglas M. Glaza and Douglas M. Jones, brother of the bride, and ushers Robert W. Woodruff and Ronald L. Greenway.

A reception at Botsford Inn in Farmington followed the rites. The couple will be at home at 12426 Mendota, Detroit.

Gals Good With Money

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Nearly two-thirds of the employees in banks today are women, and half the officers in your local bank are likely to be women by 1975, the president of the National Association of Bank Women told Minnesota members at a meeting here.

Miss Eleanor A. Kropf, second vice-president of the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City, reported that women have been entering banking, which was once completely "man's work," very rapidly since World War II.

'Girl Talk' Series Set By YWCA

"Girl Talk" is the name of the new program geared for mothers and daughters that will be offered by the Northwest Branch YWCA on Grand River Avenue, this winter.

The program will start Jan. 19 and meet for five Thursdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

The program is designed for mothers and junior high girls who will go into the problems of teenagers and their parents. Such items as dating, curfews, clothes, allowances, and telephone use, will be discussed.

The girls and mothers will meet separately and together during the five-week period. There is no fee for the sessions although YWCA membership is required.

The Teenage Committee of Northwest Branch has come to the conclusion that Junior High School level is the ideal time to establish an understanding between mother and daughter. Although many parents feel their girls are not yet faced with these concerns at this age a mutual understanding at this time will help alleviate tensions as issues arise.

Registration for the program is now open at Northwest Branch YWCA, 25940 Grand River. Call KE 7-8500 for further information.

There are more than 4,000 collectors of clocks in the nation.

Livonia Theology Student Visits NYC for Seminar

Paul Harrington of Livonia is one of 13 Concordia College students participating in a two-week seminar study of the urban church in New York City.

The field study was designed by Dr. James Hoffrenning, acting chairman of the religion department at the college, located in Moorhead, Minn. It will be combined with the regular course work after the group is back on the campus.

Jan. 1 and planned to return Jan. 13.

The time in New York will be spent meeting with church leaders and visiting parishes and national church organizations. Included on the itinerary are visits with the director of research and planning for New York City, the director of the Center for Human Relations and Community Studies and stops at Union Theological Seminary, New York University and the Lutheran Medical Center.

Among the churches to be visited are the Protestant Harlem Parish, one of the unique cooperative and creative experiments of the Protestant church; Judson Memorial, an interdenominational church of great size and fame, and others.

Upon their return to Concordia, the class will meet for discussion periods in which they will attempt to analyze the response of the church in the metropolitan area. Course work also includes a number of books and articles describing the complex needs and problems of the metropolitan area.

Hoffrenning, in talking about the course, said, "During the last half century society has made the transition from a predominantly rural community to a predominantly urban one. It is in the city that the problems of society are dramatized and concentrated. By analyzing the response of the church in the metropolitan area these students will more easily get a vivid picture of the role of the church in today's world."

Women Plan Talk on Art And Religion

Dessert will be served by the Joanna Circle. Presiding at the meeting will be the Women's Fellowship president, Mrs. Carl Ufferman of Livonia, and devotions will be given by Mrs. Charles Hall of Garden City.

Information about the Women's Fellowship may be obtained from the church office, 425-7280 or Mrs. Carl Ufferman, 261-1931.

THE LIVONIA CITY Woman's Club presented an electric drill press to the Community Opportunity Center, 9900 Newburgh Road, Livonia. Martzloff-Stewart Vows Taken Cynthia Stewart and David Martzloff exchanged wedding vows Nov. 26, at Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church in Livonia. Pastor Robert Mueller officiated at the evening candlelight service.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, William James of Detroit, wore a floor length empire waist gown of white slipper satin, highlighted on one side of the skirt with pearl and crystal blossoms. Her train was alencon lace attached at the shoulder of the gown and forming a small stand-up collar at the nape of the neck.

The fingertip veil of silk illusion was secured with a pearl crown. She carried a cascade of white fuji mums and ivory roses.

Mrs. Jacob Wagner of Birmingham Farms was matron-of-honor, and bridesmaids were Linda Gajalya and Helen Matuzak of Detroit. The three were dressed in floor length gowns of peacock blue brocade and satin. Their cascades were white carnations tipped with blue.

John Farnell of Wayne assisted as best man. Ushers were Wesley Martzloff, brother of the bridegroom, and Mark Stewart, brother of the bride.

For the ceremony the bride's mother chose a floor length three-piece ensemble of tangerine brocade with matching accessories and matching orchids. Mrs. Walter Martzloff, the bridegroom's mother, chose a pale green silk blend floor length dress and deep green velvet coat with pale green accessories and matching orchids.

The Danish Hall was chosen for the reception with 200 friends and relatives in attendance.

The newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Nassau. Upon their return they will be at home in Drayton Plains.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Redford High School. Her husband is a hairdresser and employed by Molli Solomon in Oak Park. He is a 1964 graduate of Garden City East High School.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martzloff of Florence Street, Garden City.

Belles Honor Mrs. McKinley

Mrs. Dianne McKinley of Garden City was guest of honor at a recent "Hall of Fame" dinner given by the S.O.S. Chapter of Buxom Belles.

To be eligible for a Hall of Fame dinner, the member must attain her weight loss, in Mrs. McKinley's case 55 pounds, and maintain it for six months.

The honor guest at the Dec. 15 party wore a gold robe and carried a bouquet of red roses. She was given her tux by S.O.S. president Jean Hutchinson. Special guests present were her husband, Mel, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Earle.

The decorating committee for the buffet dinner included Ruth Ann McKinley, Sylvia Bird, Joann Nagel and Chris Saxton. A chapter Christmas party followed the dinner.

The S.O.S. Chapter meets weekly at 7:30 p.m. Thursdays in the activity room of Garden City East high school. Women wishing more information may call Ga. 7-0220 or 427-2634.

T.N.T. Belles Forget Diets For One Party

Diets and calorie counters were put aside for one evening Dec. 15 when the T.N.T. chapter of Buxom Belles held its annual Christmas party at the Garden City home of Mrs. Leroy Gooden.

Members brought samples of their culinary talents to the buffet supper, but the evening ended with each taking a silent pledge that this would be a one-evening splurge and that she would keep to her diet in the new year.

Members were shown of the recognition parties given the members who lost 25 pounds most recently.

Women interested in more information about the chapter may call Mrs. Florence Krings at GR 6-0441.

TO ALL of the hosting and toasting that has been going on around our town, we offer you our wish—that life's greatest gifts—love and understanding—be yours . . .

THE HAUGHSBYS, Mary and Arnold, invited friends to join them early one Sunday afternoon for a luscious, pre-Christmas brunch at their home on Bonnydale.

FOLLOWING Ladywood's Annual "Paper Ball," Connie Foley invited teenage friends to her home on Surrey for a delicious spaghetti dinner.

THE BELLS were ringing on the night before, the night before New Year's at Jackie and Don Hiller's home on Deering.

Nine-year-old Rosemary Hiller and her 13-year-old brother, Bill, helped serve the many guests, including some of Jackie's fellow-teachers from Marshall junior high; Don's co-workers from Ford Motor Co.; and neighbors, past and present; who stopped by throughout the evening to join in offering a toast to the New Year.

ANN COMEAU of Berwick was hostess for a holiday coffee to welcome new neighbors Roxanne Weller, Sally Johnson and Carey Gudith.

EX-LIVONIANS, Nina and Bill Lattimore, and their children, Karen, Mark, David and Scott, left early Dec. 26 for a flight to the Grand Bahamas for the holidays. The Lattimores now live in Bloomfield.

PLAYING CHARADES and trying to best a "one-arm bandit" was but a part of an enjoyable evening spent recently by Livonians Jean and Art Jenkins, Jean and Bill Douglas, Ruth and Harold Parks, Betty and Nick Falsetti, Ellen Kennedy and Wendy Wendrick, at the Farmington home of Florence and Rodger Walker.

RECEIVED Christmas greetings post-marked Oslo, Norway, from former Livonians, Marilyn (Kikhofel) and Norm Heron.

It was several years ago that with four small children, and Marilyn's best wishes, Norm gave up his job to enter the ministry. And Marilyn reports that their latest new home is in a mountain village and "no matter which way we look the view is a scene from a Christmas Card."

WE HEARD THAT Jean and Bill Douglas of Arden hosted Jean's sister, Kay Wilson, during the holidays.

Kay, who has met many Livonians on her visits to our fair city over the years, is presently a member of Senator Hart's staff in Washington D.C., and was formerly Senator Patrick McNamara's secretary.

And we learned that an adventurer Kay is also, for her past includes a year as a medical secretary with the People-to-People Foundation, aboard the SS Hope, stationed in Peru for their medical teaching program; she was a Red Cross worker during the Korean War in Japan; and spent over two years with the Red Cross Units attached to military hospitals in Europe.

FOURTEEN of the fine ladies who work together as Red Cross Volunteers out of the Northwest regional office, met recently for a holiday luncheon and gift exchange at the home of Canteen Chairman, Jo Standhardt on Arcola.

AND MAY WE ALSO add our hope, that in the coming year your house may be safe from tigers . . .

Art Show Planned in Birmingham

Greeting the New Year with a bow to the newest trends in art is the Op, Pop and Hard Edge exhibition beginning January 9, at the Bloomfield Art Association, in Birmingham.

More than sixty works have been loaned to the BAA by the local galleries of Albert Landry, J. L. Hudson, Gertrude Kaskle, Donald Morris and the Jacobson Galleries in Birmingham, run by Jim and Nancy Yaw.

Among the well known masters of these techniques, whose works will be exhibited are Piet Mondrian, Jean Arp, Andy Warhol, Roy Lichtenstein, Victor Vasarely, Joseph Albers, Richard Anuszkiewicz, Ellsworth Valley, Robert Rauschenberg, Jim Dine, George Segal, Jasper Johns, Barnett Newman and Larry Rivers.

The BAA's purpose in assembling this show is to bring to its members, and the public, important examples of movements which, while they seem suspiciously new, have been in existence long enough to be clear-cut trends and to be included in many books.

Pop art is related in technique to the dada movement in Europe of the 1920's which was irreverent nonsense. Real objects were exhibited as art. Current Pop art is largely satirical in nature, aimed at shocking people into really seeing their world.

Hard Edge art is more a technique than a style. Generally, the term means works done in flat, bright color areas with sharp contrasts. This technique is not new. Some of the Hard Edge works in the show were done in the twenties before it became a style. Mondrian is the most notable example of the early developers of this form of expression.

The show is not aiming for the traditional concepts of beauty. It is an exhibition of aggressive expression by artists whose contributions to the history of the three styles are well known and accepted.

The show will open to members Sunday, Jan. 8, with a special preview from two until five p.m., and will run until Jan. 29. Gallery hours are two to five p.m. daily.

Folk Mass To Be Sung At St. John's

A Folk Mass entitled "Rejoice!" will be sung by the young people of St. John's Episcopal Church in Plymouth at 8 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 8.

Herbert G. Draesel Jr. is composer of the mass, written in the folk idiom and accompanied by guitar.

Intended to be an effective vehicle for worshipping God in the perplexing but exciting world of the twentieth century, it was first performed in April of 1965 at the Eucharistic Congress held in New York City.

The public is invited to this performance. St. John's is located at 574 South Sheldon Road.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN'

"Half A Six Pence," a two-year musical smash in London and New York, has settled in for a mid-winter run at the Fisher for the next three weeks.

Dick Kallman, fresh from his TV series as the resourceful Hank, puts plenty of bounce in a role originated by the zestful Tommy Steele. Mr. Kallman has an infectious grin that quickly wins you over even if his English accent is a bit on the Brooklyn side.

"Six Pence" is a musical built around a satirical H. G. Wells' novel written around the turn of the century. Consequently, the musical takes place in the Victorian sweat shop era.

Once more as in "Walking Happy" we have an overworked employee living in a cellar, waiting for the day to get back at his horrid boss, and wondering if he will fall in love. "Half A Six Pence" eschews the shoe business for the drapery shop. Our hero, Arthur Kipps, is a drapery salesman.

As happenstance would have it, he falls heir to a fortune. He is plummeted from the working class to the idle rich. His tastes in women change as his fortune increases which gives the musical a chance for a first act finale loaded with pathos. The lower class girl is no longer good enough for Kipps yet somehow we know that he will get back to her before the evening ends.

"Six Pence" is filled with lively dancing, only so-so tunes, and a mighty weak book. The storyline as you can judge from my livid description borders on the maudlin too much of the evening.

In fact, if it weren't for Ona White's brilliant choreography, the entire evening could be better spent watching the idiot box. Each of her five production numbers are show-stoppers. Dancing fans should mark this musical down on their must see list.

Dick Kallman appeared at the Fisher last season in "How To Succeed." The frantic demands of that role from the acting standpoint more ably suited his bubbly personality. An English musical comedy is not quite his cup of tea. A good example of his difficulty with the King's English is a number in the second act, a comedy patter song extolling the trials of taking pictures at weddings. In the hands of an English music hall comedian like Tommy Steele the song would have each word come over as crisp as a rasher of bubble and squeak.

English stars in the lead parts. Ann Wakefield who plays opposite Kallman is a perfect example. She's superb and projects the English dialect beautifully.

Even though the music in this production is not hummable, old Wally feels it is still adequate. Each song fits nicely and for the moment you enjoy each number.

But it's the dancing that will make you remember "Half A Six Pence" when Dick Kallman fades away. However, let's give Dick a couple of accolades for carrying off his share of the dancing as well as he does.

'Tiny Alice' Is Center Series Topic Tonight

Rabbi Sherwin T. Wine will be featured speaker at the Front Row Center Series at Center Theatre, 18100 Meyers Road, on Wednesday, Jan. 4, at 8:30 p.m. Rabbi Wine, of the Birmingham Temple, will present an analysis and review of Edward Albee's provocative play, "Tiny Alice."

This play, which enjoyed a successful run on Broadway during the season of '64-'65, is Albee's interpretation of the influence of organized religion on mankind. There has been much discussion and controversy about "Tiny Alice," with many varying interpretations and theories. In his discussion, Rabbi Wine will attempt to relate the drama to today's world, and to unveil the playwright's attitude towards man's need to create specific deities to fulfill specific needs.

The public is invited to Center Theatre's Front Row Center Series. There is a charge for non-members. Coffee will be served during the discussion period after the program. For further information call Mr. Bradley at DI 1-4200.

Meadow Brook Slates New Theatre Course

For a fascinating journey behind the footlights of the new Meadow Brook Theatre, playgoers may enroll in a special 10-week course at Oakland University.

Sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education, "Meadow Brook Theatre: Stage and Backstage" will include admission to the five adult productions, a detailed discussion of the plays, and firsthand information from the actors, John Fernald himself and various members of his company who are responsible for the costuming, lighting and scenery.

Instructor for the course, which begins Jan. 10 with a performance of "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" by Ber-told Brecht, will be Joseph DeMent, associate professor of English at the University. He is an authority as well as a writer and researcher in the field of English literature and poetry.

Classes will be held from 7:30-9:30 p.m. on Tuesday evenings. The first class session will be held Feb. 14 following the Feb. 7 performance of Shakespeare's "Love's Labour's Lost."

Enrollment is limited to 40 persons. The first 40, therefore, who send in their pre-paid registration will be enrolled in the course.

The $35 tuition includes a ticket to all five productions, giving the class an opportunity to attend as a group. They will then examine each play from a critical and aesthetic point of view in classroom discussions.

In addition to "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" and "Love's Labour's Lost," the John Fernald Meadow Brook Theatre Company will present George Bernard Shaw's gentle comedy, "You Never Can Tell" and Jean Anouilh's "The Waltz of the Toreadors," a wry and compassionate comedy by the author of "Becket" who is considered one of the most significant of living playwrights.

Final presentation will be Anton Chekhov's "The Three Sisters," a delicate balance of tears and laughter.

John Fernald, former Principal of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, has established a major professional theatre company and academy on the Oakland University Campus. This exciting new theatre project, following the pattern of the already world-renowned Meadow Brook Music Festival, is the second step in the creation of a major performing arts program at the University to serve all of Michigan.

Fernald, one of the world's leading theatrical figures, headed the Royal Academy for 10 years and it was here that Sir John Gielgud, Albert Finney, Charles Laughton, Susan nah York and Rosemary Harris received their principal training. With more than 300 London productions to his credit, Fernald is particularly noted for his production of Chekhov's plays. His experience as a teacher of dramatic technique has made him deeply aware of the problems of the actor and this particular aspect of his artistry that has enabled him to assemble companies of extraordinary merit. Peter Ustinov, Dame Judith Anderson and Siobhan McKenna have worked under his direction.

The plays will be presented in the beautiful new Meadow Brook Theatre in the north wing of Matilda R. Wilson Hall. With a seating capacity of more than 600, it offers excellent acoustics and sight lines, elegant surroundings and comfortable seating. The team which produced the Baldwin Pavilion for the Meadow Brook Music Festival designed the theatre. Christopher Jaffe designed the acoustical system and the architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luchenbach designed the auditorium.

Because of the limited enrollment, immediate registration is advisable. For further information, call the Division of Continuing Education at Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan. The number is 338-7211, Extension 2173.

Wild Life Film Is Set By Society

Detroit Audubon Society is inviting the young people of this area to attend a fine nature film, "The Vanishing Sea," Saturday, Jan. 7, at 2 p.m. at the Rackham Memorial Auditorium, Farnsworth at Woodward. Scout groups, Campfire groups, YMCA and YWCA groups, and others who are interested in nature will enjoy this film.

Robert W. Davison, who will present the picture, has helped produce several of the "Wild Kingdom" series on nationwide television. Great Salt Lake is the focal point of the fascinating study of life in and around Great Basin in western United States. Among the animals found here are the brine shrimp and pelican, desert kit fox and kangaroo rat, water ouzel and western grebe.

The dependence of all life upon water becomes increasingly significant as man's demands upon natural resources grow. Robert W. Davison of Bountiful, Utah, presents a powerful conservation story.

The afternoon presentation of this color film is free to children and adults who accompany them.

The Vanishing Sea will be presented in the evening as part of the regular Wildlife Film Program.

Twelfth Night Cake Traditional

By FAITH GILLESPIE
Queen of Hearts

It was the whitest Christmas in years, to our joy. The great pine trees outside our windows, the honeysuckle brush and feathery shrubs, the ancient willows bending, everything was spread with seven minute icing. Beautiful!

As daylight moves into the trees in the mornings, the pheasants walk to the feeding place, sometimes as many as ten, coming in even procession, poised and wary. The bob-white family, lately unseen, come to the stump where the seed was put, brought out of hiding by hunger.

Greedy crows fly in, intimidating the smaller birds. Sometimes a woodpecker appears.

Hordes of sparrows invade, brushing off the pretty nut-hatches and chickadees, but when I complain about them, I am reminded that there is no room for discrimination.

The cardinal comes, my favorite of birds, red, with his more modest mate, and they sit outside my window at the suet ball.

When I was a child, someone told me that the cardinals speak. They say, "Great cheer, great cheer," and "Good year, good year." I believe, I believe.

Now it is nearly Twelfth Night, the end of the wonder that is Christmas.

We will say goodbye to the season by baking a Twelfth Night Cake.

No one is really certain what the original Twelfth Night cake was like; it was made on the day some called "Old Christmas," in the time before recipes were popularly recorded.

Baking powder was unknown then, so it may have been a yeast-cake, or something like a pound cake, leavened with eggs. It probably contained some sort of dried fruit.

Tradition says that a pea and a bean were baked in the cake. The cake was cut with ceremony, and the finders of the pea and the bean became the king and queen of the revel.

Our favorite version of the Twelfth Night cake is this one, which resembles a pound cake. Finely cut candied fruits or citron could be used, or raisins, but the loveliest flavor is found in the use of ginger. You may use preserved ginger, drained and sliced fine, or sliced candied ginger.

TWELFTH NIGHT CAKE

Cream well together 1/2 pound butter and 1/2 cup sugar.

Sift together 2 cups flour and 2 teaspoons baking powder, and a few grains of salt. Add alternately to the butter mixture with four well-beaten eggs, starting with flour and ending with flour. Stir in 1/2 teaspoon almond extract, if you have some.

Dredge 1/4 pound preserved ginger (drained and sliced fine), or four ounces candied ginger, in 1/4 cup flour. Blend it into the batter. Add a dried pea and a dried bean, for fun.

Pour into a well-greased 1 1/2 quart Turk's-head or bundt mold. Bake at 325 degrees for 50 minutes, or until your toothpick comes out clean. Cool on a rack for 10 minutes and then remove from pan to continue cooling.

Frost with a glaze of confectioners' sugar thinned with milk or light cream. Decorate with candied cherries and whole blanched almonds, if you like.

If there are crumbs left, put them out for the birds, since the ground has been covered with snow for many days. Crumbs will be soon gone; you'd best buy some bird seed. We use a small seed mixture in the feeder for the nuthatches and chickadees and the unmannerly sparrows, and since we are where the bigger birds come, we put out cracked corn and sunflower seeds, too.

We discovered that cooking fats can be poured into a cottage cheese carton or a small milk carton and mixed with several spoonful of bird seed. When the fats harden, the carton can be peeled off, and the birds have their suet as well as seed.

We wish you a blessed 1967. With the cardinals we say, "Good year, great cheer."
