

If you are interested in the future of the Plymouth Community you are invited to attend either of two meetings Wednesday evening. There is a planning meeting at Plymouth City Hall and a meeting on the highways at the Township Hall.

Centennial Steering Committee Agrees- Financial Study Is Needed

The Steering Committee appointed some time ago to select a lasting memorial of the Centennial to be held in the City of Plymouth during the year, has reached a plateau of agreement on one thing — that no final decision can be made until a complete study is made of the financial structure required and the amount of money that is available.

The Committee, headed by Joseph Tarantino, met for several hours last Monday evening in City Hall without coming to a total agreement on what the memorial should be. Some progress was made, however, when the list of proposals was reduced to these three —

- 1 — A Youth Center
- 2 — An ice skating rink
- 3 — An historical museum.

This is not necessarily the order in which the projects are rated, according to Chairman Tarantino, but the three agreed upon by the committee from which to make a final selection.

"We just can't do anything," the Chairman explained, "until we have a clear picture of the finances and the financial structure. In our discussion sums ranging all the way from $80,000 to $175,000 were mentioned. And we just couldn't make any sort of recommendation to the City Commission that would involve this amount of money until we were certain as to how it could be made available."

As a result the sponsors of the various projects were given until February 8 to report on a financial program.

Aside from the three projects, a fourth was considered at some length. This project called for the beautifying of Kellogg Park, but the Committee felt this was something that should be done by the City of Plymouth and not be a lasting memorial of the Centennial.

The Youth Center, according to the committee, should be somewhere near the center of the community and the old church building close to Kellogg Park has been suggested as a starter. The ice rink would have to be a new building and probably would be located on the edge of the city — or in the township. And, it was the feeling of the members of the Historical Society who were in attendance that the historical museum should be a building on the east side of City Hall that would match the government building and the Public Library.

While the choice of the final project thus was delayed, the Committee did agree that a complete up-to-date history of the City of Plymouth should be written and made available to all residents.

City, Township Eye CBD, Freeway Plans

Township Approves Sewers

A sewer extension program costing $514,000 was given tentative approval by the Plymouth Township Board at its meeting Tuesday night.

The plan was the same as that which received informal approval at a special meeting Dec. 27. The sewer program will be combined with a water program, bringing total extension costs to somewhat less than $1.3 million.

The original water main program was expected to cost about $1.2 million, but the trustees decided that a sewer-water combination would make areas more valuable than would just water.

Extensions follow the natural drainage pattern of the township, providing trunk lines from which land developers can extend sewers at their own expense.

Approved were the following extensions:

- Byron Creek from Sheldon Road to Plymouth Hills Subdivision.
- Plymouth Hills Subdivision.
- Tyler Creek from Joy Road to Middle School No. 3.
- Elementary School No. 8 on Joy Road.

The board also tabled action on sewer extension on Hammill and Garland Streets in Phoenix Subdivision. Township treasurer Elizabeth Holmes said that of the 19 petition signers, seven had said no to the extension, none had said yes, and 12 had not answered, after she had sent them a letter outlining the costs.

In other business, the board --Notified its planning consultant to go ahead with plans for land acquisition for recreational purposes.

--Heard a plan for a new schedule for fire fighters and decided to table it until budget hearings.

--Heard a report from Irving Rozian of the Planning Commission on proposed routes for M-14 through the township.

--Decided to consult an architect for estimated costs on a proposed addition to the township DPW building.

PCF Board To Report

The Plymouth Community Fund Board will report to the public Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Plymouth Township Hall. Agencies supported by the fund will report on their activities.

Dr. William Covington, president of the board, will give summaries of the activities of these agencies for the past year, and their plans for the future.

Agencies supported are the following: Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Family Service, YMCA, Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic, Plymouth Symphony, United Fund, Red Cross, Plymouth Dental Fund.

Michigan Cancer Foundation, Senior Citizens, Veterans Memorial Foundation, Visiting Nurses, and Salvation Army. Following the public meeting the board will elect their new officers for next year.

War on Crime

Sen. Kuhn Ready to Fight

Lansing, Michigan — State Senator George W. Kuhn (R--W. Bloomfield) has announced that he will sponsor a package of bills declaring war on crime and violence in the streets of Michigan cities.

"The time has come when society must be given the same if not better, protection that the criminal is currently receiving in terms of law enforcement and justice", Kuhn declared.

The former Berkley mayor indicated he will introduce a Stop and Frisk Law similar to the one introduced last session by Senator Raymond Dzendzel, then Senate Majority leader, which failed to pass the Senate. This year, however, Kuhn is hopeful for strong bipartisan support.

Another bill to be introduced by Kuhn will deal with anti-riot legislation. Events throughout the state last summer clearly demonstrated the need to prevent any further malicious destruction of both private and public property caused by groups of individuals rioting.

"I believe it is the duty of every public official at every level of government to provide whatever protection that is necessary to protect the safety and well-being of the public".

All Citizens Given Bid To Attend

What's ahead for the Central Business District of Plymouth? What are the proposed routes for M-14 across Plymouth Township? Will the work start soon or will it be delayed by the recent stoppage order on various segments of the Michigan freeway system by lack of funds?

These questions will come up for discussion in two meetings Wednesday night that have more than the usual interest for residents of the city and township.

An analysis of the CBD and reports from the various committees studying plans for its future will be made in a session in the City Commission chambers at the Plymouth City Hall at 7:30 p.m.

The highway problems and present plans will be aired before a joint session of the Township Board and the Planning Commission to which invitations have been extended and accepted by representatives of the State Highway Department and members of the Canton Township and Northville Township Boards.

The CBD meeting will be in charge of the steering committee headed by City Manager Richard Blodgett, Chamber of Commerce President Carl Pursell and City Clerk Eugene Slider.

Adolph Komer, nationally known shopping center designer and consultant, will be the principal speaker. Komer, who has visited the city several times in recent weeks as guest of Art Shepard, will present his analysis of the CBD as it now exists and give his ideas on what plans should be for the future.

Komer developed the first regional shopping center in the tri-state area, Eastgate in Roseville, and it was so successful it paid out in two years.

He has since developed or participated in the development of several other centers in the Detroit area and throughout the United States.

Komar has gained a national reputation for his understanding of requirements for successful development of major centers, such as the Central Business District in Plymouth and large store chains.

He is expected to touch on the attractiveness of the CBD of a medium sized department store and explain whether it is a prime requisite or not.

Reports will be given by the heads of the various committees with the CBD study group.

MEET MISS ACHIEVEMENT: — Karen Lin Souder, 17, (left) has been selected as the outstanding Junior Achievement business woman of the Plymouth Community. She is shown here with Ruth Wesner (right), now reigning as Miss Achievement of Southeastern Michigan. Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Souder, 9645 Terry Street, and attends Plymouth High School. She will compete later in the month at Cobo Hall in Detroit for the honor of representing Southeastern Michigan at the national conference.

Jaycee Week Opens Today- Will Honor 3 Young People

Today begins the annual Jaycee Week celebration in Plymouth, which will be highlighted by the naming of the outstanding young man of the year, the outstanding young educator, and the young woman of the year.

The outstanding educator will be named at an award breakfast Tuesday morning at 7 at the Mayflower Hotel.

Selection chairman Cal Strom said the search for an outstanding educator in the Plymouth community "is part of a nationwide program to spotlight the achievement and dedication of professional educators, both male and female, between the ages of 21 and 35."

A nominating committee composed of members of the Plymouth Education Association has been recommending teachers in the first through twelfth grades. Jaycees will interview the nominees and pass the final decision on to a panel of judges.

Local winners from throughout the state will be eligible for state competition, which will determine delegates to national competition.

The young woman of the year will be honored at a banquet Tuesday at Hillside Inn at 7 p.m. Local Jayceettes have been screening candidates during the past months.

Top award of the week will be given Thursday night at the Bosses' Night banquet-meeting. Local Jaycees and their employers will be attending the dinner, at which the young man of the year will be recognized.

Lou Gordon, a newspaper columnist and radio and TV commentator, will be the speaker for the evening.

All the candidates for Jaycee awards must be between the ages of 21 and 35, and the man and woman of the year are judged on their contributions to the community.

Kickoff program for Jaycee Week, which is a national program observed by chapters across the nation, will be tonight's program of religious folksinging. Patrick and Rosemarie, folk music writers and performers from Detroit, will appear at the Epiphany Lutheran Church of the Epiphany, 41390 Five Mile Road, at 7 p.m.

The team has one-recording to its credit and has performed for various groups in the Detroit area. This will be the first appearance of the two singers in Plymouth. The program is designed to emphasize part of the Jaycee Creed, that "faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life."

Also scheduled for the week are a Jaycee Wives Appreciation Dinner, Saturday, Jan. 21 at the Odd Fellows Hall,

PATRICK AND ROSEMARIE, two folk-music writers and performers from Detroit, will open Jaycee Week in Plymouth today with a concert of religious folk music. The program will start at 7 p.m. at Epiphany Lutheran Church, 41390 Five Mile Road. The concert is designed to emphasize part of the Jaycee Creed, that "faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life."

GETTING UP IN THE WORLD: The Plymouth Rotary Club that long had held its meetings in the basement of the Mayflower Hotel moved across the street to the Meeting House last week — and held its meeting on the second floor in this regal setting.

Township Approves $100 Fee

Patrick O'Hara loads his truck each morning with packaged food prepared shortly before in his family-owned catering establishment in Livonia. He will deliver the food to a number of nearby factories, many of them in Plymouth, and sell the food from his truck to the employees.

Patrick O'Hara, his two brothers and his father are required to pay a yearly license fee of $100 in Plymouth Township because they are "itinerant food vendors."

They pay a license fee of $12 in Livonia because they operate a "restaurant."

O'Hara Catering was one of three catering firms in the area to protest the license fee at this week's meeting of the Plymouth Township Board, which turned down their request for change.

How Do You Raise $580,000?

Officials do Mental Gymnastics

The Plymouth Township officials are busily engaged in some mental gymnastics these days trying to figure a way to obtain $580,000 without raising the taxes.

This vast sum is the estimated cost of the storm drains needed for the industrial park area south of Ann Arbor Road. Meeting with Canton Township officials during the past week it was agreed that the drains were of vital importance as a means of attracting new business and industry to broaden the tax base of the area.

The proposed drain would run from Ann Arbor Road to Joy Road along an industrial highway to be built by Bud Gould and then to Southworth from where it would spill into Canton Township.

The Canton officials were agreeable with the entire plan and promised to make the open ditches available for the proposed covered drain. Following this agreement the big problem then became one of financing and the officials were of different minds on the subject.

Inasmuch as there can be no revenue from the users of the out inasmuch as the Township tax rate is only one mill--not enough to make such huge payments. The other alternative is to assess the tax roll--which means spreading the cost over the entire city. This would mean a raise in taxes--the very thing that the officials would like to avoid.

"We just had a big raise" Trustee Ralph Garber explained, "and another at this time would not be the thing to do--even though I am in favor of the drain plan."

FOR SCHOOLCRAFT CLASSES—Construction of a new 32-classroom liberal arts building for Schoolcraft College is expected to begin in the spring. The building, as seen in the architect's rendering, will also house an amphitheater seating 170 persons, and will be equipped for lectures, movies and college drama group productions. Ralls, Hamill, Becker Associates, Inc., are the architects for the building, which will be financed by a federal construction grant, proceeds from a local bond issue, and a construction allocation from the state. The building will be ready for use in the fall of 1968.

Township Approves $100 Fee

Besides O'Hara, those protesting were Melvin White, who services factories in the area, and Florence Mora, who delivers food to construction workers at the Ford plant north of the city of Plymouth.

Until these caterers received their latest license fee notices from Township Clerk Helen Richardson, they had paid only $5 for their licenses, less than the $12 required by Livonia or the $10 required by the city of Plymouth.

But this $5 fee was a misinterpretation of the ordinance, according to township officials, and as the ordinance reads, "itinerant food vendors," which includes all who sell food from a truck, must pay a fee of $100.

The only firm which had paid anything close to the required fee had been a Good Humor ice cream truck, which has paid a $50 fee for a six month privilege.

As Township Supervisor John McEwen pointed out, however, there is no provision in the ordinance permitting a lower fee for a shorter period.

When Mrs. Richardson sent out letters announcing the "enforcement of the ordinance," caterer White said that as a veteran he should be exempt from paying any fee at all. A township ordinance does permit veterans exemption for peddlers' licenses, but no such provision exists in the food vendors' ordinance. Mrs. Richardson turned down his request.

O'Hara's attorney told the trustees that the classification "itinerant food vendor" applied to the ice cream vendor who sold on the public streets, but not to O'Hara who sold only when previously called and only on private property.

Trustee Louis Norman objected that he had personally bought food from an O'Hara truck which has been selling mainly to construction workers in a housing subdivision.

Selling to construction workers had stopped, said O'Hara, who offered to accept a restriction in the licensing--one which would prohibit selling in subdivisions--if the board so wished.

Only Trustee Dick Lauterbach seemed impressed by the arguments, however, and when he moved for the board to review the ordinance, his motion died for lack of support.

Mrs. Richardson plans to enforce the ordinance and will issue new licenses only to those who pay the $100 fee.

Planning Meeting Set

including parking, land development, store fronts, traffic, beautification and finance.

The meeting is open to the general public and is expected to attract a capacity attendance from the business, industrial, commercial and financial segments of the city.

The Township Hall meeting stacks up as one of the most important in several months. Especially in lieu of the fact that the proposed routes for the extension of M-14 west to tie up with that artery directly east of Ann Arbor, has been a subject of considerable discussion.

Residents on Lake Pointe Subdivision and the western section of the township are vitally interested in what the thinking of the Highway Department is in regard to routes.

Irv Rozian, former chairman and longtime member of the Planning Commission, presented some of the proposals to the Township Board in its January meeting.

Generally speaking, it is agreed that the route will extend across Schoolcraft to Phoenix Road. Then it will go across a tip of Phoenix Lake, across the C&O railroad and over the southerly boundaries of St. John's Seminary with a cloverleaf near Shearer Drive and Sheldon Roads.

Then the highway would go along Five Mile to Napier Road and then into Washtenaw County.

Rozian pointed out that this route has state institutions most of the way and does cut into the property of the Seminary. He told the Trustees that it would also have to be elevated, and would be a very costly venture.

A second proposed route would follow a line south of Five Mile, north of the Ford Motor Co. plant, to Beck Road with an intersection and cloverleaf at Beck and south of Five Mile.

Beck Road would be widened into a highway and the freeway would follow it to the county line and then extend west to the present M-14 expressway that joins with M-23.

Rozian also told the Board that he had learned the freeway could be set back as far as 1973.

"However, we feel a great deal of good will come out of this joint meeting," he said, "it will clear the air and give the Highway Department a chance to tell of its plans and to hear of the objections at the same time."

Veterans Group Sets Meeting

The Veterans Association at Schoolcraft College is holding a meeting for new members Wednesday, Jan. 18 at 1 p.m. in Room F-110.

Night school students are particularly encouraged to come, according to a spokesman for the group, which is just organizing on the campus.

Among the activities planned for the group is the posting around the college of names of area servicemen in Vietnam.

Those who want more information or who may not be able to attend may call 453-2996.

Why do people with hard-to-heat rooms turn to electric heat?

It's pure and simple

Electric heat is the clean, modern heat—no flame, no fumes. It's a snap to install—costs less, too—because it's more compact and needs no flue. And only electric heat is 100% efficient; the heat is created right where it's used. It's also economical. You can buy an attractive, low-operating-cost unit for as little as $35-$40 (plus thermostat and installation). And we're talking about a unit that can turn a 12' x 20' polar region into a tropical delight. Just dial the warmth you want, and you get it. Give us a call. We'll send an Edison Heating Specialist to discuss equipment, installation, and operating cost with you. No obligation, of course.

Township Officials Now at Cross Roads

The officials of Plymouth Township are standing at the crossroads and much depends on which way they turn.

At the moment they are faced with the choice of providing services that will attract business and industry at a rather high cost or sitting by and permitting it to go elsewhere.

They came face to face with the problem at a special meeting last week when they met with officials of Canton Township relative to the installation of storm drains in the area south of Ann Arbor Road.

While all hands agreed that the plan was ideal and would be an asset that would lure a broader tax base, they also learned that the approximate cost was $580,000. That caused the eye-brow lifting.

How could such drains be provided without a raise in taxes, they asked.

"We have just had a big boost in taxes," Ralph Garber, the veteran trustee, pointed out, "and I don't know how we can add more at this time — even though I approve of the plan."

This proved to be butt of the entire problem. Even when the bond attorneys explained that the payments could be made over a 20-year period it was pointed out that this would mean an annual payment of about $50,000 — or $45,000 after the county and state paid 10 per cent.

This sounded simple. But it must be remembered that the Township receives only about one mill in tax returns and can't afford any such sum.

There are two avenues open — a special assessment on the property owners or spreading the cost at large on the tax rolls.

There is no questioning the fact that the proposed drain is vitally necessary if the community is to attract business and industry that would broaden the tax base.

But each time the broader tax base is mentioned the high cost of the drain rears its ugly head.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, Township Treasurer, put it in a nutshell when she asked, with no disrespect for either community:

"What do we want to be — another Livonia or another Northville?"

The question is not easy to answer, but there is an old proverb that runs "Where there is no vision people perish."

That's why the officials are standing at the crossroads.

Which way will they go?

Moment of Truth Here For Politicians

The moment of truth has arrived for the politicians across the nation — and here at home.

Late last Summer and all through the Fall they spent their time travelling and talking — talking to anyone who would listen. And the theme was much the same — what they would do for the benefit of all if they were elected.

There were promises on promises. To listen to them they would ease the nation's tax problem, end the war in Vietnam, reduce the nation's expenditures, clean the air, clarify the nation's streams and make the country a better place in which to live.

Naturally, there were clashes. On one side were the incumbents defending their records in both Washington and Lansing. The big spenders attempted, valiantly, to justify their voting records. On the other hand the so-called conservatives shouted and howled of the many things that were wrong and what they would do to bring about the righting of the wrongs.

On the state level we were deluged with promises of tax reform — a promise that has been made each year for quite a few years. We were promised a more conservative legislature, but one that would take all manner of means to bring about more relief for such things as mental health, schools, welfare and a curb on spending.

After all the promises were made, the voters spoke with their ballots, and a great change started taking place.

On the national scene President Johnson was denied the overwhelming majority he held in both House and Senate. In Lansing, the turn over was such that Governor Romney now has a house divided equally with Democrats and Republicans. Whether this is an improvement or a hindrance remains to be seen. But the wild spenders are supposed to have been turned out to pasture.

On the national scene, Michigan's five Freshman Democratic Congressmen were replaced with Republicans. This was the largest turnover in any one state in years and it provides for an interesting study.

The five Michigan Republicans have made some great promises — even to helping prepare a balanced budget of their own in case the President's annual budget is on the unbalanced side.

All this has been conjecture. During the past few weeks the legislative halls of Washington and Lansing have been humming with activity as the legislators opened new sessions.

They have talked and promised — promised and talked.

Now, the moment of Truth has arrived. And it would be well to keep your eyes and ears open.

Funny things oftimes happen when folks must lay their chips on the table.

How Should PCF Spend Its Money?

Tuesday night the Plymouth Community will have an opportunity to have its say on how the Plymouth Community Fund should spend its money.

The PCF Board will be holding its annual review and planning meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Township Hall.

Reports will be given on the past year's work and on plans for use of the $100,000 collected in the current fund drive. And the public will be able to give its opinions on how the money collected should be spent.

Some questions recur with regularity — and they may come up again: Should a fund drive which mainly supports the needy give $2,000 to the Plymouth Symphony? Why give thousands of dollars to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts which tends to serve mainly the children of well-to-do, middle-class families? Should the fund serve just as an agency to combine fund drives or should it actually try to bring about social change?

More questions, of course, could be asked — and answered, as they have been in the past. The PCF Board has debated questions such as these extensively in past years and has concluded that the present program is the best one for Plymouth.

Much good has come from the money distributed by the fund. The homeless and needy have been given aid; money has gone to cancer victims and indigent dental patients, and support has been given for family counseling and home visits by visiting nurses.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA members, guests at the free Plymouth Symphony concerts, and several hundred senior citizens have benefited from the community fund. But each year brings changes, and the PCF Board helps keep the fund in touch with current conditions by reviewing its allocations — and the community can help the board by making suggestions of its own.

Ask your questions, make your suggestions Tuesday. The Board will be there at 8 o'clock.

73 Per Cent of High School Grads Seek Higher Learning

Seventy three of every 100 of this year's Michigan high school seniors want to go on for some kind of additional education after they are graduated.

Most say they will attend college, and of these, 89 per cent choose a college in Michigan. One in four hopes to attend a public community-junior college, two out of three a public senior college or university, and eight per cent a private college or university.

Of the seniors with B and higher grades, 90 per cent plan to continue their education. Of others with C and lower averages, 65 per cent want to go on.

These are results of a survey made last fall by Project MEMO, a cooperative program sponsored by all the state's community colleges and Michigan State University, and financed by the U.S. Office of Education's "Talent Search" division.

It included students enrolled in 592 of the 594 public and 153 of the 169 non-public high schools in Michigan. The survey resulted in nearly 100,000 student responses.

Project Director David Schultz pointed out that "the total number hoping to continue education is far greater than any previous study ever has shown in Michigan." Earlier studies by other researchers, who usually covered only a small part of the state, generally reported from 50 to 67 per cent of the seniors planning more education.

A major problem the MEMO study emphasizes is the need for each student to choose the right institution for more learning — "the school or college where he has a real chance for success, rather than one where his chances are too slim," Schultz pointed out.

"There is a place in some kind of program in some school or college for every Michigan high school graduate who really wants to learn more, and there is some kind of aid available to every boy and girl who has proven financial need," he said, "but not every student is making a realistic choice of school or college really suited to his ability level."

"Michigan could use some kind of central clearing-house that would help students find the right colleges, and help colleges find students who will succeed. An objectively operated Michigan college admissions center that would do this would benefit the entire state by making an opportunity available to every boy and girl for the maximum amount and kind of education he could absorb."

Some C and lower average seniors indicated they wished to attend a college or university whose standards make their academic success entirely too improbable, Schultz explained. Such institutions properly advise these students to go instead to a less competitive campus where they have a better chance to succeed, he added.

MEMO stands for "More Education, More Opportunity," and its goal is to "help every student use his brains for all they are worth." MEMO offers no financial aid to students, but works to bring students and educational institutions together and to publicize the greatly expanded new federal Educational Opportunity Grants, work-study program jobs, and NDEA student loans.

The colleges that sponsor MEMO are the Alpena Community College, Bay de Noe Community College, Delta College, Flint Community Junior College, Glen Oaks Community College, Gogebic Community College, Grand Rapids Junior College, Henry Ford Community College, Highland Park College, Jackson Community College, Kellogg Community College, Lake Michigan College, Lansing Community College, Macomb County Community College, Mid-Michigan Community College, Monroe Community College, Montcalm Community College, Muskegon Community College, North Central Michigan College, Northwestern Michigan College, Oakland Community College, Port Huron Community College, Schoolcraft College, Southwestern Michigan College, Washtenaw Community College, and Michigan State University.

Wayne State Doctor Develops Way to Aid Pre-Natal Transfusion

A new technique for helping unborn RH babies has been evolved at Wayne State University, in Detroit. The process, known as "amniocopy," permits the doctor literally to see inside the mother as he administers necessary blood transfusion to her child.

The Rh condition, known to doctors as "erythroblastosis," causes destruction of red blood cells. It comes about when pregnant mothers develop antibodies, or defense mechanism, against a factor in the father's blood which is called "Rh." The antibodies do no harm to the mother but affect the unborn child.

They may be fatal to the baby unless his system is infused with normal blood. Until a few years ago the transfusion was never undertaken before birth. The first successful prenatal transfusion was done in a hospital affiliated with Wayne in 1963.

Part of the prenatal transfusion problem has been observation within the mother's abdomen, for the slightest miscalculation on the doctor's part, as he injects the tiny tube with its needle-equipped end, could cause irreparable harm to the fetus.

In the early prenatal transfusion done at Wayne, x-rays were used. They have continued to be used until this most recent development. But they are time-consuming cumbersome and sometimes ill-advised from the standpoint of the mother's and baby's health. Wayne's contribution has been to provide a light source within the abdomen, which permits through a system known as "fiber optic," a view of the blood-carrying unit and the surrounding area as the unit is pushed to, and into, the fetus. The originator of the technique is Prof. Bernard Mandelbaum of the department of obstetrics and gynecology.

The word "amniocopy" is derived from the name which doctors have given to the sac which surrounds the fetus. They

Red Cross Costs Top $120 Million

Mounting demand for services to U.S. military forces in South Vietnam and meeting needs of victims of Hurricane Betsy combined to make 1965-66 the busiest and costliest year for the American Red Cross since World War II.

The organization's Annual Report noted a total of $120,819,624 in expenditures — largest sum since the immediate post-war period of 1945-46, when the organization spent $199,324,987.

For the third year in a row, collections rose in the organization's appeal for funds and members through independent campaigns by chapters and participation by many chapters in United Fund appeals — $92,686,143 as against $88,350,261 in 1963-64.

Other receipts — disaster contributions, gifts to the ARC Youth Fund, other specially earmarked donations, and interest from investments and endowments — brought ARC's total income to $106,868,513. Since this was less than total expenditures for the year, the over-expenditure came primarily from the organization's disaster revolving fund which has now been reduced to $2,500,000.

"This report is a record of Red Cross efforts in the fiscal year 1965-66 to carry out its mission," wrote E. Roland Harriman, chairman, and Gen. James F. Collins, president, in a foreword addressed to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

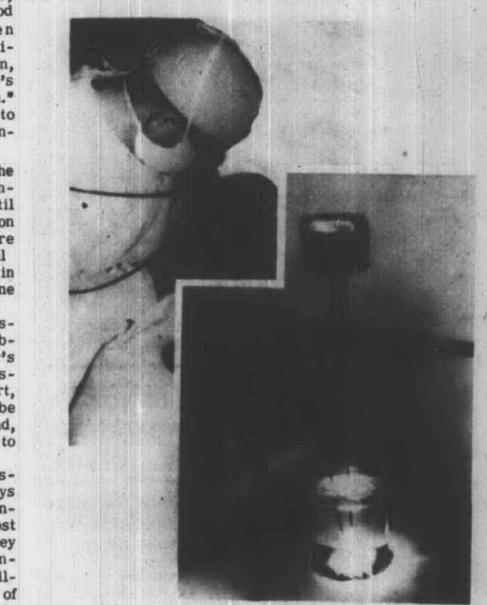

"Two signal events of the year tested the ability of the Red Cross to fulfill its charter responsibilities to disaster victims and to members of the armed forces. During and after Hurricane Betsy the Red Cross conducted one of the largest scale disaster relief operations in its history. With the expansion of United States commitments in South Vietnam, the American Red Cross augmented its staff in that country to aid the American forces there and assist the South Vietnamese Red Cross Society, and provided greatly increased service to military families back home."

The largest item of Red Cross expenditures listed was for its world-wide services to the armed forces, and to veterans — $40,997,719. A monthly average of 84,000 servicemen were served at military installations and medical facilities, an increase of 9 percent over those served in 1964-65.

In June 1966 in South Vietnam, 12,000 servicemen received assistance from the Red Cross, a fivefold increase over the 2,000 aided in June 1965.

Workers in chapters, the report said, gave 141,400 services each month to families of servicemen and 37,600 services each month to families of veterans.

The Red Cross provided assistance to victims in 14,100 disaster situations during the year, including 357 disaster relief operations, at a total cost of $25,976,041. Emergency mass care was given to 572,900 persons, and 69,000 families were aided in long-term recovery.

A NEW TECHNIQUE: Dr. Mendelbaum is shown here using the apparatus in his latest approach to problem.

Good Buys at the Grocers

POULTRY: There are a number of outstanding features available on fryers this week.

BEEF: The beef market has been irregular. Loin cuts for sirloin, t-bone and porterhouse steaks appear to be the better retail values though there are several special prices on hamburger in three pound units or more. Some stores are also featuring chuck cuts though wholesales on chucks and rounds are up.

FISH: Fresh perch and smelt are still available from Lake Erie along with a normal supply of white fish from the Canadian lakes. Fresh cod and haddock are ample. The frozen shrimp supply is low. However, stocks of lobster tails are still almost 80% ahead of last year.

EGGS and DAIRY: Wholesale egg prices have advanced slightly this week. With four to five cents a dozen difference between the large and medium eggs, there is no doubt that the large sizes are the better value. Diet-watchers will find lots of cottage cheese in the dairy ads—along with cheese slices and medium grades of ice cream.

VEGETABLES: Supply and quality of celery from both California and Florida are good. Cool weather in Florida has affected green beans, sweet corn, cucumbers, green peppers, radishes and tomatoes. Shipments of broccoli are light. Quality is good but much is going to processors. Canners are also taking a good share of the California cauliflower crop. Other vegetables remain in comparable supply and price to last week.

FRUITS: Supplies of most citrus fruits are about the same as before Christmas. Shipments of oranges are heavier than last year and reasonable in price. Temple oranges are beginning to appear at low retail. The production of grapefruit is relatively unchanged though quality and size have improved. Tangerines may be steady to higher in price. There are some excellent features available on bananas. Apple movement is about normal; bagged fruit comprises the greatest volume. Pineapple shipments are arriving from Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Strawberries are in light supply and prices are high.

OTHER: Grocery features are widely scattered with only coffee, instant coffee and vegetable shortening showing up in more than one food ad.

A change has occurred in the USDA's requirement on poultry soup. All poultry soups must now contain at least two percent poultry meat. This will assure us that chicken or turkey soup has enough poultry meat to merit the label.

Frozen food features include a few vegetables and pot pies.

The Whole Town Is Making Stained Glass Goblets

Clockwise from left, Mesdames Richard Kieweg, Edsel Laifinen, Henry Ferrari, Donald Pike and Robert Wedneski have their supplies and are ready to work on the goblets.

TOP — Mrs. Gerald Stevens applies the Rub N Buff with a matchstick. The other way is to add one drop of turpentine and put it on with a brush. The matchstick way must be rubbed with a cloth, when dry, but gives a duller effect. Mrs. Robert Wedneski has to press hard to get "squiggle" or magic steel out of the tube. Mrs. William Rainaldi uses nail polish remover on a Q-Tip to get excess Rub N Buff off the glass stain.

RIGHT — Mrs. Richard Kieweg pats down the "squiggle" to make sure it has adhered to the glass.

The stained glass fever has hit Plymouth women. Complete directions for making stained glass goblets were given in last week's Plymouth Mail.

Recently a group of women from Newcomer's Club met in the home of Mrs. Gerald Stevens and settled down to work on the goblets.

Old jars and vases become mellow works of art when decorated with stain. The colors glow subtly when a candle is placed inside the finished product.

These pictures show some of the steps used, and give hints to make the work easier.

Life in China Seen in Movie

With China in the headlines, AAUW is most timely in presenting a film on the subject next Thursday, Jan. 19.

Felix Green, a controversial journalist, has produced the film entitled "China."

Green was allowed into China in 1965 to take the movie. It is the latest film on China that is available to the general public. Other films are tied up by television rights.

The AAUW meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the Junior High West. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Howard Raafaub and Mrs. Hubert Jarvis.

Panhellenic Installs Officers

Plymouth City Panhellenic installed new officers at its meeting on Jan. 9. President for the coming year is Mrs. Richard Blodgett. Other officers are Mrs. George Purcell, vice-president; Mrs. Richard Fritz, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Lewis, corresponding secretary.

The group also made plans for its benefit bridge. The bridge is to raise money for an award given to an outstanding high school senior.

Panhellenic is also planning to give an informal party this spring for girls in the senior class.

Women's Club Learns About Fire Prevention

Members of the Plymouth Women's Club gained some new ideas about fire prevention after hearing Lt. Raymond Maki, of the Fire Marshall's office, at their meeting on Jan. 6.

Some of Lt. Maki's tips were: Sleep with the doors closed at night.

If you are awakened by a fire, crawl, rather than walk to the bedroom door, and out of the house.

If the door feels hot, don't open it.

Tell children to go to a window, breaking it open if necessary, if they can't get out the door.

Make a lot of noise while getting out of a house, but don't try to go back for others.

The family should have a designated meeting place one they all get outside.

If your hair isn't becoming to you... you should be coming to us.

Folk Singers

Come to U of D

Two Columbia Recording stars, Simon and Garfunkel, will come to the University of Detroit Town and Gown Series, Sunday, Jan. 15.

The new trend to urban-oriented folk music has brought success to the two young men who have been singing together since sixth grade.

They will be on stage at 8:30 p.m. in the Memorial Building on the U. of D. McNichols Road campus.

Tickets, priced at $4, $3, and $2, are on sale at the Memorial Building Box Office, 342-1000, ext. 257.

EMU Offers

Music and Play

Eastern Michigan University Players' production of Elmer Rice's expressionistic "The Adding Machine," will run Jan. 11 through Jan. 15, at the Quirk Auditorium.

Expressionism in the theatre, as in the other arts, presents a distorted view of the world. As seen by the leading character, Mr. Zero, and also by the audience, the world is a highly subjective one of tilted walls and insanely exaggerated social situations.

A concert titled "Winter Winds" will be presented by the Eastern Michigan University Symphonic Concert, and Marching Bands at 4 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 15, in Pease Auditorium.

Music to be performed will include selections by Mendelssohn, Tchaikovsky and Jacob, as well as contemporary works by Latham, Nelhybel and Dello Joio.

The 130 Marching Hurons will present a selection of music performed during the past football season.

The concert is free and open to the public.

Colonial Art Is Displayed

The Peale Family will dominate the Detroit Institute of Arts exhibition schedule from January 18 through March 5.

Titled "The Peale Family: Three Generations of American Artists," the show will feature 225 paintings, watercolors, drawings, miniatures and prints by 20 of the family of Philadelphia artists who worked for over 100 years in the colonial and early Federal period.

Enhancing "The Peale Family" will be a second exhibition: "American Decorative Arts: From the Pilgrims to the Revolution." This show of furniture and silver is made up of loans from Detroit area collections and from the museum's permanent collection.

Shaw Comedy Is At Hilberry

INTERESTING OLD HOUSES

Grand River Was Route For Stock

Nathan Sly's first house burned down shortly before 1862. Fortunately he and his family got out safely.

Nathan built a new house just across the road. It still stands today at the corner of Five Mile and Maxwell. The exterior is much the same as when Nathan built it, but the interior has been almost completely done over.

Nathan belonged to one of the early farm families in the area. His parents arrived here in 1827. His brother, Hial, lived in the farmhouse on Schoolcraft, which was written up in last week's paper.

Nathan built his new house in the popular Greek revival style. Although this style was in vogue throughout the country, certain adaptations, such as the type of roof, sprung up around here. These became known as the Ann Arbor style. Besides working as a farmer, Nathan was a drover. He herded sheep and cattle to the markets in Detroit. Grand River, Five Mile, and Greenfield were some of the roads that were blocked with his and other drovers' livestock. It can be some consolation to the drivers who complain about traffic on those roads today, that they no longer have drovers using the roads.

And for those who fret about the time it takes to get downtown Nathan had to make it a two-day trip. There were many inns along the route. Nathan and his men would herd the animals into corrals in the innyard, and stay overnight.

An account book kept by Nathan reveals a little of the lives of those people. Here is an excerpt:

"William Showers commenced work May 15, 1861 for the sum of $7 per month with the consideration that if I thought he was worth $8 per month I was to pay him that."

Often workers received clothing instead of pay. Overalls, shirts, buttons and tobacco are listed as items of payment. Just who had to turn the shirting and buttons into shirts, isn't stated. It is hard to imagine a gnarled fingered workman making his own shirts. Perhaps Nathan's wife gave him a hand.

Years pass; Nathan's two children grew and married. His son and wife moved into a special wing built onto the house. Later the son's family grew larger and the two grandparents moved into the wing. All gone now are the many out-buildings used in running the farm. They ranged from a slaughter house to a repair shop.

In those days this was the only farmhouse between Bradner and Haggerty on the dirt-paved Five Mile Rd.

But, like most farmers, they used to have trouble with kids who came out there and sneaked into the watermelon patch.

Apparently there were some grown-ups who also raided the patch. The Sly family once found a set of false teeth left by some fast-departing watermelon lover.

The house was sold in the 1930's to a family named Schultz, then to the Ritters. The Rubys live there now.

The extra wing at the back is gone. The interior has been modernized. Storage bins in the basement have been turned into a recreation room. Originally there was just one closet in the house, but several have been added.

Three of Nathan's grandchildren live in Plymouth.

gown combined with alencon lace and Italian braid.

The matron of honor was Betty Niestrays, bridesmaid was Margaret Warren and four-year-old Leigh Anne Neistrays was a flower girl.

The bride is a graduate of the 1964 class of Plymouth High School, and is now a senior nurse at Bronson Methodist Hospital School of Nursing.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Cass Technological High School and is an employee of A. T. & T.

The couple will enter the Johnston City Baptist Bible Seminary, New York State, in the fall. The bridegroom is going to study for the ministry, and his new wife will be studying to be a missionary.

The couple are now living in Kalamazoo.

Strictly social

Greg Trahan was surprised at a sixteenth birthday party in his honor on Jan. 3. The dinner party was planned by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Franchour, friends of the Trahans. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Trahan.

Baby talk

Mr. and Mrs. John Harper (she's the former Susan Utter) announce the birth of a 7 lb. 4 oz. son on Jan 4 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. The baby was named Robert Cranston after his maternal grandfather.

The harpers both grew up in Plymouth and now live in Detroit.

Maternal grandparents are the Robert Utters. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harper.

Mr. and Mrs. Arny Thomas Heath of Inkster announce the birth of a 7 lb 4 oz. daughter, Anna Lynn, Dec. 14 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. The Heaths used to live in Plymouth.

March of Dimes to Establish Birth Defects Center at Wayne

The traditional March of Dimes Campaign is under way in Metropolitan Detroit and across the nation. A goal of $635,000 for Wayne Oakland and Macomb counties has been set for 1967. The state goal is $1,410,000.

Three baseball greats have served as campaign directors in the tri-county area for several years. Carles Gehring, Wayne County Campaign Chairman, has a goal of $400,000; the Oakland County goal is $150,000, with Al Kaline as chairman; and Macomb County has a goal of $85,000, with Vic Wertz responsible for the campaign. William C. Newberg, of Bloomfield Hills, is the 1967 state campaign chairman.

Public support for the March of Dimes campaign takes on new meaning with current plans to establish a birth defects treatment center in Detroit through a National Foundation grant to the Wayne State University Medical School. The Detroit Center will be supported by local volunteer March of Dime chapters. The Center will be dedicated to improving the quality of treatment available to birth defect children in the state. More than 80% of birth defects can be treated -- and in many cases completely corrected -- if early diagnosis and proper treatment are obtained.

One out of every 16 children is born with a birth defect. It is for these children, and a search for new knowledge that will ultimately prevent birth defects, that the January March of Dimes Campaign raises funds. Virtually every family will be contacted by mail or personally by volunteers during the month.

Special events scheduled for this campaign include:

--A "Miss March of Dimes" competition, with 12 teen-age girls collecting votes at 10¢ each.

--A "Miss March of Dimes" competition, with 12 teen-age girls collecting votes at 10¢ each.

--A bowling tournament scheduled for January 15th through January 28th, sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors' Association of Greater Detroit and Michigan in cooperation with the Greater Detroit Bowling Association and the Detroit Woman's Bowling Association. The entry fee of $1.00 is donated to the March of Dimes.

--A city-wide tag day by T. A. P., the March of Dimes teen action program volunteers.

--A fashion extravaganza and dinner, sponsored by the Detroit Negro Community.

--Climaxing the campaign and bringing in 50% of the funds is the annual Mothers' March on January 31st, when 22,000 women in Wayne County, 8,000 in Oakland County and 4,000 in Macomb County will ring doorbells for the fight against birth defects.

The National Foundation fights birth defects through programs of medical care, research, professional and public education--the same approach that led to victory over polio.

JUST REMINISCING: Loren Zimmerman, of Plymouth, returned to the scene of his early days in the army and re-lived many of the stories of what was Camp Humphries 50 years ago.

Plymouth Soldier Visits Old Haunts After 50 Years

Fort Belvoir, Va.---After an absence of almost 50 years Loren I. Zimmerman, of Plymouth, Michigan, who is one of Engineer Center's oldest alumni, paid a recent visit to his old haunts and many fond memories came rolling back through the years.

First, he recalled that, after completing basic training at Fort Custer, Michigan, he spent several months here in 1918 undergoing special engineer training prior to being shipped out to join the Allied Expeditionary Force in France. At that time, he said, Belvoir was known as Camp Humphries. (The name was not changed to Fort Belvoir until 1935).

Asked what he did in the Engineer Corps, Zimmerman quickly replied that most of his three months here was spent "digging ditches."

He added "Camp Humphries was expanding as rapidly as possible to meet the demands of World War I." Wooden structures, "like the building your Thrift Shop is in, only larger," were built to house the 500 men assigned to Belvoir. At the same time, facilities were being expanded to accommodate the increasing number of Reserve Training Units scheduled for pre-embarkation training here.

Zimmerman said that he didn't see any of the old wooden structures on his recent visit. According to his account, they had been constructed on the "other side of the railroad tracks--where the warehouses are."

Zimmerman's on the job training at Camp Humphries involved the installation of a water system connecting the barracks with Cornwell Springs--a series of pumps on the bank of the river. When completed, the six-inch water line supplied the needs of the expanding camp for water.

"Things have changed in the past 50 years," the former soldier recalled. The 500 men assigned here in 1918 compare with the present force of about 25,000 military and civilian personnel.

Looking back, however, Zimmerman reminisced that the area on the banks of the Potomac, despite obvious changes, is still the "place where we Army Engineer Corps members received our training."

While in the area Zimmerman and his wife stayed with their daughter Mrs. B. T. Peoples, of 127 Crest Drive, Woodbridge.

BRAVING THE ELEMENTS: Chilly blasts and wintry winds couldn't stop these young ladies from Girl Scout Troop 501 from delivering more than 100 canisters for the March of Dimes campaign which has now opened. Included in the group are (left to right) Dianne Hathaway, Carol Magee, Nancy Covington, Marcia Young, Mary Hurtick, and Marie Fleazer. They were taught the technique of making the deliveries by Mrs. William Baumgartner and worked under the supervision of Leaders Ann Fowler and Averill Brady.

Western Plymouth news

By Marion Probeck 453-4572

On January 1, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Notebaert of Beacon Hill Drive entertained 18 guests at a buffet dinner party. These people were all Western High School friends of Mrs. Notebaert. The guest of honor was Dr. John Wilson of Cornell University. The Notebaerts gave another buffet dinner the week before for family and friends.

Two Plymouth colony families, the Melvin Fuellings and children, Genine and Kevin; and the Fred Schlies with their children, Maryanne, Donald and Billy, spent New Years weekend at the summer home of the Fuellings north of Rodgers City.

The days were spent skating, tobogganing and sledding, home up there "Shemara," an Indian name which means peace and quiet. The families returned home Jan. 2 to hold a birthday celebration for son Dennis who attends Western Michigan University.

Busy getting settled in their new home on Beacon Hill Drive

Strang, of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Epiphany, and Rev. Peter D. Schweitzer of the First Methodist Church.

Last year the council sponsored, among other things, the first screening in this area of "Nobody Waved Goodby," an award-winning movie about teenagers.

Father Vaughn is curate of St. John's Episcopal Church in Midland, Michigan. He still considers the priesthood his basic calling, but has permission from his superior for his second career--that of jazz pianist.

Father Vaughn was "discovered" one night by jazz impresario George Wein. Father Vaughn was in Detroit on business, and dropped into Baker's Keyboard Lounge while the Gene Krupa Quartet was playing. The young priest was asked to sit in.

We, impressed with his style, invited him to New York for his debut at the Village Gate. That was it.

Father Vaughn has recorded one record for RCA Victor. Tickets will be on sale March at the Melody House.

are Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gould and sons Gary, Bruce and Terry. Bud Gould is a well known builder and developer in Plymouth and developed Beacon Hill subdivision. Even though the Goulds moved just before Christmas they managed to slip away for a week during the holidays. They went to Hidden Valley Ski Lodge in Gaylord. Moving to Woodlore recently are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hayman and daughter Susan from Wilmette, Ill., and now living at 9478 Ivanhoe Drive. Hayman is an executive with the Western Electric Company in Plymouth. Susan is a freshman at the University of Kansas.

The Clem Kromers and daughters Barbara and Carol have returned home after spending two weeks at St. Petersburg Beach, Fla. in the Coral Reef Motel. Most of the vacation was spent sunning and resting, along with a few side trips to Cypress Gardens and the Busch Gardens in Tampa. On their way home they visited an aunt in Orlando.

SPECIAL MEETING PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP BOARD OF TRUSTEES DECEMBER 27, 1966

The meeting was called to order by the Supervisor at 7:35 p.m. All members were present with the exception of Dick Lauterbach.

Proposed Water Main Extension ($1,200,000).
Mr. Hamill presented a tentative maturity schedule covering a bond issue of $1,200,000 as presented to him by Julius Pochelon. Mr. Hamill pointed out that if money was available that you could pay them off and retire the bonds sooner. At this time, Mr. Hamill pointed out his suggested extensions to the Plymouth Township Water System which consisted of 14 different extensions, as follows:

- No. 1 -- Phoenix Road - from St. John's Seminary, easterly to Northville and Five Mile Roads.
- No. 2 -- Northville Road - Hammill to Clemons
- No. 3 -- Ann Arbor Road - Rocker to Lilley
- No. 4 -- Joy Road - Lilley to Haggerty
- No. 5 -- Joy Road - Haggerty to Eckles
- No. 6 -- Phoenix Road - Sheldon to Beck and Phoenix to North Territorial
- No. 7 -- Beck Road - North Territorial to Powell
- No. 8 -- Plymouth Hills Subdivision
- No. 9 -- Joy Road - Sheldon to Ivanhoe
- No. 10 -- Five Mile Road - Bradner to Lakewood
- No. 11 -- Sheldon Road - Joy to Ann Arbor Road
- No. 12 -- Plymouth Colony Subdivision
- No. 13 -- North Territorial Road - Beck to Ridge
- No. 14 -- Ann Arbor Road - Beck to Ridge

After lengthy discussion by the members present, a motion by Ralph Garber, supported by Helen Richardson to give the Engineer tentative approval on the first ten projects and to proceed to draw plans for the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way. Carried unanimously.

Mr. Hamill then presented some areas that were most imperative for a proposed sanitary sewer program.

- Byron Creek - Sheldon Road to Ann Arbor Trail
- Byron Creek - Ann Arbor Trail to Plymouth Hills Subdivision.
- Plymouth Hills Subdivision
- Tyler Creek - Joy Road to School Site
- Elementary School No. 8 - Joy Road
- Clemons - Northville Road East
- Hammill and Garland
- Northville Road
- Lilley Road

The Board, not being able to approve this program due to it not being on the agenda of this special meeting, recommended that Mr. Hamill draft some plans and present them at the next Board meeting.

Proposed Plymouth Township - Storm Drains No. 1 and No. 2
The Supervisor suggested a study meeting with the Township of Canton, Members of the Drain Commission office and our Township on Storm Drains No. 1 and 2. This meeting to be held on Friday, January 6, 1967 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Richardson asked the Board members for some clarification as to the meaning of itinerant Food Vendors as letters had been mailed to the various Catering Firms and Food Vendors, telling them of the increase in license fees as the ordinance states. Many complaints had been received and their general feeling was that they should not come under Itinerant Food Vendors, therefore, they should not pay the $100.00 license fee. The consensus of the members present was that this is the classification in which they would come under and there was no choice but to enforce the ordinance as it reads. It was determined that the Clerk would call the firms involved and if they had any additional information to offer; they could attend the regular meeting in January and explain their feelings on why they shouldn't come under Ordinance No. 1.

Mr. Norman presented some ideas on the addition to the D.P.W. Building, the space to be used for storage. A short discussion was had and it was determined that Mr. Norman should present something more constructive at the next regular meeting.

A motion was made by E. Holmes, supported by R. Garber to adjourn the meeting. Carried unanimously.

The meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

Approved: John D. McEwen, Supervisor (1-15-67)
Respectfully Submitted: Helen I. Richardson, Clerk

The committee was first organized in 1963. The 1967 Chairman will be Daniel J. Haughton, president of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation. Former National Chairman Lynn A. Townsend, president of Chrysler Corporation; Elmer

W. Engstrom, president of Radio Corporation of America; Frank R. Milliken, president of Kennecott Copper Corporation; and Harold S. Geneen, chairman and president of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, are continuing their service on this committee. The remaining twenty-four members, like Miller, will direct campaigns in the nation's major market areas.

In a letter to Miller, Secretary Fowler said the committee "has established an enviable record in the sale of U.S. savings bonds and in volunteer service in behalf of the nation. I am confident that you and the other members will continue in this tradition and that your effective leadership of the payroll savings plan in your companies and communities will bring the committee to even greater records of accomplishment in the year ahead."

Kiwanis Honors Moore

Kiwanis Man of the Year for Plymouth is Clarence Moore, 738 Burroughs, who was named at the club's annual installation meeting.

Moore was named for his work during the past year, and others were named for service to the club and community over past years. Bud Schrader and Miller Ross received awards for 35 years service, and Ernie Henry, E. A. Rice and Pat Wiltse received awards for 30 years service.

Installed as president of the club was Robert C. Utter, who succeeds Robert Lyons. A native of suburban Detroit, Utter attended the University of Michigan in the class of 1938.

He is manager of passenger services for American Airlines, a post to which he rose from a start as a limousine driver with the airline in 1941. Utter was vice-president of the Plymouth Community School Board from 1961 to 1965.

Blood Donors Being Sought By Red Cross

As the new year begins, so does the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Center's search for new blood donors. The qualifications necessary to join this very selective group include:

AGE - between 18 and 59. From the age of 18 to 21, if not married or in the armed services, parental consent is necessary.

HEALTH - in good standing. (Women who have become mothers within the past twelve months are not eligible to donate.)

Red Cross health standards are higher than even those required by the National Institute of Health in order to insure the greatest protection to the donor.

Becoming a member of a Red Cross blood group account can help neighbors and even yourself some day. Inquire at your church, place of employment or any organization you belong to and if they have a group account that is the place to start.

After joining a group account the next step is to visit the Red Cross bloodmobile when it comes to Livonia on Thursday, January 19. You will find it at the Northwest Office, ARC, 31228 Five Mile Rd. between the hours of 3:00 and 9:00 p.m. To save you time, make an appointment to give by phoning Red Cross 422-2787.

Consumers Power Reports to Your Community...

The many hats of... Consumers Power Company

CP-Careful Planning
Count all the uses of natural gas in your home—cooking, drying, cooling, and heating—and you'll realize that you do enjoy life more because of it. Fact is, the average Consumers Power customer is paying only slightly more per unit today for his gas service than he did way back in 1947. Any way you look at it, this haul of value from Consumers Power is one of the biggest bargains in your family budget.

CP-Customer-minded Personnel
New tools and techniques constantly are being employed to improve customer service and safety. Pliable plastic-coated gas pipes now can be inserted into the ground without messy trenching. Electronic computers are being used to speed customer inquiries and requests for service. Other computer developments will enable us to monitor our entire, statewide natural gas transmission system every two minutes, to avoid service interruptions or irregularities. For at Consumers Power, our first concern is always what we can do for you.

CP-Community Participation
Taxes, payrolls... however you figure it... Consumers Power expansions mean more money in circulation... more natural gas for a growing Michigan. Our 1965 state and local tax bill of more than $22 million helped support the activities of schools, hospitals, and other public services. And $80 million in payroll dollars went for houses, food, clothing, charities, etc. Consumers Power, through extensive area development, conservation and other programs, also continually seeks needed improvements for a better economic, social, and cultural life for all.

CP-Continuing Progress
It means a lot to know that natural gas is on tap whenever it's required. It takes the combined skills and efforts of some 3,970 Consumers Power employees to provide that dependability. And to insure sufficient gas to meet all future requirements, the total volume of gas being purchased by Consumers Power is being increased 50% in the next five years. This long range planning and day-to-day efficient operation is your guarantee of the best possible gas service at the lowest possible cost.

Like Father-Like Son

'Jack' Temple Heads Insurance Co.

John "Jack" Temple, prominent Plymouth insurance official, is proving the truth of the old saying, "Like Father-Like Son."

A member of the Board of Directors of the American Community Mutual Insurance Company since 1958, he has just been honored with the presidency of the company which is located at 409 Plymouth Road in the City of Plymouth. And to his new role he is following in the footsteps of his father, and is only the third president of the 29-year history of the company.

His elevation to the presidency was announced during the week along with other mafor management changes to take effect immediately.

In the reassignment, President John J. Temple has been elected chairman of the Board and Loyal

Jack Temple

DeGraw promoted to vice president.

John J. had served as president since 1953 when he succeeded the late Andrew Gump, founding president.

John D. joined American Community in 1962 as assistant to the President and was subsequently promoted to executive vice president. In his new post, he will be the chief executive officer of the company.

He is a graduate of Alma College, was an officer in the U.S. Navy during World War II and was employed by the Ford Motor Co. and Triad Equipment Co., in Utica, N.Y. before joining American.

John D. is married and the father of two children.

Thus he steps into the footsteps of his father and carries on the Temple tradition of heading the company. John J. ended 14 years as president when he was named Board Chairman.

American was founded as a Michigan Company in 1938, and pioneered hospital and surgical insurance of any kind in the state. It was the first to offer that type of insurance on a cash indemnity plan in Michigan.

It was the first in Michigan to offer group, individual or family hospitalization plans in Michigan. A companion life insurance company was formed in 1947 and John J. Temple headed that group.

He became American's second president in 1953 upon the death of Gump and served in that capacity until the present time. One of the founders of the parent company was Charles Engstrom, who still is with American in an executive capacity.

The company grew out of its offices in Detroit in 1957 and finally settled on the Plymouth Road site in Plymouth for its ultra-modernistic building. The move was made to Plymouth in May 1958.

Six years later, in 1964 the life insurance and hospitalization companies were merged into the American Community Mutual Insurance Co.

In the last 20 years American Community has paid more than $76 millions in benefits to Michigan residents. It counts among its group customers such companies as: Detroit Edison, Michigan State University, City of Plymouth, Naegele Outdoor Advertising Co., General Products of Jackson and more than 90 other companies.

The company recently extended its sales efforts in the area of personal life insurance and has had sales increases in the last three years in excess of 50 per cent per year.

Evening Graduates Spared Gym

No longer will the graduates of the evening classes at Plymouth High School, conducted by the Adult Education Department, be required to have one unit credit in physical education.

These classes are conducted during the fall, winter and spring.

The Plymouth School Board Monday approved a recommendation of Supt. Russell Isbister that the administration be authorized to waive the requirement whenever the age maturity or past experience of the student makes it advisable.

The recommendation, which was presented to Isbister by Principal Carvel Bentley, Assistant Principal John Hoben and Adult Education Director Herbert Woolweaver, would apply primarily to the evening school.

Isbister recommended that:

"The Administration be authorized to waive the one unit of credit now required in physical education for high school graduation and substitute one unit credit in another field of study whenever, in the judgment of the Administration, the age, maturity or past experience of the student should make this waiver advisable."

The Board concurred unanimously.

Library Cites Mrs. Norton

A former Plymouth resident, Mrs. Bert E. Norton, will be honored at dedication reception Sunday, Jan. 22 at 4 p.m. in the Woodward Memorial Public Library, Rochester.

The children's area in the library will be dedicated as the "Margaret C. Norton Children's Unit."

Mrs. Norton moved to Rochester in 1901 when she was a 20-year-old school teacher and has been active in community affairs there. She is currently serving her sixth 6-year term on the library board.

Maybe our '67 Pontiac is breaking sales records because people don't want to wait until '68 for a copy.

Our engineers have become used to seeing their ideas show up on other cars. Two years late. And apparently so have a lot of car buyers. Because 1967 Pontiacs are selling faster than 1966 Pontiacs. And '66 was a record year.

When you think about it, why should you wait around for innovations like our disappearing windshield wipers? Or for imaginative options like our exclusive hood-mounted tach? Especially when you consider that our engineers wouldn't turn a Pontiac loose with anything less than a standard 400 cubic inch V-8. Or a Tempest with anything less than our revolutionary Overhead Cam Six. (Not to mention all those new safety features like GM's energy absorbing steering column and a dual master cylinder brake system with warning lamp.)

In short, our engineers seem to have done it again. They may even start asking for royalties on the copies.

Rocks Performances Prove Puzzling Even to Coach

What happens to a team that battles even with the opposition for four minutes and then goes scoreless for the next eight?

Anyone with the answer to that is requested to get in touch with coach Dick Bearup of the Plymouth Rocks.

Bearup, who has entertained hopes that the present Plymouth High basketball team would wind up the season on the plus side, was stunned with the erratic performance of the Rocks in a, 68-40, loss to Bentley on the Livonia court.

The victory enabled Bentley to remain undefeated and in first place in the Suburban Six League with three straight while Plymouth dropped into the cellar spot.

And as fate sometime decrees, the battle for the cellar will take place next Friday when the Rocks travel to Redford Union, winner of one league game on three starts.

The loss was the third in a row for Plymouth, which won two non-conference games from Walled Lake and Livonia Stevenson to start the season and then dropped three league starts.

It appeared for a time that the game would develop into a see-saw scrap that wouldn't be decided until the final whistle. Mike Kubik scored first to give Plymouth a 2-0 edge. Bentley answered with three field goals for a 6-2 lead and then Kubik tallied twice from the field and once from the free throw line to give Plymouth a 7-6 edge after three and a half minutes. It went to 12-8 with Bentley on top after 4 minutes.

That's when the entire complexion changed as Plymouth hit a cold spell for the next eight minutes during which they couldn't buy a point of any kind.

Big Mike Stakias, who has sparked the Rocks in all games, had one of those nights when he couldn't come close. It proved that when Stakias doesn't score, the Rocks are in trouble.

Matter of fact, Mike didn't split the cords until the final minute of the third quarter and the game was out of reach by then.

While Plymouth was suffering a scoring drought, Bentley went wild with Greg Macey, Mike McCauley, Ken Bollin and Ed Ryan leading an attack that garnered 16 points to one for Plymouth in the first quarter.

The dry spell continued for another four minutes before Kubik dropped in two foul shots to make the score 28-10. Plymouth's fortunes picked up at that point with the result that Ron Lowe, Nate Luibrand, and Kubik led Plymouth in an outburst that netted 16 points in just four minutes of the second quarter.

But the second half was a repetition of the first quarter and found the Rocks scoring only eight points in each period even though the Bentley second stringers played most of the final segment.

Bentley had a 54-30 edge with a minute to go in the third period and held a 60-40 margin with two minutes to go. The second stringers added eight more points to make the final count, 68-40.

Kubik topped Plymouth with 16 points on six field goals and four charity throws.

Big Ken Bollin, Bentley's 6'6" center, was high for the victors with 15 followed by Macey with 13 and Ryan, 10.

The Bentley junior varsity rolled to its fifth straight victory with a 71-45 rout of the Plymouth JVs.

Game of Bowling 7,000 Years Old

Bowling, now America's most popular mass participation sport, can authentically trace its history back 7,000 years. Egyptologists have discovered evidence that the Nile culture 5,200 B.C. enjoyed rolling round stones at nine upright logs of wood.

Perspiration Harmful

Protect your clothing from deodorants and perfumes. Be sure deodorants are dry. And don't apply perfume or cologne directly to a garment. The alcohol in perfumes and colognes can cause the dyes in some fabrics, especially acetate, to bleed.

A PICTURE TELLS THE STORY: For folks who have been wondering what is wrong with the Plymouth High School basketball team, here is a picture that furnishes the answer. It shows Jim Ellison waging a losing battle with taller boys for possession of the ball in the game with Bentley. It is the lack of height that has handicapped the Rocks from the beginning.

Old Sport's Musings

By Artee

Football season is still months away for Plymouth High and the Detroit Lions but each is in the same position—neither has a head coach at this moment.

There is a possibility that Joe Schmidt will have accepted the Lions job by the time this column is published but the Plymouth High vacancy will exist for some time to come.

At the moment, the Plymouth Board of Education is devoting its time to screening the more than 55 candidates for the superintendent's position that will be vacated by Russell Isbister at the end of the present school year.

But in the administration offices, where Supt. Isbister and Assistant William Harding are located and at the high school where Principal Carvel Bentley and Athletic Director John Sandmann hold out, there is considerable activity being devoted to the football coaching job.

John McFall, coach for the past two years and swimming mentor for the past 13, resigned both effective at the end of the first semester.

The swimming assignment was turned over to Dick Gretzinger but the football post is still up for grabs.

There was a time when it appeared as if Tom Workman, who handled backfield and end assignments for former Coach Mike Hoben, would be the logical choice. Tom was the No. 2 assistant under Hoben, behind McFall, and the No. 1 aide for McFall.

But from what we can gather from the various outposts, Tom has decided to go into administration and seek one of the elementary school principalships. He has been serving an internship in that field and

At the moment, Tom is in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor recuperating from an operation on his shoulder that led to a pesky ailment—caused by his participation in sports.

With Workman apparently out of the picture, there isn't anyone with comparable experience left on the coaching staff.

It is believed that the administration has studied all of the local candidates and has just about decided that it will go out into the market for a coach.

The Plymouth job is a good one. It deserves a high type coach for a high type school. We believe the administration will make certain that that type of individual is selected.

It will be the latter part of March or early April before a decision is made. When it is, there are going to be some happy and some unhappy individuals. That always happens when a new head coach is named.

Getting back to the Lions. One would have a hard time convincing members of the Plymouth Rotary Club that Harry Gilmer is entirely responsible for the downfall of the Lions.

Gilmer spoke before the Rotary Club last August and completely won over the members with his frank approach to the problems.

Even then he said he would rise or fall on his own decisions but that he hoped to correct the dissension that already was in the open.

He didn't and he's gone. One wonders just how much of his trouble stems back to George Wilson or even to the days of Buddy Parker. The latter quit because he didn't feel he could control the players as

Schoolcraft Coach Deserving of Award

If there were any awards in the field of college athletics for calmness and patience, the largest should be reserved for Bob Leggatt, basketball coach at Schoolcraft College.

Bob, who had high hopes at the start of the year, saw his team absorb two beatings over the past week-end and still was able to smile at the misfortune.

Last year the team, making its first appearance, failed to win a game. Bob shrugged this off with the remark, "we gained experience for next year."

Then, at the start of this season, when the team captured second place in the first annual Community College tournament, his hopes for a successful season soared.

But it was not to be. When the new semester started a week ago Bob found eight players missing-- Lenny Wells, who had great possibilities, transferred to Ferris Institute and seven others fell victim to the academic standards of the school.

"We scouted around," Bob smiles, "and picked up enough boys to field a team against Oakland University last Friday night. This was done with only two days of practice."

"Our boys obviously were out of condition and couldn't be expected to win. But for the first 14 minutes we held our own. At that stage of the game the score was tied at 24 points."

"Then the roof fell in. Our Many Names Are Given Bowling Balls

Apple, cheese cake, cherry, honey, pumpkin...a country ba- zaar? No indeed--just some of the terms heard often at your local bowling center. Most of America's 40 million regular bowlers will recognize the apple as the bowling ball.

boys simply 'ran out of gas', and we lost 105 to 54." There was a silver lining in the dark, dark cloud. Lance Hahn, playing his first basketball game, ran in 14 points in the first half--and couldn't score a single point in the second.

LEGGAT

It was the same story on Saturday evening in the Community Hall in Northville when Schoolcraft played host to Muskegon. Again the "pick-ups" looked good for about 15 minutes. But when the final whistle blew Schoolcraft was on the short end of a 76 to 54 count.

"I think we learned a lot over the week-end", Leggatt smiled, "and we'll have more balance from now on."

He has only four players around whom to build-- but he is going to tackle the job with a vengeance.

There is some potential material. For instance Steve Moore, former Farmington High star, tossed in eight field goals Saturday night and Lance Hahn came back with 14. And, in the group, was a former Plymouth High lad, Don Crawford, who did a lot of rebounding and scored 11 points.

But the real hero of the week-end is Bob Leggatt--who proved he could smile in the face of adversity.

Headed by Mayo Smith, the club's new manager, and a group of leading players, the Tigers' 8th annual press-TV-radio tour will hit the road Jan. 16-19 with news and views on the 1967 outlook.

"I'm looking forward to meeting the writers and broadcasters," Smith said recently. "I'm genuinely optimistic about the Tigers' chances and I want to talk it over with everyone."

Invitations have been extended to representatives of nearly 100 newspaper and radio-TV stations to join the touring Tigers at a series of meetings in eight cities during the four-day safari. For the first time, the large group of players and executives will make the trip by chartered bus.

Buick Opens Lema Fund With $10,000

Buick Motor Division of General Motors has announced the contribution of $10,000 to the Evans Scholars Foundation in memory of Tony Lema, two-time winner of the Buick Open Golf Tournament who was killed in a plane crash last summer.

Robert L. Kessler, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors, said the money would be used to establish a Tony Lema Scholarship Fund. He named Gerald H. Rideout, Buick's director of public relations and general chairman of the annual Buick Open, to coordinate the administration of the fund with the Evans Scholars Foundation.

"Tony Lema was a great booster of the Buick Open and a good friend of Buick," Kessler said. "He was killed in a plane crash while enroute to a golf tournament sponsored by one of our dealers and Buick owes it to his family to do something to perpetuate his memory."

Lema and his wife, Betty, were killed July 24 when his chartered plane crashed while trying for an emergency landing on a golf course near Lansing, Illinois.

Rideout said that since Lema's death many of his friends had expressed a desire to start a scholarship fund in his name.

Medical Society Plans M.D. Recruiting Effort

Concentrated efforts are planned for 1967 by the Michigan State Medical Society to obtain more physicians and health workers for Michigan, C. Allen Payne, M.D., Medical Society president, said today.

"Every day doctors guide some interested young person into one of the many health careers," Dr. Payne said, "and now we need to encourage more teachers, counselors, youth workers, legislators and parents to join in the recruitment effort."

The medical society, explained Doctor Payne, long has been on record as supporting the need for more physicians, nurses, technologists and other health workers in Michigan.

"The medical profession will work hard during 1967," Doctor Payne assured, "to support the current efforts to further expand the medical schools at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University and to obtain the necessary action so the new two-year medical school at Michigan State University can be expanded to a full degree-granting program."

The MSU proposal, strongly endorsed by the Michigan Citizens Committee on Education for Health Care, now awaits approval by the State Board of Education and then by the Michigan legislature. "There is no valid reason to delay the fine MSU plans," Doctor Payne, a Grand Rapids pathologist, stressed.

"The public — which needs more physicians — is fortunate that MSU can expand so easily to produce future doctors of medicine. MSU already has educational programs in nursing, veterinary medicine, social work, medical technology, clinical psychology and other related health vocations."

"Because of its excellent courses, laboratories, classroom buildings, professors, libraries, etc., MSU is better able to produce doctors quicker and at less cost than any other Michigan university," Doctor Payne emphasized.

"Health Careers Mobile" unit this year, Dr. Payne reported. A commemorative health museum on wheels and a rolling career counseling center will travel across the state to schools for tours and interviews.

The Medical Society, while working hard to obtain more health professionals, will continue in 1967 to conduct programs to provide postgraduate training for its present 8,000 physicians members and to offer public educational programs.

Dr. Payne said the first 1967 program for the public is underway now to stress that "Alcoholism is a Treatable Disease." Public response was good during 1966 to specific education effort to encourage measles vaccination.

Questions & Answers

Can beef sweetbreads be used in cookery in the same way as calf's and lamb's sweetbreads?

Beef sweetbreads lack the delicacy of the veal and lamb varieties, but they can be used. They are best combined with other meats in such preparations as pies and stews.
