Officers and members of vet-Plymouth Barber Named In Bar Suit

Plymouth barber John D. Duke today faced charges of obtaining money on false pretenses after allegedly telling a Livonia bar owner he could get him an entertainment license for $1,000.

It was the latest development in the row over the license for the Shaggy Lion, 39305 Plymonth Road, to use go-go girls. Livonia Councilmen voted April 17 to grant the license and Mayor Harvey W. Moelke vetoed it April 24. The council voted to override the veto, 6 to 1, the same night.

The complaint signed by Alfred L. Rogala, who owns the bar, states that Duke approached film for $1,000 several times between April 7 and April 28 and that:

Duke "did designedly and falsely represent and pretend that he could obtain an entertainment license for him (Rogala) through his connections,"

BOTH ROGALA and Duke's attorney, Marvin R. Stempien,

Use of Water Hits New High In Township Water consumption in Plymouth Township reached an all-time high on Saturday, May 27. Over a 24-hour period

2,500,000 gallons were pumped through the lines. The former record, established a year ago, was 2,200,000 gallons.

The increase in population and the addition of the large Ford plant, were given as the reasons for the greater demand.

men, added to the color of the occasion and, perhaps, they sensed the weight of responsibility which eventually will be theirs.

David McDougall, of Northville, membership chairman of the American Legion Department of Michigan, was substituted as the day's principal speaker following the untimely death only a few days before of C. Oscar Hammond, past state commander of the Legion.

"The deeds of the brave men we honor on this Memorial Day expressed a confidence in America and their fellow Americans that the freedom for which they fought and died would be kept alive in this and generations to come," declared McDougall.

"Great courage, patience and determination are demanded of us in this role today, and all these we must find if we are to meet the measure of that trust.

"To falter in this role would be to break faith with these heroes who have made the supreme sacrifice since our nation was founded nearly two centuries ago.

"May our measure be in keeping with this task. This measure demands that we have faith in America, that we build her greatness by personal example. This, then, would be the beginning of a fitting tribute to those we seek to honor today."

Grand Marshal of the Memorial Day celebration was Fred Johnson of American Legion Passage-Gayde Post 391. His aide was Gerald Olson of V.F.W. Mayflower Post 6695. Mayor James Jabara was master of ceremonies at the Kellogg Park observance.

THAT THEY MAY NOT HAVE DIED IN VAIN: A sparkling downtown parade and a reverent tribute to America's war dead highlighted Plymouth's Memorial Day observance. The 9632nd Air Reserve Squadron (left) was one of several marching units which thrilled parade onlookers. Another was the state championship drill team of V.F.W. Mayflower Post 6695 (center), shown here in flag raising ceremonies at Kellogg Park. Officials of both the V.F.W. Post and American Legion Passage-Gayde Post 391 joined to place the floral wreath memorializing those who have died through the years defending America's freedom.

During his talk to the members of the Business Men's Forum last Thursday, Willis Hall, the tax expert and veteran member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors mentioned Vallier and stated:

"He may be a bit loud and forceful, but he does a great job on the Board of Supervisors. He is a force for good and you always can depend on him to take a stand on any subject that may be discussed.

"In this fashion he is a good representative of the community he represents and is a valuable man for the entire county."

Home Products Show Attracts 34 Exhibitors

One of the largest home products shows held anywhere in the State of Michigan will be one of the outstanding features of Centennial Week which is to be celebrated in the Plymouth Community July 3-7.

Thus far, 34 exhibits have been reserved for business and industry, according to Harold Fischer, who is coordinating the program under the chairmanship of Eber Readman.

"This is one of the finest responses we ever have had," Fischer commented, "and the end is not in sight. We will have the Plymouth High School athletic field filled to capacity." Aside from business and industry the nine automobile dealers in the community are pooling their forces to conduct the first auto show in Plymouth history.

"Aside from all this," Fischer explained to the Centennial Committee, "arrangements have been made to have four antique steam engines on display, along with a generous quota of weapons and tanks by the U.S. Army plus two vehicles from the Jiger Corporation for display and operation."

The following auto dealers are taking part in the auto show:

Beglinger Olds-Cadillac Berry Pontiac Leo Calhoun-Ford Colony Chrysler Fiesta Rambler Hassinger Chevrolet Jack Selle Buick Shirey Trailer West Bros. Motors. said, "does away with the old practice of becoming friendly with the local assessor to keep your rate down. No longer does the local assessment mean such--except as a measuring point from which to launch the equalization factor."

He cited the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township as an example. For instance, a piece of residential property valued at $10,000 is assessed at $3539 in the City and equalized to $4768 while in the Township the same piece of property, assessed at $2541, is equalized at $4514. He also pointed out that $10,000 in personal property in the city is assessed at $4004 and equalized at $5395, while in the Township it is assessed at $3000 and equalized at $5330.

"Another new move that you will notice on your tax bills this year", he stated, "is that your local assessed valuation will not be listed. The only figures on your bill will be the state equalized figure.

"In time" he continued, "we hope to have all the assessments on one roll and have one assessor for the entire county working with computers. That will do away from a lot of work that is most costly at the moment.

"And," he concluded, "some way will be found to bring the County Board of Supervisors into some semblance of a working unit.

"Personally, I would like to see only five supervisors and a manager run the county. But, it may be that we will have to settle for 38 to match our state legislative districts."

"The Forgotten Heroes". The Plymouth High School track team has done an outstanding job this season, representing Plymouth in its league and regional meets.

E.W. Martin

Ordinarily, fish stories leave The Stroller cold. But the other day at lunch, Jack Selle, the Buick man, got to talking about tishing in general and some of his observations were most interesting.

He had just been notified that he had won the season's championship with a 208-pound blue marlin caught off the coast of Pompano Beach in Florida but he didn't seem too elated.

"Over in the Pacific," he said, "a marlin that size wouldn't have figured in the race at all. They, really have them big over there."

"You mean," someone remarked, "that the fish are larger in the Pacific than in the Atlantic - and do they know when they are crossing the line?"

"Yes sir," Jack answered, "they not only are larger, but there are more of them.

"Over there they follow your boat and, it may sound strange," Jack explained, "but if our group (four of us) had been fishing over on the Mexican side we would have caught about four an hour and they all would have been this size."

Jack admitted that he worked for little more than an hour to land his present prize winner.

'But I had great co-operation from the captain of the boat," he confided.

"I had been with him before and he knew my every move. So, it wasn't too difficult to land this latest prize winner that weighed 208 pounds and is nine feet, six inches long."

It was a reireshing fish story and not the usual braggadocio about the "one that got away."

It's just amazing the things one can learn at lunch time such as tish of the same family are larger in the Pacific than in the Atlantic.

HERE'S A WORTHWHILE CHALLENGE

Got around to talking about sports and recreation the other day when Ralph Lorenz, genial host at The Mayflower, offered a great idea.

"I have nothing against baseball, football, basketball or teack," he commented, "but I think more money should be spent in our schools on the activities a tellow can carry through life." While his listeners word settling in their chairs to digest what he said, Rolph went on.

"I was captain of the Plymouth High School golf team 40 years ago," he said with a touch of pride, 'and I think I can play a better game of golf today than I played then.'

"How can you prove it?" he was asked.

Then Ralph unfelded his plan.

"I'd like to get at least three other members of cur old team and play the present high school squad." he commented, "and I think we'd beat them."

Why not arrange such a match. It would be real interesting. A FEW DESERVING ORCHIDS If you didn't attend the 140th birthday party of Plymouth Township out at Ralph Garber's barn last week, you missed a real treat. It was worth going miles to see Ralph Cole, the dignified Township Attorney, attired in the garb of a frontiersman. No foolin'. He wore a genuine coonskin hat and a wool coat with fringe. What's more, he had a bullhorn and carried the ever popular "jug" of those days. Not to be outdone, the two women on the Board of Trustees - Mrs. Helen Richardson and Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes - aiso dressed the part. With long, tlowing skirts and big picture hats they looked like pictures out of a book of the "Gay Nineties." It was all good, clean fun and really was a page out of the past. *

Unification Reduction Comes as no Surprise

When the City of Northville and Northville Township decided to go it alone in the matter of unification it didn't cause too much of a surprise in the Plymouth Community.

From the very start of the unification idea the main targets were the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township - and anything added to them was merely a bit of parsley on the fish.

The action of the Northville group, however, did remove one of the strongest arguments advanced by John McEwen, supervisor of Plymouth Township, who always has stated that he was in favor of unification, provided the plan included the entire area.

He steadfastly stuck to the idea that Northville was willing to join in the five area unification. Now, with the northern group pulling away, the little supervisor is left set. without an argument.

The dropping of the two Northville areas will bring unification into closer focus and eliminate many of the details that probably would have delayed any attempt to bring . and it hasn't changed now that order out of the duplicity of govern- everyone has had his say.

Secondly, more than 40 per cent of Northville Township is tax exempt property and would not be an asset to any other community. Taken alone the Township could have been an added burden on Plymouth.

Just the opposite is the case in the southern end where a portion of Canton Township is being considered. This area already is part of the Plymouth Community school system and becoming part of the other governmental unit would be a rather easy step.

Moreover, Canton Township has a goodly portion of industrial property that could be a valuable as-

Really, though, it was that matter of the flags that prompted this brief letter. All I could see were those at the City Hall, the Secretary of State's office, a funeral home and one business office facing the park on Ann Arbor Trail.

Why weren't flags flying in front of all other downtown business houses?

I hope your people cooperate better when they put on that big Centennial. Undoubtedly, you have plenty of committees already set up for that affair, but maybe you also should add an anti-gremlin chairman.

THINGS I NEVER KNEW 'TIL NOW

Unlike most bridges, the Mackinac Bridge, can go several years between complete re-paintings -due to the clean air of Upper Michigan.

More fatal accidents occur on Saturdays (21.6 per cent) than on any other day in the week. Sunday takes "second honors" with 18.3 per cent. And Tuesday reports the fewest number of deaths and injuries.

Hungry Americans last year ate more than $500 million worth of frozen, prepared dishes. Most of them were in convenient containers that went from oven to table to trash can.

How about this? - Michigan State University crop scientists say more than 90 per cent of Michigan's more than a half million acres of white pea beans to be planted this month will go into varieties not known to farmers 10 years ago.

HERE'S THE ULTIMATE IN CONFIDENCE

"Doc" Salan, one of the top high school basketball authorities in the state, is now in the wilds of Canada on his annual fishing trip.

He's at a new location about 100 miles north of the Soo and arrived with more confidence than usual when newcomers hit a new camp.

Hope he doesn't come back empty-handed.

Fossils, those frozen cross sections of our planet's far distant past, fascinate men. Sometimes a lump of amber washes up on the shores of the North Sea, and preserved within is an ancient insect so lifelike that it almost seems about to enjoy the summer breeze again. Sometimes the fossil is an ancient animal, fish, or tree buried by nature in such a fashion that time did sake.

Bentley Champions in Thriller

Talk about drama, excitement and tense moments in sports!

These and more all were wrapped into the 1967 Greater Livonia Les Anders Invitational baseball tournament won by Bentley, thanks to a final-inning run that engineered a 2-1 conquest over Redford Union in Tuesday night's championship duel.

Bentley climaxed a four-game march to the crown when with the bases loaded and one out and the score tied at 1-1 in the bottom of the seventh and final inning. Wayne Kruger dropped a squeeze bunt.

ED RYAN, A STAR all season for Bentley, roared down the line from third. As he hit the dirt, the throw to catcher Bill Fahey of Redford Union barely had him beat.

But in the collision at the plate, the ball popped from Fahey's big glove.

The tournament was over! Bentley, a dark-horse, had copped the championship trophy in the tourney sponsored by the Livonia Optimist Club, the Livonia Recreation Department and the Observer Newspaper Group.

It marked the second nine in a row that Bentley had rallied to emerge victorious. Twenty-four hours previously, the Livonians had squeezed past Northville, 3-2, after downing Thurston, 6-1, and Stevenson, 3-1, in earlier action.

Again against Redford Union, Bentley's pitching hero was Bill McAlpine, a senior right-hander. He had decisioned Thurston and Stevenson in starting roles and then delivered the big hit and some clutch pitching against Northville.

NOW IN THE SHOWDOWN with RU's Tom Booker and Dale Bjerke. McAlpine flipped a twohitter and struck out 11 batters.

He was airtight after RU jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Rod Fergerson walked, stole second and came around on an error.

Bentley knotted the score in the fourth inning when Don Montroy singled, took second on a wild pickoff attempt, third on Greg Colton's sacrifice and > scored on Greg Macy's highbounder to short.

Neither team was able to seriously threaten from that point until one was out in the Bentley seventh. Ryan singled and went around to third when McAlpine was safe on a wild throw. Paul Sorenson was intentionally walked to load the bases.

Kruger then got the call as a pinch hifter and did what he was supposed to--bunt the ball. Ryan did the rest.

Rvan accounted for the only other Bentley hit of the game when he singled in the second. However, he was promptly doubled up for the final out of the inning.

Bentley had to fight back from a 1-0 deficit in the last half of the sixth inning to eliminate Northville. Then Mc-Alpine had to cool off Northville by fanning the last batter with the bases loaded in the seventh frame.

There were two gone in the sixth when Sorenson slashed a double to start Bentley's winning surge. Walks to Bob Running and Dave Gorton loaded the bases.

Up to the plate strolled Mc-Alpine. He took two strikes, then bounced a single up the middle. Sorenson walked home and Running dashed in after him.

When the Northville first baseman threw badly on the relay attempt, Gorton streaked over the plate with what proved the winning run.

Northville was by no means dead. A single, a walk, a field-

MOST VALUABLE — Pitcher Dan McAlpine, the key figure in Bentley's drive to the Anders' tourney crown. He pitched in all four of the Bentley conquests, including the finale.

To Marty Klozik, baseball coach at Bentley high school, it was a thrill he'll never forget - his team's 2-1 victory over Redford Union in the finale of the Livonia Invitational prep tournament.

Klozik clutched the big trophy, awarded to the champs, and danced in the sand at Henry Ford Field like he never had before.

"You have to be proud of these kids." declared Klozik. "A half dozen runs - that's all that kept us from the league title this year.

The Northwest group, which includes North Farmington and Franklin, rolled up 66 points to 59 for the Suburban Six, whose members list Bentley, Plymouth and Redford Union from the area.

Individual honors went to Bentley's Ken Jackson and Doug

Thomas and Glenn's Wayne Holman. Each won two events. Jackson climaxed a brilliant season of campaigning in the high and low hurdles by hitting the wire in the blazing times of 14.6 and 19.7 seconds, respectively.

His effort in the low sticks set a new school record, one of two such standards Jackson chalked up during the festivities held at Belleville High. Although placing third in the long jump, his leap of 21 feet, 2 1/2 inches eclipsed the previous school's high.

Thomas, a sizzler all season in the dashes, copped both the 100 and 220-yard dashes as he was clocked in 10.2 and 21.7 seconds, respectively.

Three-hit pitching by Dan Wolfman enabled Farmington to best North Farmington, 3-1, in the final baseball game of the season for the two teams. The win also gave the Falcons the mythical city crown for 1967. Wolfman served up 12 strikeout pitches against his crosstown rivals. Jerry Tinkle, a two-sport star, knocked in two runs with a single in the last game for Farmington. His belt sent over Dana Kittridge and Joe Himmelspach. Mike Thompson singled in Al Kilka in the sixth for the third Farmington run. Mike McCoy hurled for the losers and accounted for one of the North Farmington hits. Rick Scott singled in Tom Snyder, who had walked, with the Raiders' only run of the game.

boys might get discouraged. But our boys felt all along they were a good team - a championship team - and they sure proved it with the chips down in this tournament."

One other matter made Klozik flash a big smile. Facing leadoff hitter Pat Hall, By the time 1968 rolls around, Bentley should have its own baseball diamond.

"You know, we've been orphans for a couple of years," the coach added. "We have had to play and even practice very often away from the school.

"But now plans have been initiated for us to have our own home."

THE 1967 LIVONIA INVITATIONAL was a "hum-dinger" in every sense of the word.

Most of the games went right down to the final out before the outcome was decided. Only twice in the 13 contests staged was the winning margin by more than five runs.

Dick DeVries, representing the Livonia Optimist Club which co-sponsors the tourney with the Livonia Recreation Department and the Observer newspapers, said he already was looking ahead to next year.

"This has to be one of the finest ventures our club participates in each year," said DeVries. "We do a lot of work for youngsters in the community. It sure makes you feel proud to have a part in a tournament which produces such exciting and wholesome entertainment.'

The crowds this year set an all-time high, the chilly weather notwithstanding.

PERHAPS TAKING HIS CUE from the baseball tourney, which involved 12 of the 14 high schools served by the Observer papers, Coach Jerry Young of Farmington high suggests a similar meet for the area's track teams.

"What I'd like to see happen," said Young, "is that each week in the Observer you list the top six performances by area trackmen each week.

"Then at the end of the season, these six boys could square off in a special meet. It really would be something - an All Observer track spectacle!"

Young's idea has tremendous merit. It would add further interest in a sport which sometimes does nct attract the crowds it should.

The Farmington coach would shift the meet from community to community.

"We have some dandy track plants in the district," he added. "And many are equipped with lights, too.'

SHORT STUFF: Wonder what can be done about the "dust bowl" at Livonia's Ford field! The slightest gust of wind kicks up a storm of dirt.

John Schroeter, shortstop on Bentley high's baseball team, came to the Bulldogs well-schooled. His dad, Herb, long has been the diamond coach at Dearborn high school and also has guided teams in Livonia's summer program for several years.

Best wishes to departing basketball Coach Jack Quiggle of Farmington high. Jack is leaving for a new position in northern New York state. Quiggle once was a draft choice of the Detroit Pistons after he had starred in basketball at Michigan State. "I sure wish I could have played a little in the pro ranks," he says.

The word is out that when Livonia's fourth high chool opens its doors it will join Dearborn, Dearborn Edsel Ford, Wayne, Melvindale and Ypsilanti Central from the old Huron-Rouge league, which disbanded recently because of differences with Lincoln Park, the sixth member.

This used to be a neighborhood dumping spot," said Mrs. F. R. Hoheisel as she pointed out a jack-in-the-pulpit growing in her backyard "wild" garden at 698 S. Evergreen St., Plymouth.

What was once an eyesore has been transformed into an oasis of natural beauty, literally carpeted with flowers in Spring. "We had to spend a lot of time picking up empty bottles and cans, but each year now, more wild flowers seem to come up."

There are large beech and maple trees, huge red and white oaks, ash, basswood and elm. It is a remnant of an old forest that once covered much of southern Michigan and is what the botanists term a 'beechmaple climax forest"--the end result in a long series of plant communities that successively occupied the area starting perhaps when an ancient glacial lake filled in to become a bog, then a meadow, then a brushy field and finally a hardwood forest with beech and maple trees predominating.

Native plants have been cncouraged to grow and spread and the evergreens and ground covers are arranged skillfully so that they blend with the wild plants. Paths, covered with a thick layer of wood chips, wind between the trees, making it easy to get close to the various wild flowers as they come into bloom.

Outstanding are the large white trillium, one of Michigan's most beloved wild flowers. These dramatic beauties, with their three white petals and three bright green leaves, are in bloom for many weeks. Then before they fade away they turn a soft shade of pink. MOST OF THE spring flowers are blue. The first to bloom are the pale blue hepaticas. Next come the violets in pale blue and deep purple as well as yellow and white. These are soon followed by blue wood phlox and orchid toned wild geraniums. Mrs. Hoheisel had introduced some plants of Virginia bluebell (mertensia), and these have multiplied successfully and formed large drifts of beautiful sky-blue flowers. The myrtle and ajuga planted as ground cover also have blue flowers. This melange of blue flowers set against a background of tender spring-green foliage makes a combination that is cool and serene.
