

Voters OK High School; Pick Strom, Incumbents

8.5 Million Building Approved

The worries of Principal John Hoben and the Plymouth Community Board of Education ended Monday shortly after 8:30 p.m. when it was learned voters in the school district had given an overwhelming majority to the proposed second senior high school and to a renewal of a five mill levy.

There were some misgivings in the minds of the Trustees and in the thoughts of Hoben that the $8.5 million bond issue for the construction of the second high school would pass, especially after the weather turned unbearably hot.

But much to their joy, voters gave the bond issue a majority of 1395-817. It was a comfortable margin but neither Hoben nor the Trustees were completely satisfied until the seventh and last precinct had reported.

The proposition for renewal of a five mill levy for operating passed by an even greater plurality, 1588-685. Neither issue lost in any of the seven precincts. The closest vote was in the precinct 5 where the bond issue passed 122-106 and the millage 129-105.

"We are pleased with the way voters supported both issues," said a happy Board President Gerald Fischer. "This is the result of a great deal of work by a great many people in getting the message across to the electors that both had to pass."

"We are especially pleased with the outcome of the voting on the bond issue. We know the school district needs a second high school but we didn't know whether the voters realized the fact or not. I'm happy to say that they did—the final vote attests to that."

Fischer couldn't say what steps the Board would take now but indicated planning for the second high school would be speeded up to the point where the Board hopes to have the final plans and make a request for bids before the end of the summer.

The school is planned to be ready for use by the start of the 1969 school year which Board members believe won't be too soon judging from the already crowded condition at the present high school.

CONGRATULATIONS are given to Cal Strom (left) upon his election to the Plymouth Board of Education, by Incumbents Mrs. Joanne Hulce and Carl Schultheiss, who were re-elected. Strom is one of the youngest members ever named to the Plymouth Board.

3 Years Later, Board Learns Opinion Is Okay

What a difference three years can make! This was brought out Monday in the Plymouth School Board meeting when Trustees unanimously approved a resolution to become a part of the Plymouth Area Planning Commission to the extent of $5,000.

The Board was asked to participate by Harold Fischer, Director of the Planning Commission, who indicated the Planners had passed a motion inviting the School District to become a contributing member.

Fischer's letter pointed out "The ever-increasing need for funds to carry out the work of promoting the Plymouth Community to business and industry makes it necessary for our Commission to seek additional revenue. The need to increase the non-residential tax base is always before us with the rising costs of governmental services."

The School Board approved an agreement from Council William Sempliner to be executed between the Board and the Planning Commission which had to be supported by resolution of the Trustees.

Sempliner called attention of the School Board to an opinion of the Attorney General that school districts, upon resolution of the Board, may join other municipal bodies in supporting a regional planning commission from operating funds.

Just three years ago, the late State Representative Paul Chandler, then publisher and editor of the Observer Newspapers, was requested by a group of interested Plymouth Community residents to ask the Attorney General for such an opinion.

He received it and turned it over to the Board of Education which in turn received an opinion from its legal counsel that it could not participate and that all monies received by the Board had to be used for educational purposes.

Now three years later, that same opinion is the basis of legal advice that the School Board can participate by resolution. Time rolls on and water continues to flow under bridges but opinions don't change. The opinion had just as much power three years ago as it does now but the Planning Commission had to operate two years before the School Board apparently realized its value.

Schultheiss Is High In Voting

Plymouth Community School District voters returned two incumbents for new terms and gave a four-year term to newcomer Cal Strom, a former past president of the Plymouth Jaycees and probably one of the youngest ever to be named to the School Board.

Incumbent Carl Schultheiss, currently Board vice president, led the ticket with a total of 1,204 in race for a full term as he received a second four-year term.

Mrs. Joanne Hulce, who was appointed to the Board three months ago to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Robert Tripp, was picked for the three-year term by a tremendous 1597-642 over her opponent, Mrs. Mary Breen.

Mrs. Hulce took a commanding lead in Precinct 1 with a total of 349-99 and was never troubled at any time.

The story was practically the same for Schultheiss who had 722 votes in Precinct 1 and never trailed in any of the other six, registering 213 in Precinct 3, 218 in Precinct 6 and 201 in Precinct 7.

Strom, making his first appearance in the political wars other than in the Jaycees, was second to Schultheiss in Precinct 1 with 198, trailed in Precinct 2 with 55 and then ranked second in all others.

William Saxton, who was third in the final unofficial tabulations, made an excellent showing with his 698 votes but was far behind the two winners.

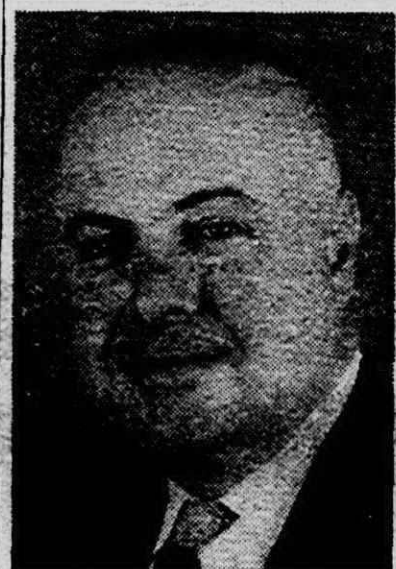

The voting for the other seven candidates was as follows: Patrick Foley, 375; John DeMott, 363; John Murawski, 333; Smith Horton, 121; James Brown, 115; John Batsakis, 107; and Charles Lazette, 96.

The newly elected Trustees will be sworn in at the first meeting in July at which time John McLaren will bow out. He did not run for re-election.

Starkweather Teacher Leaves School System

The Plymouth Community School Board Monday accepted the resignation of Mrs. Joy Engroff. She has been a member of the Starkweather School staff for the past three years.

In her letter, Mrs. Engroff explained that her husband had accepted a position with a law firm in Milwaukee and they would be moving there within a short time.

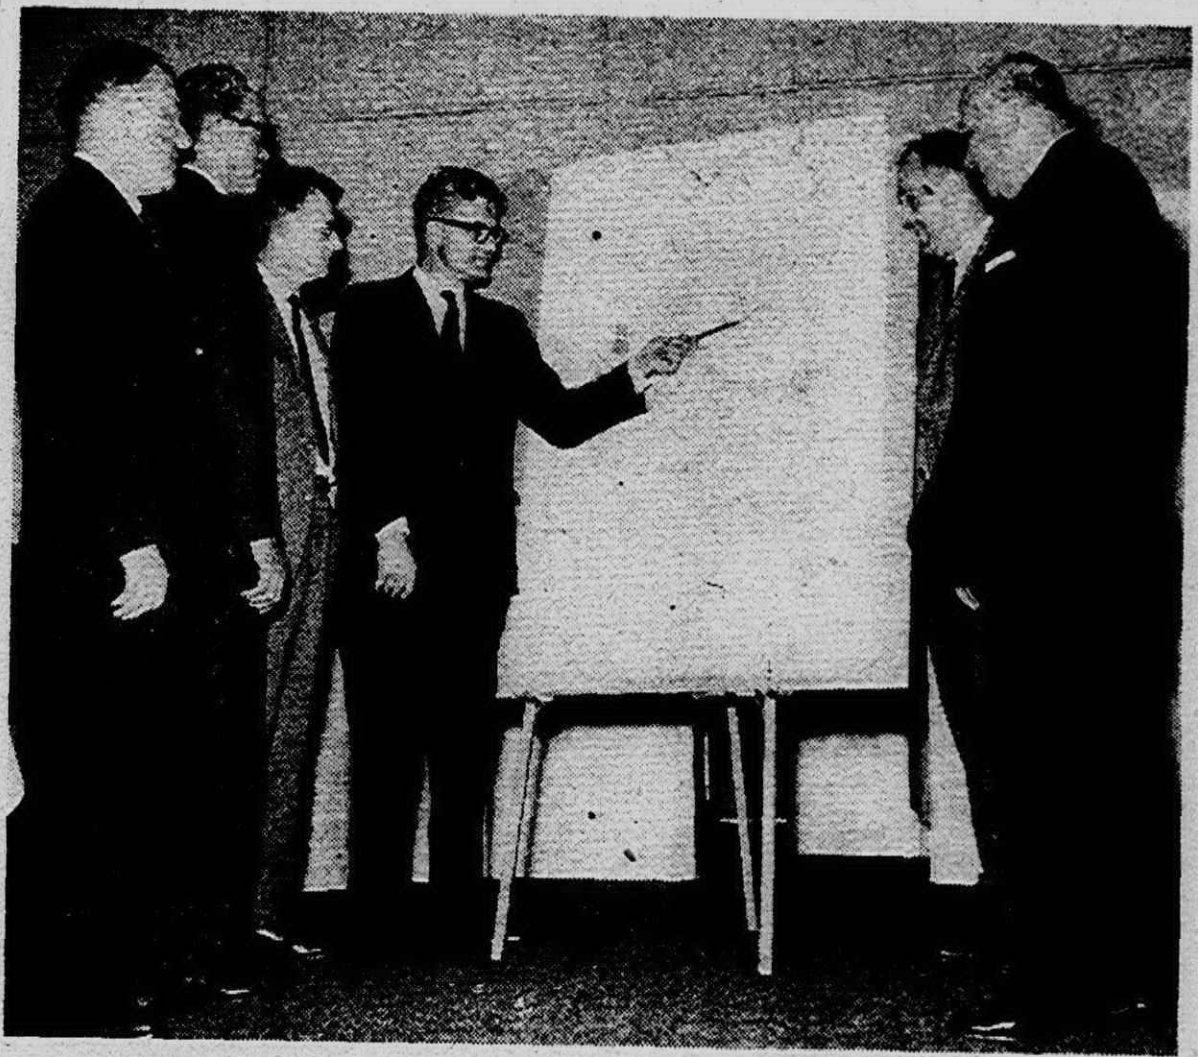

RODGER KETCHMAN

Ketchman Wins Top Ford Award

Rodger A. Ketchman of Plymouth, Boy Scout commissioner for western Wayne County, will be one of nine persons presented "Citizen of the Year" awards by the Ford Motor Co. Wednesday.

The occasion will be the company's eighth annual Community Service Awards banquet in honor of its civic-minded employees, and presentation of the awards will be made by Arjay Miller, Ford president.

Ketchman and the other winners were selected from a nomination list of more than 850 employees who are active in community affairs. As Boy Scout commissioner in this area, Ketchman is chief executive for all phases of the scouting program, including Cubs and Explorers as well as the regular Boy Scouts.

STUDYING PLANS for a railroad underpass are business and civic leaders of the community who attended last week's meeting of the C&O officials. The group includes: (from left) Sam Hudson, Evans Products Co.; Arnold Johanson, Western Electric

Council Defers Action On Judge

The City Commission admitted Monday evening that no choice could be made in the naming of a municipal judge until Commissioner James Houk returns from his European vacation in July.

After the Commissioners returned from "secret" session to discuss their choices, Mayor James Jabara announced "because the commission is split on the selection of a judge, the choice will be delayed until Commissioner Houk returns and we have a full turnout."

No announcement was made of the contenders, but it was learned from good authority that the Commission was split in a choice between City Attorney Thomas Healy and Dunbar Davis.

"I can't tell you about the vote tonight," Commissioner Arch Vallier explained after the meeting, "because this was a Committee of the Whole meeting. But you can bet that when a choice is made the voting will be public."

The judgeship vacancy came when Judge Ed Dragulis resigned several weeks ago and no attempt had been made to fill it until a week ago. Then, because of a lengthy agenda, the choice was delayed until this week—and now it is off again.

C&O Chief Tells Of Plans for New Rail Yard

Recognizing that the Plymouth area is in the midst of an economic explosion, the C&O Railroad is casting about for a new yard that is expected to cost about $18 million.

Announcement of the search was made by Buford Nash, Regional manager of the C&O, at a workshop meeting sponsored by the Observer Newspapers.

"We have great deal of faith in the entire area," he said, "and the establishment of a yard somewhere in the vicinity will go a long way toward helping to solve some of the problems we have now at the rail crossings."

Buford could not be pinned down to the exact area in which the search is being made other than it is somewhere in growing Western Wayne County.

"Plymouth is going to be the center of one of the busiest districts in this section of the state," Buford explained, "and we want to be ready for it when the real avalanche comes."

Aside from announcing plans for a new yard, Buford also told the civic, business and industrial leaders at the workshop that the C&O is vitally interested in finding a cure for the rail crossing problem and pledged the railroad would do more than its share when the time came to get into action.

After discussing the rail crossing problem from all angles, business leaders agreed the first step should be a comprehensive study of the entire problem. The City of Plymouth agreed to undertake a study that will include traffic counts and construction costs. The C&O also agreed to time the delays at crossings and also make a traffic count to determine the extent of the problem.

After this is completed—and it should take a few months—the group will meet again to examine the findings. At that time a cure will be undertaken and methods studied to finance whatever is needed.

It was estimated that it would require more than $2 million to handle an overpass and the street improvement program in the city, and the financially minded figured bonds in this amount could be paid off in 40 years with a one mill increase in taxes.

Two More Jobs Handed Over To Schweitzer

Rev. Peter Schweitzer, baby member of the City Commission, was given two more jobs Monday evening.

Mayor James Jabara appointed him to the Water Study Committee, where he will serve with Commissioner Art Vallier as chairman, and he also was named to the Legislative Research Committee.

Mayor Jabara delayed naming a new member to the Park Committee

Council Sits Back And Waits... Again

The Plymouth City Commission which set some kind of a record for deferring action during the past year, went on another deferring spree on Monday evening.

It deferred action on a group insurance plan for the volunteer firemen.

It deferred action on a proposed zoning ordinance for further study.

It also delayed filling a gap on the Park Committee. It also delayed a choice in naming a new municipal judge.

Then, for a change of pace, it accepted the City Manager's presentation of a special assessment program for the Lena-Goldsmith area, advanced a hearing for the vacation of an alley east of Sheldon Road from September to July 17.

Affirmatively, they agreed to an expenditure of $100 for a fireworks display during the Centennial Celebration on July Fourth, but in casting a yes vote Commissioner Vallier stated flatly that the money should be

Night Class Diplomas Await 30 Students

Thirty students completed work for high school graduation in the evening school conducted by the Adult Education department of the Plymouth Community School district and have been approved for diplomas.

Among those approved, according to Adult Director Herbert Woolweaver and Asst. Principal John Hoben, were 22 from Plymouth, seven from Northville, one from Cherry Hill and two from South Lyon.

The list: David Bigenschütz, Helen Borck, Marion Burpo, Helen Clinansmith, Sandra Combs, Janice Daniel, James Daniel, Bertha Jane Hamilton, Ruth Hantz, Barbara Anne Helm, George Hoffman, Linda Horvath and Anthony Lander.

Joyce McDonald, Olive McDonald, Ruth Marie McDonald, William McDonald, Janis McDonald, Dennis Meyers, Gerald Mulholland, Lynda Musselman, Patricia Reed and James Richardson.

Terry Robinson, Carl Singleton, Drema Sneed, Ellen Wall, Mildred Wesley, Valois Wilcox and Douglass Wildin.

Schoolcraft Steps Up Construction Projects

A series of construction projects—immediate and long-range—including the college library and a greenhouse and arboretum, were approved by the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Trustees approved an administration request that a consulting architectural firm be hired to plan development of expanded library facilities. Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft president, told trustees the present library will be inadequate to accommodate a student body of 7,500 expected on campus within five years.

Trustees also approved a recommendation by the administration that the development of a greenhouse and arboretum be started this year with the construction and equipping of a greenhouse. The facility will be used primarily in the biology program and was initially requested by the college's biology department.

The Board authorized the expenditure of $8,000 during the coming school year to erect the greenhouse and to provide other equipment and material needed for the first phase of the project.

Three change orders affecting construction projects already underway were approved by the Board. One authorized the relocation of a language laboratory from the library to the new liberal arts classroom building on which construction has just begun.

The other change orders authorized removal and stockpiling of additional top soil at the site of the south parking lot, now being developed, and of relocating utility lines in the administration building where a remodeling program has begun.

Trustees also approved purchase of an $8,050 computer to be used in the electronics instructional program, and okayed purchase of carpeting for office spaces in the remodeled administration building.

Growing Cities Push for Census

Pressure built today on the Senate to pass legislation enabling suburban boom towns to conduct a new census qualifying them for bigger chunks of state aid.

Livonia officials estimated the city would pick up $642,569 more in sales tax, intangibles tax and liquor license fees.

State distribution formulas are still computed on the 1960 Federal census, which places Livonia's population at 63,000. Officials estimate the population now at 103,000.

Mayor Harvey W. Moelke and Rep. Louis Schmidt started polling suburban Senators in Lansing yesterday, urging them to support the bill which passed the House with votes to spare.

"The Michigan Municipal League," which opposed the bill before, has now changed its position, favoring it," Moelke said.

He said the census bringing the population figures up to date would probably cost $25,000 as a one-shot item in exchange for the bonanza in state aid which is based on per capita distribution.

Cities and townships expected to benefit most from the population boom if a new census is taken are Warren, Livonia, Ann Arbor, Southfield and Taylor Township.

The 289 seniors were followed by their counterparts at Wayne Memorial High School who received their diplomas in the evening. Congressman

Area Officials Join In Anti-Crime Talks

Over 900 local government, police, school and community agency officials from throughout southeastern Michigan attended a conference on crime and delinquency at Oakland University last Thursday, as representatives of Oakland County Circuit Court and other multi-community bodies outlined the functions and operations of new programs aimed at diminishing crime.

Chaired by Oakland County Probate Judge Eugene

Arthur Moore, the conference heard speeches by Lt. Governor William G. Milliken, State Bar of Michigan President William Ellman, American Bar Association President-elect William Gossett and Ford Motor Company Vice-President John Bugas, as well as other agency heads who explained the performance of their organizations.

The conference, sponsored by Oakland's Mott Center for Community Affairs, engaged in examination of the Royal Oak Project Misdemeanor, the Oakland County Protective Services Program, Flint's Mott Community School Program and the Genesee County Vocational Guidance Program.

Attended by invited officials and individuals who are either officially or voluntarily concerned with problems of youth guidance and delinquency, the conference numbered among its participants Mayors Harvey Moelke of Livonia and Thomas Brown of Westland, and court and police officials from Plymouth, Farmington, Livonia, Westland and Garden City.

Milliken, who presented an address in behalf of Gov. George Romney, called on all citizens to "recognize that despite all the best efforts of courts and law enforcement agencies, our society can only be strong when people want to obey the laws, want to be good citizens and want to be morally responsible." He went on to advocate an extension of "community service" programs crossing individual agency lines to promote such desires in youth.

Receiving most attention from the conference was the Oakland County Protective Services Program. Established through the joint sponsorship of the Oakland County Juvenile Court, local municipalities and local boards of education, the protective services agency in each participating community provides an avenue for delinquent and pre-delinquent counseling without the stigma of court record.

Too often, noted Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur Eugene Moore, 25 years a probate judge before his recent election to the circuit bench, "the delinquent youth is scarred by the appearance on his record of juvenile court action."

Circuit Judge Moore, father of Probate Judge Moore, the conference chairman, urged communities that currently do not have protective service agencies to establish them at once.

Farmington Police Chief Robert Deadman commented afterward that his office employs the protective service office in Farmington on numerous occasions, and also cited the advantage of avoiding an unnecessary court record. The chief problem with protective services, he said, which are governmentally financed but governed themselves by community organizations as well as official institutions, is that they haven't the official powers of the juvenile court.

Deadman added that as many as 10 per cent of youths contacted by the protective service body through referral from school and governmental officials refuse the family and individual counseling offered. In these cases, Deadman says, either the court is contacted or the case is dropped.

Incumbents Win In Clarenceville; Pick Erickson

Incumbents Samuel Prisk and Thomas Wilson were re-elected to four year terms on the Clarenceville School Board in Monday's election.

Robert Erickson was picked for the three-year term. But the big item for the School Board was the fact that voters approved an additional three mill levy for the purpose of increasing salaries and the educational program.

Clarenceville is on the verge of losing many valuable members of the faculty because of the difference in salaries compared with that of other systems of the same enrollment in the area. It is believed the passage of the three mills will ease the situation.

Prisk, a longtime Board member, topped the vote with a total of 329 followed by Wilson with 295 in a poll that was marked by lack of interest on the part of the electors.

Erickson, one of five candidates to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Dr. Herbert Kagen, received a total of 100 votes.

C'Ville Makes Plans for Swim Classes

Registration for the Clarenceville School District summer swim classes has been set for the week of June 19-24.

Those interested may sign up June 19-23 at the high school office between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. On Saturday, June 24, registrations will be taken at the pool entrance from 9 a.m. until noon.

Two-week swim sessions will begin June 26, July 17 and July 31. A fourth session, beginning Aug. 14, may be added if there is sufficient demands. Each session will include 10 one-hour lessons, Monday through Friday.

All students must be at least 48" tall and able to pass the Red Cross beginners swimming test. Instruction will be offered in beginner, advanced beginner, intermediate swimmer, swimmer and advanced swimmer categories.

Livonian Gets Post at Alma

Larry Boehms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Boehms of 35611 Minton in Livonia, has been appointed a resident adviser at Alma College for the 1967-68 academic year.

Each resident adviser at Alma College serves as a counselor to and is responsible for the supervision of approximately 30 students.

Larry is a freshman at the college.

Martin Ousts Bennett From Schoolcraft Post

LeRoy Bennett, Livonia school teacher, failed in his bid for a second term as an at-large member of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Bennett of 18809 Lola Drive, Livonia, was upset by George Martin, 16563 Ronnie Lane, by a Margin of 3,607-2,960.

Bennett failed to carry any one of the five areas comprising the college district.

Marin had a majority of 1,645 to 1,395 in Livonia;

276-230 in Northville; 167-148 in Clarenceville; 928-633 in Plymouth; and 591-554 in Garden City.

Paul Mutnick, longtime secretary of the College Board, was unopposed as the representative of the Clarenceville district.

Bertran Secord became the new representative from Northville when he topped the voting there over three candidates. Secord had a total of 305 followed by Paul Hunt with 292 and Judge Edmund Yerkes with 120.

Esch Tells of Draft Policies

For the first time in many years, the once routine proposal for extending the Selective Service Act found itself faced with serious questioning and a few new additions. While it passed the House with only nine dissenting votes, indications are that the administration of the draft will be in for some close Congressional scrutiny during the next four years, perhaps leading to major revisions in the future.

The House version, passed two weeks ago, differs from that passed in the Senate where the present Selective Service Act was, for the most part, merely extended in its present form. Extensive hearings and study by the House Armed Services Committee led to several desirable changes which I supported and most of which restrict the President's authority over draft policy.

student deferments were continued by the House and the institution of a draft lottery is prohibited unless the President finds it in the national interest and gains Congressional approval.

The major intent of the House bill was to gain some equity and uniformity within the bounds of the present structure. At this writing the matter is before a conference committee to work out the differences between the two chambers and we are working to keep the House improvements in the bill.

While the House committee spent a great deal of time studying the draft, consideration on the Floor was far from adequate. Debate and amendment were severely limited and, as a result, the type of searching analysis needed on such an important national concern never occurred.

ful amendment which would have extended the draft for only two years instead of four. In this way, we had hoped to encourage in-depth study of various alternatives by preventing a long period of extended conscription.

One alternative that deserves more attention is the concept of an all volunteer force to replace mandatory service. This idea has considerable merit and I am exploring it with several other Members who expect to come up with a concrete and detailed analysis later in the year.

About Fireworks...

It is unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, expose for sale, give, furnish, use, or cause to explode any blank cartridge, toy pistol, toy cannon, toy gun or toy cane in which explosives are used.

Also any fire crackers, torpedoes, sky rockets, roman candles, daygo bombs or any type of fire works.

The use of fireworks is legal only when an organization or group of individuals makes application to the Redford Township Board.

TIP TO PARENTS

Fireworks in the hands of our children have resulted in serious injury, loss of eyesight and mangled fingers. You should educate your children to the dangers of fireworks and prevent them from engaging in their use.

The best prevention against injury due to fireworks is to examine your child's personal belongings.

College Student Leaves For 2-Month Tour Abroad

Ronald Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Becker, 643 Hartsouth, Plymouth, is among the 33 students from Albion College who left Tuesday for a two-month Albion College European summer study-travel program.

The group, under the direction of Dr. Coy James, history department chairman, and director of the program will stop in London first.

"Traveling by air and bus, the group will visit Berlin, Budapest, Vienna, Istanbul, and Athens. From Athens it will go to a small city in southern Greece for a two-day rest," said Dr. James.

"From there, the tour will fly to Rome, then to Florence by either plane or bus," he said. The first phase of the tour will end in Geneva when the students leave for Neuchatel, Switzerland, and the University of Neuchatel for a month of studies.

"The travelers will see many points of interest in their tours of the cities," said Dr. James. In each city, the day will begin with a guided tour of the city and group tours of museums and monuments.

Afternoons will be free so students can tour places not seen on the group tours and gain the feeling of the foreign city.

"During their month of studies, students will study under European professors teaching in English. Courses will include philosophy, political science, French drama, and French," said Dr. James.

At the end of the study session the group will re-assemble in Geneva for trips to Lisbon and Madrid before returning home August 17. Dr. James described this as a "post-seminar" session, saying students will be free to tour the cities on their own. They may include side-trips to other points of interest.

City Council Head To Run For Mayor

Westland's City Council President Virgil Gagnon has announced his summer plans—to attract more industrial development and to be nominated for mayor in the Sept. 12 Democratic primary election and elected in the general runoff on Nov. 7.

Gagnon announced his candidacy for the mayor's post at a press luncheon Thursday and quickly pointed out that he feels "that if our city is to progress as it should, there is a great need for solid leadership in the administration to make this dynamic community for the people of Westland to be proud of."

Gagnon was top vote-getter in the April 25, 1966, city incorporation election which also had the city's first municipal officials elected.

On the basis of the vote at the polls, he was named City Council President which carries an additional $500 over the basic $2,500 salary paid council members annually.

Mayor Thomas H. Brown was elected to that post a year ago after serving as Nankin Township Supervisor. Brown has indicated his intentions to run for a second term.

Gagnon is the third candidate to announce a campaign for the $15,000 a year post. Municipal Building Inspector Ray C. Adams, who lost to Brown in last year's race by a 2-1 margin, is making a second try for the office.

Although Gagnon said that his formal campaign platform is still being worked out, he did comment that "one of our needs is a more concentrated effort to bring industry into the city. We need a more equalized tax base between industry, commercial and residential uses which is now lacking. At present, the homeowner is paying the bulk of the expense for the operation of the city."

He also said that his campaign slogan will be "Good Administrative Government Now Our Need," which when he uses only the initials of each word, spells out his last name.

As city council president for the past 13 months, "I have tried to be conscientious in my efforts to make impartial decisions which would be most beneficial to the citizens."

Although he said that he is asking for the support and endorsement of everyone who agrees with his campaign slogan, he smiled a "no comment" to reporters when asked if he will ask or have the support of State Senator William Faust, a former Nankin Township supervisor in the community.

He also declined to comment on how Mayor Brown has been conducting the city's administration during the past year.

His campaign manager will be his wife, Harriet, and son, Mickey. A campaign headquarters will be opened later this month with a kick-off rally to be held Saturday, June 24, to raise funds to finance the campaign, which he expects to be about $3,000.

The candidate is 54 and lives at 34338 Fountain Blvd. He and his wife have two sons, five grandchildren.

A local resident of 26 years, Gagnon has been a Bendix Aviation Corp. supervisor, plant superintendent for the Ypsilanti Division of the Dura Corp., local gas station owner for 11 years, and member of the Westland Civitan Club, State Central Committee for the Democratic Party, League, elder in the Good Shepherd Reformed Church.

In public life, he has been a Nankin Township Trustee, secretary of the Charter Commission, co-chairman of the City Study Group under Nankin Township, Michigan Week Chairman in 1963, co-organizer and past president of the Chamber of Commerce, and member of the Nankin Township Recreation Council.

Crash Total Stays Level

Auto accidents for the past three months in Redford Township have hovered around 170 for each month.

The monthly report for May, issued by the Redford Township Police Department, shows a total of 101 property damage crashes.

There were 57 personal injury mishaps in which 84 persons were hurt. Two of these involved bicycles; 5, motorcycles; and three, pedestrians.

Fourteen reported accidents were termed "unfounded."

In all of the accidents a total of 297 vehicles was involved.

The township's first fatality was reported as the result of the death of 14-year-old Wayne D. Moyle, a pedestrian who had been in a coma since being struck by a car in January.

Traffic tickets were issued for 191 moving or hazardous violations, 31 for parking, and 123 for non-moving offenses for a total of 345.

This number was down 94 from April's 439.

Paint Wrinkling

If paint assumes a rough crinkled texture, you have a condition known as wrinkling which is probably caused by application of too thick a coat. Never try to make one coat of paint do the work of two.

Mayor Brown 'Opens' Campaign

Westland Mayor Thomas Brown, who will have at least two opponents in the Democratic Party primary election on Sept. 12, feels that "any time there are other candidates on the ballot, there is serious competition. I never take anything for granted."

It was brought up that just the day before, City Council President Virgil Gagnon announced his candidacy for the party's nomination for mayor in the primary vote. The general election is Nov. 7.

When asked if he has his campaign for re-election to a second two-year term underway, Brown calmly replied:

"I have been organized since 1961 (when he was elected to the Nankin Township Board of Trustees) and my campaign slogan is still the same: service to the people."

The mayor credited Gagnon with having more insight on politics but that he (Brown) has more insight on government. What will be the prospective issues during the summer campaign?

"I hope the issue will be good government."

Relax Upside Down? It's Yoga, Mrs. Gill

Hathayoga is coming to Livonia YMCA this fall, in eight or ten easy lessons. It will be taught by a grandmother who—thanks to her mastering the art and science—is older than you would think. Her physical fitness, practicing what she teaches, she says, has kept her younger than most mothers of three daughters ranging from 18 to 24 years and grandmother of a six-week-old boy.

If you think she's kidding, can you do a headstand for five minutes, and enjoy it?

Mrs. Ruth Gill has been engaged to teach yoga to as many believers as enroll in courses being arranged by the Livonia Y. She lives at 14891 Farmington Road, Livonia.

A housewife with time for television, Mrs. Gill saw a yoga program about six years ago. She decided it was a good idea, enrolled in classes in Detroit and liked it. So well, in fact, that she decided to go farther. Four years ago she began to teach what she had practiced to perfection. Hundreds have been in her classes.

There are thousands of postures, Mrs. Gill said, but she emphasized the basic 84.

The seat stand is the ultimate for circulation in the yoga health project, Mrs. Gill said. But some "students" are afraid to try it, "even for their well being."

"People take up yoga to learn to relax, and posture makes perfect," she said. "This is an art and science, and posture is very scientific. It involves the whole body through circulation."

Mrs. Gill said she deals only with the physical yoga—not the spiritual. Hers is emphasis on concentration, relaxation, deep breathing. It isn't a cure—it's a feeling. Deep breathing, she feels, is relief from asthma, and emphysema. Learning how to exhale, properly, helps.

She says that improving posture also reduces weight.

Mrs. Gill teaches at "Y's" in Ann Arbor and in Pontiac, and now has classes at the Guest House near Lake Orion where clergy, struggling with alcoholic illness take yoga lessons for relaxation.

Mrs. Gill says that classes last an hour, and usually have eight or ten members. Ages range from 30's into the 60's, she said.

Although the course is non-strenuous, many enrollees drop out rather than face the rigid self-discipline and practice, she said. To make practice easier, many resume classes when they start again in a community. Yoga classes are offered also in adult education.

But in Livonia, the first classes to be offered at the YMCA will come next fall. Since the Y does not yet have a building, space will be arranged by the sponsor for the courses.

Mrs. Gill says she's "only the teacher," who stays slender and spry in the process.

GIRLS IN THE KNOW include one Barbara Piercecchi, 21 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Piercecchi of Pipers Lane, graduating from Eastern Michigan University.

Receiving a Bachelor of Arts in Secondary Education, English Major and Drama Minor, her list of accomplishments include the Chairmanship of Student Activities Committee; President of Delta Zeta; Top Ten Students Award for Outstanding Contribution to the University Community for which she was awarded a plaque.

The Piercecchi family have been Farmington residents for six years with their children: Pvt. Bill Piercecchi; Cathy and Paula now attending Beechview School.

Our Lady of Sorrows school members must also feel proud that Barbara was their graduate, for there aren't many that can admit they are among the few listed in the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Another young lady taking a big step forward is Sandy Slade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Slade of Peppermill. Sandy, a graduate of Farmington High School is graduating from Michigan State. Marriage plans for Sandy and Kenneth Banks (also a Farmington High graduate) son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Banks of Cloverdale are set for July 1 at the First Methodist Church.

Being the young lady she is, Sandy was honored with several showers, one of which was hosted by Joanne McCallum. Eighteen guests attended the kitchen shower.

The guest list included Virginia Opt Holt, Mrs. Floyd Wilfong, Mrs. Lorne Banks, Mrs. David Wilfong, Mary Lee, Mrs. Donald Brown, Shirley Brown, Pam Slade, Ruth Slade, Ellen Wittwer, Lucille Ehlers, Bobbie Armstrong, Ginny Webber, Carol McMann, Betty Goetzke, Susy Babcock and Mrs. William Hughes.

On the Expo-A-Go-Go list are George and Avaline Reimold of Ridgewood Drive. Their jaunt to Expo was for a three day period, then on to Hyannis Port. On their trip back, they stopped near Utica, N.Y.

DIFFICULT to just say goodbye, so a group got together and made a party of it for a grand person, George Wroblewski of Farmington Rd., June 6 at the Red Fox. The Gerald Wroblewski family will be leaving the Farmington area for California.

Included in the farewell party guest list were: Pauline Jewsbury, Nancy Passfield, Grace Bulman, Ruth Trombley, Ruth Simmons, Betty Robertson, Rosemary Finley, Margaret Salay, Gail Hopper, Grace Johnson, Mary Wichman, Gladys King, Jeanne Loe and Ruth Newkirk.

Linda Huss, of 33653 Harlow, will leave from New York on June 30 for a six-week stay in Europe. Linda and four friends, chaperoned by Mrs. Lopez, will join a group of students for three weeks in Seefeld, Austria, where they will enroll in the Foreign Language League School to study German.

Later they will leave for Dusseldorf, Germany, to continue their studies. After summer vacation, she will enter Eastern Michigan University and will major in elementary education.

High Time For Action To End Traffic Jams

Thanks to the workings of the Wayne County Road Commission, the cities of Livonia and Plymouth are involved in the greatest traffic snarls in history.

The Road Commission closed Sheldon Road from the C&O Railroad north to Five Mile Road from Five to Six Mile Roads in Livonia.

There was some advance notice of the Sheldon Road closing for widening the highway in that particular area but there was scant notice of the closing in Livonia and the end result is that both cities are faced with horrendous traffic jams during most of the day.

We feel both highway groups should sit down with governmental officials involved and take immediate steps to correct the situation.

When one takes 50 minutes to drive from Plymouth to Livonia, then there has to be something wrong. Such a trip normally takes 20 minutes, driving at a comfortable speed.

When one turns into Merriman or Hubbard Roads in Livonia from Six Mile with the thought of getting to Five Mile Road and then becomes involved with bumper to bumper traffic moving at a snail's pace, then it's high time that Livonia officials step in and take action.

These are actual instances and the jams are getting more and more complicated daily.

In the City of Plymouth, if one is trying to make a turn out of one of the side streets onto Main Street, Mill Street or Starkweather, he had better be a daredevil and take a big chance or become accustomed to long waits.

There just isn't a chance of getting out into the traffic flow unless some Good Samaritan decides to give you a break, slows traffic down and allows you in. But that's only one car coming out of the side street and perhaps there are four or five backed up.

In Plymouth Township, it's worth one's life to try to make a left turn from Phoenix Road into Northville Road. Here again, there is a definite need for a traffic light to keep traffic flowing. Otherwise the present situation of trying to break into the Northville Road traffic is a real problem.

Closing Sheldon Road appears to have more than doubled the traffic on Northville Road which moves into the City of Plymouth generally following a pattern of going down Starkweather and then across Main Street.

This has successfully closed off the side streets and caused tremendous jams at the intersection of Starkweather and Main. Oftentimes the lines stretch from the C&O station to Main Street. This means that none can come out of the sidestreets. And when a train passes—the mess becomes messier.

In the past it was possible to avoid jams by going north on Sheldon, east on Five Mile Road and then follow Northville Road to either Six Mile or Phoenix. That's all eliminated by the Sheldon Road closing.

In the City of Livonia, traffic did move at a normal pace along Farmington Road with jams only at peak traffic times. At the present moment it appears as if there are peak traffic times from early morning to early evening and the temper of drivers is just like the weather—hot and humid.

Livonia is trying to resolve the situation but Public Works Commissioner Robert Shaw told the Observer that there have been no complaints about traffic congestion. All we can say is that Shaw should look out his office window and see what's happening on Five Mile Road—that isn't exactly a Memorial Day parade that has the road clogged. Those are all cars of motorists who are wondering just how the City agreed to such a deal.

The County Road Commission has set up the detours according to Shaw and the Traffic Division under the direction of Lt. Robert Thorne is trying to work with them.

We suggest that Shaw and Lt. Thorne take a drive from Farmington and Six to either Hubbard or Merriman and get involved in one of the traffic jams—then even they will have to admit that there is congestion.

We suggest a traffic light at Hubbard and Six could relieve the trouble. We believe a traffic light at Phoenix Road and Northville Road would aid there and we suggest the "Table and Talk" City Commission of Plymouth do less talking and tabling and do something about the situation that has the city thoroughly tied up most of the time.

This is the time to act, not after harried drivers have put up with such things as 50 minutes between Plymouth and Livonia for weeks on end.

—R. T. Thompson

From the Publisher's Desk OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power

"SAY. Uh. Did you hear that they're a bunch of motorcyclists going to tear the place up over the weekend. 'Spoted to be a couple hundred, somewhere in Hines Park."

It was the voice of a man tipping off a newspaper. Hesitant. Clumsy. Imprecise, and a little scared.

Sure, we heard about the big outlaw motorcycle invasion (called, neatly, a "drink-in") which was supposed to take place sometime this last weekend. It never came off, but it scared an awful lot of people.

We got some rumors on Thursday, and then a real flood of tips on Friday, mostly from city officials and police officers.

Then when word of the expected rape of the park got out over the radio, we got a lot of calls from people of all sorts.

"What's this about an invasion?"

"Those bastards gonna take over Hines Park, eh. Well, by Christ, I hope the cops beat the daylight out of them."

The cops themselves were none too happy about the whole thing. Not that they were afraid of the bounty that was supposed to be out on their badges ($50 for a state trooper's, $25 for an ordinary city policeman's), but rather, they were worried that there would be so many spectators crowding around that they wouldn't be able to work effectively to keep the peace.

They were right.

PEOPLE seem to have a strange love-hate, attraction-repulsion ambivalent feeling about the outlaw motorcycle gangs.

You'd think running around just to get a look at a bunch of rough looking guys who don't wash much and who just might bash your head in with the business end of a tire iron is hardly a pleasant or amusing way of spending a quiet Sunday afternoon.

But wherever the motorcycle gangs go, they draw better than George Romney or Bobby Kennedy.

Part of the explanation must be obscurely psychiatric.

For example, what draws the nice, middle-class ladies into those crowds? Violence? Sex? Primitive males?

Or brings the men, generally a little fat, who look on half in hatred and half in admiration? Power? Speed? A freedom they never had but know they've lost?

Who knows.

Plain simple curiosity is a big part of it.

Out here in the suburbs, where people try to dress nicely and keep their lawns cut and their cars clean, the sight of an outlaw motorcycle club is a real spectacle.

So the curious and the thrill seekers come. They watch.

And the motorcycle gangs, delighted to be the center of attention, start acting up.

Why?

"To make people really blow their minds," said one Hell's Angel, quoted in a recent book on the subject.

But why, then, is there so much fear of the gangs? Why do otherwise reasonable men hope the cops will beat the living daylight out of them?

Surely it can't be because they are physically afraid of harm. If the police are around, the chances of anyone getting hurt are very slight.

I THINK part of the explanation lies in that the gangs are a threat, not so much to people's physical safety, but rather to their style of life.

The gangs are tough. They fight a lot, and break the law. They probably take a certain amount of dope, and they certainly drink a lot.

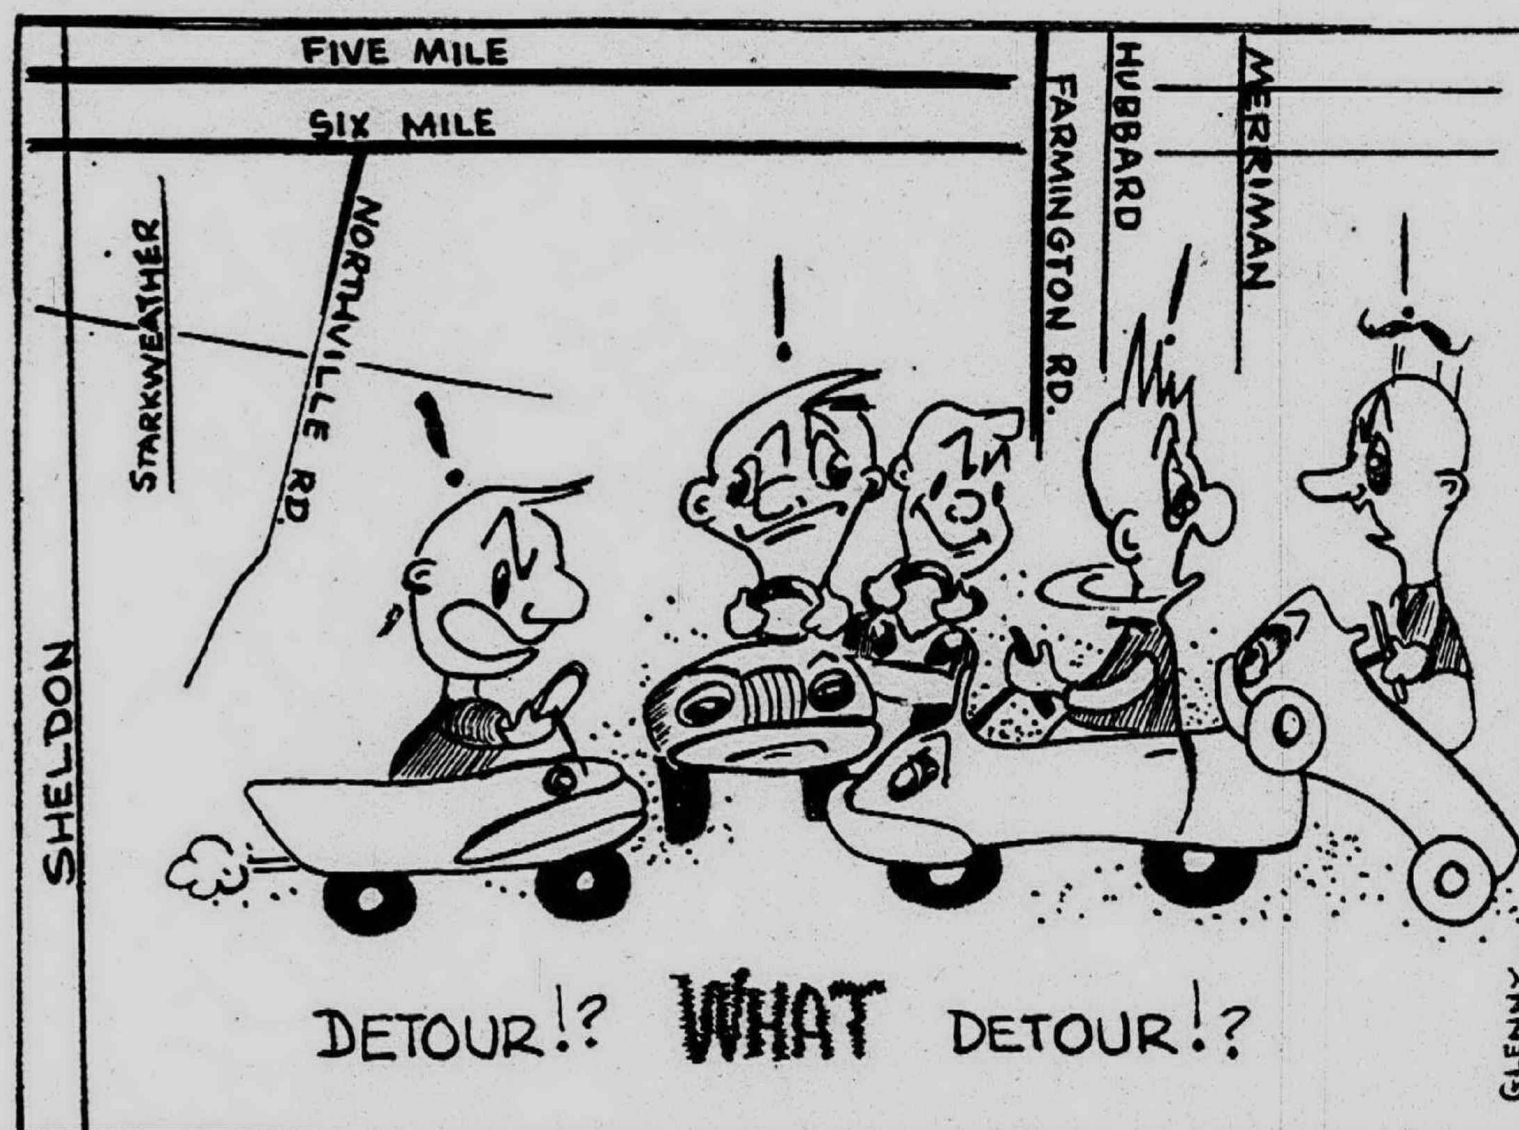

But more importantly, they represent a group of people to whom all the attractions of suburban living—quiet, peace, family, schools, houses with lawns—are totally out of it. To them, suburban living just doesn't count.

So their system, so carefully designed to get people to blow their minds, stands as a living monument to the irrelevance of much of suburban living. And it scares people, while half attracting them.

The next time you're out riding in your car, and see a motorcycle come tearing around you, ridden by a kid whose hair blows in the wind and whose smile is one of pure joy in freedom, think it over.

Just what sort of life are we making for ourselves, out here in the grass and the calm and the quiet?

—Tim Richard

Few Years Do Make Difference; Can't Weld Together Anything

The news out of Africa is just like the news about Michigan's local politics.

Eastern Nigeria has formed its own nation. It seems the head of the Nigerian government forced long-standing irritations to a head when he announced a plan to divide the entire nation into 12 new provinces—a move that would have split Eastern Nigeria into three sections.

Crux of the problem was that the dominant tribe of Eastern Nigeria would have been separated from the province's oil deposits near the Niger River Delta.

It was like a big city trying to split off an industrial park from a township. The head of Eastern Nigeria reacted in exactly the same way the supervisors reacted in Nankin Township, Farmington Township, Plymouth Township, any township, whenever the city slickers talk about annexation or consolidation.

What's going on in Michigan—namely, resistance to the formation of municipal governments big enough to handle the problems of a geographic area—is going on all over the world. People don't want to Think Big about the extent of government; they want their own "community," their own province, their own tribe.

Strange, how attitudes change in a few short years.

After World War II, everyone was hepped on the United Nations; on carving out big, new nations from former colonies; on expansion.

Today, the U.N. is largely ignored; NATO has lost one of its biggest partners, France; the giant Indonesia is disintegrating; the Communist bloc isn't any more; Egypt and Syria are married and divorced; northern and southern California have been talking for a year or two about going their separate ways; Farmington Township won't join the city in a future government study, and part of the township wants to split off another part; a few tinhorn legislators from Detroit want to divide that metropolis into wards...

It makes you wonder: If the states were to vote all over again, would Goldwater and Wallace and Thurmond want to tie up with Wall Street and Harlem and Foggy Bottom?

"One World?" "One nation, indivisible?" Faugh! It's getting so you can't weld together a good-sized city anymore.

—Tim Richard

This Is The Week That

... By Don Hoenshell

This is put-up-or-shut-up and the next time the butcher weighs his thumb or there's a three-inch empty space in the top of the cornflakes box let us take some action.

Let us send the whole business, the more perishable and likely to quiver the nostrils the better, to Lansing.

For there exists on the books a year-old law protecting us from all these dastardly things. When it was passed and signed by the governor there was some hoopla about helping the housewife.

That was four months before the general election and wow, m'am, let us help you with that grocery cart.

A Livonian, then Rep. Marvin R. Stempien, was the author of the Consumer's Protection package. He had the votes then, but see how the mighty have, etc. Come on, Goliath, get up.

The Consumer's Council was created with nine members, three to be appointed by the Legislative Council, three by the governor and three were to be officials, the attorney general and secretary of state and the head of the department of commerce.

To make sure they didn't have the shorts while protecting us all, the Legislature tossed in a $10,000 appropriation for use between March 10, when the law was effective, and June 30, when the fiscal year ended.

That $10,000 could buy a lot of almost anything, except maybe submarines.

The Council was conceived to "formulate and direct a program to protect individual consumers from harmful products and merchandise, false advertising and deceptive sales practices."

It would "formulate and conduct a program of research and education to eliminate fraudulent commercial practices..."

And not only that. When they found us poor taxpayers being bilked at the checkout counter, they were going to blab to the governor, the attorney general and everybody else who would listen.

Great idea, but for now you've got to watch the butcher's thumbs yourself and if somebody sells you an eight-cylinder frantitan with only seven cylinders, too bad, buddy.

Nothing is what has happened.

Gov. Romney hasn't appointed his three, the Legislative Council is more concerned with mailing newsletters and the three ex-officio members are out to lunch. Anytime, they're out to lunch.

Like to have some fun for a nickel?

Write your legislature and ask him about the Consumer's Council. We know a bookie who'll bet you even you'll get a letter back asking "What?"

Also ask what has happened to the $10,000 in the exchequer, the square name for kitty.

Under the law it's still there, like that $15 you've stashed in the cookie jar for a hairdo next Saturday. And the law is still there, too.

Like the butcher's thumb.

Maybe there's a great thumb lobby in Lansing we don't know about.

Dogs are strange animals. Perhaps I should make clear from the beginning that I'm writing from a biased viewpoint. I don't like 'em.

Thus the dog lovers of the world provide a great deal of amusement and make me feel terribly superior.

Last weekend, though, I observed an illuminating incident. It gave me a whole new perspective on the four legged creatures and convinced me that dogs have distinct personalities.

Picture, if you can, a huge white poodle—untrimmed and rather dirty—who answers to the name of "Daisy." This poodle looks as though she would be a disaster around a coffee table or anything fragile and has trouble seeing because of the hair in her eyes.

Add to this one daschund who answers to the name of "Velvet." This dog has a fondness for bones—usually bigger than she—and an even greater fondness for marshmallows. That's right—marshmallows.

Velvet is a rather mild-mannered dog and really doesn't bother anyone except when she has a bone. Then she turns into a ferocious animal.

During the course of an outdoor marshmallow roast last week Velvet was growling over a particularly disruptive looking bone when Daisy appeared on the scene.

Daisy wandered around and generally caused chaos among the group with her huge bulk.

Finally Velvet decided to ignore Daisy and set her bone carefully in a corner and began to beg for the marshmallows.

Somehow Daisy spied the bone and managed to squeeze into a small corner. Before anyone really knew what was happening she had the bone in her mouth.

The humans present and Velvet all discovered Daisy quietly edging away from the party. Poor Velvet was caught on the horns of a dilemma. Her bone was stolen, but she couldn't forgo the chance of those dropped marshmallows.

Velvet chose the marshmallows, being the civilized dog she is.

Daisy still ambled away—very slowly and very quietly and waited until she was about 100 feet away before she began to run. Then she took off for home.

Minutes later she could be observed sitting in her front yard enjoying the fruits of her victory.

Velvet, however, didn't fare too poorly as she won about three marshmallows by her choice.

As we said dogs have personalities.

Passing Along A Few Tips To Budding Young Journalists

By W. W. EDGAR

IN A FEW more days the institutions of higher learning across the land will open their gates and release an army of graduates to join in the battle for existence that is changing every minute.

It will be their first confrontation with stark reality after living in the ivy halls soaking up theory and the results may be shocking, for they'll find that they've engaged in a struggle where it will be a survival of the fittest.

They'll find that the world may be a great deal different than they expected and they'll have to make adjustments to meet conditions as the glamour of their hopes wears off.

This will be particularly true of the budding young journalists who are setting out to conquer the world.

For years, no doubt, they have been told of the so-called "power of the press." They have been left dreamy-eyed with stories of the glamour and excitement of the "newspaper game." They have been told of the prestige that, supposedly, comes with the card marked, "working press." They have been fed stories of the excitement that comes with meeting people and being able to attend the glamour parties, social events, and front row seats at major attractions.

What a shock is in store for them!

THE first will come when they suddenly realize that the world consists of only two kinds of people—those who bend every effort to get their names in the paper and those who bend every effort to keep their names out of print.

This always is surprising—and oftentimes the biggest surprises come in the highest places.

The next great lesson they will have to learn is the difference between news and propaganda. And, sometimes, it is difficult to determine. They also will have to learn to shy away from traps set for them in an effort to profit by the printed word.

They'll learn, too, and perhaps the hard way like most of us have, that you can't accept any statements "off the record." Too often, after agreeing to such a deal they'll find that the second member of the press to whom the story was told wasn't asked to keep it "off the record." As a result they'll be beaten on good stories and invoke the displeasure of the cold, hard-boiled city editors who are interested in news and not friendships.

To be sure, there's plenty of fun in the newspaper "game," but most of it comes in outwitting persons who don't want to reveal facts of important stories and getting folks to talk when they've vowed they "won't talk to anyone." Sometimes this can be most difficult, but it makes success all the more enjoyable.

But these budding journalists will find that they must be forever on guard—for even officials in public places will attempt to block their path.

IN MANY cases these are the top officials in the various police departments. Some of their efforts to keep news out of the paper border on the humorous side.

For example, only recently, there was the case of city police force where warrants had been piling up for years without being served. When asked about the case, the top officer stated, very seriously, "I wouldn't mention anything like that. It might be taken as an open invitation to crooks to come here under the impression that they won't be bothered."

I might add that the story of the unserved warrants was printed.

Then there was the case of a breaking and entering of a federal building through a trap door in the roof.

"Don't mention that," the Chief warned, "we wouldn't want anyone to know that there is a trap door up there."

That story was printed, too.

So, as a veteran traveler along the river of printer's ink, I'd like to pass along this bit of advice to these budding young journalists:

Don't take things for granted... be surprised at nothing and remember—there are only two kinds of people—those who fight to get their names in the paper and those who fight to keep theirs out.

You'll find it interesting and exciting determining the difference.

Readers "Speak Up" On Varied Subjects

Editor:

What in tarnation happened this year to our Livonia Memorial Day Parade?

Outside of the few Marines, few Army lads, the floats, bands, scouts, firemen, policemen and women, in uniform—the people wouldn't have known it was a Memorial Day Parade.

Out of the five bands, I heard only three play. I was at Wonderland. Why not put one band beyond those Marines in dress blues who were our leading color bearers—instead of the politicians, their cars with families, the decorated cars, the lovely queens and all those civic groups?

Where were the veterans of the other wars, whom I have seen in their uniforms march so proudly by—as in the parades of long ago? Bring back the old-time, real parade, the band music and the real meaning!

About the floats, I'd like to say the VFW Post 3941 float was beautiful, but the simplicity of the DAV float spoke volumes. Those Marines did the Corps proud on the "Two Jima" float. The lone Marine who stood guard over the white crosses—I knew what he symbolized, as I'm sure he knew he stood there for all his buddies, and yes, for every serviceman who has fallen.

The color bearers of the Marines and the Army—God bless them—for "My heart leaps up when I behold Our men go marching by—"

But dog-gone it, where were the Navy blues, Air Force blues and our Army men? My heart leaps up for them, too!

To the folks on the sidelines who did not salute the flag when it went by. You're not too old to learn how to do the salute—and teach how to your children.

I stood near a man who removed his hat and held it near his heart when Old Glory passed by. Another kept his hat on and was asked, "Afraid you'll get sunstroke if you removed it now and again?" He didn't answer, just moved down the line a ways.

My children and I are flag-wavers and I thank God we are.

I'll close now—saying a silent prayer for those who have died in the service of our country—that they may somehow know we have not ALL forgotten; and a silent prayer for those who live on and fight on, that they may know, too—that someone remembers and cares—and with a humble heart, my thanks to them all that we are still free Americans.

Mrs. H. Esch

Slight Difference

I read in last week's edition of the Livonia Observer that Mayor Moelke and the City Engineering Department have saved the City of Livonia $750,000 on the Farmington relief storm sewer project. If we go over the facts we will find that actually Mayor Moelke and the Engineering Department almost cost the City of Livonia $750,000 extra on this project.

The original bids presented to the City were in fact $750,000 over the original consulting engineers estimate. The consulting engineers did propose a plan that would cut the cost to a minimum. However, the Mayor and the City Engineering office decided to ask for bids using completely different specifications.

The bids received on the city plans therefore, brought bids inflated to the extent of $750,000. It was only because of re-designing with more attention paid to the consulting engineers original specifications that the City finally received bids within the original estimate.

It was only due to the efforts of the Livonia City Council, under the leadership of Council President Peter Ventura, who questioned this extremely high cost, that new bids were asked for based on specifications recommended by the consulting engineers. My congratulations to the City Council for their perseverance and insistence in asking that new bids be requested on the recommendations of the consulting engineers.

I have but one question. If the City Council had not insisted upon requesting new bids, would Mayor Moelke and the City Engineers office have gone along with the excess cost of $750,000.

Defends Handbill Distributors

Editor:

It was a bit jolting to read last week that some Livonia residents labeled handbill distributors in this area "delinquents who peek into windows and create a potential menace to neighborhood children."

Many Livonia families have spent Sunday afternoons serving and eating dinner at houses located in Msgr. Kern's Holy Trinity Parish in Corktown where some of these unfortunate men live, trying to get back on their feet and find some sort of place in society.

HOLDING SAFETY POSTERS which were among 11 winning cash awards in the 23rd annual National AAA Traffic Safety Poster Contest from the local area are: Colleen Quinn, of 22550 Chippewa, Detroit, and Kathleen Bartlett, of 11348 Beaverland, Detroit, both of Our Lady of Mercy School, Farmington. They won a total of $125.

Many of these men are handbill distributors, often anxious to tell you they know where Livonia is because they have delivered here. And many of our children have been thrilled to come home with pocketfuls of rubber bands the Livonian speaks of, the joyous symbol of something—the only thing these men had to give them.

For some this job is all they are now physically and emotionally able to handle and for some it is a small mark of self sufficiency that gives them a feeling of being able to control their own destiny.

This is not to say there are no undesirable handbill distributors, but to dismiss them so brusquely smacks of a feeling that we in suburbs can't even stand the occasional sight of the poor and unkept.

Knowing the warm, courteous, and appreciative behavior of many of these men, to us and our children, we are prone to think that if they do peek in our windows, it is perhaps to glimpse the kind of life they did or might have had.

Thanks Bentley Band

Editor:

Compliments and thanks to the Bentley High School band and their director. For the past several days they have provided a marching-band parade for the Jackson-Bentley area residents.

I personally have enjoyed them, and judging by the crowds of mothers and children following the group, their time and talents are greatly appreciated.

Grateful Neighbor,
Mrs. C. Nix

Police Nab 4 In Break-in At Stevenson

Four Negro teenagers from Detroit were captured by Livonia police inside Stevenson High School at 3 a.m. Sunday.

Police arrested Arnold Gillard, 18; Walter Foster, 17; Anthony Bolden, 18; and Dennis Kervley, 17.

Patrolmen Warren Tack and Arthur Cheney were alerted by a citizen who saw the four drive into the school parking lot. Before police arrived they had broken into the school through a window.

Gillard barricaded himself inside the principal's office and a piece of metal lodged in his right thumb when Tack shot off the lock.

The other three were found hiding in the school print shop. They had in their possession a number of hand tools from the custodian's room.

Boy, 7, Hit By Car, Hurt

Keith Ellis, 7, was slightly injured when he ran into the street in front of his home at 29015 Grandon, and was struck by a car driven by Robert Durand, 28, of Garden City.

Durand told police he had no time to stop or avoid hitting the Ellis boy. The driver was not held. The boy was treated by his family physician.

Observer Hails Area Stars in Baseball

Presenting the 1967 All-Observer Area high school baseball team.

Truly, the cream of the crop, the Observer squad is loaded with all the ingredients that make for a powerful team.

There is strong pitching, power hitting, great fielding and experience.

Eleven of the 12 players honored are seniors and have played their final high school baseball game. The lone returnee in the group is Dan Sweeney of St. Agatha, who packed a .500 bat during the past season.

Here are the players honored:

INFIELDERS
FIRST BASE: Leland Bjerke, Redford Union. A standout all-around player who won similar honors for his play in football and basketball. Wound up the recent season with a .310 average. He knocked in 17 runs and clouted two home runs. Excellent on defense. Won eight varsity letters in his three years at Redford Union.
SECOND BASE: Rod Ferguson, Redford Union.
Second year on the varsity; one of the sparks in leading RU to a share of the Suburban Six League title. Batted .290 for the season, knocked in nine runs. But he was always a part when RU staged a big rally.

SHORTSTOP: Dan Sweeney, St. Agatha. A major factor in St. Agatha's unbeaten drive to divisional title honors in the Catholic League. Clouted a sensational .500 during the season. His production included two homers and four doubles, plus 14 RBI's. Snappy fielder. Also a standout in football and basketball.

THIRD BASE: Ed Ryan, Bentley. A power hitter who packed the big bat for the Les Anders, meet winners. Finished with a .409 percentage, plus 22 RBI's, plus three homers. One of the best fielders in the area. Plans to enter Western Michigan and pursue his athletic career there. At Bentley he also starred in basketball.

OUTFIELDERS
JOE HUBER: Garden City East. A repeater on the All Area team. Clouted a heavy .458 during the last season. He had 11 hits, 12 walks, scored 12 runs, knocked in 17 runs and socked a pair of homer and triples. What's more, he went errorless in the field. Would like to play professional baseball. Otherwise, he'll go to college.

REG BARRINGER: Thurston, an all-around great at Thurston, where he starred in football, basketball and baseball. Rapped the ball at a .300 clip in his senior year. Had one homer, three triples and four doubles.

Ken Jackson Saluted in Track:

Bentley Star Is Tops

Orchids to Ken Jackson of Bentley High School, the 1967 track athlete of the year on the Observer Newspaper Group's annual honor roll of prep thinclads.

Bouquets, too, to Chris Brown and Mike Hines of Farmington High, Glen Dusek of Thurston, Wayne Holman of John Glenn, and Doug Thomas of Bentley.

This quintet stands out on the squad-of-squads picked by the Observer staff with the assistance of coaches throughout the area.

Jackson hung up three school records as he stepped the high hurdles in 14.5 seconds, the lows in 19.7 seconds and unloaded a leap of 21 feet, 2 1/2 inches in the long jump.

He was unbeaten during the regular season in leading Bentley to a perfect campaign in dual meets against Suburban Six League rivals and then to the overall loop championship.

Brown, the Interlakes Conference sprint champ for the last year, ranks with the best of area's dashmen and also appears on both of the Farmington relays, which posted the best times in the district.

Hines, too, was a relay man and recorded the No. 1 time in the area among the 440-yard candidates.

Dusek ranks No. 1 in both the 880-yard run and the mile run. Also in the No. 1 category in two running events is Bentley's Thomas, who was clocked in 10.1 seconds in the 100-yard dash and 21.7 seconds in the lows.

Among the field event stars, John Glenn's Wayne Holman stands out. After starring in Northwest Suburban League action, Holman registered jumps of 13 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault and 6-2 in the high jump to rate first in each category.

One foreigner also has made the honor roll. He's Ross Smith, the Australian exchange student from North Farmington who finished just behind Larry Bell of Garden City West in the long jump.

Bell cleared 22 feet, 2 1/2 inches, while Smith leaves behind 22.2 school record at North Farmington as he prepares to head for the land down under.

Other No. 1 performances were recorded by Jack Shepard of Redford Union, the area's premier two-miler, and Frank Miller of Bentley, who was far the top man when it came to tossing the shot put.

Where do the "oldtimers" of baseball and fastball go after their peak seasons are over? Does the ballplayer sit on the back-yard patio, leaf through a scrapbook filled with aged clippings and sigh for the days that used to be?

Not in Livonia. He's playing ball in the Livonia Church Softball League on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

It's been that way for almost a dozen summers and if you have any doubts then take time out to take in a game or two at Ford Centennial Field—"it's where the action is."

The circuit, organized in 1956 by the late Les Anders and Bob Penny, with eight original clubs, is presently an 18-team league.

The perennial league powers, St. Andrew's Episcopal and Christ the King Lutheran teams, now are being challenged by the newer St. Edith's Catholic and St. Maurice Catholic teams, along with the older competitor member teams from Rose-dale Presbyterian, St. Matthews, Newburg Methodist, and St. Paul Presbyterian.

It has been an era of progress, since the day the

Observing SPORTS

By George Maskin

LAS VEGAS—What a place to be in and worry about the many high school athletes back home—those who haven't been graduated and have a year of prep eligibility ahead.

But as our journeys this past week have taken us to Chicago, to the Golden Gate of San Francisco and now to the home of the slot machines, you remember that request which state director Charles Forsythe made of you a couple weeks ago.

It's hardly a new plea that comes from Forsythe's office in Lansing. He makes it every year at this time.

His plea goes to newspapers, radio, television, to athletic director, to coaches, to athletes and all those who sponsor sports events during the summer months for boys of school age.

"The kids must be forewarned not to jeopardize their school eligibility," says Forsythe. "They must remember that the same amateur practices rules, which govern them during the school year, prevail during the summer."

"In short, we limit what a boy may receive to small medals or trophies with a value of $3, not including the engraving."

"Receiving of fancy jackets, of golf clubs, of tennis racquets, of bats and balls or gloves is out. So is any kind of financial remuneration."

Forsythe is quick to note that there is nothing in the rules that says a boy can't caddy, or work as a swimming life guard or in the recreation department as a supervisor.

But if he plays in a game or tournament and gets paid . . . well, the repercussions are rough.

It's happened before . . . and Forsythe hopes it never happens again . . . that not only has a boy been suspended for violating the amateur regulations but his team has been forced to forfeit victories and even championships.

"It kills our council to have to pass out such stiff fines," adds Forsythe. "But rules are rules."

Forsythe also has offered one tip to high school athletes:

"If somebody wants to offer you something for playing, check with your coach or athletic director first. Don't accept the gift until you are sure it's okay, under the state rules."

This corner has a tip for every sponsor of a sports attraction that involves preps: Call Charlie Forsythe in Lansing before you arrange any awards.

Remember that you will have to live with the thought that comes when a whole school suffers because you thought you were so smart you could outwit the State Association.

Fedraw, Temby 'Best' of Coaches

Almost identical records have made it necessary to name Ron Fedraw of Bentley and Ralph Temby of Clarenceville as Co-track coaches of the year by the Observer Newspapers.

Fedraw's team swept through an unbeaten league dual meet season; in fact has lost only once in the last two years.

In addition, Bentley repeated as the Suburban Six League champs and wound up winning the Wayne-Bellville relays for the second year in a row.

At Clarenceville, Temby's track teams went unbeaten in dual and triangular meets the last two seasons.

In addition, the Trojans placed second in the Wayne-Oakland League, captured the regional Class B title and ranked among the state's leaders in Class B.

Temby has announced he's leaving Clarenceville to take over new coaching duties at North Farmington High.

East's Mentor Hard To Top

A record difficult to match deservedly has won for John Kulazenska of Garden City East the honors of 1967 "Observer Baseball Coach-of-the-Year."

In his 15 years at East, Kulazenska has led his forces to seven championships (the latest this season) in league play and eight runnerup honors.

Originally from Ohio, Kulazenska coached near Lima, before coming to East.

His teams at East first dominated in the Metro Suburban League and more recently in the Mid-Wayne.

Discussing prep baseball in Michigan, the East coach says:

"Except for California boys who have a much greater advantage because of the weather, our schoolboy baseball players are farther advanced than anyplace in the country."

"They have both more knowledge and more ability."

Kulazenska teaches psychology and sociology at East.

Auld Lang Syne To Prep Greats

"Auld Lang Syne . . ." In high schools throughout the area this week, they're singing the tune which brings lumps to throats.

It's graduation time and as the seniors parade across the stages to receive their diplomas, their groups include scores of athletes who during the past three years have played a vital part in the success stories accomplished by their schools in the athletic wars.

As is the case every year, some greats of sports are finishing their high school careers. For the most part, most are going on to college and will be heard from in the years to come on teams representing institutions of higher learning.

Others have an equally important date. A date with Uncle Sam and perhaps Vietnam.

The Observer newspapers salute the graduating senior athletes and lists herewith those who have helped make headlines for their schools: There are 14 schools in the area, but only 13 will lose any athletes. Stevenson High (Continued on Page 3B)

'Auld Lang Syne' To Graduating Prep Athletes

GARDEN CITY EAST

Saying their farewells to the prep ranks are four of the finest all-around athletes in the school's history.

Joe Huber, a 20-point scorer in basketball and a .458 slugger in baseball, was hailed as the most outstanding senior athlete at East's annual festivities.

At the same time Marvin

Wayne Holman

Martin was voted the most valuable player among the seniors after starring in football at halfback, winning 16 matches to reach the state finals in wrestling, and helping to pitch and bat East to the league crown in baseball.

George Dobozy and Steve Fugabon followed a similar athletic road with Martin. They, too, starred in football, wrestling and baseball. Fugabon quarterbacked the grid-ers while Dobozy played at halfback with Martin.

Mike Sparkman, a football-baseball great, and Larry Lyman, football-wrestling, also will be among the seniors marching across the stage to receive their diplomas.

GARDEN CITY WEST

Two nine letterwinners, George Gamache and George Domanski, head the contingent of athletes leaving West High.

Both starred for three years in football, basketball and baseball to achieve a record reached by few high school athletes.

Mike Adler, football-wrestling; Jim Mincey, basketball-golf, and Roger Hager, who set school records in every free style event, also are wrapping up distinguished careers in sports, as well as scholastically, in high school.

JOHN GLENN

Three-sport standouts Ron Gainer and Dennis Jackson are finishing up. Gainer performed in football, wrestling and track, while Jackson represented his school in football, basketball and track.

It's "so long to Glenn" for Wayne Holman, the star trackman who also won honors in wrestling.

Leaving Glenn also are Mike Phillips and Jim Arble, cross country and track; Jerry Wright, basketball and track (he was one of the area's premier hurdlers); and Paul Osborn, track and wrestling.

FARMINGTON HIGH

Jerry Tinkle, the All Observer-football end for the last years, and a slugger in baseball, will step forth to receive his diploma.

So will Greg Dorow, the school's finest basketball player this past season and a fine performer in track.

The end has come for Chris Norton, football and baseball; Bob Duman, cross country-track; Mike Ames all-league basketball; Fritz Simons, football, basketball and track, and Mike Hines, who roared to honors in cross country and track.

While not graduating, Farmington high also is losing veteran basketball coach Jack Quiggle who is moving to northern New York where he'll take over a new position in the fall.

OUR LADY OF SORROWS

State Class C high jump Christopher is among the Sorrows seniors. He also was a defensive halfback in football and starred on the basketball team as a forward.

Jim McGrath, also stood out in three sports, quarterbacking the football team, playing basketball and doing an excellent job at shortstop in baseball.

Golf stars Tim Doyle and Harry Lapham, along with Frank Carrico, all helped Sorrows share the divisional title, take the regional crown and finished second in the state meet. Carrico also played basketball.

Dave Hickey, football-baseball, Cliff LaFond, basketball, football and track; Tim Audette, who won honorable mention all-star honors in football, are others who have performed for the last time for Sorrows.

ST. AGATHA HIGH

The departing contingent is a small one when it comes to all-around athletes.

Dennis McKenna was a great in football, basketball and baseball for three years. John Minihan did an excellent job in football and then in baseball.

THURSTON

It's an illustrious group of senior athletes that causes some tears around Thurston, especially the coaches.

Dan Harris, Reg Barringer, Paul Santangelo and Randy Ault all were stars in football and have won college scholarships along with John Mutch, who fought back from a series of knee ailments finally to play in the final four games in his senior year.

Harris also starred in wrestling and baseball. Barringer, Santangelo and Simescu made names for themselves in baseball, too.

Mike Turner has won a hockey scholarship to Ohio State although he had to play on outside teams because prep hockey still has not arrived in Michigan.

Turner also played baseball. Jim McEwen and Chuck Nole, track, also are fading out of the spotlight at Thurston.

Hub Copp stands out among the senior athletes. He played football, basketball and baseball. Roger Schmanek was a star in football and gymnastics, Mike Bensinger, football-track; Floyd Webb, football-track, and Rick Jones made his spears as a football manager and a regular in baseball. He also was the senior class president.

Also saying his goodbyes to North Farmington is Ross Smith, the exchange student from Australia who won his letters in football and track and set records in the latter sport in his only year at the school.

PLYMOUTH

The losses of Ron Lowe and Seve Hulce are among those which will hit Plymouth hard. Lowe starred in football, basketball and track. Hulce jumped from football to basketball and tennis.

Jim Elias, the stellar footballer, also is departing. So is Dan Camp, a standout on the grid and the excellent pitcher who "strongarmed" the Rocks to a share of the Suburban Six League title.

Key Evans of cross country and track fame is being graduation along with Biff Leonard, a stellar swimmer and track performer.

FRANKLIN

Two three-sport stars, Steve Atkinson and Dave Stott, are moving on to new

Baseball Stars Named

Knocked home 12 runs. Sparkled defensively.

JOHN PROCHAZKA: Plymouth, another three-sport standout. Played football in the fall and wrestled in the winter for the Rocks. Delivered the key hits all season for the Rocks as they shared the Suburban Six League title. Had a .376 batting average, which included two homers and a triple. He also drove in 12 runs.

PITCHERS

DAN CAMP: Plymouth. Posted an 8-3 record in leading Plymouth to a tie with Redford Union for the Suburban League crown. At one stretch during the season, this lefty worked 35 straight innings without allowing a run. Hurlled three straight years on the varsity. Also played football. A product of the Plymouth Little League and summer baseball programs.

CHRIS WENDRICK: Franklin. Was the key pitcher in Franklin's capturing the Northwest Suburban League crown. Posted four of his victories in the league and had a hand in several other victories with fine relief work. Compiled an earned run average of 1.20. Struck out 65 during the season.

GEORGE DOBOZY: Garden City East. Allowed only 22 hits in 54 innings of pitching while compiling a record of five victories against only one loss. Struck out 63 batters, while walking 30. Allowed only three earned runs during the season to finish with a fantastic ERA of .038.

CATCHER

DON MONTROY: Bentley. Came up through Plymouth's junior baseball program to make the varsity. Batted .350 during recent season. Strong man behind the bat. Plans to enroll at Arizona State.

UTILITY

Dave Stott, Franklin, jumped around from catcher to outfield to shortstop. Even pitched a couple of times. The most valuable member of Franklin's league champs. Batted .309 and knocked in 18 runs.

places of learning and competing. Both played side-by-side in football, basketball and baseball.

Gary Rogalski, brilliant in football and track, has been hailed as the school's outstanding senior.

He departs now along with Chris Wendrick, basketball-baseball; Earl Neely, basketball-track; Keith Iler, football-track, and Fred Davies, football-baseball.

BENTLEY

Greg Coleman, who starred in football, basketball and baseball, was voted the most valuable among the graduating seniors.

Others on the departing list include Ed Ryan, basketball-baseball; Rich Waite, basketball-track; Doug Thomas, cross-country-track; Ken Jackson, record-breaker in the hurdles; Frank Miller, football-track; Greg Macy, basketball-baseball, and Steve Kazmer, the brilliant golfer.

So long, too, to Dennis Rogissart, the swimming star; Gary Moss, tennis, and Pete McGregor, a champion in wrestling.

CLARENCEVILLE

Mike Nye, a rare four-sport prep star, has said his farewells to Clarenceville. He won his letters in football, basketball, baseball and track.

Ron Ray distinguished himself in football, basketball and track. Ditto for Dave Wilson.

Dave Kaipio leaves behind a fine list of achievements in football and wrestling, while John McClorey wrote fine chapters in football, basketball and baseball.

Leaving, too, are Tom Harbourn, a football star and the school's hurdling sensation in track; also Jim Amick, who kept busy starring in football, basketball and track.

Tom Schlack, football and baseball has ended his prep career. So has Larry Martin, football-wrestling.

The Ylitalo twins, Ron and Don, have sung their swan-song as schoolboys along with Steve Clark and Ross Hofman.

REDFORD UNION

Leland Bjerke, a great end in football, the area's No. 1 basketball player and an all-star in baseball, is passing out of the Redford Union sports picture and heading for Eastern Michigan.

Henry DeLong, football-baseball; Glen Davis, the football team's ace quarterback; Dave Pike, an all-state wrestler, and Jack Shepard who ranked among the leading distance runners in track, also have wound up their prep athletic careers.

Old Timers

league was born—pioneering the "modified pitch," and thereby eliminating the pitchers' domineering status, and equalizing the game to an interesting batter versus pitcher system. The basic Anders-Penny formula has paid off dividends in tremendous rivalry and competition among the teams.

The league has gone a long way since the inaugural contests on the many so-called "cow-pasture" diamonds to the new modern athletic facility at Ford Centennial Field.

Veteran members of the league, Art Jenkins of St. Andrews, Bob Penny and Bob Jahnke of Christ the King, Bob Dieter of St. Matthews, Bill Lloyd and Earl Haub of Rosedale, along with Bob Tripp of St. Paul's, will attest the pioneering spirit throughout the many years.

Newcomers Tom Lindenfelter of St. Edith's, Don McKinnon of St. Timothy Lutheran, Bob Deacon of St. Maurice and Ken Kircoff of St. Timothy's are a few of the "new" stars in the popular softball competition.

Dog Obedience Courses
All-Breed Registrations are being taken for Beginner's Obedience Training on Wednesday evenings through June and on Monday, July 3 at 7 p.m.

Advanced Novice, Open and Utility on Wednesday, July 5 at 7:30 p.m. Health certificates are required of all trainees.

Classes are held at 31775 Grand River in Farmington. For information, call WE 5-4225 or 476-4950.

Jockey, Trainer Races Sparkle at Hazel Park

The $15,000 Royal Oak Handicap for three-year-olds and up at one mile and a half furlongs will top the 10-race program Saturday, June 17, at the Hazel Park Race Track.

Thoroughbred racing will continue at the Hazel Park oval daily, except Sundays, through July 29. Post parade for the first race is 2:10 p.m. on Saturdays and holidays and 3:20 p.m. on other days.

Lively competition for the jockey and training honors is adding zest to the exciting race cards at Hazel Park these days. Rarely has the track been endowed with so many outstanding riders and conditioners.

Bob Gallimore, who set an all-time Michigan jockey record by bringing in 116 winners at the Detroit Race Course last year, is seeking to add the Hazel Park title to his list of honors. Gallimore, who was the leading rider at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans last winter, has come on strong in his bid for the riding honors at Hazel Park this spring.

Larry Snyder, the defending jockey champion, is putting up a gallant battle to retain his title. There has been little to choose between him and Gallimore through the first half of the season. Despite the fact that the stewards set him down for five days, Snyder has been the busiest rider at the track.

Other saddlesmiths who have been doing well include Bill Zakoor, apprentice Jeff Anderson, Dick Lawless, Earl Knapp, Ronnie Campbell, Don Holmes and Roy Cave.

Dewey Smith, who trains for the powerful T. A. Grisom stable, has been on top of the trainer standings for weeks but his position can't be too secure with such able trainers as Bob Irwin, Archie Grissim, George Hazelton Jr., J. R. Smith, George Stribling and Gary Hemmerling trying to overtake him.

Calling Musicians

The Garden City Parks and Recreation Department will hold auditions on Monday for band groups interested in taking part in the Summer Dance Programs.

For further information, call the Recreation office between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

It's good for the economy.

Yours. You can buy a brand new Volkswagen for a lot less than many used cars will cost you.

A Volkswagen is good for your economy in other ways, too. Like 27 miles to the gallon of regular gas and 40,000 on original tires. No need for anti-freeze, radiator repairs or water hose replacement. A bent VW fender can be repaired without replacing the whole side of the car. Even license plates and insurance cost less. High resale values are an additional bonus to VW owners ready for a new one.

Speaking of economy, better come in and see us right now before new car prices go even higher. Drive a Volkswagen... it's an economy move.

Wrap-Up

BY BILL GAIL

It took an action by the entire Township Board to give township employees the afternoon off for a picnic, June 23, but it only took an action of Supervisor Aldrick Bellaire to give them the entire day off May 29, the Monday before Memorial Day.

Trustee Rhys Lewis wonders what will take place July 3—the Monday before the holiday observing the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Doesn't it seem that Al should consult his board before closing down the township operation?

Here is a pat on the back for Rhys who has raised the question of board participation in negotiations with the Teamsters, bargaining agent for township employees.

He would like to have the board giving direction to its bargaining team and he is so right!

How can township negotiators bargain if they don't know what the board will approve?

The South Redford School Board has not yet made public any demands of the Teamster negotiators with whom they are bargaining.

Do you as a citizen want to know what is going on? Does the board know what the Teamsters are seeking and what its team is offering?

If board members know, they certainly have not declared so publicly.

By way of contrast, in the Redford Union School District, the public is being kept informed of teacher demands and what the district is offering.

This is the way it should be. The public—you and I—should know what is going on so we can express our opinions if we so desire.

Without any information upon which to make a judgment we are left completely at sea.

F'ton Jaycees Plan Junior Golf Tourney

A free golf clinic for area youth 17 years old and under will preface the annual Farmington Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament.

The tournament, scheduled for June 19 at 8 a.m. at the Farmington Country Club, is free for all interested.

Those who do not attend the June 17, 3 to 5 p.m. clinic at All Star Golf Driving Range, conducted by pro Tom King, will still be eligible to take part in the tournament.

Winners of the local tournament will represent Farmington in a sectional tourney, where winners of that meet will go on to state and national contests.

Registration for both clinic and tournament may be conducted through Bob Chapa, 476-8111.

Graduates Girls' School

Sally Finder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Finder, 33549 Argonne, Farmington, has graduated from Linden Hall, the second oldest girls' school in America.

Livonia Hardware Holds 5th Birthday Program

Livonia Hardware owners Al Margolin and Joe Turner are celebrating their five-year anniversary. They purchased the store in May of 1962 and took inventory on Memorial Day of that year. Since then, he says, "We've grown and grown." New lines of merchandise have been added, in appliances, giftware, and even toys. The store provides numerous services for its customers. A sub-station of Detroit Edison takes in electrical appliances for repairs. Utility bills may be paid and money orders and stamps purchased at a courtesy mailing counter. Another area provides for repairs for such items as glass, screen, and window shades.

There are 12 full-time and six part-time employees, with more working during the holiday season.

Margolin says their store is a representative of a nationwide, dealer-owned co-operative which bills itself as "the nation's largest chain of hardware stores." The merchandise brand is V & S, which stands for value and service.

Value and service are what Margolin and Turner try to provide at 33533 Five Mile Road, just west of Farmington Road in Livonia.

Livonia Facility Opens

J.L. Hudson Celebrates New Office

The Livonia branch office of J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co. entertained 300 guests Thursday for the grand opening of its new offices. The offices are at 33233

Five Mile Rd. in Livonia. Among guests present was Philip H. Power, Publisher of Observer Newspapers.

Others included: City Council President Peter Ventura, City Clerk Addison Bacon, Industrial Coordinator Dan Andrew, and Judge James McCann.

J. L. Hudson manager Orland Wysong announced the appointment of Bill Jose as residential sales manager. Jose has been with the company for three years.

Wysong also announced that the Livonia branch will consist of nine full-time housing specialists.

J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co. now consists of four branches. The others are located in Plymouth, Westland and Irish Hills.

Merchants Attend Clinic

Westland neighborhood businessmen were guests of the Cherry Hill-Merriman branch of the National Bank of Detroit to participate in a Businessmen's Loss Prevention Clinic, designed to help prevent the loss of funds in the owner or manager's place of business.

Edward J. Weglarz, manager of the office, said the purpose of the Clinic was "to do everything we can to help the businessmen in our community to prevent cash losses either through errors in handling cash or through fraudulent check passers or counterfeiters.

"What we are really trying to do is present an educational short course to help the businessman protect himself against these kinds of losses," Weglarz added. "Many businessmen in our area have asked for help on these problems, and we feel we can make a valuable contribution with this program."

Participating in the Clinic presentation with Ed Weglarz, was Lt. Gail Stanbury of Westland Police Department. Lt. Stanbury's discussion covered fraudulent check passing and the preventive measures a merchant can take to protect himself.

The program included four presentations: "How to Handle Cash," "How to Detect Fraudulent Checks," and "How to Spot Counterfeit Money." National Bank of Detroit's new Check-Mate Plan and Check Guarantee Card were introduced, a new program of protection for the businessman against worthless checks. Visual aids and counterfeit funds were used in the presentations.

Businessmen attending the Clinic were presented with a 23 page Businessmen's Loss Prevention Guide and other material furnished by government fiscal agencies.

Open New Type Apartments In Farmington

A totally new concept in apartment complexes is being built in the Rouge River valley just off Grand River in the city of Farmington.

The development is different in that the apartments are built on stilts of concrete, raising them some 20 feet from the ground. The ground floor area is utilized for individually covered parking spaces which are lighted at night by automatic timing devices.

Renting for $175 to $220 a month, the complex is made up of one and two-bedroom apartments nestled in the Rouge valley with views of outdoor planting and park-like settings.

Two-bedroom units have a bath and a half. All apartments have large closets and wall-to-wall carpeting with private balconies on most. These balconies are accessible from the living or bedroom by sliding glass doors. Kitchens include refrigerator-freezers, automatic oven ranges, cabinets with Formica doors and countertops, disposals and eating areas.

Built by Max Dobrowsky and Albert Roseblum, the first 53-units of the project have been completed and are rented.

Aluminum Screens Adds to House Color Scheme, Says Architectural Expert

"The recent introduction of green and gray in aluminum wire screening means that the screened portions of the house exterior can now lend decorator interest to the whole color scheme of the house," noted George Tsuruoka, architectural consultant to The Aluminum Association recently.

He reminded his audience of homeowners that as much as 50 per cent of a home exterior can be covered with screening.

"Depending on the size, design and setting of the house, anyone contemplating the addition of a screened patio, porch or carport enclosure this Spring should consider carefully his selection of color in screening—green, gray or bright—to harmonize with the entire house exterior," Tsuruoka said.

For example, on a large, prominent porch or patio, the bright screening may distract the eye, and the subdued gray aluminum screening blend more readily, according to Tsuruoka.

Growing numbers of young families, searching for added, inexpensive, living space in their homes, are turning to the aluminum screened enclosure of carport, patio and porch, particularly as summer approaches.

Responding to this demand, manufacturers have fabricated complete, color coordinated, pre-assembled in part, enclosures designed around the new colors in aluminum screening.

"The visual impact and architectural implications of an aluminum screened enclosure addition on a home—even the screening color on the combination windows and doors—has won the attention of industry," Tsuruoka said.

"Today, the builder and home improvement contractor have assumed the role of the exterior decorator, a fine service to the homeowner," he added.

Wendy Ward Ready To Crown New Queen

S. D. Ward, District General Manager of Montgomery Ward & Co. Stores, announces the spring term graduation and coronation of the 25,000th Wendy Ward Graduate on June 22 at 7 p.m. in the Livonia Store.

Loretta Weller, Wendy Ward Director, for South-eastern Michigan, will present Karen Stewart, 13 yrs. old, of Farmington with a gift certificate for a $100 Wardrobe.

The Wendy Ward Program was born in the Livonia area in 1961 and has continued to grow every year in this area. Teenage girls have made this program the largest of its kind anywhere in the world.

At the ceremony honoring the 25,000th graduate, Mrs. Terry Flowers, who was in the first graduating class in 1961 will be honored with a complete layette for her baby.

Also present will be the former Miss Michigan, Denise Kathy Blazk, June Eden, former Miss Michigan State Fair, and Brenda Humphrey presently Miss Wendy Ward of 1967.

Miss Weller said "We at Wards will continue to challenge lovely young ladies to better themselves through the basic rudiments of charm—with our ever expanding program of Professionally taught classes.

Annoying Little Things

As everyone knows, it's the "little things" that turn out to be major conveniences or annoyances.

Take the size of the lavatory bowl in your bathroom, for example. According to a survey of middle-income families who were asked to evaluate their bathrooms, 25 per cent of homeowners said their bowls were too small. In the case of renters, the percentage was over 50 per cent.

A too-small bowl can be a daily irritation to the entire family, whether it comes to washing, shampooing or doing laundry.

On The Lawn

Beware of Dog

are probably always present. When I tell anyone that his lawn has a touch of fungus disease, he is likely to be either shocked or indignant, as if this were something to be ashamed about.

Actually, fungus spores but they only multiply and become a problem under certain conditions of temperature and humidity. Then you may have an outbreak of leafspot, snowmold, dollar-spot or brownpatch.

There is quite a lot of leafspot around in some areas and if you had it last year the chances are you'll have it again. Simplest method of control is to use a fertilizer containing a fungicide.

However, don't get the idea that all discoloration in a lawn is due to fungus. In my experience, most brown areas are caused by Rover or Fido, man's best friend. I've heard of dozens of cures for this problem but have never met one, short of strict canine training, that was really any good.

2 Injured In Wreck Of Trucks

Two men were injured in a spectacular pileup of two trucks at Five Mile and Fairfield which dumped a load of sod along the roadway.

Treated and released after the accident were Thomas Matthes, Jr., driver of a J. L. Hudson Co. van, and his partner, James Reynolds.

Police said the van was stopped on Fairfield waiting for traffic to clear when the truck driven east on Five Mile by John Meyers, 25, of Livonia, started to stop behind traffic at a light.

Meyers told police his brakes failed and, in swerving to avoid another vehicle, steering the truck into the intersection, striking the van. Meyers was not injured.

Cosmos Give Color With Little Work

Cosmos thrive on neglect. Select the type and color you prefer, plant the seeds and forget them. They'll grow and produce hundreds of bright flowers for your garden with an absolute minimum of care.

There are two entirely different types of cosmos. The first grows from 4 to 6 feet high and has flowers in white or shades of pink, rose or scarlet.

The second is earlier blooming, much lower (3 feet high) and has flowers of yellow or orange.

The first type described above is called Early Sensation and seeds may be bought of mixed colors or of separate ones.

Pinkie and Crimson Scarlet obviously have blossoms of the colors described by their names.

A two toned or bi-color cosmos is called Radiance. This is soft rose color with a deep maroon center which becomes a moroon flush as it spreads outward on the petals.

There also is a crested or anemone-flowered form of cosmos which has a single row of petals around a many-petaled or crested center—an interesting departure from the usual form.

Use Direct Sunlight for Geranium Plant Growth

Direct sunlight promotes the vigorous growth of geraniums and the plants will bloom continually, remind Penn State Extension floriculture specialists. Geraniums need several hours of direct sunlight every day. The plants grow well in south windows, but may be placed in east or west windows providing the sun will shine on them a few hours each day. In shade, geraniums develop long thin stems, small leaves, and few flowers.

Fairway Farms Gets Pool

Fairway Farms residents, and those of surrounding Livonia subdivisions, are looking forward to a summer of swim fun, now that the Fairway Farms Swim Club has been dedicated.

The Club, located at 16225 Levan Road between Five and Six Mile Roads, has a junior Olympic size swimming pool, a wading pool, a bathhouse, snack bar and lounge, and a playground and other recreational facilities.

Serving 300 member families, the club is the result of efforts by 10 Fairway Farms residents. Members of the board of directors are: Edward Hyman, president; John Hopkins, vice president; Harold Wilkin, secretary; Tom Mariotti, treasurer; and Duane Egeland, Jack Brenne-man, Paul Roberts, Don Tappan, Herb Sielaff and Municipal Judge James McCann, directors.

Dedication ceremonies featured a welcome by Hyman, and addresses by Mayor Harvey Moelke and Council President Peter A. Ventura. A commemorative plaque was presented by a representative from the general contractor. Other distinguished guests were: Councilmen Robert F. Nash, Edward G. Milligan and Jerry Raymond.

Distress Call Travels To Arizona From Florida

It happened casually enough.

Mrs. Robert Burt of Tucson, Ariz., the former Pat Hayworth of Farmington and the wife of Air Force Capt. Robert Burt of Livonia, was sitting in her living room, knitting and listening to a citizen's band radio.

Suddenly the radio coughed, and out came a distress message from 2000-miles distant off-coast Florida. A fogbound boat in the Gulf of Mexico needed help—and had reached no one.

So, acting like any citizen's band-owner would, Mrs. Burt calmly picked up the phone, reached the Arizona Highway Patrol, who teletyped the Florida State Police, who called the Taylor County, Florida, Sheriff's Office.

They in turn notified the Coast Guard, and the stranded boater — a woman — was duly rescued. The fact that the radio fluke — experts attributed it to a normal atmospheric conditions — didn't phase Mrs. Burt in the least.

Aluminum Boats Popular

LANSING — Lightweight aluminum has supplanted wood as the most popular hull building material for motorboats registered in Michigan.

More than one third of all the motorboats in Michigan registered through the first part of 1967 by the Michigan Department of State have aluminum hulls.

A total registration of about 320,000 boats was tabulated, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare. Of these, nearly 127,000 were constructed of aluminum; nearly 88,000 of wood; more than 62,500 of plastic; nearly 23,000 of steel; and some 19,000 of other materials.

By far the most popular motorboats are aluminum hull outboards 16 feet or less in length. There are more than 118,000 registered in Michigan. Wood hull boats under 16 feet are the second most popular with nearly 55,000 registered. In the larger boat categories, wood becomes the most popular building material, registering 6,000 boats from 26 to 65 feet.

County registrations range from 155 registered in sparsely populated Keweenaw County to more than 51,000 in populous Wayne County. Oakland has the second largest total, 26,500. Genesee County has 17,500, ahead of Kent with 17,400. Other counties with more than 10,000 motorboats registered are Macomb 16,190 and Ingham, 10,022.

Hare took the opportunity to appeal to motorboat owners who have not registered their craft to do so at once before the boating season gets into full swing over the July Fourth holiday.

This is the second year of the current registration, said Hare. Motorboats may be registered for $2 at any branch office of the Secretary of State.

Hare estimates that there are still about 150,000 boats in Michigan which have not been registered by their owners.

Cottage Cheese High Protein, Low Calories

Dieters, what food is low in calories yet high in food value?

It's cottage cheese — low enough in calories that you can use it on your weight-reduction diet, suggests Mrs. June L. Sears, MSU Extension home economist for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. An average serving of one-half cup of creamed cottage cheese gives you 120 calories.

But it also adds nearly as much protein as a medium serving of fish, poultry, or lean meat (3 oz. cooked), or three eggs, or three slices of cheddar cheese (3 oz.).

When you compare equal weights of cheddar cheese and cottage cheese, you will find three times as many calories are in cheddar cheese as in cottage cheese. A half cup cottage cheese also supplies as much calcium as one-third cup milk.

One half cup of this inexpensive food meets one-fourth of a woman's daily protein need.

It's versatile, Mrs. Sears emphasizes. Use cottage cheese for topping pancakes or with fruit as dessert for dinner. Try it with spices and seasonings such as caraway, chopped chives, ginger, or paprika. Use it with fruit or vegetables in salads, or with meat, fish, eggs or other dairy products.

Keep in mind that cottage cheese is perishable! Keep it covered and refrigerated, and use it while it's still fresh.

Plymouth School Enrollment Up 138 In A Year

Plymouth School district had an increase of 138.25 students during 1966-67 school year, according to figures presented to the Board Monday by Asst. Supt. Melvin Blunk.

Blunk reported the district had a total of 7,502.50 students on Sept. 30 contrasted to 7,640.75 on May 19.

The gain was in the elementary schools where enrollment grew by 196 during the school year from 4,285 to 4,481 contrasted to 3,217.50 in the secondary schools at the start of classes in September to 3,159.75 in mid-May.

The enrollment by schools on May 19 included: Allen—656, Bird—697, Farrand—682, Gallimore—535, Geer—58, Smith—583, South Salem—22, Starkweather—445, Tanger—371, Truesdell—83, Junior High West (Sixth Grade)—349, Junior High West (7th-8th grades)—716, Junior High East—1,001, and senior high—1,442.75.

Broken down by grades, the count includes: Kindergarten—705, First—592, Second—592, Third—619, Fourth—691, Fifth—649, Sixth—615, Special Education—28, Seventh—575, Eighth—561, Ninth—567, Tenth—526, Eleventh—427 and Twelfth—414.24 and Evening School—59.50 (represents 92 individual students).

Summer Jobs Are Good Training For Young Folks

Every healthy young person wishes to try working at real jobs, whether they are full-time or part-time ones. Parents need to understand this desire to work as one of the developmental needs of youth, says Mrs. Marguerite L. Duvall, extension family life specialist of The Pennsylvania State University.

It isn't too early for teens to look for a summer job. Without being overprotective, parents can encourage them to try a real job. However, parents and youth should realize there is more competition today for full-time and part-time employment. Those with experience get preference for the jobs.

When applying for their first jobs, young people can expect them to be menial. But, such jobs are valuable for the experiences they provide. This is one reason why youth need parents' encouragement and guidance in their job-hunting efforts, Mrs. Duvall points out.

Summer jobs provide many good experiences for teens. The pride of earning their own money and working gives them the feeling of achieving adult status. Holding their jobs and doing good work help young people develop responsibility and self-confidence.

A summer job can suggest career possibilities for the young person who hasn't made up his mind about his future. If he tries various work areas, he may find the job that looked appealing isn't all he thought it would be. Summer work can open up new areas that he wouldn't have thought about otherwise, Mrs. Duvall adds.

Suggestions Pay Off

More than 40 per cent of the 17,500 proposals from Detroit Edison employees for providing better service to customers, improving work efficiency, and promoting job safety have been adopted by the company and cash awards totaling $631,700 have been paid since the proposal plan was initiated in 1952.

Bean Styles, Like Autos, May Change

The next time you eat a plate of beans look them over to see if they are the same style you were consuming 10 years ago. You expect women's clothes and automobiles to go "out of style" but if someone told you beans did, you would think they were off balance.

But Michigan State University crop scientists say more than 90 per cent of Michigan's more than a half-million acres of white pea beans to be planted in June will go into varieties not known to farmers 10 years ago.

Michelite—the bean that made Michigan famous—is no longer available in certified seed. Neither is Saginaw, and even newer variety of the vine type pea bean, Dr. Milton Erdmann, MSU crops extension specialist, says the trend is altogether toward the bush variety bean.

Sanilac, Gratiot, and Seaway—three MSU research produced varieties—are all bush beans and will account for most of the acreage.

Navy bean production is concentrated in the fine-textured lake bed soils of the Thumb and Saginaw Valley areas. Canning factories like the Michigan varieties of beans and as a result Michigan growers produce most of the crop that goes into cans as baked beans. Dry Michigan Beans are also exported to England and Europe, where they are canned.

New varieties tend to be less susceptible to disease which cuts yields and depreciates quality, Erdmann says.

Of the 50 million kilowatts of net capacity of the world's electric generating capacity put into service in 1964, the United States accounted for 23 per cent, U.S.S.R. for 20 per cent, and the United Kingdom for 4 per cent.

Scouts 'Tour' Countries

One thousand Girl Scouts entertained with authentic Highland dancing by Ann and June Plomer of Redford Township, medal winners in the St. Andrew's competition.

The committee consisted of Mrs. Eileen McIntyre, Mr. Lucille Feisel, Mrs. Edith Gadwa, and Mrs. Mary Van Alsten.

Each of the nine neighborhoods in the district represented a different country, dressed in costume, and demonstrated a dance, skill or song of the chosen country.

Countries represented were Holland, Mexico, Ireland, Japan, France, Italy, Switzerland, and Hawaii.

As a climax to a day, learning the heritage of other countries, the Scouts were

Open Fight To End Air Pollution

By Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Director

Michigan Department of Public Health

If you live on a farm, the dust in your home probably came directly from the fields or from a dirt road nearby. But if your home is in an industrial city, or even near one, a good part of that dust probably came out of the air.

It fell just like rain, because industrial plants, power plants, and home furnaces and trash burners send tons of solid material into the air every day. This smoke, soot, and chemical eventually falls to the ground in a wide area.

A good example is downtown Muskegon where actual samples show that 188 tons of this debris falls on every square mile each month.

The industrial areas of our state have had this air pollution problem for many years, and now some of our smaller communities are experiencing air pollution for the first time.

The extra housework caused by this grime is irritating, but a larger problem is the potential health hazard. Our statistics show that respiratory and heart disease rates for city dwellers are above those for people who live in the non-industrial areas of our state.

Studies conducted by competent scientists indicate that air pollution is a contributing factor to a person being affected by these diseases.

Take lung cancer. Some people say, "That's no problem for me, I don't smoke," but a nationwide test conducted by the Federal Public Health Service showed that benzopyrene (one of the cancer producing agents in cigarette smoke) is also present in your car exhaust, and in some industrial gases as well.

That same survey went on to say that the average person living in downtown Detroit, will inhale an amount of benzopyrene every day, equal to that from a number of cigarettes. While there is no definite proof, we do suspect that air pollution is linked to the cause of lung cancer, along with smoking.

In older folks with respiratory diseases, such as asthma or chronic bronchitis, continued exposure to polluted air can make breathing very difficult, and can even cause death. Polluted air most frequently causes recognizable problems in the very young, old, and the sick.

Meanwhile the rest of us are getting a daily dose of gas and particles in our lungs, that may eventually cause us to develop some type of health problem we might have otherwise avoided.

Fortunately we in Michigan are getting an early start in our war on air pollution. We have watched, and learned lessons from the serious pollution of Los Angeles, New York, and others.

These, and other warnings of the potential health dangers of pollution aided the passage of Michigan's 1965 Clean Air Act. This established an Air Pollution Control Commission which is comprised of three governmental leaders, and six citizens.

Now we have the needed legal authority to expand our state health department's program of air testing, technical assistance to industry, and protective services to people.

Through the reasonable application of the law, through working with industry, and through the use of modern technology and careful planning, we can eliminate much of our existing aerial contamination and prevent more from occurring.

Fix Plans For Unique Blood Bank

The most significant blood bank in the world is now being expanded in the Metropolitan Detroit area for a research virus study into the causes of birth defects.

Karen Wardlaw, a June 1967 graduate of Wayne State University, who is a senior laboratory technician at the Wayne State Medical School, is the coordinator of the program.

The project is sponsored by the National Foundation — March of Dimes, through the University of Michigan, under the direction of Dr. Gordon Brown.

His associate, Dr. Tommy Evans, head of the Gynecology and Obstetrics Department at the Wayne State University School of Medicine, is expanding the collection of paired blood specimens from pregnant women to determine virus infections and their effects on babies born with birth defects in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

The research program calls for pregnant women to volunteer to give blood samples through their personal physician during the first three months of pregnancy, and again within 72 hours after delivery so that the paired sera can be checked for the presence of viruses.

A study of a large sampling of paired sera will give clues into the causes of birth defects and the possible prevention.

Makes Dean's List

Rights Group Names Zoet as Chairman

Charles Zoet was elected chairman of the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity at the group's May meeting. He had been filling the unexpired term of former chairman John Grotz.

Other new officers are Irvin Nichols, vice chairman; Sister Joannell, S.S.J., secretary; and Mrs. Rita Maly, treasurer.

The Assembly also discussed financing of its scholarship for a Negro student at Schoolcraft College. Brenda Parker, last year's winner, will continue to receive the scholarship. Donations of $630 have been received toward the Assembly's goal of $800.

Completes Course

Army Pvt. Donald L. Dawes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dawes, of 29615 Greenland, Livonia, has completed a six-week general supply course at Ft. Dix, N.J.

Jan, A Busy Bee, Shares Honors at Franklin

One of the outstanding seniors among Franklin High School's Class of 1967 is Janet K. Welch, daughter of Mrs. Robert E. Welch, 32458 Washington. Jan shared with classmate Thomas R. Bates Jr., the distinction of being named National Merit Scholar.

Jan's academic rank among her more than 600 classmates also helped her to receive a University of Michigan Regents Scholarship and the Webster Scholarship of Albion College. She will enter Albion next September to begin work toward a Liberal Arts degree.

Others honors received this year include a Department Award in English, her second All-School Activities pin, and the coveted Ben Franklin key which goes to a selected few students who have given unselfishly of their time and talent to the school.

Jan's high school activities have been impressively diverse. She has been an oboist for three years and has served on the yearbook staff with the Symphonic Band same length of time, sharing the editorship of the 1967 Almanack with Shelley Winters.

As a Sophomore she was also a staff worker for Amos, the creative arts magazine, and had two original poems published in the National Poetry Anthology. Choreography was added to her talent list during Junior year, when she devised the dream scene for "Oklahoma," the all-school musical. Last fall she was official choreographer for "Little Mary Sunshine." Her middle-year activities included German Club and Orchestra. During her Senior year Jan continued membership in the Orchestra, served as a varsity cheerleader, and won the Lions Club Peace Essay Contest.

Electric Power generation in the United States has been doubling about every 10 years—a rate of growth more than two times of the Gross National Product, according to a Detroit Edison source.

MR. AND MRS. CONRAD ESSLIN

Couple Wed 50 Years -- 46 of Them in Redford

A Redford Township couple who have lived on Gaylord Avenue for 46 years will mark their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, June 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Esslin will celebrate the day with an open house at their home, and guests will include all of their seven children and many of the 33 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Esslin's 98-year-old father, Frank L. Esslin, may be able to attend. He lives in the Marycrest Manor now, but used to be their next-door neighbor on Gaylord.

Before the open house, Mrs. Esslin and some of the family and friends will go to St. Agatha's church for a Mass of Thanksgiving. Esslin, confined to his home by illness, won't be able to make that visit, but Father Varty of St. Agatha's will come to the Esslin home the following Saturday for a special mass for the immediate family.

The Esslins were married June 20, 1917, in St. Ann

Church at Howard and Nineteenth in downtown Detroit. They moved to their small house on Gaylord four years later. When the children started arriving and the house became too cramped, they built a bigger one next door and the elder Esslin's took over the first home.

The Esslin clan will gather from as far off as California for the big day. Son Frank will come from his Covina home to be with his parents on their golden anniversary, but his family won't be able to make the trip.

Other sons and daughters who will be on hand are Mrs. Dennis Armstrong, of Cheboygan, Mich., Lionel Esslin and Mrs. Douglas McLeod, of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Virginia Smith, of Northville, and Mrs. Charles Crippen and Mrs. James Patrick, both of Redford Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Esslin in recent years took care of three of their grandchildren after their oldest daughter died 10 years ago. They had one other child who died in infancy.

Livonia Secretary In State Post

Mrs. Helen Ellmore, president of the Town and Country chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International), is the new treasurer on the state executive board of the NSA.

Mrs. Ellmore, secretarial assistant to the president of Unistrut Corp. and a resident of Livonia, has been a member of NSA since 1955 and has served on chapter executive boards in both Indiana and Michigan.

Named to succeed her as she takes over the state post is Mrs. Mildred I. Reynolds, CPS, who recently was elected president of the Town and Country chapter.

Mrs. Reynolds will be installed Tuesday, June 20, at the association's dinner meeting in Hillside Inn, Plymouth.

Taking office with her will be Mrs. Eve A. Mouilso, of Livonia. Other officers include May L. Aird, recording secretary, Dorothy Maier, corresponding secretary and Wilma Socall, treasurer.

MRS. HELEN ELLMORE

'Sunshine Group' Meets

The senior citizens "Sunshine Group" will meet from 11 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday, June 12, in Fellowship Hall of the Newburg Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia. All persons over 55 are invited.

THE MEADOWBROOK Music Festival offers music lovers in this area some of the world's best music under the stars.

Opening Night Is Just Two Weeks Off For Meadowbrook Music Festival

With opening night of the Meadowbrook Music Festival just two weeks off, area music lovers are ordering tickets and preparing for melody-filled summer evenings at the lovely pavilion at Oakland University.

Special committees in Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington are handling tickets for the concerts in four week series or for the full eight weeks of performances by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

The Livonia committee, headed by Mrs. Leslie Core, will sponsor a bus trip to Meadowbrook the night of July 22. The group will meet at the Stevenson High School parking lot at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Core said a few tickets for the Livonia night are still available at $9.50 per couple or $4.75 for a single, and may be obtained by calling her at GA 1-1654. The price includes bus ride and pavilion seat.

Artists for the Meadowbrook series include guest conductor Charles Munch, pianist Van Cliburn, tenor Jan Pearce and the Robert Shaw Chorale.

Tickets may be purchased from local committee members for Series A, which runs from June 29 to July 23, Series B, from July 27 to Aug. 20, or for the entire season.

For tickets or more information, music lovers in the area may contact Mrs. Core in Livonia. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mosshamer, 34032 Moore Drive,

Farmington, will head their community's committee, and Mrs. Ray A. Hulce, 9275 McClumpha Road, Plymouth, will be Meadowbrook head for her area.

The Committees include: Farmington — Mrs. Willis Caldwell, 23440 Wilmarth; Mrs. James Geiger, 25778 Castlereigh; Mrs. Delos Hamlin, 23201 Cass, and Mrs. Robert Taylor, 32311 W. Wayburn.

Plymouth — Mrs. James Jabara, 1354 Elm; Mrs. Arthur E. Larson 1461 Maple; Mrs. William L. Schollenberger, 14956 Maplewood Lane, and Mrs. Herbert Woolweaver, 660 N. Sheldon.

Big Family Club Booms

Now 72 families strong, the Farmington Large Families Club will hold its third monthly meeting at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 20, in the basement of Our Lady of Sorrows church.

Election of a seven-member board of directors will be the main business of the session. A spokesman said there also would be a report on preliminary talks with local merchants in connection with establishing cooperative buying plans.

Families also will be asked to pay their first year's dues.

The only requirement for membership is that the family have at least five children. At last count, families now in the group totaled 572 youngsters.

Easter Seal Camp Picks Livonia Man

The Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County announces the appointment of Robert Jaffe of Livonia as Program Director of the summer Day Camp for crippled children to be held at the Easter Seal Center near Middlebelt and Michigan in Inkster July 10 through August 4.

Jaffe, now a speech therapist in the Wyandotte Public Schools, has had ten years of experience in various capacities in camp programming and management, including the position of Director at Camp Maplehurst in Kewadin, Michigan. He lives with his wife Mildred and two small children at 19849 Maplewood.

Registration forms for campers are now available at the Easter Seal Center, P.O. Box 101, Inkster 48141. The opening session July 10-July 21 is designed for physically handicapped boys and girls 12 years of age and older. Younger campers will make up the second session July 24-August 4.

There are still openings for teen age volunteers to serve as counselors, aides and program assistants during either session.

Further information may be secured by calling the Easter Seal Center at PA 2-3055 between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Girl Born to Brots

Mr. and Mrs. William Brots, of Kalamazoo, announce the recent birth of a daughter, Mrs. Brots is the former Connie Jean Beller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beller, of Plymouth. Mrs. Clara Brots, of Garden City, is the paternal grandmother.

Plan Talk On 'Human Resources'

The Livonia League of Women Voters will hear a talk on "Human Resources" at its general meeting at 8:15 p.m. tonight (Wednesday) in the home of Mrs. James Callow, 15511 Oak Drive.

The speaker will be from the Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity. As an added attraction, there will be a film shown by the Water Resources Committee "It's Your Decision—Clear Water."

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan volunteer organization. It is open to all women citizens 21 years of age and over. For further information call the membership chairman, Mrs. William Dayton, 427-9433.

Rouge Garden Club Cited

The Rouge Valley branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association received five awards at the organization's state convention in East Lansing recently.

Mrs. Franklin Carter, president, and Mrs. Matthias Mishung, membership chairman, received the awards, given in the category for branches with 25 or less members.

Three first-place awards were won for civic improvement, horticulture and newsletter, and the group also took second place in conservation and third for international cooperation.

By Margaret Miller

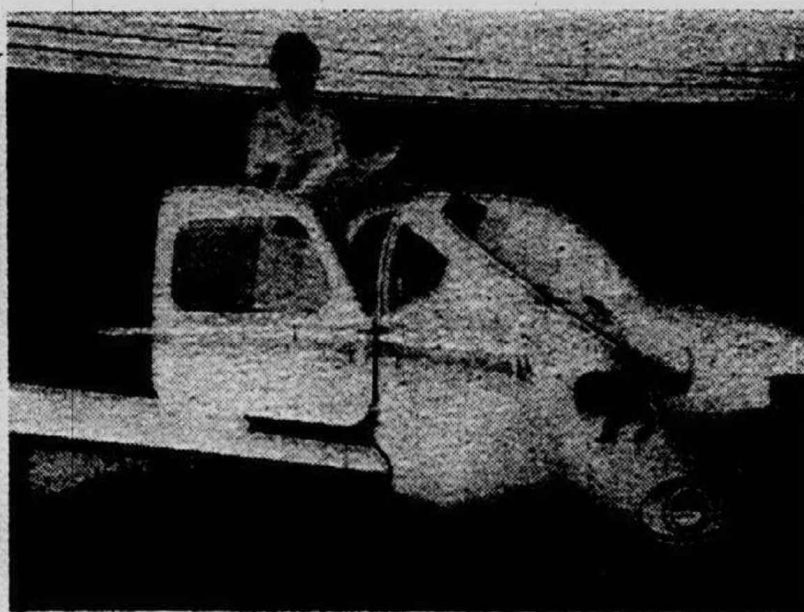

The busy happenings of an active family, home and two demanding careers can leave a couple with precious little recreation time.

So when they find that precious time, Lois and Dick Waskin, of Livonia, are inclined to go straight up in the air—in their own plane.

The enjoyment of piloting their light plane has for several years played an important part in the busy schedules of both Lois, who with another woman operates franchising, advertising and public relations firms that market a special kind of bread, and Dick, who has a car rental agency in Ann Arbor.

They now are on their second plane—a shiny new model.

"We hated to give up

LOIS WASKIN, ready to take off in the family plane.

the first one—it was almost like a member of the family," said Lois. "But we were afraid it was going to need too much repair work."

Their four children—Kathy, now a student at the University of Michigan, high schooler Hedy, 13-year-old Richard and Wendy, eight—enjoy trips to Mettatal Airport and occasional rides, but it's their parents who are the real flying buffs.

"I was the one who started it all," recalled Lois. "I had wanted to try flying for years, and when we moved from Detroit to Livonia and were near several small airports the wish got stronger."

Dick Waskin had served in the Air Force during World War II, but his flying memories weren't particularly pleasant ones, so his enthusiasm came more slowly.

"But one afternoon at the airport," Lois remembered, "I finally went in and took a ride and got all the information. And when I got home with it I found Dick was planning to take lessons too."

Both now are licensed private pilots and enjoy flying on recreational jaunts. Lois uses their plane occasionally for business trips, but finds that unpredictable weather makes her lean more on commercial airlines.

Her work tends to involve quite a bit of travel. With Mrs. Florentine Stewart, she operates Specialties Baking Services, Scope Advertising and Christopher Gerard public relations services.

All revolve around the franchising and promotion of a delicious bread known as Sunbran, and the work includes lining up baking firms all over the country to produce it, then helping them promote their sales.

"We now cover a good share of the country and have a full time salesman who travels around making contacts," Lois said. The firm also has recently added a line of frozen baked goods.

The firm came into being about 15 years ago when the Kellogg Corp. developed the recipe but didn't want to get into the bread business.

At first Lois was a part-time partner, but the expanding business, which has its home in Birmingham, now gives more than enough to do on a full time basis.

But she manages plenty of evening and weekend hours with the family plane.

"One thing I find amazing," she said, "is that while lots of women enjoy flying, you don't find many husbands and wives flying together."

"Many of the men pilots we've met have wives who won't go near the airport. I wish they realized they are missing a great experience."

Col. Cohn Retires as S.A. Leader

Colonel Marlon M. Cohn, Salvation Army Commander, Eastern Michigan Division, has received orders to go on an extended leave because of ill health.

After a period of rest and recuperation, the Colonel will be reassigned by The Salvation Army to another area of responsibility. His successor will be announced later.

Colonel and Mrs. Cohn were appointed by The Salvation Army to the Eastern Michigan Division in January, 1964. Friends honored them with a farewell ceremony last week at the Citadel, Salvation Army Headquarters in Detroit.

MRS. JAMES VINCENT PRIESTLY (Cheryl Mae Walker)

Cheryl Walker Is Wed To James V. Priestly

St. Robert Bellarmine church in Redford Township was the setting for the recent wedding of Cheryl Mae Walker and James Vincent Priestly.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Priestly, former residents of Redford Township and Detroit who now make their home in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. John Walker, of Dearborn, are the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza and French chantilly lace, fashioned with a portrait neckline and long pointed sleeves. The cathedral train was made of lace ruffles, and the bouffant veil fell from a crystal coronet.

Attendants in a rainbow of pastel polished linen A-line gowns preceded the bride down the aisle. Mary Shostall, as maid of honor, wore lilac, and bridesmaids Roberta Leverenz, sister of the bride, Carol Gerwolls, Sandy Lovochovich and Linda Morgan were in shades of pink, blue, yellow and green. All wore daisy headpieces.

Small Susan Beager, the bridegroom's cousin, was flower girl and wore lilac silk organza and white lace. Gerald Leverenz was ring bearer.

Assisting the bridegroom were his cousin, Don Beager, and ushers John Walker, brother of the bride, William Rose, Steve Morris and Larry Lewis.

A pale pink silk and wool suit was Mrs. Walker's choice for the wedding, and Mrs. Priestly wore an ice green coat and dress costume.

The reception for 300 guests was held in the I.O.O.F. hall in Dearborn. Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the newlyweds are making their home in Chicago.

Players Seek New Members

The Wayne Civic Players are conducting a hunt for new talent all over the Observer area.

The group now has a number of members who do not live in Wayne, and is interested in including would-be thespians from a wider area, particularly Livonia, Garden City and Westland.

Interested actors—or others who enjoy amateur theater—are invited to see group's annual performance of one-act productions, to be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday, June 16, at the John Glenn High School, Wayne.

Scenes will be put on from "The Mad Woman of Chailot," "A Thurbur Carnival," and "Cloud Seven."

For more information about the Wayne Civic Players, Mrs. F. J. Button may be called at 261-3183.

Plymouth Family With Witnesses

The John Badalutz family, of Ford Street, Plymouth, was among the more than 1,200 Jehovah's Witnesses convened at the Northville High School last week-end for a Bible educational forum.

Said Badalutz, "The present unstable world has caused many serious thinking persons to weaken in faith, if not to lose faith entirely. Who can have faith in a God they declare to be dead? This claim has shaken many. We feel that we are greatly steadied by a detailed consideration of the Bible as was done at Northville."

The theme of the assembly, according to Badalutz, was "Supply to Your Faith Endurance." All talks and demonstrations were designed to present that thought.

Pilgrim Shrine Dinner Listed in Plymouth

The Pilgrims Shrine order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem will have a dinner and ceremonial June 19 in Plymouth Masonic Temple honoring the past worthy high priestesses and the past Watchmen of Shepherds.

MRS. RICHARD SWARTZ
(June Elizabeth Bagdade)

Swartz-Bagdade Vows Spoken in Temple Israel

June Elizabeth Bagdade became the bride of Richard David Swartz in an afternoon ceremony in Temple Israel Sunday, May 28.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bagdade, of Farmington, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Seymour Swartz, also of Farmington.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of patterned silk, with a chapel train and a yoke embroidered with seed pearls.

The bride's mother designed the crown headpiece which held a fingertip-length illusion veil. The crown was covered with heirloom Alencon lace and embroidered with seed pearls.

Alice Deborah Bagdade, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Bagdade of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Walter Bagdade of Pittsburgh, Pa., sisters-in-law of the bride, and Shelly and Ellen Swartz, sisters of the bridegroom.

All wore pink lace floor-length dresses. Their round crown headpieces were of matching pink lace. The maid of honor's bouquet was pink carnations and roses and the bridesmaids carried pink roses and baby chrysanthemums.

The mother of the bride selected a dress of beige re-embroidered Alencon lace over pink. A pink and white cotton lace coat dress, was Mrs. Swartz's choice.

Howard Shapiro, of Huntington Woods, was best man. Dr. John Bagdade of Seattle, Dr. Walter Bagdade of Pittsburgh, James Cohen and Robert Swartz were ushers.

The ceremony was followed by a luncheon reception at the Statler Hilton.

After a trip to Expo 67 in Montreal, Maine and the east coast, the couple will live in Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom will continue his studies in the Honors Program of the University of Michigan Medical School while his wife will do graduate work toward a master's degree in sociology. She will also teach in the Plymouth school system.

Dance Program to Aid Opportunity Center

A program of the dance arts and a Fairy Tale Ballet in two acts will be presented by students of the Plymouth School of Dance in the 1967 version of DansArama on Saturday, June 17, in the Northville High School Auditorium.

The performance is a benefit for the League's Community Opportunity Center for the Handicapped. Tickets are available at the Plymouth School of Dance and will be on sale the night of the program at the box office.

Sarah Cochrane DAR Chapter Plans Picnic

The Sarah Anne Cochrane chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold a picnic Monday, June 19, at the home of Mrs. Earl Mastick in Milford.

Martha-Mary Chapel Is Scene Of Greene-Lister Wedding

A double-ring ceremony in the Martha-Mary Chapel at Greenfield Village united Janette Joan Lister, of Marion, Ind., and Avery Holdridge Greene, of Sheldon Road, Plymouth, in marriage Saturday, June 10.

The bridegroom is general manager of Greene Motors Volkswagen in Livonia.

He is the grandson of the late Clarence W. Avery, who designed and built the first moving assembly line at the Ford Motor Co. and later was president of Murray Corp. and chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank in the Midwest.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Lister, of Peoria, Ill., are the bride's parents.

The Rev. William Fleming, of Plymouth, heard the couple's vows.

Soft candlelight Saki linen fashioned the bride's gown. There were accents of baroque Venice lace at the empire waistline and on the short sleeves, and wide bands of the lace on the skirt. Her elbow-length veil was caught in a headpiece of lace and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Preceding her to the altar were a matron of honor, three bridesmaids and a flower girl, all in floor-length gowns of mint green linen.

A reception was held for 150 guests in Lovett Hall at Greenfield Village. The couple went to the Smoky Mountains and Gatlinburg, Tenn., for their honeymoon and will live on Simpson Ave., Plymouth.

MRS. AVERY GREENE
(Janette Joan Lister)

Bert Oliver Is Married In New York

Linda Ruth Bloom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bloom of Freeport, N.Y., was married June 11 in Garden City, N.Y. to Bert Richard Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand James Oliver of Plymouth.

Nassau County Court Judge Paul Kelly performed the ceremony in the Regency Room of the Garden City Hotel. A reception was held there afterwards.

The bride wore white silk organza appliqued with lace embroidered with pearls, and a crystal of pearl crown held her tulle veil. She carried lilies of the valley and roses.

Diane Ruth Oliver, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Also attending the bride were Barbara Levine, Nancy Moore, and Sabra Williams.

Richard H. Bloom, the bride's brother, was best man.

The bride graduated in March from Pennsylvania State University. She majored in fine art and was a member of Pi Gamma Alpha, National Art Honorary Society.

Her husband graduated from the Pennsylvania State University in June of 1966. He has just completed his first year at Columbia University law school where he is a member of Phi Delta Phi, international legal Fraternity.

He will be employed by New York Mayor John Lindsay's office this summer, doing research for the Bureau of the Budget.

Area Churches Prepare for Annual Vacation Bible Schools

Churches all over Oberlin are concentrating on a traditional June activity—preparations for the annual Vacation Bible Schools.

June 19 to 30 will be the dates of several Bible school sessions, which will run from Monday through Friday and will combine some special religious instruction with summer fun for youngsters of nursery age up.

Other churches will be conducting their bible schools a little later in the summer.

A parade at 1 p.m. Saturday, June 17, will launch the two-week session at Clarenceville Methodist Church, where the Rev. Elsie Johns is pastor.

The parade will include floats, with trophies to be given for the best, and the selection of a king and queen of 1967 Bible school, to be chosen from the five-to-seven set.

A band directed by Mrs. Paul Arensam will be on hand, along with church school youngsters on decorated bicycles.

Mrs. William Kelly is chairman for the parade, which will start from the church at 20300 Middlebelt.

Following the march, there will be registration for the school, which will run from 9 a.m. to 12 noon from June 19 to 30. The theme will be "Explore God's Hidden Wonders."

Clarenceville Methodist has had the largest attended Bible School in the Michigan Methodist Conference.

"Explore God's Hidden Wonders" also is the theme of the June 19 to 30 Bible school planned at Bethany Baptist Church, 34541 Five Mile, Livonia.

Bethany Baptist plans to use its Sunday school bus to transport children in the community to the sessions from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Courses will be offered for boys and girls of kindergarten through junior and senior high ages.

Children three through 15 years of age are invited to the vacation Bible school planned June 19 to 28 at Livonia Baptist Church, 32940 Schoolcraft.

The theme for the junior high group will be "March of the Master's Men." The children in the third through sixth grades will study "Working in Our Church." The younger children will have themes of "Jesus, Our Best Friend," "Helping in God's World," and "Happy Times Together."

The staff said plans call for processions, stories, Bible study, refreshments, recreation and handwork each day, and children of all religious backgrounds are invited.

"God in My Life" is the theme for the daily Bible school at St. John's Lutheran, 13542 Mercedes, Redford Township. Sessions will be held from 9:30 to 12 weekday mornings, and children from three years of age through those completing sixth grade this year are invited.

Lesson materials have been prepared by the board of parish education of the Lutheran Church in America, and will be supplied to the children. The program also will include handicrafts, games, filmstrips and music, as well as snacks each morning.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS attending their annual meeting in Boston recently saw ground broken for a new 31-acre $80-million church center shown in the model here. The center will include three new buildings designed by I. M. Pei and Partners, of New York, a seven-acre church part and underground parking in the Boston Back Bay section. The model includes the existing Mother Church Extension (dome building in center), and the Christian Science Publishing House behind it. A block-long colonnade building, a 26-story administration building and an arc-shaped Sunday school and conference building will be added.

Dr. Fleenor To Retire From Albion

Dr. Louis W. Norris, president of Albion College, has announced the retirement of Dr. Wayne H. Fleenor, who has been director of the office of church relations effective July 31.

The Board of Trustees of Albion conferred emeritus status on Dr. Fleenor at their last board meeting.

Dr. Fleenor has been associated with Albion College since 1947 and has served in a number of capacities, including those of administrative representative on the Campus Religious Council, Chairman of the Convocation and Chapel Committee, Chairman of the Committee of Student Aid and director of public relations.

A native of Cass City, Dr. Fleenor received an A.B. from Albion in 1924 and a bachelor of divinity degree from Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Illinois, in 1929. Albion awarded him an honorary doctorate in 1945.

In recent years Dr. Fleenor has organized the Albion College Churchmen's Council which is composed of 130

To Retire From Albion

laymen, 10 from each of the 13 districts in the Michigan Area of the Methodist Church. Members of the Churchmen's Council serve in a liaison capacity linking the Methodist churches of the state and Albion College. Dr. Fleenor and his wife Ethel, have one daughter, Mrs. Donald Cuatt of Farmington Township.

Church Will Pick 'Christian Father of The Year'

A "Christian Father of the Year" will be recognized on Father's Day in the 11 a.m. service at the Southfield Community Church, 21122

Indian. The father will be chosen from nominations made in essay form by the people of the church. He will be presented with a copy of the New Scofield Bible. All fathers will be recognized in the service, which will be especially geared to them.

Delta Zetas Wind Up Season With Barbecue

Oakland County Alumnae of Delta Zeta sorority group II will hold its last meeting of the spring June 17 at 8 p.m., with a "strictly fun" evening barbecue for the women and their husbands at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Trevarrow, Jr., 3963 Far Hills Drive, Bloomfield Hills.

All are Delta Zetas and their spouses are welcome. Mrs. Richard Kyro, 264-4198, the group's chairman, can give more information.

The church will hold its annual Bible School Family Picnic on Saturday, June 17, at Cass Benton Park with games, contests, and prizes for all.

Richard Canfield, psychologist, heard on "Keys for Better Living" is being featured by the church in its Evening Family Vacation Bible School, July 9-12, for adults dealing with family and home problems.

New Sanctuary Church of The Savior

One of Livonia's youngest congregations, Church of The Savior, a congregation of the Reformed Church in America, will open the doors of their new sanctuary for the first time on Sunday, June 18.

The new building is located 38100 Five Mile Road, just west of the new Greenwood Farms Subdivision. The building features an Early American Contemporary design and is distinguished by the sloping curved brick wall in the front. The chapel, which is the first phase of a master plan designed by Harold H. Fisher and Associates, has an overflow seating capacity of nearly 300.

The educational wing will offer facilities for the Church School, nursery, and pastor's study. A stained glass window which will face Five Mile Road, is also being designed for the church and will be installed prior to the Service of Dedication on Sunday, September 17.

Church of The Savior has been meeting in the Webster School, 37750 Lyndon, for the past two and a half years and has 65 adult members. The church was organized here early last year by the Reformed Church in America, one of the nation's oldest Protestant denominations.

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale is probably the best known minister in the Reformed Church. He will be coming to Livonia early next year under the sponsorship of Church of The Savior. Dr. Peale will be speaking at Stevensen High School on April 2, 1968.

The entire community is invited to worship in the new church. Church School begins at 9:30 a.m. and offers classes for all ages including adults. Morning Worship is 10:30 a.m. with nursery care offered for all preschool children.

The pastor of Church of The Savior is the Rev. Luther E. Ratmeyer, 15448 Comstock. He may be reached by calling 427-0122.

Archbishop John F. Dearden announced what may become the most massive adult participation program in the Detroit area's history. It's goal is to seek out the opinions of the 1,500,000 Catholics on the future legislation of the Catholic Church of the eight county Archdiocese.

The Parish Participation Plan, scheduled for operation in September as part of the Archdiocesan Assembly phase for the 1968 Synod, is a widespread effort to encourage the communication of ideas to the Archbishop, following the people's participation in parish-based programs of study and discussion on the major concerns of the modern world.

Each Archdiocese holds a synod approximately every 10 years. Before the Vatican Council, these conferences were largely the concern of priests. Today, the Archbishop is seeking the active participation of his total diocese.

The parish plan will focus on increased understanding principally on the areas of concern covered by the nine synod commissions. These are: worship, education, community affairs, ecumenism, church administration, missionary activity, religious, clergy and laity.

The Chairman of the Synod Coordinating Commission, the Rev. Robert V. Monticello, said that the work of organizing and implementing the program is already in process in the Archdiocesan Institute for Continuing Education (I.C.E.) under its executive director, Mrs. Jane Wolford.

"Specialists in theology, communications and psychology will augment the present I.C.E. staff," Mrs. Wolford said, in telling of the plan. "The I.C.E. will present the necessary study materials and advise on mechanics, techniques and training to put into effect the theme 'Seeking Progress Together' and bring about the intelligent and reflective suggestions from the parishes to the Synodal Commissions."

The Rev. F. Gerald Martin, vice rector of Sacred Heart Seminary and recently named to the I.C.E. staff as Coordinator for Parish Adult Education will oversee the Parish Participation Plan.

Father Martin stated that in addition to its primary purpose of eliciting suggestions for Church legislation, there are a number of important secondary objectives of the Plan, they include:

1—The participants would learn the teachings of the Vatican II Council, particularly the relationship and responsibilities resulting from the new interdependence of the clergy, religious and laity as the People of God.

2—To achieve realization, through the act of participation, that they, the people, are the Church, rather than the parish edifice of worship.

3—Through the involvement of greater numbers of people, the talents and concern would be recognized of many persons not currently active in parish organizations.

4—New communal spirit would be encouraged within the parish.

5—Ground work and climate of acceptance for future parish councils would be set.

The Archdiocesan Synod has been in preparation since April 1966. On May 20 of this year, Archbishop Dearden celebrated Mass with nine priest-chairmen of Synod commissions to mark the close of general preparatory work and to set the scene for the Archdiocesan Assembly stage of the giant program.

In pointing out the vast amount of work to be done as the Synod nears, Archbishop Dearden said: "It is only by doing things in this fashion that we can really open up to the entire Church of the Archdiocese the prospect of giving expression to its feelings and judgments."

Lutherans To Ordain Livonia Man

James Schalkhauser, son of the Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Schalkhauser, 14246 Arcola, Livonia, will be ordained into the ministry of The American Lutheran Church, on Sunday, June 18, in St. James Evangelical Lutheran Church, 14450 Ashton, Detroit, at 4 p.m.

Ordaining him will be the Rev. Harry Schalkhauser, of Toledo. Preaching the sermon at the occasion will be the Rev. E. H. Schalkhauser.

Others taking part in the service are the Rev. Paul Disbro, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, and the Rev. Richard Anderson, pastor of Artesian Lutheran Parish, Artesian, South Dakota.

The new minister attended Capital University, Columbus, O., and Wartburg Seminary of Dubuque, Iowa. During his seminary training, he served his year of internship at First Lutheran Church, Blue Island, Ill.

He is married to the former Joan Emmert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Emmert, St. Cloud, Minn. They will make their home at Pontiac, Michigan, where he has accepted the call to serve as pastor of Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church.

REV. JAMES SCHALKHAUSER

Web Cooper Honored By 201 Grottoes

The Chicago headquarters of the 201 Grottoes of North America has announced that W. A. "Web" Cooper, 38116 Minton Ave., Livonia, will be honored at the 77th annual meeting in Miami Beach, Fla., from June 29 to July 1.

Cooper, a Past Monarch of Detroit's Aries Grotto, is a trustee of the humanitarian foundation supported by 100,000 Master Mason members. He, and his wife, Charlotte, will be feted on a non-stop round of luncheons, banquets, balls, sightseeing tours of plush hotels and restaurants and on a Biscayne Bay boat cruise.

Cooper will be greeted by Flipper, the frolicsome porpoise of TV fame and Official Mascot of the convention. Flipper has learned to swim with his fez on for the big occasion. Cooper will also attend a Grotto leg contest—for men only—where fun-loving, black-fezed Prophets will compete for the "Most Mystic Legs in the Realm" title.

The Grotto began in 1889 as the Fairchild Deviltry Committee, dedicated to mirth, merriment, fun and frolic. It has since adopted the cause of crippled and orphaned children as its serious concern and has contributed millions of dollars through its Enchanted Lantern Humanitarian Foundation for their needs, as well as to United Cerebral Palsy Research and Educational Foundation. The Enchanted Lantern is the Prophets' symbol of hope for the crippled child.

Plymouth Girl Elected At Detroit Bible College

Janet Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall, of Lilley Road, Plymouth, has been elected social chairman of the student Governing Council at Detroit Bible College.

She will serve during the 1967-68 school year. A graduate of Plymouth High School, she is a sophomore in the Christian education course at DBC and a member of Dunning Park Chapel, Detroit.

Moved Church Ready

Members of the Universalist Unitarian Church of Farmington will hold their first service in their newly-moved church Sunday, June 18.

The church, more than 100 years old, was moved early this year from Warner Street in Farmington to a new site on Halstead Road, just north of Grand River. A church school building also has been erected at the new site.

Church families, who have been holding services in the Farmington Junior High School, worked last Saturday to get buildings and ground ready for Sunday's opening.

Robert Miles Eddy is minister.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN'

The Stratford Shakespearean Festival begins its 15th season this week on the lovely banks of Ontario's Avon River and quiet, serene Stratford, Ontario acquires a bit more hustle and bustle.

Alan Bates, English film star, is appearing in "Richard III." William Hutt, long a Stratford favorite, has the lead role in Gogol's "The Inspector General." Tony Van Bridge, veteran Canadian actor, will give Falstaff new life in the rollicking "Merry Wives of Windsor."

On successive nights (June 12, 13 and 14) each of these

'Millie' Movie A Wow

Julie Andrews puts you on Cloud 9 and sets your toes tapping from the opening minutes of "Thoroughly Modern Millie" to the wacky, novel ending.

The Northland Theater thunders with laughter for a solid two hours and a half. "Thoroughly Modern Millie" exudes nostalgia. If you're over 40 (and who isn't these days?) you'll hum right along when Julie Andrews and company break into a tune like "Baby Face." If you're in the below 40 bracket, there are plenty of new songs like "Tapioca" and the title tune to keep your primitive spirits in the groovy rhythmic mood.

In short, here's a movie that has something for everyone. You'll roar at the melodramatic plotting of Bea Lillie as she tries to snatch bodies for her nefarious trade.

The tired business men have Mary Tyler Moore to rest their eyes on. For the zany members of the audience, Carol Channing is a scream and almost does a good imitation of Phyllis Diller as she mugs her way through her farcical role.

"Modern Millie" is a spoof of those glorious days during the twenties a couple of generations ago when youth was truly flaming. Julie Andrews is delightful, funny, delicious, and deserves to be seen as a flapper searching for love and marriage. Don't miss "Modern Millie" at the Northland; it's sure to be rated as one of the ten best of 1967-68.

Mercy College Slates Production Courses

Improvisation — "instant dramatics"—and body discipline for actors are highlighted in the Summer Theater Workshop in Play Production Theory at Mercy College of Detroit.

In "instant dramatics," workshop students will act, create, direct and criticize presentations of spontaneous assignments.

Major effort of the workshop though, will be directed to a full length production of a play to be selected at the start of the workshop sessions.

The play will be considered from auditions, casting, backstage and on-stage mounting to production in McAuley Auditorium at the conclusion of the workshop July 29. This will be, in effect, the final exam for the workshop.

Four hours college credit is offered for teachers and "Cubism and the Early American Modernist," an article by Abraham A. Davidson, assistant professor of art history at Oakland University, appears in the recent quarterly edition of the Art Journal, published in New York City.

Ennis Fruhauf will present the next carillon recital from Christ Church Cranbrook at 4 p.m. on Sunday, June 18.

Fruhauf is a graduate student in music at the University of Michigan, organist-director of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Tecumseh and a member of The Guild of Carillonneurs in North America. He will play a recital at the Guild's Annual Congress in Ottawa in August.

The recital is open to the public without charge and concert-goers may either sit in their cars or on the church lawn.

Ypsi Greek Theatre Still Has Support

Although the Ypsilanti Greek Theatre is "resting" this summer, interest in the project is far from dead in the community and on the Eastern Michigan University campus.

Solid support recently came from the EMU Board of Regents when they approved a plan to accept gifts and grants to expand the University's summer drama and theatre program to include the Greek Theatre concept if financial support is adequate.

Buttons, a popular fad with students, were sold recently by members of the Eastern Michigan English Club in an attempt to cover the campus with the slogan, "Greek Drama Lives!" They realized more than $200 in their one-day sale.

A float, featuring Agamemnon's chariot, will be entered in the annual Fourth of July parade in Ypsilanti. The Women's Committee of YGT will be assisted by several students from the EMU art department in decorating the float. Other students will appear on the float wearing costumes from last year's productions.

The Ypsilanti Greek Theatre, which, in the summer of 1966, presented its inaugural season at Eastern's converted baseball field, is plagued by a sizeable debt which must be dealt with before it can continue with its plans to present Greek drama as it has been traditionally produced in Greece.

With Dame Judith Anderson in the Aeschylus' tragic trilogy, "The Oresteia," and Bert Lahr in the comedy, "The Birds," by Aristophanes, Ypsilanti had a 1966 festival which brought patrons from every part of the United States.

National acclaim for the artistically superb season reached from coast to coast and overseas, following the formal press openings which attracted representatives from 92 daily and weekly newspapers and national magazines.

words: "Some of the Olympic gods have survived and they have smiled on Ypsilanti." Eastern Michigan University and Ypsilanti have high hopes that these same gods will continue to smile next season.

Wayne State Offers Play Writing Grants

Harry Albertson, an undergraduate liberal arts student, has been awarded first prize, a cash award of $300, in Wayne State University's fifth annual playwriting contest.

Tying for second place, and receiving $100 each, are Samuel J. Miszewski, a graduate student working toward an M.A. degree in the theatre, and Raymond McGlynn, a post-degree theatre student. Winners were announced today by Professor Vincent Wall, chairman of the contest, sponsored jointly by the English Department and University Theatre.

The top winner, Harry Albertson, won for a full length play, "Enfilade of Angels." He has acted for eight years in a number of community theatres and has worked for four years in summer stock at Petosky, Mich. Samuel J. Miszewski has been an award winner for the past three years, received his $100 prize for a one act play, "The Wedding Dress." He attended high school in Muskegon and received his B.A. degree from Albion College, where he played leading roles in such productions as "Anthony and Cleopatra," "J.B.," and "Richard II." Raymond McGlynn also received $100 for a one act play, "Memorial Service."

Receives Degree

A Livonia senior, Herbert E. Ramage, will receive his bachelor of arts degree from Grand Valley State College, in Allendale, Mich., Sunday.

Baroque Concert Set

The Baroque Trio will be presented in concert at 8 p.m., Monday, June 19, at Bloomfield High School. Tickets are $1.25 for this second feature of the Oakland Community College Communication and Music Series. For further information, call the OCC Community Services Division, 642-6210.

Pianist Will Solo At Pops Concert

Detroit David Syme has won the ninth annual Benderson Netorg Memorial Piano Competition, earning a solo engagement with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at the State Fairgrounds on Friday, June 23, at 8:30 p.m. The 18-year-old pianist will be heard in the Rachmaninoff Second Piano Concerto, with Valter Poole conducting.

Syme performed the same concerto with the Community Center Orchestra last January under the baton of Julius Chajes, who is Syme's piano teacher. Syme also has studied with Mischa Kottler in Detroit and with Dr. Reid Nibley this past year at the University of Michigan. He plans to enter the Juilliard School of Music this fall. The Netorg competition is conducted on a state-wide basis by the Bohemian Musicians Club of Detroit. Syme receives a cash award of $250 from the Bohemian Club.

Including Syme, four soloists, are yet to be heard at "Symphony Under the Stars" performances, and all will be making their symphony debuts. Sunday's soloists will be the Detroit soprano Jocelyn Krieger, singing, Puccini's "Vissi d'arte" and Friml's "L'amour toujours l'amour." Next Tuesday, Gisela Depkat, who placed second in the recent national Concert Artists Guild Competition, will perform the Saint Saens Cello Concerto. The following Sunday, June 25, at the concluding Fairgrounds concert, baritone William Kellogg will be heard in operatic arias and show tunes. Poole also will conduct the symphony in a Tchaikovsky program on Wednesday, June 21, and a pop program on Saturday, June 24. All of the concerts are admission-free.

Pick Gedrich On Education

Hugh Gedrich, owner-manager of the Livonia Penthouse, was named vice chairman of the Committee on Education of the Michigan Restaurant Association at the recent spring conference in Midland.

The committee is concerned with recruiting youngsters into the Hotel and Restaurant field. It helps expand facilities at the high school and college level and attempts to further adult education for the restaurant industry.

The average use of electric power in the American home rose to a record high of 5,270 kilowatt hours during 1966. A Detroit Edison spokesman said that this increase in 337 kilowatt hours over the preceding year.

Plymouth High Seniors Do Well

If Plymouth High School's seniors do as well financially the rest of their lives as they have prior to graduation, their success is assured.

Class President Dave Sibbold appeared before the Board of Education Monday night to reveal that when all bills are paid the class still will have an estimated $1,700 in its treasury after Thursday's commencement exercises.

In their three years in high school the Class of '67 has made approximately $9,800 from such projects as sale of Christmas cards, football concessions and collection of class dues.

Sibbold said cap and gown rentals, the senior banquet and year book expenses total about $8,000, thus leaving a tidy balance which the class executive board has voted to appropriate for three school projects.

An amount of $400 is being donated to the athletic department for purchase of weights, another $400 will be given to the Student Council to go into a fund for construction of a Peace Corps school aboard, and the remaining $900 or more is recommended for partial payment of a video tape recorder.

The only hitch attached to the latter appropriation is that the Board of Education must match the amount to meet the full cost of one of the instant replay television devices. The Board will study the matter and, if it declines, the $900 will be given to the Sheltered Work Shop in Livonia.

In another phase of Monday's Board session, a recommendation from Superintendent Russell Isbister for an addition of 2,000 square feet to the present administration building was deferred until it can be given additional study.

College Record Classes

Students from four-year colleges and universities throughout Michigan are swelling enrollment lists for the eight-week summer session at Schoolcraft College, and may push it to a record high this year.

Schoolcraft Director of Admissions Miss Barbara Geil said that of 148 new students accepted for enrollment as of June 2, 88 were guest students from four-year institutions.

Miss Geil, who pointed out that the start of the summer session is still several weeks away, compared the 88 guest students already admitted to about 40 who attended the 1966 summer session.

"The 148 students admitted thus far are students who will be attending the college for the first time. We expect the number of these new students to increase by the time classes begin," Miss Geil said.

"The guest students are those who are coming here to take freshman and sophomore level courses which they need to fulfill graduation requirements at their own schools," Miss Geil explained. "Credits and grades earned here during the summer are automatically transferred to the parent institution and become part of the student's record."

Summer session registration at Schoolcraft will be on June 26 and 27. Classes start Monday, July 3, and the session ends on August 25.

Enrollment for the 1966 summer session at Schoolcraft was 543 students. As of the June 2 reporting date used by Miss Geil, admissions for this summer were double those of last year at the same time.

Livonian Joins Geology Jaunt

Kenneth R. Chavre, 14051 Barbara, Livonia, is one of six Wayne State University students who are participating in annual geology field courses conducted by Miami University, Oxford, O.

Field station for the courses is Timber Line Ranch near Dubois, Wyoming, the Wind River Mountains. Courses will begin June 18.

State Car Fund Pays It's Highest Claim

LANSING — Claims totaling $20,000 . . . the largest amount arising out of a single accident . . . were paid to a group of Muskegon persons from the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said the accident resulted in the death of two persons, 45-year-old Christopher Hendrickson, 1196 Parkway, Muskegon, and Ira Williams, 27, 2843 Valley, Muskegon, the uninsured driver.

Claims totaling $18,350

Cadet Grigsby At Fort Sill

Cadet Eugene R. Grigsby, 22, whose mother, Mrs. Ollie M. Grigsby, lives at 15895 Deering Road, Livonia, will attend Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Sill, Okla., with his unit from Henderson State College, Arkadelphia, Ark.

Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

have been paid. There is still a personal injury claim of $2,000 pending as a result of the accident which may push the total even higher, said Hare.

The accident took place over a year ago on June 5, 1966. Three passengers in the Williams' car was injured.

Claims paid were $10,350 to Hendrickson's estate and $4,000 personal injury claims for Gerald Heikinen, 28, and Susan Heikinen, 23, passengers in the uninsured vehicle. An injury claim for $2,000 on behalf of Norma Heikinen, 2, is still pending.

Hare said the accident arose when Williams, taking Hendrickson to the airport, ran a stop sign and hit the claimant's vehicle broadside.

"The terrible tragedy of this kind of accident is that Hendrickson was the father of five children, four of whom were still at home. And the deceased uninsured driver left two small children. Traffic accidents have absolutely no respect for the innocent."

Good Record Softens Rap

William F. Nash, 38, of 4780 Parent, Warren, was fined $50 for careless driving, after a charge of reckless driving was reduced by Livonia Municipal Judge James R. McCann.

Police said that Nash speeded in the area of Hardy and Osmus, where children were walking, playing, and riding bikes. They said he had to slam on the brakes several times to avoid collisions with pedestrians and autos.

He had asked the officer for a break, stating he hadn't had a ticket in over a year. There were 19 points on his driving record for previous violations.

Michigan, Ontario Pushes Route to Big Exposition

The State of Michigan and the Province of Ontario are inviting travelers to take the Michigan-Ontario route to Expo '67 in Montreal.

For most mid-westerners, the Michigan-Ontario route is the most direct with excellent highways, accommodations, campgrounds, scenery and attractions adding comfort, safety and pleasure to the trip.

There are three Michigan-Ontario border crossings, at Sault Ste. Marie, Port Huron-Sarnia and Detroit-Windsor. Passports and visas are not required, but travelers should have proof of birth, residence or naturalization. Currency exchange at the border is advisable, but not necessary.

The Michigan-Ontario route features many popular travel attractions, including the Soo Locks at Sault Ste. Marie; Detroit, the world's auto capital; Ottawa, capital of Canada; the Mackinac Bridge, the St. Lawrence Seaway, Niagara Falls and many thousands of miles of Great Lakes shoreline.

Both commonwealths have historic sites dating from the early 17th century and travelers can trace the routes of voyageurs and missionaries who were exploring the area before the landing of the Pilgrims.

Many thousands of lakes and thousands of miles of rivers and streams offer unsurpassed fishing and water sports.

Another Michigan-Ontario bonus is their cooler climate during the hot summer months.

Free information on attractions, activities, accommodations and border crossings can be obtained by writing "Michigan-Ontario Route" in care of the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, 48926, or the Ontario Department of Tourism and Information, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Model Glue Controls Set

The past week the House of Representatives amended and passed a Senate Bill dealing with the use of "model glue."

The bill provides that no person shall use "model glue" for purposes of causing a condition of intoxication, excitement, or dulling of the senses or nervous system.

This does not prohibit the use for medical or dental purposes.

Written permission of a parent or guardian is required before selling, delivering, or giving model glue to anyone the age of 17 or under.

Anyone selling model glue must have the purchaser sign a roster, giving name, address and date of purchase.

This roster shall be available for inspection by agencies. It is hoped that the Senate will concur in the amended bill to provide a means to help combat a growing problem.

Receives Award

Wendy Wendland, of Plymouth, was honored recently at Ferris State College in Big Rapids where she is a student in Secretarial Studies. Miss Wendland was one of eight students achieving 70 words per minute in typing.

Rider Kim Wins Title, Teacher 3rd

It's late Spring, and Kimberley Radnothy, 10, is getting quite a kick out of her best Christmas present.

The gift? A small saddle horse, which is named The Raven, and which Kimberley has learned to ride quite well. The gift was from her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Louis J. Radnothy, 32609 Greenland Court, Livonia.

The family became so interested in Kimberley's riding talent that they engaged Miss Barbara Baker, 16908 Ardmore, Detroit, to teach the child some of the finer points.

That Miss Baker had done her job well was shown over the weekend at a Grand Rapids horse show. Kimberley became reserve grand champion for American saddle bred pleasure horses, while the teacher (on a borrowed horse) came in third in the stake. The winning horse, Miss Baker explained, hasn't been beaten.

Kimberley showed her class in saddle showmanship by beating the older riders in the 17 and under group.

Livonia Lion To Take Post In District

Livonia Lion Len Ricketts, of Lamplighter Club, will be installed July 6 as district governor of Lions District 11-A-1. It is the top office, which he won at the Grand Rapids convention with a lot of campaign help from members of his home club.

The installation ceremonies for district governors will be on the program at the Lions International Convention, which is expected to attract about 50,000 club members. This convention observes the 50th anniversary of the organization.

Ricketts is a charter member of the Lamplighters, organized in Livonia in 1960. He served as president, as zone chairman, deputy district governor, and was district chairman for the Welcome Home for the Blind, a home for the elderly blind, in Grand Rapids.

As district governor, Lion Ricketts will have 45 clubs under his jurisdiction, to offer advice and coordinate activities.

He was honored by being elected head of one of the 400 districts of Lions International. The total membership is estimated at 980,000.

More than 3,000 attended the Grand Rapids convention, including wives.

The local club installed new officers at a dinner attended by 70 Lions and ladies. Paul Mower is the new president. Outgoing President James Mogan presented awards to members for their work during his term.

3 Livonians Win Alma Scholarships

Three Livonia girls have been awarded Honors Scholarships at Alma College.

Mary M. Eaton, a senior at Bentley High, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Eaton, 36640 Angeline Circle.

Sandra L. Lester, a senior at Franklin High, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Lester, 30672 Elmira.

Suzanne Alice Richardson, also a Franklin senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred R. Richardson, 32494 Wisconsin.

Stockmeyer Is Renamed to Board

Norman O. Stockmeyer was re-elected to a six-year term of office at the June 5 biennial meeting of Wayne County's 43 school districts.

The Wayne County Intermediate Board of Education election held every two years to elect new members, was conducted in the Wayne County Library Headquarters, 33030 Van Born Road in Wayne.

"I am quite happy to once again be a member of the Intermediate Board of Education. Educational services provided by the Wayne County Intermediate School District to the 43 local school districts assist in the improvement of education for over a half-million Wayne County youth," stated Stockmeyer.

Stockmeyer assumes his Intermediate Board position immediately. The annual organizational meeting for the Intermediate Board of Education has been set for July 5, at 10 a.m. in Room 301, City-County Building.

The Wayne County Intermediate School District provides consultant and supportive services to 43 local school districts and serves as a link between these basic educational administrative units and the Michigan Department of Education.

In 1967, Stockmeyer was elected chairman of the Wayne State University Board of Governors for 14 years (1946-1960).

In addition to being on the Intermediate Board of Education for the past six years, (1961-67), Stockmeyer was a member of the Wayne Community School Board.

Stockmeyer received his B.A. degree from Wayne State University in 1929. He

Mormons Plan Chapel For Congregation

The Livonia ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will break ground at 2 p.m. on June 24 for a $350,000 chapel at Six Mile and Merriman Roads.

The group has invited Mayor W. Moelke and members of the city council to attend the service.

It will be the first permanent home for the ward, which was organized in 1962 with 274 members and now has grown to 620. It has been meeting for five years in Thurston High School.

The ward serves Livonia and Westland and surrounding areas.

The group expects the new chapel to be ready for services by the end of this year. Bishop Charles Baldree is the spiritual leader.

thur Whitefield, LEA Director of Professional Problems.

Among those retiring were Judith Liefeld, 4th grade, Marshall School, 12 years service; Mary Davis, 2nd grade, Pierson School, 30 years service; Eleanor Sanquist, 1st grade, Wilcox School, 27 years service; Lucille Smith, Reading Center, 29 years service; Mae Ross, Principal, Pierson School, 30½ years service; Lucille Shaw, 5th grade, Adams School, 31 years service; Louise Helwig, 6th grade, Stark School, 33 years service; Marjorie Victor, 3rd grade, Tyler School, 34 years service; and Howard Dickie, Social Studies, Bentley High School, 41 years service.

Mr. Whitefield, in paying tribute to the retirees, stated:

"These 10 educators are now embarking on new kinds of careers. After approximately 300 combined years of giving to others educationally, they are now ready to start to live their lives giving time to themselves.

"Several things are apparent about these 10 fine people: Even though they knew they would be leaving their educational life behind, they were not content to slow down. They have showed the same dedication and devotion to duty as they did when they first started their careers. It is unfortunate that they are leaving," Whitefield went on, "but we are happy for them."

"I am sure," he concluded, "that the well over 100,000 students that have effected educationally by these 10 educators would want to join with LEA in saying, 'Thanks for a job well done.'"

Night Train Spends Day At School

Former Detroit Lions star Dick "Night Train" Lane wowed the youngsters of Wilson Elementary School when he presented field day and service awards at an assembly.

Lane was kept busy signing autographs before and after the program which showed film highlights of the 1966 Lions season.

Lane was a star corner back for the Lions before a knee injury forced his retirement as an active player last year. He is now a member of the Lions front office staff.

"He was just wonderful to the youngsters," said Mrs. Cecelia Murphy, one of the teachers.

Driving Count Costs Him $100

Reckless driving cost Raymond V. Ziegler a total of $100 after he pleaded guilty to the charge before Livonia Municipal Judge James R. McCann.

According to police, Ziegler was driving west on Plymouth Road from Stark, weaving from the outside lane halfway into the inside lane. He almost ran up onto an island at Plymouth and Ann Arbor Roads and made a right turn from the wrong lane.

Going west again on Plymouth, he reached speeds of 60 miles per hour and twice ran off the road onto the shoulder.

Schoolcraft Stenos Receive Certificates From Group

One instructor and two members of the secretarial staff at Schoolcraft College recently received certificates of completion of a secretarial review course sponsored by the National Secretaries Assn.

Completing the 42-hour course were Mrs. Christine Covert, business and typing instructor; Mrs. Jean Stearns, secretary to Dean of Academic Instruction Robert A. Sten-ger; and Mrs. Olga Taylor, secretary to Evening College Director Fred Stefanski. Mrs. Covert and Mrs. Taylor are residents of Livonia. Mrs. Stearns is a resident of Westland.

One Teacher Resigns; Two Get Leaves

The Plymouth School Board Monday approved two requests for leaves of absence and accepted one resignation upon recommendation of School Supt. Russell Isbister.

Mrs. Elizabeth Comiskey, teacher at Junior High West, asked for a year's maternity leave.

Sharon Belobraidich, second grade teacher at Bird School, requested a one year leave to take additional studies at Eastern Michigan University. She will be a participating Fellow in the Fellowship program at EMU and plans to return to the school system after the year of study.

William Kloote, member of the staff at Junior High West, turned in his resignation after serving three years. Kloote indicated in his letter that an opportunity for leadership in serving the needs of teachers has opened for him and that he felt this new challenge in education would be a continuing part of his professional growth.

Kloote, who headed the negotiating team for the Plymouth Education Association a year ago, has been offered the post of executive secretary of the Farmington Education Association, bargaining agent for teachers in the Farmington school system.

Name Dwyer To School Bd. Canvassers

Robert Dwyer, manager of the Plymouth branch of the Secretary of State's office and titular head of the Democratic party in the Plymouth-Northville area, has been appointed to the Board of Canvassers of the Plymouth Community School district.

Dwyer was named Monday by the School Board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Richard McGlinn, 42325 Brentwood.

In his letter of resignation McGlinn wrote "Because I am no longer a member of either major political party I hereby submit my resignation from the Board of Canvassers of the Plymouth School District."

He had been appointed as a member of the Democratic party and thus the School Board filled the vacancy from that political group.

DPW News and Notes

By Supt. Ken Vogras
Plymouth Dept. Public Works

Mowing and cleaning up was done in the parks and at City Hall. Crews also worked in the playgrounds where equipment was cleaned. Cleaning had the attention of workers at Riverside Cemetery both inside and outside the Mausoleum where one funeral was held this week.

Cold patching was done throughout the city. Sweeping was completed on major and local streets. Black dirt was hauled to the DPW yard for future use.

Three houses were dye tested to determine if they were properly connected to the sanitary sewer and one sanitary sewer was unplugged.

Tips from the STOP AND SHOP CHEF
Questions and Answers
How can you make sure that sauteed or fried eggplant will be crisp?

As eggplant is a watery vegetable, it should be drained of its excess liquid before being cooked. Cut the eggplant as required for the recipe, salt the pieces, and let them stand under a weight on an inclined surface until the water has drained off. Unless this procedure is followed, the eggplant will steam rather than saute or fry.

Food For All Your Senses

By JOYCE TOTTEN

Next time you barbecue chicken for the family, ask them to tell you why they like it.

You'll probably get a variety of answers. Dad might particularly enjoy the contrast between the crunchy crust and the delicate flesh. Mother would comment on the beautiful appearance of the chicken.

Teen-age brother will have the best answer of all: the smell makes him hungry, and the barbecued chicken just plain tastes great!

As a matter of fact, they are all talking about the same thing. The fact that taste is influenced by all other senses: smell or aroma, sight or the color and form of food, feel or its texture.

In the search for new convenience foods, the appetite-appeal factors are kept prominent.

Whatever foods you prepare, make the most of all their sense appeals. Half the fun of eating potato chips, crackers, raw carrots or celery is the crunch. And when you scoop up a smooth and creamy sour cream or cream cheese dip with these crisp dippers, refreshing, tangy taste enters in as well.

Try a tasty dip of 1 envelope Good Seasons Italian Salad Dressing, mixed, blended into 1 pint sour cream.

Here's a quick and easy meal:

CAN-CAN CHICKEN

- 1 can (10½-oz.) condensed cream of chicken soup
- 1 can (10½-oz.) condensed cream of celery soup
- 1 soup can water
- 1 ½ c. rice
- 1 can 12-oz. boned chicken or 1½ c. diced cooked chicken
- 1 can (3-oz.) chow mein noodles

Combine all ingredients except noodles in a large skillet. Stir to mix. Bring quickly to a boil. Cover; reduce heat and simmer 7 mins. Remove from heat; stir. Serve with the noodles. Makes 4-6 servings.

ASPARAGUS CASSEROLE

- 2 cups buttered soft bread crumbs (cut crusts off bread and cut in small cubes—add to melted butter and shake).

Make a white sauce in a double boiler with the following:

- 2 T. butter
- 2 T. flour
- ½ t. salt
- dash of pepper
- 1 c. milk

Add 1 cup grated American cheese and dissolve in cream sauce.

- 4 hard cooked eggs
- 1 lb. cooked asparagus (cut in small pieces). When out of season use 1-no. 2 can canned asparagus
- 2 diced pimiento (canned)

Grease casserole. First add ½ of the bread crumbs then alternate with half of the asparagus, 2 eggs, ½ of the pimiento and ½ of the cream sauce, then top with the rest of the buttered soft bread crumbs and cream cheese sauce. Bake 15 minutes in pre-heated oven at 350° F.

SUNSHINE SALAD

- 1 pkg. (3-oz.) lemon gelatin
- ½ t. salt
- 1½ c. boiling water
- 1 can (8¾-oz.) crushed pineapple
- 1 T. lemon juice
- 1 c. shredded carrots
- ½ c. chopped pecans

Dissolve gelatin and salt in boiling water. Add undrained pineapple and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in carrots and pecans. Pour into individual molds or 1 qt. mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 6 servings.

Rule of Thumb For Centerpiece

Place your elbow on the table before the arrangement and clench your fist.

The flowers should be no higher than your fist, to permit comfortable cross-table conversation.

For buffets, however, the centerpiece may be as high as desired.
