

Detroit Plant Buys Wheel Trueing Site

The much-discussed and cussed story of Wheel Trueing Corp., and its shell of a building on a site in the City of Plymouth Industrial Park on Plymouth Road, came to an abrupt end Monday with the announcement that Intaglio Service Corporation has taken over the property.

Officials of Intaglio, a corporation which has had a plant in the Detroit area for 20 years, indicated they have agreed to take over the "shell" and will construct a 40,000 square foot plant on the five acre site.

Thus, after more than five years, the land, originally purchased by Wheel Trueing, will become of tax value to the city. Wheel Trueing had planned to move some of its operations from Detroit to Plymouth and even went so far as to start the construction of the building.

Then, after the shell had been erected, company officials had a change of heart—reportedly brought about by a change in top management—and halted work. Shortly thereafter, they notified the City of Plymouth that they wanted to sell the entire project, shell, site and all.

THE CITY COMMISSION agreed to a deal that seemed in the best interests of all, involving an exchange of land, an exchange of cash and an exchange of deeds. The property was sold to a second party who in turn made the deal with Intaglio. There were several nibbles through the workings of the Area Planning Commission and its director, Harold Fischer. Then a contract was finally arranged with Intaglio.

Intaglio serves the graphic arts trade in the manufacture of gravure products for national ads and catalogues to printers throughout the United States and Canada as well as gravure cylinders for the packaging market.

INTAGLIO IS AN ever-expanding corporation which started in Detroit 20 years ago with a payroll of five which now totals 60. It is a branch of the Intaglio Service Corporation of New York City which maintains branches in Long Island, Chicago, Cincinnati, Battle Creek, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Intaglio maintains an updated experimental and research department and is constantly fostering and pioneering new innovations in the gravure industry such as newspaper pre-print and spectacolor.

The Plymouth operation will be headed by Vice President and General Manager James Dunn.

Not Enough School Facilities For 1970, Rossman Claims

The contentment felt by the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education for having opened one new elementary school this fall, and getting three more facilities under way, faded this week when they contemplated the needs of the next few years.

Little more than three months ago the electorate approved an $8.5 bond issue for construction of the high school, and it appears inevitable that either in 1968 or 1969 another multi-million dollar bond request will be submitted to the voters for still more construction.

AT LONG LAST this shell of a modern building, started by the Wheel Trueing Company of Detroit, will become an addition to Plymouth's Industrial Park on Plymouth Road. It has been taken over by Intaglio Corporation which will move from a plant in Detroit.

These trees, given to the people of Plymouth, England, by the people of Plymouth, Michigan, USA, were presented to Lord Mayor Frank Chapman on July 7, 1967, on the occasion of his visit to Plymouth, Michigan, USA. We offer these four trees as a symbol of our relationship and friendship which we fervently hope will continue into the lives of our future generations. We would hope the quiet influence of these trees in our daily lives would cause your people to expect our people to replace them at the end of a long life and that our people would consider it an honor and an obligation to do so.

FROM PLYMOUTH TO PLYMOUTH: When the Lord Mayor of Plymouth, England, and his entourage concluded their visit here in July they were presented with four Imperial Locust trees as a gift from the people of Plymouth, Michigan. At the time it was stated that the trees would be planted on the City Hall lawn in England, along with a park bench. To make the gift official a bronze plaque has been cast and lettered and will be placed in the shady nook under the trees. Harold Guenther, Chairman of the Centennial Gift Committee, is shown here with the plaque before it was shipped.

A New Look For Plymouth On Wednesdays

Today the Plymouth Mail & Observer begins printing its Wednesday editions by offset, the bright new process that we've been using for some time on our Sunday editions.

For us there will be greater production efficiency, and for you, our Plymouth readers, there will be finer quality pictures and a new kind of headline type.

Although you've seen an offset paper already, perhaps you've never known how it was done. We're taking you on a tour of our plant in a special picture story on page 7C. On the editorial page, Publisher Philip H. Power tells the sometimes amusing, sometimes hectic inside story of our internal changes.

We think you'll like it.

For Children's Safety Schools Okay Helping Hands

"Helping Hands"—a growing national system of identifying homes which school children know they can turn to in instances of emergency—received the endorsement of the Plymouth School District Board of Education this week.

The Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary is sponsoring adoption of the program locally and its representatives will meet with all school principals this week to put the plan in motion.

The symbol of help is a three-by-nine-inch sign bearing the imprint of a dark blue hand.

Although wordless, these signs signify any child will be welcome when in trouble.

In communities where they are in use, including Farmington and Livonia, they are displayed in the windows of homes specifically approved as cooperating in the effort for greater child safety.

Mrs. Judy Shuman and Mrs. Linda West, who appeared in behalf of the endeavor at the Board meeting Monday, said it is the hope of the Jaycee Auxiliary to have two such identifiable homes in every block of the entire school district.

When put into operation, an educational program as to the "Helping Hand" symbol will be launched both among students and parents.

Rock Band Paid Honor At Michigan

Plymouth High School's marching band occupied a special place of honor at the Michigan-Duke football game Saturday.

Not only did the Rock band join some 170 other high school musical groups in an enormous and colorful mass demonstration at half-time, but it was one of five units selected to put on a special post-game show.

The Rocks marched and performed brilliantly under the direction of James Griffith to the delight of many thousands from the game crowd of more than 75,000 who stayed in their seats to watch the extra event.

Other bands taking part in the post-game entertainment were those from Wheeling High School, Wheeling, Ill.; Beal Secondary School, London, Ont.; Schaeffer High School, Southgate, and St. John's High School, St. John's.

Street Improvement On Schedule

"Everything is moving on schedule and the work should be finished about the middle of October."

These were the glad tidings brought by City Manager Richard Blodgett Monday after reviewing work on the street program.

According to the schedule, the widening of South Main Street should be completed by the end of the week.

ACTIVITY THEN will switch to Harvey Street for curb and gutter and black topping with Goldsmith next on the list. The black topping of South Main will be done at the same time.

With the flat surface work completed the activity will switch to the tree planting program.

Under the approved plan, the sidewalks on South Main Street are to be eight feet wide, with space allowed at generously placed areas for the planting of trees. Under this system South Main eventually will regain the beauty that marked it for years.

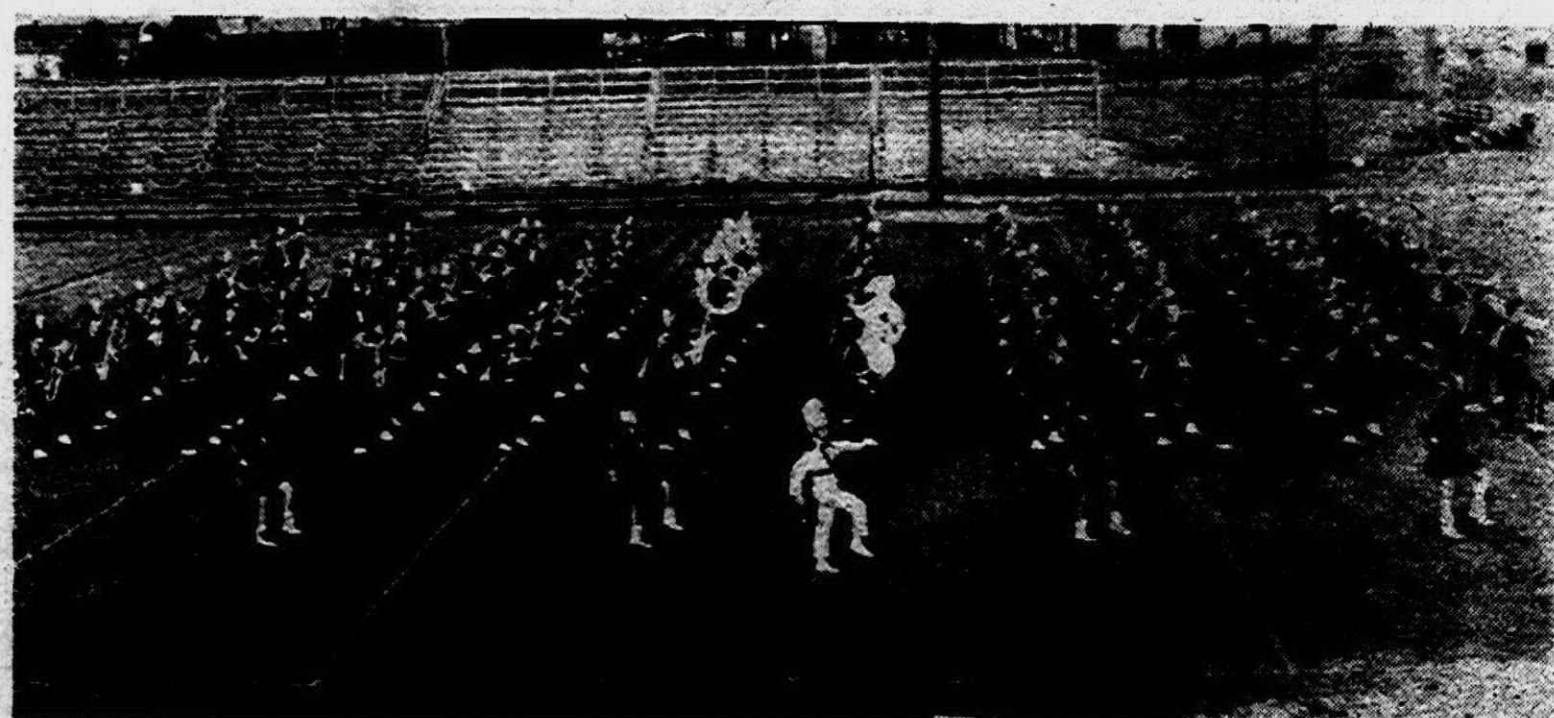

"WE ARE PLANNING on planting small trees," Blodgett explained. "As yet no selections have been made. Whatever trees are chosen, though, the choice will be determined by the potential beauty."

"Some of the trees planted in the spring were rather large" Blodgett pointed out. "And didn't take hold. The planting was guaranteed, however, and the disappointments will be replaced."

Finishes Training

Seaman Recruit Edward E. Thorpe, USN, 20, son of Mr. R. E. Thorpe of 14675 Garland St., Plymouth, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers.

PLYMOUTH HIGH'S precision marching band received new honors Saturday when it was selected as one of five schoolboy organizations to participate in a special program following the Michigan-Duke game.

State To Send Out License Applications

LANSING—More than four million Michigan vehicle owners will have things easier when they go out to buy 1968 license plates this Nov. 1. They will have prepared license plate applications sent to them.

The prepared applications are part of the long-range program of mechanizing all driver and vehicle files by the Michigan Department of State.

"This program," says Secretary of State James M. Hare, will "not only make it easier for vehicle owners to get their plates but, in the long run, will save tax dollars."

HARE ESTIMATES that when the program is fully implemented, Michigan should begin saving about $300,000 annually. Project of mechanizing the vehicle files was begun last year when applications were sent out to most of the state's commercial vehicle owners, Hare said.

This year, more than four million of the 4.6-million.... owners of passenger cars, commercial vehicles, and A-type trailers which weigh more than 2,600 pounds.... will get the prepared applications.

This is provided they owned the vehicles before this past June 1, said Hare. About 2.7 million of the total are owners of passenger automobiles.

"The list this year does not include motorcycle or small trailer applications," noted Hare.

ALL APPLICATIONS are being printed on the Department of State computer.

"We have already started the tremendous job of producing the applications," said Hare. "Our computer is now running around-the-clock, seven days a week to complete the job in addition to the other programs which are on the computer."

About 160,000 prepared applications are being run daily with mailing slated to start in mid-October. All will be out by Nov. 1."

Applications were sent out the last time for the 1958 license plate year, Hare noted.

Hulsing Given New Post

Kenneth Hulsing, industrialist and Plymouth civic leader, was elected president of the Schoolcraft College Foundation at the organization's annual meeting on Thursday night, Sept. 21 at the college.

Hulsing succeeds Northville attorney Clifton D. Hill, who served as first president of the Foundation which was organized last year as a citizen's group to provide financial assistance to the college.

Hulsing's election was the only change in the roster of Foundation officers for the year.

Re-elected by trustees to serve during the coming year were: Charles E. Lowe, Garden City attorney, and Philip R. Ogilvie, Northville attorney, vice-presidents; George L. Clark, Northville, secretary; Gordon R. Ramsey, Plymouth, treasurer; and Robert K. Barbour, Plymouth, assistant treasurer.

Officers were elected after the annual election of trustees. Trustees elected for a three-year term were Hulsing, Hill, Clark, Schoolcraft College President Dr. Eric J. Bradner, George Bauer, Plymouth; Robert Freydel, Northville; Mrs. Arlyne R. Kuegler, Northville; and Jan Reef, Northville.

Elected to a two-year term were William R. Keith, Garden City; Alex M. Lawrence, Northville; Mrs. Eunice L. Switzler, Northville; James P. Thomas, Livonia; and Wilson D. Tyler, Northville.

Named to a one-year term were Lowe, Ogilvie, Barbour, Ramsey, Harold Bittner, Northville; Mrs. Alex Nelson, Northville; and John Santieu Jr., Garden City.

Hulsing said vacancies on the board of trustees will be filled by appointment of the trustees at the October meeting.

The Foundation was organized to provide a source of endowment funds for the college to be used primarily for student financial assistance and to raise a portion of the local share of the cost of a fine arts building and cultural center on the campus.

General Manager Edward A. Toomey of the Chicago-based division and Livonia Mayor Harvey Moeke wielded golden shovels as contractors stood by to begin work on the 26,000 square foot structure at 13211 Merriman Rd. in Livonia.

Automatic was a pioneer in the materials handling industry and traces its history to 1906 when it began business as Automatic Transportation Company, Buffalo, N.Y. The division has maintained sales and service facilities in the Detroit area since 1916.

Manager Bill Branic said that the branch operation had outgrown its present quarters and that the new 3 1/2 acre site would let Automatic offer its customers the largest stock of electrical lift truck parts available in Eastern Michigan.

Branic said that Livonia offered an ideal location from which to service Automatic customers throughout Eastern Michigan. He also thanked Mayor Moeke for the cooperation he had received from city officials in expediting approval of building plans.

The new plant is scheduled to be in operation by April 15, 1968.

Enlistments Liberalized

Army recruiting offices in Farmington and Plymouth have announced that young men previously rejected for enlistment or induction because of minor physical defects can discuss their cases individually with recruiters who can advise them of medical treatment available at Army expense.

A new Army regulation, termed the medically remedial enlistment program, permits enlistees plus Selective Service registrants who wish to volunteer to have certain physical defects treated to gain eligibility for military service.

The Farmington recruiting station is located at 22506 Orchard Lake Rd., and the Plymouth office is at 861 Penniman St.

Men who enlist under the new system must agree to submit to therapeutic procedures necessary to correct the defects. None of the conditions should require more than six weeks of treatment before entry into basic training.

McDonald Boosts Bill To Pay Police Benefits

The House has overwhelmingly approved a measure to provide benefits to state and local law enforcement officers or their survivors, when they are disabled or killed while apprehending a person who has violated a Federal law.

Because these men risk their lives in order to protect the lives and property of the citizens of Michigan, I am in favor of this measure which aids the police officer both financially and professionally.

The days that a policeman might have been pictured as having only to provide ice cream to lost children are over. Today the policeman must exercise the acumen of a sociologist in dealing with explosive situations. Today the policeman must demonstrate the expertise of a constitutional lawyer in questioning individuals suspected of criminal offenses. Today the policeman must have the impartiality of a judge.

He is called upon to protect the rights of demonstrators, and at the same time is quite often the target of those who feel their rights are being denied. However, in the riot-torn cities of America, we often hear the cry of "police brutality." It is time to recognize that police do not cause riots; they prevent them. It is time to reaffirm our confidence in our Michigan Police Departments.

Throughout the United States, the men who constitute our first line of defense against the encroachment of the lawless deserve the respect and support of the citizens they swear to protect with their lives. The passage of the Law Enforcement Officer Benefit Bill serves as such a reaffirmation.

A specially prepared exhibit here in Washington on innovative solutions to urban school design entitled "The Schoolhouse in the City" will be shown in Detroit next month. The display covers such dramatic facilities concepts as educational parks; schools constructed over rail-lines, rivers and highways by using the air-rights over them; schools combined with commercial and residential structures; schools that incorporate other needed community functions into the educational complex; and schools that become the focal points for urban redevelopment of surrounding areas.

Student Fees Ease Deficit

Schoolcraft Hikes Tuition, Eyes Bond Tax

Taxpayers of resident students at Schoolcraft College will pay $1 more per credit hour as a result of tuition increases recommended by the Administration and approved by the Board of Trustees last week. Non-resident students will pay $2 more.

Not only will they pay more for the education of their children but they also face a millage increase if a $5.6 million bond issue is approved at the next school election. Resolutions for the issue are being prepared now by the bonding attorneys and probably will be approved by the Trustees in the next two or three weeks.

The bond issue calls for $5.6 million for building, site and operations. It would retire a $1.6 million issue and allow $4 million for use of the Trustees. It is believed the bond issue will result in a .33 mill increase to taxpayers if approved.

FORCED TO TAKE some action to raise $65,000 budget deficit which resulted after approval of a contract with the Faculty Forum negotiators, representing the faculty, which called for salary and fringe benefit increases, the Trustees received a recommendation from the Administration for the tuition increases and approved them by a split 5-2 vote.

Previously, the Administration had proposed tuition hikes of $1 per credit hour for resident students and $1.50 for non-residents. It was rejected by the Trustees, some of whom indicated they would never vote for a tuition increase for residents, and the Administration instructed to review the budget for possible slashes to make up the deficit.

The Administration didn't change its position and reported back to the Trustees with the recommendations for the boosts, dropping the hike for residents from $1.50 to $1 and boosting that for non-residents from $1.50 to $2.

As far as could be learned, the Administration made no recommendations for budget cuts with the exception of asking that $9,000 be taken from the contingency fund to make up the difference from the tuition boost and the deficit.

The tuition increase will raise approximately $56,000 in new revenue, Vice President, in Charge of Business, Kenneth Lindner told the Board.

AFTER A LENGTHY discussion, the Board approved the recommendation by a 5-2 vote. Those in favor included: Board Chairman Harold Fischer, Vice Chairman Mrs. Jane Moehle and Sam Hudson, all of Plymouth; Clarke Oldenburg of Garden City; and Bertram Second of Northville. Opposing the hike were: James Boswell and Dr. George Martin, of Livonia.

Secretary Paul Mutnick, of Clarenceville, was absent. He had previously indicated opposition to a tuition hike for resident students.

The Board instructed College President Dr. Eric Bradner to cover the $9,000 budget deficit by making necessary adjustments in the $2,599,776 operating budget adopted by the Board earlier.

PREVIOUSLY, the Trustees had asked Dr. Bradner and his associates at the Administrative level to make adjustments covering the entire deficit without an increase in tuition.

The increase raises tuition from the present $8 per credit hour to $9 for students who live in the college district, and from $12 an hour to $14 for non-residents.

To the average full time student carrying 15 hours of work a semester, the new rates will mean a jump from the present $240 a year in tuition to $270 for residents, and from $360 to $420 for non-residents.

THE INCREASES did not affect a 50 cent per credit hour student activity fee, which will remain the same. Schoolcraft students pay no other charges than tuition and the activity fee.

In raising tuition rates which had remained pegged at $8 and $12 since the college opened in 1964, trustees followed what has become a state-wide pattern in higher education this year as more and more colleges feel the pinch of higher operating costs.

High Point Drivers Not Responsible For Labor Day Fatalities

Secretary of State James M. Hare reports that only one of the 56 drivers involved in the Labor Day holiday traffic fatalities had 12 or more violation points at the time of the mishap.

Hare said that 26 of the remaining 55 did not have violation points at the time of the fatal accidents.

Following is a recap of the point totals of the 31 drivers involved in the Labor Day fatalities:

Points	No. of Persons
0	26

(NOTE: The records of three of the drivers involved in Labor Day fatalities could not be located with the names and birth dates provided by State Police officials. Two out-of-state drivers—one from Indiana and one from Texas—were also involved in holiday fatality mishaps.)

The Secretary of State noted that the driver with the 12 violation points hasn't had a ticket since April, 1967. The ticket for an equipment violation came just after he had been given driver improvement assistance by the department.

Hare noted that the Labor Day fatality report again proved that it is the average driver, not the person with the high point total, that becomes involved in fatal traffic mishaps.

Hare again questioned whether there was a correlation between the extremely high fatality total and the fact that the Michigan National Guard did not assist State Police patrols over the long holiday weekend.

Before that, he worked with an advertising agency in Philadelphia. Lilley is a native of Philadelphia where he attended the Episcopal Academy; later he studied at Washington College in Chestertown, Md. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Teachers Attended Workshop

Two high school teachers from Farmington spent two summer weeks attending a curriculum workshop sponsored by Livonia's public schools at Stevenson High School.

Donald Howell attended from North Farmington's science department, and Eugene Schoenrich from the English department of Farmington High.

The in-service workshop had as its objective the "planning and improvement of curriculum practices." It was funded by the National Defense Education Act's Title III, and was held from Aug. 21 to Sept. 1.

Addressing the meetings were outstanding educators from Michigan and nearby states.

Their subjects were presented under such topics as: Behavior and Change, Learning Theory, Space Utilization, and Effects of Mass Communication on Learning.

As a result of the two weeks of daily sessions, the two Farmington participants agreed, "We will carry to our schools significant changes and ideas for curriculum improvement."

Seven dead have been counted officially as a result of the squall which tore apart the coho fishing fleet in the northern reaches of Lake Michigan, off the state's northwestern coast.

One of them was Smith, of 37424 Ann Arbor Trail, a 54-year-old retired equipment operator of the Wayne County Road Commission who had lived in Livonia almost his entire life since his birth there in 1913.

ANOTHER OF THE seven was a companion in the same 17-foot fibreglas boat, a fishing buddy from Alger, Arthur DeHate.

Of the threesome in that boat who had gone in quest of the romantic, hard-fighting coho earlier in the day only one survived the blast which turned the inland sea into a cesspool of death. That was another friend of the rod and reel, Frank Stoner, of Black Lake.

Saturday's storm hit at approximately 4 p.m. and the Smith-DeHate-Stoner craft made it back within 100 feet of the Michigan shore.

Then a monstrous wind-driven wave not only flipped the boat, dumping its three fishermen into the brine, but also smashed its windshield and tore out its seats before wrathfully pushing its wrecked carcass to shore.

Somehow Stoner made it through the wind and waves to safety.

THE BODIES of Smith and DeHate were recovered by law enforcement officials later in the day.

At 11 p.m. Saturday, viewing a televised newscast on WWJ-TV (Ch. 4), Smith's family first heard the news that their husband, their father, their brother had perished.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the Schrader Funeral Home, Plymouth. Interment of the dedicated outdoorsman took place in Livonia Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Pyrra; his mother, six sons and daughters, six brothers and sisters, and nine grandchildren.

School Board Reveals Wages For Staffers

Administrative salaries totaling $377,555 have been approved by the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education for the 1967-68 fiscal year, dating from last July 1 through next June 30.

Twenty-eight individuals, headed by Supt. James H. Rossman, are included on the administrative staff.

IN MOST INSTANCES, the new contract between the Board of Education and the teaching corps also led directly to wage increases for members of the administration. The latter salaries are established in relationship to the maximum paid to teachers holding masters degrees.

Individual experience, education and performance also are factors affecting administrative salary determinations.

In a number of cases, such as that of Earl Gibson, newly appointed assistant superintendent for elementary education, upward adjustments also were based upon increased duties assigned to the individual.

The complete 1967-68 administrative salary schedule:

Baptist Church Is Robbery Scene

Thieves who broke into the First Baptist Church of Livonia, 17725 Inkster Rd., last week got away with an electric typewriter, an adding machine, mimeograph machine and possibly some cash.

Police reports showed that the church was entered through a window in the woman's restroom, and that after entering, the thieves kicked in doors to locked offices.

Area Angler Loses Life In Squall

The elements which Earl H. Smith conquered time after time as a lifelong Michigan fisherman and hunter finally struck with a life-taking savagery Saturday. They made the furious swirls of the coho salmon he was seeking look like the ripples of a boy skipping stones.

Seven dead have been counted officially as a result of the squall which tore apart the coho fishing fleet in the northern reaches of Lake Michigan, off the state's northwestern coast.

One of them was Smith, of 37424 Ann Arbor Trail, a 54-year-old retired equipment operator of the Wayne County Road Commission who had lived in Livonia almost his entire life since his birth there in 1913.

Cool Air

Summer air conditioning still has one overwhelming appeal to Americans: It keeps them cool and comfortable in hot weather.

But the other things that a central system can do for you—such as making your home cleaner and more healthful—are motivating an increasing number of people toward the purchase and installation of air conditioning for the hot, humid months.

The Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute, noting that research into the benefits of air conditioning is still in its infancy, reports that investigations already available show that an air-conditioned home will have a significant impact on the way your family lives and works.

A number of surveys and scientific studies show just how broad this impact can be.

Dr. Donald P. Blankertz, of the University of Pennsylvania, interviewed 143 families living in air-conditioned homes. Better than two-thirds said that air conditioning greatly improves sleeping habits.

The National Association of Home Builders, in a series of tests at the Association's "Air-Conditioned Village" near Austin, Texas, found that children nap longer in the day and sleep longer at night.

Adults enjoy the same benefit; NAHB reported that grown-ups in air-conditioned homes averaged 8.1 hours of sleep a night during the summer, while those without air-conditioning averaged only 6.9 hours of sleep.

NAHB also found out that air-conditioned families with small children spent an average of 36 waking hours per week together in the summer, but similar families without air-conditioning spent only 30 hours together.

Another study, this one by the American Gas Association, of 235 air-conditioned families showed that almost half said they had better appetites.

A scientific test made by Dr. Orren D. Chapman, professor of Bacteriology at New York State University, showed that central air-conditioning can reduce the amount of pollen in a room by 98 per cent.

College Guidance Test Will Be Given Oct. 14

Plymouth High School juniors and seniors who anticipate going on to college have been advised that the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board will be given Saturday, Oct. 14.

The test is offered as an aid in the guidance of students toward higher education, a school spokesman stated.

It's comparability to the aptitude test required for admission purposes by many colleges recommend it for guidance use, it was said.

Several scholarship programs also consider the scores of this test in rating students.

Among these are the National Honorary Society, S&H National Scholarships, Telluride Association, Scholarships for Federal Service, Lutheran Layman's League and the National League of Masonic Clubs.

Students planning to take the Oct. 14 test should register at the High School Guidance Office. A fee of $1.50 will be charged each student.

What About Murphy's Mustache?

Chuck Murphy, 16-year-old Franklin High junior thinks he has a large proportion of the student body behind him in his fight, now lodged in the courts, to keep his mustache.

The object in question is nearly two years old now, Chuck claims, and most everyone agrees that as mustaches go it's neat, well-trimmed and clear.

One quiet afternoon this week an Observer reporter asked several of Chuck's fellow Franklin students what they thought.

In contrast to some of the comments from school administrators, school board officials, judges, lawyers and parents, the students looked on the mustache question in simple terms. Either they thought he should keep it or shave it.

In fact, only one of the students polled thought the thing should go. Not on principle, really. She just thought it looked awful.

The general reaction was that the mustache was neat, clean and unobtrusive. All of the students seemed to feel that if Chuck wanted to keep it, nobody had a right to make him shave it off. One girl put her feeling simply: "It's his face."

DEBBIE HUNTER, 16: "I like it. He'd look strange without it. I just don't see why they should make him get rid of it."

LARRY SEGUIN, 16: "It's neat. It's not disturbing the classes or distracting attention. I think he should be able to keep it."

DONA DEMAN, 16: "I think it looks terrible. They ought to make him shave it off."

STU MILLER, 17: "It's just a little mustache. I think it's great and it doesn't hinder studies. He shouldn't have to shave it."

DEBBIE ASHBY, 16: "I think he should be able to keep it if he wants to. After all, it's his face."

Schoolcraft Bleachers Purchased

Schoolcraft College Student Senate, student governing body, has presented the college with $486 to help pay the cost of a set of out-door bleachers for spectators at college soccer matches.

Purchase of the bleachers was triggered when Merri Bowl Lanes gave the college a $200 gift for that purpose. The balance of the total cost of $730 will be taken from the college athletic account.

The bleachers provide seating for 200 persons and have been erected along the east sideline of the temporary soccer field on the campus along Haggerty Road.

Tan, Smooth Leg Has Right To Complain

The short, short skirt poses a lot of problems and possibilities, but one of the most interesting is what happens, in a fashion sense, to the newly emerged leg.

A few years ago, in the dim mists of the modern age, before skirts said farewell to the knee, the coming of pastel tints in nylons was a big thing.

Now the choice of colors and textures for the fashionable leg is practically unlimited, and the pastel nylons look shy and pale.

Even fishnets, which really took over last year, look pretty tame this season.

They have to compete with everything from strange geometric designs in flashing colors to fluorescent pinks, oranges and yellows in spider web patterns.

Most of the new leg coverings come in panty styles, which solves some of the difficult undercovering question. It seems that the last time skirts reached current heights, during the 20s, most women coped by simply rolling their silky stockings at the knee.

These days, the girdle and nylon manufacturers have been scrambling to keep up, but there is still a lingerie lag, and thus the impressive sales of everything from little-girl type tights to thigh-high boots.

There's no question that the wild and sometimes weird leg is in fashion, but there are still some important principles to remember when applying leg coverings to the total look.

If you're going in for the smashing, geometric leg, the rest of the outfit has to be pretty simple. And the little girl tights look works best with low shoes and simple, loose-fitting dresses. Tights with slinky dresses and high heels are strictly Irma La Douce.

A jiffy tour of Observerland markets revealed that a combination opaque tights with fishnet on top seems to be big stuff, along with all sorts of spidery textures, that fall somewhere between fishnet and the early patterned creations. Also big for later in the season are a lot of very heavy tights, with deeply cut patterns. These seem to be discarded from the knee sock, but there's more of them and they're a lot more exciting.

The other standout is the micro-fishnet, which divides the leg into small rectangles, like a large bay window with a lot of little panes.

The leg, at any rate, is getting at least its share of attention on the fashion scene, and if yours are still walking around skin color and smooth, they probably have a right to complain.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT Peter A. Ventura was "introduced" at a party in his honor given and attended by friends, by Wayne County Circuit Judge James Canham (right).

Friends Celebrate Ventura Birthday

There wasn't any particular reason for it, they said, except that "he's a nice fellow, has a birthday September 30, and is an impressive voice in the city's government affairs."

But 300 to 350 people showed up for the party for Peter A. Ventura Friday night at Idyl Wyld Golf Club, on Five Mile Road. They came early, most stayed late at the "beer and buffet" which attracted men from various walks of life and political complexion.

"It was intended as just a tribute to the president of the Livonia Council and became a tremendous testimonial," said one of the group of friends who planned the event. "We wanted to honor him for his many years of public service."

VENTURA WHO IS expected to run against Mayor Harvey W. Moelke, did not announce his candidacy, but he did express thanks for the turnout that included most members of the Council, and public officials including City Clerk Addison Bacon.

Other long-time friends who came up included Wayne County Circuit Judges — Blair Moody, Jr., Charles S. Farmer and James Canham, and Livonia's Municipal Judge James McCann. Telegrams of congratulations came from congressmen and state legislators, and others.

"MANY NICE THINGS were said about me and I was especially complimented by Judge Canham," Ventura said. Through the microphone he told the audience "I am deeply touched to see so many of my good friends here this evening. On behalf of my family and myself, I want to thank you one and all.

Most of all I want to thank my wife and children, without whom none of my success would have been possible. My wife, Ruth, has been a constant source of strength and encouragement. Thank you."

Bentley Grads Pick Mel Hood

Bentley High School Alumni Association has picked officers and directors for 1967-68.

Serving as president is Melvin S. Hood '57; vice-president, Basim Abdelnour '65; secretary, Beverly Washalek '64; and treasurer, Cindy (Panzari) David '59.

The board of directors is comprised of Sandy (Glass) Merrion '58, Roy Rennolds '59, Kim Chaff '66, James Melosh '63, Sandra (Gaston) McIntyre '59, Rich Staky '68, and Martha Spiro '68.

Judy (Van Camp) Dearing '59 and Yvonne (Coulter) Miller '59 will act as assistants to the directors while George Calder '55 and Jim Zimlich '55 serve as alumni advisors and Fred McGlone and Ray Olson as faculty advisors.

The first social event of the new school year will be a get together for cider and doughnuts after Bentley's homecoming football game which begins at 8 p.m. on October 24. All alumni are urged to come to the game and meet in the senior lounge (where the old porch used to be) afterwards for refreshments.

Livonia Adult Courses Open To Outsiders

Free evening school classes for men and women interested in completing academic secondary school courses leading toward a high school diploma are now available in Bentley High School, at Hubbard Road and Five Mile, in Livonia.

Courses which once cost as much as $25 each are free to metropolitan area residents who dropped out of high school or have other reasons to acquire a diploma.

John Anderson, director of Adult Education in Livonia, said classes will begin this week. A schedule list of 200 academic, hobby, and professional course information can be had by phoning GA 2-1200 or KE 7-4493. Copies are also available at Livonia high schools and at the Carl Sandburg and Alred Noble public libraries.

Home Made Coffee Cake Brightens Breakfast

If you want to start the day off right, surprise your family with a delicious Cinnamon Breakfast Braid.

Traditional in shape, but unique in taste, this mouth-watering yeast coffee cake goes well with either coffee or milk. Topped with brown sugar and cinnamon, the braid has a pebbly appearance and a crunchy, sweet flavor when baked.

Wonder how you can ever have a taste-tempting coffee cake like this ready in time for an early breakfast? It's easy with the new CoolRise method that adapts yeast baking to fit into your busy schedule.

Unlike the time-consuming conventional way of yeast baking, the modern CoolRise method requires a minimum of preparation time. In less than an hour you can complete the mixing, kneading and shaping steps. An electric mixer can be used for added convenience. After shaping the dough, place it in the refrigerator to rise for 2 hours—or up to 24 hours if you like.

This means you can prepare the dough the night before, refrigerate, and then just slip it into the oven for half an hour in the morning. The result—a delectable Cinnamon Breakfast Braid that's sure to win your family's approval and make you "Queen for the Day!"

Set Dinner Honoring Mardiros

A testimonial dinner and dance is scheduled for this Sunday in honor of Ron Mardiros, a prominent Livonia Democrat and former branch manager of the Secretary of State's office.

Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., with dinner scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Roma Hall on Five Mile Road.

Co-chairmen of the event, which is billed as a dinner in honor of Mardiros and not as a fund-raising event, are Ron Hecker and Pat Bardocz.

Mardiros recently completed his term as one of nine Livonia Charter Commissioners, and currently is Chairman of the Livonia Schools Board of Councillors. He founded and now owns Livonia Printers, and is President of the AAA Bonding Company.

The long-time local Democrat has been engaged in a battle with Michigan Secretary of State, James A. Hare, who recently removed him from his branch managership.

Political insiders had speculated that the dinner would be a fund-raising event designed to finance Mardiros' court suit against his removal, but sources close to the Livonia figure said they expected the dinner would clear a minimum profit.

Invitations have gone forward to a group including U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart, Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, former Governor G. Mennen Williams, State Senator Raymond Dziedzic and numerous other Democratic and non-partisan political figures.

Tickets for the dinner are available by calling Maxine Brodkey at 474-5141 or Don McKay at 531-6109.

Elastic Bib Holder

For the 2 to 4-year-old, save that bib-typing routine at every meal by removing the original bib strings and replacing them with narrow elastic, long enough to slip over the child's head. This saves time of tying and untying bib strings and does away with torn strings and knots.

1 cup warm milk (105 degrees-115 degrees F.)
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1-1/2 tsp. salt*
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 cup softened margarine or shortening
2 eggs
1/4 cup softened butter or margarine
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tsp. cinnamon
Cooking oil

Spoon or pour flour into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto wax paper.

Sprinkle or crumble yeast into 2/3 cup warm water in large, warm bowl. Stir until dissolved. Add warm milk, granulated sugar, salt, cinnamon, margarine, eggs and 3 cups flour. Beat with wooden spoon or electric mixer at low speed until smooth (about 1 minute). Then beat vigorously (2-3 minutes) until thick and elastic. Scrape sides of bowl occasionally. Stir in remaining flour gradually with wooden spoon. Use just enough flour to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl, adding more if necessary. Turn out onto floured board. Round up into a ball.

Knead 5-10 minutes or until dough is smooth, elastic and no longer sticky. Cover with plastic wrap then a towel. Let rest for 20 minutes on board. Punch down. Divide into 2 equal portions. Round up each portion. Combine brown sugar and cinnamon. Roll each portion into a 9x14-inch rectangle on lightly greased board. Spread evenly with half the butter. Cut lengthwise into 3 equal strips. Sprinkle center of each strip with 4 teaspoons of sugar mixture. Pinch lengthwise edges of each strip together to form a rope. Braid 3 ropes together on greased baking sheet. Begin at center and braid to each end. Seal ends and tuck under braid. Brush braids lightly with oil. Cover pans loosely with plastic wrap.

Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours at moderately cold setting. When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover. Let stand for 10 minutes while preheating oven. Puncture any surface bubbles with an oiled toothpick and apply Cinnamon Crunch Topping (below) just before baking.

Bake at 375 degrees for 25-30 minutes or until done. Bake on a lower oven rack position for best results. Remove from baking sheets immediately. Cool on racks.

Yield: 2 coffee cakes

CINNAMON CRUNCH TOPPING

1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 egg white, beaten

Combine brown sugar and cinnamon. Brush each braid with beaten egg white. Sprinkle evenly with half the sugar mixture.

State Youth Recreation Talks Set

EAST LANSING--Michigan recreation and youth leaders have scheduled a state-wide conference for Oct. 12 in East Lansing to spearhead ways of encouraging problem youngsters to join the "in crowds" of their communities' educational, recreational and social activities.

The recreation conference, co-sponsored by the state Conservation Department's new Recreation Services Division and the Michigan Youth Commission, will begin at 9 a.m. in the Union Building at Michigan State University.

It will be closely tied to how organized leisure-time programs can return potential drop-outs and young delinquents to the mainstream of community life. Municipal officials, educators, recreation specialists, and community organization leaders will hear how to develop practical action programs to meet the needs of hard-to-reach youngsters.

The all-day meeting, focusing upon growing social problems among youths in cities where tensions and unrest are posing serious storm warnings, will feature speakers representing a broad sweep of community interests.

Sheriff Seeks More Aid In Hunt For Suspects

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department has asked public assistance in unearthing the identity of two young men suspected of kidnapping a 15-year-

Gerae Simmons Is Found Dead In Garage

The body of Gerae J. Simmons, 25, of 15165 Farmbrook Dr., Plymouth Township, was found in the garage of his home Sunday, the apparent victim of carbon monoxide poisoning suffered when the engine of his automobile was left running. Mr. Simmons was a test driver for the Chrysler Corporation and is survived by his wife, Barbara, and three small children, as well as his parents. Funeral services were scheduled to be held at 1:00 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the Schrader Funeral Home, with burial in Riverside Cemetery.

old girl from a school bus stop in Plymouth Township and driving her to Ypsilanti where she allegedly was raped by both youths.

Detective Rosemary Newsome of the Women's Bureau, said that the girl, a Plymouth Township resident who attended school in Ypsilanti, was forcibly abducted while waiting for a school bus to pick her up at Joy Rd. and M-14.

This occurred, according to Detective Newsome's report, at 7:10 a.m., Sept. 14.

THE TWO men who forced her into their car are alleged then to have driven to the vicinity of Ypsilanti in Washtenaw County, where the girl says she was raped by each of them. They next drove back to the original point of the abduction and released the girl at about 8:30 a.m., according to the report.

All law enforcement offices in the area have been notified that the pair is wanted for kidnapping and rape.

Both are white, and the age of each is estimated at 17. They were driving what is described as a "medium blue" car, which had two furry dice hanging from the rear view mirror. The vehicle's license plates were covered with cardboard.

ONE YOUTH is said to be about five-feet-11-inches in height, weighs an estimated 140 pounds, has brown hair, and is called "Charlie" or "Steve."

The other is reportedly about six feet tall, weighing 150, and has reddish brown, wavy hair. His face is prominently marked with acne.

Detective Newsome said all high schools in this part of Wayne County, plus eastern Washtenaw County, have been checked and that an artist's conception of the appearance of both youths has been distributed, but so far to no avail.

Any person with possible information as to the identity of the pair should contact Detective Newsome at the Sheriff's Road Patrol Office, Henry Ruff Rd. and Michigan Ave., in Inkster, or call the Road Patrol office, 721-2222.

PLATE WORDING CHANGED — Robert Dwyer, head of the Michigan Secretary of State's Plymouth branch, shows a sample of the new automobile license plates to be issued for 1968. The big change is in the identification slogan to be carried at the bottom of each plate. Instead of reading, "Water-Winter Wonderland," the new Michigan plates will carry the words, "Great Lake State."

Esch Argues For New Bill

Considering increased criticism about the laxness of the 90th Congress, it's ironic that legislation which would revitalize this great body lies collecting dust in the House Rules Committee. The congressional reorganization bill, a product of almost two years of significant study by a joint committee, was passed by the Senate 75-9 on March 7 of this year. This represented a giant step forward in much needed Congressional self-analysis and was encouraging to those of us who have been calling for reform. Since that time, however, it has become increasingly clear that the powers in the House have little or no interest in modernizing Congress. The leadership apparently has decided to keep the bill bottled up in committee indefinitely.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that some of those doing the obstructing are the same powers that lament the seeming inability of Congress to come to grips with modern problems. The hidden agenda is that much of the bill deals with the institution of more democratic procedures -- something which threatens the long standing and disproportionate power held by these veterans of Congressional service.

The 134 page bill delves into almost every single internal function of Congress and authorizes much needed improvements. Highlights of the measure include a bill of rights for committee members to do away with the arbitrary decisions by the chairman; the implementation of effective fiscal controls and budgetary reforms; protection of minority rights; greater assistance for members in the performance of their duties; and the establishment of a permanent joint committee on operations to undertake a continual review of Congressional structures.

THESE AND OTHER reforms were adopted unanimously by a bipartisan committee which was staffed by experts including former Congressman George Meader. The committee held some 41 public hearings at which 199 witnesses testified.

This testimony together with countless other studies and documents is set forth in 16 printed volumes totaling some 2,400 pages. Despite the weight of this evidence and overwhelming approval by the Senate, the House continues to sit on this vital piece of legislation.

Surely, if Congress is to face the problems of the 70's it needs to be revitalized. And surely, if Congress is to regain its place as the first branch of government and restore balance to our system, its structures and procedures must be improved. I will continue to push for such action and hope the House will soon recognize its vital responsibility to act.

U-M Aid Offered Detroit

The University of Michigan has offered its services to the New Detroit Committee and established a faculty committee to act as liaison in consultation, research, and development.

Chairman of the U-M committee is Angus Campbell, professor of psychology and sociology and director of the Survey Research Center of the Institute for Social Research. Other members are Wade Ellis, associate dean of the Graduate School; Robert Harris, professor of law; Robert Kahn, program director for ISR and professor of psychology; Eugene Litvak, professor of social welfare research; Harold Magnuson, M.D., director of the Institute of Industrial Health, professor of internal medicine, and chairman of the department of industrial health; Albert J. Reiss, Jr., chairman of the department of sociology and director of the Center for Research on Social Organization; and Norman Scott, associate dean of the College of Engineering.

The faculty committee held its first meeting Thursday, September 14.

According to Prof. Campbell, U-M activity will be greatly determined by the requests made by the New Detroit Committee.

Some faculty members are already working with the New Detroit Committee. As members of a task force for its law and finance subcommittee, Prof. Harris and Profs. Williams J. Pierce and Terrance Sandalow have already done extensive work.

Prof. Harris has been consulting on establishment of a positive action program to implement open occupancy and Profs. Pierce and Sandalow have been working on the crucial problem of insurance in the stricken areas of Detroit.

After the July rioting in Detroit Prof. Harris and Profs. Frank Kennedy and Alan Polasky of the Law School, along with 10 volunteer law students, made the first step in U-M cooperation by defending indigents through a Detroit Bar program.

MCSC Has Jobs Open

Jobs for housekeepers are available at two employment levels, with pay scales of $4,400 to $5,650. There are openings at four levels for housekeeping supervisors, with salaries ranging from $5,600 to $6,450. The openings for television repairmen have a salary range of $7,050 to $8,050.

He suggested that anyone interested in more complete information about the qualifications and salaries of these and other state employment opportunities should contact their local state employment office or write to the Michigan Civil Service Commission in the Lewis Cass Building in Lansing.

Plymouth Boy Scouts Win 68 Merit Badges

Twenty-eight members of Boy Scout Troop P-1 of Plymouth were awarded a total of 68 merit badges at a Court of Honor last week which opened the troop's fall activity schedule.

Most of the awards were earned during the two weeks which the troop spent at the Detroit Council's Bar-A ranch during summer vacation.

In addition to presentation of the merit badges, eight members of the troop were advanced to higher ratings as a feature of the Court of Honor.

Curt Horton, Pat Murphy and Steve Whitesell all advanced to the rank of second class Scouts. Terry Gould, John Hoffman and Richard Jamison earned first class ratings, while Fred Hoffman and Craig Ritchie became star Scouts.

Scoutmaster Paul J. Cummings announced that the troop has elected Jim Fishback as senior patrol leader for the coming year, with Fred Hoffman chosen for the role of assistant senior patrol leader. Troop P-1 is sponsored by the Plymouth Kiwanis Club and meets at 7 p.m. each Monday at Bird School. Boys from 11 to 17 who would like to become members of the troop are invited to attend any of the fall meetings.

Home Owners Group To Air New Problems

School crossings will be the main topic of discussion Wednesday evening when the Holiday Park Home Owners Association holds its first official meeting of the fall season at the Canton Township Fire Hall on Canton Center Road at Cherry Hill.

The crossings to the various schools and especially to the new Elementary #8 when it is completed, have become real problems. Many of the area officials will be on hand too for the meeting.

Bicycle Given Top Billing By Africans

In his second lecture to the Plymouth Study Club Dr. James Christensen told of the importance of the bicycle to the people in Africa.

According to him, when the Africans park their bicycles they lock them carefully, remove the tire pumps and carry them around almost like swagger sticks.

"The tire pump has become such a status symbol," he said, "that those who can not afford a bicycle at least buy a pump to give the impression that they own one. "Don't laugh," he continued, "how many hundreds of motorists were sweltering on our expressways this summer with their car windows tightly closed to give the impression they owned air-conditioners?"

City Charter Report Due In Three Months

George Hudson, Chairman of the Charter Study Committee for the City of Plymouth, does not expect the work to be completed for at least three months.

"We have tackled the most difficult problems first," he explained, "and we will be at them for quite some time. After that, the going should be fairly easy—but it will require at least three months."

Serving on the committee with Commissioner Hudson are Art Shepard, William Hartman, John Ward and Richard Wernette.

They meet each Tuesday evening to discuss the 10 changes suggested by the Chairman some time ago.

UF Post Goes To Mrs. Green

Mrs. Frederick L. Green, 6121 Lotz, Plymouth, has been named a division chairman in the Western Wayne residential campaign of the 1967 Torch Drive.

Mrs. Green, who has worked for the United Foundation campaign since 1957, will be responsible for directing door-to-door solicitations in Canton Township.

Her appointment was announced by Mrs. Donald J. Bosman, of Romulus, region chairman for the residential campaign in Van Buren, Romulus, Huron, Sumpter and Canton Townships.

Renault Due For Unusual Organ Concert

Something new and different will be provided for music lovers on Tuesday evening, October 3, when Frank Renault, nationally known organist, appears in a special concert in the auditorium of the O.L. Smith School, 23651 Yale, near Telegraph.

The unique program promises to provide some unusual thrills for organ enthusiasts.

The entire program is being presented through the courtesy of the Anderson Music Co., 637 North Main Street, Plymouth, and 650 North Telegraph, Dearborn.

NBD Check-Mate: For people in the Plymouth area who want money when they want it.

If you've ever wanted money that wasn't there—for an emergency or a bargain—Check-Mate, an exclusive service from NBD was meant for you.

Check-Mate is a personal line of credit with your name on it. It's a cash reserve attached to your regular checking account. It's extra money that's yours when you need it. Here's how Check-Mate works. Just write a check. If it's bigger than your existing balance, the bank automatically transfers money, in multiples of $100, to your account. Your check is covered. It's like writing yourself a loan: it's completely confidential.

Your reserve doesn't cost you a cent until you actually use it. Then you'll pay for only the amount you've activated and for the exact number of days you've used it. As you repay, via automatic monthly deductions, your reserve climbs up to its maximum and is again available to you. An extra feature of Check-Mate: You'll get an NBD Check Guarantee Card. This will help you cash personal checks up to $100 at business places all around town: even where you're not personally known.

If Check-Mate sounds like your kind of an idea, stop by any NBD office and ask about it today. If you qualify, you'll never again be without the money you want, when you want it.

New Teachers Signed For Westland Schools

The Livonia school system, which includes part of the northern Westland area, has contracted for 400 new teachers and specialists to take care of the exploding classroom needs in these rapidly growing suburban communities.

Not all of the incoming teachers will be assigned to new positions. Some will replace colleagues who are on various types of leave or who for educational or personal reasons have taken positions elsewhere in the United States or at overseas dependent school posts.

Art Show To Open On Oct. 1

The Bloomfield Art Association opens its season Sunday, Oct. 1, with an exhibition designed to appeal to the area's many young art collectors.

Graphics International, selected by painter-printmaker Aris Koutroulis from Detroit and Ann Arbor galleries, will include 53 works by such well-known painters as Robert Motherwell, Robert Rauschenberg, Larry Rivers and Marisol.

Koutroulis, who studied printmaking at Tamarind in Los Angeles, has also included prints by such noteworthy local artists as Robert Broner and Laurence Barker and examples of work from England, France, Spain, Italy, Mexico and Brazil.

The resurgence of printmaking among outstanding painters and sculptors in America has removed the once wide-spread concept of graphics as "art for the masses" and enabled them to recover their dignity as a medium of original expression.

In presenting Graphics International, the Bloomfield Art Association seeks to show examples which demonstrate that this art form has regained the status it held in the nineteenth century.

The Detroit galleries of Gertrude Kaseb, Lawrence Stevens, Franklin Siden, and London Arts as well as the Forsythe and Lanterh galleries of Ann Arbor have loaned works for this exhibition. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nagle, of Southfield,--both commercial artists--are handling the installation.

Aris Koutroulis, who is responsible for the content of the exhibition, is Assistant Professor of Graphics at Wayne State University and a member of the Bloomfield Art Association faculty.

Graphics International will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. daily--except Monday. The gallery is located at 1516 South Cranbrook, Birmingham.

Window Dressing

If metal windows seem severe, dress them up by framing them with wood casing or moldings. Pick up standard window casing or moldings at your lumber yard, cut and apply around interior or exterior edges of the windows.

ter of teachers, Livonia has signed up all teachers needed for the 1967-68 school year with the exception of a few industrial arts and specialist positions.

According to Dr. Norman L. Whisler, director of personnel, the new year begins with many teachers reassigned to new schools. This is necessary to balance young, recently graduated neophytes with more experienced teachers.

IN SOME CASES, teachers who have returned from educational or maternity leaves are assigned to new schools. In others, in a sort of "musical chairs" routine, the promotion of educators to principalships or specialist positions, results in vacancies which are often filled by transfer from other schools.

Teachers serving in the Livonia system for the first time are shown with the letter (N) after their names.

Careless Smoker Public Enemy

The Westland Fire Dept. this week opened a campaign against the careless smoker, termed "Public Enemy Number One." "Match heads and cigarettes have no brains and the same can be said for the type of smoker who persists in starting fires in homes and forests," the department said.

"Each year, thoughtless smokers are responsible for more than 200,000 fires and about 1,200 people die in these fires, according to the National Fire Protection estimates."

Army Private First Class Dennis M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Smith, 33415 Myrna Drive, Livonia, has been assigned to the 115th Supply and Service Battalion near Mannheim, Germany.

Pvt. Smith, a clerk typist in the battalion's Headquarters Company, entered the Army in October 1966 and was last stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

The 23-year-old soldier was graduated from Bentley High School in 1962.

Renewal Group Reformed

Garden City's urban renewal committee will be renewed. The previous 32-member group which hasn't met within the past six months, will get underway soon in a smaller format.

The City Council named five persons to the group: Tom Pollard and Eugene Reccia, who previously served on the former committee. 2nd Glen Ponte, Russell Scharberger, and Alex Zehomick.

Ponte's nomination to the committee by Councilman Robert Wildish was made conditional on his getting available time from his post office job.

Mayor Timothy Murphy said that the new committee should study three areas of federal funds for local improvements as soon as its organized.

These studies would include relocation for elderly citizens and those replaced by the Garden City urban renewal project at Cherry Hill and Middle Belt Roads; a federal grant for a land development study to look into the opening of presently dead-end streets; and a neighborhood renewal plan, under which substandard homes are removed for new development on a "spot" basis without taxing the entire area.

THE SAD PART of this is that we almost always blame the match and cigarette rather than the selfish, unthinking person who used them, the department pointed out.

The department recommended the following rules for the community:

1--If you smoke in bed, break the habit at once. It is one of the most common and correctible causes of death.

2--Make sure your matches and cigarettes are completely used out before disposing of them. Break the match between your fingers and grind the cigarette until the lit end is cool to the touch.

3--Have plenty of safe ash trays around the house and office. The safe ones are large enough and deep enough and designed to hold a burning cigarette entirely within the tray so it can't fall out.

4--WHEN DRIVING, discard your matches and cigarettes in the car's ash tray and see that the passengers do the same.

5--Every night before retiring, and especially after parties, look under sofa cushions and around crevices of upholstered chairs. Any still hot cigarettes which have lodged in those spots can cause deadly, smoldering night-time fires.

Theatre Casts For 5th Season

Wayne State University has welcomed 39 members of the Hilberry Classic Theatre company which will begin casting for its fifth season of repertory.

The company, including 19 newcomers and 20 returnees from last season, was honored at a luncheon by WSU President and Mrs. William R. Keast and members of the Under-studies, a theatre fund-raising group, at the McGregor Memorial Conference Center.

TWENTY-TWO states are represented in this year's company, the largest in the Hilberry's history. Michigan heads the roster with four members, followed by California and New York with three each.

Representing Michigan are Barbara Meek, of Detroit, and Helen Scarlett, of Allen Park --both returnees, and newcomers Thomas Colley, of Lansing, and James Sampson, of Detroit. The Hilberry Theatre, located at Cass and Hancock, opened in 1963 as a performance center for advanced acting students. Last year the Hilberry played to 62,000 patrons, more than 80 per cent of capacity.

The Hilberry will again be directed by Leonard Leone, assisted by associate director Richard Spear and assistant director Robert Hazzard.

PRIOR to the official season's opening Jan. 10, the theatre will revive last season's comedy hit, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," for fall performances starting Oct. 4.

The 1968 season will officially open with Georges Feydeau's "A Flea in Her Ear," followed by Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" Jan. 11. Shakespeare's "Hamlet" will be added the second week, opening Jan. 17. "The Devils" by John Whiting and "Becket" by Jean Anouilh will open in Feb. and March, respectively.

Last-Second Win To R. U.

Talk about strong hearts. You'd better have one anytime Redford Union and Franklin High Schools get together in football.

When it comes to spine-tinglers, these schools have a habit of putting 'em on.

Take last year, when Franklin rallied from a 19-0 deficit to lead 21-19, only to lose in the final few moments when Glen Davis swept in to give RU a 25-21 victory.

But that was mild stuff compared to what happened last Saturday morning when Franklin initiated a.m. football with the kickoff at 10 o'clock.

Once more it was Redford Union in early command, leading 12-0 at the half.

ONCE MORE Franklin stormed out in the second half, scored once to make it 12-7, and then with 38 seconds to go in the game, the Livonians scored again and now it appeared they had a 14-12 victory locked up.

To go ahead, Franklin marched some 45 yards with Jim Labota diving the final yard and adding the point.

Franklin fans went wild. And why not?

Across the way, RU hardly knew what had hit.

But 38 seconds still showed on the clock.

Franklin kicked off and sent the ball down to RU on the RU 25. That killed a few more seconds.

There was only one hope for RU—a long bomb.

Bill Fahey dropped back for RU and let the ball go. It fell incomplete.

Twenty-five seconds were left.

FAHEY, A CORKER of a quarterback who never loses his calm, huddled back on the RU 15.

"This has to be it, guys. I'll throw it. You, Jim Walker, will be my man. Catch it, man, and go....go....go."

Sounds like a movie sequence....and like something which could happen only in the flickers.

But, that's what happened!

Fahey went back with the ball. He looked over the middle and let the ball sail in Walker's direction. Around the Franklin 45, Walker's big hands hauled in the pigskin.

Two Franklin players tried to converge on him. Walker ducked away from both.

HIS SPEED carried him the rest of the way and it was incidental that Fahey converted the extra point.

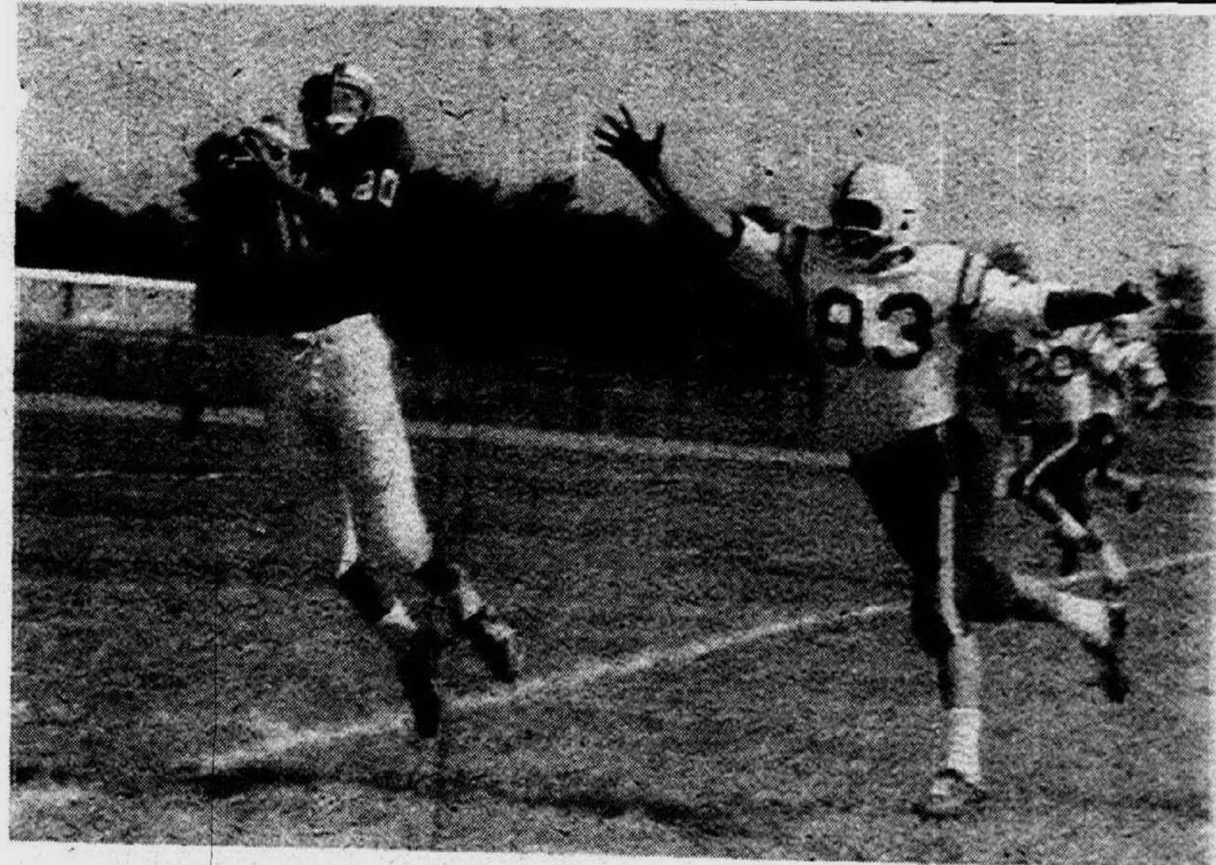

The final score read: Redford Union 19, Franklin 14. The winning points came with just eight seconds to go.

Neither coach, John Rogers of RU nor Bob Bentley of Franklin was able to say much afterward. They were too limp.

So was everybody else. The finish truly fell in the category of "once in a lifetime."

Fahey had a part in the other RU touchdowns.

He ran 40 yards for the first and shot a 35-yard pass to Kirk Taylor for No. 2.

CATCHING PASS for John Glenn High's only touchdown is End Jack Wotring (80) who got behind Stevenson Defender Charles Dickie (83) to latch on the ball.

N. Farmington Roars With Attack In High

There's might in the North Farmington High football attack. Run or pass—the Raiders know how to explode.

As Coach Ron Holland readied his charges for next Saturday's Northwest League opener against Thurston, the big question appeared to be "defense."

Holland's forces gave up three touchdowns Friday in beating Waterford Kettering, 33-20.

"That's too many points to yield," explained Holland.

Injuries Tough On Trojans

Depth has become an important factor with any sports team. Some call it "a bench, 0

Some call it "a bench." Either way, it helps to have some extra players around. If you don't, it hurts as was the case with Clarenceville High last Friday night in losing to Milford, 26-6, in its Wayne-Oakland League opener.

Two injuries and an illness left Clarenceville three men short.

"We're not saying that's why we lost," said Coach Ralph Weedle, "but since we are not that solid with players, one or two absentees can make us suffer."

Troubles getting started also didn't help Clarenceville.

BEFORE THE Trojans knew what had hit them, they were down 20 points as Milford scored once in the first period and twice in the second with Bob McFarland, Dave Dennis and Skip Harris leading the way.

Thereafter, Clarenceville strengthened its forces and played Milford even the rest of the way.

A 48-yard run by Mark Mangel produced the final Milford score, while Clarenceville moved 70 yards on runs by Carl Watkins and Dave Brandemuhl to hit the scoreboard in the last period with Watkins going the final five.

There were some encouraging signs for Clarenceville, however.

QUARTERBACK Bob Duman did some nifty passing, picking up 140 yards through the air as he hit Brandemuhl, Watkins and Brian Kent.

Rushing, Clarenceville mustered 120 yards, but Milford was far superior in this department with 205, while adding 65 more passing.

It's not, of course, too many points to have your own team score.

THE RAIDERS ripped Waterford for 291 yards on the ground and 62 through the air while the opposition amassed 141 yards running and 81 in the air.

The defensive play of North Farmington rated some orchids. There were three interceptions pulled off by the Raiders, a couple in ticklish situations.

Norm DeCourcy and Gary Zerhan combined to give North Farmington a potent one-two offensive punch—DeCourcy with his passing and Zerhan with his running.

DeCourcy twice flipped to Chuck Hill for touchdowns, while Zerhan ran 55 and 51 for six-pointers and Ken Thomas added the other marker on a 14-yard gallop.

Thomas got the scoring started in the first period.

THEN IN THE second period it was Zerhan, behind some excellent downfield blocking, who took off on his 55-yard dash. Hill, in particular, turned in some great help for Zerhan on the play.

The DeCourcy-Hill duo went to work in the third period. After the Raiders marched to the 12, DeCourcy picked out Hill in the clear for the six points.

Zerhan went back to work in the fourth period. With the ball on the North Farmington 49, he ripped around end, cut-back, picked up a few neat blocks...and it was off....51 yards to score.

JUST TO MAKE sure, North Farmington scored again on a DeCourcy to Hill pass, again for 12 yards.

Gene Pankner accounted for two touchdowns for Waterford while Bill Pervoza scored the other.

Chuck Butler booted three conversions for North Farmington.

College's Harriers 2nd

Schoolcraft College's cross country placed second in a triangular meet, scoring 36 points to winner Flint's 23 and Loran's 63.

Flint's pair of Richard Williams and Rich Crisp ran one-two, respectively. Schoolcraft's Joe Vitale was third.

Larry Buchheit (11th), Fred Neil (7th), George Jackson (9th) and Larry Cooper (11th) rounded out the Schoolcraft finishers.

Bigger and better. Harold (Hal) Schram was asked to compare high school football in Michigan today to what he saw and covered 22 years ago when he first joined the staff of the Free Press.

Hal, like the preps, has come a long way. Nobody's words about schoolboy sports in Michigan attract more interest than Hal's.

HE ALSO HAS stirred up more controversy than any of his colleagues, past and present, along the prep beat's typewriter row.

But what about schoolboy football in the two decades, plus, that Hal has reported, prepared ratings, and supervised all-state selections?

"There's just no comparison," Hal says and you remember him as a skinny kid of 17 when he showed up to see if he could write sports for the Michigan State News back in the late '30's.

"Take any aspect of the prep sports scene," continued Hal.

"The kids today probably don't appreciate it. But they have better coaching. It's not that the older generation of coaches weren't men of high calibre.

"It's just that the techniques of coaching have improved so much. The various coaching schools have helped. I'd say that the modern coach is just a little more dedicated, because, perhaps, he has more time to devote to his job of coaching."

HAL TOOK TIME for a short breather. "The modern facilities are so much better, the equipment has improved, the training procedures are better.

"And the players themselves are stronger and bigger. Modern science has helped to make the new generation a more solid lot.

"There are more six-footers around than ever. Most linemen weigh in the 200's. There's just more of everything... and it's better."

Schram lets it be known that the proof of the pudding is in the eating.

"Look at the lineups at Michigan and Michigan State... at other colleges in the state... at colleges around us.

"Michigan boys are doing a tremendous job. They have helped to make champions at Michigan and Michigan State."

Schram notes, too, that interest from a far standpoint has gone 'way up.

"You not only see it in the crowds, but I see it in the mail that comes to my desk. Even if I say something about some out-of-the-way community, I'm sure to hear about it."

ONE PHASE of prep sports that brings raves from Schram is the suburban Detroit aspect.

"It sure has made vast strides in a relatively short time," Hal says. "Time was when we on the Detroit papers didn't take much notice of the suburbs.

"Most of the teams out there represented small schools and they didn't do very much. Now, the majority of suburban schools fall in the Class A category. They have come up with top flight stadiums for football and track, and big gyms for basketball.

"Whereas they used to have an athletic coaching staff comprised of one or two men, they now have ten or 12, not counting freshman, junior varsity, etc."

What Schram says merely substantiates what we have contended for a long time: "Prep Sports in Michigan truly are Big Time stuff."

SHORT SHOTS: Wouldn't it be something if there was television on the annual Michigan-Michigan State game a week from Saturday? Not a seat remains, and there are just over 100,000 in the huge bowl at Ann Arbor.

Speaking of the U-M, the new indoor arena for basketball should be ready sometime '71 year, but maybe too late for the Wolverines' opener with Kentucky.

If area high school administrators would listen to Hayes Jones, the former Olympic hurdle champ who now works for American Airlines out of Detroit, every school would sponsor track for girls. Jones has been very instrumental in promoting meets for the fairer sex.

Got your TV's ready? The Red Wings will appear 30 times, the Pistons 13 on Channel 50 this winter.

It's quite a Junior football program the Dad's Club has going in Farmington. Six teams, each with 35 boys!

Great to see the Livonia pair of Alex Delvecchio and Norm Ullman clicking for the Red Wings again. Age doesn't seem to affect either... just as it has no bearing on their great teammate, Gordie Howe.

We like the Lions by 10 over the Football Cards next Sunday... and if you want a real sleeper, tuck away a couple pennies on the Lions to beat Green Bay at Tiger Stadium a week hence.

Tackle Stevenson Hero

It was Eugene Walker, Dale Danver and Paul Pender who did the scoring for Stevenson High in its 19-7 victory over John Glenn Saturday.

But who was the No. 1 Stevenson hero?

Stevenson Coach John Reardon didn't hesitate in singling out tackle Larry Meyers, a tiger all afternoon on defense.

"Look at Larry's figures," said Reardon.

"He made nine tackles on his own and assisted on three others. That's quite an accomplishment for any schoolboy player."

THE DEFENSE stood out for both teams with neither school getting a point on the scoreboard until the third period.

Then Stevenson cracked the ice with a drive of 49 yards, Walker slamming the final five for the touchdown. Danver and Pender shared in the march.

The next touchdown came after a poor Glenn punt which gave Stevenson the ball on the Glenn 16. In three plays the Livonians scored again, this time with Danver cracking over from the two.

PENDER ACCOUNTED for the third and final Stevenson touchdown with a run from the 14.

Glenn, meantime, had its problems trying to move on the ground.

So in the fourth period, Glenn's passing attack finally got going as Tim Wozny started hitting Dennis Malaney, a flanker.

Wozny's favorite receiver caught passes for 12, 40, 25 and eight yards in the half, and Glenn finally carried to the Stevenson 16.

THEN WOZNY changed targets and found Jack Wotring in the clear for the touchdown. A Wozny to Steve Paschke pass produced the extra point.

Stevenson picked up a total of 175 yards rushing with Danver the big workhorse as he carried 12 times for 74 yards, better than six yards per haul.

The winners' passing left something to be desired—only two successes in nine attempts,

Fumble Helps Beat Rocks

Falcons Win In Thriller

What pleases any coach the most? That's easy--when his charges improve from one week to another. This was the case, from a defensive standpoint, as far as Farmington High's football team, coached by Bob Mistele, was concerned. In its opener a week ago Friday, Farmington was bombed by Bentley.

LAST FRIDAY it was Farmington by a 12-6 score over Plymouth with defense the "name of the game" for both the winners and losers.

"What a difference seven days meant," said Mistele. "Look at the job we did against Plymouth. They made a total of 53 yards on the ground, but in the second half their total was a minus 35."

"Passing, we gave up 92 yards, but 60 of them came in one thrust when they scored." Losing Coach Tom Moshimer also found defense his happy subject.

The razzle-dazzle Farmington team was able to negotiate 100 yards on the ground and only 87 through the airlines.

"We'll just have to do something about our offense," declared Moshimer.

THE BRILLIANCE of Dan Wolfman was the key factor in the Farmington victory.

This is what Wolfman did: 1--Scored one touchdown. 2--Hit on nine out of 20 attempts for 87 yards.

3--Carried 10 times for 60 yards. 4--Averaged 44 yards punting.

5--Shared honors with Paul Misch in leading the devastating Farmington defense.

Wolfman's scoring strike came on a 30-yard run. It was what coaches call "a broken pattern."

He had dropped back to pass. Hemmed in from all sides, he found a few inches of daylight in the middle and cut loose--all the way. Thus a long loss was turned into six points.

PLYMOUTH SCORED on an electrifying play when Mike Cederburg connected to Jeff Adams on a pass which covered just under 60 yards.

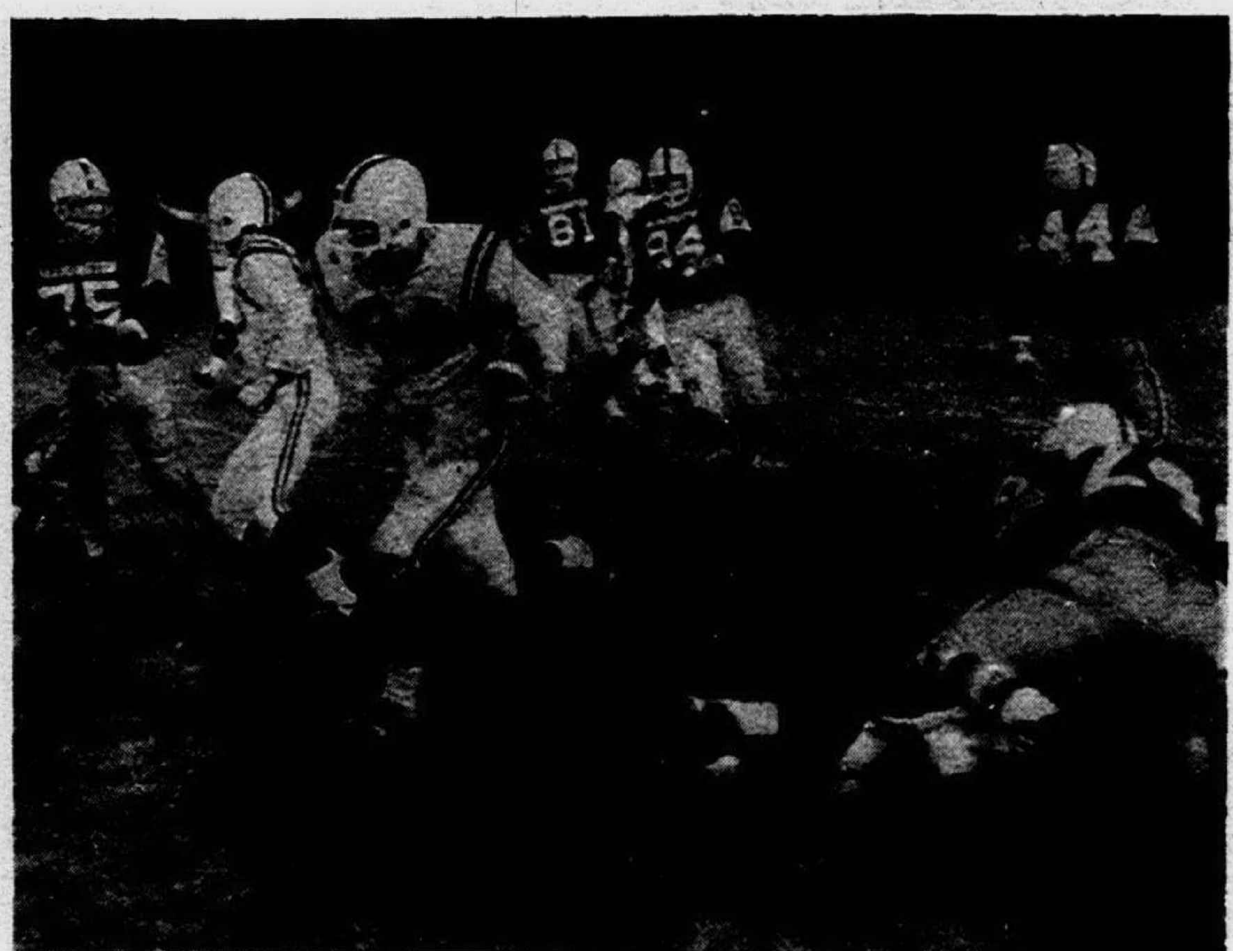

The score stood at 6-6 until late in the final quarter.

Plymouth had the ball on its 30. An attempted punt then backfired. The ball shot over the intended kicker's head...and rolled into the end zone.

PLYMOUTH'S Tom Elias scooped the ball up with Lou Henry of Farmington in pursuit. Suddenly Henry hit his rival, the ball squirted loose and Henry plopped on it for the winning touchdown.

Plymouth came up with three interceptions and had a couple of scoring threats.

The result left both teams with records of 1-1.

BREAKING LOOSE for a long gain, thanks to some excellent blocking, is Quarterback Mike Cederberg of Plymouth. The Rocks had an advantage most of the way but lost out in the closing minutes of play when a bad pass from center resulted in a Farmington High touchdown to make the final score, 12-6.

Look At Thurston

Statistics DO Err

Statistics don't tell the real story of a football game.

An inspection of the vital facts after Highland Park's battle with Thurston Friday would lead many to figure the Parkers won.

After all, they outrushed Thurston, 136-87, and picked up 78 yards in the air to only 58 for Thurston.

BUT IN THE end, Thurston had engineered a 12-7 victory to gain a 1-1 standing on the season and make coach Bill McDonald feel a little happier.

"This was a fine team effort," said the Thurston coach. "We capitalized on our opportunities and that's very important."

Opportunity No. 1 came before the game was two minutes old.

Thurston kicked to the Parkers who quickly fumbled on their own six. Thurston gained possession and three plays later, Bob (Bo) Bryant slammed across from four yards out for the touchdown.

THE TOWNSHIPERS had another big chance in the second quarter. With Craig Mutch, Bryant and Jerry Shaffer sharing ground honors, they marched to the Parkers five, before finally being stopped.

To begin the third period, Thurston struck in a BIG way. Larry Luxton rifled a pass to Dave Roberts on a play that covered 50 yards and resulted in what proved the winning touchdown.

It was one of two passes Thurston made in the game.

HIGHLAND PARK took advantage of a late fumble to produce its only touchdown.

The game was marred by penalties. Highland Park suffered a total of 160 yards during the game, 105 coming in the first half.

Thurston was guilty of 95 yards in penalties.

Now it's on to North Farmington Saturday afternoon for Thurston's Northwest League opener.

"We'll have to get our offense going better, both on the ground and in the air," said Thurston coach McDonald as he began workouts for the game Monday.

Break Ground For New Oval

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the $4 1/2-million super speedway to be located in the Irish Hills will take place next Wednesday afternoon.

The oval will include a two-mile "D"-shaped track, an infield road circuit of about 1 1/2 lengths and a Grand Prix course. It's expected the oval will be open for one major race next year.

Two Mistakes Wreck East

"Two mistakes...." Coach Gary Humphrey, of Garden City East, was sitting in a corner of the dressing room after his football team dropped a 13-0 defeat to Willow Run.

Both, said the coach, came in the second period. Both came on pass defensive maneuvers.

Each produced a touchdown for Willow Run.

Forget the two plays, and East would have at least left the field with a tie.

JERRY McCOY of Willow Run was the man who threw both passes. First he shot one to David Hart who scampered 75 yards for a touchdown.

Later it was to Jim Chandler for 25 yards and a score.

"Our young kids just became a little confused," explained the East coach. "A mixup in assignments--and they (meaning Willow Run) were off to the races."

"You have to expect such things when you have a team with the kind of inexperience we have this year. Give us a little time. These kids show definite signs they'll improve into something."

Besides patching up a lead or two in the defense, the East coach was working this week to bolster the team's offense.

EAST MADE only one serious threat in the game, gaining a second-and-three situation in the third period. But East was stopped--and never had another good chance the rest of the way.

Jim Burton did a fine job of ball carrying for East, while John Chute, a junior, moved into the quarterbacking job in the third period and it appears he now has won the job for keeps.

Rick Lapinski and Jim Santil contributed excellent defensive efforts for the losers who held Willow Run to 140 yards rushing and 101 passing. East made 106 on the ground and only 10 on passes.

Humphrey expects that Chute's arm will help shape up an improved passing attack for East in the games ahead.

No Attack Costs West 2nd Loss

The job confronting coach Harold Burkholder and his Garden City West High football team this week centers around offense.

Burkholder had only high praise for the job his defense chalked up Saturday night in a 12-0 loss to Riverside.

"Those kids did everything you could ask of them and they were not responsible for either touchdown Riverside made," explained Burkholder.

AS FOR THE offense, West didn't do much in the way of gaining and also was guilty of twice giving away the ball. Each time the result was a touchdown for Riverside.

"I realize my young team will make mistakes," added Burkholder. "But we must be able to gain more than 81 yards on the ground and 37 passing if we are to put together any kind of a winning year."

West has scored only one touchdown in its first two games, both defeats.

THE SLOW START has Burkholder wondering if history isn't about to repeat. West also had early-season blues last season before finishing with a winning second-half.

The first Riverside touchdown resulted from a pitchout that went wild for West. The ball was fumbled and Jim Fabias, a tackle, fell on it in the end zone for a score.

Then in third quarter, West turned an intercepted pass into a touchdown with Bruce Dyer going the final five yards.

West never made a serious threat.

Franklin Harrier Sets 2 Records

It was a week of records for Jack Clark of Franklin's cross country team.

He was clocked in 10:14 for the two-mile course when Franklin won a triangular meet with 26 points to 42 for Stevenson and 61 for Monroe.

But the 10:14 didn't stand up long as a Franklin varsity record. Two days later, Clark raced the distance in 10:12.3 as Franklin won over Groves, 26-29.

Dave Collins was second for Franklin in the triangular meet and took fourth in the meet with Groves while Russ O'Sullivan was sixth, Steve Pearce seventh and John Pellittier eighth.

Schoolcraft Plays Tie In Soccer

Something new happened to Schoolcraft College in soccer last Friday.

The team didn't win. Nor did it lose.

After winning eight straight a year ago and its 1967 opener, Schoolcraft was held to a 1-1 tie by Lorain Community College of Ohio.

A penalty kick by Bahran Fahramand sent Schoolcraft in front in the first half, but Lorain got even on a corner kick in the second half.

Both teams had an equal number of shots on goal.

7 DRC Stakes On Card

Seven stakes with a value of $150,000 remain to be contested at the Detroit Race Course as the 84-day meeting at the Livonia track moves into its ninth week.

The $20,000 added Fancy Flyer Handicap, for three-year-olds and up at a mile and 1/16, tops the Saturday program and the following week a new stake, The Millette, with a purse of $35,000 added, is on the card.

The Fancy Flyer has drawn 26 nominations. If owner Robert Ballis and trainer David Sazer decide to send back Estreno II from Chicago, the Fancy Flyer could offer a replay of some of the dramatic moments of the recent Michigan Mile.

Estreno II, the Argentine bred import who furnished the biggest upset in The Mile's 19-year history, is among the Fancy Flyer nominees.

ALSO NAMED are five rivals he humbled in The Mile. These are Tenzing 2nd, which finished as the runner-up after the disqualification of Handsome Boy; Carpenter's Rule, the third place finisher; Stanislas and Williamston Kid.

Other nominees include the Canadian star, Pool To Market, Dunham, Roving Satellite, Miracle Hill, Power of Destiny and Del Bee.

The Millette, designed to be a companion stake for The Mile, is for fillies and mares. It is for fillies and mares. It has drawn an excellent list of 25 nominations.

The Millette nominees include Mrs. E.K. Thomas' Furl Sail, the leading candidate for "Filly-of-the-Year" honors among the three-year-olds; the Hobeau Farm's Mac's Sparkler, recent winner of the $75,000 Beldame at Aqueduct; May's Guide; Stash It Away, Margarethen, Be Cagey and Bonavista.

Jack Van Berg, who trains the large and powerful string of his father, Marion H. Van Berg, is making a runaway of the trainer's race at the DRC.

VAN BERG, the top trainer here in 1965, has a commanding lead over Ronnie Warren and Dewey Smith, who are in a tight battle for the runner-up spot. Smith, who trains the stable of Detroit's T.A. Grisom, was the DRC's leading trainer in 1966.

David Whited, who dualed with Bob Gallimore, for riding honors during the first half of the meeting now has moved into a comfortable lead over his nearest rival, Larry Snyder.

Sorrows Rips Waterford Agatha Sinks Cecilia

It was a jolly Sunday, too, for the Our Lady of Sorrows and St. Agatha High School football teams.

losing it's season's opener, bounced back with a 6-0 victory over St. Cecilia.

Both won in the Catholic League, but in different fashions.

Tim LaFond and Mark Hartwig were the big guns in the Sorrows feast as the team made ready for next Sunday's pivotal divisional battle with Orchard Lake St. Mary at Farmington High.

Sorrows had an easy time mately $100 in checks had been ing Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes 49-6. St. Agatha, after LaFond scampered for three touchdowns and Hartwig, two. The game was never close once LaFond spring loose for a 45-yard touchdown in the first quarter.

Moments later, John VanDeusen tackled a Waterford back in the end zone and Sorrows picked up two more points on a safety.

Then Waterford had the kick, Hartwig snared the ball on his own 45 and dashed 55 yards to score.

That ended the first period. In the second stanza, Waterford reached the Sorrows three, only to lose a fumble when John Hughes covered it for Sorrows.

LaFond immediately slid off tackle for 97 yards and another touchdown.

NOT TO BE outdone, Quarterback Mike Briet rushed around end for 66 yards and than Mike Barnes hit from the 10 just before the half ended to boost Sorrows' lead to 36-6.

From then on Sorrows eased up. LaFond went over from the 15 in the third period and Hartwig wrapped up the scoring with an eight-yard dash in the last quarter.

The one and only play that counted for St. Agatha came on a short pass. Mike Wiesniak hit Dan Sweeney on a two-yarder for the touchdown that decided the game.

Coach Jerry Sievert of St. Agatha cheered the work of his defense. "Our boys rose to the occasion and this is what won it for us," the coach said.

Rallies Pay Off With Happiness

When Coach Larry Joiner of Bentley High was asked for his pre-season football analysis, he talked optimistically.

"Sure," he admitted, Bentley had suffered heavily from graduation losses.

But he looked for a winning year, despite the rebuilding. Bentley high teams have been known for winning with new faces, and it appears that the 1967 aggregation is destined, too.

THE BULLDOGS BARGE into their Suburban Six League title wars this week with a pair of non-league victories behind them. First it was Farmington 27-12; then last Friday, it was Dearborn, 13-6.

There always are encouraging aspects when you win. As far as Bentley is concerned, one of the brightest has been the team's ability to come from behind.

Against Farmington, Bentley spotted two touchdowns. In the Dearborn battle, only 1:10 remained in the game when Mike Watson ran 15 yards for the touchdown that put Bentley ahead.

"THE ABILITY to strike back is a wonderful quality," Joiner pointed out. "It may be a little rough on the hearts of the coaches and the fans, but we'll take wins anyway we can."

Another encouraging feature of the win over Dearborn was Bentley's defense. The Livonians gave up 140 yards on the ground and didn't allow Dearborn to make a single pass.

In contrast, Bentley made 246 yards rushing and added 40 more in the air.

Curtain Going Up . . . By Wally Roberts

"Cactus Flower" now flowering in full comic profusion at the Fisher Theater for the next three weeks is a tribute to the comic competency of Abe Burrows.

The show-stopping laughter that fills the Fisher Theater these evenings can be directly attributed to the forceful direction by Burrows. The gags sprinkled so liberally throughout the script come from the agile mind of Burrows in his capacity as the American adapter of this only so-so French farce.

BURROWS HAS TURNED an average French farce into a gala comic evening in the American theater. "Cactus Flower" bounds along with the rapidity of an express train and picks up chuckles, snickers, and belly-laughs by the ton as it swirls to a happy end.

Oh, yes, Hugh O'Brian seen on TV as Wyatt Earp, has the leading role of the love-smiting dentist, Elizabeth Allen, a fugitive from the fields of musical comedy and TV, has the other leading role as the dentist's nurse who helps her boss out of several untenable situations and naturally falls in love with him.

The supporting cast, which includes Ethelene Dunfee, Gene Lindsey, and Kenneth Kimmins is magnificent. In fact, at times they far outdistance the leading players in their zestful approach to this highly improbable farce. They make "Cactus Flower" truly tingle with their prickly, pointed performances.

The real hero though is still Burrows. Abe is the guy that puts the punch into the evening's entertainment. He made "Guys and Dolls" and "How to Succeed In Business Without Really Trying" really zing.

Abe has a way with a gag. His critical eye and ear can reflect our times in a wry, witty fashion with unflinching accuracy.

Meet The Infamous Barrows

Meet Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow, folks. They live down the road a piece. They're right pleasant to know and I reckon you should understand that they enjoy going around the great Southwest robbing banks.

Shucks now, don't let that upset you. Bonnie and Clyde are right nice people. During those hard times of the 30's folks had to find some way to get along. Bonnie and Clyde just took to robbing banks on sort of a personal dare.

THEN, TOO, those dang tin Lizzies and our new highways gave Bonnie and Clyde a real chance to evade the police. Yes, siree, that Barrow gang was a real passel of desperados. "Bonnie and Clyde," presently playing at the Cinema II in the Livonia Mall, is a jarring cinematic sociological presentation. For two action-packed hours you live and ride with the Barrow gag as they run from the law.

You get to know Clyde and sympathize with his many personal problems. His turbulent career ends in a bloody barrage of gunfire that will stun you and create a shudder of revulsion, especially when you realize this accurate film biography was fact not fiction.

Filed on location in the Southwest, "Bonnie and Clyde" recreates a violent, depression-ridden era so authentic you want to shake the Texas sand out of your shoes as you leave the theatre. Don't miss this thrill-jammed, superbly-told, historically-correct motion picture.

Spanky And Our Gang To Be Featured With 5th Dimension

Spanky and Our Gang and the 5th Dimension are the top-liners for the University of Detroit Carnival weekend, playing at 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 29, in the Memorial Building.

Spanky (would you believe Elaine McFarlane?) and Our Gang feature an electric jug and electric banana as musical instruments, do impressions of Stan Laurel, Walter Brennan, and combine Little Lord Fauntleroy velvet suits with Dartmouth sweatshirts and so forth.

Their Mercury Records sales zoom. Their appearances at the Scene in New York and The Bitter End were prologue to their take-over success in the entertainment world.

The 5th Dimension is the New Sound, a convergence of all the musical influence of the '60s embodied in a highly unique and talented group.

Recording on the Soul City label, they began their climb with "Go Where You Wanna Go," written by John Phillips of the Mamas and the Papas. Their repertoire runs the gamut of songs from soul to pop, all done in their "five dimensional" style.

Other happenings during Carnival weekend are a midway with 15 rides and 41 booths opening at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 29 to 1 a.m.; Saturday, noon to 1 a.m.; and Sunday, noon to 7 p.m. The U. of D. Carnival is sponsored by the Student Government.

Final Concert Is Scheduled

Fred Fahrner, organist-director of Christ Church, Dearborn, will present the last carillon recital of the season from Christ Church Cranbrook at 4 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 1. The recital is open to the public without charge. Those attending may sit in their cars or on the church lawn.

Christ Church Cranbrook is located in Bloomfield Hills.

To Give Concert

Frank Renaut will present "An Evening on the Lowrey Organ" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 4, in Kimball High School auditorium.

Classes Scheduled In Puppetry Theatre

Puppetry and theatre workshops for adults and children will be offered this fall by the Theatre Arts Department of the Detroit Institute of Arts. The workshops will meet once a week for eight weeks at the museum.

Workshops in theatre are divided in the following age groups: Story Drama (5-7 years), Acting for Young People (7-10 years), Acting for Young People (11-13 years) and Acting for Teens (14-18 years). All of these workshops will meet on Saturdays, with a first general placement session scheduled for Oct. 7 at 9 a.m.

Institute Associates To Hear Expert

Jonathan L. Fairbanks, associate curator in charge of conservation at the Henry Francis DuPont Museum, Winterthur, Delaware, will be the speaker at the first meeting of the 1967-68 season for the Associates of the American Wing of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Fairbanks' illustrated talk on the craft of early American painting will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 3. It is open to all members of the Associates of the American Wing. Membership information on this organization within the museum's Founders Society is available by calling 832-2298.

Acting for Adults will teach participants to apply the principles of acting and stage movement through the use of exercise, pantomime and preparation of script material for in-class performance. This workshop will meet on Tuesday evenings (7-8:30 p.m.) beginning Oct. 10.

Two workshops in Puppetry for Young People will be offered for eight Saturdays, beginning Oct. 21. Mrs. Ellen Proctor, nationally known puppeteer now on the staff of the museum's Theatre Arts Department will conduct sessions for six to 13-year-old students.

Later in the season, techniques of scene painting will be taught by master scenic artist Dr. James Miller, who will utilize drops, flats, and set pieces with various dyes and pigment media.

Detailed information on all the workshops can be obtained from the Theatre Arts Department, Detroit Institute of Arts, by calling 832-2731. Early registration is recommended because the workshops are limited in size for greater individual progress.

SAFE DRIVER PLANS
In most states, the Insurance Information Institute reports, motorists with clean driving records for a specified period of time are given substantial discounts in the basic premiums for liability and collision insurance.

Suburban Institute Art Classes Scheduled

The Detroit Institute of Arts will offer eight art workshops for students from first grade through high school in Farmington and Livonia beginning Oct. 21.

The sessions will be held at the Institute and at five suburban centers.

They are sponsored by the museum's education department and registrations can be made in Detroit up until Oct. 20 during the education department's regular hours—Monday through Friday 9 to 5 p.m.

The workshops are designed to give the students an opportunity to explore a variety of drawing, painting, and sculpture media.

The five suburban centers are: Larkshire School, 23800 Tuck Rd., Farmington; Whitman Junior High School, 32306 W. Chicago, Livonia; Inkster Public Library; Washington School, Ferndale; and Harmon Elementary School, St. Clair Shores.

Bridgit Dubriwny, who taught for four years and is now working on her masters degree at Wayne State University, will teach the session in Farmington.

John Martin of Livonia will be at Larkshire School. The registration fee for the eight week sessions is $15.50.

Institute Offers Luncheon

A distinctive luncheon-tour program for club groups and organizations is offered by the education department of the Detroit Institute of Arts and reservations are being accepted now for dates from October through April.

The "Afternoon of Art" program, beginning Oct. 24 and 25, is scheduled each Tuesday and Wednesday through April 30 and May 1.

Following luncheon in the museum's Rivera Court at 12:15 p.m., members of the Founders Society Docent Committee guide the groups on a tour of some of the treasures in the museum's permanent collection. Featured in the galleries will be works by Van Eyck, Van Gogh and Henry Moore, as well as an original oak-paneled Elizabethan Room, and selections from the outstanding African art installed in the museum's south wing.

Advance reservations must be made by contacting Miss Diane Prokop, secretary of the Docent Committee, at 831-0360, Ext. 62. The charge for this program is $2.25 per person for the luncheon.

The "Afternoon of Art" program is now in its fourth year and has been enthusiastically received by nearly 8,000 members of participating clubs and organizations.

Livonia Schools Missing Dropouts

Livonia's evening schools are short about 80 high school dropouts who had been expected to enroll in free academic courses offered at Bentley High School this fall.

Only 320 students have signed up for the many courses listed for suburbanites who wish to complete their high school education through evening school attendance.

"More than the 80 missing students show up, we'll find teachers to take care of them," John Anderson, the director said, "but they'll have to come in by Thursday evening to get started this year."

High school evening credit courses, which had cost $25 or more each, are now free for all metropolitan area residents who register before the deadline.

Offered on Monday and Wednesday evenings are such courses as English, chemistry, physics, current geography, economics, world history, and retailing.

On the schedule for Tuesday and Thursday nights are biology, American government, U.S. history, physiology for living, sociology, math refresher, and numerous classes in algebra, geometry, and trigonometry.

"We won't mind a rush of persons making up their minds at the last minute", Anderson said. "Secondary school credit courses are a basic part of our evening school program. We want to help those who have dropped out of school come back for diplomas now that courses are available for all without payment of tuition or registration fees."

Area Dems Hear Boss

Murray Jackson, chairman of the First Congressional District Democratic Party and newly appointed assistant dean of Student Affairs at Wayne State University, will speak Sept. 23, Thursday, at 7:30 p.m. to a general membership meeting of the Second District Wayne County Democratic Party.

He will describe, in the wake of recent civil unrest, how the Democratic Party as a whole looks to an inner-city Democrat. Much of the rioting in Detroit this summer was centered in Jackson's district.

The meeting will be held in Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union, 500 South Harvey, Plymouth. The public is welcome.

MAYOR Harvey Moelke signs a proclamation declaring League of Women Voters Week. Watching, from left, are Mrs. John Federspill, president; Mrs. William Dayton and Mrs. William Warren, co-chairman of LWV Week.

WSU Bonstelle Opens 17th Season Sept. 29

The hit musical comedy, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," just back from a successful nine-week tour of the Orient, will open the 17th season of Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre with six performances beginning Friday, Sept. 29, at 8:30 p.m.

The show is being repeated in answer to many requests from theatre-goers who missed the preview performances last June or who want to see it again. The U.S.O., which sponsored the tour for U.S. servicemen, acclaimed it as "one of the finest productions in the history of U.S.O. programs for the Pacific command."

BASED ON THE plays of Plautus, "Forum" is a farce of frustrated romance and mistaken identity. It features music and lyrics by Stephen Sondheim and a book by Burt Shevelove and Larry Gelbhart. The musical scored an immediate hit on Broadway in 1962 and has also been filmed with Zero Mostel and Phil Silvers.

Bonstelle performances will continue Saturday night, Sept. 30, and Thursday through Sunday, Oct. 5-8. All performances will begin at 8:30 p.m. with the exception of the 2:30 Sunday matinee.

The WSU production features 15 actors from both the Hillberry and Bonstelle Theatres. Leading roles are played by Jeff Tambor, Paul Stolarsky, Wil Love and Alice Holt. The musical is directed by Russell Smith, who also designed the costumes and scenery.

THE STUDENT company, accompanied by Smith, visited 40 U.S. military installations this summer in Hawaii, Guam, the Philippines, Japan and South

LWV Seeks Members In Year-Long Drive

"For every woman who is interested and concerned about what is happening outside of her own home, there is a place in the League of Women Voters." Mrs. John Federspill, president of the Livonia chapter of the League indicated the group plans an extensive campaign this year to attract new members in Livonia, and also in Plymouth, Redford and Westland.

THE PROJECT is a nationwide effort. Posters, pamphlets and other attention-getters are in large supply and will be distributed throughout the area.

"For me," Mrs. Federspill said, "the League is a place to work with women who are excited about what is happening, who are concerned with their community and their state. This is a stimulating group, much different for me than the majority of suburban groups and clubs."

Mrs. William Dayton, membership chairman, said that for her the League was a sounding board, a place where she could express her opinions about government. "I have some pretty strong opinions," she said, "but the League members are always ready to listen and interested."

STUDY GROUPS on city, state and national problems are now studying, respectively; financing city government, Michigan juvenile courts and Red China. The League also organizes several voter service projects, such as voter information guides, voter registration drives, a speakers bureau and candidates' nights.

Right now, the League is getting ready to publish a booklet on Livonia's school system and preparing active support for the new Livonia City Charter, which will be on the November ballot.

The League also may support the $15 million bond issue, Mrs. Federspill said, but a meeting of the Board which guides the Livonia chapter will be necessary before she can say for sure.

THE LEAGUE of Women Voters had its beginnings in the suffragette era. After women won the vote in 1919, the League of Women Voters was created as an independent, non-partisan organization.

"We encourage our members to be active in political parties," she said, "except that members of our governing board cannot be active politically."

Both Mrs. Federspill and Mrs. Dayton said that one of the advantages of a group of politically concerned women was that they had more time than men to work on study groups and conduct projects. They pointed out that men were more likely to join political parties and become active in a partisan group.

"Some women worry that they would not be able to give the League enough time," Mrs. Federspill commented, "but the League appreciates the fact that many women may just want to join and receive information materials."

Interested women should contact Mrs. Dayton at 427-9433.

BAD STORM

One of the most disastrous storms of recent years was Hurricane Flora, which in 1963 killed about 5,000 persons in Haiti and more than 1,000 in Cuba, and left about 750,000 persons homeless, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Rambler American. The only U.S. car that could stop you from buying an import.

At a price very close to the leading import, the American seats six people instead of four.

It gives you nearly twice as much room in the trunk and more than twice as much engine under the hood.

Like the imports, the American doesn't change its style every year, gets about 20 miles on a gallon of regular gas.

Unlike some imports, it never gives you the feeling that you're driving a toy.

Rebel. America's most underrated car.

The Rebel 550 Hardtop is the lowest priced intermediate sized hardtop in America.

It looks sporty, drives sporty and still gives you all the things that most people buy a car for.

The Rebel—Hardtop, Wagon, Sedan or Convertible, V8 or 6—is everything we think a car should be.

Before you pay more for an intermediate, make sure you get as much.

Ambassador. The car with air conditioning as standard equipment.

Air conditioning has been around for a long time, but so far only a few companies—the people who make Rolls Royce for one—have had the good sense to include it in their cars at no extra cost.

We're another.

We just don't understand why someone should be asked to pay a lot of money for a luxury car and then be asked to pay over $300 more for the luxury of air conditioning.

Introducing the Javelin.

Although we've always had the reputation for making sensibly priced, well-built cars, we've never had the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

We'll soon have the reputation for making hot, sporty cars.

The front and rear bumpers on the Javelin are massive. Unlike thin blade bumpers, these give the car a rich, racy look.

The side windows on the Javelin are solid sheets of curved glass, without vents to break up its fast lines.

The Javelin SST comes with wheel discs, special exterior trim, reclining bucket seats and a woodgrain steering wheel, all standard.

And all for a lower price than the other sporty hardtops!

Supports City Vote

EDITOR:

I don't like the word "city" and much that the word usually implies but I am going to vote for incorporation of Farmington Township in October.

If incorporation does not pass, then we will lose our industrial tax base and our residential taxes will rise above anything we currently anticipate. And, I am certain that a good charter can be written which will continue taxing for improvements through special assessment districts rather than using general funds such as the City of Farmington does. It can also include maintenance of the present zoning plan and provision for a zoning appeals board. And, with a city form of government we will be entitled to a share of state gasoline taxes for road maintenance.

All of these can be included in the charter if we elect good members to the charter commission. I will not vote for any man for charter commission who is opposed to incorporation - how could we possibly expect to get a decent city charter from those who are opposed to us becoming a city?

I hope that your newspaper will publish the various views of those running for the charter commission so that I can make up my mind as to who I should vote for.

STEFANIE KUESTER

EDITOR'S NOTE: The different views of the candidates will be published in a special voter's guide, just before the election.

An award for "major distinction and accomplishment in the field of engineering stan-dardization" was presented to Jasper Gerardi, associate dean of the University of Detroit Engineering School, Monday.

Farmington Veterans Win Award

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of Farmington, after recently winning first place in the Michigan Americanism contest, received a large bronze engraved plaque for taking first honors in national competition.

Awarding of the plaque was made on Sept. 17 as the members and the ladies auxiliary celebrated during their 22nd anniversary banquet.

The citation for the award reflected outstanding achievements and meritorious service by the members of the post and the ladies auxiliary, combined with the Junior Miss Americanism sponsorship, as the major contributing factors determining the award.

In addition to the presentation of awards, James W. Johnson was installed as the 1967-68 commander, and Major Robert Smith as senior vice commander.

Other Farmington residents installed as officers include Robert Weatherford as junior vice commander, Ronald Courtney, quartermaster; Joseph Gibbons, adjutant, Harry Kuschke, post judge advocate; and John Fougere, surgeon.

Guest speaker during the ceremonies was John Stockwell of Royal Oak who is Commander of the Oakland County Council.

His speech covered a congratulation to the ladies auxiliary as "the backbone of V.F.W. success," and membership restrictions.

Consideration for membership can be given to only honorably discharged veterans who served overseas during wartime service, including Korea and Vietnam.

He contributes numerous articles to "Product Engineering," the "Journal of the Society of Automotive Engineers," the "Journal of Engineering Education," and the "Journal of Engineering Drawing."

Dean Gerardi is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Engineering Society of Detroit and Tau Beta Pi, national honors engineering society.

Chief Places In Match

The City of Farmington's director of public safety, Robert F. Deadman, placed 13th in the annual Police Pistol Match held recently in Jackson.

Deadman was one of a three-man team from the city force who participated in the day-long competition among members of police forces from throughout the state.

Other members of the city team were Sgt. Richard Miller and Sgt. Daniel Byrnes.

Two teams of three men each from the township police force also participated.

Farmington Youth Is Injured

Kirk N. Redner, 17, of 30041 Northbrook, suffered a fractured leg Tuesday when his car struck the right rear of a car driven by Asa R. Berry, 49, of 21509 Jefferson.

Berry told township police that he had run out of gas and was attempting to pull off of Nine Mile into a driveway. Berry said that another car was backing out of the driveway and he couldn't get his car out of the main flow of traffic.

Redner told the police that he did not see Berry's car in time and couldn't stop his vehicle.

Redner was issued a violation by the police for not having a valid operator's license in his possession.

Lily-White Suburbs Seen A Disadvantage

It appeared in our Sunday Plymouth-only section, so readers in other suburbs didn't see it.

The right of their children to grow up free from prejudice is limited simply because there are no Negroes here for them to meet and know and understand."

So said the Rev. David M. Strang, of Epiphany Lutheran Church, echoing a theme that a number of suburban persons—most notably in Plymouth but elsewhere, too—have talked about.

The theory is that parents moved to the suburbs to escape city traffic, small lots, old and bad schools, certain racial minorities, undesirable elements of any race, and so on.

They want their kids to grow up in the cleanest, finest, nicest possible environment.

The trouble, says the Rev. Strang, is that the kids thus get a narrow view of life. The world is made up of a lot more than upper middle-class white kids bound for college. The raising of these children, they continue, would be enriched if they saw some other people.

Someone—perhaps it was Rev. Strang again—said recently that suburban kids are raised in what amounts to a bigger ghetto than inner city black kids. The inner city black kid can learn about middle class suburban white kids by watching the television set and reading his Dick and Jane books. But the suburban kid never gets the chance to learn about the inner city kid.

So they argue. How many white middle-class parents who fled to the suburbs are buying this theory, I don't know. They're probably reacting against it.

How the kids are reacting is another matter. They feel guilty.

Take a look at those Peace Corps ads. Their theme is that, boy, you've got life soft, and you're not accomplishing much unless you chuck it all for a couple of years and mix with the natives in Timbuctoo, helping them get into the mainstream of world progress.

Those ads are getting recruits—probably far more than needed.

The kids are also joining VISTA.

And the Teachers Corps. And marrying people of other nationalities and races.

Maybe they're trying to "compensate," as the head-shrinkers say, for what they didn't experience in the middle class white suburbs.

A lot of their parents probably don't like it, and are probably cussing the Dave Strangs. But that's life.

—Tim Richard

We're offset now. (Or at least I hope so, since as this is being written it isn't sure that our big change in printing will in fact come off as planned. As of Monday noon, everything was going smoothly; but there's many a slip . . .)

It has taken much more time than we expected, a lot of long hours on the part of our staff, and a good deal of strong language.

Elsewhere in this edition, you will find an article discussing exactly what offset is, how it differs from letterpress, and why we think it's much better.

What I want to do in this column is give you, the reader for whom the change is intended, an idea of just what happens inside the impersonal facade of a newspaper during such a massive change as this. Maybe you'll come away with an understanding of our feeling every time the paper comes out: It's a weekly miracle.

We started thinking about offset printing way back in January. We were convinced that it was a printing method superior in almost all respects to that we have been using, but we realized that making such a change was going to take a lot of planning and even more time. What we didn't realize was just how long.

The starting point was, of course, meetings, meetings, and yet more meetings. Meetings at 8 a.m.; meetings at 6 p.m.; meetings at 10 p.m. The ones at 8 a.m. caused a good deal of grumbling, which rose to a crescendo about a week ago when I overslept and showed up at 8:45 a.m. It looks as though we won't be having many more 8 a.m. meetings.

Main purpose of the meetings was to get some coordinated plan for the change.

This isn't easy, partly because every newspaper has numerous departments (editorial, display advertising, classified advertising, production, bookkeeping, etc.) which all have to be negotiated into agreement, and partly because every newspaperman I have ever met has a strong sense that his way of seeing things is the only way and that any other point of view is hopelessly wrong. The meetings were pretty noisy, I guess.

Then we started working on the mechanical details.

We had to get new machines to set type with. Deliveries were late.

We had to get new machines to set headlines with. They were late in arriving, too.

We had to get our new type. It was late, too.

Then there were a few calls to our suppliers. Delivery schedules improved a little after that.

Our production manager, Bill Parish, had to hire and train a new staff to help out. He grew a beard, doubtless owing to lack of time for shaving.

Then we had a whole series of negotiations with the printers, Keystone Printing Co. They had to order some new presses and other equipment to print the paper the way we wanted it.

Deliveries to them were late, too.

Then deadlines had to be worked out. Advertising staffers thought editorial deadlines were too early; editorial staffers thought that advertising deadlines were too late. The entire production department felt that everyone else's deadlines were far too late.

Then we discovered that great 20th century business invention, the memorandum.

Paper multiplied. It proliferated. It swarmed. It flowed through our offices like the Detroit Lions offense: Stumbling, erratic, but eventually effective.

My secretary, normally a pretty calm type, threatened resignation.

We're still in the middle of that, even this Monday morning as I write.

"Do we set edit matter 10 on 10, or 10 on 12?" This to Tommy Thompson, our Managing Editor. "What do we do to get type spec'd on our ad dummies?" This to Rudy Mazurosky, our Advertising Director.

"Why in Sam Hill haven't we got that type we ordered for the cutlines?" Bill Parish makes a frantic call downtown to a supplier.

"You're sure we'll have the press run over by noon on Wednesday?" Our Circulation Manager, Fred Wright, is getting nervous.

And in the unspoken minds of everyone: "I wonder if we'll really make it."

Here's hoping.

Cleaner Air Week Gets Serious Attention In 1967

Are you worked up about the air pollution problem and the need to overcome it before it overcomes all of us? Fine! Are you tempted to give in to a feeling of frustration about it? Don't!

Just think, instead, of the people who've been working on it for 18 years—count 'em, 18—and aren't discouraged yet.

The week of October 22 will mark the 18th observance of Cleaner Air Week, which the Air Pollution Control Association sponsors. If it occurs to you that 18 years is a long time to grapple with a problem, it may also occur to you that the problem is getting infinitely wider attention today than in 1949, when Cleaner Air Week was first launched. And, despite all smoke, smudge, smell and smog, some genuine progress has been made.

AS A TOKEN of that progress, Cleaner Air Week is certain to be greeted with more seriousness this year than at any time in the past. In addition to the efforts of its traditional sponsor, its objectives will be furthered by the National Air Conservation Commission of the National Tuberculosis Association as well as by the Wayne County TB and Health Society.

How is Cleaner Air Week best acted upon? It's the ordinary citizen's special time to get up on his hind legs and howl about the national blight that attacks his well-being, his property, and the general landscape.

Said howling will take a variety of forms, including pressure on legislators to provide relief, and on public officials to enforce existing clean air regulations.

Citizen clamor has brought about public improvements more than once in the past, though it may have taken more than 18 years to do it. Getting behind National Cleaner Air Week is one way to get in your licks right now.

SENSE 'N' NONSENSE

Gov. Romney says President Johnson is a "political animal."

There has been a recent increase in complaints from readers who say that "there isn't anything to read and why don't you print the real truth what's going on in this town." On the other hand, a woman phoned the Garden City Observer office last week to complain about her name being used in a Municipal Court story concerning her being charged with committing an abortion.

The noise level concerning "dirty magazines and books being sold" is nearly as high as the sales of these magazines and books.

This Is The Week That

... By Don Hoenshell

"George, if you embarrass me by disclaiming the work of this commission, I assure you it will be the last time you will have an opportunity to do so . . ."

It was Dr. James K. Pollock, the University of Michigan professor who directed the six-month study of legislative pay. Gov. Romney didn't like the recommendation for a $5,000 pay raise.

Pollock, a world-known political scientist who gave Michigan its state civil service system and West Germany its new constitution, was calm as Romney's finger shook under his nose.

In those few dramatic minutes Pollock gave the world a view of Romney never before seen. And it was this:

THE VERY EXECUTIVE excellence that made Romney an industrial giant is his political Achilles heel.

In a corporation a strong executive—as Romney was and is now in government—requires everyone to follow. In politics, he must convince 'em.

In politics, he can't fire Lou Gordon for asking the "brainwashing" question and he can't order George Kuhn to vote for an income tax. It's an amazing transformation in that great cat and mouse game—from the cat to the mouse.

There's no question that for his time he is a great governor of Michigan.

ROMNEY ROUNDED UP a great staff for the governor's office. Mostly he listened to it and the moves were right.

His national staff is still learning, and the executive appears not to trust them. It is inconceivable that any experienced staffer counseled him to use "brainwash" or to change his mind about Vietnam as often as he changes his sox.

The late House Speaker Joseph J. Kowalski, who learned his politics in union halls and sliced pie with a cleaver, observed about Romney:

"George is all right. All you have to do is understand mercury. When you first see Romney, you see all there is."

He could be a king because the king's word is law—whatever his word happens to be at the moment.

So back to the minor incident of the legislative pay issue.

THE HOUSE had passed a $5,000 increase. The Senate balked, suggesting a citizens' committee study. The Senate nominated six, Romney nominated six and appointed all 12.

The announcement from Romney's office called it "The Governor's Special Commission on Legislative Compensation," fully expecting that some of the top executives in the state would say lawmakers were already getting too much money or maybe should have a couple dollars more.

When the report was presented Romney looked like Lou Gordon had asked him a question.

"It's not my report," he said. "I just cooperated with the Senate."

THEN POLLOCK delivered his ultimatum.

The result: Romney tossed an arm around Pollock's shoulders, stuck to his position and blamed the $2,500 a year raise, finally enacted, on the commission, some of Michigan's most outstanding men.

The king had spoken. And the governor's title came off the cover of the report.

Honesty is frequently the best policy.

Readers Write

Dear Editor, I've a suggestion to make or two. When putting grading on dirt roads wouldn't it pay in the longer run if they put in ready mix cement, then ran a water-truck over it and de-toured traffic a day?

It would leave a dirt-free road a while and save laying oil for quite a while and costs.

If we need more public funds, they should gain it by canvassing the neighborhoods for three things in each yard.

Unchained dogs or unfenced ones, either, and oil drums with charred remains as proof of burning, then fine $100 for any of these and demand removal of the drums.

That would supply funds, cut air pollution, and clean rat control, plus beauty.

Hope helped the road department and those responsible to see these opportunities taken advantage of and enforced. Especially the burning that snuffs out breath, some fires surround a home in dense smoke.

There's a no burning law but not even a letter to our Mayor failed to make them remove the smelly drums and stop burning. Every day around Ontago and along Norfolk, etc., the burning gets worse and we've had a heart attack victim in the area, one, an officer of the law.

Can't he, who is responsible, see it to no burning is strictly enforced and the culprits fined?

There should be rental inspection on housing rented every three years at least to see it's painted in that time and maintained—like roofing, flooring, foundations, etc.

Furnaces cleaned and chimneys cleaned out.

Doors or windows replaced where needed and tenants wouldn't need to fight an owner in court and then be ordered to move.

If a tenant paints it himself, there should be a law he can keep a month's rent for his labor.

There should be another rule if a tenant asks a furnace cleaning or door or window replacement and a landlord fails to do this within a week, the tenant may order it done by any company and charge it to the landlord to be billed by the company and held by the courts responsible to pay for it.

Sincerely concerned,

Dear Westland Editor: I feel constrained as Chairman of the Republican Party in Westland to reply to your Editorial in the August 23 issue. I also wish to thank you for writing as you did since you were fulfilling your public obligation in the finest tradition of the news profession.

You fault the Republican Party for not offering the voters a complete slate in both the Primary and General Elections. I'll accept the blame for this sad state of affairs but I assure you it was not because the Republicans didn't make a genuine effort to fill the state. You further state that the Republicans "only wanted to run candidates where there is a reasonable chance of victory."

Nothing could be further from the truth. The only criterion for a Republican candidate is that he be qualified, possess good credentials, and be willing to serve. Qualified people we have in abundance; people willing to be candidates we have not. We feel that the Democrats have been doing a splendid job in fielding unqualified candidates with little, if any, background qualifying them for public office.

There are, of course, some exceptions to this broad statement. If we can't offer the voters qualified candidates, we'd prefer not to insult their intelligence by running simply names to fill out the ticket. Our approach is as simple as that.

The Editor of this paper and I are in complete agreement that responsible two party government is necessary and desirable. I think everyone would agree with this basic premise after a moment's reflection. We all are interested in having someone "to watch the store." As I see it, there is no indication that many Westland residents care one iota about responsible two party government.

It is too much trouble to become informed on the issues and the candidates and then to vote intelligently. Until the citizenry wakes up to the fact that their individual futures and well being are intertwined with the future of this city, I predict that the City Government will continue to be unresponsive.

Milton B. Hack, Chairman Westland Republican Club

Russian Trip Shows No Place Like Home

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sue Shaughnessy, editor of The Farmington Enterprise & Observer, has returned from a three-week vacation in USSR. This is the last in a series of three articles on the country and the people. The first two articles were written while Miss Shaughnessy was traveling, while today's article was written after her return to the United States.

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY

A visit to the Soviet Union is NOT what I would recommend to those seeking a peaceful and relaxing vacation.

It is a trip I would recommend, however, to those individuals who denounce American society and to those who cry that we are being led down the road to socialism and into a bureaucratic society.

The bureaucracy in America hasn't even gotten off the ground, compared to the USSR.

(The Union of the Soviet Socialist Republics is comprised of 15 separate Republics. Their relation to the central government is roughly similar to the states and the federal government in the USA. During the course of my travels, I visited three of these Republics—Russia, the largest and dominant; the Ukraine and Georgia.)

Each of the six cities I visited looked very much the same, and each had unique characteristics.

THE SIMILARITIES. . . . Everywhere the government is building apartment houses. The buildings all look the same from the outside and even the new ones look as though they were built 20 years ago.

Russian has been installed as the common language and is taught in all of the schools. This move by the central government has eased the communication problems in the country which has 120 different languages and dialects.

Statuses of Lenin and street posters proclaiming the upcoming 50th anniversary of "The Great October Socialist Revolution." (The Revolution, which occurred in November by the western calendar, was never referred to as anything other than "The Great.")

Every city had a Lenin Square and a Lenin Boulevard. The guide in Volgograd observed quietly that "this is a kind of tradition." A guide book to the City of Kiev notes that monuments have been erected "in accordance with Lenin's plan of monuments" propaganda.

LINES. Everything from buying a newspaper to obtaining a taxi or a theatre ticket is a project in the Soviet Union. Nothing is simple.

If you don't stand in line, you must fill out at least two forms in triplicate. The visitor is always given one copy of these forms, usually with the instruction to save them because you will need them when leaving the country, and it's anybody's guess what happens to the other copies.

THE QUALITY of service in the "worker's paradise":

If you asked for a second cup of coffee, the waitress in the restaurant (spelled Pectoph in Russian but sounds the same when spoken) might simply refuse. If she didn't, it would take at least 15 minutes.

In just about every store, the people were lined up in front of one clerk while two or three other sales clerks chatted and ignored the customers because that "wasn't their station."

On the other hand, the service people could go out of their way to be helpful when they wanted.

A friend became very ill and was confined to bed in Leningrad. While we waged monumental battles to have food taken to the room (even after the doctor had visited the restaurant personally) the women on the floor went out of their way to do everything in their power to help.

A policeman directing traffic left his post to guide two members of the tour back to the hotel which was some blocks away and about a 10 minute walk.

JUST CHATTIN' 'Dizzy' Decided 1934 Series Before It Started

BY W. W. EDGAR

It was a brisk October afternoon in 1934. The air was electrified with tension. Baseball was on the tongue of everyone as the Tigers gathered at the ball park at Michigan and Trumbull Avenue for the final practice before the World Series.

The fans had waited 25 years for the big moment—the moment when Detroit again would appear in a World Series. Only the old-timers recalled the days of 1907-08-09 when the Bengals made their last appearance in what used to be called the Fall Classic. And those who could recall those days had little to cheer about for the Tigers were beaten in all three series.

Now it was a different story. Detroit was just recovering from a depression and the stress and strain of the bank closings and needed something for a lift. They got it in the manner in which Mickey Cochrane had taken a sixth place team and guided it to the American League pennant. "Black Mike", as he was affectionately known in those days, had done a remarkable job in driving the team through a rugged campaign with his fiery leadership.

The area had "gone wild" in a manner which never could be duplicated. No community ever had become more "baseball crazy" than Detroit on that October afternoon.

It mattered little that the National League opposition would be the "Gas House Gang" from St. Louis. The Cardinals had paced their league on the pitching of the Dean brothers—"Dizzy" and "Daffy", combined with some speed on the base paths. And they were on the move. As the Tigers went through their final practice, word came that the Cardinals had arrived in town and were headed for the ball park. If the air had been tense before it was even more so now.

Finally the big moment arrived. There was a lot of bombast and bluster and, as a wild cheer rent the air, the Cardinals came through one of the passageways in the grandstand on the way to the dressing room.

None of them ever had seen the Tiger ball park before and they stood and gazed at the big steel structure in left field. (This was before the stadium was completely enclosed.)

Then, out of the gathering, came a strapping big fellow, wearing a white "cowboy" hat. And, in his street clothes, he headed for the playing area. There was no mistaking him. It was Jerome Hanna Dean, the "Great Diz" in person, one of the most colorful players who ever donned a uniform.

As the Tigers stood in utter amazement at the brashness of this "cowboy", Dean picked up a bat, moved over to the plate and beckoned to the Tigers' batting practice pitcher to "throw me one."

The pitch was delivered. "Diz" swung—and the ball sailed into the left field stands—and high up at that.

The Tigers were dumfounded. They stood around with mouths opened as "Diz" just danced laughingly at the plate, rubbed his hands, and shouted:

"This is gonna be easy, fellas."

It was a great bit of psychology. The Tigers never recovered. When the battle started, officially, the next afternoon, they still were jittery, no doubt thinking back to the brash event of the day before.

The tension heightened and even as reliable a fielder as Charlie Gehringer, robot type second baseman, committed two errors in the first inning. This was a performance that was almost unbelievable—but it was just a starter in one of the wildest of all World Series.

The Tigers managed to carry it to seven games before losing with "The Great Diz" on the mound in the finale. But it was his brash blow on the day before the series opened that really decided the Tigers' doom.

The clerk in the small grocery store who ignored the lines and through an elaborate game of charades made certain that I was buying exactly what I wanted.

THE DIFFERENCES. . . . Each city had unique characteristics and a local flavor.

Moscow—The Kremlin dominates the center of town and the city is somewhat somber and forbidding. The largest of the cities in the Soviet Union, the people are always very much in a hurry as they are in any big city.

Kiev—The capital of the Republic of the Ukraine, this is the oldest of the cities in the country. It dates back for more than 1,400 years. It has almost an eastern atmosphere and is certainly "old world."

Sochi—The primary resort area of the Soviet Union on the shores of the Black Sea, it's nestled between the sea and the Caucasian Mountains. This city is 70 kilometers in length and only a few kilometers wide. It is a resort town with a Soviet flavor and tourists and residents from throughout the Soviet Union come to swim in the salt-water sea and sun themselves on the stony beaches.

Leningrad—The second largest city in the Soviet Union, this most reflects the influence of the west. The city is more colorful and the people have more color in their dress. A city of wide boulevards and splendor, Leningrad seems to be more reserved than Moscow. Comparing the two is much like comparing New York City and Boston.

VOLGOGRAD (formerly Stalingrad)—This city was completely demolished during the war and is the site of Hitler's first major defeat on the continent. Following the war it was completely rebuilt, but the character of the town is tied to the battle.

It is a city of beautiful parks, lining the coastline of the Volga River. In addition to the parks, a huge statue of Mother Russia stands on the top of the highest point in the town. This statue and the memorial park surrounding it were built to commemorate the victory of the Red Army at Stalingrad.

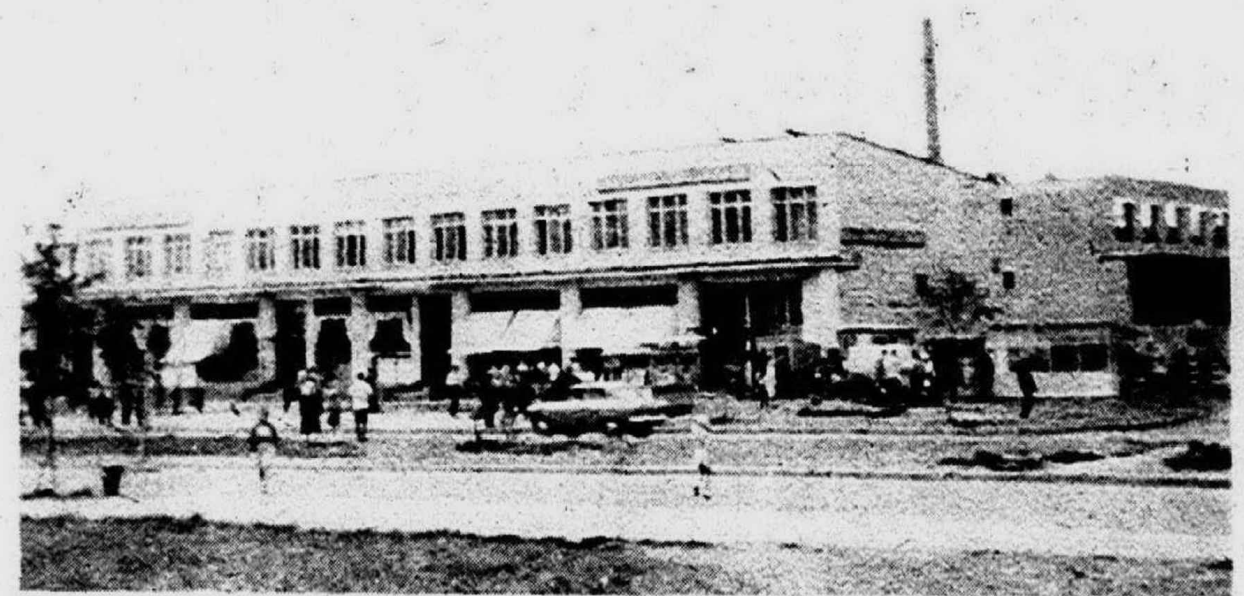

TBILISI—The capital city of the Republic of Georgia is nestled in the Caucasian Mountains. The area is often referred to as the "Bavaria of the Soviet Union."

This was the city that was the most "different" of any. The Georgians are noted for their independence and have resisted many of the changes which the central Soviet government has imposed upon the other republics. (There is even a building there which retains Stalin in the decorations.)

Tbilisi was the only city where the private homes outnumbered the apartment buildings, but I was told that now apartment construction was currently underway and that the private homes would soon be vacated.

The city was also interesting as it was the only spot where the Intourist guides pointed out churches that were still functioning as churches and had not been turned into museums.

In fact it was there that I had an opportunity to attend a service of the Georgian Orthodox Church. The service was attended by about 15 women and three men. If the youngest person in the church (other than myself) was under 70, I would have been surprised.

THIS SHOPPING CENTER in a residential district of Moscow housed a small grocery store, a bakery and a shop which sold nothing but meat and fish. The shopper in a Soviet store picks out the item, goes to a separate counter and pays for the item and then returns to the first counter with the receipt to obtain the goods. Note the construction of the new apartment building. Approximately 125 new apartments are completed each day in Moscow alone.

Jewish Holiday Cooking

By Joyce Totten

Jewish people have always been noted for their home life, and of course no happy home is achieved without a good housewife which among other things means, a good cook. Jewish cooking is symbolized by the strict accordance of mixing milk and meat and some other products in the same dish.

In addition, certain foods are prohibited.

On the Jewish Festivals it is usual to serve certain dishes that have become closely associated with those Festivals.

Jewish cooking is recognized as good cooking. Following below are a few tasty foods you might try.

First a traditional cake for the New Year.

HONEY CAKE (LEKACH)

- 6 oz. castor sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 T. oil
- 8 oz. honey
- Blanched and halved almonds
- 1/4 pt. warm water
- 12 oz. plain flour
- 1 t. baking powder
- 1 t. ground ginger
- 1/2 t. mixed spice
- 1 t. bicarbonate of soda

Cream sugar and eggs well, add oil and honey and mix thoroughly. Sift the flour with baking powder, ginger, spice, bicarbonate of soda and add alternately with warm water to the honey mixture.

Pour into greased floured tin, decorate with almonds and bake in moderate oven for one hour.

NOW, FOR SUCCOTH, the harvest festival.

STUFFED CABBAGE

- Large white cabbage leaves
- 4 oz. cooked rice
- 1 lb. raw minced beef
- 1 small onion grated salt and pepper
- 1 small can tomatoes or tomato puree
- 2 oz. seedless raisins or sultanas
- 2 tbs. brown sugar
- a little water
- lemon juice

Scald the leaves with boiling water and leave for five minutes to soften, and then drain. Mix the rice, meat, onion, salt and pepper well together and place two large tablespoons of the mixture in the center of each leaf.

Roll up like a parcel and tie securely with white thread; line a large saucepan with several cabbage leaves and place the rolls on top; add the puree, water, raisins, sugar and cover tightly.

Cook gently for at least two hours, making sure there is liquid in the pan the whole time, adding a little more water if necessary. Add lemon juice and brown sugar according to taste.

Pick Best Shopping System

A decision you face many times is whether to buy all your food in one store or to shop several stores. The decision is not an easy one, reminds Harold E. Neigh, extension consumer economics specialist of The Pennsylvania State University.

When you shop several stores and take advantage of the "good buys" in each one, you can cut your food budget. But other costs are involved besides money.

You spend time and energy when you buy food. Sometimes you can save time and energy, when you spend more money. A large part of the decision facing you is deciding the value you place on your time and energy.

IF YOU SHOP several stores for their "good buys," you can save money on what you buy and you can choose from a wider selection of brands.

To make the most of this wider selection, you'll have to increase your knowledge of how the different brands fit your family's needs, says Neigh.

You'll also be exposed to a variety of merchandise you perhaps didn't intend to buy. If your willpower to resist impulse buying is low, you may end up with many items not on your shopping list. This could wipe out any savings.

Foreign Language Classes To Start

Foreign language classes, sponsored by Parent-Teacher Association groups for elementary school students, are starting soon on Saturday mornings in two schools in Farmington and one in Livonia.

The ten-week series of classes for children from the second to sixth grades will begin Sept. 30 in Fairview School, located in Farmington's Middle Belt and 14 Mile area, and Oct. 7 in Ten Mile School, Farmington, and Hull School, Livonia.

Rainbow Leader Installed

Diane McColl was inducted as worthy advisor of Red Rose Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, at installation ceremonies at Lola Valley Masonic Temple, Tuesday.

Those inducted with her were Deborah Sedore, worthy associate advisor; Janet Miller, charity; Cindy Setter, hope; Sue Green, faith; Brenda Hicks, recorder; and Janet Foster, treasurer.

Carol Asworth became chaplain; Sue Wedge, drill leader; Vickie Clement, associate drill leader; Debbie Pass, love; Sue Ladd, religion; Carol Robertson, nature; Joan Fell, immortality; Becky Shiek, confidential observer; Cheryl Groom, outer observer; Becky Shiek, musician; Candy Hamer, choir director; Charleen Maynard, prompter, and Mrs. Vena Sedore, mother advisor.

TEN MILE'S PTA is beginning its third year of foreign language classes, and previous programs have drawn more than 450 youngsters. The other programs are new this fall.

All three schools will offer instruction in French and Spanish, and the children will be divided so that second and third graders are together and fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils are in another class.

The cost is $8 for the 10-week session, covering pay for qualified teachers and supplies.

"The object of the classes," said Donald McGregor, of Ten Mile, "is to introduce the children to a foreign language before they have developed fear that it may be too hard or strange."

"OUR CHILDREN are in the eighth grade before a foreign language is introduced as part of their regular classroom work. In Detroit, Birmingham and South Redford, modern foreign languages are taught in the early elementary grades."

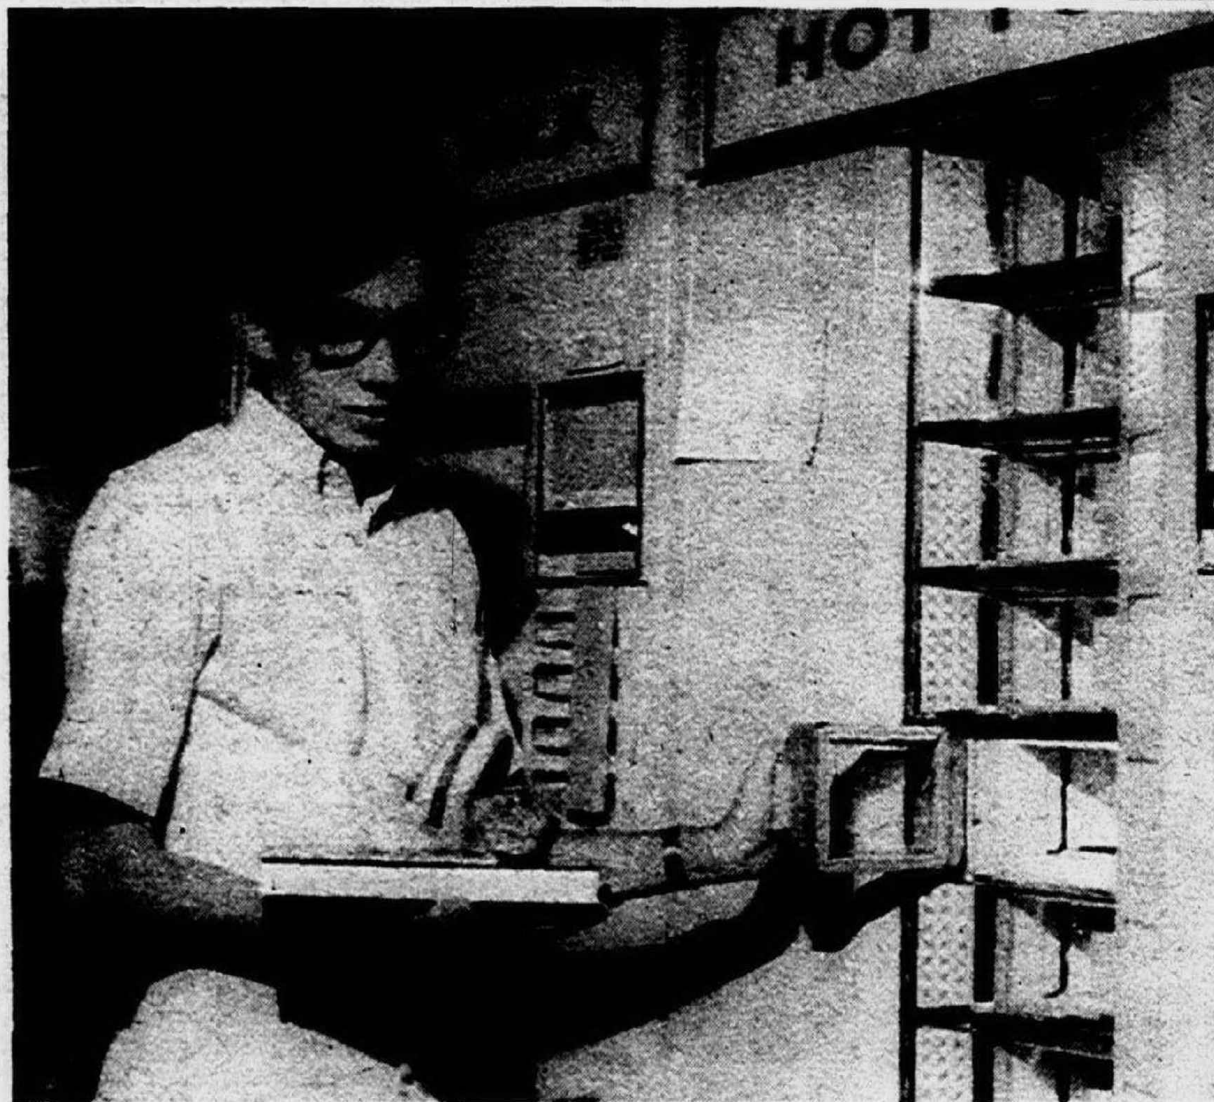

In Farmington, schools have been divided so youngsters in the north part of the area would attend Fairview classes, and those in the south would go to Ten Mile. Registration forms have been sent home with the children, and must be returned to reserve places in the classes.

Those wishing registration forms may call McGregor at 474-4904.

Livonia parents interested in the Hull School program are invited to call Mrs. William Dayton at 427-9433.

TRAY IN HAND, Bentley High 12th grader Greg Lomas opens the hot food vending machine to get out his lunch in a single package.

DENISE CARTER, 11th grade student, takes a cold lunch package from the machine, while classmate Jeff Tate waits his turn. Later they'll get milk from a hooked-up machine.

Machines Serve Full Lunches At Bentley

There's more than one way to get a good lunch at Bentley High School.

The Livonia school, which will be joining others around here in marking national School Lunch Week Oct. 8-14, has conventional cafeteria service like the rest.

It also has, in the words of Gerry Tobin, who heads the Livonia lunch program, "the only vending machines in public schools anywhere that can serve a complete Type A lunch in one coin operation."

THE MACHINES are located in the Bentley multi-purpose room, and they serve about 500 students daily. About the same number eat lunch in the cafeteria each day.

Those who visit the machines can get two complete hot lunches or a complete cold lunch for 45 cents. Available in hot lunches is a menu like meat loaf, mashed potatoes, green beans, and apple crisp, or else a hamburger and french fries. The cold lunch includes a salad, sandwich or roll, and dessert.

The student picks the machine he wants and drops in his 45 cents. He takes out the complete lunch in one package, specially designed for the system by Livonia businessman Pete Maslow.

THEN, AS THE DOOR is shut, a door in the adjacent milk machine swings open and the student reaches in for his milk.

The system was worked out, Mrs. Tobin said, "because we wanted an extra means for the students to get a good, quick lunch."

It had to have the nutrition to meet government standards, she added, and she wanted to avoid having an attendant stand by to be sure that all the students got the complete lunch, including milk. Thus, the special system to hook up the machines.

THERE'S ALSO another machine that dispenses a sandwich-peanut butter and jelly or cheese—for 20 cents.

"The students have accepted the lunches served by the vending machines very happily," Mrs. Tobin said. "They even seem to like the hot fruit that they get in the hot lunch packages."

DOROTHY GRAYE, of the Bentley lunch staff, feeds lunch packages into the machine from the back just a bit faster than the students get them out.

Women on the GO!

By Margaret Miller

"There's so much fulfillment to this job--you hardly know where to start."

That's how Mrs. June Sears describes her work as home economist for the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service.

There's the contact she has with women in family living study groups all over the area. THERE'S THE chance to get into the Detroit inner city--to Twelfth Street--and find some meeting ground with the women of the economically down families there.

And there's opportunity, she has found, to lead the women of comfortable suburbia into some work with families living in this area whose life is bogged down with poverty and adverse circumstances.

June Sears finds just about all aspects of this many-sided work fascinating.

She points out that the extension service has been in existence since 1914 when it was established by an act of the U.S. Congress, and functions through Michigan State University because that's the state's land grant college.

HER WORK is with the Family Living section of the service, one of five in the extension program that also includes 4-H, Marketing, Education and Agriculture.

She leads a program in which 79 study groups, with a membership of some 900 Wayne County women, meet monthly to study a range of subjects that over the coming year will cover teenage morality, financing a home, conflict in marriage, better communications, money and marriage, people of India, selecting wallpaper and paint, selection and care of floor and lawn and gardening.

She trains leaders in each of these areas, and they take the ideas back to their own groups.

"The purpose of these groups is continuing study for the women -- helping them keep their minds open for new ideas in all the fields," Mrs. Sears said. "We aren't interested in craft work or time fillers--the idea is the development of skill and knowledge."

MANY OF these groups are carrying their knowledge beyond their own homes by going to destitute families in the area.

"I've taken them to meet the women in these homes," said June. "As they get to know them, we all can understand better the circumstances that can drag down, and then they can help with ideas shared as well as supplies."

When she first joined the extension service four and a half years ago, Mrs. Sears did considerable work with women in the low-income housing projects in Detroit. "I'd form study groups by starting, maybe, with a weight-control club," she said. "From there we could go to discussions on food, and then good nutrition, and then attractive clothing and personal cleanliness."

She said she tries to "build in an insight--to develop a need to learn."

June will carry this philosophy to a new project--classes to be conducted in the Twelfth Street area.

"This is the area everyone is watching," she said, "and this is where we must make some progress."

MRS. SEARS also does some work with 4-H programs, gives talks before other women's groups and cooperates with the Oakland County extensions service in similar programs.

Somewhere she works in time for her husband, Dick, and junior high twins, Gretta Renelle and Garry Renard, and their Detroit home. The couple also has a son, Gregory Richard, and a daughter, Gretchen Rochelle studying at Eastern Michigan University.

"IT'S A good thing I have a home economics background," she said, "because I need to know a lot of shortcuts."

June has two degrees in family living from Wayne State University, earning them after her family arrived on the scene. They share her now with a few hundred other fortunate women.

Women Win Blue Ribbons

Four blue ribbons came home with members of the Hill and Dale Garden Club of Farmington after the recent Michigan Horticulture Society's flower show on Belle Isle.

First Place winners included: Mrs. Frederick Bulman, Mrs. Warren Kruger, Mrs. John King and Mrs. Arthur Thomas.

Other awards were won by Mrs. Robert Eaton, Mrs. Richard Steiger, Mrs. Robert Whiteford and Mrs. Kruger.

The club toured the new campus of Oakland Community College with faculty member Edward Decker as guide on Sept. 14, and in October will hear a

Fencing Club Set For 'Y'

Fencing is coming to the Northwest branch of the YWCA in a big way this fall.

Because of continuing interest in the sport by "Y" members, the Northwest branch is offering for the first time a regular "Fencing Club." It will meet for two hours, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., on Thursdays for 10 weeks, beginning September 28.

Those interested may learn more by calling KE. 7-8500.

AS ALWAYS, fencing classes for children will be offered as part of the "Y" Saturday morning sessions for young people at Henry Ford High School.

The newly-formed club is intended to be educational, informative and informal, according to Bart Mindszenty, who will return as instructor.

"Fencing is a very enjoyable sport, and also a very demanding one," said Mindszenty.

"Once the basic movements are learned, the novice fencer finds himself challenged by an exciting and stimulating sports experience that, if pursued, can be rewarding."

PROSPECTIVE club members need only willingness to learn and ability to 'put up with a few sore muscles for a while' he added. Dress will be slacks, tennis shoes, and shirt or blouse.

There will be no demand that members of the club, which is co-educational, attend all two hours every week. "This is a club, and those signing up will be responsible for their own attendance."

Soroptimists To Sell Work Of Homebound

The Soroptimist Club of Dearborn will present an annual show and sale of hand craft articles made by Michigan's disabled homebound persons at Hudson's Westland auditorium the week of Oct. 2-7, during regular shopping hours.

Featured in this year's show will be a "Christmas Corner," giving Detroit area residents the opportunity to view and select unusual Christmas gifts and decorations. Other items in the show will include hand knits, hand wrought jewelry, decoupage, loomed weaving, hand painted china and many other items.

The sale will benefit the Michigan Handicrafters, a craft program sponsored by the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Department of Education, State of Michigan.

The Michigan Handicrafters program gives persons who are homebound because of severe disability an opportunity to earn money by producing quality hand-crafted items in their homes.

Season Opens

The Plymouth Panhellenic Association will hold its first meeting of the season in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, 12619 Beacon Hill Court on Monday, Oct. 2.

All who have been members of college sororities are welcome. Women planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Robert Peterson, 453-6454, or Mrs. Raymond Jackson, 453-3920.

-- m. m. memos --

It's college football time again, and to lots of former students that means time for a special kind of fun--the Saturday picnics near the Ann Arbor and East Lansing stadiums.

We've long enjoyed the outings on the golf course at Ann Arbor. You can eat lunch by the stream, and collect a few pine cones and watch some future gridgers toss around a football while mini-skirted future coeds watch and admire.

But we've never seen the likes of an incident described by a friend. He's one of those usually-reliable sources, so we'll take his word for it.

On one football Saturday in Ann Arbor, swears our source, a chauffeur-driven limousine pulled in and several well dressed fans got out. They made small talk while the chauffeur set up a table with linen cloth, silver and china and candlesticks. He put on contents of an elegant hamper, and they sat down.

At that point our chauffeur uncorked a bottle of champagne and lit some candles!

There were plenty of well-laden picnic tables at Ann Arbor last Saturday, but the only bottles we saw contained pop and beer. And nary a candlestick. Peasants!

Drive Begins To Organize Nurses

The Michigan Nurses Association this week is distributing a pamphlet to over 40,000 active and inactive registered nurses throughout the state, asking them to "Stand Up, Move Up, Sign Up" for improved Economic Security.

This is the beginning of a movement that ultimately will result in the negotiation of collective bargaining agreements between registered nurses and over 600 health agency and hospital employers throughout Michigan.

"In the spiraling increases of wages and living costs, the registered professional nurses have been forgotten," says Jessie Pergrin, R.N., President of MNA.

"A RESULT is that fewer people have been attracted to nursing as a career. The nurses now active, are spread entirely too thin. They are being required to work to the point of exhaustion to provide patient care. It is now routine to work extended hours.

"Surely, sooner or later, unless adequate nursing personnel becomes available, there is bound to be a health scandal because of the lack of professionally qualified nurses."

MNA, during the next few months, will be seeking recognition as the bargaining agent for local registered nurses in hospitals and public employment under the amended Hutchinson Act and the Bonine Tripp Act. "This is a community problem," says Miss Pergrin, "not an employee versus management situation."

"The nurses are part of the community leadership in health services. The nurses are professionals. The nurses and their employers must work together with community leadership, to solve this serious problem in the care of the sick and injured."

MISS PERGRIN pointed out that during the past few years, technological advances and government programs have placed great demands on nurses. Each new program gives them additional duties. "Why should nurses be asked to subsidize health care? We are sure that few suppliers of services and goods to hospitals and health services are selling to hospitals at a loss."

When asked if MNA seeks to improve standardized salaries and working conditions on all health agencies in the state, Miss Pergrin replied: "No. We are very conscious of the need for adapting demands for local situations.

"The association has adopted specific goals, however, for wages and working conditions. Progress towards those goals will take longer in some communities than in others.

"The main thing we want now is recognition of the plight of the nurses, and specific plans that over a period of time will bring professional nurses in line with the compensation received by other professional people in the community with similar educational requirements and responsibilities."

Catholic Seminarians Will Teach Lutheran Children

While necessity is the mother of invention, it may also be the mother of ecumenism.

Since members of the Epiphany Lutheran Church on Five

SISTER M. LEONITA Susalla, CSSF, a Madonna College 1952 graduate, has been appointed a University Fellow in the graduate school of arts and sciences of Georgetown University in the field of biology. Sister Leonita completed work for her master's degree in August at the University of Detroit.

Mile in Plymouth Township couldn't find teachers among the congregation for the church school, they are using seminarians from St. John's Seminary on Sheldon Road.

"To our knowledge this is the only place in the country where Catholic seminarians are teaching religion to Lutheran children," said the Rev. David Strang, pastor of the church. Six seminarians teach children in first to sixth grades three afternoons a week. They are: Don Archambault, Mike Hazard, Charles Fisher, George McPeak, Don Heyden, and Mike Rhoades.

THE CHURCH switched from Sunday to week day church school last winter because there wasn't enough room to hold the classes at the same time as services on Sunday.

Now each child goes to church school one day a week for an hour and a half after school.

When Father Eugene VanAntwerp, rector of the seminary, agreed to let the seminarians teach, he also agreed to let them teach from Lutheran textbooks and material.

"WE'LL BE following the curriculum set up by the Lutheran Church of America," explained Rev. Strang. "Actually there won't be any major differences in theology for either the teachers or students at this level."

"And it's pretty hard to find teachers with training in theology. The seminarians all have a good background in scripture and Christian education."

GOP Plans New Class At U Of M

A new program to encourage outstanding college students to become active in politics and to interest them in public service careers will be launched at the University of Michigan, November 18, under auspices of the Republican Party of Michigan, Party State Chairman Ely M. Peterson announced today.

Known as "Opportunities, Unlimited," the project is designed to attract more young people into the Republican Party as well as to induce them to participate in politics and government.

Mrs. Peterson said, "We're attempting to show the uncommitted college leader that his ideas and abilities can best be expressed and used through active participation in a political party and that the Republican Party wants his talents. We also plan to expose these young men and women to the career opportunities available in public service."

The "Opportunities, Unlimited" conference is sponsored jointly by the Michigan Republican State Central Committee and the Republican National Committee, University of Michigan College Young Republican Club members will be conference hosts.

The Offset Process : A Printing Adventure

By TIM RICHARD

Beginning with this edition, all Observer Newspapers will be printed by a new process. It's called "offset."

For you, the reader, it will mean a brighter, easier-to-read newspaper. For us, it will mean greater efficiency and production of most of the paper with our own facilities.

Readers in Livonia, Farmington and Plymouth already have seen an offset product. Our Sunday editions there, with a total press run of more than 51,000, are printed that way. Now our Wednesday editions, which also reach Redford, Garden City and Westland and give us a total press run of more than 90,000, will also be done by offset.

It's a giant step—scary, and yet fun. And since you bring us into your home each week, we thought we'd share with you the adventure of this new process.

WE LOOK DIFFERENT now. Brighter. Crisper.

The photos are probably the first thing you noticed. In the "letterpress" process—which we used to use, and which most big daily papers still use—the photos were reproduced by coarse zinc engravings. With offset, we don't use an engraving at all. If you look very carefully at the pictures, perhaps with a magnifying glass, you'll see that they're really a series of extremely fine dots.

The photos look more realistic, don't they? As we become more experienced, our photos will surpass in quality those of a metropolitan daily paper.

The photos are a little cheaper to produce, too. We'll be able to print more and bigger pictures.

Take a look at the headlines. They're set in a new kind of type called "Times Roman." Many typographers think it's the most graceful, beautiful and easy to read headline type ever designed. We agree.

Take a look at the photo captions (or "cutlines," as we call them). No longer are they a small, heavy type. They're a bigger, cleaner type—again, easier to read.

And take a look at the type in the news stories. It's set by an entirely new process, too. It'll take you a short time to get used to it; but when you do, you'll like it much more than the old lead type.

THE WORD "OFFSET" is derived from the fact that the inked plate doesn't print directly onto the paper. Instead, the plate prints on a rubber cylinder, and that cylinder off-sets the ink onto the paper.

But that's not the most unusual thing. Until offset came along, printers since the time of Gutenberg had been using raised type, in which the surface of the letter or dark line of a drawing is raised so that it can be inked.

In offset, however, the plate is flat! It's made by a photo-chemical process, and it's receptive to a greasy ink where it's supposed to print, and receptive to water where it's not supposed to print.

The offset plate is thin aluminum and weighs only ounces—perhaps as much as a housewife's cookie-baking sheet. In letterpress, the stereotype plates weigh perhaps 50 pounds.

When we used letterpress, all our type and headlines and our zinc photo engravings were made by outside firms. With offset, only the plate-making and printing are done outside our organization—at Keystone Printing Co. in Detroit. All of our typesetting, headline making and page composition, along with much of our photo making, are done in our Plymouth buildings, at 271 and 238 S. Main.

The pictures on this page show that part of the production process.

EVERYTHING'S DONE BY paste-up now. In the old letter-press process (right), every column required a long, heavy "galley" of lead type that had to be laid into a page form. Woe to any printer who spilled a galley of type—each line was a separate piece of lead, and it took hours to unscramble them. Vic Howard demonstrates the makeup process in our Farmington plant.

In offset (above), the page makeup is a paste-up process. Farmington Editor Sue Shaughnessy (right) has prepared a page plan (hanging on wall at right) for Marge Lenk to follow. Single copies are made of stories and pasted into place. Photos and headlines are also pasted in. The page is made ready in our Plymouth offices, after which the paste-up will be taken to the printer in Detroit for the plate-making process.

HEADLINES used to be set in heavy lead, often by hand. Now, Nancy Spigarelli sets them on a photographic paper—each letter is a separate picture—and the tape is pasted into the page form.

AFTER the page is pasted up, a large picture is taken of it. Here, a printer at Keystone touches up the negative to blot out blemishes or unwanted shadows. This negative will then be used to make the lightweight aluminum printing plate.

OLD AND NEW methods of printing pictures are dramatically demonstrated by this pair of photos, printed from the same negative.

At left is the impression from a zinc engraving, with only 65 lines to an inch; note how darker areas tend to blot and blur.

At right is an offset photo, with 85 dots to an inch. In the paste-up process, no zinc engraving is used; instead, the picture is made on regular photographic paper but is filtered through a screen to reduce tones to the tiny black dots.

TYPESSETTING is now done by a whole new process without using ink or lead.

Barbara Diadun works at the new Justo Writer machine, punching a story into a tape, visible in the lower center. The tape will be fed into a sort of computerized typewriter that will speedily print one copy of the story with all lines the same width. This copy will then be used for the paste-up.

Ron Prevost, in our Farmington shop, demonstrates the old Linotype machine, still used for setting some advertisements. The type comes out in a long "galley" at lower left.

KEYSTONE PRINTING Co. has added new units to its presses in order to handle the six Wednesday Observer Newspapers in addition to the three Sunday papers. Actual press time is expected to be cut in half.

Continuing Education Something For All At Oakland University

Not only the young inhabit a psychedelic world these days. Adults who want to add color, sound and excitement to their lives may choose from an entire spectrum of continuing education courses this fall, ranging from the many colors of a Leaded Stained Glass course to the pure blacks and whites of astronomy.

In addition to well over 100 business and professional development courses, Oakland University's Division of Continuing Education offers a dazzling array of courses in the arts, music, language, literature and psychology. Although many of these classes have already been filled, there are still openings in several exciting and rewarding programs of cultural enrichment.

MEADOW BROOK Theatre - Stage and Backstage, for example, offers not only an in-depth study of the plays to be produced by John Fernald's resident theatre group this year, but a scintillating glimpse into the world of reality behind the footlights. Director Fernald himself, actors, set designers, choreographers, and costumers will make guest appearances during class periods to acquaint aficionados of the theatre with behind-the-scenes drama.

The course includes tickets to three plays with the class attending performances as a group, both for pure enjoyment and to develop critical appreciation. Limited to 40, final registration will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis. The first session is Sept. 28 at 7:30 p.m. Cost for the entire 12 weeks, including theatre tickets is $30. The Leaded Stained Glass program involves the creation of a project by the beginning student, as well as providing background into the history, uses and methods of creating art in this particular medium.

DESIGN IN Interiors II is a workshop in interior design with the accent on color and style for those students who have had the beginning course in Interiors or its equivalent. This, too, is a limited enrollment class and registrants will be accepted in the order in which they enroll. Taught by Bengt L. Swenson, A.I.D. of Skanihouse Design Associates, Inc., this 10-week course begins Wednesday, Sept. 27.

For those who prefer color in language and in history, there are the following courses, all starting this week: Creative Writing Workshop; Great Ages of Man - the Baroque and Classic Eras; Vocabulary Development; Effective Speaking and Leadership and the Thursday

Some Too Slim

A common decorating "wrong" is use of ceiling or base moldings which are too narrow. As a rule of thumb, a traditional cornice should be 1/4th the distance from the ceiling to the floor. An eight-foot ceiling should call for a three to four inch base, while a nine-foot ceiling should have a four to five inch base.

Egypt Started It

Veneering of fine woods for furniture and cabinets was an art in ancient Egypt. Today's strong structural wood panel dates back only to 1905, when some Portland, Ore. lumbermen created the first plywood "sandwich."

Charles J. Barry, 28750 Lorikay, of Farmington, has been named a division chairman for the Western Wayne community business campaign of the 1967 Torch Drive.

HOME IMPROVEMENTS Milwaukee Author To Address Realtors

"Sales Stimulation and Personal Motivation" will be one of the principal topics discussed at the fourth annual Realtor Forum to be held on Thursday, Oct. 12.

The speaker will be George Bockl, realtor and author of the best-selling book, "How to Use Leverage to Make Money in Local Real Estate."

BOCKL, APPLYING his "leverage law," has successfully bought and sold more than $200 million worth of real estate in his hometown Milwaukee alone. This is equivalent to selling every home and commercial building in a typical city of 75,000.

More than 1,000 realtors and guests from throughout the metropolitan Detroit and Windsor area are expected to attend the half-day Forum at the Roma Hall of Livonia.

The principal address will be by Roy D. Chapin, Jr., chief executive of American Motors Corporation. Chapin is expected to analyze the comeback plans of Detroit's fourth auto maker and its effects on the metropolitan business community.

Starting with breakfast at 8:30 and lasting until shortly before noon, the Forum will also feature spot reports on real-estate market conditions throughout the five-county metropolitan area.

THE FORUM is sponsored by

To Count Parochial Students

Students in the non-public schools of Oakland County will be accounted for this year in the same way on Sept. 29 as those enrolled in public schools. Roger Tyrrell, director of child accounting for Oakland Schools, has distributed forms on which each non-public school student will record his name, address, sex, name of parent or guardian, telephone number, birth date, grade and the public school district in which he resides.

The forms will be machine read and processed through the Oakland Schools Data Processing Center. Four alphabetic listings by grade will be furnished participating non-public schools. Public school districts in which children reside will be sent listings of the schools which children who reside in the district attend.
