

Old Beck Road Well Site May Become Nature Park

The City of Plymouth is on the verge of obtaining a 40-acre park and nature trail on land that has been lying idle for some time.

The site is on Beck Road where the second well in the city water system is located and it has been considered ideal by some of the outstanding experts in this section of the country.

"We have called upon Miss Genevieve Gillette, landscape architect of Ann Arbor who designed the landscaping at City Hall," City Manager Richard Blodgett explained Monday afternoon, "and her preliminary survey shows that the location and the setting for this purpose is ideal."

According to Blodgett, Miss Gillette contacted the officials of the Huron Valley chapter of the Michigan Botanical Club, and has enlisted the interest and advice of that group.

Along with that, she also has contacted Dr. Wagner, Curator at the University of Michigan. It is understood that he, too, has looked over the site and is optimistic in his thoughts of what could be done in the way of a nature park and trail.

"As I understand it," Blodgett pointed out, "there are several ideal tree specimens in the area and these took the eye of the planners."

The only park facilities now available in the City of Plymouth for such things as nature trails is the portion of Hines Parkway that winds through the area.

If the 40-acre well site is adapted for the park and nature trail it will provide ideal facilities for folks in the western area of the community. It would be a real asset to the city and, according to those who are planning the venture, it would be making good use of land that has been lying idle.

Blodgett announced that a meeting was scheduled for 2 o'clock on Sunday, October 22, to which all members of the botanical societies have been invited along with city officials. A study will be made at that time and the possibilities of the nature trail discussed at length.

Open Housing Ordinance Timetable Set

The City Commission has set up a time table for action on an Open Housing Ordinance.

According to the schedule adopted at the regular meeting Monday evening, the new ordinance will be given its first official reading on Monday evening, Nov. 6. This will be followed by a public hearing on the ordinance on the following Monday, Nov. 13, in the Plymouth City Hall.

The quick, unanimous action came as a mild surprise, for nothing more had been planned than the official presentation of the ordinance for study.

City Attorney Charles Lowe had recommended that the ordinance be received and then deferred to a meeting of the Committee of the Whole for further study.

THIS RECOMMENDATION was set aside when Commissioner Peter Schweitzer asked that a public hearing be set on the ordinance on Nov. 20, and Commissioner Robert Smith suggested that the ordinance be given its first reading immediately.

"Too often in the past," Commissioner Smith stated, "we have had the official readings of the ordinance and then called in the public. As a result we have had to make some amendments."

"So, I would suggest," he continued, "that we give the ordinance its first reading now and have it ready for the public at the hearing and let them tell us what changes they want."

Smith's request caught the other Commissioners by surprise and Commissioner Arch Vallier protested by asking, "How can we give an ordinance its first reading now when we just received it tonight. Surely, we are entitled to some time for individual study and the suggestion of changes before it is given an official reading."

"Why wait so long, then, for a public hearing?" Smith asked.

As a result Schweitzer agreed to an earlier date—Nov. 13—and the first official reading a week before that.

PRIOR TO setting up the time table for action, the Commission became involved in a letter from the Plymouth Ministerial Association stating its conviction on the entire Human Rights program.

The question arose as to whether the Ministers' statement should be read into the minutes of Monday night's meeting or deferred until the action on the ordinance at a later date.

Commissioner Vallier and James Houk volunteered the thought that it would serve a better purpose if the letter was read at the time of action on this official ordinance.

Other members disagreed, claiming that it should be read into the minutes immediately so that the action of the Ministerial Association could be known.

On an official motion for the immediate reading, Vallier and Houk cast the lone negative votes. The letter then was read into the minutes.

FOLLOWING this action, Houk, not to be outdone, offered a motion to have the letter read into the minutes again at the time action is taken on the ordinance. The motion passed unanimously.

One of the reasons for the proposed delay in taking action was the fact that a similar bill is on the agenda of the state legislature. It was felt that it would be wise to wait for the state statute and avoid any possible changes that might be required in the Plymouth ordinance if passed now.

Smith would have none of this. He wanted action in a hurry—and he got it.

As a result the time table was set with the first reading on Nov. 6 and the public hearing on Nov. 13.

In setting up this schedule the City Commission has acted in a manner to establish some sort of a record for it was only a few weeks ago that City Attorney Lowe was requested to prepare the ordinance.

Citizen 'Facility Review' Of High School Planned

A public meeting of all citizens interested in the facilities being planned for Plymouth High School No. 2 has been called for 9:00 A.M., Saturday, Oct. 21, in the library of Junior High-East.

Specific invitations to attend the session have been sent to all members of the Citizens Committee, whose studies led to adoption of the $8.5 million bond issue which has made construction possible, but other residents are equally welcome.

William C. Harding, assistant superintendent for secondary education, said the purpose of the meeting "is to bring all parties initially involved in the planning for this facility up to date on matters as they now stand."

The timetable for the new structure calls for contracts to be let early in 1968, with the building to be open for classes in September, 1969.

OF ALL the modern educational items proposed by the architects for the high school, the 1,100-seat auditorium is the one which Supt. James H. Rossman says has drawn the most public comment.

It will be the policy of the school administration to make the auditorium available for full community use, said Rossman, but bookings for school activities will be given first priority.

In light of the fact that rehabilitation of the P&A Theatre as a downtown cultural center currently is under civic discussion, the accessibility of the high school auditorium is a matter of moment to many residents.

If remodeled, the P&A would have slightly less than half the seating capacity of the high school auditorium. However, it is assumed that bookings for its use would be handled on a "first come, first served" basis, with no prior obligation to the needs of such a group as a study body.

ROBERT E. GREAGER, of the architectural firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates, which has the high school design contract, answers questions concerning the projected auditorium in the following statement:

"Most books written on the subject of theatres and theatre acoustics recommend a different room for each use. That is, an Opera House, a Legitimate Theatre and a Concert Hall. Unfortunately only a few budgets will allow this luxury."

"The major criticism of multi-use halls is the matter of size. The Concert Hall should ideally seat 1,200 but economics normally force a house of 2,400 or larger."

"Ideally, everyone in a Legitimate Theatre should be within 75 feet of the stage, and this factor usually limits the house to between 600 and 900."

"Fortunately our educational specification limited the size of the house to 1,100."

"Moreover, the requirement of two balcony-large group rooms of 150 automatically sets the main floor seating at 800."

"Since folding doors are required to create the large

Wins Car But Still Must Walk

A Plymouth woman who was awarded a new automobile in a Detroit contest last week still slogged through mud and rain to reach her local job on foot this week.

Mrs. Gustav Phillips, of 334 N. Evergreen, won't get delivery of the Mercury Montego which she has coming until production is resumed after conclusion of the strike of Ford Company plants.

"Meanwhile, we're still a one-car family," said an elated but damp Mrs. Phillips after walking through Monday's downpour.

Open House

Parents of all students at Junior High-West have been invited to an "open house" at the school the evening of Monday, Oct. 23 to meet the teaching staff and administrators. The event will run from 7:15 to 9:30.

SIGN OF THE SEASON --- When they start stacking up the picnic tables along the Hines Drive Parkway like this, it's a sure sign that the golden hues of autumn are but a forerunner to the ice and snow of a Michigan winter. Christmas is only 10 weeks away and Parkway picnickers now are few and far between, although on a sunny October day Hines Drive is one of Michigan's most beautiful thoroughfares.

Plymouth Ministerial Association Issues Statement Favoring Open Housing Code

In a letter to Commissioner George Hudson which was read at the City Commission meeting Monday evening, the Plymouth Ministerial Association has made the following statement of conviction regarding Open Housing in the area:

The purpose of this statement is to make clear to our neighbors, our convictions on the matter of race relations.

As residents of a community that is part of Metropolitan Detroit, we share the general concern in regard to the riots of this past summer. The increasing clamor of voices of ill will troubles us; and the hatred, fear and division in our society causes us great concern for the days that lie ahead. We believe that the roots of the problem of race relations in Greater Detroit are not only found in the increasingly negro central city area, but also in almost totally white suburbia; and that this growing division of our people makes good race relations increasingly difficult.

WE BELIEVE THAT as clergy, we dare not separate ourselves from the daily life of our community and that if we should permit this to happen, we would betray our religious and democratic heritage. Therefore, we publicly state our support of the following propositions:

1. Our fellow citizens have the moral as well as the legal right to purchase or rent a house anywhere without limitations based on race, color, religion, or national origin.

2. The churches and their members should lead the way in making sure that this right of every person is not violated in our community either by accepted practices or community prejudices.

3. Freedom of opportunity for all persons in housing, education, employment, use of public facilities, and enjoyment of the advantages our community offers must be supported and encouraged unequivocally now.

4. We urge that such support be given by the governmental agencies of Plymouth City and Township and by the Plymouth School District. And we further urge that our local citizenry support our representatives in taking such steps.

5. We pledge ourselves, and urge our church members and fellow citizens to welcome into their neighborhoods all responsible persons of whatever race, color, religion, or national origin. We stand ready to work with our neighbors along these lines to create a more desirable community for all.

WE WOULD point out, as we make public our position, that these principles are the clear teachings of the several churches and denominations to which we belong, as well as the position sanctioned by the Constitution of the United States and the State of Michigan, the Supreme Court of the United States, and many laws passed by the Congress of the United States and the State of Michigan.

Hopes High For Project Assistance

Representatives of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development have bought the hopes of Plymouth officials on the question of obtaining federal financial aid for development of a Community Center and rehabilitation of the old P & A Theatre.

Similarly, the same federal representatives have cooled local dreams of tapping Washington sources for funds with which to eliminate the Main Street railroad crossing or give downtown Plymouth a general face-lifting.

William P. Franze, special assistant to the regional administrator of H.U.D.; Henry J. Maliga, metropolitan development director of the same agency, and Congressman Marvin Esch, visited here Friday with an eye to determining Plymouth's exact needs.

Plymouth was represented by Mayor James Jabara, Mayor Pro Tem James McKeon, City Manager Richard Blodgett, City Clerk Eugene Silder, Chamber of Commerce President Carl Pursell and P & A Project Chairman Harold Guenther.

Rep. McDonald Answers Home Ownership Queries

U.S. Congressman Jack McDonald, 19th District, this week answered Observer queries for more information about his suggested home ownership programs to abate riot causes.

Township supervisor, presented a capsule proposal calling for government free enterprise backing of home ownership solutions at a meeting of Redford Optimists last month. "The idea, though not totally new, continues to brighten as it gains greater acceptance and application," said McDonald, introducing broader details. "Individual home ownership is not designed to be a self contained cure-all for the problems of urban America, but it has the capacity to upgrade a large segment of our citizenry and contribute to the improvement of the nation as a whole.

Livonia Mall Names Director

In a joint announcement Robert Poris, General Manager of the Livonia Mall and Oscar Kahan, President of the Merchants Association, confirmed the appointment of Myra L. Chandler as the new Executive Director of the Livonia Mall Merchants Association. Mrs. Chandler replaces Robert Chatham who resigned after two years.

In her duties Mrs. Chandler will be in charge of promotions and placing ads with all communication media. She comes to the Livonia Mall from the Observer Newspapers where she served in the capacity of editor of the Livonia Observer.

"Because of her background in newspaper work and involvement in the community we feel Mrs. Chandler will be of great help to us in creating the kind of atmosphere Livonia Mall shoppers have come to expect and anticipate," said Poris. "I am sure she will be alert in assisting the community to become acquainted with the many services and enjoy the varied plans the Merchants Association have arranged for the coming year," concluded Poris.

Mrs. Chandler officially began her new career Monday. Her first aim was to reactivate the Ladies Day Specials on Tuesdays which begin with a free movie at 10 a.m. in the Cinema Theatre.

Brookwood Group Sets Party

Members of the Brookwood Estates Civic Association of Livonia are planning the Annual Halloween party for children of homeowners living in Brookwood. Mrs. Wesley Stork is chairman of the party on Friday, Oct. 27 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in St. Matthew's Church of Livonia, 30900 Six Mile Road.

It is open to pre-schoolers through the fifth grade and costumes are required for admittance. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. Richard Bischoff will act as master of ceremonies for the program which will include a group of Indian dancers.

The prize committee includes Mrs. William Heath, chairman; Mrs. Henry Sinard, and Mrs. Robert Allerton.

Mrs. William See is chairman of the refreshments committee. Working with Mrs. See are: Mrs. Robert Dean, Mrs. Dan Burrell, Mrs. Dan Warren, Mrs. Lida Floyd, Mrs. Marilyn Willenson, Mrs. Charles Resetar, Mrs. John Williams, and Mrs. Betty Svatik.

Serving as decorations chairman is Mrs. Ronald Hicks with Mrs. Lewis Hellman, Mrs. William Elmes, and Mrs. Donald Houston. Mrs. Art Gagner is publicity chairman for the party.

"THE NEEDS in the area of housing grow more intense each year. The concept of Federal housing has proven, through experience, to be inadequate. Such projects are simply the relocation of slum ghettos.

"The Rent Supplement Program embraces the very same inadequacy so apparent in government housing; lack of identification. However, a person who takes advantage of the opportunity to own his own home suddenly has a vested interest in the well-being of that home.

"Maintenance of that interest can be a source of pride: pride in the home and pride in oneself. That same pride will carry over into the individual's job and the employer will benefit. The entire community will be on the receiving end of the cultivatable pride.

"A new idea must be put into operation if we are to overcome the problems spawned by blight and decay. I believe that individual home ownership is the basis for that much needed idea.

"UNDER ONE PLAN, private business, labor and the Federal Government, as partners in such an endeavor, would provide an indefatigable source of man power and technical know-how.

"The private industry, with the benefit of tax credits from the Federal Government, could devote some of its manufacturing might to the construction of low cost, pre-fab housing on an assembly line basis.

"Industry could also provide the capital to undertake the rehabilitation of structurally sound homes and condominiums.

"Labor could provide the muscle to make this idea a reality. They could also allow those men who would be taking direct advantage of the ownership program to perform the non-technical operations involved in home construction.

"Small business (mortgage and savings and loan companies) could handle the government insured financing and offer this low cost housing to families at a reduced rate of interest with no down payment.

"The education of these families in the areas of saving, budgeting incomes and meeting financial obligations could also be provided by small business.

"ANOTHER PLAN now under consideration in Congress calls for a National Home Ownership Foundation which would solve the financial and social ills of the expansive and uninspiring bulldozer-and-mortar tactics of the traditional urban renewal programs."

Schoolcraft To Host Manpower Seminar

Area educators, industrialists and public officials will participate in a report seminar on Michigan's manpower and technical needs for the present and future at Schoolcraft College on Wednesday, Nov. 1.

Designed for persons concerned with industrial development, labor, education and community development, the seminar is one of 20 scheduled at colleges throughout the state during October and November, according to Jon P. Adams, Schoolcraft College Dean of Technical-Vocational Instruction, who is coordinating the Schoolcraft meeting.

THE SEMINAR is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in the amphitheater in the Forum. The meeting is made possible by a grant from the Michigan Dept. of Commerce. Other co-operating agencies are the Michigan Dept. of Education and the Michigan Dept. of Labor. Ferris State College is administering the series. Information to be discussed at the session is from two recent studies, Adams said. The Michigan Manpower Study: "An Analysis of the Characteristics of Michigan's Labor Force in the Next 15 Years," was conducted by the Battelle Memorial Institute. Ferris State College made the other study: "The Michigan Technician Need."

The Ferris study was on the present and projected demand for technically trained people and their training opportunities. It was directed by James D. Kelly of the college's department of administrative studies.

Purpose of the seminars is to present and discuss alternate courses of action regarding policy decisions that should be considered by the Dept. of Education and the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

IN ADDITION to Kelly, speakers at the Schoolcraft session will include Leonard Bronder of the Office of Economic Expansion; Norman Barcus of the MESCC, and Phil Bailey or Robert Pangman of the vocational education division of the Dept. of Education.

The agenda will include a report on the Michigan manpower study and the manpower development in a changing economy, a report on the technician needs study, the findings and implications; challenges of the manpower studies to education, and a summary planning for the future.

A forum discussion by participants will follow the reports, Adams said.

Post Office Details Yule Mailing Dates

Only 68 days. That's right count 'em... only 68 days to Christmas.

To the average person 68 days is plenty of time, but to the U.S. Postal System it's but a fleeting moment.

The post office has opened its annual campaign for early mailing and noting that overseas packages have to be mailed soon in order to reach their destination by Christmas.

tion by Christmas.

IN FACT, if you want to send something to a civilian in the Far East you are already too late. The deadline for those mailings—to ensure delivery was Oct. 15.

To other areas of the world, however, packages mailed to civilians by Nov. 1 have a possibility of arriving before the man from the North Pole makes his rounds.

Christmas packages to members of the Armed Forces overseas have the following schedule:

Surface mail—Oct. 16 to Nov. 11; Space Available (SAM), five pound weight limit, 60 inches in length & girth for size, Oct. 21 to Dec. 11; and airmail—Dec. 1 to Dec. 11.

When Uncle Sam uses the term "Armed Forces Overseas" he means personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families, and U.S. civilians employed overseas who receive mail through an APO or FPO in New York, San Francisco or Seattle.

Remember to use the complete and correct APO or FPO numbers on all this mail.

THAT TAKES care of the people across the seas, but what about your aunt living in California? The post office says that parcels for distant states must be mailed by Dec. 4. If your aunt lives in Flint you have until Dec. 13 as that's the deadline for local and nearby delivery.

If your aunt joined the 49ers expedition to Alaska or settled for the warmer climate of Hawaii, however, you have a different deadline.

Surface mail must be in the hands of the post office by Nov. 29, while airmail packages must be mailed by Dec. 14, for these states.

REMEMBER THAT this year the proper address and the zip code must be included on all parcels. The postal system computes the rates on the basis of the zip code and it will save time and aggravation to have the zip code on the package before arriving at the post office.

The complete address and zip code will speed the delivery of all mail and should be used. The postal department distributed forms last month to help you obtain needed zip codes. Use these so that you will have all the information necessary.

This year the postal department has a suggestion which will help it deliver packages which lose their wrappings. If you place a paper inside the parcel post covering containing both the address and the return address, the parcel can be delivered in the event the cover has been torn or removed. Damage to the outer wrapper is the principal cause of delay to Christmas parcels, according to the post office. Place the address on one side of the outer wrapper.

Farmington Postmaster Henry L. Trombley noted that: "With the record breaking volume of more than nine billion pieces of holiday mail expected this year, the public must shop early, mail early and use the Zip Code on all mail so that delivery of holiday mail can be completed on-time."

"No one wants their holiday mail to arrive after Christmas," Trombley observed.

New Schoolcraft Senate Representatives Sketched

Seven representatives of the freshman class were elected to one-year terms on the Schoolcraft College Student Senate this month. The seven, who took office Oct. 4, join eight sophomores, elected last spring.

Who are the new student leaders? Where do they come from? What do they want to accomplish?

Here are thumbnail sketches: JULIE COLLINS, 18, graduated from Plymouth High and lives at 1641 Old Salem Road. Her field is secondary education, although she would really like to land a government job. Concentrating in history and political science, she plans to transfer to Western Michigan.

"More student participation" is her aim and she says that means not only increasing the chances for students to make decisions in the college, but also fighting apathy.

SANDY MURNINGHAN, 19, lives in Livonia at 14215 Beatrice. A graduate of North Farmington High, her interest is in psychology and she hopes to transfer to Michigan State for her last two years.

She ran because she's interested in people; wants to have something to say about what happens at the college.

TED PFEIFFER, 19, was one member of a Student Voice ticket, which advocated equal representation for students on college boards and "generally more of a voice for students." Pfeiffer comes from Detroit and is a business administration major. He plans to transfer, probably to Wayne.

EARL MENARY, who led the slate in number of votes, lives at 36906 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia. He's a history major, planning to transfer to Michigan State.

Earl was the other Student Voice candidate. In addition to more representation, the Voice ticket backed candidate Gary Greening in his push for cigarette machines on campus.

GARY GREENING, 18, would like cigarette machines for students, one of the few specific proposals to come out of a cool election campaign. He also believes that students should generally take a more active part in campus life, and be willing to fight for the changes they would like to see.

He lives in Livonia at 35928 Parkdale and graduated from Franklin. A business administration student, he hopes to transfer to Eastern Michigan, perhaps to train as an accountant.

GREG PAWLOWSKI, 19, is from Detroit. A political science student, he plans on a teaching career. More enthusiasm, more pride in the college, more interest among students are his aims. Of student government he says: "Here we can really do something."

TOM NEDEAU, 18, of 11320 Arden, Livonia, graduated from Franklin High last year. Tom would like to be a dramatics teacher after completing work at Eastern Michigan. Specifically, he will try for longer library hours. Generally, he aims for more student participation in campus government.

WHAT MORE can a happy youngster want than a big balloon and a new toy tiger. This tot was one of the orphans receiving an early Christmas at the grand opening of the Arlan's store.

Checker Cab Given New Lease On Life

After debating the issue for more than an hour Monday evening, the City Commission gave the Checker Cab Co. a new lease on life—at least until the end of the year.

The action came following a public hearing in which the Cab Company had been charged with violating the taxi cab ordinance and poor service and only after the commission had a change of heart.

James M. Darnell appeared in behalf of the Checker Company and admitted the poor service, but also attempted to offer a new program which he promised would work.

During the questioning, most of which was done by Commissioner Arch Vallier, Darnell could not explain why all notices and warnings from the city had been ignored.

It was pointed out to him that he even had signed for a special letter sent by the City Clerk in August only to ignore its contents.

Under the terms of the ordinance "an operator with three or more licensed taxicabs who fails to continuously keep and maintain in service within the corporate limits of the City of Plymouth at least one such taxicab shall be guilty of violation."

Darnell admitted times when the Checker Co. did not meet these requirements "when our driver was out on another call."

Because he could offer no reasonable excuse for the failure Commissioner Vallier offered a motion to have the license revoked.

Before action could be taken on the motion several Commissioners, notably Houk and Smith softened a bit. As a result, Houk offered a motion to give the company a lease on life for the remainder of the licensing period. Smith supported the action and it passed 4 to 3 with Commissioners George Hudson, James McKeon and Vallier casting the negative votes.

Under the terms of the

An emissary of Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh declared in a Plymouth speech Monday night that the Motor City has no plan to annex land in the Plymouth-Northville area for a so-called "satellite city"—but conceded that Detroit as a suburban subdivision "landlord" is a possibility.

Robert G. Hoffman, whose title with the Detroit City Plan Commission is that of "principal city planner," told the Plymouth Optimist Club that "there is nothing on the horizon as far as I can tell" calling for Detroit to foster a plan of "skip annexation."

He emphasized that Michigan law prohibits any city from annexing land unless it is contiguous to existing boundaries.

HOWEVER, he indicated that what Detroit chooses to do with the 600 acres it owns in this region—now constituting the Detroit House of Correction and Maybury Sanitarium—is quite another matter.

Any part of this, or other Detroit-owned land which might be obtained in the future, could be developed as a subdivision by Detroit, he said, as long as there was conformity with township and other local zoning and building codes and regulations.

This assertion represents a renewal of an idea which Detroit has sent up as a trial balloon before, namely that the Maybury property be converted into a private low-cost housing development.

Redefines 'Satellite City' Concept

Detroit Planner Denies Annexation Plans

Hoffman sought to pinpoint the definition of a "satellite city" as being any suburban community which has an economic link to a nearby major population center, and steered away from the annexation topic as being too legally remote for speculation.

"By the year 2,000 the population of Wayne County is expected to increase from 2.7 million to 3.8 million people, while population in the City of Detroit will remain fairly stable," he predicted.

"Are we going to have a continuation of suburban 'sprawl,' without adequate provision of services, or are we going to have new towns which will reflect competent planning and which will complement each other?"

HE DECLARED that area-wide planning is a possibility and that any new city development because of this future expansion can be referred to as a Detroit "satellite."

He cited the newly formed community of Keatington, near I-75 northeast of Pontiac, as an example of this already in the metropolitan region, and forecast further such developments, whether fostered by private resources or by government.

In answer to the query of why current conversations center upon the Northville-Plymouth countryside, as a potential area for Detroit-sponsored housing, Hoffman answered that it is simply because this is the site of the only suburban acreage owned by Detroit except for the Zoo in Royal Oak.

While granting that the whole subject is a nebulous one at the time being, Hoffman did stress the need for finding new living areas linked to sources of employment and added that it is Mayor Cavanagh's belief that any such development be opened to the "full range of ethnic groups."

Call Confab On Plans For School

★ Continued From Page One group rooms, another inherent advantage is obtained. When the doors are closed, the balcony seating is out of view and the hall appears to be not a 1,100-seat room but a more intimate 800-seat room. The Fisher Theatre in Detroit has built in this feature in order to create a more intimate house.

"The stage for a multi-use hall can be, and in our case is, an advantage to all types of performances."

"In order to accept on stage a 100-piece orchestra and a large choir, our stage is 98 feet wide and 53 feet deep."

"In order to stage opera and operetta, a sunken orchestra pit (60 feet by 12 feet) is created by removing the first three rows of seats. This leaves the entire area free for staging."

"A rolling wall will allow the width of the 23-foot high proscenium opening to be limited to 16 feet for a soloist, 30 feet for a theatre production or 75 feet for an orchestra production."

"The stage is large enough to allow a conventional theatre stage set on stage, to have two more stage sets on stage wagons to either side and still have ample space for backstage movement."

"Some other side advantages of this size stage are that by placing bleachers on stage, thrust stage or theatre-in-the-round can be produced. Small open side stages will allow three areas of activity at the same time."

"The stairways from the balcony to the stage will make possible graduation or chorus processions, as well as allowing an unusual approach. The exit from the orchestra pit will allow another unusual stage approach."

"The large group rooms as well as the main stage have separate projection booths. Fore-stage lighting is possible from the projection booth, from overhead, and also from the sides."

"A small fast-change and make-up area is on stage, and because our swimming pool showers and locker room adjoin the stage we have the advantage of two areas each with dressing, shower and locker."

Kiwanis Club Starts New Nature Trail

The Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth has taken on a new project and all members are being asked to lend their help.

Taking advantage of the setting the Kiwanians are attempting to establish a new nature trail at Gallimore School and work is being done on week-ends.

Strolling along nature trails is becoming very popular in the area and a trail at Gallimore School should be most popular.

Democrats Name Campaign Head

Bill Borrusch, Chairman of the League of Westland Democratic Voters, has been appointed campaign coordinator for the Democrat Party in the Nov. 7 general election.

Aiding Borrusch will be Russ Tuttle, publicity; Art Witala, Fred Bibber, and Ben DeHart, poll coverage; Bob Eisiminger and Ken Murray, literature distribution; John Markes, precinct delegates; and Phil McKinney, finances.

Borrusch explained that this campaign will be a joint effort with the League, the Westland Young Democrats, and the Precinct Delegates working together.

Congressman Bill Ford, State Senator Bill Faust, and State

Representatives Jim Tierney, Dick Young, and Vince Pettipiece have pledged their full support to the campaign.

Borrusch also stressed the need for a serious approach to the election.

"We recognize that we face formidable opposition and that we are in for a difficult battle. Consequently, we will run a strong hard-hitting campaign in which the keynote will be Democrat unity."

Board, Parents Study Franklin Plan

The "Franklin Plan", a realistic, computer-age curriculum innovation to improve teaching and learning by making the students' class schedules more flexible and the course work more challenging, was reviewed by the Livonia Board of Education Monday evening.

More than 300 parents and visitors recently heard an explanation of the forward-looking plan at Franklin High School. Franklin serves 10th, 11th, and 12th graders living in southeastern sections of Livonia and the northern neighborhoods of Westland.

Principal David Amerman, in introducing the demonstration program, pointed out that the Franklin Plan "tries to put into practice some of the ideas we know will help individual students develop the best of their potential."

Amerman revealed that some 60 per cent of the Franklin course offerings were being taught with some degree of the flexible modular system and that almost all students have some involvement with the new methods.

Following a color slide presentation and group discussions involving staff and students, the visitors were invited to ask questions. Amerman fielded more than a hundred questions to a panel consisting of administrators, teachers, and students.

THE QUESTIONS, which occasionally reflected the concerns of parents on the degree of individual responsibility that their sons and daughters must assume under the system, covered all phases of the modular scheduling innovation. Among the basic questions answered were such simple ones as "What are modules?"

The answer goes like this: "After a year of study and another year of trial, Franklin has divided the school day into 15-minute segments. There are 27 of these in a school day. The first 15-minute segment is devoted to homeroom. Attendance, announcements and other administrative matters are taken care of during this time.

"Combinations of modules allow for the appropriate assignment of time for a specific subject. For example, the home economics department needed longer periods of time for students to sew. Lectures need shorter blocks of time."

"Why are some classes so large?"

"Large group instruction is offered to save teachers time. Students in a particular subject are brought together in a combined group of about 150 students for lecture and testing purposes."

"Instead of delivering the same lecture five times, the teacher does it only once. An audio-tape of the lecture as well as duplicate audio-visual materials are stored in the communications lab for later use by absent students or for reference."

"The time saved is reinvested in small groups, individual conferences and preparation for teaching."

"Why do you have small group discussions?"

"When five or six students get together it allows each to become involved in learning. Small groups meet to discuss specific problems or topics with each other and the teachers."

Parents, Faculty To Meet

The first parent-teacher conferences of the new school year in the Wayne Community School District, which includes most of Westland, will be held during three days next week.

The event gives the parents of 13,000 elementary school pupils and 7,000 junior and senior high students an opportunity to have personal conferences with teachers.

The conferences will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, Oct. 24, 25, and 26.

Next Tuesday, elementary teachers will meet with parents in the morning with junior high faculty members scheduled for the afternoon.

This schedule will continue the next two days with Wayne Memorial High and John Glenn High students' parents to meet with teachers in the afternoon and evening of Oct. 26.

Detailed information may be obtained from the building principal or from students.

Zolton Ferency Criticizes 'Slick' Election Campaigns

Zolton A. Ferency, Democratic State Chairman, blamed "slick advertising campaign techniques as used by today's office seekers" as the primary cause of voter apathy towards political parties in an address before the Plymouth Jaycees last week.

He said that today in Michigan there are more people who call themselves independents than there are Democrats.

"A candidate is now merchandised like a bar of soap, to the point that everything he says and does is aimed at the middle of the road," said Ferency. "Some ad agencies, for the right price, will now guarantee a victory for anyone who meets certain minimum standards."

The only recent Presidential candidate who stood by the courage of his own convictions and took issue with what he considered important was Barry Goldwater, Ferency told the Jaycees.

"Today we don't really debate issues that differentiate the Republicans from the Democrats, since their candidates are not that far apart in their views," said Ferency.

Ferency declared that only political parties provide the necessary leadership for making changes in government and that people such as the Jaycees must make this type of campaigning unprofitable if it is to change.

"Half the battle will be won when Americans are made aware as to what has happened to them," he said. "If it continues, every Jaycee in Plymouth would be eligible for an elected office if turned over to an ad agency and given enough money."

On other matters Ferency had these things to say:

"The Democratic Party in Michigan has been as responsible as anyone in bringing Republicans into more progressive stands.

"It may come to be that Governor Romney will lose the chance for the Presidency because he didn't support Goldwater."

"The logical candidates for the next state office terms are William Milliken for Republican gubernatorial candidate and George Romney for the U.S. Senate."

"The Democrats will probably choose either Jerry Cavanaugh or Frank Kelley, but not both, since there is only room for one Irish Catholic on the ticket."

Lord Mayor Extends Greetings

During the past month Miss Shirley Sincok, sister of Fred Sincok, visited England and called on the Lord Mayor, Frank Chapman in his official government parlour.

The Lord Mayor of Plymouth, England, has not forgotten the great time shown by him and his group during the Centennial.

The visit was the result of a personal invitation extended during the Centennial and Miss Sincok says she was given a grand welcome.

"The Lord Mayor again extended his personal greetings to the people of Plymouth," she stated, "and told me that he never would forget the hospitality shown him."

The four commemorative trees presented by the people of Plymouth, Michigan, will be planted during the first week in November, she was told.

Water Waves Hold Tryouts

Tryouts for membership in the Plymouth High School Water Waves Club will be held at 3:00 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 18, in the school pool, it has been announced.

Girls will be judged on their ability to perform 13 separate swimming stunts and as soon as membership is completed the club will start preparation for its annual spring show. Officers of the Water Waves include Faye Humphries, president; Karen Shultz, vice-president, and Cathie Baxter, secretary-treasurer.

Jr. League Registrations Saturday

The fourth season of the Plymouth Community Junior Basketball program will start Saturday with registration from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in Junior High West.

Additional registrations will be held from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 28, and 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 4 at West Junior.

The 1964-65 season with 140 youngsters taking part. Last year, about 330 boys between eight and 15 years of age were active.

The estimates for the current season are placed at nearly 400.

The registration fee is $5.50 for each boy but no boy will be refused the chance to play for lack of funds.

A number of sponsors are available to take care of the registration fees for boys where funds are lacking. A parent or guardian must accompany each youngster at registration time, program spokesman said. To qualify for the program, a boy must be eight years old before March 1, 1968, and not be 16 before that same date. Generally, 8-10 year olds make up the Class B league; 10-12 in Class A, and 13-15 in Class AA.

EVERY BOY plays at least one quarter of each game and tryouts and team formation will be finalized on Saturday, Nov. 11 at West Junior High School. The schedule starts Dec. 2 and will be concluded in mid-March.

There are more than 50 coaches in the basketball program but more are still needed. Interested persons may contact John Van Wagoner at 453-8023.

RICHMOND, Ind. -- Plymouth High graduate John Bates is a key man for the Earlham College cross country team this fall. John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Bates, 46701 Betty Hill, was one of the Quakers' top five last season and is currently ranked 15th among the all-time harriers.

As a junior, two-letterman Bates stands a good chance of improving his 21:36 time on the four-mile course set in 1966. The Earlham team finished second in Hoosier College Conference standings last year with 54 points.

Silent Film Organs Wheezing Back To Life

Tuesday, October 24, beginning at 8 p.m., ticket holders will be able to witness theatre organ accompaniment of a famous silent film of 1920, "The Mark of Zorro."

The distinguished television, radio, recording and touring theatre organist Gaylord Carter will provide the pipe organ effects for Douglas Fairbanks' swashbuckling screen heroics.

PRECEDING the full-length silent film classic, Carter will present specially arranged selections on the Redford theatre organ a three-key-board, multi-stop, ten-rank Barton fully restored by the Motor City chapter of American Theatre Organ Enthusiasts.

The Redford Theatre has one of the few Detroit Area pipe organs capable of full range accompaniment, and is the only one now available for public performances, according to Albert T. Mason of Livonia, chapter president.

His group of Enthusiasts restored the Redford Theatre organ, sponsor the Friday night intermission interludes and is sponsoring Carter's "The Mark of Zorro" appearance.

Tickets are available at J.L. Hudson's stores, the box office or by mail from Chapter ticket chairman Harry Bunnell, 16842 Ferguson, Detroit.

It is the intent of the Theatre Organ Enthusiasts that performances such as these will help preserve and promote the art of the Theatre Organ music. "We think that the unit orchestra is the most important instrument there is," said Mason. "It can play everything from horses hooves on up."

THE THEATRE ORGAN is so important to insurance salesman Mason's life that although he cannot play a single tune he has installed one in his home. In fact, he built his home in Livonia around it.

His wife plays it, records the sounds on a built-in tape recorder and helps with club activities. Together they and the nearly 350 other Theatre Organ Enthusiasts in the Detroit area have restored, rescued and performed on dozens in the country.

To accommodate their pipe organ at home, with its 768 pipes ranging from needle size to sixteen-feet long and 10 inches across, the builder's plans were altered to allow two 30 by 30-foot sub-basement rooms to one side of their house-depth family room.

Here the pipes in lead and tin, brass, chrome and wood march neatly in place interspersed by drums, claxxon and vibras. In the L-shaped utility room around the noise-dampened pipe chambers Mason has shoehorned in the necessary air pressure chamber and electrical relay boards.

Their three manual (three keyboard) playing console centers in the family room, which opens at one end onto a sunken patio and on the other into Mason's workshop and recording studio.

BESIDE THE THEATRE organ console sits a player piano, which will soon be wired into the organ console for playing on the latter's keyboard. The piano keys will move just the same as they do when a role is playing it, says Mrs. Mason. It's been done before and they know they can do it again.

Mrs. Mason and her friendly compatriot enthusiast have replaced every single miniature bellows in the console which attach to the flip stops and start the chain reaction that alters its tones so remarkably.

Mason and his men friends have designed the pipe chambers, mounted, tuned and dressed up the ten ranks of pipes.

A rank, he explained, is a series of pipes containing a full range of high and low notes of a single pitch. Each rank is named and roughly corresponds to a particular orchestral instrument.

His and the Redford Theatre's organ are ten-rank varieties. The largest range known to exist in this country is a 54-rank organ in Radio City Music Hall, New York City. Many 10, 12 and 17-rank organs are used in performances elsewhere in the country.

REDFORD'S ORGAN is believed to be the furthest one out from Detroit.

It was installed in 1928, a banner year and one of the last of the heydays for the versatile instruments, according to Mason.

They were thriving from 1916 to 1929. The advent of talking movies, the depression and then musician's union rules requiring standby orchestras wherever they were used led to their demise.

Luckily, Mason noted, many of the old masters are still around. "We want to provide them an opportunity to educate the modern public in what they'll do and teach youngsters how to play."

Detroit's Don Miller, now 71, is considered one of the most outstanding in the theatre field. It was at one of his performances that power gave out in mid-movie. And the audience never noticed, so expertly had he been able to wrap their emotions into the movie's action.

Dave Brewer, Dearborn, and Dave Voydanoff, Royal Oak, have 3-13 organs in their homes. Brewer is considered an outstanding organ technician and helped Mason extensively with his installation. Voyanoff took charge of the Redford Theatre restoration project.

STAN ALBERTSON of Burton Hollow, Livonia, is another close by who has a 3-8 in his home. Bill Hayes, Rochester has a 2-8.

Other Motor City Chapter Enthusiasts include Don Lockwood, Highland Park artist, chapter secretary and poster maker; Holly Prim, treasurer; Carl Schister of Redford and Don Wigent—a blind piano tuner who has crawled unassisted in the pipe lofts of the Redford Theatre to help with restoration.

DPW News And Notes

by Supt. Ken Vogras
Plymouth Public Works Dept.

Flower beds were cleaned and general clean up was done throughout the week. There was one funeral service held at Riverside Cemetery. Mowing was done at the City Hall, and clean up work in the city parks in preparation for the fall season.

Sweeping was done in the Northwest Area and major streets as well were swept from Ann Arbor Trail to M-14 and Main to Sheldon Road. Baricades were picked up that were used during the time that seal coating was being done.

The Plymouth Community Fund Torch was assembled and erected in Kellogg Park and the band shell was taken from the Department of Public Works Yard to Kellogg Park and set up for the opening of the drive and then taken back to the D.P.W. Yard.

Wood from city trees that had been cut down was picked up from the street. Various repair had been done on street signs and traffic signs. Graveling of the streets was done where it was needed.

The leaf pickup program got under way last week. Work was started in the northwest part of the city and when the streets have been completely cleaned they will be covered again until such time that all leaves have been picked up or the weather prohibits. There will be no set schedule.

Work was completed on the storm sewer in the alley between Sunset and Sheldon Road at Junction. Also, work was continued on the storm sewer installed for the new city garage.

Two houses were dye tested to ascertain whether they were completely connected to the sanitary sewer. The sanitary sewer was bucketed out on Spring Street from Starkweather to Davis.

One 3/4" water tap was installed during the week.

4 Rich Stakes Remain On DRC Program

Four stakes, with an added value of $75,000, remain to be contested at the Detroit Race Course as the Livonia track moves into the final three weeks of its 84-day meeting.

The first of the stakes on the late-season schedule is The Beau Prince, on Saturday, with an added value of $20,000. It is for three-year-olds at a mile and one-sixteenth.

The Sweepstakes Handicap on Oct. 28 is for three-year-olds and up at a mile and a sixteenth with a purse of $15,000.

Then on closing day, Saturday, Nov. 4, the Auld Lang Syne Handicap carries a purse of $25,000 added. It is for three-year-olds and up at a mile and an eighth. The Finale Stakes is a two-year-old offering with a purse of $15,000 added at a mile and one-sixteenth.

The Beau Prince is named for the great Calumet Farm star, who won the 1962 Michigan Mile.

AS THE DRC meeting moved into its final stages, the exclusive DRC Century Club had a new member. The club is composed of riders who have won 100 or more races during a meeting.

Only three times in the 19-year history of the track has the feat been accomplished.

Johnny Sellers turned the trick back in 1957 and used it as a springboard to national fame. Later Sellers moved into the top circle of riders and captured the United States riding championship in 1961 when he had 328 winners.

Bob Gallimore topped Seller's DRC mark in 1966 when he piloted 116 winners. That record appeared likely to stand for a long time.

NOW, 25-YEAR-OLD David Whited has joined the club with over 100 victories and has an excellent opportunity to top Gallimore's mark with room to spare.

It is an oddity that Whited has been helped toward the record by the decision of Gallimore to quit riding during the final four months of the season.

When Gallimore left the DRC in early September to go to his farm in Arkansas for a long rest, Whited fell heir to many of his mounts.

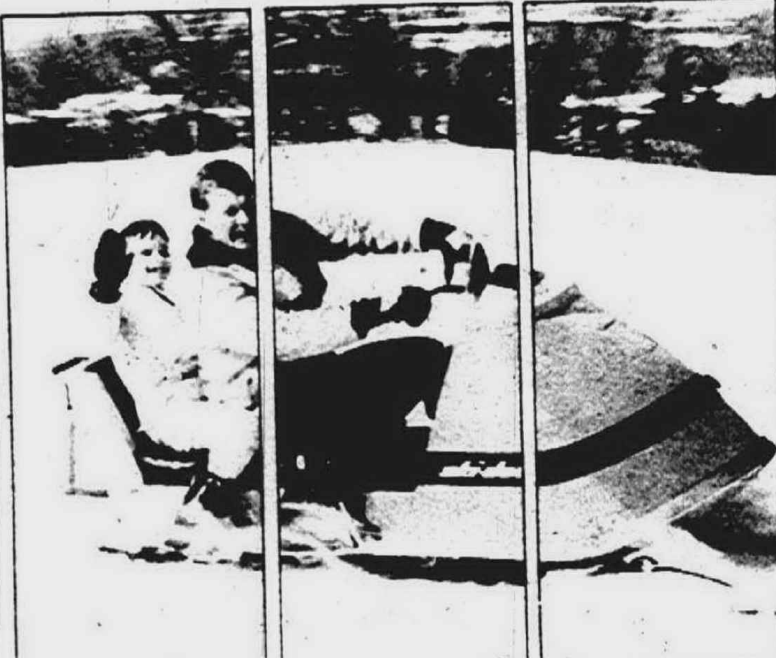

While Whited has made a run-away of the race, the battle for trainer's honors remains a tight duel between Dewey Smith, who handles the Grissom stable, and Jack Van Berg, who conditions the large string of his father, M.H. Van Berg.

The Van Berg Stable is the DRC's leading money-winning outfit. Through 65 days of racing, Van Berg horses had earned $134,469, for a comfortable margin over the runnerup Grissom outfit, with $121,568.

STRATE STUFF, part of a three-horse entry from the Verna Lea Farms of Gene Goff, won his second straight stakes by capturing the $20,000 added Graduation Stakes Saturday.

Strate Stuff, ridden by Jockey William Fleming, came from far back in the early running to collar the previously unbeaten Mial Spencer midway through the stretch and then moved away to win by a length and three-quarters. Strate Stuff's stablemate, No Double, was third.

A week ago, Strate Stuff captured the Hawthorne Juvenile Stake at Chicago.

Nothing Matches Colors Of Michigan's Indian Summer

By W. W. Edgar

Michigan in Autumn is a sight to behold!

History tells us that the explorers who discovered the state several centuries ago were attracted by the sheer beauty of the two peninsulas jutting out into the vast bodies of fresh water we now know as the Great Lakes.

One needn't travel far to confirm the beauty that lured our forebears and within a few short hours from the metropolitan area one can almost become lost in the brilliance of the autumn colors.

When the frost has turned the autumn leaves to gold, as one song writer so aptly put it, Michigan becomes a jewel with beauty unmatched in any other state. One doesn't have to go a great distance to see deer prancing about on these golden autumn afternoons and nothing is more beautiful than the stage when Mother Nature puts on her fall show in this state of thousands of lakes.

FOR YEARS the natives of Ireland have been singing and chanting the old refrain that "A little bit of heaven fell from out the sky one day--and they called it Ireland". Maybe so. But chances are that those who so fervently sing the praises of the emerald isle have never seen Michigan in the Autumn.

From one end to the other, over hill and dale, these two peninsulas boast beauty at every turn and a variety that would please the most demanding. Like the barker on the midway at the fair shouted, "There is something for everybody".

To confirm again what we always had been told, the Edgars spent the better part of the past two weeks in the role of gypsies moving around the state to drink in the beauty of a Michigan autumn.

Down through Hines Parkway--a thing of beauty at any time--we started and the masterful tinting of the leaves in the morning sun was the first incentive to move on and on.

CAREFULLY disregarding the expressways, we traveled the "Old U.S. 12" and within a short time we were entering the Irish Hills.

There was no River Shannon flowing and we couldn't find the Lakes of Killarney, or Galway Bay. But the hills and dales, with the myriad of color, were a sight to behold. While many claim the most beautiful sight in the world is the view of Shannon in the early morning sun as the plane descends for a landing and a tour of the Emerald Isles, the Irish would be pleased with what they saw on the road through Clinton and over to Jonesville in Michigan.

Sticking to the back roads we found Nature at her best and in the colorful dress it seemed almost like a magic carpet we traveled until late in the afternoon we passed through Coldwater, Three Rivers and headed a bit north to Holland--and a surprise.

It never had been our privilege to be in the tulip country before. It seemed like a bit of The Netherlands had dropped out of the sky as we watched the pretty maidens in their "Dutch" dresses, walking the avenues and even doing the "wooden shoe" dance.

Color ran rampant in Holland. Not only was Mother Nature toggled out in her finery, but the Holland Dutch take keen delight in their ability to raise flowers and there were bright blooms everywhere.

To add to the picture was the sight of the famed windmill that was brought over from The Netherlands several years ago and enshrined on an island in the park to lend authenticity to the Dutch motif of the community.

ONE WAS STRUCK by the cleanliness of the entire community along with the beauty of the landscape and the flower beds, especially at Windmill Point and the Little Dutch Village on the highway.

The entire setting gave one the impression of being in another country.

From Holland we headed north to Traverse City and the beauty along the way was almost breathtaking. Jack Frost was doing a fine job of helping with Mother Nature's fall dress and the sight of the colored leaves in the wooded areas amid the stately evergreens was a picture no artist could paint.

Mile after mile we traveled, just marveling at the color that ran the gamut from the tall, stately evergreens to the yellows and the gold and red and brown. Then, out of this, to the sight of Grand Traverse Bay. What a setting!

The myriad of color on one side and the jewel-like bay on the other. It was a sight that would satisfy even the coldest cynic.

We headed for Sutton's Bay on the west shore of the big Bay where, we had been told, beauty is at its best. And we weren't led astray.

WHAT A PLEASANT journey over the winding highway, with the bay on one side and hills or mountains rising on the other, with here and there, the white steeple of a church shining in the morning sun.

We were especially interested in Sutton's Bay for several folks from the Plymouth area whom we know, are planning to live there. Among them are Jim and Martha Ryder of Joy Road who have rehabilitated an old home just off the highway. Jim and Martha have been friends of long standing and we were eager to see the site they chose for retirement. It is a spot in the valley with hills both front and back that glowed with colored sumac and made quite a picture.

Further up the road we came to Northport. This is a colorful wooded area in the center of which Max Bowen, retired industrialist and former President of the Livonia Board of Education, is establishing a new pattern of trailer parks. It is an interesting pattern with the area being designed in circles with a stipulated number of trailers in each.

It is an unusual flgment of the imagination. But it is proving to be a success for those who like to live close to Nature in the woods.

Returning, we circled the Bay and headed for Charlevoix and Petoskey--two of the finest resort areas in the western part of the state, if not in all of Michigan.

THE WINDING ROADS, the numerous rock formations, and the sight of the sail boats on the lakes all combined to paint a picture one could never forget. And all along the way was the beautiful coloring of the leaves in Mother Nature's Autumn dress to offer a rich contrast to the calm blue waters of the bay.

It was a sight that will live on and on.

Leaving the Lake and bay to our backs we headed inland through the forest areas to Gaylord, Grayling and Houghton Lake. And what scenery!

Through the thick of the forests we drove, piercing a myriad of color, with here and there the sight of a deer, some stood as statues. Others were prancing and their white tails bobbing along through the thickets.

They seemed to be having a great time, too. Well they might. For in another month they'll be the target of thousands of hunters and many of them will wind up being nothing but a mounted head in somebody's den or on the back bar in a wayside saloon.

But on the day we saw them, they were a thing of beauty in the shadows of a golden autumn afternoon.

NOTHING IS MORE colorful at this time of year than a trip through the forests and the winding roads in Michigan's north country lend a hand in perfecting the beauty. It is at the end of this road, on the northward journey, that one comes to the Straits of Mackinac and the famed Mackinac Island with its Grand Hotel.

It is from the 900 foot porch of this hotel--the longest porch in the world--that one gets what, to me, has always been the most beautiful sight of all.

FROM HERE, one crosses the straights, heads for Highway 27--the white ribbon of concrete that cuts through the center of the state--and the homeward journey. Even the white ribbon of concrete provides a picture as it cuts through the hills and dales of color. From Highway 27 we branch to U.S. 23 and then M-96 and home.

But there is one more breathtaking glimpse of color. It is the sight of Kensington Park, its colorful wooded areas and Lake.

What a finish to a great trip!

One is inclined to agree with the man who wrote: "Michigan--My Michigan". Coming from a native of Pennsylvania, that's tops.

Tight Code Governs Radio, TV

By Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

The Congress, under the commerce clause of the Constitution, has pre-empted state regulation of radio and television broadcasts. However, the paramount importance of these media to the public interest causes me to include a discussion of certain aspects of the federal law in this series.

The Communications Act of 1934 is the basic law regulating broadcasting in this country. The law recognizes that present day scientific development dictates limiting the number of broadcasting stations and is based on the principle that radio and television should be maintained as media of speech for the general public rather than outlets for the views of a few.

THE FEDERAL Communications Commission is charged with administering this law. In doing so, it has evolved the "fairness doctrine" which may be likened to the proverbial sword of Damocles in that it imposes a double-edged obligation on licensees.

First, a licensee must devote a reasonable portion of its broadcast day to the discussion and consideration of controversial issues of public importance, and second, in doing so it must be fair.

While a broadcaster does have a right to make a profit from his operation, he must do so within the framework of the fairness doctrine.

The Commission has not established precise rules as to what constitutes fairness, but rather resorts to a test of reasonableness. It is clear from prior decisions of the Commission that the doctrine precludes the biased reporting of news or the monopolization of an assigned frequency by an extremist group.

THE COMMISSION has, however, established certain specific procedures which a licensee must follow if an "attack is made upon the honesty, character, integrity or like personal qualities of an identified person or group" during the presentation of controversial public issues on his station.

This includes attacks made by persons taking advantage of call-in shows. It does not apply to an attack made by one candidate for public office during a campaign against another. The right of the other candidate to an opportunity to answer the charge is covered under the "equal opportunity doctrine."

Under the "fairness doctrine" whenever a personal attack is made, the licensee is obligated to notify the person or group attacked within a reasonable time and in no event later than one week after the attack (a script or tape and if not available, an accurate written summary), and offer a reasonable opportunity for a response over his facilities.

The person or group attacked is not obligated to pay for the time used to reply, that is the station's problem.

THE PUBLIC HAS the right to balanced programming on all radio and television stations. Inasmuch as the Commission does not have sufficient manpower to monitor all programs, enforcement is largely dependent upon the public.

If a station fails to meet its obligations, notify the Commission in writing and seek out other interested individuals or community groups to join you in making such complaints.

Auto Permit Restrictions Set Record

LANSING—While hearings held by driver improvement personnel of the Michigan Department of State showed a decided drop from last year's record totals through the first two thirds of 1967, license re-restricting actions were at an all-time high.

Secretary of State James M. Hare reports that through August, nearly 34,000 actions involving cancellations, revocations, suspensions, denials, referrals to county driver safety schools, and restrictions were recorded. This is more than 2,000 over last year and nearly 12,000 more than 1965.

UNRA Backs Laws To End Mail Frauds

Support of federal legislation designed to curb use of the mails in the fraudulent sale of land was expressed this week by Richard S. Elsea, president of the United Northwestern Realty Association - Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors. A bill now before the Senate (S.274) would authorize the Post Office Department to stop the use of the mails upon evidence of a misrepresentation of a material fact in advertising the sale of land or any other commodity. It has the endorsement of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

THE PROPOSED MEASURE would make the intent of the person issuing a deceptive statement irrelevant to the enforcement of law. Currently, intent to defraud on the part of an advertiser must be proved before the Post Office can act.

According to Elsea, NAREB's interest in the bill stems from its long-standing concern with the problems of fraudulent land sales by mail.

"Fraudulent land sales not only reflect on the real estate profession as a whole, but are a violation of two articles of our Association's Code of Ethics." Elsea pointed out that the Realtors' Code of Ethics declares, "It is the duty of the Realtor to protect the public against fraud, misrepresentation, or unethical practices in the real estate field."

"He should endeavor to eliminate in his community any practices which could be damaging to the public or to the dignity and integrity of the real estate profession."

City, Schools Meet On Common Problems

Livonia's city and school officials are going to get together to talk over, and hopefully solve, some of their common problems.

An agenda was set up at a preliminary meeting held in the Office of Mayor Harvey W. Moelke and attended by city department heads and School Supt. Benton Yates and top members of his staff.

Date of the meeting, or series of sessions, has not been set.

A JOINT statement issued by the mayor and the superintendent, said that "the Livonia School District and the City of Livonia have been working together to provide the best possible service at the least possible cost to the taxpayers of the community."

"Many city functions and school responsibilities require the continued liaison necessary to provide answers to difficult and pressing problems facing both governmental units. "Locations of schools and parks, streets, roads and sidewalks improvements and storm drainage affect the schools just as they affect individual property owners."

The following agenda was arrived at to try to acquaint City and school personnel with problems which require joint action.

SCHOOL SITE PROBLEMS
Section 9: Discuss the location of a new junior high school site near the Marshall Elementary and Stevenson High Schools on property owned by the city and the district. The joint school-park complex will serve a two to three square mile area of Livonia.

Aluminum Base Paint Adds Life To Worn Spots

Summer time is touch-up time — the time to brighten weather-worn surfaces with a fresh face of paint. And, the key to a long lasting coating is matching the right paint with the right surface.

Many improved modern paints, including hard enamels and rubberized coatings, are available today, and one of the most versatile is the family of aluminum paints.

ALUMINUM PAINT, widely valued for industrial and architectural applications for years, is also excellent for many home uses.

A coating of aluminum paint actually consists of layers of tiny aluminum flakes overlapping one another to provide a continuous metal barrier to moisture, heat and air. That's why it protects other metals from rusting and helps keep weather-exposed wood from warping and rotting.

Matching of aluminum paints to various surfaces is easy to do because aluminum paint is generally sold in three basic types, according to The Aluminum Association.

Shallow cabinets built under windows yield superb space for things like wrapping paper, cameras, photo albums.

BROWSE AROUND is the invitation of the management of The Hearthside Inc. furniture store, 15700 Middlebelt Road in Livonia. The new store is holding a grand opening celebration with a complete display of the famous Ethan Allen furniture.

The Hearthside Offers New Furniture Concept

With a new concept in the display and sales of furniture, The Hearthside Inc., located at 15700 Middle Belt Road in Livonia between Five and Six Mile Roads, has opened its doors for business under the management of Walter Emig. Emig, a Dearborn resident for the past 21 years, has long been active in the retail furniture business and most recently held an executive position with one of Metropolitan Detroit's largest furniture chains.

The Hearthside Inc. is a branch of the Baumritter Corporation of New York which manufactures the well-known and popular Ethan Allen Brand.

With Emig on the management team of the new facility is Miss Nora Cook, who has had 12 years experience in one of the areas leading stores. She is recognized by leading manufacturers as one of the most talented lamp and accessory buyers with a special talent for interior design.

The philosophy of the Baumritter Corp. is that the day of the retail furniture merchant being recognized as a fast talking, high pressure salesman whose only interest is a come-on ad, designed to sell any type of merchandise which provides a profit at high rates of interest, must come to an end.

In order to replace these individuals, it was necessary to design an entire program based on principles, ideas and understanding of the modern woman's needs. To do this, the first requirement was the need of an honest and complete merchandise program designed to allow the average American to select attractive and durable home furnishings in surroundings and at a price where decisions could be made easily.

So, approximately 25 years ago, they brought forth the Ethan Allen American traditional style of furniture. In order to provide a truly open stock program, it was necessary to select hard woods of constant quality and wood character and to stain them in such a way as to eliminate the drastic change in color predominant in so many makes of furniture.

Had you bought one of these groupings 20 years ago, the company would still be able to provide pieces which reasonably match today.

Approximately 700 of these showcase stores have been programmed, many of them now complete, many still under construction. In conjunction with this, there are established retailers in Canada, France, England and other European countries who could and would be happy to service the consumer's needs.

Over a period of years, the Ethan Allen trademark has stood for style variation in that it contains completely correlated groups of warm, casual, rugged solid pine, formal solid cherry with its active grain, stylish and sophisticated mahogany and a very large collection of Early American solid maple and/or birch in a glowing nutmeg finish.

The entire selection today, consists of over 6,000 individually designer chosen pieces. Each piece designed to provide appearance, functionality with a minimum of care and protection. Many of the pieces provide a quality design look while providing wood grain like plastic tops for worry free family use.

The Hearthside, located at 15700 Middle Belt has been carefully planned and designed.

It will provide for Livonians the largest, most complete, American Traditional home furnishings specialty store in the city.

Need Clothes Dryer? Possible To Rent One

Winter is on the way, complete with snow, ice and wind. They might make skiing fun, but have you ever really enjoyed standing knee-deep in snow while you hang your clothes to dry on the backyard line?

A CLOTHES DRYER can solve your laundry problem throughout the winter — and in all seasons, if you like. If the boss of the budget says "Nay!" to buying a dryer, consider renting one this winter on a trial basis.

Many Maytag dealers throughout the country will be happy to install a dryer in your home. Use it for a period of time. Most merchants will apply part of the rental fee toward the appliance's purchase.

If you're not happy with the dryer, the dealer will take it back. But chances are when spring rolls around, you'll be wondering how you ever got along without a dryer before.

YOU WILL HAVE found it's especially useful for permanent press garments. (Who likes to iron?) It helps make other clothes more fluffy and easier to iron.

It protects your clothes from falling snow, rain, damaging winds, sun-fading and rowdy little children. It has saved you the work and time of hanging up clothes in the backyard, running to check if they are dry and laboriously taking them down from the line.

And think of the pin money you'll save in clothespins.

Glenn Gridders Roll On

Three straight league victories and a share of the lead has the students down John Glenn way bubbling over the school's varsity football team.

Overall, Glenn has a 4-1 mark....but it's the three wins in the Northwest Suburban League that has turned the school agog.

What a turnaround in just one year. In 1966, Glenn finished 1-4 in the loop and after three games stood 0-3.

"But the road ahead for us really gets tough now," said Coach Bob Lusk after Glenn squeezed past Thurston, 20-18, Friday.

"First we have to meet North Farmington, (tied with Glenn for first) and then Franklin," added the coach. "They're both rough. Very rough."

THE SCORE against Thurston didn't tell the true story of the game. Glenn actually enjoyed a much wider command, since at one stage Glenn led 20-6 and Thurston's final touchdown resulted from a recovered fumble in the closing moments of play.

Glenn went ahead early on a 60-yard drive which saw Chuck Morris, Steve Paschke and Bob Russ lug the ball to the Thurston nine from where Tim Wozny pegged the remaining distance to Dennis Malaney.

Paschke's first of two conversions proved to be the deciding items by the time the afternoon was over.

Moments later, Russ intercepted a Thurston pass and carried it to the Thurston 40. More running by Morris and Paschke brought the ball to the four from where Wozny went over.

A SPECTACULAR 65-yard pass from Dave Mineau to Bob Bryant with 35 seconds left in the half put Thurston on the scoreboard for the first time.

But Glenn wasted no time after a scoreless third period to register its payoff touchdown.

This time Glenn started from its own 25. Again moving, on the ground, Glenn pushed up to the Thurston 25.

Then Wozny dropped back, heaved to Malaney for 25 yards and Paschke wrapped it up with another conversion.

Thurston, however, didn't drop dead.

Mineau again found Bryant on another spectacular pass for 55 yards and Thurston had its second touchdown.

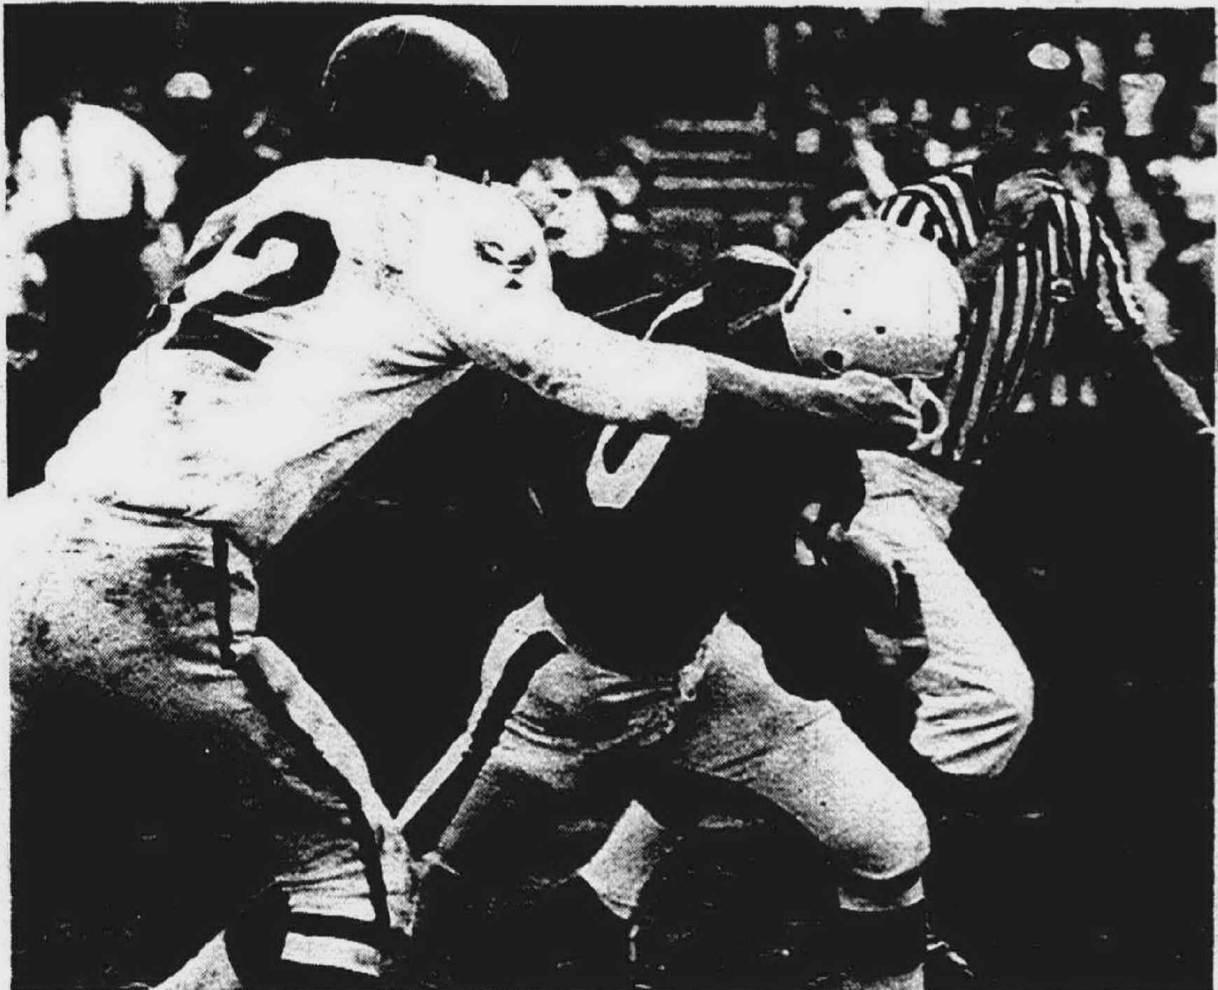

THE KICKOFF then went to the Glenn five. But a fumble promptly gave the ball to Thurston and in two plays it was Jerry Shaffer slamming over from the two to end the game's scoring.

Coach Lusk of Glenn called the victory "strictly a team effort."

But he was quick to single out the individual work of Wozny who figured in all three touchdowns.

It was Wozny who the week before directed a 91-yard pay-off comeback and the week before that heaved two scoring passes.

"Show me a better all-around quarterback in the league," Lusk said.

SCORING FOR GLENN in the 20-18 victory over Thurston High is Quarterback Tim Wozny who breaks loose from Halfback Craig Mutch.

Schoolcraft Blows Lead

Schoolcraft College's soccer team couldn't stand prosperity Saturday.

After leading, 3-1, Schoolcraft weakened in the second half to wind up in a 3-3 tie with Windsor. The tie was the second for Schoolcraft this season. The team has won three and lost one.

Joop Doorn accounted for two of the Schoolcraft goals and Dan Robinson the other. Sam Saad had two scores for Windsor.

Schoolcraft meets the Michigan State freshmen Friday and then visits Oakland University Saturday.

N. Farmington Power Crushes Franklin High

It was tabbed as the "game-of-the-year" in the Northwest Suburban League.

Franklin vs. North Farmington with the winner a clinch, they said, to roll on to the championship. The experts also figured it would be a ding-dong struggle.

It didn't turn out that way Saturday morning.

North Farmington turned loose one of the most explosive assaults a prep team has in the state this season and wound up a 45-12 winner.

By George Maskin

observing sports

YOU HEAR IT said so often in sports—there's never any telling what's going to happen.

Like the Boston Red Sox, 100-1 shots going into the 1967 season, winning the American League pennant. And, how many of the experts put their dough on the St. Louis Cards to run away with the flag in the National loop?

Who'd have thought that the Spartans of Michigan State would tumble in their first two games or that Notre Dame wouldn't be unbeaten at this stage of the season?

Closer to home, consider the football achievements of Stevenson and John Glenn High.

This is Stevenson's first year with a 12th grader on its varsity. The feelings around the Interlakes League were that Stevenson would flounder around—finish maybe fourth or fifth.

But the Livonians are locked in a heated battle for the crown and by the looks of things could finish no worse than second.

And take a gander at John Glenn. Remember their record in the Northwest Suburban League last year?

Well, they lost four in a row before finally winning.

Today they stand 3-0 with two big ones left against North Farmington and Franklin. Maybe Glenn will be biting off too much in these encounters.

But, the gang from around Wayne already is assured its best finish in the league. Refreshing to say the least.

MOST OF US always are pulling for the underdog. It's the natural thing to do.

Which is why most baseball fans, exclusive of those in Detroit, Minnesota and Chicago, strung along with the Boston Red Sox.

Teams which perform the impossible excite us. Or, at least we think it's the impossible.

The truth is that in most leagues—be it professional, college or high school—there isn't that much, ability speaking, which separates the various teams.

On any given day, the so-called worst team can knock off the best. It happens all the time. It's this "you never know aspect" that makes sports what they are.

RU Chances Dwindle In Tie With Trenton

Nobody's happy with a tie, such as the 14-14 standoff Redford Union High played with Trenton Friday night.

"It's like sitting in a show and holding hands with your favorite girl," said coach John Rogers of Redford Union.

The tie still left Trenton unbeaten in Suburban Six League play, but hurt the downriver school's chances for the title because Allen Park rolled to another victory—this one over Bentley.

From RU's standpoint, the deadlock following the previous week's loss to Bentley virtually blasted the Townshippers' chances of winding up in front.

Redford Union played an inspired brand of football against Trenton and had a 14-7 lead going into the final quarter.

"OUR DEFENSE was doing a very excellent job," said Rogers.

Then came the fateful play. Dave Perry, who earlier had barged in from the two for Trenton's first touchdown, started from the RU 33 with the ball. He was hit on the lines of scrimmage and apparently stopped. But he broke away for around six yards.

He was hit again. Once more RU appeared to have him hauled down. But he again regained his footing.

Now there was no stopping him. He went on to score and when Carl Lutz booted his second conversion the score was tied and it stayed that way for the rest of the evening.

IN BETWEEN Perry's two touchdowns, Redford Union had scored on a 52-yard gallop by Bob Planchich in the second quarter and a seven-yard gallop by George Corombas.

Corombas accounted for both of the RU extra points. Trenton had a slight edge in yards gained, piling up a net of 181 to RU's 137. In first downs, it was 8-6 for Trenton.

However, RU enjoyed a slight advantage in the number of plays with 48 to Trenton's 41.

The wet evening curtailed the passing of RU star Bill Fahey. He fired the ball only four times, hitting only once.

RU had a couple of good opportunities after recovering fumbles in the Trenton end, but couldn't cash in.

If every game was a foregone conclusion, why would any of us dig into our pockets and dish out $3 or $5 or $6 to watch a football, baseball, hockey or basketball game?

True, in the long run, the team with the most class generally dominates. But to get there, it seldom enjoys a bed of roses all the way.

SHORT STUFF: Looks like Livonia's Norm Ullman hasn't lost his eye with the Red Wings. He got off to a flying start with a pair of goals against Boston.

The Pistons again are making available their special student rate. For $2 you can pick up a reserved seat—that's a 50 per cent savings—as long as you are in school; from college down to the kindergarten. Those who are in college and high school should present their identity cards.

Parents wishing to purchase adjacent seats to students may do so by paying the regular $2 price.

Early-bird sports fans, wishing to catch up on what happened the night before, now are treated to three new shows each weekday morning on WWJ radio. Al Ackerman jumps aboard at 6:15, 7:15 and 8:15 and we're happy to say we'll have Pistons reports on these shows regularly now that the new NBA season is going.

The hockey-minded players in the areas—and we're not talking about Ullman or Alex Delvecchio, his fellow Livonian on the Wings—sure would appreciate it if steps were taken to erect more new indoor rinks. It's amazing how interest in hockey as a competitive sport has leaped around the Detroit area. The only difficulty is the lack of enough rinks to accommodate all the teams and players.

Trust the various city fathers are listening.

REACHING HIGH in the air to take a pass is Redford Union's Ken Taylor (12) while Trenton's Karl Lutz (10) tries to bat the ball away. The Suburban Six League contest wound up in a 14-14 tie.

Happier Days

They feel better around Garden City East this week. The football team finally boasts its first victory after going down to four straight losses.

A fine defensive showing paved the way for East to beat Robichaud, 6-0. Robichaud now has lost five in a row.

Jim Santi and Mark Shalikes paced the East team on defense in holding Robichaud to a total of 86 yards.

Meantime, Jim Palmer at fullback was the big workhorse

He lugged the ball personally for 126 of the 168 yards his team picked up rushing. He was the major factor in the game's only touchdown drive that moved the ball 57 yards to the three from where John Chute went over on a quarterback sneak.

East had a good chance in the second period, reaching the one-foot line before losing the ball on a fumble. The closest Robichaud got all evening was the East 40.

Last Minute Touchdown Gives Plymouth A Tie

It rained, it poured and it did everything one could expect on Friday the 13th but a scrappy Plymouth High eleven refused to allow the elements to disturb it and came out with an amazing 13-13 tie with Belleville.

Just to send the wet, soggy, disheartened Plymouth crowd home with high spirits, the Rocks waited until the final 54 seconds of play to score on fourth down from a foot out to make the score 13-12.

Then Russ Carlson booted the ball squarely through the uprights for the point that meant the difference between a defeat or a tie.

The rains started well in advance of the kickoff with the result that neither club was able to perform up to its capabilities.

THE ROCKS were ahead in the first period when burly Dave Martin rushed in to block a punt and dropped on the ball on the Belleville two. Capt. Tom Elias bulled through tackle for the touchdown and Plymouth was in front 6-0. Carlson's placement was wide.

Belleville knotted it early in the second quarter when the Plymouth pass defense faltered as it has in so many games this year.

Quarterback Johnny Yocum faded back, took his time and then found end Bill Coffman behind the Plymouth defenders on the five yard line. The long aerial dropped into his arms as he crossed the goal line for the tying touchdown. Mike Stakias rushed in from the side to block the attempted placement.

That was the way the score stood as the teams walked off at the intermission. Plymouth did make a march late in the period and had the ball deep in Belleville territory when Clint Brown intercepted a Mike Cederberg pass on the Belleville 14 and 19 seconds on the clock.

With three minutes remaining in the third quarter, Belleville marched from its 49 to Plymouth four when Yocum hit Dave Clemons for a 20 yard pass.

PLYMOUTH TIGHTENED its defense and yielded only two yards in three thrusts at the line. Then on fourth down, Brown found a hole at right tackle and booted into the end zone for the go-ahead touchdown. Lee Schmidt's placement gave Belleville a 13-6 edge with 11 minutes remaining.

With four minutes to play, the Rocks started their game-tying march, aided by a 15-yard penalty that enabled them to hold possession of the ball in mid-field.

It was fourth down and a pass failed but Belleville was guilty of pushing and Plymouth had a first down in mid-field.

That was the spark needed. Cederberg passed to Dave Hale for nine yards. He hit Elias for a first down on the Belleville 37. Two running plays netted a yard and a pass to Hale was good for four.

It was fourth down again and this time Cederberg kept the ball on a keeper and raced around right end to the Belleville 27 for a first down. From that point it was all Elias. The hard-charging team captain drove to the Belleville five in seven plays. Three more bucks had the ball on the goal line and then he went in.

The rest is now history. The Rocks didn't quite beat the Friday the 13th jinx but they did have a tie and considering the muddy, rainy conditions they accomplished quite a bit.

Parkers Ruin Bentley Dreams

The dream of another Suburban Six League championship has become just -- a dream -- for Bentley High.

A last-period collapse along with a barrage of penalties ruined the Bentley hopes at Allen Park Friday night when the Parkers rallied for a 17-13 victory.

As a result Allen Park has a 3-0 loop record while Bentley has slipped far back to a 1-2 standing with just two loop games remaining.

"The penalties hurt us," said Bentley Coach Larry Joiner.

One of the penalties came on a fourth-down situation when Allen Park was kicking to Bentley. Instead of Bentley getting the ball, the Parkers retained possession and went on to score their first TD, helped by three more penalties.

Then in the late moments of the game, Allen Park clicked via the air to snatch the lead away from Bentley just when it appeared Bentley might have the game all locked up.

IN THE END it was the toe of Bob Curry which decided the game. He booted two extra points and added a 15-yard field goal in the fading seconds.

Bentley had gone in front, 6-0, on an eight-yard run by Bob Casaden, before Allen Park struck back to go ahead on a two-yard run (aided by the penalties) and the first conversion by Curry.

Halfway through the final period, Bentley struck again on a seven-yard scoring pass from Jim Powers to Dan Doyle and a successful Powers' pass for the extra point and now led, 13-7.

Only 6:45 remained in the game.

BUT WITH their backs to the wall, the Parkers went to work and on three straight passes finally tied the score on a 21-yard toss from Ray DeMart to Dan Mazglad.

Just 2:20 remained on the clock when Curry added the extra point that put the Parkers on top, 14-13.

Moments later, the Parkers regained the ball and just six seconds were left when Curry connected on his field goal.

Statistically, Bentley rolled up 180 yards rushing and 48 more in the air for 13 first downs.

Allen Park's work was restricted to 65 yards on the ground, 80 in the air and only five first downs -- three via rushing and two on penalties.

Jack Clark, the winner, was timed in 9:55; runnerup Dave Collins in 9:58 and third placer Bud Hallett in 10:01 -- all under the former Oak Park record.

Steve Perace and John Pelletier were fourth and fifth for the winners.

Attack Jells In Victory

It's hard to blame the defense for the two games St. Agatha high has lost in football this fall.

In five games, the Townshippers have given up only 27 points.

But last Sunday, the inexperienced offense jelled along with the defense and St. Agatha scooped past St. Thomas of Ann Arbor, 18-0.

Dan Sweeney scored two touchdowns, both on passes from Ron Blackmore, and Paul Turpin accounted for the final St. Agatha score.

Sweeney tallied once each in the first two periods.

Esch Sees Big Need For Laws Tightening Campaign Spending

DICK EGLOFF, of Plymouth, is a defensive line-backer with the Arizona State University grid squad this fall. The 6-foot-2, 203-pound senior has played in both Sun Devils games this season.

Charges and countercharges about political campaign finances only serve to highlight the need for a complete overhaul and updating of laws in this area. There is no doubt in my mind that current campaign spending regulations are almost meaningless. Rather than protecting the public trust they encourage dubious practices and are sufficiently vague so as to cloud the activities of a man attempting to operate on an above board basis.

As I testified before the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct earlier this month, the most urgent need is for total disclosure of campaign expenditures.

State and federal reporting procedures are so riddled with loopholes that it is impossible to know the full story on how much was raised from whom and how it was spent. And this is true even when the letter of the law is followed. The public has a right to know these facts and a candidate should welcome the opportunity to make them known.

WE MUST REQUIRE all candidates to file a full accounting of all contributions and expenditures. The same should apply to committees working on behalf of candidates for much of the confusion and contradiction in reporting comes from the many committees contributing to campaigns at all levels.

These full reports should be filed in one central point so that they are readily open for public scrutiny.

On a federal level, a proper authority to receive and maintain these records would be the Comptroller General -- a non-partisan figure not subject to the influence of shifting political majorities.

His staff of accountants and lawyers are trained investigators fully equipped to handle the responsibility of uncovering an illegal or improper activity.

THERE IS ALSO a need to establish a reasonable limit on how much one person may give to any candidate and all of the committees supporting him. Such a provision will go a long way to remove the possibility of undue and improper influence from major contributors since no one figure or group will be able to dominate the funds of any candidate.

The demand for enforceable, effective and equitable campaign finance laws is a problem Congress can no longer ignore. I have urged the committee dealing in this area to develop legislation that will meet these needs and encourage uniform national standards.

In the meantime, I will continue to make a conscientious effort to insure that my own campaign financing is disclosed to the fullest extent.

Plymouth Jaycees Sink Allen Park 26-13

Staging a tremendous fourth quarter comeback, Plymouth High's junior varsity upset Allen Park, 26-13, in a thriller on the PHS athletic field.

The Parkers drew first blood in the opening stanza when they drove 65 yards after recovering a fumble on the Plymouth 35.

The Rocks came roaring back in the second period and Ned Terry knotted the count with a one-yard scoring play. The try for extra point failed and the teams left the field with the score tied at 6-6.

The Parkers took the kickoff to start the second half and marched for a touchdown and converted to move ahead again, 13-6.

It was still that way going into the closing minutes of the quarter when Plymouth quarterback Bruce Yakley wigged through the middle of the line for seven yards and six points. Terry Wagenschutz tied the score with his conversion.

Plymouth went ahead early in the fourth period when Yakley tossed a short pass into the arms of Wagenschutz in the end zone. Terry missed the extra point try and the Rocks led, 19-13.

The insurance score came with four minutes to play and found Wagenschutz scampering the final 32 yards. Tim Oettmeier made the extra point and the Rocks had a 26-13 victory.

which one owns a CREDIT UNION?

Answer: They all do.

Credit unions are made of all kinds of people... housewives, businessmen, stenographers, blue collar workers, teachers... you name it. They OWN the credit union. And their ownership gives them benefits they can find nowhere else.

Take savings, for example: Only in a credit union do all dividends go back to the members, with life insurance as an extra dividend. Borrowers get a break, too, with loans insured at no extra cost, and often a year-end interest refund. These are just a few C.U. advantages. More than 1-1/3 million people in Michigan are now credit union members. Isn't it time YOU joined?

Contact the credit union where you work -- or the one in your parish or neighborhood -- or write Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Detroit, Michigan 48235.

Try This Czech Cooking

By Joyce Totten

Most Americans have eaten "foreign foods" all their lives and not even realized it. The recipe for potato dumplings that Grandmother always fixed for Sunday dinner came over with her from Germany.

And the lasagna that our best friends' mother made so deliciously was straight from Italy.

Cooked in the United States for Americans though, it was thought of as just a meal.

"Foreign foods" mean rare, exotic, hard-to-prepare dishes that took hours in the kitchen.

But, in recent years we've become better acquainted with the tastes of foreign lands.

And because we like foreign foods, here are some unique recipes to try.

Czech cooking is famed for its unusual, varied and delicious cakes and puddings, such as Kolache, Moravian sugar cake and Celestial Crusts.

Like most recipes from the Old World, Czech ones are lovingly passed on from mother to daughter. And it is the wise Czechs who claim credit for the proverb, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach!"

Questions & Answers

What is meant by "moderate heat" when the reference is to the heat produced by the fire of a barbecue pit or other outdoor cooking device?

Moderate heat, regardless of how it is generated, is always considered to be about 350° F. In outdoor cooking the temperature is measured at grill level, that is to say at the height at which the food is to be cooked above the coals. A good grill thermometer provides the most accurate measurement of such temperature. Lacking one of these, some outdoor cooks insist that the temperature can be determined by the length of time the hand can be held over the fire at grill level. If the heat can be withstood for two seconds, the temperature is considered to be about 350° F.

Are Lawmakers Suggesting Suburbs Pay Riot Costs?

Are we suburbanites our brothers' keepers?

"Yes," said Gov. Romney in effect in his message last week to the Legislature.

"Nuts," said many suburban legislators.

No one should have been surprised that Romney asked $5-million more in special school aid to finance educational improvements for under-privileged. The request, Lansing observers said, seemed to stem from the New Detroit Committee headed by Joseph L. Hudson Jr., seeking money to aid the neighborhoods ravaged by last July's riot.

Analyzing the riot on July 30, we predicted that suburbanites would pay—and pay heavily—for the damage. We calculated the property tax revenue lost because of the destruction of property at $5.5 million, and that the state would probably be asked to make up the difference.

It worked out just about that way.

and wrong on this issue.

The idea that out-state residents, including these suburbs, should cough up the money through state aid is based on the legal fact that education is a state responsibility.

The sociological crowd argues that we suburbanites were often former big city residents; that we work in the big city but take no interest in its welfare; that much deteriorating property in the big city is owned by suburbanites; that we white folks in the outlying portions of the city and in the suburbs help create the crowded conditions of the big city by our resistance to open housing, and so on.

The argument in favor of that $5 million in school aid ends by hoping that this extra help will eliminate the rotten conditions that cause riots.

That's one side.

THE OTHER SIDE was expressed in Lansing by several suburban lawmakers.

"Our interests are not tied to Detroit's," said one. "There's no money for the disadvantaged program."

"If you gave $5 million in the bill for educationally disadvantaged, then you have to give $5 million to rural interests to get their votes," said a representative from Romney's li'l ole home town of Bloomfield Hills.

A senator from Grand Rapids called the entire Romney agenda "unbalanced"—many bills for civil rights, blighted areas and social problems, but nothing for tougher law enforcement except a state police reserve.

No one said it out loud, but the underlying logic seemed to be that giving Detroit schools more aid after a riot would simply reward the rioters.

The candidates for the Legislature who were beaten in 1966 are probably breathing a sigh of relief about now.

It's a tough issue.

YET THERE'S A precedent for this kind of dilemma.

It came after 1945. Nazi Germany the wicked was beaten and physically destroyed. The Big Two conquering powers took different approaches to the future.

The U.S. reacted with aid. It made West Berlin, in particular, a showplace, occupying the conquered territory for awhile, encouraging self-government, and then withdrawing after reconstruction.

The Soviet Union left East Berlin pretty much barren—a grim reminder to the Germans of the price of their collective sins. It ruled through a puppet government.

Gov. Romney's $5 million school aid proposal hearkens back to America's post-war strategy. It was a strategy that proved correct. Maybe we ought to try it in a riot-torn area.

LANSING — They still raise the flag on the south end of the Capitol when the Senate is in session and on the north end when the House is meeting.

When they raise the big flag in the center it means that the Capitol is still standing.

Gov. Blair's statue continues to stare down Michigan Avenue, his back to the scene. This is a ghost with class.

And, like the National Guard howitzers on inauguration day, politicians are still firing blanks.

Would you believe everybody's for open housing?

Everybody's also 100 per cent for sunshine, a bumper crop and good health. Sorry about that, doc.

WHAT THIS IS all about is that open occupancy legislation means nothing but public relations. And that makes it a perfect issue. Mind a bit of history, sir?

It was a bleak 1959, the year of the phony payless payday and the year of the Edsel. That was the low point and everything's been going downhill since then.

Lawrence Gubow, then Corporations and Securities Commissioner, imposed Rule 9. The first eight regulated real estate brokers and salesmen in their dealings with customers.

Rule 9 said any salesman or broker who participated in prejudice when selling a house could lose his license.

IT WAS TOUGH stuff for the real estate trade. Meetings were held and committees were appointed. Writings of arousal were issued and crosses were drenched in No. 10 oil for burning on lawns.

It was a time for people to be taken off the hook—and they were, by the 1963 state constitution which created the Civil Rights Commission and gave it powers to equivocate. Like them apples, sir?

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley came forth with two rulings which still stand—that local governments have no voice in such things, that the state commission has the last word. Cities can educate, he said, but cannot enforce. The issue thus became black and white. And moot.

Now we had Gov. Romney and others touring the burning cities and calling on legislatures everywhere to do something that already exists in law. So the legislature will vote for open occupancy.

It won't stop the cities from burning or force you to sell your house to a Negro.

SO DON'T WRITE angry letters to your legislator or stage a march on Lansing, whichever way you feel. It isn't worth the postage or gasoline bill.

In the legislature votes come easiest when they mean nothing, like resolutions of condolence and those passed on behalf of Class D high school basketball champions.

So, really, folks, open occupancy is not a four-letter word. It's a two-letter word. FR.

Separating School Tax Could Be Beneficial

A distinguished gentleman of Redford Township has a reasonable answer to the question: Why isn't more impetus being given to cityhood for Redford Township?

His answer: The people think that incorporating the township as a city would unite Redford Union and South Redford schools districts—and thus spread South Redford's industrial tax base wealth to Redford Union's residential responsibility!

This, he pointed out at the same time, is absolutely untrue. Only a school district of the first class follows exact city boundaries. The City of Detroit school system is the only district of the first class in Michigan. Redford Union and South Redford are districts of the third class.

Redford Township (or city) boundaries could not affect any school district boundaries. Incorporation of the township as a city would in no way alter the tax base of either school district.

CONFUSION ON THIS matter is not surprising. Any local official can tell you of the many questions he gets from the public such as: "What is the township doing with all the tax money I am giving them?"

The average taxpayer believes that because the township treasurer collects the school taxes as well as the township taxes, that the township controls the spending of both.

It doesn't. School tax money, which amounts to about 85 percent of what's collected, is passed directly to the schools, whose boards of education administer its use.

No doubt the designer of the tax collection process was more concerned with economy of effort than he was with public understanding of government function. Otherwise he would have realized that a mass public does not believe that money paid to Paul will be turned over to Peter to be spent.

PERHAPS A MUCH needed aid to public understanding of its own governmental makeup would be complete separation of school tax collection from that of township, cities, villages and counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Legislator in Lansing, take note.

While gathering to decide which political party and which politician will be made to look good or bad this year—consider a bill intended only to help the people do a better job of governing themselves.

Guest Editorial

Teachers across the state of Michigan have thrown a tantrum! "No contract, no work," they cried out. Posters taped to school windows read: "Positively no students permitted inside this building today!" Evidently these teachers were determined. The strike was on.

Usually, tantrum throwers are ignored, with the reasoning that eventually they will calm down. Michigan teachers didn't calm down. They marched with picket sign, they cried out against officials, they simply refused to change their attitudes. Daily newspaper and TV coverage gave evidence of their determination. The public could not ignore their demands.

Debate centered around higher wages and a shorter working year. Other areas of teacher discontent touched upon class size, text and curriculum, and qualified substitutes. However, regardless of the problems, the teachers, some said, were not acting as professionals should. Isn't professionalism an image a teacher bears only by virtue of her position? Teaching demands a dedication to the cause of educating America's children. Teachers are molders of character, guides over rugged and narrow paths of emotional adjustments, people to whom others are so deeply indebted— isn't this the image they want to create for the public?

Perhaps a down to earth reappraisal was needed. Most teachers must also raise a family and meet the demands of the ever-increasing cost of living. Critics might need to dispel the emotional approach to the profession of teaching and take a long look at what might very well be the beginning of diminishing numbers among the qualified intellectuals in the teaching field.

Where Else Can A Girl Relax?

With all that has been written about the feminine mystique, there is a factor that no one has considered.

That's woman's singular attitude about what is popularly known as "beauty shops" and having someone else wash and set her hair.

The male of the species looks at the cost (between $3 and $5 on the average) and screams "WHY?"

The female never comes up with what the male believes is a satisfactory answer.

(Of course, the reason is a mere man's inability to follow the simple process of feminine logic, but that's the subject for a separate column.)

Readers Speak Up About Many Vexing Problems

EDITOR:

I am going to vote in favor of incorporation of Farmington Township on Oct. 23 because I am afraid if I don't I will find a factory in my backyard in a couple of years.

The township has, at the present time, a very fine industrial park. All experts in the field of municipal planning agree that a good industrial tax base is essential in a well-planned community.

If the City of Farmington annexes this industrial park, I am afraid that the township planners will look elsewhere for areas in which to locate industry.

I am afraid they might choose some currently undeveloped areas near me. When I bought my house I expected that all areas around me would be residential. If I had wanted to live near a factory I would have moved near one.

I do not wish to live near a factory so I am voting in favor of incorporation. I think anyone with vacant land near them would vote for incorporation for the same reason.

EDITOR:

In one of the letters to the editor in the Oct. 4 issue, there were complaints about excluding the villages of Quakertown and Wood Creek Farms from the incorporation attempt. This is rather silly because they excluded themselves on their own initiative several years ago by becoming villages.

Since they became villages they have been protected against annexation. We want the same protection in the rest of the Township. Since they became villages they have received state funds for road maintenance. We want the same.

These villages seem to have the best of all worlds and the rest of the Township can go hang. Fortunately, the rest of the Township will have a chance for self-determination on Oct. 23.

The writer has charged that under incorporation there would be more "city-type service," broader governmental powers and more obligations. This is the kind of poppycock that was used against incorporation a year ago. If the writer would only read some of the state laws which he refers to he would find that a charter can be written which will result in a government very similar to that which we have now but which would provide the type of protection that the area so desperately needs.

Those who vote for formation of the proposed city will be doing so because they have been able to evaluate the emotional and illogical appeals of the opponents of incorporation for exactly what they are—pure bunkum.

EDITOR:

Shame on you for printing the article about the controversial appointment of Norman Stalzer to Chairman of the Board for Parks and Recreation. What was all the fuss about? You left your readers hanging in mid-air. From whom did the council get complaints? What did these self-righteous citizens have to say? You didn't tell us what horrible crime this man is accused of. Good heavens, he must be the worst person in the world!

Oh, I know what they were complaining about. Of course, why didn't I think of it sooner. They complained because he attended too many meetings, at least two or three nights a week. Let's see, that makes 12 hours a week times four weeks—48 hours a month. Now, most men are paid an average wage of $5 an hour, so that makes $240 a month for manpower.

And about those 1000 bats, mitts and balls he stored in his garage for the baseball season, let's see, he counted, sorted and distributed these items seven days a week for three months. Well, of course, we must complain about that, because storage cost and paper work plus manpower equals about $300 for the season, or roughly $100 a month. Then there are the phone calls to make in the evening, parents to console, managers to manage, boys to encourage and schedules to make out.

Counseling service per month plus phone bill must equal $600 per month. Pretty soft, eh? Total this all up on a monthly basis and this guy Stalzer is really making out like a bandit. Your city pays out about $1,000 a month to this guy for working part time!

What's that you say? I beg your pardon, I guess I didn't hear you right. Would you repeat that please. You mean, Stalzer gets $75 a month for this appointment?

Great day in the morning ———, Redford Township could use a man like Norm Stalzer. Tell him to come over to our side. We like people in our town who give of themselves to the community.

On a recent Friday afternoon at approximately 4 p.m., my companion and I entered the Edward Hines Park area near Stark road. We were on foot, "armed" with one beach blanket, one guitar, one book of classic drama, one notebook and one jacket.

Just as we sat down at our chosen spot, one of the Livonia Parks and Recreation employees bounded upon us demanding "what we were doing there", if we "came there often", what we had in our possession and generally proceeded to act as if we were convicted criminals.

Not only did he also personally insult me by slandering my moral character but he actually threatened the both of us—saying that if we did not immediately leave we would be "taken to the police station" or "to court" to "explain our actions."

I don't think I have to remind you gentlemen that no one has the right to accuse or treat a person or persons as guilty of some "crime" until that crime has actually been committed and that person or persons judged guilty. (Provided, of course, that the Livonia Parks and Recreation Department abides by Federal Law.)

ROGER FRAYER, 9847 Flamingo, a Franklin High School alumnus, is half-back on this fall's Alma College football team. Alma last year tied for second in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

As I am familiar with the Edward Hines Park rules and regulations (having read them several times), I have not nor will not violate them. I have hurt no one nor have jeopardized any other person's rights or property. Therefore, as a responsible citizen who knows "right" from "wrong" I am not about to be crudely, rudely and illegally "reminded" by a park employee of the way in which I am to conduct myself well. I know I have already done so, was doing so on that Friday afternoon and will continue to conduct myself respectfully and lawfully in the future. I realize fully that the Edward Hines Park area often becomes a major problem as far as the actions of some youths and adults are concerned. However, this gives no police officer, park employee nor anyone else the right to intimidate those who know how to "behave" responsibly.

Councilman McNamara Explains Stand

Editor:

I have received letters and comments from people regarding rezoning of land in Livonia for the purpose of constructing apartments. The following is an answer I wrote to one of those concerned citizens who indicated that they are opposed to apartments.

I hope it answers one of the misconceptions regarding this form of zoning:

"Thank you for your letter relative to rezoning land in Livonia to permit the construction of apartments."

"Livonia, as you know, is the third largest city, in area, in Michigan. We have attempted to diversify the kinds of industry to give economic stability to our community. We have rezoned areas to larger lots to reduce school population density and encourage larger and more expensive homes that will increase our tax base.

"In a well planned city there is a need for good apartments to serve the elderly that want to be close to their family but not have the burden of a home to care for; to serve the new resident who may be in town on an extended temporary work assignment; the new teachers that want to live close to their schools; the young married who are saving to purchase a home. All of these are good citizens and it would be most tragic if we were not able to accommodate them.

"There are responsible people in public office who have a most narrow view of the effect of apartments on the community. They make misleading statements that are intended to discredit apartments."

"Let me assure you that one of the toughest ordinances in Michigan relative to building apartments is the existing Livonia ordinance."

"Contrary to popular belief, apartments, from a tax standpoint, pay more of their way than a residential home. They must provide their own rubbish pickup at their expense. They clean and repair their own streets. It costs less to serve them with water and sewer facilities."

"In direct response to your major point it is interesting to note that the Livonia Public Schools report that in the 574 apartment units in Livonia there are only 48 school children (less than 1 child for each 10 apartments). The apartment owner, however, pays a school millage rate equal to what we pay on our homes."

"We would conclude from the study that if taxes were our only concern we should build only apartments (with one and two bedrooms) and no single homes. However, we want a well balanced community. We are guided in our actions relative to rezoning by a professional City Planner and his most competent staff."

"Your concern for the future growth of our city is shared by me and my fellow councilmen. I hope your concern will continue and you will contact me again if you have questions, need assistance or would like to tell me how you feel about a particular issue."

Councilman

Just Chattin'

Here's something new - - - the privilege of paying cash

By W. W. Edgar

AT A DINNER the other evening a friend leaned across the table and asked, "Have you seen the latest?"

Then, with the trace of a smile, he handed me a card which read:

"This entitles _____ to pay cash for any item he chooses."

It was a humorous criticism of our present credit system but it did serve to prove once more the great change that has taken place across the land in the past few decades and how far we have come with the "Buy Now—Pay Later" formula that has boosted our economy to the highest point it ever has known.

In this day and age when folks are urged by all media to enjoy things now and think about the debt later, it might be rather difficult to imagine a time in this country when it was difficult—real difficult—to establish credit.

Folks were rather reluctant to allow anyone to owe them anything. When they did make a loan it was with stiff interest rates—with the result people, the careful ones, were constantly "saving up to buy something." In those days, if you saw something you liked and didn't have the money to buy it, you saved until you had it.

Then, pridefully, you would wend your way to the store and make the purchase. On these occasions the purchaser was proud to have reached a goal and enjoyed and appreciated the purchase all the more.

IN TODAY'S easy credit market it might sound incredible, too, to learn that there was a time when you had to have at least two friends vouch for you and be subjected to all sorts of investigations before you were granted the privilege of "buying on credit."

I recall when I arrived on the Detroit scene a few decades ago that having a credit card was a mark of distinction.

They were hard to come by. Being approved for credit, or delayed payments as they called them, was not unlike joining a fraternal order. After you applied, you would be visited by a committee that passed final judgment.

Of course, there were ways that this system could be circumvented—through the help of friends. For example, one of the regular callers at the Free Press Sports Department was the manager of the sports section of the T. B. Rayl Hardware Co., then on Woodward Avenue. One evening he asked, "Have you attempted to establish credit?" and when I told him I hadn't he invited me to the store the next afternoon.

On my arrival he asked me to make some small purchase—anything—and told me that I would be billed at the end of the month.

"When you get the bill," he said, "come in and pay it. That will establish your credit with us. Then, any store, even including Hudson's, that asks if you have credit, just say 'Rayl's' and you will be accepted. It is the first acceptance that is the most difficult to get."

So, eventually, I joined the elite with a charge coin at Hudson's.

THEN I LOOK back to those days, it is a reminder that the country has now done an "about face" and is revolving on the theory that you might as well enjoy things while you are paying for them.

Your automobile is a prime example. At one stage in our credit system you were allowed a full year to pay for your car. That was considered a liberal concession. This later went to 18 months, then two years and now is 36 months. Under the present system one is constantly paying for a car as few owners drive more than three years before trading for a new model.

Another is your home. Young folks today move into costly homes with little or no thought of ever owning it outright. They just keep the payments until they want to make a change.

Televisions have become commonplace because of credit. Even vacations now are taken on a "go now—pay later" plan.

It has been said that this country could get along without money—that it survives only because of credit cards.

No wonder it seemed strange and rather humorous when my friend at dinner showed me the latest card—one that permits a person to pay cash for anything he wants.

Seriously, it could be a signal that our credit jag is coming to an end and the day of inflation and the cheap dollar becoming just a memory.

Now Teen Club Takes Off

A group of Plymouth kids are off and running with a teen club.

What's more, they have organization, financial backing, the place and a lot of enthusiasm.

All they lack is a name, which they will decide on after more members join.

The organization and financial backing come through the efforts of Plymouth's Jaycees, who have made a $1,000 fund available.

The group is organizing as Junior Jaycees, although the senior Jaycees admit that there is probably some technical difficulty in making girls Junior Jaycees.

Each member will pay $5 dues, which will be divided between the local teen club and the national Jaycee organization.

The group has met twice, Saturday afternoons in the P&A Theatre, and plans another meeting this Saturday at 2 p.m., same place.

The Place will be a large house, near the center of town. Through the Jaycee funds, it will be leased with an option to buy. As soon as paper work is complete, the kids will go to work on it.

Indications are that the state-of-the-art building will look like a psychedelic nightmare by the time they're finished, but may be not.

Club ground rules were laid at Saturday's meeting. Robert Shuman, one of the senior Jaycees working on the project, sketched them for us:

Drinking--No.
Smoking--Yes, but only in one room.

Necking--No.

Kissing--Occasional pecking permitted.

"This place is going to be run by the kids," he said.

"and they are making the rules."

But he emphasized that the Jaycees weren't exactly giving the teen group a blank check, figuratively or literally.

"All the checks on the fund require three signatures, one from the teen club and two from the Jaycees," Shuman explained.

The Jaycee money is designed to get the club off the ground and provide a place to meet. Eventually, the club will have to raise its own money.

Several projects in that line have already been thought out, including a Christmas tree sale.

"But we want to get them underway," Shuman said. "At least they've got to have a place to start fixing up."

Jim Brennan, a Plymouth High junior who is vice president of the teen club, said the club will be open to any Plymouth High student between 14 and 19.

Teenagers attending the organizational meetings have favored a weekend schedule, with The Place open Friday nights, Saturday nights and Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Scheduling isn't firm, however.

Brennan said that the club hopes to have about 200 members by the time the house is ready to go--maybe in a week or two.

Exact location of the house is still under wraps, although final arrangements should be made within a week, Shuman explained.

Both Brennan and Shuman said that they expect the club to be in full swing by Thanksgiving.

Teenagers who want to join or are looking for more information should plan to attend the Saturday meeting or contact Brennan at 453-8654, evenings.

SUSPENSE MOUNTS at Clarenceville High as Homecoming, slated for Oct. 27, approaches. Four Girl Scouts Score Local First

For the first time in area Girl Scouting history four girls from the same troop have been designated Honor Scouts, according to the Metropolitan Area Girl Scout Council.

The girls, all members of Livonia Troop 1658, are Mary Mueller, Jay Keller, Alicia Nalecz and Allison Briggs.

Alicia was named regional representative to the Metropolitan Area Council and also was chosen to join a trip to Madison, Wis.

Allison was selected as a member of the Mishmee Planning Board, and was runner-up in the contest for regional representative.

Jay was selected by the Council to attend Camp Inisrae in Hamilton, Ont. and was recognized for outstanding camping skills.

Mary was selected to attend Camp Kiawa.

All of the Honor Scouts had to be nominated and were personally interviewed by the Area Council.

At the time they were chosen as Honor Scouts, all four were members of Cadette Troop 1188.

A Winner

Mary Kay Burr, 17, a senior at North Farmington High, has been named one of 10 finalists in the Miss Teenage Detroit Contest.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burr, of 29954 Beacontree.

For Vietnam Men Adopting GI Clubmobile Is Local Red Cross Project

Local Red Cross volunteers are involved in a new program to help provide relaxation for GI's in Vietnam.

Bringing an hour or two of recreation to help soldiers get their minds off war is the big job for the corps of over 100 Red Cross clubmobile girls — young college graduates who take with them creativity, "know how" and stamina.

But they need materials for successful programming, so the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross chapter has "adopted" a clubmobile in Vietnam to provide its girls with the needed equipment.

THE CLUBMOBILE unit assigned to the Southeastern Michigan Chapter is serving the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, which is stationed in the Long Giao - Xuan Luoc area, 22 miles northwest of Saigon.

The four clubmobile girls in this particular unit take recreational programs to 4,500 servicemen a month, usually by traveling in helicopters in teams of two, to present games, quizzes, sports and other things of interest to men on a regular daily schedule.

Mrs. Francis W. Smith, chairman for the chapter's Adopt a Clubmobile program, said monthly shipments of games, records, magazines, ball point pens, paper back books and other materials would be sent as they are requested from Clubmobile Unit director, Evelyn Knight.

After a recent shipment, Miss Knight wrote:

"THE MEN have been involved in Operation Akron out in the forward areas for quite a time. They really appreciate hearing a good record or reading and joking about the top thirty tunes back home."

"When we tell them that we've been adopted and include them in this adoption, their eyes just shine... and there is almost always one man from Michigan who is just so proud."

"He gets a chance to go on about his home state, teases his buddy and asks why place X didn't adopt us. And they all enjoy it... the fact that volunteers 'back there' remember them."

m. m. memos

The kids have been working overtime brightening up the English language, and some of the recent ones I've heard just must be passed on.

For instance, the group of little boys in the neighborhood who labored so long and diligently on a back yard excavation that I was sure a major engineering project was coming.

So I went back to see, and found them putting the dirt back in.

"We did have a pretty big hole," explained the head engineer, "but now we're burying it."

Home at dinner. I got my first grader's definition of spinach.

"It's frozen leaves," she announced, "and you hot them."

And there's the relative of a relative who has a sub-teen daughter and a kindergarten son.

She reprimanded the daughter one day because she wasn't wearing an undershirt.

"She NEVER wears an undershirt," piped up small brother, "and she doesn't wear one of those cross-your-hearts either."

WORLD of WOMEN

Mrs. Zink Named Redford Township 'Woman Of Year'

Mrs. Muriel Zink was honored as Redford Township "Woman of the Year" by the Redford Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary at a dinner Monday night.

Active in many township service projects during the 36 years she has been a resident, Mrs. Zink was greeted by friends at a dinner in the Ken-Vic restaurant.

Mrs. Robert Hawley, Auxiliary president, presented an engraved desk set to the winner of the award. The auxiliary annually chooses a woman who has contributed outstanding community service over the years.

MRS. ZINK currently is a member of the Redford Township Goodfellows Drive, and was chairman for two years. Because she felt that the boys should also share in this project, she instituted a "shirt drive" for the boys, which has now become a permanent feature.

A charter member of the Lola Valley Business and Professional Women's Club, she is a past president and is currently participating as a board member.

She has served as publicity chairman for the Redford Music Society; is treasurer of the Redford Library Commission, for which she served as president in 1965; is historian of the Redford Township Chamber of Commerce and was recently elected to a two year term for the Western Wayne County Planning Division (United Community Service of Metropolitan Detroit) and is a member of the Citizen's Committee.

While Mrs. Zink taught in Volney Smith School, she organized a Young Writer's Club and her group won three first prizes. She taught in Redford Union schools from 1934 to 1941.

HER PROMOTION of the Junior Fire Marshal Campaign in our schools and in our community for years has merited her an award for her outstanding work in this project. This award was the first award to be presented to an agent in Metropolitan Detroit for active participation in this campaign for over 10 years.

For more than 20 years she was superintendent of the junior department of Sunday school at the Covenant Community Church, and now is a member of the educational committee and is an instructor in the teacher training program of the church.

As the first Girl Scout Leader in Redford Township, she served for many years as leader of Troop #1.

Mrs. Zink is also affiliated with the Detroit Association of

Singer Hildegard Opens Farmington Town Hall Series

The glamorous singer Hildegard will be lead-off celebrity for the new Farmington Town Hall series, starting at 11 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 26, in the Northland Theater.

Hildegard, the girl from Milwaukee who gained international fame during the forties for her unusual singing style, was picked for the opening lecture spot to replace actor Walter Slezak, originally scheduled to begin the series.

The Soroptimist Club of Farmington and Novi, sponsoring the new program, announced the change.

MRS. DONALD CARDWELL, general chairman, said the group felt fortunate to be able to present Hildegard, and added she felt confident the TV and nightclub personality would charm her audience here as she has in London, Paris and Brussels.

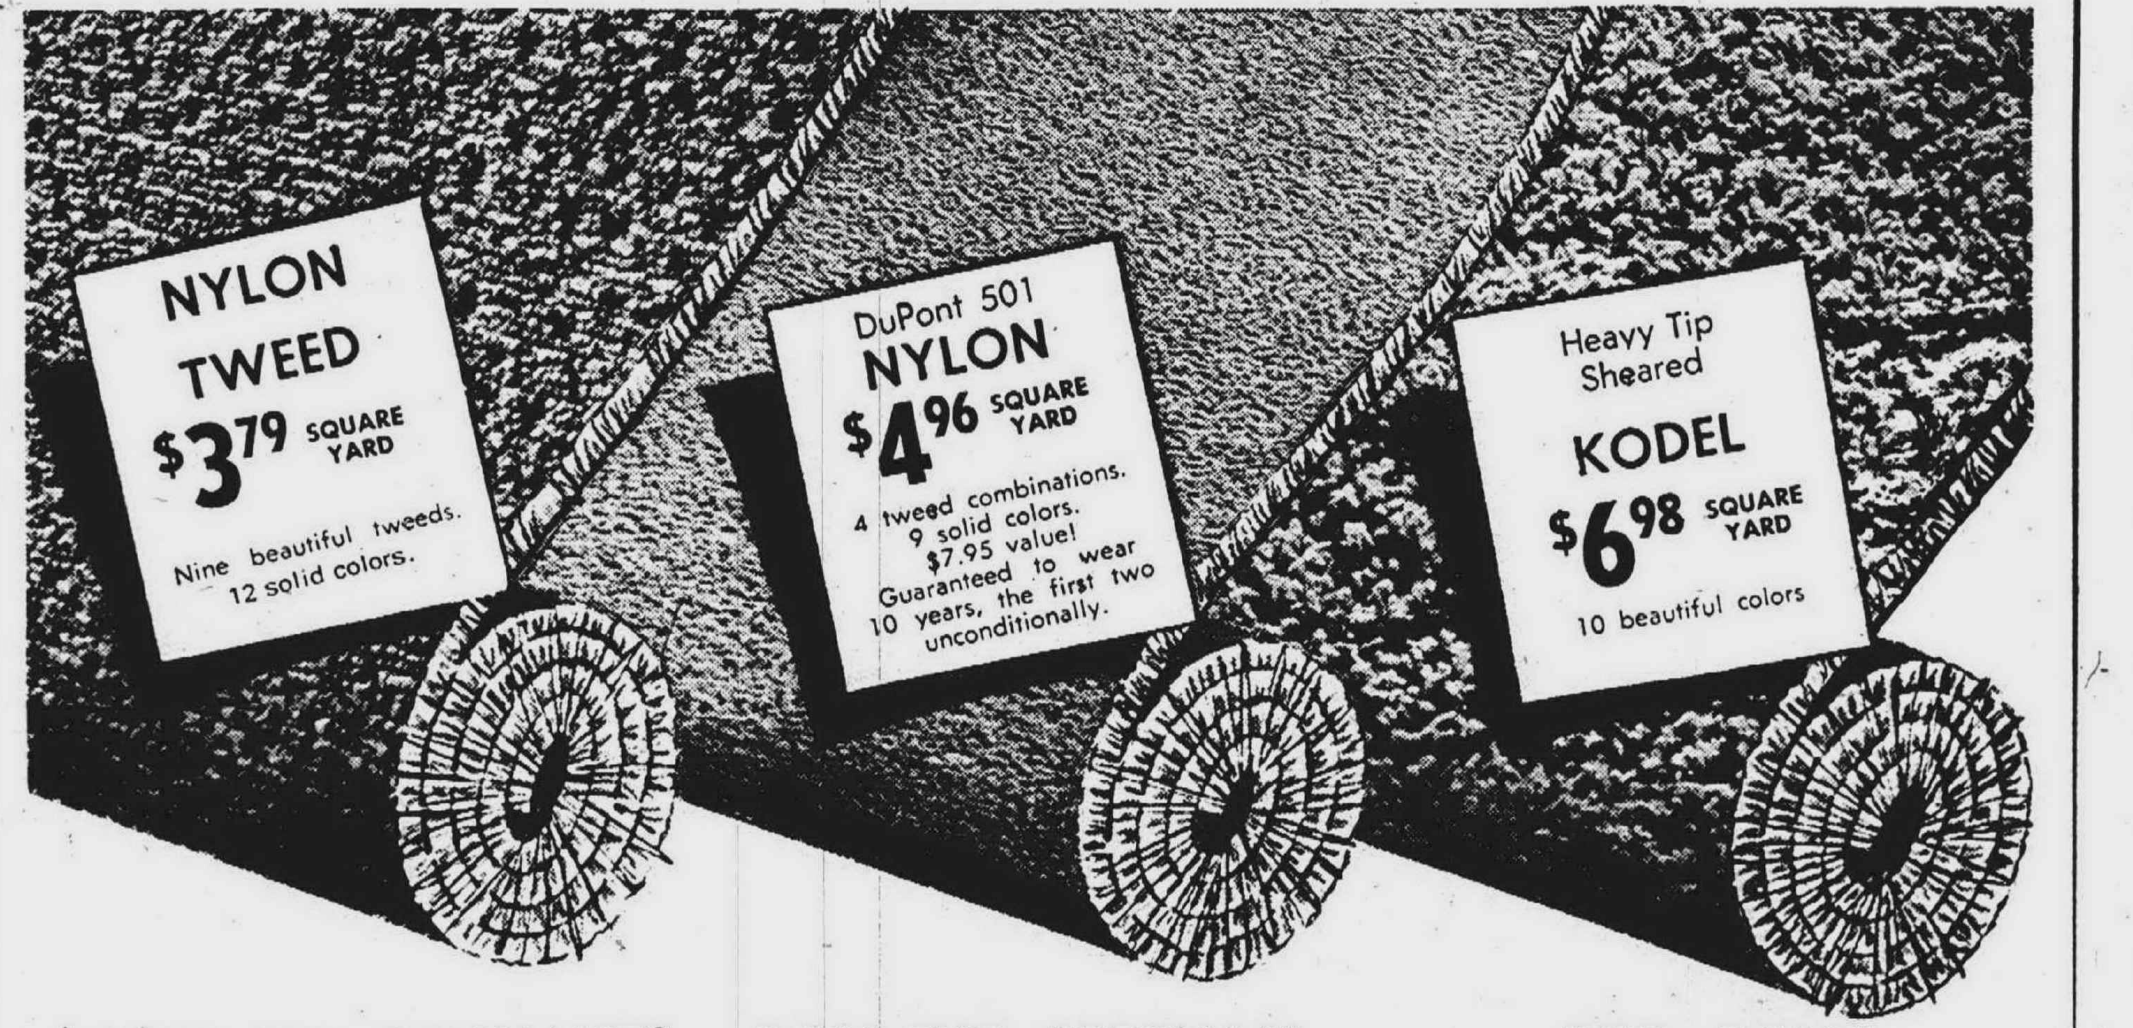

Hildegard will be presented by Robert Chesley, president of Chesley Industries and chairman of the building fund for the Farmington area YMCA.

All proceeds from the Town Hall series, which includes lectures later in the season by Mme. Genevieve Antoine Dariaux of a top Paris Fashion house, TV star Bess Myerson, and correspondent Alistair Cooke, will go to the YMCA fund.

Women on the GO!

By Margaret Miller

Rosina Raymond had traveled twice to Europe to seek her roots.

In two trips to the Old World, the most recent late this summer with husband Jerry, Livonia councilman, she has sought out and talked to relatives both in Germany and just across the border, in French Alsace.

She believes she's even traced her family back to the ruling Bishop Burkard who lived in the eighth century.

THE STUDY of her family's origins, started about 10 years ago, has held great fascination for Rosina, a woman of many interests.

Currently teaching speech and Spanish at Madonna College, she's an expert on things Mexican and an interested student of the great wealth of dialects and tongues throughout the world.

In fact, while studying family history, she made tapes of the stories told by the families she visited, and they will be useful as she progresses toward a doctorate in speech.

Rosina's eventual aim is to write a family historical book—not just full of names but including the many anecdotes and stories she has been told.

"I want to bring this history to life," she said.

AS SHE HAS talked to aged uncles in New Franken, Wis., near Green Bay, the town where she was brought up, as she journeyed to Oregon to meet an elderly cousin who led her to a new branch of European relatives, and as she conversed with those in the Old World, she has sought the answer to one special question.

What was it, she asks herself, that made some of these people leave their family lives and head for America?

"I don't think it was just a search for adventure," Rosina said. "Many of these people were in their fifties when they came here. I think there was something in their lives there they felt must change."

NO CLEAR answer has come out of the talks with the descendants of those who stayed behind, Rosina said.

But what has come is fine friendship, interesting information and increased understanding of different ways.

"And it has been fascinating to me to see the similarities of these relations in two countries," she said. "Families on both sides of the border fought in World War II, and both were forced by invading armies to flee their homes—on the one side by the Germans, on the other by the Americans."

"Both knew the same sense of loss, and both have sought to rebuild what had been."

THREE YEARS ago, when Rosina went to Europe with daughter Sharon, youngest of four Raymond children, she talked to members of a family named Ripp in the town of Tawern, Germany.

They bear the same name as some of her relatives in Wisconsin, and they knew about the cholera epidemic that claimed several members of the family in the last century. Rosina had read of the epidemic on Wisconsin tombstones.

She visited them again on this trip, and while in Germany also saw a memorial to the middle ages bishop with a name like her maiden name.

A NEW contact this trip was with the von Hatten family in the village of Lobsan, in Alsace.

In order to meet them, she went first to Oregon last year. The elderly cousin she met there gave her photostatic copies of letters she had received from the Lobsen von Hattens, and Rosina used the copies as letters of introduction.

"My husband says there's no one else who'd go knocking on a strange village door and say 'Good Morning, I'm your relative,'" Rosina laughed.

"But when the introductions had been made, no one could be more gracious or friendly than the folks I've met in this project."

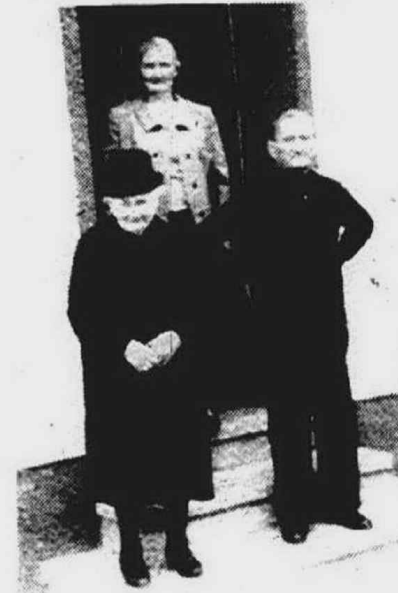

ROSINA ISN'T quite ready to start writing yet.

"There are some big gaps to fill—I'll probably need another trip to Europe," she said.

But the finished product should be crammed with enough human interest history to make it good reading for more families than the Burks and von Hattens and Rippes—and Raymonds.

ROSINA RAYMOND checks through some of her records on her family history.....

AND RELIVES a visit with some European members of the clan.

MRS. WILLIAM DAVIES and some of her prize-winning handwork.

Blue Ribbons Mrs. Davies Wins New Honors

Winning blue ribbons is hardly a new experience for Mrs. William Davies of Schoolcraft Avenue, Redford Township.

The two she took at the Michigan State Fair this fall—for a needlepoint stool cover in shades of aqua, and some gay argyle socks in red, yellow and navy—bring her total of ribbons for needlework close to 150.

At least half of them are firsts, and there are a number of special awards too.

Her top award came three years ago when her first-prize argyle socks at the State Fair went on to win a national award in the Needlework Guild competition.

But she has no evidence of that prize. The package—expertly-knit socks, blue ribbon and all—was lost in the mail on the way back from New York.

Mrs. Davies and her husband, a retired Chrysler employe, have lived in Redford Township 22 years. They have a son and daughter, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Couple Speaks Vows

Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey are at home in Lansing following their recent marriage in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Farmington.

The bride is the former Carolyn Tuthill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tuthill of Farmington. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey, of Northville. The Rev. W. Rutkowski officiated.

The bride's mother designed and made the white linen wedding gown that featured lace and seed pearl trim and a train that fell from the shoulders. A flower circlet held the bride's veil, and she carried a daisy, mum and carnation cascade.

Racina Bailey, sister of the bridegroom, came from Los Angeles to be maid of honor. Her dress was deep pink crepe with sequin trim and she carried a cascade of pink miniature carnations.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Richard Serra and Mrs. Harry Walker were dressed like the honor attendant.

The bridegroom's brother, William Bailey, was best man. Seating the guests were Richard Serra and Harold Seafors.

An aqua silk jacket dress was Mrs. Tuthill's choice for the wedding, and Mrs. Bailey wore a gold sheath.

A reception for 175 guests in the gold room at Cregars Pickwick House followed the rites.

The bride is a graduate of Clarenceville High School and has been employed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Her husband, a Northville High School graduate, is employed by radio station WJIM in Lansing.

Ancient Orthodox Rites Unite Pair

In a special ancient Orthodox ceremony in St. Clement's Bulgarian Orthodox Church recently, Patricia Ann Ewing became the bride of Anthony Fenech.

The ceremony was unusual because the established ritual for marriage was combined with the divine liturgy. This was the established norm within the early Christian church but had gone under transition becoming a separate ceremony over the years.

In the service, the bride and groom were married and received holy communion representing unity with God and themselves through the church.

A number of clerical dignitaries were present and celebrated at the service.

They were the Rt. Rev. Miltred Stephen Burdick of Lorain, Ohio, archdiocesan missionary and recipient of the Order of St. Vladimir, the Rt. Rev. Photius Donahue, of East Lansing, dean of the Central States Deanery; the Rev. George Gerov, pastor of St. Clement's Bulgarian Orthodox Church; the Rev. Igor Burdick, pastor of the American Orthodox Church of Saint Innocent—the parish of the married couple.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick R. Ewing, and Mr. and Mrs. Carmel A. Fenech, both of Dearborn Heights.

The bride wore an empire gown of white silk brocade imported from Lebanon. The gown was enriched with crystals and pearls and had a matching headpiece. The bouquet was white orchids and ivy.

The bridesmaids wore turquoise peau de sole gowns with matching headpieces and floor-length veils. They carried carnations and ivy.

Joan Relich was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Sylvia Bazil, Susan Kovach, Marlene Falzon, Patricia Smith, Sylvia Elitsky, Darlene Pearl, Ida Marie Mason, and Joan Fenech. Pam O'Neill and Marlene Fenech were junior bridesmaids and Bonnie Brammer was the flower girl.

Patrick C. Ewing, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were William Fenech, Ted Bazil, Larry Chircop, Paul Falzon, John Balluchi, Tony Joseph Chircop, Robert Sirko, and Michael Harden. Sam Falzon was the ring-bearer.

The bridegroom's mother wore a champagne-beige gown. The bride's mother wore a gown designed from pink silk brocade imported from Damascus, Syria, with a matching pink peau-de-sole coat.

The wedding reception was held at the Latin Quarter.

The new Mrs. Fenech is now residing in Dearborn Heights, while her husband is stationed in the Army base at Fort Benning, Ga.

Her attendants wore russet dresses and carried baskets of bronze poms, wheat and wood roses.

Karen Medford was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were another sister, Melinda Medford, and Anne Nadeau and Ginger Warren. The bridegroom's nieces, Shelly and Laurel Schroder, were flower girls.

The bride chose a silk organza gown accented with appliques of lace and pearls, a chapel train, and a silk illusion veil secured with a headpiece of lace petals. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses.

Mrs. Gerald Witt, her sister, served as her matron of honor, with Karen Schweppe as her bridesmaid. Their empire gowns were of aqua chiffon with turquoise lace bodices. They carried colonial bouquets of blue and white daisies.

The bridegroom's nephew, Carlos Jimenez served as ring bearer.

New-Found Disease Hits Dogs

EAST LANSING -- A Michigan State University veterinary researcher has urged drastic action to control a newly recognized, highly contagious disease of dogs.

Dr. John A. Moore said that efforts similar to those used to control brucellosis in cattle are necessary to combat epizootic canine abortion, which poses the greatest problem of any disease to breeders and large-scale users of dogs, especially beagles.

He said that antibiotics are not uniformly successful and may repress the disease rather than cure it.

RAIN DANCE? Well, not really. These South Sea Island dancers performed at Wonderland Friday despite a steady autumn rainfall. Hundreds watched as the group -- Pearls of the Pacific -- presented a 45-minute revue of Tahitian dances.

Kelley: 'Must Return Law And Order'

Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelley warned in a Farmington speech this week that unless there is "a massive recommitment to the rule of law in this country by all elements of society, the alternative will be disaster."

Addressing the Fairview School P.T.A. Wednesday night, the state's chief law enforcement official pointed with equal emphasis to Detroit's summer riots and price-gouging and income tax cheating by businessmen as evidence that "the threat to our nation's adherence to law is all around us."

"While it is certainly a rejection of law and order for the jobless slum dweller to loot and burn a neighborhood store, it is also a derogation of law and order for the businessman to cheat on his income tax or charge more in a ghetto food store than is paid for the same product in a middle-class neighborhood a few miles away," said Kelley.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL outlined seven steps which he says should be taken "to meet the crisis in law and order:

1. "There must be an increase in local communities of their financial support for police salaries.
2. "Certain police services, none of which are directly related to the fight against crime, should be curtailed or shifted to non-police personnel.
3. "We must develop a program of state aid for police salaries related to the extent of local contributions.
4. "We must assure that all prosecuting attorneys are paid a salary commensurate with their responsibilities.
5. "We should invest the necessary funds to computerize and automate the fight against crime wherever possible.
6. "The time has come for us in Michigan to give to the victims of crime as much consideration as we give to criminals.
7. "I propose that we initiate a massive education program aimed at our young people in an attempt to inculcate them with the precepts of law and order, and with the value of that basic foundation of our society."

KELLEY MADE a particular point of emphasizing his belief that the over-all status of, and respect for, the police officer should be improved, starting with better salaries.

He himself has suggested legislation that would provide state financial aid to local governmental entities, the money to be earmarked for police salaries, but stated "the bill never got out of committee."

Kelley's proposal called for the state to match local police salary budget appropriations on an equal basis.

"EACH OF US must share the responsibility for reinstating law and order," Kelly told his audience of 135 parents of Fairview pupils. He suggested it be done in these ways:

"We should start in the home by teaching children respect for law and order, for it is in the home that the seeds are sown. There also are other ways each can help.

"We can replace hand-wringing about crime with serious planning to combat it.

Sorrows Eye Help In Stretch

HELP, HELP, HELP! Our Lady of Sorrows high's football team needs some.

For the last two weeks, Sorrows has been running wild. Last Sunday, it was 59-7 over Royal Oak St. Mary's.

But Sorrows still remains a game behind Orchard Lake St. Mary's in the battle for divisional honors in the Catholic League.

Since it was St. Mary's which handed Sorrows its only loss, somebody else must beat the Lakers if Sorrows is to gain at least a flag share.

Sorrows strangely enough trailed at one stage, 7-6, against Royal Oak. But an electrifying final 110 seconds in the first half helped to turn the game into a runaway as Sorrows rolled up over 350 yards in running and passing.

MIKE BRIOLET again was the big whiz for Sorrows. He passed for three touchdowns and scored another himself.

Mark Hartwig tallied twice to up his season's touchdown total to nine. Frank Barber raced for a pair of scores and Greg Main turned an intercepted pass into another Sorrows' score.

It was Briolet to Jerry Horner for 18 yards and the first Sorrows' TD. But before the period was over, Royal Oak had counted on a 37-yarder to lead, 7-6.

In the second period, Briolet flipped to Bill Hartsock for 21 yards and a quick TD. Tom Webster's conversion made it 13-6, for Sorrows.

THEN CAME the final two minutes of the half. Jim Barnes slammed across from two out. Main intercepted a pass and scooted 33 yards to paydirt.

Immediately after the kick-off, Sorrows recovered a fumble and Briolet went in from the 10.

In the third period, Hartwig scooted 45 and 10 yards for tallies. In the fourth, Barber went 12 and then 32 to end the festivities on a gala note.

Sorrows had the ball for 70 plays in the game. Average is around 45.

REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED

Family Service Begins Beth Am Sukkot Feast

Temple Beth Am begins its joyous eight-day feast of Sukkot tonight with a family service at 7:30 p.m. in the Cohn Building of the United Hebrew School, Seven Mile at Osmus.

Children are invited to bring canned or boxed foods as their Thanksgiving Offering, which will be placed on the altar, and later distributed to deserving families and institutions. At the conclusion of the service, the congregation and their guests will proceed to the outdoor Sukkah for a Kiddush, (refreshments) in honor of the Festival.

Sukkot, the "Feast of Tabernacles" or "Booths," is a holiday of harvest and thanksgiving, and the most joyous of all the Jewish observances.

The holiday, according to the Biblical book of Deuteronomy, it was celebrated at the conclusion of the autumnal harvest. The book of Exodus also describes it as the "Festival of Ingathering" of the fruits of the earth.

MANY ANCIENT symbols survive unchanged in this holiday. In keeping with the Biblical injunction, Jews build "sukkot" of booths outside their homes or synagogues; these are made of three wooden walls, and the roof is covered with green boughs and decorated inside with the fruits of the harvest season. Meals are eaten in the sukkot during this holiday, and prayers and songs of gratitude and joy are recited in them.

The building of "sukkot" is also associated historically with the liberation from Egypt and the long wandering of the Jewish people before they reached the Promised Land of Palestine.

It is also thought to symbolize the fragility and transitory quality of life and to serve as a reminder to Jews that material things, like the "sukkah" have little permanence.

THE PREVAILING spirit of this holiday is joyousness and rejoicing, in keeping with the Biblical commandment which enjoins the "Thou shalt be altogether joyful," and the description of Sukkot is, in Jewish tradition, "the season of our rejoicing."

The American Thanksgiving holiday was patterned upon Sukkot by the Scripture-minded Pilgrims. It shares with Thanksgiving the predominant ideas of autumnal harvesting and joyous gratitude to God for His bounty.

Institute Set For Scout Leaders

All Catholic women who are active in the Girl Scout movement are cordially urged to attend the Leaders Institute which the Archdiocesan Committee for Girl Scouts will hold on Friday, Oct. 27, at Our Lady Gate of Heaven Parish.

The assembly will mark the formal beginning of the 25th year of service for the Archdiocesan Committee, which was the first group of its kind in the country when it was founded in the Fall of 1943. Thanks in great measure to the unflagging enthusiasm of its adult leaders, the program of Girl Scouts under Catholic auspices has grown to encompass almost 15,000 members in more than 700 parish units with more than 2,000 adult leaders.

The upcoming assembly will give adult leaders a chance to learn the new requirements for the Marian Medal, the most cherished award a Girl Scout can earn for progress in Scouting and in the knowledge and practice of her religion. The Marian Medal program enables leaders to emphasize the spiritual aspect of Girl Scouting.

Registration for the Institute will begin at 9 a.m., and the Institute will end at 2:30 p.m. Workshops will cover such subjects as the Marian Medal Program, Church Investiture, Rededication Ceremonies, the St. Anne Award for Leaders, the Annual Holy Hour, the Senior Spiritual Renewal Program and spiritually oriented program suggestions for the Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior levels.

Detroit Host City For National Conference On Church And Society

The gap between rich and poor around the world, which widens despite the ever-growing power of technology, will focus the attention of some 600 churchmen from throughout the country, in Detroit Oct. 22-26 for the U.S. Conference on Church and Society.

"WHEN TECHNOLOGY is not adequately guided by concern for the welfare of man, it contributes to systems of power which exclude many people from participating in major decisions affecting their lives," said conference chairman Bishop B. Julian Smith of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, Memphis, Tenn.

"While one-third of the world's people grow richer, two-thirds remain entrapped in poverty. In our own country poverty persists in a land of plenty," he declared.

BISHOP SMITH will preside over the U.S. Meeting designed as a "follow-up" to the 1966 World Conference on Church and Society--sponsored by the World Council of Churches in Geneva, Switzerland.

Called by the General Board of the National Council of Churches, the U.S. conference will attempt to apply the insights of Christian faith to a comprehensive list of specific dilemmas facing individuals and nations alike.

"We are coming together to devise strategies for the church's witness in society --not to pass a list of pronouncements," said the Rev. Dr. Harvey Cox of Harvard Divinity School, co-chairman of the conference and head of its program committee.

"Because we hope to encourage fresh thinking, we will work in about 30 small work groups during most of the four days we are together," he added. "There will be very few speeches or plenary sessions."

THE CONFERENCE will rely heavily on dialogue in small groups, on carefully prepared case materials, and on persons and groups who are involved in areas where decisions for social changes are being made," he said.

Discussion groups of "no more than 20 people each, the working core of the meeting, will form around 30 specific issues grouped under three general subthemes," he explained.

These themes are: Alternative Uses of U.S. Power in Developing Countries; Redistribution of Power and Opportunity for Social and Economic Development in the U.S.; and Development of Political and Social Institutions to Cope with Rapid Technical Change.

OVERALL CONFERENCE theme is "Christians in the Social and Technical Revolution: Strategies for Action."

Central Methodist Marks 100th Year For Sanctuary

Central Methodist Church is celebrating this year the 100th anniversary of the dedication of its building with a weekend of activities early in November.

A dinner and program at the Statler-Hilton Hotel on Friday, Nov. 3, will be followed by a homecoming banquet in the church house on Saturday, Nov. 4, with open-house scheduled as an all-day public program for that same day.

Sunday, Nov. 5, will mark the formal dedication service in the church sanctuary with Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, Minister Emeritus of the church, speaking.

Organized in 1804, Central Church began its function in the Detroit area in a rough log building on a site in the area which is now Dearborn. The church later occupied buildings on the corner of Gratiot and Liberty, also Randolph and Congress, finally to build on the corner of Woodward and Adams where a small chapel was erected in the "suburbs" in early 1864.

Construction began on the present sanctuary soon after the cornerstone was finally laid on July 3, 1866. Total cost for the impressive gothic cathedral and chapel was $136,000.

Since the turn of the century, Central's pulpit has been occupied by theologians and orators of national and international fame. These have included such men as H. Lester Smith, Lynn Harold Hough, Joseph M. M. Gray, Frederick B. Fisher, Henry Hitt Crane, James H. Laird and presently Dwight S. Large. Dr. Crane held the longest pastorate in Central's history in what Central has described as "Twenty golden years."

Theme for the Central anniversary celebration is: "Conscience of a City," which was gleaned from a phrase of Dr. Lynn Harold Hough in 1922, when he said "The church building is a conscience made visible to the naked eye."

A history of the hundred years of occupancy of its present building is in progress and will be available for the November 3rd event. It is entitled "Conscience of a City" and has been written by D. Dale Hughes of Detroit.

Central made a distinguished impression during post World War II with its Wednesday evening lecture series when world famous persons in the arts, sciences, education, law, government and many other realms were invited to its lecture platform.

During the 1920's, it sponsored an array of sports such as baseball, basketball, handball, etc. Its girls' basketball team at one time held a national title with the winning of 106 consecutive games. It housed a gymnasium and bowling alleys and promoted league and open bowling in Downtown Detroit.

The public is invited to participate in any of the events scheduled. Tickets for the Friday, November 3rd Dinner are available at the church office. Past members and leaders have been invited from all over the United States as well as from foreign countries to help in this momentous celebration.

Sculptor Raids Junk Heap

The lecturer used an acetylene torch instead of a pointer. In place of a blackboard he had an eight-foot stepladder. His visual aids looked suspiciously like a pile of rusty farm implement parts. The class, officially 150 students but unofficially counting many inquisitive passers-by, was spread out on the lawn behind Oakland University's Wilson Hall. What in the world was happening?

A happening.

ON THE PODIUM, Detroit sculptor Morris Brose was participating in the novel "Lecture and Events Series" of the University's Charter College, one of two small residential colleges at OU. The topic all semester will be communication in all its varied aspects, and Brose was showing the students how an artist seeks to communicate through his work.

His words came haltingly as he toiled. The finished work, he said, would depict nothing from man's physical world—such as a horse or a tree—but would be in the form of a visual statement concerning man's soul.

He had rummaged through scrap heaps of a nearby junkyard to buy the ingredients of his sculpture, picking the parts for their pleasing shapes. He held up one jagged piece of iron, rusty and pitted with age.

"I DON'T KNOW exactly what this was called," he said, "but it was apparently some sort of farm utensil used for tilling the soil or harvesting. I like its shape. It has strength, power. It reminds me of a medieval battle ax."

His words stopped while he pulled goggles over his beret and began brazing the "battle ax" onto a disc of boiler plate and steel I-beam base. Another hunk of iron was raised into place, adjusted to fit the sculptor's creative urge and welded to the others.

The goggles came off. The lips pursed. The eyes squinted. "It is already emerging as a statement," he said. "It is almost sufficient as it stands... yes, almost sufficient."

A ladder was juggled into place beside the growing form and additional remnants of broken cultivators, seeders, harvesters and what-have-you were clamped, banged, twisted and welded in place. After 90 minutes, Brose stepped back with a bow and said his work was done, his statement made. The students applauded.

BROSE, who lives in Highland Park, teaches studio art at Oakland University. Before joining the faculty as a lecturer in art four years ago, he taught at the Detroit Society of Arts and Crafts and Cranbrook Academy.

He will have a one-man show at the Fisher Building's Kessel Gallery in Detroit on Nov. 8. His works have been shown in a number of New York galleries, as well as in Chicago, Rome, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, and the Detroit Institute of Arts and other Michigan galleries.

In Antarctica

Airman Apprentice Barry F. Aneda, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Aneda, of 31565 Lee Lane, Farmington, is participating in Operation Deep Freeze in Antarctica with Air Development Squadron Six.

TAMING THE MALE ANIMAL. Barbara Shotwell and Dennis Broadhead are shown rehearsing a scene from "The Male Animal." The Farmington Players production opens Nov. 3 at the Players Barn on 12 Mile Rd. Additional performances are scheduled Nov. 4, 10, 11, 12, 17 and 18. Tickets may be reserved by contacting Virginia McNeely at 476-2749.

Museum Show To Trace Trends In Graphic Arts

Important trends in prints and drawings between two World Wars are now on exhibition at the Detroit Institute of Arts in Gallery 48.

From the collections of Lydia Winston Malbin, of Birmingham, who is a member of the City of Detroit Arts Commission, and Paul G. Lutzeler, director of school-community relations for the Livonia Board of Education, and from the museum's permanent collection, the show is limited to artists of France, Italy and Germany, and artists who worked in these countries. It will extend through December 10.

ELLEN SHARP, curator of Graphic Arts, explained the exhibition of European Graphic Arts as "An opportunity to show long-unseen works from the museum's permanent collection in significant relationship with recent loans from these two outstanding private collections."

Five distinct aspects in art are seen in the show: Futurism—represented by the drawings of Umberto Boccioni, the principal figure in promoting a theory which emphasized the modern world of the machine in dynamic motion. The museum is fortunate to have on loan from Lydia Winston Malbin 263 drawings and 42 etchings by Boccioni, the largest body of his work in existence.

German Expressionism—the most influential graphic movement of modern times. Artists Kirchner, Kollwitz, Barlach, Corinth, Dix, Kokoschka and Marc are shown in representative lithographs and woodcuts.

Bauhaus Art—Schlemmer, Feininger, Klee, Itten, Kandinsky.

sky, Moholy-Nagy and Lissitzky created most of the works in this group, which are on generous loan to the museum from Paul G. Lutzeler.

French—Braque, Villon, Seignac, Derain, Matisse and Chagall.

Picasso—the greatest and most prolific artist-printmaker of the century.

LUTZELER does not consider himself a collector—the works of art he acquired while a cultural affairs officer assigned to Berlin in the years following World War II are incidental to the period in his life most rewarding and satisfying for friendships made among artists whose lives and careers had been disrupted by persecution and war.

Desiring to help his friends, Lutzeler subsidized the artists by buying their work. Without any planned approach, he gradually assembled a large collection of prints and drawings which he has entrusted to the care of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The exhibition of European Graphic Art is open to the public without charge. The Detroit Institute of Arts is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesdays; 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesdays through Sundays.

Film Series Slated

Three landmarks in the documentary film—"The Plow that Broke the Plains," "The River" and "The City"—will open the Film as an Art series at the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 17.

The Fall series of films is titled "The Shorter Film" and will concentrate on productions of less than feature-length made since the mid-thirties. The Film as an Art is sponsored by the museum's Theatre Arts Department. There is no admission charge for the films and auditorium doors open at 7:30 p.m.

The three films of the first program depict the changing state of man's environment. Both "The Plow that Broke the Plains" and "The River" were written and directed by Pare Lorentz and created considerable comment when originally released. Virgil Thompson composed the scores for both films.

Succeeding programs on Nov. 14 and Dec. 19 will feature films of Maya Deren and Norman McLaren as well as "Bells of Atlantis," "Night Mail" and "Boundary Lines."

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN'

Oscar Wilde's frothy classic "The Importance of Being Earnest" examines the heady convolutions of boy-girl relationships in a most sedate fashion. Audiences never cease to appreciate the complex entanglements associated with beguiling, wily females.

On the campus of the Oakland University, the Meadow Brook Theatre gave renewed support to the eternal relevancy of "The Importance of Being Earnest" as it opened season number two for the John Fernald Professional Repertory Company. Costumes were properly flouncy. The scenery had an odd, melodramatic flair that added a tongue-in-cheek quality to the comic proceedings. The actors handled their lines with alacrity, great gusto, and punched home the Wilde epigrams most competently.

"THE IMPORTANCE OF Being Earnest" keeps the audience in a happy frame of mind. Curt Dawson and George Guddall romped expertly through the lead roles. They added the extra spit and polish so necessary to this very British piece of theatrical frippery.

Eric Berry seen last season at Meadow Brook as an actor made his debut as a director with "Earnest." His approach to this comic classic was quite stylized and gave a stifling stiffness at times to the action. However, the real test of audience reaction would seem to exonerate Berry. The patrons were laughing and enjoying themselves immensely at the antics of two English lads given to telling "little white lies" that suddenly turned into disastrous situations for them.

Excellent support came from Leora Dana, Bonnie Hurren, Herbert Foster, and Barbara Caruso. Their talents blended beautifully with the gyrations of Mr. Dawson and Mr. Guddall. This successful sextet bounced the Wilde dialogue back and forth with the grace of ethereal badminton players.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" will continue at the Meadow Brook Theatre through Nov. 6. It's lots of fun and well worth the 45 minute trip from Observerland to the verdant hills of Rochester, Mich.

MEANWHILE over in Ann Arbor, the APA premiered "Exit The King," a rather morose, foreboding avant-garde piece of theatrical endeavor. Eugene Ionesco penned this symbolic effort back in 1961. It has never seen the light of day in this country. The Broadway boys felt it was too pessimistic.

Old Wally agrees. "Exit The King" is far too morbid in its implications. While it may be a brilliant opportunity for an actor such as Richard Easton to show how versatile he is, why do we have to suffer the entire evening with a weak script?

Ionesco has written some excellent one act plays. His "Rhinoceros" a full-length exploration of how conformity is going to be our undoing is perhaps one of his finest. "Exit The King" will someday rank as one of his minor works.

Fortunately, this impassioned drama runs only an hour and a half. The curtain is up only minutes when King Berenger's Queen Marguerite announces boldly that the King will die at the end of the play and he has an hour and a half to live. However, even with this fact established the evening tends to drag and the 90 minutes seems to be a full two hours.

"EXIT THE KING" has been described by experts as a "groan at death and a cheer for life." I found little of the latter in this play. The actors dwell extensively on man's failures, his fears, and his frustrations. Death was the main subject and it was worked over from every conceivable angle. Occasionally, Clayton Corzette as The Guard attempted to inject some of the zany humor usually associated with an Ionesco script. The audience was a bit too mesmerized by the undue emphasis on the King's great fear of death...and little laughter filled the Lydia Mendessohn.

"Exit The King" could lead to many in the audience beating a hasty exit in an attempt to avoid a subject too near their own heart.

Show Cancelled

New York producer Theodore Mann has informed the Theatre Arts Department of the Detroit Institute of Arts that the national tour of "Hogan's Goat," has been cancelled. The William Alford play was scheduled by Detroit City Theatre Association for the museum auditorium Nov. 9, 10 and 11.

Mann's office gave as the reason casting difficulties in forming the national touring company.

Seminars To Cover U.S. Musical

The Musical Theatre in America, a series of five seminars tracing the beginning, the development and refinement of the American Musical Theatre will be offered on Thursday evenings, 8-10 p.m., beginning Oct. 19.

Co-sponsoring the series with OCC are the Clawson Stagecrafters and the Clawson Board of Education. The seminars will be held in the Clawson Junior High School library, 150 John M Rd.

Program coordinator is Robert Falk, OCC assistant professor in drama-comedy.

The program is as follows:
Oct. 19—Another Opening, Another Show, a montage of recorded musical history as an introduction of this unique genre of theatre.

Oct. 26—"The Musical on Film." The Broadway box office success of musicals was assured by the gala musicals of the thirties and forties on film. This session will feature the musical film, "The Bandwagon" featuring Fred Astaire, Cyd Charisse and Nanette Fabray.

Nov. 2—"The Folk Musical," features a live presentation of the Kurt Weill folk opera, "Down in the Valley," a musical that is uniquely American, combining elements of opera, drama and dance. This is a celebration of the folk legend in America.

Nov. 12—"The Roar of the Greasepaint-The Smell of the Crowd." The national touring company presents this "new musical comedy; a musical of unique form. Members of the touring cast will meet with seminar students prior to curtain for a discussion period. (Reserved seat for this performance, 7 p.m., at Madison High School, is included in the seminar fee.)

Nov. 16—"The Future of the Musical in America." With increasing production costs and a change in perspective of many new musicals, what will be the future of the musical comedy in America? Conducting this session will be Prof. Russell Smith, technical director of the Bonstelle Theatre, who has just returned from a highly-successful Far East tour with "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Fee for the seminar is $20 and registrations may be mailed to: Cultural Affairs Office, Community Services Division, Oakland Community College, 2480 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills, 48013.

For further information, call 642-6210.

U-D Alums

The "25 Club" of the University of Detroit Alumni Association will hold open house from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 20, in the Latin Quarter.

There will be refreshments, a buffet and dancing at this 17th annual party. Reservations at $6. per person may be made through the Department of Alumni Relations at U. of D.

Carpenter Cast In Role

Gary Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Jones Carpenter, 17398 Westbrooke, Livonia, will appear as Wilson in the Eastern Michigan University Players' production of Mary Chase's comedy, "Harvey," which opens the 1967-68 season.

Harvey, a six-foot tall invisible rabbit, becomes the close friend of Elwood to the horror of his socially-ambitious sister, Veta, and her daughter, Myrtle Mae. The attempts of Dr. Chumley, psychiatrist, and other characters involved, to cope with Harvey lead to an amusing evening in the theatre.

Performances are scheduled in Quirk Auditorium at 8 p.m. Oct. 12, 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. Oct. 13 and Oct. 14, and 8 p.m. Oct. 15.
