Police Unity Aim Of County Agency

Effective coordination of law enforcement units in Wayne County during riots or disaster control is the aim of a Wayne County Sheriff's staff committee recently released.

The report is being studied by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, Sheriff Peter L. Buback and the county medical examiner committee.

It specifies need for a standing force of 250 men under the command of Buback and describes various circumstances under which other men will be used.

Uniform training for personnel of all police and Sheriff's departments would include equipment and ammunition orientation, practical demonstration and squad training, and riot and crowd control exercises.

CONTROL PLANS would be implemented to include:

A fully developed communications network, isolation of affected areas, utilization of fire and public utility forces, enlistment of public utilities, ambulance services and hospitals, assistance to injured and homeless, ample quarters for detention of lawbreakers, cooperation with prosecuting officials and courts -- and appropriate legislation to enable imposition of curfews and restrictions by local officials.

The Sheriff's staff committee is still researching and evaluating means of accomplishing these objectives.

Under the suggested plan the Sheriff's road patrol command officer would be notified by the department in the locality affected.

A Sheriff's command officer would then be dispatched to the area to evaluate the situation. Other community departments in the task force would be then advised of one of several intensities of procedure.

EITHER FULL committed strength of the county-wide task force, more or less, depending on the type and magnitude of the emergency, would proceed into action according to pre-arranged guidelines -- always under supreme command of the Sheriff.

Attempts are being made to secure Federal Communications Commission authority to establish a task force communications channel.

Use of this channel and then relays to other mobilized men along existing department channels will originate at a mobile field unit stationed in the disaster area.

It will be the nerve center under the Sheriff's command, assisted by the local chief and state police.

PROCEDURE in major disorders and riots, such as those in Detroit last July which prompted the staff study, will be followed up by notification of state police to advise the governor, when deemed necessary.

Adjoining county Sheriff's and the Michigan Sheriff's Association could be advised and asked for help, also.

Mall Sets Show Of Max Posters

Posters have become the biggest thing in the art world, and one of the biggest artists in the poster world will be in Livonia this Saturday.

Peter Max, internationally known poster artist from New York, will be appearing in person at the Livonia Mall from noon to 1:30 p.m., to personally sell and autograph his posters.

The event is being held outside, just opposite from Kresge's in the Mall.

Proceeds from the sale of posters will be shared between Max and the Metropolitan Critical Areas Project, a voluntary group funded partially by the federal government, which operates under the auspices of Campfire Girls, Inc.

Max, whose work extends from posters to oil paintings and ceramic designs, is in the main stream of op-pop-psychedelic art. He lives in New York, and has exhibited abroad.

Produced in many colors by lithography, Max's posters and others like them have been featured in several national news magazines as an effective aid to home decorating.

Drinking Drivers Face Hard Days Ahead

Implied Consent Act Becomes Law

Michigan's drinking drivers will reach the point of no return Thursday when the historic and controversial implied consent law goes into effect.

The average male, weighing 150 pounds, could find himself behind bars for drinking three bottles of beer.

The measure was signed by Gov. George Romney last July after he had noted that 50 per cent of the state's 2,000 fatal accidents each year involved drinking drivers.

The law zeroes in on not only drunk drivers, but all persons who give police a reason to believe they have been drinking excessively.

Persons can be convicted of both driving while their abilities are impaired by drink and driving under the influence of alcohol.

Officials can measure blood, breath, saliva or urine to determine the extent of drinking, although the driver may demand the breath test. Blood tests will be administered by a nurse or physician in a hospital or clinic, and may not be performed on hemophiliacs, persons with diabetes or any condition requiring anticoagulants.

THE MEASURE is not without expense. Officials note that $441,419 is budgeted for the first 12 months. Of this, $220,000 will be used to buy 188 breathalyzers and to train 300 policemen in their use.

The law, which takes effect at 12:01 Thursday, works like this. A policeman, having reasonable suspicion that a driver has been drinking, arrests the driver. The driver is then told that he can take or refuse the test.

If he volunteers, he is taken to a test center. If he refuses, he may still be charged with drunk driving and the policeman must prove his case in court. "But if the driver does refuse, he's in trouble," says a spokesman for the Secretary of State's office.

The arresting policeman will submit a sworn statement to the Secretary of State that he had reasonable grounds for requesting the test. If evidence at a hearing of the License Appeal Board does not contradict this (the driver must request the hearing within 14 days of the arrest, the hearing to be held within the next 10 days), the Secretary of State must automatically revoke the driver's license for 90 days to two years.

IN THE act, there are three levels of alcoholic effect. ● A person with .05 per cent of 100-proof liquor in his system may be judged impaired. At this level, however, corroborating evidence is required, such as testimony of the arresting policeman or witnesses.

● A driver with .10 per cent is automatically presumed to be impaired.

● The person with .15 per cent is automatically presumed to have driven under the influence of alcohol.

According to these levels, a 150-pound person who consumes 2 1/2 ounces of 100-proof liquor in one hour on an empty stomach may be judged impaired. The man who downs five ounces is impaired, and the fellow who dumps down 7 1/2 ounces is considered to be under the influence of alcohol—he's drunk.

An important provision of the act is that physicians and nurses called to administer blood tests are guaranteed immunity from prosecution for malpractice, unless their actions were in disregard of accepted medical practices.

Tests cannot be administered to dead or unconscious persons.

BREATH TESTS, the most common of the exams, will be administered on breathalyzers. These machines collect a driver's breath, then measure the alcoholic content according to how much the alcohol discolors chemicals. The machines have been installed at each of the 13 Detroit precinct stations, all State Police posts and at least one place in each county.

Conviction for driving while impaired and under the influence of alcohol has the same maximum penalty—imprisonment for 90 days and a fine of $100. But conviction for driving under the influence is the more severe, because the driver must file proof of financial responsibility—he must carry high-risk insurance, which can run as high as $700 a year. Conviction for driving under the influence also means a mandatory 90-day suspension.

'Politics' Clips COG Wings

An unhappy Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, says the Legislature has turned the proposed southeastern Michigan Council of Governments into "a political football."

"A year ago, I would never have thought this would have happened," said Hamlin, of Farmington.

The veteran county official, a champion of inter-government cooperation and a leader in the COG movement, referred to last week's fight in the State Senate over enabling legislation for regional councils.

THE SENATE scuttled an original broad bill proposed by Sen. Gilbert Bursley, a liberal Republican from Ann Arbor, and adopted 27-5 a substitute bill offered by three Oakland GOP conservatives—Robert Huber of Troy, George Kuhn of West Bloomfield and L. Harvey Lodge of Waterford.

Purpose of COG would be to provide a regional forum for the discussion of local governmental problems. The conservative substitute, however, restricted the types of problems COG could discuss and eliminated schools from membership.

The Observer quizzed four persons close to the bill to get their varying views.

SEN. KUHN, who represents most of Observerland, emphasized "safeguards" that the substitute bill contained.

First, the original bill provided for a COG of 25 per cent appointed officials and 75 per cent elected. The substitute Kuhn co-sponsored provided for representation only by elected officials—"so the citizenry can get at 'em."

Second, schools were eliminated from membership, Kuhn said, because most COGs in other states also eliminated them. But he pointed out that the Senate municipalities committee, which wrote the substitute, had agreed to give special study to school membership next year.

Third, "social problems" were eliminated, and a list of 16 specific problems was substituted. Kuhn said this list would give any COG "enough authority for now."

Fourth, the substitute will protect the rights of non-members of COG who seek federal grants, inasmuch as COG would have advisory powers of approval over some federal grants. A non-member of COG would be able to get an answer on its application for federal funds within a limited period, Kuhn said, and would also be able to get a written statement of reasons if the application were disapproved.

Kuhn said opposition to the substitute came only from "liberal, extremist" Democrats.

SEN. ROGER CRAIG, Dearborn Democrat, was one of the five who voted "no" on the substitute bill.

"It's not as good as no bill at all. They just offered it so The Detroit News wouldn't bother Sen. Huber any more," said Craig, referring to the daily's opposition to the activities of Senate conservatives.

Craig said the conservatives have "a paranoid fear of the spectre of metro government. . . . But this isn't metro government."

Craig said it was wrong to eliminate school—including community college districts—from COG membership. They could benefit from cooperative purchasing arrangements, provide research work, gain efficiency by cooperating with municipalities on elections.

The Dearborn lawmaker also attacked the substitute bill for eliminating "social problems" from COG's possible agenda and for confining COG's agenda to a list of 16 problems.

"That assumed cities will be interested in the areas they (the bill's sponsors) have listed and won't be confronted with new problems," said Craig.

district extends north to Redford, felt it wise to hold off on letting school districts join COG.

A former teacher at everything from elementary to community college and university levels, Mrs. Beebe said "I've talked to a couple of superintendents who were both interested in first in the Council of Governments.

"But later they had reservations, and they were relieved when schools were left out," she said.

"Although it's voluntary, this (COG) is a major step, and I'd rather see us move slowly and make sure we're on the right track."

Because she is a former teacher and has many school districts in her senatorial district, Mrs. Beebe has asked to become an ex officio member of the Senate municipalities committee when it begins studying whether to allow schools into COG next year. She believes the committee will invite her.

DEM LEADERS go over future strategy with U.S. Senator Philip Hart during the fund raising dinner Friday at the Thunderbird Inn. The group includes: (from left) former Congressman Wes Vivian, of Ann Arbor; Jerry Sixby, Democratic chairman of Livingston County; State Representative James Tierney, of Garden City; and Hart.

Pupils Get Vacation; Teachers Go To School

THE YOUNG AND THE ELDERLY both found enjoyment at the craft and hobby show put on at the Livonia City Hall by five Senior Citizens groups from Livonia last weekend. (above) Marie Pelc looks over a table full of careful work done by some of her community's older residents. (below) Mrs. W. H. Kolen shows some of the Thanksgiving favors she made.

Pupils from Observerland Schools will have Thursday and Friday off while teachers leave the classrooms to attend the annual institute programs at 16 instructional centers throughout a four county area.

The conferences, sponsored by the Michigan Education Association for teachers in Wayne, Macomb, Oakland and St. Clair counties, has been organized to emphasize the improvement of instruction. The sessions do not include the City of Detroit.

Small campuses have been organized to provide in-depth sessions to meet every imaginable interest from art through special education. For example, the Livonia schools are hosting the art workshops, while educators interested in business and cooperative education will find their programs in Detroit, Oak Park, or Ferndale.

Or, teachers will journey to meetings scheduled for Wayne and Ferndale if they are interested in family living or home economics. Those wishing to update their knowledge of audio-visual education will find their interests met in Livonia, as will teachers of foreign languages.

MEETINGS IN LANGUAGE arts are slated for high schools in Warren, Royal Oak, Farmington, and Birmingham. Mathematics teachers will spend their time at specially-prepared meetings in Warren and music educators will go to Oak Park and Mount Clemens.

Instructors in physical education will journey to Port Huron for their two-day sessions, as will teachers of driver education. Utica will host sessions in pre-school and early elementary education.

The science programs are centered at Romulus High School, social studies at Troy High School, and special education at Lincoln Park. A center for professional activities will be located in Garden City.

The forthcoming two-day learning experiences constitute a practical means of solving instructional problems that face every classroom teacher.

Schools Hear Plea $150,000 To Aid Handicapped Sewer Arm Proposed

In an earnest plea to the Plymouth Community Board of Education, Jeff Cardinal, who suffered a spinal injury last summer and now is confined to a wheelchair, has asked that better facilities be provided for the handicapped "so they won't have to go through what I went through to get my education."

Jeff appeared before the Board last Monday evening and asked that serious consideration be given to the installation of elevators in all buildings and that ramps be constructed to make things easier for the handicapped to get to classes.

"There were times last year," he said, "when friends carried me to class, or up the stairs, in order that I could complete my education. And I am hopeful that other handicapped persons who may follow me will not be put to such effort."

It was through this help from his friends that Jeff completed his high school course and was graduated with his class last June. He now is attending Henry Ford Community College.

"I also am a sports fan," he told the Board, "and I would like to see the basketball and football games. But it is almost impossible for me to enter the back door at the high school gym and there are poor facilities at the football field."

Speaking for the Board, Superintendent of Schools James Rossman pointed out that state law now requires that elevators be provided in at least three schools in the area—an elementary school, a junior high and the high school.

"We are providing an elevator in the new High School," he informed Jeff, "and we will do what we can to improve conditions in the other areas. Certainly, we could build a ramp over the steps at the rear of the high school gym to provide easier access to the basketball games. And we will do whatever we can to provide all the help possible in other areas."

Jeff thanked the Board for its understanding and remarked, with all the courage he has shown since being injured in a bike accident on Sheldon Road two years ago, "We don't like to rely too much on others and I want to see other handicapped persons get all the education possible."

barn, silo, smoke house, well house and windmill.

In other action at Tuesday night's special meeting, the members of the board unanimously voted to name No. 8 elementary school, a new 420-student kindergarten through sixth grade building on Joy Road near Haggerty Road, after former school teacher Gertrude Fiegl who served in the Plymouth Community School District 36 years until her retirement. She now resides in Ann Arbor. The motion was made by Board member Joanne Hulce and seconded by Carl E. Schultheiss.

Dedication ceremonies of the Gertrude Fiegl School will be held this Spring.

Bids for a proposed addition to the present administration building, at 1024 South Mill Street, were opened from three contractors. The latter and their base bids were Garascia Company, $79,395; H.F. Good Company, $79,635; and Perfection Company, $71,600. A recommendation from the architect, O'Dell, Hewlett, & Luckenbach, Inc., pertaining to the bids, will probably be voted on at the board's next regular meeting on Monday. The new addition would provide expanded general office facilities and a school board meeting room but several board members indicated disappointment at the bids' high figures.

Burroughs Nearing Normal Operation

Conditions are gradually getting back to normal at the big Burroughs plant on Plymouth Road now that an agreement has been reached on a new pact with the UAW and the first strike in the company's history has ended.

The men returned to work on Tuesday morning after being idled by the strike for little more than a month. Some returned Monday morning to prepare the plant for the influx of the 3,000 employees. The strike effected 4,500 employees in the three Burroughs plants.

The agreement was reached suddenly last Thursday night and was ratified by a vote of 2,125 to 654, when the members cast their votes last Saturday at the Temple Baptist Church in Detroit.

ACCORDING to an announcement made by Thomas J. Katona, Jr. president of Local 1313, the new contract calls for an increase of 78 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits over the next three years.

Here is how the new pact works:

Workers who now receive an average of $3.40 an hour will gain a 2.3 per cent increase in salary and benefits each year for the next three years. Skilled tradesmen also will receive an immediate 30 cents per hour increase.

Pension payments, now listed at $2.80 a month for every year of service will rise to $4.25 per month per year of service in 1968 and to $5 per month beginning in 1970.

KATONA LET it be known that the Union also won—

1—Three holidays, one effective this year and two in 1968. This will bring the yearly total to 10.

2—Three weeks vacation for workers with 10 or more years of service and four weeks for those with 25 years or more, beginning next year.

3—Ten cents an hour extra for women on double rate, or incentive workers.

4—Three days off with pay in case of death in the immediate family.

When the announcement of the agreement was made both sides admitted "we're glad it's over."

School Staff Will Attend

A team of three Plymouth Community Schools staff members will participate in a research training workshop Nov. 20 through Nov. 22 at the University of Michigan.

The three are: John M. Hoben, Plymouth High School assistant principal; Keith Baughman, Plymouth High School vocational education instructor; and Reynald Borzi, federal projects coordinator.

The workshop will attempt to focus on activities that will help staff members.

Seventeen men of the Livonia area, have been assigned as Army Privates, in the United States Army Training Center, at Ft. Knox, Ky., where they will receive their initial eight weeks of military training.

They will spend the next two months learning all the fundamental skills of a soldier in today's modern, action army, and will fire more than 500 rounds of live ammunition under simulated combat situations, including those encountered at night, during a three-week course with the soldier's basic weapon--the M14 rifle.

These men will also be taught protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks and close-in combat, and will be schooled in the use of the hand grenade, bayonet and hand-to-hand combat.

The men are: Privates Robert S. Smith Jr., son of Mr. Robert S. Smith of 29356 Jacquelyn Drive; Daniel C. Dakiewicz, son of Mr. Casimir Dakiewicz of 31658 Perth; Peter W. Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Bryant, 14074 Farmington Rd.; Mark M. Trombetta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Trombetta, 9050 Brentwood; Terry W. Ciesielski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. ## GM Studies How Trucks Ruin Roads

LANSING---One of the biggest question marks facing today's highway design engineers is how to predict accurately the effect heavy trucks will have on the life expectancy of pavements and bridges.

The variables involved in the problem are many because the dynamic forces exerted by a vehicle are a combined function of its weight, the nature of its suspension system -- including the tires -- and the motion of the vehicle relative to the road surface.

THESE FORCES may be further modified by pavement roughness, the operator's driving habits, and changes in the apparent weight of the vehicle due to aerodynamic lift and pitching.

The State Highway Commission reports that a $137,000 contract has been awarded to General Motors Corp. by the National Cooperative Highway Research Program (NCHRP) of the Highway Research Board to develop and experimentally verify a method for predicting the dynamic loads that will occur at the tire-road interface.

The 18-month study will be conducted by GM's Military Projects Engineering Staff headquartered at the Company's Technical Center at Warren and the field work will be conducted on Michigan highways in co-operation with the State Highway Commission.

Tots Invade Sears' Toyland

Christmas is fast approaching and to small children this means laughter, heightened expectation and new toys.

With only 47 shopping days left until Dec. 25, Sears Livonia Mall at Middle Belt and Seven Mile roads, has opened its toy department.

Five tots came early to make their selection of toys from the toyland's hundreds of toys.

Parents, that accompanied them, held their breath hoping that their offspring would leave something for somebody else.

All were wearing clothes selected from Sears' own Winnie the Poo collection.

As they roamed the toy department they were careful not to miss anything that might go on their list of what they want for Christmas.

All enjoyed the elaborate set up of miniature race cars.

BELOW—Michael Cleary isn't quite sure what to concentrate on first.

Patti Friess especially enjoyed listening to a rag doll say "mama".

Kevin Cleary may choose a train.

They need practice but the table was just right.

Patti Friess and Laura Mazuroski inspect an oven.

Member Loans
On New Cars

Automobile Club of Michigan will begin offering automobile financing to its 775,000 members beginning November 1, Plymouth Division Manager Thomas O'Hara announced today.

"Auto Club members will be able to finance new or used car purchases at considerable savings under this service," O'Hara said. "We will charge $4.50 per $100 per year, compared with $5 to $6 per $100 now charged by most other financial institutions."

"Called 'AAA Member Loan,' the new service can save AAA members a substantial amount in interest charges," O'Hara said. Applications can be made by phone or in person by members at any of 57 Triple-A division offices in Michigan.

Dr. McClendon Gets High National Award

A Plymouth resident and nationally noted educator has been honored with one of the highest awards of the 12,000-member American School Health Association.

He is Dr. E.J. McClendon, of 40742 Crabtree Lane, a consultant in secondary education for the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

McClendon was presented the Distinguished Service Award of the ASHA at its annual fall conference. Members of the Association include physicians, dentists, nurses, educators and others involved in the school health field.

The Plymouth educator has served on a number of councils and committees of the ASHA, and is a past president of the Michigan School Health Association and a life member of its Board of Directors. The Michigan organization, itself, awarded him its Distinguished Service Award in 1962.

He is presently chairman of the Schools Program Advisory Committee of United Community Services, chairman of the Public Education Committee of the Michigan Heart Association, and a member of the Public Education Committee of the American Cancer Society. In addition, he is a founder and officer of the Michigan Educational Research Council and a charter member of the ASHA's own research council, and is author of a number of research and study reports of national scope.

Brown Named
Burroughs Boss
On Coast

Plans for a $22-million new plant operation in Western Los Angeles County, Calif., were announced Tuesday by the Burroughs Corporation, and a former manager of the company's Plymouth division has been named its general manager.

Construction on the new 400,000-square-foot California development is slated to start in early 1968. When completed it will almost double Burroughs' West Coast production when added to the firm's two other plants' manufacturing capacities in California.

John E. Brown, promoted to Plymouth plant manager in 1955 and now manager of Facilities Planning for the Business Machines Group of Burroughs in Detroit, will head operations of the new plant which at full production will employ 2,000 persons.

Area Veterans Share Big Pension Increase

"Vietnam era and older veterans and dependents in Michigan's 2nd Congressional District are expected to receive an increase of $668,880 in benefits from the Veterans Administration in the next 12 months," Congressman Marvin L. Esch said this week.

The added payments go to veterans and their widows and children in various benefits provided by the Veteran's Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 which passed the House unanimously and went into effect on Oct. 1.

"A major provision of the new G.I. Bill was a cost of living pension increase," Congressman Esch said. For an estimated 3,350 Congressional District constituents, this will account for nearly $188,770 of the added benefits.

Congressman Esch estimated that additional readjustment assistance for approximately 170 eligible veterans will cost about $39,410 with the increase in educational and training benefits for more than 1,700 eligible veterans and dependents totaling approximately $440,700 in the first year of operation of the new G.I. Bill.

It also provides the range of benefits for veterans serving in the Armed Forces during the Vietnam era, beginning on August 5, 1964, which have previously been authorized for veterans of the Korean Conflict, including disability compensation at wartime rates, various education and training allowances and other benefits.

Congressman Esch said that veterans and their widows and children in his District may obtain detailed information on the benefits and services to which they may be entitled under the Veteran's Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 from any VA office. He also offered the help of his office for any person experiencing difficulty in receiving veteran's benefits.

DPW News And Notes

It was Fall clean-up and fix-up time for the Department of Public Works in Plymouth the past week.

Leaves were cleaned up and tulip bulbs planted in city parks and the Riverside Cemetery entrance, and grading work completed on Hamilton, Roe, Rose and Mill Streets and the Blunk and Farmer Street intersection.

Cold patching was completed from Ann Arbor Trail to M-14, Main to Mill, Theodore to Sheldon, and Junction to Penniman. In addition, 300 feet of the old water main system was switched to the new water main on Sheldon Road.

Major streets have been swept throughout the city and catch basins cleaned at various locations.

School District In Dire Need Of Drivers

The Plymouth Community School District is in desperate need of bus drivers.

Mel Blunk, assistant superintendent for business, said, "If we are to provide good transportation services, then, of course, we must have qualified bus drivers."

The District has all the necessary equipment available.

But, Blunk said, school district residents see these vehicles sitting idle and wonder why their children aren't being picked up on time or don't get picked up at all.

The only reason for this is there just isn't enough people to drive the buses all the time, he said.

Extension Of Terms In Township Opposed

State Representative John Bennett, Democrat of Redford Township, has won the backing of 19th Congressional District Democratic Chairman Aldo Vagnozzi in his fight to prevent an unconstitutional extension of the terms of township officials.

Redford Township's Alex Stewart was honored by Detroit Edison recently upon his 40th service anniversary. Stewart, who makes his home at 15390 Woodbine started his Edison career in October, 1927, as a messenger boy and is presently assigned to the company's marketing department.

officials will have longer terms than even the President of the United States and the Governor of Michigan and other township officers will be kept in office far beyond the two-year mandate which the voters gave them in 1966," Vagnozzi said. "Rep. Bennett is correct in challenging whether the Legislature can impose an unconstitutional extension of terms of township officials far beyond the period for which the voters elected them. We can't keep local government responsive if we don't give the voters a chance to elect their officials every two years."

"We would hope the Legislature takes action soon to correct the problem. If they don't the Democratic Party organization will take under serious consideration Bennett's request for court action to declare the extension of the terms of township officials unconstitutional," Vagnozzi said.

JOHN GLENN High School's second Homecoming Queen will be picked Friday night from a field of five candidates of senior girls, which includes (left to right) Cindy Balmer, Tami Brown, Nancy Jackson and Debbie Lally. Not available for picture, was Rita Belvins. The homecoming parade will start at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the high school and continue to the Wayne Memorial High School football field where the Rockets will face Taylor Center. A highlight of the program calls for principal Frank Higgins and the student council president to deliver the game ball after being flown to the field by helicopter. The queen will be crowned during the half-time ceremony. The formal dance will be Saturday night. Today, Wednesday, there was an 8 a.m. breakfast for the football team, followed by a bonfire at 8 p.m. in the school parking lot and a hootenanny, including the school choir, in the cafeteria.

Jaycees Urge Change In Psychopaths Law

The Westland Jaycees are actively urging legislative change with regard to the trial and treatment of criminal sexual psychopaths.

As the law now stands, the CSP is sent to the state mental hospital in Ionia after a determination of his condition is made by the committing court following his arrest for a crime or crimes of a sexual nature. No set time of imprisonment is made by the court and potentially the CSP, after once convincing the hospital authorities he is no longer a menace to society, may be allowed to walk out of the hospital a free man without paying for any of his crimes.

ACCORDING TO Dr. A. A. Birzgalis, Medical Director Ionia State Hospital, "a large majority of CSP's are competent to stand trial and are responsible for their sexual offenses."

He said that CSP's should go to trial for their sexual offenses and if convicted receive sentences.

He added "In this respect the same procedure should apply to them as to persons who are accused of (other) felonies."

The CSP's are not insane, according to Dr. Birzgalis, in the sense they are not responsible for their acts. The CSP often feels he is above the rules and mores of society and does not have to obey society's laws.

Currently, under the Michigan Criminal Sexual Psychopath Law, Act 165 of 1939, a mentally-competent, non-psychotic, legally sane person can escape prosecution for any crime and remove himself permanently from the jurisdiction of any court, simply by demonstrating a history of sex deviation, no matter how minor or unrelated to the crime such deviation may be.

THE ADOPTION of the resolution by the Westland Jaycees came Oct. 23 after the adoption of a similar resolution by the Board of Directors of the Michigan Jaycees on Oct. 21. Both resolutions call for the same provisions in the law.

The Jaycees are asking that "all sex criminals, if competent, stand trial and be sentenced for their crimes. If the court determines that the subject is a criminal sexual psychopath and needs and is amenable to treatment he should be committed to a suitable institution for such treatment.

"If at the end of his sentence he is still in such an institution and is still considered a menace to society he shall be committed civilly as a mental incompetent."

"If before the expiration of his sentence he is considered to have received maximum benefit from treatment he should be returned to the sentencing court to either be released or committed to a penal institution for the balance of his sentence."

Representative Roy Smith of Ypsilanti is currently the chairman of a legislative committee investigating the CSP law. His committee report agrees with the Jaycees' findings in that CSP's are competent and responsible individuals that should be held accountable for their crimes.

Youth Killed

The Vietnam War was brought a bit closer to Garden City recently when a local family was notified that their only son was killed while serving with the Army.

The latest Garden City victim is Pfc. Rodney Cline, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cline, of 32974 Sheridan Street.

Notification of the death came along with four letters from the young man on Saturday, Oct. 20.

The youth, who was killed the day before, graduated West High School in June, 1966, and worked as a driver for Flying Tiger Line, Inc., before entering the Army.

Cline entered the service in January and had been in Vietnam since August.

He had hoped to study art and become a commercial artist after serving his military duty, the boy's father said.

Insurance Claims Increase

LANSING—Claims payments from the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund are on the rise, notes Secretary of State James M. Hare.

August was the highest month in the 20-month history of the Claims Fund when nearly a quarter-million dollars was paid out in claims with each claim averaging out to nearly $1,300, said Hare.

Average per claim paid during the two months of this fiscal year is over $1,000, Hare said.

Repayments by uninsured motorists to the Fund for the two months were close to $32,000.

"We are now seeing the real impact of some of the heavier personal injury claims," Hare said. "During the first few months of the Fund's operation, we were averaging about $300 per claim. This marks an astounding rise and presents pretty graphic evidence of why it would be ill-advised at this time to abolish the $1.00 insured fee. I don't know just how high our average payment will go, and it might be a good idea to wait until we hit a stabilizing point before we begin even thinking of lifting the insured fee."

Mothers Attend Workshop

Sixty-two members of the Garden City Co-op Nursery attended the fall workshop of nurseries recently in the Henry Ford Community College.

Topics presented included an introduction to the Adult at Work; Children at Work; Basic Psychology; Creative Art, Science in the Nursery School, and Woodworking.

In the lecture on "Children at Work," the mothers were told that every child should learn two things—to love and to work.

In the workshop concerning "Basic Nursery School Psychology," it was emphasized that play is serious business and that a child needs encouragement and praise; a feeling of self-worth, experimentation, pride in achievement, independence, self-confidence, responsibility and fun.

Dancing Lessons

The Garden City Parks and Recreation is interested in beginning a modern square dance instruction class beginning in January and running once a week for sixteen weeks.

The fee is $16 per couple. Needed are 10 or 12 couples interested to begin this class and any interested persons should contact the Recreation Department and leave their names, said Ray Wiacek, Parks Superintendent.

One Slogan For Car Plates

LANSING—The confusion which surrounded last year's two slogans on Michigan license plates will be clarified this year when all 1968 plates will bear one slogan, "Great Lake State."

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, the new slogan will appear on all passenger and commercial license plates which go on sale November 1.

Last year, said Hare, "Michigan was the only state in the country to sport two slogans... 'Water-Winter Wonder' and 'on all passenger vehicles and "Great Lake State" on commercial plates.

Under a new plan unveiled only this week by safety and insurance officials, a new license slogan, "Courteous Driver State," has been proposed. Hare is presently mulling the new theme over and will render a decision soon on whether to keep the present slogan next year or adopt the new one.

"Both seem to have strong support," Hare said.

The "Great Lake State" slogan was spawned by the tourist industry of Michigan, Hare said, and is an interesting approach.

"It's bound to attract attention because people will think we've made a colossal goof and that it really should be 'Great Lakes State,'" mused Hare.

Beyond this, it has a triple barrel theme. First of all, the word Michigan is derived from the Indian word 'michigama' which means 'great or large lake.' Secondly, the slogan spotlights Michigan's favored geographical position nestled among the Great Lakes. And the third promotional aspect involves Michigan's thousands of inland lakes.

Jaycees Ask For Stop To Caboose Vandalism

The Westland Jaycees have issued a public appeal to end the recent acts of vandalism at the railroad caboose installed last month in a city park. Jaycees Secretary Bruce T. Fisher pointed out that the group "does not want the actions of a few vandals to take away the fun and enjoyment from the deserving Westland children."

In the Jaycees' letter, it was pointed out that the caboose, built 80 years ago, will serve as the group's permanent office and mailing address in addition to being a historical monument in the park at Wildwood and Hunter Streets.

Fisher said in his letter:

JACK SHINKMAN, Livonia Mall Shopping Center developer-operator, has been appointed state director of Michigan by the International Council of Shopping Centers for the second straight year.

Traffic Up On Soo Bridge

"WE BELIEVE these acts of vandalism reflect the attitude and upbringing of only a very few youngsters. We must also appeal to the par-

SAULT STE. MARIE---The International Bridge reports that its traffic was up 3.4 percent during the first nine months of this year while revenues increased five percent.

Authority Chairman James D. Brophy, of Grosse Pointe said 637,797 vehicles crossed the span linking the American and Canadian Soos between Jan. 1 and Sept. 30 compared to 616,847 during the same period a year ago.

Revenues during the first nine months of 1967 totaled $761,289 compared to $724,926 during the same period in 1966.

Franklin, Glenn Share

The Northwest Suburban Six League football championship again belongs to two schools. This year it's Livonia Franklin and John Glenn.

Franklin had to beat Glenn Saturday morning to finish tied for the top.

And Franklin won, in convincing fashion, 26-6.

Thus both teams wound up the conference campaign with identical 4-1 records. North Farmington missed out on a triple tie by losing the night before to Birmingham Groves, 26-18.

To Bob Bentley, the Franklin coach, it was a happy moment.

"Our boys finally were hitting and smacking," he said after his charges had carried him from the field.

"When they hit that way and have the desire, they just can't be beaten. If we had played this way against North Farmington (the team that beat Franklin), we could have won this all by ourselves."

A FEW FEET away from Bentley stood Coach Bob Lusk of Glenn.

He leaned against the school bus and declared:

"We have no alibis or any excuses. We're proud of our boys. This is the first time we've been a co-champ. And we still have a shot at finishing the season with a 7-2 record."

Lusk admitted that he could see his team might have its problems against Franklin "way back on Monday when practice for the game began."

"We were sky high against North Farmington," he declared. "And winning that one...well, it's happened to college and professional teams...there's that inexplorable letdown."

"Besides, maybe our boys figured they had a share of the title wrapped up...and that had something to do with the mental approach to this one."

"But we can take nothing away from the way Franklin played against us. On this day they out-horsed us."

In simple terms, Glenn was outmanned.

FRANKLIN DID what good teams do to win. The Livonians hung on to the football.

In the first half, for example,

Franklin yielded the pigskin for only 12 plays.

Meantime, Franklin built up a 19-0 lead, added another touchdown soon after the second half started...and from then on...it was an easy morning (the game started at 10 a.m.).

Franklin went to work early. From the opening kickoff, the Livonians moved home 70 yards, pretty much on the ground.

It took 15 plays to cover the distance with a Bill Heilstein to Gary Sica 14-yarder the only pass in the march. The ball went down to the Glenn three from where Sica barged across for the touchdown.

Touchdown No. 2 chewed up 12 plays, starting from the Glenn 30. Wally Wolf went for the touchdown on a short buck of a single yard.

Before the half was over, Franklin counted again...with Pete McLain scooting 29 yards for the counter. The drive covered 39 yards in six plays.

TO BEGIN the third period, Glenn received, but could make no headway.

On fourth down, the pass from center sailed over the Glenn kicker's head and Franklin got the ball on the Glenn 12.

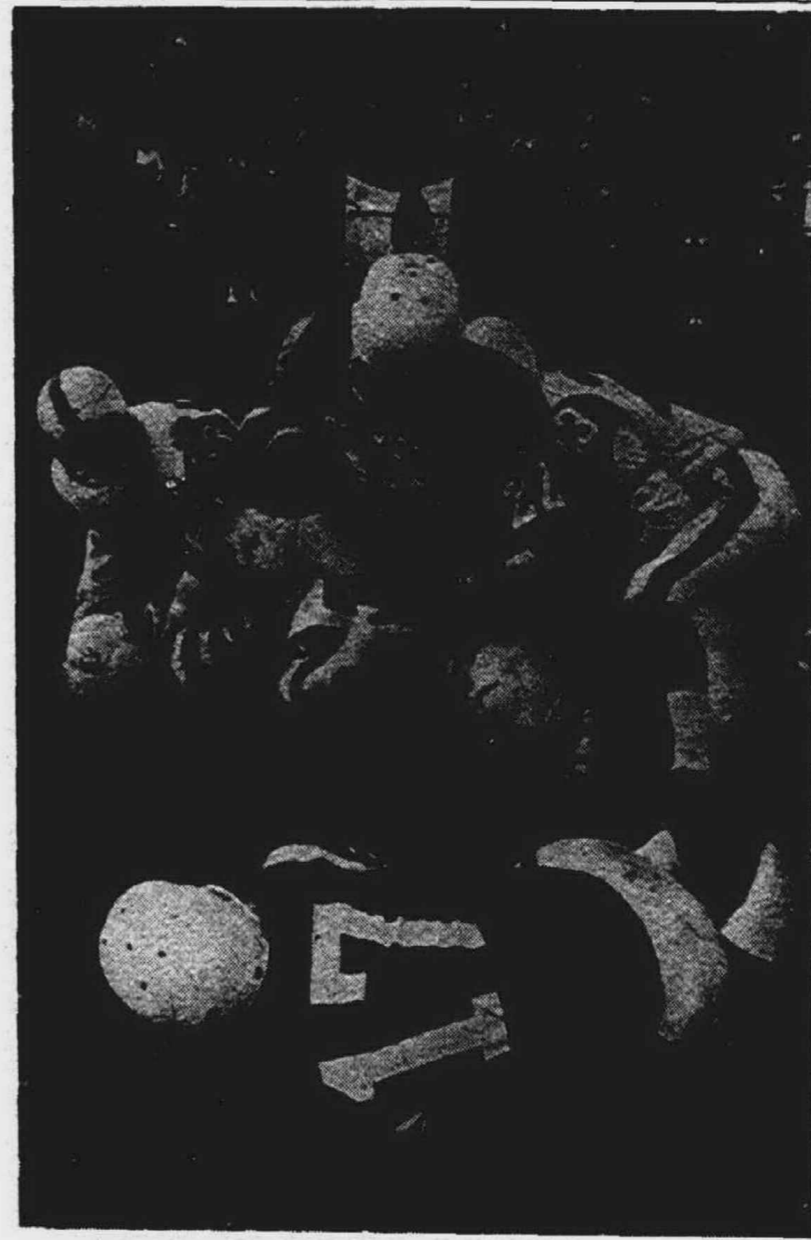

Sica, Denny Hopkins and McLain slammed down to the two from where Hopkins went in for the TD with just four minutes played in the second half.

Thereafter, the ball changed hands without either team mustering a serious attack...that is until the final four minutes of the game.

Franklin started back on its own 23. McLain scooted to the Glenn 48...Hopkins to the 26 and Heilstein hit Sica on the 20 before the Glenn defense arose to stop Franklin and take over the ball on its own 18.

Steve Wozny, the fine Glenn QB then uncorked a pair of nifty passes, one went to Grey Hubbard, the other to Jack Wotring. The latter toss covered 15 yards for the touchdown that averted a shutout for Glenn.

Only eight seconds remained, just time enough for the kickoff.

FRANKLIN'S Gary Sica plunges over from the two yard line to help his team whip John Glenn in the decisive game Saturday on the Franklin gridiron.

RU, Twins Run Ways Into State

Redford Union a team champion...the Williams boys of Farmington one-two for individual honors.

That was the story Saturday in Class A regionalists to determine honors and qualifiers for next Saturday's state championships in Ypsilanti.

Redford Union won its team laurels with little trouble, piling up 67 points to runnerup Ypsilanti's 97. Third-place went to Franklin.

Only the first two teams qualified their full contingents for the state meet.

Bob Junk placed third overall to lead Redford Union, while Joe Traller was tenth, Dennis Kenney 12th, Dan McLain 18th and Doug Savich 19.

Jack Clark of Franklin along with teammate Buddy Hallett finished fourth and 15th, respectively, and also earned trips to the state meet.

ANOTHER QUALIFIED on an individual basis was Tom McGhie of Bentley, who ran ninth.

The Williams boys, Larry and Gary, finished in that order in the regional held at Farmington. Larry's time was 10:16.8 and his brother's 10:19.

However, they couldn't help their team to any honors because Pontiac had the low score with 89 points and Brother Rice was next with 111, followed by Walled Lake 126.

Farmington trailed with 162 and North Farmington had 189. Rick Randle, of North Farmington, was eighth overall and with the Williams boys will now get a shot at the state title.

"City" Battles On Gridiron

Two big "intra-city" struggles highlight this week's high school football schedule as the campaign ends for many teams.

On Friday it'll be Franklin at Bentley; on Saturday Redford Union at Thurston.

Franklin and Bentley will be clashing in what amounts to their rubber game.

Franklin won the first two meetings, Bentley the last two.

Stevenson Tops Northern

The "babies" showed 'em something...the babies being Stevenson high's football team.

The newest of the teams in the Interlakes Conference came through with a 20-7 victory over Pontiac Northern Saturday to wind up tied for second with Northern on a 2-2 record.

Add to the fact this was the first season Stevenson had seniors on its varsity, and there's logic that Coach John Reardon has reasons to be proud of his charges and call the job "well done."

It's also to be noted that champion Walled Lake beat Stevenson by just one point and tough Flint Southwestern downed the Livonians by two points.

STEVENSON SPOTTED Northern a touchdown before striking back on the passing of Jerry Dettner, the running of Dale Danver and some tremendous defense play.

The defense had Reardon most excited, declaring:

"What a job those kids did. Northern four times in the second half threatened by getting inside our 20. But our kids wouldn't let them get any closer."

THE WORK of Larry Meyers, Stan Edwards and Chuck Sobczak brought special praises from the coach. Meyers made 11 tackles and assisted on another, Edwards brought down 10 foes by himself and got one assist. Sobczak was 6-2.

Northern scored first when Dan Coin went over from five yards out and made the extra point.

Back came Stevenson in the second period to take the lead on two bombs by Dettner, who now has fired five touchdown passes this season.

He clicked for 30 yards to Nick Exharos for a six-point. But the try failed and Stevenson still trailed, by a 7-6 score.

In the next thrust it was Dettner to Ron Ochola for 28 yards and the counter. Gene Walker ran the point to make it 13-6 for Stevenson.

Danver, a workhorse runner all afternoon, scooted in from the eight and Walker ran the point to finish the scoring in the third period.

Stevenson totaled 116 yards rushing, with Danver earning

A SPORT COLUMN PRODUCED IN DOT-DASH FASHION:

If a group of young ladies can get together and form a football team, why can't our area high schools do more for the coeds in the way of interscholastic sports programs?

From our standpoint, it certainly would be most refreshing to be able to mention the "lovelies" more often than we do on these Observer sports pages.

How come there's no football meeting between Stevenson and Bentley High? Or Franklin and Stevenson?

In this respect, we can't understand why the three Livonia schools aren't locked together in the same league...ditto for the two Garden City schools...and Farmington and North Farmington.

Since the weatherman seems to have a lot of "snowy" ideas for us this winter, we might suggest you pay a visit to the annual ski show that runs Friday through Sunday at the Light Guard Armory on East Eight Mile in Detroit... Could be, all of us will need skis to get around during the weeks and months ahead.

However, and we're more serious, skiing has to be the fastest growing sport in Michigan. It's a fun activity, one in which one doesn't have to boast any special physical ability to participate... The fact the ski areas now are within an hour's ride of most of us also makes the sport so much more attractive for Michiganders.

Nice to hear that General Manager Jim Campbell is out of the hospital and back at his desk at Tiger Stadium... Campbell's one of those men who works quietly, but at the right moment you know he's around... You can look for him pulling off a couple of major deals this winter...

Don't be surprised if three or more high schools join Stevenson in sponsoring a prep soccer team next fall. The success of the sport has Stevenson officials buzzing. Not only has the school's first team been a winner, but the interest has been tremendous. Besides, soccer is a very inexpensive activity... and schools, like everybody else, appreciate something worthwhile which doesn't cost much.

The Williams brothers, Gary and Larry, certainly have made for an interesting cross country story this fall at Farmington high school. Their constant duels, their fights right down to the wire and the fact neither will concede anything to the other all have added up to another thrilling chapter in schoolboy sports hereabouts.

They're looking for sellouts when Franklin meets Bentley... Redford Union battles Thurston... Garden City East squares off with Garden City West... and North Farmington collides with Farmington.

You couldn't ask for any more excitement on the closing day of the season!

IT'S FOLLY to say that because of all the sports action on television, "live" attendance has tumbled. People don't believe in staying home when they can be on deck for the REAL thing.

Redford Township's Gordon Preston, the public relations director for the Detroit Cougars soccer team, is back on his feet after surgery on his back.

Preston, looking slimmer and healthier, already is bouncing around telling how the Cougars will train next spring in Kingston, Jamaica, of all places. How's about it, Gordon—don't you think somebody from the Observer should be along to report what the Cougars do?

East Streaks To Win 3rd Straight On Grid

Team Finally Begins To Jell

Better late than never...and that's the way it is this fall for the Garden City East football team.

The East season started on a sick note—four straight defeats.

Now East has a three-game winning streak going and a chance to finish 5-4 on the campaign and also win the "big one" from Garden City West for the city championship.

"It just took us some time to jell," explains Coach Gay Humphrey. "Now we're clicking in all departments."

Click East did Friday night in downing Inkster, 26-0.

East had the offense...and the defense.

INKSTER MADE one threat. At the outset, the Inkster team moved with the ball to the East 30. There the big East defense forced Inkster into a fumble. East got the ball...and quickly the Garden City team asserted itself.

Before the period was too old, East rolled for 50 yards with Jack Palmer and Gary Spencer leading the way to the 20 from where Spencer broke away for the game's first touchdown.

In the second period, East covered another Inkster fumble—this one at midfield. Bill Crowell did some nifty running and then at the Inkster 21, Jim Santilli drove into the line, came up free and scooted untouched for the touchdown that added to the East lead.

Another recovered fumble set East in motion for its third touchdown.

This recovery took place on the Inkster 35. More punching at the line and East was down to the Inkster five from where Spencer ran into the payoff land for the second time in the game.

EAST TOOK OVER on the Inkster 40 in the fourth period and moved for its final touchdown, this one on a seven-yard scamper by Jim Burton.

East stuck pretty much to the ground because of the rain and mud and did pretty well... 283 yards. In contrast, Inkster was held to 50 yards running, but picked up 140 in the air.

Talk about balanced attacks, East had one against Inkster. Palmer made 55 yards rushing, Spencer 54, Burton 49, Crowell 45 and Santilli 30 to give East a final 3-2 in Mid-Wayne League play.

Defensively, it was Gary Lear and Pat Moore who stood out for East which plays at Oak Park Friday afternoon and then winds up against Garden City West the following Friday evening (Nov. 10).

Ullman Still Benched

The chances of Livonia's Norm Ullman returning to action with the Detroit Red Wings this weekend appear on the slim side.

Ullman, the veteran center ice star, suffered a slight separation in the shoulder last Sunday when the Wings beat St. Louis, 1-0.

It originally was feared he might be out for two-three weeks. Then it was felt he could play by this weekend.

Now the indications are Ullman won't play until Thursday when the Toronto Maple Leafs appear in Olympia.

The Wings, who were to meet Philadelphia Saturday night in Philadelphia, are home this Sunday against Chicago.

Boston Celtics basketball team, was walking down the lobby in the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel the other evening. A shoeshine boy looked up at the massive Russell and declared:

"I'll bet you used to play basketball."

Russell replied:

"I used to."

What an understatement!

IT'S WEATHER like hit the area Friday that causes high school administrators to wonder if it might be a good idea to push ahead the start of prep football.

Of course, it could be done, if the Lower Peninsula would just follow what they do in the Upper Peninsula.

Above the Straits, the preps begin practice in mid-August, start their seasons around Labor Day and finish up by mid-October.

It should be noted that even with the schedule followed in the Lower Peninsula, most of our teams finish two or three weeks ahead of brother schools in neighboring states. In many areas of the country—and not necessarily warm climate states—the preps play as late as Thanksgiving and the first of December.

R. Union Fluffs Big Chance

When opportunity strikes, it pays to capitalize.

Redford Union had its golden chance Friday night to keep Allen Park from finishing an unbeaten season in the Suburban Six league.

There was nothing RU could do about keeping the Parkers from reigning as undisputed champs, however. The Parkers had wrapped up the flag a week before.

And for the better part of the evening, it looked like Redford Union would snap the Parker's winning streak at six.

But, it wasn't to be.

With RU leading, 7-6, in the fourth period, the Townshippers put on a march that had the earmarks of a clinching touchdown.

The Parkers arose, though, stopped RU on the 20 and then turned around, marched 80 yards to score and pull out the victory 12-7.

Thus, the Parkers fashioned a 5-0 league record compared to a mark of one win, three losses and a tie for RU.

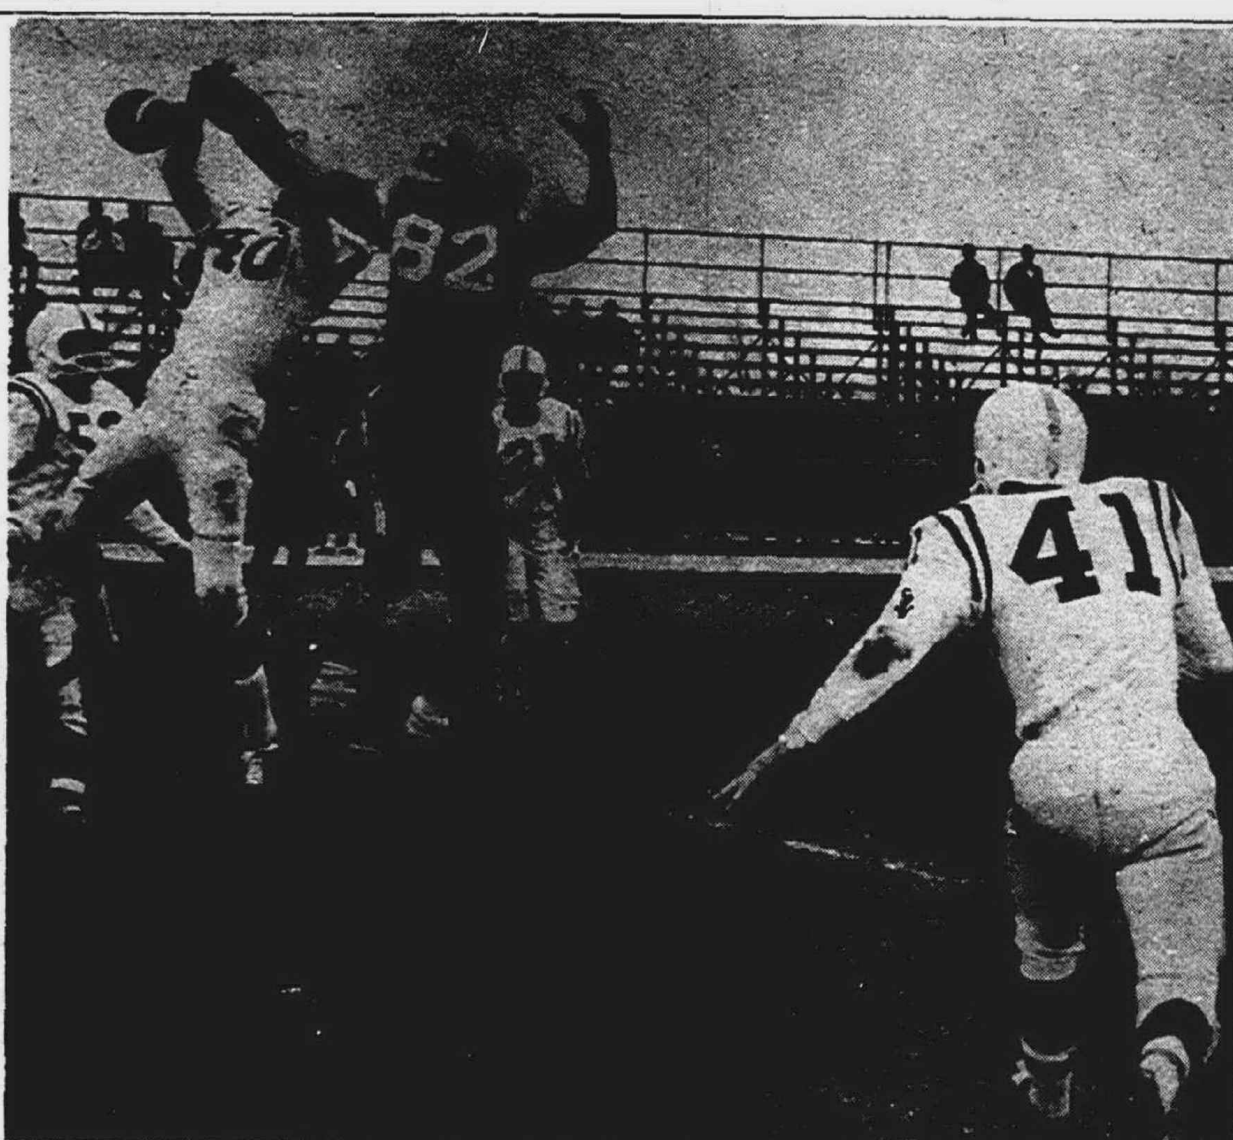

"I THOUGHT we had them on the ropes," said Coach John Rogers of RU. "But they (Allen Park) are an aggressive team. They delivered when they had to."

Redford Union had gone ahead in the first period when Larry Plantrich slammed in from the six to cap a drive of some 60 yards in which George Corombas did a good share of the ball carrying.

That's the way matters stood until a second remained in the third period.

A drive carried some 50 yards with Ray DeMart going the final two.

Then came the payoff effort in the fourth period with Chuck Beany going over from a yard out for the winning score.

PASS HEADED for Stevenson's Nick Exharos is batted down by Barry Webb (40), of Pontiac Northern. Just a few moments earlier Exharos grabbed a long toss to score his team's second touchdown in the league victory.

Two Quarters Enough

Thurston high's football team finally put together at least two good quarters Saturday and in doing so beat Oak Park, 4-12.

The good quarters came in the first half when Thurston tallied all four of its touchdowns.

As Coach Bill McDonald explained:

"We won the first half, Oak Park the second."

For after Thurston left the field with an intermission lead of 24-0, the Townshippers bogged down when they returned while Oak Park perked up to score twice.

"It's pretty hard to say much to a team in the dressing room when they come in with a 24-point lead," added McDonald.

The big play of the afternoon for Thurston was a record-breaking gallop of 99 yards by Bob (Bo) Bryant.

THURSTON HAD stopped a

Parker drive on its own one and appeared to be in trouble. But Bryant slipped through the line and it took a great tackle from behind to haul him down a yard shy of a touchdown.

Last-Second TD Defeats Sorrows

All that was left were five seconds...and that's all that St. Frances de Sales needed to produce a touchdown which beat Our Lady of Sorrows, 20-13, in the final game of the Catholic League season for both teams.

Sorrows had led early in this game in which the Farmington team had a chance to share the divisional crown, had Orchard Lake St. Mary's lost.

But the way the game ended, Sorrows had to settle for third place with two losses in seven starts.

Quarterback Mike Stella teamed with Roger Bruce to pull off the dramatics for St. Frances de Sales. They clicked on the last-ditch touchdown and it turned a certain tie game into a win for de Sales, a loss for Sorrows.

Tim LaFond had counted from the two-yard line for Sorrows and Mike Briolat on a 17-yard dash.

Stella then went a yard for his team's first score and passed 15 yards to George LaFave before striking on the game-winning toss.

In all Stella passed for 187 yards in the game.

The record for the most punts in a single game by a Wayne State University football player is held by Wes Carols and Jack Seitzinger. Both punted 8 times in 1952 and 1965 respectively.

Happiness Turns To Falcon Blues

WINTER ARRIVED early for this Farmington High cheerleader who braves snow and wind during the home game with Mt. Clemens Friday. It was a dismal afternoon and the Falcons lost, 13-0, to make it even more dismal.

It all began on a happy note for Farmington high school in football.

Now it's winding up with little to cheer about.

Two games remain for the Falcons... Friday night against strong Southfield and a week from Saturday against North Farmington.

A victory in the last one could ease the pain of what has been happening on most weekends thus far.

Last Friday was typical. In the rain and mud and freezing weather, the Farmington attack was stopped cold by Mt. Clemens, which came through with its fifth victory in seven games, 13-0.

Because of the conditions, Mt. Clemens didn't leave the ground.

The Bathers didn't have to. They chalked up 208 yards rushing.

Meantime, they bottled up the Farmington attack to the point that the final statistics showed the Falcons with a negative 15 yards for the afternoon's work.

Dan Wolfman, the fine Farmington quarterback, didn't get a chance to do much. He found himself constantly being surrounded... by the enemy.

Mt. Clemens turned two big breaks into touchdowns.

In the first period, a blocked punt gave Mt. Clemens the ball on the Farmington 14 and John Stewart smashed up the middle to score from the 10.

In the fourth period, Farmington was pushed back to its one. There Chuck Brown was tackled. He also fumbled the ball, which rolled into the end zone and into the hands of Mt. Clemens' Sheriot Goudelock for a touchdown.

Farmington had one serious threat -- reaching the Mt. Clemens 30.

Second Half Knocks Out St. Agatha

The second half proved too much for St. Agatha High's football team in the windup game of its 1967 Catholic League season.

After holding St. Francis Xavier to a 14-14 standoff in the first two quarters, St. Agatha fell apart defensively after the intermission and wound up a 41-14 loser.

Ron Blackmore had run 11 yards for St. Agatha's first touchdown. Then Mike Murphy flipped a 51-yard pass to Dave Urban for the other counter.

Two conversions by Mike Brown helped St. Agatha stay even at halftime after Ken Mehl and John Bedo tallied for Xavier.

In the third period, Don Dionne broke the tie for Xavier. Then Bedo scored twice and Dionne once more in the closing 12 minutes to put the game out of reach.

Comeback Proves 'Greatness'

Just how good a team is usually is determined by what it does when it's down.

Bentley High's football forces were just that -- down -- after losing two of its first three starts in the Suburban Six League.

But Bentley came bouncing back, first by beating Plymouth and then by trouncing Belleville, 32-0, Friday to finish its league season with a 3-2 mark and get set for its big city clash with Franklin next Friday night.

"It doesn't take much to get our boys up for Franklin," said coach Larry Joiner of Bentley. "But I'd sure rather have the kids going against Franklin with two fine games under their belts, instead of a couple of losses."

Plymouth Jayvees Gain Tie For Title

Plymouth High's junior varsity, coached by Wayne Sparkman, assured itself of a share of the Suburban Six League JV championship with a 19-13 victory over Bentley. Both entered the game with unbeaten records.

The Rocks rolled up a 19-0 edge in the first three periods and then staved off the final quarter surge by the visitors that carried them within a touchdown of a tie.

Bentley threatened early in the opening frame when it marched to the Plymouth 18 before a fumble ended the drive. The Rocks came right back and drove 82 yards for the touchdown with Bruce Yakley going over from the two, making the score 6-0.

A BENTLEY fumble on the Plymouth 40 sparked a march in the second quarter that ended with a six-point drive and a 12-0 margin.

Yakley climaxed the parade when he found Jon Cederberg wide open in the end zone with fourth down and goal to go on the Bentley eight.

Plymouth boosted its margin to 19-0 in the third quarter when Bob Coloia dropped back to punt but took off goalward instead and raced 39 yards for the marker. Terry Wagenschutz converted to give the Rocks the first extra point of the contest.

BENTLEY ROARED BACK in the final stanza and broke into the scoring on a double reverse that caught Plymouth napping on the Rocks' 12.

Then should before the final gun, a Plymouth punt was blocked and picked up by a Bentley lineman who scampered 39 yards for the six points.

Wagenschutz was the big ground gainer for Plymouth with 112 yards. He has picked up more than 500 yards in four league frays. Other Plymouth standouts were Bob Clayton, Doug Kimble and Gary Stoddard.

L.I.T. Hits New High In Students

Lawrence Institute of Technology has an all-time record enrollment of 4,329 students. This is the official report of the Fall attendance announced by Dr. Wayne H. Buell, L.I.T. president.

A breakdown shows the number of students following bachelor of science programs total 1,989 in day college and 1,528 in evening college on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The balance of 812 attend various associate degree technology programs on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in the Technical Institute Division.

The previous high enrollment was 4,313 in 1965.

L.I.T. offers bachelor of science programs during the day or evening in engineering, architecture, science and management. The associate degree programs are in the technologies: chemical, mechanical, industrial supervision, electrical and electronic and building construction.

L.I.T. is located on a 70-acre campus at Northwestern Freeway and West Ten Mile in Southfield.

Fischer Will Head College Boards Group

Harold Fischer, chairman of the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College, has been named to the executive committee of the Michigan Association of Community College Boards. Fischer, who lives in Plymouth, was instrumental in the organization of MACCB and served as its first president last year.

Plant Tours Set At Fisher Body

Beginning Thursday the Fisher Body, Livonia plant, which is a division of the General Motors Corporation located at 28400 Plymouth Road, Livonia, will start conducting a weekly plant tour on a continuing basis each Thursday at 1 p.m.

The tour is arranged to cover the majority of operations in the plant and is currently scheduled to last about one hour.

The Fisher Body, Livonia plant was acquired from the Detroit Transmission Division of General Motors on May 8, 1954. A complete rebuilding job was started immediately as the plant had been almost totally destroyed in August, 1953, by one of the largest and most costly industrial fires in history.

The Livonia plant performs what is known as trim fabrication operations and is designed to produce finished upholstery materials for a wide variety of body styles for the various General Motors Car Divisions.

The plant started operations on June 1, 1954, on a limited basis with a few key people transferred from other General Motors plants.

The plant has grown steadily over the years, both in number of employees and physical size. The average employment for 1966 was 4,001 employees, with a payroll of over $28 million, and the dollar value of local products purchased for plant use was about four and one-half million dollars.

Employees also donated $83,000 to the United Foundation in 1966.

All visitors are welcome to participate in the tours and they need only report to the main lobby prior to the start of the tour each Thursday at 1 p.m.

Any interested groups or organizations will also be welcome if prior arrangements are made for a specific date and time.

Plymouth's Dr. E.J. McClendon Honored By Health Association

Dr. E.J. McClendon, Wayne County Intermediate School District Secondary Education consultant who resides at 40742 Crabtree Lane in Plymouth, received the Distinguished Service Award of the American Health Association at the annual fall conference in Miami Beach.

Consultant McClendon was presented the Award in a special ceremony conducted by Dr. Harriett Randall, medical director of the Los Angeles City Schools. Dr. Randall is currently President of the American School Health Association, whose 12,000 members include physicians, dentists, nurses, educators and others involved in school health practices.

Dr. Randall indicated that McClendon had been chosen for the Distinguished Service Award because of the infinite variety and distinctive nature of his many services to the organization.

It was pointed out at the presentation that McClendon had:

Served as a member of the National Governing Council (1960-1967).

National Membership Chairman (1962-1965)

Secretary, Research Council (1961-1963)

Chairman, Research Council (1964-1967).

McClendon, a past president of the Michigan School Health Association, has been voted a life membership on its Board of Directors and received its Distinguished Service Award in 1962. He serves on numerous boards and committees concerned with health and education and is presently chairman of the Schools Program Advisory Committee of United Community Services, is chairman of the School Health Committee of the Michigan Heart Association and member of the Public Education Committee of the American Cancer Society.

A continuing interest in research has led to being a founder and officer of the Michigan Educational Research Council and a charter member of the Research Council of A.S.H.A.

He is the author of many research and study reports.

McClendon is Consultant in Health Education, Senior Consultant in Secondary Education and is also Curriculum Director for Special Project, Wayne County Intermediate School District.

Cranbrook Series To Cover 3 Areas Of Sex Education

Dr. Richard Hettlinger, nationally known professor and writer, will be the keynote speaker Nov. 11 when The Cranbrook Curriculum Center opens its conference on "Sex Education in the School."

A professor of religion at Kenyon College, Hettlinger is one of the leading advocates of sex education in the schools based on the belief that student attitudes toward sexuality are as important as biological information.

He is in addition the author of "Living with Sex—The Student Dilemma."

THE CONFERENCE will explore three major areas: first, that students must develop healthy, practical attitudes toward sex in order to cope maturely and sensibly with the day-by-day challenges.

Secondly, the need for good home-school relationships and thirdly, possible approaches for developing meaningful sex education programs at the various grade levels.

The conference, to be held Nov. 11 and 12, in Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, will host principals, teachers, administrators and board members of Michigan and Ohio schools. Sessions begin at 9 a.m.

Additional participants on Nov. 11 are: Mrs. Sally Williams, coordinator of family life courses, Anaheim (Cal.) Union High School District, and Dr. Calfred Broderick, associate professor of family development at Penn State University.

BOTH MRS. Williams and Broderick are members of the executive board of Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S. (SIECUS).

A FRIENDLY ENCOUNTER between Marines Past and Present. Lt. Col. Robert Raisch wears a uniform of 1831 while crossing swords with Col. John Rolfe, of Farmington, in modern day evening dress. The Marine Corps will celebrate the 192nd anniversary of its founding Nov. 10. The local celebration will be held at a dinner Nov. 10 at Roma Hall in Livonia.

Plans Underway For Student Study Tour Of France

A group of Farmington area high school students will spend six weeks studying and touring France this summer, under the auspices of the American Institute of Foreign Study, non-profit organization of teachers and high school students.

Mrs. Miriam Hall, teacher of French at North Farmington High, will chaperone the group, which is limited to 15 students. If more than 15 apply, final selection will be based on academic achievement.

THERE WILL be classes for beginners, intermediate and advanced students. Placement tests will be given upon arrival at the foreign campus.

If interested in this study tour, contact Mrs. Hall, room 204 NFHS, or phone 626-2511. The first of a series of meetings for interested parents and students will be held at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 1 in NFHS.

The tour will begin in London, where five days will be spent sightseeing, crossing the English Channel and then on to designated campuses in France.

THE SUMMER sessions are held at French universities, with classes taught by French professors. Four weeks will be spent in intensive study of the language and culture of the country at morning and afternoon classes.

Weekend tours will be taken by bus to neighboring countries depending on the location of the campus.

At the end of the tour at least three days will be spent in Paris and Versailles.

3 Residents Admitted To Honors College

Three Farmington residents have been accepted as members in the Honors College at Michigan State University. Honors College provides special academic programs for superior undergraduate students. To be eligible for admission, a student must have a 3.5 (A-minus) all-university grade average in his freshman year.

The local students are Terrence R. Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jabe R. Bacon, 22918 Maple, mathematics; John E. Hildebrandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Egon K. Hildebrandt, 27847 Kendallwood Dr., social science; and Richard L. North, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. North, 36416 Quakertown, University College.

Larkshire PTA Board To Meet

The executive board of Larkshire School PTA will meet at 7 p.m. this evening, (Nov. 1) at the school.

A room mother's tea will be held at 3:30 p.m. Nov. 7 at the school and a general PTA meeting will be held Nov. 8.

Youths Convicted

Alan Craig Harriman, 20, of 21007 Oxford, Farmington Township, has been found guilty by a jury on a charge of breaking and entering and will be sentenced by Circuit Judge Clark Adams, Dec. 6.

Harriman was accused of having attempted illegal entry of a market at 29600 Grand River last Feb. 8 and was convicted Oct. 27.

In another breaking and entering case investigated by Township police, a jury also has found four youths guilty of attempted illegal entry of a market at 28734 Grand River last June 19.

Facing sentence Nov. 24 by Circuit Judge Robert Templin are: Philip Harrington, 20, of 21339 Robinson; Sherman Litke, 20, of 21636 Whittington; Wayne Langren, 20, of 23151 Tulane, and Michael Casellin, 20, of Walled Lake.

Two Residents Join College A Capella Choir

Two Alma College sophomores from Farmington are members of the college's A Capella Choir.

Lynn Watzke, an alto in the choir, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Watzke of 24131 St. Mary's Court. Miss Watzke graduated from Farmington High School in 1956.

Mark E. Foster, a bass, is the son of Mrs. Joyce M. Foster of 23244 Violet. Foster also was a 1966 graduate of Farmington High.

The Alma choir, directed by Dr. Ernest G. Sullivan, this year will make two tours, one in Michigan this December and another to the eastern part of the country in the spring.

Six Ticketed After Accidents

Six motorists were ticketed on a variety of offenses over the past weekend in Farmington Township after their vehicles had collided with others. Only two of the citations were against local residents.

Dennis G. Gondick, 25, of 22100 Hawthorne, Farmington, was charged with failure to stop in an assured clear distance when he collided at 12 Mile Rd. and Kendallwood Dr. with an auto driven by Linda Rosenbauer, 20, of Lincoln Park.

George E. Yee, 20, of 3963 W. Nine Mile Rd., Farmington, was charged with changing traffic lanes without safe and proper observation, prompting an accident on Grand River.

Yee was accused of swerving into an adjoining lane and smashing into a vehicle driven by Robert Hemmi, 24, 23164 Haynes, Farmington.

No injuries resulted in either accident.

Non-Farmington motorists cited by Township police included:

Francis J. Frey, 20, of Clawson, for ramming the rear of a vehicle stopped for a left turn at Orchard Lake and 11 Mile Rds.

John J. Schultz, 45, of Detroit, charged with failure to drive with due care and caution after sideswiping another vehicle while both were westbound on Eight Mile Rd. near Middle Belt Rd.

Sylvia Belanger, 30, of Walled Lake, for disregarding a red traffic light at Northwestern Highway and Middle Belt, then striking another vehicle after turning onto Northwestern.

Raymond M. Schulman, 62, of Axtell, Texas, who was charged with failure to yield the right of way, causing an accident when he turned into the path of another vehicle on Nine Mile Rd.

Completes Basic

Florian A. Bugni Jr., 20, whose parents live at 33871 Harlan, Farmington, was promoted to Army private pay grade E-2 upon completion of basic combat training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Receives Honor

Debra Halperin, daughter of Rubin Halperin, 34760 Freedom Dr., has been named to the dean's list at Kalamazoo College, for achieving a 3.5 grade point average.

2 Major Stakes End DRC Season

VFW Issues Award

The return of Estreno II, winner of the $100,000 added Michigan Mile, and an appearance by Mial Spencer, one of the finest juvenile stars ever developed in Michigan, will feature the closing phase of the Detroit Race Course's 84-day meeting.

The long meeting at the Livonia track comes to a close Saturday when two Stakes will be contested.

The $25,000 added Auld Lang Syne Handicap is for three-year-olds and upward at a mile and one-eighth, while The Final Stakes is for two-year-olds at a mile and one-sixteenth with a purse of $15,000 added.

Estreno II, owned by Chicago clothing store executive Robert Ballis, pulled one of the major upsets of the 1967 season when he beat Hobson Farm's brilliant Handsome Boy in the Michigan Mile.

Handsome Boy came to the DRC with victories in three $100,000 Stakes to his credit and was the heavy favorite. However, with a dazzling stretch run the imported Estreno II overtook the Eastern star and won by a length and three-quarters.

Handsome Boy finished second, but then was disqualified for interfering with Carpenter's Rule during the stretch run and placed fourth. Second place then went to Tenzing II, with Carpenter's Rule third.

Carpenter's Rule is expected back to challenge Estreno II again in the Auld Lang Syne. The Holiday Stable's Tenzing II suffered a leg injury in the recent running of the Hawthorne Gold Cup at Chicago and had to be destroyed.

There were 26 nominations for the Auld Lang Syne. The Final Stakes sees the two-year-old stars being tested for their ability to go a distance.

Mial Spencer, owned by Mrs. Vera E. Smith and trained by the veteran Johnny Hart, won four straight victories prior to the running of the Graduation Stakes on October 14.

In the Graduation, Mial Spencer suffered his first loss at the hands of Verna Lea Farms, Strate Stuff.

Hart was hoping Mial Spencer would get a chance to even things with his conqueror, Strate Stuff. However, owner Gene Goff put up a $10,000 supplemental fee for his star to enter it in the $300,000 Garden State Stakes to be contested on Nov. 18.

As a consequence, Strate Stuff is bypassing the closing event at the DRC.

While Strate Stuff is going East, the Verna Lea Farm is expected to be represented in the Finale by the flashy No Double and Gene's Dancer.

Other probable starters include Greek Baron, Hark The Herald, Caribbean Line, Satin Gold, Nimble Sprite, Ovation and Campton Kid.

Local services club dues for Peoples Community Hospital Authority administrators will be paid by the PCHA with controls put on the new rule.

The PCHA Board of Directors, which includes delegates from Westland and Garden City, voted 19-5 Thursday night to allow the dues to be paid by the board for each of the four hospital administrators and two central office administrators.

The dues will be subject to approval by the authority's public relations and education committee.

Opponents of the action, Mayor Leo Paluch of Allen Park and Mrs. Audrey Seay, Trenton City Council member, felt that the move would "open up a Pandora's box" in the future.

MUD SOAKED and well chilled Mike Mazzoni, of Garden City West, watches game action as his team takes a whipping from Schafer High.

Schafer Too Much For West

It was a case of "too much" Schafer High at the expense of Garden City West Friday night.

Schafer made it 7-0 on the season and ended the West chances for a flag in the Tri Rivers League by scoring a 23-0 victory.

"No question that Schafer is a fine team... an excellent team... and we'd have had to been super great to beat them," said coach Harold Burkholder.

But the 23-point difference in the score bothered Burkholder.

"We aren't that bad," he explained.

What could have gone wrong? Burkholder wondered if, perhaps, a letter which appeared in a newspaper (not the Observer) charging West with aggressive play might have had some effect on the team's play.

"I'll grant we have suffered a lot of penalties earlier this season," said the coach. "But we certainly had no intention of hurting anybody. That's just the way we play—aggressive."

In the game with Schafer, West was tagged with a 15-yard penalty in the first quarter. "Something had to happen right there," said Burkholder. "We lost our aggressiveness and Schafer swept in for some quick scores."

During the rest of the game, West suffered only one other penalty -- a five-yarder in the last quarter.

The shutout was the fifth scored by Schafer this season in its seven victories.

A safety started the winners' scoring. Then they drove 60 yards with Ken Kovac going the final yard.

Jerry Schultz tallied the other two Schafer TD's. He went over from a yard out, then on a 24-yarder. He also was the big gainer for the winners, with 84 yards in 15 carries.

Generosity' Kills Off Farmington Chances

Giveaways are nice, under certain conditions. But not in football, or other sports.

Instead of winning the North-west Suburban League championship, or sharing the flag, North Farmington has had to settle for third place.

The reason: Generosity.

The Raiders fumbled away the ball five times in losing to John Glenn 10 days ago in their battle of unbeaten for sole possession of first place. A victory for either side meant at least a flag tie.

'Generosity' Kills Off Farmington Chances

Groves counted the next two TD's to take a 19-6 lead before Steve Hyne pushed in from the two for North Farmington. But 20 seconds remained in the half when North Farmington tallied again after a NF fumble on the Groves five. So that made it 26-12 at halftime.

Adamian then went in from the seven in the second half for the game's last score.

AS A RESULT Groves emerged a 26-18 surprise winner and when Franklin beat Glenn the next afternoon, North Farmington had to settle for third place instead of anything higher.

"Disregard our fumbles, and we played Groves on even terms," declared Ron Holland, the North Farmington coach.

The statistics showed that Groves outgained North Farmington by the slim margin of 280-270.

Groves pushed over all of its points in the first half and it proved too big a differential for North Farmington to wipe out.

Mark Shade counted twice on short runs of one and two yards, then Ron Douglas flipped passes to Gary Humming for 40 yards and Steve Chudik for 70.

GROVES SCORED first after North Farmington twice had stopped the Birmingham team, once on the two and then on the 20. But a fumble followed and Groves cashed in.

On the next kickoff Paul Adamian grabbed the kickoff and dashed 80 yards to score for North Farmington and tie the score at 6-6.

Wayne State University tall-back Jeff Cetlinski tied a school record as a freshman by punting eight times against Washington University last season.

Evening Choir Gets Director

Keith Sturdevant, conductor of concert choirs for the Highland Park school system and prominent music educator in Michigan, has joined the staff of Schoolcraft College as director of the college's Evening Choir.

Announcement of Sturdevant's appointment was made by Wayne Dunlap, chairman of the college Humanities Division.

STURDEVANT RECEIVED his bachelor's and master's degrees in music education from the University of Nebraska and has directed choirs in Michigan schools for the past 18 years.

In 1960 Sturdevant directed the All-State Honors Choir, and is certified by the Michigan State Vocal Assn., as a judge for choral festivals.

The Schoolcraft College Evening Choir was organized by Dunlap in the fall of 1964 as a community-wide choral group capable of performing the large choral master-works.

The choir developed a membership of 50 during its first year and performed with the Plymouth Symphony, of which Dunlap is conductor.

"WE INVITE all persons in the community who would like to join to attend a choir rehearsal as soon as possible."

The choir meets from 7:30 to 9:30 on Wednesday evenings in Room F-310 in the Forum Building. Parking is available in the student parking lot.

Membership requirements are ability to read simple music, some previous choral experience in church, school or otherwise, and regular attendance at rehearsals.

JOEL HEPNER and Joanne Stone are all set to appear in the leading roles of the Farmington Players Production of "The Male Animal" opening Friday at the Players Barn on 12 Mile Rd.

Actor Opts For Business

A man who dreamt of a professional acting career and was well on his way in training, when he opted for the more "stable" profession of a businessman appears in the male lead of Tommy, a 33-year-old English professor with strong beliefs about academic freedom.

He's Joel Hepner who operates a retail clothing store in Farmington.

IN THE PRODUCTION, opening Nov. 1 at the Players Barn on 12 Mile Rd., Hepner appears in the male lead of Tommy, a 33-year-old English professor with strong beliefs about academic freedom.

Hepner terms community theater as "having your cake and eating it too! One can have all the luxury of satisfying the acting urge in amateur theaters while not having to concern oneself with the struggle for survival in professional theater," he says.

"As an avocation it's great!" he exclaims.

HEPNER BEGAN his theatrical career at the age of eight when he appeared on stage with a children's theatre group.

At Kalamazoo Central High School, Hepner studied under Howard Chenery, the head of the dramatics department who trained both Claudette Colbert and Spencer Tracy.

Hepner started classes at the University of Michigan intending to major in Radio-TV. He did a DJ show on the university radio station, WUOM, and did professional summer stock between his sophomore and junior years.

He switched to business administration, however, and joined his father's retail firm in Kalamazoo after graduation. In 1958 he moved to the Detroit area and opened up his Farmington shop in 1960.

ADDITIONAL performances of "The Male Animal" are scheduled for Nov. 4, 10, 11, 12, 17 and 18. For ticket reservations call 476-2749.

UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

"Oh, Aubrey, You're so wonderful!"

Mother Fisher casts her eyes heaven-ward and invokes the silent blessing of the Almighty as she hears such praise for Aubrey Piper, the blatant show-off.

"The Show-Off" is a Pulitzer Prize play that has stayed in the archives too long. Written back during pre-depression days of the 1920's it smacks a bit of earlier formula plays.

Yet George Kelly's writing contained a wealth of detail, careful characterization, and occasional flashes of philosophic insight. "The Show-Off" in the hands of the APA Repertory Company last week never flagged and was a wonderful triumph from beginning to end.

HELEN HAYES as Ma Fisher gave a performance that will remain etched in my memory for years to come. She was Ma Fisher. Each angry tremble as she berated Aubrey, the tap of a shoe, the shrug of a shoulder had the authentic authority of all mothers faced with a loud-mouthed suitor courting their daughter.

Her exasperation was so identifiable, so realistic that the audience's rapport was perfect. You lived with the Fisher family for a brief two-hour span of time. The authentic details from the 1920's captured so exquisitely in costume, set design, and props gave the entire production a historical aura.

Clayton Corzette more than portrayed the title role of Aubrey Piper, the show-off; he was the perfect synthesis of all bragging, pompous jackasses of any era. His portrayal cuts deeply and placed Corzette on the perfection level with Miss Hayes. And you can't get any better balance or assignment of position than that.

With two excellent performances leading the way in "The Show-Off" it's easy to understand why Gwyda Donhowe, Pamela Payton-Wright, Alan Fudge, George Pentecost, David Hooks, James Greene, and Kermit Brown handled their roles so competently. Good acting of such rich quality is always infectious. Such wonderful support from these dedicated actors was a joy to behold.

"THE SHOW-OFF" is a wonderful show. The costumes were wonderfully accurate and reflected the fads of 1924. The crystal radio set, headphones and all, added just that right wonderful touch.

Director Stephen Porter's wonderful way in motivating the action as it swirled about the Lydia Mendelssohn stage provided new evidence of his talents. Director Porter's keen perception of this beloved American comedy flashed through time after time. His unseen hand pushed the "Show-Off" to a rollicking conclusion.

Wonderful sets, wonderful lighting effects; in fact, the entire evening was one of the most wonderful in a long time.

If it appears that old Wally has decided to rave in a most unstinting wonderful fashion, you are absolutely right. The revival of "The Show-Off" by the APA truly indicates what a superb job can be done by this group when they concentrate on the Golden Age of Comedy. It's too bad less avant-garde material isn't produced by this group and more "You Can't Take It With You's" and "The Show-Off's" utilized to display their talents.

Of course, the theater needs variety and we must experience the serious, symbolic side of life also. Pass the pumpernickel and if you will, let me forget the dessert although life streaked with humor is so much more pleasant.

Musical Ticket Sale Set

Tickets for the Farmington High School production of "The Sound of Music" will go on sale at the school Saturday, Nov. 11 and 18 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

There will be 150 reserved seats sold for each night of performance—Dec. 14, 15 and 16.

In announcing the ticket sale Director William Feucht said that "it is our hope to sell 3,000 tickets to this most famous and popular musical."

Tickets are priced at $1.50. Some of the adults working on the production are: James Geiger and Gerald Potter, administrators of FHS; Sister M. Laurencia, principal of Our Lady of Sorrows High School.

Sister Laurencia and other nuns from Our Lady of Sorrows are helping the costume crew make the habits for the nuns of the play and are helping the chorus learn the chants.

Others helping are: Director Lee Peel; John Barrett; Brian Dates; Carla Farron; Mrs. Rita Moshammer; Sue Moshammer; Mrs. Spjeldet; Louis Vasiliakos; Marjorie Mowat; Lloyd Smith; Ray Glenn; and William Gucciardo.

Players Seek Cast-Offs

"What is a woman but a rag, a bone, and a hank of hair?" asked the Bard.

Meadow Brook Theatre has the bone and the hank, but has launched a public appeal for elegant rags. Well-preserved period rags, in particular, are needed.

Managing Director David Bishop says the Theatre especially needs old hats, old men's suits and old jewelry as raw materials for its costume department, which has been scouring attics, steamer trunks, closets and dank basements in search of old-style clothing.

"Old fur wraps, mangy mink coats, raccoon blankets, even moth-eaten bear rugs are useable," he said. "In constructing costumes for our productions, it is necessary to design the patterns as well as the clothing. To make it easier for our designer and cutters, the Theatre would like to have a collection of authentic period styles in men's and women's clothing that could be copied for patterns."

"In addition, many period materials are hard to duplicate today. The pieces themselves frequently can be altered or adapted for use on the stage. We can use literally anything."

The Theatre also is delighted to accept and re-make old furniture, Bishop said.

Culture Series Set At Schoolcraft

A schedule of attractions for the Schoolcraft College fall semester humanities series has been announced by Wayne Dunlap, chairman of the Humanities Division and director of the series.

The attractions are grouped into four series: films, concerts, lectures and exhibitions. All events are open to the public without charge, Dunlap said. Students and faculty of area high schools are particularly welcome.

THE CONCERT series, which opened on Oct. 12 with Flautist Marilyn Jones, will present a modern dance demonstration by the University of Michigan Baroque Trio on Thursday, Dec. 7, and by the Schoolcraft College Choir and Orchestra on Thursday, Dec. 14. All concert series programs are scheduled for 11 a.m. in the college library. Poet David Ignatow will inaugurate the Lecture series on Thursday, Nov. 9. He will speak in the library at 3 p.m. and at 8 p.m.

On Friday, Nov. 17, Dr. Ralph Rabinowitz, director of Hawthorn Center, will speak on "Adolescence: Problems in Identity," in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center at 8 p.m.

HARRY CALLAHAN, a native Detroit and one of America's best known photographers, will have a one-man show of his work at the college starting Saturday, Nov. 25, and continuing through Thursday, Dec. 28. Exhibit hours will be announced.

JOE DOWELL, rising young folk-singer and composer of "The Ballad of the United Foundation," will appear at Livonia's Madison Elementary School Tuesday, Nov. 7, beginning at 7:30 p.m. His program, entitled "Dialogue in the Home: Duel or Duet," is concerned with interpersonal relationships, particularly the family. The school is located at 15701 Harrison. For further information contact the school at GA 1-4900.

State Council Has Groups To Tour

A slate of Michigan's finest performing groups in dance, theatre, music and literature—67 in all—comprise the Michigan State Council for the Arts (MSCA) touring attractions packet for the 1967-68 season.

Also available for touring are seven Fine Arts, Crafts and Science Exhibits.

The youthful Arts Council moved into its second year with a formula for increasing interest in and support of the Arts in Michigan, through its touring program.

THE 67 ATTRACTIONS listed by the MSCA do not represent all of Michigan's entertainment talent but those recognized as maintaining a high standard of excellence, and expressing a desire to tour under Council provisions this year.

Community groups wishing to book the touring attractions can apply to the MSCA for partial support if they discover that they are unable to finance the entire cost of the presentation.

Approval of support depends on factors such as equitable geographic distribution, evidence that the attraction will increase or improve the sponsors cultural arts program and availability of funds.

But, the MSCA does not act as an agent or representative of the performing groups. Contact by the prospective sponsor is made directly with the performing group.

Only the touring art and science exhibits are booked directly through the Council's administrative office.

THEY INCLUDE: 30 Contemporary Drawings; The Founder's Prize Winning Paintings; The Print; Michigan Contemporary Crafts; Ancient Rock Art; and No Place to Play.

Mercy Slates Concert

"Music of Shakespeare's Age" will be presented by the Cantata Academy in McAuley Auditorium, Mercy College of Detroit, Monday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m.

Cantata Academy, now in its seventh season, is a group of Detroit musicians and musicologists, which devotes its energies to transcribing and performing little known or forgotten music of medieval times using authentic instruments of the period.

Arthur Stephan, conductor, also has the title "scribe" attesting to his energy in discovering ancient musical scores and transcribing them for modern use. This passion for authenticity is apparent in the instruments which are typical of periods represented. In keeping with the informal atmosphere of the program, Conductor Stephan will comment briefly during it to further the understanding and the enjoyment of this rarely performed music.

Professor John Cutts, a member of the academy and professor in the English department of Wayne State University, will assist with comments on Shakespeare's plays.

In presenting music from Shakespeare's time, five instruments make up the Cantata Academy Consort which accompanies the vocalists. The instruments are the flute, recorder, guitar, English horn, cello and bassoon.

Fiedler To Conduct At U-D November 11

Arthur Fiedler will conduct the Yomiuri Nippon Symphony Orchestra on the University of Detroit Town and Gown Series at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 11, in the Memorial Building. Fiedler is a lively, living legend, one of the world's most traveled conductors. He conducts on four continents and has left an indelible mark on the musical taste of millions throughout the world.

He was so impressed with the musical vitality and technical brilliance of the Yomiuri Nippon group when conducting them in Tokyo that he invited them to tour North America under his direction.

Tickets are on sale at the Memorial Building box office, 342-1029 and at J.L. Hudson stores.

Upcoming attractions on the Series include Emlyn Williams in "Dylan Thomas Growing Up" Friday, Nov. 17 and William Mooney in "Half Horse, Half Alligator" Friday, Dec. 1.

This Is The Week That

... By Don Hoenshell

LANSING—Two deputy sheriffs sat in a cubbyhole office of Secretary of State James M. Hare belting booze and 12-ounce cans of beer.

Then they breathed into the new Breathalyzer while Hare and others sat as witnesses. The verdict:

Bombed.

Hare, a gracious gent who will buy one when it's his turn, expressed the appropriate sentiment of a grateful Michigan for their contribution to science and asked if he could get them anything.

Like another head, at 10:17 a.m.

"Yes, Mr. Hare. You can get me another drink," said Deputy Booze Tester.

IT WAS THE MAJOR checkpoint in the decade-long campaign to get an implied consent law for Michigan. That is, if you have a license to drive a car you consent automatically to a test for drunkenness.

Police can measure blood, breath, saliva or urine for alcoholic content. The easiest is the breath, of course. But the key is that the driver is protected at every point of the way.

Michigan State University conducted research on the effectiveness of each of the methods. The whiskey used in the tests was all from the same batch. Heck, there were psychologists, cops, professors and assorted other types in the crowded south campus laboratory at MSU.

That night this skeptic volunteered as a guinea pig, the spectators were numerous. It was bad enough walking. Heck, I couldn't even drive a car.

They kept counting noses, all red. They zeroed in at 2:30 a.m. when they counted only three when the number was four just a few minutes earlier. Where was he?

"Went out for some fresh air," I answered.

There followed the greatest manhunt on the Michigan State campus since a thief stole a priceless art collection from the museum.

Thindome (not his real name) was found cowering at the rear of the laboratory, preoccupied by a terrible illness that departed after 12 hours of sleep and a plate of eggs.

The point is that a great deal of suffering and scientific agony went into the decision of the Legislature to enact the implied consent law. Many other states, notably New York, have the same law.

Hare's office and policemen everywhere have compiled statistics that show that more than 50 per cent of the fatal accidents involve a drinking driver—either a lot or a little.

THERE ARE SIGNS that the really soused driver realizes this in some vague way and is likely to follow the curb home at 17 miles an hour. The boozier emboldened but not near the edge figures every mile road is the grand prix.

And again the driver gets the break.

If he tests .05 of blood alcohol content (two and a half drinks if you weigh 150), there is still an argument whether he's unsafe on the road. At .15 per cent blood alcohol content, he can't find his hood ornament.

It has been suggested that this law will save lives and if it saves one, it's better than most statutes.

One of the volunteers at MSU is now a PR guy in Detroit and it seemed pertinent to call and ask about his health and what he thinks of the new law. He said:

"It's OK with me. Since that night I haven't had a drink."

From the Publisher's Desk OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power

THEY TOOK this poll the other day, all about what was on people's minds.

Social security? The fighting in Viet Nam? Medicare? Right to work laws? Racial discontent? Air pollution? Garbage pick-up?

You guessed it. The winner, by a wide margin, was garbage pick-up.

After all, that's something that affects people directly nearly every day. If the garbage isn't picked up, the wife gets sore, the husband makes a couple of irritated calls, and the kids probably tip the garbage pail over before it's finally collected.

Take another example. On what issue can you collect an angry crowd of people at a late night meeting, all giving the authorities the dickens in no uncertain terms? Zoning, of course.

Whether apartments, or a shopping center, or a rock and roll dance hall get built next door hits people directly. It's relevant to their own lives in a concrete way that the big issues of air pollution or Medicare simply can't match.

It's true, I'm sure, that the big general issues—Viet Nam, Social Security, inflation—are of overriding importance to our nation in general. But with the exception of Viet Nam, you don't get a crowd of angry people all stirred up about them.

This suggests to me that there has developed a lag in the focusing mechanism for our pressing social concerns.

Where we have Congress, the White House and the bureaucratic structure to focus our concerns on big issues at the federal level, we're hampered at the local level by getting all tied up in the day-to-day details.

This isn't bad—except that our local governments are prevented from looking at the big picture by lack of money, shortage of staff, and an astound-ingly complicated legal structure.

But the local government issues are the ones that really hit us all right in the tummy.

That's why it is so encouraging to see some real concern and public discussion generated about long range local government issues here in Observerland.

IN LIVONIA, a new city charter is up for approval or rejection on November 21. A very capable charter commission headed by Jim Mies, has spent months working on a new document which seeks to re-adjust some problems which have cropped up in the sprawling, 36-square-mile city.

At the same time, a proposal for a $15 million bond issue to make the capital improvements Livonia needs to become a real city has been drawn up, mainly through the hard work of the Chamber of Commerce. This, too, will be on the ballot on November 21.

Whether or not these two issues pass, the people who worked on them deserve a lot of praise for getting involved in the most pressing area of concern we know: local government.

In Plymouth, hampered by a split between the city and township that sometimes generates political fireworks, a study on the most effective future form of local government is presently going forward under the direction of the well-respected Citizens' Research Council.

Key to getting joint city-township sponsorship for the project was the hard work by Area Planning Director Harold Fischer and Chamber of Commerce President Carl Pursell, together with a far-sighted and constructive attitude by the city fathers and John McEwen's crew in the township.

No one knows what the study will recommend, but the fact that people are sitting down together in Plymouth to study what the future might bring is encouraging.

IN FARMINGTON, an election on a proposal to incorporate part of the township as a new city wound up (narrowly) with a "No" vote. The proposal was sparked by the Citizens Council for Community Development, headed by Robert Pierce and Fred Lichtman. Although the idea was turned down, their work was invaluable to get public concern focused on local government development in the Farmington community, and they deserve a lot of credit for their contribution.

Kudos should also go to John Richardson and the Future Farmington Area Study Committee, which held a meeting Wednesday night to examine the scope of the proposed area-wide government study by Michigan State University. Again, no one knows what the study will show, but it looks as though it is at last under way.

To top this off, the city has confirmed that it does not now plan annexation efforts in the township until some resolution of the local government situation is completed. Mayor Pro Tem Howard Thayer pointed out that the city council has agreed to do nothing to hamper the proposed study.

A statesmanlike position, even though the city council's views are not binding for private citizens. The moral suasion of the council, together with the other people working in the area, should be enough to keep unwise and irresponsible annexation proposals out.

WHAT WE SEE happening in Observerland, then, is small groups of far-sighted people working on the local government level. They know well that it takes time and trouble, and sometimes some grief.

But they are willing, and if it weren't for people like them our communities would be poorer places to live.

A Problem, Ignored, May Yet Go Away

The corpses of the two skunks were first noticed by this observer 10 days ago, although they may have been there longer than that.

One body was on Seven Mile Road 215.3 feet west of Levan Road and 12.3 feet from the north edge of the pavement.

The other was a block away, near Fitzgerald Street, and 8.4 feet from the north edge of the Seven Mile pavement.

Perhaps they were related, in which case the nearby residents are happily relieved from a source of smell. But that is irrelevant here.

ONE WOULD ASSUME that the vigilant Livonia police force, which regularly nails speeding

Schoolcraft College students on that route, would have informed the appropriate road care agency, be it city or county, about the deceased pair.

Perhaps the police slipped up. Perhaps they did their job but the appropriate road care agency, be it city or county, never got around to the job.

Whatever the case, the two skunks' corpses continue to lie there.

In the 73 degree heat of Wednesday of a week ago, their beautiful black-and-white fur gleamed in the sun.

In the gloom of Friday's downpour, their pelts glistened in the rain.

By the weekend, the recreating drivers from Detroit and the local traffic had hit the eternally sleeping torsos often enough that they were pretty well flattened and bounced to the side of the highway.

Which brings us to the philosophical point.

THERE ARE THOSE who say that problems can't be ignored; that they will not go away; that these problems will get worse, as time goes on, unless a responsible administration corrects them.

Not so.

By last weekend, the two dead skunks were so well battered and flattened and discolored that there was no point to picking them up and disposing of them;

soon they will disintegrate.

Thus, it is scientifically demonstrated that if one ignores a problem long enough, it WILL go away.

—Tim Richard

If This Shoe Fits, You Need New Size

Newspaper editors spend a lot of their time answering angry phone calls or visitors about the reason for publishing police and crime news.

The anguished cries all sound about the same: No one would have found out about it if it weren't printed and now my son (or daughter) lost out on a good job or scholarship; if you hadn't printed the story about the drunk driving conviction, the neighbors wouldn't have found out about it; and the most commonly heard complaint, why do you have to wash someone's dirty linens in public?

A NEW AND different reply came to this writer recently from an unexpected source, a Jewish rabbi in Flint who was delivering comments from the pulpit on Yom Kippur, the holiest of Jewish holidays.

The rabbi had good reason to be concerned "about washing dirty linen" in public. His topic was the theft of the charity box by one of the synagogue's youngsters during services the previous week for the start of the Jewish New Year.

It obviously was a sensitive topic for the parents in the congregation but the rabbi told them:

"People who say we shouldn't wash our dirty linen in public shouldn't have dirty linen in the first place."

This really struck home in view of the recent flurry of "dirty linen" being washed in Garden City Municipal Court.

One case concerned an alleged abortion and the other was about the shooting of a young man in bed with his girl friend. Charged with the shooting is the girl's older brother.

THE OBSERVER, or any other paper for that matter, doesn't print the news until it happens. If people don't want their names in police stories, then they should drive a bit more carefully, don't slug their wives, and otherwise keep their personal lives in order.

If they did that, we wouldn't print their names.

If they can't keep out of trouble, then they should look for the answer to the problem in their own homes, not on the telephone.

—Leonard Poger

Brave Board Needs Support

Any employer who grants a raise to employees without their asking is to be commended; especially so when the employer is a public agency using taxpayers' funds.

It takes guts; and strengthens human value of the company.

The South Redford Schools board of education last week showed it is made of strong courage by granting its teaching staff $350 salary boosts. The $225,000-plus that it will cost the district in deficit financing should be considered money well spent.

No, deficit spending is not relished. But it is better to adopt this course than to risk destroying the fine position South Redford has attained as an educational system.

Teachers were being paid below average this year. This was by virtue of signing a two-year contract a year ago.

ADMINISTRATORS therefore were having difficulty filling positions with permanent staff.

Essentially, this was the prime reason for the unilateral salary boost. Yet, the board served its constituents well by investing the $225,000 in good will with all present staff members.

Negotiations may reopen this month for a new master contract in South Redford. No doubt the Teachers' Association will approach it with more charity than if the board had held out for "cheap labor."

If so, the district will be served by its board having averted an open rift, which all-too-often elsewhere has led to unprofessional haranguing and teacher strikes.

UNQUESTIONABLY the board should initiate procedures now for a millage increase to cover the cost of the pay boost and anticipated increases for the next contract.

There was not time before last week's action.

To allow the $225,000-plus deficit financing to be perpetuated would add interest costs, risk district credit and flagrantly assume that district taxpayers are not as desirous of sound administration as is the Board of Education.

The only other alternatives are:

1. Cut back programs claiming that amount of the budget.
2. Increase pay-as-you-go charges for non-essential programs now offered.

South Redford residents have displayed pride in the current offerings. It seems likely they would rather support their continuation than force either fiscal collapse or lesser offerings.

—Dennis L. Pajot

Readers Speak Up On Many Vexing Problems

EDITOR:

On October 8, an automobile was stolen while it was parked in front of our home.

The following two weeks, my husband purchased each of the papers serving our new city--but found no mention of this theft--nor of the two cars previously stolen on Berry Street--mentioned by one of the officers that made the call at our house.

We cannot help but wonder why these ugly facts are no longer made public--are not permitted to know what goes on?

We recall in the Nankin days, the news media kept the public posted on all reported thefts. Is the populace of this new city--not entitled to know what crimes are being committed in our well managed city?

How high the crime rate is and what is being done about it?

By the way, the stolen car was found two days later in the State of Pennsylvania--where only by the grace of God--the State Police stopped the thieves for a traffic violation and thus found that they had a stolen automobile.

Stealing an automobile is a grand theft charge, to the best of our knowledge. Transporting stolen goods across a State line is a Federal offense.

Would the Mayor and Police Commissioner please advise us what steps are being taken in this case? Will anyone prosecute--or will these lawbreakers get by on only a traffic violation ticket issued by the Pennsylvania State Police?

You see, our interest in this case is not only because we reside and pay taxes in the City of Westland--but also would like to know if any justice is provided for those young men serving our Country in Viet Nam?

The unfortunate young lady that had to go through the ordeal of having the car stolen--makes the monthly payments on it--pays the taxes on the house next to ours--while her husband serves his Country in Viet Nam.

How are taxpaying service men's interest protected while his normal civilian life is disrupted and is sent to face the dangers of a far off war?

We sincerely hope to get some direct answer from our City Leaders, for we must admit--our past experience with City Hall--has been most distressing.

Well done Farmington Township! In case you still don't know it we had an election on Monday, Oct. 23.

What was it for? Read your local newspaper.

More important is that of 14,000 to 15,000 eligible voters only 4,416 took the time to vote. The weather was good so we can't use that excuse.

We hear and read today of the don't care attitude of some of our young people. Parents shake their heads in despair. Children do not become teenagers and then start shifting codes of behavior, socially, politically or otherwise. They take guidelines from the society they have grown up in, sometimes looking to us to set some kind of example.

As for me I am not one of those busy people running for any kind of office or committee. I am just a resident of the township, a foreigner from Europe, who several years ago chose to become a citizen of this country.

What were you doing Monday that you could not take a few minutes to vote?

D. Cleary

EDITOR:

Recently, a couple of your articles in the Observer indicate that the suburbs are "immoral" in seeking industry without providing low-cost housing for plant workers.

You suggest that it is wrong for Livonia to try to secure a better tax base with more industry and higher-priced homes.

This viewpoint in itself raises a number of interesting moral questions:

1. Is it really true that there are only a "limited number of inexpensive homes in the suburbs?" Is it true in Garden City? Westland? Or even Livonia? At best the assumption that the $20,000-and-up houses outnumber those costing less seems a tremendous understatement, if not an outright distortion of the facts.

2. What about the effect that inflation and the tight money market have had on housing and the part the unions are playing in contributing to it? Just a few years ago, some homes in the area for sale at $15,000 and under were going begging on the market. Now they are selling for up to $5,000 and $6,000 more, putting some of them over the $20,000 level.

3. What about the obligation of the suburbs for the education of the children already living here? Should we bring in substantial numbers of new children and increase education costs to the point where none of them get a decent education? After all, Detroit doesn't have the problem of building new schools to the same extent that the suburbs do.

4. Does it solve anything ultimately to move Detroit's problems to the suburbs? Shouldn't the problems be solved where they are? Detroit can work to attract industry, too. Maybe that's what they should be doing instead of tearing down low-cost housing to put up high-cost apartments.

Is it really so bad to try to eliminate crowded conditions and high taxes and improve services and educational levels? Would it really help anybody--even the factory workers--for Livonia to become another small, low-cost housing area like others in Detroit and in nearby suburbs? Livonia is trying to solve the problem instead of being part of it.

One last question. Before making moral judgments, isn't there a moral responsibility not to oversimplify the situation? The fact is that Detroit and the suburbs are an interdependent metropolitan area and Detroit is just as dependent on the suburbs as they are on Detroit. For Mayor Cavanagh to blame all his troubles on the suburbs is unrealistic.

number of so-called clergymen, are continually escalating the problem when they should be trying to find solutions to it. I'll include a copy of a letter I wrote the President that will explain this in more detail.

However, I would like to add one more example. The tour George Romney just completed is the best example I know of creating hate and violence. That tour was made for only one reason; to brainwash the Negroes so he could get their votes. And when they find this out, their blood will start to boil with hate, and we will be in for more trouble.

Any person with the slightest sign of a brain in his head would not have to move one inch from his desk to find out why our Negro citizens are rioting. All Romney would have to do is take a good look in a mirror.

Another big reason for our high crime rate is too many one-day-a-week Christians. Growing children need the guiding hand of seven-days-a-week Christians for parents.

As for new laws, there is only one thing that will help in that respect. Abolish our political Supreme Court and scrap every law we have on the books today, and enact just one law to replace the whole mess. That one law would be "Common Sense". What good are new laws when we can't use the ones we already have.

If you print this letter, please don't print my name and address. I don't want the people to start hounding me to run for Governor or some other high public office.

EDITOR:

This letter is in reply to the article, "Irate Citizens Demand Explanation." I attended the school board meeting and am not "irate enough to take out my irritation at the ballot box." I went because of my interest in learning first hand whether there was any truth in a rumor regarding the possibility of bus-sing our children out of the school district. I am against this.

The school board meeting seemed to be the most logical place to go. I am no a militant resident as many others were not. Mrs. Bradley was not, "our spokesman," as you stated. She simply gave her own views. Mr. Neal allowed everyone who desired to speak to do so even though this was not included on the agenda.

Is there something wrong with attending a school board meeting? The members of the board did not appear to think so. Your article seemed to me to be slanted. Please confine your reporting to the facts rather than to what you assume.

MRS. JEANETTA VESEY

EDITOR'S NOTE:

You might not have been irate, but from the manner the phones rang at this office, the school board, and members of the school board there were irate citizens.

Madonna Alumnae Pick New Officers

The alumnae of Madonna College, Livonia, elected Miss Mary Joan Kaminski, class of '51, as president for 1967-68 at their annual homecoming meeting.

Completing the roster are vice-president, Miss Mary Ann Thoms '64; executive secretary, Janet Chernow '60; recording secretary, Miss Nancy Bubernik '57; treasurer, Miss Rita Roznowski '60.

Miss Kaminski teaches art in the upper elementary level at Hutchinson School, Detroit. Miss Kaminski did graduate work and received her master's degree in art education at Wayne State University.

Miss Thoms teaches history at Dominican High School, Detroit.

Miss Chernow, a 7th and 8th grade math teacher at Helen Keller Junior High in Royal Oak, is currently doing graduate work in math at the University of Michigan.

Miss Bubernik, M.T. (ASCP), a registered medical technologist at Grace Hospital in Detroit, is associate director and instructor of the bacteriology department.

Miss Roznowski teaches mathematics in Dondoro High in Royal Oak. She received her master of arts in teaching math from the University of Detroit.

Organized in 1952, the alumnae organization has directly supported the college through fund-raising activities. Current projects include a recruitment program and the funding of a scholarship to be granted annually to a needy student.

Stock Market Forum At Westland

The trend toward "performance" growth stocks will be analyzed and discussed at a stock market forum, Thursday, Nov. 9, at 7:30 p.m., in the Westland Center auditorium.

The forum, conducted by Gabe Werba of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, will cover today's stress on the stocks of more volatile growth companies, and some of the faster growth industries.

It will also include a discussion of the uses of leverage to maximize profit potential and the outlook for 1968.

Admission is free, but by reservation only. Reservations can be made by calling Merrill Lynch, 963-4670, extension 314.

New Books In Library

"America's Western Frontiers" by John Arkas Hawgood is a social history of the exploration and settlement of the American trans-Mississippi West by the pre-eminent British authority in the field. This work is the first winner of the Alfred A. Knopf Western History Prize.

"The Least One" by Borden Deal is a novel about a poor but proud and hard-working farm family who lost their cotton farm during the depression but not their hope for a better future.

"Incredible Victory" by Walter Lord, author of "A Night to Remember," presents a detailed account of individual acts of heroism and skill at the Battle of Midway.

"A Killing Frost" by Sylvia Wilkinson tells of the warm relationship between a thirteen year old orphan girl and her grandmother, a sturdy, North Carolina farm woman.

"Tough Trip Through Paradise, 1878-1879" by Andrew Garcia recounts the true story of the author's youthful trading venture through Montana, when he won his first wife, a Nez Pierce woman.

"A Hall of Mirrors" by Robert Stone is the story of three young Americans who arrive in a tired, littered New Orleans at the end of Mardi Gras in 1962. A disc jockey, a loose woman, and a social worker, they form an incongruous trio and yet their lives become strangely crossed.

SPECIAL NOTICE:
Saturday, November 11, at 10:30 a.m. the children's movie, "The Red Balloon," will be shown at the Dunning-Hough Library. A lonesome boy makes friends with a balloon. Humorous and pathetic adventures of the boy and his balloon take place in the scenic setting of Montmartre in Paris.

Field Trips Take Students Through State

The International Relations class at Plymouth High School have a full itinerary of field trips ahead of them this year.

Future field trips include: the Michigan State Capitol; Federal Reserve System; University of Michigan; University of Detroit.

During their visits students will attend seminars, see state government in action, learn the banking system, and witness a mock United Nations Assembly.

The idea behind these trips is to supplement learning in the classroom by gaining knowledge through direct observation and study of everyday activities of a community.

The International Relations class is one of Plymouth High School's social studies classes.

Sociology classes have provided Plymouth students with an outstanding array of guest speakers from the following agencies; Alcoholics Anonymous; Detroit House of Correction; Food and Drug Administration; Recovery, Inc.; Methodist Children's Home; and the Michigan Health Department.

All Junior Cagers Called To Register

Registration for the 1967-68 Plymouth Community Junior Basketball season closes this Saturday at Junior High West, with more than 200 boys already enrolled.

Next Saturday, November 4, will be the final day of registration. Hours will be from 10 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.; each youngster must be accompanied by a parent.

"The registration fee is $5.50 but no boy will be refused the chance to play for lack of funds," League President John Van Wagoner explained.

Tryouts for the team will be held the following Saturday at West, 9:30 to 12:30.

To qualify for the program a boy must be 8 before March 1, 1968, and not be 16 by that date.

For more information, call 453-8023.

Peace Vigil

There will be an all night vigil of prayer for peace held at the Shrine of the Little Flower, 12 Mile and Woodward, Royal Oak.

The vigil will begin with the Mass at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3 and end with a Mass the following morning at 6 a.m.

Priests from various parishes will conduct the hours of prayer throughout the night.

Questions & Answers

Q. Not long ago, while dining at the London Chop House in Detroit, I had their Maurice salad. Never have I eaten a more delicious one.

MAURICE SALAD LONDON CHOP HOUSE

Combine in the following order 2 cups mayonnaise, 1/4 cup light cream, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon each of dry mustard and salt, 1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 2 tablespoons chopped chives, 3 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely chopped, and 1 medium dill pickle, chopped. Mix the dressing well. Arrange chunks of head lettuce in a salad bowl, top with thin julienne of cooked chicken and ham, and pour the dressing over the salad. Garnish with tomato wedges.

WORLD of WOMEN

At Northwest YWCA

Project Self-Start Offered Career-Minded Women

Some common-sense advice for women in Observerland who are ready to return to the business world is offered in a vocational opportunities clinic at the Northwest Branch YWCA for three Mondays beginning Nov. 6.

Project Self-start is the name of the clinic. Outstanding speakers and consultants will be participating in the programs, which will run from 9:45 a.m. to 3 p.m. Participants will be asked to bring their own lunches.

The branch building is located at 25940 Grand River, near Beech Daly.

Helen E. Kean, dean of women at the University of Detroit, will open the meetings with discussion of "Today's Challenge for Women."

Among the other sessions will be one on "Education and Training Opportunities" handled by a panel composed of experts in various fields, Dr. Audrey Kirkland, Wayne State University College of Liberal Arts; Robert Baumgartner, principal of Redford High School, Detroit; Karl Olson, William Beaumont Hospital; Sister Mary Jean, academic dean, Mercy College; and Mrs. Virginia Warner, comptometer specialist from Victor Better Business Services.

The Central Volunteer Bureau and Eloise E. Spencer, associate executive director of the Metropolitan YWCA, will explore these avenues with the group.

There will also be some detailed discussions on the mechanics of job interviews and applications, along with what generally is expected of women in jobs today. Marsha Morgan from Snelling and Snelling will be one of these instructors.

Since space is limited for the clinic, women interested are urged to register soon by calling KE 7-8500.

Old Songs Honor Couple's Anniversary

Old Scottish and Irish songs highlighted the party given last weekend by Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt, of Hathaway Avenue, Livonia, to honor the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. Pratt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Brown of Ferndale. About 50 guests attended the supper.

JACQUELINE MACIUSZEK

Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Maciuszek, of Myrna Avenue, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jacqueline May, to James William Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Leslie, of Millerway, Bloomfield Hills. The bride-elect is a graduate of Michigan State University and teaches first grade in the Cleveland elementary school, Livonia. Her fiancé is a Michigan State senior. A June 15 wedding is planned.

Quiz Wins Prize For Livonian

Mrs. Darrel Berry, of Plymouth Road, Livonia, won a portable refrigerator for her knowledge of food buying.

She participated in answering a questionnaire distributed to homemakers after a recent meeting sponsored by the Detroit Marketing Information for Consumers program in the Ford Auditorium.

Mrs. Berry took third prize among 503 women who returned the questionnaires. A narrative question was included as a tie breaker.

Of the women who answered the questions, 18 per cent were homemakers under 30, 37 per cent were those between 35 and 40 years of age and 43 per cent were 45 or over.

Fifty-six per cent had three or more children under 18 living at home, and 74 per cent had three or more children in the family.

m. m. memos

With another Halloween duly recorded in goblin history, I'd like to follow up the comments I made last week about adult and child reactions to the night that witches ride. I decided then that the gap between the two comes from the fact that children love to plan Halloween so far ahead, and adults tend toward a don't-bother-me-yet attitude.

In this I received support from a co-worker much closer than I to childhood, and thus able to remember feelings I have forgotten.

She recalls the certainty that Halloween was even better than Christmas.

Part of this was the masquerading, she said. Even one like me knows that it is a great delight to any child.

But beyond this was the well-remembered feeling of power that came with the knowledge that you could go up to ANY house, ring ANY doorbell, and the people there had to give you something.

You could go to as many houses as you wanted, and EVERYONE had to give you something. Just because it was Halloween.

And never to adults. Maybe I'm just jealous.

Any Goblin Leftovers?

Halloween goblins who collected more candy than their mothers think is good for them might like to share some of it with children at the Plymouth State Home or inner city kids.

The Plymouth home is having its Trick or Treat night Saturday and can use some candy donations for the purpose. Take it to the home of Mrs. Philip Sills, 23854 Beacon, Farmington, or directly to the home.

Or wrapped candy can be sent to William Carter of the Eastern Detroit Community Development Center, 2940 Mt. Elliott, Detroit. He will see that it is used for parties for children in the city's depressed areas.

Symphony Society Has Pot Luck

The Livonia Youth Symphony Society will hold its annual pot luck supper at Franklin High School at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4.

The supper and bake sale will be followed by a program featuring the Junior Orchestra, conducted by Robert Randall, and the String Orchestra of Livonia, with Albert Larson conducting.

There will be special selections by the brass choir of the junior orchestra and solos by three junior orchestra members, Clark Suttle, Randy Wilson and Bonnie Shirley.

Mrs. Josephine Mason and Mrs. Pat Householder are chairmen for the supper, and Mrs. Ann Pavlinski is in charge of the bake sale.

Steel Wool Erases Marks

If you have a piece of pewter that has a small surface scratch you can often erase it entirely, or at least make it far less noticeable by rubbing the blemish or scratch with very fine steel wool.

Alpha Sigma Tau Will Hear Elinor Rose

Poet humorist Elinor K. Rose will be guest speaker when women from three chapters of Alpha Sigma Tau meet at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, to celebrate their 68th Founders' Day anniversary.

The Wayne State University and University of Detroit chapters will host the Polynesian luncheon at the Maunaloa restaurant.

Mrs. Rose, whose quatrains appear daily in a Detroit newspaper, will title her talk "Rhyme and Reason" and will discuss the joys and problems of writing and publishing.

Her most recent book, with the same title, will be published this month by Simon and Schuster.

Mrs. Joseph Soltesz, of Frederick Avenue, Livonia, is one of the chairmen for the event. Early reservations from the Livonia, Farmington, and Redford Township areas include Mrs. Neil Strachan, Mrs. Sylvan Broadman, and Mrs. Al Nagy, of Farmington; Mrs. Arlene Heino and Mrs. Harry Youmans, of Livonia, and alumnae president Mrs. William Monticello, of Redford Township.

The sorority was founded at Ypsilanti's Eastern Michigan University in 1899. The national organization now has 32 chapters including five in Michigan. The group has just adopted a new social service project called "Make Way For Youth."

Auxiliary To Give Flags

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3941 of Livonia has several flags to give to Livonia youth organizations Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 8 p.m. in the VFW Hall, 27555 Grandland.

Requests for the limited number of flags available should be made by calling KE 1-5434 or KE 2-5295. They will be distributed on a basis of first-

Collection For Girls Town Set

The annual in-gathering for the Lock Rio "Girls Town" will be held by the Plymouth Woman's Club at its meeting at 1 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, in the Masonic Temple.

Canned goods, cosmetics and money will be collected at that time for girls at the home near Ann Arbor. The Plymouth club gives the project substantial support during the year.

Speaker for the meeting will be Edward Draugelis, former Plymouth city attorney and municipal judge and now a partner in the law firm of Draugelis and Ashton.

His topic will be "Plymouth and the Coming Megapolis," and he will suggest ways of combating problems confronting the community, including the rising crime rate.

Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing will be chairman for the day, with Mrs. John Sandmann as tea chairman. Assisting with the tea will be Mrs. Frank Hallock, Mrs. William Herbold, Mrs. Cass Kershaw, Mrs. Peter R. Miller, Mrs. John Murawski and Mrs. Murray O'Neill.

Mrs. Mowry Arnold and Mrs. Arnold Johanson will be greeters.

ELINOR K. ROSE

Mountenays United In Allen Park Rites

Joan Leha Hughes and Ronald Alfred Mountenay were united in marriage in a recent afternoon ceremony in the Mt. Hope Lutheran Church, Allen Park.

The Rev. Marcus Buck officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Hughes Jr., of Fountain, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Mountenay, of Westland, are the bridegroom's parents.

A CAGE GOWN of ivory lace over a taffeta sheath was the choice of the bride, given in marriage by her father. Her matching illusion veil was waist length and fell from a miniature lace crown adorned with seed pearls and an aurora borealis tear drop.

She carried a spray of white carnations with a white orchid center.

Julie Lasley, of Branch, Mich., was the bride's only attendant. She wore a dress of aqua lace over ivory with matching circlet headpiece and carried a cascade of yellow fuji mums.

RONALD MCCLELLAN, of Dearborn Heights, was best man, and the ushers were David Lasley, of Branch, Grant Tripp, of Windsor, Ont., John Eastwood, of Westland and John Hughes, brother of the bride. A reception was held following the ceremony at Three

MRS. RONALD MOUNTENAY (Joan Hughes)

Fountains Club, Westland, and another reception for relatives and friends of the bride was held later in the Fountain, Mich., community hall.

The bride graduated from Mason County Eastern High School. The bridegroom, a graduate of Lowrey High School, Dearborn, is employed by the Michigan State Highway Department. The pair will live in Westland.

UM Alumnae To See 'Mame' For Benefit

To aid its Scholarship Fund, the Detroit Association of University of Michigan Women will hold a theater party Monday, Nov. 20, to see the hit comedy, "Mame" at the Fisher Theater.

A thousand tickets are on sale, and one dollar from each ticket applies to the fund. Information on ordering tickets is available by calling VE 6-4504.

Six Detroit area girls in their freshman year now attend the University on Detroit Association scholarships.

Judith Johnson Weds Dan Komar

Judith Johnson became the bride of Danny Russell Komar in a ceremony held in St. John's Episcopal Church, Wayne, Oct. 6.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Johnson, of Westland. Mr. and Mrs. Myron Komar, of Livonia, are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full gown of taffeta crepe with fitted bodice, full skirt and chapel train. Her headpiece was a silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds.

JANE HATFIELD, as her sister's maid of honor, wore an A-line gown of sapphire blue and carried one long-stemmed white rose.

Bridesmaids Ruth Komar, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, Nancy Boyd, Joy Hahn and Barbara DeHetre, wore identical dresses and carried single red roses.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Raymond, to be best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Victor Johnson, brother of the bride, Ronnie Halis, Brian Hatfield and Robert DeHetre.

Pair Wed In Livonia Ceremony

Roseanne Marie Kelley and Thomas John Wiles were married recently in a candlelight double-ring ceremony in Rosedale Gardens United Presbyterian Church, Livonia.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelley, of Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. John Wiles, of Cherry Hill, Plymouth.

The Rev. William T. Lovick heard the couple's vows.

THE BRIDE'S satin gown featured a chantilly lace panel in the front and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was secured by a lace and crystal headpiece, and her flowers were white roses with an orchid in the center.

Diane Wiles, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, wearing a cage gown of blue daisy lace over taffeta with matching headpiece. She carried white roses and blue-tipped carnations in a colonial arrangement.

Similarly gowned in pink, green, lilac and yellow were bridesmaids Diane Campbell, cousin of the bride, Sue Ross, Nancy Underwood and Judi Johnson. Flower girl Kitty Underwood was in pink.

GARY KELLY was best man, and the ushers were Lou Wright, Larry Franz, cousin of the bridegroom, Jerry Zorn and Bill Kelley, brother of the bride. Richard Hauk was ring bearer.

After a reception for 400 guests in the Ford Local 182, Livonia, the couple left for a Niagara Falls honeymoon. They will live in Ypsilanti, and the bridegroom is employed by the Washtenaw Intermediate school district in Ann Arbor. Both are graduates of Plymouth High School.

Seiters-Richards Rites Held

Mr. and Mrs. Gary William Seiters are making their home in Livonia following their recent marriage in the Wayne Free Methodist Church.

The bride is the former Mildred Louise Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Richards, of Polinciana Avenue, Redford Township. Her husband is a former resident of Farmington Township.

MRS. DANNY KOMAR (Judith Johnson)

bridegroom, was flower girl, and the ring-bearer was Hal James Boyd, nephew of the bride.

After a reception for 200 guests, the couple left for a trip to Washington and the Blue Ridge mountains. They will make their home in Plymouth.

Women on the GO!

By Margaret Miller

YVONNE KURTZ

Take the busy occupation of being wife of a department store executive and mother of two lively young sons.

Add a responsible part-time career--evaluating the educational needs of retarded youngsters at the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

You'd have the kind of life most women would consider more than full.

BUT ATTRACTIVE, brunet Yvonne Kurtz--in full partnership of her husband Donald--also adds two more dimensions.

She and her husband are foster parents of a 14-year-old boy who is blind and somewhat retarded.

And in their spare time they are doing a complete remodeling job on a 125-year-old Plymouth farmhouse they fell in love with.

YVONNE KURTZ leaves no doubt that she gets immense satisfaction from every part of her life.

This is especially true in regard to her work in special education because of her own bout with polio when she was a college student.

"I had considered teaching handicapped children and decided against it," Yvonne related. "Then, I was completely paralyzed when I had polio, and I saw things from the other side--I was the handicapped one. After I had to learn everything over, I realized I did want to help handicapped children."

The work at the Plymouth Home takes advantage of her training in special education and several years of experience in that line.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, she has taught in the Michigan School for the Deaf, the Lutheran School for the Deaf in Dearborn and the Detroit Day School for the Deaf. She also worked among blind, retarded and orthopedically handicapped youngsters at the Plymouth Home before taking over her present position in the out-patient clinic.

She tests children of various levels of retardation to determine where their potential can best be met. Her reports, together with those of the staff psychologists, determine the school's recommendations for each child.

"SOME OF these youngsters," explained Mrs. Kurtz, "are considered trainable--they can be taught to do simple tasks. Others, with I.Q. ranging from about 55 to about 75, are considered educable, and can learn to read and write and perhaps progress in school about to the sixth grade."

These children, Yvonne Kurtz feels, should be kept in regular school classrooms as far as they can progress. Or in special education classes rather than not attending school at all.

"It's true far too often," she said, "that a child with a fairly small degree of retardation isn't helped to work up to his full potential."

"And often you see a child totally handicapped in sight or hearing who seems retarded because no one has worked through that barrier to teach him."

SUCH WAS THE case with the Kurtz' foster son, described by Yvonne as "a very interesting boy."

Totally blind from birth, he spent the first 11 years of his life kept at home, mostly in his bedroom, and virtually ignored by his family.

After a concerned neighbor reported his plight to Gov. Romney, he was committed to the Plymouth Home, Yvonne said.

There, he mastered the Braille alphabet so quickly that it was obvious he did not belong among the severely retarded, and at that point the Kurtz family took him as a foster child.

"HE'S VERY musical," Yvonne said. "He's taught himself to play the piano, and he plays the harmonica better than many professionals. He also is a good swimmer."

Currently the boy is attending the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing, and comes home weekends and vacations. Yvonne and Don Kurtz hope he can progress enough to go to school closer to home next year.

"He's now in a class of retarded children, which isn't good for him because he needs to be pushed constantly toward acceptable behavior," she said. "We can do that when he's with us."

"The handicap of being pushed aside for so long was a worse one than his blindness, and he has reacted with anti-social behavior. We can see some progress over the two years we've had him--for instance, he now pays some attention to our little boys--but he has a long way to go."

THE FOSTERSON, along with six-year-old Timmy Kurtz and his brother Matt, 4, must find the constantly changing farmhouse an interesting one to live in.

"We've remodeled six of the rooms since we bought it four years ago," Yvonne said, "so when the boys go to bed at night they never know what big change they'll find in the morning."

"One night we rehung the bathroom door to make it open the other way, and I'll never forget my two-year-old's startled face when the door-knob turned out to be on the other side."

Yvonne and Don are doing the remodeling work themselves.

"You find you can do all sorts of jobs you'd never tried after you find out how much contracting costs," she said.

Protection Talk Planned For Sorority

Ohio Wesleyan Alumnae Meet

The Greater Detroit Monnett Club, for alumnae of Ohio Wesleyan University, will hold its November luncheon meeting Tuesday, Nov. 7, in the home of Mrs. Phillip Meek, 546 Norborne, Dearborn. A Make It or Bake It Auction will be held to benefit the scholarship fund.

Farmington Man Wed In South

The Lake City, Fla., home of Dr. and Mrs. William Gillespie was the setting for the Oct. 7 marriage of their daughter, Judith Cheryl, to William Steven Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hall of Farmington.

The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Homer Steffins, with the immediate family present.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a champagne peau de sole dress, with a wreath of pink sweetheart roses in her hair. Her attendant, Mrs. Mae Peterson of Jacksonville Beach, Fla., wore an apple green dress and a white carnation corsage.

William Gillespie, brother of the bride, attended the bridegroom.

A reception followed the ceremony. Diane Hall, sister of the bridegroom, presided over the punch bowl.

The couple will live in Atlantic Beach, Fla., where the new Mrs. Hall is employed with Florida Publishing Co. and her husband is with the Navy at Mayport.

Schoolcraft Gets Fraternity Council

TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER went the co-eds during Slave Week at Schoolcraft College. Both boys and girls were auctioned by the Veterans Association, and a dance last Friday night wrapped up the week. Profits from the slave auction and dance have been so high in the last two years that the VA is going to have to fight to keep Slave Week next year. Here, one of the high bidders claims his slave for a day.

The Student Senate and the Dean of Student Affairs of Schoolcraft College last week took action which established an Inter-Fraternity Council.

Approval of the new organization means that the two sororities and one fraternity now functioning underground at the college will soon be recognized as legitimate student organizations.

Fraternity and sorority members hope to hold rush before the end of the semester.

The Inter-Fraternity Council will meet for the first time Thursday, and is expected to approve constitutions for the three Greek groups already in existence. The constitutions must then be approved by the Student Senate and Dean of Student Affairs Edward McNally.

The Inter-Fraternity Council, according to faculty advisor Mrs. Sandra Florek, will be composed of two representatives from each sorority or fraternity. Function of the group will be to coordinate and oversee activities of the Greek groups.

The first item on the Council's agenda will be to set up rush procedures.

College regulations specifically prohibit hazing and the Greek groups will not be allowed to maintain houses.

When Schoolcraft was first opened in 1964, there was a regulation banning fraternities and sororities from the campus. The rule was changed late in August by action of the college Board of Trustees, on recommendation of college President Eric J. Bradner and Dean McNally.

Members of the Student Senate had met with the administration during the summer, asking for college recognition of the Greek groups.

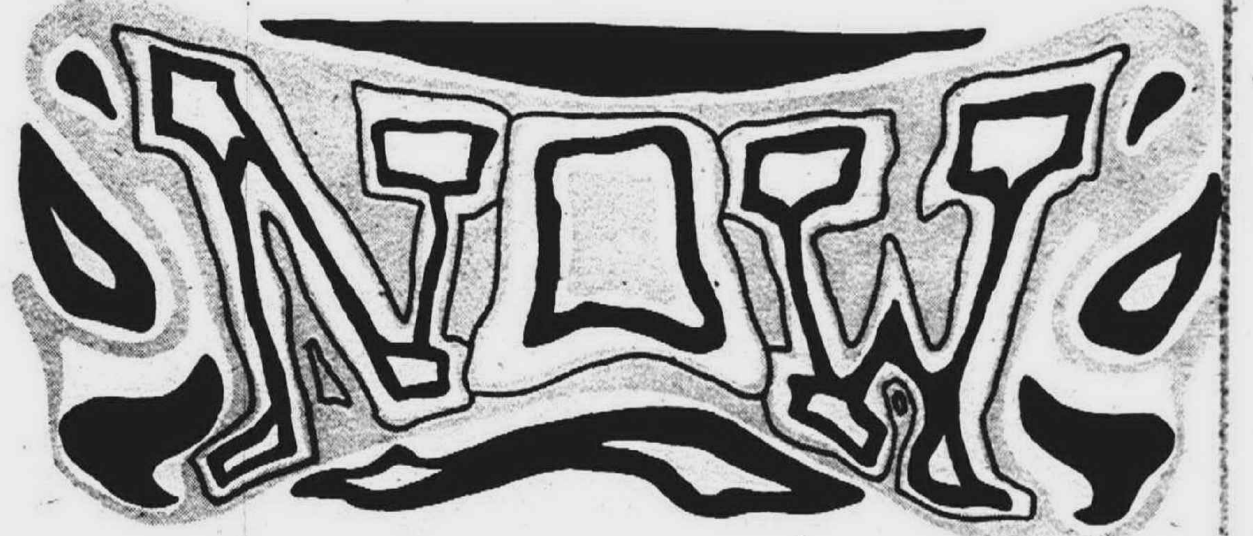

Now that they are authorized, the fraternities and sororities will be incorporated into the campus club structure. They will each be required to have two faculty advisors, and to accept full financial responsibility for activities.

Each constitution must contain a no-bias clause, and any activities of the groups must be approved by the Inter-Fraternity Council and the Student Senate.

Schoolcraft's student newspaper, The Commuter, carried an editorial Monday condemning the as-yet unrecognized sororities and fraternities for "rushing, pledging and holding their meetings and activities underground."

The Greek groups maintain that further delay in approval of their constitutions will make it impossible to hold rush until the second semester.

Constitutions for the two local sororities and one fraternity will come before the Inter-Fraternity Council for approval Thursday. After that, only routine approval by the Student Senate and Dean McNally stand between Schoolcraft and its first legal Greek system.

No Minis For School

JUDY DITZHAZY

CATHY PHILLIPS

SHARON KLINE

Dress regulations in high schools and colleges have been around for a long time, but in the last year or so the combination of mini-skirted girls and long-haired boys has brought new attention to the rules.

Then there is Chuck Murphy, the Franklin High junior who has taken a case to court so that he can keep a mustache which is clearly in violation of the Livonia Public Schools Dress Code, which says: "Boys must be clean shaven; no beards or mustaches are allowed."

Dress codes vary from one high school to the next. In fact, in some schools there is no dress code. That usually means that the school administration decides what is "proper dress and grooming" in any case that comes up for action.

Livonia's schools adopted a dress code last spring that was drafted by a student committee with representatives from all three high schools. The new code allows sandals for school, Bermuda shorts for sports activities and informal dances afterwards.

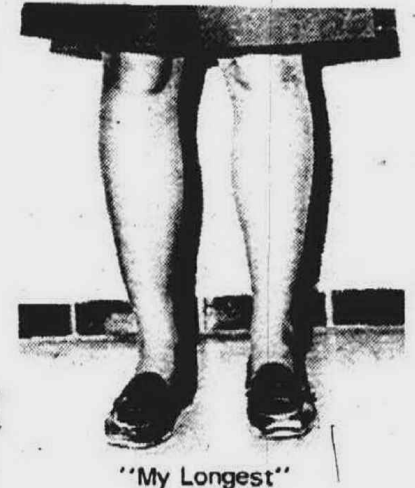

But even the Livonia code, considered fairly liberal by most school administrators, says clearly that: "Skirt lengths should not be more than one inch above the knee when standing."

ing and not more than two inches above the knee when the girl is seated."

In Plymouth High, where the rule for skirts was an inch and a half above the knee, one class officer said: "That rule is going to have to be changed. You just can't buy skirts that long anymore."

In the Garden City schools, the rule on skirt length still reads: "dresses or skirts shorter than mid-knee in length" are not permitted.

A quick survey at Bentley High in Livonia indicated that most girls were opposed to the idea of mini-skirts for school, and that they were willing to go along with the dress code.

"My Longest"

"One of My Shortest"

Pop Concert Joint Effort

A pop concert at Stevenson High tonight will not only produce some of the most professional teen entertainment ever heard in Observerland, but will mark the first time the student councils of Livonia's three high schools have worked together on a major project of any kind.

council which would have representatives from all three Livonia schools student councils.

The concert, scheduled for 8 p.m., was not widely advertised beforehand, a student organizer said, because it was designed only for Livonia high school students.

Featured performers are "The Happenings," a New York group which recorded "See You in September," "Go Away Little Girl," "I've Got Rhythm," and their current hit, "Why Do Fools Fall in Love?"

Bob Seger and the Last Heard, from Detroit, will also be there, along with the Rationals, an Ann Arbor group, and The Little Sisters, an all-girl band from Grosse Pointe.

The cooperative effort by the student councils grew out of plans to organize LINC, a Jack Hoffman, president of Stevenson's Student Council, said that although the pop concert was a joint activity, it was not really a LINC function. Although the group's constitution has been approved by all three student councils, the final stamp of Superintendent Benton Yates is still lacking. He is expected to approve the plan, in the near future.

Meanwhile, the first joint activity promises to be a success. The investment of $3,825 in entertainment fees has already been written off with advance ticket sales. Any profit will be split among the participating schools. Tickets were sold for $2.

Interest Sought For Alumni Organization

An Alumni Club may soon be formed for Schoolcraft College if a Student Senate committee is successful in finding interested former students.

The committee has invited former students of the college who were active in extra-curricular groups, to a dance Nov. 18, where plans to form the Alumni organization will be discussed.

The organization, according to Miss Jean Pike, director of student activities, would be primarily to keep alumni informed about activities at Schoolcraft.

Schoolcraft has never had an alumni group of any kind and the student activities office does not keep an alumni list.

Miss Pike said that the immediate effort was to determine whether there was enough interest in forming the group to go ahead with plans.

College alumni who have not been contacted but would be interested should call Miss Pike's office at 591-6400.

Plymouth Teens Still Homeless

Plymouth's new teen club now has a name, a treasury, a list of future projects and nearly a hundred interested kids, but the building they had hoped to be moving into isn't yet in the bag.

Roy Jacobson, president of the Plymouth Jaycees, the group behind the Plymouth teen club, said this week that negotiations for the house the club hopes to rent may take another two or three weeks.

Meanwhile, the club has decided to call the house "The Purple Haze" and to equip it with a dance floor, a bandstand, music system, lounge, snack bar and ping-pong tables.

Two major money-raising projects have already been completed. The first was the sale of a ton of pumpkins; the second a car wash. Together they netted about $275.

Other plans for the club include bottle collecting and an Indian corn sale.

The club's next meeting will be this Saturday, in the P & A Theater. All Plymouth High teens are welcome.

The steering committee is made up of Martha Dayharsh, Gary Krieko, Sue McKenzie, Sandy Chapman and Jim Brennan.

Hockey Leagues Open

With already 125 youngsters signed up, the Garden City Parks and Recreation Department is continuing to accept registrations from resident youngsters interested in playing in the hockey leagues.

Persons wanting to sign up may do so Monday through Friday at the Log Cabin office between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Final date is set for Saturday, Nov. 11 at the concession building between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The following age requirements must be met:

JUVENILES: Boys who will not reach their 19th birthday before May 31, 1968;

MIDGETS: Boys who will not reach their 17th birthday before May 31, 1968;

BANTAMS: Boys who will not reach their 15th birthday before May 31, 1968;

PEE WEES: Boys who will not reach their 13th birthday before May 31, 1968; and SQUIRTS: Boys who will not reach their 11th birthday before May 31, 1968.

For further information, call the Recreation office, GA 2-7060.

Michigan's largest all-time football home crowd was 103,234 in 1959 when the Wolverines played Michigan State.

William R. Reed, Big Ten Commissioner of Athletics, served as Michigan sports publicity director from 1938 through 1940.

THE HARD WORK always comes long before opening night. These Bentley High students are putting in long hours constructing a castle for "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" out of chicken wire, shoe box tops, newspaper and a lot of paint. From left, Judy Gates, Peggy Jewell, and Pat McNally are the painters. The production is scheduled for Nov. 10 and 11 in the high school auditorium.

Schoolcraft Boots 'em In

Joop Doorn continued his brilliant play for the Schoolcraft College soccer team Saturday. He booted in three goals to pace a 6-0 romp over Concordia. Doug Morrison added two more for the victors who now have a 6-2-2 record.

Schoolcraft will end its regular season this week before hosting a regional tournament next week.

RU Harriers Capture Title

Redford Union easily outscored the field to win the Suburban Six League cross country championship.

The Townshippers had 27 points to 57 for Plymouth, 58 for Trenton and 68 for Bentley.

Bob Junk of RU took the individual title in 10:16. Second was Bruce Cavender of Plymouth. Joe Trailer of RU was third.

GROUND BROKEN — Members of the First Baptist Church of Plymouth, oldest in the community, broke ground Sunday for the new building that will be built on North Territorial Road, west of Sheldon. Building is scheduled to start next month after a capital funds drive, and the 220-member congregation hopes to move from its present location, a century-old building on Mill Street, by next August. Pictured here are, from left, Harry Anderson, builder; Eddie Olson, chairman of the building committee, the Rev. Paul Thompson, pastor, Plymouth City Manager Richard Blodgett; John McEwen, township supervisor, and Mrs. Don Herrick, chairman of the building finance committee.

Billy Walker Talks Set In Livonia

Evangelist Billy Walker, of Southgate, will speak in the First Baptist Church of Livonia in services from Sunday, Nov. 5, to Sunday, Nov. 12. The meetings begin at 7:30 p.m.

The 28-year-old evangelist has conducted successful Crusades in some of the largest churches in Michigan.

He also is the conference director of Hiawatha Youth

Camp, located at Platt Lake in Michigan's Northern Peninsula. Billy is also a popular speaker in rallies and conventions.

He conducts monthly Saturday rallies in the Davidson High Auditorium in Southgate, and edits and publishes the "Fundamental Fellowship," a bi-monthly church newspaper with thousands of subscribers. The public is invited to the meetings.

The church has announced the schedule of special music to be heard nightly at the crusade.

The church choir will provide the music Sunday, Nov. 5 at both morning and evening services.

Dedicates Ed Unit

The dedication service for the newly constructed Christian education and fellowship unit of the Riverside Park Church of God, Plymouth and Newburgh Roads, Livonia, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 5.

The Rev. Arthur Elkamp, missionary to Japan now on furlough, will be the speaker. A graduate of Anderson College and the Yale Divinity School, he has served as a missionary to Japan since 1949.

The new construction provides over 6,000 square feet of additional floor space for Sunday school rooms, church offices, fellowship hall. Architect for the unit was James B. Morrison, Detroit. The general contractor was Orr Brothers, Livonia.

Robert Majors served as chairman of the building committee, and the dedication committee consists of Elizabeth McClure, chairlady, Shirley Armstrong, Vern Seibert, Janice Elston, Robert Majors, Dan Noble.

The public is invited by Pastor J. Clifford Thor to attend the service. A fellowship hour will follow.

REV. ARTHUR EIKAMP

The Detroit Archdiocese Synod for 1968 is in high gear, with speak-up sessions started in 16 parishes of Livonia, Redford, Farmington, Plymouth, and Garden City.

The Parish Participation Plan, enables all Catholics of the Archdiocese to take part in open discussion with others in the parish community.

In the light of renewal encouraged by Vatican Council II, nine areas of the Church are being evaluated: clergy, religious, laity, worship, education, administration, community affairs, ecumenical affairs and mission activity.

SPEAK-UP leaders have been trained in discussion techniques especially for this program. Procedures to make parishioners knowledgeable began with television programs explaining the nine areas for discussion.

Each participant, after attending the three general sessions, has chosen for study the topic he was most interested in discussing, and has become part of a speak-up session composed of a small group of 10-15 persons.

Concurrently, these groups are meeting in homes or parish schools. Pamphlets containing background material, based on the documents of Vatican Council II, are studied before each session.

A SPEAK-UP leader directs each group and an appointed recorder officially records all proposals.

All ideas from each parish will be joined with proposals from other areas and will be sent to the Archbishop. They will then become the subject matter of a Synod to be held in 1968.

Very significant at this stage are the feelings experienced by the participants. Individuals have offered a wide range of opinions about how it feels to determine the guidelines of the future Archdiocese.

HERE ARE some of the comments:

"Participation in the Detroit Archdiocesan Synod is an interesting facet of ecumenism. To propose actions to the Archbishop is a new experience, the results of which will 'feedback' a measure of the Church's intention to listen and react. The turmoil of church liberalism versus church reactionism may even be measured, to some extent, by the results of this undertaking."

"THE SYNOD is a dramatic step taken by the Church enabling the members to take an active part in the formation of fundamental decisions concerning the wide variety of facets challenging our faith. Its success will depend upon the Archbishop's implementation of the peoples' wishes."

"If the Church accepts the decisions of the people, they in turn, will consider their responsibility to spread their faith. It will almost be a re-awakening - the consequences of which might be a missionary's zeal to carry the faith to the ends of the world."

"BEING INVOLVED in the Synod offers great opportunities for discussion on many topics which are of great interest to all. Discussions concerning religion are extremely valuable since ideas concerning this area have been changing so drastically. I appreciate having a voice in Catholic affairs for the first time in my life. I sincerely hope the changes become effective and are used."

"FOR THE first time in six years I have really taken another look at my religion. I feel I am contributing a bit in only a small way to our future as Catholics. It is quite an experience to talk to other adults, some feeling the same, some opposed, but all of us interested. We are certain to benefit the Church."

Troubadors To Entertain

The Tennessee Troubadors will play and sing at the Pentecostal Church of God, 261 Spring Street, Plymouth, at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3. The public is invited.

Teen Rally Set

The Joe Talley family singers will be featured in a Huron Valley Youth for Christ rally at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, in the Ann Arbor High School auditorium.

Festival Set

The Welsh people of several denominations, together with their American friends, will hold their 31st Annual Gynafaru Ganu (Festival of Sacred Song) Sunday, Nov. 5, in the Henderson Memorial Methodist Church, 7520 Puritan, Detroit.

Emlyn Lloyd, president of the local committee, said the concert will be directed by Albert T. Davies, Deerfield Beach, Fla., formerly of Detroit.

Services will be at 2:30 and 7 p.m. and the public is invited.

Movie Planned

The film "Assault, The Woman Can Win," will be shown at the meeting of the St. Genevieve Rosary Altar Society at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6, in the Harrison School, Livonia. Shown by WXYZ-TV as a public service, the film demonstrates how women can protect themselves against an attacker on the street or in homes. Teen-agers are welcome to see the film.

DEDICATION SERVICES for the new educational unit of Westland Baptist Church, 35375 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, are scheduled at 3 p.m. Sunday, with Rev. Staley Sorrell, of Van Dyke Baptist Church, presiding. The new facility adds 6,450 square feet and 17 classrooms to the church proper. The Rev. Roland DeRenzo, pastor, notes that the church began in 1961 in the Parkway School of Dearborn Heights with just 35 charter members.

Lecturer Neil Bowles Sets Talk

A public lecture coming to Detroit on Friday, November 3rd will explore men's basic need for deep prayer and spiritual understanding.

Neil H. Bowles, C.S.B., a Christian Science practitioner and teacher from Atlanta, will be the speaker under sponsorship of Fifth Church of Christ, Scientist. The event begins at 8 p.m. in the church located at 17425 Second Boulevard.

The speaker is a native of Chicago who withdrew from the business world in 1942 to devote his life to the Christian Science healing ministry.

He later became a recognized teacher of the religion, and since 1958 has traveled widely on both sides of the Atlantic as a member of the denomination's Board of Lectureship. The title of his lecture is "Christian Science Meets Humanity's Needs."

Store Bedding In Cleaner Bags

The large plastic bags in which clothes are returned from the cleaners make ideal storage bags for bedding.

Place your clean washed comforter or blanket in the bag and seal the ends with cellophane tape.

Mend any breaks or cracks in the bag so that it will be mothproof. Also, add some moth balls or moth crystals.

These prepared bags store neatly on a closet shelf.

St. Matthew's Plans Party

The Ladies Aid of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, at Venoy and Beechwood, Westland, will sponsor a card party and salad buffet luncheon in the church's all-purpose room at 12 noon Wednesday, Nov. 8. Tickets are available at the door or from members.

meeting humanity's need

The basic need? To know God... to understand the spiritual facts of life and the healing power this calls into action. Hear this public lecture titled "Christian Science Meets Humanity's Needs" by NEIL H. BOWLES, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Faith Lutheran To Hold Dedication

Faith Lutheran Church in Livonia will dedicate its new church building with a full day of services and activities Sunday.

There will be dedication services with family holy communion at 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. The Rev. Ronald C. Starenko will preach, and there will be a ribbon cutting ceremony at the door before each service.

A service of Thanksgiving is set for 3:30 p.m., with the Rev. Herbert F. Lindemann, of Redeemer Church, Fort Wayne, Ind., as guest preacher. The church's furnishings and appointments will be dedicated at that time, and several guests of honor are expected to be present.

A BUFFET supper is planned after the service of Thanksgiving, and it will be followed at 7 p.m. by choral vespers. The Concordia College Choir from Ann Arbor will appear for the evening service, and the guest speaker will be the Rev. Richard L. Schlect, pastor of St. John Church, of Rochester, Mich., and third vice president of the Michigan District, Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The church also plans special services Nov. 12, designated as Reunion Sunday.

GUEST SPEAKER at both morning services, at 8:15 and 11:15, will be the Rev. Robert A. Grunow, director of seminary relations for Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., and founding pastor of Faith Church. Charter members of Faith Church will be guests of honor at the services.

Pastor Grunow also will speak at the banquet and informal program at 6 p.m., and there will be entertainment by the Lutheran Chorales.

Inner City Leader To Speak

Wilson Haywood, associate director of CORE, and a resident of the 12th Street area, will speak at 8:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 5, to the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations.

He will give his view of last summer's riot and the implications it has in relation to the suburbs. His analysis of the situation and events as they occurred will be followed by the customary question and answer period.

The group's leaders have designated November "Bring a Blanket" month, and members are asked to bring a clean blanket wrapped in a plastic bag to the meeting.

These will be combined with blankets being donated by the Plymouth Human Relations group and delivered to the Metropolitan Detroit "Homes by Christmas" committee. It is the aim of "Homes by Christmas" to relocate those whose homes were destroyed by the riot and to supply them with basic necessities.

The meeting will be held at St. Maurice's Roman Catholic Church, Lyndon Avenue (between Merriman and Farmington Roads).

Pioneer Girls Schedule Tea

The Pioneer girls of the First Baptist Church of Farmington will hold a get-acquainted tea at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6, in the church social hall. The program will consist of presentation of the year's plans and will include a question and answer period.

Bread And Water Luncheon

Bread and water will be the sacrificial luncheon menu when the United Church Women of Livonia hold their World Community Day program at 1:15 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, in the Alpha Baptist Church, 28501 West Chicago.

Women attending will be encouraged to donate at least the amount they would pay for a more conventional luncheon to a World Community Day offering, which will be used to extend the International Mission of Church Women across the world.

The Rev. Elsie Johns of the Clarenceville Methodist Church will speak on the theme "Who Shall Separate Us?"

Fall Fair Coming To St. Paul's

A country store, an art and antique show, baked goods and a fun house for the kids will be among the features of the Autumn Fair at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Farmington, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4.

Christmas decorations, fancy work and aprons will be available at the country store, and handcrafts made by members of the Bethesda home will also be on sale.

Edibles will include decorated cakes and sugar molds, as well as baked goods made by members of the St. Paul Parent Teacher League.

Marie Tuthill, of Farmington, will be in charge of the art and antique shows, and also will have a ceramic display. There also will be a table of items made in Hong Kong.

A spaghetti dinner will be served from noon until closing time, and coffee and donuts will be available throughout the day. The church is located at Eight Mile Road and Middle Belt.

Women of St. Andrews Episcopal Church, Livonia, suggest some early holiday shopping at their seventh annual "Christmas Bazaar" held throughout the church, 16360 Hubbard Road, on Thursday, Nov. 2 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The Fair's "Avenue of Shops" will include a Gift-Boutique, Toy Shoppe, Christmas Decor, Aprons, Children's Own, Country Kitchen, Children's Games and a flea market, known as "The Jumble", filled with everything from jewelry to small furniture.

For the young folks there will be a free nursery, with cartoons shown, children's games with everyone a winner, a penny candy counter, and a chance to shop by themselves in the Children's Own Shop with beautifully made items at "minor" prices.

Salads, sandwiches and home made desserts will be served for lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and a full course roast beef dinner is on the menu for dinner from 5 to 7 p.m.

60-Plus Meets

The regular monthly meeting of the Sixty-Plus Club will be held Monday, Nov. 6, in the First Methodist Church of Plymouth. A noon pot-luck will be followed by surprise entertainment.

Bazaar Set

Our Lady of Loretto Altar Society will hold a Christmas Bazaar tonight from 6:30 to 10 p.m. in the basement of the church, located at Beech and Six Mile, Redford Township.

Bethany Baptist To Start Mission Series Tonight

A Fall Missions Conference, with the theme "No Vision,--the People Perish," begins tonight in Bethany Baptist Church, Livonia.

The conference will be opened with a fellowship supper at 6:30 p.m., with the Rev. Fred Kendal, a Hebrew-Christian worker in the Detroit area, as speaker.

Mrs. Virginia Houk, veteran missionary to El Salvador, and the Roy Oshiro family of Okinawa, will tell of their work in the Thursday and Friday meetings.

Lutheran Posts New '95 Theses'

To mark the 450th anniversary of Martin Luther's posting of the "95 Theses" a young Lutheran theologian posts 95 theses of his own in protest against "secular Christianity," "God-is-dead" theology, and the new morality.

These modern ideas, like the church practices Luther criticized on Oct. 31, 1517, hold that "man can earn his own way to Life," says Dr. John Warwick Montgomery, a church historian who is three years older than Luther was when he began the Reformation.

"In the sixteenth century, indulgences diverted men from a life of repentance," he writes. "In the mid-twentieth century, 'secular religion' achieves the same purpose."

"IF GOD is considered dead--either metaphorically or literally," according to Mont-

A singspiration-missionary challenge service slanted toward youth will be the Saturday program, with Jose Colmonero of Cuba speaking. Programs Thursday through Saturday will be at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday meetings, corresponding with the regular worship hours, will feature Dr. and Mrs. William McCurry, medical missionaries from the Philippines.

The Rev. B. Kreller, pastor of Bethany Baptist, said the public is invited to all services.

Montgomery contends today's secular theology is based on an overly optimistic view of man and adds, "How very fast sinners forget the piles of eyeglasses and teeth and the bodies of naked children at Dachau."

Montgomery's latter-day 95 Theses, copying Luther's style, are published in the Oct. 27 issue of Christianity Today, which has the largest circulation of America's religious thought journals. Montgomery, who holds the Ph.D. and Th.D., is a professor at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield, Ill. and visiting professor at the University of Strasbourg, France.

THIS STRIKING PICTURE shows the altar of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, located at 39020 Five Mile, Livonia, which is celebrating its sixth anniversary Sunday, Nov. 5. The Rev. F.W. Balke will be guest minister for services at 8 and 11 a.m. A congregational dinner also is planned, starting at 5 p.m.

Our Staff Of Life

The average homemaker buys 250 pounds of bread and bread-type rolls each year. She wants them fresh at time of purchase, able to retain freshness, and pleasing in taste and texture. The law says she must get them that way.

Bread and rolls for which standards of identity have been established by the Food and Drug Administration need not have ingredients listed on the label. These are white bread, white rolls, whole wheat, white enriched bread, white enriched rolls, and raisin bread.

Breads for which no standards of identity have been established frequently do have a list of ingredients on the label... although it is not required by law. Ingredients, other than preservatives, need not be listed if the bread is manufactured and sold within Michigan. Any leavening other than yeast must be listed on the label.

All minor ingredients used to improve the taste, eating quality, or keeping quality must be approved by the FDA and be listed on the label.

For example, that includes calcium propionate or sodium diacetate - mold inhibitors and sodium propionate - a softener.

Michigan law protects consumers by establishing standards of loaf size for white bread.

Diet breads must be labeled according to the same standards as other diet foods. The number of calories and food value for a specific unit (1 slice) must be stated on the label.

IS IT FRESH? The "squeeze test" isn't reliable! Some bread formulas contain "softeners" that keep loaves soft for days, but they may not remain really fresh. On the other hand, some compact loaves may be very fresh.

For things that were just baked freezing is the best way of storing. Wrap bread or rolls and store at zero degrees F. Quality is kept fresh up to 6 months if products are fully-baked, if not fully baked products like yeast rolls, breads, or coffee cake they may be freezer-stored for no more than two weeks.

ONION BREAD
1 package active dry yeast
1 C. warm (not hot) water
2 t. sugar
1 t. salt
3 C. sifted flour
2 T. melted butter or margarine
1/2 C. coarsely chopped onion
2 t. paprika
1 t. salt

Sprinkle active dry yeast into warm water. (Crumble compressed yeast into lukewarm water.) Stir until dissolved. Add sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups of flour for kneading. Sprinkle about 1/4 cup flour on pastry cloth or board. Turn dough out on flour. Knead until smooth and satiny (5 to 7 minutes), adding remaining flour as needed. Shape dough into smooth ball. Put into greased bowl. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Punch down. Divide into halves, cover and let rest 5 minutes. Pat dough into 2 greased 9-inch layer cake pans, or into 2 8x8-inch pans, or shape into flat round 1/2 inch thick on greased baking sheet. Brush tops with melted margarine or butter. Sprinkle onions evenly over top. With thumb or fingertips punch onions down into dough so entire surface looks dented. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Sprinkle lightly with 1/2 teaspoon salt and dust generously with paprika. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

DILLY CASSEROLE BREAD
1 package active dry yeast
1/4 C. warm water
1 C. creamed cottage cheese (lukewarm)
2 T. sugar
1 T. instant minced onion
1 T. butter
2 t. dill seed
1 t. salt
1/4 t. soda
1 unbeaten egg
2-1/4 to 2-1/2 C. sifted all-purpose flour

Soften yeast in water. Combine in mixing bowl: cottage cheese, sugar, onion, butter, dill seed, salt, soda, egg and softened yeast. Add flour to form a stiff batter, beating well after each addition, cover. Let rise in warm place (85 to 90 degrees) until light and doubled in size, 50 to 60 minutes. Stir down batter. Turn into well greased eight-inch round (one and one-half or two quarts) casserole. Let rise in warm place until light, 30 to 40 minutes. Preheat oven. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 50 minutes until golden brown. Brush with soft butter and sprinkle with salt. Makes one round loaf.
