

Unification Is Key To Future--Draugelis

Ed Draugelis

The obvious solution to the problem of the population explosion that threatens to engulf most of western Wayne County by 1980 and cause many present areas to lose their identity is the unification of governments in the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

This is the opinion of former Municipal Court Judge Edward Draugelis and he expressed it in no uncertain terms in an address before the Plymouth Women's Club last Friday.

After pointing out that urban planners predict that by the end of this century the Detroit Metropolitan area will extend from Woodward and Jefferson to a point above Mt. Clemens on the east, above Pontiac on the north, and beyond Ann Arbor on the west, he stated that the utility companies, always a good barometer, are planning for a population growth in the Plymouth School District that will be greater than the population of the City of Flint.

"Some communities," he said, "already have met this population explosion and because of wise planning, foresight and good government, have been able to maintain community identity and economic government."

"THE TOWNSHIP of Plymouth consists of 16 square miles and contained therein lies the City of Plymouth toward its eastern edge, consisting of two square miles. Additionally, the eastern one half of the township has bi-annually held an election wherein the residents there have voted a charter commission for a city called Plymouth Heights. This, however, is a sham, and in fact, is merely an effort on the part of Plymouth Township government to prevent the City of Plymouth from any further annexation of its territories."

"In this year of the Plymouth Centennial, it seems obvious that the traditions of this community are worth preserving. Ours is a separate, unique and valuable identity of which we all should be justly proud."

"It is not just the annual Fall Festival, or the Plymouth Women's Club, or the park in the center of town, or the band concerts we hold there. Nor is it the colonial atmosphere our merchants try to perpetuate. It is not even our city government which changes every two years.

"But it is an attitude of belonging to a place, if you will, called Plymouth, which attempts through the initiation of its own people to solve its own problems in a spirit of helpfulness and neighborliness."

"I think if you are looking for an answer to the identity of Plymouth, it can best be found in the Community Fund Drive which we have insisted, over the years, remain by Plymouthites and for Plymouthites; or, the determination of the heads of our little leagues and their refusal to be swallowed up by the national organization."

"I think there would be general agreement that whatever it is we have, it is worth preserving, not only for ourselves, but for our children."

"I think we also should recognize that the coming megalopolis of which I speak does pose a threat. Certainly in some small ways at first, but with the passage of years, it could virtually destroy much of which we value today."

"The next question then is obvious—how best to meet this metropolitan expansion, how best to preserve the value we have here?"

HELPING HANDS—A Jay-Cee Auxiliary program designed to help Plymouth's children in case of an emergency, was officially launched when Mrs. Thomas Stevenson was presented with the first placard bearing the Hand symbol. Mrs. Stevenson, mother of six children, initiated a similar program last year in the Allen School District. Linda West, Jay-Cee Auxiliary president, is shown making the presentation while Police Chief Corrington, who wholeheartedly endorses the program, looks on. Each club member pictured here served as a representative for a specific school district: (top to bottom) Peg Campbell, Gallimore School; Jan Cavanaugh, Tanger School; Carolyn Strome, Smith School; Judy Shuman, Farrand School; Pam Boden, Allen School; Linda West, President, Mrs. Stevenson and Police Chief Corrington. Not pictured are: Annette Lee, St. Peter's Lutheran School; Rosemary O'Hara, Our Lady of Good Counsel School; Joy Gable, Jr. High West; Marcia Koster, Junior High East and Starkweather Schools and Pat Yohey, Bird School.

City Retains Legal Specialist To Fight Taxpayers In Court

The City of Plymouth is going to court with the property owners on South Main Street ready to battle to the limit—even if it means going to the highest court in the state.

The property owners brought suit last week against the city over the matter of special assessments for the widening and improving of South Main Street. It is the property owners' contention that the improvements benefit the entire city and that the assessments should have been placed on the entire tax rolls and not confined to those who own the abutting property.

IN ORDER to put its best foot forward, the city approved the retaining of Russell Schmidt, city attorney of Wayne, to handle the case. Attorney Schmidt is "considered one of the most able lawyers in this phase of law," and the entire commission agreed to his employment at the rate of $30 an hour.

Mayor James Jabara pointed out that the retaining of a specialist was in no way a slighting of City Attorney Charles Lowe, who readily agreed to let another lawyer handle the case.

"When Charlie Lowe was hired," the mayor explained, "it was agreed that some im-

Fund Drive Leaders Depend On Late Rush

As the annual Plymouth Community Fund Drive nears its finish the leaders are still optimistic that the goal of $98,565 will be reached.

While the captains reported only $44,703 last week, they were certain that the closing rush would bring the desired results.

"Things are looking a great deal better," James Thomas, Chairman of the Drive, said Monday, "and we are all hopeful that our hard work will pay off."

The drive got away to a hectic start with strikes at both the Ford and Burroughs plants. This caused the pace to be much slower than in other years. This was reflected in both the industrial and business divisions.

Now that the men are back to work there is every hope that the contributions and pledges will come in at the expected rate to bring success.

"It is possible we won't get the final total for several weeks," Chairman Thomas said, "but our success or failure now rests entirely with the workers at the Ford and Burroughs plants."

Meanwhile plans are going ahead for the final report dinner at the Meeting House on Wednesday, November 15.

City Clears Way To Act On Open Housing Pact

The Plymouth City Commission cleared the way Monday night for what is expected to be one of the momentous meetings in its long history next week.

It will be the public hearing on the proposed "open housing ordinance" that may attract one of the largest gatherings of residents ever to attend a Commission session.

The way was cleared for the controversial subject when the Commission gave the much-discussed ordinance its first reading last Monday. The document was an amended version of the one prepared by Charles Lowe, the city attorney, several weeks ago, but it met with the approval of the entire commission.

Most of the changes made were for the protection of the innocent, according to the City Attorney, and to make certain that everyone's rights were protected in cases where violations are charged.

MANY OF THE fine points of the amended ordinance had been worked out in the Committee and were not discussed at length at Monday's meeting.

"We want to have something for the public to discuss," Commissioner Robert Smith explained, and Mayor James Jabara also let it be known that the proposed ordinance may not be the final version.

"We are going to listen to the public next week," he said, "and then we can act and know what the people want."

It was understood that the amended ordinance was modeled after the one recently approved by the City of Flint and is considered the last word in the present discussions of "open housing."

Under its terms, it shall be unlawful for any owner, lessee or sub-lessee of real property, or any agent or representative, to refuse to sell, exchange, rent or lease any housing accommodation or living quarters of any sort within the City of Plymouth because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

Further, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to discriminate in the lending of money, guaranteeing of loans, accepting of mortgages or otherwise making available funds for the purchase, acquisition, construction, rehabilitation, repair or maintenance of any housing accommodation or living quarters of any sort within the City of Plymouth because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry.

national origin or ancestry.

THE ORDINANCE also involves the real estate brokers and salesmen who shall be prohibited from refusing to make available for inspection or to refuse to accept offers of purchase, offers of lease or any other proposed agreements with reference to the sale, exchange or lease of real property because of race, color, religion, national origin and ancestry.

The document also states that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to publish, circulate, issue or display or cause to be published, circulated or displayed any communication, notice, advertisement or sign of any kind relating to the sale, rental or lease of property within the City of Plymouth indicating exclusion of or preference for any person or group of persons based upon race, religion, national origin or ancestry.

One of the main features of the proposed ordinance, according to City Attorney Lowe, is the protection it provides for the innocent.

This protection comes in the section which states that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to knowingly or intentionally present false or substantially misleading statements to the authorities charged with enforcement of this ordinance or to sign a complaint for violation of this ordinance, based upon false or substantially misleading information.

It also makes it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation by threats, intimidation, coercion, extortion or conspiracy to induce or attempt to induce any person owning an interest in real property in the City of Plymouth to violate the provisions of the ordinance.

THERE ARE exceptions to the ordinance.

It shall not be construed as barring any religious or denominational institution or organization, or any charitable or educational organization which is operated, supervised or controlled by or in connection with a religious organization, from limiting admission to or giving preference to persons of the same religion or denomination, or from making selections for the purpose of promoting the religious principles for which it is established or maintained.

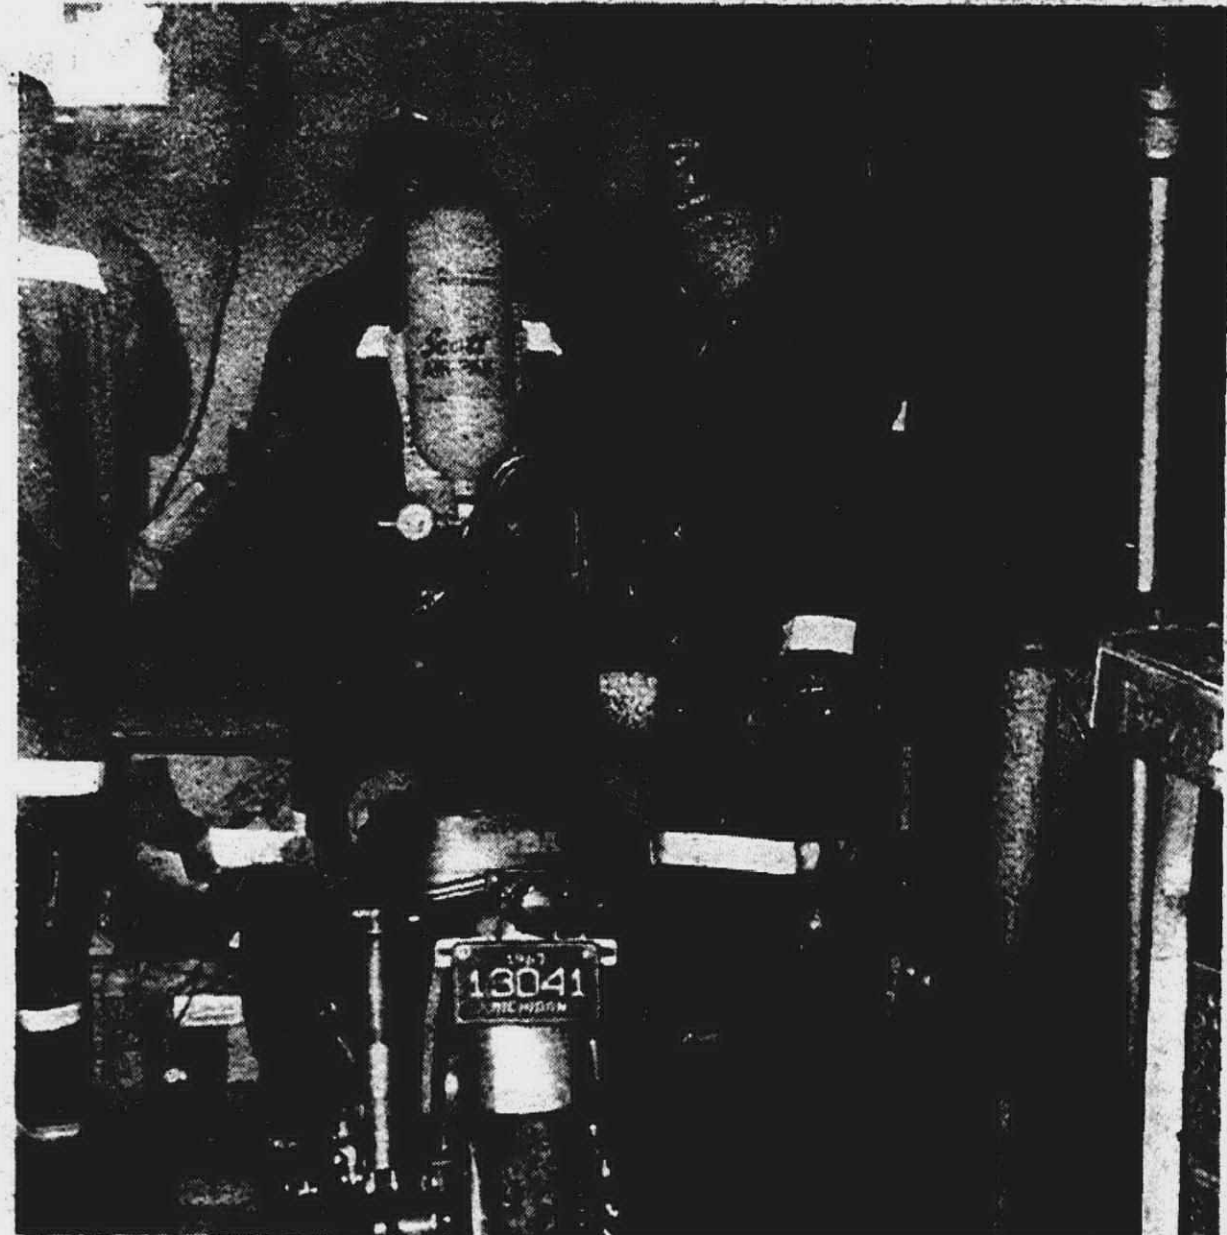

What Next? City Buys Rain Meter

Judging the size of floods and the proximity of danger to the storm sewers no longer will be guess work in the City of Plymouth.

No, sir. The city, on the recommendation of City Manager Richard Blodgett, is going scientific.

This was made certain when the City Commission, by a 4 to 3 vote, agreed to purchase a contraption for the scientific measuring of rainfall.

The three who wanted to retain the good, old-fashioned methods and voted against the purchase were Commissioners Arch Vallier, Peter Schweitzer and James Houk.

UNDER CONTROL — The Plymouth Township Fire Department was summoned to the home of Gerald Wilhelmi, 9037 Northern Street, last Saturday afternoon to fight a basement fire. On arrival the fire was extinguished and most of the damage done was due to smoke.

At $3 An Hour

Santa's Job Goes Begging

Santa Claus doesn't seem over enthused at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce's current offer of $3 an hour.

At least to date there's been only one applicant for the three-day-a-week job which runs from Dec. 2 through Dec. 23. And, the applicant isn't too sure about the hours which are from 4 to 8 p.m. on Thursdays and Fridays and 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 3 to 7 p.m. Saturdays.

In addition to the hourly pay, which was raised from $2 a couple of years ago to make the position more attractive, Santa gets the use of a house the City Commission erects in Kellogg Park for him each year, free uniform, whiskers, padding, and all the candy canes he can give away. The number given away last year came to more than 3,000.

An applicant should be a grandfatherly type with a ho, ho, ho personality and, naturally, he's got to like kids.

A $6,000 WINNER—Eugene Wolford (right), of Westland, receives a check for $6,000 from C. W. Truxell, general manager of General Motors Detroit Diesel Engine Division, where Wolford is employed. Wolford earned the prize under the company's suggestion program for the use of a different grade of tooling on the machining of engine flywheel housings, thus reducing tooling costs and job setup time and increasing production time. It was Wolford's fifth accepted suggestion of the year, and he has earned a total of $6,767. He and his wife Geraldine have four children.

Schoolcraft Amazed Up Pops $211,703

Much to their amazement and embarrassment, members of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees learned last Wednesday that there is an additional $211,703 in the contingency fund over and above the $43,000 budgeted for the current college year.

The disclosure came in the report of Sutherland and Robson, auditors for the college for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967.

THE AUDIT shows the college had revenues of $2,421,712 for the 1966-67 college year and expenditures of $2,210,009, leaving the balance of $211,703 in the contingency fund.

Kenneth Lindner, vice president in charge of business affairs, had told the trustees earlier that there would probably be an excess in the contingency fund but that it was impossible to make an accurate guess at that time.

He had estimated a surplus of around $80,000 but told the trustees that the accurate figure wouldn't be available until the final audit.

Both Lindner and College President Eric Bradner pointed out that the unexpected addition to the contingency fund hasn't changed the college's cash position.

"THE AUDIT tells us that the books show there is $211,703 in the contingency in the numerous funds that have been allocated to the college," said Dr. Bradner.

"However, we would be remiss if we didn't point out that these funds aren't available for spending and haven't changed our cash position.

"We were aware of a surplus in the contingency fund but didn't expect it to reach such a high figure. In checking the situation with Vice President Lindner, we feel the Board should wait until the funds are in the hand and not in the bush, figuratively, as at the moment, before using any for college projects."

The college recently borrowed $250,000 on tax anticipation notes to better its cash position.

In addition, the trustees recently approved a tuition increase, effective with the start of the second semester.

Move On 2dary Vocational Study

After a delay of almost four years, Schoolcraft College administrators have received approval of the Board of Trustees for an accelerated study of the needs, feasibility and methods of implementation of a secondary area vocational center.

A target date of August 1968 for the beginning of a pilot program was set.

Approval of a proposed plan was given by the trustees, and Joseph Berger, assistant to the dean of technical-vocational instruction was authorized to move as rapidly as possible.

IT WAS BACK in December 1963 that the Board, by resolution, offered to serve as an "area vocational center" for the college district and to accept students of all ages for the programs or programs to be developed.

The administration conducted a study at that time with a group of educational leaders in the college district. Upon recommendations of the committee, all of the communities involved accepted Schoolcraft's offer to serve secondary students with an area vocational center.

During its four years of operation, the college has moved primarily in the development of a post-secondary program with little effort toward the secondary area center. Now, the board has instructed the administration to move as quickly as possible in that direction. Schoolcraft College, by law, has been designated as an area center for vocational education to serve post-high school students. It also is designated as an area center to serve high school students, dropouts or those enrolled, if the local district boards are interested in having the college perform this function.

Realizing that the establishment and development of the center can't be a unilateral action by the college, the administration has proposed a co-operative decision with representatives of the five local school districts in the college district—Livonia, Plymouth, Garden City, Clarenceville and Northville—participating.

THE PROPOSAL recommends formation of an executive committee and a "blue ribbon" citizens advisory committee for the joint study.

2 Receive Scouting's Top Honor—Silver Beaver

Two long time Garden City volunteer leaders received Boy Scouting's Silver Beaver medals as the high spot of the annual meeting of Sunset District in Roma Hall.

The awards are the highest possible for adult leaders, and it marked the first time in several years that two from the same city received the distinguished honor.

The pair are Homer Wheelock, a committeeman of Explorer Post 855 sponsored by the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, and Arnold Folker, member of the Garden City Board of Education and committeeman of Troop 124 sponsored by the Garden City Lions Club and a long-time member of the American Legion.

PRESENTATION of the Silver Beaver awards came at the close of the annual dinner-meeting, upholding the district's tradition of keeping the names secret as long as possible.

Wheelock and Folker received the awards after Sid Strong, the first recipient of a Silver Beaver in 1934, was honored for 50 years service to the Boy Scouts.

Strong, better known as "Mr. Wonderland Needs Escort For Santa"

Wonderland Center has launched an area-wide search for a teen girl to serve as an escort for a jolly, be-whiskered visitor from the North Pole. Balloting has begun to select "Miss Christmas Carol," who will accompany the old gent when he swoops into Wonderland on Nov. 24.

Arrangements have been made for Santa's space sleigh to land at a nearby airport, where he and his young aide will board the special Whirly-Bird used for the last leg of his long trip.

Ernie Epps, promotion director for the huge center at Plymouth Road and Middlebelt, explained the voting procedure. "An official ballot appears in today's editions of The Observer," he said. "Brothers, parents, friends or relatives can cast as many ballots as they want to for their favorite teen-age girl."

"The contest is open to girls 14 through 18," Epps continued. Additional entry blanks are available at most Wonderland stores.

Ballots—which must include the candidate's name, age, address and telephone number—can be delivered to the center's administration office or mailed to: "Miss Christmas Carol," Box 2387, Livonia, 48151. Ballots post-marked or received after midnight, Nov. 18, will not count.

Epps urged students to select a representative of their school and support an election campaign in her behalf. Miss Christmas Carol and her campaign manager will have lunch with Santa on Saturday, Nov. 25.

sons, Robert, 18, a member of Explorer Post 855, and Michael, 10, member of Cub Scout Pack 723 of Garden City. The Sunset District includes Westland, Livonia, Plymouth, Northville, Canton Township, Wayne, and Inkster. District Commissioner is Rodger Ketchman of Plymouth. The annual event also saw numerous other Scouting awards presented to men in local communities.

N. Central Team To Inspect

A three-member team of college educators has been appointed by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to make an on-campus inspection of Schoolcraft College by mid-January, as the college's application for accreditation moves into its final phase.

Schoolcraft President Eric J. Bradner said he expected to hear shortly from the chairman of the visitation team on the date of the visit sometime between Dec. 11 and Jan. 15.

Members of the team are Dr. E. Stecklein, director, Bureau of Institutional Research, University of Minnesota; chairman; Reed L. Buffington, superintendent-president of Chabot College, San Leandro, Calif.; and Prof. Kenneth Brunner, Southern Illinois University.

Dr. Bradner said that, in compliance with another NCACSC requirement, the college had provided members of the team with a series of reports, publications and other material and information as background on the college prior to the visit.

The team will spend two days on campus, inspecting facilities, interviewing faculty and staff members, and inquiring into the operations of the Offices of Instruction, Student Affairs and Business Affairs.

"I have no fears at all that we are going to be accredited," Dr. Bradner told college trustees at a meeting Wednesday night, Nov. 1.

Following its visit here, the team will file a report to the NCACSC prior to the association's annual meeting in March when a final decision on accreditation for Schoolcraft will be made.

Boys can enter Cub Scouting any time after they are 8 years of age or in the third grade. 346,775 women volunteer their services as Den Mothers in the Cub Scout program.

WESTLAND'S OFFICIAL city seal, made in bronze, was presented to Mayor Thomas Brown (right) in a short ceremony Monday by Donald Hooper, of Manufacturers National Bank, which paid for its cost. The seal was designed last spring to coincide with the city's first anniversary as an incorporated city. In addition, City Council President Pro-tem Charles McIlhargey presented each councilman with a framed resolution adopted by the State House and Senate congratulating the city on its first birthday.

3-State Raid Cracks Gaming Syndicate

By DWIGHT JARRELL
LANSING -- Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley today said the massive three-state raid which struck at a gambling syndicate probe into the Livonia-Farmington area kicks off a major anti-crime war.

He hinted at more roundups in his fight against illegal horse race and football pool betting operations in the area. "There are still 11 warrants outstanding in this case alone," he said. "This is just the first of a series of efforts to stop crime in the cities as it flows into the suburbs."

"We have just begun to fight."

FBI agents joined state and local police in the Monday night raid which brought the arrest of 28 persons on 31 charges. Four of them were from Livonia, Farmington, Westland and Garden City.

Arrested and charged were: ROGER W. CHUBB 34, of 14383 Sunbury, Livonia, a football slip betting runner. He was arrested in Flint as he made a delivery of tickets to the Shipwreck Bar, the last of a 5,000-ticket delivery Monday.

FRANK R. KUSHNER 28, of 27714 Shawwassee, Farmington. Kushner was arrested at his home, which contained two printing presses and a photocopying machine in the basement. Police confiscated 3,000 partially printed football pool slips and $700 in cash.

DOUGLAS H. LONG 32, of 1806 Arcola, Garden City, bartender at the Stables Bar, 14950 Middle Belt, which police said was a center of gambling activity in the area.

phase of the suburban investigation which started last August.

HE SAID CHUBB was the mastermind of the suburban gambling operation and "one of the Michigan leaders in the syndicate gambling organization."

Chubb was arrested in 1965 by the Internal Revenue Service for failure to obtain a Federal gambling stamp. The case is still pending.

Kelley said the Stables Bar on Middle Belt and the Derby Bar at 13401 Middle Belt, both a short distance from the Detroit Race Course, were both headquarters spots for the syndicate. Kalco, one of those arrested, owns the Derby Bar. He was charged with conspiracy to sell bet tickets in the bar.

Kelley said the Monday raid "blocked a move into a full-scale suburban operation" by the syndicate. "There is no evidence now or any indication that any county or city official being involved at this point," Kelley said.

FIRST HINTS of a syndicate operation were uncovered in Flint in August by Genesee County Prosecutor Robert F. Leonard through Thomas. After Thomas was shot twice in the head in a motel he was brought to Michigan for protective custody. Kelley fears further attempts will be made on Thomas' life.

County Budget Cuts Tax Rate

A $127,160,325 annual budget was adopted by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors. Though the highest on record, the budget includes a decrease of 67.7 cents per $1,000 of equalized valuation in the county property tax rate. The new rate will be $7.07 per $1,000.

THE DECREASE, resulting from completion of a building program, means a tax savings of about $6.80 on property with a market value of $20,000.

Property tax revenues needed to finance next year's budget are estimated at $67 million—$4 million less than needed to support the current budget. Increased revenues from state and federal sources will finance most of the budget increase, the County Board of Auditors said.

OTHER BUDGET highlights are: • Addition of 245 new positions in various departments which

Apol Is Promoted To Election Director

LANSING -- Bernard J. Apol, Lansing, long-time Michigan elections' official, has been named the state's director of elections by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

HONORED AGAIN:—Life may begin at 40 for some folks, but Sid Strong finds things most exciting as he continues to celebrate his 50 years in Boy Scout activities. He is shown here receiving the latest of his many honors—a special award from the Sunset District Scouts—at a dinner at Roma Hall in Livonia. The certificate is being presented by Edward Schening, manager of the Burroughs plant and head of the district scouts.

Unification Of Governments Is Key To Future Of Plymouth

"When we come to recognize the rising cost of government and the need for streamlining it, it seems to me that the Township of Plymouth and the City of Plymouth should become one unit of government."

"THE TOWNSHIP of Plymouth consists of 16 square miles and contained therein lies the City of Plymouth toward its eastern edge, consisting of two square miles. Additionally, the eastern one half of the township has bi-annually held an election wherein the residents there have voted a charter commission for a city called Plymouth Heights. This, however, is a sham, and in fact, is merely an effort on the part of Plymouth Township government to prevent the City of Plymouth from any further annexation of its territories."

"There has been talk of unifying these two governments for 20 years. But, like the weather, no one has done anything about it. For a lot of reasons, unification has been impractical in the past. Perhaps, the primary reason was the rural atmosphere of Plymouth Township as opposed to the urban atmosphere of the City of Plymouth. Also, because the two units of government use different assessing methods. The resident taxpayer in the township would have had increased taxes, had the City of Plymouth method been adopted."

"That is not to say, of course, that Plymouth Township commercial and industrial occupants have not paid more than their fair share of taxes. Also, there were large tracts of undeveloped land in the township that bore a disproportionately low portion of the entire township tax burden. These facts are well documented and can be seen by anyone by merely examining the tax rolls of both communities. I have examined these tax rolls and noted, at least in one instance, that undeveloped land on different sides of the road was assessed three times as high in the city as in the township."

"Rabelais, the French writer and philosopher, hated boundaries and war both, and noting that rivers often divide countries, and a river specifically forms the boundary, at one point, where Spain and France touch, had one of his characters say to his neighbor of many years, during one of France and Spain's frequent wars, 'Why should any man have a right to kill me simply because he lives on the other side of the river?'"

"THE REASONS that in the past have kept Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth from joining in one unit of government are now largely dissipated. The township has increasingly become more urban than rural. The state now imposes a single method of tax assessment and with the recent residential tax increase in the township, residents there now bear nearly an equal burden of the school district tax carried by the residents of the City of Plymouth."

"The township derives its police protection by paying annually for it and securing it from the Sheriff's Department. It has often been called inadequate. The advantages to be gained by unification seem obvious. It is reasonable to predict a 20 per cent decrease in the total combined cost of government. This results from having:

One executive head of government.
One assessing department.

One water system.
One sewer system.
One set of municipal offices.
One police department.
One fire department.

"There would be an end to duplication of equipment and facilities. There would be an integral approach to planning for streets and highways, zoning, law enforcement and youth activities."

"The number of governments composing the school district would be reduced from five to four. The coming growth could be absorbed and planned for with the advantages of a central city, professional, business and shopping, with island shopping centers strategically located in the outlying areas."

"THERE ARE those who oppose unification, first because of long standing antagonism, and finally, because of vested interest which they foolishly think they are protecting. The antagonism must cease and the vested interest must be done away with. Clearly, the proposed new one unit of government would absorb and utilize, and, in fact, need all the present township employees. Should unification occur, I predict that the present township leadership would dominate such a unit of government.

"If one unit of government is logical, and practical, and needed, what must be done to bring it about?"

"There is a serious legal obstacle, and that is the sham and fictitious city of Plymouth Heights. I believe that the residents of both communities should petition the township on the one hand to drop its Plymouth Heights petition in July of 1968, and in its place and stead, place on the ballot the proposition whether the Township of Plymouth and the City of Plymouth should become one unit of government and, on the other hand, secure an agreement from the City of Plymouth government that no annexation shall occur during the period of time that the people are given an opportunity to vote on this unification question."

"If we, as citizens of one community, can put forth the necessary effort to unify the area into one unit of government, it will not only enable us, if accomplished, to defeat the excessive urbanization as we carve our niche in this metropolitan area, but will be the best possible legacy we can leave our children."

Purchasing Agent Now Sought For City

Plymouth may have a purchasing agent in the near future whose job will be to go shopping for the best buys in city supplies at a bargain for the taxpayer.

A newly proposed purchasing ordinance drafted by City Manager Richard D. Blodgett, City department heads, and the City Commission, got its first reading at the Monday night meeting of the City Commission. The bill establishes an Office of Purchases to be headed by a purchasing agent under the City's Treasurer-Assessor Department.

The new purchasing office would coordinate all buying of equipment and supplies by the various city departments.

Such a system would have the advantage of volume buying and will add further savings by competitive bidding from vendors. Also, centralization of such an office would create a time savings for individual departments that now must go out and find their own market bargains.

City Treasurer Kenneth Way has been acting in the capacity of purchasing agent for the City since 1966 but without the formalized procedures which the proposed ordinance will provide.

In addition to setting up a filing system of volume purchasing sources and competitive bidders, he has also worked through the Washtenaw County Purchasing Agents Association in the purchase of some supplies on an inter-governmental volume basis.

TV Celebrity Now Mascot

It's a beep-beep here, a beep-beep there, everywhere a beep-beep at James J. Gallimore School. After all, when you're a "Roadrunner," what else do you say?

In brief ceremonies last Wednesday, the entire 575-member student body gathered to welcome its new mascot, the Roadrunner.

Honored at the ceremonies were seventh graders Mark Kullick and Martin Korte who conceived the idea and prepared the necessary drawings. Each was awarded a "Gallimore-Roadrunner" sweatshirt which, eventually, will become "standard equipment" for all the school's students.

Mrs. Emma French presented the school with a full-sized stuffed-fabric replica of the cartoon character and Mrs. Edna Terry gave the student body its first official Roadrunner flag.

About a year ago, Gallimore students selected the Roadrunner as their mascot and official school symbol. Then the fun began when school administrators contacted WJBK-TV Promotion Department personnel and obtained permission to use and reproduce the character.

So, if you hear a loud "beep-beep", beware: the Roadrunners of Gallimore School are coming.

Library Expansion Plans Approved

Preliminary plans to remodel the Schoolcraft College library to meet the space requirements of a student body that has nearly doubled in three years were approved by college trustees at their Nov. 1 meeting.

The project, expected to be completed by next summer at an estimated cost of $45,000, will add approximately 2,200 square feet of available space for book stacks and student reading area.

The needed floor space will be recaptured by eliminating four of the eight existing classrooms in the library building. The other four will undergo slight remodeling so that they can be reassigned to strictly library functions.

COMPLETION of the remodeling will coincide with the opening of the new 32-classroom Liberal Arts Building now under construction.

Trustees instructed the project architect, Ralls, Hamill, Becker Associates, Inc., to proceed with working drawings.

Included in the project, which makes all of the 21,500 square foot building available for library purposes for the first time, are conversion of two classrooms into a single reserve book stack and reading room; conversion of another classroom into a slide viewing room; use of the present language laboratory as a record and tape listening room; and conversion of a faculty office bay into an audio-visual department work area.

In addition, two small office spaces will be added and the

Lindner Heads Research Unit

W. Kenneth Lindner, vice-president for business affairs at Schoolcraft College, has been appointed chairman of the community college research committee of the Association of School Business Officials.

Lindner, a resident of Garden City, received the three-year appointment during the association's annual convention in Miami recently.

As committee chairman, Lindner will serve as director of workshops and research activities of the two-year college section of the national association. Among continuing projects of ASBO is one aimed at developing uniform revenue and expenditure codes to be used by two-year colleges throughout the nation.

existing cloakroom will be converted for use as the library's card catalog area.

AT PRESENT, the library provides seating for 300 students and has stack space for 32,000 volumes. The library's present collection of 29,000 volumes approaches that figure.

Stacks for another 12,000 volumes will be added by the project. The additional floor space will provide seating for another 150 to 200 students, based on present estimates.

College officials said they expected the remodeled library to serve the college's needs for the next three to four years. They pointed out, however, that continued growth of the college will require the construction of a new library.

Accountants To Meet Thursday

The members of the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants will meet at the Engineering Society of Detroit on Thursday, Nov. 9 for their first meeting of the new fiscal year.

The meeting will begin at 5:15 p.m. with a pre-dinner technical session dealing with the new Michigan state income tax.

Following a reception and dinner, Lynn A. Townsend will speak on "The Work of the New Detroit Committee". Townsend is chairman of the board of Chrysler Corp.

Kuhn Praises Ford, Bell Programs

State Sen. George Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield, has publicly praised Ford Motor Co. for locating job placement centers "at the doorsteps of the hard-core unemployed."

"To me, this is one of the most important steps in recent years to advance the lot of Negroes who have been having difficulty finding employment," said Kuhn.

Kuhn's statement also congratulated Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for a program encouraging Northern High School students to stay in school.

The senator called these private business activities "far more effective than government-sponsored programs."

Halls A, B and C on the first level contain 100,000 square feet of floor space each and will be devoted to passenger car exhibits, both domestic and import, and specialty vehicles. Exhibits of recreational vehicles and motor homes will be located in Hall D, on the lower level, along with the 1,500-seat entertainment area.

Baker Asks Security Committee

Farmington's State Representative Raymond L. Baker (R. 64th District) has introduced a resolution calling for the creation of a special committee to study and investigate the security problems of the State Capital Complex in Lansing.

Co-sponsor of the resolution with Baker was Lansing Republican Representative Phil O. Pittenger.

Under the proposal, the five-member committee would serve without pay. They would be appointed by House Speaker Robert Waldron and serve until Dec. 31, 1968.

Baker pointed out that during the past several weeks there have been continued acts of vandalism and other acts of violence in the area of the capitol.

Several meetings have been held in recent weeks with members of the legislature, the Lansing Police Dept. and the Michigan State Police to try to find a solution to the problem.

The proposed committee will study problems and make recommendations to the legislature.

He will serve as assistant director in charge of the center's staff development component. Schumacher, his wife Nancy and their three children, live at 9910 Henry Ruff, Livonia.

MRS. CAREMA KIME, a former key punch operator, enjoys her new role as instructor and hopes to see the "Fresh Start" program continue.

Key Punch Classes Help Women At DeHoCo

The State Highway Commission, most often thought of in connection with concrete pavements and motor traffic, is contributing to a successful rehabilitation program at the Detroit House of Correction.

Women inmates, screened by aptitude tests and willingness to build new lives, are being trained as key punch operators in a federally-financed project called "Fresh Start."

Key punch operations, have reached full growth in the age of computers.

Without thousands of neatly stacked, punched cards, a computer has no facts to store in its whirling memory banks.

Trained key punch operators are always in demand by industry, institutions and agencies. They must be accurate, and thousands of cards required to "feed" a computer also call for skill and speed.

The Detroit House of Correction, "DeHoCo", is providing regularly scheduled classes, experience instructors, and office space for rented machines.

The program presently has more students than it has facilities to train.

The State Highway Commission, State Conservation Commission and Michigan Department of Labor are contributing thousands of data sheets to be translated into punched cards to feed their computers.

The volume of work provided by these agencies gives significance and impetus to the work of the women who graduate to key punch training from typing classes and other programs.

Former inmates have been placed as key punch operators in private industry, according to James Fleming, project director and he sees no difficulty in finding jobs for more.

Classroom instruction in DeHoCo's key punch project is directed by peppy, brown-eyed Mrs. Carema Kime, former key punch operator and housewife.

"I remember the good money I made when I was an operator," Mrs. Kime says, "and when I heard about this opportunity to teach these women a paying occupation, I took it."

"Most of these girls see the opportunity, too, and they work hard at learning. They are intent on their work, and they don't have the distractions they might have in a public place."

"Also learning a profitable skill might be their salvation, and they know it."

"My own problem is that we have only ten machines, and as soon as one girl graduates, another is ready to start her training."

"It's something like teaching country school, with eight grades in one room, but it's worth it, and I want to see "Fresh Start" continue."

There was some doubt recently as to whether the program would continue. After a year's operation the project ran out of money and those associated with it were waiting for word on new appropriations that would allow the program to go on.

The word arrived in the form of a green light and Mrs. Kime is again preparing her students for a career as trained key punch operators.

The entire project is administered by the Archdiocese of Detroit, which obtained the federal grant, provides volunteer instructors from four parochial colleges in Detroit and furnishes supervised lodging after release for girls who do not wish to return to their former environments or who have no place to go.

Four Livonians At Kalamazoo

They are: Richard D. Hobbs, 15610 Golfview; Douglas Howell, 11970 Newburg; Richard Gale Myers, 19930 Sunset Blvd., and Robert Winship, 15744 Stamford Rd.

Megalopolis Is Coming For Better Or Worse

For better or worse, megalopolis is in the future for Detroit and its suburbs. Whether that kind of living will be better or worse depends on the decisions of people in management, education and government.

So say the men involved with the five-year Developing Urban Detroit Area Study, under the sponsorship of Detroit Edison Co., Wayne State University and Doxidis Associates of Athens and Washington.

Phase two of the study was completed and published in Detroit last week, and the study has moved into its third and final stage.

THIS AREA COVERS 25 counties in Michigan, nine in Ohio and three in Ontario and involves 1,112 local units of government. The population here in 1965 was 7.5 million people. It is expected to grow to 15 million in 33 years.

Constantinos A. Doxidis, internationally recognized authority on planning and urban development, and director of the study, said that phase three, to be completed by 1970, will elaborate and interpret on the findings of the preceding phases to determine desirable courses of action.

Phase two of the Study "Future Alternatives" has just been published in book form. In this stage a very detailed analysis has been made of the methodology that applies.

Singletons Set Dinner

A dinner meeting of the Dearborn-Livonia Singletons is planned for Friday, Nov. 10, at Baja's Restaurant, 23955 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn.

A social hour at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner, a business meeting and a program.

Further information on the group and the dinner is available from Beverly Pickles, VE 6-0343, or Susie Alviani, LO 3-9362, after 6 p.m.

Singletons is a national service organization limited in membership to unmarried men and women between 25 and 45. Men must have an income of at least $5,000 and women $3,600. Chapters engage in civic and welfare activities with a well-rounded social program.

The Dearborn-Livonia chapter welcomes members from all western Detroit suburbs.

Plymouth Historical Group Meets

The Plymouth Historical Society will meet for a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, in the Plymouth Community Credit Union.

One feature of the program, planned by Frank Henderson, will be an observance of the birthday of the society's oldest member, Clarence E. Stevens, who will be 102 on Nov. 23.

Members of the dinner committee will be Harold Jolliffe, Maurice Woodworth, Harry Brown and Clarence Moore. Members are asked to bring place settings and a dish to pass, and coffee, tea and milk will be furnished.

Phase one "Inventory and Analysis" was published in book form last year. This book is in most libraries now. The second book will be distributed shortly.

Both books can be obtained at the study office, 1132 Washington Boulevard, Detroit, 48226.

WALKER L. CISLER, chairman of the board of Detroit Edison, said:

"We want Southeastern Michigan and the other cities in the Great Lakes area to have every opportunity to develop in the manner that is most suitable for human fulfillment. What we learn and accomplish will have interest to communities in other parts of the nation, in Canada and the world at large where similar problems and forces are in process."

"Megalopolis is something new in human experience but nevertheless there are about 10 megalopolises developing in several parts of the world," Cislser said.

"In the United States there is an existing megalopolis along the Atlantic Coast from north of Boston to south of Washington. There are signs of a developing megalopolis on the West Coast from San Francisco to south of Los Angeles. There is now evidence even a larger megalopolis will develop within the next 30 to 50 years in the Great Lakes area," he said.

THE GREAT LAKES Megalopolis extends from Milwaukee and Chicago across Michigan to Detroit. From Detroit, it will continue along both sides of Lake Erie.

Along the southern side of the lake it will extend through Toledo and Cleveland to Pittsburgh and possibly on to connect with the Eastern Megalopolis.

North of Lake Erie it will extend across Ontario to Toronto and along the St. Lawrence Valley. From Buffalo it will in time extend through the Mohawk Valley of New York State to connect with the eastern megalopolis.

Dr. Doxidis said the Great Lakes Megalopolis presently seems to be growing at a somewhat faster pace than the Eastern Megalopolis. Maybe early in the next century it will exceed it in size because of the broad expanse of land favoring economic and urban development, the relation to natural resources, fresh water and market.

He emphasized that Detroit is in a most strategic location in the Great Lakes area but cautioned that if present trends continue, urbanized Detroit will be in a most difficult position.

"THIS WAS ONE of the main conclusions of the analysis and projections contained in phase two. It indicated that Detroit, in its present state and pattern of growth could not bear the pressures exercised on it as the only major urban center of the area. The pressures would multiply in the future and the situation would become really impossible," he said.

Plymouth Police Chief Gives Advice On Tires

Police Chief Robert Corrington is being snowed under by inquiries about the new metal-studded auto tires versus old-fashioned tire chains.

His answer comes from tests conducted by the National Safety Council which show that studded snow tires give a car significantly better traction on icy pavements than regular snow tires, but reinforced tire chains provide a lot more traction than either.

"The Safety Council found that putting new studded tires on the rear wheels reduced braking distances on ice by 19 per cent, but that after 2,500 miles of wear the percentage figure drops to 13 per cent," the chief reported. "When you put studded tires on all four wheels the braking distance is reduced by 31 per cent when they are new, and drops to 17 per cent when they are used."

In comparison, reinforced tire chains on the rear wheels reduced braking distances on ice by 50 per cent, the tests conducted by the Council showed.

Conventional snow tires without studs, the tests revealed, offer the motorist no advantage over regular tires in stopping on ice and are actually slightly inferior to regular tires. One reason for this, Chief Corrington said, "is that regular tires have shown steady and substantial improvement over the years and their stopping distance on ice has dropped from 195 feet ten years ago to only 149 feet today."

Snow tires have improved, also, but not enough to offset the outstanding improvement in regular tires, he pointed out.

"From the standpoint of traction on glare ice, studded snow tires develop about three times the pulling ability of regular tires, compared to reinforced tire chains which provide more than seven times the ability of regular tires," the chief noted.

But no matter what kind of traction device the driver uses, he warned, the motorist must adjust his speed to conditions and allow plenty of room to stop.

LEARNING CITY'S NEEDS: — The Jaycees campaign to survey the city and ascertain the wishes of the residents for improvements drew a big turn out last Saturday morning. Here John Buckland (left) is shown getting answers to the questions on the survey. The resident declined to be identified.

What can the investor expect in 1968?

This has been a turbulent year. The President has proposed a 10% tax increase. Vietnam expenditures keep climbing. There is clamor for more domestic spending on Great Society projects. How will all this affect the economy in the coming year? And particularly, how will it affect the securities market?

A series of three seminars discussing these vital questions will be given by Walston Account Executive Keith Harrington. Also discussed will be the various merits of common stocks, bonds and mutual funds as they relate to the current economic situation.

Santa Gets New Home In Theater

When Santa Claus arrives in Plymouth next month, he will have a new home in which to live.

No longer will he have to weather the icy blasts and the frigid temperatures of Kellogg Park... and the little hut that always was built for him.

Instead, he is going to be "ritzy" and live in a theatre.

This was decided Monday night when the City Commission entered into an agreement with the Chamber of Commerce for the rental of the P&A Theatre for one month prior to the holidays.

The Women's Garden Club, it was stated, will take on the task of making the place ready for "St. Nick" and it is certain that he will have some grand old times with the youngsters during his stay here.

find at the Mandarin in spite of the fact that you would look out the front windows of the hotel and see hundreds of ships from Red China.

It is nice to be able to visit a Rotary meeting in Hong Kong and hear about friends in Ft. Wayne, Indiana. The guest sitting next to me was from Ft. Wayne and was a personal friend of Russ Daane, former vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit and later mayor of the City of Plymouth, while he was treasurer of the Daisy Mfg. Co. It was nice to learn that Russ' bank is now considering the construction of the tallest office building in the State of Indiana.

I visited friends in the finest hotel in Kowloon Peninsula and was utterly amazed by the luxurious accommodations offered the guests.

THE SHOPPING in Hong Kong is fabulous and you could go broke trying to save money. Imagine Carl Caplin or Wendell Lent taking an order for a custom tailored suit and having it ready for the first fitting in four hours and the complete suit ready for delivery in 24 hours! The usual price is less than $50. They are actually tailor made as we watched the tailors cut out a suit within the hour after order.

My next Rotary stop was in Manila. The meeting was held in the Manila Hotel which was within walking distance of the boat dock. The Manila Rotary was organized in 1919 and was the first Rotary Club in Asia.

I had the privilege of meeting with the Past District Governor with whom I studied Rotary in Lake Placid, N.Y., in 1965.

We were amazed by the large number of college students in Manila. There are 14 colleges and 200,000 students.

Today we stopped at Cebu, Philippines, and we were on the first large passenger ship to visit the port in 50 years. We were met by the mayor and had a grand time.

This entire area is grateful for what our country is trying to do in Vietnam.

Sincerely,
Perry.

Mothers March Group To Meet

Plans for the annual Mothers March, one of the top activities of the March of Dimes campaign, will be put into motion on Wednesday evening, November 15, at the Public Library.

Mrs. Donald Wee, Chairman of the March, has called the meeting for 7:30 p.m. and invites all those interested to be on hand promptly.

Place Of Prominence Planned For Rock

The famed bit of rock that the Lord Mayor of Plymouth, England, presented to the City of Plymouth during his visit in July, is going to have a favored location in the city.

According to the plans worked out by Harold Guenther and approved by the City Commission on Monday night, the "Plymouth Rock" will be encased in a suitable setting on the brick wall between the City Hall and the Public Library.

The setting is something unusual, according to the plans, and it will be a hallowed shrine through the years. "We would like to have some sort of activity in front of the stone each year," Guenther stated, "and it may be that we will stop there each year during the July Fourth parade for a ceremony of some kind."

The city is planning to finance the presentation of the "rock", but according to the action taken Monday night, all donations will be gladly accepted.

Chamber To Write 'The Livonia Story'

"The Livonia Story" in words and pictures will be published in a booklet form by the Livonia Chamber of Commerce, President Elvin D. Dougherty announced this week.

"We're going to put a new sales tool in the hands of the chamber," Mr. Dougherty said. "This book will tell the whole story of Livonia and will give us a chance to put our best foot forward in attracting new industry and residents."

"Cost of publishing the book will be underwritten by advertising space purchased by members of the Livonia business community," Dougherty explained.

THE DECISION to publish a book on Livonia was reached by the board of directors of the chamber when this program was presented to the board for approval. Windsor Publications, which specializes in preparing books on cities in the United States, will publish the book. In the next few days a team from Windsor Publications will begin shooting pictures and gathering facts in Livonia. They will cover schools, churches, the history, government, industry, residential areas and the commerce of the city. The finished publication is expected to be available in the summer of next year.

Phillip O. Tanguay, manager of the chamber, said, "We'll give the books to new families moving into the area, and to the personnel managers of local plants for their use in hiring. We'll give them to our realtors, both residential and industrial, and we will use them to answer the hundreds of inquiries about our city that we receive from all over the country."

First Rink Started At Devonshire

Tuesday was a memorable day for the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation as city officials, architects, contractors and staff personnel gathered at Devonshire Park for ground-breaking ceremonies, signifying construction of the first indoor artificial ice rink and recreation center.

Construction of the second indoor rink is also going on simultaneously at Henry Ford Field.

Participating in the ceremonies were Bill Zirblis, Assistant Superintendent of Recreation; Dick Jones, assistant superintendent of operation, DPW.; Mrs. Helen Frederiksen, vice-president of Devonshire Woods Civic Association; Charles Beltz, Beltemp Refrigeration; Peter A. Ventura, president of the Livonia City Council; John Dufour, superintendent of parks and recreation; Mayor Harvey W. Moelke; Dolores Hobbs, recreation staff member; Norman Stalzer, chairman of parks and recreation commission; Clara Karr and Sylvia Paschke, recreation staff personnel; William Lindhout, architect and Bob Toupin, supervisor of concession, Recreation Department.

Indoor ice will be available at both centers beginning on Sept. 1, 1968.

Jaycees Plan Canton Group

The Livonia Jaycees have called an open meeting at the Canton Township Fire Hall No. 1 for all men between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive. Fire Hall No. 1 is located at Cherry Hill and Canton Center Road. The meeting will start at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 15. Its purpose is to acquaint the township's young men with the purposes and activities of the Jaycees.

Bill Hanftan, the meeting chairman, said "Livonia Jaycees will be present to answer your questions and to help organize a Canton Center Jaycee chapter. We urge all young men who are interested in their community to attend."

4,000 Back As Ford Tieup Ends

Ford Motor Co. employees have gone back to work in the company's two Livonia plants after two months of idleness except for picket line duty. Returning to their union jobs this week, they resumed work where they had let off on Sept. 6, with higher pay and improved benefits.

An estimated 6,000, after ratifying the new agreements between company and the United Automobile Workers union, picked up their tools this week at the Livonia Automatic Transmission plant at Levan and Plymouth roads.

ALSO ACCEPTING the new terms were the estimated 1,000 employees of the National Parts Depot at Middle Belt and Plymouth Roads. They also were called back to their jobs Monday.

Although company and union reached agreement on the general issues Oct. 22, negotiation of local grievances delayed resumption of company operations further. A few plants are still idle.

The new contract covers a three-year period. The Livonia plants are operated mostly by commuters from Detroit and its suburbs, with only about one-tenth of the employees living in Livonia. For that reason business here did not feel the economic loss that hit cities in which the company's 160,000 workers lived and where the plants were closed by the September strike.

Superior Asks Big Rate Hike

City Council wants more time to study proposals for ambulance service for Livonia.

Superior Ambulance Co. of Wyandotte, which has been serving this city for several years at a subsidy of $300 a month, has increased its bid about 400 per cent for future service.

It wants $14,000 a year to keep one ambulance stationed in Livonia around the clock—24 hours a day with two men on duty at all times, including weekends and holidays.

BUT VICTOR C. PHILLIPS, the city's budget director and purchasing agent, says General Ambulance Co. of Pontiac has bid for Livonia's business at the price now being paid Superior.

Two ambulances are to be on call in Livonia under the contract which is just running out, and which the Council has asked Superior to extend for 30 to 60 days while the problem is studied.

Superior officials said it costs the company from $53,000 to $57,000 a year to operate and man an ambulance.

THE COMPANY charges scheduled rates for all calls, but because of collection risks, the city has been paying Superior a flat $300 a month to help cover losses.

The city doesn't call it a subsidy, but "insurance" against loss for the ambulance service that serves the city more cheaply than it could provide such emergency and public service. Ambulance service is not provided by either the police or fire department.

Councilmen said they wish to look further into the service problem before making a new contract for a year's service.

Leukemia Unit Plans Gift Sale

Christmas is in the air. Evidence is the upcoming gift show and sale of the West Suburban Chapter, Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan. The preholiday event, featuring glass, ceramic and hobby items, doll clothes, oil paintings and mosaics, will begin at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 13, in the home of Mrs. Asher Smith, 30123 W. Seven Mile Road, Livonia.

No admission will be charged and refreshments will be served browsers and buyers.

All proceeds will go to the Leukemia Foundation to further the fight against the incurable disease. The foundation's aims are to comfort and buy medical help for persons suffering from leukemia and allied blood diseases, as well as to provide funds for research to obtain a cure. Members also supply special blood banks to assist patients.

The Children's Leukemia Foundation is the only blood-disease organization in Michigan which aids people in Michigan and is the only child organization that extends its assistance to adults.

Further information on the group and its goals may be obtained from Mrs. Morris Gural, president of the West Suburban Chapter, at GR 4-0747. Mrs. Sarah Smith of Livonia is treasurer of the Leukemia Foundation and founder and sponsor of the local chapter.

Housewife Convicted In Abortion Trial

A Garden City housewife was convicted last week of committing an abortion on a 16-year-old Garden City girl.

Circuit Court Judge Joseph Rashid rendered the verdict against Mrs. Catherine Hendershot, of 28907 Rosslyn Street, charged by the Garden City Police on Aug. 9.

THE CONVICTION came six weeks after a preliminary examination on the charge was held by Garden City Municipal Judge Richard Hammer.

At the hearing, the girl testified that on Aug. 9 she went to the Hendershot home and spent that day and evening there.

The next day, she was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where doctors removed the dead fetus from her.

The girl quoted the defendant as telling her that she "had means of getting rid of it, that the girl was too young to marry, and it had worked before."

On cross-examination, defense attorney Douglas Craig of Westland said that there is a "disparaging difference" in the testimony of two doctors and the girl and that the teen-ager admitted lying to the doctors when she was first admitted to the hospital.

THE ATTORNEY commented that the girl said she felt no pain during the abortion while the doctors testified that it required force to penetrate the cervix.

"She's admitted lying before and she wants the court to believe her now," Craig said.

Hammer said that the testimony of the two doctors proved that there was an induced abortion and the testimony of the girl showed that plans were made for the event and the circumstances (of numerous others who directly or indirectly were part of the abortion) established the intent.

ON THE WITNESS stand, the girl said that when she was first admitted to Wayne County General Hospital, she told a doctor that she was kicked while in a swimming pool. Later she changed her mind and said that abortion was committed.

During the testimony, the girl revealed the name of the father of the child; that Mrs. Hendershot's 16-year-old daughter helped during the abortion, and mentioned several other names of friends who were at the Hendershot home that day.

Loan Closet Service Assumed By Firemen

An organization formed by women in Westland, (then Nankin Township) Wayne and Canton Township during World War II came to an end and turned over its community service to the Westland Firefighters Association.

The group, called the Nor-Wayne Health Guild, provided needy persons with crutches, wheelchairs, walkers, and other aids for short periods of time for more than 20 years.

THE ARTICLES were loaned without charge and at times, the women members of the guild provided funds from their own monies.

Westland Fire Chief Ralph Savini granted permission to have the department assume the "loan closet" and keep the materials in Station No. 3 in the Nor-Wayne community. In addition, any articles needing repairs will be serviced by firemen during their free time.

Joseph Benyo, association secretary-treasurer, said that a check for $700 was given to the association's loan closet by the health guild recently to buy new equipment to replace old articles and non-repairable items and for the continued maintenance of present equipment.

Officials To Attend Conference

Two Garden City officials will attend a regional conference on juvenile crime and related issues next Tuesday night in Lincoln Park.

The meeting, called by the Southwestern Metropolitan Recreation Executive Group, will have Mayor Timothy J. Murphy and Raymond Wiacek attending.

Lincoln Park Mayor Robert DeMars issued the invitation to area city officials, pointing out that law enforcement personnel, civic leaders, and those who work with youth, will "help map out a blue print for effective action."

DeMars also said that the conference was called because of the increasing national problem of crime by youth, vandalism, violence, and the concern expressed by persons in all phases of community life.

The Lincoln Park Recreation Dept. is hosting the conference, to be held in that city's John F. Kennedy Memorial Building.

Nesting Failure Pheasant Kill Down 25-30 Pct.

Southern Michigan's opening two days of the Oct. 20-Nov. 10 pheasant season saw shooting success drop an estimated 25-30 per cent from last fall, the state Conservation Department reports.

The drop in kill, drawn from the department's field checks of nearly 4,300 hunters during Friday and Saturday, comes as no surprise. Summer brood counts by rural mail carriers pegged the southern region's pheasant population at about 40 per cent below 1966, due mainly to nesting failure among hens.

As a result, department game men had predicted earlier that this year's kill would be substantially down from last fall, when bird hunters bagged approximately 630,000 pheasants during the 22-day season.

STATISTICS gleaned from the Department's October 20-21 survey indicate they were right. Figures show, for example, that hunters who were sampled took only 974 pheasants while spending 12,406 hours afield during those first two days. This averages out to about 8 birds for every 100 hours of hunting, compared with 11 ringnecks shot for the same unit of time last season.

The department's early-season check also indicated the kill averaged one pheasant for every four hunters during the first two days of shooting. In 1966, nearly one of every three ringneck hunters was successful during the same survey period.

Hunter success was down from a year ago in most parts of southern Michigan, including the 3,000-acre Rose Lake Wildlife Research Area near East Lansing where the Department has kept close tabs on pheasant populations for many years.

That area's 829 hunters took 44 pheasants during the first two days, a significant come-down from 1966 when 79 birds were shot by 937 sportsmen, covering the same number of days.

EXCEPTIONS to the general pheasant shooting slump were reported in Ingham and Washtenaw counties where hunters, on the average, had somewhat better luck in bagging birds than they did last fall.

Early kill among hunters in Gladwin County and the Fish Point Wildlife Area of Tuscola County held up close to last year's level.

Despite generally good weather during last Friday and Saturday, bird hunting pressure appeared to be lighter throughout much of Lower Michigan's major pheasant country.

Daytime Classes Open For Adults

For the first time Westland adults can now attend day classes to complete their elementary or high school education as the Wayne Community School District announced the opening of these day classes to be coordinated through the Continuing Education Center.

Coordinator James S. Lombard explained that these day classes will help the many people who were never able to attend before because of conflicting work schedules. Mothers with children in school may now be able to attend where they could not before.

Members of the Board of Education and the school administration have endorsed the adult day program and expect the number of adults attending day classes to grow in size during the fall and winter terms. Only under way for two weeks, enrollment and interest has been most encouraging, Lombard said.

"The classes are held in the mornings at Hamilton Elementary School whose principal Fred Hoover has been instrumental in arranging facilities and ensuring the success of the program," Lombard said. "The addition of these adult day classes is another service offered to school district residents and another step in implementing the community school concept."

"For further information call Continuing Education at 728-1880 or Hamilton Elementary School at 722-3011."

New Judge Gets Plaque From Group

Westland's immediate past president of the Civil Service Commission, Thomas G. Smith, will receive a special plaque tomorrow night, Thursday, following his formal resignation.

Smith, who was succeeded in the presidency of the three-member group by Edward Kiefer last summer, was elected to one of the two judge-ships in the city's first general election.

Smith and the other Democratic candidate Michael W. Bradley, were elected without opposition from Republican candidates.

The new judges will assume their new duties Jan. 1.

Bentley Again Beats Franklin

Playing in the worst possible conditions, partially in a driving snow which turned into a drizzling rain and made the field a sea of mud, Bentley High's Bulldogs proved superior mudders and whipped Franklin, 20-7, in the annual intra-city duel Friday on the Bentley field.

It was the third straight year Bentley wound up on the big end of the score in the battle with its crosstown rival. It also enabled the Bulldogs to end the season with a 6-2 record and was the third loss for the Patriots against five victories.

The hard-earned triumph was the result of a tenacious Bulldog defense that didn't yield a first down all evening and a couple of mud-loving ball carriers in the persons of Leroy Watson and Bob Cascaden along with some excellent generalship by Quarterback

Jim Powers.

Strange as it may sound, it was a pass from Powers to End Dan Doyle in the final 22 seconds of the first half that gave Bentley the first score of the evening and a lead it never relinquished. Watson scored from five yards out midway through the third quarter and Halfback Dick Ban-tau registered the final Bulldog six-pointer with less than six minutes remaining of the final stanza.

Franklin broke into the scoring column late in the third quarter after Doyle fumbled a bad pass from center while attempting to punt out from his own 17 and Jeff Trick recovered for Franklin on the nine.

Gary Sica and Bill Hellstein picked up six yards in two plays, and then Sica found an opening at guard and plowed over for the marker. Mark Richardson converted and the Bentley lead was sliced to 13-7.

It was an interception by Phil Shipley that paved the way for Bentley's insurance touchdown. He reached high in the air to snag a Hellstein aerial in midfield and darted back to the Franklin 44.

16 Straight Strikes...

He may never record a perfect game, but Bowler Mike Eastland of Northville, who fired a big 802 series at Merri-Bowl Lanes in the Senior House League, still has hopes.

In that 802, Mike had a string of 16 strikes in a row but couldn't put 12 together in a single game for the much desired 300.

Just to show it wasn't a fluke, Mike came up with a rousing 754 count a week ago in the same league at Merri-Bowl and once again he had 16 straight and no 300.

He came closer this time, collecting 11 perfect hits in the second game for a 298, leaving the 6-10 on the final ball for the big game in his series.

Mike opened with 233 going out with five in a row. He started the second game with 11 strikes before the split for 298 and then, concluded with a 223.

RU Rules Over Thurston, 12-6

Redford Union football coach John Rogers gladly will pay this week's cleaning bill.

That's because he got his trench coat and wool suit dirty being carried off the field after his team's 12-6 victory over arch-rival Thurston Saturday afternoon.

And with the Panther win, the Redford Union Dad's Club finally gave away their trophy in the inter-city clash between Redford Township's two high school football teams.

SINCE THE SERIES started in 1960, both Redford Union and Thurston have won two contests. The games for the past two years have ended in ties.

The Dad's Club rules state that the first team to win three games in the series retires the trophy.

The Panthers have already found a permanent niche in their trophy case.

There was a third party involved in the Redford Union-Thurston game--the weather-man.

Old Jack Frost played havoc throughout the game. Midway through the first and second half, gray clouds spilled snow flurries and a cold, icy wind spoiled both teams' game plans. Both teams were hampered in their passing attack.

ALL THE SCORING took place in the first and second quarters. Thurston's Gary Schaffer sloshed his way through a muddy field and outdistanced Redford Union's defense to score on a 32-yard sweep around end in the first period.

However, Chet Proctor, the Eagles' senior center and kicking specialist, missed with the conversion attempt.

Redford Union tallied late in the first period to tie the score.

The Panthers worked on the Thurston interior line and swept the ends in their march.

Junior fullback Bob Fahey capped the drive with a 24-yard jaunt into touchdown territory. The Panthers struck again in the second quarter when Rick Kenyon climaxed a series of offensive thrusts with a five-yard quarterback keeper play. Both tries for the extra point failed.

REDFORD UNION completely dominated the second half.

Thurston kicked off to start the third period and Redford Union drove to the mid-field line before being forced to kick.

On the fourth down punt, a Thurston lineman attempting to block the kick, smacked into Redford Union punter Jim Walker. The Panthers were given new life at the Thurston 35, but failed to capitalize on the opportunity.

Redford Union couldn't move the ball and punted to the Thurston 14. That was the pattern for the rest of the game.

Thurston didn't penetrate past its own 30-yard line as the weather and a stingy Panther defense bottled up the Eagles.

Redford Union's offense bogged down time and again just when it seemed the Panthers would score. Rogers' team would have to punt and Thurston found themselves deep in a hole again.

THIS WAS THE last game of the season for both teams. Thurston, playing in the Northwest Suburban League, finished with a 2-6 record.

Redford Union, one of the Suburban Six teams, ended the year with a 4-3-1 mark.

Statistically, Redford Union gained 236 yards to Thurston's 39.

The first downs were 15 to none.

George Corombas was singled out by winning Coach Rogers for his great efforts. Bill Fahey was hailed by losing Coach Bill McDonald for his efforts in leading the Redford Union team to victory.

The Jaycees were to announce some special awards this week--to the most valuable players on each team.

In between the Pistons playing twice at Cobo Arena and a speedy trip to Baltimore . . . in between prep football wars locally . . . and the state cross country championships . . . there was a moment or two to slip off to the annual Detroit Ski Show.

It might sound like a senseless place to go for one who could never stand up on roller skates . . . or ice skates . . . and who would flail all over the place if he ever tried to put on a pair of snow skis.

But when you operate around people like Tom Jakobowski of the Free Press and George Kuhla of the News, you discover that skiing has taken over the Detroit area by storm.

You also find out that every year sees the number of ski enthusiasts in the vast area served by the Observer newspapers skyrocket.

Skiing is a fun sport, as we noted here not too long ago. It's also a family sport . . . and show us how many other similar activities there are like it.

We know many a pop and mom who several times during the winter bundle the kids up in the family car and skip off for a weekend somewhere in northern Michigan.

Take folks like the Max Sheldons—he's the real estate man who probably had something to do with the property on which your home stands.

Dad has taken the family to New Hampshire, to Colorado, to Europe . . . and, of course, up-state in Michigan . . . for skiing.

BUT YOU DON'T HAVE to travel too far any more or spend great sums to locate a ski resort close to your home.

If you checked out the ski center maps in last Friday's News and Free Press, you certainly spotted places like Alpine Valley, Irish Hills, Kandahar, Mt. Brighton, Mt. Christie, Mt. Gramplan, Mt. Holly, Pine Knob and Teeple Hill.

All are situated within 75 minutes of the Greater Livonia area. Most are adjacent to the growing Michigan expressway system.

Skiing can be an expensive or an inexpensive sport. It just depends on how you want to approach it.

You can buy skis for around $20 and bundle up in the sweaters and caps you have around the house. Or you can shell out several hundred bucks to look like a prince or princess.

VIRTUALLY ALL of the ski areas now are lighted. This means that you can put in a day at work and still enjoy a few hours of fun before calling it an evening.

'City' Battle On Saturday Farmington Rivals Clash

Farmington vs. North Farmington!

What more need be said when the two arch rivals get together in football, or any other sport? Well, Saturday's the day for their 1967 head-on collision on the gridiron and they'll be battling at Farmington High's field at 2 p.m.

This is the one where the form sheet goes out the window.

NO SENSE in looking back and noting, for example, that North Farmington won the first five games in the series before Farmington arose to capture the 1966 encounter.

No sense, either, in noting that North Farmington has had some merry moments on the grid this fall and that Farmington has been floundering in what truly has been a disappointing fall.

There's no sense, either, looking back to this past weekend and using the games of the two rivals to predict what might happen this week...the fact that North Farmington swarmed over Stevenson, 33-2, while Southfield charged past Farmington, 16-0.

Forget all the records....forget everything.

"We'll rise for this one," said Coach Bob Misteale of Farmington.

MISTEAL IS well aware that his team realizes that a win over North Farmington can remove the pain that has prevailed thus far--pain that has included finishing last in the Interlake League with no victories and just one tie.

Over on 13 Mile Road, Coach Ron Holland's crew will be sky high for this one. The Raiders haven't forgotten how they lost to Farmington last year.

"Revenge..." that has to keynote the cry in the north end.

Farmington again will rely on its wide-open offense which has been slowed down week after week.

The Falcons figure that quarterback Dan Wolfman is due to explode on somebody... and the somebody will be the North Farmington Raiders.

FARMINGTON had its chances against Southfield. Good ones, too, said the coach. "But we couldn't hang on to the ball."

There was no scoring until the third period when Steve Watts ran over from the 10 for Southfield's first touchdown.

That came after a fake punt on fourth down resulted in a 45-yard gain for Southfield. Minutes later, Wolfman was dropped in his own end zone for a safety. Then with time running out a poor punt helped Southfield score again as Greg Anderson passed nine yards to Lance Tesco.

The weather wasn't much better on Saturday when North Farmington squared off against Stevenson, the surprise team this year in the Interlake League.

BUT THE RAIDERS had no problems gaining either in the air or on the ground. The snow flakes didn't bother them.

Through the air, the Raiders picked up 195 yards with 15 hits in 23 attempts. Stevenson on the other hand lost three yards total on the three passes it made in five tries.

Paul Adamian and Norm DeCourcy were the big guns for North Farmington. Each scored two touchdowns.

DeCourcy's tallies came on a 52-yard dash and on a 25-yard pass from Dave Negri. Adamian besides running for two TD's added a pair of extra points.

Chuck Kovski scored the other North Farmington touchdown and picked up the final conversion.

The only Stevenson score came late in the game when Negri was tossed in his own end zone by a Stevenson tackler. That gave the Livonians two points.

Schoolcraft Plays Host In Soccer

Schoolcraft College will meet Delta College and Jackson Community College will face Lorain (Ohio) County Community College in first round contests of the National Junior College Athletic Assn.'s Region XII soccer tournament to be played at Schoolcraft Friday and Saturday.

The Schoolcraft-Delta game time is noon on Friday. The Jackson-Lorain contest will start at 2:30 p.m., Friday.

Losers of the first-round tests will meet in the consolation game at 10:30 a.m., Saturday, and the championship game will start at 1 p.m. The tournament winner will be in line for a bid to the NJCAA Invitational tournament at Buffalo, N.Y., on Nov. 18.

The Blue and Gold, with a 7-2-2 season mark, will go into the tournament without the services of Co-captain Paul Hartge, and Coach Marv Gans may not be able to count on full-time, full-speed performances from two other key players--left wing Dan Robinson, and left inside Bahram Fahramand.

Hartge, outstanding on defense at fullback all season, had barely recovered from a previous leg injury when he injured his left knee in a tough football game last week.

NEW RECORD -- David Whited is the newly crowned jockey champion at the Detroit Race Course. He won 119 races for a new mark in the meeting which ended Saturday. The old record was 116.

DRC Ends '67 Season OK Successful Note

Amazingly successful!

That is the label which has been placed on the Detroit Race Course's 84-day meeting which closed last Saturday, with attendance and mutual handle among the highest in the 19-year history of the Livonia track.

Frank J. Liddy, general manager of the DRC, pointed out the near-record performances were achieved despite multiple problems which affected the track's operation.

"WE ARE delighted with the excellent support the fans have accorded us," Liddy said. "Remember, in each of the past three seasons we established all-time high marks. That we missed only by a small percentage of topping all records again is amazing in view of the many adverse conditions which faced us throughout our meeting."

Liddy pointed out the DRC opened the week following the prolonged civil disorders in Detroit. Then followed labor disputes in a number of plants and extremely poor weather during the final six weeks of the racing season.

"As everyone recognizes late season crowds are extremely susceptible to bad weather," Liddy said. "Starting with Sept. 22, we encountered unseasonably poor weather and it hurt us throughout October and our closing week in November. We had a muddy track for the final eight days of racing."

THERE WERE numerous "plusses" however, to make the DRC season a memorable one.

"It has been President Dale Shaffer's constant objective to improve the caliber of racing we offer the fans of Michigan," Liddy said. "And we took additional steps toward that goal this season. We had many new stables and horses which did not race elsewhere in Michigan."

It is a long-established Thoroughbred fact that better horses provide more formful racing for the fans.

"We're proud the DRC ranks extremely high nationally on the percentage of winning favorites," Liddy said. "Our percentage of winning favorites in 1966 was 36 per cent. This year it was 35 per cent. We've had 68 per cent of the public choices in the money. For the current meeting of Aqueduct, by way of comparison, only 32 per cent of the favorites have won."

FOR THE SECOND straight year, the DRC had one of the Nation's greatest riding performances.

In 1966, Robert Gallimore established a DRC record when he rode 116 victories. This year, David Whited, a 25-year-old Texan, came in and broke the mark which many turf followers thought would last for years. Whited won 119 races.

While Whited made a run-away of the jockey's race, the duel for trainer's honors went down to the final day before being settled.

Jack Van Berg, who trains the large stable of his father, M.H. Van Berg, came with a rush in the last week to edge Dewey Smith, the conditioner for T.A. and J.E. Grissom. Jack Van Berg won top trainer's honors in 1965. He did not return to the DRC in 1966, but his replacement, Robert L. Irwin, and Smith tied for the leading spot.

The closing day feature, the Auld Lang Syne Handicap, was won by Royal Speed, a three year old star who had been competing with the top stars of his division all season in Chicago and New Jersey.

TRIPPED UP -- North Farmington's Dave Negri finds himself spilled as he tries to make some headway against Stevenson. Chuck Dickie was on the job for Stevenson to make the tackle in fourth period of game, won by North Farmington, 33-2.

It's East Versus West In Garden City Duel

The setting is the Garden City East football field.

The time -- next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The opponents -- Garden City East vs. Garden City West in their annual head-on duel for the Garden City prep championship.

So far, the series has been "all-west." The West team has won three in a row, including a 21-0 romp last season.

BOTH COACHES -- Gary Humphrey of East and Harold Burkholder of West -- enter this year's encounter on an optimistic note.

Each team was moving along well until last weekend's snow and rain and mud. Neither proved itself much of "a mudder."

East invaded Oak Park and was turned back, 21-0, to have a three-game winning streak snapped.

West tried its fortunes against Southgate and was beaten, 13-0.

"Past records, of course, mean nothing when West plays East," said West coach Burkholder.

"This is like another season for us," declared East's Humphrey. "You know it's the same as Army meeting Navy or Michigan State playing Michigan."

IT WON'T TAKE much to get the rival teams "sky high" for Friday night.

The players will be up...the student bodies will be up...the faculty will be up...the entire town will be up...for this has to be the biggest night of the fall in Garden City.

Burkholder of West realizes that East may have a few more horses than his team does this time.

"They have a great deal of experience and size over there," he said. "Besides the fact we have beaten them three straight times only has to instill something extra in the way of fight into the East players."

BUT BURKHOLDER assured one and all that his West team will show up Friday evening and "we'll have some fight in us, too."

East just couldn't get untracked in the mud against Oak Park.

"I don't know why," said Humphrey. "Oak park didn't seem to mind the conditions and the field and the weather were just as terrible for them."

Could be, and Humphreys wasn't saying so, that his charges were looking past Oak Park -- looking smack at West and forgetting about the fact they had a little session first with Oak Park.

The passing of Steve Kaplan of Oak Park proved to Humphreys he'll have to spend time this week on his aerial defense. Kaplan connected on 80 and 35 yards to Leon Weiss to account for two of the touchdowns.

The third marker came when Dale Kutnick dived a yard after his 66-yard run fell inches short of a touchdown.

Kutnick personally accounted for 200 yards in the game as he carried the ball 27 times.

EAST HAD ONE big threat. The Garden City team got down to the one-foot line in the fourth period after a 34-yard run by Jerry Burton.

Three pass interceptions jarred the best chances that West had against Southgate. "Each time we generated something, boom they stole a pass from us," moaned West coach Burkholder.

One interception led directly to a Southgate touchdown. The other tally came on a 74-yard run.

West never seriously threatened in the game.

We learned at the ski show that the ski enterprises in the Southeastern part of the state, those closest to the Detroit area, no longer are ranked subpar to the glamor spots around Petosky, Charlevoix, etc.

Mt. Holly is one of the leaders with work underway to alter the vertical drop on its main hill from 200 to 350 feet and its length from 1,400 to 2,500 feet.

Meantime, one new area will open--the Schuss Mountain near Mancelona.

ALL OF THIS CAN BENEFIT only one group -- the skier himself.

For many years schools up north have boasted skiing as a varsity sport. In fact, it's the only activity in which the State High School Association permits the girls to compete along with the boys.

Now skiing is spreading southward. They're talking about a team at North Farmington and elsewhere. Several schools in the immediate vicinity already sponsor teams.

New Office Pavilion Is Started

They didn't plan it that way, but -- the proposed new Livonia Office Pavilion, for which ground was broken in ceremonies Wednesday at 19500 Middle Belt Rd., will have exactly 19,500 square feet of office space for its future tenants.

Melvin H. Sachs of Sachs and Associates, architects, says the modern, tri-level structure, with 6,500 square feet per level, is scheduled for completion on or before May 1, 1968.

The building will be of fire-proof construction -- a combination of masonry and precast concrete sections -- with a column-free interior able to be subdivided into as much as 10 office space as required per tenant.

Other plans include an elevator, insulated and heat-and-glass-resistant windows, plus air-conditioning controllable by each office.

Exterior decor of the building will be charcoal-brown brick with white, pre-cast concrete accents.

No tenants have yet been signed.

Gunderson To Head City HRC

Mayor Harvey W. Moelke has appointed the Rev. Carl A. Gunderson, pastor of St. Timothy United Presbyterian Church, as chairman of the Human Relations Commission.

He succeeds James A. Shaughnessy, who resigned during the summer.

Rev. Gunderson said the commission will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Carl Sandburg Library to start developing a program from recommendations of the commission's executive board.

Others named to the commission are Mrs. Marie L. Piester, Conrad J. Gnielwek, Howard Canfield and Dr. Paul E. Johnson.

The mayor also has appointed three members to the Livonia Youth Commission. They are Mrs. Jacqueline Thomas, Mrs. June Allen and Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, superintendent of Hawthorn Center.

Election Coming

City Grows: 44 Precincts

Livonia voters will go to 44 precinct booths to cast ballots in the special election November 21, instead of 41.

Increased population in Precincts 24, 31 and 32 made it necessary that they be split, according to City Clerk Addison W. Bacon. Precinct 24 retains 616 voters while its offshoot, Precinct 43 will have 839.

Precinct 32 will retain 946 voters while Precinct 44 is assigned 252. Precinct 31 retains 700, while the clerk transferred 605 to newly created Precinct 42.

STATE LAW requires that when a precinct exceeds 1,400 voters it must be split to eliminate an unwieldy situation. Bacon said that a couple of other precincts may have to be split before the general election next year.

He believes that 750 voters would be a reasonable number for any precinct, and permit orderly voting when ballots are heavy.

All voting in Livonia is by machines, of which the city has 88 and is buying 10 more.

THE REGISTRATION for the Tuesday Nov. 21 election is 38,485, but is expected to increase.

crease for the 1968 general elections--state and national. Boundary lines, the shape of precincts, and the potential growth of certain districts will determine the increase in the number of precincts, Bacon said. He indicated that if Livonia reached its estimated population of 175,000 by 1980 there will be nearly 100 precincts. Growth now is creeping up in established areas, and the rapidity of development of subdivisions is being watched by the Elections Commission.

The city's population has increased about 40,000 in seven years, mostly in single dwellings.

Bacon warned that only property owners may vote on the eight bond proposals on the November ballot, while all registered voters may cast ballots on the proposal for a new charter.

But he estimates that 95 percent of Livonia's voters are property owners, or their wives or husbands who share the voting privilege. The proposals, listed in one column on the machines and which may be voted individually, would authorize expenditure of $15 million through bond issues, for community improvements.

The charter proposal is at the upper right side--opposite the bond list at the left--and Bacon will attach red arrows to remind voters to cast ballots on both issues, if eligible.

LWV To Study Schools, Jobs In November

November unit meetings of the Livonia League of Women Voters will cover some of the ways in which the members can help in an all-out campaign to provide all persons with equality of opportunity for education and employment.

The Human Resource Committee has investigated several areas of human resources in the metropolitan area. In preparation for the meetings, the committee interviewed personnel from the Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity, Livonia Headstart Program, and the Community Action Center in the inner-city.

THE WEDNESDAY, November 8 meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Emil Pulick, 31701 W. Chicago. On Thursday, November 9 at 8:15 p.m. the meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Leon Martin, 9061 Woodring. Tuesday afternoon, November 14 at 1 p.m. the meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Joseph Weaver, 30628 Greenland. The Wednesday, November 15 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Roger Winslip, 15744 Stamford, at 8:15 p.m.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan volunteer organization. It is open to all women citizens 21 years of age and over. For further information call the membership chairman, Mrs. William Dayton, 427-9433.

Jaycees Set 'Magic' Show

The Livonia Jaycees will sponsor three performances of "On a Magic Carpet," a professional magic show, Nov. 17 and 18 in the auditorium of Franklin High School, 31000 Joy Rd.

Curtain times will be 8 p.m. Nov. 17 and 2 and 8 p.m. Nov. 18. Admission will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. Reserved seats are $2.

The evenings of magic will include performances by eight magicians from the Lansing Guild of Magicians. Specialties range from a disappearing act to human levitation and slight-of-hand. Each performance will last two hours.

Gordon Page is project chairman for the Jaycees and Jerry Brown, ways-and-means chairman. The shows are aimed at raising funds for the group's many community projects, including a Christmas Lights Tour for senior citizens, murals for the Plymouth State Home, and a retarded children's party.

Tickets will be available at the door or may be ordered in advance by sending checks to Livonia Jaycees, Box 2039, Livonia, Mich.

Joliet JC Heads Visit

More than 45 administrators and trustees of Joliet (Ill.) junior college visited the Schoolcraft College campus Saturday to view the facilities and buildings.

Joliet, the first junior college in the United States, is in the process of planning a new campus on the outskirts of that city.

TO CONTROL the voters, an election worker will check the property ownership slips to prove eligibility, and will pull a lever permitting voting on both issues. Otherwise, the bond column bar will be locked.

Bacon estimated that it will cost the city about $8,000, in addition to salaries personnel, to handle the special election. With the appropriations made to study the charter proposals, over a 15 month period, the cost may total $30,000.

Because the election was set for the charter decision, it became possible for the Council to place the bond proposals on the same ballot without extra cost.

If there is one thing this world doesn't need, it's another gossip column. This isn't.

It's sort of an advice column, but not to the lovers. (Unless, of course, you just happen to be lovelorn when you ask advice of me in my field... which is indoor comfort.)

In my time and travels, I've come across a good many conceptions and misconceptions of what is essential to true indoor comfort. Why are some homes a pleasure to be in while others have an unpleasant atmosphere? (I am not talking about the human element, which is a whole subject in itself... but rather about the physical atmosphere.)

Experts agree that the condition of the AIR in a home is the key to indoor comfort. The air we live in must be at the right temperature. But that's not all. It must be clean, it must be fresh, it can't be too dry or too moist... and it must circulate to avoid settling in stuffy layers.

All this is true whether the house is being heated or cooled. Why am I up on my soapbox about this? Two reasons: 1. I like comfort. I like to see others get their money's worth when buying comfort. 2. Frankly, I stand to make an honest buck when you have my firm handle your indoor comfort needs. (Good old free enterprise system, y'know.) But you'll get more than your money's worth, I assure you. From time to time, you'll be seeing my columns with little tidbits of information about indoor comfort, about you, about me, and about Lennox... the leading brand of heating and air conditioning equipment. BUT NO GOSSIP!

DON'T GET CAUGHT!
GET THE SNOW TIRE APPROVED FOR HIGHWAY POLICE CARS.
GET WINTER PATROLS

Protect yourself! Think about snow tires before it snows. You know how little traction your regular tires give you on icy roads and hard packed snow. Even regular snow tires provide only 35% more traction on slippery surfaces. But snow tires with spikes, like Uniroyal Winter Patrols, give you a full 136% more traction on icy roads than the regular tires on your car. National Safety Council tests have confirmed that! When you hit the brake, you don't have to miss a couple of heartbeats. Winter Patrol's spikes reach out and claw the ice. When you're getting off from a standstill, you can practically forget about spinning your wheels without moving. And if the road is dry, these Winter Patrols with spikes have been tested to go 80 mph. No wonder they're approved for highway police!

Glenn Assured Greatest Year With 6-2 Record, One Game To Go

It was more than homecoming night at John Glenn. The grads came back to cheer and the present students had plenty of reason to break loose with shouts. The Glenn football team made history in beating Taylor, 19-6.

Following on the heels of Glenn's sharing the Northwest League title with Franklin, the win over Taylor upped the Glenn record for the season to 6-2 with one contest remaining--this Friday against Carlson at Glenn.

THOSE SIX victories, like the title tie, constitute a "first" for Glenn. Until this year, Glenn never had won more than five games in a season in the three previous campaigns it had been fielding grid teams.

Two years ago Glenn won five, lost three and tied one. Even the most miserable weather conditions in a long time couldn't stop the Glenn charge.

Coach Bob Lusk's team struck for three quick touchdowns and it wasn't until late in the game that Taylor finally was able to avert a shutout.

About the only question remaining for next Friday night's finale is back Steve Paschke. He was hurt after putting on a one-man drive for the first Glenn touchdown against Taylor. Glenn moved the ball 72 yards to score. Steve Wozny "cut in" with a 30-yard gallop. Otherwise it was Paschke and Paschke again as he brought the ball down to the Glenn 10 from where he circled for the final yardage and the six-pointer.

WHEN PASCHKE had to leave, Bob Russ came in and with Wozny took turns in a 64-yard march that produced the second Glenn touchdown.

Russ boomed in from the one for the touchdown. The final Glenn touchdown was the most spectacular for the team of the game....and perhaps even the season. Glenn was sitting back on its own 26 and appeared not to be going anywhere fast in the rain and mud.

Wozny then slipped back and looked for a pass receiver. He spotted flanker Grey Hubbard around midfield.

A perfect shot left Hubbard in the clear and he was off to the races with Taylor defenders trying vainly to catch up.

A BAD SNAP from center led to the Taylor touchdown with Al Sharp going over.

Glenn Coach Lusk was highly pleased with the Glenn defense, which against Taylor featured sharp tackling by Bill O'Connor and middle guard Mike Robinson.

Tie In Finale Cheers Rocks

There was joy at the start and a fairly happy finish for Plymouth high's football team in its first season under coach Tom Moshimer.

The campaign opened with a victory and closed with a surprising tie against Walled Lake's Interlake League champs, 7-7, last Friday night.

In between the first and last games, the Rocks lost six straight. But as far as Moshimer was concerned, his team played better than the record would show.

"LET'S FORGET our game against Farmington and the one with Trenton," he said.

"We turned in a fine job in our league games with Belleville, Allen Park and Bentley game, we outgained them 2-1.

"Our kids I thought did an outstanding job overall. One thing is certain. They never quit."

The tie ruined Walled Lake's bid for a perfect season. The Lakers took the field with a 7-0 record.

The game started with the Lakers scoring the first time they had the ball. They drove 65 yards with Bob Zaebst going over from the five-yard line for the touchdown.

The conversion by Greg Fogle made it 7-0 and it began to look like a romp for the Lakers.

BUT THE PLYMOUTH defense arose to hold off the powerful Lakers the rest of the way.

Meantime, Mike Cederberg struck via the airways on a sensational 56-yard pass to Jeff Adams with 40 seconds left in the first half to put Plymouth on the scoreboard.

It was Cederberg on a run for the extra point to knot the score. Walled Lake put on a belated drive that had the Plymouth rooters biting their nails.

The Lakers paraded to the Rocks' five where they had a third down play coming up. Then Larry Olson rocked the ball free from a Walled Lake runner and Mike Waller fell on it for a big recovery and Plymouth had control the rest of the way.

WALLER, Olson and Mike Stakias drew the praises of their coach for great work on defense.

Meantime, Steve Montgomery and Tom Elias, who also was a giant on defense, paced the Plymouth running attack. Montgomery ran for 50 yards in 13 carries while Elias picked up 49 in 15 tries.

Cederberg rifled the ball 10 times, hit on five for 79 yards. The big one, of course, was the toss to Adams for the touchdown.

Pots And Pans Can Decorate Kitchen Wall

Who'd ever think husbands would be enthusiastic about KP? They are if it means kitchen Peg-Board. Instead of the old army game of kitchen police.

Homemakers and their handyman husbands have found that for putting pots, pans, pictures, and spices right where they're wanted, there's nothing like a piece of Peg-Board strategically placed on a kitchen wall.

NOW, THIS remarkable "board of holes" comes in a factory-finished walnut wood-grain which will help brighten and decorate the kitchen, as well as add utility and convenience.

Strong, white Delrin plastic or metal fixtures give pleasing contrast with any of the three shades of Royalcote Peg-Board available at lumber yards.

Of course, you can use the plain panels and paint them colorfully to go with your kitchen decor.

It's easier than ever to install these handy panels, too, using a cartridge-type adhesive to attach narrow pieces of wood backing at the corners of a small piece (20"x24") or as a perimeter on larger sizes. Use the Royalcote General Purpose

Adhesive to apply the panels, as well.

YOU CAN USE Peg-Board for various purposes: To hold spices on small plastic shelves under the wall cabinets, to serve as a display area for artwork and kitchen utensils, to be a bulletin board using golf tees, to serve as an attractive soffit, to give function to the inside of a cabinet door or serve as a pull-out cabinet divider.

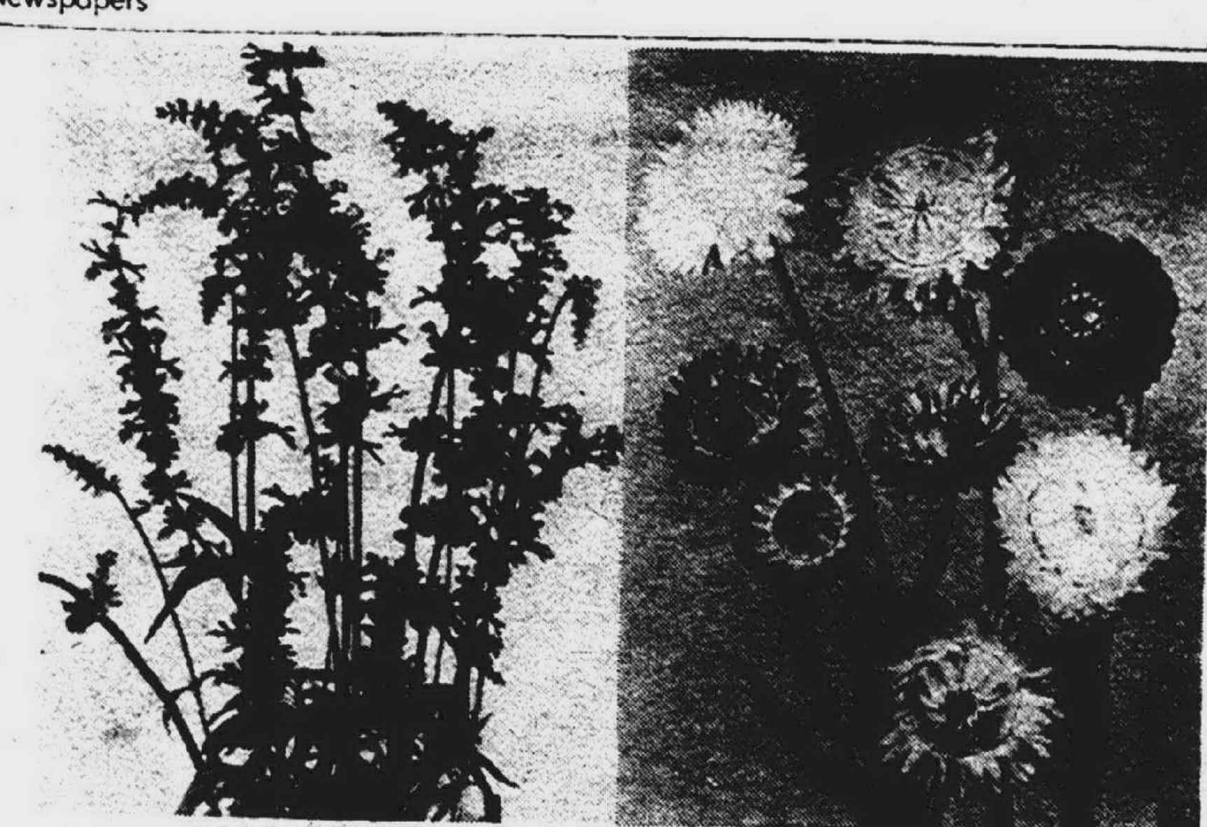

You can make a handy recipe holder out of three small pieces of Peg-Board laced together to form a triangle. On it, using golf tees, you can slip a recipe card as you mix the ingredients.

You can devise a freezer record to keep a daily tally of frozen food items, again using golf tees.

Education Week Set

American Education Week in the Garden City Public Schools will be observed with special programs throughout the community this week.

Persons interested in specific events at their neighborhood schools may call the individual principals.

USING DRIED FLOWERS - Blue salvia (left) and strawflowers (right) are both among the flowers that can be dried to use indoors in winter. But that's not the most interesting use for these blooms you've grown so carefully. How about making a design of them on the underside of your glass-topped breakfast or coffee table? Fun to do, beautiful to behold! Arrange the blooms on a sheet of clear plastic cut to the size of the glass of your table. Glue them to this sheet. When your design is finished, glue the whole sheet to the underside of the glass. Then stand back and accept praise modestly.

Home Repairs Now Can Save Money

Homeowners who plan to wait until next spring to do home repairs and remodeling are advised to do this work now. The Aluminum Association suggests that savings can be made by having aluminum siding and other low-maintenance aluminum products installed before winter arrives.

Repairing and remodeling in fall have two advantages over doing the same work in the spring. Fuel savings can be made by sealing the home tightly, and labor costs may be less due to the greater availability of contractors who are often willing to make price concessions in the fall.

A nine-point check list for homeowners is recommended by the Association:

1. CHECK THE ROOF for missing, torn or damaged shingles. Look at flashing (metal sheet at chimneys, vent pipes and valleys) to be sure that snow and water cannot get through.

Look over all edges and peaks to be sure that shingles extend to the very edge of the building and that they overlap at all peaks. If there is any chance of water entering, seal with caulking or asphalt compound.

2. CHECK THE SIDING on your home. Look for blistering and exposed wood.

If the deterioration is general, the homeowner has a choice of painting the entire exterior or installing new siding--perhaps aluminum, which is applied right over the present siding.

3. CHECK AROUND windows and doors for gaps which require caulking. This results in air leaks which increase heating costs and also allow water and ice to damage the window and door frames.

When aluminum is installed, caulking is part of the job.

4. CHECK GUTTERS and downspouts to be sure they are in good conditions and functioning. First, remove all leaves and twigs and other debris which will restrict water flow and cause ice jams in the winter. If the water does not run off readily, the gutter should be adjusted so that the high point is furthest from the downspout to carry away the water.

5. CHECK INSULATION because insufficient insulation makes your home hard to heat and increases heating costs. If there is too little or none at all in the attic, install insulation between rafters. You may also wish to add insulation in the walls of your home.

An easy way is to install new aluminum siding on you home specifying the insulated type. Some is made with foam insulation.

Pesticides Don't Last

Take an inventory of the pesticides in your garage. How long have you owned each one? Long enough so it is no longer useful? Rotenone powder, for instance, will be ineffective the second year. Might as well throw the remainder out each fall.

Fallout Survey Starting

A statewide home survey to determine fallout protection in each residence began last week in Livonia and Garden City.

The survey is being carried out for the Michigan Civil Defense Division by the U.S. Bureau of Census under a federal Office of Civil Defense contract.

The survey program will gather information about each residence, develop a computer evaluation of the home against a house of similar construction whose protection capability is known.

The survey will be conducted by the Bureau of Census using direct mail survey questionnaires to residents of 72 Michigan communities.

House-holders whose response to the survey indicates a residence basement will receive a special booklet with the computer home protection evaluation attached, telling how the structure may be improved to provide better protection.

Meadow Brook's Second Production Is Ibsen Drama

The John Fernald Company production of Henrik Ibsen's powerful naturalistic drama "John Gabriel Borkman" at the Meadow Brook Theatre may be the closest approach seen in English to the flavor and atmosphere of the original Norwegian.

The Meadow Brook presentation will be the first production of a new English-language version of the play that combines the talents of Norway's foremost Ibsen director, England and America's foremost Ibsen interpreter, and a translation team equally versed in Ibsen scholarship and theatrical values.

The new English version has been written by John Fernald and Jenny Laird (Mrs. Fernald), in collaboration with distinguished Norwegian-American director Johan Fillingner.

THE FERNALDS bring to the translation and production the special viewpoint of theatre professionals thoroughly familiar with English-speaking audiences and English nuances. Fillingner brings the special viewpoint of an Ibsen scholar who has directed the playwright's works successfully in both Norwegian and his own English translations.

The Fernalds and Fillingner have worked together before in an association that dates back 20 years, to the time when Mr. Fernald was director of the Liverpool Repertory Company, and so are comfortable with each other and with Ibsen.

Fillingner was connected with John Fernald's now famous production of another translation of "John Gabriel Borkman" at the Arts Theatre in London. Miss Laird has played Ibsen heroines professionally and has long been a student of the naturalistic drama.

In addition to co-authoring the new English version, she plays a principal role, that of Ella, in the Meadow Brook production.

FILLINGER COMES to Meadow Brook Theatre direct from the 1967 Edinburgh Festival, where he directed the award-winning production of Ionesco's "The Lesson", starring Bernhard Breslaw.

In addition to his reputation as a sensitive interpreter of Ibsen, he is also an international expert on Norwegian trolls, in whom he professes to be a firm believer.

Last year Fillingner directed "Dear Wormwood" in London, a new play by James Forsyth based on C.S. Lewis' "The Screwtape Letters". The play starred Sir Donald Wolfit and Yolande Donland and introduced Howell Bennett, now starring with Hayley Mills in the motion picture "The Family Man".

Between productions in England and America he is a frequent guest director in his native city of Oslo, Norway, where his latest productions of "A Severed Head" and "The Killing Of Sister George" met with great critical acclaim.

In this country Fillingner has worked with such stars as Burgess Meredith, Franchot Tone, Charlton Heston, Uta Hagen, Christopher Plummer and many more.

During John Fernald's years as Principal of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, Fillingner was a frequent guest director at the Vanbrugh Theatre—producing Ibsen, Strindberg, Anouilh and other important playwrights. He is at present co-director of his own production company, Marriott-Fillingner Productions Ltd., with head offices in London, England, but feels that he has become essentially American. He is now an American citizen and maintains a home in New York.

THE JOHN FERNALD Company production of "John Gabriel Borkman", directed by Johan Fillingner, opens at the Meadow Brook Theatre on Friday, Nov. 10. It will be presented through Dec. 10.

A preview performance is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 9, with pre-opening tickets available at two for the regular price of one.

Regular performances are presented at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday through Saturdays, and at 8:30 p.m. on Sundays. Tickets range from $2.50 to $5.

Special matinee-discussions are held at 1:30 p.m. each Wednesday, with members of the acting company and professional staff discussing theatrical problems, practices, and values and answering questions from the audience immediately following the performance. Tickets to the matinee-discussions are unreserved at $3 each.

For ticket information write Meadow Brook Theatre, Oakland University, Rochester 48063, or call 338-6239.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

The plunk of the banjo and the syncopated rhythms of the title song from "Mame" had audiences at the Fisher Theater last week tapping their toes. "Mame", still running strongly on Broadway, had arrived with Celeste Holm in full charge of the national touring company. Miss Holm made multiple costume changes, kicked her heels high in the air, and sang lustily. There never was any doubt about her ability to project the highly volatile Mame.

It's a credit to Celeste after all these years (she's in her 50's) she ends the evening looking as radiant as when she began.

JUST TO FOLLOW dear Auntie Mame around for a while is likely to cause shortness of breath. Her pace is nothing short of jet-propelled. "Mame's" 16 scenes, as designed by William and Jean Eckart, catch the spirit of the evening and add greatly to the over-all abundance of this bouncy theatrical fare.

"Mame" is not the greatest musical comedy to come down the pike in recent years; however, it is an audience-pleaser. The critics in New York had reservations about the strength of the book and the unoriginal nature of the songs.

Audiences generally are easier to please. The critics don't always get their way. It's only when the critics put up a solid front and agree without a shadow of doubt, do you find a theatrical production in serious trouble.

A FEW YEARS back the straight play, "Auntie Mame" gave every evidence of being a successful play. While it wasn't the greatest comedy, it was mildly diverting. Jerome Lawrence and Robert Lee, the original authors, have done little to the original script except enlarge the part of Agnes Gooch, Mame's secretary.

There are some catchy songs in "Mame" other than the foot-stomping title tune. "Open A New Window" and "My Best Girl" are quite hummable. "Bosom Buddies" is a clever patter song with Celeste Holm and Vicki Cummings stopping the show nightly as they combine clever lyrics and some excellent soft-shoeing.

Vicki Cummings belts her lines and songs out a la Ethel Merman. Her characterization is a solid, socko version of a worldly-wise actress. She gives new life to the script when it tends to drag.

John Stewart, as the older Patrick Dennis, proves that the song "My Best Girl" has potential. The younger Patrick Dennis (Shawn McGill) has a difficult time with any and all of his singing assignments. His voice was too thin and reedy.

David Huddleston and Louise Kirtland as the bigoted Upsons provide some truly hilarious moments. Huddleston's vocal gymnastics grate and irritate to complement the characterization of an intolerant suburbanite.

"MAME" is a colorful, splashy musical. If at times it doesn't completely satisfy, just hold tight and a breezy, bright scene will appear. There are many delightful moments in "Mame" and as the member of the appreciative audiences at the Fisher Theater for the next four weeks you'll savor them.

Celeste Holm must have at least 15 changes of costume and everyone of her outfits are feasts for the eyes. Her final entrance bedecked in white ermine tops all the other costumes and gives "Mame" that final flash of brilliance.

You'll enjoy this wild, mad story of an attractive woman who refuses to grow old. Her adventurous life reflects what all of us would like to do if we could grab the football and run.

We salute you Mame and long may you tread the boards to give everyone a zestful look at life. Too many of us chomp away at the crumbs that fall off that big, square table and cry in our Alka-Seltzer.

'The Lark' Booked By WSU's Bonstelle

Jean Anouilh's re-enactment of the story of St. Joan, "The Lark," will open at WayneState University's Bonstelle Theatre for six performances beginning Friday, Nov. 10, at 8:30 p.m.

In contrast to G.B. Shaw's "St. Joan," Anouilh sets his drama in the world of make-believe, showing the phenomenon of Joan without explaining the mystery. Using a fresh, theatrical approach, he employs abrupt shifts in time and mood in re-creating the tragedy.

"THE LARK," with Julie Harris in the starring role, was a great success in New York in the mid 1950's and has also toured in Detroit.

Bonstelle performances will continue Saturday, Nov. 11, and Thursday through Sunday, Nov. 16-19. Curtain will be at 8:30 p.m. except for the Sunday matinee which will begin at 2:30 p.m.

The Bonstelle production is being directed by Don Blakely with costumes by Janice Snodgrass and sets by Russell Smith.

Barbara Smith, who recently returned from a tour of the Orient with a WSU Theatre troupe, will play the role of Joan. Other leading roles will be played by Perry Mallette (Warwick), Leonard R. Skwarek, Jr. (Cauchon), Gregory Olaszewski (The Promoter), John Yavruan (Beaudricourt), Ted Davis (The Dauphin), Richard Edwards (The Inquisitor), Terry Baker (Brother Ladvenu), Patrick McNamara (LaHire) and Charles Hannum (The Archbishop).

"THE LARK" is the second production of the current Bonstelle season. Later openings include "The Rose Tattoo" (Jan. 26), "Andorra" (Mar. 1), "Philadelphia, Here I Come!" (Apr. 12) and "The Royal Hunt of the Sun" (May 17).

Tickets are available at the WSU Ticket Office, Mackenzie Hall, Cass and Putnam, or by calling 833-1400, ext. 265. Tickets are also available at all Hudson's and Grinnell's stores.

Series Examines Film As Art

Some are documentary and some fun, but all selections in the Film as an Art Series sponsored by the Detroit Institute of Arts' Theatre Arts Department are of an exceptional nature, chosen because they represent unique use of the film medium.

Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. the programs will include "Night Mail," "Begone Dull Care," "Pin Point Percussion," "Fiddle Dee Dee," and "Muscle Beach." Admission is free, and the museum's auditorium doors (John R entrance) open at 7:30 p.m.

This season's Film as an Art Series precedes an outstanding showing, Dec. 8 and 9, of selections from "New Cinema", the program that filled New York's Lincoln Center and sold out at the Los Angeles Center for the Performing Arts. Call Detroit Institute of Arts Ticket Office for ticket information 832-2730.

Livonia-Redford Guild Books 'Irma La Douce'

The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford will present "Irma La Douce" Nov. 24-25 and Dec. 1-3 in the Bentley High School auditorium, Livonia. Performances will be at 8:30 p.m., except for the Dec. 3 show which will be at 7:30 p.m.

For tickets call Ke 7-8109 or 427-9060. Special group rates are available. The play is sponsored by the Adult Education Department of Livonia.

Beverly Gotch will portray the title role of the lady of easy virtue. Other cast members are David Uskali and George Savage.

With all of its characters reprehensible, "Irma" parallels the 18th century "Beggars"

Opera" and the Broadway success "Guys and Dolls."

Instead of the cast portraying highwaymen of Old London or Broadway's gambling dens of "Guys and Dolls," it will be playing the Parisian equivalents of these characters. The plot concerns many kinds of skull-duggery from stolen jewels to counterfeit money.

Directs Music

William Johnston, of Farmington, a senior theater arts major at Kalamazoo College, is musical director for the school's production of "The Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd" to be presented on campus Nov. 16-18.

VICTOR BUONO, Oscar nominee for "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?" will star in the premiere of "Amazing Grace," the 1967 New Play Project of the University of Michigan Professional Theatre Program. The production will be Dec. 5 through 10 in Mendelssohn Theatre. Tickets are on sale at the Theatre, Grinnell's and Hudson's.

'The Male Animal' Is 'Revived'

By TIM RICHARD

A amateur theatrical groups have a tendency to stick to the tried-and-true-the plays where Hollywood and Broadway have broken the ground.

And then they pattern their performances after the big-timers.

In this contest, the Farmington Players is refreshingly different. Granted, "The Male Animal" has been on the screen and stage some years back, but the Farmington group has revived it, not repeated it.

The Farmington Players puts its own touch on "The Male Animal," its 37th production which opened last weekend and will continue Nov. 10, 11, 12, 17 and 18 in the barn on 12 Mile between Farmington and Orchard Lake Roads.

FOR THE FIRST 10 minutes, the James Thurber-Elliott Nugent script seems dated, with 1939 college campus talk about the "Red scare." A flaming liberal campus editor, a board of trustees chairman who prefers a new stadium to an operating endowment, an "academic freedom" fight and two love triangles bring the viewer back to the present.

Joel Heper plays a professor of English who finds himself idolized by the campus editor for a casually-revealed intention of reading in class a letter by doomed anarchist Bartolomeo Vanzetti. Heper is more owlish and absent-minded than the detached Henry Fonda in this lead role; you don't get the impression you're seeing the same story over again.

Jerry Austensen is absolutely his own man in the role of a former All-American grid star who parades into town for the homecoming game and almost roars back out with the professor's wife. A theatrical professional now in industry, Austensen presents a character somewhat smarter than the interpretation of Jack Carson.

Scene-stealer of the evening is Dennis Broadhead, the youthful editor who in Act II, Scene two gets roaring drunk with the professor as they philosophize on the male animal's instinct to protect his home violently.

JOAN STONE, as the former girlfriend of the All-American and now the professor's wife, blew several lines on opening night and had trouble convincing this viewer that she was really enthralled by her old flame's return.

John Wilson, as the philistine board chairman, could use his lines to get elected to office in some of our cities today.

Yet there's no major weak spot in the entire cast. Even the little details--such as three wives discussing operations during another conversation in Act I--come off slickly.

The cast's work reflects great credit on Kay Britton, the quarterback--er, master-teacher--ah, director.

Congressman Esch Reports

Inflation Now Disturbing The Entire Nation

A recent three-day, 26-stop trip back to the Second Congressional District served to highlight some of the economic problems faced by my constituents.

From two county wide meetings with farmers, a district wide senior citizens conference, and more than 100 personal visits came much the same complaint --it's getting increasingly harder to make ends meet.

One small businessman told me his volume was up 30 per cent but his profits were way behind last year. From the farmers came the all too familiar reminder of increased debt and decreased profits. And the older folk, many of whom live on fixed incomes, vividly pointed out how their retirement incomes are rapidly being eaten away by higher and higher prices.

The culprit behind this dispair is simply inflation. Not an old warning from a politician on the stump, but serious and real inflation which has brought on a 13 per cent increase in the cost of living since 1960. The dollar you spent then will only buy you 77 cents worth of goods today.

One culprit behind current inflation is government spending and many of us in Congress have been working for reductions in non-essential areas. So far our efforts in the House have been at least partially successful in that some $8 billion have been cut from the President's request. Nonetheless, there's more fat that needs to be sliced and you can be assured that I will continue to support such efforts. I do so because of a firm belief that less government spending is one tool to combat inflation and increase purchasing power.

Another tool is a tax increase but such an approach must be only considered after spending has been reduced as far as practicable. A tax increase will not be effective against inflation unless we first have spending reductions. And the revenue from any such increase must be committed to reduce the national deficit rather than be considered as a mandate to spend more. New spending programs will only add fuel to the inflationary fire.

The President recently called inflation the "cruellest" form of taxation. I used the same word a year and a half ago and there's even more truth to it today. If the Administration really wants to end the inflationary spiral it will first join with us in our efforts to reduce expenditures.

DPW Notes

BY KEN VOGRAS
Plymouth DPW Superintendent

Halloween provided extra work for the Public Works Department during the last week, and streets and city parks were the main concern the day after.

In the meantime, cold patching of streets continued throughout the city and leaf pickups by DPW trucks will be conducted, weather permitting, until the job is completed.

Major thoroughfares and residential streets were swept, and holes filled on Hamilton and Maple Sts. Community Fund placards and traffic and streets signs repaired and replaced.

Debris at the Penniman-Allen Theater was removed after cleanup work there.

Six funerals were held at Riverside Cemetery during the week.

A broken sanitary sewer on Industrial Drive was repaired, a three-quarter-inch water tap installed in other work, and a water gate and several curb boxes cleaned.

State Will Modernize 1st Freeway

LANSING--The State Highway Commission has announced publication of an engineering report on the proposed modernization of the first urban freeway built in Michigan.

The report recommends that the Davison Freeway be rebuilt between the Lodge Freeway and Oakland Ave. in Highland Park at an estimated cost of $10.3 million.

Built in 1941 and 1942, the six-lane Davison Freeway is considered inadequate because of its narrow traffic lanes sub-standard features. The report recommends a complete reconstruction of the freeway to provide eight standard width traffic lanes, a wider median and refuge shoulders.

The Davison Freeway now handles an average of 70,000 vehicles per day.

Schools To Enlarge Office Facilities

Plymouth Community School Board, at a special meeting Monday night, approved the addition of 4,200 square feet of office space to their present administration facilities on S. Mill near Ann Arbor Rd.

The total construction costs will amount to approximately $100,000 in round figures.

The addition will include a meeting room for the board. The present room has long been too small, board members felt.

Jaycees Start Non-Partisan Vote Drive

On the eve of Westland's first general election, the local Jaycees have started a drive to eliminate partisan elections and instead, hold non-partisan elections in the city.

Donald J. Thompson, of 6862 Moccasin Drive, and chairman of the special Jaycees project, said that plans are being made to have a City Charter amendment placed on the November, 1968, ballot, so that voters would have a chance to decide the issue.

THOMPSON SAID that yesterday's (Tuesday) election points out one of the problems that can be encountered with partisan votes.

There was no competition for mayor nor for the two municipal judgeships. Of the four City Council openings, there were two Republicans campaigning against four Democrats, three of whom were incumbents.

"Although there was a lot of competition in the primary, four candidates for mayor and 12 for council, almost all were from one party," Thompson said.

"The effect is that the primary election determined some of the office holders, when in principle, the general election should have. If the primary would have been held on a non-partisan basis, the mayor and council positions would have been competed for in the general election.

"In a community such as ours, there is no justifiable reason for partisan elections," Thompson continued. "On a state or national level, persons must be given the opportunity to support concepts and ideas such as a party system gives us."

"ON A LOCAL level, however, each voter has the opportunity to meet and know each candidate and offices should be filled by the best man for the right job," Thompson said.

He also pointed out that the Jaycees held a survey three years ago and gave the results of that survey to the Westland Charter Commission.

The results of the survey, which had 2,500 homes contacted, showed that 70 per cent were in favor of non-partisan elections, Thompson said.

But the commission included partisan elections in the charter with most of the charter commissioners eventually running for office as Democrats in the recent primary.

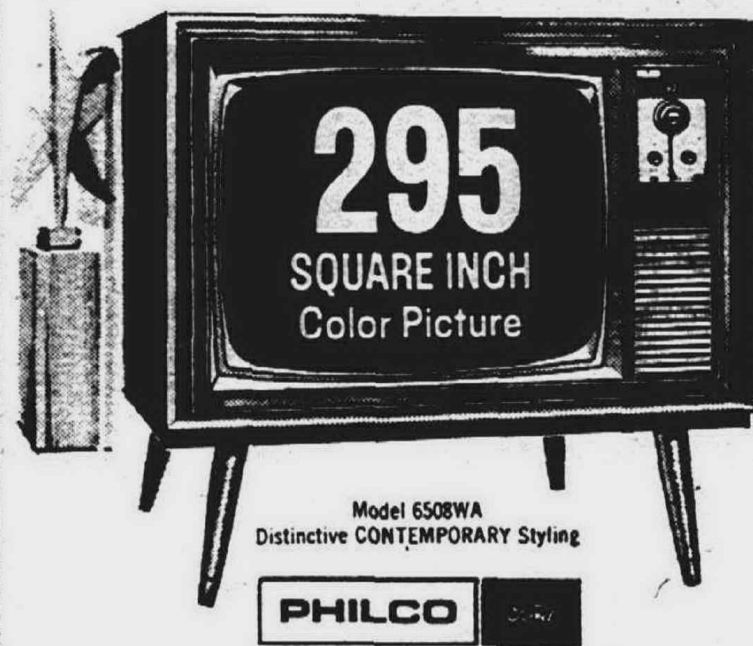

"It is because of the peoples' desires as indicated in that survey and the conditions of this last election that have prompted the chapter to take action," he concluded.

Club Likes Fox Trot

You never see a frug or a watusi during their get-togethers. Rarely a twist.

The members of the Plymouth Dance Club are frank about their preference for the fox trot and waltz. And they like an occasional samba, rumba and cha-cha.

Mainly, they just like to get together several times a season and dance to good music. They've been doing it for seven years in a local restaurant, and this year they are adding a new note—booking of their own bands.

The club was the brainchild of eight Plymouth couples and the first invitations went out in 1960. The club originally closed its membership at 50 couples, but figures it now has room on the lists and space on the dance floor to expand to 60.

"NOT ALL our members can get to every dance," explained Mrs. Mary Ellen Hosier, who with her husband, Carl, keeps club records this year. "And of course we don't all dance every dance. So we think there may be others who would enjoy our group."

Members come from all over the Observer area, as well as Birmingham, Grosse Pointe and two couples even travel from Ohio, she said. Mrs. Hosier said those interested in more information could call 453-9020 for more information.

The club's next dance will be held Nov. 4, with subsequent ones scheduled for Jan. 27, Feb. 24, March 23, May 11 and June 8.

Some of the bands that have been booked, Mrs. Hosier reported, are "The Statesmen," and "The Four Notes," and orchestras of Frank Sitney and Earl Perkins.

Hill And Dale Club Plans Holiday Walk For Therapy Work

Ten Farmington homes will light up for an early Christmas so that the Hill and Dale Garden Club can bring more light to the community's handicapped.

The club is sponsoring a Christmas Walk from 1 to 7 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10, and all proceeds will go into its garden therapy work in 14 special education classes in the Farmington School District.

Members currently are busy in workshops getting ready for the walk, and ten of them have some extra home chores to do to get their residences ready for display.

EIGHT OF the homes will be decorated in completely different Christmas themes. In the ninth will be a boutique with handmade gifts, and refreshments will be served in the tenth home.

All the homes are in Farmington.

Since 1961, Hill and Dale has been active in its "garden therapy" work. At first there was only a handful of students in four schools to work with, but the project was much appreciated by the school system and has been growing fast.

This year the "Garden Ladies", as the children call them, are making bi-monthly visits to 14 classrooms and 150 students in Farmington.

Projects are designed and adapted to the handicapped child, include planting, growing and arranging flowers and conservation of wild life and plants.

The children range in age from five to 16 years and include orthopedic, mentally retarded, physically handicapped and emotionally disturbed students, some of whom are teachable and some trainable. The club has won many awards for the work.

MRS. DAVID CAMP is the general chairman of the Christmas Walk. Mrs. Donald Jewsbury has charge of programming and Mrs. Kenneth Trombly and Mrs. Frank Kittas are decorator coordinators. Other chairmen are Mrs. Ross Stegall, hostesses; Mrs. Arthur Lynn, tickets; Mrs. W. Robert Wichman, publicity; and Mrs. John King, workshops and the boutique, assisted by Mrs. Edward Rosinski.

The busy workshops are being held in the homes of Mrs. Robert Piercececi, Mrs. Stanley Guzik, Mrs. Arthur Thomas, Mrs. W. Robert Wichman, Mrs. Clayton O'Dell, Mrs. Gerald Thayer, Mrs. H. W. Stevens Jr., Mrs. Warren Kruger and Mrs. Edward Rosinski, assisted by Mrs. Harry Finlay. Mrs. James Jones, of the Farmington Garden Club, is lending her time and talent to the group in one of its projects.

Tickets for the event may be obtained for $1.75 by contacting Mrs. Arthur Lynn, 476-8888; Mrs. Earl Johnston, 474-7011; Mrs. W. Robert Wichman GR 6-1358; Mrs. Jack Raker, 626-2956; or Mrs. John Scapelliti, 476-5258.

Auxiliary Seeks Vietnam Names

The names of area young men serving in Vietnam are being sought by the Ladies Auxiliary to Livonia Post 3941 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Auxiliary has already picked and sent 36 packages, but their list of names has been exhausted.

They ask that any resident who knows of someone serving in Vietnam call either KE 2-5295 or 273-1157.

Donations of sweetened kool-aid or iced tea and money are also being accepted for the packages.

They landed back in New York with exactly five cents between them.

And no one could have been less concerned than Gail Courville and Mary Jo Lindbloom.

For these two enterprising young women also brought back from Europe a wealth of memories collected in five months of travel through 11 countries.

THEIR ADVENTURE was just a dream when tall, dark-haired Gail and taller, blonde Mary Jo graduated from Farmington High School in June of 1966.

Determined to make it reality, they went to work and saved every cent they could.

"You never saw such misers," recalled Gail.

"We wouldn't spend a cent that wasn't absolutely necessary," added Mary Jo.

BY MAY they had paid-up round trip airline tickets, a paid-for two month pass to ride the railroads of Europe, and $1,000 each.

They took off, figuring their funds would permit them three months' travel.

"But we found we could live most places so inexpensively, we managed to stay five months," they explained.

THEY LANDED first in Luxembourg, then went on to Germany, France, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden, Holland, Belgium, and England. Then back to Spain and the island of Majorca, and one final trip to Germany.

Trying to chronicle all their fun here would be like packing "Gone with the Wind" into a few pages.

But they could describe some highlights.

THE MOST impressive sight they saw was the Colosseum in Rome, both girls agreed.

"It was like standing in a tremendous football stadium and thinking at the same time how very old it is," said Mary Jo.

"You could just imagine all the events that happened there," added her companion.

The Tower of Pisa "really

Farmington Girls Romp In Europe

YOUNG TRAVELERS - Mary Jo Lindbloom, left, and Gail Courville admire the mug they bought in Germany.

They took an apartment in London, and had planned to get jobs for a while before returning.

"But we had trouble getting working papers," Gail said. "Probably it was just as well -- we were going to work in a department store and I could just see us trying to make change in British money."

THEY HEADED back to Spain for more sun, they finished off the trip for a visit to October beerfest in Munich, Germany. "It was so crowded that we had to sleep in the park--in the rain--the first night," they said. "But it was worth it. The festival was wonderful."

So was the whole trip, they agreed, worth every cent. Both are determined to return some time.

AND DID they miss anything about life here?

"Modern plumbing, and driving cars, and getting a sandwich without paying for it, and AMERICAN MEN."

Gail proved she meant that last by popping on her third finger left-hand the engagement ring presented by Howard George of Pontiac soon after her return. The girls had visited Mary Jo's boy friend, Roy Mahle of Farmington, who is stationed in Germany.

Settle down they may, but the memories are sure to stay.

Schoolcraft To Entertain 35 Teachers

Thirty-five English teachers in 17 foreign countries will be guests of Schoolcraft College Nov. 9.

The teachers will have dinner in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center, tour the campus, meet with members of the English Department at the College and attend a poetry reading by visiting poet David Ignatow.

All are currently attending the English Language Institute at the University of Michigan.

Encourage your young child to act out his hostilities and jealousy on toys or dolls, not on other children, advise family life specialists at MSU. Also, help him talk out his feelings. In addition, give him all the time and affection he needs, and you can possibly spare.

Red Cross Sets Disaster Program

During the mid-July civil disturbance, the Disaster Nursing Committee was one of the first Red Cross committees to activate. Volunteer nurses worked in hospitals, manned first aid stations at shelters where food was being distributed, and aided on Red Cross mobile units which were collecting blood.

With this in mind, a program has been planned by the Red Cross Disaster Nursing Committee for area registered nurses who may be presently inactive.

Its object is to show just what the responsibilities of a volunteer nurse in time of disaster are. A "mini-drama," portrayed by nurses who responded during the July emergency will be on the agenda. Elmer K. Revell, assistant manager, Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Chapter and director of disaster operations will also speak.

The seminar has been planned for Wednesday, Nov. 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the Northwest Service Office, 31228 Five Mile Road at Merriman, Livonia.

All interested registered nurses may attend.

About 400,000 men and women throughout the 50 states volunteer as 4-H leaders and serve as project leaders.

Ask More Driver's Ed

Driver Education in Michigan is not living up to its maximum effectiveness because the course is not established as part of the regular school curriculum in most schools, said Michael LePere, Executive Vice President of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Foundation of Michigan, Inc.

Mr. LePere pointed out that of the 149,015 students completing a course in Driver Education during the 1966-67 school year, only 32,880 students received the course as a part of the regular school year.

"This means that 116,135 students received the academic part of Driver Education and practice driving, either after school, on weekends, or during the summer," said Mr. LePere.

"How can we improve our highway safety record if the students are not given the full benefits of scientific education?" he said. "Too often the students do not receive driving instruction in all forms of weather. They are not given night-time driving experience, and they are not given the opportunity to practice drive in adverse traffic conditions.

"This is to say nothing of the poor academic instruction they are receiving in courses dealing with attitudes, principles of physics, awareness of the dangers of driving under the influence of alcohol and other modern teaching safety techniques," Mr. LePere said.

Current requirements in Michigan schools are 30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours of driving behind the wheel.

Mr. LePere said that there are numerous examples of cases where schools give 30 hours of classroom work requirement by scheduling 120 students in a classroom for six hours per day, resulting in a classroom phase being completed in one week. He said that this is contrary to good education practices.

Mr. LePere also pointed out that there are other cases where the students complete the six hours of driving in two days. One student will drive four hours the first day and two hours the next with the second student using the schedule reversed. He said this is unrealistic.

"We cannot expect to improve our traffic safety record without a more realistic approach to training drivers," Mr. LePere stated. "In 91 per cent of the accidents, driver judgment and error is the cause. The answer to this problem is an effective and high quality course in driver education."

NEW TEMPLE BAPTIST — This is the architect's drawing on the new church building in Redford

Township that will house one of the Nation's largest congregations.

New Temple Baptist Church Will Seat 4,000 Worshipers

Now nearing completion in Redford Township is the new Temple Baptist Church, which will be a remarkable addition to the area's "ecclesiastical skyline."

With one of the largest congregations in the country, the new Temple Baptist Church, at 23800 W. Chicago, just east of Telegraph, will provide seating for more than 4,000 churchgoers in its main auditorium and balcony.

There also will be sufficient classroom space for religious instruction for approximately 4,000 young persons.

It is being located in this area because a study conducted by Dr. Vick showed the true demographic center of his large congregation is in northwest Detroit.

IN TERMS of design, Dr. G. Beauchamp Vick, pastor, selected a colonial facade with fluted columns in the portico. The building exterior is of face brick with limestone trim.

Situated on a 16-acre site, the 270-ft. by 311-ft. structure will have parking facilities for 1,000 cars.

Each of the three floors is functional. The 44,000-sq.-ft. basement floor includes six major classroom areas, which are broken down into 84 smaller individual instruction areas. Also on this floor is a 5,000-sq.-ft. dining area which seats up to 600 persons.

On its first floor are located the main auditorium, with seating accommodation for 2,520 persons, a chapel which seats 500 worshipers, and 12 major classrooms.

The second floor, whose core is a perimeter balcony, seats 1,480, and allows for the church's 200-member choir. On the perimeter of this floor are seven major classroom areas which are broken down into 87 individual instruction areas.

ALTHOUGH it is traditional in its design, the building includes all of the most modern equipment and accessories. For instance, a central air conditioning system permits zoned comfort cooling for classrooms. The 4,000 auditorium and balcony seats are theatre-type, upholstered seats.

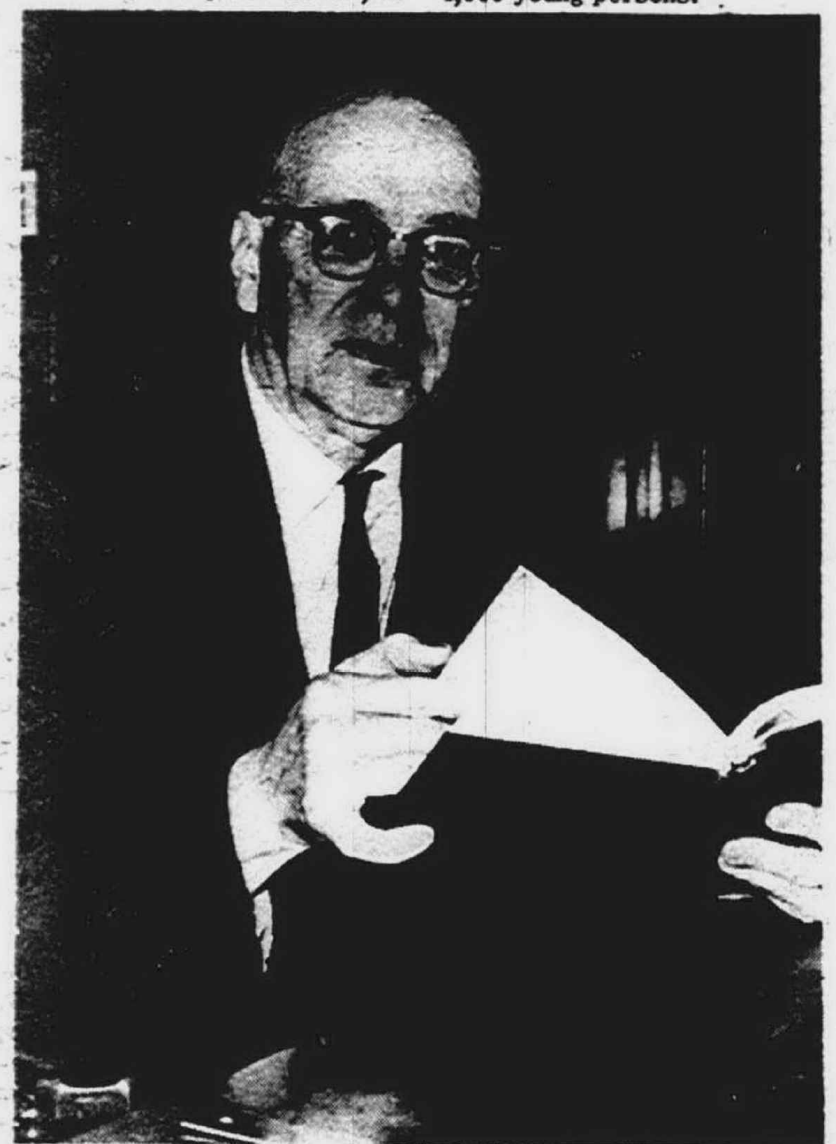

In addition, Architect Clifford N. Wright & Associates, Birmingham, Mich., designed a cantilevered balcony in the main auditorium, thereby completely eliminating the need for columns in this entire area.

Floor construction involves the use of a new structural technique called composite construction, by which the steel floor beams and concrete slab are embedded in the concrete.

THE BUILDING Products Division of The R.C. Mahon Company, Detroit, is supplying approximately 96,000 sq. ft. of its composite floor system and 68,000 sq. ft. of its steel roof deck.

General contractor is Edward V. Monahan, Inc.; mechanical contractor is J.L. O'Laughlin; and electrical contractor is Shaw Electric Co. Each of the three Detroit-area firms worked on the original Temple Baptist in 1950.

Scheduled completion date is June, 1968.

MINISTER MOVING NORTH—The Rev. Eugene Friedrich, leaving St. Matthew Lutheran Church of Westland to go to Kinde, Mich., after 32 years in this area, looks at a copy of the New Testament as translated by a personal friend, Dr. William Beck.

Pastor Friedrich Will Leave Area

An era in the church and civic history of the Garden City-Westland area comes to a close Dec. 1 when the Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Friedrich head north to take up work in the town of Kinde in Michigan's thumb district.

They are leaving St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church after 32 years of service.

"It's a slowing-down move," said Pastor Friedrich, who has seen his church here erect two new buildings and grow from a few families to a membership of about 800.

THE CHURCH in Kinde, he explained, has about 200 members and just one service each Sunday, and he admitted he's ready for a less hectic schedule after years of two and three services a Sunday.

But not only his own large church and busy congregation have kept Pastor Friedrich well occupied over the years in this area.

He was the first president of the Garden City Chamber of Commerce.

"At least I was first for the Chamber of Commerce as its organized today," he said. "We understand there was an earlier one, but no one has been able to find any of its records or minutes."

No longer a member of the group, he still attends many of its meetings. And he has been a member of long-standing of the Garden City Rotary Club.

PASTOR FRIEDRICH also headed the first successful United Foundation drive in Garden City.

"The very first year the United Foundation was in existence, we weren't very well organized here," he said. "I began my work the second year."

He was one of the founders of the publication "The Detroit Lutheran," and edited it for 15 years.

And ever interested in the beginnings of his community, he was a member of the Garden

City Historical Commission for two years.

"WHEN WE first came here," he recalled, "the community was so small we never used street numbers. We just identified a family by name and street."

St. Matthew's, a newly-organized church, at first met in the Garden City Civic Hall.

The congregation built its first church, at 5900 Middle Belt, for $13,000 during the depression days. Two and a half years ago, the church and school, which opened in 1949, was sold to Bethany Baptist for around $75,000.

AT THAT time St. Matthew's built a handsome new church and school in a wooded setting on Venoy Road in Westland. But the building experience proved a rough one for the congregation and especially the pastor.

The financial counselor handling the building funds "suddenly couldn't come up with $127,000," Rev. Friedrich said. "So the church and its members had to start borrowing here and there to continue the building."

"The community has been most helpful, and we're slowly getting the debt paid," he said. "The National Bank, for example, realizing we couldn't put any more liens on the property, made low-interest loans to our members so we could get the needed funds."

THE FRIEDRICHS raised two sons and a daughter in their years here. Son Tim is teaching in Cleveland, and Ronald is putting in a year teaching in Fair Oaks, Calif., before completing his work at River Forest College, a Lutheran school in Illinois. Daughter Eunice is working in Glendora, Calif.

The St. Matthew board is busy seeking a new pastor to fill a very active pair of shoes. And the Friedrichs will leave with pleasant memories of a fast growing community and the knowledge that they played a big part in its development.

Church Music Program Set

Music is the feature of the evening service at Redford Baptist Church at 6 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 12.

The Chancel, the youth and the junior choirs will perform special numbers, and soloists will be featured, including several young people.

The emphasis that evening will be on musical participation, and several "hymn-sing" portions of the program will include favorites requested ahead of time by members of the congregation.

Jerry Smith, musical director of the church, says, "With so much in one package, we hope that everyone present will be able to enjoy some particular part which is his or her favorite."

Preaching at the morning worship services at 9 and 11:15 a.m., Dr. Gordon H. Schroeder, pastor, will speak on "How Should We Treat Our Bodies?" Visitors are cordially invited to attend.

Women from the United Church Women of Detroit, the National Council of Negro Women, the Methodist, Baptist, Catholic, Presbyterian, Lutheran, Episcopal and other churches will spend this weekend together, and a warm, cordial communication between all the women is anticipated.

The schedule worked out by the program committee allows adequate time for dialogue discussions as well as personal prayer, and will include the showing of the film, "The Parable."

The retreat director is the Rev. Charles Conroy, S.J., and the Rev. Robert M. Cross, of the First Presbyterian Church of Flint, will be guest speaker.

The Sisters of Mary Reparatrix who are sponsoring this special renewal have been serving the people of Detroit since 1928. Retreat and catechetical work are their main apostolates.

Farmington Church 'Coping Group' Plans

The Universalist-Unitarian Church of Farmington will conduct a "coping group" for five weeks beginning Nov. 11.

Minister Robert Miles Eddy explained the title is "Just my name for a group of people who are willing to use the best resources they have to help each other cope with the problems of everyday life."

The technique has been used in other churches, he added, and was tried in a small scale in Farmington U-U last year.

He said the group would be limited to 20. The entire group will meet for a three hour session Nov. 11, and then will split into groups of ten to meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday or Wednesday evenings. The larger group will again come together Saturday, Dec. 16.

EDDY SAID he would ask participants to commit themselves to all the sessions, to pledge confidence, to be willing to accept a certain emotional risk, and to agree to frank and open give and take of opinions.

All will be asked to read "Games People Play," by Eric Berne, as a starter for the sessions.

Members of the church have been interested in forming such a group, Eddy said, because they feel there is much to be gained by discussion.

"The assumption of total independence of influence by the past and by each other is foolish," he said. "We need each other and I believe we can help each other."

HE ADDED: "While the sessions will not be rigidly structured, I hope to begin the first session with several techniques designed to answer the question: Who do I appear to be?"

"Future sessions will deal with questions such as: Who am I? What are my common ego states? What are my basic needs: how do I go about meeting my basic needs?"

United Church Names Livonia Man

Expenditure of close to $11-million has been voted for 1968 operations of the Board for Homeland Ministries of the United Church of Christ.

James Swanson, of Norwich Road, Livonia, was one of the persons from Michigan named to membership on the board at the recent session in Memphis, Tenn.

The Board of Directors approved a budget of $5,967,642 for work in the fields of higher education, church extension, Christian education, evangelism, and health and welfare services. Approximately $2-million more will go out in loans from the Church Building Revolving Fund. The Publications Division anticipates operations in the neighborhood of $3 million.

THE REV. Dr. Howard E. Spragg, New York, treasurer of the Board, said he expects about half of the $5,967,642 budgeted to come from contributions of members of local churches of the denomination. The rest will come from legacies, income on investments and reserves.

The 1968 budget represents a decrease of $129,600 from the 1967 figure of $6,097,242.

Over a third of the budget, $2,472,503, goes to the United Church Board's Division of Higher Education and American Missionary Association for work with United Church colleges, academies and seminaries, the program of higher education for Negroes in the South, work in racial and cultural relations, social research and support of campus ministries in 200 colleges and universities.

THE CHURCH Extension Division which includes development of new churches, church finance services and special ministries in urban and rural areas will receive $2,250,461. This division also administers loans and grants for church building.

The Division of Christian Education will receive $909,861; Division of Evangelism $103,484, and the Division of Health and Welfare Services $61,333. The monthly magazine of the denomination, United Church Herald, will receive $170,000.

The United Church of Christ is a union of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

HOLIDAY BAZAARS ARE HERE — One unusual Yule fair scheduled in this area is the Christmas Capers program engaging the attention of three members of Orchard Methodist Church in Farmington. From left are Lois Smith, Norma Frasure and Betty Parkinson, checking plans for the program set for the evening of Thursday, Nov. 16.

How To Say 'No' Without Saying 'No'

How to say no without really appearing to say no was apparent in Observerland again last week.

The sleight-of-hand occurred when the Farmington City Council received a letter from the Human Relations Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors requesting that the local cities consider enacting open occupancy ordinances.

City Manager John Dinan offered an out to the Council when he said that "The city has not had a problem in the area of open occupancy housing" and suggested that the matter be referred to the local human relations group.

That's a good way to duck an issue: (1) Say that there is no problem and (2) refer the matter to a committee for study.

Councilmen, however, used a slightly new tack.

The state Legislature has the issue of a state-wide law on open occupancy on its agenda, they said. "If the legislature passes a law, we don't have to."

With this the Council "received and filed" the request. It will probably never be seen again.

The fact that the state Legislature is considering an open occupancy law hasn't stopped Plymouth from introducing an ordinance. According to estimates, a dozen Oakland County cities are looking at the idea.

The push for open occupancy laws deserves better treatment than it got in Farmington last week.

—Sue Shaughnessy

'Locals' Don't Always Hate Big Brother

The paradox of local governments' hollering about the increasing power of the state and federal governments was pointed out again in Farmington last week.

The Farmington City Council ducked any stand on a request for a local open occupancy ordinance from the Human Relations Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The reason was that the Michigan Legislature is considering a state-wide act during its special session.

Maybe the increasing concern of the state and federal governments with local matters is fine with the politicians—when the matter might be touchy.

This Is The Week That

... By Don Hoenshell

National and state Democrats will send missionaries into the suburbs shortly in efforts to patch together something for 1968.

They're looking for a Moses. There's only been one so far, and that was his real name.

Weep for the Democrats; folks, if you have a compassionate whim.

The suburbs is where they lost it in 1962, after a decline starting in 1953. There was this scene in the House on Grand Avenue in Lansing. The returns were in and Gov. Williams mused:

"I suppose I should go downstairs and thank the fellows for carrying me in with them."

IT WAS TO LAUGH, since just four years earlier Williams astounded politicians by sweeping in with him a full administrative board—then secretary of state, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer, auditor general and the rest.

But flaming Democrats in Detroit turn conservative in the suburbs, their blue collars bleach out to white. And the suburbs grew during that period, and they're getting bigger every year.

In 1960, Republicans started cutting into the union, Negro and other ethnic vote of Democrats in the city. In 1962, the stronger move toward Republicans plus Gov. Swainson's veto of the Bowman Bill—which would have barred Detroit from taxing nonresidents—were major factors.

Republicans, recognizing this, capitalized on the swing.

There were the crowd-counters, a scene at Detroit's Downtown YWCA where George Romney outdrew Democratic Gov. Swainson. A check showed the Romney crowd was recruited from all over Detroit.

It was smart politics, nothing wrong at all.

DEMOCRATS, WITH THEIR

base in the cities and organized labor, now must attract the increasingly conservative suburbanite. The city-suburban gap complicates this.

Nationally there is a second-look taking at LBJ. In Michigan, whether you like him or not, Zoltan Ferency is a problem.

The party of idealism is still that, but just how to approach the problem of victory is still hidden somewhere in the maze of conflicting blocs of philosophy.

It is tough for a political party to operate en masse without a rallying point—a Gov. Williams, a Gov. Romney. Both are in many ways alike, devout, ambitious, colorful.

Democrats will be in the suburbs shortly to try to heal the rifts between the organizations and the party clubs, to try to make the party something solid for 1968.

Whether it works is anybody's guess at this time.

It depends on whether the political dukedoms of a three-time loser in the state can be merged again into a cohesive party.

In Michigan, the two-party system depends on it.

Yesterday marked the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution in Russia. Regardless of her Communist ideology, the Soviet Union is an important factor to America. Below are two articles analyzing life in the U.S.S.R. from an Observerland point of view.

ADVERTISING is just now beginning to catch on in the Soviet Union. Russian industry, for many years entirely state-directed, has at last discovered profit as a criterion of economic efficiency. This new sign was spotted in Moscow.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Sue Shaughnessy, Editor of the Farmington Enterprise and Observer, traveled in the Soviet Union from August 26 to September 16 this year as a member of the Citizens Exchange Corps. In this article, she discusses the concerns of the average Russian citizen, and draws some parallels between life in the U.S.S.R. and Observerland.)

By SUE SHAUGHNESSY

By now the street cleaners of the Soviet Union have finished the cleaning tasks in Moscow's Red Square, the Palace Square in Leningrad, and a score of other spots throughout the country.

The debris is swept away and life is returning to normal within the Soviet Union as yesterday (Tuesday, Nov. 7) marked the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of "The Great October Socialist Revolution."

In case your history is rusty that's the revolution whereby the Red Guards (led by Lenin) successfully overthrew the White Guards, or Provisional Government, led by Kerensky.

WHAT ARE the hopes and dreams of the average Soviet citizen as he begins the second 50 years of life under a Communist regime?

Briefly they are close to the hopes and dreams of the citizens of the world, the USA and right here in Observerland.

The Soviet citizen wants to provide a better life for his family, he wants quality education for his children, and above all he doesn't want war.

He is also extremely proud of the progress of and development of his country. You must remember that 50 years ago Russia was one of the most backward and underdeveloped nations in the world. Today it is an industrial power second only to the United States.

Thus the average man in the street is proud of his country and convinced that the socialist system as practiced by the Communists is the best in the world.

Any fond hopes of the citizens overthrowing the current governmental structure are preposterous.

CONTRARY to popular belief the Russian people are not warlike. There is nothing that the man in the street fears more than another war. This feeling is much more intense and outspoken than it is in America. Many times a man on the street would ask me if the Americans wanted war and breathe a sigh of relief when I replied, "Absolutely not."

When one stops to realize that practically every Russian family lost at least one relative during World War II, and it was their homes and farms which were turned into battlefields, the intensity of feeling is not surprising.

IN VOLGOGRAD (renamed from Stalingrad) the government has constructed a huge memorial park commemorating the citizens and soldiers who died during the great battle of Stalingrad.

There is a monument, complete with an eternal flame, just outside the walls of the Kremlin in Moscow. Another monument marks the spot the Nazis were stopped in their drive to Moscow and there is a monument marking the nearest stop the Nazis reached in the effort to take over Leningrad.

Kiev, which was occupied by the Nazis, also has a similar park.

After seeing these parks, and while in the impressive Gallery of the Heros in Volgograd, I asked the Russian guide, "Don't you people want to forget the war?"

The answer was never, "Some things are too horrid to be forgotten," she said, "forgiven but not forgotten. It was too terrible to ever forget."

THE SOVIET CITIZEN wants to know about the world outside his borders. The travel restrictions placed upon him by his government is perhaps the most annoying feature of his life.

As a result any foreigner is besieged with questions from the man in the street.

All one has to do is to appear on a street looking very much the part of an American tourist and you soon have a crowd. The most forward are the young students and many of them can speak English. Curiosity, however, is not confined to the young generation.

In this aspect the people are very similar to the residents of Observerland.

Since returning from the Soviet Union in September it has become an everyday occurrence for people to stop me on the street as well as people who call the office on routine business to ask me about the trip and what the Russians "are really like."

The best answer to that question is the oversimplified phrase of "the Russians are people just like the American people."

Governments may be different and disagree, but the people are the same.

A Suburban View

The Russian Revolution

APARTMENTS are going up all over the Soviet Union in a continuing building program designed to replace housing space destroyed during World War II. The building boom in the U.S.S.R. is paralleled by the surge of home building in Observerland.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Philip Power, Publisher of Observer Newspapers, traveled extensively in Russia during the summer of 1960 while he was a student delegate to the World Congress of Orientalists. He is convinced that the changes now going on in Observerland are as revolutionary as anything now happening in the Soviet Union, and in this article he probes some of the developments now taking place in both societies.)

By PHILIP H. POWER

Publisher

What we have is two revolutions, one noisy and doctrinaire and the other quiet and pragmatic.

The Russian revolution began with a bang; its small clutch of leaders were convinced that overthrowing the Tsars would usher in an entirely new kind of human existence. Fifty years later, the leaders of the Soviet Union must realize that human existence is built not on theory but rather on roads, schools, factories and houses.

The American suburban revolution started ever so quietly just about the same time that the Bolsheviks were storming the gates in Petrograd. It had no real leaders, and it had no high flown theory behind it. Fifty years later, it isn't even certain that people recognize it for the revolution that it is.

BOTH REVOLUTIONS, however, have concentrated on an astonishingly similar agenda. Housing. Transportation. Industry.

While I was in Russia in 1960, the key domestic priority was to build housing for a growing society which had lost nearly half of its homes during World War II. Apartments were springing up downtown in all the large cities, and the ordinary Russian citizen was beginning to get the idea that perhaps his life wasn't going to be limited to a few square yards of housing space.

When Americans started moving out of the big cities to the suburbs, they wanted to get away from the stone and concrete of the tenements. They wanted land, with their own homes and perhaps a backyard in which they and their children could play a little football and lead the good life. Today, if one feature marks Observerland, it is the constant push of new home building.

While the style of building is different—apartments versus suburban homes—the thrust of the concern is the same in both societies: A better home for a better life.

Coupled with this has been a concern for transport that deeply penetrates both societies.

What's our biggest headache in Observerland? Roads. Commuter traffic. A place to park. Railroad tracks without over or underpasses. Widening projects on Plymouth and Farmington Roads.

People who have homes have to be able to get around. Our suburban revolution has evolved a kind of car culture to provide this mobility. But to date it has not worked out how to deal with all the cars that its culture has made necessary.

In Russia, public transport was originally intended to be the cure-all. The subways in Moscow and Leningrad are amazing museums of painting and sculpture with train tracks running through the marble lobbies. The buses in Moscow worked while I was there on an honor system for payment. No conductors, but the penetrating stares of the other passengers if you didn't pay.

But look at what the Russians are doing now. They've concluded an agreement with the Italian auto firm of Fiat to build a big factory to make cars. And what are the Soviet leaders saying to their people? You'll be able to buy cars and other consumer goods... after a while.

During the next fifty years, the Russians will be trying to solve the parking and commuter problems that are troubling us now.

THE BIG THING in the Russian revolution was state ownership of the means of production; that's what communism is all about. The economy was supposed to produce so much that everyone was going to get as much as he or she needed, with the state nicely organizing everything and eliminating the ugly misery of capitalism.

But fifty years later, the Russians are in the middle of the biggest economic revolution they've ever faced. They have discovered profit, good old capitalist profit. They found that the state might be nice, but it couldn't produce the goods efficiently. All of a sudden they're designing indexes of profit as a way of directing the way the economy runs.

If this is a revolution, it's no greater than what's happening now in American suburbia.

Our suburban communities were supposed to be bedroom cities, where people lived only to work some place downtown in the big city. But land is too expensive down there, and the hour-long battle of the commuter is just too much frustration and trouble.

Result: An immense industrial building boom in suburbia. Livonia, Plymouth, Farmington and Westland all have industrial areas; all compete fiercely to attract industry.

WHAT'S HAPPENING in both Russian and American suburban societies is big change. You can call it revolutionary if you want.

The Russians have discovered, fifty years after the big bang, that things don't work the way theory predicts. They're changing and adapting, turning to a quieter and more pragmatic approach.

Profit is being added as a criterion to the management of the economy. Cars are being produced to satisfy consumer demand. Apartments are being built to give people a place to live a decent life.

The Americans have learned, fifty years after they started quietly moving to the suburbs, that there are a lot of problems they didn't expect, possibly because they went about it without thinking much about the consequences.

People need roads and parking places, but there isn't much money to provide them. Industry is moving to where the people are. Homes are being built at a terrific rate, leading to zoning battles as emotional as anything fought in 1917 in Russia.

The Russian revolution, which came to life as an instrument of theory, has seemingly discovered pragmatism and even a little Yankee horse sense.

The American suburban revolution, which came to life not as a revolution but as a change of address, is realizing that a little planning might be a helpful thing.

The odd thing is that both revolutions, one communist and one free, are confronted with solving much the same kinds of human problems. Maybe that's encouraging.

Will Tuition Be Dropped When Emergency Ends?

EDITOR:

In reference to your recent articles concerning the raise in the tuition at Schoolcraft College, particularly your Oct. 11 editorial, I would like to draw your attention to the fact that the budget deficit of $65,000 was not solely a result of faculty negotiations.

The Commuter, Schoolcraft's student newspaper, printed similar information, and was informed by Anthony Rizzo, chairman of the faculty negotiating team, and other instructors, that $26,500 of the deficit was created by salary raises for 21 administrators. Comparatively, $28,000 of the deficit was divided up between 120 faculty members.

You also mention that the parents of both the resident and non-resident students will be paying in this instance.

Well, in the case of this resident student, it will not be the parent who pays for the increase in January. It will be the student; the student who carries a full load of classes, who tries, too, to exhibit school unity and spirit by participating in extra-curricular activities which benefit the school, and who works 30 hours a week so that she can afford to continue attending that school.

It is all well and good for the Board of Trustees to raise my tuition now, in an emergency, but, I ask the Board, will you lower it when the emergency is over?

Appalled At Charges

EDITOR:

It was with gratitude that I read in The Observer of Police Chief Jordan's refusal to dismiss Officer David Avery at the request of a local attorney and his client.

I am appalled at the thought that Officer Avery may be charged "with criminal assault" concerning his apprehension of said client on the night of Sept. 1, 1967.

Was not Mrs. White "assaulted without provocation" that evening? Was not Officer Avery serving the citizens of Livonia in pursuing the man who left her at the scene of the accident? Is this not his duty as a police officer?

If such men as Officer Avery are kept from performing those duties, where will the rest of the citizenry be without such to protect them? I, as a citizen, defend the right of Officer Avery to apprehend the fleeing driver, in the interests of all concerned, so that the streets and sidewalks of Livonia may be that much safer.

The Police Department needs the support and backing of the people of the City of Livonia.

And A Brand New Slogan 1968 Licenses Have New Look

Buyers of '68 license plates were greeted with three new changes.

The license plates themselves are now green and gold and also sport a new slogan, "Great Lake State."

This is the first year the state has used this slogan.

THE COLORS green and gold honor Wayne State University's 100th anniversary next year. License plate jackets also have a new look.

In place of the listing of letters used in each county this year's jacket includes a short history of Michigan license plates.

The most far reaching change is the new prepared application.

The application was sent to most of the state's vehicle owners including owners of all passenger cars, commercial vehicles and trailers over 2,500 pounds.

This was done providing they owned their vehicles before this past June.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said, "These prepared applications are very important because they are the first step in the total mechanization of all our vehicle files."

HARE SAID, "When information is finally captured on a particular vehicle, this information will be put into computer memory banks for storage and used whenever necessary."

He said that this information will save the state about $300,000 annually.

Criteria for buying new plates is the same as last year.

EVERY BUYER must have: proof of ownership; proof of liability insurance; fee for Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund—$1 if insured or $35 if uninsured; and the license plate fee.

Hare said that a leaflet explaining the $1 and $35 fees is given out at each branch office to everyone purchasing plates.

41 Receive Licenses

Forty-one Observerland men have been granted licenses by the Michigan State Board of Registration for Architects, Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors.

Newly registered architects are: Donald Cuatt and Richard Lewis Gould, both of Farmington; and Harold Eugene Eskovitz, Robert C. Lebeck, and William D. Shiels, all from Livonia.

Three of the 41 are land surveyors, who are: Thomas W. Chettleburgh, Farmington; Stuart Hugh Vaughn, Livonia; and Donald R. Trim, Plymouth. The area professional engineers are: from Farmington, Ralph J. Dingle, George M. Gilkey, Philip E. Mesenbrink, Victor C. Moore, John J. Primeau, and Richard Duane Stephens; from Garden City, Wallace N. Popravsky.

Also, from Livonia, Philip Robert Austin, Mayo Kirk Cheney, Jr., Robert J. Dillon, Robert Francis Dittler, Gilbert L. Galbrois, Philip Gerstan, John Glancy, Kenneth A. Hutchinson, John Curtis Koepke, Andrew M. Kowal, James T. Lahey, Gordon J. McCormick, Donald E. Penrod, David Joseph Petrillo, Louis J. Rice, Raymond Stone, John C. Sutherland, and Donald G. Wheatley.

Other area engineers are: from Plymouth, Gregory W. Dean, George D. Rowland, Irving William Rozian, Jerry L. Yohey; from Westland, Peter H. Cook, Donald Vernon Haller, Robert Shih-chi Lo, John Donald Wood.

These men and all others that received licenses were given their respective licenses at a meeting Nov. 4 at the Engineering Society of Detroit.

All the candidates were required to have a minimum of eight years of qualifying experience and college credits in their different fields in order to write their examinations.

laws. It is inconceivable that an officer preventing a "hit and run" driver from escaping should suffer condemnation, financial loss, and adverse criticism.

We may not agree with each others' principles, but to have the defendant's attorney decry principles in order to make a settlement is worse than no settlement at all.

The principle of obeying and enforcing the law must not be sold for expediency.

The teen-ager did strike a mother of five, nearly killing her, and then ran from the scene of the accident.

I applaud the Police Department and Officer Avery for apprehending the "hit and run" driver and thank him for protecting others by doing his job.

Firefighters Say Thanks

EDITOR:

Innumerable comments and praising adjectives were received on the fifth annual Firefighters Ball held on Oct. 7, at the Wayne-Ford Civic League Hall. An expression of the highest degree was noted, when the feeling of one person summed up what the Firefighters of Westland have strived to do. "Your Firefighters Ball has become the top social event of the year, and I didn't think that you could top last year's ball, but this has got to be the greatest yet. The Tommy Baldwin Orchestra, and Rocky and his Friends, Miss Flame and her Court, the food, and the extreme cordiality of the firefighters present is something that I will never forget. You can bet I'll be here next year again."

Well, the only reply to a flattering remark such as that has to be the truth. It was noted that in the back of the program, many names of fine businessmen would be found.

It was through the generosity of these people, the people of the metropolitan area, and the fine people here in Westland, that helped us by their donations, time, effort, and energy, that the fifth annual Firefighters Ball was all these things.

Unfortunately, space does not permit us to name all our friends, but we are sure that those who attended the ball had an enjoyable evening, which was our goal. Evidence to support this was the requests by many that they would like to purchase tickets for next year's ball.

We of the Westland Firefighters Association would like to personally say "Thank You," and we'll see you at our sixth annual Firefighters Ball."

Students Gripe

Franklin Plan Has Some Rough Spots

This fall 2,300 students at Livonia's Franklin High became involved in what the school calls "flexible modular scheduling."

Basically, modular scheduling aims at treating students as individuals, giving them more responsibility for planning their own use of time. Along with some traditional classes, students have some large group lectures and small group discussions. They also have blocks of "unassigned time," which they use more or less as they want to.

The term "modular scheduling" refers to periods of time called modules. In the Franklin system, one module is 15 minutes.

Classes range in length from two to eight modules, or 30 minutes to two hours. Some students have unassigned time periods as short as one module. It would have been virtually impossible to design schedules for the 2,300 Franklin students using the new plan without a computer.

SOMEWHERE BETWEEN the educational jargon about how the plan should work and the student gripes about unrestricted passes that don't allow you to go anywhere is the reality of what happens when a sophisticated, almost college-level scheduling system is plopped into a high school setting.

The basic questions seem to be: How much freedom high school students should have? How much responsibility they can accept for planning their own use of time?

Mrs. Audrey Becker, who admits that she is bothered quite a bit by her title as Franklin's "director of dissemination," talked about some of the problems that have been encountered with the new scheduling system.

THE TOUGHEST bug right now seems to be unassigned time. Some students have blocks of as much as three hours which they are expected to spend as they wish in labs, libraries or simply doing homework.

Along with the individual problems of deciding how to spend the time and use it constructively, there is a school-wide problem of physically dealing with a large group of students who aren't tied down in any one classroom.

Students complain that they really have no place to go where they can comfortably study; that they are always being told to be quiet; that the instructional materials center translation: (updated library) is a mob scene.

AN EDITORIAL in the last issue of Franklin's school paper, The Packet, argued that a student lounge, where conversation and "relaxation" would be allowed, would be a good thing.

Mrs. Becker, who is very much aware of student feeling about the scheduling plan and agrees that the facilities for using unassigned time are inadequate, wonders where a student lounge could be set up. "You see," she explains, "right now nearly every room in the school is being used every hour of the day. That includes places like the cafeteria."

Even if a student center were the answer to some of the problems with unassigned time, it may be physically impossible to have one at Franklin.

ONE OF THE basic problems, Mrs. Becker suggests, is that the flexible scheduling system, while different from the traditional high school approach, is not like college either.

Students still have to be in school all day. They have to account for their use of time, and they are expected to use their free time not only constructively but quietly.

It Happened In Livonia

The pop concert last Wednesday night in Livonia's Stevenson High was a sort of landmark for young Observerland.

Nearly 3,000 teens from all three Livonia high schools paid

$2 a head to see some of the best young entertainment ever gathered under one roof in this area.

The concert was also the first example of what can happen when the students of the Livonia high schools get together on a major project. For this one at least, the answer was clear—success.

The three student councils put out about $4,000 to stage the show. They made that much, and more, and provided a big night of entertainment for a lot of kids.

The four groups featured were The Happenings, from New York; Bob Seger and the Last Heard, from Detroit; The Little Sisters, of Grosse Pointe; and The Rationals, of Ann Arbor.

The music was alive, swinging, sometimes loud. And the crowd obviously loved it.

BOB SEGER, leader of Bob Seger and the Last Heard, was caught as he left a press conference, autograph pen in hand.

Teen Clubs--What's Up?

By PEGGY COUSINS
Franklin High

Now that summer has left, it seems there's not much to do on weekends; there's no more L.Y.I., and the beaches are all closed.

But all's not lost! Happy days of fun and laughter can be once again found in only one kind of place.

Detroit area teen clubs! There is a wide variety of places to go to now. A person can "bob" out to one and really "blow his mind."

The Bypass, 1001 East Grand River in Brighton, is open from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. every Friday and Saturday night. The admission is $1.50 and the age limit is 16 and over.

ANOTHER COOL place to break in on is the Chatterbox. There are two of them, one at 13 Mile and Mound in Warren, and one at 15847 Southfield in Allen Park, one of the first clubs in the area. Both are open Sundays and the age limit is 17 or over. The Allen Park Chatterbox charges only $1.50 for admission, but the Warren Chatterbox costs $2.

The place that really rates is the Fifth Dimension, 216 West Huron, Ann Arbor. Dave Schaffer presides all weekend when they present well-known bands, such as Bob Seger and the Last Heard, The Fifth Dimension, which used to be an old bowling alley, has an unusual recessed bar and boutique. The evening sessions are 8 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. and admission is $2.50 for 16-year-olds or over.

IF YOU WANT to go to a truly groovy and out of sight place, make a visit to the Grande Ballroom. It's located one block south of Joy on Grand River. You must be 17 and prove it with a birth certificate.

The tickets that you will hand to the girl on the motorcycle are $2.50 each. The Grande is well known for its psychedelic atmosphere, with its flashing lights and pictures on the walls. There are usually real groovy bands playing with Uncle Russ as emcee.

DON'T STOP reading yet. There are more places you can go! Some time when you have a Saturday or Sunday afternoon free, take your boy or girlfriend to a cider mill. There are a few close by, and the cider is delicious.

Franklin Cider Mill is the busiest and best known. Located at 7450 Franklin Road at 14 Mile, it's open through Dec. 10. Another popular cider mill is Parmenters, at 708 East Base Line Road in Northville.

A LITTLE SISTER strums dreamily.

ONE OF THE Happenings reaches over the edge of the stage to touch an admirer.

Poet Will Speak At Schoolcraft

Poet David Ignatow will speak during the afternoon and give a reading of his poems in the evening on the Schoolcraft College fall term lecture series on Thursday, Nov. 9.

A rare thing in American letters today, Ignatow is a businessman who is also a poet of distinction. Both his appearances are scheduled in the library. At 3 p.m., Ignatow will read poems and answer questions on poetry and letters, and at 8 p.m. he will read selections of his poetry. There is no admission charge for either session.

Ignatow completed high school during the depression and supported himself in a variety of ways—as a free-lance publicist and WPA writer, a civil service clerk, a shipworker, and a hospital clerk—before "graduating" into office management.

All along he has been a poet, writing in the evening after a full day's work, "with the experiences of the day echoing in mind and occasionally growing into a theme for a poem," as he describes it.

Ignatow has been editor of the Beloit Poetry Journal for 10 years, and his poems have appeared in the Saturday Review, Nation Poetry, and Commentary. His books are "Poems," "The Gentle Weight Lifter," "Say Pardon," and "Figures of the Human."

Madonna Plans Open Mixer

College students in the Observerland area have been invited to a coffee house mixer, "Psychedelic Scene," Friday, Nov. 10 at Madonna College.

Sponsored by Madonna's sophomore class, the event will be held in the Student Center, at the corner of Schoolcraft and Levan Roads. A live band and espresso drinks will be featured.

It's Easy To Prepare If You...

By Joyce Totten

In several years of teaching home economics, I have found many helpful hints for preparing different foods, in the way it will help and be easier to do. Here are a few you might like to try in the near future.

BAKING: Before filling a measuring cup with molasses, flour the inside, the molasses will not stick to the cup then. If molasses and shortening are to be used-measure shortening first, then add molasses-both will slip out easily. For a picnic or storing cake, sprinkle wax paper with powdered sugar before wrapping, frosting will stick to the cake instead of the paper. If you are uncertain whether your baking powder is fresh, put 1 teaspoon in half a glass of hot water, if it is fresh, it will bubble actively.

MEATS: To thoroughly mix seasoning with meat for hamburgers, hash, or stews, mix the seasoning in meat stock, then add to meat. For basting roasting lamb try 2 cups of strong coffee, for a delightful taste. A boned and rolled roast requires ten more minutes cooking time per pound than one cooked with bones.

SALADS: To slice bananas for a salad use an egg slicer. To give a salad a varied taste add crisp bits of fried bacon. Stuffing celery? Try ground ham, pickle, little onion and mayonnaise. Or how about peanut butter, they are all very good.

VEGETABLES: For baking whole tomatoes, peppers, onion, and potatoes, use a muffin tin, they are very useful. To slice potatoes thin, dip blade of knife into boiling water. When cooking spinach, add a pinch of garlic for a pleasant taste, you never know maybe the kids will even like spinach this way.

CARROT-PECAN CAKE

- | | |
|-------|--------------------------|
| 1 1/4 | c. salad oil |
| 2 | c. sugar |
| 2 | c. sifted flour |
| 2 | t. baking powder |
| 1 | t. baking soda |
| 1 | t. salt |
| 4 | eggs |
| 3 | c. grated raw carrots |
| 1 | c. finely chopped pecans |

Combine oil and sugar; mix well. Sift half of dry ingredients into sugar mixture; blend.

Sift in remaining dry ingredients alternately with eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Add carrots and mix well; mix in pecans. Pour into lightly oiled 10-inch tube pan. Bake in 325-degree oven about 1 hour and 10 minutes. Cool in pan upright. Remove from pan;

ORANGE GLAZE

- | | |
|-----|-----------------------|
| 1/4 | c. cornstarch |
| 1/2 | t. salt |
| 1 | t. fresh lemon juice |
| 2 | T. grated orange peel |
| 1 | c. fresh orange juice |
| 1 | c. sugar |
| 2 | T. butter |

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Split cake into three layers; and spread glaze between layers also on top and sides of cake.

- | | |
|-----|------------|
| 5 | egg whites |
| 1/4 | t. salt |
| 1 | c. sugar |

Beat egg whites with salt until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar; continue to beat until stiff peaks form. Spread mixture in a well-greased 8 x 8 x 2 - inch pan. Place in oven preheated to 450 degrees and close door. Turn off heat. Let stand overnight or at least 5 hours before removing from oven. Cut and top with fresh fruit, ice cream, whipped cream and nuts. Yield: 4-5 servings.
