MATT MC LELLAN

Death Of D.P.W. Chief Shocking To Township

The flag over Plymouth Township Hall hung at half mast this week in honor of Matthew A. McLellan, 52, director of buildings and public works in the township, who died suddenly Sunday while on a three-day hunting trip near Wolverine, Mich.

The director suffered a heart attack and died shortly after at Gaylord Hospital, about 20 miles west of Wolverine.

MRS. HELEN Richardson, township clerk, speaking for the township, said, "Matt's sudden death has been a tremendous shock and loss to the township and everyone working here. It is almost more than we can face."

"Matt had a tremendous personality and we all developed close working ties with him."

Police Ask School Use During Riots

City Police Chief Robert Corrington asked the Plymouth Board of Education if officers belonging to the Wayne County Tactical Mobile Unit could use the school buildings in the event of a riot in the suburbs.

In a letter to the board, Corrington said that all police departments in Wayne County have formed the unit in the event of civil disturbances in the smaller communities.

He wanted the use of school facilities to hold potential prisoners, feed policemen, and to use them to act as central facilities from which to direct action.

The board said that it would have to study the matter with great care especially with regard to any legal questions that might arise.

Corrington had also asked for permission to use school buses to transport prisoners and police troops in the circumstances of mass arrests or movements.

Youth Injured In Lone Mishap Over Week-End

Robert Albert Biehle, 15, of Northville, was involved in the only reported accident over the weekend, in Plymouth Township, according to the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

On Sunday, while trying to make a right turn at a high rate of speed at Wilcox and Edward Hines Dr., Biehle lost control of his car and almost ended up in Wilcox Lake.

Biehle received minor injuries, according to sheriffs. The car came to a stop facing directly into the lake with the front of the car partially in the water.

Even Cemetery Makes Money City Audit Reveals Big Surplus

The City of Plymouth is in good condition—financially.

This came to light during the week with the report of the annual audit that showed a surplus of $99,025 in the general fund and that the city operated in the black in all other departments.

"This general fund surplus came about," City Manager Richard Blodgett explained, "because of the fact that our revenues were approximately $30,000 more than anticipated and our expenditures $60,000 below what they were expected to be."

Thus, the net revenues amounted to $16,241, an increase of $4,241 over the prior year.

City Manager Blodgett was all smiles with the reports of the surpluses in the various departments although he claimed some of them might be a bit misleading.

"Take the general fund for instance," he said. "There as I mentioned, the income was close to $30,000 more than we anticipated and our expenditures were about $60,000 below what we had expected."

Much of that was the direct result of being four men short in the Department of Public Works for much of the year."

Asked what the city's limit of bonded indebtedness was he quickly replied, "I just don't know. That is a matter that we'll have to take up with the accountants."

And when asked if the surpluses would be applied to the retirement of some of the present bonded indebtedness, he also explained,

"Rather than retire bonds with this money, we invest in Treasury notes, which pay more interest and we find it to our advantage to move this way."

"The big fact is—the City finished another year in the black and we are in good shape—financially."

In submitting the report, Sutherland and Robson, the certified public accountant who prepared it wrote,—

"Available funds at the close of the fiscal year amounted to $160,597. Cash on hand and on deposit amounted to $85,902 and temporary investments totaled $74,695 and current receivables from other funds amounted to $42,528."

The fiscal year closed on June 30 and Blodgett was quick to point out that much of the surplus had been budgeted for the present fiscal year.

"I would like to make this clear," he said, "so that the people will not think that we have this much money left over for other things."

The audit also showed that the total cash in the bank and temporary investments in the water supply system as of June 30 amounted to $236,750, which is an increase of $60,632 for the year."

MRS. LYNDA ST. JOHN AS SHE LEAVES TEACHING POST AT OLD SCHOOL

Headed For Posterity?

Stone School May Become Monument

If Carl E. Schultheiss, vice president of Plymouth's School Board of Education, has his way, the 110-year-old Salem Stone School, at N. Territorial and Curtis Roads, will be preserved as a monument.

Stone School, built in 1857, is one of the only remaining one-room school houses in the state and stands alone in Superior Township at the western edge of the School District's boundaries.

Only kindergarten and first grades are taught there and the board is anticipating eliminating classes in the near future. It would be replaced by an elementary school that would serve the entire area.

Schultheiss' idea is to transform the building into some kind of monument. He said he purposely avoided the use of the word "museum" because that would mean maintaining the furnishings inside the school, and invite vandalism.

Other board members accepted the idea with reservations.

JOHN MOEHLE, trustee, claimed he liked the idea but was afraid that it would mean the building would be closed and still be public property owned by the school board.

Moehle pointed out that when some people hear the word "public" connected with property they think it means they are allowed to do anything they want to the structures on that property.

Schultheiss retorted that might be the case but it is only a matter of educating the youngsters in the district to respect other people's rights. The vice president stated it was the job of educators to teach responsibility to children and possibly through this education the school district would avoid having future problems with potential vandals.

Joanne Hulce, secretary, claimed it was up to parents to see that children learned respect for other people's property and not the school's job.

SCHULTHEISS' whole concept would be to have a future elementary school built close to Stone School. Under this plan the one room school could be guarded by the custodians of the new school.

He said that if something like this isn't done it would mean an elaborate system of hired guards and expensive lighting plus other unique problems that seem to go along with museums.

No action was taken by the board but it was noted that some time in the future the board should consider something like this because it is so old and fraught with so much educational tradition and history.

School Board Takes Option On New Site

The Plymouth Board of Education approved an option to buy property for an elementary school site on the west side of Plymouth near McClumpha Rd., at its meeting Monday night.

It placed a $500 deposit that will hold the site for the next 90 days in which time the board will come to a final purchase decision.

It is a 17-acre parcel that will cost $3,500 an acre.

If it purchased the land, the board would have to extend McClumpha Rd. 540 feet through the property. This would leave four half acre parcels that they would sell.

Thirteen acres would be left for the school facilities.

About one-half of the lot is wooded area. Utilities, including storm sewers, sanitary sewers, gas, water and underground electrical current already are at the north side of the site.

After paying for the cost of constructing the street and extending utilities and selling four lots, the school district will have invested in the remaining 13 acres approximately $45,000.

Besides approving the option to purchase the land the board also decided to conduct a topographical survey of the acreage and to perform test borings to discover the subsoil content.

The sewage disposal system also showed a surplus. This amounted to $2,745 and according to the accountants this is the first year in which the Sewage Disposal System showed a profit after depreciation and net interest expense.

Even the cemetery fund showed a substantial increase. Revenues for the year amounted to $37,517 which was an increase of $15,923 over estimated revenues. The expenditures amounted to $22,286 which included $1,010 for a new furnace.

Dignitaries To Give Santa Real Welcome

A host of dignitaries will be on hand to greet Santa Claus when he lands on Main Street, just opposite Kellogg Park, on Saturday morning.

He's coming by helicopter and is scheduled to arrive promptly at 11 a.m.

Waiting for him as he steps from the "chopper" will be Mayor James Jabara and members of the City Commission, along with Township Supervisor John McEwen and the Township Board of Trustees.

He will be welcomed to the city for the holidays by these officials and Carl Pursell, President of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Following the greeting Santa will be taken on a tour of the central business district in a convertible, and then to his new home in the P & A Theatre. He will hold forth there for the entire holiday period.

He did ask that one change be made in his schedule. He will be there from 4:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The members of the Plymouth Garden Club have done an outstanding job in preparing the theater for his home. They have been busy for the past week and it will be a far cry from the igloo he had in former years in the center of Kellogg Park.

Santa's arrival will mark the opening of the Christmas shopping season and the businessmen will be on hand to give him a lift wherever it is needed.

AT LONG LAST: After being studied for several months a survey of the traffic count at the various rail crossings in the Plymouth area was made last week. It is part of a study that could lead to elimination of the crossings. Shown here making the survey are: Left to right with truck, Dinney Elton and Edward Macomber....

A Target Was All He Needed

Clifford Smith, of 977 Dewey, was doing fine at providing venison for his family's table until he hit a slump....a 22-year slump.

Even though he added bow and arrow to his skill with a rifle and made two yearly trips to the Bitley-Baldwin area in the center of the state, the shy animals continued to elude him.

Oh, he saw their signs and even caught a glimpse of a few as they flashed through the forest—but for 22 years that was all.

Last week, a little less than a quarter of a century later, on the day he was going to return to Plymouth, a young six-point buck showed up in his rifle sights.

He took careful aim—and got it!

Union Offers Free Calls To Parents Of Servicemen

"Hi Mom"

Those two words will be shared by 15 families in the Plymouth, Livonia, Farmington, Westland, Northville, Garden City and South Lyon area from servicemen or women stationed outside the continental limits of the U.S.A. during the holiday season.

In cooperation with the USO, Local 4015 of the Communications Workers of America in Plymouth is sponsoring the free overseas telephone calls as part of the union's 11th annual "Hi Mom" program.

Gerald S. Greer, president of Local 4015, said anyone with a loved one stationed overseas is eligible to win a free call... although "Mom" will be given top priority.

PERSONS WANTING to enter the contest or submit the name of a person should send a letter or postcard with their name, address, and telephone number to:

CWA Local 4015
Box 141
Plymouth, Mich.

Deadline for entries is Dec. 15. The winners will be announced Dec. 20.

In addition to local participation Greer said the union is increasing its role in the program this year. CWA will finance 150 calls for servicemen and women with selections to be made by the U.S.O. in cooperation with the military commanders.

CWA will finance another 50 calls to wounded and injured military men and women confined to hospitals. The hospitals in which American GIs will be permitted to call home are in Okinawa, the Philippines, Japan, Guam, and Hawaii.

Greer said local winners will be selected at the Detroit downtown USO on Wednesday, Dec. 20.

Clarenceville Swim Classes Open Dec. 12

Clarenceville High School will be the place for a new session of adult swim instruction which will begin Dec. 12 at 7 p.m.

Even though Michigan has been called "The Water, Winter Wonderland" and "The Great Lake State," there are still some people who don't know how to swim.

This knowledge has become increasingly necessary since the advent of heightened interest in pleasure boating by residents.

In an effort, possibly to help overcome this swimability gap, the School District will offer classes for beginning and advanced swimmers.

The fee is $5 for ten lessons. Any adult interested can register for the lessons the first night at the pool entrance and registration for student swim classes will be conducted Dec. 2 at the pool entrance from 9 to 12.

Instruction will be offered for boys and girls in beginning and advanced swimming, competitive swimming, diving and junior-senior life saving.

For further information call Clarenceville High School, 476-2270, and ask for Mr. Waters.

Here's Chance To Get Data On SS Laws

Samuel F. Test, manager of the Detroit Northwest Social Security office, 18500 Grand River Avenue, announced Monday the Livonia Mall Shopping Center will have three Social Security days, Thursday evening, Nov. 30; and Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening, Dec. 1 and 2.

Social Security Field Representatives Michael Lalik and Josephine Jackson will attend a booth in the Mall to answer questions and distribute free Social Security Booklets. Residents of the area may take advantage of this opportunity to obtain valuable information about the Social Security Law.

Michigan Sites Studied

Anti-Missile System Coming To Area

Outside the office of Jim Trainor, press secretary to the mayor of Detroit, a hattrack last week Friday was stacked three-deep with military caps.

The scrambled egg of gold braiding across their visors denoted the ranks of their wearers: two generals; their aides-de-camp; and 13 staff members, none below the rank of major.

They were in Detroit to think about the unthinkable prospect of nuclear war. In particular they were in Detroit to discuss the location in Michigan of planned sites in America's developing anti-missile system.

IN SEPTEMBER of this year, Defense Secretary McNamara warned in a public speech: "... Indications are that they (China) will have medium-range ballistic missiles within a year or so, an initial intercontinental ballistic missile capability in the early 1970's, and a modest force in the mid-1970's."

And he asked the question in the mind of the world: "Is there any possibility, then, that by the mid-1970's China might become so incautious as to attempt a nuclear attack on the U.S. or its allies? We have the power not only to destroy completely her nuclear offensive forces, but to devastate her society as well. It would be insane and suicidal for her to do so, but one can conceive conditions under which China might miscalculate. We wish to reduce such possibilities to a minimum."

AND IT WAS "to reduce such possibilities to a minimum" that last week's meeting, conducted by Maj. Gen. Melville B. Coburn, commanding general of the Northeastern U.S. Army Air Defense Missile Forces, was called to brief county, township and community officials in their enlarging roles in a world shrinking perspective to the dimension of Novi, Michigan, population 6,390.

For Novi, as announced by the general, is one of six sites under study in the Detroit Metropolitan area for construction of an anti-ballistic atomic missile base aimed at Communist China.

The other possible locations are New Hudson, Dearborn, Grosse Ile Naval Air Station, Davis and Waldenburg.

THE DETROIT AREA, itself, is one of 10 geographical sections of the country in which 15 to 20 such bases will be located in a $5 billion military program carrying the code name "Sentinel," and designed to provide area coverage for the continental U.S., Alaska, and Hawaii against the kind of light and unsophisticated missile attack China may be capable of launching by the mid-1970's.

The other areas are Albany, Ga., Chicago, Dallas, Grand Forks Air Base, N.D., New York City, Oahu, Hawaii, Salt Lake City, Seattle, and Boston.

The huge 300-acre and highly sophisticated and computerized base, with radar installation and underground power plant, and a military and civilian staff of 700, will be capable of firing two types of anti-ballistic weapons, the "Spartan" and the "Sprint."

The Spartan will engage enemy ICBM's generally outside the earth's atmosphere at several hundred miles range. It will be equipped with a nuclear warhead in order to insure destruction of the target before it reaches the defense area.

The Sprint, the short-range, quick-reacting interceptor of the system, will be equipped with a nuclear warhead, also. It will provide close-in protection for the defense batteries themselves, or possibly as protective escorts for our own ICBM's.

Say McNamara To Quit Post With Cabinet

Informed sources in Washington reported Monday that Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara is planning to leave his administration post to become president of the World Bank. The Washington Post reported that McNamara was recommended to fill the presidency of the international banking organization by President Johnson at a meeting of World Bank directors earlier this month. McNamara has not commented on the report and confirmation was not available from the White House, Pentagon or World Bank spokesmen.

Michigan Blue Cross has asked the State Insurance Bureau to approve an average base rate hike of 4.9 per cent. The increase, which would take effect in the second quarter of 1968, would affect more than 600,000 members. Blue Shield rates will remain the same.

A special federal crime-fighting force will arrive in Detroit early next year, charged specifically to breakup organized crime rackets in the city. The force, U.S. District Attorney Lawrence Gubow told reporters, will include Internal Revenue agents from Intelligence, Alcohol Tax and Audit divisions, Secret Service agents and men from the Department of Labor. Some of the work will be co-ordinated through the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Charles Frankel, assistant secretary of state for education and cultural affairs, will leave the State Department at the end of the year. Although Frankel's resignation cited a desire to return to private life, he was reportedly unhappy over administration Vietnam policy.

Evangelist Billy Graham was hospitalized with pneumonia in West Sulphur Springs, Va., Monday. He has been ordered to rest for several weeks.

The Cyprus crisis has apparently reached the cooling-off phase. Although neither Turkey nor Greece would say so publicly, they reportedly agreed Monday on a peace formula that would drastically cut Greece's influence over the island. Under a plan proposed by Canada and supported by the United Nations, both Greece and Turkey would remove their armed forces from Cyprus. Greece now has between 7,000 and 12,000 men on the island, Turkey has about 1,000.

Egypt has announced that it will not allow the Soviet Union to set up military bases on its soil. It had been reported that the Soviets had asked Egypt for permission to build a base. A government spokesman said: "We are against giving bases to anyone, and certainly against giving bases to the Soviet Union or the United States."

Weekend rains and floods in Portugal left more than 250 dead and destroyed thousands of dwellings in heavily populated Lisbon and surrounding villages. Hundreds more were injured and many were missing under tons of debris and mud. The low-lying Lisbon suburb of Odivelas, where a dike broke, and the village of Quintas, about 30 miles north of Lisbon, were hardest hit.

French President Charles de Gaulle continued what appears to be a campaign to weaken the Western alliance in a press conference Monday. He said:

*The U.S. dollar might have to be devalued, and that he would favor such a move.

*He would not allow Britain into the Common Market.

*The Middle East crisis could be blamed on the U.S. war in Vietnam.

*He thought the Province of Quebec would break away from Canada and that France would welcome the move.

*Israel must pull out of captured Arab lands before a peace settlement can be reached.

Bread unwittingly baked with poisonous parathion insecticide has now accounted for the deaths of 66 children and 10 adults in Chiquinquirá, Columbia. At least 146 are still in critical condition after eating the bread. The containers of insecticide were being transported in the same truck with flour when they broke and soaked the flour bags. A baker who did not know of the accident then made the flour into deadly bread.

One of the world's most valuable coins, valued at about $100,000, turned up this week in the office of a Miami insurance adjuster who said he retrieved it from thieves who took it in May, 1965, from Yale University. The coin, The Brasher Doubloon, was made in 1787.

Joe Schmidt announced that he was reinstalling Milt Plum as the Lions' starting quarterback for the first time in seven weeks. He added: "There will be some other player changes which I'll announce later in the week." Coach Schmidt also said he hoped to have Pat Studstill back in action, at least for punting. The star flanker has been sidelined by a pulled hamstring muscle. The Lions have been winless since Oct. 29 and suffered a 31-7 rout by the Rams Thanksgiving Day.

Damascus, the three-year-old racing champion, has been named the turf world's horse-of-the-year by the Thoroughbred Racing Association. The bay, son of Sword Dancer, set an all-time winning record for a single year with $817,941.

The Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, former chancellor and president of the University of Detroit, received the Willie Heston Award Tuesday night in Detroit from the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Father Steiner, 67, was a guard on U-D football teams and encouraged athletic programs during his administration. The award is named after the U-M star of the "point-a-minute" teams of 1901-1904.

Bump Elliott, University of Michigan football coach, will coach the North in the annual North-Shrine game in the Orange Bowl Christmas Day. He scored two wins as North coach in the 1959 and 1960 games.

LISTENING INTENTLY to the words of Santa, after he checked in at the Livonia Mall, is this wide-eyed youngster who just can't believe that she's sitting on the lap of her favorite person.

OTHERS MAY BE HAPPY but this tot, like many of his age group, didn't want any part of Santa when he went up to greet the jolly gentleman after his arrival in the Wonderland Shopping Center.

ANXIOUS LOOKS on the faces of these youngsters could be for only one bewhiskered gentleman at this time of the year. They were waiting for the arrival of Santa Claus at Westland Shopping Center.

JA Sets Sights On $410,000 As Goal For Area

A goal of $410,000 has been announced by Joseph F. Kerigan, Chrysler vice president and general chairman of the 1968 Junior Achievement Fund Raising Campaign.

This is the largest fund raising venture in J.A. history. In making the announcement Kerigan commented, "the scope of this campaign cannot be measured by its monetary objective; rather, by the understanding and appreciation of the U.S. economic system that it will enable J.A. to bring to thousands of teen-agers in Southeastern Michigan. I'm confident that the business community and individuals will continue to support our efforts."

CONTRIBUTIONS to the drive will provide capital to finance the 1968-69 Junior Achievement program. Southeastern Michigan, the world's largest J.A. has 28 business centers in six counties. More than 8,000 students now operate 419 corporations in miniature from these locations.

Unit chairmen assisting Ker-igan are: W.M. Daley, director of purchases, Ternstedt Division, General Motors; P.F. Lorenz, vice president - marketing, Ford Motor Co.; Alan G. Loofbourrow, vice president, quality and reliability, Chrysler Corp.; and William F. Randolph, vice president and general superintendent, The J.L. Hudson Co.

Some 500 volunteer solicitors will serve on their teams during the month-long campaign.

Contributions will support the operation of J.A. business centers at 585 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth; 2220 N. Telegraph Road, Dearborn; 3139 S. Wayne Road, Wayne; and 26905 Grand River, Redford, serving young people in those communities.

City Well Prepared For Snow

Ken Vogras, head of the Department of Public Works in the City of Plymouth, spends a great deal of time these days looking at the sky--and wondering whether the beautiful fluffy stuff will come in greater quantities this year than it did last winter.

"We went $18,000 in the hole a year ago for snow removal," he explained, "and I sure hope this year won't give us as much trouble."

"WE SPENT $13,900 on the major roads last year and $7,500 on the local streets and it shot our budget to pieces. "This year we have budgeted approximately $17,000 and I hope it will be more than sufficient to pay for the job," Ken explained that the budget for snow removal this year was again divided into two parts --$10,700 for major streets and $6,200 for the local streets.

No matter when the snow comes, however, and how much of it falls, Ken and his working force are ready for it.

IT LONG HAS been an established fact that the City of Plymouth does a better job of keeping its highways clear than any other community in the area, and Ken is ready to maintain that record.

"We have 130 tons of salt on hand right now," he pointed out, "and we are ready for anything that comes in the line of snow."

Aside from the salt the DPW has four trucks set to go into action along with a loader, a grader and a salt truck.

Plymouth Township has no such problem. Snow removal in that area is the responsibility of the Wayne County Road Commission.

The Township does own one snow blade, but that is used only for the fire department and the area around the Township Hall.

Grants Offered 4-H Youth

Among some 300 scholarships valued at $165,000 available to 4-H members this year are two offered by Successful Farming magazine through the Edwin T. Meredith Foundation, and two from the Milwaukee Road.

The Meredith Foundation scholarships are for $800 each. Current or former 4-H'ers who are now college freshmen are eligible to apply.

The Milwaukee Road provides two scholarships of $400 each earmarked for 4-H members who have specialized in grain marketing and transportation projects. The offer is restricted to young men and women now enrolled in an accredited college.

Eleven scholarships for $400 each are offered again this year to deserving 4-H'ers by the Chicago & North Western Railway Company. This year marks the 45th anniversary of the railway's support of 4-H endeavors.

Current or former 4-H Club members can apply for the scholarships. Records are sent to the State 4-H Club office and finalists are selected in Chicago by a committee of Extension Service personnel.

Winners will be announced in Chicago during the 46th National 4-H Club Congress, Nov. 26-30.

State Lists Schools For DI Courses

LANSING--A pair of schools bringing together some 65 driver improvement and licensing specialists are being sponsored by the Michigan Department of State.

The first school was from Nov. 13-17 and the second from Nov. 27 to Dec. 1. They are being held to help train personnel in driver improvement techniques and new laws in the driver improvement and licensing field, Secretary of State James M. Hare disclosed.

Students Sought For Trip

High school students interested in spending six weeks in Europe this summer on a travel-study program are being sought.

A group of 20 students on a comparative government program sponsored by the Foreign Language League will be led by a Plymouth couple, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chapple, Mrs.

Chapple teaches English at Livonia's Stevenson High.

She said that there are still about 10 openings, for students between 15 and 19. The group will leave June 26 and return Aug. 3. Cost is $800.

The Chapples may be contacted for applications and further information by calling 453-8797.

What Happened To YOU ?

What ever happened to the two new Livonia youth organizations that were formed with such high hopes during the summer?

One, tagged YOU, for Youth Organization Unlimited, was set up to represent all five Livonia high schools. The constitution was approved by the City Commission on Children and Youth, in August.

The basic idea behind YOU was that the group would function independently of the school systems, and concentrate on community-wide projects.

LINC (Livonia Intra Council) was, on the other hand, set up with only the three high schools of the Livonia Public School System. Its function was to provide communication among student leaders and its sphere of activity was to be within the school system.

THE LEAVES have fallen, Thanksgiving has come and gone and neither group is functioning yet.

YOU, the city-wide organization, is actually closer to reality. After receiving Youth Commission support, the constitution had to be passed by all of the high school student councils.

Jack Hoffman, president of Stevenson's council, said that the schools are now ready to appoint representatives. He thinks there's a good chance YOU will meet for the first time in "the next week or two."

LINC seems to be bogged down somewhere in the Livonia Schools' administrative system.

Because it will function as a student organization within the school system, approval of Superintendent Benton Yates is necessary.

HOFFMAN SAID that principals of the three high schools had received the constitution, passed only last week at Bentley and Franklin, but that he didn't know whether Yates' office had the principals' recommendations yet.

In spite of the organizational problems, LINC has already been responsible for a successful project. A pop concert Nov. 1 was planned by the three student councils, and the event returned the outlay of about $4,000, along with some profit.

When YOU meets for the first time, one item on the agenda will probably be movie theatre prices. Several of the student leaders who worked on the group last summer were convinced that a city-wide youth organization could bring about lower movie prices for students.

Hoffman said that creating organizations that would be able to continue next year should be the first aim of both YOU and LINC.

"That's why we think it's important now to get some underclassmen on the committees," he added.

Jaycees Open Search For Man Of Year

The Plymouth Jaycees have begun the count down to determine their "Man of the Year" and the contest this year appears to be more spirited than ever.

Each year, in January, the Jaycees name one of Plymouth's most distinguished young men and honor him as the man of the year. This honor went to Carl Pursell, president of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

This award is the highest within the realm of the Jaycees. The Plymouth honoree is then entered in the national competition to select the Ten Outstanding Young Men in the United States.

Among the winners in other years were the late President John F. Kennedy, Richard Nixon, Dr. Tom Dooley, and Leonard Bernstein. The local winners in past years include George Lawton, James Garber, James Jabara, Harvey Ziel, Wendell Smith and Carl Pursell.

This year's winner will be announced at the annual dinner at the Meeting House on January 22 when Lieut. Governor William Milliken will be the main speaker.

ASC Names Edward Kovach To New Post

Edward Kovach has been appointed production manager of B-G-R Division, Associated Spring Corporation in Plymouth.

Kovach joined ASC in 1950, at the Raymond Division, Corry, Pa., where his assignments included the areas of manufacture, inspection and production. He was named traffic manager in 1958, and a year later became traffic and shipping foreman.

Born in North Braddock, Pa., Kovach attended schools in Corry. During World War II, he served three years with the U.S. Air Force in the European Theater of operations.

He is married to the former Carmella Pirro, and has two sons.

Western 'Y' Previews New Program

A luncheon to preview the new Western YWCA winter term program will be held at 12 noon Wednesday, Nov. 29, in the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church.

The "Homemakers Holiday" program will include classes in oil painting, knitting, bridge, interior design, antiques, child psychology and paper craft.

A trip to Plum Street in Detroit and a spring hat show also are included in the winter season.

A flower arranging demonstration is planned for the luncheon, and there will be nursery service for pre-schoolers. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Ash-ton, 425-1554.

Hygienists To Hear Frank Kelly

Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelly will speak on "Dentistry and the Law" at the Oakland County Dental Hygienists Society "Bosses Night" at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 3, at Macna's Red Fox, on Telegraph in Birmingham. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Gary Lytle, 647-8465.

book but what he can't check is if all the toys he distributed were safe.

In light of the gruesome fact that some toys may do more harm than good, Paul J. Albright, Township Public Safety Director, and George Schoeneman, city fire chief, jointly urged adults to use common sense and the safety first approach in buying toys for children.

The two chiefs said, "Do not let Christmas turn from joy to tragedy by thoughtlessly giving an unsafe toy."

They urged adults to take these steps to safety:

1. Do not select a painted toy unless it is guaranteed lead-free;
2. Avoid costumes and play-clothes without a guarantee that only fireproof material was used;
3. Avoid giving very small toys with small removable parts or stuffed toys with loosely fastened eyes and buttons to small children;

4. Give bow and arrow sets and toys that fire projectiles only to children mature enough to handle them safely;
5. Reserve electrical toys, science sets and construction kits with sharp parts, for older children.

The chief added that if a relative or friend gives a child a dangerous toy, parents should not hesitate to save the plaything until the child is capable of enjoying it safely.

Christmas Seal Drive Nears 25% Of Goal

The Wayne County Christmas Seal campaign reached the quarter mark in its 1967 goal during the first two weeks, the TB and Health Society reported.

Contributions of $108,869, or slightly more than 25 per cent of the $425,000 goal in Wayne County, was reported by Jack A. Tompkins and Judi Kuneman, co-chairman of the drive here for the two-week period.

Tompkins, vice president of American Airlines, is directing the mailing of Seals to 900,000 homes and businesses in Wayne County.

Miss Kuneman, 18-year-old recovered victim of Tuberculosis, was the belle of the Cinderella Ball and is serving as Michigan's Christmas Seal chairman. Her home is in Redford Township.

It has been estimated that there are approximately 380,000 people in Detroit alone who have been infected by the tubercle bacillus (TB). Some of the funds being raised in the current campaign will be used to promote a course in preventive medicine that will help find and protect those infected persons from breaking down with active tuberculosis.

Free information about tuberculosis may be obtained from the TB and Health Society, 153 East Elizabeth, Detroit, 48201 or by phoning WO 1-1697.

Assessment Of Romney: An Underdog...

By RALPH R. REED

It has been said that George Romney runs--to meet success sooner.

He's been running, and meeting it, since revolutionaries chased the family out of a Mormon Colony in Mexico when the future Michigan governor was only five.

Romney will tell you that his role in the race for survival and success has been that of the underdog.

Perhaps that's why determination is written into the features of his face--a determination that has carried him to heights that the average man might be content to call "enough" and retire to a life of ease and comfort and the self-satisfaction that he had contributed more than his share to society, to business, to industry, to government, to church, to schools--and had been rightly and richly rewarded for it.

But at 60 and the picture of health, Romney has set his sights on the White House, a sizeable step from the Executive Office in Lansing to the best-known Washington address.

Yet sizeable steps have been the story of Romney's life--a man whose walking gait has been a competitor's gallop, a pace that tires reporters and might have tested the endurance of another lively step that made it to the handsome residence on Pennsylvania Avenue--former President Harry Truman, Democrat from Independence, Mo.

Like Truman, Republican Romney has abundant faith in himself.

Truman made it on his own when an America didn't think he could.

The variety of political and private polls measuring popularity among probable candidates for the Republican presidential nomination next August puts the Michigan self-starter down the list.

But in the face of figures, and despite the conservative's comment that "He can't make it!", the moderate who has a record of consistent winning since his baptism into partisan politics a few brief years ago announced that he not only seeks the Republican nomination, "but will win it."

Much of the Romney success in his upward climb from the fields of labor has been the result of his self-confidence, and his belief in the directive to "Let George do it!"

Whether he can hurdle the political obstacles within his own party as the field of candidates widens is what the country is waiting to see.

Romney and his growing organization brush aside opposition contention that the Romney name isn't a household word and his facial figures are not known to the voter masses.

They point to his television appearances, his radio interviews, his nationwide tours in public (and personal) interests that brought exposure of voice and views and personal features in the newspapers and magazines as well as through the channels and over the air waves.

They think he stacks up well as presidential timber and need give no ground in the pre-convention campaigns to the Nixon who ran and lost, to the Reagan who is a novice in politics, or to any other Republican mentioned as White House material.

It is the Republican National Convention they fear, where fate is in the hands of delegates and power politics is placed for keeps.

But the fighting Romney and his staff will test the political winds in several states, at primaries, before the showdown in the summer.

The Observer Newspapers, like all others and a public nervous over ways of the world and affairs at home, is an anxious observer of the Romney sales campaign--and of the sales pitches of every other presidential candidate of either party.

But Romney is Michigan, and there's a special interest in whether there's a slip of the tongue on foreign affairs--whether he says what he means, or means what he says about such things as "brainwashing" and Vietnam, and Washington's spending. He's off again soon for a month abroad for a broadened study and view of world problems.

There's been Romney's recent criticism of the press, the charge of misquoting, or mixing the issues, of misfitting headlines--an expressed hope for a better future.

That's politics, and a complaint rarely heard from the Romney of private business and public affairs, where a reputation was being built. His public service dates from 1929, and the Washington staff of Senator

... Who Runs Uphill To Meet Success

David I. Walsh.

There were depression years when he had a ringside seat in the Capitol--and the World War II years when he headed the Automotive Council for War Production. Then labor and industry cooperation turned out the vital armaments that made Detroit the Arsenal of Democracy.

He represented the nation as an employer delegate to the International Labor Organization, at conferences in Stockholm, Geneva and at home, and served as chairman of employer delegates. There were other assignments, other important things to do.

He came to Michigan in 1939 with the Automobile Manufacturers' Association, was its general manager when he moved to Nash-Kelvinator Corp. in 1948 as assistant to the president. He was executive vice-president when the company merged with Hudson Motor Car Co., in 1954 to form American Motors Corp. He became chairman and president of AMC in 1954 and remained there until he first ran for governor in 1962.

Romney got a chance to lick money problems when he headed AMC and faced a debt of $85-million. But under his leadership came the compact car revolution in the industry, and AMC became a highly profitable and large corporation.

There was the story that Romney's interest in politics placed him on the verge of announcing his candidacy for the U.S. Senate--but that within 30 minutes one Saturday morning he changed his mind when warned that his departure from American Motors would send its stock down 10 points on Monday.

It was after Romney's later departure that AMC again ran into financial troubles, but he no longer was connected with the company which had made him a fortune, and given him homes in Bloomfield Hills and Lansing.

Honors for his business activities have included Associated Press' "Man of the Year" award four times for the man who began his career with Aluminum Corp. of America, which he served from 1930 to 1939, mostly in Washington.

There was always Romney time for civic, religious and humanitarian activities--including a citizens effort to help Detroit schools. He was chairman of a 270-member Advisory Council, which helped adopt 182 steps of improvement. He managed the Detroit Automotive Jubilee.

He helped organize the Citizens for Michigan when the state was on the verge of financial bankruptcy--sought answers and recommended solutions to Michigan's troubles.

He got behind a movement to call a Constitutional Convention, became a Republican delegate and a vice-president. It was an easy step from "Con-Con" headlines to the Republican nomination for governor--and his present term--his third--is a four-year term provided by the new Constitution.

That Romney had won public respect through his public service and public office was shown by the increased margins in his reelections.

He brought to an end a 14-year Democratic domination when he defeated the incumbent by 70,000 votes--the only Republican to win statewide office that year. There had been a $100 million deficit the public didn't like.

Two years later, in 1964, when President Johnson was running away with Michigan, Romney was reelected by 360,000 votes.

In 1966, Romney really ran--leading a Republican landslide with his 530,000 margin and carrying a Republican into a U.S. Senate seat sought by an old Michigan vote-getter--former Gov. G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams.

Romney was credited with switching the Congressional delegation control to 12 to seven Republicans by ousting five Democrats; with restoring Republican control in the Legislature; with electing Republicans to the state's educational boards, to the Supreme Court (non-partisan) and many local offices.

The Romney runs in Michigan attracted national attention, as had campaigning cooperation of his attractive wife, Lenore, his close adviser, companion and a speaker with appeal.

Romney has traveled countless thousands of miles, spoken at many party fund-raising dinners, visited 36 states in the last year.

He's been criticized for his frequent absences from his job as governor--he's away on vacation now. But the answer is that "the state should willingly share a man big enough to be president--and proud to do it."

Shaking off political criticism, and touching his religion are different things for the Mormon faithful followers of Romney.

A devout member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Romney once was president of the Detroit stake. He had served two years as a young missionary in Great Britain. Son Scott also served there, and son Mitt is now in France as a missionary.

But it is the church's stand on Negro membership that has brought criticism--and the Romney answer that he has shown his interest in the race by his efforts in open housing, and in the United Negro College Fund, and in other ways. Mrs. Romney resigned from a club because it excluded Negroes from certain floors of the building.

He brushes aside the charge that he is not eligible for the presidency because he was born in Chihuahua, Mexico, of American parents, July 8, 1907. He's every inch and every ounce an American, he says, and grew up in Utah and Idaho. He graduated from Salt Lake City High School, attended the University of Utah and George Washington University in Washington, D.C. Not a graduate, he has received a dozen or more honorary degrees from colleges and universities.

His wife is his high school sweetheart, Lenore LaFount; his daughters Lynn (Mrs. Loren) Keenan, of Bloomfield Hills, and Jane (Mrs. Bruce) Robinson, of Ann Arbor. There are 11 grandchildren.

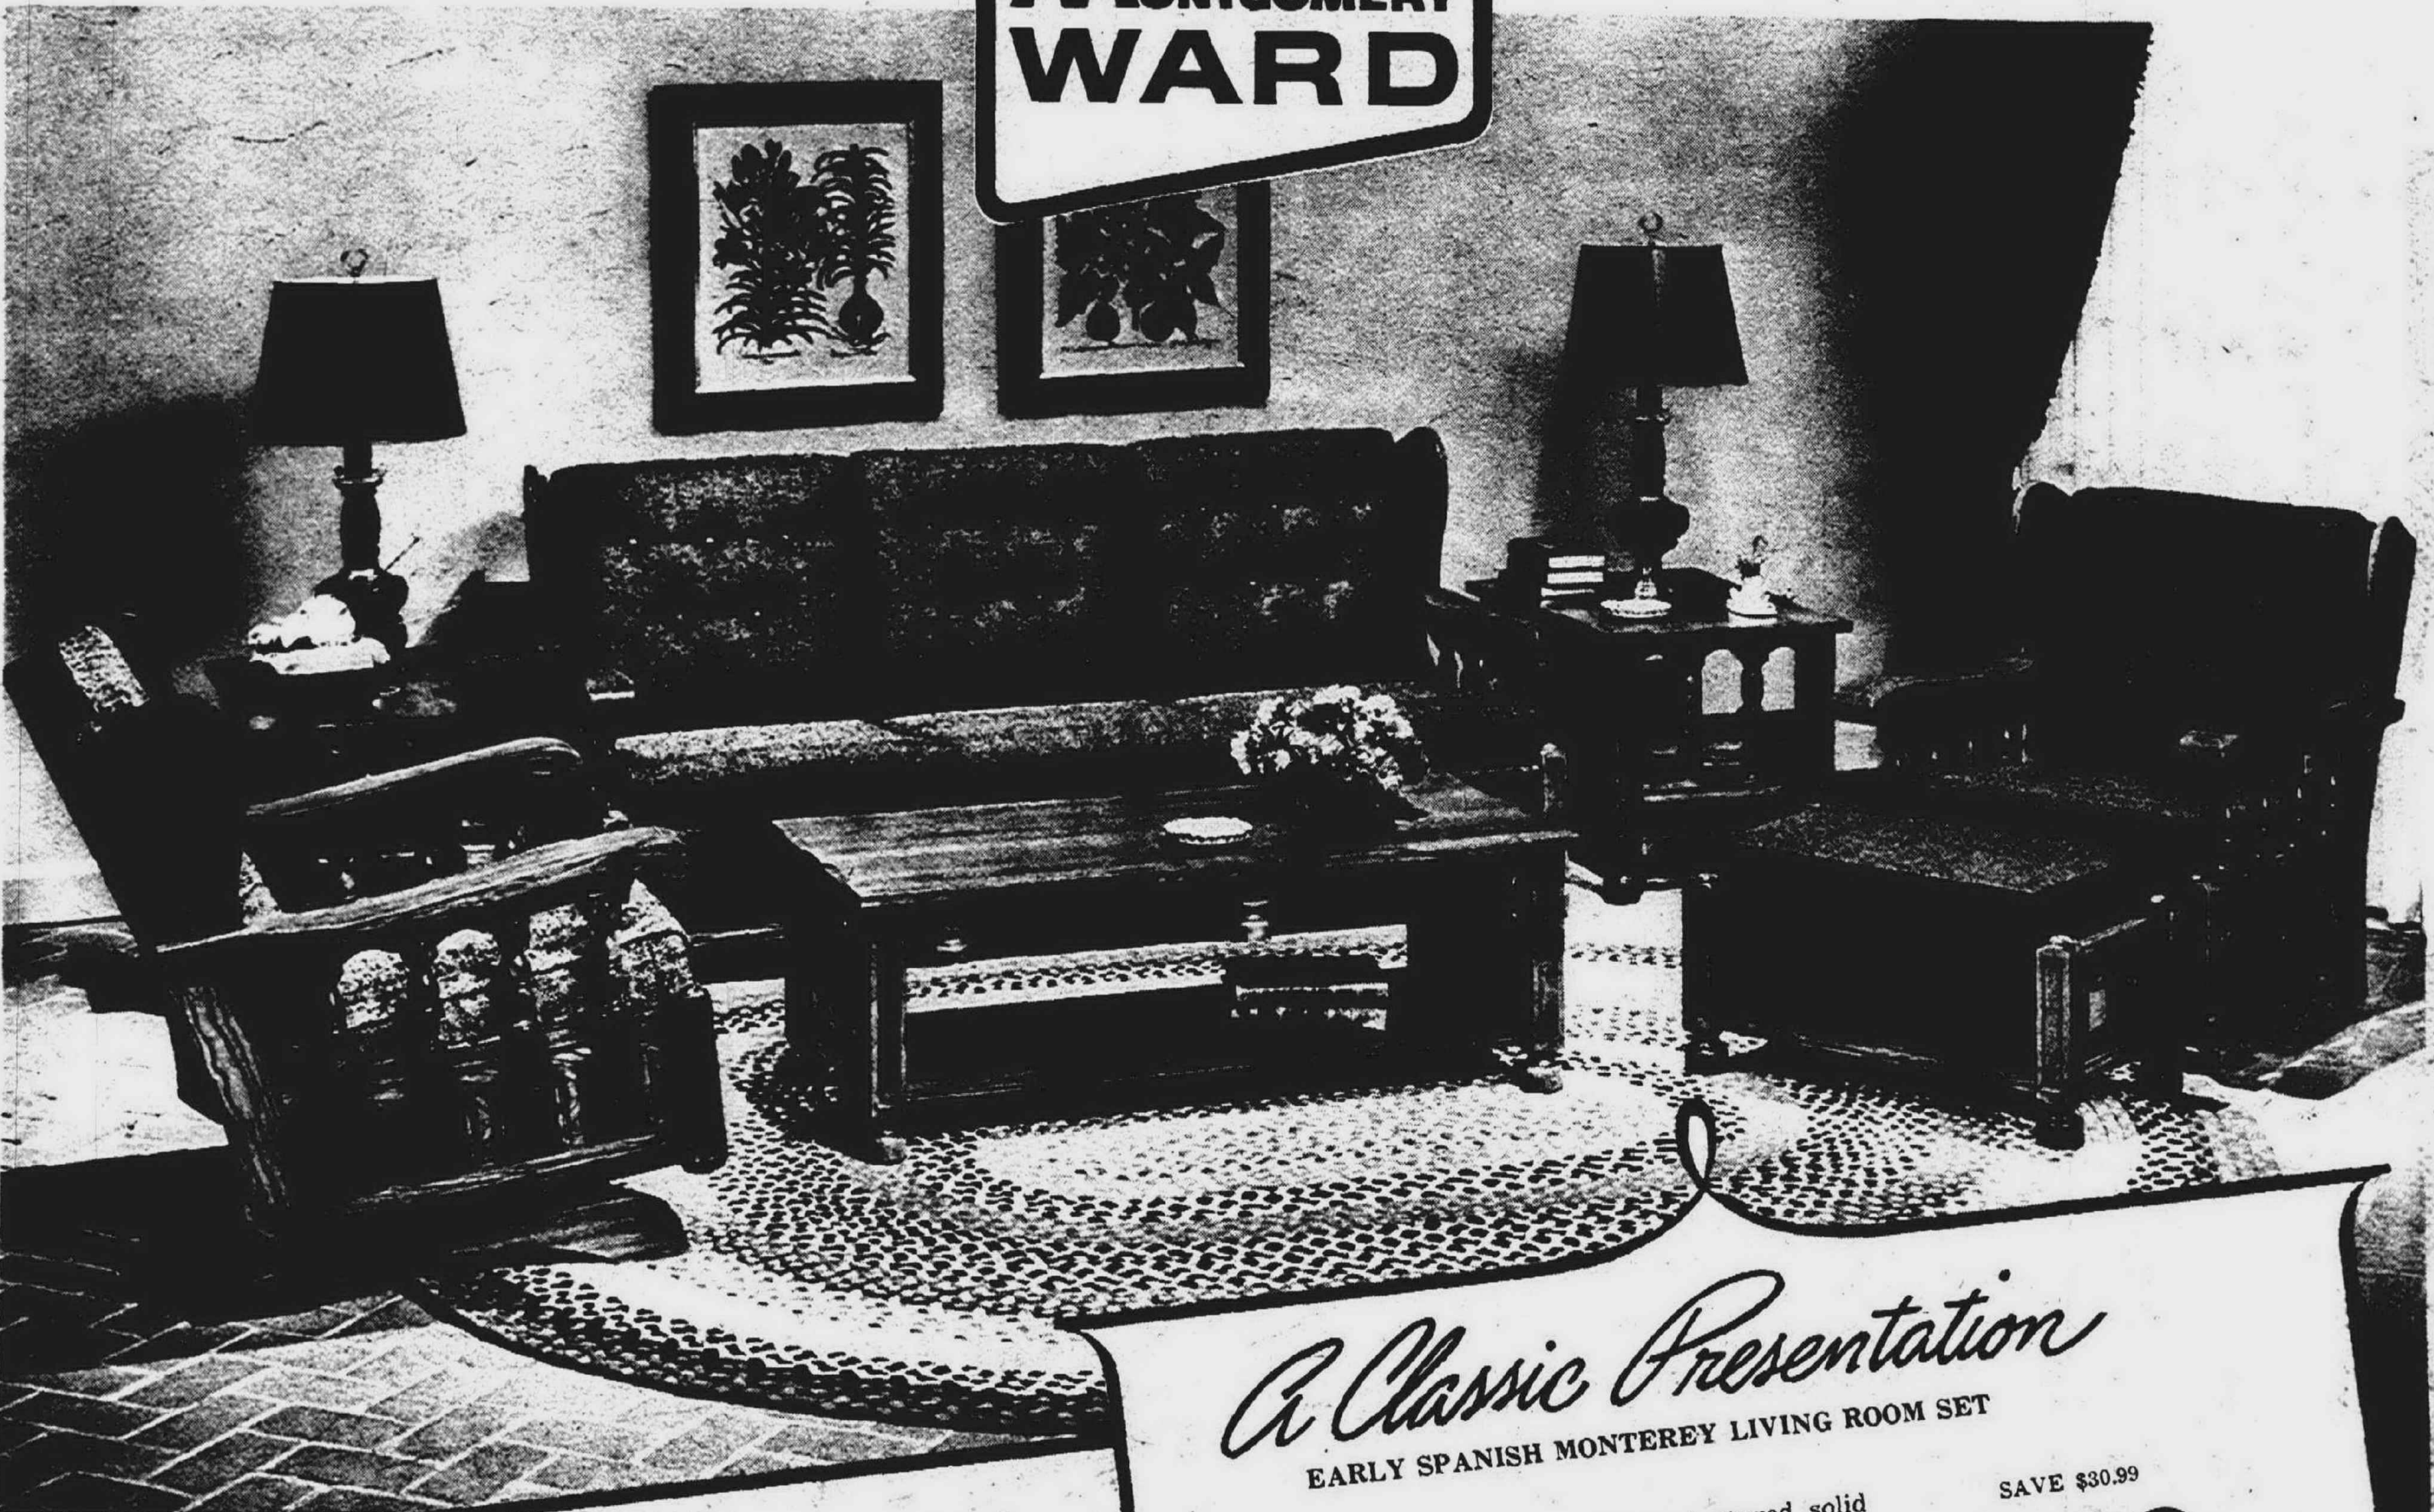

They are "Romney Boosters" and a closely knit family, and fully confident that the White House is in the family's future.

Chamber Gets New Sales Tool

Interest in the Livonia Chamber of Commerce's new Civic Brochure is at a promising high, according to Elvin Dougherty, chamber president.

The brochure, endorsed by the chamber board of directors at its last meeting, will be produced by Windsor Publications in the spring. Included will be details of the community's history, government, schools, shopping facilities, industries, residential areas, parks, churches and recreation areas.

More than 300 photographs have been taken for possible inclusion.

Phillip Tanguay, chamber member, says the brochure will be "an effective sales tool that we can use to help attract more industry and more residents to Livonia."

Michigan Law New Journal Students Set

ANN ARBOR--The Michigan Journal of Legal Reform, a new publication of the University of Michigan Law School, has scheduled its first publication for January 1968.

Edited by 12 senior law students selected by the faculty, the quarterly journal will consist of articles which, according to editorial board member Michael Cotter, "have some type of social impact and immediate practical use for members of the legal profession."

Cotter, a senior from Milwaukee, noted that the subjects currently being studied range from amendments to a bankruptcy act to rights of student agencies to federal rent supplements and subsidies.

"Although we will publish articles by the faculty, practicing lawyers, and judges," Cotter said, "we want the emphasis of the journal to be on student work. Most of the writing will be by the editorial board, but we will accept work by any student in the Law School, if it is publishable and pertains to legal reform."

Thurston Aids With Band Week

Thurston High School is beating the drums for its band this week.

A five-day fun program which began Monday is aimed at raising money for the high school musicians.

Monday was "Slack and Sweatshirt" Day, with prizes for the best costume. Tuesday, band members sold home-baked goodies in the school cafeteria.

The week will continue with a band program of old favorites this evening, a "Band Aid" Day tomorrow (band aids will sell for 10 cents), and a sale of sports booster buttons Friday.

WHY PAY TO SUFFER?
by DON KEETH

It's costing you money... that dry, parched, stuffy feeling you get in your nose, eyes and throat during the indoor heating season.

Why are you actually paying for this discomfort? Well, it's because you are burning more fuel than you need to burn for comfort. You see, when the air is dry it draws moisture from living tissues (that's you!). This process makes you cool, so therefore it takes extra heat to make you comfortable... up to 20% more fuel than if the air were not so dry. And you pay through the nose in more ways than one.

The answer is controlled humidity during the heating season. With proper humidity, you will feel just as warm at 72° as you do at 78° or thereabouts with low humidity. Your throat, nose and eyes will feel much better, too. So will your pocketbook.

Don't forget the health aspect of proper humidity, too. Dried out membranes are a target for germs. Skin and hair are healthier, look better, when not parched. And how about furniture, musical instruments and book bindings? ... all can be damaged severely by overly dry indoor air.

April Air Humidifiers offer us relief from the cost and discomfort of low indoor humidity during the heating season. That relief is in the form of effective, yet low cost humidifiers which add moisture to the heated air as it leaves your furnace. We will be happy to tell you, and show you, more. Just call us at

'No Work, No Welfare' Bill Backed

Michigan officials are backing a federal bill that would hopefully get the so-called "hard-core unemployed" off the state's welfare rolls and into job programs.

Congress is considering a $250 million national program to skim the hard-core cases from the welfare rolls. Differences between House and Senate versions are being ironed out in a conference committee.

The State Civil Service Department is surveying to determine how many welfare recipients would be employable by state agencies.

UNDER THE PLAN Michigan officials are backing, the Social Services Department would turn over public assistance funds to the labor department, which would enter into contracts with other agencies for public projects.

The other agencies--cities, counties, state--would supplement these funds to bring these persons a decent wage.

In this way, the persons now drawing public assistance would also be paying taxes and contributing to Social Security toward their retirement years.

Should a person refuse employment he would be cut from welfare rolls with protective payments being made for food, shelter and other needs of the dependent children.

A THREE-PHASE program would be offered:

--Referral of the physically able and employable men and women on ADC rolls to the State Employment Security Commission for immediate job placement.

--Training programs for persons without proper qualifications to make them employable.

--Public works projects for those not readily employable, but who can work on a limited basis.

MICHIGAN HAS about 41,000 families on its Aid to Dependent Children rolls.

In the last fiscal year, they received about $72.7 million--$31.1 million from the state and $41.6 million from the federal government.

Just how far the welfare rolls could be trimmed is unknown at this point, according to Lynn Kellogg, deputy director of the Michigan Social Service Department.

Whether the program will be a success may depend on the attitude of the state Labor Department, Kellogg said.

"In the past there has been reluctance to place some of these people, understandably, because some are not the most employable or dependable."

Women would also be phased into the work program where their children are of school age and proper supervision of them can be found while the mothers are on the job.

"If you had a problem child,"

Kellogg explained, "we could always exempt the mother and keep her in the home."

Such a program could have incalculable side benefits to children in the homes of welfare families, giving them a new sense of pride and direction, Kellogg claimed.

"It certainly sets a better example for the kids," he said. "If you don't set some type of example, the children will follow in the footsteps of their parents."

Giant Generating Plant Planned

LUDINGTON--Plans for a vast new source of electric energy for Michigan were announced this week by Consumers Power Co.

Four miles south of Ludington, on the bluffs overlooking Lake Michigan, Consumers Power plans to build one of the largest pumped storage hydroelectric plants in the world. It will be capable of generating up to 1,872,000 kilowatts of power, more than half again the entire generating capacity of Consumers Power today.

A PUMPED storage hydroelectric plant is like a giant storage battery.

In off-peak hours, when demand for electricity is lowest, water will be pumped from Lake Michigan and stored in a 27 billion gallon reservoir atop the bluffs. Then, in times of peak demand, water will be released to generate electricity as it flows back into the lake.

The plant is scheduled for initial operation in 1973. It will involve a total investment of $186 million.

Power from the Ludington plant, as from all Consumers Power generating facilities, will be fed into the Michigan power pool, of which The Detroit Edison Company and Consumers Power are the principal members.

Detroit Edison is expected to invest half of the cost of construction, and to share proportionately in the generating capacity. However, the plant will be wholly owned and operated by Consumers Power Company.

THE UPPER reservoir, the largest ever built for pumped storage power generation, will be completely enclosed by a six-mile earthen embankment.

During pumping or generation, a maximum of 17 billion gallons of water will be transferred between Lake Michigan and the reservoir.

Teams Set For Basketball Openers

This is Getaway Week on the area's high school basketball fronts.

Garden City East, Thurston and Clarenceville "broke" the ice Tuesday night when they engaged in their openers.

Most of the other schools open on Friday, but it will be a week from Friday before Garden City West gets its first action.

The experts are saying that among the 14 schools in Observerland, three stand out — Stevenson, Bentley and Garden City East.

Stevenson has an all-veteran team under coach George Van Wagoner, a combination featuring Paul Tonnemacher, Dave Mastny, Paul Pender and Nick Exarhos.

Over at nearby Bentley, the basketball fortunes again should remain high as coach George Fefles presents a team led by 6-6 Ken Bollin, a member of last year's All-Observer All-Star team.

Jim Powers and Dan Doyle also are back at Bentley which has finished on top in the Suburban Six League in three of the past five years.

At Garden City East, all signs point to a banner season what with four starters back, plus the sixth and seventh members of the 1966-67 team.

The major headache facing coach Billy Joe Young at East is to find a replacement for Joe Huber, the top scorer last year and another All-Observer star.

Stevenson makes its debut Saturday night at Plymouth.

The Rocks under coach Dick Bearup could provide a surprise or two in the Suburban Six League.

Bentley has a date with Farmington Friday evening in the Farmington gym. Then on Saturday Farmington moves over to Southfield, while Bentley waits until Tuesday before tackling always tough Edsel Ford. Farmington has a new coach this season — Ray Boyle, who replaces the veteran Jack Quiggle.

Garden City East has a Friday game at Lowrey to round out the slate for the three powerhouse teams.

Here's the schedule:

Friday's Games
Southfield at Redford Union.
St. Agatha at St. Cecilia.
Plymouth at Walled Lake.
Bentley at Farmington.
Kettering at North Farmington.

Cinderella Hoosiers Win Rose Bowl Game Berth

The year of sports miracles! Remember the Boston Red Sox...and how the 100-1 shots won the American League pennant? Now the Sox must step over and make room for the Indiana University Hoosiers in the "surprise of surprise" departments."

There was nary a person—oh, maybe one or two in Indiana—who figured the Hoosiers had a chance to go any place in the 1967 Big Ten football chase. But when the curtain dropped on Saturday, the Hoosiers found themselves sharing the championship with Purdue and Minnesota and also honored with the right to represent the Western Conference for the first time in the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day.

In Pasadena, the Hoosiers must contend with No. 1 ranked Southern California and O.J. Simpson.

The oddsmakers already have stamped Southern Cal. as the favorites, but the role of underdog hardly can shake up the Hoosiers. They've been that all season...especially on the final Saturday of the season against cross-state rival Purdue.

Purdue, a two-touchdown choice, was shooting its first undisputed title until the Boiler-makers ran into the Hoosier buzz-saw and succumbed by a 19-14 score.

MINNESOTA ALSO won on Saturday, beating Wisconsin, 21-14, but since the Gophers have been to Pasadena twice before, the league voted to send Indiana—and no choice could have been more popular with the fans who root for the underdogs.

Indiana recovered four Purdue fumbles. Two were turned into Hoosier touchdowns, the other two stopped Purdue drives. The passing of Harry Gonso and the running of Terry Cole sparked the Hoosiers who also did a fine job of curbing Purdue ace Leroy Keyes.

Meantime, as the season ended for most college teams, the pairings were finalized for other major bowls. Here they are:

Orange—Oklahoma for Tennessee.

SUGAR—LSU vs. Wyoming. COTTON—Alabama for Texas Aggies.

LIBERTY—George vs. North Carolina State. SUN—Texas (El Paso) vs. Mississippi.

GATOR—Penn State vs. Florida State.

On the closing day of the season, Michigan State salvaged a little happiness by beating Northwestern, 41-17, but Michigan was beaten by a fast-starting Ohio State, 21-14.

The Spartans posted a 3-4 Big Ten record after reigning as champs the two previous years. Dwight Lee sparked the Spartans. He returned a kickoff 93 yards to put the Spartans ahead for keeps, then went 54 yards for another TD.

OHIO STATE ran up three quick touchdowns against Michigan, then held off a Wolverine rally in which Ron Johnson ran to a new Big Ten rushing record and quarterback Dennis Brown paced some more U.M. heroics. Brown hit on 17 of 24 passes, while Johnson gained 96 yards to finish with 1,005 yards.

He thus became the first Wolverine ever to make over 1,000 yards in a season and broke the Big Ten mark of 996 set by Jim Grabowski of Illinois in 1965.

In other football action Saturday, Tennessee won its eighth straight by downing Kentucky, 17-7, to remain No. 2 in the nation behind Southern California, which already had finished the season.

Syracuse surprised UCLA and Gary Beban, 32-14, to finish 8-2. It was also an 8-2 season for Notre Dame, which wound up by downing Miami, 24-22.

Yale, the Ivy League champ, edged Harvard, 24-20, while Dartmouth pinned Princeton, 17-14; Illinois bested Iowa, 21-19, and Washington State surprised Washington 9-7.

The big game this Saturday is Army vs. Navy.

Packers, Colts Just Keep Rolling Along In NFL

It was no surprise--the Green Bay Packers becoming the first National Football League to win an undisputed divisional championship.

The Packers annexed the Central Division crown last Sunday with a 17-13 victory over the stubborn Chicago Bears and all that will interest them during the next few weeks is whether they'll meet Baltimore or Los Angeles in the first round of the playoffs.

Baltimore remains on top of the Coastal Division, a half game ahead of Los Angeles, after the Colts rallied to trounce San Francisco, to remain the only unbeaten team in professional football. Los Angeles was idle Sunday after routing Detroit, 31-7, on Thanksgiving Day.

Meantime, Dallas "backed" into a share of the Capital Division title when Washington was routed by Cleveland, 42-37, while Philadelphia was scalped by New York, 44-7. Cleveland and New York by winning set up a showdown next Sunday for the lead in the Century Division.

THE PACKERS, heavily favorite to repeat as NFL champs, scored touchdowns on a one-yard dash by Donnie Anderson, after Travis Williams returned a kick 68 yards, and Bart Starr passed five yards to Boyd Dowler following the recovering of a Bear fumble on the Chicago 19.

Another fumble, this one by Gale Sayers on the Packers 37 when he lost a fumble, paved the way for Don Chandler's field goal from the 38 to wrap up the verdict.

Sayers raced 44 yards for the Bears' only TD and Mac Percival booted two field goals. The Colts exploded for 23 points in the second half to humble the 49ers. Tommy Davis booted two field goals to send the 49ers off to an early 6-0 lead but Lou Michaels got the Colts even with a pair of kicks. Lenny Lyles then intercepted a pass and turned it into a Baltimore touchdown. Then Johnny Unitas flipped a TD pass to Tony Lorick and Michaels kicked two more field goals to run Baltimore's win streak to nine.

A 104-yard kickoff return by Carl Ward featured Cleveland's victory over Washington. Sonny Jurgensen completed 32 out of 50 passes for 400 yards and three touchdowns.

FRANK TARKINGTON heaved two touchdown passes while John Morris scored two more as the Giants feasted against the Eagles.

Three touchdown passes by Joe Kapp enabled Minnesota to best Pittsburgh, 41-27, and tie the Detroit Lions for thirdplace in the Central Division. Pittsburgh will be the Lions' foe at Tiger Stadium next Sunday.

New Orleans rallied from a 21-3 halftime deficit to nip Atlanta, 27-24, on Bill Kilmer's scoring pass with seven seconds left in the game.

In the American League beat Buffalo, 17-14, while Houston trounced Boston, 27-6, with touchdown pass from Bob Griese to Howard Twilley to featuring the scoring.

SEATTLE — Yes, this is the wonderful northwest of the United States.

First time here with stops to come in San Francisco and Los Angeles before we see the home front again.

You note that we now are a nation of 200,000,000 and how the authorities point out that we are concentrated too much in the cities and the suburbs and pretty soon, the way things are going, there may not be enough air in these heavy population areas to go around.

So, as Horace Greeley once said: "Go West, young man. Go West."

And, as you do on Northwest Airlines Flight No. 17 out of Chicago, you glance from your window at great open spaces in our country.

For mile after mile across states like South Dakota or Montana and even Washington, you see flat land with hardly any habitation. Occasionally a small town, but that's about it.

THE HIGHWAYS BELOW — and they cut in and out of mountains — hardly reveal a car. There's nothing like a Lodge or Ford Freeway jam when somebody goes smacking into somebody else's rear end.

Or even when there is no accident. Frankly speaking, the routing followed by the Northwest plane doesn't offer much excitement in the way of scenery.

Except for the ride over the mountains, which surprisingly are short on snow for this time of the year, there's not much to behold.

The biggest city you spot is Spokane, then Mt. Hood and Mt. Rainier, a couple of spots where they have some great skiing, we're told.

The lovely little airline stewardess, who happens to come from nearby Tacoma, tells us that the folks out here are very sports participation conscious.

"There's so much to do . . . the year around," she says.

"Why, within a few minutes we can go skiing over there, or we can try mountain climbing. There's great fishing and great hunting — and all within an hour or so of Seattle."

"Boating is a big thing out here, too. Just look around and see all the water."

SO YOU LOOK AS the pilot makes his approach to the airport.

There's Puget Sound to the left and big Lake Washington over to the right. It's Lake Washington where the famed Gold Cup race has been run several times in recent years. It's coming back to Detroit.

Seattle also is talking big time in major sports, too. They have the Supersonics in basketball, and have hopes that before long they'll get a major franchise in baseball and football. The big thing, however, is a new stadium.

But there's nothing wrong with the indoor sports coliseum in the heart of the old World Fair Grounds where 10,000 or more watch the minor league hockey team in action and the Supersonics lure more folks every evening.

The Space Needle, which marked the World's Fair, still stands. So do a few of the other science buildings.

And you can ride the monorail for two bits from downtown to the Fair Grounds.

Michigan's returning halfbacks played a combined total of 17 minutes last season--13 by Jerry Hartman, Ann Arbor back.

Schoolcraft Cagers Open Against Concordia Fri.

Tom Roncoli, making his debut as basketball coach at Schoolcraft College will unveil the 1967-68 team Friday, Dec. 1, when Schoolcraft meets Concordia College of Ann Arbor in the Northville Community Center at 8 p.m.

Roncoli will suit up a team composed largely of freshman which contains only three men who saw action for the Blue and Gold last year when Schoolcraft won only three games.

The two lettermen are Steve Moore, 6-4 sophomore who played his high school basketball at Farmington; and Don Cranford, 6-0, former Plymouth cager. Only other veteran on the squad is Fred Neil, ex-Clarenceville cager, who saw some action last season.

Al Jose, 6-2 sophomore, who opened last season in uniform but who fell by the wayside at the semester change because of scholastic difficulties, has conquered the eligibility problem and is back.

Brightest among a group of promising freshmen are Mike Kenyon, 6-3 forward from Detroit St. Gregory; Mike McCauley, 6-0 guard from Bentley; Karl Gulbransen, 6-0, who played for Franklin last year; and Nate Luibrand, 5-9 guard from Plymouth.

These four, along with Moore, have the inside track for starting slots against Concordia. Behind them are Neil and Jose, Bill Evans, 6-2 former Plymouth cager who was cut last season; Ron Lowe, 5-10, who was Luibrand's running mate at Plymouth; Dan Parker, 6-2 ex-Thurston High cager; and Duane Storm, 5-9, who played his high school basketball at Bentley.

Two other sophomores may join the ranks in January at the semester break. They are John Folmet, 6-0, a letterman last year who is having eligibility difficulties at the moment; and Dan Freels, 5-10, former Clarenceville cager.

Cranford, one of the Blue and Gold mainstays last year, may wear Schoolcraft livery for only five games. He is expected to transfer to Eastern Michigan University in January.

The Blue and Gold moves into conference play quickly, following Friday's game with Concordia with a meeting at Auburn Hills (Oakland Community College) on Saturday, Dec. 2.

Carleton Names Farmington Boy '68 Captain

Bill Maury, a resident of North Farmington, was named one of three varsity football captains for the 1968 season at Carleton College. Maury, who received the honor at the College's fall sports banquet, also earned his second varsity letter.

A 210-pound defensive tackle, he was a defensive standout all year. Bill, a junior majoring in government and international relations, has also competed on the wrestling team at Carleton.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Maury in North Farmington.

REV. CLARENCE W. BEIREIS

U-U's To Celebrate 400th Year

Dr. Dana McLean Greeley, president of the Unitarian Universalist Association, will deliver an address at the 400th anniversary celebration of Unitarianism at 8:30 p.m., tomorrow (Thursday) in the Community Arts Auditorium, Wayne State University.

Dr. Greeley will speak on "Unitarianism--Then and Now."

The celebration, sponsored by Detroit area Unitarian Universalists, will also feature a major address by Dr. Harvey Cox of the Harvard Divinity School. The event commemorates the founding of Unitarianism in the middle of the 16th Century.

Dr. Greeley was elected as the first president of the Unitarian Universalist Association in 1961 at the time the American Unitarian Association formally merged with the Universalist Church of America. He is a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Divinity School and holds several honorary degrees.

Widely known for his civil rights and peace activities, Dr. Greeley was one of a group of religious leaders who traveled to Vietnam in 1965, seeking to reduce tensions in that country.

He was also the principal organizer of the first National Inter-religious Conference on Peace in Washington, D.C., in March, 1966, and was delegated observer at two of the sessions of the Second Vatican Council.

He is a past president of the Unitarian Service Committee, the Massachusetts Council of Churches, the Harvard Divinity School Alumni Association, and the Benevolent Fraternity of Unitarian Churches.

Information for the 400th anniversary celebration is available from the First Unitarian Universalist Church, 4605 Cass Avenue, Detroit.

MAN AT EXPO

An artistic highlight of EXPO 67, the 1967 World Exhibition in Montreal, is a dramatic nickel stainless steel sculpture by Alexander Calder. Standing 67 feet high, 94 feet long, and weighing 46 tons, the stabile is called "Man".

CHRISTMAS BOUNTY--Unusual and beautiful Christmas decorations as well as scores of other bazaar items will be featured at the annual sale at St. David's Episcopal Church, Garden City, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. Looking over some of the wares are, from left, Diane Tracey, Edna Holbrook and Mariane Sobodash. Silhouettes, a record shop for teens, a children only shop and a junque shop also will be included. The church is located at 27500 Marquette, and the hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Archbishop John F. Dearden To Dedicate Church

Archbishop John F. Dearden will be in Livonia Tuesday, Dec. 12, to dedicate the new church building for St. Genevieve Catholic Parish.

Dedication ceremonies will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the parish, on Jamison east of Middle Belt.

The archbishop will join the pastor, Rev. Ferdinand Wolber, and his assistant, Rev. Robert T. Kerr, along with a deacon, Rev. John J. Shiverski, for a con-celebrated mass.

Speaker at the mass will be Rev. Walter Ziemba, a professor at the Orchard Lake seminary.

St. Genevieve, largest Catholic church building in Livonia, will seat 1,300. The 8 1/2-year-old parish has conducted services in a temporary building that will be converted to classroom use.

The new church building, constructed at a cost of about $660,000, will have the finishing touches put on in the next couple of weeks.

The parish was named after a fourth century shepherdess who was patroness of Paris and known for her help to the poor.

St. Valentine Sets Christmas Fair

St. Valentine Altar Society will sponsor a Christmas Fair from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3. Mrs. Betty Patrick, Altar Society president, and Mrs. Jo Evangelista, fair chairman, said the event would feature handmade Christmas gifts and novelties, bake sale and games.

Santa will be there for the young set, and hot dogs and pizza will be available. The parish hall located on Beech Daly, four blocks south of Five Mile.

Heads For Fund Drive Named

Alfred L. Deutsch and Maxwell Jospoy will lead the 1968 Allied Jewish Campaign, in the Detroit area. Hyman Safran, president of the Jewish Welfare Federation, has announced.

Deutsch, who was the 1967 chairman, will be serving his second year. Jospoy, who was a pre-campaign chairman last year, will serve as co-chairman.

The Allied Jewish Campaign will conduct its regular drive for funds for the support of local, national and overseas agencies. In addition it will also raise money for the Israel Emergency Fund of the United Jewish Appeal for crucial human needs rising out of the war conditions of last summer. Under Deutsch's leadership, last year's campaign raised $5,750,000, the second largest total in its 41 year history. The Israel Emergency Fund, of which Paul Zuckerman was Chairman, begun only a few days before the firing of the first shot in the Middle East last June 6, received over $6,300,000 in contributions for immediate aid to Israel.

Deutsch is president of American Savings and Loan Association and lives in Bloomfield Hills. He is on the Board of Directors of the Jewish Welfare Federation and is a member of its Committee on Capital Needs. He is also a director of the Fresh Air Society, the United Hebrew Schools and United Jewish Charities. He is on the board of overseers of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America and is past president of Congregation B'nai Moshe.

Jospoy, a resident of Franklin, is a member of the board of the Jewish Welfare Federation, and serves on the board of Sinai Hospital and is a member of the hospital's executive and finance committees and is chairman of the research committee. He is president of Production Steel Strip Corp.

The annual sale of dairy products accounts for 17 per cent of the total value of the U.S. food industry, according to Michigan State University dairy scientists. Another five per cent is added from the sale of dairy animals for meat.

Reception Set For Pastor

The congregation of Christ Church, Redford Township, will honor its pastor, the Rev. Clarence W. Beireis, in an open house from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday, Dec. 1, in the Parish House.

The Rev. Beireis and Mrs. Beireis, who have served the church from its inception in the Thurston High School Auditorium in April of 1958, plan to continue their ministry in the Ohio District of the American Lutheran Church, making their new home in Hamilton.

Pastor Beireis began his ministry in the Ohio District, later serving Christ Lutheran Church, Detroit, until the founding of Christ Church, Redford, which now occupies the first two units of its plant at 14350 Worman at Acacia, two blocks northwest of Telegraph and Schoolcraft.

He has been elected treasurer of the Michigan District of the ALC for the past twelve years, as well as holding membership in the Redford and Detroit Ministerial Associations and the Redford Lions Club.

St. Martin Sets Bazaar Dec. 2

St. Martin's Episcopal Church, located at 24699 Grand River, Redford Township, will present its holiday bazaar from noon to 8 p.m. Handmade gifts, a rummage sale, baked goods and a snack bar will be featured, and Santa will appear to greet the children.

Witnesses To Meet In G. City

The West Senior High School at 1851 Radcliff will be used for the occasion, and more than 100 local residents will be among the 1,700 delegates expected to attend the sessions.

Garden City has been selected by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York as the site for Jehovah's Witnesses' next three-day assembly, to be held Jan. 12 to 14.

Alcide J. Perron, presiding minister of the local congregation said the three-day program will consist of a variety of talks on Bible subjects, with discussions and demonstrations arranged to aid all in attendance to apply Bible principles more fully to their every day living.

All sessions are free and open to the public.

Don't hunt alone. In Westerns, the lone is a hero. In hunting, the Michigan Hunt Association arms, it could lead to a cold fearless Boot-hill in a hurry.

ST. FABIAN'S VISITOR--The Rev. Kenneth Untener, assistant chancellor of the Archdiocese of Detroit, will be celebrant for a special mass with contemporary music at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3, in St. Fabian Church in Farmington. A social hour will follow. Father Untener spoke recently and led singing for the church's Women's Council.

Dr. Lenox To Head Ann Arbor Council

Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, who will close his work as executive director of the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches Dec. 31, has announced he will become executive director of the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches.

Dr. Lenox, 65, commented that he had always planned "to accept another fulltime job with a real challenge."

"I am delighted for this privilege to head the ecumenical enterprise in our neighbor city of Ann Arbor and the surrounding community," he added.

"Through the years I have been greatly impressed with the caliber of the clergy and lay leaders in the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw area."

THE ANN ARBOR-Washtenaw Council carries on the comprehensive program of any city Council but in addition has taken into its structure an organization known as "Ann Arbor Independent Housing, Inc." This is a project to provide improved housing for the residents of the community, particularly those in the lower income bracket.

During Dr. Lenox's service in Detroit, about 10 important new areas of work have been introduced, the staff has grown from about a dozen members to the present 43.

The budget has increased from $60,000 in 1947 to more than $375,000 in 1967. A building has been acquired for the Council and, since it is now outgrown, plans are already under way for a much more capacious and suitable edifice.

UNDER HIS leadership, the Council has published a monthly tabloid - "The Church Newsletter" - and was the first community to participate with the Roman Catholic Church in "Project Equality" which has gained national significance.

He has conducted a radio news commentary over Station WJR entitled "Religion in Action" and served for 18 years as Michigan correspondent for the Christian Century.

Dr. Lenox was appointed to a number of commissions and boards by the Governors of the State of Michigan and the Mayors of the City of Detroit. He now serves as a member of Governor Romney's Panel on Ethical and Moral Issues and on his Fair Campaign Practices Commission.

HE SERVES on Mayor Cavanagh's Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Corporation and in other capacities. He has been a member of the Board of the National Council of Churches almost since its inception; was a member of its Central Committee on Policy and Strategy for several years and serves also on the Program Board for the Division of Christian Unity and as a member of the Department of Councils of Churches for the National Council.

He is a past president of the National Association of Council Secretaries which is a professional organization, including the employed staff of the World, National, state and local Councils of Churches in Amsterdam, Evanston and New Delhi, and plans to attend the Fourth Assembly in Uppsala, Sweden, next summer.

Handicapped Children Get SS Class

A class for handicapped children has been added to the Sunday School program of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Farmington.

Organization of the class, with Mrs. Nadine Serra as teacher, was announced recently.

Mrs. Serra, who is secretary of the project, has been teaching a Saturday session for handicapped children in the Redford Lutheran Church for about a year.

Parents interested in enrolling a child in either the Saturday or Sunday classes are invited to call Mrs. Serra at 476-6368.

It meets for an hour each Sunday at 9:40 a.m. in the church, located at the corner of Middlebelt and Eight Mile Roads.

All children mentally or physically handicapped are welcome to the class, regardless of religious affiliation.

The special instruction is part of a Lutheran church project for the entire area known as "Christian Education for the Handicapped."

LJC Services Saturday

Saturday morning services will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 2, and will be held on the first Saturday of each month.

They will be conducted by Rabbi Martin D. Gordon, whose topic for the Sabbath service at 8:30 p.m. Friday is "Meaning of Jewish Prayer."

On Sunday, Dec. 3, sixth grade children from the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Farmington will visit the Livonia Jewish Congregation sanctuary and meet with Rabbi Gordon, L.J.C. President Marcus Bass and Max Hoffman, principal of the Sunday school.

Create Room By Upgrading Basement

NEW HUDSON
FENCE CO., INC.

COMMERCIAL RESIDENTIAL
437-2074

If you're concerned about the lack of living space in your house, cast your eyes down to the basement and you may find just what you're looking for. Many homeowners overlook the possibilities that a basement has in terms of living space. They see it only as a maze of water pipes, belter-skelter storage and cement blocks. But, with a little time and effort and the right materials, even a do-it-yourselfer can upgrade the basement into an attractive recreation area or family room.

WHAT MAKES the difference between dreary basement and cheery recreation room are new walls, ceiling, floor, adequate lighting, comfortable furniture, curtains and imaginative decor.

For example, you can give your basement a warm, livable look with hardboard paneling that covers up cold-looking masonry walls.

There's a wide choice of attractive prefabricated hardboard paneling in wood-grains ranging from light oak to dark teak, textures such as burlap and cane, decorator colors and patterns.

The prefabricated styles require no painting or staining. In high-humidity areas of the basement — such as a laundry room — plastic-surfaced hardboard is exceptionally practical.

IF YOU HAVE a moisture problem in the basement, water-proof the masonry walls first. Then install hardboard paneling over furring strips with nails or adhesive.

The panels are available in standard 4-by-8-foot sheets grooved for a plank effect, and with a surface that resists dents and won't crack.

Sneezes Are Costly

Those pesky sneezes are costing Americans $100 million a year. That's the price, studies show, that Americans pay their doctors annually for hay fever injection therapy.

Hay fever, reports the Health Insurance Institute, is among the allergies which cost the nation's economy an estimated $200 million a year through time lost from work alone.

Archery Deer Season Covers A Big Area

Southern Michigan's newly-extended archery deer season takes in a bigger area than many hunters think.

Specifically, the northern boundary for the southern zone and its extended archery deer season is as follows:

From Lake Michigan along M-213 to M-20 in North Muskegon, then along M-20 to US-10, then along US-10 to Garfield Road in Bay County, then north on Garfield Road to Pinconning

Road, then east on Pinconning Road to Seven Mile Road, then north on Seven Mile Road to Lincoln School Road (County Road 25) in Arenac County, then north on Lincoln School Road to M-61, then east on M-61 to US-23, then east along US-23 to center line of AuGres River, then southerly along center line of AuGres River to Saginaw Bay, then north 78 degrees east to International Boundary Line.

CUB SCOUT TROOP 743—proudly received its charter and became the newest troop in Plymouth, last Monday evening. In addition to the charter the troop was presented with 12

Rep. Esch To Confer With Vietnam Group

U.S. Representative Marvin L. Esch (Ann Arbor) is among a bipartisan group of 15 Congressmen who will confer informally with a similar number of newly elected South Vietnamese legislators here in Washington early next year.

Esch first privately proposed the idea to the State Department some months ago as a means of encouraging a broader leadership base for the South Vietnamese government. "If we are to have an effective, viable South Vietnamese government, rather than relying on an elite few, we must take steps to encourage effective leadership among all elected officials," he said.

"The series of meetings will serve to dramatize our interest in the beginnings of constitutional government in South Vietnam," Esch said. "We are confident that our South Vietnamese guests will be broadly representative of the various political, ethnic and religious groups that comprise the new National Assembly."

A 60 member upper house was elected on September 2, and 137 deputies of the lower house were elected October 22. The two chambers have convened and are now organizing themselves under the constitution promulgated earlier this year.

The State Department has approved the proposed visit, and will convey the Congressmen's invitation to the presiding officers of the National Assembly.

Besides Esch other participating Congressmen are: Benjamin Rosenthal (D-New York), Don Fraser (D-Minnesota), Charles A. Mosher (R-Ohio), James Harvey (R-Michigan), Robert Taft, Jr. (R-Ohio), Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. (R-Maryland), John Brademas (D-Indiana), Jonathan B. Bingham (D-New York), Don Edwards (D-California), Brad Morse (R-Massachusetts), Sidney R. Yates (D-Illinois), Ogden Reid (R-New York), John R. Delenback (R-Oregon), and Henry S. Reuss (D-Wisconsin).

ALSO NAMED were Gordon Snyder, biology instructor, vice-president; Mrs. Carolyn Dodge, English instructor, secretary; and Leo Bigos, drafting instructor, treasurer. Bryce Lockwood, physics instructor, was named to the executive board.

The nominating committee was composed of Angelo Chinni, John Bedford, Bigos, Mrs. Dodge, and Mrs. Cecelia Kelly.

Earlier, members of the Forum had elected a five-member negotiating team comprised of Albert Agosti, Fernon Feenstra, John Kyriacopoulos, Anthony Rizzo, and John Witten.

CLEAN UP DECK

Fixing up the house for winter? Don't forget the wood deck. Debris should be removed from spacings between deck boards to let rain water drain through. It's easily done by running a stiff piece of cardboard or a putty knife between boards.

WSU To Offer Courses Locally

Wayne State University's enrollment of 32,370 students registered in credit programs for the Fall quarter, 1967 shows a substantial gain over last year's Fall quarter enrollment of 30,832.

This new total sets an all-time record number of students seeking higher education at the urban University.

A breakdown of the record figure shows that 19,244 students are full time and 13,126 are part time. Men number 18,572, women, 13,798.

THE RECORD total exceeds predictions that were previously recorded with the State of Michigan, said Dr. Robert J. Hubbard, 14320 Hubbard Road, Livonia, executive director of the Division of Educational Services.

"Although there was some fear that enrollment would be down due to the Detroit riot in July," said Dr. Hubbard, "enrollment has actually exceeded the anticipated figure of 32,000 reported to the State a year ago."

Dr. Hubbard explained that the University continues to record a greater increase in graduate enrollment. Graduate enrollment was up 10 per cent while undergraduate enrollment increased 3.5 per cent.

TALUS: Livonians Want To Spread Out In Wide Open Spaces

Livonians want to spread out on large lots and enjoy their neighborhoods and are undecided whether regional government is the answer to problems of population growth.

More than half of the families with children under 16 do not use public recreational facilities.

Most people are satisfied living this distance from Detroit but 28 per cent would like to move farther away from the core city and only 8 per cent would like to be closer.

THESE WERE THE broad brush-stroke findings of the Transportation and Land Use Survey (TALUS) report on living patterns and attitudes in the Detroit region.

It is one of several reports to be issued by TALUS Director Irving J. Rubin and his staff. The primary purpose of the study is to determine what people want in the way of mass transportation.

Rubin has explained the report to city officials in one session and to the public in a second meeting in Livonia.

The report said that 85 per cent of those living in apartments would prefer a single-family dwelling, a decision influenced "by higher incomes which seem likely to make it possible for young families to become homeowners earlier in their history."

PEOPLE PREFER larger lots for their homes (35 per cent) and those who prefer smaller spaces cite maintenance work as the major factor.

"However, 75 per cent of the families say they enjoy the outside work," the report said.

"Fifty-four per cent of the adult population said they personally would enjoy doing more of it (yard work)."

Those who want more space mention gardens and flowers, space for children or pets. Privacy is a major complaint among those who feel their lots are too small.

PEOPLE MOVING into a new neighborhood look for the appearance of the neighborhood (25 per cent), good schools nearby (21 per cent), a location convenient to stores (20 per cent), churches nearby (20 per cent), location close to work (19 per cent).

About half the residents like their neighborhood "very much" while 42 per cent like it moderately well. The report said only 8 per cent do not like their neighborhood in the suburbs.

"People also like neighborhoods better which are quiet, in which families are not too close together, but in which the people are friendly," the report said.

"The physical characteristics of the neighborhood which people like are structures spaced well apart, single family homes rather than other types of residence, foundation planting and curved streets."

The favorite cities of suburbs (aside from Detroit) are New York (8 per cent), Chicago (8 per cent), San Francisco (5 per cent), and Los Angeles (4 per cent).

"THE MOST FREQUENT specific comment mentioned by 15 per cent, is that the favorite city is clean," the report said.

Detroit's Cobo Hall ranks second to Greenfield Village as the most interesting sight to see in the area in the view of suburbanites.

Low income people, it said, tend to visit downtown Detroit every week or never go there. Upper income people visit the city less frequently and then for plays, movies, concerts or to visit restaurants.

Rubbish and trash collection and street improvements are most important governmental services in the region, the report said. Those praising parks and playgrounds most highly are those living near the sites.

"Paradoxically, public satisfaction with some services is negatively related to expenditure," it said. "People tend to be dissatisfied with police, major streets and garbage and rubbish collection in areas where outlay per capita for these services is high."

"THE EXPLANATION seems to be that needs for these services in these areas are very high."

The report said women dislike freeways more than men and cite the dislocation of homes for right-of-way purposes as a major reason.

"Most people's initial response to the idea of a completely new public transportation system for the area is favorable," it said.

This is in response to recent proposals for a high-speed monorail.

"Some would hesitate to spend tax money to pay for it but a plurality tend to favor the general idea," it said.

Half of the population have no pro-or-con views about regional government but of those who do, the vote is 4 to 3 in favor of some form of metropolitan system.

Rubin's organization said local officials must make policy decisions for their own jurisdictions, that the broad findings will be used later only for decisions on transportation.

Chamber Core Group Commended

The Livonia Chamber of Commerce Capital Improvements Committee this week offered kudos to its core group "which provided leadership in the chamber's campaign for the recent ballot bonding proposals."

Dr. Robert J. Hornbeck is committee chairman.

The group included Harry Wrightman, Robert Hogan, Ron Upton, Paul Lutzeier, Paul Hower, Hank Sladek, John Doolley, Weldon Clark, Harrison Price, James Thomas, Harger Green, Harvey Greene, Al Dougherty, Mary Scafuri, Phil Tanguay and Dr. Donald Friedrichs.

Livonians voted for 76 per cent of the total capital-improvements package on the ballot.

"Such acceptance is a result of understanding of the issue fostered by the chamber's educational campaign," Dr. Hornbeck stated in his commendation.

Livonian Aiding Yule Project At U-D

Robert K. Seymour, son of the Kenneth J. Seymours of Livonia, is a key organizer in this month in the University of Detroit's fifth annual St. Joseph's Christmas Project.

The project, aimed at assisting Detroit's needy families by providing food, clothing and extras for the holidays, is sponsored by the university's School of Architecture, in which Robert is a sophomore.

The Seymours reside at 9210 Lathers, Livonia. Robert, besides being vice president of the Christmas project, is a member of the Army ROTC and recently won a drafting award.

CASTOR OIL.
IT'S A PLANT!

Here's an unusual plant—the castor oil plant. Yes, that is where castor oil comes from—the seeds of this plant.

It grows in India, Italy, Africa, and the United States. And, believe it or not, this plant is sometimes grown for beauty in yards and gardens.

Besides being the bad tasting medicine of our childhood, it is used greatly in industry to make plastics, dyes, art paints, cosmetics, soaps, linoleum and fungicides.

The greatest use we know for a flower is to send a special message to someone—to say: "I love you," or "We are thinking about you..." Our flowers say it best.

DON'T GET CAUGHT!
GET THE SNOW TIRE APPROVED FOR HIGHWAY POLICE CARS.
GET WINTER PATROLS

Protect yourself. Think about snow tires before it snows. You know how little traction your regular tires give you on icy roads and hard packed snow. Even regular snow tires provide only 25% more traction on slippery surfaces.

But more tires with spikes like Unroyal Winter Patrols give you a full 100% more traction on icy roads than the regular tires on your car. National Safety Council tests have confirmed that!

When you hit the brakes, you don't have to miss a couple of heartbeats. Winter Patrol's spikes reach out and claw the ice.

When you're getting off from a standpoint, you can practically forget about spinning your wheels without moving. And if the road is dry, those Winter Patrols with spikes have been tested to go 80 mph. No wonder they're approved for highway police!

Following Our Men In Service

Seaman Apprentice Steven A. Muehlenbein, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph K. Muehlenbein, 16400 Bell Creek Lane, Livonia, husband of the former Mary A. Karlsinski of 15740 Millman Road, Rockwood, is serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Frontier which is deployed to San Francisco.

During the deployment the ship will host 50 Navy League Sea Cadets. The Frontier is the winner of three consecutive Battle Efficiency Awards for 1965-1966-1967 and is homeported in Long Beach, Calif.

Marine Corporal Carl T. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Clark, 20500 Osmus, and husband of the former Anna S. Lykins, 20500 Osmus, all of Livonia, is serving with the Military Police Company, a unit of the First Marine Division, Da Nang, Vietnam.

His company provides beach and traffic control, prisoner of war stockade guards, local security and performs general guard duty for the division.

Pvt. Robert M. Knight, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edsel J. Knight, 8844 Cardwell, Livonia, completed a 12-week infantry radio maintenance course at the Army Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga.

He learned electrical and radio fundamentals and the operation of testing equipment. Training was also given in servicing radio transmitters and receivers used in infantry units.

Airman Joseph M. Pirch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pirch Jr., 14404 Randlewood Drive, Livonia, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Amarillo AFB, Tex., for specialized schooling as a fuel specialist. Airman Pirch, a 1965 graduate of Franklin High School, attended Schoolcraft Community College.

Airman Thomas B. Bulmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Bulmer, 19411 Osmus, Livonia, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Sheppard AFB, Tex., for specialized schooling as a construction specialist. Airman Bulmer is a 1967 graduate of Clarenceville High School.

Seaman Thomas J. Manees, USN, son of Mrs. Dorothy J. Manees, 145 Hartsough St., Plymouth, was graduated from the Commissary School at the Naval Schools Command, Newport, R.I.

The eight-week course of instruction was designed to provide basic training in the preparing and serving of food. Students at the school were taught how to plan a menu that provides a well-balanced meal. They were also introduced to the paper-work that is involved in a Navy supply department; how to order provisions and figure costs.

Pfc. Mark A. Cisak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cisak of 11446 Brookfield, Livonia, recently completed an airborne course at Fort George Meade, Maryland, and received the parachutist's badge. He has been stationed at Pleiku, Vietnam.

Seaman Apprentice John W. Ellison, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellison, Plymouth, and husband of the former Miss Barbara A. Rossi, of Allendale, has reported to the Naval Station, Norfolk, Va., for duty with the Staff, Headquarters Fifth Naval District.

Seaman Ellison, a graduate of Plymouth High, entered the Navy on August 4, 1967.

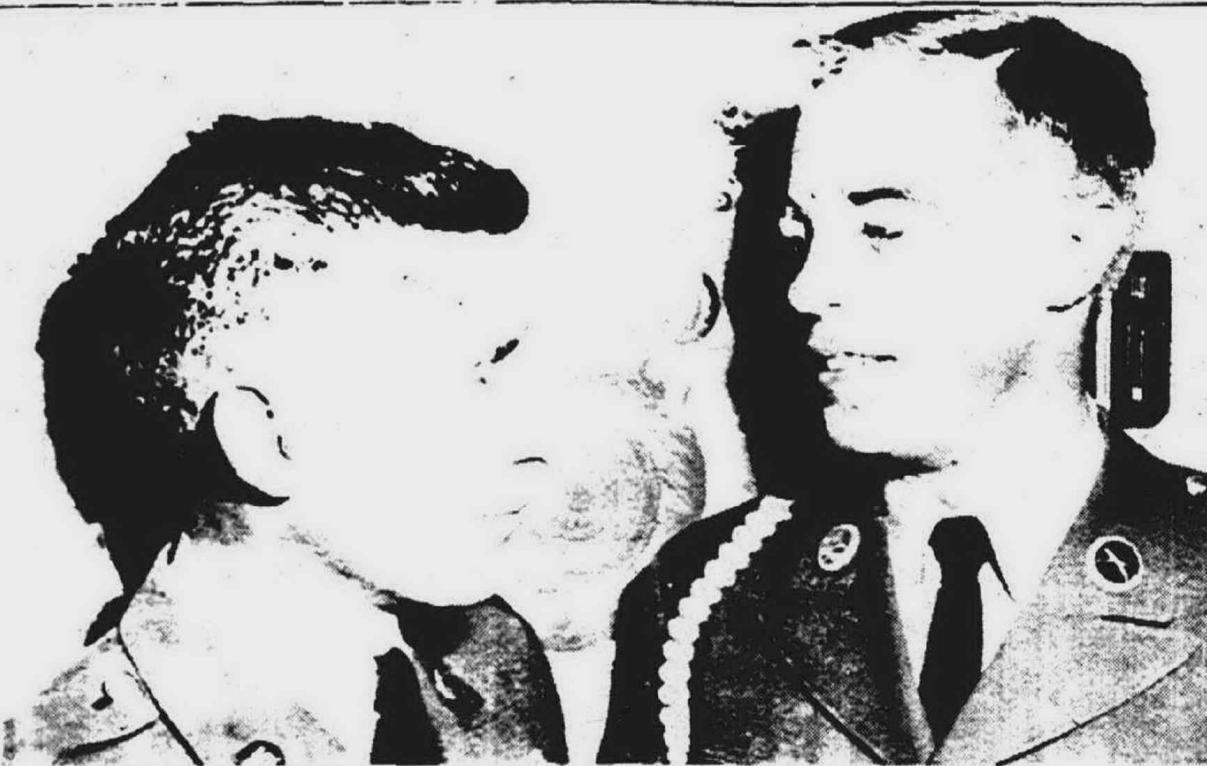

Army Pvt. Gerald J. Dempsey, son of Mrs. Lorraine A. Dempsey, 14773 Arden, Livonia, fired expert with the M-14 rifle near the completion of basic combat training at Ft. Knox, Ky. Nov. 9. The expert rating is the highest mark a soldier can achieve on his weapons qualification test.

Army Pvt. Richard J. Ott is assigned to Company B, 12 Battalion, 3 Brigade, in Ft. Knox, Ky.

Ott, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Ott, Jr., 1440 Linden, Plymouth, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

RECRUIT RECRUITS RECRUITER-----Officer Candidate John J. Komar, 23, of 29490 Robert Drive, Livonia, flew home to be married only to find that one of his army buddies couldn't get here to witness the ceremony. The army came through however, with the substitution of Sgt. Jerry Hinson, U.S. Army Recruiter, who had originally signed John up for his three year enlistment program. The wedding was held on schedule at Faith Lutheran Church, Livonia, (November 1), to Miss Diane Carter Wilson of Arizona, a graduate of the University of Detroit. John, a spring graduate of Michigan State University, is now stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, where he will receive his commission as an officer in May, 1968.

Army Pvt. James N. Holdeman, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Holdeman, 31645 Arizona, Livonia, has completed nine weeks of advanced training at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-14 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Pvt. Holdeman's wife, Roberta, lives at 9419 Newburg Road, Livonia.

Cleanup In Progress

Kent Lake, in Kensington Metropolitan Park, is getting its annual fall housecleaning. The giant artificial lake is three feet below normal as the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which operates the park, does the fall work. This includes repairing docks, cleanup and control of shoreline erosion, according to the park office. Kent Lake was formed by the damming of the Huron River just south of I-96 near the Livingston-Oakland county line. Beginning in late October, the lake level is allowed to drop gradually until it is three feet below normal, showing an additional 10 to 30 feet of beach.

Hippies, Birchites Seek Easy Answers

What do you think of the hippies?

The question was a little bit startling because it didn't seem to follow the trend of the conversation and the fact that it had been put to us with remarkable frequency.

Maybe with all this in mind it's time for a bit of thinking in print about the hippie phenomenon. By this we mean the more peaceful corner of the hippies—the flower children.

THE STOCK ANSWER is that maybe the hippies are smarter than all the rest of us combined.

Generally speaking the hippies are a reasonably fortunate lot. They manage to exist with their simple want met and they have avoided the nine to five rat race pace of the ordinary citizen.

The older generation decries them and means about "What is the younger generation coming to?"

At the opening session of the Farmington Town Hall series not too long ago the ladies asked Hildegard what she thought of the hippies.

The young entertainer, who has been around for so many years, said:

"Those poor souls. Let's hope this is just a phase—it makes us look awful in the eyes of the world."

Rubbish to that type of an answer.

WHY HAVE the hippies grown so in strength?

Maybe the answer is that the movement provides a simple answer in theory—love for all—to the very complex pressing problems of society.

The acceptance of the hippies by the young is very similar to the adult acceptance of the extremist movement of the John Birch Society.

Not every adult has rushed out to join the local chapter of the Birch Society, but the comment is often heard that the Society has some good ideas.

These comments come from the "older" generation.

The same thing happens with the youth. They don't all run away from home to become hippies, but they are certainly interested in the movement.

IT'S EXTREMELY difficult to be a kid today. Sitting in this corner at the ripe old age of 28, this writer can say she wouldn't want to be a teenager now.

The pressures are too great. Marks, college, all the talk about the changing patterns of morals and family life... they all have an effect.

"THE OLDER" generation is also reacting to the increasing pressures of society. At this level though they have different terms—job, status, paying the bills, etc.

Add to all the local type of pressures a very nagging war in a far-away corner of the world that no one seems to know how to cope with.

With all this in mind is it any wonder that organizations providing simple answers to complex problems stir a responsive chord in the hearts of the people?

We don't think so.

—Sue Shaughnessy

This Is The Week That

... By Don Hoenshell

Richard M. Nixon wears very sincere neckties, usually blue with white polka dots.

He flicks his even-set deep eyes at the oncomer and shakes hands with a soft pulling pressure. In small rooms, you could run into the wall.

Nixon talks with polish and ease and knows at least the jargon of public issues. When uncertain, he can fill a reporter's notebook with words that do not connect.

In 1960 as the GOP nominee against John F. Kennedy, he devised Maudlin Thursday, the Day the Pony Died, improved upon the family situation comedy on TV and proved that man is dog's best friend.

So figure him against Romney in New Hampshire.

ROMNEY DRESSES like every millionaire businessman would like to, shakes hands like he wants to Indian wrestle; and if you are a whimsical critic, he will grab your shoulder and debate. You pick the subject.

Romney speaks to those people in a delicious shorthand, connecting slogans and phrases from earlier speeches with dashes and commas. Hardly ever a semicolon.

And Romney is a creative campaigner. He could don an Indian headdress and still score. To anybody's knowledge, he hasn't kissed.

Sense And Nonsense

Did you buy a G.M. car for $2,166 or so last year? Congratulations. You paid the salary and bonuses of Chairman of the Board Frederic Donner — for one day.

Yet has anyone ever seen a picture of Fred Donner smiling?

ed a baby that belonged to somebody else.

Nixon has political enemies from his early campaign in California for Congress against Helen Gahagan Douglas. Even now they hate him, but can't remember why.

During his vicepresidency with Eisenhower, Nixon had just the proper piety during the heart attack and the other illness in Denver.

He lost by an eyelash to JFK, an election Republicans still contend was stolen from Nixon in Cook County by Chicago's Mayor Daley, and lost again to Democrat Pat Brown for the governorship of California.

So figure Romney and Nixon in New Hampshire.

LAST TIME OUT for Nixon there, he lost to Henry Cabot Lodge, then in the Far East as an ambassador who was a write-in candidate.

During the campaign, reporters were kept away from himself. When it started, the fellows in the Nixon press entourage were pro-Nixon. When it ended, they were pro-Kennedy.

There is the feeling that Nixon is a political chameleon who fits his mood and approach to his audience. It's not wrong, but it's off-key when everybody knows it.

Romney comes off more sincere than a necktie. He tries to convince rather than agree. The fact that he's never made peace with the English language doesn't matter much, since few people have.

The feeling here is that Romney will win over Nixon in New Hampshire, have a tougher time in Wisconsin — though provincial loyalties are thicker than blood in politics — and then dive on his chin at some point before the national convention.

If it doesn't happen that way, stop believing in neckties and go out and kick a beagle.

One of the nice things about our political folklore is that much of it is conveniently inaccurate.

For example, readers of this column will remember that some months ago we argued that the real difference between Republicans and Democrats is that the former drink imported beer by the bottle whilst the latter consumed Stroh's by the quart.

Inaccurate in detail, sure; but a convenient way of expressing a symbol of some of the deeper differences between the parties.

NOW COMES another piece of folklore which wends its way through our political discourse like (please forgive me, proof-readers) typographical errors in a newspaper.

Republicans think Democrats believe that the only way to get things done in a society is to call on some form of government and that any involvement by private enterprise is at bottom selfish. Democrats, on the other hand, think Republicans will go to any lengths to keep government out of everything and that private enterprise is at bottom the only salvation for society.

Put another way, it's a case of "Business, Si; government, No" opposed to "Government, Si; business, No."

It's nice to see that both generalizations have recently been shown inaccurate by the very people most prone to use them.

TAKE FIRST THE Republicans and their supposed feelings about the evil of government and the good of business.

Governor Romney's biggest problem just now is to show conclusively that he's been so great a governor of Michigan that his fairly obvious deficiencies on the national and international front won't hinder his drive to get the Republican presidential nomination. The big problem in Michigan since the Detroit riots has been the racial question.

So how does Romney handle it? By putting the bite on the Legislature to pass an open housing law. Which is the same thing as asking the government to take action in an area which private enterprise has had some troubles.

Oddly, it's the Democrats (or at least some of them, including some legislators from Observerland) who are trying to duck government involvement on this one. Some of them even spind like Republicans, saying that government really ought not get involved in private property questions.

DEMOCRATIC folklore has been recently shown to be just as wrong with respect to big business.

The New Detroit Committee, composed and sparked mainly by the big Detroit-based businesses, has been about the only really creative thing to come out of the riots. The Committee has been twisting arms all over the lot in an attempt to solve some of the problems that led to Detroit's looking like a World War II battlefield. In fact, most post-riot government work has looked stale by comparison.

But even more imaginative have been certain big companies and in particular the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

NOW I'M NO fan of Michigan Bell. I got sore when they tried to con me into buying those pink Princess phones. I am convinced their billing system is fouled up. And I froth at the mouth with that "Do not staple, spindle or mutilate" bit they put on their computer card bills.

But their newly-announced program to adopt Northern High School, an almost entirely Negro school in the inner city, to bring the kids special training to help them get solid jobs when they graduate, has gone a long way to change my mind.

Briefly, the program involves the Michigan Bell people coming into the school to teach courses both about how to go about getting and keeping a job and about the specifics of possible jobs with the phone company. Electronics. Telephone technology. Little wires and where they go. That kind of stuff.

The company says it hopes other businesses will follow along. I hope so, too.

WHAT THE COMPANY is really testing in this program is whether there is room for effective and creative effort by private enterprise in solving an intense social problem. This does not sound like a selfish business to me; after all, the phone company didn't have to do it.

But they did decide to do something, and something that will have a direct impact on helping Negro kids become a part of society instead of a bunch of angry onlookers.

Folklore goes down the drain, yet again.

And it's a good thing.

OBSERVATION POINT

'Open Housing'

Suburbia's Deafening Silence

Two words guaranteed to stir a heated debate in any bar, living room, or street corner in the suburbs is "Open Housing."

Plymouth City Commissioners are going through the agonies of formulating, considering, and finally, acting on a local housing ordinance.

The Detroit Common Council is doing the same and the State Legislature is politicking with a state fair housing bill.

The open housing debate across the state, and in most parts of the country, recalls the comments made when the U.S. Congress was considering federal civil rights bills in the 1950's and early 1960's.

"You can't legislate morality," civil rights opponents said.

BUT THEIR colleagues in state legislatures went right ahead and passed laws on rape, murder, adultery, and prostitution.

In all of the heated words on open housing in suburban Detroit, there has been a nearly deafening silence on the subject in most of the communities serviced by the Observer newspapers, except in Plymouth.

With the exception of Westland, the communities of Garden City, Livonia, Redford Township, and Farmington are lily-white suburbs whose residents (or at least most of them) want to keep their towns exactly that way.

One Garden City mother told this writer, who wanted to know what all the objections were based on: "Wait until you have a daughter of your own."

The inference was obvious but the tone of her voice was changed at least one iota when it was pointed out that the lily-white suburbs have a crime rate increase even higher than the large urbanized regions.

On top of that, the Secretary of State's daughter married a person of another race although they didn't live in the same neighborhood.

THE PROBLEMS of "Negro Crime" and "Negro Immorality" continually echoed by white adults has an empty ring when one looks at the headlines in the Garden City and Westland Observers in recent months.

Open housing to keep Negroes out? Maybe we should have a "closed housing" bill to screen some of the Caucasian element to keep our streets safe.

—Leonard Poger

Bow-Wow! Here Comes Integration

Frequently in suburbia, someone asks you, "Would you want one of THEM living on your block?" or "Don't you think THEY would be unhappy in this neighborhood?"

Meaning, of course, the dark-skinned race.

Well, I can't speak for the whole neighborhood, but I'd say that how I would react, and whether a Negro family would be happy, would depend on whether they have a dog.

The entire world consists of two classes of people. No, not men and women — for there are individuals who cross over in behavior. No, not colored and white — for there are people of mixed race and of races that are not clearly in any category. No, not communists and capitalists either.

Rather, the two distinct classes in the world are doggy people and non-doggy people.

OURS HAPPENS TO BE mostly a doggy people neighborhood.

Non-doggy people are unhappy around dogs. It is a statistical fact that the neighborhood dog corps will pick the lawn and shrubs of a non-doggy home to use as a communal latrine. Ironically, in a doggy neighborhood, if you want to keep your lawn clean, you should get a dog.

Moreover, non-doggy people are uncomfortable around dogs, and dogs are uncomfortable around them. This is not to criticize anyone. It's just a fact of life.

After examining many plans for segregation and their ramifications, I conclude firmly that only one makes any scientific sense: Doggy people should have their neighborhoods, and non-doggy people theirs.

This is not a snobbish plan aimed at creating second-class citizenship for non-doggy people. Non-doggy people are entitled to their style of life, and I respect it. The notion that "every child should have a puppy" is hogwash, if you'll pardon the mixed metaphor. Non-doggy people shouldn't have dogs, and shouldn't have others' dogs inflicted on them.

A DOGGY-TYPE white man of religious faith A and an income of X has more in common with a doggy-type brown man of religious faith B and an income of Y than he does with a non-doggy person of the same color, religious faith and income. Doggy people are a class apart. Their mutual pampering and enjoyment of a canine bind them together. Racial lines disappear, like a pound of hamburger among a pack of doggies.

I've had the experience of overcoming the wall between strangers of different races at a business dinner. The man next to me was a Negro and a doggy person. Pretty soon, we were swapping tales of our dogs' tricks, intellectual achievements and habits on a can-you-top-this basis.

His dog was a schnauzer, and mine is a poodle, so naturally I won. A schnauzer is the smartest there is, he insisted. Yeah, but poodles are human.

What would life be like if a Negro family moved onto one of our streets? Well, look at it this way.

On our block, three-fourths of the dogs are either brown or black. I don't know how all the others live, but our black terror sleeps in our bed, basks by our fire and drinks beer from the same mug with us.

If we can live that closely with a black dog in the same house, it won't kill us to have a family of black human beings on the same block.

Budget Out Of Control-McCracken

Present decision-making procedures have resulted in a federal budget whose expenditures, in a technical sense, are out of control, says University of Michigan economist Paul W. McCracken.

McCracken, a member of the Council of Economic advisers during the Eisenhower Administration, recommended a presidential commission to review decision-making on government spending during an address Monday (Nov. 20) at the 21st annual Conference of Bank Correspondents in Chicago.

FEDERAL expenditures have been rising about $20 billion per year, and the August review of the 1968 budget indicates that this pace must be expected to continue, he explained. And the high rate of monetary and credit expansion this year has been building "a strongly expansive force" for next year's business activity. Inventory accumulation is also expected to speed up, he said.

"It is clear that the key to our problems is federal expenditure policy," McCracken declared. "Because of the large deficit, the Treasury's financing requirements are large and unremitting. Because of these financing requirements, the Federal Reserve is hard put to slow down the rate of monetary expansion for fear that the Treasury's borrowing requirements will not be met. Private borrowers, fearful of another credit crisis, are anticipating their needs further in advance."

"While a tax increase is an essential part of reducing a deficit that, it is generally agreed, is too large, the present fiscal impasse is not apt to melt unless we can make some progress on expenditure policy. And if one thing is clear, it is that our present decision-making procedures have resulted in a budget whose expenditures are out of control."

EARLIER THIS year President Johnson appointed a commission to review the format, structure, and concepts of the budget.

"What we need now is a presidential commission to examine expenditure decision-making from the formulation of the President's original message through appropriations activity in the Congress to Administration decisions about the rapidity with which appropriations should be activated," McCracken said.

"Such a fundamental review might form the core of a compromise, that could resolve the present paralysis over what to do about the budget. The package could be some tax increase, some agreement about reducing the rate of growth of expenditures, and a commission to make recommendations that, it is hoped, would bring more orderly procedures to these important matters."

"They'd rather switch to a Gas Incinerator than fight my smoke!"

"I can't believe it — replaced by a young upstart who doesn't even smoke! This incinerator fellow must not have any pride — he even consumes garbage! No self-respecting trash burner would attempt that! And who's going to keep the neighbors in their place by blowing smoke and soot in their yard? You'll see... replacing me with an automatic Gas Incinerator will make a big difference in their life!"

You, too, can end trash and garbage problems by switching to a new, smokeless, odorless Gas Incinerator

691,000 Answer Survey

Michigan's mail survey of fallout protection in homes in 72 cities is nearing the halfway mark with more than 691,000 questionnaires having been returned to the U.S. Census Bureau, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, State Police and state civil defense director, reported.

In addition, 908,947 homes have been visited by Census Bureau enumerators in other areas. This part of the survey is completed, with a 99.8 per cent coverage.

The mail returns represent 45.9 per cent of the 1.5 million questionnaires sent to the occupants of one, two and three family dwellings in the state's cities having 10,000 or more population.

The confidential survey, in which Michigan and federal civil defense officials and the Census Bureau are cooperating, began Oct. 19 by mail in the cities and by interviewers in the other areas. The cost is being paid by the federal government.

Civil Defense officials emphasize that the fallout protection survey gives individuals and families another good opportunity to learn how to protect themselves in any nuclear radiation emergency.

The survey will have two direct benefits: One, cooperating householders will be confidentially advised of the protection their homes afford and how it may be improved; two, the availability of protection for people in their homes will importantly assist in the planning of community shelters.

Persons who have not yet filled out their questionnaires should complete and mail them in the envelope provided to the Census Bureau at Jeffersonville, Ind., where they are being processed by computer.

Lincoln-Mercury Sales Take Dip

Lincoln-Mercury sales during Nov. 11-20 were 2,923, compared to 11,803 in the same period of 1966, the division has announced.

"The worst is behind us now and we expect to make a dramatic turnaround in the coming weeks," E.F. (Gar) Laux, Ford Motor Company vice president and division general manager, said. "By next week we will be building more than 2,000 cars per day and dealer inventories will increase steadily, permitting a substantial improvement in sales by the end of the year."

Deliveries since Jan. 1 totaled 295,743, against 318,477 a year ago.

The division announcement made no mention of the six-week strike of the UAW.

Local Gals Have Parts In Comedy

Three Redford Township residents will have parts in "The Geisha," a musical comedy to be presented by Delta Omicron International professional women's music fraternity next month.

The production, to raise funds for scholarships, is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2, in the Detroit Institute of Musical Art.

Jeanette Coviak plays the part of Marie Worthington, an English lady. Jeanette is the secretary of Beta Chapter of Delta Omicron and is a teacher of kindergarten piano at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art. Jeanette is married and lives with her husband and four children on Norfolk Avenue.

Marilyn Newhouse has the role of Blossom, geisha girl. She is a student at the D.I.M.A. and a teacher of piano. She is also a pledge to D.O. Marilyn has appeared in "Carousel," "Music Man," "Brigadoon," has done solo and ensemble work at Wayne and been in the show for the Multiple Sclerosis Detroit Society for Crippled Children. Marilyn lives with her parents on Karl Avenue.

Sylvia Reid, of Brady Avenue, is married and has five children. She is a music major at Wayne, president of Delta Theta Chapter of Delta Omicron, alto soloist at St. James Methodist Church, and plays violin with Redford Symphony Orchestra.

The musical was written by Sidney Jones and is under the direction of Dr. Hans Kolbe. More information is available by calling 777-7667.

Students Honor Mentors

Madonna College student teachers honored their co-operating teachers with a testimonial dinner recently. The gesture by 27 seniors was to show the appreciation for the help of their co-operating teachers during their eight-week directed teaching experience in public or parochial schools this fall.

Senior co-chairman Adie Laszlo and Ginger Visel commented, "Student teachers in essence owe much of their success during their field experience to these men and women."

GUEST SPEAKER was Earl Gibson, assistant superintendent in the Plymouth school system. His topic, "The American Heritage", delineated the school system of today with its recent technological and educational advances within the framework of early American beginnings.

The Rev. Leon Kennedy, Madonna theology department head, gave the invocation.

Sister M. Danatha, president, acknowledged the importance of critic teachers to the college's teacher education program.

Sister M. Martina, head of the teacher education department, projected an image of an "impact teacher" - one who leaves a significant impression on students, administrators, parents, and the community at large.

MRS. NANCY TANGER, MC's co-ordinator of teacher education, expressed the college's gratitude to the critic teachers for directing the seniors in their initial teaching experience.

"I am thankful I am a teacher," said Mrs. Tanger. "I am proud to be associated with such a noble profession."

Student teacher Sue Szejda shared with the dinner attendees several experiences she considered "unique" at Stevenson High, Livonia; namely, modular scheduling, team teaching and resource centers.

SENIORS AND their co-operating teachers included: Elementary education - Janet Conway, Susan Stevens, Marlene Szymanski and Gerald Kinley, Mrs. Myrtle Read, and Mrs. Elizabeth Sheldon of Bird elementary school; Shirley Bauer and Mary Munsell and Mrs. Polly Clemon and Mrs. Marilyn Fetherston of Hull elementary school; Laura Derroncourt and Adele Laszlo and Mrs. Marjorie Victor and Mrs. Marjorie Jones of Tyler elementary school; Marilyn Rushin and Don Hollar of Jackson elementary school; Marianne Scott and Mrs. Lee Terry of Allen elementary school; Mrs. Audrey Harris, Kathleen Standley and Mrs. Sallie Watts and Mrs. Beverly Stodard of Monroe elementary school; Virginia Visel and Sister Chrysostom of St. Clare of Montefalco elementary school.

STUDENTS in secondary education and their co-operating teachers: Maureen Fox, Deane Kalicki, Diane Rzycki and Anthony Wayne, Kenneth Timmons and John Benner of Bentley; Gloria Kaschuk, Bernadette Pini, Marcia Wolfe and Mrs. Rae Adams, Gary Allison and Mrs. Lorraine Mason of Frost junior high school; Barbara Lemanske, Susan Schachter, Susan Szejda and Janet Dodenhoff, Bill Alexander and Sarah Dick of Stevenson; Susan Szczerba and Mrs. Clemence Duvu of Emerson; Mrs. Rosanne Reid, Beth Ann Seay, Sister Theresa Marie Fix and Sister Agnes Charles, Patrick Uetz and Sister Ligouri of Bishop Borgess.

CWC To See Holiday Styles

Holiday Coiffure Fashions and Make-Up will be presented at the monthly meeting of the Northwest and Suburban Detroit Christian Women's Club, Thursday, Dec. 7 at 12:30 p.m. in Devon Gables.

Jackie Crampton of WJBK TV will be the commentator for the show of holiday coiffures, wiglets, make-up and apparel.

Jimmie McDonald, a member of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, will present a musical program with Christmas meditations.

McDonald is a native of Baltimore, and studied for two years at the Peabody Conservatory. In 1960 he was soloist for the Tokyo Christian Crusade and since that time has been featured with crusades in Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Korea, Brazil, England, Ireland and Africa.

-- m. m. memos --

The Thanksgiving turkey now is reduced to a couple of packages of frozen white and dark meat to be saved for the day when poultry will be more of a treat.

I bought the bird neatly packaged and frozen at the supermarket. But not without vivid memories of the year I decided to get one from a farm, instead.

The nursery school where my then four-year-old was enrolled had visited this farm, and she and the other tots looked wide-eyed on the great expanses of milling white turkeys.

The squawking and gobbling made a frightening din - more noise than that schoolful of children ever thought of making.

But the turkeys looked beautiful and healthy so I ordered one, and a few days before Thanksgiving drove out with my nursery school child to pick it up.

We turned in at the farm drive, and she looked a mite apprehensive. When I said we were going to get a turkey, she was visibly shaken.

The loud wailing started as I got out of the car. "Don't put it in the back seat with me," she begged.

Only then I realized she had visions of one of those great, flapping, noisy things beside her in the car.

She's bigger and more sophisticated now, and she learned in the first grade to tell the Thanksgiving story quite accurately.

But she did get a bit confused on one detail, probably because her mother goes off to several different offices of The Observer. "The Pilgrims," she related proudly, "sailed across the ocean on the Mayflower and landed at Livonia Rock."

Wayne Players To Open

"The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," a play written by William Inge, is the next production to be presented by The Wayne Civic Players, at the John Glenn High School at 8:30 p.m. Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2 at 8:30.

The play is a story of a family from the mid-west in the early 1920's.

Carol Katz as Cora Flood and Dan Myers as Rubin Flood will be seen as the married couple at the center of the drama.

Lois Schafer will be Lottie Lacy, and Pat Quilter has the role of Morris Lacy.

THE CHILDREN will be played by Valerie Guernsey as Reenie Flood and Skip McGlashon as Sonny Flood. Ken Livingston will be Sammy Goldenbaum. Others in the cast are April Platt as Flirt Conroy, Jim Warnek as Punky Givens, and David Whipple as a boy off stage.

Jacquie Guernsey is directing and Rob Roy is the assistant director, with Bill Hoffman producing.

TICKETS WILL be sold at the door. Some season tickets are still available for this play and the next production "Barefoot in the Park," on April 25, 26 and 27, also at John Glenn.

The Wayne Civic Players are also planning a Beaux Arts Ball in February, which you will be hearing more about in the future.

Minnesota Women Set Luncheon Date

The University of Minnesota Women's Club will hold an annual Christmas luncheon on Friday, Dec. 1, at 12:15 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John White, 1072 West 14 Mile Road, Birmingham.

The program will include caroling and making favors for shut-in senior citizens.

Reservations may be phoned to Mrs. John Strang, 647-1781, or Mrs. Arthur Burry, 357-5324.

PRIDE IN HER EYES--Lenore Romney didn't try to hide her admiration as husband George announced he'll seek the GOP presidential nomination.

Lenore Was There For The Big Moment

They didn't have to bring Lenore Romney to Detroit on a stretcher to be with her husband when he challenged the nation to accept a New America and make him President.

"We're a team and we'll stay a team no matter what," she said.

Mrs. Romney, a minor role actress in Hollywood before she married George Wilcken Romney in 1931, bubbled as well as she could with a broken shoulder.

IT WAS her first outing since she fell in the bathtub at their Bloomfield Hills home. Gov. Romney's first words to the nationwide press corps before the TV cameras started churning out his message to the nation were typical:

"I'm delighted that Lenore is able to be with us today. She hasn't been out of the house since doing the ballet in the bathtub."

And his first words as the country watched were:

"My wife Lenore is my greatest earthly inspiration. She excelled in eloquence, the poetry of words, empathy and graciousness."

"I have given my life to the poetry of decisions and work."

LENORE'S BEIGE COAT

covered the cast on her arm and shoulder. She sat with Scott and his wife, their daughters, Mrs. Bruce Robinson and Mrs. Loren Keenan and their husbands.

Lenore is No. 1 in Romney's life. They're a team. Lenore makes as many as five speeches a week, usually pitched to the theme of morality and the hope that a revived family life will build America.

BUT THERE are other ladies about Romney.

There is Mrs. Elly Peterson, the Grand Lodge wife of a National Guard officer, who started organizing youth activities for Romney. She was named the nation's first state GOP chairman in 1962.

Early Saturday she was conferring with other party chieftains before the 10 a.m. announcement brunch, and agreeing with a reporter it was a big day for Republicans.

"Mrs. Romney will be here if they have to bring her here on a stretcher," she said. "It's going to be a big affair. We have good troops."

"After all this it will be a big surprise if he (Romney) says he's not going, wouldn't it?"

THE REGISTRATION table for those who had tickets and needed a badge, and for those who didn't have tickets at all, was manned by State Central Committee secretaries, among them Mrs. Alice Smith, of Alma.

"We've been here since about 8:30 a.m.," she said.

Across the way, other ladies were selling the Republican Party Cookbook.

As he thanked Michigan Republicans for bringing him to the decision of running for president, Romney singled out Mrs. Ella Koeze, the GOP national committeewoman, Elly and others.

Marilynn Rosenthal of Livonia is Madame Editor for a pair of publications as far apart as her diversified interests.

Twice a year, in April and October, she supervises publication of a magazine reaching parents of pre-school children all over the country and as far away as Zealand.

Its name is "Offspring" and it is distributed by the Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries and by the Parent Cooperative Preschools International.

"OFFSPRING" has been in publication since 1959, and Marilyn has been at its helm all the way.

But when last spring's issue was ready for the presses, she turned her full attention to a new endeavor—this one a magazine titled "Humanistic Judaism" and representing some of the most liberal thinking in the Jewish world of today.

The second issue of "Humanistic Judaism" is currently being put together, and Marilyn Rosenthal and her staff are pleased with the early response.

"We have a very limited circulation—600 so far," she said. "But we feel the publication is already making some impact, and we're in good shape financially. That is, we have enough money on hand to pay for the second issue."

BETWEEN PUBLICATIONS, Marilyn is in her third year of teaching freshman English at Eastern Michigan University two days a week.

And she and husband Avram—better known as Skip—find plenty of time for family activities and projects with their three children, Danny, 12; Joshua, 10, and Helen, seven.

Skip is well known to Livonians as former head city librarian. He now is director of library services at Henry Ford Community College.

"And I think he's really getting close to completing his doctorate," reports his wife.

MARILYNN got into both her journalistic projects "because I like magazines."

When the Rosenthals first moved to Livonia nine years ago, one of her first actions was to enroll young Danny in a cooperative nursery. She learned, as many co-op mothers have before her and since, that every mother works in a cooperative.

"Writing publicity seemed more suitable than planning refreshments," she said, "and soon I was editing the nursery's monthly newsletter."

BUT HER interest in the whole cooperative nursery movement grew, and she felt there was a need for a publication that would reach many parents and put across new ideas in child developments.

So "Offspring" was born, and its pages now are read by concerned parents all around the world. The spring issue reported requests for it had come from Peace Corps volunteers working with mothers of young children in Africa, the Middle East, South America, India and Malaysia.

Marilynn finds the editing of "Offspring" a smooth operation now.

"We have a staff that works together well and plenty of manuscripts are coming in now," she said.

THE VENTURE into "Humanistic Judaism" came about in a similar manner.

The Rosenthals three years ago became members of the Birmingham Temple, a liberal congregation headed by Rabbi Sherwin Wine, and Marilyn felt her best contribution to the Temple would be a publication to help disseminate some of the congregation's ideas.

"The Birmingham Temple," she explained, "is a movement outside reform Judaism that aims to inject into religious thought the ideas that have been on campuses for a long time—to blur the lines between Jewish secularism and religion. It offers to Jewish people a new choice while retaining the Temple form."

"HUMANISTIC Judaism" is composed of several sections, Marilyn said.

"First is the Symposium, in which we get several points of view on the same subject."

"I think it's most important for all of us to learn to study carefully differing points of view. The fact that not many do this is one of the great

Women On The Go By MARGARET MILLER

One Editor... ...Many Ideas

lacks in human relations today."

THE MAGAZINE'S first symposium topic was the idea of religion in which God is irrelevant and the second will ask the question "Can Judaism Survive in America?"

The publication also has a section for single articles, and a science section, headed by Irving Rozian, of Plymouth, who is on the University of Michigan staff.

"In the science section," she explained, "we seek to examine social and ethical implications of current research in science, enlighten the non-scientific among us concerning this research, and examine the ethics of science."

Others aiding Marilyn in the newest publication are assistant editor Mrs. Judith Goren, and circulation manager Mrs. Norma Goltner, of Farmington.

MRS. GERALD SCHULAR
 (Joan Polito)

Couple Will Reside In Westland

Wearing a white velvet empire gown, Joan Rita Polito became the bride of Gerald Roy Schular in a recent ceremony in St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Garden City.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. E. Joseph Polito, of Blackburn Ave., Livonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Schular, of Essexville, Mich.

The Rev. Eugene Friedrich officiated at the rites, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

HER GOWN featured a bateau neckline, long sleeves and crystal and pearl accents. Petals of pearl, lace and crystal held her illusion veil, and she carried miniature white roses.

Carol L. Polito was maid of honor, and Anne L. Polito was bridesmaid. They wore moss green velvet empire gowns with satin trim and headpiece bows, and carried gold chrysanthemums.

Owen R. Schular assisted as best man, Neil D. Schular was groomsman and David C. Polito was usher.

MRS. POLITO chose a brown velvet dress for the wedding, and the bridegroom's mother was in blue crepe.

The newlyweds greeted guests at a reception in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth before leaving for an Eastern states honeymoon.

The new Mrs. Schular is a graduate of Franklin High School and employed by the Bell Telephone Co., in Plymouth.

Her husband is a graduate of Ferris State College and served four and a half years in the U.S. Air Force, where he attained the rank of captain and was awarded the bronze star for service in Southeast Asia.

The couple will live in Westland.

MRS. GERARD J. GIETL
 (Judith Ann Brantigan)

Gietls Married In St. Valentine's

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Gietl are making their home in Detroit following their recent marriage in St. Valentine's Catholic church, Redford Township.

The bride is the former Judith Ann Brantigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Floyd, of Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gietl, of Redford Township, are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. A. Sadler officiated at the double-ring ceremony, and a reception followed at Botsford Inn.

THE BRIDE wore a traditional gown of white chantilly lace with long sleeves, a bouffant skirt trimmed in sequins and a chapel length train.

Manasian-Reeves Rites Held

Kathleen Reeves became the bride of Ronald L. Manasian in a double-ring ceremony Friday, Nov. 17, in St. Martin's Episcopal Church, Redford Township.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reeves, of Southfield, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Manasian, of Redford Township, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and chantilly lace, with a train trimmed in seed pearls and crystals.

The couple will live in Redford Township after returning from the honeymoon.

JUNE WHITE

Mr. and Mrs. William White, of Hull Avenue, Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, June Marie, to Gregory Harold Britton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Britton, of Annot Avenue, Detroit. The bride-elect is a graduate of Farmington High School and attended Bethel College at Mishawaka, Ind. She is employed at ABC Photo. Her fiancé, a graduate of Osborn High, Detroit, is a student at Bethel College. A Feb. 17 wedding is planned.

13 At One Table Founded Shrine

NEW YORK -- The Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America was founded by 13 men who happened to lunch at Knickerbocker Cottage, which in deliberate defiance of the "table of 13" superstition, organized such tables in 1870.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

"Off with her head" roars the Queen of Hearts as poor Alice stands perplexed, frustrated, confused.

The Eastern Michigan Children's Theatre production of "Alice in Wonderland" gave adults and children, last week, a chance to see our tangled lives by holding a theatrical mirror up to our complex society.

Stunning scenic effects, early in the handsomely-costumed "Alice" production, had the kids in the audience gasping with delight. Stage sets grew taller as Alice grew smaller. Her flight through space evoked memories of Mary Poppins and Peter Pan. The Chessie Cat vanished in a blinding light and a puff of smoke.

STAGE MANAGER, Charles Cosler, and scenic designer, George Bird, are to be commended for their brilliant technical effects and fast-paced movement of "Alice in Wonderland".

Christy Anspach, wide-eyed and disturbed, projected her concern vividly and most ingenuously. Her rapport, so necessary in a title role for children's theatre, kept the youthful audience involved and responsive for their entire hour and a half's stay in Wonderland.

Director Virginia Koste did double duty by being responsible for the script used in this captivating production of "Alice in Wonderland". Children Theatre scripts are not easy to locate, at least not effective scripts.

"Alice in Wonderland", having satiric overtones in its original concept by Lewis Carroll, is not the easiest story to dramatize. Much of the charm inherent in this fascinating work of art for children is in its zany characters. Kids love its far-out, bizarre characters. The March Hare, Mad Hatter, Tweedle-Dee and Tweedle-Dum, and the Mock Turtle captivate a child's boundless imagination.

AUTHOR KOSTE has fashioned a crazy-quilt arrangement of all the wonderful characters. Her script gives vent to the merry, mad quality so needed to give sense to the nonsense of "Alice in Wonderland".

Gary Carpenter's White Knight contained a quixotic twist. Comic spills from his wooden steed raised gleeful response, and yet adult members of the audience could sympathize with the gallant idealism of this noble fellow.

The wild tea party could have been fraught with far more frantic movement to stress the madness of the moment. Chris Carpenter, Maloy Murdoch, and Pixie Ackerman did a convincing job as the demented members of that tea party. They needed additional doses of directorial L.S.D. to make the scene more kooky.

"Alice in Wonderland" had a magnetic effect on all members of the audience, regardless of age. The glittering, colorful dream world invaded by Alice held a fascination for mini-adults and adults alike. Too often we can't really distinguish when we are in this rather mystic, cotton-candy version of reality or truly out of it.

Schoolcraft Film Has Cynical Theme

The Schoolcraft College Friday Night film series will present "Viridiana", directed by Luis Bunuel and written by Bunuel and Julio Alejandro, at 3 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 1, in the amphitheater in the Forum on campus. The Spanish film has English subtitles. There is no admission charge.

In exile in Mexico since 1938, Bunuel accepted an invitation from Franco to return to his native Spain in 1961. He was offered government financing to make a film. "Viridiana" was the result.

Two days after the film won the Grand Prix at Cannes, Franco saw it for the first time. He dismissed his minister of culture, ordered a press blackout and banned the film. It is not difficult to see why.

"Viridiana" is undoubtedly one of the boldest, cruellest and most cynical stories to be depicted on the screen. Its effect must be experienced to be believed. But no matter how one reacts to the story, "Viridiana" is a major cinematic achievement.

Auditions Scheduled

Another challenge for Dearborn Civic Theatre will be its presentation of "Anything Goes", Cole Porter's musical comedy, as the entertainment for Telephone Employees Credit Union's 32nd annual meeting, March 9, in Ford Auditorium. The Credit Union expects a crowd of 3,000 to attend the meeting.

Robert Oris, the theater director, is looking for a cast of around 50 people.

Open try-outs will be held Jan. 3 and 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the Credit Union Office, 14000 Puritan, Detroit.

Roland Holder and Leo Murray, production co-chairmen, are also looking for volunteers to help with staging the show.

The costume chairman, Delores Murray, is looking for things for costumes in the flapper period.

Dearborn Orchestra Slates 2nd Concert

Italo Babini, principal cellist of the Detroit Symphony, will be the featured soloist at the Dec. 8 concert of the Dearborn Orchestra.

UNDER THE BATON of Nathan Gordon, the orchestra will present selections of Tschalkovsky's "The Nutcracker".

The second concert of the season will begin at 8:20 p.m.

14th Guest Hired

PARIS -- The superstition about 13 at table is said to haunt Parisian hosts so much that some escort agencies list professional guests called (from the French for 14) the quatorziemes.

in the Edsel Ford High School Auditorium in Dearborn. Babini will perform Boccherini's Cello Concerto in B Flat. Additional features of the program include Brahms Symphony No. 2 in D and a Christmas Community Sing.

INCLUDED as members of the orchestra are: From Livonia: Mrs. H.L. Reel, violinist, 35625 W. Chicago, director of the Reel Quartette; and Jack Fellers, French horn, 14520 Auburndale, Research Chemist for Ford Motor Company.

Also living in the Livonia area are Mrs. Leonard Dailey, violinist, 29660 Oakley, secretary with Ford Motor Company and a member of the Reel Quartette and Miss Paula Crawford, Cellist, 33118 Barkley, a senior at Bentley High School. From Plymouth comes Mrs. O.F. McGuire, Violist, 1481 Palmer, employed in the Music Department of the Southfield Public Schools and Mrs. Joyce Lee, violinist, 6000 Napier Rd., Living at 31831 Grand River, Farmington, is Stephen Walton, French horn, Walton is sales representative for Beckman Instruments.

Madrigal Club Ready For Christmas Concert

The Madrigal Club of Detroit, directed by August Maekelburghe, will present its annual Christmas concert at 8:30 p.m. Dec. 8 in the Detroit Institute of Arts lecture hall.

Area residents who will appear with the group include Marlowe Belanger and Sue McCallum, of Farmington; Helen Make and Vivian Poss, of Southfield; and Annalee Mathes, of Novi.

Numbers the group will perform include Bach's Unto His Holy Name Sing Praises, Vierdank's A Christmas Concert, Lubeck's Welcome King of Glory and Caroling, Caroling and All on a Christmas Morning by Burt.

With a membership of 33 women, the Madrigal Club is the oldest continuing choral group in the metropolitan area. It has made numerous television appearances and has sung in Carnegie Hall.

By recent action of the Michigan Council for the Arts, the group is now eligible to receive financial assistance for its tour dates.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at the door or by contacting club president, Mrs. Roger Belanger, GR 4-7098.

Symphony, Choir Will Present 'Messiah' Dec. 5

The Rackham Symphony Choir and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra will perform Handel's "Messiah" this year in Detroit's Ford Auditorium. The event is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 5.

Soloists for the performance will be Patricia Brooks, soprano; Louise Parker, contralto; William Lewis, tenor; and Ara Berberian, bass-baritone.

The Rackham Symphony Choir, which is the official choral group of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, is trained and directed by Maynard Klein, U-M professor of music and director of the University's Chamber Wants Schools In C.O.G.

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce jumped into the current argument over the concept of the Council of Governments in Southeastern Michigan during the past week and adopted a resolution asking that the school systems be retained in the make-up of the organization.

This came about when Senator Robert Huber, Chairman of the Municipalities Committee, asked some time ago that the schools be eliminated and left on their own.

To counteract this action and help the schools in their fight for recognition, the Chamber adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved--That the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors hereby endorses the voluntary concept of the Council of Governments for Wayne County, provided that all legal bodies consisting of townships, cities, villages, and the school districts are allowed to be represented.

"We further state, that the basic need for communication and exchange of ideas and programs concerning such items as sewer, water, police, zoning, courts, assessments, etc., must include the school district which has been omitted from the present Senate Bill introduced by the Municipalities Chairman, Senator Huber."

Richwines Find Pacific Charm

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in the series of letters from Mr. and Mrs. Perry Richwine describing interesting experiences on their world tour. Today's letter deals with the beauty and friendliness found on the islands in the Pacific.

As we prepare to leave from the last port on our Pacific voyage, we both feel a sadness over the fact that the trip is over.

Many of our service men from Plymouth took this trip at government expense, and I am thankful they did. There is a friendly feeling toward the United States servicemen everywhere in the Pacific islands, even in Japan.

The Australians have a high regard for our armed services. New Zealanders show a deep love and respect for our men. In Bora Bora there is an appreciation for the outstanding ability of our Sea-Bees. They built a beautiful air strip here out of coral on one of the islands and it is a landmark that never will be forgotten.

WE HAVE HEARD many loving stories about the Tahitian Islands and the beautiful city of Papeete and the wonderful people here. And let me tell you words cannot describe the love and friendliness that is apparent everywhere. I never dreamed that all of these island villages could extend such a serious and sincere welcome to the passengers of a visiting ship.

Bands have played for us on arrival, dancing girls have been on the docks and groups of dancers have put on their native dances in the auditorium of our ship. In Papeete, as in many other islands, young ladies have met us at the dock with beautiful flower leis and greeted us with kisses.

The people on the island of Tahiti have had motor cars only a short time. They drive these small French cars as if they were entrants in a race. Motor bikes, motorcycles and scooters are everywhere.

Men and women with youngsters between them are often seen going down the streets on a single bike. The streets are narrow and filled with treacherous curves, but they never seem to slow up.

The houses on the island are better than on most islands and the people are happy. And why not? They have plenty of pretty women and no taxes.

OUR SHIP, the SS Statendam, is 10 years old and has hosted many meetings of fraternal and service club groups. But it never has been host to a Rotary Club meeting. It was my desire to sponsor one, and after a lot of radiograms and contacts we finally had it on Nov. 22.

All of the Rotary officials on the islands attended with their families. We had a grand evening with a Dutch orchestra and it certainly had an international flavor. We had Rotary members from California, Seattle, Washington; Michigan and New Jersey. We had natives from Austria; Syria, England, France, Australia, Holland and many other countries. Banners from many clubs were exchanged and I had the opportunity of extending the hand of friendship from the Plymouth Club.

Before my departure from home Bernice Wiedman presented me with a pair of Paul's cuff links and I made a point of wearing these expressions of love on this special occasion.

Today is Thanksgiving Day and we sail at 1 p.m. Many of the Rotary friends are coming to bid us a fond farewell and Bon Voyage. We will be leaving a beautiful paradise in the Pacific with many fond memories and that eternal hope of an early return.

which one owns a CREDIT UNION?

OWNER

Answer: They all do.

Credit unions are made of all kinds of people... housewives, businessmen, stenographers, blue-collar workers, teachers... you name it. They OWN the credit union. And their ownership gives them benefits they can find nowhere else.

Take savings, for example: Only in a credit union do all dividends go back to the members, with life insurance as an extra dividend. Borrowers get a break, too, with loans insured at no extra cost, and often a year-end interest refund. These are just a few C.U. advantages.

More than 1-1/3 million people in Michigan are now credit union members. Isn't it time YOU joined?

Contact the credit union where you work - or the one in your parish or neighborhood - or write Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Detroit, Michigan 48235.

New Books At The Library

"Dirty Story" by Eric Ambler is a further account of the adventures of Arthur Abdel Simpson. One of his earlier adventures appeared in movie form as "Topkapi." Here he tries to obtain a passport on the black market in Athens only to become involved in a white mercenary conspiracy in Central Africa.

"Rises" by John Walsh is the story of Operation Gwamba. It is the true story of the danger-filled rescue of 10,000 animals from certain death in a South American rain forest, after they were trapped by the spreading artificial lake behind a new dam.

His Jewish parents were killed in France by the Nazis and he was saved by a Frenchwoman, a devout Catholic, who has raised him as her own. At the war's end, he is claimed by his aunt in Israel but his foster mother refuses to relinquish him.

"Michel, Michel" by Robert Lewis is a novel about the battle for possession of a child. The child is named Michel.

"Behind the Shield" by Arthur Niederhoffer, an ex-New York City policeman now a professor of sociology, draws on the author's own experiences and intensive interviews with police in other cities to try to explain why the police resent "civilian" interference, why many policemen become cynical, vulnerable to corruption, or condone illegal use of force, and what social forces shape the "police personality."

"A Garden of Earthly Delights" by Joyce Carol Oates is the story of the daughter of a migrant worker and of the four men in her life. She runs away from her father with one man at the age of fourteen, but she later meets another whom she marries and who provides a name for her beloved son. Her life consists of a constant struggle against uncertainty in a world of transience and poverty.

"A Gold Mine in Your Kitchen" by Helen Scott provides 150 recipes which may be prepared by the average cook either for the pleasure of her family or to supplement the family income.

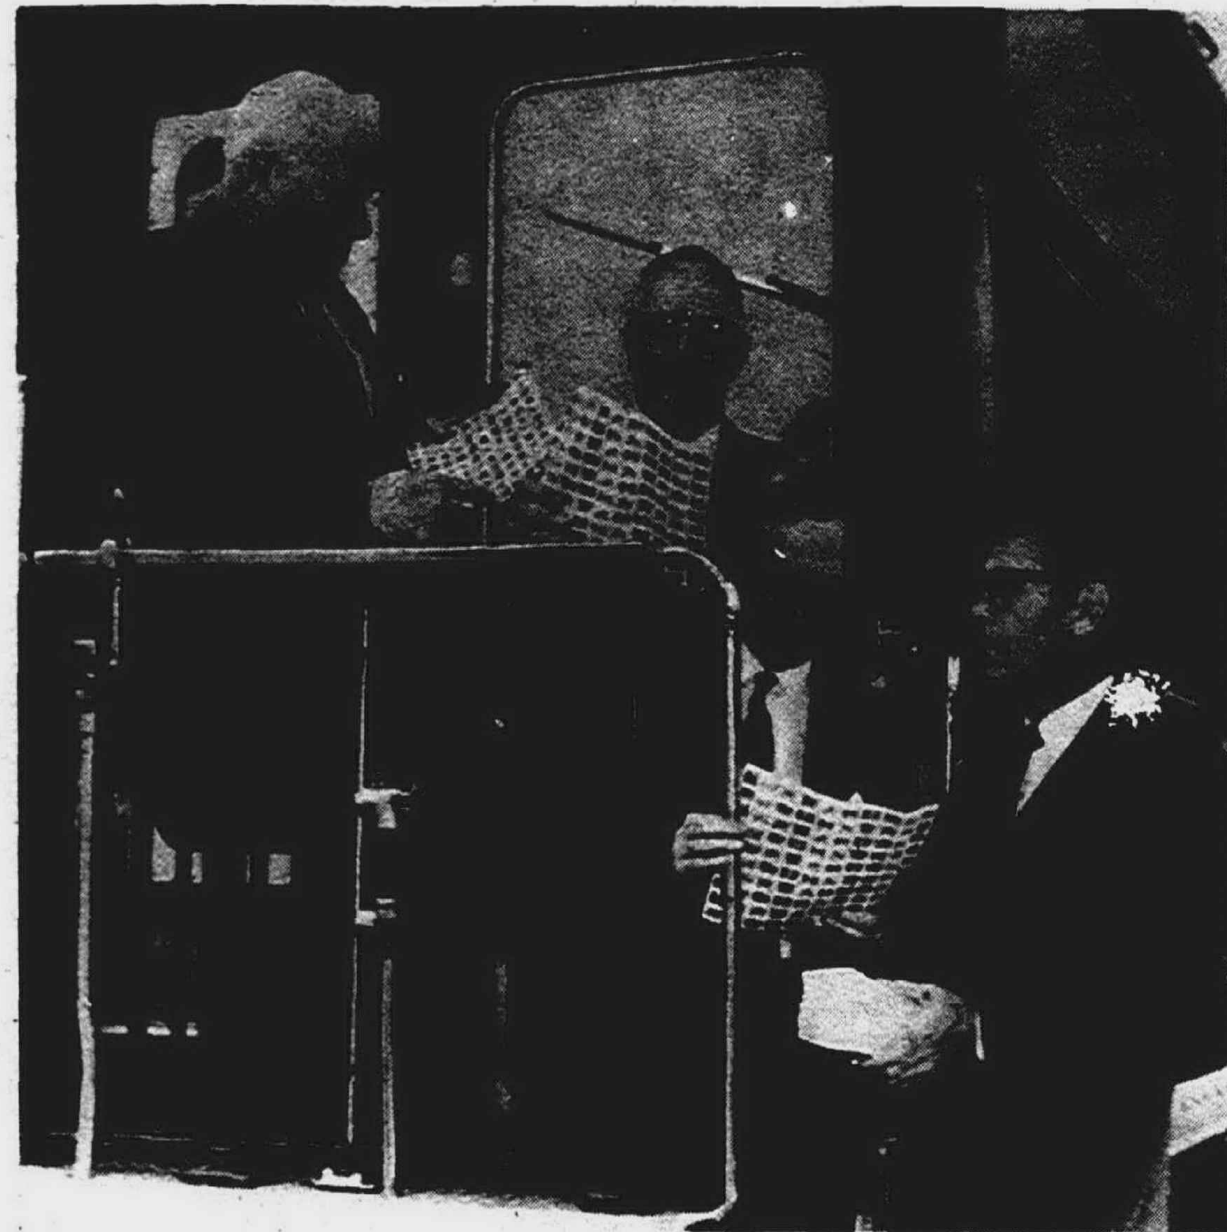

Keim Joins Housing Panel

The panel for the Businessmen's Forum on open housing was completed this week when Earl Keim, prominent real estate broker, accepted the invitation to give the realtors' view of the proposed ordinance in the City of Plymouth.

The Forum will be held at the Meeting House at noon on Thursday, December 7, and a large gathering is expected because of the timeliness of the subject.

Other members of the panel will be Dr. Henry Walch, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; State Representative James Tierney, who will give the state side of the issue; Charles Lowe, City Attorney, who will explain the various sections of the Plymouth ordinance, and Keim.

The Businessmen's Forum is a division of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

CLIMB ABOARD FOR CHRISTMAS SEALS -- The Michigan Railroads Association received its first batch of Christmas seals to open the 1967 drive during the past week. The presentation of the seals was made by Joseph G. Conway (right), vice president of the National Bank of Detroit and treasurer of the TB and Health Society. Looking over the seals are (left to right) Buford G. Nash, general manager of the C&O - B&O; Larry Kimbrough, executive assistant to the general manager of the New York Central, and Frank Hutton, chief engineer, Grand Trunk-Western.

Stands Mute On Pair Of Charges

Bruce Russell LaPlante, 24, of Dearborn Heights, stood mute at his arraignment Saturday after being charged with carrying a concealed weapon and driving without an operator's license.

Municipal Judge Dunbar Davis released LaPlante on $150 bond and set his examination for Dec. 4.

City Police Chief Robert Corrington, reported that LaPlante was originally stopped for running an amber light. When it was discovered he had no driver's license, he was brought into the police station.

The chief said that they searched his car and found a .25 caliber automatic under the front seat.

Detroit metropolitan area according to an announcement by Sam F. Test, district manager of the Detroit-Northwest office.

"I can't recall a period since I have been with Social Security in which we have had so many immediate openings. This is an excellent time to join Social Security in a job offering service to the public, as well as, opportunity for advancement," Test said.

Starting salary for grade GS-5 is $5,331 or GS-7 at $6,451 a year. The full journeyman claims representative grade level is GS-9 at $7,696 per year. To qualify you must have completed, or expect to complete within nine months a four-year course leading to a bachelor's degree in an accredited college or university; or have three years of experience in administrative, professional, investigative, or other responsible work; or have any equivalent combination of the above education and experience.

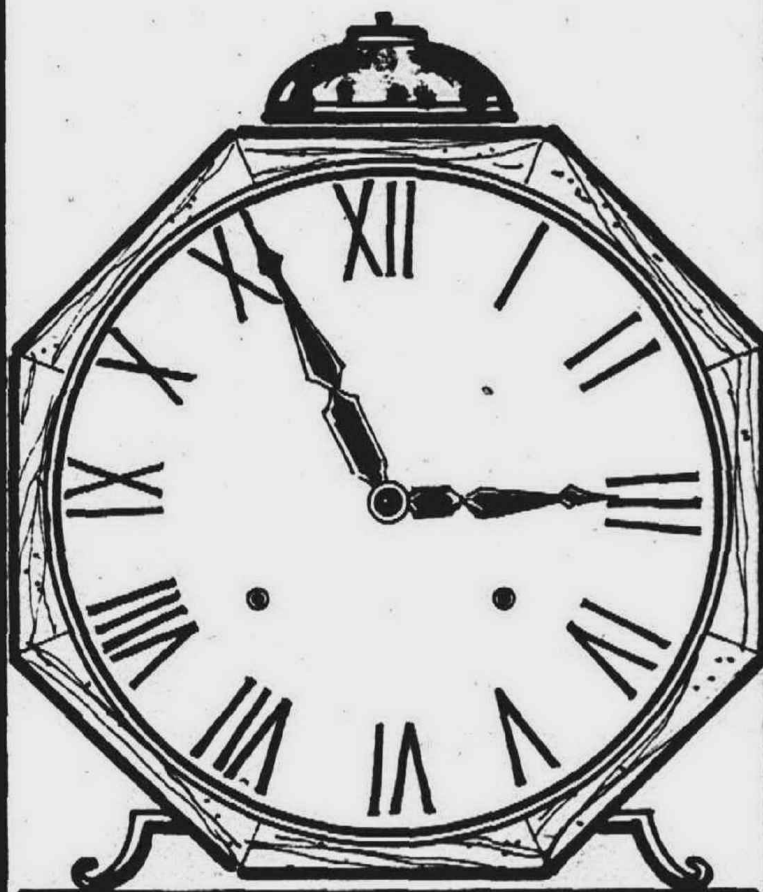

Experience in the trades or crafts, or in sales work, laboratory testing, operation of machines, or routine clerical work is not qualifying.

There are openings, too, in many of the 25 Social Security offices in Michigan, and in the Chicago and New York payment centers. For further information about these positions, contact the Social Security office at 18500 Grand River, Detroit.

The truth about savings

It's true—you can earn 5% on savings certificates at Michigan Bank. These are perfect for longer term savings. Your effective rate (through quarterly compounding) can be as much as 5½% (46 months), 6% (90 months), or even 6.49% (120 months). 5% annually on deposits under $100,000 is still the maximum legal certificate rate that any bank can pay.

It's also true that 4% is the maximum legal rate that banks can pay on regular passbook accounts. Most banks do—but compute only on a quarterly basis.

Here's where Michigan Bank is different! We compute DAILY. It's impossible to lose a single day's interest with us. For example, suppose you deposit $10,000 with us and need it 75 days later (before the end of an interest quarter). Your interest earnings at other banks would be 0, but at Michigan Bank it would be $83.33.

Sound interesting? We think so. We invite you to bring in your present savings passbook to any of our Birmingham area offices. We'll help you make the daily interest change in a minute.

Junior Basketball Ready In Plymouth

Plymouth Community Junior Basketball officially gets under way Saturday, Dec. 2 at both East and West Junior Highs.

Before the season starts, a rules clinic is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m. The clinic, which will be followed by a Plymouth High varsity scrimmage, is for junior players, parents and coaches.

This year's junior basketball program has enlisted 330 boys and more than 60 coaches in Class A (10-12 year-olds) and Class B (8-10 year-olds).

Class AA (13-15) will establish teams on Saturday, Dec. 16, and their schedule will begin Jan. 6. Between 60 and 70 boys in six teams are expected in this class.

Local Man Leads His Fraternity

Andrew L. Gustafson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Gustafson of 9925 Greener Road, is currently President of Sigma Pi Fraternity on the Central Michigan University campus in Mt. Pleasant.

Gustafson, a 1964 Plymouth High School graduate, is majoring in History and has received the Gamma Award for Scholastic Achievement from the Interfraternity Council.

In the past Gustafson has served as Sigma Pi's vice president and social chairman. He plans a career in secondary education upon graduation in 1968.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL HUNTER--Don Totten shot this 600 pound black bear in the Hermansville area in the Upper Peninsula on Nov. 22. The bear when stretched out measures eight feet, six inches. Totten said that Conservation officers told him that the bear was the largest taken out of Spalding County in the last 26 years. An average black bear weighs from 200 to 350 pounds.

Careless Driving Draws $115 Fine

Township Judge James E. McCarthy heard 16 cases in Justice Court last week and collected $234 in fines.

The heaviest fine was one of $115 meted out to Thomas G. Smith, 9018 Crown Court, Livonia, for careless driving.

Hybrid Sunfish Planted In 4 Lakes

About 33,500 fingerling hybrids of red-ear and green sunfish were planted last week by the Conservation Department in four southern Michigan lakes under an experiment to improve warm-water fishing.

Last week's project, hoped to be one forerunner to answering the stunting problem that has plagued bluegill populations, involved releases totaling 4,560 of the one-to-two inch fish in Hankard Lake, Washtenaw County; 16,000 in Indian Lake, Lapeer County; 10,000 in Watts Lake, Lapeer County; and 2,800 in Teahan Lake, Livingston County.

All of these waters, except Watts Lake, have had their fish populations removed through chemical treatment to give the new species a clean, free start to hopefully allow maximum growth and survival.

AT LEAST FOUR northern Michigan lakes will also be stocked next spring with these fish, which are hybrid crosses between native green sunfish and red-ear sunfish introduced in Michigan a few years ago.

In line to be stocked are Round Lake, Otsego County, with 3,000 of the tiny hybrids; Clear and Dollar Lakes, Crawford County, with 3,000 and 1,000 respectively; and Little Weber Lake, Cheboygan County with 2,500.

Department fisheries workers hope to carry another 12,000 of the young fish through the winter at the Wolf Lake Hatchery for other plantings next spring in waters yet to be pinpointed.

IF THE NEW fish take to the stocked waters as well as they have in Illinois where experiments have been carried out on them, they should reach a respectable catch size--for panfish--of about six inches at least by 1970.

"They may even grow faster than that if they don't reproduce," says Department warmwater fish specialist Buddy L. Jacob.

Strange as it may sound, the hybrid fish are being given a try-out because they aren't prolific reproducers and are expected to be even less so in Michigan, where colder water temperatures may not meet their requirements for natural reproduction.

Jacob explains the situation this way: "The big snafu in warmwater fish management is that bluegills in particular have generally overproduced themselves to a point where a shortage of space and food have resulted in millions of undersized fish."

Under experiments in Illinois this fish has reached 8.5 to 10.5 inches in five years and attained a weight spread of between .6 and 1.2 pounds. Under growth conditions in Michigan, which usually are less than the best, bluegills generally reach only four or five ounces in that same time span.

Patients Plan Holiday Sale

Handwork made by patients in the geriatrics wards of the Northville State Hospital will be on sale at a holiday bazaar from 1 to 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2, in the B building at the hospital.

Santa Claus will be at the bazaar after 5 p.m. Saturday. The public is invited to the sale.

Elected To Board

Lillian J. Carrol, of Livonia, has been elected to the Board of Directors of the Detroit Chapter of the National Association of Accountants.

She is the first chapter historian for the Detroit group.

Bob Duffy wants $5,000 for a cottage on Lake Michigan.

Last week he added $20 to his NBD Savings Account.

How does Bob expect to get enough money for a summer home with $20 a week? By saving regularly. Bob's been adding $20 to his NBD savings account every week for the last year. At the current rate of four percent annual interest, paid and compounded quarterly, Bob will have $5,733.32 four years from now.

He'll buy his cottage on the lake, and have money to spare.

Bob chose the National Bank of Detroit for some very good reasons. Bob has the convenience of banking at more than ninety offices. He can save by mail. Or, if he wants to save automatically, he can ask the bank to make regular transfers from his NBD checking account.

He'll also have the security of knowing that he's saving at Michigan's largest full service bank.

If you're saving for something special, take a hint from Bob Duffy. Open a savings account at any NBD office.

It could be the beginning of a lot of sunny days.

men in service

First Lieutenant Norman S. Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Terry of 1075 Roosevelt, Plymouth, has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at McCord AFB, Wash.

Lieutenant Terry was decorated for meritorious service as an administrative officer at Columbus AFB, Miss. He was cited for his outstanding professional skill, leadership and initiative. He is now at McCord as commander, Headquarters Squadron, 325th Combat Support Group. He is a member of the Air Defense Command.

Lieutenant Terry, who has completed a tour of duty in Vietnam, was commissioned in 1964 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

A graduate of Plymouth High School, he attended Jackson (Mich.) Junior College and received his B.A. degree in art in 1964 from Troy (Ala.) State College.

The lieutenant's wife, Patricia, is the daughter of Griffin Martin, of 5108 San Francisco SW, Tacoma, Wash.

Boilerman/Second Class Kenneth E. Hitchcock, USN, son of Mrs. Garnet M. Hitchcock of 969 Sutherland, Plymouth, and husband of the former Miss Helen M. Graham of 603 Hudson St., Clawson, has returned to the United States after a seven-month deployment to the Far East aboard the anti-submarine support warfare aircraft carrier USS Hornet.

During the deployment the Hornet operated as a unit of the Seventh Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin with the mission of halting the flow of supplies from North Vietnam to enemy forces in the south.

Army Captain Kenneth Gregory, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Gregory, 391 Sunset, Plymouth, received the Bronze Star Medal near Pleiku, Vietnam, Nov. 6.

Capt. Gregory earned the award for outstanding meritorious service as the operations and training officer of Headquarters Troop, 1st Squadron of the 4th Infantry Division's, 10th Cavalry near Pleiku.

Dentalman Apprentice Thomas Price, III, USN, son of Mrs. Thomas Price of 40541 E. Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, and Seaman Apprentice James F. LeBlanc, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. LeBlanc of 13443 Danbury Road, Plymouth, Mich., have returned to the United States after a seven-month deployment to the Far East aboard the anti-submarine support warfare aircraft carrier USS Hornet.

Seaman Kenneth A. Schwab, son of Mrs. William F. Schwab of 14632 Greenbrier Court, Plymouth, and husband of the former Miss Linda L. Cabrera of 15710 Freeland, Detroit, helped his ship, the guided missile armed destroyer leader USS Halsey, earn the Navy Unit Commendation.

The ship, presently in San Diego, Calif., was presented the award for its outstanding performance as a search and rescue, and advanced anti-air warfare unit during its deployment in the Gulf of Tonkin from July to December 1966.

Army Private Jim L. Luvisch, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour L. Luvisch, 11961 Amherst Court, Plymouth, completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Nov. 10 at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids of "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Army Private Dale R. Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schultz, 1101 South Harvey, also has been assigned to Company C, 12th Battalion at Ft. Knox, Kentucky. He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of today's men in service.

Army Private Gregory A. Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hood, 334 Scituate Drive, has been assigned to Company C of the 12th Battalion in the U.S. Army training center at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

City Faces Action On Waste Disposal

The report on Livonia's incinerator study is being brought up to date.

A supplement on the grass problem also is to reach City officials soon—perhaps this week.

The City's dumpsite is disappearing more rapidly than officials like. It is being guarded against invaders hunting a place to dispose of debris of all kinds.

The revised report will include the problem of industrial and commercial waste from a steadily growing community.

Residents pay for pickup of garbage and trash through millage assessment, and the city operates a landfill for disposal.

Business also pays the price, but must haul its own debris to use the dump. If it hires a private contractor for pickups the dumpsite is denied as a disposal place.

This regulation has never been tested in the courts, but was made because of the volume of debris that comes from the variety of plants. No limit is placed on the number of garbage and trash cans put out by the householder. At cleanup time the city's trucks fall behind in carting away the mountains of trash that accumulate.

DAVID L. JONES, assistant director of the Department of Public Works, and charged by Director Robert A. Shaw with handling the garbage-trash collection and disposal problem, pointed out that not only has the city's population practically doubled within six and one-half years, but society is increasing its per capita pickup poundage per day.

The city's dumpsite, with latest acquisition of 14 acres, totals about 100 acres, with 15 set aside for roads, incinerator site and other purposes. About half the remaining 85 acres have been filled, and Livonia's 200 tons of debris a day is cutting into the remaining acres, wider and deeper.

Jones believes the city should speed up a decision on establishment of an incinerator alone, or create an incinerator authority with neighboring communities also facing Livonia's disposal problem. Fourteen communities have organized the Southeast Michigan Authority, six the Central Wayne Authority.

Livonia has sent questionnaires to Southfield, Redford Township, Northville and Northville Township, Farmington and Farmington Township, Plymouth and Plymouth Township, about their willingness to join.

Redford Township, with no dumpsite and 110 tons of waste a day to dispose of, is building a transfer station—it's waste must be hauled away at added expense.

Farmington Township, reportedly about 70 per cent not built up, but with a reported 87 1/2 tons a day, is said not to be interested in an authority but content with individual disposal paid for by each resident.

Jones said the development of communities is forcing dumpsites (landfill is the polite word) farther away, and that the hauling charge can become a costly expense.

He believes that building an incinerator, with or without the cooperation of a neighbor or neighbors, is necessary to assure Livonia of a solution to its debris-garbage problem. The plant would reduce the waste to 20 per cent ash, and prolong for years the remaining landfill site.

'We're Moving Ahead. A City Without A Way To Dispose Of Its Waste Would Be One Big Mess. . .'

troit's incinerator experience, in which garbage is "cooked" instead of reduced and hauled away for burial, had created some opposition to an incinerator for Livonia. Jones says the odor can be eliminated, for a price.

He also said that if Livonia faces the problem of building a transfer station, packing could be costly. The city's 12 trucks pickup three to four loads a day, or up to 48 loads. Packing this mountain of waste for haulaway trucks, to cart it to a distant dump, would be expensive for a city that expects a population of 175,000 within 12 years.

Jones also said the State Health Department regulations for dump coverage also is tightening the disposal problem, and the policing of landfill operations daily.

Livonia, now with 103,000 residents, is doing a good job with old methods, but the immediate future requires action, supplements when they are received.

"We are moving ahead," Jones said, "A city without a way to dispose of its waste would be one big mess."

Council will dig into the study

Some owners of spacious lawns haul grass to the landfill, dumping it with Livonia identification credentials, which are required under the policing program established could become an incinerator problem, if left in the mixed collection.

"INDOOR WEATHER PACKAGE" gives you YEAR 'ROUND COMFORT

Now, no matter what the season, you can efficiently and inexpensively clean, humidity, pre-heat and provide clean fresh air in your home. Simply add the following necessary accessories to your present heating and cooling equipment.

A Skuttle Electronic Air Cleaner refreshes the atmosphere of your home. It banishes cooking odors, dust, pollen, dirt and smoke. Therefore, walls and ceilings stay clean twice as long, and painting expenses are greatly reduced. Actually cleaning time is cut and the life of draperies, furniture and rugs is increased, simply because there is no dirt to accumulate. Allergy sufferers praise the performance of the Skuttle Electronic Air Cleaner. Even particles seen only with a highly magnified electronic microscope are collected and eliminated with its use.

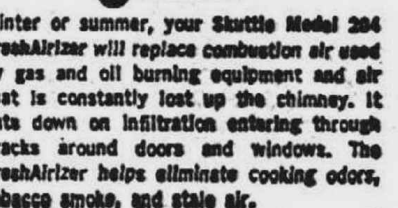

The Skuttle 90-5 Dramatic Humidifier gives positive controlled humidity that eliminates dry winter air, makes your home a more comfortable place to live. It reduces annoying electrical shocks and saves fuel by reducing the temperature setting required for comfort. Superior humidity levels can only be maintained through a controlled power humidifier. The Skuttle Stainless Steel Dramatic Humidifier provides the right amount of controlled moisture at all times.

All or any one of these accessories may be installed individually or as a package on your present furnace.

Electronic AIR CLEANER • Skuttle Dramatic HUMIDIFIER • FreshAirizer

Winter or summer, your Skuttle Model 204 FreshAirizer will replace combustion air used by gas and oil burning equipment and air that is constantly lost up the chimney. It cuts down on infiltration entering through cracks around doors and windows. The FreshAirizer helps eliminate cooking odors, tobacco smoke, and stale air.

Mrs. Mayer, Ex-School Aide, Dies

Funeral services for a well-known Livonian, Mrs. Ruth Mayer, were held at 1 p.m. today (Wednesday) in the Maney-Burrell Funeral Home, 9300 Middlebelt Rd., with the Rev. Dr. Richard Dunkelberger officiating. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Mayer, formerly a health and accident insurance secretary for the Livonia Board of Education, died in Wayne County General Hospital Saturday at the age of 59. She had been retired from her secretarial post since Sept. 29.

Mrs. Mayer resided with her husband, Edwin J., at 9915 Auburndale, Livonia.

Surviving besides her husband is a son, Edwin R. Mayer, who recently returned home on convalescent leave from military duty in Cu Chi, Vietnam. The younger Mayer has been recuperating from wounds at Great Lakes Naval Hospital and will return there after services here.

Also surviving are Mrs. Mayer's seven brothers and four sisters: Hilding and Arvid Taube of Calumet; Carl Taube of Wayne, Ernest and Richard Taube of Hancock; William Taube of Battle Creek, and Gustave Taube of Columbia; Mrs. Joe (Esther) Yarbbery of Wayne, Mrs. Robert (Blanche) Brown of Lincoln Park, and Mrs. Herbert (Viola) Pinkham and Mrs. Alfred (Dorothy) Kangas, both of Detroit.

Chief Sees 14 Middle Schools

James Rossman, superintendent of Plymouth schools, estimates that in about 30 years the district may have as many as 44 elementary schools with 14 middle schools.

The district comprises an area of approximately 54 square miles which includes the City of Plymouth, all of Plymouth Township, portions of Canton and Northville Townships in Wayne County as well as portions of Salem and Superior Townships in Washtenaw County.

New schools will develop as the population increases in the district and the existing schools cannot handle all children adequately.

Next year the district hopes to be able to group all of its sixth, seventh, and eighth graders in various middle schools and put all ninth graders in the high school.

Ninth graders won't go into a high school until 1969 when the second high school is expected to be operating.

Trailer Court Addition Gets Township Okay

Plymouth Township Planning Commission has given approval by a 5 to 3 vote to a preliminary plat addition to the Oak Haven Trailer Court on Ridge Rd.

The trailer court proposes to add another 84 units.

In other business, the commission had a request to change zoning from single to multiple dwelling at Schoolcraft and Eckles Rd. The commission asked the petitioners to furnish a more complete plat plan.

Also, a public hearing was scheduled for January to discuss rezoning of property on the south side of Plymouth Road just west of Eckles for multiple dwellings.

Watch It With That Big Tree

Deer hunters and others tempted to haul a Christmas tree home from the north are reminded by the Michigan Department of Agriculture that transportation of trees, evergreen boughs and some other plants is illegal without a bill of sale or proof of property ownership.

During the month of December, there is an exception to the law, and not more than two trees may then be transported without any bill of sale.
