It was an announcement from Harold Fischer, director of the Area Planning Commission, that the Howmet Corporation, that has been located in Dearborn for some time, has decided to move its entire operation to Plymouth Township.

"As a matter of fact," Fischer stated, "it will be an expanded operation when it is transferred to our area and will . be a plant comprising 84,000 square feet, with a value of $1.3 million."

THE new plant will be located on Ann Arbor Road, just east of Vico Corporation. Official announcement of the choice of Plymouth as the new site was made by John J. Burke. president of the Howmet Corporation, who added:

"As part of the division expansion, the company decided to move from two existing plants in Dearborn to one large single, completely modern plant of 84,-000 square feet."

At present the plant has only 23,500 square feet in Dearborn. The Howmet Corporation produces hard facing welding rod, tungsten carbide coated parts, specialty master alloy and powdered metals.

According to John Fritz, general manager of the Metal Products Division, the company expects to double its employment rolls following the move to Plymouth. At present the company has only 97 persons on the pay roll.

This was the glad tiding passed along Friday afternoon by Gene Slider, city clerk, who also serves as secretary of the City of Plymouth Planning Commission.

News doesn't stop happening just because it's Christmas, and this newspaper is continuing its expanded coverage during the Detroit newspaper strike.

You probably know, by now, that the open housing bill was defeated in the State House of Representatives - but how did your district's representative vote on two key motions? We've got the story on page 3-B.

You'll also probably visit your church on Christmas day, but there are a few scenes at other churches and homes that you'll find attractive and inspirational. Our photographers have put together some of the best scenes on Page 1-B.

Some of the late pre-Christmas local basketball games and highlights of professional sports news are wrapped up on page 8-C. And as usual, there's the local news the facts about government and business, education and society that you won't read or hear broadcast anywhere else. Last year The Stroller used the columns of the Observer Newspapers to express his Yuletide greetings. He has had several requests to repeat them and, in response, he is offering the greetings of yesteryear brought up to date:

The Stroller would like to wish a Merry Christmas to our soldiers and sailors everywhere - to the Army, Navy, Air Corps, Marines, Coast Guard, Wacs, Spars, Waves, to Red Cross Nurses and to every boy and girl, man and woman in uniform

He'd like to wish a Merry Christmas to those who can't remember names and to most of those whose names they can't remember. To the little woodchucks and to all those who travel the streets carrying signs front and back advertising some product. To the manufacturers of anagrams and the inventor of the jig-saw and cross-word puzzles. And to the folks who don't eat spinach.

The Stroller also extends greetings to people who refuse to wear wrist watches and to the third tallest man in the Eastern Hemisphere. To the men who are vainly trying to bring the wearing of vests and gold chain watches back in style. To people who stand in line in front of the cinema palaces and to those who never have eaten snails. To the people who chew plug tobacco and to the man who invented the fly swatter. To the children of all retired ball players and musicians who were born in February.

TO THE JUDGES OF ALL pigeon races and to all sign painters. To men who refuse to listen to radio programs and to those who wrestle bears. A special greeting to those who don't watch television and to all astronauts and other folks who go up in the air easily.

The Stroller wishes the greetings of the season to all persons whose initials are W.W.E. and to all canary breeders. To all slogan writers and boys under 13 who can spell, pronounce and define the word "hecatompedon." To all athletes who never signed a testimonial for an article they never used and to all men who drive reindeers in Lapland.

Best wishes to the fashion designers who conceived the idea of mini-skirts for women and to the man who made the first rubber mat. To the people who trimmed Christmas trees and hung holly wreaths and to people who never walk under ladders, or pick up pins. To the men who sharpen figure skates and to those who still shave with the old fashioned straight razor and to the inventor of the

Peace On Earth, Good Will Toward Men: Can It Be A Reality Or Just Fond Hope?

On this night before Christmas in all parts of the Christian world there will be strains of the old traditional chant, "Peace on Earth - Good Will Toward Men" reverberating over hill and dale, throughout the villages, towns, hamlets and the concrete jungles of major cities.

It will mark the annual celebration of the birthday of the Christ child and the celebrations will take on various forms in all lands. But the theme will be the same.

As we think again of the Wise Men following the Star to Bethlehem for the holy event and the warmth and friendship of the Yuletide, one has cause to pause and wonder.

Peace on Earth-Good Will Toward Men. Is it a reality or just wishful thinking and a fond hope against hope?

It is a wonderful thought, the thought of a world where we love our neighbors, where all is peace and quiet and where oil has been poured on the troubled waters and all is serene.

Behind the friendly feeling of this season when brotherhood reaches its highest peak of the year, there is the thought that Peace on Earth is just a hope-like hoping for the millenium.

As we chant the old Christmas carols, the guns have been quieted on the Vietnam war fronts - the bombing has been stopped for just a day. Tomorrow the forces on both 'sides will return to the fighting with the resultant loss of life.

When the firing resumes it will be a reminder that the world has been at war almost constantly since 1914 when World War I was started.

That was to be a war to end wars. It didn't. There followed World War II, then the conflict in Korea and now the present fighting in Vietnam and southeast Asia.

There has been a war almost constantly for more than 50 years. True, there was a spell between World War I, the war that was to make the world safe for democracy, and World War II But even then there was the struggle and the fight for survival in a great depression.

The Bible speaks of 100-year wars. They have been recorded in ancient times and it is just possible that the present conflict may go on and on in some form or other to round out another century of conflict.

But it was ever so. The big change today is the fact that because of improved communications we learn of the uprisings much quicker than we did in olden days.

When we look around us there is a struggle everywhere. Even the birds of the air and the beasts in the jungles don't live in peace. You'll find hawks devouring their feathered neighbors. And the jungles are rife with fighting. How else could the bushy-maned lion have become known as the "King of The Jungle," with a fight to earn the title.

It is traditional that buffalo herds stage a round-up each year to establish a "king." The larger and more aggressive animals lock in combat and battle to the death to determine the leader.

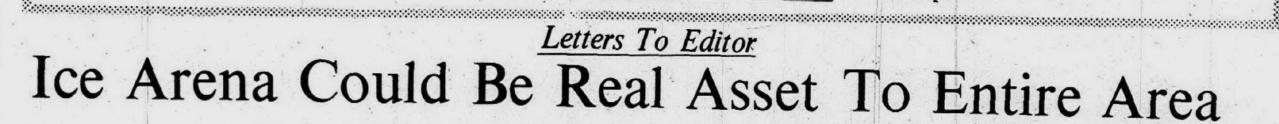

Wherever one looks there is conflict. It may be a war, or it may be just in the everyday battle to eke out an existence. So, life becomes a struggle-a battle for survival that takes many forms.

Sometimes this competition becomes ruthless - just as ruthless as a fight with death-dealing weapons.

One of the finest things about Christmas, then, is the fact that it gives us the opportunity again to celebrate the birthday of He who came to save the world and in the celebrating to chant the ever heart warming carols-

"Peace on Earth-Good Will to Men." .

But on this Christmas Day we must ask-"Is there a chance of reality or is it just a wraithlike hope?"

After all these years there is not too much about Christmas that has not already been said in one way or another. Some of it has been said in poetry, some of it in song, some is printed on the inside of Christmas cards, and some of it has been said by newspaper columnists.

Are you tired of the steamed in either a gas or electric taste of a turkey that has been roasted in foil? Or perhaps you are one of those people who want a lovely brown bird and achieve it by basting again and again and again.

Now you can save that foll for wrapping left-overs, and use your basting spoon in the salad--here is a safe, economical and easy method for roasting the most gorgeous bird in the world. All you need is a brown paper shopping bag! Prepare the turkey as you usually do, rubbing with salt, butter and filling with your favorite dressing. Set the oven at 350 degrees.

When the turkey is ready put it in the bag and place the bag in a roaster or on a broiler rack and pan. Then, if it's an 8 to 12 pound bird, forget it for 4 or 5 hours. If it happens to be a 14 to 16 pounder don't give it another thought for 5 or 6 hours.

IN A POLICY change, the U.S. has shown its intention to break North Vietnam's will to fight by permitting American pilots to fly through a formerly restricted buffer zone along Red China's border. Previously policy was limited to smashing supply lines. Bombing is still forbidden to docks in Haiphong, North Vietnam's primary port. Meanwhile, American troops repelled an attack by 500 Communists at an outpost near the Cambodian border.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON signed an order to cut federal spending by $4.3 billion -- a move that may lead to congressional passage of a tax increase. Congressmen have been reluctant to lift taxes as an anti-inflation measure until the administration has shown some signs of cutting spending.

GREECE'S KING CONSTANTINE, exiled in Rome, is under pressure to make an agreement with the military government he attempted unsuccessfully to oust before a new constitution is submitted to the government. The government wants him back, but only as a figurehead. ## New Bridge Opened In U.P. A new bridge carrying M-35 over the Escanaba River in Gwinn was opened to traffic recently, the State Highway Commission reports.

The new bridge, built at a cost of $289,693, replaces a one-lane steel bridge built in the early part of the century. The exact date is not known, but the 15-foot-ten-inch width-too narrow to permit two cars to cross the bridge at the same time -- suggests the builders considered the automobile a passing fancy.

How Much Is 'Cord' Of Wood? Make sure you really get a cord of fireplace wood if you order a cord.

That's the advice of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's weights and measures experts.

The only correct definition of a cord of wood is a unit equal to a stack four by four by eight feet. That's the dictionary definition as well as the way it's spelled out in the Michigan weights and measures law, which is administered by the Agriculture Department's Food Inspection Division.

WHAT MOST people really pay for when they order fireplace wood is something less than a legal cord, notes Clyde Cottom, the department's weights and measures supervisor.

Cottom says this does not mean they're being cheated, since they usually get about the amount of wood they pay for.

What it does mean, he said, is that . ver the years, the term "cord" has been mistakenly applied to a pile of wood four feet high, eight feet long, but only as wide as firewood, about 16 to 20 inches.

* * PULP AND PAPER mills buy wood by the legal cord throughout northern Michigan, most of it cut in eight-foot lengths.

St. Innocent Sets First Yule In New Church

The American Orthodox special Thanksgiving Service, Church of St. Innocent, 23300 W. Chicago, Redford Township, will hold its first Christmas services in its new building this holiday season.

St. Innocent, first orthodox church in this area, moved into the church last spring. It draws worshipers from Livonia, Garden City, Westland and Farmington as well as Redford Township.

The pastor, Father Igor Burdikoff, said services were planned for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

THE SCHEDULE will include worship at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, with Divine Liturgy for the Eve of the Nativity, and at 9 p.m. the Orthos and Grand Compline midnight service.

The Feast of the Nativity of tablished by the Holy Fathers Jesus, divine liturgy with a will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. Monday.

Tuesday, the day after the Nativity, there will be a 9 a.m. service with the Synaxis of

dox Christian world has celebrated this Holy Day at various times, but not on Dec. 25. Christmas, or properly the Nativity of Christ, was originally celebrated in conjunction with the Theophany (baptism at the river Jordan) on Jan. 19. As time and calendars changed the Nativity became a separate Feast and was es-

Since the Nativity date is really unknown to the world, sanction was given to celebrate the service on Dec. 25. Yet, to this day, many churches still celebrate the Feast on both Jan. 7th and Jan. 19th. ## Three Youths Charged With Church Thefts

Three 16-year-old boys, all students at Plymouth High School, have been turned over to Wayne County juvenile authorities in connection with the recent rash of breaking and enterings of township churches. Det. Adam Kuryliw said that one of the boys turned himself in on Dec. 20.

Kuryliw said that they were working on several good leads before the one boy surrendered. Probably the boy knew he would be caught soon. Most of the stolen items have been recovered and the detecsuccessful deer hunting trips. here is an unusual story right at home.

A Taylor man, named Clifford Buck, was driving his car near Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor Rd, when a female deer darted into the road, and ran into the rear end of Buck's automobile.

When Buck realized he had inadvertently bagged a doe, he stopped his car and checked the animal. It had killed itself in the collision.

Buck didn't want the doe so he turned it over to the Wayne. County Sheriffs Department and they disposed of the body.

Sorrows Sad After Drought

Some strange things happened to the Our Lady of Sorrows basketball team against St. Francis de Sales Tuesday night. Not that Sorrows lost, 85-73 but coach Bob Morris found it difficult to understand why at one stage his team was outscored, 16-0, and why his charges missed on 25 out of 46 free throw attempts. Sorrows, 3-1, going into its final Catholic League action before the holidays, rolled ahead, 16-12, at the end of the first . period, upped its lead to 37-31 at halftime and expanded its bulge to 58-46 in land League game. the third period.

TOM STRAND with 14 points fensively," declared losing and Dennis Perry with 10 were the mainstays in getting Sorrows off to its sizeable advantage.

Then it happened. DeSales countered with 16 straight points--Gene LaFaive getting half of them -- and before Sorrows knew what had hit them. the score read 62-58 in DeSales' favor. In the final period, DeSales boomed in 31 points to 15 for Sorrows to make the final score fairly one-sided.

"THERE'S NO TELLING how on one-and-one situations. If many free throws we would we could have dropped in a have made," said Morris. few, we should have won eas-"Several of our misses came fly."

they never saw such great defense played by two teams," Weedle added.

Faulty shooting didn't help the Clarenceville cause. The team missed several good chances from close in and also was able to hit on only 44 per cent of its free-throw attempts.

Novell and Dave Brandemihl each had 11 points for the losers. Rog Hersman was the high man for the winners. He also picked up 11 points.

Stevenson Shocked By Kettering

There were no blistering remarks registered by coach George Van Wagoner after his Stevenson High basketball team lost to Kettering in a nonleaguer, 48-44.

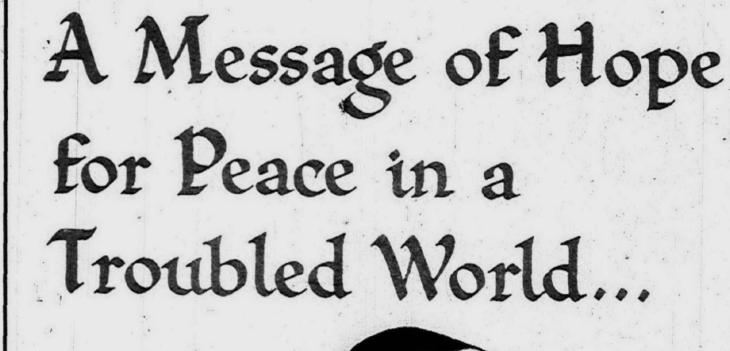

"We played very well, and so did they," explained Van Wagoner.

It was a fairly tight game all the way. Kettering went ahead, 14-12, after one quarter before Stevenson tied matters at 24-24 at the half.

Then Stevenson was held to only eight points in the third period.

In the final period, Stevenson managed to roll back to within four of a tie as Jim Olsen and Dave Mastny led a surge.

Olsen made four points and
