

Schools Plan Continuation Of Quality Education

BY JAMES ROSSMAN
Supt. of Schools

Increasing enrollments, new school buildings, quality education programs, citizen and staff involvement in planning and financing education have been top priority during 1967 and will continue throughout 1968 and for years to come.

The Plymouth citizens approved an $8,500,000 bond issue June 3, 1967, for the construction of a new Senior High School #2 as planned with the assistance of a Citizens Committee.

In October, 1967, the Citizens Committee endorsed the plans for the Senior High School. Plans and specifications are scheduled to be completed by February 12, 1968, and bids received during March with construction to start in the early spring with completion set for September, 1969. The facility will accommodate 2,000 high school youth in grades 9-12 and be the first building on the 300-acre educational park located south of Joy Road between Canton Center Road and Bark Road.

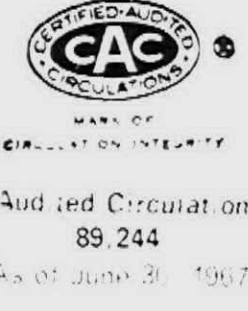

approved in October, 1966, was 3.78 at a net interest rate of 3.7269 per cent.

TANGER ELEMENTARY School, Fiegel Elementary School and additions at Bird Elementary School and Allen Elementary School were completed. Elementary School #9 Middle School #3 and an addition to the Administrative Offices are under construction. To meet the expanding school enrollment nine relocatable classrooms were purchased in the spring of 1967 and located at Junior High-West, Starkweather and Senior High School. A home and lot on Mill Street adjacent to the school bus lot will be purchased and will soon be converted to a transportation office and facility building to improve conditions for the thirty-eight bus drivers. A reading improvement program was instituted during 1967. All kindergarten children were evaluated carefully and a developmental reading program developed for those youth needing more pre-reading developmental experiences. An in-service education program was instituted for teachers to develop improved skills coordinate curriculum between departments, between elementary schools and to plan for new developments. At Junior High-West a pilot project in Time, Space and Matter is progressing while at Junior High-East an Introductory Physical Science program is developing. Plymouth Schools will continue to develop broad curriculum offerings in cooperation with community staff committees who dedicate themselves to improved educational services.

ALL LIBRARIES have full-time librarians and clerical help to provide efficient services. A Director of Libraries has been assigned full-time for supervision and development of libraries in new schools. North Central Association visited Plymouth High School in the spring of 1967. Although some recommendations cannot be completed until the second high school is constructed some improvements are underway. Department heads are scheduled for some planning time to

Downtown Merchants Approve Plan To Establish New Plymouth Plaza

The first tangible steps have been taken to establish a Plymouth Plaza.

No longer willing to wait for approval of the central business district loop plan and others that have been discussed through the years, the businessmen and property owners on Ann Arbor Trail, north of Main Street, have decided to move on their own initiative. As a result they have approved plans for a beautification of store fronts and covered side walks in the strip from Peterson's Drug Store to the Bonnie Discount Store. These plans call for a gas lighted area in a sort of canopy that will protect customers from the weather during the seasons of the year.

BECAUSE THE supporting posts for the covered walk will be imbedded along the curb approval must be obtained from the City Commission. But this is expected to be granted with little, if any, argument.

According to the merchants they are hoping that the idea will spread and that within a short time the entire central district will adopt the covered sidewalk program. While the program has been discussed for some time, it received its greatest impetus during the breakfast meetings that have been sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the Plymouth Area Planning Commission during the past six months. These breakfast meetings followed a plan that proved successful in St. Clair, Michigan, where the entire downtown business section is to be razed and rebuilt under an urban renewal development. To obtain first hand information on the St. Clair plan the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce sponsored a trip to a meeting in the river town and learned the workings.

"WE DID it by conducting breakfast meetings at 6:30 in the morning," Creight Holden, owner of the St. Clair Inn and guiding hand of the project, explained. "We figured on the psychology of the thing--if businessmen would come out at that time of the morning, they would have the enthusiasm to go ahead with a plan such as ours. It worked."

Thus was born the idea of the breakfast meetings in Plymouth and the first step in establishing the Plymouth Plaza is the result. The business establishments that will comprise the first section will include:

- Peterson's Drugs
- Kay's
- Terry Bakery
- Photographic Center
- Kade's
- Beltner's Jewelry
- Kemnitz Candies
- Hugh Jarvis Gifts
- Famous Men's Wear
- Bonnie Discount

Under the plan adopted, the rear of these establishments also will be improved and they are banding together to provide a large trash receptacle in the hope of giving the central parking lot a fresh appearance.

Business Picture Changes

Two new business ventures in the downtown area are due to get started with the start of the new year. The first of these will be the establishment of a modern men's and boys' clothing store in the site being vacated by Davis and Lent.

This Could Be Start Of Something Big

The second is a change on the corner of Main Street and Ann Arbor Trail where plans are being finalized for a new tenant in the site being vacated by the D&C Store.

OFFICIAL announcement of the first change was made over the weekend by Wendell Lent who is entering what he called "semi-retirement" after 30 years in the downtown area. "James Houk and Harold Guenther have purchased the building and fixtures," according to Lent, "and took over as of December 31."

"I have a fond place in my heart for Plymouth," Lent continued, "and I am happy to announce that a couple of young men will shortly operate a men's and boys' store in this location."

Schultheiss had been a stand-out member of the Board of Education. He joined with President Mrs. Esther Hulsing, Gerald Fischer and Robert Soth to form a combine that was long the backbone of the Board.

John McEwen, Plymouth Township Supervisor, is the man in the middle these days. He is being forced to play both ends against the middle in the controversial hike in water rates by the Detroit Water Board.

His death leaves the Board with only Mrs. Hulsing of the quartet. Fischer resigned several months ago to accept a position in New York City. Soth, who was sidelined for months by illness, did not seek re-election last year.

He is caught by opposing viewpoints because he is Plymouth Township's Supervisor and also a commissioner on the Detroit Water Board. As Township supervisor he must support the township board of trustees who personally have gone on record in protest of the rate raises and as a member of the water board he must support its action in raising its rates. Communities serviced by Detroit water were recently hit with a raise in rates but what seems to gall them more than anything is the seemingly arbitrary way in which the water board went about doing it.

Nearly all of Wayne County is serviced by Detroit water but all communities presumably were not given an across the board raise. Some were assessed higher than others. ★ Please turn to page 12B

Eight Accidents Mar Holiday Week-End

Eight traffic accidents occurred in the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township over the holiday weekend--one resulting in the arrest of a Livonia Police Department and given a breathalyzer test. Lt. Guldner, of the Plymouth City Police, arrested him for driving while under the influence of alcohol. Buzzell pled guilty at his arraignment Jan. 2 and will be sentenced Thursday by Municipal Judge Dunbar Davis.

A car driven by Ulysses Bridgeman, 25, of Postiff Dr., Plymouth, was struck on Dec. 31, by a car driven by William McCowan, 52, of Ann St., Plymouth. Bridgeman told Wayne County Sheriffs that he pulled his car off of Eckles Road onto Plymouth Road and the car stalled. McCowan claimed he was unable to avoid hitting the other car. Two mishaps were reported on New Year's Day. ★ Please turn to page 4

CARL SCHULTHEISS

Schools Mourn Loss Of Carl Schultheiss, Heart Attack Victim

Stricken with an apparent heart attack early Sunday morning, Carl Schultheiss, 53, of 11705 Amherst Court, prominent Plymouth Community civic, service and Boy Scout leader, died shortly after his arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

News of his death shocked the entire Plymouth Community since Schultheiss has been one of the most outstanding members of the Board of Education ever since he was elected a trustee several years ago. He had served as vice president for the past three years.

In addition, he was a member of the Y.M.C.A. Board of Directors, a Scoutmaster, member of the First Methodist Church and was employed in the Engineering Department at Burroughs Corporation's Plymouth plant.

Electrical Fees Hiked In Township

New and revised electrical fees will go into effect in Plymouth Township March 1, 1968. They will cover everything from permits to install home outlets to major fire alarm systems. In a letter to the board of trustees, Paul Thomas, electrical inspector, said that the fees had not been raised since 1958 and were in desperate need of revamping. He said, "The township fees are far below the fees charged by other communities. After studying and comparing fees it was found that most other communities in this territory are very much the same..." The board accepted the proposed changes in fees as presented by Thomas and John McEwen, supervisor, and approved the change in its Electrical Ordinance to take effect next year.

Survey Shows Rocky One That Could Beat LBJ

A SURVEY CONDUCTED by the New York Times said that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was the only Republican candidate who could defeat President Johnson if an election were held this week. However, a Newsweek survey said former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon would have almost enough votes to win the GOP presidential nomination if their convention were conducted this week. The magazine poll gave Nixon 561 delegate votes, Rockefeller 363, Calif. Gov.

Ronald Reagan 201 and Gov. George Romney only 89. Both surveys concurred that Gov. Romney would have little chance as of now, of either obtaining his party's nomination or winning the election.

THE NEW YORK Transit Authority and the Transport Workers Union averted a strike Jan. 1 when they reached an agreement on a new contract. The strike would have halted all New York subway trains and buses. Details on the new contract were not available. MORE THAN 300 drugs, some of them termed "old-stand-bys" will soon be banned because they are worthless, because the Food and Drug Administration has disclosed. The decision to ban certain drugs was based on conclusions made from a study of the nearly 3,000 drugs marketed between 1938 and 1962. A list of the first drugs to be banned will be published in January and others would be named during the year. About 80 per cent of the drugs are prescribed items and others are sold over the counter.

THE INTERNATIONAL Telephone and Telegraph Corp. announced Jan. 1 that it had dropped plans to merge with the American Broadcasting Co. (ABC). The merger, twice approved by the Federal Communications Commission, was opposed by the Justice Department.

THE SOUTHERN REGIONAL Council, a private research group, conducted a study among 688 students in five all-Negro high schools in Atlanta, Ga., which indicates that the Negro teenager will become increasingly aggressive in his demands for equality. The council reported that the Negro youth of tomorrow will be far more militant than current black power advocates. The last such study was made in 1940 by the American Council on Education.

U.S. SENATOR Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), 72, has announced he will not seek another term in office because of his advanced age. He said, "The people of Iowa are entitled to a vigorous campaign. I would not be able to fulfill that obligation." He declined to endorse anyone for the senate seat he has held since 1945.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE Board announced recently a unanimous decision to raise reserves on checking accounts—meaning banks must keep more money on hand at all times and thus cut back on lending—and some business leaders have viewed the move to tighten credit as not-too-subtle pressure on the administration and Congress to raise taxes and cut spending. The action, the board said, was taken to stem inflation at home and strengthen the dollar abroad.

AUTHORITIES, who have been searching for bodies in the Ohio River near the collapsed Silver Bridge, at Point Pleasant, W. Va., said that possibly 10 to 14 persons were still missing. Thirty-six are known dead.

THE CHICAGO Police Department has announced that it has uncovered evidence of Ku Klux Klan infiltration into the department. A police spokesman said the Klan infiltration took place over the past several months, apparently beginning with one patrolman who recruited five other officers. He said that Klan membership was not against state law, however, it does violate the rules of the Chicago Police Department.

Stevenson Pupil Dies From Pills

A Westland boy attending Stevenson High School in Livonia died Sunday night from an overdose of pills, the Westland Police Dept. reported.

He is Henry William Klein, Jr., 18, of 8147 Ravine Drive, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Klein, Sr.

The body will lie in state until noon Thursday in the Schrader Funeral Home, Plymouth, with services at 3 p.m. in St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth, with Rev. Canon David T. Davies officiating.

Cremation will be at Woodmere Cemetery, Detroit. He is survived by his parents; three Air Force brothers, Sgt. Everett H., Airman Andrew H., and Kenneth J., of Westland; and two sisters, Mrs. Richard (Laurel) Brevoort of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Holly of Westland. The family came to the community from East North Port, Long Island, N.Y., in 1960.

Australia Quints Doing Fine

QUINTUPLETS BORN New Year's Eve to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Braham in Australia drank their first milk Jan. 1. The quint, born six weeks premature in a 75 minute delivery, were fed through tubes with breast milk taken from other mothers in Brisbane Women's Hospital.

They were the first quintuplets ever born in Australia and their mother Mrs. Patricia beth, Caroline Jean and Geoffrey Roger. The children were estimated to weigh about three pounds at birth.

The Brahams have four other children, including twins born less than a year ago.

NORTH VIETNAM said Jan. 1 it would be willing to open peace talks with the United States. However, it stipulated the U.S. must stop bombing cism they received of their first television show, which was produced and directed by themselves, called "Magical Mystery Tour." Critics called the show "appalling" and "tasteless nonsense," but Paul McCartney, in defense, said, "I think most people were expecting a plot but there was none."

ELEVEN ORENSE, Spain, Spaniards have been sentenced to prison for their part in the manufacturing and sale of liquors made with methylated spirits which resulted in the death of 51 persons. A liquor factory in Orense was also ordered to pay damages of $280,000 to the relatives of the dead and to the people blinded by the spirits.

North Vietnam before talks can begin. Washington had no reaction. The statement came from Nguyen Duy Trinh, North Vietnamese vice-president. "If the U. S. Government truly wants to talk, it must, as was made clear in our statement Jan. 28, 1967, first of all stop unconditionally the bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam," he said.

A U.S. MILITARY spokesman reported that American combat casualties in the Vietnam War, from January, 1961, to Dec. 23, totals 115,983. This figure includes 15,812 men killed, 52,665 seriously wounded and 46,640 slightly wounded. Another 866 were reported missing, captured or interned. He said that current U.S. strength is 478,600 and they are battling a minimum of 223,000 North Vietnamese.

FRENCH JOURNALIST Michele Ray, in an article in Paris Match, said that the hiding place of Cuban revolutionary Ernest (Che) Guevara was given away by a peasant who wanted a 50,000 peso (nearly $4,000) reward.

Skiers Hope Mercury Firms In Area Also Get Share

Despite a start less favorable than last year, Michigan's winter resort owners need only cold weather to get things really booming.

For more than half of Michigan's 83 winter resorts now have modern snow-making machines and aren't dependent upon old-fashioned snow, according to an Automobile Club of Michigan survey.

But owners do need the cooperation of the weather man, because snow machines can't operate unless the temperature drops to 28 degrees or lower. Jerry E. Fisher, Auto Club touring manager, pointed out that a year ago the season started in late November, and resorts were able to retain the snow for most of the month of December.

This year, by contrast, there have been only two weekends in December when skiing was possible in most Lower Peninsula resorts.

IF THE WEATHER cooperates from here on, resort owners still hope to have a good year, perhaps attracting some 300,000 skiers by the time the winter fun season is over in March. A good year could be in prospect despite the warm weather so far because the number of skiers is increasing each year, Fisher said. In addition to skiers, several hundred thousand more ice fishermen, snowmobile enthusiasts, festival-goers and just plain sightseers are expected to seek outdoor fun.

Skiers and other resort visitors will find rates on the average only slightly higher than last year. At Mt. Holly, for example, prices on all facilities cost $5 a day on Saturdays and Sundays and $4 a day for weekdays. Since last winter season, major improvements have been made at many centers, including new lodgings, slopes and multiple lifts and additional chair lifts, snow machines, tows and other facilities.

Skiers alone may spend some $30 million, an increase of about $2 million over the 1966-67 season when winter sports conditions were ideal.

EASTERN MICHIGAN has 14 daily plus three weekend ski areas open to the public, all within a few hours' drive of Observerland. Some 200 slopes are included in these areas.

Mt. Maria Ski Lodge at the south end of Hubbard Lake near Alpena is in its fourth year of operation. Future development plans include a new lodge and dining room.

Burton's Colonial Village, a winter resort six miles north of Alpena, offers snowtrailing by snowmobile, tobogganing, ice fishing and skating.

EXPANSION ALSO has taken place in southeast Michigan, with Mt. Holly leading the way. Mort Graddis, owner of Mt. Holly, is in the process of realizing a 10-year dream that will cost about a million dollars. Graddis is building up his main hill by moving sand and clay, a project that will take three years.

Mt. Gramplan, two miles east of Oxford, has expanded its capacity by adding a new ski run and also increased the capacity for beginners, making six ski runs in all.

WINTER SPORTS facilities range from modest to plush, with a price for every budget, Fisher pointed out.

About half of Michigan's sports centers have lighted slopes for night skiing. Seven have heated swimming pools, two have airplane landing strips, 43 offer meals and 26 have cocktail lounges and bars. Many have dancing, entertainment and teen activities.

Michigan's total of ski resorts is exceeded in the mid-west and east only by New York, which has 113, Fisher said. A great deal of winter sports action is in western Michigan, where the 38 areas represent almost half the state's total. East Michigan has 18, the Upper Peninsula 15 and southeast Michigan 12.

SKI CENTERS which made 1967 debuts are Schuss Mountain, west of Marcellona in north-west lower Michigan, and Black Forest Ski Area, west of Port Huron in southeast Michigan. Snow Valley near Gaylord reopened under new management.

'67 Homicides Set All Time Detroit Record

DETROIT RECORDED more homicides during 1967 than in any previous year, surpassing even the prohibition year of 1926. Detroit police logged 331 homicides for 1967—there were 326 in 1926. This 1967 figure shows a rapid increase over the last few years—in 1966, 232 murders were committed, 204 in 1965, and 138 in 1964. Police statistics show that 200 were murders, 57 excusable homicides (self-defense), 45 justifiable homicides by police and citizens, 17 manslaughters, and 14 manslaughters by negligence.

FOUR MT. CLEMENS teen-agers--Dennis Banners, Dave Herdman, Peggy Graham, and Linda Prout--were nearly drowned Dec. 31 on Lake St. Clair after the ice boat they were riding in became marooned on the Lake. A wind came up and forced a crack in the ice throwing the two girls into the water. The crack in the ice became so wide that efforts on the part of the Harrison Township Fire Department to save them failed. Finally, a small helicopter from Selfridge Air Force Base rescued the four youngsters who suffered only a numbing chill and exposure.

A NEW YORK TIMES survey of Republican leaders in the 50 states indicated that, if the presidential election were held this week, Gov. George Romney would be defeated by President Johnson. The survey also disclosed that Romney would not only be soundly beaten by Johnson but he would also not be able to carry even his home state. Johnson's victory over Romney, at this time, would be a greater runaway than his defeat over Goldwater in 1964.

FOUR YOUTHS were arraigned on charges of first degree murder Jan. 1 in the fatal shooting of Anthony Elias, owner of Marlon's Market, 1215 E. Nevada, Detroit. They pleaded innocent before Recorder's Court Judge Thomas L. Poindexter and were returned to Wayne County jail to await examination Jan. 10. Elias was killed Dec. 29 in his store. The four are: Grady Goolsby, 17; Franz Turner, 17; Samuel Sherman, 17; and James M. Coleman, 18, all of Detroit.

STATE SEN. ROBERT E. CRAIG (D-Dearborn) has begun a petition drive to outlaw throw-away bottles in Michigan. He said he will use the signatures to force a statewide vote on the question if the legislature kills a bill he plans to introduce next month. Craig said that no-deposit, no-return bottles are a safety hazard and cost more than $7 million a year in rubbish removal.

THE DEVELOPMENT of the five-cornered Kern Block in Downtown Detroit, on Woodward beside Hudson's and Crowley's may be delayed for years because of a legal hassle that is evolving between the two top development competitors, M.E. Arden Co. and Pierre Bonan and J. Schochet. The City Planning Commission and the Department of Housing already approved the Arden Co. plans for a sixty-story hotel-office building but Bonan-Schochet contend that Arden has pirated its ideas for their own plans. If Arden should win the contract from Detroit Common Council, Bonan-Schochet will file suit in court and a lengthy battle will follow.

SOME OF General Motor's autos will have $22 added to their purchase price to augment GM's cost of installing the new, government regulated shoulder harness. GM was the first auto maker to announce compliance with the regulation. Exceptions to the $22 cost are $25 for the Buick Electra and Riviera and Oldsmobile 98. Cadillac costs will be boosted $30.

News Round Up

FORMER U.S. REP. William C. Miller, the Republican candidate for vice-president in 1964, has said in New York that Gov. George Romney had failed to measure up as presidential material and he thought New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller--a Romney supporter--would be the GOP's best choice for 1968.

JUDGE VINCENT J. BRENNAN has been elected executive judge of the 13-man Detroit Recorder's Court bench for the third year in a row.

Harry Y. Duplessis, head of the probation office's youth division has been promoted to deputy chief probation officer. Joseph DeAgostino has been named supervisor of the youth division, and Bruce K. Remick will have the new post of statistics and research supervisor.

William B. MacBride and John Stasewich have been named assistant supervisors of the court felony division. And, John Binford Smith has been named head of the probation department's misdemeanor division.

LANSING IS AMONG 11 metropolitan areas selected to conduct studies on methods for crime prevention and law enforcement planning. Robert C. Weaver, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, has announced.

A CASE OF THE FLU forced Acting Governor William Milliken to postpone a meeting with supporters of a proposed statewide Open Housing Law, which had been called by Milliken to map strategy for the next regular legislative session which begins Jan. 10. Following the House defeat of an open housing bill Milliken asked for the meeting. "To set in motion immediately whatever steps may be necessary to ensure a successful effort for fair housing in 1968."

Employe payrolls at the two General Motors plants in Livonia totaled more than $51.4 million during 1967, it was announced Tuesday by Fisher Body Plant Manager, F. Harger Green, and Chevrolet Plant Manager, Harrison T. Price. In a year-end statement, the two plant managers said that an additional $69.4 million was paid to more than 1,500 firms within a 75-mile radius of the city which supplied the plants with materials and services during the year.

Employees at the two Livonia GM installations contributed more than $224,450 to the 1967 United Funds in communities where they reside, representing a $53,000 increase over 1966. In addition, employes purchased U.S. Savings Bonds through payroll deductions valued at over $1.6 million. Employment at the two plants during the year averaged nearly 6,100.

DURING 1967, GM awarded approximately $180,000 to employes for ideas submitted in the GM Suggestion Plan. Three of the program's top awards of $6,000 were given to Fisher Body employes and two to Chevrolet employes.

The 1.1 million square foot Fisher Body plant, located at 28400 Plymouth Road, fabricated nearly 1,125,000 sets of interior trim for GM cars during 1967. These included seat cushion covers, door trim pads, headlinings, sunshades, and the like. The plant held an employe open house last spring and, along with public tours, has entertained a total of 4,500 visitors during the year. A weekly plant tour is available to the general public each Thursday at 1 p.m. The tour leaves from the main lobby and is about one hour in duration.

THE CHEVROLET PLANT, at 13000 Eckles Road, plays a major role in Chevrolet manufacturing. All springs and bumpers of current model Chevrolet passenger cars are produced there, as well as most of the service parts for Chevrolet truck and commercial vehicles.

In addition, such parts as stabilizer bars, control arms, and various engine, bumper and spring mounting brackets are made at the plant. A highlight of the year was on May 24, when ground was broken at Chevrolet-Livonia for a new storm water clarifier to help protect the purity and wild life of nearby Newburgh Lake.

After completion of the project, storm water will be intercepted, diverted to a pumping station, clarified in a separator tank and released into the sewer.

Metro Roads Needed

Future highway programs should focus on urban traffic problems--more so than in the past, Henrik E. Stafseth, acting state highway director, said. He told a meeting of the Highway Users Conference of Michigan.

"We must develop a program to eliminate the traffic jams that clog our downtown and suburban arteries twice a day. There's no reason we should take longer to drive to some airports than to fly from the airport to a distant city."

STAFSETH SAID the rapid urbanization of America is concentrating transportation demands in metropolitan areas where the planning, design, right-of-way acquisition, construction and operation of highways are "complex, difficult and expensive."

"THE SOLUTION of our transportation problems in metropolitan areas will require strong community leadership with municipal, county and state agencies cooperating closely with the federal government in a common cause."

Stafseth said that by 1985, there will be eleven million people in Michigan compared with the 1965 total of 8.2 million, an increase of 34 per cent.

CHEVROLET SPRING AND BUMPER PLANT MANAGER, Harrison T. Price, (left), and Fisher Body plant manager, F. Harger Green make year-end check on construction progress of Chevrolet's new storm water separator system. Designed solely to help protect the purity and wildlife of Newburgh Lake, the 330,000-gallon clarifier tank will eliminate most of the oil and other waste materials washed into the sewer from the plant site by heavy rains.

Aliens To Register In January

More than 3.4 million aliens will register during the month of January.

The nation's 32,000 post offices will participate in this registration, required under the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952.

Every post office is responsible for providing registration cards and turning the completed cards over to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

The cards must be picked up personally by registrants and may be handed in to the post office or turned in directly to Immigration and Naturalization offices.

Post offices will accept the cards only until the end of January. Aliens who have not registered by Jan. 31 must go to the Immigration and Naturalization offices to do so.

Aliens are not necessarily restricted to registration at their home post office. If away from home, they may register at a nearby post office.

Mail Will Cost More On Jan. 7

Effective Jan. 7, it will cost six cents to send a letter by first-class mail and 10 cents for air mail.

The 20 per cent increase in postage applies to all first-class mail up to 13 ounces and to all air mail up to seven ounces.

New rate for post cards will be five cents and for air mail post cards eight cents.

UNDER THE NEW rate structure, all first-class mail over 13 ounces and all air mail over seven ounces will be merged into one category with a single rate.

A flat rate of 80 cents will be charged for all mail in this category up to one pound. For mail weighing more than one pound, the present air parcel post rates will continue to apply, except that postage on matter weighing between one and five pounds will change at half-pound intervals instead of one-pound intervals.

In addition to the postage increase on regular and air mail, there will be a 25 per cent boost in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines and a 34 per cent hike for advertising circulars, occupant mail and other material in the third-class category.

Third-class mail postage will go up from four to six cents for the first two ounces. Unsealed greeting cards may also be sent at this rate.

SPECIAL HANDLING will be available on third-class parcels weighing between eight and 16 ounces. Special handling has not been available on these parcels since 1958 when this weight of third-class mail was transferred from fourth to third class.

There will be no change in charges for special delivery, special handling, registered mail, certified mail, cash on delivery or insurance.

Additional mailings to be effected by the rate increase will include all categories of second-class mail, bulk-rate third-class mail, controlled circulation mail and the educational materials category of fourth-class mail.

Congressman Esch Reports

Senior Citizens Get Break In Social Security

One of the major accomplishments of the first session of the 90th Congress is the passage of far-reaching Social Security legislation. This bill, which was passed with a near-unanimous vote in the House of Representatives, grants a 13 per cent across the board increase in Social Security benefits to the 23.8 million persons now receiving them.

This increase is long overdue. The older people of our nation have been the hardest-hit victims of our nation's massive inflation. Their fixed incomes have been able to buy less and less in the market place and many have faced real hardship. The 13 per cent increase will be of significant assistance to them.

I strongly supported a provision which would grant a 3% Social Security benefits increase each time the Department of Labor Consumers Price Index rose by an equal percentage. Such a provision would prevent the costly time-lag between an increase in the cost-of-living and legislative action on Social Security proposals. Unfortunately this provision was not accepted, but I will continue to work for its consideration and passage next year.

Another provision of the 1967 bill was an increase in the outside income a person can earn without forfeiting his Social Security to $1,680, or $140 per month. I was very disappointed that this increase was so small and will push for the revision of this figure to a much higher level. The minimum monthly payment under Social Security was increased from $44 to $55.

All of these higher benefits required that the Congress approve a higher tax as well. The wage base was raised from the first $6,600 of annual income to $7,800. As a result, the maximum Social Security tax will rise in 1968 from $290 to $343.

Considerable controversy centered around the welfare provisions of the Social Security bill. The welfare changes are limited to the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program (A.F.D.C.).

"Each state would calculate, on January 1, its total population of children 18 years old and younger and the population of this age receiving welfare because of the absence of a parent at home. After July 1, the federal government would not make matching payments for any higher proportion of the children on the rolls.

A new program of providing welfare recipients with work and training would be established, together with day-care centers. The goal of this provision is to encourage welfare recipients to get jobs and become self-supporting.

"While this over-all effect of the bill is positive, I strongly feel that we need a total re-examination of our Social Security system. Such an investigation would highlight and detail administration and benefit changes needed to solve more adequately the problems of our growing number of older Americans. I have and will continue to demand such a study.

"If you would like a more detailed analysis of the recent changes in the Social Security system please write me in Washington and I'll mail you the information promptly."

A. R. ADAMS

Better Business Bureau Expert who will address Businessmen's Forum Thursday Noon at The Meeting House.

Eight Accidents Mar Weekend

Jordan, 31, of Plymouth, was hit in the side by a vehicle driven by Larry Smith, 17, of Westland.

Two passengers in the Smith car, Sharry Hale, 14 and Richard Landers, 17, were injured along with Smith.

Sheriffs stated that the Jordan car failed to yield right-of-way and was hit by the other auto. Jordan was not hurt.

The other New Year's Day accident happened at Ann Arbor Trail and Parkview.

An auto driven by Robert Pearson, 29, of Plymouth, was struck by another car driven by John Calahan, 20, of Northville.

The Sheriff Patrol reported that Pearson apparently failed to yield the right-of-way and pulled in front of the Calahan car. Both men were injured but they are in satisfactory condition, according to police.

Schools Mourn Schultheiss

latter was elected for a full term and then, in turn, resigned after being transferred to Florida. He was replaced by Mrs. Ray Hulce.

Fischer, longtime president and financial wizard of the Board, resigned last fall and was replaced by Robert Gilmore.

The School Board, which attended Tuesday's services in a body, will hold its first meeting of the New Year next Monday but it is believed appointment of a successor will be delayed for some time. It is felt the shocked Trustees will require considerable time to study possible candidates since they will have to realign and reorganize committees to fill the void left by the passing of Schultheiss.

Schultheiss is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Jean Schultheiss; two sons, Wade, of Royal Oak, and Mark, with the Peace Corps in Hawaii; one daughter, Gail at home; a brother, Earl of Newton, N.J. and a sister Mrs. Luise Jordan of Eau Claire, Wisc.

Services were conducted Tuesday morning in charge of Mr. Sanford Burr with burial in Roselawn Cemetery in Madison, Wisc.

Farmington Reviews 1967 In Photos

APPROVAL--Farmington teachers voted to adopt a new master contract on the opening day of school in September. The new contract provided for an $800 per year increase in salary and fringe benefits for the teachers.

CONSTRUCTION -- New sewer and water lines have been installed throughout the township. Here the machine digs a trench for the installation of water lines in the southeast section of the township.

SNOW, SNOW -- This scene was repeated many times throughout 1967 beginning with a 3 1/2 inch snowfall in January.

Girl Scouts Take Over Skating Rink

By JUDY ZAHLER
474-7408

There were Girl Scouts as far as the eye could see Wednesday Dec. 27, when the Girl Scouts of Southeast Farmington held a roller skating party at Northland Rink. The party was attended by more than 400 Girl Scouts and parents--19 troops from Southeast Farmington, two troops from the University District and two troops from the Northwest District of Metropolitan Detroit Council and one troop from Southfield District.

The festivities started with a grand march by all the skaters and later on there were special numbers for couples, threesomes and foursomes. The management put on a start-and-stop game and gave as prizes free admission tickets to the rink and refreshments at their stand.

After all the receipts were in from the party and all of the bills paid there was a surplus of $10, and this money will be turned over to the Southern Oakland Girl Scout Council to put in the campership fund.

JUDGING from all the reports, the girls had a wonderful time and would like to do it again sometime. And like all good Scout activities there was also a little left to help someone else and many good turns done during the afternoon.

The object of the game was to stop on a number on the floor and win a prize. Sorry I don't know who all the winners were but I do know that little Beth Robinson (a Brownie from Troop 371) won an admission ticket.

THERE WERE many new skaters who skated along the rail for support and of course there was a full quota of falls during the afternoon but there were no broken heads or bones and the girls skated to their hearts content. I understand they also ate as if food was going out of style but I guess that is about par for young people.

Several fathers came along as drivers and stayed to join in the fun. The leaders also joined in the skating and kept things going smoothly. The adults were given a chance to skate by themselves for a while and I understand we have some really good skaters around these parts.

In the midst of the party a small group of girls from the Pembroke Chapel asked to be allowed to skate with the Scouts and were graciously invited to join in the fun.

Mrs. Helen Truitt, troop service director for Middlebelt School, was chairman for the party and she certainly did a marvelous job. This ambitious worker is a former leader from Metropolitan Detroit and will be taking over Troop 224 Junior at Middlebelt School sometime in January. We are certainly happy to welcome such a dynamo to the neighborhood.

Students Plan Cruise On Exotic Caribbean

Suburban college and university students are pooling their cash for an exotic Caribbean cruise during the Feb. 1-9 semester break aboard a 500-ton windjammer, the Polynesia.

The spearhead for the trip is the Scuba club of Henry Ford Community College.

Students from Schoolcraft College, the University of Michigan, the University of Michigan-Dearborn, Oakland University and Michigan State University have signed for the cruise.

BY BUYING THE entire charter of the windjammer, students at Henry Ford contend they can save money and have more fun.

The group will fly from Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 10 p.m. Jan. 31 for Freeport in the Bahamas, leave Freeport at 7 p.m. Feb. 8 to return. In between there is the cruise. Kerry Zinger, president of the Scuba club, said 90 already have signed for the trip and the group needs more to fill the charter.

THE CRUISE WILL touch Bimini, Freeport, Nassau and other Caribbean Islands. Bachelor's quarters on the boat run at $156, more luxurious quarters at $189 and staterooms go for $199.

Meals are included and "there will be a daily ration of grog for all."

The Scuba club can be contacted through Zinger, LO 5-9682; Phil Gural, DI 1-1832 and Sue Lapine, 836-4953.

JUST LIKE HOME -- Lena Kibsgaard, Danish exchange student making her home with the Carl Gaisers, 26533 Old Homestead Ct., has found skiing as popular in Michigan as it is at her home in Denmark.

'Instant' Cake Amazes Dane

The average American housewife would have to do some re-scheduling of her work day if she moved to Denmark, according to Lena Kibsgaard. Lena, Danish exchange student living with the Carl E. Gaisers, 26533 Old Homestead Ct., this year, finds "all those cans and packages" in our food stores a source of amazement.

"We don't have instant mashed potatoes and instant cakes," comments Lena, "But they do taste good."

THE 19-YEAR old Danish girl, whose name is pronounced "Laena," looks like the typical tall Scandinavian with her sea-blue eyes, her golden to brown hair and five-foot eight-inch height.

She is four inches taller than her American "sister," Gail Gaiser, with whom she is a senior at North Farmington High.

She and Gail have found great compatibility. Mrs. Gaiser says "They have all their interests in common--they are very well matched."

Both girls are ski enthusiasts and spent part of the Christmas holidays up north on a skiing trip.

"Denmark is so flat, though," says Lena. "We have no big hills--we have mostly cross country skiing."

(This should come as news to the Michigander who thinks Michigan is flat compared to Sun Valley.)

LENA THINKS her home town of Vejle looks bigger than Farmington Township although the population of 35,000 is about the same.

"My town seems bigger," she says, "because it's more a city. . . it's gathered more in one place."

Vejle is noted for its bacon and Lena's father had a large farm on its outskirts until a few years ago when he was burned out.

His daughter laughs when she says, "He now runs a sandwich shop." Mrs. Gaiser says it is a "large" sandwich shop.

Fully conversant in English, Lena has had no trouble adjusting to Yankee language. She also speaks German, French, Latin and Swedish.

SHE HAS had some trouble adjusting to American football, which she has seen on television and a few times on the scene.

"It's too rough," says Lena. "Soccer, our game, isn't really rough in that way. Soccer players don't pull at each other, don't knock each other, don't throw each other down. I can't say I really like football."

This young woman's presence here from Denmark loaned an international touch to Christmas services at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, which she attends with her host family.

Prince of Peace's pastor, the Rev. Carl Mehl, thought because of Lena's heritage, the church should have "Christmas Around the World" this year and Lena was asked to sing a Danish Yule song.

ALTHOUGH the exchange student comes from a country hit by Germany during two wars, when asked if her countrymen have any prejudice against Germany, she says, "Maybe in some of the old people. Most of us travel back and forth a great deal to Germany."

"Prices are cheaper there," she goes on. "We go there to buy cosmetics and sweet things. They come to Denmark to buy butter and meat."

Danish men are called "Herr," as are Germans, but their wives are called "Fru."

Judging from "Fru" Gaiser's interest in Lena, the American woman will be a good substitute for Fru Kibsgaard until the Danish girl returns to her homeland across the Atlantic in August.

Many Refugees Still Wandering Homeless

The thousands of persecuted Jews from Europe and Russia have long since found a home and haven and 200 years before Israel was formed the United States was begun by political and religious refugees who were fleeing from England and France.

In light of this well known history, it is almost impossible to believe that there are still nearly 400 mentally disturbed refugees wandering the modern globe vainly trying to find a foot hold.

Perhaps their homeless condition lies in the grim fact that they are mentally disturbed because in some countries "insane" people are still feared. Whatever the reason may be, and there seem to be many of them, these hapless wanderers have been forced to roam the earth.

Some are alcoholics, others drug addicts, seeking solace from the dreary existence of the rootless, a mere number on a roster.

A few have committed crimes, usually petty infractions, but serious enough to label them "unacceptable for normal migration."

"It is shocking," says Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan, U.N. high commissioner for refugees, "and a reflection on the whole system of international refugee work."

"The governments are largely to blame," adds the 34-year-old son of the late Aga Khan III, "for the fact that in 1967, we should still be seeking solutions for European refugees who came within our mandate as far back as the immediate postwar period."

"It is all part of the problem created by the rigidity of immigration."

Europe has nearly solved its refugee problem by resettling thousands of homeless persons in Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the United States.

Even those with physical disabilities, such as amputees and epileptics, were accepted en masse in the late 1950s in a heartening break-through.

But the plight of these chronic losers, the mental casualties, remained a gnawing problem for the refugee commission.

"It wasn't until we were able to provide psychiatric treatment that we began to get encouraging results," Prince Sadruddin told the Associated Press. "We found, for instance that supposedly habitual criminals went straight when they received mental help."

"But as long as such people remain handicapped, the more difficult they become to care for. It is a situation that requires urgent remedy."

The fortunes of these mental casualties brightened several years ago when Dr. F. A. S. Jensen, chief medical officer for the Australian Immigration Department in Rome, became interested. With the blessings of his government and the refugee commission, Jensen launched an investigation in 1961 of 394 so-called hopeless cases in Italy. Within a year, after crash treatment, 209 of them had been accepted for migration.

Until Jensen drew up his dossiers, delving into the reasons behind the troubles of these hapless persons, there had been a tendency to deal in labels rather than personalities. The label "alcoholic" or "penal record" was enough to bar immigration without further discussion.

Such a case was Piotr D., whose nerves had been shattered in a concentration camp. He turned up in Italy at the end of the war and became known as a belligerent drunk. In 1948, he became embroiled in a free-for-all in which a man lost his life. He spent three years in jail.

Convinced that his life was ruined, Piotr was in the process of drinking himself into oblivion in 1962, when he came under Jensen's scrutiny. The doctor analyzed his plight as "a typical case of the vicious circle of frustration - drinking, further frustration, further drinking."

In 1963, Belgium agreed to accept Piotr, and for 18 months he worked in a coal mine, until it closed. There was a return to the frustration cycle and several brushes with the law. But two Belgians, a social worker and a psychiatrist, espoused Piotr's cause, and attempts are now being made to find him work that will not provoke his "frustration tolerance," eroded by years spent in refugee camps.

In 1962, the refugee commission had all of its perennial rejects, about 800 persons, given thorough medical examinations including psychiatric evaluation. Over the ensuing five years, the commission managed to place 400 of these persons and their families in countries willing to give them shelter and employment.

"Last spring, we tackled the job of making sure that the final 400 persons in this group should be helped in one way or another," says Prince Sadruddin. "Migration is not possible for the entire group. We expect that about half will have to be cared for permanently, either in protected communities or similar institutions in the countries where they are now living."

But it is a far cry from the future these persons faced a few years ago.

MSU Aims At International Look

Michigan State University officials are studying methods of building an international dimension into the education of American students.

More foreign travel, more foreign jobs and more trade are making the new outlook necessary, according to the blue-ribbon committee for the Review of the International Programs.

The 11-member faculty committee recommended that the Asian Studies Center be elevated to full center status.

Such an international emphasis could provide off-campus assistance to industrial, political and educational leaders in the state.

Students, too, should be able to take more cross-cultural courses and should have a broader choice of overseas study programs, the faculty committee said.

THE REPORT IS another in a series of major studies that provides a basis for analysis of the course of Michigan State University in the years ahead. Other in-depth reports have been issued on academic freedom and on undergraduate education.

The committee's findings "The International Focus at Michigan State University" were presented to MUS Provost Howard R. Neville in a 107-page document that took 12 months of research, interviews and hearings to compile.

Headed by Dr. Lawrence L. Beger, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics the committee included 11 faculty members with substantial international teaching and research experience.

MSU ranks ninth in the number of international programs among universities in the United States the CRIP reported.

in the U.S., was established in 1956 to stimulate involvement in international education.

Since 1960, the committee notes, geographical study centers have been organized for Africa, Asia and Latin America and study programs have been started for Russian, East Europe and Canada.

There are also international institutes, the committee adds, in agriculture, business, education and communication.

There are 22 long and short term programs overseas with MSU affiliations, the report states.

AND IT SUGGESTS that, as resources permit, MSU should consider setting up study centers for the Middle East and Western Europe.

It proposes an institute for international politics and administration.

State Investigates Charitable Trusts

By FRANK J. KELLEY
State Attorney General

A charitable trust is a large amount of money set aside for the benefit of the general public and public purposes.

Parke-Davis Will Expand Research Lab

ANN ARBOR: Parke, Davis & Company has announced a $1 million addition to its research-administration building here that will provide 22,000 more square feet of laboratory and office space for the drug firm's departments of clinical investigation and research information.

Included in the two-story project will be space for medical personnel offices, laboratories, an area for the future installation of computer equipment, and a section that will be used for handling chemical and biological records.

In all, the construction will add another 126 feet in length to the existing front of the research-administration building, bringing its total length to 378 feet. Both old and new sections will be 84 feet wide.

Henry W. Grubb, Parke-Davis' superintendent of construction engineering, says he expects construction to begin immediately. Completion is scheduled for the end of 1968.

Enlargement of the research-administration building brings to about $17 million the total investment in five separate structures at the Parke-Davis complex on Plymouth Road since it was opened here in 1960. The other four are a research laboratory building, a pathology-toxicology structure, a high pressure laboratory, and a power house.

Ski Clinic Slated In Redford Township

On Thursday, January 11, a ski clinic will be held at 7 p.m., in the Shear Elementary School gym, located next to Thurston Gym, for children from the ages of 8 through 12.

This clinic will include an outstanding film both interesting and informative to any and all youngsters who have any desire to don a pair of skis, according to Sidney Greenberg, project chairman.

Hugo Bohm, a certified ski instructor from Boyne Mountain will be on hand to comment and field any and all questions from the floor pertaining to any phase of skiing.

Children are encouraged to have their parents accompany them.

If for any reason anyone cannot attend, and identical clinic

It can be created by will or some other legal device, which in effect establishes a fund. The income and sometimes a portion of the principal of the fund is dedicated for the relief of the aged and poor people; needy, crippled or handicapped children; scholarships; medical and scientific research; schools; libraries; religious purposes; to erect hospitals and homes for the aged; and as it has been stated for any purpose "beneficial to mankind and the community."

THE PROBLEM is that for the most part, the individuals or the general public, for whose benefit the charitable trust was established and who would qualify for such benefits, seldom know of its existence or the identity of the persons to contact in order to secure consideration for possible benefits.

Since 1961, when the supervision of trustees for Charitable Purposes Act of the State of Michigan became effective, 2,830 charitable trusts have been registered with the office of the state attorney general, having a combined asset total of upwards of $5 billion.

The attorney general is vested by the act with broad investigative and enforcement power, and is authorized to take any appropriate court action that may be required to make certain that the interests of the public are protected.

THROUGH INVESTIGATIONS and litigation, inactive trusts are revived and set in motion, questionable investments are resolved, excessive fees and expenses curtailed, all of which results in an ever-increasing flow of benefits to the general public and worthy projects in the state.

This serves not only to aid individuals and groups of the general public but also to add fresh money to the economy of the state, thus further benefiting its citizens and relieving the burden upon the tax dollar.

DOWN DROPPED the thermometer to zero and below and all it did was bring out the outdoor enthusiasts to take advantage of snow on the slopes in Observerland. This gang is getting ready for a toboggan ride. Note the shovel holding back the sled before the bumpy trip.

THIS TEENER put a seat on a runner and had a big time riding down a hill. It's a bit hard on the posterior and shows but he seems to be enjoying every minute of the ride even though he seldom made the bottom of the hill before falling off.

Titans Shackle Murphy And Win

THE UNIVERSITY of Detroit won a decisive victory over Niagara during their Motor City Tournament by holding Calvin Murphy, Niagara's star, down to only 29 points, his season low. The Titans stomped Niagara, 102-91. They also beat their other tourney opponents Portland. However, this may be the lull before the storm for Coach Bob Callihan's front five because they will start the Big-10 season against Wisconsin Jan. 6, who were a high pre-season pick for conference honors.

THE DETROIT LIONS have announced that ticket prices will be increased for the 1968 season. Reserved seats in the upper and lower decks will be raised $1, although there is no price change in the upper deck "Coaches Corner" or the unreserved bleachers. The price of standing room tickets remains the same while upper deck boxes, third deck and hanger seats are increased $1.50.

GERRY BOOKMYER, 26-year-old harness racing driver, has repeated as champion reinsman at Windsor Raceway. During the 1967 Fall meeting, he piloted 42 winners to set a track record for most victories in a meeting. He also chalked up 38 seconds and 23 thirds in his 186 starts to attain a .380 percentage. Last year Bookmyer scored 31 wins during the Fall meet and also had high percentage and then followed this by adding 38 wins during the 1967 Winter meet.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN'S wrestling team ranks No. 1 in the first college wrestling poll of the season. The Wolverines are favored to win the Big Ten and NCAA championships. University of Oklahoma is rated second and Oklahoma State is third.

RED SOX Pitcher Jim Lonborg must remain in a cast until the middle of February following surgery Dec. 27 on his left knee. The 22-game winner was operated on after tearing two ligaments in the knee in a skiing accident.

BONUS
The Tigers played 163 games in the 1967 season, one more than the usual total of 162. They tied Minnesota on June 21 when the game was washed out after eight innings to account for the extra contest.

Quarterback A.J. Vaughn led Wayne State University's football team in rushing, (322 yds.) passing, (538 yds.) and total offense (870 yds.) during the 1966 season.

Readers Speak Up On Many Vexing Problems

We Get A Pat And A Rap

EDITOR:

This letter has a two-fold purpose: First and foremost it is to commend the excellent articles appearing consistently in the Observer columns. All of the writers should be justly proud of their high quality as well as wide coverage of news matter as it pertains to each endeavor.

The second purpose, but perhaps more important, is to say that the leadership of the Observer Newspapers, as exemplified by Philip H. Power, is unmatched anywhere.

Having stated thusly, may I be permitted to ask Power to be a bit more unbiased politically while he properly, as a publisher, remains critical of all politicians. I am specifically, of course, concerned with Power's frequent unjustified criticism of our Gov. George Romney.

I am not an affiliated member of either of our national parties. But I have campaigned both for former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and presently for Romney. I plead on behalf of those of us in the lower echelons who have no particular ax to grind, save that of following a true leader.

Williams was returned to office again and again by the people because he was honest. Gov. Romney is another great leader who believes in serving all of the people faithfully.

So, Mr. Power, won't you please, Sir, in your good conscience, try not to knock down George just because he has chosen to identify himself with the Republican Party. You know he stands for the people four-square and fair. Let's all join and support Gov. Romney and be on the side of TRUTH.

PAUL NASTOFF

Against Merger In Plymouth

To The Editor,

If there is one paper I enjoy reading it is the Plymouth

Mail and Observer. You can always find good arguments, pro and con, which is what makes news.

A recent edition carried a Letter Box contribution written by a resident of Lake Pointe Village in the township, signed L.R. Jamus. Mr. Jamus deserves credit for the article as it must have taken time and effort and very few of us are willing to devote our time to analyzing our problems much less publishing them.

After living in the township for eight months, he hungers for a return to the good old city life. Life in Plymouth Township has really gotten Lauren down.

He feels a merger of the township with the city or vice versa would be utopia. However, his enthusiasm for city life carried him away and he failed to check the facts.

As Dale Carnegie says, "if you wish to make a successful speech, pick a subject you are familiar with."

I would like to supply the answers to all the problems he mentioned in the order made.

1. "City supplies more services for less taxes;"

ANSWER: Taxes for schools, the county and Schoolcraft College are the same whether one resides in the city or the township. These taxes amount to approximately 85 per cent of the city taxes and 93 per cent of the township tax. For the services referred to, the city, in 1966, collected $14.65 per mill and the township collected only $7.01 per mill. In 1967, the township's figure of $7.01 will drop to $3.02 per mill, which figure is less? These figures may be challenged but will not be changed appreciably.

2. "No street lights in Lake Pointe Village;"

ANSWER: There are street lights at main intersections, however, I checked and am informed that some time ago the residents felt they would prefer to have only their front yard lamps for atmosphere.

3. "Police protection lacking;"

ANSWER: He hasn't seen a sheriff's car for two and a half months. Possibly he is not home on weekdays. I generally see two to three a day plus one state police car. I have checked this problem for over a year and can say that after a call is made a car will be at the scene in three to five minutes, if warranted, in cases such as prowlers, accidents, etc.

4. "Haggerty Rd. in bad condition;"

ANSWER: This is a county road, it is a county responsibility. The same would apply if it were in a city.

5. "Water rates really high in township;"

ANSWER: The cost of water is the same in the city as in the township, namely 53 cents per thousand gallons and not 55 cents. Both governments include in the water bill charges for debt and sewers. Actually the township charge is 2 cents less, but this 2 cents is carried on the regular tax bill. So, it is only a question of whether you have tired blood or not.

6. "Fire insurance rates in the township highest in Michigan due to a volunteer fire department;"

ANSWER: The cost of fire insurance in Lake Pointe is exactly the same as in the city for homeowners. Call your insurance agent for confirmation.

7. "Garbage dump adjacent to his area;"

ANSWER: This dump was there in February 1967 when Lauren moved in. It is a rubbish dump for township residents (not garbage). In case of a merger, twice as much rubbish will be hauled there. The city would be glad to have one this close. They must have their many miles west of the city.

8. "Traffic signals needed;"

ANSWER: These are under the Wayne County Road Commission and not the township.

9. "Has no voice in township government; Would get better representation on governing bodies if both merged; Would have a representative on the Plymouth City Council;"

ANSWER: Government officials of both are elected by the people. On the Township Board of Trustees, which must approve all action by the supervisor, the eastern half of the township has no less than five very capable members on that board. Two are from the Lake Pointe area. Five of the appointed members of the Planning Commission are from the eastern area with two from Lake Pointe. Is not this a voice in your government? As to political appointments, your representatives must approve all of these.

10. "Poor mail delivery;"

ANSWER: Call Uncle Sam. The township is not to blame.

11. "Merger of the two areas will reduce taxes;"

ANSWER: Name one area where this has happened. It is a known fact that township government is the most economical of all. Actually taxes go up with size. Take a look at Detroit, the state or the Federal Government whose costs go up year after year. Living in the township or the city requires one to adjust their thinking to it.

The Citizens Research Council of Michigan is currently studying the feasibility of a merger, including the financial aspects. When this report is available, it will enable all of us to decide our future status. In the meantime, let all of us appreciate the fact that we live in any part of the area. Political aspects should be secondary.

F. MILLINGTON

However in your headline, you gave the impression that South Farmington won, when you should have known that North Farmington won. If any of your staff was at the game, he would also have noticed that the spirit of N.F. far surpassed that of Farmington.

This is not the first time that N. Farmington has been shortchanged by your newspaper. I know that your newspaper covers a lot of territory, but for some reason that territory seldom includes North Farmington.

I'm sure the whole school is disturbed by this lack of objective reporting, and I wish to state a complaint.

EDITOR:

In the Dec. 13 Farmington Enterprise and Observer, you covered the basketball game between North Farmington and South Farmington High. You even included a picture.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Reader Gahagan is correct that the headline was wrong. The story, however, correctly points out that the North won, and the "lack of objective reporting" charge is off-base.

Cancer Patients Flock To Mexico

American officials may not like it, but:

Each morning at 9, a Dodge leaves a San Diego motel or Tijuana, Mexico, passes routinely through customs, and goes to a clinic operated by Dr. Ernesto Contreras.

Dr. Contreras is a former chief pathologist at a Mexican Army Hospital, and the Mexican government considers him magnificent.

He treats cancer patients—many of whom are terminally ill, ready to grasp at any straw — with a drug called laetrile. The reason that American officials don't like it is that they consider the drug worthless.

NOT SO MRS. Cecile P. Hoffman, 57, a former high school English teacher. Mrs. Hoffman relates that in 1959 her American physician removed her ovaries and told her she had an incurable cancer.

She began taking laetrile injections in Montreal in 1962 and still gets two-gram "sustaining" doses once a week in Tijuana.

Mrs. Hoffman heads a tax-exempt California group called the International Association of Cancer Victims and Friends. It has many devoted believers in such controversial drugs as laetrile, kreblozen and other therapies that American state governments and the federal government frown on.

Hundreds of cancer-stricken Americans cross the border into Tijuana every week to undergo treatment at clinics specializing in drugs banned in the United States.

THESE DRUGS and other therapies are called "unproved" by the U.S. government and excluded from Interstate Commerce, but they are legal in Mexico.

Many of the cancer victims have been diagnosed as "terminal" by American doctors and desperately seek anything that offers a glint of hope for recovery.

The road to Mexico starts in many different places. It started in Canada for a family with a child who had Hodgkin's disease. It started in Ohio in 1965 for a psychologist who had cancer of the prostate gland that spread to his bones.

LAETRILE — made from apricot pits — was evaluated by the cancer commission of the California Medical Assn. in 1963. The commission found it had no effect on cancer cells.

The California Board of Public Health in 1963 adopted a regulation saying that laetrile could no longer be used by physicians in the state. Also, in 1963, amendments to the Federal Food and Drug laws went into effect prohibiting "unproved" drugs from being manufactured or distributed in the United States.

Gordon Wood, district director of the Federal Food and Drug Administration in Los Angeles, said the Tijuana clinics sprang up in 1963 in the wake of the laetrile ban north of the border.

"Obviously, we cannot control the laws and the practice of medicine in Mexico. It's a sovereign country," Wood said. The FDA may not even send persons across the border to investigate, he said, adding that as long as U.S. citizens get the injections in Mexico and do not bring the drug back home there is no violation of U.S. law.

Missed Free Throws Ruin Livonians

Ypsilanti Nips Bentley, 52-50

Bentley missed chances at eight points in the final quarter of the Northwest Suburban holiday tournament on four one-and-one free throws, and bowed to Ypsilanti 52-50 Saturday at Bentley.

BENTLEY'S Ken Bollin (52) tips in a rebound and is fouled by Ypsilanti's Mike Ryan during the early moments of the championship game.

The missed free throws and a stout zone defense in the second half gave Bentley a second place in the tourney final, with Ypsilanti taking home a well earned first place trophy.

YPSILANTI JEALOUSLY guarded the Bentley baseline in the second half shutting off point-producing moves from the Bulldogs big center Ken Bollin. Craig Larsen, Ypsilanti's 6-foot-9 center had nothing but trouble under his own backboard as the Ypsilanti offense never seemed to get organized. Bollin and Walt Blancha, Bentley's two big men dominated the Ypsilanti backboards, but could not do the same at their own end. Larsen and crew closed up the middle with the big man stuffing several Bentley shots from around the key.

Ypsilanti took an early lead and was never headed in the low scoring contest. The Braves led 17-13 at the end of the first quarter, but Bentley closed the gap to 33-30 at half time.

The Bulldogs, with Bollin and the middle bottled up were forced to shoot from outside and could dump in only seven points in the third quarter, missing key free throws.

first half on long shots. Larsen netted 16 for Ypsilanti and guard Al Richison added 11. Both teams tried unsuccessfully to man a full court press.

BENTLEY, down 47-52 in the closing seconds got a boost from Blancha who drove for a two pointer, was fouled and sank one, bringing the score to 50-52. But Ypsilanti controlled the ball and held on for the win, after missing a free throw at its end.

By George Maskin observing sports

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — You sit and talk with Dick Wilson, the man who runs the Pompano Park harness raceway a few miles to the north.

Getaway day at Pompano is Friday, and Wilson is a pretty busy man. But he's already thinking about going north—back home as he says—to the Detroit Race Course at Schoolcraft and Middlebelt in Livonia where he will be, one of the key officials in the annual harness meet staged by the Wolverine Raceway.

The trotters will gallop at Wolverine in late March and it might be a trifle chilly, compared to the weather one enjoys in these parts. "We had a great meeting at Wolverine last year," Wilson says. "We think it should be even greater in 1968."

"While we are busy with problems down here, we aren't neglecting Wolverine. We're working to land some topflight stables to race up there . . . and we already have some in the bag."

"We're planning some big races and our fans will see some of the country's best trotters and pacers in action."

Wilson naturally is elated over the way trotting action, attendance and wagering has boomed at Wolverine in recent years.

"We think that at Wolverine we have one of the finest plants in the country for harness racing," Wilson added. Anybody who has been to Wolverine in the spring must agree.

THE TROTTERS aren't the only sports action which has visitors to Southeast Florida hopping these days.

This has to be the hub of the sports world this winter.

They had the North-South football game down here—a game won by the North, coached by Michigan's Bump Elliott.

There was the Orange Bowl clash Monday between Tennessee and Oklahoma . . . This week the pros take over with the runner-up bowl between Cleveland and Los Angeles . . . and a week from Sunday, there's the classic of all—the Super Bowl.

In between, the St. Louis Hawks are hosting several National Basketball Association games, like the one with the Pistons the other night.

The horses are running at Hialeah Park, the most beautiful oval around.

And then one really can go to the dogs . . . the dog tracks, that is . . . and then they have a sport down here called Jaia Lai.

IF THAT'S NOT enough for the sports-minded person, the golf courses are all green . . . tennis courts pop up all over the place . . . and if you care to swim . . . there's the ocean or any one of a thousand outdoor pools.

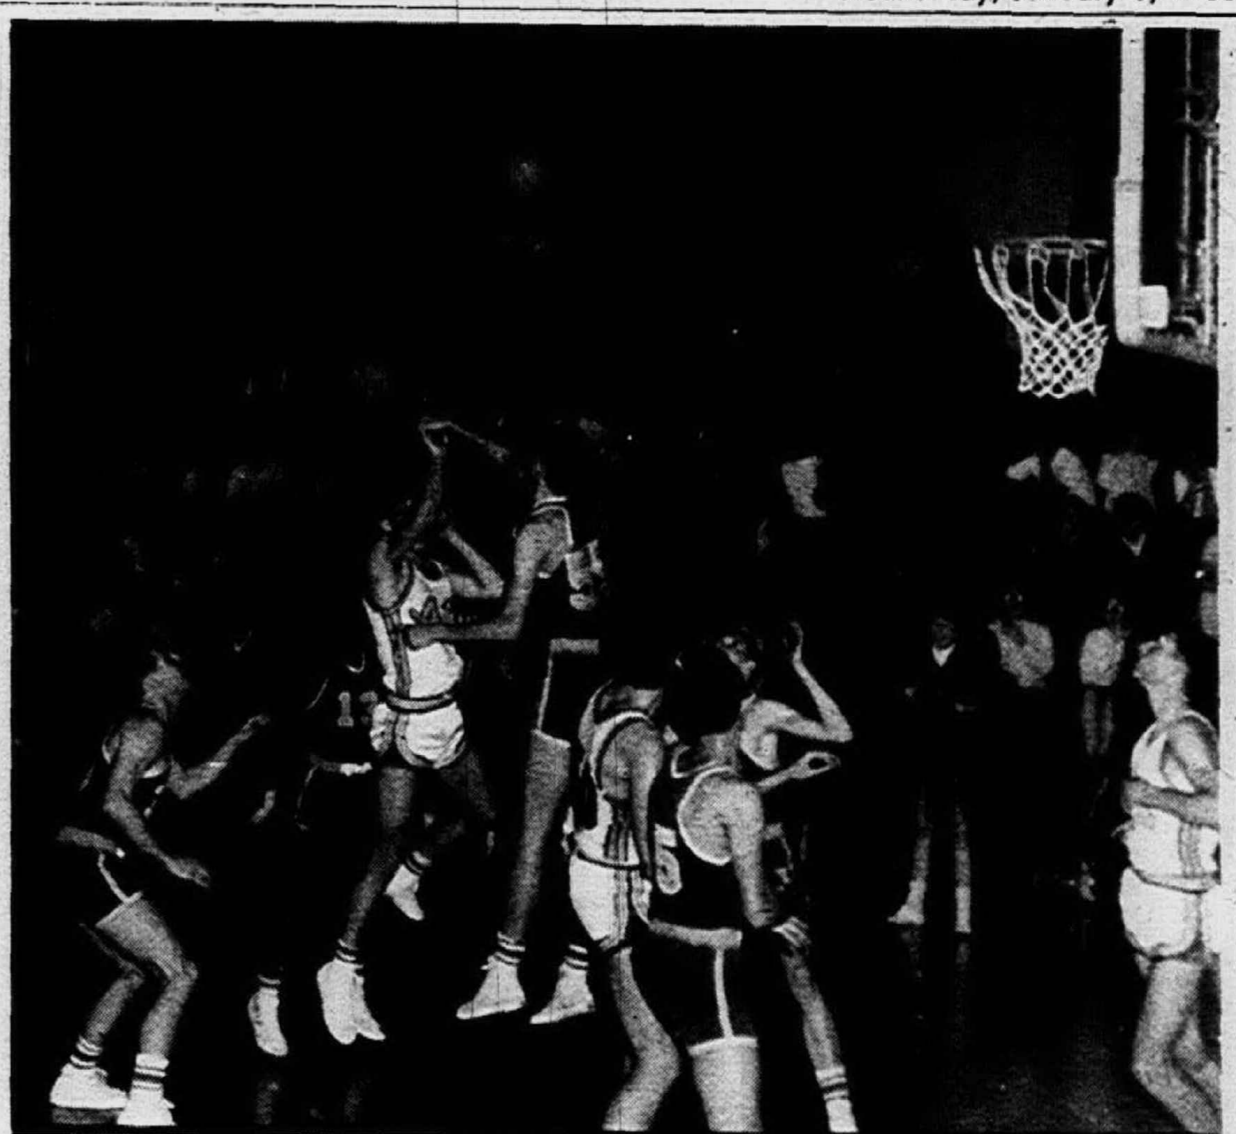

Each hotel tries to outdo its neighbor in the way of a pool, and when you're here, you must try and get a suntan, even when it's cold.

After all, considering the prices, you can't go home without a touch of burned skin.

And, you wouldn't believe it: several of the hotels even have artificial skating rinks, something we'd like to see more of in Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township, etc.

And, as you ride about, you can't help but notice that the various baseball parks are being readied for the invasion of the various major and minor league teams for whom trading isn't far away.

Snow and Ice? Now, what's that, friend?

THAT'S CRAIG LARSON, of Ypsilanti, leaping high in the air to bat down a shot by Mark Chrisman, of Livonia. Larson was a thorn to Bentley throughout the championship contest.

Redford Showing In ABC Rated Area's Top Sports Story

Auld Lang Syne . . . Americans will start figuring and worrying about their income tax and the experts will start to make their predictions about 1968. As is customary, as a year ends, The Observer reflects upon the past 12 months and lists the top sports stories that have prevailed on the area's sports scene.

Preps To Test Pro Time Rule

It's back to work for Observerland area high school basketball teams Friday, and the schedule will be topped by a "something different" game pitting Farmington and Plymouth at Plymouth.

The two teams will copy a rule from the professionals by making the team with the ball get off a shot within 24 seconds.

PLYMOUTH HIGH Athletic Director John Sandmann has arranged with the Detroit Pistons to loan the school a special set of the 24-time clocks.

"It's an experiment for high school basketball," said Sandmann, "but we feel that this soon may become a part of our prep game."

"We feel that we should do something to end the stalling and the needless fouling and also give a team which is trailing a better chance to pull up in the closing part of the game."

To use the 24-second clocks, Sandmann gained the approval of Farmington High officials, including athletic director Jack Cotton, and also an okay from state prep director Charles Forsythe.

ACCORDING TO Sandmann, many schools are eager to learn the results of the Plymouth-Farmington game.

"We're to file a report which is to be published in high school manuals," said Sandmann, who is very enthusiastic about the use of the 24-second clocks.

Sandmann himself attended a Pistons game last week to school himself in the use of the clocks.

Under the 24-second rule, a team loses the ball on a violation if it fails to take a shot within the prescribed limit.

IF A TEAM SHOOTs and the ball hits the rim or backboard and the same team makes a successful rebound, the 24-second clock starts anew in its favor.

The National Basketball Association credits the 24-second clock with revolutionizing the pro game when it was installed over a decade ago.

Garden City East, unbeaten before the holidays in regular-season action, goes back to work at Robichaud with an eight game streak on the line.

Twice Green Bay hit the stout Dallas forward wall from a yard out and twice it was turned back. Then with the alternative of trying for a game-tying field goal that would have thrown the game into overtime or a game-winning touchdown, Starr, with the consent of Coach Vince Lombardi, coolly ordered a quarter-back sneak and went in for the six points.

Small matter that Don Chandler converted to make the score 21-17—Green Bay had the victory and everyone in the stands knew it including the Oilers.

The aroused Packers watched the kickoff roll into the end zone. Then snuffed off two Oiler passes before the final gun.

Prep Sports Heads Eye Suburban School Congress

THREE GARDEN CITY East cagers close in on Thurston's Dick Wagner as he tries to get loose for a shot from underneath. Moving in to block the shot are: Charlie Sakmar (22), Harvey Kightlinger (44) and Mike Roth (30). The Panthers won this one handily to gain the finals where they lost to Ecorse.

Goal Is To Help Athletics

Formation of a Congress of Suburban Schools to help improve high school athletics has been proposed by a group of area prep athletic directors who include Jack Cotton of Farmington and John Sandmann of Plymouth.

Cotton, who heads the athletic programs for all Farmington schools, including Farmington and North Farmington High, is chairman pro tem of the group.

Begin Exhibition Games Feb. 24

Opening of 1968 spring training on Saturday, Feb. 24, and a 30-game exhibition schedule featuring five games with the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals were announced Wednesday by the Tigers.

For the second straight year, all of the 30 exhibitions will be played in Florida, it was disclosed by Jim Campbell, executive vice-president and general manager, with the Tigers flying straight home for their American League opener April 9 with the Boston Red Sox.

Manager Mayo Smith has invited all Tigers to report Feb. 24 to the spring camp at Lakeland, Fla., where the Tigers have trained since 1934.

In addition to the 39 players on their spring roster, the Tigers have invited four minor leaguers to work out with them.

at Columbus in 1967, while Heath split time between Toledo and Detroit after his purchase from the Houston Astros in May.

In their Florida exhibition campaign, opening March 8 and ending April 7, the Tigers will meet every one of the other 15 clubs training in Florida.

The Tigers and Oakland Athletics will lift the curtain on the Grapefruit League season at Bradenton March 8. The following day, the Tigers will meet the Minnesota Twins in their Lakeland opener.

the Tigers will make a swing to the Miami area to play the Baltimore Orioles March 23 in their only night game, the New York Yankees at Ft. Lauderdale March 24 and the Atlanta Braves at West Palm Beach March 25.

There is only one open date on the schedule, falling on April 4, after which the Tigers will play the Cardinals three straight days before flying home.

There was a similar pattern with the Red Sox last spring, following five straight years in which the Tigers barn-stormed their way north after the Florida campaign.

Ecorse Ends GC East Streak In Finale, 62-54

Garden City East hit a cold spell; Ecorse became red hot at the same time and therein lies the tale of the championship game in the ninth annual River Rouge holiday invitational tournament.

Macias 16, Harvey Kightlinger 15, Sakmar 13, Rick Clack 12, Harold Slade 10, Mike Roth 20 and Bill Crowell 4.

ville but managed to win by six points, 62-56. In the final night's action, Ecorse topped Garden City for first place; Thurston spanked River Rouge for third place; Highland Park crushed Northville, 58-33, for fifth place; and Robichaud won its first game of the year over Lincoln Park, 66-64, in overtime for seventh place.

Rocks Whip Glenn In Consolation Game

After blowing a first round game with a scoring famine in the final stanza, Plymouth High's Rocks came storming back in the consolation game of the John Glenn High invitational tournament to blast Glenn, 76-51.

Belleville, as expected, won the championship although it had rough going in the finale where Wayne fell, 62-59, after losing three regulars on personal fouls in the last four minutes.

Then lightning in the form of guard Dennis Smith hit Garden City, which was outscored 19-10 in the fourth frame, and Ecorse retained its tournament championship, 62-54. Smith, who had one field goal in the first half, broke loose for 16 points in the final two periods, 10 in the fourth, to spark his team to its sixth win in eight starts.

Bentley

The Bulldogs moved down court but missed the opportunity to score Bentley Friday had beaten Farmington - who they beat earlier this season in a thriller at Farmington - to go into the finals. Bollin had 24 points in the 63-57 win.

IN CONSOLATION games Saturday Stevenson lost in the last seconds to Southfield 60-57. The see-saw battle was knotted 34-34 at half.

A poor second half cost Redford Union a game as Berkley trimmed it 68-49. Dennis Field had 14 for the losers. In the consolation round for third and fourth place the two Farmington teams locked horns for three quarters and stayed close.

But in the fourth, an apparently tired Farmington team was routed by N. Farmington 81-65 as Ron Fluter hit for 12 of his game-high 28 points. Rick Knock added 13 for the Raiders and John Mann 17.

Edison Plans Billion $ Monroe Plant

A billion dollar expenditure in coal production, transportation and electric energy generation facilities is described in final plans related to The Detroit Edison Company power plant under construction near Monroe.

Over a 25 year period, it is estimated that approximately 100 million tons of coal will be taken from two new highly automated mines being developed in West Virginia and be brought by "rapid transit" unit trains to the power plant. This will assure a source of fuel supply for the increasing electric energy requirements of Southeastern Michigan and the Michigan Electric Power Pool.

PLANS FOR THIS unprecedented project were announced by Walker L. Cisler, Chairman of The Detroit Edison Company.

Others involved in this project and joining with Cisler in the announcement are L. F. McCollum, chairman of Continental Oil Company; George H. Love, chairman of Consolidation Coal Company, a subsidiary of Continental Oil Company; Stuart T. Saunders, chairman of The Pennsylvania Railroad Company; and Alfred Perlman, president of New York Central System.

Cisler described the project as an entire economic system in itself in which mining, transportation, and large scale generation of electric power and related financing is involved. He commented that, "The economic results of this concerted undertaking will be felt not only in Michigan but also in neighboring states where the coal is mined from the earth and transported over land.

"There will be long-term employment and economic opportunity for more than 500 coal miners, engineers and technicians in the Appalachia area, for transportation employees and for those employed at our plant. The productive use of this great natural resource will provide added assurance for a sustained economy in the various states and communities.

"It is a demonstration of sound business enterprise in the public interest and will result in large tax payments to government units."

THE NEW ENERGY production, transporting and upgrading system resulted from a very long and extensive joint study by the coal company, the railroads and the electric company. The system will utilize the most modern and advanced concepts in the design of coal mining and loading facilities at the Monroe power plant. Consolidation Coal Company will supply coal for the plant from two new large mines. The mines are located in the Appalachia area, in the heart of one of the largest coal reserves fields in the eastern United States. The coal company will own and operate the mines. This overall program according to Love, "is dramatic proof of the ability of the coal industry to compete with other forms of energy, even at substantial distance from the mines."

The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads will transport approximately four million tons of coal per year directly from the coal mines to the Monroe plant, using shuttle type "unit trains." Each train will consist of more than 130 specially designed coal cars and electronically controlled diesel motive power units. Each gondola type car will carry in excess of 100 tons. The unit train round trip schedule of 730 miles--from the mines to the power plant and return including the time for loading and unloading--will take about 72 hours. Such coal transportation schedules would normally require 5 to 8 times longer for a round trip. PREPARATION of definitive agreements to reflect this total undertaking is now under way. The power plant, costing more than $200 million, is being built by Detroit Edison on its property adjacent to the Port Authority of Monroe property.

Schoolcraft Class Takes To Air For Instruction

Since southeastern Michigan is not the most favorable area to illustrate geological features at ground level, Schoolcraft College geology instructors John P. Bedford and William A. Ryan have been taking the students on their geology field trips in airplanes. Many phenomena which have been obliterated by the works of man may be viewed more favorably from a few thousand feet above the surface.

Scheduled in groups of three and four, the students leave in four or five place Cessnas operated by the Pamco Aviation Incorporated from New Hudson.

DURING THE two-hour flights, the pilots keep the students informed as to the whereabouts of the plane in accordance with the log prepared for them by their instructors who have explained the entire route in the classroom through various media--colored slides, aerial maps, tape recordings, and explanations of land formations to be viewed.

During the trip the students are asked to note how the hilly lands to the south give way to the flat farm land, and their log points out the drainage patterns of the Huron and Raisin rivers.

On approaching Lake Erie, they note the extreme pollution of the lake by the small rivers as well as the Detroit River. Air pollution to the south is also evident.

South of Monroe, the flight continues up the Detroit River to Lake St. Clair where the students see a fine textbook example of sedimentation in a lake. After making a wide loop over the delta, the flight backtracks over Lake St. Clair just south of Metropolitan Beach and Selfridge Air Force Base, Warren, Birmingham, toward Pontiac.

IN THE PONTIAC area, there is a return to the terrain dotted by many small lakes within the glacial moraines, many of which were formed from large blocks of ice breaking off the continental glacier which once covered the area.

One Trip Changes His Mind

City Manager Shuns Foreign Service

The enthusiastic glint in his eye and the energy with which he tackles his job proves that Richard Blodgett hasn't lost any of his zest for his job as Plymouth's city manager.

The young, athletic type head of the city administration gathered most of his aspirations for a local government berth when he began his freshman year at the University of Michigan in 1954.

He knew when he entered college that working in government was his ambition but how this would take shape wasn't apparent until after the summer between his sophomore and junior years.

That summer was the turning point in his goals.

BLODGETT FIRST considered a career with the foreign service. He envisioned traveling the globe for his country, smoothing ruffled relations between the United States and some foreign power.

However, he changed his mind that summer, after he and two other friends took a tour of the southwest United States, Mexico and Guatemala.

The trio thumbed rides along deserted highways and sparingly spent their meager expenses of $200 apiece.

The trip was taken by the three political science majors to gather information for themselves and their eventual work with federal government.

When Blodgett returned to college the following fall, he had changed his mind and decided Seaman Recruit Timothy J. Kellman, USN, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Kellman of 217 Hamilton, Plymouth, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Army Private William P. Marshall, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Marshall, 41287 Wilcox Road, Plymouth, completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Dec. 8 at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

The course, which simulates Vietnam conditions, includes training in such subjects as land navigation, communications, patrolling, guerrilla and survival techniques plus qualification with infantry weapons.

Army Private Richard A. Larrick, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert W. Larrick, 1953 Elmhurst, Plymouth, completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Dec. 8 at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

Airman Timothy H. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Smith of 14321 Haggerty Road, Plymouth, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Keesler AFB, Miss., for specialized schooling as a communications electronics specialist. Airman Smith, a 1966 graduate of Plymouth High School, has studied at Schoolcraft Community College.

RICHARD BLODGETT

that he didn't want to be stuck in a hot, equatorial climate like the countries he saw and be forgotten there until he was too old to do anything else but retire.

HE SAID that working for a local government appeared to offer more opportunity.

"After I returned to the States, I had decided that America looked a lot better than what I had just seen," he commented.

That trip more than anything else was the turning point in his goals. Local government seemed more inviting to him, so, he changed the thinking that was leading him to a federal or state position.

This change was probably the single factor that led him to become the chief administrator in Plymouth.

Richard D. Blodgett was born on Aug. 9, 1935 in Brooklyn, New York, and he and his family moved to Detroit shortly after that. In 1945, the family made one last move to Ypsilanti.

He graduated from Roosevelt High School in 1953 and the following year entered the University of Michigan.

POLITICAL SCIENCE was his major and he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1958. He, then, attended the Institute of Public Administration in Ann Arbor and finished there in 1960.

During his first year at the Institute he worked with Ann Arbor's planning commission and got the first taste of how small governments operated.

Just before he completed his course, he worked as administrative assistant to the city administrator and piled up valuable on-the-job experience.

He remained in Ann Arbor until 1963 when he became the city manager for Marysville, Ohio. He left Marysville in 1965 and came to Plymouth.

Although his college years were busy ones for him, he managed to find time to get married to a girl he had met at Michigan.

MICKAIL DIANE FARRIN was studying nursing at the time she met Blodgett.

Eventually the courtship turned to wedding bells and the nursing student from Battle Creek and the political science major from Brooklyn became man and wife in 1960.

Blodgett said that he and his wife decided to move from Marysville back to Michigan to be closer to their families.

They both enjoy camping and canoeing and chose Plymouth because it was near a lot of water. In the summer, they also make a yearly canoeing trip down the Pine River.

THE ADMINISTRATOR explained what a city manager does and the difference between a manager and a mayor.

For one thing it seems to be the nature of the job of municipal administrator to move around. He said that most men who hold these jobs switch towns about every six years and this is usually because they have exhausted the possibilities in their town.

That doesn't seem to be the case in Plymouth, he added. To him there seems to be a lot to keep him busy for quite awhile.

Among the most important duties of a city manager is the preparation of the city's annual budget which must be presented to the city commission for final approval.

This generally takes the entire year to prepare because of all the different expenditures that must be included in the report.

THE CITY MANAGER is also a public relations man for his city. In connection with this facet of his job he must keep abreast of all new things in the city and then keep them moving. He added that this was a difficult job because there are so many activities and programs.

The city manager is also the representative of all department heads to the city commission and presents any grievances or recommendations on their behalf.

He said that the differences between a mayor and a city manager are really advantages to a manager.

For one thing a city manager, because he moves around a lot, brings experience from other places to his new town and passes on successful and proven ideas to his new job.

The manager is also trained for his job while a mayor is usually a man unschooled in the office.

MANAGERS IN general are nonpartisan and therefore, don't have the extra worry of trying to please an interest group to the disadvantage of the city.

But, unlike a mayor, a manager speaks on any and all issues but cannot vote on them. The manager, then, acts as an advisor.

"Plymouth seems to be a town of doers, who are looking to the future," he added. This has made his job that much more easier.

He concluded, "The job is challenging which always makes it interesting and I don't regret having made the decision that summer in 1955."

Hatcher To Update Great Lakes Book

Now that he will retire as president of the University of Michigan, Harlan H. Hatcher, 69, plans to devote the next five years to writing about the deterioration of the Great Lakes.

He plans to update a 1944 work on the Great Lakes that he wrote while at Ohio State University.

He wants to tell what has happened in the last 20 to 25 years—not only to the lakes themselves but to the cities around them.

Leland. "The tremendous growth of population, the deterioration of the cities around the lake, and the pollution of our water supply have created a crisis in what was only a few years ago the great heartland of America," Hatcher said.

"If we are intelligent, we can save the areas. Otherwise, the decline will get out of control."

HATCHER WAS a historian and writer on lakes topics before he assumed the presidency of the U. of M. in 1951. He retires at the end of this year and will be succeeded Jan. 1 by Robben W. Fleming.

The soft-spoken, distinguished Hatcher will maintain his residence in Ann Arbor and spend summers at a cabin in

Weatherman Gets Better By Degrees

Everyone, as usual, talked about the weather in 1967, Floyd H. Pearson more than most. Which is only natural as Pearson is the supervisory meteorologist of the local U.S. Weather Bureau.

He's better known and more often blasphemed as the weatherman who's all wet when it comes to forecasting tomorrow's climate. But Pearson left his perennial critics high and dry with a batting average at the end of this year of 82 per cent, thus striking out on only 18 per cent of his predictions.

IT WAS NO YEAR for amateur weather prognosticators, either, being a cool and wet 12 months in general. In the first six months, temperatures ran near or slightly below normal and then from July through November dropped to well below normal readings for that time of summer and fall.

Fact is, according to Pearson, along the way throughout the year we lost 615 degrees which adds up to a daily average deficiency of about 1.7 degrees.

The year's coldest day was a Wednesday, Feb. 8, when the thermometer dropped to four below. Normally, we should have had at least seven days of zero or below temperatures.

The highest the temperature ever climbed in 1967 was to 93 degrees on Thursday and Friday, June 15 and 16, just two days in the entire year when on any other average year we can count on 13 days of 90 degree temperatures or above.

SUCH A PREPONDERANCE of cool weather, Pearson points out, means we're in for more than our share of wet weather, and that's what we had in 1967.

The normal precipitation over an average year is 30.80 inches and as the old year draws to a close that figure was at 33.75 locally, about three inches above normal.

On the other hand, the normal seasonal snowfall is about 37 inches, although in 1966 the figure piled up to 50.6 inches.

December, 1967, however, as anyone without an umbrella can attest, just barely saw a white Christmas. Instead of 12 inches of snow in the final month of '67, we had exactly 4 inches.

The rest was rain which by now is water over the dam as is 1967 also.

In other words, time to look ahead to a new year like Weatherman Pearson.

Warm Friends Help Seamans After Fire

When a feller needs a friend, Mr. and Mrs. George Seaman found more than one.

Fire virtually destroyed their home at 9001 Hartel, in the Joy Road-Middle Belt district last week.

It started in a utility room, where the furnace was located, and spread through the house--damaging that part which was not burned beyond repair.

Mrs. Seaman saved the pet--a bird. But the furnishings were damaged, by heat, smoke, water or fire or destroyed. None were carried out.

FIRE MARSHALL John Bunk said the damage to the building was probably "$8,000 to $10,000," but that contractors were called in quickly by the insurance company to rebuild or repair.

Meantime, Seaman, a veteran city employe scheduled for retirement Jan. 15, and his wife are temporarily with relatives, but may move into a motel until their home is ready in a couple of months.

The friends that Seaman, a clerk-store keeper for the Livonia Department of Public Works, found, are employes of the city; including DPW workers, City Hall employes, city firemen and others.

They immediately started taking up a collection as a gift to the couple--money that can be used beyond insurance adjustment benefits.

Among the early arrivals at the fire scene were Richard (Dick) Jones, assistant superintendent of the operations division of the DPW, and the DPW director Robert A. Shaw.

Seaman, nearing 72, for years has been a city employe. He's in the water department, doing dozens of things such as keeping inventory, handling meter repair orders, taking telephone complaints, doing other clerical work.

WHETHER THE Jan. 15 retirement date will stand in view of the personal and financial tragedy that has hit the Seamans hasn't been decided. Civil Service Commission may consider another extension which might keep George Seaman on the job for another year.

Because of his efficiency and popularity, a part was reportedly being planned as a tribute to his years of service to the city, and his friendship with fellow workers.

City Gets Federal Funds For Parks

Livonia has received a $26,625 federal matching grant to pay half the cost of developing Compton and Castle Gardens parks.

U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart made the announcement in Washington after the Interior department gave the go-ahead.

"We would have gone ahead with the development of these parks under the $4.4 million bond issue, so this will release funds for use elsewhere," said Parks and Recreation Director John Dufour.

Mayor Harvey W. Moelke said it was the first federal money received through the Michigan Department of Conservation's land and water conservation fund.

THE CITY applied also for funds to develop the Buckingham Park, but federal and state spokesmen said it was too close (one block) to Compton.

"We have already done a lot of work on these two parks," Moelke said. "The facilities were desperately needed."

Dufour said workmen at Compton already have built three baseball diamonds which were placed in use last August, a parking lot and a football field.

Future development calls for a tennis court complex, grading, seeding and landscaping. No equipment has been bought for this park since Harrison school furnishes it for the time being.

IN CASTLE GARDENS, Dufour said grading and seeding have been completed and playground equipment has been installed.

Two baseball diamonds and a tennis court complex will be built at Castle Gardens.

Dufour said the No. 1 priority established by the State Conservation Department is land acquisition. The state must screen and improve all applications for the federal funds under that program.

Decisions Due On Charter

Livonia's charter commission today prepared to make final changes in the document and prepare it for a second trial at the polls in April.

Chairman James Mies said the group is still waiting for statistical research from the Citizens Research Council.

"We'll probably be meeting some night this week to make the final decisions," he said. "We've been trying to find some time when all nine members can be there."

He said there will be no legal prohibition against a member of the charter commission running for another elective office.

There is a charter ban against a councilman serving on any other governmental body.

"I assume that means that any charter commission member elected to the council, for example, would have to resign from the commission if it is still active," Mies said.

The charter, defeated by 88 votes in the Nov. 21 election, will be changed only slightly, he said. One main point will be in the makeup of the civil service commission.

Hospitals Need New Sources Of Capital

A survey of hospital statistics graphically illustrates the critical need by Michigan hospitals for new sources of capital to relieve the costs versus income squeeze, according to Allan Barth, executive director of the Michigan Hospital Association.

"Probably the most critical problem currently facing Michigan hospitals is where to find capital for much-needed improvements to facilities and equipment," Barth said. He pointed out that because of the time required for reporting and tabulating the statistics, they include only the first indications of the impact of Medicare, Medicaid, the federal Wage-Hour Act and other governmental influences on rising hospital costs.

BARTH SAID the statistics are compiled in an annual study of Michigan hospitals that also includes data collected from 33 Michigan osteopathic hospitals which are surveyed by the Michigan Osteopathic Hospital Association.

The study reveals that hospital operating expenses continued to increase more rapidly than total revenue, leaving the hospitals with a surplus of less than one-half of one per cent to be used in meeting depreciation of facilities and equipment.

This is the equivalent of only 25 cents per patient day. While operating expenses rose to $363,624,000, voluntary non-profit hospitals took in $365,407,000 in total revenue, an increase of slightly less than $45 million over the previous year. This total revenue figure includes such items as grants, gifts, rentals, concessions and other non-patient payment sources.

Income from patient and third-party payments to Michigan voluntary hospitals in 1966 came to $350,572,000. Based solely on patient revenues against expenditures, the hospitals suffered a deficit of $13,052,000 or an average of $1.85 per patient day.

There was a 10.3 percent increase in hospital expenses per patient day in voluntary, short-term general hospitals. Costs increased from $47.64 in 1965 to $52.56 in 1966.

THE LARGEST PORTION of hospital expenditures was for payroll, which comprised 62.5 percent of overall hospital expenses in Michigan institutions. Nationally, the average total expense a patient day was $48.32 with payroll making up 61 percent of the total.

In the overall survey of statistics from 293 hospitals compiled by the Michigan Hospital Association, 151 were in the category of voluntary, short-term general care. These institutions and the hospitals included in the psychiatric group have 73 percent of the state's hospital beds and admitted 86 percent of the patients in 1966.

The average stay of Michigan voluntary hospital patients was 8.1 days, compared to the national average for these hospitals of 7.9 days.

On the average, for every dollar spent in providing patient care in Michigan's non-profit general hospitals, 4.0 percent was for housekeeping; 10.1 percent for dietary; 3.6 percent for pharmacy; 1.4 percent for medical records; 1.6 percent anesthesiology; 6.9 percent for laboratory; 5.8 percent for radiology; 13.8 percent for administration and general supervision; 0.6 percent for inhalation therapy; 5.0 percent for medical surgical and intern-resident services; 5.0 percent for plant operations; 2.4 percent for laundry and linen services; 30.3 percent for nursing service, education, operating room and delivery; and 0.5 percent for other expenses such as social services, blood bank, ambulance, out-patient services and depreciation.

Central Michigan University freshman football coach Bob Sullivan posted a 90-18-5 high school record while coaching at Kingston and Marysville

Army 'Primitive' Enough To Lead

New Air Force second lieutenants were warned that American society is being "overcivilized" to the point where "we are running short of people capable of making effective decisions."

Speaking to the mid-year graduates of the University of Detroit Air Force ROTC at commissioning ceremonies last week, Dr. Bernard F. Landuyt, dean of the College of Commerce and Finance warned:

"You can civilize a society to the point where members are exquisitely capable of setting up, elaborately and thoroughly, the advantages and disadvantages of any situation. But they are not capable, after they have drawn up this complex statement, of making the necessary decision."

Dr. Landuyt, veteran professor of economics and business administration, is the co-author of "Administrative Strategy and Decision Making." This book has become a standard text in the field, is widely circulated in America, Great Britain, Europe, and the Far East.

Dr. Landuyt, warned that society must insure leadership services to replace the traditional ones of aristocracy and the rugged individualism of the frontier.

"This is what has happened to the French, and it is what is happening in our own country."

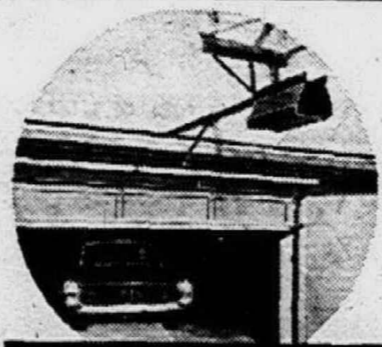

"THE MILITARY," he told the new second lieutenants, "is one of the places where this is not so."

"This," Dr. Landuyt said, "is because you are entering a primitive society. The military society retains sufficient elements of primitiveness. More military leaders are forced to learn to make decisions than those in any other element of the American scene."

"Some might say that the business community supplies this leadership. Unfortunately, leadership talent and keenness in business is being blunted by the separation of the functions of management from ownership."

"There is greater education for democracy, and the increased ability of the masses to communicate their position. This means that people know their rights and can express them. - It thus means that leadership is more suspiciously accepted, and must be better."

LT. COL. W.E. Cerrone, officer in charge of the U. of D. Air Force ROTC, noted, that U. of D. will graduate 36 commissioned Air Force officers this year.

Nasser Now Woos U.S.

Gamel Abdel Nasser, Egypt's durable President, has made a career out of undoing defeat by skillful exploitation of diplomatic opportunities.

He worked this trick 11 years ago, after his country's defeat in the Suez War, and he is trying the same thing now. Only this time, after taking it on the chin from Israel, the question is not one of changing defeat into victory—only of keeping the damage down to manageable levels.

In 1956 it was the United States that forced Nasser's enemies to withdraw; today again, only the United States could do so, but Nasser has no friends in Washington.

Nasser has two pressing concerns. One is the survival of the Egyptian economy, which was already in bad shape before the June war deprived it of a million dollars a day in revenue from the Suez Canal, the Sinai oil fields and the tourist trade.

Nasser's second concern is the survival of his own regime. This means getting the Israelis out, at least from the canal area, without paying the price of a formal peace treaty.

cause of his Western ties.

Now these ties make him an indispensable Egyptian ally, at least as long as the overture to Washington lasts and as long as Jordan does not make a separate bargain with Israel.

Hussein has evidently been speaking for both himself and Nasser on his recent visits to London and Washington, in hinting at major Arab concessions short of a full peace treaty—demilitarization of large areas, renunciation of belligerent rights, and possible opening of the Suez Canal to Israeli withdrawal.

THE CURRENT Egyptian strategy involves a shift in relationships with the Western, Communist, Arab and Afro-Asian worlds.

The flamboyant and abrasive pursuit of revolutionary leadership in the Middle East, Africa, and Asia has been abandoned. Nasser no longer seems to care what happens in Yemen or Aden let alone the Congo or Vietnam. He has only one foreign policy problem now, namely the presence of foreign troops on Egyptian soil.

One reason for abandoning Yemen, besides the fact that Egyptians have long been fed up with it, was that this was the price for a huge Saudi and Kuwaiti grant of cash to cover Egypt's losses.

Likewise, dropping support for the "Front for the Liberation of Occupied South Yemen" (FLOSY) in Aden was a concession both to Saudi Arabia and Britain. With Britain also suffering heavy losses from closure of the Suez Canal, and with independence now being granted to South Arabia, a new Anglo-Egyptian community of interest has emerged.

This shows itself in Britain's efforts to get Israel to soften her terms for withdrawal, and in the restoration of Anglo-Egyptian diplomatic relations.

CAIRO'S BID FOR American sympathy has been made mainly through Jordan's King Hussein. In the past, Hussein has often been Nasser's whipping boy.

WHO KNOWS EVERYTHING?
by
AL HOLCOMBE

Remember when you were just a sprout and tried to build most everything and anything? I do.

I remember building a soap box car. Not the sleek, streamlined "soapbox" racers some kids have today... but a genuine wooden box affair. It was usually a Saturday morning project with the big wreck in the afternoon. Strictly a hit or miss building job. Mostly miss.

You and I have graduated to better and more complicated cars. And only a few of us (include me out) really understand all we "know" about them. Most of us leave all but the most simple repair jobs to a trained mechanic who has learned through training and experience.

Yup, it's an age of specialists. And it's only right, because we have so much special equipment.

Your heating and/or air conditioning system is very special equipment. It's a good investment in health, comfort and enjoyment. So it's a good idea to protect that investment by having a specialist install and service it. My men and I are specialists in that field. We have the training and experience. We attend special schools at the Lennox factory. Factory-trained men also call on us regularly. Why? Because good heating or air conditioning isn't just "plugged in." It is designed and engineered to your home or building... to your personal requirements and wants. Lennox is fussy about who installs and services Lennox equipment, because they realize the equipment is only half of the story... it takes good installation and service, too, to assure customer satisfaction. We are proud that Lennox selected us to be their dealer.

Why not make us prove that we have reason to be proud? Call us about your heating or air conditioning problem.

National Guard No Haven

The National Guard won't become a haven for men seeking to beat the draft.

A new National Guard Bureau directive orders guard units to accept no new recruits unless they have prior military experience.

completion of active duty. The guard recently was authorized to increase its strength by 12,000 men picked to serve in 125 riot control units being formed in major cities across the country. But a spokesman said this increase could easily be filled by men with previous military experience.

ONE REASON for the action was believed to be the need to make room in guard units for waves of returning Vietnam combat veterans who were drafted during the 1966 U.S. buildup in Southeast Asia.

Draft quotas are expected to be substantially higher next year to replace these returning veterans, whose two-year hitch will be up.

The bureau said one exception would be made to its order. New Jersey will be permitted to continue a special program to recruit 865 Negroes into the guard. About 300 have already signed up.

NATIONAL GUARD recruits normally are required to serve six months active duty at U.S. bases and then return home for weekend drills with their units for the remainder of their military obligation. They cannot be sent to war without an act of Congress.

Draftees and regular armed forces recruits must serve several years with a National Guard or Reserve unit after

McEwen In Dual Role

McEwen had to walk the tight-rope at the township's board meeting last Tuesday.

The City of Westland requested the township to support Westland's desire to place the Detroit Water Supply System under the control of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Westland's request was only one among many that the township has been asked to support. They have received others from Van Buren Township and Dearborn Heights among others.

McEwen asked his board to table any action on the matter until he has talked with Livonia's Mayor, Harvey Moelke. Livonia has been one of the most vehement protestors of the water rate raises.

McEwen added that he knew that most of the original protestors have been backing off from the issue and this might also effect any action by Plymouth Township.

He commented that all petitions filed against the raise were filed after the 90 day period set aside for appeals by the Detroit board.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, township treasurer, said that the increases by Detroit were done on somewhat of an arbitrary manner and she would like to have a little more basis for equality.

The Plymouth township board delayed any formal action on the matter until they heard the report of McEwen's talk with Moelke.

However, the board did go on record in support of the request of Westland.

Cynthia Eaton Weds Edward Johanson

Cynthia Suzanne Eaton and Edward Joe Johanson repeated their nuptial vows in a double ring candlelight ceremony in St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth, Saturday evening, Dec. 30. The Rev. Canon David T. Davies officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sterling Preston Eaton, of N. Territorial Road, Plymouth, and the late Mr. Eaton, former state representative and long-time publisher of The Plymouth Mail and founder of The Livonian, weekly newspaper now owned by The Observer chain.

She is the granddaughter of the late Elton R. Eaton, newspaper publisher and state representative who served as executive secretary to the late Governor Alex J. Groesbeck.

THE BRIDEGROOM is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dodge Johanson, of Ford Street, Plymouth. The senior Mr. Johanson is general manager of the Western Electric Plant in Plymouth.

Given in marriage by her brother, Elton R. Eaton II, the bride approached the altar wearing an embassy gown of oyster white Alaskine. The cathedral gown was designed with a Sabrina neckline, wrist-length sleeves and princess-line skirt which ended in a sweep.

A queen's crown of matching fabric, also banded with satin, held her cathedral veil of imported illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white hybrid orchids and white heather.

ATTENDING THE BRIDE as matron-of-honor was Mrs. Raymond C. Koernig, Jr. of Littleton, Colo., a friend since high school days when they both attended St. Katherine's School in Davenport, Ia.

The bride's other attendants included Mrs. Gerald Christensen, of Cicero, Ill., a college friend, and Mrs. Betty Brown Korte, of Plymouth, as bridesmaids, and Melissa Kelly, of Plymouth, as junior bridesmaid.

The bridegroom asked his college roommate, Paul Suerken, of Mercersburg, Pa., to serve as best man. Serving as groomsmen were Hal Dean, of Rockville, Md., and Carl Pursell, of Plymouth. John Kelly, also of Plymouth, served as junior groomsman.

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Eaton selected a floor-length aqua blue Roman crepe sheath, fashioned with a boat neckline with a side drape over one shoulder extending down the back into a floating panel which reached the hemline of the gown. Her small headpiece of aqua tinted ostrich feathers completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Johanson chose a floor-length sheath of emerald green

MRS. EDWARD JOE JOHANSON

WORLD of WOMEN

Young Designer Has First Showing Of Ladylike Fashion

A very young designer who believes "women should look like women" just might put this area on the fashion map.

John Breco, only 19 years of age but a designer for four years, saw several of his very exciting and completely feminine creations displayed for the first time in a recent fashion show.

His model, Sandra Snowden, appeared in a flowing brown velvet gown, a sleek white "T-shirt dress" and a fascinating "playsuit" done in beige wool and black velvet. The show was put on by the Nonchalant Shop of Royal Oak in the 24-Carat Club, Detroit.

ACTUALLY, his career has been the other way around—he started designing the clothes to go with the feminine hairdos he favors.

"I did one backless dress," he said, "to go with a hairdo that had curls going down the back."

John, a resident of Westland, finished his studies at Franklin High School at night after he began his designing work. He had done clothes for a large number of local women, most of them customers of the Merle Norman beauty salon in Livonia, where he works.

HIS CREATIONS usually cost around $70, and he can turn one out in about two weeks.

"I style for the individual woman," he said, "so I like to have a chance to talk to her before going to work." Of all his designs, there's no doubt that John's special pride is the brown velvet. It used five yards of material, and comes out without a suggestion of bulkiness.

The short-but-not-mini skirt is gathered to a high waist, and the deep-V neckline features a stand-up frilly collar that can be removed for a more tailored effect.

ALSO MOST elegant is a fitted, short sleeved dress of white wool with a satin collar and buttons down the sleeve and side.

"It's a copy of the well-cut T-shirts I like," the young designer said, "I figured the darts carefully so the lines would be simple and perfectly fitted."

The playsuit is a masterpiece of cut, with puffed sleeves gathered on a velvet band and a harem-type pant leg that stops above the knee instead of at the ankle.

"That's an inspirational design," John said, "I was watching television one night and saw a harem dress and got thinking how neat it would be to shorten it."

John considers the outfit suitable for formal wear with sparkly jewelry and "if the girl's escort is properly dressed."

Proper dress for a man, in his view, is a well-cut suit and knit shirt. He's made some of his own suits to show what he means.

"I HATE BLACK SUITS and white shirts," John said. "The suits I've made for men include covered buttons, more color than usually used, and slits at the bottom of the trousers, because I like the look of the close-tapered trouser but want more freedom of movement."

A couple of other pet abominations are tent dresses—"they don't show the figure properly," and purses—"they spoil the line of a dress."

He hasn't quite figured out how to replace the purse, though. Some more John Breco styles will be modeled in a show he plans with two other designers at the Ponchartrain Hotel in Detroit Jan. 26. They should go over well with the gals who want to be ladies.

Holiday parties and all the refreshments that must be served point up again a mighty problem that plagues communities and housewives alike—disposing of the endless parade of non-returnable bottles.

While the local governments of Observerland debate the matter of garbage and rubbish disposal, I struggle every week with the need to fit into the refuse cans all the bottles that I used to be able to take back to the stores and turn in for hard cash.

And as fewer and fewer stores continue to accept return bottles, my pile of refuse and my headache mounts.

I was delighted to hear last week that Michigan State Senator Roger Craig thinks this may be a problem for the state, too, and has introduced a bill to outlaw the non-return bottles so drivers and picnickers won't use them to litter the highways.

But I read recently of a possible solution for the local governments' problem, and the state's, and mine.

It's fantastic enough for the realm of science-fiction, but the article I read said it is ready to market.

This solution is a bottle which holds the soft drink until it has been used, is placed in the trash can, and then—so help me—disintegrates into nothing a short time after being emptied.

That inventor really should clean up, in more ways than one. The world has a great need for the guy who can take a problem and make it just disintegrate.

THE THREE DESIGNS showed that his talent adapts itself to a wide range of styles and moods. But they had one common denominator—they all placed the accent on elegance and beautiful line.

John, who created hair styles for women even before he started designing their clothes, also had done Sandra's blonde hair in an intricate halo of ringlets that complemented perfectly the well-executed styles and lush fabrics.

Engineers' Wives To See Fabric Styles

"Fashions in Fabric" will be the program for the meeting of the Engineers' Wives Club at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 10, in the Rackham Building.

The care of many new fabrics on the market today will be discussed by a representative of the Detroit Edison Electric living department.

Mrs. M. Marchi will be hostess for the evening. Guests are welcome, and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. W.M. Simms, 422-7896, for reservations.

Couple Is Wed In Mt. Hope

Patricia Carol Simpson wore her mother's ivory satin and lace wedding gown when she spoke her marriage vows to Hans Eric Haase Saturday, Dec. 30, in Mt. Hope Congregational Church, Livonia.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert F. Simpson, of Livonia, and the late Rev. Simpson, former minister of the church. She was given in marriage by her brother, Robert.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Haase, of Crystal Lake, Ill., are parents of the bridegroom.

City Woman's Club To Meet

The Livonia City Woman's Club will hold its next meeting Thursday, Jan. 18, at 1 p.m. in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Five Mile near Inkster.

Women interested in joining are invited to call Mrs. W. Okestrom, 421-2425.

The Rev. Philip Gentile officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bridal gown was fashioned with a high neckline and full train. The bride wore a full-length veil and carried an old-fashioned round bouquet of white roses.

Jill Blatchley, of Detroit, was the bride's only attendant.

William Stulz, of Detroit, was best man, and the ushers were Rowland Ramseyer, of Livonia, and Carl Signor, of Redford Township.

MRS. HANS HAASE (Patricia Simpson)

The President Pro Tem of the Westland City Council doesn't consider herself a career woman.

Rather, Mrs. Justine Barns would describe herself as an interested citizen and happened to get involved in her community's government.

And she wishes more citizens, both men and women, would do the same.

"There's nothing complicated or mysterious about politics or government," said the top vote-getter among seven members of the Westland council.

"It's a matter of common sense—and the personalities of the people involved."

JUSTINE BARNs' down-to-earth approach to matters of city government can be exemplified in her stand on a budgetary matter not too long ago.

She felt that a particular expenditure proposed was not justified in view of the city's other pressing needs.

"I have to justify every expense in a household budget," she told her fellow council members in casting a negative vote, "and if my son needs new shoes then a new hat that I might want, has to wait."

"We must also put city spending on a priority basis."

BEING BY HERSELF on any question is something that never has bothered Councilman Barns. During a long hassle over a proposed shopping and apartment complex, she started out as the lone voice putting objections to the project. Fifteen months later, when the final vote was taken, it was defeated four votes to three.

"I could see the advantages of the proposal," Mrs. Barns said, "and really I wasn't violently against it. But there were too many unanswered questions, too much uncertainty."

"And my biggest objection was that it would have put more families with many more children right into the part of Westland that already had the densest school population."

LIKE MANY of her fellow officials in Westland, Justine Barns feels that the new city's greatest need is for a unified outlook, a community feeling.

"This is what we're trying to achieve," she said, "and it's not easy. It can be done only by bringing as many people as possible, from all parts of the community, into some aspect of the government."

FIVE YEARS AGO, Mrs. Barns said, she would have been astounded at the suggestion that she would become involved in government to the extent of running for elective office and winning.

She had been active for a long time in Democratic politics.

Redford Youth Topic Of Talk

Youth in Redford Township will be discussed by Cpl. Oliver Gallagher in a talk before the Roosevelt Mothers Club Wednesday, Jan. 10 at the Roosevelt School, 15100 Aubry, Redford Township.

Cpl. Gallagher is a member of the township police youth bureau.

The club held its Christmas program Dec. 13, with 200 parents present and pupils at the school putting on a holiday program.

Life On Westland Council Suits Her

MRS. JUSTINE BARNs

And those who do—if they live in Westland—are bound to hear a lot more about Justine Barns.

But essentially her husband Jonathon, a quality control man at the Ford Motor Co., and sons Duane and Scott kept her busy.

THEN CAME APPOINTMENT to the Nankin Township planning commission. Later, as moves toward incorporation of the city of Westland were made, she ran successfully for a spot on the nine-member charter commission.

That group worked out a charter for the new community and then went out of existence.

"In general, I'm pleased with our charter," Mrs. Barns said. "There are a few matters we know now need changing, but it has the advantage of providing for a strong mayor and council. And it provides the checks and balances so they each take their own place in the government picture."

She feels government in Westland is evolving as the charter provided. Somewhat surprisingly, she's also glad to see election of Republican to the council, in spite of her Democratic leanings.

"I've had a lot of support from Republicans in this area," Mrs. Barns said, "and I feel a two-party representation is important in all governmental units."

A MAJOR PORTION of Justine Barns' life still is devoted to making a good home for her husband, whom she describes as "my best critic," and son Scott, now a busy seventh-grader. Duane was married last month and is beginning Army service.

She enjoys womanly pursuits such as sewing, knitting and cooking. She never felt she wanted to hold a regular job, because she wanted to be home when her sons returned from school, and finds that now she still can fit most of her activities into hours when the family doesn't particularly need her.

But she feels sure that her involvement in government is a matter of great fulfillment to her, and she is equally certain that many women would benefit from more interest in things outside their own four walls.

"I don't mean women should necessarily get into politics or take a job," she said, "but I wish more would read the newspapers—know what is going on in their communities."

MRS. GREGORY JOHN ROMINSKI
(Kathleen Mary Andrews)

Rominski-Andrews Vows Taken Dec. 29

White tulle trimmed the wedding gown of Kathleen Mary Andrews when she spoke her marriage vows to Gregory John Rominski in a double-ring ceremony in Our Lady of LaSalette Church, Berkley, Friday, Dec. 29.

The Rev. Donald Thomas officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Andrews Jr., of Berkley, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Rominski, of West Chicago, Redford Township.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight Peau de sole gown with empire waist, long sleeves and full train. The band of tulle encircled the neckline to the low, squared back.

A crown of iridescent pearl orange blossoms, worn by the bride's mother at her wedding, held the silk illusion veil, and the bridal bouquet was of white roses and variegated holly.

Margaret Andrews, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Lorraine Rominski, of Detroit, and Theresa Thennes, of Gladstone, Mich.

They wore floor-length velvet gowns with white fur headpieces and carried red roses and holly fastened to white fur muffs. The maid of honor's gown was ruby red and the bridesmaids were in moss green.

JAMES A. ROOF, of Ypsilanti, assisted the bridegroom as best man, and guests were seated by Thomas DeMartin, of Allen Park, and James Moshal, of Dearborn Heights.

Mrs. Andrews' full-length gown was green and gold brocade, and the bridegroom's mother chose a pale green silk and wool coat and dress ensemble.

Livonia Bank Sets Gala Opening For New Branch

Banking on the future growth of Livonia and the ever-increasing demand for banking services, Livonia National Bank will officially open its new Plymouth-Wayne Road office for public inspection at a three day open house celebration January 4-6.

The event marks the completion of Livonia National Bank's fourth area office.

"The new Plymouth-Wayne Road office is an outgrowth of the bank's continuing commitment to provide the best possible banking facilities to the people of the community," said Elvin D. Dougherty, bank president.

Other locations are at Five Mile near Farmington Road, Wonderland Shopping Center, and Middlebelt and Seven Mile Road. These four offices have been constructed in the relatively short period of 15 years since the bank was first chartered in 1952.

Donald P. Schneider, manager of the new office, will supervise the operations of the staff. The new facility has more than 6,500 square feet of service area, evenly divided between the building's two floors.

The ultra-modern two-story structure features a large interior bank lobby and service area, storage area on the second level of the building, and separate drive-in facilities and night depository on the west side of the building.

Main entrance to the facility is facing Plymouth Road with another entrance on the west side of the building. Entrance to the drive-in and parking area is made from Wayne Road and drive-in banking customers exit onto Plymouth Road.

Grand opening activities will include gifts for every adult and child attending the open house. The new bank will have a gift for every family and refreshments for all.

In addition, over 150 prizes will be awarded to those who have lucky keys to the treasure chest. The grand prize winner will be entitled to a portable color television set which will be awarded on the last day of the three day event.

Bank President Elvin D. Dougherty and Manager Donald P. Schneider have extended an invitation to the entire Livonia community to take part in the gala open house celebration. Open house hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., each of the three days with special hours on Friday until 9 p.m.

HOLCROFT & COMPANY, manufacturers of production heat treating equipment, has announced plans to build a new 70,000 sq. ft. plant in Livonia, to replace its facilities in Detroit. The plant will provide double the floor space of the company's present location, at 6545 Epworth in Detroit. Approximately 60,000 square feet of space will be given over to the manufacturing function, with the balance to be used for office and administrative operations. The plant is scheduled for completion in June, 1968.

Purcell Promoted

Appointment of John C. Purcell, director, service operations for the Chevrolet Motor Division, as assistant director, Service Section of the General Motors Marketing Staff, was announced Monday.

Art Institute Plans Year's Biggest Show

The biggest art show of the new year is now under final preparation at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

It is "Romantic Art in Britain: Paintings and Drawings, 1760-1860," premiering Jan. 9 here and opening again March 14 in Philadelphia.

The exhibition of 236 works displays the artistry of 85 Britishers in the Romantic era who influenced the continent and led to the modern art exhibitions of the 19th Century.

More than 100 of the masterpieces have never before been seen in America, and it is unlikely that such a collection of art will be gathered together again in our generation.

THE DETROIT Institute of Arts is advertising the show as "Century of Masterpieces." Reflecting the importance of its scholarly premise--the re-evaluation of British artists in the mainstream of the art of our time--the exhibition is under the official patronage of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Young Artists May Enroll

It is time for enrollment in the second semester of classes at the Young People's Art Center, which is sponsored by Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries located in Bloomfield Hills.

The new term will get under way Jan. 9. Classes are 90 minutes long, last for 10 weeks and are for young people seven through 19 years.

Sessions are set for Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 4 p.m. and Saturdays beginning at 9:30 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m.

Pupils who have completed the first semester are encouraged to continue through the remaining two terms because, according to Instructor Susan Low-Beer, they have been conceived as a step-by-step development. This second term will concentrate on three dimensional design and clay.

The fee is $20 including materials.

Willis F. Woods, director of the Detroit Institute of Arts, and Dr. Evan H. Turner, director of the Philadelphia Museum of Art, have agreed in calling this event "the most important and original exhibition of British art ever shown here or abroad."

The unprecedented display, with loans from the Royal Collection and private owners such as His Grace the Duke of Northumberland and Admiral of the Fleet the Earl of Mountbatten, of Burma, includes such acknowledged masters as Gainsborough, Reynolds, Constable, Turner and Blake.

CO-SPONSORS of the large loan exhibition are the Detroit and Philadelphia museums. It will be seen only in these two cities under the direction of Dr. Frederick Cummings, assistant director of the Detroit Institute of Arts, and Dr. Allen Staley, assistant curator of paintings at the Philadelphia Museum of Art. These two scholars are among three who have contributed 5,000-word essays to the 360-page exhibition catalogue prepared by Philadelphia's staff. The introductory study has been written by Dr. Robert Rosenblum, of the Institute of Fine Arts, New York University.

Not a portrait show, the exhibition will exemplify the imagination and studiousness of British artists in depicting human and animal figures, views of nature, and versatile use of color. Strong fantasy elements of British painting also will be featured. As stated in the catalogue, "Romantic Art in Britain" will illustrate the English re-evaluation of nature and the human figure during the Romantic period and examine British Romanticism and its continental affiliations.

A $1 general admission will be charged during the Detroit showing, Jan. 9 through Feb. 18, with students admitted for 25 cents and children under 12 accompanied by adults free. Related lectures, films and special events have been announced and listed separately. A formal subscription dinner-preview for visiting dignitaries and patrons of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts which is funding the expensive exhibition here, be held in the Institute on Monday, Jan. 8.

The magazine, Wyoming Wildlife, reports that recent lab tests on roadside menagerie animals that have died suddenly revealed negatives of "instant picture" film in their stomachs. Users of this type film should make certain that papers and trash from the film-making process are disposed of properly to protect wildlife.

UP' GOING 'CURTAIN'

Year-end assessments are in order. How has 1967 been theatrically and what looms on the 1968 Thespian horizon?

What has happened to some of the Broadway musicals that started at the Fisher? Are they succeeding on Broadway?

"ILLYA DARLING", the Melina Mecouri musical, has had a moderate success on the Main Stem. The PR man or "hack agent" in charge of pushing "Illya Darling" has done a delightful job of keeping the star in the public eye. Melina has had her jewels stolen. Declared that she wants to go back to Greece and help King Constantine. Gone to Washington on several occasions to protest various matters. In short, the PR man has been cooking up all kinds of news items to keep Melina and the show in the public spotlight. Consequently, while the critics all bombed the show it has been grossing 50,000 bucks for quite awhile.

My prediction is that eventually the public will catch on and the show will die.

"HENRY, Sweet, Henry" with Don Ameche struggling in the lead role received poor notices in New York. However, their PR man enticed Walter Kerr to review the play. Walter, the dean of the N.Y. critics, indicated that "Henry, Sweet Henry" was a musical that you could bring the entire family to see. Mr. Kerr must have dozed a bit during the scenes that dealt with adultery. Or perhaps in New York children are more broad-minded.

Old Wally predicts "Henry, Sweet, Henry" will drown in its own saccharin before March 1. The handwriting is on the box office wall with weekly grosses presently dipping into the lower 40,000 bracket.

Maybe $40,000 seems like a lot of money per week. But musical comedies need at least $50,000 to $55,000 to break even. You must pay the original investment $450,000 to $600,000 back to attain "hit" status.

"HOW NOW, Dow Jones" has arrived after director trouble on the road. It has one song, "Step To The Rear" and in the tradition of "Mame" and "Hello, Dolly!" it seems that's all you need is one song to sell tickets. The critics have turned thumbs down, but the public seems to be buying tickets.

I predict David Merrick will turn this one into another bonanza. Merrick's latest effort, "Mata-Hari," committed hari-kari in Baltimore where it folded to the sour tune of 500,000 clams.

The APA Repertory group, seen earlier this year in Ann Arbor, has opened on Broadway to critical acclaim. Raves were in order for "Pantagaleze" and "The Show-off" with Helen Hayes. Ellis Rabb and company seem to be set for one of their

Top Sports Story? Red Sox Triumph In AL Race

Remember 1967? It was a year of rising costs... more for everything... including a new state income tax for Michiganders.

But it was a year that produced its share of major sports stories around the country. It was the year of thrills and excitement.

There can be no question about the major sports stories nationally in 1967.

- 1--The Red Sox beating out the Tigers for the American League flag.
- 2--Indiana surprising the football world by capturing the Big Ten's right to go to the Rose Bowl.
- 3--Cassius Clay being stripped of his heavyweight boxing title for failure to enter the U.S. Army when drafted.
- 4--The continued downfall of the United States in tennis.
- 5--Bob Gibson's pitching that won the world series for St. Louis.

If you're looking for other big moments: how's about--Jim Ryun's 3:51.1 mile record, Lew Alcindor and his UCLA basketball team, the record number of victories (68) and the world title plucked by Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia 76ers, the first Super Bowl game, Intrepid's easy victory in the Americans Cup, and Charles Finley pulling the Kansas City A's out of Missouri and moving them to Oakland, Cal.?

What about the top upsets in sports in '67?

There were tons of champs crowned in sports in 1967. To list just a few:

BASEBALL--World champs: St. Louis; runnerup, Boston.

FOOTBALL--Indiana, Purdue and Minnesota all tied in the Big Ten. No. 1 honors, nationally, went to Southern California. In the pro ranks, there's still the matter of final games to be played this Sunday with the Super Bowl to follow on Jan. 21.

BASKETBALL--Michigan State and Indiana shared the Big Ten crown, while UCLA took the national title. In the pros, it was Philadelphia all the way.

AUTO RACING--A.J. Foyt won the Indianapolis "500", in the race in which Farnell Jones, driving a turbine, had the race all locked up. But the loss of a 25-cent bearing forced his car out with two laps left.

BOXING--The vacating of Cassius Clay's heavyweight title provided the big news. The crown still stands open. Dick Tiger is the king of the light-heavyweights, while Emile Griffith, middleweight, and Curtis Cokes, welterweight, among the other prominent champs.

GOLF--It was the year in which Jack Nicklaus won $189,

000 in official earnings. He and Arnold Palmer still were the big names. Nicklaus won the U.S. Open and the World Series of Golf, among other events. Palmer won the American Classic, the U.S. Individual and the Los Angeles Open. The Buick Open went to old-timer Julius Boros.

HOCKEY--The Chicago Black Hawks won their first regular-season title, but Toronto won the Stanley Cup. Stan Mikita of the Hawks was the leading scorer with 97 points, but Gordie Howe of the Red Wings started merrily on his third decade of action. This also was the year the NHL expanded--from six to 12 teams.

HORSE RACING--Damascus was the horse of the year but in the Kentucky Derby it was Proud Clarion, a long shot, which stunned the world.

TRACK--Southern California was the top team nationally, but the big story was the 3:51.1 mile Jim Ryun fashioned in the National AAU at Berkeley, Cal., on June 23.

Pistons Return Home To Face Cincinnati

Pound for pound they used to say that Sugar Ray Robinson was the greatest boxer in the world. Inch for inch they categorize Oscar Robertson the same way in basketball.

What's more as the Big O goes, so go the Cincinnati Royals who'll provide the opposition for the Detroit Pistons Friday evening in Cobo Arena.

Earlier in the season when the Big O was sidelined with a pulled thigh muscle, the Royals staggered. Since Robertson's return, the Royals have started an upward climb to dislodge the Pistons and the New York Knicks, the two teams ahead of them in the Eastern Division standings.

Both are a cinch to be playing side-by-side once this season -- in the NBA's annual All-Star game on Jan. 23 at New York. Neither can be left off the Eastern Division's dream squad.

After hosting the Royals, the Pistons go to New York Saturday to engage the Knicks. Then a two-game west coast trip to San Francisco and San Diego, along with a cross-country hop to Boston will follow before the Pistons return home on Saturday, Jan. 13, to face Philadelphia.

When it comes to being the "all-around player," there's nobody in the National Basketball Association to match Robertson.

He's among the loop's all-time scoring leaders... there's been nobody to match him as a playmaker... and despite his size -- 6 foot, 4 inches -- Robertson always can be counted upon for his share of rebounds.

In Friday's game, Robertson will go head on against the Pistons' Dave Bing, heralded by many as the NBA player who comes the closest to fitting in the Big O's shoes.

Big, too, is a blazing scorer an excellent playmaker and hauls down more rebounds than any other 6-3 performer in the NBA.

There's another similarity about Robertson and Bing. Both are the "take charge" men on their respective teams. They

FIRST THERE was Indiana beating Purdue to get into the Rose Bowl, the hectic finish of the Los Angeles Rams to beat Green Bay in their regular season encounter, Ecuador's upset of the U.S. in Davis Cup zone tennis, the defeat of "horse-of-the-year" Damascus in the D.C. International.

Thurston Wrestlers Roll Along

Thurston matmen, under the coaching of J.D. Knotts and Carl McBride, began their 1967-68 season with a 34-12 win over Southfield.

Pins were made by: Phil Gentile (103), Ken Meinschein (127), Jerry Papazian (154), and Chet Proctor (Hwt.). Decisions went to: Glenn Schneemann (120), Paul Forrster (133), and Bob Bryant (180).

They followed this by bringing home a second place trophy from the Garden City Christmas Tournament. Individual medal winners were: first place, Barry Shiek; second place, Bob Bryant, Chet Proctor, and Dave Mineau; third, Lou Ploussard; and fourth, Jerry Papazian.

The team bested Redford Union 32-11. Pins by: Brian McGreevey (112), Dean Wheeler (138), and Bob Bryant (180). Decisions went to: Lou Ploussard (120), Ken Meinschein (127), Paul Forrster (133), Barry Shiek (145), Dave Mineau (165), and Chet Proctor (Hwt.) took a draw.

Prep Swim Stars Clash In Meet

Nearly a dozen All-Staters of 1967 are expected to compete Jan. 20 at Wayne State University in the first annual Michigan High School Invitational swim meet.

Heading the list are two defending Class A champions, Lester McCormick, of Warren Fitzgerald, and Mike Burt, of Southfield, and two returning members of a Class A championship relay, Pat McCord and Chick Porter, of Plymouth.

Wayne State's eight-lane pool, located in the new Fred Matthea Physical Education Building, already has proven itself as a "fast track." Thirteen records were set there in the recent Women's National Collegiate championships.

All seats are reserved and they may be obtained by mail at $1 each for the preliminaries and $2 each for finals by writing: Ticket Office, Wayne State University, Detroit, 48202. Checks should be made payable to: Detroit News Swim Meet.

Stunning Upsets Mark Postseason Grid Classics

It was the day for college football champions to fall, and many of them did in the New Year's Day Bowl classics.

Big Ten champion Indiana University faded before No. 1 ranked University of Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

Tennessee, No. 2-ranked squad, fell to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. Tennessee, No. 2-ranked squad, fell to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. Mighty Alabama saw its Cotton Bowl string of five straight wins snapped by Texas A&M. And Wyoming had its 14-game winning streak snapped by Louisiana State in the Sugar Bowl.

SOUTHERN CAL got stronger and stronger as it ground the Cinderella team, Indiana, into the ground, 14-3, before a record 102,946 at Pasadena. USC's O.J. Simpson sliced through gaping holes in the Hoosier line to score two touchdowns and help give the Trojans a total of 317 yards to Indiana's 189. Indiana's Harry Gopso completed a weak, nine passes in 25 attempts, and the Big Ten team's only score was a 27-yard field goal by Dave Kornowa.

OKLAHOMA, No. 3-ranked team in the nation, topped Tennessee, 26-24 Monday night in the Orange Bowl at Miami, but almost blew the game after leading by 19-0 at halftime. Tennessee's placekicking specialist Karl Kremser missed a 43-yard field goal attempt with only a few seconds remaining that might have given the Volunteers victory. Tennessee spotted the Sooners' three touchdowns but stunned them in the third quarter by intercepting two of quarterback Bob Warmack's aerials and converting them into touchdowns.

TEXAS A&M intercepted three Crimson Tide passes and recovered two fumbles to dump Alabama 20-16 in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. The Aggies' scores came on two passes by quarterback Edd Hargett and a 20-yard dash by halfback Wendell Housley. Tommy Maxwell, a halfback who performs both ways, took the second touchdown toss after he had made both interceptions. Ironically, Texas A&M head Coach Gene Stallings was once a pupil of Alabama mentor Bear Bryant and had been an assistant under Bryant at Alabama.

LOUISIANA STATE came from behind to dump Wyoming, 20-13, in the Sugar Bowl at

New Orleans. Wyoming leaped to a 13-0 halftime lead when Jim Krick climaxed an 80-yard drive by plunging over from the one, and All-American Jerry DePoyster booted two field goals, one of them from 49 yards out. In the second half, however, LSU knotted the score with drives of 80 and 50 yards. Then Tom Griffin intercepted a Wyoming pass at the Cowboy's 31, and Nelson Stokley pitched to end Tommy Morel for a 14-yard touchdown and the margin of victory.

CRAIG LARSON (55), giant from Ypsilanti, moves in quickly to block this effort by Bentley's Marv Hurlburt for a short shot.

Weber A Legend In Sports

By W. W. EDGAR

They finally have counted "in" over Johnny Weber, one of the most colorful characters and finest little gentlemen ever affiliated with the fight game.

The end came far from the glaring lights of the prize ring where he had been a familiar figure for more than four decades.

Returning home with his wife, Faye, from a holiday visit in Cincinnati, he was the victim of a three-car collision on the Ohio expressway just outside of Bowling Green.

IT IS IRONICAL that death should come to him in such a fashion, for there was a cold, winter evening in the 1920s when the referee didn't finish the count over his prostrate body and he was pronounced dead--the victim of a bad beating in the prize ring of the old Moose Hall on Park Avenue in Detroit.

Memories of that night came rushing back with the news of Johnny's death, and again the sports writers were walking out of the hall, shaking their heads and wondering just how much of a blow the ring fatality would have on the sport that was fast gaining a strong foothold in Detroit.

They didn't have to wonder long.

Much to their amazement--and before their stories could be written--the word came that Johnny, always a game warrior, had regained consciousness and would live.

It was like a miracle on the boxing Rialto--for there never was a better-liked boxer than little Johnny Weber.

NEVER A GREAT fighter, he was a willing mixer, and gained a great reputation as a "club fighter" in a career that spanned 100 fights in nine years. He was the type that just waded in, kept punching and mauling, until he or his opponent fell. These tactics always delighted the crowd and Johnny became quite a gate attraction.

Johnny never fought again after that fateful night in the Moose Hall, but he remained part of the boxing scene as a referee and official and a guiding light to the young men looking to the padded ring for fame and fortune.

Johnny never won a title of any note because he came on the scene when the Detroit area had more than the usual quota of good fighters. He was of the era that produced fighters such as Billy Shaw (now a union official), Young Firpo, Clarence Rosen, Billy Peterson, and K.O. Morgan.

Along with these crowd pleasers were such colorful managers as Pat McNulty, Al Werbe, Archie Sillman and Referees Al Day, "Slim" McClelland and Sam Hennessy, a Ford official who was the third man in the ring in the only defense of the heavyweight title Joe Louis ever made in his home town.

JOHNNY WEBER, the club fighter, and crowd pleaser, was a product of the era before the Golden Gloves, but he played a great part in their success, as an official.

From the moment he regained consciousness that night in the old Moose Hall until his untimely death, Johnny always figured he was living on borrowed time. For that reason he always felt that he was indebted to the task of helping others.

He was a fine referee and a real friend to the young fighters who sought his advice. No fighter ever was forced to take undue punishment when he was the third man in the ring, though he handled some great fights. He refereed the famous bout between Jake LaMotta and Marcel Cerdan battle in Tiger Stadium before 25,000 fans in 1948. It was only a few months after this that Cerdan met death in an airplane crash.

Away from the ring, Johnny got his greatest kick out of being president of the Detroit Sports Guild, an organization that did much for sports in Detroit in the way of helping others.

"ANY TIME I can help a kid," he often used to say, "I'll take the time to do it."

And many young fellows in the Detroit area are better off today because they met Johnny Weber along the way.

Yes, they buried the mortal remains of Johnny Weber in Mt. Olivet Cemetery in Detroit, last Saturday.

But they'll never enter the memory of one of the finest gentlemen who ever answered the bell for a battle in the prize ring.

The fight game can ill afford to lose men like him.

Plymouth Wedding Bells Ring

JOHANSON-EATON WEDDING

It was a gala occasion in Plymouth Saturday evening when Cynthia Eaton and Edward Johanson were united in marriage in St. John's Episcopal Church (See story on page 1C). Pictures on this page were taken at the reception in the Mayflower Meeting House. Above are the bride-groom, bride, and to the far right, Elton R. Eaton II, brother of the bride, who gave her in marriage. At right Mrs. Sterling Eaton, left, the bride's mother, greets two guests. Below are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Johanson, parents of the bridegroom, in the receiving line.

New Diabetes Series To Be Launched Soon

GOD'S SHARE

In France, a portion of the Epiphany cake is often set aside as "la part de Dieu" — God's share. It is given to the first poor person who comes to the door.

Archdiocese Begins Co-op Buying Clubs

Cooperative buying clubs have been organized by six Archdiocesan Opportunity Program Head Start Center mothers clubs. Participants in the buying clubs are mothers of children attending the centers and area residents. Each club has approximately 100 members. Club members meet weekly and agree upon a committee to plan and purchase food for the next week. Each member is assessed a specific amount of money and weekly buyers are selected. Food buyers start out at the early morning hours to price food at markets throughout the city. Several clubs are assisted by local merchants who contribute trucks for the buying expeditions.

fruits are also purchased for a nominal price. The cooperative buying club plan was initiated and developed by the City of Detroit's Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development. Assisting in the project are other agencies such as the VISTA Volunteers, community churches and businesses in the inner city area.

An important objective of the cooperative buying clubs is to convince poverty area residents that by working together in cooperative projects they can overcome some of the problems of poverty.

chiffon, which was styled with a beaded jewel neckline and floating panels. Her headpiece was of matching ostrich feathers.

FOLLOWING A champagne reception and dinner for 250 guests at the Mayflower Meeting House, Plymouth, the new Mr. and Mrs. Johanson left on a 10-day honeymoon trip to the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. For her going-away costume, the bride selected a camel's hair sheath with black accessories.

The couple will reside in New York City, where the bridegroom is employed by Motors Insurance Corp. in the investment section.

The new Mrs. Johanson was graduated from St. Katherine's School, Davenport, Ia., and attended Michigan State University for four years, where she majored in journalism.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H., where he received A.B. and M.B.A. degrees.

Hospital Graduates Aides

Wayne County General Hospital recently graduated its group of older volunteer trainees.

These ladies have completed an eight-week training program in which they learned basic nursing skills and occupational therapy techniques. Their classes included lectures by a wide variety of hospital personnel

Another class now is underway. Women interested in obtaining information regarding future classes may consult the program instructor, Beatrice Westbrook, R.N., at CR 4-3000, Ext. 6037 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12:30 p.m.

Lutheran Fund Drive For Education Half Completed

With one-fifth of the congregations reporting, The American Lutheran Church has passed the half-way mark in its $20,000,000 Lutheran In-gathering for Education (LIFE). Announcement of pledges totaling $10,020,340 was made this week in Minneapolis, Minn., by Dr. George S. Schultz, director of the LIFE campaign.

"This figure represents pledges from about 1,000 of the 5,000 congregations of The American Lutheran Church," Dr. Schultz said. "Many congregations have indicated that they will conduct their campaign during 1968 and many others have conducted their campaign but have not reported their pledges," he said.

Capital funds obtained from the LIFE campaign will be used for new buildings at the church's three seminaries, twelve colleges, and two academies, as well as new facilities at some of the state universities where The American Lutheran Church cooperates in a campus ministry program.

Spiritual Training Belongs In Home, Witnesses Hold

Where does the primary responsibility lie for the spiritual training of children?

book of Deuteronomy, "You must inculcate them in your son....when you sit in your house and when you walk on the road and when you lie down and when you get up."

Families like the Karp's will soon be seen in abundance in the audience at the coming convention.

"Whether it is accepted or not, the main obligation rests upon parents," declared Hazen Karp, Jr. of 33700 Argonne, Farmington.

"In our home we use a Bible study aid as a guide," Karp said. "We are currently studying a book entitled, 'From Paradise Lost to Paradise Regained' and it is prepared with questions on each paragraph."

Convention sessions are open to the public free. No collection will be taken.

Karp and his wife are the parents of Timothy, nine, and Tracy, seven. The entire family is active in the ministry with the South Farmington Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Both Karp and his wife have been given assignments in the coming assembly to demonstrate the training they have received from attending meetings.

Surviving are three sisters of Fall River, Mass.

"Parents have generally abdicated their responsibility to give their children necessary spiritual training in favor of Sunday schools," Karp said, "but the Scriptures make it plain that children are not to be segregated for religious instruction but are to be taught by their parents at home and along with their parents at congregational meetings."

He will speak on the theme of "Developing the Quality of Speaking Extemporaneously" and Mrs. Karp will discuss the theme, "I Thought All Good People Went to Heaven."

Surviving are four sisters, Mrs. Louis Ribar of Plymouth, Mrs. Louise Freddie of Cherry Hill, nine grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

In spite of all this activity, not to mention Karp's secular occupation to provide himself the program for the evening will be a discussion by two American Field Service students, Estela Villaseor, from Argentina, and Shirin Akbarpour, from Iran.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Jean Schultheiss; two sons, Wade of Royal and Mark in the Peace Corps in Hawaii; one daughter, Gail at home; his brother, Earl in Newington, N.J.; and a sister, Mrs. Louise Jordan of Eau Claire, Wis.

French Education Attacked

The French are arguing about their educational system the same way Americans argued about science education nearly 10 years ago.

But the French argument is over business education.

France is worried about the dominance of American management in the economic growth western Europe is currently enjoying.

The issue was raised in the best-selling book "Le D fi Am ricain" ("The American Challenge") by Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber.

THE AMERICAN take-over of European business, Servan Schreiber says is already well underway using troops of young, well-educated and experienced U.S. businessmen and management experts whose skill and know-how European businesses cannot afford to turn away.

Already President Charles de Gaulle's proudly exclusive Common Market is "essentially American," claims the author, who is founder and editor of the news and opinion weekly magazine, "L'Express."

A major crux of Servan-Schreiber's arguments is that European youth are just not being prepared to compete with Americans.

The number of business schools is very limited and their attraction is even more limited because so many European businesses are organized along family lines, barring most young would-be executives from the upper echelons.

SERVAN-SCHREIBER, who argues strongly that an enlarged and vigorous Common Market-including Britain-is essential to save Europe from becoming just an annex of the United States, claims the education provided in such American business schools as those at Harvard, Stanford and Berkeley is a privilege more distinctive than the title of an "old boy" of Oxford or France's Polytechnique.

'Negroes Lack The Bootstraps'

American business and industrial leaders must take a greater interest in solving racial problems because "social problems hinder the kind of atmosphere in which business can flourish."

This was the opinion of Frank Seymour, of Detroit, owner of one of the country's first public relations firms headed by a Negro, as he spoke to future business leaders at the Dearborn campus of the University of Michigan.

"Race problems, by their very nature, do not allow individuals to reach the full realization of their potentials either as producers or as consumers. This does not exactly help business," Seymour continued.

Seymour was the guest of Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional business fraternity.

SEYMOUR CHALLENGED the group to utilize the resources of business to further social progress in this country.

As a Negro and a public relations counselor, Seymour attached himself to the proposition that "community relations for today's businesses involves more than the traditional participation in civic organizations and large-scale contributions to worthy causes. What is needed is active business leadership and participation in helping communities solve their most serious problems."

He listed several historical stereo types which businessmen must avoid if they wish to contribute to social progress.

One is that "black men in America want hand-outs and will not pull themselves up by their own boot-straps."

"I deny and despise this image," Seymour said. "Every Negro wants to take the place in society which the law is giving him."

"But he is lacking the necessary bootstraps. We Negroes do not have the bootstraps of education, we are minus the bootstraps of broad social contacts and experience, and we are hamstrung by the effects of longtime discrimination."

SEYMOUR SUGGESTED that businessmen attempt to "adopt the Negro point of view in this entire civil rights struggle."

"I mean that people are going to have to go beyond sympathizing with black folk."

"I mean that there are going to have to be enough dedicated people with a sufficient feel for the problems, who are willing to make rock-ribbed commitments purely in the interest of social good."

Dental Student Makes Dad Slaughterhouse

How can a student repay his father for sending him through school? Why not build him a slaughter house? That's what James Getzelman did.

Getzelman is a second-year dental student at the University of Michigan. He had never designed or constructed a building before. But when his father, Walter Getzelman of White Pigeon, wanted to build a slaughter house to complement the meat locker plant he operated, Jim was equal to the task.

"AT FIRST glance a finished building looks kind of awesome to construct," he said, "but once you start breaking it down into its parts it's like putting Tinker Toys together."

Last winter Jim read books on refrigeration so that he would be able to install the refrigeration and plumbing systems by himself. Then he helped his father do the welding.

After 10 weeks of work which included the first week back at dental school, the building was completed. It is a two-story structure where up to 40 animals an hour can be processed.

The new Getzelman & Son slaughtering house is one of 39 in the state. It provides retail-wholesale custom slaughtering to the public.

Now that the job is done, Jim recalls: "It was difficult, but I think it will be a lot easier the second time around."

WASHINGTON -- FBI statistics released for the first nine months of 1967 show a rise in the rate of major crimes in every major section of the nation. In Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota, the FBI recorded a 22 per cent rise in the murder rate, a 20 per cent rise in robbery and an 11 per cent rise for assault. Comparison was with the same months in 1966.

Who Is A Tax Exemption?

(The following article is one in a series on year-end tax planning prepared for this newspaper by the committee on federal taxation of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants.)

While not classed as a "deduction," the exemption for dependents is deducted in arriving at taxable net income. In order to qualify as an exemption, a dependent must meet all tests as to (1) income, (2) relationship, and (3) support.

1. Will your dependent have less than $600 gross income? Except for a child under age 19 or one who is a full-time student, a dependent must meet the "less than 600" test. For this particular purpose, Social Security benefits are not counted in determining the dependent's gross income.

2. Is the dependent related? Other than relatives, only a person who lives in your home during the entire year can qualify. Of course, this person must also meet the other tests.

3. Have you furnished over one-half the dependent's support for 1967? Except in the case of a relative who is being supported by several persons, this test must also be met. In those instances where more than one person supports a relative but none furnish more than one-half of the support, anyone who contributes more than 10% can claim the exemption IF each of the others supplies this taxpayer with a declaration that he or she will not claim the exemption.

Several other situations usually must be considered. For example, if a dependent meets all the tests, but is married and files a joint return with his or her spouse, the exemption is not allowed.

Then, too, you must know what constitutes support. Expenditures for food, clothing, shelter, education, medical and dental care, recreation, transportation, and other necessities are included in "support."

If any of these (for example, shelter) is furnished, rather than purchased, the fair market value of that item is used in computing the total amount of support.

Long Hair Decisions Supported

More than 100 Cleveland principals have supported a decision by school and court authorities there not to let a student with long hair attend school.

The statement was issued by the Greater Cleveland Secondary Principals Association.

It stated that the group gives unqualified support to the school board which set the policy against long hair, to the junior high principal who suspended the boy from school and to the Juvenile Court judge who found him delinquent and held the boy in the Detention Home overnight.

"When a citizen or group of citizens disagree with a policy of the Board of Education, they have democratic processes available to bring about a change in policy," the principals said.

"We believe that defying authority is not a proper means to bring about that change, but that it tends to breed disrespect for all law and order."

Attorney John Ober, appealing the Juvenile Court ruling for the Ohio Civil Liberties Union, has argued that the boy's constitutional rights were violated and that both the school and court officials had not followed Ohio laws.

Meanwhile, the boy's father, Ernest Towner, said that he expects his son, Carl, to stay in England with his mother and brother at least until after Christmas.

"I am trying to make plans now to be with them in London for the holidays," he said. His family flew to London to avoid possible confinement of Carl by Juvenile Court for not being enrolled in school.

The father estimated that it has cost them about $5,000 in his effort to allow his son to attend school with long hair. He also has their home for sale to move to another suburb to try to get his son in school there.

Trailer clubs are growing in popularity, report officials of the Detroit Camper and Travel Show. They'll have exhibits at the show slated for the Detroit Artillery Armory, W. Eight Mile near Northland, from Feb. 24-March 3.

Human Bodies Needed

According to a survey of 88 medical colleges, a shortage of human bodies used in the anatomical training of young physicians is threatening to curtail the teaching programs of a number of U.S. medical schools.

The survey, conducted by Dr. R. Dale Smith, Creighton University School of Medicine, showed that 18 schools have an inadequate supply of cadavers, 54 have an adequate number, while 16 have more than enough to carry on their programs.

IT HAS BEEN suggested that the schools which have a surplus of human bodies for anatomical teaching might aid the other schools faced with a critical shortage.

Legal complications, however, make this impossible in most instances. There are 34 states with laws authorizing bequeathal of human bodies for medical teaching and research, and most of the laws limit bequeathals to an institution designated by the donor.

Dr. Maurice Visscher, chairman of the department of physiology at the University of Minnesota and president of the National Society for Medical Research, points out that every medical student must have experience with a human body during his training.

Dr. Visscher adds that "many schools now rely on the generosity of persons who are willing to donate their bodies for this essential purpose, but too few people are aware of the need."

WITH THE CURRENT national emphasis on increasing the number of trained medical personnel through expansion of medical school enrollments, the shortage of bodies is likely to become more critical.

According to the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education, there are 316 more first-year medical students enrolled in the nation's medical schools this year than were enrolled last year.

Every four students require a cadaver for anatomical studies. Therefore, an additional 80 bodies will be needed just to take care of medical school expansion this year.

MOST SCHOOLS have developed information packets which they will supply on request to persons interested in contributing to the program. These packets contain the forms required for bequeathing bodies to the institution.

Often a bequeathal can be made in conjunction with the contribution of a person's eyes to an eye bank. The schools endeavor to dispose of a person's remains in accordance with his wishes or those of his relatives.

Because bequeathal laws vary from jurisdiction to jurisdiction a person interested in receiving information on bequeathal procedures should contact the medical school closest to his home, such as the University of Michigan or Wayne State University.

Father Taps Son As Thief

Theodore O. Kennedy, a Norwich, Conn., high school administrator, uncovered $84,000 on the property of his sister-in-law, and suspecting the money was proceeds from a Thanksgiving weekend robbery, Kennedy turned his son over to the FBI.

Authorities said that Theodore O. Kennedy III, 21, had worked last summer as a teller in the Norwich branch of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., site of the robbery.

They said keys to the bank's front door and night deposit vault were found with the money.

The elder Kennedy said that he and Allyn Brown, a lawyer, dug up a metal box containing $41,783 on Miss Waters' farm. Earlier, she had found about $40,000 hidden in her barn, according to Assistant District Attorney Anthony DiPaola.

The son and Samuel Bernthal, 20, were arraigned on burglary charges in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn.

Police said they found a set of master keys to nearly every building on the Pratt Institute campus in Kennedy's Brooklyn apartment and were investigating a possible link with a series of unsolved burglaries on the campus.

Try These Cookie Recipes

The people who grow and sell walnuts (predictably) have come up with a set of recipes for nut-filled goodies. Here are a few you might like to try:

WALNUT RUM TORTE
 1/3 cup butter
 6 egg whites
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons powdered sugar
 6 egg yolks
 1 cup granulated sugar
 3 teaspoons vanilla
 1 2/3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1 cup chopped toasted walnuts
 Rum Sauce:
 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
 1 1/4 cups water
 Dash of salt
 Grated peel of 1/2 orange and 1/2 lemon
 1/4 to 1/2 cup rum or 2 to 3 teaspoons rum flavoring

To make torte, melt butter and let cool. Beat egg whites with salt till soft peaks form; gradually add powdered sugar and beat till stiff but not dry. In separate bowl, beat yolks slightly; add sugar and vanilla; beat till thick and creamy. Sprinkle flour over whites, pour in yolks; gently fold till mixture is half blended. Add butter and 3/4 cup walnuts; fold till barely mixed. Pour into buttered and floured 2 1/2 or 3-quart mold (or 10-inch tube pan); top with remaining 1/4 cup walnuts. Bake at 350 degrees 40 minutes or till done when tested with pick. Cool 10 minutes; add Rum Sauce.

To make Rum Sauce, combine granulated sugar, water, salt and grated orange and lemon peel. Bring mixture to boil; boil 10 minutes. Cool. Stir in rum or rum flavoring. Make holes in cake with skewer; spoon sauce over cake. When sauce is absorbed (about 10 minutes) turn out on serving plate. Makes 10 servings.

WALNUT-HERB BATTER-BREAD
 1 cup milk, scalded
 2 tablespoons granulated sugar
 1 tablespoon salt
 2 packages (2 tablespoons) dry yeast
 1 cup warm water
 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
 1 1/2 teaspoons crushed sweet basil
 1 1/2 teaspoons tarragon leaves
 1/8 teaspoon garlic powder
 4 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 3/4 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

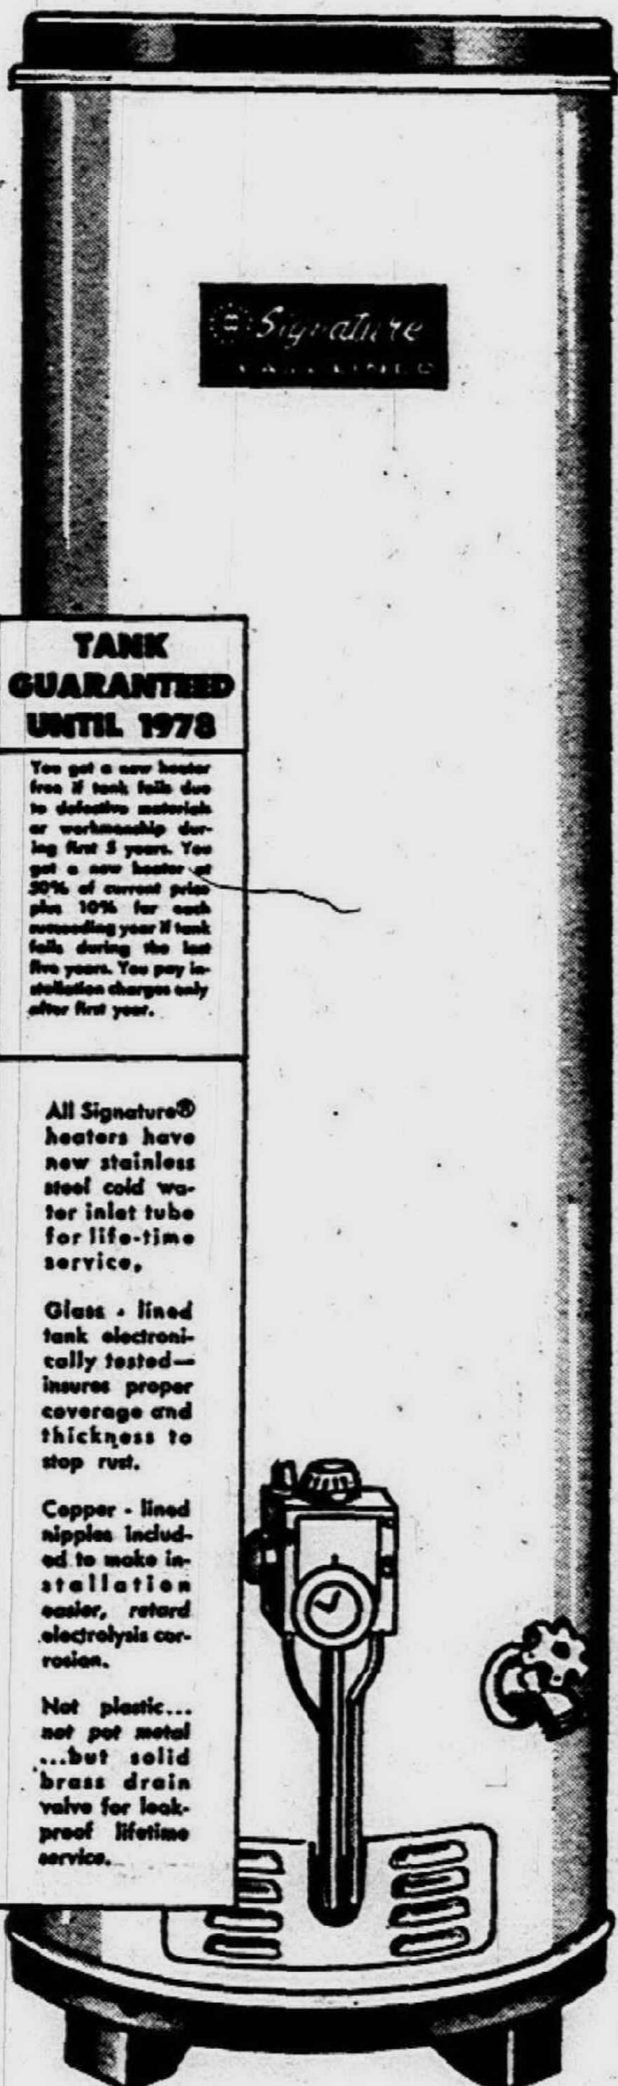

Mix together milk, sugar and salt; cool slightly. In large bowl, sprinkle yeast over water; stir till dissolved. Blend in milk mixture, herbs and flour; beat vigorously for two minutes, or till batter is satiny. Cover and let rise in warm place till double in bulk, about 45 minutes. Add walnuts and stir batter down. Beat vigorously with spoon about one minute. Pour into lightly greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake uncovered at 375 degrees for one hour, or till done. Turn out of casserole and cool on rack. Makes one loaf.

COGNAC CHOCOLATE-WALNUT PIE
 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
 5 eggs, separated
 1/4 cup cognac
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 1/8 teaspoon each salt and cream of tartar
 1/2 cup granulated sugar
 1/2 pint (1 cup) whipping cream
 3/4 cup chopped walnuts
 Graham cracker crust in 9-inch spring form pan

Walnut halves for decorating
 Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over hot, not boiling, water. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time, alternating with cognac, and beat until smooth. Stir in vanilla and remove from heat. Let cool. Beat egg whites with salt and cream of tartar until stiff but not dry; gradually beat in sugar, one tablespoon at a time. Fold a small amount of meringue into chocolate mixture; then fold chocolate mixture into meringue. Whip cream until stiff and fold in half of it; reserve remainder for garnish. Add chopped walnuts. Pile chocolate mixture into a spring form pan lined with a graham cracker crust. Let chill until firm. Before serving, decorate the pie with dollops of whipped cream and walnut halves. Makes eight servings.

Pop Corn Gang Will Love This

For the gang that likes to pop corn, plan a pop-art party where everyone tries his hand at pop art with a candied popcorn mixture.

Greet the guests with a table-top snowman made with popcorn and to keep them from eating up all the art supplies, bring out a popcorn cake, complete with tiers and candles and a tiny angel adorning the top.

HOW TO POP CORN

Heat 1/4 cup corn oil in large (4-quart) heavy skillet or kettle over medium heat about 3 minutes. Add 1/2 cup popcorn; cover, leaving small air space at edge of cover. Shake frequently over medium heat until popping stops. Salt to taste. Makes 2 quarts. Do not double recipe.

POPCORN SNOWMAN

4 1/3 cups light corn syrup
4 1/3 cups sugar
12 1/2 quarts white popped corn
1 (3 1/2-inch) and 4 (4-inch) dowel sticks

To prepare base: Combine 1 2/3 cups of the corn syrup and 1 2/3 cups of the sugar in heavy saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil and sugar is dissolved. Measure 4 1/2-quarts of the popped corn into large kettle. Place over medium heat and, stirring constantly, gradually pour syrup mixture over popped corn, stirring until all is completely and evenly coated, 3 to 5 minutes. Remove from heat and press mixture into greased 2 1/2-quart mixing bowl with spoon. Let set about 20 minutes. Unmold and leave flat side down. Insert 13 1/2-inch dowel stick through center.

To prepare middle: Follow method for preparing base mixture, using 1 1/3 cups of the corn syrup, 1 1/3 cups of the sugar and 4 quarts of the popped corn. Press mixture evenly into 2 greased 1-quart mixing bowls. Let set about 20 minutes. Unmold one bowl and place flat side up through dowel stick on base. Unmold second and place flat side down through dowel stick, forming a ball.

To prepare head and arms: Follow method for preparing base mixture, using 1 1/3 cups of the corn syrup, 1 1/3 cups of the sugar and 4 quarts of the popped corn. Let mixture stand until cool enough to handle, then shape about half the mixture into a ball for head, using greased hands. Place through dowel stick on top of middle section.

Shape half the remaining mixture into a curved arm to nestle at the waist (center of the middle ball). Insert one (4-inch) dowel stick partially into back of arm, along inner curve, near end. Repeat with a second (4-inch) stick near front end.

To attach to snowman, insert first stick into side of middle ball, curve arm toward front of snowman and insert second stick to keep arm close to body. Repeat procedure for second arm. Decorate snowman as desired. If mixture cools and does not stick together, place over low heat a few minutes.

POPCORN CAKE

1/2 cup light corn syrup
2 cups sugar
1 cup water
20 regular size marshmallows
2 teaspoons almond extract
17 cups popped corn

Combine corn syrup, sugar and water in saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Cook without stirring to 238 degrees F, or until a small amount of mixture forms a soft ball when dropped into very cold water. Remove from heat. Quickly add marshmallows and almond extract, stirring until marshmallows melt and blend with syrup. Pour syrup over popcorn and toss until all popcorn is well coated. Press mixture into one greased 9-inch and one greased 8-inch layer cake pan, and into one greased coffee can, filling one can half full. Any remaining mixture may be pressed into small custard cup. Let stand until cool and firm, then unmold. Stack layers and decorate as desired, using candies, ribbon, candies and tree ornaments.

To cut the cake, remove the ornaments, lift off one layer at a time and cut into slices.

Keep Grand Manner

New York (NAPS)—Many people with money don't have it, while many people without money do. It's the Grand Manner, and as more than one person has found, it can lead to a fuller life, social acceptance and a cool feeling of reality being "somebody."

What is the Grand Manner? It's sophistication, tailored until it fits you like a custom-made suit. It's the difference between eating and "dining"—between "just being dressed" and being impeccably turned out. It's traveling first class as a way of life.

The Grand Manner is yours for the making if you read and heed these easy tips (on acquiring a gracious state of mind). (1) SPIFF UP YOUR ROUTINE:

The things you do every day are the most important of all. Get into the habit of doing things with flair. Whether you're male or female—housewife, career gal or bachelor—the Grand Manner begins at home.

Something as ordinary as a family meal or a solo dinner can become gracious if you incorporate a few easy, but elegant touches. Buy a gourmet cookbook. Forget hamburger. Instead, drape that mound of meat in bacon.

While it sizzles to sighs, make a sauce out of packaged onion soup, red wine and coarse pepper—and dare anyone to call it a "hamburger!"

(2) THINK BIG ON LITTLE TOUCHES

Candles are inexpensive and impart a note of grandeur you should get used to. Fresh-cut flowers are an additional touch of luxury. Wine is a sophisticated plus, and for special effect, put the bottle in a wicker serving basket. Treat yourself to a few long-stemmed wine glasses and always use them.

(3) VACATION GLORIOUSLY:

When elegant living at home becomes something you take for granted, plan a vacation you won't forget. Boarding a Pullman car was considered traveling in the Grand Manner not too long ago—the rich coaches and personalized service were a part of lavish living. But, today, you can travel "pullman-style"—even if you don't have much "pull"—yet.

Vacation in the Grand Manner right in your own town. Check into a hotel or motel for one night, but remember, there's no class like first class, so make it the best suite in the best place in town.

You'll not only forego the frayed edges (and travel expense) of a real journey, but you can even have your friends with you on your grand vacation. Invite them to your suite for cocktails. It'll be a new and different party for them—and easy entertaining for you, as room service takes over on drinks and hors d'oeuvres preparation.

(4) DRESS THE PART:

The real you shouldn't be kept under wraps. Select your clothes to be you, not just to cover you. Often, the people with greatest chic have limited wardrobes, but each outfit is chosen with careful attention to tailoring, comfort and fit.

Think about the finishing touches. A single piece of classic jewelry is worth more than a whole drawerful of faddish baubles and bangles.

(5) PICK UP THE SCENT:

Ever notice that when an imposing woman or man passes by, there's invariably an aura of fine scent in the air? Fragrance is a must in creating the Grand Manner, and it should be with you as your "signature" wherever you go.

Enjoy a wardrobe of scented accessories—perfumed soap, dusting powder, bath oil, cologne and perfume—all coordinated in one fragrance. For men, an excellent after-shave or cologne is indispensable to the Manner.

(6) BONE UP ON THE BRAIN:

While you're concentrating on appearances, don't neglect the mental department. Learn what's "op" in the arts. Tune in on electronic music. Visit museums and art galleries.

Bride Will Welcome Cook'n Serve Range

If you enjoy cooking, you probably realize the importance of having a portable counter-top range that offers efficient, quick-heat cooking wherever there's an electrical outlet.

West Bend's Cook 'n Serve Range with new two-tone avocado enamel finish and striking chrome and black trim brings style to the buffet, patio or a small apartment. Individual heating elements have "infinite" heat control for performing a variety of cooking tasks, from main course dishes to party snacks.
