

REASON TO COMPLAIN: For some time the business men in the downtown area have been complaining about the fact that garbage and rubbish is not being picked up on schedule. Here is the unsightly condition behind the Wool Shop where there, supposedly, hasn't been a pickup in several weeks.

Penniman Building Fire Sets Longevity Record

The fire that destroyed the Penniman Building last Sunday not only was the most stubborn blaze in the city's history, but it also set a record for longevity.

The first alarm was sounded shortly after noon on Sunday and it was not until almost 60 hours later, on Tuesday evening, that Fire Chief George Schoenneman declared the fire "out" and removed the last of the fire fighters from the scene.

"It was the worst one I ever experienced," the chief explained, "and it was stubborn right to the very end."

FROM THE time the alarm was sounded until early Sunday evening the downtown area was flooded with smoke so thick that it was difficult to see for more than 20 or 30 feet. Then, finally, the flames showed and it was certain that the fire could be controlled.

"As long as it was just smoke," the chief emphasized, "we had a terrible time. That building is a series of false ceilings and the basement was like a honey comb. Somewhere in there we knew there would be flames, but we needed a draft to get them out."

The draft came when the weight of the water being poured on the roof finally caused it to collapse.

"I HAD BEEN in the building with several men earlier in the afternoon," the chief went on, "but after we kicked in doors, we found the floor and steps starting to sag and I ordered the men out to forestall any fatalities."

It was shortly before midnight, on Sunday, when the fire was considered "under control." From then, until Tuesday evening, there were spasmodic blazes, but none of them became dangerous.

"These flare-ups," the chief pointed out "were the result of portions of the floors and some of the ceilings collapsing."

To the layman this was like a leaf fire. After you think it has burned itself out, it flares from time to time.

BECAUSE OF the heavy demands made on the members of the Fire Department during the fire, more than a dozen men from DeHoCo were obtained to help with the clean-up work.

These men helped pry the hose out of the ice and clean up Penniman, aside from doing odd jobs around the City Hall fire station.

Chief Schoenneman was loud in praise and thanks to the many persons who provided coffee and sandwiches for the firemen during the blaze. He had special praise for the two doctors—Dr. Ensign Clyde and Dr. Lee Feldkamp—who stood by for hours to lend medical assistance when needed. They were on the job when the chief and four of his mates were rushed to St. Joseph Hospital after being on the verge of collapse shortly after Sunday midnight.

While no official figure has been reached Chief Schoenneman estimates that the total damage from the fire will amount to approximately $200,000.

P&A Theater Project Sidetracked By Fire

Because of the fire that destroyed the Penniman Building last week plans for developing the P&A Theater into a cultural center are being held in abeyance.

While the theater was being renovated plans were under way to obtain the Penniman Building for such necessary functional facilities as meeting rooms, dressing rooms, and a large lobby.

In fact the Industrial Development Committee was in the midst of efforts to arrange a purchase.

An option agreement had been forwarded to Mrs. Ann B. Polozker, of Southfield, owner of the building. Ironically, it was returned, unsigned, on the Friday before the fire.

Then, on Monday, she made inquiries relative to the sale of the building.

"We are delaying all plans for the time being," Harold Guenther, major-domo of the P&A Theater movement explained, "until we can make a re-evaluation of conditions."

Plymouth Man Survives Odd Kidnapping

Police from two states and the City of Plymouth are hunting two men who kidnapped a Plymouth man early on Saturday, Jan. 6, and robbed him of $154 at gun point.

Arthur Booth, of 197 Amelia, was going to his job at the Ford Plant in Northville at 4:30 a.m. when the crimes were committed.

He stopped on N. Mill St. to wait for a train to clear the crossing, when two men approached his car from both sides and opened the driver's and passenger's doors and thrust guns at Booth.

They said, "We're going for a ride."

The robbers forced Booth onto the floor of the back seat and drove his car to the I-94 expressway and stole the money.

The men, who police believe to be professional thieves, bound Booth's hands and feet with tape and drove the car to Dune Acres, Ind. They abandoned him in a railroad station parking lot, where he was later discovered by a passenger.

Dune Acres is approximately 10 miles east of Gary.

As soon as Booth was free, he notified Indiana State Police who, in turn, contacted Michigan State Police and the City of Plymouth. The FBI also was called on the case.

Booth was unhurt but shaken up. He described his assailants as a white and a Negro with guns—a .45 caliber automatic and a luger—and about 35 years old.

Booth said the white man had a broken nose. The Negro had no unusual marks.

The charges of armed robbery and kidnapping carry a possible life sentence.

Booth returned home the following Sunday afternoon.

Highway Officials Stand Firm On Route For M-14

More than 400 residents of Plymouth Township and surrounding communities Thursday learned that the proposed route for the extension of highway M-14 is exactly the same as outlined by State Highway Department officials more than a year ago.

The Highway Department fulfilled all of its legal obligations for the extension in the required public hearing in the Plymouth High auditorium. It could well have skipped the session since nothing new was disclosed and those who attended an informal hearing in the Plymouth Township Hall 12 months ago had all of the information at that time.

The only difference between Thursday's session and that at the Township Hall was the appearance of some new names and faces on the Highway Department panel.

G. ROBERT ADAMS, head of the department's public hearing division, served as chairman where S. Ataman, second in command of the route location division, handled the earlier meeting.

Joseph Molinare, from the Right-of-Way Division, was on hand to answer questions in regard to land values and acquisition and Steve Kessler, from the Transportation and Planning division of the Route Location group, was prepared to take the floor when needed.

As it turned out, the much discussed hearing was one of the quietest ever presented in Plymouth. It appeared as if all of the homeowners affected by the proposed route knew it was a cut and dried matter and complaints would get scant attention or results.

ADAMS OPENED the program by telling of the plans for the highway expansion. It will be six lanes from Schoolcraft to Beck Road and then four lanes to the point where it meets M-14 outside of Ann Arbor.

He explained some of the problems the route location teams faced, such as: what to do after Ford Motor Co. received a building permit and started construction of the plant on Sheldon Road north of Western Electric.

Then there was the matter of skirting the property of St. John's Seminary and the gas fields of Consumers Power located in the vicinity of Shearer Drive.

Rubbish Problem Grows

In the next two or three years, Plymouth Township residents may have no place of their own to dump rubbish. The dump, located on Haggerty Rd. south of Schoolcraft, may have to close soon if something isn't done to extend its life.

The owner, Dial Trucking, has asked the township board to approve the closing of a drain that runs through the property. This could add another five years life to the use of the dump.

In 1967, 2,144 persons dumped their rubbish at the site and at this rate, if the drain is not closed, the land will be completely filled in a short time.

The board deferred any action on the matter at its meeting last Tuesday until it decides what type of material it will authorize to cover the drain.

He showed diagrams of the proposed route and an alternate B which crosses the Ford Motor property at a point where future expansion is planned. It also touches the gas fields, which would make Consumers Power very unhappy, and would have taken some 25 acres from the Seminary, and the Bishops of Michigan indicated they would not "buy" this at any time.

"WE ALSO learned during our study that the B route would cost $9 million more than the proposed route," said Adams. "We are interested in keeping costs down as much as possible. All of you present should agree with this since the taxes for such projects come from you."

Adams scoffed at complaints that the route would make shambles of the township's 701 comprehensive program.

"No program of this type should be drawn up in such a manner that it can't be changed," he said. "Master plans are fine but they shouldn't be unchangeable, especially in a situation like this where $30 millions are involved."

Adams pointed out that under the proposed plan, Shearer Drive would be wiped out entirely and that Burning Tree Lane would have to be relocated.

HE TOLD the audience that a study has shown more than once that there isn't any loss to an area when a freeway comes in, contrary to complaints that a highway would slash values on adjoining properties.

Molinare explained how the Highway Department appraisers evaluate land and that every property owner directly involved would be entitled to fair market price for land and buildings in the highway corridor.

Mayor Harvey Moelke, of Livonia, protested the proposed route on the grounds that the last westerly exit in Livonia will be at Levan Road and the next will be at N. Sheldon, some four and a half miles away.

"A check of other freeways in the Metropolitan Detroit area will show that interchanges are much closer," Moelke said. "Thousands of workers in the area would be using this facility and we in Livonia believe the Highway Department should make some adjustments."

ROBERT LARSON, representing the Wayne County Road Commission, reported the commission will accept generally the plans as proposed.

"However, the road commissioners believe the Sheldon Road interchange has a limited egress and thus would landlock valuable property in that vicinity," said Larson. "The board feels the Highway Department should study this carefully before making a final decision."

Irving Rozian, 13925 Beck Road, Plymouth, Township, former chairman of the Township Planning Commission, pointed out that Ford Motor could have located its plant farther north and allowed the highway to cross directly west. ★ Please turn to page 4

Economic Club Will Host Four Students

Four Plymouth High School students, who are active members in Junior Achievement, have been invited to attend the noon luncheon meeting of Detroit Economic Club, on Monday, Jan. 15.

Brian Dusbiber, 14401 Shadywood Dr., Larry Birkelbaw, 5435 Gotfredson, David Kime, 14871 Lakewood, and Denny Roscoe, 9701 Terry, will be the guests of William T. Thompson, manager U.S. Purchasing Office of the A.B. Volvo plant. The speaker will be George C. McGhee, United States ambassador to the Federal Republic of Germany. His subject will be "The New Dynamic Germany."

Every week the Detroit Economic Club invites 10 male Junior Achievers to attend the Monday luncheons. These young men are the guests of a representative of a local business or industry, and it is only through the student's affiliation with J.A. that this opportunity is extended to him.

Official Route Of M-14

Here is the official route of the new M-14 highway which has been established by the State Highway Commission:

It will start at the intersection of I-96 and I-275 near Schoolcraft and Haggerty Roads.

From there it will skirt the north edge of Plymouth and continue west to Ridge Road, just north of North Territorial Road.

At this point it will swing southwesterly, cut through a corner of Salem Township and then parallel Plymouth - Ann Arbor Roads to the existing M-14, just west of Plymouth-Ann Arbor Roads.

Alloway Gets Inspector Job

Ralph Alloway, 6699 Haggerty Rd., Canton Township, has been appointed Plymouth Township's building inspector to fill the vacant post left by the death of Herbert Smith in December.

Alloway has been in the contracting and building business in the Plymouth area for the past 15 years.

John McEwen, township supervisor, reported he interviewed eight men before he decided to recommend Alloway to the board for the job.

Township Denies Drain Charge

In a brief but succinct answer to the City of Plymouth's allegation that Plymouth Township is causing the city to flood during heavy storms, the Township Engineer, Herald Hamill, reported that the township could in no way be held responsible for the city's poor drainage.

Hamill informed the Trustees that there were no buildings in the township that were leading to the city's woes and that as far as he knew none of the drains in the township had led to any flooding in the city.

He did say, however, that during a severe storm the city could be affected from the overflow from township drains.

But, he added, the area has not had a storm severe enough to cause this since 1947. He commented that December's heavy rainfall was not considered a severe storm as far as drainage was concerned and that the township drains handled the run-off water more than adequately.

Hamill noted that sometimes the culvert west of Sheldon Rd. did pond, but this was not due to any too small drain pipes.

He said the pipes were large enough to accommodate almost any amount of water run-off, however, the culvert was often blocked with debris and the water had no place to go.

Community Fund Calls Meeting

The Plymouth Community Fund will hold its annual meeting Tuesday, Jan. 16 at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Township Hall. Reports from all participating agencies will be heard. The meeting is open to the public.

HERE'S THE HIPPO -- A DAINTY DISH, EH?

Tired Of Old Menu - There's Hippopotamus

If you are tired of eating the same old thing--like lion steak, elk roast, caribou ribs or broasted black bear--try something uniquely different, hippopotamus.

A 500 pound baby hippo is on display at the Hillside Inn on Plymouth Rd. and is scheduled to be roasted, fried and broiled in about two weeks.

Each year Bob Stremich, manager of the restaurant, obtains something unusual for his customers' eating pleasure.

Stremich said he received the hippo from Thomson-Cain Co. in Detroit. He is quite sure, however, that the animal originally came from Africa by way of Custer State Park in South Dakota.

The frozen hippo has been in the parking lot since Jan. 5 and Stremich said that people have come from as far as 35 miles away just to see what it looks like.

He explained that on Sunday, while the restaurant was closed, people were flocking into the parking lot with their children.

He added that he will try and keep it out in front for another two weeks as long as the weather stays freezing cold. But, he can't guarantee how it will taste because he has never eaten hippo either.

New Adult Classes Scheduled

Plymouth High School will launch its 1968 Winter Adult Education and recreation activities term Feb. 5 and the department has added 12 new courses to its curriculum.

The new courses listed are: yoga for men; federal and state income tax; upholstery; brokerage fundamentals; and charm and beauty.

Among the classes offered for high school credits to those who have not received their high school diplomas are seven additions--machine shop, art, home economics, machine woodworking, business law, arts and crafts, biology or life science.

High school credit classes range from auto maintenance to sociology and meet on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

For those interested in something different and unusual there is an introductory astrology class and for the gypsies in the crowd there is a handwriting analysis course.

These are but a few of the interesting, helpful and informative classes that will be offered this winter but they are not all that the department offers.

The teen ski club at the high school has nearly 300 members so far and expects additional enrollments. Eight more ski trips are scheduled to various ski slopes near Plymouth.

Possibly the most interesting of the youth activities scheduled for the winter will be rifle shooting and archery.

All in all the program planned for February will be full and challenging.

Registrations will be accepted until Jan. 26 by mail or phone.

Courses not listed in the catalogue will be offered if there is ten or more people who express an interest in having it taught.

Home Made Rinks Doomed In Township

Paul J. Albright, Plymouth Township Public Services Director, has been given the task of reviewing a 1963 policy allowing township residents the use of fire hydrants and necessary equipment to flood their backyards to make ice rinks.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, township treasurer, brought the matter before the board because she believed the policy should be abolished. Mrs. Holmes recommended that the board drop the policy because the township should not be put in the position of making peoples' ice rinks.

Trustee Ralph Garber commented, "Don't any of these people have hoses on their houses?"

Fast Driving Proves Costly

Speeding in Plymouth Township cost two men each $115 when Plymouth Township Justice of the Peace James E. McCarthy heard their cases last week.

Walter Dennis Eskra, 9161 Ridge Rd., Plymouth, was fined $115 plus six months probation for speeding 55 miles an hour over the posted limit and Ronald Albert Carr, of Garden City, was also fined $115 for impaired driving.

A total of $778 was levied in fines by the court in hearing 21 cases.

To The Editor:

There has been a rumor going the rounds about an oil company's refusal to provide gasoline to our fire trucks at last Sunday's fire and I think it is necessary to set the record straight.

At the outset, some of the fire trucks were running low on fuel by around 3 o'clock in the afternoon. It was then necessary for us to contact the company that received the contract for supplying the city with gasoline.

Since that particular distributor was out of town and on the road at the time, he was difficult to locate in the first place. Then, it was discovered that it would take him approximately one hour to fill up and to come to the scene, as he would have to drive to Ypsilanti for his fuel.

Therefore, we contacted the

City Manager Reports

Here's Story Behind Fuel Delivery At Fire

Marathon Oil Company distributor, who serviced us faithfully every two hours by bringing his fuel truck out and loading each of our trucks. I must add that there was no extra charge for this delivery. The only bill that the city is to receive is for the gasoline. The services of the truck driver were donated. His name should be mentioned. He is Bill Kleckner, who lives here in Plymouth.

The actual owner of the truck was out of town and when he returned there was some misunderstanding about the possibility of endangering the truck. However, this situation was cleared up and the owner was about to proceed with the delivery of gas, when we were notified that Standard Oil was coming in to furnish us with fuel at that time. Therefore, we cancelled the Marathon truck driver.

We have nothing but praise for the services of Marathon Oil Company. The local filling station attendant provided his station throughout the night as understanding about the possibility of endangering the truck. However, this situation was cleared up and the owner was about to proceed with the delivery of gas, when we were notified that Standard Oil was coming in to furnish us with fuel at that time. Therefore, we cancelled the Marathon truck driver.

We have nothing but praise for the services of Marathon Oil Company. The local filling station attendant provided his station throughout the night as a place for our men to drink coffee and warm up. Furthermore, Bill Kleckner provided free delivery service at no extra charge to the city.

Disaster Controls Needed In Township

In the event of a disaster, either natural or otherwise, occurring in Plymouth Township at the present time, no adequate control could be implemented to quickly quell or offset the calamity.

Paul J. Albright, township public safety director, reported this fact to the Township Board Tuesday night and advised that something must be done quickly to alleviate the problem.

He explained that, if the township were to have a fire like last Sunday's fire in the city, no road blocks or barricades of any kind could be set up quickly enough to keep traffic or spectators out of the danger zone.

He pointed out it would be about two hours before measures could be taken, in the event of a large disaster, to control crowds.

Also, Albright stated, there is a lack of coordination on the part of the different agencies that would be involved in helping the township.

Some of the volunteer firemen have other responsibilities--such as civil defense--which would be duplicated if their services were needed by the township.

The Director said, "The greatest problem following a disaster is: the lack of coordination between the various agencies and their duplication of efforts; and spectator involvement, such as sightseers, traffic congestion, looting and pilfering, and crowds adding to existing congestion, creating additional hazards."

The township did establish a disaster control on April 18, 1957, but the plan then devised fell by the wayside from lack of interest.

The Board of Trustees, in the light of Albright's report, authorized him to implement any plans he had already made

The Stroller...

The return of several of the area's sun-tanned economic royalists from winter vacations brought about an interesting discussion at the luncheon the other day.

Each, in turn, spoke of the wonderful time he had, and how well he liked the place he visited, and how sorry he was that the vacation had to be so short.

"You are all creatures of habit," Jack Stephenson cut in. "I don't know of anyone going on a vacation who doesn't write back. 'Having good time—wish you were here.'"

"But let me tell you something," he went on. "I have listened to a lot of people extol the virtues of the Hawaiian Islands, and tell of their beauty."

"Well, I just got back from there and I think the place is vastly over-rated."

Strangely and surprisingly, most of the others in the sun-tanned group revealed that all was not as pictured in the areas they visited.

One, who had been to Puerto Rico, pointed out that he liked the area, the scenery, the climate, and all the trimmings, but that the accommodations were not just up to snuff.

Another who had been to Mexico also confided that while the place was nice there were several things, such as food and water, that caused a bit of consternation.

"That just proves my point," Jack went on. "When we go on vacation and send word back home it is always the same—'Having a good time, wish you were here.' And we really don't mean it."

"We're just creatures of habit," It was an interesting point to a fellow who never has had the pleasure of a winter vacation in the sun-drenched climes.

ANOTHER ANGLE ON RAIL TRAFFIC

How many freight cars do you suppose pass through Plymouth each day?

This question was raised during the recent survey of the rail crossings in the area.

The exact count possibly varies from day to day, but you could make an educated guess with this information—

On the average, 50 freight trains pass through the area each 24 hours.

If you took time to count the number of cars in each train you would find that the average would be slightly more than 100 cars.

It is a matter of simple multiplication to arrive at a figure of 5,000 cars.

And, if placed in one single line, they would reach from Plymouth to Lansing, or thereabouts.

So, the next time you are delayed at one of the crossings, just be thankful that these cars comprise 50 trains each day and not just one.

EVER HEAR OF TRANSPORTATION CLUB?

Speaking of trains and the railroad, something new is about to be tried in the Plymouth area—the organization of a transportation club to charter a morning passenger train into Detroit.

Don Ward, who has done a bit of traveling to and from the city, has an idea that a non-profit group could be formed to charter a train each morning and that, once established, could attract several hundred commuters.

It's worth a try.

THE CASE OF THE ORANGE WATER

If you were one of the spectators at last Sunday's fire on Penniman Avenue and wondered about the orange-colored water being used to fight the blaze, here's the answer.

Checking with several officials of the city, it was their opinion that the orange color really was just being washed out of the city mains.

For some time residents, especially housewives, have complained about the rust and the trouble it brought about while doing the family wash.

At times, the charge was scoffed at. But when rust showed up on Sunday, the officials admitted it could be the rust being washed out of the mains.

It will be interesting to note whether there are any more complaints, because the 1,500,000 gallons of water used on the fire could remove an awful lot of whatever it is.

THOUGHTS WHILE STROLLING:

While the January sales are still on, it might be a good time for the city to purchase the decorative lights to brighten up the downtown area next Christmas.

Wonder how many years it will be before Kellogg Park will be made to look its part. Plans have been in the making for a decade, but only the women in the Garden Club seem to get anything done.

How do strangers know when they are leaving the city and entering the Township? Or residents, for that matter.

How about some signs?

Team Work Shown At Fire Should Serve As Example For City, Township

One of the most pleasantly surprising things you find as you travel this vale of tears is the speed with which people unite in time of trouble.

They can be the bitter rivals in business, enemies of the first magnitude in their political thinking and carry grudges every moment of the day. But let some tragedy strike and all these things are forgotten as they rally for a common cause.

The Penniman Avenue fire in Plymouth last week was the latest example. Shortly after the city firemen answered the call it was felt that it would be a stubborn fire in which help would be needed.

Realizing this, Fire Chief George Schoenneman sounded the plea for mutual aid. The response was amazing. Men and equipment from eight communities answered the call and remained on the scene until the fire was under control almost 12 hours later.

They worked as a single unit. At no time was there any question about which section of the area they represented. There was a job to be done—and they did it.

It was this combined effort that brought the historic fire under control. It was the work of all concerned that saved the P & A Theater and prevented the fire from spreading to the adjoining paint store. Had the paint store ignited there could have been no end of trouble.

The work of the firemen not only was commendable, but it proved that the people from the various political subdivisions of the area could work together for the common good—if they would just forget jealousies and personal ambitions.

It long has been known that there is an invisible wall between the City of Plymouth and the Township. For some strange reason the leaders of both groups shy away from a unification program that would be beneficial to the entire western section of Wayne county.

Let any question arise—even the building of a much needed facility as the proposed community center and ice arena—and the first thing one hears is:

HOW LONG WILL IT SMOLDER?

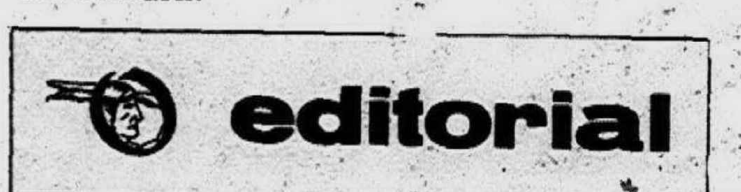

POLLUTING PLYMOUTH'S POTENTIAL

"What is the Township going to do?" "Will it do its part?"

On the other hand, the Township officials turn away from unification suggestions with the remark:

"Why should we bail out the city?"

The same has been true in the much larger unification program—the Council of Governments proposed for Southeastern Michigan. From the very start of this proposal it has been fought on the theory that one area might profit more than another—or this group will control the affairs... and that one group would have to share the bills of another.

As a result, the movement is just spinning its wheels.

It would be a different matter if these various communities were self-sufficient. They aren't. For example, there's the ever-increasing problem of garbage disposal, recreation, mass transportation, duplication of efforts in government and a myriad of others that could be solved if jealousies and ambitions could be pushed aside.

In a sense these problems are just as dangerous to an area as a fire, or a flood. No lives are endangered, but a way of life is stymied.

There is no question that within a few years the entire Plymouth area will be faced with a garbage problem that could be a threat to health and welfare of all citizens. Yet, all efforts to bring about a combined attack on the problem meet with failure for one reason or another. Much the same is true with drainage and water.

It's amazing how township and city groups can work together on such things as the Fall Festival, the July Fourth festivities and other pleasure activities and then bog down when government leadership is mentioned.

At last Sunday's fire, unfortunate as it was, there were fire fighters from all areas working together for the common good.

Someone was in trouble and no questions were asked.

Unification of the various political groups also is for the common good.

Why can't they follow the example of the firemen?

Letter To The Editor Thanks For Lights

To the Editor,

Many thanks to the person or group responsible for the new ice-skating rink on the high school field.

We have been using it—sometimes three times a day and enjoying every second of it.

The lights are wonderful too, and the "No Hockey" sign gives non-hockey skaters a "fair chance."

I could go on for a few more paragraphs but it all boils down to thanks for thinking of the kids.

presented to the planning board, may be the basis of a court action," Rozian stated.

"The fact that Ford had broken ground for this plant before the site plan had been presented to the planning board, may be the basis of a court action," Rozian stated.

"WE ON the planning board had been told that there was a change in the thinking and planning for the Seminary and that the land could be taken. We also were told earlier that Consumers Power had a pumping station located in the proposed alternate route but that it could be moved at a cost of $150,000. Then that figure became $2 million when it appeared a shift was in the offing for the highway.

"The proposed route will take out four or five houses on Ridgewood and the alternate B would have eliminated a similar number of residences in other sections of the township. We would hope that alternate B would be adopted."

Rozian stressed that the township board doesn't have the power of veto in this matter but that there was a possibility of residents contesting the route in that it violated sections of the 701 plan.

"PERHAPS the provisions of the law setting up funds for the comprehensive plan program could form the basis of a suit that could give citizens the right of veto through the courts," he stated.

Township Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes attacked the something it knew nothing about. If the Highway Department was planning the freeway at the same time we were drawing up the 701 program, it certainly didn't let us in on the secret."

representing C&O Railroad, Clare Hoedeman, highway engineer for the Washtenaw County Road Commission, and Supervisor William Cavanaugh, of Superior Township.

"What did the hearing accomplish? Not much. It just gave the Highway Department a change to fulfill its obligations for a public hearing and also to reiterate its statement of the proposed route of more than a year ago.

It did draw a lot of people who probably are still wondering today just why they bothered attending a cut and dried affair.

EMPLOYMENT in the U.S. reached an all-time high of 74.4 million workers in 1967, reported the Labor Department. The work force showed an increase of 1.5 million over 1966. There were 2.7 million jobless in December, about the same as a year earlier, but 100,000 fewer than in November and 450,000 fewer than in October.

DR. J.C. AN EXPLOSION, Tuesday night, shattered two houses killing nine persons in Reading, Pa. The source of the explosion is not known but is suspected to have been caused by a two-man city water crew who were digging in front of the house at the time of the blast. They may have struck a gas main.

Measures announced by President Johnson to preserve the value of the dollar by restoring the U.S. Balance of payments have brought gloom to short-term world economic hopes, some foreign observers indicated this week. Measures proposed by the President include curbs on U.S. investments overseas and an appeal for Americans to defer pleasure trips outside the Western Hemisphere for at least two years. For most European and many Asian countries, this means fewer American dollars from tourists and foreign-based U.S. companies, and therefore a slow down in economic growth.

THE RESULTS of a 1966 London census indicate that the city has more women than men, but there is a surplus of bachelors. There are nearly 100,000 more unmarried men than single girls. Total London population was found to be 7,671,220.

Fire Prevents Tree Burning

The Penniman Avenue fire was certainly not a planned part of Plymouth's Sunday night activities.

Ironically, the annual Twelfth Night Christmas tree burning observed by the First United Presbyterian Church was scheduled for 6 p.m. last Sunday evening, but had to be delayed.

"There were no fire trucks available and no firemen to stand by," said a church spokesman.

They were all fighting the unscheduled blaze two blocks away.

The Top Side of Life

By Rev. David Strang

If you wanted to be on the "top side of life" last week you had to be down on Penniman Avenue in Plymouth, between 10 p.m. Sunday and anytime very early Monday morning.

That's where the action was. And I don't mean the action of standing on the sidewalk watching, either. To really be there you had to be wearing ridiculously heavy boots, an out-of-style (but practical) rubber coat--black is "in" right now--and an indestructible funny-looking hat.

Besides that, you had to be covered with ice. You would also have acquired one of a number of unusual maladies: lungs crammed with tasty smoke, frost-bite, shivers that won't quit, cold feet, or an empty stomach.

AH YES, The Action! Being a fireman. You know, those guys the public pays for sitting in a firehouse all day playing cards or drinking coffee or watching television.

What a great life. They even get to run around town occasionally having fun with red lights and sirens. Fun.

Oh sure! Fun: going to the hospital for the night because you can hardly breathe. Feeling the pain of frost-bitten thumbs for weeks after the thaws have long since gone home.

Standing at the top of a 65 foot ladder for hours. Throwing your knee to the back of your leg trying to climb down a ladder so icy you can't even find the rungs.

FUN! ACTION!

Can't understand why those guys keep asking for more salary every year. I mean, what do they really do? And some of them are even asking for pensions. All that just waiting around for a citizen to call for a little help.

One time during the fun and frolic last Sunday afternoon part of the second floor caved in, nearly clobbering several of those lazy firemen.

Fifteen other firemen dropped everything and in less than a second were there, ready to dig their buddies out with their bare hands if necessary.

NOW THAT REALLY is the top side of life.

I don't know about you, but the next time some citizen complains because he thinks firemen don't do much, I think I'll cuss at him.

That goes for elected officials too, at least the ones who think those guys earn enough money already.

But wait! I shouldn't be writing all this stuff. After all, this is supposed to be a column about religious things, like dedication and commitment.

THE WESTERN SUBURBAN JUNIOR WOMANS CLUB—has only two Plymouth members, Mrs. Jack Winchell, (left) International Affairs Chairman and Mrs. George Quartermous, (right) Club Secretary. The two young women share with their President, Mrs. Lee McInnis (center) the hope that many pairs of shoes will be donated to the club's worthy cause.

Newly Formed Club Seeks Interested Young Women

The eight-month-old Western Suburban Junior Woman's Club is an infant in the club world but has much to offer in the area of worthwhile work for the young woman.

The club's major concern is giving help where it is needed and since its formation in June 1967 has given financial aid to Girlstown, a girls' home in Belleville; provided baskets of food for families at Thanksgiving, and collected Toys for Tots at Christmas-time.

In the area of needed services in the western suburban communities, the club has plans for the publication of rated movie listings through school and local news media.

SHOES FOR THE SHIP HOPE, the club's current philanthropy, is an international project of Junior Women's Clubs.

The young women are asking that used but wearable shoes, in infants to teenagers sizes, with new shoelaces (if the present ones are worn) be placed in the container on display in Fisher's Shoe Store.

When the shoes reach the good ship, Hope, they will be made into orthopedic shoes for the children of underdeveloped countries.

THE CLUB'S president, Mrs. Tom McGinnis of Westland, states, "I am very pleased in the high quality of work accomplished and with the enthusiasm of the 15 young women who represent our membership."

"With the growth of the club it will be possible to provide services of many more types throughout the extensive western area," she added.

With thoughts and hopes directed toward future growth the fledgling club has planned a membership tea Wednesday, Feb. 21, in the home of Mrs. Jack Winchell, 41150 Crabtree Lane.

"We all wear two hats and do double duty because there are so few of us," Mrs. Winchell says with a smile.

It is hoped that with increased membership, the club will be able to divide and each community will eventually have its own Junior Woman's Club.

Reservations for the membership tea are being taken by Mrs. Gerald Carpenter, 425-1132 and Mrs. Tom McGinnis, 422-3422.

MR. AND MRS. VERNE TAYLOR of 41888 Brentwood enjoy a recent cruise from Miami to Cozumel, Mexico for a day of sight-seeing and shopping for Mexican handicraft.

AAUW Play Plans Set

The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women has begun work on its annual children's play.

As in the past, AAUW branch members participate completely in all phases of production including script, set, costumes and acting.

This year's play, Sleeping Beauty, brings live drama to younger children on a level they will understand and enjoy. The Plymouth AAUW has successfully produced eight plays in as many years.

There will be four performances of Sleeping Beauty in the Plymouth High School on Saturday, Feb. 24. Ticket information will be sent home with the children of Plymouth and Northville schools as the play date approaches. Most tickets are presold and very few are available at the door.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Richard Fritz. The producer, Mrs. Jerry Yokey, will have the help of Mrs. LaVerne Jones, Business Manager, Mrs. John Hopkins and Mrs. William King, Plymouth ticket chairman and Mrs. Roger Rinaldi, Northville ticket chairman.

Miss Ann Welch, set designer and stage manager, will be assisted by Mrs. John Campbell, in charge of lights, Mrs. James Smith, music coordinator, Mrs. Richard Kirchgatter, costumes, and Mrs. Thomas Carl and Mrs. John O'Reilly, publicity.

Tell It To Glenly

The old adage claims that "necessity is the mother of invention" but I'll put my money on the American housewife every time.

For example, years ago a woman who does a considerable amount of sewing for her family showed me a skirt she had made for her daughter. The skirt was lovely, but the way she had fastened it to an ordinary hanger from the cleaners with the aid of two clip type clothespins intrigued me more. As a result I never have had to buy one of those expensive hangers.

THEN THERE is the one I read about last summer that sounded like a dilly for the traveler. Did you ever hit the road in 85 degree heat and after an hour of riding become terribly thirsty?

If you had carefully washed a half gallon milk carton, filled it with clear fresh water and stored it in your freezer until time of departure, its contents would have melted enough to assure you and your family of a cold refreshing drink from a disposable container.

Hotdog buns, hamburger buns and miscellaneous rolls that have been kicking around the bread box can be revived when put into a brown paper lunch bag which is then run under water and placed in a medium oven while you're getting dinner on the table.

Do you have a little trick that makes a chore easier, keeps the kids quieter, or makes a meal better?

Tell it to Glenly!

ANYONE WHO has ever lost a pet can sympathize with Mrs. Connie Cavanaugh, of 40205 Warren Road, (that's in the Holiday Park subdivision.)

"Snoopy", the family beagle, has been gone for about a week. He's only a year old and has been with the Cavanaghs since puppyhood. The Cavanaghs' four children, Patrick, eight, Jackie, 13, Sharon, 14 and DeAnna, four, have been crying at intervals since Snoopy's disappearance.

Then there's the matter of "Callie", the Cavanaugh cat. She grew up with Snoopy and is so upset by his absence that she won't eat anything but ice cream.

Snoopy wherever you may be...COME HOME!

MRS. DOROTHY FINNEY of 725 Coolidge is home and shivering after two weeks of California sunshine.

Republican Women Invite Men To 'Luncheon With Elly'

The "Luncheon with Elly Peterson", to be held on Friday, Jan. 26 at 12 noon in the Mayflower Meeting House, has been opened to men as well as women.

Mrs. Roy Phelan, president of the Plymouth Republican Woman's Federation, announced that she has received inquiries from men interested in the luncheon, which is part of the huge political conference being held in Plymouth on Jan. 26-27.

Mrs. Elly Peterson, guest speaker at the luncheon, has an impressive list of "firsts" to her credit.

She was appointed first woman director of Field Organization for State Central in 1961.

Later she was chosen as assistant Chairman of the Republican National Committee, the first from Michigan.

In 1964, she became the Republican Nominee for the United States Senate, the first woman to be chosen in Michigan. In 1965 Mrs. Peterson was unanimously acclaimed Republican State Central Committee Chairman.

She is the first woman elected state chairman in the history of the nationwide Republican Party.

Luncheon tickets are available from Mrs. Ginny Feld, GL 3-1448 or Sylvia Mullen, GL 3-3652.

FACE OF BATTLE -- Livonia's Lt. Robert D. White is shown in Vietnam after a battle with the Viet Cong in which he was wounded. Checking the gun of the dead Viet Cong soldier later, White found a bullet meant for him had jammed in the chamber.

Demand For Stamps Swamps Post Offices

Long lines which formed in four Observerland post offices finally subsided by the end of the week because the stamp rush is over.

Last week and at the beginning of this week most post offices ran out of penny and six-cent stamps when customers flooded windows. The rush was called lunatic, unprecedented, crazy and stemmed from the recent raise in postal rates on first class mail from five to six cents on Jan. 7.

Farmington drew on its emergency supply of 40,000 one-centers on Tuesday but it was only good for two hours. Postmaster Henry Trombley called Chicago for more, but his request was only one among many throughout the midwest.

This Farmington office never ran out completely for more than a few hours at a time. Since Jan. 1 it has sold 224,000 ones and 152,000 sixes which compares to 40,000 pennies and 60,000 sixes for all of last year.

Maurice F. Deever, superintendent of mails in Farmington, remarked that post office headquarters in Washington didn't anticipate the flood of people who were buying stamps like there weren't going to be anymore.

Deever added that a lot of businesses had stocks of five cent stamps on hand when the raise went into effect and grabbed up as many penny stamps as they could.

The same sort of situation prevailed in the other three post offices.

Art Jenkins, postmaster in Livonia, commented that the postal rate hike bill was signed by President Johnson around Dec. 15 or 16 which only gave the printers in Washington a little more than two weeks to get new stamps out.

On top of this, the increase came soon after the Christmas rush which had already depleted the stamp stock.

Right after he had sent his regular order to Washington for stamps, Jenkins added, post offices were hit with the stampede and had to resort to emergency Chicago orders to meet supplies.

For the first three days of this week, Livonia sold 90,000 one-centers which was more than it sold last year. Since Jan. 1, Jenkins estimated that his office sold a quarter of a million penny stamps.

Cong Bullet Misfires, Livonia Man Spared

Second Lt. Robert D. White has the bullet with his name on it.

White is a mortar platoon leader for Company A, 1st of the 50th Mechanical Infantry, 1st Air Cavalry Division.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan A. White, of 11401 Fairfield, have received letters from their son following two weeks in the hospital recovering from knee, arm and face wounds.

But there was one Viet Cong bullet that misfired.

WHITE WAS COMMANDING his platoon in mid-December on a search and destroy mission near the Tiger Mountains in the Central Highlands when two Viet Cong were spotted. Men of White's platoon killed one but the other ran into the underbrush. White searched through the bushes and came face-to-muzzle with the surviving Viet Cong's rifle.

White jumped back, fired and missed. He heard the Viet Cong pull the trigger of his own rifle and the hammer hitting the round of ammunition. Another GI then fired and killed the Viet Cong.

WHITE WAS CURIOUS. He found the Viet Cong's bullet in the chamber, the pin had hit the round but it had failed to fire.

White was wounded in other simultaneous action and spent two weeks in a hospital, his mother said. He is now recovered and back with his platoon. But the bullet that misfired? White's got it and is happy it's a souvenir.

Students Visit Hospitals

The Franklin High School Psychology club under the supervision of John Graves, David Juhnke, and John Ort will be visiting the Northville and Wayne County General Hospitals Jan. 18.

Traveling by bus, the students will leave at 6:30 and return at approximately 9:30 p.m.

These annual trips are becoming increasingly popular with the students. According to Graves, the students participating develop an understanding of mental health, and bring the outside world into the grasp of the mental patient by serving cookies, playing cards, entertaining, and just generally talking and listening to them.

All twelfth grade students at Franklin who are or plan to take psychology are eligible to go on these visits. There is only one problem that seems to confront the club's supervisors: The teens want to keep going back for more.

Grooming Takes A New Twist At NSH

This fashion show one evening last week was a little different. The girls were well dressed and well groomed, yes. They were dressed in the latest fashions, to be sure. There was a selected audience, which is par.

What makes it different, says Pat Worman, is that "the program is therapeutic; the girls are not on display."

The attractive Miss Worman is a special education teacher in the young adults unit at Northville State Hospital. The models are some of the patients, and the audience is relatives and close friends.

What seems at first to be a fashion show actually represents a couple of new ideas at the state mental hospital. It adds spice to the treatment, and it represents one of the first efforts of the hospital to get help from private industry—in this case, a department store chain—in training and rehabilitation programs.

THE YOUNG WOMEN patients have an area called "family living" in their curriculum, and this is where Miss Worman teaches. It covers grooming, infant care, nutrition and sewing. The fashion show is an upshot of the grooming class.

"Not all the girls have trouble," Miss Worman says of their grooming, "but they do, in an institution, tend to 'let themselves go.'"

The effects of good grooming, clothes selection and poise on a woman who knows she has them are—well—obvious.

Miss Worman, a graduate of Western Michigan University, had done student teaching at the junior and senior high school level and had worked at another state hospital, but this matter of formally teaching grooming was new.

She did a bit of checking around, learned about the Wendy Ward classes that Montgomery

Ward offers in high schools, and asked about prices.

NOT ONLY DID the Wendy Ward people donate fancy books, supplies and make-up kits for 19 girls, but they also sent out a model, Mrs. Marti Maley of Redford, to help teach the course.

Mrs. Maley provided five lessons of 1 1/2 hours each about once a week, and Miss Worman followed through with practice sessions a couple of times a week.

For last week's fashion show, the models wore outfits they selected and borrowed from Ward's racks.

Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, hospital superintendent, reports that the young adults unit may soon be getting some help from the automobile manufacturers—equipment to teach automotive work and visual aids.

"This is a trend among companies," Dr. Yudashkin said, "This is different from giving a million dollars to some institution."

DR. M. KEMAL GOKNAR, chief of the young adults unit, adds that "the state isn't really rich enough to support all these activities."

By "these activities," he means not only grooming and automotive classes but evening social activities, visits to college campuses or museums, picnics.

The patients themselves, through car washes and talent shows, raise small amounts for their programs.

The young adults unit itself is a fairly new thing at Northville State Hospital. "Before we opened this unit about a year ago," says Dr. Goknar, "we would have three or four youngsters in each of the other wards."

GROOMING TIPS are given Northville State Hospital patient by Mrs. Marti Maley (center), a model and Wendy Ward instructor, and Miss Pat Worman, special education teacher in the NSH young adults ward.

Kuhn Asks State Internal Security Council, Probe

State Sen. George Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield, will introduce a bill to set up a "State Internal Security Council" and a resolution asking a confidential crime report to the Senate.

Kuhn, whose district includes Livonia, Plymouth and Farmington, said the Internal Security Council would be comprised of nine civilian and state military officials.

"The State Internal Security Council's objective would be to keep abreast of all subversive activity, either planned or contemplated, which would tend to undermine the health, welfare and public safety of any citizen."

"I propose that this Council be composed of the following nine individuals: governor; state police commissioner; commander in chief of the Michigan National Guard; officer in charge of the FBI; state attorney general; and two members of the Senate and two members of the House of Representatives (to include the respective chairmen of the House and Senate Judiciary Committee, and the Senate Committee on Crime and Riots)," Kuhn said.

KUHN SAID he will ask in his resolution for an "executive" session of the Senate on Feb. 14 to hear a confidential report from state police commissioner Frederick Davids on crime and riot problems.

Kuhn said several events have underscored the need for stiff crime and riot legislation on a state level:

(1) The Governor's Crime Commission admission that "organized elements" helped to build Detroit's limited incident of public disorder into the bloodiest and most costly riot in United States history.

(2) The commission report that "had sufficient police intelligence been available on July 23, 1967, as to the identity of certain individuals and their plans, many of the most serious early developments of the riot—such as the widespread fire-bombing—might have been controlled."

(3) The existing power struggles currently being waged for leadership of the Negro community.

(4) The recent robbery of weapons from the Pontiac Army Reserve Center, described as "a small arsenal."

(5) The ever growing crime rate, especially the murders in Detroit which hit an all time high of 331 for 1967—breaking a 42 year old record of 1926 in which 226 were murdered during the Purple Gang heyday.

(6) The fear of taxicab and bus drivers, bankers and small businessmen, who cannot perform their services to the public even in broad daylight, let alone the evening or night hours.

Litterbugs Cost State $1,967 Daily

The State Highway Commission spent $1,967 a day in 1967 to pick up tons of roadside garbage, much of it discarded by thoughtless litterbugs.

"The nearly $718,000 spent to clean up along 9,200 miles of state highway is about three times the amount spent six years ago," said Henrik E. Stafseth, acting state highway director.

"When we consider the additional cost to local highway departments on county, township and city roads, the total cost of picking up highway debris in Michigan could easily run 10 times the amount we spend."

"This is a tremendous incentive to all of us to do more to help keep our state clean, not only for our own enjoyment, but for the millions of tourists who spend more than a billion dollars in Michigan annually."

The Highway Commission's biggest clean-up job is in the spring when melting snow uncovers tons of bottles, cans and other roadside debris.

The State Highway Commission estimates that the cost of collecting six widely scattered bottles and the paper container they came in is three times the value of a full six-pack.

Packers Battle Oakland Today For Pro Grid Title

Green Bay vs. Oakland!
The championship of professional football rides on the outcome of their collision Sunday in the Super Bowl game in the Orange Bowl at Miami (Channel 2, 2:30 p.m.).

Lions' Star Named Player Group Head

It's short and sweet along the sports scene:
John Gordy, Detroit Lions guard, has been named head of the National Football League's Player Association. The group this week announced he will go before the owners with stern demands such as minimum salaries, more money for exhibitions, etc.

BOTH MAJOR COLLEGE basketball polls listed UCLA, Houston, North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee in that order.

In the state high school ratings, Detroit Pershing's defending state champs head the Class A ratings with East Lansing, Flint Central, Ypsilanti and DeLaSalle following... In Class B, Menominee ranks No. 1 with River Rouge second. Menominee won the "B" title last year.

HOCKEY'S BOBBY HULL of Chicago achieved another milestone this week when he scored his 400th and 401st goals. He joins a very select circle that includes Detroit's Gordie Howe and the retired Rocker Richard.

SPEAKING OF HOCKEY, Norm Ullman of Livonia and the Red Wings has been named along

Only the brave will venture a prediction in favor of Oakland, the kings of the American League.

The Raiders, in the estimations of most, just aren't in the same class as the Packers, who'll be out to make it two straight in the Super Bowl. A year ago, they stormed past Kansas City.

For Sunday's encounter, Green Bay has been installed at least as a 14 point favorite. Some figure the odds should be 21 or 28 points.

THE PACKERS have in Bart Starr one of the all-time quarterback greats. They have as sturdy a defense as any team ever has put together in football.

They also have the poise, the confidence and the knowhow. This doesn't mean, of course, that the Raiders will fall over and play dead.

They, too, boast a strong defense -- one which stopped just about everybody, including Houston in the league's championship game.

Oakland also has a capable quarterback in Darle Lamonica, but it wouldn't appear that he is in the class of a Starr--yet.

ANOTHER FACTOR, which could inspire Green Bay on Sunday, is the fact the game Sunday could be the last one Vince Lombardi coaches at Green Bay.

Rumors have existed for a couple of years that Lombardi might step out as coach and devote full time to his other Packer job -- that of general manager.

There also was a report this past week that Lombardi might buy into the New York Jets of the American League.

Lombardi isn't saying what he'll do. But it just could be that in his final pep talk for the 1967 season, which was dragged into '68, he just might say:

"Boys, win this for me in my last game as your coach." The Packers finished their regular season with a 9-4-1 record. They then beat Los Angeles in the first round of the playoffs and then nipped Dallas in the title game on the dramatic touchdown scored by Starr as time ran out in 13- below zero weather.

Oakland rolled to a 13-1 victory in the regular season and won the league title by running wild over Houston.

Sunday's game doesn't end the football season. Still to be played will be the All Star games for the two leagues the following Sunday.

BIGGEST BOOSTER for University of Detroit athletics in the Plymouth area is Attorney Earl Demel, (right), who was a member of the Titan varsity back quite a few years ago. The U-D basketball team stopped off last Tuesday to pick up Demel and take him to the game against Notre Dame in South Bend. He wasn't a good luck mascot for the Titans took a good drubbing. Welcoming Demel aboard the Greyhound bus are: (from left) Coach Bob Calihan, Center, Tom Richardson and Center Jerry Swartzfager.

Schoolcraft Blitzed By Henry Ford

Schoolcraft College's basketball team again ran into problems in losing to Henry Ford of Dearborn, 108-82.

The Ford cagers simply were too tall and had too much rebounding power for the Schoolcraft team which has won only once this season.

Schoolcraft still managed to stay fairly close at halftime, trailing by only a 40-33 score.

Steve Moore topped the losers with 19 points while Nate Lullibrand notched 14 points and Mike McCauley 10.

Schoolcraft invaded Ohio for a two-game weekend series, playing at Cuyahoga J.C. in Cleveland Friday and at Lorain J.C. in Lorain, Saturday.

The Schoolcraft team returns home to Northville next Wednesday to meet the Oakland Community College Highland Lakes teams.

RU Swimmers Rack Up 6th

Redford Union high's swimmers started the new year where they left off by adding to their winning ways. The Townshippers made it six straight without a loss in roaring past Trenton, 63-43, Thursday. Trenton managed to win only two of the events.

Red Wings And Pistons Home Rivals

A rarity in sports scheduling was to find both the Detroit Pistons and Red Wings playing at home Saturday night. Both were pitted against the champs of their respective leagues--the Pistons meeting Philadelphia at Cobo Arena, the Wings the Chicago Black Hawks at Olympia. Saturday's game was the first of six in two weeks set by the Pistons at home. They entertain San Francisco Wednesday, Seattle next Friday, New York on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 21; Philadelphia on Jan. 25 and Los Angeles on Jan. 27. After Saturday's game, the Wings will be idle until after Tuesday's All-Star game, resuming action Wednesday at Montreal.

Tiger Pilot To Appear At 3 Fetes

Baseball booms back into the Detroit spotlight this week as Tiger Manager Mayo Smith heads club officials who'll appear at a series of functions. Smith, whose Tigers just missed the pennant when beaten in the final game last season, will meet the press at the Baseball Writers annual dinner Tuesday night, the Broadcasters the next afternoon and then appear Wednesday night at the annual Tiger winter party. Bill Freehan, voted the Tiger of 1967, will receive his award from the Baseball writers at Tuesday's dinner.

STEVE OTT -- Popular graduate of Plymouth High School shown here enjoying a laugh during rehearsal for the presentation of "The Misanthrope" at Hillsdale College. He had one of the lead roles.

New Golf Club May Aid Score

For the man who has everything but a low golf score, there's a new kind of golf club on the market. The club has an aluminum shaft that weighs one-third less than the standard steel shaft. According to The Aluminum Association, this allows more weight in the club head for greater thrust at the point of impact with the ball.

SENIORITY Tiger batting coach Wally Moses was in the major leagues for 17 years, but he played in only one World Series--with Boston in 1946.

Jerry Haltom and Ray Woods shared honors for the RU team as each won two events. Haltom also accounted for a pair of new varsity records and a pool mark at Trenton as well.

HE WAS TIMED IN 1.56.6 to shade a tenth of a second off his own school mark in the 200-yard free style. Then he came back with a 4.11 clocking to annex the 400-yard free. His time in the 400 was 4.6 seconds under the former RU standard which Haltom himself had set.

Woods turned in victories in the 50-yard and 100-yard free style while Mark FAVOR won the 100-yard butterfly and placed second in the 100-yard back stroke.

The RU winners: Medley relay - RU (Meyers, Charles, Mullins, Masterson). Time--1:50.5

50-yard free: 1--Ray Woods. Time: 23.6 seconds.

FAMINE ENDS After losing six straight meets, Plymouth high finally engineered a swimming triumph Thursday by downing Belleville, 63-32.

Chick Porter, one of the state's top free stylers, turned in a record-breaking performance of 51.4 seconds in winning the 100-yard free style to pace the Rocks. He topped the old mark of 51.6 seconds set four years ago by Dick Berry.

Porter also won the 50-yard free style in the blazing time of 22.8 seconds. Plymouth won both relays with Craig Notebaert, Jack Smith, Pat McCord and John Norman combining to take the medley in 1:50.6. Richard Pugsley, Mack Whitaker, Norman and Bob Riemas raced on the winning free style relay, being timed in 3:34.1.

Kienas copped the individual medley in 2:16.9; McCord the butterfly in 56.6 seconds; Notebaert the back stroke in 1:04.7; Wally Beglinger the 400-yard free style in 4:25.3 and Jack Smith the breast stroke in 1:11.8 to round out the Plymouth winners.

Bentley high's swimming team went down to its fourth straight defeat Thursday in losing to Allen Park, 63-42.

The Livonians triumphed in only four events with Dave Kee a double winner. He took the individual medley in 2:14.7 and the 400-yard free style in 4:21.1.

Bill Palmer gave Bentley a victory in the 50-yard free style in 24 seconds flat while Craig Auten captured the diving.

Bob Jetsen was second both in the individual medley and breast stroke while Palmer was second in the butterfly.

Foil Use Totals 110 Million Pounds
The average American family consumes about four packages of aluminum foil for cooking, food wrapping and other household uses. This amounted to more than 110 million pounds of foil in 1966, reports The Aluminum Association.

NO-HITTER Joe Horlen of the White Sox pitched a no-hitter against the Tigers on Sept. 10, 1967, the ninth against the Bengals in history.

THE VERY BEST SERVICE IN THE WORLD FRETTER'S

By George Maskin

observing sports

The experiment Plymouth and Farmington high schools tried in basketball — borrowing the 24-second shooting rule from the National Basketball Association — didn't go without notice.

The interim Detroit papers "played it up" and the story also went out on the various news wires, so that a prep basketball tilt played in Michigan gained a niche in the national spotlight.

There's no question now that other schools — in Michigan and elsewhere — will follow suit and try a game or two with the rule in effect.

That's because those connected with both Farmington and Plymouth were happy with the results and nobody sounded off negatively after Plymouth had squeezed out a 66-62 victory.

North Farmington and Southfield plan to use the rule and the 24-second clocks made available by the Detroit Pistons when they hook up in a non-leaguer a week from Saturday.

Other schools are talking, too. State director Charles E. Forsythe is awaiting a report from athletic directors John Sandmann and Jack Cotton of Plymouth and Farmington, respectively; also from coaches Dick Bearup (Plymouth) and Ray Boyles (Farmington) along with officials, players and fans.

Forsythe no doubt will take the report with him to the next meeting of the national prep rules committee. It could have some effect on how the rulesmen think.

Sandmann long has been one of the advocates of the preps adopting the time limit on getting a shot off.

In the pros, a team has 24 seconds from the time it gains possession of the ball to get the ball moving toward the basket. If the ball doesn't go in, a team can rebound its own shot and have another 24 seconds to set up a shot.

The way Farmington and Plymouth worked the rule, they waited until the ball reached mid-court before turning on the clock. Thus, the offensive team actually had around 30 seconds of possession.

"We have two types of play in a game," said Sandmann. "For three quarters a team will move the ball. Then, if it's ahead in the last period, it starts to stall — maybe for five or six minutes."

"This makes for a bad game . . . and it can't happen in a game with the 24-second clock."

Sandmann, Cotton, Boyles and Bearup all agreed that the clocks didn't change the pattern of play in the Farmington-Plymouth game since "both were running and shooting teams" until the final few moments with some 50 seconds to go. Plymouth had to shoot, despite the fact that it had a two-point lead.

"Without the 24-second clocks, no doubt our Plymouth team would have been stalling that last minute," expressed Sandmann. "Happily for us, the shot went in to sew up the victory."

EVEN IN DEFEAT, losing-cause Boyles was impressed.

"I don't like the present rule which we have that a team in the front court must make a move within five seconds or possibly be called for a jump," said Boyles. "I think we should add the pro rule. It makes for a more interesting game."

Plymouth coach Bearup, meantime, had put his statisticians to work and they came up with some interesting results.

For example: Plymouth shot within 7.1 seconds after crossing the midcourt line; Farmington every 7.2 seconds.

"Even if we figured in an additional four or five seconds required to bring the ball from the back line to midcourt, that means both teams were shooting within 12 or 13 seconds," added Bearup.

Bearup was surprised by how much a team could accomplish within 10 or 12 seconds.

"Why, you have enough time to set up a play, and get off a good shot in the space of ten seconds," he noted.

S. Lyon Free Throws Sink C'Ville, 81-75

Free throws and fouls told the story Tuesday night when Clarenceville dropped a non-league basketball game to South Lyon, 81-75.

Clarenceville pumped in 34 baskets during the game to 26 for South Lyons.

But Clarenceville was guilty of 31 personal fouls to 11 for South Lyons.

As a result, South Lyons clicked on 29 free throws while Clarenceville managed only 13.

South Lyons held a 22-19 lead after the first period and was on top, 60-54, at halftime.

With Bob Duman and Dave Brandemuhl leading the way, Clarenceville gained a two-point lead in the third period and then was tied in the fourth period before South Lyons put on its winning push.

Duman wound up with 26 points and Brandemuhl 23 while teammate Gary Rifkin tossed in 17 in a losing cause.

ORCHARD LAKE St. Mary's had too much size and rebounding power for Our Lady of Sorrows in rolling to a 74-46 victory.

GOV. ROMNEY said he will abide by the State Supreme Court's ruling that his removal of Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald, as adjutant general two years ago, a "contrary to law", but will fire McDonald just as soon as he can. Romney had charged McDonald with malfeasance, misfeasance and gross neglect of duty. McDonald stands to collect between $60,000 and $70,000 in back salary and allowances.

SARAH SCURTI, 21, of Detroit, and Nancy Poplawski, 19, of Detroit, were killed when their car was struck by a pickup truck and another auto while making a left turn from Harper into Lakeview. They were struck broadside first by the truck which police say was driven by Herman Klave, 22, of Detroit, and then by the car that was allegedly driven by Herman's brother, Gary, 19. The two fled on foot and were later apprehended through identification by the license plates. They will be charged with manslaughter and leaving the scene of an accident.

BACKERS OF THE state open housing law have started a campaign to push for passage of the measure and a special Governor's Commission on Crime has submitted a list of 25 recommendations for anti-crime and anti-riot measures, asking Romney to submit them to the Legislature for action which all proves that these two issues coupled with lower court reorganization will be things which will dominate the 1968 regular session of the Michigan Congress.

THE 58-YEAR-OLD former "boy wonder" of Michigan politics and governor for six consecutive terms until 1960, G. Mennen Williams, says he is not seriously considering anything at the moment but he has left open possibility of running for public office again.

He has decided against seeking an Upper Peninsula congressional seat and has laid aside plans for running for the Michigan Supreme Court or seeking appointment to the federal bench.

DR. IRA POLLEY, state superintendent of public education, reported that almost 60 Michigan school districts may end the fiscal year in June with a deficit. He told the State Board of Education that closing of the Inkster district for lack of funds would be "unthinkable." Inkster threatened earlier to close its schools if the Legislature didn't pass a bill to allow it to borrow money in anticipation of next year's state aid.

WALTER BARC, owner-operator of Walter's Market, 5849 St. Aubin, Detroit, is in fair condition in Detroit General Hospital after he was shot in the neck in a gun duel with a bandit who dropped the look in the store during his escape. Barc told police that he tried to outwit the gunman who pulled a gun on him. He asked the thief not to shoot him and then pulled his own pistol from behind the counter and fired but missed.

GEORGE ROMNEY is brimming with confidence that he will do substantially well in the New Hampshire primary even though Richard M. Nixon will reportedly go into the race a 3-1 favorite. Romney said that he would be satisfied with nothing less than victory in the March 12 primary.

ROY L. REUTHER, brother of United Auto Workers president Walter Reuther, died Wednesday in Metropolitan Hospital of a heart attack. Reuther, 58, born in Wheeling, W. Va., worked with brothers Walter and Victor to organize the UAW in Detroit in the early 1930's. Surviving are his wife, Fania, two sons, his mother, three brothers, and a sister.

WAYNE DUNLAP: ANATOMY OF A LOCAL SYMPHONY

By TIM RICHARD
Sunday Editor

A half-dozen times each season, the Plymouth Symphony offers free concerts in the local high school gymnasium.

The programs are challenging, the performances are good, the soloists aren't national recording stars but are nonetheless competent artists, and the resources are local and regional.

How does Plymouth do it? Wayne Dunlap, the conductor, insists that credit be shared among hundreds of persons who support, help, try out for, and play in the symphony.

A former University of Michigan faculty member, Dunlap taught some years in the Plymouth school system and is now on the faculty of Schoolcraft College. He has conducted the Plymouth Symphony since 1951.

Dunlap has a great sense of audience and of communication. So we asked him a lot of questions about what makes a community symphony tick--the performers, the supporters, the programs.

Here are the questions and his answers:

Full Staff

QUESTION: How many members do you have in the Plymouth Symphony, and what problems, if any, do you have in recruiting new members?

DUNLAP: "Generally, we have 95 players, depending on the work we are doing. We've never had any real difficulty staffing a full symphony orchestra here.

"One reason may be, of course, that we're in the middle of a very rich area of talent, with Detroit, the University of Michigan and our various schools around."

"We find ourselves in the rather unique position here of having closed memberships. We cannot take any more violins, for example; if the truth were known, we'd have more than we need; we have more violins than the Detroit Symphony. The same is true of cellos and basses. If we need any strings at all, it would be in the viola section."

The Youngsters

QUESTION: We've noticed that your orchestra has a number of young players, apparently people of high school age.

DUNLAP: "Yes, and these people would not be in the orchestra were they not qualified."

"Each has to pass some kind of audition to get in the orchestra."

"In the Plymouth Symphony, we've had from the very beginning a youth program, to try to develop and encourage young talent. We look at the youth program as kind of a feeder for the symphony."

"Every year we give 10 scholarships to outstanding young orchestral musicians, strings and winds alike, to go to Interlochen or some school of their choice."

QUESTION: The orchestra is now 22 years old, and you've been conductor most of the time since 1951. How has the orchestra changed in that period?

DUNLAP: "The orchestra itself has changed less than one might think. We still have charter members in the orchestra, people who began 22 years ago. I think there are only two left, but they are still very active."

QUESTION: Tell us about your first chair musicians. We noticed their leadership was quite apparent during rehearsal.

DUNLAP: "Yes, we do have people whom I would call 'professional' in nearly every first chair. I don't mean professional in the sense they are making their livings wholly from playing."

"But we have, for example, six members of the faculty of the University of Michigan School of Music as our first chair players."

"We have several members of the Detroit Symphony, including our concertmaster."

"We think it is extremely important to have a cadre of professional players. Amateur musicians like to feel they are making progress. They can learn from these professional people. And these professionals can teach them, can inspire them by the quality of their performances."

"Any so-called pay is more in the nature of an honorarium, I believe. If we pay them $3 for a rehearsal, it would really not cover their expenses."

800 Involved

QUESTION: Yet even with professionals, there's still a good deal of community involvement--there must be, in an orchestra of this sort, to support it, to organize programs to aid it, and so forth. What is the involvement of people in this? And what sort of budget do you have?

DUNLAP: "You've hit on a very important point."

"One thing I learned from Russ Isbister (recently retired Plymouth superintendent of schools) was a statement he made that the strength of any organization depends on the number of people you can involve. 'It's always been our policy in the Plymouth Symphony to involve as many people in the operation of the orchestra as possible.'"

"To take them one at a time:

"We have, as I've already mentioned, 95 to 100 players. We have a governing board of directors of 12. We have myself and one other administrative officer."

"We have the Plymouth Symphony League--very active and very important; probably 125 or 150 women in this group."

"We have various performing groups from the community like the school groups, the children of the elementary schools on occasion, soloists, adult evening choir groups and so forth."

"In some years, I have totaled as many as 800 people from the community."

Financing

QUESTION: The budget?

DUNLAP: "The budget for us, I suppose, is quite high."

"The budget for the Plymouth Symphony this year is around $14,000."

"We are able to achieve this budget in several ways. And we're still able to present the concerts open to the public without charge."

"We operate on a membership basis. We have, for example, a Plymouth Symphony Society of which one can become a member for fees ranging from $10 to $100 and above."

"We have gifts from the Plymouth Community Fund and, of course, very active support from the league; we have donations from industry, from business."

"We don't have as large a membership as we should have. We have this year 200 active members of the Symphony Society. We believe this should be doubled, and we're making a valiant effort to attract more people."

"What isn't recognized or appreciated is the value of such groups as the symphony to the community from the standpoint of pure dollars and cents. We could document this with many cases: Industry moving into a community has studied not just whether they would have adequate labor, materials and transportation, but would the family of this man they were transferring here be satisfied?"

"We could document, in Plymouth, probably a dozen or two dozen families who have moved here, if not solely, at least partially because of the Plymouth Symphony and like organizations."

Toughest Job

QUESTION: Your programs seem well constructed. In the same way that a composer constructs a concerto or symphony, it seems that each of your programs has a theme of a well-thought-out beginning, middle and end. What kind of work does it take to program?

WAYNE DUNLAP

DUNLAP: "This is a very difficult matter—perhaps the most difficult of all in operating a symphony orchestra."

"You're right in noting that we view the season as a whole. We try to present a well-rounded picture of all different styles, different types of music; we try to provide contrast, we try for some sweep through the season. We try to educate; we try also to entertain."

"We try to give people enough of the things they know, spiced perhaps with things they're not familiar with."

"We begin our programming, with the Christmas concert and work both ways. If, for example, we're having a chorus at Christmastime, we'll not have one on either side of it. If we're having a violinist at this concert, we'll have a pianist at the next, and so forth."

"We believe we play a repertoire of a true symphonic nature, the same kind as the Detroit Symphony or the New York Philharmonic. I'm convinced we do not have to 'play down' to our people."

"We are always having to furnish contrasts. . . For example, we must, to be technical, be aware of keys. We could not play two pieces in succession in the same key because whether people realize it or not, this would give a certain sense of monotony and boredom."

"In our last program (April 28, 1968) we gave serious study to the fact that one piece at the end of the first half was in C minor, and the piece at the end, the Schubert Seventh Symphony, is in C major. We had to be certain this would not be a bore. People don't realize all the study that goes into building a program."

"It's what a composer will do in writing a symphony—he'll try to provide contrast between keys, so there will be movement and lack of monotony between movements. We do the same between pieces of a concert, and also between concerts."

St. John Bosco Rites Unite Pair

Katherine Marie Kopas and Steven Lane Cottrell were united in marriage in a nuptial mass Friday, Dec. 29, in St. John Bosco Catholic Church, Redford Township.

The Rev. Leo Sheltreau performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Kopas, of Redford Township, and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Dorothy Cottrell, of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Leonard F. Cottrell, of Fernandina Beach, Fla.

MRS. STEVEN COTTRELL
(Katherine Kopas)

MRS. KOPAS WORE a pale turquoise silk suit and a corsage of pink camellias.

The couple left for a Florida honeymoon after a reception at the home of the bride's parents. They will live in Cape May, N.J., where the bridegroom is stationed as a storekeeper with the U.S. Coast Guard.

Cold Rinse Helps Make Hamburgers

Rinse your hands in cold water before shaping ground beef into hamburgers. If you are putting two raw meat patties together with a stuffing, be sure to mold the edges together thoroughly.

Gregory N. Collins, of Carbondale, Ill., assisted the bridegroom as best man, and the ushers were James and Michael Kopas, brothers of the bride, and Paul Meloch.

Marzonies Wed Dec. 29 In Our Lady Of Sorrows

A home in Kalamazoo awaits Mr. and Mrs. James George Marzonie, wed in Byzantine rites in Our Lady of Sorrows Church, Farmington, Friday, Dec. 29.

The bride is the former Elizabeth Ann Haas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haas, of Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. William J. Marzonie, of Farmington, are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Edward Zavell, Byzantine priest from Utica, Mich., and a friend of the Marzonie family, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

THE BRIDE, WHO went down the aisle on the arm of her father, wore an ivory beaded brocade sheath gown with a bow at the high neck, long tapered sleeves and a simulated coat flowing into a full chapel train.

A cluster of beaded bows held her chapel-length veil of silk illusion, and she carried long-stemmed fuji mums wound with ivory brocade ribbon.

Her four attendants wore moire taffeta A-line dresses, and each carried a long-stemmed fuji mum. Their gowns were coral, green, yellow and ivory.

Mrs. Nicholas Sanduleak, sister of the bride, came from Cleveland to be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were John-astha Hagadorn, of Burr Oak, Mich., and Sue K. Jackson, of Flint. Elaine Kaufmann, was junior bridesmaid.

ASSISTING THE bridegroom as best man was Hubert Hahn, of Topeka, Kan., and William and Donald Marzonie, the bridegroom.

MRS. JAMES GEORGE MARZONIE
(Elizabeth Ann Haas)

groom's brothers, seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a coral dress with bead trim, and the costume of the bridegroom's mother was green.

The couple went to Chicago for a wedding trip, and will resume studies at Western Michigan University. The bridegroom also is employed by the Upjohn Corp.

BONNIE GRADY

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grady, of Oakview Avenue, Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie, to David R. Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Murray, of Plymouth. Both are graduates of Plymouth High School. The bride-to-be is employed at the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and her fiancé by the Ford Motor Co. The wedding has been set for June 8.

Energy Varies

Energy is a personal resource and each person differs in the amount he has. Efforts to improve body movement patterns are dependent upon a person's energy capacity level and age. But almost everyone can improve within his own limitations.

JANICE THOMAS

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thomas, of Terrence Drive, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice, to Pfc. Donald H. Oakley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Oakley, of Meadowlark Avenue, Livonia. Both are graduates of Bentley High School. The bride-elect is a graduate of Carnegie Institute in Detroit. Her fiancé attended Schoolcraft Community College for two years and now is serving in Vietnam. No wedding date has been set.

Taffeta Slips Best

Because taffeta-type slips are less likely to bunch up, they provide the most comfortable base for knitted dresses. And long-leg panties help to control thigh bulges and wobbly derriere when wearing stretch pants.

PAMALEE EDMUNDS

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edmunds Sr., of Beacon Drive, Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamalee, to Airman Robert L. Tripp, son of Harold Tripp, of Dearborn. The bride-elect is attending the Livonia Beauty School and her fiancé is a graduate of Fordson High School and serving with the U. S. Air Force at Biloxi, Miss. A June 29 wedding is planned in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, Detroit.

Breakfast Milk

A glass of milk or milk beverage for breakfast counts as part of the total milk requirements for the day. This same glass of milk adds high-quality protein to breakfast, according to Penn State extension foods and nutrition specialists.
