Police Chief
 Hits Proposed
 Penal Code

"This is asinine and basically never should be put into law."
 With this caustic criticism Plymouth Police Chief Robert Corrington, who also doubles as chairman of the Wayne County Police Chiefs Tactical Mobile Unit, pushed aside his copy of the proposed penal code developed by a committee of the State Bar of Michigan.

"Many of the suggestions are ridiculous," Chief Corrington continued, "and it seems that an effort is being made to reduce any authority a law enforcement officer might have in the course of duty."

The Chief pointed out a few of the suggestions and continued, "The trouble with this proposed code is the fact that it was developed by people who have had nothing to do with law enforcement — lawyers, college professors, sociologists, and the like."

Referring to some of the so-called more liberal ideas, Chief Corrington remarked that the one thing a criminal or suspect fears most is the fact that an officer has a gun and could shoot him. The proposed code relieves the criminal of this fear and leaves the enforcement officer in a bad way.

"Let me quote from the code," Chief Corrington went on.

"Section 630 deals with the use of deadly physical force in effecting an arrest. According to the proposal, the only time an officer could shoot a fleeing felon is if the felon had used or threatened to use deadly physical force or is attempting to escape by use of a deadly weapon."

"In other words, an officer could not shoot an escaping rapist, burglar, safe cracker, mugger, purse snatcher, etc. This proposal puts a premium on fleetness of foot, and there is no reason for a felon to submit to capture without trying to escape, being free from the worry that an officer will shoot him."

"This proposal certainly should make any potential victim of a criminal feel very secure. Perhaps all officers should exchange their side arms for sling shots so they could be sure not to harm the poor felon who is only trying to escape custody."

The Chief turned in his chair and, pushing the volume aside, asked, "What would you do in case a felon broke into your home, tied your hands and criminally attacked your wife?"

He didn't wait for an answer.

"Here's what the proposal states. According to Section 7, a citizen has no right to shoot a burglar in his own home unless there is the imminent threat of deadly physical force from the burglar."

"Imagine if you will, being assaulted in your home, tied up and seeing your wife or daughter being assaulted. Then imagine being able to free yourself, but still being unable to use a weapon to defend your home or family, merely because the felon did not use a deadly weapon."

"Well, that's what would happen if this proposal is put into law."

The Chief became downright indignant over this section of the proposed code.

"The professors, sociologists, and the do-gooders who had a hand in writing that in this section should go out in the jungle which is our cities and streets and see what is going on instead of staying in their ivory towers and trying to find out what else they can do for the criminal now."

"It would seem to me," the Chief concluded, "that they will have trouble trying to do anything more in favor of the criminal than they have done in this one section."

"I shudder to think of what will happen to society if such stupidity as this is allowed to go unchecked."

The proposed code has been a long time in developing by the State Bar Committee, but if the reaction of the Plymouth Chief is any criterion, it is headed for trouble in the Legislature.

Township Approves Plans For First Shopping Center

Plymouth Township has paved the way for its first shopping center.

The last hurdle was removed Tuesday night when the Planning Commission approved a building permit that will allow the developers, Stewart Oldford & Sons, to construct the center that will comprise more than 33,000 square feet.

Oldford informed the Commission that the center, to be located at the corner of Ann Arbor and Sheldon Roads, would have a Wrigley super-market of 22,100 square feet as a hub and several other stores would occupy the remaining 13,200 square feet.

THE PLAN was approved without a dissenting vote and it furnished another sizable bit of evidence that the township will continue the boom that started several years ago.

Oldford told the commission that construction will begin soon on a $350,000 Wrigley super market with completion sometime in the fall of 1968.

The super market will include a drug store, a delicatessen and a wine rack plus parking for 212 cars. The drug store and delicatessen will be within the market itself and not a wing to the building.

Individual floor plans for the remaining 13,200 square feet have not yet been drawn, but Oldford plans to have small retailers occupy the space. He said that no small retail leases have been finalized.

AS SOON as Oldford detailed the operation to the commission, Commissioner Maurice Breen moved that the permit be granted and Commissioner W.C. Koch quickly supported the motion.

While this has been approved, the commission deferred any action on three applications for rezoning which would also pave the way for more commercial development and apartments at the eastern end of the township.

The commission agreed to put the requests for rezoning on the agenda for its next meeting Feb. 21 at which time a public hearing will be held.

There were three separate requests—all for the same general location.

LEONARD S. Herman, developer of the Garden Apartments on the south side of Plymouth Road, between Eckles and Haggerty near the Plymouth Bowl, asked that the commission rezone property adjacent to his apartment complex from commercial (C-2) to multiple dwelling (R-2-A).

Two other requests, which the commission treated as one package, asked that property south of Plymouth Road along Haggerty Road running next to the Rouge River and going east almost to the site of the proposed location of the I-275 expressway be reclassified.

Harold E. Fischer asked that the top portion of the package be rezoned from (M-1) to (C-2) for a commercial shopping area.

Allan Tann asked that the remaining portion be rezoned from (M-1) to (R-2-A) for the construction of apartment buildings.

Since it is required by law that a public hearing be granted on proposed rezonings, and that these three applications for reclassification—were so closely linked, a motion to hold the public hearing was approved for all three at the same time.

Mrs. David Agnew, long time employee, helps Carl close book

Carl Caplin Closes Book On Long Business Career

Carl Caplin, the white-haired gentleman who has been a fixture in the business life of downtown Plymouth for more than three decades, closed his book of clothing samples Thursday afternoon and a wry smile spread across his face.

He had just announced that, after all these years, he had sold his business to Wendell Lent, and was ending a career which he had never anticipated.

"It's a funny thing," he said, "but I went to Eastern Michigan—we called it Ypsi Normal then—with the hopes of becoming a school teacher. But I never taught a day in my life."

The personable clothier who has survived several heart attacks and only recently escaped death when an automobile knocked he and John Dayton to the street after a Rotary meeting, turned to retail business after his graduation and never did get to teaching. Despite that, he kept close to education and once served as President of the School Board.

DURING HIS tenure as a salesman he also engaged in other pursuits, none the least of which was blowing a horn in an orchestra. He was in the pits at the Hollywood Theater in Detroit when Tom Notebaert, the real estate broker, was the manager.

Finally, Carl found his niche in Plymouth when he opened a men's clothing store on Penniman Avenue in 1934. This was just at the tail end of the depression and he realized he was taking a gamble. But he liked Plymouth and made up his mind he was going to stay.

It is a bit ironic that Wendell Lent, to whom he was selling his business, worked for him as a clerk in the Penniman store.

After 15 years at that site Carl moved out on Main Street and took over the favored location in the corner of the Mayflower Hotel. It wasn't long before this location became the focal point for the best dressed men in southeastern Michigan. IT WAS fashionable in those days to have your clothes custom made—and Carl built up a great clientele.

For a time this custom faded and Carl devoted his time to the sale of special clothes. "It's a funny thing," Carl chuckled, "but I am selling now, just after experiencing the best December I have had in a long while."

In announcing the sale, Carl emphasized that he was not retiring.

"Not a bit of it," he said, "I'm going to work—and I'm going to work right here in Plymouth. What kind of a job, or position, I will have I don't know—but it will be right here."

"And another thing," he added, "I am going to remain a resident of Plymouth. I've got a great stake in Plymouth and I wouldn't think of leaving."

He did confide that, after a month of helping Wendell Lent get acquainted with the new business, he would go to California for a month or so. "I want to spend some time watching my son, Ty, play golf. He's quite a golfer, you know."

With that he closed the sample book and another era on Main Street came to a close.

Kidnap Proves
 Hoax

A Plymouth man, Arthur Booth, who had the FBI and police officers from two states hunting for his would-be kidnapers and armed robbers, pleaded guilty to the charge of giving a false felony report to a peace officer Thursday night.

Plymouth City Municipal Judge Dunbar Davis deferred sentencing Booth pending a probation report from the Wayne County Probation office.

City Police Chief Robert Corrington said that parts of Booth's story didn't match and he suspected that Booth was not telling the truth.

The man was given a polygraph test Wednesday which confirmed Corrington's suspicions.

After the lie-detector test showed Booth to be lying he confessed the report he made to the FBI, Indiana State Police and Plymouth City Police Department pertaining to the kidnapping and robbery armed was false.

Booth had claimed that two men had robbed him of $154 and then bound his hands and feet and drove his car to Dune Acres, Ind., and abandoned him there.

Ash To Head
 Planning Body

Russell Ash has been re-elected as chairman of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission along with Melville Troyer who remained vice-chairman.

The position of secretary changed hands when Austin Stecker was elected by the commission to replace Charles Childs.

Contract Awarded For Drainage Study

To get a complete, unbiased report on the drainage problem within the limits of the city, the City Commission has authorized the expenditure of $3,350 for a comprehensive study by Johnson and Anderson, the city planners.

The study will embrace both the north and south branches of Tonquish Creek and their tributaries.

The drainage problem has been plaguing the Commission for some time. After each heavy rain there are complaints of flooding and the downtown business section often has been the victim of the damage.

These conditions have brought hints that the entire drainage system is poor, and getting worse with each new subdivision.

The Township has been blamed for helping to cause the condition on the theory that the water crosses the boundary line and the Township is responsible. This has been denied vehemently.

As a result of these charges and counter charges and the mounting complaints the study was approved in order that, once and for all, the actual conditions could become known.

Under the terms of the contract signed with Johnson and Anderson the study will include:

1—A definition of the total drainage district upstream from the city accompanied by a drainage map.

2—An analysis of existing flood plain area with cross sections of critical low areas, restrictions and potential ponding basins.

3—An analysis of the culverts and enclosures within the city with special consideration as to capacity and condition.

4—A review and recommendation of alternate methods available to alleviate potential flooding. Specifically:

Retracting
 Ponding
 Enlarging conduits

5—Develop cost estimates of alternative with recommendations.

The work on the study is to begin within the next two weeks and is to be completed within 90 days.

The study may help to solve one of the problems that has troubled the Commission. This is the drainage condition of the site for the proposed senior citizens home, where the building will be right on top of the Tonquish Creek bank.

Under the terms of the ordinance, adopted last Monday night, no person shall mark with any substance or in any other manner deface or do damage to any building owned, occupied or otherwise used by the schools within the city.

State Okays
 $172,000
 City Bonds

The Municipal Finance Commission furnished some glad tidings for the City of Plymouth during the week with the announcement that approval had been given for the sale of $147,000 in 1968 Motor Vehicle Highway Fund Bonds.

Along with announcement the city also was given approval for the sale of $25,000 in special assessment bonds.

The Motor Vehicle Bonds will be payable from state collected taxes returned to the city from the State of Michigan.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, chairman of the finance commission, stated that the proceeds of the bond sale will be used to defray part of the cost of constructing street improvements in the city. The bonds will run until 1982.

Earl Gibson Named To Top Fund Post

Earl Gibson, assistant superintendent of elementary education in the Community School District, was elevated to the presidency at the annual meeting of the Plymouth Community Fund last Tuesday. He succeeds John Herb, under whose direction the Fund went over the top last fall.

Along with the elevation of Gibson, Fred Beitner became president-elect and Joe West was named treasurer, while James Thomas, last year's campaign director, and Mrs. Helen Richardson, Township clerk, were named to the Board of Directors.

Representatives from agencies supported by the Fund gave reports of their activities for 1967 and announced plans for the coming year.

Financial reports of all of these agencies will be placed on file at the Chamber of Commerce office

City Ordinance Aids Schools

In an effort to help the school officials combat vandalism and teen-age pranks around the school buildings in the city, the City Commission has adopted an ordinance making all such activities punishable by fines not to exceed $300 or imprisonment of not more than 90 days.

Under the terms of the ordinance, adopted last Monday night, no person shall mark with any substance or in any other manner deface or do damage to any building owned, occupied or otherwise used by the schools within the city.

The ordinance carries authority much farther by including damage to fences, trees or lawns or other fixtures. And it also provides that the making of loud noises on the grounds while classes are in session or while any school function is in progress shall be punishable.

In the all inclusive ordinance the use of profane language also is forbidden and any person, not a student or employee, will be permitted to remain within the school during normal school hours.

Adoption of the ordinance came after many complaints regarding the defacing of the buildings, the damaging of the grounds and the pranks of the teen-agers along with the use of profane language.

Ordinarily, the schools have been able to take care of their own problems. It was to make this task easier that the City Commission adopted the drastic ordinance.

Prospects Brighten For Arena

Hopes that the proposed Plymouth ice arena and community center would become a reality brightened during the past week. In a joint meeting with the City Commission, the Plymouth Township officials voiced their approval of the plan and agreed to a further study regarding joint participation in the movement to provide the much needed facility.

To this end another meeting has been set for Feb. 14 in the Township Hall when a combined effort will be discussed at greater length. While the arena is to be built on the edge of the high school athletic field, the City Commission has gone on record with the thought that the entire program should be an area venture.

As a result, meetings have been planned with both the Township and the Plymouth Community Board of Education. The meeting with the school officials is scheduled for Jan. 29.

"It could be," City Manager Richard Blodgett explained, "that from the enthusiasm shown by the Township officials, we will broaden the scope and invite both Canton Township and Northville officials to join with us."

Wayne County Sheriff stated that Templin was trying to make a left turn at Sheldon and N. Territorial Roads and failed to yield right-of-way to Sweeney's vehicle.

Templin was injured but his condition is not known. Sweeney was unharmed. Four persons were hurt in a mishap on Monday when three cars were involved in a chain reaction rear end collision.

An automobile driven by William R. Moltrup, 41, of Inkster, was hit from behind by a car driven by Arthur Douglas Bulloch, 21, of Livonia, and then, Moltrup's auto was pushed into a third vehicle driven by Merle Charles Kelly, 39, of Wayne.

The accident occurred at Plymouth and Eckles Roads and police charged Bulloch with driving on an expired chauffeur's license.

Three of the four passengers in Bulloch's auto were taken to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia along with Moltrup.

The four are Sharon Larabell, 17 and Charles Larabell, 16, of Livonia, David Bulloch, 19, of Berkley.

Better Farm Data Asked

Congressman Marvin L. Esch (R-Ann Arbor) introduced legislation to require more accurate reporting of statistics by the Department of Agriculture, shortly after Congress convened last week.

"Grossly inaccurate crop and livestock estimates published by the Department of Agriculture have depressed the agriculture commodity markets and have resulted in the loss of millions of dollars of farm income," Esch said.

The proposed arena is to serve as a permanent memorial of the Plymouth Centennial that was celebrated throughout 1967.

When the Centennial Committee was formed it was instructed to recommend some project that would eventually wind up as a memorial.

The proposed ice arena is the result.

Representing the Township at the first of the joint meetings were: Attorney Ralph Cole, Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes; Clerk Helen Richardson, and Trustees Ralph Garber, Gene Overholt, Dick Lauterbach and Lou Norman. Supervisor John McEwen was absent because of a broken ankle.

Aside from Mayor James Jabara the city was represented by City Manager Blodgett, and Commissioners James Houk, James McKeon, Arch Vallier, George Hudson and Peter Schweitzer, along with City Clerk Gene Slider and City Attorney Charles Lowe.

Six Government Units Join In Garbage Study

The garbage disposal problem, which is becoming more troublesome each day in the area, was attacked on six fronts last Thursday.

Acting in his capacity as chairman of the incinerator project approved at the Leadership Conference last Spring, City Manager Richard Blodgett called a meeting of the five units of government--and six responded. The original group includes the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville Township, Northville and Canton Township, and Salem Township's request to be included was approved.

For a time the City of Plymouth has been working with the City of Livonia on a study for the possibility of establishing an incinerator authority.

This irked the various township officials as they felt they were being ignored.

City Commissioner James McKeon explained that this was not the case. He stated that it was a series of meetings to establish the extent of the problems and arrive at cost estimates for the garbage disposal.

On hearing this the various groups agreed to join hands in any effort, on the basis that in the event a garbage disposal authority is established they will have a voice in its operation and not just be contract members.

All integers then agreed to finalize their problems within the next month and then meet again -- this time in the Plymouth Township Hall.

City Changes Tree Planting Policy

In a departure from last year's tree planting policy, the City of Plymouth has decided to plant trees only at the request of the city home owner. Last year the city installed trees wherever it believed they were needed. But, by the end of the year many of the newly planted trees had died because the residents had not taken care of them.

Kenneth Vogras, director of the Department of Public Works, said, "It is felt that if a homeowner wants a tree and would like to see it grow into a mature tree, he should be willing to water and fertilize it."

The Stroller...

Ever since Bob Stremich came up with the novel idea of serving hippopotamus at Hillside Inn and putting one of the giant mammals on display, the eating of odd dishes has become a topic of many conversations.

Few, if any, of the folks who bring up the subject of the hippo ever have eaten any of the so-called delicacy. But that doesn't stop them from talking about the possibility and wondering how it would taste.

The other day Jack Selle, one of the area's greatest outdoor sportsmen who doubles as an auto dealer, was asked about the taste of hippopotamus. He has been on several safaris to Africa and it was taken for granted that somewhere along the line he had tasted of a "hippo."

"No, I never had that pleasure," he answered, "even though I have been to Africa several times. But from what I have seen of the natives I suppose they do and consider it a delicacy."

This turned the conversation to eating and odd dishes and the manner of their preparation.

"It's a rather peculiar thing about the African natives," Selle remarked. "They eat all parts of an animal. They waste not a thing."

"Most of the dishes are some sort of stews. They mix everything they get their hands on and then stew it. Along with that they keep a constant fire of charcoal. A lot of the animal meat is dried and then charcoal broiled such as we know — but again they use every part of the animal. So, I guess the hippo is part of their food."

Jack Selle a bit and added: "As I said, I wouldn't know, because I became very suspicious of them at meal time and watched very carefully everything I ate."

That was fine. But it didn't answer the question — what does a hippo taste like?

MORE ABOUT ODD DISHES

Turning from the "hippo," someone brought up the subject of native dishes in other lands.

"The Chinese eat raw fish," my good friend Doc remarked, "and when I winced at the very thought of raw fish, I was reminded that I ate oysters and they were raw."

"I understand, too, that marinated herring is raw fish, too."

Well, Doc, how about clams, and a few other delicacies from the sea?

Then there was a fellow who quivered at the very thought of eating pickled tongue "because it came out of an animal's mouth," and the fellow who couldn't even look at tripe, let alone think of eating it because it is sliced sow belly.

No one mentioned eggs, but all went away convinced that each country has its own peculiar eating habits.

REMEMBER WHEN YOU 'ROLLED YOUR OWN'

It is rare these days when you can escape a discussion on the possible harm of cigaret smoking—especially with some of the special programs that are brought into your living rooms on the TV tube.

Well, we had a new twist to it the other day, when The Stroller was asked if he knew where some of the old fashioned rice paper could be obtained to roll your own cigarets.

"I always used rice paper when I rolled my own," the caller explained, "because most of the harm is caused by the ingredients of the so-called 'cigaret paper.'"

So, the subject turned to other days when man was judged for his ability to roll his own cigarets.

It was done by taking a special piece of paper and holding it between the thumb and forefingers like a trough. Into this you poured loose tobacco like Bull Durham or Duke's Mixture. (My, how the years are rolling back.) Then with a flick of the fingers the cigaret was rolled and passed across the tip of the tongue to be sealed.

What artistry! But the fellows who took top honors were the orderlies and male nurses who rolled a cigaret in each hand simultaneously.

They were the real experts and stood out in any gathering.

How about some of the old time cigarets? Who remembers when Pall Malls were packaged in a red stiff covered carton with gold lettering and were for the idle rich. Or Fatimas when they came in cans. Or Piedmonts when they were packaged 10 in a box and sold for a nickel.

And who remembers Hassens, in the pink and black package, that were the national smoke of the Jewish people?

They tell me that "rolling your own" is coming back—but the rich packaged Pall Malls and the Hassens are gone forever.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

There is no substitute for experience — or honesty.

It's Time To Re-Evaluate System Of Government On Part-Time Basis

WITH PASSING YEARS

With our world becoming more complex each day and the population explosion causing an ever-increasing number of problems, it might be well to pause and take a look at the manner in which they are being handled — especially on the local level.

From the very beginning our country was built on the premise of "no taxation without representation." It was this lack of representation that caused the break from the British homeland.

To obtain this representation the people were given the right of the ballot — the right to choose those whom they wanted to lead the country and handle its affairs.

From the national level it passed on down to the various states, cities, towns and even the villages. No matter where we live we have the right to choose our leaders.

This is fine — and just as it should be. But there comes a time when we can place too much of a burden on men and they falter with the result that few, if any, problems are solved.

In the early years, before our lives and activities became so complex, it was considered an honor and a privilege to serve on a local government body. It meant leadership and the privilege of standing apart from the crowd to be a member of the school board or the city commission or council. It was sort of a badge of honor. There never was any thought of compensation save the satisfaction of getting things done. The effort wasn't great. Sometimes it required only a few hours a week or month to keep things moving in a satisfactory manner.

Such conditions don't exist any more. Today, the work of a school board member or a city alderman, commissioner or councilman seems endless. No longer can the problems be solved in the old easy manner of a few hours a week. So complex are the problems that more and more time is demanded each day — from men and women who took on the jobs as more or less of a hobby.

Just take a look at what has happened in the Plymouth area and is being repeated every day.

The population is exploding. The rush is on to the suburbs to find a place to live in peace and quiet. Fine. But this rush to the outlands brings about many problems that often are overlooked in the mad rush.

THE BURDEN GROWS HEAVIER

With each new community there is urgent need for water and sewage disposal. There is a drainage problem and a demand for good streets, roads and sidewalks. There is an urgent need for schools so that the children can be educated.

There is need for churches, business places,

Letter To Editor

Criticizes Firing Of Parking Group

After reading your recent report on the decision of the Plymouth Commission to appoint a new Parking Committee, several persons including myself regretted the manner in which this subject was handled, though not with the decision itself.

Whatever our personal disagreements may be, this Committee was composed of some of the most active and leading members of our community who contributed their time and effort because they were asked to do so. During the past year they developed some new programs which were adopted by the Commission and represent the first major step forward in recent history, toward solving our parking problems.

The members of the Committee, together with the patient determination of the President of our Chamber of Commerce, Carl Purcell, and others, contributed substantially to the development of new parking in the Penniman Avenue area. Further, the group found time to tackle the problem of what could be done with the Wiedman property, which was soon to be vacated. Though the need for additional parking in the loop area was self-evident and of genuine public concern, the project seemed to be beyond reach.

When all else failed, six persons, four of whom were members of the Parking Committee agreed to donate the sum of $90,000 to the City towards the purchase of the Wiedman property for parking purposes. Each contributor signed a Mortgage on their property to insure payment of their respective share. Recently the Committee has been giving thoughtful consideration to proposals for the most effective utilization of the parking area and means of obtaining parking revenues for the City with which to repay the balance of the purchase price and improvement costs.

At the very least the members of the Committee merit the respect and thanks from all citizens concerned with the progress of our City.

OCC Schedules Four One Acts

"My Mother, the Macabre", four one-act plays with the main theme of birth and death, will be presented by the Theater Guild of the Highland Lakes Campus of Oakland Community College, Feb. 1 through 3, in Clarkston High School. Titles of the one-actors are "Rude Awakening", "Three People", "Aria da Capo", and "Good-Bye, Atlantis". Curtain for the evening of experimental theater is 8:30 p.m.

Director of the play is Harold E. Green, Jr., of Farmington, who is a dramatics major at Highland Lakes and the producer is Peter G. Remington, of Birmingham, a Liberal Arts major at Highland Lakes.

Bonstelle Books 'Tattoo'

"The Rose Tattoo," a Tennessee Williams drama of human frailty and frustration, will open at Wayne State University's Bonstelle Theatre at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 26.

Additional performances are scheduled Saturday night, Jan. 27, and Thursday through Sunday of the second week, Feb. 1-4. All performances are at 8:30 p.m. except the Sunday matinee which begins at 2:30 p.m.

"The Rose Tattoo" is a vividly theatrical play about a simple woman's illusions and how they are shattered. A play of mood, it takes place in the strange atmosphere of a Sicilian colony where the incongruities of setting and mood make the play both comic and sympathetic.

Playing the role of Serafina, the woman whose fierce pride is destroyed in this warmly personal Williams drama, is Barbara Ann LaRou, a senior speech major at Wayne State. Other leading roles will be played by Denise Abood, Ted Davis, Richard Edwards, Robert Robb and Mary Traczike. The play is being directed by Robert T. Hazzard with sets by Russell Smith and costumes by Janice Snodgrass.

"The Rose Tattoo" is the third Bonstelle production of the current season. Three more plays will open later--Max Frisch's "Andorra," March 1, Brian Friel's "Philadelphia, Here I Come," April 12, and Peter Shaffer's "The Royal Hunt of the Sun," May 17.

Individual tickets at $2 are available at the university ticket office, at all J.L. Hudson's stores and Grinnell's downtown.

WSCS To Hear Round Table Talk

Robert B. Johnson, assistant director of the Detroit Round Table, will be the speaker for the general meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in the First Methodist Church of Farmington Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 12 noon.

Luncheon will be served by the Mizpah Circle, and Mrs. Beulah Eva, parish visitor for the church, will lead devotions. There will be a nursery for children. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. John Slagle, 476-8952, or the church office, 474-6573.

The WSCS is sponsoring a series of Wednesday morning discussions that began Jan. 17 under the guidance of Dr. W. Leslie Williams.

The discussions use as a text the book "Encounter of the Faiths," and will continue from 9 to 11 a.m. Wednesdays through Feb. 14.

Low Income Not Real Poverty Guide

Merely counting the number of people with substandard incomes does not give an accurate measure of poverty, a University of Michigan economist insists.

Prof. James N. Morgan suggested at the American Economic Association meeting last week that each family in a representative sample should be asked not only its money income, but also its equity in service-producing assets such as homes, its total hours of paid and unpaid work, its illness and unemployment experience, and its desires for more or less work.

Each of these factors is part of the "well-offness" of a family, according to Prof. Morgan, a program director in the Survey Research Center of U-M's Institute for Social Research.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS from

Morgan's report:

•When people were asked whether they would like to work more hours a week, more than a third said yes. Among the relatively uneducated and unskilled, more than half said that they would like more work.

Guild Casting For Play

Casting for the children's show produced by the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild will take place Saturday, Jan. 20, at 2 p.m. and Sunday, Jan. 21, at 2 and 7 p.m.

The auditions will be conducted in the Playhouse of the Guild, 15138 Beech Daly Rd., Redford Township. The Playhouse is located just south of Five Mile Rd.

Dr. Joseph French, of the Greenfield Village Theatre, will direct the musical, "Greensleeves Magic." Performance dates of the production are in March.

A double cast will be chosen and the casting is open to children and adults.

Lions Club Renews Eye Bank Pledge

The Plymouth Lions Club, sponsor of the sub-station for the Michigan Eye Collection Center, announces a current total of 162 Plymouth pledges of eyes on file in the Eye Bank.

The eye-bank, founded in 1957, collects and distributes eye tissue, which is donated after death to surgeons whose patients can be benefited by a cornea transplant.

Although 20,000 eyes have been pledged to the bank, located in Ann Arbor, there is still more than a year's delay between the time a patient is placed on the waiting list and the time he receives the actual cornea transplantation.

The Plymouth Lions sub-station, one of 43 in Michigan, is attempting to reduce the waiting period for those requesting a cornea transplant.

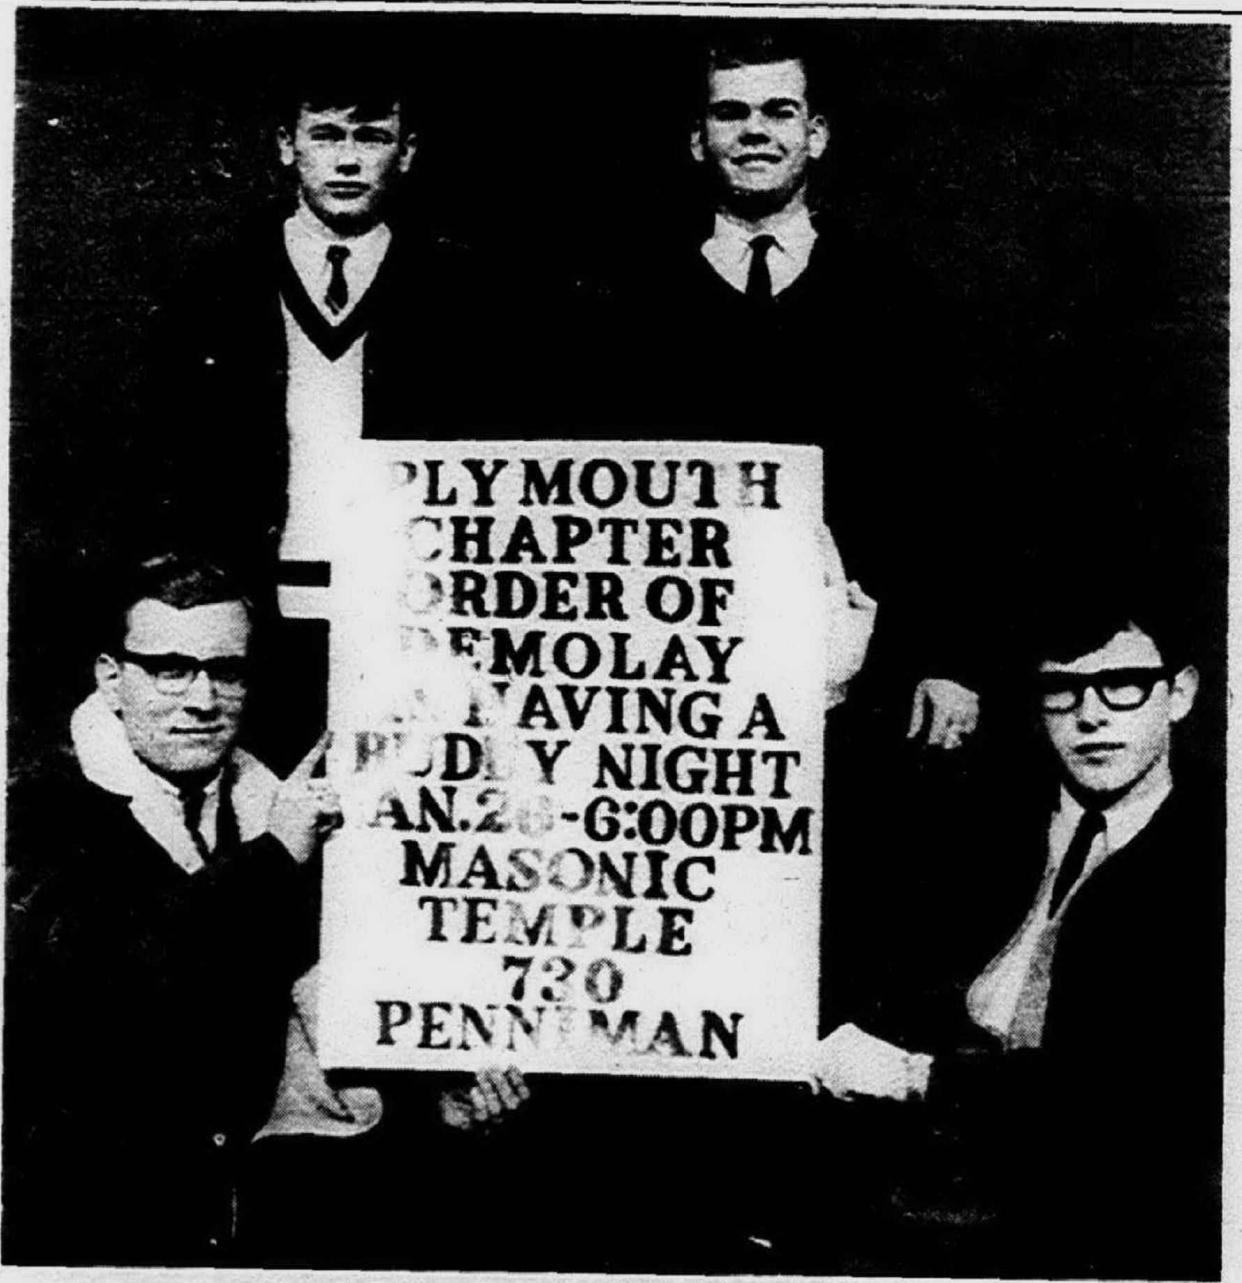

"This activity is an extremely valuable contribution to society and our greatest need is not money, but many more pledges of eyes after death," said Bruce Richard, spokesman for the Plymouth Lions.

Anyone interested in pledging their eyes may obtain more information by contacting a member of the Plymouth Lions Club or by writing the Michigan Eye Collection Center, University of Michigan Medical Center, Ann Arbor, 48104.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP BOARD OF TRUSTEES - REGULAR MEETING JANUARY 9, 1968

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by the Supervisor. All members were present.

Mr. Norman moved that the minutes of Dec. 26, 1967 be approved as written. Supported by Mr. Overholt. Mr. Lauterbach stated that the wording on page 2, "The Board voted in the affirmative" was amended and added that it be amended. Supported by Mr. Overholt and carried unanimously. Following the review of the last meeting, the Board authorized the carrying over of the Operating Budget of $38,588.21. Supported by Mr. Lauterbach. Mr. Norman abstained from voting. Motion carried.

Operating Budget. Mr. Richardson moved that the bids be closed. Supported by Mr. Norman and carried unanimously. The following bids were opened and read aloud by Mr. Albright:

Proposal	Days	Proposal	Days	Del.
Eureka Fire Hose Co.	30	$2.00	30	lowed if payment received 30 days
Eastshore Equipment Co.	30	$2.10	45	received 30 days
Unroyal, Inc.	30	$2.10	45	received 30 days
Fabric Fire Hose Co.	30	$2.07	60	voice

Mr. Garber moved that the Board refer these bids to the Public Service Director to ascertain if they are in conformity with the Township's needs, and ask Mr. Albright to submit his recommendation at the next meeting of the Board. Supported by Mr. Norman and carried unanimously.

Communications - Carl Pursell - Re: Distinguished Service Award dinner on Jan. 22, 1968 at the Mayflower Meeting House. 11. Gov. William Milliken to be the speaker.

A communication from the Plymouth Jaycees and a proposed proclamation was read by Mrs. Richardson. Following this, Mr. Garber moved that the Board authorize the signing of this proclamation by the Supervisor. Supported by Overholt and carried unanimously.

Mr. McEwen advised the Board that allegations had been made that the Township was responsible for the fire in the Township of Plymouth, and that he had requested an immediate study by Mr. Hamill. He then asked that a communication from Mr. Herald Hamill, Township Engineer, dated Jan. 8, 1968, which was on the fire in the Township of Plymouth, be read by Mrs. Richardson. Mr. Hamill, in his communication, gave the length, the dimensions and the capacity of the pipe which carried storm water from the west side of the Township to the east side in the Township of Plymouth area more than it has for the fire in the Township of Plymouth area. Mr. Hamill summarized his findings by stating "Water from the Township portion of the culverts on Sheldon Road, could not possibly flood the City of Plymouth and Mr. Hamill regarding this communication, and Mr. Hamill recommended that a provision be made in the Township which would include keeping debris away from and of the culverts.

Mr. McEwen then suggested that inasmuch as representatives of the Detroit Edison Company were present to discuss the first item under new business, Item No. III, that the Board not follow its agenda, but proceed to this item. Mr. McEwen stated that the Board should discuss the first item under new business - Robert Tewksbury, Detroit Edison Company - Re: Explanation to the Board of Trustees on the Franchise and set a date for the election. Mr. Tewksbury introduced Mr. Frank Menig, also of the Detroit Edison Co., who opened his remarks by stating that the Detroit Edison Company has been in business in the Township of Plymouth since 1908, which right expires every thirty years. He then explained the provisions of the state constitution, which require that at the end of the 30-year period, the utility company must request the passage of an ordinance by the Township Board, and the confirmation of the ordinance by the electorate. Further, that the Edison Company must pay all the costs involved in the renewal, cost of the election, and the cost of the franchise. Mr. Menig explained the procedure and time necessary for the special election, stating that the only item on the ballot in the request for special election, following further discussion, Mrs. Holmes moved that the Board take this matter under advisement and carry it over to the next meeting. Supported by Mr. Lauterbach and carried unanimously.

Old Business - Plymouth Heritage Apartment Company (12-6-67) - Re: Dedication of water and sewer lines servicing the buildings on Heritage Drive. Discussion took place on this project. Mr. Richardson moved that the Board accept these dedications. In this discussion, Mr. Hamill recommended that and make their own inspection to the Township engineer and that the Board accept these dedications. Mr. Richardson stated that the Board should also have the right to make inspections of the fire hydrants to see that they are in proper condition and to see that the condition of fire hydrants in apartment areas, in which discussion, Mr. Albright advised the Board that he had spoken to the management of some of these apartment complexes and to the Planning Commission on the problems encountered in planning for proper fire protection. There being no objection, this matter was carried over to the next meeting of the Board.

Request for payment for Electrical work in Township Hall - Mr. Overholt moved that the Board authorize payment of the amount requested. Supported by Mr. Richardson.

Request for payment - Radio ordered from Dial Trucking - Following discussion on the installation of the radio and the speakers, Mr. Richardson moved that the Board authorize payment of $1000 to the Dial Trucking Company for the radio and the speakers ordered for in the 1967-1968 budget. Supported by Mr. Norman and carried unanimously.

New Business - Helen Richardson - Re: Permission to purchase a chair for Clerk's office. Mr. Norman moved that the Board authorize the purchase of a chair for the Clerk's office at a cost not to exceed $65.00. Supported by Mr. Garber and carried unanimously. Mr. Lauterbach then moved that the Board authorize the transfer of an amount not to exceed $65.00 from Account No. 423 to Account No. 423 for the purchase of a chair for the Clerk's office. Supported by Mr. Garber and carried unanimously.

Establishment of a new policy - Re: Review of the skating rink policy established January 8, 1963, which established the Board's Skating Rink policy. In the discussion that followed, it was agreed that the amount charged was insufficient and also that it was a practice that should be discouraged. Mr. Richardson stated that allowing the use of the rink for this purpose causes damage to the hydrants, and he also stated that it is not an allowable practice in other communities. There being no objection, Mr. Albright was asked to study this policy and report his findings to the Board.

Paul Albright - Public Service Director - Recommending establishment of Disaster Control for the Township of Plymouth, Mr. Albright came before the Board in order to safeguard the residents of the Township, which when established, he believed could be coordinated with other existing programs. He stated that an annual disaster program had been in effect in the Township ten years ago. He then asked that the Board authorize a study of such a program. There being no objection, Mr. Albright was authorized by the Supervisor to proceed with the program and provide an estimate of cost of such a program and report his findings to the Board.

Paul Albright - Re: Six month probation period. Kenneth Evans, Mr. Albright, his communication, stated that Mr. Evans had successfully completed his probationary period and that effective January 1, 1968, his pay increase should become effective. Mrs. Holmes moved that the Board confirm Mr. Albright's recommendation and confirm Mr. Evans' appointment as Firefighter 1. Supported by Mr. Garber and carried unanimously.

Hardback approval for Woodbrook Subdivision No. 2 - Following discussion by the Board and Mr. Oldford, Mrs. Holmes moved that the Board approve the hardback drawings for Woodbrook Subdivision No. 2 as submitted. Supported by Mr. Lauterbach and carried unanimously.

Herald F. Hamill (1-4-68) - Re: Utilities in Woodbrook Sub. No. 2 be accepted for zoning purposes. Following the reading of this communication in which Mr. Hamill recommended that the utilities in Woodbrook Subdivision No. 2 be accepted for zoning purposes upon receipt of the customary maintenance bond, payment of the installation fees, etc., Mrs. Richardson moved that the Board accept the recommendation of the engineer. Supported by Mr. Norman and carried unanimously.

E. Basala and Son - Re: Increase in prices for installation of water taps. Following the reading of the communication from Mr. Basala, Mrs. Holmes advised the Board that the price was satisfactory, and that no trouble had been experienced by the Township with the taps that he had made, and further, that she would move that the Board authorize the fifteen dollar increase effective January 2, 1968, as requested. Supported by Mr. Norman and carried unanimously.

Mrs. Holmes presented two bills from Herman Fertago for work done for the D.P.W. on the 24th and 26th of December, 1967 and requested that the Board approve payment of same. It was moved by Gene Overholt, supported by Dick Lauterbach that the bills be paid in the amount of $436.00. The motion carried unanimously.

Discussion was held on the addition to the Weisman Contract, pertaining to Plymouth Colony, Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road, between Joy and Ann Arbor Road. It was agreed that the Weisman Contract be returned to the Township Engineers, stating that the hydrants were to be returned to the Township. Mrs. Holmes moved that after the signing of the Weisman Contract and payment of the invoice to the City of Plymouth, that the Township accept the addition to the Weisman Contract. Supported by Mrs. Richardson. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. McEwen advised the Board that he had interviewed eight (8) applicants for Building Inspector position. Following the interview, Mr. McEwen advised the Board that Mr. Santia's work was satisfactory, and that no trouble had been experienced by the Township with the taps that he had made, and further, that she would move that the Board authorize the fifteen dollar increase effective January 2, 1968, as requested. Supported by Mr. Norman and carried unanimously.

Achievers To Conduct Trade Fair

Plymouth area Junior Achievers will conduct a Junior Achievement Trade Fair Jan. 22 and 23 at the J.A. center, 585 W. Ann Arbor Trail, over Saxton's Garden Center. The Fair will be the combined effort of the 12 companies that work in the center.

Mayor James Jabara is scheduled to open the fair at 9:30 a.m. and it will close at 9 p.m.

Larry Furrow, center director, urges everyone to come and see what the area's junior achievers have accomplished and said that as an added attraction a Philco AM-FM radio will be given away as a door prize each day.

Last year the center's 12 companies' combined sales more than doubled those of any other southeastern Michigan center.

ORDINANCE NO. 336

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE BUILDINGS AND LANDS OF SCHOOLS LOCATED IN THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH; TO PROVIDE FOR THE PEACE, QUIET AND GOOD ORDER IN AND AROUND SCHOOLS LOCATED IN THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH; TO PROVIDE FOR THE REMOVAL OF THOSE NOT HAVING LEGITIMATE BUSINESS IN AND AROUND THE SCHOOLS LOCATED IN THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH; TO PROHIBIT THE USE OF PROFANE, INDECENT OR IMMORAL LANGUAGE IN AND AROUND SCHOOLS LOCATED IN THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH; AND TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE.

Section 1. No person shall mark with any substance, or in any other manner deface or do damage to any building owned, occupied or otherwise used as a school within the City of Plymouth.

Section 2. No person shall mark with any substance, or in any other manner deface or do damage to any fence, tree, lawn or other fixture situated on lands owned, occupied, or otherwise used by a school within the City of Plymouth.

Section 3. No person, while on public or private grounds adjacent to any building in which a school or any class thereof is in session, shall willfully make or assist in the making of any noise or diversion which disturbs or tends to disturb, the peace, quiet or good order of such school session or class thereof.

Section 4. No person while on public or private lands adjacent to any building or lands owned, occupied or otherwise used by a school within the City of Plymouth, in or on which any gathering or function is in progress, whether in the day or nighttime, shall willfully make or assist in the making of any noise or diversion which disturbs or tends to disturb the peace, quiet or good order of such gathering or function.

Section 5. No person, while in any building or on any lands owned, occupied or otherwise used by a school within the City of Plymouth, shall utter any profane, indecent or immoral language towards any person or while within the hearing of any other person.

Section 6. No person not a student or employee of any school located in the City of Plymouth, or parent or guardian of any student enrolled therein, shall remain within any school during normal school hours without securing the written permission of the principal or person in charge of said school.

The term "student" as used herein is hereby defined as any person of school age and enrolled in the school at which he or she then is present.

Section 7. Any person or persons violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00) or by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the Court.

Section 8. This ordinance shall become operative and effective on the 6th day of February, A.D. 1968.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, this 15th day of January, A.D. 1968.

of which the three parcels are part, said that the request was being made because the owner planned to build apartments instead of homes.

Scuphalm further added that the proposed route of the I-275 expressway would cut off a portion of the parcel and, therefore, to put homes near the expressway would not be realistic.

On top of these reasons Scuphalm continued, that with the expressway going through, the township has already stated it would not bring sewer lines across to the proposed apartments and, septic tanks would have to be installed.

The commission noted however, the possibility that an R-3 zoning classification would allow a trailer park as well as apartment buildings and, the commission would like to eliminate the use of septic tanks wherever possible.

Commissioner W. C. Koch stated that there was no assurance on the part of the owner that he would not develop a trailer park in the event the zoning was changed.

Splake Biting In Oakland

Up in Oakland County's White Lake Township is a small body of water called Maceday Lake. It stands out in the southeastern Michigan outdoors report because last week it was producing limit catches of splake.

The splake is a hybrid of the brook and lake trout, and this is the first winter they have been legal in this area.

The splake were reported hitting minnows in four to seven feet of water on Maceday, which is about 1 1/2 miles directly north of the better known Pontiac Lake.

Conservation Department men in southeastern Michigan reported "fair" and "spotty" catches of bluegills, perch and crappies on the usual popular spots.

"Nice" catches of rainbow trout were reported in Teepale Lake in the Highland Recreation Area north of Novi.

Rabbit hunters had "moderate" success in the Holly Recreation Area, but otherwise hunting activity has been light and success poor, the Conservation Department reported.

Romney Advocates Tax Hike, Cut In U.S. Spending

GOV. ROMNEY, in a Munsonville, N.H. speech, advocated cutbacks in federal non-defense spending coupled with a reasonable tax increase starting fiscal 1969. Romney claimed that total federal non-defense spending should be "not more than the 1968 level." According to the governor this would mean shifting money from some areas to be used in higher priority programs. "With this spending in effect, I believe a reasonable tax increase should be approved to help balance the budget and to help curb inflation," claimed Romney.

MEANWHILE, Acting Governor William G. Milliken signed a bill into law Tuesday that requires arbitration of the 10 year impasse over the route of the I-696 expressway. Objections of several communities have stalled the expressway through southern Oakland and Macomb counties. Under the bill these governments will have 30 days to voluntarily submit their disputes to arbitration.

MRS. GLORIA Raudabaugh, and four of her seven children, Margaret, 13, Tommy, 11, Michelle, 7, and Eric, 2 1/2, died in a fire in their east side Detroit home Tuesday after an early morning fire trapped them on the second floor. The father, Charles II, 38, and three sons, Charles III, 17, James, 15 and David, 8, managed to escape the blaze. Arson Bureau detectives said the bodies of the victims were badly burned, but they believed they were first overcome by smoke and died of asphyxiation.

DONALD LARRY, 20, said "I feel wonderful. I feel like a new man," after he heard himself convicted of manslaughter. He was found guilty of the fatal stabbing of a J.L. Hudson Co. clerk who was helping a woman store detective take Larry into custody for shoplifting.

DETROIT Common Council has finally taken action on the development of the controversial Kern Block by approving the M.E. Arden Co's. plan for a 60-story, $60 million hotel-office building. A competing developer, Bonan-Schochet, protested the approval claiming Arden had pirated its original plan when the bidders were allowed to revise their first proposals after the submission date April 1, 1967.

A UNIT of the United Auto Workers Department of Recreation and Leisure Time, called the Deprived Area Recreation Team (DART), is setting up a plan which would allow the city to draw of a $100,000 fund to create recreation areas on vacant lots in deprived neighborhoods.

M.S. McLAUGHM, a Ford Motor Co. vice president and Ford Division general manager, predicted that foreign-car sales in the United States would more than double present volume to reach 14 per cent of the market by 1975.

SENATE MINORITY Leader Dzewiel proposed a permanent Senate committee to investigate crime and recommend remedial legislation which would place crime to the status of education, social welfare, law, highways and other such areas which form the basis of the Lansing body's 14 standing committees. Action on the measure is expected next month.

RICHARD L. Millman, Gov. Romney's former press secretary and a key figure in the Gov's presidential campaign, has been elected chairman of the State Civil Service Commission, an unsalaried position.

WALTER A. CROW, 53, vice president and secretary of the J.L. Hudson Co., died Monday at Grace Hospital, Detroit. Surviving are his wife, Janet, three sons, Allen, Stephen and Jeffrey, his father, Allen B. Crow, and a sister, Mrs. Raymond Coppenger.

DETROIT CITY Controller Bernard Klein admitted that Detroit will be forced to give its 26,000 city employees a bigger pay raise than the city officials had anticipated. Klein told Common Council that private industry and government units other than Detroit have been granting larger increases than Detroit officials had planned on. This means, said he, the city will have to go up, too.

Vows Are Spoken In St. Paul's

MRS. MILO J. RUNYON (Nancy Carol Davis)

Nancy Carol Davis became the bride of Milo John Runyon in a double-ring ceremony Friday, Jan. 5, in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Livonia.

The bride is the daughter of Wilbur C. Davis, of Minton Avenue, Livonia, and Mr. and Mrs. John Runyon, of Hancock Avenue, Farmington, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. William F. Whitledge officiated, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

THE BRIDE made her own gown, of A-line design with rosepointe lace bodice, and sleeves, and chapel train. She carried white roses.

Her sister, Jody Pensien, of Howell, Mich., was matron of honor, and Jane Tushan, of Livonia, was maid of honor. Their gowns were gold velvet, and they carried green fuji mums. Dressed in green velvet and carrying gold mums were bridesmaids Linda Devaney, of Livonia, and Toni Zett, of Detroit.

Assisting the bridegroom were Gerald Smith, of Livonia, his brother-in-law, as best man, and ushers Doug Faulkner, of Farmington, and Mike Schupra, James McKinney, and John Hatfield, of Detroit.

THE BRIDE'S AUNT, Mrs. Ellen Gibson, of Ann Arbor, was honorary hostess.

After a buffet dinner in the church parlor, the couple left for a motor trip to Georgia. They will live in Farmington.

The bride is a graduate of Franklin High School and Schoolcraft Community College. Her husband graduated from Farmington High School and Detroit Business Institute and owns a custom drapery business.

MARILYNE SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Smith, of Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyne Sue, to First Lt. Mordecai Gutman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gutman, of West Hartford, Conn. The bride-elect is a graduate of North Farmington High School and a Senior at Michigan State University. Her fiance graduated from Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Mass. where he was affiliated with Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity, and currently is serving as a navigator with the Strategic Air Command, USAF, at Plattsburg, N.Y. A June 23 wedding is planned.

KATHLEEN BORON

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Boron, of Redford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Ann, to Jack W. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rice, of Ohio. The bride-elect is a graduate of Thurston High School and her fiance graduated from the Pittsburgh Institute of Aeronautics and now is serving in the U.S. Army. No date has been set for the wedding.

CATHY CAMPBELL

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Campbell, of Berwyn Avenue, Redford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cathy Ann, to Earl William Nicholson, son of Mrs. John W. Nicholson, of Columbus Street, Wayne, and the late Mr. Nicholson. The bride-elect is a graduate of Thurston High School and her fiance graduated from Wayne Memorial High School and attended Eastern Michigan University. He currently is serving in the U.S. Navy, stationed at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. No date has been set for the wedding.

MARY ANN CANNAERT

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jules Cannart, of Eleven Mile Road, Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Dennis Michael Dupre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Dupre, of Detroit. The bride-elect is a graduate of Our Lady of Sorrows High School and Eastern Michigan University. Her fiance is employed by the Household Finance Co. in Detroit. The couple plans to marry Feb. 17 in St. Lucy's Church of St. Clair Shores and will live in St. Clair Shores.

CHERYL MYERS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers, of Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl, to Donny Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Adams, of Whitesburg, Ky. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Whitesburg High School. An April 6 wedding is planned.

JANICE LONGWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Longwell, of Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice Marie, to James Lloyd Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allison, of Livonia. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Franklin High School and employed by the National Bank of Detroit. Her fiance is a graduate of Bentley High School and employed by Western Electric Co. An April wedding is planned.

Room Dividers Available For Photo Gallery

Does a teen-age daughter crave a room divider that doubles as a picture gallery? Dad can provide one at small expenditure of money or time. A 4x8 Filigree hardboard panel can shield her dressing table from the room entrance and at the same time make an ideal spot for hanging snapshot enlargements, framed pictures or a variety of souvenirs, says the bureau.

AVAILABLE AT LUMBER and building supply dealers, the Filigree hardboard panels can be readily framed in pre-grooved lumber, sold as an accessory. Plungers for completing the room divider make it simple to anchor the framed panel between floor and ceiling. Dad or daughter can paint the divider to suit her wants. As hangers, use Peg-Board hooks or make your own out of wire coat hangers, being sure to paint them, too. Since the filigree panels are smooth on both sides, they present an attractive appearance wherever located.

Farmington, Plymouth Favor Time Clock For Prep Games

Based on a report filed by Charles E. Forsythe, the state high school commissioner, both Farmington and Plymouth High favor the adoption of a shooting clock similar to the one now used in the professional leagues and in international play.

In the summation filed by John Sandmann and John Cotton, respective Plymouth and Farmington athletic directors, they cited the following conclusions from the game in which Plymouth emerged a 66-62 winner.

1-- The time clocks have merit in high school basketball and the rule could be beneficial to the game.

2-- The time clocks should be started on team possession... Thirty seconds should be employed instead of 24 seconds (as in the National Basketball Association).

3-- A strong feeling was voiced that with the use of the time clocks on possession, all back court fouls should carry a two-shot penalty. (This prevails in the NBA). The report suggested that a two-shot penalty should prevail for back court fouls even if no time clocks are used, as now.

4-- Players themselves were not consciously aware of the clocks. That is, the use of the clocks did not cause their play to be hurried or rushed.

5-- Game officials were consciously aware of the clocks.

6-- Coaches did not alter their game plans because of the clocks.

7-- Time clocks are not recommended for age groups below the high school level.

8-- If there is any drawback, it would be a cost factor. Although no price factor for the clocks was available at this report, it is reasonable to assume the cost would appreciably decrease if the demand increased.

In their report, Sandmann and Cotton noted that the reaction from many fans was that the last few minutes of the game became more interesting and exciting because of the clocks.

In the game, it was impossible for Plymouth, although protecting a two-point lead, with a minute to go to resort to stalling tactics.

Sandmann and Cotton both also concluded:

"It should also be pointed that such a rule could tend to increase the desire for individuals to play better defense.

"It is believed this would be true because defensive players would have a time goal to prevent the offensive team from scoring or at least from getting the 'good shot.' Conversely, it may encourage the offensive team to work harder for the 'good shot.'

"In this way it would be beneficial to the game in general." A second experiment with the special time clocks, provided by the Detroit Pistons, was being tried Saturday night when North Farmington invaded Southfield for a non-league game.

Rocks' Tankmen Win Relay; Beat Bentley

A thriller of a thriller. That was the Plymouth-Bentley high school swimming meet won by the Rocks by literally an eye in the Bentley pool, 53-52.

Everything boiled down to the final race of the meet-- the 200-yard free style relay. And to the last men swimming for each school--Rienas of Plymouth and David Croder of Bentley.

In a battle right to the wire, it was Rienas over Crowder by an arm's length and the meet went to the Rocks.

Pat McCord and Ernest Porter led the Rocks as each won two events.

McCord continued his brilliant work in the 50-yard free style and 100-yard butterfly. Porter captured the 200-yard free style and then repeated in the 100-yard free style.

Bentley's David McKee also was a double winner, capturing the 200-yard individual medley and then the long and grueling 400-yard free style.

The results:

MEDLEY RELAY: 1 - Bentley (Jeff Soehlein, Bob Jenson, Bill ramer, Mike Tooley). Time: 1:51. 200-YARD FREE: 1 - Porter (P), 2 - Wendel (P), 3 - Ehrenfeld (B). Time: 2:04.4.

30-YARD FREE: 1 - McCord (P), 2 - Crowder (B), 3 - Whitaker (P). Time: 2:23 seconds.

200-YARD INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY: 1 - Kee (B), 2 - Rienas (P), 3 - Norman (P). Time: 2:12.

DIVING: 1 - Amun (B), 2 - Scram (B), 3 - Leggett (P).

100-YARD BUTTERFLY: 1 - McCord (P), 2 - Palmer (B), 3 - Soltenberger (B). Time: 3:13 seconds.

100-YARD FREE: 1 - Porter (P), 2 - Osborn (B), Gould (P). Time: 3:13 seconds.

100-YARD BACKSTROKE: 1 - Soehlein (B), 2 - Anders (P), 3 - Notebaert (P). Time: 1:04.1.

400-YARD FREE: 1 - Kee (B), 2 - Beginger (P), 3 - Wendel (P). Time: 4:10.

100-YARD BREAST STROKE: 1 - Jenson (B), 2 - Smith (P), 3 - Maciusek (P). Time: 1:08.6.

FREESTYLE RELAY: 1 - Plymouth (Whitaker, Pugsley, Norman, Rienas). Time: 3:41.2.

Red Wings Slip Into Basement

The Detroit Red Wings had their problems last week.

They skidded into last place in the Eastern division of the National Hockey League by falling to win in four games.

They dropped a 4-3 verdict, then fell to Toronto, 2-1, and to Boston, 5-4, before rallying Saturday for a 4-4 tie against Chicago.

Two goals by Pete Mahovich brought the tie against Chicago after Bobby Hull had scored No. 32 for the season.

The Wings, however, made some big news during the week.

Roger Crozier, who skipped out on the Wings in early November, saying he was too tired and no longer mentally geared to play, has decided upon making a comeback.

RU Streaks On

Redford Union high's swimming team remains unbeaten after posting an easy 72-33 victory over Belleville.

It was the Townshippers' seventh triumph in as many meets this season.

Jerry Haltom, the brilliant RU free styler, broke his own varsity record in the 200-yard free style with a clocking of 56.2 seconds. His old standard was 56.6 seconds.

Haltom also won the 400-yard free style in the fine time of 4:17.4.

Ray Woods and Mark Favor also came through with a pair of victories for Redford Union.

Woods hit the finish first in the 50 and 100-yard free style while Favor took the individual-medley and with little rest came back to capture the breast stroke.

Schoolcraft Drops Ninth

Schoolcraft College's basketball team saw its losing streak rise to nine straight when Highland Lakes rolled to a 113-96 victory Wednesday evening.

Highland led, 60-46, at half-time, but Schoolcraft put on a rush that carried the team to within seven points of a tie. From then on, Highland dominated the proceedings.

Mike Macauley had 22 points for the losers, while Steve Moore scored 19, Al Jose 18, Nate Lulbrand 11, Carl Gulbransen 10 and Bill Evans eight.

Autorama Ends At Cobo Hall

Autorama, the world's largest custom car and hot rod show, ends a three day run in Cobo Hall Sunday.

The 16th annual presentation by the Michigan Hot Rod Association and Promotions, Inc., features a record number of more than 400 exotic, one-of-a-kind way-out show cars, motorcycles, bicycles and customs.

BIG MAN in the Albion College attack is Captain Neil Warriner, a 6'9" giant from Farmington. In his fourth year on the varsity, Warriner is using his size and strength to turn in a fine performance against MIAA and non-league foes.

Bentley Topples Flint 5

Imagine scoring only six points in a period and still winning BIG.

It happened Tuesday when Bentley High's powerful basketball team rolled past Flint Northwestern, 65-44, in a non-league game.

Fortunately for Bentley, the team had a 32-23 lead going into the third period, which turned out to be a nightmare, as far as scoring was concerned for the Livonians.

Coach George Fefles' squad managed only two baskets and two free throws in the eight-minute span.

Notwithstanding, Bentley still was in front, 38-34, after three quarters.

Then just as fast as the Livonians had lost their shooting touch, they regained it—and in the closing eight minutes Bentley overwhelmed Northwestern, 27-10, to win going away.

IT WAS the ninth victory in 11 starts for Bentley, which staked an unbeaten record in Suburban Six League action against Bentley Friday night.

Ken Bollin, Dan Doyle and Leroy Watson each had four points to get Bentley rolling in the first period. Walt Blacha chipped in with nine to pace the second stanza.

Then in the last period, it was Bollin with three baskets and five free throws who helped turn the game into a runaway. Bollin would up as the top scorer with 17 points while Doyle and Norm Hurlbuert had 12 each and Blacha nine.

Bentley had a much easier time in its 81-54 blitzing of Allen Park the previous Friday.

Bollin cashed in 39 points, Doyle 16 and Chalson 10 for the Livonians, who now shape up as the team to beat for league honors.

Next Tuesday Bentley goes against arch-city rival Franklin in what figures to be another interesting battle between the two schools.

But Bentley would appear to have too many weapons for the contingent from Joy Road.

New Houseboat On Display In Show At Cobo

Four major new features will highlight the Sixth Annual Michigan National Boat, Sports and Vacation Show, at Cobo Hall Jan. 27-Feb. 4.

Perhaps the most striking of these will be the public debut of the first houseboat ever to be manufactured by Chris Craft. The two largest sailboats to ever be displayed at the Boat Show in Michigan, a 50-foot Columbia and a 40-foot Cal, will be displayed.

A new camper-boat product, the Hobo, will be introduced to Michigan boat show audiences for the first time. A Canadian product, the Hobo, is a camper trailer which converts into an amphibious power boat.

observing sports

There he was — Bill Freehan, being honored by the Detroit chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America as the Tiger of the year in 1967.

That was the year, you remember, when the Tigers went down to the last game of the season before being nipped by Boston for the American League title.

As you stood reminiscing with Freehan, both your thoughts had to jump back some 20 years. You were living on Cheyenne avenue in Detroit and across the street resided an elderly couple by the name of Freehan.

Their grandson was a frequent visitor, a kid then of five or six. His name: Billy Freehan.

Billy, his dad and his granddad, the latter now deceased, would stand out in front of their home and play catch. Little Billy was pretty adept with the glove — even in those days.

As the years moved on, Billy moved to Florida with his parents.

You didn't see too much of him until around his senior year in high school. He came back to Detroit to visit and to play summer sandlot baseball.

By that time, Billy had become one of the most prized baseball youngsters in the country. He could hit and he could catch. He also was a whale of a football player.

WHEN HE FINISHED high school, Billy had a chance — he could either sign professionally in baseball or go to college. He picked the University of Michigan.

It was after his freshman year at the university you had the pleasure of escorting Bill to New York for the Hearst National baseball game.

He again was offered big money — way up in the five figures — by the pro baseball folks. But Billy decided to play at least another year of football and baseball at Michigan.

Then he made his move to pro baseball and picked up around $80,000 or $100,000 as a bonus. You know the rest of the Freehan story. He has developed into one of the key ball players on the Tigers — one of the best catchers in the business.

As Bill received his award the other evening from Bob Sieger, the sports editor of the Detroit News, he was far more outspoken than Tiger owner John Fetzer, or general manager Jim Campbell or manager Mayo Smith about the Tiger outlook in 1968.

The first three made no predictions. Freehan did.

"The way we shape up now, we should win the pennant," Bill forecast.

"We have the material, we have the extra experience, we have what it takes to win the pennant.

"Besides, most of our players feel that way (including Livonia's Joe Sparma).

"Last year, you'll remember, we were a young ball club. Few of us ever had been through anything as tense or as exciting as a pennant chase. chase.

"It'll be different in '68."

FREEHAN RETAINS the modesty which marked him as a six-year-old and during his teen years.

He expressed thanks to his manager, to coaches Wally Moses and to Johnny Sain.

"You know 235 hitters don't receive awards like this. And I was one of the year before.

"Men like Mayo and Sain and Moses helped me last year. They helped me with the bat, with my catching and with my mental approach to baseball . . ."

Mental approach . . . Two big words in sports, or any other line of endeavor.

Pershing High Rated State's No. 1 Team

Pershing High of Detroit remains the No. 1 ranked Class A prep team in Michigan. East Lansing is second with Ypsilanti third, Battle Creek Central fourth and Muskegon Heights fifth.

Menominee tops the Class B ratings with Detroit All Saints leading in Class C and Adrian Catholic in Class D.

THE FORDS and Plymouths will renew their rivalry Sunday in the 500-mile road race scheduled at Riverside, Cal., Sunday.

The event is sanctioned by the National Association for Stock Car Auto racing and will carry a purse of around $90,000.

Most of the top drivers in the country, including Richard Petty, Dan Gurney, A.J. Foyt, Mario Andretti and Cale Yarborough will contest.

THE BIG TEN draws a blank in the latest college basketball ratings.

UCLA, Houston, North Carolina, Tennessee and Utah comprise the first five, followed by New Mexico, St. Bonaventure, Kentucky, Vanderbilt and Columbia.

COACH ADOLPH RUPP of Kentucky, this week celebrated the winning of his 770th game since coming to the Wildcats.

HOCKEY ITEMS: The National Hockey League will expand its schedule to 76 games next season...The tragic death of Minnesota center Bill Masterton after being felled in a game last week, has precipitated talk that all players in the future will have to wear helmets.

The Red Wings, seeking to quit the NHL basement in the Eastern Division, play at Pittsburgh Saturday night and return home Sunday against Toronto.

Livonia's Norm Ullman popped in one of the goals in a losing cause for the All Stars against Toronto as the Leafs pulled out a 4-3 victory.

BIG DOINGS: The Detroit Pistons square off against the New York Knicks at Cobo Arena Sunday at 1:55 p.m. The game will be nationally televised, but blacked out in the Detroit area.

On Tuesday night, Pistons' Dave Bing and Dave DeBusschere will play in the All-Star game in New York (Channel 7, 8:30 p.m.) and then return to Detroit for a Thursday night game with Philadelphia.

Prior to the Pistons-Philadelphia game, there'll be a special preliminary pitting the Bunny Girls against a team from the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association.

ALTHOUGH he's now a professional, 1967 Wimbledon tennis champion John Newcombe has indicated he'll play again at Wimbledon next June in the first open tournament pitting professionals and amateurs against one another.

Detroit has 54 parks comprising 3,775 acres under the jurisdiction of the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation.

The Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation maintains 233 playgrounds, playgrounds and playlots comprising 1,176 acres.

N. Y. Cabbies Put 900,000 On Foot In Dispute

GEORGE Albrecht, 35, has filed a $25,000 damage suit against God, charging he was responsible for a 1964 accident in which Albrecht injured his back. The electrician named as co-defendants all Palm Beach County, Fla., churches because he said they were "the agents of God." The pastor of one church in the county said Albrecht "brings the principle defendant into court, I'll be glad to come testify for him." Another minister said: "We are not agents of God, we are his children, and children cannot be responsible for the actions of their father." TAXI DRIVERS demanding higher fares in New York staged a 24-hour strike Tuesday forcing 900,000 riders to find other means of travel in freezing weather. The owners say the cost of the average 2.4 mile ride should go from the present $1.05 to $1.46. They have called the city's proposed 22 cent increase too little and too late.

WESTINGHOUSE Electric Corp. revealed that it has suspended production of its Marketeer I electric car. The company said it would resume production as soon as possible after safety requirements for such vehicles have been published.

AMERICANS saved 7.5 per cent of their after tax income in the last quarter of 1967, government economists reported; this was the highest saving rate since the 7.6 per cent of the final quarter of 1953.

THE SUPREME COURT approved the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads Monday. It will be the biggest merger in U.S. financial history. The merger brought together two giants, which between them have assets of more than $6 billion.

Big Sports Weekend On TV

The college basketball game of the season...hockey...the last football action for a few months...pro basketball's annual all star spectacle.

These are just some of the highlights of the sports television schedule on tap during the next few days.

Detroit area fans will see the much heralded battle between UCLA and Houston, the No. 1 and 2 teams in the college cage ratings, Saturday at 9 p.m. on Channel 2 or Channel 13.

This is the one in which UCLA stakes its 46-game winning streak compiled over the last two years against Houston, winner of 16 straight this season.

This is the one matching UCLA's Lew Alcindor, sore eye and all, against Alvin Hayes, the great Houston center. More than 50,000 will jam the

Philosopher - Mountaineer Will Turn To Sailing

BY MARGARET MILLER
Women's Editor

New adventure can be always just around the corner for a man like Woodrow Wilson Sayre. The philosophy professor who led a party of four almost to the summit of mighty Mt. Everest now has a new aim—he'd like to enter a yacht race in a tiny vessel known as a sailfish.

Dr. Sayre mentioned this plan during his appearance at the Livonia Town Hall last week. He said he probably wouldn't try a repeat of his Himalaya ascent of early 1962 because he figured he's now too old for the all-out physical effort needed.

"BUT I STILL can enjoy new experiences, and I have several other plans in mind," Dr. Sayre said. "Now in racing to Bermuda in a sailfish, we probably couldn't enter officially, because they have a minimum boat size rule. "But if we finished at all, we'd have to win in corrected time. And it would be great fun."

Dr. Sayre gave an exciting report on his near-conquest of Everest, illustrated by the only color movies ever taken on the treacherous north slope, now closed to all climbing by the Chinese Communists.

He said climbing the slope—by the route that British expeditions had attempted—had been a lifelong dream he just couldn't give up.

tain-climbing, he had some definite reasons beyond the much-quoted "because it's there."

"There's the friendship you find in sharing real danger and accomplishing your goal, and man is made for deep friendship," he said.

"Then there's the appreciation of the real beauty of the cathedrals of God."

He also mentioned the sense of self-reliance -- "there's a fierce pride in meeting and solving your own problems" and competition--"to see if you can do what no one else has done."

Finally, said Dr. Sayre, as a teacher of philosophy, currently at Springfield College in Massachusetts, he wanted some firsthand experience of some of life's deep feelings.

Dr. Sayre reduced the tremendous undertaking to its simplest terms and financed the $15,000 expenditure himself—covering the cost later on the lecture circuit.

THERE WERE ONLY four in the party—the lecturer, Boston attorney Norman Hanson; Roger Hart, who had just graduated from Tufts University; and a young man named Hans Peter Duttler, whom Dr. Sayre met on the Swiss ski slopes.

The quartet carried on their backs everything that they used, and moved a self-contained, two-tent camp up the mountain. "We didn't take oxygen, because parties had climbed Everest before without such equipment, and I didn't want the extra equipment and expense," Dr. Sayre said.

"We didn't take sherpas and guides, because that meant more food and equipment. We didn't establish a series of base camps for the same reason. Each decision we made saved money, and that was important."

Dr. Sayre and Hanson climbed Mt. McKinley using the simple system before trying Everest. "We made a detailed list of everything we took, and used it to good advantage," he added.

THE CLIMB STARTED in Nepal—without the permission of the U.S. government since the North Slope is in Communist territory—and the group worked its way around the mountain after reaching an altitude of about 15,000 feet.

Several thousand feet farther up, a fall involving Dr. Sayre and Hart resulted in some injury and "sort of took the starch out of us," the speaker said.

But Dr. Sayre, making the final day's climb alone, did manage to get about 25,000 feet up the 29,028 slope before turning back. Questioned about the descent, he admitted it was pretty difficult because they ran short of food and found the Nepal base camp deserted when they arrived there. They learned later that they had been reported missing because they were 10 days overdue.

ONE TOWN HALL listener asked Dr. Sayre how his wife felt about the whole thing. "Edith told me later," he said, "that she could have tried to stop me and might have succeeded. But she felt that if she had done so I'd have wondered about it the rest of my life. "And she probably is right,"

THE VERSATILE DR. SAYRE -- Dr. Woodrow Wilson Sayre is a pianist as well as mountain climber and professor of philosophy, so he tickled the ivories a bit for Mrs. Jerry Joyner at the Livonia Town Hall luncheon. Mrs. Joyner, new president of the Town Hall, introduced the lecturer.

Village Woman's Club Announces New Classes

"Themes and Issues in Contemporary Literature" and "Creative Crafts" are among the varied classes offered in the Village Woman's Club winter class program.

Registration will be Monday, Jan. 22, from 10 a.m. to noon in the organization clubhouse, 190 East Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Michigan, and the center he now heads represents three universities, Michigan, Eastern Michigan and Wayne State.

THE CRAFT COURSE will be directed by Mrs. P.N. Askounes, and the emphasis will be work with papier-mache, an old craft now having a popular revival. Mrs. Askounes has taught several courses for the VWC, including flower arranging and other handworks.

Also on the winter class schedule is "History in the Making," a series of lectures and discussions on Africa by various lecturers of Michigan State University, "Beaded Flowers" with Mrs. Robert Bockemuehl, "Advanced Bridge," "International Cuisine," and courses in French, Spanish and dancing.

SEYMOUR RIKLIN, coordinator of special projects for the University center for adult education, will teach the literature course beginning at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 31.

It will deal with philosophical themes and issues of the last 200 years and relate them to literature.

Professor Riklin has taught philosophy and English in several major Universities in

Musicale To Fete Husbands

Members of the Farmington Musicale will entertain their husbands on Jan. 24 in Nardin Park Church.

The meeting, an annual occasion, will begin with a buffet dinner at 6:30 p.m. The program will feature Mrs. Margaret Savelly, soprano and musicale president; Mrs. Fern Barber, clarinetist; and Mrs. Florence Kaston, pianist, in Schubert's trio, "Shepherd on the Rock." Program chairman will be Mrs. George Rickey and Mrs. Frank Szymanski will serve as hostess chairman.

Mixed Art Media To Be Shown

The farthest horizons of current art are explored in the Bloomfield Art Association's Exhibition Intermedia, on display at 1516 S. Cranbrook, Birmingham, until Feb. 4.

Selected by artists Jeanne Gardner, Lillian Hoppin and Rosemary Allen, the exhibition puts on display works which represent a mixture of two and three dimensional media.

From the stainless steel by Pistoletto, whose work received acclaim in a recent Time magazine article, to the structural reliefs of David Barr, the show will include the best works from local artists and galleries in this art medium which falls somewhere between painting and sculpture - as traditionally accepted.

OCC Course On Women

A six-session short course on "The Total Woman" will be offered by Oakland Community College on consecutive Mondays, Jan. 22-Feb. 26, at Birmingham Seaholm High School.

The sessions will consist of the following:

woman in the home and suggestions for imaginative solutions to problems.

FEB. 12 -- "Profitable Use of Leisure" will be discussed by members of the American Association of University Women: Mrs. Mayford Roark, volunteer services; Mrs. Charles Hutton, music; Mrs. Anthony Witt, artist; Mrs. Henry Gilmartin, writer; Mrs. George Mosher, Jr., politics; and Mrs. Peter B. Loomis, church.

FEB. 19 -- "Keeping Up With the Times" by Dr. Owen Morgan, psychologist - Merrill-Palmer Institute, Dr. Morgan, a leading marriage counselor, will analyze the changing values in our society and their impact on women.

FEB. 26 -- "The Revolving Stage" will feature women representative of different life and stages (single woman, young married, middle life, divorcee and widow) who will, through their own experience, discuss the challenges and resources demanded by each stage.

JAN. 22 -- "Best Foot Forward" with Maxine Sheldon, instructor in charm in the Birmingham area, who will offer tips on the elusive elements of feminine charm, stressing naturalness and poise, grooming and personality development.

JAN. 29 -- "Woman's Relation to Man" by Gary Broman, Merrill-Palmer Institute, is a provocative study of the relationship between men and women from a man's point of view.

DELOS HAMLIN: COUNTIES IN THE JET AGE

By TIM RICHARD
Sunday Editor

Among political thinkers, county government is considered an antiquated relic, tied up by old laws and a rustic, haphazard structure, with no head and a malapportioned, grotesque body.

Yet Oakland County has had considerable success in tackling problems at that level of government, and later this month hundreds of people will pay tribute to the man they consider most responsible for that success.

Delos Hamlin, 63, has been chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors since 1956 and has been on the board itself for fully 25 years, which is the reason for the testimonial dinner.

HE'S A TALL, slender, gentle sort of man whose laugh wrinkles don't show up in his formal portrait. He looks like he might be a country banker or parson rather than a power in politics.

Powerful? He resents the word. He prefers terms like "cooperation," "personal friendship," "communication." His formal education stopped after graduation from Clare High School, and his political education spans 38 practical years in City of Farmington and Oakland County government--and yet he thinks along the lines of the "behavioral" political scientists even though he's unfamiliar with their jargon.

Hamlin came to Farmington when he was 19, worked in a meat market and sold real estate. In 1930, at the age of 25, he was first elected to the Farmington City Commission, served as mayor from 1939-49, and was appointed by the commission to the County Board in 1942. The County Board's practice was to rotate chairmen every year or two, and Hamlin got that job on April 10, 1956. But for reasons explained later, he stayed in the post and is now in his 12th year.

He's part of all the leadership groups in Farmington--the Presbyterian Church, the Elks, the F. & A.M., the Exchange Club, the Republican Party. After giving up the meat market business, he devoted full time to real estate, now owns a bowling alley and restaurant in Farmington, a 1,000 acre farm with a lake near Clare, and 1,800 acres of timber and pasture land, also near Clare.

Auto County

A DISTINGUISHED career? Yes, but not extraordinary. Yet what is extraordinary is his ability to get things done with an antiquated system of government--a system which outside visitors study with amazement.

Oakland County isn't like any other county with a large urban area. In the typical city like Detroit, Hamlin explains, services are geared to high density settlement and public transportation. In Oakland County, the settlement has been low density and geared to the private automobile. County government has undertaken tasks--such as water and sewers and planning--which typically fall to home rule cities.

To do the job, the Board of Supervisors has had to set up one special commission after another. Ten years ago, Hamlin freely admits, he had serious qualms about the structure. Since then, he has decided that "people are more important than government" and that problems could be solved with the old-fashioned structure, although a modern home rule charter is still desirable.

Hamlin has also been a moving force for the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG), which includes counties, cities, townships, villages, school and college districts in six counties. He has not only worked but has thought about them, too.

So we asked him one cold morning to stop into the newspaper's Farmington office before driving up to Pontiac for the day, and just chat about things.

Q. Why has Oakland County had such a good experience, in your opinion, with such an inadequate structure? What makes this "cooperative attitude"?

HAMLIN: "Well, I think Oakland County has been very fortunate that is has above-average citizenry. I believe that our cities and townships--all our municipalities--are governed better than average.

"This flows up to the county government eventually.

"But the key reason Oakland County has been able to move ahead in this inter-governmental cooperative effort is that we've been fortunate not to have one large city that dominates the entire county. We haven't had any jealousy and friction between the smaller communities versus the city, which happens in so many areas.

"People thought many years ago that our small communities were a handicap, but actually they've turned out to be an asset for the county.

"I've heard people say 'it's too bad the whole south end wasn't incorporated as one big city because you're duplicating police chiefs and managers and all that.' On paper it looks like there's economy in big government, but in practice it doesn't work out that way.

"Today, all the cities that are in financial trouble are your larger cities. Why that's true I don't know, other than that the larger you get, the more you get away from the people, the more the bureaucracy is built up--I don't know; it just happens that way."

For COG

Q. The State Supreme Court records are pretty heavy with cases of central cities involved in fights with the county--the county in this case being other cities and townships--Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids...

HAMLIN: "It's a natural thing that people who have responsibility in a community feel somewhat competitive with their neighbor. Personally, I don't see this.

"I've felt for years there should have been a standing committee between the (Farmington) township trustees and the city commission that was forced to meet every month and discuss mutual problems. It would have been to the mutual advantage of the taxpayers of this area.

"This is one of the reasons I'm for the Council of Governments, because I've seen the advantage of people meeting regularly and getting to know each other and have some confidence in each other. They'll solve mutual problems if there's proper communication. But you'll never solve anything if you refuse to talk to anyone, you know."

Q. You now have a position with the Council of Governments...

HAMLIN: "I was a past chairman of the old Supervisors Inter-County Committee that was a forerunner of the Council of Governments. That was the first type of regional organization for communications.

"I've been on the Council of Government organization board, and I'm temporary chairman of the executive committee. I'd have to refuse to be one of the permanent officers; I've got too much to do, for one thing, and there ought to be new people involved in this. Some of us old-timers..."

Q. A question about the Council of Governments: How does it affect the man on the street? COG replaces the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission and the Supervisors Inter-County Committee. Governments are represented, but how does this affect the people?

HAMLIN: "Well, it can create more efficiency in the area.

"For example, a couple of years ago, the Metropolitan Fund (the foundation which has pushed the COG and which has been providing it staff and offices) had a study made on municipal building codes.

"Well, they estimated there were somewhere between seven and eight million dollars wasted in this area because of different types of codes which the contractor meets when he crosses a boundary.

"Now if the Council of Governments can sell this idea--one uniform modern code for the area--it would be the governments doing it, but it reflects back to the individual taxpayer and homebuyer and everyone else.

"Another instance: Originally Detroit said that they would sell water and they would put a line out any time it would be profitable for them. But they were strictly using the suburbs as a revenue-type operation for their Water Department.

He Was 'Louie'

"The inter-county supervisors had got so that all the leaders in Oakland County knew all those in Wayne County by their first names. When we first started that, people said 'don't ever go across that Eight Mile Road or they'll steal ya blind.' There was an awful suspicion, see?

"One day, after a meeting in Detroit, Miriani was mayor then and Willis Hall was head of the Board of Commerce, and the three of us were talking. I knew Miriani not as 'Mr. Mayor' but as 'Louie.' And he said, 'Why can't we do something about this?' And Hall was interested, naturally, because industry has a big stake in this.

"So I said, 'There's no question but that something can be done. But you've got to remember that the suburbs are not a poor relation any more, and they're not going to be.'

"What do you want done?"

"Just a few basic things," I said. "First, we've got to have a master plan and a guarantee of construction of water lines ahead of needs, rather than behind. You can't build a plant and then the next year give it water; you've got to have water first.

"Second, we expect to pay a little premium for this, but we're not going to support the Detroit taxpayers. So it's got to be written in the contract that it will be based on a certain rate to everyone. . . None of this money can go to the general government of Detroit. It's got to be used for the expansion of the system or to the lowering of rates."

"And he (Miriani) said that was reasonable.

"Now this type of a policy would never have been set in a formal meeting. This was because we knew them personally, and they knew us. We got a basic contract.

"Prior to that, they had been charging whatever the traffic would bear. The money doesn't go to Detroit's general government, which irritates Cavanagh, and he makes crazy statements every once in a while that he's going to shut somebody's water off, which you can't do. . .

"You ask about the benefits to the man on the street. This one thing has proven the benefit.

"We have studies that show that in the future, it's going to be your garbage and rubbish that's the problem.

"The Council of Governments has no power. All it can do is suggest, and make the communities aware that this would be a good way, but it's up to them to implement it.

"This usually happens. You know, people go the right way if it's presented the right way."

Reorganization

Q. Here and around the country, when people discuss councils of government and regional government, fear is expressed from two different directions: One, the fear of the suburbs that they're going to get hooked with the bill for "Detroit's problems," and two, the fear of the inner city people--specifically, Negroes--that they'll be outweighed in the organization by the white suburbanites.

HAMLIN: "I don't think they're valid. I don't see the Council of Governments as anything of that sort.

"It's an organization for communication. . . to get people working to solve problems that are mutual. . . without any powers (in COG itself).

"I would be very much against a Council of Governments ever being given any power, because once you get power, you create some kind of a metropolitan-type government.

"If you're going to have metropolitan government, then your county might develop more into that. We've gone a long way toward that now.

"Getting back on county structure again: 'I think structure is very important, and some day we're going to have to have a whole new charter, and I would hope that some day the Legislature would allow the counties to create the type of charter to suit that particular county. There's not two counties alike.

"I think the kind of charter we'd want in Oakland County wouldn't suit Wayne at all, because they have a different type--their board of supervisors is different, their whole political structure is different. But we should have the flexibility for our voters to create the kind of charter for the needs of this county.

'A Federation'

"I'm not so worried about the big board of supervisors. I used to think, 'Why should we have seven or eight? If a small group can run a large city, why can't a small group run a large county?'"

"But the county is different from a city, because a county is a federation of governments. I think this large (87 members) board actually operates as a town hall type of thing, and I think it creates a confidence and spirit of cooperation that you wouldn't get if you had it in the hands of a few people.

"But what we could do is have a consolidation of all your commissions. This is some handicap, although we don't have too much trouble--we've probably had more problems with the Road Commission than anywhere else.

"Now the Road Commission is a public works department, and it should be part of the (formal) Public Works Department.

DELOS HAMLIN: An Informal Portrait

ment, responsible directly under the general government of the county.

His Job

Q. As chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, a body that meets--what? once a month. . .

HAMLIN: "Well, twice a year, in spring and fall, we have statutory meetings; these are tax meetings. The rest of the time we adjourn subject to the call of the chair. We call a meeting whenever there's enough business to bring before the whole board."

Q. Which in practice is how often?

HAMLIN: "About 10 to 12 times a year. We might not have a meeting for two months, and then meet twice in one month, depending on the work load.

"We have a very strong committee structure. . .

"As chairman, I appoint all the committees, and I'm a member of all, and I'm supposed to attend them. But I suppose I attend about 10 per cent. An assistant who works for me does, and I get reports back. I don't have time to attend except when there's a problem or where they ask my advice or something, because of the work load in the office and all the other areas. . ."

Q. What is the work load like for the chairman of the board--of supervisors? Tell us about the job.

HAMLIN: "It varies between counties. The only thing that got me into the job was years ago the Farmington (sewer) interceptor, because if we didn't get that, this area would never develop to its highest potential.

"So a dozen years ago, when I first became chairman, I immediately started to work to process that project. It was impossible under the old drain laws, so we went to the Legislature and got the Public Works Act. So I started to work a lot more than other chairmen. Prior to that, they changed the chairman every year, and the chairman was more or less a figurehead."

'I Enjoy'

"You couldn't do it for a living. The pay is $6,000 a year. With all there is to do, I break even.

"We've had Dan Murphy as chairman of the board of auditors, but also we pay him an extra salary as county administrator to perform and legally have power to assume all responsibilities given to him. We use him strictly as a county manager.

"As head of the board, I have all the public relations and political powers--more the executive area--but I go through the administrator for everything. I wouldn't talk to the head of a department for anything without going through him (Murphy) first.

"I have a heavy schedule. Of course, I don't think of it as work because I enjoy what I'm doing."

When Mr. Hamlin Took A Fling On The Stage

Businessman, city councilman and county governmental leader are all of the well known careers of Delos Hamlin. But the chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has had a lesser known career on the stage.

That's right, on the stage--as an actor.

Specifically, Hamlin appeared as the bride in a 1942 production of "Womanless Wedding" which hit the boards in the then, brand new Farmington High Gym. (The gym is now a part of the old gym at Farmington Junior High on Thomas St.)

City-Suburbs Gap Growing Worse

The U.S. is about to witness a new suburban home building boom.

City ghettos will get bigger and worse. Suburban opposition to open housing and related problems will grow.

The gap between city and suburb is worsening, and only a miraculous change in attitude will close the gap.

So argues Herbert J. Gans, a sociologist-planner at Columbia University's Center for Urban Education. Gans writes how "The White Exodus to Suburbia Steps Up" in a recent edition of the New York Times Magazine.

Gans' views will please suburbanites who feel their way of life is better and healthier than some sociologists and architects have said; they will displease others who think the suburbs owe the central cities nothing but their auto fumes.

CAUSE OF the home building boom, Gans says, is that in a few years, the post-World War II babies, who are now getting married, will have a child or two and enough money to get out of their apartments.

Suburbia is popular. The only persons who don't want to live there are the singles, childless couples "and that handful of urban middle-class professionals and intellectuals," says Gans.

He says many of the objections to suburbia are untrue and suburbia's faults are being overcome.

For example, the problem of commuting distance is being slowly adjusted by new industry, offices and stores that are sprouting up in the suburbs.

"THE SUBDIVISIONS of the seventies will be too expensive for any family earning less than about $7,500. Thus, even if suburbia were to be racially integrated, cost alone would exclude most non-whites," Gans says.

"Nevertheless, the minuscule proportion of non-white suburbanites will increase somewhat in the future. . . if the current affluence continues. . . but the majority (of non-whites) will probably wind up in existing and new middle class ghettos."

Older sections of suburban towns, around which the new subdivisions have developed, may deteriorate "so that more and more of the older suburbs will face problems of poverty and social pathology now thought to be distinctive to the city."

GANS KNOCKS down many of the objections to suburbia.

Does it destroy farmland? "America has long suffered from an oversupply of farmland."

Is suburbia full of mass-produced, look-alike box houses? That criticism demonstrates "a class bias. . . as if people who can only afford mass-produced housing are not entitled to live where they please or should stay in the city."

Do suburbia's sprawling big lots shoot up the cost of sewers and utilities and roads? Suburbanites can afford it. Anyway, there may be less sprawl as townhouses are built and land costs rise.

Do suburbs rob the city of good tax-paying citizens? "Actually, middle-class families are often a tax liability for the city; they demand and receive more services, particularly more schools, than their taxes pay for."

Do suburbs rob the city of cultural and civic support? There's no evidence "that there are more civic-minded than non-middle class neighbors; they may be more enthusiastic joiners. . . but these tend to defend middle-class interests and not necessarily the public interest. Actually, most suburbanites rarely used the city's cultural facilities even when they lived in the city, and the minority which did, continues to do so."

A VALID CRITICISM of the suburbs, Gans says, is that racial segregation is becoming intensified. The city and suburbs are increasingly polarized.

"As a result, the cities are in a traumatic financial squeeze," he says, with more social problems and fewer tax dollars. When the cities look to the state and federal government for help, suburban legislators vote "nay."

Gans foresees "a vicious spiral": More ghetto protests, more white suburban demands for repression. The result could be the predominantly Negro city, although that is years away.

Government efforts to stem this tide--integration laws, making cities attractive, metropolitan government--have failed, Gans argues.

HOW TO AVOID the crisis of polarization?

While integration efforts shouldn't be abandoned, Gans says, the basic solution is a massive anti-poverty program -- job training, rent supplements, compensatory education, rebuilding in the ghettos. But he concludes gloomily: "There is only one hitch: This policy is not likely to be adopted" because suburbanites don't want to pay the necessary taxes.

And the reason they don't want to pay the taxes is that they don't feel personally touched by the misery of the ghettos: "So far, most of them still experience the ghetto only on television."

THE BAD SEED -- This is one of the three groups that will furnish music for the third annual Livonia March of Dimes teen dance, to be held Sunday from 6:30 to 10:30 in Roma Hall. The Bad Seed members are (from left) Bob Mattovic, Don Black, Jerry McNally, Vic Musanto and John McNally, all of Detroit. Other groups are the Intrigues and the Rationals, and the guest master of ceremonies will be J. Michael Wilson.

Dzendzel Hits Realignment

State Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, Democratic leader, said in a speech delivered on the Senate floor that the Republican plan to combine two of the Senate's standing committees was a "slap at education."

Chairmanship of the important Senate Education Committee was left vacant by the death of Senator Harold Volkema. Republican leaders planned to move the Education Committee under the chairman of the Elections Committee.

Dzendzel, of northwest Detroit, said this was an attempt to "bury the Committee on Education and to downgrade the State's constitutional duty to education."

He called upon parents and educators to protest this realignment of Committees. "This can only be harmful to education in our State."

Dzendzel said that in 1967 these two standing committees worked on 135 important pieces of legislation.

"The lumping of these two active committees can only work to the detriment of the people of the State and the legislative process."

WANT AD POPULARITY IS SKY HIGH!

103,621 INDIVIDUAL ADS

WERE PUBLISHED IN THE OBSERVER WANT AD PAGES IN 1967-

We just have to brag about it a little, because if we didn't you might never know how helpful Want Ads can be. They must be helpful, or there wouldn't be so many thousands of them published each year.

It's a fact that Want Ads are the only kind of advertising successfully used by both business people and private individuals. The Want Ad pages are like a big department store, offering a wide variety of goods and services. That is why they have such high readership, and it is because of the readership that people who advertise get such great results.

If you are one of the few people who has never used a Want Ad, you most surely will have occasion to use one soon. You can advertise to convert something you no longer need into cash by selling it quickly, or you may advertise to locate a hard-to-find item you need, or you may even use an ad to hire an employee or rent a vacant property. There are hundreds of ways to profit from Want Ads.

To place your ad, just dial the Observer Want Ad number, GA 2-0900 or 453-5500. A friendly, helpful Ad-Visor will assist you in wording your ad.

Mayflower Garden Club Meets Jan. 25

The Mayflower Garden Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Arthur Jacobs, 1199 South Sheldon (apt. 16) at 10 a.m. on Thursday, Jan. 25. The meeting will be devoted to the election of new club officers and program plans for the coming year.

AAUW Holds Annual Potluck

The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women combined their January board meeting with a Pot Luck supper held in the Shangri-Villa club house.

Thirty-four new members attended the supper which serves to introduce them to the board members and acquaint them with the AAUW organization. Membership in the organization is open to women graduates of colleges and universities that are recognized by the association.

Mrs. David Van Hine, membership chairman of the local branch serving Plymouth and Northville, reports a current area membership of 183.

Mrs. Van Hine may be contacted at 349-3015 regarding AAUW membership.

RX RECORD SYSTEM

Here, at Wiltse's Community Pharmacy, we have a modern "Safeguard Record System" in order to make available to you — at any time — a complete record of your various prescriptions, and prescription refills, for each year or any given period.

Under this system, your family's individual record for prescriptions will be maintained so as to qualify you for Income Tax deduction purposes, insurance requirements, or for any purpose you may desire.

For instance —

If you were to lose, or misplace, your prescription and had no record of its original number through which you would customarily obtain a refill, it would be instantly available to you under your individual record at Wiltse's Community Pharmacy.

As another illustration of the benefits of Wiltse's "Safeguard Record System," your doctor may wish to review the medication that you have taken over a particular period of time. This information, too, is readily available to him from your personal file here at Wiltse's Community Pharmacy.

A copy of your complete prescription record will be available to you at any time during the year, and at the end of the year as well. And, of course, your record for each previous year will become a permanent part of your personal file.

There is no charge for this additional service . . . in fact, we automatically begin such a file for each of our prescription patrons.

Visit Wiltse's in Plymouth at your next opportunity. We're confident that you will enjoy the visit and will return again over the years.

Specialty Of The House 'How Sweet It Is!' Cherry Cake

MRS. CARL NAUGHTIN of 1656 Nantucket, has a recipe for Cherry Cake that is easy to make and yet tops off a meal to perfection or makes "tea time" a delight.

The Naughtins have lived in Plymouth for a little more than one year and feel that it's an ideal location. "It gives the feeling of a small town, but it's close enough to Detroit to be able to take advantage of what a large city has to offer," explained Mrs. Naughtin.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Naughtin are from small towns north of Plymouth. Mrs. Naughtin's hometown is Okemos, near Lansing, and Mr. Naughtin comes from Montague.

THE NAUGHTINS lived in Joliet, Ill. until Mr. Naughtin accepted a position with the Romulus school system as an administrative assistant.

Three little Naughtins, Pam, seven and a half; John, four and a half and Brad, one and a half complete the family.

Mrs. Naughtin enjoys winter sports with her family, sews, loves to play bridge and belongs to a gourmet cooking group.

IN ADDITION to looking after home and hearth she also finds time to use her college major--nursing. As a registered nurse she presently serves on the staff of St. Mary Hospital. "I like to keep my hand in, because there is always a need for nurses and it's nice to know there is a need for something you love to do," she said.

CHERRY CAKE

- 1 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1 cup flour
 - 1 teaspoon soda
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 cup chopped nut meats
 - 1 egg
 - 1 Tablespoon melted fat
 - 2 cups drained sour cherries
- Sift together all dry ingredients. Add egg, shortening and drained cherries and beat until thoroughly mixed. Add nuts.
- Pour into a greased 9x9 square pan. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

TOPPING

- 1 cup cherry juice
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 Tablespoon cornstarch
 - 1 Tablespoon butter
- Cook until thick and serve hot on cake squares.

SNOW--"The aqueous vapor of the atmosphere precipitated in partially frozen crystalline form and falling to the earth in white flakes."

That is the almost poetic definition offered by Webster on the stuff that has to be scraped off cars, streets, walks and children.

I am of the firm belief that people who live in Michigan love the seasons simply because each one has in contrast with the others a beauty unto itself.

It would be impossible to appreciate the unfolding beauty of spring without the ice, sleet, and sparkling snows of winter.

The crisp, clear days of a golden autumn would lose much of its enchantment without the humidity and heat of a breathless summer.

This theory was proven about a year ago when my little niece was asked during an unbearably humid Sunday morning session of Bible class to name three things for which she was thankful.

Her little face was flushed with the early morning heat as she got up and announced, "Three things that I am thankful for are: Jesus, cookies...and SNOW!"

LAST WEEK Mrs. Connie Cavanaugh, of Warren Road, told me that the disappearance of Snoopy, the family beagle, had caused her four children to cry a lot and Callie, the family cat, to stop eating anything but ice cream.

Snoopy's home again, thanks to a young man who recognized him, returned him to the Cavanaugh's last Monday evening and refused the reward that was offered.

A little thin from his 10-day absence and with a slight cut on one of his legs, Snoopy received a royal welcome com-

New Lutheran Church Opens Its Doors To Community Sunday

The Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ

The Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, 46250 Ann Arbor Road, will climax a week of dedication celebrations with a Community Open House, Sunday, Jan. 21.

The day will begin at 10:15 a.m. with congregational communion and a guest sermon by Rev. Harold Hecht, executive secretary of the English District.

Two programs will highlight the afternoon. The first, at 2 p.m. will feature the Concordia College Chapel Players of Ann Arbor, under the direction of Professor Wallace Schulz.

The Chapel Players will present two short plays, "The Last Word" and "The Faith Hawker" to depict the theme "Christian Drama to illuminate the Present."

The second program, at 4 p.m., includes the Concordia College Choir Concert, directed by Dr. Paul Foelber.

Rev. Richard Feucht, director of education, English District, will speak during the closing Dedication Vespers at 7 p.m.

Rev. David Romberg, the church's pastor, cordially extends an invitation to the Plymouth community to attend the open house.

There will be nursery service, refreshments, and hosts on duty throughout the day.

Auxiliary Seeks Helping Hands

Helping Hands are wordless signs which children can "read" when they are away from home and need help.

This program, sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary, Rossmann, superintendent of schools, the Plymouth Board of Education, the Ministerial Council and Plymouth Jaycees.

Helping Hands has the additional support of the Plymouth Police Department and the Wayne County Sheriff Department.

Any Plymouth resident interested in becoming a part of this program may call Mrs. Robert Shuman, 455-0180, and an application blank will be mailed to them.

finds itself in need of a helping hand if it is to reach its initial goal of two or more hands per block.

Although 350 accepted applicants received Hands last week, many more homes are needed to provide total protection to the community's children.

The Plymouth school system is cooperating fully with the Jaycee Auxiliary in selecting the Helping Hand homes and explaining the program to their young students.

The program is endorsed by the City Commission, the Township Board of Trustees, James

Jr. High West PTSA Plans Workshop

Dr. Wendell Hough and associates of Wayne State University will conduct a workshop at Junior High West's PTSA meeting Monday, Jan. 22, at 7:15 p.m.

The program is designed to increase communications between parents and teachers through a mutual exchange of ideas and experiences.

Because an understanding parent-teacher relationship is essential in student educational development, the Executive Board urges all parents of students attending Junior High West to participate in the program.

Childbirth Film

The Lamaze Childbirth Preparation Association will sponsor a showing of the new film, "Birthday" on Friday, Jan. 26 at 8 p.m. in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital auditorium, Ann Arbor.

Produced in England, the film illustrates two births by the Lamaze Method of childbirth.

Refreshments will be served and the program is open to the public.

Top Side Of Life

By Father Robert Schaden

FOR A FEW DAYS last week the topic of conversation around town was "the fires" that hit our town.

Neither was as big as those raging in Vietnam or the ones that burned their way through the streets of Detroit last summer, but because they happened here they were "the fires."

Although distance can blur the magnitude of such things, and time does a rather effective job of erasing the same, the hurt and loss is no less for those who find themselves a part of the tragedy.

But even with the loss and the hurt there was something beautiful, something that seems to show itself when the chips are really down—the fact that there are people who care.

The zero weather or the possibility of other plans did not stop them from proving their concern.

THIS SOMETHING beautiful is a light that shows itself at many events in our lives—funerals, illnesses, fires and accidents. It makes one rather proud to be an American, a Christian, a human being.

Thank God that every day does not present us with a friend to bury, a fire to drown, or a man to pull out of a ditch.

But what of these days that are free from the spectacular? Is this something beautiful put into mothballs or does it still show us to be one of America's best?

GRANTED, THERE is not nearly the same warm feeling in stopping to let another into a parking place as there is in saving his house.

Writing a letter to a lonely acquaintance does not have the afterglow or the self-satisfaction that comes with saving a life or comforting a widow.

But then somewhere along the way it seems that we have been told that charity should not be self-seeking. On the other side of the flag the twang of conscience is not as burning after letting a door slam on someone or ignoring them as it would be if we pushed them down.

BUT THEN "little things mean a lot" is music to anyone's ears, and it is a tune that even the tone deaf can play.

Perhaps this art of human concern, this something beautiful that paints itself on the canvas of spectacular events and heart aching tragedies would lose some of its glamour if it were something seen even in "those drag humdrum occurrences of daily living", but then would that be so terrible?

Or would it make all of life something beautiful?

USE OBSERVER WANT ADS TO GAIN EXTRA CASH THIS YEAR...

Your smartest resolution is to use Observer Classified Ads to bring in extra cash. Children grow, seasons change, tastes mature... and as these things happen, you leave behind worthwhile items you no longer want or need. Observer Want Ads put you in touch with people who are looking for these very things.

Start '68 off right! Go after the extra money that's waiting for you. Take a tour through your home and make a list of the good things no longer useful to you, but that still have value to someone else. Right now cash buyers are looking for things like skates, skis, sleds, hunting equipment, furniture, appliances, cameras, bikes, tools and much more. When you finish your list, just dial GA 2-0900 or 453-5500 and give it to the friendly, helpful Ad Writer who answers. That's all there is to it. Economical, too.
