DR. CLIFFORD MCCLUMPHA

Jaycees Name Dr. McClumpha Man Of Year

Another highly coveted honor has been bestowed upon Dr. Clifford A. McClumpha, the popular Plymouth veterinarian.

In an announcement that took him completely by surprise at the annual meeting of the Plymouth Jaycees on Monday evening he was named Plymouth's Man of the Year and presented with the Distinguished Service Award.

He was almost speechless when his name was called as the winner of the award and, in his new role, he succeeds Carl Pursell, president of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, who was honored in like manner just a year ago.

Among the many in the room when the announcement was made was Lieut. Governor William Milliken. He was quick to congratulate Dr. McClumpha, who is more familiarly known to his intimates as "Cliff."

The congratulations from Michigan's No. 2 official, who has served as acting governor more than any other lieutenant governor in history, was heart-warming, for he, too, has been honored as one of the nation's top young men.

The award given to Dr. McClumpha is conferred for achievements, leadership and service to the community during a calendar year. It is for direct, outstanding service and is in no way related or associated with membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In making the selection the Jaycees recognized the outstanding work that Dr. McClumpha has done, and is doing, in the Plymouth area.

For several years he has been one of Plymouth's outstanding young men.

Always referred to as one of the rising young leaders in his profession, Dr. McClumpha, whose veterinarian's office is located at 41395 Wilcox Road, is a graduate of Plymouth High School and the Michigan State University of Veterinary Medicine.

Along with his professional career he is one of Plymouth's most active young men in church and civic affairs. He is a member of the Vestry at St. John's Episcopal Church, where he also is a licensed lay leader. He also served as Secretary of the Vestry.

Currently, he is vice-president of the Plymouth Rotary Club and will be elevated to the presidency in July. Aside from his present role, he also served as Secretary of Rotary, Treasurer, a member of the Board of directors and director of community service.

Always interested in civic affairs, Dr. McClumpha served on the study committee for the new high school and is co-chairman of the annual Fall Festival. He is a former president of the Western Homeowners Association and an interested member of the Hillsdale and Schoolcraft Conferences that put the wheels in motion for a unification study in an attempt to unite the five governmental units in the Plymouth-Northville area.

In these capacities he was well qualified for the honor that was bestowed by naming him "The Man of the Year."

Dr. McClumpha was born in 1931 and resides at 50385 Warren Road with his wife, Rita Jean, and four children — Hurd 10, Dynese 8, Amy 7, and Natalie 5.

Among the other candidates for the honor were: Tom Workman, principal of Allen School; Bill Townsend, director of the YMCA; Richard Blodgett, Plymouth city manager; Terry West, branch manager of the National Bank of Detroit; and Robert Howland, an executive at Ford Motor Company.

The Plymouth City Commission is going to take another look at the senior citizens housing project, attempt to put it back on the track and have it completed by the original date in July of 1969.

This was determined last Saturday following a visit to Roseville for an inspection tour of a facility now in the course of construction.

"We liked what we saw," Mayor James Jabara remarked, "and we saw enough to warrant a commission study meeting to see how we can fit things to make the Plymouth facility possible."

What the Commission Committee saw in Roseville was a project being built with brick veneer, dry wall, vinyl papering and tile bath—the things the Commission recently was told by the official architect were out of the reach of Plymouth with the present budget.

The Commission was told several weeks ago that the government estimated a cost of slightly less than $17,000 per unit and that the extra sought by Plymouth would amount to approximately $3,000 per unit or an overall additional cost of $180,000.

Since then, however, new formulas for financing have come to light—and have given new hope that the Plymouth facility can proceed as originally planned.

Three Students Honored

Three Plymouth High School students have qualified to enter competition for the $7,600 Alumni Distinguished Scholarship awards at Michigan State University.

The students are: John Bortins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bortins; Alan Ferrari, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ferrari; and Greg Stocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Stocker.

Each year Michigan State University sponsors this unique scholarship competition. From among the many applicants the students with the very best academic and test records are invited to visit the campus to compete.

The award is based entirely on superior intellectual performance and the scholarships are renewable.

Fall Festival Sets Meeting

The Fall Festival will hold its annual public meeting on Thursday, Feb. 1, 1968, in the Plymouth City Hall.

All of the reports of the past year and plans for the 1968 extravaganza will be presented and discussed at this meeting which is scheduled for 8 p.m., in the evening.

One of the new plans is called the "turn key" formula. Under this system, the developer employs his own architect, builds the building and then sells it to the city. In turn the City uses the government grant to make the purchase. This is thought to be a much simpler method and less costly. For that reason the City Commission has decided on the study meeting to discuss all the latest facets of financing and developing the senior citizens project.

Another who liked what he saw in Roseville last week was William Silvas, Chairman of the City Housing Commission and he was optimistic in his hope that Plymouth could move ahead as planned.

"We saw enough to warrant a re-evaluation of our entire planning," he said.

"For instance, not only was the construction brick veneer, but the Roseville units were larger," he pointed out. "In the plan we were shown a week or so ago, we were told that the units would be just above the minimum of 450 square feet. From what we saw at Roseville, the units are away above that, with an average of 550 square feet. And Roseville was able to meet the budget requirements."

The Housing Chairman explained that, perhaps, this was because the Roseville bids were taken some time ago and that building costs would be increased considerably by the time the Plymouth bids are invited.

"At any rate," he said, "what we saw gave us sufficient cause to take another look at our plans and re-evaluate the entire approach."

Mayor Jabara stated that no date was set for the proposed study meeting, but that it would be some time this week.

"With what we learned—and saw—at Roseville, and what we were told by our architect," he explained, "we are now at the crossroads. This is a decision to be made by the entire commission and it may be a question of making an appropriation to get what we want. But, at any rate, the situation demands another look. That's what we intend to take."

When the Commission discussed this subject several weeks ago it was stated that, at present prices, all that could be afforded was frame construction with aluminum siding and painted bathrooms instead of tile.

This caused Commissioner Arch Vallier to remark that the project had all the appearances of an Army barracks and that "it never should be built on the proposed site in the rear of the Christian Science Church."

Following this remark, the architect suggested the trip to Roseville where a like building was being constructed. However, when the committee reached there it was found that brick veneer was being used instead of aluminum siding and the other finer points also were included.

Now, it will be up to the City Commission to make a determination and that is expected to be planned at the forthcoming study meeting.

Those who made the inspection to Roseville were: Mayor Jabara; Commissioners George Hudson and Arch Vallier; City Manager Richard Blodgett; City Clerk Gene Slider; William Silvas, City Housing Commissioner; Ken De Korte and Stewart Oldford.

Mrs. Terry Goebel Surprised With Selection As Ice Queen

When Mrs. Terry Goebel of 9211 South Main Street left for a weekend of ice fishing at Tip Up Town on Houghton Lake she had no idea that she would return to Plymouth with a lovely charm bracelet, a check from the Houghton Chamber of Commerce, a rhinestone crown and the title, "1968 Queen of Tip Up Town."

Mrs. Goebel has always loved winter sports, from ice skating to ice fishing. She and her husband were fishing when two men stopped at their fish shanty and asked a number of questions.

Mrs. Goebel thought that they were conservation officers until later in the day, as she and her husband were packing their gear, the two men appeared again and announced that she had been selected as a candidate in the 16th Annual Queen of Tip Up Town Contest.

At 11:30 Saturday night, Mort Neff, well known Michigan outdoorsman, placed the glittering crown on Mrs. Goebel's head and in happy disbelief she officially became the winter resort's 1968 queen.

An appearance on Michigan Outdoors, and a weekend trip back to Houghton for the crowning of the Snow Queen are just a few of the experiences in store for Mrs. Goebel.

The Goebels have lived in Plymouth for six years and have two children, Crystal Ann, 3, and Craig, 15 months. She is originally from Northville and her husband is a Plymouth High School graduate.

Ask Trustees For Meeting On Firing Of Instructors

6 Schoolcraft Dismissals Irk Students

Expressing a belief that the quality of education may be endangered at Schoolcraft College because of the firing of six probationary instructors, representatives of the student body have asked the Board of Trustees for an audience to express their views and to receive a public hearing of reasons for the dismissals.

The Board of Trustees was informed at last Wednesday's meeting by President Dr. Eric Bradner that the administration had decided not to renew contracts for six instructors—all in the probationary period of employment.

The six instructors were not identified, in keeping with an administration policy that such information is an individual matter and an invasion of privacy unless permission is specifically granted.

Schoolcraft College has a policy of placing new teachers on two years probation. At the end of that time the administration, presumably with the advice of department heads, determines whether the teacher will receive a tenure contract or be dismissed for failure to pass successfully the probationary requirements.

The college contract with the faculty forum, representative of the faculty in bargaining, also provides that notice of a dismissal must be given 90 days before the end of the college term.

THUS, PRESIDENT Bradner, in announcing the dismissals to the Trustees, was in effect serving notice 94 days in advance. The teachers were notified the following day by registered mail of the administration's decision.

But representatives of the student body have a different feeling about the firings. Six representatives attended a closed meeting of the Faculty Forum Friday afternoon and were told that the six teachers were stunned and amazed at the action.

The six were invited to the meeting after a much larger delegation requested it be allowed to hear the teachers' side of the case. The Forum leaders agreed to a total of six.

Meanwhile, the others started circulating petitions asking that the students receive a voice in the valuation of the qualifications of instructors at the institution and quickly had more than 200 signatures.

All of this came to light Saturday morning when Earl Menary, of Livonia, a full-time day student, called The Observer and asked for a meeting to discuss the situation.

"We feel there is more to the firing of these teachers than appears on the surface," said Menary, "We believe these dismissals will endanger the future quality of teaching at Schoolcraft College since such actions as this may tend to keep qualified instructors from making applications for teaching jobs."

THE OBSERVER quickly agreed to a meeting and suggested that perhaps some members of the Board of Trustees be invited to attend and listen to the students.

Board Chairman Harold Fischer and Vice Chairman Mrs. Jane Moehle attended.

The student delegation included members from the Student Senate, College Newspaper The Commuter, College Yearbook Henry and other organizations—none attended as the designated representative of any campus organization.

Menary pointed out that it was the contention of the group that department heads had not been consulted in advance of the firings, evaluation of teachers had been delayed and that the six dismissed had no knowledge of whether their work was satisfactory or not until the dismissal letters were received.

"It is our information," he said as spokesman, "that the evaluations were originally set for Jan. 10 and then were delayed until later. In this instance, later is taken to mean until the time of the dismissals. "It is the feeling of this group that these actions will tend to lower the quality of education at the college. Who is going to take a job at an institution where apparently teachers can be fired for speaking up and are in fear of intimidation?"

MENARY TOLD FISCHER and Mrs. Moehle the students began circulation of the petitions as soon as they heard of the dismissals.

"It is our belief that the student body should be given a voice in the valuation of the qualifications of teachers. We feel the students have an excellent idea of the teaching abilities of instructors, perhaps even better than the administration since we have daily contact."

The petitions were headed with the following statement:

"We believe students should have some voice in the valuation of the qualifications of instructors at this institution. The failure to renew the contracts of certain instructors seems unwarranted under present circumstances, mainly because our education and our money are at stake, not yours."

The petitions will be turned over to the Board of Trustees at the special meeting which Chairman Fischer told the group he would call within 48 hours after receipt of a request for such a session.

Campus Up $736,000

OCC Trustees Learn Building Costs Soar

Farmington campus facilities of Oakland Community College will cost almost three-quarters of a million dollars more than originally estimated, a surprised Board of Trustees has learned on the heels of boosting the local provost's salary to $21,000.

The educational institution which lies between Orchard Lake and Farmington Rds., south of I-696, is known as OCC's Orchard Ridge campus and building expenditures now have been pegged at approximately $15.5 million by Bruce King, director of new facilities.

This represents an increase of $736,000—or 8.7 per cent over the price cited by the architectural firm, Perkins and Will, of Chicago, Ill., when the bids were taken.

ALTHOUGH the pace of construction permitted classes to open at Orchard Ridge last fall, full completion is months away. It is one of three OCC campuses now in operation. The others are in Pontiac and Waterford Townships. The college's administrative center is in Bloomfield Hills.

Dr. Richard E. Wilson, provost of Orchard Ridge, is one of five top OCC administrators whose salaries will be increased July 1.

At that time, his salary will jump from $19,000 to $21,000 per year as will those of his provost counterparts who are heads of the two other campuses.

Meanwhile, Dr. John E. Tirrell, OCC president, has been raised $5,000 to $32,000 per year, and Dr. Ervin L. Harlacher, who has been promoted from vice-president of campus administration to executive vice-president, will jump from $23,000 to $27,000.

THE TRUSTEES this week heard details of three other matters pertinent to the college's Farmington campus, one of them a revelation that Orchard Ridge may be the site of an eventual $800,000 Naval Reserve Training Center.

Dr. Tirrell has recommended that four acres near Farmington Rd. be leased to the Navy for construction of the facility to replace those which the Navy plans to close in Dearborn and Pontiac.

Legal details of the project still are pending, and to date the Navy has not made the necessary appropriation, trustees were told. Once granted a lease, the Navy would have five years to start construction.

An experimental pilot summer theatre project for the Orchard Ridge amphitheatre, to be conducted in July and August at a cost of $16,762, also is in the offing.

Plays would be presented by members of the Court Theatre, a Detroit semi-professional repertory group, if trustees grant the appropriation as recommended. They were told that there are no other plans for summer theatre in the metropolitan area.

Given definite approval was a cooperative arrangement with Farmington public schools so that the latter may use OCC facilities to offer high school data processing courses next year.

State And Local

THE STATE NEWS, Michigan State University's student newspaper, in an editorial said, "It has been stated and shown that marijuana is less physically dangerous and less addictive than alcohol or cigarette smoking, both of which enjoy legal sanction." With this comment, the student journal went on to advocate the legalization of "pot". Milton Dickerson, MSU vice-president for student affairs, said the administration would not comment on the editorial except to note that marijuana is illegal and, therefore the article could not have the administration's support.

JAMES DEL RIO and David Holmes, Democratic representatives from Detroit, verbally jostled in the House over management of the Detroit anti-poverty program and over what one said was an attack on his wife by the other. Del Rio, who heads a House committee investigating Detroit's Total Action Against Poverty Program, said a U.S. Senate report showed Mrs. Holmes and another woman "gave preferential treatment to friends of theirs" in recommending area residents for TAP jobs. Holmes replied, "I resent and consider it a personal insult to the integrity of my family when an individual attacks my wife because of her dedication in helping the people and the community in which I live."

ANDREW RANDO from Muskegon has offered his heart for someone else's benefit but with one catch. Citing the recent loss of his distributing business, his wife's departure and his suffering from an auto accident, he said his heart would go for a cool million dollars. Rando said his heart is healthy.

CHRYSLER CORPORATION'S 1967 sales reached an all-time high while its earnings tallied as third best for any year. Preliminary net earnings were $200.4 million ($.35 a share) for the year, subject to final audit, compared with $189.2 million ($.41 a share) in 1966. Sales totaled $6.2 billion in 1967 almost 10 per cent higher than the $5.6 billion in 1966.

DETROIT POSTMASTER Edward L. Baker said that because of the public's acceptance of zip code use, the Christmas rush was "one of the smoothest in post office history. Problems? Sure, they will be with us always, but the public's realization that the codes are here to stay and it is the best assurance of speedy mail delivery helped us immensely through the holidays."

BIRMINGHAM TEACHERS have ratified a wage contract for the 1967-68 school year. Teachers in the school district were ordered back to their schools by court injunction Sept. 18. They have been teaching under that injunction since.

DR. DONALD L. WHITE, assistant psychiatric director in the Oakland Health program, has announced his resignation saying he was quitting to take a post in Tucson, Ariz. White is the second leading figure in the program to step down—on Jan. 2, Dr. Robert E. Walden, director of county programs, quit after a long controversy.

Suburbs To Share New Tax

Northwestern suburban cities will get $1.5 million as their first chunk of the $21.3 million in extra highway money raised by the new state Good Roads package.

More than 300 cities will share in the statewide distribution.

The new money is added to the $49.7 million in 1967 and the total will jump to an estimated $59.5 million in 1968 and to $71 million in 1969.

THE COUNTY SHARE, totaling $96.8 million in 1967, will increase to an estimated $105.4 million in 1968 and to $120.8 million in 1969.

Under the act, the state share which was $129.9 million in 1967 will go to $142.3 million in 1968 and to $163.4 million in 1969. The extra road money was made possible by an increase in the gasoline tax this year and the boost in the weight tax (license plate fees) which will go into effect in November.

Livonia will get the biggest share of the money, $616,427 in 1967, rising to $715,187 in 1968 and to $842,534 the next year.

WESTLAND FIGURES show $544,564 for 1967, a jump to $636,801 in 1968 and to $752,759 in 1969.

Garden City will receive $306,544 as its share for 1967, another $357,426 in 1968 and $423,120 in 1969.

Plymouth in 1967 allotments will receive $73,551, increasing to $86,143 in 1968 and $101,813 in 1969.

Farmington will receive the smallest amount for the area, $60,487 for 1967, $71,544 for 1968 and $84,438 for 1969.

The money, raised from highway-user taxes must under the state constitution be used exclusively for highway purposes.

2 Workers Injured In Explosion

Two construction workers were seriously injured Monday in a Farmington Township explosion when one lit a portable heater at the bottom of a hole in which they were working and it blew up in their faces.

Township police records attribute the explosion to a gas leak.

Meanwhile, in Botsford General Hospital are William R. Bullack, 32, of Wayne, and William L. Lane, 30, of 28920 List, Farmington.

Bullack is suffering from burns and facial cuts, while Lane suffered a broken leg plus internal and back injuries. They were employed on a construction project near 14 Mile and Farmington Rds.

Owners of nearby residences reported to township police numerous broken windows as a by-product of the explosion.

International Has Top Year

SAULT STE. MARIE -- The International Bridge Authority reported it recorded record annual traffic and revenue again in 1967.

James E. Brophy of Grosse Pointe, authority chairman, said 761,828 vehicles crossed the bridge during the year, a 3.6 per cent increase over 1966. Revenues totaled $911,426, a 6.2 per cent increase.

The bridge has recorded steady annual gains in traffic and revenue since it was opened in October, 1962. This is the first time revenues have exceeded $900,000 and the second time traffic has exceeded 700,000.

Goes To Vietnam As U.S. Citizen

Pvt. Dani J. Tubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tubbs, of 14051 Shadywood, who is now serving with the armed forces in Vietnam, was born in Canada and came to Plymouth several years ago with his family.

But that is only half of the story—application for U.S. citizenship was something the Tubbs' had always planned to do, but as their children grew older and the years slipped away, the family remained Canadian.

In July 1967, during Vietnam protests and draft card burnings, Dani enlisted in the United States Army. After training at Fort Huachuca, Arizona he received his orders—service in Vietnam.

Dani's friends wondered why,

PVT. DANI TUBBS as a visitor in this country, he didn't return to the safety and comfort of Canada.

"This country has been good to me," stated Dani and put these words into action with an attempt to gain American citizenship in the few days remaining before his departure.

A call was placed to Jack McEwen, Plymouth Township Supervisor, whose attempts to aid the young soldier were defeated due to the lack of necessary time.

On Friday, Jan. 6, with time running out and Dani set to leave the following Thursday Mrs. Tubbs made a desperate call to the office of Marvin Esch, United States Congressman. Within two hours Dani received word that he was to appear before Federal Judge Levin, in the Federal Building, Detroit on Monday, Jan. 8.

Eight hours after a ceremony involving the testimony of character witnesses, clearances and considerable paper-work, Dani was boarding a plane for Oakland, Calif., and three days later was winging his way to combat in Vietnam to fight for his country.

The Tubbs' have two other sons in service, PFC Bryan F. Tubbs with the first infantry division near Cambodia and AIC Darryl G. Tubbs, USAF, who has also applied for citizenship, stationed in South Dakota after 16 months in Turkey.

men in service

Army Private First Class Samuel L. Cawdill, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cawdill, 845 N. Mill St., Plymouth, was assigned as a fire control operator with Battery B of the 7th Artillery's 3d Battalion near Schweinfurt, Germany, Dec. 22.

His wife, Mary, lives on Route 1, Viper, Ky.

Daniel Carl Richter, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Richter, 8889 S. Main, Plymouth, entered the Army Dec. 4 and is undergoing basic training at Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Steelworker Third Class David B. Richard, USN, son of

Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Richard of 9417 Ivanhoe Drive, Plymouth, arrived at Camp Haskins near Da Nang, Vietnam with U. S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 58.

His battalion builds airstrips, temporary housing, port facilities, fuel storage tanks and drills water wells in support of U. S. and Allied troops.

This is the second deployment to Camp Haskins for the battalion which is homeported at Davisville, R. I.

Army Specialist Four Joseph D. Williams, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon V. Williams, 565 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, recently arrived near Duc Pho, Vietnam, with the 11th Light Infantry Brigade.

Before reaching Vietnam, he received extensive jungle training in Hawaii. The division is currently in combat against the enemy.

Spec. Williams is a fire team leader in Company D, 4th Battalion of the brigade's 3rd infantry.

Darold M. Blanchard III, 23, whose mother, Mrs. Margaret E. Blanchard, and wife, Connie, live at 1575 N. Haggerty Road, Plymouth, was promoted to Army sergeant Dec. 29 in Vietnam, where he is a clerk in Battery A, 7th Battalion, 15th Artillery, I Field Force.

Army Pvt. Barry E. Rowland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowland, 1035 Southerland, Plymouth, is assigned to Company E, 9 Battalion, 3 Brigade, in the United States Army Training Center, at Fort Knox, Ky.

He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army—firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

GM To Install New Lock To Help Check Car Thieves

The steering wheel and gear-shift lever on General Motors' 1969 passenger cars will be equipped with locks to help thwart a growing number of automobile thieves, GM President Edward N. Cole, announced.

WANTED

... in connection with good grooming and style conscious persons interested in having their clothes restyled or altered. Personal fittings on both men's and women's clothing in our modern tailoring shop. Phone 349-3677.

LAPHAM'S
DOWNTOWN NORTHVILLE

The new locks will be combined with the ignition lock, which will be mounted on the steering column, and all three locks will be operated simultaneously by the ignition key. "We will continue the buzzer signal we introduced on our 1968 models to remind the driver to remove the ignition key," Cole said. "We are confident that these and other innovations in our overall vehicle security system will help stem the increasing number of automobile thefts which has become one of the fastest-growing crime categories in the country today."

The driver of a car fitted with an automatic transmission will lock it by putting the gear-shift lever in "Park" turning the ignition key to the "Lock" position and removing the key. The driver of a car equipped with a manual transmission—steering column or floor-mounted—will lock it by putting the gearshift lever in "Reverse," turning the ignition key to the "Lock" position and removing the key.

WITH THE GEARSHIFT lever in the required position, the ignition turn-off will automatically lock all three elements. Another feature of the 1969 steering column will make it impossible to remove the ignition key until the vehicle is correctly locked.

"The ignition key will continue to be the heart of much of the car theft problem, Cole stated. "Drivers left ignition keys inside more than 40 per cent of the half-million cars stolen in this country last year. Most of these cars were taken by youngsters -- teenagers unable to resist the temptation of an unlocked car."

Farmington High Swamps Walled Lake

The defense "arrived" and with it Farmington High's basketball team turned in its best showing of the 1967-68 season—an 83-56 romp over Walled Lake. The victory upped the Farmington record to 3-1 in the Inter-lakes League and put the Falcons in position to tie Pontiac Northern for the top slot when the two teams clash a week from Friday night.

There's no cage action at Farmington this week. The players, as well as the other students, have some other major battles to perform -- mid-year examinations.

Lynott wound up the scoring leader with nine baskets and three free throws for 21 points. Hamilton had 17 points, White 14, Himmelsbach 12 and Randy Cleveland nine.

Hamilton also starred defensively when he held Greg Fogle, Walled Lake's great star, to only nine points. Fogle has been averaging in excess of 15 points per game.

Wally Roberts UP' GOING 'CURTAIN

"The Tragical History of Doctor Faustus", the original 17th century Christopher Marlowe version, was given a significant revival by the Eastern Michigan Players at the Quirk Theater in Ypsilanti.

Not too many professional groups or University troupes tussle with the powerful Marlowe speeches. Their bombast and poetic beauty keep many a director from attempting a classic by Shakespeare's contemporary, Chris Marlowe.

Even such a directorial giant as Sir Tyrone Guthrie stumbled badly with an inept Broadway production of "Tamburlaine," a historical drama by Marlowe filled with liberal amounts of fustian fervor. The Burtons, Liz and Dick, recently made a film version of "Faustus" and early reports indicate it is to be avoided like the Bubonic plague.

DIRECTOR Mitchel Elyea in his first assignment for the EMU Players is to be highly complimented for his straightforward, no nonsense approach to this seldom-produced Elizabethan classic.

His intensive work with Richard Worswick in the title role paid off as the young actor grew more and more secure in his role as the evening progressed. If Worswick had been given a little more support from the costume department and the lighting designer, his interpretation might have been twice as effective.

Since Worswick's thesping should be judged on its own merits, it is best to be honest and indicate that he did only an acceptable job under the prevailing circumstances. His constant companion (Mephistopheles) was sufficiently sinister. Joseph Del Giudice deserves special plaudits for his effective characterization.

"Dr. Faustus" literally calls for a cast of hundreds and this, no doubt, is another reason for its limited production. Dr. McElyea called on many of the EMU favorites seen in leading roles in past productions. Gary Carpenter, Bob MacGonigal, Ben Mordecai, John Schudel, and Matt Locricchio performed perfectly in a multiplicity of roles. It's always heart-warming to know that the repertory spirit prevails at EMU and these veterans can be called upon to do a small role so aptly.

WHILE a goodly share of "Faustus" was devilishly delightful, an equal amount was disturbing. Some questions were raised in Old Wally's mind relative to the sporadic quality of the costume design. Was it medieval or Elizabethan in over-all concept? Many of the costumes clashed rather than cooperated!

Why was there no murky mood of mystery, gloominess established? Too much of the play seemed to be done in the clear light of day. If it was duplicating the medieval mystery play done in local court-yards, the evening lighting effects of the 16th century were still more startling than what we saw in the Quirk Theater.

Was the musical interlude necessary between each scene? A liberal use of incidental music to highlight action on the stage might have been more effective. It was used during the Helen of Troy scene and the Seven Deadly Sin sequence. Both of these scenes had dramatic impact.

Why was the setting so restrictive? A modified thrust design was attempted, but still seemed to confine the action to the middle of the stage.

"Faustus" is one production that should allow for the action to swirl and never settle in one place.

Schoolcraft Finally Ends Losing Streak

It was a long time coming but the drought ended for Schoolcraft College cagers Saturday when they snapped a nine-game losing streak with a 94-87 victory over Monroe Community College on the home court in the Northville Community Center. The victory gave the winners a 2-10 season record.

But even then the triumph came the hard way--Schoolcraft had to rally in a five minute overtime in which it scored 16 points while holding Monroe to nine. The score was knotted 78-78 at the end of regulation time.

Guard Karl Gulbranson was the big gunner in the extra period, dropping in six points. He and Al Jose collected 18 each to top the scorers.

Schoolcraft showed considerable improvement in a losing battle with Alpena Friday night, losing, 100-89, in another game on the Northville floor. Earlier Alpena had whipped SC by more than 50 points.

Center Steve Moore was high for Schoolcraft with 26 points followed by Gulbranson's 18 and 10 by Jose. Sharpshooting John Thomas, a former Willow Run High star, had 28 points for Alpena.

Schoolcraft swings back into action Wednesday night when it entertains St. Clair of Windsor at Northville. Game time is 8 p.m.

St. Agatha Suffers Jolt

St. Thomas high's basketball team found St. Agatha little trouble in scoring a 77-56 Catholic League victory.

The winners led all the way and were led by Bill Wagner, who scored 20 points.

Loss Drops Sorrows '5' Below .500

Our Lady of Sorrows high school basketball team slipped below the .500 mark last Friday night in dropping a 58-43 decision to Royal Oak St. Mary's.

St. Mary's took an 11-7 lead in the first period and added to its margin in each succeeding period.

"It was an old story for us," said coach Bob Morris of Sorrows.

"They beat us badly in rebounds and we also turned the ball over too much."

Bob Theisen topped Sorrows which now stands 4-5 in Catholic League action. Mike Hart had 11, Dennis Perry seven, Tom Webster five and Paul Bunker four.

Jim Newton was the ace for the winners as he fired in 29 points.

Oakland Prof Defends U.S. Viet Stand At Dem Seminar

"The United States, the richest country in the world, can afford anything...including war."

That is the opinion of Oakland University political science professor Roger H. Marz, who, with demands for him as a speaker increasing cloud of police state legislation in the U.S.

The accusation was leveled by Detroit Congressman John Conyers Jr., a panelist and speaker at a 19th Congressional District Democratic Party issues seminar at Schoolcraft College Saturday.

Marz turned out to be the only hawk among the panel members discussing foreign affairs and, especially, the war in Vietnam. The other panel members included pacifist Dr. Alice Woodruff, a medical technologist at Maybury Sanatorium and anti-war author, and civil rights advocate Congressman John Conyers Jr., of Detroit.

Marz's statement of an America so rich it can afford war, was made originally by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson but the university professor, who disclaims a position as an official Party spokesman to point out he is merely a precinct delegate from Bloomfield Township's 18th District, maintains that the overwhelming wealth of the U.S. forms unbreakable ties that bind this country morally to a policy of containment in lesser and poorer nations around the world.

"ESSENTIALLY," he told the Observer, "our presence in Vietnam is a logical step in a

THE PRESIDENTIAL message was marked by the silence in which it was received by a listening Congress which broke into applause only when the chief executive promised the obviously more favored escalation of another war against crime on the home front.

But the Detroit Negro congressman, expressing his concern with what he termed the President's "undue emphasis to crime on the streets," was emphatically not in accord with his congressional colleagues' cheers to Johnson's warning of swift, stern and decisive retribution for "those who preach disorder and violence."

"Why should it not be disturbing to me?" Conyers told an Observer reporter.

"It is the harbinger of a cop on every corner, an army outside every city, a garrison state, a move to a police state, an anti-Negro action.

"It is an emphasis on punishment and can lead only to the formation of more anti-social activities.

"I want to get to the problems, the real problems," the Korean War veteran and longtime NAACP civil rights leader exclaimed.

"I want us to react and act on the decaying urban communities and other conditions that have bred crime. To do something about living conditions. To tear down the ghettos. To put everybody to work. To do away with the welfare system by augmenting incomes of families making less than $4,000 a year."

THE LATTER, to Conyers, are the problems presenting what he termed as "the underbelly of our domestic problems including crime on the streets and civil rights."

The congressman, in an earlier talk in a foreign affairs forum attended by about 100 Oakland and Wayne County Democratic leaders and party faithful, told his audience that Johnson's leadership and his guidelines for the future has "put the Nation in a political box, a dilemma that will affect us all and characterized more precisely in the Negro community."

Of Johnson, he said, "He is a President who has done more for civil rights than all other of our presidents together, and yet we have been led into what could be the first thermonuclear war of our world.

Recreation Given New Twist

Teacher Has Unique Concept

The three "Wooly" brothers are no longer a triple threat. But, once, with Herb pitching, Gerald catching and George at first base, Dundas, Ohio sand-lot teams were sure victors with the "Wooly" combination on their side.

As a matter of fact, the good people of Dundas used to say, that when the "Wooly" brothers left town other people would finally have a chance.

IN 1926, WOOLWEAVER started at Ohio University. He joined every team that was open to a freshman and in his sophomore year was playing varsity football, and engaging in track and wrestling.

In 1929, "Wooly" was an end on the still famous O.U. team which held its opponents to 13 points and scored an impres-

BLACK EYE by AL HOLCOMBE

There is just something inherently humorous about a black eye. To the beholder, not to the wearer. There are a few yaks, some ruffled feelings, and then the shiner fades away.

People in my line of work have more trouble with black eyes... the figurative type that somebody hangs onto their reputation. It takes a long time to fade away.

The furnace repair business has such a black eye. It was put there, I am sorry to say, by some of our own business brothers. And they keep it puffing with an occasional sneaky left jab. These are the people who make a racket of the furnace repair business.

The great majority of us who run an honest operation get the shiner by association. The culprits usually are not locally owned businesses. Rather, they are flexible so they can make a quick move out of town... or else change managers easily. Their method of operation generally is to high-pressure the homeowner into a furnace inspection job. Then they tear the thing apart, and through a "snow job" or sheer high pressure sell unnecessary parts and labor at unnecessarily high prices.

Don't get me wrong. Furnace inspection and repair is necessary. But the homeowner should be in control of the situation. Nothing should be torn apart or replaced without his consent in advance.

Responsible furnace manufacturers, such as Lennox... and dealers, such as Keith Heating & Air Conditioning Co. are trying to apply beefsteak to this industry black eye. We invite you to call us for your furnace service needs.

Aside from this, he broke many school records over the high and low hurdles and was the wrestling team representative in the 168-pound class in 1927-28.

He still found time, however, to earn his Bachelor of Science degree with a major in physical education and a minor in industrial arts and science. Soon after he graduated in 1930, he took over as head track and football coach at Sidney, Ohio High School.

WOOLWEAVERS' NEXT

MOVE took him to Lima South High School where he taught, was head track coach and got his first taste of city recreation. The former football great said that there in Lima was where the seed was planted for his future interest in recreation.

In 1945, "Wooly" became head track coach at Northern High School in Flint, Michigan, and three years later made his final move to Plymouth.

Woolweaver came to Plymouth High as the new director of recreation and adult education and with him he brought years of experience in the sport's world plus some fresh ideas about teaching adults and high school dropouts.

"IF EDUCATION CAN'T be a pleasure, then it isn't worth while," he confided.

"Everything is some form of recreation, even going to church."

"What I try to do with my students is convince them completing high school is necessary and, then, once they start classes, show them that going to school is enjoyable and not just a chore to be done."

DPW News Notes

BY KENNETH VOGRAS
Director of Public Works

During the past week, the Department of Public Works was kept busy with salting and cleaning the streets following the snow storm. Approximately 133 tons of salt were used for cleaning of intersections, city parking lots and city sidewalks.

Cleaning off the city skating ponds also was completed.

Various sign work, consisting of making and replacing street name and traffic signs, was continued.

Cold patching was done on major streets.

There were three funerals at Riverside Cemetery which necessitated cleaning at the mausoleum.

Also, snow was removed from around fire hydrants so they could easily be reached in case of need.

The storm sewer on S. Evergreen and Park Place was bucketed out and the grate at S. Harvey Street Creek was cleaned off. Also, the sanitary sewer on Blanchard St. between Starkweather and Amelia was cleaned.

One house was dye tested on Penniman Ave. to determine whether the proper connection had been made to the sanitary sewer. Sanitary sewers were flushed and checked on N. Main, Farmer at Davis, Fralick, Wing and S. Harvey St.

Two broken, six inch water mains were repaired. These were at Elm St. and Plymouth Rd.

To the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan.

Sirs: You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on December 28, 1967, decide and determine that a certain street described in the minutes of said Board should be a County road under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Road Commissioners. The minutes of said meeting fully describing said street are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows:

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, held at the Board's offices, 7th Floor, City-County Building, Detroit, Michigan, at 9:00 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, December 28, 1967.

Present: Chairman Neudeck and Vice-Chairman Kreger.

"Commissioner Kreger moved the adoption of the following resolution; BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, that the following described section of road be and it is hereby taken over as a county road and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

That part of the N.E. 1/4 of Section 34, T.15S., R.4E., Plymouth Township, Wayne County, Michigan, described as beginning at a point on the center line of Ann Arbor Trail distant S. 0 degrees 11' 41" W., 128.77 feet along the east line of Section 36 and N. 76 degrees 41' 29" W., 328.01 feet along the center line of Ann Arbor Trail, from the N.E. corner of said section; thence proceeding S. 13 degrees 18' 21" W., 450.00 feet; thence southerly 64.58 feet along the arc of a curve to the left having a radius of 162.78 feet, central angle of 36 degrees 00' and chord bearing S. 4 degrees 41' 29" E., 63.52 feet; thence S. 22 degrees 41' 29" E., 121.74 feet; thence southerly 81.82 feet along the arc of a curve to the left having a radius of 50.00 feet, central angle of 54 degrees 00' and chord bearing S. 49 degrees 41' 29" E., 81.72 feet; thence S. 76 degrees 41' 29" E., 50.00 feet; thence S. 13 degrees 18' 21" W., 60.00 feet; thence N. 76 degrees 41' 29" W., 50.00 feet; thence northwesterly 141.37 feet along the arc of a curve to the right having a radius of 150.00 feet, central angle of 54 degrees 00' and chord bearing N. 49 degrees 41' 29" W., 136.20 feet; thence N. 22 degrees 41' 29" W., 121.74 feet; thence northerly 162.78 feet along the arc of a curve to the right having a radius of 162.78 feet, central angle of 36 degrees 00' and chord bearing N. 4 degrees 41' 29" W., 63.52 feet; thence N. 13 degrees 18' 21" E., 450.00 feet; thence S. 76 degrees 41' 29" E., 60.00 feet to the point of beginning, constituting 0.155 mile of County Road, to be designated as Greenview Place.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Neudeck and carried by the following vote: Ayes: Commissioners Neudeck and Kreger. Nays: None.

Boy Scouts Winter Event Sets Record

The Sourdough Trail, the name given this year's winter event sponsored by the Sunset District Boy Scouts, set something of a record for attendance when 950 scouts from 59 troops gathered on a recent Sunday at Nankin Mills.

With wind and snow providing an appropriate setting, the event was one of the most successful of all time and playing a part in the success was Plymouth's Troop P-1.

Under the direction of District Activities Chairman Kenneth Legowski, of Plymouth, scouts from Plymouth, Northville, Livonia, Garden City, Inkster, Wayne and Westland took part. The program consisted of judging sled construction, fire building, tent pitching, ice rescue, signaling and other scouting activities.

Assisting the adult leaders in conducting the events were older scouts from Explorer Posts, Sea Explorer ships, and the order of the Arrow.

Bob Utter Heads Fall Festival

Jerry Yohay, Roland Bonamici and Cecil Sharrard were named to the board to join Betty Korte and John Herb, the hold-over members.

Other officers named for the coming year include: Ron Coosala, vice president; William Fehlig, treasurer; and Mrs. William McAllister, secretary.

Robert Utter, president of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, has been named president of the Plymouth Fall Festival.

As the new leader he succeeds Cecil Sharrard, whose term had expired.

On Deans List

Sandra Gay Prochazka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ladie F. Prochazka of 535 Byron, has been named to the Dean's List at Marygrove College, for first term honors.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE $147,000.00 CITY OF PLYMOUTH COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN 1968 MOTOR VEHICLE HIGHWAY FUND BONDS

Sealed bids for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the City Hall, 201 South Main Street, in said City, until 7:30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, the 1st of February, 1968, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated January 1, 1968, shall consist of either one hundred forty-seven (147) bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, or twenty-nine (29) bonds of the denomination of $5,000.00 each and two (2) bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, at the option of the purchaser, will be numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding five per cent (5%) per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/8 of 1 per cent. Said interest shall be payable July 1, 1968, and semi-annually thereafter on January 1st and July 1st of each year. The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period, and all bonds maturing in the same year must carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially as follows:
$ 2,000.00 July 1, 1970;
$ 5,000.00 July 1st of each of the years from 1971 through 1973, inclusive;
$10,000.00 July 1, 1974;
$15,000.00 July 1st of each of the years from 1975 through 1982, inclusive.

Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, subject to the approval of the City, which paying agent shall be qualified as such under Michigan or Federal statutes.

Bonds maturing in the years 1973 to 1982, both inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the City, in inverse numerical order, on any interest payment date on or after January 1, 1973, at par and accrued interest, plus a premium on each bond so redeemed as follows:

2% of par value on each bond called for redemption prior to January 1, 1977;

1% of par value on each bond called for redemption on or after January 1, 1977, but prior to January 1, 1981;

No premium will be paid on bonds called for redemption on or after January 1, 1981 to maturity.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the City has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from March 1, 1968 to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the City. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds, or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Act 175, Public Acts of Michigan, 1952, as amended for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of constructing local and major street improvements in the City of Plymouth, and are issued in anticipation of Motor Vehicle Highway Fund payments to be received by the City of Plymouth, and said bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City of Plymouth for their payment.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $2,940.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Plymouth, must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of such opinion shall be paid by the City. The cost of printing the bonds shall be paid by the City. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

"Christy" by Catherine Marshall, author of "A Man Called Peter", is a novel based on the life of the author's mother, who left a comfortable home to teach in a one-room school-house in an isolated cove in the Great Smokies in 1912.

"Lost Worlds of Africa" by James Wellard is a revealing glimpse of the lost world of African culture and society. The topics covered range from rock artists to slavery.

"A Horseman Riding By" by R.F. Delderfield is a panoramic novel of English country life from the Boer War to the Battle of Britain. It tells the story of a great farming valley in Devonshire and of its squire's determination to maintain its way of life amidst an era of world change.

"The Face of Violence" by Jacob Bronowski combines an essay considering violence in history and a play about a soldier who cannot forget the brutalities he had witnessed as a prisoner of war.

"Leafy Rivers" by Jessamyn West, author of "The Friendly Persuasion", is the story of a young bride, living in the Ohio Territory in the 1880's, who finds herself caught in a race against time to save a life and a marriage.

"The American Dissent" by Jeffrey Peter Hart deals with the long tradition of right-wing political thought in the United States. It is primarily concerned with the contributions of those writers whose work has appeared in William Buckley's National Review. The author attempts to show why an intellectual can also be a conservative.

"Vivienne Colle's Make-It-Yourself Boutique" by Vivienne Colle shows you fifteen basic styles from which you can create hundreds of high-fashion outfits without use of a pattern.

"Our Crowd" by Stephen Birmingham examines the business, professional and private lives of members of the New York Jewish banking elite from about 1837 to the present.

"The Cat" by George Simenon is a psychological novel about the relationship between a husband and wife whose affection has turned to hate. They have ceased all communication and only the specters of a cat and a parrot stand between them.

"Memoirs, 1925-1950" by George F. Kennan, one of America's most distinguished diplomats, is the personal and professional record of the author's years of service, from the year of his graduation from Princeton through his many years in Moscow and the post-war period when he helped develop the Marshall Plan.

"The Edge of Glass" by Catherine Gaskin is a modern Gothic novel set in the wild beauty of the Irish countryside. A young woman returns to her mother's ancestral home to reclaim a priceless cup which was stolen from her.

"Valentino" by Irving Shulman, author of "Harlow," is a biography of the early movie star which explores the creation of the myth of the Great Lover, while the qualities displayed by the young man in real life were far different.

"Time for Outrage" by Amelia Bean is a historical novel based on an actual feud which developed into a full-fledged war, involving hundreds of people in a rebellion against the rule of corrupt law and profiteering officials in New Mexico in 1878.

"One More Victim" by Abraham M. Rosenthal and Arthur Gelb, both editors on the staff of the New York Times, is the biography of Daniel Burros, a prominent member of the Ku Klux Klan and the American Nazi Party, who shot himself to death when his Jewish identity was exposed.

City Manager Down With Flu

Richard Blodgett, Plymouth city manager, is the latest victim of the flu. Stricken on Monday afternoon he was ordered by his doctors to remain at home for several days.

Turning Back The Pages ...

50 YEARS AGO

The Plymouth Public Schools were closed Wednesday afternoon for an indefinite period due to lack of fuel. When the schools will be able to open is a hard question to answer at this time.

The Poultry Show is now in full swing at the Penniman Hall. A finer lot of birds would be hard to find indeed.

There is an ordinance prohibiting the placing of ashes on the street, and it would be well for anyone who is unaware to bear this in mind before disposing of them in this manner.

Two sleigh-loads of happy young folks of the Epworth League will drive out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Hill on the Sutton Road, leaving the D.U.R. waiting room at 6:30. They will without doubt have a good time.

25 YEARS AGO

Plymouth has dug itself out of and has managed to survive one of the most severe snow storms in a quarter of a century. Under the supervision of Stanford Besse, the city engineer, all of the equipment at the command of the city and all the additional equipment that could be found and hired was brought into play.

Steve O'Neill, new manager of the Detroit Tigers, and Dale Stafford, sports editor of the Detroit Free Press, will be the speakers at the regular meeting of the Plymouth Rotary Club.

Plymouth parents, relatives and friends will this afternoon bid Godspeed and good luck to 40 more Plymouth boys who have been called into the military service of Uncle Sam.

Lincoln Day Dinner Gets Noted Speaker

Raymond V. Humphries, director of education and training for the Republican National Committee, will be the keynote speaker at the Second Congressional District Lincoln Day Dinner at the Meeting House on Thursday, Feb. 8.

Tickets for the event are on sale for $6 with 25 per cent of the cost being donated to the national GOP.

Mrs. Thomas Powell, of Plymouth; Mrs. Robert W. Petersen, of Plymouth Township, and Mrs. Donald Hagge, of Northville Township, are serving as co-chairmen of the affair.

10 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Teasel have sold their home and acreage on Warren Road to Mr. and Mrs. David Wood of Sheldon Road and are now residing on Reservoir Road in Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christensen plan to see Victor Borge at the Masonic Temple in Detroit, Saturday evening, following dinner in the city.

Robert C. Rice, who will be superintendent of the new Gaylord Container Corporation plant here, arrived in Plymouth to help direct remodeling and lay-out of the factory.

Elliott To End 38-Year Career

Clarence Elliott, former Plymouth city manager, who served from 1936 to 1946, plans to retire from public administration in June after almost 38 years of service. Elliott will step down from the post of Kalamazoo's top administrator and he and his wife intend to remain in the city.

Before coming to Plymouth, he was city manager at Oak Park. From Plymouth, he became Jackson's city manager and, then moved to Kalamazoo. During his long career, Elliott held the distinction of being the first city manager in the United States to lecture at Cambridge University, England, under a Fulbright grant.

"If a look at the new Chevy II isn't enough to change your mind about compacts, a ride in one almost surely will."

-Motor Trend, November '67

"A driver's delight"

-Car Life, October '67

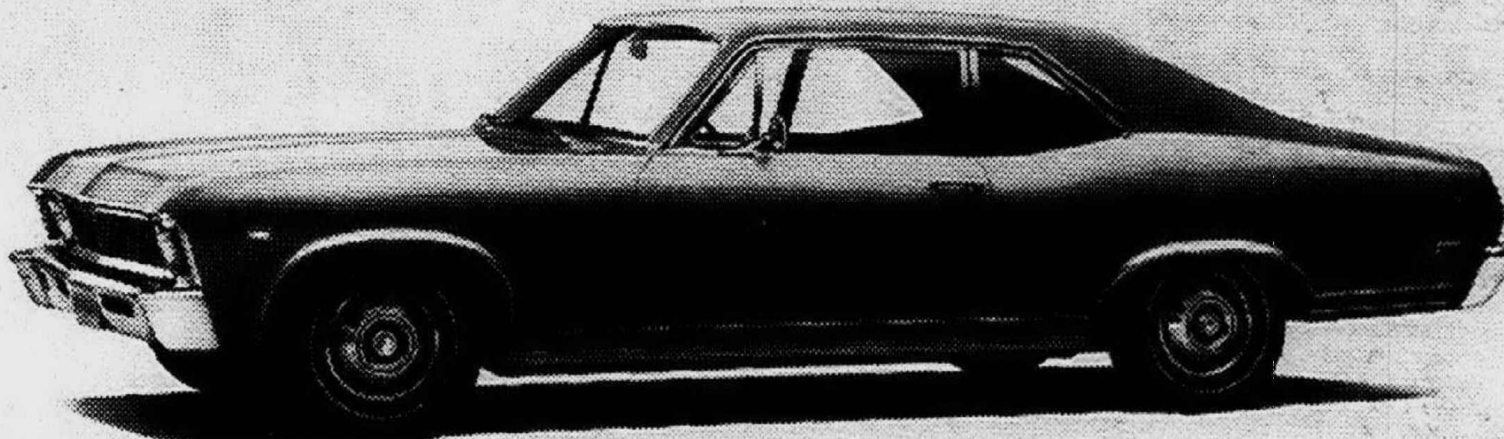

"The '68 Chevy II has grown an inch in wheelbase and six inches overall, but it's grown a mile in style, comfort, quality and performance."

-Car and Driver, December '67

"Aha. This might be the sleeper of the year."

-Hot Rod Magazine, October '67

Chevy II Nova Coupe

One more nice thing: the price.

Manufacturer's suggested retail price for standard Six Chevy II Nova Coupe shown above includes Federal Excise Tax, suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Model shown above equipped at additional cost with Custom Exterior $84.30, White Walls $31.35, Wheel Covers $21.10. Transportation charges, accessories, optional equipment, state and local taxes additional.

Car enthusiast magazines keep saying a lot of nice things about the all-new Chevy II Nova. And why not? At last there's an economy car that doesn't look or act like one. Besides being a whole lot sportier, it offers a smoothly balanced Six and a 307-cubic-inch standard V8 that runs beautifully on regular fuel. See for yourself what all the shouting's about. Road test a Nova now.

CITY OF PLYMOUTH
COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT
STREET IMPROVEMENT BONDS
(District No. 0730.55)

Sealed bids for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at his office in the City Hall, 201 South Main Street, in the City of Plymouth on Thursday, the 1st day of February, 1968, until 7:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated January 1, 1968, shall consist of twenty-five (25) bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered consecutively in direct order of maturity from 1 to 25, both inclusive, and will mature serially as follows, without option of prior redemption:

$1,000.00 September 1, 1968;
$2,000.00 September 1st of each year from 1969 to 1971, inclusive;
$3,000.00 September 1st of each year from 1972 to 1977, inclusive.

Said bonds shall be coupon bonds and shall bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding five per cent (5%) per annum, expressed in multiples of 1/4 of 1 per cent. Said interest shall be payable on September 1, 1968, and semi-annually thereafter on March 1st and September 1st of each year. The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period, and all bonds maturing in the same year must carry the same interest rate. Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, subject to the approval of the City, said paying agent to be qualified as such under Michigan or Federal statutes. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of such bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said Special Assessment Street Improvement Bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of an equal amount of the unpaid and future due installments of special assessments on Special Assessment Roll No. 0730.55 for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of local street improvements in said District, in the City of Plymouth. In addition to the special assessments, said bonds pledge the full faith, credit and resources of the City of Plymouth for their payment.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining at the rate or rates specified therein the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from March 1, 1968 to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the City. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds herein offered, or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the sum of $500.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Plymouth, must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned to each bidder's representative present or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof. The City shall pay the cost of printing the bonds. The bonds will be delivered at a place designated by the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.
Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Mid-Winter Sale Prices

Your dining room can now be furnished at prices hard to believe, during our annual Mid-Winter sale.

This oiled walnut grouping by "Richardson" is specially priced at only $449.00 for a seven piece group, which includes a 40 x 60 rectangular table with two 20 inch leaves, 4 cane-back side chairs and a 60 inch China. This represents a value normally selling for $634.50. Planned with design continually to complement any contemporary setting, this group lends a natural flowing appearance while each piece has been built for strength and durability.

Furniture of your choice in all sizes and styles, including Mediterranean, Italian, French and Contemporary, can now be selected during this once-a-year event at savings truly hard to believe. Many nationally known manufacturers such as Drexel, Century, Founders, Stiffel and American have joined with us in order to bring the beauty and comfort to your home only fine-quality furniture can accomplish. Our professional Interior Designers are ready and willing to help with your selections. Remember sale ends mid-February. Budget terms, of course.

Following Our Men In Service

Airman John K. Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Underwood, of 7925 Sheldon, Plymouth, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Lowry AFB, Colo., for specialized schooling as a munitions specialist. Airman Underwood is a 1966 graduate of Plymouth High School.

Army S/4 Joseph D. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon V. Williams, 565 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, has arrived near Duc Pho, Vietnam, with the American Division's 11th Light Infantry Brigade.

Before reaching Vietnam, he received extensive jungle training in Hawaii. The division is currently in combat against the enemy.

Spec. Williams is a fire team leader in Company D, 4th Battalion of the brigade's 3rd Infantry.

Army S/4 Gary L. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Fisher, 35862' Richland, Livonia, has been assigned as a driver in Headquarters Company of the 63rd Armor's 1st Battalion at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Spec. Fisher was assigned to the 1st Infantry Division in Vietnam before arriving for duty at Ft. Riley.

Army Pvt. Daniel D. Newton is assigned to Company E, 9 Battalion, 3 Brigade, here in the United States Army Training Center at Ft. Knox, Ky. Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. Newton, son of Mrs. Madelyn Kovacs of 16881 Hubbard, Livonia, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Army Pvt. William C. Jacobs is assigned to Company E, 9 Battalion, 3 Brigade, here in the United States Army Training Center at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Jacobs of 32914 Martin, Livonia will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Army Pvt. Dennis R. Michalke is assigned to Company E, 9 Battalion, 3 Brigade, here in the United States Army Training Center at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Following the completion of basic training, Pvt. Michalke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Michalke of 35859 Pinetree, Livonia will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Army Pvt. John E. Mund has been assigned to Company A, 15th Battalion, 4th Brigade, in the United States Army Training Center at Ft. Knox, Ky. He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army—firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

PVT Mund is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Mund of 14870 Lyons, Livonia.

Sonar Technician C/3 Arnold A. Burmaster, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Burmaster, 32035 Washington, Livonia, is serving aboard the U.S. Sixth Fleet destroyer USS Bache in the Mediterranean.

During the five-month deployment the Bache, along with other U.S. destroyers, will provide anti-submarine and anti-air support for one of two attack aircraft carrier striking groups in the Mediterranean.

Marine Pvt. Bruce M. Swindle, son of Mr. William G. Swindle, of 19496 Deering, Livonia, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

He will undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps Assignment.

Marine Pvt. Gary L. Lane, son of Mrs. Atha Seremak, of 12191 Cardwell, Livonia, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

He will undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps Assignment.

Marine Pvt. Robert L. Richey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Richey, 18872 Hillcrest, Livonia, completed two weeks of training under simulated combat conditions in the fundamentals of day and night patrolling, employment of infantry weapons, survival methods and assault tactics at the Camp Pendleton Calif. Marine Corps base.

This individual combat training is given every Marine after his graduation from recruit training. Taught by combat experienced non-commissioned officers of the infantry training regiment here, it prepares the young Leatherneck to become part of the Marine air-ground combat team.

Airman Apprentice Michael J. Moritz, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Moritz, 15824 Alexander, Livonia, is serving aboard the U. S. Seventh Fleet attack aircraft carrier USS Ticonderoga in the Western Pacific.

Army Private Lee A. Kay, of Livonia, has been assigned to Company A, 11th Battalion, 3rd Brigade in the United States Army Training Center, Armor at Ft. Knox, Ky.

He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army—firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Pvt. Kay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien A. Kay 28650 Broadmoor, Livonia.

Army Pvt. John M. Luce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Luce, 14624 Gary Lane, Livonia, has completed an eight-week construction machine operator course at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

He was trained in the operation of bulldozers and learned the techniques of cutting ditches and forming drainage systems.

Marine Pvt. Anthony Daykin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Daykin, 335 Hartsough St., Plymouth, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

He will undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps Assignment.

Army Pfc. Stephen Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allen, 31198 Hathaway, Livonia, is participating in "Operation Pershing" in Vietnam, with other members of the 1st Air Cavalry Division.

He and other members of the division have evacuated more than 19,000 refugees from coastal areas to numerous refugee centers in secured areas as well as inflicting heavy damage on the Viet Cong.

Pvt. Allen is a team leader in Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the division's 50th Infantry.

Decision Asked On Roadblocks

The New Jersey Supreme Court has been asked to determine whether roadblocks set up to check drivers' licenses and registrations are constitutional. The request, made by the New Jersey branch of the American Civil Liberties Union, is an appeal of an Appellate Division ruling that the need for roadblocks to apprehend unlicensed drivers outweighs their intrusion on privacy.

Scouts To Join In Celebration

Hundreds of Scouts in Observerland will join with nearly 67,000 fellow Scouts of the Detroit Area Council to celebrate the 58th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, Feb. 7-13, Scout Week.

Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts will be busily engaged in Blue and Gold banquets, Courts of Honor, and family night programs which will attract parents, friends, relatives, and Scout alumni. Some of the highlights of this year's Scout Week program include: Uniform Day, Thursday, Feb. 8—all across America the Scouts will don their uniforms and wear them to school to dramatize the great number of boys who are Scouts.

Friday and Saturday, Feb. 9 and 10, has been designated as Scout Sabbath for boys of Jewish faith, and Sunday, Feb. 11 will be Scout Sunday. Special church services in hundreds of religious organizations will mark these significant dates, as boys take part in religious programs, and receive Scout religious awards from their spiritual leaders.

house and January sale dual celebration. The addition was just completed and makes Snyder's one of the city's largest furniture outlets.

Foundation Arranges Exchange Grant

ANN ARBOR—An exchange scholarship between The University of Michigan and Magdalene College of Cambridge University in England has been established by the Power Foundation of Ann Arbor.

The scholarship will be given to one American and one British graduate each year, starting next fall. Each recipient will hold the award for two years.

According to terms of the scholarship, The University of Michigan Marshall Selection Committee will select three candidates for the fellowship, and the master of Magdalene College will also nominate three. Final selection of the two recipients, one from each institution, will be made by the Power Foundation.

THE FOUNDATION was established by Eugene B. Power, a former University of Michigan Regent and an Honorary Fellow of Magdalene College and his family.

Recipients will be free to follow any course of study available at the exchange institution.

For the American student, the scholarship grant will include tuition and other academic fees at Magdalene College, one round-trip ticket across the Atlantic, board and room, and 500 pounds ($1,200) per year. Similar provisions, adjusted to reflect differing costs of living, will apply for the student coming to Michigan.

Because Magdalene is a men's college, only unmarried male students at U-M will be eligible to apply.

THE AMERICAN recipient will be provided rooms in Magdalene College. The British student will probably be housed in a University residence hall, or in an apartment if he wishes.

Applications must be received by the selection committee by March 4. Final selection will be made by the foundation shortly thereafter. Among the criteria set by the foundation for selection are intellectual curiosity and ability, leadership potential, and physical vigor.

2 Free Throws In Finale Give Bentley Win Over Plymouth

In most sports gatherings across the land, one would be led to believe the "game of the year" was played in Houston, Texas Saturday night when unbeaten Houston removed mighty UCLA from the list of the undefeated, snapping a 47-game winning streak—but those who attended the Plymouth-Bentley High game Friday night will be the first to disagree. It may not have had the tremendous billing of the battle of the college cage giants but it will go down in annals as the most exciting played in colonial Plymouth since the time the Pilgrims landed in Plymouth—Mass., that is. A keyed-up PHS team fought to the final second in quest of an upset that was denied by the coolness of Bentley's giant Center Ken Bollin. With Plymouth holding a 54-53 lead and 30 seconds showing on the clock, Bollin twice dropped in free throws to give his team a 55-54 edge.

THE ROCKS had a golden opportunity when they worked the ball under the hoop for a short shot that rolled around the rim and dropped out—much to the dismay of the hundreds of Plymouth rooters.

Then with one second remaining, Plymouth took possession out of bounds at the Bentley end of the court. The Rocks tried, hard but the pass in and a long shot from three quarters of the floor missed the target and Bentley had a hard-fought victory.

For the Livonians, it was their 10th win against two defeats. For the Rocks, it was loss No. 5 with four wins. It snapped a three game winning streak for the homeowners.

It was the kind of a contest that held the interest of the packed gym from the opening whistle to the final gun. The saddest part of all was that Plymouth played its best game of the year and seemed to have Bentley on the ropes only to have Bollin come through when the chips were down.

The Rocks served notice that they were out for a victory from the opening tipoff, rolling to a 7-2 lead after three minutes.

THEN THE BENTLEY guns began to roar and with Bollin pacing the attack with 11 points, the visitors moved out to a 21-12 lead at the quarter.

Then, strange enough, Plymouth outscored its rivals in each of the remaining three quarters but was still one point short at the final gun.

The Rocks had 19 points in the second stanza against 15 for Bentley but left the court at the halftime intermission, trailing, 36-31.

Mike Kubik and Jeff Adams each hit twice from the field to make the score 45-39 with four minutes gone in the third quarter. Stakias connected three times in little more than a minute to knot the count for the first time at 45-45.

Jim Powers hit twice from outside to put Bentley in front 49-45 before Kubik blasted from past midcourt and made the score 49-47 going into the final eight minutes.

BOTH TEAMS tightened their defenses in the fourth quarter with the result that scoring was at a minimum.

Stakias tallied twice from the foul line to even the score. Bollin was fouled and converted to put Bentley ahead, Dan Doyle was loose for a short shot and the visitors held a 52-49 margin. Bollin made one of two charity tosses and the lead was four points.

Adams split the cords on the first of two free throws and Kubik grabbed the rebound and hit to make the score 53-52. Don Gullekson battled for a rebound and finally tapped it in to put Plymouth in front with two and a half minutes to play.

Bollin missed twice from the foul line. Don Jones had two free throws and missed and now there were 30 seconds to go when Bollin was fouled and made both to clinch the victory. The Rocks didn't have enough time after that.

Bollin was the top scorer with 26 points with Powers contributing 15 to the Bentley cause. Kubik topped Plymouth with 18 followed by Stakias with 14 and Adams 7.

OBSERVING SPORTS By George Maskin

If you saw the National Hockey League All-Star game the other night, you observed Gordie Howe of the Wings slugging it out for a few seconds with a Toronto rival.

It didn't last long... and before the evening was over, Howe and his momentary enemy could be seen smiling at one another and kidding about the entire matter of fisticuffs.

Such "incidents" frequently pop up in sports... in baseball, in football, in basketball... in hockey.

Away from sports, most of us who are married engage in squabbles with our partners. Usually, the bitterness passes over in a hurry, too.

But somehow peace seems to be a very eluding item in this world.

Who can remember when last there was a sustained period of time when two countries were not squaring off at each other?

The Germans have been mad at the French, the French at somebody else... the Americans at Germany, Russia at China, and so it goes.

Garden City East Tips Taylor For 10th Victory

Halfway through the Mid-Wayne League basketball race, the form chart has held up.

When the season began, the word was that Garden City East would show the way.

East, under Coach Billy Joe Young, has.

The Garden City team made it five straight in the league without a loss by turning back tough Taylor Center, 76-66 Friday night. Overall, East has a 10-1 record on the season and deserves to rate among the suburban leaders.

Taylor made the first two points of the game.

Then Mike Maciasz, who has to be one of the top performers in the state's Class A ranks, delivered a three-point play to put East in the lead for keeps.

HOWEVER, EAST never had a chance really to relax until the late moments of the game. East led, 22-17, after one period, but the lead shrunk to four at halftime and stayed that way until the final period when East pulled away to its winning margin.

Maciasz, who's now averaging better than 22 points per game, fired in 13 of his team's 22 points in the first quarter. He added 10 more in the second period and then had to go to the bench in the third period when he ran into some foul trouble.

He came back in the fourth stanza and teamed with Charles Sakmar to make certain Taylor didn't catch up.

Maciasz wound up with 30 points, dropping in 11 baskets and eight free throws.

SAKMAR CLICKED for 19 points, while Rick Clark had 10, Harold Slade 11, Harvey Kightlinger four and Phil Young two.

Young called East's showing "our best of the season."

He said East had to be good, especially since Taylor made 26 of its 46 shots from the field, mostly from the outside. East clicked on 29 of 61.

C'Ville Starts Fast And Wins

A fast start featured Clarenceville High's 63-60 verdict over Milford in Wayne-Oakland League game Friday night.

The Trojans jumped ahead, 21-10, at the end of the first period and then held a 42-26 edge at halftime.

In the second half, Milford started a comeback and pulled within close range of Clarenceville after Kerry Rifkin fouled out along with Dave Brandemuhl.

The pair bowed out with Clarenceville leading by 13 points, thanks to some hot shooting.

The Trojans fired in 74 percent of their shots in the first half and overall in the game clicked for 64 percent.

RIFKIN, IN leading Clarenceville with 21 points, made 19 of his points before the intermission. Bob Duman had 16 points and Brandemuhl 10 to help in the conquest for Clarenceville.

Only one point separated the two teams with 10 seconds left to play when Milford crawled back to make the score read, 61-60.

But Brian Kent went to the line for the Trojans, dropped in two free throws and that iced the contest. Kent had seven points along with Novell.

Northville remained in front

RU Topples Belleville In Overtime

Nothing gratifies a coach more than to see his team trail most of the way and then pull out a victory.

Such was the story for Redford Union high in squeezing past Belleville, 91-85, in an overtime battle in the Suburban Six League.

It was strictly a case of "catch-up" for the Townshippers.

Belleville led, 23-20, after one quarter; by a 42-38 score at halftime and expanded its edge to 66-58 after three periods.

Then with the chips down RU stormed back, led by Dennis Fifield and Dale Bjerke.

A Bjerke basket tied the game at 78-78. Once more Belleville regained the lead, only to see Fifield knot the count at 80-80.

BELLEVILLE SCORED again and it was 82-82 until 28 seconds remained. Then Fifield delivered again and an overtime session was required.

No sooner did the extra period begin, Bjerke slammed in a three-pointer to push RU into command, then the Townshippers dominated the rest of the way to win by six points.

Even the departure of Fifield in the overtime via the personal foul route didn't slow down the Redford Union express.

FIFIELD AND Bjerke provided the big thrust for Redford Union.

Fifield finished with 31 points on 12 baskets and seven free throws. Bjerke clicked for 26 points, making nine baskets and eight charities.

Jim Walker chipped in with 10 points and Bill Styles and Bill Fahey with six each for the Townshippers who now stand 4-4 in the league, two games off the pace.

Wilson Boone with 23 points headed Belleville, which hit on 14 of its first 16 free throw tries.

Flutur Sets 2 Records As N. Farmington Rolls

Take a bow, Ron Flutur of North Farmington High School! Flutur accounted for two scoring records last Friday night when the Raiders roared past John Glenn, 93-69, in Northwest Suburban League play.

It was North Farmington's third win in four loop starts and shot them into a tie with Thurston for second place, a game behind leading Oak Park.

It was also Flutur's big show. His first record came in the opening half. He scored 32 points, getting 17 in the first quarter and 15 in the second.

THERE'S NO telling just how many points Flutur might have made in the game, except that with North Farmington leading 59-35, at halftime, his coach, Dick Wilson cleared the bench and gave everybody a chance to play.

Flutur already had tied the school mark of 32 points set by Rick Lorenz.

It wasn't until, with only three minutes to go in the game, that Wilson sent Flutur back to give his star a chance to crack the single-game record.

Flutur responded with one basket.

Overall in the game he had 14 baskets and six free throws while teammate Mike McCoy tossed in 21 points and sub-center Joel Comstock clicked for 13.

North Farmington's pressing defense held Glenn to only three baskets and seven points in the first period when the Raiders grabbed a 32-7 lead to turn the game into an early runaway. Kerry Webb scored 16, Bob Walker 15 and Ron Tapple 14 for the losers.

In rebounds, the totals were as decisive as the final score. North Farmington had 61 to 28 for Glenn.

THE NEXT NIGHT saw North Farmington drop a heart-breaker to ninth-ranked Southfield, 52-51, in a game in which the teams played under the professional 24-second, shooting rules.

As was the case when Plymouth downed Farmington with the clocks, borrowed from the Detroit Pistons, in use, neither Southfield nor North Farmington found much difference in the way the game went.

"It did do away with any stalling and helped us at the end to get within a point," said coach Dick Wilson of North Farmington.

The Raiders led, 15-10, after one quarter and 29-26 at half-time. It was 39-39 at the three-quarter mark.

McCoy had 20 points for North Farmington, while Knock tallied 12 and Flutur was held to 11. Dave Chalmer scored 16, Dave Kintroy 15 and Paul Hunt 15 for Southfield.

Thurston Prepares For Showdown

"It's showdown time" Friday night in the Northwest Suburban League's basketball parade.

Thurston entertains Oak Park and by the time the game is over, there could be a three-way tie for first place.

Oak Park is the current leader with a 4-0 record. Thurston and North Farmington are tied for second, each with 3-1 records.

Thus if Thurston wins and North Farmington beats Birmingham Groves, half of the loop's six teams will be lodged on top with identical 4-1 records.

Oak Park had no problems with Franklin, 80-56, last Friday night while North Farmington literally mauled John Glenn, 93-69.

"If we keep playing like this, we could go all the way to the title," said Mike Pasternak after Thurston rolled through Groves.

THE TOWNSHIP team never was in serious trouble after gaining a 22-10 lead after one period of play.

Thurston's bulge soared to 41-21 at halftime and the team went into the last quarter with a 53-37 command.

Hitting on 60 percent of its shots in the first period, Thurston quickly exploded as David Day and Urban Rice each made six points, while Groves was held to five baskets.

Dale Joyce and Jerry Nakonecny barged through with six points each in the second period and from then on it was all Thurston.

Joyce wound up as the scoring leader for Thurston with 18 points. Day scored 13, Rice 10, Rick Wagner seven, Tim Forbes six and Nakonecny six.

PARKERS ROMP Oak Park had too much of everything in gaining an 80-56 victory over Franklin.

From the opening tipoff, Franklin tried to press the Groves forces. Nothing worked.

Oak Park took a 21-16 lead in the first period and the margin kept soaring the rest of the way.

The front line of Steve Kaplan, Bryan Harbin and Lloyd Collins was too much for Franklin. Each of the trio made 19 points and in addition turned in a sparkling job in the rebounding department.

Charles Wiggins had 12 points for Franklin, while Brad Lyons clicked for nine and John Floyd and Doug Sutton eight each.

GC West Rallies For Win

"Never give up hope"....so they say.

Garden City West proved that there is truth in the old saying last Friday in rallying for an 83-70 victory over Southgate.

The triumph gave West a 4-3 record in Tri Rivers League action and evened the team's overall record at four-four.

But more important was the way the West team came back.

One wouldn't have given a penny for the West chances at the end of the first period. Southgate had stormed into a 21-8 lead, holding West to only two baskets and two free throws.

From then on it was a much different story. West began to flourish.

IN THE SECOND period, West outscored Southgate, 25-14, to pull within two points of a tie at halftime. In the third period, West went ahead--and stayed there.

Even the loss of high scoring Duane Drewitz in the first moments of the second half didn't cool off the West comeback.

Drewitz made only seven points all evening, but his mates made up the difference. Especially Gary Robinson.

Robinson, who had started the West comeback with eight points in the second period and then added nine in the third when Jerry Hopkins chipped in 10, finished the night with a prep career high of 29 points.

HE ALSO had 29 rebounds in 32 minutes of play which was a school record and one of the finest jobs on the boards turned in by any schoolboy in the country this year.

Hopkins wound up the night with 14 points, while Craig Wilson had 11 along with Dave Leemgraven.

Dem Lawyers Support New Crime Code...

Three Democratic lawyers delivered a strong defense of proposed new state criminal code, admitting at the same time that it will be controversial. "I hope we don't lose the 15 per cent that isn't controversial because of the 5 per cent that is," said Tom Downs, former Constitutional Convention delegate and a member of the committee that drafted the new code.

He got agreement from Lironia attorney Marvin Stenmen, a former state representative (1965-66) and State Sen. Roger H. Craig of Dearborn when they appeared Saturday in a panel at a 19th Congressional District Democratic issues seminar Saturday at Schoolcraft College.

MICHIGAN'S PRESENT criminal code, which Downs said "grew like Topsy" over the years, has inconsistencies, places heavy emphasis on bad checks, and has conflicts between the philosophies of punishment and rehabilitation.

The new code, said Downs, simplifies many procedures, goes into new areas such as consumer protection, eliminates "meaningless" penalties in the narcotics laws, distinguishes between types of narcotics.

That part, he said, has received "95 per cent acceptance."

THE CONTROVERSIAL areas, will be these, Downs and Craig agreed:

1. Sentencing -- The present law allows a judge to make the maximum possible sentence the minimum for a convicted person. The new code allows the Correction Commission more "discretion." Said Downs: "Whether he robbed $4 or $40,000 isn't as important as when is he safe to let loose." Added Craig: "The judges-- a powerful lobby -- will be against any uniformity in sentencing."

2. Policeman's powers -- Downs said the new code attempts to face the problem of the youngster in minor potential trouble who flees in panic. Said Craig: "There will be those who say this proscribes the police officer." (See article below.)

3. Abortion -- Present law allows an abortion only if the mother's life is in jeopardy. Downs said the new code would allow an abortion if approved by a doctor, if it takes place in a recognized hospital, in cases of incest and rape, and if there is serious chance the child may be deformed. Craig noted that abortion is covered in another bill and that Gov. Romney, as a presidential candidate, is afraid of the abortion issue in 1968.

4. Adultery -- Present law makes it a crime, but Craig pointed out that "in 1967 there was not one single prosecution in the entire state," although adultery probably occurred.

DOWNS ADDED that the new code makes an attempt to get at those who profit from crime.

For example, a man who places a $2 bet with a bookie is violating the law and would be afraid to testify against the operators of the ring for fear of incriminating himself.

But the new code would allow the prosecution to grant the small fish immunity so that he would be unafraid to testify against the big fish.

IN A PANEL on civil liberties: State House Minority Leader William Ryan said that "we are trying to make man's basic needs available, but when you mention the basic need of permanent housing (open housing), the roof comes off."

CRIMINAL CODE panelists at the Democratic issues seminar were State Sen. Roger Craig (left), a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and Tom Downs, a member of the drafting committee.

State Sen. Sander Levin, new Democratic state chairman, when asked about a proposed "stop-and-frisk" law, said: "Legally, I think it will be (a violation of civil liberties). There is a possibility of abuse. Anyone can be stopped if there is 'reasonable suspicion,' but what is 'reasonable suspicion'?"

IN A PANEL on juvenile delinquency and crime:

State Supreme Court Justice Theodore Souris said "crime is not the conflict of race. It is the issue of poverty which happens to affect a large part of the Negro population. We must work on the poverty, and the rest will come."

Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan said, "We are in need of more prosecuting attorneys. At present in Wayne County, we have only one prosecutor per 54,000 people. We also need to make a career in the police department more attractive to the college graduate."

Crime Panel To Meet Here

The State Senate's special committee on crime will hold a public hearing next week that is being billed as "bi-partisan."

The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 30, in the Carpenters Union Hall at 22521 Grand River, a half-mile east of Telegraph, in Detroit.

The announcement came from Republican Sen. James Fleming, of Jackson, and Democratic Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, of northwest Detroit.

"This is a truly bi-partisan effort..."

LBJ Borrows Ideas, Say GOP Lawmakers

Add up the comments of three Observerland congressmen, and you get the impression there was little new in President Johnson's State of the Union message.

But what there was had been stolen from Republican programs, two lawmakers said.

Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District, pointed to two items which he said had been taken from GOP bills of last year.

The first was Johnson's call for "a new partnership between government and private industry to train and hire the hard-core unemployed."

SAID McDONALD:

"He's proposing exactly what we Republicans proposed in the Human Investment Act. It's odd that he would now propose this when leaders of the Democratic Party wouldn't even allow hearings in 1967. But it's a good idea, whether Republicans or Democrats are proposing it."

The second was Johnson's call for a program to promote home ownership rather than tenancy.

McDonald said "he took the approach Percy (the Republican senator from Illinois) and Widnall (a Republican representative from New Jersey) have taken. Interestingly, Bobby Kennedy later last year also took the approach of home ownership."

"It would mean we'd have to have a partnership of labor, local government, the construction industry and lending institutions with the federal government. It would mean we'd utilize new technology to mass-produce houses with low interest and government-insured loans, having individual home ownership (eventually) replace public housing and rent supplements," McDonald said.

The Redford congressman added, however, that ownership needn't be confined to single family homes but could also mean condominium ownership.

McDonald predicted, from congressional reaction to Johnson's comments on crime, that there may be "some pretty healthy appropriations to help state and local police agencies."

McDonald accused Johnson of "misrepresenting" the size of the federal deficit by using a new accounting procedure in the budget. Johnson's new procedure involves adding Social Security and Highway Trust funds to the so-called "administrative budget."

REP. WILLIAM FORD, D-15th District, was also interested in Johnson's comments on housing.

"An awful lot of young folks are living with their in-laws because there aren't enough moderate price housing starts," said Ford, whose district includes Garden City, Westland and Canton Township.

"The post-war baby crop will be coming into the marriage and home market in the next few years," said Ford. He underscored Johnson's request for six million new housing units in the next 10 years vs. 530,000 in the last 10 in the low- and middle-income brackets.

Ford noted that Johnson made "a big pitch for the model cities program, which was drastically cut by Congress last year" with an appropriation of $312 million. Johnson is now asking a full $1 billion.

"This will have an immediate effect on our area," said Ford. "There's plenty of need to develop parks and open space in the suburbs, and to prevent total private development of the land."

"All the television publicity on model cities is on Detroit and Philadelphia and the big cities--people don't think of it in terms of planning funds for our area," Ford added.

REP. MARVIN ESCH, R-2nd District, agreed with McDonald's contention that Johnson had borrowed heavily from Republican ideas in the job training and housing proposals.

But Esch criticized the State of the Union message as a whole for "failure to state our nation's priorities."

"Although he gave lip service to a 'tight budget,' his speech covered the waterfront of domestic programs and neglected to single out those problems and programs of most importance to the nation."

"Indeed," Esch continued, "there seemed to be a dichotomy between the promised reduction of the deficit and the request for increased funding for numerous programs. There was no apparent cutback on non-essential programs which might be postponed until the nation's budget is not strained by war."

ALL AGREED there was little in the way of totally new programs in Johnson's message. But each congressman reacted to this on the basis of his party line.

Said Republican McDonald: "My overall thought is that it was not a very exciting, moving documentary on our problems."

Said Democrat Ford: "Our candidate looked real good. His programs are the logical next steps to what was started in the 89th Congress. It's going to be difficult to get some of this passed in a Congress dominated sometimes by a north-south conservative coalition."

Said Republican Esch: "On the domestic front, the President's speech was primarily a repetitious rehash of tired, old, ineffective programs. For the most part, he confined himself to endorsing programs that are already underway--attempting to put some glitter back on their tarnished image."

The second session of the 90th Congress, in the presidential election year of 1968, has begun.

...Plymouth Chief Blasts 'Do-Gooders'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Robert Corrington, besides being Plymouth chief of police, is also chairman of the Wayne County Police Chiefs' Tactical Mobile Unit. He was asked recently to comment on a Bar Association proposed new criminal code, and he did so--unfavorably. After characterizing the code as the work of "professors, sociologists and do-gooders," Corrington went into detail:

SEC. 630, Physical Force: "The only time that an officer could shoot a fleeing felon is if the felon has used or threatened to use deadly physical force or is attempting to escape by the use of a deadly weapon."

"In other words, an officer could not shoot an escaping rapist, burglar, safe-cracker, mugger, purse snatcher, etc... Perhaps all officers should exchange their sidearms for sling shots so they would be sure not to harm the poor (fleeing) felon..."

SUBSEC. (7): "A citizen has no right to shoot a burglar in his own home unless there is the imminent threat of deadly physical force..."

"Imagine, if you will, being assaulted in your home, tied up and seeing your wife or daughter being assaulted and raped, being able to free yourself, but still being unable to use a weapon... because the felon did not use a deadly weapon..."

SEC. 1301, Criteria for Probation: "A few of the more ridiculous:

"... (7) The defendant has made or will make restitution. Committing a crime is OK if you back the loss if you are caught..."

"... The imprisonment of the defendant would entail excessive hardship to himself or his dependents... What about the hardship caused to the victim?"

SEC. 1335, Unconditional Discharge: "This states that if a person has been convicted of a crime and not sent to prison, the judge may sentence him to an unconditional discharge... If the conviction was for a felony, the judge must set forth in the record his reasons..."

"In view of the many unreasonable acts of judges, they should be well-qualified to figure out some reason, i.e., he was whipped when he was a CHIEF CORRINGTON child; he suffered a traumatic experience as a youth; he is a member of some minority group..."

SEC. 1401, Classes of Crimes: "Under this section, every person imprisoned for a felony SHALL receive an initial parole hearing within one year (and) re-hearings at 18 month intervals until parole is granted or the sentence served. This means that it is very possible for a convicted and sentenced felon to be paroled within just a few weeks after he goes to prison..."

SEC. 2005, First Degree Murder: It "states that the sentence shall be not less than 10 years to life. How cheap can the taking of a human life be?"

"... A man convicted for first degree murder could very easily (with good time) be out of prison in six years... Again, the only one that counts is the criminal. No thought need be given to the victim."

SEC. 2210, First Degree Kidnapping: It states "that if, prior to trial, the criminal voluntarily releases the victim alive and not suffering from serious physical injury, in a safe place, he cannot be charged with kidnapping in the first degree."

"If the police are not on his trail, all he has to do is put the victim out, and he gets out of this charge. A victim could (have been) kept bound, gagged, hungry, thirsty and terrified, but this does not count... The traumatic effect upon a child that is kidnapped can scar that child for the rest of his life, but again this does not matter. Just be sure the kidnapper gets the breaks..."

NAMCO APPROVED MICHIGAN BANKARD SECURITY CHARGE

Students Rightly Miffed At Firings

Students at Schoolcraft College are a bit miffed, and rightfully so, over an action of the administration in dismissing six probationary teachers last week.

Their most bitter complaints are that the teachers were fired without specified reasons, without an evaluation of their abilities and without a recommendation from the head of the department.

We sympathize with the students in their feelings about the matter, but somehow feel this is something that should be decided by the Faculty Forum, the official bargaining group for the faculty.

IT WAS THE FACULTY Forum that negotiated with the administration team for the better part of eight months before finally accepting a contract just a few days before the opening of the college for the fall term in late August.

Money was a big item in the negotiations, but we can't believe that any negotiation team would agree to a contract that isn't all-inclusive—one that has the answers for most any problem that could possibly come up.

We have been informed that new teachers are placed on a probation period when hired by the Schoolcraft administration. This could extend for as long as two years, with a provision for a third year if deemed necessary by the administration; it could be as short as one year, depending on the evaluation of the teacher's ability, and could be terminated before the end of the first year with 90 days written notice or before the end of the second year with a 90-day notice.

If the teacher successfully passes the probationary period, then he or she receives a tenure contract.

The announcement of the dismissals was made to the Board of Trustees by College President Dr. Eric Bradner last week. He informed the trustees that he was sorry to announce that contracts would not be offered to six probationary teachers and that notices of the action were already in the mail.

HOWEVER, representatives of the student body, who actually are from every powerful campus organization but not officially designated as representatives, feel that actions of this kind will lower the morale of the faculty, cause applicants to duck away from Schoolcraft positions and thus weaken the quality of education.

They feel the six instructors did not receive proper evaluations, that their classrooms were not visited by administrators, and that perhaps there is a tinge of vindictiveness in the firings. They refused to elaborate on the latter but alleged that there may have been intimidations and other acts that could scare a good teacher into becoming a very average instructor.

The students would like to have a voice in the hiring and the valuations of the faculty. They feel that students, attending classes daily under the direction of the teachers, may have a better idea of their qualifications than administrators making a casual check now and then.

For this reason, they have asked the board for a special meeting at which they could discuss their complaints. Specifically, they would like to have the administrators spell out the reasons for the firing in an open meeting.

Perhaps this is their idea of a solution, but it is our feeling that each of the six individuals involved should be contacted and asked if they care for this kind of exposure.

Perhaps the students have a point. Perhaps they should be permitted to sit in on evaluations of teachers. The best place to resolve this is in an open meeting where all have a chance to express their views.

—R. T. Thompson

It Was Tough To Accentuate Positive

"Accentuate the Positive" is the refrain of the song.

It's also a pretty good summing up of the President's State of the Union message last week.

The first part of the speech was devoted to foreign affairs and LBJ restated the administration policy on Vietnam.

His first words were: "Since I reported to you last January, three elections have been held in Vietnam." No word about the increasing intensity of the war or even recognizing the existence of the growing protest movement in this country.

LBJ cited the tariff reduction brought about by the Kennedy Round of talks.

The President noted that 1967 was the first time the "hot line" between Moscow and Washington had been used. He announced that he would send to the Senate a treaty providing for the protection of astronauts between the USA and the Soviet Union.

IT WAS ONLY after these glowing reports that the President turned to his domestic programs. The political pundits are fond of recalling LBJ's "New Deal" philosophy. The President afforded the columnists ample opportunity in his approach to the domestic issues.

He called for the creation of job opportunity, for additional training and education, health aid for both young and old, and the construction of low and middle income housing.

Then LBJ turned to the popular issues of the time. He called for an increase on a war on crime and for additional legislation to protect the consumer.

(One of the national newsmagazines reports this week that the private survey conducted by the Democrats reported that consumer problems were high on list of the voter's concerns.)

LBJ wound up the address with a repeated pitch for his tax increase and a restatement of goals.

The only problem with the speech is the fact that it isn't always possible to "accentuate the positive." The speechwriters discovered that as they got further into the message on the State of the Union.

—Sue Shaughnessy

Sense 'N'

Nonsense

An Army sergeant killed in South Vietnam was buried with full military honors Saturday morning in a church in Garden City, an all-white suburb. In the company of 14 soldiers provided as honor guard and pallbearers, three were Negro, including the captain of the unit. It could only happen in America.

Teen Center Could Be Pandora Box

One wonders if the Plymouth City Commission hasn't opened a Pandora's Box by its recent action granting the Plymouth Jaycees a temporary occupancy permit of one year for operation of a Teen Center on a non-conforming basis.

We have no quarrel with the Jaycees about their plans for the Center since there appears to be a need for such a program.

However, the building and site selected does not conform with the zoning ordinance. In the first place, there is a decided lack of parking, a matter which various commissioners have waved in the faces of property owners in the downtown business section. In the second place, the building was not rezoned and no request was made for rezoning.

And that brings up the question: Just what action will the Commission take when builders, developers and real estate agents appear before that august body and make similar requests?

More to the point, will the Commission find itself faced with a request for a renewal of the temporary permit at the end of the year?

—R. T. Thompson

From the Publisher's Desk OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power

The President delivered his State of the Union address to a joint session of Congress exactly one week ago tonight.

It's an impressive show, there in the great chamber of the House of Representatives. The flags draped behind the President. The Vice President and Speaker of the House sitting grimly behind on the dais, as though they were watching over his executive works, as befits their stature as presiding officers of the legislative assemblies of the people.

The only State of the Union address I ever saw live was in 1965, while I was working for Congressman Todd in Washington. Somehow, I got hold of one of the tickets for the House galleries that are distributed to the various congressional offices, and I trotted over to the capitol just before 8 p.m. to see the show.

IT WAS PRETTY dark by then, and I paused near the east entrance to look down over Washington, covered then by brilliant lights. At the very top of the immense Capitol dome, a single lamp burned, signifying that a night session of Congress was planned.

Then there was a dark swish, and a long limousine swept by me with men festooned all over the car and lots of policemen ahead and behind. It was the President and his security escort. He had come quietly and early, perhaps to go down to the office of the Speaker, see his old congressional friends, maybe to hoist a bourbon and branch water before his speech.

I walked down the oddly tiled floors of the Capitol, past the knots of security men, upstairs to the Members' Gallery, and in to my seat. I couldn't see too well and was steeling myself for a boring evening when the bright lights came on and people started coming onto the floor of the House.

First the Congressmen, and then the Senators. Then the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Justices of the Supreme Court, grave in their black robes. Then the cabinet.

Then the President, with much handshaking as he came down the center aisle.

He walked to the rostrum, the TV cameras went on, and for a moment the hair on the back of my neck stood up straight.

For here was the entire nation, government and people, coming together in one room on one evening, to consider the posture of the state of the union and to hear the agenda for the coming year. It was very moving.

THIS YEAR'S SPEECH didn't strike me so much, probably because I wasn't there to see all the pageantry that gives the State of the Union Address such emotional power.

It was, outstandingly, a political speech. After all, it's an election year, and the mood of the country is dubious. The President sensed it, and you could feel him looking over the public opinion polls as he read off his speech.

"Yes, something for everyone," you could hear the Presidential aides saying as they worked through the endless drafts. "Let's not upset the Congress. It's rambunctious enough already," you could hear the political liaison men counselling. It was a hold-the-line State of the Union Address.

THE BIGGEST THING, of course, was the section on crime. The President knows full well that a recent survey showed that one third of Americans feels unsafe when they walk out in their neighborhoods at night. That's darn near a majority of the votes.

So the President tried to make the crime issue his own. He pushed the Safe Streets Bill (rejected last year, and a pretty good bill). He documented his concern by going into unusual detail about the 100 extra FBI agents and 100 added Assistant United States Attorneys to help enforce the laws. (In a State of the Union speech, such detail is tantamount to talking specifically about adding 100 extra janitors to the staff at the Capitol.)

He talked about drug control and LSD. He sounded tough.

And he got the biggest hand of the evening.

It looks as though Congress will outdo itself this year in cracking down on crime. It may not do much about stopping the causes of crime, but by George, they're going to deal with the violators.

THE PRESIDENT said sensible things about dealing with the causes of crime.

He wants $2.1 billion for an expanded program for training and hiring over one-half million hard-core jobless. He wants $1 billion for the Model Cities program, and six million units of low cost housing in the next 10 years.

These things will help stop crime. The Congress knows this. But they won't work right away, and Congressmen need to get the votes this year.

Long run thinking is usually a luxury in an election year. I doubt that the President will get what he wants.

ON VIET NAM, the President didn't say much. He couldn't, with possible peace negotiations being explored even as he was talking. He wants to get the war over, but without chickening out.

He said the country was in a crisis of confidence, anxious and divided. He was right.

He talked about the numbers of kids going to college, and about the fact that hundreds of thousands of mothers and fathers who never completed grammar school would see their children graduate from college.

I had the sense that he was speaking to the older generation, a generation which he senses and with which he can identify. He didn't seem to say much to people under 35.

Perhaps that's why his speech sounded so uncertain. He identified the problems, but the solutions proposed seemed already middle aged.

VOTES? ...
POSSIBLE

This Is The Week That

... By Don Hoenshell

Gov. Romney blew a secret report on race violence in his state of the state message and even as little as he said is enough to send suburbanites up the wall.

Briefly, they're predicting exquisite mayhem in Detroit next summer.

The report said the trouble will spread this time toward the fringes, out where people have run to get away from the city and its troubles.

First, the light stuff.

STATE SENATOR George Kuhn, the conservative former mayor of Berkeley, learned of the report and suggested an executive session of the Senate to hear it from Col. Fredrick E. Davids of the State Police.

There hasn't been an executive session of the Senate in years. They used to vote on executive appointments that way but reporters found out how they went by a simple expedient.

They would lie on their face in the dust in a balcony over the lieutenant governor's rostrum and record the debate and the votes. Abandonment of executive sessions only wiped out a delicious item on the expense account: Dry cleaning in the line of duty, $107.48.

Now Lansing reporters buy suits off the rack but it's more comfortable.

Romney heard about the same report and called Davids in the day before he made his state of the state address. When the meeting broke up, the governor swore everybody to secrecy — except himself.

Next day, he picked up an insert for his speech and blew the report. All reporters had to do was write notes they could read.

Kuhn's idea for an executive session was not great but it was better than any Romney had heard so we got a preview of next summer.

ROMNEY USED the report to build pressure behind his open housing bill, which in detail is neither as good as liberals want nor as bad as the Ku Kluxers fear.

He needs the bill in New Hampshire to show primary voters that he can get almost anything done. Who anywhere would vote against a guy who can turn a miracle? And he doesn't have to wear sandals.

And he needs it in Wisconsin in the second primary where the folks are more inclined to go for deeds rather than promises and a handshake on a street corner.

For Romney all the chips are on the table. The polls show Nixon with 42 per cent of the Republican vote, Rockefeller with 22 per cent and Romney with 12 per cent.

Rockefeller people are already talking in public that Romney should toss his support to their tiger. Romney insists he isn't dead yet. The autopsy surgeons are on call.

The real test — if it is that at all — will be staged in the Michigan legislature. From sheer self-interest, if GOP legislators are grateful to Romney for putting them in office, as some of them should be, they'll go down the line for him on the bill.

If they feel they did it all themselves — and many in suburbia have only George to thank — they won't and they'll take their chances against the Democrats next election.

MAKE UP your own mind about Romney's motives in blowing the Davids report, which warns of wholesale arming of militants and battle plans for next summer.

First, it shows that Romney is desperate.

Second, and perhaps more importantly, it is a warning for the suburbs to be ready for a hot summer.

We hope the suburbs can be made ready for it, both in terms of self-protection and in the area of human relations, which, as we lawyers say, might make the whole issue moot.

Highlights Of President Johnson's Message

Here are highlights of President Johnson's State of the Union address, delivered to Congress last week:

Major Proposals

VIETNAM
Since I reported to you last January, three elections have been held in Vietnam in the midst of war and under the constant threat of violence...

The number of South Vietnamese living in areas under government protection has grown by more than a million since January of last year...

We believe that any talks should follow the San Antonio formula stated last September, which said:

The bombing would stop if talks would take place promptly and with reasonable hopes they would be productive.

And the other side must not take advantage of our restraint as they have in the past.

We have worked with the Soviet Union and other nations to reach an agreement that will halt the spread of nuclear weapons. On the basis of communications from Ambassador Fisher in Geneva today, I am encouraged to believe that a draft treaty can be laid before the conference there in the near future. Therefore, I hope to be able to present that treaty to the Senate this year for its approval.

This year I shall propose that we launch, with other nations, an exploration of the ocean depths to tap its wealth, energy, and abundance.

RESTLESSNESS

Tonight our nation is accomplishing more for its people than has ever been accomplished before. Americans are prosperous as men have never been in recorded history. Yet there is in the land a certain restlessness—a questioning...

We ask now, not how can we achieve abundance but how shall we use our abundance?

JOBS

The first essential is more jobs... This year, we must get to those who are last in line—the hard-core unemployed—the hardest to reach.

Employment officials estimate that 500,000 of these persons are now unemployed in our major cities. Our objective is to place these 500,000 in private industry jobs within the next three years.

To do this, we propose a $2.1 billion manpower program in the coming fiscal year—a 25 per cent increase over the current year. Most of the increase will be used to start a new partnership between government and private industry to train and hire the hard-core unemployed.

A halt to the bombing in Vietnam will take place only if there are productive peace talks and if the other side doesn't take advantage of U.S. restraint.

A $2.1 billion manpower program will include funds for a new partnership between government and industry to train hard-core unemployed.

A health services program—from prenatal care through the child's first year—will be aimed at reducing the infant death rate among the poor.

Several anti-crime programs are aimed not at developing a federal police force but at aiding state and local enforcement.

A new type of federal budget will include not only the "administrative" budget, as in the past, but also Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid payments, and highway trust funds—showing a deficit smaller than the administrative budget deficit.

CITIES

Last year the Congress authorized 667 million for the Model Cities program. I requested the full amount of that authorization to help meet the crisis in our cities. But the Congress appropriated only $312 million—less than half.

This year I urge the Congress to honor my request for Model Cities' funds to rebuild the centers of American cities—$1 billion.

HOUSING

We must call together the resources of industry and labor, to start building 300,000 housing units for low and middle-income families next year—three times more than this year. We must make it possible for thousands of families to become homeowners, not rent-payers.

I propose, for the consideration of this Congress, a ten-year campaign to build six million new housing units for low and middle-income families.

CHILD HEALTH

It is a shocking fact that, in saving the lives of babies, American ranks 15th among the nations of the world.

I shall propose to the Congress a child health program to provide, over the next five years, for families unable to afford it—access to health services from prenatal care of the mother through the child's first year.

CRIME

We, at every level of government in this nation, know that the American people have had enough of rising crime and lawlessness.

It does mean help and financial support:

To develop state and local master plans to combat crime. To provide better training and better pay for police.

To bring the most advanced technology to the war on crime in every city and county in America.

I urge the Congress to stop the trade in mail order murder this year by adopting a proper gun control law.

This year, I will propose a Drug Control Act to provide stricter penalties for those who traffic in LSD and other dangerous drugs...

It is time to stop the sale of slavery to the young.

I also request funds to add immediately 100 Assistant United States Attorneys throughout the land to help prosecute our criminal laws. They too will give special attention to drug abuse.

I ask you to add 100 FBI agents.

Today we are helping local officials improve their capacity to deal promptly with disorder.

OTHER PROPOSALS

I shall recommend other actions:

Legislation to encourage our returning veterans to devote themselves to careers in community service, such as teaching, being firemen and joining our police forces and our law enforcement officials.

Programs to strengthen and finance our anti-pollution efforts.

Fully funding all of the $2.2-billion poverty program you in the Congress just authorized to bring opportunity to those who have been left behind.

An Educational Opportunity Act to step up our drive to break down financial barriers separating our young people from college.

TAXES

True, there are some clouds on the horizon. Prices are rising. Interest rates have passed the peak of 1966; and if there is continued inaction on the tax bill, they will climb even higher.

BUDGET

Under the new budget, expenditures for 1969 will increase by $10.4 billion. Receipts will be up by $22.3 billion including the added tax revenues.

Virtually all of this expenditure increase represents the extra mandatory cost of our defense efforts, increased interest, or mandatory payments under laws passed by Congress—such as those provided in the Social Security Act of 1967, and to Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries, veterans and farmers.

With few exceptions, we are holding the fiscal 1969 budget to last year's level, outside of those mandatory and required increases.

NEW SYSTEM

A presidential commission composed of distinguished Americans recommended this year that we adopt a new budget approach. I am carrying out their unanimous recommendations.

This budget, therefore, accurately covers all federal expenditures and receipts, including for the first time $47 billion from the Social Security, Medicare, highway and other trust funds.

The fiscal 1969 budget has expenditures of approximately $186 billion, with total estimated revenues, including the tax bill of about $178 billion.

If the Congress enacts the tax increase, we will reduce the budget deficit by some $12 billion—from about $20 billion in 1968 to $8 billion in 1969.

This is a tight budget. This tax increase would yield about half of the $23 billion per year we returned to the people in the tax reduction bills of 1964 and 1965.

This must be a temporary measure, which expires in less than two years.

BALANCE OF TRADE

We must restore equilibrium to our balance of payments.

We must also strengthen the international monetary system.

We have assured the world that our full gold stock stands behind our commitment to maintain the price of gold at $35 an ounce. We must back this commitment by legislating now to free our gold reserves.

Americans, traveling more than any other people in history, took $4 billion out of their country last year in travel costs. We must reduce the travel deficit of $2 billion by $500 million—without unduly penalizing the travel of teachers, business people, students and Americans who have relatives abroad. Even with the reduction of $500 million, the American people will still be traveling more overseas than at any time in their history.

 This Code

The Jaycee Creed

We believe:
 That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life;
 That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations;
 That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise;
 That government should be of laws rather than of men;
 That earth's great treasure lies in human personality;
 And that service to humanity is the best work of life.

THE
 STORY...

The world's largest young men's organization began because young Henry Giessenbier in St. Louis, Missouri, felt that young men should not have to wait until middle age to participate in civic affairs. We would like to bring all young men who are interested in making their nation and community a better place to live into our organization.

Who Can Join the JAYCEES...

Any young men in the Plymouth area between the ages of 21 and 35 are invited to join the Jaycees — This is your community — your organization.

WORLD of WOMEN

BPW In Area To Hear Talk By Mary Morgan

A "Day of Charm" with television's Mary Morgan is the theme for the District 9 meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club beginning at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 28, in the Mayflower Meeting House, Plymouth.

Sixteen BPW clubs in the area will take part in the event, to be hosted by the Plymouth club.

Miss Morgan, special feature editor for CKLW Channel 9, recently returned from New York where she viewed the spring and summer showings of the major fashion houses.

APPEARING as luncheon speaker, she will show slides of some of the latest designs and report the season's style trends.

Miss Morgan appears in a regular morning television show for women, which she also creates, and on a radio program, "News to Now with Mary Morgan."

THE BPW SESSION will begin with coffee hour and registrations between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m., hosted by the Pittsfield club. A business meeting until noon will precede the luncheon.

Reservations for visiting clubs may be made with Thelma Cushman, 641 Forest, Plymouth, or Daisy Proctor, Plymouth president, 43735 Shearer Drive, Plymouth.

MARY MORGAN

I've now come the full cycle in this matter of baby-sitting.

More years ago than I care to mention, I used to be a baby sitter. It was just a little before the term was coined — I "took care of the children" for a few families in the neighborhood, and was greatly amused when I first heard that this was known as being a "sitter."

But it worked out, while I was in college, that I had quite a racket going. I lived in the city with my family, and upstairs lived a family with a baby.

Frequently the parents wanted to go out in the evening, and my mother was glad to look in on little Susie even though I didn't get home from school until mid-evening.

It wasn't unusual for me to collect an evening's baby-sitting wages half an hour after returning home.

Later, with young children of my own, I understood how gladly Susie's mother paid those wages.

Next door to us lived a teen-aged girl, and if she couldn't "sit" for me for the entire time I'd be gone, her mother happily filled in. It was a fine arrangement for all concerned.

And last week, for the first time, I filled in as baby-sitter when my own teen daughters had to be out the early part of the evening.

It is still a good system, and the circle is complete.

Fire Victims Need Home, Equipment

Two who suffered from Plymouth's Jan. 7 fire, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Allen, are in serious need of a new home and equipment to start rebuilding a carpet-cleaning business.

They had their home and business in the Penniman St. building that burned. There was no insurance.

They currently are staying with two separate families, and have been given clothing and other necessities. Mrs. Eileen Bondie, who opened her home to Mrs. Allen, said she also can supply furniture and some household equipment, and there is money from the Salvation Army to pay the first rent on new quarters.

So far, however, none have been found.

Allen's truck was saved so he hopes to begin home cleaning of carpets if he can find equipment to use.

Any readers who might be able to aid the couple may call Mrs. Bondie at 453-1078.

Even in this day of hatlessness and intricate hairdos, in the almost-spring many women's fancies turn to a new bonnet. So the Livonia Women's City Club last week enjoyed some hat-making instructions from Mrs. Howard Cossin, above right. They also made some really wild toppers to display. Above, left, are, top row, from left, Mrs. Charles Weiss, Mrs. George Burmeister and Mrs. Leonard Mann. Front row, Mrs. John Van Lier, left, and Mrs. Oron R. Laughlin.

Spoken In Plymouth

Carol Ann Dodge became the bride of Lt. John Kellet Miller in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, Jan. 13, in St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. John Dodge, of Plymouth, and the bridegroom, a Navy pilot veteran of the Vietnam fighting, is the son of Mrs. Eunice Miller, of Bellevue, Wash.

The Rev. Canon David T. Davies heard the couple's vows.

THE BRIDE WORE a floor-length lace gown with short sleeves and featuring tiers of lace in back. Her chapel-length veil was imported illusion and fell from a seed pearl headpiece.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Her sister, Sandra Kaye Dodge, was maid of honor and wore a forest-green velvet sleeveless sheath dress with a matching bow headpiece and long white gloves. She carried a crescent bouquet of yellow mums.

Dressed like the maid of honor were bridesmaids Mrs.

Arnold Thorpe, of Plymouth, another sister, and Melanie Vogt, of Coronado, Calif.

DENNIS MURPHY, of South Bend, Ind., was best man, and the guests were seated by Stephen Severance, of Atherton, Calif., and Paul Schubarth, of Columbus, Neb.

Mrs. Dodge chose an A-line dress of aqua blue silk worsted with iridescent jewel button trim, and bridegroom's mother wore a gold coat dress trimmed in sequins.

A luncheon reception was held in Thunderbird Inn, after which the couple left for a honeymoon at Chateau Kirk ski lodge, Aspen, Colo.

They will make their home at Coronado, where the bridegroom is with Squadron VAW-111, North Island Naval Air Station. In the Pacific action, he served aboard the Navy carriers Enterprise and Hancock.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Piwinski, of Rougemay Drive, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Janice, to John R. Eggers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Eggers, of Waterville, Minn. The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Michigan where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority. Her fiancé is a senior at Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn., and a member of Pi Sigma Omicron. The couple met while serving as Peace Corps volunteers in Uruguay. A March wedding is planned.

Suburban Concert Ballet Sets Premiere

The Suburban Concert Ballet, a new organization in Farmington and surrounding communities, will give its premiere performance at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 3, in Our Lady of Mercy High School, Eleven Mile at Middle Belt.

The short program will include a spring ballet and an original western ballet by Evelyn Kreson.

About 20 members of the ballet group will take part in the performance, assisted by several men students from the University of Detroit.

Tickets may be purchased by calling Mrs. Roland Spjeldet, 474-2290.

Karen Reynolds Wed In California

Karen Marie Reynolds and James Wayne Pierce spoke their marriage vows Saturday, Jan. 7, in the Episcopal Church of St. Matthew, San Mateo, Calif.

The bride is the daughter of Harold Reynolds, of Fontana, Calif. She was reared by her great-aunt, Mrs. Verona Pritchard, of Livonia, graduated from Bentley High School and was named Livonia Miss Siren of 1961.

Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Pierce, of Lyons, Kan., are parents of the bridegroom.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of ivory pean de soie and English net with a fitted lace bodice and natural waistline. A Watteau train fell from her shoulders, and her floor-length veil was secured by an heirloom seed pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book.

Her only attendant, Ruth Ann Weaver, wore a pink floor-length dress with sequin and seed pearl trim and carried three long-stemmed red roses.

ERNEST W. PIERCE was best man for his brother. The ushers were Richard Berg, of Berkeley, Calif., and David Reynolds, of Fontana, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Pritchard wore a lavender and silver brocade gown, and Mrs. Pierce's gown was burnt orange pean de soie.

After a reception in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, San Mateo, the couple left for a Las Vegas honeymoon. They will live in San Mateo.

SANDRA LA PYRNE

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony La Pyrne, of Frederick Drive, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra, to Jack S. Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Werner, of Country Club Drive, Livonia. Both are graduates of Franklin High School. The bride-elect attended Schoolcraft Community College, where she was affiliated with Kappa Gamma Phi sorority, and now is employed by Manufacturers National Bank. Her fiancé is a student at Schoolcraft College. The couple plans to marry Sept. 7.

Like any high school teacher, Mrs. Colombe Haukkala wants to turn her students into the best possible citizens.

She thinks she has a better-than-most opportunity to do this in her journalism classes at Garden City High School—and she's devised ways to make the most of it.

Mrs. Haukkala teaches four beginning journalism classes the rudiments of newspaper writing -- but along with that the ability to think, to criticize, to question, to gain understanding.

At the end of Journalism I, the students apply for posts on the Garden City "Panther's Tale," and those selected are in the Journalism II class that publishes the school paper.

ON THE WAY, they've done a lot more than learn to write about a football game or school election.

They have, for one thing, interviewed a number of interesting people Mrs. Haukkala invites into the class.

Among the recent visitors have been an FBI agent who lives in Garden City, the local chief of police, and a priest.

"I want them, through questioning these people, to learn more of their community," Mrs. Haukkala said.

"It's knowledge like this, along with the ability to find out the things they need to know, that makes good citizens of the community."

"I FIGURE a very small percentage of those students will actually go into newspaper work. But all of them will be citizens, and I want them to be aware, interested citizens."

Another journalism project is to bring many newspapers into the class to be read with a critical eye.

"I want these students to see the difference in the way the same story can be written, and to see how different public officials react to situations."

Colombe Haukkala is proud of her student editors and their newspaper -- especially the prize won last year. It was awarded by the National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for reporting of the TB outbreak in a Garden City nursery school.

"The students worked it out on the theme 'It Did Happen Here,' and played up the idea of preventing such an outbreak from happening again," Mrs. Haukkala said. "The staff went in a group to get TB tests, and led many other students at the high school to do the same."

MRS. HAUKKALA, a graduate of Michigan State University, worked for the "Evening Sentinel" in Holland, Mich., several summers while in college, and one summer sent back reports to the paper from a European tour she took with a group of women from Theta Sigma Phi, journalism sorority.

"That was a wonderful trip," she recalls. "We had the opportunity to meet lots of government officials and some of the most interesting people. One village in Belgium, I remember, was prepared for a delegation of newspaper people, but the officials were much surprised when they found out we were women."

MRS. HAUKKALA will leave her post at the end of this month to await the arrival of her second child.

"It's with very mixed feelings," she said. "I love the work I'm doing here, but we're looking forward to adding another member of the family and I'll have more time to spend with my little girl."

Daughter Sue Ellen is eight, and her mother says she loves to make up plays and write poems, so there still will be literary aspects to Colombe Haukkala's life.

She and her husband, Matt, former member of the Bentley High School faculty and now teacher of business subjects at Schoolcraft Community College, make their home in Livonia.

They are looking forward to adding another member to their family camping crew. In recent years they've spent a lot of summer days with Sue Ellen camping in Michigan and points farther away.

THEIR FAVORITE SPOT in this state is the Ottawa National Forest in Upper Michigan, but they've also made a grand tour of the West, camping all the way.

This is one high school teacher who has great respect for today's students.

"They are well-informed and have a lot of self-direction," she said. "I love working with them, and I'll be back."

Program Now Is 22 Years Old

The Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Program this year marks its 22nd year of operation while the American National Red Cross Program is reaching its 20th milestone.

The local civilian program was inaugurated in early 1946, a full two years before the national organization, as the result of requests from doctors, returning from military service, hospitals and public health officials and with the approval of the Wayne County Medical Association, Detroit Department of Health and hospital associations.

When the national program was started in 1948 the Southeastern Michigan Chapter (then known as the Detroit Chapter) was quick to join the nationwide service.

More than 1,450,000 pints of blood have been collected locally while over 46 million units have been donated nationally. Today, the national program is made up of 56 regional centers throughout the country.

In commenting on the program Frank R. Ellis, M.D., director of the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross Blood Center said, "Most of the blood collected, both locally and nationally, has been distributed as whole blood. However, our chapter has been in the front rank in processing blood into medically useful derivatives which have been made available to hospitals for patients not needing the bulk of whole blood but rather the components for specific usage."

Starting Nov. 24, 1941 -- days before Pearl Harbor -- the local chapter collected a total of 667,561 pints of blood for use by the armed forces during World War II prior to the discontinuance of the war-time service in May, 1945.

Women Need Education Toward Self-Realization

As the life span increases so that most women have the option of more than one career, education will have to do a better job of preparing women for self-realization, believes psychologist Gertrude Z. Gass, of the Merrill-Palmer Institute.

Speaking on "Identity: A Contemporary Problem for Women," Dr. Gass told the 300 women attending the recent University of Illinois Home Economics Centennial Symposium on "The Status of Woman" that the price of self-realization comes high for a woman. At times the burden may seem to outweigh the rewards.

But complete home involvement appears to be accompanied by intellectual impoverishment and lack of stimulus. Total withdrawal into the home and later return to work outside the home is not the answer for modern women.

DESCRIBING STUDIES at The Merrill-Palmer Institute, where she is a faculty member of the counseling and psychotherapy department, Dr. Gass presented evidence that today's women are experiencing "identity problems."

In one study, undergraduate women were asked to write an essay on what they planned to be doing and how they planned to be living in ten years.

In almost every case, the women wrote on the home and family aspects of their lives. And she noted, "The amount of personal realization bound up with their fantasied husbands was striking."

In contrast, a young man's occupational choice plays a crucial defining role in his identity. His plans for the future are "tempered by his sense of capacity and opportunity."

A GIRL'S adult identity depends heavily upon an anchorage to the future about which she cannot make clear and realistic plans. Her projected identity and romantic plans for an idyllic future often do not materialize.

Women in their middle years who were asked to talk about themselves described their husbands and children. Dr. Gass pointed out that apparently something happens to the individuality of women who reach major life goals primarily through marriage.

Studies show that a woman often holds two concepts of herself: what she is and what she could be. This dual perception became evident when women began to move outside the home for personal satisfaction.

Education will have to help women crystallize their roles earlier so they will be better equipped to face the uncertainties of the future.

Talk On Antiseptics Planned At Madonna

Madonna College welcomes one of its medical technology graduates, Lorraine Renkowski, when she returns to speak on "The Use of Antiseptics and Disinfectants in Hospitals," Wednesday, Jan. 24.

An alumna of 1951, the senior college's first graduating class, Miss Renkowski is currently pursuing a doctoral degree at the University of Michigan, in environmental health with her major interest in the field of "hospital and institutional environment."

Her course work includes administration coupled with courses in microbiology, virology, parasitology, immunology, industrial health, radiological health, biological chemistry and disinfection.

Until recently, it was felt that personnel doing hospital and institutional environment work were not adequately trained in all the areas which require their supervision.

As a hospital health environmentalist Miss Renkowski will be concerned primarily with hospital and institutional infections, their spread and control. She will study the epidemiology of such infections, suggest and recommend means by which these can be eliminated and/or reduced in numbers. Miss Renkowski can also qualify as consultant in these areas of health.

Miss Renkowski received her master's degree in public health in 1966 from the University of Michigan. Also a registered sanitarian, she met the requirements as of last spring 1967 to become one of fewer than a dozen registered lady sanitarians in this country.

Sanitarians work for state and local health departments. They are concerned with the inspection of houses, restaurants, hospitals, nursing homes, etc. to investigate the observance of public health codes.

The free lecture is scheduled from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Science Lecture Hall. The public is invited.

Champion Teen Cooks From GC Share Recipes

Two Garden City girls attending Burger Junior High School may give a few cooking tips to housewives.

Ninth-grader Pat Lambert, selected "Cookie Queen" for the second straight year recently on the basis of her tasty cookies, listed the recipes for the prize-winners, entitled "Cherry Supreme."

The Observer acquired the recipes through Robert Moseley, public relations director for the Garden City School District, after Mrs. Frank Dittmer, of 30725 Beechwood St., wrote that "the homemakers of Garden City would like the two recipes."

Pat, 14 years old, won the cookie crown, with Debra Anderson, first runner-up in the Burger Competition used the "Hello Dolly" recipe which won the first prize for Pat the previous year.

So here they are:

Cherry Supremes: In a 9-by-9 pan, melt a half stick of butter. Sprinkle one cup of graham cracker crumbs, one can of coconut, half-cup of chopped red candied cherries; half-cup of chopped candied pineapple; half-cup of chopped pecans. Then pour one can of Eagle brand milk over all of it. Bake 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Cool and cut into squares.

Hello Dolly Bars: In a 9-by-9 inch pan, put a quarter-stick of butter or margarine and add in layers, one cup of graham cracker crumbs, one cup of coconut, one cup of chocolate chips, one cup of chopped pecan nuts. Then pour one can of Eagle brand milk over all of it. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cut into bars.

Beta Sigma Phi Plans Meeting On Jewelry

Eta Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet Wednesday, Jan. 24, at the home of Mrs. Carol Rogers of Farmington, to hear a guest speaker on "Antique Jewelry."

President Mrs. Mary Balloid will give the Friendship Ritual to transferees Mrs. Gloria McKay and Mrs. Yvonne Tucker, both of Farmington, and the Pledge Ritual to Mrs. Barbara Dennick, of Livonia.

The chapter will give a desert social Feb. 7 to entertain the Xi Beta Chi chapter. About 25 women are expected and six different desserts will be served.

A representative of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. of Plymouth will show slides and paintings and tell the women the "History of Michigan." The social will be held in the home of Mrs. Marie Custer of Detroit.

Birth Film Set

The Lamaze Childbirth Preparation Association will sponsor a showing of the new film "Birthday" at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 26 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. Made in England, the film illustrates two births by the Lamaze Method of childbirth. The public is invited.

Teens--Treaters, Hoarders, Spenders

According to their money management habits, some teenagers can be grouped as treaters, hoarders, and spenders. But all of these teens indicate a lack of maturity and understanding when it comes to money, says Helen E. Bell, extension home management specialist of The Pennsylvania State University.

Treaters confuse money with personality and self-confidence. They try to buy their popularity by always buying for the crowd.

HOARDERS FEAR the loss of money and think that just possessing money will bring them happiness. They don't distinguish the difference in being secure and being financially secure. Nor do they realize that money is a tool to financial security, points out Miss Bell.

Spenders would rather spend now and think later. They buy just for buying's sake and sometimes don't want or use what they get. Spenders don't seem to want the responsibility attached to having money. They haven't learned what it means to have a goal, such as buying a car, and then plan to save for it.

WHEN IT comes to money management, young people need guidance with understanding or money may become an obsession with them, reminds Miss Bell.

It may become of more importance to them than security, love, and achievement. Or being without money may end up in both emotional and physical deprivation to them.

Registrations For Garden Forum Begin

Advance registrations for the 1968 Clara B. Ford Garden Forum at Greenfield Village on April 25-27 are now being accepted, according to James A. Fowler, director of education.

The seventh annual Garden Forum will center around a number of nationally-known experts in the horticultural field who will present illustrated talks on various aspects of the garden world, including emphasis on new plant developments.

The speakers will also take part in problem-solving clinics and tea discussions at which registrants may confront them personally.

In addition, there will be practical demonstrations of flower arranging and an early morning nature walk through the history-laden environs of Greenfield Village.

Registrations may be made by contacting the Department of Education, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Michigan, 48124.

MRS. JOSEPH OLDENBURG

Carol Kwolek Wed In Candlelight Rites

A candlelight ceremony recently united in marriage Carol Kwolek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Kwolek, of Livonia, and Joseph Oldenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Oldenburg, of Warren.

The double-ring rites took place in the First Baptist Church of Detroit, located in Southfield. Elder Charles Chupa, of Dearborn, officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a floor-length sheath gown of white satin with three quarter length sleeves appliqued with sprays of lace at the hemline and waist. A forward headpiece with point petals held her three-tier fingertip silk illusion veil, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and ivy.

PHILIP FAUCHER, of Detroit, was the best man. Ushers included James and John Sappala, of Dearborn, and Ronald Kwolek, of Chicago, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Kwolek chose a three-piece suit of ice blue silk and wool. A matching hat of ice blue ostrich feathers completed her ensemble. Her corsage was a large open red rose. Following a dinner and reception for 300 guests in the church fellowship hall, the couple left for a honeymoon in Niagara Falls and Canada. They are living in Wayne.

Secretaries To Sponsor Show

The Town and Country Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) will sponsor a "Queen of Hearts" fashion show at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 10, in Devon Gables.

Survey Pushes Cancer Research

The answer to breast cancer, leading cancer killer of American women, may be less than five years away, according to Dr. Michael J. Brennan, president of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Data released by Dr. Brennan in connection with the Foundation's annual leadership training conference held in East Lansing in October was contained in a preliminary report of a house-to-house survey conducted last April by more than 2,000 volunteers in metropolitan Detroit and surrounding communities.

"I want to congratulate the volunteers on the remarkable job they did," Dr. Brennan said. "More than 50 per cent of the questionnaires returned were complete, resulting in the accurate computing of 40,000 individual surveys involving approximately 200,000 persons."

THIS PROJECT, he said, is one of the largest surveys on the true prevalence of cancer to be made in the United States and marks a gigantic stride toward the eventual determination of possible predisposing factors or family characteristics of women prone to development of breast cancer.

When we know that certain hereditary factors, specific hormone-related conditions or particular viruses are contributing causes, Dr. Brennan said, "we will then know what measures may be taken to prevent development of the disease. We are not talking about a cure for breast cancer—but we are talking about a very real hope in prevention of this disease."

Dr. Brennan said there is no question that breast cancer does concentrate in families, and that it is a disease which anticipates itself—that is, that it develops in each ensuing generation at an earlier age in families where it concentrates. The same is true, he said, with lung cancer in cigarette-smokers. Cigarette-smokers who develop lung cancer are doing so at increasingly younger ages.

THE BASIC HOPE of this kind of survey work is to find a group of persons with a high

Youth Week Coming In Southfield Church

They'll first lock out the parents, then lock out the teens, then get them together during National Youth Week at the Southfield Community Church Jan. 28 to Feb. 3.

Dwayne Cuthbertson, family relations teacher, will lead the program, on the theme "Self Understanding," Raymond Bayne said. The church is located at 21122 Indian.

The parent lockout will take place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, with Cuthbertson speaking to the teens on the basic problems of youth, including emotions, sex and parents.

Wednesday evening, he will talk to the parents on communicating with teens, and when both groups get together Thursday evening his topic will be self-identification and discovering what each person can do.

Discussion and refreshments will follow each session. The teens, including junior high, high school and college age young people, also will have a church congregational meeting Wednesday, led by church clerk, Henry Sherrill, which will expose them to the business workings of the church.

The week will climax on Saturday night, Feb. 3 with an 8 p.m. program including games, folk singing by Dave Osborne, a film, "Angel in Ebony," and a dessert smorgasbord.

The week will be introduced by the young people participating in the Sunday services on Jan. 28; doing the ushering, reading the Scripture, leading in prayer, and furnishing special music.

At 5:30 p.m. Sunday, there will be a parent-teacher meeting at the church, in which parents of the teenagers will meet their teachers. The evening service will be followed by an "Afterglow" with the high schoolers meeting in a private home for singing and spiritual discussion.

Mt. Hope Sets Family Dinner

A family church dinner, sponsored by the Deborah Circle of Mt. Hope Congregational Church, will be given Friday, Jan. 26, at 6:30 p.m. in the fellowship room of the church, 30330 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

Following the dinner, a personal travel film about Great Britain will be shown by F. Theodore Harrington, of Birmingham, and community singing will be led by Jack Trudgeon, choir director of Mt. Hope.

Salvation Army Expands

The Men's Social Service Department of The Salvation Army is expanding its services by acquiring Detroit's Christian Enterprise, effective Jan. 23.

Colonel Ralton Genge, men's social service secretary of the 11 central states with headquarters in Chicago, made the announcement.

Operation of the augmented service will be supervised by Brigadier Cecil C. Briggs, Manager and Director of the Men's Social Service Center in Detroit.

Brigadier Briggs said this new enlarged setup in combination with the present Men's Social Service Center and the Harbor Light facilities will provide 565 beds and 1500 to 2000 hot meals per day.

IT ALSO MEANS an important expansion of The Salvation Army's social service program in this area. The social service center sends out pick-up trucks the year around for usable discards in the home. The mending and refurbishing of materials is the key to providing a sound rehabilitation program.

With the acquisition of the Christian Enterprise facilities, the Army will now have a total of 22 Red Shield stores to service the Detroit area. In addition they will have 50 trucks to improve pick-up service on the east and west sides.

The board of directors of Christian Enterprise will continue to serve, advise and augment the present Advisory Committee of the Men's Social Service Center in Detroit.

Dr. Kincheloe New Area Church Head

Dr. Robert L. Kincheloe, a churchman known nationally for his work in inter-faith matters, is the new executive director of the Metropolitan Detroit Council of churches.

His appointment was announced this week. He will take over his new duties in April, succeeding the Rev. G. Merrill Lennox.

Dr. Kincheloe presently is executive director of the Pittsburgh Council of Churches, and in that post has sought to expand the council's work in many areas.

During his administration, the Inter-Faith Housing Corp. and Project Equality were launched, and the church developed a series of seminars with business groups.

The Pittsburgh Council of Churches also established a church radio and television broadcasting system, and a six-county research and planning agency to serve the area.

Dr. Kincheloe began his ministry in Greenbelt, Md., remaining there for three years.

During World War II, he was director of evangelism and church extension for the Maryland-Delaware Council of Churches, supervising a staff of 25 clergy and religious education workers in war housing areas near Baltimore.

Before going to Pittsburgh, Dr. Kincheloe was executive secretary of the St. Joseph County Council of Churches, South Bend, Ind., for seven years.

A native of Clarksburg, W.

DR. ROBERT KINCHELOE

Va. he is a minister of the American Baptist Convention. His academic training was received at Denison University, Duke University, Colgate Rochester Divinity School and the University of Chicago.

At the annual meeting of the Association of Council Secretaries in 1962, he was elected president of this national professional organization for 1962-63. Dr. Kincheloe has contributed articles to various religious and secular publications.

Dr. and Mrs. Kincheloe have five children.

Film About Learning To Be Shown

Area residents interested in aiding the organization of the new chapter of the Michigan Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, are invited to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 26 in Madonna College Auditorium.

There will be a film presentation entitled, "Why Billy Couldn't Learn". Following the film will be an organizational meeting to elect temporary officers and form study groups.

Organizers said the group is being formed to help children who have good potential in spite of learning disorders, possible behavior disorders, or a combination of these problems.

See and Hear...

THE LIFE & TEACHINGS OF CHRIST 6:00 P.M.

A colored movie on the Life of Christ. The first of a series of 12 movies.

Begin 12-Part Film On Christ

The most detailed depiction of the life of Christ ever filmed, completed after four years in production, is to be presented in twelve episodes of 30 minutes each by the Redford Baptist Church, beginning Sunday, Jan. 28 at 6 p.m.

This "Living Christ" series was photographed in full color, Dr. Gordon H. Schroeder, pastor of Redford Baptist Church, said. Its cast includes more than 200 speaking parts. Never in the history of church teaching have people been offered the opportunity to get so complete a political, economic and religious background on the greatest story ever told.

This unique presentation of the life of Christ on Sunday evenings, will be correlated with a series of twelve messages by Dr. Schroeder, on Sunday mornings. At both the 9 and 11:15 a.m. service, Dr. Schroeder will bring a series of expository messages on the Gospel of Mark.

The pastor is urging members of the congregation to read the Gospel of Mark several times during the next three months.

February Retreat Set By Deanery

A retreat for women will be held the weekend of Feb. 16 to 18 in St. Mary's Retreat House, Oxford. The retreat, open to all local women, is sponsored by the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women of the Wayne Western deanery.

Accommodations are available for 64 women. A registration fee will hold a reservation, and a donation may be made at the close of retreat. Meals will be served at separate cost.

Bus transportation will be available, leaving from St. Theodore parish, Westland, on Friday. Departure is scheduled for 6 p.m. The bus will return on Sunday at approximately 4 p.m.

Reservations should be made immediately by contacting the retreat chairman, Mrs. Russell Bondie, at LO 3-4352 or the co-chairman, Mrs. Emil Broda, at CR 4-5667.

will be "What Christ Has Done for the World". The colored movie shown in the evening is entitled "Holy Night."

Redford Baptist Church is located at Grand River and Seven Mile Road.

Sisterhood To Hear Riot Talk

Ralph Abramowitz, of the Wayne State University social work faculty, will lead a group discussion on the recent Detroit riots at the meeting of the Temple Beth Am Sisterhood at 8:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 29, in the Cohn Building, Livonia.

The discussion will be an idea exchange on the implications of the riots and their effects on all residents of the metropolitan area.

The speaker, a member of the Temple Beth Am, is former director of "The Orchards," a half-way house for emotionally disturbed children and served on the staff of the Children's Institute of Illinois.

Plymouth Church Of Nazarene To Dedicate New Facilities

The Plymouth Church of the Nazarene, 41550 E. Ann Arbor Trail, will hold its Dedication Service Sunday, Jan. 28 at 3 p.m.

Dr. George Coulter, of Kansas City, Mo., will deliver the dedicatory sermon. He was elected a general superintendent in 1964, the denomination's highest office. Prior to that he was executive secretary of world missions. He also will be speaking in the 11 a.m. service.

ASSISTING in the dedication service will be Dr. E. W. Martin, of Howell, superintendent of the Eastern Michigan District since 1961. Before his election he pastored in Detroit. Dr. Martin will deliver the message for the 7 p.m. service.

Pastor of the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene is the Rev. Ronald D. Moss who began his pastorate here in June of 1966.

The new facilities include a sanctuary which will seat 550, church offices and rooms for Christian education, a nursery, and toddler room. The driveway and parking lot has been black-topped, having space for 160 cars. The cost of the new facilities is $230,000.

WITH RENOVATION of the former facilities, the church now may accommodate 800 in its church school. The educational facilities include 28 classrooms, choir room, 11-rary and three auditoriums. Construction began in September of 1967 by the Case Construction Company of Flint.

The plans were drawn by the Genesee Engineering Company, Flint. Fredric Fast was the interior designer consultant.

The evaluation of the facilities is $370,000. The public is invited to attend all services.

Hillside Inn Continues Expansion, Adds 2 Rooms

It all started back in 1934 when Jacob Stremich started the Hillside Inn during the height of the great depression even though his best friends advised him that he couldn't make it go.

The Inn had a capacity of around 50 at the time but that was increased to 100 within a short time as business did pick up despite the financial condition of the United States.

The past 34 years have brought tremendous changes in the Inn, changes that have boosted the dining capacity to more than 500 with the addition of one dining area after another.

Jacob Stremich died some years ago and his widow, Mrs. Margaret Stremich joined with her nephew, Robert, in the operation of the highly successful Inn.

Bob and Mrs. Stremich are partners with the former serving as general manager.

The big expansion program, which reached another level recently with the addition of an area measuring 45 by 35 feet, started in 1953 with the addition of the Fireside Lounge with a capacity of 35 and including a large bar.

Then came the Beacon Room in 1954 followed by the Country Room and an enlarged, modern kitchen in 1958.

The Jacob Room, with a capacity of 80, was an addition in 1960 followed by the expansion of the Gift Shop in 1962.

Then came the newest addition in 1967 when the Continental Room was enlarged and renamed the Walden Room with huge picture windows overlooking the nearby parkway and the unique Franklin and Tack Rooms in the 45 by 35 expansion.

The Franklin Room, a private dining room located on the third level, has a capacity of 22 and was constructed strictly for the idea of handling meetings of the numerous nearby industrial plants.

The Tack Room, another small private room, is limited to 10 diners and is geared for small conferences.

Has the Hillside Inn been successful? The answer to that comes from Britt Crowther, head chef for the past 23 years, who is proud of the fact that business is 15 times greater than in 1947.

The Inn has a payroll of more than 70 employees, the majority of whom are fulltime and a few on the part-time list.

Denny Haver Tells How It's Done

The world's greatest trout hatchery and her most fabulous game farm are completely unfenced, not posted and open to the public, according to Denny Haver who brings the newest Wally Taber Safari Show to Plymouth High's gym Tuesday, Feb. 13 under auspices of the Plymouth Jaycees.

"We threw back brook trout tipping the scales at 9 pounds and lake trout on the hefty side of 40 pounds," Haver professed in pinpointing huge Lake Nipigon and Great Bear Lake as the world's greatest trout hatcheries.

"And, if there is a greater game farm in North America than the Talkeetna Mountain range of southern Alaska," Haver promised, "it has yet to be discovered."

"We used horses, a rarity in Alaska, to pack into the Talkeetnas," Haver said, "and were amazed to see moose as big as our horses, and some far tamer! Caribou we saw by the gross and, while nowhere abundant, we also found white mountain sheep and grizzly bear sufficient to make this the greatest unposted open hunting territory in North America."

In the same double-feature color-film program, Haver takes his audience into Canada's Northwest Territory after moose and nearly lost his life in the doing.

"Our plane ran out of lift and the mountains suddenly grew taller in one memorable moment," Haver recalled.

"That the plane was completely demolished yet four of us miraculously walked away lends meaning to the oft' heard phrase, 'just not our time.'"

"In all my years of Canadian big-game guiding and big-fish finding," Haver reminisced, "I have never found anything to compare with the waters and woodlands we offer in this pair of living-color-films. The areas covered are living legends among the handfuls of sportsmen who have ventured that far afield, their surfaces are but barely scratched and their futures far more glamorous than their past," Haver pointed out in inviting sportsmen to come and bring their families to see his favorite fish hatchery and game farm.

Teachers Ready Pact For April 1 Opening

By RALPH R. REED

Preparation for a new contract negotiating session with the Livonia Board of Education is underway by the Livonia Education Association, bargaining agent for the system's approximate 1,600 school teachers. The demands will be presented to the board on April 1, 90 days before expiration of the present contract, signed two years ago with salary adjustment supplements added last fall. Just what the list will contain hasn't been revealed beyond the threat, months ago, that the shortcomings in the present master contract would have to be corrected, regardless of cost, in a new agreement.

THE NEGOTIATORS have indicated that a one-year contract will be asked for the 1968-69 school year, "because of changing times and conditions." The expiring two-year contract, with built-in improvements for the second year, brought criticism from the teachers.

Salary supplements, granted by the board after months of bargaining, and approved by the teachers, were well below the LEA's demands, but well above the board's anticipated budget, and income, for the present year.

Roger D. Stephon, executive secretary of LEA said that the Detroit school contract, signed after a strike by teachers, would have a bearing on the Livonia negotiations. While Livonia teachers start at $6,000, Detroit won raises to $6,650 this year and $7,500 next.

While picket lines produced adjustments all along the line for Detroit's teaching staff, and corresponding raises for other staff members, Livonia teachers lived up to their contract while differences were being settled by their representatives and negotiators for the board. THAT THE FINAL results were far from expectations was voiced by Kenneth B. McClain, president of LEA, and Stephon, who emphasized that "Livonia stands last in the field of 20 systems in this area in the matter of salaries. We were 19th until Birmingham signed." Stephon said that the LEA committees are drawing up the program for presentation to the directors and members, who will have the final word on what to demand before signing a new contract. "It takes a long time to pull together the document as comprehensive as this must be," Stephon said, explaining why the work has been underway for weeks, and will require more weeks to complete. MEANTIME, aware that the LEA demands will be costly, the Board of Education is worried over how to make ends meet this year. The added salary for teachers, plus adjustments for the hundreds of staff members, exceeded the extra mill added to increase tax revenue. The board is keeping a close watch on expenditures, with monthly reviews of the budget to try to keep it in balance. Where money is coming from next year to meet needs is an added worry. The present budget exceeds $21,500,000, with almost 90 per cent of it in payroll and personnel expenses.

Children's Comedy Opens Saturday

The Court Players will come to Livonia Saturday to present the children's play "Please Don't Sneeze." Performances are scheduled for 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. in the auditorium of Franklin High School on Joy Rd., just east of Merriam Rd.

The local production is sponsored by the Livonia Entertainment Guild and the Livonia Public Library. Tickets are priced at 35 cents for children and 50 cents for adults and may be purchased at both branches of the Livonia Library or by contacting Mrs. Christopher Sieh at 425-7489.

"PLEASE DON'T SNEEZE" is a play with music written by the Canadian actor and playwright Chris Wiggins. The play tells the story of Baron Blunderbuss, whose castle is invaded by the conniving, scheming Hortense Anthropy. Miss Anthropy who, in typical villain fashion, proceeds to boss the servants and make a great nuisance of herself while trying to catch the Baron in her snare.

More than seven tons of nickel, it is estimated, are contained in each cubic mile of sea water. Efforts are now being made to recover the versatile metal economically.

She has one blind spot though. She can't stand germs.

The servants fashion a merry plot, convincing the Baron that he is desperately ill and finally chase Hortense off the premises in the finale.

Songs, dances, mix-ups, a pair of crazy doctors, and a cuckoo clock that can't tell time all add up to the hour of charm and fun.

Formation of the Schoolcraft College Winter 1968 Evening Choir has been announced by Wayne Dunlap, chairman of the Humanities Division.

The choir, under the direction of Keith Sturdevant, will be composed of 35 voices selected through individual auditions.

Sturdevant, who is supervisor of vocal music and director of high school and college choirs in Highland Park, said the choir will rehearse on a regular schedule starting this month from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays at the college.

Persons interested in joining the choir may make an audition appointment by calling the Schoolcraft Music Dept., at 591-6400, ext 317, during the day.

Symphony Features Art

Painting and photography will join music when the Plymouth Symphony presents its annual "family concert" this Sunday, Jan. 28, at 4 p.m. in Plymouth High School.

High school art teacher Mrs. Jessie Hudson said her beginning and advanced art students have been painting to tapes of the music that will be on Sunday's program--Moussorgsky's "Pictures from an Exhibition" and Gunther Schuler's "Studies on Themes of Paul Klee."

The students' paintings will be on display at the concert. In the symphony program, according to Conductor Wayne Dunlap, will be reproductions of the original paintings which the composers set to music.

These include two Klee paintings and three of the Hartmann paintings which inspired Moussorgsky--"Ballet of the Unhatched Chicks," "Hut on Fowl's Legs" and "Great Gate of Kiev."

Thus, the artistry will run full circle--painters' impressions of musical impressions of other paintings.

Eyes Control Machines

A revolutionary electronic device may someday enable paralyzed persons to propel their wheelchairs with the simple movement of their eyes.

Richard L. Leshner, assistant administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, described the highly specialized device to a House Small Business subcommittee.

He explained NASA commissioned research on a switch operated by eye movements because it felt artificial gravity produced by the take off and re-entry of space ships might prevent an astronaut from using his hands or feet to operate controls.

This didn't prove to be the case, Leshner said, so NASA didn't pursue the idea. But the agency invited the medical profession and industry to explore the device's possibilities.

A prototype of a motorized, eye-controlled wheelchair has been produced by Hayes International Corp. of Huntsville, Ala., which worked on the NASA research project, Leshner reported. The chair can be made to stop, back up and turn by use of the eye-controlled switch and relays.

The process is based on the differing reflective qualities of light beamed on the eyeball. The reflection is picked up by a light-sensitive element.

Year-Around School Idea Snags Are Seen

A Michigan legislative committee has been advised that if it wants to see schools utilized year-around, it should provide incentive grants to select school districts across the state.

This idea popped up in a recent hearing before legislative appropriations committee members. Talking to the lawmakers were school administrators.

THE IDEA of the year-around school has been advanced locally by James O'Neil, of Livonia, a member of the State Board of Education.

But Nick A. Ianni, representing the Michigan Association of School Administrators, said "we are not certain that the extended school year will bring any magic increase in efficiency"—which O'Neil has contended.

Ianni said year-around schooling may, indeed, cost more money.

ONE PARADOX was pointed out by Julius Barbour, of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

He referred to a survey conducted in one large Michigan community a few years ago on the issue of the extended school year. Barbour said on one question, about 90 per cent of the people replied that they thought schools should be open during the summer.

But he added that on another question about the same percentage of people said they did not want their children to go to school during the summer.

OTHER SCHOOL officials insisted that an extended school year would result in pay increase demands from teachers and thus would not necessarily result in savings.

Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell, however, pressed the school officials and said they should take serious efforts to determine if longer use of buildings would increase enrollment capacities and if the present 180 day school year is a wasteful use of both teachers and building facilities.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said if teachers "want to have equal standing with other professions on an annual salary basis then they should not object to a 12-month year."

A NUMBER of extended school plans have been drafted by educators over the years, most of them based on the idea that teachers would work 11 to 12 months while students would attend about nine or 10 months and rotate their vacations.

Barbour pointed out that a number of Michigan school districts already have successful voluntary summer school programs in operation on a large scale.

Taiwan Doctor Answers Plea

Darrington, Wash., is finally going to get a doctor.

Charles Pittson Jr., who headed the doctor drive, says Dr. Patrick Wu of Taipei, Taiwan, has been given permission by the U.S. Department of Immigration to enter this country when a visa is available.

Darrington, located in the foothills of the Cascade Mountains, has been looking for a doctor since May when its only active physician moved. There are about 3,500 residents in the area.

U-M Neurologist Hopes To Unlock Multiple Sclerosis Secret

ANN ARBOR -- A unique manufacturing process is taking place in the brains of persons afflicted with crippling multiple sclerosis.

Armed with the largest single grant ever given by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society to an individual researcher, a University of Michigan neurologist intends to unlock the secret of this "unseen production."

Dr. Wallace W. Tourtellotte, professor of neurology in the U-M Medical School, hopes to find evidence in his laboratory that the manufacture of gamma globulin is linked to the cause of MS.

In previous research, he has detected excess amounts of the blood plasma fraction in the brains of MS victims.

ACCORDING to the Michigan chapter office of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Detroit, Dr. Tourtellotte's three-year grant totaling $97,591 is the largest award given to a single scientist by the society. The first year's support of $37,155 will enable him to continue his research during 1980.

A bequest from the estate of a Detroit attorney, the late Albert H. Lindley, will provide a major portion of the grant. Lindley, once president of the Michigan chapter, was involved in its operations for many years.

Although multiple sclerosis strikes about 500,000 Americans between the ages of 20 and 40 every year, its exact cause has eluded scientists. The disease is marked by the growth of scars, or plaques, which destroy the brain's myelin, a fatlike substance. Its victims suffer paralysis or loss of sensation and coordination, and may lose the functions of movement, sight, and speech. MS leads to death over a long period of time.

The U-M doctor previously discovered that MS victims had increased concentrations of gamma globulin in their brains. With research associate Julius A. Parker, Dr. Tourtellotte tapped cerebrospinal fluid, which surrounds the brain and spinal cord, from patients who had died from MS and from control persons.

THE INVESTIGATORS compared the brain and spinal cord of the MS victims with those of the control group. They learned that nearly three times as much gamma globulin was present in the plaque and in the white matter of the brains of MS patients as in the controls.

Through further studies, the researchers ruled out the possibility that the blood supply could be the source of the increased brain gamma globulin. The level of albumin (a protein molecule found in the blood) was determined to be the same in both the plaque and the blood.

The other explanation for the high level of gamma globulin in the diseased brain is that synthesis takes place in the brain tissues. The task now is to determine just where and how.

"We believe a positive correlation exists between the brain gamma globulin concentration and the cerebrospinal fluid," says Dr. Tourtellotte. "If the globulin is elevated in the cerebrospinal fluid, it is also elevated in the brain, since the increased globulin in the brain diffuses into the cerebrospinal fluid."

"Therefore, by attacking the synthetic sites of the gamma globulin in the brain, we should succeed in lowering the concentrations in the patient's cerebrospinal fluid."

THE NEUROLOGIST plans to test his hypothesis that gamma globulin is produced at the periphery of the plaque by attempting to inactivate the cells through radiation.

"We should be able to counteract the production of the substance by X-irradiation of the brain"

Dr. Tourtellotte says he also may design studies to determine the effects of X-irradiation on other parts of the nervous system.

Sauces Lend Variety

By JOYCE TOTTEN

There are many fine bottled and canned sauces to use with meats. These may be used as purchased or added as seasoning to homemade sauces. Canned soups may be used as sauces or as the basis for sauces to which other seasonings are added.

Sauces may be hot or cold, thick or thin, multi-flavored or with a single flavor such as onion or mushroom.

HOT SAUCES. A basic hot sauce is a white sauce of two tablespoons butter or margarine, and two tablespoons flour to one cup milk. This may be varied by using different liquids, as tomato juice, fruit juices, meat broth, or wine.

Flavors chosen for the sauce should complement but not dominate the meat flavor. Tart and spicy flavors go with beef and lamb. Sweet and sweet-sour flavors go with ham and fresh pork. Curry is a good flavor with veal and poultry. Onion and garlic may be used as a subtle undertone to most hot meat sauces.

Barbecue sauces are tart and spicy. Use during the cooking of the meat or serve with the meat.

SEASONINGS. The excellence of a sauce depends on its combination of flavors. Herbs, bottled sauces, wines, mustard, horseradish, onion, garlic, curry, chili, and other pungent flavors should be used with reserve to give undertone to the sauce. Dried flakes of onion, celery, mint, parsley, and mushrooms, as well as flavor extracts and powdered or ground seasonings, add to the variety of flavors possible.

CHILLED WHIPPED CREAM HORSE RADISH SAUCE
(Serve with hot or cold baked ham, or cold sliced beef.)

- 1 c. whipping cream
- 2 T. grated horseradish, drained
- 1/8 t. salt
- 1 t. lemon juice

Whip the cream. Stir in remaining ingredients. Chill 1/2 hour. Variation: Add 1/4 t. curry powder, 1/2 t. prepared mustard, or 1 T. chopped chives.

WHITE WINE BARBECUE SAUCE (COLD)
(Excellent with chicken or veal. Cover the meat with this sauce. Keep in the refrigerator 3 to 4 hours before broiling.)

- Yield: 3 cups
- 1 c. white wine (Sauterne)
 - 1/2 c. lemon juice
 - 1 c. salad oil
 - 1 T. sugar
 - 1 T. salt
 - 1/8 t. thyme or marjoram
 - 1/8 t. curry powder
 - 1 c. finely chopped onion
 - 2 cloves garlic, mashed
 - Few drops Tabasco sauce
 - 1 T. paprika

Combine all ingredients. Stir to blend. Keep in covered jar in refrigerator 4 or 5 hours to blend the flavors. Soak the broilers or steaks in this sauce and use the sauce to brush over the steaks during the slow broiling.

MUSHROOM SAUCE (HOT)

- Yield: 2 cups
Cooking Time: 20 minutes
- 1/4 c. butter or margarine
 - 1 c. sliced mushrooms
 - 1/4 c. flour
 - 2 c. bouillon
 - 1/2 t. salt
 - Pepper

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in skillet. Fry mushrooms until tender and brown. Lift from skillet. Melt remaining butter. Stir in flour. Brown thoroughly. Add bouillon slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until thick and smooth. Add mushrooms and seasonings. Simmer 5 to 10 minutes. Serve hot.

ONION SAUCE (HOT)
(Very good with "boiled" beef brisket.)

- Yield: 1 cup
Cooking Time: 10 minutes
- 2 T. sugar
 - 1 T. fat
 - 2 onions, sliced
 - 1 T. flour
 - 1 c. beef bouillon
 - 1 t. vinegar
 - 1 t. salt
 - 1 t. paprika

Stir and cook the sugar in the fat in a skillet until lightly browned. Add the onions and stir and cook until the onions are a light brown. Stir in the flour. Then slowly stir in the bouillon, vinegar, salt and paprika. Cook until smooth. Serve hot.

Study Shows Effects Of Adolescent Decisions

ANN ARBOR--Adolescence is a time when many changes appear in an individual and decisions are made which have life-long effects.

The ways these changes and decisions are influenced by the social environment--especially in school and at work--is the subject of a long-range study by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. The study involves approximately 2,500 boys clustered in some 100 schools across the country.

DATA WAS collected from the boys--then in the 10th grade--in fall 1966 in the form of personal interviews, performance and ability tests, and questionnaires on attitudes and values.

Data will be collected again in spring 1968 and fall 1969, completing a three-year period during which most of the boys will graduate from high school and enter the labor force or go on to higher education.

The study is being documented in a comprehensive series of publications titled "Youth in Transition." Volume I, subtitled "Blueprint for a Longitudinal Study of Adolescent Boys," describes the large and complex research plan and the first two years of the six-year study.

The report observes: "It is an assumption of educators, leaders in industry and government, and perhaps the adult population at large, that school and work environments--or the absence of either--differ drastically in their implications for adolescent boys."

"Yet," the report continues, "it can reasonably be asked to what extent observed differences in behavior between boys in school, at work, or unemployed reflect their different environments, and to what extent the choice of environment (such as dropping out of school or failing to seek work actively) is itself a reflection of already established differences in backgrounds, attitudes, and motives."

In the process the doctor bit him on the arm. Medical treatment--administered by a doctor who was not a director--was paid for under a health insurance policy.

The reaction of an Illinois artist when her original painting of a golf scene was damaged during its return from an exhibit was epitomized by the painting's title: "Teed Off." The insurance company paid $200 for repairs.

Then there was the man named Bullington injured by a cow in a stock pen, the auto accident involving drivers Hunt and Peck and the man named Sick who was when cows chewed his convertible car topless.

IN SEEKING to answer such questions the ISR researchers are being supported financially by the Office of Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Some differences in the ISR study from previous such projects are that, in the authors' words, "our study concentrates on the measurement of change, emphasizes dimensions of mental health and values, deals with work environments as alternatives to school, and relies heavily on data collected from structured interviews."

Insurance Adjusters Pay Bizarre Claims

A missing house, a hawk-like dove, and a lubricated cellar contributed to the potpourri of bizarre insurance claims that enlivened 1967 for claim specialists.

The "Case of the Disappearing Domicile" developed when an Atlanta area man returned from a trip to find an unoccupied house he owned, gone. The mystery, which gained national attention, was partly solved when the five-room, frame house was found 40 miles away. But there's confusion over why a house mover took it there and the case is still under investigation.

THINGS SEEMED peaceful enough to a Poulney, Vt., motorist one day in November, especially when he noticed a dove flying nearby. Too nearby. The bird buzzed the car, breaking the radio aerial. Commented the insurance representative who paid the $11 claim: "With doves like this who needs hawks?"

As an oil delivery man dutifully pumped 60 gallons of fuel through outside pipes into what he thought was the basement storage tank of a Denver home, he was stopped by the owner's horrified screams. The oil man didn't realize the heating system had been converted to electricity and the tank removed.

Meanwhile, back at Atlanta, 1967 was proving to be a strange year for homeowners. Another claim was filed for a vanishing house by a woman who said a wrecking firm tore down her home when it wasn't supposed to. She was right. The wreckers had picked the wrong house.

Consumer Survey Opened

ANN ARBOR--Interviewers from the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan are ringing doorbells in their 23rd annual Survey of Consumers.

Selected addresses in 76 communities in 30 states have been chosen as part of a national sample to be contacted between now and March 4.

THE SURVEY ASKS consumers to express their views about present business and economic conditions, and also encourages them to say what they think about possible future trends. Families will be asked about spending and saving habits and about their views on family financial management.

Many of the families interviewed in 1967 are being interviewed again to see if changes have occurred in either their opinions or their financial situations.

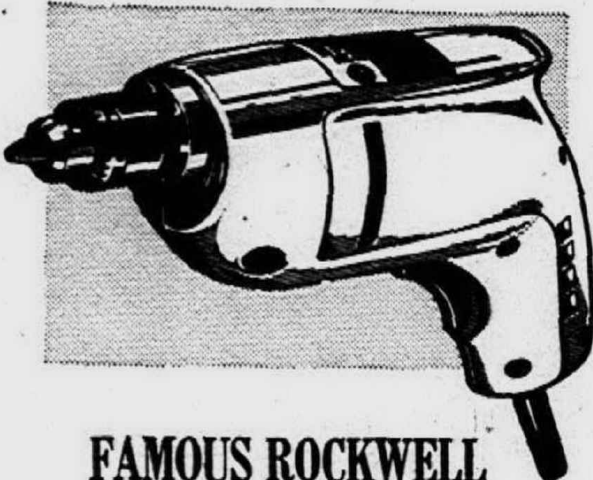

Information obtained from individuals is never made public. Each interview, however, becomes part of the broader national cross-section of opinion about economic matters of importance to each American family.

Data collected in this annual Survey of Consumers will be analyzed by University of Michigan economists George Katona, James Morgan, and Frank Stafford.

Their analyses are used by business leaders, government agencies, students, and educators in evaluation of U.S. economic trends.

The Survey Research Center, a division of U-M's Institute for Social Research, maintains a staff of professionally trained interviewers in local areas to conduct the questioning in several national surveys each year.

Income Tax Filing Made Easy

Here Are Tips To Save Money

(This is another in a series prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants on money-saving tips and errors to avoid in preparation of the 1967 Federal Individual Income Tax Return.)

Here's a quick rundown on possible exclusions you can claim on your 1040 Federal Individual Tax Return in addition to the deductions discussed in previous articles:

SICK PAY during absences from work due to illness or injury. If your employer continued to pay you 75 per cent or less of your weekly salary, you can exclude or deduct from your total income for the year up to $75 of each payment during the first 30 days of absence provided you were hospitalized for at least one day. If you weren't hospitalized, the exclusion starts with the second week's payment.

Payments amounting to more than 75 per cent of your weekly salary are not eligible for exclusion during the first 30 days. Payments during absences lasting longer than 30 days are deductible up to $100 a week after the first 30 days regardless of whether the 75 per cent or less rule is met.

Let's say you were absent from work for 35 consecutive days in 1967 and your employer paid your full salary of $150 a week. You can't exclude anything for the first 30 days. For the remaining five days assuming they are work days you can, however, exclude $100 from your income for the year.

In the event your employer paid you only $100 a week during your absence and you were hospitalized, you can exclude $400 (four weeks at $75 a week since the payments were less than 75 per cent of your salary $150 plus $100 for the fifth and final week). If you were not hospitalized, the deduction would be $325.

EXCESS F.I.C.A. TAX in the event you worked for two or more employers during 1967. If more than $290.40 of social security (F.I.C.A.) employee tax was withheld from your pay, the excess should be credited against your income tax and entered on line 19, Page 1. If you are filing a joint return do not add the social security tax withheld from your wife's salary to your own to determine an excess over $290.40.

DIVIDENDS--You can deduct up to $100 received as dividends on stocks owned in most domestic companies and corporations. If you file a joint return, you and your wife can each deduct up to $100 (a total of $200) but neither of you can use any portion of the deduction not used by the other. If you received $180 in dividends and your wife $60, you can deduct only $160, for example.

CAPITAL GAINS are fully taxed as ordinary income when they are short-term gains. Long-term gains, however, are taxed at only 50 per cent. To qualify, stocks or other assets must be held or owned by you for more than six calendar months before sale. Don't count the day on which you purchased the stock but include the day on which it was sold in determining whether you held it for six months.

Stocks bought on April 30, 1967 and sold on Oct. 31, for example, do not qualify for long-term capital gain treatment since they were not held for six calendar months. If the selling date was Nov. 1, however, profits can be treated as long-term capital gains.

INTEREST on state and municipal bonds is tax exempt so do not include it in your return. You must, however, report interest on bank accounts, deposits with savings and loan associations, credit unions, etc.

If you own United States savings or war bonds, the increase in value each year is considered taxable interest if you so elect. If in 1967 you cashed bonds on which no election was made to report interest in previous years, the increase above the purchase price should be reported as interest income on your return.

Remember that if you were married on or before Dec. 31, the Internal Revenue Service says you were married for the entire year, and are entitled to file a joint return. On the other hand, if you were divorced or legally separated on or before Dec. 31, you are considered single for the entire year and cannot file a joint return.

A child born on or before Dec. 31 entitles you to a full $600 dependency deduction. Enlisted men in the Armed Forces can exclude pay received while serving in a combat zone (South Vietnam) or while hospitalized as a result of such service. Officers can exclude up to $200 of their monthly pay under like circumstances.

CPAS WHO PREPARE countless returns each year say that there are a few common-sense rules which should be followed in preparing even the simplest return. Chief among them are:

1. Check and double-check your arithmetic at each step. A small error at the start can snowball as you work your way through the return and result in a costly overpayment.
2. Attach W-2 forms. This report from your employer on your earnings and withholding must be filed with your return.
3. Fill out and attach all necessary schedules to explain additional income, expenses, deductions, etc. Put your name, address and social security number on each schedule, as well as on your return.
4. Be sure to sign your return. In the event it's a joint return, your wife must also sign.
5. File early. This makes sense for several reasons. It will allow you to work on your return at your leisure and can help prevent costly, last-minute mistakes. It will also give you time to consult your local tax office, a CPA or other qualified expert about any questions which may arise.

AREA RESIDENTS (from left) Mark Ranstadler, 18524 Shadyside, Livonia, Diane Pawlak, 13011 Nathalie, Redford Township, and William Richardson, 16811 Beech-Daly, Redford Township, were three of the many attending the Wayne State University School of Business Administration Orientation held previous to the new academic quarter at Wayne State. Purpose of the orientation was to acquaint students new to the School of Business Administration with the structure, courses, faculty and other information on the School pertinent to the student's academic life.

Commercial Fishermen Worried

IN SPITE of the relaxing atmosphere involved in sport fishing, a good part of the 55,000 members of the National Maritime Union take fishing quite seriously.

They are the commercial fishers who provide the tons of fish needed for food and a variety of other uses.

Fish is not only an excellent, and inexpensive food source, but we use fish for drugs such as insulin, enzymes and hormones, and in such diverse products as artificial pearls, wine and fertilizer.

Chemists have even developed an "egg white" from fish albumen--one pound of this substance is equal in food value to 150 eggs.

THERE ARE about 160 different kinds of fish and shellfish taken commercially, but only 10 account for 75 per cent of the catch. These are menhaden, tuna, shrimp, herring, salmon, crabs, ocean perch, flounders, whiting and haddock. Sardines (pilchard), oysters and cod are also vital.

The commercial fishermen in the United States take over half their catch with purse seines--nets which may be 1,500 feet long and 150 feet deep.

The bottom of the net is closed by ropes, then portions of the net are taken aboard the vessel until the fish are confined to a small area. The fish are then scooped out with a power-operated dip net or brail.

MOST MODERN fishing vessels locate schools of fish with an electronic device called the echo sounder.

A school shows its shadow on a screen and is recorded on a moving roll of paper with a stylus--when the ship is over the school, the crew lowers the net and another catch bites the dust.

In spite of this space age fish hook, there's something fishy about a certain "Red Shapper's" progress. The United States commercial fleet has dropped to fifth place in the world production of fishery products while the Soviets and Red China are sailing past the U.S. in fishery increase.

This is a real problem that can have world consequences--for fish is an inexpensive source to feed the world's hungry who look to any nation who can sustain them.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, says part of the problem began after World War II when United States fishermen had to compete with fishermen from nations all over the world.

A June wedding is planned.

In A Hurry

Clarenceville Senior Heads For 'Down Under'

Judy Bass was dispensing donuts and coffee at a local shop one Monday evening, when her entire family and a few other people walked in the front door. She was surprised, but thought they'd simply decided to drop in and see the place where she was working.

"What are you doing here?" she asked.

"Can't you guess?" her mother replied.

And that was how Judy found out that she had nine days to finish her school work for the year and make all the preparations for a year in New Zealand as an American Field Service foreign exchange student.

She left for Los Angeles last week and will arrive in Invercargill, on New Zealand's southern island, about Feb. 9.

A flurry of telegrams to the AFS central office in New York, several shots and arrangements for an emergency passport were wedged into the nine days, along with a few final exams and some hurried shopping and packing.

"We finally decided that we would just do the best we could to get my things together, and my mother will mail everything else," Judy said.

She will be Clarenceville High's first ambassador to the lands "down under" and the first student from that school to take part in one of the AFS full-year programs. Other students have spent summers in foreign nations as exchange students, but Judy won't be back until next January.

She would have been happy to go anywhere the AFS officials decided to send her, but the choice of New Zealand was a wonderful coincidence. Judy had first become interested in the AFS exchange program about four years ago when a girl from New Zealand spent a year at Clarenceville living with Judy's neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Omar Mette. Mrs. Mette is now president of the AFS Clarenceville chapter.

In fact, the Mettes recently received a letter from the girl who had lived with them to say that she was getting married this summer.

"We really hope that Judy will be able to go to the wedding," Mrs. Mette said.

Most of her year in New Zealand will be spent in an all-girls school, where instead of 9 months of school with a summer vacation, the year is divided into three terms with short vacations in between. Judy will be living with a family of four. One of the two daughters, Elizabeth is 17, and has many of the same interests as Judy—including swimming and sewing.

Before she left Clarenceville, she was a swim team member, senior class secretary and an honor society officer.

The worst part of just picking up and leaving in the middle of her senior year, Judy said, is that she will miss her friends and all of the excitement of graduation.

But she didn't let that thought slow her departure. After all, it's already summer in New Zealand.

Women Offered Course In Offset

Women who do not enroll in the Ferris offset printing program will probably continue to think of "makeup" as something they do to their faces rather than to a newspaper page.

However, those girls who marry talkative printers—and those who enroll in college programs like that at Ferris State College—will learn new meanings for "make-up" and other words.

The 12-month Offset Newspaper Technician Program at Ferris will start its first class in March. It is an outgrowth of post-war trends in the printing world which was once occupied almost exclusively by males.

It is the change from the traditional letterpress printing process to offset that is opening up more printshop positions for women and which led to launching the offset program at Ferris.

Ferris, also is continuing its two-year printing program which was launched in 1949 and which now has an enrollment of more than 100 students—all male.

In the conventional letterpress work, type is set in metal units with letters raised above the surrounding material.

Offset, on the other hand, requires no metal type. All that is needed is a black image (such as a typewritten word or words) which can be photographed. Typewriter-like machines with sophisticated spacing capabilities are used to prepare the material for offset printing. It is often referred to as "cold type."

In assembling a page (making it up), the offset printer works with scissors and paste and paper rather than with metal type. The pasted-up page is photographed and the image transferred to a thin metal plate weighing only a few ounces.

That thin, flexible plate is put on the press and inked. The image is transferred first to a rubber roller or "blanket." The paper is then pressed against the blanket to receive the impression.

The number of publications using offset is increasing and more than 130 Michigan newspapers including The Observer, have converted to it.

THE PLYMOUTH TEEN CLUB has finally found a home. This building at 190 Hardenburg will be entirely refinished inside by members of the club and their Plymouth Jaycee sponsors to be used as a teen center. Plans are to begin work immediately on painting, paneling, re-wiring and re-plumbing. Some of the smaller rooms will be opened into large areas. A Jaycee spokesman estimated that the club will put between $5,000 and $6,000 into the building in the next month.

WANT AD POPULARITY IS SKY HIGH!

103,621 INDIVIDUAL ADS

WERE PUBLISHED IN THE OBSERVER WANT AD PAGES IN 1967

We just have to brag about it a little, because if we didn't you might never know how helpful Want Ads can be. They must be helpful, or there wouldn't be so many thousands of them published each year.

It's a fact that Want Ads are the only kind of advertising successfully used by both business people and private individuals. The Want Ad pages are like a big department store, offering a wide variety of goods and services. That is why they have such high readership, and it is because of the readership that people who advertise get such great results.

If you are one of the few people who has never used a Want Ad, you most surely will have occasion to use one soon. You can advertise to convert something you no longer need into cash by selling it quickly, or you may advertise to locate a hard-to-find item you need, or you may even use an ad to hire an employee or rent a vacant property. There are hundreds of ways to profit from Want Ads.

To place your ad, just dial the Observer Want Ad number, GA 2-0900 or 453-5500. A friendly, helpful Ad-Visor will assist you in wording your ad.

ANOTHER "BETTER IDEA" — Ralph Thompson, a Ford Motor Company packaging engineer, in the Plymouth Township plant, shows his idea that won first place at the Society of Packaging and Handling Engineers annual conference. He suggested packing air conditioner parts vertically, using polystyrene dividers, instead of horizontally with corrugated cardboard dividers. This new packaging method allows 33 per cent more parts per carton. He received a $50 U. S. Savings Bond and a desk set from the society. Thompson works at Ford's Sheldon Road Heater and Conditioner Plant, one of eight plants operated by the company's General Parts Division.

We Won't Run Out Of Things To Buy

Our affluent society is "adaptive" and won't necessarily become a saturated society in which people run out of things they wish to buy, a University of Michigan economist maintains.

Prof. George Katona, director of national consumer attitude surveys for the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, spoke last week at the American Economic Association meeting.

He said critics are wrong in predicting that prosperity must be its own gravedigger because saturation will lead to collapse of the consumer economy.

Katona, author of such books as "The Powerful Consumer" and "The Mass Consumption Society," noted that most American families have income sufficient to cover more than basic needs, and said this makes it essential that the study of consumer psychology become a part of economic analysis.

AN "ADAPTIVE" THEORY of consumer behavior, he explained, considers changes in tastes, attitudes, and expectations. Wants are not static; levels of aspiration are raised with success and lowered with failure, he said.

Consumers' discretionary expenditures depend upon both (1) ability to buy and (2) willingness to buy, Katona emphasized.

In tests, families were divided by income trends.

Those with income gains and expected income increases, and especially those who say they are better off than in the past and expect to be better off in the future, are shown to have been the largest purchasers of durable goods, especially on the installment plan.

The economist added that optimistic expectations depend not only on age and income, but also on the extent of past progress.

THIS CONCLUSION is contrasted with the analysis by John Kenneth Galbraith in his 1967 book, "The New Industrial State," according to which affluence makes management or control of consumers by large industry possible.

The thesis of Galbraith that the consumer is or can be controlled by mature corporations, because consumer wants are contrived by the producers, appears to conflict with actual findings, Katona said.

The process of such influence, Katona insisted, is not one-directional. Consumers, he said, exert an influence on the producers of goods as well as on economic trends.

"No doubt the consumer's choice is restricted by what is offered to him, and the two-way flow of the learning process involves some 'management' But restricted choice is not equivalent to absence of choice. The consumer's margin of action is yet sufficient to influence the economy greatly."

Silver Needs Special Care

Whether the collection is large or small, today's young homemaker likes to keep her cherished silver out where it can be admired and used often.

To keep display silver bright for months at a time with minimum effort, Mrs. Mary Gaffney, director of the Hagerty Home Care Institute, South Bend Ind., suggests this easy plan:

Coat each piece with Silver-smiths' Polish, a new formula that contains a most effective tarnish-preventing ingredient.

Leave polish on for a minute. Then buff with a clean, soft cloth or, if you wish, rinse and dry. Either way, an invisible barrier remains to protect against airborne elements that cause tarnishing.
