LIVONIA — A masked bandit carrying a .38 revolver in his left hand robbed independently-owned Drugland, 29473 W. Seven Mile Rd., Livonia, of approximately $2,000 Friday night. The man - described as darkskinned, wearing sunglasses, dark clothing and a bright-colored handkerchief over his face - held three employees at gunpoint while emptying two cash registers and the store's bank-deposit bags. No arrest has yet been made.

LIVONIA — Defending the city against charges that crime is on the rise, Mayor Harvey W. Moelke, seeking reelection, answered opponent Peter A. Ventura, Council president, with facts and figures showing the city is one of seven in Michigan where crime has bucked the nationwide trend and decreased slightly.

WESTLAND—Westland's revised master plan will be shown next Tuesday night. The general development guide calls for a "core area" around the Westland Shopping Center area.

WESTLAND - Mayor Brown's civil defense ordinance is tabled for another time by the City Council, which heard a federal C.D. official explain the need for a civil defense organization in the city.

GARDEN CITY — More than 200 persons jammed the council chambers Monday to protest a $1 million street paving program for this summer. The council agreed prior to the public hearing that it would decide on whether to go ahead with the program at a later meeting.

FARMINGTON - The Farmington City Council gave its police department a vote of confidence Monday night, but told Chief Robert F. Deadman "not to hesitate" if he felt that something additional was needed in order to handle any eventuality of civil disorder.

FARMINGTON — Talks between labor and management were resumed Monday in the two-week-old strike at Star Cutter Co. Both economic and non-economic issues remain to be resolved, according to spokesmen of both sides.

REDFORD - State Board of Education Vice President Miss Marilyn Jean Kelly, told an audience of 600 participating in a South Redford Schools "Crisis Forum" Mon-day that the so-called "Thomas Report" on state school financing was received too late for recommendations to the 1967 legislature.

Personal Property Tax Boosted $857,210

136 pages this issue

The Plymouth City Commission received a pleasant shock Monday evening.

It came when Commissioner Arch Vallier announced that he had been given a report by the County Tax Bureau showing that with the audit about 90 per cent complete, there is a difference of $857,210 in personal property valuation that should be on the books.

"This is an increase of 34.31 per cent," Commissioner Vallier declared, "and comes as a result of the audit that had been asked for a year ago."

According to the Tax Bureau's report the figures were announced after 209 places had been audited. They showed statements in the amount of $2,031,730, with an assessment of

The report then revealed that the audited valuation was $3,355,820.

"I don't know where the difference came from," Vallier stated, "but it is there. It may have been that the statements were audited, but this latest figure should be on the books." Commissioner Vallier has contended all along that some of the assessments have been too low. "If the personal property wasn't assessed properly," he pointed out, "it isn't fair to the home owner who must dig down and make up

"But with these new figures," he continued, "it seems that these totals are more like they should be."

Commissioner Vallier confessed that he didn't know whether the reports turned in were incorrect, or whether the city's statements were audited.

"All I know as a certainty," he concluded, "is that the county shows a difference of $857,210, or an increase of 34.31 per cent in personal property. That's on the record."

Under the tax formula this wouldn't mean too much of an increase to the city's treasury, but it would mean considerable to the Plymouth Community School District.

City Adopts New Policy Street Assessments

William Silvis Named To Fill

Vacancy On City Commission

After discussing the issue for months, the Plymouth City Commission set the wheels of the 1968 street improvement program in action Monday night when it set dates for three public hearings and altered the assessment policy from a front foot basis to a percentage for-

The plans call for the paving of Evergreen, Amelia and Linden and public hearings on each of these thoroughfares have been set for Monday, April 8, starting at 7:30 p.m.

During the past year an attempt had been made to improve Evergreen, but it was shouted down by the property owners at public hearings when they insisted that they wanted to retain the "rural atmosphere" of the gravel road.

EVEN IN voting to proceed with the City Manager's report and set the hearing dates there was some opposition on the Commission.

"I will vote to set the hearing dates and also to change the assessing formula," Commissioner Vallier stated, "but I am against the plan of paving some of these streets."

Along with the three streets mentioned, the extension of Farmer Street also is included in the program. It still is a question whether the extension of Farmer Street to Mill Street will be carried out this year or whether activity will be limited to acquiring the right of

Mayflower Loses Plea For Exemption

Mayflower Townhouses Inc. lost an appeal for tax exemption before the City Commision Monday night.

Claiming that it was a nonprofit co-operative venture, David S. Snyder, representing the owners, asked exemption under the provisions of Act 346 of the Public Acts of 1966. Under this type of exemption the Townhouses would not be taxed but would be asked to pay 10 per cent of the gross rent, to be divided amoung the same bodies as under the regular tax

He claimed that the cities of Ann Arbor, Saginaw and Detroit had granted such exemption and that Plymouth would only be following suit by doing the same.

His cause was lost when Commissioner Arch Vallier pointed out that at the time the property was re-zoned for apartments it was stated that the city's tax base would be broad-owner be assessed 50 per cent for a residential street and that the city at large bear the remaining 50 per cent, for frontage. For residential sideage the assessment be 30 per cent and the city at large assume the remaining 70 per cent.

He added that for multiple family, office, commercial and industrial property that the property owner's share be 75 per cent and the city's portion 25 per cent.

The Commission agreed to this formula, but no decision was reached on how the city would obtain the money to pay for its share.

Some thought has been given to bond issue, but there is a strong feeling that the City rould go on a pay-as-you-go basis, which would entail a twomill increase in property taxes.

The tax issue will not be decided until the budget has been prepared and it is noted in what sort of financial condition the city will be at that time.

it has been pointed out that there hasn't been a tax increase in the city for some time and this may become a factor in the city's action.

The cost to the city at large for the three streets -- Evergreen. Amelia and Linden--will be better than $85,000 broken down to $33,321.84 for Evergreen, $35,551.06 for Linden and $16,466,59 for Amelia.

Bell Sets Its Largest Installation In Plymouth

The Western Electric Company is beginning in Plymouth the largest single equipment installation project ever undertaken for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

" ALC: "

Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit for the Bell System, is starting to build a huge switching complex in the newly 'constructed, "blast resistant building adjacent to the Michigan Bell central office at 1360 Ann Arbor Road near Sheldon:

For the next year or more, upwards of 200 Western Electric people under the supervision of Melvin A. Green, project supervisor for Western, will be assembling a telephone switching center. 18WO # 1

JOHN PEARD, Michigan Bell manager in Plymouth said the new $12-million facility, known as a 4-A office in the telephone business, will provide faster, more efficient long distance service for the southeastern area of the state.

Peard'said the Plymouth 4-A office will augment facilities in downtown Detroit in the routing of mcoming and outgoing long distance calls.

When completed, the new Plymouth switching system will handle long distance calling for an area that extends from the downriver communities north into Oakland County and from west Detroit exchanges to a point beyond Ann Arbor.

By taking some of the burden off the Detroit 4-A office, the Plymouth switching center will provide customers throughout southeastern Michigan with improved forg' distance service.

The Plymouth 4-A office will become a part of the nationwide communications network.

PLANS FOR THE new Plymouth facility were announced last year after studies showed a need for an additional switching center. In recent years, there have been significant annual increases in long distance calling Michigan Bell's engineers began developing plans and specifications for the new 4-A office in 1966. These involved the purchase of land and detailed specifications for the building, equipment and the millions of conductor feet of cable that will radiate to other area telephone offices.

Architectural design of the building was by Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., of Detroit

Construction of the threestory bailding is nearing completion. Workmen are now putting the firshing touches to the windowless structure. The general contractor is Darin and Armstrong, Inc., of Detroit.

Janitor Kills Six Dr. Clark In Ironwood

ERIC PEARSON, 56-year-old janitor of an Ironwood ski lodge has been arrested for the high-powered rifle slaying of six persons and the critical wounding of three others. The shootings occurred Saturday night at two residences and an Ironwood tavern in a two-hour span. Police said the man had been drinking heavily and was incoherent when captured at the tavern where one man was killed and one woman was wounded. Pearson was arraigned Monday and was charged with the responsibility for the deaths of the people.

A TENTATIVE AGREEMENT was reached Sunday between the United Auto Workers and the Eltra Corp., of Detroit, where 5,800 employes have been off work since March 1. The UAW said the pact would be sent to its members this week for ratification. Both sides agreed not to reveal any terms of the pending contract.

14,500 employes. However, neither side could agree on a different contract to cover 3,000 additional workers at the company's Kelvinator Division in Grand Rapids. The agreement that was reached called for hourly pay hikes in the first year of 15 cents for all workers plus 20 cents for skilled

THE MICHIGAN HOUSE approved a bill designed to outlaw promotional games offered by gasoline dealers, supermarkets and some other retail outlets. Also approved and sent to the Senate were bills increasing the penalties for poaching game fish, wild turkey, and moose.

WARNING THAT the school situation could turn into a shambles this fall, a group of southeast Michigan school superintendents called Friday for a $105 million increase in state aid to their area. The educators suggested enactment of a statewide property tax levy and an increase in the cigarette tax as possible methods of collecting the funds. The educators from Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb Counties figure about $24 million of the governor's proposed increase would go to school districts in their area.

EIGHT MICHIGAN bakeries and six executives accused of price rigging were allowed to change pleas of innocent to no contest in U.S. District Court Friday. Judge Noel P. Fox then ordered pre-sentence investigations for the 14 defendents.

THE LONG and harassing fights that developed last year over the question of slow or fast time for most of the residents of the state will not materialize this year. The issue is more or less mute now and when the last Sunday of April rolls around everyone will push his clock ahead one hour and be done with the whole affair. The only commotion that will be caused will placed as long as 18 be the fact that everyone will lose an

Trial Goes To Lansing

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer, Tuesday morning ordered the manslaughter trial of Dr. Ronald E. Clark, 56-year-old Farmington physician, shifted to the Ingham County judicial district.

In granting the change of venue the judge agreed with the contention of Dr. Clark's court appointed attorney, Philip Rowlston, of Pontiac, that election of an impartial jury in an Oakland County court would be impossible because of excessive publicity given the case in the metropolitan Judge Beer said that he himself will hear the case and ordered it to trial in Lansing on Tuesday, April 2.

Dr. Clark was arrested last Nov. 16, following a 10-hour police search, by Huron County sheriff's deputies near Port Austin at the top of the Michigan "thumb."

HE IS SPECIFICALLY charged with killing his parttime nurse, who also was in his medical care, Mrs. Grace Neil, 43, of 20225 Rensellor, Livonia.

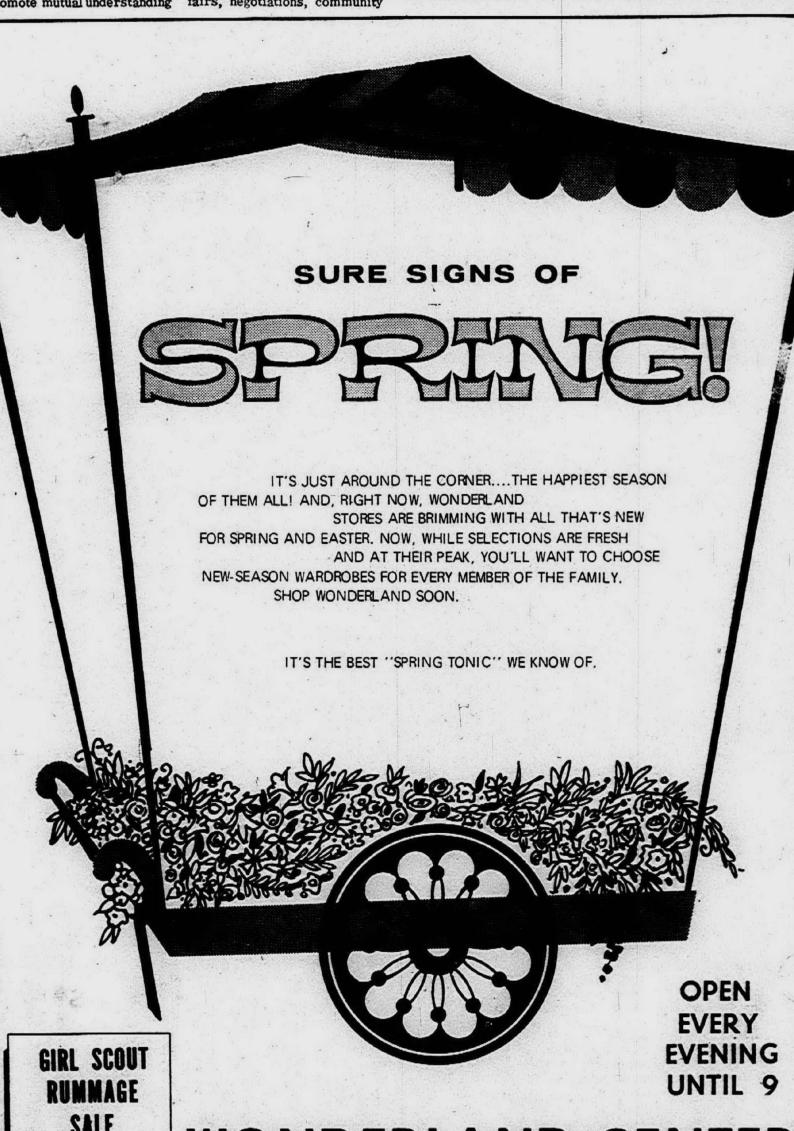

She died Nov. 3 in Dr. Clark's office at 30735 Grand River Ave., Farmington township. Bronson's warrant was based upon an autopsy which showed Mrs. Neil's death was caused by an overdose of sodium pentothal, allegedly administered by Dr. Clark.

At the time, Bronson stated that several other deaths of patients in Dr. Clark's office during recent years also were under investigation, but no further announcement concerning them ever has been made by the

Safety Tips Given By Township Chief

Despite the recent snow storm and the freezing cold weather, Spring is just around the corner and Paul J. Albright, Plymouth Township Public Services Director, urges everyone to "plan today for a fire safe tomorrow."

"Everybody takes a new lease on life when Spring rolls around and that lease on life--for you and your family--will be more certain if you've planned and practiced a family fire drill,"

"This is another kind of Spring Clean-Upaction--cleaning up any misunderstandings about what to do if fire should strike your home," said Albright.

Auto Insurance Gets More Attention

Automobile Insurance, the subject of many a public outcry. has begun to receive increased attention in Washington. Congress, which once determined this area outside its concern, now has begun to take a long hard look at the industry. And there's good reason to believe that the automobile insurance business will become the subject of new consumer protection legislation.

The many changes affecting insurance over the years and increased public complaints have

-- A-ROUND TRIP TO DETROIT, a jaunt to Mount Clemens or a drive to the Jackson county line are an easy 50 miles behind the wheel of an automobile, but try swimming them. It took petite 15-year-old Marilynn Finlan, sophomore at Plymouth High School, a little more than eight months of swimming before classes and on weekends to reach 50 miles, but she is the school's first student to receive the Red Cross 50-Mile Swim certificate. To qualify, Marilynn had to swim 18 laps 200 times-that's 100,000 strokes, folks! Marilynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Finlan, 12600 Beacon Hill, Plymouth.

When Herald Hamill was an impressionable young fellow, he read about a man who built a bridge over Great Salt Lake and said to himself, "That's just the thing I want to do," Well many years later-afterore-Elot of bridges have been eressed-Herald Hamill still hasn't built a bridge like the one over the Great Salt Lake. Dowever, he can brag that he has ridden across that very same western span.

The boy who dreamed of working with stress and atmospheric pressure is doing almost what he hoped he might -only under the ground instead of over it.

THE 68-YEAR-OLD graduate engineer of the University of Michigan (Class of 1920) is the official engineer for Plymouth Township and his work concerns itself with water, sewer and drainage lines.

Hamill was born in the little town of Otisville on Nov. 5, 1900. His father, Frank W. Hamill, was a station master for the Pere-Marquette railroad at the time.

The engineer and his family moved with his father's job and lived in Rose Center, Wixom and finally Plymouth where they settled for good.

The station master's son graculated from Plymouth High School in 1916. He jokingly remarked that was the same year the high school burned down.

At the time he was up north working on his uncle's farm and didn't know anything about the fire. He said when he returned from the farm expecting to go right to school for the spring semester, there was a week's delay.

"If I'd of only known, I could have got in another week of vacation," he quipped.

ALL THE TIME Hamill was at Plymouth High, he kept his ete of ta pretty girl named Mildred Tyler.

One of these schemes is the swinding of money from persons having savings deposits through taked investigation of bank imployes.

The swindle mechanics involved impressing some depositor that his or her help is needed, in confidence, to check out some employe.

To provide this help, the depositor is persuaded to draw some savings from the bank se in a transaction to the employe and the tor is assured that the will be redeposited later. However, as the scheme has worked out, the depositor usually bees all or some of his savings to the swindlers.

BECAUSE THIS fraud has ted in this country in recent years despite arrests of some involved in it, anyone approached on such a scheme is ursed to report it to a known bank official or to police. It is seessed that banks do not make personnel investigations manner indicated in the sche

State Police also point out that other fraudulent activity, usually involving transient workers, is resumed in warmer weather.

This includes offers to repair roofs or other parts of homes, to cleck and fix furnaces, to resurace driveways, etc.

While some home repair projects are reliably done by reptraveling workers, polphasize that no harm is if credit and integrity are first made through sources--chamber of commerce, better business burea, etc. Reputable workers or films would not object to such check, police say.

nam. The march was the climax of a protest that brought an estimated 10,000 to Trafalgar Square. About 20 embassy windows were broken during the demonstration. The rally was sponsored by the Vietnam Solidarity Campaign, a twoyear-old organization composed of several left-wing groups.

CALCUTTA -- Gangs of Hindus and Moslems rioted Sunday as Prime Minister Indira Gandhi made an unscheduled visit to the tense city. At least three persons have been killed and 40 injured since the turmoil began Friday. Mrs. Gandhi drove to the governor's residence to discuss ways of bringing the situation under control. She told newsmen those responsible for the rioting must be punished and said she had asked local officials to deal firmly with lawlessness.

SANTIAGO, Chile -- A bomb damaged the interior of the Chilean-North American Institute at Rancagua, a mining town near Santiago over the weekend. The bombing followed a blast last Tuesday in a secondfloor restroom of the U.S. Consulate in Santiago while an anti-Vietnam war demonstration was in progress.

DUBLIN -- The biggest and brightest St. Patrick's day parade of the century wound through the streets of Dublin Sunday, boosted by 15 bands and a powerful American contingent.

World Roundup

LONDON -- Two men were charged by Scotland Yard Sunday with the murder of a London financier, Michael O'Carroll, 53, and a fashion model. One of Britain's most intensive manhunts had been underway since the two victims were found tied and strangled last Wednesday.

CAIRO -- The authoritative Cairo newspaper Al Ahram reported that President Nasser would retain his second post of premier of the United Arab Republic while "reforming" the rest of his cabinet within the next few days. There had been speculation that Nassar might give up the second post, which he holds in addition to the presidency. The president's new cabinet is expected to include more civilians than the present government in which former military officers predominate.

JERUSALEM -- Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged gunfire across the Jordan River this weekend. Israel said the Jordanians began to fire to cover the escape of Arab infiltrators from Israel territory. At least one soldier was wounded. CANTERBURY, England --Police throughout Britain are seeking thieves who cleared the altars of the vast, ninecentury-old Canterbury Cathedral of silver pieces and emptied the treasury cupboard. The burglars fled after failing to blast open the cathedral's two safes. The lost silver was estimated to be worth $50,000. The thieves forced an iron gate into the great cloister.

PRAGUE -- Czechoslovakia's Communist President Antonin Novotny, fighting for his political life against a wave of liberalism, lost more ground over the weekend as one of his key supporters committed suicide and another resigned. Vladimir Janko, deputy defense minister, shot himself through the head just 24 hours after an urgent Cabinet discussion of the flight of Maj. Gen. Jan Sejna to the United States. Earlier, another Novotny sup-

Panthers Move Into Quarterfinal

GC East 'Freeze' Chills Pontiac, 74-62

Making fantastic use of their patented "freeze" for the final 10 minutes, Garden City East's amazing Panthers became the first quintet from that city to gain the quarterfinals of the State Class A basketball tourna-

It took quite a bit of doing this time for the Panthers were matched against the speedy, fast-breaking Pontiac Central Chiefs from the powerful Saginaw Valley League but the cool, calm Eastsiders were more than equal to the occasion and rolled to a 74-62 victory.

than 2,500 saw Coach Billy Young order his team into e now well-known "stall"

with 2:34 remaining in the third quarter and a 50-46 lead.

It seemed like a daring move and it was--but the Panthers had the Chiefs completely baffled and never were in any grave danger.

MATTER OF FACT, East didn't take a shot at the basket until the final 40 seconds. During that 10 minute lapse, it drew numerous fouls and connected on 18 of 20 to build a 68-56 head. Rick Clack broke the deliberate stall when he was wide open under the basket An amazed crowd of more for the lone field goal in 10

TENSE LOOKS on the faces of players gives some idea of the close score at this point in the Garden City East-Ecorse game. That's Merritt Butler dribbling while East's Bill Crowell (35) gets ready to try and stop the play. Other players are

Mike Maciasz (21), of East, and Frank Russell (34) of Ecorse. Garden City won

CC, with a record of 20-1, won the Catholic League championship and then battered Detroit Murray-Wright in the city title battle.

The Catholic team has exactly the same squad as that which lost out in the quarterfinals a year ago and goes into the game as a strong favorite.

For Garden City, Saturday's victory was the 12th in a row and boosted the season record to 22-1. The lone loss came at the hands of Ecorse in the finals of the River Rouge holiday tournament and snapped a string of 10 straight.

THE PANTHERS had sweet revenge for that loss in Thursday's regional semifinals when they came from behind to register a hard-fought 74-65

East held a 68-65 margin with 52 seconds remaining and then hit twice in the remaining time on baskets by Charley Sakmar and Mike Maciasz to clinch it.

Saturday's game was something else and there were many in the stands who thought the tall, speedy, jumping jacks from Pontiac Central had a bit too much power.

But such wasn't the story. In the final analysis, it was the fine ball handling and coolness of the East cagers under great pressure that was the difference.

THE FIRST QUARTER was a see-saw scrap that saw Maciasz tally three points in the final minute to give Garden City an 18-17 lead.

Clack and Charley Sakmar hit three times from the field in less than a minute of the second period to give East a 24-19 margin.

Sparked by some brilliant marksmanship by Clayton Burch, Len Cole and Frank Russell, Pontiac moved in front, 32-30 with two and a half minutes on the clock.

Clack split the cords twice from outside and Maciasz flipped in a pair of free throws for a 36-32 edge with two minutes to play. In the remaining time, Church and Al Wilson hit for Pontiac and Maciasz for East to make it 38-36 for Garden City at the intermis-

It was still anybody's game for half of the third stanza with Garden City holding a 50-44 lead with three minutes to play in the period. That's when Pontiac changed into a man for man defense and with two and a half minutes to play big Mike Maciasz drew his third personal foul with the score 50-

AND THAT WAS where Coach Young called his boys together and ordered the "deep freeze" that won two games in the district meet a week earlier and "froze" out Farmington earlier in the week.

And that was when Pontiac Central started to foul to gain possession--it proved fatal for East converted on 22 of 25 attempts to turn the game into Clack was fouled by Russell and made both--he had four for four during the evening. The result was that Garden City held a 52-48 edge going into the final eight minutes.

In the fourth period, the foul shooting for East went something like this. Slade hit twice and then missed one of two. Bill Crowell made two. Sakmar had two. Slade two. Clack two. Maciasz one of two. Sakmar two, Maciasz two. Clack made the lone basket with 40 seconds remaining. Then the foul shooting resumed with Slade hitting twice, Crowell missing and Sakmar ending it with another pair.

It was a tremendous demonstration of foul shooting.

Maciasz was the big gunner for East with 23 points on seven field goals and nine of Il free throws. Sakmar had six two pointers and eight of eight fouls for 20. Slade has two baskets and eight of nine for 12. Clack hit four from the field and four of four from the foul line for 12.

For the Chiefs, Frank Russell was the top scorer with 23 followed by Al Wilson with 13 and Cole with 10.

Swami Sees Shamrocks

Quarterfinal basketball time in the state high school tournament always turns the spotlight on Hal Schram and his selections.

But with the Free Press not publishing, Swami Schram must remain silent this year. So Observer Sports Editor George Maskin is turning Swami to pick 'em as he sees 'em Wednesday night. CLASS A Garden City East-Catholic Central: Hate to say so, but CC too experienced in tourney play. Shamrocks our bet to go all the way. Austin-Brother Rice: A penny on Austin.

Grand Rapids Ottawa-Saginaw: Crystal ball says Saginaw. Ypsilanti-Battle Creek Central: Going by the ratings - Ypsi.

CLASS B Menominee-St. Louis: Defending champ-Menominee to repeat.

Willow Run-Chesaning: Staying close to home with Willow Run. Holland Christian-Otsego: Another team steeped with tourney history-that's Holland

Detroit Servite vs. Saginaw Buena Vista: A toughie, but Servite goes on to Lansing.

CLASS C Detroit All Saints-Flint St. Michael: Our bet - All Saints.

Leslie-Eau Claire: A tossup. Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart-Saginaw St. Stephan: Sticking with the defending "C" champs from Mt. Pleasant. St. Ignace-Wakefield: Wakefield sounds the best.

CLASS D Vanderbilt - Freesoil: An institution -Freesoil. Covert - Waterford OLLH: Waterford's

close to home. Flint St. Matthew-Peck: Can't undersell

Flint's defending champs. Hermansville-DeTour: Have a hunch De-Tour faces a detour.

CHARLEY'S FIRST FIRST--Clarenceville High's state champion gymnast Charley Morse (top of pyramid) went to the winner's stand five times to receive first place honors Saturday in the state prep finals at Hillsdale. Here he received his parallel bars medal. Others, reading left to right down the scale, are Roger Tolzdorf (second) of Alpena, Terry Boys (third) of North Farmington, Jim McCammon (fourth) and Barry Frechette (fifth), both of Clarenceville.

Far back came Taylor Kennedy with 65 points. Still farther back trailed Ionia, Ann Arbor and the 25 other schools which battled for honors.

The brilliance of Charles Morse, Jim McCannon and Barry Frechette made it possible for Clarenceville to enjoy its greatest sports hour in the school's history.

Morse entered five events and won all, giving him nine state titles in two years of action. He accounted for 55 points

McCannon entered seven events and placed in all for 45 points. Frechette picked up 23 more points for the Trojans.

MORSE, 17, is the Clarenceville senior who was handicapped during his younger days by a paralysis condition in his hips, his knees and ankles.

OSU Shocks Kentucky To Gain NCAA Semis

of the season" in January when Houston and UCLA clashed before more than 50,000 basketball fans in the Astrodome in Houston.

So what does one now say about the re-match between the two giants of college basketball scheduled for Friday night when they square off in the semifinals of the NCAA tournament at the Sports Arena in Los Angeles!

The other semifinal will pit surprising Ohio State against North Carolina with the two winners advancing into Saturday night's final to be telecast on Channel 4 at 9:30 p.m.

It's a foregone conclusion that the Houston-UCLA winner will be heavily favored in Saturday's windup.

Houston, No. 1 ranked in the various polls, will carry a record of 31-0 against UCLA which has a 27-1 mark this seasonthe lone loss coming at the hands of Houston.

ON THAT occasion, UCLA Lew Alcindor was suffering the aftermath of a sore eye and wasn't in tip-top shape.

Alcindor since has recovered and the Uclans are confident they'll repeat as the NCAA kingpins.

Neither team had any problems Saturday night in the regional finals.

Houston stormed past Texas Christian, 103-68, as Elvin (the Big E) Hayes drilled in 39 points.

If Houston can make it through to the championships, the school will become only the fifth ever to post a perfect record.

Including the last game won a year ago, Houston has an overall streak of 32 straight to risk against UCLA.

Alcindor tossed in 23 points and pulled down 18 rebounds as UCLA floored Santa Clara, coach and success in his own private business unquestionably had a great deal to do with the appointment of Don Canham to succeed the retiring Fritz Crisler as the University of Michigan athletic director.

Canham, 49, was picked by the university's board of regents to fill the shoes of Crisler who'll bow out in July after serving the Michigan athletic department since 1941.

The choice of Canham wasn't too surprising, since for almost a month the indications were that he had the "inside track" to the job for which football Coach Bump Elliott and ex-Michigan great Don Lund, now with the Detroit Tigers front office, also had been prominently mentioned.

(Editor's note: The Observer newspapers reported in mid-February that Canham would get the job.)

There are moments when most of us relish living in the past.

True, we know it's just escaping from the tedious immediate battles of life each of us must tackle daily.

But the years couldn't help but skip backwards the other evening as you sat in Cobo Arena and watched the country's best college track men

There was a pause from the rigors of jumping, throwing and running.

The announcer called attention to the gentleman standing in the center of the arena with the spotlight beaming down on

"It's with great pride," the announcer started, "that we have in our presence this evening perhaps the greatest trackman that ever performed--Jesse Owens."

SON DOUGLAS, sitting next to us, remarked: "Did you ever see Owens perform?"

Yes, it was on a day in the early '30's. Owens had led Ohio State into Ferry Field at the University of Michigan to bid for the Big Ten champion-

Oldsters hereabouts will remember that Jesse Owens that day won the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the low hurdles and the broad jump. What's more, he smashed three world records and tied another! WHO'LL FORGET OWENS running away from the fields in the dashes and the hurdles?

But the impression that still lives with us to this day was Owens winning in the broad jump. He knew what he wanted to accomplish. So before it was his turn to take off, he asked one of the judges for a handkerchief.

Owens then found himself a small stick, tied the hankie around it and implanted the wooden peg into the ground at the stop he aimed to reach in his jump.

There never was a doubt when he left the ground that he had smashed the world mark. He sailed some 26 feet, 81/4 inches — if memory serves us correctly.

Thus Owens capped the greatest day in the history of sports.

He went on to win for the United States in the Olympics. He came home from Berlin with four gold medals and embarrassed a character named Hitler who didn't think highly of a Negro athlete winning so much and so impressively.

AS OWENS STOOD in Cobo Arena, he was flanked by scores of brilliant trackmen of the modern era - the Ryuns, Patricks, Lindgreens, McCulloughs and all the rest.

In a few months, it'll be on their shoulders that America's track hopes will rest. And, if they all elect to go to Mexico City, the U.S. can't help but "clean up."

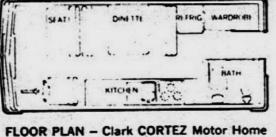

But, it seems that there are some of our stalwarts who don't think they'll go to Mexico City. They are "boycotting," they say, as a protest to our color war in the U.S.

Hopefully, by fall, they'll have changed their

Friday At Wolverine The pacers and trotters return to the Michigan scene Friday when Wolverine Harness Raceway, which operates over the facilities of the Detroit Race Course at the intersection of Schoolcraft and Middlebelt Roads in Livonia, opens the state's earliest harness racing campaign.

"They're Off" will sound and resound through the huge grandstand and clubhouse at 8:30 p.m. Friday to signal the start of the earliest and longest racing season in Michigan history.

It will be the first of 58 nightly programs at Wolverine, going every evening with the exception of Good Friday when the plant will be dark.

INTEREST IS at the highest level in several years with the result that Wolverine President Frederick Van Lennop and Vice President and General Manager Orlow Owen are looking forward to a larger attendance than that of a year ago when 11,388 stormed into the plant.

The horses started pouring into the plant Monday morning with stables arriving from California, the Southland, the Atlantic Seaboard, the winter training colonies in Michigan, from Chicago and Windsor where the winter meeting closed Thursday.

Stall Supt. Clayton Smith indicated the track received more than 1,800 applications for the 1,200 stalls and expects that all will be filled by the middle of next week.

Children's Classic Set For Livonia

The children's classic. "The Clever Mr. Toad," will be presented Saturday, April 6. in Livonia's Franklin High aud-

The production is produced by The Reed Marionettes. The play is an original adaptation of Kenneth Grahame's "Wind In The Willows."

Three performances, under the sponsorship of the Livonia Entertainment Guild and the Livonia Public Library, are planned at 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Tickets priced at 35 cents for children and 50 cents for adults may be purchased at either branch of the Livonia Public Library.

HAYAKAWA TO SPEAK --Dr. S.I. Hayakawa, world renowned authority on semantics, will deliver two lectures at Schoolcraft College as part of College's winter semester lecture series. He will speak on Thursday, March 21, in the Forum amphitheater at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. Both lectures are open to the public at no charge.

anguish were rare sequences

"Andorra" to his list of successful productions. He designed the setting that filled the huge Bonstelle Stage to over-flowing. The square in Andorra was reproduced so authentically you could inhale deep draughts of the mountain air.

"Andorra" having a multiplicity of scenes calls upon the imagination of the scene designer. Director Smith, doubling 'In brass" as he always does so ably, provided his actors with a setting that reinforced their superb thespic endeavors.

Every member of the cast turned in a strong performance. "Andorra" is the type of play that needs such mature acting. The whole impact of the play turns on the vicious narrowness of the townspeople. They hate the Jew boy.

The final scene after they discover his innocence leaves you slightly stunned. You wonder as you leave the theater if there aren't instances where this has happened before in other localities.

AT THE FISHER Theater Lillian Hellman's Pulitzer Prize play "Little Foxes" requires an actress of Tallulah Bankhead's ability to play the lead role of Regina.

Regina is the deadly female of the species that would devour everything and anything that gets in her way to accomplish her machiavellian machinations. Her ruthless attempts to acquire power and money from her money-hungry brothers is the main theme for the evening.

Geraldine Page has been given the Bankhead role. Miss Page does not possess the throaty baritone that Miss Bankhead was famous for, Her thin, reedy voice has a high whine and irritates after awhile. Miss Page feels that she must be evil, facially and vocally.

Marilyn Horne, mezzo-so- was composed during the spring prano, will make her first ap- and summer of last year. It was commissioned by and dedicated to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The composer describes the music as "a tribute and thanksgiving offering to Fra Angelico, the early 15th century European artist who painted in the Eastern spirit." Hovhaness was born in Somerville, Mass, and now lives in Seattle where he is composer-in-residence with the Seattle Sym-

Overture to "The Flying Dutchman" and the Rossini-Respighi "La Boutique fantasque."

Tickets for the concerts are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office (961-0700), all 15 metropolitan Grinnell's stores, and all Hudson's.

Miss Horne was born in Pennsylvania and raised in Los Angeles. She made her first public appearance with the Los Angeles Philharmonic and then spent two years in Germany as program are Wagner's a member of the Gelsenkirchen under Paul Hindemith and Dimitri Mitropoulos, at the Venice Festival under Igor Stravinsky, and in Rome and other European capitals.

She returned to the United States in 1960 for her American operatic debut with the San Francisco Opera Company. Since then, she has appeared with orchestra, in recital and opera from coast to coast, in addition to receiving an ever growing number of invitations from the music centers of Eur-

Orchestra Sets Return Performance

"It is just about impossible to describe the clarity and the richness which the ensemble individually and collectively achieves on its instruments," was written of the Orchestra San Pietro of Naples by Collins George, Detroit Free Press critic, in his review of the group's appearance at the University of Detroit in 1965. Playing a return engagement. the Orchestra will appear on the U. of D. Town and Gown Celebrity Series at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, March 23, in the Memorial Building.

"The formal program closed with a Mozart symphony so delicately and exquisitely played that the audience rose in spontaneous tribute to the orchestra and would not let it leave the platform until it played two encores," Mr. George

The Orchestra, made up of 20 virtuoso musicians under the direction of Renato Ruotolo, specializes in that rich repertory of masterpieces that were written especially for such small groups but which have been largely neglected in an age that has put emphasis upon the solo performer and the massive symphony orchestra.

Tickets are on sale at the U. of D. Student Union Box Office, 342-1000, ext. 339, and at Grinnell's and J.L. Hudson

Tamburitzans Slate Concert

The world-famous Duquesne University Tamburitzans will appear Sunday, April 7, in the Ford Auditorium.

The annual concert is under the sponsorship of Lodge 351 of the Croatian Fraternal Union. Concert time is 2:30 p.m.

Using hundreds of individual authentic costumes in each performance, singing in more than a dozen different languages, and doing the dances and music of many countries, the troupe provides an unforgettable musical experience. The collegiate group has a world wide reputation for the versatility of the individual performers.

Tickets may be purchased at the Ford Auditorium, Grinnell's Downtown, or at the Croatian National Home, 1721 E. Mc-Nichols Rd.

Oakland University students and faculty will present the sixth annual Fine Arts Festival March 22 through April 7 featuring exhibitions, films, concerts, and plays.

There will be exhibits of paintings, prints, sculpture, and photography, performances by the University Chorus, soloists and other musical groups, and stage productions in drama, dance, and opera.

All of the programs are open to the public and admission to many of them is free.

TIED IN with the Festival is the annual Student Art Exhibition previously opened in the OU Art Gallery in Matilda R. Wilson Hall. The exhibition continues through April 7. Another selection of art and photography chosen just for the Fine Arts Festival will be on display throughout the two-week program in the Oakland Center.

Dramatic highlight of the Fine Arts Festival will be four public performances of Archibald MacLeish's masterpiece, "J. B.," by the Student Enterprise Theatre. The play will be given in the S.E.T. Barn Theatre at 8:30 p.m. on successive Friday and Saturday nights, March 22-23 and 29-30. The student drama group also will give a special performance of the play March 24 before an audience of OU Charter College students.

Institute To Feature China's Art

A special showing of 117 pieces of the Avery Brundage collection of Chinese art will be shown at the Detroit Institute of Arts March 27 through May 7.

The Detroit stop is part of a five city tour of the collection.

Brundage, a Chicagoan, ranks as a prodigious and knowledgeable collector. His Asian art collection outranks all other private collections in the Western World and China is represented by more than 3,500

Included in the Detroit showing are bronzes, jades, ceramics, lacquers, stone sculpture and scroll paintings.

Meadow Brook Announces 1968 Festival Programs

That musical marvel, Oak-University's Meadow Brook Festival, will mount the most ambitious summer program of the nation to celebrate its fifth anniversary season this

June 27 through August 18 are the announced dates for the eight-week 34-program event which features the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under Sixten Ehrling's direction in the acoustically perfect Baldwin Pavilion.

Of major interest will be the Festival's first venture into dance with six performances of the 95-member American Ballet Theatre scheduled July 30 through Aug. 4.

REFLECTING the Festival's traditional standard, the Detroit Symphony will provide the music for the company. The ABT comes to Meadow Brook directly from New York with ballets newly mounted for a festival week in Lincoln Center.

Highlights of the season include two rare appearances away from the coasts of the great cellist Gregor Piatigorsky who will be at Meadow Brook to mark the retirement of his close friend, Mischa Mischakoff, Detroit Symphony concertmaster.

The distinguished Russian-American conductor Andre Kostelanetz will be on the podium in the Festival's third week. Increasingly noted in Europe and this country for his serious programs, Kostelanetz will have for his soloists pianist Eugene List July 11-12, and soprano Judith Raskin July

OTHER SOLOISTS of major stature appearing are pianists Vladimir Ashkenazy July 4-7; Philippe Entremont, July 20-21 and August 8-9; and Alexis Weissenberg, July 27-28.

The great American soprano Anna Moffo will appear July 18-19 and Aug. 10-11. Other soloists will be Camilla Wicks. violinist, June 27-30; Leonard Rose, cellist; July 25-26; and Edith Peinemann, violinist, Aug. 15-16.

On Aug. 10-11, the Detroit Symphony will give the world premiere performances of a major work commissioned by the Festival Executive Committee from Lester Trimble. composer in residence for the New York Philharmonic.

Festival season ticket subscribers will have their choice of an eight week season or either of the two four week seasons comprising the total with a selection of Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays at 8:30 p.m., or Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

production of Andre Obey's "Noah" will be a home-grown translation direct from the French original which makes it a different play than the one produced in New York some seasons ago, according to James Rodgers, U. of D. Theatre director.

Mary Brigid Powers came to the director's rescue when he compared the English translation with what he had heard of the French original. She agreed that the play has "lost much in the translation" and undertook the chore of rewriting the whole play from the beginning, rather than working piecemeal on the English copy.

Miss Powers is a doctoral candidate at Wayne State University and a friend of the U. of D. Theatre.

"NOW WE HAVE the same theme, the same episodes, the same characters, and a new play, one which could be played Paris in 1930, but not in the United States in the mid-1930's," she said, "Indeed, only in the past few years could the French attitude toward God. toward religion, and toward man be so expressed in this play without disturbing an American "The other English version was very 'British English'." she explained. 'It was full of 'well dones' and 'old boys'. We have made it a shortened,

The University of Detroit but stronger play, with the episodes clearly expounded when there is a stand taken by the super rational man that is seemingly anti-God by Noah when God seems to desert him. And the racism that was apparently wholly acceptable in those days would not be acceptable to today's audience. "It was interesting trying to work out the dignity of a peasant in France, which Noah was, to a parallel in the United States. He was a man who used much idiom and we had to maintain a linguistic level to preserve the unity of the character," she recalled.

MISS POWERS spent two whole weeks in steady writing, and then began the rewrite from the literal translating.

She is a quiet-spoken, sparkling-eyed girl in her early 20's who has a bachelor of arts degree from Clarke College, Dubuque, and a master of arts degree from Georgetown University. She has studied at the Sorbonne in Paris and at Aixen-Provence. She enjoys attending rehearsals and watching "her play" come alive. The U. of D. production will be seen Fridays through Sundays three weekends of March 22-24, 29-31, and April 5-7. Tickets at $2 and $1.50 are on sale at the Central Box Office in the Student Union on Florence, 342-1000, ext. 339.

W.S. Hart Returns March 24

A 1915 nickelodeon great, "On The Night Stage" starring William S. Hart, will again make the big time as part of the Famous Early Movies to be shown Sunday, March 24, in the Henry Ford Museum Theater at 2 and 4 p.m.

Following the silent stagecoach will be another realistic "horse opera" entitled, "The Saga of William S. Hart." This film consists of a compilation of ten famous cowboy motion pictures made just before and directly following World War I.

The majority of critics agree that westerns seemed to be quickly dying away until being gloriously resurrected by Hart and his beloved Pinto in the early 1900's.

Ranchers come on the screen dressed in worn western wear: rambling through dusty winds and streets of shabby shacks. All the costumes are realistic looking as are all the cities on the sets. The viewers may find it easy to believe that the actors are just as tough and rugged as the characters they portray in these early silent

Nankin Mills Case Shows The Flaw In Our Tax Laws

The proposed dissolvement of the Nankin Mills School District in Westland is a dramatic example of the inequities and the ineffectiveness of using the property tax as the base for support of public schools and serves as a signal for the state legislature to revamp the property tax prob-

Nankin Mills, whose school board has found it nearly impossible to continue the financial operation of the district, which doesn't have a high school, is the smallest (1.25 square miles) in the state and has the highest school tax rate ($38.80 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) in Michigan.

The community within the district itself is fairly affluent. Most of the homes are in the $18,000 to $20,000 price range and the breadwinners are generally in the white-collar economic level.

A 1965 SURVEY showed that more than 90 per cent of parents questioned are willing (and pre-sumably able) to send their children to college.

Statistics also show that Nankin Mills spends (according to 1966 figures) an average of $514 per pupil, one of the highest figures among the low-valuation districts in Wayne County.

Voters in the district time and time again have gone to the polls to pass millage requests for operational purposes and for new buildings.

But despite this willingness financial and otherwise - to provide a quality education for their children, Nankin Mills parents are being deprived of their goal because of an ancient tax philosophy that should be either substantially revamped or elimin-

THE PROPERTY TAX levy, besides being inequitable, is just not doing its job. There is no reason for a retired couple with a $20,000 home having to pay the same amount of school taxes as does a working couple with the same home and two incomes coming in.

The most glaring reason for the change in school financing is the comparison of different school districts.

For instance, Nankin Mills has only $6,808 of valuation behind each student while River Rouge, blessed with a heavy industrial tax base, has $52,096 behind each pupil.

The state and federal constitutions contain provisions that all citizens "shall have equal protection of the law" but the educational opportunities - the key to a youngster's future - are keyed to the geographical location of that child's home.

IF THE CHILD'S parents live in River Rouge, Dearborn, Harper Woods, Ecorse, and any other community with a heavy industrial and commercial tax base, his educational opportunities are better than those youngsters living in Nankin Mills for no reason other than the accident of where his parents decided to live.

Nankin Mills, as a school system, may be dead.

But the legislature should not ignore the reasons for its death and do nothing about correcting the situation, which affects every district in the state.

-Leonard Poger

From the Publisher's Desk— OBSERVATION POINT

By Philip H. Power -

'Twas the day before Saint Patrick's and, begorrah Sir, what but that a fine, young Irishman, Robert Kennedy, says he wants to be President.

And didn't the feathers fly

Bobby said at a press conference on Saturday that he is against what President Johnson is doing in Vietnam and that he is upset at what the President isn't doing at home to deal with problems of riots, race relations, poverty and pollution.

He didn't make it clear that he wouldn't consider forming a third party if he doesn't get the nomination, if you know what I mean:

Then on Sunday and Monday, Michigan Bell declared a special dividend, what with all the Democratic politicos on the blower, trying to find out what was happening, who was supporting (or even talking with) whom, and whose positions had been assessed or reassessed.

By now, the dust has settled enough to see a few things in perspective, although any political gazing has to be pretty much a matter of through a glass darkly at this point.

THE PEOPLE around Senator Eugene McCarthy, the only announced candidate against the President (if you discount George Wallace, which seems only appropriate), could hardly contain their irritation with Bobby. As they see it, McCarthy has been the only guy with enough guts to go out alone and challenge the President, and now that the New Hampshire primary has proven that there are a lot of anti-Johnson votes to be had, Kennedy played the total opportunist by jumping in.

A lot of other Democrats, not necessarily McCarthy backers, think that, too.

The McCarthy people, however, have the gnawing fear that Kennedy is the only guy who can even hope to give LBJ a fight for the nomination. Most smart politicians in Michigan (and there are plenty of them) expect that as time passes, the McCarthy candidacy will fuse with Kennedy's and that ultimately Kennedy will co-opt the McCarthy people for a strong bid for the nomination.

According to this theory, the process may take some time, but the extremely strong anti-Johnson feelings of both groups make it pointless not to combine at some point in order to stick it to Lyndon.

THE WHITE HOUSE has been pretty quiet, always a bad sign. Normally, when the President is feeling happy, there is a constant flow of news and comments from his office; Sunday and Monday were ominous, as though a thunderstorm were not far off.

The President is known as a man who believes that if you're not with him all the way (and especially when the way consists in Vietnam), then you're against him. He has felt this about even some very muted criticism directed his way by Democrats in the Senate and the House, so you can imagine what sort of feelings he has about Bobby, who made it quite clear he is nowhere close to the President.

"Gee. I sure would hate to be on the White House staff tonight," a leading Observerland Democrat said to me on Saturday, and I'm inclined to agree with him.

So far, Democratic regulars in Michigan (ie., those who support LBJ) have not said too much; presumably they're waiting to see how the line-up looks after a couple of weeks polls have come

The Kennedy people have been keeping very quiet. In fact, one of the biggest problems Democrats who might want to support RFK have had during the past several days has been finding out whom they should talk to. No one seems to know.

Reportedly, the Kennedy staff made a few phone calls to Michigan before his announcement, but no one seems to know who they called. Former Second District Democratic Congressman Weston E. Vivian has announced a RFK For President group in the Second District, and he may be the only man in the state who knows how to contact Kennedy's offices.

IN THE LONG RUN, Kennedy's entry makes it very likely that Johnson, now challenged strongly from an anti-Vietnam position, will move to the right. He knows that the polls show that most Americans are hawks on Vietnam, and most political analysts expect that the President will progressively enfold himself in the American flag as the summer goes on, fighting the war in Vietnam not as a limited action to repel aggression but rather as a great patriotic war. But there is no question that the New Hampshire results showed that Johnson is vulnerable. Kennedy's entry into the race further weakens the President.

All that means that Richard Nixon's chances to get the Republican nomination have improved sharply. Why? Because there is no question that although Nixon is overwhelmingly popular with the leadership of the GOP, he is less strong than New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in a two-man race with the President. The stronger Johnson appears, the more likely are the Republican leaders to choose Rockefeller as a man who can win; the weaker Johnson looks, the more likely are the GOP leaders to accept Nixon, the weaker but more politically desirable candidate.

It looks like it's going to be quite a summer.

When he withdrew from the presidential primary race, Romney preserved some of his bargaining power for the time when the party makes its decision on its candidate for 1968.

ROMNEY'S FIRST step was to withhold flat - out endorsement of New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, despite Rockefeller's early and dedicated work for him.

Despite the results of the New Hampshire primary and other straws in the wind, Romney is still saying it's too early to make guesses on Rockefeller, Richard M. Nixon or California's Gov. Ronald Reagan.

In private polls in New Hampshire the week before his Feb. 28 withdrawal, Romney was trailing behind Nixon, Rockefeller and was one per cent behind Reagan.

This disclosure made it clear the pressure Romney was under as he chose the words that took him out of the race.

ROMNEY, WHOSE political education was a cram course on the presidential primary trail, could afford to muse about Nixon's promise to end the war in Vietnam if elected president.

Young Trees For Reforestration

Young trees and shrubs are being sold through the Conservation Department's Forestry Division in Lansing for this spring's reforestation and game improvement plantings on private lands in Michigan.

Available for spring delivery are nearly six million pine and spruce seedlings and transplants which the Department is offering at approximate production costs to promote timber growing for cash crops, erosion control, and the establishment of farm windbreaks.

The department's lineup of stock, strictly withheld from being used for ornamental plantings, is largely made up of young red pine trees and includes smaller supplies of white pine, jack pine, white spruce, and Norway spruce.

In a continued effort to encourage game habitat work on private lands, the department's list of stock for spring plantings again also features special packets containing 500 seedlings each of such species as autumn olive, multiflora rose. Siberian crab, wild grape, and fragrant sumac.

The packets each consist of 400 hardwoods and 100 conifers and are prices at $8. Four different choices are offered to provide landowners with the best-growing stock for the areas in which they will make plantings.

REV. JAMES DIGGINS

Evangelistic Services Set By Riverside

Spring evangelistic services will be conducted at the Riverside Park Church of God, Plymouth and Newburgh Roads, Livonia, Sunday, March 24, through Friday, March 29.

The Rev. James Diggins, Reed City, Mich. will conduct the services with the Rev. John Albright, Toledo, serving as song evangelist. The services on Sunday will be held at 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. The week night services will be scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Special vocal numbers will be presented at each service. Nursery care will be provided, and the public is invited to at-

St. Paul Shows Film Of Christ

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church of Livonia will present a special showing of an outstanding religious movie, "The Gospel According to St. Matthew," at 7:45 p.m. Friday March 29.

The program is free and open to the public. It will be held in the social hall of the church, 27475 Five Mile.

Filmed in the barren hills of southern Italy and released in 1966, the feature length movie was acclaimed by Richard Schickel in a "Life Magazine" review as "....certainly the best life of Jesus ever placed on film and probably the finest religious film ever made."

Unlike the traditional Hollywood biblical extravaganzas, "The Gospel According to St. Matthew" is a low-budget production, lacking in expensive sets and adornments but accomplishing a stark simplicity with an emotional accuracy far more effective than empty spectacle, Schickel points out.

Film director Pier Paolo Pasolini, who is, incredibly, an Italian Communist, employed amateur actors exclusively, including Enrique Irazoqui, a young Spanish student who is cast in the role of Jesus.

In his review, Schickel observes, "Pasolini has caught the dusty, brutal, ignorant, superstitious tone of daily life as it must have been in a particularly remote and povertystricken backwater of the Roman Empire."

Other Lenten activities to be held at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church include a choir concert on Palm Sunday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m.; a Maundy Thursday Communion Service, April 11, 8 p.m.; a Good Friday Tre-Ore Service, April 12, noon to 3 p.m.; an Easter breakfast, April 14, 8 a.m., and Easter Sunday worship services at 7 a.m., 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Temple Israel Fair Planned

The sisterhood of Temple Israel will present its 17th annual antique Fair and Art Show from 12 noon to 10 p.m. Sunday, March 24, to Tuesday, March 26, in the Temple, 17400 Manderson, Detroit.

An addition to the show this year is a "Boutiquesville" section, with a bit selection of from ten boutique dealers. The other portions of the show will include displays by 160 artists and antique dealers.

Sacred Painting Interpretation Set

Mrs. Victoria Johnson will offer her interpretation of the painting, "Jesus in the Garden," at the general meeting f the Woman's Society of Christian Service in the First Methodist Church of Farming-son on Tuesday, March 26. Luncheon will be served at 12 noon by the Susannah Wes-Ley Circle, and the program will begin at 12:50 with detotions by Mrs. B. Bryce Swiler. Luncheon reservations may be made by calling Mrs. David Robertson at GR 4-7054, or the church office, 474-6573.

Focus: Summer Hope' Fights Racial Tension

Summer Hope" is underway in metropolitan Detroit as the Catholic church's answer to the increasing racial tensions.

The plan is to start the positive approach idea with the Catholic clergy, spread it to members of the parishes throughout greater Detroit and finally work it down to neighborhood meetings.

Out of the project -- in the hope of clergy and laity alike, will come some easing of tension through understanding, and possibly some concrete action to replace talk.

SOME 4,000 PERSONS attended a gathering at the University of Detroit last Sunday to get the project moving. A group of priests and laymen, with the sanction of the Detroit archdiocese community affairs division, already had laid some groundwork with a training session for 40 clergy members. The next move will be talks on the next three Sunday mornings in 140 parishes throughout the area, including St. Alexander's of Farmington.

The Rev. Jerome Fraser, of Sacred Heart Seminary, will be speaking for the three services, explaining the program of Focus: Summer Hope, Father Fraser is one of the leaders of the project, and he and the Rev. Albert Kolch, of St. Alexander, both are among the priests who made special preparations for the project.

Parish meetings will come next. St. Alexander's will get a head start on that phase tonight with a meeting on community activities, a parish project that sets as a long-term effort program similar to Summer Hope:

After the parish meetings, the plan calls for meetings in the homes of parish members. only Catholics but people of all faiths interested in seeing a calm and constructive approach to today's tensions.

The group that got Summer Hope underway said it was doing so to "dispel some of the fear and confusion.

"Because there has been much fear, confusion and misunderstanding," the statement said, "many people have been panicked into most irrational

The statement quoted Archbishop John Deardon as saying:

"The witness that we bear to Christ and to His presence in the world must be felt most strongly in those places where human concerns are most pressing and the status of the human person most depressed.

"That is where Christ would be, and that means he must be there through us."

SET FOR OPEN HOUSE -- These Livonia Ward officers of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints greeted visitors at their new church's open house last weekend. They have led the congregations that did much of the work of building the church, located at Six Mile and Merriman, during recent months. "Can Judaism Survive In America?" is the symposium topic of the second issue of a dynamic new magazine "Humanistic Judaism" recently published by members of the Birmingham Temple.

Published semiannually, the magazine was founded last summer to express the humanist philosophy of the Temple and to examine the religious dilemma which confronts the modern Jew. The initial issue quickly sold out.

Rabbi Sherwin T. Wine, who founded the Birmingham Temple four years ago and who has won national attention for his outspoken views, is the consulting editor, and Marilynn Rosenthal, of Livonia, is editor.

In the lead article, Rabbi Wine contends that "with the disappearance of either antisemitism or Israel, there is no future for Judaism in Amer-

Singer-Executive Will Conduct Trinity Vespers

Vladimir T. Moody, insurance executive and singer from New York, will conduct a Family Vesper service at 6 p.m. Sunday, March 24, in the Trinity Baptist Church, 14800 Middlebelt, Livonia.

Moody, of Jewish parentage, was converted to Christianity in childhood and later adopted by Mrs. Mary Moody, his singing teacher and a cousin of evangelist Dwight L. Moody.

His family disowned him when he was 16 years of age, and he changed his surname from Tabochnic to Moody.

Moody has been an executive with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. for 30 years and has received many awards in estate planning and business insurance fields.

Receives Degree

Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., has announced that Sister Mary Corinne, CSSF, a member of the Felician Order, with headquarters in Livonia, has received a Master of Arts degree in journalism.

Enrolls In DBC

Thomas Green, 11032 Fairfield, Livonia, has enrolled in the Christian Education Course, at Detroit Bible College.

He also is an opera singer and a member of the Long Island Choral Society.

A member of several mission boards, including the Hebrew Christian Alliance and the New York Messanic Witness, he appears widely with Christian businessmen's

His program at Trinity will include both an address and vocal selections. The public is invited by the Rev. Lyle M. Adams, Trinity pastor, to attend the service.

Moody also will speak and sing at the morning service in the Southfield Community Church, 21122 Indian, on Sunday, March 24.

Aid Offered For Jewish Students

Students seeking educational and vocational assistance can now see Jewish Vocational Service counselors at offices of the Jewish Community Center, William M. Wetsman, president of the Jewish Vocational Service, has announced.

Through the cooperation of the Center, JVS counselors will have the use of several offices at the main branch of the Center 18100 Meyers Road, Detroit This should be particularly helpful to persons who can ar-school, Mr. Wetsman said, Appointments for students and adults will, of course, also continue to be available at JVS's main location, 163 Madison Avenue (at John R), Detroit.

Most of JVS's educational and career counseling services can be rendered from its Center offices, including assistance in selecting a college, admission to college, and financial aid for college attendance, Assistance can also be given on maintaining satisfactory grades range appointments only after in college or high school.

Warn Parents To Take Care Of All Drugs

Lansing - Half of the one million accidental poisonings in the United States involve children under five years of age. The Michigan Department of Public Health reported that 7,417 children in this age group were poisoned in the State in Aspirin - and these are not restricted to the baby type are the largest single item reported in cases of accidental ingestions. Parents should pay you: particular attention to the storage of this product, locking them up when not in use and not taking them in front of children.

A statistical analysis of ingestion experience reported to the National Clearinghouse for Poison Control Centers, 1966, indicated a decrease in poisonings by household products, but increased medicine ingestions, as a child approached three years of age.

Interestingly enough, a review of reported clinical cases indicates that children actually were under the supervision of adults in 95% of ingestion incidents. The problem appears that too many parents are unaware of the potential hazards of daily-used products in the home. Also, parents should recognize the relationship between their children's development and the accessibility of various household items.

Lt. Governor William Milliken has commended pharmacists throughout Michigan "for developing and directing public service programs to educate citizens to the hazards of accidental poisonings" in a Poison Prevention Week Proclamation.

"FAMILY HEALTH and Safety" is the theme of this year's Poison Prevention Week observance by the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association, March 17-23.

A survey of four major Poison Control Centers, located in different parts of the country, indicated that during the last observance of National Poison Prevention Week (1967), there was a sharp increase in telephone inquiries as compared with several weeks before and

This may be some measure of effectiveness in alerting the public to the potential hazards of commonly-used products. The best medicine against accidental poisonings is preventive medicine. Vaccines can protect children against such diseases as smallpox, influenza, polio, and even mumps. Parents, however, must protect their children against accidents.

FOR FAMILY HEALTH and Safety, pharmacists remind

-Always keep medicines, poisonous substances and household chemicals out of the reach of children, preferably in a locked cabinet when not in use.

- Store all medicines, poisonous substances and household chemicals separately and in their original, tightly sealed containers.

-Never store non-edible substances in empty food or beverage containers.

-Always read all labels, following 'directions and caution statements carefully. -Use prescription medications only for the patient for whom they were ordered. -Always refer to medicine by its proper name - not "candy". -Clean out medicine cabinets regularly, especially prescription medications no longer required.

-Dispose of medicines and household products by flushing unused portions down the drain and rinsing container before discard-

-Know which substances are dangerous - even many common plants and berries are poisonous.

Enrollment Up

ANN ARBOR -- Enrollment increases in Michigan colleges and universities have exceeded the national average by 62 per cent in the last four years. according to The University of Michigan's Office of Institutional Research.

Undersecretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Wilbur Cohen, who is on leave from the U-M faculty, recently announced that college and university enrollments had gone up 45 per cent between fall 1963 and fall 1967.

New Plymouth Store Has Unusual Service

are two young businessmen in Plymouth who have visions of becoming great successes.

They just may do that. Starting Thursday, Friday and Saturday they are going to have the grand opening of their new men's and boy's clothing store on Main St. in Plymouth directly across from Plymouth Rock in Kellogg Park. The shop appropriately enough for Plymouth is named John Smith.

BOTH FRED AND DON, who were with the purchasing department of a metropolitan store, claim they went into Don Wrigley and Fred Hill business for themselves to try out their own ideas -- of which one is very unique.

> They call it buying clothing by appointment--and that's exactly what anyone can do. Right now they are available for Tuesday evenings in a test run.

> Hill explained that it is a unique and completely different selling technique in the area. It is based on the fact that a lot of people work too late to get to a store during regular store hours.

> Therefore anyone who would like to have a private appointment after the store is closed on Tuesday all they need do is contact one of them and set

'Not Really Domestic,' She Knows Home Ec

An "undomestic" Redford Union senior is Michigan's second-best future homemaker.

Winning second place among 24,830 girls in the Betty Crocker future homemaker contest, Kathy Connell, received a $500 scholarship and a pleasant surprise.

The award was based on "knowledge and attitude" prepared and scored by a Chicago research firm.

Keeping an A-average in school, Kathy has always done well on exams but was surprised because, "I'm not really domestic", she said.

"I GUESS WHAT really helped me on the test was baby sitting since I've been 10. I had to write "How I would manage a family".

"Taking care of the children across the street after school and during the summer, I had to solve quarrels, cook dinner and put the children to bed."

Kathy laughed and added, "I had to guess how many tablespoons make a cup but it was easy for me to write about family management."

MANAGING HER COLLEGE budget will be easy for her too. She is eligible for other scholarships which will help pay her tuition at Ann Arbor.

Her favorite homemaking duty is sewing. And from her latest achievement, she's cut quite a pattern for herself and other future homemakers.

Once a year, at Christmas time, Kathy uses her artistic ability in making decorations for her family's home at 14997 Salem. But usually her energies are spent studying or going to meetings for pep club, ski club, literary club and future teacher's club.

Arlene Reading, Detroit Redford High senior, won first place and received a $1,500 scholarship. She will compete for the national future homemaker award.

So her 12 year-old sister wondered aloud "if there's ever been a kid who didn't want to have a horse.'

Probably very few, the girls agreed. And that led me to wonder later just what is the root of this almost universal desire of childhood. Perhaps the wish to do something utterly impractical? No, I decided, that's a mother's interpretation-the feasibility of stalling and feeding a horse never enters a child's mind. Maybe the desire for something of one's own to love. I know that's very real, but many children who want horses do have pets. And anyway, why not a Great Dane or St.

I decided the wish might well stem from a subconscious wish to return to the simpler life, the challenge of pioneer days.

At least, that was my conclusion until I asked Miss Six, a few days later, why she wanted to buy a horse. The answer was immediate and matter-of-fact.

Red Cross Drive Skips This Area

The tri-county area covered by the United Foundation Torch Drive will not be solicited during the fund-raising campaign currently being conducted by the American National Red Cross. according to S.F. Leahy, chairman of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the Red Cross.

The supplemental Red Cross solicitation, called SOS (Support Our Servicemen), is being held in other parts of the country to cover costs of increased assistance by the Red Cross to members of the armed forces, especially in Vietnam, and their families at home.

Leahy said that the "traditional generosity of Torch Drive contributors and their support of the Red Cross through the United Foundation make it unnecessary to ask them for additional contributions."

The 1968 allocation to the Red Cross of $2,984,908 included an additional $312,908 to provide for increased military and disaster needs. This money came from the United Foundation War Services Fund.

On many occasions in the past, the United Foundation has been able to meet emergency needs of the Red Cross, as well as other agencies, without burdening contributors with additional requests for funds.

Anyone wishing to make an additional contribution may do so by sending their check to 153 E. Elizabeth Street.

Mrs. Helen Milliken, wife of Michigan's Lieutenant governor, was wearing her political hat Monday night as the guest speaker at Redford Township Republican Women's Club.

"I wear a domestic hat with my two children; a student hat with my professor in landscape architecture at Michigan State: and tonight, share a political hat with my husband," she said. "Politics is living. Politics sands of interesting people. Politics for the Lieutenant governor and myself is being committed to good government in Michigan."

Not mentioning her husband's recent publicity and responsibility, thrust upon him by Governor Romney's absence, Mrs. Milliken instead spoke out about social problems and how inthem.

Our Liz Joins Calorie Counters

With calorie-counting becoming a national pastime, The Observer decided to send an official delegate into one of the many gatherings of rady weight-watchers. Farmington staffer Elizabeth Wissman seemed a natural for the assignment--her co-workers have commented that "she munches Metrecal cookies all day." Here's the first installment of her report.

By ELIZABETH WISSMAN

"Hello, Elizabeth -- and how over-weight are you?" That set us back on our heels -- our fat heels.

We had merely called the Weight-Watchers of Eastern Michigan, Inc., to ask permission to cover a gathering of their clan.

Permission was granted and we trekked out to St. Andrew's Church at Telegraph and Maple in a somewhat sceptical frame of mind.

At least, we thought -- one Lane Bryant figure looks very much like another and we can hide in a corner so that nobody will see that we also are fat, fat,

SMALL CHANCE.

We had worn a dress we thought concealed the avoirdupois, but one friendly weightwatcher said on our arrival, "What a great dress. It sure hides your stomach."

Weight watcher sessions start with congenial, instant pandemonium.

The St. Andrews group, 70strong, lined up to pay its $2 dues (paid each week) and then filed in to the scale for the moment of truth. Weights were recorded on each gal's card and all cards were handed to Elaine Lowenthal, of Oak Park, who conducts St. Andrews' meetings. Elaine is as good as any stand-up comedian. But she sells psychology, hitting hard at the unhappiness of being obese. THESE SESSIONS are like

BASICALLY, Weight-Watchers preach self-discipline.

Those who have practiced it enough to have lost weight are commended and encouraged to go on when weight cards are read at each meeting.

It is at this point where the words "legal" and "illegal" are mentioned. One is "legal" if she has stuck to the diet; "illegal" if she has cheated.

Farmington's Mrs. Stidwell Is Great For Beginnings

Mrs. Leonard Stidwell, of Farmington, is a specialist at beginnings.

It's a talent for which her community may well be grateful, for there are organizations all over town that she helped get off the ground.

Just now she's taking over as the first chairman for the Farmington area Girl Scouts in a scouting reorganization that brings four former districts into one area.

LEONA STIDWELL didn't start Girl Scouting in Farmington.

But she was an avid Girl Scout in her childhood, and re-entered the movement when daughter Kathy, now a high school senior, was ready to be a Brownie.

"I put her name on the waiting list like everyone has to around here," Leona said, "and landed on the troop committee as soon as she was accepted. Then I was a co-leader of her cadette troop when she was in junior high-there didn't seem to be anyone else available -- and later neighborhood and district chairman."

SHE HASSEEN a great growth of Girl Scouting in the nearly 17 years the Stidwell family has lived in Farmington,

"There may be more than 100 troops in the area," she added.

"I haven't counted recently." rary (she played a big part in Leona Stidwell, widowed last summer, really doesn't have time to do much counting. Besides her scout post, she's currently heading the program for Youth For Understanding in the Farmington area, an in-

Youth For Understanding group.

This year, as head of the movement for Farmington, she's delighted to count 14 Youth For Understanding visitors living with Farmington families for the year and attending Farmington High, North Farmington, Our Lady of Sorrows and Mercy.

Leona Stidwell's main service to her church -- First Methodist of Farmington -- is conducting a youth membership class for two 10-week sessions in the year, but a few years back she was instrumental in a big 'beginning" there, the formation of the Women's Society of Christian Service from the former Ladies Aid Society.

THEN YOU COULD NAME her active involvement in the Farmington Friends of the Lib-

the library's move from the town hall to its present location) and the Farmington Parent - Teacher Association Council (she was one of its organizers) and even the Farminton Glen Aquatic Club (she terest that began in 1965 when was a charter member and son Dave went to Europe with a helped on the original membership committee.) 'It seems that most of the activities that have interested have involved young people," Leona said, "I guess just find youngsters more fun than playing bridge."

LEONA AND HER FAMILY watched the progress of the Longacre elementary school practically from the ground up when it was built ten years

Before that, Dave and Kathy had been bused to two other Farmington schools, and their mother figures "it didn't hurt them a bit -- the different contacts were really very good for them."

in their school "home" at Longacre, Leona spent a year helping out at the school because principal Larry Gagnon was also teaching sixth grade. Then came organization of very active Longacre PTA,

THE WORK with the Friends of the Library involved helping with a millage issue to finance the move to the building on Farmington roadthat had formerly been occupied by the U.S. Post Office.

Her part in the launching of the swimming club was a matter of saving a lot of driving, she said.

The family had belonged to Kendallwood club, so the younger Stidwells would have a place to swim in the summer, and their mother was very glad to help organize a closer-to-home

THE YEARS of chauffeuring youngsters to swimming pools produced a champion swimmer in the family. Kathy has been winning speed swimming races at a great pace in the last few years, and this spring vacation will go to Pittsburgh to compete in the women's national Amateur Athletic Union champion-

Kathy also plans next fall to enter the University of Michigan -- where she hopes to swim some more and prepare to teach physical education.

Dave, after two years at Oakland University, now is in New York doing research for a publishing firm.

Michigan and national scientists have issued a report that bib overalls, the hoe and the tractor will be obsolete in the 21st century.

Tomorrow's farmer, it develops, won't depend on the whims of mother nature for rain or sun. His crops will grow in an enclosure where climate is controlled.

Upon command from a computer, ultrahigh frequency sounds will break up the ground. This will be followed by heat producing equipment that will kill the weeds. Time pills that go off several months in the future will be placed at strategic places.

Each seed, planted by a mobile robot, will be clustered with the "pills" containing fertilizer, herbicides, insecticides -- plus other things necessary to war on all threats to the crop during growth.

The farmer, as the students figure, only will go into the field twice. Once -- to check on the plant. And once more--at harvest-time.

Heroes In Pickups Patrol State Roads

The colorful night watch of stalled on I-75 in sub-zero early America has not entirely disappeared from the scene.

The watch, subject of a 17th Century Rembrandt painting and Currier and Ives prints of the last century, patrolled cities and villages to warn of fires, floods and natural disasters.

Its modern counterpart, the State Highway Co.nmission's road patrol, doesn't shout anything as spectacular as "the British are coming," but it does perform a valuable service for

Improvement In Bread Asked

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has called on the baking and milling industries to study possible steps toward improving the nutritive value of the nation's bread, and other flour products.

In a letter to the industry, Freeman noted that an Agriculture Department study of what Americans eat showed a decline since 1955 in the number eating "good" diets.

He asked companies in the industry for their views on possible uniform enrichment of all types of flour and bakery products, including calcium in all enrichment mixtures. At present calcium is an optional ingredient in such mixes.

Angry Drivers Cited In Car Safety Study

WASHINGTON -- Drivers who cannot control themselves were called accident problems today and a special center was proposed to help them face the irritations of traffic.

The advisory committee to the National Institute of Public Health cited the "uncontrollable violent behavior of some drivers."

It said the condition "almost cert_'nly contributes to a significant number of automobile crashes.

"The National Institute on Mental Health should establish a center for the study of violent behavior in response to increasing scientific interest in maladaptive behavior of this kind," the panel said.

These and other findings and recommendations were made by a 12-member advisory committee on traffic safety in a report to John W. Gardner, scoretary of Health, Education and Welfare, just before his resignation as secretary.

The committee was appointed in August, 1966. In the following month, President Johnson signed automobile and highway safety bills acclaimed in today's report as "epic legislation."

The committee's chairman was Daniel P. Moynihan, director of the Joint Center for Urban Studies of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard University. Members included Dr. William Haddon Jr., director of the National Highway Safety Bureau in the Department of Transportation.

In recommending a center on violent behavior by the National Institute of Mental Health, a unit of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the committee said:

"WHILE LITTLE can be said with confidence about 'normal' aggressive behavior, it is fairly clear that there are persons who from time to time exper-

Other recommendations of the committee included:

• A massive federal program concentrating on the disease of alcoholism."

• A broad and systematic inquiry" to determine whether driver education programs, as presently operated, are worth the cost and to propose improvements.

· Establishment of a presidential commission to review "the process of accident investigation, enforcement of traffic laws and the litigation of claims from highway crashes."

Private School Aid Dying, But The Issue Remains

Teachers are demanding an equitable salary at least relating to those paid by other districts. Signs are multiplying of massive strikes in the spring and fall.

Teacher strikes are illegal in Michigan but legal means have been found to give them sanction-a refusal to agree to new contracts. Holdouts, in the lexicon of professional base-

The children are the pawns in an economic confrontation that agonizes school board members and parents, legislators and laymen.

JAMES O'NEIL, a Livonian on the State Board of Education, proposes year-around schools. Some public schools are threatening half-day sessions and a cutback in curricula.

Parochial schools, driven to a similar financial wall, are threatening to close and force up to 330,000 more students into the public schools.

Under the state constitution, the state is responsible for the education of children from kindergarten through the 12th grade. After that, parents must foot the bills for college.

Michigan has struggled with the school problem.

Two of the four cents paid on each $1 sales dollar in state tax goes automatically to the schools. When the pinch came in 1959, a portion of the liquor and cigarette tax was diverted to the schools.

The bill in Lansing proposing state aid for nonpublic schools is in a coma. It will not be officially dead for 1968 until the Legislature adjourns. The heart of the bill reads:

"EDUCATIONAL grants of $100 shall be paid annually to the parent or guardian or perparent for each child enrolled in grades nine through twelve in nonpublic schools in Michigan; Provided that the nonpublic school of attendance certifies in writing that the child is regularly enrolled in such school and is enrolled in any four of the following courses of study:

"English, mathematics, science, American history, government, commercial courses, vocational training courses, foreign languages and physical education.

"If the child is enrolled in grades kindergarten through eight, educational grants of $50 shall be paid annually to the parent of each child; Provided that the child is regularly enrolled in the nonpublic school on the fourth Friday after Labor bay and is enrolled in any two of the following courses:

"English or reading, arithmetic or mathematics, science and physical education, as shall be certified in writing by the nonpublic school of attendance. "If the child is enrolled in less than two of the courses the educational grant shall be $25 per course attended. No educational grants shall be paid or used for any course of religious doctrine or worship."

The bill further states that if the nonpublic school is a racially integrated innercity with substantial numbers of economically and educationally deprived children, the grants will be $150 for grades nine through 12 and $75 for grades kindergarten through eight.

Clergymen throughout the northwest suburbs of Detroit issued a bulletin to parishioners in school-supporting churches stating the case for

The bulletins said the churchstate separation issue is not involved since the bill closedly resembles the GI Bill of Rights.

They also pointed to the auxan abandonment of nonpublic iliary services act, passed in 1966, which offers public school services in bus transportation, special education and health and safety areas.

Walk An Extra Mile To Take Off Pounds

the next year?

One way you can do it is to walk an extra mile every day. The American Medical Association's home health book, Today's Health Guide, reports that a walk of just an extra mile per day for 36 days is a "simple, pleasant device for shedding an extra pound of fat." In a year this would mount up to about ten pounds. The extra mile means just that -- a mile of walking in addition to the customary walking you now do each ONCE REGARDEDas a major factor in losing weight, physical activity was later accorded less importance. It was realized that considerable effort was required to shed even one pound of extra tissue.

Would-be reducers found comfort in some expert opinion that calories expended through exercise would be immediately replaced, due to an automatic increase in appetite.

Fortunately for fitness as well as for fatness, exercise has been restored to grace and enjoys respectability. Exercise helps expend calories; within the usual range of activity, it need not stimulate appetite excessively.

The energy output required to

For High Ceiling

High ceilings can be made to look lower by applying a chair rail molding along the upper part of walls. To get proportions right, set the chair rail's lower edge 1/14th of the distance from ceiling to floor.

Childproof Wall

Resawn lumber paneling is great for hallways because it's childproof--won't show finger-proximately 3,500 calories, but the weight need not be lost all at once.

Instead of the exhausting, often impossible, 36-mile hike within a span of hours, a walk of just one extra mile a day for 36 days will get rid of that extra pound. Weight gain usually is relatively slow, and the extra mile will -- for most of us --help keep our weight down to a reasonable figure.

EXERCISE ALSO furthers physical, mental, psychological, and social fitness. It provides an outlet for emotional tensions, promotes self-confidence, wholesome social activity, and good sportsmanship. It enhances the sense of general well-being that enables us to confront and master a reducing regimen.

To be effective for both weight reduction and for general physical conditioning, exercise must be a regular part of your way of life, and not something that is overdone spasmodically.

So, if you want to lose ten pounds in the next year, just arrange to walk that extra mile

Reunion Planned

Plans for a 10th anniversary reunion of the 1958 class of the former Detroit High School of Commerce at Hillcrest Country Club are underway.

Mrs. Barbara Romaniak Dziubik said the committee had contacted 200 of the 300 graduates. Others may get tickets by calling her at 755-4655.

That is the warning from Dr. R. Keith Arnold, dean of University of Michigan School of Natural Resources.

He was joined by Milton Bergman, State Conservation lepartment fire chief, in presenting the threat to the Michigan Conservation Commission.

Tea Keeps Rabbits Healthier

A recently-completed study of tea-drinking rabbits in California indicates that tea may help to prevent the development of atherosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries. When experimental animals were maintained for three months on a diet consisting of rabbit chow with three per cent vegetable oil and 0:25 per cent cholesterol they developed atherosclerosis. This group was then given tea with the high-fat diet for two months, after which they showed much less sclerosis than a control group of tea-less animals. Research on humans had previously shown that cholesterol levels are lower in tea-drinking Clanese than in European and Americans. Excessive colfee drinking has been related to coronary attacks.

The scientists say that tea cannot reverse atherosclerosis that has progressed to what is considered a late stage. They say the tea should be given immediately after a meal with fat or at the same time. Dis. Wer Young, Robert L. Hotovec and Arthur G. Romero or the bro-chemical division of the Lawrence Badiation Laboratory, University of Cal-Hornia at Livermore, report the sondy in the Dec. 9 issue of Nature.

Good Weather Brings More Ducks To State

LANSING -- Michigan's weather this season is apparently more to the liking of ducks than it was a year ago because state and federal game men counted nearly 61,000 birds wintering in Lower Peninsula open waters in early January.

Latest duck sightings were up about 24,000 from January, 1967, when many of the state's wintering areas for waterfowl were sealed shut with ice.

As every winter, the most recent duck tallies by personnel of the Michigan Conservation Department and U.S. Bureau of port Fisheries and Wildlife were part of a continentwide inventory designed to measure the hirds' brood stock for this spring.

Despite a 65 per cent increase in the number of birds they saw, Department game men are not jumping to any conclusions that duck populations may be substantially higher this

AS A MATTER of fact, their recent contacts with game men in other states indicate that duck numbers may actually be down in light of the poor seasons reported in many other parts of the Mississippi Fly-

"About the only thing we can say for sure at this point is that our latest survey counts directly reflect weather conditions, not duck abundance," reports Ed Mikula, the Department's waterfowl specialist.

"We've learned from experience," he adds, "that when wintering areas freeze up like they did last year, we don't have as many birds as when there are open waters."

THIS WINTER'S most significant change from 1967 was a 23,000 increase in scaup, most of which were found concentrating in open waters of the Lower Detroit River. The river's bigger buildup of scaup almost singly accounted for Lower Michigan's higher overall count.

Mikula notes that more scaup have been using the Detroit River in the fall during recent years, and it appears that when conditions remain open, many of them are staying there through the cold-weather months.

Also seen in greater numbers this January were canvasbacks and mallards. Canvasbacks were estimated at nearly 9,000 as against about 1,900 a year ago while mallard numbers were placed at about 7,000, some 200 higher than in 1967.

All other species of ducks -- black ducks, buffleheads, redhead ducks, goldeneyes, mergansers--were below last winter's levels.

MIKULA REPORTS that he and other Department game men won't know what Michigan's counts mean in terms of duck ups or downs until survey results of all other states can be pieced together into one big picture for the entire conwinter waterfowl inventory, and war games.

state and federal game men reported seeing 2.820 Canada geese and 40 swans in this state. Last year, they counted nearly 6,000 honkers and 295 swans. Unlike ducks, Canada geese are essentially upland feeders and Mikula speculates that more of them were pushed south than a year ago by snow cover which blanketed many areas during last month's survey.

The IIEC program is a the $7,000,000 cooperative undertaking launched last April by Ford Motor Company and Mobil Oil Corporation, Since then five other major petroleum companies -- American, Atlantic Richfield, Marathon, Sohio and Sun--have joined the threeyear search for a fuel-engine system that will eliminate automotive emissions as a problem. HEC is one of the largest private research ventures ever undertaken.

The 15 projects -- 13 of which are under way--include studies of high-efficiency reactors, fuel additives, exhaust recirculation, induction system modifications, experimental gasolines, and fuel-and water-injection systems.

WILLIAM D. INNES, Ford vice president-Manufacturing Group, said, "The project is now fully staffed, projects are being assigned to member companies and most of the research

Pesticides, Heat Danger To Lake

Michigan Conservation Director Ralph A. MacMullan has called for a tough line to be taken against highly-persistent pesticides and urged that a hard look be taken at thermal pollution and oil discharges by ships to keep Lake Michigan from being turned into a modern-day "dead sea."

Testifying before the Federal Conference on Pollution of Lake Michigan, in Chicago, the department's leader pointed to a need to "stringently control" pesticide residues in the lake's basin, with particular tightening-up on the use of persistent or so-called "hard" chemicals.

SAID MacMULLAN:

"We have identified seven of these chemicals -- DDT, Dieldrin, Aldrin, Endrin, Heptachlor, Lindane, and Chlordane --which we believe should be either banned entirely or used only under the most careful controls."

He went on to say there are safer chemicals such as Malathion and Methoxychlor which, in most cases, provide acceptable substitutes for what have been labeled as "the dirty sev-

MacMullan reported that Michigan fisheries men are concerned about the possible impact that pesticides could have on coho salmon.

* * *

RECENT ANALYSES of DDT residues in coho salmon and their eggs from Lake Michigan showed concentrations in the fish flesh of from one to five parts per million and in the eggs from one to three parts per million.

Also, some coho fry hatched from eggs taken from Lake Michigan salmon last fall are showing typical symptoms of pesticide poisoning and the young fish are dying in larger than normal numbers in the department's hatcheries. There are other possible reasons for the coho die-offs, including virus diseases and the deficiency of iodine or thiamin in the tiny fish. Tests are being made in an effort to uncover the cause.

"We cannot say for sure that DDT contamination is detrimentally affecting our Lake Michigan coho salmon," explained the Department's Director, "but we are much concerned."

He estimated that DDT concentrations in Lake Michigan are close to the danger point as they might affect coho survival, adding that "we most certainly cannot stand a buildup" of these chemical levels.

THE CONFERENCE'S delegates were also advised by MacMullan that they should give serious thought to the threat of thermal pollution posed by the reportedly planned operation of 10 giant nuclear stations along Lake Michigan's shores by the mid-1970's.

He explained that these thermonuclear plants require enormous volumes of water for cooling and, in the-process, heat that water to high temperatures before discharging it. One moderate-size plant under study would use half a billion gallons of water each day and raise the discharged tives to obtain their permiswater's temperature 28 de- sion for a transplant if the

Although there are questions to answer on this score, Mac-Mullan drew from his background as a professional biologist to predict that any per-

> In a speech to the Michigan Health Planning Conference Dr. Vlado A. Getting of the U-M School of Public Health outlined the growth of federal involvement in community health

> He said it evolved from early federal concern with the health of military forces, Indians, and the merchant marine. But recent legislation has opened vast fields of state and local health problems to federal control.

DR. GETTING said the new laws intend to give the consumer "a major voice in both state and area-wide health plans," particularly when these plans are supported by federal funds. He advised doctors to "seek a place on boards of health, boards of directors, and advisory committees."

He made particular reference to the 1966 Comprehensive Health Planning Act (PL 89-749), but he said the trend began with the adoption of the Social Security Act of 1935 "when the federal government initiated its present march into the arena of health services."

Transplant? Put It On Bracelet

TURLOCK, Calif. -- Medic Alert Foundation is making it simpler for a dying patient to donate his heart for transplant so another might live.

For 14 years, the non-profit organization has distributed bracelets to persons suffering particular medical problems to aid treatment in case of emergency. Now the foundation is providing special bracelets for those wishing to donate an organ after they die.

THE BRACELETS, inscribed with Medic Alert's insignia, list the wearer's transplant desire and the telephone number of the foundation's headquarters here in Turlock.

Hospital personnel finding the bracelet on a person near death are instructed to call Medic Alert any time of the day or night, and the organization immediately will put them in touch with the wearer's nearest relapatient dies.

This Quick Company Casserole recipe is great to have on hand for emergencies. When late afternoon guests unexpectedly drop in you can inquire casually. "Why don't you stay to supper?" The casserole is a hearty, tasty combination of ground beef, canned stewed tomatoes and rice, flavored with onion, bouillon, and spicy Tabasco sauce—the liquid red pepper seasoning that adds zest to so many meat dishes. Shape the beef into balls, put all the ingredients in your prettiest casserole for table serving, pop it in the oven, and relax for the next hour.

Quick Company Casserole

1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes

1 pound ground beef

1/4 cup minced onion

2 teaspoons salt, divided 1 bouillon cube 3/4 teaspoon Tabasco, divided 1 cup hot water 1 cup uncooked rice Combine beef, onion, 1 teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon Tabasco; shape into 8 meat balls. Roll in rice; place in greased 2-quart casserole. Combine remaining 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco with stewed tomatoes; pour over meat balls. Dissolve bouillon cube in water and pour over casserole. Sprinkle with remaining rice. Cover; bake in 350°F. oven 1 hour, 10 minutes or

THE IMPORTED CANADIAN WHISKY

WITH THE ROYAL TASTE

Blended Canadian Whisky-80 Proof-Imported by Jas. Barclay Importers, Detroit, Michigan

Seek Definition Of 'Bourbon'

the taste buds that determines whether the whisky in your highball is bourbon.

There's a flap going on in Washington these days over the definition of bourbon -- some folks want to change it, others want to keep it just the way it

By government regulation of some 30 years ago, bourbon whisky is the distilled product from a mash made up of at least 51% corn, less than 160 proof (80% alcohol) and stored in new, charred oak barrels.

THE EMPHASIS is on the word "new."

Straight bourbon whisky must be stored in new charred oak kegs for at least two years and can be bottled at 80 proof or higher. Bonded bourbon must be stored in new, charred oak barrels for at least four years and bottled at 100 proof or higher.

If the distilled product is taken off the still at 160 proof or higher, it is known as neutral spirits.

It's the barrel as much as known as a light whisky, so some distillers put it away in used charred oak kegs. The emphasis is on the word

Anything stored in used kegs can't be called bourbon and when bottled, the labels must state that the liquor has been stored in used kegs. If neutral spirits and bourbon are mixed, it is a blended whisky and labels on the bottle must

NOW, SOME DISTILLERS want a change in definitions. Some want to allow any shisky stored in new or used charred oak casks to be called bourbon, and to claim age. Others want to abolish the requirement that whisky stored in used kegs must be so labeled on the bottle.

Heavy opposition comes from other distillers who produce the famous old brand-name bourbons and also from the cooperage industry which manufactures the oak kegs.

Opposing distillers contend that if it isn't stored in new Neutral spirits doesn't dark- charred oak kegs, it just can't

SAN FRANCISCO -- Civil damage juries are coming back with "more adequate reward" and Attorney Melvin Belli's rooftop cannon is smoking.

Belli, who made his name as "King of Torts" for damage claim victories in court, has written the book.

It is called "The Law Revolt" damage verdicts. The volume also makes the law plain, in Belli's colorful language, for the layman.

When he wins a case, Belli mounts the stairway to his office rooftop and fires off a small cannon.

Belli, who defended Jack bility. Ruby for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, has probably won more money for his clients in personal injury suits than any lawyer in history.

"There is a law revolt, or revolution if you will, going on in this country and Belli is at the forefront," said the 59vear-old lawyer who has successfully represented Marie ("The Body") McDonald, Mae West, Errol Flynn and Tony

Since that time, Belli has won verdicts up to $385,000 and holds records for having won the biggest awards ever recorded in California, Alaska, Hawaii, Montana, Nevada, Kentucky and Maine. Start by nailing Douglas fir 1x1s vertically over the screened inset, spacing them two inches apart. Then cut twoinch-long pieces of 1x1-inch fir and fit them crosswise between the vertical pieces. Vary the spacing and placement of cross pieces to make a pleasing pattern.

Building the screen door grille is a matter of just an hour or so.

Keep Muscles Busy And Keep Alive

the best ways known to medical science of averting or delaying heart attack or stroke.

The Michigan Heart Association says this is because lack of exercise is one of the more important of the coronary risk factors -- those medical conditions or habits associated with increased risk of the artery blockage, which causes most heart attacks.

Lack of exercise, like the other preventable risk factors -- cigarette smoking, overweight, and a high cholesterol level and blood pressure--has been spotlighted by studying the health histories of whole populations of various cities and areas.

IN CONTRAST to the other risk factors which can be gauged, accurately measuring the exertion of large groups of normal people is virtually impossible.

But statements such as, 'he never walked if he could ride," or 'he walked 10 miles every day," have made it clear that men who exercise get fewer heart attacks, get them later in life, and make a better recovery afterwards than those who refuse physical activity.

This conclusion is confirmed by the well known study of the busmen of London, England, where the buses are double decked. The drivers, who sit on the job, got many more heart attacks than the conductors who walked constantly in the aisles and up and down stairs to collect fares. Comparisons of sedentary workers with laborers in some Chicago industries showed the same results.

THERE ARE several reasons known--and more unknown--as to why exercise benefits the heart. Most important, according to the Association, is collateral circulation, which can occur in any part of the human

Emmett Leith Receives Award

BEDFORD, MASS, -- University of Michigan Prof. Emmett Leith was presented with the Daedalian Minuteman Award at Hanscom Field here on Saturday Jan. 20.

He resides at 14450 Oxford in Plymouth.

Daedalian Minuteman Wing flight captain and base commander Henry Dittman, an Air Force colonel, presented the award in recognition of "an individual who we feel has made the most outstanding contribution in the field of electronics."

LEITH IS assistant head of the radar and optics laboratory of U-M's Willow Run Laboratories. His work has been in the areas of radar, microwaves, synthetic aperture radar systems, communication theory, data processing, and coherent optical systems.

Leith and a Willow Run research colleague, Juris Upatnieks, are responsible for the renewed national interest in holography (lenseless photography).

The Daedalians are a group of Armed Forces pilots or their sons. Their membership includes the present Air Force commanders and the Air Force chief of staff. The group carries on educational, scientific, and charitable work.

The trophy symbolizing the award will be on permanent display in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Computer Pegs Cost Of Roads

Michigan's 83 country road commissions have united to set up the nation's first computerized system to tabulate local road costs, according to Robert Scott, Alpena, whose Scott Engineering Company assists the County Road Association of Michigan in developing efficiency studies.

The cost accounting system, developed in cooperation with the State Treasury Department, gives county road commissions yaluable data to help them better manage local road opera--tions.

One of the benefits of the cost accounting analysis is to enable commissions to establish accurate equipment charges, Scott said. Michigan's county road commissions now spend approximately $30 million or 21 per cent of annual income for replacement, maintenance, and operation of some 17,600 pieces of road equipment.

STUDIES SHOW THE value of county road equipment has gone up 41 per cent since 1959 but increased efficiency has held cost of direct repairs to a gain of only five per cent. However, analysis shows also that countries have been under such pressure for new road construction that adequate reserves have not been set aside for future equipment replacement, Scott said.

THE MICHIGAN computer program already has become a model unmatched by any other state. Data fed into computers is supplied voluntarily by each county road department.

Ford Sales Set Record

Ford Division set sales records in new cars and new trucks for the Feb. 21-29 period, during which total sales were 60 per cent higher than in 1967. Total sales for the month also set a new record. Ford dealers sold 58,600 cars, up 58 per cent over the corresponding 1967 period, and 21,138 trucks, 63 per cent more than a year ago. The combined total of 79,738 was almost 30,-000 units greater than the 49,970 sold in the same 1967 period, which had one less selling day. The daily sales rates for the period were 7,325 for cars and 2,642 for trucks, both records, against 5,290 cars and 1,848 for trucks a year ago.

Traffic Up On Big Span At Mackinac

ST. IGNACE-Good driving weather, coupled with increased winter sports activity, raised February Mackinac Bridge traffic and revenue to the highest ever recorded for the second month of the year, the Mackinac Bridge Authority reports.

Prentiss M. Brown, Bridge Authority chairman, said 32,-367 vehicles crossed the bridge. an increase of 8.9 percent compared with February, 1967, and nearly double the 16,684 vehicles crossing the Straits in February, 1957, the last year of state ferry operation. Revenues were up 10 percent.

Brown said February passenger car - trailer combinations increased 85 percent over last February due largely to cars pulling snowmobile

Mackinac Bridge traffic was up eight percent in January. The International Bridge at St. Ignace recorded another big month in February as 25,939 vehicles crossed the span, an increase of six percent over February, 1967.

James E. Brophy, Bridge Authority Chairman, said the number of vehicles was the highest for a February since the bridge was opened in 1962.

"A portion of the increase can be attributed to the extra Leap Year Day, but there has also been a noticeable increase in truck traffic this winter," he International Bridge traffic was up nine percent in January.

February Road Toll Shows Hike

Michigan traffic deaths in February numbered 124, an increase of 19 or 18 per cent over 105 for the same month a year ago, according to State Police provisional figures.

The February toll was one less than the average of 125 the five years 1963-67.

IT BROUGHT the accumulated deaths for the first two months to 248, which was 12 or five per cent more than 236 for the same period in 1967. The two-month count this year included February's extra day which provisionally is charged with only one death, Delayed death reports will increase somewhat the totals for February and the first twomonth period.

Meanwhile, more complete records show that the death count for all of 1967 has increased to 2,123, which is 173 below the all-time high of 2,296 recorded in 1966.

know, and has been unable, after diligent search and inquiry, to ascertain the names of those persons who are included as respondents and defendants herein without being named other than as being included in the phrase "or his unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns."

8. That Petitioner herewith gives notice that Petitioner will apply to the Court, following a determination by the Commissioners, to be appointed, that the necessity of taking has been established in favor of Petitioner and for the purposes named in this Petition, for an order authorizing Petitioner immediately to occupy the premises herein sought to be acquired, pending further proceedings herein. Such application will be in accordance with the provisions of Section 2h of said Act No. 238 of the Public Acts of 1923, as amended, the same being Michigan Statutes Annotated (Supp.), Section 22.1672(8).

WHEREFORE, the Petitioner prays:

(a) That an order be made by the Court fixing a date for the hearing of this Petition and requiring each and all of the persons referred to and set forth in Schedules A, B and C attached hereto and made a part hereof, as owning or having an interest in the lands, or any part thereof, described in said Schedules A, B and C, and all other persons interested in said parcels of land, and the rights therein, or any part thereof, to appear and answer this Petition and show cause, if any they have, against the

(b) That upon the hearing of the Petition, the Court shall appoint three disinterested freeholders, who are residents of the County, as Commissioners, to ascertain and determine the necessity of the proposed public use, the necessity of acquiring and using the interests in land hereinabove described for the purposes named and the just compensation to be paid therefor by Petitioner to the owner or owners thereof, as his, her, their, and/or its respective interests therein appear or are made to appear, as and for his, her, their, and/or its just compensation for the interests in land sought to be taken by this proceeding, and to perform such other duties as are assigned and provided to be performed by such Commissioners by said Act 238 of the Public Acts of 1923, as amended.

(c) That upon the hearing on this Petition, the Court shall fix a time and place for the first meeting of such Commissioners and require their or reports.

(d) That the Court shall instruct the Commissioners to first determine the necessity of taking the interests in land described in this Petition and its exhibits, Schedule A, Schedule B and Schedule C, for the purposes named in this Petition, and if the necessity of taking is determined by the Commissioners in favor of Petitioner, the Court thereupon shall entertain proof by affidavit or otherwise as to the reason for requiring an immediate and speedy occupation, and upon the hearing on such issue, the Court instruct the Commissioners to make a preliminary determination or estimate of the amount of damages or just ing or having an interest in compensation likely to accrue from such condemnation, and thereupon grant to Petitioner an order authorizing Petitioner to occupy and take the interests in land described in said Peticels are as set forth in said tion and its exhibits, Schedule Schedule A, Schedule B and A, Schedule B, and Schedule C upon the compliance by the Petitioner with the indemnifi-

Crime, specifically narcotics and juvenile delinquency, will become the major issue in the local race for mayor. An exemplary performance by the Police Department's vice squad, sadly understaffed, hugely overworked, has cooled the drug scene locally with an unparalleled court record of more than 70 convictions out of 90 cases.

Miss Beck. Vandalism, alone, will afford him no end of political stones...$20,000 in park playground equipment destroyed last year, including 20 public park benches burned; $29,-000 worth of windows broken in Livonia schools; an unprecedented wave of destruction during Halloween; an all-time number of vandalism complaints at Christmas time, a saddening commentary of the times. Even the Christmas tree lights stolen from in front of City Hall.

There's trouble ahead for Livonia's current housing boom....a building trades strike expected to pull the roof in in May. Last year, 954 new homes were built here and industrial and commercial construction amounted to $28.5

This year, to date, the boom includes 300 new homes, 70 per cent of them in the $30,000 class range. In the coming strike, carpenters will seek a $9.25 hourly wage stretched out in three $1.50 hourly increases in the next two years.

Livonia's fire departmentanswers an average of 50 calls a year to rescue kids locked in bathrooms. That's more calls than the department had in fire alarms in the first year of its existence. That year they had 36 runs. In comparison, the department made 1,755 runs last year, 901 of them on fires, (Total estimated loss: $381,-000), -- 257 on resuscitator calls, and 520 involving emergency rescue work and first aid. There were 87 false alarms in 1967, the latter category always showing a marked tendency to increase immediately following safety lectures to school children.

The price of a $7,000 pumper then has risen to $20,000 now, and there have been numerous other changes over the years except for Fire Chief CALVIN ROBERTS. He's been on the job as chief ever since the doors to Livonia's first fire house opened in November, 1941. Roberts got the job in a most roundabout manner.

The first piece of equipment was purchased by a group of citizens who suddenly remembered they had no place to store

He was operating a service station and they asked if they could park the truck there. In order for him to move the truck out of his garage during the working day, he had to join the volunteer department because of insurance regulations. Then they elected him chief because he was always handiest to the fire engine. Later, in 1947, the City's first fire house was a garage he built at his home at 11680 Merriman and rented to the City for $25. He's never been far away from a fire engine since.

Any number of people claim they breathe a lot easier when they get back home to Livonia after a trip to Detroit. Fact is, air pollution here is as low as 12 tons (a high of 20 tons) of dust per square mile per month. Compare this to some downriver communities, including South Dearborn, where the atmosphere carries as high as 120 tons every 30 days of the year. Livonia, Plymouth and Northville have the cleanest air in all of Wayne County.

For lulls in conversation: Livonia has the largest storm drains in Michigan, some measuring 13 feet six inches in diameter and weighing 29 tons. Question: A lady on Orangelawn telephoned to inquire why-the City has failed to tear down resecure them, that eventually an old eyesore of a house gutted by fire on her street.

Answer: A few other neighbors asked the same thing along with the question of how a fourfamily dwelling could be built in a neighborhood zoned for single residences. The Observer went to Chief Inspector FRANK A. KERBY of Livonia's Bureau of Inspection for the answer. The house, at 33665 Orangelawn, was built before 1952 when the zoning ordinance went into effect which makes its four-family occupancy valid though nonconforming.

In a fire on Sept. 29, 1967, it was damaged in excess of 50 per cent assessed valuation and an application by the owners to rebuild it was denied by the Bureau of Inspection. Kerby's office ordered the building boarded up and secured against trespass on Oct. 3, 1967, and torn down within 90 days. The owners had complied with the order to board it up by Oct. 18, and on Jan. 9, 1968, they requested an extension of the razing order because of an insurance dispute. The extension was granted to April 8, 1968. In the meantime, an Observer reporter discovered that vandals had broken into the burnt out structure by removing boards that covered the rear door and a window. Kerby has ordered the owners to resecure the property within 48

Last year, Kerby's office condemned 40 such houses wnich, he explains, are usually "tired, worn out buildings not fit for human habitation and a menace both to occupants and neighbors." But you don't just arbitrarily tear a house down for truly by law and Constitution a man's home is, indeed, his castle.

It takes a court order and usually about six months to accomplish the fact, and then the case must be proven far beyond a reasonable point. Vacant homes of any type attract vandals, Kerby says. One on Plymouth Rd., west of Farmington, standing vacant while its owner awaited renters or buyers, was broken into and set afire twice.

It now has been condemned and boarded up. The boarded windows and doors are designed to protect neighborhood children from an "attractive nuisance" and to keep out undesirable persons. Biggest problems are teen-agers breaking in and such places are broken into so often, and so many orders reissued to owners to the owners tear them down out of desperation. The Pureau of Inspection under Kerby enforces various building codes and ordinances and last year

The Things We Say

By RUBY SHANNON

"Gossip" means to chatter or to talk idly, usually about the affairs of others. A person who indulges in this idle talk is also called a gossip.

Used as a verb or a noun, 'gossip" does not have a good connotation.

In the days when it was customary for the royalty in Old England to have godparents for their children, the persons so designated were called God-sibbes (sibbe meaning related).

In his play. "Two Gentle-men of Verona." Shakespeare had one of the players say:

'Tis not a maid, for she hath had gossips (sponsors for her child): yet 'tis a maid, for she is her master's servant and serves for wages.'

Godparents were usually chosen from distant relatives. Since they did not see the other relatives except at rare intervals, there was usually much small talk and exchange of news at a christening.

This led to the general impression that god-sibbes were idle chatterers. In time, their name was adopted for anyone engaged in idle talk.

DOCILE DONOR -- Rabbi David Jessel of Livonia showed nothing but enthusiasm when he received a needle in one arm and a pin on his shirt pocket last week at an American Red Cross blood-donor station. The rabbi received an "eight gallon" pin while giving his 61st pint of blood to the Red Cross. With him were Mrs. Robert (Judith) Gunther, left, regional manager for the Red Cross, and Mrs. Wylna Johnston, assistant chief nurse at the temporary donor station at Livonia Mall.

Scene was the Livonia Mall, where nurses and officials of the Northwest Regional Office, American Red Cross, last week set up tables and temporary screens amidst the flow of shopper traffic to recruit blood donors of all ages.

JESSEL, youthful rabbi of Temple Beth Am, was one of the first in line.

A blood donor since 1952, when he was a student at the University of Toronto, Rabbi Jessel has received a whole lapel-full of what the Red Cross calls "gallon pins," awarded donors for giving from one to ten gallons of blood.

The rabbi was awarded his eighth gallon pin at the Mall donor station.

At the risk of seeming pompous, I must say that at times I feel a bit allpowerful. Or maybe "drunk with power" would be a better way to phrase it?

These systems do more than just cool or heat your home. Much more. They do just about everything to the air but breathe it for you. # Electric Home Heating Booms

If you're not already living tanks are needed. in an electrically-heated home, there's a good chance you will be within the next dozen years. The big switch to electric heat in new homes and conversions--which mushroomed from 300,000 to 3 million in the past ten years--is still going strong. The Federal Power Commission estimates that by 1980 the figure will climb to 19 million. Reasons for the growing preference for electric heat are: greater cleanliness, quiet and comfort, individual thermostats which allow heat control for every room, low-cost installation, reductions in electricity fees, and space saving--since no bulky furnaces or storage

TRY THE UNUSUAL

Sometimes it pays to throw away the "book" when fishing and try the unconventional. Imagination and a willingness to experiment when fish won't bite often produces results when all the proven methods

Breaking the so-called rules when they are unworkable is the mark of a wise and usually successful angler, say the fishing experts at Mercury outboards. And, although such things may seem strange or comical, they may be well worth the small effort it takes to give them a try.

A tree is a good example. Usually its overhanging branches are a problem, and frequently you'll find a limb that's been decorated with glittering ornaments by erring casters. Yet, this same limb can be a blessing in disguise.

Using strong line, try casting a fly or bug over the branch and permit it to dance lightly on the surface directly below. It sometimes proves just the thing to excite a reluctant battler. Boating a fish hooked in this manner is more a matter of power than finesse, and you may lose more than you land, but it will work on occasion.

IN NEW HOMES, the use of electric heat also assures better construction because of the high-quality structural requirements set for houses with

For example, full thermal insulation is a basic requirement for homes in which electric heat is installed. This means proper insulation in walls, ceilings and floors in order to cut heat loss, keep fuel bills down, and allow the heating system to operate at maximum efficiency.

Another requirement is proper windows and doors. Electric utilities strongly recommend sash and frame materials that provide 'no continuous metallic path from the inside of the structure to the outside air," efficient weatherstripping, and either insulating glass or storm sash over single-glazed win-

TO MEET THESE recommendations, builders generally select quality wood windows, such as ponderosa pine units which are factory-weatherstripped, obtainable with insulating glass in all styles, and come in stock sizes.

Wood windows are the most practical choice because they are extremely low conductors of heat and offer the best prowith 80 per cent glass area the decor of the house. loses as much as 22 per cent less heat than the same size window in a metal frame.

The addition of tight weatherstripping is estimated to cut by half the amount of heat loss through air infiltration. And, insulating glass--two panes of glass sealed into the wood sash with an insulating layer of air between--not only cuts heat loss, but eliminates the danger of condensation which can be caused by the healthful, but relatively high, level of humidity present in electrically-heated homes.

This triple protection of wood sash, insulating glass and weatherstripping is readily obtainable in stock ponderosa pine windows. Ponderosa pine combination storm doors are also used extensively in electrically-heated homes because they meet the electric utility standards of good insulation and effective weatherstripping.

Inter-changeable storm and screen panels are efficient and easy to store.

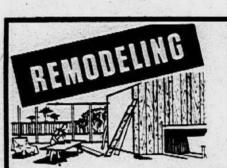

BOTH DOORS and windows have the additional advantage of being factory-treated with a chemical preservative that guards against weather abuse

School Crisis Looms In Nankin Mills Move

Nankin Mills Public School District, in essence bankrupt, has asked for emergency reorganization which would transfer 2,080 students into the Livonia School District and add another estimated one mill to the annual bill of the Livonia

Another 1,670 Nankin Mills students would be taken over by the adjacent district of Wayne Community Public Schools.

The request has been made by the Nankin Mills Board of Education under Act 239 which was passed by last year's Legislature and which set up also the State Committee for the Reorganization of School Districts to which the request was directed.

lation today of 34,000 and is growing. Its costs of operations this year is expected to reach $22,323,630 which will put it in the red by $300,000, the first deficit of its history.

Wayne, with its expanding school enrollment now at 20,409 is projecting a bare $3,000 balance this year with an operating budget of $12,350,000 according to Superintendent Harry Howard. The district has never yet been in the red, he year of $2.1 million, has carried a deficit of approximately $350,000 over the last three years, according to its superintendent, D. Harlan Hudgins.

The district is presently levying 38.8 mills and for years supported the highest school tax of any district in Michigan because of an exceptionally low state equalized valuation due to an industrial tax base of less than 1 per cent, Its equalized valuation figure this year is $23 million compared to Livonia's $490 million and Wayne's $191 million (Livonia's school district presently levies a total of 33.97 mills: Wayne's total school levy is 37,60 mills.)

Nankin Mills, with five elementary schools and one junior high school, has a total enrollment through the ninth grade of 3,270, but its low equalized valuation has made it financially impossible for the district to build a senior high school.

It presently is sending approximately 480 students to Livonia on a tuition basis.

Livonia has accepted the Nankin Mills high school students for the past 10 years but in February advised Nankin Mills that because of a lack of space and its own growing school population the acceptance of tuition students will be discontinued after the 1968-69 school year, Nankin Mills sophomore class.

Wayne's board of education put the question of annexation to the Wayne District's voters. Six months ago, it was turned down by a vote of 16 to 1.

Livonia's board of education gave the annexation request a flat no.

"Our position has been very firm," Business Administrator Rolland H. Upton said this week, "We don't want any more problems than we have."

Livonia has a school popu-said. In its request for emergency reorganization, the Nankin Mills board of education would seek to have the school district north of Edward Hines Parkway with an enrollment of 2,080 kindergarten through twelfth grade students, attached to the Livonia School District, The school area south of the Parkway, with 1,670 students, would join the Wayne District.

"We have balanced the budget each year but we've carried a deficit of $350,000 the last three years and there has to be a stop somewhere," explained Nankin Mills Superintendent Hudgins.

"We're in the same boat a lot of school districts are now in," he said, "We won't be forced to close our doors but its very hard to raise money and we are actually in a state of emergency for cash purposes. "We could continue as we

Woman Balks At DrinkTest

LANSING -- A 25-year-old Detroit woman is the first person in Michigan to refuse twice to take sobriety tests under the state's implied consent law.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said he would not divulge the woman's name, 'because she may have a drinking problem" and "we may be able to help her."

He said he would ask driver improvement personnel to recommend that she be examined and possibly referred to one of the Seminars on Alcohol Related Traffic Violations now going on in the Detroit area.

In the first arrest, which Hare said took place last Nov. 30, the woman appealed and was denied by the license appeal board, "Consistent with the law, our department suspended her until May 12, 1968."

She was apprehended the second time on February 5. As of Thursday, Feb. 29, she had not made a request for appeal on the second refusal.

She faces additional suspension or revocation on the basis of driving while under suspension, driver improvement officials noted.

Since the first of the year, a total of 182 persons were denied and were suspended for 90 days under the law. Only 36 appeals were granted and these persons must still face court action on alleged charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

are for a number of years," Hudgins observed, "but neither the administration nor the board of education could be satisfied under such circumstances. And we can see in the future where it will become increasingly more difficult to continue in this manner," he said.

"The most beneficial thing for the children is to reorganize Nankin Mills with a district having a better valuation so that they can be assured of an education from kindergarten through high school," Hudgins concluded.

Hudgins admitted the dividing of Nankin Mills' students between Livonia and Wayne will mean that both districts will be forced to raise school taxes.

"And certainly they're going to have to have more state support," he added.

Wayne's Howard declined to comment until after the next meeting of the Wayne Board of Education on March 25 when "we will have to analyze the impact," he told the Observer reporter.

"It was our hope this could be stalled off for awhile," said Upton, "It is still our hope it can be," he commented.

Upton estimated Livonia's share of the Nankin Mills student load might amount to "roughly one mill." For the taxpayer, a mill is another dollar per thousand dollars assessed valuation.

It is too early, at this time, Upton commented, to predict whether new school construction will be necessary in Livonia to carry the additional volume of more than 2,000 new students from Nankin Mills.

Assistant Superintendent of Instruction Dr. Paul E. Johnson in the absence of School Superintendent Benton Yates, away on vacation, said:

"Everyone obviously should be sympathetic to the problem faced by the Nankin Board of Education, Their children are just as deserving of a good education as children living anywhere else in the State.

"The Livonia School District has tried over several years. to assist with the problem of providing facilities for Nankin High School students. Since our Board now finds it cannot continue this arrangement. I called 'bad' students would be just as 'bad' on traditional scheduling. As for students leaving school when they don't have a class, I can see nothing wrong with this. As long as they are in school for the classes they do have, what harm can this do? I know a lot of students who leave school early either on co-op or illegally, but they don't go out and roam the streets, they go to lobs--to get an extra hour or two of work in.

As for the boy with the high I.Q. and all the extra study time, he of all people should know to take advantage of this time to work on subjects he is more interested in.

I too have a fairly high I.Q. but I'm glad of our modular scheduling because I have more time to pursue the subjects I like more or need help in.

Although I may have less actual class instruction, I am learning more, not less, than I have in the past. That's the whole idea behind modular scheduling--to help a student have more time to really learn and understand that which in-

As for the other communities that tried modular scheduling and then dropped it as being unsatisfactory, this is untrue. Most of these communities still have a modular schedule of some sort.

To answer a question posed by "A concerned parent" as to why a boy with a police record is allowed to re-enter schools and a much greater crime is allowed to enter sports -- I would like to ask this person what should be done with this boy?

Maybe we should just lock up all the people who have ever done anything wrong so that they can't contaminate society.

How can anyone have the right to turn away a boy seeking an education. The fact that he's in school proves that he at least cares about something.

I guess everyone has to have a scapegoat and at the time, for the people of Livonia, it seems to be Stevenson, our modular scheduling, and our Stevenson is not as bad as many seem to think. It's basically a good school and given time I think it will go on to become a great school, I will graduate in June, but I will leave my school, not with gladness that I'm finally leaving this 'terrible' school but with a feeling of pride that I was lucky enough to be a part of it. #### Is Stevenson Alone?

EDITOR:

To the Concerned Parent who doesn't approve of the way things are run at Stevenson High School. Why just rap Stevenson? Why not say some grubby things about Livonia's other two high schools, Bentley and Franklin?

Sure we have trouble at our high school but so does Bentley and Franklin. Those two aren't the best high schools in the world. I think they are worse off than Stevenson. The only reason why everything is said about our school is because it is brand new.

Clarencevile Takes Pride In Auditorium

This is a letter that must be written to express the feelings of the people of Clarenceville. Don Hoenshell in the March 13 copy of the Observer reported on the recent performance of the Michigan State University Orchestra in the Louis E. Schmidt Auditorium. Or it was supposed to be a report. The "tribute" paid to the efforts of the taxpayers of this district in the article was opinionated and by one not qualified to express an opinion of this sort.

Reference in this manner to a work of architectural beauty, dedicated to a man who served for 18 difficult years in the building of a school system second to none, who is now serving the State as Representative of the people, is distinctively "shoddy".

To have the first remarks by the Observer in reference to the Auditorium as "lousy" "horrible" could perhaps be attributable to the quality of the reporting fed by this newspaper, but I sincerely hope this is not the case. Mr. Hoenshell is not expert on seating inexpert opinion to himself, as I will keep my opinion of his writing to myself. Underlying this building are said about a student with a the hopes for the future education of many young people, the merits of a dedicated community in carrying out the plans of 14 years ago, and yes, the "rich people of Clarenceville" because richness is not measured by the individual's money, but by togetherness in accomplishment. In the name of Louis E. Schmidt all this is dedicated and more - not just a building, not just one man. For what it is worth let me say that the Schmidt Auditorium is a work of art, an asset to Livonia, Farmington and Redford Townships, portions of which comprise the Clarenceville School District.

For the information of those who just recently heard of Clarenceville, I would like to say that long before Livonia ever became a city and we were all criticize Stevenson but Bentley farm lands, the activities of the surrounding people centered around Grand River, Middle-

Schools and churches were needed and thence was born Clarenceville. I referred to "difficult years" in the second paragraph. Yes it must have been difficult then as it is now to hold together a community that is physically separated into two county, two township and one city forms of government. However education knows no boundaries!

Due to the vision of our dedicated leadership, we have uncrowded classrooms in our Senior High School, Junior High School and four Elementary Schools, complete in all educational facilities. I am proud to live in the Clarenceville School District.

Wood Sash Reduces Heat Loss

A window without weatherstripping admits as much air as a hole in the wall the size of two building blocks.

That's the result of tests made to show how lack of weatherstripping or poor weatherstripping allows air infiltration, encourages heat loss, and skyrockets fuel bills. Conversely, effective weatherstripping was proven to cut infiltration to a minimum and reduce winter heating bills by as much as 24 per cent for an average five-room house.

In summer, weatherstripped wood windows guard against heat gain and seepage of warm outside air, and allow air conditioners to operate effectively. The stripping also seals out windblown dust and prevents drafts, thereby increasing total house comfort and convenience.

For maximum year-round protection against heat transmission through windows, heating and cooling experts recommend wood sash- a natural insulator-and insulating glass, as well as good weatherstripping.

Early Spring Means Flower Catalog Time

By BETTY FRANKEL Special Writer

Spring arrived on March 20 -- at least, that's what the calendar says. But it's a fickle season that keeps changing its mind, and the gardener knows he will have to bide his time and wait a few weeks before he can go out and start digging and planting. In the meantime he can take another look at the seed catalogs, review the past year's successes and failures and polish up the plans for the coming

Champs Use Gun Stocks Of Walnut

It takes a champion to know

This could be one reason the national trapshooting champion and the national pistol champion for 1967 used guns stocked with walnut, the champion American hardwood.

* * *

NEARLY ALL of the competitors in the two championship shoots favored genuine walnut gun stocks.

"I prefer walnut," says Herman F. Welch, the Grand American Trapshooting Champion, "because of its weight, body and beauty."

Welch, general foreman of the Electro-Motive division of General Motors and a resident of Downers Grove, Ill., won over 2,930 entries in the trapshooting championship at Vandalia, O., in August. He scored 100 out of 100 to become only the ninth winner in 68 years to post a perfect score.

He and his wife, Lorraine, an artist specializing in oils, spend their vacations hunting antelope in Wyoming. All of their guns are stocked with walnut.

THE OTHER CHAMPION, Capt. Max Schneider (Air Force ret.) of San Antonio, Tex., says he would not think of using anything but American walnut on his firearms.

Capt. Schneider made the pistol with which he won the National Pistol Championship at Friendship, Ind., in August. His score for the aggregate matches was 930-15x (15 bulls-eyes).

Your Home Have Sore Thumb?

What's the "sore thumb" of many homes?

To the passerby, it usually is the open garage with its unsightly disarray of tools, toys and garden equipment.

"Strangely, many home owners are completely unaware, when the garage door is open, that the 'sore thumb' garage spoils all the fine landscaping and other refinements they've added to their homes," comments John Concord, home improvement consultant to Masonite Corporation.

SO WIDESPREAD is the number of these "sore thumbs" garages that Masonite and hundreds of lumber and building materials dealers are campaigning to beautify garage interiors, Concord discloses.

They are advocating a simple remedy which is guaranteed to cure even the worst case of "sore thumb":

Cover bare studs with prefinished, Patterned Peg-Board paneling, then use the wide variety of fixtures available to get tools, toys and other objects off the floor and into an organized storage system on the walls.

'This immediately does tall and spread 12 to 15 inches three things," Concord points out: 'It hides unsightly walls. provides a method of convenient, easy-access storage, and assures low maintenance, since a striking looking plant with the panels have a durable fingiant cactus-type flowers with

Bill Hits Detroit's Water

A bill regulating municipally owned water systems has been reported out of the House Public Utilities Committee with a recommendation that it pass.

Purpose of the bill is to place any city, village or township supplying heat, power, light, water or sewage to more than 1,000 customers, outside its boundaries, under State Public Service Commission regula-

State Rep. John Bennett, D-Redford Township, a co-sponsor, said this week, "It is no secret that this bill is aimed at the Detroit Water Board.

"Under the present contracts, Detroit retains exclusive right to set water rates" charged to suburban communities who become customers.

RATIONALE behind the bill, Bennett said, is on the record: •In November, 1959, Detroit increased the water and sewer rates by 60 per cent.

•In 1964, under threat of another rate increase, Detroit pressured one suburban community to build an over-sized water main.

• In November, 1967, Detroit again increased its rates, this time about 15 per cent, without offering supporting evidence to justify such an increase.

UPON PROTEST by several Western Wayne County suburbs, the House appointed a special interim study committee that conducted hearings.

Testimony from community representatives--which included Observerland communities of Livonia, Garden City, Westland, and Redford Township-was overwhelmingly in support of the state regulatory legislation.

Redford Township withheld support, however, noting instead that it was pursuing relief under a unique agreement it had negotiated in 1964 with Detroit.

Bennett said:

"The Detroit water system is now in the process of completing a water intake at Port Huron which will supply the Flint area and by 1975 it is estimated the Detroit water system will supply about 70 per cent of the population of Michigan.

HE DECLARED, "We have no objection to the Detroit water expansion program, but we do object to the indiscriminate water rate increases to suburban communities.

"It appears the suburban communities are paying for the Detroit water expansion program through periodical rate increases.

"Therefore, we believe the Detroit Water Supply System should be regulated the same as any other utility-monopoly, and they should have to justify their water rate increases to the Public Service Commission."

BENNETT'S home township, through action of its township board last week, has gone on record as not supporting the House Bill at this time.

Instead, the board said it prefers to pursue its own means of tempering the November, 1967 rate increase announcement.

The Redford board has asked for a hearing with the Detroit Water Board and is currently retaining an attorney and accountants to carry its case to that board.

Also, Redford Township has withheld payment of the 15 per cent increase portion of Detroit water billings since Nov. 1.

Basis of the township case was stated by Bennett this week as part of his "rationale" for his legislative bill:

Redford Township was charged a 25-cent per thousand cubic foot line storage charge plus regular rate increase in 1959.

The township built an oversized 48-inch water main in 1964 at a cost of $500,000, to aid the Detroit system transport water to suburban communities, particularly Livonia, on Redford's west.

At that time an agreement was indicated whereby Redford Township would supposedly not have to stand future rate increases.

Souris To Quit Judgeship

Justice Theodore Souris will quit the Michigan Supreme Court July 1 to reduce its size from eight to seven under provisions of the 1963 state constitution.

His decision to return to private practice at 42 caught the legal and political spheres in Lansing by surprise.

Souris was first appointed to the Supreme Court by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams on Jan. 5, 1960, less than a year after he had been named by Williams to the Wayne County Circuit Court.

"First, I always have intended to return to the private practice of law at some time in my career," Souris said.
"The calendar dictates that this is the time for me to do so.

"The legal profession offers many opportunities to participate in the challenging public affairs of our times.

"My resignation now...will not only permit me to satisfy a deeply felt professional desire, but at the same time, it will permit me to explore such other opportunities for public service as may arise."

HE SAID he would be 51 if he were elected to another term and served until it ended in 1976.

The move, he said, will implement "the intent of the people of Michigan" to cut the size of the court from eight to seven under the 1963 constitution and end the 4-4 decisions that have confused legal issues in the

"Although I would not leave the court for this reason alone, it adds weight to the decision I have made," Souris said.

Tongue in cheek, Souris said he was "sparing everyone the expense" of a campaign for his seat on the court. Wayne County Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins already has announced his candidacy.

SOURIS SAID he will return the $18,000 in campaign money raised for him last fall by a fund-raising dinner. He said the return of the money "is

Sunset Scout Leaders Set Ticket Talks

Hundreds of leaders from the Sunset District of the Detroit Area Boy Scout Council have been invited to attend a special Scout-O-Rama '68 Ticket Sales Kick-Off meeting scheduled for Tuesday, March 26, 7:30 p.m., at Perrinville School, Ann Arbor Trail and Farmington Rd. in Westland, according to John Peard, District Ticket Sales Chairman.

Scout-O-Rama '68, the 11th every-other-year show staged by Scouts and leaders of the Detroit Area Council, will be the largest and most colorful event of its kind ever held in Michigan. June 7-8-9 are the dates at which time upwards of 150,-000 persons will view the huge indoor-outdoor show at Michigan State Fairgrounds. They will see more than 30,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult volunteer leaders display and perform hundreds of activities and Scout skill events. The purpose of the District

Ticket Sales Kick-Off meeting will be to inform the Scout leaders from this community of the opportunity for their Scouts to earn special Scout merchandise prizes for individual effort, and the opportunity for units to earn cash commissions for their unit treasuries through team effort.

He said he still prefers the former method of electing all judges and having the governor pick men to fill vacancies on the bench.

However, under the new state constitution approved by the voters five years ago, judicial vacancies are filled by special elections, which Bradley termed as too expensive, taking the power of appoint-

Senator Eugene McCarthy's quest for the Democratic presidential nomination formally invaded the Republican stronghold of Farmington Township Friday when Dr. John Weiss, chairman of the Michigan McCarthy for President organization, spoke at the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College.

Weiss was in search of student help for the McCarthy campaign in the Wisconsin primary. Area efforts are being run by the McCarthy for President headquarters at 7500 W. McNichols, Detroit.

He was also seeking funds and urged the students to atthe March 22 McCarthy rally at Cobo Hall.

Nankin Mills: A School District In Crisis

CITY OF BLIVONIA

By LEONARD POGER Westland Observer Editor

The current Nankin Mills School District crisis was on the verge of its present status for more than a decade, Merging the district of 1.25 square miles in the north-central section of Westland has been talked about since Supt. Harlan Hudgins came to the community in 1956.

Then, as now, the Nankin Mills senior high school students, without a building of their own, attended school in the Livonia School District with the Nankin Mills school board paying their tuition.

Livonia has continually said that it would continue to take the Nankin Mills students as long as it had space for them.

But last month, the board in Livonia, threatened by a recall vote of six of its seven members by angry parents, agreed to not accept any more Nankin Mills high school students after the new pupils who enroll in September, 1969. Those now in the Livonia high school classes and those to enroll next September will be allowed to continue attending until graduation.

FACED WITH THE problem of making available a high school for its tenth, 11th, and 12th graders, the Nankin Mills Board acted recently to try to have the Michigan Dept. of Education accomplish what was proposed by local school officials for many years--dissolve the district and have its land divided along the Hines Parkway between the Livonia and Wayne Community districts.

Livonia would get the half of the district north of the parkway with Wayne getting the property south of the parkway. There are three elementaries in the north section and two elementaries and a junior high, with students attending staggered sessions in the south por-

Although it was clear from a financial standpoint that Nankin Mills could never support its own independent high school, there never has been a strong public push to divide the district or to merge it entirely with either Livonia or Wayne.

THE NANKIN MILLS school board in the past has indicated that it would favor the entire district taken in by the Livonia system. But the board has repeatedly opposed taking in any part of the smaller district, saying that it has enough growth and building problems without adding any new property to its district.

The Wayne Community district, which also has its own growth problems, has on two separate occasions pointed out while it is opposed to taking in the entire Nankin Mills district, it would be willing to accept the south half.

"It should be made clearly understood that the board of education (in Wayne) is not seeking this annexation but recognizes that school districts must take some responsibility to assure educational opportunities for all children," the board's resolutions have said.

The issue is clouded by an annexation attempt by Livonia city officials to annex a parcel of Westland (then Nankin Township) property which included the proposed Westland Shopping Center, which opened "On the basis of comparative data for neighboring districts, it would seem that Livonia would be in the best position to receive Nankin Mills. "It should be made clear, however, that the addition of Nankin Mills to Wayne or Livonia would have the effect of depressing the amount of taxable wealth per child in either district." A recent study made by the Nankin Mills school administrators pointed this out in more graphic terms. The district, with an estimated tax base of $22,277,540, has $13,366,524 in the north half, with $8,911,012 in the south half.

However, along with the tax base goes more students. Last September, there were 2,238 students living north of the parkway, with 1,585 in elementary schools; 373 in junior high and 280 attending high school in Livonia on a tuition basis.

In the south portion of the district, there were 1,521 students, 971 in elementary schools; 350 in junior high, and 200 in Livonia high school.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN to the valuation behind each pupil

In Livonia, according to the figures compiled last fall by Nankin Mills, Livonia would have its tax base grow from $489,255,036 to $502,621,560 but its tax base behind each pupil would drop from $14,389 to $13,854 if it accepted the north

Overcrowding Stirs Parents

By DWIGHT JARRELL

More than 40 parents held a meeting of their own recently in the hallway outside the council rooms of the Livonia Board of Education while the latter was still in session and threatened recall action against six of the seven members of the Board.

The 40 are part of a group of irate parents whose children, some 160 of them, are presently attending ninth grade at Lowell Junior High School but next fall in the tenth grade face transfer to Franklin High School and McKinley Elementary School on half-day schedules.

THE ANGRY PARENTS blame the move, and similar ones in the past, on overburdening of Livonia school facilities by students from outside

More than 200 Nankin students pay tuition to attend school here and the protesting parents argue that tuition students are more privileged than their own in the Board's considerations of full-day schedules and assignment of schools. The parents of the Lowell ninth graders point out that their children have been shuffled by the Board from school to school, often on half-day schedules, since the seventh grade. To date, they have attended four schools.

THE PARENTS CONTEND that in their nomadic schooling, the children have missed out on numerous educational advantages and opportunities either because of a lack of facilities or the shortened school hours.

Nankin Mills School District teachers' "morale is as high as ever--but you can't get away from the apprehension with teachers asking every day what's the latest?"

district's boundary and split the system between the Livonia teachers Wednesday to tell of the school board's action, said that the faculty feels its main obligation now is to finish out the school year and continue to do our best with the children in the classrooms. Although the first question about teachers at the Ford and Nankin Mills elementaries would be in the Livonia portion as proposed, the first comments from the teachers were not about the differences in salaries. (Actually, the salary schedules and fringe benefits of Nankin Mills, Wayne and Livonia are comparable.)
